

On The BEAM

J. W. KING, SR.

If this country should have runaway inflation within the near future, I think the blame for it can be placed at the door of Congress, especially the House of Representatives.

The House has been, and still is, sitting on appropriation measures refusing to act upon them until President Johnson cuts his budget by at least 5 billion dollars. The President has done what he is required to do by the Constitution. He is required to present a budget estimate to Congress. The Constitution requires Congress to appropriate funds for the government departments. If budget cutting is in order Congress should do the cutting.

The President has asked Congress to pass a surtax of ten per cent on income taxes to help control inflation but Congress has refused to act "until the budget is cut," and they also refuse to cut the budget. In fact Congress during the past year or more has increased appropriations in many instances much higher than the President's budget called for, so instead of cutting the budget they are adding to it. Each member of Congress talks economy until it comes to the point where economy would take away some of the federal money from his district. I think Congress should quit playing politics where the good of the country is concerned and get on with the business of the day.

Remember just after World War I when isolationists and reactionaries did the same things present day isolationists and reactionaries are doing now and in a few years it brought on the worst depression the world has ever seen. It is time for good citizens to get to work to save our country from another depression. I think the President is right in most of his actions, including his stand in Vietnam, and it is time solid citizens should help him out a little by demanding of Congress that it do its duty instead of sniping at the government.

Prussic Acid Poisoning Dangerous To Livestock Early in Season

The season when prussic acid poisoning becomes a hazard to livestock is here, reports County Agent Bobby Lemons.

The danger of livestock losses is greatest where frosts have occurred during the past several days. Prussic acid poisoning occurs when certain plants are grazed immediately after they have been damaged by frost, explains the county agent.

Sorghum species, including Johnsongrass, sudangrass, and the grain sorghums, can become the source of poisoning. Cattle are the most susceptible, although other domestic animals can be affected.

The poisoning is rapid acting and signs of illness may start within a few minutes after the animal has eaten the plant. Death may occur within 15 minutes or an animal may live for several hours. The most common symptoms of poisoning are salivation, labored breathing and bloat. Affected animals should be removed from the pasture or field and treated immediately by a veterinarian if possible.

Sorghum species, warns Lemons, should not be grazed after frost until they have dried out and have been tested for the presence of the acid.

Trent Takes Win Over The Bulldogs

The Trent Gorillas came out on the big end of the score against the Bulldogs last Friday night. The two teams battled the first quarter scoreless, with neither being able to push over a score.

In the second quarter Quarterback Gaylon Barnovak went into the end zone from the two yard line. The try for the extra point was no good. Trent carried a 6-0 lead into the dressing room at half time.

The Bulldogs knotted the score in the third quarter as Ronnie Finley went in for the score from the four yard line. The try for the extra point failed.

The Trent Gorillas broke the ball game open in the fourth quarter as Larry Hellums broke through the Bulldog defense and ran 68 yards for the winning touchdown. Trent winning the game 12-6.

The win placed the Trent team and the Bulldogs in a tie for second place in the District 4-B behind Bronte who is the winner of District 4-B.

The Bulldogs play the last game of the 1967 season this coming Friday night here in Loraine as the Hermleigh Cardinals invade the Bulldogs home grounds to try to tilt the scales in their favor, after the last encounter this promises to be a fine ball game. These two teams played to a 6-6 deadlock the first game of the season and this final game provides a break in this tie.

Let's all go out to the game Friday night at Johnson Field and support the Bulldogs. 7:30 p.m. GO GET THEM BULLDOGS, BEAT HERMLEIGH!!

New Feed Grain Program Encourages More Diverted Acres

The 1968 feed grain program, announced recently by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, takes vigorous action to reduce total supplies in order to strengthen prices, according to Curtis Latimer, chairman. Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee.

The target is to divert from production about 30 million acres—10 million more than were diverted in 1967—in order to reduce feed grain stocks and gain much stronger prices.

The chairman listed the following key provisions of the 1968 feed grain program:

1. Farmers will divert to conserving uses 20 percent of their base grain acreage of corn and sorghums in order to qualify for price-support loans and payments. No diversion payments will be made for this minimum diversion, except for small-farm acreages—the same as in 1966 and 1967.

2. Additional acreage may be diverted up to a total of 50 percent of the base or 25 acres, whichever is larger. The acreage diversion rate for this voluntary diversion will be 45 percent of the total price support (loan plus price - support payment) times the farm's established yield in the 1967 program, there was no payment for diversion except from bases of 25 acres or less.

3. For small farms (with a base of 25 acres or less), a diversion payment will be available at 20 percent of the total support rate times the farm yield for the first 20-percent acreage in diversion, and at the regular 45-percent payment rate on the remaining acreage diverted to a conserving use.

4. As in 1967, producers with corn-sorghum base acreages up to 125 acres will have the option of temporarily reducing this base down to 25 acres and still be eligible for the small-farm provision provided that no corn or grain sorghum is planted for harvest on the farm and the 25 acres are diverted to a conserving use.

5. Price - support loan levels under the 1968 program will be the same as in 1967—for corn, a national average of $1.05 per bushel; for sorghum, a national average of $1.61 per hundredweight. Price - support payments will continue at 30 cents per bushel for corn and 53 cents per hundredweight on sorghum, based on the planted acreage up to one-half the farm base times the projected yield.

6. Substituted provisions relating to wheat and feed grain acreage (including barley and oats-rye) will be continued.

7. Barley is not included in the 1968 feed grain program, and producers of this crop will be eligible for barley price-support loans regardless of the acreage planted.

8. Price-support loan levels for feed grain crops not covered by the feed grain program are national average of 90 cents per bushel for barley, 63 cents a bushel for oats, and $1.02 a bushel for rye.

Chairman Latimer said that further program details will be announced prior to signup time. The questions still to be answered concern the availability of advance payments, the production of substitute crops on diverted acreages, and whether soybeans may be planted on corn-sorghum acreage in 1968 as in 1967 without loss of the feed grain price-support payments.

decorated home in Loraine and surrounding area.

Suggestions were made at the meeting that large candles be made and placed at proper places in the business part of town to add to the lights already up and ready for bulbs. The candles are to be made from cylindrical cardboard around which floor coverings are rolled.

The group is to meet again this Tuesday night at the same place for further planning. Others who are interested in helping are also urged to attend.

Dr. Johnson urged every citizen who has any kind of decorating material not in use to turn it over to the group so that every home in town may have some decorations for Christmas. Dr. Johnson said, "I would like to see Loraine and surrounding area decorated this Christmas like it has never been decorated before. This can be done if everyone will help."

Mrs. C. R. Green Host Club Group

The Athenium Study Club of Lorraine observed Americanism Day in the home of Mrs. C. R. Green on November 2nd.

Historical Markers was the theme of the program.

Mrs. C. H. Martin opened the meeting by leading the pledge to the flag and American's Creed.

Mrs. Hel Bennett, chairman of Texas Heritage Committee of the club and a member of the County Historical Committee, gave a resume of her recent attendance of the meeting of the State Historical Survey Committee and its affiliate, the Texas Historical Foundation, in Galveston. Among the interesting facts in this report was that Mitchell County is among the few who received a Distinguished Service Award for securing the most markers to date. Of the seven markers required by the committee, three will be placed in the city limits of Lorraine: First Baptist Church, already installed; Lone Wolf Mountain, and the Percy Bond home, are approved. Others placed over the county will stimulate increased economy from tourist trade, arouse local pride and patriotism in our area, and preserve our historical heritage, which is a great gift from one generation to another.

Mrs. Doyle Hester spoke on the RAPMS program, which is designed to Record, Appreciate, Mark, Preserve and Survey Texas history. It is a five year plan To See and Save Texas History. Already 2,350 markers have been awarded and still more to come. The goal is 5,000 by 1970.

RAPMS will surely help to attract tourism which is rapidly becoming more important as a financial asset to the state and to the nation. It may well be called a 5 year blueprint for progress.

Mrs. C. H. Martin, vice president, presided for the business meeting.

The hostess served refreshments to one visitor, Mrs. W. A. Taylor, and 12 members, Mes. T. J. Riden, Hal Bennett, Woodrow Pratt, Percy Bond, Glen Coon, Lily Bennett, H. B. Johnson, T. L. Finley, Doyle Hester, Martin and Cora Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Narrell and Diana of Monahans visited a short time with this parents, Mr. and Mrs. Huse Narrell Friday as they were en route to Fort Worth to attend Homecoming activities at TCU. They returned and were dinner guests of the Narrells as they were en route home Sunday.
