Alcorn Tells How Nation Can Save Hours With New Type Lawn Grass

Editor's note: Achin Alcorn, philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sulphur, reports on a new invention he has run across.

Dear Editor: Progress sometimes shows up in the least expected places, and I read an item in a newspaper last night about an invention that I've wondered for years why somebody didn't think of.

The Japanese have invented plastic lawn grass.

This grass looks so natural and feels so natural that a lawn tennis club has tried it out and reported it works as well as regular grass.

You can see immediately what this means to everybody, except maybe the lawnmower makers.

All you do is surface your lawn with a light layer of asphalt, then lay the small squares of grass on that, like you'd lay tile on a kitchen floor. The results are indistinguishable from a freshly mowed green lawn.

This eliminates such things as crab grass, weeds, etc., on your lawn, eliminates all mowing, watering and fertilizing, and makes every lawn look just like the one next door, which is the purpose, if I understand town

Austin. — Top finance officials of the state now feel reasonably sure the next fiscal year for Texas governmental operations will dawn with an unfamiliar general revenue surplus on hand.

Texas' hard-pressed general fund has been in almost constant deficit for more than six years. As of March 25 it still was $36,600,000 in the red.

However, budget-makers are impressed with optimistic U. S. Treasury reports that the income tax cut is going to boom state and local revenues by putting more money in circulation. (Theory: more money spent, more sales taxes collected.)

"There will be a surplus. The question is how much," commented one veteran finance observer.

Ideas on "how much" stretch all the way from a relatively modest $35,000,000—estimated by the comptroller's office—to upwards of $90,000,000.

While the feeling is general that the Legislature will begin its budget writing next year with prospects of money on hand, the surplus likely will not be big enough to avert a new tax bill.

Public school teachers are campaigning for a $405 annual pay raise which would cost the state $68,000,000 for the next biennium. Texas Commission on Higher Education has endorsed a program which totals $86,000,000 additional spending for the college and university system for 1965-67.

Other state agencies are continuing to grow and few have been known to ask less money.

The surplus should provide a protective cushion. However, governmental finance experts feel that taxpayers won't get by the 1965 legislative session unscathed.

LOAN REGULATIONS PROPOSED — The terms "easy payments," "no red tape," and "repayment in easy installments" are considered misleading advertising by money lenders under regulations proposed by Francis A. Miskell, regulatory loan commissioner.

Miskell served notice of his first four "rules of practice and procedure" for lenders and scheduled a public hearing on them for May 8.

Regulations cover books, files and records; advertising; insurance and collection practices.

Under other proposed advertising rules, almost any "comparative" term such as "new reduced rates" or "new type of service" must stand a rigid test of accuracy. Miskell also proposes to ban business solicitation by such devices as "credit cards" and "letters of credit," claiming the borrowers have an established credit standing.

Strong-arm collection practices would be strictly prohibited. In fact, under the rules, lenders could not solicit payment from anyone other than the borrower, members of his immediate family or signers of the note. Employers could be called on to help collect by their own consent.

Miskell gave the loan firms until May 1 to submit their written views on the rules.

The regulatory loan agency, set up by the Legislature last year to regulate loans up to $1,500, just now is moving into full scale operation.

ASKS RUBY MOVED HERE — Jack Ruby's new lawyer, University of Texas Professor Dr. Hubert Winston Smith, wants the accused slayer of Lee Harvey Oswald moved to the Austin State Hospital for more lab tests.

Smith is both attorney and doctor. He holds degrees from Harvard law and medical schools.

FIRST TEXAS TRAVEL ADS BOOKED — Texas begins its first official advertising of its vacation attractions in national publications on April 5.

Cold Wave Drops Mercury To 26

Weatherman did not observe the advent of spring, when the mercury dropped to a low of 26 degrees last Thursday morning. Plenty of ice was around, although spring had officially begun a week earlier. The area soon warmed up and reached the 50's under a bright sun during the day.

Fruit trees were blooming or budding, and it was too early to determine the extent of the damage done to the fruit crop.

An electrical disturbance accompanied another cold wave Monday night. Only a trace of rain fell along with the cooler weather.

Texas Oil and Gas Dollar Pays Much

Austin. — Texas crude oil currently is selling for more dollars than any year since the Suez crisis in 1957, Railroad Commissioner Jim Langdon reports.

Langdon said this should be welcome news to the people of Texas because the Texas oil and gas dollar pays for 42 per cent of the state's cost of public education, and almost 60 per cent of the state's cost of teacher retirement, old-age assistance, blind assistance and aid to dependent children.

He stated that oil production is up three per cent over the previous year, and "an even more encouraging" jump is expected for 1964.

Langdon said the fact that the Texas petroleum industry was in such a healthy state after more than half a century of intensive development could be laid to two factors: (1) There was a lot of oil to begin with; and (2) it has not been wasted promiscuously.

Critics of the way the Railroad Commission has regulated the oil and gas industries disregarded the Commissioners' duty to guard the public interest. When they talked about allowable and production, they ignored the fact that natural gas has in recent years become an important energy source replacing to some extent oil; and that Texas was more dominant in gas production than in crude oil production.

Langdon is the newest member of the Railroad Commission, having been appointed last spring. Now he is seeking the voters' approval to serve the remaining four years of a six-year term. He resigned as chief justice of the El Paso Court of Civil Appeals to accept the Railroad Commission post.

Before moving to El Paso, Langdon was district judge for five West Texas counties. While on the bench and as a practicing attorney in a large oil producing area, he gained vast knowledge of the oil and gas industries, as well as transportation matters, which the Commission regulates.

Final day for registering motor vehicles without penalty was Tuesday. For convenience of the folks in this area a sub-station was in the City Hall. Mrs. O. D. Welch, in charge of the registration, reports 600 vehicles registered in Talco this year.

Auto Registrations Here Total 600

Final day for registering motor vehicles without penalty was Tuesday. For convenience of the folks in this area a sub-station was in the City Hall. Mrs. O. D. Welch, in charge of the registration, reports 600 vehicles registered in Talco this year.

Texas Tourist Development Agency plans a number of advertisements in out-of-state newspapers and magazines this spring and summer.

Funds for the travel and tourist promotion, first ever appropriated to the state, were provided by the 58th Legislature.

POPULATION TREND — Calculations on population growth made by University of Texas researchers indicate a fizzle in the population explosion.

They estimate that Texas experienced a yearly gain in population of 1.8 per cent between April 1, 1960, and April 1, 1963, which would amount to quite a slow-down from the 2.2 per cent annual gain during the 10 years from 1950 to 1960.

Even more significant, the researchers noted, was an evident brake in the population increases in Texas' 21 major cities. Where they gained 3.5 per cent a year from 1950 to 1960, they gained only 2.2 per cent a year in the three years prior to April 1, 1963.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL — Although the State Board of Education has recommended that the Southwestern Vocational Educational School authorized last year by the U. S. Congress be located at the inactive Camp Gary Air Force Base in San Marcos, several other Texas cities are making a bid for the $4,200,000 program.

City of Marshall has developed a presentation for the U. S. Commissioner of Education and some Valley groups also are making a try. They all are hoping to nab the school for Texas, but are competing with neighboring states.

Jo Franks Named To All-Star Team

Jo Franks, senior guard for the Talco Trojanettes, has been selected to play in the All-Star basketball game at Waco, July 18.

The game will end the ninth annual Texas High School Girls' Basketball Coaching Clinic. The clinic will run July 16-18. Franks will be a member of the North All-Star squad.

The Talco girls' team captured the district title this season. Two members of the squad made the All-District 17-A team: Franks and forward Sue Smith.

Talco's boys team is expected to have a selectee to the All-Star team this season. The team won the state Class A title.

Five members of the boys' team won first team recognition on the All District 17-A team: Gary Buchanan, Butch Perdue, Ronnie Logan, Shelby Johnson and Jerry Black. This made up the Trojans' starting lineup.

Logan was selected the most valuable player in the district.

 ques of re-embroidered lace. The circular carriage train was cathe-

 of silk illusion extended from an Alencon lace coif graced with deep petal points which were etched with seed pearls. A single tear drop pearl complemented the center point. She wore short white kid gloves and held a white heirloom lace handkerchief which has been carried by otis, tulle and satin loops formed her cascade bridal bouquet.

Attendants were Mrs. Jack Sommer of San Antonio, matron of honor, Mrs. Charles Dewitt of Dallas, and Miss Bertie Sims of

 Welch of Dallas, bestman; Don

 a white cloth and held an arrangement of white pixie carnations and greenery. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a nosegay of white spring flowers. Burning tapers in five-

COOKS RINGS AROUND THE REST!

Utensils stay bright and new-looking

with CLEAN electric cooking

Since an electric range cooks without flame, all your pots and pans stay cleaner. So does the range — and your kitchen walls and curtains — which is pretty wonderful when it comes time to do dishes or clean house. Cuts down on scrubbing and scouring. Another nice thing about electric cooking is that it's degrees cooler in summer. No flow of air through the oven is needed for combustion. See the new electric ranges at your dealer's soon.
