Arab Armies Start Palestine Invasion

MAJ. GEN. ANDREW D. BRUCE

DR. ROBERT A. MILLIKAN

Noted Scientist, Army Leader To Speak

Impressive Programs Set At Tech Today

By BILL SAYERS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

HUNDREDS of visitors from all parts of West Texas are expected to assemble at Texas Technological college today for two impressive programs — headlined by the appearance of one of the world's leading scientists and an outstanding national military leader.

At the center of attention will be the first annual combined Parents' Day and Recognition service, and the dedication of Memorial Circle. The two outstanding leaders of entirely different fields of endeavor will be on hand to address the audience of parents, students, faculty members and the general public at the two ceremonies.

Holds Numerous Honors

Dr. Robert A. Millikan, world famous scientist, author and lecturer and chairman of the executive council of the California Institute of Technology, will deliver the principal address at the Recognition service as the first in a series of lectures that he will present at the college this week. Subject of his lecture will be "The Two Supreme Elements In Human Progress."

Dr. Millikan's address will be delivered as the highlight of Recognition day services in the college gym. The program gets underway at 3:30 p.m. following the Memorial circle dedication.

The 80-year-old educator is the holder of more than 25 honorary degrees, and awards both from the United States and several foreign countries, the Nobel Prize in physics, and science medals from Great Britain, Italy, France, India, China and Chile. He is a member of numerous professional societies in America and honorary member of 21 foreign scientific societies.

To Discuss National Security

Major General Andrew D. Bruce, deputy commander of the Fourth Army, Fort Sam Houston, will be the principal speaker at the dedication of Memorial Circle, which was organized under sponsorship of the Tech War Veterans Association. He will speak on "National Security."

Gen. Bruce's talk will feature the dedication program which lasts from 2 until 3:15 p.m.

General Bruce is a veteran of both World Wars and holds various medals including the Distinguished Service Cross, the Navy Distinguished Service Cross, the Distinguished Service Medal with a cluster, three French Croix-de-Guerres, Individual Fourragere, the Purple Heart, the Bronze Star

HST Sees Atom Energy As Boon

By ROBERT G. NIXON
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 1—President Truman declared tonight that the discovery of atomic energy may prove to be the means of curing the ills of the world instead of bringing mankind's destruction.

The Chief Executive, now approaching a campaign for reelection, delivered the longest extemporaneous talk of his three years in the White House to a National Health conference in Washington.

Mr. Truman spoke completely "off-the-cuff", kept his nearly 1,000 listeners in rapt attention, and received a tremendous ovation.

The unusual nature of his talk—a complete departure from delivery of prepared speeches—led political observers to interpret his address as a "try-out" for the campaign ahead of him.

Talk With Ford Related

The President related to the group a conversation he had with the late Henry Ford when Mr. Truman was in Dearborn, Mich., in the early part of the war investigating the possibilities of the vast Ford works turning out huge numbers of tanks for warfare.

He said that "the old man" remarked what a terrible thing war was, but that "there will be things that come out of this war that will help mankind more than they will hurt him."

The President said:

"We are all talking about the atom age now in the form of terrible destruction.

"I don't talk of it that way. I believe that Ford's prophecy is coming to pass. I believe the breaking of the atom will work for the welfare of man instead of for his destruction.

Great Discoveries Said Near

"It has got to be that way unless we all want to destroy ourselves.

"I can tell you without breaking confidence or revealing secrets that we are on the brink of great discoveries to help mankind.

"Let's get ourselves ready for those things.

"I think we can lead the world to peace. That is all I am working for."

The President said that the two great scourages of today are heart disease and cancer. He said that he hopes that atomic energy discoveries may aid in ultimately conquering those two afflictions of mankind.

Senate Group To Study Plan For Change In UN Procedures

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich) said today the Senate Foreign Relations committee will consider proposals to change United Nations procedures before Congress adjourns.

His statement indicated that senators who have been demanding that some action be taken to get around the Soviet vetoes in the UN will get a hearing before the committee.

GOP Hopefuls 'Gang Up' To Stop Stassen

(By The Associated Press)

REPUBLICAN presidential hopefuls ganged up on Harold E. Stassen over the weekend as they busily beat the bushes for ballots.

In Washington, some senators have called a Monday meeting to plan new strategy to stop any Stassen stampede at the GOP Philadelphia convention June 21.

Their idea is to ask delegates from seven key states—Pennsylvania, Illinois, Indiana, New Jersey, California, Connecticut and Massachusetts—to keep their 300 votes lined up behind "favorite sons" until the strength of other contenders can be tested.

Old Guard Jittery

Actually they fear another Wendell Willkie incident, such as occurred back in 1940. Stassen's most ardent supporters believe they can turn the trick and win the nomination by the sixth ballot if Stassen wins a majority of the 23 delegates in the Ohio primary Tuesday, and the Oregon primary May 21.

Stassen's recent wins in Wisconsin, Nebraska and Pennsylvania had some old-line GOP leaders jittery.

Senator Robert A. Taft was turning on the heat in his home state of Ohio.

The political spotlight focused on that primary, and the one in Oregon where Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York was campaigning on the ground.

Dewey Leading

Both frankly lashed out at Stassen.

Stassen so far is really in third place in number of delegates pledged. He trails both Dewey with 125 and Senator Edward Martin of Pennsylvania with 73. Stassen of Minnesota has 59.

A swing to Stassen was claimed yesterday in St. Louis where Republicans elected a slate of seven delegates at large to round out Missouri's 33-member uninstructed delegation.

E. W. Bromwich, treasurer of the GOP state committee and Missouri chairman for Stassen said Stassen would get 18 of Missouri's votes on the first ballot, 22 or 23 on the second.

Missouri supporters of Dewey and Taft made no open claims.

Wage Demands Meet Opposition

(By The Associated Press)

Managements in two industries stiffened their opposition Saturday to demands of labor for additional wage increases.

Tension over this issue also remained high in several other key American industries as labor celebrated its 59th May day throughout the world.

The newest signs of management resistance were in the meat packing and electrical appliances fields.

All of the "big four" meat packers took steps to speed up meat production, despite the 48 day old strike of nearly 100,000 CIO meat handlers.

The packers notified their regular workers the plants would be reopened and that the nine cents an hour wage increase the union previously rejected would be put into effect. One of the packers, Wilson, said that unless their Chicago employes return by Monday they face the risk of being replaced.

At the same time a threat of a possible strike was directed at the Chicago stockyards, largest in the world. CIO stockhandlers called a meeting for Tuesday to consider possible strike action stemming from a wage dispute. A strike of the 400 stockhandlers would affect some 25,000 employes and paralyze operations at the stockyards.

European Alliance To Ask Lend-Lease Aid

LONDON, May 1 (AP)—Responsible British government sources said today the western European alliance will submit to the United States soon a list of "must" requirements for military supplies on a peace-time lend-lease basis.

Discussions of the permanent military organization for common defense set up by Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg remained an official secret, but the situation could be analyzed in brief: Short of equipment, strong on manpower.

Meanwhile, in another phase of the European picture, the United States, Britain and France reported that no agreement had been reached on the political structure of western Germany.

May Day Celebrations Around World Marked By Noise, Fury

(By The Associated Press)

MAY Day celebrations in Europe, America and Asia produced noise and fury but no major explosions.

Berlin, Trieste, Prague, Rome and a dozen other of Europe's danger spots observed labor's holiday Saturday in an atmosphere of tenseness. But thoroughly alerted police everywhere prevented serious clashes between Communist and anti-Communist factions of labor organizations.

Chile and Brazil, where authorities feared Communists plotted "another Bogota" uprising on labor's holiday, reported no disturbances but much parading and speechmaking.

Most serious case of violence anywhere was in Athens, where a factory worker assassinated Christos Ladas, minister of justice. Police said the assassin was a member of a Communist execution squad. In addition to killing Ladas, three grenades which were thrown wounded the assassin, killed a policeman and injured two other persons. The assassin was seized and martial law was declared in Athens.

MANY DELEGATES UNINSTRUCTED, REPORTS OVER STATE INDICATE

Demo Battle Continues Tuesday

(By The Associated Press)

REPORTS from Democratic precinct conventions Saturday night showed that the battle over instructing delegations to the national convention will rage again in Tuesday's county meetings.

Based on numbers the majority of meetings on which results were available showed they were sending uninstructed delegations to the county conventions.

On its face that trend seemed to be in line with urgings by Governor Beauford Jester, the party's titular head in Texas, who wants a national convention delegation uninstructed in protest against what he calls President Truman's anti-state's rights policies.

But the Truman strength became more apparant in reports from large cities.

It was enough to forestall a definite result in Dallas and Fort Worth, urban centers with heavy voting strength in the state convention. And in San Antonio Woodville Rogers, pro-Truman leader, said "you can safely say Bexar county will be for Truman."

A majority of the meetings which took a stand in Dallas county went anti-Truman. But meetings which did not raise the issue—just passed it along until Tuesday, had enough delegate strength to change the lineup.

In Tarrant county 36 of the larger precincts were about evenly divided between support of the state Democratic executive committee, and favoring the resolution of the liberals which condemns "false issues and those who frame them for the purpose of splitting the Democratic party in order to elect a Republican president."

Some conventions voted that delegates should be uninstructed. Some of them took definite state's rights stands. Others just named the delegates and left the issue up to gatherings up the line.

Opposition to the civil rights program and any "effort to create social equality by legislative action" was expressed in resolutions passed in Democratic precinct conventions through Jefferson county (Beaumont) another heavy voting center.

'Ike' Gets Backing

Five of the big city boxes in Austin voted to instruct delegates for General Dwight Eisenhower. He was endorsed also by a convention at Sherman.

Truman strength was indicated in 32 of Wichita county's 49 Democratic precincts; in three Travis county meetings; in one at Sherman, two at Commerce, at least three in Dallas county; one in Smith county in a precinct organized by negroes; at Gladewater, Pine Tree, Longview, and Sabine

GOPs Clash At Sessions

By CHARLES STONE

FIREWORKS broke out within the Republican ranks in Lubbock county Saturday as two rival factions in the party attempted to name their own delegates to the county convention next Tuesday, and succeeded in setting the stage for even a greater controversy at that time.

In at least two precinct conventions, rulings by the chairman that persons voting for delegates must present their poll tax receipts to show eligibility caused groups to walk out and form rump conventions to elect their own delegates.

Two Groups Seen

Indications point to two sets of delegates converging on the Republican county convention next week, with each group determined to name the four delegates to the state convention later this month. The final decision, in all probability, will rest with the state Republican Credentials committee as to which faction is the legal one.

Differences in opinion between the two local factions of Republicans are thought to stem from different choices for the presidential nominee on the Republican ticket.

John L. Vaughan, chairman of the Republican county committee, and his backers are, according to rumor, backing the nomination of Thomas E. Dewey at the Republican national convention.

Statement Is Issued

On the other hand, the opposing group headed by M. D. Temple, president of the Lubbock County Republican club, are in concensus with downstate groups which hope to further the nomination of Robert A. Taft of Ohio. However, the groups boosting Taft are said to be ready to swing their influence to another Republican hopeful if they see that Taft is a losing nominee.

In response to a query on yesterday's happenings in the precinct conventions, Temple made

Crosby County Youth Is Drowning Victim

SAN ANGELO, May 1. (Spl)—John Claud Dunlap, 15, senior student at Robertson High school, Crosby county, and member of a party of basketball players on an outing, drowned in the South Concho river at Chistoval this afternoon.

The basketball team, accompanied by five adult sponsors, arrived at Christoval Friday for a weekend outing. Marvin Aycock, one of the sponsors, said that young Dunlap leaped into deep water and "went down and didn't come up." The body was recovered after an eight minute search by one of the members of the party and artificial respiration was administered for approximately an hour before hope for life was abandoned, Aycock said.

Four of the sponsors, Arnold Parchman, Morris Young, Woodrow Powell, basketball coach, and Aycock returned home with the other members of the team this afternoon. Tom Lockwood, also a sponsor, remained in San Angelo with the body.

Dunlap's body will be returned to Ralls for funeral services. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Dunlap, two sisters, two brothers and a grandfather, J. A. Dunlap, of Lubbock.

SENATOR TAYLOR ARRESTED

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 1 (AP)—Senator Glen Taylor (D-Idaho), vice presidential candidate on Henry Wallace's third party ticket, was arrested tonight when he attempted to enter a meeting of the Southern Negro Youth congress. He was released after posting $100 bond.

NEW WELLS TO BE DUG

Improvement In City's Water Situation Seen By Officials

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

SUBSTANTIAL improvements in the Lubbock water supply in ample time for the peak demands of July and August were pledged without equivocation Saturday by members of the city commission.

The program outlined by Mayor W. H. Rodgers calls for drilling a number of new wells at once and for putting into service "at the earliest possible moment" the 10,000,000-gallon surface reservoir at the northeastern edge of the city and the 1,000,000-gallon overhead tank in southwest Lubbock.

"I do not say these things may be done" the mayor commented. "I say they will be done."

Would Boost Supply

The new wells and the completio of the surface reservoir will increase the available supply, termed by members of the commission the most immediate and passing water problem.

The 135-foot overhead reservoir, which officials expect to put into service within the next two to three weeks, will improve pressure, particularly in areas adjacent to and west of Avenue W in south and southwest Lubbock.

The commission is in agreement, Mayor Rodgers said, that first consideration must be given to the drilling of new wells, probably on sites north and northwest of the city limits.

Special Sessions Scheduled

In connection with that planning, the latest of several special commission meetings has been scheduled for Monday or Tuesday Hopes are, the mayor said, to close deals at that time for several well sites.

If that is done, he added, plans are to let drilling contracts as soon as possible. Expectation is that some of these wells will be finished and in use within the next four to six weeks—possibly sooner.

The actual drilling of such a well, officials explained, requires only a few days. Ditching for pipe to connect them with distribution mains probably will be started before drilling is finished.

All sites under consideration are in proved water areas, officials said. The commission will expect each such well to add about 1,000,000 gallons daily to the Lubbock water supply. Their expectation is based on the production of many irrigation wells in the areas.

To Push Reservoir Project

Simultaneously with the drilling program, Mayor Rodgers said, the commission will do what it can to hasten the completion of the surface reservoir, for which W. G. McMillan has the contract.

When the reservoir is available for use, the mayor said, most of the production from 11 wells northeast of the city can be turned into the city mains, adding millions of gallons daily to the city water supply.

All of these wells are on a 36-

Hitch-Hiking Skunk Given Heave-Ho By Minnesota Farmer

(By The Associated Press)

STEPHEN, Min., May 1—This is a story about a skunk with a different ending.

Lester Aasand, farmer near Stephen, discovered the skunk under the hood of his pick-up truck. He attempted to dislodge the animal, without success.

So he started for town. After travelling about three miles he decided to remove the skunk. He seized the animal by its tail and hurled it away. He continued on his way to town.

That's all there is to the story.

Murder Charge Filed At Slaton

A shooting early Saturday morning in Slaton claimed a negro victim, L. J. Hardwick, Dep. Sheriff Ernest Ward of Slaton informed Lubbock officials who went there to assist in an investigation.

A gun was recovered, it was announced. Ward reported the shooting at 2:40 a. m.

Woman Charged

He said upon his return that Bert Deverouwx, 38, a negro woman, was charged with murder in connection with the case and that Horace Smith, Slaton justice of peace, bound her over to grand jury investigation under bond of $2,000.

The woman was placed in Lubbock county jail Saturday afternoon.

Croslin said he had taken statements from numerous witnesses. In effect, their statements were:

Hardwick, 27, was drunk and broke a wine bottle over the head of Eva Jewel Deverouwx, daughter of the defendant. Earlier, he had threatened several other negroes with the bottle.

Two Negroes Injured

The defendant ordered him to leave, but Hardwick advanced on her with the broken neck of the bottle and she fired a .38 caliber

First Direct Contact On Aid Program To Be Made This Week

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—The first direct contact between the U. S. agency administering the European recovery program and participating countries will be established at Paris next week.

Three advance agents of the Economic Cooperation administration (ECA) will leave for Paris Sunday.

Their prime purpose, ECA Administrator Paul G. Hoffman announced, will be to discuss the urgency of European needs and also to outline a uniform system of reporting purchase requests to insure an unbroken flow of recovery supplies.

The three ECA officials will represent W. Averill Harriman, ambassador-at-large to western Europe. Scheduled to leave LaGuardia field at 12:30 p. m., EST, Sunday, they will return in about two weeks to report to Harriman.

County Demo Meets Quiet

By R. C. HANKINS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

ROUTINE precinct conventions were held Saturday afternoon by the Democratic party in Lubbock county—without any fireworks reported.

L. C. Ellis, county Democratic chairman who said he had informal report from only a handful of precincts inside the city, said he had not been informed that any delegates elected to Tuesday's county convention had been instructed as to party nominees.

Five Precincts Report

Only five precincts had reported the names of delegates and alternates to the county convention.

Resolutions passed by those precincts pointed up the harmony manifest at the conventions.

Those attending the precinct 5-A convention in Roscoe Wilson school voted to send an entirely uninstructed delegation to the county meeting. Form resolutions proposing that the delegates be instructed for or against President Truman were discussed and rejected. The precinct will have 12 votes in the county convention. Named on the delegation to represent the precinct were: W. W. Campbell, chairman; A. B. Reese, acting secretary, and C. P. Edwards, Miss Mayme Alexander, Howard Billings, Thord Dockray, Mrs. W. M. Barton, Ernest Wallace, Homer Roper, J. Ben Cole, Roy Dennis, Eli Fonville, Mr. and Mrs. Grady West, J. William Davis, Mrs. John Lee Smith, David G. West, Mrs. Marie Gooch, C. L. Harris, Dr. F. S. McKay, Dr. Albert Cunningham, Victor H. Lindsey, Mrs. William Dingus, Roy Curry, T. K. Martin and Mrs. H. B. Hawkins.

In precinct 5-B, Bean School, Carroll Thompson was named chairman and Harvey Austin, secretary.

State Sales Tax Opposed

J. K. Salser, Thompson, Clarence Whiteside, O. B. Ratliff, J. H. Henderson, Austin and Harry Holcomb were elected delegates and B. R. Abernathy, L. C. Boyd, C. W. Ratliff, W. F. Gaston, Wyatt L. Hester, J. D. Mullins and Chas.

More Wind Is Seen For Section Today

Continued fair weather and moderate westerly winds in Lubbock and over the South Plains area was forecast for today and Monday by the Weather Bureau station at midnight.

The wind reached a velocity of 25 miles per hour Saturday causing some blowing dust. Similar conditions were expected today, the weather station said.

A maximum temperature of 90 degrees was predicted for today, with a minimum of 50 degrees early this morning.

There were indications of increased cloudiness Monday, it was reported, with a slight chance of scattered showers Monday afternoon.

Deputy Superintendent Of Public Instruction Dies

CLARKSVILLE, May 1 (AP)—R. M. White, deputy state superintendent of instruction, died here this afternoon. He became ill 10 days ago while at Longview.

Survivors include his wife, a son, Robert, of California, and one grandchild.

PROJECTS TO COST $575,000

New Cotton Compress, Office Building Planned For Lubbock

ANNOUNCEMENT of two building projects for Lubbock costing a total of $575,000 was made Saturday.

One was for a two-story office building to house offices of the Stanolind Pipe Line company and Stanolind Oil & Gas company at 1618-20 Nineteenth to be erected by the CVH corporation, owned by Carl Maxey, Vernon E. Thompson and Homer G. Maxey. Cost will be $175,000.

The other project was for construction of a $400,000 cotton compress by the Farmers Cooperative Compress of Lubbock of which 22 co-operative gins and the Plains Co-Operative Cotton Oil Mill of Lubbock are stockholders. The compress will be erected across the Santa Fe tracks in southeast Lubbock in the vicinity of the co-op oil mill.

Fall Completion Is Goal

Construction on both projects will be started within the near future and completion of both by early fall is expected. Carl E. Maxey is contractor for the office building, designed by Butler-Brasher company, architects.

Three Nations Send Forces Over Border

(By The Associated Press)

JERUSALEM, May 1—The regular armies of Arab nations of the Middle East invaded Palestine today striking in the north and south with troops and armored forces, Jewish and Arab sources said.

These accounts said Syria, Lebanon and gypt sent powerful military formations sweeping across the border at dawn Saturday 15 days before the termination of the British mandate over the Holy Land.

Saudi Arabia, Trans-Jordan and Iraq were reported ordering troops to the battle zone or completing final preparations for the drive against the Jews.

Jewish Outposts Attacked

Tel Aviv headquarters of Haganah, the Jewish militia, said tanks and armored cars of the Syrian and Lebanese armies crossed the border and engaged Jewish outposts at the settlements of Dafne, Ramot Naftali and Dan in Palestine's northern extremity. Jews in Haifa gave a similar account of the operations taking place in Upper Galilee.

A Damascus dispatch said the Syrian army apparently threw half its entire strength into the invasion. The big Syrian camp at Katana was almost completely emptied by a lightning military movement. A few days ago 6,000 regulars and a few hundred volunteers were based there. Residents of the area said the troops and guns had "gone to Palestine."

British Stand Pat

Sources in Cairo who wished to be described as unofficial said the Egyptian army struck across the southern Palestine border into the desert at Friday midnight.

While the invasion reports were without official confirmation, the feeling was evident in Cairo and other cities that something was in the air.

Arab dispatches to Damascus said King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan had ordered the simultaneous invasion of the Holy Land by the armies of six Arab countries.

(The British government has said repeatedly it will resist any invasion while it holds the mandate, and thus holds responsiblity for the Holy Land. A foreign office spokesman in London said Sa-

Three Killed As Tornadoes Hit

VINITA, Okla., May 1 (AP)—Tornadoes struck in both Kansas and Oklahoma tonight, killing at least three persons and injuring others, the highway patrol said.

In Kansas, a twister swept through the Bethel community, 125 miles south of Kansas City, leveling a church and several houses.

William H. Pemberton, 76, was killed and his wife, Emma, 62, suffered severe leg injuries.

Two Dead In Oklahoma

At Bernice, Okla., near here and 60 miles south of the Bethel area, another tornado killed at least two persons.

Cleora, Okla., another small town of about 200 persons, was hard hit, the patrol reported.

Two unidentified bodies were taken to Afton, Okla., from Bernice, a mortuary there reported.

Injured were being brought to Vinita's two hospitals from Bernice, Cleora, and an area between White Oak and Catale, Okla.

Hospital Overflows

The injured overflowed from hospital rooms into halls.

Ten persons—five children and five adults—were known to be in Afton hospitals. The extent of their injuries was not known.

The tornadoes struck the Oklahoma area at about 10:40 p. m. (CST), and the twister at Bethel about four hours earlier.

WARTIME MYSTERY VANISHES

Los Alamos Trying Hard To Become 'Normal U. S. Town'

DALLAS, May 1 (AP)—The assistant manager of New Mexico's secret city, Los Alamos, says it is trying hard to become a normal town.

The fact that T. B. Jenson told his city's story here is a sign, itself, that Los Alamos has shed some of its wartime mystery. He escorted five women bowlers to a national tournament here.

Los Alamos was born in secrecy and grew to complete isolation for more than two years. Most of the 12,000 people who worked there during the war didn't know what they were making—until the atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima. Then they found out: The bomb was partly their handiwork.

It Is Unusual City

Los Alamos played a dual role with Oak Ridge, Tenn., the United States' other secret city, in development of the bomb. Now Los Alamos is reseach and development center for the Atomic Energy commission.

It is an unusual city in many ways; in some ways, you would think, its people would prefer it to remain unusual.

Los Alamos is a working city. There is no unemployment. No slum section. Jenson says it is the most beautiful city he has ever seen.

It was built from scratch and is not expected to be finished until 1953. As a result, Jenson says, it should be the most perfectly laid city in the country.

It is 7,200 feet high in the mountains 40 miles from Santa Fe. Each house is built so that it fits its location and so that a large window overlooks either the Rio Grande or the mountains.

Uncle Sam Owns Town

No house is built on the same plan as any other in its neighborhood. Houses are new—but not plentiful. In the last 18 months, the federal government, which owns Los Alamos entirely, has put up 550 new homes and 200 apartment buildings. Fifteen hundred more will be built.

The town is not "rich," Jenson said, but most of the families there are "comfortable." Most of them are on civil service, with only top scientists on high-scale payrolls. But there will never be any poor, he said, because if you live in Los Alamos you work.

There is no business competition because there is only one of each kind of store. All businesses are run on government concessions, and prices are kept in line by inspectors who make periodic checks in Santa Fe and Albuquerque.

At first, because Los Alamos is government-owned, there was little provision for local government. But a city council was elected recently, and New Mexico has permitted Lo Alamos residents to vote in state elections and is helping with school financing. There are two schools, and a third is to be built this summer.

For recreation, residents bowl or go to the movies. There are no bars, no night clubs, and nothing to drink stronger than beer, which is sold at one store. An interfaith council regulates church services in the one chapel and serves everybody.

About 9,000 people live at Los Alamos now, about one third of them from Texas and Oklahoma. Jenson says they know what they are working on, but there is not much talk—even among themselves—about their jobs. And if you want to visit a friend in Los Alamos, you'll have to make arrangements ahead of time for a pass to get through the heavily guarded gates.

The 9,000 residents put up with the strict government regulation, Jenson says, because they like New Mexico and the cool mountains. "I guess that most of all, though," he says, "they feel they are doing something worthwhile."

Three-View Portrait Causes Disagreement

LONDON, May 1 (AP) — Highbrows and lowbrows among art connisseurs came to grips today over a portrait of a blonde whom the artist thought so fetching he painted her three ways on the same canvas.

Practically to a man, the critics derided as vulgar, flamboyant and meaningless the most provocative of a thousand entries in the Royal academy's summer exhibition.

But champions of the picture, headed by Sir Alfred Munnings, 69-year-old academy president who threatened to resign if the triple portrait were rejected, called it "remarkable" and perhaps the picture of the year.

The artist, John R. Merton, formerly an artillery officer, said the subject "has such a mobile face that one head would not have done justice to her beauty."

Therefore, he painted her in triplicate—right and left profiles and full face—employing the tempera technique wherein colors are mixed in egg yolk instead of oil, on a panel five feet by four. He also placed her features on a small centaur in a corner. In all, he spent 1,200 hours on it.

The subject herself, Daphne Wall, 30, was temporarily on the sidelines. She has measles.

Carmen Miranda To Appear With Midriff Covered In London

LONDON, May 1 (AP)—Carmen Miranda is covering her midriff tomorrow—on orders.

Booked for a Sunday night performance, the Brazilian star received a letter from the London county council reminding her that regulations outlaw stage costumes in shows on the Sabbath.

The addition of some cloth to her no-front dress will, she said, turn her costume into a native Brazilian dress.

Other officers elected were Odie A. Hood, secretary-treasurer; James A. Bowron, vice president, and Rhea E. Latham, Plainview, second vice president.

CENSORSHIP ORDERED

BAGHDAD, Iraq, May 1 (AP)—Strict censorship on military movements has been imposed in Iraq. The best available information here is that strong forces of the Iraq army are in Trans-Jordan for a prospective move against Palestine. Iraq air force units also have been assigned a role in these plans.

A Weak, Run-Down Feeling Is Often A Warning

That The Red-Blood Is Getting Low

If you do not feel like your real self, do not have the urge to be up and doing, why not check-up on your blood strength? Look at the palms of your hands, your fingernails, your lips, the lobes of your ears—are they pale and off color?

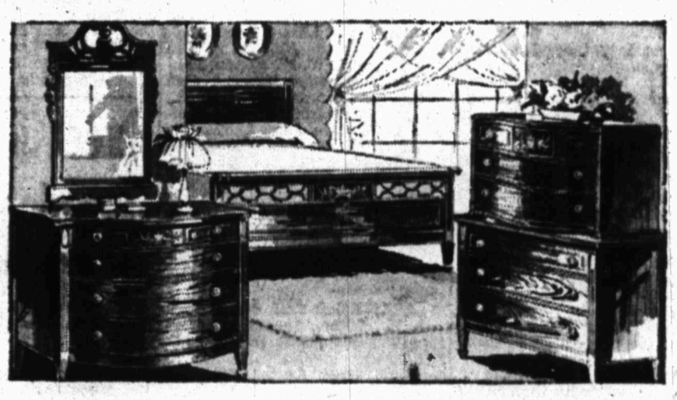

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Lubbock Group Theater Presents Hilarious Comedy Monday Night

After weeks of rehearsing, the Lubbock Group Theater will present "The Man Who Came to Dinner" at 8 o'clock Monday night in Senior High school auditorium.

The hilarious comedy was chosen as the first vehicle of the Group Theater and, added to that, another factor expected to create considerable audience interest is the cast of local persons.

Directors Are Confident

Co-directors of the play are Mrs. Charles L. Cobb and Mrs. R. W. Wicker, jr., each of whom has had experience in professional as well as group theater work. The co-directors expressed belief they have found the play and the cast to successfully launch the Little Theater movement in Lubbock.

The play was presented on Broadway in 1939, with immediate success. It was written by George Kaufman and Moss Hart. The story is built around an irascible lecturer, reviewer and raconteur who is marooned in the home of a small hostess as result of a fractured hip.

In the cast are: Harrison Butterworth, as Sheridan Whiteside; Suzan Phelps, as Mrs. Stanley; Lloyd Croslin, as Mr. Stanley; Bill Thurman, as Burt Jefferson; Mrs. J. Robert Moxley, as Maggie Cutler; Charles E. Musson, as Dr. Bradley; Miss Norma Day, as Lorraine Sheldon; Jeff D. Justice, as Beverly Carlton; Mrs. Mary Allen, as Mrs. Dexter; Mrs. Jane Jenkins, as Mrs. McCutcheon, Mrs. Helen Wootton, as Miss Preen; Mrs. Willella Nabors, as June Stanley; Leonard Shannon, as Richard Stanley; William Raffaniello, as the professor; Mrs. Ruth Wilson, as Harriet Stanley; Richard Kelisky, as John; Billie Hutchings, as Sarah; Weldon George, as Banjo; David P. Blackbird, as Sandy; G. V. Pardue, jr., as Wescott; Aubrey Thompson, as the expressman; W. C. Mauzey, as Mr. Baker, and Frank Burton, the part of a convict.

Sponsored By Optimists

The Lubbock Optimist club is to sponsor the theater group in two plays a year.

The Group Theater was organized in February.

"The Little Theater movement in Lubbock is a part of the increasing interest in drama which is evidencing itself throughout the United States," sponsors announced.

Mrs. Wicker and Mrs. Cobb, finding they had mutual interests in organizing a Little Theater in Lubbock, met Feb. 27 with a group of interested persons. At that and subsequent meetings, the casting of "The Man Who Came to Dinner" was done and a general plan of organization was formed.

"It is to be emphasized that not only actors and actresses were needed, but those interested in set designing, make-up and wardrobe, publicity, play reading, lighting or any other aspect of the theater," it was stated.

Others Are Possible

In addition to two plays to be presented each year under auspices of the Optimist club, other productions may be possible, it was announced.

"The group now working on "The Man Who Came to Dinner" consider themselves only the nucleus of a larger organization and urge all who are interested in the Group Theater to join them," the announcement continued.

Hopes were expressed that the Group Theater would become "an integral part of the community, with a theater of its own" and support of residents of Lubbock and nearby towns.

The co-directors of the play, Mrs. Cobb and Mrs. Wicker, have done considerable study and work, from Ireland to Hollywood.

Native Of Ireland

Mrs. Cobb, a native of Ireland, first became interested in theater work while studying at Queen's university in Ireland. She became a member of the Northern Ireland Theater group, which works in conjunction with and exchanges talent with the Abbey theater in Dublin, Ireland. She was trained at the dramatic school of the University of London and later performed on the legitimate stage. Although she has appeared in 'Time and the Conways" (J. B. Priestly) and in "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray" (Sir A. W. Pinero) and other productions, her favorite role is that of Nora in "The Doll's House" (Hendrick Isben).

During the war, she taught dramatics in Lurgan college in Northern Ireland. She now is on the faculty of Texas Technological college and since living in Lubbock has wished to take part in founding of a Little Theater.

Mrs. Wicker shared that desire to form a little theater.

Mrs. Wicker studied in the speech department at Texas Tech and later attended the Bishop Lee school of drama in Boston, from which she was graduated. She then studied under the celebrated Max Reinhardt in California. While studing there, she was under contract to Pine Thomas studios, appearing in short subjects for Warner Bros. and RKO studios. She was understudy to Gladys George in the stage production of "Rain" (Somerset Maughn).

Admission prices for the play are $1.80 for reserved seats and $1.20 for general admission, tax included. Advance sales are taking place at Hemphill-Wells Co., and Dunlap's.

HILARITY PROMISED PLAY GOERS—Hilarious scenes will be presented in 'The Man Who Came to Dinner," comedy to be produced at 8 o'clock Monday night in Senior High school auditorium by the Lubbock Group Theater. The scene above shows Ruth Wilson kneeling beside the chair of Harrison Butterworth, who plays the part of a lecturer, reviewer and raconteur marooned in the home of a small town hostess. Behind Butterworth is G. V. Pardue, jr., who has the part of Wescott, a radio man. Mrs. J. Robert Moxley, who has the leading feminine role as Maggie Cutler, is talking to Bill Thurman, a newspaperman, while behind them is William Raffaniello, who has the part of a professor in the play. At right is pictured Jeff Justice, who plays the part of Beverly Carlton, Englishman. He studied speech and dramatics at Texas Technological college and now is a Junior High school teacher. Lower photograph shows Mrs. Willella Nabors, who appears as June Stanley. She is a graduate of Lubbock High school and attended Texas State College for Women.—(Scene, by staff photographers; other, by Musson-Keels.)

Bouquet Of Yellow Roses, Plucked A Year Ago, Remains Fresh In English Church

STOCKPORT, England, May 1 (AP)—Father James Turner, rector of St. Mary's Catholic church, said today the roses used a year ago for the church's May festival will be used again, still fresh, in Sunday's event.

"Is it a miracle?" he asked. "I do not know.

Happened In Church

"But this amazing thing happened in my little church, and while I can't say whether there has been a divine intercession to keep this bouquet fresh for a whole year I do regard it as a mysterious suggestion to hold an especially devout May service. And that is what we have, a glorious May festival."

Father Turner estimated that 100,000 persons have visited the church since the 22 yellow roses were first placed on the statue of the Virgin Mary for last year's May festival.

"Normally, they should have wilted within a week or so after last year's festival," he added. "But they are fresh today, the fern is vibrant in my fingers—it's alive. The petals are soft, not like paper or hay, and there is no sign of crumbling."

Fastened with wire in a cluster of fern to the statue, the bouquet has darkened a bit but the flowers are intact.

Many of those visiting the church have asked for a petal or a leaf, believing the bouquet might have miraculous powers, but the priest said he was keeping it intact.

Pauline Byrne, then seven, who placed the roses on the statue last year, will have a prominent part in this year's festival.

Cigarette, Liquor Stamps Are Lucrative Source Of Revenue

AUSTIN, May 1 (AP)—Sale of cigarette, liquor, wine, and beer stamps totaled $2,956,725 in April, State Treasurer Jesse James reported today. Revenue was higher than in March and was also above that of April 1947.

Cigarette stamp sales netted the state $1,919,874; liquor, $613,509; wine, $51,807; and beer $371,534.

Change Of Venue Is Overruled In Trial

PLAINVIEW, May 1 (Special) Judge C. D. Russell today overruled a defense motion for a change in venue for trial of Grisham S. May, 33, charged with the May 26, 1947, robbery of the Hale Center First National bank.

Last Dec. 15, he was sentenced to 20 years in prison, but a new trial was granted by the Court of Criminal appeals March 24 because of trial jury "misconduct" in receiving evidence after retiring for deliberation and considering it with evidence regularly introduced during the trial.

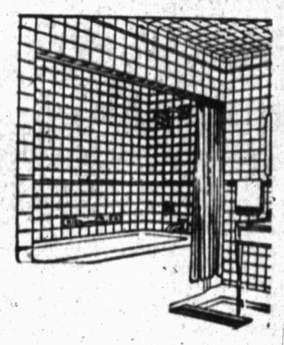

Victor H. Lindsey and E. A. Blair, defense counsel of Lubbock, appeared for May, who lived in Lubbock at the time the bank was robbed of $2,200.

The state, represented by District Attorney Harold M. LaFont, contested the venue motion.

Man Dies Of Injuries Suffered In Collision With Locomotive

WICHITA FALLS, May 1 (AP) Ben Buchanan, 48, of Hallsville, died early today of head and chest injuries suffered when his empty cattle truck collided with a railroad diesel switch engine 24 hours earlier.

His son, Bert, 22, was injured in the accident, which occurred at a grade crossing here.

Looked at and looked up to

This is the one, of course, that you spot at a glance.

This is the one that sends a string of facts racing through your mind — if you know automobiles — the instant you see the name ROADMASTER spelled out on its fender.

Up to one hundred and fifty Fireball horsepower. Eighteen feet big — and spring-colt lively.

Gorgeously finished. Coil-spring cradled on all four wheels. Shod with oversize tires that take extra low pressures for added comfort.

Convenient too — with push-button controls not only for the top, but for door windows and the front-seat adjustment as well.

This, too, is the only passenger car in this country where the power plant does what gears used to do.

Here's the one place you'll find Dynaflow Drive,* in which liquid replaces not only the clutch and manually operated low, second and high, but mechanical gear-changers as well.

In short — here's liquid ease and smoothness in delightful new degree, through a sort of "magic muscle" that lets you forget about gear-changing practically entirely.

No wonder, then, this car is looked up to.

Looked up to for impressive appearance — looked up to for superlative ability.

Looked up to for what's newest in engineering advances.

If your standards call for a real performer — and for quality a cut above the ordinarily good — specify ROADMASTER when you see your dealer (with or without a car to trade) about getting an order in.

WHAT'S DIFFERENT ABOUT DYNAFLOW DRIVE*?

To an efficient new pump (left above), Buick engineers have added a true turbine (right) and an ingenious new supercharging assembly (in hand) which produce a torque-boosting action in starting and accelerating. The result is the first device on any American passenger car which employs liquid to fill the function of both the clutch and the usual low, second and high gears. The clutch pedal is eliminated and a simple control gives you manual selection of power ranges and direction.

*Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster models only.

BUICK alone has all these features

PARADE WINNERS ANNOUNCED

Annual Bicycle Races For Boys And Girls Will Be Held Today

By OPAL DIXON
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Several hundred bicycle riders took part in a parade Saturday morning and bicyclists will attend another event, annual bicycle races, at 2:30 p. m. today.

Many gaily decorated bicycles were in the parade, which formed in 1900-block Broadway, went to downtown Lubbock and back to the starting point.

Winners Are Named

Judges announced the following prize winners: Bicycle queen, Sandra Sue Rutledge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Rutledge, 2220 Twenty-ninth; most attractive pair prize, to have been awarded to boy and girl riding together but in the absence of such entries awarded to two boys costumed as a pair and riding together, Buck Clary, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Clary, 814 Ave. N, and Clarence Coyle McElroy, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McElroy of 1917 Sixth; best decorated bicycle with girl rider, Annette Rose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rose, 2812 Twenty-fifth; best decorated bicycle with boy rider, David Rutledge, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Rutledge, 2220 Twenty-ninth;

Boy rider with funniest costume, James Womack, son of Rufus Womack of Westwood addition; girl rider with funniest costume, Nancy Stephens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Stephens, 1917 Ninth; best decorated bicycle, ridden by boy or girl, suggesting safety in bicycle riding, Karl Dockray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thord Dockray, 2812 Twenty-fourth; fattest boy on bicycle, Marvin Woodson, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Woodson, 505 Fourteenth; fattest girl on bicycle, Dolores Davis, daughter of Eddie Davis, 2619 E. Ave. H; smallest boy on bicycle, Tommy Harper, 5-year-old son of B. D. Harper, 1907 Ave. T; smallest girl on bicycle, Jane Baggett, 6-year-old daughter of Mrs. Leo Baggett, 2418 Twenty-second; boy with most freckles riding bicycle, Billy Carl Brookey, son of C. A. Brookey, 2608 Ruby; girl with most freckles riding bicycle, Bonnie Caddell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam H. Caddell, 2102 Eighteenth.

Judges were Sam McMillan, E. H. Timian, Polk Robison, Miss Peggy Hess and Mrs. F. H. Childress.

Races At Chapman Field

Lubbock Bicycle club sponsored the parade and will sponsor races, which will be conducted at Chapman field. Those entering races must be members of the bicycle club, according to rules.

The following events will be conducted, with first and second place medals being awarded in each event; Fastest individual time around the circle for boys and girls of ages 10, 11, 13 and 15; fanciest bicycle rider for boys and girls, no age limit; one quarter mile race for the first eight best times for boys and girls, ages 11 through 12; one-half mile race for the first eight best times for boys and girls 13 and 14; and one mile race for the first eight best times for boys and girls 15 years of age and older.

On Sunday, May 9, negroes will have their races at 2:30 p. m. at Chapman field. The same events are to be conducted.

There will be no admission charge for the races. The City Recreation department announced the public is invited to attend.

National Guard Seeks Recruits

In preparation for the first peacetime summer camp for the Texas National Guard in eight years, recruiting and training activities for the 132nd Field Artillery battalion, with headquarters in Lubbock, are being increased, according to Lt. Col. Ross Ayers, commander.

Dates for the summer training period, to be held this year at Camp Hood, are Aug. 15-29, Col. Ayers said. Weekly drills, which give men armory pay equivalent to one full day in the Army as well as longevity pay, are held each Monday night from 8 to 10 o'clock at National Guard headquarters at Lubbock Army Air field.

Means More Pay

The inclusion of longevity pay for prior army service has meant a raise for all men now connected with the local units and will mean more pay for those men between the ages of 17 and 34 who join the unit to receive military training, Col. Ayers said.

Many business men of Lubbock are assisting in providing Texas with a strong National Guard by granting their employees military leave for the summer camp period. The Guard is important to Texas because it provides a well-trained group which may be used in civic undertakings and at the time of disasters, as well as giving young men excellent military experience and technical training, Ayers added.

In order to provide personnel of the local guard unit with transportation to LAAF each Monday night, trucks make a regular route over Lubbock. Their schedule is as follows: east side of courthouse, 7:10 p. m.; American Legion hall, 7:15; Ave. Q and Broadway, 7:20; Broadway and College avenue, 7:25; College avenue and Nineteenth, 7:30.

Any man who desires information about joining the National Guard may phone the armory at Lubbock Army Air Field and talk with Capt. Bert Locke, Master Sgt. Kenneth G. Madry, Staff Sgt. Cowan, or Master Sgt. J. G. McClung. The phone number is 6882. Men may join any one of the following Lubbock units: Headquarters Battery, Service Battery, and Battery C. Battery A of the 132nd F. A. is located in Plainview, and Battery B in Big Spring.

For every dollar invested in building rural co-op power systems, consumers spend $4.50 on wiring and equipment.

50 POUNDS LOST WITH BARCENTRATE

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if redudible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Here is what Mrs. C. M. Earsh, 302 N. 12th St., McAllen, Texas, says about Barcentrate: "I want to tell you that I have lost 50 pounds since taking Barcentrate. I still want to lose 20 more pounds as I now weigh 167, a reduction from 217 pounds."

To lose weight the grapefruit juice way, get Barcentrate from your favorite druggist today.

OFFICIALS FORESEE BUSY WEEK

Registrations Pouring In From City, Area For Soap Box Derby

With the first week of registration behind them in which they ran completely out of blanks in registration of a total of 177 boys in the Avalanche-Journal-Chevrolet Soap Box Derby to be held on Monday, July 5, Derby officials Saturday were looking forward to a busy week ahead.

Additional registration blanks, rule books and other necessary material were expected to arrive over the week-end for renewal of entries in the big race, first to be held in Lubbock. In addition, copies of the booklet, "How To Build a Soap Box Derby Racer", are expected to arrive and be ready for distribution Monday.

The next week is also expected to see the arrival of wheel and axle sets and stearing gear units to be distributed from Firestone and Goodrich stores. The wheel and axle sets cost $10.95 and the stearing gear units price will be announced as soon as they arrive.

Boys May Get Advice

Exclusive of the wheel and axle and stearing gear sets, others materials used in building of the cars must not cost more than $6, the Derby rules emphasize. All the cars must be boy-built, but advice may be given by parents or sponsors.

Sponsors are business firms and individuals who pay a $17.50 fee, which will finance the boy's car in the race.

Members of the Lubbock Exchange club, who are joint sponsors with Kuykendall Chevrolet company and the Avalanche-Journal in staging the Derby, are signing up sponsors for the race and Saturday had a total of 100 sponsors. They hope to have a sponsor for each boy who cannot afford to purchase the necessary equipment and materials for his car.

Full details about the derby may be obtained by any boy who calls at the Derby headquarters in the showroom of Kuykendall Chevrolet company, 1902 Texas avenue, where Derby Director Roy Finley is on hand for registration and furnishing of information to the youngsters.

New Entries Signed

Additional entries, signed up before entry blanks ran out, include:

The play was written by Jack Drain of Dallas and Ed Sides of Midland.

Lymphoid Tumors Are Curable If Treated Early Enough, Boston Physicians Think

CHICAGO, May 1 (INS)—Three Boston physicians expressed belief today that lymphoid tumors, hitherto thought to be hopeless, are curable.

The three physicians, reporting in the current issue of radiology, published primarily for x-ray specialists, wrote after a review of recent cases as follows:

"We believe that some of these (lymphoid tumor) patients may be cured and that many of them may lead a happy and healthy life for a period of five years or more."

The reporting physicians, Drs. Hugh F. Hare, William C. Mulry, a J. C. Franklin Sornberger, all of the Lahey clinic in Boston, emphasized the necessity of early recognition of the disease, stating:

Death May Result

"Lymphoid tumors if untreated will invariably result in the death of the patient."

Lymphoid tumor is described as an "insidious" disease marked by enlargement of the lymph nodes of the neck—the first symptom—which frequently is followed by upper respiratory infection.

Its symptoms include weakness, fatigue, loss of weight and pain, with bone involvement in 10 per cent of the patients.

They stated the disease first may be noted through an enlargement of the lymph nodes of the neck. Nodes are small organs scattered through the body, especially the neck, armpits, around the roots of the lungs, around the intestines and in the groins.

They emphasized that in many cases of the disease "no symptoms may be noted other than persistent enlargement of the nodes," and that, with the exception of tuberculosis and sarcoid disease, "no other condition is so chronic."

The doctors added:

"It is important, therefore, that we bend our efforts toward the vigorous treatment of those patients who show early manifestations by prompt recognition and diagnosis."

Lymphoid tumor is described as an "insidious" disease marked by enlargement of the lymph nodes of the neck—the first symptom—which frequently is followed by upper respiratory infection.

The doctors said that no other tumor responds to treatment as rapidly as the lymphoid tumor.

The doctors reported their study shows that 29 per cent of 181 patients, or 50 of them, were alive and well at the end of a five-year period after early treatment, and that of 21 patients studied for a 10-year period, 17 remained alive and well.

WTSTC Ex-Students To Honor President

Ex-students of West Texas State Teachers college of the South Plains area are to honor retiring president, Dr. J. A. Hill and Mrs. Hill at a dinner at Lubbock hotel at 7 p. m. Monday, May 10, Wyatt L. Hester announced Saturday.

Dr. and Mrs. James P. Cornette will also be introduced at the dinner. Dr. Cornette will succeed Dr. Hill as president of the Canyon school this fall.

Reservations for the dinner, at $1.50 per plate, should be made by Saturday, May 8. Reservations may be made at Hester's Office Supply Co., 1214 Texas avenue, or at night by phoning Mary Lou Roberson, dial 6700 or Marie Miles, dial 2-6465.

Kansas Woman Will Observe Her 107th Birthday Monday

IRVING, Kan., May 1 (U.P.)—Mrs. Lucy Woodman will observe her 107th birthday Monday.

The day will be spent quietly at the home of her grandson, state Sen. R. G. Thomson, with whom she lives.

Old age finally is catching up with her for she has failed noticeably in the last year and no longer is able to enjoy the newspaper and the radio. She gained much pleasure from them until two years ago.

"Grandmother is taking life very easy these days," Thomson said.

Streamlined Train Installed At Mackenzie State Park

Installation of a modern diesel-type streamlined train with four cars with a capacity of 32 adults or 48 children as an addition to the facilities of the amusement park at Mackenzie State park was announced Saturday by Sam Caplan, operator.

Caplan, who moved here from Houston and purchased the amusement park from Bates Witt and associates, said other improvements are being made on the park.

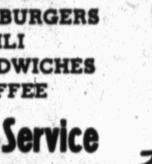

The train, known as the Century Flyer, is the same type as installed in parks in Denver, Detroit, Birmingham and other larger cities, Willial de L'horbe, jr., representative of the National Amusement Device company of Dayton O., said here Saturday.

The locomotive is 12 feet long, four feet high, weighs 3,075 pounds and is powered by a 40 housepower Ford tractor motor. Each of the four cars of the train are ten feet long.

Installation work has already started on a track extension which will provide a ride of more than a half-mile when the project is completed, Caplan said.

Caplan said repairs were being made on other rides in the park and a paint job given the entire project. He formerly operated the Lakeside park at Denver, Colo.

Senate Test Vote May Decide Fate Of Oleo Tax Repeal Bill

By EARLE MARCKRES
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 1—The Senate may take a test vote early next week which will determine whether the House-approved bill to repeal oleomargarine taxes is passed or is tabled.

The vote will come if Senate President Vandenberg (R-Mich), decides to refer the bill to the Agriculture committee for consideration.

It is believed that this committee would bottle up the measure, as the House agriculture committee did. It was finally forced to the House floor by a discharge petition signed by a majority of the lower chamber's members.

Finance Group Also Open

The other committee to which Vandenberg could send the bill—the Finance committee—is believed ready to report it to the Senate for favorable action.

Vandenberg said today that he has not made up his mind but pointed out that Senate procedure requires that dispatch of a bill to committee be decided on its general content.

The question at issue is: Is the margarine tax repealer primarily an agricultural or a revenue measure.

Vandenberg recalled that when the tax was first levied 62 years ago the Senate voted, 22 to 21, to refer it to the Agriculture committee. A number of senators pointed out that Vandenberg is a disciple of precedent.

Senate Will Decide

The Senate president said, however, that whatever decision he made he would submit to the Senate for debate and a vote and that thereafter he would be "a bystander."

Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) said Vandenberg apparently is determined to send the bill to the Agriculture committee instead of the Finance committee.

Fulbright admitted facing an uphill fight if Vandenberg rules in favor of the agriculture group. He said:

"If we could get a vote on the merits of the bill next week, I am confident that it would pass the Senate. But I am not so confident that we will be able to reverse the chair.

"There are a lot of senators who are comparatively new and who would be inclined to go along with the ruling by the chair."

Fulbright said he had received intimations that Vandenberg would refer the bill to the Agriculture committee on the ground that it is simply a measure which affects agriculture.

BAN IS LIFTED

LONDON, May 1 (AP)—Britain lifted today its eight month ban on foreign travel for pleasure. Thousands promptly headed for holidays on the continent. Currency restrictions remain in force. A vacationing adult is allowed only £35 (140) a year in foreign money, and a child under 16 £25 ($100).

A new poultry-picking machine detaches the dead fowls' feathers by flipping them against numerous rubber fingers projecting from two fast-whirling drums.

Springlake Resident's Funeral Services To Be Held Today

SPRINGLAKE, May 1 (Special)—Funeral services will be conducted at Springlake Church Of Christ Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for William Francis Banks, 75, who died at 8:30 o'clock Friday morning.

Mr. Banks had lived in Springlake 16 years, moving here from Jackson county, Okla.

He is survived by his wife, five sons, J. A. Banks, minister of Anton Church of Christ, Joe L. Banks, minister of Hale Center Church of Christ, Ray Banks of Springlake, Dwight Banks of Springlake and Kenneth Banks of Anaheim, Calif.; two daughters, Mrs. J. B. Blake of Oklahoma City and Mrs. L. H. Dent of Springlake.

J. L. Roberts, minister of the Springlake church, will officiate at services, assisted by Morgan Sturges. Burial will be in Littlefield cemetery.

Annual Pulitzer Prize Winners Will Be Announced Monday

NEW YORK, May 1 (AP)—The coveted Pulitzer prize awards — given annually for outstanding work in journalism, literature, music and art—will be announced Monday (3 p. m. EST).

There will be seven awards in journalism and one each for the best musical work, book on history, play, biography and "distinguished fiction." Awards to individuals will be $500 in cash. Winning newspapers will receive medals.

The prizes, first awarded in 1917, were provided for in a $2,500,000 gift made to Columbia university by Joseph Pulitzer, one-time publisher of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch and the old New York World.

Final selections are made by an advisory board.

Edgar Sanders, 52, Claimed By Death

Edgar Sanders, 52, a Texas ranger who formerly was a deputy sheriff at Tahoka and, earlier, at Lubbock, died at 4 o'clock Saturday morning in a Sweetwater hospital, it was announced by Lubbock headquarters of ranger company C.

Ill approximately a year, Sanders went to the hospital at midweek after suffering a heart attack. He died of a cerebral hemorrhage, the United Press reported.

Sanders became a ranger six years ago, after serving as deputy in the administration of Sheriff B. L. Parker of Lynn county. He was stationed at Sweetwater.

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock this morning at Sweetwater, and burial will be after 4 o'clock rites read this afternoon at the funeral chapel in Tahoka, it was announced.

Pallbearers will be rangers of company C, composed of Capt. R. A. Crowder, commanding officer, Raymond Waters, and W. E. Renfrow, all of Lubbock, and Frank Probst of Amarillo, J. C. Paulk of Abilene, and J. L. Rogers of Lamesa. Leroy Duncan of Harlingen, formerly a ranger of company C, will attend Tahoka rites, as will Joe S. Fletcher, assistant director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, Rangers M. T. Gonzaullas and Ernest Daniel, and perhaps other rangers it was announced.

Sanders was married, but he and Mrs. Sanders had no children.

"System" Gamblers Retire To Overhaul Method After Losses

LAS VEGAS, Nev., May 1. (AP)—Luck finally deserting them, two University of Chicago graduates repaired to the anto room today to overhaul their system.

Their formula for roulette riches sprang a leak yesterday when a 14-hour assault on a local gambling club produced a net loss of $160.

Albert Hibbs, 23, Chillicothe, O., and Dr. Roy Walford, 23, San Diego, lost all the money won last week using their undisclosed system at another club. But they still held hopes of hitting the combination which brought them $8,000 at Reno last November.

Funeral Services Conducted For Mrs. Ama Bell Davis

LAMESA, May 1 (Special)—Funeral services were conducted here Wednesday at the First Methodist church for Mrs. Ama Bell Davis, 67, a Lamesa resident for 24 years who died here Monday.

Methodist pastor Sam A. Thomas officiated at the services, assisted by Jack Meares, jr., and burial was in the local cemetery with Higginbotham Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Davis, a native of Wood county, had been a member of the Methodist church for 45 years. Her husband died in 1909.

Survivors include three sisters, Mrs. D. F. Baker, Lubbock; Mrs. Vic Warlick, Dallas, and Mrs. Jesse Chrietzberg, Gregston; four daughters, Mrs. C. B. Priddy, Vernon, Mrs. W. T. Sherrill, Amarillo, Mrs. S. E. West, Fort Worth, and Mrs. Jack Willis, Lamesa; nine grandchildren and 2 great grandchildren.

Non-Residential Building Leads Home Construction During Week

AUSTIN, May 1 (AP)—Construction awards for home building continued to lag behind non-residential contracts this week.

Non-residential lettings totaled $10,341,868. Residential, including home dwellings, apartments and duplexes, amounted to $6,520,500, the Texas Contractor, building trade journal, reported.

Engineering awards added $1,440,443 to bring the total for all contracts to $18,302,811 compared to $21,573,919 last week.

Southwest Wheat Crop Hard Hit By Drouth; Big Loss Predicted

(By The United Press)

April dealt a 30,000,000 to 40,000,000 bushel blow to the southwest wheat crop, the Santa Fe railroad's grain expert, Charles W. Lane, said today.

Lane estimated that 1948 production possibilities were slashed that much in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

The situation, Lane said, is this:

90 Days Late

The wheat crop is 90 days or more late and has less than 60 days in which to mature. Weather conditions will have to be extremely favorable—timely rains, cool nights and warm days— in the next month and a half or the harvest will be even shorter than now expected.

The breadbasket area suffered from too little April moisture, said the veteran agricultural observer.

Sub-soil moisture is fair to good, but the topsoil is baked and dry in many places in the wheat belt.

Oklahoma Brightest

Of the three states, Oklahoma prospects are the brightest because of rains during the last two weeks.

Kansas, the biggest wheat state in the nation, was hard hit in April.

Lane estimated that the Kansas crop potential has been whittled down from half to a million bushels a day since April 1.

Lane listed these May 1 conditions in Texas:

"General wheat prospects in Northwest Texas are poor to fair.

"It is estimated that from 10 to 25 per cent of the fields are now being plowed under, due to dry weather, wind, cutworms and red spiders. And more acreage will be abandoned soon unless the drouth is broken.

"In the vicinity of Crowell, Chillicothe and other areas below the caprock, also in a few scattered localities in the North Plains, prospects for a normal crop are good.

Growth Is Delayed

"Elsewhere, except for a limited amount of summer fallow and irrigated wheat, growth has been delayed and unless weather conditions are extremely favorable from now on, it is doubtful if Texas will produce more than 40,000,000 bushels. At best, harvest will be from 10 to 20 days late.

"Abandonment of wheat land in the northwest, is expected to cause an increase in cotton and grain sorghum acreage, especially in the South Plains."

CIVIC LEADER DIES

GAINESVILLE, May 1 (AP) — William R. Block, Gainesville business man and civic leader, died of a heart attack last night.

The 54-year-old hardware merchant had been a city council member for several terms and was active in several other civic groups.

West Texas History Group Will Convene At Tech This Week

The annual meeting of the West Texas Historical association will be held on the campus of Texas Technological college in Lubbock Thursday with President R. C. Crane of Sweetwater presiding.

Those on the program for the meeting are President Crane, Dr. R. N. Richardson, president of Hardin-Simmons University; John R. Hutto, Abilene; Dr. W. C. Holden, head professor history and anthropology at Texas Tech; Col. M. L. Crimmins, San Antonio; Robert Earnest Lee Jr., Wichita Falls; J. R. Webb, Albany; Dr. Oscar A. Kinchen, professor of history at Texas Tech; and J. H. Williams, Wichita Falls.

Lectures Scheduled

The association, held annually in West Texas by members interested in the history and records of this section of the state, will convene at 9:45 a.m. with Dr. Holden offering greetings, followed by Hutto giving the response.

President Crane will speak on "How Quirks of Weather Have Made History in West Texas." Webb will read a letter from John C. Jacobs to Joe S. McCombs titled "From One Buffalo Hunter to Another."

A business meeting will open the afternoon session of the association with President Crane in charge. Dr. Richardson will be a featured speaker during the afternoon, speaking on "Experiences of a West Texas Dirt Road County Doctor." Mrs. Lee Kincaid will speak on "Rath City." The meeting will adjourn following J. H. Williams' address on "The West Texas Cowboy of Fact and Fiction."

Out-of-town visitors for the annual meeting will be guests of the Texas Technological college members of the association for luncheon at noon.

BUSINESS WOMAN — Miss Alice Hansen signs a document in her office in New York during an interview. In a Lone Star Steel corporation's stockholders meeting in Dallas, President Eugene B. Germany revealed that Miss Hansen, president of the Pittsburgh Mill Steel company of New York, had purchased 105,000 tons of pig iron from the Lone Star company in March, 1947, at about $40 a ton and was due to realize a profit of about $2,000,000 on resale of the material at the current price of about $75 per ton. TO SEIZE BOATS

NANKING, May 1 (AP) — The Chinese navy today declared open season on Japanese fishing boats that venture into Chinese waters. Passenger and fishing vessels were invited by the Navy to help seize the Nipponese boats and share in the catch as a prize.

City Building Permits Climb

An average of about 25 new residences have been started in Lubbock each week since Jan. 1, City Building Inspector Lloyd Ross reported Saturday.

Highlighting a procession of record - breaking figures was his disclosure that permits have been issued for 423 new dwellings costing $2,345,468 this year. Seven were issued Saturday.

The pace is almost twice that of last year. During the first four months of 1947, permits were issued for 220 residences costing $2,345,468 this year. Seven were issued Saturday.

The pace is almost twice that of last year. During the first four months of 1947, permits were issued for 220 residences costing $1,283,761. Both were record-breaking figures to that time.

Residential Record

Residence construction has accounted for more than half of the $4,267,376 in building authorized this year, the official report showed. That figure also is a record-breaker, comparing with $3,698,243 for the same period of 1947.

The figures released by Ross do not include construction started in the suburban areas immediately adjoining the city limits. No official records exist of a new building there but estimates are that construction in those areas since Jan 1 has included well over 100 residences and other projects representing a total value close to $2,000,000.

83 Residences

Construction authorized during April inside the city, according to the building inspector, totaled $1,091,7739, including 83 residences valued at $426,951. The comparable figures in April, 1947, were $583,555 in total building, including 56 residences valued at $354,780.

Residence permits issued or authorized Saturday were: J. O. Sanders, 3301, 3303 and 3305 Thirtieth street, $7,500 each; Wayne Construction co., 3505 Thirtieth street, $8,000; V. W Smith, owner, and Sam Hallmark, jr., contractor, 3418 Twenty-sixth, $7,500; Urban Construction co., 3306 Thirty-first, $6,500, and Vincent Thompson, owner, and G. W Blair, jr., contractor, 2306 Ninth, $4,000.

Coke Stevenson To Open State Headquarters In Austin Monday

AUSTIN, May 1 (AP) — Coke Stevenson, candidate for the United States Senate, will open state headquarters in Austin Monday.

Simultaneous announcement was made today that Morris Roberts of Victoria will be campaign coordinator for Stevenson, and Mrs. Amerilia Mallory will be office manager.

Stevenson reported he has a heavy schedule of speeches for the first half of this month. Most of them will be in East Texas.

Famous Texas Panhandle Circus Show Woman Dies In California

SAN JOSE, Calif., May 1 (AP)— The Texas Panhandle girl who found fame as queen of the circus cowgirls died here yesterday.

She was Mrs. Eugene Bolton, 53, known professionally as Dot Vernon, who performed trick roping and riding in Great Britain, Africa and the Latin American countries.

Her career began in her native Texas Panhandle with the Pawnee Bill wild west show.

In 1914 she was presented to Great Britain's royal family at a command performance during her tour with the 101 wild west show. The last years of her career were spent with the Barnum and Bailey and Buffalo Bill shows.

She left the Big Top, the Tanbark and show horses 10 years ago and retired to a small ranch near here. Mrs. Bolton was at the ranch when she died yesterday.

SOVIET RECOGNITION EXPECTED

Puppet Government Of North Korea Adopts 'Constitution'

By JAMES E. ROPER
United Press Staff Writer

SEOUL, May 1—The Soviet puppet government of northern Korea announced adoption of a "constitution" today and claimed jurisdiction over all Korea, including the American occupation zone in the south.

The constitution, following the Russian model, named Seoul as the capital of Korea but said that for now the capital will remain at Pyongyang, seat of the Russian occupation zone in the north.

UN Plans Defied

Adoption of the constitution, taken in defiance of United Nations plans for Korea, was announced by Pyongyang radio. The announcement opened a tense May day weekend throughout southern Korea.

Pyongyang described it as the "all-Korean constitution" and said it was approved by the North Korean Peoples committee, the Comunist-controlled interim government in the Soviet occupation zone.

It provides for an elected assembly, which would name a 15-man presidium, apparently the real ruling body.

The constitution provides for government ownership of all mines, forests, utilities and other "important enterprises." It bans absentee landlords and authorizes state-planned programs for "economy and culture."

New Flag Designed

The constitution also provides a new flag for Korea, with a design of crossed hammers and sickles, and establishes the new government as the "Democratic Peoples Republic of Korea."

Adoption of this document clears the way for Soviet recognition of the new government as the sovereign ruler, thus tending to free the Russians of responsibility for events in Korea.

Lt. Gen. John Hodge, American occupation commander, so far has insisted on holding the Russians responsible for the actions of their puppet north Korean government.

It is believed the constitution lays the groundwork for probable Soviet withdrawal from northern Korea, leaving the U.S. occupying the southern half of Korea in the Soviet-labelled role of "colonizers."

Florida Oranges Don't Taste So Good, California Claims

LOS ANGELES, May 1 (AP) — Note to Florida points:

The California Fruit Growers exchange reported today that your oranges don't taste so good.

"Reports indicate Florida oranges are arriving in good condition in eastern markets," a CFG handout said, adding smugly "but the flavor is not satisfactory."

The release went on "Apparently neither Florida nor Texas can satisfy the demand for good flavored oranges and California shippers are confident their fruit will meet consumer demands in this respect."

So there.

Tragic Case Of Miscarriage Of Justice Is Reopened By Claim For Tax Refund

By JACK LOTTO
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 1—A routine claim for a refund of taxes opened another chapter today in the tragic case of New York's most notable miscarriage of justice.

Attorney James C. Webster, executor for the estate of the late Bertram M. Campbell, sent to prison in 1938 for a crime he did not commit, is preparing to go to court to get a final answer to the question:

Is $115,000 awarded as damages for wrongful imprisonment and humiliation taxable as earned income?

The New York state tax commissioner has ruled that no part of the award is subject to a tax.

The federal government thinks otherwise.

In 1947, Webster paid the commissioner of internal revenue $3,500 under protest to avoid penalties and interest charges.

Guilty Man Confessed

Several months ago, the attorney, who had worked for many years to prove his client's innocence, filed a claim for refund.

He quoted the New York ruling which said the judgment had been awarded "on the basis of an invasion by the state of New York of a personal right—loss of freedom."

Early this week he sent a telegram to the federal tax commission, renewing his demand for a refund and asking for a formal rejection of his claim so he could start suit in federal court.

Campbell, a Wall street securities salesman, was convicted of forgery when Governor Thomas E. Dewey was district attorney for New York county.

He spent three years and four months in Sing Sing prison before being released in 1941 on parole.

Campbell, married, and the father of three children, was exonerated in 1945, when Alexander D. L. Thiel, a smooth-talking, professional forger, confessed that he was the guilty man.

A Court of Claims gave Campbell $40,000 for loss of earnings during the period of his imprisonment and subsequent parole, and $75,000 for "personal humiliation."

Governor Dewey gave him a full pardon in 1945.

The central figure in the tragic case died of a stroke on Sept. 7, 1946, three months after he received a check from the state, less $1,857.10 deducted for tax on income earned prior to his arrest.

Campbell was 51 years of age and earning close to $15,000 a year as a customers' man when the limping Thiel presented a forged check for $4,169 at the window of the Central Hanover Bank and Trust company in 1937.

The Wall street man who resembled Thiel, and also walked with a slight limp of the right foot, was arrested when three witnesses "positively" identified him as the check passer.

His family was forced to move out of their home and go on relief when Campbell was sentenced to 5-10 years in prison.

Ironically, when Campbell received his settlement check, Nassau county put in a claim for $3,355.85 paid out to assist the family.

The claim eventually was dropped.

Campbell lived only three months after he received the check for $113,142.90, but his cautious nature kept him from "splurging" on the money, and insured his family's future in event of his death."

The first thing he did was to buy his wife, Gertrude, a diamond ring for $2,800.

Other Investments Listed

Twenty-five per cent of the $115,000 grant was paid to Webster.

Campbell bought a neat, one family frame house in Freeport, Long Island, for $15,000 and completely furnished it for another $5,000.

The whole family was treated to new outfits at a cost of $2,000.

Campbell, who said his prison life had "seriously affected" his nerves, bought a boat for $3,500 so he could "go fishing with the family" and try to regain his health.

He purchased a new automobile for $2,000.

Six thousand dollars was invested in real estate in Long Island, and Campbell gave his wife a present of $20,000 in "substantial" stock and bonds.

The balance of the money, $25,000 was put into the bank.

He willed everything to his wife.

Mrs. Campbell, and her three children; Harry, 19; Joan, 17; and Bertram, jr., 14, still live in their Freeport home.

She is not bitter about the "empty years" of lonliness and hardship caused by the state's "mistake." It could have happened to anyone, she says.

Man Fulfills Promise To Wife By Marrying Her Best Friend

PITTSBURGH, May 1 (AP)—An 85-year-old man fulfilled a promise to his dying wife by marrying a 63-year-old woman last night.

On her death bed five weeks ago, his wife made Martin Goff promise to marry her best friend, Mrs. Gladys Havarding, a widow.

"She wanted me to be happy," said Goff of his first wife. "And Gladys was just the person for that."

Hundreds Expected To Attend Two Programs At Tech Today

and the Air Medal.

The program, which will highlight one of the busiest days on the campus this year, will include tributes to visiting parents, war veterans and outstanding students. One of the highlights of the day will be the announcement of recipients of various scholarship awards given to students each year.

The day's activities will begin with the registration of the parents in the Recreation hall from 12:15 until 2 p.m. There will be a separate table for each of the five divisions in the college and parents are urged to register at the table of the division in which their children are enrolled.

The Memorial Circle dedication ceremony will be held in the center of the circle from 2 until 3:15 p.m. It will start with the playing of the national anthem by the Tech concert band followed by the all-male chorus who will sing "Sleepers Wake." Trent C. Root, sponsor of the TWVA will introduce General Bruce and following his address, Gene Nowlin, president of TWVA will make the dedicatory address with the response coming from Pres. W. M. Whyburn.

To Erect Monument

A monument of polished red granite 40 inches high and topped with a sun dial will be placed near the center of the circle facing east. On its face will be inscribed the words "Dedicated 1948 by the Tech War Veterans Association to all those whose service has brought honor to college and country." The dedication applies not only to those in the past but to those who shall perform such a service in the future as well. Arrangements for the stone were made by Jim Collier of the South Plains Monument company, a Tech graduate.

The dedication ceremony will end with the playing of the college song, "Oh College Mother Beautiful", by the concert band.

To Talk At Ceremony

Recognition services for eligible students and organizations will be held in the college gymnasium beginning at 3:30 p.m. The services will open with a processional march by those being honored after which Dr. M. Norvel Young, minister of the Broadway Church of Christ will make the invocation. Pres. W. M. Whyburn will introduce Dr. Millikan and following his address, the recognitions will be made.

Those qualifying for formal recognition are students in the upper 3 per cent in each division, provided that no student of that rank has under a 2.25 grade point average. Campus organizations in which two thirds of the membership maintain a grade point average of 2.00 or better will be recognized. The top ranking individual in each of the five divisions will be called out for further recognition. The scholastic standings are determined on the basis of the average held by the student for the two semesters preceding the semester in which recognition is given.

To Announce Awards

Holders of 1947-48 scholarships and awards who have maintained a 2.00 grade point average during all of their college work will also be recognized. These scholarship and award holders are:

Sears-Roebuck Foundation scholarships: Marion Baumgardner, Wellington; Milton Bennett, Anson; and Robert M. Kral, Sweetwater.

Water Situation

inch line laid last fall and winter at a cost of nearly $900,000. Since this line flows into the reservoir, the greater portion of the water from the wells attached to the 36-inch will not be available until the 10,000,000 gallon basin is finished. However, some water is being obtained from those sources now through a temporary 10-inch main which by-passes the reservoir to connect the 36-inch line with the distribution system.

Completion Time Uncertain

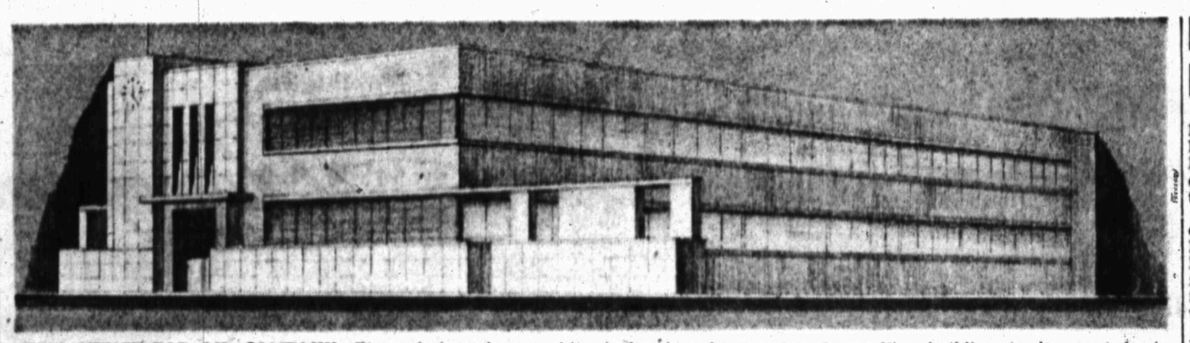

Just when the reservoir will be ready is uncertain. Work was started on it in May, 1947. The contract with McMillan called for its completion within 200 "working days." with the contractor being subject to a penalty of $100 per day for any delay beyond that time in delivering the finished reservoir to the city.

Disagreement has developed as to what constitutes a "working day." According to the city's computations, the reservoir should have been finished last Feb. 4. McMillan contends that unavoidable delays due to various causes entitle him to more time.

The outlook as to when the reservoir might be available for use seemed highly confused Saturday. The best guess seemed to be that it might be put into service around July 1. Some hopes were expressed that it might be available about June 1. Other observers expressed doubt as to whether it will be finished by August 1.

Until it is finished, city officials acknowledged frankly that shortages of water are almost inevitable, regardless of other drilling, during any periods of prolonged hot and dry weather. Unless the reservoir is ready for use during July, the shortages are likely to be even worse than during the mid-summer of last year unless those months are cooler and wetter than during those months of 1947.

Mayor Rodgers said the commission expects to ascertain definitel and exactly what the water prospects are within the next few days. They will be reported to people of the city without delay, he added

Change Made In UMT, Draft Bill

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 1—Only 18 year olds would be subject to the one year training under the latest version of the compromise plan for universal military training, announced today by Senator Gurney (R-SD).

At the same time Gurney said the age limits on the two-year temporary draft plan in the Senate bill would be 19 years through 25 instead of 19½ through 25.

"We learn there is not enough available manpower between 19½ and 25 to fill expected needs of the two-year draft plan," the Senate Armed Services committee chairman told a reporter. "Too many of them are veterans, married or exempt as members of the National Guard or other Class A reserve units."

Substitute Backed

Originally senators wanted to apply the one-year training in the regular forces to youths between 18 and 19½ with two year draft terms on men from 19½ through 25.

Both President Truman and Secretary of Defense Forrestal have backed the Senate compromise as a substitute for their original long-range separate UMT program.

Gurney said a complete draft of the new manpower bill will be ready for committee action Tuesday morning.

Demo Sessions Quiet

Whitacre were named alternates.

A resolution opposing passage of a state sales tax and another seeking to work for delegates in the county and state convention instructed to support of the party nominees were approved. A resolution opposing anti-labor legislation was defeated.

The convention also voted down a proposal for unit rule voting by the delegation in the county convention.

This resolution was adopted by the precinct 6 convention, which with C. C. Cox as chairman met in Junior High school: "Be it resolved that only bona fide members of the Democratic party be permitted to participate in this Democratic convention, and that the test of party membership be the willingness on the part of those participating to sign the following pledge: 'I hereby state that I am a member of the Democratic party and that I will support at the general election in November, the persons nominated by the Democratic national convention for president and vice president'."

Blanket Endorsement Rejected

The following were named as delegates to the county convention: C. C. Cox, chairman, Howard Davison, J. W. Chapman, J. W. Jackson, S. M. Kennedy, J. F. Hankins, J. E. Henderson, Kathleen Ingram; and the following as alternates: Walter Davies, W. W. Kitts, L. F. Caddel, and G. V. Pardue.

A blanket endorsement of the state and national administrations was rejected.

In precinct 1, convened in the courthouse, there were resolutions for restoration of the two-thirds rule for selection of party nominees at the national convention; and that the Texas delegation to the national convention be instructed to work for these planks in the 1948 party platform: "First reassertion of the states rights principles of a free republican democracy; second, opposition to retention of wartime powers by the federal government, with a demand that they be returned immediately to the states; third, opposition of further encroachment by the federal government of the fundamental functions of government that inalienably belongs to citizens of the states; and, fourth, that said platform be adopted by the National Democratic Party convention prior to selection of the party's nominees for national office."

Must Vote As Unit

H. C. Bowlin, acting chairman, called the convention to order. L. B. Wright and Mrs. J. T. Hutchinson were elected chairman and secretary. The following delegates were selected to the county convention: James H. Goodman, chairman, H. C. Bowlin, R. Bush Smith, C. C. Jones, L. B. Wright, Kenneth E. Pharr, Mrs. W. O. Stevens, Mrs. James H. Goodman, Mrs. Tom Toombs; and the following alternates: Ross Edwards, A. J. Willis, Hurley Carpenter, J. A. Ashby, L. E. Bell, Wm. M. Lowrimore, Mrs. J. T. Hutchinson, T. L. Barnes, and Mrs. L. F. Bell.

A motion to send delegates uninstructed, except to vote as a unit, to the county convention was unanimously adopted by precinct 7-A, in the Arnett-Benson addition. Jack Stokes presided. T. W. Moss was elected secretary. Approximately 30 persons attended. Named as delegates and alternates to the county convention were J. F. Eddleman, Frank A. White, R. W. Case, James C. Sharp, T. W. Moss, C. R. Miner, C. O. White, Joe Earhart, J. P. Mills, and T. W. Moss, chairman.

DR. MILLIKAN TO SPEAK TODAY

Noted Scientist Will Present Series Of Lectures At Tech

When Dr. Robert A. Millikan presents a series of four lectures at Texas Technological college this week, people of the Lubbock area will have an opportunity to hear one of the world's foremost scientists.

The 80-year-old educator, author and lecturer has been active in the field of science for well over 50 years and has contributed a great deal to his country both in peace and war.

Developed Sub Detector

Cited in World War I for his work in developing the first U-boat detection device, Millikan helped organize the National Academy of Science, the only research department the armed forces had, and was forced to pursue his work for a time with private funds. His subsequent development of the U-boat detector was a primary factor in the defeat of Germany.

During World War II Millikan specialized in rocket development. He headed a staff of 4,700 technicians who produced 90 per cent of the rockets used by both the Army and Navy. Though he was not directly concerned with the research and development that resulted in the atom bomb, he did teach many of the scientists who were, including Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer director of the laboratory that perfected it.

Noble Prize Winner

As an educator and scholar, Dr. Millikan is professor emeritus of physics at California Institute of Technology and chairman of the executive council of the institute. Winner of the Nobel prize in physics, Dr. Millikan holds more than 25 honorary degrees and awards from learned societies in the United States, Europe and Asia in recognition of his outstanding achievements. He is one of the first eminent scientists to advance the theory that no conflict exists between science and religion. "Who's Who in America" devotes approximately three times the space to the still-spry octogenarian than to the President of the United States.

The first in his series of four talks will be given as part of the Parent's Day and Recognition service in the college gymnasium beginning at 3:30 p. m. today. Subject of today's address will be "The Two Supreme Elements in Human Progress". Other lectures will be held in the Recreation hall, directly south of the administration building on the campus at 7:30 p. m. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Subject of Wednesday's talk will be "Man's Place in the Evolhtionary Scheme". No subject has been announced for his address either Monday or Tuesday which will be devoted to question and answer periods. The public is invited to all four of these lectures.

Dr. Millikan will discuss "The Release and Utilization of Atomic Energy," at 5 p. m. Tuesday before members of the Science club, the Physics club and Sigma XI, national science research fraternity of which he is a member.

Dr. W. M. Whyburn and other members of the Texas Tech staff will leave for Amarillo early today to meet Dr. Millikan. The group will attend a luncheon to be given at 12:15 p. m. today by the Tech War Veterans association at the Lubbock hotel, honoring Maj. Gen. Andrew D. Bruce, who will deliver the main talk at the Memorial Circle dedication this afternoon.

Lubbock Band Rates High In Competition

Lubbock High school band members today had marked up a first division rating in Class AA marching competition at the Interscholastic League Music contest held Friday and Saturday at Canyon.

The band, under the direction of Lewis L. Stoelzing, also won second division ratings in concert band and sight reading against bands from Amarillo, Borger and Pampa.

Band members competing in solo competition won six first division ratings and two second division placings. Contestants and placings were Vann Scott, first in trombone, Eddie Goetze, first in clarinet, Don Medlock, first in clarinet, Patsy Gibbs, first in cello, Kenneth Cox, first in cornet, J. A. White, first in cornet, Ned Hardin, second in flute, and Donald Davis, second in drums.

Four first division ratings were won by Lubbock band members competing in cornet, clarinet and string. One cornet group was composed of J. A. White, Kenneth Cox and Stewart Nichols. The other was made up of Garnett Reeves, Charles Whitfield and Johnny Boswell. Members of the clarinet trio were Don Medlock, Harvey Roth, and Eddie Goetze. The string trio was composed of Dorothy Dale Kennedy, violin, Patsy Gibbs, cello, and Ann Adams, piano.

Three band members placed. Three band members placed first and two placed second in student conducting. Placings were J. A. White, Kenneth Cox and Kenneth Brown, first, and Van Scott and Stewart Nichols, seconds.

New Projects Set

cated just west of the new VA regional office on Nineteenth, will be a two-story structure, 32 by 145 feet. It will be of semi-fireproof construction of brick and tile walls; air-conditioned with electrical mechanical winter and summer air-conditioning with each office of the building provided with individual controls for both heating and air-conditioning.

The building will have concrete floors with floor covering of asphalt tile, and with entrances, stairs, corridors and toilets of terrazzo tile; accoustical ceilings upstairs and down, concrete roof, and with steel casement windows, venetian blinds and fluorescent lighting in office areas.

May Employ 100 Persons

J. E. Wootton, district superintendent of the Stanolind Oil & Gas company, said approximately 100 persons would be employed by both companies in the building.

J. H. McWherter of Brownfield is president of the co-operative which will erect the cotton compress. J. A. Edwards of O'Donnell is vice president and Tom Brown of Meadow is secretary and general manager. Brown will move to Lubbock within the near future.

The compress is planned as one of the larger presses of this section and will be equipped with a standard and high density Webb 80 press. It is expected to be in operation by this fall.

Three Persons Are Injured In Mishaps In, Near City

Two persons were injured about 10:30 o'clock Saturday night when a car overturned after it was hit by a truck sixteen miles from Lubbock on the Brownfield highway.

Roy Maxey, of Lubbock route 5, suffered a gash on the back of his head, and his son, about six years old, suffered a bruised head, it was reported. Several stitches were taken in Maxey's head at a local hospital.

The driver of the car, Sam H. Cox, of Lubbock route 5, was not injured, according to his sister, Mrs. J. E. Seale, of 1515 College. According to her information at midnight, there were only two injuries. She said that the car, a model 'A' Ford, and the truck were apparently both headed toward Brownfield, since the truck was in collision with the rear of the automobile.

The highway patrol was making an investigation at the scene of the accident.

In another accident at Eighteenth and Ave. H in Lubbock, Mrs. Claudia Leoney, of 2106 Ave. M., was slightly injured when another car collided with the right side of her automobile. The accident occurred about 10 p. m. She was treated at Lubbock Memorial hospital for minor injuries and released.

Holy Land Invasion

JEWISH AGENCY ASKS UN TO HALT INVASION

LAKE SUCCESS, May 1 (AP)—The Jewish agency appealed tonight to the UN Security Council to act quickly and stop the reported invasion of Palestine by Arab forces.

Moshe Shertok, chief of the agency's political department, said that unless the Security Council intervened large-scale warfare was inevitable. This, he said would lead to a "major conflagration with incalculable consequences."

Shertok's telegram was sent to Alexandre Parodi of France, president of the Security Council. It recounted reports from Palestine of Arab forces crossing the border and said:

"Jewish defense forces (are) determined (to) resist this new phase (of) invasion at all costs."

Lamesa Voters Okay New School

LAMESA, May 1 (Special)—Lamesa Independent School district voters today approved a $1,000,000 school bond issue by more than a two to one majority, and by even larger margins voted to increase the school tax rate and to consolidate the indebtednesses of the various schools in the district.

The school board is expected to meet Monday night and canvass the returns and to officially start the construction program as approved by the voters.

Record Vote Cast

The election, which drew out a record vote, was one of the most hotly contested in recent years. Friends and foes of the proposed bond issue purchased space in newspapers and over the air to further their cause, and high school students entered the battle shortly after the polls opened Saturday morning.

The three issues were recorded by Election Judge W. T. Webb as receiving the following totals: (1) To issue $1,000,000 in bonds for the construction of a new high school building, 837 for, 402 against, (2) Increase of school tax rate from $1 on the $100 valuation to $1.50, 864 for, 380 against, and (3) assumption of the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the nine school districts which were consolidated into the Lamesa district last January, 867 for, 368 against.

Students Back Plan

Opponents of the bond issue had contended that it was more desirable to build several elementary schools in various parts of the city than to place all the money into a high school building. They, however, supported the tax rate increase and the debt assumption proposals.

Final Rites Held For Resident Of Matador

MATADOR, May 1 (Special)—Last rites for Isaac Newton Plumlee, 75, who died at 10 p. m. Friday at his home here, were conducted Saturday afternoon at the Matador Methodist church.

Interment was in Matador cemetery under direction of McDonald Funeral home here. Plumlee, a resident of Matador for the past 37 years, had been in ill health for some time, it was reported.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Mary Catherine Plumlee; and eight daughters, Mrs. Lucille Dodson of Lubbock, Mrs. Ruby Pharis and Mrs. Jimmie Young, both of Fort Worth, Mrs. Jack Jackson, Mrs. Artie Webb and Miss Mildred Plumlee, all of Matador, Mrs. Nora Braselton of El Paso, Mrs. Billie Webb of Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. Ruth Benson of New Mexico.

Negro Shot To Death

pistol into his body.

Croslin said the slaying was about 1 a. m. in one of two cafes operated by the Deverouwx family.

Two negroes were reported injured in assaults here.

In one, Curley Armstead, 23, was stabbed so seriously that his left eye may require removal, it was said at Chatman hospital. He had been dismissed from the hospital last night.

Search for a suspect, who was believed to have made the assault with a broken beer bottle, was underway, police said. The assault happened at 11:40 p. m. Friday at 2010 East Ave. E, reports said.

Automobile Stolen

Detective Captain Pat Davidson said Sammie Lee Jones, about 20, was cut in the left arm in the other case reported, about 11:13 a. m. Saturday, at 2627 Ave. H.

A police report said Ollie Fillmore, about 50, was charged with simple assault and that C. E. Lynn, justice of peace, fined him $10 and costs, a total of $23.65. Fillmore is Jones' step-father, the court was informed.

A 1947 tan Plymouth coach, license AP 4639, was reported stolen from Leroy Waggoner of 2907 Thirty-sixth. Hub caps and chrome rims were taken from her, Mrs. Bill Pendley of 2522 Twenty-fourth reported.

Lynn set a $500 peace bond for S. P. Pearson, about 40, after a hearing upon affidavit of Ola Pearson, his former wife, that he had threatened her. It was posted.

Lynn fined V. Carlson $50 and court costs upon complaint of T. L. Barnes, investigator for the state labor department, that Carlson had allowed a female employe to work more than nine hours, in a mercantile establishment.

John A. Frey of 2425 Twenty-first informed police that two boxes of .22 caliber shells and a windshield wiper arm and blade were stolen from his car. He valued them at $5.

From 100 to 150 feet of garden hose was stolen from two greens at Meadowbrook Golf course, it was announced.

Helen Bradford, of Idalou, told police that someone had stolen a purse from her car parked in the 400 block of Ave. V Saturday afternoon. The purse contained some small change, a check on a Lorenzo bank, signed H. A. Black, but not filled out as to payee or amount, records showed.

in Gregg county, and at Bangs in Brown county.

There were many precincts from which no reports had been received.

Republicans also were holding precinct conventions. Reports from them were few. Taft and Dewey factions held separate conventions in Dallas and in Lubbock county, preparing to fight for recognition in the county conventions.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allen and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hoyt of Akron, Colo., are visiting Mr. Allen's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Allen, 2408 Thirteenth.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Spinning left Saturday for Chickasha, Okla., where they will leave their two daughters, Mary Helen and Sarah Jane, with relatives and visit briefly before leaving on a motor trip to the East. They will visit Washington and New York and other points. Mr. Spinning will be a delegate to the National Savings and Loan League at Atlantic City, May 23-27. He is associated with First Federal Savings and Loan association here.

"In view of the tactics used by the regular Republican organization in the precinct elections held over the city today, disclosing our list of delegates to the county convention might be to our disadvantage.

17 Precincts Organized

"Those Republicans (of the Temple group) who assembled today were determined that the established democratic process of holding open and above-board elections which obey the rule of the majority should prevail in Lubbock county.

"These delegates which we elected today will be at the county convention on Tuesday to choose four delegates from Lubbock county to the Republican state convention at Corpus Christi on May 25."

When asked last night for a statement from his group, Vaughan said only, "No comment." He did, however, reaffirm a previous statement that 17 precincts were organized for Republican conventions, and said that delegates had been elected to the county convention from each of the 17.

Walkouts Staged

The two known controversies in yesterday's Republican precinct conventions happened at Dupree school and at 3011 Twenty-ninth street. At Dupree, where Mrs. Vaughan had been named precinct chairman, eight persons walked out in protest against request for poll tax receipts and formed in the hall to elect the following delegates: Graham Brotherson, Grace Brotherson, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Triplitt, Mrs. Ann P. Aston and Fritz Carter. Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan were said to be the only persons left in the original convention after the walk-out.

At the home of Frank Swan at 3011 Twenty-ninth, where Swan was named chairman of that convention by Vaughan, about 13 persons retired to another room to elect their own delegates after Swan had made request for a show of poll tax receipts. Swan, his wife and another person were left to themselves. The protesting group elected the following delegates: Mr. and Mrs. George Young, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel T. Camp, Dr. Oscar Kinchen, Mrs. W. O. Daniels and Mack Hiatt.

Outcome of the controversy will probably be decided sometime during or following the Republican county convention which is to be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the Lubbock county courthouse.

RETAIL SALES MAY INCREASE

Income For Millions Hiked As Tax Reduction Becomes Reality

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—The $4,800,000,000 a year tax cut becomes a hard cash reality for many taxpayers today.

A boost in retail buying was expected as wage earners paid off today found less money withheld from their paychecks for taxes—regardless of when the money was earned.

Those paid today are the first of more than 50,000,000 taxpayers getting a take-home pay raise at government expense.

The law, passed by Congress last March over President Truman's veto, dates the lower withholding tax back to the start of the year. But the government won't grant refunds until final 1948 income tax returns are filed early in 1949.

7,400,000 Persons 'Freed'

The 7,400,000 persons freed from all income taxes by the new law will have to wait like others to get back the money withheld from their paychecks from January through April.

The millions of other taxpayers will get cuts ranging from 12.6 per cent on taxes of $400 a year or less, down to five per cent on a tax of $134,000 or more.

The treasury estimates the reductions will cost the government $600,000,000 in May and June, with over 45,000,000 taxpayers sharing in that pool.

The June reduction will go not only to those subject to withholding taxes, but also to professional workers and higher-income groups who have a quarterly tax payment due June 15.

Retail Sales May Rise

They can file amended estimates of tax to cut down their quarterly payments. Treasury officials expressed belief many down-scaled their estimates in March in anticipation of the tax cut.

Government economists forecast a rise in retail sales as May paychecks give the benefits of lower taxes to more taxpayers.

They pointed to an extra lift given sales when veterans began cashing in terminal leave bonds last September. The veterans, however, got more money immediately—over $437,000,000 in the first week.

How the average taxpayer will spend his extra money—he normally saves only about seven cents out of each dollar he earns—was debatable.

Some government economists said they expect the lower income groups getting the bulk of the multi-billion dollar refund to spend it on either greater amounts or better quality food, clothing and amusement.

Increased investments are expected among the higher income taxpayers.

Personality Animals Inhabit Black Hills, Roaming Writer Says

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

IN THE BLACK HILLS, S. D., May 1—A jailbreaking bear, a mooching mountain sheep, a coyote that eats ice cream, a duck that resents being called "Hammerhead" —

These are a few of the pets with personality I've met here in the Black Hills, a natural wonderland for animal life.

The mountain sheep—known as "Minnie the Moocher" — and Molasses, the jailbreaking bear, live in the Custer State park, a 125,000-acre tract in which roam some of the world's largest buffalo, deer and elk herds.

Cub Bear Clever

Minnie, who by nature should be wild and shy, is the park's biggest handout artist. She makes morning and afternoon calls on 15 families living along Grace Coolidge creek and she isn't a bit sheepish about asking.

"She loves dry bread," said Mrs. Carl Burgess, wife of the park superintendent. "But she is getting to be a problem child. She'd walk right into the house now if she got an invitation."

Molasses is a two-year-old bear cub with a Houdini touch.

She disappeared from her cage one night. Three days later the keepers found her back inside again. By watching they found she had learned a way to twist her large head through the bars and then slither free.

In Deadwood—Wild Bill Hickok's last resting place — Fred Borsch, son of a pioneer family, has hand-raised "Tootsie," a coyote now a year old.

Fred and his wife, Esther, treat this odd pet as gently as a child. At night Tootsie sleeps on their bed and looks forward to her regular weekend treat—a double dip of ice cream.

Donald, the duck that doesn't like being called "Hammerhead," is the chief joy of Bernice Musekamp, a robust lady whose picturesque vocabulary, skillet skill and battles with tax collectors are legendary in the Black Hills.

I expressed some doubt that a duck cared what name you called him, and was invited to "try and see."

"Hi, you old Hammerhead," I jeered. "How's old Hammerhead?"

Donald's head shot up. The tempo of his quacking became faster. He waddled over, hissing and quacking and pecked vigorously at my shins with his blunt bill. He quit only after I apologized three times.

In these mountains podner, you got to smile when you call a duck a hammerhead.

Mrs. Mary L. Taylor Services Set Today

Mrs. Mary L. Taylor, 49, a resident of Lubbock since 1919, died in Amarillo at 8:45 a. m. Saturday after several months illness.

Funeral services will be conducted at Sanders Funeral home chapel at 2 p. m. today with Dr. Ralph Grant officiating. Burial will be in Memorial Park cemetery.

Survivors are her husband, Sid Taylor; two daughters, Mrs. W. H. Flanagan, of 1805 Ave. R, and Mrs. Spence Hufstedler, of 3205 Ave. H; her mother, Mrs. Molly Benard, and a sister, Mrs. Frank Ford, both of Dallas; and one granddaughter.

Pallbearers are Charles Chase, Bill Deatherage, Art Kilpatrick, D. C. Rogers, George Reichling, and T. E. Murray.

Cotton Shippers Association Elects Officers At Dallas

DALLAS, May 1 (AP)—Ellison H. Pell of Charlotte, N. C., was elected president of the American Cotton Shippers association here today as the association ended its annual convention.

Everett R. Cook, Memphis, Tenn., was elected vice president. R. C. Dickerson was reelected executive vice president and secretary and C. L. Andrews, Memphis, was reelected treasurer.

Pell succeeds R. L. Dixon of Dallas.

Area Men Named In Soil Contest

FORT WORTH, May 1 (U.P.)—The Red River county soil conservation district today won $1,000 as the best district in Texas in the annual "Save the Soil and Save Texas" conservation program.

Judges picked the district in northeast Texas as the best of 128 farmer-operated soil conservation districts in the state.

Winners were announced today in the conservation program sponsored by the Fort Worth Press, with the Houston Press and El Paso Herald Post cooperating. All are Scripps Howard newspapers. Awards totaling $13,000 were to be presented to the winners at a banquet tonight.

The Steele's store conservation group located 10 miles west of Bryan, in Brazos county received $1,000 for having the best record for a community in soil conservation.

A $500 award for the most outstanding conservation farmer was split by Bill and Harry Porter of Terrell, who are brothers. The farmer judged to have done the best job of reclaiming an eroded farm was Frank Hamm of Lancaster, in Dallas county.

Dr. B. B. Harris of Denton, dean of North Texas State Teachers college, received a bronze plaque for the greatest unselfish service to soil conservation in Texas during the past year.

An essay on soil conservation by Peggy Sebring, 15, student at a consolidated rural high school near Tyler, was picked from 4,000 essays to win the essay contest in the program.

Similar awards were made on a regional basis. They included the following:

Region 1 (Plains and Panhandle: best district, Hale county. Best conservation group, Dougherty group, Floydada. Outstanding farmer, Perry H. Bowser, Kress, Swisher county. Outstanding unselfish service, Marvin Carlile, Tulia banker.

Two White Men Charged With Rape Of Negroes In Alabama

WETUMPKA, Ala., May 1 (AP)—Two white men, charged with raping two negro women and robbing their husbands, waived preliminary hearing yesterday and were held to the grand jury without bond.

They were booked as John C. Howard, jr., 30, and Jack Oliver, 20, both of Elmore (Wetumpka) county.

Sheriff Lester Holley gave this account of the charges:

Howard and Oliver reportedly stopped a car in which Annie Grayson and Malinda Jackson, both about 25 years old, and their husbands were riding last Saturday night.

They forced the negro men from the car at gunpoint, robbed them, and chased them away by firing shots over their heads.

The women told the sheriff the white men then forced them into a pickup truck, drove away and raped them.

Photographic plates so fexible they can be sent into a section of a sphere without breaking are being manufactured for use with the giant 200-inch Mount Palomar telescope.

Howard Hughes' Anti-Collision Gadget Called "Disappointing"

BY CHARLES CORDDRY
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 1—Howard Hughes' anti-collision radar gadget for airplanes is pretty disappointing considering all the fuss that has been made about it.

That is the view of the Civil Aeronautics board, which told airlines today that they needn't bother to put in either Hughes' radar or radio altimeters as far as flying safety is concerned. It said they don't do what was claimed for them.

Invested $1 Million

The board's decision comes a bit late, however. According to an Air Transport association spokesman most airlines already have fitted out their planes with one or the other of the so-called terrain proximity indicators. They have close to $1,000,000 invested in the project originally ordered by the CAB, he said.

Last spring Hughes came forth with a radar gadget adapted from a tail warning device used in fighter planes. He said it would have prevented some of the bad accidents that had been happening. His highly publicized radar blows a horn and flashes a red light when a plane gets too close to a mountain or other obstruction.

He sent a Transcontinental & Western Air plane to Washington to demonstrate his device for members of President Truman's air safety board, including its airline member. As Carl Byoir & Associates, Hughes' press representatives here, have recalled, the presidential board recommended 10 days later that all airliners have this or something similar to warn them when they get too close to mountains and the like.

CAB Ordered Devices

The Civil Aeronautics board thereupon ordered proximity indicators put into all airline planes by Feb. 15, then later extended the date to May 15. Most lines have put in either Hughes radar, or radio altimeters which are supposed to give exact height above ground at all times.

Now the board says it has had another look after more experience with the gadgets. It says this experience "does not bear out the information previously presented to the board." The devices get out of whack frequently, the board said, and are likely to do so when the weather gets bad and they are most needed.

Moreover, the Federal Communications commission has ordered a change in frequencies which "probably will render obsolete all equipment currently in use."

Something Better?

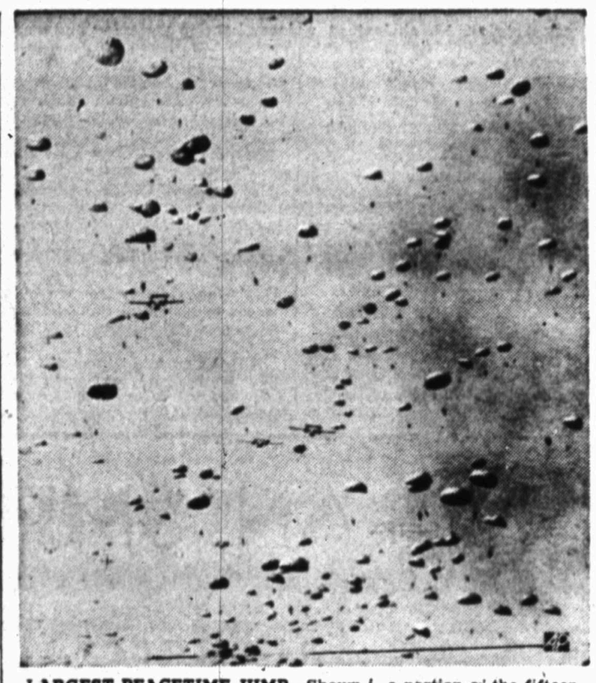

The board says it hopes something better will come along later. Meanwhile it doesn't feel justified in insisting on the present gadgets. The Air Transport association spokesman said it all shows "You can't force development through regulations."

What is needed, he said, is a radar navigation aid which will keep pilots away from treacherous locales, instead of "scratching their backs" when they get too close.

Sweetwater Team Places First In Square Dancing Contest

MIDLAND, May 1 (AP) — Jack Fomby and his Sweetwater square dance team won first place in the first annual West Texas square dance festival here last night. Eleven teams were entered.

Other winners were Lions club of Loraine, second; Sashaway club of Midland, third, and Lum Harris and his all-stars of Stanton, fourth.

Truck-Pickup Collision Is Fatal For Panhandle Rancher

DALHART, May 1 (U.P.)—Azel Clifton, 55-year-old Panhandle rancher, was killed instantly last night when his pickup truck collided with a heavy truck 17 miles west of here on highway 54.

One of the two negroes riding with Clifton, Earnest Howell, 31, was seriously injured, while the other one was not hurt.

Silas H. McCather, Portales, N. M., driver of the other vehicle, was not seriously injured.

Political Candidates Invited To Attend Boys Club Rodeo

All candidates for state offices in Texas are to be invited to attend the Boys' Club rodeo at Jones stadium, June 9-12, it was announced Saturday.

Govs. Beauford Jester of Texas, Tom Mabry of New Mexico and Roy Turner of Oklahoma all have been invited to the rodeo, but American Business club officials said all three had declined due to other business. Gov. Mabry attended the rodeo last year.

Former Gov. Coke Stevenson, who is a candidate for U. S. Senate, has accepted an invitation to attend and ride in the opening day parade.

Meading Takes Slaton CC Job

P. G. Meading Saturday authorized The Avalanche-Journal to announce that he had withdrawn his candidacy for commissioner of county precinct 2, subject to Democratic primaries, and had accepted the duties as secretary-manager of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce.

Meading, whose home is Slaton, assumes his new work Wednesday, in the chamber of commerce offices in the Slaton city hall.

He succeeded A. C. Strickland, jr., who has purchased the ice plant there and commenced improvements. Strickland had been secretary-manager of the chamber since early this year.

E. L. Forrest, rancher, is president of the Slaton chamber. Other officers are J. J. Maxey, Slaton city manager, vice president, and J. T. Sims, manager of the Slaton office of West Texas Gas company, treasurer.

Directors are: W. H. Hoffman, real estate man; V. R. Sewell, banker; J. H. Brewer, insurance man; Hugh Adair, chief clerk of the Panhandle & Santa Fe railroad; Travis Reynolds, owner of Palace Barber shop; J. T. Kendrick, International Harvester dealer; J. H. Teague 3rd, druggist; C. S. Cravens, attorney; Pete Pearson, traveling sales representative of Southwestern Public Service company; Bill Duckett, theater manager; B. B. Castleberry, lumber dealer; and P. L. Vardy, schools superintendent.

Withdrawal of Meading, a veteran of both World wars, leaves a field of five candidates still seeking the commissioner's post: E. A. Gentry, Larkin Taylor, A. A. Gartman, H. C. Maxey, and George G. Green.

District 1-AA's torrid baseball title race will enter the third week of play Tuesday night, with Amarillo's Golden Sandies tangling with the Pampa Harvesters for undisputed possession of the runner-up position in the conference standings.

Lubbock High's Westerners, leading the district with a record of four wins and no defeats, are scheduled to battle the Plainview Bulldogs Wednesday night at Rosenthal field and the Borger nine journeys to Plainview Friday.

The Westerners protected their slender margin in the loop chase by defeating Pampa, 8-2, and drubbing Borger, 21-7, in tussles last week. Amarillo clipped Plainview 9-2, and the Harvesters chalked up a twin-bill triumph over Brownfield Friday afternoon, 7-2, and 8-0.

Griffin Leads Hitters

Bobby (Rip) Griffin, Westerner third-sacker, continued to set the Lubbock schoolboys a fast pace at the plate, boosting his average in four full conference tilts to an amazing .500. Griffin has slammed out nine safeties in 18 attempts, while scoring seven runs.

Jack Alderson, veteran outfielder, holds the second spot in the averages with a neat .353 and Dorrance Guy, first baseman, gained the third position among the regulars with a .278.

Most of the credit for the Westerners four-victory win skein must be given to the hurling staff, however, since the Lubbock boys have compiled a team average of only .259.

Little Denny Davidson, ace right-hander of the Lubbock squad, has chalked up two wins in conference tilts to lead the mound staff. Lefty Jackie Martyn gained credit for a single win by hurling the Westerners to a victory over the Borger nine in the first tussle of the season. The Lubbock team gained a forfeit triumph over Amarillo last weekend, but no hurler is given a win as a result of a forfeit.

Banks, Hubbard Get Victories

Baldridge Wins Two Tilts With Nathan's

Whisite Banks threw one-hitter in the second game of a doubleheader at Jumbo Webster Field last night, as the Baldridge Bakers made a clean sweep of the twin-bill from Nathan's store of San Angelo in a Texas Softball League feature.

Baldridge won the first game 3-1 behind the four-hit pitching of Loy Hubbard, then took the second contest 10-0 with Banks on the mound.

Koshak Robs Banks

Koshak, Nathan first baseman, robbed Banks of a no-hit game when he scratched a single early in the game.

In the first tilt, the bakerymen wound up the contest in the first inning with two runs pounding across the plate. Reiger started off the frame with a free trip to the initial sack. Winters promptly doubled, moving Reiger to third. Telford, the next batter, drove both these runs in with a clean single.

The Baldridge team added a third run before Nathans was able to avert a whitewash job. Griffith walked to open the sixth inning for Lubbock and went to second on a passed ball. He scored when Nathans made an overthrow of third base on an infield ball.

Hubbard Is Wild

Koshak, who robbed Banks of a no-hitter in the second game, grounded out to start off the seventh canto. Hovner came through with a double, but Miers flied out and it looked as though trouble was averted. But Hubbard developed a sudden wild streak and walked the next three batters to force in the only run of the game for San Angelo.

While Lubbock fans became restless, the team talked to the pitcher and it seemed to quiet him down, for he induced Lonnie Martin, the final San Angelo batter, to swing at a third strike. That ended the first tilt.

Banks Is Strong

The second game was nearly a repetition of the first, except that Banks was magnificent on the mound. The Lubbock team had their batting eyes with them in this game. Winters and Tillery had doubles; Moorhead and Banks picked up triples; and Moorhead added a single to his three-bagger for batting honors.

San Angelo ..... 010 000—1 4 1

Jackson and Brown; Hubbard and Griffith.

Second Game:

San Angelo 0 1 4
Lubbock 10 10 2

Reese and Braron; Banks and Griffith.

Lubbock Loses Third Straight Tussle On Road

PAMPA, May 1. (Spl)—The Lubbock Hubbers dropped their third straight game of the current road trip tonight, going down to defeat before the Pampa Oilers, 6-3, when George Payte chucked a four-hit ball game against them.

The Hubbers jumped into an early lead in the first inning, but were unable to hold it. Pampa tied the count in the second canto, took a one-run lead in the third and put the game out of reach in the six and seventh stanzas.

Hubbers Can't Hit

Marvin Alexander didn't pitch too bad a game, even though he gave up eight walks and 11 hits. His mates couldn't fathom the slants of Payte, picking up four scattered singles by four players that fell harmlessly by the wayside.

Lubbock was handed two runs in the first inning, when Payte had trouble locating the platter. Al Smith led off with a walk and was followed by Chick Fowler. Manager Jackie Sullivan grounded to the third baseman, who had no chance to halt the runners, and Sullivan was tossed out at first.

Two Runs Score

An intentional base on balls was issued to Virgil Richardson, loading the sacks, but Charley Scarborough also drew an Annie Oakley to force in Smith with the first run. Frank McAlexander took two strikes and then walked, forcing in Fowler with the second run. Boothe hit into a double play to end the inning.

Pampa got the runs back in the second when Tony Range singled, Joe Fortin singled him to third and Mike Feduniak scored him with a long fly After an infield out, R. C. Otey singled to score Fortin.

With one out, Jack Riley singled, to second on Sullivan's error and to third on an infield single. Riley walked to force Otey home with the winning run.

Lubbock got its last run in the seventh. Smith went out, but Fowler drew a base on balls and moved to second on a wild pitch. Sullivan struck out, only to have Richardson drive a single into left to score Fowler.

The Hubbers conclude their road trip Sunday afternoon with another game against the Oilers there. They return to Lubbock for a two-game series with this club Monday and Tuesday.

Tigers Batter Indians, 10 To 3

Braves Topple Giants, 6 To 3

NEW YORK, May 1. (AP)—Veteran Bill Voiselle, who was traded by the New York Giants to Boston last season, knocked his former teammates out of first place today when he pitched the Braves to a 6-3 victory over the Polo Grounders.

Voiselle had a one-hit shutout for six innings, but weakened in the seventh. He was tagged for four hits and three runs before Rookie Bob Hogue came in and got Walker Cooper to pop out with the bases loaded.

Bobo Newsom started for the Giants and was derricked without being able to retire one man.

Ed Stanky, with three singles and a walk, led the Braves' 12-hit attack.

The defeat was the Giant's third straight and dropped them into second place, a half game behind the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Stamford Drops Two Games To Lubbock

STAMFORD, May 1. (Spl)—The Blue-Bonnet-Sunbeam softball team from Lubbock won a double victory tonight before 2,000 persons, as the local softball stadium was opened.

An eight-inning pitching duel between Lubbock's Jackie Neel and Stamford's Roy Weeks in the opener was ended in the eighth frame when G. W. Warden, also a pitcher, hit a long home run with two men out.

Lubbock won the first tilt 1-0 and the second, 7-3.

Neel tried to do an iron-man stunt tonight and might have succeeded, but rubbed a blister on a forefinger and had to leave the game. Warden took over and saved the contest.

Neel Tries Two

Neel pitched beautifully in the first game, after getting in trouble in the fifth. Successive singles loaded the bases with no one out, but Neel bore down and retired the side without a run scoring.

Warden struckout eight men in a row after relieving Neel and never was in trouble. Roy Butler slammed a long homer for Lubbock and Ray Butler had a two-run triple to his credit.

Stamford ..... 000 000 00—0 3 1

Neel and James; Weeks and Elliott.

Second Game:

Feller Charged With First Loss

CLEVELAND, May 1 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians' unbeaten string came to an end today as the Detroit Tigers routed Bob Feller and handed the Tribesmen their first loss in seven games, 10 to 3, before a Ladies' Day crowd of 52,249.

The Indians' first six victories had brought them within two wins of the modern record for triumphs at the start of the season.

Two Big Innings

The Tigers, who had lost six of their last seven games, unleashed a 14-hit attack and enjoyed two big innings.

Paul (Dizzy) Trout set the Indians down with one run and five hits in the first eight innings but weakened in the ninth, when the Redskins tallied twice, and had to be replaced by Art Houtteman.

Feller, who wound up with his first loss instead of his third straight win, blanked the Tigers with two hits until the fifth when Detroit shelled him from the mound with a five-run uprising.

RED SOX EDGE YANKEES

BOSTON, May 1 (AP)—Jack Kramer pitched home run balls to Joe DiMaggio and George McQuinn, good for six runs, but staggered through to win his first start in a Boston uniform as the Red Sox outscored the New York Yankees 8-6 today. A four-run blast against Lefty Ed Lopat started the fireworks for Joe McCarthy's crew.

Pennsylvania Trips Cornell Track Team In Annual Meet Saturday

ITHACA, N.Y., May 1. (INS)—Pennsylvania's track and field forces won 10 of the 16 events and walked to a comparatively easy 84-56 win over Cornell at Ithaca today.

Penn had two double winners. Robert Daniel captured the 100 and 220-yard dashes, and Dick Hart won the mile and two-mile.

Veteran Catcher Joins Team

Don Moore Optioned To Hubbers By Rebs

Don Moore, a .345 hitter last year in the West Texas-New Mexico League with Clovis and Albuquerque, has been optioned to the Lubbock Hubbers by the Dallas Rebels, it was announced last night.

Larry Larsen, general manager of the Hubbers, said that Moore had reported to the Hubbers in Pampa too late to play last night, but would be in the lineup today.

An Outstanding Man

Moore, who was one of the outstanding receivers in the loop last season, went up to the Rebels this spring and appeared to be ready for Double A ball. But in the early part of the season a hand injury benched him and the Rebels agreed to let him come to Lubbock.

For the Hubbers, badly in need of an experienced backstop, Moore is like a breath of fresh air. He is expected to steady the rookie hurlers, to bat heavier than any man on the staff at present and provide better plate protection in general.

Had Great Record

The hefty receiver played in 141 games last season, batted 542 times and got 187 hits good for 339 total bases, while scoring 139 runs. Moore had 35 doubles, 18 triples and 27 home runs among his extra base blows.

Moore also received 80 bases on balls while striking out 63 times and was hit by the pitcher five times. He stole only one base, but laid down five sacrifice hits.

The new Hubber catcher participated in more games behind the plate than any other catcher in the league last season and wound up with a fielding average of .968.

He had 715 putouts, 89 assists and committed 27 errors to lead the loop in that category. He also led in passed balls with 33, but took part in 17 double plays, more than twice that of any other catcher.

Searching For Catcher

Mrs. Sam Rosenthal, Hubber owner, declared last night that the acquisition of Moore came after weeks of negotiation. She said that the club had been trying to get him ever since they had gone into spring training, but that Dallas would not let him go until after he had a fair trial.

She declared that the Hubbers had been searching for a first-rate catcher for weeks and that Moore was the answer to their search. She termed him one of the outstanding receivers in the league.

And Manager Jackie Sullivan, despondent over the loss to Albuquerque Friday night, brightened perceptibly when informed of Moore's assignment to the Lubbock team. He plans to use the catcher right away and he will be behind the plate at Pampa tonight.

Bill Henderson Will Fight Mintz Monday

Bill Henderson of Levelland, promising young featherweight boxer and for two years state Golden Gloves champion, will make his fourth professional appearance Monday night in New York.

Henderson wired the Avalanche-Journal yesterday that he would meet Carl Mintz of Brooklyn, N. Y., in the Eastern Parkway Monday. Eastern Parkway is the arena in which Henderson scored his third professional victory last Monday.

He made his debut in the Jersey City (N.J.) Garden, scoring a first round knockout over a colored opponent from New York.

His second victory was scored two weeks ago in Bridgeport, Conn., where he defeated another colored boy, again scoring a first round knockout.

His third fight took place in Eastern Parkway against a Mexican and was the stiffest test of the three bouts. He was knocked to the canvas in both the first and second rounds, but bounded to his feet and went after his opponent again.

Henderson displayed fine infighting knowledge to gain a technical knockout in the third round when the referee, who also was a doctor, stopped the fight.

J. D. Kirkpatrick, light heavyweight from Petersburg, who also is managed by Joe Vella, still is laid up with a fractured left thumb, but may fight next week.

COLLEGE MEET SLATED

COLLEGE STATION, May 1 (AP)—Trackmen, tennis players and golfers from approximately 25 junior colleges will gather at Texas A&M college Monday and Tuesday to compete for championships of the Texas Junior college athletic conference. Competition in the three sports will be held simultaneously under the direction of Texas A&M officials.

Locke And Alexander Deadlocked For Lead In National Golf Meet

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP) — Bobby Locke's putter cooled off today and young Skip Alexander banked out a four-under-par 68 to catch him at the three-quarter post in the National Capital Open golf tournament. Both had 203 totals.

The South African led Alexander, husky, bespectacled Mid-Pines, N. C., player, by four shots after yesterday's second round with a 65-66-131 but his putts wouldn't drop in the cold, misty rain this afternoon.

The Carolinian was off to a great start in his chase to overtake Locke, with an eagle two on the first hole. He drove the 315-yard hole with its downhill roll and stopped 18 inches from the cup.

CATS DROP SPORTS

SHREVEPORT, La., May 1 (AP)—Four runs in the ninth inning—after Shreveport had tied up the game with a like number in the eighth—gave the Fort Worth Cats a 10-6 victory over the Sports here tonight in the first of a three-game series.

Black Hubbers Battle Detroit

Negro baseball comes to Lubbock and Sam Rosenthal Field this afternoon at 3:15 in a big way, with the famed Detroit Senators of the Negro American League opposing the Lubbock Black Hubbers.

Manager James Roy Lewis has picked Ace Alexander Jones to do the twirling for the Black Hubbers and the curve ball artist will have experienced hand Milton Granville as his receiver. This battery is the strongest that Manager Lewis has and he expects them to check the rampant Senators.

Detroit Team Strong

The Detroit team came to Texas after spending the winter in Mexico, where they had a long spring training season. They are in top physical condition and are playing a spectacular brand of ball. Monday night at Rosenthal Field they rolled over the strong Houston Wolverines 21-1.

Manager Lewis also declared that there would be colorful opening day ceremonies beginning at 3 p. m. Dr. J. A. Chatman will toss out the first pitch of the season and Dr. C. H. Lyons will do the receiving.

City buses will go to the ball park as usual, leaving the downtown area at 2 and 2:30 p. m. Buses will leave the Wagon Wheel Inn, Dunbar High school and Ritz theater.

Prizes have been offered by various merchants to the first member of the Black Hubbers who gets a hit, who scores a run, who hits a fourmaster or who accomplishes other things on the diamond.

Loboes Trounce Blue Sox, 14-8

LAMESA, May 1 (Special)—The Lamesa Loboes climbed a notch in the West Texas-New Mexico league by upsetting the Abilene Blue Sox here tonight 14-8 before a crowd of 1,000 fans.

Abilene, which had been tied with Amarillo for the lead and then dropped to second place Friday night, started off as though they were going to move back on top. The Blue Sox dented the plate for five runs in the first two innings and built an early lead.

Sox Take Lead

But the power-laden Loboes, also former first place holders, had other ideas. They allowed the Sox a 5-1 lead in the first two innings, then swept over eight runs in two innings to put the game away for sure.

Two tremendous home runs, a sign of the Lamesa power this year, settled the ball game for the home team. I. B. Palmer was the big gun in this large noisy fourth, smacking a round tripper with the bases crammed full of Loboes. Ed Skrabaca also sent one over the wall in the fourth and these five runs gave Lamesa the game.

Loboes Add Runs

Lamesa added a single run in the fifth inning, just to be on the safe side and sent a trio of counters tripping across the plate in the sixth. By that time, there was considerable question on Abilene's part whether they would get in the game.

The Pale Hose tried in the eighth, scoring three times and bringing the victory margin to slightly lower degrees.

Manager Art Bowland of Abilene was thumbed from the game in the fourth inning by Umpire Fisher, who didn't like the way the Blue Sox manager talked to him. Bowland had gone out to argue a strike.

Seminole Rated Meet Favorite

(By The Associated Press)

The oldest athletic event in the Texas Interscholastic league—track and field—goes on for the thirty-seventh time at Austin Friday and Saturday with 512 athletes from 218 schools contesting for championships in three divisions.

It's a departure from track in the past, with Class AA, Class A and Class B having separate meets while the big city schools hold their state meet at Dallas May 14.

Seminole Is Favored

Austin, Seminole and Panhandle will be the favored teams in the respective divisions in the three-way meet next week-end.

The Austin Maroons, boasting the top relay teams—both 440 and mile—in the state and packing power in the weights, with point-potentials in the dashes, half-mile and broad jump, are general choices to cop the bunting. Highland Park (Dallas), with its great pole vaulter, Dick Jaqua, and sprint stars John Cooper and James Baker, could edge past Austin. Corpus Christi and Odessa look strong enough to make it a four-way fight.

Reed Quinn of Austin already has bettered the state discus record with 166 feet 5 inches and teammate Bill Milburn also has done it with 158 feet 4 inches. The Austin relay teams have posted times of 43.4 in the 440 and 3:26.9 in the mile.

Records definitely in danger are the low hurdles of 22.1, the mile of 4:25.0, the pole vault of 13 feet 1½ inches and the discus mark of 155 feet 7 inches.

Javier Montes of Bowie (El Paso), who set the mile record last year, has indicated he can break his own standard.

In class A, Seminole boasts the best times in the 440-yard relay, second best in the mile relay and the top hurdler—Val Jo Walker—who has done the highs in 14.3. Carlisle with its one-man gang, Norman Mullins, a hurdler, jumper and weight man, and Karnes City appear chief opposition for Seminole.

Panhandle Tops Class B

In Class B Panhandle has top strength in the 440-yard dash and 220-yard dash and strong contenders in the low hurdles, 440-yard relay, 880-yard run and mile relay. Dashman Charles Wright features the Panhandle team.

Charley White, the triple-threater — 220-yard low hurdles, 120-yard high hurdles and pole vault—could put little Hobbs right smack into the running. Pearsall and Richland Springs are other top contenders.

Cornell Joins Navy As Olympic Threat

(By International News Service)

Cornell's varsity crew joined Navy as a leading Olympic contender Saturday by scoring a stunning upset victory over Harvard's powerful eight on the Charles river at Cambridge, Mass.

The Big Red eight finished one length in front of the Crimson oarsmen, who thereby probably lost all chance for an Olympic berth. The distance was a mile and three-quarters.

Navy, winner at Poughkeepsie last year, handed Yale its first defeat of the season on the Housatonic river at Derby, Conn. The Midshipmen beat the Elis by a length and a half in a two-mile race.

Princeton, which had lost to Harvard by only a foot last week, sucessfully defended the historic Childs Cup by defeating Pennsylvania and Columbia over the mile and three-quarter course on Lake Carnegie. Penn finished two lengths behind the Tigers, with Columbia a distant third.

Syracuse led all the way to defeat M.I.T. and Rutgers in a fourth regatta, on Lake Onondaga. M.I.T. was two lengths behind the winners and three lengths in front of Rutgers.

Oklahoma Aggies Get Three Men On Olympic Wrestling Team

AMES, Ia., May 1 (INS)—Selection of the 16-man U. S. Olympic wrestling team was completed tonight at Ames.

Two men were selected in each weight class, with the number two grappler also slated to make the trip to the London games.

CALUMET COMET COLLECTS $83,400 PURSE

Citation Breezes To Victory In Famed Kentucky Derby; Coaltown Falters To Take Second Place

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 1 (AP)—Citation advanced a long stride nearer to turf immortality today when he collared his great young stablemate, Coaltown, coming into the stretch and won the 74th running of the Kentucky Derby in a breeze.

The champion two-year-old of last year made it look easy. He let the previously unbeaten Coaltown take as much as a six length lead at the half mile, and then ran him down in a tremendous stretch run under the skillful ride of Eddie Arcaro.

At the finish, as some 90,000 or more spectators cheered him on, Citation held a lead of three and one-half lengths over his Calumet farm running mate. My Request, owned by Ben Whitaker of Dallas, Texas, took third, another length and one half back.

Fourth in today's race—if it might be called that—was Billings, owned by R. W. McIlvain; fifth, Grandpere, property of Mrs. J. Payson Adams; and Sixth, Escadru, the Marlyland hope owned by W. L. Brann. They might as well have stayed home.

It was the smallest field to run in the Derby since 1907, when the same number started. Citation by his easy victory added $83,400 to the already bulging Calumet coffers, and Coaltown's second place was worth another $10,00^

Because of the preponderance of faith in Citation and Coaltown, there was no place or show betting. Citation repaid the backers of the entry with a surprisingly plump $2.80 for each $2 ticket.

The track management had feared a "minus" pool, which would have forced it to dig into its own money to pay off the bettors, but an early rush of wagering on My Request by a big Texas contingent got the Churchill Downs folk out of that unhappy predicament. Actually, My Request was the listed favorite when the total board lit up an hour before the race.

Between The Lines . . .

By Joe Kelly

This is not meant in criticism of the present softball leagues and their operation of Jumbo Webster Field, for such would be gross injustice to them and their project. The softball teams playing there are faster than the normal run of the mill and have every much right to a park for themselves as the Lubbock Hubbers have for their baseball team.

• • •

But what is sickening is to see a city the size of Lubbock, with as many progressive thoughts and ideas as are expressed daily, wallowing along without adequate facilities for young and middleaged men, to say nothing of younger children. There is no question that we have softball diamonds here, four of them, but is one lighted? Is there one place where the younger businessmen and the older high school students can play at night?

• • •

One look at the situation and you can see the handicap under which the City Recreation Department is working. Curtis Barrett would like nothing better than to sponsor the same good, wholesome softball leagues that operated last year. These were the Industrial League and the Church League. But where to play? The majority of the men and boys making up the personnel of the teams are absolutely unable to get off during the daytime. These games must b played at night.

• • •

The cost of light to illuminate one diamond certainly is cheap in comparison with the great pleasure given, not only to the players, but also to their families, friends and other persons who go to the games. Moreover, the health of a city's population is important and sponsoring an active athletic program is one of the best ways to insure health on at least part of the population.

• • •

The initial cost of the lights would be relatively expensive, but when figures over a period of time, during which no measure of money could estimate their invaluable good for the community, the lights would prove to be a cheap investment. If the city wanted to get partial recompense for the use of the lights, they might pass the hat at each game. The spectators certainly wouldn't be under too much pressure to pay, but more money would be realized by voluntary contributions than it would by having a fixed admission charge.

• • •

We hope that the city, with a new mayor at its helm, will see the benefit of athletics and secure the light for one baseball diamond for the city's own department of recreation. It would be a worthwhile gesture and one which would be a strong step forward. We know the players would appreciate it and, as time went on and crowds gathered in the cool evenings of the hot summer, everyone would benefit by the lighted park. Lubbock needs to go forward athletically.

• • •

The Hubbers almost fell victims of a triple play the other night and it was such an interesting one that we are repeating it. In the top of the fourth, Frank Boothe came up with Charley Scarborough on second base and Chick Fowler on first. Boothe tapped to Don Cantrell, the Albuquerque pitcher, who threw to Third Baseman Kelly, forcing Scarborough. Kelly threw to Ron Bowen at first to catch Boothe and the umpire signalled him out. Then Fowler, who had gone to second, broke for third and Bowen returned the ball to Kelly. He tagged Fowler and apparently the side was retired.

• • •

About that time the umpire on first base reversed his decision and called Boothe safe! Only the lack of being convinced on the part of the boy in blue saved the Hubbers from one of baseball's more rare plays. At the same time, it sounds pretty typical of the umpiring turned in so far by West Texas-New Mexico League arbiters. It hasn't been impressive and there is a lot of room for improvement. About balls and strikes, we wouldn't know for sure. But they seem to be pretty uncertain about when a ball nicks the edge of the plate and where the knees and shoulders leave off. We could use better officiating.

• • •

Buffalo Lakes and Lake Texoma both have fish rodeos on at the present time and the fisherman of this area stands to gain a good deal of ready cash for his pleasure, should he catch the right fish. Sportsmen's clubs at the two lakes have tagged a large number of fish and these all bear cash prizes for the lucky fisherman, or women, who get them on their bait. The biggest fish at Lake Texoma is worth $1,000; the biggest at Buffalo Lakes, $800. Better unlimber your rod and reel and go after this finny, floating cash awards.

Rice Owls Edge Mustangs, 11-10

HOUSTON, May 1 (AP)—A ninth inning rally fell one short for Southern Methodist here today as the Mustangs bowed to the Rice Owls, 11 to 10.

The Mustangs had pushed across four runs and with two outs had men on second and third when Percy Penn, who had gained a walk as a pinch hitter, ended the game by being called out at the plate on an attempted steal from third.

Score Eight Runs

Rice, by virtue of an eight-run uprising in the first inning, had coasted to an 11 to 6 lead as the Mustangs took their last turn at bat.

After one out, Billy Jack Knott drew a walk from John Finch, the Owl starting hurler, and advanced to second on a single by Jack Ligon.

Successive walks to pinch hitters Francis Eldridge and Penn forced in two runs and kept the bases loaded before Ernie Hughes fanned for the second out.

Texas Ags Nose Out TCU; Remain Second

COLLEGE STATION, May 1 (AP)—The Texas Aggies outlasted Texas Christian, 11-10, in a Southwest Conference baseball game here today to cling to their second place position a notch behind Texas.

Aggie Ace Earl Beesley was called to the mound in the ninth inning with the bases loaded and no one out. Those three runs came in on an infield out and Tim Boyd's double, but Beesley fanned Pinch-Hitter Woody Baker for the final out after hitting Bill Beck to put the winning run on first base.

Each club collected 12 hits, the Frogs doing the heavy clubbing off Alvis Nixon, Art Newman and Beesley. Ben McClure got a three-run homer in the fourth and George Stancoff hit one in the fifth for two runs.

Kadera Leads Texas Aggies To Victory Over Oklahoma Aggies

COLLEGE STATION, May 1. (AP)—George Kadera sailed the discus 173 feet, 1 inch here today to lead Texas A & M college to victory in a dual track meet with Oklahoma A & M, 96 1/6 points to 39 5/6.

Kadera, Texas A & M's leading contender for a spot in the Olympics, also heaved the shot 48 feet, 5 inches for the day's individual honors.

Maurice Fuquay of Oklahoma A & M nosed out Webb Jay of Texas A & M in the 100-yard dash with a time of 9.5. Bill Naiper of Texas A & M barely edged Fuquay in the 220 with an extra good time of 20.5.

Boys Club Baseball Teams Will Finish Organizing Monday

Organization of Pee-Wee and Midget baseball teams will be completed at the Lubbock Boys club Monday afternoon, officials announced, and a schedule will be set up for the two loops.

Approximately 150 boys have been participating in workouts this week, with another 50 expected to be added to the roster before play is started.

Lubbock Women Keglers Go To Dallas For WIBC Tournament

Teams Will Bowl Tonight, Monday

An ambitious group of women bowlers from Lubbock, their eyesights set on feminine Bowling's World Series, the Women's International Bowling Congress, left this city yesterday for Dallas, where they will assault the present standings in the national tourney.

Two teams of feminine keglers made the trip from the Hub city, with both of them due to hit the alleys tonight in team play. They will have a night of rest and then will return for doubles and singles competition.

All Experienced Bowlers

The bowling teams from Lubbock, both of which have been participating regularly in the women's leagues at the Lubbock Bowling club and Plamor Lanes, are the Southwestern Public Service company five and the Hemphill-Wells entry. Sponsors are paying the entire expenses of their teams to the tournament in Dallas.

The team competition involving the Lubbock bowlers will start tonight at 7, when both teams take the lanes. For the Southwestern Public Service company five, it will be Maxine Buckner, Marcelle Curlee, Norma Crossland, Bertha Thomas and Arlys Wombley.

Doubles, Singles Monday

The Hemphill-Wells quintet will include Noralee McCasland, Leonora Roberts, Herbie Ranton, Aleene Hilton and Artie Galloway.

Doubles and singles will be rolled Monday morning, beginning at 9 a. m. The two teams will form duos for the doubles competition, following this with singles.

The pairings, as already agreed upon by the feminine keglers, will be McCasland-Curlee, Roberts-Ranton, Hilton-Galloway, Crossland-Thomas and Buckner-Wombley.

Compete In All-Events

Each one of the ten women will roll singles after they have completed their doubles rolling.

And the total scores made by each woman entered in the WIBC tournament will be entered in the all-events competition. The all-events classification includes scores made while rolling in team, doubles and singles competition.

The Lubbock bowlers will be after some of the cash and trophy awards, but their main object is to place as high as possible in the national tourney for the recognition they will receive.

PARKER WINS 100 EASILY

Steers Overwhelm Baylor And Rice In Dual Meet

AUSTIN, May 1. (AP)—The Texas Longhorns track team piled up 113 points to overwhelm Baylor University and Rice Institute in a triangular meet here today.

Robert Walters of Texas was a surprise victor in the high jump over Verne McGrew of Rice. Walters cleared 6 feet 6 3/4 inches on his last jump to win the event.

Boran Upsets Erfurth

Ken Boren of Texas upset Augie Erfurth in the 220-yard low hurdles by six feet earlier. Erfurth was timed at 14.2 seconds in the highs, and Boren won the lows in 23.8 seconds.

Frank Guess of Texas was the high point man in the meet with 14 points. He captured the javelin throw and shot put and placed third in the discus throw and pole vault.

Other double winners were Charles Parker of Texas in the 100 and 220-yard dashes; Jerry Thompson in the mile and two-mile; and Walters, who won the pole vault in additiin to the high jump.

Sports Study

By Earl Scudday

Just a week ago prospects for the Lubbock High Westerner baseball team were none too bright, as a result of a heart-breaking 7-6 defeat by Amarillo's Golden Sandies, but two triumphs last week and a reversal of the Amarillo setto because of an ineligible Sandie player have boosted the local schoolboys into the lead post and put the "pressure" on the other district nines.

• • •

Of course, Coach Fred Taylor and his Westerners are not too proud of the forfeit win over the Sandies—they wanted to really beat them in a fair contest. But, since it is extremely doubtful that the Amarilloans could have gained the narrow triumph without the services of the ineligible hurler, Hoyt (Junior) Palmer, the Lubbock squad feels no qualms about taking the win. They are determined, however, to show the Sandies that they can beat them without the benefit of any technicalities when they return the conference tussle here.

• • •

Although the Westerner players have not said much on the subject, it was obvious Friday afternoon at Rosenthal field that the Lubbock schoolboys were disappointed by the small turnout. The weather conditions were favorable, the tilt was the first district home game for the Westerners and the tickets were priced very low, yet only 150 or 200 fans came out to watch the setto. Admittedly, the game was not as good from a technical standpoint as the Westerner nine usually turns in, but it was just as good as many West Texas-New Mexico loop contests.

• • •

School officials believe that one cause of the small crowd was the 3:45 starting time, when many businessmen were "tied up" and unable to attend the game. But all the rest of the Lubbock home tilts are scheduled at night, at Rosenthal field, and the prospects for a larger attendance are brighter. One thing is certain, if Lubbock fans refuse to support their High school club—an undefeated, league-leading nine that boasts some of the best hurling in schoolboy ranks and sharp fielding—the sports picture has changed drastically in recent years.

• • •

On another sports front—the track and field division—the most important meet of the year is scheduled this weekend at Austin. All of the top schoolboy performers in the state are scheduled to battle for individual and team honors at the Texas Interscholastic league event, with three state championships as the highest prizes. It is interesting to note that three of the favorites in the three conference divisions—Odessa, Seminole and Panhandle—have appeared in meets in Lubbock this season. Odessa, one of the big four of the Conference AA division, won the first annual South Plains relays here just two weeks ago, while Seminole and Panhandle copped the Class A and B crowns of the Region I meet here last weekend.

• • •

Coach Marlin Hayhurst will take his Westerner squad to Austin for the big event and, with a little luck in the right places, could pick up enough points to finish in the top five or six teams of the AA competition. The Westerner mile and sprint relay teams will be hampered by the illness of at least one regular member, but several of the boys should place in individual events. The Westerners have the best-balanced cinder path team in West Texas, but they will run into trouble at the state meet since few of the squadmen can compete with the brilliant specialists representing the best in the entire state. The Lubbock boys are good, but they are not specialists.

Clements Accepts Detton's Challenge

Dory Detton of Amarillo has no fears of Ray "Big Train" Clements, holding decisions over him in the past, so the two have been matched for the semi-final grapple at Sled Allen's wrestling arena Wednesday night.

In the main event, a two out of three falls go, Pat O'Dowdy and Billy Hickson come together in a match that promises to be as good as any seen in the local emporium in some time. Both are wily in the ring and both like to mix it up.

Tickets will go on sale Wednesday from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m., at Wylie's Drug store and the first match will start at 8:30 p. m.

To a flock of sports writers who gretted him with questions, the Bambino had this to say:

"It's too early in the season to predict the Major League pennant winners—but I'll always be a Yankee.

"I picked George Sisler over Lou Gehrig as first baseman on my all-time all-star team because Sisler was a better hitter and fielder.

"Why was Miller Huggins considered a great manager? It was simply because he had a heckuva fine ball club.

"I never was ever under any instructions from the bench when I walked to the plate.

"When will the Pacific coast League become the third major? That can be answered by asking when will we ever get Major League ball?

"Players today don't train hard enough. We used to workout for three hours and then run six miles.

"Modern pitchers don't train at all in comparison to the old days. They don't develop legs and wind like they should. The training period is too brief.

Iowans Grab Olympic Mat Squad Honors

AMES, Ia., May 1. (INS)—Five of the 16 spots on the U. S. Olympic wrestling squad went to Iowans today, as selection of the team was nearly completed in the tryouts at Ames.

Oklahoma A & M drew individual school honors by placing three stars on the mat aggregation.

Iowans on the squad so far are Gerald Leeman, Iowa Teachers, in the 125.5-pound division; Leo Thomsen of Cornell college in the 136.5-pound class 160.5-pounder Bill Nelson of Iowa Teachers; Glenn Brand of Iowa State and Joe Scarpello of Iowa University in the 174-pound bracket.

Representatives in the 147.5-pound class have not yet been determined, but include Bill Koll of Iowa Teachers, the N C A A champ, and Jim Miller of the Ithaca Y M C A.

Other members of the 16-man squad are Lou Kacheroubas, Illinois, 125.5; Hal Moore of Oklahoma A & M in the 136.5 pound division; Leland Merrill of the New York Athletic Club in the 160.5 pound bracket; Henry Wittenberg, the New York detective and Minnesota's Verne Gagne in the 192-pounders; 114-pounders William Jernigan of Oklahoma A & M and J. Allen Patten, Colorado U., and heavyweights Dick Hutton of Oklahoma A & M and Bob Maldegan of Michigan State.

Five of the team members hold national A A U or N C A A titles, while Wittenberg, the star of New York's Finest, has not been defeated in more than 300 matches.

Texas Tech Track Squad Hopes To Break Border Loop Records Saturday At Tempe

Reynolds Looms As Chief Raider Hope

Texas Tech track fans expect some Border conference records to be broken in the annual Border meet in Tempe, Ariz., next weekend, and they see Tech track men as possible new record holders in some events.

Charles Reynolds, winner of the 100 and 220-yard dashes in the conference meet last year has run the 100 in 9.7 seconds twice and in 9.8 seconds three times this season. He also has run the 220 in 20.5 seconds. The conference century record is 9.8 seconds, held jointly by Bob Lister, New Mexico trackster in 1937, and Milo Mileusnich, Arizona sprinter in 1939, and 21.3 seconds in the 220, held by Mileusnich.

Mile Relay Strong

The mile relay mark of 3 minutes, 23.5 seconds was set in 1942, by Arizona. Texas Tech's mile relay team of Costin Bufkin of Hobbs, N. M., Joe Wilson of Claude, Ernest Hawkins of Lamesa, and Reynolds of Odessa, has been clipping the distance at close to that figure and has not been pushed in any meet this year. The Arizona and Tempe quartet are reported strong, and the winner of the mile relay at Tempe may be forced to set a new record to win. Tech track supporters agree that Techsans may not set records, but that winners in several events may have to break present marks to defeat them.

Coach Maxey McKnight plans to take an even dozen men to Tempe, leaving here Wednesday. Last spring Tech finished second in the annual Border meet and this season officials see no better than the runner-up spot. Tech will be weak in the field and will depend on sprinters and hurdlers for most of the points. Hawkins in the half-mile, Clepper and Charles Pinnell of Andrews in the hurdles and jumps, and Reynolds in the sprints are seen as principal point winners.

Mayor's Cup Tourney Continues Today At Meadowbrook Links

A record number of participants are expected to continue the assault on the course record at the Meadowbrook Publinx Golf club as competition in the Mayor's Cup continues today.

Paul Jones, club pro, said that golfers would continue to compete today, next Sunday and the following Sunday, when semi-finals and finals would be played. The championship class and the three flights will complete their tournament play over the 18-hole route May 16.

The course is in excellent shape and everything is being done to allow the competing golfers to finish their play without interfering with the usual large number of Sunday golfers.

Layne Scores 26th Straight Win As Longhorns Best Baylor, 8-1

AUSTIN, May 1. (AP)—Heavy hitting and Bobby Layne's nine-hit pitching carried the Texas Longhorns to a series sweep over Baylor here today, 8-1.

Four of Texas' 13 hits off Lefty Fred Copeland were doubles, Chick Zomlefer producing three of them.

Although Baylor collected three doubles, the Bears were never a threat after the third inning, when Texas gave Layne a four-run margin to work on. Baylor's lone run came in the sixth on singles by Jack Redding and Joe Szekeley, an infield out that advanced both runners, and Dutch Schroder's fly to center.

CHICAGO, May 1 — (INS) —Sportsman's Park racing officials today said their sixth race Monday will be named "The Eddie Arcaro," and that Arcaro, who today became the only jockey in history ever to ride four Kentucky Derby winners, will be guest of honor at the Chicago half-miler that day.

Johnny Longden Rides Winner At Bay Meadows Race Track

SAN MATEO, May 1. (INS)—Mafosta, ridden by Jockey Johnny Longden, set a blistering pace and led all the way to capture the $50,000 Bay Meadows at a mile and one-eighth at Bay Meadows race track today.

Faucon, ridden by Jockey Westrope, and second favorite in the betting, forced the pace in the stretch and was beaten by only a head.

Hemet Squaw, ridden by Jockey Walter Litzenberg, a 30-to-1 shot, was third.

Rope Climb Record Made At AAU Meet

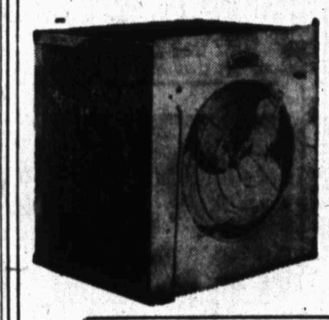

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., May 1. (INS) — Don Perry, 17-year-old Venice, Calif. schoolboy, set a new world's record in the rope climb at the 1948 renewal of the National A. A. U. gymnastic championships and pre-Olympic tryouts today.

Perry, who came East at the expense of home town admirers, went up a 20-foot rope in 3.1 seconds. Garvin Smith of Los Angeles City college, who set the previous mark of 3.4 seconds last year, was second today in 3.2 seconds.

Cover crops grown in pecan orchards should be disked by the middle of April or the first of May.

FOREIGN MINISTER GIVES VIEWS

Revision Of Military Clauses In Italian Peace Pact Asked

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Western European union has opened military talks in London to unify and strengthen its defense system which is expected eventually to embrace Italy and other countries outside the iron curtain. In the following exclusive interview, Italian Foreign Minister Carlo Sforza calls for revision of the Italian peace treaty so that his country may help in defense against aggression).

By MICHAEL CHINIGO
Staff Correspondent

ROME, May 1—Italian Foreign Minister Carlo Sforza today called for revision of the military clauses in the Italian peace treaty to enable Italy to defend herself in the event of aggression.

But he also indicated clearly that before Italy could join the Western European union, she must be in a position to contribute her share to the common defense.

Thus—without commenting directly on whether Italy would enter the western union—Sforza joined in the views on the subject held by most pro-western political leaders in Italy.

Minister Urges Confidence

Sforza was interviewed in his private office at the ministry of foreign affairs in the Piazza Colonna. He said:

"The present military clauses in the peace treaty place Italy in a state of open inferiority which no self-respecting nation could accept as a permanent situation. This places her at the mercy of the first to cross her frontier.

"This surely is a question requiring the most careful consideration on the part of the great powers."

Sforza said in his opinion the way to ease the present troubled international situation "is to be confident and show it."

Sforza side-stepped a direct answer on the question of whether the Communists would be denied participation in the new Italian government, following the leftist defeat in the recent election.

But he intimated they would be kept out when he said:

Election Comment Made

Sforza then turned to the subject of how the peace of the world will be affected by the Communist election defeat. He said:

"The peace of the world will depend on a complex range of factors.

First and foremost among them is the disappearance of the element of fear which runs through this post-war world like the poison in the blood of a sick man.

"I am convinced therefore that any decision which can allay this fear, in one country or more than one, will be a most valuable contribution to peace and the preservation of our civilization."

Sforza, asked whether the elections proved that the spread of Communism could be stopped by measures short of war, commented:

"If by measures short of war is meant the freely expressed will of the people, I am convinced that this is the one and only method of settling differences."

He added: "Particularly those which, although of a purely internal character, nevertheless could have an international bearing."

On Italian relations with Greece he said:

"The Mediterranean is a lake of nations. Its shores must be friendly. Any other situation is inconceivable, especailly between the Italian and Hellenic peoples."

BILL IS APPROVED

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—A bill by Rep. Thompson (D-Tex) directing army engineers to see what can be done to protect the Texas City waterfront and shipping channels from storms and erosion was approved by the House public works committee yesterday.

News Briefs

W. L. Stangel, dean of agriculture at Texas Technological college, has announced that three registered Aberdeen Angus yearling bulls, bred and raised under supervision of the Tech animal husbandry department, were sold recently at top prices. The bulls, weighing just under 1,000 pounds each at time of sale, were purchased by Money Price, Brownfield; Carden Green of Lubbock; and J. B. Jeffus of Plainview.

Among recent gifts to the Agriculture division of Texas Technological college are "The Quarterhorse," a history written by Helen Michaelis and Bob Denhardt on the development of the quarterhorse, and a complete set of stud books of the American Quarterhorse association, W. L. Stangel, dean of agriculture at the college, said.

Gil Stringer, eight-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Stringer of Tulia, died at 9:30 a. m. Saturday in West Texas hospital. An attending physician attributed the death to a severe anemia condition. The body was to be taken to Tulia for final services; however, definite arrangements have not been announced.

The I. O. O. F. lodge will confer the third degree on Ward D. Kilgore, Jr., at the weekly meeting to be held Monday night at 8 o'clock at I. O. O. F. hall, 1913 Avenue K. Light refreshments will be served.

Methodist Men will meet at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning in Fellowship hall at First Methodist church for a light breakfast of coffee and doughnuts, followed by a discussion on the future policies and programs to be given at these weekly breakfasts. A count of hands as to who will attend the breakfast will be taken in the mixed adult classes and the Horn Bible class this morning, and during the evening worship services. Those wishing to attend the breakfast who are not present at one of these gatherings today should contact some staff member during the day, it was announced.

Seventh annual reunion of former Brown county residents is scheduled for Sunday, May 16, at Mackenzie State park. The group is expected to gather around 10 o'clock. A basket picnic will feature the all-day meeting.

Pennants Awarded Play Day Winners

More than 100 girls, divided into four teams, took part in the eighteenth annual Texas Tech Play day Saturday in the gymnasium at the college, Mrs. Johnnye Langford, dean of women and head of the women's physical education department, announced.

Pennants designating first place in the contests were presented to each girl on the winning team. Book marks with second, third and fourth places inscribed were presented to members of the other three teams. The team system of competition, which replaces the individual scoring of contests, was used for the first time this year in an effort to allow more girls to enter the winning bracket, Mrs. Langford said. Under this system winners were named in teams and for that reason names of those participating in the various events were not announced, it was explained.

Contests were of the athletic variety, including softball, tennis, volleyball, table tennis, relays, badminton and basketball. A luncheon was held in the gymnasium at noon, followed by a short program of tap dancing and music.

Awards were presented to the girls at an assembly held in the gymnasium at 3:30 p. m. Francis Peters, Tech student, made moving pictures of the entire day's events, a practice which was initiated when the Tech Play Day was first inaugurated. The films are kept in a film library as a permanent record of the happenings of each annual play day.

Annual Banquet Honors Cooper High School Graduating Class

The banquet was sponsored by the senior class with Mrs. C. E. Peek, class sponsor, Mrs. H. M. Cade, Mrs. H. P. Guetersloh, Mrs. A. B. Allen and Mrs. B. H. Allen assisting with arrangements.

Officers for the coming year were named. They are Charles Cade, president, Marvin Kitten, vice president, Mrs. Charles Cade, secretary-treasurer and Herbert D. Henderson, corresponding secretary.

Outgoing officers were Wallace N. Phillips, president, Irene Bailey, vice president, Dorothy Nell Barrett, secretary, and Margarette Hardey, treasurer.

Cade urged all graduates of Cooper High school to be certain the class president has their current address so that they might be notified of the next banquet.

Bottling Company Plant Is Awarded Production Honors

The Royal Crown Bottling plant of Lubbock has been awarded the Certificate of Production Merit by the Nehi corporation of Columbus, Ga., under whose franchise the local plant operates, F. M. Brookmole, manager, has announced.

The award is based on modern bottling equipment, sanitation practices and high production standards of bottling, the local manager reported. Brookmole has been a resident of Lubbock for the past two years.

SAN DIEGO, Calif., May 1 (AP)—Mystery story writer Craig Rice was married last night for the fourth time. She said before the ceremony that her knees were shaking 'like a pair of castanets."

Intermediate Royal Ambassadors Entertained By Baptist Group

The Brotherhood of Southside Baptist church was host Friday evening at Mackenzie State park to the Intermediate Royal Ambassador chapter, a missionary organization for boys of the church between the ages of 13 and 16.

Featuring the entertainment was a softball game between the boys and their dads, in which the fathers came out on the long end of a 17 to 9 score. Following the game, a picnic lunch was held for the entire group.

After a brief devotional, the Brotherhood held a short business session. Thursday night, May 6, was named as work night, when members of the Brotherhood are to meet at the church to make some needed repairs on the church building.

M. R. Hickman was elected treasurer of the organization, and T. W. Davis was named entertainment chairman. Forty-one men and boys attended the meeting, it was announced.

Here are a few typical examples of the many sizes and types of structures that are available in Standard ARMCO STEELOX Buildings. Ask us to demonstrate how you can get the exact building you need.

MORE for your building DOLLAR WITH STEELOX BUILDINGS

1. LOW FIRST COST
2. LOW INSTALLATION COST
3. LOW MAINTENANCE COST

Order the Exact Building You Need

Choose your STEELOX Building from a wide range of standard sizes. There are so many combinations that you are sure to find the exact building you want. Doors and windows are available in a wide variety of types and sizes and may be placed wherever you need them. Conventional materials for insulating against heat or cold can be used. Interior finishing and other special details can be done the same as for any other building.

Meets Changing Conditions

Changing conditions never catch you flatfooted when you own an ARMCO STEELOX Building. Even after years of use as a permanent building the entire structure can be quickly dismantled and moved to a new location without loss of material. It can readily be expanded or adapted to a new use. If you need more room the building can easily be extended with standard parts obtainable at any time. Loosening a few bolts and rearranging the panels permits changing doors and windows. Obsolescence is never a problem when you build with STEELOX.

Exceptionally Weathertight

With all their flexibility of construction, ARMCO STEELOX Buildings remain sturdily rigid and weathertight. The patented STEELOX joint withstands expansion, contraction and unequal settlement—cannot open up or pull apart. There are no nails to work loose — no holes in the covering.

Fire-Resistant

Other Money-Saving Features

Every feature of ARMCO STEELOX Buildings is designed to save you time, trouble and money. For example, individual STEELOX Sections are made of 18 and 20 gage ARMCO Galvanized PAINTGRIP STEEL. This is 2 or 3 times heavier than ordinary corrugated galvanized roofing and siding used on many industrial buildings. Long life is assured. Tight construction keeps out rats and other pests. Storms hold little danger because these buildings are designed to withstand wind velocities in excess of 75 miles per hour. Insurance rates are therefore low.

You will always be proud of your STEELOX Building. It stays neat and attractive through the years. Thousands of installations have proved their value.

American Nations Sign Pact Of Co-Operation At Bogota Parley

By EWALD L. ALMEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

BOGOTA, Colombia, May 1—A footnote to history was written in a modest Bogota villa last night.

There, where Simon Bolivar dreamed of South America's independence 118 years ago, delegates of 21 American nations signed pacts welding them together.

It was the formal closing of the ninth Pan American conference, but for many it also was a tribute to South America's hero.

Ceremony Was Symbolic

The delegates were reminded that peace and order can be precarious. Outside the dining room where they met, armored cars rumbled and troops in battle gear clumped the streets around the villa. It was an aftermath of Bogota's revolutionary uprising of April 9. Tension still exists here, and it was impressed on the delegates by the absence of President Mariano Ospina Perez. He is trying to put Bogota back on an even keel.

But the signing of the pacts turned back a page of history for the South Americans. A lone electric light shone over the table where more than a century ago Bolivar and his followers planned for a free South America. Bolivar fought for the same guarantees of liberty, freedom and human rights which the delegates set forth in their pacts. He led Colombia, Venezuela, Ecuador, Peru and Bolivia to' independence.

Delegates Sign Charter

As the Chilean and Uruguayan delegates prepared to sign, the light went out. Somebody lighted candelabra used during the Bolivian era. The ceremonies were brief. Former president Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela spoke and then the signing began.

The delegates signed a charter giving concrete form to American cooperation; one pledging American republics to settle disputes among themselves; a resolution condemning international Communism and another urging peaceful abolition of foreign colonies in the hemisphere, among others.

They also signed one which had the flavor of old Simon Bolivar. It was a declaration of the rights and duties of man.

Third Annual Reunion Of Schroeder Families Conducted

The third annual reunion of the Schroeder families was held April 24-25 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Dippel of Sagerton. Previous Schroeder reunions have been held in 1946 and 1947. Last year's reunion was attended by more than 70 people; however, the family reported that this year's group was noticeably smaller because sickness prevented many from attending.

In the hostess role at the reunion were Mr. and Mrs. Dippel and Gay Nell, Gary and Sue Dippel; Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Anderson and Judith Ann; Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Schroeder.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schroeder of Wolfforth; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schroeder of Miles, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Schroeder of Ropesville; Mr. and Mrs. Will Schroeder of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Schroeder and sons Gary and C. L., of Grand Prairie.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Schroeder of Pyotes; Mr. and Mrs. Willie Schroeder of Ropesville; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd James Schroeder of Baltimore; Murry Reed Schroeder of Borger; J. C. Schroeder of Sagerton; Mr. and Mrs. Roland Montgomery and daughters Jo Ann, Paula and Patricia of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Schroeder and son Thomas Lee of Ropesville; Mrs. Dorothy Cahmichael and son of Post; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Rife of Sagerton.

Visitors were Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Gunn of Sagerton and a Mrs. Roberts from Baltimore.

Lubbock Soldier Transferred To KaufbeurenA Germany Base

KAUFBEUREN, Germany—Cpl. Sidney M. Parr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Porter Parr, 2301 Broadway, Lubbock, has been transferred to the 116th AACS squadron at Kaufbeuren, Germany. There he will be chief clerk for the Fifth AACS Wing Communications school. Previous to this assignment he was doing the same work for the communications school conducted by the 156th AACS Installation and Maintenance squadron also located at Kaufbeuren. Parr has been doing this same kind of work since October 1946 when he joined the Communications school in Paris, France, which was conducted by the 64th Region ACS-PEA.

Parr was drafted into the Army on March 1, 1946 and took infantry basic. He then reenlisted for three years into the Air force. He started his overseas tour in September 1946 and now has 18 months in the European command.

Tour Of New Mexico Indian Villages Planned At Tech

Included in the summer school anthropology field course to be offered by Texas Technological college this summer is a tour of Indian villages and Indian ruins in western New Mexico and Arizona, Dean W. C. Holden, head professor of history and anthropology, has announced.

The advanced anthropology course, which is being resumed this summer during the second semester of summer school, is designed to fill the full six weeks with five weeks excavation work at Arrowhead ruins near Glorieta, N. M., and the other week to include the planned inspection tour.

Dr. Holden said some 70 rooms of the 180 separate compartments of Arrowhead ruins have been restored through the excavation work of the college classes that started the excavation project in 1933.

W. M. Pearce, jr., anthropology professor on leave of absence, will return to Texas Tech this summer to supervise the field work in New Mexico.

Roy Boyd Returns From Fort Worth Education Conference

Roy Boyd, superintendent of Lubbock county schools, returned Friday night following his attendance at the Midsouth Conference on Rural Life and Education held in Fort Worth April 29-30.

Dual themes studied at the conference were "Problems of the County Superintendent in the Midsouth" and "Helping Educate Rural People to Use Their Resources."

As a member of the study group on transportation and school consolidation, Mr. Boyd delivered a talk on methods and improvements in transportatoin for Texas public school children from early days to the present.

New Half Dollar To Honor Benjamin Franklin Minted

PHILADELPHIA, May 1 (AP) — A new half-dollar, honoring Benjamin Franklin, went into circulation Friday.

The coin, designed by the late John Sinnock who sculptored the Roosevelt dime and Purple Heart medal, is the idea of mint director Nellie Tayloe Ross.

"It is really appropriate that the Franklin half-dollar becomes a reality at this time," said Mrs. Ross.

"He was the great apostle of thrift and his picture on the coin should remind people that in this time of world unrest it would be a good policy to husband our resources."

The Franklin coin is the first U. S. half-dollar to display anything except the American Eagle on the reverse side, Mrs. Ross said. On the reverse side of the coin is a picture of the Liberty bell.

People In Ohio Village Know Theory Of How A-Bomb Works

(EDITOR'S NOTE: On his way to the Kentucky derby in Louisville, INS columnist-reporter Bob Considine stopped off at Miamisburg, Ohio, to learn why it is called the one town in America that "knows why the A-bomb works." Here is his explanation.)

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

MIAMISBURG, Ohio. — This little town settled in 1799 but not incorporated until 1930, today knows more about atomic energy than any community in the land.

Its simplest school-girl could explain plutonium to a worker at Hanford, Wash., Plutonium plant.

Its humblest shopkeeper could tell the people of Oak Ridge, Tennessee—where uranium in gaseous form is shot through huge tunnels that are magnetized in such a manner that uranium-235 atoms are separated from uranium-235 atoms—just how this happens and why it must.

Future Could Be Explained

Its crudest farmhand could tell the United Nations — forever wrangling over the threat of the A-bomb—just how much more of a future the atom has as a medical and industrial tool.

Why is this true of Miamisburg?

Last year Monsanto Chemical company began erecting in the town the first of two mysterious plants and laboratories for further research into the incredible story of the atom and its long-locked secrets.

The people have been told, primarily, of the greatest atomic energy planet to man—the sun.

They know that the word "atom" is from the Greek and means "an uncuttable thing," and the ancients thought there are units in all physical matter that are so small they cannot lend themselves to being cut in half; have reached the sub-microscopic stage of indivisibility."

Know Other Secrets

They know why some substances, notably radium and uranium, are radioactive—because they are undergoing the same sort of unhappy domestic friction that certain brands of mothers-in-law create in otherwise happy families, and thus give off what amounts to sparks and can be broken easily.

They know that the forces which hold together the core of the atom—the nucleus around which rotates, in planetary fashion, a varied series of bodies called electrons—are so great that a piano wire made entirely of atomic nuclei would be strong enough to lift all the battleships, cruisers, aircraft carriers and destroyers in the world without snapping.

Thus they can understand the enormous force unleashed when a nucleus is broken in two by an invisible particle—a neutron—that hits them at great speeds.

But they know also, that the neutrons are uncertain bullets, that they often miss the nucleus, or bounce off, or go all the way through it like a pin through soft rubber and do no break it. They know that these neutrons must be slowed down to perhaps 75,000 miles per second (from 186,000 miles per second) by means of making them pass through bricks of pure graphite.

And they know why the A-bomb works, in effect, for they know about chain reaction, which is simply the sudden release of a softly glowing power given off by uranium-235.

There remains some hope that what the people of Miamisburg know—and what has been related here is only part of it—will spread to the people of the United States and perhaps the people of the world. This might have an enormous effect on the fearful outlook of mankind on atomic energy.

Kennedy A. Dunbar, Dayton area manager of the Atomic Energy commission, says:

"This show is an outstanding example of the national education aims of the commission.

It is in complete agreement with the commission's firm hope that this complex subject may be clearly understood and appreciated by the people—all the people—of the nation which had so much to do with its conception and development."

Texas Motor Freight Handlers May Walk Off Jobs Tomorrow

HOUSTON, May 1. (AP)—Three-thousand motor freight handlers in Texas may walk off their jobs Monday, midnight in a wage dispute.

W. M. Miller, international representative of the General Drivers union, AFL, said here yesterday the freight handlers' contract expires at midnight Monday and "anything could happen."

In Dallas, local business representative M. R. Dixon said 25 union officials will meet in Houston Sunday to decide whether to call a strike.

Locals over the state already have approved a strike, Dixon said.

Miller said the union and some 20 motor freight lines involved are five cents apart on hourly wage scales.

The union has asked a 15-cent hourly across the board increase, with time and one-half for time over nine hours a day or 50 hours a week.

Freight handlers now are paid 95 cents per hour, with helpers receiving 90 cents. Miller said time and one-half is paid for hours worked over 10 daily of 50 hours weekly.

Miller said the 3,000 workers involved in the dispute are members of union locals at Beaumont, Galveston, Houston, San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Waco, Dallas, Fort Worth, Denison, Abilene and Amarillo.

GOP Trio Fights To Cut Federal Spending

WASHINGTON, May 1 (INS)—Sen. Reed (R-Kan.) called today on Senate Republicans to review what he termed the GOP's failure to keep its campaign promise to hold down government spending.

Reed made this demand as, with Sens. Bridges (R-N. H.), and Ferguson (R-Mich.) he renewed the fight to slash $200 million from the $708,586,666 rivers and harbors and flood control bill voted by the Senate Appropriations committee.

The measure, which comes before the Senate this week, represents a $100 million increase over funds approved by the House.

Charging that the proposed legislation was "pure pork barrel," the trio, all members of the appropriations committee, said they would "try to hold the Republican party to its campaign promises."

When the bill comes to the floor the three Republicans plan to move that it be sent back to committee with instructions to cut $200 million from the fund and with a directive to the Army engineers to spend the remainder on the basis of urgency and long-range importance.

Reed and Ferguson at a news conference castigated the Army engineers for asserting that all projects now in the bill are equally necessary.

Decline In Bank Deposits Shown

DALLAS, May 1 (AP)—Gross demand deposits of member banks in the eleventh Federal Reserve district declined during the first quarter of 1948 by approximately $265,000,000, the Federal Reserve bank of Dallas said today in its monthly business review.

The decline followed a substantial increase in deposits during 1947.

"The shrinkage in deposits, which was characteristic of the trend for reserve city banks and country banks of the district, represented a decline of approximately five per cent," the review stated.

Time Deposits Increase

"Loss of deposits, however, was most marked among the reserve city banks of the district, both in aggregate amount and percentagewise, as figures reveal a shrinkage from a daily average during December 1947 of $2,517,000,000 to a daily average during March 1948 of $2,358,000,000.

"In contrast with this decline of approximately $159,000,000, country banks reported a decline of about $106,000,000. During the same period, however, time deposits increased by approximately $15,000,000 at the reserve city bank of the district and $5,000,000 at country banks.

"Figures of the weekly reporting member banks of the district, including selected member banks in leading cities, reflect a similar trend for the first quarter of this year. Since the end of March, however, when the weekly reporting member banks showed total demand deposits of $2,514,000,000, the trend has been upward, with figures for April 14 showing an increase during the first two weeks of April amounting to about $116,000,000.

During the two-weeks period from April 1 through April 14, demand deposits of individuals, partnerships and corporations accounted for approximately $72,000,000 of the increase, while interbank deposits also increased substantially."

El Paso Widow's Answer To Radio Question Worth $20,000

EL PASO, May 11 (INS)—Mrs. Lewis Springer, El Paso widow with two children, today joined the ranks of the "sudden rich" by winning over $20,000 worth of prizes in a radio contest that called for identification of a "small island somewhere in the world."

Her answer of "Swan island" to a telephone call by California radio master of ceremonies Jack Gregson asking identity of "treasure island" copped the grand prize.

Prizes in the contest range from a house full of furniture to a life time supply of hose, a cocker spaniel and a trip to Honolulu.

Roy, 6, said that if the dog is black he's going to name it "Blackie" while Louis, 16, said he's going to put the trailer that was also awarded in the back yard to sleep in it during the summer.

Mrs. Springer, a clerk with the United States Immigration and Naturalization department, excitedly said, "If Uncle Sam lets me off work I'll make a trip."

Her husband died four years ago.

MARKET RALLY SLOWED

NEW YORK, May 1. (AP)—Profit-taking and strike threats clipped the wings of the spring stock rally this week.

The market's setback halted a rise that had progressed through six successive weeks of trading.

After a sharp dip Monday, the market established a narrow pattern that held throughout the other five sessions. Under it, backward tendencies prevailed in pivotal industrial shares, while selected favorites—mostly oil, aircraft and rail stocks—climbed.

Schenley, Philips Dodge, Mission Corp., and Lockheed showing declines of fractions to around a point. At the same time Mid-Continent Petroleum and Central Railroad of New Jersey pushed to new 1948 highs.

Feature of the day was a 29-point jump in St. Louis Southwestern (Cotton Belt) common to close at 129, a new high, on odd-lot sales of only 200 shares. This stock, in "thin" supply responded to its showing of first quarter net income of $13.98 a share against $8.95 on a similar basis a year ago. Many other railroads have reported deficits for the same period.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite dropped .1 of a point today to close at 67.1, where it was off .9 on the week, its first weekly loss since March 13. Of 746 issues traded in the narrowest Saturday session since the same date, declines numbered 354 and advances 184.

Transactions totaled 480,000 shares in the smallest two-hour market since March 27, and compared with 850,000 a week ago.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 1 (AP) — Cotton futures ended 50 cents to $1.35 a bale lower today after erratic price movements.

Prices dropped in early trading but came back for a while. New crop deliveries were favored partly because of the forecast of above-normal temperatures in Texas and Oklahoma.

In late dealings liquidating orders by New Orleans and commission houses uncovered stop-loss orders. Covering purchases stemmed the retreat.

May was sold throughout the session.

SUMMER MY BE TOUGH

Labor-Management Showdown On Wage Demands Indicated

By HAROLD W. WARD
Association Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 1—Has management generally decided to fight labor's demand for a third round of postwar wage increases?

There are signs indicating this might be true—that big corporations like U. S. Steel, General Electric and Westinghouse really mean to call a halt to the upward movement of wages.

If so, this summer may be a tough one—a turning point in postwar economics and possibly in labor-management relations for a much longer period. Unions have been pushing ahead most of the time since Franklin D. Roosevelt took office in 1933.

Two Factors Studied

Two things could change any management determination for a showdown, however.

They are: (1) Politics, which spreads into strange places in a presidential election year: (2) The seemingly unquenchable demand for goods, boosted still further by the European recovery program and larger defense measures.

Either of these factors could bring on a major break in the line, if an important industry or corporation granted a widely-publicized wage boost. The unions are in there battling, with special emphasis on their members' needs to meet increased living costs.

Key Battle Seen

If it is true that big employers simultaneously have decided to end the wage-price chase which began V-J day, the key battle may be joined about July 1, when John L. Lewis and the coal operators come to their contract crisis.

In the coal industry are two strong foes across the bargaining table, both weakened by a six-week strike just ended. Lewis says the operators' resistance to his pension plan was fanned by other industrialists, fearing similar demands from their own workers.

Needed Coal Last Year

In a way, it was Lewis who headed off a possible industry-labor pitched battle last summer. Right after the Taft-Hartley act was approved by Congress June 23, Lewis' chances for getting a good contract from the coal operators looked slim indeed.

But U.S. Steel's President Benjamin F. Fairless and George M. Humphrey, head of the world's biggest commercial coal producer, Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal company, met Lewis quietly and handed him the best contract he ever had.

This year, both Fairless and Humphrey have refused to step into the role of negotiator. Some believe they may have led Lewis to bring on the long, coal-consuming strike over pensions.

The present meat packing strike is a good example. The CIO-Packing House workers wanted more than the 9 cents granted rival AFL unionists. The six big packers refused. The CIO members have been on the picket line for 48 days. The end is nowhere in sight.

Other evidences of a stiffening policy are offered by General Motors and Chrysler in the auto industry, with Ford marking time; General Electric and Westinghouse in the electrical manufacturing industry; all the big railroads, even though faced with a strike threat May 11 by three operating unions.

What already has happened in the Chicago newspaper strike, where papers have continued to be published despite the walkout of printers, and in the shipbuilding and telephone industries, has served to bolster management resistance to union demands.

Junior High School Newspaper Is Awarded Special Mention

Special commendation for the Cowboy World, mimeographed newspaper of O. L. Slaton and Central Junior High schools, has been received from the Interscholastic League Press conference by Miss Catherine Royalty, adviser.

Because of the groupings of mimeographed publications in the league competition, the Lubbock junior high paper was in competition with publications of senior high schools so it was not placed among the official winners. But, according to a letter received by Miss Royalty from Bluford Hestir, assistant director of ILPC, the judges were so highly impressed with the Cowboy World that they suggested high praise be given to the students for their work.

An official certificate extending praise for the Cowboy World is being forwarded to the staffs of the mimeographed publication, Hestir said.

Pigeon Picks Swank New York Hotel Room To Have Family In

NEW YORK, May 1 (INS) — Uninvited and non-paying guests get the heave-ho even in the least discriminating hotels, but New York's swank St. Moritz has one such guest it is giving first-class treatment.

The guest in the case is a pigeon, which established a nest just a week ago in a 19th-floor room, and has been sitting ever since on two eggs.

The nest of twigs rests on a plush carpet in the room of Solomon Eason, an Australian distiller. Eason feeds the pigeon and gives it water. He calls it "Sydney" after his home city. The eggs are due to hatch in about another eight days.

As for the St. Moritz management, it is delighted and Manager Warner Gilmore commented he's sorry 'Sydney" isn't having quadruplets, instead of merely twins.

Many Women Attend Breneman Services

GLENDALE, Calif., May 1 (INS) —An estimated 2,500 women, most of them middle-aged to elderly, today attended funeral services for Tom Breneman, genial master of ceremonies of the "Breakfast in Hollywood" radio show.

They trudged up a mile-long hill at Forest Lawn Memorial park and, since only a handful of them could be accomodated in the little Church of the Recessional, they stood outside on the walks and lawn, grim-faced and some of them weeping, while last rites were conducted for the man who brightened their morning chores with tomfoolery over hats and an orchid to the oldest woman present at his program.

Men Are Out Numbered

The mourners began gathering as early as 7 a.m. for the 11 o'clock service. Women outnumbered men by at least five to one.

One little old lady climbed the hill with a bouquet from her own garden and added it to the 200 sprays, including many orchids such as Breneman gave away on his program, which surrounded the casket.

Among the 350 inside the church were many Hollywood notables who were close friends of the radio star. Among them were Bud Abbott, Don Wilson, Arthur Treacher, Jack Benny, Andy Devine and Jack MacElroy.

Ministers Offer Praise

Masonic services were held in conjunction with other rites. The Rev. Louis Evans of the Hollywood Presbyterian church officiated in the final services. Commenting on Breneman's life, he said:

"Thank God for the brilliance of this man and the favor he found in the hearts of millions."

Cremation followed the services.

Breneman died of a heart attack last Wednesday morning.

Five New Cases Of Polio Are Reported From Houston Area

HOUSTON, May 1 (U.P) — Five polio cases, including the first from Houston this year, were reported yesterday.

Two of the cases were from Harris county and the ither two were non-residents, brought here for treatment.

The Houston victim, Mrs. J. B. Ledbetter, 19, of the River Oaks section, was being treated at hedgecroft clinic and was reported in serious condition.

The two county cases were Walter Potter, four, of Oakcrest, and Wayne Raymond, six, of Galveston road.

The last of the five victims was brought to Hedgecroft from Orange late yesterday. The patient was nine-year-old Betty M. Wall.

Last year in the same period there were nine polio cases from the city with three deaths. Six county cases have been reported this year, one more than during the same period in 1947.

Two Tech Students Nominated For Commissions In Army

Two Tech seniors were among the ROTC honor students over the country whose names were sent to the U. S. Senate yesterday for confirmation as second lieutenants in the Regular Army or Regular Air Force, the Associated Press reported from Washington.

They are Robert L. Adams, of Coahoma, and Richard R. Tibbets, of Quitaque.

The list also included ten nominations from Texas A. & M. college and others from Prairie View A. & M. college.

NATIONAL POSTURE WEEK

PROGRAM throughout the country this week will emphasize the importance of good posture to health, appearance and personal efficiency as National Posture week crosses the 10-year mark. Chin in, shoulders back and all that sort of thing. Good body mechanics is more than "standing straight;" it is body efficiency in motion. How do you shape up?

For the maxium in good appearance, seven points are suggested: Head high with chin in, shoulders back, chest up, abdomen drawn up and in, lower back flattened with hips tilted down, knees straight but not stiff, feet parallel.

In posture, as in other things, good habits are the key to success. Good posture should be second nature, without stiffness or strain. If your postural faults are severe, or if you suffer from backache, muscular pains or other symptoms, see your physician and a thorough examination may save you pain, disability and expense later on.

Miss Sue Rainey, assistant professor of physical education for women at Tech college, offers this suggestion for attaining good posture: Check yourself against a door or wall. Your head, shoulders, hips, calves and heels all should touch it; the hollow of your back should be only deep enough to slide your fingers in.

When you have the correct position, walk around, bend over and come back to it, thus learning the "feel" of good posture; make it a habit. After you have seriously worked to improved your posture, you will be conscious every time you slump or slough, Miss Rainey says.

GROUP THEATER

ALTHOUGH we doubt that the Lubbock Group Theater thinks that it is as good as Theater '48 which met with such success last season in Dallas, members are pleased with the possibility of their first attempt and justly so, we believe.

As you likely have heard or read by now, the Lubbock little theater group is presenting its first play, "The Man Who Came to Dinner," Monday night at 8 o'clock at Senior High school auditorium under sponsorship of the Optimist club.

Mrs. Charles L. Cobb and Mrs. R. W. Wicker, jr., co-directors of the comedy that was such a Broadway hit and later was filmed, have had extensive dramatic training and each has had experience on the professional stage. Mrs. Cobb was a member of the Northern Ireland Theater group after completing her studies; Mrs. Wicker, appeared in a number of film short subjects. A time enrolled in the late Max Reinhardt's class is one of her memorable experiences.

We're glad the group saw fit to choose the hilarious Kaufman-Hart comedy to begin the season. Perhaps funny lines are more difficult to put over than those of serious mien, but it's our belief that the Lubbock audience will enjoy reaching for handkerchiefs to dry eyes filled from laughter more than it would to wipe away tears.

Through the Coral Doors

Howdy folks,

Well, just like every week, I stick my big nose behind that Coral Door at Broadway and N to see what's new for the home. There's plenty of special interest this week.

Fredda was flying around the country last week — Midland, Odessa, Paducah, Abilene. She popped in the Studio just often enough to repack her bag with lovely fabrics and plans for various clients.

Speaking of fabrics, it's really been buzzing in the "consultation" room at the Decorators Studio. This balmy weather has given all the ladies the spring urge to liven up their homes. New draperies, upholstering, and of course, those special Lilie and Lena slipcovers are very much in demand.

In Beulah's unpacking department, we found several very special arrivals. A good-enough-to-eat pottery in purple and turquoise arrived from Winwield and now glorifies that Tapp table on the porch. Naturally, the table is set with smart Dorothy Thorpe linens designed especially for this pottery.

Another shipment of the ultra modern "town and Country" pottery will please all the ladies who were disappointed when the first shipment was depleted. That sliped side and large cup has certainly made a hit with the men folks.

The girls hear by grapevine that the Doc, John Chalk, will soon be back in town after much too long a time in Europe. He's always been a special visitor at the Studio.

Evelyn is so busy with a various decorating jobs, I never get to see her. However, I hear she is really making a name for herself. I've seen a couple of her homes and they are really lovely.

Ice Tea Time has made quite a run on the glass department. You know at 1202 N there is the largest assortment of summer glasses in town and that gorgious array of smart patterns is going to brighten many a table and lawn this summer. I'm just hinting to you that you'd better make a beeline to the Decorators Studio to make your choice. You know what a lift it gives your summer drinks as well as your table!

'S all for now. Gonna bask in the sun with one of the double glasses full of ice tea. Won't you join me?

Your ole' snoopy Grandpa.

Tea For Tech Faculty Women To End Season

Tech Faculty Woman's club will conclude its series of school year teas Wednesday afternoon at a party to be given in Drane hall on the college campus.

Mrs. T. F. Wiesen, chairman, is to be assisted by Mesdames George Whetstone, William H. Whyburn, Herman Williams, Roscoe Wilson, H. E. Woodward, Ray Yantis, W. W. Yocum, A. W. Young, Elizabeth Young, Harrison Butterworth, W. L. Stangel, W. H. Tinney, Cecil Ayers, C. G. Decker, Lewis Jones, F. A. Kleinschmidt, D. M. McElroy, L. E. Parsons, Bob Blon, Vernon Keesee, Mark Wood and Dean Margaret W. Weeks.

Interior Decoration Discussed By Club

A discussion of interior decoration and slip cover making was given by Mrs. E. M. Elmore and Mrs. J. L. Edwards at a meeting of the 1948 Friendship club Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Don L. Jones.

Members attnding were Mesdames J. W. Lemons, M. W. Styles, C. T. Moss, T. A. Moore, Bob Blanton, J. M. Zinn and Vernon Lemons. Guests were Mrs. Warren Henry and a Mrs. Nixon. Refreshments were served.

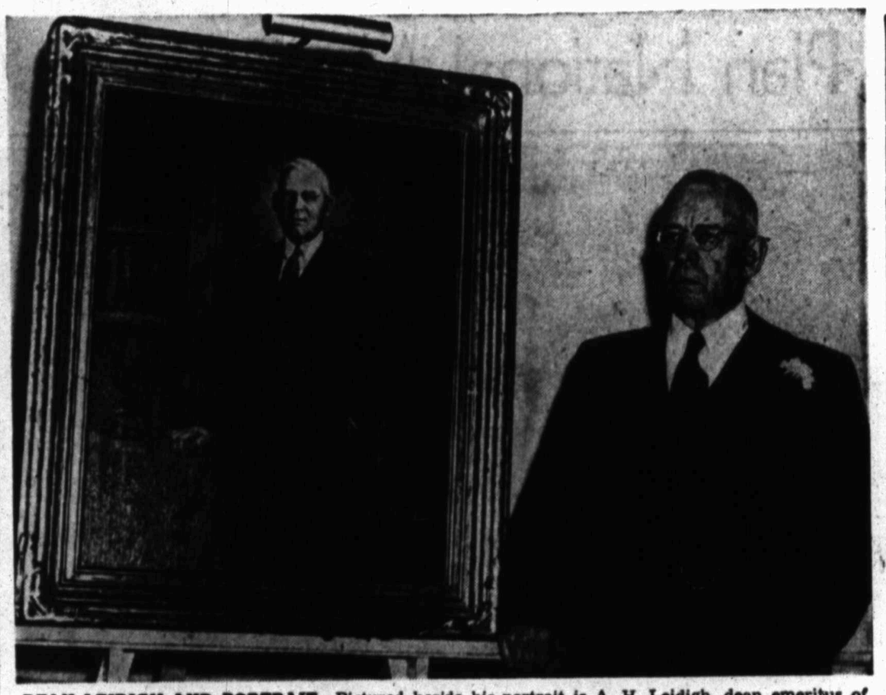

Next meeting will be with Mrs. Vernon Lemons on May 14, with a discussion on refinishing furniture by Mesdames Jones and Styles.

Accessories For Home Will Be Discussed

Martha Lou Sageser will conduct a discussion on "Accessories for the Home" for the Adult Home Decoration class Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Annex G of Tech home economics building. Mrs. Peggy Fischer is to assist Miss Sageser, both are home economics students.

Miss Martha Graves, associate professor of home economics education, is in charge of the class.

DEAN LEIDIGH AND PORTRAIT—Pictured beside his portrait is A. H. Leidigh, dean emeritus of agriculture at Texas Technological college, who served as active dean from 1925 to 1945 and since has been dean emeritus. The portrait was painted by Mrs. J. S. Edwards of Amarillo. The project was sponsored by the Aggie club, which worked with a portrait committee. The painting will be hung permanently in Memorial auditorium in the agricultural building.—(Staff Photo.)

Portrait Of Dean Leidigh Will Be On Exhibit At Reception In Aggie Auditorium Today

An open house honoring Dean Emeritus and Mrs. A. H Leidigh will be conducted from 1 to 3:30 o'clock this afternoon in the Memorial auditorium in the Agriculture building at Texas Technological college, where the recently completed portrait of Dean Leidigh, who came to the college when it was established and served actively as dean of agriculture until he became dean emeritus in 1945, the event will be open to the public.

The portrait which will be hung was painted by Mrs. J. S. Edwards of Amarillo, who will be in the receiving line this afternoon.

The event is the second recognizing Dean Leidigh within the last week. The eighth annual banquet of the Texas Tech Aggie club Tuesday night honored the dean emeritus. Leidigh was described as a pioneer in his profession and was lauded for his efforts in fighting for a strong agricultural division at Texas Tech.

Hargrave, sponsor of the Aggie club; Bonnie Allen, president of the Plant Industry club; Earl Sears, past president of the Aggie club; Dean and Mrs. W. L. Stangel; Cecil Ayers, faculty representative on the portrait committee; Jack Earl Creel and Jason O. Gordon, alumni representatives on the portrait committee; Charles Hudson, Aggie club representative on the portrait committee, and Mrs. Edwards.

Those pouring will be Mrs. Jack M. Lewis, Dean Johnnie G. Lanford, Mrs. George Wilson and Mrs. Jason O. Gordon.

Three Aggie club members and girls in the division of agriculture will have charge of registration. Girls in the division are Miss Camille Stephens, Miss Olive Pearl Matthews, Mrs. Patsy Jones Aaron, Miss Betty Williamson and Mrs. Joan Leavitt Eggleston.

Sponsored By Aggies

The entire project of acquiring and presenting the portrait of Dean Leidigh to the college has been sponsored by the Aggie club, which has worked with the portrait committee. The portrait has been financed by graduates and former students of the agricultural division, members of the agricultural facult yand other friends of Dean Leidigh.

Dean Emeritus Leidigh, who received a bachelor of science degree from Kansas State Agricultural college and master of science degree from Texas A. & M. college, had been employed by the Texas Agriculture Experiment division staff at College Station prior to coming to Lubbock in 1925 to be dean of agriculutre and professor of agronomy at Tech.

May Day Coronation

Todd, 2318 Sixth, wearing blue and yellow dotted swiss dresses and carrying the crowns of the king and queen.

Following the crown bearers were Jimmy Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Turner, Route 5, and Susanne Clifton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Clifton, 2816 Thirty-third. They toook the crowns, mounted the steps and crowned King Rucker and Queen McNeil, who had been elected by secret ballot from the Primary 3 department of the Training union.

Children from two through eight years of age participated in the celebration. In honor of the royal couple of the May, those present went to the maypoles and began to unroll colorful streamers. Circles of color began to move around the six maypoles, and after the poles were all wound, the children went to their departments for ice cream and cookies.

Mrs. Gerald Horton, elementary director, was general supervisor of the party which was sponsored by the Training union of the First Baptist church. Committee chairmen were: Mrs. Otis Fincher, invitations; Mrs. Cliff Elliott, decorations; Mrs. S. A. Hamilton and Mrs. F. J. Batsell, maypoles; Mrs. B. T. Rucker, ceremony; Mrs. B. H. Bird, music; and Mrs. Doris Weaks, refreshments.

Luncheon Program Is Given By Two Guests

A feature of First Baptist Homemakers class luncheon Friday was a devotion presented by Mrs. Mack Mead, a guest. A reading, "The Little Red Brick School House," was given by another guest, Mrs. J. C. Caraway.

Attending were Mesdames W. H. Trice, C. R. Horschler, John D. Haygood, Henry Ford, Drew Warren, Cecil Turner, R. C. Weber, M. S. Craig, Bill Pendley, J. C. Dennis, Doris Weaks, Gordon Deering, Elmer Terry, S. A. Hamilton, John R. Robertson, Hudson Bird, W. J. McQueary, sr., Jess Hendrix, Charles Moore, R. L. Edwards, S. O. Gowen and L. J. Abbott. Mrs. H. C. Turner of Austin attended, also.

An ivy covered trellis which framed the tea table was lettered with the names of betrothed couple, "Betty and Ross," spelled out with yellow daisies. In the center of the trellis were two blue birds holding a yellow satin ribbon which was lettered in blue with the wedding date, May 28. Mrs. E. W. Hester, aunt of the bridegroom-elect, Mrs. Dawson and Miss Thora McCorkle presided at the lace covered tea table; floral decorations were of jonquils and blue and yellow pansies. Bouquets of blue and yellow iris and talisman roses were arranged in receiving rooms.

Misses Waunia Ruth Ray, Goldia Ann Hester, Beth Hester and Mary Alice Hobbs assisted with serving. Others in the house party were Mis Eula McCorkle, Miss Mary Ila Barnette, Mrs. D. B. Coffee and Mrs. C. R. McLarin.

More than 100 guests called.

The wedding will be performed at First Presbyterian church at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Neighborhood Coffee Given In Adams Home

Mesdames Turner Adams, Emory Ing and Johnny Ferguson were hostesses at a neighborhood coffee held in the Adams home, 2514 Thirty-second, Saturday morning from 10 to 11 o'clock.

Mary Lou Davis Is To Marry Earl Williams

Announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Mary Lou Davis and Earl Williams is being made by Miss Davis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C Davis of Lubbock. Mr. Williams is son of Mrs. Claudia Williams of Fort Worth.

The wedding will take place at St. John's Methodist church May 15.

Mrs. Mary Dale Bucker has returned to her home in Washington, D. C., after a short visit here with her son, Dale Buckner and family, 2503 Twenty-third, and other relatives.

Woman's Angle

. . . A Republican minister out West was expressing thanks for the leaders this country has had. "We are thankful," he said, "for Washington, Franklin, Jefferson, Lincoln and Roosevelt—Theodore that is." . . . A number of people who live alone suffer from a good case of blues from eating out every night; they long for home-cooked meals and have no place to cook them . . . We'd like to see an adult education program expanded enough to take into consideration these folk, both men and women. We've an idea an evening course in cookery would be a public service feature that would meet with keen approval.

Miss Clift Marries Edgar H. McElroy; To Live In Dallas

WAXAHACHIE, May 1 (Special)—Miss Dorothy Nelle Clift, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olive Earl Clift of Waxahachie, and Edgar Hood McElroy, jr., of Dallas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hood McElroy, sr., of Waxahachie, were married recently at the First Baptist church in Waxahachie. Dr. Joseph P. Boone of the Baptist Bible Chairs of Texas read the double ring service in a candlelight setting of white calla lilies, stock, gladioli and woodwardia fern.

Carrying out the tradition of Ko Shari club members at Texas Tech, "Indian Love Call" was played during the exchanging of the vows. Ralph Harris, soloist, sang "Because" and "Always" accompanied by Mrs. Arthur A. Harris, organist, who also played "To An Evening Star," "Liebestraum," "I Love You Truly," "Traumerei," "At Dawning" and "Poeme." The processional was the traditional Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin," and Mendelssohn's recessional was played.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin designed in period style. The yoke of bridal illusion was bordered with a three-tiered fold of satin and the full skirt, flowing into a short train, was fashioned with unpressed pleats and a three-tiered bustle. The long sleeves ended in points over the hands and were buttoned at the wrists with tiny self-covered buttons. Her three-quarter length veil of illusion fell from a cap of the same material and was caught at the sides with lilies of the valley. The bridal bouquet was of gardenias and stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

In Bridal Party

Miss Gretchen Clift, sister of the bride was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss June Wilson of Lubbock and Miss Maxine Harp of Abernathy. The bride's attendants wore gowns of blue taffeta and carried colonial bouquets of blue hydrangeas and white carnations tied with blue ribbon. Their headbands were of split white carnations.

MRS. EDGAR H. McELROY, JR.

Tom McElroy of Tyler attended his brother as best man. Ushers were Pat McElroy, brother of the bridegroom, Bob Perkins, Stewart Chapman Middleton, Hermon L. Cook, jr., and Charles L. Penn. Middleton and Cook also lighted candles.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of Mrs. C. L. Penn. Yellow gladioli, red roses and mixed bouquets decorated the receiving rooms. The bride's table was laid with a handmade filet lace cloth and was centered with a mound of white stock and white carnations. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

To Live In Dallas

For traveling, the bride chose a navy blue gabardine suit with matching accessories and a pink straw hat trimmed with pink flowers. Her corsage was an orchid. After a wedding trip, the couple will be at home on May 7 at 3320 Douglas, Dallas.

The bride was graduated from Waxahachie High school and Texas Technilogical college. At Tech she majored in Spanish, was president of Ko Shari social club and was listed in "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges."

Mr. McElroy is is a graduate of Waxahachie High school, attended Trinity university and received his B. S. degree in mechanical engineering at Tech. He served two years in the Pacific with the U. S. Navy and is now employed by the Texas Power and Light company in Dallas.

Lois Wilson Is Wed To Mr. Yelvington

Miss Lois Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Wilson, 106 North Ave. V, and W. E. Yelvington, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Yelvington, 1936 Ave. G, were married Saturday night in the home of the bride's parents. Rev. C. J. McCarty performed the double ring ceremony before an arrangement of palms and white spring flowers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a pink gabardine suit with white accessories and a sheer white blouse. Her bridal bouquet was a shower arrangement of white iris and roses. Miss Roylene Johnson, maid of honor, wore a pink crepe dress with white accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

After the service, a wedding reception was held in the Wilson home with the parents of the couple assisting in receiving. The lace covered serving table held a white-tired wedding cake and a crystal punch bowl and was centered with an arrangement of white roses. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Jackie McIntosh and Mrs. J. O. Thrailkill, aunt of the bride.

Regular Class Is Set By Dance Federation

Regular class of the Lubbock Square Dance federation will be held Wednesday night at the American Legion hall, 910 Texas. Instruction in square and old-time couple dancing will be given from 8 to 10:30 p. m. with A. D. Montgomery and Kenneth Cox calling.

The federation is looking for callers and invites anyone who enjoys participating in this phase of square dancing to get in touch with the City Federation department, which sponsors these activities.

Among the new callers who will assist with future classes of the federation are C. T. Forrester, C. L. Mason, Robert L. Mason, Richard Kleinschmidt and C. C. Lindsey.

Membership in the Square Dance federation is not required of those attending the class. Further information about this activity may be had by calling the recreation department, telephone number 9346.

FOR LUNCHEON CLUB

A meeting of 1928 Luncheon club will be held Thursday at 1 p. m. at Hilton hotel with Mrs. M. G. Murray as hostess.

Playing Judges Are Honored At Dinner

Carrying out a musical motif in appointments, members of the South Plains Music Teachers association entertained with a dinner in the Hotel Lubbock junior dining room to honor Mrs. Margaret Harris Heiney and Mrs. Beckie Arnold of Amarillo, playing judges for the annual spring music festival conducted here this week.

Miniature baby grand pianos and place cards of sheets of music marked the plates. Mrs. B. H. Meskimen presented the honorees with corsages of yellow rosebuds. An arrangement of yellow and orchid iris interspersed with notes was main table decoration and treble and bass clefs were placed at intervals along the board.

Mrs. Elois Elliott in rhyme presented Mrs. Carl Scoggin, retiring president, with a gift on behalf of the association.

New officers were introduced as follows: Mrs. Bailey Ireland, president; Mrs. Lillian Butler, first vice president; Mrs. Mamie I. Neal, second vice president; Mrs. Leonard Cole, recording secretary; Mrs. Mary Womack, treasurer.

Nineteen attended.

Couples Are Wed In Double Ceremony

Wedding of two Lubbock couples were performed by W. E. McConnell, justice of the peace, in Clovis, N. M., Saturday, April 24. Miss Opal Marie Modgling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Modgling of Lueders, became the bride of Roy Leon Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Watson of 1102 Thirty-seventh, and Miss Louise Janice Lindsay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Lindsay of 2501 Twenty-second, became the bride of Richard Arnold Barber, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Barber of 1612 Sixth.

Mrs. Watson wore a white alpaca crepe dress with white accessories and a gardenia corsage. Mrs. Barbar wore a pale blue alpaca crepe dress with white accessories and a gardenia corsage.

The couples are living on Route 7; both Mr. Watson and Mr. Barber are employed by Hub City Beverage company. Mrs. Watson is a graduate of Lueders High school and is a freshman student at Texas Technological college. Mrs. Barber is a graduate of Lubbock High school and is attending Draughons Business college.

Half of the United States' 2,500 museums are history museums and one-third are science museums.

From Lou To Louella.....

DEAR LOUELLA: Rosemary Dawkins is engaged to Fred Stubbs. Wedding plans will be made after they graduate from college . . . Pretty little Billie Cathey is going with Tommy Bumpas . . . Mickey Sweeney gave Shirley Ratisseau her engagement ring Thursday night. It has a large central stone with smaller diamonds on each side . . . Wrangler and San Souci ball teams are leading in the inter-club playoffs at Tech . . . Joan Golding has her engagement ring from Leon Maples. On each side of the half-carat central diamond are a round-cut and baguette stone . . . High school couples are Maxine Boyd, Sassy Davis; Dean Jackson, Raz Hilton; Courtney Sigler, Bob Booker; Carolyn Hones, Parker Stuart; Betty Cole, Goofrey Brooke; Peggy Givens, James Kline; LaJuana McWhorter, Billy Meador; and Ernestine Gammill, Bill Heckerman . . . Silver Keys are planning their annual picnic soon, and it may be held at Silver Falls.

Varsity Show Advances

Tech Varsity show in its present form is a two-and-a-half-hour production . . . Some of the stars will be James Pinson, Otis Green, Jacquelin Reese and Maxine McCollum . . . Sam Pat Birkman will be in charge of lighting effects . . . Doing excellent work in the production line are George Ater, general director; Joanne Crabtree, assistant general director; and Alice Barron, dramatic director . . . Predictions are that Gene Ray Powers will have everyone laughing with his high pitched "professor's voice," and that Pud Davidson's attempts at seriousness will bring hilarity . . . Hard at work to make this year's show music better than ever before are Vic Williams, music arranger, and Terry Sanders, musical director . . . Jimmy Carter has created several novelty dance routines and is directing all dancing in the production . . . Tech beauties will be presented again this year in connection with the Varsity show . . . Emilene Rapstine, attractive brownette from White Deer, will be one of the show's hit singers, and Bob Hufstedler, an unusually good tenor, will sing in a quintet.

Around The Town

DORIS SCARBOROUGH and Bill Rodgers are engaged . . . A. J. Bishop is the new secretary of Silver Key . . . Current LHS couples are Jo Cole, Royce Ellison; and Aurelia Cobb, Bert Nelson . . . Jerry Goff is dating Jean Newman . . . Margene Fry and Don Keith are an attractive couple . . . James Dennison is going with Martha Myers . . . Cotton Fanning dated Mary Ellen Duffy recently . . . Robin Elliot is still talking about his fast ride in the Tech rodeo . . . Joe Arrington and Frances Allman are frequent daters . . . Roy Grimes, Ben and Ed Wilson, David Fawcett and Charles Barrett have made requests to take a Naval Reserve cruise to Turkey this summer. If permission is granted the boys would ship out of Norfolk, Va., on an aircraft carrier, dock in Turkey for 10 days and return to the States.

Love,
Lou.

BLUEPRINT FOR BEAUTY

Any Woman Can Develop Good Taste In Personal Effects

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Good taste expressed in the creative little effects that personalize your clothes or your surroundings is the "trademark" which sets a chic woman apart from the crowd.

Good taste is not an inborn quality bestowed on a fortunate few. It must be developed by trial-and-error experiments, by being alert to new ideas.

So says chic Anita Colby, executive assistant to the head of production at Paramount studios, whose own good taste in clothes, make-up and manners serves as an example to the young movie starlets she advises.

Simplicity of style is Miss Colby's rule for good taste in fashion. Fads of the moment, extravagant styles or fashion innovations which have not been given the test of time should be avoided, she thinks.

More to be said for the simple costume is that it takes kindly to the dramatic touches which mark it yours exclusively. This touch might be an unusual piece of costume jewelry—a huge ring, such as Miss Colby herself wears, or a sparkling charm bracelet or an heirloom brooch (antique shops are good hunting grounds for these one-of-a-kind pieces).

Good taste rules, however, that you give the spotlight to your display piece and not diminish its impact on your audience by wearing a lot of gewgaws which would be in poor taste.

Good taste can be developed by any woman, says chic Anita Colby, above, of Paramount studios, whose own fawless taste serves as an example for the young movie starlets she advises.

Hobbies which exercise your powers of discrimination between the good and the mediocre—such as collections of glass, prints, and so on—are also useful in developing good taste. Once you've claimed a hobby as your, look for ways you can use it for more creative effects. Miss Colby, for example, uses as a pencil holder on her desk a milk glass cup from her collection.

Trained Nurse Needed For Girl Scout Camp

A trained nurse is being sought for Girl Scout Camp Leonitas, at Buffalo Lake, which will begin camping sessions June 7 and continue through July 18.

If a nurse is interested, she is asked to get in touch with Mrs. Cecil Cagle or to telephone the Girl Scout Little House.

Mrs. Stebritz To Be Hostess To Alumnae

The May meeting of DFD alumnae will be held Thursday night at 7 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Robert Stebritz, 2314 Thirty-first. Other hostesses will be Miss Ina Bacon and Miss Dorothy Cantrell.

KINDNESS UNREQUITED

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., (U.P.)—Kindness in the case of Jerome King backfired. He bought something to eat for two men and told officers they later tried to steal $25 from him.

Unlucky Sailor Has Miserable Time As Troubles Gang Up

OAKLAND, May 1. (AP) — Troubles? Listen to Chief Petty Officer John Lambert's.

He was transferred from Alameda Naval Air station to the Navy's torpedo testing ground near Pasedena, but—the airplane he boarded took him to the guided missile center at Pt. Mogu, instead.

While he was stranded there, his wife, whom he hadn't seen in a year, arrived here by air.

The Navy sent a friend of Lambert's to meet her, but he got a ticket for speeding enroute.

The Lamberts finally were reunited in an Oakland apartment—but the landlord called police. He complained he hadn't been informed the apartment had been sublet to the couple.

The Lamberts were ordered to get out by today. The strain of it all caused Mrs. Lambert to collapse from nervous exhaustion. She was taken to Oak Knoll Naval hospital.

The chief went to the police station to pay his friend's speeding fine of $5—and returned to find his own car ticketed for illegal parking.

Spraying Plans Are Made Here

Plans for fly and mosquito control on a county-wide basis this year were announced Saturday by city and county officials.

City-owned DDT spraying equipment is to be used, with the county paying the operating expenses in areas outside the city limits, the officials said.

City officials emphasized, however, that the first spraying will be done inside the city, starting probably during the coming week in the Arnett-Benson addition.

Results Are Good

This will be the third summer DDT has been used on a city-wide basis. Results of spraying during the past two summers were highly effective in controlling flies, mosquitoes and other insect pests.

Areas outside the city limits to be sprayed were listed as including the suburbs of Lubbock, Slaton, Idalou, Monroe, Shallowater, Hurlwood and Wolfforth. No definite schedule has been worked out for the use of the spraying machine, officials said, but the dates on which the equipment is to be used in various localities are to be announced in advance.

Cooperation Asked

City health department officials who will operate the equipment appealed to residents of all areas to be visited, both in and outside the city, to clean alleys, livestock and poultry pens and garbage cans, and to dispose of everything that might serve as a breeding place for pests. This cooperation will insure the effectiveness of the control program, officials said.

They explained further that the spraying machine generates a dense fog of DDT which is harmless to life and property, but deadly to almost all types of insect life. If the fog is allowed to penetrate to the interiors of homes health officials added, it usually will kill such vermin as bedbugs.

ON DEAN'S LIST

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 1 (Special) — Jack D. Tippit, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Tippit, 1705 Ave. T, has been named to the Dean's list at Syracuse university's College of Fine Arts for maintaining an academic average of "B" or better during his college year.

Graduate of Lubbock High school, Tippit is a sophomore student of advertising design at the College of Fine Arts.

Vacation Motorists May Find Localized Gasoline Shortages

By MAX B. SKELTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOUSTON, May 1. — Vacation motorists this summer will have to watch their gasoline tanks closely.

Oil industry spokesmen have repeated earlier warnings there may be temporary and localized shortages with individual service stations at times finding their tanks empty.

Predictions of demand and supply all but balance each other but even minor transportation bottlenecks, strikes or changes in government demands could throw the entire picture haywire.

Bigger Use Foreseen

Russell E. Singer, executive vice-president of the American Automobile association, predicts the nation's 31,545,000 passenger car owners this year will need 7.5 percent more gasoline than in 1947.

Eugene Holman, president of Standard Oil company of New Jersey, estimates the industry can meet an increase not exceeding 8 percent.

Singer said American motorists this year will travel 315 billion miles and will want over 21 billion gallons of gasoline. Next year, with gasoline demands 17.6 percent over 1947, it will be 350 billion miles and 22 or 23 billion gallons.

An industry survey of 50 representative cities last week placed the current average sale price of gasoline at 25.78 cents per gallon, including taxes.

This is the highest price since 1921 when the average was 26.31 cents.

Tax Is Increased

The report carefully pointed out, however, that the average gasoline tax over the nation has increased from two tenths cent per gallon to 6.28 cents since 1921.

Continental Oil company last Wednesday a three-tenths of a cent per gallon increase on gasoline, kerosene, tractor fuel, diesel fuel and furnace oils at its bulk stations in Oklahoma, effective Monday.

There was no indication other companies would follow the move immediately.

Production Is Lower

Daily gasoline production for the week ending April 24 was reported by American Petroleum institute as 16,515,000 gallons, 73,000 below the previous week.

Crude runs to stills dropped 4,000 barrels daily to 5,517,000.

Crude production, however, established its second all-time high within two weeks, reaching 5,415,400 barrels daily as compared with 5,390,650 for the week of April 17 and 4,929,900 a year ago.

The supply and demand committee of the Independent Petroleum association of America last week said demand forecasts show crude oil production over the nation must be increased 150,000 barrels daily by late summer.

Tidelands Notes

Tidelands:

State Senator George Moffett of Chillicothe, Tex., says proponents of state ownership of submerged tidelands are talking too much about royalties and not enough about taxation.

He says Texas, on the basis of estimates of 10,000,000,000 barrels in oil reserves being beneath waters adjacent to the Texas coast, stands to gain more than a billion dollars in taxes.

The senator points out that royalty income goes into the state's permanent school fund while three fourths of oil tax receipts are earmarked for the general fund.

Meanwhile, Texas land Commissioner Bascom Giles has announced bids for a mineral lease sale on an additional 160,314 acres of submerged lands will be accepted by the state school land board June 1.

In Washington a senate committee on Tuesday is to begin additional hearings on outright state ownership proposals.

State Oil Notes

State notes:

Louisiana drilling permits since the first was issued in 1934 have passed the 28,000 mark.

Pipe is being delivered for a line from the Rangely field in northwestern Colorado, to Salt Lake City. Oilmen predict the line's completion will permit production in the field to jump at least 60 percent above its current 35,700 barrels daily.

Texas oil well completions last week totaled 129 to bring the state's producing well total to 107,606. New wells this year total 2,090 (89 wildcats) as compared with 1,603 (73 wildcats) the same period last year.

Oklahoma's corporation commission has set a may crude oil production allowable of 410,000 barrels daily, an increase of 5,000 over April but 10,000 below the Bureau of Mines forecast.

Governor Thomas J. Herbert of Ohio has named a state committee to study possibility of recovering oil and liquid fuel from Ohio shale and low grade coal.

New Fields Indicated

W. M. Vaughey, Mississippji oil man, predicts at least 25 wildcats will be drilled in that state during the last half of 1948.

Two new fields were indicated for Texas last week.

A discovery well 13 miles east of Austin flowed 12 barrels per day at 1608 feet, with pumping operations expected to boost production to 100 barrels.

In Brazoria county a wildcat drilled four miles northeast of the Sandy Point field showed 33.6 gravity pipe line oil and no water during a drill stem test at 9095-9116 feet. The operators estimate the well capable of making from 600 to 800 barrels of crude daily.

U. S. WARSHIPS AT MALTA—The U. S. destroyers S. B. Roberts, C. H. Roan and H. J. Thomas lie in Malta harbor during a visit while escorting aircraft carrier Philippine Sea on a Mediterranean cruise. An ancient lookout post is in center foreground.

ITS A GIRL

CHICAGO (U.P.)—Brookfield Zoo officials can name a new baby hippopotamus now and look forward to an extra $1,000 because of it. The animal was born March 25, but its sex wasn't determined until it left the warm water tank this month. It's a girl. Female hippopotami sell for $4,000, zoo keepers said, while males bring $3,000.

HOSPITALS TO UNITE

BURLINGTON, Vt. (U.P.) — The rural areas of two northern New England states plan to combine their resources for a medical center. Under the plan, regional hospitals in northern New Hampshire and Vermont would send cases requiring specialized care to a central base hospital at Burlington.

Chicago Woman Is Indicted For Using Mails To Defraud

CHICAGO, May 1. (INS) — A federal grand jury in Chicago today indicted a woman with a two-year-high school education for allegedly conducting a mail order course in which she promised to teach clients to become famous writers.

The indictment, returned in Judge Michael Igoe's court charged Mrs. Edith Singleton Wood, 44, a native of Scotland, with using the mails to defraud.

Mrs. Wood was accused to advertising that students could become "famous short story writers for $77," and giving a "money-back" guarantee. J. B. Adams of San Antonio, a complainant, charged that he wrote a story after taking 18 lessons and sent it to him on his style and technique.

Adams said he then sent the story to Rice Institute, which returned it with uncomplimentary criticism.

A warrant was issued for Mrs. Wood's arrest.

Beauty Habit Patterns For Young Girl Should Be Set Early By Her Mother

BY BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

If today's little girls don't grow up to be lovely, fastidious young ladies, you can't blame their Moms. Modern mothers are becoming more conscious than ever that they must set habit patterns for daughter while she is still a baby. Growing girls who do not respond to mother's persuasive glamor treatment may miss the charm boat.

Mother can keep convincing daughter that loveliness pays off if she sets a lively example that beauty is as beauty does. A little tyke mustn't think that mother's true charm is entirely the result of cosmetics. Mother should make up in private and not disillusion her child. She should, however, invite her moppet to the wash basin when she scrubs her face and nails, gives herself a manicure or pedicure.

Especially when she is brushing her hair which is one of the charm tricks little girls can develop early, mother should encourage daughter to perform the ritual with her. There are available in "dolly and me" sets, small hairbrushes for both daughter and her dolly—and a hairbrushing session with dolly, whose hair may show improvement, will convince your little moppet.

Interior Department Advises Against Installing Oil Heat

WASHINGTON, May 1 (U.P.) — The Interior department says no more oil burners should be installed in homes except to replace worn-out equipment.

The department added it might be wise to force householders to use less oil. They should also be encouraged to find a substitute fuel, the department said in a recent report to congress on coal and oil supplies.

Unless measures are taken to expand production of oil and curb its use, the report said, the oil shortage may become "chronic."

STILL IN HARNESS AT 100

DE SOTO, Mo., (U.P.)—Henry M. Roe, 100-year-old lodge care taker who was personal messenger for President Lincoln during the Civil War, claims to be the oldest person on the country's social security benefit rolls. He served during World War II as a messenger in a St. Louis war plant.

TIP-TOP . . . For dolly, Mom and Me.

TOO MUCH COMPETITION

PETOSKEY, Mich. (U.P.)—Basketmaking and other craft by Indians in this region is becoming a vanishing art. There are many imitations and the Indians can't make enough money. Pin and trinket boxes made of birch back, decorated with porcupine quills, bring about $1.25. When finished at prevailing rates and requires about two days work.

Methodist Editor Urges One More Effort To Negotiate For Understanding With Reds

BOSTON, May 1. (AP)—A Methodist editor says "it is not necessary to sacrifice principles in making every effort to avoid conflict with Russia."

The Rev. Dr. Roy I. Smith of Chicago, editor of "The Christian Advocate," official Methodist publication, urged the government last night to make "one more effort" to negotiate with Russia.

He spoke at the third night session of the Methodist General conference.

Mother Would Pray

"I am perfectly sure," he said, "that every American mother whose son would be in uniform would add her prayer to the diplomats' effort to reach an understanding."

He said that lack of American frontiers has been a contributing factor in many of the world's problems.

Dr. Smith criticized "high pressure efforts" to influence Congress in behalf of defense appropriations.

"It is impossible for high officials to give out word of the appearance of 'enemy submarines off the American coast,'" he said, "without the people being alarmed." "Then when it is given out a few days or weeks afterward that the evidence was highly circumstantial it is apt to be buried on the back pages . . ."

More than 200 New England Protestant churches will turn over their pulpits tomorrow to Methodist bishops and delegates attending the great law-making conference.

Several South Plains Residents Attend Big Reunion At Portales

Several South Plains residents attended a reunion at the home of R. B. Taylor of Portales, N. M., former Post resident, April 24-25.

The occasion marked the first time as many members of the Taylor family had been together in 18 years. All 12 children of Taylor were present. Taylor has 25 grandchildren, most of whom were present, and 19 great-grandchildren. Seventy attended.

Sons and daughters and their husbands and wives present included Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bloxum, Post; Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Thomas, Floydada; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Taylor, Post, and Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Taylor, O'Donnell.

ANOTHER MEAN MAN

Morale Among UN Delegates Is At Low Ebb On Palestine Issue

By LARRY HAUCK
Associated Press Staff Writer

LAKE SUCCESS, May 1. (AP)—The Palestine situation has reduced morale among United Nations delegates to its lowest ebb in the 28-month history of the peace agency.

Developments in the Holy Land have produced an atomosphere of frustration and bewilderment. Everyone is conscious that fighting in Palestine is increasing even as so far fruitless debate drones on here in the special assembly, trusteeship council and security council.

Directive Ignored

Palestine was made a U. N. problem last spring when Britain asked the assembly to find a solution. Endless discussion has gone on since then, including another special assembly session now under way. But the U. N. still hasn't been able to come up with a solution acceptable to the Jews and Arabs.

Neither has the U. N. been able to stop the fighting. Three security council cease-fire directives have been ignored.

Delegates now leave the chambers frequently to pick up newspapers with the latest headlines on the turmoil in the Holy Land. Inside the meeting halls most of the debate centers around procedure.

After two weeks of special session, the assembly has approached only one result. The 58 delegations instructed the trusteeship council to devise ways to safeguard Jerusalem. That council got the Jews and Arabs to agree in principle to a cease-fire order covering only the old walled city section of Jerusalem. Now it is not certain that this agreement will be formalized and carried out.

Detracting from even this meager action were remarks of representatives of the Jews and Arabs. They said there was no fighting in the old city anyway.

Persons who have watched the U. N. move through its turbulent days here sense a more serious atmosphere than during days of the sharpest United States-Russian clashes. On those occasions there was at least a feeling that delegates were coming to grips with the issues.

No one is ready to claim that the U. N. now is meeting the challenge offered by the crisis in the Holy Land.

The air of futility was noted as far back as April 16, the opening day of the assembly. Several delegates spoke up then to ask what the assembly was suposed to be doing in its emergency session.

The core of the difficulty centers around two factors; partition and the absence of U. N. enforcement machinery.

Last fall the assembly voted 33 to 13 to split the Holy Land into Jewish and Arab states. The Jews stick by partition; the Arabs bitterly oppose it.

Several weeks ago the United States reversed its position and called for an interim U. N. trusteeship in Palestine. However, no formal trusteeship proposal has been made to the assembly so far by the United States or any other nation. Through this maneuver no test vote has been possible on the retention or scrapping of partition. Instead the assembly is debating a so-called American working paper on trusteeship.

The British insist they are giving up their League of Nations mandate over Palestine May 15. Invariably delegates refer to the chaos that will come then in an unruled country.

But Secretary-General Trygve Lie says he sees no early break in the debating stalemate. It thus appears that delegates still will be talking at Lake Success when May 15 comes.

Researchers Urge Caution In Use Of Chemical Weed Killer

The Texas Extension service, which has kept researchers in close touch with use of the relatively new 2,4-D weed killer, has warned that the plant eradicator will also kill tomatoes, cucumbers, cotton, sweet potatoes, peas, beans, fruit trees, ornamentals, and some field crops, and care is urged in using it, particularly in larger operations.

Last year cotton in several points along the Gulf coast was injured when 2-4-D dust drifted in from nearby rice fields. In many cases, cotton has been planted right along side rice. When the rice is sprayed with 2,4-D the wind carries it on over into the cotton field, badly damaging the cotton plants. Since the esters of this poison evaporate and drift away in the air so easily, they should not be applied close to plants they are likely to kill.

Warning Issued

The chemical 2,4-D should not be stored in buildings where seeds, fertilizers or insecticides are handled because there is a good chance the 2,4-D will ruin it.

A committee of research and extension workers, crop growers and chemical manufacturers appointed by Dr. R. D. Lewis, director of the Texas agricultural experiment station system, has issued the following warnings on the use of 2, 4-D:

1. It is not a good idea to use 2,4-D in the dust form because it may drift several miles onto field crops or gardens.

2. If a good strong wind is blowing, even the spray form is dangerous.

3. Be sure your equipment is in good condition before you start.

4. Use a separate sprayer for 2,4-D; it is hard to thoroughly clean 2,4-D out of a sprayer.

Use Coarse Spray

5. Pressures below 75 pounds per square inch for your ground sprayers, and the nozzles producing coarse sprays are the best.

6. When using planes for spraying, don't get closer than half a mile to susceptible crops downwind. Don't spray when wind is blowing more than three miles per hour.

7. Employ only pilots who know their business .(See No. 6).

8. Esters evaporate quicker than other forms of 2,4-D. These fumes can cause quite a bit of damage, so it's best not to use them.

9. If you can prevent the drifting of sprays, dust and fumes, you will save many of your crops which would otherwise be damaged.

10. Talk it over with your county agent or other men who know about the best times to use 2,4-D. Don't overdose your crops.

Increase In Job Openings Noted

A brighter employment picture that continued an upward trend was contained in the monthly report of the Texas Employment commission office here, announced yesterday by James E. Marshall, manager.

A total of 849 job openings were received by the office during the month (which for purposes of the record closed on April 25). This compared with 772 during March.

683 Workers Placed

Placements (persons verified as having accepted employment on referral by the agency) numbered 663 during April, compared with 640 in March, while the number of contracts by individuals seeking employment dropped to 3,665 from the 3,902 such contacts in March. This represents a sharp decrease from the 5,319 job applicants in February.

A total of 564 new applications for work were accepted during April. Of the 663 placed on jobs during April, 184 were female, and 247 were veterans. An analysis of the report industrially showed that:

147 of the non-agricultural placements were in the construction industry, 183 were in wholesale and retail trades, 111 in private households, 69 in manufacturing, 34 in public utilities, 12 in railroads, 69 in service industries, five in financial establishments, and 19 in government posts.

Weather Aids Trend

The favorable employment trend was attributed by Marshall in part to weather conditions, and to cooperation of those needing workers. He pointed out that more job openings were available during April than a year ago. The upward trend, he said, did not begin last year until June.

Unemployment compensation station claims filed during April numbered 240, of which 123, a little more than half, were by individuals with wage credits in states other than Texas.

Claims for servicemen's readjustment allowances totaled 1,097, of which 359 were for self-employment benefits.

Marshall explained that a large number of those filling in the Lubbock office for unemployment compensation and unemployment benefits reside in areas adjacent to the city.

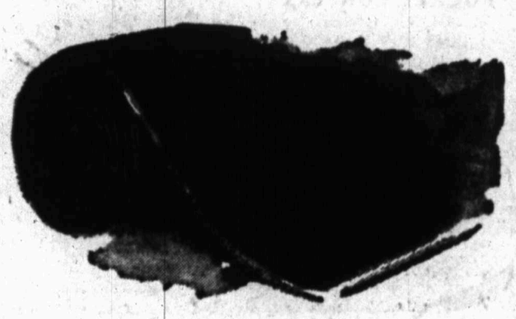

NEW RECORD SET

LOS ANGELES, May 1 (AP)—A Slick Airways cargo plane flew from Burbank, Calif., to Denver in three hours and seven minutes, establishing a new record for that type of craft, the line announced today.

HOME NEEDED

TULSA, Okla., (AP)—A Gold Star mother and her five small children will have a home of their own this summer if an American War Dads campaign succeeds. At present the family is living in a 10 by 10-foot room. Local War Dads hope to collect $1,500 to buy a home for them.

Western Europe Is Encouraged By Terms Of Bogota Conferees

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

The Inter-American conference of Bogota hasn't fulfilled all the hopes which had been built up in advance (what international parley ever does?) but it nevertheless has achieved one far reaching success.

The 21 nations have the satisfaction of knowing that they have contributed greatly to hemispheric political solidarity. And a vital part of this contribution is the expressed determination to prevent infringement of aggressive Communism on the western world.

Importance Emphasized

Time may prove that this was the most important contribution the conference could have made to our generation, coming as it does at a critical juncture in the fight-to-a-finish between Bolshevism and free nations. This battle of the isms is by far the greatest global issue of the day.

It was a whimsical fate which decreed that the conference should be disrupted by the bloody revolution which the Colombian government attributed to Communist influence. The principal item on the agenda had been hemispheric economic cooperation, but the revolt resulted in this being postponed until a later meeting in Buenos Aires, and the Bogota conference concentrated mainly on political solidarity and war against aggressive Communism. The Colombian Reds couldn't have done their cause a greater disservice.

At Opportune Moment

This exhibition of inter-American solidarity, especially against the Bolshevist onslaught comes at an opportune moment to bolster the courage of the western European nations which also have been moving—some of them with extreme caution—for unity against the Red menace. Of course, the European democracies as a whole are waiting for the rainbow of assured American military backing before they go all-out in defiance of Bolshevism, but determination is growing apace.

We have striking evidence of this in yesterday's developments from western Europe. Great Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg announced that they had set up a permanent military organization to defend their recently concluded alliance against attack.

This action was coincident with reports in diplomatic circles in London that the United States and the five nations in the alliance have agreed tentatively on the establishment of a western German government this year. The new nation's economy presumably would be coordinated with that of the rest of western Europe.

Less Red Jubilation

The problem of how far America might go in backing western Europe isn't likely to be settled until the major European powers work out their own strategy of defense. However, Secretary of State Marshall has stated that the question of giving military lend-lease to western Europe is under active consideration. British government officials also say the five-nation alliance has been given informal assurances that U. S. military materiel will be forthcoming once its defense plan is finished.

So this first of May—Communism's annual day of jubilation—finds the Bolshevists with far less to jubilate over, and much more to worry about, than they have had on the anniversaries of recent years. The defenses of Democracy are being consolidated rapidly — and they are formidable.

Long Career In Movies Is Impressive

Loretta Young Acclaimed As Example Of Great Actress

BY LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, May 1—I suppose if Loretta Young had had any idea that she would be chosen the best actress of 1947 and selected to receive the accolade from her fellow players, she wouldn't have been half as thrilled. But when the surprise announcement that she had won the Oscar—completely unexpected to Loretta—came, she sat glued to her seat.

"Get up honey, that's you," her husband, Tom Lewis said.

"No," she answered. "It can't be."

But it was, and Loretta, who celebrated her 20th year in pictures, along with the Academy 20th anniversary, had won the coveted Oscar for the best performance by an actress of the year.

Award Was Surprise

I later accused her of knowing she would be on exhibition—she looked so radiantly beautiful in an Adrian green taffeta gown.

Loretta rushed to the telephone as soon as the Academy ceremony was over, to telephone the good news to her mother, Mrs. Belcher.

"Mother," she shouted. "I won."

"Why, the Oscar," said Loretta.

"Nothing surprises me so much," said Mrs. Belcher. "But I am glad, because Katie in 'Farmer's Daughter' is such a clean, wholesome character, and it proves that people like that sort of picture."

Performance Was Tops

I wondered when Loretta so modestly told me this, if her mother had purposely not let her daughter know how proud she is of Loretta's achievement, because when all has been said and done, the young gal gave a terrific performance as the Swedish Katie in "Farmer's Daughter."

I don't think Loretta has ever done as well in any picture as she did for Dore Schary in "Farmer's Daughter"—and she's had a long list of fine achievements. That is one reason why it is so nice for her to win the academy award. She's been in pictures so long—ever since she was 14. When I say that it sounds as if she were an older woman, but actually, Loretta was just 34 last January.

She made her first picture, "Laugh, Clown, Laugh" in 1928 at First National, and it was Colleen Moore who suggested that she be signed.

"How did you get your name?" I asked Loretta, knowing that she was baptized Gretchen Young.

"Colleen Moore actually gave it to me. She wanted to name me Lorita, after a doll she once had. Lorita was the name of a girl who was abducted by the bandit Gasopillo. First National thought it sounded too foreign, so at Colleen's suggestion, I became Loretta.

Boost Film's Popularity

Producers say that winning an Academy award means a million dollars to any picture. When I interviewed Ginger Rogers after she won the Academy award, she said it meant $1,000,000 to her, because she could pick and choose her roles.

That may not be exactly true of Loretta, who is not under contract to any one studio and can pick her own roles. She is having the most successful career of her life—"The Bishop's Wife," "The Farmer's Daughter"—and I don't know any actress more in demand. When I asked her what made her happiest about the award, she said, "it was because my fellow actors voted me the best. It is that vote of confidence that goes down deep. I am human enough, too, to love knowing Katie was recognized, because I love her better than any character I ever played. But, in my excitement, I hope I am not forgetting Dore Schary, the producer, who asked me to play the part of the servant girl who runs for Congress. I always felt the story was good Americana, and it is what our great country stands for—a chance for everyone."

I think it is indicative of Loretta's character that in spite of all the excitement of the Academy, she went into the retreat which she had planned before she won her Oscar. She is consistent on all things—her religion, her home life, and her career.

Moreover, she is one of our own people, and it is always so nice when an actress who has grown up in the business, wins an Academy award.

When she and Ronald Colman were on a program with me, the day following the Academy presentation, I recalled that 13 years ago they did a preview on "Hollywood Hotel" of "Clive of India" with me. Neither she nor Ronnie were married then, and I thought what a handsome pair they would make. Now both are happily married and good friends, and it was nice to see them standing side by side—two people who are such a credit to this industry.

Soil Erosion In Texas Said Creating Rural Slum Areas

DALLAS, May 1 (AP)—Lack of soil conservation is creating rural slums in Texas, Roger L. Dixon, president of the American Cotton Shippers association, said here yesterday.

"The evil effects of soil erosion are not conditions that will show up in the future—they are here now," Dixon told 800 delegates and guests at the association's convention here.

Officers will be elected today at the group's final session.

AMAZED AT QUICK ACTION OF MERTOX

"For the past ten years I have been troubled with severe gas pains which seemed to press against my heart and made it difficult to breathe. I had a pain under my heart that was almost unbearable at times," writes Mrs. Alma Cummings of Waco.

"My food would not digest and soured on my stomach. I had bad dizzy spells and when these attacks occurred I felt all puffed up. My appetite has greatly improved and I can now eat lots of things that I couldn't eat before taking this wonderful medicine.

"Since taking Mertox I feel like a different person. It certainly is wonderful to get up in the morning and do a day's work, without that tired, worn-out feeling. I certainly was amazed at the quick action of this medicine."

You can get Mertox from any Texas druggist at the new REDUCED price.

RATS TAKE BEATING

OKLAHOMA CITY (U.P.)—Herman Groseclose, city sanitation engineer, reports 43,900 rats have been killed in the city's one and one-half-year-old extermination program. The city surveyed and rat-proofed 1,200 buildings in the downtown area.

Summer School Plans Drafted

Parents and students of the Lubbock public schools will be informed this week of the details for the second annual free summer session to be conducted in the city during summer months. Following the pattern set last summer, when 2,500 students and adults took advantage of free instruction and the use of public school buildings, regular classroom work will be offered during the first six-week period, with the second six-week period being devoted to special activity courses.

The plan followed by the Lubbock schools for the free summer session is an original one instigated by Supt. R. W. Matthews and organized by administrators and teachers of the school. Unless students are taking courses to hasten their completion of their school course, there is no charge for any instruction, with only a small fee for special courses where extra materials are needed.

One Deviation Made

One deviation from the plan followed last year has been announced by Thomas Murray, director of elementary education. The pre-school training for students who will be six years old on or before Sept. 1 will be offered this year during the first semester, May 31 through July 9. All information about this training for pre-school children has been compiled in a letter which all elementary principals will have for parents this week. Parents may call at the school in their school zone to receive this letter, Murray said.

All parents of elementary school children are to receive a letter this week from school principals, outlining the purposes of the summer school and giving advantages. All regular classroom work for elementary school students will be offered between 8 and 10 o'clock each morning, five days per week.

To Give Information

Teachers in Senior High school now have general information and courses to be offered, and will give this information to their students, according to Floyd Honey, principal. No credit work is to be offered during the second meeting.

Special announcements on the classes open to those adults of the community who wish to take advantage of the free instruction will be made next week.

Parents of junior high school students are also to receive an information sheet explaining the summer session.

Henry Morgan's Wife Sues For Separation, Charging Abuse

NEW YORK, May 1 (INS) — The wife of radio funnyman Henry Morgan sued him for separation today, charging that he abused her, taunted her about another woman, and once invited her to commit suicide.

Morgan entered a categorical denial of all the charges and said his wife, Isobel Gibbs Morgan, is "entirely devoid of a sense of humor."

Mrs. Morgan, who wed the comedian Aug. 17, 1946, at Las Vegas, Nev., asked for $750 a month for herself, and $28,000 for the fee and expenses of her attorney.

Farmers Are Given Warning To Control Grasshopper Threat

Grasshoppers have done little damage yet except to young grain sorghum in south Texas, but Paul Gregg, entomologist on the staff of the Texas Extension service warns that "now is the best time to control the hoppers while they are young."

Gregg points out that hoppers have just about finished hatching out, but haven't had time to do extensive damage, and while no widespread plague is indicated, he explains that it costs less to control them in or near their hatching beds, and is easier to kill them while they are young.

He suggests that each farmer examine areas where hoppers hatch out on his farm, and apply control measures while they are young. In counties where hoppers present a problem, county agents have bait material for mixing poisons.

Gregg gives the following list of new insecticides for grasshopper control: BHC (benzene hexachloride), 12 pounds of three per cent gamma per acre; toxaphene, 10 pounds of 20 percent dust per acre; and chlordine or 1068, 15 pounds of 10 percent chlordane per acre.

The cabinet of the first President of the U. S. was composed of the secretaries of state, war treasury and the attorney general.

Most Parents Don't Care What Kind Of Movies Kids Attend

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., May 1 (AP)—Parents generally don't care what type of movies their children attend, sociologists were told by T. H. Kennedy of Washington State college yesterday.

His studies showed, Kennedy said, that: The average school child goes to the movies once every week and a half; 10 per cent of the time he attends "just to be going;" and he generally goes on a school chum's say-so, rather than parental opinion.

Government's Power To Insure Home Loans Temporarily Ended

WASHINGTON, May 1. (AP) — The government's power to insure home loans lapsed today—victim of a hot Senate battle over housing.

Senators on both sides of the scrap agreed the Federal Housing administration's insurance program is certain to be revived, probably next week.

The question still to be answered: how long, at this time, should it be continued?

At Temporary Halt

The Senate's failure to decide that issue yesterday brought the FHA program to a temporary halt last midnight. A spokesman said the agency had notified its field offices to accept no more loan applications until further notice.

The Senate debated for five hours a bill to extend FHA's authority through this month, pending House action on the Taft-Hartley-Wagner long range housing bill designed to spur construction of 15,000,000 new homes by 1958.

The long-range bill, already passed by the Senate, would continue the FHA program through next March.

Senator Cain (R-Wash) tried to get action yesterday on his amendment to bring the stopgap bill into line with the long term insurance extension of the T-E-W measure.

Taft Asks Delay

He failed after Senator Taft (R-Ohio) sent a message to the Senate from his home state asking a delay on the stopgap bill at least until Monday. Taft is campaigning in Ohio for the Republican presidential nomination.

He and other backers of the T-E-W bill fear that if the insurance program is extended through next March—as the House already has voted in a separate bill—the House banking committee might pigeon-hole the long range housing measure, as it did two years ago.

Since Taft and other leaders of the fight for the T-E-W bill were absent from the Senate yesterday, their colleagues fought to put off a showdown vote until next week. Their strategy is to tack the T-E-V measure onto the House FHA extension bill, if the House banking committee balks again. That would force a House vote on the long-range housing bill.

Sabotage Is Charged

Senators Lucas (D-Ill), Myers (D-Pa) and Ives (R-NY) all charged that Cain was trying to "sabotage" the T-E-W program. Cain denied that. He said there was no point to a one month extension when both branches of Congress already have voted to continue the insurance program into next year.

The Washington senator said he has conferred with House Republican Leaders Martin (Mass), Halleck (Ind) and Wolcott (Mich) and that they are in favor of the longer FHA extension. Wolcott and Halleck spent part of the afternoon on the Senate floor, listening to the debate.

Man To Give Own Oration At Funeral In Strange Burial Pact

FORT WORTH, May 1 (AP)—A strange burial contract in which a retired bookkeeper arranged to deliver his own funeral oration by recording was brought to light with the death here today of George Stevens, 75.

According to terms of the contract, which Stephens signed Feb. 1, 1944 with Harverson and Cole Funeral home, a record containing Stephen's farewell to the world will be played at his services.

The contract will be fulfilled at 3 p. m. Sunday when funeral home attendants release the recorded disc on a turntable in the Harverson-Cole chapel.

Also to be fulfilled is another provision of the contract—that Stephens' body be turned over to the University of Texas medical school at Galveston for scientific use.

Stephens was a native of Kansas City, Mo., where he worked for the Union Pacific railroad and later became a roofing contractor before moving to Fort Worth 27 years ago.

He is survived by a sister-in-law, Mrs. E. S. Stephens of Forest City, Ark.

H. N. Roberts To Assist In Codifying Texas Water Laws

Harry N. Roberts, Lubbock consulting engineer, will attend a conference of the water laws committee of the Texas Water Conservation association in Houston Saturday.

Roberts, a member of the association's board of directors, will assist in codifying all Texas laws for surface water and proposed laws for underground water, for submission to the next session of the Texas legislature.

He will be accompanied by Mrs. Roberts.

NEW IMPROVED WAYS
To Clean, Protect and Prolong the Life of Your FUR COAT

The cold, fresh air of our modern vault will keep your fur coat in perfect condition. Not only is our vault kept at the correct cold temperature, but the humidity is regulated so that it is exactly right for furs. Excessive dryness, such as is produced in your household refrigerator, would dry the natural oils from your furs. In our vault the humidity is correct to maintain the original lustre and beauty of your coat. The dampness of some humidity often causes mold and mildew to grow in furs of beautiful coats. Here there is no dampness to wilt your coat, no chance for mildew to harm it.

Every fur and woolen garment is fumigated before being placed in our vault. This process also destroys moth eggs so that when your coat is delivered from our refrigerated storage vault it is as sterile as it is beautiful.

Let us clean your coat, too, by our polarized method employing the finest of cleaning equipment, then, in the fall we can deliver to you promptly on the first cold day, glazed beautifully with all the lustre that nature gave the wild animal that first wore the fur.

Three Issues Faced In Armed Forces Bills Before Congress

BY JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 1 — This brings you up to date if you're puzzled by all the mix-up in Congress over the armed forces.

There are three main points:

1. Making the Air Force bigger.
2. Drafting men for military service.
3. Compelling youths to take military training.

None of the three is settled yet.

Take the Air Force first—

The House already has approved expanding the Air Force from its present strength of 55 groups to 70.

Senate Ready

The Senate is ready to vote on the same plan, possibly next week. So this No. 1 point is nearer being finished than the other two.

(A group can be any number of planes, depending on size. A group of big bombers has fewer planes than a group of fighters.)

Secretary of Defense Forrestal first told Congress we needed only 55 groups. But when Congress talked of 70 he raised his figure to 66.

Secretary for Air Symington right along has said we needed 70 groups, though he says he does not disagree with Forrestal. It looks like Congress will approve 70 groups.

Now take the draft—

Draft Discussed

Congress is thinking of drafting men 19 through 25. So far, it's only thinking. There's no draft law yet, although six weeks ago President Truman asked for such a law to build up the armed forces.

Congress' two armed services committees—one in the House, one in the Senate—are working on separate draft bills.

When they've finished, they'll send their bills up to the full House and Senate for a vote.

There may be a lot of wrangling over those bills and they may be changed before House and Senate are through with them.

All that will take time.

Now take universal military training—

Months ago the House armed services committee finished a bill for universal military training (UMT).

That bill is all ready for a House vote. But it's been held up in the rules committee. If the full House ever acts, it may change the bill.

At any rate, this is what that UMT bill would do as it now stands:

Compel youths 18 to 20 to take six months military training in camp or on ship.

(They would not be part of the armed forces and could not be used by them except by special act of Congress).

After their six months' training, they could do this:

1. Take another six months of it and, after that, be free of such training.
2. Join the armed forces and, after serving out their enlistment, be free of further training.
3. Go back to civilian life but, for three or four years, contniue to take part-time training at school or in some reserve outfit like the National Guard.

The Senate bill—as it stands now, although it's not finished—would do this:

Compel youths of 18 and 29 to take military training in the armed forces, along with draftees. But these youths could not be used overseas except by special act of Congress.

The Senate committee is wrapping up its ideas on the draft and UMT in one bill.

The House committee is handling the two things separately. It's still working on its draft bill. Its UMT bill, as explained above, was finished months ago.

No one can predict right now what Congress finally will do about UMT or the draft. Congress is split wide open in its thinking on UMT.

UNHAPPY MODEL—Little Deborak Short, one and a half years old, of Phillips, Tex., voices her displeasure at modeling her ensemble before mothers at a tea and children's fashion show in Borger. "Debbie" is getting little consolation from her "big" brother, Douglas, 4, who is not perturbed in the least by the proceedings.

Chicago University Has An Explanation For 'Objects'

CHICAGO, May 1 (INS)—Any strange serial objects residents of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan may see within the next few days will not be phenomena.

They will be balloons released by the University of Chicago which are either on their way up or down from the stratosphere.

The balloons, weighing around 50 pounds because of the apparatus they carry, contain cosmic ray detection instruments.

The ascend at about the rate of 1,000 feet a minute.

CISCO WOMAN CLAIMED

ABILENE, May 1. (AP) — Mrs. W. P. Ledbetter, 66, mother of 11 children, died at her home in Cisco, today. Surviving children are Mrs. M. T. Rierson, Breckenridge; Mrs. Henry Andrews, Stamford; Mrs. Roy Speegle, Cisco; Mrs. Jack Shoddy, Iraan; Homer and Jack Ledbetter of Cisco; William and John of Abilene, Hubert and Ralph of Fort Worth, and W. P. jr., of Sweetwater.

BABIES ALL CAESARIAN

BOSTON (U.P.)—Mrs. Edward Madden of Dorchester is the mother of seven children ranging from one to 11 years, all born by Caesarian section.

IF YOU CAN'T GAIN WEIGHT

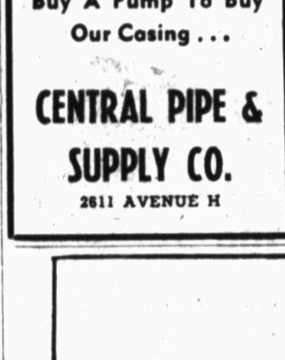

Read These Facts

●If you are skinny, thin, underweight, due to no organic cause, here are facts you should know.

To help you gain weight—nature usually requires two things. One—a good hearty appetite. Second—better digestion to change food into flesh. Thousands who recognize these basic medical facts have tried a great medicine—developed by a doctor—often with amazing results.

It's Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Instantly you take it, it starts its wonderful tonic action. First, makes you really want to eat. Second, taken for a time, it helps you get more good out of food . . . helps turn it into pounds of added flesh. Post Stampede Set May 20-23

POST, May 1 (Special) — The 1948 Post Stampede and rodeo will be conducted May 20-23, inclusive, a committee named by directors of Post Stampede and Rodeo association has decided.

Phil Bouchier has been elected rodeo manager by directors to succeed Embry Williams, manager for several years who resigned recently. Bouchier formerly had served as the association's first rodeo manager.

Decided On Change

The association's directors had decided last Monday to change dates and had appointed a committee to determine when rodeo stock, clown and announcer would be available and set the date.

The committee had the choice of having the rodeo the third week in May or postponing it until August.

The decision to change dates was made to avoid conflict with dates of the Boys' club rodeo in Lubbock.

The committee which set the new rodeo dates has determined that Bill Lyons rodeo stock will be available; Lewis Blair, widely known rodeo clown, will appear on the changed dates, and that Red Wedgeworth of Pampa can serve as rodeo announcer.

The advertising committee is planning to charter two buses for booster trips.

To Construct Pavilion

Breaking and leveling of ground preparatory to construction of a dance pavillion near the rodeo grounds were started Thursday. The pavilion is to be completed in time for use May 8, when a free dance open to the public will be conducted, Homer McCrary association secretary, has announced. Purpose will be to advertise the rodeo. Members of the dance committee are James Minor, chairman, Sheldon Land and Marshall Gibson.

Another free dance is to be given Saturday night, May 15, and a third on Wednesday night. May 19.

Dances are to follow the rodeo performances May 20, 21 and 22, Thursday through Saturday nights

Mineral Lease Auction Sale On West Texas Land Is Set

AUSTIN, May 1 (AP)—A mineral lease auction sale on 41,539 acres of University of Texas lands in eight West Texas counties will be held June 18.

The sale was announced by Bascom Giles, commissioner of the general land office of Texas and chairman of the university lease board.

Annual rental was raised to $1 per acre by unanimous agreement of the board. Rental previously was 50 cents per acre.

SHE'S 'SORRY' SHE SHOT HIM—Mrs. Justin Devereaux told police she shot and critically wounded Emory T. Ransom in an Atlanta, Ga., hotel room. Ransom, 38-year-old steelworker, is near death with three bullet wounds. "I'm sorry I shot him," Mrs. Devereaux said. "I lost my head. He said he'd marry me and then backed out." Here she's questioned by Detective Ben Lyons.

Poverty Doesn't Bother Black Hill Poet In His Lonely Life

BY HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

CUSTER, S. D., May 1—Badger Clark, a bearded poet-philosopher of the Black hills, has never let love, mankind or money stand between him and his life's aim—a quiet quest for God.

"I don't suppose any man in the state has a smaller income than I do—or worries about it less," remarked South Dakota's official poet laureate—a title that costs the taxpayers nothing as he gets no pay.

Colorful Character

"The badger" is a tall, distinguished man with a Van Dyke beard who wears a flowing green necktie, forest green jacket, whipcord breeches, and polished riding boots. For 25 years he has lived alone and liked it in a "cabin with four rooms and a path" he largely built himself in the Custer state park. He pays $10 a year ground rent and hasn't held a steady job for 43 years—since he was 22.

"I escaped early," he smiled. He told me of his semi-hermit life as we lounged in the state game lodge, Calvin Coolidge's summer white house in 1927, after dining on tender but rough-grained Buffalo steaks.

His cabin is known as "Badger Hole," and he has the neighbors he wants—Buffalo, deer and birds. He feeds all he can with his small income.

Writes Profusely

"The birds make a cloud about my head when I step outside," he said.

Badger has written some 200 poems and 30 short stories. He is a kind of western-style Rudyard Kipling and at least two of his "verses"—as he prefers to call them — have become national anthology favorites. They are "the job" and "The Cowboy's Prayer."

His books have brought him little money, however, and for many years he said he had been earning his way "by my jaw." By this he meant the speeches he makes to banquets, women's clubs, and high school and college groups. He doesn't seek out these engagements. People come to him.

Life Is Simple

"I've shucked off the things I don't need," he said. "I believe that by reducing life to its simple terms you get more out of it. Its like chewing a crust of dry bread. A hungry man finds in it all the flavor he needs.

"I believe with thoreau that a man is rich in proportion to the number of things he can afford to let alone.

"I can live on $500 a year comfortably today—even on $400. I can't stand to be in debt and won't be. If I want something and can't pay for it, I do without it until I can. The only thing I have against poverty is that I can't afford all the wonderful books I'd like to have."

Col. Jack Major To Talk At Knife And Fork Club In City

Colonel Jack Major, "the man who makes people laugh," will speak on "Taxes, Women and Hogs" at the last Knife and Fork club meeting of the 1947-48 season. The meeting will be held in Hotel Lubbock at 7 p. m. Wednesday.

Major has had a long and widely varied career as a traveler and comedian. A native of Paducah, Ky., the colonel toured the nation from 1928-34 as a singer-comedian, and in 1936 broke all records for sponsored programs. He did five per week on the Mutual network as "The Friendly Neighbor," one per week on the CBS chain and one on the National Broadcasting network.

During the war Colonel Major was called to aid in entertaining soldiers, and he traveled widely in the South Pacific area as a singer and comedian.

Today he lectures during the fall, winter and spring months, and spends the summer on his farm near Paducah, where he specialies in raising hogs, which he converts into hickory smoked hams and sausage.

Knife and Fork club meetings will be resumed again in September with the opening of the 1948-1949 program season.

What Does PUBLIC SERVICE Mean?

Careful Always

The men who drive the trucks for your Public Service Company are on the streets and highways day and night... there are a lot of miles to be covered in supplying electric service to the folks in the great Panhandle-Plains Pecos Valley area.

But they're never too busy to be careful. The safety driving record of our men is one of the best in the entire country. It's part of their job to be careful always. It's part of their "Public Service" to you.

Senior High School To Comply With Committee's Suggestions

Teachers and students of Lubbock Senior High school, along with members of the Board of Trustees, will begin this week to comply with recommendations resulting from the evaluation of Senior High school completed last week by a visiting committee of thirteen educators.

The report of the visiting committee fell into two parts, commendations of the work being done in senior high, and recommendations for improvements. Dr. Hob Gray of the department of education at the University of Texas was very complimentary to the student body, teachers, and the community as a whole, as well as the work of the local committee of teachers in analyzing their problems and objectives with suggested procedures for improvement.

Recommendations Made

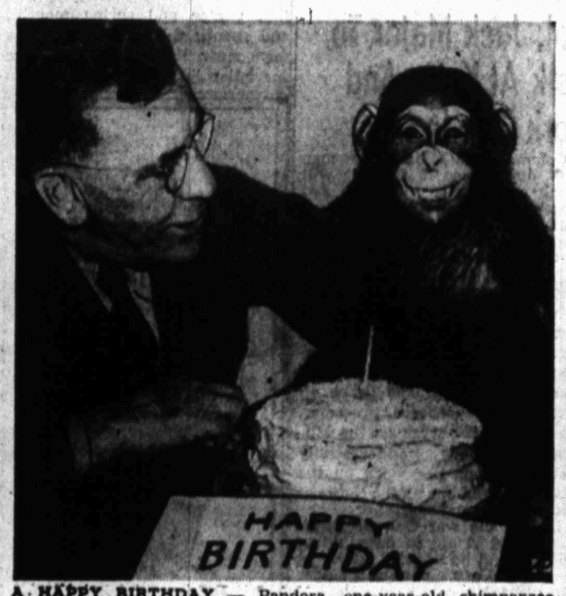

Briefly, recommendations meaningful to the community were as follows: library, school library should be excellent since there is no city library for students, $1 per year per pupil should be provided to purchase and repair books, conference and work rooms and a browsing room for teachers should be provided; guidance, make more materials available to both students and teachers, develop an in-service training program for teachers, provide additional personnel, and study the accumulative-record system; pupil activity, provide more space for social and physical activities for students, improve the pupil activity record system. Pupil activity in Senior High school was highly commended, but the committee recommended that parents avail themselves of opportunities to enjoy and experience pupil activities more.

Curriculum, whereas the present curriculum is geared for college preparation, a study should be made to offer more work for those students who will not attend college, provide more industrial arts, agriculture and fine arts, curriculum should make more use of community resources, and a physical examination should be provided for all pupils; staff, salary schedule in Lubbock is good, but is below the national average, full credit should be given for years of teaching outside of the Lubbock schools, with the exception of physical education the classes are not too large; instruction, teaching in Senior High is superior with an excellent teacher-pupil atmosphere, physical setting of some classes might be improved; school plant, some lighting and heating should be improved, plant maintenance could be improved, more attention to fire protection and a fire-proof vault for records provided.

Floyd Honey, principal of Senior High school, pointed out that many of the recommendations cover such things as more space for various activities, which are in the process of being remedied with the additions to the school building as well as improvement of lighting and heating conditions.

Teachers of Senior High school and board members were present at the meeting on Wednesday afternoon when the final evaluation report was made. Superintendent R. W. Matthews introduced the following board members: William Evans, G. C. Dowell, Brownie Hamilton, Clyde Tatum and Glenn Woody. Matthews told teachers that Lubbock now has the youngest school board in Texas.

Dr. Gray, who acted as coordinator-general for the visiting committee, explained that this was the final phase of an evaluation which has taken two years to complete, and complimented the splendid work of the local faculty in complying with recently adopted requirements of the Southern Association of High Schools and Colleges as well as providing an in-service training program which had as its purpose studying the school with the view to improving learning conditions.

Klondike Kate Sues Program For $50,000 On Broadcast

LOS ANGELES, May 1 (INS)—Kate Rockwell Van Duren, known for 50 years as Klondike Kate, sued for $50,000 today for reference to her as a gambler's daughter on the "Fibber McGee and Molly" radio program last February 17.

The famous figure of the Klondike gold rush charged that her privacy was invaded and that she was exposed to public ridicule, causing her 'grievous mental and physical suffering and anguish."

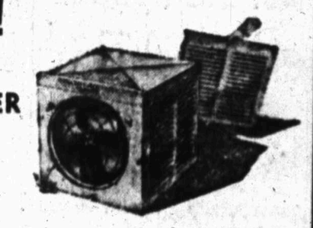

Defendants in the action are the National Broadcasting company Radio Station KFI, the program's agency and sponsor and its announcer, Harlow Wilcox.

Planting Vegetable Crops In Succession Yields Big Return

Succession vegetable crops were emphasized by George Elle, assistant professor of horticulture at Texas Technological college, in information given on gardening.

"Too many people think their gardening is already over. Actually, it is just begun," said Elle, who is the faculty member in charge of vegetable gardening.

Short season crops should be planted one after another, giving the family fresh vegetables throughout the growing season, he said.

Repeat Crops Listed

Some of the crops which can be planted twice and sometimes three or four times are carrots, kohlrabi, mustard, onions, peas radishes, spinach, turnips, beets, lettuce, Irish potatoes, celtuce, parsnip, sweet corn and black-eyed peas.

He suggested planning of crops to succeed one another and gave a students kitchen garden plan as example. The plan listed planting of English peas on March 1, planting of onions July 15 in one row; planting of carrots March 1 and planting lettuce Aug. 1 in another; planting of lettuce March 1 and planting of onions July 15, in another. The plan calls for planting of different vegetables over and over, not necessarily in the same row but preferably in another row so that the second crop will be ready for use by the time the first is used.

Alternate System Explained

Sometimes the successive planting may be planned, so that a leafy crop is alternated with a root crop. The leafy crop usually produces earlier than root crops. The leafy crop might be planted first, followed by a longer maturing root crop, or the root crop first, to be followed by a leafy crop He listed as example the planting of carrots on a row in the spring, followed by the planting of mustard or other leafy crop, so that both would have time to mature. Mustard would grow right on into cool weather, he said.

"In planting student gardens, we have the boys plan three or four plantings," said Elle. Three are planned for sweet corn—in March, May and July.

Suggestions For Care

In discussing present activities of the vegetable gardner, Elle mentioned care of vegetables planted early; planning for early May planting of tender crops best planted at that time; thinking in terms of successive planting, and thinking in terms of a fall garden.

"At present, what we call 'cool season' crops should already be planted," he said. Those include peas, lettuce, mustard, spinach, turnips, Irish potatoes and onions.

This is the beginning of the period for planting of "tender crops" —so-called because they are tender to frost and most will not grow unless the temperature is high, he pointed out. "You can't plant watermelon in April and do any good," he said in citing an example. Vegetable crops which may b planted from the first to the middle of May include tomatoes, pepper, egg plant, melons, cucumbers, squash, okra, beans (lima, snap, crowders and black-eyed). Time for planting sweet potatoes will be soon.

In referring to successive planting of some of the crops that already have been planted once, Elle said that not only gives longer use of those vegetables, but makes for greater use of a small plot in that one vegetable is planted as soon as the previous crop is harvested.

Fall Gardens Thrive

Emphasizing fall gardens, he said that crops already planted can be planted again in late summer for fall gardens. "You can plant everything for a fall crop that you can for a spring crop. In some cases, crops do much better in the fall than in spring." He suggested late July and early August planting for a fall garden.

Gardening may be extended over a long period, he reminded. Students sometimes are hard to convince that time for planting of early crops may be during cold February or March days, perhaps just after a snow, he said. When they look out of the classroom and see snow on the ground, they find it hard to believe it is vegetable planting time, said the faculty member. They have excellent yields from early crops, including radishes, mustard greens, spinach greens and English peas, however, he said.

Asparagus Good Crop

Lubbock residents sometimes visit the college after becoming interested in asparagus planting. Learning that early February or possibly late fall are suggested times for planting, they sometimes lose interest. Asparagus should be planted at least by the first or middle of March, said Elle. "Asparagus is an excellent crop," he said.

In connection with irrigation, Elle said it is a mistake to merely sprinkle the surface of a garden with a sprinkler or nozzle. Farmers have the right idea in turning well water into garden rows, he said. Gardens should be irrigated, either by water turned into the rows, or thoroughly with a sprinkler, he said. When only the surface is watered, the moisture evaporates quickly, he said. He suggested that gardeners soak the ground, letting the water go down where it doesn't evaporate and so that it encourages deep roots.

Chop Shallow

In response to question on keeping weeds out, he suggested mere scraping of the surface rather than deep chopping, so that roots of the vegetables will not be disturbed. Weeds may be pulled by hand so as to disturb the ground as little as possible. Vegetable roots are shallow, he reminded.

"The main reason for cultivation is to keep out the weeds", he said. Sometimes when the surface becomes hardened after watering, it may be necessary to break the surface with a rake, he said.

LOOKING OVER GARDEN—Watching growing things is fun—especially when they will be ready to eat before long. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Minshew, residents of Veterans Village, look at their onion plants. Peas, radishes, carrots, opions and beans already are above the ground and other vegetables they have planted are not yet up. Residents of the village often may be seen working in their gardens. About 125 plots have been assigned by the Housing authority to residents of the village who have requested them. Minshew is a senior in Texas Technological college and Mrs. Minshew works in the college book store.—(Staff Photo.)

Mother Fined $100 For Holding Child's Hand Over Open Flame

CHICAGO, May 1 (INS)—Mrs. Florence Manganiella, 26, of Chicago, was fined $100 today when she was convicted of cruelty to a child.

The young mother told Judge John J. Sullivan she was "just trying to scare" her 3-year-old son, Louis, jr., when she held the boy's hand over a lighted gas jet

Widow Receives 40 Proposals Since Naming "Walking Man"

CHICAGO, May 1 (INS)—Mrs. Florence Hubbard, 69, Chicago widow, said today that she has received 40 marriage proposals by mail and threw them all away since she named Jack Benny as the "walking man" last March 6.

Mrs. Hubbard said she has kept only a sewing machine of the $22,500 in prizes she won in the radio contest, taking cash in lieu of the others.

She said her employer, Carson, Pirie Scott and Co., is handling her funds. She plans to return to her job as a clerk in the department store Monday.

Chicago Apartments Still Hard To Find

CHICAGO, May 1. (AP)—Anyone having an apartment for rent in Chicago can trade it for free dentistry for life.

Or, if he prefers, he can choose from among a refrigerator, television set, complete bathroom fixtures, an automatic ironer, washing machine, free voice and piano lessons for a year, a mink coat for the cost of the skins, federal tax advice, contract lenses, an outboard motor, $500 worth of decorating or any make new car at ceiling price.

Before the war, the May day shift of Chicago families generally included about 20 per cent of all apartment building occupants.

But this year, one of the city's largest apartment management companies estimated that 97 per cent of its several thousand tenants have signed leases for a 15 per cent increase and plan to remain immovable, at least until next January 1.

Census Will Decide Which Of Two U. S. Cities Is Larger

LOS ANGELES, May 1. (AP)—Looks like Los Angeles and Philadelphia will just have to wait until the 1950 census to settle their discussion on which is the whoppingest city.

Chickenpox Epidemic In Texas Reaches High, Dr. Cox Warns

AUSTIN, May 1 (U.P.) — Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, revealed today that the number of chickenpox cases are 100 per cent above the seven year average and warned that even the mildest cases should receive prompt attention and isolation.

"Some of the most serious outbreaks of chickenpox," he said, "have been traced to mild cases —that is, cases so light that the doctor was not called. In some instances the children have continued to go to school and to associate . . . with other children."

In those cases, he said, the germs were scattered among the young patient's schoolmates.

Cox urged that "strict isolation of chickenpox patients is the only means by which the spread can be controlled, and the parents should cooperate fully in isolating a child as long as the doctor thinks it adviseable."

The United States is losing the equivalent of 500,000 acres of topsoil a year due to erosion.

The CHIROPRACTOR—and You

FEMALE TROUBLE and HIGHLY NERVOUS

Case No. 1802; Lady; Age 41; Case History and Symptoms: Had nerve trouble and would become highly nervous almost to the stage of hysteria; Colds in the head almost constantly. Frequently attacks of earache; Prolapses or dropping of female organs making almost impossible to work. All of these symtoms had been developing for the last 25 years more or less. There was also an uncomfortable sensation at the base of her brain. This case came to the Stephens Chiropractic Clinic for an examination. Her nerves were tested first with the Neurocalometer, a nerve meter that registers the amount of nerve interference in the spine. It was very surprising to see the severe amount of nerve interference in the region of the atlas vertebra at the base of her brain. X-Ray pictures were made of her spine which revealed the abnormal position of the atlas vertebra, being out of alignment with the skull above and the axis or second vertebra in the neck below, which was causing her severe nerve condition. Also, her spine was distorted in two other places; one in the middle dorsal or back region and in the lower region. After a few months of scientific chiropractic service to replace the vertebrae in her spine back to a normal position; thusly, releasing the nerve interference in her spine and re-establishing and regrowing her abnormal condition. You should see and hear this case praise chiropractic from the house-tops, as it were, how much benefit she has received. It would do your heart good to come to the Stephens Chiropractic Clinic and not only see and hear this case tell about her wonderful results but see other cases that have been greatly benefited as well.

Location For 12,000-Foot Wildcat In Northwest Terry To Test For Ellenberger Features South Plains Oil Activities

LOCATIONS were reported during the past week for a deep wildcat in northeast Terry county, to drill to at least 12,000 feet to try to locate and test the Ellenburger, and for a 5,500-foot venture in southwest Cochron county to explore for production in the San Andres-Permian line.

Both those projects are to be drilled by Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware. Active operations have already started at both drillsites.

New Discovery In Hale

A new discovery in southeast Hale county, about four miles northeast of Petersburg has been officially completed as a pumping oil well and the opener of a new producing area.

The new wildcats are:

Seaboard No. 1 E. M. Hinson, will be 1,320 feet from north and west lines of the northwest quarter of section 91, block 4-X, EL&RR survey.

It is about nine and one half miles northeast of Brownfield. The venture is contracted to go to 12,000 feet — if necessary, to test the Ellenburger. At the end of the week it was building derrick and moving in rotary tools. Drilling will start early in the week.

To Test For San Andres

Seaboard No. 1 F. O. Masten, in southwest Cochran county, and 14 miles southeast of Bledsoe, is contracted to drill to 5,500 feet — unless the San Andres is tested before that point is reached by the drill. It will be 660 feet from north and west lines of labor 18, league 152, Randall county school lands.

That puts the venture four and one half miles west of a small discovery made several weeks ago at The Atlantic Refining company No. 1 Masten, and the same distance south of the Cities Service Oil company No. 1-C Masten, in the southwest corner of labor 19, league 150, Randall county school lands, which had reached 4,670 feet in shale, and was drilling ahead at the end of the week.

Byrd Make 118 Barrels

General American Oil Company No. 1 A. F. Byrd, about four miles north and east of Petersburg, in southeast Hale county, and 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 17, block K, TTRR survey, has been officially completed for a 24-hour pumping potential of 118.3 barrels of 40.5 gravity oil, plus 52.2 per cent water, from pay above plugged back total depth of 5,902 feet, in a Pennsylvania lime, believed by most geologists to be the Cisco formation. Gas-oil ratio of the well was 305-1. The pay section had been treated with a total of 7,500 gallons of acid, prior to the time the potential test was taken. The well is now on production.

Active operations have started at four stepouts from the Byrd discovery. Two of them are in southeast Hale county, and the other two are in southwest Floyd county

Other Tests In Area

General American No. 2 Byrd, one half mile west of the new discovery, and 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 17, block K, TTRR survey, had reached 3,293 feet in lime, and was drilling ahead.

Lario Oil & Gas company, (was carried as General American), No 1 Bob Mayo, one half mile southeast of the No. 1 Byrd, and 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 18, block K, TTRR survey, had spudded to 420 feet in shale, and had cemented 10¾ inch surface casing at that point. It is to drill the plug and start making new hole by the first of the week.

May Go To 8,200 Feet

In the southwest Floyd county sector, adjacent to the new field opener, H. E. Chiles, jr., (was carried as General American), No. 1 Strickler, (Crump), 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 19, block K, TTRR survey, and another flanker to the Byrd producer, had reached 1,729 feet in red shale and salt, and was drilling ahead. This prospector is drilling under a permit from the Railroad Commission of Texas, to go to a possible destination of 8,200 feet —which should take it to granite

Bob Donnell, (was carried as General American), No. 1 Carmichael, three-quarters of a mile east of the General American discovery, and 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of lease, in section 18, block K, TTFF survey, had drilled to 2,740 feet in anhydrite, and was making more hole after having drilled the plug on a string of 8⅝-inch intermediate pipe which had been cemented at that point.

Cochran Test Abandoned

Ralph Lowe No. 1 Wright, nine miles southwest of Whiteface, in southeast Cochran county, and 440 feet from south and west lines of labor 25, league 95, Mills County School Lands, has been plugged and abandoned as a dry hole.

It drilled to a total depth of 5,035 feet, and had a little water. The hole was plugged back to 5,015 feet and the section above that point was shot with 225 quarts of nitro glycerin. After the project had been cleaned out, operator swabbed it dry and did not develop any signs of oil or gas.

Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation No. 1 Ford Hawkins, central Cochran county wildcat, 440 feet from south and east lines of tract 17, sub-division 2, of league 131, Carson county school lands, was still bottomed at 4,956 feet in lime, and was testing after acid. This development has shown for some sort of production, and it is due to be completed as an oil well in the near future.

Develops Salt Water

DeKalb Agricultural Association Inc., No. 1 Ted Gray, one mile north of the Yellowhouse field, in northwest Hockley county, and 440 feet from south and west lines of labor 2, league 705, State Capital Lands, was on a total depth of 4,580 feet in lime, and was testing after acid. So far it has reported having developed only salt water in all sections of the San Andres lime, which it has investigated.

Honolulu Oil Corporation No. 1-12 Ellwood, three and one half miles north of Smyer, in East-central Hockley county, and in the northwest corner of section 13, block A, R. M. Thompson survey, had drilled to 5,756 feet in dry lime, and was making more hole.

No Signs Encountered

Honolulu and Signal Oil & Gas Company No. 1-24 Ellwood, four miles north of Ropesville, in southeast Hockley county, and in the northwest corner of labor 24, league 5, Wilbarger county school lands, was drilling ahead below 6,256 feet in lime. It has not reported having encountered any signs of possible production.

Bankline Oil Company No. 1 F. L. Butler, Southeast Terry County venture to 5,100 feet, in northwest corner of section 12, block c-39, psl survey, had progressed under 4,786 feet in dry lime, and was going ahead.

Shut Down For Orders

Fikes and Murchison No. 17-C Elliott, southwest Yoakum county wildcat to test the lower Permian, on the southwest side of the Wasson 5100 field, and in southeast quarter of section 832, block D. John H. Gibson survey, was bottomed at 7,510 feet, in dry lime, and at the end of the week was shutdown for orders. It had not been credited with having logged any signs of petroleum in any zone it had drilled through.

White Eagle Oil Company No. 1 Waters, ten miles east of Seagraves, in north-central Gaines county, and in the northwest quarter of section 8, block C-32, psl survey, had reached 5,445 feet in lime and also shutdown for orders.

Swabs Salt Water

It ran a one hour drillstem test at 5,315-5,445 feet. Recovery was 940 feet of salty, sulphur water. No shows of oil or gas were developed.

The Atlantic Refining Company No. 1-A J. O. Jones, one and one half miles southwest of the Adair field, in north-central Gaines county, and in the northwest corner of section 6, block C-31, psl survey, had treated the section at 4,840-87 feet with 4,000 gallons of acid, and had swabbed 100 per cent salt water. The exploration was shutdown, at the end of the week.

The Atlantic Refining Company No. 1 G. H. McDonald, three miles east of Seminole, in central Gaines county, and in the northwest corner of section 128, block G, WTRR survey, was bottomed at 5,450 feet in lime, and was shutdown, for further orders. It had not reported having logged any possibilities of production of any sort.

Progress In Other Tests

Union Oil Company of California No. 1 Weltner, in central-west Gaines, and in the southwest quarter of section 16, block A-12, psl survey, was making hole below 4,162 feet in lime.

The Texas Company, et al, No. 1 Jenkins, in extreme southwest Gaines county, and in southwest corner of section 4, block A-25, psl survey, had reached 8,687 feet in dry lime, and was boring ahead.

Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation and Bay Petroleum Corporation No. 2 E. H. Jones, is a semi-wildcat in northwest Gaines county, about five miles south of the Jones Ranch field. It is one quarter of a mile north of the same operators' No. 1 Jones, now being completed as a pumping discovery from the Glorieta-Permian at 6,030-90 feet.

Other Gaines Projects

The No. 2 Jones will be 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 21, block A-7, psl survey. It is slated to dig to about 6,000 feet, to try to develop production in the Glorieta.

Argo Oil Corporation No. 1-N Jones, 10 miles southwest of Denver City, in northwest Gaines county and 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 496, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey, had reached 6,067 feet in lime, and was boing ahead. A little free oil and some oil and gas cut drilling mud was recovered in drillstem test in the section at 5,878 feet to 6,040 feet. The project is contracted to go to 9,600 feet.

Hale County Completions

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 T. F. Garrett, stepout to the Anton-Irish field, in southwest Hale county, and 660 feet from north and east lines of section 15, block DT, HE & WT survey, has been officially completed for a 24-hour pumping potential of 81 barrels of 26 gravity oil, and no water from pay at 5,815-6,096 feet.

That zone was treated with a total of 28,500 gallons of acid. Gas-oil ratio was 222-1.

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 2 Rollinsford Saving Bank is a new location on which drilling is to be started immediately, in the Hale county side of the Anton-Irish field. It will be 660 feet from north and east lines of the southeast quarter of section 17, block DT, HE & WT survey. It is projected to a possible destination of 6,300 foot, to test the regular pay in that area. The venture is now rigging up rotary.

New Location Made

Stanolind has also made locations for No. 3 Rollinsford Saving Bank, and for No 5 G. W. Blackman, other new developments in the Anton-Irish area. At the time report was prepared the official locations had not been received in the Railroad Commission office at Midland. Both those ventures are slated to start making hole during the next week to ten days.

Hunt Oil Company No. 1 Adams, an Anton-Irish outpost, had reached 5,778 feet in lime, and was making more hole.

Stanolind No. 1 L. A. Harral, was coring ahead from 6,109 feet in lome. It had logged some slight signs of oil stains and porosity.

Other Projects In Area

Stanolind No. 4-A Lee Irish had reached 2,900 feet in anhydrite and shale, and was drilling ahead.

Stanolind No. 3-B Lee Irish was coring ahead past 5,805 feet in lime. It has not reported having logged any indications of oil or

Day Of Prayer Will Be Staged

Shepherd King American Lutheran church in Lubbock will unite with 10,000 other congregations today to observe a special day of prayer and support for Lutheran World Action, in connection with which Lutheran churches in American which are affiliated with the National Lutheran council are embarked on a program to raise $4,000,000 this year for spiritual reconstruction abroad.

Pastor Sieberg's sermon this morning will be on the subject, "Pray for This Troubled World."

Others To Participate

Lutheran churches in Littlefield and Posey, served by Pastor Carl Schulte, and churches in Wilson and Southland, served by Pastor E. C. Poehlmann, also will participate in the emphasis on Lutheran World action. Rev. Mr. Schulte and Rev. Mr. Sieberg will emphasize the work this Sunday. Rev. Mr. Poehlmann will speak on the subject May 9. All will speak about the needs of the world church and what Lutherans are doing to bring hope, comfort and spiritual information to war-weary peoples, said the Shepherd King pastor.

"During the past eight years, Lutherans in America, representing the largest Prtoestant church in the world, have raised more than $22,700,000 in cash and goods for spiritual rehabilitation and material aid in Europe and Asia," said Pastor Sieberg. "Because of devastation wrought by World war II, physical relief has been a major concern in the war-ravaged countries, but enactment of the European Recovery plan will make possible a more complete emphasis on spiritual reconstruction, according to officials of Lutheran World action," he said.

To Restore Churches

Of the 1948 goal, $3,525,000 has been designated for world service, with $3,000,000 for the restoration of church life in Europe.

From 1940 to 1945, Lutherans in America contributed $6,500,000 for emergency activities in different parts of the world, and $10,500,000 for similar purposes in 1946-47. In addition, food, clothing and medicine valued at more than $5,000,000 was contributed through Lutheran World relief.

From 15 to 20 million dollars a year are spent in the United States annually for control of forest fires by public and private agencies.

Saudi Arabia, with only a small area of its oil concessions developed, is the fifth largest oil producing nation in the world.

Revival To Continue At Foursquare Church

The Mourer-Johnson party of Portland, Oregon, will continue revival services nightly except Monday at Foursquare church, Thirty-fourth and Ave. J, Rev. Sidney Westbrook, pastor, has announced.

This party of four young people features the music of the Pearson sisters, well-known gospel radio duo, with accordion, vibraharp and piano accompaniment. Speaker of the party is Rev. Roy Mourer, who is bringing the messages during the current revival.

Rev. Mourer will speak tonight at 7:45 o'clock on "Playing the Fool," and a special feature of Tuesday's night's services will be the showing of an illustrated musical picture story entitled "Plot of Galilee."

Prayer for the sick and a special divine healing service will be offered on Friday night, Rev. Westbrook said.

Special Services Are Set At Church

Dr. W. Bristow Gray of Brownwood will arrive here Monday to assist in special services planned this week at the Chapel Presbyterian church, 2701 North Second.

Dr. Gray, who formerly lived in Lubbock and served as pastor at Levelland and Tahoka, will preach at the chapel on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings at 7:30 o'clock, and will close his visit with the morning sermon on Sunday, May 9.

Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings have been set aside for personal visitations in the homes of prospective members for the chapel. Teams will be organized and instructed for the visitations.

Dr. Gray currently ministers to two churches, one at Bangs, the other at Comanche. He has formerly held pastorates at Brownwood, Eldorado and El Paso.

Church officials have issued a special invitation to Arnett-Benson residents to attend the evening services.

Rev. Vester Wolber Will Teach Classes

Baptist church officials announced Saturday that the Baptist Bible Chair classes at Texas Technological college will be taught by Rev. Vester E. Wolber, who will fill the position recently vacated by Dr. Joe T. McClain Rev. Wolber will teach the classes under the auspices of the Baptist convention of Texas.

He attended the University of Arkansas two years and transferred to Ouachita university, where he received his B. A. in 1938. He enrolled in Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary in Fort Worth for one semester, then left to be with his parents in California. He began preaching and was ordained while there.

During his four years of preaching in California, Rev. Wolber met and married Miss Frances Cantrell of Licking, Mo. They returned to Southwestern Baptist seminary in 1943, where he resumed his work. He received his Master of Theology degree in the summer of 1945, and had the privilege of delivering the graduating address.

Enrolling for graduate study, he completed the residence work and passed the oral examination for the Doctor of Theology degree, leaving only the thesis to be finished. In 1947 he and his family moved to California and supplied in various churches there. Prior to his acceptance of the opening here, he was employed as field worker for the Baptist General convention of Arizona.

Rev. and Mrs. Wolber have one son Eric, age 1. They are residing at the Baptist Student center, 2401 Thirteenth.

Plans To Rebuild Two-Draw Lake, Famed Garza Recreation Spot, Are Being Made

POST, May 1. (Special)—In a campaign to "re-do Two Draw lake," efforts are being made here to raise $25,000 needed for the project. About one-fifth of that amount already has been given.

The amount of money raised will determine whether or not the improvement program will take place. Enough money to build the dam and a bath house must be in the bank before favorable consideration will be given by the Double U company, which owns the property, to one of four propositions which have been submitted by the lake committee.

Hundley Is President

The four propositions for acquiring the land, along with other information, are in the New York office of the Double U company, awaiting action which would be taken after raising of the amount of money needed for the project.

The propositions are: To receive the land as a gift from the company; to take a free lease; to take a paid lease; and to buy the property outright with the Double U company retaining the mineral rights.

Persons wishing to have a part in "re-doing Two Draw" have been asked to give a cash donation to Hundley or deposit donations to the Two Draw fund at the First National bank.

To Issue Shares

If sufficient money is not raised or if the land is not acquired, the money will be refunded. If the project succeeds, shares are to be issued, directors elected and a charter prepared.

Other requirements of the Double U company have been met. They include having the land surveyed, the project blueprinted, the watershed determined and the total cost estimated.

The survey was made by J. W. McQuien, jr., and Mike Custer of the AAA office.

Leaders have announced it is up to Garza county citizens to decide whether they want the lake and can afford it.

The lake originated as a stock tank for the old Llano ranch, which was established in 1870. It was a natural tank, for which the ranch personnel built a dam.

Post Improved It

C. W. Post, the founder of Post, and citizens of the town took charge of the lake in 1910 and built it into a recreation spot. Mr. Post spent approximately $13,000 on the project. The money was used to build a dam, bath houses and other features.

The City of Post leased the property in 1916 from Mr. Post's Double U company for $1 a year. Boats, barbecue pits, picnic tables, floating bridges, dividing boards and other features were added in the next few years.

It became a site for camps. It was a popular location for Baptist encampments, 4-H camps and women's club encampments. Classes from numerous schools went to Draw for annual picnics. Home demonstration club women of Garza and surrounding counties held annual rallies there.

Completely Dry

Years ago, the silt and sand, which had never been trapped, began to fill the lake and, eventually, the dam was ruined by roots of the big trees in the area. For the last six or seven years, the lake has been of little use and it has been completely dry the last two years, sponsors of the project have announced.

Under the proposed plan to renovate the area, a dam would be built east and slightly north of the old dam. The original lake would serve as a catch pit. It was estimated the new dam would cost $13,500. It would be 854 feet long, 38 feet deep and would hold 30 feet of water when full. It would be 20 feet across the top. Plans call for its construction on a three-to-one slant on the front, thickness of 220 feet at the base and containing 62,000 cubic yards of dirt.

Monte Blue Climbs The Comeback Trail

HOLLYWOOD, May 1 (AP)—It has been a hard, 14-year pull up the comeback trail, but Monte Blue is finally hitting his stride.

Monte has just signed a featured player contract with Warner Brothers, where he once reigned as one of the great stars of the silent era. The event was another milestone in an amazing career that has ranged from the heights of fame to the rank of an extra player.

Monte was a casualty of sound. He retired from films in 1931, took a world cruise and returned to find his savings wiped out in a bank crash. He took a whirl at the stage, then returned to Hollywood.

"I looked in the mirror and saw I was no little Lord Fontleroy anymore," he remarked on the set of "Smart Money," his current picture. "I decided to build my new career on rock instead of sand. So I started at the bottom as an extra. I was in that awkward stage, between stardom and character parts."

He rose to bit parts and in 1942 went back to Warners where he has been ever since. He's very happy with his new status as featured player.

"It's good to be free of the envy and jealousy that plague players in competition for star roles," he sighed. "I don't aspire to glory—I've had mine."

His credo is Lewis Stone's advice when Monte was returning to films as a character actor:

Watch Is Found Halfway Across World From Where It Was Lost

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 1 (INS)—The way Nathan L. Share looks at it, it is a small world after all.

Now, three years later, a New York City woman, Mrs. S. Craig, has advised him that she found the watch near her New York home.

Perhaps just as phenomenal, Mrs. Craig simply addressed him as "Capt. N. L. Share, U. S. Army, Washington, D. C." Share said he received the card nine days after it was mailed.

EFFORTS MADE TO RE-DO TWO DRAW—Water supply in Two-Draw lake near Post has dwindled until the lake bears no resemblance to its appearance 30 years ago. The [illegible] photograph shows the lake as it was in 1918; [illegible] photograph, the scene as it appears in 1948. Efforts are being made to raise money to build a dam and a bath house, so the negotiations with the aim of acquiring the area may go forward with the Double U company.

Clowns Galore To Appear With Gainesville Community Circus

* * *

Clowns—tall ones, short ones, jelly ones and sad-faced ones, clowns with red bulbous snozzles, and clowns on high stilts.

There'll be dozens of the funny fellows who leap into the arena to cavort in a merry caravan of high jinks when the Gainesville Community circus brings four performances to Lubbock next Friday and Saturday.

The circus, only one of its kind in the world, because it is wholly non-professional with personnel consisting entirely of men and women from business and civic circles of Gainesville, Texas, is sponsored here by the City Federation of Women's clubs and the bingo club.

Local Clubs Split Profits

Women's clubs of the city will get the major share of profits from the show to add to the fund for construction of a women's club center. The Lions club joined in the sponsorship, and will devote the 25 percent of profits coming to the club to its fund for advancement of boys and girls work here.

Lubbock is one of only ten cities in Texas and Oklahoma to obtain an engagement with the circus this year. The troupe does not accept many overnight engagements because of business demand at home. The organization is chartered on a non-profit basis, and all the recompense any of the personnel receive are plaudits of the audience and the sheer joy of doing something well.

Big Clown, Little Car

Heading clown alley is Frankie Schmuz, who drives into the arena in his 27-inch automobile, and Frankie himself is still puzzled as to just how he manages to squeeze his 170-pound, five feet seven-inch frame, with his big shoes and stovepipe hat, into the tiny car. Sometimes he even takes on a passenger, a fellow clown.

A. W. (Uncle Ezra WELLS

PAUL NIEBALL, Jr.
Clowns With Gainesville Community circus.

That sad-faced tramp clown you will see munching one minute and cracking peanuts with a sledge hammer the next, is A. W. (Uncle Ezra) Wells, who is sports editor of the Daily Register and mathematics teacher in Gainesville High school.

The clown cop, with the big badge and long six-shooter is Dr. S. M. Yarbrough, Gainesville physician, and the one with the red hair and bulbous nose is J. Benny Saylors, manager of the Retail Merchants association.

Others include A. W. (Bud) McCann, who is the stilt walker; Bert Davis, the juggler; Louise Smith, only feminine member of clown alley, and many other andrews, jesters, and pantomimists who will cavort for the pleasure of the Lubbock audience.

The circus, which uses its own big top seating 3,000, will set up on the fair grounds here, and the parking area will be open for use.

Matinee and night performances will be given afternoon and night of each day, Friday and Saturday.

Post May Get Opportunity To Buy Water System From Firm

POST, May 1 (Special) — The City commission of Post was informed recently by Luther Raley, representative of Community Public Service Co. who came by plane from Fort Worth, that his company is prepared to give the city opportunity to buy the local water works. He brought information from owners of the sewer system that it also can be bought by Post. He said the president of the Community Public Service Co will submit a formal offer in the near future.

New Salvation Army Territorial Chief To Visit Here Tuesday

Seeking to acquaint himself with Texas staff of the Salvation Army, Lt. Commissioner Albert E. Chesham, newly appointed southern territorial commander of the Salvation Army, is to be here Tuesday night and participate in a public meeting at the Army Citadel, 1112 Seventeenth.

The announcement was made yesterday by Capt. Vincel Larsen, head of the local Salvation Army unit, following receipt of the commissioner's itinerary for his first official visit to Texas.

Four Meetings Planned

Only four public meetings are scheduled on his six-day swing over the state. These are at Lubbock, Fort Worth, Port Arthur, and Houston.

Accompanied by Lt. Col. Charles H. Dodd, Texas divisional commander, Chesham is to visit Amarillo, Plainview, and Littlefield before arriving here Tuesday afternoon.

He plans to look over Salvation Army property here, see a number of things of interest in and adjacent to the city, and is to preach at 8 p. m. Tuesday at the Citadel in a meeting open to the public.

Visitors Are Expected

Since this will be his only public meeting in West Texas, delegations from other cities in the area are expected, Capt. Larsen said.

Commissioner Chesham recently assumed his duties a sterritorial commander of 15 southern states, the District of Columbia, and the Republic of Mexico, with headquarters at Atlanta. He has been an officer in the Salvation Army nearly 41 years, and before taking over duties at Atlanta recently, was chief secretary of the Midwest territory, with central offices in Chicago.

His schedule Wednesday calls for visits to Big Spring, San Angelo, Abilene, and Fort Worth; Thursday at Lufkin, Beaumont, Orange, and Port Arthur; Friday at Austin and San Antonio, Saturday at Corpus Christi, and Sunday at Houston.

Top Ropers To Compete For $5,000 Purse In Match Today

BIG SPRING, May 1 (Special)—Toots Manfield of Big Spring and Everett Shaw of Stonewall, Okla., both widely known ropers, will compete here Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in a wild steer roping match for a $5,000, winner-take-all purse.

Each contestant will rope, trip, tie and brand ten wild steers in the contest. A matched calf roping contest, featuring Sonny Edwards of Big Spring and Walter Poage of Rankin, is the second event on the program.

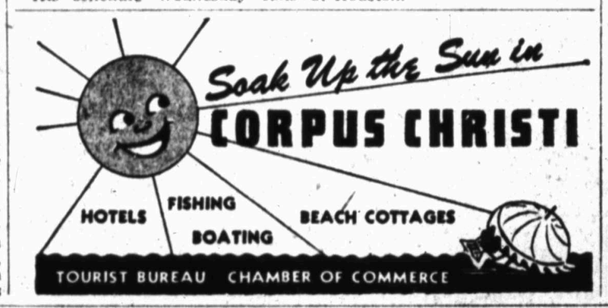

A crowd of about 5,000 persons is expected to be present in the new arena southwest of Big Spring to witness the roping events, sponsored by the Howard County Sheriff's Posse.

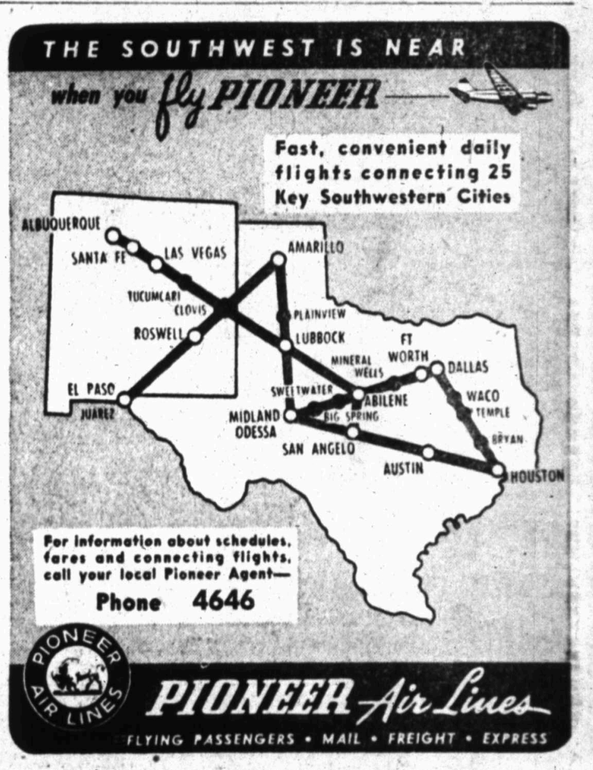

Post Theater Owners May Build New Building, Mahon Advises

POST, May 1 (Special) — Restrictions on theater buildings ended March 1 and such a project may be started without a permit, Congressman George Mahon notified a group of interested Post residents by telegram this week in response to an inquiry. Owners of the local theater have had plans for constructing a new building upon lifting of restrictions and a group of Post residents has shown interest in the project.

BUYS POST COMPANY

POST, May 1 (Special)—H. L. Baker of Stanton has purchased the Hodges Tractor company and Allis-Chalmers agency here. He leased for one year the building which Earl Hodges is having constructed for the company on East Main. Until completion of the new building, Baker will operate the business at the present address. His son, Laymon Baker, will be associated with him in the business.

Shirley's Hubby A Matinee Idol

By PATRICIA CLARY
United Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, May 1. — It's turning out that when Shirley Temple fell in love with handsome John Agar, she was only about three years ahead of the rest of the girls.

She's going to have to share him now with swooning boby-soxers all over the country. Her husband has turned into a matinee idol.

Agar was just a lucky Army Air Corps sergeant when he wooed and won Miss Temple, America's favorite baby star David O. Selznick figured that if Shirley liked him, other girls might, and signed him to an acting contract.

Now, after a year's dramatic training, Agar is making his movie debut opposite his wife in Argosy Pictures' "Fort Apache." The studio thinks he'll have as big an edge over other male stars with movie fans as he did with Shirley.

In "Fort Apache" Agar plays a West Point subaltern who romances his commanding officer's daughter—played by Mrs. Agar.

Agar realizes he's handicapped by being unknown while his wife is one of the world's most famous stars. But he's determined to make a career on his own and he says his wife is a real help to him.

Shirley interested him in acting and coached him in fireside dramatics. But he was signed for the "Fort Apache" part weeks before she was thought of.

"It wasn't hard to convince me I ought to try acting," he said. "I realized that it could be very pleasant working in the same profession as my wife."

Mineral experts say the United States has used 97 per cent of its mercury, 83 per cent of its silver and lead, 78 per cent of its chromium, 70 per cent of its bauxite, 60 per cent of its copper and petroleum and 65 per cent of its zinc.

AL DEXTER

Al Dexter Band To Be At Supper Club

Al Dexter and his dance band, widely known for their Columbia recordings, will appear at the Lubbock Supper club at 9 o'clock Tuesday night.

Dexter shares an unusual distinction with Bob Wills. In a recent survey, it was disclosed that two records in the folk field of which more than two million copies each have been sold and which were still being sold in record shops are Dexter's "Pistol Packin' Mama" and Wills' "San Antonio Rose."

When Dexter wrote "Pistol Packin' Mama" a few seasons ago, it was recorded by leading folk entertainers and even by popular singers, including Bing Crosby

His formula for writing hit songs is: "Give the people words they like to sing and rhythm they can dance to, and you have a pretty good chance of turning out a hit."

Some of the other numbers he has composed are "Guitar Polka," "Down at the Roadside Inn," "Wine, Women and Song," "New Broom Boogie" and "Rock and Bye Rag."

Tuesday night, the musicians will include not only their own hits but will include other popular tunes.

New Power Line Being Built By Southwestern Public Service

POST, May 1 (Special) — Materials are being received for construction of a new 69KV line from Post through Tahoka to Brownfield by the Southwestern Public Service Co.

At least 90 per cent of the materials necessary for the line has been received and reasonable assurance has been given that the line will be in use soon after July 1, according to announcement here.

All of the poles have been received, said Ted Hibbs, local manager. Materials were ordered in November, 1946. A carload of insulators was received here last week.

A 3,000 KVA transformer and other sub-station equipment, ordered in 1946, are expected to be received by the time the line is completed.

Plans have been announced as underway for replacement of the present line between Post and Slaton, which has been in use since 1927, connecting with a replaced line between Lubbock and Slaton. Post then would have electric service from two circuits.

WOODS GETS OKAY

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP) — The Senate today confirmed Tighe Woods as rent control chief and housing expediter. The confirmation was by unanimous consent. The Senate Banking committee voted 11 to 0 earlier this week for confirmation, ignoring protests of the CIO house committee and the independent International Machinists union.

Marx Brothers Now Planning To Make Just Two More Films

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, May 1. — The Marx brothers, who periodically announced their retirement from film appearance together, now say they'll make two more films.

The famed comics are slated to make another comedy, now called "Hearts and Diamonds," in June. Brother-manager Gummo says they'll make one more film after that and it will be the life of the Marx brothers.

After the Marx biography is filmed, Groucho, Chico, and Harpo will go their own professional ways. At least that's what they say at this point.

Ann Blythe and Howard Duff will spend a couple of months in Kanab, Utah, for the filming of "Wildfire." Director George Sherman says the entire picture will be made in the scenic wonderland, site of many a film location. There are reports that the state of Utah is sponsoring erection of a movie stage there to make the community self-sufficient for picture making.

John Payne may go to England to make "Lorna Doone" for Edward Small. The picture, which will be an expensive affair in color, will be one of the first attempts to use frozen funds for picture making under the new U. S.-British film deal. . . .

Jack Carson will get a chance to show his dramatic abilities when he takes over the lead in "Born Yesterday" on Broadway this summer. He's tired of being a song-and-dance man at Warners and passed up a two-week stand at London's Palladium for the New York offer. . . . Wayne Morris joins the "Girl From Jones Beach" cast. He's jumped from 195 to 212 pounds and will have to shave some poundage for his bathing-suit role . . . Radio circles are suggesting that one of Tom Breneman's brothers, Mark or Carl, might be the right choice to fill the beloved radioman's shoes. Both have had air experience and the public might less resent one of the family taking over after Tom's death.

HOLLYWOOD, May 1 — Hedy Lamarr, I can report today, has a very lovely nose—even if it was stuffed up a little. Hedy had a spring cold in her heady.

JOHNSON

Frankly, I hadn't noticed Hedy nose (could it be that Jane Russell has a nose, too) until she filed suit for $200,000, charging that a national magazine maligned it as a plastic surgery job.

So I went out and got a good look.

Hedy reached for a handkerchief and daintly blew her $200,000 nose while her lawyer, Jerry Giesler, winced. After all, there aren't very many $200,000 noses.

She'd Rather Ride Horses Under Big Top

Pretty French Countess Turns Down Model's Job For Circus

By BARBARA BUNDSCHU
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, May 1. (U.P.) — A pretty French countess turned up with a chance to be a photographers' model today, but she'd rather ride horses in a circus.

To Save Horses

Claude Madeline Marie Eugenie Panaque, Countess Mesnet de la Cour, is the daughter of a wealthy Parisian champagne and brandy merchant, the wife of a successful young lawyer, and a performer, as Claude Valois, in Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus.

When the Germans occupied France, Claude had just turned 20, and she had 100 horses. A friend suggested she could save some of them from requisition by saying she rode them in a circus. The Germans wanted proof. Claude took herself and her horses off to a circus at amiens and gave a riding demonstration that convinced the Germans.

Her first frightening circus act was a jump over 10 clowns standing on a table. Then she began to train her horses to dance. It takes about two years, she said. Her husband, Serge Palanque, said proudly she's the only woman who ever did it successfully.

A year ago a Ringling brothers agent in France heard of her story and signed her up to tour America with the big top.

She wears a white wool gown with sparkling spangles and an ostrich plumed hat as she dances her golden chestnut "Yellow Bird" in the ring at Madison Square garden. She loves every minute of it.

Harry Conover, model agency head, said he was "simply minding by own business at home" when Claude's act followed the aerialists on the delevision screen.

"Something struck me about her," Canover said. "Of course, I always look at faces. And she had such wonderful bearing, not strictly circus."

He sent her around to a fashion magazine editor and a top flight photographer. They're crazy about her, Conover said. He's prepared to start her out at $15 an hour and send her around with an interpreter.

"Oh, yes, I would like it, a little," Claude said. "But for work, I would rather be with the circus."

Jester Announces Pardons Of Two More Convicted Burglars

AUSTIN, May 1. (AP) — Gov. Beauford H. Jester has granted conditional pardons to the following:

People Favor Stronger Air Force; "We'll Fight," U. S. Army Tells Europe

EXPERTS OVERRULED

Mitchell Case Cited

VARIOUS public opinion tests have proved overwhelming popular support for the insistence in Congress upon an air force much larger than favored by the administration, Defense Secretary James V. Forrestal and many others in the Army-Navy high command.

The House quickly approved appropriations for a 70-group force. The Senate Appropriations committee took similar action without delay, giving clear indication of the sentiment toward the proposal in the Upper House. The opposition, spearheaded by Mr. Forrestal, first urged a 55-group force, but reluctantly raised its recommendation to 66 groups. The defense secretary argued that a 70-group air force would be out of balance with other branches of the armed services.

It might seem a little strange, on first thought, that an admittedly inexpert public opinion would support an inexpert Congress against such "experts" as the defense secretary in a matter of this kind.

The explanation, however, is relatively simple. The old guard of the Army and Navy have themselves to blame for the attitude because of their notorious reluctance to recognize that progress brings changes.

The most infamous example of this stubborn refusal to keep pace with progress occurred in 1925 when the late Brig. Gen. Billy Mitchell was court martialed and kicked out of the service for advocating a stronger air force. The fact that General Mitchell was vindicated years after his death and was awarded posthumously the Congressional Medal of Honor merely emphasized the short-sightedness of the military court of brass hats which convicted him. It proved that the high command, comprised chiefly of elderly veterans of the old school of army and navy commanders, could be mistaken.

There also is a strong suspicion that Mr. Forrestal and other opponents of the 70-group organization have not confessed the real reason for their opposition. The opinion is widespread among observers that the real reason stems from jealousy in the older services of the air force.

But, regardless of the reasons, the popular and congressional support for the 70-group force proves one fact beyond question: That both the public and Congress want the most powerful air force possible. They have proved their attitude by their support over vigorous opposition of the most powerful force proposed despite an added cost which will run to several hundred millions of dollars yearly.

The people and Congress have demonstrated in this instance they eagerly will pay anything which might add to the national security. They prefer to be safe rather than sorry.

Welcome, Tech Visitors!

THE Avalanche-Journal is keenly conscious of the privilege of joining with the entire citizenship of Lubbock in extending a cordial welcome to the parents and the many other distinguished visitors here today for the double-barreled celebration at Texas Technological college.

The occasions are the annual Parents' day and the dedication of Memorial circle on the college campus.

The detailed programs for both events appear elsewhere in this issue. They are recommended to the attention of every friend of Tech as an opportunity for a great deal of personal pleasure and to contribute personally to the success of events which are sure to be long remembered.

EFFORT TO REACH PEACE AGREEMENT GAINS BACKING

Majority In U. S. Favor Meeting Of World Leaders

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., May 1—Although President Truman said last week that he would not go out of the United States to meet with Stalin, a substantial proportion of American voters think that an international meeting among the heads of the major nations is worth trying.

They feel that some compromise or settlement of differences might be achieved which would make peace less doubtful than it seems to be now.

GALLUP

From coast-to-coast interviewers for the American Institute of Public Opinion put the following question to a cross-section of voters:

"Do yo uthink it would be a good idea or a poor idea for President Truman to call an international meeting with Stalin and heads of other nations to work out more effective plans for peace?"

Good idea	63%
Poor idea	28
No opinion	9

Those who said it would be a good idea to hold such a conference were asked:

"Do you think it would be a successful in coming to an agreement with Stalin?"

* * *

WHILE the answers given are not particularly optimistic, more people say they think some agreement could be reached than say the effort would be a failure. In actual percentages only about one-third think it would not succeed. But judging by their answers to the first question, even these doubters think a meeting would be worth trying, on the chance that something useful would come of it.

VOTE OF THOSE FAVORING MEETING

Yes, think meeting would succeed 34%	39%
Qualified Yes 5
No, think meeting would fail	35
No opinion	26

Among the qualified answers in favor, the chief reservations are "if we send the right people to the meeting" and "if we handle ourselves properly at the meeting.

Mr. Truman has said that he would welcome a visit from Stalin to the United States. His statement started fresh speculation as to whether a meeting might be held. Some commentators have claimed that, in view of the anti-American, anti-Truman propaganda carried on inside Russia by the Kremlin, Stalin would be unlikely to favor a meeting with Truman at this time.

When American voters were asked to give their reasons for favoring, or opposing, an international meeting, those expressing themselves in favor said mainly that it might held prevent a future war, and that a chance to exchange views in person might lead to better understanding. Those opposed to the meeting said, "Stalin won't cooperate, can't be trusted," and "We've tried meetings before and they turned out badly in the end.

Shredded cabbage may be panfried to good advantage since this method gives excellent flavor and takes only a very short time. The finely cut vegetable should be placed in a heavy skillet in which three tablespoons of fortified margarine or butter to every quart of the vegetable has been melted. The pan should be covered tightly and placed over full heat until steam begins to form; then the heat should be lowered and the vegetable cooked a few moments.

Looking At Life ------ By Erich Brandeis

HERE is a cute little story I read in the paper this morning:

Morton Downey, the singer, was visiting Mr. and Mrs. Winston Guest in Palm Beach recently and the Guests' little niece was about to celebrate her third birthday.

There was to be a big party, her first, and she was told that she could invite anybody she wanted.

"God. Pinocchio. Mr. Downey."

How does that saying go? "Out of the mouths of little children...."

* * *

Let us analyze that three-year-old's guest list.

God. What better guest could you have at any party or at any time than God? If He were not only our house guest but a permanent guest in our hearts, what a happy life all of us would lead! Almost as happy as the life of a little three-year-old girl, who knows nothing about wars and greed and jealousy. To her, the world is made up of love and faith and confidence.

Pinocchio. That little character out of fairyland and the world of make-believe and imagination. With all the grim realities of adult life, might we not all have as our guests more of those characters that take us out of the world of fact into the realm of dreams and make-believe? Might we not all have as our guests the people and things that made childhood such a wonderful part of our lives and might we not well have them as our perpetual guests to brighten our days?

Morton Downey, the third guest. Song, music, harmony to take the place of discord and the ugly noises of the street, the ranting of rabble-rousers and politicians, the crash of bombs and bullets.

Mind you, all these guests will come to your house and your hearts if you will but invite them.

* * *

COME to think of it, what on earth has become of the people all of us were when we were little children?

Weren't we all like that little three-year-old who wanted to invite God, Pinocchio, and Morton Downey to her party?

What has made us change? What has made us awaken from all those pretty dreams? What has made us adults such complete strangers to the persons we were when we were children?

As a columnist and newspaperman I am supposed to be rather dignified and on my Sunday-go-to-meeting behavior.

But every now and then, when I am home alone with my wife, I sort of break out and do a little jig, sing a little ditty and make a little fool of myself.

SECRET ANSWER GIVEN

To Back Red Fight

By DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—Thorniest question facing western European diplomats is: "Will the United States back up up militarily if we resist future Russian aggression?"

For several weeks the White House and State department officials have stalled on giving Europe a firm official answer. Not so the Defense department. Within the last few weeks the Army secretly answered European diplomats with a vigorous "yes."

PEARSON

Here's how it happened:

Several months ago, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg sat down with France and England to organize a five-power agreement to resist Russia aggression. It took plenty of nerve for these five powers openly to defy Russia by signing a strong military pact, and, before negotiations were concluded, Washington was informally sounded out. The United States, they were unofficially informed, favored such strategy.

This agreement was followed by the visit of Prince Charles of Belgium and Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak. By this time Spaak wanted more than mere informal assurances. He wanted formal and specific guarantees from President Truman of military and lend-lease support for the "Benelux countries." However, cautious Mr. Truman and the State department failed to come through.

Impatient, the five western powers have quietly gone ahead on their own. They have set up a tight military liaison committee in London, and are working out a coordinated military strategy to meet all emergencies.

And while the State department was still trying to clear a mutual-aid program with congressional leaders, the War department deftly took the bull by the horns and secretly cinched an agreement.

Few people realize it, but there are several hundred important British Army and Navy officers working full time in the Pentagon building. They are members of the old wartime combined chiefs of staff which has never been officially dissolved.

Therefore it has been quite easy for American Army men to hold candid conferences with top French, Belgian, Luxembourg and Netherlands officers. They have already drawn up the paper work which would ordinarily precede signing of any alliance. Once the green light comes from the White House, the plan will go into high gear at once.

NOTE—What the Benelux countries chiefly want is a new lend-lease act which would standardize military equipment and provide new arms for Europe. Truman, however, is awaiting a new "crisis" before asking for a new lend-lease act.

ARMY LIQUOR

Coached by the big distillers, Army brass hats have worked out a neat trick to evade the law and keep officers' clubs well stocked with liquor.

The law banning liquor in officers' clubs is explicit: "The sale of or dealing in beer, wine or any intoxicating liquors by any person in any post exchange or canteen or . . . upon any premise used for military purposes by the United States, is prohibited."

An officer is appointed to handle liquor consignments on an individual basis. He takes orders from individual officers who pay in advance, following which the liquor is delivered directly to the club where it is kept for the members. In this way, the drinks technically are not sold across the bar, but are drawn from private stock.

This has the added advantage of circumventing taxes that would be charged if the club were selling liquor outright. Actually the drinks are iced and served, just as in any cocktail lounge. Only difference is that the liquor supposedly was purchased by the individual, not by the club.

This scheme was not worked out by the brass alone, but with the help of distillers' salesmen who visit Army posts to solicit business.

TWO political phenomena are now taking place simultaneously in the nation. President Truman is moving heaven and earth to secure his own renomination, but with his Gallup poll rating continuing to drop. Meanwhile, General Eisenhower continues to discourage his nomination, but with his popularity continuing to increase.

A lot of interesting backstage figures are behind Eisenhower, one of them being CIO President Philip Murray. Murray has just sent out word to every CIO steelworkers local suggesting resolutions for a "draft Eisenhower" movement. The steelworkers convention will go on record unanimously asking Eisenhower to run, and a similar movement is already under way in most other CIO unions.

Murray also held an important secret conference in Pittsburgh with Illinois Democratic Boss Jack Arvey. Arvey has been drafted by Illinois Democrats to run their political fortunes until after the presidential elections, and he agreed with Murray that the Democratic party's hope lay in nominating Eisenhower.

Though not talking much, Arvey has been a very busy beaver. He was principally responsible for the violent anti-Truman demonstration at the California Jefferson day dinner when Truman was booed so vigorously that Chairman J. Howard McGrath almost quit talking.

Also active in the draft-Eisenhower drive is former Roosevelt labor adviser, Anna Rosenberg. Mrs. Rosenberg is a close friend of Eisenhower's also of Phil Murray, George Allen, Mrs. Roosevelt, the Rockefellers, as well as many of the ex-New Dealers. Although she denies it, Mrs. Rosenberg has had several talks with Ike, has told her friends she's convinced he is available for genuine draft.

Eisenower's supporters are ignoring all of the general's protests about his candidacy. They're convinced that if a genuine draft movement develops, he will accept the nomination.

* * *

Inside The White House

Resignation of Gael Sullivan from the Democratic national committee was inevitable. Only a few insiders knew it, but Truman hated him, barred him from the White House two months ago.

Sullivan was always getting in his hair, fighting on Palestine, for labor, against cartels. His departure means he thinks the fight on these things is hopeless.

Sullivan worked day and night for the administration, led the life of a monk socially, studied like a schoolboy to make government wheels turn more smoothly. He was an FDR favorite, being forced on Truman by Bob Hannegan. It has never been a secret that Sullivan was a Justice Douglas man. When named assistant postmaster general, he even insisted that Justice Douglas swear him in.

DEADLY PARALLEL WITH TODAY . . .

Pattern Of Civil War Traced

"THE DISRUPTION OF AMERICAN DEMOCRACY," by Roy Franklin Nichols; (Macmillan).

THE causes of the American Civil war have been traced in a variety of patterns—economic, cultural, social, racial. Roy Nichols, professor of History at the University of Pennsylvania, tells the story in terms of politics.

The outbreak of civil war, as he sees it, coincided with the breakup of the American Democracy—the Democratic party which had ruled the country with slight interruptions for almost 50 years. More than mere coincidence of timing was involved. There was a conjunction of tensions in politics, religion and business. Such a conjunction "occurs rarely, but woe betide the Republic when it does."

Supercharged Emotions

The 1850's was a period of supercharged emotions. There were forces working in the nation which were little understood by the politicians. Some of these forces—slavery, southernism, territorialism—were what Nichols calls divisive, that is, they tended to split the nation into factions. Others—like nationalism and democracy—were cohesive, in that they tended to keep the nation whole. When the pulls and tugs of the divisive factors overpowered the appeal of the cohesive views, there was an explosion—war.

The detailed story, of course, is not quite that simple. Nichols' stage is crowded, so crowded that he has little chance to develop individual personalities. The reader has a hard job keeping track of the characters who pop in and out of the narrative. He has a harder job to sort out the many factions which wielded an influence, however slight, upon the national thought.

Within these limitations, imposed by the scope of the subject, Nichols has made a distinguished contribution to historical scholarship. The force of the book is not impaired by the deadly parallel with today. Nichols does not cram the parallel down the reader's throat, but it is there nonetheless, in obvious force.

Absorbing Book

"THE MECHANICAL ANGEL," by Donald Friede; (Knopf).

A POCKETFULL of money, a sense of adventure, a curiosity about the new and unfamiliar, and a taste for literature combined to give this author a zestful life, and to give us an absorbing book.

Friede tried half a dozen jobs, from boilermaker to bond salesman, before he invested $110,000 in "the most flamboyant publishing house of all time" and became, at 24, vice president of Boni & Liveright. Later with Pascal Covici, once of Chicago, he formed the firm of Covici, Friede.

Experiences Are Recalled

Though he seems strangely never to have crossed the path of Gertrude Stein, he knew otherwise all the stimulating people, and they must have been glad to know him, an eager, excitable young publisher willing to bet on almost anything. His most fantastic gamble, and his craziest adventure, was as impresario for Antheil's "Ballet Mecantinque," which was presented, or staged circus-like, in packed Carnegie Hall in 1927.

Antheil had already written his account of it, including the remark about "making a mountain out of an Antheil;" Martha Foley had reported on the founding of Story magazine; and you have heard some of the other incidents, too . . . though you may not have known that Liveright barely broke even on "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," and that among other books refused by Friede was Lindbergh's "We."

But Friede throws a fresh light on the period. He is disarmingly, and at times disconcertingly, honest. He closes with some deprecating comments about the fabulous 1920s. They were carefree, lighthearted, fearless, experimental and irresponsible. For all his ultimate disapproval, Friede delighted in them, too. The exuberance and exhilaration of that spirited decade came back full measure to him as he described them; they come back merrily to us as we read.

"The Price Of Power"

"THE PRICE OF POWER," by Hanson W. Baldwin; (Harper).

IN the midst of the current nerve war, Hanson W. Baldwin military editor of the New York Times, has written a matter of fact book called The Price of Power, which charts the course the United States must follow to delay or avert a shooting war.

He asks: how best can we defend the U. S. (a) since offense is the best form of defense, but (b) without becoming bankrupt or a "garrison" state, destroying the very principles we want to save?

He says America's economic position is unparalled, but in military matters the scales nearly balance. We have the better navy and air force, the atomic bomb, a better equipped army. Russia has the bigger army, the bigger population, the bigger land area. Psychologically, we are weak — we have no flaming cause.

Baldwin concludes that the only answer is in the middle road, the familiar road of power politics. He says we should work in the United Nations, make alliances, try to contain Communism and revive our vigorous, dynamic foreign policy. By traveling this road, Baldwin says, we may be able to preserve our world and perhaps reach our ultimate goal of one world.

MICHAEL FESSIER'S hero in Clovis (Dial) is a parrot of the same name, who has adventures that any human might envy. There are a lot of laughs in the book and beneath them all Fessier is laughing at the human race. "Zulu Woman"

THE story of Christina, first wife of Solomon, King of the Zulus, is told in Zulu Woman (Columbia) by Rebecca Hourwich Reyher, a New England woman who lived nearly a year in Zululand, at the southermost tip of Africa. Mrs. Reyher spent a month talking to Christina and taking notes to acquire this story of a Christian woman who rebelled against polygamy. Christina was the only Zulu woman to demand and obtain a divorce. Her husband had approximately 65 wives.
