U.S. Rejects Soviet Grip On Rail Lines

MAN, WHAT A RAIN!—For hours and hours it poured down. Cars were stalled running-board deep on Broadway; the Ave. H underpass was filled to street level; one citizen took a boat at Thirteenth and Texas avenue; and farm houses looked like they were in the middle of an ocean. Old timers rubbed their eyes in amazement. Was this Lubbock and the South Plains? Well the landmarks look familiar don't they? Well it actually happened right here in Lubbock. Many of our readers won't believe us, but there are others who can remember that far back. But just to prove that it rains here sometimes and that the dust doesn't blow all the time, the Avalanche-Journal went back into its files to produce these 1941 pictures. In case you're wondering why we're publishing them today, well just take a good look at the calendar.

Solon Would Put Europeans In U. S. Army

By JOHN B. OWEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 31 — A senator who fought overseas urged Congress today to let 50,000 young single European men join the United States Army and become citizens later.

Senator Lodge (R-Mass), a tank corps officer in the last war, said this would cut down manpower needs in the proposed temporary draft, for one thing. He asked the Senate Armed Services committee to back him up.

Lodge would sprinkle the carefully chosen foreigners among regular Army units. They would get all soldier benefits and qualify for citizenship after five years service. He would limit their number to 15 per cent of the Army's total.

Preparedness Talked

Preparedness talk boiled up all around. There were these developments:

1. A negro leader, A. Philip Randolph, told Congress that many negroes would disobey any draft law and refuse to bear arms if "segregation and discrimination" are not halted in the armed services. Senators warned they might run into treason charges.

2. President Truman told Tennessee Valley authority officials to draft plans for greatly increased power output for defense plants.

3. Use of the atom bomb to shorten any future war and thus save lives was advocated by Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), chairman of the congressional Atomic Energy committee. He told a reporter we should have no qualms about using it strategically in this fashion.

Bomb Supply "Adequate"

Members of the House Appropriations committee reported privately that Chairman David E. Lilienthal of the Atomic Energy commission had advised them that this country has an "adequate supply" of the atom bombs and is making more right along.

4. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York said in Albany that a state militia, along with "a total civilian effort" must be organized to be ready if the National Guard is called to federal duty. He spoke of the "gravity of the world situa-

House Approves Aid Plan By Big Vote

By ED CREAGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 31. — The House passed the $6,205,000,000 foreign aid bill tonight.

The vote was 329 to 74.

Aimed in larger part at blocking Communist expansion, it calls for the largest overseas relief and rehabilitation program ever undertaken by any nation.

It includes $5,300,000,000 as the first-year cost of the "Marshall plan" for European recovery.

And it includes $425,000,000 in outright military aid—$275,000,000 for Greece and Turkey and $150,000,000 for China. China gets another $420,000,000 in economic aid.

(The Navy announced shortly before the bill passed that three escort carriers will be used to deliver planes to Turkey under the assistance program during the next few months.

(The number of planes was not disclosed. But the 12,000-ton carriers can transport more than 100 planes each in ferry service.)

Besides the military and economic aid provisions, the House "package" bill includes $60,000,000 for the United Nations children's fund.

A proposal by Rep. Marcantonio (ALP-NY) that the entire relief program be handled through the United Nations was voted down by an overwhelming 270 to 6.

Today's vote came just two weeks after President Truman's appeal to a joint session of Congress for speedy adoption of the European recovery program (ERP) as one of three roadblocks to Com-

U. S., British Trains Halted By Russians

BULLETIN

HELMSTEDT, Germany, Thursday, April 1. (AP)—The Russians refused to allow an American military train to pass through the Soviet zone of Germany today.

The train, bound from Bremerhaven to Berlin, returned to this border town after Soviet authorities at Marienborn, the Russian check point, refused to allow it to proceed. The American train comander refused to permit Soviet inspection teams to board the train.

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, Thursday, April 1.— The United States rejected last night a Russian order which would impose controls over rail and rail communications of the three western occupying powers in the Soviet zone of Germany.

A United States military government representative issued a brief, one-sentence statement early today which said the U. S. Army would not allow Russians to enter American trains.

The statement:

"We have advised the Russians that we are prepared to have our train commanders give proper documentation, but that we cannot allow entries into our trains."

It was understood the U. S. official made the reply after conferring with Washington officials and his top advisors in Berlin.

An official American spokesman said the statement meant the U. S. Army would refuse to allow Soviet inspection of either American personnel or freight on Army trains.

British Reject Order

"Documentation" was believed to mean the train commanders would furnish the Russians with a written list of what each train passing through the Russian zone was carrying.

The British rejected the Russian order last night and the French said they were studying the matter, but had made no reply to the Soviets.

Later, it was reported from Helmstedt, Germany, that Soviet authorities had halted two British military trains at Marienborn when British guards refused to allow Soviet forces to inspect them.

Two Proposed Amendments To Charter Needed, Study Shows

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third of four discussions of five proposed amendments to the Lubbock city charter which are to be submitted to election next Tuesday. The proposals are being discussed in the same order they appear on the printed ballot.)

* * *

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

TWO proposed city charter amendments which should and apparently will have the support of most citizens in the city election next Tuesday are those which appear on the printed ballot under the headings of "Amendment No. 3" and "Amendment No. 4."

KIEFER

No. 3 amendment would relieve the mayor of the necessity of signing individual payroll checks of city employes.

No. 4 would eliminate the requirement that the city commission, in choosing a Lubbock city manager, would have to select someone who had resided in Texas at least one year immediately preceding his appointment.

The signing of city payroll checks is now one of the most exasperating and time-taking chores of the mayor—who, incidentally, receives $75 a month for his services. There are 400 to 450 such checks twice each month, and the task of signing them requires several hours.

Plan Is Explained

Under the system proposed in the amendment, the mayor simply would sign big sheets on which would be listed the names of city employes and their salaries. The sheets would be certified by the city auditor.

From those sheets, the individual checks would be prepared. They then would have to be signed by the mayor or the city manager and the city secretary.

Payrolls would be amply protected under the amendment. They would come under the scrutiny of the city auditor, the mayor, the city manager and the city secretary before checks were handed out.

The city commission learned from experience recently that it was under a serious handicap in trying to select a city manager because of the charter's present requirement of a year's residence in Texas. Several applicants had to be eliminated for that reason.

As it happened, the commission agreed unanimously on Marlin R. Smith, jr., a former city manager and a resident of Lubbock.

But if Smith had not been available, members of the commission agreed they were in doubt as to whether the best man for the job could have been found in Texas.

By eliminating the Texas residence requirement, the chances are increased of obtaining the best available man for the job when the city manager's position becomes vacant. The commissioners still can hire a Texan if they wish and one is available. But if a better man from another state is obtainable, the amendment would permit his employment.

Approval of both Amendments Nos. 3 and 4 seems the common sense thing to do next Tuesday.

WARMER WEATHER FORECAST

Cold Front Sends Mercury Below Freezing Over Area

FREEZING temperatures hit Lubbock and the South Plains last night in the wake of a cold front which moved into the area about noon yesterday. An early morning low of 29 degrees was forecast, but the mercury was expected to bounce back up to the lower sixties this afternoon.

The temperature at 12:30 o'clock this morning was 31 degrees.

The spring norther dropped the temperature ten degrees at 1:30 p.m. yesterday from a reading of 56 at noon. During the rest of the day the temperature drop was gradual.

Winds yesterday reached a velocity of 35 miles per hour and slightly stirred the dust. Today more moderate northerly winds were predicted up to 25 miles per hour.

The forecast for Lubbock and vicinity was partly cloudy and slightly warmer today, and Friday somewhat warmer.

Friday morning the temperature was expected to fall to freezing again.

Throughout most of the state yesterday, Texans cleaned away the grime left by the state's worst dust storm in ten years, working in cooler weather brought by the norther.

Crop Damage Feared

In Lubbock, County Agent D. W. Sherrill said that wheat probably suffered by the uprooting of some of the young plants and the covering up by sand drifts of others.

Some points — Dallas, Fort Worth, Mineral Wells, among them—reported light blowing dust at times Wednesday as winds reached 30 mile an hour or more, the Associated Press reported.

But the Dallas Weather bureau called these local conditions—nothing to compare with the billowing clouds which Tuesday's heavy duster deposited across a broad belt of the state.

The Biggs Air Force base weather unit at El Paso recorded varied types of weather Wednes-

President To Study Board's Report

Next Move In Coal Strike Up To HST

(By The Associated Press)

THE next move for ending the nationwide soft coal shutdown was put up to President Truman Wednesday.

The coal strike fact-finding board sent Mr. Truman its report shortly before noon. The White House said the Chief Executive would take the report with him on a trip to Williamsburg, Va., so he could study it. Any new action appeared unlikely before the end of the week. The President expects to return to Washington Saturday.

Now that he has the report the Taft-Hartley law requires, the President can seek a court order to end the strike for at least 80 days.

Bill Aimed At Lewis

At the same time, Rep. Hartley (R-NJ) co-author of the Taft-Hartley act, introduced a bill to make the anti-trust laws apply to labor unions. His measure admittedly was aimed at John L. Lewis, union chief of the striking miners. The bill, an amendment of the Taft-Hartley act, would make it unlawful for labor unions to conspire in restraint of trade.

Buying orders flooded in and prices rose on New York's struck stock and curb exchanges. The two exchanges opened business on the dot at 10 o'clock. New York policemen patrolled the stock exchange entrance to avert any possible repetition of Tuesday's violence. The AFL Financial Employes union is striking for a new contract including higher pay and security clauses.

In Cleveland, wages and rules committees of three railroad unions met to study a presidential fact-finding board's recommendation of a 15½ cents an hour wage increase. The railroads have agreed to pay the hike.

Jury Completed In Murder Case

CROSBYTON, March 31 (Special)—A 72nd district court jury was completed about 4 p. m. here today in the W. Fred Jones murder trial. Examination of 104 members of a special venire was required to obtain the jury.

The state immediately commenced questioning of its first witness, but had not finished when court was adjourned by Judge Dan Blair at 6 p. m. The court will convene again Thursday at 9 a.m.

Employe Was Slain

Representing the state are District Attorney Lloyd Croslin, Lubbock, of 72nd judicial district, District Attorney John Stapleton, Plainview, of 110th judicial district, and two special prosecutors, Mead Griffin, of Plainview, and Lloyd A. Wicks, of Ralls.

The defense is represented by E. T. 'Dusty' Miller and Col. E. A. Simpson, both of Amarillo.

Jones, 38, is charged with murder with malice in connection with the slaying in Floydada of H. C. Love, Jr., 23. The defense had offered testimony that alleged that Jones had discovered an illicit relationship between his wife and Love. The latter was an employe of Jones' grocery store in Floydada.

At a former trial, Jones was convicted and assessed the death penalty. The case was reversed and

Demos Opposing HST May Meet

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP) —A meeting of anti-Truman Democrats from all sections of the United States was predicted today by Senator Olin D. Johnston (D-SC).

A group of southern Democrats already has planned a May meeting in Mississippi to advance their fight to withhold the presidential nomination from President Truman.

And from Columbia, S. C., today came a call for southern state Democratic chairmen to meet at Atlanta, Ga., April 12 and 13 to develop further plans for opposing Mr. Truman's civil rights program.

Conference Planned

Senator Johnston said a South Dakota Democratic leader, whose name he did not disclose, had suggested the nationwide anti-Truman conference.

The South Carolinian said such a session would be for the best interest of the party and he expected one to be scheduled by Democratic leaders who opposed the President.

Johnston also told a reporter he plans to confer soon with Edward J. Flynn, New York Democratic national committeeman, on the possibility of New York taking the lead in disavowing Mr. Truman as a candidate.

Johnston said he had been discussing opposition to Mr. Truman with Democratic leaders from other states.

One Democratic leader, whom Johnston would not identify, sent him a copy of a letter to J. Howard McGrath, chairman of the Democratic national committee, suggesting the committee conduct a survey of the party "as was done by Jim Farley in 1932."

Roaring Fire Rages In Mexican Town; Homes Threatened

(By The Associated Press)

CIUDAD MANTE, Mex., March 31—A roaring fire which destroyed 10 blocks of the business district during four hours swept toward the residential section tonight.

The police department said at 7:30 p. m. efforts to check the blaze were unsuccessful. A brisk wind fanned the flames.

The Pan-American highway leading north and south of this city 410 miles south of Laredo, Tex., was crowded with people carrying their belongings.

Firemen arrived here from Tampico 97 miles west to help fight the fire. The town has no fire department. Citizens, Army troops and the Police department formed bucket brigades but they made little headway.

The flames are moving in the direction of Mante's big sugar mill which provides employment for many of the people here.

Police said they did not know how the fire started.

Mahon Announces For Re-Election

WASHINGTON, Mar. 31 (Special)—Congressman George H. Mahon, Texas Democrat, announced here yesterday that he will be a candidate to succeed himself in the forthcoming primaries and the general election next November.

MAHON

Mahon, a high-ranking member of the House Appropriations committee, represents the 25-county 19th Texas district, including Lubbock.

He has been a member of the national House of Representatives since his first election in 1934.

The tall, soft-spoken Mahon, whose home is in Colorado City, currently is serving as chairman of the powerful Texas delegation in Congress.

He expects to return to his district prior to Texas' July Democratic primaries and contact voters if national and international conditions will permit.

Plane Reported Crashed, Burned

KINGSTON, N. Y., March 31 (AP)—A two-engine plane was reported to have exploded in the air and crashed and burned on a lonely wooded mountainside near here early tonight.

No other details were available immediately.

A party of officers and citizens set out immediately for the scene, believed about two miles from the nearest road, but one official said it might be several hours before any word was received from the group.

The crash was reported to have taken place on Moonhaw mountain in the Catskills, about 75 miles northwest of New York City. The town nearest the mountain is West Shokan, with a population of less than 500. Many of West Shokan's residents headed for the mountain.

In New York, airlines operating in the area said none of their craft was missing and official air agencies had no report of a mishap. Military fields also had no word.

West Shokan is on the shore of New York City's giant Ashokan reservoir. It is a few miles northwest of Kingston, county seat of Ulster county.

Nationwide Walkout Threatened In Italy

ROME, March 31 (AP) — The Communists threatened tonight to order a nation-wide strike which would paralyze Italy for a 10-day period before the April 18 national elections.

Giuseppe Di Vittorio, Communist president of Italy's 6,000,000-member General Labor confederation (CGIL), announced in Palermo, Sicily, the organization's executive committee would call the strike if police fail to find a missing Sicilian labor leader by April 6.

The committee's decision was made by majority vote of its leftist members. Minority members representing the three government parties did not participate in the vote.

Senate Takes Segregation Ban Off Federal Aid For Education

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP)— The Senate, debating legislation for $300,000,000 federal aid for education yearly, today added language intended to assure that the federal government will do nothing to upset race segregation in southern schools.

Senator Connally (D-Tex) proposed the amendment. The Senate took it by voice vote.

A roll call vote of 80 to 5 left the states free to aid church and private schools with money they get from the federal government.

Chile Calls For Pan-American Stand Against Soviet Threat

By JOSEPH F. McEVOY
Associated Press Staff Writer

BOGOTA, Colombia, March 31— Chile called on the American republics today to take a stand against Communist Russia.

Juvenal Hernandez, Chilean foreign minister, told the Inter-American conference the world was divided into two fronts—one which seeks to impose a new political totalitarianism, and another which seeks to defend western culture by democratic means.

Hernandez said Chile has taken its position with the nations which defend democracy and liberty and added "that should be the attitude of all the nations of America."

Chile recently severed diplomatic relations with Russia, as did Brazil. Hernandez' speech drew a burst of applause from the delegates and the gallery.

"This is the time for decision," he said, "and there is no place for a third position."

His address was one of three formal addresses before the plenary session of the ninth Pan-American conference meeting here to take up among other things a

Investigation Of Hatch Act Charges In New Mexico Asked

WASHINGTON, March 31. (AP) —Secretary Anderson asked Congress today to investigate charges which he said had been made that Agriculture department employes in New Mexico are violating the Hatch act.

That act bars political activity by most federal workers.

Friends of Anderson said today he will quit the cabinet sooner than he had planned if opposition to his candidacy for the Democratic senatorial nomination in New Mexico materializes.

UN Is Urged To Invite Czech President To Tell Of Red Coup

(By The Associated Press)

LAKE SUCCESS, March 31— China urged the Security Council today to invite President Benes here to tell about the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia.

China's chief delegate, Dr. T. F. Tsiang, expressed hope Russia would support such a move. But Russia has already denounced the whole affair in the council.

Before Dr. Tsiang spoke to the Security Council, Chile and Canada proposed that the delegates hear from Czechoslovakian leaders who have escaped from their Communist-dominated homeland.

Dr. Tsiang made one of the strongest speeches he has yet presented to any United Nations organ. He said the council—and the world—must face up to the Czechoslovakian problem now rather than wait two, three or five years.

He endorsed the United States demand for a full investigation of Chile's charges that Russia helped the Communists grab power in Prague.

GRAY MARKET DEALS PROBED

Boston Company Buys Radios In Order To Obtain Scarce Steel

WASHINGTON, March 31 (U.P.)—A House subcommittee investigating the steel gray market was told today how a Boston firm purchased $875,000 worth of surplus radios to obtain several tons of hard-to-get sheet steel.

The transaction was described to the committee by L. D. Roberts. He said he was a veteran Houston steel broker. The subcommittee is checking the effect of premium steel costs on retail stove and refrigerator prices.

Sought New Buyer

Roberts identified the Boston firm as Clark, White and Co. Even counting a $580,000 loss on the radios, he said, the steel eventually should return a profit of about $400,000. Because of current scarcities, he said, sheet steel commands premium prices.

Roberts testified that an employe of Clark, White and Co. received $10,000 merely for a telephone call putting him (Roberts) in touch with the firm.

He said both the steel and the radios came from the International Detrola Corp. of Detroit, Mich. He bumped into the deal, he said, while shopping for sheet steel for a prospective Argentina purchaser.

Detrola finally agreed to give him the 9,000 tons of steel, Roberts said, if he also would take 28,200 radios it was finding hard to move. When the Argentinian was unable to raise the necessary dollars, Roberts began looking for another customer.

He said C. P. Porter, an employe of Clark, White and Company's Texas oil branch, put him in touch with Forrester A. Clark, a top official of the Boston company. Porter got $10,000 for the service.

Clark accepted the deal, Roberts said, after he assured him he could absorb the expected loss on the radios and still make a profit by selling the steel at premium prices. Roberts said he is to get 15 per cent of the profit.

Morton C. Chesler of Chicago, whose Hanna Steel Corp. sold the first two lots of steel for the Boston company, said Clark, Smith and Co. received $657,189 for the first 6,100 tons of steel. The radios brought $295,000. That virtually returned the original outlay of $875,000.

Roberts did not account for the other 2,900 tons of steel Detrola was to sell Clark. But he said he expected to make about $60,000 from his 15 per cent commission. This would bring the total expected profit to about $400,000.

Roberts denied that Detrola corporation had solicited him to buy the radios in a tie-in deal. He said the arrangement was arrived at by mutual consent after lengthy negotiations for the purchase of steel.

ROME, March 31 (AP)—Mauro Scoccimarro, Communist leader and former finance minister, complained today that letters from the United States urging Italians to vote down Communism represent foreign interference in Italian affairs. Man Is Convicted On Morals Charge After Woman Hypnotized

MARTINEZ, Calif., March 31 (AP)—Donald E. Hickock, once a Sunday school teacher and church elder, was convicted today of hypnotizing a young woman and while she was in his powers, committing "an unnatural sex act."

Hickock's motion for a new trial was denied. He was sentenced immediately to San Quentin prison where he faces a term of one to 15 years. The exact term will be fixed by the adult authority.

The 38-year-old physio-therapist was convicted of committing the criminal and immoral act upon Dolores J. Ramey in 1946. Mrs. Ramey is 19 now.

Mrs. Ramey told the jury she was "wide awake and knew what was going on" but was entirely helpless under Hickock's hypnotic spell. She said Hickock hypnotized both her and Mrs. Evelyn Carpenter. He carried Mrs. Carpenter into another room then returned, fixed her with his "piercing black eyes" until she was in his power.

Dr. Joseph Catton, San Francisco psychiatrist, was the state's last witness. He testified some persons when hypnotized could be induced to commit immoral and even criminal acts.

Demo Solon Urges Both Party Conventions To Nominate 'Ike'

WASHINGTON, March 31 (U.P.)—Rep. Thomas G. Abernethy, D., Miss., today gave a new twist to the Eisenhower - for - President boom.

He proposed that both the Democratic and Republican conventions nominate General Ike for President.

"We know he will serve if elected," Abernethy said, "and, if nominated by both parties he will undoubtedly be elected."

Still Backing General

Abernethy and other Southern Democratic congressmen insist that Eisenhower's disavowal of presidential ambitions is not final. They contend the former Army chief of staff can be drafted.

Abernethy's statement was inserted in the House record. He said Dwight D. Eisenhower, as president would unite the nation "as never before."

The Mississipian said Americans are "sick and tired of finger-pointing by Republicans and Democrats. He said they want Congress to sit down and work out the nation's problems in unity and harmony.

Party Affiliation Unknown

Abernethy said nobody knows whether Eisenhower is a Democrat or Republican. But that doesn't matter, he added.

"The only way to unite our people is for the delegates of both parties to go to their conventions and nominate this man," he said.

"Let him be the nominee of all. The President of all. The leader of all."

Many Southern Democrats hopeful of blocking nomination of President Truman, ar. clinging to a belief that Eisenhower can be drafted.

GOP SOLON HITS DEMOS FOR ATTACKS ON TRUMAN

WASHINGTON, March 31 (U.P.)—A Republican congressman today denounced "unfair and jackal" attacks by democrats on President Truman.

Rep. A. L. Miller, Neb., said "these plotters are like a pack of marauding jackals in attempting to tear down the candidacy of Harry S. Truman."

"They seem to have forgotten," he said, "that he is the President of the United States as well as the head of their party."

Miller said "the defection of two of the Roosevelt sons . . . Seems to me to approach a new low in political immorality." (Elliott and Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., last week urged that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower be nominated as Democratic candidate for President.)

On the other hand, Miller said he welcomes the formation of a Democrats - f o r - MacArthur movement.

Miller, in a speech prepared for House delivery, described himself as "the original MacArthur man" in Congress.

Texas Democrats Plan Barbecue To Raise State Party Funds

FORT WORTH, March 31 (U.P.)—Texas Democratic leaders hope to attract 3,000 party members to a $5-a-person barbecue here April 20 to raise money for the 1948 campaign in Texas.

Original plans for a $25 a plate dinner were scrapped in favor of an outdoor affair at the southwestern exposition showgrounds at a lower price. Party leaders figure more persons will attend the barbecue, and if 3,000 pay $5 each party coffers will be bolstered by $15,000.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester will head a speaking program in Will Rogers auditorium after the barbecue. Money raised at the gathering will be used solely for party work in Texas, none going to the national fund.

APRIL FOOL'S DAY

IF you find salt in the sugar bowl this morning, discover knots in your shirt sleeves, kick an old hat out of your path only to find a brick hidden beneath it—you'll be an April Fool!

While this day is not recognized by any governments, it is nonetheless observed in many countries. Besides the many "April Fools" of our own country, there are the English equivalents, known as "noddies, gawbies, gobbies or April gobs," the French "April fish," and the Scottish, "April gowks."

The origin of the custom of playing pranks on the first day of April is obscure now, but the favorite theory of historians is that the custom stems from observance of the spring equinox.

April Fool's day hasn't been much fun for the officials of the New York Aquarium and the Zoological garden. That's the day they are swamped with telephone messages for Mr. Fish" and "Mr. Camel."

LOST PERSONS

SINCE this vast prairie space was first developed, many a hunting party has been organized to search for children or adults who wandered from wagons or cars or homes. "It's the least we can do and if a member of our family or a friend was lost we would expect and know we would receive the same consideration," seemed to be the rule back of those searches.

A Twentieth Century note was introduced to searches this week when James R. Hundley, Jr., of Post, a pilot in World War II, took to the air to try to locate the plane believed to have gone down in Tuesday's dust storm.

He came into Post after a four hour survey from the air and planned to go out again if weather conditions did not ground him.

Referring to his efforts in a matter-of-fact manner, he said it was just what he hoped someone would do for him if he ever were a missing flier.

BUSINESS WOMAN'S DRESS

ANN Delafield, director of a beauty success school who has been chosen as the best-dressed business woman in the United States for the third time, has a few basic rules she is willing to share with other career girls.

According to successful Miss Delafield the basic business costume should always be a starkly, dramatically simple dark-colored dress or suit, never man-tailored, because a woman can never compete with a man when dressed like one!

Business women should start out in the morning with two complete sets of accessories! One set for the office, such as trim collars and cuffs and tailored jewelry—the other set for "date bait," such as lacey neckware, a frivolous veil and exotic jewelry.

For basic physical endurance, according to Miss D., the hard-working business woman should wear medium high heels (flats are unflattering, she believes)—but always keep a glamorous pair of "spike heeled" shoes at the office for unexpected dates!

* * *

WELL, if Lubbock business women have the nerve to keep a complete hat closet and shift their millinery scenes from time to time; or if they have the nerve to change to a frilly blouse and add exotic jewelry through the office after the transformation from a desk slave to a slick chick, we'd like to hear about it!

Easter Wedding Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Andesson of 1420 Eighth are announcing the marriage of their granddaughter, Miss Mildred Marie Hawkins, and Ben D. Ware, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ware of route 1, which was read Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock in their home. Rev. Floyd Dawson officiated at a double ring service before a mantel decorated with white snapdragons and white tapers in candelabra, flanked with an arrangement of Easter lilies and fern.

Miss Frances Patterson lighted the candles.

Mrs. C. A. Sumner played the wedding music and accompanied Miss Lucy Bull who sang "Peg o' My Heart" and "Always." She offered "Because" as the vows were exchanged.

The bride, given in marriage by her grandfather, wore a white suit with pale blue blouse and gloves; a black straw hat with white veil and carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid showered with blue and white streamers. She wore a double strand of pearls. Something old was a gold bracelet belonging to Mrs. Myrtle Son; something borrowed, earbobs belonging to Miss Mary Jo Norman of Borger, and she wore a penny in her shoe for luck.

Attendant To Bride

Miss Cora Boozer was maid of honor. She wore a yellow suit, green accessories and a gardenia corsage arranged on brown net with ribbon streamers.

James Ware of Amarillo served his brother as best man.

At a reception that followed, the bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and the center of attraction was the three tiered cake topped with a miniature bridal couple.

Assist At Reception

Mrs. L. A. Green and Mrs. E. V. Parr served cake and Mrs. A. E. Ellis and Mrs. Jim Davis presided at the tea service. Mrs. Irene Barton received guests.

When the couple left for a trip to Ruidoso the bride wore a light blue gabardine suit with black accessories. After April 4, they will be at home at 2118 Sixteenth.

Mr. Ware is superintendent of the Swift and company branch house. After graduation from Lubbock High school, he served three years with the Marines. The bride, a graduate of Lubbock High school, has been employed at Southwestern Associated Telephone company.

There were guests from Frederick, Okla., Borger, Wimberly, Odessa and Amarillo.

The bride recently was honored with a miscellaneous shower given at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Jim Davis, 1410 Sixth. Mrs. E. R. Croft and Mrs. A. E. Ellis assisted. The lace-laid table was centered with an arrangement of pink and white snapdragons on a reflector.

Approximately 40 guests called.

In the 13th century, a widespread belief was that a sapphire set in a ring would cure carbuncles; a garnet, bee stings.

McCoy Church Is Scene Of Wedding

The marriage of Miss Lila Jo Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Smith of Portales, N. M., and Bartley D. Fanning, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Fanning of Plainview, took place Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock at the McCoy Baptist church with Rev. Wayne Eurich performing a double ring ceremony. Altar decorations included lilies, fern and candelabra.

Miss Ann Payne, pianist, played for Miss Loveta Cummings as she sang "Because" and for Miss Jo Dell Pharr as she whistled "I Love You Truly." "Traumerei" was offered during the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of brocade and slipper satin fashioned with a fitted bodice, long pointed sleeves and a short train. Her veil was of imported English net edged with rose point lace. She carried gardenias on a white Bible belonging to Lillian Doughty of Happy.

Attendants Named

Mrs. Orvis Phillips of Lubbock, matron of honor, wore a dress of pale blue taffeta fashioned after the bride's. Her colonial bouquet was of pink rosebuds and sweetpeas. Miss Mava Smith of Floydada, sister of the bride and maid of honor, wore a dress of orchid marquisette and her bouquet was of sweetpeas. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Donald Finkner of Floydada who wore a pink moire taffeta dress and Miss Helen Barnhart of Wayland college who wore a yellow moire taffeta dress. Each carried sweetpeas.

Candlelighters were Misses Ruth and Nell Reddy of Floydada.

Give Reception

Parents of the bride and bridegroom and members of the wedding party assisted with hospitalities at the reception which was given in the church parlors following the ceremony.

The bride's table was laid with an ecru lact cloth and centered with a three tiered wedding cake which was served by Mrs. Bill Daniels. Mrs. Griggs Hulsey presided at the punch bowl.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home at 2101 Ave. L. For travel, the bride wore a powder blue crepe dress with black accessories.

Financing Problem Delays Sale Of Surplus Housing At Orange

ORANGE, Tex., March 31 (AP)—The proposed government sale of surplus war housing to individuals here has been held up because prospective buyers are unable to obtain financing at the prices set by the Public Housing administration, The Orange Leader said today.

Rep. J. M. Combs of Texas told The Leader today from Washington by telephone that he may ask postponement of the sale until the government itself agrees to provide the financing.

The project involved is the Navy park addition where the government operated 150 duplex wood frame dwellings for war workers.

Fifty-eight of the dwellings have been sold to veterans for removal from the site at $1,750 each. Ninety-two were scheduled to be sold with lots at from $4,450 to $5,350 each.

Financing Not Available

Bids on these were scheduled to be opened March 23 but only 25 offers to purchase had been received.

Representative Combs was advised by local veterans groups and business men that financing was not available from private sources.

The Federal Housing authority and the Public Housing authority then reached an agreement under which FHA would provide loan guarantees on 79 of the houses provided "certain repairs and minor changes in construction" were made. PHA then decided to sell the remaining dwellings for removal at $1,750 each.

New bid opening date on the 79 for on-site use is April 14 but Representative Combs told the Leader today that the situation was not improved because "nobody is buying title 6 (FHA loan guarantee) paper these days."

Combs said he was continuing the fight to have the Reconstruction Finance company or some other government agency come in and buy the mortgages on the houses.

"I want financing actually available, not merely promised, when these dwellings are finally put up for sale," he declared.

Congressman Combs said that title 6 mortgages are not in demand because "other types of investments available offer greater interest yield."

The congressman said he hopes a bill now pending in Congress will be liberalized to make title 6 loans more attractive.

Combs added, "I'm going all the way on this to see that people who want these homes are able to find means of financing them. The present arrangement is inadequate because the government simply offers guarantee loans under a proposition which private investors do not consider attractive enough to bother with."

Whitewright Woman Observes 100th Birthday At Home

WHITEWRIGHT, March 31 (AP)—Mrs. Mandy A. Mangrum of Whitewright celebrated her 100th birthday at her home today. She said she never had expected to attain that age.

Relatives and friends called at the home to congratulate Mrs. Mangrum. Sunday a special service was held in her honor at the Baptist church here and a celebration dinner was held at her home.

Mrs. Mangrum was born March 31, 1848 at Chestnut Bluff in Dyer county, Tenn.

She apparently is in good health and attends church regularly. Two of her six children are dead. She had 19 grandchildren, 16 great-grandchildren and two great-great grandchildren.

Good Demand Is Reported In Southwest For Alfalfa Hay

DALLAS, March 31 (U.P.)—Alfalfa hay found active demand on southwestern markets during the past week, the production and marketing administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported today.

Best inquiry was for top quality alfalfa showing both color and leaf, although sound brown alfalfa moved without difficulty.

Sales for the week at Kansas City ranged from $34 to $40 per ton for hay equivalent to U. S. No. 1 and $16 to $32 for lower grades.

Prairie hay markets continued to drag, even though offerings were sharply reduced. Occasional carlots sold at Kansas City from $10 to $15 a ton.

A review of hay trading in the Southwest during the past month showed little change in prices, the PMA reported. A tendency for growers to clean out remaining stocks before spring farm work got into full swing was reflected, however.

Compared to last year, current alfalfa prices ranged $1 to $3 per ton lower. Prairie hay prices were down $7 to $10 below levels of April 1, 1947.

Three Army Cooks Take Top Honors In Virginia Contest

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., March 31 (AP)—They're probably going back for "seconds" at Camp Lee today.

The chow lines at that Army post should be getting crowded now that three camp cook instructors have taken first place honors in the second annual Virginia chefs' tournament.

They were up against Virginia's finest.

The three officers are Captains Frank J. Birdsall, Jr., and Frank B. Ford and Lieut. William H. Kettle.

Their winning entries:

Captain Birdsall—Apple fritters.

Captain Ford—Scrambled eggs and ginger bread.

Lieut. Kettle—Tied for first for sweet potatoes; sausage and shad.

JUSTICE—William O. Douglas, associate justice of the U. S. Supreme Court, has received mention as a possible vice presidential candidate on the Democratic ticket.

Gen. Ramey Leaves For Duty With Air Force In Pacific

FORT WORTH, March 31 (AP)—Gen. Roger M. Ramey, Eighth Air force commander, left last Saturday for temporary duty in the pacific, an Air Force spokesman said today.

Ramey was to join Task Force seven, a combined maneuver by the Army, Navy and Air Force.

His headquarters said he is expected to return in about one month.

New Date Is Set For Condemnation Case

A hearing on application of Wayman Henry and others for a temporary injunction enjoining the City of Lubbock from taking possession of property in southeast Lubbock without proceeding with condemnation was ordered reset for 9 a. m. April 7 by Judge G. V. Pardue of 99th district court Wednesday.

He further ordered that a temporary restraining order issued earlier without notice be continued until date of the hearing.

The court found that it was "impossible to consider" the application inasmuch as City Attorney Vaughn E. Wilson was required to be in Austin due to arrangements of approximately $2,000,000 of City of Lubbock bonds on April 2.

Both sides agreed Tuesday afternoon in that chamber, in the case of Earl Ince, jr., and others against the City of Lubbock, to a continuance of plaintiffs' application for a temporary restraining order, until 10 a. m on April 10.

A hearing is set for that time and, pending it, a temporary restraining order granted March 23, enjoining the city against erecting a curb in front of Ince's grocery on South Ave. H, remains in force.

Officer Leo Horton said five had already admitted taking part in wrecking of school property last Friday. Hundreds of books were torn and scattered, a $900 clock was smashed and six sewing machines were battered.

Officer Horton said all six boys, ranging in age from 13 to 18 years, had previous records as juvenile delinquents. They will be tried in juvenile court.

Surplus Buildings At Del Rio Air Field For Sale To Public

DALLAS, March 31 (AP) — The regional office of the War Assets administration announced today 310 surplus buildings at Laughlin air fields at Del Rio previously reserved for priority claimants have been released for sale to the public on April 14-15.

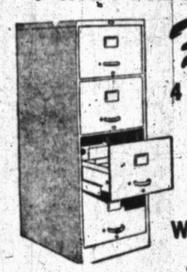

A scheduled public sale on the buildings was cancelled last month prior to a government agency ruling that priority claims for them were invalid. They will be offered without priority on a high bid basis during a two-day location sale.

Priority claimants, including 87 Texas school districts, were awarded 144 additional structures at the Laughlin field.

The public sale will include warehouses, shops, administration, barracks, post exchange, hangars, supply, recreation, mess halls, lavatories, officers' quarters, and other GI types. They will be offered singly to the assembled bidders for removal from the grounds.

The air field will be open for inspection of the property by prospective purchasers from April 1 through April 13, excepting Saturdays and Sundays.

SOLONS WARN OF TREASON

Negro Leader Says Many Of His Race Oppose 'Jim Crow' Army

WASHINGTON, March 31. (AP) —A negro union leader told Congress today that millions of negroes will refuse to be drafted into a "Jim Crow" army. He said he would advise them not to bear arms and drew a warning that treason charges might result if he does.

The witness, A. Philip Randolph, president of the AFL Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, declared that negroes "never will" win civil rights unless a drastic step is taken.

Appearing before the Senate Armed Services committee, he and other negro leaders asked that amendments against racial discrimination and segregation be included in any temporary draft or universal military training legislation.

Refusal Claimed Mistake

"I personally will advise negroes to refuse to fight as slaves for a democracy they can not possess and can not enjoy," Randolph asserted.

His proposal for a civil disobedience protest against the draft brought advice from Senators Morse (R-Ore) and Baldwin (R-Conn) that he is making a mistake and harming the civil rights cause.

But Randolph, who recently told President Truman that negroes would hesitate to shoulder arms unless segregation were abolished, declared that "we've got to face this thing sooner or later and we might as well face it right now."

Chaplain Backs Threat

Randolph appeared along with other members of a "committee against Jim Crow in military service and training." He said he spoke only for himself and was not sure other members of the committee would support a civil disobedience campaign.

But Grant Reynolds, chairman of the committee and also New York state commissioner of corrections, said he would go along with any program. Randolph proposed, "including civil disobedience."

Reynolds, an Army chaplain during the war, said the negroes could only fight with "the weapons of truth and non-cooperation in any form or variety of compulsory Jim Crow."

Treatment Scored

During the war, he asserted, negro soldiers were humiliated, beaten and otherwise mistreated.

Besides the UMT and draft amendments, his committee also asked no Jim Crow in interstate travel for trainees in uniform, a federal penalty for attacking or lynching a trainee, no poll tax for trainees voting in federal elections and civil rights guarantees.

Another witness, Albert Black, chairman of the committee's Washington chapter, also protested against what he called an Army policy of sending negro soldiers to the South for training.

Price Is Terrorism

Black, an Army veteran, said negroes "do not like the South; do not like Georgia; do not like to serve on a post as viciously segregated as exists in the typical southern camp."

And if the country goes to war?

Randolph replied slowly that there is time to change the laws, but if it were not done, he "would recommend that negroes take no part in the Army."

If such a nationwide protest of negroes developed, the witness conceded, it probably would "cause terrorism" among them. He said he thinks that is "a price we have to pay to get our democratic rights."

New Bridge Across Rio Grande Is Asked

AUSTIN, March 31. (AP)—Construction of a $1,000,000 free bridge across the Rio Grande at Del Rio was sought before the State Highway commission here today.

A delegation from the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and Fort Worth and Del Rio Chambers of Commerce asked prompt action in preparing plans before federal authority for the international bridge expires. The authorizing act of Congress calls for construction to begin by August, 1949, and completion by 1951.

The West Texans said the bridge between Del Rio and Villa Acuna would be a boon to Latin American trade relations.

No action was taken by the commission.

Program For Expanding TVA Service In Emergency Asked

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP)—President Truman ordered the Tennessee Valley authority today to submit a program for expanding its electric power capacity in an emergency.

He asked TVA chairman Gordon R. Clapp to report how much electricity the authority could turn out in case of necessity, and what it would take to do it.

The move was one more development in the President's broad survey of United States economic potential in the face of the world situation.

Emphasizing its importance in the general blueprint of American strength, two of the President's top economic advisers sat in on his conference with Clapp at the White House. They were Edwin G. Nourse, chairman of his Council of Economic Advisers, and Arthur M. Hill, chairman of the National Security Resources board.

Gen. Clark Says U. S. Would Have Trouble Defending Plants If West Coast Attacked

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP)—General Mark W. Clark said today that if the West coast were attacked "we would have great difficulty in defending such places as the Boeing aircraft plant and the Hanford Atomic energy plant."

The Sixth Army commander added at a news conference:

"We have a security guard at those plants, but no troops. If we needed them, we would have to send them there from our combat units."

Asked how he felt about the coming elections in Italy, where he was in command of U. S. forces during the war, replied:

"Twenty-five thousand of our boys lie buried there, and we are worried that the fruits of their victory might go down a rathole."

Clark talked with reporters along with other Army commanders who have been summoned to Washington to confer with the chief of staff, General Omar N. Bradley, on plans for Army expansion under the proposed selective service and universal military training measures.

General Jacob L. Devers, chief of the Army field forces, said in reply to a question "we are not convinced that all the Communists are out of the Army, but we are screening them out as fast as we can."

Asked about plans for negro troops, Devers said the intention was to continue to "take care of them as we do in the Army today." He explained that now one negro battalion is placed in a regiment with two white battalions.

Stock Show Steer Presented Tech

Sir Spencer X, a hereford steer purchased by the Hemphill Wells company at the South Plains Junior Fat Stock show, has been presented through Mr. Spencer Wells, to the animal husbandry department at Texas Tech, W. L. Stangel, dean of agriculture has announced.

This is the tenth in a line of steers presented to the college by the company since Sir Spencer I was given to the department in 1932. This first steer was kept for one year and sold after being shown at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show at Fort Worth for the then fancy price of $6.50 per 100 pounds.

The pattern has been repeated during the eight following years when a suitable steer has been available with the college showing them at the State Fair and the Southwestern Exposition and selling them at auction following these events each year. Prices paid for the steers have ranged from the $6.50 paid for Sir Spencer I to $35 per hundred paid for Sir Spencer X, which set a record at the Fort Worth show in 1947 after winning the Best of Class award and being named Reserve Champion of the show. Swift and Company, who bought the two steers mentioned above, has purchased a majority of the rest of the line.

The steer presented this year placed thirteenth in the lightweight Hereford steer class at the South Plains Junior Fat Stock Show. It will be used for class instruction and, if it developes satisfactorily, will be exhibited at the state fair this fall and possibly in the fat stock show at Fort Worth in 1949, Dean Stangel stated.

Mexico Okays Importation Of Whiskies Under New Order

MEXICO CITY, March 31. (AP) —Thirsty Merico will begin receiving imported whiskies under an order issued today by Secretary of Treasury Ramon Beteta.

Imports of whisky along with other luxury items ranging from cosmetics to automobiles has been prohibited since last year when the government took steps to protect its dollar balance.

At the same time the Treasury Secretary said a drive would start against counterbrand U. S. cigarets which have flowed into the country despite import restrictions.

Beteta also issued order preventing the sale of any automobile brought into the country by tourists or diplomats. Although the government's action last July 11 prohibited imports of autos, many tourists found ways of selling their cars.

LOST 47 POUNDS WITHOUT DIETING

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcentrate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful, in fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger.

Barcentrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here Is Proof

"When I started taking Barcentrate, I weighed 212 pounds and wore size 46 dresses. Now I wear size 18 and weigh 165 pounds. I started taking Barcentrate in March and by June I had lost 47 pounds. I would have lost more weight had I left off fattening foods, but I was anemic at that time and afraid to diet. People who knew me before I started taking Barcentrate are amazed at the weight I have lost. My flesh is firm; I have never become flabby or wrinkled and I am 40 years old.

"Before taking Barcentrate I couldn't do my house work without becoming exhausted; had dizzy spells and my head and back hurt me constantly. I was so short winded, I was miserable. But now all those things have gone and it is really a pleasure to do the chores I once dreaded.

"Three years ago I nearly died with Typhus fever and it left me anemic and I could never get my blood count up again or get back my energy. After taking Barcentrate my blood count started up and is now normal. So you see why I praise Barcentrate so highly and recommend it. Any praise I can give Barcentrate is small compared to the relief and happiness it has brought me."—Mrs. Eula Whitehead, 509 Harmon, Corpus Christi, Texas.

At All Druggists

The above is one of hundreds of amazing endorsements we have received.

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe, easy way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

New Move To Include Spain In Marshall Plan Faces Opposition

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

There is only one explanation for the surprising unanimity of the House in deciding that Spain should be included in the Marshall Plan.

It's a hard world.

Franco represents the totalitarianism against which the world's democracies have been struggling for 15 years. It's not merely Spain. It's a way of thought and a way of government.

Move Scored In Italy

It has become a step-by-step war, in which we have been taking on the most dangerous enemies of the moment, using against them the weapons of most immediate effect. By that token we are willing to accept the help of governments of which we disapprove in order to keep their countries from falling under the sway of the chief opponent.

If the attitude of the House of Representatives toward Spain should happen to prevail, that will be America's only answer to the tide of criticism set up in Europe by the proposal.

But even the plea of expediency may prove insufficient.

The House action already has been very damaging to Allied hopes in Italy. The Communists cry "see, we told you America is Fascist!"

Senate Opposes Plan

The Senate, and the State department which is known to disapprove of cooperating with Franco, probably will block the proposal. The United Nations "near-boycott" on political relations with Spain will be a factor.

If the proposal is not blocked on this side of the water, there is a good chance that, lacking American diplomatic pressure in its behalf, the 16 Marshall Plan nations will themselves refuse to admit Franco to their circle.

They will argue, first, that Spain's own economic situation would prevent her from being of any value to the European recovery program, and that she is hardly in any shape to offer any substantial military support. And they can always point to the fact that Franco is not even dependable, citing his wartime side-stepping when Hitler and Mussolini asked repayment for the help they gave him in the Spanish civil war.

Before the war against totalitarianism can be entirely won, Franco is going to have to be ousted. As an ally we might build him up and then have him turn out just as did the Russians whom we built up during the war with Hitler.

Comedy Team To Tour Texas In Interest Of Crippled Children

HOUSTON, March 31 (U.P.)—The famed comedy team of Lou Costello and Bud Abbott have chosen Houston as the first stop on a tour of Texas in the interests of the Lou Costello, jr. foundation for underprivileged, sick and crippled children.

The foundation was started in 1945 shortly after the accidental drowning of Costello's son, Lou jr. The team will also appear in Dallas, Fort Worth and San Antonio.

The foundation enrollment includes 10,000 boys and girls, and to date Abbott and Costello have spent $350,000 on it.

Farm Work Increased Over Part Of State

AUSTIN, March 31 (AP)—Farm work in Texas was stepped up last week as fields became drier and the ground more workable.

Field work was still delayed in some parts of East Texas by too much moisture and in West Texas because of too little moisture. Some Edwards plateau and Trans-Pecos counties continued to be very dry, and rain is needed in the south to help damaged crops recover. Western pastures continue to need rain.

On the whole, the United States Department of Agriculture said in its weekly crop and weather bulletin, progress was made in farm work.

Wheat was doing well; some badly damaged oats was being plowed up; corn planting was under way; cotton planting and replanting continued in southern counties; large quantities of sweet potatoes were being bedded in the important east Texas area.

Planting and replanting of commercial vegetables was active as growers struggled to replace losses suffered in the mid-March freeze. A limited harvest of early onions in the Laredo area started.

Ranges and pastures continued to recover from the March freeze in eastern and central counties. Cool weather in the northwest and a shortage of moisture in western counties held back new green feed.

Sheep and cattle are generally very thin.

Funeral Services Will Be Held Today For Karl Crowley

FORT WORTH, March 31 (U.P.)—Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 10 a. m. for Karl A. Crowley, 53, one-time candidate for governor, who died in a hospital late yesterday after a long illness.

Crowley, who lost to W. Lee O'Daniel in the 1938 gubernatorial race, was stricken last fall with a heart ailment and entered a hospital shortly after Christmas.

Crowley served five years as postoffice solicitor in Fort Worth before resigning to run for governor. After the election, he resumed private law practice.

His father, R. C. Crowley, was a Tennessee judge and legislator and was a close friend of former Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

Schoolboy Golfers To Compete

Link Tourney To Be Held Here Saturday

At least eight of the top schoolboy golf teams of West Texas will vie for championship honors in the Lubbock High school class AA invitational links tournament Saturday at Lubbock country club, officials announced last night.

Entries have been received from Amarillo, Plainview, Midland and Abilene, tourney sponsors reported, and Big Spring, Odessa and Pampa have notified officials that they will enter teams in the meet. Other invitations have been mailed to Borger, Lamesa and San Angelo, but they had not turned in their entry blanks late Wednesday.

Awards To Be Given

The strong Big Spring and Abilene golf teams will hold the favored positions in the 36-hole medal play, but the host Lubbock Westerners will have the "home grounds" advantage. Amarillo usually fields a strong team, but this year's squad from the Panhandle is still untested.

The team with the lowest composite medal score will be awarded a revolving trophy, officials said, with the individual champion and runner-up slated to receive permanent trophies.

Each school will be allowed to enter a maximum of six men, but four of the group must be designated as the official team entry before play is started.

Local Tea Named

Lubbock team sponsor Floyd Honey announced last night that Ross Mitchell, Billy Tatum, George Canon, Edward Beane, Clyde Mitchell and Jack Whitehead will be the Westerner entries in the tourney. All of the schoolboys have participated in meets this year and Mitchell, Tatum and Canon were contestants in links features last year. Herb Schroeder, Lubbock Country club pro, serves as coach for the Lubbock squad.

The tournament will get underway at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, officials said. An entry fee of one dollar per player will be charged.

Sports Study

By Earl Scudday

All Oil Belt league baseball teams are rushing preparations for their first exhibition games Sunday, club officials have reported, with lengthy drill sessions being held in spite of unfavorable weather conditions. The Littlefield nine is shaping up as a strong contender for the circuit championship under the direction of former Hubber Boyd Watkins, but most predictions at the present time are more guesswork than an actual evaluation. Joe Holmes, league president, reports that a school for umpires of the Oil Belt loop will be conducted in Lubbock April 14.

• • •

Play for the league title will get underway April 18, with Levelland at Brownfield, Littlefield at Post, Slaton and Seagraves and Denver City at Sundown. The regular season will extend through Aug. 29, when the final tilts are slated. It looks like it will be an interesting summer for South Plains diamond fans.

• • •

J. W. Broome, jr., and Allen Webb of Lubbock recently returned from a very successful fishing trip to the Fox Hollow camp at Possum Kingdom lake. The anglers returned with 42 fish, most of them fairly large. Broome reported that they had the best luck with minnows, with the plug fishing very slow. Broome is planning a trip to Sugar lake in old Mexico, south of Laredo, within two or three weeks. Other South Plains fishermen reported good luck at Lake Buchanan near Austin, at least until the norther blew in last weekend.

A group of Amarillo sports fans are planning a drive for construction of a new high school football stadium, according to stories received from the Potter county city, with some individuals favoring a stadium with a seating capacity of 30,000. Amarillo sports writers point out that attendance at the Butler field games last fall was far below normal, but predict that the old stands will again be too small when Golden Sandie football fortunes take a rise.

• • •

Amarillo certainly needs a new stadium, since the present layout is definitely small and somewhat the worse for wear. The rest of the elevens in District 1-AA would welcome the opportunity to forget all about Butler field, as well as enjoying playing in a modern plant. Just in case the Amarilloans haven't looked into the cost of stadium construction recently, however, they are in for a rude shock. Here's a prediction that the 30,000 seat stadium they are talking about would cost at least $600,000 under present prices and that's a lot of long green.

• • •

Borger is another District 1-AA school that needs a better grid setup. The Bulldog field is poorly lighted, poorly drained and has only enough seats for the local fans. The inadequate lighting, combined with occasional blankets of smoke from the carbon black plants, hampers play to a considerable degree. As one Westerner end told the passer in a huddle during the tilt last year, "Go ahead and throw the ball, I'll be down there somewhere!"

Matty Bell And Bobby Dodd To Head Texas Coaching School

ABILENE, March 31 (AP)—Bobby Dodd, coach at Georgia Tech, and Matty Bell, coach of Southern Methodist university, will be head instructors at the Texas Coaching school here Aug. 2-6.

L. W. McConachie of El Paso, executive secretary of the State High School Coaches association, made the announcement today.

Dodd, who uses the T formation, will coach the South all-stars and Bell, who uses the single wingback, will tutor the North.

Ten-Year-Old Will Enter Keg Tourney

BORGER, March 31 (AP) — Ten-year-old Billy (Jiggers) Skillerton of Carlsbad, N. M., is expected to participate in the fourth annual West Texas-New Mexico Bowling tournament here April 24-May 9.

The youngster's average score is 149. He will team up with his father, Bill Skillerton, and other Carlsbad bowlers.

Outstanding Amateur Mitt Champs In Three-Day Meet

Twelve bouts matching some of the highest-ranking leather-slingers of the Panhandle and South Plains will feature the opening card of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce boxing tournament at 8 o'clock tonight at Sled Allen's arena.

A total of 41 fighters have already filed their entry blanks with Jaycee officials, with a 12-man team from Petersburg and a six-man squad from Portales, N. M., certain to arrive before the deadline at 6:30 o'clock tonight.

AAU Boxers Enter

The tourney was given a big boost late Wednesday when the Amarillo Amateur Athletic union boxing director told officials that several of the Panhandle sluggers who recently fought in the A.A.U. tourney at Kansas City recently would enter the Lubbock meet.

Other top-flight contestants in the open division will include Lubbock's Gene James and Texas Tech's Joaquin Bonilla in the heavyweight class; Tech's Frank Telles and Elmo Hall in the welterweight bracket; bantamweight Dwayne Driver of Idalou; and flyweights Skeeter Haggerton and Glenn Duckworth of Amarillo.

Telles, the Tech slugger with the atomic right, has improved rapidly since he took the runner-up spot in the district Golden Gloves tourney here and will be one of the featured boxers of the Jaycee meet.

High school title contenders will include Gene Briggs of Petersburg in the bantam class; James Forbes of Lubbock in the feather bracket; and Paul Hill of Tahoka, Lubbock district Golden Gloves high school middleweight champ.

Exhibition Slated

Bill Buck, one of the tournament directors, may fight an exhibition bout in the light-heavy class as a special feature, officials said. Buck won the Eighth fleet heavyweight title in 1945 and before the war was a prominent Lubbock Golden Gloves fighter.

Two special exhibition tussles are carded tonight, with six-year-old Johnny and Donnie Adams of Clovis, N. M., meeting in a "paperweight" clash at 7:30 o'clock and two Jaycee members, Glenn Woody and Gordon Sanders, tangling in a "grudge" fight in the fifth program bout.

Tickets On Sale

LaVern Roach of Plainview, youthful contender for the world's middleweight crown, will referee tonight's bouts.

Proceeds from the three night fight program will be used for civic projects, Jaycee officials emphasized, with the tuberculosis hospital and the negro nursery to receive most of the financial aid.

Tickets will be on sale at Wylie's drug until 5 o'clock this afternoon.

American Badminton Association Tourney Begins Today In Waco

WACO, March 31 (AP) — Top bird smashers from the United States and Canada were arriving today for the start of the American Badminton Association tournament which opens a three-day run tomorrow.

Among the early arrivals was Janet Wright of San Francisco, who shares the women's doubles championship with Miss Ethel Marshall, singles champion from Buffalo, N. Y.

The field is expected to number some 200 when the tournament opens.

President Warren Wheary and Secretary Rufus D. Beach, of Chicago, arrived Tuesday to assist Lloyd Russell, Baylor university physical education director, in arranging for the tournament.

Stratton Wins Grapple Match

After an hour and five minutes of wrestling in Sled Allen's arena last night, they finally were able to open the doors and let some fresh air in. During that space of time, Walter Stratton won two falls from Johnny Carlin and the Masked Marvel—Karl Gray team won two out of three flops from Ace Freeman-Eddie Gideon.

Most of the customers appeared satisfied with the results—and with the bouts—and a capacity crowd filed slowly out. For a few minutes it appeared that Freeman and Gideon would lodge official protest against the winning team, after they had left the ring.

Gray Was Losing

Reason for this action was the ungentlemanly way in which the winners took the deciding fall. Gray in the ring was taking a bad beating and it looked as though he would lose. At that point, the Masked Marvel took over and the pair stomped Freeman into submission, after a bit of hair pulling from outside the ropes.

Gray and Marvel took the first fall in 14 minutes, when the Marvel dropped Freeman with a series of slams and stomps. Freeman came back to pin the Marvel in seven minutes with an abdominal stretch and the match was even. Then came the finale, with the Marvel pinning Freeman with a body slam and smother in six minutes.

In the first main attraction, Stratton won a 29-minute fall on Referee Jimmy McEuin's disqualification of Carlin. He then returned to drop Carlin in nine minutes with a full nelson.

Amarillo To Invite Olympic Cage Fives To Play Game There

BORGER, March 31 (AP)—A campaign has been opened by the Amarillo Times and the Panhandle chapter of the Frank Phillips Men's club of Borger for the Bartlettsville, Okla. Oilers and Kentucky Wildcats to play an exhibition game in Amarillo.

The campaign started upon notice of consideration of an exhibition tour of the two teams for the purpose of securing funds to defray expenses for the Olympic games in London. The game would be played in the new Amarillo Sports arena.

Weather Halts Track Workout

A cold north wind kept the Lubbock High Westerner cinder path squad indoors Wednesday, but Coach Marlin Hayhurst sent the schoolboys through a lengthy calisthenics drill in an effort to keep the team in condition for the Big Spring Relays Saturday.

The squad was at near-full strength for the workout, but the Lubbock hopefuls have not been able to run outdoors all week and they will probably be unable to improve on performances chalked up last week.

A full-scale session is scheduled this afternoon at the Chapman field oval if weather permits, Hayhurst announced.

JAMAICA STRIKE TRUCE

NEW YORK, March 31 (U.P.) — Grooms and exercise boys today "temporarily postponed" their planned strike at the Jamaica race track, leaving the way clear for the New York racing season to open on schedule tomorrow.

Oilers Score 53-49 Win Over Kentucky Five In Cage Final

NEW YORK, March 31 (AP)—The titanic Bartlesville, Okla. Oilers, paced by seven-foot Bob Kurland, conquered University of Kentucky 53 to 49, in the Olympic basketball playoff finals tonight at Madison Square Garden.

A capacity crowd of 18,400 saw the national AAU champions choke off a spectacular last-half rally by the NCAA kings to win the trials.

The victory gave the Oilers' coach, Bud Browning, the task of guiding America's cage forces in the London Olympics in July.

This was about the only thing at stake since the Olympic committee previously had announced that the Olympic team would be made up of five players from each of the final teams and four picked from the entire field.

In the third place consolation, the Denver Nuggets outlasted Baylor university, 73-64.

Kurland, the Oilers' giant center, rang in 20 points to lead the Oklahomans. Ralph Beard, Kentucky's All-America guard, however, tallied 23 points for the best individual scoring performance of the evening.

Wallace (Wah Wah) Jones, Kentucky's six-foot-four sharpshooter, was put out of the game on personal fouls at the midway point of the second half.

Ray Lipscomb scored 29 points to lead the Denver team to victory over Baylor.

The aggressive Texans led at the half, 32-29, but midway in the second period the Amateur Athletic union team took command on the strength of Lipscomb's deadly shooting, aided by Jim Darden, and quickly built up a safe margin.

The work of Lipscomb and Darden stamped each as a strong contender for the two positions of the Olympic squad allocated to the AAU side of the bracket behind the champions.

Bailey Game Refuge Work Is Suspended

Work in collecting and destroying ducks killed by the fowl cholera epidemic at the national wildlife refuge in Bailey county has been halted temporarily because of a lack of labor, game officials reported last night, but the agents plan to return to the project within a few days.

The immediate danger of the epidemic has been decreased by the migration of the ducks to the north, it was announced, but it will be necessary to destroy the diseased ducks to prevent re-infection this fall.

Texarkana Bears Blast 15 Hits To Defeat Oklahoma City, 7-6

MARSHALL, March 31 (AP) — The Texarkana Bears of the Big State league blasted out 15 hits here today to defeat Oklahoma City of the Texas league 7-6.

Texarkana Manager George Washington led the attack with four singles in four trips to the plate. Lou Fitzgerald collected three hits for the Bears.

O'Donnell Netters Defeat Westerners

O'Donnell's well-balanced tennis team defeated the Lubbock High netters in three of four matches Wednesday afternoon at the Dupre courts, with the Westerners' girls singles entry—Marjorie Cone—gaining the only victory for the locals.

O'Donnell's Barbara Merrick was the victim of Marjorie Cone's win in two straight sets, 6-4 and 6-3.

Harrell Line of O'Donnell defeated James Burgess of Lubbock in the senior boys singles, 8-6, 6-3; and Patsy Edwards and Carolyn Middleton of O'Donnell gained the senior girls doubles crown with a 6-2, 2-6, 6-2 triumph over Betty Woods and Betty Rhodes.

Edward Gray and Raymond Hancock of O'Donnell copped the senior boys doubles title with a 6-3, 6-1 win over Jack McCabe and Bo English.

Tech Trackmen To Leave Today For Austin Meet

Coach Maxey McKnight and three trackmen from Texas Tech will leave by private car this morning for Austin, where the cindermen will compete in the special events division of the Texas Relays Friday.

Making the trip today will be Ed Clepper, Charles Pinnell and Charlie Reynolds. They will compete in their favorite events, which means that Clepper will be in the high hurdles and pole vault; Pinnell will be in the high hurdles, high jump and broad jump; and Reynolds will run the 100 and 440-yard dashes.

Others Leave Friday

The second section of Red Raider tracksters will go to Austin Friday, when George Philbrick accompanies Joe Wilson, Ernest Hawkins and Costin Bufkin. These three runners, joined by Reynolds, will make up the Tech mile relay entry.

Tex. Tech netmen will not be idle this week, the tennis team driving to Portales, N. M., Saturday morning for afternoon matches with the Eastern New Mexico college racquet wielders. The Raider net team already holds a 9-0 victory here over the New Mexico team.

Friday the golf team will leave for Abilene, where they will meet Hardin-Simmons university linksmen. Elmer McKinney will head the team making the trip, accompanied by Bill Feagan, Jerry Stoltz and Ted Forsythe of Lubbock.

Sugar Bowl To Hold Cage Meet

NEW ORLEANS, March 31 (U.P.)—The Mid-Winter Sports association announced today that it has signed four of the nation's outstanding basketball teams, including Kentucky's NCAA champions, to play in the Sugar Bowl's 1948 doubleheaders.

Chairman John Neihaus of the basketball committee said St. Louis university, National Invitational champions; Holy Cross, Eastern Collegiate titlists; and Tulane, 1947-48 Southeastern conference dark horse, had accepted the Sugar Bowlers' invitations.

Schedule Announced

He said the choice of four such strong teams may cause the basketball doubleheaders to rival the New Year's day football game as the major attraction of the week-long New Orleans Sports carnival.

Neihaus said Kentucky will play Coach Cliff Wells' Tulane team and St. Louis will meet Holy Cross in the first doubleheader on Dec 29.

The two winners and two losers will meet in another double bill the following night.

Lou Palacio Wins In AAU Ring Semifinal

KANSAS CITY, March 31 (AP)—A pair of flashy little Texans, Roland Conway of Dallas and Lou Palacio of Amarillo, turned in impressive victories tonight in semi-final 118-pound bouts in the National Junior A. A. U. boxing championships.

Conway defeated Willard Henry of Kansas City, and Palacio got the nod over Junior Holton of Sylacauga, Ala. Both bouts provided plenty of action, but the two Texans had clear-cut advantages.

John Pacheco, Minneapolis, Minn., won by a technical knockout in the second round over Arturo Valesqudz, Dallas, in the only 112-pound semi-final match.

FISHIN'S GOOD—Typical of the numerous South Plains fishing parties to Old Mexico was the catch pictured above caught the past week by N. L. Weems, route 7, left, and I. G. Weems, right, route 1, Idalou. The fish, mostly bass ranging from one to six pounds in weight, were caught in a lake seven miles south of Del Rio, across the border into Mexico. There are 48 fish in the string pictured above. The two men's wives accompanied them on the trip.

Hubber Manager Is Jubilant

Locals Clash With Pampa Nine Sunday

DALLAS, March 31 (Special)—Still jubilant over the first victory of the season scored Tuesday, Manager Jackie Sullivan sent his charges through an intensive practice session today.

The Lubbock Hubbers, reinforced by five Odessa diamond members, trounced the Buffalo B squad in Waxahachie Tuesday, but Sullivan didn't let up in practice. He drove the players through the usual long batting and fielding practice, pepper games, calisthenics and other exercises.

Team Strength Tentative

It is too early, still, to know just what the Hubbers will be this season, for Sullivan hasn't had a full team at any time. His present limited roster will be filled out before the Lubbock nine returns to the Hub City, but until other players are added, anybne's guess might be right.

Despite that fact, Frank Boothe from the Kitty league has shown fine batting and fielding throughout the training grind and seems assured of an outfield berth. Sullivan probably will use him in rightfield, with Chick Fowler in center. Leftfield remains open.

Boothe has been hitting the ball hard and his two singles in four trips against Buffalo pitching were solid, clean base knocks. He also possesses a fine throwing arm and fits into Sullivan's plans.

Fowler, of course, was expected to bolster the offensive side and he immediately lived up to advance notices when he slammed out a four-run homer Tuesday. He also played flawlessly in the outfield and should be popular with Hubber fans.

Billy George "Cotton" Russell, the 18-year-old hurler from Fort Worth, also turned in a fine showing against Buffalo. Against the International league team's B squad, Russell allowed only three runs in three innings. Although this doesn't sound impressive, the youngster showed poise and control beyond his years and, when placed against the additional seven runs Buffalo garnered in the next four innings, gave him a good stint on the mound.

Catcher Newt Secrest picked up four for four, a feat not often done, although by no means a rarity. In spite of this stickwork, Sullivan felt that much remained to be accomplished with the rookie.

The Hubbers will be sent through another stiff workout Thursday and then will ride the Hubber bus back to Lubbock Friday, leaving here about 8 a. m. They will have their first practice at Rosenthal Field on Saturday and will play Pampa Sunday afternoon at 3.

Promoters For LaVern Roach Fight Confer

New negotiations between Bert Kahn and the co-managers of LaVern Roach of Plainview, Chris Dundee and Johnny Abood, were started yesterday when Kahn, promoter of a proposed bout here this summer by Roach, received a letter from Dundee.

Dundee declared that he only booked Roach, while Abood passed on the financial affairs and acted as business manager. Dundee talked with Abood and the latter has agreed to allow Roach to fight here, providing the opponent is suitable and the managers and Kahn can reach a satisfactory financial understanding.

$5,000 Guarantee Asked

The New York managers were distressed to learn that Roach's original guarantee of $7,500 was to be cut, due to his loss to Marcel Cerdan of France in Madison Square Garden March 12. But they said that they would be willing to come in for a lower guarantee.

Dundee wrote that they believed Roach should get $5,000 and an option of 35 percent of the gate.

Kahn probably will counter with a lower figure and round trip expenses for two persons.

Kahn pointed out that every time Roach appeared on the local scene as a guest referee, or in other capacities, he was lowering his gate appeal. Despite that, South Plains fight fans want to see Roach in ring action and his guest appearances are minor detriments.

Many Offers Made

The popular Plainview pugilist is resting at home with his parents for a month and is expected to return to New York in April to resume training. Dundee said that he had had numerous offers to book Roach, but would refrain from committing the fighter until he heard from Kahn.

Roach declared in Plainview Friday night that his next fight either would be in Madison Square Garden or in Lubbock, probably in June or July. The Texas boxer lost none of his popularity through his defeat by the No. 1 challenger to Middleweight Champion Rocky Graziano and is determined to continue his climb up the fistic ladder.

7,500 Expected At Exhibition Clash

Yesterday's wind apparently drove ticket buyers into the Hub Clothiers to buy admission stubs to the New York Giants-Cleveland Indians exhibition game here April 9.

The Hubber business office reported that over 400 tickets went across the board, most brisk single day's sale since the ducats were offered to the public March 22. The rush brought the sale over the 3,800 mark, which is well over half the number the Hubbers expect to sell.

The game, which will be played at Rosenthal Field a week from this Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, is expected to attract one of the largest baseball crowds in years. As many persons as possible will be placed in the grandstand and bleachers, with the overflow seated along the foul lines and in the outfield. Although no figure is certain at this time, officials wouldn't be surprised if attendance soared over the 7,500 mark.

And the game is a natural, with Cleveland expected to be one of the top teams in the American League and New York expected to have a similar position in the National loop. Both teams have more than their share of outstanding players and it is doubtful that any two teams brought here could offer more potential thrills.

Ticket sales at the Hub Clothiers will continue daily and $1 will buy a single seat in all but the reserved seat section or box seat section, where season reserved seat and box seat ticket holders have first choice.

STEWAR IN DOUBLE PLAY—Edward Stewar, Yankee outfielder, is out at second in the eighth inning of the Boston Red Sox-New York Yankee game in St. Petersburg, Fla., as Jack Phillips hits into a double play. Bill Goodman, Boston second baseman fielded the ball and threw to Shortstop Vernon Stephens in time to get the runner. Stephens is shown whipping the ball to first in time to get the batter on the play.

Ailing Ben Hogan In Masters' Meet

FORT WORTH, March 31 (AP)—Little Ben Hogan, nursing a swollen jaw and a still-ailing back, departed today for Augusta, Ga., and the Masters' Tournament.

The swollen jaw developed overnight after Ben put in some light practice Tuesday in the high wind and blowing sand here.

Long one of golf's top hands, Hogan has been resting here more than a week after being forced out of the Miami four-ball event with back trouble. He said he was feeling much better and hitting the ball well. Friends, however, said he was still having some pain.

First veterinary school began operations in Lyons, France, in 1702.

Top Track Stars Enter Relays

AUSTIN, March 31 (AP)—The entry list for the Texas Relays passed the 1,000 mark today and it was expected to go even higher.

The deadline for filing was noon today, 48 hours before preliminaries get under way at Memorial Stadium Friday afternon. Any entries postmarked before the deadline will be accepted.

All SWC Teams Enter

The entry list was bolstered by a record number of collegiate performers. There were 435 contestants listed in the university and college divisions. This is expected to grow to 450.

The junior college and freshman division, reinstalled after its wartime lapse, will have 77 entries in three events. The high school class had 526 names listed today.

Additional entries were expected also in these two divisions.

All of the Southwest conference teams were entered, with Arkansas coming for the first time in several years. The Razorbacks include Clyde Scott, the football and hurdle star, and 19 other performers. From the Middle West are such schools as Drake, Kansas, Kansas State, Minnesota, Nebraska, Bradley Tech, and Loyola of Chicago.

Army, Navy In

The major southern track powers, Tulane and L.S.U., were both in with sizeable squads, Tulane bringing 11 and the Tigers taking the largest number of tags for any one school, 35.

Two service squads are entered, one from the Pensacola (Fla) Naval base and the other from Lackland Army Air field in San Antonio.

These plus the top men from every major track among Texas schoolboys promises one of the best fields in relays history.

Two surprises were listed in the southern entries, with 9.5 hundred man, Paul Beinz of Tulane, and a 200 ft. javelin tosser, Bob Loflin of L.S.U. These performances were made in the Southwestern Relays last week.

TULSA NINE WINS

THIBODEAUX, La., March 31 (AP)—The Tulsa Oilers of the Texas league slammed out a 10 to 4 victory over Thibodeaux of the Evangeline league here last night, but the Class AA boys could win the game only after the locals had removed Joe Bouchaux from the box. Bouchaux allowed only four hits in a five-inning stint.

Midnight Tonight Is Deadline For Registration Of Vehicles

Today is the final day for registration of motor vehicles, trailers or trailer houses, J. B. Johnston, tax assessor-collector, said last night and announced that the office in the courthouse will be open until midnight tonight.

After the deadline, operation of a motor vehicle without new plates will subject the owner to possible arrest and court penalty.

However, today's demand is not expected to be as heavy as yesterday's, and the two sub-stations will not be operated, Johnston said. The extra clerks will be called to the courthouse if demand for new plates warrants.

Approximately 22,360 registration receipts had been issued through Wednesday.

Passenger cars led, as usual, with 17,288. Other registrations were: Commercial and farm vehicles, 3,880; dealers tags, 200; trailers, 560; motorcicles and motor scooters, 260; tariler houses, 100; motor buses, 48; city buses, 24.

Special tags will be mounted on city buses this year for the first time, it was explained. Heretofore, it was said, they used passenger tags. Trailer houses come within a new requirement this year, as well; certificates of title must be presented in connection with their registration.

Soviet Order

tion point. It is about five miles inside the Soviet zone from the British zone.

And at 5:20 a. m. an American military train from Berlin to Bremerhaven arrived in Helmstedt after passing through the Soviet zone. The lieutenant in charge said the train was halted at Marienborn about 20 minutes. He said he let the Russian commander there board the train and inspect the Army cards and passports of passengers. Upon being asked why he did this in view of the earlier announcement from Berlin, he said: "You will have to ask Berlin."

However, in Berlin no competent authority was available for comment.

In effect, the American position was that transportation between Berlin and the U. S. occupation zone, necessarily through the Russian zone, would be on the same basis as it was before the Russians issued the order yesterday. U. S. train commanders always have furnished documentation.

Crisis Precipitated

The American answer gave the Russians an opportunity to negotiate an agreement with the western powers over the order.

By American order, trains were held up tonight at Helmstedt, in the British zone at the Russian zone border, to allow time for Clay's note to be delivered to Russian headquarters in Berlin.

The sudden Soviet order imposing the transportation controls precipitated a four-power crisis. Before the U. S. note was delivered, Clay said the order violated four-power agreements.

The first instance of the Soviet clamp-down came when several British military trucks bound for Berlin were turned back at the Soviet border checkpoint at Marienborn tonight. The Russians claimed the trucks bore no official Soviet translation of travel permits, the British said.

Air Traffic Not Halted

Should the western powers resist by force the Soviet order to inspect trains and the Russians declined to modify the order it could result in armed clashes between train guards and Russian troops.

The order affects 25,000 American, British and French troops and civilians in Berlin. It made it impossible for them to leave the city by road or rail without Soviet consent. The Russians made no immediate move to restrict the small amount of western air traffic to the city.

The Soviet order also provided for tight controls of all out-going freight from Berlin, either German or allied military. The order said each shipment must be inspected and approved by the Soviet military.

The Soviet order also indicated control over incoming freight from the western zones, but the language was so vague it mystified western military authorities as to its intent.

The Soviet move posed for the United States, France and Britain the question of whether to surrender to Russia sovereignty of their military trains carrying personnel moving in and out of Berlin.

The Soviet demand provided that no American, British or French citizen could leave or enter Berlin by rail or train without providing proof of his or her identity to Soviet control authorities.

SOVIETS HAVE TWO BRITISH TRAINS AT RED ZONE

HELMSTEDT, Germany, Thursday, April 1 (AP)—American railroad officers said early today Soviet authorities halted two British military trains at Marienborn when British guards refused to allow Soviet forces to inspect them.

Marienborn is the Soviet inspection point. It is about five miles inside the Soviet zone from the British zone.

One of the British trains was en route from Berlin and the other was going to Berlin. The latter train was approximately three hours overdue here at 5:20 a. m. (10:20 p. m., CST, Wednesday).

U. S. Train Delayed

At 5:20 a. m. an American military train from Berlin to Bremerhaven arrived in Helmstedt after passing through the Soviet zone.

The lieutenant in charge said the train was halted at Marienborn about 20 minutes. He said he let the Russian commander there board the train and inspect the Army cards and passports of passengers.

He was asked why he did this in view of a Berlin announcement by United States authorities that no inspections would be allowed. He said:

"You will have to ask Berlin."

(In Berlin no competent authority was available for comment immediately.)

American military authorities in Helmstedt reported U. S. military trains bound for Berlin were checked carefully before entering the Soviet zone to see that they carried only the normal number of guards.

They said they acted on specific orders to see that no extra guards were carried. They even went so far, they added, as to forego plans to "deadhead" two or three soldiers to Berlin who had been waiting in Helmstedt.

House Votes Aid

munist expansion. The other steps he asked were universal military training and the draft.

Before voting on the measure as a whole, the House reaffirmed by a 188 to 104 standing vote its invitation for Spain to join the European recovery program along with 16 other non-communist countries and western Germany.

Amendments Rejected

ERP — The European recovery program—is by far the largest part of the "omnibus" bill. It is based on the "Marshall plan," Secretary of State Marshall's offer of American help to European countries banding together to help themselves back to economic health.

It calls for the largest foreign relief and rehabilitation program ever undertaken by any nation. And President Truman made it plain in his St. Patrick's day address to Congress that he regards the program as an economic barrier to the spread of Communism.

Before approving ERP as a whole, the House rejected by heavy majorities amendments which would have slashed the program by $1,300,000,000 and limited its life to one year. As it stands now, a four-year program is "contemplated" but not pledged.

HST To Sign Soon

The entire $6,205,000,000 bill is expected to go to President Truman for signature late this week after Senate and House agree on comparatively minor differences. The Senate has passed separate bills ading up to nearly that sum for the same foreign aid programs.

Mr. Truman's signature will start U. S. supplies rolling about two weeks before the April 18 elections which may decide whether Italy goes Communist or stays in the western democratic camp.

Government officials are counting on the assistance program to sway many Italian voters away from the Communists and their supporters.

Differences Noted

There are two principal differences between the House bill and the separate bills passed by the Senate to cover all these programs.

One is Spain. The House has voted to invite the Franco government to take part in the European recovery program. The Senate may or may not go along.

The other main difference involves China. The Senate has voted $463,000,000 to help China for a year, $100,000,000 of it for military purposes at China's option. The House bill calls for $570,000,000 in 15 months, $150,000,000 of it for expressly military purposes.

Rayburn Defends Bill

By a standing vote of 127 to 117, the House rejected an amendment by Rep. Lawrence Smith (R-Wis) which declared this country under "no moral or legal obligation" to continue aid to Europe after the first year.

Another standing vote rejected an amendment by Rep. Vursell (R-Ill) to slash the European recovery cost.

Vursell called the whole aid program a "fantastic, worldwide WPA."

Rep. O'Hara (R-Minn) declared that financing the program would mean "dragging the people of this country through the dirt."

Replied Democratic leader Rayburn of Texas:

"I would rather drag a few civilians in the United States through the dirt than drag millions of American boys in uniform through blood in far corners of the earth."

Speaker after speaker stressed the "stop-Communism" aspect of the aid program.

TWENTY TEXANS VOTE FOR FOREIGN AID MEASURE

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP)—In the vote by which the House today passed the $6,205,000,000 Europe-China foreign aid bill, the Texas delegation cast 20 votes for the bill.

The 20 Texans listed among 158 House Democrats who voted for the bill included:

Beckworth, Burleson, Combs, Fisher, Gossett, Johnson, Kilday, Lucas, Lyle, Mahon, Patman, Pickett, Poage, Rayburn, Regan, Teague, Thomas, Wilson and Worley.

Voting against the bill were 11 Democrats (none Texans) and 61 Republicans. Republicans for the bill totaled 171.

vakian problem directly to the Chinese fight against Communism in Manchuria. He said that Czechoslovakia and the Manchurian provinces of China are cradles of conflict and that the world shivers whenever anything extraordinary happens in either locality.

Soviet Uses "Gangsterism"

Hernan Santa Cruz, of Chile, spoke first for 55 minutes.

He accused Russia of being a bold and impudent aggressor employing crude gangsterism. He said low and vile insults from Russia would not alter Chile's determination to press for an inquiry into the charges against Russia.

Santa Cruz said he had the names of six highly qualified Czechs who had escaped from their homes and were ready to appear before the council or any organ set up to investigate the coup.

An hour before the council convened costumed "cowboys" and cab drivers from New York picketed the UN headquarters bearing signs calling Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet Russian delegate, a liar.

Pickets Name Gromyko

At last week's Security Council sessions here on the Czechoslovak Communist coup, Gromyko accused the United States of interfering in the internal affairs of France and Italy. He said then that "every Cowboy . . . and every doorman in a New York hotel will tell you about it."

The reference to taxi drivers was made later in the meeting by U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin. He said Gromyko's remark was a great compliment to U. S. democracy and that taxi drivers, doormen and cowboys could have knowledge of the internal affairs of their country.

Some of the taxi driver pickets carried signs which read "you are a liar Gromyko—says this cabbie."

Pat McClarney, of Amarillo, Tex., a New York secretary wearing a cowgirl outfit, carried a sign which read: "Ask me, Mr. Gromyko." Asked why she was picketing, Miss McClarney said: "Because this is important."

Pickets dressed in cowboy suits carried signs which read: "Ask us cowboys—we will tell you."

One of them, Eddie Hanson of Billings, Mont., said he once worked for Buffalo Bill.

The mixed group of 17 arrived an hour before the Security Council met for another debate on the Chilean demand for an investigation of Russia's role in the Prague coup.

The pickets were led by Jack J. Jackman, acting president of the United Taxicab Council of Greater New York. Jackman said the group also represented the League of Mutual Taxi Owners which claims a membership of 2,000 including 350 war veterans.

Homestead Request On Moon Rejected

WASHINGTON, March 31.—On the eve of April Fool's day, the government today turned down two Pennsylvanians who laid claim to the moon.

Secretary of the Interior Krug, saying the moon belongs to everyone, denied their request that the government approve the claim.

In a formal reply to Robert D. Eaton and Charles W. Honhold of Sewickley, Pa., Krug explained with tongue-in-cheek seriousness that federal homestead laws require applicants to inspect in person the areas sought.

Further, he said the sovereignty of the United States has never been established over the moon.

W. P. Baskin, chairman of the South Carolina Democratic executive committe, issued the call for the Atlanta conference of southern state chairmen. The Democratic state chairmen of Florida, Georgia and Louisiana joined in the call.

GOP Scramble On

"We hope this conference will be the forerunner of a large conference of state Democratic leaders to coordinate efforts to preserve local self-government and states' rights," Baskin said.

Meanwhile the scramble for the Republican presidential nomination was on in earnest. The next decisive test is the Wisconsin primary next Tuesday, when Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, and Harold E. Stassen fight it out for 27 delegates.

Senator McCarthy (R-Wis), who is backing Stassen, told a reporter tonight Stassen has a chance to "knock Governor Tom Dewey clear out of the Republican presidential race" in that primary.

Dewey has arranged a last-minute political speaking tour through Wisconsin late this week. Next week he hits Nebraska, tuning up for that state's "popularity contest" presidential preference primary which isn't binding on the delegates.

Law Violations Are Investigated

Several reports of theft and burglary were being investigated by city police last night while fines had been assessed and an arrest made in connection with other offenses. Four convicts were reported on their way to the penitentiary yesterday.

Clothing valued at $165 was reported stolen from the apartment of Farrel Reeder, of 1902 Seventh. The articles consisted of a tuxedo, a blue-gray suit, a shirt and pair of shoes.

Warning Is Sounded

In a burglary of the Powell hat business at 1408 Nineteenth, $23.40 in cash and a $75 German camera were missing, according to police.

Officials, concerned at a mounting wave of burglaries of irrigation pump houses in the rural areas, suggested that farmers take added precautions to mark with identifying signs any property that might be removed.

Particularly should they copy serial numbers and make identifying marks on starters, distributors, carburetors, engine heads and fuel pumps, it was suggested.

Local "Fence" Seen

Such precaution might well result in conviction eventually of some or all those responsible for the burglaries and thefts.

Possibility the burglars and thieves may have a local "fence" for disposal of property taken from the irrigation engines was being investigated, but officials did not rule out the likelihood of "marketing at a distance."

The sheriff's department released four convicted felons to a penitentiary transfer agent, who loaded them into a bus and started with them for Huntsville.

The convicted men were:

Convicts Named

Clarence Weldon Green, 25, of Spur, sentenced to life imprisonment from Dickens county in connection with armed robbery, kidnaping and car theft; Wazie Harris, 34, a Lubbock negro who was convicted in the 72nd district court of Lubbock county of murder and sentenced to five years; Clarence Thornton, 28, a Lubbock negro who was convicted in the 99th district court of Lubbock county and sentenced to five years for theft over $50; and D. T. Jackson, 62, a Lubbock negro convicted in the 72nd district court of Lubbock county and sentenced to 10 years for assault with intent to rape.

Youth Is Arrested

The sheriff's department reported arrest of Harold Peinkert, 20, of Levelland, who was charged with forgery of $131.94 check passed March 15. Hop Halsey, operator of a drugstore chain here, swore to the complaint which E. G. Pharr, assistant district attorney, filed in the court of D. W. Robertson, justice of peace.

Robertson set bond of $1,500 in binding Peinkert over to grand jury investigation. The defendant had posted bond last night.

Fine Is Assessed

A 35-year-old Fort Worth man who was accused informally of attempting to steal a negro woman's dog off a porch was fined $15 on a formal drunkenness charge.

A 19-year-old Littlefield youth who allegedly wove from one side of a street to another was fined $25 for reckless driving.

E. S. Blair, of 2411 North Third, reported theft of a red and white bike valued at $32.50.

Legislation On Synthetic Rubber Plants Is Approved

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP)—Congress hurriedly completed action today on legislation to keep the government in the synthetic rubber business two more years.

Only five hours before a temporary law automatically expired, the House passed and sent to President Truman a compromise bill worked out in a five-hour conference meeting yesterday. The Senate had approved it earlier in the day.

The old law expires at midnight tonight. The new one runs until June 30, 1950. Legislation for disposing of the government plants to private operators will have to be recommended to Congress by the President before January 15, 1950.

The compromise opposed only by Rep. Lyndon B. Johnson, (D-Tex), who was also the only conferee refusing to sign the conference report on the compromise agreement. Johnson had insisted on a policy statement declaring that the national interests requires government operation of the plants for an indefinite period.

The government is now operating 22 synthetic rubber plants, and 15 more are in stand-by condition.

Hardin-Simmons Hurdles Champ Signs Pro Football Contract

ABILENE, Tex., March 31 (Special)—The Border Conference will have a new high hurdles champion this year. J. C. (Bullet) Cook, Hardin-Simmons university's Border conference champion has turned professional footballer and won't be eligible to compete in varsity track this spring.

Both Cook, a three-year football letterman at Hardin-Simmons, and Alvin Johnson, another three-year letterman and twice an All-Border Conference quarterback, have signed contracts with the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football league. Both have been on the Eagles' draft list for more than a year.

STAMP SALES DROP

AUSTIN, March 31 (AP)—Sales of state liquor stamps this month slid under both year-ago and month-ago figures. State Treasurer Jesse James today reported state income from that source for March at $554,868, a decline of $158,152 from March of last year and a decline of $184,384 from February.

The feature was "Fighting Brigade," starring Tim McCoy. The fifth chapter of the serial "The Clutching Hand" and a cartoon, "The Bee and the Butterfly," were also shown. Movies will be held next Wednesday as usual at the club, 2323 Ave. K, Jackson said.

Seven representatives from the Asbury Methodist church in Lubbock attended the annual conference of the Women's Society for Christian Service, being held at the First Methodist church in Plainview, Wednesday. The conference began Tuesday and will end at noon today. Those attending Wednesday were Mrs. J. E. Walter, Mrs. H. C. Leon, Mrs. T. B. Cowan, Mrs H. E. Ross, Mrs. D. L Lansford, Mrs J. W. Hendryx and Mrs. Grady Harrist.

The condition of Mrs. Carl Roberds of 1415 Sixteenth, was reported fair last night in Lubbock Memorial hospital. She suffered a fractured leg Monday afternoon when she fell at her home. She is the mother of Mrs. J. T. Krueger of 2703 Nineteenth.

According to police, Bramlett was driving east and the truck was parked at the curb. Bramlett was treated at West Texas hospital for a cut lip and bruises. No other persons were involved.

Demonstrators Boo Wallace In New York

NEW YORK, March 31 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace was booed tonight by an estimated 500 demonstrators who marched and shouted outside a Brooklyn school house where the third party presidential candidate spoke.

The demonstrators, carrying U. S. flags and insignia of several veterans organizations, marched in an endless chain around a block-square building in the Red Hook section.

Wallace entered and left the school house by a side door under heavy police guard and was escorted by officers through the column of marchers on his arrival and departure.

There was no disorder other than the noise of the marchers, whose shouts could be heard inside the school auditorium during Wallace's speech. The shouts did not interrupt his talk.

Uniformed members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Legion, the Catholic War Veterans and the Knights of Columbus were among the demonstrators.

At the second Brooklyn meeting by Wallace there was no demonstration.

The third party candidate told the rallies that American officials were employing force and intimidation in telling the Italian people U. S. aid would be cut off if the Communists win the April 18 elections.

Solons Urged To Be Ready For Veto Vote

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP)—Congressmen have been urged to stand by for a quick vote on President Truman's expected veto of the $4,800,000,000 tax cutting bill. One high-ranking Democrat predicted the veto would come tomorrow.

The President has until midnight Monday, April 5, to act on the measure. The White House was noncommittal but congressional leaders believe action will be taken before the deadline—some time this week and possibly tomorrow.

Many Democrats as well as Republicans say the necessary two-thirds vote needed to override the presidential veto can be mustered.

Congress upheld Mr. Truman's veto of tax cutting bills last year.

Hearings Before Pardons Board To Be Delayed Until April 7

AUSTIN, March 31 (AP)—Persons who want a hearing before the full membership of the Board of Pardons and Paroles were advised today to wait until after April 7.

Two board members, Abner L. Lewis and Smoot Schmid, will attend a southern conference on probation and parole at Nashville, and do not expect to return until that date.

A third member, Walter Strong, will remain in Austin to attend to emergency matters, the board announced.

Mechanization Of Cotton Crop Poses Problems For Ginners

DALLAS, March 31 (AP)—Mechanization of the South's cotton crop is bringing a host of problems for cotton gins, a speaker told the Texas Cotton Ginners association today.

Especially are the smaller gins being affected, Francis L. Gerdes of Stoneville, Miss., head of the cotton research and testing division of the Department of Agriculture, told the 35th annual convention of the association.

"It is not uncommon for a modern plant to cost $100,000. Ten years ago a modern plant cost about $40,000 he said. "Cotton, even from the hand-picking areas, is getting rougher in quality. This means costly cleaning machinery."

South and West Texas ginners are modernizing their plants at a rapid rate to meet the requirements for cleaning and ginning cotton harvested by present methods, he said.

Meat Supplies Are Sufficient

CHICAGO, March 31 (AP) — A shortage of pork has hit Iowa stores, but elsewhere meat supplies are adequate throughout the country—despite a meat workers' strike.

The national association of retail grocers, reporting on the situation today, said:

"Iowa reported that pork was unavailable through regular channels, but could be secured at a premium of from 10 to 15 per cent."

Other Prices Rise

Retail meat prices jumped in some areas last week following the start of the CIO meat handlers strike. The association said a survey they made also showed prices showed little important change this week.

Pork was down in some areas, with pork chops off from six to 11 cents a pound. However, in Texas pork chops jumped five cents.

Bacon was up from one to five cents in various sections and ground round steak advanced from two to five cents in a few areas.

Butter jumped from two to seven cents a pound in most sections of the country. Eggs halted their downward slide everywhere except in Ohio and St. Louis. Prices fell one to two cents in these two areas. In many Kansas and Missouri cities, egg prices went up one to two cents.

Flour was reported up 30 cents a hundred pounds in several places. Potatoes advanced 20 to 25 cents a hundred pounds in several cities. Lard and shortenings generally held steady or declined somewhat.

Meanwhile, commodities showed a general downward trend today in the wholesale markets. The Associated Press weighted whilesale price index of 35 commodities declined about a third of a point to 185.17. A week ago the index was 184.77 and a year ago 181.05. The year 1926 is 100.

World's Time Site Being Moved Due To Smoke From London

GREENWICH, England, March 31. (NEA)—Time used to begin here; soon it won't.

But the world will still set its clocks by Greenwich Mean Time as it has for centuries past.

When King Charles II, with an eye toward British maritime supremacy in the 17th century, decided to establish an observatory, he picked the quiet countryside of Greenwich, a sleepy Thames-side village far out in the country from London.

He borrowed some bricks from Tilbury Fort, some lead from the Tower of London, got a little money from the sale of some spoiled gunpowder, and had his Greenwich Observatory built for 500 pounds sterling.

Accuracy Threatened

His astronomers, who had to buy their own instruments, ran an imaginary zero meridian of longitude across their hill-top perch, and since that time the world has taken its time from Greenwich. Ships make all their position calculations from its zero line.

But King Charles wasn't far-sighted enough. Sprawling London is catching up with Greenwich, and the smoke of its factories plus naturally bad weather is obscuring its observations and threatening its accuracy.

So during the next five years the observatory will be moved, little by little, to the 14th century Hurstmonceux Castle, 55 miles away. The actual clocks already have been moved to Alinger, 18 miles west of the meridian line.

Stars Determine Time

Actual time at Abinger is one minute, 32.733 seconds slower than Greenwich Mean Time. But even the clocks in Abinger are wrong — thirty-thousanths of a second—to allow for the lag of electrical impulses over the land lines which take the time signal to Rugby. There it is transmitted by radio to all points of the world.

Time is checked from observations of the 1535 stars which the International Astronomical Union agrees should be used to make corrections.

The observatory's modern clocks can be checked for accuracy to the fourth decimal point of a second. But a 100-year-old pendulum clock, wired with electricity, ticks off the seconds from Abinger over a relay system.

day. In addition to a severe sandstorm, there was sunshine, rain, snow, sleet and hail.

Snow, sleet and hail fell when the wind reached a velocity of 56 miles per hour at 1:15 p.m., and visiblity was about one mile.

Winds at El Paso reached 60 miles an hour Wednesday. Freezing weather was predicted for the El Paso valley early Thursday.

A low of near freezing was forecast for Wednesday night for West Texas.

The norther sent temperatures downward from high marks recorded Tuesday. Late afternoon readings showed this range: Pampa 33 degrees; Amarillo 36; Mineral Wells 67; Abilene 59; Big Spring 54; Midland 53; Wink 61; Wichita Falls 55; El Paso 49; Austin and San Antonio 84; Waco 83; Brownsville 76; Houston 85.

Some points, including Midland and Big Spring, had rain showers.

The U. S. Weather bureau at Lake Charles, La., late Wednesday warned residents of southeast Texas and southwest Louisiana to protect property against stiff winds. The bureau said winds 30 to 40 miles an hour with higher velocities possible—could be expected.

China Seen As Major Victim Of Conspiracy By Communists

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Senator Arthur Vandenberg, in urging quick Senate approval of $463,000,000 aid for China, described that unhappy country as "a major victim of that conspiracy of aggression which undermines the peace of the earth."

The senator was, of course, speaking of aggressive Communism, and he declared that the situation in China is "touch and go." This graphic estimate of the position will cause little surprise, since the general publics of Western countries have been well aware that China was in desperate straits. However, it is an astonishing fact that many people still believe the fiction that the Chinese Reds aren't of the Russian brand but are merely agrarians who are fighting for their place in the sun.

Soviet Pattern Seen

Now that's a terribly dangerous error, since defense against the spread of Communism in the Far East depends on recognition of the truth that the Chinese Communists follow the Muscovite pattern. The Chinese Reds, as I know from personal observation on the ground, have carefully spread the tale that they have nothing to do with the Soviet Union. However, the evidence is clear enough that they are working hand in glove with Russia, and that should they win their rebellion China would become a satellite of Moscow.

This fact is quite distinct from the question of whether the vested interests of China have profiteered at the expense of the people. The hands of the vested interests are not clean—but that's another issue.

Stilwell Wrote Opinion

In this connection it's interesting to note the comment of the late General Joseph W. Stilwell, American commander in the China-Burma-India theatre, in his diary which is being published by The Ladies' Home Journal. The general wrote it as his opinion in 1944 that the Chinese Communists offered a better future to the people than did Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's Kuomintang government. Stilwell then was trying to persuade Chiang to correlate the war efforts of Communists and government armies.

Charles Grumich, AP war correspondent in Stilwell's theatre, in a review of the dairy points out that both the government and the Chinese Communists then were fighting with varying degrees of effect, and building up to what now has ebcome a full-blown civil war. Grumich comments:

"Whether Stilwell would think the same about Chinese Communists now is something that can't be answered. He died Oct. 12, 1946."

Use Of Micro-Waves Are Described By Official At Club

George Hutson, of the information department of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company, in a talk before the Rotary club luncheon Wednesday noon at Hilton hotel gave an explanation and demonstration of micro-waves, the same waves that were used in radar, electrical gun directors, and in many other ways during the war.

The wave, no longer than a cigaret, Hutson said, vibrates at the rate of 10 billion times per second, and is the key to future communications whereby people will be able to talk by telephone from their autos as they speed along the street or highway, or from trains, ships at sea, or airplanes.

Method Explained

The waves, he said, can be neither seen, heard, nor felt, but will pierce a sheet of cardboard or plywood, or both. It will not pierce the human hand or any part of the body.

Hutson explained the method by which telephone conversations from automobiles or other vehicles are possible, saying that service already is available in five Texas cities. The wave is used with the aid of transmitter stations, similar to radio towers, and must be relayed every 30 to 90 miles, because the high frequency wave follows a straight line, and does not bend with the curvature of the earth.

Visitors Named

Hutson was introduced by Cecil Cale, local telephone company manager, who in turn was introduced by Edgar Lewis, program chairman. Club President Rex Webster presided, with invocation by Rev. Wm. F. Blakeslee.

Visiting Rotarians included E. D. Edmonds of Fort Worth, John H. Portwood of Brownfield. A. C. Chesher of Littlefield, Paul W. Cheney of Orleans, Mass., W. B. Ditmore of Las Vegas, N. M., and Fred McGinty of Tahoka.

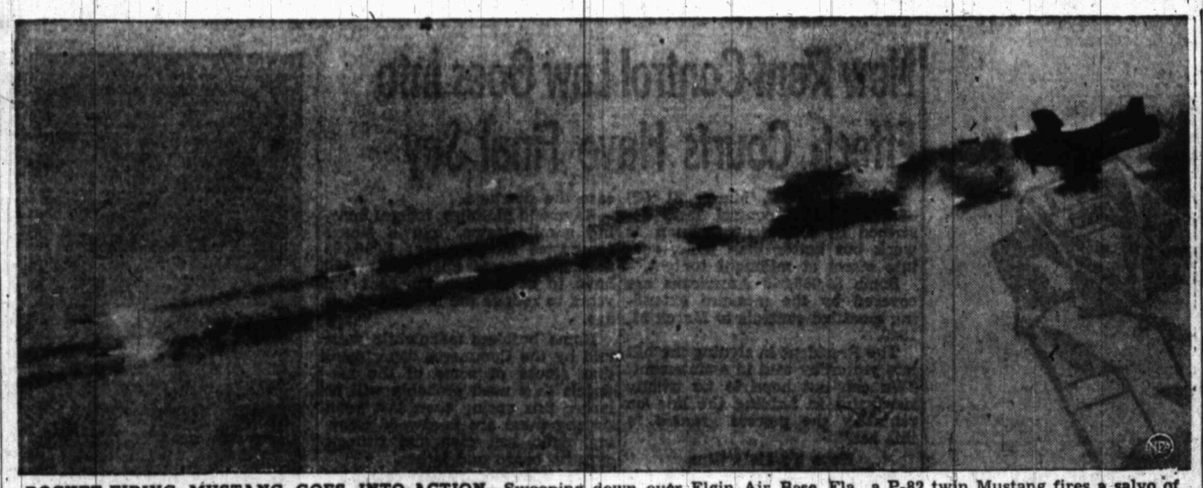

Junior Rotarians for the month, James Shearer of the high school, and Joe Heafner of Texas Tech, expressed their appreciation for having attended the meeting during March.

Crowds Of Youths Continue To Boo Stockholm Police

STOCKHOLM, March 31 (AP)—Crowds of boys and girls harassed Swedish police again last night, booing and whistling.

The puzzling demonstrations began on Good Friday. About 60 persons have been arrested, but only three or four were detained for further questions.

Police said there is no evidence of political motivation. The only explanation they could offer was "youthful love of adventure." They said the girls are worse than boys in instigating the trouble.

Electrical Contractors Warned Of Excessive Number In Trade

DALLAS, March 31 (U.P.)—A high Washington official of the National Electrical Contractors association, classing the electrical contracting business as a "gambler's trade," warned today that contractors should stabilize their business by diversifying rather than confining themselves to new construction.

Paul M. Geary, who was scheduled to address a joint convention of 600 Southwestern contractors and union men today, said that electrical contracting is a very unstable industry and blamed the condition on the fact that the industry functions as a branch of construction work.

"Although construction is the second largest industry in the country, it is so unstable and its violent fluctuations have had such disastrous effects on the national economy that some economists believe it should be placed permanently under government control," he said.

Geary said the number of electrical contractors was far greater than any economic requirement.

"Their existance in such impressive numbers causes cutthroat competition and all manner of chicanery and unfair trade practice," he said.

Geary said, however, that individual contractors could stabilize their business by diversifying rather than confining themselves to new construction.

TIME TO RETIRE

CARLISLE, Pa. (U.P.)—When the Army moved its equipment laboratory from Carlisle Barracks to Fort Totten, N. Y., William Shambaugh, blacksmith, thought it over carefully and decided he wouldn't go along. Shambaugh, now 73, had been a smith at the barracks for the last 41 years and he figured it was about time to retire, anyway.

Veterans Hospital Expansion Endorsed

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP)—An addition of 300 beds to the Amarillo, Tex., veterans hospital was endorsed today by Omar Clark, executive aide to the veterans administrator.

Rep. Worley (D-Tex), who made Clark's recommendation known, said it was now up to the administrator, Maj. Gen. Carl R. Gray.

Worley said he would introduce a bill authorizing an appropriation of $3,000,000 to build the addition.

Guadalupe School Students Are Given TB Examinations

About 25 students in Guadalupe school who recently showed positive reaction to tuberculosis tests administered by the visiting nurse of Lubbock County Tuberculosis association reported to the association office Wednesday for a screening process.

Out of the 25, five are to receive chest x-ray examinations to determine whether they have active tuberculosis.

A total of 35, including 10 who did not report Wednesday, showed positive reaction when Mrs. Roy Sanford, registered nurse of the association, administered patch tests about March 1 to those who had not been in school last fall when patch tests were given.

The screening process, which included taking of temperature, check of weight and examination of chest, was administered by Dr. M. M. Ewing and Dr. Ivan G. Mayfield, Mrs. Tom Cannon, registered nurse, assisted.

Man Who Attempted Bribe Of Sheriff Must Serve Sentence

AUSTIN, March 31 (U.P.)—Paul Rowland Jones, convicted of attempted bribery of Sheriff Steve Guthrie of Dallas county, received a fair trial and must serve his three-year sentence, the Court of Criminal appeals ruled today.

The court overruled Jones' motion for rehearing from the Court of Criminal appeals, decision in January.

He was convicted in Dallas county April 7, 1947, for attempts to bribe Guthrie while he was sheriff-elect in November, 1946.

New Type Tire Seen As Move For More Safety And Comfort

AKRON, O., March 31 (AP)—The American motorist will get a more comfortable ride in this year's new automobiles and once again the nation's tire industry can claim considerable credit for it.

Just as "balloon" tires revolutionized motoring many years ago, so the new extra-low-pressure c sings will advance comfort, economy in car wear and driving saftey.

That is the contention of heads of the rubber industry whose plants now are in full production of the new casings.

The new tires place more rubber on the road, but require only 24 pounds pressure, compared with 30 pounds carried in tires of last year.

With one or two exceptions, every car maker is adopting the new, wider tires as standard or optional equipment. They are available on Chevrolet and Plymouth models and Ford is expected to announce them for the forthcoming 1949 models.

The new tire represents an eight to 10 percent increase in size, chiefly in the tread width.

It costs an average of about 12½ per cent more than the tires which have been standard for the last 15 or more years.

Agricultural leaders estimate that electrically operated equipment has enabled farmers to grow a third more crops in 10 per cent less time.

New Rent Control Law Goes Into Effect; Courts Have Final Say

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP)—A new rent control law, described by President Truman as weak but better than none, goes into effect at midnight tonight.

Some 50,000,000 Americans are covered by the measure extending modified controls to March 31, 1949.

The President in signing the bill late yesterday said in a statement: "We can not hope to be wholly successful in holding the line on rents by the powers granted in this act."

Hope To Hold Line

But he promised that the administration "will do everything it can under this act to hold rents to reasonable levels."

The new law does not provide for any general rent increases, but does permit boosts up to 15 per cent where tenants and landlords agree on a lease running through 1949.

The major change from the old law is the creation of a special federal court which has final say on raising or removing ceilings whenever federal housing expediter Tighe Woods disputes a local board's findings. The law says the court must uphold any board which gives "adequate and substantial evidence" to support rent changes.

Housing Program Urged

Mr. Truman said rents have increased at least six per cent "since the rent control law was weakened last June." He appealed for early congressional action on a federal housing program to help ease the shortage.

Raymond M. Foley, federal housing administrator, told a House committee Monday that 1,000,000 new homes and apartments will have to be built in the next ten years to relieve the housing shortage.

Home builders meanwhile were told by the Commerce department that stocks of some of the materials they need probably will be larger this spring than last year. Among these are hardwood flooring, nails, soil pipe and fittings, gypsum board and lathes.

But the department reported that production of steel items such as concrete reinforcing bars, warm air furnaces and fabricated structural steel dropped in January from the December levels.

Priority Ratings For Two New Hospitals Approved

LONGVIEW, March 31 (AP)—Priority ratings for both the Gregg county hospital in Longview and a new hospital at Kilgore have been raised, approved, and sent to the surgeon general's office in Washington, State Health Officer George W. Cox advised today.

Dr. Cox told County Judge Earl Sharp, Major Roy H. Laird of Kilgore, and Publisher Carl L. Estes of the Longview News-Journal that on July 1 both Longview and Kilgore would get federal hospital money asked for by county and city officials to help finance construction of new hospital facilities.

Search For Plane In Area Halted

POST, March 31 (Special)—The search for a plane which disappeared near here in Tuesday's dust storm was given up tonight after an aerial survey of a wide area at an altitude of about 600 feet and with visibility good, according to James R. Hundley, jr., of Post, who directed the search.

Hundley was joined in the search today by another pilot from Slaton, and two from Lubbock. The flights of the four planes extended from Justiceburg almost to Clairemont, up to Crosbyton and across to Slaton.

Searchers Are Puzzled

Hundley expressed puzzlement tonight over the mysterious disapearance of the plane. He said if the pilot had made a safe landing and been able to take off again, information surely would have arrived back here. He said if the plane came down in a removed place, it is possible the pilot still is trying to reach a telephone. He said he went over gullies in which it was possible the plane could have crashed.

Hundley, who is a World war II veteran and owns a charter plane service in Post, said that the crash could have occurred any where within a considerable area. He said an estimated 20 minutes elapsed from the time a Hobbs, N. M., pilot, saw the plane disappear from sight to the time the Hobbs pilot found a place to land his own plane about 20 miles northeast of Post.

Leaves For Plane

A ground search had been started Tuesday, after James E. Crawford, jr., 24-year-old Hobbs, N. M., pilot, made an emergency landing in the backyard of a farm home near Kalgary community, just inside the southern boundary of Crosby county from Garza county and told of having seen a companion plane disappear in the clouds of dust.

This morning, Crawford left Post to go to the location of his plane, where he had set it down in the backyard of John S. Nichols, longtime resident and farmer of Garza county. The plane landed within 75 feet of the house. Crawford made the emergency landing because he was low on fuel. He said a short time before he had landed the pilot of the other plane had signaled to him, Crawford understanding him to mean he was "low on fuel" and was going down. The other pilot then headed into the dust rapidly and disappeared at about 3,200 feet, Crawford said.

The missing plane was described as a two-place Luscombe Silvair 85 horsepower monoplane.

Solons, Bankers Meet In Austin

AUSTIN, March 31 (AP)—A new effort to assure rural aid school teachers full pay without incurring personal bank obligations will be made here tomorrow.

Sen. G. C. Morris of Greenville said the joint legislative rural aid committee would meet with bankers to talk the matter over. The committee chairman said an effort would be made to "work out the misunderstanding" under which home bankers have said teachers would be personally responsible as endorsers of deficiency salary checks.

Special Session Opposed

"The original understanding was that these would be obligations of the school districts, and not the teachers," Morris said.

Rural aid schools will be short about $3,000,000 for salaries soon because the legislature failed to appropriate enough money to pay the full $2,000 minimum guaranteed.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester refused requests to call a special session to make up the shortage. Instead, he announced a plan had been worked out under which local banks would put up the money for districts that are short of funds. He promised to submit the matter of apropriations to make up the shortages as emergency legislation for the next regular session, in January.

Security Is Asked

Then W. A. Kirkland, of Houston, president of the Texas Bankers association, advised bankers to lend money to teachers in the fund-short districts, with the teachers putting up their pay warrants as security.

This brought immediate protests from Jerter and school people over the state.

Bankers also were cool to Kirkland's suggestion. Some said that a warrant issued to a teacher in lieu of pay would not be legally binding on the state or school districts, and would not constitute security for loans to teachers.

It is this situation that the legislative committee will try to work out tomorrow.

Called here for the session were Sens. A. M. Aikin, Jr., Paris; Pat Bullock, of Colorado City; R. L. Proffer of Justin; Roger Knight of Madisonville; Reps. W. H. Rampy, Winters; Max Smith of San Marcos; William S. Fly of Victoria; Otis E. Lock of Lufkin; Albert Jones of Valley Mills.

Peace Plan For Demos Proposed

DALLAS, March 31 (AP)—A Dallas leader of pro-Truman Democrats today answered Gov. Beauford H. Jester's appeals for party harmony with a two-point peace plan.

The truce would be based on compromises, both as to campaign funds and delegates to the Democratic National convention.

Howard Dailey Dallas attorney who sparked a movement to back President Truman for the Democratic nomination, said he believed his action would support party harmony on this basis:

Would Contribute Funds

1—Pro-Truman Democrats would call off a rival fund-raising dinner and cooperate with Governor Jester's Fort Worth barbecue April 20. But the Jester faction must agree that all money raised at the barbecue "over and above actual expenses shall go to the national committee to be used in furthering Democratic interests in doubtful states."

(Jester has said that all money would be kept in Texas until President Truman calls off his civil rights program.)

2—The Truman Democrats will agree to Jester's proposal that the Texas delegation to the national convention go uninstructed as to candidates for presidential nomination. But half of the delegation "shall be composed of delegates favorable to President Truman."

Dailey said he had not been able to confer with former state Senator Woodville Rogers of San Antonio, state chairman of "Truman Democrats, but added, "I believe he will be agreeable."

Governor Jester issued his harmony plea Monday after a conference with State Democratic Chairman Robert W. Calvert.

PLEASE OMIT FLOWERS

Muddy Gaps Claimed Keeping Children From School

Road Improvements Are Sought

AUSTIN, March 31 (AP)—One of the largest delegations in the history of State Highway public hearings asked the State Highway commission today to close muddy gaps in farm roads in three East Texas counties.

The group was one of six seeking road improvements at the opening session of the commission's two-day public hearing. Rebuilding of U. S. Highway 290 between Austin and Junction and construction of a new 35-mile highway between Pearsall and Batesville were also requested.

Navasota's woman state representative, Mrs. Neville H. Colson headed the otherwise all-male East Texas delegation of more than 100 citizens, mostly farmers, ranchers, dairymen and businessmen, from Leon, Madison and Grimes counties.

The gaps in their farm roads, they said, kept the children away from school as much as 30 days during the rainy season and frequently halted deliveries of perishable foods into the communities.

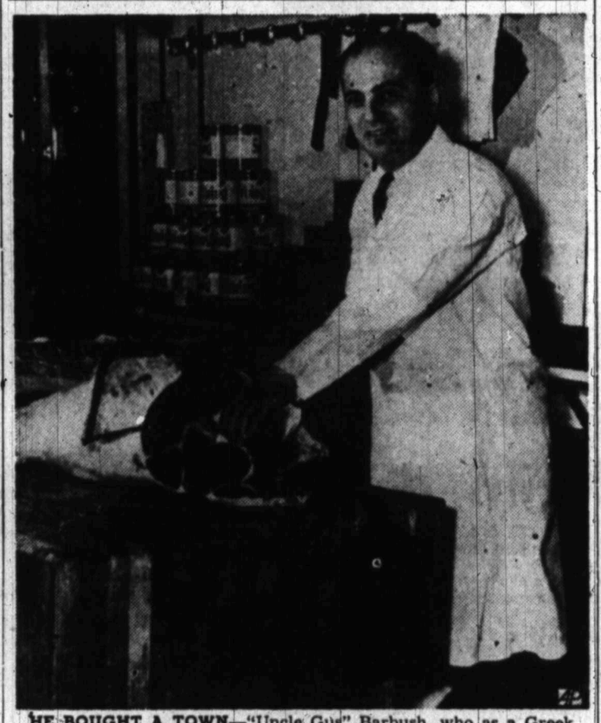

Highway Commissioner Fred E. Knetsch, acting chairman in the absence of John S. Redditt at today's hearing, told the delegation the commission would do all it could to get the gaps built as soon as possible.

A record of deaths and accidents on U. S. Highway 290 between Austin and Junction was reviewed for the commission by a delegation representing Travis, Hays, Blanco, Gillespie and Kimble.

Alfred Petch of Fredericksburg, chairman of the U. S. Highway 290 improvement association, termed the highway "the worst piece of road of comparable importance in Texas."

Other requests included the following, by counties:

Falls—J. R. Kilgore, Rosebud postmaster and publisher, and delegation asked that the new contemplated location of U. S. Highway 77 be routed through the city, promising donation of right-of-way to effect the change. Commission study was promised.

Contract Awarded For Road Work In Area

C. E. Blakeman Construction company of Levelland submitted the low bid of $96,039 yesterday for 16.18 miles of road maintenance and construction in Castro and Lamb counties, the Associated Press reported from Austin.

The Castro and Lamb county project calls for grading, structures, foundation course and base and asphalt surface from Hart to Olton and from Spring Lake school south to State Highway 70 on farm-to-market roads 168 and 302.

The bid of the Levelland construction company was included among low bids on 32 more highway maintenance and construction projects yesterday, bringing the total on low bids for Tuesday and Wednesday to $7,391,743, the Associated Press report said.

Britain Takes Over Industry

LONDON, Thursday, April 1 (AP)—Britain took ownership last midnight of all the nation's electric utilities, sixth major enterprise to be nationalized under the Labor government's socialist program.

One of the first developments under state control will be higher rates for a large proportion of domestic consumers in urban areas.

Chairman of three of the fourteen regional boards that will administer the industry said yesterday that domestic rates would have to be increased to meet rising costs, including higher prices for coal.

Stations Taken Over

Other enterprises nationalized since the Labor government came to power in mid-1945 include coal mines, civil aviation, inland transport, the Bank of England and cable and wireless, a globe-circling communications system.

Properties taken over by the government at midnight included 170 generating stations owned by municipalities or private companies, and between 500 and 600 distribution systems. They employ a total of 98,000 people.

Admmistering the industry will be the government's British Electricity authority which is authorized to raise as much as 700,000,000 pounds ($2,800,000,000) for development purposes.

Two Kingsville Men Die In Plane Crash

KINGSVILLE, March 31 (AP)—Two Kingsville men were instantly killed today when their basic training plane crashed from a low altitude and burst into flames near here.

The dead were identified as J. R. McKenzie, 23, the pilot, and Herbert E. Doerre, 21, both of Kingsville.

Witnesses said the plane went into a slow roll shortly after taking off from the Kingsville airport and suddenly plunged to earth.

The plane crashed in a plowed field one mile east of the runway toward the Gulf. The bodies were badly burned. They were taken to Kingsville.

Both men were firemen on the Missouri Pacific railroad. The plane belonged to Doerre, a veteran of World War two. His mother, whose name was not immediately learned, lives in Spring, Tex. McKenzie is the son of T. L. McKenzie of Kingsville.

Funeral services were pending tonight.

CROWDS CHEER HUGE SHIP

Battleship Texas Makes Trip Up Channel For Ceremonies

HOUSTON, March 31 (AP)—The Battleship Texas today moved up the Houston ship channel to await completion of her final resting place.

At 2:45 p. m. the historic vessel of 34 years naval service docked at the San Jacinto ordnance depot after a nine hour trip from Bolivar roads in Galveston bay.

When the old ship passed the tall San Jacinto monument on the 30-mile trip the Texas flag on the battlegrounds was dipped.

Work Is Pushed

The Texas' Lone Star flag, flying from a signal halyard of her main mast, was dipped in return.

Nearby, work was in progress on the slip which will hold the Texas when she is turned over to the state of Texas in special San Jacinto Day ceremonies April 21.

Her final mooring slip is approximately one mile from the ordnance depot, where her crew of 73-men will spend the next three weeks cleaning up the vessel for the ceremonies.

As the mooring lines tied her to the depot dock, the Texas' skipper, pilots and members of the Battleship Texas commission gave a collective sigh of relief.

She was the biggest vessel ever to move up the channel. The Texas draws 27 feet of water and in the last mile of the journey the water was little more than 28 feet deep.

Five tugs had herded her along the channel, and Capt. Edward Taylor guided her through waters never intended for a battleship. He represented the Coastwise Pilots association.

Wherever roads led to the channel, crowds of people were on hand to cheer the Texas on.

As the ship pulled up to the dock, no one was prouder than Chief Machinists Mate John (Tiger) McKeown. For 13 years the Texas has been his home.

PLANTS OFF SURPLUS LIST

Air Force Retains Control Of Aircraft Plans For Emergency

WASHINGTON, March 31.(U.P.)—The Air Force said today it has withdrawn five major aircraft plants from surplus and will hold them in a standby status for a national emergency.

Air Force spokesmen emphasized that the plants are not being tooled up for immediate resumption of production. But at least one of the plants will resume part-time activity remodeling B-29 bombers.

Whether any of the other plants will go into production depends largely upon the decision of Congress on the military budget. The present program calls for a "beefed-up" 55 group program.

Some congressional leaders believe it should be expanded to a 70 group force.

The five plants withdrawn from surplus are:

Boeing plant at Wichita, Kan., with a peak wartime employment of 30,000 workers. One large hangar on the flight line will be reopened immediately for modernization of B-29 bombers, with employment of about 1,000 skilled workers.

Aircraft assembly plant at Cleveland, O., standby.

Curtiss Wright plant at Lockland, O., standby.

Aircraft assembly plant No. 3, Tulsa.

North American at Kansas City (to continue under a seven-year lease to General Motors).

Air Force Retains Control

These plants will be kept under Air Force ownership. They may be leased out to private industry but only under conditions that they will be turned back immediately in a national emergency.

Former assembly plants at Omaha, Neb., and Marietta, Ga., are being used jointly by the Air Force and Navy for storage of machine tool equipment. They also are being held on a standby status.

The Air Force denied reports that it has stopped all declaration of planes and engines to the War Assets administration for sale to surplus. It has only withdrawn from surplus a few engine types on which it had not properly estimated its needs.

The only plane withdrawn from surplus is the Curtiss Commando C-46. Engines and spare parts for that plane have also been withdrawn. The Air Force is leasing this type plane to commercial airlines.

Forty Persons Killed As Blasts Wreck Train In Holy Land Strife

JERUSALEM, March 31 (AP) — An official announcement here today said 40 persons were killed and 60 injured by mine blasts which wrecked the Cairo to Haifa train near Binyamina. The announcement said most of the casualties were Arabs.

Haifa police, near the scene, said however that only 24 persons, all Arabs, were killed and that 64 were injured by triple explosions.

Train Heavily Damaged

The explosions, which observers said probably were set off by Jews in retaliation for Arab attacks on convoys recently, derailed the locomotive, telescoped three of the four wrecked coaches, and ripped up yards of track. Several hundred British troops riding in the second half of the train on the Cairo to Haifa line were unhurt.

A Jewish source said the Stern gang set off the mine trap.

At the same time the virtual Arab siege of Jerusalem, which has brought bread rationing to this city's 100,000 Jews, was renewed. Several hundred Arabs beleagured a Jewish food convoy enroute from coastal Tel Aviv to relieve Jerusalem.

Hagana, the Jewish militia, said at least one Jew was killed and several wounded in a battle that began at midday and was continuing up to 8:30 p.m. Arabs said many Jews were killed and wounded in this first attempt of a Jewish convoy to run the Arab blockade into Jerusalem since the Arab ambush at bloody Bad El Wad last Friday.

UNUSUAL 'SCOOP'

Proud Papa Given 'News' By Paper

A Lubbock Evening Journal reporter Wednesday afternoon scooped a Lubbock man on the news that he was "a proud papa for the third time."

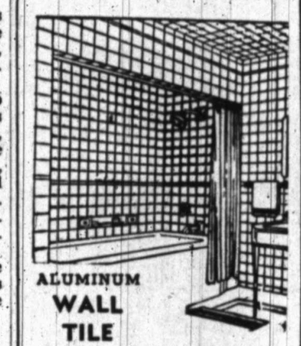

The reporter had called the office of Major Huddleston Wright, instructor in the Army Organized reserve for the West Texas district, and was seeking information on another story. While talking with the sergeant in the office, the major came into the office and was called to the phone.

"Congratulations! I understand that you're a new papa," the reporter said. The reply from the uninformed major was "Am I?"

Major Wright had gone to Austin on business Monday and returned just as the reporter called the office. His wife had given birth to an 8 pound 8½ ounce baby girl, the Wrights' third daughter, at 10:45 o'clock Tuesday night at Lubbock Memorial hospital.

"They knew where I could be contacted in Austin," Major Wright said later, "but they just neglected to call me." Major and Mrs. Wright live at 2201 Twenty-fifth street.

Finns Voice Suspicion Police Being Infiltrated With Reds

By EDWIN SHANKE
Associated Press Staff Writer

HELSINKI, March 31—Rightists in parliament and the Finnish press aimed a steady drumfire of criticism today at Finland's Communist interior minister. They voice the suspicion he has infiltrated the country's police force with Communists.

The interior minister, Yrjo Leino, is now in Moscow as a member of a seven-man Finnish delegation sent to negotiate a friendship and military pact with Russia. He must answer the charges before Parliament when he gets back. He is not expected to reply for several weeks.

Russian Demands Known

There has been no announcement either here or in Moscow as yet concerning conclusion of the treaty, suggested by Prime Minister Stalin. Reliable sources said President Juho K. Paasikivi summoned the chairmen and vice chairmen of the six party blocs in Parliament to meet with him. He took a similar step when Stalin's letter suggesting the pact arrived five weeks ago.

Informed sources say the president has the broad outline of what the Russians want, and is drawing up new instructions for the delegation in Moscow, aimed at meeting Russia's requests and still keep Finland outside big power conflicts.

Police Force Feared

At the same time, Finns focused considerable attention on what the press calls the question of "the Communists and the police." Parliamentary leaders of all parties to the right have asked the government what it is doing to halt alleged recruiting of Communist-minded persons for the secret police, the mobile corps and other vital police branches, and the assignment of police powers to private persons.

The deputies said that in presenting the question, they had in mind the recent events in Czechoslovakia. They said their action was intended to be preventive.

THEY DON'T DO THAT NOW

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ill. (U.P.)—Discovery of a 48-year-old mail order catalogue in the attic of Mrs. J. F. Scott here revealed a striking comparison with present-day sale items. Included in the advertisements were mattresses on 60-days' free trial.

Educator Urges HST To Back Move For World Government

HOUSTON, March 31 (U.P.)—International disaster may be averted if President Truman calls for a convention of nations to form a world government, Dr Robert Maynard Hutchins, chancellor of the University of Chicago, said today.

Dr. Hutchins, one of the nation's foremost educators, was in Houston to speak under the auspices of St. Thomas college.

"This unhappy globe is destined to have world government," he said. "It may come through conquest by one nation or a group of nations, or it may come through orderly legislation. The choice of ways is up to the peoples of the world.

"President Truman could call for a world convention directly, or through the United Nations."

As a member of the committee to frame a world constitution, Dr. Hutchins has devoted much detailed study to the problems of forming an international government.

The constitution drafted by the group calls for a world legislature, a world president, and a world court.

"This legislature would have the same authority over nations that the federal government has over Texas," Dr. Hutchins explained.

Home Of Communist Leader In Ohio Is Damaged By Youths

COLUMBUS, O., March 31 (U.P.)—A gang of about 30 youths twice dashed from a milling crowd of 1,000 last night, forced their way into the home of Franklin County's No. 1 Communist and literally ripped it apart.

Frank Hashmall, 28, executive of the Communist party in Franklin county, his wife and one-year-old daughter were not at home at the time of the raid.

Damage Said Heavy

No arrests were made and damage to the home was estimated at $2,000. The crowd dispersed quietly after police warned that anyone remaining at the scene would suffer the consequences of the law."

Authorities said the whereabouts of members of Hashmall's family was not known early today but added that they probably were in no danger. "Police protection" was maintained around the Hashmall home after the raid.

The outbreak culminated several minor attacks against Hashmall in the past two weeks after his co-workers began passing out Communist handbills at the Timken roller bearing plant here.

Stone Tossed At House

The first attack on the Hashmall home was staged about 9 p. m. last night. When police arrived the raiders had scattered. Fifteen minutes later, after police had restored order and left the scene, the house was stormed a second time.

Police sped back to the house in 14 cruisers, including riot cars, but the marauders again had lost themselves in the dense crowd.

The lawn and front porch of the Hashmall home were covered with broken glass, bottles and stones hurled by the attackers. The interior of the two-story frame house was a pile of rubble. Chairs were broken, blinds ripped from windows and glass, bricks and stones littered the floor.

Cooper Wins Play Contest When Other Schools Default

As a result of a default victory over three other schools Tuesday night, Cooper school will represent the district in the one-act play contest at the Regional Interscholastic league meet here April 23 and 24.

Eliminations were to be held in the Cooper auditorium Tuesday night, with Bovina, Whitharral, and New Deal participating, but none of the visiting teams showed up, possibly due to the severe duster that swept the area Tuesday.

Cooper's play "Don't Tell A Soul" was given before the judge, Miss Marian McGuire of the speech department at Texas Tech.

Changes Seen In Spanish Setup

(By The Associated Press)

MADRID, March 31—Generalissimo Francisco Franco may reshuffle his cabinet and install a premier if Spain is included in the European recovery program, informed sources said today.

The United States House of Representatives voted 149 to 52 yesterday to designate Spain as a participant under the Marshall plan in the $6,205,000,000 foreign aid program. The House amendment still needs Senate approval.

Move Is Praised

Madrid newspapers greeted the news this morning with editorials proclaiming the House action the correction of an injustice and a recognition of the truth.

A cabinet reorganization program long has been rumored in Spain, and news of the congressional action stirred up such talk again.

Principal among the rumors is that Franco plans to create a premier, who would head the cabinet, leaving the Generalissimo as chief of state.

Some observers feel that cabinet changes would see conservatives or pro-Franco monarchists substituted for Falangists of varying degree.

Although all political parties were abolished by Franco decree and merged into the government party (Falange espanola) there are several factions within Falangist ranks. These include the Fascist Falangists, the Requestes (Carlists) and the Monarchists. Carlists support the pretender to the Spanish throne, in Spain the bourbon line.

MORE PAVING

A Good Program

IT is doubtful whether many cities comparable in size to Lubbock ever have been able to match in magnitude the 211-block paving program, announced for this Spring and Summer the other day by Mayor C. A. Bestwick.

Especially appreciative are likely to be the hundreds of families on unpaved streets who are in peculiar position to know at this breezy season what pavement might mean in terms of comfort and reduced housework.

The City commission's plan for tackling the problem by having 90 blocks of the paving done by a private contractor has the appearance of a common-sense approach. It should get the needed pavement done without requiring a heavy investment in expensive equipment which, if available, might not be needed after a year or two. Even if Lubbock continues an unabated growth, year-to-year needs are likely to be short of those which are due in large degree this year to wartime accumulations.

The program is an important one—the most important of its kind in Lubbock history—and the Mayor and City commission are due commendation for tackling it in a big way.

About Controls

MOST Americans doubtless recognize the possibility of a return of controls as severe, or worse, than those during the war. Few relish the prospect, but most apparently concede such a step may become necessary.

If controls should be restored, speculation is idle at this time as to when it might be. If war should break out, or if the American people were persuaded of the imminence of war, the step would be immediate. Otherwise, one guess probably is about as good as another as to the time.

Certainly controls won't come as speedily as the apostles of regimented society want. If these apostles had their way, controls never would have been relaxed. Probably controls won't come as soon as advocated by such moderates as Bernard Baruch, who came out the other day for standby powers to be used at the President's discretion. Probably the step won't be taken before the general election, because it might cost someone votes.

The strongest probability of a return to regimentation, as viewed from the present, logically seems to rest upon the trend of economic conditions. Skyrocketing prices and shortages might easily create the public sentiment which would endure, if not demand, restored controls.

There is no real support for the supposition that any such sentiment is widespread now. Nor, barring a war crisis too obvious to be questioned, does there seem any likelihood that the Washington politicians would dare to impose controls unless and until evidence is more convincing than at present that the American public would accept them.

Either nature is greatly over-developing the mammiferous properties of motion picture actresses, or Hollywood form builder-uppers are working overtime.

(THE STORY: Terror-stricken Ann Boncroft has locked herself in her room. She is convinced that someone in her own household is trying to murder her. Someone has waxed the soles of her new brown pumps, evidentially hoping she would slip and fall down the steep staircase at Tophill. The ean of wax was left in her closet. The swinging bridge over the ravine in the garden was in perfect condition on May 23, according to a letter from a Mr. Stark who had checked it, yet it collapsed on May 30, killing Luke the gardener. Ann is convinced the "accident" was meant to kill, not Luke, but Ann . . . Then there was the typewriter that crashed from a closet shelf, narrowly missing her. The crash that was engineered by two golf balls placed under the machine . . . Ann had refused to go the country club with the others, pleading a headache. Now she shudders as she hears them returning: Rush, her husband, a bacteriologist; Laurie, her 19-year-old sister; Tommy, Laurie's fiance; Rinda, her houseguest; and Gay, Rush's attractive young lab assistant.)

SHE had to move. She knew that. It was imperative that she unlock the door before anyone should come upstairs and find it locked. They would think it suspicious and she didn't dare risk suspicion.

She forced herself to her feet. Moving was painful. It hurt. But she made herself go to the door, put out her hand to the key. She could hear their voices in the downstairs hall. They were coming toward the stairs. She turned the key noiselessly in the lock, then turned, ran almost, to the bed. That was where they would expect to find her, lying down, trying to cure her headache.

She tugged the covers awry, crumpled them slightly, jerked one pillow sideways. Then she lay down. She closed her eyes, tried to relax her tensed muscles. And then Rush was there, standing beside the bed, looking down at her.

"Hello, darling," he said. "How's the headache? Any better?"

"A little, I think," she said.

He stooped to kiss her forehead, straightened up, looked around the room.

"The heat in here is enough to give you another," he said.

She had had chills and must have absently turned on the gas fire sometime during the long afternoon. Rush went to the fireplace, turned it off, when to the windows, threw them open wide. "If you're cold we'll get you undressed and under the covers," he said. "But that gas . . . ! It stinks."

"I think I—had a chill," she said and her voice wavered a little.

"And you didn't eat," he said, still watching her. "I'll fix you a tray."

He left the room and her only feeling was one of overwhelming relief that she hadn't shown the fear.

• • •

RINDA came in but only for a minute. She seemed to understand that Ann wanted to be alone.

Gay didn't come in, just stood there in the doorway.

"They picked me up at the station," Gay said. "I'm so sorry about your head, Ann. Laurie's fixing supper, she said you weren't to worry about a thing. And I'll help her." She smiled at Ann, her slow smile, and, as quietly as she had come, Gay went away.

Rush came back with a tray. A tureen of thick steaming vegetable soup, buttered toast, fragrant hot tea. He helped her undress, got out a nightgown and bed jacket, propped her on pillows, watched her eat. Amazingly, it tasted wonderful. She ate greedily.

"Better now?" Rush asked, taking the tray.

She sighed a little, stretched her toes down in the bed. She did feel better.

Could she have been a little bit crazy this afternoon.

It could all be so easily explained. One of the maids must have left the can of wax in her closet. Rush had probably carried the golf balls upstairs, unthinking. As for the bridge—well, regardless of what the man from Wyoming said, the ropes had frayed. They must have. That's all there was to any of it.

She laughed softly. "Darling, you're a wonderful doctor," she said to Rush. "The soup was wonderful and you're wonderful—everything's wonderful!" She felt lightheaded with relief. She told him she even thought she might be able to sleep now.

"And leave the windows wide open," she said. "That fresh air even tastes good."

• • •

HE left her alone and she settled deeper into the pillows, pulled the covers up around her shoulders.

It really was amazing the way her mind had worked this afternoon. Imagine sitting down in your bedroom, trying to figure out why one of five people would want you to die.

And since she could think of no conceivable reason why either Tommy or Gay would want to kill her, and because, subconsciously or otherwise, she wanted so much to absolve Laurie and Rush, she had taken the devious route to Rinda.

How could she have thought Rinda capable of such a thing? How could her sense of fairness have been so distorted, her loyalties so completely blotted out? Even if she'd thought Rinda able to plot such a thing and carry it out, how had she been able to convince herself that that old college scandal was a strong enough motive for murder?

Poor Rinda. She'd suffered agonies over that old affair. She still did. The casual reference to it the other evening had made her turn white. Probably more than anything else in the world she wanted to forget it.

And how idiotic of Ann to think that because nine years ago Rinda had seen someone die, had been perhaps the cause of his dying, she should now want to murder Ann simply because Ann shared that knowledge.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

I HAVE BEEN watching former King Micheal of Romania and his mother, Queen Helen, pretty closely since their arrival in New York.

I was all set to tell you that, like most ex-royalty and ex-nobility, they were being wined and dived in the palaces of the wealthy and that they were frequenters of the theatres and night clubs.

But these two are pretty darn nice people.

They have visited hospitals and police headquarters, all sorts of scientific institutions and airports and wherever Michael goes Mother Helen goes along with him.

BRANDEIS

At Bellevue Hospital they had a chat with New York's Commissioner of Hospitals, who himself is a patient there. Something's wrong with his ticker.

Queen Helen told him to take it easy and gave him some motherly advice.

But when she came out of his room she shook her head and said:

"I don't think he'll listen to me. Men are hopeless patients."

Just like your own mother would have spoken, or mine, isn't that so?

• • •

During the day the newspaper photographers wanted some more pictures of the two.

They posed nicely and patiently.

Then one of the photographers hollered:

"Heh, Mike, put your arm around your mother."

And Mike or Micheal or His Majesty, or whatever you want to call him, smiled and put his arm around his mother.

• • •

WHICH reminds me of the time Queen Marie of Romania — the present ex-king's grandmother—visited the United States.

It was different then. There was pomp and circumstance, all the royal trappings and ceremonials and all the show and display New York has to offer when it wants to impress somebody.

There was Grover Whalen and police and press agents all over the place.

The photographers were lined up to take Her Majesty's picture and she posed, full of dignity and elegance.

Then one of the photographers —our own little Sammy Schulman, who later became President Roosevelt's favorite lensman —shouted on top of his not very melodious voice:

"Oh, Queenie! Quee--ee--nie ! ! Look this way and smile."

The startled queen, who had never been called Queenie before, looked over Sam's way—and smiled.

I don't know why King Michael and his mother came over here. I hear they want to get help to recapture their throne. I don't think they ever will.

But, so far, they are a couple of darn good eggs.

ON DEFENSE PROGRAM

Definite Plan Urged

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The prospect of national defense and anti-Communist expenditures totalling at least $100,000,000,000 within the next four years has led President Truman's top economic advisers to urge that he summon the nation's industrial, financial and labor leaders to the White House for a virtual war conference. As of today, the grim task of mobilizing national resources for a world crisis is being handled on a haphazard and piecemeal basis.

Under the proposed plan, Mr. Truman, Secretary Marshall, Secretary Forrestal and Chief of Staff Omar N. Bradley would give these men an off-the-record account of the Russian menace and our ability to meet it in a military showdown. He would then ask them to form a voluntary but well organized organization comparable to Bernard M. Baruch's War Industries Board of 1917-1919 and Donald M. Nelson's War Production Board of the recent conflict.

• • •

UNPREPAREDNESS: The Army-Navy Production Board now in operation has admittedly fallen down on its assignment. Its program for quick conversion of peacetime plants into new "arsenals of Democracy" amounts to only a faint blueprint. It has not built up essential stockpiles, and time for warehousing scarce materials is running out. There are vital gaps in numerous commodities required for national defense.

The need for such preparation is regarded as all the more pressing because of the possibility that Mr. Truman may not be reelected. A change of administration always causes confusion and uncertainty, even in normal times. But if the proposed job should be postponed until the presidential campaign, or until after an election repudiating the present regime, it is pointed out that our state of unpreparedness might last until far into 1949.

• • •

CONTROLS: The question of keeping down manufacturing and labor costs for the proposed rearmament program would be one of the most important and controversial problems to be laid before the presidential conference, if it materializes. With a current public debt of more than $250,000,000,000 another war financed on the current or a higher basis of prices would bankrupt the United States and might result in the capitalistic breakdown desired and prophesied by Stalin.

Mr. Truman would beg the industrial and labor moguls to hold the present price line on such key commodities as steel, light metals, coal, all kinds of transportation and communication equipment, clothing, food, etc—in short, every article required for an unprecedentedly large and formidable peacetime force. By the same token, he would try to persuade William Green, Philip Murray and John L. Lewis to waive springtime demands for wage increases.

Until the actual outbreak of hostilities, there would be no thought of installing price, wage and material controls such as were imposed during the two global conflicts. But the lower the general level of costs can be maintained during the intervening months, the lower would be the maximum that would have to be fixed in wartime.

• • •

RUNOUT: The desertion of such loyal Democrats as Senators Lister Hill and John J. Sparkman of Alabama marks the high-water crest of the Southern rebellion against President Truman. The weakening of such once abjectly slavish Administration men as Senate Whip Hill and former House Whip Sparkman has shaken the White House forces. With the runout of several Brooklyn Tammany leaders of Jewish persuasion, it has generated rumors that Mr. Truman himself might walk out on the party.

The Hill-Sparkman episode appears to prove that the Southern faction is no Mexican generals' outbreak; it suggests that the buck privates of democracy have joined the mutiny. For the two Alabama men did not decide to quit the political ship until they had put through numerous long-distance calls to every informed politician, business man and farmer in their state.

• • •

LATE: Mr. Sparkman was loath to leave the old household. But he faces a primary fight in May, and he made a quick, telephonic check of conditions. "You'd better get down here right away, and find out what's happening over this civil rights program," a political henchman told him.

"But I can't leave the Senate sessions now," replied Mr. Sparkman. "I'll get down there late in April or early in May, and look things over."

"The way things are moving now," came the answer, "That may be too late."

• • •

REBELS: It was then that the former House leader and Roosevelt-Truman confidant jumped overboard. Mr. Hill's announced resolution to stand by Mr. Truman was undermined when he got the bad news from his colleague. So, he ran up a long-distance telephone bill of his own. He got the same advice that was given to John J. And he immediately cast his lot with the rebels.

When two partisans who pride themselves on their political fidelity and recognition leap overboard after a mere telephone caucus, it becomes clear even to the small White House faction that their man is on the skids. Worse still, as the northern bosses now begin to realize, the schism may rock the very foundations of the historic party.

• • •

BOOSTER: "Why is it," asks Mrs. A. B. of Flint, Mich., "that mention of General MacArthur in any connection, but especially as a presidential candidate, always seems to arouse fierce criticism and opposition to him? I think he is one of America's great men and cannot understand why so many people seem to dislike him. What is your explanation?"

Answer: I have known General MacArthur fairly well for more than twenty years. I covered the courtmartial of the late 'Billie' Mitchell, when our Japanese commander sat on the board and voted for conviction of his old, poker-playing and hunting companion.

I suffered a slight gassing when the 'bonus army' was driven out of Washington by troops under his command. The War Department was one of my chief assignments when he was Chief of Staff, with General Eisenhower (then a Major) as his aide.

• • •

PERFECT: Based on that background, I would say that General MacArthur suffers because he is the technically perfect soldier. In that field he is almost too good to be true, and, therefore, suspect. It is a handicap which besets successful men in many walks of life.

'Mac' is also a strict disciplinarian of his officers as well as his enlisted men. He is known as a 'hard commander' but he imposes that same code and rules on himself, within limitations, of course.

He is decisive, dogmatic and blunt in expressing his views. In fact, sometimes he is too sharp and snappy in his human relationships.

His rule in Japan epitomizes his personality and his career. Whereas our postwar occupancy of European areas is described as a 'mess,' conditions in the Orient are coldly correct and stable, at least on the surface.

WAR SCARE SEEN IN REPORTS

Pressure On Solons Is Scored

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Perennially somebody is sighting sea serpents—usually, however, later in the season when there are more sightseers out where sea serpents can be sighted.

Last year we had a quaint variation in the flying saucers.

The season is beginning early this year. It's Russian submarines this time. So high-placed a dignitary as Secretary of the Navy John L. Sullivan started this fashion a few days ago when he dropped a sentence in testifying before a Congressional committee that "recently submarines not belonging to any nation west of the iron curtain have been sighted off our shores."

STOKES

This mystifying sort of language, immediately translated into ominous headlines and excited announcements over the radio, created a sinister sort of visual image which the supposedly responsible Navy official encouraged by a subsequent reminder that German submarines had appeared in our coastal waters in 1917 and 1941.

• • •

Were In Pacific

Mr. Sullivan wouldn't tell where the submarines were supposed to have been seen. Afterward some unnamed admiral was quoted as saying that one was sighted by an American airplane off the Aleutian islands, that a merchant ship reported a periscope in the Johnston-Palmyra island area southwest of Pearl Harbor, and that another merchant ship reported one 200 miles off San Francisco.

The third supposed sighting was at night. Anybody who's been at sea at night knows what it's possible to see, or imagine having seen, in such circumstances.

• • •

These all might have been submarines, but they all might just as well not have been. If they were, there is no reason in international law why they should not go where they please in the open seas. It is a violation of international law only when such vessels come within the three-mile limit of another nation without having first given notice and secured permission.

Why this cryptic statement by the Secretary of the Navy?

The circumstances might help with the answer. He was appearing with other officials of the national military establishment to request an additional $3,000,000,000 appropriation for the defense measures, including the draft, recommended by President Truman.

The submarine revelations had all the earmarks of an attempt to arouse public excitement. That, unfortunately, too often is a part of the technique of trying to put over a military program with Congress and with the people.

This seems the wrong time for such gun-play.

The fear technique sometimes produces strange results and obvious inconsistencies in policy in other directions, once the technique begins to work. This is exhibited now, among other ways, in the clamor in Congress to stop exports to Russia.

While this is aimed at shipments of military goods and while the administration itself is policing exports carefully to exclude strictly military items, it is threatening to go beyond that to stop shipments of other stuff which, by a great stretch of definition, might be considered as having some military potential.

• • •

Could Slow Aid Plan

This current Russian-embargo campaign could slow our whole foreign-trade program and the extension of trade which we advocate and have encouraged as a means of reviving world health and stability. It could very well interfere with successful operation of the Marshall Plan and might even act as a boomerang in other ways.

If, in retaliation, Russia should shut off her trade and that of other eastern European countries to Western Europe, that would stop east-west and west-east trade which is essential to recovery of Europe and which we have encouraged. It would impose upon us the necessity of meeting all of Western Europe's needs — which is more than our capacity, especially in some lines.

• • •

It is well to remember, too, that we are dependent upon Russia for chrome and manganese for our steel industry and for armor plate. Through unreasoned fear and hysteria, we can work ourselves into a new kind of isolation that will weaken our influence and our position in the world and squelch the revival of trade which is the bulwark of peace.

It would be well for our responsible officials to leave the sea serpents and the flying saucers to the layman.

Former King Mihai Makes Quick Tour Of Cleveland Area

CLEVELAND, March 31. (AP)—Exiled King Mihai of Romania stepped off a commercial airliner today for a fast tour of Cleveland under unusually heavy police guard.

The 27-year-old Mihai told reporters he liked the United States; did not know when he would marry, and said nothing about rumors of threats against his life.

It was those rumors, presumably which led Police Chief George Matwitz to assign nearly 100 officers to Mihai's party as a precautionary measure during his stay here this afternoon and tonight.

Tonight he was to attend a banquet. Reservations were made for some 1,000 people of Romanian descent. A public reception scheduled later was cancelled by secret service agents.

Man Arrested After Woman Killed When Struck By Truck

PARIS, March 31 (AP)—Mrs. Florence C. Awvey, about 19, of Detroit, Tex., was killed today when she was struck by a truck as she stood near a highway cafe across the Red river in Oklahoma.

Mrs. Awvey was killed about 5 p. m. Officers tonight arrested a man they were seeking as the driver of the truck, which they said left the scene of the accident.

The scene was on Highway 271, about 15 miles north of Paris.

RIDDLE—VENICE A CANAL NOT A CANAL?—Low tide in Venice, and the glamorous network of canals becomes nothing more than muddy streets. Three feet of water normally runs through these canals, usually alive with barges and gondoliers. But a low sea drains them of water, and the city's water-borne transportation system is crippled.

STOCKS CONTINUE COMEBACK

NEW YORK, March 31. (AP)—Stocks hit a bullish note in a fast market session today. Closing gains by individual favorites ranged above 2 points, with many issues at new 1948 highs.

Buying orders flooded facilities in the first hour. The ticker tape fell briefly behind. Total transfers of 1,780,000 shares for the day were the second largest since last Oct. 15 and compared with 1,060,000 Tuesday. The March total of 22,992,575 shares was the best since December.

Demand centered on rails and a broad list of industrials.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite climbed .8 of a point to 65.2, its best level since Jan. 12. Its net advance of 4.2 since the end of February made the March gain the best for any month since January, 1946.

With 1,089 issues registering, today's market was the broadest since the record session of Feb. 10. Moving forward were 776 issues; 133 declined.

New highs for the year were touched by Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Cerro de Pasco, General Electric, Montgomery Ward, Paramount Pictures, Pacific Western Oil and Mission Corp. Superior Oil of California, thinly-held issue which leaped 32 points Tuesday, spurted another 15 to a new high at 200 today before falling back to close at 189, on sales of only 500 shares.

Bonds climbed.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 31 (AP) — Cotton futures turned firm today following early losses extending to almost $1 a bale. A resumption of aggressive buying by spot houses in old crop deliveries associated with export business touched off a rally extending to more than $2.50 a bale before the market reacted partially on profit taking.

There was a good deal of stop-loss buying in the new crop deliveries, with the market's strength predicated on the tightening cotton supply and the favorable export outlook.

Futures closed 70 cents a bale lower to 45 cents higher than the previous close.

10-Year-Old Lad Finds He Was Too Young In Two Ways

WORCHESTER, Mass., March 31 (U.P.)—It cost $10, but 13-year-old Roland Hubereauld had a lesson he is not likely to forget.

With a $10 bill, the lad set out to buy an air rifle. A sporting goods store clerk said he was too young.

Hubereauld met an older youth who agreed to buy it. Roland waited outside for some time, then went in to investigate.

The "friend" had slipped out of the store by a side door with the $10.

The first malleable iron fell from the sky as meteorites which primitive man regarded as gifts of the gods.

Survey Of Southern Cotton Exports To Orient Is Planned

COLLEGE STATION, March 31 (U.P.)—Cotton growers, especially those in Texas, should learn some of the answers this summer to questions involved in the export of southern cotton to Far Eastern markets.

The answers are expected to be supplied by Dr. Ide P. Trotter, director of the Texas Extension Service and the man selected by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to tour the Orient with a check list in his hand, asking questions.

From Dr. Trotter's efforts, southern growers should know something about the amount, the kind and the staple length of the cotton to grow in Texas and the South.

Complete Study Planned

Twice Trotter turned down the Agricultural department's request for his services. The third time, urged by President Gib Gilchrist of Texas A. and M., and D. W. Williams, vice-president for agriculture at the school, he said yes.

"I find it almost impossible to take so much time away from the office to make this trip," Trotter said, "but wouldn't it be rather embarrassing to have somebody from one of the other southern states make the trip to find out about the foreign markets for Texas cotton?"

The extension head left College Station March 13 for Washington, D. C., where he was briefed for the trip. He will leave for the Orient about the first of April and the schedule calls for stops in Japan, China, India and Pakistan. Trotter says, however, that it probably will be a round-the-world trip because his survey will end in Pakistan and "it is shorter to return to the United States by the way of Europe."

The Agriculture department wants to know something about the future cotton industry in the four countries. A few questions are:

1. How many of the mills were hit by our planes and how many of these mills have been rebuilt?
2. Are foreign markets on the upgrade and what quality of cotton do they want?
3. Is the trend in gear mills for a longer staple length?
4. How are we going to gear our cotton production over for export to Asia?

A part of Texas' cotton prosperity depends on the answers.

NOT ELIGIBLE

RENSSELAER, N. Y. (U.P.)—A local housewife failed to report for March, 1948, jury duty, as directed. A deputy sheriff sent to her home supplied the answer. The woman died in 1931.

Norwegian Says Soviets Will Not Take Over Without Fight

SAN ANTONIO, March 31 (AP)—"If Russia is to take the Scandinavian countries, she must take us by force. Russia will not be allowed to bore from within politically as she has done in other European countries," Thorry Kiaer, top Norwegian mining industrialist visiting in San Antonio, said in an interview Wednesday night.

Kiaer, managing director of Orkla Mining company of Trondheim, Norway and an active anti-Nazi during the war, is touring the United States, accompanied by his wife, inspecting the American mining industry.

Mr. and Mrs. Kiaer, who will leave San Antonio by automobile Thursday morning to see the oil fields at Midland and to observe mining techniques in New Mexico, Arizona, Nevada, and Utah, were "much impressed with the wit, ability, spirit, good humor, friendliness, and hospitality of Texans."

HST Asks Oil States To Boost Production To Limits Permitted

WASHINGTON, March 31 (U.P.)—President Truman has asked governors of oil-producing states to increase production as much as possible, but with an eye on conservation for future needs, it was revealed today.

At the same time Mr. Truman refused to suspend a provision of the Connally "Hot Oil" act restricting Interstate commerce in oil. It prevents oil from being sent out of a state if production does not conform to conservation laws.

Limit Is Ordered

Chairman Kenneth S. Wherry, R, Neb., of a Senate Small business subcommittee, made public a letter to Mr. Truman and the President's reply.

The President said he had asked Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug to write the governors "urging that they assure themselves that each field is allowed to produce at, although not above, its maximum efficient rate as determined by sound engineering principles."

On Wherry's request for suspension of the act, the President replied that it would not produce more oil. He said production above the maximum efficient rates would reduce the future supply and undermine the nation's future oil security.

Wherry said he hoped Mr. Truman's action would bring the desired results and not conform "with past efforts to regulate the flow of oil to some preconceived notion of market demand."

He argued that suspension of the act would serve notice on the states that they "must supply the demand if they desire federal assistance in the enforcement of their laws."

Improvements In Postal Service To Valley Points Is Studied

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP)—Postal officials agreed today to make a study of transportation schedules into the Rio Grande valley of Texas to see if mail deliveries can't be improved.

Rep. West (D-Tex.), after conferences at the Postoffice department, said authorities agreed to order an invesitgation by the regional inspectors of both the surface and airmail sections of the service.

West took the matter up with the postal officials after business and civic groups in that part of Texas complained about slow mail deliveries.

U. S. Officer Shoots Jap Woman, Kills Self After Family Arrives

TOKYO, March 31 (U.P.)—While his wife and four-year-old daughter lay sleeping in an adjoining room, an American officer shot and killed his Japanese girl friend today and then committed suicide by pumping two bullets into his heart.

The first cavalry division, which reported the shooting, gave the officer's name as 1st Lt. Benjamin H. Pickler, Jr., 30, Buena Vista, Tenn. The Japanese woman was Mrs. Chiyoko Urabe, whom he had known for several months and had engaged recently as a maid.

The shooting took place in the ante-room of a housing billet in which the Picklers were living. The Urabe woman was shot in the breast, apparently while she was asleep.

Mrs. Pickler and her daughter, who arrived from the United States only three days ago, were sleeping in a room across the corridor when they were awakened by a series of shots. She found two notes, one of which said, "I must kill this woman I have learned to love so much."

The second instructed Army authorities about financial arrangements for returning Mrs. Pickler and the daughter to the United States.

Fort Worth Man's Garage Is Set Afire After Warnings

FORT WORTH, March 31 (AP)—An Armour and company plant superintendent who has received warnings late yesterday saved his home from fire.

Investigators from the city fire department and deputy sheriffs found fragments of two of three bottles, kerosene-soaked rags, a box of matches and a man's comb in the yard of the home.

The Armour and company plant has been hampered by a strike for several days.

Mrs. Gunter said her husband has received warnings from parties "that they did not want him working."

The superintendent, J. C. Gunter, and his wife were aroused by a flash and explosion and were able to extinguish flames eating at the garage attached to their two-story home. Damage was minor.

WHAT PEOPLE ARE READING

CHICAGO (U.P.)—The American Library Association says its annual survey of the nation's reading trends reveals that books about personal problems were the most popular in 1947. Doctors often prescribed such books on prescription blanks as they would a drug or a sedative. Books on atomic energy were in little demand.

First tariff law applied by the U. S. was passed in 1789.

Efforts Made To Free Marines From Reds

SHANGHAI, March 31 (U.P.)—United States Navy sources said today that every effort is being made to obtain the release of four U. S. Marines held prisoners by the Chinese Communists.

The Marines disappeared while on a hunting party Christmas day. A Chinese Communist radio broadcast on Feb. 14 announced they had been captured and that a fifth Marine had died of wounds received in a fight with Communists.

The missing Marines are Cpl. William L. Pollard, Fort Worth, Tex.; Pfc. Carrol W. Dickerson, Olathe, Kans.; Pvt. Robert Hart, Pittsburgh; Pfc. Thomas Kapodistra, Butfalo, N. Y., and Pfc. Charles J. Brayton, Fort Jay, Governor's island, New York. Brayton was the one who the Communist radio said was dead.
