Court tells MISD to reorganize

By JANE MARLER DEES
Staff Writer

For the fourth time in almost two years, a court Wednesday ordered the Midland Independent School District to reorganize itself into a body composed of seven single member-district seats.

The 15-0 decision was handed down Wednesday by a New Orleans appellate court, officials said Friday.

The Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals' ruling mirrored three prior judgments in the 1985 lawsuit filed by the League of United Latin American Citizens and the Black Advisory Council against MISD.

That decision is and has been that the MISD board of trustees sits unconstitutionally until it is comprised of seven members elected to seats via single member-district elections.

U.S. Federal Judge Lucius Bunton made this ruling twice and a three-judge appellate panel ruled similarly once.

Currently MISD's seven-member board is comprised of six members — five of whom are serving expired terms (Fred Newman, Ron Britton, Bill Jackson, Michael Conaway and Joe Reed) and one (Betsy Robinson) serving a current term.

All members were elected to at-large positions.

The seventh member — Joe Golding — was serving a current term, but resigned from the board last month because of other interests which precluded his attention to the school district.

The appellate court's decision Wednesday was made just 16 days after the en banc or "entire bench" rehearing of the case occurred.

The rehearing was requested several months ago by the school district.

Plaintiffs received word of their victory Friday, but school district officials said that same day they had not been informed of the ruling.

"It was a per curiam decision which means it was agreed on by everyone. There was not a long opinion by any judge, just unanimous affirmation of the district court's judgment," plaintiff's attorney Rolando Rios said Friday.

"It was found the at-large system of elections is in violation of the Section 2 of the Voting Rights Act," Rios continued.

"We consider this a stunning victory for the minority community in Midland. Judge Bunton's order is in place. We want school board elections as soon as possible," Rios said.

Adding to the plaintiff's good news Friday was the fact the decision had come so quickly, they said.

Rios said decisions of this nature usually take at least two to three months, but this decision came in just 16 days.

"I was just so elated. I couldn't believe it. I hadn't expected to hear from them so quickly, but this was the decision I expected," said Dorothy Smith, president of the BAC.

"But from my gut feeling, I think they (MISD) will make an effort to make an appeal, based on what they've done in the past," Ms. Smith said.

"But we'll be right there with them," she added.

A stay of elections requested by and granted to MISD trustees was still in effect Friday.

Local LULAC member Edia Hernandez also was "so excited."

"I feel like running up and down rejoicing and screaming," Mrs. Hernandez said. "I knew we were going to win. I would say to myself, 'If there is justice and there is a God, we will win,'" she added.

"But it's been such a long, dragged-out thing. I don't even want to speculate on elections. I hope the board will give up," Mrs. Hernandez said.

MISD had made two proposals in the Sept. 14 rehearing concerning their redistricting plans.

One was for the board to be composed of four single member-districts and three at-large positions, and another was for a board to be composed of five at-large and two single member-district positions, Rios explained.

According to the court's most recent decision, the board must redistrict by a plan that allocates no fewer than 70 percent of the board members to election from single member-districts.

"We now reject the appeal on the ground that these plans of the Board were contrary to state law and not entitled to legislative deference. Neither of the Midland ISD Board's proposals met that requirement," the decision stated.

State law requires that five, six or seven single member-districts must be created, Rios said.

Appellate Judge Patrick Higginbotham of Dallas had voted in favor of the school district in the third hearing of the matter, but voted against them in the most recent hearing.

The 15-0 ruling Wednesday proved "he must have changed his mind," Rios said. "I was surprised."

Five more senators oppose Bork

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic senators lined up ever deeper against Supreme Court nominee Robert H. Bork on Friday, and even a pro-Bork Republican said he doubted President Reagan's personal pleas could save the nomination.

Still, one Democrat, Sen. David Boren of Oklahoma, bucked the anti-Bork tide. And Reagan himself promised to fight on in what he said was nothing less than a battle for "the integrity and independence of the American system of justice."

Sen. Richard Lugar, R-Ind., who previously announced he supports Bork, said, "In my judgment probably senators will have to change their minds to become positive in order for Judge Bork to be confirmed."

Asked by reporters whether Reagan, who was meeting one-on-one with undecided senators, could change those minds, Lugar said, "Well, I think it's doubtful. On the other hand, presidents have been very persuasive on occasion and that is his only choice."

Two undecided Democrats said after meeting with Reagan at the White House that they had told him the Bork nomination was in deep trouble, no matter which way they ended up voting.

One of them, Sen. J. James Exon, D-Neb., said after talking with Reagan and aides, "I got the impression that unless they nail down 49 to 51 votes in the next few days the nomination could be withdrawn."

Exon said he didn't discuss that matter directly with Reagan, and White House officials said withdrawal of the nomination was not being considered.

Howard H. Baker Jr., the White House chief of staff, said he saw "no prospect of withdrawing the nomination at all" and added, "...There is still a realistic prospect of success."

Rafsanjani predicts further confrontations

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Iran's Parliament speaker warned Friday that another confrontation with the United States is likely in the Persian Gulf and said that taking on the Americans "is more sweet for us" than fighting Iraq.

Hashemi Rafsanjani, addressing the United States, declared: "This is an explicit warning and needs no diplomatic language. Take our words seriously and don't regard them as mere threats."

His comments came at a weekly prayer session in Tehran and were broadcast on Iran's state radio, which was monitored in Nicosia.

Since U.S. Navy helicopters attacked an Iranian ship in the gulf Sept. 21, Iran has been vowing revenge. It denies American allegations that the vessel, Iran Ajr, was planting mines in international waters.

Five Iranian crewmen were killed in the attack, and the United States blew up and sank the captured vessel.

"Most probably, in the not-too-distant future, we will have another confrontation off the southern coasts of the country, in the Persian Gulf," Rafsanjani said. "Therefore, we must prepare a portion of our forces for that day."

Rafsanjani is considered the most powerful figure in Iran after revolutionary patriarch Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini. He is Khomeini's personal representative on Iran's Supreme Defense Council, which decides strategy in the 7-year-old Iran-Iraq war.

Iran's official Islamic Republic News Agency quoted Rafsanjani as saying at the prayer session at Tehran University: "Victory over Iraq is sweet for our combatants.

"But the pleasure of a jihad (Islamic holy war) against the root cause... of the war against our revolution (the United States) is by far more sweet for us."

The United States, he said, "will receive the due response for its recent crime" against the Iran Ajr, "and then they can see if they still want to continue these acts."

Man too 'scared' to go home after quake

WHITTIER, Calif. (AP) — Crumbled walls, shattered windows and toppled chimneys greeted residents and officials Friday as they began planning to repair more than $59 million in damage from the strongest earthquake since a deadly 1971 temblor.

"I don't want to go home, because I'm scared," said Joel Bargas, 29, a Mexican immigrant who lives in Highland Park. He and his brother, Jaime, abandoned their apartment and took their wives and children to camp out in Sycamore Park.

Many businesses and schools remained closed and a nursing home was evacuated when damage was found while officials evaluated the impact of the quake, which registered 6.1 on the Richter scale and killed at least six people Thursday morning. The Sylmar quake 16 years ago killed 64 people.

There were no significant aftershocks Friday by midafternoon, although there were probably dozens of small ones, said Robert Finn, a spokesman for the California Institute of Technology.

But even a minor shock was likely to collapse the Braewood convalescent hospital in South Pasadena and 67 patients were evacuated to other homes when structural damage turned up, said Fire Chief Gene Murray.

Whittier and other suburbs east of Los Angeles were hit particularly hard. Every building in downtown Whittier appeared to be damaged, and some had collapsed. Sagging porches, cracked walls and broken glass marked the impact of the quake in residential areas.

About $10 million damage occurred in Whittier, where 30 businesses were destroyed and about 800 homes damaged, Mayor Gene Chandler said.

In Los Angeles, an early estimate of damage from building and safety officials was up to $5 million, said police spokesman Fabian Lizarraga.

Monterey Park Mayor Cam Briglio estimated damage at "several million dollars." The San Gabriel Valley towns of Alhambra, Rosemead, Temple City and Pasadena had a combined estimate of $44 million. A full estimate for the region was undetermined because the earthquake shook numerous cities and jurisdictions.

"What really is so disturbing is to see the displacement of individuals, the elderly people who had to be moved out of rest homes and the like, and individual families, and of course the deaths that have occurred," Gov. George Deukmejian said during a tour of the Whittier business district.

Soviets allegedly aim laser beam at U.S. pilot

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Soviet intelligence vessel operating near the target zone of a Soviet missile test off Hawaii aimed an apparent laser beam at a U.S. surveillance aircraft, disturbing the vision of the woman co-pilot for 10 minutes, the Defense Department said Friday.

Sen. Malcolm Wallop, R-Wyo., who disclosed the incident in a speech on the Senate floor, said the aviator had been "temporarily blinded."

A Pentagon statement said the co-pilot, whose identity and rank were not given, was aboard an Air Force WC-135 surveillance plane when it was illuminated by a "bright light" from a Soviet intelligence vessel, the Chukotka.

The light, believed to have been a laser beam, "disturbed the co-pilot's vision for 10 minutes," the statement said.

"Although preliminary medical evaluation has shown no apparent damage, further detailed tests may be required to determine, if, in fact, no damage to her eyes occurred," it added.

The incident took place about 900 miles northwest of Hawaii, a Pentagon source said.

The statement said a second plane, a Navy P-3 reconaissance aircraft, was in the vicinity at the time and was also illuminated by a beam from the Chukotka.

The P-3 was "engaged in observing Soviet open-ocean ICBM (intercontinental ballistic missile) re-entry vehicle splashdowns" during the incident on the evening and early morning of Wednesday and Thursday, the Pentagon said.

Wallop made the disclosure during a speech as he introduced legislation condemning the Soviets for the missile tests, which he said resulted in at least one warhead falling in the Pacific "within 100 miles of U.S. territory."

Discussion on AIDS part of MC orientation

By RICK BROWN
Assistant City Editor

At least three Midland College freshmen appreciated the frank talk about AIDS they heard Friday as part of orientation activities for the school's new year.

AIDS — acquired immune deficiency syndrome, a deadly disease that attacks the body's capacity to fight infection — "has got a lot of us scared right now," said Bobby Riggins, 28. "It's on everyone's mind."

The talk was "important," said 18-year-old Terry Gammage, because "it informed me about what I have to be more careful about."

While both freshmen said they would be more mindful of activities that could lead to contacting the disease, another student, Patrick Peek, 18, said he's already taking precautions.

"I've been celibate for two years," said Peek in a reference to the prime means of getting the disease — sexual intercourse.

Peek said the reason for his abstinence is only partly because of AIDS, acknowledging that he also is unwilling to deal with other issues associated with sex.

The one-hour session in which the trio participated is part of MC's 15-hour orientation course. Within the course, about 550 incoming first-year men and women receive tips on such scholarly pursuits as study techniques and use of the library.

But in addition to that traditional orientation fodder, students also discussed issues related to sex and substance abuse, MC Dean of Students C.C. Dakil said.

Male and female students took part separately in Friday's sessions on AIDS to promote a more frank discussion of the disease, said Jerry Franks, a professor of politics and philosophy who led discussion in one class.

Said Charles Simmons, another professor who participated: "It's an attempt to educate them rather than having panic in the streets."

One typical Friday session started with a 20-minute video hosted by actress Rae Dawn Chong which frankly and dramatically covered unwarranted fears about AIDS, ways of contracting the disease, precautions and which societal groups are most at risk.

About 25 occasionally jocular freshmen men heard Ms. Chong start the video by saying, "You may want to laugh, you may get embarassed, but that's OK."

Major messages conveyed in the media presentation were, "AIDS is hard to get," "The point is, if you're going to have intercourse of any kind, use a condom," and "There's nobody to blame except the virus."

Deafness doesn't keep student from competing

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP) — Lehigh University's manufacturing systems engineering graduate program, in 1985 judged the best in the nation, is rigid enough for even the brightest students.

But for Gary Behm, deaf at birth, the Lehigh program he enrolled in last January poses several challenges less motivated pupils would balk at.

Like many of the students in the 12-month program, Gary comes from industry. But the senior associate engineer for IBM, Manassas, Va., comes not only with a hearing handicap but also with a baby he and his wife — also deaf — recently welcomed into the world.

And although Lehigh has a policy of offering equal educational opportunities to qualified handicapped people, Gary's case was a new one that required special attention.

First, he needed an interpreter, someone to accompany him to classes to deliver lectures in sign language. Gary reads lips, but he can't catch everything that's said, especially when a professor turns his head toward a blackboard or projection screen.

In 1983 IBM provided $2 million grants for Lehigh and four other U.S. universities to develop graduate curricula in manufacturing systems engineering. They agreed to pay for an interpreter for Gary, as well as his tuition, books, salary and living expenses.

The search for an interpreter reached as far as Lancaster before Nancy Abreu was located. She had worked as an interpreter at several universities and agreed to assist Gary.

Lehigh is paying Keith Brown, another MSE student, to share his notes with Gary, who can't take notes because he's watching Nancy and his teachers.

Once a week, Gary and Nancy meet at lunch to review new signs made necessary by the technical nature of Lehigh's program. Signs for words and phrases like "robotics" and "hierarchical control" are added regularly to their sign-language vocabulary.

Gary's professors have adjusted. Dr. Mikell P. Groover, professor of industrial engineering, allows Nancy to shadow him as he writes across a blackboard so Gary can focus simultaneously on Nancy's signs and what Groover is writing and saying.

Groover says he makes an effort to face Gary during classes and in individual meetings.

"He's managed not only to cope, but also to succeed on the job, in school and now in the MSE program," says Groover.

Bunton proudly displays gift from Sessions

By ED TODD
Staff Writer

The chief wore a feathered headband.

Proudly.

The chief, played in real life by U.S. District Court Judge Lucius D. Bunton III, Friday afternoon casually strolled up and down the United States Courthouse hallways in Midland wearing an Indian headband, decked with feathers.

Bunton

The headband was a gift from the other chief, U.S. District Court Chief Judge William S. "Bill" Sessions, who is soon to be sworn in as director of the FBI.

"That little old dinky headband, that's what he (Sessions) sent me," said the delighted Bunton, 62.

With the headband came this note to Bunton: "Dear Chief: Here it is! It goes with the office. Best of luck. With warmest regards, Bill."

Bunton, 62, is to assume chief judgeship of the seven-judge Western District of Texas after Sessions recovers from a bleeding ulcer and takes over the FBI.

The ulcer flared up after Sessions, 57, took aspirin on an empty stomach during a flight to Washington D.C., from Texas. Sessions subsequently was hospitalized. He was to be installed as FBI director on Thursday but that ceremony was postponed.

Sessions sent the headband to Bunton just before Sessions left San Antonio, which is headquarters for the Western District of Texas. The district stretches westwardly from the Waco-Austin-San Antonio area to El Paso.

Bunton, who said he and Sessions have "a good time together," said his "suspicions" are that his colleague will not be sworn in as FBI director in a private hospital ceremony.

"I don't think that it would be very macho — if that's the right word — to swear in the FBI director in the hospital. I don't think that old dog is going to hunt very far," Bunton said of a somewhat private swearing-in ceremony. He predicted public fanfare.

"I give Sessions a hard time," Bunton said of his friend. "Maybe that's why he has an ulcer. I don't know."

Bunton, who hones up his West Texas wit in and out of the courtroom, said Sessions "likes organization and is a hard worker. He's probably going to have his agents wear epaulets when he gets in office," he jested.

"I'm glad for him," said Bunton, who is the resident federal judge for the Midland-Odessa Division. "That's obviously what he wanted, and I'm glad he has it. I think he'll make a real good FBI director."

The "dinky" headband Sessions sent Bunton has two feathers — red and white.

Then, Bunton embellished the headband with a full-feathered purple headdress given to him by Grace Sampsell, an El Paso federal deputy clerk who prepares the judge's docket when presiding in El Paso.

"We have to have the judge properly dressed when he's in office," said Ms. Sampsell, who said she was charmed by the judge's wit and humor. Her note with the purple headdress was brief: "Hail to the Chief."

DEATHS

Annie Neill

Neill

Services for Mrs. Annie Fay Neill of Midland will be today at 1 p.m. in the First Baptist church with the Rev. Daniel Vestal, pastor, officiating.

Interment will follow in Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Ellis Funeral Home.

She was born June 26, 1914, in Midland, the daughter of early-day pioneer Midlanders, the H.B. Dunagans.

She graduated from Midland High School in 1932 and then attended Texas A&I University in Kingsville and Sul Ross University.

Following schooling she returned to Midland. She met and married the late Ernest W. Neill, a former Midland mechanical contractor, in 1936. He died Oct. 15, 1978.

She was a very active lifetime member of the First Baptist Church; superintendent of Intermediate Sunday School for many years; and past president of the Women's Missionary Union. She was active in the PTA; Yucca Garden Club and the Twentieth Century Study Club.

She was one of the founding members of the Midland Women's Club, serving as president from 1968 to 1970.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Robert (Jane) Carrens and Mrs. William (Iris) Hicks, both of Midland; eight grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

The family requests memorials be directed to Hospice of Midland or the Marsha Adams Scholarship Fund of the First Baptist Church.

Two arrested in drug bust

From Staff Reports

Midland County Sheriff's Department authorities arrested two Midlanders early Friday morning in connection with a marijuana bust.

Charged with possession of marijuana over four ounces but less than five pounds were Arturo Diaz Marquez, 20, and Diane Marquez Sanchez, 23, both of 1106 E. Parker Ave.

Justice of the Peace Robert Pine set bail Friday afternoon at $30,000 each.

The arrests were the result of a search warrant issued at the residence at 1 a.m. Friday, reports said.

The two were in custody in the Midland County Jail Friday night.

Three other Midlanders were arrested and charged in connection with the Friday theft of a $32,000 wench truck from Poly Line Inc., located at South Interstate 20 at Highway 715.

An 18-year-old man was charged with theft over $20,000, public intoxication, unlawfully carrying a weapon and not having a drivers license, reports said.

Also, another 18-year-old man and a 17-year-old man were charged with unauthorized use of a motor vehicle, reports said.

All three were in custody in the Midland County Jail, a sheriff's office official said Friday night. Bond was set for the three men at $10,000 each, the official added.

Sheriff's Office reports said a deputy watched the men in the 1985 Ford F600 wench truck ram through a gate at the company's office. After a chase, the three were apprehended, the report said.

Cigarette called cause of fire

From Staff Reports

Midland County Fire Department officials said it was a burning cigarette which caused 1,500 acres of Cowden Ranch pasture land to blaze for almost five hours Friday afternoon.

A report issued Friday night listed the burning cigarette as the instigating factor in the grass fire which necessitated help from the Midland County Volunteer Fire Department, the Northeast Midland Fire Department and the Greenwood Volunteer Fire Department.

No injuries were reported in the fire which started at about 1:30 p.m. Friday and burned until shortly before 6:30 p.m., reports said.

Damage was done to about 100 fence posts, the report continued.

The location of the Cowden Ranch is on Highway 349 about 10 miles north of Midland, reports said.

MISD

Mrs. Hernandez also said Friday the Midland County Hospital District could expect to hear from LULAC now that a school board decision was intact.

MCHD directors, who have fought similar non-legal battles with LULAC, have until mid-January to decide a method for redistricting their own board.

Hospital district officials were elected to at-large positions as well, but have claimed their situation is nothing like MISD's.

"We will be better armed to get after the hospital district now. When we first approached them they asked us to wait for an MISD decision. Then they say it only applies to the school district.

"They're talking out of both sides of their mouths," she said. "Bunton didn't rule this just for MISD, but for everyone."

Although MISD board president Fred Newman said late Friday night he'd not read the decision, he firmly asserted another rehearing of the case by the U.S. Supreme Court was not without grounds.

"We are committed to the philosophy that every person in Midland should have the right to vote every year," Newman said.

"If the people of Midland would realize this, it might wake some of these people up," the president continued.

In essence, Newman explained that within the MISD plan, voters have more of a voice in electing school board members than within a single-member plan.

If trustees are elected to seven single member-district seats — a plan judicial rulings deem constitutional — voters will get one chance every three years to vote for one member of the board, Newman explained.

But with the plan advocated by MISD — four single member and three at-large districts — voters would get to vote for an at-large member once a year, and then again in their district every third year, Newman continued.

"I want to emphasize that the population of Midland, if they're not careful, will lose their right to vote.

"Either they don't understand or they don't care. God help us if they don't care," Newman asserted.

BORK

Baker, appearing on the "MacNeil-/Lehrer Newshour," said Bork's nomination had become "such a fierce partisan issue that I'm tempted to believe it's more an attack on Ronald Reagan in the final 16 months of his presidency than it is a careful, judicial review of a nominee for the U.S. Supreme Court."

"But this president is not a lame duck...and people are going to find that he will not roll over and play dead," Baker said.

Announcing opposition to Bork on Friday were Democratic Sens. Lloyd Bentsen of Texas, John Kerry of Massachusetts, Jeff Bingaman of New Mexico, Carl Levin of Michigan, Max Baucus of Montana, Barbara Mikulski of Maryland, John D. Rockefeller IV of West Virginia and Timothy Wirth of Colorado. They generally cited the U.S. Court of Appeals judge's record and writings on civil rights and individual privacy.

Support for Bork was announced by Boren, Phil Gramm, R-Texas, and John McCain, R-Ariz. They said Bork has been unfairly criticized and would make a excellent justice.

Reagan, during a ceremony proclaiming "German-American Day," stitched into a speech about U.S.-German relations a new plea for Bork's confirmation, saying "there have been a lot of misstatements spread around" about the 60-year-old jurist.

"Those who have been distorting his record have said over and over he's going to turn back the clock on civil rights. It's amazing they can find a room big enough for them to get in front of the cameras. Their noses must be so long by now."

Reagan again blamed "special interests," whom he did not identify, for Bork's problems.

"A few special interests consider the courts their private preserve," he said. "Communities all over the nation have seen how these special interests get through the courts what they can't through the ballot box. Now the special interests are determined to pack the Supreme Court and to distort the reputation of anyone who disagrees."

"This is no longer a battle over whether the most qualified man nominated in a century is confirmed to the Supreme Court. At stake here is the integrity and independence of the American system of justice," Reagan said.

IRAN

"We have no fear of confronting NATO forces as well," he added. "The United States and the NATO countries must know that our policy of patience is not...weakness."

The United States and allies Britain, France, Italy, the Netherlands and Belgium are assembling an estimated 70 warships in and around the gulf to protect shipping and clear mines believed planted by Iran.

On July 24, a Kuwaiti supertanker flying the American flag and escorted by U.S. warships hit a mine in the gulf and was seriously damaged. It happened during the first convoy of U.S. warships and reflagged Kuwaiti tankers, and the United States blamed Iran.

The Tehran regime announced last month it was aiming to arm 2 million men over the next few months in a major escalation of its war effort.

Mohsen Rezaei, commander of Iran's paramilitary Revolutionary Guards, said last week that 5 million men have undergone military training since the war with Iraq began in September 1980.

LASER

In an interview later, Wallop said the incident involving the U.S. surveillance plane represents a violation of the Soviet treaty commitment not to interfere with "national technical means" — the aircraft, satellites and other devices used by the superpowers to survey each other's military activities.

As such, he said, it was "the sort of last straw in an incident involving a series of provocative acts which started with the aiming of ICBMs at the sovereign territory of the United States."

Meanwhile, President Reagan, said in a statement: "We have protested these Soviet actions (the missile tests) as both unacceptable to this country and inconsistent with General Secretary (Mikhail) Gorbachev's claim to seek a long-term improvement in our relationship."

Pentagon sources disputed Wallop's claim that some of the dummy warheads fell as close as 100 miles from Hawaii. They said the warheads had splashed into the Pacific about 600 miles from Hawaiian shores.

It was not clear when, or if, the Senate would vote on Wallop's resolution, which was offered as an amendment to the annual State Department authorization bill.

It would put the Senate on record as condemning the Soviet Union for actions "that demonstrate an utter disdain for civilized and acceptable standards of international behavior."

The resolution said "the Soviet Union appears to have been practicing with this test a strike on the United States because of the polar trajectories of fire."

Wallop said the slightest mistake in trajectory could have caused the dummy warheads "to hit Pearl Harbor."

QUAKE

The Red Cross said 500 people displaced by the quake had spent the night in shelters, and Los Angeles police said thousands more, many of them from Latin America where earthquakes often kill hundreds, slept in parks for fear aftershocks would destroy their apartments.

"We have lived through earthquakes, but we have seen relatives suffer and we know we can't trust our homes," said Zurana Santis, a Guatemalan who spent Thursday night at Terrace Park in the Pico-Union district.

Before moving on to tour California State University, Los Angeles, where a student was killed Thursday by a collapsing wall, Deukmejian declared a state of emergency in Whittier and nearby Monterey Park. The governor's declaration, needed before local officials could apply for state and federal aid, was later changed to include all of Los Angeles County.

Earlier, Sen. Pete Wilson, R-Calif., said he believed the damage was extensive enough to qualify for federal disaster aid.

There was extensive damage visible during the governor's tour of the 174-acre university campus east of downtown Los Angeles.

"Just about every building on campus has some damage," said James Rosser, president of the university, which has more than 30 structures.

"It's important that we have the reserve for such emergencies and I'm happy to say we will be in a position financially to help out" with repairs, Deukmejian said.

More than 190,000 students were out of school Friday as engineers inspected 196 campuses in 15 school districts, Dick Andrews, a state Office of Emergency Services official, said at a news conference. Also closed were four municipal court buildings and seven libraries in Los Angeles County, authorities said.

Officials of the Federal Emergency Management Agency and the California Office of Emergency Services examined hard-hit areas as a first step toward determining whether low-interest federal loans may become available, said FEMA spokesman Verne Paule.

A state of emergency was declared for all of Los Angeles County by the chairman of the Board of Supervisors, by the city of Los Angeles and by the mayor of Whittier, where the business district remained sealed off.

"It's a tragedy but I think the people in Whittier are the kind of people who can rise to the occasion and take care of themselves," Mayor Chandler said.

Police inspected business cards, drivers licenses, credit cards and other identification, then escorted merchants to their shops to recover records or valuables. Major recovery or repairs were not permitted.

Whittier resident Dan Guerrero spent the night in a tent outside the condemned duplex where he and his family had lived. "The full effect of this hadn't hit me until this morning," he said.

Homeowners in the stricken community also had to contend with gawkers.

"I chased one truckload of college kids who were just sitting there pointing and laughing," said Donn Straight.

The quake was felt as far away as Las Vegas, Nev., 250 miles to the northeast.

Those killed included the 21-year-old Cal State-Los Angeles student crushed by a collapsing wall; a 32-year-old man who fell from a second floor window in suburban Maywood; and a 40-year-old construction worker buried under seven feet of earth in a mountain tunnel under construction.

There were three fatal heart attacks attributed to the quake. The relation of a fourth fatal heart attack to the earthquake was uncertain.

"I am praying for those who tragically lost their lives in this earthquake and for their families," Los Angeles Archbishop Roger Mahony said in a statement from Rome. "Those who have been injured and those who are now homeless and must start their lives anew are especially in my thoughts and prayers. May God give us all strength and courage in the days ahead."

Nicaraguan radio station resumes broadcasting

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — A Roman Catholic radio station silenced by the government more than 1½ years ago returned to the air Friday, a day after the opposition newspaper La Prensa resumed publication.

Radio Catolica, which was shut down Jan. 1, 1986, resumed broadcasting at noon with a message from Cardinal Miguel Obando y Bravo, the Managua archbishop and one of the most outspoken critics of the government.

"While Radio Catolica was closed, we could say that there was a dike, a limit, on the evangelical message," Obando y Bravo, said in a message recorded before he left last weekend for a month-long visit of Rome and the Vatican.

"During that time many people could not listen to the guidance of their pastors by radio."

"We ask the Father to help us because we have encountered many difficulties," he said. "I believe that with his help we will be able to move ahead."

His message followed the Angelus, a Catholic prayer that traditionally is said every morning and every night.

On Thursday, hundreds of citizens lined up to buy copies of La Prensa, which was allowed to resume publication after being closed June 26, 1986.

Editors and owners of La Prensa attended the radio's reopening.

"From now on, the people of Nicaragua, the invalid, those who are in jail, are going to have the true Catholic voice," La Prensa publisher Violeta Chamorro said.

The Sandinista government allowed the station and newspaper to reopen as part of its effort to comply with a new Central American peace plan that aims to end the wars in Nicaragua and El Salvador.

After Obando y Bravo's message played, the station was to receive calls from the public.

tega's end-of-the-year message.

Nicaraguan bishops sent Ortega a letter two weeks ago asking that it be allowed to broadcast "without any conditions." However, Carballo said after the reopening that "the government wants it to be strictly religious."

"We understand that the mission of our radio is to form, inform and

"We have overcome technical difficulties from being closed so long," station director Monsignor Bismarck Carballo said. He said the equipment had suffered $22,000 in damage from lack of use.

The station was closed after it did not join a nationwide radio network in broadcasting President Daniel Or-entertain," he said earlier. It will have its own news programs "as part of its function of forming public opinion," he said.

Carballo said the station has 14 of its original 23 employees.

Carballo was one of three exiled priests the government said could return to the country, also as part of compliance with the peace agreement which was signed Aug. 7 by the presidents of Nicaragua, El Salvador, Honduras, Guatemala, and Costa Rica.

Writing in La Prensa on Thursday, Obando y Bravo said that other media closed "should also open so that confidence and joy again may return to the nation."

Twenty-two radio news programs closed since a national emergency law was declared March 15, 1982.

Obando y Bravo heads Nicaragua's four-member National Reconciliation Commission, formed to fulfill a commitment to the peace agreement.

Jaime Chamorro Cardenal, another owner of La Prensa, said the newspaper was able to print only 185,000 of the planned run of 285,000 Thursday because of a problem with the press.

"Hundreds of people were about to push down the doors demanding the paper," he said Friday. "They put their hands through the windows holding out money to buy a copy, but unfortunately we couldn't print more," he said.

"It was a record number," he said.

UAW head says Bush should apologize to autoworkers

BRUSSELS (AP) — Vice President George Bush, nearing the end of a pre-campaign European trip, praised Soviet tank mechanics Friday and said if they run out of work "send them to Detroit, because we could use that kind of ability."

Bush made his comment in an off-hand way while marveling at a reported breakdown-free recent Soviet tank maneuver.

The remark brought a swift retort from one of his rivals for the Republican presidential nomination. John Buckley, spokesman for Rep. Jack Kemp of New York, called the remark "insulting to the people of Michigan."

Bush, Kemp and television evangelist Pat Robertson are battling for support among Michigan Republicans who will lead off selection of delegates to the 1988 nominating convention.

United Auto Workers union president Owen Bieber said Bush "should apologize to our members and to the American people for his foolish comments."

Bush emerged from a private meeting with NATO ministers and told reporters about the recent Soviet tank maneuvers and then said: "Hey, when those mechanics who keep those tanks running run out of work in the Soviet Union, send them to Detroit because we could use that kind of ability."

Bush's aides, apparently fearing a gaffe that could damage his soon-to-be announced candidacy for the White House, swiftly offered an explanations of what the vice president meant.

Chief of staff Craig Fuller said the comment reflected Bush's recent meeting with top Ford executives at which the auto men said they have placed great emphasis on quality. Fuller said Bush's comment meant that the auto companies are always looking for good mechanics.

But Peter Laarman, a United Auto Workers union spokesman in Detroit, said it was "ludicrous to suggest the Soviet Union's mechanical prowess has advanced beyond the United States'."

Laarman said there have been occasional problems with American tanks because of "overdesign...As far as workers are concerned, they want to build as much quality as they're given the opportunity to build."

"Detroit is known as an arsenal of democracy," he said.

Ironically, many of the American auto workers who might take offense at Bush's comments are of Polish descent. The vice president spent four days in Poland earlier in his trip, lending support to the outlawed Solidarity movement in a series of gestures that aides believed would help his political standing at home.

Kemp spokesman Buckley also used the remark to jab at Bush's support of the proposed U.S.-Soviet treaty to eliminate medium-range nuclear missiles.

"That George Bush could marvel at the invincibility of Soviet tanks while supporting an INF (intermediate nuclear forces) treaty that doesn't address the unbalance of conventional forces is outrageous," he said.

Kemp has criticized the proposed agreement but stopped short of declaring his outright opposition to it.

Bush made his comment on a day in which there was a fresh indication that Europeans believe his nine-day trip to Poland and Western Europe has a political goal.

The vice president discussed security issues with NATO ministers at a session at which a Spanish diplomat congratulated him on his soon-to-be announced presidential candidacy.

"My congratulations for you," Spanish Ambassador Jaime de Ojeda greeted Bush as the vice president arrived in the NATO council chamber for the meeting.

Bush looked puzzled at the remark.

Ojeda later explained his comment by saying, "He is announcing his candidature, no?"

Bush is returning home today, and will begin overtly political campaigning on Tuesday with a trip to Iowa. Bush is making a formal announcement of his candidacy for the 1988 Republican presidential nomination on Oct. 12.

Bush's comment about the Soviet tank mechanics came after his closed-door session with the NATO ministers.

He was asked whether he had learned anything that was new.

He said he had heard from the ambassador from Italy or Norway about the Soviet operation involving 350 tanks that came off without a "mechanical breakdown."

Added Bush: "That's quite an achievement in an operation."

On other subjects, he said he said he found "general consensus" on the prospective agreement with the Soviet Union to ban intermediate range nuclear weapons.

"Certainly not euphoric that it has been done — the general hope that it will be concluded," he said.

He also said there was a consensus on the need to "maintain a credible nuclear deterrent."

France ordered to pay for sinking Green peace's ship

LONDON (AP) — Greenpeace said Friday an arbitration tribunal ordered France to pay the environmental group $8.16 million in damages for the sinking of its vessel, the Rainbow Warrior, two years ago.

"The moral outrage the world felt at the bombing of the Rainbow Warrior has been endorsed by the arbitration tribunal," said Greenpeace chairman David McTaggart in London.

"The decision is a great victory for those who support the right of peaceful protest and abhor the use of violence," he said.

He said Greenpeace would use the award, made Friday by a three-member international tribunal in Geneva, to support its worldwide fleet of ships and its campaigns for a nuclear-free Pacific.

The French government had no immediate comment on the award.

The Rainbow Warrior was sunk by French secret agents in Auckland, New Zealand, in July 1985. The vessel was bombed as it was preparing to lead a small fleet of protest vessels to the French South Pacific island of Muruora to protest French underground nuclear testing there.

A Portuguese-born Dutch photographer, Fernando Pereira, was killed in the attack.

"No amount of money can ever compensate for the loss of a human life, or give us back the history of the voyages of the Rainbow Warrior," said McTaggart.

"But we'll be back, using the damages award to work for a nuclear-free Pacific."

Two months after the attack, Laurent Fabius, then France's premier, admitted French secret agents had planted the bombs. The admission created an international uproar and severely strained France's relations with New Zealand.

McTaggart said the award will not "buy back the dignity of a government which sank a non-violent campaign ship to stop it from exercising the democratic right of protest."

Two French agents were sentenced to 10-year jail terms in New Zealand for their role in the attack. Last year, they were moved to a French Pacific island to spend three years there under an agreement between the governments of the two countries.

France paid an undisclosed sum to Pereira's wife and two children.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Italy's rail engineers begin day-long strike

ROME (AP) — Locomotive engineers walked off the job Friday to begin a 24-hour strike that threatened to paralyze Italy's rail system, officials said.

Separate unions representing airline industry workers also announced plans for strikes this month.

The rail walkout came after failed negotiations between representatives of the engineers' union and government officials over pay categories.

Union officials said further strikes would be scheduled for Oct. 22, 23 and 24 if no settlement was reached on the issue.

The current work stoppage was scheduled to end 5 p.m. today.

Meanwhile, unions representing airport ground personnel announced a 24-hour strike for Oct. 9 after contract talks broke off.

A separate one-day walkout set for Oct. 16 was announced this week by unions representing pilots, flight technicians and airline personnel.

Coins center of court fight

KAMLOOPS, British Columbia (AP) — A prospector and a newspaper are going to court over a stash of $200,000 in antique silver coins, hidden in the early 1970s as part of a treasure hunt.

Kenneth Kalutich, custodian of the Centennial Treasure, is suing the Kamloops News because it is taking him to court to prove the treasure really exists.

The British Columbia Supreme Court actions stem from a treasure hunt that started in 1971 when the coins were hidden in the province's southern interior. Kalutich supplied clues to the newspaper about the treasure's location.

No one has reported finding the treasure and Kalutich says when he went to its hiding spot in June, the 13 bottles of antique coins had disappeared.

Gun permits increase

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — More than 30,000 Nigerians have applied for gun permits in the past three months to combat a wave of armed robberies, police officials reported Friday.

Nigeria's president, Gen. Ibrahim Babangida, announced a war on armed robberies after four people were killed Thursday in four separate incidents.

Police said most of the gun applications came from business executives.

Police break up sex rings

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Police said Friday they arrested 21 people involved in rings that sold about 500 young women to brothels.

The sex rings allegedly lured women with newspaper ads offering jobs as tour guides and hotel workers, police said. Women who answered the ads were abducted and sold to brothels for up to $600, they said.

Some of the victims, who were as young as 15, were forced to take drugs to keep them in the brothels, according to the Korea Herald newspaper.

Officials said the rings operated for two years.

Triplets get warm reception

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — The test-tube triplets born of their own grandmother got a warm reception Friday in South Africa, despite the ethical questions raised in this country of strongly conservative beliefs.

Pat Anthony, 48, gave birth Thursday to her daughter's test-tube triplets, becoming the world's first surrogate mother of her own grandchildren. All four were reported doing well at Johannesburg's Park Lane Clinic.

Mrs. Anthony agreed to bear the children of her 25-year-old daughter, Karen Ferreira-Jorge, whose uterus was removed following complications three years ago during the birth of her first child, a son.

Local newspapers hailed the births. The Star, a Johannesburg daily, said Mrs. Anthony should be applauded for "a brave and generous act of love."

The triplets, two boys and a girl, were the first surrogate babies in South Africa. The country, like most others, has no laws addressing the procedure or any other aspect of artificial procreation.

A Justice Ministry spokesman, D.J. De Villiers, said Friday that under existing law, "the triplets belong to the grandmother and will have to be adopted by (Mrs. Ferreira-Jorge). We are applying the law as it would be applied in any other situation, despite the unusual circumstances of this case."

A bill before Parliament addresses the question of artificial insemination, and a government law commission is studying surrogate parenting. It is expected to issue a report next year.

The Medical Association of South Africa said "surrogate parenting is undesirable" because of legal and ethical questions raised by the procedure.

However, Braam Volschenk, the association's legal adviser, said, "Our main objection is the commercial consideration, which was not a factor in this case."

"The unique circumstances raise new questions we don't have ready answers for. Our only real concern in this case was clinical. Should a 48-year-old woman have triplets?"

But the Rev. Hyacinth Ennis, a lecturer at St. John Vianney Seminary in Pretoria, said "there's no distinction to be made between surrogate pregnancies carried out for money and those carried out for love."

"It's simply wrong to have a rent-a-womb system of parenting," the Roman Catholic priest said. Mrs. Anthony and the Ferreira-Jorges are Catholic.

Ennis cited Vatican policy, announced in March, which defined all forms of artificial procreation as "morally illicit."

In a poll published by The Star on Thursday, 55 percent of the women questioned said surrogate parenting went against the laws of nature and religious teachings, but 59 percent said surrogate parenting should be allowed. Only 12 percent said they would consider it if they were unable to conceive.

The poll questioned 800 urban white women.

The London-based Mail on Sunday newspaper purchased rights to the family's story and to pictures, reportedly for $500,000. It disclosed the pregnancy in April, and since then South African papers have battled to provide detailed coverage of the story despite family members' reluctance to give interviews.

The Citizen, a Johannesburg daily, said one of its reporters was slapped Thursday by a Mail On Sunday employee standing guard inside the clinic. The Star said the British paper had "sealed off a section of the hospital as effectively as a prison top-security wing."

A 52-minute television documentary about the birth reportedly will be released for worldwide showing in November.

In accordance with family wishes, staff of the clinic refused to provide official accounts of the birth.

Local newspapers were able to obtain some details about the births from doctors speaking on condition of anonymity. They said the triplets, delivered by Caesarean section, included two boys weighing 4.6 pounds and 5 pounds, respectively, and a girl weighing 2.8 pounds.

Mrs. Ferreira-Jorge, an aerobics instructor, and her husband Alcino, an air-conditioning engineer, live near Mrs. Anthony in the town of Tzaneen, 230 miles northeast of Johannesburg.

Ova from Mrs. Ferreira-Jorge were fertilized with sperm from her husband in a laboratory process known as in vitro fertilization, and four eggs were implanted in Mrs. Anthony's womb.

Bentsen's opposition could sway other senators to vote against Bork

STATE

AUSTIN (AP) — A spokesman for 50 Texas organizations opposing the nomination of Justice Robert Bork to the U.S. Supreme Court said Friday the decision of Sen. Lloyd Bentsen to vote against Bork could sway other senators.

Bentsen, D-Texas, said Friday in a Senate speech he would oppose Bork's elevation to the court, criticizing Bork's record on civil rights and individual privacy.

Scott Polikov of the Texas Anti-Bork Coalition said Bentsen's "decision to oppose the Bork nomination most certainly will carry great weight with the rest of the swing votes on the Judiciary Committee and, once the vote reaches the Senate floor, the undecided senators."

George Strake, chairman of the Texas Republican Party, blasted Bentsen's decision.

"I think it's a shame that Bentsen decided to go along with Sen. (Edward) Kennedy and Sen. (Joe) Biden instead of representing the wishes of a majority of Texans in this issue," Strake said.

Texas' other senator, Republican Phil Gramm, said he will support Bork. "Critics of Robert Bork and Ronald Reagan seek to gain a philosophical victory in the Senate that they were denied by the American people in the last two presidential elections," Gramm said.

Polikov introduced at a news conference three University of Texas constitutional scholars who spoke against President Reagan's nomination of Bork to the Supreme Court.

Douglas Laycock, a professor at the UT Law School, said "taken as a whole, Judge Bork's views are extreme by any standard."

"One of the Supreme Court's central tasks is to protect the constitutional rights of individuals and minorities. Judge Bork is fundamentally hostile to that task, and that is why he should not be confirmed," Laycock said.

He said 26, or about half of the UT law faculty, had signed a letter opposing Bork and a number of others had indicated they, too, were against the nomination. He said he thought five UT law professors are strong Bork supporters.

Law Professor Sanford Levinson said if Bork is confirmed, "We would be stuck, for his lifetime, with a judge who has repeatedly rejected, with demeaning rhetoric, many of the most important (and inspiring) decisions of the Supreme Court over the past 60 years."

"To cast a vote for Robert Bork is the equivalent of an arms control treaty without verification."

Government instructor Mark Graber said Bork until very recently had held constitutional opinions "that are uniformly regarded as 'unsurpassed ugliness.' "

Blind snack bar operator says he's forced to stop selling sandwiches

GALVESTON (AP) — A state-trained blind food proprietor who has sold lunches at his Galveston County Courthouse snack bar for seven years said health officials have unfairly forced him out of the sandwich business.

"I've been in this business as a licensed operator 12 years, seven years in the Galveston County Courthouse," Wesley R. Low said Thursday. "I have served every judge, every jury, every employee in this building myself."

"Seven years later, here comes the idea that a blind man cannot prepare food," Low said. "The same man who is inspecting me now has been inspecting me for seven years and he's just now denying that I can prepare food."

Low, 46, countered with signs Thursday charging that Galveston County Health District officials are discriminating against him.

Health District Director Dr. Ralph Morris denied Low's charges, noting that the district has not revoked the snack bar's health permit.

Coffee, soft drinks, candy, potato chips and other prepackaged goods still are for sale in the snack bar.

Tuna salad, ham and other sandwiches are not.

"It's very difficult, if not impossible, to prepare food in a sanitary manner without eyesight," Morris said. "Our primary concern is that any food that's served is safe to eat."

Low, he said, fails standards for preparations in about a dozen inspection sheet categories because he can't see and has to touch food while preparing it.

"If you're making a tuna fish sandwich, really the only way for a blind person to do it is to touch the tuna and touch the bread," Morris said.

In addition, Low's assistant, Anna Lubeck, is allergic to detergents and periodically develops a skin rash that worries inspectors, Morris said.

Low, however, maintained a physician has given Ms. Lubeck a clean bill of health despite her allergic reaction.

There are no ordinances or state health statutes that specifically prohibit blind people from preparing food.

Low was trained to run the snack bar by the Texas Commission for the Blind, which operates the snack bar under contract with the county.

"If the State Commission for the Blind is training blind people to prepare food and the city is coming back and saying they can't prepare food, somebody needs to get their story together," Low said.

The commission operates about 130 similar facilities in the state, said Robert Lovelace, business supervisor in the commission's Houston office. Lovelace also confirmed that Ms. Lubeck's skin allergy has been treated and it was found the condition presented no health hazard.

The facility's grill has been shut down for several months and declared hazardous because of ventilation and grease cleaning problems, he said.

Lovelace said he plans to discuss the situation with county officials next week.

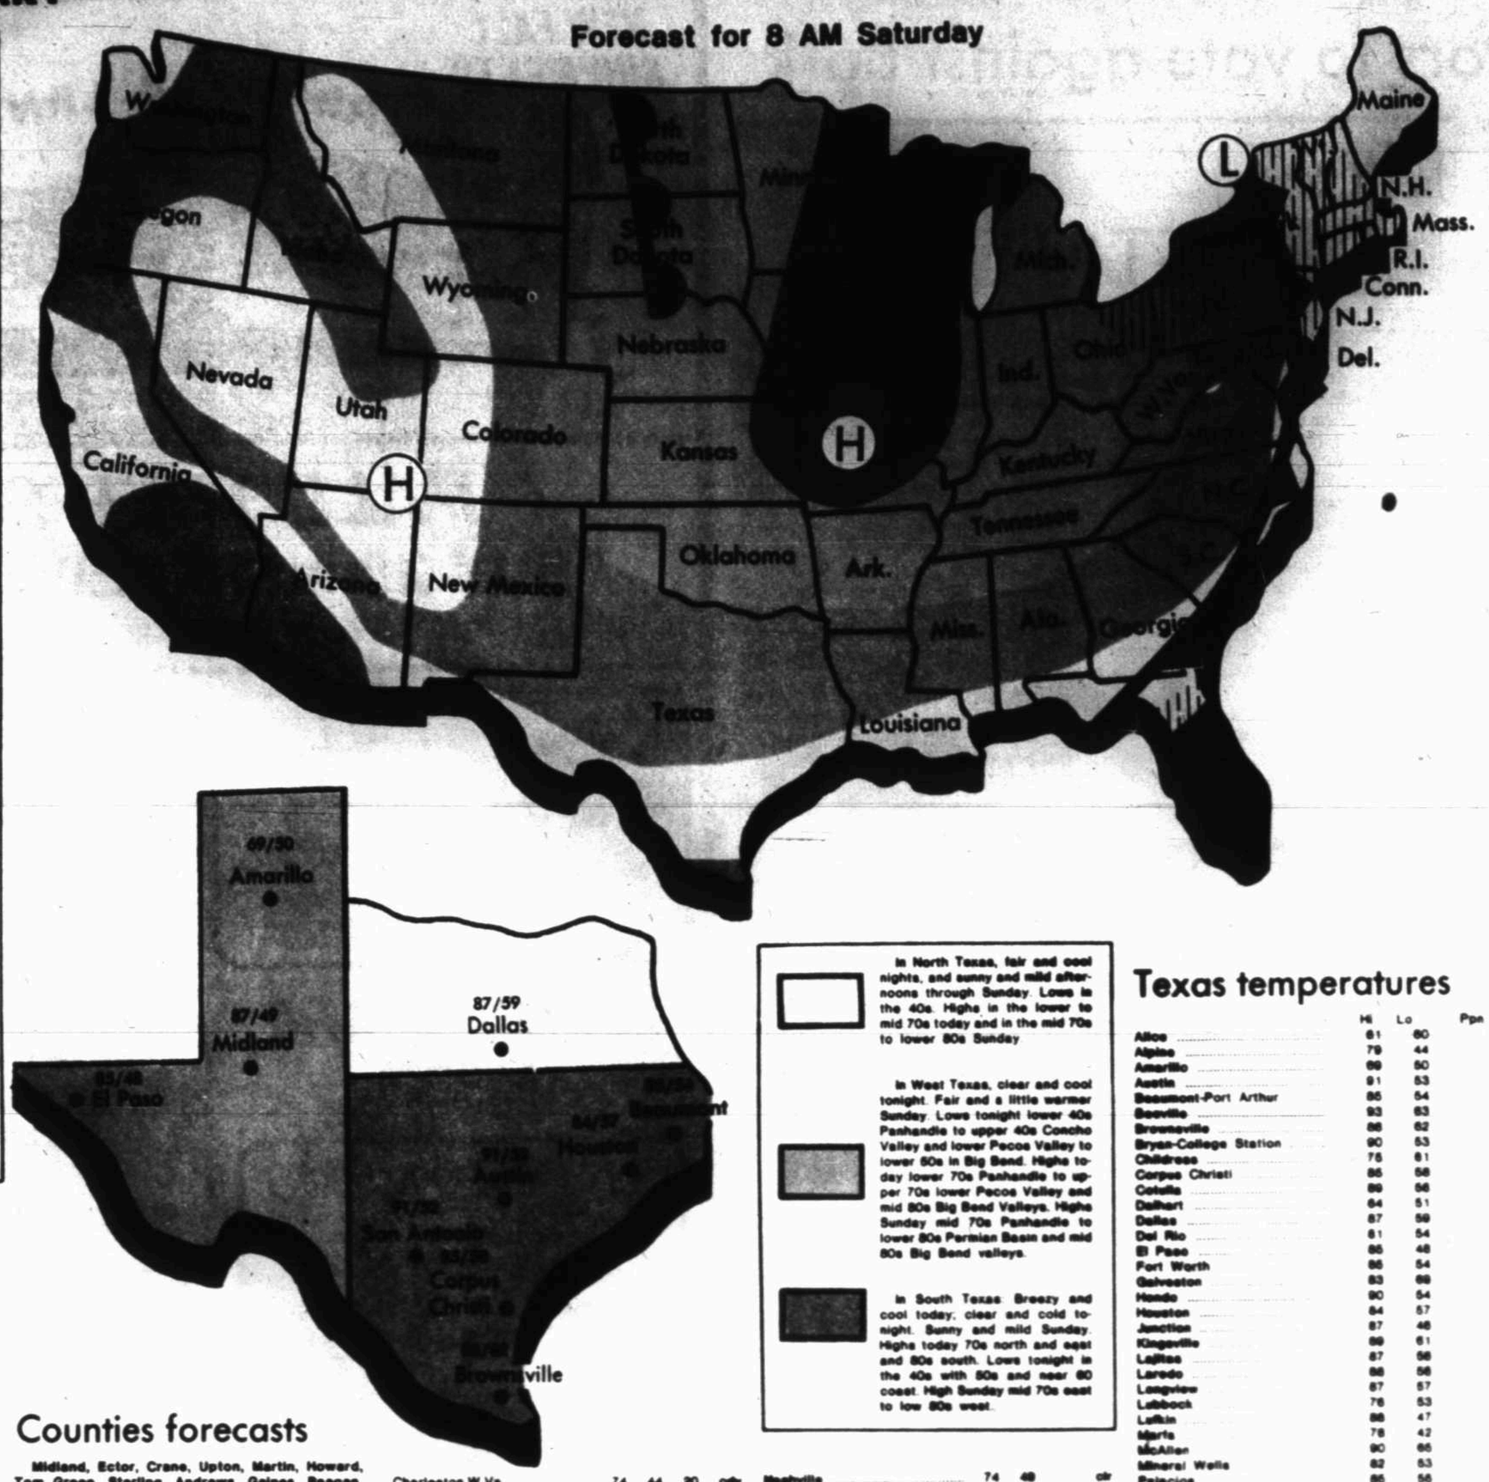
TORNADO or THUNDERSTORM

WATCH — (Conditions are right for a tornado or severe thunderstorm to form.)

WARNING — (A tornado or severe thunderstorm already is in existence.)

Forecast for 8 AM Saturday



In North Texas, fair and cool nights, and sunny and mild afternoons through Sunday. Lows in the 40s. Highs in the lower to mid 70s today and in the mid 70s to lower 80s Sunday.

In West Texas, clear and cool tonight. Fair and a little warmer Sunday. Lows tonight lower 40s Panhandle to upper 40s Concho Valley and lower Pecos Valley to lower 60s in Big Bend. Highs today lower 70s Panhandle to upper 70s lower Pecos Valley and mid 80s Big Bend Valleys. Highs Sunday mid 70s Panhandle to lower 80s Permian Basin and mid 80s Big Bend valleys.

In South Texas: Breezy and cool today; clear and cold tonight. Sunny and mild Sunday. Highs today 70s north and east and 80s south. Lows tonight in the 40s with 50s and near 60 coast. High Sunday mid 70s east to low 80s west.

Record-lows in forecast

From Staff and Wire Reports

Forecasters at the National Weather Service at Midland Regional Airport say temperatures tonight may break record low statistics.

Nonetheless, skies should be fair today and the high should creep into the upper 70s. Winds should be from the east at 5-15 mph.

Tonight, skies will be fair and the low should be near 40.

Sunday will be fair with a high near 80.

The record high for Friday was set in 1961 when it reached 97. The record low that could be broken tonight was set in 1961 when it dipped down to 42.

STATE

Clear skies continued across Texas Friday as a cold front made its way through the state. With little moisture in the atmosphere, the only cloudiness was in the form of high clouds in deep South Texas.

The front had pushed into North Texas and stretched from the South Plains through North Texas to Arkansas, according to the National Weather Service.

In the forecast, skies should remain clear through Saturday as the cold front pushes out of the state and is replaced by a ridge of high pressure. Winds should be from the north and gusty at times.

NATION

A blast of Canadian air brought up to 2 inches of snow to Michigan on Friday, with snow flurries in upper Wisconsin and scattered rain and stiff winds on the rest of the Great Lakes.

The heavy, wet snow fell on parts of Michigan's western Upper Peninsula. Accumulation totaled 2 inches by afternoon in Bessemer in Gogebic County. The snow caused minor accidents but no serious injuries, said county Sheriff's Deputy Frank Kichak.

Winds whipped to near 40 mph, pushing in cold air from Canada and prompting the weather service to issue warnings of gale force winds over much of the Great Lakes.

In Minnesota, about 7,000 Northern States Power Co. customers were left without power early Friday in the Minneapolis area as biting winds gusting up to more than 30 mph roared through the area, utility spokesman Sam Macalus said.

Elsewhere, southern Florida got heavy rainfall, with almost an inch falling near Key West in the six hours ending at 2 p.m. EDT. The rest of the nation generally had partly cloudy or sunny skies.

Today's forecast called for showers extending from New England across the lower Great Lakes into the upper Ohio Valley, and across southern Florida.

Rebels stave off OHS; Permian routs MHS

Lee remains unbeaten

By TERRY WILLIAMSON
Assistant Sports Editor

ODESSA — That 21-13 rumbling heard from the bottom of the District 4-5A standings at Ratliff Stadium Friday night, should be enough to get Midland Lee's No. 3 ranked Rebels in the right frame of mind.

The scrappy Odessa High Bronchos fought the highly favored Rebs tooth-and-nail for four quarters. Fortunately, Lee survived and Rebel coach Earl Miller knows it was by a whisker.

"You play some games good and some rotten. We were rotten Friday in the first half," said Miller. "Maybe, our kids have read too many of their press notices. These kids know they have one of the best offensive teams in the state and they expect to go out there and roll over people.

"You don't roll over Odessa High on press notices. They always play us tough. You better be ready to play in this district every night or someone will beat up on you. Fortunately, we were good enough to come back in the second half and outscore them 2-1."

BUT LEE had to do some growing up before this one was over. The Bronchos, now 2-2-1 on the season and 0-2 in 4-5A play, used 6:01 of the first half clock to drive 57 yards on 14 plays to take a 7-0 lead when Tracy Bickerstaff scored from the one with 9:22 left in the second period.

That was the first time this year Lee had been on the underside of the scoreboard. And it was a little scary, considering the fact that OHS dominated the first quarter of play.

But Lee was able to answer the challenge with a 57-yard drive of their own, but doing it in eight plays, using only 2:25 of the clock. Fullback Waymon Goodley, who busted the 100-yard barrier for the fourth time in five games this year with 134 yards rushing on 21 carries, got the final 23 yards and sophomore Arthur Donnelly kicked the first of three extra points for a 7-7 tie.

That's the way it stood at the half, but Lee tilted the scoreboard back in expected fashion on the second drive of the third period, marching 42 yards in nine plays for a 14-7 lead. Joe Woodard scored the first of two touchdowns with a one-yard dive.

LEE CAME right back on its next possession to win the game outright. The Rebs covered 50 yards in four plays as Woodard scored on a beautiful 36-yard romp, a run in which he had time to give the old No. 1 signal before crossing the goal line. A pass from Geoff Rich to Durian Jenkins for 12 yards set up Woodard's climatic run.

But OHS came to play. They could have quit at that point, but instead, marched 71 yards with Jeff Parsons getting the final seven yards. The Bronchos, who have kicked only two extra points this year, failed to get another one through the bars.

Lee was held to 270 yards rushing, the lowest total of the year. The Lee defense saw its two-game shutout string come to an end, but still allowed only 157 rushing yards and 47 in the air.

"What really disappointed me was the discipline displayed by our offense," said Miller. "When you get a penalty for mouthing the official, something is wrong. I guarantee you we are going to correct that this week. We don't need that kind of stuff from our kids."

LEE DEFENSIVE coach Eddie Wolski said, "They didn't show us anything on offense we hadn't seen,

Mojo magic still works

Odessa Permian's highly touted rushing attack slipped and sputtered a bit Friday night against the Midland High Bulldogs, but the passing game was about as sound as could be. It was good for 204 yards and two touchdowns as the Panthers rolled to a 35-0 District 4-5A victory.

Quarterback Mike Winchell and split end Lloyd Hill had a field day against the Bulldog secondary, connecting seven times for 153 yards and a touchdown. Give the passing credit to the backs, Shawn Crow and James Miles.

"We felt like we were going to have to throw the football," said Permian head coach Gary Gaines. "We knew they were going to throw some things at us on defense to cause us some trouble running the ball. They had a good defense against the run."

"They threw the ball real well," said MHS head coach Doug McCutchen. "In fact, that's an area that has been real sluggish for them and they're really improving each week. They had a good game plan and went out and executed it."

The Winchell-to-Hill combination struck the Bulldog defense on Permian's first play from scrimmage, moving the ball 30 yards from the MHS 44 to the 14. Crow followed with a 14-yard run and Hill kicked the first of five extra points for a quick 7-0 lead.

Defensive back Robert Brown added a 35-yard interception return for the second score and, after the Bulldogs were forced to punt, Winchell threw the bomb, hitting Hill with a 62-yard strike for a 21-0 lead with 4:48 still remaining in the opening stanza.

Things slowed down a bit after that for the Panthers as Hill missed field goal attempts before and after Kevin Miller's 34-yard touchdown pass from Winchell.

Crow notched the final Permian touchdown in the third quarter on a one-yard run for a 35-0 score. It was the last carry for 5A's No. 3 ranked back and gave him 99 yards for the game, well below his 162.8 average.

Miles, ranked eighth in the state, was held to 54 yards on 11 carries but just missed scoring on a 76-yard run. After picking up 30 yards on a play in the third quarter, Miles was dodging the final Bulldog tackler and heading for the end zone when 247-pound defensive tackle Toby Box came flying down field to make the saving tackle.

"I don't know how I caught him," said Box, who also blocked his second punt of the year. "I guess the Lord gave me some speed and I made what I could of it."

In all, Permian (averaging 362.2 per game) was held to 197 yards rushing, but made it a balanced night with 204 yards through the air on a two quarterback 9-of-12 effort with one interception and two TDs.

"They were stacking sometimes seven or eight people on the line and that's why we threw a lot of passes," said Winchell. "That's why we had to go to the pass."

And mostly to Hill, who was usually open somewhere down field.

"He's a big target," said Winchell. "He makes the big catches and he can adjust so you don't have to be right on him all the time. Most of the time, if it's anywhere near him, he's going to make a good effort."

Hill credits the backs for his 153-yard performance.

"They were keying mostly on Shawn Crow and James Miles and we caught them picking on the backs instead of keying on me and I got open," said the 170-pound sophomore. "The line did a great job, giving Winchell good time to throw me the ball."

MIDLAND HIGH was able to move the ball against Permian but couldn't punch it into the end zone. Twice the Bulldogs came close with a drive stalling on the Permian 23 in the first quarter and another on the 17 as time expired in the fourth. And, there was also Brown's interception for a TD.

"It was thrown right to me," said Brown. "I read it all the way. I anticipated his move and the ball happened to be there."

"Defensively, I think we played pretty good. We need to bow up more but we're coming along from where we were. I think, by next week, we'll be where we want to be as a state quality team."

"We stopped the big play and that was encouraging," said Gaines. "We bent some but didn't break."

According to McCutchen, the Bulldogs didn't play one of their more intense games, but, even so, the credit still goes to Permian, which defeated MHS for the 14th straight time.

"I just don't think we were quite ready to play the ball game tonight, not as much intensity as we've been playing with and we're not the kind of team that can win without that intensity," said McCutchen. "But, give Permian the credit. They took advantage of situations when we gave it to them."

For the No. 4 ranked Panthers, the victory improves their record to 5-0, 2-0 in 4-5A play. Midland High fell to 3-0, 0-2.

McCamey shocks state-ranked Reagan

By ERIC SCHURER
Sports Writer

McCAMEY — Buster Leaf and his underdog McCamey Badgers picked out just the right rock to fell Goliath Reagan County. But he almost didn't throw it hard enough.

The resilient and third-ranked Owls came back to score 20 points in the final 6:49, but came up inches short on the winning two-point conversion attempt as McCamey hung on for a 27-26 win Friday night at Badger Stadium.

"We played as well as we can, we had a good scheme coming in, but it's up to the kids to do it and they played their hearts out," said Leaf. "I never felt confident, even with the big lead. We felt if we got conservative, they could come back on us."

Though the Badgers were anything but conservative, Reagan County still came back, even after trailing 27-6 in the fourth quarter. Quarterback Scott Lipsey led Reagan County to three late touchdowns, turning a blow-out into a heart-stopper.

But Anastacio "Junior" Romero fell inches shy of the goal with 25 seconds left leaving the Owls a hair's breadth away from a miracle.

"We've been on both ends of those final second plays so we can live with it either way," said Owl coach Ronnie Reeger, who escaped with a last-second win in the playoffs last year against Goldthwaite.

But this time, the reeling Owls made it to their feet, but were too late for the 10-count. Reagan County, 3-1, suffered its first regular season loss since falling to McCamey in 1985.

And it was quarterback Roman Zarate who was the chief McCamey stone-slinger, hitting the Owls with a pair of touchdown runs while throwing for another as the unheralded, but undefeated Badgers rolled to an early lead.

Eagles upset Bobcats

From Staff Reports

ABILENE — Abilene High got a measure of revenge here Friday night by scoring a District 4-5A 10-7 victory over San Angelo with a touchdown in the last four seconds of play.

Last year, AHS led the Bobcats by two touchdowns with two minutes to play only to lose. But with the table turning, the Eagles pounced back into the 4-5A hunt with a 1-1 record. San Angelo is 0-1 in loop play and 3-2 on the season, the same as AHS.

Quarterback Jon Davis hit Trey Forkerway with a 7-yard TD pass with four seconds left to earn the victory. Forkerway scored all 10 of Abilene's points, kicking a 29-yard field goal for a

Cranes post 2nd win

By PETE HERNDON

CRANE — After being hit with a Homecoming jinx for the second week in a row, this time a 14-0 loss at the hands of Crane, Coach Dale Ruth and the Stanton Buffaloes can look forward to starting the 1987 football campaign over next Friday when they host Loredo in the District 6-2A opener.

For Coach Ricky White and his young Golden Cranes, the shutout represents a positive way to enter the District 4-3A race against Fabens next week.

"We just made some mental mistakes that hurt us tonight," said Ruth, referring to a 102-yard interception return in the second quarter by cornerback Randy Esparza that was called back due to an illegal block. "We get to start a brand new season tomorrow. We have to be ready to put it behind us and get ready for district."

Esparza's effort came with the score tied at 0-0 and the Golden Cranes threatening with a fourth-and-goal from the Stanton seven. With Esparza running alone down the sideline, the penalty flag fell 30 yards behind the ball carrier.

The missed opportunity eventually left Stanton with no points on a Homecoming scoreboard for the second straight week.

Crane, however, eventually took advantage of its opportunities.

With their new Homecoming Queen, Debbie Tidmore, beginning her reign at the start of the second half, the Golden Cranes held the Buffaloes to three downs and a punt.

Esparza, under a heavy rush, had to hurry his punt and the fired-up Cranes took over at midfield. Seven plays later sophomore running back Robert Carrasco got the first score of the game on a one-yard plunge with 7:41 left in the quarter.

"We put a lot of emphasis on special teams," said White, referring to the 10-man punt rush that set up the field position. "Because of the way the rules are now, we try to block

Greenwood wins big

By JOHN FREY
Sports Correspondent

GREENWOOD — Mechanical problems created havoc on the scoreboard and the public address system at Greenwood High School for their homecoming football game, making it a little more difficult for the fans to enjoy. But the Ranger offense did all the entertaining needed as they ran like a finely tuned machine.

Run they did, finishing the night with 325 yards rushing and a very impressive 35-0 win over the Ozona Lions.

"We are a little older and a little stronger than Ozona," Greenwood coach Bob Purser said of his team. "We wanted to move them off the ball and control the clock. Our offensive linemen did a great job tonight allowing us to run the ball effectively."

The offense started slowly. Fumbles stalled the first two drives for the Rangers but once they got rolling they didn't stop. On the last play of the first quarter Ranger quarterback Wade Melton ran in from 13 yards out for a touchdown. Tommy Lawson's extra point made the score 7-0.

To start the second quarter Ozona fumbled the ensuing kickoff and Greenwood jumped on the ball at the 25 yard line. The Lions appeared to have stopped the Rangers but a late hit kept the drive going. On a forth down play Jimmy Cox pounded the ball over from 3 yards making the score 13-0.

Although the first half ended that way the game was completely dominated by the Rangers as they rolled up 144 yards in offense compared to only 24 for the Lions. Also the Rangers ran a total of 33 plays compared to 17 for Ozona proving again that it is hard to score when you don't have the ball.

In the second half things kept going Greeenwood's way. After exchanging turnovers Ranger halfback Randy Martinez broke open and went untouched 67 yards for the touchdown. The two point conversion made the score 21-0.

After the Ranger defense again stuffed the Lions on four straight downs the offense wasted little time taking only 52 seconds to score with Cox again doing the honors from 5 yards out.

For their final score of the night the Rangers put together another impressive drive of 80 yards, all on the ground. The highlight of the drive was a 34 yard scramble by

Think what you will about the NFLPA strike, but you've got to admire the unselfishness of the players who walked out since the main bone of contention is free agency.

The main beneficiaries of any concessions won are presently honing their skills in high school.

And considering that the average career of the NFL player is 3.2 years and the qualifying period for free agency would be something like four years, any concessions won in the current strike will be for a minority of the players.

You've got to be impressed at such dedication, the willingness to sacrifice a career for some future player...

TEXAS Tech and Texas A&M will continue to play on a home-and-home basis.

For a time, the SWC schools considered moving their annual clash to Dallas as a Texas State Fair opening day showpiece in the Cotton Bowl.

There's no denying it would have been wonderful exposure for both schools in the Dallas market, where now only Texas, vs. Oklahoma, gets to play since SMU was forced to abandon its football program for the time being.

Still, the proposed move could only make the fans in Lubbock and College Station unhappy and the possibility of the switch to the Cotton Bowl didn't make fans in Fort Worth too happy either.

Such a move would have been especially devastating for Lubbock where A&M's odd year appearances are one of the rare treats for Tech fans. If you need proof, just take to the highway today....

AFTER a 7-9 nightmare two weeks ago, last week's 11-3 against the line was a welcome turnabout, bringing the season's record to 30-17.

This week in the SWC:

Texas Tech plus 9 1/2 over Texas A&M- If the Raiders play like they did at Waco last week, the Aggies will be able to name their score. They may anyway, but A&M-Tech games in Jones Stadium take some strange twists.

TCU plus 11 1/2 over Arkansas- The Frogs are another team with self-destruct tendencies, but they've had an extra week to get ready and the Hogs are still bleeding from last week's Miami experience...

Texas minus 21 over Rice- Owls made it close last year, but this one is at Austin.

Baylor minus 7 1/2 over Houston- The question isn't so much who will win, but what time the Astrodome will be free for a kickoff.

The Big Ones....

Miami minus 3 over Florida State- Perhaps Miami's 51-7 win over Arkansas is exerting an undue influence.

Florida plus 3 over LSU- Two SEC powers clash in what easily is the toughest league in the country. Any team that can emerge undefeated from this league at the season's end has a reasonable claim to No. 1. Still, is anyone willing to bet there will be an unscathed survivor?

South Carolina plus 17 over Nebraska- The Cornhuskers will win, but Gamecocks aren't that bad, are they?

Boston College plus 3 1/2 over Pitt- As shaky as Panthers have been, the points are too tempting to turn down.

Auburn minus 7 1/2 over North Carolina- Presuming Tigers have something to prove after last week's tie with Tennessee.

The Others....

UTEP plus 18 over Arizona State- It's at Tempe and Sun Devils are undoubtedly running scared, but how scared can you get for an opponent sandwiched between Nebraska and Washington?

Princeton plus 4 1/2 over Brown- Who knows anything about these teams?

Georgia Tech minus 6 1/2 over NC State- Not if the Wolfpack plays like it did against Maryland last week, but that isn't possible, is it?

Duke plus 4 1/2 over Rutgers- I know it's a reckless pick, but I like to live dangerously.

Missouri plus 6 over Syracuse- Tigers have a chance to Show 'Em in the east that Oklahoma and Nebraska aren't the only teams in the Big Eight. The SWC already knows.

Wake Forest even over Army- And at West Point, too.

Vanderbilt even over Tulane- If SEC has any Academic All-Americas, you'll find them in this game.

Wyoming minus 6 1/2 over San Diego State- The Aztecs haven't lived up to press clippings, yet

Mississippi plus 6 1/2 over Georgia- Ridiculous indeed, but Bulldogs are coming off games with Clemson and South Carolina and looking forward to LSU and it's at Oxford.

The Pros....

Are you kidding? They say go with the home team, but do any of these players feel comfortable enough to call any place "home" yet?

Tigers tie for first place

From Wire Reports

DETROIT — The Detroit Tigers moved into a first-place tie in the American League East with Toronto Friday night, beating the Blue Jays 4-3 behind the pitching of Doyle Alexander and Mike Henneman.

AL

Rookie Scott Lusader hit his first major-league homer for two Detroit runs, Alan Trammell hit a leadoff homer and Detroit used a pair of errors by Toronto third baseman Rance Mulliniks to score two unearned runs and help Alexander win his ninth straight game without a loss.

Lloyd Moseby singled to lead off the eighth, stole second, and Mulliniks walked. Henneman came on and got George Bell to hit into a fielder's choice and Juan Beniquez grounded into a double play. Henneman retired the side in the ninth for his seventh save.

Alexander has won all nine of his decisions in 11 starts with the Tigers.

The Blue Jays now have lost five in a row, squandering a lead that was 3½ games last Sunday before they lost the final game of a four-game series against Detroit in Toronto. The teams finish the season with games Saturday and Sunday at Tiger Stadium, facing the possibility of a Monday playoff if the tie persists.

Toronto got all three of its runs off Alexander in the second inning with the help of Greg Myers' first major-league hit and Manny Lee's first homer of the season, a three-run shot, on a cold, drizzly night.

Toronto right-hander Jim Clancy, 15-11, was trying to equal his career-high in victories but against a team which he had beaten only four times in 19 career decisions prior to Friday's defeat. He left without getting an out in the third inning and has not beaten Detroit since Sept. 14, 1984 while losing eight straight to the Tigers.

Detroit scored twice in the second on the rookie Lusader's first major-league homer, a two-run shot, then chased Clancy with two more runs in the third to take a 4-3 lead.

Chet Lemon led off the second with a hard grounder to third that Mulliniks booted for an error. Lusader, who was called up on Sept. 1 and would not be eligible for the playoffs, then lined a 1-1 pitch from Clancy into the left-field seats.

In the Detroit third, Trammell led off with his 28th homer, and Clancy walked Darrell Evans. Left-hander David Wells replaced Clancy, and rookie catcher Matt Nokes grounded a single into right field. Barfield threw perfectly to third as Evans tried to go from first-to-third. The ball reached Mulliniks well ahead of Evans, but Evans was safe when Mulliniks dropped the one-hop throw for his second error in two innings.

That put runners at first and third with no one out, and Evans scored when Lemon grounded into a double play. The run was credited to Clancy, who pitched two-plus innings, allowing four hits and four runs, two earned.

Yankees 3, Orioles 1

NEW YORK — Tommy John, 13-6, pitched a seven-hitter for his 276th career victoryand third complete game in 33 starts this season. New York took a 2-0 lead in the second inning off starter Jeff Ballard, 2-8, on run-scoring singles by Jerry Royster and Bobby Meacham.

Royals 6, Twins 3

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Danny Tartabull hit a grand slam and catcher Scotti Madison hit doubles for his first three major-league hits, leading the Kansas City Royals past the AL West champ Minnesota. Frank Viola, 17-10, was the victim of Tartabull's 33rd homer.

Bret Saberhagen, 18-10, gave up nine hits and had four strikeouts and no walks en route to his 15th complete game.

Red Sox 3, Brewers 2

BOSTON — Spike Owen homered with one out in the 12th inning to lift the Boston Red Sox to snap the Brewers' five-game winning streak.

Owen's second homer of the season ended a pitching duel in which Milwaukee starter Ted Higuera, 18-10, went the distance, allowing six hits.

Reliever Wes Gardner, 3-6, earned the victory with one inning of work after replacing Boston starter Jeff Sellers in the 12th.

Mariners 5, Rangers 4

ARLINGTON — Pinch-hitter Gary Matthews walked with the bases loaded to snap an eighth inning tie. Matthews drew his walk off reliever Steve Howe, who came in with two outs and two runners on and walked Alvin Davis to load the bases. Dale Mohorcic, 7-6, who relieved starter Greg Harris in the seventh, took the loss.

Rangers outfielder Ruben Sierra became the youngest player in the last 22 years to hit 30 home runs in one season. Sierra, who won't be 22 until next Tuesday, hit his 30th homer of the season — a two-run shot — and drove in another run with a sacrifice fly, giving him 109 runs batted in on the year.

Athletics 4, White Sox 3

CHICAGO — Mark McGwire's run-scoring double snapped an 11th-inning tie and the Oakland Athletics held on to beat the White Sox, snapping Chicago's seven-game winning streak.

Advertisers run for cover

NEW YORK (AP) — The ranks of advertisers known to have withdrawn commercials from this weekend's NFL broadcasts because of the player's strike continued to grow Friday.

United Airlines said it had notified the networks earlier this week that it was withdrawing its ads that had been scheduled to appear during the Sunday and Monday NFL broadcasts.

The three major U.S. automakers and Miller Brewing Co., disclosed earlier in the week that they were withdrawing from sponsoring this weekend's games.

Meanwhile, industry sources said the networks were scrambling to find sponsors to take the time that was being vacated.

One executive, speaking on condition that he not be quoted by name, said he expected the NFL would help the networks make up for lost ad revenue.

But another executive, Dennis Lewin, senior vice president for prodution at ABC Sports, said he was unaware of any formal arrangement with the league on that issue. "We hope they would be understanding if there are any problems," he said.

NFL spokesman Joe Browne said the league had repeatedly told the networks that it would "sit down and discuss the issue of rebates and refunds" with them if the ratings were considerably lower than normal or if the networks had "serious erosion from the advertisiers."

The television networks pay about $28 million a week for the rights to broadcast the NFL games. They charge as much as $200,000 for a 30-second commercial during the broadcasts.

In Chicago, United spokesman Dan Sheehy said the airline had planned to launch a new advertising campaign targeted at business travelers during the football telecasts this weekend.

But he said the launch of that campaign had been delayed until the telecasts of the Major League Baseball playoffs on Tuesday.

"We don't think the audience is going to be there (for the NFL relplacement games)," Sheehy said.

Major league clubs order to toe mark

NEW YORK (AP) — Commissioner Peter Ueberroth ordered major league clubs Friday to comply "with both the letter and the spirit" of an arbitrator's ruling that clubs had conspired to limit free agency after the 1985 season.

Ueberroth, in a two-page memorandum issued to the 26 clubs, said he disagreed with the conclusions of arbitrator Thomas Roberts, but that that compliance "is the only acceptable course of conduct at this point."

Ueberroth's four-paragraph statement came 11 days after Roberts ruled that clubs owners took uniform positions against signing free agents from other clubs in late 1985.

He did not address the accusations against him made by Roberts that the collusion bagan after a series of meetings Ueberroth chaired in late 1985 that emphasized fiscal responsibilty.

Ueberroth continued to emphasize financial concerns in his latest statement, which said in part:

"Only an individual club is in a position to determine whether it is good policy for the club to be active in the free agent market, whether a particular free agent player is likely to improve the club's performance, what dollar value a particular player will have to the club and whether the club can afford to pay that dollar value."

He also said that clubs would continue to share information regarding salary negotiations but that advice from the owners' Player Relations Committee was not to be considered a directive.

Ueberroth would not comment on his statement, according to Rich Levin, the commissioner's spokesman. Barry Rona, head of the PRC, had already left his office for the Jewish Yom Kippur holiday and was not available for reaction.

Donald Fehr, executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association, said that he was alarmed by the memorandum when he was reached at home Friday.

"It sounds like everybody (should) make up their own minds but call first so we can make it up for you," Fehr said.

"It gives me great cause for suspicion. I find it interesting for the Commissioner to find that the arbitrator was wrong when the ruling finds that the implementation of the policy (of collusion) was carried out by him and the PRC."

Roberts will preside over the second stage of the hearing, a determination of remedies. Fehr and Rona met once last week to discuss the subject and probably will meet again next week, according to Gene Orza, associate general counsel of the players' union.

Fehr said that it was premature for Ueberroth to say that clubs could continue to share information on salary negotiations.

"That is a matter that will be resolved by the arbitator," Fehr said.

"I would hope very much that clubs re-enter the free-agent market," Fehr said. "We will find out very soon when we see how clubs approach the negotiations to retain their own free agents."

BYU outscores Utah State

PROVO, Utah (AP) — Quarterback Bob Jensen and third-team fullback Mike Salido ran for two touchdowns each to lead Brigham Young to a 45-24 non-conference victory Friday night over in-state rival Utah State.

Jensen scored on runs of 24 and 4 yards while Salido, playing in place of injured starter Fred Whittingham, scored on runs of 1 and 7 yards for the Cougars, 3-2.

Team officials did not specify why second-team fullback Alema Harrington did not start, although they did say he was ineffective the last time he played. Harrington scored BYU's final touchdown on a 5-yard run with 39 seconds left.

Utah State trailed only 24-12 at the end of the third quarter after Kendal Smith caught an 8-yard touchdown pass from Brent Snyder, one of three thrown by the junior college transfer from Joliet, Ill.

The Cougars the scored two straight touchdowns in the next seven minutes on Salido's 7-yard run and a 22-yard run by freshman Peter Tuipulotu.

Jensen, a junior, completed 24 of 35 passes for 288 yards as the Cougars of the Western Athletic Conference won their second straight at the expence of winless USU.

but I think it was obvious we weren't ready to play football."

The Rebels are now 5-0 on the season and 2-0 in 4-5A play. Only Odessa Permian and Lee are left with unblemished marks in the league. OHS will test Permian next week at Ratliff.

Lee will host Abilene Cooper at Memorial Stadium next Friday and the Rebels will be in for a new test. Cooper quarterback Scotty Pugh is one of the leading passers in the state and none of the teams Lee has played this year has thrown the ball well against them.

But the OHS experience should help the Rebels better prepare for the upcoming game with the Cougars. At least, Lee isn't preparing for that contest following a loss to a team that hasn't won a 4-5A game in two years.

Edwards calls for boycott

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Sports sociologist Harry Edwards said Friday that he will call for black athletes to boycott major college football and basketball championship games if blacks aren't given more coaching opportunities.

Edwards, 45, an associate professor at the University of California in Berkeley, Calif., is a special assistant to baseball commissioner Peter Ueberroth and has been monitoring affirmative action efforts within baseball management.

In comments prior to a speaking appearance at the University of Missouri School of Journalism, Edwards said, "racism and exploitation is immense in college athletic programs."

Edwards said a minority issues committee established by the National Collegiate Athletic Association isn't enough to deal with the problem. He said a boycott could begin with football bowl games later this year.

According to Edwards, there are three black head football coaches at the major-college level and 29 out of 283 in Division I basketball programs.

He said that by participating in both football and basketball, black athletes help support all other major-college sports. Revenue from football and basketball games provide schools with much of the money necessary to pay for other non-revenue sports.

Edwards said he has been working with an association of 155 black assistant football and basketball coaches. He said the group was established to increase the number of black football and basketball coaches at the major-college level.

NBC switches TV game to Jays-Tigers

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC-TV has switched plans and will show the Toronto Blue Jays-Detroit Tigers game nationally Saturday.

The network originally had scheduled a split national telecast featuring the Blue Jays-Tigers and the New York Mets at the St. Louis Cardinals. The decision to focus on the Blue Jays-Tigers game was made when St. Louis clinched the National League East Division title with an 8-2 victory over the Montreal Expos Thursday night.

Toronto and Detroit are in a battle for the American League East, the only division championship not yet decided.

Sanchez takes first in Tall City Fishing

From Staff Reports

Ysidro Sanchez took first place in the Tall City Fishing Club's 1987 championships while Manuel Madrid was second. Third place went to Julio Brito, Sr.

The TCFS will hold its last meeting of the season Oct. 12 at Tampico Restaurant, completing a highly successful first year for the organization.

SMU AD— Doug Single, SMU'S new AD, pledged a scandal-free football program built around scholastics, regardless of its effects on win-loss records or fund raising. Single, Northwestern AD for seven years, is credited with improving the program at Northwestern while boosting the athletes' graduation rate to 95 percent....

AUTO RACING— Bill Elliott set a race qualifying record Friday to earn the pole position for the Holly Farms 400 NASCAR stock car race at North Wilkesboro Speedway, N.C. Elliott cruised to his seventh pole of the season and second straight on the ½-mile oval as he turned a fast lap averaging 115.196 mph in his Ford Thunderbird...

TENNIS— French star Yannick Noah and his wife Cecilia, a Swedish model and singer, have agreed to a separation and will file for divorce, Mrs. Noah's lawyer said Friday. Noah, 27, has taken several months off from tennis since losing in the first round of the Bordeaux Open this summer...

BASEBALL— Interleague play is a little closer to the major leagues as Class AAA minor-league clubs, the American Association and the International League unanimously voted to form an alliance for the 1988 season that will have interleague play and a joint champion of the two leagues. The leagues will play 48 interleague games in a 142-game schedule...

BASEBALL— Three Tampa police officers have filed suit against New York Mets pitcher Dwight Gooden, seeking $1 million each in damages for injuries they say they suffered during a December 1986 brawl. "They are still suffering physically and emotionally," attorney Jeff Stull, told the Tampa Tribune. "The officers were beaten up pretty badly in the media too."...

HOCKEY— Pittsburgh Penguins right wing Jimmy Mann is expected to remain out of hockey action for at least eight weeks following surgery on his right elbow...

BASEBALL— Buoyed by success in the second half, the Pittsburgh Pirates signed GM Syd Thrift, Manager Jim Leyland and five coaches to contracts that run indefinitely....

AL PLAYER OF MONTH— Alan Trammell and Doyle Alexander of Detroit swept the American League Player of the Month awards. Trammell hit .416 in September with 47 hits in 113 at-bats. He had nine doubles, a triple and six home runs, drove in 17 runs and had three game-winning RBI. Alexander, recently acquired from Atlanta, was 5-0 with a 0.71 earned run average. He is 8-0 with a 1.33 ERA since joining the Tigers...

Pirates defeat Phils, 6-4

From Wire Reports

PITTSBURGH — Darnell Coles, whose two errors led to a pair of unearned runs, hit a tiebreaking single in the seventh inning Friday night as the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 6-4.

NL

With one out in the seventh, John Cangelosi walked and Jose Lind singled against Mike Jackson, 3-10. Reliever Jeff Calhoun struck out Andy Van Slyke, but gave up consecutive run-scoring singles to Coles and Sid Bream.

Pirates starter Bob Walk, 8-2, allowed only one earned run in seven innings. Jim Gott pitched the ninth inning for his 13th save.

Keith Hughes' seventh-inning single gave the Phillies a 4-4 tie after the Pirates had taken a 4-3 lead in the sixth on Terry Harper's second RBI single.

The Pirates scored three runs in the first on a run-scoring double by Lind, a sacrifice fly by Coles and Harper's RBI single.

The Phillies scored unearned runs in three consecutive innings. In the third, Coles let Juan Samuel's grounder through his legs and his fourth-inning throwing error allowed a second run to score.

First baseman Mike Diaz's two-base error in the fifth preceeded an RBI double by Chris James.

Expos 7, Cubs 1

MONTREAL — Neal Heaton, 13-10, allowed three hits in six innings for his first victory since July 30 as the Montreal Expos.

The Expos, who were eliminated from the East Division race Thursday, broke a 1-1 tie against starter Greg Maddux, 6-14, by scoring three runs in the fourth inning.

Cardinals 3, Mets 2

ST. LOUIS — Dave Magadan's error opened the door for two unearned runs in the third inning, helping the St. Louis Cardinals celebrate their NL East title with against the the Mets.

John Tudor, 10-2, withstood five New York hits in the second and third innings and pitched five innings for his seventh straight win.

A Busch Stadium turnout of 45,517 left St. Louis only 16,613 short of becoming the third major-league team to reach the three million mark in one season.

Reds 12, Astros 7

HOUSTON — Tracy Jones drove in five runs, including the game-winner with a double in Cincinnati's five-run sixth inning.

After the Astros took a 6-5 lead with a four-run fifth inning, pinch-hitter Kurt Stillwell doubled and Dave Collins singled to open the sixth off Rocky Childress, 1-2. Dave Concepcion, who had four hits and three runs batted in, grounded out to bring home Stillwell with the tying run.

Collins scored five runs for the Reds, tying a major-league high for the season established by five other players. Rob Murphy pitched two-thirds of an inning in his 86th appearance for the Reds, tying a major-league record for left-handers set by Wilbur Wood of the Chicago White Sox in 1968.

Dodgers 10, Padres 3

SAN DIEGO — Benito Santiago extended his hitting streak to 34 games, but he couldn't prevent the San Diego Padres from suffering their ninth straight loss as they fell to the Los Angeles Dodgers 10-3 Friday night.

Mike Marshall drove in three runs with a two-run homer and a single, and John Shelby also hit a two-run homer as the Dodgers won for the ninth time in 12 games.

For the Padres, the losing streak represents their longest since they dropped 10 consecutive games in 1974.

NOW APPEARING BARBARA HUMPHREY

Goodnights

The best way to describe this beautiful, blonde entertainer is style...And maybe energetic, sensitive, animated, creative, flirtatious, and last but definitely not least, talented.

Miss Humphrey's repertoire extends a vast selection of material from the 40's to the 80's. Perhaps her forte is the gusty blues and jazz tunes of such greats as Billy Holiday, Fats Waller, Nat King Cole, Dinah Washington and Gershwin. But her style translates equally as well on renditions of her favorite Motown artists: Sam Cooke, Marvin Gaye, Odis Redding and Aretha Franklin, not to mention such country greats as Patsy Cline and Hank Williams. Barbara loves to sing the soulful sounds of the 80's from artists like Whitney Houston, Anita Baker, Al Jarreau and Sade. Undoubtedly though, Miss Humphrey shines her brightest when performing her own original material. Lyrically moving and musically "finger-snappin' and foot-tappin'" good

Players stream back to NFL 11's

NEW YORK (AP) — The largest group of veterans yet crossed picket lines Friday, just in time to play and get paid, setting up the possibility of some horrendous mismatches in the first strike games this weekend.

A total of 38 more players returned to their teams before the 2 p.m. deadline for getting paid this week, bringing the total to 85 since the strike started Sept. 22. There are 1,585 players under union jurisdiction.

Friday's union defectors included defensive end Ed "Too Tall" Jones of Dallas; cornerback Raymond Clayborn and guard Sean Farrell of New England; wide receiver Steve Watson of Denver; and defensive linemen Joe Klecko and Marty Lyons of the New York Jets. Klecko, still rehabilitating an injured knee, will not play Sunday.

THERE WERE also some near-defections by Los Angeles Raiders and San Francisco 49ers that were ended in the interest of team-unity.

Howie Long and Bill Pickel of the Los Angeles Raiders reported, then left camp after being convinced by Al Davis, the team's owner, to remain on strike in the interest of team unity.

"Billy and I came in out of loyalty to our families and loyalty to the Raiders organization," Long said.

"After further talks with Mr. Davis, he felt, and we both agreed that it would be better to do it as a team, whatever we do. So at this point, we've decided to go back out and join our teammates and whatever we'll do, we'll do it as a team."

IN REDWOOD City, Calif., striking 49ers set up their first picket line of the walkout, causing as many as a dozen players who had planned to report to reconsider. Among them were quarterback Joe Montana and running back Roger Craig, the mainstays of the offense.

"I didn't realize everyone felt that strongly," said wide receiver Dwight Clark, another potential defector. "We'll see how they feel next week after they miss another paycheck."

Friday's influx left some teams made up almost entirely of castoffs facing replacement games against teams made up, at least partially, of regulars and even Pro Bowl players.

In St. Louis, for example, eight more Cardinals crossed the picket line Friday and the team will go to Washington on Sunday with 13 regular players, including stars such as wide receiver Roy Green, linebacker E.J. Junior and safety Leonard Smith.

"This is one of the bigger underdog situations I've ever been in," said Redskins Coach Joe Gibbs, whose team would normally be favored by more than a touchdown but who will face the Cardinals without any members of his regular 45-man squad.

"Nothing against our guys, but every time you look out there and see Roy Green, who's burned us so many times, you worry a little."

CLEVELAND, with no regulars, will be at New England, which has five players in camp and the New York Jets will face a Dallas team that includes quarterback Danny White, running back Tony Dorsett, wide receiver Mike Renfro and defensive linemen Jones and Randy White.

The eight Cardinals, who came back despite a personal plea from union head Gene Upshaw, represented the biggest jolt to union solidarity. They included four starters — Junior, wide receiver J.T. Smith, offensive tackle Lance Smith, and fullback Earl Ferrell, plus Vai Sikahema, a Pro Bowl kick returner.

"All they're doing is helping management bust the union," Upshaw said after meeting with the remaining Cardinals strikers at a union hall. "They're telling their teammates they don't care about them, that they don't give a damn about anybody but themselves."

Five more Denver Broncos; five Los Angeles Rams, five Raiders, four Patriots and Cowboys, and two players each from the Jets, Atlanta Falcons and Indianapolis Colts also reported to camp. One of the Colts was wide receiver Walter Murray, who walked in Tuesday, walked out Thursday and was back again Friday.

MANAGEMENT was also feeling the pinch as the strike games approached.

Nearly 300,000 tickets, more than one-third of the total sold for Sunday's games, had been returned by fans.

Three major auto manufacturers and the Miller Brewing Co. have pulled their ads from the telecasts of the replacement games, putting additional pressure on the networks, who have not decided whether to broadcast the games beyond this weekend.

"We're very encouraged that 300,000 tickets have been returned and the fact that the advertisers have also realized these are sham games," said union spokesman Frank Woschitz. "The fans are not buying these second-rate games and neither are the advertisers."

Some, but not all, of Friday's defectors said they returned for financial reasons.

Like Dorsett, the 36-year-old Jones reported to the Cowboys' camp after receiving a letter warning that the deferred annuity payment in his contract would be jeopardized if he remained on strike. So he drove his Jeep through the picket line and issued a statement to reporters saying he was returning "based on circumstances regarding my contract."

However, cornerback Everson Walls, who received a similar letter, remained on strike. He said his agent, Steve Weinberg, had told him he could stay out until Nov. 1 and still get his $840,000, 30-year annuity and $100,000 signing bonus.

AT THE JETS' camp, the 30-year-old Lyons said money was the reason he returned.

Midland Christian romps

From Staff Reports

Midland Christian rambled to its fifth win without a defeat, defeating Grady, 58-20, in a Six-Man Football Game at Midland Christian Field Friday.

MC took a 12-0 first period lead on one-yard touchdown run by Randy Cloyd and a 32-yard scoring pass from Joel Hobbs to Travis Sturdivant and was never challenged.

Tony Carona scored on runs of one and 67 yards and hoisted a 32 yard td pass to Hobbs. Kevin Wallum also fired a 40-yard TD pass to Aaron Petrie.

Shawn Capehart closed out the scoring in the 22-point final period with a 10-yard run.

MC had a 16-10 edge in first downs.

Defensively, Capehart, Wade Emmert, R. P. Johnson and Travis Sturdivant were standouts.

The Mustangs travel to Klondike next Friday for a 7:30 p.m. game.

Brown leads by 2

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — Great Britain's Ken Brown shot a 6-under-par 64 Friday to take a two-shot lead after the second round of the $400,000 Southern Open golf tournament.

Brown's 36-hole total of 129 over the par-70, 6,791-yard Green Island Country Club gave the European Ryder Cup member the lead over Mike Hulbert, who had a 66 for 131, in the battle for the $72,000 top prize.

First-round leader David Frost, Hale Irwin, Vance Heafner and Billy Pierot were next at 134. Frost had a 71, Heafner a 69, Pierot a 65 and Irwin a 68, as players enjoyed ideal playing conditions for the second straight day with temperatures in the low 80s, little wind and plenty of sunshine.

Brown, a non-winner in his fourth year on the PGA Tour, is enjoying his best season in the U.S. with earnings of more than $162,000. He has five Top 10 finishes, including a fourth at the Las Vegas Invitational.

Brown, 30, had eight birdies and two bogeys. His biggest shot of the day came on the first hole, when he holed a 15-footer from a bunker for a birdie.

Addington wraps up Texas Seniors

LUBBOCK (AP) — Don Addington of Dallas wrapped up his second consecutive Texas Golf Association Men's Senior Tournament championship Friday, coasting around the Lubbock Country Club layout with a 2-over par 74.

Addington, who won this event last year in Tyler, finished the 72-hole tournament with a 298 — nine shots better than runner-up Bill Penn of Austin.

Addington was a model of consistency throughout the event, posting consecutive scores of 73, 76, 75 and 74 en route to the tourney title.

He is the first to win back-to-back titles since Bill Trombley, another Dallas player, turned the trick in 1983-84.

Penn started the day in third place six shots behind the leader, but made up ground with a 5-over 77 to finish second. Don Millender of Dallas grabbed third place. He also fired a 77 and finished with a four-day total of 311.

Ray Moore of Beaumont was next with a 313.

Lamesa's Jake Broyles began the final round in second place just five shots behind Addington, but Friday's winds and the course layout teamed to saddle him with an 85, relegating Broyles to a fifth-place finish.

Moody's 66 sets pace in Vantage

CLEMMONS, N.C. (AP) — Orville Moody finished off a 4-under-par 66 with birdies on three of the last five holes and took a one-stroke lead Friday in the first round of the $1 million Vantage Championship.

A single stroke back were Dave Hill and former Masters champ Gay Brewer, each with a 67.

Cowboys trickle back, but Walls stays out

By DENNE H. FREEMAN

IRVING (AP) — Defensive end Ed "Too Tall" Jones and wide receiver Mike Renfro on Friday joined four other Dallas veterans in crossing players' picket lines, but cornerback Everson Walls defied a warning letter from Cowboys' management.

Jones, who was told he could jeopardize a $1 million annuity, and Renfro, who is playing his final NFL season, will play Sunday against the New York Jets.

They followed quarterback Danny White, running back Tony Dorsett, and defensive linemen Randy White and Don Smerek into the Valley Ranch home of the Cowboys.

Two injured reserve players — linebacker Chris Duliban and wide receiver Johnny "Lam" Jones — also have crossed the picket line and have been activated for the game against New York.

Dorsett reported Thursday because he didn't want to jeopardize his annuity. White came in Wednesday, lured by a $300,000 advance on his $725,000 per year salary.

"Based on circumstances regarding my contract with the Dallas Cowboys football club, I have made the decision to return to practice and will play on Sunday," Jones said in a prepared release, after driving his Jeep through the picket line.

"I hope that all my teammates understand the reasons behind my personal decision to return to camp at this time. I have no further comments."

Jones and Walls received letters from management warning them about the annuity clauses in their contracts.

Walls, who still was on the picket line Friday, said, "The Cowboys tell me one thing and my agent (Steve Weinberg) tells me another. I read the contract and the way I read it the annuity is not effective until Nov. 1. And there's no deadline on it."

Club President Tex Schramm and Walls had a brief conversation as Schramm drove through the picket line.

"Your agent is not looking out in your best interests," Schramm told Walls. "I want to let you know you and I decide your future, not Weinberg."

The league had set a 9 a.m. deadline to report Friday in order to qualify for Sunday's games. The NFL Management Council later extended it until 2 p.m.

"The Cowboys always try anything they can and it only makes you more stubborn," Walls said. "Sometimes they say things they know are not true. I've been through this enough on an individual basis to know what to expect. Nothing surprises me."

Walls' letter warned him he could endanger an $800,000 annuity payment and a $100,000 signing bonus if he didn't report.

"The contract speaks for itself," Schramm said. "We are not setting any deadlines or giving any threats."

Andrews, Pecos fight to 16-16 tie

From Staff Reports

PECOS — The Andrews Mustangs blocked a field goal attempt by Pecos' Frank Orzoco with three seconds left here Friday night preserve a 16-16 District 2-4A football tie.

Pecos scored all 16 of its points in the first half and Andrews answered with 16 second half points.

Two short TD runs by Andrews' Michael Hernandez and a 37-yard field goal by Guy Hester gave the Mustangs the 16-16 tie in the second half.

Hernandez ended the night with 109 yards on 19 carries while Pecos' Bobby Ray Smith led all rushers with 142 yards. Smith scored on a 58-yard run in the first half.

Andrews is now 1-1-1 in 2-4A play while Pecos is 0-2-1.

Monahans 63, Snyder 0

From Staff Reports

MONAHANS— Charles Thompson scored four touchdown and Ronnie Ramsey scored three as Monahans rumbled to a 63-0 win over Snyder in a District 2-4A football rout here Friday night.

Thompson scored on runs of 40, 13, three and 55 yards in amassing 180 yards on 12 carries.

Ramsey gained 57 yards on 10 carries with touchdown runs of one and 20 yards and a 75-yard punt return.

Monahans, now 4-0, roared to a 49-0 halftime lead and held Snyder without a first down. Most of the Tigers yards and the eight first downs came against second and third teamers in the second half.

Monahans chalked up 357 yards and completed two of four passes attempts for 47 yards.

The Lobos were awesome even the one time they punted, a 63-yarder.

Snyder, which is off next week, is now 0-5.

Monahans travels to Andrews.

Sweetwater 43, Lamesa 12

From Staff Reports

LAMESA — The Sweetwater Mustangs rolled to their third consecutive District 2-4A football victory here Friday night with a sound 43-12 drubbing of the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes.

Lamesa is now 0-3 in 2-4A play, but the Tors hung tough with Sweetwater for a half. Sweetwater led by a 16-6 margin at the half, but erupted for 27 third quarter points to ice the victory away.

The Mustangs' Larry Healer scored three touchdowns and Kenneth Norman two.

Next Friday, Lamesa goes to Big Spring, idle this week, and Sweetwater hosts Fort Stockton.

Rankin Red Devils bury Fort Davis, 40-0

From Staff Reports

RANKIN— Fullback George Abalos ran wild as Rankin's Red Devils romped to a 40-0 victory over Fort Davis here Friday night. It was Rankin's fourth win in five starts.

Abalos scored four touchdowns and kicked four extra points, putting the Devils on the scoreboard with 7:50 left in the opening period on a three-yard run.

Doug Braden then uncorked a 59-yard scoring pass to James Watson with 5:46 left and Braden's eight yard pass to Brian McCravey with 2:47 left in the opening period gave the Devils a 19-0 lead.

After that it was all Abalos. He punched over from the two and four in the third period and converted each time.

But he saved his most spectacular for last, streaking 99 yards with 9:46 left in the game.

Still, it wasn't all Abalos. Braden gained 105 yards in eight carries and passed for 116 yards in 14 attempts.

Rankin swings back into action next Friday at Big Lake against Reagan County.

Ex-player Cefalo to cross picket line

By RICK WARNER
AP Writer

When Jimmy Cefalo played for the Miami Dolphins, he was the team's union representative. Sunday, he will cross the union's picket line to work as an analyst on NBC's telecast of the Los Angeles Raiders-Kansas City Chiefs game.

"It's going to be very difficult to do, mentally and emotionally," Cefalo said. "But it's one of those situations where you have to put personal feelings aside."

Cefalo, who retired after the 1984 season, sympathizes with the striking NFL players. But he's now a member of the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists, and that union is not honoring the NFL Players Association picket lines.

"I wish they were, but that's not my decision," Cefalo said.

Spokesmen for ABC, NBC and CBS said they expect all their NFL announcers to work this week's replacement games, which will feature teams of free agents, rookies and non-striking veterans.

Former Seattle linebacker Michael Jackson had been scheduled to analyze Sunday's Houston-Denver game, but an NBC spokesman said that commentator Dave Lapham will work the game instead. Jackson retired before the season, but still is a member of the Players Association executive board.

Although NBC wouldn't discuss the reasons for the change, the network apparently felt Jackson's position with the union would be viewed as a conflict of interest.

As a gesture of support for the players, Cefalo will walk the picket lines before and after Sunday's game. He also promised not to pull any punches during the telecast.

"If I think it's a lousy game and the fans are getting ripped off, I'll say so," Cefalo said. "I'm paid by NBC to be an individual, and that's what I'm going to be."

Based on early reports, Cefalo is skeptical about the quality of the strike games.

"I was talking to a Houston fan who was around when the AFL was getting started," he said, "and he told me the New York Titans were better in their first game than these guys."

Cefalo said the "scab games" won't soon be forgotten by the striking players.

"If they go ahead with these games, there will be a strike in three years, regardless of what happens this time," he said. "It's an insult to the players, and they'll remember it."

The average salary for an NFL player is $230,000. Owners say people making that much money shouldn't complain. Cefalo said that isn't so.

"The NFL will generate $4 billion over the next six years," he said. "If 1,500 players can generate that kind of income, they deserve all the money they can get. This isn't socialism. This is capitalism."

Although he's a strong union supporter, Cefalo thinks the Players Association is putting too much emphasis on free agency — the issue that has forced a stalemate in the negotiations.

"When I was a player, I was more concerned with guaranteed contracts, pension and severance pay," he said. "Free agency is important, but it shouldn't overshadow all the other issues."

Cefalo thinks the chances for a quick settlement depend largely on what happens this weekend.

"If the games are a total farce, I think the owners may have to call the rest of the season off," he said. "But if they look all right, it might force the players closer to the bargaining table."

Forsan's big second half defeats Braves

From Staff Reports

FORSAN — The Forsan Buffaloes broke open a tight game with the Iraan Braves Friday night in the second half to take a 43-9 victory.

Forsan led 14-9 at the half, but scored 29 unanswered points in the second half to win going away.

Forsan quarterback Nrent Nichols passed for three touchdowns to lead the attack. He hit Ruben Holquin, Steven East and Randy Bryan for the key TDs.

Stacy Munoz, John Roman and Charlie Newton also scored for Forsan.

Iraan got a 26-yard field goal from Billy Castaneda to take an early 3-0 lead and got a second quarter TD on a pas from Robert King to Castaneda.

the ball instead of worrying about setting up a return. The odds of blocking the punt are greater than that of getting a good return without a penalty."

After alternating punts, Stanton took the ball, and with quarterback Skip Hopkins finding Carlos Ortiz on a 21-yard pass play, the Buffaloes had the ball on Crane's 22. A muffed hand-off on the next play foiled the drive, however, when the Cranes came away with the football.

From there, the Golden Cranes put away the game with a 15-play, seven minute drive that Carrasco capped with a fourth-and-goal score from inside the one with 8:24 left in the game.

Crane and Stanton both finish their non-district seasons with 2-3 records.

Miami, Florida State blockbuster tops grid slate

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Football Writer

September paired the nation's No. 2 and 3 college football teams — Nebraska and UCLA.

October starts with No. 3 Miami, Fla. (UCLA has slipped to No. 11) at No. 4 Florida State.

All this numerology could produce another 1-2 shootout Jan. 1.

Top-rated Oklahoma, which visits Iowa State Saturday, and runner-up Nebraska, which entertains South Carolina, could be undefeated when they meet at Lincoln Nov. 21.

The winner probably will take a No. 1 ranking into the Orange Bowl as Big Eight champion. And since the Southeastern, Southwest, Big Ten and Pacific-10 Conferences have tie-ups with other bowls, the best bet for a 1-2 showdown seems to be an independent team — like Miami, Florida State or fifth-ranked Notre Dame, which has this week off.

"Everyone always points to the Nebraska-Oklahoma game as the game that sets the tone for the national championship," said Bennie Blades, Miami's All-American free safety. "That's changing. This game is the battle of the independents, and whoever wins could go all the way.

SATURDAY'S only other pairing of Top Twenty teams in the AP poll finds No. 19 Florida at seventh-ranked Louisiana State in an important SEC night game.

Meanwhile, sixth-ranked Auburn visits North Carolina for a non-conference game, No. 9 Ohio State begins its Rose Bowl quest at Illinois, and No. 10 Tennessee entertains California in a non-league game. Ninth-ranked Clemson is idle.

In the Second Ten, No. 11 UCLA visits Stanford, Wisconsin is at No. 12 Michigan, Texas-El Paso at No. 13 Arizona State at night, Temple at No. 14 Penn State, No. 15 Texas A&M at Texas Tech, No. 16 Washington at Oregon, Southwestern Louisiana at No. 17 (tie) Alabama, Michigan State at No. 17 Iowa, and No. 20 Georgia at Mississippi.

College Football

COACHES BOBBY Bowden of Florida State and Jimmy Johnson of Miami look at Saturday's game differently.

"I don't think there has been any (regular-season) game more important than this," Bowden said. "Whoever gets this is going to be really visible in the poll. Once you get up there, everyone starts pointing at you. Whoever wins this will get pointed at."

Meanwhile, Johnson, whose team has been burned in two straight bowl games with a shot at the national championship, is sticking with the coaches' bromide that "it's the most important game of the year because it's this week. Next week, the Maryland game will be the most important game of the year."

MIAMI (41 points per game) and Florida State (39) are third and fourth nationally in scoring.

"I said prior to the season that Florida State has as much talent and experience as any team in the country," Johnson said. "Only Oklahoma comes close, and they don't have the depth of Florida State."

Bowden won't argue that point. He said the Seminoles will play "about six backs, three tight ends and six receivers. We're going to play them and rest them, play them and rest them. You won't see any better talent on the field than when these teams hook up."

After limiting Michigan State to 215 yards last week, Bowden called Florida State's defense "the most dominating we've seen here in years."

OKLAHOMA'S lead in the AP poll diminished despite last week's 65-0 rout of Tulsa. Coach Barry Switzer said he sees room for improvement, but "the only way we'll get better is to extend ourselves and play good people."

"I've got a little concern about us offensively not playing as well as we should, and I think that's because of the competition factor and concentration."

Iowa State, which hasn't beaten Oklahoma in 25 games (including a 7-7 tie in 1981, the series is a lopsided 53-4-2), is a 45½-point underdog in the Big Eight opener. The Cyclones are 0-3 and have scored only two touchdowns.

Jim Walden, Iowa State's new coach, isn't dreaming of a stunning upset.

"We might make a first down or two," he said. "My guys are going to play hard. But ... we're not going to beat 'em. There's no way in the world I can take 53 guys, 10 or 12 freshmen and a bunch of walk-ons and ... run roughshod over the Oklahoma Sooners."

SOUTH CAROLINA, however, can dream. The Gamecocks probably still have nightmares of the game that got away last year when Todd Ellis completed 26 of 38 passes for 286 yards before the Cornhuskers won 27-24 after five lead changes, four in the fourth quarter.

"South Carolina is as dangerous as any team we play," Nebraska's Tom Osborne said. "They have as fine skilled players as we have played."

Florida has won three straight after a first-game losss to Miami.

"We had our most complete game of the season last Saturday against Mississippi State (38-3)," Coach Galen Hall said.

The home team hasn't won this game since 1979, with Florida going 3-0 at Baton Rouge and LSU winning three and tying one at Gainesville.

Adding spice to the game is the fact that Bill Arnsparger, Florida's new athletic director, was LSU's coach the past three years and led the Tigers to the 1986 SEC championship.

Bob Stull brings magic to UTEP

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Football Writer

College Focus

Stull is in his fourth year as a college head coach and second at the University of Texas at El Paso.

His 1984 team at Massachusetts was 3-8, but the next year the Minutemen were 7-4. That was the third-best turnaround among Division I-AA teams and it got Stull a job at UTEP, which was a major-college team in name only.

In performance, the Miners left something to be desired. Since its last winning season (6-4) in 1970 until Stull arrived last year, UTEP was 26-143. The 11 years from 1975-85 were even worse — 15-111.

"UTEP is probably the only school in the country where, after winning four games, people think you have turned the corner," Stull said.

After the Miners failed to win more than two games for 11 consecutive years, Stull produced a 4-8 record last year, with victories over Northern Michigan, New Mexico State, Colorado State and Utah. It could easily have been 7-5; UTEP lost to Air Force 23-21 on a field goal with one second left, lost to New Mexico 24-22 when the wind blew a field goal attempt off-line in the closing seconds, and dropped a 15-10 decision when Western Athletic Conference champion San Diego State recovered its own fumble in the end zone for a touchdown.

The last two victories came at the end of the 1986 season and the carryover winning streak is five in a row for the first time in 30 years — UTEP is 3-0 for the first time since 1965 — as the Miners head for a Saturday night game at Arizona State. If it reaches six straight, Stull would be 8-8 at a school which hasn't had a coach with a winning record since Bobby Dobbs (41-35-2) resigned with four games left in the 1972 campaign.

Bill Yung, Stull's predecessor, was 7-39 in four seasons, although Stull points out that Yung did not leave the cupboard completely devoid of talent.

UT-El Paso hasn't had any fluky victories in 1987. The Miners beat New Mexico State 31-0 — their first shutout since 1970 — Colorado State 45-6 and Hawaii 31-13.

"We got beat in three areas — offense, defense and the kicking game," Hawaii Coach Bob Wagner said. "UTEP was well-coached and the better team."

UTEP is averaging 37.7 points per game, fifth-best in the country. The only teams outscoring the Miners are the top four teams in the AP poll — Oklahoma (54.0), Nebraska (44.3), Miami (41.0) and Florida State (39.0).

Oklahoma, which led the nation in six categories last year, also is No. 1 in total offense (523.0 yards per game), rushing (412.7) and scoring defense (4.7).

Pat Hegarty, Texas-El Paso's quarterback, showed up for the preseason media-fan day with a hairdo that would have made Brian Bosworth proud. Hegarty's uniform number (19) was trimmed into the hair on the back of his head.

When UCLA defeated Arizona 34-24 last weekend, it extended the nation's two longest scoring streaks to 185 and 172 consecutive games.

UCLA can tie Southern California's national mark of 186 games (1967-83) against Stanford Saturday.

Grant Teaff has coached at Baylor (16 seasons) longer than all but five coaches in Southwest Conference history.

Only Jess Neely (27 years at Rice), Bill Yeoman (24 years at Houston), Darrell Royal (20 years at Texas), Frank Broyles (19 years at Arkansas) and Dutch Meyer (19 years at Texas Christian) have more seniority at one SWC school than Teaff.

Arizona State Coach John Cooper on last week's 35-28 loss to second-ranked Nebraska:

"They didn't panic. That's the great thing about a great football team like the Big Red. They didn't panic at all. They knew what they had to do.

"We kick off to them with five minutes to go and they take the ball and go score the winning touchdown. If you had told me the score would be tied with five minutes left and we're kicking off in Sun Devil Stadium — we're going to win, I don't care who we're playing."

Miami of Florida not only has the nation's longest regular-season winning streak (23 games), but hasn't lost a regular-season road contest since Sept. 8, 1984, when the Hurricanes were beaten by Michigan 22-14, a game in which Bernie Kosar was intercepted six times. They have won 16 straight regular-season games away from home and Jimmy Johnson's road record in four years at Miami, not counting bowl games, is 18-1.

"We bear down on our overall organization with our coaches and players to make sure we avoid distractions while we are making a road trip," Johnson said. "We approach these games as a business trip, and we emphasize that to the players."

Under Johnson, the Hurricanes have won in such tough places as Arkansas, Florida,, Oklahoma, Florida State, Notre Dame and Pitt.

Florida running back Emmitt Smith is one of the rare true freshmen who make an impact in college football.

Smith came to Florida after rushing for 8,804 yards, the third-highest total in prep football history, in his career at Escambia High School in Pensacola.

The top scholastic rusher ever was Ken Hall of Sugar Land, Texas, who gained 11,232 yards from 1950-53. Sal Gonzales of Gadsden High in Anthony, N.M., is second with 9,206 (1952-55).

Eddie Dixon, Texas-El Paso's current fullback, is eighth on the all-time list with 7,342 yards at Emanuel County High in Georgia, breaking Herschel Walker's state record.

Smith rushed for only 16 yards in a 31-4 loss to Florida but gained 109 on 10 carries the following week against Tulsa.

He got his first start against Alabama and ran for 224 yards on 39 carries, both school records, then gained 173 against Mississippi State, giving him the best two-game total (397) in school history. His only two starts have produced Florida's first and 10th-best rushing performances.

Only two other Florida backs have rushed for 100 or more yards in three consecutive games. Jimmy DuBose did it in 1975 and Neal Anderson did it three times, in 1982, 1984 and 1985. Only DuBose reached the 100-yard mark in four straight games.

Counting his final 28 games in high school, Smith has rushed for 100-plus yards in each of the last 30 games in which he has started.

quarterback Tommy Lawson. Randy Donnell then capped off the drive going in from 9 yards out making the final 35-0.

For coach Purser the timing of this big win could not have come at a better time with district play beginning next week.

"We needed this win bad," Purser said. "This really helps us get off on the right foot heading into district play next week in Alpine. We need to play our games one at a time. This is only the eighth week that these kids have had to work with this new offfense and defense. If we continue to improve we are going to win some district games.

"We haven't been throwing the ball to well but we are starting to get the kids into the right positions and it is helping our offense. Fullback Jimmy Cox was a guard last year and he is just starting to come around as a fullback."

For Ozona this appears to be a rebuilding year. With a very young team and underclassmen doing the majority of the work with the football the future should be brighter down the road for the Lions. But mistakes will always hurt a young team.

"We stopped ourselves a couple of times early in the game and that really hurt us," Ozona coach Don Payne said. "If we could have scored early I think the game would have been closer. It seems to be the tendancy of a young team to get down a little when they make a mistake and that's what we did. All that did was get them mored fired up and make them stronger. But we can compete in our district and we will continue to improve."

Fort Stockton 22, Lake View 20

From Staff Reports

FORT STOCKTON— Lake View scored with six seconds left and went for two points, but failed as Fort Stockton hung on for a 22-20 victory in District 2-4A action here Friday night.

The Panthers raised their record to 5-0 while the Chiefs slipped to 2-3.

It was a 35-yard pass from Quarterback Eric Dumes to Tony Allen that gave Lake View its shot at a tie, but Ramon Valeriano thwarted the pass for two attempt with an end zone interception.

Fort Stockton took a 6-0 lead in the first period on a three-yard run by Mike Nix.

Lake View struck back for a 14-6 halftime lead on Eddie Gonzales' three-yard run and a 12-yard Dumes to Allen pass.

Fort Stockton came back in the third period to score with 9:30 left on Peter Martinez' pass to Joe Parks for 12 yards.

Stockton added three more with 11:17 left in the game on Aaron Ramriez' 32-yard field goal and then with 42 seconds left Ryan Murphy went in from the two. It should have been over, by the Chiefs made one last bid.

Valeriano carried 15 times for 90 yards to lead the Panthers in rushing and then came up with the game-saving defensive plays.

Fort Stockton will be at Sweetwater and Pecos goes to Lake View next week.

Texas Aggies open title defense in hostile Lubbock

By DENNIE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

Texas A&M opens defense of its Southwest Conference football title in a hostile spot this weekend.

The Aggies play in Lubbock, where Texas Tech's Red Raiders have always played Texas A&M tough.

Last year, A&M ripped the Red Raiders 45-8, but that was in College Station. Two years ago, when A&M had the SWC championship team that downed Auburn in the Cotton Bowl, the Aggies nicked the Red Raiders 28-27 in Lubbock.

IN 1983, Tech beat the Aggies 3-0 in Lubbock and in 1981, A&M barely survived 24-23.

"We know we are in for a rough ride," said A&M Coach Jackie Sherrill.

Freshman quarterback Lance Pavlas will start for A&M in the noon regionally televised (Raycom) matchup.

The 15th ranked Aggies were 11-point favorites over the Red Raiders, who lost 36-22 to Baylor last week.

A&M downed Southern Mississippi 27-14 last week on three touchdowns produced by freshmen.

BAYLOR WAS a seven-point favorite over the Houston Cougars in an 8 p.m. clash in the Astrodome.

Arkansas, which was overwhelmed 51-7 by the Miami Hurricanes last week, was 13-point favorite over Texas Christian, although offensive lineman Ray Childress and wide receiver Donnie Centers will miss the game because for disciplinary reasons.

SWC Football

The Horned Frogs, who lost their first two games then crushed Brigham Young 33-12, were idle last week. Quarterback Scott Ankrom will not play for TCU because of a pulled hamstring muscle.

TEXAS, WHICH gave Coach David McWilliams his first victory last week in a 61-13 rout of Oregon State, was a 20-point pick over the Rice Owls.

Arkansas quarterback Greg Thomas is still suffering from a back injury and freshman Quinn Grovey is likely to start against the Horned Frogs.

Arkansas Coach Ken Hatfield said the Hogs at least confused TCU with their performance against Miami.

"They'll look at the game films and not know where to attack," Hatfield said. "Everything will look good."

TCU Coach Jim Wacker said "that loss to Miami was the worst thing that could have happened. Now, they will really be fired up."

THE BAYLOR-Houston game was originally set for 7 p.m. but was moved to 8 p.m. because of the afternoon Houston Astros' National League game. If it goes into extra innings, the SWC game could be delayed.

"I hope we don't have another one of those two-day deals," Teaff said.

The four league games are a welcome respite from outside competition.

The SWC is 13-11 against outside competition and 1-3 against the Southeast Conference, 0-1 against the Big Ten, 0-2 versus the Big Eight, 2-2 versus the Western Athletic, 2-0 versus the Pac-10, 4-0 against the Southland, 1- versus the Pacific Coast, and 3-3 against independents.

Virginia Tech's Moir resigns under pressure

BLACKSBURG, Va. (AP) — Charlie Moir, who had the most victories of any basketball coach in Virginia Tech history, has resigned, a university official said Friday night.

The Roanoke Times & World-News reported in Saturday's editions that Moir signed a settlement agreement on the final two years of his five-year contract Friday afternoon in Kansas City, Mo., where he and other Tech officials appeared at an NCAA Committee on Infractions hearing.

Ray Smoot, the university treasurer and interim athletic director, said he and Tech President William Lavery also signed the settlement agreement, which seals Moir's resignation.

Columbia takes aim on record

NEW YORK (AP) — The Columbia Lions can match the longest losing streak in major college football history Saturday if they lose to Penn — and their fortunes are being closely watched by the Northwestern Wildcats.

The Lions, winless since beating Yale 21-18 on Oct. 15, 1983, have lost 33 in a row. A loss to Penn would equal the record set by Northwestern, which lost 34 straight from Sept. 22, 1979-Sept. 25, 1982, when the Wildcats beat Northern Illinois.

Even though Columbia has the same record as Penn this season — each team has lost its first two games — the Lions are 31-point underdogs against their Ivy League rival.

"To beat Penn, we're going to have to play a perfect game," Columbia Coach Larry McElreavy said. "We have to execute everything perfectly."

LAST YEAR, en route to a 10-0 season and their fifth straight league championship, the Quakers routed the Lions 42-7 at Philadelphia.

Columbia hasn't beaten Penn since 1981 and hasn't won in its new stadium in 18 games.

Several former Northwestern players are closely watching developments at Columbia.

"I have mixed feelings about this," said Scott Sanderson, a starting safety for the Wildcats during their losing streak.

Admitting that he symphathized with the Columbia players and hoped they would win some games, Sanderson said, "On the other hand, I don't want to be remembered for being a part of the worst college football team ever."

LAFAYETTE handed Columbia its 33rd straight loss last week 38-7, after the Lions had opened the season with a 35-0 loss to Harvard.

"Last week, we weren't ready to play. I know that sounds strange, but I don't know why," defensive tackle Matt Sodl said.

Before its string of losses, the Lions played two ties sandwiched around a loss and, thus, are winless in 36 games in a row.

Penn's offense is led by tailback Chris Flynn, the Quakers' sixth-ranked career rusher with 1,591 yards, who gained 121 yards in 23 carries in Penn's 32-24 loss to Bucknell last week.

John Keller will start at quarterback for the Quakers, but Malcolm Glover is Penn's top passer and is expected to see considerable action against the Lions.

Quarterback Matt Less leads a Columbia backfield that includes two other sophomores, fullback Chris Konovalchik and flanker Ron Kalyan, as well as junior tailback Dirc Savini.

IF COLUMBIA loses to Penn, it can break the record for losses next week at Princeton.

GOD'S ASSIGNMENTS

Scriptures Selected by The American Bible Society

- Sunday • Romans 12:1-21
- Monday • Hebrews 9:1-22
- Tuesday • Revelation 4:1-11
- Wednesday • Revelation 7:9-17
- Thursday • Exodus 20:1-17
- Friday • Joshua 1:10-18
- Saturday • 2 Samuel 22:17-35

A young Marine recently discharged from Service told how he had learned to go to God for his assignments

As I get out of my bed in the morning, he said, I assign my feet to go where you want them to go, Lord.

I assign my mind to think the thoughts that are pleasing in your sight.

I assign my eyes to see the beautiful and good in my fellowman as well as the wonders of your world.

I assign my ears to hear the music of love for everyone.

I assign my voice to record only the best of words to praise your name.

I assign my hands for service in your name.

I assign my heart to compassion that I may know, feel and share your concern for your sheep who might have gone astray.

I assign my life today to ascend to higher dimensions than I have ever known.

Lord, I accept these assignments as coming from you — and always I assign my will to your will.

Jews asked to donate to needy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rabbis of more than 1,000 congregations are asking Jews to donate the amount they save by fasting on Yom Kippur this Saturday for food to the needy.

Extent of participation was reported by "Mazon" — the Hebrew word for hunger — a Jewish organization that raises funds for Jewish and non-Jewish agencies feeding poor people.

Besides the appeal on Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, culminating 10 holy days of repentence, Mazon also urges Jewish families celebrating weddings, mitsvahs or other special occasions to contribute 3 percent of the costs to the fight against hunger.

The church is located at 2800 N. A St. The public is welcome.

Women's assembly success

Church Women United in Texas held its 45th State Assembly in Dallas, Sept. 25-27 at the Executive Inn, 3232 W. Mockingbird Lane. Theme for the meeting was "Since We Have the Same Spirit of Faith." Barbara Gunderson, State President, presided. Special events included an address by national president, Sylvia Talbot, a dramatic production, "Two Thousand Years and a Day," written by Dr. Ralph Stone, bible study and workshops and an ecumenical breakfast.

Church Women United in Midland, supports and coordinates projects for Permian Basin Center for Battered Women and Their Children, Casa de Amigos, St. Andrews Mission, layettes for indigent families, Meals-On-Wheels for December and other charitable causes.

Area teens join walk-a-thon

Teenagers from Golf Course Road Church of Christ will join with more than 1,000 youth groups today from Churches of Christ across the nation in a Walk-A-Thon called "Taking Steps to End World Hunger."

The Walk-A-Thon calls for the group to walk halfway to Odessa and meet with teenage groups from that area, receiving pledge donations for the walk. Funds raised this year will help meet the needs of suffering people in Ethiopia, El Salvador, Botswana, and Haiti.

The group participated last year in a similar effort calling for a week-end fast, thus allowing participants to donate their usual food money to the fund. More than $200,000 was raised to build a water purification plant in Haiti. For these wishing to know more about his effort, please call Robert Parham, the group's sponsor, at 694-8836.

Ruidoso retreat planned

A Marriage Enrichment Weekend is being planned by the Golf Course Road Church of Christ. The retreat will be held in Ruidoso, N.M., Oct. 9-11. The seminar sessions, which will be conducted by Dr. Gary Grady, family minister of the church, will include romance, the strength of being unique, sexuality and communication.

Several meals are included in the packet along with accommodations at a mountain resort. The price of the retreat is $152 per couple. The amount of space is limited and reservations can be made by calling Dr. Grady at 694-8836.

Missionary of deaf greeted

The Deaf Ministry at the Golf Course Road Church of Christ will have Bob Anderson, Missionary of the Deaf, for a two-day gospel meeting. Times for the meetings will be 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the Chapel with fellowship following at 9 p.m. in the Family Center. Sunday service will be at 9 a.m. in the Chapel, bible study at 10:15 a.m. in Room 18 and a dinner at 11:30 a.m. in the Family Center. The public is invited to attend. For more information, call 694-4528 or 694-5608.

Anderson has been working with the deaf full time since 1958 and has a brother Lewis who has been deaf since he was less than a year old. He currently works with the Sunset Church of Christ in Lubbock where he is training men to become ministers and preachers for the deaf.

'Man-to-Man Talks' offered

The Lay Organization of Greater St. Luke A.M.E. Church will present "Man-to-Man Talks" at 5 p.m. Sunday.

The talks will be an informal sharing of Christian experiences among men. Clyde Carruthers, Lewis Littlejohn and James Lister from Hollowell Methodist Church and St. Paul C.M.E. Church will be featured discussion leaders. They will lead discussions on "The Layman and the Bible," "The Layman and Business" and "The Layman and the Church."

Ralph Hanson, president of the Lay Organization, says "We are beginning a new conference year, and we want to get off on the right track. We need to discover who we are as laymen and what we are obliged to do. The program is the first in a series on the theme 'Putting the M-E-N Back into Laymen.'"

Men of all denominations are invited to attend.

Women to attend meeting

Area United Methodist Women will be attending the 14th annual meeting of the Northwest Texas Conference United Methodist Women Wednesday and Thursday at Plainview's First United Methodist Church, 1001 W. 7th St.

Carolyn M. Marshall, national president of UMW, is the scheduled keynote speaker. UMW has about 1.2 million members in approximately 29,000 local units in the United States and Puerto Rico. The meeting will convene at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday with a talk presented by Dr. E. Bruce Parks of Plainview, District Superintendent of the Plainview District. theme for the meeting is "United Methodist Women: A Creative, Supportive Community."

UMW from all over the conference are expected to attend. In addition to delegates voting on new officers and the 1988 budget, this year, the delegates will elect three nominees to the Women's Division and six delegates to the Quadrennial Meeting of UMW of the South Central Jurisdiction, which will be held April 8-10 in Little Rock, Ark.

The Northwest Texas Conference consists of seven districts and a geographic area that includes the Texas Panhandle and the South Plains, extends south to Midland, east to Abilene and north through Vernon to the Oklahoma line.

Mrs. Marshall was elected president of the Women's Division and vice president of the General Board of Global Ministries of the United Methodist Church in September of 1984. She has held numerous offices in UMW and the general church on the local; district, conference and jurisdictional levels.

Her education includes attending DePauw University, Greencastle, Ind., and Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa. She has a bacheor's degree in Business Administration and received an honorary Doctor of Public Service from DePauw University. She and her husband, John, have four children and reside in Veedersburg, Ind.

Mrs. Marshall will speak Wednesday evening and Thursday morning. The meeting will conclude at noon Thursday.

Group to attend 'Godspell'

First Baptist Church is making plans for a group to attend Midland Community Theatre's production of "Godspell" at the Yucca Theatre, 208 N. Colorado Ave., Oct. 31.

For ticket prices and additional information call First baptist Church's Activities Building, 682-7669. Deadline for purchasing tickets for the group outing is Oct. 14.

In addition, First Baptist is planning a Family Sky Retreat Dec. 26-31 to Crested Butte, Colo. Those going will have to pay for their own equipment and lift tickets. For more information or to sign up call 682-7669.

Church Recreators to meet

The Church Recreators Meeting will be held at noon Oct. 15 at First Baptist Church.

At this meeting, the upcoming basketball season for high school boys and men's teams will be discussed. Cost of the meal is $3.

To make reservations call 682-7669.

New sanctuary dedicated

The new sanctuary for Our Savior's Lutheran Church of Midland will be dedicated this Sunday. This is also the fourth anniversary of the beginning of the congregation.

The speaker for the dedication will be the Rev. Johan Hinderlie of Minneapolis, Minn. He will be dressed as Martin Luther and preach to the congregation as Martin Luther may have preached a sermon centered on the Word of God for God's people.

Hinderlie has been president of the Lutheran Bible Institute and is now president of the Mount Carmel Ministries, and radio preacher for The Psalm of Life. This daily devotional program is heard throughout the United States.

The dedication of the building will be done by the Rev. James Hanson, pastor of Lutheran Church of the Risen Lord in Odessa. He is pastor of the sponsoring congregation. Members of that congregation supplied the pastors for the first services in Midland from their staff.

The architect of the building is Travis Broesche of Bonham, and the supervising architect has been Gary Vandergriff of Midland. The construction has been by Dave Leonard Construction and the financing by Texas American Bank, both of Midland.

Including the cost of the land, it has been a million dollar project.

Sunday school will feature a dialogue between Martin Luther and his wife, Katie, done by Hinderlie and his wife, Sonja, at 9:30 a.m.

The dedication service will be at 10:30 a.m. An open house will be held from 3 to 5 p.m. The public is invited to see the new facilities.

The congregation is having a picnic on Saturday afternoon and evening at Ulmer Park. The volunteer pastors serving Our Savior's are the Rev. James Otterness and the Rev. David Herman.

Award nominations taken

Nominations for the "Family of the Year," sponsored by the Midland Wards of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, are being accepted through Oct. 27.

The presentation of the "Family of the Year" is in conjunction with the observance of National Family Week, established by former Pres. Jimmy Carter in 1979. The congressional resolution calls attention to "the important part the family plays as the basic strength of any free and orderly society."

"Nominated families should be active in church and community, have high moral standards and exhibit family solidarity," says a news release from the church.

The sponsoring church's members are not eligible.

Nomination forms will be printed every Wednesday and Sunday during October in the Reporter-Telegram. Nominations may also be sent to "Family of the Year," 1221 Burchill Drive, Midland, Texas 79703. Persons making the nominations need to include their own name, address and telephone number.

Mayor Carroll Thomas will present the award at 7 p.m. Nov. 17 at the chapel at 2101 Tarleton. The program, entitled "Families: A Constant Resource," will honor the 1987 Family of the Year and be a highlight of Midland Family Week.

The public is invited to attend.

Koppel delivers sermon on morals

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — ABC-TV's "Nightline" moderator, Ted Koppel, departing from his usual middleman stance, recently offered something of a piercing sermon on morals at Duke University, including this:

"We have actually convinced ourselves that slogans will save us. Shoot up if you must, but use a clean needle. Enjoy sex whenever and with whomever you wish, but wear a condom. No! The answer is no.

"Not because it isn't cool or smart or because you might end up in jail or dying in an AIDS ward, but because it's wrong, because we have spent 5,000 years as a race of rational human beings, trying to drag ourselves out of the primeval slime by searching for truth and moral absolutes.

"In its pursest form, truth is not a polite tap on the shoulder. It is a howling reproach. What Moses brought down from Mount Sinai were not the Ten Suggestions."

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1987

YOUR BIRTHDAY TODAY: Show your magnanimous nature, and your acceptance into a community or club is assured. Economic conditions will favor your efforts after the end of the year. You benefit from being more candid with members of the opposite sex. Spend as much quality time with children as possible. Use the telephone to reduce business travel. A clever idea could bring a real windfall. Monitor recent investments.

CELEBRITIES BORN ON THIS DATE: 19th U.S. President Rutherford B. Hayes, singer Patti LaBelle, newspaperman Damon Runyon, actor Clifton Davis, outfielder Billy Hatcher, Yankee great Frank Crosetti, actress Susan Sarandon, actors Charlton Heston and Buster Keaton.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Today's surprises will be happy ones. Friends and family are in a joyful mood. Dismiss all thoughts of business. Change your routine and socialize with people you do not ordinarily see.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): A casual flirtation could damage a valuable relationship. Show more discretion at parties. Own up to your mistakes when talking with loved ones. They will be more understanding than you think.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): A difficult relative could be in an unusually good mood. A younger person shows loyalty; you have a new ally! Large gatherings can be especially enjoyable if children are involved. Plan activities for everyone.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Sharing expenses is a good idea now. Later today, an ill-timed disclosure may threaten family or marital harmony. Improved communication helps reduce tension. Make an effort to cut spending.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Key relationships improve as the weekend winds down. A trip or visitor may help change your luck for the better. Entertaining at home is more relaxing and more intimate than going out.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Following a strong hunch could further an important friendship or other relationship. Your optimism is contagious! The financial outlook is bright. Romance begins to heat up. Follow your heart.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Problems with a friend could be money-related. A heart-to-heart talk may set things straight. Take the chance! Write letters to a child who is away at college.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Finances could be the focus of your thoughts and plans today. Share your ideas with mate. Loved one may have some excellent suggestions to offer. Too much talk may strain your relationship, however.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): A confidential financial tip could boost your income. Show appreciation! Afternoon could bring a stroke of good luck. A close relationship needs more nurturing.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Be careful what you do and say around a loved one today. You could make the wrong impression on a conservative person if you act in an unorthodox manner. Keep alert!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Postpone taking a day trip. You need to avoid going to extremes. Although romance is in the air, misunderstandings can occur. Get together with old friends.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): A platonic relationship intensifies, much to your surprise and delight! A friend asks for help in making an important decision. Listen carefully before committing yourself.

Minnesota location for Lange film

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — Filming "Far North" in northeastern Minnesota was an idea Sam Shepard initiated after he became fascinated with the area's forests, says actress Jessica Lange, who grew up in the region and owns a cabin there.

"This is the location Sam wanted. He thought this was perfect," Lange said Thursday. "It really didn't have to do with being my hometown. It was just a place he had seen and liked very much."

Lange, a native of nearby Cloquet, is in the state through Nov. 20 to make the film, which was written and is being directed by Shepard, her companion of several years.

"I think there was something about this area that was very unfamiliar to him," the Academy Award-winning actress said. "Most of his plays take place in the West and Southwest."

Lange and the other actors wouldn't reveal details about "Far North" other than that it's a family drama in which Lange and Tess Harper play sisters and Charles Durning plays their "iron-willed" father.

HUNTINGTON, W.Va. (AP) — Retired Air Force Gen. Chuck Yeager will spend the 40th anniversary of his historic faster-than-sound flight in his hometown and with college students enrolled in a new program bearing his name.

The anniversary of Yeager's Oct. 14, 1947, flight will be marked by a helicopter trip to Hamlin, his hometown, for the unveiling of a statue commissioned in the California resident's honor.

That evening, Yeager will attend a reception in Huntington hosted by Marshall University's Society of Yeager Scholars, school officials said.

The Society of Yeager Scholars picks 20 top students from across the nation and provide them with a four-year intensified academic program at Marshall with periods of study abroad. Yeager never attended college.

NEW YORK (AP) — The Beav, Wally, June and even Eddie Haskell got together Friday at the Museum of Broadcasting to screen highlights from "Leave it to Beaver" and answer questions like: "Where's Lumpy?"

He's in tax-free municipals. Frank Bank, who played the portly Clarence "Lumpy" Rutherford on the television series, wired his regrets from Southern California, where he is general manager of a municipal bond firm.

Unlike Bank, the other surviving stars of the family situation comedy are still in the funny business. Barbara Billingsley (who plays June Cleaver), Jerry Mathers (Beaver Cleaver), Tony Dow (Wally Cleaver) and Ken Osmand (Eddie Haskell) all appear in "The New Leave it to Beaver" on WTBS.

The original program debuted on CBS on Oct. 4, 1957, when Mathers was 7 and Dow 10. The last show was broadcast on Sept. 12, 1963, and since then the series has been syndicated around the world.

The actor who played Beaver's friend Larry is an insurance salesman in Atlantic City; Gilbert, another Beaver pal, is a Peabody Award-winning documentary producer in San Francisco, while Whitey recently moved back to Los Angeles from Oregon and wants to do television.

Where did Beaver get his odd nickname? In the series' final show, it is said to have been the result of young Wally's inability to pronounce Theodore, his baby brother's given name.

Although Miss Billingsley said she suspected the real reason was Mathers' buck teeth, Mathers said series co-writer Joe Connelly plucked the name from a notebook in which he for years had logged funny names and stories. Beaver was the name of one of Connelly's World War II shipmates.

In an attempt to enhance Beaver's appeal, Connelly and co-writer Bob Mosher never specified the location of Mayfield, the suburb where the Cleavers lived. (There are 29 Mayfields in the United States.)

Mathers downplayed the show's social significance; at any rate, he said, the Cleaver family was unique.

"I disagree," Dow said. "I think there were a lot of families like the Cleavers. Growing up is a series of small incidences...There's a lot to learn from the way Ward and June handled the boys and how they grew up."

Hugh Beaumont, who played Ward Cleaver, died in 1982. "No father on television was ever better than Hugh," said Miss Billingsley.

Mathers fondly recalled his introduction to Beaumont during another production several months before "Beaver" began: "I had to cry in a scene, and I didn't know how. So he told me to put my hands over my face and laugh."

Beaumont was a Methodist minister as well as an actor. "I was never sure he was happy being Ward Cleaver," Dow said. "But that's what he's always gonna be."

One last question for Beav: What happened to your freckles?

Mathers replied: "As soon as I get a little sun they all come back."

CHICAGO (AP) — The president and founder of the nation's largest pizza delivery chain has spent $1.6 million for a dining room set designed in 1899 by architect Frank Lloyd Wright.

The price paid earlier this week by Thomas S. Monaghan of Domino's Pizza Inc. for the table and eight chairs eclipses the previous record of $595,000 paid earlier this year for another Wright dining room set.

The dining room set was from the former Joseph W. Husser house in Chicago, one of the last buildings Wright designed before development of his distinctive Prairie House style. The house was demolished in 1923 and the dining set is the only one of its elements known to survive.

Monaghan said the furniture will go on display at Domino's Farms in Ann Arbor, Mich., where he is establishing a museum and architectural research facility called the National Center for the Study of Frank Lloyd Wright.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Cartoonist Lynn Johnston says the books she read as a child were important in shaping her life.

"I really was a reader. We were impoverished; we didn't have a TV," said Ms. Johnston, creator of "For Better Or For Worse," a syndicated comic strip about family life.

Ms. Johnston, of Corbeil, Ontario, was in town Friday to speak at the International Reading Association's Seventh Great Lakes Regional Conference.

"My ability to fantasize comes from books. I really fantasize wonderfully. It's like my own private video," said Johnston, 40.

Her work is distributed to more than 500 newspapers by Universal Press Syndicate.

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — Twenty-five years in the same job haven't worn out Johnny Carson.

"It has been a fabulous journey for me personally," the host of "The Tonight Show" said on his 25th anniversary show. "I was going to hang it up. But I found I was having so much fun, I wanted to stick around a while. So if you want to stick around, we'll stick around."

Carson debuted on the show in New York on Oct. 1, 1962, and moved to Burbank in 1972.

He made it clear on Thursday night's special that he owed his success to his fans, and the two men who bask in his limelight, sidekick Ed McMahon and orchestra leader Doc Severinsen. There were jokes about McMahon's drinking, but Carson called him his "rock" and told him: "I wouldn't do it without you."

Mattox: Nothing 'earthshaking' in SMU probe

AUSTIN (AP) — Attorney General Jim Mattox said Friday his ongoing investigation of the Southern Methodist University football scandal has yet to uncover anything "earthshaking" and it probably will not.

"We doubt that we're going to ever get all the answers to this particular matter unless we convene a grand jury or a court of inquiry," he said, adding he is not yet sure there are sufficient grounds to convene either type of investigation.

Mattox and his staff are reviewing records given them under an agreement with a Methodist bishops committee, which investigated and issued a critical report on the football scandal. The attorney general has said he wants to know, among other things, whether there was any violation of state law concerning handling of charitable trust funds.

SMU President A. Kenneth Pye noted Mattox had made similar comments two weeks ago and said he was glad the situation hadn't changed.

The SMU Board of Trustees met Friday in private but officials said they did not discuss the Mattox investigation and did not respond to a request by church bishops for more openness in the board's dealings. The board will hold another meeting Saturday.

In February, the NCAA suspended SMU's football program for a year after discovering improper payments to players continued after the school already had been put on probation for such activity. Gov. Bill Clements said he knew of the continuing payments when he served as chairman of the SMU board.

"We're still not in a position to give you any kind of real report in the area," Mattox said Friday. "We have determined a number of new things in this investigation, but they are not things that I considered to be earthshaking at this time.

"SMU and the bishops have been very cooperative with us and we think we're going to find out most of what they know," he said. He added, however, that additional information might be collected only by bringing in "an assortment of participants and putting them under oath in some form and requiring them to testify."

The "well-being of SMU and the students" is the priority in the investigation, Mattox said.

He said it is not his objective to seek criminal punishment or penalties "unless we feel it is just something that really needs to be done. We're not at that point yet," he said.

Crew has trouble refloating ship

LA PORTE (AP) — Crews working to refloat the aging Battleship Texas had their ups and downs Friday.

Texas Parks and Wildlife project director Stratford Morris said the 73-year-old vessel, berthed at the San Jacinto Battleground for nearly four decades, was refloated around 5:30 a.m.

More than 300,000 gallons of contaminated water and fuel oil were pumped from the vessel.

But around mid-morning Friday, a 27,000-barrel barge being used in the process broke in half and partially sank, according to Morris. It released about 300 gallons of liquid.

Containment booms strung around the site kept the tainted fluids from escaping into the Houston Ship Channel, he said.

The remaining fluids will be removed to another barge so the disabled barge can be towed away.

About 600-thousand gallons still in the Battleship Texas await removal.

The refloating process on the battleship, which served in both World Wars, began in early September. The vessel is being prepared for refurbishment.

Cabbie returns money, jewlery

DALLAS (AP) — A cab driver said he did what anybody would have done when he returned a bank bag with $20,000 in cash, a $10,000 watch and two diamond rings left in his taxi.

Donald Goodson of Garland, in his second week as a taxi driver, said Thursday he didn't even look in the bag when he later found it in his cab.

On Wednesday, Domingo Carillo had realized he left his life savings and dreams of a new house on the dashboard of an orange cab with a friendly driver.

The 51-year-old Carrillo had withdrawn his savings last week to buy land and lumber to build a two-story house in Stephenville, about 95 miles southwest of Dallas.

The valuables in the bag were to be spent on windows, doors and furnishings, said Elizabeth Cardenas, his daughter.

"He keeps everything with him," she said. "He doesn't trust anybody."

Goodson, 31, wanted to return to the house where he dropped off Carillo and his 4-year-old granddaughter Wednesday. But his dispatcher had another assignment.

Goodson said he had offered them a ride after their car stalled.

"I feel sorry for people who have to walk," said Goodson. "I used to have to do it all the time."

Carrillo and his daughter frantically looked everywhere for the taxi for four hours. They were at the cab company terminal when Goodson returned.

When he saw Mrs. Cardenas and her father, Goodson said, "Well, hello. I think I've got something for you."

Goodson accepted a $25 reward from the family.

"They didn't have to do anything," he said. "I try to treat people the way I want to be treated."

It wasn't the first time Goodson returned something of value. He found three $100 bills, as a clerk several years ago at a Dallas market.

Goodson said he turned them over to the store manager because "they didn't belong to me." A grateful owner reclaimed the money.

Carrillo on Thursday headed to Stephenville with a tight hold on his bank bag, Mrs. Cardenas said. She said she plans to write the cab company to commend Goodson for his honesty.

Protester given deferred sentence

AUSTIN (AP) — An anti-apartheid protester who failed to appear for trial in connection with the takeover of the University of Texas president's office has been given a deferred sentence after pleading guilty to disruptive activity.

Kenneth Rogers was one of the so-called UT 16, who barricaded themselves in President William Cunningham's office last year to protest university investment in companies that do business in South Africa.

Rogers, 29, was among four protesters who did not show up for trial. He was arrested on the university campus Wednesday.

The 12 protesters who appeared for their scheduled trials before County Court-at-Law Judge Leslie Taylor were given jail terms of three to six months and ordered to pay fines of $200 each.

Rogers surprised prosecutors by pleading guilty to the misdemeanor charge of disruptive activity during a routine hearing Thursday before County Court-at-Law Judge Guy Herman.

Herman sentenced Rogers to deferred adjudication for six months with certain requirements.

There will be no record of Rogers' conviction if during the six months he does 100 hours of community service and pays a $200 fine, plus one-sixteenth of the $3,500 in damages to university property that occurred during the takeover, said County Attorney Ken Oden.

Boston-area people receive AIDS hoax letter

BOSTON (AP) — Dozens of people in the Boston area have reported receiving a hoax letter warning that they have had sex with an AIDS victim, state officials said Friday.

The phony letter was written on outdated stationery from the state Department of Public Health. Department spokesman John Stobierski said officials became aware of the letter Thursday after an irate man who had received one called the department.

"The letter is a cruel hoax; it does not come from the Department of Public Health and anyone receiving such a letter should notify the department," Commissioner Deborah Prothrow-Stith said in a statement.

The call from the unidentified suburban Boston man was the only direct complaint to the department this week.

Stobierski said a telephone number on the phony letter was for Jack's Joke Shop in downtown Boston. When department officials called the shop, the owner said "a couple of dozen" angry people had called about the same letter, Stobierski said.

Similar letters have been mailed out over the past seven months, dating back to April Fools' Day, said Stobierski.

"Something like this could be devastating," he said.

Harold Bengin, owner of the joke shop, said he has received between 30 and 40 calls from people who said they received the letter. The calls began about five months ago, stopped about three weeks ago and then resumed Thursday, Bengin said.

"I was telling the people to get in touch with the department and also to get in touch with the post office," Bengin said. "It's a terrible, terrible hoax. It's a cruel joke. It infuriated me and the people who got the letters."

Department of Public Health officials called the joke shop Friday and gave Bengin a telephone number to give callers who had received letters.

There is no indication that a department employee was responsible, Stobierski said. The matter is being investigated by department officials and a decision will be made later about whether to turn the investigation over to the state attorney general's office or federal officials, he said.

The letter was on old department stationery bearing the name of former Commissioner Bailus Walker Jr., who resigned May 1.

The department had not received a copy of the phony letter, but Stobierski was able to describe its contents.

"It said, 'A woman who has AIDS has identified you as a recent sex partner. Please come in to be tested. If you do not respond to this, we will not be able to assure you of confidentiality,'" Stobierski said.

Pittsburgh mayor admits to illness

Caliguiri

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Saying he is glad to finally "tell the true story," Mayor Richard S. Caliguiri acknowledged Friday he is suffering from a rare, usually fatal disease but plans to govern as long as possible.

"The day I can't put in a full day's work is the day I leave this office," Caliguiri said at a news conference.

"I've not put in 11 years as mayor and 30 years as a public official that I will jeopardize this city. No one will have to ask me to leave."

Caliguiri, 55, said he is suffering from amyloidosis, an incurable disease that attacks vital body tissues and organs.

It was diagnosed after he suffered a dizzy spell while golfing March 7. He kept it secret, dodging reporters' questions about his health, but recently he has looked gaunt and colorless and his weight dipped by 10 pounds to 130 pounds.

Friday's news conference was prompted in part by word The Pittsburgh Press had found out about his illness and was planning to break the story, he said.

"I feel more comfortable in being able to tell the true story," said Caliguiri, as his wife, Jeanne, sat by his side. "This way everyone knows, and I can better look people in the eye."

Doctors say the disease is so poorly understood that there is no reliable way of forecasting its consequences. Caliguiri said the disease has attacked a small portion of his heart and his gastrointestinal system but seems to have stabilized.

"In my particular case, thankfully, the disorder was discovered at its early stages and, through medication, its advance seems to have been arrested," he said.

Caliguiri, who was worked for the city since he was 25, was sworn in as the 53rd mayor of Pittsburgh on April 11, 1977, when his predecessor resigned.

He has been among the city's most popular chief executives. The Democrat was elected to a full term in November 1977 and re-elected in 1981 and 1985, polling more than 76 percent of the vote in the last election.

He repeated Friday that he would like to seek re-election in 1989, but stopped short of making a formal announcement.

Although he occasionally suffers from aches, nausea and intestinal discomfort, the mayor said the disease has not curtailed his work schedule.

Sessions to be out of hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI Director-designate William S. Sessions, recuperating from a bleeding ulcer and scheduled to be released from the hospital today, will rest for a week or more away from Washington, federal law enforcement officials said Friday.

Sessions is in good condition, "is now on a regular diet" and "he is scheduled for discharge Saturday," said a statement issued by George Washington University Medical Center, where Sessions was hospitalized early Thursday.

It is still undetermined when he will be sworn in. Although his plans aren't yet firm, doctors want him to rest for at least a week before handling a normal workload, said FBI and Justice Department officials.

Before doctors diagnosed his ulcer Thursday, Sessions, a U.S. District judge, had planned to fly home to Texas to finish cleaning out his office following his swearing-in ceremony at FBI headquarters in Washington. He had not decided Friday whether to return to his home or go elsewhere during the brief recovery period.

Sessions was stricken aboard an airliner on the way from Dallas to Washington on Wednesday night and taken by FBI officials from National Airport to the hospital, where doctors discovered a previously undiagnosed small ulcer in the upper portion of the small intestine.

Sessions took aspirin on an empty stomach, became sick and fainted on the flight from Dallas. Doctors said the ulcer flared up when he took the aspirin.

INS levies fine against motel

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the first such action under the new immigration law, the government told a motel operator Friday it plans to fine him $16,500 for knowingly employing 11 undocumented aliens.

The operator of the Quality Inn in Arlington, Va., has 30 days to challenge the fine levied by the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

INS agents issued the "intent to fine" notice five days after taking a number of employees at the motel into custody who were from Guatemala, Bolivia, El Salvador and Mexico.

The motel is being fined $1,000 for each of 11 employees for knowingly hiring undocumented aliens and $500 for each of the 11 for failing to complete the paperwork.

The notice is the first under the new employer sanctions portion of the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, designed to stop the flow of illegal aliens into the United States.

INS agents furnished the employer forms earlier this year with instructions on how to get in compliance with the new law, said agency spokesman Duke Austin. The motel was served with a citation Sept. 4 notifying the operator that there were violations.

If found to be in the country illegally, the undocumented aliens all have a right to deportation hearings.

Doctor says medicines shouldn't be kept in glove compartments

LOS ANGELES (AP) — People should avoid storing medicines in car glove compartments because hot temperatures can make the drugs ineffective, a doctor warned in Friday's Journal of the American Medical Association.

Because glove-box temperatures can be 50 degrees Fahrenheit hotter than outdoor temperatures, "sometimes the medicine loses some of its potency," said Richard Seymour, a Visalia internist.

Seymour's warning was published as a letter to the editor.

The doctor said he found the temperature of glove compartments could reach 150 degrees in summer in Visalia, in the San Joaquin Valley.

"Prescription labels rarely bear any recommendation concerning storage temperatures," Seymour wrote. "Medications kept in automobiles in warm or hot weather should be placed in insulated containers on the floor and shielded from direct sunlight."

Air Force pilot ejects from F-15

APALACHICOLA, Fla. (AP) — The pilot of an Air Force F-15 Eagle survived the crash of his jet fighter Friday in an unpopulated area northeast of this Gulf Coast town, Air Force officials said.

Maj. J.T. Greene of Langley Air Force Base, Va., ejected from the jet before it went down during a training mission, said Capt. Carolyn Hodge, chief of media relations at Tyndall Air Force Base, where the plane took off.

She said Greene was rescued by helicopter and taken to Tyndall's hospital where he was reported in good condition.

Greene was able to report his position over a radio that was part of his survival gear but the wreckage was not immediately found, Ms. Hodge said. It apparently went down in or near the Apalachicola National Forest. Tyndall is about 50 miles northwest of Apalachicola.

Greene was assigned to the 48th Fighter-Interceptor Squadron at Langley and was on temporary duty at the Squadron's Tyndall detachment.

1988 to be one second later

WASHINGTON (AP) — 1987 is being held over, by scientific demand, the U.S. Naval Observatory said Friday.

The observatory reported 1988 is being postponed slightly, with one extra second being added to the end of 1987.

The addition is known as a "leap second" and is being added to keep clocks in accord with the Earth's rotation, which has slowed down ever so slightly, observatory officials reported.

The leap second will be added at the very end of the old year, delaying the arrival of the new one by a second.

Zoo's alligator found in lagoon

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A Chinese alligator that had disappeared from the Audubon Zoo has been found in a lagoon, but officials said they still don't know how it escaped.

David Robinett, assistant general curator of the zoo, said the 35-pound female alligator was recovered Thursday from a lagoon across a city street from the zoo.

Dukakis apologizes for disclosures

SIOUX CITY, Iowa (AP) — Massachusetts Gov. Michael Dukakis got a stern lecture Friday because his staff leaked damaging disclosures about Deleware Sen. Joseph Biden, a rival for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Biden supporters angrily told Dukakis that his staff damaged the Democratic Party and other candidates and may have made it easier for Judge Robert Bork to be confirmed to the U.S. Supreme Court.

"...People in your campaign stood by and let Missouri Congressman Richard Gephardt's campaign take the heat," said Tim Bottaro, a Sioux City lawyer.

Dukakis repeatedly apologized, saying "I regret what happened very much." He said he extended his apology to all Democrats and all other campaigns.

PHILADELPHIA TODAY

Today's edition of the Pennsylvania Gazette was loaded with political articles. One item was a protest of the dissenting minority in the Assembly against the call for a ratifying convention. Except, from the tone of the appeal, it appears that a group or an individual in favor of the new Constitution was trying to discredit the protestors by signing the names of William Findley and Robert Whitehall. Another article compared the anti-Federalists to the Tories (loyalists) during the Revolution. Yet another item noted that the Pennsylvania German community favored the new Constitution. And finally, the paper reported that the City of Philadelphia was overjoyed when the Assembly voted to call for a ratifying convention the previous Saturday (Sept. 29).

James McCalmont, who was forced by a mob to attend the Saturday meeting of the Assembly, petitioned the Supreme Executive Council of Pennsylvania to redress for his treatment by the mob. The council voted 8-to-3 to direct Attorney General William Bradford Jr. "to commence prosecution against Captain John Barry and such other persons as shall be found to have been principally active" in the mob.

CONFEDERATION TODAY

Today John Adams wrote to the Marquis of Carmarthen to protest the impressment of Charles Baldwin, an American citizen, by the British ship Dispatch. Baldwin was removed from his ship the Favorite, with nothing but the clothes on his back, and transferred to a number of different ships until he finally was placed on board the Triumph, under the command of Lord Hood. Adams also complained that six or seven other Americans, kidnapped under similar circumstances, were on board the Triumph.

RATIFICATION TODAY

The Poughkeepsie (N.Y.) County Journal today was the first inland newspaper to publish an article on the Constitution. The piece was probably written by James Kent, a local lawyer, and was quite complimentary of the new form of government.

Arthur Lee sent a copy of the Constitution to John Adams. He listed his objections, but conceded that the widespread support for the new system almost guaranteed its ratification. Lee was distressed that personal rights were not guaranteed and believed that the elected officials would form a new aristocracy. He was particularly annoyed with the office of vice president, "whose sole business," he wrote, "seems to be to intrigue."

(It is ironic that Adams became the nation's first vice president about a year-and-a-half later.)

DELEGATES TODAY

Henry Knox reported his observations on ratification to George Washington today. He had been gathering reports from different sources since the conclusion of the Convention and offered the following to his former commanding officer:

1 — He believed the commercial interests were almost unaminously in favor of the new form of government. As an example, he noted that "the people of Boston are in raptures with (the Constitution) as it is."

2 — New Jersey and Connecticut, although commercial states, "embrace it with ardor."

3 — His informers suggested that Virigina probably would give the new plan its "most formidable opposition."

4 — Although he had not heard about the interior parts of the country, he thought they would at first have doubts but eventually accept the system.

5 — Knox recognized the beginnings of an opposition party that would be strong in some areas. This group, however would not present enough power to slow the ratification process.

6 — "Every well founded objection," he concluded, "should be fairly considered," and laws should be enacted as would tend to obviate them.

LOOKING BACK

Impressment of American Seamen

The new Constitution strengthened the government's role in foreign affairs. But the enumeration of diplomatic powers in the Constitution did not mean the United States would immediately become a major international force. And the impressment of American seamen was one problem the government could not control. Great Britain refused to recognize expatriation of its citizens and assumed that sailors with English accents on American ships were British citizens.

The Royal Navy began by impressing a few sailors (like Baldwin) in the 1780s, then kidnapped increasing numbers during the wars with France in the 1790s and early 1800s. By 1812 an estimated 10,000 seamen had been removed from American ships, which was intolerable to many United States citizens.

Historians have debated the importance of impressment as a factor in the War of 1812. The one thing they generally do agree on, however, is that the diplomatic efforts of the American government were ineffective in stopping impressment.
