Cottonseed Program Extension Is Urged

Mahon Declares Area Farmers May Lose Heavily If Loans Are Halted Dec. 31

By C. W. RATLIFF
Avalanche Staff Writer

SOUTH PLAINS farmers face the possible loss of thousands of dollars of income if the cottonseed support program isn't extended beyond the present Dec. 31 deadline, Cong. Geo. H. Mahon of the 19th district, said in a telegram to Ralph Trigg, president of the Commodity Credit corporation and director of the Production Marketing administration, in Washington.

Mahon's wire came after receipt of a letter from Trigg which said "Because of the serious problem of field damage to seed from the late harvest, it appears that it would be inadvisable to make loans beyond the present expiration date."

Extension Asked Earlier

Mahon had requested last September that the closing date for the cottonseed loans be extended beyond Dec. 31 to as late as March 1, 1950.

"You will recall that last September I requested you to arrange to continue the cotton seed support program beyond the present Dec. 31 deadline in order that support price would be available on the entire 1949 crop," Mahon said.

"I have frequently repeated that request and I want to urge prompt action now. To chop off the program on Jan. 1 would do grave and unwarranted injustice to cotton producers of this area.

Points To Harvest Rush

"If good weather continues most of the cotton will be harvested by Jan. 1, but many thousands of bales of seed cotton, most of which opened earlier in the season and are stacked in the fields, cannot possibly be ginned by Jan. 1. This congressional district is harvesting a two-million bale crop and gins cannot complete ginning by the deadline. I urge that the support date be extended from Dec. 31 to March 1 in order to meet the emergency situation."

Average seed being received still grade above 100 and much of the unginned cotton will average 105 and above, Mahon said.

"Both the cotton oil mills and the PMA committees are storing seed on the ground but the mills have customarily stored seed on the ground through the years in this area without appreciable loss and no heavy storage losses in this area are indicated," Mahon continued.

"The cottonseed program has worked some inconvenience upon producers and on the PMA committees and the program has occasioned difficulties and some financial losses to gins and oil mills. But the program is probably putting about $20 million additional into the pockets of the cotton producers of this congressional district as it seems obvious without

Cotton Quotas Vote Is Urged

(By The Associated Press)

B. F. VANCE, state director of the Production and Marketing administration, Tuesday urged all Texas cotton farmers to vote December 15 on cotton marketing quotas.

This, says Vance, is the basic question:

"Will farmers who plant more land to cotton than their acreage allotments provide be required to pay a penalty on the cotton produced from the extra acreage."

In asking all cotton farmers to vote, Vance said: "Every cotton farmer in the state will be affected by the outcome."

If cotton marketing quotas are approved by two-thirds of the cotton farmers in the U. S. voting in the referendum, this will be the situation:

Farmers who plant within their acreage allotments will be able to market all the cotton they produce without paying any penalty. They will be eligible for government loans at 90 percent of parity. They can receive conservation payments from the PMA ($23,000,000 in Texas this year).

Farmers who plant more cotton than their acreage allotments will pay a penalty amounting to one-half the parity price on all cotton they produce in excess of their marketing quotas. A marketing quota is the cotton produced on a farm's allotted acreage. At current parity prices, the penalty would be about 15 cents a pound on all excess cotton.

Farmers who overplant their allotments will not be eligible for government loans on their cotton. Nor will they be eligible for government conservation payments.

If quotas fail to receive the necessary two-thirds majority, then they will not be in effect. Acreage allotments, however, will

GOP Promises Fight In 1950

CHICAGO, Dec. 13. (INS)— Republican party strategists wound up a day of talk and soul-searching tonight with a blast against "me-tooism" and a promise that Republicans in 1950 will "start an argument."

GOP National Chairman Guy Gabrielson left for New York City with the announcement that a statement of Republican principles will be submitted to the next national committee meeting, probably in February.

But the Chicago session of the campaign strategy committee was highlighted by the appeal of its chairman, Arthur Summerfield of Michigan, to strip the GOP of "me-toolsm" and give the voters a "clear choice" next year.

Grass Roots Plan Heard

The committee also heard details of a "packaged" plan for grass roots organization already working in Wisconsin, and a similar technique for use in congressional districts. Another feature of the meeting was a public relations expert's analysis of "why we lost in 1948 and prior years."

Gabrielson said he hoped to name a special policy committee the first week in January to work on a statement of principles. And he added:

"If you want to get people to

HALE CENTER WRECK—This 1941 or 1943 Oldsmobile was reduced to junk when it collided with a semi-trailer truck in Hale Center Tuesday night. Driver of the car, tentatively identified as Sam Houston Winn, jr., about 55, was in a critical condition in a Plainview hospital late last night. Two persons in the truck were hospitalized with less serious injuries. Highway patrolmen were unable to tell whether the car was a 1941 or 1942 model because of the damage. One Man Critically Injured In Collision

Three Are Hurt In Hale Center Wreck

(Special To The Avalanche)

HALE CENTER, Dec. 13—Three persons were injured, one critically, when a car collided with a semi-trailer truck inside the city limits here shortly after 7 p. m. today.

The driver of the car, tentatively identified as Sam Houston Winn, jr., about 55, believed to be a resident of Hobbs, N. M., was in Plainview Sanitarium and Clinic tonight with severe head injuries.

Less seriously injured, but being held overnight in the Plainview clinic were Mr. and Mrs. Max E. Rankin of Plainview, occupants of the truck.

Under Observation

Rankin, 21, driver of the truck, was under observation for possible broken ribs. His wife, 18, had possible neck injuries. Both received bruises and minor lacerations.

Attendants said the full extent of injuries received by the man named as Winn were not known at 11:15 p. m., but the multiple head injuries alone were enough to make his condition "extremely serious."

Texas Highway patrolmen made the temporary identification of Winn through papers found in his pocket and in the car. Although some of the papers showed a Hobbs, N. M., address, recent letters were found in the car, addressed to Winn in care of J. T. Jones, superintendent of schools at Wellman.

Man Driving Alone

Highway patrolmen said the man was driving alone in a 1941 or 1942 Oldsmobile coach south on the Amarillo-Lubbock highway, and was rounding a curve at the north edge of the Hale Center business district when the crash came.

Rankin, driver of the 1949 Studebaker semi-trailer truck, was leaving Hale Center and was driving north. Patrolmen said the crash, all but head-on, came on the east side of the highway, indicating that the car had crossed the center line.

The point of impact was the left front of both vehicles. The front of the car was so heavily damaged that investigating patrolmen could not tell whether it was a 1941 or 1942 model. It was described as "a wad of metal."

Wheels Torn Away

The rear wheels and gasoline tank of the truck tractor were torn away in the collision. The truck, owned by Roy Couch of Plainview, was being used to haul bales of cotton, but the trailer was empty when the crash occurred.

Tom King of Hale Center was among the first to reach the crash

HST To Request Federal Reforms

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13. (AP)—A sweeping program to reorganize the government will be laid before Congress by President Truman next year.

Budget Director Frank Pace, jr., disclosed today. He said the new streamlining proposals are in the offing and stressed the pressing need for savings through more efficient federal operations.

"Today, good management is not merely a commendable objective," he said, "it is an absolute necessity. The very size of our federal budget requires that today, more than ever before, we must receive the maximum return for every dollar spent."

Pace, just returned from Key West conferences with Mr. Truman on the new budget estimates, gave no details. He said, however, the President has had staff analysis prepared "covering virtually the entire range" of changes advocated by the Hoover commission.

Statement Given

Pace gave this broad glimpse into the administration's plans in a statement to the Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report. This is a non-partisan group formed to enlist nationwide support for the reorganization plans drafted by the former president.

Dr. Robert L. Johnson, national chairman of the committee, told the conference "if the people demand these reforms that can save them millions a year and guarantee our survival as a free people, they will become law."

In its last session, Congress put into effect about 20 percent of the changes advocated in the voluminous

Nine Jurors Are Chosen For Amarillo Robbery-Murder Trial

AMARILLO, Dec. 13. (AP)—Nine jurors were selected today in the murder trial for Dwight Hoskins, 24-year-old former Amarillo Sandie football star.

Attorneys said they believed the jury would be completed tomorrow morning.

The trial opened yesterday but only two jurors were selected during the day from a complete panel of special veniremen. Another panel was ordered for today.

Hoskins is charged in the Oct 6 robbery-slaying of Charles Lee Freeman. Also charged in the shooting is Donald Gene Young, 21, an Amarillo serviceman.

Truman's Tax Views To Be Kept Secret

KEY WEST, Fla., Dec. 13. (AP)—The White House said today it will not disclose President Truman's recommendations on how to forestall another deficit next year until he delivers his "state of the union" message to Congress in January.

Charles G. Ross, Mr. Truman's press secretary, declined to give the President's views on proposals to eliminate wartime excise taxes or on suggestions by some advisers that new levies be made on corporation profits.

"The President's views on taxes will be stated in his "state of the union" message and will be spelled out in greater detail in his budget message to follow," Ross told news conference questioners.

Have final decisions been made in that area?

Ross wouldn't say what they have, and added:

"Certainly no final decisions have been made on policy. Many things have to be worked out in detail. The whole thing is still being talked about."

Polish Radio Programs Hit

By ROSE McKEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Sen. O'Conor (D-Md.) charged today that the Polish embassy in Washington and the Polish Gdynia-American Steamship Co. are spending thousands of dollars to broadcast Communist propaganda over U. S. radio stations in Newark and Chicago.

O'Conor, chairman of a Senate Immigration subcommittee, made his charge in a report to Congress.

He said that the broadcasts were instigated in 1946 "at the demands" of Polish envoys in the U.S., and sponsored by the steamship line. It was aboard the Gdynia's ship Batory that Communist leader Gerhardt Eisler escaped to the Red zone of Germany.

Station's Listed

O'Conor asserted that the broadcasts are continuing over station WHBI, in Newark, N. J., and station WEDC, Chicago. He said that station WNYB in Brooklyn was an outlet, but a shift was made to the Newark station.

The senator declared that the propaganda broadcasts beamed at the American public over these outlets laud the "brilliant job of reconstruction" done by the Communist government in Warsaw.

He said that the programs hurl "sneers" at the U.S., and depict the Polish people as "all laughing and smiling and enthusiastic about the existing regime."

U.S. Citizens Pressured

O'Conor said that the programs "afford the Communist dictatorship of Poland an effective propaganda medium by which to influence Polish-American citizens and bring pressure directly or indirectly upon the U.S. government."

O'Conor declared that the Polish embassy has subsidized the programs with thousands of dollars.

Witnesses before his committee, O'Conor continued, charged that the Gdynia-American line was engaged in propaganda work "contrary to the best interests of the U.S." The line was accused of using the freedoms extended it in America for purposes which were not a legitimate function of foreign business enterprise especially one wholly owned by a foreign government.

Engine Failure Blamed In Crash

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13. (INS)—The surviving crew member of the Capital airliner which crashed in the Potomac river Monday night, killing four persons and injuring 19, today blamed "engine failure" for the accident.

Joseph Buell, flight attendant aboard the twin-engine DC-3, said that as the plane was about 300 feet above the Washington airport the pilot attempted to climb "but one of the engines sputtered and gave out."

Buell, who escaped with minor injuries, told newsmen:

"There wasn't any power and we started falling. Then we crashed."

Meanwhile, the government impounded "remarkably clear" recordings of last-minute plane-ground radio contact.

May Explain Mishap

Civil Aeronautics board investigators said the recordings, which are to be heard at a public inquiry ntxt week, may explain the accident. The pilot, co-pilot, and two of the passengers aboard the Memphis-to-Washington DC-3 perished.

SEARCH PARTY FINDS TRAIL

500 Persons Comb Washington Wilderness For Missing Girl

(By International News Service)

KELSO, Wash., Dec. 13 — Dogged searchers fought their way through the rain-soaked wilds northeast of Kelso with the additional handicap of darkness tonight seeking Ruth Aberle, 16-year-old Girl Scout who has been lost since Sunday noon.

The pretty high school girl became separated from her brother and several other companions while they looked for Christmas trees.

The sheriff's office at Kelso said powerful flashlights were sent to help one of the biggest search parties ever organized in southwestern Washington.

Residents of the sparsely-settled area led the searchers, who plodded over the sodden ground, tangled with vines and vine maple.

Schoolmates of the Kelso high school girl joined in the search, which has called 500 people to the scene, in a logged-over area now covered with young timber, northeast of Kelso.

Searchers 10 to 15 feet apart struggled through the mud and undergrowth behind bloodhounds which had been imported for the work.

Leaders declared that they will keep up the search until

SHOWERS MAY FALL TONIGHT

Cold Weather To Continue Today; Rains May Hit Area

BRISK temperatures in Lubbock and on the South Plains are expected to continue today, with an increase in cloudiness this afternoon serving as a forerunner of possible rains forecast for the area Thursday.

Slightly higher temperatures than those recorded here Tuesday are expected for today, however. Officials at the Weather bureau station at the Municipal airport said the mid-day high today probably would go to 55, with the low this morning to be about 23.

The low Tuesday morning was a frigid 19, the coldest temperature recorded in Lubbock so far this fall. High Tuesday was 47.

A possibility remained that the showers, which are moving up from the south, might reach this area sometime tonight, but there is little need to worry about cold early morning temperatures changing the rains to sleet or snow, Weather bureau officials said.

Although below-freezing temperatures are predicted for tonight, early arrival of large masses of rain clouds would keep temperatures from dropping as low as they ordinarily would during the night, the weatherman said.

Meanwhile, cold, gray winter weather appeared in store for most of the state again today, although West Texas will have slightly higher temperatures than Tuesday, the Associated Press said.

And the bitter mid-continent cold wave which covered much of the nation continued to send temperatures skidding sharply throughout a wide section of the mountain and Midwest states.

The general forecast for Texas today called for low hanging clouds, "rather cold," and occasional rains in the east, south, and central portions of East Texas. Showers also were predicted for

One of the biggest contributions they ever have received pushed the Goodfellows almost to the halfway mark Tuesday of their 15th annual Christmas campaign for the needy children of Lubbock.

New Projects To Be Pushed

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

CITY bond issues to enlarge the sewage disposal plant and complete the highway dispersal system were approved overwhelmingly in an election here Tuesday.

The vote on the two propositions follows:

$550,000 sewage disposal bonds—For, 838; Against, 61.

$525,000 highway dispersal bonds—For, 815; Against, 89.

The sewage disposal bonds were approved by a margin of almost 14 to 1 and the dispersal system issue by more than 9 to 1.

The total vote was the next to smallest cast in any Lubbock city bond election in recent years.

Near 1947 Vote Total

Only 820 ballots were cast in May, 1947, in an election which approved a $500,000 issue for a public library. These bonds still remain unsold.

The total polls in other city bond elections in recent years was 1,284 in December, 1945, on issues totaling $5,894,000 and 1,101 in December, 1947, on $4,924,000.

Involved in those two elections were 17 different projects and all were approved by margins ranging from 8 to 46 to one. A bond issue never has been defeated in Lubbock.

Commission Meeting Set

The tabulation of returns in Tuesday's election was followed immediately by the announcement of City Manager Steve Matthews that the city commission will meet at 3 p. m. Thursday to canvas the votes and to get the two projects under way.

First and most pressing attention will be given to enlargement of the sewage disposal plant, which is dangerously small for Lubbock requirements.

Plans for the expansion have been completed and approved. Construction of the additions to the plant can be started as soon as contracts can be let. The project cannot be completed by next summer. But Mayor W. H. Rodgers said the plant can be enlarged sufficiently before hot weather to provide adequately for the city's needs at that time.

Engineers estimate that the entire expansion program, to be completed next fall or winter, will

Bandit Suspect Is Questioned

SEMINOLE, Dec. 13. (Special)—Gaines county authorities today were continuing questioning of a 24-year-old Paris, Texas man held in jail here in connection with the Monday night hijacking of Y. L. Echols of Seminole on a highway near Denver City.

Echols told officers the man had robbed him of $77 while the pair was riding in a truck three miles east of Denver City about 9 p.m. Monday.

No Charges Filed

Justice of the Peace R. P. Kelly of Seminole said no charges against the man had been filed in his court late tonight.

Echols said he had given the man a ride in his pickup truck earlier at Lovington. As they neared Denver City, the man held something against Echols' side and took his money. "I think it was a gun," Echols said.

Jumped From Truck

After the bandit took his money, Echols cut the ignition of the truck and "bailed out." The truck crashed into a railroad embankment.

Then Echols made his way to a farm house from where he was taken to Seagraves to report the robbery.

Peace officers from Seagraves and Seminole searched the area for several hours without finding

DEMO LEADER FAVORS MOVE

Congressional Economy Bloc May Cut European Aid Funds

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—The congressional economy ax swung ever nearer the Marshall plan today after a hint from Senate Majority Leader Scott W. Lucas, Ill., that he might go along with some reduction.

'ongressional investigators returning from Europe have been generally agreed that Marshall plan appropriations should be reduced in the next session which convenes Jan. 3.

The foreign economic aid bill passed last September appropriated $5,660,000,000. Of this, $4,852,380,000 was for the European recovery program—$1,074,000,000 for the last three months of fiscal 1949 and $3,778,380,000 for this fiscal year. Senators beat down House efforts to cut the figure.

Will Support Reduction

Lucas discussed the next session program in a news conference here yesterday. He said he would go along with a cut in Marshall plan spending "if we can make the cut without crippling the program." That is what the homecoming congressional investigators claim they know how to do.

Repeal the federal taxes on oleomargarine will be No. 1 on the Senate schedule, Lucas said, to be followed soon by a bill to establish a national Fair Employment Practices commission and to deal with displaced persons. FEPC would prohibit discrimination in hiring on grounds of race or religion. Enforcement would be up to the justice department.

Attorney General J. Howard McGrath is confident his department could enforce FEPC in the South where opposition has been bitter. Dairy states senators are expected to filibuster against removing taxes from oleomargarine. The Southerners promise a showdown battle against FEPC.

Passage Of Bills Seen

Despite these certainties of extended talk, the administration believes it can carry both bills to enactment. But it is recognized that the Senate's new "gag" rule on filibusters probably will be needed to silence southern opposition to any civil rights legislation.

There was nothing in Lucas' conference to indicate that he has even a remote hope of obtaining a tax increase at the next session.

President Truman says a tax hike is necessary. It would have to be around $5,000,000,000 to balance the budget. Congress is not disposed to increase taxes in a campaign year. A minority in either House urges that the budget be balanced by cutting expenditures but Mr. Truman is against that.

Lucas doubted any effort would be made next session to repeal the Taft-Hartley act which successfully resisted repeal this year. Neither did he see any signs of 1950 life for Mr. Truman's universal medical insurance program nor for the Brannan farm plan.

Army, Air Force Personnel Boosted By Five Area Men

"The U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force must be good, so many men think so these days," said Sgt. Raymond Fletcher of the recruiting office here Tuesday.

He released the names of five men who were enlisted at the recruiting office in the federal building.

Roy L. H. Doss, 22, of 207 Paris avenue enlisted for four years in the Air Force and was sent to Lackland Air Force base, San Antonio, for processing and assignment. He spent three years in the Air Force and will be assigned as an automotive equipment mechanic.

Doyle G. Harrington, 20, of Lorenzo enlisted for four years in the Air Force and was also sent to Lackland base. He said he had been doing radio work and wants to do that type of work in the Air Force.

Frank Powell, 17, and Charles W. Biggs, 18, both of Slaton, enlisted for four years in the Air Force to complete their education and learn a trade. They will be sent to Lackland for processing and further assignment.

Richard Barlow, 25, a Piote Indian, of Bishop, Calif., was recruited here for three years in the U. S. Army Airborne division. He was sent to the Tenth Infantry division at Fort Riley, Kas., for processing and assignment. He spent three years with the glider infantry in the Philippine islands, winning several ribbons and battle stars.

Brazil will have a clock industry.

Hub City Kiwanis Study 1950 Plans

The Hub City Kiwanis club discussed plans and projects for 1950 at their regular weekly noon luncheon at the Lubbock hotel Tuesday.

Club Pres. Jason O. Gordon opened the discussion with a short talk urging the men to work diligently in club projects during the coming year, offering as watchword for the year the slogan "Aggressive citizenship — safeguard of freedom."

Three representatives of Girl Scout Troop 16 were present to accept toys collected by the Kiwanians for the troop's project of playing Santa Claus for needy children at Christmas.

On hand to accept the toys from Pres. Gordon were Mrs. Lee Heatley assistant troop leader, and LaJean Haddock and Joan McCrary, members of the troop. They were introduced by Burritt S. Mills.

Prof. Howard Golden was appointed chairman of a committee to consider the nomination of a candidate for the title of "Outstanding young man of Lubbock," a selection sponsored by the Lubbock Jaycees. On the committee with Prof. Golden are Carl Brown and Howard Davidson.

GOVERNMENT REFORMS URGED

Americans Urged To Join Drive To Conserve Natural Resources

BY JAMES C. AUSTIN
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—The people of the United States "have been reckless spendthrifts with our natural resources," former Gov. Leslie A. Miller of Wyoming charged today.

Asserting that "20 years hence may well be too late," he urged the national reorganization conference of the Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report "to go to battle for these resources" in an effort to save what is left of them.

Hoover Urges "Crusade"

Miller addressed the fifth session of the two-day conference only a few hours after Herbert Hoover, the man who directed the activities of the Hoover commission seeking to streamline the government, issued an urgent invitation to the people to join him "in a crusade to make Democracy work."

Miller attacked what he called "a hodgepodge of divided authority, conflicting aims, overlapping, duplication and rivalry between several bureaus and departments."

He referred specifically to the Interior department, Agriculture department's forest service, the Federal Power commission, the Tennessee Valley authority, and the Army's Corps of Engineers as agencies which "overlap or directly duplicate each other."

Agencies In Competition

"Under conflicting laws," he said, "rival federal agencies compete for taxpayer money in what often appear to be premature and unsound river development projects, duplicating each other's surveys and bidding against each other for local support at national expense."

Mr. Hoover, 75-year-old former president, made his appeal for public support in a nationwide radio address and before 700 persons gathered at a dinner sponsored by the citizens committee.

He urged solid support behind eight new reforms in government which he said could save the taxpayers $2,000,000,000 a year. It will be necessary, he said, to reduce waste and defer some government ventures.

Reductions Are Urged

Saying a reduction in the cost of government is necessary to win the cold war, he added significantly:

"By these reforms and these self-denials, we can help disappoint Mr. Stalin . . .

"There is today much apprehension lest the American experiment will fail. We have need to reestablish faith that the whole preamble to the Declaration of Independence and the Gettysburg address are still related to government.

"If the republic is not to be overwhelmed, the people must have such methods and systems as will enable good officials to give them good government. Success in our crusade will help bring faith instead of cynicism and disillusionment."

Earlier in the day, the conference got a promise by letter from President Truman at Key West that he would work next year for further governmental reorganization along the lines suggested by the commission and sponsored by the citizens group.

Two Tech Students Injured In Brushing Against Moving Car

Two Texas Tech students received minor injuries Tuesday afternoon wher they brushed against a moving car while crossing College ave. near Broadway.

Miss Betty Stringer, 22, of 1212 Ave. M, was admitted to Lubbock Memorial hospital where several loosened teeth were extracted. She also suffered a possible fracture of the jaw and superficial injuries.

Dalbert Brandon, 20, of Littlefield, her companion, was treated for cuts and bruises and was released. Brandon, who resides at Lubbock Memorial hospital, where he is an orderly, is a senior premedical student at the college. Miss Stringer is a nurse at the nospital, who is studying at the college.

Police said Miss Stringer and Brandon stepped behind one auto and into the path of another driven by Walter W. Brand, 42, of 2318 Nineteenth. They brushed against the side of Brand's car, rather than being struck by it, police said.

A McDonald ambulance took the two to Lubbock Memorial hospital.

District Judge Lyman K. Clark sentenced Oja to 30 days in jail for disorderly conduct yesterday for telling his estranged wife to "get our baby out of that pig pen" when he visited her at the home of a friend.

'All women are proud of their housekeeping," the judge said.

"I feel it was disorderly for the defendant to speak as he did."

Plan To 'Save Nation' Proposed

WAUSAU, Wis., Dec. 13. (INS)— U. S. Sen. Alexander Wiley, (R-Wis.) tonight urged adoption of a nine-point program to "save this nation and civilization from going down the way of Socialism and Communism."

The Badger state senator urged his constituents to become fully aware of the American way of life and think a little more about the big business of government in a speech before the Wausau chamber of commerce.

Procedures Proposed

He recommended what he termed the following "common sense procedures:"

1. Prevention of the rise of a one-party government.
2. Alertness to the dangers of psychological warfare with its character assassination, misrepresentation and misinformation.
3. Rejection of measures like socialized medicine.
4. Repeal of "nuisance" excise taxes.
5. Continued acceptance of the United States' position as world leader.
6. Complete overhauling of the tax system.
7. Effective and active adoption of the Hoover commission's recommendations to streamline the operations of the federal government.
8. Protection of the American way in its struggle with Communism.
9. Maintenance of our present system of government, with its three departments, legislative, executive and judicial.

ERP Funds Cut Urged

Sen. Wiley pointed to the national debt nearing $260 billion and to the deficit in the current national budget in urging that the United States cut down "somewhat" on its aid to Europe.

The Republican legislator asserted that many of Europe's "ruined cities, plants and farm lands have been rehabilitated and many countries have now reached the same position they held before the war."

However, he cautioned:

"With Russia still filled with the desire to make the world Communistic, we must continue to do that which common sense and judgment tell us is necessary."

Mother Suggests 'Old Rules' For Modern, Book Reared Children

By BARBARA BUNDSCHU
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Children raised on the "don't inhibit the little darling" psychology books are ruining American social life and rapidly turning their parents into a generation of miserable hermits, a mother-lawyer-writer said today.

What the books, in the hands of doting parents, are turning the children into, Mrs. Evelyn Barkins hesitates to predict. She's afraid it's the insane asylum.

Children Called 'Awful'

"Most of the children of my friends are awful," said the 31-year-old doctor's wife who expects to produce her third book shortly before her fourth child next spring.

They're given everything they ask for, she said. They do everything they feel like. They monopolize the conversation; they're vicious, and they're destructive.

"It's just not civilized, in Mrs. Barkins' opinion.

"But their parents are so accustomed to it, they just sit and say, 'Don't do that, dear,' in a weak voice. The children don't pay any attention."

Brat Tendencies Shown

One little boy who came to dinner recently insisted in sitting in her husband's place at the head of the table, Mrs. Barkins recalled. He banged the chair against the wallpaper throughout the meal and threw food all over everything. His parents let him.

"We just can't see half our friends any more," Mrs. Barkins said. "You can't ask them without the children. If you call on them you spend the whole time admiring the children's drawings and listening to them babble about what they learned in current events Even in the dead of night, toys poke at you out of the sofa and baby carriages trip you in the hall."

Some Have Manners

Mrs. Barkins said her own children were being raised without benefit of psychology books. They've got manners—just like grandfather taught them. That makes them pleasant to have around, Mrs. Barkins said.

They've also got frustrations. That, she hopes, may keep them sane. She's afraid hordes of their contemporaries are going to go stark raving crazy when they grow up and discover "the rest of the world won't kowtow as dear little Mama and Papa used to do."

"Nobody's born with manners," Mrs. Barkins said. "And they're not going to find them through divine revelation. You just have to force good manners down their throats. Anybody can do it. It's like deciding you're going to keep the floor clean."

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

A young woman asked us to repeat an article we ran once concerning what one can tell a child about a belief in Santa Claus. A search through the files did not reveal such a theme, but perhaps this will help.

An educator says "Do you tell the child that Santa Claus is a real person. Do not tell him that Santa comes down the chimney

An educator says "Do not tell him that every Santa on the streets or in the department stores is the real Santa.

DO TELL THE CHILD, however, that long ago there was a real monk named Nicolas, who was everlastingly remembered for his goodness to children. In remembrance of this real St. Nicolas, every country and every land has developed the story of the jolly little man who spends his time each year making presents for little boys and girls.

Read the stories of Santa Claus . . . In various countries this mythical little man is called by other names: Kris Kringle, St. Nick or Santa Klaus, but his deeds are always the same.

He is always working to make children happy and to fulfill their dearest wishes.

Make the child understand that this good saint stands as a personification, a lifelike personality representing good will and love for humanity.

You cannot make a child understand an abstract principle, but he can understand its representative, Santa Claus, and it won't be long before he will understand perfectly that Santa is just a spirit made to seem real.

WHEN the child sees a Santa Claus on the corner, make it clear that these are just ordinary people who are dressing up like the real Santa Claus, but at Christmas time you will know he has been at your house, because of the many gifts the child will receive.

If it is told as story, with neither emphasis upon reality nor too much emphasis upon Santa Claus' personal interest in any one girl or boy, the child is not harmed by the legend. He will grow soon to understand its real meaning, and meanwhile he will warm to the delightful old tale. He will experience a creepy joy at the thought of all the good will spirit that is working for him.

After all, when you tell a fairy story or legend, you don't insist that every word is true. If you keep the story element uppermost, no possible harm can result.

FUNNY MR. HOOVER

HERBERT HOOVER'S explanation of the famous Hoover report, presented over radio in Washington, D. C., Monday night before civic leaders, is thoroughly informative and thought promoting.

We are interested in government reform, as every normal American individual should be and we listen with interest to Mr. Hoover's talk. But we were more impressed with the way in which the report was presented than in what the former president said. He has a much better delivery than he had when he was Chief Executive and moreover Monday was clever, so witty in fact that on several occasions the gathering rocked with laughter.

Sitting in thought after the talk ended, it occurred to us that the history of our country might have been a different one if Mr. Hoover had had such a sense of humor in the late twenties and early thirties. That the country needed a laugh was evidenced in the way in which Disney's "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf?" animated cartoon was received. As we recall that funny picture did much to give the people courage. "Who's Afraid" became our motto in those days. We needed a laugh and Disney gave us one.

LOST DRESS

MRS. MATTIE HINSON, who lives at 205 E. Dickens Street, Slaton, is distressed because she lost a package containing a dress and a pair of hose, Christmas gifts from a son. She bought the dress, a size 18 and one-half and had it with her when she ate lunch down town. She hopes the person who may have inadvertently picked the package up will get in touch with her. So do we. That would make you really believe in the spirit of Christmas.

SPEAKING of the Christmas spirit, we had our first feeling of it Monday night. Addressing Christmas cards can get to be irksome, if you do not remind yourself that it is a wonderful way to let your friends know you think of them.

At any rate we were checking a list when we heard a knock and answering it discovered a young woman with a kind smile and a request for a donation "to help humanity." As she spoke we heard "Silent Night" ringing out on the chilly air and peered through the darkness to see young people, their faces raised upward in song.

When we gave a donation, placing it in the smiling woman's cold hand, she said in a pleasant voice, "Thank you and a merry, merry Christmas."

Somehow when we returned to our writing, it was easier.

A WOMAN'S black pigskin glove was found in front of Smith Furniture store, 1302 Ave. H, Monday afternoon. The owner may claim it there.

SWEET DREAMS . . . Pretty and feminine are these frilled pajamas in soft pastel crepe with Peter Pan collar and vestee.

Drama Talked

"The Drama" was topic of the program presented for Lubbock Woman's Forum in the home of Mrs. Earl Hobbs, 3305 Twenty-fourth, Tuesday afternoon which featured Mrs. Charles Cobb as speaker. Mrs. Cobb, a native of Belfast, Ireland, and a member of the English department at Texas Technological college, told of her love for the theater, stating that she came from a family interested in the stage.

In her talk, the club guest gave the history of the theater, including the first church plays, the morality plays and the Shakespearian plays. Mrs. Cobb highlighted her talk with information on the Lubbock Little theater, and listed the aims of the group as follows: to hold high standards of acting, to pay its own way, to gather an audience, and to encourage talents of local young people. She explained that when these aims have been met, the trains carrying great actors will not bypass Lubbock when traveling from Amarillo to California.

Patience Needed

"The Lubbock Little theater is a civic movement, non-professional and non-profit," stated Mrs. Cobb, "and it will enrich Lubbock as similar theaters have enriched other towns." The speaker said that it will take patience and understanding to make the movement successful, and she asked the support of the host club.

Mrs. Walter Wilson, leader, introduced Mrs. Cobb. Assisting hostesses were Mesdames H. J. Bingham, A. E. Dietering and C. J. Hollingsworth. Mrs. George Berry made a report from the Board of Directors of Lubbock Women's club.

After the program, tea was served by Mrs. J. B. McCauley from a table laid with a dark green satin cloth and set with crystal and silver appointments. The center decoration was formed with a lighter green candle, flanked by pine cones and surrounded by silver leaves. Green candles were used on the buffet and mantel, also.

In the 17th century, Swiss watchmakers frequently made timepieces in the shapes of dogs, lions, rabbits, pigeons and other animals.

Town Talk

MESSRS. AND MESDAMES ROYCE H. FULTON and Leland D. Payne were hosts at a Christmas dance given Tuesday night at the Lubbock Country club.

Center of attraction in the ballroom was a large, white revolving Christmas tree, with smaller matching trees on the mantels. Serving tables were laid with green satin cloths, complemented by red candles in silver candelabra.

The center table was decorated with a bowl of colorful Christmas ornaments floating in simulated bubbling champagne. Arrangements of holly and red carnations surrounded the novel centerpiece.

The stage in the ballroom was fashioned after a large window, against which was seated Bernie Howell's orchestra.

On the guest list were 500 persons.

Mesdames Paul Pugh and C. R. Skidmore were hostesses to members of the Child Progressive Study club at a Christmas party given Tuesday afternoon at the Country club from 3:30 until 5:30 o'clock.

A brightly-ornamented tree decorated the room. Centering the table was a Santa Claus in a sleigh drawn by eight reindeer made from sea foam. The mantel was adorned with two large red candles surrounded by pine greenery, pine cones and holiday ornaments.

Following the exchange of gifts, mincemeat pie with plum sauce and coffee were served to the 21 members attending.

Miss Dorothy Barnett will arrive Sunday from Tucson, Ariz., where she is a student at the University of Arizona, to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Barnett, 912 Ave. K.

Mrs. Mack Mead of 2702 Twenty-ninth and Mrs. Bill Mead of 1801 Twenty-eighth were co-hostesses at a brunch Tuesday morning from 10 until 11:30 o'clock at the Country club honoring Mesdames W. L. Mead and A. K. Miller.

Both of the honorees are new Lubbock residents, Mrs. Miller moving from Roswell, N. M., and Mrs. Mead from Big Spring.

A Christmas motif was used in decorations. The table was laid with an imported cut-work cloth and centered with a holiday arrangement of pine, holly, pine cones and red candles.

Approximately 100 guests attended.

Miss Jeane Womack will arrive in Lubbock Friday from Abilene Christian college, where she is a sophomore student, to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Womack of 3203 Twenty-seventh.

She will remain in Lubbock until Jan. 3, when she will return to school.

'Cutie' Cottontail, Fuzzy Family Pet, Loses Left Hind Leg

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13. — "Cutie" Cottontail is the happiest three-legged rabbit in the world.

If she isn't, she certainly is the only wild bunny which ever had a couple of nurses and a skilled rabbit doctor in attendance for a leg amputation.

Here's the story:

John Webster, a Washington lawyer, who lives in nearby Arlington, Va., looked out his basement window a few months ago and saw the little brown bunny looking in—half-starved. He and his sons, Mark, 3½ and David, 2½, fed the animal and shooed her into the woods.

'Cutie' Discovers Clover

But "Cutie" Cottontail, as the little boys named the bunny, kept coming back for more carrot tops. And before long "Cutie" discovered the clover on the Webster lawn. The Websters realized they had company. Permanent company.

After a couple of weeks, Lawyer Webster decided it was time to build an outside home for the newcomer so he got out his saw and hammer and made a box in the back yard.

Small boys, being small boys, don't like their pets to stay out in the wet. So it wasn't long before "Cutie," puffing up to around three pounds, had bunnied her way into the house.

Bunny Learns To Beg

She even allowed herself to get house broken, and learned to rear up on her hind legs and beg for carrots in front of the ice box.

Webster says that she slept on the davenport, when nobody was looking and would bound onto the kids' bed of a morning. Rabbits (legend has it) have been allergic to water ever since Peter Rabbit had a bad time in Mr. McGregor's sprinkle can—in fiction. But "Cutie" even sat still for Saturday night sudsings with the Webster boys.

The kids would towel her and set her down to dry under a radiator.

Well, last week, the rabbit was turned out to clover while the kids were napping. Later "Cutie" came back wounded, scratching on the back screen door to get in.

Rabbit Gets Hurt

Mrs. Webster let her in; a badly hurt rabbit. So Mrs. W. called Mr. W. and he dropped everything legal and came home. Mr. W bundled the bunny and took her to Dr. R. R. Whitter's Animal hospital in Alexandria.

"Cutie" got better than dog or cat treatment.

First they put her gently onto the "patient's" table and looked her over. A broken leg. It couldn't be set. Dr. Whitter could see that.

"Take her to surgery," said the doctor.

The operation was a success and the Websters and "Cutie" are doing well at this point.

"Cutie" has all of the stitches out and is able to balance on the good right hind one and look for a goodie in the ice-box. There is some thought of a wooden leg, although Dr. Whitter isn't quite sure it is necessary.

Daddy Webster, himself, has settled himself back to the practice of law.

Board Continues Secret Hearings

FORT WORTH, Dec. 13. (AP)—Testimony for Edwin A. Elliott, who has been accused anonymously of being a Communist, continued today before a five man probing board behind closed doors in the T. and P. building.

It was indicated that the secret hearings will continue for the remainder of the week.

Elliott, who is regional director of the National Lebar Relations board here, claimed that resentment of labor's "extreme left" and some employers probably led to the charges.

Early Speech Cited

The government officials explained that he had made speeches against Communism as early as 1936.

He said the "extreme left in labor has bitterly criticized us because we would not play their game. On the other hand, he explained, "there are employers who have wanted no participation on the part of the government in their labor relations.

"And we (the NRLB) and I as a symbol have become the object of their resentment."

It was learned that Thomas Bradley of Washington, D.C., is serving as counsel for the board.

Many Witnesses Available

Elmer Davis, head NLRB attorney here, said that 35 witnesses probably will be called to testify personally for Elliott and that "we have affidavits from more than 100 more witnesses and if necessary can call hundreds of character witnesses."

Martin Dies, another attorney representing Elliott, said flatly:

"Elliott is not a member of the Communist party or any subsidiary organization."

Red Raider Quintet Defeats Wayland College Pioneers, 58-50

Gibson's 17 Point Effort Leads Tech Scoring Parade

(Special To The Avalanche)

PLAINVIEW, Dec. 13.—Coach Polk Robison's Texas Tech basketeers staged a strong finish here tonight to turn back the Wayland college Pioneers, 58-50, in a non-conference game witnessed by 550 fans.

Tech, with Center Gene Gibson showing the way, grabbed an early lead, but early in the last half Wayland pulled even at 31-31 and again at 33-33. Then the Red Raiders turned on the steam to build up a margin that was never seriously threatened.

Gibson Leads Scoring

Gibson paced the Tech scoring with 17 points on seven field goals and three free throws, but high individual honors for the night went to Wayland's Ed Billings, who pumped 19 points through the nets Most of Billings' tallies came on set shots.

Top offensive games were turned in by Billings and Tech's Verdell Turner, who snared many of the rebounds, and by Wayland's George Goodson, who held Tech's Jiggs Jackson to one field goal and three free pitches.

Cop Lead Early

Tech got away to a blazing start, running up a 17-3 lead in the first seven minutes. Gibson was the big gun in the early attack, hitting three one-handed shots from the free throw circle.

Wayland rallied late in the first half, but the Raiders still maintained a 26-21 edge at the midway intermission.

Accuracy from the free throw line, where they hit 14 of 18 attempts, helped the Raiders. The Pioneers made good 10 of their 15 charity tosses.

The triumph was the third in seven starts this season for the Tech quint. It was the fourth defeat in seven games for Coach Harley Redin's Pioneers.

The Box Score

Farwell Five Downs Dimmitt, 38 To 32

FARWELL, Dec. 13. (Spl.). — Dimmitt's Bobcats and Farwell's Steers tonight divided a basketball doubleheader, with the Dimmitt girls taking a 50-33 decision and the Farwell boys scoring a 38-32 victory.

A crowd of 200 fans saw the twin bill.

Coach J. W. Blaine's Dimmitt girls took an early lead and were never headed. The halftime score was Dimmitt 30, Farwell 19. Odom and Tate led the Bobcats scoring with 30 and 18 points, respectively, while Betty Foster paced Coach Jack Williams' Farwell sextet with 17 tallies.

In the boys game, Dimmitt overcame an early Farwell lead to deadlock the count at 30-30 after three quarters, but Farwell bounced back to win going away. Bobby Potcet's 20 points topped the Steer scoring, with Don Ford turning in an outstanding defensive game. Jim Jowell hit 16 points and Lloyd Leasure played a top defensive game for the losers.

Sixteen teams will participate in boys and girls cage tournaments which began here Thursday afternoon. Entered in the girls division are teams from Bovina, Texico, N. M., Friona, Muleshoe, Vega, Ranchvale, Farwell and Springlake. Boys entrants are the Sudan "B" and Farwell "A" and "B" squads, Springlake, Friona, Vega, Olton and Adrian.

McMurry Holds Practice Session For Oleander Bowl Tussle

ABILENE, Dec. 13. (U.P.)— The weatherman promised slightly warmer weather today for the practice session of McMurry college's Indians.

The team started "warming up" in near-freezing temperatures yesterday for its Jan. 2 Oleander Bowl game with the Missouri Valley Vikings.

The squad will disband Dec. 23 for a four-day Christmas respite.

RICE QUINT WINS

HOUSTON, Dec. 13. (AP)— Big Joe McDermott scored 19 points despite fouling out midway in the second half tonight as Rice defeated Sam Houston State, 63 to 48.

Abernathy Cagers Gain Pair Of Games From Lorenzo Fives

LORENZO, Dec. 13. (Spl.).— Abernathy cagers took a pair of games from Lorenzo here tonight, losing one, with the boys team winning, 30-26.

The fighting Hornets held the Class A Antelopes well in check, trailing 17-15 at halftime. Blackmon had 10 points for the winners, but James Mankins was scoring leader with 14 points for the Hornets.

Dot Hopper's 13 points paved the way for a 30-27 victory by Lorenzo in the girls game, with Vineyard grabbing eight for Abernathy.

Abernathy's "B" team won, 19-16.

Sudan Hornets Rack Up 48-28 4-A Victory Over Morton Team

SUDAN, Dec. 13. (Special) — Coach Francis Smith's Sudan Hornets opened defense of their District 4-A basketball crown tonight with a convincing 48 28 victory over Morton's Indians.

With Donald Lance hitting 14 points and Cal Foster getting 13, the Hornets went into a commanding lead early in the game and were never seriously threatened.

Wynn and Hill each scored nine points for the Indians.

Sudan's quint boasts four of the five regulars who last year went to the regional finals before dropping a two-point decision to Memphis, the eventual state Class A titlist.

Tonight's clash was the first conference game of the season for both Sudan and Morton.

Meyer Signs Three-Year Contract At TCU

New Salary Is Not Disclosed

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

FORT WORTH, Dec. 13.—Tart-tongued Leo (Dutch) Meyer, Texas Christian's noted "spoiler of champions," did away with rumors he was going to retire as football coach today—he signed a three-year contract renewal.

The colorful little guy, said at the time the reports started that he didn't intend to step out. But for three months afterward he had given "wait and see" answers when asked his plans.

His denial of the report came early in the football season and many had figured he just didn't want to make the announcement until the campaign was over. To inquiries he would reply:

"I have nothing to say at this time—I'll make a statement some of these days."

Fooled The Writers

So strongly had it been felt that he planned to quit after 26 years as a coach at Texas Christian that reporters edged in to hear his pregame talk to his team before the Southern Methodist game Nov. 26. They thought he would tell his boys the news then. But he didn't.

Later he made statements that newsmen interpreted as meaning he planned to retire.

Meyer, who has been fooling opposing football teams for years, fooled the sports writers too.

Meyer owns several farms and several times had expressed the wish for the quiet rural life. His wife died this year and some writers had taken the view that this severed the last remaining strong tie he had with Texas Christian.

Coach Since 1934

He has been head coach of the Horned Frogs since 1934 and in the period has won two Southwest conference championships—1938 and 1948—and had his team in six bowl games. His 1938 team was national champion—undefeated, untied and champion of the Sugar Bowl.

A strong emotional man, Meyer died a thousand deaths when his team lost, lived in ecstasy when it won. He is known as a fighter—a fellow who wants to win whether it's at dominoes or football.

It was Meyer who braved public criticism last October to file a protest against Arkansas for rough play in the game with Texas Christian, saying "They can't butcher my boys and get away with it." Pointing to a list of injuries, Meyer said Arkansas used hands and arms illegally in the game.

Arkansas Censured

Last week the Southwest conference faculty committee upheld his protest and censured Arkansas for its tactics.

As student and coach he has been associated with Texas Christian athletics for 30 years. He was considered a sort of cornerstone at TCU. It was up to him what he did—whether he retired or continued. Generally, it was hoped he wouldn't take the step.

Baylor Quintet Tops Texas Wesleyan

WACO, Dec. 13. (AP).— Don Heathington's free throw with two seconds left gave the Baylor university Bears a 52-51 win over Texas Wesleyan's basketball team here tonight.

The game was tied at 51-51. Heathington was fouled by Ralph Jackson, substitute guard for the Rams. The Bears to ktime out. Then Heathington sank the winning toss.

Co-captain Bill Hickman of Baylor took high point honors for the game with 18 points. Charles Dowler and Doug Higgins netted 13 each for the losers.

The second half was close. The Rams tied the game at 42 all with nine minutes to go. Baylor took a 49-46 lead with five minutes left, but Texas Wesleyan came back to tie it at 51-all on baskets by Richard Cozard and a free throw by Higgins.

The victory was Baylor's fourth straight. It gave Texas Wesleyan a 2-2 record.

WINNERS MAY MEET

TYLER, Dec. 13. (U.P.)— Negotiations were reported under way between Tyler Junior college and Little Rock Junior college, winners in their respective "Rose" Bowl games last Saturday, for a Dec. 26 game in Little Rock.

ROLFE MAY WANT STIRNWEISS

Braves Open Major Trading With Sale Of Marv Rickert To Bucs

NEW YORK, Dec. 13. (AP)— Things were so tough at today's baseball winter meetings that sale of outfielder Marv Rickert to Pittsburgh by the Boston Braves drew top billing.

Only a minor deal, involving a .292 hitter, this may encourage some of the faint-hearted executives to take a chance. But don't bet on it. Rickert, 28, went to the Pirates for cash "in excess of $10,000" and an unannounced minor leaguer.

All negotiations involving Washington were called off—at least temporarily. Owner Clark Griffith of the Senators retired to his quarters to weigh the gold involved.

Detroit Manager Red Rolfe, who professes to be mildly interested in New York's George Stirnweiss as a second base solution, scheduled a session with Yankee chieftains.

Stirnweiss was involved in the Yankee-Washington talks along with catcher Gus Niarhos, first baseman Dick Kryhoski and pitcher Don Johnson of the Yanks for first baseman Eddie Robinson. Detroit had hoped to wean Stirnweiss away from Washington with outfielder Dick Wakefield as the bait.

Billy Evans, Detroit general manager, said he had been offered Cleveland's first baseman Mickey Vernon for outfielder Hoot Evers and pitcher Freddie Hutchinson. He turned it down cold.

"I don't know if I'd think of trading Evers for Vernon even up," said Evans.

There seems to be no place for Vernon with the Indians ready to try Luke Easter at first base. All the other clubs realize that Vernon will go so they're taking their time.

The St. Louis Cards are working on the Chicago Cubs, trying to pry loose outfielder Hal Jeffcoat. So far, it's no soap. A deal between the Cards and Cincinnati almost clicked this morning but later fell through. No names were announced but St. Louis needs right-handed outfield strength and the Reds want a second baseman.

Commissioner A. B. Chandler paid a surprise visit to both major leageus in their separate sessions. He advised them that he would permit each to retain its present tie playoff system. Originally it was thought Chandler would cast a decisive vote at tomorrow's joint session.

BROWNS SELL PLAYERS

NEW YORK, Dec. 13. (AP)—The St. Louis Browns announced tonight the sale of third baseman Bob Dillinger and outfielder Paul Lehner to the Philadelphia Athletics for $100,000 in cash and four players.

The deal was announced by Bill DeWitt, president of the Browns, after a conference with Earle Mack, son on the Athletics' veteran manager.

Garland Gridders Ready For Game

GARLAND, Dec. 13. (AP)—Garland's Owls, who play Littlefield at Verhon Friday in semi-finals of the Class A schoolboy football race, are in top condition.

No injuries were suffered in last week's victory over Mineola in the quarter finals.

The team will leave for Vernon Thursday morning.

UVALDE OFFICIALS DECLARE FRIDAY TO BE HOLIDAY

UVALDE, Dec. 13. (AP)—Friday will be a holiday in Uvalde. That's when the Uvalde High school football team plays Mexia at Austin in the semi-finals of the Texas schoolboy football Class A race.

Mayor J. R. Rains declared the holiday and Uvalde merchants voted to close up.

The county court house, schools and junior college all will close.

A fourth of the city's 12,000 population is expected to attend the game.

Aggie Cagers Defeat Abilene Christian

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 13. (AP).— Texas A&M started slowely, then turned on the steam for a 73-38 basketball victory over Abilene Christian college here tonight.

The outclassed Wildcats stayed in striking distance for 16 minutes before baskets by John DeWitt, Jack Miller and Eddie Houser pushed the Cadets into a 32-18 halftime margin.

After going scoreless for the first two minutes of the second half, the Aggies began hitting to roll up their tallest tally in three seasons.

Jewell McDowell, Aggie ace, busied himself with holding Wildcat star, Dee Nutt, to eight points and went scoreless the first half. Then McDowell popped ten points in the second half to stay among SWC scoring leaders.

All told, the Aggies connected on 28 of their 68 shots from the floor. ACC made good on 12 of 51 attempts. DeWitt topped scorers with 16 points. Runner-up with ten each were Ed Grantham of ACC, Bill Turnbow, McDowell and Wally Moon of A&M with ten each.

Monday Boxing Card Completed

Arrangements for Monday night's championship Bill Henderson-Eddie Bertolino fight card at Chapman fieldhouse were completed Tuesday with the announcement of a four-round preliminary bout.

Juan Herrera, El Paso featherweight, will meet Enrique Morales, San Antonio, in the four-rounder which completes the 29-round card. Promoter Edd Sides disclosed Tuesday that both fighters had agreed to terms.

Henderson went through another stiff workout Tuesday afternoon, sparring several rounds with Leonard Duncan, Hale Center middleweight.

Bertolino is due to arrive in Lubbock early today by train from Galveston. Like Henderson, he will go through daily workouts at City Club gym to taper off his conditioning program.

Other bouts on the card are a six-rounder between Duncan and Young Amado, El Paso, and a four-rounder matching Joe Chaplin, Shreveport, and Jimmy Moreland, Lubbock.

Tickets continued to sell at a steady clip Tuesday, Sides reported. Approximately 300 ducats priced at $4, $3 and $2 each, have been sold, he said.

A special block of tickets in all three price categories will go on sale at 9 a.m. today in the Hilton hotel lobby. Tickets also are on sale daily at Hub clothiers, Tech drug and City club gym in Lubbock, and at Talley's Barber shop in Levelland.

Levelland's Mason Ramblers Defeats Plains Ice Cream Five

LEVELLAND, Dec. 13. (Spl.).— Levelland's Mason Ramblers broke even here tonight in a pair of basketball games against Lubbock quintets, defeating Plains Ice Cream, 48-34, and losing to Thomas Tinkers, 41-44.

Fred Owens tied with Bill Bogart with 10 points against the Creamers, while Carl Dodson was getting 11 for the losers. Albert Salem's 13 was high for the Tinkers, with Owens garnering 11 for the Ramblers in the aftermath.

West Texas' Buffs Down Steers, 46-42

AUSTIN, Dec. 13. (AP).— West Texas state's towering Buffs pulled a near record for freezing the ball when they went into the act with nine minutes left to pull out of a 46-42 win over Texas here Tuesday night before 2,500 fans.

Coach Gus Miller's Buffs had led throughout the first half but a rally by the Longhorns pushed them out front, 34-29 five minutes after the second half started.

The Buffs came storming back and in six minutes had forged back into the lead by a 40-35 margin. Then with nine minutes of play left they began freezing the ball.

Despite a pressing attack by the Steers the Buffs managed to hold onto their lead but couldn't stop veteran Tom Hamilton, who dropped in 24 points to pace the scorers for the night.

With less than a minute to play the score read 44-40 and the Steers had the ball but Buff Hubert Witchens stole the ball and the West Texans tallied another goal to insure them their second straight victory in as many nights.

Austell Burrus, lanky West Texas center, led Buf scorers with 15 points. Burrus fouled out late in the game. The Buffs used only one sub, necessitated by Burrus' fouling out while the Steers used only two subs.

TYLER REACHES DODGE CITY

DODGE CITY, Kan., Dec. 13. (U.P.)— The Tyler, Texas, Junior college Apaches flew into Dodge City today on the second hop of a 4,000-mile, six game basketball junket after defeating Hutchinson, Kan., Junior college 77-65 last night.

Shooting, Ball-Handling Stressed

Westerner Quintet Will Meet Borger

A light workout Tuesday ended Lubbock Westerner preparations for their game at 8 o'clock tonight in Borger against the Bulldog cagers.

Coach David Cook stressed shooting in the workout, and the team as a whole was hitting the basket often. During the latter part of the day the team went through a half-court scrimmage, with first and second teams alternating on offense and substitutions being made in the lineups occasionally to give every player a chance to work on offense and defense.

Borgans Speedy

Emphasis was in working the ball in close to the basket where shots would be more effective, and passing and ball-handling was well at times and bad at others.

In Borger the Westerners face a very speedy team, paced by their junior center, Keith Lane, who is six-foot, five-inches tall and a good shot from the floor as well as a fine play maker.

Leading the scoring attack are Thomas (Red) Hooper, a forward, and James Brown, co-captain and a guard.

Lubbock Record Good

Although having a small team, the Borger quintet is very speedy and is considered one of the best in District 1-AA. In games this season the Bulldogs have sped to 11 victories without defeat. The majority of the victories have been against Class A teams, five coming in a tournament in Borger the past weekend.

Lubbock also is sporting a perfect season, with five victories being posted. Two victories came at the expense of each of the Abernathy and Plainview teams, while the other was a one-sided victory over Big Spring last Friday.

Wilson Leads Lubbock

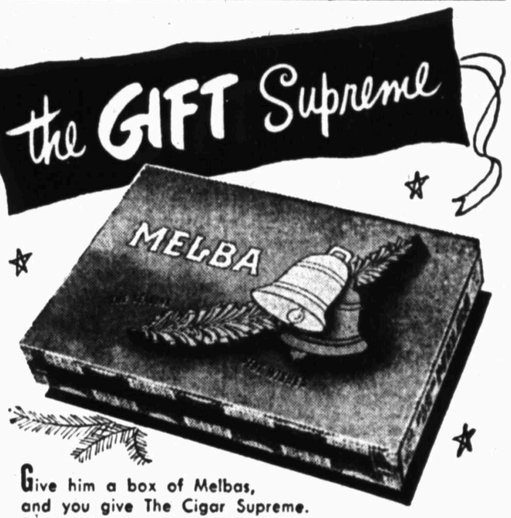

Leading scorer for the Lubbock squad is Center Jim Wilson with 45 points in the five games, and close behind with 43 points is Guard Carl Ince. In four games Guard Richard Allen has scored 27. Forwards Jimmy Sexton and Tom Cheatham have 40 and 34 respectively. The five players mentioned above will be the probable starters for the Westerners tonight.

The Westerners are scheduled to leave Chapman fieldhouse at approximately 12:45 p. m. today in order to arrive in Borger in plenty of time before the contest for a brief workout before the game. The team will spend the night in Amarillo, returning to Lubbock Thursday morning.

In addition to the five mentioned above, squadmen making the trip are Walter Norton, Bill Williams, Bob Wassom, Jimmy Hamilton, Dean White and Bobby Day.

One fourth of the standing saw timber in the U. S. is Douglas Fir.

Bruising Grudge Match Expected

Overhull, Kasaboski Will Tangle Tonight

What promises to be a rip-roaring battle takes the spotlight tonight at Sled Allen's wrestling arena when George Overhull meets Alex Kasaboski in the final event in a grudge bout

The two grapplers met recently in the arena, and the result was a decision favoring Kasaboski, which Overhull thought was unfair. Overhull claimed a foul had been committed and was backed by the crowd, but the referee did not see the foul and maintained that Kasaboski had won fairly.

Challenge Issued

Since the last match there have been repeated challenges issued back and forth, but until tonight the two men have not been able to meet at the local arena.

Choice of referee for the bout has not been determined, but several men have been mentioned for the job.

For those fans who like their wrestling scientific but rough, the first main event should fill the bill. In this match Andy Tremain, the smooth-working lad from El Paso, meets another of the ring experts in the wily Herb Parks, a Canuck from North Bay, Ont.

Parks Is Favorite

Parks is a favorite with the local fans, and this loyalty has been won by his hustle aggrissiveness and willingness to mix it with any opponent.

In Tremain, Parks will have an opponent who knows his way around—in and out of the ring. Tremain is known for his skill and ability and will have a chance to use all his ring lore against Parks.

Johnson, Blackley Meet

Gust Johnson the durable Swede will meet Gene Blackley, the bad man from Anson, in the first event, a 20-minute match. This will be Blackley's first local appearance since last spring, while Johnson has wrestled a couple of matches since returning to the territory several weeks ago. This match should prepare the fans for the following bouts.

The main event is for two of three falls with an hour time limit, and the first main has a 45-minute limit tagged on it. Matches start at 8 p. m., and tickets may be bought in advance today at the arena or reserve by telephone.

Two Junior games were played, with Eagles downing Alley Rats, 32-26, in one as Jerry Shipp netted 15 points. Jimmy Washington and Wade Wolf each had 12 for the losers.

Sherman-Denison Will Have Club In Big State League In 1950

SHERMAN, Dec. 13. (AP).— Sherman-Denison will have a club in the Class B Big State League next season, club President J. T. Newell said today.

The club had been ordered to pay its debts or lose its franchise.

Newel said approximately $34,000 has been raised in a drive to obtain $50,000 to put the club back on its feet. The drive is continuing.

With the two cities still in the baseball business, a business manager and player manager now are being sought.

SHOOTING SUSPECT HELD

KILGORE, Dec. 13. (AP).— The Gregg county sheriff's office held a Kilgore man today as a suspect in the shotgun slaying of Herbert Jones, 39-year-old Kilgore oil field worker killed shortly before midnight last night.

Jackie Robinson Receives Trophy

Jackie Robinson, first negro to play in baseball's major leagues and the National League's most valuable player for 1949, was named today as recipient of the Benny Leonard Good Sportsmanship Trophy, awarded annually by the U. S. Maccabi Association for outstanding examples of sportsmanship.

In the following signed article, second baseman Robinson tells of his pride in receiving the trophy, and what it means to him in terms of his future.)

(Brooklyn Dodgers' Second Baseman, As Told To International News Service)

By JACKIE ROBINSON

NEW YORK, Dec. 13. — They've given me a trophy for good sportsmanship. And besides what it means to me now, I can't help thinking what it is going to mean in the future.

I've been asked as to my plans once my baseball playing days are through—whether I'd like to become a manager, or a coach, or what.

The fact is that I haven't figured on doing any managing. Up to this time, my plans are that I'll be working with boys, and when my playing days are over I doubt if I'll have time outside of my youth work.

This good sportsmanship award I received today will go to the top of my trophy case—but I think the fans throughout the National League deserved it more than I.

It was the fans who gave me the courage to achieve the accomplishments I have had on the ball field. Not only the people in the north, but the people in the south as well.

You remember when the Ku Klux Klan threatened a boycott on the Atlanta ball park if I played in an exhibition game with the Dodgers there, and when the leader of the Ku Klux Klan promised a protest parade of 10,000 people outside the park.

What happened the first time I stepped to the plate that day, I will never forget. You know the segregation laws in the south—the colored people sit in the outfield stands, and the white people behind home plate.

The stands gave me one of the biggest ovations I have ever had that day, and the biggest roar of all came from the stands behind home plate.

Compare 1949 and 1946 and you can see the progress being made in that direction. I want to keep doing whatever I can to keep it moving that way.

Class AAA Loop Urged By Cobb

DALLAS, Dec. 13. (AP)— P. C. Cobb, athletic director of the Dallas public schools, said today he would urge the Texas Interscholastic League to dissolve the City Conference set-up in favor of a Class AAA plan.

Cobb, one of the prime movers in organization of the City Conference—a union of the schools of Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio in a Conference separate from Class AA which takes in the smaller cities — said the plan had not turned out as he had expected.

"I will admit that now I am opposed to the City Conference arrangement," Cobb declared. "When it was organized I thought it was the best plan to offer the big city schools, but the public hasn't taken to it. It seems that football people in Dallas feel like they are playing in a minor league—that the Conference was formed to keep city schools out of the tough state competition. That was not the idea at all. I never thought there would be so much opposition to football in the City Conference set up."

The Dallas News said a survey disclosed that Fort Worth officials oppose the City Conference; San Antonio would approve either a reorganization or retention and Houston is satisfied with the City Conference.

Herman Clark, athletic director of the Fort Worth schools, said Fort Worth always had been opposed to the set-up.

Clark said he favored a Conference that would take in all schools with enrollment of 1,000 students, with those of 500 in Class AA.

R. J. Kidd, director of the Interscholastic League, recommended a Class AAA division before the City Conference was formed but the advisory council of the League rejected the plan.

Lamesa Cagers Drop Plainview, 28-13

LAMESA, Dec. 13. (Spl.)— Displaying a fine defense for the last three quarters, Lamesa's Golden Tornado cagers romped to a 28-13 victory over Plainview here tonight in a non-district game before 400 fans.

After allowing Plainview to score eight points in the first quarter, Lamesa tightened its defense of the goal, giving up one point in the second stanza, two in the third and only two in the fourth. Half time score was 19-9.

Leading scorer was Tornado Guard Bob Hawkins, who tallied 11 points on five field goals and one free shot. Wally McNeill, Lamesa forward, had eight points. Pacing the losers with five points was Jack Howton.

A "B" team battle saw Plainview dump the Lamesans, 30-20, with Derwood Nye making eight markers.

High individual total was Guard Doyle Lee Beck's 12 for the young Tornadoes.

The next home games for Lamesa will be played here Dec. 19-20 against Mineral Wells.

Third place went to Tommy Thompson, of the Philadelphia Eagles, who was last year's champ. Bob Waterfield of Los Angeles, Charley Conerly of New York's Giants and Bobby Layne of the Bulldogs, finished behind Thompson in that order.

SPORTS Slants

BY CHOC HUTCHESON

Baseball season is a far cry away, but since the national minor league convention has just closed, now is as good a time as any to take a peek at the long-range prospects for Lubbock's 1950 Hubbers.

Harry Faulkner, the Hubs' business manager who returned Monday from the big Baltimore blowout, said Tuesday that with the addition of a front-line pitcher and a speedy outfielder (both of whom he expects to acquire soon), Lubbock will be "ready to go" in the 1950 WT-NM scramble.

By his tone of voice, Faulkner inferred that he meant the Hubs would really go next year—and not just flounder around like their immediate predecessors, who wound up in a fifth-place tie last season.

Frankly, I do not share fully Faulkner's optimism.

The Hubs may be "ready to go," all right ,but unless they get more help, I'm not sure in which direction their trip will be.

The 1950 squad, as it now stands, is pretty much a carbon copy of the 1949 crew. Unfortunately, baseball players are unlike wine in that they don't always improve with age. Which leads me to believe that next year's Hubber team will have to scrap for anything it gets.

True, Lubbock picked up a couple of players during last week's minor league convention. Both are veterans and, off their records, should go fairly well in the WT-NM circuit. Also, the team has added a flock of rookies (eight, to be exact) who might come through. But the overall added strength certainly isn't enough to make Lubbock a sure-fire first division ball club, and won't be even with the addition of the aforementioned front-line pitcher and speedy outfielder.

It is to be hoped that the Hubber officials won't sit too tight in their current "we're ready" attitude, and that they'll be prompt to make changes when—and if—it becomes obvious that changes are necessary.

Returnees from the 1949 team, with last year's averages in parentheses, are Catcher Mike Dooley (.307); Infielders Jim Prince (.368); Jackie Sullivan (.305), Buddy McCallum (.279), and possibly Nelson Davis (.311); Outfielders Al Duarte (.338) and Joe Wisniewski (.278); and Pitchers Don Hensiek (7-12), Royce Mills (7-5); John Myers (10-11), Jackie Martyn (1-0), Cotton Russell (8-5), Walt Stenborg (6-5) and Bill Grafton.

Experienced additions will be First Baseman Ben Pardue, who did well with Corpus Christi (Class D) last season; Shortstop Bobby Barron, also with Corpus Christi in 1949; Carl McNabb, last year's infielder-manager at Tyler, who hits around the .300 mark; Pitcher Bob Clodfelter, who posted a 12-9 record with Lubbock in 1948 and went well with Austin (Class B) last season and Ben Hale, an outfielder with Tyler last summer.

Faulkner gives solid assurances that McNabb and Hale will help the Lubbock cause, stating that Hale "will hit at least 40 home runs if he plays the entire season." This, if true, is indeed good news, for Lubbock needs a power hitter like Gen. Harry Vaughan needs public relations lessons. McNabb, says Faulkner, is a classy fielder who should form a great double-play combination with Jackie Sullivan.

Rookies in the Hubber fold are Danny and Paul Jung (pronounced "young,") youthful brothers who last season played semi-pro ball at Comfort, Tex., as shortstop and outfielder, respectively; Catcher Bill Perkins, a spring graduate of Jacksonville, Tex., High school; Catcher Jackie Cook, Third Baseman Mackie Lawrence and Pitcher Marshall (Hook) Epperson, all out of the semi-pro Oil Belt league of the South Plains.

That's the crop.

As mentioned earlier, Faulkner is in the market for a dependable pitcher and a fleet outfielder. He's also dickering with a promising Texas collegiate southpaw, and possibly will add a fourth catcher before the Hubs go into spring training.

Lubbock probably will not have a written working agreement with a higher classification team, but Faulkner says he "expects help" from the New York Giants, Boston Braves and Cincinnati Reds.

Tentative plans are for Lubbock to send its surplus players to San Angelo of the Class D Longhorn league. With 24 men already signed to contracts, plus the expected return of Nelson Davis, the Hub roster will have to be chopped heavily to reach the 16-player league limit.

Davis, you will recall, was sold conditionally to the Boston Brave chain, but it now appears likely that he will be returned to Lubbock. The Braves recently slashed six teams from their 16-club farm system, and consequently are overloaded with minor league players.

Davis will go to Boston's spring training camp, all right, but chances are he'll be sent back to Lubbock unless he is a whopping success there. Should the Braves keep him, they must fork over $3,500 and two players, in addition to the $500 already paid Lubbock.

DIAMOND DUST: At least four of 1949's WT-NM managers will be back at their old place of business next year. Lubbock's Jackie Sullivan, Lamesa's Jay Haney, Pampa's Grover Seitz and Abilene's Stubby Greer are the returnees. Harry Davis, hired last week, will take over the Amarillo helm, but Faulkner has heard nothing definite on the Borger and Clovis managerial situations. Paul Dean possibly will pull out at Clovis to take over a higher classification franchise. Herschel Martin, once slated to pilot Albuquerque again, may take over as manager in a bigger loop. . . . Martin, incidentally, is thought to be the highest-salaried performer in the WT-NM circuit. Rumor has it that he draws $10,000 annually (the manager's salary, you know, isn't included in the $3,250 monthly team limit) . . . The 1950 WT-NM schedule, once set at 147 games, may be cut back to the old 140-game standard at the annual spring meeting in Albuquerque next month. If so, it will begin April 26.

Many of the things that are called pumpkins are really squashes.

Committee Holds All-Day Meeting

Bears Still Without Athletic Officials

WACO, Dec. 13. (AP).— The Baylor university group attempting to untangle the school's confused athletic situation reported "no comment" tonight after a full day's work.

Football Coach Bob Woodruff resigned Friday night saying there was an intolerable situation in the athletic department. Athletic Director Ralph R. Wolf quit Saturday.

The university's athletic committee appointed a sub-committee to "work toward an agreeable settlement." Unconfirmed reports have said that attempts are being made it get both Wolf and Woodruff to remain.

Wolf and Woodruff appeared separately before the sub-committee today but had nothing to tell newsmen after brief sessions.

Dr. W. R. White, university president, said at the end of the day there would be "no statement tonight." He said the group would continue its work tomorrow.

A meeting of the board of trustees governing the university facilities in Waco is scheduled here tomorrow. However, the date was set several weeks ago and there were no indications they would consider anything but routine business.

Wendell Walker was tops on defense for Whiteface, and J. T. Jackson was a defensive standout for Plains.

The victory was the third for Whiteface against as many defeats.

Peace Officers Get 'Breather'

Tuesday was a 'breather' for peace officers here as complaints to authorities settled to routine business following reports of three burglaries earlier in the day.

Someone climbed a fence at 3208 Ave. H and broke into a fruit stand, Mrs. Boyd Robinson said, taking 100 pounds of pecans, 60 pounds of English walnuts and 35 pounds of hickory nuts.

Total value was listed at $95.

Three .22 rifles, one of them an automatic, were reported taken from Hilton Supply company, on the Idalou highway.

Police found a door pried open at a Drive-in grocery, at Tenth and Ave. Q, but nothing was believed removed, a report said.

Bonds were set in the justice of peace courts of D. W. Robertson and C. E. Lynn Tuesday for several persons: James Taylor, a negro, $1,000 bond on a child desertion case; J. W. Adams, 26, of Comanche, $1,000 bond, forgery; Thomas Edwards, 36, a negro, $750 bond, child desertion; S. D. Lennox, a negro, $250 peace bond.

Adams and Edwards were returned here Monday in custody of Chief Dep. Sheriff George Eubank, from Comanche and Lamesa. Adams is charged with forgery of an $8 check Nov. 20 on W. O. Sanders, a Lubbock contractor.

Alfonso Urtado, 21, posted bond on a grand jury indictment charging assault with intent to murder.

Dionicio T. Rosales, 27, posted $1,000 bond on a wife desertion charge.

Drey Lowe, 26, was fined $100 and county court costs on a drunk driving complaint, officials said.

A pistol was reported stolen from Klingman's second-hand store at 1215 Ave. H, the police said.

Highway Commission Offers Amarillo Underpass Proposal

AUSTIN, Dec. 13 (AP) — The State Highway commission today submitted the city of Amarillo a proposal for an underpass on U.S. 287.

The commission also announced authorization of a project in Ellis and Navarro counties for culvert lengthening and bridge widening on U. S. 75 from Ennis to Corsicana. The estimated cost was $133,000.

The Amarillo grade separation project calls for construction of a new structure and approaches for the Panhandle and Santa Fe railway and U.S. highway 287. The new structure, approaches and pavement widening would extend along South Tenth from Grant street to Birmingham street.

Under the provisions of this plan, the city and the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway Co., will furnish all right-of-way, provide for all necessary utility adjustments, provide for the construction of continuous curb and gutter, provide facilities for drainage of the underpass and provide for raising the railroad tracks a minimum of 18 inches and relocating them approximately 100 feet east of the present location.

The highway department will construct an underpass structure wide enough to carry four moving lanes of traffic between headwalls and of sufficient capacity to carry three railroad tracks, construct approaches to the underpass and provide for widening present pavement from Garfield street to Birmingham street. Ninety days were allowed the city and the railroad company for the acceptance of this proposal.

Second Monday in January will be observed as dollar day, Mrs. Workman said.

The government will support the price of cotton at 50 percent of parity (instead of 90 percent).

Farmers who plant within their allotments will be eligible for government loans at 50 percent of parity. They also will be eligible for conservation assistance payments.

Farmers who overplant their allotments will not be eligible for government loans on their cotton, and they cannot receive conservation payments. But they can market all of their cotton without paying any penalty.

Quirino Is Proclaimed Philippines President

MANILA, Dec. 13. (INS)—Incumbent Elpidio Quirino was proclaimed president of the Philippines today at a joint session of the Philippine congress which exploded with charges of election frauds.

The proclamation was approved 68 to 14 with 34 abstentions only after Senator Camilo Osias sought in a stormy debate to defer action to a later date.

Osias, a member of defeated candidate Jose Laurel's Nacionalista party, filed a petition protesting that the vote from 16 provinces represented only a statement from provincial canvassers. He declared:

"The whole world knows what kind of an election we had. Colts, thompson's and garand rifles play a prominent part. Some votes outnumbered the living provincial population."

The senate building where the session was held swarmed with police and detectives "frisked" newsmen entering the hall for concealed weapons. Outside Laurel's backers picketed the meeting.

Suspects Face Dickens Charges

Three of four Bonham defendants in robbery with firearms charges in several Texas counties were served Tuesday afternoon with certified copies of indictments voted in Dickens county, Dickens Sheriff C. C. Kimmel announced here.

The bills were returned Monday afternoon to 110th District Judge Alton B. Chapman.

The defendants—Talmadge Monroe Bonham, 17, William Robert Leeman, 22, and James Thomas Scrivner, 21—were served in Lubbock county jail, where they are held for Crosby county.

Charged In Robery

The are charged with robbery of A. W. Wallace the night of Nov. 26. Early in the night he was robbed in his drygoods store in Crosbyton.

They have executed statements admitting that they took Wallace in their car when they fled from the store robbery.

Sheriff Kimmel said they "got only three-quarters mile inside Dickson county" before letting Wallace out of their car and robbing him of $5 at point of a pistol.

Leeman, Bonham and Orville Wayne Mann, 21, who also is held here, are charged with robbery of a Lubbock store the night of Nov. 19.

Leeman and Scrivner are charged in a Corsicana hijacking.

Bonds of $25,000 were set by Judge Chapman for each defendant charged in Dickens county.

Judge Chapman had said earlier that efforts will be made to arrange a trial date for the accused this month.

Cold Weather

the general area east of the Pecos river valley.

Clearing skies and rising temperatures Tuesday ended snow flurries, sleet, and near-zero temperatures in the Panhandle area.

Dallas had its lowest average all-day temperature of the season Tuesday with a range of only six degrees from the low of 33 at 6 a.m., to the 3:30 p.m. reading of 39.

Skies were clear Tuesday night in Amarillo, El Paso, Clarendon, Childress, Wink, and Wichita Falls. There were still plenty of clouds south and east of Midland and Big Spring. Waco and Bryan reported rain Tuesday night.

SUB-ZERO COLD WAVE KEEPS GRIP ON NATION

(By The Associated Press)

A sub-zero cold wave kept a stubborn grip on the north central part of the country Tuesday. The frigid air mass spread deep into the southland.

Freezing weather extended from Tennessee to California. It caused extensive loss to truck crops in California's Imperial valley.

A two-day cold snap in California caused heavy damage to tomatoes, squash, peas and possibly some citrus. However, temperatures moderated during the day.

Growers Suffer Losses

Growers in San Fernando valley nurseries reported a loss of approximately $35,000 to budding plants. The midwinter pea crop in Imperial valley may be a complete loss, growers said.

Low temperature readings in the northern sections included Glasgow, Mont., —24; Milford, Utah, —16; Dickinfon, Md., —15; and Duluth, Minn., —9. Continued cold was forecast.

To the south, Flagstaff, Ariz., had —3; Phoenix, Ariz., 26, Fresno, Calif., 27; Sacramento, Calif., 30. Fort Worth, 32 and Nashville, Tenn., 30.

Many Areas Get Rain

Temperatures continued mild along the Atlantic seaboard and in the southeastern states. Rain fell from the New England states in a broad band southwestward across the Appalachians and along the Texas gulf coast.

The rain was welcomed in the east, easing slightly the drain on New York City's depleted water reserves. The rainfall in the New York area is expected to add 5,500,000,000 gallons—about a five day supply—to the city's two thirds empty reservoirs.

Rainfall of 1.38 inches fell within 24 hours at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., in the region of New York's water supply system.

Engineering Contract Given For New Airport At Snyder

SNYDER, Dec. 13. (AP)—Scurry county, its traffic quickened by an oil boom, awarded an engineering contract today for a first class airport at Snyder.

The commissioner's court awarded the contract to Ash-Wilson Engineering service. County Judge Edgar Taylor said the site for the airport had been tentatively selected.

He said the engineers would decide the amount of land needed, and such things as the tentative boundaries, after which the land will be purchased and bids be called for construction.

A number of small planes utilize the present airport.

Eight Men Believed Dead, Eight Others Missing In Ship Explosion

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 13 (AP) — Eight men were believed to have perished and eight others were missing tonight following an explosion and fire aboard the Dutch motorship Doros, 300 miles due east of Miami. Eight were rescued.

The chief engineer reported the captain, chief mate, second and third mates, apprentice electrician, second and third assistant engineers and the steward apparently were lost when the Doros exploded, burned and sank about 10:45 a.m. (EST) Monday.

Any material which resists the flow of electricity is called a "non-conductor."

Carol Singing

Directors of the grade choirs tonight will be Mrs. Mary O'Wilpitz, fourth grade, Mrs. Billie Tabor, fifth grade and Miss Bernice Bay, sixth grade.

Hosts for the program tonight will be Carl Bailey and Mrs. Iris Bergholm.

Group Singing Planned

Parents, teachers and friends will join the students in the singing of familiar carols: "O Come All Ye Faithful," "The First Noel," "I Heard The Bells on Christmas Day," "Jingle Bells," "Silent Night," "O, Little Town of Bethlehem" and "Joy To the World."

In addition to the evening programs this week a carol singing program has been planned with each of the city elementary schools included with the secondary school, in which district it lies. The choirs of the Senior High and the three Junior high schools will participate in the programs which begin on Friday and continue Monday.

Special Programs

Also on the docket this week are programs at the George M. Hunt and P. F. Brown schools.

At P. F. Brown, Mrs. William C. Mingus will review "Bird's Christmas Carol" by Wiggins as one of a series of book reviews. The program will be at 2:45 p.m. Thursday in the school cafeteria, according to Mrs. Ruth Carter, principal.

City Bond Election

be sufficient for Lubbock's requirements until 1953. The plant is of sectional design so that new units can be added as needed, somewhat like a sectional bookcase.

Members of the city commission agreed it would be financially unsound to enlarge the plant more than is planned now. A larger expansion, officials said, would tie up a big investment—on which interest would have to be paid—in a facility which will not be needed for two or three years and which would be idle, with resultant deterioration, until that time.

Mayor Rodgers also said, after the returns were announced, that the city commission will begin immediately to negotiate for the rights-of-way necessary to the completion of the highway dispersal system.

Highway Improvements Set

These will involve the building of about 10 miles of 64-foot, four-lane thoroughfares in Lubbock and the immediate environs and the construction of four, four-lane railroad underpasses by the state and federal highway departments at an estimated cost of $1,611,000.

The thoroughfares scheduled for improvement are Nineteenth eastward from Texas Avenue to the Idalou highway; Fourth street entirely across the city; Avenue A from Broadway to Nineteenth and Northeast Avenue Q from Third street to the Plainview highway.

Voting Tuesday was light throughout the day. At no time during the counting of ballots was there reason for uneasiness that either of the projects would fail of decisive approval.

Larger Vote Possible

However, members of a citizens' committee headed by Irving L. Jones stood by throughout the day, prepared for an intensive drive to get out the favorable vote if either proposition appeared in danger. A much larger vote could have been gotten to the polls if the necessity had arisen.

City officials were of the opinion that the votes against the propositions represented practically all the opposition in Lubbock. Their further opinion was that most of the qualified voters who did not go to the polls favored both proposals.

The Central Fire station, Tenth street and Avenue J, was the only voting place. The indications were that this will be the last city election of any kind with only one voting box. The probabilities are that, in future elections, places more convenient to large residential areas will be designated.

Federal Reforms

ous Hoover report. Commission advocates say these changes will save about $1,250,000,000 annually.

Of the seven reorganization plans Mr. Truman sent to Congress last summer, six went into effect. The senate vetoed his proposal to establish a new welfare department to unify health, public welfare and education programs now directed by the Federal Security administration. Under the law either House can bloc a reorganization plan.

Cottonseed Program

any support program on seed this year the present price would probably be about $40 per ton as compared to the present support price of $46.50 per ton and a price of about $90 a ton last season."

Mahon said he understood that Trigg was undertaking to find markets for the seed and seed products which will prevent heavy losses to the CCC.

"Oil mills are still running at full tilt but crushing arrangements should be completed in the near future in order that the mills may continue to run at maximum capacity, and so that an abundant supply of cottonseed cake may continue to be available to farmers and ranchers in the Southwest," Mahon continued.

Favorable Action Urged

"I am most anxious that you take favorable action at the earliest possible moment," Mahon's communication said in closing.

In the letter to Mahon, in which it was indicated that the deadline could not be extended, W. C. Shamburger, acting assistant to the administrator of the PMA, said:

"In the cotton trade it is generally recognized that as the harvest continues into the late fall and early winter months, there is a noticeable increase in the percentage of 'below grade' and 'off quality' cottonseed placed on the market," Shamburger's letter said. "The highly perishable character of cottonseed makes this commodity extremely susceptible to deterioration when exposed to weather conditions which often prevail over a large part of the cotton belt in the early winter months.

"Because of the serious problem of field damage to seed from the late harvest, it appears that it would be inadvisable to make loans beyond the present expiration date," Shamburger said.

Shamburger added that the problem would be discussed at a meeting in Memphis this week, which will be attended by state PMA committeemen.

Mahon's wire, dispatched Tuesday, hoped to have an effect on decisions in the Memphis meeting.

It was estimated by cotton men that at least 200,000 bales of cotton would still be on the ground and unginned on Jan. 1 in this area.

The accident occurred less than a mile from the point at which an Eastern Airlines DC-4 crashed Nov. 1, killing 55 persons, after a midair collosion with a P-38 fighter piloted by Bolivian Capt. Eric Rios Bridoux.

Besides Davis, the dead in the Capital airlines crash were:

Other Victims Named

Co-Pilot J. L. Porter, 28, also of Alexandria; Mrs. William Chertow of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Neville Lassiter, of Arlington, Va., a treasury department employe.

Most critically injured of the survivors was Mrs. Margarita Wright of Philadelphia, who received head injuries and a compound fracture of the left leg. An emergency operation was performed on Mrs. Wright at the Bolling Field hospital.

Others seriously injured were: George C. Harrison, Arlington, Va.; Phillip Shapiro, New York, a brother of Mrs. Chertow; Richard Piggett, Maplewood, N. J.; Thomas Morris, Millburn, N. J., and Henry McKinney and Vernon Carney, Merchant seamen.

To Raise Wreckage

Navy salvage crews were ordered to raise the wreckage of the airliner, which plummeted into a sandbar 100 feet south of Bolling field and across the Potomac from the National airport.

The airliner was held over Clifton, Va., for 15 minutes, and over Mount Vernon, Va., for 36 minutes. In an earlier statement the CAA had said that the delay over Mount Vernon was only two minutes.

Officers Strike Blank Wall In Hunt For Roswell Slayers

ROSWELL, Dec. 13. (AP)—Authorities ran into a blank wall today in a search for slayers who fired bullets into a Roswell youth from a speeding black sedan.

The youth was George Luna, 18. He was shot down as he stood about midnight Saturday outside a dance hall-skating rink in southeast Roswell.

Officers sought to match .22 and .25 caliber bullets taken from Luna's body with four guns. They were taken to ballistics experts at Austin, Tex., but examination failed to provide a clue.

Witnesses had little chance to identify the persons in the sedan.

either Ruth or her body is found. Veteran woodsmen expressed fear that she might not survive if she is not found tonight.

The hottest of two trails found today led through wiry vine maple, thick rain-sogged bracken ferns and downed logs along the north fork of Ostrander creek.

Part of the small army of 500 searchers beat through the thick brush without success as darkness began to cast shadows over the wooded ravines.

Fear Grips Searchers

Unless the girl is found tonight, veteran woodsmen fear there will be little chance of finding her alive, even if she survived the freezing weather and sleeting rain that coated the woods Sunday and Monday nights with snowy slush.

Dave Keller of Kelso turned up the best clue today when he found footprints made by crepe-soled shoes, a type of shoe worn by the girl when she went into the woods with other 'teen aged companions to hunt for Christmas trees.

Keller said he believed these footprints were comparatively fresh and had been made after the snow and rain of the past two nights.

Wandered Aimlessly

They reported the maker of the trail appeared to have wandered aimlessly, sometimes making circles. Space between the prints gradually tapered down, most of them being 6 to 12 inches apart.

Other signs significant to woodsmen, indicated the maker of the trail had fallen down and at times tumbled over the smallest obstructions.

Keller's findings were later confirmed by Thomas Golden and Dick Tabor of Longview, Wash.

Bloodhounds brought into the search Monday were taken to the area together with articles of clothing worn by the girl and furnished by her anguished parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Aberle.

Another Trail Found

The Ostrander creek trail find added to the excitement caused by discovery of another trail in the Danger Beaver dam swamp area, one and one-half miles from the spot where she was last seen.

Fear for the girl's safety spread rapidly as night closed down. Her father, William Aberle, admitted she could be considered "wood wise" enough to stay in one place or follow the course of a stream.

Aberle said, "she didn't know these mountains at all and she didn't know one direction from another."

According to Watts, the trail was reported about four to six hours old. It wandered aimlessly through the rough terrain.

There were spots when the person had fallen and stumbled while crossing over downlogs and pushing through the heavy underbrush.

In Swamp Area

The men who located the trail said the footprints led to a swampy area covered with water pools backed up by numerous beaver dams.

Bloodhounds brought into the search area last night were working another part of the difficult terrain when word of the new clue was reported.

many of the programs. O'Conor said the real purpose of the broadcasts was to establish an "innocent" appearing propaganda medium for the Polish government."

Among propaganda "threads" running through the programs, the report said, are the suggestions that "Americans of Polish descent should rally behind all the policies of the Communist government of Poland."

RADIO STATION DENIES PROPAGANDA CHARGES

CHICAGO, Dec. 13. (INS)—A spokesman for radio station WEDC, a Polish-language outlet in Chicago, denied categorically today charges by Sen. O'Conor (D-Md.) that the station was being used to disseminate Communist propaganda.

Sen. O'Conor, in a report to Congress today, charged that the Polish embassy in Washington and the Polish Gdynia-America Steamship Co., are spending thousands of dollars on the programs.

The Chief Goodfellow emphasized that all the information requested on the coupon should be supplied, and urged that names and addresses be printed to insure their legibility.

the suspect.

Deputy Sheriff D. A. Harris arrested the suspect early this morning at a residence in Seagraves, where he has been working.

Gaines County Sheriff Bob McReynolds said all but $7 was recovered from the man.

"We have a good case against him," he explained, "because Echols cashed a check at a Seminole bank Monday and was paid in new currency."

Bank employes today said the serial numbers on the money found on the suspect matched those on the money given Echols.

Echols is a farmer in west Gaines county.

More Than 200 Attend Annual Dance Given By Lubbock Store

More than 200 persons attended Dunlap's Department store's annual Christmas dinner-dance Tuesday night at the Hotel Lubbock, which is given by the company each year for its employes and members of their families.

A custom which has been followed for about six years, the party was informal, with a buffet dinner preceding the dance. The banquet hall was illuminated by candlelight only, opening into the main ballroom, where Ted Crager's orchestra provided music for dancing.

Company executives Retha Martin, president; Ruel Martin, vice-president; Ira G. Dunlap, jr., secretary; and J. B. Hoskins, manager of the Lubbock store, all attended. Arthur B. Watkins, assistant manager of the store, was in charge of arrangements.

The store employs approximately 150 persons.

Near-Capacity Crowd Attends Little Theater Performance

A near-capacity crowd last night attended the second performance of "The Male Animal" which was presented in the auditorium of O. L. Slaton Junior High school by the Lubbock Little Theatre, Inc.

The war between the sexes raged merrily in the local presentation of James Thurber's humorous and faintly satirical vehicle.

Mrs. John Robert Moxley who directed the play in addition to playing a role in it, paced the production to bring out both the subtle and not so subtle implications of the plot and gave the audience refreshment and pleasure.

Cast members last night played their respective roles with ease and lack of self-consciousness.

Credit should be given to the technical staff headed by James Reynolds who staged the play tastefully.

PILOTS FIGHT MANY HANDICAPS

Airlines Deserve Pat On Back For Service Rendered Nation

BY BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

SAN JUAN, P.R., Dec. 13. — Ze aeroplane! She is a machine magnifico.

One day we are at an inn named Jokake at the foot of Camelback mountain, outside Phoenix, and playing golf in the sun with Del Webb.

The next day, with the help of one of Ralph Damon's estimable Constellations we are in New York.

Passengers Cheer Skill

The following day, through the intercession of one of Juan Trippe's Constellations, we are in San Juan. The next day, via a venerable but trustworthy DC-3 belonging to a Mr. Caribair, we are in the Virgin islands and back to San Juan, and the following day we are in New York — thanks to the skill of a pilot named Gerber, who brought his heavily loaded Constellation down through the impenetrable fog over LaGuardia, and did it so well that (for the first time in my own half lifetime of flying) all the passengers burst into wild handclapping as the wheels touched the runway.

I happen to be one who thinks we take our wonderful commercial aviation system too casually. One can't blame editors and "the desk" for puting thick headlines on crashes, for, after all, they are a most spectacular and thus newsworthy form of public information.

U.S. Has Best Setup

Yet, it would be nice, too, to read an occasional story which says that we've got the best dam' airlines ever concocted by man, with the best ships, best men, best women, best blokes in the control towers, in the history of flight.

This is no unctuous plug for TWA, on which we went to the amazing (and sometimes neglected) southwest, or Pan Am, or that Caribair or whatever is its name.

This is also a bow to the other lines on which my wife and I have been travelling for a long time: American, Eastern, United, Delta, Captial, Northwest, Colonial and all the others.

I think they do a remarkable job considering the fact that, unlike rail transportation, they are preys of the weather and subjects of this whim and that.

Need Story On Hostess

Sometime it would be nice to read a piece about a hostess who, aside from delivering the usual baby who is born on flights coming into New York, also served 43 meals, kept the ladies room real neat, saw that everybody had a blanket when the heating system went out, and persevered in her patience and smile.

It would be nice, too, to see an occasional piece about a ship that did not crash. Awful lot of them don't, and in the course of not denting the horizon many wonders can be achieved. And are.

There was that aforesaid landing at LaGuardia the other night. The people of the plane knew that the weather was bad in New York before we left the airport at San Juan. But there really was no risk involved. The type of Constellation we were flying carries enough juice to fly from San Juan to New York and back to San Juan with little or no trouble. So off we took.

About the time we passed 100 miles to the west of Bermuda, on the way north, the purser came back to let us in on what was happening hundreds of miles ahead of us.

Customer Is Prepared

That's one of the novelties of this form of transportation. It usually prepares the customer for the worst. The word was that the eastern sr og that lay on New York had caused the cancellation of most of the day's flights from LaGuardia and International airports.

We probably would have to land either at Washington or Boston, the purser said.

About a hundred miles out of New York, while we were tooling along at more than 300 mph in superb weather at 17,000 feet the purser came back, still smiling, and said that both Washington and Boston were socked in — as well as New York—and that we'd probably go to Buffalo.

People Utter Groan

Me, I don't think Buffalo is bad at all, but there seemed to be a united groan from the people in the plane.

"Or Bermuda," he added, casually, this product of an age that would have brought a blanch to the cheeks of Magellan or Columbus. Or even Marco Polo.

"Suposc they're all fogged up," somebody asked him.

"Then we'll go back to San Juan," he said. He refrained from buffing his nails on his lapels.

But we came into LaGuardia through the miracle of what the fly-boys call GCA, or ground control approval, a mixture of equal parts of radar, radio, know-how, and American imagination nd g-ts.

Pilot Takes No Bow

And, as we said earlier, the people in the plane just plain burst into applause — for none of us could see a light on the ground until we were just about on the ground, and a fellow up front named Gerber had all those tons of stuff and dozens of lives in his confident hands — and it never occurred to him to come out and take a bow.

It had been a tough day for aviation around New York. On a schedule board at LaGuardia there was a note that a Paris-New York flight had landed at Columbus, O., which must have startled the French passengers.

And another note said that the passengers on the Bombay-New York express would arrive at the airport terminal by Greyhound bus at 1 a.m., which they did. "As promised," which is the hard goal up to which our airlines, despite vicissitudes, are gloriously living.

Pests Building Up Resistance Against New Insecticides

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Staff Writer

TAMPA, Fla., Dec. 13. — You'd better get your fly-swatter and mosquito-slapping hand in shape—because next spring and summer those pests may give you your roughest time since the advent of DDT and other new-insect killers.

That's the view of Dr. A. M. Boyce of the University of California, president of the American Association of Economic Entomologists.

He said there is growing evidence of the resistance of the house-fly to DDT and other powerful insecticides, and recent findings show some species of common mosquitos are getting too tough for DDT.

Dr. Boyce was interviewed on the eve of a joint four-day session of his society with the entomological society of America and the Florida pest control association.

While he declared the matter of resistance constitutes the prime problem of insect researchers, he said there are hopes of overcoming it—and most of them are based on lessons of continuing war being waged against pests which attack the rich citrus crops of Texas, California and Florida.

Declaring that most of the advances made against all agricultural crop enemies of the nation stem from researches done on citrus pests, Boyce gave this outline:

Citrus-fruit researchers believe they have worked out hereditary pattern of pest resistance to insecticides—opening up the possibility of crossing extremely susceptible strains with extremely resistant strains in the hope of developing mediocre races that might be soft touches for a good insecticide.

These same researchers have determined exactly how an insecticide works—opening up the possibility of building up even more powerful compounds.

New Arthritis Drug Believed Of Value In Fight On Cancer

By PAUL F. ELLIS
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Cortisone, a hormone substance being used to treat arthritis, may be of value in the battle against cancer, according to Dr. C. P. Rhoads, dirctor of the Memorial Cancer center.

His report followed an announcement that John D. Rockefeller, jr., had pledged $2,000,000, to expand activities of the center, now the largest of its kind in the world.

Sum Must Be Matched

The Rockefeller gift, it was explained, will be made on condition that the sum be matched by a similar amount. Workers and friends of the center said they were confident the sum could be matched.

Rhoads reviewed the fight of the past 10 years, and said the mortality rate from cancer is decreasing on a basis of case histories of the past decade. He recalled, however, that thousands of new cases are being turned up nowadays that in the past would not have been diagnosed, and as a result the situation "still is bad."

Despite the situation, he said, medical science is making progress and he pointed to the experimental work with radioactive substances, new techniques in surgery, preventative medicine and chemicals as moving toward an ultimate goal of control of the disease.

New Approach Opened

He said that the discovery of cortisone and another hormone, known as atch, had opened up a new approach to the problem of cancer as well as "many other diseases." The two substances already have brought "sensational" results in the treatment of arthritis, and have brought remissions in some types of cancer on an experimental basis.

"Cortisone is only the first of a series of hormone substances that we expect to find of value in cancer and other diseases," Rhoads said.

He said that Memorial researchers also had found 43 chemical substances that have some effect on cancer in experimental animals, and that of the number, nine had a strong effectiveness. Of these nine, there are several that have been tried on human patients, especially in leukemia, a cancerous disease of the blood that strikes mostly in children. The results have not brought a cure, but have brought encouraging results, he said.

Transient Worker Killed Near Fort Worth By Switch Engine

FORT WORTH, Dec. 13. (U.P.)— A transient worker was killed instantly today when struck by an M-K-T switch engine on the Santa Fe & Pacific tracks on a bridge where the T&P is crossed by the Rock Island railroad.

Pearl Alexander Hickman, 55, of Clinton, Ia., was killed as he and a friend, N. H. Calhoon, walked back to their shanty off Cold Springs Road from town where they had bought groceries.

Calhoon saw the engine in time to jump and hang to the side of the bridge. J. W. Pafford, 70, the engineer, said he never saw Hickman.

"Save the Day on the South Plains"

LUBBOCK MORNING AVALANCHE

Lubbock, Texas, Wednesday, December 14, 1949

Completion Of Project Pushed

GIRLSTOWN, U. S. A., Dec. 13.—A cornerstone was laid "in our realm of social structure that has never been laid before," Rev. W. H. Bryant, pastor of Whiteface Baptist church, said at the cornerstone laying ceremony at Plains residence at Girlstown at sunset today.

He was referring to the unique nature of Girlstown, U. S. A., which provides a home for neglected and homeless girls.

Rev. Bryant, who gave the prayer and quoted scripture at the ceremony, paid tribute to the vision of the founder and director, Miss Amelia Anthony.

Items were placed in the cornerstone by Miss Anthony. They included notes by the founder, photographs and clippings. She said stipulation that the cornerstone be opened in 50 years would be placed in Girlstown files.

"I'll be 62 then," said a 12-year-old resident of Girlstown. Other girls laughlingly figured what their ages would be when the cornerstone is opened.

One little girl visiting Girlstown with her parents said, "I wish you had a big family like that" to her mother, referring to the 10 girls in Girlstown.

Residents To Be Increased

The number of residents will be increased immediately to 64 upon completion of the 32-bedroom residence within a few weeks. Miss Anthony has said girls will observe Christmas in the living room of Plains residence, although bedrooms may not be ready for occupancy.

The open house originally scheduled for tonight had been postponed because the wing of the building expected to be completed was not yet ready. Open house is to be conducted later and a large crowd for that event has been indicated by advance inquiries.

Approximately 30 persons from Whiteface, Lubbock, Levelland, Sundown and Plainview witnessed the cornerstone laying.

The ceremony took place on the ninth monthly anniversary of the founding of Girlstown March 13 at Buffalo Gap. The 13th has become a significant date in Girlstown history. Girlstown received a gift of its ranch site on June 13 and broke ground for the residence Aug. 13.

Mailing of partnership cards in Girlstown opened Tuesday.

Approximately 1,500 persons are on the mailing list for partnership cards, which will be given in gratitude for their share in making Girlstown, Miss Anthony said.

Another development today was the announcement that Miss An-

Reports Claim 'Slave Labor' Used In Mines

Czechs Send Uranium To Reds

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13. — A high diplomatic source in Washington reported tonight that Czechoslovakia is making its greatest contribution to Russia by shipping uranium to the Soviet.

The source said that for this reason the Soviet Union is using its most high-powered methods on the Czechs to keep them within the Communist orbit.

The informant, who recently returned from behind the iron curtain, charged that Moscow is using "slave labor" to take uranium from the Czech mines for conversion into Russian atomic weapons.

He said that the uranium "slaves" are seized from a "draft" of lawyers and students considered "unreliable" politically.

According to the diplomatic source, the uranium ore is shipped to Russia unprocessed.

The source said that explorations around Czechoslovakia's countryside have developed uranium ore in new fields south of Prague, the Czech capital.

Czechoslovakia's famous radioactive baths had made the new uranium source a noted European health spa for many years before the war.

The official minimized the possibility of Czechoslovakia turning away from Moscow along the lines of the revolt of Marshal Tito in Yugoslavia.

Many Czechs are admirers of Tito, he asserted, but there is no military leader in the country who could assume a "Tito" role. He added that were some anti-Soviet Communists to revolt in Poland and Hungary, Czechoslovakia might join the revolt.

The informant placed much blame on the western powers for not being stronger in support of Czechoslovakia. He said that many Czechs feel that because of the lack of western support at the time of the Communist coup of February, 1948 they have been 'sold down the river to Russia."

He declared that another important factor in Czechoslovakia's international reasoning is a "mortal fear of German resurgence." He said they also fear the possibility of Russia reviving the strength of eastern Germany in event they do not go along with the Soviet Union.

Recalling that Moscow had prevented the country from joining in the Marshall plan, the official said that Czechoslovakia still suffers badly for lack of trade with the west.

He noted that Czechoslovakia was one of the leading industrial powers of the world before the war. It is now, he said, at 50 to 75 percent of the top production reached under the Germans during the war.

Of this, he reported, 50 percent is going to Russia. But, he contradicted reports that the great Skoda arms works are producing heavy war materials for the Russians.

They are building light tanks and small arms.

The tanks, he said, have been sent to the Swiss but the small arms which were sent to Israel and to the Greek guerrillas are no longer in demand.

C-C GROUP ENDORSES EVENT

Annual Home Christmas Lighting Contest Entries Show Increase

ENTRIES started coming in Tuesday in the third annual Home Christmas Lighting contest sponsored by The Avalanche-Journal.

The event has the enthusiastic endorsement of the Co-chairman C. W. Ribble and Ruel Martin of the chamber of commerce lighting and decorating committee.

They pointed out that many decorated homes, doorways, windows and outdoor trees will enhance immeasurably the holiday beauty of the city.

Lubbock was credited with being perhaps the most beautifully decorated city of its size in Texas last Christmas, largely because of participation in the Home Lighting contest. More than 90 persons competed in the contest last year.

Nine entries were received in the various divisions of competition for the $100 in cash prizes to be awarded.

Next Saturday noon is the deadline for entries, which may be made by calling or mailing a card to Mrs. Naomi Caddel in The Avalanche-Journal editorial department. The telephone number is 4343.

The entries she reported today, with the prizes to be awarded in each class of competition, follow:

Most beautifully decorated exterior of home—first prize $25; second, $15; third, $10; fourth, $5—Garth Close, 3215 Twenty-ninth street, and C. E. Kuykendall, 3309 Twenty-ninth.

Most beautifully decorated doorway—first prize $10; second, $5— Mrs. M. D. Dovel, 2201 Thirty-second, and Peggy McGowan, 1619 Seventeenth.

Most beautifully decorated window—first prize $10; second, $5—Mrs. W. D. Benson, jr., 3011 Twenty-fifth; Bert and George Nelson, 2120 Seventeenth, and Peggy McGowan, 1619 Seventeenth.

Most beautifully decorated outdoor tree—first prize $10; second, $5—Bobby Hunt, 820 Avenue O, and Mrs. Kelly Hinkle, 1522 Twenty-fourth.

The judges, all members of Lubbock Garden club, will make their inspections at a time on or before next Saturday night.

ENVIABLE SAFETY RECORD SET

Seminole Nears End Of 26-Year Period Without Traffic Fatality

SEMINOLE, Dec. 13. (Special)—Many of Seminole's leading civic boosters are keeping their fingers crossed during the few days that remain in 1949.

Because, if all goes well, they will be able to welcome the new year by chalking up the beginning of the town's twenty-seventh year without a traffic fatality in the city limits.

That record, they claim, probably cannot be equalled by any town of this size—estimated at 6,500—in the U.S., and it's a record they want to keep bragging about.

Work Bears Fruit

The spotless record didn't just happen either. For many years an active safety committee of the chamber of commerce, the Lions club, the Rotary club and other civic organizations have worked constantly to bring it about.

And their job is growing harder every day, just as their town is growing larger. A heavy traffic increase, both on city streets and the highways which serve the town has been recorded in recent months. Through traffic now consists largely of heavy oilfield trucks. And, while they add greatly to the area's economic well being, they also add to the hazards of traffic congestion.

The chamber of commerce safety group started a program several years ago which brought about the removal of undergrowth, shrubbery, signs and other obstructions at intersections. As a result, Seminole is almost completely free of "blind corners" which always present a serious traffic menace.

Spotted at strategic points through the town are large signs, erected by the Lions and Rotarians, which remind motorists that a speed limit is enforced. The message hits the driver with the reminder, "Children at Play."

The city of Seminole last week announced the purchase of a new 1950 auto for the police department. It will be used in the traffic program and careful driving rules will be enforced even more

Lubbock Child Featured In 'Believe It Or Not' Cartoon

William Munn, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. N. Harold Munn of 2604 Thirty-third, was featured last weekend in the Believe It Or Not cartoon in several metropolitan newspapers for his ability to identify the pictures of 30 U. S. presidents at the age of 20 months.

The child, who has learned to identify two additional presidents since that time, learned the feat from his father, a cashier at the Citizens National bank. While the boy was recovering from an operation, his father taught him to identify the pictures, a few at a time.

Cornerstone Laying Ceremony Is Conducted At Girlstown

thony will be the general contractor for the next large building to be built at Girlstown.

Barn To Be Built

The next building will be a barn which will be used as a dining place for Girlstown and as an assembly place for South Plains groups.

Girlstown opened at Buffalo Gap near Abilene. It was moved in June to its present ranch site eight miles south of Whiteface.

Groundbreaking for the barn was not conducted today as had been considered, because various details have not been worked out. They apply largely to labor.

"From the Plains area, at least seven girls a day are being brought to our home and that makes it necessary that all available labor be utilized in completion of Plains residence," said Miss Anthony.

When the residence is completed, smaller buildings now occupied by children and adult members of the Girlstown family will be vacated and made available to workmen on the barn, so daily trips will not be necessary.

Asked her attitude toward progress during the first nine months of Girlstown, Miss Anthony said, "We have made strides in the nine months of our operation. This has been made possible through the interest of people, for which we are most grateful."

"Because of my impatience and awareness of the acute need of the home," she added, "I feel that we have not made as much progress in our building of the Plains residence as we could have made, but engineers and men in the building business have said that we are at least 60 days in advance in the building program, beyond what we would have been if we had let a contract for the building."

Miss Anthony will be general contractor and J. Rex (Andy) Anderson will be construction engineer for the barn.

No General Contractor

"Through this manner," said Miss Anthony, "we feel that we will eliminate several obstacles of securing labor and it will help to minimize loss of time which we have experienced in building the residence."

These is no general contractor for the residence, work being conducted through various labor unions and crafts and building contractors.

Under the plan of operation in building the barn, sub-contracts will be let on a time basis, in order to assure that the building will be completed in a specified time, said Miss Anthony.

The list of 1,500 to receive partnership cards includes around 1,000 who have contributed in kind and in service. Those who have contributed in kind, said the director, have given blankets, quilts and linens, for the most part. Those who have contributed in service include various members of labor unions who have contributed labor on Saturdays and "working partners" in Plainview, Midland, Whiteface, Levelland, Lubbock and Dallas who have rendered different services along the line of public relations in behalf of young girls.

Money Is Given

The remaining estimated 500 on the list have given cash contributions averaging about $10 each. Mrs. Lillie B. Hall of Lubbock gave $1,000 and sends a $50 monthly contribution, which is the largest from any individual. Two organizations send monthly contributions. They are the Lubbock Business and Professional Women's club, which sends $50 monthly, and the nursing staff of the Veterans administration at Waco hospital, which sends monthly gifts in varying amounts ranging from $56 to $75.

The partnership card, said Miss Anthony, is given to persons who have made definite contributions and displayed interest in the home, being given "only to individuals who have become part of the home."

Issuance of the cards is "our manner of expression of gratitude for help in making and molding our home in a home according to their desires—as a home for homeless and neglected young girls."

The cards bear a drawing of a little girl. They are captioned, "Partnership, Girlstown, U. S. A., home for homeless." Following the name of the person to whom a card is issued is the following, "By taking a part in the development of Girlstown, U. S. A., the above person is entitled to be a partner in the future of Girlstown" and the date and signature of the director.

BAN ON SHIPMENTS

LAKELAND, Fla., Dec. 13. (AP)—An eight-day ban on citrus shipments from Florida, beginning December 25, was declared today. The action by the federal citrus marketing agreement committee is customary at this time of year. It allows northern markets to dispose of heavy supplies of holiday fruit before new shipments pile in and ruin prices.

Extension For Field Assured

A stepout to the Good field in central-south Borden county has been completed as Condor Petroleum company No. 1-38 T. J. Good.

The well flowed 24 hours through a 20/64-inch choke and made a potential of 361 barrels of 43.3 gravity oil. Gas-oil ratio was 861-1. No water was present.

Flowing tubing pressure was 925 pounds and shutin casing pressure was 450 pounds.

A string of 5½-inch casing was set at 8,075 feet. Top of pay was 8,040 feet and total depth was 8,125 feet. Production was natural.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of southeast quarter of section 38, block 33, T-4-N, T&P survey.

SCURRY COUNTY WELL IS TAKING NEW DEEP TEST

Hiawatha Oil & Gas company, and associates, No. 1 Schattell, Northeast Scurry county wildcat which missed production in the Canyon reef lime, has entered the Ellenburger, and is now running a drillstem test on the top of that formation.

This project is five miles northeast of Snyder and approximately five miles southeast of the closest completed oil wells from the Canyon lime on the southeast side of the North Snyder field.

It topped the Ellenburger at 7,750 feet, on an elevation of 2,459 feet. The samples from 7,750 feet to the present bottom of 7,771 feet are reported by interested observers to have shown good signs of possible petroleum production.

The exploration developed some interesting shows of oil and gas in a drillstem test in a lime zone just above the Ellenburger.

That investigation covered the section at 7,684-7,751 feet. The tool was open one hour. There was a blow of air for a part of the period.

Recovery was 200 feet of very slightly gas cut drilling mud, and 120 feet of heavily gas cut, and slightly oil cut drilling mud.

No signs of formation water was developed. Open flowing bottom hole pressure was zero. Shutin bottom hole pressure, after 10 minutes, was 1,000 pounds.

Location of this prospector is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 90, block 2, H&TC survey.

NORTHWEST YOAKUM WELL SHOWS FOR PRODUCTION

Honolulu Oil Corporation No. 1 Cobb, Northeast Yoakum county prospective discovery for commercial production from the upper Clear Fork of the Permian from the section at 6,031-6,144 feet, has encountered possibilities of making an oil well from a lower section of the Permian.

This venture is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 381, block D, John H. Gibson survey, and 12 miles east of Plains.

The latest signs of oil and gas came from the zone between 7,888 feet and 8,070 feet.

A drillstem test was run for four hours at 7,891-8,044 feet. A 540-foot water blanket was used. Recovery was the water blanket which was cut with oil and gas and 630 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud. The fluid all unloaded out of the drill pipe while it was being pulled.

Another drillstem test was taken at 7,888-8-070 feet. The tool was open four hours. Gas came to the surface in three hours and five minutes. The volume was not gauged or estimated.

Recovery was 500 feet of oil and gas cut drilling mud. That fluid was practically all unloaded out of the drill pipe while it was being pulled. There was no formation water.

The venture is now making hole below 8,160 feet in lower Permian lime.

DICKENS WILDCAT NOW AWAITS DRILLING ORDER

Union Oil Company of California No. 1 Elliott, Southwest Dickens county wildcat, five and one half miles southwest of Spur, and 1,990 feet from north and 2,052 feet from east lines of section 177, block 1, H&GN survey, is bottomed at 8,117 feet in granite, and is circulating while waiting on orders.

This project has not reported having logged any indications of production in any horizon it has penetrated.

According to some geologists it topped the Ellenburger at 8,054 feet. A 55-minute drillstem test was run at 8,032-70 feet. There was a weak blow of air for a part of the period.

Recovery was 225 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil, gas or water.

The project then continued to 8,106 feet, when it topped the granite wash. Top of the solid granite was at 8,115 feet.

rigidly in the future.

The Seminole schools play their part in the perpetual safety drive. Realistic caution signs slow traffic in the school zone. A large class of nigh school students are enrolled in the driving class and a late model car with dual controls is used for actual instruction.

The people of Seminole are a bit boastful of the fact that they live in "the safest town in Texas." They realize that the job of keeping it that way is increasing every day, but they feel equal to it.

PILOT UNAWARE OF CHANGE

Two Engines Stopped In Dallas Airliner Crash, Co-Pilot Says

DALLAS, Dec. 13. (AP)— The co-pilot of the American airliner which crashed here Nov. 29 said today in a statement from his hospital bed that two of the four engines were dead at the time of the crash.

Robert E. Lewis' statement was read at a Civil Aeronautics bureau hearing called to determine the cause of the accident that took 28 lives and left 18 injured.

Lewis still is hospitalized. In his statement he said he "feathered" the propellor of No. 4 engine without orders from the pilot, or the pilot's knowledge.

Two Engines Feathered

The 52-year-old pilot, Capt. Laurens Claude, testified yesterday he didn't know until then that the No. 4 propellor was feathered. Previously the No. 1 engine had been stopped and its propeller feathered, Claude said. When a propeller is feathered, the edges are turned into the wind so that it will not revolve.

"When I saw that Tommy (the pilot) was going to try to clear the field, I thought there would be less drag with No. 4 feathered," Lewis said. "We weren't getting any power from No. 4."

He said he glanced out the window at No. 4 engine and saw the propeller blades coming to a stop just as the plane hit a hangar.

He said he notified the control tower at Love field, where the DC-6 piled into buildings and exploded into flames, that he was feathering the No. 4 propeller.

"I got one contact through to the tower, so they wouldn't think it a mystery if we got killed and No. 4 was feathered," he added.

"What crew members were aware No. 4 was feathered?" an investigator asked him.

"I don't know. Tommy was too busy to know. The engineer was busy too."

Lewis gave this version:

"There was trouble with No. 1 engine over Tennessee and the engine was feathered, the flight continuing on three engines. Everything was normal until the plane reached the edge of the landing field at Love field, he said.

"As the captain completed his turn (approaching the runway), it was necessary to steepen his bank. The air speed dropped in one spurt from 160 to 120 miles per hour, and the airplane settled our from under him (Claude) like pulling the legs out from under a chair.

"'Power,' Tommy shouted at the engineer. (Flight Engineer W. S. Forbes).

"'No. 4 fuel down,' the engineer shouted.

"'Booster pump,' Tommy said. "The fuel pressure on No. 4 was gone. There was no surge of power from the booster pump. Tommy had both hands on the wheel, fighting to pick that left wing up. When he hollered for power, I pushed all four throttles all the way over.

"Tommy shouted to get the gear (landing wheels) up. I had to shove the engineer's knee out of the way to get at the lever, and then I got the gear up. I didn't raise the flaps. I didn't hear Tommy order the flaps up."

"Who feathered No. 4?" Lewis was asked by the examiner.

"I did," he replied.

HEARING UNDERWAY ON DALLAS PLANE CRASH—At the opening hearing, held by the Civil Aeronautics board in Dallas for inquiry into the American airlines DC-6 crash at Love Field on November 29, were Capt. W. P. McPhail, left, of Fort Worth, regional operations director for the southern region; Samuel E. Gates, center, attorney from New York, and Capt. Tommy Claude, pilot of the plane. (NEA Photo.)

Phone Installers Strike May Spread

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 13. (AP)—Negotiations have broken off between striking telephone installers and the Western Electric Co., dimming hopes that the mushrooming walkout can be checked.

The installers are members of local 70, CIO American Communications equipment workers union. Sixty of them walked off their jobs in nearby Granite City, Ill., last Tuesday.

They were followed by 200 here last Wednesday and by 200 more in Kansas City yesterday. The union wants $4.25 a day in extra pay for an installation job in Kansas City.

J. H. Brashear, president of the local, said today "we have every reason to anticipate the strike will spread "to other cities in Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas—the area served by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Australia will ration "gas" again.

San Francisco Men Protest Possible Closing Of Navy Yard

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13. (INS)— Three prominent San Francisco men called on defense secretary Johnson today to request that no action be taken to close Hunter's Point Navy yard.

Navy Secretary Matthews, who participated in the conference, said no assurances would be given other than that the matter would receive careful consideration.

Matthews added that the Navy has "no plans" at present to close the yard, but that he could not say what the recommendation of an "on-site" survey group which considered the matter would be.

The San Franciscans were Paul A. Bissinger, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Joseph Sullivan, president of the board of supervisors, and Francis V. Keesling, general counsel for the city.

They said they had heard reports that the "on-site" survey group had recommended the closing of the big yard, and that this would cause serious unemployment problems.

U. S. Santa Termed 'Too Commercial' By Latin 'Wise Men'

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 13 (U.P.) — The Three Kings of the Orient, the Latin version of Santa Claus, met the American Santa today and pronounced him "too commercial."

But he's winning Latin-America away from them anyway, they admitted. The children think the jolly round saint is more fun than the staid, dignified kings from the Bible.

The wise men, who bring gifts for every south-of-the-border child on Jan. 6, just as they brought gifts to the infant Jesus, were flown here from Mexico to meet Santa Claus.

Santa Called Commercial

"Santa is very jolly, but he is too commercial," Wise Man Enrique Ortega said.

"With us, Christmas is a time for fasting and prayers."

Ortega and the other two Wise Men, Juan de Domenico, a CMA official, and Profirio Romay, Mexican vice-consul, had a date with Santa under the city's 105-foot Christmas tree.

They showed up in the flowing blue robes, draped hat and false beards that the Mexican gift-giver substitutes for Santa's red suit.

Wise Men Ride Camels

The wise men ride on flying camels, instead of a sleigh.

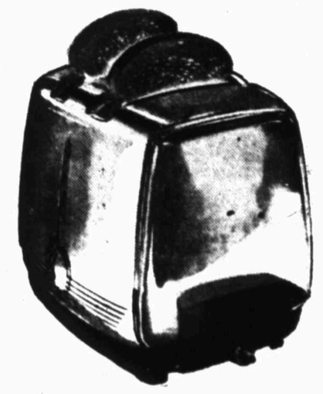

Mexican children write letters to the Wise Men, Ortega said, and leave them with them in department stores. More advanced stores now have Santa Claus and a Wise Man side by side. A child who wants to be on the safe side can place an order with both.

"Families are trying to keep the old customs, but you can't blame the children for liking the jolly, laughing Santa better than a sober old Wise Man," Ortega said.

"Perhaps it will not be long until Santa Claus conquers the country and runs us out of business," the Wise Man said.

UN Session Points Up Major Issues Between East, West

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

Evaluation of the 1949 United Nations General Assembly depends on where you sit.

The sessions served to emphasize the cold war. Russia followed a set policy. She used the forum to appeal to the masses in a manner not possible directly from Moscow, trying to impeach motives of the nations that opposed her.

She sought by every means to split the West and to play on any discord which developed. Her efforts only redoubled western determination to preserve unity—as witness British delay in recognizing Communist China.

The UN has been like the "big names" who are sometimes hired in Hollywood and then given nothing to do. Whether it has a health role or not, it has become a powerful weapon for the West in fighting Communism.

It was used, through the election of Yugoslavia to the security council, to widen the split between Tito and the Kremlin.

It exonerated the West of Russia's warmongering charges.

It avoided being used to increase tension between the West and Communist China.

The small nations viewing the East-West struggle were inclined to say "a plague on both your houses." But the upshot gave every evidence that world opinion was being more and more mobilized on the western side. The Russians put the seal on that by tagging the sessions as "unsatisfactory."

This was success or failure depending upon whether you consider western unity the best thing that can be hoped for under present circumstances, or whether you think the UN was designed to emphasize unity rather than descord.

The UN did pass one positive milestone. The big powers, unable to agree on the disposition of Italy's former African colonies, passed the problem to the Assembly.

On the highly doubtful side was the continuation of the Assembly's attempt to internationalize Jerusalem. Not only the adamant opposition of Israel and Jordan, but also the history of such international projects, led observers to shake their heads.

There was a long list of other positive actions:

To intervene in South Africa's handling of Southwest Africa and in colonial affairs everywhere; to bring the world court more actively into the adjudication of disputes and as legal adviser to the UN; to keep an eye on Korea and the Balkans through commissions; to provide the first international guard force for such missions and technical assistance for underdeveloped countries.

Although it has been given no peace to keep and has no power to make one of its own, the 1949 assembly did further some ideas which the West believes are good.

Art Student Accused Of Making Own Bills In Engraving Plant

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 13. (AP)— A 23-year-old commercial art student today was charged with sneaking into an engraving plant and counterfeiting his own Christmas money.

Raphael Willebrew, 23, was released on temporary bond of $5,000 following his arraignment on federal charges. His hearing was set for 10 a.m. Friday.

More Time Needed

Specifically, the government said that Killebrew unlawfully reproduced and photographed genuine five, ten and twenty-dollar bills.

"In a few more hours this man would have had all the Christmas spending money he needed," said Charles A. Ellis, special agent in charge of the San Antonio Bureau of the Secret service.

Ellis said the man, a Navy veteran studying art under the GI bill of rights, entered the Acme engraving plant through a roof ventilator during the weekend while no one was in the building.

Company Equipment Used

He said the artist used the company's cameras to make reproductions of five, ten and twenty dollar bills; completed the negatives and was working on the actual engraving plates when arrested Sunday night.

Earlier, on a routine check of the premises, the plant owner discovered the young man inside the building, but told Ellis he merely threw out the intruder, thinking he was a "bum."

Later becoming suspicious, the owner found that chemicals and other supplies had been tampered with.

The Secret service and San Antonio detectives began a vigil which ended with the arrest.

Walthall To Make Appearance At Midway Theatre Tonight

Wallace Walthall of Dallas, dean of the show business in the Southwest, is to make a personal appearance at the Midway theatre tonight at 8:45 o'clock in connection with the showing of "Birth of a Nation," starring his late brother, Henry B. Walthall.

The Dallas man is now distributor for the museum piece of the motion picture industry, which was the biggest of all silent films with a cast of 18,000, and 3,000 horses and has been seen by more than 80,000 million people since it was first exhibited in 1915.

The picture is on the Midway program today and Thursday.

Fried ants, eaten by some people in South Africa, are said to have a high vitamin content.

Answers In Damages Action Are Returned

A 72nd district court jury of which L. A. Jones was foreman returned answers to special issues Tuesday afternoon in the damages action of J. P. Bowling and wife against Will Stacy.

Stacy's counsel, W. D. Wilson, will move for judgment as a result, it was indicated.

The jury found that Stacy was not guilty of negligent driving in April of 1948 when his car and one driven by Mrs. Bowling were in collision on the Shallowater road. Rather, it answered that Mrs. Bowling failed to keep a proper lookout and that she suddenly turned her car to the left just prior to the collision. It said that both acts constituted negligence and that negligence was the proximate cause of the mishap.

It recommended no monetary recovery for Mrs. Bowling.

In the 99th court of Judge G. V. Pardue, the court was informed Tuesday afternoon that counsel for both sides had agreed to settle a compensation case and remove it from the jury. The case was that of Minnie Lee Welch against Texas Employer's Insurance association.

There was no announcement as to settlement terms. A judgment will be prepared for the court's inspection.

Moscow Organ Blasts Move To Change Date

Reds Accuse Finnish Leader Of Trying To Stir Up Trouble

(By The Associated Press)

MOSCOW, Dec. 13 — The Communist newspaper Pravda accused Finland's Prime Minister Karl A. Fagerholm today of violating the Soviet-Finnish friendship treaty and trying to stir up trouble with Russia.

Fagerholm, the paper said in an important editorial, "is once again dragging (Finland) into bloody senseless adventures" like the two Finnish-Soviet wars in the last decade.

The editorial attack on Finland's anti-Communist government was the sharpest official Soviet action since Fagerholm crushed a series of Communist strikes last September. Finland, Russia's neighbor on the Baltic sea, is the only country on Russia's European border that is not Communist-dominated.

Pravda centered its fire on a proposal made by Fagerholm last week to change the date of Finland's national independence day to commemorate the beginning of the 1939 Soviet-Finnish war. Finland now celebrates independence day on Dec. 6, the anniversary of the date in 1917 when Finland broke away from czarist Russia during the Red revolution.

Pravda said Fagerholm wanted to abandon Dec. 6 as an independence celebration because it reminded the Finns of friendship with the Soviet Union. It said Fagerholm wished to "rehabilitate" Finnish Fascists by celebrating the anniversary of the 1939 war—when Russia defeated Finland—as independence day.

The newspaper described the proposal as unneighborly and asserted it was "in clear contradiction to the spirit and letter" of the Finnish-Soviet friendship pact signed after Russia defeated Finland a second time in 1944.

It said Fagerholm's Social Democratic government had acted consistently on the orders of foreign imperialists.

They will raise then, and next year will return the best gilt of the first litter for the 1950 awards.

Work Begins For Erection Of Will Rogers Statue At Tech

Preliminary work toward erection of an equestrian statue of the late Will Rogers donated by Amon G. Carter of Fort Worth was begun on the Texas Technological college campus Tuesday.

Frank Sherwood, representative of Thomas S. Byrne, Fort Worth engineer and general contractor, was in Lubbock to arrange for terracing of the site where the college flagpole now stands and erection of a suitable foundation and pedestal for the statue.

The bronze statue itself has been at the college for some time. Sherwood is working with E. J. Urbanovsky, college landscape architect, on arrangements for placing the statue.

Cheering Throng Greets U. S. Beauties In Swedish Festival

By AXEL WENNERLING
INS Staff Correspondent

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 13 — Five American beauties, white-robed and crowned with glowing candles, rode the "Uncle Sam" float through Stockholm today amid the applause of tens of thousands of happy Swedes celebrating the "Lucia Bride" festival.

The pretty American girls were selected by their home towns to participate in the traditional Dec. 13 Holiday of Light—a combination religious ceremony, beauty contest and pre-Christmas fete.

A tragic note was struck in the otherwise gay holiday by the death of three Swedish "Lucia Brides" in an auto-train accident at Norrkoeping, south of Stockholm. Two other "Lucia" girls riding in the car were injured.

The American "Lucia Brides," who flew to Stockholm for the colorful parade of floats, singing and dancing, are:

Norma Freeman, 20, Chicago; Lorraine Olsen, 19, Seattle; Corine Nerman, 17, Minneapolis; Lois Westerdahl, 18, New York; and Carrol Auddet, 17, Bristol, Conn.

Miss Freeman, a Swedish-American girl, is the "queen of light" of American representatives; the others are her maids of honor.

A cold gray day and heavy sleet failed to dim the enthusiasm of the spectators, who cheered lustily when the American girls, accompanied by two fairy figures, rode by, following the Swedish float and the home country's queen of light, beautiful Gerd Larson.

A brief Communist demonstration against the American float went virtually unnoticed amid the good humor of the crowd.

The "Lucia Brides" are chosen by their respective communities to enact the part of St. Lucia, martyred at the stake in 300 A.D. In the course of time, the saint's day was tied in with the approach of Christmas, the longest night of the year, and most recently, a beauty contest.

The American participants—a bit chilled — smiled bravely throughout their ride, and waved at the throng.

Breathlessly, Lorraine Olsen said, "I am so happy to meet the Swedish people. They are all so kind. I'm sorry I wasn't able to meet the crown prince. Everyone's been so wonderful, I feel as 'at home' in Sweden as I do in Seattle."

Lorraine brought Christmas presents for her friends and now plans a visit to Jaemtland to meet her cousin and do some skiing.

She was to have met the crown prince when she delivered a Seattle Rotary club message to the Stockholm Rotary group, but the Swedish nobleman was unable to attend.

The American "Lucias" attended a dance tonight—one of many lasting until the wee small hours of the morning.

"BRIDE OF LIGHT"—Norma Freeman, 20-year-old Chicago fashion designer, was crowned America's "Lucia Bride," or "Bride of Light," at ceremonies in Chicago. She flew to Stockholm to represent the United States in the ancient Swedish ritual marking the beginning of the Christmas season.

W. J. Minton, Early Texas Editor, Dies

SHERMAN, Dec. 13. (UP)—W. J. Minton, one of the first editors in Texas to oppose the Ku Klux Klan in the early 1920's, died at his home here today after an extended illness.

The 83-year-old publisher of the Sherman weekly Texas Courier was a friend of the late Joseph Pulitzer, distinguished publisher and founder of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Minton's paper was established as the Sherman Courier May 10, 1867. Now known as the Texas Courier, it is a Texas corporation with 100,000 shares of paid stock with a substantial number of Grayson county citizens as stockholders.

Minton began announcing for governor of Texas in 1944 on the Democratic ticket and although his name appeared upon the ballot, his friends regarded his candidacy with a "tongue-in-cheek" attitude as the veteran publisher did not make an active campaign.

As evidence of this, Minton was a candidate again in 1946 and in 1948 and only last spring had announced he would run again in 1950, 1952 and 1954.

Minton was well-liked. When he announced he was a 1948 candidate for governor, Grayson county friends immediately raised the $100 filing fee.

A native of Hopkins county, Minton had lived here 45 years. He once published the Daily Courier but sold that paper in 1920.

Gaines County 4-H Clubs To Continue Study Of Livestock

SEMINOLE, Dec. 13 (Special)—Gaines county 4-H club members will continue to concentrate on their study of livestock and feeding methods during December, Assistant County Agent Bill Taylor said today.

A series of movies on livestock raising will be shown at the meetings of the county's six clubs during the month. A field trip for members is also planned.

Information concerning a statewide soil conservation essay contest is being distributed to the boys and a large number of entries is expected, Taylor said.

Contestants will enter 300-word essays on "My Soil Conservation District." The state winner will receive an expense-paid trip to Colorado. Cash prizes will be awarded to regional and area winners and a special prize of $10 will be given to the Gaines county winner.

U. S. Consul, Party Tell Of Constant Harassment By Chinese Reds While Held Captive At Mukden

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
Far Eastern Director, INS

ABOARD LAKELAND VICTORY, Taku Bar, Dec. 14 (Wednesday) — Consul Angus Ward was pronounced in "exceptionally good" condition today despite an attack of pleurisy brought on by his month-long detention by the Chinese Communists in a "cold, damp" prison cell.

Ward, his clothes flapping loosely about his wasted frame, still spoke with bitterness and contempt of the Communist government at Mukden that held him and his consulate staff under armed guard for 13 months.

He and his party of 19, however, looked forward eagerly to the hour when their sanctuary ship, the SS Lakeland Victory would weigh anchor and leave Taku bar for the journey home.

Paul Sexton, master of the U.S. freighter dispatched to pick up Ward and his party at Tientsin, hopes to leave the North China port sometime today.

Medical Officer Maj. William Basch spent most of yesterday giving thorough physical examinations to everyone of the party resting in at least comparative comfort for the first time since they began the 400-mile journey in a rickety train from Mukden to Tientsin.

Maj. Basch declared Ward "pathologically strong" and declared:

"I'll give him vitamins three times a day and he'll be in good shape by the time he reaches Japan. I am advising against his entering a hospital because I don't think he needs it."

Maj. Basch said Ward had lost "lots of weight"—25 pounds—but except for the pleurisy, "he's okay."

The medical officer pronounced Mrs. Ward also in "good" shape and disclosed that he will give all members of the party including the children vitamin shots daily.

Ward and his staff spoke freely of the constant harassment to which the Communists subjected them—a program of calculated annoyance that extended even to their rescue ship.

Ward had words of high praise for the courage of his staff in the face of hardship. He declared:

"That staff of mine set a new record for morale. It was a marvelous group."

Ward, after being found "guilty" on a trumped up charge of beating a Chinese consulate employe, was ordered deported from Mukden.

He said Red authorities charged them $7000 for the train fare to Tientsin, including shipment of 10 carloads of property.

The party spent practically 40 hours on the journey in a third class railroad car with wooden seats. They were virtually "sealed" in the car as armed guards patrolled the aisle and watched the entrances.

Then Communist authorities, after forcing Ward to leave his radio equipment in the open at Mukden until it became unusable, insisted it be buried under tons of cargo in the ship's hold so it would not be "used in territorial Communist waters."

The consul had no liking for his role as the principal character in an explosive international incident unparalleled in American diplomatic annals. Despite his 28 days in solitary confinement and the "kangaroo court" aspects of his farcial trial, he declared:

"I hope I'm like a swift meteor that flares and disappears."

Russian Troops Absent

Ward's acute powers as an observer were sharpened rather than dulled by his sufferings. He was able to report he had observed no Russian soldiers in Mukden or along the route to Tientsin. Despite the isolation of the consulate staff in their quarters, Ward noted a terrific inflation in Chinese currency after the Reds took the city.

He said the Chinese dollar skyrocketed from 70,000 to one American dollar a year ago to 180,000 to one. Ward also noted an increase in industrial activity in the Manchurian metropolis.

Ralph Rehberg, an administrative officer at the consulate, told how the Communists reacted when Mrs. Ward was ill with what proved to be a slight appendicitis attack. They permitted a British doctor to enter the isolated consulate compounds and Rehberg said:

"But they gave him only two minutes to diagnose and cure her, saying that is all a physician should need to cure people."

Despite their ingenuity in preparing a makeshift Christmas tree for the children with branches stuck into a two-by-four, the day fizzled.

Without power — cut off Nov. 20th — there were no lights or music on the electric phonograph. The staff had retired at mid day. Then Vice-Consul Fred Hubbard told with glowing eyes of a minor Christmas miracle.

"I was awakened by the singing of carols. I could not believe my ears and shook my head but I still heard the carols."

He said the electricity had been cut in for the first time in more than a month and with lights and music they spent "a truly wonderful Christmas."

Ward recounted additional details of the episode which led to his deportation. He said that after lengthy dispute with the Chinese messenger he was accused of beating the man grabbed his left leg.

The consul said he walked four or five steps to a stairway landing where the Chinese let go.

"And that," said Ward, "ended my contact with him."

During the incident, said Ward, the messenger's brother ran at him with a club but Rehberg intercepted the Chinese. Then the Chinese servants of the consulate attacked Alfred Kristan, a German employe, who came to Rehberg's assistance, "though he needed no help."

Ward said Communist guards stood by and watched Kristan's beating without lifting a finger.

The consul said the messenger banged his head "in pure frustration" against an iron railing, Ward recalled:

"I told the court that. The court said I was guilty because I caused the frustration."

Rehberg said he explained to Red authorities he held the other Chinese involved to prevent him from striking Ward. He was told:

"While you held his arms, you denied him liberty. Therefore you oppose the liberty of Chinese workers."

Brownsville Soldier, Harlingen Cavalry Unit Share Top Honors

AUSTIN, Dec. 13. (AP) — A Brownsville master sergeant and a Harlingen company won top honors in the Texas National Guard's fall recruiting drive.

Master Sergeant Arthur Marroquin, Company A, 112th Armored Cavalry regiment, Brownsville, was named champion recruiter with 40 recruits to his credit.

The unit enlisting the most recruits was Company B, 112th Armored Cavalry regiment, Harlingen.

The winners were announced yesterday by State Adjutant General K. L. Berry.

Berry said Gov. Allan Shivers sometime in January will present a hunting rifle, which the governor donated, to Sgt. Marroquin and an engraved plaque to Company B.

The statewide recruiting campaign netted 2,167 recruits for the Guard, Berry said.

FBI Cracks U. S. Counterfeit Ring

NEW YORK, Dec. 13. (U.P.)—The FBI cracked down on a nationwide $1 million counterfeiting ring today with the arrest of former convict George G. Gillette, brother-in-law of Brooklyn rackets boss Joe Adonis.

The FBI said other arrests were expected shortly throughout the nation.

Agents Crash Party

Federal agents crashed Gillette's 39th birthday party last night at his home to arrest him on a charge of conspiracy to transport bogus travelers checks drawn on the American Express Co.

U. S. Commissioner Edward McDonald held Gillette on $75,000 bail for a 10:30 a. m. hearing after refusing "to consider for a minute" releasing him for $5,000 which he offered as bail from his wallet.

U. S. District Attorney Irving H. Saypol identified Gillette as a top leader in a rang which planned to pass off the phony drafts throughout the world.

The same underworld organization also counterfeited draft cards, automobile drivers licenses and registration cards and three-cent stamps, Saypol said.

The FBI said the ring employed the same printers arrested after secret service agents arrested Michael Maione, 38, in New York last August as the head of a ring flooding the country with $2 million in fake stamps and $10 and $20 bills. Maione, indicted with eight others on charegs of conspiracy to possess and sell counterfeit money, is expected to go on trial soon.

COLDWATER, Mich., Dec. 13. (U.P.)—Melvin Seitler wanted two days off.

His fellow workers chipped in for flowers which were sent to Grand Rapids, Mich., and signed for by a man named Arthur Seitler.

AMA Says Doctors Accepting New Plan To Raise 'War Chest'

By ROBERT N. SCHWARTZ
INS Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Dec. 13.—A spokesman for the American Medical association said today that the group's plan to collect an annual $3 million war chest to fight plans for socialized medicine is finding "widespread acceptance."

He said the AMA's 144,000 member-doctors appeared to be divided about 10 to 1 in favor of the plan, which would impose $25 per year dues to raise the fund.

Few Dissenters Heard

The spokesman explained:

"There were no negative votes when action was taken at our Washington meeting last week by the house of delegates . . . and only a few dissenting opinions have been heard now."

Last year a $25 per member assessment by the AMA brought a sharp division in the ranks of medicine and generated a heated controversy with some of the largest constituent bodies — especially county medical societies in the east — voting against the action.

The spokesman said that a random poll of doctors in the Chicago area showed a 10 to 1 margin in favor of the house of delegates' action.

One doctor, who asked that his name not be used, asserted:

"Collection of dues is perfectly all right under our constitution. The assessment was a horse of a different color and I opposed it."

Another Chicago doctor said he had refused to pay the assessment last year and would refuse to pay the dues this year.

Delinquents To Be Dropped

Under AMA rules, this physician, and others who refuse to pay their dues, will be dropped automatically when he has been delinquent for a year.

Dr. Elmer H. Henderson, Louisville, Ky., former AMA president and chairman of the educational campaign, summed up top-level AMA feeling. He said:

"American medicine is no longer on the defensive. During the year, American medicine has become a well-organized, powerful fighting force for freedom.

"Dissension and bickering have almost disappeared."

He said that about two-thirds of the money raised in the present campaign will be for "positive" action — such as encouraging voluntary health plans.

Wyoming Man Begins Paying Debt To Jap Who Saved Life

GREYBULL, Wyo., Dec. 13. (AP) —Henry Schmidt today began payment on a wartime debt to a Japanese who risked his own life to smuggle food to starving American prisoners at the Osaka shipyards.

Schmidt, an American construction worker taken prisoner at Wake island, promised the shipyard worker that he would bring the man's son to the United States for an education in return for aid that spelled the difference between survival and starvation.

The son, 16-year-old Haruo Kasai, will arrive Friday in San Francisco aboard the S. S. President Cleveland and will fly to Billings, Mont., to be met Saturday by Schmidt and his wife.

December Allowable Cuts Reduce U.S. Crude Output

TULSA, Okla., Dec. 13 (AP) — Cuts in December allowables throughout midcontinent states accounted for most of a 125,825-barrel drop in the nation's daily average crude oil production for the week ended Dec. 10, the Oil and Gas Journal reported today.

The journal gave the total daily average as 4,934,425 barrels.

Biggest declines were in Texas, off 109,825 barrels to 1,976,700 barrels; Kansas, down 12,950 barrels to 281,250, and Oklahoma, off 9,650 to 407,100.

Top increases were Illinois, up 6,600 barrels to 179,200; Louisiana, up 2,950 to 536,800; the eastern area, 1,800 to 56,000; Kentucky, 1,500 to 26,400, and Arkansas, 1,000 to 7,650.

Filing Of Claims By POW's Is Clarified

There is no deadline for filing of claims by former prisoners of war to receive $1 a day grants for every day of imprisonment, J. W. Sanders, VFW department representative with the VA regional office, said Tuesday.

Sanders, clarifying provisions of Public Law 896, also pointed out that application blanks are not yet available for the funds to be paid the ex-prisoners of war or their dependents.

Previous reports of a Jan. 1, 1950, deadline on applications were erroneous, Sanders said. Public Law 896 carries no deadline provision and none has been set by the War Claims commission.

Forms for application are expected to be available around Jan. 1, Sander. said, and arrangements will be made for a meeting of all former prisoners of war in the Lubbock area to aid in the processing of forms.

More than half the total area of Oregon is under federal control. This includes 13 national forests, two national park service areas and extensive grazing acreages.

COTTON ELECTION

Big Vote Needed

INFORMED observers appear to share the opinion that South Plains cotton farmers will vote overwhelmingly for restoration of marketing quotas in the election tomorrow. But there is uneasiness that the vote will be light.

The election comes at a bad time for farmers of this area. Most of them still are in the midst of the harvest rush. It is feared that many will not take time to vote.

In most of the cotton belt, the harvest has been finished. These include the areas where the opposition to the restoration of acreage controls next year has been most vigorous. The vote in those areas almost certainly will be heavy.

The proposition must be approved by a 2-to-1 vote if controls are to be restored. This means that areas like the South Plains must produce majorities in favor of the plan sufficient to offset the opposition vote elsewhere if it is to be approved.

The expectation appears to be that controls will be restored regardless of the turnout on the South Plains. It may make no difference in the outcome whether the vote and the majority in this area is large or small. But no chances should be taken. It is conceivable that a large vote and majority on the South Plains could mean the difference between approval and rejection of the plan for the nation.

This area has no reason to complain because of the acreage allotments proposed if controls are restored. There is no question as to the existence of cotton surpluses so large they are a menace to the stability of the cotton market. Farmers have notice that support prices will be trimmed to 50 per cent of parity, as compared with the present 90 per cent, if controls are rejected. They have every reason to expect a continuation of 90 per cent if they are approved.

Eligible to vote tomorrow are every landlord, farmer, tenant and sharecropper, and their wives, who were interested in the growing of cotton in 1948. Self-interest seems to demand that all who possibly can do so should go to the polls and vote for controls.

A Risky Partnership

MANY Americans are likely to look with much skepticism on the suggested "partnership" of the United States, Great Britain and Canada in atomic research and development.

Under such an arrangement, Britain and Canada would be given full access to everything Uncle Sam has learned about atomic energy at a cost of several billion dollars to American taxpayers. Just what Britain and Canada might contribute to such a partnership is vague, but it wouldn't be much.

An incident illustrative of reasons why many Americans might be hesitant to take Great Britain into confidence in atomic matters occurred not long ago. The British, then seeking one of their many handouts from Uncle Sam, said they might have to establish a closer relationship with Russia if they didn't get what they wanted.

If we take them in as atomic partners, what's to keep them from turning those secrets over to the Soviet if they fail to get whatever they may ask from the U. S?

The proposed partnership is not likely to impress the great majority of Americans favorably unless proof more convincing than any stated thus far can be produced that it would be in the best interests of this nation. It has the present earmarks of a deal which would require Uncle Sam to give a great deal and assume new risks without getting anything worthwhile in exchange.

Overheard, disgrutled Republican speaking: "With a Roosevelt on the east coast in politics and one on the West coast getting into politics, this country is in the middle of a bad fix."

"Illinois divorce records show that family fights invariably start in the kitchen."—News item. Also, statistics show that more accidents resulting in injuries occur in the kitchen than in any other room in the house. In the interest of amity and safety, the kitchen should be abolished.

Wonder What The Landing Speed Is When This Comes Down?

The Cameo

By VIRGINIA TEALE
Distributed By NEA, Inc.

(THE STORY: Andrey Yakov, Russian artist, wants to trade letters that will clear Hagar Blair of murder charges for a chance to examine a valuable cameo locket in possession of Stephanie Smith. Stephanie, in examining the locket, finds a secret spring and hidden away in the back was a paper which might be a clue in the case. Police are going to Hagar's home with Stephanie to meet Yakov and learn, if they can, the mystery of the carnelian cameo.)

XXVII

AS he guided Setphanie past the Chief's office, Reddy opened the door a crack. He saw Arnold Pfieffer hunched in one of the big oak armchairs while Peters scowled at him across the desk. The Chief looked up: "Yes?" His voice was brusque.

"Excuse me, Chief. Miss Smith and I are leaving for her place. Just thought I'd tell you."

"Okay, okay. See you up there in 15 minutes or so." He waved a hand in dismissal.

Reddy took Stephanie's arm "Wow! The Chief's really got his back up about something. Wonder what Pfieffer's been telling him. Find out soon enough, I guess."

The car beamed its lights up the street, picking out the purple blossoms of the misembryanthemum that covered Hagar's parking strip.

Reddy leaned forward, "Don't see Yakov's car anywhere. I'm glad we got here first." He braked the car to a stop, "Did you leave your lights on?"

Stephanie was gathering up her purse and gloves, "Yes. I thought I might be coming back alone — I don't like to walk into a dark house."

Reddy gave her his hand as she climbed from the car: "Now you're showing good sense. At a time like this, a good, healthy well-founded fear is nothing to be ashamed of."

She fumbled for her key, "When is Inspector Trotter coming? I expected to find quite a reception committee on the front steps, and here we are all by ourselves."

Reddy put his arms around her and gently drew her close: "Thanks for pointing that out," he whispered. When he had lifted his lips from hers Stephanie looked up at him.

"I liked that, Charlie."

"In that case—" He bent toward her once more.

A raucous motor laboring up the hill warned them of an approaching audience. They separated and stood watching the oncoming lights.

A FEW minutes later Trotter had joined them and they were in the house, quipping about California weather. At last Trotter looked at his watch:

"Yakov knows I'm with the Bureau, so perhaps all of us will learn more if I keep out of sight when he arrives. Perhaps in Miss Blair's bedroom. But, meanwhile, I'd like a quick look at the cameo and the paper you found in it."

As Stephanie made her way to the bedroom, Reddy asked: "Am I out of order asking what Yakov's up to?"

"Not out of order, just a trifle previous," Trotter replied, filling his pipe. "The whole thing's turned out different than we anticipated. Originally I was dogging Falter. He turned out to be something of a red herring and Yakov appeared to be the fox. We suspect he's doing some job for the Russian government."

Stephanie returned with the silver box and the small fragment of folded paper. Stephanie translated the paper for Trotter: "The Cherry Orchard, gold and morocco binding, Dr. Urich, St. Petersburg College." Trotter wrote rapidly in his notebook and then examined the silver box.

Reddy strode the length of the room and back, "The thing that bothers me most is that there doesn't appear to be any connection between the mystery of the cameo and the mystery of the two murders. But, the whole thing must tie up somewhere." He gave a short, rueful laugh, "If this keeps up, they'll ask me to turn in my police badge and confine my talents to ambulance chasing."

Trotter had pried out the velvet cushion and was running his fingers over the inside surface of the silver box. He looked up at Reddy and grinned:

"I've felt th same way from time to time. Somehow or other, I've a hunch this thing's ready to fall into a nice clean-cut pattern like the colored glass segments in a kaleidoscope." He fitted the cushion into the box and returned the cameo to its resting place. "Didn't Yakov say that these letters or papers he has will get Miss Blair out of jail? Well, it follows that they'll also point to the real murderer." He snapped his fingers, "Case solved!"

"Yeah." Reddy consulted his watch. "If he ever gets here with the papers!"

"It is getting late," Stephanie commented. "You don't think he could've come back while I was away from the house?"

"How about phoning him?"

AS she started across the floor the phone pealed shrilly from Hagar's bedroom. Trotter and Reddy turned attentive faces toward the sound as Stephanie hurried to answer the call.

She returned immediately and signaled Reddy: "It's Chief Peters."

Reddy's eyebrows went up in surpise. He strode quickly to the phone.

Stephanie and Trotter sat facing each other, their expressions mutely questioning whether to make small talk, or, dropping all pretense, try to eavesdrop on Reddy's words. By unspoken agreement, they eavesdroped:

"Who found him?" Reddy was asking urgently.

Trotter and Stephanie stared at each other with startled eyes.

"Was he able to say anything?" Reddy was demanding. "What does the doctc say?"

"It must be Mr. Yakov," Stephanie whispered. "Something's happened to him!"

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

IT really isn't any wonder that we have to pay so much for everything we buy.

Sometimes you realize that more by a simple example than by a lot of hi-falutin dissertations of so-called experts.

BRANDEIS

Take this morning.

I was going for a little walk to get some fresh air before sitting down at the typewriter.

In our driveway was an oil truck putting oil into our tank.

Across the street was another oil truck fueling a neighbor's tank.

Down a way was a third truck doing the same for another family in the block.

So I started to wonder and, as I was walking along and noticed still a fourth oil truck, the whole thing looked crazier and crazier.

Four huge oil trucks belonging to four different firms selling four different brands of oil all in one block!

What a waste of gas, of tires, of time and of labor!

Why couldn't those four firms get together and allocate territories to one another?

Or why couldn't some authority be set up to regulate that sort of thing?

The more thinking I did, the more befogged I got.

The more solutions I figured out in my own mind the more I threw them out as opposed to free enterprise and competition, and approaching socialism and the Welfare State.

Coming back from my walk I told my wife about what I had seen and thought about.

(By the way, it's a good idea to talk about such things as economics and politics with your wife.

The average woman knows very little about these subjects and cares less. But often a wife whose mind is on the kitchen or the kids comes up

NEW WAR IS PLOTTED

Nazis In Argentina

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON: The representatives of three government agencies—State, the Federal Bureau of Investigation and Naval Intelligence—are keeping their eyes on a clique of unreconstructed Nazi emigres in Argentina who preach a World War III in which a new and powerful Germany will fight on the side of Russia against the United States and her allies.

The group consists of military men, professors, scientists and publicists who escaped from Germany in the last few months before Hitler's collapse. They publish their own newspaper, "Der Weg," which means "The Way," and they seem able to ship it to key leaders in Eastern and Western Germany. It is master-minded by Dr. Colin Ross, who headed the Nazis' publicity machine in this country before we entered the war in 1941.

TUCKER

THREATENING: It is considered significant that there are almost a million people of Slavic descent in Argentina, including some of Stalin's key men. For the newest and most threatening twist to the anti-U. S. propaganda is that Germany should pool her industrial and scientific skills with Russia's vast resources of manpower in any future conflict.

"Der Weg's" articles constantly point out that Germany would have achieved victory in World War I and II, if it had not been for the financial and material aid we gave to Britain, France and Russia even before we became involved.

Therefore, according to this reasoning, Berlin's historic enemy is the United States, not the Soviet.

CONTACT: Washington refuses to become too excited over this threat, regarding it as relatively unimportant now. But diplomats with long memories recall that Lenin and Trotsky planned the Russian revolution of 1917 from remote cellars here and in France, and that they seemed no more dangerous then than do the pro-Hitlerites in Buenos Aires now.

Moscow's recent decision to return scores of captured German officers to her Eastern Zone, however, has stirred considerable concern over the Argentine movement. It is believed that the Buenos Aires conspirators may have established contact with the Kremlin.

SUIT: The government's anti-trust suit against the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company threatens to become the most sensational in the history of prosecution of alleged monopolies. It has already stirred more interest than the late Kenesaw Mountain Landis's $29,000,000 fine against Standard Oil many years ago.

A&P's $5,000,000 advertising campaign has apparently aroused the housewives. Attorney General McGrath and Assistant Attorney General Herbert A. Bergson, who heads the anti-trust decision, report that they have received about 3,000 letters on this case alone, and that 80 per cent criticize the department's action.

A. & P. says that it has received 15,000 messages at New York and elsewhere, and that the great majority are pro-chain store.

GALLUP. Mr. McGrath charges that the company's "slick" advertising has "deceived" the customers, and is responsible for this unprecendented deluge of mail in a civil action. When informed that a Gallup poll showed two-to-one support for the company, he snapped:

"I hope the Gallup poll is better in the food business than it was in the political business!"

RAILROADS: The plight of the nation's railroads has suddenly become an extremely serious concern at the White House as a result of developments which may plunge many of the lines into bankruptcy or bring them under the shadow of government ownership. Contrary to some reports, government ownership is the last thing President Truman wants.

Railroad executives have warned the Interstate Commerce Commission that they may have to file bankruptcy suits if it decides against them in the Administration's attempt to collect $2 billion in alleged overcharges during the war. They are losing revenue to competitors despite postwar fare boosts, and could not raise the money to pay that amount.

INCONSISTENCY: Their lawyers have noted with sarcasm during the I.C.C. hearings the inconsistency of the government's policy. While it seeks to strengthen the lines with rate increases, in claiming two billion in overcharges, it is trying to take away from them a larger sum, than they would get from higher fares. Several I.C.C. members seemed impressed with this argument.

And, for once, the union are "agin'" the government. They do not want to see their employers bankrupt, realizing that any reorganization might mean a wage cut. Nor do the railroad workers, who are regarded as a conservative and realistic body of men, want Uncle Sam as their hard-boiled boss. They remember President Truman's scheme for breaking a threatened, postwar strike by drafting them into the Army.

LEGISLATION: The upshot will probably be new legislation designed to solve our national transportation problem, including creation of the Department of Transportation recommended by the Hoover commission.

The system for getting Americans and their essential freight from one place to another, once the wonder of the world, threatens to break down, and in another war, or even in peace time, such a collapse would be a national catastrophe.

"President Truman says no change in the price of gold will be made as long as he is President." But wouldn't it be horse-and-buggy to leave something in status quo ante? Wouldn't that constitute a stagnant eddy in our maelstrom of progress?

Chief W. E. Twitty, of the Lubbock fire department, announced yesterday that in the event losses for the remaining short time of 1929 are nominal, Lubbock's fire loss for the year will be small as compared with 1928.

Lubbock's fire losses for 1928 approximated $54,000, while the aggregate loss for this year is estimated at $44,000, for 182 alarms. The average loss of each alarm during the last year is about $241.

DEMOS HAVE ANSWER FOR ATTACKS

Truman To Push Social Program

BY THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — New dispatches from Key West reveal that President Truman is preparing more of the same for Congress when it reassembles in January. That is, the same broad, all-inclusive social and economic program which he has regularly presented every year.

STOKES

Nobody here expected him to do anything else. It is the attack along the whole front which now has become fixed Truman technique.

He has struck to it despite criticism in which his method is compared with that of his predecessor, Franklin D. Roosevelt who, with a fine sense of timing, would concentrate on two or three major measures a session.

Made Numerous Requests

It may be recalled that when Mr. Truman sent his first annual message to Congress, in which 57 different legislative items were counted by the sticklers for satistics, he was described facetiously as "throwing a whole Sears-Roebuck catalogue at Congress." This scatter-shooting, it was forecast, would not work, as Congress would be under no special pressure for any of it. It didn't work for quite a time, that is, until after Harry Truman's re-election, when the barricades finally gave way a bit last session.

But this method, too, probably has its value for Mr. Truman's purposes. By repeating the list year after year the President finally aroused various groups affected by his proposals, which probably was quite a factor in his re-election. Finally, with his re-election, the impact of these aroused groups finally made a dent on Congress. The President is keeping all of them stirred up, both for the coming session of Congress and for the congressional elections next fall.

WHILE this tends to solidify behind him various groups whose special and particular interests are often in conflict, it also soldidifies the opposition, which likewise is composed of diverse groups. This has raised up two warring camps which will clash head-on in Congress next session as in the congressional elections thereafter, a sort of battle of giants.

The doctors, for example, have become so riled up over the President's health insurance program that the American Medical Association, at its annual convention here, imposed dues on its members for the first time — $25 a head — to raise a fund to fight the President's program which, with 145,000 members, would amount to $3,625,000. The National Association of Manufacturers, at its convention in New York, stiffened its resistance all along the line to the "welfare state."

Challenge Given Groups

Significant in this whole picture on the administration side, and a new factor, is the missionary work with business by Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer which is regarded as directed chiefly at small business in the effort to enlist it, along with labor and the farmers, on the administration's side. In a recent New York speech in which he deplored the battle of the giants — giant business, grant labor and giant agriculture — who "stand and watch each other, sometimes with a baleful eye," Mr. Sawyer asked:

"Will they whip themselves into a frenzy of emotion and charge in to a death struggle to destroy each other, or will they pool their strength to make America even greater?"

HE offered what he called "the new liberalism," as distinguished from the older liberalism of the 19th century. The idea of the "new liberalism" is that of balance, he said, of "a middle ground which is best for all in the long run" and which discards "all preconceptions concerning the class struggle."

"What we want — and what is the essence of the 'new liberalism' — is a balanced social and economic system in which the individual plays a large part but with full regard for the group and community interests and for the necessary and constructive functions of the state as an agent of the people's will and the embodiment of our democratic ideals."

You will hear more emphasis on this definition to meet the "statism" cry.

It may or may not tame the giants.

VISIT TO PSYCHIATRIST REPORTED

Officials Claim Prior Treatment Sought By Iowa Slaying Suspect

By LEE FERRERO
INS Staff Correspondent

IOWA CITY, Dec. 13.— Authorities dug up evidence today that a University of Iowa psychology student accused of the "blackout" murder of his campus sweetheart recently sought psychiatric treatment because of an "urge to kill."

The handsome, tousle-haired senior, Robert Bednasek, 24, is charged with the strangulation killing early Sunday of Margaret Anne Jackson, 20, after a candle-lit seafood and burgundy wine dinner in his rooming house, "The Empty Arms."

Student Denies Charge

The former Cedar Rapids high school editor, however, steadfastly denied the accusation from his Johnson county jail cell where he is being held pending a preliminary hearing Dec. 21. He declared: "I couldn't have knowingly hurt her. I loved her so much. I still do.

"I have been lying here trying to think of a reason for killing her, but there wasn't any and I can't think of one now.

"If I had hated her, it would be different, but we were in love. If she were here now, she would tell you that."

Meanwhile, Bednasek's Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity brothers launched a drive for funds to aid the accused youth's defense.

Visit To Doctor Reported

County Attorney Jack C. White said Bednasek, who studied abnormal psychology, visited an Iowa City psychiatrist three weeks ago for advice because he "was suffering from homicidal and suicidal impulses."

White added:

"As far as we're concerned, we have the intent established through the psychiatrist's report and the motive pinned down as jealousy."

Bednasek had stated that he was "perturbed" when the beauteous co-ed invited C. Warren Shelton, a music senior from Denver, to escort her to her Kappa Alpha Theta sorority dance last Friday.

Situation Claimed Cleared

But the Cedar Rapids undergraduate averted his sweetheart had explained the situation satisfactorily to him after they had gone to his fraternity dance Saturday before she was found dead in her white strapless evening gown and long white gloves.

Co-defense Attorney Milo C. Hanzlik recalled in Cedar Rapids that Bednasek had been stricken intermittenly with attacks of malaria since his service with the Merchant Marine in World War II.

He quoted Bednasek's mother as saying that her son "often got the shakes from malaria and went through periods of daze — like a blackout."

Bednasek in his statement of the tragedy claimed that he "blacked out" while showing the campus beauty "how to choke a person" after they returned from the fraternity dance to "The Empty Arms," so called because co-eds were not allowed in the rooms.

More Evidence Promised

Further evidence about Bednasek's "impulses" was promised later by the county attorney and Ray Connor, agent of the Iowa

Bureau of Criminal investigation. They also said they intended to prove that the ex-seaman was motivated by the "snub" for the sorority dance.

"We intend to prove that Bednasek had a plan for slaying as far back as last October and that on the fatal night he certainly had a motive."

He said evidence was in his possession which showed that Bednasek was "convinced he was losing out with the co-ed and decided to have one last fling and have all the things they liked best."

Clair E. Hamilton, attorney who appeared with the student at his arraignment on the first-degree murder charge yesterday, differed sharply with White's statements. He asserted:

"I can not believe this boy guilty of murder.

"We can certainly prove that their love was one of reciprocation —and that death must have been accidental if he had anything to do with it at all."

with the most surprising observations—observations certainly as sensible and sharp as those of the experts and authorities.)

• • • •

SO this wife of mine made this observation:

"Certainly that business of four oil trucks in one block is foolish.

"Naturally we have to pay more for oil than if we all got it from one truck and one company.

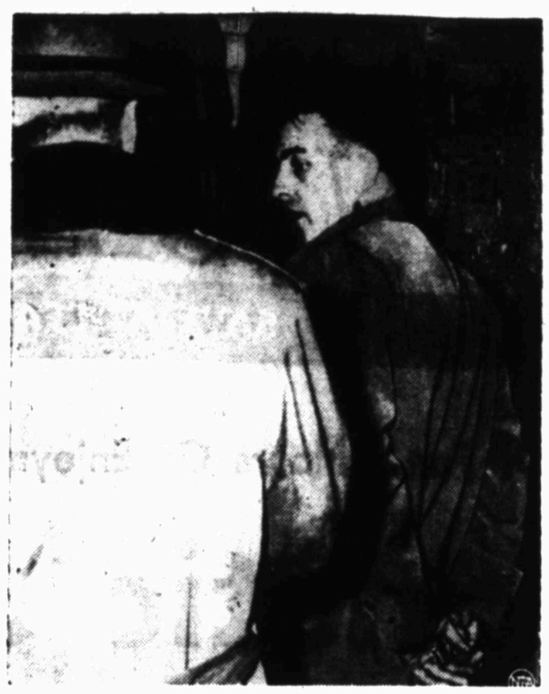

"But I'd rather pay a cent a gallon than to have somebody tell me that I've got to buy my oil from Soandso whether I like it or not.

"And if Soandso had a monopoly on our block or our district why should he give us service? Now he is afraid that if he doesn't we'll go somewhere else for our oil. So he not only sells the best oil he can get but he does everything he can to please us."

And to prove her point she showed me a beautiful 1950 calendar the driver had given her when he left the bill for today's oil.

Do you know any more practical economics?

Tiny green plants grow inside some one-celled animals, using up the waste gas produced by the animals. The plant, in turn, produces oxygen and sugar for the animal.

Negro Given Death For Attack On Girl

HOUSTON, Dec. 13 (AP) — It took a criminal district court jury only three minutes today to send a 30-year-old negro, charged with raping an 11 year-old white girl, to the electric chair.

George Honey Young, who moved here 13 months ago from New Orleans, was sentenced to death in a fast-moving trial before Judge Langston G. King.

Five witnesses had identified him as the negro who on Nov. 19 lured the pupil from St. Mary's Catholic church playground as she watched a neighborhood football game.

Among them was the victim. She said the negro forced her into a ditch near the church and attacked her after threatening to kill her with a knife.

Young was arrested the following morning.

His sentence is the second death verdict in rape case trials here within a week.

Allan Conway Williams, 38, merchant marine, was convicted on a charge of raping a 10-year-old girl on a lonely road near La Porte Thursday. His jury deliberated about 45 minutes.

They were charged with armed robbery of the Guaranty Bank and Trust Co. at Kentwood, La.

New Cuts In Oil Production Seen

AUSTIN, Dec. 13. (AP)— A one or two day cut in the Texas crude oil producing schedule for January is anticipated after tomorrow's statewide oil proration hearing.

Likelihood of the cutback was sharpened today by the Railroad commission's report that purchasers' advance nominations for January oil totaled only 2,353,569 barrels daily, this was an 80,389-barrel per-day decrease from advance demand a month go.

Furthermore, commission member Ernest O. Thompson said he did not think a one-day cut would do the job of keeping Texas above-ground stocks from increasing.

Texas Stocks Increase

Thompson noted that national crude oil stocks as of Dec. 3 were 258,489,000 barrels. The increase in Texas stocks that week was 1,936,000 barrels, an average jump of 276,000 barrels daily.

The average daily allowable as of Dec. 10 was 2,134,321 barrels.

The commissioner said a two-day cut, putting the state on a general producing schedule of 16 days, would slice off 166,000 barrels daily. New wells would add approximately 35,000 barrels per day, meaning a net reduction of 131,000 barrels each day.

With these figures to back him up, Thompson said: "A one-day cut will not do the job."

(Market demand is a basic factor in the state oil-regulatory agency's monthly fixing of the daily permissive flow for the next month. Control of production in this way is designed to avoid glutting the market or creating a shortage.)

Decrease Evenly Distributed

The decrease in advance nominations was distributed fairly evenly over the state, except in districts 9 and 10, North Texas and the Panhandle, where increases of 139 and 980 barrels in daily demand were indicated.

Two days were cut off the allowable in December after a brief upswing in production during September, October and November. Another two-day production would shove the allowable below that of September.

The area weighted average bottomhole pressure for the East Texas field as of Dec. 1 was 1,027.66 pounds per square inch, representing a drop of 2.37 pounds per square inch during November, the commission reported.

SOLDIER IS KILLED

FRANKFURT, Germany, Dec. 13. (AP)— The U. S. Air Force said today S/Sgt. Anderson O. Stringer, son of Mrs. Oma Anderson Risner of Sulphur Springs, Texas, was killed Dec. 9 in a jeep-truck collision at Wiesbaden.

Information On Christmas Gifts To Be Given

Salvation Army Sets Up New Clearing Office To Direct Aid

A central clearing office has been set up by the Salvation Army to assist local groups and individuals interested in providing Christmas dinners and remembrances to needy families of the community, it was announced last night by Capt. W. Thos. Gregory, local commanding officer.

The captain pointed out that: "The purpose of the clearing office will be to give information to groups and citizens who are desirous of providing Christmas cheer for the less fortunate without the possibility of families receiving baskets from several different sources.

Duplication Made Difficult

"We want to provide information to these groups so that a few families who perhaps are more in need than others and will be known to several churches and clubs will not have four or five baskets delivered and another family, not receive any.

"A call to the Army headquarters will get the information as to whether or not the family will be provided for by any other group that plans to undertake Christmas activities of this nature. We want to avoid as much duplication as possible." The Army official expressed a desire to work with or co-operate with any group or individual in any way possible.

Conservative estimates now indicate that more than 400 families will be assisted directly this year by the Army's Christmas Cheer fund. The goal for this year is $3,250. Last year, 369 families were provided baskets of food and toys for the kiddies.

Applications are being received direct at the Army headquarters, 1112 17th Street and by referrals from other agencies, friends of the less fortunate and from the Army's regular welfare files.

Contributions to the Salvation Army Christmas Cheer fund now total $1,574 as of Tuesday night. The members of the Lubbock Optimist club provided the manpower for the first day's operation of the Army's Christmas Kettle house in front of the F. W. Woolworth store. This booth will be sponsored on various days until Christmas by the civic clubs of the city. The Optimist club turned over to the Army a total of $204 for the first day's work.

Captain Gregory emphasized that baskets given by the Army to needy families would have a retail value of between $12 and $15 according to the size of the family. However, because of wholesale buying, the actual cost would be a little less than $10 per basket.

Taylor County Judge Named To 42nd District Court Bench

AUSTIN, Dec. 13. (AP)— Gov. Allan Shivers today appointed Wiley L. Caffey, 48, district attorney for the 42nd Judicial district.

Caffey will succeed the late Thomas E. Hayden of Abilene. The 42nd district includes Taylor, Callahan, and Shackelford counties.

Caffey has been county judge of Taylor county. He is a native of Jones county and first entered public life as assistant city attorney of Abilene.

Oklahoma Minister Speaks At Special Church Services Here

Special services are currently being held nightly at the Christian and Missionary Alliance church, Twenty-first and Ave. S, with the Rev. Mark L. Haskell of Edmond, Okla., as guest speaker.

Lloyd Van Stone, pastor of the local church, said Rev. Haskell's ministry is unique in that his "training" for the Lord's work was accomplished while he lay flat on his back in a tuberculosis hospital.

Rev. Haskell was a tuberculosis patient for some nine and one-half years, and was converted while at the point of death.

The minister will give a personal testimonial of his conversion and miraculous healing at a special service to be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The public is invited to attend the nightly services and the special testimonial service Sunday afternoon.

Last Rites Read In Lamesa For John Bunkley Carr, 59

LAMESA, Dec. 13. (Special)— Funeral services for John Bunkley Carr, 59-year-old former resident who died Dec. 6 in Susanville, Calif., were held at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Lamesa First Baptist church. Rev. R. B. Murray, Colorado City, officiated. Burial was in Lamesa cemetery.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. H. C. Carr of Lamesa; four brothers, Alfred and Earnest of Lamesa, Friend of Big Spring and H. C. of Hamlin; and a sister, Mrs. John Christian of Levelland.

Infant's Body Is Found In Lake

The partially-formed body of an infant found Tuesday morning in a lake botton between Idalou and Lorenzo had not been born alive, Dr. Fred P. Kallina, county medical officer, informed A. W. Salyars, assistant district attorney.

Saylars said Dr. Kallina reported that the remains apparently had been in the lake bottom for "three or four days" before the discovery.

The discovery was made by Harley Clark of Lubbock route 7, member of a South Plains Electric Cooperative, Inc., crew which was stringing a power line along the highway.

He said he picked up a box, which bore the name of Lubbock Memorial hospital as addressee and was labeled "5 per cent dextrose in saline," and tossed it playfully to a fellow worker, Delton Green of Lubbock route 3, before he was aware of what was in it.

Cled E. Ketchersid, foreman of the crew, notified the sheriff's office and Glen Newton, superintendent of the cooperative.

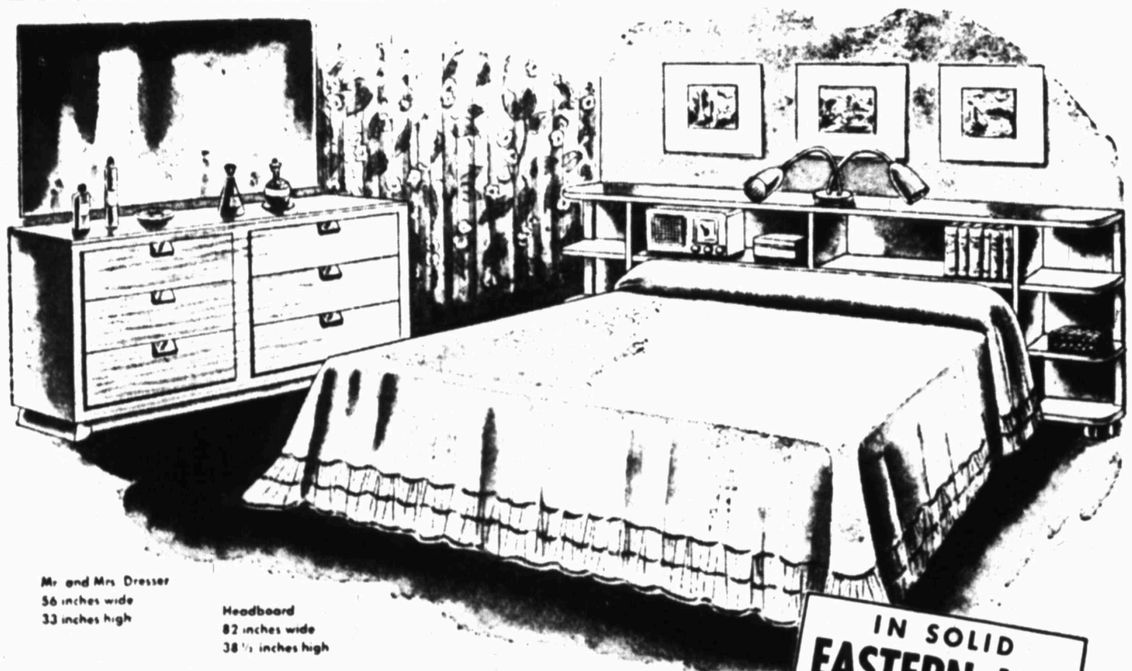

Salyars, D. W. Robertson, justice of the peace, and Deputy Sheriff Frank Mitchell went to the scene to investigate. The county medical officer viewed the body in Lubbock, where it was brought for burial at county expense.

No inquest verdict was required, in view of Dr. Kallina's ruling that the infant had not been born alive. However, Salyars indicated that further investigation might result in charges of failure to conduct required burial, a misdemeanor, or abortion, a felony.

The body was found on the J. H. Bell farm. It apparently had mobile into the lake bed. been thrown from a passing auto-

Oats No. 2 white 91¼-95¼.
Corn No. 2 white 1.64-66 nominal.
Sorghums No. 2 yellow milo, per 100 lbs. 2.30-35.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Dec. 13 (AP) — December wheat and March corn reached new seasonal highs at the board of trade today. The buying wave that swept through the futures market was the result of purchases credited to export interest.

After fairly steady buying in wheat and corn developed early in today's session, short covering aided the movement and absorbed profit cashing on the scale up.

Sales of around a million bushels of wheat to Mexico expected to be completed today was a motivating force in wheat and floor talk of sales of corn to France influenced the action of that grain.

At the close wheat was ⅛ to 1¼ higher than yesterday's close, December $2.22¼-⅜. Corn was ⅛ to 2 cents higher December $1.31⅛-.32. Oats were ⅛ to ⅝ higher, December 77⅞. Rye was ¼ higher to ¼ lower, December $1.42. Soybeans were ¼ up to ½ lower, December $2.30 to 40¼. Lard was 15 to 22 cents a hundredweight higher, December $18.15.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 13 (AP) — Cotton futures were easy in early dealings today, but turned steady on mill buying and demand attracted to the new crop positions which have been under selling pressure in recent sessions. Sentiment among some traders was that farmers will approve acreage and marketing controls on the 1950 cotton crop notwithstanding protest over the form of acreage allocation. Traders also noted that new crop months are selling under the loan on the 1950 cotton crop if the mid-November parity was taken as a base. Actually the loan on the next crop will be based on the mid-July parity of 1950.

There were 18 December transferable notices issued at New York and seven at New Orleans. They were believed to be stopped by leading spot firms.

Futures closed 55 cents a bale higher to 10 cents lower than the previous close.

STOCKS HIT NEW LOW

NEW YORK, Dec. 13 (AP)—The stock market plowed its way through heavy profit taking to a new 1949 high today.

Trading volume expanded to 2,080,000 shares, a new high for the year, from 1,780,000 Monday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 3 of one point to 70.3, a peak since 70.6 was touched on Nov. 1 last year. The rails and industrials were tied for first place while the utility group emerged with a small loss.

The market fell just shy of being the broadest of the year, with 1,159 individual stocks changing hands. Of these 640 advanced and 253 declined. The year's high was 1,163 last month.

Superior Oil of California put on a spectacular show jumping 32 to 190. The company announced plans to split itself into two new corporations, one taking the oil assets and the other the natural gas assets of the original company. Stockholders are scheduled to vote on the plan Dec. 29.

Rail stocks paced the market most of the day. Nickel Plate gained 1½ at 95, while smaller advances were posted for Santa Fe at 98⅝, Southern Pacific 49⅞, and Northern Pacific 19½.

Radio and Television stocks gave a good account of themselves although without the dash shown in Monday's market. Philco rose nearly a point to 33 with smaller gains tacked on Admiral at 18¾, Radi 13½, and Zenith 33.

International Telephone, the most active issue, rose ⅛ to 9¼.

U S Steel at 26⅛ set a new high for the year with a rise of ⅛.

Also up were Armour, Benguet Consolidated Mining, Chrysler, General Motors, U S Rubber, Montgomery Ward, Lockheed, American Smelting, Dow Chemical, Du Pont, Westinghouse Electric, Skelly Oil, Warner Bros. and Johns-Manville.

Declines were noted in Goodyear, Goodrich, Schenley, National Distillers, Distillers Corp. and American Can.

Up in the curb were Raytheon Mfg., Rath, Dome Mines, Standard Power and Light, United Light, Todd Shipyards, Humble Oil, Cities Service, Imperial Oil and Calgary and Edmonton.

Consolidated Mining slipped, along with Louisiana Land. Sales 440,000 shares compared with 340,000 Monday.

Rails advanced in the bond market. Long-term U S government issues gained as much as 3-32 of a point in the counter trading.

Atlanta Police Seek Negro Who Escaped With TV Set

ATLANTA, Dec. 13. (U.P.)— All the stocky negro wanted for Christmas was one television set, police said today.

The negro was seen yesterday as he stepped into a parked truck on a downtown street and drove away. A few minutes later the truck's owner reported that it was loaded with television sets and some electrical supplies.

Several hours later police found the cargo dumped under a viaduct. Everything was there but one of the smaller television sets.

COTTON CONTROLS POSE PROBLEM

Gaines County Farm Program To Be Mapped At Special Meet

SEMINOLE, Dec. 13. (Special)—Gaines county farmers will hold a special meeting sometime early in the new year to attempt to work out an overall farm program for the county for 1950, County Agent L. H. McElroy said today.

The farmers, who cultivated an estimated 60,000 acres of cotton this year, will be faced with an allotment of only 33,169 acres in 1950 if they produce under the federal cotton marketing program.

315,000 Acres Cultivated

Total acreage in cultivation in Gaines county now amounts to 315,000 acres, 8,000 of which is new farm land.

McElroy said that the farmers had considered large scale sugar beet production but that word was received last week from the Crystal Sugar company of Rocky Ford, Colo., that that firm will be unwilling to set an allotment quota and assure a market for the county. High freight rates would make the venture unprofitable for the farmers, the firm explained.

The county agent said the refusal of the company to set an allotment for Gaines county did not completely kill the idea. The possibility of securing an allotment of acreage from some other sugar firm will be explored, he said.

Vegetable Growing Proposed

The possibilities of large scale vegetable production on irrigated land is also under consideration, McElroy said. According to figures compiled by his office, there are now about 135 irrigation wells and about 18,000 acres of land under irrigation in the county. Much of the increase during the past year has been in the Higginbotham area in the northwest part of the county.

Interest in irrigation is growing throughout the county, although many farmers are waiting to see how the new cotton control program will effect them individually.

A number of requests for aid in spotting irrigation well sites have been received in the county agent's office.

The newest and one of the most successful wells in the county is on the farm of Tilton Jones, located two miles south of Seagraves. The well has a capacity of 1,000 to 1,200 gallons per minute. It was drilled by the Skaggs Drilling company to a depth of 156 feet and is being pumped from a depth of 147 feet.

Jones expects to be able to irrigate about one hundred acres of alfalfa, tomatoes, peppers, cotton and grain next year. He will use flood irrigation, contouring the borders on the tract.

Missing Son Of U.S. Deputy Commander In Berlin Found

BERLIN, Dec. 13. (AP)— German police headquarters reported they had found the missing three-year-old son of the American deputy commander of Berlin tonight after a hunt which had mobilized most of the American and German motorized police in the city.

The child had wandered out of his front yard at about 3 p.m. today.

A general call was sent out by both German civilian police and American military police putting scores of searchers on the scene. It had been feared the boy might have wandered into the vast area of the Grunewald forest near his home.

The German police said they found him about a mile from his home.

When found, the boy was standing on a street corner looking around. He was lost, cold, but not worried.

The same could not be said for the police who had searched feverishly for him hoping he would be found before it was fully dark.

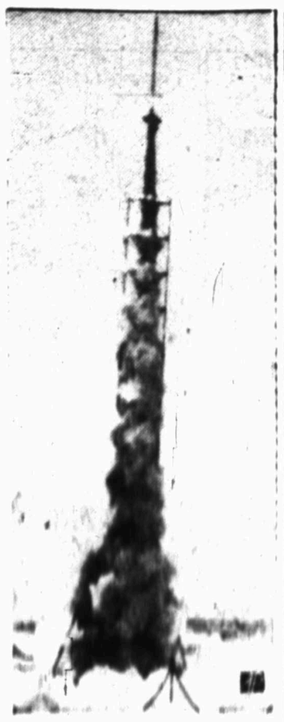

His parents, Colonel W. T. Babcock, and his wife missed the furore over his disappearance and finding. They were apparently driving home from Frankfurt to Berlin and not reachable. He had been in the care of his nurse.

Lubbock Man Suffers Broken Toes In Tech Elevator Mishap

Weldon G. Summers, 20, who lives on East Broadway, suffered several broken toes about 10 a. m. Tuesday when his left foot was struck by an elevator in the basement of Men's Dorm No. 4 at Texas Tech.

He was taken in a Rix ambulance to West Texas hospital. His condition was reported good and attendants said an amputation of his big toe was not necessary.

Summers, an employe of Swift & Company, was making a delivery at the time of the accident.

Power Commission Okays Sale Of Properties By Texas Firm

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13. (AP)—The Power commission today authorized sale of all electric properties in Louisiana of Community Public Service company, Fort Worth, to Louisiana Power and Light company, New Orleans.

The commission denied requests from both companies for rejection of the proposal for want of jurisdiction.

Louisiana power is to pay $475,000 for the facilities, subject to adjustment for "materials and supplies and net property additions for the period between Sept. 26, 1949, and the closing date of the transaction."

The transaction involves facilities in Arcadia and Ringgold and in the parishes of Bienville, Claiborne, Lincoln and Red river.

The United States' present area of commercial forest land is estimated at 461 million acres.

Scramble Underway For Site Of Academy

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13. (AP)—A scramble is under way for the proposed Air Force academy which the Air Force hopes Congress will authorize at its next session.

Members of Congress, chambers of commerce and individual citizens from more than a dozen states are campaigning to win the victory.

The office of Lieut. Col. Arthur E. Boudreau, secretary of the Air Force's site board, told a reporter the Air Force has no preconceived idea.

The chief of Army engineers has been asked by the board to make preliminary surveys.

All proposals must be in the board's hands by Dec. 31.

The board said it has not yet arranged the intinerary for the surveying groups.

Two or three bills introduced last year simply authorized establishment of the academy.

Bodies To Be Removed From Future Denton County Lake

LEWISVILLE (Denton county), Tex., Dec. 13. (AP)— The dead will outnumber the living as displaced persons when water pours over the 23,500-acre Garza-Little Elm lake basin in Denton county.

An estimated 1,500 persons are moving out of the valley, and movement of the dead from the 1,671 graves will follow.

The Army corps of engineers currently is making plans for disinterment of bodies in the 14 cemeteries that lie within the future lake bed.

Dallas Firm Plans $7 Million Program

DALLAS, Dec. 13 (AP) — E. B. Germany, president of Lone Star Steel, has announced a $7-million financing program for the company.

An investment banking syndicate headed by Dallas Rupe & Son is to underwrite $5 million of the company's 10-year first mortgage bonds. After registration with the Securities and Exchange commission and qualification with Texas Securities department, 592,185 shares of authorized but unissued common stock will be underwritten and distributed by the bankers, the announcement said.

Germany said the new capital would be used to retire present indebtedness, finance construction of a cast iron pressure pipe plant and for other corporate purposes.

Young Widow, Neighbor Held On Charge Of Murdering Man

LIBERTY, Miss., Dec. 13. (AP)—A young widow and her farmer neighbor were ordered held without bond today on charges of murdering her husband, Sheriff Reginald Williams said.

Williams said Mrs. Irene Locke Hughes, 22, and Allie Duck, 39, will be kept in jail until the next grand jury session.

They are charged with poisoning Talmadge Hughes, 26, with strychnine in coffee, the sheriff said. Hughes died last Tuesday within 30 minutes of drinking it.

"She said she just wanted to get rid of him," the sheriff said. "She testified that Duck had told her if she didn't kill Hughes he (Duck) would kill her."

Mrs. Hughes is the mother of two children by the dead man.

Oysters were among the first foods to be canned in the United States.
