Chamber of Commerce Buys Famous 'Crab' Landmark

For years tourists coming to Rockport were fascinated by the huge replica of a crab atop the Del Mar Cafe advertising Dorothy's Famous Crab Cakes.

The cafe has been out of business for sometime, and this week the "Big Crab"— measuring approximately 17 by 10 feet—and other fixtures were sold.

The Rockport Chamber of Commerce purchased the "Big Crab" for $200 to feature it in publicity projects here and throughout south Texas.

It will be transported from its present location to the Chamber of Commerce building where it will be erected on the grounds in front of the building. It will be moved by the Central Power and Light Company assisted by the Rockport Yacht & Supply Co.

After it is put in place, the crab will be repainted and the natural tints that are typical of an actual crab will be restored.

The display will be used for several publicity purposes. First, it will provide an excellent background for photographs taken by tourists who wish to take home with them pictures of mother and dad and the children with a backdrop typical of this land of excellent seafood.

Secondly, the crab will be erected in such a manner that it can easily be placed on a trailer to be transported to any part of south Texas for parades or displays representing the Rockport area.

Repairs could be made to the capsules or the stranded astronauts could be rescued and returned to earth, as pictured. — WFS Photo

Mrs. Stewart Named County Cancer Society Chairman

Mrs. Vic Stuart has been named chairman of the American Cancer Society's 1966 April crusade in Aransas County.

The announcement was made by the three directors of District 6 North: Dr. Richard R. Woods and Mrs. Ina Joubert of Corpus Christi and Dr. Wreathy Aiken of Texas A&I College, Kingsville.

"We are expecting the most successful educational and fund raising campaign ever held in Aransas County," Mrs. Stuart said. "I am especially delighted that Mrs. A. L. Bachman, who has been the American Cancer Society Crusade chairman in Aransas County for eight years, has consented to be my vice chairman."

Mrs. Stuart pointed out that in 1965 Aransas County raised $2196.97 for the cancer crusade; in 1964, $1938.81; in 1963, $1612.48; in 1962, $1628; and in 1961, $1472.50.

"I ask all persons interested in raising funds to combat this dread disease to enlist in our local crusade," Mrs. Stuart said. Please call me at SO 4-2741 or send a card to me at 1854 Bay Shore, Key Allegro, Rockport, or get in touch with Mrs. Bachman."

'Stop for School Bus' Educational Program

Help save the lives of school children by stopping your car or truck when you see a school bus stopped to pick up or discharge boys and girls.

In essence, that message in the objective of a safety campaign being conducted by the Aransas County Independent School District and the State Highway Patrol, concentrating on areas outside the city limits of Rockport.

The Rockport Pilot is glad to join the crusade by emphasizing the exact wording of the law regarding "overtaking and passing school bus" as a reminder to the public.

Supt. of Schools J. D. Gray and the drivers of the six school buses are playing leading roles in the campaign. Gray has instructed every driver to jot down the license number of any car or truck that speeds by a stopped school bus without stopping. The bus drivers then gave Gray the license numbers and he checks to get the name of the owner of the vehicle. Next, Gray phones or writes to the offending driver and asks him (or her) to make an appointment to come to Gray's office to discuss the seriousness of the offense.

"Most people have been cooperative and understanding," Gray said. "For example, I recall talking to the president of a large Corpus Christi company which has a large fleet of trucks, one of whose drivers was an offender."

"This gentleman not only agreed to call in the truck driver and 'lay down the law' to him, but also launched (continued on page 8)

Island Tax Case Ruling Favors School, County

STATE SUPREME COURT RULES IN FAVOR OF LOCAL TAXING AGENCIES

The State Supreme Court yesterday ruled in favor of the Aransas County Independent School District and Aransas County in the long drawn out St. Joseph Island tax case.

Supt. of Schools J. D. Gray was notified in a phone call from Austin from Ross Terry, tax attorney for the school district and the county, that the State Supreme Court in session yesterday morning:

"Overruled the motion for rehearing on the application for a writ of error filed by Perry Bass et al, representing the estate of the late multimillionaire, Sid Richardson, owner of St. Joseph Island."

This ruling, Terry said, completes the litigation in Texas courts.

The legal battle regarding taxes began in 1961. In an attempt to collect taxes for the year 1960, the School District filed suit against Bass in District Court in 1961. The District Court in 1963 found in favor of the School District.

Bass appealed the case to the 13th Court of Civil Appeals. On March 25, 1965, this court, in an opinion written by Chief Justice Howard P. Greene, affirmed the judgment of the trial court.

Bass then appealed to the State Supreme Court which on Dec. 31, 1965, denied the application for a writ of error.

School Supt Gray said the original taxes due to the School District for 1960 were $7779.08, but that the amount now owed is more than $34,000, plus penalties, interest and costs of more than $8,000.

Mrs. Margaret Weber, Aransas County Tax Assessor-Collector, said the original taxes due the county in 1960 were approximately $7,000, but now with the additional taxes, penalties and interest, the total was over $38,000.

New Appliance Service to Open

Henry Burleigh, who has operated an appliance service business in Aransas Pass for eight years, will open a Rockport branch Monday, April 4.

Mrs. Ethel Wollard, who has been trained by the Whirlpool Company, will be a full-time saleslady in the shop. Burleigh said, "We will maintain a one-stop service center for all makes of appliances and we will emphasize one-day service."

He said service will be provided for washing machines, clothes dryers, gas ranges, refrigerators, air conditioners, small appliances and lawn mowers. The firm also will file saws, grind tools and re-finish appliances.

On Friday, April 15, the formal opening will be held, with door prizes to be awarded and hot doughnuts and coffee served to guests.

Riding Association To Show Trail Film

The Aransas County Riding Association will meet at 7:30 p.m., Friday, April 1 at the Rockport Fire Station. The program will feature a showing of motion pictures taken during the South Texas Trail Ride to San Antonio. All members of the Association are urged to attend and the public is invited.

The city election will be held Tuesday, April 5 with voting at the city hall from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Running for mayor are Delmar R. Hiller, Hollis Collum, the incumbent seeking re-election, and Wallace Maley whose term as alderman from Ward 1 is expiring.

In the race for alderman from Ward 1 are Edwin H. Tengg and N. C. Vandagriff.

Ernest Harritt, incumbent, is unopposed for alderman from Ward 2.

Absentee voting continues through Friday, April 1.

Former Dachau Prisoner to Speak Here April 7

Herschkowitz was born in Vienna of orthodox Jewish parents. However, he lost his faith during the first World War and became an atheist. He remained an atheist until the Jewish persecutions which (continued on page 8)

Local Boys Win At Science Fair

This year two ACHS students and one 8th grader entered the annual TSTA, District XII Regional Science Fair at El Campo on March 24, 25 and 26. Some of the toughest competition that has been seen was displayed.

For the second straight year, Mark Lang, a freshman, age 15 years, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Lang, Jr., won the 1st place award in the physics division with his project "The Digital Computer."

This project is the basic component of a computer. The circuitry is similar to the digital computers employed at NASA. It adds and subtracts in the binary number system.

Mark gained outstanding recognition as the citations attest for this entry. He plans in the future to add a memory system, programming system, and an input and read-out (continued on page 8)

Mrs. Gibson Attends Library Convention

Mrs. C. R. Gibson, delegate from Rockport, was one of 2,000 citizens of the state who gathered at the Municipal Auditorium in Austin on March 23 at the invitation of Governor Connally to discuss library problems. This was the first Governor's Conference on Libraries ever held.

Dr. Norman H. Winfrey, Director and Librarian of Texas State Library, presided over the session, assisted by H. H. Young, President, Texas Library Association. The highlight of the morning session was the address of Governor Connally stressing "Library Excellence: Today's Necessity." No longer is the library a luxury, but a necessity in this rapidly changing age, he pointed out.

The afternoon session was opened with suggestions on what we can do to improve Texas libraries, by James Love, Past President of Friends of Texas Libraries.

The Honorable Price Daniel discussed Library Financial Sources, after which discussion groups were held, and ideas were exchanged by delegates from all over the state.

The full day session closed with a reception by Governor and Mrs. Connally who graciously greeted the many guests.

Theodore Roosevelt once remarked that "the church, the school and the library were the greatest factors for good." Texas ranks very low in library standards. With concentrated effort on the part of community groups and individuals, this standard can be raised to a point of excellence.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Smith and daughter, LeaAnn, of Houston visited Mr. and Mrs. Austin Smith over the weekend. Mrs. Smith and daughter remained in Rockport for a visit.

Mrs. Norma Keith and Mrs. Mary Kresta attended the funeral of T. W. Scott in Eagle Lake Friday. Mr. Scott is the father of Mrs. Bill Matcheski.

Vosper, President of the American Library Association, Librarian at U.C.L.A. California, in which he called library support a shared responsibility of a community.

During the luncheon hour, presided over by Mrs. Bradshaw, Director, Dallas Public Library, an inspiring talk was given by Mrs. Weldon Lynch, on the library's need for citizen support.

Reunion of Bonner Family Held at Sarco

A reunion of the W. K. Bonner family was held over the weekend at the Bonner ranch at Sarco Community near Goliad. Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Bonner of Taft, long time residents of South Texas, have been married for forty-seven years. They have seven children, five daughters and two sons, and fifteen grandchildren. All of the children were present at the reunion and only three grandchildren were unable to attend.

Children attending the reunion were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Boyd and son, Bob, of Baytown, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Bean and three children of Ft. Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sample and five children of Laredo, Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Elliot and two children and Miss Lola Bonner of Rockport, A. K. Bonner of Refugio and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bonner and son of Taft and the parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Bonner.

Also attending were Mr. Bonner's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Bonner and a sister, Mrs. Blanche Burger of Kingsville, a niece, Mrs. Barbara Baker and two children of San Antonio, and Mr. and Mrs. James Sanders and two children of Three Rivers and special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Casey of Rockport and a number of the neighbors in the Sarco Community.

MRS. O. W. BRYMER, LIBRARIAN ATTENDS TLA

The Texas Library Association's 53rd Annual Conference, March 24-26 in Austin was a milestone in the program of library interest in Texas when more than 1200 registered for the conference.

The conference featured such capable speakers as Jack Dalton, Dean of the Columbia University School of Library Service; Mrs. Elizabeth Borton de Trevino, having just been named winner of the ALA Newbery Award for her biographical novel "I, Juan de Pareja"; Mrs. Frances Neel Cheney, Director of Library School, George Peabody College for Teachers, whose reviews of "Current Reference Books" in Wilson Library Bulletin are highly regarded by librarians;

The Honorable J. J. Pickle, Congressman from the 10th District; Dean Jesse H. Shera of the School of Library Science of Western Reserve University; Carlyle F. Fraey, assistant to the Dean of School of Library Science at Columbia; Miss Mimi Kayden, a native New Yorker with a BA in Political Science and presently with the Prentice-Hall Co. and the speaker for the Young Adult's Round Table;

B. Iden Payne, Professor of Drama from the University of Texas who spoke at the Fine Arts Round Table.

It was inevitable that all who attended the various sessions came away better informed, happier and more enthusiastic than ever. Reference, Research and Regionalism being the key words symbolized by the "Three R's."

There were more than 500 attending the Children's and Young Adult Round Table Breakfast and an additional 200 were seated in chairs at the back.

Mrs. O. W. Brymer, librarian, Aransas County Library, who attended the conference, said "It isn't new to any of us that the children and young people of today are the adults of tomorrow; some will be leaders, some the followers. Education is the highest aim of man. Libraries are the beginning and end source of information for education. Statistics reveal that problems and responsibilities of library support are 'Texas Size' in scope. Dorothy Blodgett's 'Libraries Are Getting the Crumbs' should be in the hands of all trustees, librarians, and interested citizens."

Safety Check Your Car By April 15

The director of the Texas Department of Public Safety reported today the owners of more than one and one-quarter million motor vehicles still need to have them safety checked at official inspection stations before their current inspection stickers expire April 15.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr. said this means Texas' 5,350 inspection stations must collectively check over 65,000 vehicles per day in order to meet the deadline.

Latest figures indicate that so far during the 1966 inspection period approximately 2,815,000 vehicles have been inspected. This is 308,000 more than for the same period during the 1965 period when 2,507,000 were safety checked.

It is estimated that some 200,000 to 250,000 more vehicles will be inspected this year compared to 1965.

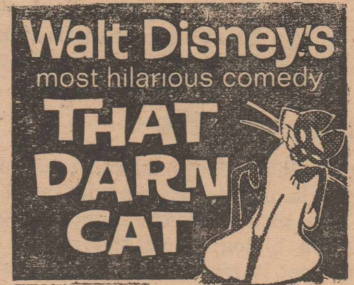

President Cleveland suffered from cancer of the mouth during his second term of office.

For this week and next if they last that long.

NUMBER ONE — An ideal site for a medium priced motel. It consists of six lots in Fulton, a total of 37,500 square feet and the price is $16,000.00. This property is in the shape of an 'L' and will easily accommodate 20 units in a one-story complex or 40 units in a two-story complex. This gives you a land cost of $800.00 per unit for single-story or $400.00 per unit for a two story set up. Adjoining this property in the same block is a super-market and across the street is an established restaurant, well-known for its food. You can build your units with a swimming pool and you will be in the luxury motel class for a whole lot less money than those who are in the luxury motel class. It is within walking distance of the Fulton Harbor for boating and fishing, and within walking distance of the bay and beach for sun bathing, salt water bathing, surfing, and many kindred activities. Access is through public property. Good water is available through wells, septic tanks work due to elevation and soil, and all other public utilities including electricity, gas and telephone are available at no extra cost. If you are in the market for something along these lines, it is our opinion that this is a 'sleeper'. We had one local real estate dealer that was interested in buying it for himself.

NUMBER TWO — We have for sale probably the best site for a mobile home village anywhere between Mexico and Canada. Approximately 22 acres, with 920 feet of frontage on Highway No. 35, By Pass Route and more than 1000 feet deep, with large beautiful live oak trees that were there during Biblical days. All utilities, including city water and sewer are within reach. It has such features as a dug lake that will never overflow nor never go dry (it is dug down to a water sand), good drainage, artistic surroundings and other features. Many people are interested in this property but at this time this property is not committed. The trend of times indicate that the number of mobile homes will increase over and above a natural increase and in Rockport and surrounding areas, it is certain that in the near future we shall have zoning of mobile homes, which will mean that mobile homes will be zoned to mobile home parks. Already some restricted subdivisions are restricted against mobile homes.

EXPLOSION DEMOLISHES BRACHT FOOD STORE

Bracht Bros. Grocery was flattened by a terrific explosion that shattered windows in buildings four or five blocks away. Flying debris from the jarring blast short-circuited high voltage power lines and threw the city into darkness for nearly an hour.

The small but heavily stocked grocery store was completely demolished. A. L. Bracht set the damage to his store at approximately $10,000. He said he had a total of $2750 insurance on the stock and the building.

No one was injured. City Fire Marshall Harry Mills, who investigated the explosion, said the store "evidently became filled with gas."

CITY JOBS MAY BE ANYBODY'S THROUGH WRITE-INS

With the city's election ballot still a blank and a lack of interest light vote likely, anybody could be elected to the three vacancies as aldermen and mayor. It is possible, however, for candidates to file, or petitions to be presented to place names on the ballot.

Members of the council up for re-election at this time have indicated they would accept the places they now hold if re-elected. Those include Mayor Albert Collier and Aldermen Arley Shivers and W. D. Allen. However, none of them has filed or made a public statement that they will be candidates for re-election.

IF YOU'RE A GOOD DEMOCRAT, YOU'RE BEING PUT THROUGH THE COMPUTER

If you are an extra good democrat, chances are a computer has been assembling all sorts of information about you. The programmers have been collecting your nickname, your address, your telephone number, and how willing a worker are you to the cause of the party.

Yep, the Democrats are computerizing all this information and next election it will all come in handy in case the party leaders want someone in your district to get out and work.

This computer system will even write you a letter and sign it, perhaps with the name of the Presidential candidate.

There is a former Secret Service agent, no less, gathering and storing all sorts of information about Democrats. Jerry Blaine is his name and he supervises the room-size machine and a staff of 15 persons who operate the computer.

More than five million Democratic names are recorded already on magnetic tapes. A 9½ inch reel will hold 100,000 names, along with age, occupation, family, and other tidbits of information.

So come election time again, if you get a telephone call from a Democratic campaign leader you never heard of, and he calls you by your nickname, asks about your sister, Sue, or son, Joe, and you are mystified about how he knows all of this, just don't be perplexed; you've been computerized.

It all adds up to another high-pressure campaign and it also should serve as a clue to the Republicans, and translated it means the GOP had better quit fussing and fighting inside the party and get to work. Or else sign up with the Democratic War on Poverty.

THE PERPETUAL PAY CHECK

In some areas federal employees have been getting a set of instructions designed to serve as guides in the event of an enemy attack.

Here's the way the memo of instructions reads: "If you are prevented from going to your regular place of work because of an enemy attack—or if you are prevented from reporting to any emergency location—go to the nearest post office, ask for the postmaster for a federal employee registration card, fill it out and return it to him.

"He will see that it is forwarded to the Civil Service Commission. When the Civil Service Commission receives your card, we will be notified. We can then decide where and when you should report back to work.

"There is another important reason why you should mail in a registration card as soon as you can do so. This card will enable us to keep you on the roster of active employees, and enables us to forward your pay."

Couple of things are noticeable in this memo. One, as some have already remarked, neither rain, nor sleet, nor snow, nor enemy attack shall stay the federal employee from getting in his financial whack at the taxpayer.

Number two, is that no provision is made for Mr. Taxpayer to notify the nearest tax office that he has been bombed out. This, we presume, means that he is expected to pay his tax as usual.

Then, too, there is something else attractive about the memo. It assumes that in the event the federal employee cannot get to his job or to an emergency location, he will, some way, some how, get to the postoffice.

SPEND THE MONEY FOR EDUCATING

A lot has been written and said about this business of transporting by bus school children from one area to another in order to achieve integrated educational systems.

Now comes Sen. Birch May (D-Ind.) who is talking some sense. He says transporting pupils from one school to another to mix the races is the bunk. The money this is costing could be better spent if earmarked for improving quality of facilities, teachers and study, regardless of the racial make up of a school.

Who can argue with such a sensible summation of the situation? Only the rabble rousers will argue the point.

IS IT "IS" OR "ARE?"

Goofs will be goofs and more than a share of them happen in the hurry of writing the news of the day. One of the more irritating ones is on the proper use of verbs. The plural just will pop up from time to time, when the singular should be used.

So it was with relief that we noticed a news release which came in from one member of Congress. Instead of the singular verb, there plain as day was the plural form.

So now we are going to quit worrying.

If members of Congress can goof, too, they're not apt to pass a law against grammatical errors.

EDITOR'S VIEWPOINTS

BRITISH NAVY SUNK

Year by year since the end of World War III, the symbols and substance of Britain's claim to a world power have slowly dwindled. There was the revolt and independence of her colonies: First the jewel, India, claimed her sovereignty to be followed a decade later by the African states. Her status will be further reduced according to a white paper released recently by Defense Minister Denis Healy.

Over the next four years, more than one-third of Britain's overseas military forces will be called back, and all across a map once painted red, British bases will be closed. Healy also announced the British government would retire its five aging aircraft carriers by the 1970's and not build any more.

The white paper revealed plans to buy 50 long range American F111A fighter-bombers as a nuclear deterrent. This points to British dependence on American might and the sagging of its once proud aircraft industry. The decision not to build more aircraft carriers brought the resignations of First Sea Lord Adm. Sir David Luce and Navy Minister Christopher Mayhew.

In his farewell speech before the House of Commons, Mayhew heaped scorn on the Labor Government's plan as casting Britain in the role of an auxiliary incongruous, Mayhew said, "about a nation performing a proud world role—peacemaking—on borrowed money with the sound of our gunfire drowned by the rattling of our collection boxes."

For the nation that produced Nelson and Drake, this must be a bitter pill indeed. There is little compensation in looking at the hard realities—not so much the decline in Britain's absolute power, as the relative rise of the U. S. and Russia. Then, the British must make the choice between a role in the world and prosperity at home.

It seems ironic that across the Channel, De Gaulle is posturing to obtain with Britain is quietly giving up.—Montgomery Advertiser.

IT IS SMOKE NOT HAZE

A letter by airline pilot Capt. O. M. Cockes to the Airline Pilots' Association said some things that should have been said by weather experts years ago. He said:

"Smoking is going to kill us just as sure as the sun comes up in the East . . . Not cigarette smoking, pipe smoking, or cigars, but the unscrupulous dumping of garbage in the atmosphere. Stop air pollution before it kills us all, not on the ground but in the air."

The letter asserted that near-collision between aircraft have increased because of smoke pollution. The letter also accused the U. S. Weather Bureau of incorrectly reporting the "smoke" as "haze." The official glossary of the Bureau, it said, defines "haze" a natural phenomenon, as "salt crystals or dust" and does not include "smoke" in the definition. "Smoke" a mixture of soot and dirt. Haze-based fog dissipates quickly in sunshine; smoke-based fog does not.

So let's call it smoke and not haze, Mr. Weatherman.—Griffin (Ga.) Daily News.

WORSE THAN FIRED

An employee can't be fired for drawing nasty cartoons about the boss to protect a 2-cent hourly wage increase, according to a recent ruling by the National Labor Relation Board. Jerry W. Packard, an inspector at the Indiana Gear Works Division of the Buehler Corp., Indianapolis, got sore in 1964 when he and a few other employees in their department got two-cent increases while others in the plant got hikes ranging from 10 to 16 cents an hour.

John Buehler, corporation president, was the target for Packard's satirical drawings, and when the boss saw the latter's art work on a lampshade over a work bench, Packard was given the old heave-ho. Packard appealed to the NLRB and a three-man panel ordered Packard's reinstatement and 15 months back pay.

The boss may not be able to fire a disgruntled and disrespectful employee but he can probably find some very unpleasant tasks for the employee in question. Like sweeping out from 2 to 4 a.m. daily or keeping the latrines clean.—Goshen (Ind.) News.

KEEPING DOWN WITH THE JONESES

Federal antipoverty officials, have come across some examples of independence and pride on the part of the rural, low income families they are trying to help in Berea, Ky.

Six houses were to be built as a start, and sold on low-rate, long-term mortgages. The officials screened 41 families to see who would get them. All were eligible but 35 refused. They didn't want to be "uppity."

Among them, there is a social stigma against being "uppity." They didn't want to lose face in the community by having something better than their neighbors. If all could have had a house, all would have taken them, but only six were available, they "wanted to keep down with the Joneses" and not "up" with them.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

The aromas of coffee boiling and cedar boughs burning are a stimulant to the jaded spirit, and continue to defy encroachment of synthetics.—Matador (Texas) Tribune.

HE TOOK A LONG WALK

This is one of the stories in which it's nicer not to mention names.

Last Friday an 18-year-old local lad married a young woman about the same age. The wedding ceremony was performed by a Justice of the Peace at 5 p.m.

At 6 p.m. the bridegroom and his new wife were celebrating this important event at the home of the young man's parents.

All of a sudden, the bridegroom said, "If y'all don't mind, I think I'll take a little walk up town."

When he failed to come home that night, his new wife and his parents contacted Chief of Police Bob Hewes since they thought the youth might have met with foul play.

Hewes put out what on TV they call an A.P.B. (all points bulletin) but which police usually call a statewide bulletin, for officers to be on the lookout for the "walking bridegroom."

Monday night, the youth came home. Frankly, we don't know where he was or why he took the long walk. Maybe he was meditating about whether he had made a mistake in getting married.

Anyway, we're glad Mr. X came home and we wish the newlyweds a happy marriage.

JUAN SALINAS AMONG LAST OF OLDTIME BOOTMAKERS IN AREA

He took his name off the front of his shop and took down the neon sign so customers wouldn't find him, but still has so much business he can't keep up, as he refuses to sacrifice quantity for quality.

The only way you can find South Texas' best bootmaker is to peer into windows along Robstown's main street, until you come to a dusty one that looks as though it belonged to a shoe repair shop. Stop and go inside and you're faced with rows of gleaming cow country footwear, each pair the work of a master craftsman.

Juan Salinas, one of the last of a fading breed of leather workers, said:

"I don't need the publicity. I see them driving down the street, looking for me and I even got to turn them away. It hurts when I got to tell one of my old customers I can't make his boots anymore."

Salinas is 58, and has been making boots for the past 24 years. He estimates his shop has been turning out two pairs of hand made boots a day during that time—8760 pairs, which is a lot of boots.

Bespectacled and talkative, he is quick to admit there are a few good bootmakers left, but that most of them do not work full time at it, because they can make more money doing something else.

Widely-known as "the Robstown bootmaker," Salinas, a native of Mexico, is a third-generation craftsman, and early learned from his father how to fit boots. However, after coming to Robstown he worked for 11 years as an odd-jobs man around a movie theater before he started his own shop with a pocket knife, an ice pick and a needle and thread!

And, in those first years, Salinas even made shoes for women to specification for $8 a pair until his wife checked up and found the materials alone were costing $10.

He has made boots for people as far away as New York and Chicago, and once estimated that he's made over a hundred pairs for people around the Nueces County courthouse. Another time, during a brief stay in a Corpus Christi repair shop, he counted 75 pairs of his boots in for refurbishing.

He says that a good pair of boots or shoes last a man from 10 to 12 years, but for some customers he has made as many as 10 pairs—one a year.

The most he has ever charged for a pair is $175.

"I never have believed in making over 50 per cent profit," he says, "although some bootmakers try for 150 per cent."

He estimates that he uses about $30,000 worth of leather and other materials during a year, and has made boots from almost every kind of leather or material, including silk, ostrich and sharkskin.

Several years ago, he proudly says, he made three pairs of boots from the skin of a 28-foot python a man brought to his shop after having tried a lot of bootmakers, including most of the other leading ones in Texas. All of them shied away from the job.

Nevertheless, he has his trials and tribulations. He has made as many as three or four pairs for some particular customers before they were satisfied. Although the boots they rejected were of top quality there was usually some little thing they didn't quite like.

Usually Salinas is philosophical about this, but he does remember one man who refused a pair because the tips of the toes looked just a little different.

"And they were," Salinas said, "but they fit him and he should have been satisfied. That they didn't look quite alike shouldn't have mattered that much. Only one person in a thousand—maybe more than that—will have two feet exactly the same size."

Lincoln was nominated for the presidency in Chicago on May 18, 1860.

system; then this will be a complete computer.

Mark has spent some 600 clock hours on this project. The unit now weighs some 200 pounds and roughly represents an investment of $1,000.00. At the present time he plans for computer science to be his life's work.

Before he is finished with this project, it will reflect several thousand hours work and a large investment in dollars and cents. This unit will be on display at First National Bank for a week.

Besides receiving this top award, Mark received the outstanding awards on stage in the El Campo Auditorium broadcast by the local station, KULP radio, El Campo.

He received the "National Aeronautics and Space Administration" award in electronics. This was accomplished by a beautiful 8x10 photograph of Dr. Charles A. Berry,

M.D., Flight Surgeon, manned Gemini Flights Chief of Center Medical Programs, Manned Spacecraft Center, Houston, Texas, whom so many of late have seen on TV in connection with our Gemini Space Flights. This photograph was personally autographed by Dr. Berry.

Also, Mark received "The United States Army Science Service Certificate," signed by Lt. Gen. William W. Dick, Jr., Chief of Research and Development of the United States Army.

This sort of work is what takes a student all the way to the National Science Fair, which could possibly be in Mark's case three straight years where some outstanding awards are given. A college scholarship is one of the awards.

The National Science Fair will be held this year in Dallas in May. This year promises to be the toughest competition yet on record for National Science Fair Entries.

Winning a 4th division in this stiff competition at El Campo, was James Baugh, a sophomore, age 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Baugh. His entry was entitled, "The Entropic Wheel."

The entry demonstrated how heat energy is handled and transferred from one body or system to another. The bicycle wheel which had the spokes removed and replaced with stretched rubber bands demonstrated how heat is absorbed from infra red lamps, and contracts instead of expanding, such as most substances do when subjected to thermal energy.

The contraction of these bands set up what is known in science as a torque force, which is a force in some part of a circle, thus causing the wheel to rotate on its axis.

In interviewing James after the fair was over and getting his reaction, he said, "Well this fair was certainly at least 30 per cent more competitive this year over last year, and I plan to start now in getting ready for next year's entry."

He says that he already has in mind what he plans to do. So far as he knows now his general problem will have to do with a project in the "Up-take of Radioisotopes in Living Things." Jim says, "I have many specific problems or hurdles to go over before next March however."

As a side interest, the Rock Island School Science Department gave ACHS a rattlesnake (Canebrake Rattlesnake—Crotalus horridus atricaudatus) which is not familiar to this part of Texas. The little fellow, some 4½ feet long was captured in Colorado County and believed to be the largest specimen taken from that county. Specimens up to 7 and 7½ feet are not rare in Louisiana and Southwestern U. S.

The ACHS boys are pleased to announce they have named the newcomer "Charmin"—and they desire that no one "squeeze the Charmin."

Robert W. Shaver, Jr., an 8th grader, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shaver, had as his entry, "History in Fossils," which won a 3rd Division. This was a very beautiful display on how man is able to tell something about how old this world is. It depicts how the world looked at various times.

Robert said that this being his first time at a science fair was very interesting and gave him many ideas for the future. He said he would like to become a scientist, but as yet is undecided as to what field interests him the most.

E. G. Brooks, science instructor accompanied the boys to El Campo. Attending the Fair from here were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Lang, Jr., Mrs. T. D. Baugh, Mrs. Robert W. Shaver and Mrs. Jeanette Morrison.

The cotton textile industry was started in Lancashire, England, about 1621 by Flemish immigrants.

Some 7,000 Athenian prisoners of war were employed in the quarries of Syracuse in century B.C.

STOP FOR SCHOOL BUS—

a safety campaign for the benefit of all of his drivers."

Gray also said there had been many instances of errant drivers coming to his office, and listening carefully to the explanation of dangers to children when cars speed by stopped school buses.

"Most people express regret for their carelessness and promise to be safe drivers in the future, and in most cases I believe they do become more cautious," Gray said.

In the few instances of law violations ignoring Gray's letter or phone calls, he has turned over the license numbers to the authorities for possible prosecution.

From the standpoint of the State Highway Department's participation in the campaign, State Patrolmen R. R. L. Brown and A. W. Fenniken are constantly on the alert for motorists who fail to observe the law with respect to stopped school buses.

Also, Karl Kutzer of the State Highway Department soon will erect special warning signs just south of Rockport and just north of Aransas Pass, on Highway 35, to remind motorists to stop when they see a school bus stopped to discharge or pick up children. The signs will warn, "all vehicles must stop before passing in either direction a school bus loading or unloading school children."

In the state publication, Texas Motor Vehicle Laws, the regulation regarding overtaking and passing a school bus reads as follows:

"The driver of a vehicle upon a highway outside of the limits of any incorporated city or town upon meeting or overtaking from either direction any school bus which has stopped on the highway for the purpose of discharging any school children shall stop the vehicle immediately before passing the school bus, but may then proceed past such school bus at a speed which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children.

FORMER DACHAU—

began with the Nazi occupation of Austria.

Seeking escape, Herschkowitz found his way to a Christian mission in Vienna where he met the Rev Emanuel Lichtenstein from whom he heard proclaimed for the first time the gospel of Jesus Christ.

Herschkowitz was arrested and sent to the concentration camp at Dachau where he saw thousands of his Jewish brethren tortured to death. The testimony of Rev. Lichtenstein recurred to him and he became completely convinced of God's existence as a living reality.

Six months later he was released from Dachau. He went to Holland and began the study of God's Word. Herschkowitz explains that "in answer to prayer, God miraculously revealed to me that Jesus Christ was the promised Messiah of Israel and his personal Saviour."

Public confession of his faith in Jesus followed and he was baptized. Shortly thereafter he came to America and received his training and became a missionary.

Who's Got The Biggest Tree?

The Texas Forest Service, a part of the Texas A&M University System, recently sent out a news release stating that "three new State Champion Trees have been located in Texas and officially recorded by the Texas Forest Service."

The story went on to state that Texas' latest State Champion Big Tree are Black Tupelo (Nyssa sylvatica) growing about three miles west of U. S. 59, near the mouth of Eight Mile Creek, in Harrison County; a Shagbark Hickory (Carva ovata) located on the Sam Houston National Forest, about three miles south of Farm Road 1375 and four miles west of New Waverly, in Montgomery County; and a Live Oak (Quercus virginiana), located six miles south of Manvel in Brazoria County.

Measurements of the Black Tupelo are: Circumference at 4½ feet above ground level, 199 inches (or 16 feet 7 inches); height, 117 feet; and crown spread, 69 feet. The tree is owned by the E. Key Estate of Marshall, Texas.

The Champion Shagbark Hickory measures 72 inches in circumference, 68 feet high and has a crown spread of 43 feet. The new State Champion Live Oak, according to the news release, measures 18½ feet in circumference, 120 feet high and has a crown spread of 98 feet. It replaces the former champion live oak growing in Uvalde, Texas.

Since one of the many attractions of the Rockport area is "The Big Tree" at Goose Island State Park, a letter was sent by the Rockport Pilot to the Texas Forest Service of Texas A&M asking if "The Big Tree" was listed among their "giants" and if the dimensions were listed.

John A. Haislet of the Forest Service's Information and Education Department wrote back and said they had no information about our "Big Tree" and that Goose Island is outside the Texas Forest Service area "of organized protection."

He added that the Service would be pleased to receive a nomination "of the Goose Island oak tree" and he enclosed a copy of the official nomination form, contest rules and the rules of identifying and measuring big trees.

A telephone call to the State Parks and Wildlife Department revealed that our "Big Tree" has a circumference of approximately 32 feet, a height of about 40 feet and a crown spread of about 132 feet. It is estimated that the tree is over 2,000 years old.

The Pilot mailed the contest rules and entry blank to the Parks and Wildlife Department.

APRIL DRAFT CALLS

FOR 979 TEXANS

Austin.—State draft boards will be called upon to furnish 979 men for the armed forces in April, the lowest monthly quota since August 1965, Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective director, said Tuesday.

Monthly calls in the period from September through March ranged from a low of 1,068 to a high of 1,523.

Colonel Schwartz also announced that 3,005 men would be sent for draft mental and physical examinations in April, a reduction from 5,515 in March.

He also said state Selective Service had received a quota for 105 physicians to enter the Army, Navy, and Air Force in July, August, and September.

A call for 81 male nurses to enter the Army and Navy in April, May, June, and July arrived at the same time as the quota for physicians.

The state draft director pointed out that the number of men in the state's 1-A pool was reduced from 100,000 at the end of August 1965 to 51,000 at the end of February 1966.

During the same period, he said, the number of men classified as students rose from 85,000 to 104,000. At the end of January, there were 106,000 men classified in 2-S as students, the first material reduction in the pool since October 1964, when the number was 74,000.

"From October 1964," Col. Schwartz said, "to January 1966, the student pool rose steadily from 74,000 to 106,000. Then, this pool was reduced by 2,000 in one month."

Pirates Lose to Refugio 13 to 5

In a baseball game played at the Aransas County High School diamond Tuesday afternoon, the Refugio Bobcats defeated the Pirates 13-5.

The winning pitcher was Hoot Gibson, and the losing pitcher was Mike Jeffers.

The Aransas County Pirates collected nine hits while the Refugio Bobcats got 11.

The leading hitter for the Pirates was Russell Kline with two for four, a single and a triple.

Aransas County travels to Refugio Thursday, March 11 for a return game. The starting time will be 4:30 p.m.

The next home game for the Pirates will be April 7 against Taft at 4:30 p.m.

Crimes Up Nine Per Cent In 1965

Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, reported today that a major crime was committed every one and three-quarter minutes during 1965 to mark a nine percent increase over the crime statistics for 1964.

The number of estimated offenses reached an all-time high total of 284,249 for last year. This was an increase of 23,389 individual instances of criminal activity over the 260,860 offenses tabulated in 1964.

The largest increase percentage-wise occurred in the aggravated assault cases, with 17.1 per cent rise over the previous year. The number of thefts closely followed with a 10.3 per cent increase over the 1964 mark. Burglary showed an 8.8 per cent increase, robbery decreased 1.0 per cent, auto thefts were down 2.3 per cent, rape decreased 8.3 per cent and murder and homicide dropped 19.3 per cent.

The crime rate, the comparison of the number of crimes to the population of the state, also showed a sharp rise, Garrison stated. During 1965, there were 2,967.2 crimes committed for every 100,000 persons in Texas. This was 244.2 more than the 2,725.0 calculated for 1964, resulting in a nine per cent increase in the crime rate.

"The citizens of Texas are being victimized at an ever-increasing rate," Garrison said. "During the past year, on the average, there was a theft every three minutes, a burglary every seven and one-half minutes, an auto theft every 27 minutes, an aggravated assault every 27½ minutes, a robbery every two hours and 15 minutes, a rape every six hours and a murder every nine and one half hours."

Seal Coating Begins May 2

A pre-construction safety meeting for the 1966 District 16 Seal Coat Program was held at the Resident Engineer's office in Karnes City, March 24.

This construction program consists of seal coating approximately 260 miles of highways in Aransas, Bee, Goliad, Jim Wells, Karnes, Kleberg, Live Oak, Nueces, Refugio, and San Patricio Counties.

Schwabe, Inc., of San Antonio, submitted the low bid of $350,124.32. The contractor stated that he would begin seal coat operations on May 2.

The work will proceed through Karnes, Goliad, Aransas, Refugio, San Patricio, Nueces, Kleberg, Jim Wells, Bee and Live Oak Counties in that general order. The contractor expects to complete the work in approximately eight weeks of working time.

The public is urged to cooperate with the contractor, the Highway Department and the Law Enforcement agencies to promote safety on these projects.

Highways to be sealed in Aransas County are F. M. 2040, F. M. 2165 and a portion of F. M. 136.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I have been informed that you welcome comments from the visiting tourists.

My wife and I, have been vacationing in Rockport since Nov. 1965. During this time, I have fished approximately 130 days. During November and December, we found fishing very good, then slacking off in January and February. Of course this could be expected. So far this month, I have caught 81 fish. All from shore. Some we released, and, what we could not eat, gave away.

During our stay, I have talked to many out of town tourists, some that the fishing was poor. We have observed many outstanding good things about Rockport. We have fished in nearly every state of the union, as well as Canada, in the last 40 years, and think Rockport is the best we have visited. We find the children in Rockport much better behaved than anywhere else. This may come as a surprise to the parents, but nevertheless, we think it is true. You don't see them throwing things out the windows and fighting on the school buses. We found them far above the average. This surely reflects on the schools and parents.

We have found the people of Rockport very friendly, and exceptionally honest. I had an occasion to take my car to a local garage for a peculiar noise. They said they did not think anything was wrong, and did not want my money. Where can you find those kind of people today? We have always felt welcome and did not find too many private or no trespassing signs. This town has plenty of places to park your car, both for fishing and shopping. The streets are kept clean and the buildings well painted.

The park along the basin has plenty of picnic tables, and all facilities to make family outings most pleasant. It seems to me a shame the visiting public leave bottles, boxes, paper cups, and all kinds of trash lying on the ground, when containers are provided for their convenience. It is hard for me to imagine what it would look like on a Monday morning during the summer. This is not done by people out of state, but by the Texas people themselves.

What a bad example, to set for their children! It is this attitude toward keeping things clean that will retard any worthwhile effort to cleanse our public lands and water. This is not a local problem, but is nationwide. Heavy fines, in my opinion are the answer.

Each state has a penalty, some as high as $500, but beer cans and bottles are strung from coast to coast on our highways. At Fulton, Rockport and Aransas Pass, the ship basins are filthy, and no game fish, tolerate this oil soaked sludge, along with beer bottles, cans, and paper boxes surely it does not take much understanding.

After witnessing the large catch of fish during the cold spell at the Sea Gun. This is a clean basin, compared to the other waters, and the fish came into it during the cold spell. Approximately 1300 pounds were taken there in a few weeks.

If anyone has any doubts, lets look at the Great Lakes, Lake Erie, in 1940 was a clean lake. The water was clear and you could see the bottom in six to eight feet of water. Pickerel and bass were plentiful, and the commercial fishermen enjoyed a profit in fishing. It had no effect on pole fishing.

What is it today? Today the fish are gone. The bottom is covered with greenalgae and the surface a green scum. Rough fish are plentiful. It has been estimated in the last few years that 500,000 trailers are parked on the shores of this lake, from Port Clinton to Cleveland, Ohio. The top soil is only about four feet deep, and the rest solid limestone.

There is no other place for sewage to go except into the lake. Along with this, the large cities have increased in population threefold and they are using it for a cesspool. The same holds good for our rivers and streams. In Lake Huron, the commercial fishermen know from experience that lake trout will not tolerate dirty water, and they haul the gills, and entrails 50 miles back into Thunder Bay.

Here, it seems to me, the fishermen are their own worst enemies. All along the coast of this country, the undertow of the tides, carrying water pollution, along with the bottles and trash many miles from shore. Some of our officials try to appease the sportsmen and conservation clubs with many excuses and if things get too hot for our state officials, they will appoint a committee, hoping the problem will go away.

But it don't seem that anything constructive is being done. America may wake up some day, and find we have no seafood. I think the oyster situation proves this. It would, in my opinion, be a great step to prohibit the beer and soft drink manufacturers from using throwaway bottles and (cans) of any kind, and put a 5c deposit on each bottle sold. A five cent bottle would not lay around public grounds very long.

Along with this, make it mandatory, anyone caught throwing trash on public grounds must serve at least one eight-hour day cleaning up our parks and highways. This would go a long way to improve things. If the beer and soft drink people did not want to go along with this, then place a tax on their products, to cover the cost of cleaning up the trash, they have been selling to be thrown on public lands. This may seem drastic, but someday the people will be forced to take action.

In Rockport a campaign should be instigated to keep the parks, streets, and water clean. The Boy Scouts could be utilized to distribute literature to the visiting public, urging them to keep things clean. The Chamber of Commerce could reward them, by giving them a grand outing at the end of the summer season. Stores could display signs, urging people to keep the town and parks clean.

If the basins are cleaned, and kept clean, the fish will return, and no extra channels will be needed. Rockport would be an ideal place to set the example for the rest of the country to follow. Anyway, we like your town, and the people, and if nothings happens, we hope to return next fall.

"Snow Birds Message"

This bird has made seven trips from Michigan to stay in Rockport during the winter season.

To enjoy the hospitality of the area people and fish in the bays.

Last year Jan. 21, 1965, published in waterfront report that I was the winter fishing champ.

The Aransas Pass Progress Feb. 2, 1966 showed a picture of my boat and fish with two very nice sportsmen from Kansas and one from Nebraska.

To be exact we caught four hundred and eighty-one pounds of fish that day, mostly bull reds.

We must go home now and get some more eagles. Expecting to return next year to enjoy and join our fishing friends and business people that make all of this possible for us.

I am not the only snow bird that make good catches of fish in the surrounding waters.

Don't you thing Kingfishers would be the proper name?

FIRST HIGH SCHOOL ANNUAL BRINGS BACK FOND MEMORIES

Supt. of Schools J. D. Gray received the following letter from Mortimer Brown, president of Brown & Associates, Bryan, Texas:

"Enclosed find the Rockport High School Annual of 1921. This was the first year the school had an annual.

"As it was my first teaching experience and as I was a 20-year-old newlywed, that year will always hold a high priority in my memory.

"Although there is a great difference between the Rockport of 1921 and the Rockport of 1966, we were very proud of our school.

"If this annual can find a place in your archives, I will feel repaid for parting with it after having treasured it for 45 years."

Gray was very pleased to receive the annual which was called "The 1921 Sea Gull," and he and many of the men and women connected with Aransas County High School have enjoyed leafing through the publication.

Knowing that many people in the Rockport area would enjoy the memories brought back by names and passages from The Sea Gull, Gray loaned it to The Pilot to recount some of the highlights.

Under "Dedication," the publication stated:

"To our Superintendent, S. M. Brown, to our Principal Mrs. Anna Manning, as a token of our gratitude for their selfless kindness and helpfulness during the school year, we respectfully dedicate this little book."

On the next page is a photograph of Judge Joe A. Harper, president of the Board of Trustees, and the names of the other members: S. F. Jackson, secretary, Charles G. Johnson, Sam

Prophet, L. M. Bracht, A. L. Bracht and James Lathrop.

Next appeared the pictures and names of teachers: Mrs. Anna Manning, history and mathematics; Mrs. E. H. Norvell, music; Miss Mary Noonan, seventh grade; Miss Katie Lee Clarke, sixth grade; Miss Annie Fae Waite, fifth grade; Miss Agnes Von Dohlen, teacher in the Mexican School;

Miss Vivian Brittain, third and fourth grades; Miss Sylvan Gordon, third and fourth grades; Miss Sylvan Gordon, third and fourth grades; Miss Roby, primary teacher.

Moving along through the school annual, the next part was devoted to the seniors. Mary Pearl Herring was listed as president of the senior class, assistant editor of the Girls' Athletic Association and assistant editor of social columns.

Under her picture was the following: "What she will do or say seems wisest, most virtuous, most discreet, best."

Charlotte Guzilla Simpson was editor of the 1921 Sea Gull, assistant editor of the senior class, and described as "modest, sedate: And still the wonder grew that her small head could carry all it knew."

About Fay Antoinette Smith, senior class editor, the Sea Gull said, "Fay does not believe in 'all work and no play'."

The description of Ruth Pearl Bracht, secretary of the senior class and president of the Debating Club, was, "patience and perseverance are Ruth's watchwords."

Under the heading, Junior Class, Emma Bracht was listed as editor, and the officers as: Gustava Walling, president; Thelma Sparks, vice president; and Emma Bracht, secretary-treasurer.

The class roll consisted of Marie Johnson, Thelma Sparks, Orby Stanley, Viola Brundrett, Edith McHugh, Delphine Weber, Gustava Walling, Emma Bracht, Hallie Morill, Eunice Edmison, John Lee Herring, James Lathrop, Johnnie Phillips, Dunn Lowery, Mattie Key, Emma Etta Court and Marvin Davis.

In the next chapter the spotlight was focused on the sophomore class. Faye Maine was the editor, and the officers were Laurits Sorenson, president; Vaughn Brundrett, vice president; Josephine Moore, secretary - treasurer; Lillie Roberts, assistant editor; and Miss Sorenson, cartoonist.

The class roll was composed of Alice Bracht, William Davidson, Felma Edmison, Lloyd Lassiter, Edna Traveek, Gladys Kinsel, Wallace Lassiter, Laurits Sorenson, Renie McClary, Faye Maine, Lila Manship, Hope Roberts, May Tregoning, Ernest Silberisen, Ozella Hall, Wister Stevenson, Vaughn Brundrett, Josephine Moore, Vivian Pearson, Lillie Roberts, Marjorie Erwin and Stanley Jacobs.

Charlene Galle, Oberia Hutchins, Katie Lee Simpson, Clara Atchley, Pearl Townsend, Elwood Weber, Leslie Odom and George Babbitt.

This and That

JOHN KINSEY

Every newspaper that takes its community responsibilities seriously has a "Letters to the Editor" column.

In a way, this column takes the place of the old Town Hall meetings which most towns and cities had years ago to give their citizens an opportunity to express themselves about what should or should not be done in their communities.

In the March 17 issue, The Rockport Pilot published three letters to the editor. One was headed "Why Rockport Cannot Keep the Tourist Here" and was published above "A Kansas Tourist."

This particular letter really stirred up a storm. Almost anywhere you went, you heard people saying, "Who does that Kansas tourist think he is? If he doesn't like it here, why come to Rockport?", etc., etc."

Those of you who read the March 24 issue of The Pilot are aware that four letters to the editor were published, two of them taking sharp issue with the "Kansas tourist" and explaining why they consider this area a great place.

When The Pilot publishes a letter to the editor, this does not imply that the owners of the paper, agree or disagree with the opinion expressed in the letter.

In a sense, this column serves as a sounding board. It's a place where anybody can express himself about practically anything, which is the American way of doing things.

Our paper, like all good newspapers, has a common sense policy about letters to the editor. First, such a letter must be signed by the writer. If the writer wishes his name not to be published, we comply but we do insist that the letter be signed.

Secondly, we naturally reserve the right not to publish any letter that might be considered libelous or which does not represent good taste. Also, we'd appreciate it if the letters were limited to approximately 500 words.

Other than those requirements, we are pleased to publish any letter to the editor.

The Pilot is convinced that discussion of any and all issues is healthy. Take the Kansas tourist letter as an example. People who have lived here for years and who consider the Rockport area a great place will admit—if they are honest—that things are not perfect, that there is room for improvement—not just to please a visitor from Kansas but to be a progressive community always ready to make improvements for local residents as well as tourists, regardless of where they come from or when—summer or winter.

JOHN RATLIFF WINS PATIO CHEF TITLE

PARKS NOTE GREAT RUSH FOR SUMMER

Austin. — Reservations for summer state parks vacations are running at a record pace, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Superintendents at the more popular parks with substantial accommodations like Garner, Huntsville, Inks Lake, Lake Whitney, Corpus Christi, Falcon, Martin Dies (Dam B), Goose Island and Fort Parker indicate a "full house" by late May.

Fourteen of the recreational parks have screened shelters, ranging in number up to 46 at Martin Dies, 45 at Garner, 40 at Lake Whitney, 30 at Huntsville, 25 at Lake Corpus Christi, 24 at Falcon and 23 at Inks Lake.

All of the shelters are screened except at Goose Island near Rockport. At this, the only improved Gulf coast park installation, the 13 shelters are so close to the water that surf breezes theoretically discourage the insects.

Cabins are available at seven state parks: Lake Brownwood, 19; Garner, 17; Bastrop, 12; Caddo Lake, 9; Possum Kingdom, 7; Daingerfield, 4. Davis Mountains has a 16-room lodge rather than individual cabins.

Screen shelter fees are $2.50 per day plus $1.00 daily for each car, with the exception of those unscreened shelters at Goose Island where the daily fee is $1.50 plus the $1 car fee.

Fees for cabins vary. The Department advises persons seeking information about shelters, cabins, trailer facilities, camping areas and general accommodations to write Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, Reagan Bldg., Austin, Texas 78701.

For reservations for accommodations, write directly to the park concerned enclosing a check or money order made payable to the Park for one night's lodging. Give full name address, expected time of arrival and date of departure.

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT TO SPEND $311 Million

The Texas Highway Department revealed recently that it will spend almost $311 million as part of a continuing four-year war on traffic accidents.

The Department released an "inventory of hazardous locations" in its 25 districts. Construction projects have been programmed for 664 hazardous highway locations listed in the inventory.

Estimated cost for correcting the danger spots on highways in all parts of the state is $310,924,199. Of this an estimated $179.3 million will be state funds and $131.6 million will be federal funds.

Federal funds for participation in the program are derived from special taxes on highway users.

Typical projects listed by the bureau offer wide latitude. They include the widening of narrow bridges and traffic lanes, reconstruction to increase sight distances on horizontal curves and installation of railroad crossing warning devices, traffic control devices including pavement markings, highway lighting, guardrails and fencing.

State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer stressed that new projects will be added to the program as additional hazards are spotted.

Greer noted that $2.6 million in safety improvements projects have been undertaken with state forces at state expense last July.

He also pointed out that since last July program projects already let to contract totaled some $41.2 million in state participation and $26.4 million in federal participation.

SEN. PATMAN HONORED

Approximately 125 persons from this area attended a coffee honoring Sen. W. M. "Bill" Patman Tuesday afternoon at the Sandollar Motel Studio Club.

The senator reviewed the accomplishments which took place during his term of office and pointed to needed legislation in the future. He particularly promised all possible aid to this area to prevent pollution of bays and vacation and recreation areas.

Delaware, the first state to join the union, ratified the Constitution on Dec. 7, 1787.

Spring, She Is Here In South Texas

South Texas wildlife knows that spring is here, reports Texas Parks and Wildlife Department Regional Headquarters.

Flounders are returning to the bays and fishermen are picking them up at scattered locations.

Larval brown shrimp are pouring through the passes, into the bays where they will grow very rapidly for the next few months. Their growth will average about one millimeter a day until about June when they will move back into the Gulf to complete their cycle.

Biologists report unconfirmed information that the first whitewings, already in the Valley. The entire breeding population of Texas birds will return later from their winter homes in Southern Mexico and Central America. A flurry of home-site hunting and nest building in the brush and citrus groves will then begin.

T. D. Moore, South Texas wildlife restoration supervisor, commented that range conditions in this region are excellent. "Wildlife should get off to a flying start for this year," he said. "We have had a wonderful winter with consistent rain and even some to condition the soil."

The state parks division staff has been cleaning, repairing, and painting to have the parks spick-and-span for Easter, the unofficial opening of the outdoor season in South Texas.

The strait connecting the upper and lower New York bays is called the Narrows.
