Chamber Lauds Citizens

By JOELLA LOVVORN

The weather may have been chilly and bad outside, but the atmosphere inside the annual Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Banquet Saturday night was warm and cheerful, as prospects for Littlefield's future was given a big shot in the arm.

Besides the announcement of the coming of a new $30,000,000 cotton spinning mill and textile plant, citizens lauded and applauded four outstanding citizens of the year for 1974, and gave recognition to others for other outstanding service to the community during the year.

Even the guest speaker, Speaker of the House Bill Clayton, who drove his four-wheel drive vehicle down from Springlake in the snow storm, was delighted at the prospects for the area's future, and painted a "looking to the future with optimism" type picture for those attending.

Those attending were served steak and baked potato, as a master of ceremonies Doyle Patton kept the program moving.

Offering the invocation was Rev. Benny Goss, pastor of Sunset Baptist Church, who also did the art work for the banquet decorations.

A special award was presented to Mayor J. E. Chisholm by Patton in recognition of his extended efforts in securing industry for Littlefield. Prior to Rep. Clayton's main address, he also lauded Chisholm and stated, "You know, I've had several calls from J. E., and he DID hustle this plant pretty good!"

The "Woman of the Year" award was presented to Jeni D. Brunson by Carol Black, recipient of the 1973 award; the "Man of the Year" award was presented to Hubert Henry by Benny Zahn, last year's recipient; and the "Farm Family for 1974" award was presented to Delores and Donald Carr by James Blackwell, the last recipient of that award.

Decorations for the banquet followed the theme, "The Wheels Are Turning," with the various phases of community business and farm life depicted. Small cotton bales for the tables were donated by Plains Cotton Cooperative Association of Lubbock, which will build the spinning mill. Representatives of that Association were present, including Roy Davis, known as "Mr. Cotton" who developed the spinning technique through studies at Texas Tech; and W.

W. "Bill" Blackledge, attorney, who made the announcement of the plant's coming.

Blackledge advised that the open end spinning method (at 30,000 rpm's) produces 4 to 5 times the amount of yarn produced by the old ring type spinning method. He said that Davis' studies found that the low micronaire cotton makes better denim than the higher micronaire cotton.

Davis predicted "there is going to be a lot of development in the rural area... all the way from Washington to Austin." He was optimistic in what the new plant will do for the area, as well as the city.

See BANQUET, Page 7

HOUSE SPEAKER Bill Clayton lauded Littlefield in its acquisition of the new textile plant, and particularly thanked Mayor J. E. Chisholm for giving him an opportunity to help "remove a few of the obstacles along the way." Rep. Clayton challenged the citizens to regain faith in the government and to actively participate. Area Junior Livestock Sale Nets $36,323.43 For Youth

The annual Littlefield Area Junior Livestock Show and Sale was closed Saturday afternoon with a $36,323.43 sale for 139 show animals of Amherst, Spade, Sudan and Littlefield 4-H'ers and FFA members.

Open-End Spinning Mill All Go, Pledges Few Thousand Short

With the announcement of Littlefield being chosen for the site of the new cooperative-sponsored open-end spinning mill, the feet of some of those who worked so diligently to acquire the mill here haven't touched ground yet.

Every contract has been signed by all parties involved, and "everything is all sewn up," Littlefield Mayor J. E. Chisholm noted Tuesday.

As of Tuesday, the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture was $15,000 short in their pledges to secure $130,000, and approximately 30 C-CA members were out working on pledges to total the $130,000 goal.

The Chamber hopes to raise the additional pledges by public subscription within the next week and complete all transactions.

Anyone who will pledge money toward the site of the mill may make their check payable to the Chamber of Commerce.

Plans now call for construction of the $30 million plant beginning in April. Part of the approximately $17 million to $18 million in equipment will start arriving in June and will be stored until the plant is completed. It is estimated it will take about a year to build the mill.

Originally 23 cities were seeking the location of the open end spinning mill in their town. Then the selection sights were narrowed down to four—Littlefield, Shallowater, Plainview and Tahoka.

Littlefield was selected because it has all the necessary requirements—mainly enough water, plus sewage facilities and a proper land site.

The plant will use about 358,000 gallons of city water per day. After the water is used it will be pretreated to state requirements and dumped into the disposal plant on the Spade Highway near the construction site.

This water in turn will be used to irrigate surrounding farms and be used in the air conditioning equipment of the spinning mill.

The cotton cooperatives of West Texas which includes 27 cooperative gins in the South Plains and Rolling Plains areas started initial work two years ago for building a West Texas spinning mill.

Work by people in this county, the city of Littlefield and Chamber officials and members got underway in earnest in September.

Open end spinning is a real boon for the short staple, low micronaire cotton grown in this area. West Texas cotton is particularly good for manufacturing denim. A leading denim manufacturing firm has contracted for the entire output of the Littlefield mill for the first five years.

The plant will use approximately 60,000 bales of area-grown cotton annually.

Approximately 380 persons will be employed, and 50 percent or more will be women.

W. W. "BILL" BLACKLEDGE, attorney for Plains Cotton Cooperative Association of Lubbock made the announcement Saturday night that PCCA will build a $30 million spinning mill and textile plant in Littlefield. Ground is to be broken next month. (Staff Photo)

Missionary Baptist Church Sets March Promotion

March will be a month of maximum activity for the members and friends of the Missionary Baptist Church in Littlefield, according to the pastor, Rev. Ronnie Williams.
He reports that an all-out effort to boost the attendance of the church's Sunday School will be conducted under the theme,
"Let Your Light Shine."

This theme, taken from Matthew 5:16, emphasizes the importance of the Christian's witness for Christ. It is the church's conviction that one of the most effective means of a viable Christian witness is through active church attendance and involvement.

The Sunday School meets each Sunday at 10 a.m. and will be the primary area of promotion. The school is fully graded with a class for every age and uses the Bible as textbook.

Staff members in the school

are: Bob Cox, superintendent;
Miss Vivian Davis, nursery;
Mrs. Teresa Williams, toddlers;
Miss Teresa Wood, beginners;
Mrs. Jay Linda Kirkendoll,
primaries; Mrs. Billie Black,
Junior 1; Mrs. Billie Gilbert,
Junior 2; Mrs. Barbara Francis,
Intermediate; Mrs. Kathy
Williams, youth; and Rev.
Ronnie Williams, Adult
Friendship Class.

The promotion will run the full five Sundays of March, concluding Easter Sunday, March 30. The church nursery will be open for all services and free transportation will be provided for those who desire it.

"The friendly congregation of Missionary Baptist Church invites the public to participate in this special emphasis upon Bible study throughout the month of March," Rev.
Williams concluded.

Patsy Williams, Student Of Month

ANTON—Patsy Williams has been selected as Student of the Month for February at Anton
High School.

Students of the month are

Dear Friends:

On behalf of the various Lamb County Library committees and trustees, we would like to express our appreciation for the assistance your news media and Radio Station KZZN has given our project for improved library services.

Some foundations in replies to our fund-raising letters have inquired about local response. We are glad to report our newspaper and radio station's cooperation has been excellent.

Since we have no paid solicitors and each worker is employed elsewhere, it isn't possible to contact donors individually, therefore, we must rely on voluntary contributions to further the campaign.

Again, our most sincere appreciation for your assistance.

Dear Editor,

Friday, (Feb. 14, 1975) was indeed, a very fulfilling day. It is so heart relieving, when you can help someone, and to let them know that you care when help is needed.

This is where the Lamb County Community Action, stepped in. We are here to help people, that's our goal. Also to help people to help themselves.

There was this Mexican American family that came in Friday, and was in desperate need of food and clothing. They have six little children.

When you see that there are small children, it makes you want to help even more. How can anyone turn down someone after looking at the children?

The husband was out of work, and could find no work. He had also been ill. I took immediate action, and called the Salvation Army. They came down to render their services. They gave them money to help them out. A minister came to their aid and gave them money also. They had enough money to tide them over to the next day. We filled out papers for food stamps and they received them.

Friday morning KZZN called and put me on the air. They wanted me to ask if there was anyone that would like to help these people. About 30 minutes later, the phone started ringing, and people started bringing food, clothing and money. They brought things in until we closed.

So many people were concerned about this family.

I would like to say that I never knew that Littlefield had so many kind-hearted people. Now I can say, Littlefield has the best.

Seems like everyone here gave to this cause. We would like to thank each and everyone of you who gave, those who desired to give, but had not. We thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

Thank You,
s/Mrs. Valeria Henderson

James Johnson reported someone had gone to his farm four and one-half miles south of Lumsden Gin and took the pump out of the fuel tank and poured diesel on the ground. He estimated his loss at $100.

Jailed this week were a Sudan woman and an Amherst woman on check law violations. A Littlefield man charged with theft has been released on a $500 bond; a Friona man was charged with DWI and fined $125 plus court cost; and a Muleshoe juvenile was picked up and released to parents.

CLIPS & TIPS

By JOELLA LOVVORN

TUNA SUPREME, a new meatless casserole developed in the Kraft Kitchens is an interesting dish combining two American favorites— packaged macaroni and cheese dinner and canned tuna.

It is practically a meal in itself, for it contains foods from all of the basic food groups— tuna from the meat, poultry and fish group; pasta from the bread group; vegetables; and milk and cheese from the milk and milk products group.

To complete the meal, serve a fruit salad and set the table while Tuna Supreme is cooking, bringing preparation and cooking time for the entire meal within 60 minutes.

TUNA SUPREME

1 7 1/4-oz. pkg. Macaroni and Cheese Dinner
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
1 6 1/2-oz. can tuna, drained, flaked
1 2 1/2-oz. jar sliced mushrooms, drained

1 8-oz. can peas and carrots, drained
1/4 cup chopped onion
1/4 teaspoon celery salt

Prepare dinner as directed on package, except using 1/2 cup milk. Add remaining ingredients; mix well. Pour into 1 1/2-quart casserole. Cover; bake at 350 degrees, 20 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

HERE'S A LOW-COST eyebrow raiser!

Be sure to buy extra-thick pork chops for this dish, planning one chop per person. Brown the meat and transfer it to a baking dish. Now you're ready to build a tower of succulent pineapple rounds, sauteed pepper and onion rings, fluffy white rice and rich tomato sauce that is guaranteed to "wow" any family and leave your grocery budget intact.

SKY-HIGH PORK CHOPS

Double-thick pork chops (1 per person)
Canned pineapple rounds
Green pepper (small)
Onion (medium)
Minute rice
Condensed tomato soup

Salt, pepper and flour the pork chops and brown in skillet with small amount of cooking oil.

Place browned pork chops in casserole dish.

Cut onion in 1/4-inch slices; saute until golden brown, place one slice on each pork chop.

Top onion with one pineapple round.

Top pineapple rounds with 1/4-inch ring of green (bell) pepper.

Secure pepper, pineapple and onion to pork chop with toothpick.

Prepare minute rice according to package instructions, using only 2/3 of the steaming time (4 minutes). Cool.

Spoon rice into a mound in each pepper ring. Prepare condensed tomato soup with 1/2 can milk and pour over five-layered pork chop. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes. Serve with green salad.

FEW FOODS ADD so much to so many different dishes as celery does.

It combines especially well in a salad with other vegetables or fruits. Celery sharpens the flavor of vegetable soup—and when prepared with milk, it makes a hearty cream soup.

Two main varieties of celery are commonly found on the market. Pascal varieties are green and may have coarse stalks. These are gaining popularity because of the distinct flavor and almost complete absence of "strings."

Yellow, or gold, varieties— sometimes called Golden Heart— are bleached white.

Top quality celery has thick, solid stalks that are brittle enough to snap easily. Leaves are fresh and green.

Celery is highly perishable and needs a cool, moist temperature to keep its crispness. One average celery stalk weighs about one and a half pounds and can be diced up to make about one quart of celery cubes.

TIPS AND TIDBITS:

IF YOU ARE making a complicated recipe, here's a tip: do most of the chopping, peeling and grating of vegetables, nuts and cheese ahead of time—even the night before. You'll find things much less hectic.

THIS MAY SURPRISE you, but the specific flavor which identifies meat—beef, pork, lamb and veal— usually lies in the fat. Even experienced meat experts can be fooled in taste tests when no fat is present.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Don't Surrender

WE MUST NOT give up ourselves up to any of the perverse or detrimental influences or conditions which are so obviously present in our environment. Even though many of these may have some effect upon us, we "must not surrender" ourselves to any of them.

We may be powerless to prevent some of the unwanted happenings which affect us, but we are not powerless in the way or ways we respond. We can choose our manner of response.

THE PRESENT-DAY economic ills affect our lives, but there is no reason why we should surrender to feelings of discouragement, or despair, or defeatism.

It is much better that we "don't surrender." The wise and mature action is in acceptance of the realities, and in doing this in the very best way we can. This means that we will make whatever adjustments and modifications these realities require. This can be done, and is so much better than the alternative of letting our own personal world collapse.

YES, WE ARE CONCERNED; but we must decide the nature of our concern. Are we going to confine our concern to the minimum aspects of the difficulties, or shall we foolishly create the maximum burden by surrendering to all of the possible fears and apprehensions.

We can let ourselves feel hopeless and helpless, and compound our difficulties; or we can retain our integrity and our strength by "refusing to surrender" to the tyranny of panic and alarm.

THERE ARE OTHER economic ills in addition to the economic ills which are completely new elements may seem to be at least, different; but the point is, we can cope. It may be necessary to make some concessions; we may suffer losses; and there may be hardships; but "don't surrender" to them.

THE BALANCE in our life well expressed in this statement: are troubled on every side, distressed; we are perplexed, in despair; persecuted, but not cast down, but not destroyed.

We have the ability to see the reality of a problem or a situation without totally surrendering to it. This is just exactly what we need.

THE PREVAILING economic conditions together with related problems provide us with opportunities stronger and otherwise improve lives.

We now have the challenges which call forth our very best efforts, the avenues for greater development of our potential latent mental and spiritual. Thus, we can profit from the opportunities and challenges, if we do not give up.

WE CAN CONTROL what happens within us, even when we are not control what happens to us; and what we must do.

WELL WHAT DO you know! I see where the AFL-CIO is asking for legislation to break up the larger oil companies!

After that, we need legislation to break up the AFL-CIO!

ONE OF THE greatest of evils, at the bottom of our economic problems, is the demands for more money for doing less work. AND you can lay most of the blame for that at the feet of the gigantic labor unions.

I don't mean to advocate that the labor unions are without merit, but they need to be run by humanitarians instead of bigots, and despots. As can be seen, they have about succeeded in pricing themselves into the unemployment rolls.

AND YOU AND I, brother, are learning what it's like to bite the bullet, as a result.

Strikes of the labor unions have constantly driven the cost of our products higher and higher. They pretty well control the larger part of all our industry. From the mine or well finished product. If management ketow to their demands, they shut off production, via the strike routine.

AND, THEY ARE so powerful, all the planning and wrestling economic problems, you have hear any of our statements organized labor. That was sacrilege!

If you'd like to see one of the your auto (for instance) come try visiting an assembly plant. I amazed at the number of people ding around and doing so little. I vised that the cost of their time job is represented in the price of that new car. (Idle time at $11.00 hour, equals $777.77.)

SOONER OR LATER, some going to have to come up with courage to beard the lion, and by his right name. AND when you can be assured that the lion hit the fan!!

Turn Row COMMENTS

By EMIL MARR

MANY ARE WONDERING on what the remainder of winter will be like. For your information, according to some of my advisory personnel, we can expect three more snows or sleet before planting time. This will give us a total of ten snows or sleet storms for this year.

Moisture wise, the future looks promising for 1975 crop year, money wise, I'm not too sure about what the future will be. But I think that cotton will be up about 20 cents per pound over last year and that we will have a surplus of milo and corn.

OLE CORNBALL WAS wondering what to make of the hail we received last week. According to an old Indian legend it means that we will have a freeze in 60 days. So a word of caution, it may not be practical to plant before April 15.

A TIP OF THE HAT goes to all who worked so hard to get the textile mill located in Lamb County and here in Littlefield. I'm sure that will be an asset to the cotton industry, not only for the immediate area, but also for the entire upland cotton area. By having our own mills in the area it will strengthen the merchandising of cotton as well as stimulate growth of other industry.

CHECK MILK LABELS: "Skim milk" is not the same as "low-fat" or "fortified skim" or even "two percent." Each one is different.

A STRETCHER

To stretch sweetening, serve fresh seasonal fruits in place of heavy desserts with sugar. Use syrup from canned fruit to sweeten other fruit, sauces or beverages.

HEY ALL YOU little dribblers forget that Friday's schedule has changed. If you are scheduled for Friday, you will play tonight. The reason for this is that there be any school Friday, so the thought that it would be better schedule the game in case some would be going out of town weekend.

SINCE WE ARE now under a saving time, and the weather is too cold to do any outside work, evenings seem quite long, why not out and watch some of our young action. There is a lot of good basketball displayed during these little games, in most instances, they you a thrill-a-minute while the matched teams strive to get on side of the scoreboard. Try it, you like it.

THANKS CORNBALL, for past column next to the U.S. News and Report.

FUNDAMENTAL AREAS OF LIFE

Recently I put a small magnet near my auto compass. Suddenly the compass began to change directions and succeeded in finding a new NORTH!

The Christian faith is characterized by three fundamental changes which take place after one has personally followed Christ. (1) A new sense of values concerning what you own (2) A new sense of understanding concerning who you are (3) A new sense of values concerning the worth of your fellow man.

Unless your faith gives you new directions in these three vital and fundamental areas of life, you had better re-examine the whole matter.
