Search Continues For Survivors of Sunken Freighter

KODIAK, Alaska (UPI)—The Coast Guard reported Tuesday night at least five survivors and 12 bodies have been recovered from the storm-whipped north Pacific where a 450-foot American motor vessel broke up and plunged to the bottom.

The ship, Panoceanic Faith, had 40 men aboard when she sank Monday 870 miles southwest of Kodiak Island.

Ships from three countries were continuing the search for the 23 crewmen still unaccounted for, although the search through the night was to be limited to watching for flares of possible survivors and hunting by searchlight.

Identify Five Survivors

The Coast Guard said three of the survivors and four bodies were picked up by the Norwegian merchant vessel Visund which suspended its search effort and was en route to San Pedro, Calif., where it was to arrive before noon Oct. 18. The survivors aboard the Visund were identified as Edwin D. Johnson, Marine City, Mich. Oscar Wiley, address unavailable, and John O.L. Kirk, Modesto, Calif.

Former Klansman To Testify in Conspiracy Trial

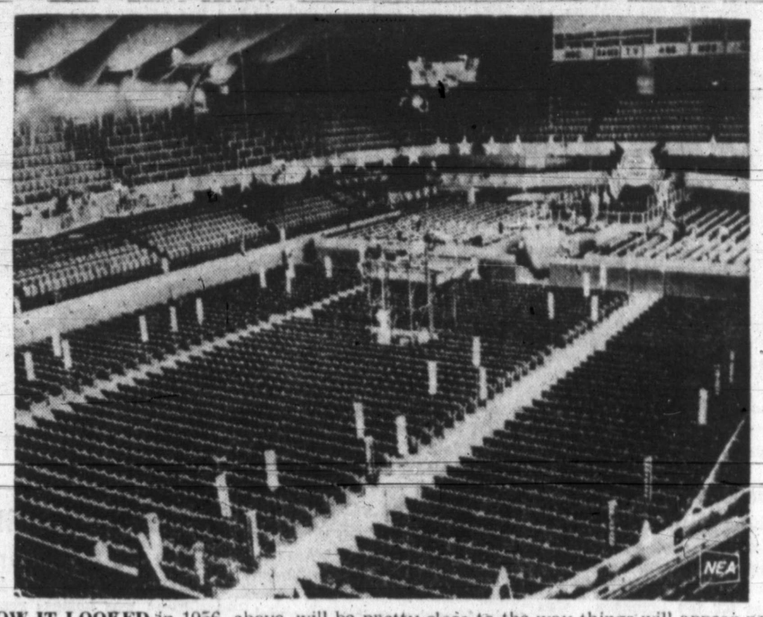

MERIDIAN, Miss. (UPI)—A former Ku Klux Klansman, who has been living under the wing of the FBI, was expected to testify today on the slaying of three young civil rights workers.

The man, James Edward Jordan, 40, is reported to be a key witness in the government's case against 18 white men charged with conspiracy in the 1964 deaths of Michael Schwerner, Andrew Goodman and James Chaney at Philadelphia, Miss.

Jordan was indicted on the same charges as the defendants, but exchanged information for a lighter sentence. FBI agents have been protecting Jordan at his Jacksonville, Fla. home for the past few months.

A second defendant, Horace Doyle Barnette, 28, Cullen, La., also was expected to be a witness in the government's allegation the Klan conspired to kill Schwerner and Goodman, both white New Yorkers, and Chaney, a Negro from Meridian.

Thieu Urges North Vietnam To Enter Into Peace Talks

SAIGON (UPI) — President-elect Nguyen Van Thieu swore in South Vietnam's new senate today and warned Hanoi he will urge an allied step up of the war if North Vietnam fails to adopt a "more realistic and reasonable attitude" toward peace talks.

There was a veiled threat of an invasion of North Vietnam in Thieu's major policy speech.

He said the allies were prepared to "bring peace to both North and South Vietnam." He did not go into specifics. The United States has made it plain many times that it is opposed to an invasion of North Vietnam.

The statement pleased South Vietnamese commanders who have suggested a ground invasion of North Vietnam, but Thieu is not among this group of officers. Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, the vice president-elect, is on record as saying a push into North Vietnam would be a good military move which would have to be weighed against political considerations.

Thieu spoke at an inauguration ceremony for the 60-member senate, which was elected with him and Ky in the Sept. 3 national voting—a big step toward constitutional government in this war-ravaged nation. He aimed his remarks at Hanoi.

"I believe that, with our lasting goodwill for peace, with the peace efforts of friendly nations and personalities all over the world, and first of all with the full-scale efforts of the armed forces and the people along with the help of our allies, either the enemy will adopt a more realistic and reasonable attitude or we will soon bring peace to the people of both north and south," Thieu said.

"If in spite of the goodwill we have shown, the Communists continue fighting, we should intensify our military and political efforts so the enemy will realize that they can no longer win this war in one way or the other."

Much of Thieu's senate address echoed remarks made in recent weeks by President Johnson, although Johnson has never coupled peace proposals with threats of stronger military action.

French Police Crush Bloody Le Mans Riot

PARIS (UPI)—Tear gas-hurling French police and firemen using high pressure water hoses crushed a bloody riot at the world's race car capital during the night. The Le Mans violence erupted shortly after the government defeated a leftist censure motion in parliament.

More violence was expected during massive antigovernment demonstrations called for Thursday throughout the nation by farmers disgruntled by sweeping economic and social decrees enacted by President Charles de Gaulle's government.

There were other disturbances—the latest in a series—but not so serious as the one at Le Mans which injured 20 policemen and dozens of demonstrators.

More than 800 workers walked off their job at the Sud aviation plant at Rochefort, marched through the streets and demanded the government abolish the decrees enacted this summer under emergency powers.

Outside parliament during the censure debate, more than 1,000 persons demonstrated.

The fighting at Le Mans, the international automobile racing city in northwestern France, erupted when an estimated 5,000 workers belonging to leftist and Christian Unions marched through the streets and tried to seize the prefecture which houses the government's representatives in the region.

Astronaut Joins Catholic Laymen in Church Debate

ROME (UPI) — Astronaut James McDivitt, 25 other Americans and 2,000 parishioners from 105 nations filled Pius XII Auditorium a few blocks from the Vatican today for an eight-day conference on the role of the laity in modernizing the Roman Catholic Church.

The ban on artificial means of birth control was an important issue for many of the delegates attending.

The debate was the first of its kind since the Ecumenical Council proclaimed two years ago that the laity should "share in the priestly, prophetic and royal office of Christ" and had an important role to play in adapting the church to 20th Century needs.

The agenda included discussion of world peace, family problems, family planning, contacts with members of other faiths, mixed marriages and means of "presenting the Christian message in forms adapted to the mentality of the modern man."

McDivitt, one of the spacemen involved in the Apollo moon project, attended as a delegate representing the Knight of Columbus.

The American delegation of 13 men and 13 women is headed by Most Rev. Joseph T. McGucken archbishop of San Francisco. Most of the delegations are headed by high-ranking clergymen but the emphasis of the meeting is on the opinions and views of their parishioners.

The theme of the conference is "God's People on Man's Journey."

Replies to questions about the work of the Ecumenical Council were received from lay groups in 65 nations, and most showed wide support for the decision to replace the Latin liturgy of the Mass with local languages.

A response from Argentina complained that the language of some council decrees "was not easy reading." Indonesian laymen called the wording of council pronouncements "awful curial and often loaded." A group of laymen in the United States said the texts should be rewritten by journalists.

The laymen meeting here planned six plenary sessions involving all 2,000 delegates and a series of smaller workshops on specific problems.

Searchers Find Clothing of Missing Girl, 15

ROSENBERG, Tex. (UPI) — A search party Tuesday found two sweaters and a brassiere strap they feared belonged to the attractive 15-year-old daughter of a Louisiana policeman. Officers said the girl, missing since Monday, may have been kidnapped.

Sandra Ann Daigle, daughter of Police Lt. Reavis Daigle, was last seen on a road 12 miles north of Rosenberg Monday morning.

Sheriff R. L. (Tiny) Gaston said his men found the sweaters and the bra strap along Farm Road 359.

"One sweater was verified by her father and we think without any doubt the other long-sleeved sweater also belonged to her," Gaston said.

"The bra strap was not found in the same area," he said. "We combed the road all the way to (U.S.) Highway 59 and just found it. We don't know whose it was."

He said the sweaters would have been all the girl was wearing above the waist except the brassiere.

"We feel like it's foul play," Gaston said. "But we actually don't know one way or the other."

The sheriff said three men last seen with the girl were between 21 and 26 years old. Gaston quoted a 17-year old New Orleans youth, David Rodriguez, as saying he was with the men but he leaped out of their car when they began driving recklessly.

Rodriguez said he met the Daigle girl in Lafette, La., and they hitchhiked to Houston. The girl, a school dropout, had run away from home either Friday night or Saturday, Gaston said.

Auto Workers Meet With News Blackout

DETROIT (UPI)—Negotiators for the United Auto Workers and the Ford Motor Co. met today under the protection of news blackout, traditionally the sign that strike-ending progress is being made at the bargaining table.

The self-imposed news blackout, remaining in effect until 9 o'clock tonight, was interpreted by long-time observers of auto industry strikes as meaning Ford had made a wage package offer to the union which could be extended and polished into an agreement. The blackout could be extended if sufficient progress is made today.

Word of the blackout came late Tuesday, about six hours after Ford asked the union to delay the start of the day's talks until evening. The UAW agreed to the night session, the first since it struck Ford on Sept. 7 and pulled 160,000 workers out of plants in 25 states.

Leathernecks Hit By Mortar Barrage

SAIGON (UPI) — North Vietnam forces launched a heavy rocket, mortar and artillery barrage against the embattled Con Thien outpost Tuesday and followed up early today with a mortar and ground attack against Leatherneck positions a few miles to the south.

The North Vietnamese have massed three divisions of 35,000 to 40,000 men just above the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) and have another two divisions in the hill country below the zone. Authorities have predicted a decisive battle in the area.

Military spokesmen announced last week nonstop bombardments by Marine artillery and B52 strategic bombers had broken the siege of Con Thien and that the Red Army was withdrawing northward. The reports appeared to be premature.

Communist Forces Close

Communist shelling of the Marine positions at Con Thien dwindled from an average of 500 shells a day to perhaps 40 or 50 but Marine officials had cautioned Tuesday that large Communist forces remained behind, some grouped a few hundred yards from the exposed Marine outpost to escape B52 raids.

Con Thien is two miles below the DMZ and about 10 miles inland from the coast. The Marines announced Tuesday they had rushed reinforcements into the area. A U.S. Army regiment moved into the South.

Movement of the regiment of 4,500 men of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry division into the jungle area south of Con Thien was supposed to be a secret. But the Army announced today that North Vietnamese troops attacked and penetrated the American lines before any announcement of the new American camp was made public.

In that raid the North Vietnamese attacked under an umbrella of mortar shells in the darkness before dawn Tuesday, touching off a fierce battle. The U.S. command said the Cavalrymen killed nine Communists and captured two while losing seven dead and 17 wounded.

Marine Casualties Mount

A military spokesman said the Communists fired 74 rounds of rockets, artillery and mortar fire Tuesday at embattled Con Thien, wounding 26 Marines. They said the Communists once again were using 152 millimeter artillery—big guns which can shoot 18 miles.

Body Identified As Che Guevara, Castro Henchman

VALLEGRANDE, Bolivia (UPI) The bullet-riddled body of a Communist guerrilla leader identified as Cuban revolutionary Ernesto "Che" Guevara was being buried today in this remote little town in southeast Bolivia.

Officials predicted the guerrilla insurgency that erupted in Bolivia eight months ago would be laid to rest at the same time and throw a serious crimp in Fidel Castro's efforts to export his brand of communism.

Guevara the Bolivian army said there was absolutely no doubt it was he—was being buried quietly with the rites of the Roman Catholic Church in an unmarked grave.

Hurt Castro's Campaign

(In Washington, U.S. officials who have heard many earlier reports of Guevara's death, said they were inclined to believe the Bolivian claim was true although they would like to see the scientific evidence before being certain. The officials said the death of Castro's lieutenant would be a serious setback for the Cuban leader's program for spreading communism and revolution in Latin America.)

"This is the end of this bloody adventure," said Bolivian armed forces commander Gen. Alfredo Ovando of the insurrection that Guevara spawned. Even as he spoke, the American-trained ranger troops that hunted Guevara for more than six months were on the trail of another guerrilla band near Vallegrande.

Rusk to Lead Counterattack Against Critics

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk is scheduled to lead in the next Johnson administration counterattack against the increasingly vocal congressional critics of the President's Vietnam policy.

Rusk will launch his campaign at a news conference planned for later this week.

Johnson himself set the tone of the counterattack last Saturday night in a speech at a Democratic fund-raising affair here when he said he was firm in his determination to "see it through" in Asia.

The Chief Executive said most of the recommendations he had heard "on how to get out of trouble cheaply and fast . . . come down to this: deny your responsibility."

He said such advice would have the United States behave as if it were "a small nation with few interests . . . as if the oceans were twice as wide as they are . . ." This is the voice, not of the hawk or dove, he said, "but of the ostrich."

The next round in the battle came Monday when Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey fired off a blast at the Republicans for allegedly playing politics with the war.

Rusk, at a news conference tentatively scheduled for Thursday, will attempt to blow holes in some of the various congressional peace proposals of the past 10 days.

The administration believes that proposals put forth by lawmakers such as Senators Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., Stuart Symington, D-Mo., and Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., are unrealistic and have fatal flaws when examined in the light of Hanoi's position.

Morton's about-face in urging complete cessation of U.S. air attacks on North Vietnam gave increasing respectability to a position the administration once dismissed as representing only the ideas of Communists, neutralists and deluded doves.

Rusk can be expected to point out again that such an action, without any specific assurance that Hanoi would make a reciprocal gesture, would be irresponsible. This is particularly true, in the view of the administration, considering that Hanoi has made it clearer than ever in recent days that it wants no negotiations except on terms which would involve an unrealistic commitment to surrender South Vietnam.

At the other end of the spectrum is a rising chorus of voices led by Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., of the Senate preparedness subcommittee, clamoring for intensification of the war, including bombing of Haiphong harbor.

But Johnson and Rusk believe that an all-out intensification of the war would be equally irresponsible since it would risk the danger of greater Russian and Red Chinese aid for Hanoi, including the possibility of waves of Chinese "volunteers" such as swept into North Korea 16 years ago.

Dear Abby

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am one of those who has accepted many invitations but never reciprocates. I, too, have talked of having a party, but it never materializes. Would you like to know why?

I'm frightened to death of having people in because when the conversation lags, I'm tongue tied. I can never think of anything clever to say. I am not sure that what I cook will be good enough, and I'm not sure I'll serve it right.

In school I was the quiet type who earned the reputation of being "stuck up" because I was so shy. I know I should have people over, and I really want to, but I'm scared. How does one overcome such fears? I am almost 40 and I'm

STILL SCARED

DEAR STILL: Many people don't entertain because theyre afraid they won't do it to perfection. Nonsense! Perfection is not expected of anyone. There are any number of good cook books with suggested menus and full instructions on serving. And get over the idea that everyone in the room is waiting for the pearls of wisdom to drop from your lips. Say anything. If it's audible, kind, and honest, you'll get by. The longest march in the world started with one step. Forward—march!

DEAR ABBY: I am a 13-year-old girl with an odd problem. I have a father who absolutely refuses to answer the telephone at home. He says he gets calls all day long where he works, and he is not going to be an answering service for his family.

When he is home alone it is a real problem because kids call the house and when no one answers, they think I am out of town or something.

I know I can't make him answer the phone, but maybe if you put this in the paper, he will see it and change his attitude. Thank you, Abby.

S.K.

DEAR S.K.: I'll give it a try, but I think it will probably take an emergency to change his mind.

DEAR ABBY: Tell that woman whose husband is on the road three or four days a week not to feel so sorry for herself. My husband travels, too. He leaves early Monday morning, and comes home Friday in time for dinner.

While he is gone, I cook, clean, mend, shop and do all the things a wife and mother must do, so I am free to spend all my time with him when he is home. He has never heard me say, "I'm so tired," or, "I have so much work to do." The children run to meet him at the door, and the week-ends are like honeymoons.

My husband told me I didn't have to worry about his chasing other women on the road, that if a man is going to cheat, he can work in town six days a week, and make time on his lunch hour.

Carson County Historical Society Completes Program

PANHANDLE — The Carson County Historical Survey Committee was lauded as the primary moving force yesterday in bringing to completion a five year historical program.

John Ben Shepperd, former attorney general of Texas and now manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, said in a keynote address at the Carson County Reunion that it was the "number one committee in the state."

The committee has been credited with erecting 26 historical markers, compiling a two volume history entitled "A Time and A Purpose," publishing other documents, and documenting other items of history.

More than 600 persons attended the affair yesterday to see the five year program climaxed with the dedication of eight historical markers.

Markers dedicated were the Square House Museum, the Johnny Holmes memorial, the first bookmobile in Texas, one of the earliest cultivated trees in the Panhandle, the John and Maggie Weatherly marker, the Santa Fe Railway marker, the pioneer dugout, and the Opal Weatherly Purvines museum annex.

Dignitaries on hand included State Sen. Grady Hazelwood, Lt. Col. Wilson E. Speir of Austin, assistant director of the Department of Public Safety, Charles Woodburn of Amarillo, president of the Texas State Historical Survey Commitee, Truett Latimer of Austin, executive director of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, and Joe Woodward of Dallas, national director of Mens Garden Club.

The day was climaxed with the traditional barbecue, held in the County Agriculture Building.

"Preparation and planning," Willis said, "are most important to success in the life insurance business."

Willis was introduced by Art Lara, Amarillo Agency Manager for South Coast. John McCausland presided at the district luncheon in the absence of Joe Cree, association president.

Washington Report

From Congressman

BOB PRICE 19TH DISTRICT, TEXAS

1323 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. • 225-6705

Last week I introduced two more Veterans bills. One of them would prevent cuts in benefits which were raised by the recently enacted Veterans Pension and Readjustment Act of 1967.

Two of my first bills which I introduced last February were to increase benefits for veterans and their widows and to increase educational allowances for veterans. I was happy to see my bills incorporated into the Act as it was passed and signed by the President.

However, the Act has certain income limitations which would be affected in many cases by increased Social Security benefits. This would exclude some veterans from the program so it will be necessary to make adjustments in the veterans' pension program.

The Veterans Affairs Committee of the House has, in fact, already begun hearings on the legislation but will not be able to complete action until the Senate agrees on the amount of Social Security increases.

The other bill I introduced would allow the Veterans Administration to contract with community nursing homes in order to alleviate crowded conditions in V.A. hospitals. This would reimburse nursing homes up to 45 per cent of the cost of care furnished by the V.A. in hospitals under direct and exclusive jurisdiction of the V.A.

The new Veterans Assistance Act that went into effect October 1, will benefit not only veterans and their widows and children with a cost-of living increase in pensions butwill also offer educational benefits to all veterans who have served in the military since 1955 and grants certain war time benefits not previously provided to veterans serving in the Armed Forces on or after August 5, 1964.

Higher benefits will include:
$130 a month for an unmarried veteran in school full time.
$155 a month for married veterans in school full-time.
$175 a month for veterans with two dependents, in school full-time, and $10 extra per child.

Veterans may choose on-the-job or apprentice training and receive payment from 30 to $100 a month for the first of 4 six-month periods with payment reduced in each succeeding six-month period.

The law also includes on-the-job farm training while attending agricultural courses and flight training.

A veteran may also complete high school without losing eligibility for college training. Time spent in completing high school will not be charged against a veteran's basic entitlement period.

The Act also increases the period of time during which training may be taken by extending the age limit from 23 to 26 years.

It extends the over-all delimiting date for entitlement of WW II veterans to a guaranteed, direct loan, or business loan from July 25, 1967 t oJuly 25, 1970. And the V.A. may now increase maximum allowable direct-housing loan from $17.500 to $25.000 in areas where it is found that cost levels so require.

A summary of the bill and its provisions may be obtained from local Veterans Service officers or by requesting one from my office.

Exploratory drilling on uranium leases held by Amarillo Minerals, Inc., will commence about the middle of October on leases acquired from fee owners, Amarillo Minerals, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Amarillo Oil Co., will conduct the exploratory operations from their office recently opened in Corpus Christi.

As to these permits, the company has an agreement with a major oil company who will do exploratory work to earn aninterest in any state leases acquired.

Highlights and Sidelights From the State Capitol

AUSTIN — Gov. John Connally dropped a political bombshell on the state capitol scene by reportedly telling 45 top supporters in a meeting at the Mansion that he has about made up his mind not to run for re-election.

Word of his unexpected reluctance promptly leaked to newsmen. Connally confirmed that the meeting was held and the possibility of a fourth term was discussed.

"My mind is not finally and irrevocably made up," he stated. "I have a pretty firm idea what I am going to do, but I am not prepared to announce the decision. I may decide within the next few days, but I think it will be longer—two weeks or later."

Backers began deluging the governors office with telephone calls and some newspapers are sounding editorial appeals for the governor to run "just one more time."

U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough's name figures increasingly in the list of prospective gubernatorial candidates following a disagreement between Connally and the senior senator over flood aid.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, who already has announced as a candidate for the top spot, continues his campaigning in East Texas where he is conducting a "listening tour."

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has stated repeatedly he might run for governor if Connally does not.

House Speaker Ben Barnes says he will run for lieutenant governor regardless of Connally's decision.

COURT RACES SPOTLIGHTED — State high court races are assured more than ordinary attention in 1968 primaries by the early announcements of three incumbent judges that they will not seek re-election.

Court of Criminal Appeals Judge Wesley Dice is the latest to reveal plans to step aside at the end of his present term. States Attorney Leon Douglas immediately announced as a candidate for the place.

Earlier announcements were made by State Supreme Court associate Justice James R. Norvell and Meade F. Griffin that they will retire after next year. Potential Candidates to succeed them include Austin District Judge Tom Reavley, Chief Justice James G. Denton of the Amarillo Court of Civil Appeals, Associate Justice Mart Davis of the Texarkana Court of Civil Appeals and Houston district Judge Sears McGee.

NEW INSPECTION ITEMS—Auto inspections expanded by the new State law, are underway at 5,500 stations and will continue through April 15.

Don't be surprised at the additional items covered by the new $1.75 fee. They will include:

—Required front seat safety anchorages as part of the manufacturer's original equipment.

—Checking for "lash or "play" in steering control. Vehicles will be rejected if steering wheel can be turned more than two inches without front wheel motion. It must also be possible to turn the wheels from full right to full left without jamming or binding. Vehicles with power steering must be checked with power on, and if fluid is below recommended level, car will not pass inspection.

—Wheels with defective or bent rim flanges or those with loose or missing bolts, nuts, or lugs will cause rejection of the vehicle.

AIRPORT AID ALLOTTED—Texas Aeronautics Commission has allocated $467,260 to 24 towns and acounty for airport development.

Funds went to Wharton County ($24,500) and these communities:

Alpine, $14,000; Bay City, $20,000; Canton, $18,000; Clifton, $ 9 760; Dimmitt, $20,000) Dublin, $18,000; Ennis $27,500; Gilmer $18,000; Granbury, $20,000; Kennedy, $18,000; Knox City, $20,000; Kerrville $200,000; Levelland, $18,000; Liberty, $18,000; Littlefield, $18,000; Livingston, $20,000; Llano $20,000; Madisonville, $27,500; Paducah, $14000; Shamrock, $18,000; Slaton, $18,000; Stamford, $18,000; Weslaco, $10,000; and Wills Point, $20,000.

COURTS SPEAK — Reversing a 32-year-old decision denying right of parents to recover damages for death of a child due to pre-birth injuries, State Sureme Court recognized the right of parents to collect compensation in such a case. Suit involved the death of a two-day-old infant as a result of injuries sustained before birth in an auto-truck accident.

Courtin other actions:

—Upheld denial of applications for savings and loan institutions in LaGrange.

—Agreed that the City of Ft. Worth and Ft. Worth schools can tax Greyhound buses within their jurisdictions.

—Set a November 22 hearing on a Negro's suit against a Houston club manager who refushed to serve him and allegedly jerked a plate out of his hand.

ATTACK ON CRIME — House Speaker Barnes revealed his three-pronged plan on the problem of rising crime rate in Texas.

The "concentrated attack" would equip law-enforcement officers with thetools necessary to offset a "wave of lawlessness," he said.

First of the three steps is the appointment of a study committee to make a continual study of the Code of Criminal Procedure, which was passed by the 59th Legislature and revised somewhat by the 60th Legislature.

Second point will be the production of a Manual of Law Enforcement, designed to insure uniformity in crime prevention in the state, to be put out by a recently appointed Law Enforcement Study Committee.

Finally, Barnes wants to establish a state police academy, which would be open to law offices of all levels within the state, from highway patrol to county sheriffs and city police.

AUCTION SALE — High bids on oil and gas leases on University of Texas land in West Texas averaged $54 an acre. Funds will be used mainly for university constructon.

Jerry Sadler, Land Commissioner and Chairman of the Board for Lease of University Lands, said the 170 tracts totalled 45,000 acres and brought high bids of $2,426,400. He expressed satisfaction with this figure.

AG RULES — New law, requiring American government and history courses in state institutions of higher education and junior colleges for general academic courses, is not applicable to educational or technical course certificates given for State Board or Vocational Education-approved courses, says Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin.

In other opinions Martin held that:

—State comptroller may refund tax overpayments made under mistake of fact or mistake of law under duress.

—Comptroller must refund forfeited discount and deductions and penalties and interest when a taxpayer is able to show returns were mailed on time but postmarked late.

—Motor vehicle sales tax applies to all sales of motor behicles to a dealer where vehicle is exclusively utilized for personal or business purposes of the dealer, his family or employes including use of vehicle as a demonstrator.

Comptroller's office can use state funds to pay premiums on existing group life insurance policy for its employes. No new group contract is necessary under recent law.

Hopes Spread Thinner Each Day For 59 Prison Death Row Men

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (UPI)—When Fred Dorman Talbot Jr. awakes each morning on San Quentin Prison's Death Row he knows "my hopes are spread a little thinner."

"Death is something you learn to live with here," said the 27-year-old convicted killer as he lit a cigarette during an interview.

"Each of us—me and the other 59 on the row—figures the day will never come. But we don't kid ourselves. We know why we are here."

Death has been a relative stranger for the convicts for almost five years.

Only one—Aaron Mitchell, 37, had the steel door slam shut behind him in the apple-green gas chamber since Jan. 23, 1963. The killer of a policeman, Mitchell went to his death last spring screaming that he was Jesus Christ.

Talbot had a summer appointment in the glass-plated, octagonal cubicle but managed to avoid it through an appeal. He made another successful appeal last week to escape his execution scheduled this Tuesday.

Hopes And Prays

"So now I hope and I pray," Talbot said. "But each morning I wake up and know my hopes are spread a little thinner."

The unofficial moratorium before Mitchell's execution spanned 48 court reversals and nine commutations by then Gov. Edmund G. Brown. Rulings by the U.S. Supreme Court opened new avenues of appeals for nearly all Death Row inmates.

The suspension began anew in mid-summer when U.S. Dist. Judge Robert Peckham issued a blanket injunction forbidding executions. Chief grounds for the action was the legality of barring from jury duty persons opposed to capital punishment.

Peckham subsequently removed his ban, ruling that inmates must make their appeals on an individual basis.

Although Gov. Ronald Reagan has granted clemency to one condemned slayer since succeeding Brown, he generally supports executions as a crime deterrent.

"I'll take what's coming," vowed Talbot. "I hope I can go in there quietly like a man. But I just don't know if I'm guilty or not. I don't remember what they say I did."

His conversation flashed back to the night of March 11, 1965, when he and his 17-year-old sweetheart were in Port Hueneme, a stark Southern California coastal town.

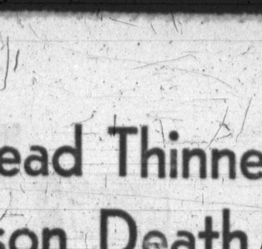

According to a jury of eight men and four women, it was there that the gangling high school dropout bludgeoned to death a drunken sailor. The prosecution said his motive was robbery—the sailor's $283 which Talbot wanted to marry his girl friend.

Talbot's father, Dorman Sr., a prominent jeweler in nearby Oxnard, is convinced his son is being "railroaded."

"He's covering up for someone," the elder Talbot said. "He's not the kind of boy who would kill anyone."

Recent Rains Improve Winter Grazing Hope

COLLEGE STATION (UPI)—Open weather which has generally held since Beulah made her exit has aided harvesting and improved prospects for late planted crops. Too, the widespread rains have greened up pastures and ranges and improved winter grazing prospects, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service reported Saturday.

But the service added that widespread infestations of Fall armyworms are causing much concern. Early planted oats in many sections will have to be replanted due to the damage and pastures are also feeling the bite, the Service said. Stock water supplies were also boosted by the rains but ranges in Northwest Texas are needing rain, the service said.

Clean up activities are continuing in hard-hit South Texas where much replanting of vegetables will be done when field conditions permit, the service said.

The South Plains grain sorghum harvest is now in full swing and above average yields are indicated. Cotton in Northwest Texas, much of which is late, needs more warm, dry weather to fully mature the fiber, the Service advised. Soy bean prospects in that section continue to look good with some early varieties now being harvested.

Wheat planting on the High Plains is nearing completion but low soil moisture is delaying plant emergence in some areas.

From 75 to 90 per cent of the cotton in the Blackland counties of Central Texas has been harvested and 75 per cent is out in the southern counties of North Central Texas. The harvest in far West Texas is increasing and the same is true in the southern counties of the South Plains.

'Cats Curtis Increases Lead In Area Scoring

By JEFF HOLLADAY

The only touchdown scored by Canadian against Wheeler last week was a big one for halfback Johnny Curtis, for two reasons.

It not only was the winning score but the six-pointer helped Curtis increase his Top O' Texas scoring lead over one of his teammates.

Curtis now has six touchdowns for 36 points while Gary Purser, another Canadian halfback, has 26 points on four touchdowns and one two-point conversion for second place.

Miami's fleet runner, Bobby Adcock holds down third place with four touchdowns and an extra point for 25 points.

Frankie Rogers of Wheeler has fourth place all to himself only one point behind Adcock. Rogers has crossed the goaline four times for 24 points.

McLean's Thacker Haynes has scored 22 of his teams total of 50 points on three touchdowns two, two-point conversions for fifth place while another Wheeler Mustang, Bobby Ware has sixth place along with Groom's Bobby Goodlett. The senior quarterback has three touchdowns and one two-point conversion for 20 points. Goodlett has scored the same amount of touchdowns and conversions.

Places seven through 10 are tied with four players having 18 points.

Bobby Brines of Miami and Jim Gilbreath of Lefors both have three touchdowns each while White Deer's Mike Hawpe and John Paul Guinn, who has not played in two weeks, have three touchdowns each also.

Throughout the Top O' Texas area 39 players have scored touchdowns. Out of the 39 White Deer leads the list with nine players in the scoring column with Wheeler second with seven.

District games will be in the limelight Friday with Claude hosting McLean (2-3) in a District 2-A encounter and Silverton at Wheeler (3-2) in another 2-A league game.

District 1-A's only league game finds White Deer (4-1) at Sunray.

Other games has Canadian hosting Clarendon; Liberal, Kan. at Perryton; Lefors at Erick, Okla.; and Groom at Happy.

Yaz's Stance Corrupting Nation's Youth?

BOSTON (UPI) — Only a brave man, a real brave one, would come out in this city and accuse Carl Yastrzemski of corrupting all the youth of America.

Paul Richards is a brave man. A real brave one.

He's the guy making all those deals that are lousing up the World Series and he's also the one making that rough charge against Yastrzemski.

He's gonna ruin 800,000 kids all over the country with that stance of his and with the way he holds that bat up in the air," fumes the big brain of the Atlanta Braves disgustedly.

"He'll start a national epidemic like DiMaggio did when the kids all tried to imitate him," Richards frowned.

"You know how great DiMaggio was. He would've hit .900 had he hit like a human being, with his feet together."

Richards hit like a human being, with his feet together. His lifetime average was something like .235.

Joe DiMaggios was .325 and Yastrzemski's is right around .300, but the dark-haired darling of the Red Sox urges all his friends not to run out and lynch Paul Richards because Yaz says he could be right.

Yaz Never Imitated

"There's a lot to what he says," Yastrzemski declares. "Richards is right? Kids shouldn't imitate me or anyone else for that matter. I tell them not to. Simply because I hold my hands high at the plate is no reason in the world why they should. I never imitated anyone.

"Whenever I talk to kids about hitting, I always tell them to be comfortable and enjoy themselves. That's the big thing: They should enjoy themselves up there."

"Are you enjoying yourself?" someone asked Yastrzemski.

"I am this year," he laughed.

The fact of the matter is there is no money back guarantee that comes with any particular stance at the plate or any special way of holding the bat.

Ty Cobb held his hands more than six inches apart on the bat and hit .400. Ted Williams held his hands together and did the same thing.

Jackie Robinson and Ralph Kiner both held the bat way up the same way Yastrzemski does and they didn't do half badly. On the other hand, Sandy Amoros and Johnny Berardino did, too, and what did it get them?

Richards Made Offer

To keep the record straight, Paul Richards is anything but a Carl Yastrzemski detractor and if the Red Sox don't believe it, he'll be right up to their executive office with a legitimate heart-stopping offer.

It wouldn't be Richards' first one for Yastrzemski, either.

"He used to call me often, trying to get me to sign, when he was still with Baltimore," remembers Yaz.

"I was a shortstop at the time, they (the Orioles) were hurting at shortstop and I was interested," admits Yastrzemski. "Finally it got down to four clubs, The Phillies, Reds, Tigers and Red Sox. Right down until the end, Paul Richards always told me to call him anytime."

Richards remembers the situation also.

Cards Try to Wrap it Up Today

BOSTON (UI—They turned the World Series over to the rookies today—Dick Hughes, trying to pitch the Cardinals to their eighth world championship, and Gary Waslewski, trying to keep his finger in the dike for the underdog Boston Red Sox.

There was a chance —a 20 per cent chance, according to the Weather Bureau—that the rookies would have to take a back seat to the elements.

Cloudy and foggy weather was forecast for Boston in the morning, with a chance of showers in the afternoon when a crowd of 35,000 was expected to jam cramped old Fenway Park for the sixth game of the series starting at 12 noon CST.

The Cards leading three games to two with bespectacle Hughes trying to atone for his defeat in the second game, were rated 6-5 favorites to take the sixth game.

That's all the Cards need to break out the champagne for a victory party that was at least postponed by Boston ace Jim Lonborg on Monday when he beat them, 3-1, in the series' fifth game in St. Louis.

Although the Cards would take the series if they won today, oddsmakers went on to quote a 17-5 price on the Cards winning the series in either the sixth or the seventh game.

"We're back in our lion's den," said Boston slugger Carl Yastrzemski. The American League champions were bubbling with confidence that back at home they would be able to duplicate the feat they performed in the final week of the season when they won the AL pennant by beating the Minnesota Twins in the last two games of the season.

Waslewski, who has been up and down to Toronto of the International League this season, was something of a surprise pitching selection by Boston Manager Dick Williams.

The tall righthander, bothered by control trouble at various times of his career, hasn't started a game since Sept. 3 and that game was for Toronto. He has appeared in this series once, in the third game, when he worked in relief and retired all nine batters he faced, including three on strikeouts, with only one ball hit to the outfield.

"I'll just try to pitch like I did the other day," said Waslewski, a dead pan unemotional type.

"Of course," he added, "I made a couple of mistakes then that I don't intend to repeat."

Hodges, Mets May Announce Pact Today

BOSTON (UPI)—The New Senators have called a joint Press conference today at which time Gil Hodges is expected to be named the Mets' manager.

Hodges, the 43-year-old former Brooklyn Dodger star, still has another year to run on his $40,000 contract with the Senators but they gave the Mets permission to negotiate with him Sunday night in St. Louis. Before officially severing connection with the Senators, Hodges recommended Rube Walker to succeed him as Washington manager.

Walker served as one of the coaches under Hodges this year and previously was a teammate of his with the Dodgers, later managing Augusta in the minor leagues.

Other candidates who are reported to be in the running for Hodges job with the Senators were former Minnesota Manager Sam Mele and Eddie Yost, who also was a coach with the Senators this year.

Although both the Mets and Senators alerted newsmen to Wednesday's conference, officials of both clubs refused to confirm or deny that Hodges would sign a contract with the Mets.

Hodges moved the Senators up from last place in 1966 by leading them to an eighth place finish and then occasioned one of the American League's biggest surprises this year by leading the club to a sixth place tie with the Baltimore Orioles.

Pampa Shooting To End Jinx in Monterey Series

By RON CROSS

Pampa will try for the 12th time since 1956 to beat Monterey Friday night and will be seeking their first victory in six outings this season when the Plainsmen come to town for a 7:30 p.m. conference game.

The North zone clash will be featured by Dads night with the fathers of Pampa players introduced at halftime. Tiger league players and their coaches will also be honored and guests of the team.

The Harvesters have never beaten Monterey since the series started in 1956. The Plainsmen have sacked up 12 straight victories, including a questionable 7-6 win last year that more or less knocked Pampa out of the North zone running.

The Plainsmen are the defending North Zone champs and were picked to defend their title successfully. But in pre-season play Monterey has managed to whip just two of five foes for an unimpressive 2-3 record.

Plainview whipped Monterey for the first time last week, 7-0.

Pampa will go into their first conference action with a spotless 0-5 record that has seen them lose to Perryton, Dumas, Wichita Falls Rider, Plainview and Palo Duro.

Monterey has whipped Midland, and El Paso Coronado while losing to Lubbock Coronado, Odessa Permian and Plainview.

The Plainsmen offense, basicly the wing-T and I-formations, is built around 165-pound senior tailback Chris Barnard.

The senior letterman carried the ball 45 times last week against Plainview accounting for 196 of Monterey's 222 total offensive yards.

Pampa, by the same token, has built their offense around senior halfback Chris Kenny, who is the leading Harvester ground gainer with 275 yards on 42 carries.

Palo Duro limited Kenny to 34 yards rushing last week, but Pampa's total rushing yardage was only 48 yards.

Red Raider Club To Meet Tonight

Texas Tech fans and Texas Longhorn fans too (if they can stand it) have the opportunity tonight to see the Red Raiders upset victory over the Longhorns two weeks ago.

The Red Raider Club meets at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the Hughes Building auditorium and a film of the Tech-Texas game will be shown.

The club, still in the organizational stage, is open to anyone who wishes to join. You do not have to be a Tech graduate to join, just a fan.

Films will be shown every week, but not just on football. Films on all sports will be included.

Junior High Squads Eyeing First Victories

Victory No. 2 is the goal set by the Pampa Shockers Thursday when they travel to Lubbock to meet the Coronado Junior Varsity at 4 p.m.

The Shockers, who dropped their first three games, came back strong last week to trounce the Lubbock High Junior Varsity.

Three Junior High teams will be in action Thursday and three others will be playing Friday.

Thursday Pampa Junior High ninth (0-4) hosts Dumas while Pampa Junior High eighth (0-2) goes to Dumas and Lee eighth (0-3) hosts Borger Austin.

Friday Lee ninth (0-3) plays Borger Austin a Borger and Lee seventh (1-1-1) hosts Dumas and Pampa Junior High seventh (2-1) hosts Borger Houston.

Newspapers Get Things Done

(Guest Editorial)

Humility and pride—there's reason for both during National Newspaper Week now in progress.

The late Senator Alben Barkley of Kentucky made this evident back in 1948 when he was a candidate for vice president as Harry Truman's running mate.

He arrived in a Montana city just before the luncheon meeting where he was to make a major campaign speech.

The local reporter learned with dismay that Senator Barkley would speak from notes rather than prepared copy.

"We're on afternoon paper," he told the Kentuckian, "and you'll finish your talk just before we go to press. There will not be time to write the story and give it good play. Could you give me the main points now?"

He did, but hundreds of people were kept waiting. The reporter was embarrassed, and said so.

"Don't apologize to me," said Senator Barkley. "I'm here to get publicity for Harry Truman as candidate for president, myself as his running mate and those on the ticket who are running for state and local offices.

"You and your newspaper can give it to us. So I do you no favor when I take time togive this information. You are doing me, my associates and party the favor. I am the one who should be grateful."

Which was true, but how many in his position would have said it?

A newspapers ability to decide how and what and how much it will or will not report gives it tremendous power.

But good newspapermen do not regard this as reason to beat their chests and shout of their might as did Tarzan of the Apes.

They regard it instead as reason to be humble, using that power and ability to get things done in community and public service . . . using it to help mankind.

They regard it too as an obligation to report the news fully and fairly with decency, judgement and kindliness.

This — National Newspaper Week — is a time when newspapers and newspaper men and women repledge themselves to this task.

Speed — Most Deadly Mono Killer

Today's front page headlines scream about the most deadly mono-killer on the road today—speed in the operation of a motor vehicle. There is little doubt that speed figures in more than 90 per cent of all motor vehicle accidents. Therefore, the odds are against you if you allow yourself to get caught off guard by this mono-killer.

Highway accident statistics are dispassionate things. They tell their story without emotion, without dramatic overtones, yet with an impartiality. And always their story is the same: it's speed that kills and maims. Year after year the record is plain. It's written in the cold factual reports of thousands of accidents, in the words of drivers who survive — "I couldn't stop in time," or "I didn't see him until it was too late," or "The other car was coming faster than I figured."

Yet, still the pleas grow for higher speed limits. Sometimes these appeals find support when charges against flagrant violators of traffic laws are thrown out of court. At such moments there's always speculation among the public on whether speed limits are too low, or even necessary at all. But the people who raise such questions are seldom those who know the inside story about traffic wills. Nor have they considered a few essential factors which give answer to the driver who proclaims "If the road is clear, I can head all-out for the horizon," or maybe "the wild blue yonder" would be more fitting.

Here are some factors which we, at any rate, will do well to think about. There is no complete safety at any speed. Even standing still has its potential hazards. At any speed the danger of mechanical failure is always present. A tire may blow out, the steering mechanism may fail, brakes may not hold—or a hundred other things can go wrong. However, at normal speeds the chance of a serious accident is relatively small. But as speeds go higher, so the danger factor increases. The real danger of excessive speeding is in the increased severity, rather than the increased frequency of accidents. The probability of death to car occupants increases in geometrical proportion to the increase in speed. This means that the occupant of a car traveling 40 miles per hour has not twice but four times as many chances of death in case of an accident as an occupant of a car traveling at 20 miles per hour.

Violation of speed limits is a symbol of general indifference to highway laws. Drivers who consistently ignore official limits can acquire an attitude of indifference to traffic requirements generally. And in their minds, as well as in their driving habits, an accident proneness is being created.

It's wrong to regard an occasional infringement of speed limits as unimportant from the view point of law breaking. To dismiss this kind of traffic violation with a shrug is like saying a robber is not guilty because he only found two dollars in the till.

Yet, of the many careless driving habits which lead to the terrific price paid annually in death, injury and property damage for the use of the motor vehicle, speeding over the limits and too fast for existing conditions continues to rank as the most devastating. The fact is, that in spite of repeated warnings and in face of the great number of speeding accidents, drivers still believe they can get away with this practice. They feel "it can't happen to me." It can! The habitual speeder is traveling on very thin ice.

In a Word — Degradation

Honkie.

This strange word coined by Negro activists lacks the bite, the derision, the contempt that drips from that tasteless epithet which whites have traditionally used to put the Negro in his place, at least in the mind of the speaker.

It has to be admitted, though, that it is a vast improvement over the almost friendly "whitey" or "Mr. Charlie" or "The Man." Say it often enough—honkie, honkie, honkie — and one begins to appreciate the flavor of the word.

So and so is not a man, not a person — he's just another honkie. Would you want your sister to marry a honkie?

If the word gives Negroes some slight sense of superiority, the feeling that at last they have a verbal weapon as nasty as those that have been used against them, then perhaps it will be a useful addition to the vocabulary.

But the trouble with such words is that they are a mental crutch, a substitute for — nay, a defense against — rational thinking. They tell more about the person who uses them than about the person they are supposed to describe. They degrade both.

"Honkie" is no more a key to the respect and equality Negroes seek than "nigger" is an aid to white understanding of the Negro as a fellow human being.

Both words, and all their kindred, deserve oblivion in a dictionary of archaic speech.

Straight Talk

Letter from Vietnam

Dear Mom and Dad:

I hope and pray this letter gets to you. I love you both very much. As you know, I came over here to fight because it was my duty as an American to do so. I must pay the same price as did my father and uncle and their Dads before them. To give up the luxuries of civilian life and fight for what we feel is right. Two years of my life is being given to the service of my country. I have obeyed all orders, no matter how I felt about them. I griped just like everyone else, but I obeyed them I have said before that I will give my life if necessary to preserve our God-given rights and blessings. But Mother, the order the Marines in my Company were given last night, Sept. 7, I cannot with a clear conscience obey.

My life was given to me by God and He expects me to take care of it. But the order we were given last night does not allow us to fully protect ourselves any longer. We cannot put a round in the chamber of our rifles unless attacked and if the squad leader or whoever else is in charge does give the order to chamber the round, he is fully responsible for what happens afterwards.

This means that the Viet Cong not only get the element of surprise and the first shot at us, but they get second and third chances to shoot us with this new order. As you know, six nights ago I almost lost my life. The enemy soldiers knew about where my position was, but by the grace of God, his bullets missed. I was sacred, but I got the chance to shoot back. I had a round in my chamber, we all did and we are all alive except for one. Now Mom, let's look at that past incident as if we did not have a round in our chamber. The enemy soldier knew about where I was, his bullets missed me. But would he have missed a second time when he hears my bolt home and the safety click off? The Viet Cong are not fools. He would have heard my bolt go home and would have known exactly where I was and he would not have missed a second time.

Mom, I have spend nine months over here already. I have been through five ambushes, much like the one mentioned above. I would like to make the next four months so that I can come home. Do all you can to help your son and the rest of us over here. Take this to our minister and tell him to help us out. Take it to our Congressmen, our Senators, and if necessary our President himself. It is murder to go out in enemy territory without a bullet in our weapon. I am not worried about repercussions, I have said the truth. It is a matter of principle that we fighting men over here get a fair shake. How about the folks at home giving us the upper hand for a change instead of saying, "those poor Viet Cong aren't so bad." Well, maybe they aren't so bad, but you can't tell us over here that. We have buried our dead and tried to comfort our wounded. We know that this is the dirtiest war that there has ever been. The enemy is dirty, filthy, sneaky and not to be trusted. You kill a serpent by cutshing its head not breaking itsback. I wish we could hit the heart of the serpent instead of fighting its back. A lot of us feel we might as well leave our rifles in the combat base for what good is a rifle without a bullet in it; and it's for sure a dead man can't squeeze the trigger.

Well, I have told the situation over here as we see it. I love you all very much.

With all my love through Christ, your son.

Why are we forcing our men to fight and die in a no-win war? Because the enemy is our friend! The main enemy in North Vietnam is Russia, which is supplying the Viet Cong with 75-82 percent of the war material to kill our men. Meantime President Johnson builds "Bridges of Friendship" to Russia and American Businessmen build factories in Russia and other slave nations. This used to be treason, until "our" Supreme Court made treason obsolete. Or is it?

A lot of folks who want to be different, address their Christmas cards about this time of year, affix stamps to them and then send them in a large envelope to the Postmaster at Santa Claus, Ind., with a request that they be mailed from there in December, thus getting their cards stamped with an unusual Christmas postmark, other postal stations around the country that also handle such Christmas requests are: Noel, Mo.; Mistletoe, Ky.; Snowflake Ariz.; Snowball, Ark., and Snoeshoe, Pa. Two S. E. Asian Premiers, Seeking Facts on U. S. October Visits, Due To Get 'Briefings' from Anti-War, Anti-Draft Demonstrations

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Next week's back-to back visits of Singapore's Premier Lee Kuan Yew and Laotian Premier Prince Souvanna Phoum a couldn't have been arranged at a more inopportune time.

Both Asian leaders are coming to the U. S. to assess the American political scene and the administration's resolution to carry on the Vietnam war.

Under schedules planned by the State Department, Premiers Souvanna Phouma and Lee will be in the country during the explosive period that the nation's revolutionary radicals have picked to stage their most massive and turbulent protests against U.S. paricipation in the bloody Southeast Asian conflict.

While the Laotian Prince is being greeted at the White House and the State Department on Oct. 20-21, tens of thousands of anti war protesters, peaceniks, beatniks, "black power" leaders, intellectuals, and Communists will be surging into Washington for a huge demonstration to "shut down the Pentagon" and create civil disorder in the nation's capital.

State Department security officials have been alerted that "hard-core" agitators will try to contact the U. S.-Soviet supported Prince or try to block his week-end travels around Washington, including his meetings with President Johnson, and Secretary Rusk and Vice President Humphrey.

By a strange coincidence, the Humphrey Rusk meeting with Premier Souvanna Phouma will take place on the morning of October 21 on the seventh floor of the State Department building in an office with a panorama view of the Washington and Lincoln monumets.

At the same time as the meetig an estiated 100,000 to 150,000 anti-war deonstrators will be gathering for their across-the-river march on the Pentagon. This confrontation will be climaxed with violent acts of civil disorder by a controlled rabble of peaceniks trained to touch off riots.

Diplomatic aides of Premier Souvanna Phouma, who recently made his own self-serving public call for a halt in U. S. bombing of North Vietnam, have been making inquiries about the massive protest including whether the Prince will be able to view it.

THE OTHER VISITOR —The timing of Premeir Lee's visit, scheduled weeks after U.S. security officials learned about mid-October anti-war demonstrations in Washington, is just as interesting.

Premier Lee, whose personal contacts in London, Peking, Moscow and Washington baffle U. S. intelligence analysts, arrives in New York on Oct. 16.

That's the day that the so-called militant "Resistance" movements plans to have thousands of their draft-age members turn their selective service cards to local draft boards in protest of the war.

Hundreds of these draft protesters, sparked by Red agitators, plan to block entrances to local draft boards around the U.S. Others will gather here to stage a protest in front of the Department of Justice.

What Premier Lee, the 44-year-old grandson of a Chinese immigrant to Singapore, will think of all of this could go a long way toward determining the future course he will try to steer for his small but strategically located state.

CALLING THE SHOT— The Cambridge University educated Premier has stressed to recent U.S. callers in Singapore that the Vietnam war is a "test of wills. . . .that the Communists are waiting for the Americans to give in."

After making his own inquiries in Moscow, Peking, and London, Lee says he is convinced that no search for a negotiated settlement in Vietnam is likely to prove productive before the 1968 U. S. presidential elections.

Presidential Assistant Walt Rostow, the chief White House adviser on Vietnam, thinks so highly of Premier Lee's views on the link between U. S. politics and the Vietnam war that several months ago he circulated them among members of the liberal House Democratic Study Group.

Significantly, Lee in this report forecast, "In 1968 there will be any number of Robert Kennedys around to put forward all kinds of highly attractive formulas for resolving all the discomforts of by then probably three-fourths of a million Americans."

Premier Lee will be President Johnson's guest in Washington on Oct. 17 and 18. After that, Lee plans a weeks tour of other U.S. cities.

LIGHTING THE MATCH — Congressional investigators are saying that the National Mobilization Committee (NMC), which is organizing the Oct. 21 demonstration here, plans to stir up real trouble.

According to their informants, the New York-based organization, which has opened a large office in Washington, already has made transportation arrangements to bring 60,000 to Washington by chartered bus, train, and plane.

Thousands of other protesters and agitators, including teams trained to incite violence, are planning to come by automobile from points as far away as California.

The Washington protest, which is now planned to run for several days, is being directed by David Dellinger, NMC chairman, and Jerry Rubin, the militant pro-Castro student leader who has made several trips to Cuba.

Before deciding on their militant strategy, Dellinger flew to Prague to attend a two weeks conference of the Communist "International Liberation Front," of which Stokely Carmichael and other black and white revolutionaries are members.

The national director of NMC is the Reverend James Bevel, principal aide to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who is actively encouraging his supporters to come to Washington for the demonstration and join in acts of civil disobediece.

According to persons in King's organization, their leader is still undecided on whether to join the October 21 demonstration at the outset or wait until he sees how it develops.

One group of his advisers wants King to address the mass protest rally at the Pentagon. Another is urging him to delay going to Washington until after that event. They want him to lead marches now being planed to protest the massive arrests which they believe will result from the demonstrators' acts of civil disorder.

Militant Black Power leader H. Rap Brown has notified the NMC that he will be on hand for the big Washington showdown. Stokely Carmichael has sent word that he hopes to be here if he can slip back into the country without being detected by U.S. authorities. He is now in Africa after visiting Cuba and North Vietnam.

As events now shape up, President Johnson will have to choose next week between permitting a rabble to defy law and order at the Pentagon and upholding his constitutional responsibility by calling out troops to control the trouble that is brewing.

Air Filters Are Safe Aids Against Allergies

Electrostatic air filters are a boon to persons who have an allergy to pollen, dust, mold or animal dander.

In a recent answer to a question on electrostatic air filters I remarked that these units may generate toxic amounts of ozone and this statement caused undue alarm in some readers. "Toxic" is a relative term, one that can be applied to such ordinarily harmless substances as table salt. For example, too great a concentration of salt in the formula has been known to kill infants.

A leading manufacturer of electrostatic air filters has accumulated evidence over a period of more than 10 years in whichover 1,000 of these units were tested, showing that the amount of ozone produced was only 1-50 to 1-20 that allowed in industrial areas.

Such filters do not represent a source of danger to people or their household pets. The danger attached to ozone is further reduced by the fact that this substance is pure oxygen in an unstable form, which is quickly changed into harmless stable oxygen.

The amount of ozone given off by electrostatic air filters has been found to be lss than that regularly present in the atmoshere in many large cities. Thus these filters are safe with or without activated charcoal ,even when an odor of ozone can be detected in the air.

Q — Must a Bartholin cyst be removed.? Is there any danger of malignancy with this type of cyst? What causes it?

A — When the duct of Bartholin's gland in the vagina becomes blocked, a cyst of the gland due to retention of its secretions develops. Threatment by some type of operation is necessary. Malignancy is not a common complication.

H. L. Hunt Writes

WORLD COMMUNISM CONFERENCE

Although no date has yet been set strong indications have been given that a new "summit meeting" of Soviet bloc leaders will be held in Moscow sometime in early 1968.

Prominent communists, including Mongolian as well as East European leaders, have been visiting the Russian capital in recent weeks. It is significant that such men as the secretary general of the British Communist Party have announced their agreement on the need for a new world conference. The Hungarian party chief has been quoted in Pravda as saying that "the time has come for a new conference of communist parties."

This meeting, when held, will take place in the midst of today's intense quarrel between Soviet Russia and Communist China. But the free world can derive no comfort from this fact. Even when communists dispute among themselves, they are agreeing in their unceasing opposition to the United States and other free countries.

A previous conference of this kind led to abitter and still-continuing drive on anticommunists, launched by a directive of international commmunist leadership. That drive has been particularly intense in the United States. It success is shown by the fact that many Americans swallowed the party line and now believe that to be anti-comunist is worse than being comunist.

What next years's conference will bring forth, no one knows, but we can be sureof one thing: the communists conspirators will do all they can to cause trouble in the free world. As Senator Karl Mundt has wisely said, "the communists fish in troubled waters."

The Cracker Barrel

By JACK MOFFITT

Eagle Rock-Sometime the Commies must get so discouraged! Whenever they want to blacken a character in a novel a play or a movie, they say that he "doesn't like foreigners." That automatically makes him a villain. But now Stalin's daughter reveals in her memoirs (LIFE, Sept. 15, 1967, p. 112) th old Joe, the head man of the Communist International "to the end of his days" couldn't stand anything foreign!

Lyndon Johnson will be my second choice for President. My first choice will be most anybody.

Mayor Sam Yorty may think his life is pretty exciting at times, but it ain't nothing compared to that of Ben Wilson, one of Los Angeles' first mayors (under American rule). Ben was captured by the Apaches and was the only member of his party of 22 men to escape being hung, head down, over a slow fire. He made his way, exhausted and on foot, from the Indian camp on the Gila River to Sante Fe. He recovered to become not only mayor of L.A. (1851-52) but also a California state senator.

Have you ever noticed how brides and grooms kiss just before leaving the altar? They just peck at each other. They look exactly like a couple of prize fighters touching gloves before they square off for the first round.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The awesome force of a hurricane, says The World Almanac, is created by the evaporation of warm water from tropical seas. Heat energy is stored as water vapor that forms enormous and agitated cumulo-nimbus clouds surrounding the storm's calm eye. A hurricane can lift two billion tons of water a day and pour it back as rain within 24 hours.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The director of Michigan State University's agricultural research department says hens should be encouraged to lay eggs without shells.

Dr. Sylvan H. Witwer told fellow researchers Tuesday that it is a waste of time and energy to make hens produce their own eggshells.

TOO REALISTIC

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)— Two men were recovering today from wounds suffered in a mock Civil War battle Saturday.

Gunsmith Bailey W. Southgate, 53, and William J. Cude, 19, were seriously injured when a small keg of powder exploded as they prepared to fire a cannon as part of a suburban community's "Hillbilly Days" celebration. The two are members of the Sons of the Civil War.

Eight other persons were slightly injured in the blast, apparently caused by a spark from an unknown source.

The Pampa Fire Department's emergency alarm number is MO 4-3366.

1 Card of Thanks 1

E. D. (Gene) Neal

He would not want the ones he loves to grieve for him today.
We must not say that he is dead, for
he is just away.
As we turn upon a journey to a land that is bright and fair,
And though we will miss him here,
we know he's happy there.
And memorials of him will bring new comfort every day.
As we recall, he is not dead, for he
he is just away!

We wish to express our sincere appreciation and deep gratitude to our many friends especially Rev. J. W. Doke of the First Christian Church, Rev. Sam Hulsey of the St. Matthew's Episcopal Church and Carmichael Whatley Funeral Directors for their words of comfort and deeds of kindness. Also the food prepared by the women of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church and Phillips Pipe Line Co. Also other friends. Many thanks to the pallbearers.

God bless everyone who helped us through the loss of our loved one.

The Family of E. D. Neal

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —A gentleman of the London Daily Express last week offered, from New York, a report to his readers on the state of American television. Here are some of his views as rendered to our language mates in the colonies:

"Anyone who complains about British television should be shanghaied to New York and chained in front of an American set for a week. . . .

"The shows have hardly changed in the past three years. They have new titles and renamed heroes, but the plots are identical in their puerile predictability. There are no plays. Hardly any original work is created for TV. Discussion programs seem inarticulate and uninformed."

Our man from the Express quite obviously is referring only to the commercial networks when he talks of there being "no plays."

Hits Bad Time

Actually, there are a number of plays coming up on commercial video — but he caught the networks at the very start of their new season when, for the first few weeks, there are hardly any pre-emptions for special programs so that the new shows have time to establish themselves in the ratingd. He is quite right, however, when he says "hardly any original work is created for TV."

The gentleman from the Express continues:

"As for light entertainment, I viewed three variety shows, and it las simply the same old stars doing the same old acts. Example: I had to watch Tony Bennett leaving his heart in San Francisco for the 951st time. . . . And the girls on TV . . . with over-elaborate hairdos, hard, dated makeup, and plunging evening gowns they have all the contemporary originality of Betty Grable.

"Only in the news and documentaries can American TV match and beat what we see in Britain, but there is always a problem because no one wants to sponsor too much serious viewing."

All right, all right—praise our documentaries if you want, but be careful what you say about Betty Grable.

CBS TV Cutback

The following story appeared asthe lead item Monday in the Hollywood trade paper "Daily Variety":

"In a sweeping move dictated by economics, CBS-TV has ordered a cutback of at least tw first-run episodes on each of its hour vidpix series and its one 90-minute telefilm show, 'Cimarron Strip.' Network estimates it will save millions by the move, which will mean reruns will start a bit earlier next year. Cutback was initiated in order to straighten out budgets and take care of coverages in many series.

"Additionaly, network is looking ahead to next summer, when it figures to take a financial whipping in cost of coverage of national political conventions nomiating presidential candidates."

The Pampa Fire Department made 308 fire calls during the year 1966.
