Big Business Heads Bet On 1958 Upturn

NEW YORK (AP)—The men who head many of the nation's biggest corporations are betting on a business upturn this year.

So says Dun & Bradstreet after polling more than 100 presidents of top U.S. industrial firms.

Here are the major findings:

Eight out of 10 company presidents expect the economy to take a turn for the better sometime during 1958.

Half of this group expect the upturn to come in the fourth quarter.

Slightly more than 10 per cent predict a general business upturn in 1959. At least half of these pinpoint the turn during the first or second quarters of next year.

Foremost among the optimists is one company president who says business is picking up right now but the recovery won't show up statistically for three or four months.

At the other end of the scale is an out-and-out pessimist who foresees no change for several years.

More than a third favor a tax cut. One out of 10 would like to see the federal government cut taxes and expenses, too.

Most of the companies represented in the poll are among the 400 biggest in the nation.

2nd Shooting In Cathedral

HOUSTON (AP)—A burglar shot a detective agency guard in a predawn gun battle today in Christ Church Episcopal Cathedral.

The burglar escaped, apparently unwounded.

The guard, Paul Waite, 43, was shot once through the upper left leg. He works for the Burns Detective Agency.

The shooting happened after Waite, cruising by on his early-morning rounds, noticed a light burning in the upstairs cathedral offices.

Police said the safe had not been tampered with. Nothing in the church offices was disturbed.

This is the second shooting in the cathedral within 48 hours.

Mrs. Lewanna Hilton, 22, of Pasadena, Tex., shot herself to death in the church Saturday afternoon. Her body was found in a rear aisle of the church.

Strike Plan Is Abandoned

WHITING, Ind. (AP)—Sixty-eight key workers at the world's largest oil refinery decided early today to abandon plans for a wildcat strike and to protest through formal grievance channels instead.

Joseph McKenna, secretary of the independent Petroleum Workers of America Local, said the men in the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana catalytic cracking plant made their decision after a midnight meeting.

Earlier the men had threatened to tie up the entire refinery in protest over a production change that eliminated nine jobs in the cracking plant. Workers who held the jobs were transferred to other duties at the same pay rate as of midnight.

Tools Are Taken In Burglary Here

Several tools and other small items were taken Saturday night in a burglary of a toolhouse at the Gulf Pipe Line pump station southwest of Snyder.

Entry was gained by the burglar by knocking a lock off the toolhouse door. Officers of the sheriff's department were investigating the burglary today.

Batista Forces Say Rebel Unit Whipped

HAVANA (AP)—President Fulgencio Batista's army today claimed it had whipped one big contingent of Fidel Castro's rebels and was pursuing it and another major rebel band in the mountains of eastern Cuba.

The army also claimed it had shot down a foreign C46 transport plane bringing arms to be dropped to Castro. The announcement said the plane crashed and burned and the crew was killed.

The country where the plane originated and the identities of the plane crew were not announced.

The general staff said its forces had defeated a large rebel outfit headed by Raul Castro, the rebel chief's brother, operating along the northern coast of Oriente province.

The rebel group was reported scattered, forced back into the Sierra Maestra and isolated.

The army had said Saturday it had isolated Fidel Castro and another big group of rebels in the mountains, but rebel sources shrugged this off. They said Castro had been "sealed off" in the Sierra Maestra since he began his revolt 16 months ago.

Batista, visited by newsmen at his heavily guarded farm outside Havana, said the army's strategy was to decimate the rebel ranks bit by bit.

"The army strategy is not to go barging into the mountains and killing a lot of innocent people," Batista told newsmen at his heavily guarded farm outside Havana, "but to isolate the rebels in groups and capture them all."

"There are many problems to be worked out in going into the area and clearing them out, such as evacuating farm families," he added.

The army claimed Saturday it had isolated Castro in the mountains of eastern Oriente province.

Rebel sources shrugged this off, saying that Castro had been "sealed off" in the Sierra Maestra since he began his revolt 16 months ago. Most Havana newspapers gave the army's announcement a cool reception.

Instead of any big action, the army reported only that its troops had killed more than two dozen rebels in eastern Oriente.

Castro was still at large in his Sierra Maestra stronghold, but his vaunted total war supposed to have begun two days ago was still a long way from being total.

Rebel circles predicted Castro might call his often threatened general strike this week. But in the western province of Pinar del Rio the rebels issued bulletins telling workers to say on the job "until you are further advised."

Castro claims he has only to give the word to send 50,000 young revolutionaries surging into the streets in a shooting war. As time passed with no action, however, the rebel chief's own sympathizers began to grumble.

Batista himself appeared unperturbed. Strolling about his farm, he told newsmen that if Castro is seized alive, "there will be a fair trial."

He added, however, that he could not give any guarantee that the rebel leader would not be gunned down first.

"Castro has been photographed killing persons and signing death warrants," Batista continued. "A person like that is not a true Christian and not fit to head a nation."

Anderson Speaks Against Tax Cuts

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Anderson spoke out today against what he termed competitive or hasty tax cutting to counter the business recession.

Anderson said the government will take whatever action may be judged helpful in promoting an early recovery of economic growth.

But, in a speech prepared for a savings bond campaign luncheon here, he said the remedies must be the kind that preserve confidence among consumers and businessmen in the stability and long-term expansion of the economy.

He said the agreement he engineered with the leaders of Congress that no major decisions would be made without bipartisan consultation was to insure that "the best and most competent thought" is applied to the problem.

"Such a course should reasonably avoid competitive or hasty proposals and should bring to bear on this important problem the most competent judgment and prudent thought—in the best interests of all of the American people," Anderson said.

On competition, Anderson presumably was concerned that Republicans and Democrats might vie with each other to cut taxes and claim credit for it in this year's congressional election campaigns.

Anderson counseled a course of caution and prudence on anti-recession matters.

The secretary noted there had been criticism of the campaign to sell $4,600,000,000 of savings bonds this year, while other government policies are aimed at inducing consumer spending rather than saving.

Anderson said the same question has been raised in each previous business decline. The answer is, he said, that the country cannot lose sight of the importance of accumulated savings as the source of the financing of the nation's industrial growth and the government programs contributing to national strength and security.

No Damage From Blaze

Cleaning solvent in a machine at Highland Park Cleaners caught fire about 10:30 o'clock this morning, but was put out by city firemen before any damage was caused.

Si Steinberg, owner of the cleaners, said that the fire was believed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion in naptha.

"The fire trucks were here in less time than it took to call them, and firemen put the fire out with chemicals in an instant," he said.

There was no damage, either from the fire or from a small amount of smoke.

ON TAX CUTTING PROPOSALS

Solons Sound Out Voters

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional sentiment may be veering away from cutting taxes. The balance on the issue could be tipped either way by what congressman learn in talks with voters.

Most Senate and House members, home for an extended Easter vacation, will be able to sound out public opinion on tax reduction and other proposals for reversing the recession.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill), who favors trimming both income and excise (sales) levies, forecast the senators and representatives will return next Monday anxious to start cutting taxes.

"The quickest and most effective way of fighting the recession is through a tax cut of about six billion dollars," Douglas said.

But Sen. Mansfield of Montana, acting Senate Democratic leader, said he detected a "definite trend away from tax reductions, although I personally think the right kind" of cuts would give the economy a needed lift.

Financier Bernard Baruch's opposition to tax reduction appeared to have had considerable influence on congressional thinking. He proposed going in the other direction — boosting taxes if necessary to pay for emergency antirecession measures.

Mansfield said he thinks the views of Baruch and Secretary of the Treasury Anderson have had a lot to do with what Mansfield said is a cooling of Republican and Democratic ardor for tax slashing. Anderson is known to favor a go-cautiously course.

Sen. Ives (R-NY) cited Baruch's testimony in opposing tax cuts at this time. Both Ives and Sen. Javits (R-NY) said cuts in excise tax on freight would be inflationary and would not do much to swell purchasing power.

"A tax cut of a kind being talked about," Javits said, "would give the individual somewhere between $40 and $70 to put in his pocket this year. Now he isn't going to go out and buy a house or a car with that small amount . . ."

Ives said a temporary income tax cut would not put more money in circulation because, he said, most people would save the amount they gain, not spend it.

"If we're going to have a tax cut," Ives said, "I think it should be a tax cut which will stimulate business and employment."

By this, he said he meant a drop in excise taxes.

Sen. Smathers (D-Fla) said his proposal to repeal a 3 per cent excise tax on freight would be "the quickest way to bring about a general price cut on nearly all of our consumer goods, and attack the recession head on."

Secretary of Labor Mitchell said President Eisenhower, Vice President Nixon and he are on record for a tax cut if and when it is necessary.

"Certainly there is no indication right now that it is necessary," Mitchell added.

The labor secretary noted that March employment figures are due out tomorrow. He said, "I think I can safely predict that employment for March will show a higher figure than that of February, and that unemployment will not change much from February."

The official figures for February showed 5,200,000 persons out of work. Mitchell said 62 million workers now have jobs.

47 Persons Die As Huge Plane Crashes In Field

MIDLAND, Mich. (AP)—A Capital Airlines Viscount plane crashed and burned in a spring snowfall last night, killing all 47 persons aboard.

The four-engine plane slammed into a muddy field about 2,300 feet short of a runway of the Tri-City Airport. The airport serves Midland, Saginaw and Flint.

Bodies were scattered across a wide area. Charred bodies were found in the shattered wreckage.

Warner Law, owner of the farm on which the plane crashed, said: "There was no chance of anyone getting out. The plane came in hard. It didn't fall. It ran into the ground."

Control tower officials said it was windy and snow was falling as the plane approached for a landing at 11:15 p.m. Visibility was three miles with a 900-foot ceiling.

Nelson Girardin, who had stopped at the airport administration building with his family to watch the plane land, said one minute the plane's lights were barely visible through the rain and snow; the next minute they abruptly headed earthward. A second later there was a blinding flash of orange flame spurting nearly 100 feet in the air, followed by a muffled explosion, he said.

Girardin said the plane apparently landed almost squarely on its nose, then flipped over, a flaming mass of wreckage.

There was some confusion whether the plane exploded and crashed, or crashed and exploded.

Ronald A. Wenzel, 24, living at Freeland, 10 miles distant, said he saw an explosion.

Capital Airlines headquarters at Washington said it had no information on an explosion before the crash.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration said in Detroit any announcement as to the cause of the crash would follow an investigation and would be made either by it or by the Civil Aeronautics Board or by Capital.

Police, sheriff's deputies, and firemen from nearby communities battled through mud and water to reach the plane. One fire engine bogged down before reaching the scene.

Airline officials said three crew members and 44 passengers were aboard the plane, Capital Flight 67 from Newark, N.J., to Chicago via Detroit, Flint and Saginaw, Mich.

The crew members were identified as Capt. W. J. Hull, 44, Washington Township, N.J.; Earle M. Binckley, 27, Levittown, N.Y.; and hostess Ruth Denecke, 27, St. Petersburg, Fla.

Civil aeronautics authorities said a four-man team was en route to investigate the crash.

At least 16 of the dead were from Michigan.

One of the victims was Mrs. Ralph Schweitzer, wife of the newly appointed general manager of the Grand Rapids Herald.

Mrs. Schweitzer, 41, was en route from Flint to Bay City where the Schweitzers had lived prior to his appointment April 1.

Schweitzer was en route from Grand Rapids to the airport by car when the plane crashed.

NIECE OF SNYDER COUPLE IS VICTIM

Rosiland Lampkins, 20, of Flint, Mich., niece of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Pace of the Twenty-fifth Street Church of Christ here, was among those killed in the Capital Airlines plane crash in Michigan yesterday.

Miss Lampkins was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Lampkins of Flint. Mrs. Lampkins is Mr. Pace's sister.

Miss Lampkins three years ago was chosen Miss Flint in preliminaries of the Miss American contests.

Big Quake Rocks Area In Alaska

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — A major earthquake was felt here today starting at 5:31 a.m.

A University of Alaska seismologist said the quake may have centered in the Aleutian Islands. He called it the largest quake ever recorded on the university's seismograph but did not give an immediate comparative rating.

The quake swayed light fixtures and tumbled equipment from shelves in The Fairbanks News-Miner newspaper office, but no damage was reported in the city.

At Columbia University in New York City, a seismologist also placed the quake in southwest Alaska and said it might cause a tidal wave.

The Weather Bureau at Anchorage, Alaska, said the tremor was felt at several stations north of Anchorage.

Perkins On Trial Today

WACO (AP)—Franklin Perkins, 28, of Oklahoma City went to trial today on a murder charge in the kidnap-slaying of Ray Spencer, 51, here Feb. 3.

The first juror, Eugene Havis, an auto parts man, was quickly chosen from a venire of 104. He was qualified for the death penalty.

Both sides asked prospective jurors whether they believed that a slaying committed during the commission of another felony should be punished as murder.

Allen Runo of Houston was convicted in the same case several weeks ago and is serving a 99-year sentence.

Spencer was abducted during a holdup at a gas station where he worked and slain in a wooded area a short distance north of here.

New Contract For Operation Of Pool

The county commissioners court this morning made a new contract for the summer of 1958 with Hal Battle for operation of the swimming pool in Towle Memorial Park.

The contract calls for Battle paying the county $200 for the right to operate the pool. He will also pay all expenses and will clean and paint the pool.

Plane's Approach Halted Abruptly

By NELSON GIRARDIN
As Told to Ned Dulong
Bay City Times

BAY CITY, Mich. (AP)—I saw the crash.

One minute the lights of the big plane were barely visibile through the half rain and half snow as the aircraft circled the south end of the Tri-City field. The next minute they abruptly headed earthward. A second later there was a blinding flash of orange flame spurting nearly 100 feet into the air, followed by a muffled explosion.

The huge aircraft apparently landed almost squarely on its nose, then flipped over onto its back, a flaming mass of wreckage.

With my wife Frances and our three children, Larry, 13, Paul, 11 and Debra, 8, we had stopped at the airport administration building while returning from a visit with friends in Bay City to let the children watch the planes land. Our car had its motor running to keep us warm.

I immediately shot the car in gear and raced toward the plane wreck, thinking that I might be of some assistance to any survivors.

I was either the first or second person to arrive at the burning aircraft.

There was no sign of life, only the roaring of the flames as they fed on the wreckage.

As I ran across the muddy, slippery field I looked for any survivors that might have been tossed out by the impact.

The only thing I saw that might have been hurled clear of the flames was a man's hat that was rapidly becoming soaked by the rain. A few pieces of debris lay nearby.

As I approached the wreckage a smaller explosion occurred, sending flames high into the air.

Fearing to approach any closer because of the danger of other blasts I started to take pictures of the flaming wreckage from about 100 to 150 feet away. I had taken several pictures when another explosion shook the wreckage, apparently as another gas tank exploded.

Shortly afterward, fire trucks and ambulances started to arrive and began the battle to subdue the fire.

California Flood Control At Limit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Full reservoirs and the largest mountain snow pack ever recorded caused northern and central Californians to watch the sky apprehensively today.

As weathermen predicted no heavy rain in the immediate future, the director of the state disaster office for the 16 north coast counties warned that "the next 24 hours will be the most critical."

William Ward Jr. explained that because reservoirs are full, "we have lost the flood control factor." No more runoff can be held back now by dams.

Added to that are the already soggy ground and the weakened levees along the Sacramento-San Joaquin River system which drains the Central Valley through San Francisco Bay. An inch of rain fell during a weekend storm between Eureka in the north and Santa Maria in central California.

A sudden jump in temperature also could cause trouble because of heavy snow hanging on the sides of mountains. At Norden near Donner Summit in the Sierra Nevada, the pack was 269 inches Saturday and that reading was taken before a weekend storm. High temperatures would cause that snow to melt and swell already brimming rivers.

Still flooded are a 10-square-mile area near Stockton in the Central Valley and another area at Modeso, in the same area.

Weary levee workers prevented more serious flooding at Stockton, where some neighborhoods were evacuated voluntarily.

So far, storms and high water have been blamed for eight deaths in northern California, the last three yesterday when two drivers lost control of cars because of heavy rains, and a woman was struck while attempting to cross a highway during a storm.

Rain and hail hit the Los Angeles area again yesterday. Wind gusts of 50 m.p.h. damaged roofs. Lightning struck an airliner.

A United Air Lines spokesman said the bolt struck near the nose of the San Francisco-to-Los Angeles craft near Santa Barbara last night. The charge passed through the fuselage without injuring the crew or 33 passengers. At Santa Barbara, repairs were made to damaged tail lights.

Rail Engineers Planning Program

FORT WORTH (AP)—The Texas State Legislative Board of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers met in executive session today to plan for the organization's legislative program.

They will be joined Tuesday by other railroad brotherhoods from 49 divisions over the state.

The chief topic will be discussion of legislation which would require trucks hauling explosive substances or inflammable liquids to stop within 50 feet but not less than 15 feet before crossing railroad's crossings.

High Winds To Subside; Showers Due

By The Associated Press

Winds which tugged at most of Texas over the weekend died down Monday and clouds were due to start building up.

Scattered showers were forecast in all sections of the state by Tuesday.

The Weather Bureau looked for the winds to build up to 15 to 25 m.p.h. velocity later Monday, but they were not expected to be strong enough to raise more dust.

Except for some high clouds over parts of West and North Central Texas, the skies were generally clear early Monday.

Gusty winds were the only blot on the state's Easter Sunday weather. No rain fell and it was clear in all areas. Dust haze hovered over southeast Texas and along the coast, limiting visibility to 3 miles at Beaumont.

Continued mild temperatures were predicted through Tuesday.

Sunday's top marks varied from 63 at Amarillo to 86 at Alice, Corpus Christi, Kingsville and Laredo.

Ike Plans To Throw Ball

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is going to throw out the first ball after all for the start of the American League baseball season in a game here next Monday.

The White House notified the Washington club today that Eisenhower will be on hand. The game is against the Boston Red Sox.

Previously, it appeared that a presidential trip to Augusta, Ga., for a golfing interlude would bar Eisenhower's appearance.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters plans for Augusta still are uncertain.

Four Ballots Cast In Bond Election

Four absentee ballots have been issued so far by the county clerk's office in the $145,000 county recreation center bond election, which will be held April 19.

Dan Cotton, county clerk, said deadline for absentee voting in the election will be midnight April 15.

Sukarno Buying Jets From Reds

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno's government is buying jet fighters and bombers from the Communist bloc.

Indonesia sent an arms-shopping mission to Eastern Europe last December after receiving no action on its request to buy arms from Washington. A U.S. State Department spokesman said then that processing such requests "takes time."

A central government spokesman said yesterday that the Communist shipments would include an undisclosed amount of Russian MIG jet fighters and Ilyushin bombers as well as small arms and other war goods.

The negotiations were completed with Yugoslavia, Poland and Czechoslovakia and have no strings attached, he said.

He added that Indonesia would still like to buy arms from the West if given an opportunity to do so.

Reports from both sides meanwhile indicated a rough outlook for the rebels in Central Sumatra.

An authoritative military spokesman said the Jakarta government expects internal revolts in Sumatra soon "and then we will step in with the necessary assistance."

He said Jakarta's principal aim is to capture the rebel leaders and the government is "fully convinced it does not need an all-out invasion from Jakarta to accomplish our objective."

In the rebel capital of Bukittinggi, a spokesman said his intelligence indicated a central government assault on the city and the nearby rebel stronghold of Padang was imminent. He conceded, however, that this could be psychological warfare from Jakarta aimed at sapping rebel morale.

But the over-all picture looks gloomy, he said, and on the battlefield the rebel forces are outnumbered.

The Jakarta government's Antara News Agency reported 300 rebel army trainees had mutinied in Central Sumatra. Last week the revolutionary government reported crushing an attempted coup.

Indians To Face Archery Challenge

By SANKY TRIMBLE

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—The redman finally is going to get a chance to get back at those pesky palefaces.

And there is a chance, at least, that the Indian will come out once again on the short end of things, just as he usually does in the shoots-em-up Westerns.

This time it will be bows and arrows at a yet-undetermined number of paces.

Under consideration, and very likely to come off this summer, is an archery contest between the Indians of Taos Pueblo in northern New Mexico and members of the Albuquerque Field Archers and possibly other archery organizations.

Sometime late this month, Durward A. Young Jr. of Albuquerque, representing the paleface bowmen, will set in council and smoke the peace pipe with tribal representatives to set up arrangements for the shoot.

Some of the questions Young wishes to have settled before battle begins include just how many redmen will compete; whether a handicap system should be used "and if so how do we handicap the Indians?", and the type of tournament to be held.

Tony Mirabel, a former Taos governor and a tribal leader, already has answered one question.

Asked by a paleface reporter how many at the Pueblo still use the bow and arrow, he replied (roughly translated): "Man, everyone. The elders are still the most. But we can turn out the whole tribe if there are a few bucks in prizes."

By the whole tribe, he means the 900-plus population of the Pueblo, give or take a few for those too young or too old to do battle.

Subsidies For Movies Are Sought

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The Hollywood AFL Film Council wants federal subsidies for the movie industry which, a professor says, has laid an economic egg.

The council addressed letters to 35 film industry leaders yesterday, urging a united effort to obtain subsidies, tax relief and other federal aid.

It cited a study by Dr. Irving Bernstein of UCLA's Institute of Industrial Relations, which said in part: "The economic performance of the motion picture industry since World War II has been something less than colossal. In fact, it has laid an egg."

From 1946 to 1956, weekly attendance at movies dropped from 90 million to 46½ million and box-office receipts declined by 400 million dollars a year, said the report. The study was made at the request of the council, which represents organized labor in films.

There were 742 actors under contract in 1946. In 1956 there were 229. Production workers dropped from 24,000 to 13,000 in the same period. One hundred fewer pictures were produced in 1956 than in 1946.

Television, higher ticket prices and a change in the living pattern of the American people were blamed by Dr. Bernstein for the decline.

He predicted that the movie industry will never fully recover the lost ground. Pay television and a teen-age attendance boom expected in the next decade from the postwar baby boom are the best hopes for the movies' future, he added.

Snyder Seaman Is Back In San Diego

Seaman Second Class Joel T. Robertson of Snyder returned to San Diego, Cal., early this month aboard the attack cargo ship USS Union after a seven-month cruise in the Western Pacific.

Roberson is the son of Mrs. Clodean N. Chambers, Route 3.

During the Far Eastern tour of duty the Union took part in the amphibious operation, "Strong Back," as a unit of the U.S. Seventh Fleet and visited ports in Japan, the Philippines, Okinawa, and the island of Hawaii.

Officers To Quiz Second Tyler Man

DALLAS (AP)—Police say a second Tyler man will be quizzed about a $20,000 jewel theft last Feb. 25 at a Dallas hotel.

Detective Capt. Walter Fannin said yesterday a prisoner held on a burglary charge at Tyler will be asked to undergo a lie detector test.

Fannin said a Tyler ex-convict, Billy Veal, 24, has repudiated a statement given police two weeks ago that he took the jewelry.

Two members of Turkey's 610-seat Grand National Assembly, the nation's Parliament, are 75 years of age.

Sobolev Sees Red Victory

BOSTON (AP) — In a speech interrupted by hecklers, a Soviet diplomat asserted last night, "We are confident in the final victory of the ideas of communism."

Arkady A. Sobolev, permanent representative of the Soviet Union to the United Nations, continued his speech despite loud hecklers in the audience and a picket line outside the building.

Seven policemen on duty inside the hall kept busy trying to quiet the hecklers and ejecting the more persistent ones. Other policemen outside kept the picketers moving so they wouldn't block the entrance.

Five persons were taken to a police station as a result of the disturbance at Jordan Hall. Three later were released. Police said they would charge the other two with disturbing a public assembly.

Sobolev spoke at Ford Hall Forum, now in its 50th year of public discussions. Its directors claim it is the oldest forum of public expression in America.

Those picketing the hall said they represented Hungary, Ukrania, Lithuania and Latvia, all countries dominated by the Soviet Union.

Sobolev said in his speech: "We are confident in the final victory of the ideas of communism, but we have never imposed and we do not intend to impose the Socialist way of life, our ideology on other countries by force."

Odessans Die In Collision

MINNEAPOLIS, Kan. (AP) — An Odessa, Tex., couple and their baby daughter died yesterday when their car hit a stalled cattle truck. Three other chlidren were injured.

The crash killed Morris Kinnear, 39; his wife Maxine, 28, and their 1-year-old daughter Marlen.

At Concordia, Kan., hospital attendants said another daughter, Nancy Mae, 6, was being checked for internal injuries. Her brothers, Morris Jr., 9, and Larry Don, 5, were bruised and suffered shock.

Highway patrolmen said Larry Winkler of Petersburg, Neb., told them he had stopped the big tractor-trailer truck a few minutes earlier because the fuel pump was broken. The crash occurred 8½ miles north of here on U.S. Highway 81.

The Kinnears were on their way to Laurel, Neb., to visit her parents.

Symphony Of Soviet Set

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Leopold Stokowski will introduce Dmitri Shostakovich's new symphony to the Western Hemisphere tonight at the Houston Music Hall.

The symphony, Shostakovich's 11th, was a work sought after by all the major conductors of the West. Rights to it were secured through Stokowski's long connection with the Soviet composer.

Stokowski, first conductor in the United States to perform Shostakovich and for years the only one, will soon go to the Soviet Union to conduct.

The Shostakovich 11th, in G minor, is subtitled "1905." It was commissioned for the 40th anniversary of the Russian Revolution last fall and was introduced in Moscow in October.

The work portrays a number of revolutionary episodes the composer desired to illustrate and liberally employs old revolutionary songs.

Johnson Hails Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon Johnson hailed yesterday the new housing bill passed by Congress as an easing measure to unemployment problems in Texas.

He said both the housing bill and a highway bill were "import parts of the program . . . to turn the economy upward."

Johnson said the highway bill may provide more than 46,000 jobs in Texas alone.

Similar benefits, he said, may come from measures to provide more funds for Community Facilities Administration loans to finance public improvements. They would be advanced to local and state agencies for water, sewer and other projects.

Texoma Project Awaiting Study

By TEX EASLEY

WASINGTON (AP)—Among money measures waiting Senate committee study when the Easter congressional recess ends next weekend is one involving a water pollution control program for Lake Texoma on the Red River between Texas and Oklahoma.

Already passed by the House, the $3,000,000,000 Health Education and Welfare Department appropriation bill contains $51,600,000 for water supply and pollution control activities. Of this, 45 million is for grants to states to help finance waste treatment works. The balance is for water quality studies.

Appearing before a House Appropriations subcommittee in support of their request for funds for the fiscal year starting July 1, HEW officials said the quality as well as quantity of water for cities and industries mounts with increasing urbanization and growing population.

Answering questions by committeemen, Mark Hollis, chief of the department's sanitary engineering services division, said:

"Speaking as an engineer who has been in this field since 1926, I would emphasize that growing pollution is a serious problem, that something must be done to curb it, and that this program has demonstrated what a little stimulation will do."

He said construction of city water pollution control projects for the fiscal year ending June 30 will amount to about 347 million dollars. He pointed to a sharp spurt in such undertakings since the federal government started three years ago to encourage local interest by grants equalling about 20 per cent of total costs.

The current year's total federal contribution on these construction projects is 45 million dollars, the same as that proposed for the new year beginning July 1.

Referring to an administration suggestion that the federal government turn all this work over to the states and cities, Rep. Fogarty (D-RI) told Hollis:

"I think that your hope is a very faint one that this work will be continued without federal support and cooperation."

The pollution problem of Lake Texoma, although one of many over the nation brought to the committee's attention, came in for close study. Oklahoma City and Dallas municipal waterworks superintendents testified.

Morrison Cunningham, Oklahoma City, gave the congressmen this picture:

"Our objective in this effort is to upgrade the water in Lake Texoma on the Red River. Our work has led us to believe that we can so improve the waters of Texoma Lake, which are not now of good quality, that industry, agriculture, and domestic users will be able to utilize its waters.

"During the extreme drought prior to 1957 the city of Dallas was forced to go to Texoma for domestic water. The quality of water was very objectionable.

Solons Are Divided On PA System

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators are sharply divided over whether they should break with tradition and install a public address system in the Senate chamber.

Sen. Wiley (R-Wis) introduced a resolution last month calling for a loud-speaker system, and the Senate Rules Committee asked each of the 96 senators for his opinion.

So far, committee aides said today, replies have been received from about two thirds of the senators. Of these, 25 were against the idea and 25 were for it. The others took no definite stand.

In the House, with its 435 members, a loud-speaker system has been in use for several years.

An informal summary of the opposing arguments in the Senate was made available to a reporter.

Against: It would detract from the dignity and decorum of the Senate and mar the traditional atmosphere and appearance of the Chamber. Mechanical difficulties might cause confusion. It would add to costs. A senator might forget to shut off a microphone and his private chitchat with a colleague would be broadcast.

For: It would make it possible for senators themselves and the press and the public in the galleries to follow the debates better. It would put the Senate in step with the practice in other public forums. The expense would not be great and would be more than justified.

OUR VIEW

Judgment Really Counts

Two reminders that the outdoor season with its usual traffic hazards is upon us reached this office simultaneously.

One of them begins with a suggestion that "children should be seen and not hurt." That is a reminder, of course, that spring weather beckons children to playgrounds, and that playgrounds may be located adjacent to roads and streets, which, in turn, means that motor vehicle operators shoud watch out for children at play when driving through such areas.

Another, which comes from the Texas Safety Association, asks three questions which could become important to any motorist. How do you tell whether you are over-driving your headlights? Is it safer to hit a fixed object, or roll your car over, at given speeds? How can a driver maintain control of his car when a tire blows out?

The answers, of course, must be figured out in advance, because there is no time for figuring when such knowledge is actually needed.

Here are the answers, according to A. Ross Rommel, TSA president.

1. When driving along a little-traveled road some night, and after making certain that you will not interfere with traffic, look for hazards such as livestock along the shoulders. When you see such a hazard, bring your car to a stop. If your car does not stop before you reach the hazard, you certainly were over-driving your headlights, and you will be wise to alter your driving habits.

2. The energy of a moving car increases in proportion to the square of its speed. Between 35 and 40 miles per hour, this energy increases to such an extent to be extremely dangerous, while at lower speeds a car might be demolished, yet its occupant may not be killed. Above this speed range, however, it is believed that the safest maneuver would be to sideswipe a fixed object, or if possible miss the object by rolling the car over. In either case, always decelerate the car as much as possible.

3. The only thing you can do is keep a firm grip with both hands on the steering wheel and try to hold a straight course. Use brakes cautiously and do not touch the clutch. Disengaging the clutch causes loss of traction, directional control and deceleration force of the car's motor.

Good judgement is the best guidepost to safety on the highways.

Soviets Hold Lead In Propaganda War

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three times in a row the Soviets have made a propaganda monkey of us. The Eisenhower administration, put on the defensive, hasn't been able to take the initiative.

The three Soviet propaganda victories: launching of the Sputniks; former Premier Bulganin's call for summit talks; the announcement the Soviet Union would ban nuclear tests. All three had a convulsive effect, here or abroad.

Last fall's orbiting Sputniks, conclusive evidence of Soviet power and progress, chilled our European allies into instant realization they could be blasted flat by Soviet missiles in a future war.

It makes them more than ever anxious for peaceful understanding with the Soviets.

The Sputniks shocked this country into convulsive soul-searching. Soviet intercontinental, ocean-spanning missiles, of which the Sputniks could be a forewarning, would rip away this country's ancient safety behind the Atlantic and Pacific.

More than that: the United States was shaken out of the complacency it had felt about its scientific and industrial superiority. Why did it happn? Why were the Soviets ahead?

Eventually this country offset some of the damage done to American prestige when it got three of its own satellites aloft. But not quite. The American satellites were tiny compared with the Soviet models.

Only last month Secretary of State Dulles expressed doubt—because of the Soviet head start in outer space exploration—that we could beat the Soviets to the moon.

Also last fall — with the world still dizzy from the Sputnik triumph—the Soviets hit again. This time it was in the form of letters from Bulganin to President Eisenhower and others.

He called for negotiations and a summit talk. This was done just as Eisenhower and Dulles were preparing to go to Paris for talks with the NATO Allies.

The Eisenhower administration's reaction to Bulganin was dim and negative. But it had to change this when Eisenhower and Dulles found the Allies had a different view. They wanted to explore the Soviet proposals.

Ever since then Eisenhower has been in correspondence with Bulganin. The result has been zero. And now Bulganin's successor, Premier Khrushchev, has taken over the letter writing.

Last week the Soviets scored again. With the whole world worried about the radioactive fallout from nuclear tests, the Soviets announced they would stop theirs as long as others did likewise.

Eisenhower called it a "gimmick." The Soviets had just finished their 1958 tests when they made the announcement knowing the American 1958 tests had been scheduled to start within a month or two.

WHO Takes Fight To Deadly Enemies

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

WASHINGTON — "The leopard got up and charged me. I held my gun in front of me and we went down, the cat falling off me.

"The cat was on me two or three times more, and each time I kicked it off. . . . As the leopard started to come on again, I grabbed my revolver and shot it four times. Finish.

"I was clawed around the right side of the head and the left jaw; bitten along the left arm and on the right leg. . . . My wounds are mostly healed now and I am very happy to be alive."

Epistle of a big game hunter? Not at all. The writer is a sanitation engineer for the World Health Organization, a man accustomed to struggling with even deadlier foes. The leopard episode was just a melodramatic interlude in the steady warfare against malaria in the tiny Asian kingdom of Nepal, between India and Red China.

WHO celebrates its 10th anniversary today as an 88-nation organization striving for "the attainment of all peoples of the highest possible levels of health."

WHO—an agency of the United Nations—coordinates international health work and assists governments in strengthening their health services.

The organization works to prevent infectious diseases, to train health workers, improve sanitary conditions in more than 100 countries, warn of outbreaks of epidemic disease anywhere in the world and recommend international standards for drugs and vaccines.

What is WHO's record?

Says Director General M. G. Candau: the member nations' action "has already brought a number of benefits to all. Rapid pooling of information and experience makes it simpler to contend with diseases like influenza and poliomyelitis, to meet the threat to mental health that grows from modern conditions to life, to adapt medical education to changing needs, and to study emerging problems like that of the hereditary effect of radiations."

WHO officials cite these examples of world health progress in which their organization played a significant part:

1. A phenomenal decline in mortality throughout the world, attributable mainly to advances in sanitation and disease control.

2. There has been a decline in pestilential diseases such as cholera, typhus, smallpox, plague, relapsing fever and yellow fever. In fact, cholera now is a problem only in India and Pakistan.

Yellow fever declined about 30 per cent between 1950 and 1955.

3. Whereas malaria, up to 1948, attacked 300 million people throughout much of the world each year, killing three million, these totals have been cut 30 per cent by 10 years of antimalaria campaigns.

The disease, however, still presents a huge international problem, says WHO.

4. Tuberculosis is killing relatively fewer people each year, but still remains the greatest kiler of all infectious and parasitic diseases.

Dorothy McGuire Kept Off Program

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Exhaustion kept Dorothy McGuire out of part of the singing McGuire sisters' performance on Dinah Shore's television show last night.

Dorothy, 27, collapsed several minutes before she was scheduled to go before the cameras. She recovered enough to do one number, then collapsed again backstage.

A physician said she was suffering from exhaustion and ordered her taken to her hotel. A spokesman said her condition is not considered serious.

Besides producing maple syrup, sugar maple trees are also highly prized to supply sturdy lumber for bowling alleys and ballroom floors.

About Appliances, Caves, Big Laughs

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That a government study on the life expectancy of household appliances found that a new refrigerator or electric range lasts an average of 15 years, a new washing machine 9 to 10 years.

That Harry S. Truman was the first U.S. President to travel by submarine.

That Delaware is the only state in the union that doesn't have natural caves.

That the National Laugh Foundation has picked this wisecrack by Bob Hope as the funniest of the year: "In Russia they have a television set in every hotel room. But instead of you watching it, it watches you."

That Baltimore has more monuments per capita than any other American city.

That about 75 per cent of your body muscles is water. In my case the figure is about 95 per cent.

That the big-bosom boom may be receding. Candy Jones Conover, who books many of the lovelies for TV commercials, says most ad agencies no longer want girls who breast the tape at more than 34 to 35 inches.

That Robert Q. Lewis says a lucky bridegroom today is one "who marries a girl who'll help with the dishes."

That one Detroit firm now makes an all-purpose station wagon that can be used as a family car, an ambulance, or a hearse. Sounds like the perfect vehicle for Snuady driving.

That many people have heart attacks without knowing it and survive. A recent study of 5,000 autopsies in Michigan disclosed 175 such cases. Their average age at death was 71, or longer than the usual life span.

That police estimate 65 per cent of employes who handle other people's cash dip into it now and then for their own purposes.

That it was Mark Twain who observed: "When we remember we are all mad, the mysteries disappear and life stands explained."

District Track Meet On Tap Here Thursday

The District 3-AAA spring meet heads the local sports slate this week.

The track and field portion of the spring meet will be held Thursday at Tiger Stadium.

Then the golf and tennis show will be staged Friday and Saturday also on the local scene. The golfers will begin a 36-hole medal play tournamost Friday at Snyder Country Club, playing 18 holes Friday and 18 Saturday.

Winding up the district activities will be the tennis tournament Saturday on the Towle Park courts.

The Tigers are defending champions in track and field, while Lamesa won the golf title last year and Sweetwater won the tennis.

Winners and runnersup in each event of the track and field meet will qualify for the regional meet to be held in Lubbock, April 18-19.

Also slated here this week is the annual Snyder Junior High Invitational track meet set Saturday at Tiger Stadium.

On the baseball scene, the Tigers will go to Odessa tomorrow, to Rotan Friday night and then close out the week with a doubleheader against the San Angelo Bobcats here Saturday.

Norman Gladson is expected to take the mound for the Tigers tomorrow at Odessa.

The Tigers will carry a 4-8 record to Odessa.

The Tigers lost three out of four last week with two of the losses being administered by one-run margins. Abilene edged the Tigers 5-4 and San Angelo eked out a 6-5 victory over the Bengals in last week's action. Monterey carved out an 8-3 win for the other Tiger loss.

On the victory side last week, the Tigers clipped Plainview, 5-2. Saturday's doubleheader with San Angelo was postponed.

The Tiger tracksters also had a busy week last week, competing in two invitational meets. The Black and Gold cindermen placed third in the Mustang Relays at Andrews on Thursday night and then copped runnerup honors in the ABC Relays in Big Spring Saturday, the locals lacking one point of matching Andrews for total points.

Andrews won the ABC with 28¾ points to 27¾ for the Tigers. The Bengals though, had the high point man of the meet in Rex Wilson who collected 8¾ points.

In still another sport at SHS, the girls volleyball team will trek to Lubbock this weekend for the regional tournament.

The Tigerettes shared the District 3-AAA title with Lamesa but defeated the Tornadoettes in a special playoff for the right to compete in the region tournament.

The Tigerettes posted a 5-1 district record and 19-7 for the season.

The region tournament is scheduled for Thursday, Friday, and Saturday at Texas Tech.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

THE UNPREDICTABLE West Texas weather played havoc with sports events over the weekend but those who did brave the elements to take in the ABC Relays at Big Spring Saturday were awarded with some fine performances.

Sponsors of the Big Spring meet, even though the crowd fell far below expectations, should feel right thankful that they had a good advanced sale of tickets.

The wind and dust probably would have kept many of the fans who attended away had it not been for the advance ticket sale.

At any rate, some 6,500 turned out for the ABC show. Had the weather been good the total attendance might have reached 10,000.

Has Bobby Lost "Desire?"

After watching Bobby Morrow run twice in the last three weeks, we wonder if the ACC flash hasn't lost some of his "desire" to run.

Several sports scribes have accused Bobby of "loafing" through some of his races since the Olympics even though Morrow had been winning right along until he met Dave Sime Saturday at Big Spring.

Bobby, after all, reached the very heights of trackdom when he won three gold medals in the 1956 Olympic games.

Morrow, after winning at the Olympics, had won just about all the track honors there was to win.

So, there just wasn't much incentive left to go on in track for Bobby except for upholding his rank as the top sprinter of the world.

Although Morrow has been winning consistently since the Olympics, his times haven't been as impressive as they were before and during the last Olympics.

Morrow now has something to "shoot for" following his defeat by Dave Sime Saturday and we look for Bobby to regain his Olympic form.

We'll make this long range prediction — Morrow will beat Sime when the two get together again in the Penn Relays April 26.

Tiger Relay Teams Surprise

The Tigers made a fine showing in the ABC affair with ill-luck plaguing their efforts of walking off with the team title.

We never dreamed that the Tigers would come as close winning the title as they did, though, what with the relays counting "double" and with the omission of the 180-yard low hurdles.

Even so, the Tigers still should have outpointed Andrews, the eventual team champion. As we pointed out in Sunday's edition, Andrews received an additional two points in the sprint medley relay by "accident."

Andrews placed fourth in the sprint medley but was moved up to third when El Paso Jefferson, winner of the event, was disqualified. This gave Andrews two extra points which was the difference of winning the meet and placing second.

What surprised us was the fine showing of the 440-yard and mile relay teams. Both placed second with the mile relayers lacking just a couple of feet or so of winning.

Then Bill Dubose opened a lot of eyes when he cleared 6-1 in the high jump to share first place. For a lad under 6 feet to begin with, this performance was outstanding.

Spring Weather Is Prospect For Area

DALLAS (AP)—The Weather Bureau issued today this 5-day outlook for April 7-12:

East and Central Texas: Temperatures near or slightly above normal. No important changes. Moderate to locally heavy scattered thundershowers Tuesday or Wednesday and Friday.

West Texas: Temperatures near normal. Mostly minor daily changes. Light rain or none in a few widely scattered thundershowers.

Greensboro Open Next On Golf Trail

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Ken Venturi, Stan Leonard and Sam Snead, who finished well up in the Masters yesterday, are favorites in the $15,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament beginning Thursday.

The Masters champion, Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., who once played for nearby Wake Forest College, has decided to pass this one up and will make his next appearance in the Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas in three weeks.

Venturi, a red-hot young man of the current tour, will vie for the championship captured last year by Stan Leonard, the steady Canadian.

These two and Sam Snead, a six-time winner here, will lead a field limited to 150.

Central Bureau For Aid Shipments Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—The General Services Administration says a central traffic bureau for foreign aid shipments could save millions of taxpayers' dollars.

As things now stand, GSA said in a survey given to the House Foreign Affairs Committee, there is waste in the separate handling of aid shipments by various federal agencies and a multitude of foreign buyers.

Calling for a study looking toward creation of a central traffic agency, GSA said such a bureau would cut out bidding by federal units against each other for ship space and allow central negotiation to win "the lowest reasonable charges" from shippers.

Each time the New York Rangers play a hockey game in Madison Square Garden 6,500 gallons of water are poured into the huge arena.

Arnold Palmer Masters Champ

By WILL GRIMSLEY

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—"I get my relaxation from golf by practicing," said Arnold Palmer.

"I am in this game to win championships — the Masters, the Open, the PGA. Money is not the biggest factor. I want to be the best."

This was the new Masters golf champion talking — a thick-shouldered young man of 28 from the coal and steel area of western Pennsylvania.

Palmer, son of a Latrobe, Pa., professional, won the 22nd Masters over the Augusta National course yesterday in a close, dramatic stretch run. He had a 72-hole score of 284.

Defending champion Doug Ford, Mahopac, N.Y., and Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Tex., missed birdie putts on the final green and finished in a tie for second place at 285.

Ken Venturi, San Francisco, leader through the first two rounds, three-putted three consecutive holes on the back nine to wind up at 286, tied with Canada's Stan Leonard.

Sam Snead, Cary Middlecoff, Bo Wininger, Art Wall, Al Mengert and amateur Billy Maxwell all saw their hopes explode after making a battle of it until the last holes.

"Palmer reminds me a lot of Snead," said Ferd. "He whales the devil out of the ball. He is always on the offensive. I think he will be a great player for years to come."

Two 3's on his card provided the difference between defeat and victory. On the short 12th hole, he imbedded his drive into a bank back of the green.

An official said he must play the ball. Palmer insisted he was entitled to a free drop. He played two balls—the first one for a 5, a provisional one for a 3. Later the rules committee upheld Palmer's 3.

The other 3 came on the next hole, a dogleg 13th measuring 475 yards. A fierce three-wood second shot sent the ball hooking slightly to the green and his putter sank from 18 feet for an eagle.

Palmer said his next tournament appearance would be in the Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas three weeks hence. Then he'll follow the tour to the National Open at Tulsa, Okla., in mid-June.

National Champs In E-Texas Golf Tourney

JASPER, Tex. (AP)—Two defending national champions, the NCAA's University of Houston and the NAIA's Lamar Tech, shared the favorite's role in the East Texas Intercollegiate Golf Tournament today.

Teams also were entered in the 36-hole, one-day meet by Notre Dame, Western Illinois and Southern Methodist.

It'll Be Different Next Time-Morrow

BIG SPRING, Tex. (AP) — The scene of the Dave Sime-Bobby Morrow sprint duel—an event that excited the nation—was calm today.

But track fans still talked about the big redhead from Duke and how he toppled Morrow, the Olympic champion, in a windblown 100-yard dash.

The clash of these great sprinters "made" the American Business Club Relays, a track and field carnival that got scant attention before it brought Sime and Morrow together in their heralded "rubber match."

A terrific crosswind dumped columns of dust all over the crowd of 6,500 but they roared approval of a great race. Under the circumstances the 9.6 time of big Dave was sensational. Sime holds or shares all the world's sprint records.

Sime looks toward three meets in consecutive weeks and Morrow grimly promises that he'll work like a Trojan to get into shape for the climactic struggle with the Duke flyer in the Penn Relays.

Sime's first meet will be against Virginia at Durham next Saturday. Then there'll be a dual meet with Wake Forest the following week. That will lead up to the Penn Relays.

Morrow said he was going to work on his starts. The Abilene Christian College runner was last off the blocks in the dash against Sime Saturday. That and his failure to put on the finishing "kick" for which he had become famous lost him the race.

Sime beat Morrow by a foot and a half. The latter didn't even finish second—he lost to his teammate, Bill Woodhouse, by six inches.

Morrow has an outstanding record—he swept the sprints in the Olympic Games, once ran a 9.1 wind-aided 100 and tied the worlds record at 9.3. Morrow said "it's going to be different" at the Penn Relays.

Undefeated Texas 9 Nears SWC Crown

By The Associated Press

What happens the next three days could pretty well determine the Southwest Conference baseball championship although the campaign is only one-third finished.

Texas, leading with an undefeated record, plays Southern Methodist at Austin Wednesday. If the Longhorns win, they will virtually put SMU out of the running.

Texas A&M, the closest contender to Texas, meets Rice at Houston Tuesday. If Rice should win, it would seriously damage A&M's chances.

And next Saturday Texas and Texas A&M will play at College Station. This could be the most important game yet.

Texas beat Baylor 4-2 last week for its fifth straight conference triumph while Texas A&M was hugging second place with a 10-1 lashing of Texas Christian. The Aggies have a 4-1 record.

Rice hurt SMU with a 3-2 victory that dropped the Methodists to 3-2.

In other games last week Texas A&M broke even with Brooke Army Medical Center, winning 7-4 and losing 19-4; Texas walloped Amarillo of the Western League 21-3, Baylor lost two games to Sul Ross 13-12 and 15-8, and Rice lost to Kansas 18-9 in one game and played a 11-11 tie in another.

SITUATION GETTING DESPERATE

Detroit Tigers In Losing Ways

By ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press

The plight of the Detroit Tigers is getting desperate.

Despite threats of fines and reprimands by Manager Jack Tighe, the Tigers go right on losing.

Despite the addition of Billy Martin, supposed to inject the needed hustle in the club, the Tigers keep oh losing.

Despite the vote of confidence awarded Tighe by the board of directors, the Tigers keep on losing.

They now have lost six straight exhibition games. In their last four, including yesterday's 3-0 loss at the hands of the rampaging Boston Red Sox at Sarasota, the Bengals have scored just four runs.

Their over-all record stands at 6-17.

Sox right-handers Frank Sullivan and Tom Brewer held the Tigers to five hits. It was Boston's 11th victory in 12 starts.

The Cincinnati Redlegs, unbeaten in their previous seven, suffered an 8-3 defeat at Nashville, Tenn., from the Washington Senators. Brooks Lawrence was the victim. Hal Griggs held off the Redlegs until the seventh, when he was rescued by Truman Clevenger.

World Series star Lew Burdette found himself in the unusual position of heading for the showers before he could retire a batter. It happened at Fort Worth, Tex., where the Dodgers licked the Milwaukee Braves 11-5.

Burdette, who had given up just one hit in seven previous innings, started for the Braves and promptly was rocked by four singles, a walk and a couple of errors. Out he went. By the time the inning was over, the Dodgers had scored six runs and the game was out of reach of the world champions.

In other action, the Philadelphia Phillies topped the New York Yankees 3-2 at Columbia, S.C.; the San Francisco Giants edged the Cleveland Indians, 9-7 at San Antonio; the Pittsburgh Pirates whipped the Kansas City A's 5-3 at Fort Myers, Fla.; the Chicago White Sox halted the St. Louis Cardinals 4-1 at Houston, and the Baltimore Orioles turned back the Chicago Cubs 7-3 at Scottsdale, Ariz.

The Phillies scored all their runs on homers. Dave Philley connected in the 12th for the winning run. Stan Lopata hit a two-run homer.

Bob Schmidt singled home Whitey Lockman for San Francisco's winning run in the 10th.

Roberto Clemente of the Pirates blasted a grand-slam homer in the eighth to wipe out a 2-1 Kansas City lead.

Dick Donovan pitched seven scoreless innings and hit a homer for the White Sox. The Orioles got 15 hits off five Cub pitchers.

Machen Given Nod Over Zora Folley

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Undefeated Eddie Machen is a 2-1 favorite to beat Zora Folley Wednesday night when the two top heavyweight contenders collide in a television 12-rounder at San Francisco.

The winner will be in a strong position for a title shot against heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson.

Machen, 25, is the No. 1 contender. The Redding, Calif., puncher has a 24-0 record, including 16 knockouts. Folley, 27, Chandler, Ariz., is No. 2. Winner of 17 straight, he has a 38-2-1 record, including 24 kayos.

They don't figure in the welterweight ratings but New Yorkers Peter Schmidt and Tony DiBiase should put on a lively scrap tonight at New York's St. Nicholas Arena. It's a return 10-rounder. DiBiase, 22, won a disputed, split decision over Schmidt, 24, in the same arena March 10.

Du Mont will telecast at 10 p.m. EST.

Lightweight Larry Boardman, making a successful comeback at 22, seeks his fourth straight victory and revenge at Boston Friday night. The Connecticut clouter meets Johnny Busso, 23-year-old New Yorker, in a return television 10-rounder at Mechanics Hall. Busso outboxed his harder-hitter rival in Boston last June 28.

Bills' Hickey To Marquette

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Eddie Hickey, a little guy who brought national prominence to the St. Louis University basketball team with his fast break, is going to try his luck at Marquette University in Milwaukee.

Hickey, 55, a 5-5 bundle of engery, changed the St. Louis Billikens into a fast-paced team which took two Missouri Valley Conference titles, part of a third and seven National Invitation Tournament offers.

Hickey is a sharp-tongued drillmaster who often brought take-it-easy type ballplayers to quick attention with a few well chosen worlds. And it paid off with 212 victories at St. Louis against 89 defeats.

But his won-lost record didn't please everybody. He came under fire this year from the school newspaper, and there were rumors early in the season that he might move because of a rift with alumni.

About his move Hickey said, "Marquette opens up a new field for me. The school is in the same family of Jesuits as St. Louis and I have strong friendships there."

Turman, Jacobs In 10-Rounder At Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—Heavyweight Buddy Turman, Tyler, Tex., and Jack Jacobs, a New Yorker who has never taken a count, are matched in one of three 10-rounders on a boxing card tonight.

Promoter Ralph Smith has said he will try to match the winner against Roy Harris of Cut and Shoot, Tex.

B & B Steakhouse Lends Enjoyment To Food It Serves

"Each restaurant customer is an individual, and he wished to be served as an individual." R. D. Helms, owner of B & B Steakhouse, on the East Highway, said.

The experienced restauranteur said that no cafe can treat all its customers alike and stay in business long and successfully.

"Each person who comes in the front door is different from all other customers, and to please him you must offer him the foods and services he personally desires," he added.

"Not only is the chef Leon Johnson, of the B & B Steakhouse experienced in preparing any special food, or cooking any particular food to the customer's desire, but the waitresses are experienced and courteous in always giving the customer the individual services he wishes," he said.

"Good food—served in quantities to satisfy the patrons hunger—are of course, the first consideration of each restaurant customer, but the service he gets along with the food determins his enjoyment of his meal," he said.

"We at the B & B steakhouse always make a special effort to give each customer individual attention, he said.

And that policy is followed whether the customer is a lone coffee drinker, or one of a big banquet party.

The B & B Steakhouse has a main dining room, and two banquet rooms which can accomodate parties and banquets of up to 50 persons at one time.

Because the waitresses and kitchen staff are trained and experienced, an individual customer who goes to the cafe while a banquet is being served gets the same good service he would if the were the only customer in the cafe at the time.

The B & B Steakhouse has recently began the policy of opening for the breakfast period, and remains open until 11 o'clock each night, and one of its specialties is the noon lunch.

The lunch, with a wide choice of meats, is accompanied by an individual soup and salad, vegetables and drink with the price for the noon luncheon which includes a dinner steak or small T-bone steak beginning at 85 cents.

Many of the hidden services a cafe performs for its customers are just as important as the visible ones, however, Helms says.

"For instance, the selection of only the best meats and steaks possible for the kitchen, is the only way that the best steaks can be served to the customer," he added.

Helms, Johnson, and Cecil Thompson, assistant manager, have all had long experience in selection of choice quality meats for the kitchen.

The entire staff of the B & B Steakhouse invites you to plan to 'eat out" or hold your next party or banquet there.

Fire Blackens Scenic Park

BASTROP (AP)—Fire-fighters labored today to stamp out a few remaining pockets of a blaze which blackened about 1,000 acres of scenic pinelands in Bastrop State Park.

"We've got it whipped if the wind doesn't change," park manager G. M. Marbury said.

The small fires, all under control, were contained in the north and east side of the park. They broke out Saturday.

Marbury said fire-fighters got the blaze in hand about noon yesterday after it burned within 100 feet of a six-room home. The house was occupied by Mrs. Julia Kelley and a son, Carl.

About 100 men fought the fire at one time. The force was reduced to eight yesterday.

Big Bill Lost To Celtics For Season

BOSTON (AP) — Boston stock in the National Basketball Assn. final playoff series with St. Louis dipped again today with the news that Bill Russell probably will see no more action.

The Celtics, defending world champions, evened the best-of-seven series 2-2 Saturday night 109-98 without the services of the 6-10 rebounding and defensive genius who was sidelined with a sprained ankle.

SPECIALISTS in repairs, adjustments, and installations of appliances are on hand at Sears Service Center, east Twenty-fifth Street, and are handy when there are such problems as wind damaging television antennas and towers. Shelby Graham, above, is the TV specialist at the center.

Sears Service Center Keeps TV, Other Appliances Going

Wind causes only one of the problems which can develop in connection with home television sets in the Snyder area, but it causes one of the major problems.

Winds such as prevailed here late last week were of the kind which could bend or break television towers and damage antennas considerably.

Straightening out tower and antenna problems is only one of numerous tasks handled by Sears Service Center, which is located at 1010 Twenty-fifth Street.

There are numerous things which can go wrong with a television, radio, washer, or other appliances which cannot be repaired by the homeowner.

But at Sears Service Center the job can be done quickly and efficiency by trained technicians.

They are Shelby Graham, television-radio service specialist, and Wilbur Eaton, appliance service specialist.

The service center is well-equipped in other ways, too. It keeps in stock a long line of replacement and repair parts, practically anything which would be needed in a repair or adjustment task.

At the center are all the latest types of testing and repair equipment used by the technicians.

The two men do repair work for appliances taken to the center or makes service calls to rural area around Snyder and at Colorado City. The appliance center is open five days a week from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Eaton is a graduate of the Sears appliance school and can work on and type appliance Sears sells. Graham is a graduate of the radio-television division of Draughan's Business College.

The center works on such appliances and equipment as, televisions, radios, washing machines, dryers, ironers, air conditioners, lawn mower motors, motorscooters refregerators, home freezers, and many other Sears products.

Judges Favor Photographs

PECOS (AP)—West Texas district judges generally agree that newspapers and television cameramen should be permitted to take courtroom pictures.

This was the view expressed by most of the jurists at a 7th administrative district meeting yesterday.

Judge Lewis Reed of Lamesa declared, however, that he felt TV dramatizations of court proceedings interfere with justice and mislead the public.

The consensus of opinion among the judges was that picture taking by natural light should be allowed but use of flash bulbs and speed lights should be prohibited.

They suggested that photographers and a judge should confer at least three days prior to a court session. The jurists took the position that cameramen were under court jurisdiction, could be held in contempt and should be willing to pledge dignified courtroom conduct.

Three Red Chinese Units Withdrawn

TOKYO (AP) — North Korea today said the withdrawal of the first 40,000 Chinese Communist troops was completed Saturday.

Pyongyang radio reported three Chinese divisions had crossed the Yalu River border.

The Chinese have said 80,000 troops, or six divisions, would leave North Korea between March 15 and April 30. Peiping in February pledged to pull out all Chinese forces — estimated at 350,000 by South Korea — by the end of the year.

Junior Editors Quiz on BIRDS

QUESTION: Do birds hibernate?

• • •

ANSWER: The boy in our illustration has found a hibernating bird, but don't expect that you will be able to rush out and dig up another. Only one species, the Poor-will (a western cousin of the Whip-poor-will) has been discovered hibernating. Even if you did have the luck to run across a hibernating Poor-will, it would be in such a state that you might judge it to be dead.

The value of hibernation is that through it animals may escape starvation during the season when insects, plants and other animals are so difficult to find.

Long ago, people tried to explain the absence of birds in winter time by saying that they hibernated, like bears or chipmunks. Then it was discovered that most birds go south for the winter, and students jumped to the conclusion that none at all hibernated. Everybody laughed at the idea of a bird sleeping through the cold months. A few years ago, however, a hibernating Poor-will was discovered in a cave in Arizona, and the scientists had to revise their idear again.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Instead of wasting time looking for a hibernating bird, start watching instead for migrating birds. They are arriving by the hundreds from the south now or soon hereafter, and this is the best time of year to make their acquaintance.

Fired Counsel Says He Got Panel Leads

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bernard Schwartz says the House subcommittee that fired him as chief counsel has considered so far only matters he helped to develop.

"How long can they continue to run on borrowed steam?" he asked, referring to the House subcommittee investigating federal regulatory agencies. He was questioned during a television interview.

The subcommittee concluded last week the first phase of its hearings, dealing with allegations of misconduct by members of the Federal Communications Commission. No date has been set for new hearings.

Schwartz said he hopes the subcommittee will conduct a public inquiry into possible White House pressure on the agencies. Without giving details, he said subcommittee files contain evidence that presidential aide Sherman Adams took an interest in several cases pending before the agencies.

There was no immediate comment from Adams.

The subcommittee fired Schwartz as its chief counsel last Feb. 10 after a dispute over his handling of the investigation. He in turn charged that some members were seeking to turn the probe into a whitewash.

Schwartz has charged that Adams "may have improperly intervened" with the Civil Aeronautics Board on behalf of a client of Atty. Murray Chotiner, a onetime campaign manager for Vice President Nixon. Schwartz said Adams contacted Harmar D. Denny, then a CAB member, about the case but Denny has denied the charge.

High Prices For Onions

MCALLEN (AP) — Lower Rio Grande Valley dry onions commanded their highest prices in five years last week in a market which gave indications it may remain good for several weeks.

Prices jumped despite an upsurge in shipments to almost 100 cars a day. Fifth-pound sacks brought $3 to $3.50 f.o.b. for all varieties.

Shippers said U.S. markets could absorb about 150 cars daily but those sent from the Valley probably would not hit that level. Shipments from other growing areas are not expected to start moving for several weeks.

Light harvesting is expected to start in the Laredo and Corpus Christi areas late this week.

The week saw cabbage make another comeback. Prices rose generally to $1.50 for a 50-pound sack. Shipments are expected to remain fairly steady until early next month.

Carrot prices dipped to new lows of 80 cents to $1 per 50-pound sack. Shippers expect a price rise in late April, when the supply becomes more scarce.

San Angelo Due Runoff Election

SAN ANGELO (AP)—Voters apparently will have to go to the polls a second time to pick San Angelo's mayor, police chief and one city commissioner.

Runoffs were indicated by the unofficial tabulation of votes cast Saturday.

In the race for mayor, Dr. R. E. Windham got 4,689 votes, Gilbert Theriot 2,957 and Neil Baird Sr. 2,801.

Also undecided were contests between Ava Smith and Lee Braziel for police chief and J. T. Williamson and J. A. Eubanks for a commission seat. G. T. Trusler and Jack Shaw were elected commissioners.

Commissions in the U. S. Army Nurse Corps have been open to male registered nurses only since 1955. The first one was 2nd Lt. Edward Lyon of Kings Park, N.Y., who is now attending medical school.

DAUGHTER AND MOTHER AFTER SLAYING—Lana Turner's 14-year-old daughter, Cheryl Crane, left, sits in the office of the Beverly Hills, Calif., chief of police after spending the night in jail. She had been booked on suspicion of murder for the slaying of handsome Johnny Stompanato, boy friend of her mother, actress Lana Turner, shown at right, who musters a slight smile for newsmen at the police station, where she had gone to have breakfast with her daughter the morning after the slaying. (AP Wirephotos)

Lana Met Stompanato While Searching For Excitement

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The slaying of Johnny Stompanato by Lana Turner's 14-year-daughter must have most of Hollywood — and the world — asking today?

How can a known underworld figure become the boy friend of a top movie star?

"It's all my fault. It's all my fault," one close friend quoted Lana on her daughter Cheryl's predicament.

Is it?

Four times married and divorced; with numerous boy friends in between, the 38-year-old actress saw in handsome Johnny excitement and new kicks.

It may be hard for people unfamiliar with the town to comprehend, but Hollywood can be dull for movie queens.

Many a beautiful doll has to sit at home nights for the simple reason there is a drastic shortage of eligible men.

Sexy Barbara Nichols, an unmarried actress who came here from New York, summed it up: "Sure, I'd like to get married, but every interesting man I've met out here is either married or spoken for."

Even such an international beauty as Zsa Zsa Gabor has been escorted to recent Hollywood functions by her press agent. One publicity man reveals that one of the biggest chores of his job is lining up dates for clients world famous for their beauty.

Lana met the 32-year-old Stompanato soon after her rift with Lex Barker, former screen Tarzan who was her latest husband.

Beverly Hills Police Chief Clinton Anderson quoted her: "My first contact with John was a telephone call I received from him about a year ago. I didn't recall ever having met him or having seen him before, but he mentioned mutual friends.

"After that he called at intervals for two or three weeks, wanting to come over for a drink or a chat. He kept pestering, and I finally accepted a date with him."

Los Angeles police intelligence reports on known underworld figures say this about Stompanato: "He acquaints himself with females of wealth. He courts them, and after he is deeply involved, borrows money and never repays the loan."

Meeting Stompanato was easy for Lana. Getting rid of him was not.

That's what led to the violent arguments climaxed Friday night in the stabbing.

Cheryl, fearful for her mother's life after hearing threats from Stompanato, strode up to him and rammed a brand-new kitchen knife, razor sharp, into his right side.

A post-mortem showed that the knife blade had penetrated the liver, aorta and portal vein, causing a massive hemorrhoage. The youngster, described by Anderson as frozen with fear, calmly pulled out the eight-inch blade and laid it on a nearby coffee table.

Carmine Stompanato, the victim's older brother, arrived to take the body back to Woodstock, Ill., for burial. Ex-gambler Mickey Cohen, for whom the younger Stompanato once worked as a bodyguard, expects to fly back for the burial.

Meanwhile, Cheryl remained in Juvenile Hall pending a hearing tomorrow in Santa Monica Superior Court.

Jerry Giesler, famed filmland attorney retained by Lana, said he will argue that the slaying was justifiable homicide and that thus no trial is necessary.

Police quoted Miss Turner as saying Stompanato had "taken" her for several thousand dollars, not counting the tabs she picked up for him.

They said she gave this further account:

She sent a considerable sum of money and a ticket to Stompanato so he could join her in London, where she had gone to make a picture last year.

Stompanato gave her a large part of the money to keep for him after he arrived in London. Later, when he asked for the money, she refused to return it to him.

He wanted the entire sum to convince Scotland Yard officers he was a substantial person, she said.

Scotland Yard detectives in London said Saturday they advised Stompanato to leave Britain for reportedly threatening Lana's life. He was on his way home within a few hours, they said.

Resurrection Is Observed By Many

By The Associated Press

Christian worshipers in churches throughout the world yesterday commemorated the Resurrection of Christ.

From Jerusalem, the cradle of Christianity, to Communist China, the devout heard retold the joyous story of the risen Christ.

In much of the United States, rain, snow and chilly winds put a damper on Easter parades and other displays of holiday finery. New York City's Easter parade was drowned in a gusty downpour.

The day was observed amid snow, ice and heavy rains in Michigan, Wisconsin, Maine, California and elsewhere.

London reported the coldest Easter Sunday of the century.

In his Easter message, Pope Pius XII called on world leaders to let the light of Christ bring peace to a darkened world. A cosmopolitan throng estimated at 250,000 jammed St Peter's Square in Rome to hear the 82-year-old Pope say there is no better work for Christians than to labor for a just peace.

In Jerusalem, Holy Land pilgrims commemorated the Resurrection at two sites where Christ might have been buried — the Holy Sepulchre and the Garden Tomb, an empty grave in a garden just outside the city walls.

About 20,000 pilgrims jammed the giant underground Basilica of St.Pius X in Lourdes, France, for Easter ceremonies. Included were 500 paralyzed men and women from all parts of France.

Radio Peiping reported several thousand Protestants and Catholics at High Masses and Holy Communion services in Peiping, Shanghai and Canton.

At Gettysburg, Pa., President and Mrs. Eisenhower and their family attended services at the local Presbyterian church despite a heavy rainstorm.

Lavish Living Of Trujillo Is Questioned

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Is the handsome son of Dominican Republic strongman Rafael Trujillo spending a million dollars for his year's stay in the United States?

A U.S. congressman says he is. But Lt. Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr. declines any comment on the assertion.

"That will be answered through official channels," the 29-year-old head of his country's air force told a reporter.

The statement was made by Rep. Wayne Hays (D-Ohio) before a closed-door hearing of the House Foreign Affairs Committee in Washington.

Hays said that Trujillo's lavish living during his year in the United States will cost his country a million dollars at a time when the Dominican Republic is earmarked for $1,300,000 in U.S. aid.

Trujillo occupies a penthouse in a Kansas City hotel, for which he reputedly pays a rental of $100 a day. He maintains a large staff of servants and bodyguards. He also has a ranch home at Leavenworth which he uses when attending classes.

Trujillo flew here March 21 with an entourage of seven persons and a pet dog. He is on leave from the U.S. Army Command and General Staff College at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., where he has been studying since last summer.

The youthful general took actress Kim Novak to lunch on Easter.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Skinner are parents of a daughter weighing six pounds, six and one-half ounces, born at 3:15 a.m. Friday in Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

A son weighing eight pounds, five and one-half ounces was born at 5:40 p.m. Friday to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Loftis, 808 Twenty-eighth Street.

Quiz Woman In Slaying

TULSA — A woman who emerged yesterday after five days in a junk-cluttered shed underwent further questioning today. She had been sought since the shooting Tuesday night of a young Tulsa divorcee.

Mrs. Ida Denney, 40, had been hunted since Mrs. Betty Watkins, 24, mother of two children, was found dead in her bed, shot five times.

Relatives of Mrs. Watkins said Mrs. Denney was to have spent the night with her.

Mrs. Denney was admitted to a hospital last night suffering from what Co. Atty. Howard Edmondson said was malnutrition and exposure.

Edmondson said Mrs. Denney told of pulling a pistol from under a pillow at Mrs. Watkins' home and firing after hearing a scream, but said she remembered nothing more.

Farmer Shoots Self, Daughter's Suitor

CROWLEY, Colo. (AP)—A 71-year-old Crowley County farmer shot and killed himself yesterday after seriously wounding his daughter's 74-year-old suitor.

The dead man was Daniel Correll. Adams said Correll killed himself in the bedroom of his home with a shotgun.

Moments earlier, Sheriff Henry Adams said, Correll shot Art Stringer twice. The shots struck Stringer in the legs and abdomen.

Stringer, who had been courting Correll's daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Correll, about 40, was reported in serious condition.

Mrs. Correll told officers her father had been brooding over her engagement to Stringer, a retired farmer.

34 Persons Die Violently In State

By The Associated Press

Thirty-four persons died violently in Texas during the weekend.

At least 15 were children, including five trapped on a trestle and killed by a train near San Antonio. Six other youngsters perished in fires.

The toll included eight deaths in auto traffic, six from gunshot wounds and eight from various other causes.

Those killed at play on the railroad viaduct while relatives picnicked nearby were three children of Mrs. Padla Garza of San Antonio—Diana, 11; Louis, 12, and Laura, 16—and two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Rramirez of Laredo—Anna Maria, 13, and Norma, 15.

Toney Silva, 21, Floresville, was found shot to death beside a highway Sunday in the South Central Texas City. A man was held for questioning.

Bobby Lane, 23, Pasadena, was killed Sunday when his motorcycle collided with a trailer and boat being pulled by a car.

Charles Grays, 66, was struck and fatally injured Sunday by a pickup truck near Seagoville, in Dallas County.

Horrified Picnickers See Train Kill Five Children

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Horrified picnickers saw a speeding train plow through five children trapped on a lofty railroad trestle yesterday. All five died.

A sixth youngster raced to safety at one end of the mile-long viaduct moments ahead of the passenger train, the Southern Pacific's Sunset Limited.

Engineer J. W. Euforth jammed on the emergency brakes in vain while scores of the 300 persons gathered for Easter picnics screamed for the four girls and one boy to jump.

The youngsters were caught about a fourth of a mile out on the bridge past a curve hiding the train's approach. At that point the viaduct towers 40 feet above the brushy bed of the Medina River.

Among those gathered below to eat their noon meal in a park were about 50 relatives of the children. The park is on the river banks at McDonna, 15 miles southwest of here in South Texas.

Three children of Mrs. Paula Garza, San Antonio, and two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Ramirez, Laredo, Tex., were killed. Ramirez is Mrs. Garza's brother.

The dead: Diana Garza, 11; Louis Garza, 12; Laura Garza, 16; Anna Maria Ramirez, 13; and Norma Ramirez, 15. Norma died at a hospital several hours later. The others were killed outright.

Manuel Ramirez, 12, scrambled off one end of the trestle seconds ahead of the train.

"Several people yelled at the children when we saw the train coming," said Derly Guitierrez, 27, a cousin from Corpus Christi, Tex.

"I shouted to them to jump — to get off the bridge. They were panicky. They started running — they didn't know what to do."

Engineer Euforth said the train was traveling 61 m.p.h. as it rounded the curve.

"The kids didn't have a chance," he said. "There was no place for them to go. . . .

"As I straightened out I saw those kids on the track. I went into full emergency procedure at once. I must have gone one half to three quarters of a mile out on the viaduct."

Ramirez brought his family here last Friday for a reunion at the Garza home, and other relatives joined them for the outing in the park.

Fly Appears On TV Spot

TOKYO (AP)—The nightmare that haunts every producer of television food commercials happened at Radio Tokyo—a fly made an unscheduled guest appearance.

The insect perched on an open can of salmon just as the camera focused on it for a commercial. For five seconds the fly feasted, and the cameras transmitted its enjoyment to the viewing audience.

The next day letters from viewers flooded the network and the sponsor of the program, a fishery company. The general tone was that the salmon wasn't for humans, it was for the flies. The fish company was only placated when the station gave it another 30-minute spot free. Normally the time would have cost 300,000 yen—$833.

The well-fed fly? It escaped.
