Great Britain Preparing To Fight Back

Mediterranean Fleet Ordered Reinforced; Steamer Flying British Flag Torpedoed

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Sept. 2—Great Britain ordered her fleet reinforced in the western Mediterranean today to combat strange and repeated submarine assaults on British flag vessels along her empire "life line."

The decision was announced after tense cabinet members, at two sessions, attempted to shape the empire's naval policy against the threats to her ships of war and peace.

Ambassador Summoned

The Spanish ambassador was summoned to the foreign office shortly before the second council adjourned early this afternoon.

The order, specifically instructing increased destroyer strength among the reinforcements, indicated that both capital ships and smaller men-of-war would be sent into the zone.

Informed circle said the British government suspected Italy of responsibility for the wave of attacks.

Torpedoed And Sunk

Latest victim of the mysterious submarine was the steamer Woodford, flying the British flag. Her master reported to Lloyd's that she was torpedoed and sunk off the Spanish coast, her second engineer killed and six men wounded.

British destroyers were on the trail of the submarine aggressor, with permission to sink it. They were sent to the search when the submarine fired a torpedo at the destroyer Havock Tuesday night.

For two and a half hours the ministers conferred with Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

Sinks In Three Hours

The attack on the Woodford occurred about 70 miles north of where the destroyer Havock was attacked yesterday. The captain reported the ship sank three hours after she was torpedoed and that the crew took to the boats, arriving at the town of Benicarlo on the west Spanish coast after eight hours at sea.

Formerly under the Greek flag, the Woodford was being transferred to British ownership and was per-

Local Men To Control Bank

Purchase of controlling interest of the First National bank of Odessa, to become effective Tuesday, by C. E. Maedgen, president, and John D. Mitchell, vice-president and cashier of the Lubbock National bank, became known today. They bought the interest of W. L. Bradley, president and executive officer who is retiring from the banking business on account of ill health.

"There is no definite set-up as yet, and will not be until next week, when the directors and officers are elected," Mitchell explained. "There will be some vacancies on the board as some directors are selling."

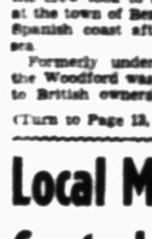

Maedgen Is President

Maedgen is to become president and Mitchell vice-president and executive head of the bank. He will continue to live in Lubbock, dividing his time between the two institutions. There will be some other changes, he indicated. Whether any one from the Lubbock bank will be transferred to Odessa was not known.

The Odessa bank had deposits of $1,200,986.43 on June 30, 1937, a gain of $584,071.74 since Dec. 31, 1936.

Maedgen has been head of the Lubbock bank since 1917. He has been 30 years in the banking business. Mitchell came to Lubbock eight years ago. He has had 20 years experience in the business.

Traces Of Rain Splash Over Area Last Night

Scattered rainfall at Lubbock and here and there on the South Plains was measured in gauges Wednesday night and Thursday morning. September evidencing a trend toward taking up where August's timely and effective moisture left off.

Only a trace was measured in the gauge at Texas Technological college, .11 inch at the experiment substation east of the city and .14 inch at Municipal airport.

Clear Weather Needed

Farmers, needing hot, growing weather to influence hurried maturity of their cotton, observed eight-tenths overcast conditions with apprehension. The airport said the ceiling was 6,000 feet and that visibility was 10 miles at 6:30 o'clock this morning.

The barometer's behavior was slightly reassuring. Standing early this morning at 29.87, it slowly was rising. Temperature at the regular reading time was 67 degrees. The night's maximum was 86 degrees, minimum 66. Maximum recording for the 24-hour period preceding was 90 degrees.

Denver railroad dispatchers said Dimmitt received an eighth-inch fall. Hart a quarter-inch.

Two Inches For Month

A report for the month past submitted by Don L. Jones, superintendent of the experiment station, showed that a total precipitation for the 30-day period was 2.06 inches, .09 inches more than the quarter-century normal for August and running the year's total through August to 14.89 inches, or 2.32 inches above the normal for that

First Patient In Iron Lung At Fort Worth Improving

FORT WORTH, Sept. 2 (AP)—Lawrence D. Flatt, 7, of Venus, the first infantile paralysis patient in Fort Worth's new "iron lung," spent a restful night in the mechanical device at Methodist hospital despite his critical condition.

Lawrence, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Flatt, was reported at the point of death when he was rushed to the hospital late yesterday.

Quick Results Are Obtained By Want Ad

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 2 (AP)—When Mrs. Ella Postel Babbitt placed a want ad in a Los Angeles newspaper she obtained a result that was unexpected, though by no means unwanted.

Mrs. Babbitt advertised a room for rent.

A caller came.

"Marie, where in the world did you come from?" asked Mrs. Babbitt, recognizing the woman who came to inquire about the room as her sister, Mrs. Marie Postel Graham of Havana, Cuba—a sister she had not seen for 31 years.

Fliers Poised For Big Race

(By The Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Sept. 2—Motors whirred from coast to coast today as fliers converged on Cleveland for aviation's big show, the national air races.

Preliminaries opened today in advance of the first events here Friday, with interest centering in the cross-country Bendix derby from Los Angeles to Cleveland starting after midnight tonight.

Approximately 30 planes entered the Taylor trophy derby taking off from Columbus today for Akron and Cleveland as the preliminary event.

To Open Friday

The program proper, opening Friday, runs through Labor day to reach its climax in the Thompson trophy race, 200-mile speed event.

Poised on the starting line at Los Angeles today for the Bendix dash to Cleveland and possibly continuing on to New York for trans-continental records were a dozen of the finest speed planes and pilots.

Prizes included a $20,000 purse for best times to Cleveland, $7,500 for setting a new transcontinental record, $3,000 for continuing to Bendix airport in New York, $2,500 for woman making best time to Cleveland.

Man Shows His Heels To Cops And Makes Escape Today

A man showed his heels to officers and escaped in north Lubbock this morning when sought for alleged assault on a mill official who assertedly had discharged him.

Police said Amos Bourland, night mill manager, suffered cuts over and under the right eye when accosted as he left his home Wednesday night. Bill Mabray, police identifications officer, said the man sought probably would be charged with assault. An associate seen with him today was questioned.

A 17-year-old girl said by her mother to have been missing since Wednesday night was not reported found this morning. She was described as blonde, weighing 135 pounds, 5 feet 6 inches tall and wearing white stockings.

A negro was charged with disturbance and another was sought in connection with breaking of a servants' house window and use of profane language.

Sugar Tax Proposal Signed By President Last Night

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—A $60,000,000 sugar tax—the first processing levy on a farm product since the supreme court nullified the AAA taxes—became effective today as part of the new sugar-quota legislation.

President Roosevelt signed the much-debated sugar bill last night at Hyde Park and at the same time sharply assailed some of its provisions.

Hundreds Are Claimed And Loss Heavy

Wide Area Of British Crown Colony Devastated; Flames Sweeping Stricken Section

(By The Associated Press)

HONGKONG, Sept. 2—Fire, caused by a disastrous typhoon, raged through Hongkong today after a 125-miles-an-hour wind had taken hundreds of lives ashore and at sea.

The death toll, steadily rising, was believed to have passed 500. Officials expressed fear it would mount into thousands.

A wide area of this British crown colony was decastated and waist-deep in water.

Ships Are Piled Up

Large and small ships were piled up on the sea wall and strewn in the submerged waterfront streets.

Distress calls from foundering ships poured in from all sides.

Shipping suffered particularly heavily in the gale, one of the worst in Hongkong's history, because the harbor is thronged with refugee-laden ships from the Shanghai war zone and steamers that have taken haven from the Japanese coastal blockade.

One of the foundered steamers was the liner Hunan, carrying 1,200 Chinese refugees from the Shanghai sector.

Liner Is Total Loss

The 4,552-ton Dutch liner Van Heutsz was a total loss. Two of the largest ships in the harbor, the 18,765-ton Lloyd Trietino liner Conte Verde and the 16,975-ton Japanese liner Asama Maru, were swept ashore.

Two British ships, the Mausang and Boong Court, and the Chinese Queton were reported sunk.

The British steamers Lyeemoon, Kalgan and Kwangchow, the Norwegian freighter Produce and the Chinese Shenglee were pounded ashore.

British police and revenue officers, heroically forming a human lifeline strung together with ropes, rescued the crews of many smaller stranded ships and hundreds of Chinese refugees.

Area Is Demolished

The downtown area of Hongkong was demolished as completely as if it had been bombed. Streets were littered with the debris of shattered windows, collapsed walls, blown-down signs and the wrecks of automobiles.

Fifteen bodies were recovered from the fire caused by the gale. It was not known how many others were trapped in the flames and ruins of caved-in buildings.

REVENUES BOOSTED

AUSTIN, Sept. 2. (AP)—Liquor Administrator Bert Ford reported today revenues for August were $754,661 compared with $648,262 for August last year and $475,331 in July.

Vacation Is Over And It's Back To School

Summer's fun is almost over for Lubbock and South Plains kiddies and happy out-of-doors play must give way to the more serious business of going to school. These young ladies, in the picture at left, are tenderly caring for their doll-babies a last time before school bells ring. It wouldn't be so bad, the lads in the picture at the right agree, if there wasn't so much washing and cleaning to do. And teachers should see that a dog needs education too, but "Pal," boon companion of midsummer games must be tied at home.

U. S. Marines In Danger

Jap Airplanes Dump Bombs

BY JAMES A. MILLS
Associated Press Staff Writer

SHANGHAI, Sept. 2—Japanese air squadrons dumped bombs on the northern borders of the international settlement in a sunset raid this evening, just missing the sandbagged sectors defended by American marines.

The bombs played havoc with life and property but, apparently, achieved no military objective.

In Line Of Fire

Shrapnel fell about United States marine posts. The American lines were directly in the range of fire. The steel-helmeted marines were in imminent danger of serious casualties in case Japanese air bombers or naval gunners overshot their marks, the Chinese government mint and other administrative buildings.

A dozen miles to the north the major fighting surged on, with Japanese asserting their troops were approaching the walls of Paoshan and Chinese declaring their lines were holding firm. The Japanese admitted their earlier claim to the capture of Paoshan was a mistake.

Liuho, in this area, was pounded fiercely by great Japanese naval shells and air bombs, but the Chinese troops stayed. About historic Woosung too, where some sections still are held by the Chinese, there was furious Japanese bombardment from air and sea.

Observers Are Amazed

American naval observers were amazed at the prodigal use of the expensive Japanese shells and bombs, most of which were falling

Dry Those Tears, Judy; Comic Says It's All For The Best

(By The Associated Press)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 2.—The bulbous-nosed screen comedian, W. C. Fields, dried Judy Canova's tears today and told the little actress her broken romance with Edgar Bergen, the ventriloquist, probably would all come out for the best.

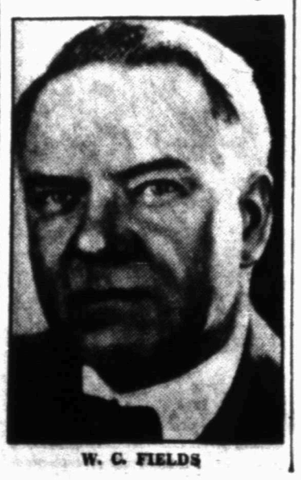

Miss Canova, Pensacola, Fla., hillbilly singer, yesterday broke her engagement to Bergen, blaming Bergen's wooden stooge, Charlie McCarthy, for upsetting their three-year-old romance.

Typical Of Charlie

"Why, that's typical of Charlie McCarthy," Fields whispered to the actress on a stage set. "I always looked upon McCarthy as a Trilby, but it seems I have been barking up the wrong tree. He is, in reality, a Frankenstein. Yes, sir! Better that he had never been whittled into human shape.

"McCarthy essentially is a social climber. He comes from a long line of old South American mangrove roots. In his insidious way he has

Better Bundle Up Folks; Looks Like A Long, Hard Winter Is Lurking Just Around Corner

BY H. I. KIEFER
Journal Staff Writer

Shucks on corn are the heaviest in years, sassafras buds are fat and heavily laden with sap, foliage on row crops is extraordinarily luxurious, grass on the ranges is the thickest in many seasons and livestock is fat and carries coats as heavy as old timers recall ever having seen them.

All of which is interpreted as being nature's warning that an early and hard winter is in store for the South Plains.

Old Timers Say So

That, at least, is the opinion as gathered by U. Brown, deputy district clerk, from conversations in recent weeks with old timers with whom his official duties have brought him in contact.

Brown disclaimed with emphasis this morning any personal ability as a weather prophet, but at the same time he admitted that the frequency of the doleful prediction has made him inclined to "look for the worst and hope that it doesn't happen." He has been particularly impressed, he added, by the fact that practically everyone who seems to accept the signs of nature as an indicator of the weather ahead is in agreement that those signs forecast that winter soon will be with the South Plains in a large way.

Summer Is Broken

Other courthouse officials, from similar observations, said that many old timers are of the opinion that the break in summer has come with the early morning showers of the last two days, and that hot weather will be a rarity henceforth.

One old-timer, however, disagreed emphatically with those who place credence in long-range weather forecasts, regardless how or by whom they are made. That pioneer is J. K. Milwee, 88-year-old veteran of the plains.

"Not worth a row or pins," was his terse comment concerning long range predictions.

He has seen, he recalled, mild

Old Timers Gather Here For Annual Picnic At Park

Despite threatening weather of the early forenoon, old timers of Lubbock county were determined to eat cowboy "son-of-a-gun" and swap reminiscences of other days at their annual picnic at Mackenzie park this afternoon.

Only weather which absolutely forbids the annual gathering will interfere with plans for the reunion, according to assurances given this morning by Albert Taylor, president, who predicted the largest attendance in the history of the event.

Guests of particular honor will be members of the old timers association, who, to qualify for membership, must have been residents of Lubbock county from prior to Dec. 31, 1900. Attending also will be their children, grandchildren and in some cases, great grandchildren, as well as many friends.

Although a busy program scheduled to start at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon has been arranged, the big feature of the day will be the serving of the "son-of-a-gun", which is a glorified beef stew cooked in the open. Coffee also will be served and with the son-of-a-gun, will supplement the basket picnic which will begin at 6 p. m.

Guests at the picnic will be invited to register as they arrive in a book which already has become one of historical value to Lubbock and South Plains. In most instances, those registering also specify the date of their arrival in Lubbock county as well as other dates of significant history.

At 5 p. m., a business session will be held at which Taylor will preside. B. O. McWhorter is vice-president of the association and Mrs. Lottie Boles Hilton is secretary. Ed Green is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

If rain should interfere with the outing, Taylor said this morning, it will be postponed for a few days.

Four Perfect Bridge Hands In This Deal

Final Approval Of President Opens Road

Experiment Expected To Cost $526,000,000; Bill Giving Helium Monopoly Signed

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

HYDE PARK, N. J., Sept. 2—President Roosevelt announced today his approval of the Wagner-Steagall bill launching a $526,000,000 experiment in federal-local slum clearance and low-rent housing construction.

He also signed the senate bill authorizing a government monopoly in the production of helium and changing export rules to permit its sale to foreign countries in restricted quantities for commercial or medical purposes.

Agitation Was Started

Agitation for loosening restrictions on export of this non-inflammable gas began soon after the German dirigible Hindenburg crashed in flames after an explosion at Lakehurst, N. J.

Under the new act, no helium purchased abroad could be used for military purposes and all foreign sales would have to be approved first by six government agencies, including the war and navy departments.

The loan-grant housing act, carrying out one of the president's campaign promises, creates a United States housing authority in the department of the interior with an initial capital of $1,000,000 already appropriated.

Funds Are Authorized

It also authorizes up to $500,000,000 in government-guaranteed bonds to raise funds for loans and an additional appropriation of $25,000,000 for grants. Funds for grants, proponents of the act say, will not be needed until actual construction is well under way.

The housing authority may lend to public housing agencies up to 90 per cent of the cost of the prospects. The local communities would put up the other 10 per cent. Loans may run for a maximum of 60 years.

Under an optional section, the authority may make outright contributions of 25 per cent of the project cost, with the president having the right to allot out of relief funds an additional 5 per cent to pay for labor costs.

To qualify for a grant, a community must be able to contribute at least 20 per cent of the cost.

Loan interest would be the "going rate" of federal interest plus one-half of one per cent.

Cost of projects will be limited to $1,000 per room or $4,000 per family unit, except in cities of more than 500,000 population where the maximums would be $1,250 and $5,000, respectively.

Families with incomes not exceeding five times the rental will be eligible to move into the new units. This is raised to six times the rental in cases of families with three or more dependents.

Extra Session Faces Threat

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 2 — Governor James V. Allred made the startling statement today that the contemplated revenue-raising special session of the legislature might be called off but quickly added that the possibility was "veery slight."

"I don't want to call them (the legislators) down here," he said, "unless I feel they're going to do something. However, I can't believe they can face the facts and then refuse to do anything."

The chief executive pointed out that several senators had been quoted as saying they would not vote for any new taxes because they did not believe any were needed.

Weary Search Parties Being Driven On By Remote Hope

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 2. (AP)—Weary search parties, driven by the remote hope that Henry W. Pearson, 28, air corps mechanic, may be lying exhausted on some deserted beach, continued their vigil today on, above and around the great salt lake.

Pearson, formerly of Oakland, Calif., and Gilmer, Tex., has been missing since Tuesday evening when the army training plane in which he was a passenger plunged into the lake when the ship's motor failed.

Madonna Circle Has Opening Meeting

Madonna circle of the Child Conservation League began a new club season Wednesday afternoon at a luncheon served in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex McDonald, 2221 Eighteenth street.

Mrs. McDonald was elected first vice-president to succeed Mrs. C. A. Randolph who is to teach school this year. Place for the next meeting, which was to have been the home of Mrs. Randolph, was changed to the home of Mrs. Harvey Turnbough, 1919 Twenty-fifth street. The meeting will be held September 15. Dr. Pauline Miller will be guest speaker on "Child Diseases and Serums."

Mesdames U. S. Marshall, H. F. Selby and J. C. Clark were received as members. Others attending were Mesdames Harold Munn, Eugene Hancock, R. H. McCarty, James D. Wilson, W. B. Richards, Ralph Bedford, C. W. Ratcliff, B. E. Adair, Turnbough, Randolph and Hubert Burgess.

Miss Cathryn Dykes Honored With Breakfast Today

Mrs. Henry Roberts of Plainview entertained with a breakfast at 9:30 o'clock this morning at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whitacre, 1905 Twenty-ninth street, in honor of Miss Cathryn Dykes who is leaving this month to enter Texas State College for Women at Denton.

Tables were decorated with yellow fall flowers.

Guests were Misses Nannie Margaret Overton, Elizabeth Anne Price, Gladys Hall, Pauline Stafford, Ernesteen Lockhart, Marguerite Gibson, Dorothy Allen, Arnette Halsey, Rebecca Butler, Mary Katherine Rice and Mrs. Vernon Thompson.

Marriage Of Mrs. Land And W. C. Morgan Announced

The marriage of Mrs. Gladys Land and W. C. Morgan, manager of the Lubbock office of the Texas State Employment service, which took place April 18 in Fort Sumner, N. M., was announced Wednesday.

Mrs. Morgan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McClain of Childress. She is a former student of West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon and served as relief administrator of Childress county for two years. She is interviewer in the employment office.

Mr. Morgan, son of Mrs. Cooper Morgan of Hereford, attended Texas Technological college.

The couple is living at 1911 Twenty-seventh street.

VISIT IN MIDLAND

Misses Mary Ann Stephenson and Sarabeth Kimmel are spending the week-end in Midland as the guests of Miss Fredda Fay Turner. Mrs. Fred Turner, mother of the hostess, is planning a dance in their honor.

Mrs. C. E. Roberts and son, C. E. Roberts, jr., have just returned from an extended tour of eastern United States.

"Boy Who Blows A Horn Will Never Blow Safe" Is Theory Of Chicago Boys' Club; Part Of Crime Prevention Program

BY AURELIUS KINSEY
AP Feature Service Writer

CHICAGO, Sept. 2. — "The boy who blows a horn never will blow a safe."

On that theory the Chicago Boys' club is teaching hundreds of underprivileged youngsters how to play musical instruments. It's part of a program of crime prevention.

Girls Want To Join

And does it work! It has been a revelation to the directors. Even girls are clamoring to get into the boys' clubs for music lessons.

Five clubhouses are maintained throughout Chicago for underprivileged boys. Some 3,000 lads assemble in them nightly to practice shop work, dramatics, athletics and, now, music. Six hundred boys have been attracted from back alleys and street gangs in the few months since music was added.

Steering young toughs to a piano, horn or to singing classes is not easy, says Howard Tooley, musical director. Their first reaction is that music is "sissy." But once that impression is overcome the boys go the limit.

The bands all follow the same progression, by choice, Tooley says: they start with marches, shift to dance music and wind up on "highbrow" classics. By the time they have completed this evolution, he adds, they have been turned pretty definitely from the gutter.

Directors Kept Busy

A club has not been formed for girls yet, but they have been so insistent that classes were opened to them.

Tooley and several assistants are kept busy directing four brass bands, three orchestras, four singing clubs, four harmonica bands and one Hawaiian orchestra.

Every night except Sundays, groups practice, experiment and perfect their technique. They are directed by paid instructors who understand child psychology as well as music.

The youngsters give concerts attended by hundreds of Chicago citizens.

"It gives them a goal," says Tooley. "They are the driving force. We merely guide them. They buy their own instruments, at ten cents a week, through our underwriting with dealers, or they work for them.

"We never sing a song to the words 'We don't want,' or 'I can't.' All our expressions are 'we will,' 'I can.' Eventually the positive, constructive viewpoint on life is instilled and the boys feel they can do anything if it is right."

Police Commissioner James P. Allman approves the project.

"If it were not for the splendid work being done by the Chicago Boys' clubs," he asserts, "there would be a much greater amount of crime in the city than is now the case."

Comely Sisters Of King Help To Kill Old Veil Customs

* * *

PRINCESS MAXHIDE

PRINCESS RUHIJE

TIRANA, Albania, Sept. 2. (AP) — Three young, unmarried princesses are the advance guard in the movement led by their brother, King Zog, to emancipate Albanian women from the veil and other Turkish customs.

Just before the decree unveiling the women was issued, the princesses, Myseyen, 27; Ruhije, 26, and Maxhide, 25, journeyed from here to Scutari, in the north, without veils and appeared in public and at social events in European clothes.

Example Is Set

It was partly because of the example thus set by the princesses that the unveiling reform, which has met opposition in other countries, has been in effect in Albania for three months without incident. Women as well as their menfolks apparently are reconciled to the change.

The princesses are determined to continue their work for the greater freedom of the Albanian women.

They travel about freely. They are expert horsewomen and sometimes appear in full uniform as cavalry officers in Albania's one crack calvary regiment. When they ride in uniform they receive the military salute and return it. The salute in Albania is made with the right arm and hand across the chest, the palm downward.

No Military Duties

The princesses do not perform any military duties in the regiment.

The three princesses are uniformly pretty, and had they not been princesses certainly would have been married by this time. They talk several foreign languages, having studied in Switzerland. Occasionally they go to Vienna.

They have three older sisters, two of whom are married and one of whom is a widow.

TIRED of "sitting around and doing nothing," Representative Joseph B. Shannon (Dem., Mo.), will not seek re-election. "There's nothing to do in Congress nowadays," he complains. "About eight men write all the bills. The rest just sit."

Dos Mesas Club Meets In Davis Home Wednesday

The Dos Mesas club met with Mrs. A. B. Davis, jr., 1724 Main street, Wednesday afternoon.

Attending were Mesdames Hugh Newton, George Germany, John Leslie, H. V. Stanton, Ray Johnson, Mart G. Pederson, Homan Arnett, Albert C. Symes.

The club will meet at 2:30 p. m., September 15, with Mrs. Arnett, 1311 Sixteenth street.

Water, as it grows colder, contracts until its reaches a temperature near freezing, then expands. If it did not expand, ice would sink to the bottom, and more ice would continue to form on the surface. Soon the entire water body would be frozen solid, and would remain so throughout most of the year. Even in summer, only a few inches on the surface would melt.

Merry Circle Party Honors Two With Gift Showers

Mrs. Steve Belcher, 2015 Fifteenth street, was hostess to the Merry Circle Wednesday afternoon. Mesdames W. V. Allen and O. B. Gee were presented with showers of gifts. A messenger boy brought them word of the courtesy, which came as a surprise.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames W. F. Barrett, Steve Jarvis, I. R. Clements, R. B. Gillean, H. N. Davis, Alta Mae Appling, Charles W. Graves, Allen, Gee and Newton Click of Des Moines, N. M.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Jarvis, 610 Sixteenth street.

Mrs. E. T. Renfro of Fort Worth is to arrive today for a visit with her brother, George B. Clifton, and family, 1412 Texas avenue.

The average life of the presidents of the United States has been 60.9 years.

FOOT ITCH

There is a sure remedy for Foot Itch, Athlete's Foot, or what you call it. The trouble is ringworm, and the germs lie deep. No ordinary remedy can kill them, for it can't get down. "RING ROUT" gently removes the outer skin without discomfort, then kills the germs in one minute. Druggists sell it under guarantee of satisfaction or money refunded.—Adv.

ARE YOU ONLY A THREE-QUARTER WIFE?

THERE are certain things a woman has to put up with and be a good sport.

Men, because they are men, can never understand a three-quarter wife—a wife who is all love and kindness three weeks in a month and a hell cat the rest of the time.

No matter how your back aches—no matter how loudly your nerves scream—don't take it out on your husband.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through."

French Taught By Aroma At This Bar

SHANGHAI, China, Sept. 2 (AP) — There is a bar in Shanghai that offers visiting American sailors a little education along with their beer.

The proprietor once was a navy man and he still is interested in gobs. When they ask him the meaning of the "chez this and chez that" they find all over Frenchtown, he explains that "chez" is French for "the house of."

To make it easier, he decided to put up such a sign himself. Unfortunately no one in the navy or elsewhere knows him by name but only by his unexplained nickname, Smell Bad. So the sign had to read "Chez Smell Bad."

From the second half of the 17th century until the present date, the city of Krefeld, in the Rhineland, has been the center of the German silk and velvet weaving industry.

FLASHES OF LIFE

(By The Associated Press)

A Good Campaigner

OKLAHOMA CITY — This legal brain twister confronted Attorney General Mac Q. Williamson. "Must a school board member be able to read and write the English language?"

"A Mr. X." rwote a county attorney, "was elected to a district school board. Now other members desire to remove Mr. X because he can not read or write English."

Williamson can't find a law to cover the situation.

Squawk!

TUCSON, Ariz. — Percy Patrick Posey thinks he has a job again. He is leaving for Hollywood and a film audition. He has been unemployed since the demise of the NRA.

His job then was to imitate the cry of the blue eagle on radio broadcasts.

Bark Worse Than Bite

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. — A couple entered the emergency hospital with a barking dog.

"He barks all the time and we can't sleep," they explained to a physician. "We want you to give him a sleeping powder."

The physician couldn't see it as an emergency, and the couple left with the dog—still barking.

Light Diet

LOS ANGELES—John Bates finished eating his bed-time ham sandwich, turned out the light. Something seemed the matter with the remainder of the ham.

It glowed.

Bates rushed to an emergency hospital but doctors found nothing wrong.

The health department examined the ham.

"Nothing to worry about," reported Toxicologist George Welty. "The glow is caused by a germ — micrococcus phosphoreus. It disappears when the meat is boiled."

Bates brightened up.

Heirs In Name

KENNETT SQUARE, Pa. — The will of Mrs. Stella H. Tingley proved a headache to Chester county legal authorities.

It contained bequests of $300 each to the "ice man" and "milkman;" $150 to the "laundry man;" $100 to "the colored lady" and $50 to "the new grocery boy."

The task of identifying them was up to the court.

Swats Flies, Too

DALLAS — Like everyone else, the boys at the station house were wondering what good those fox tails are.

Came a youth to report one stolen from his radiator cap.

"What good are those things, anyway?" they asked him.

"They keep part of the hood shined up," the youth replied, quick as a wink.

Tahoka Plans On Big Time

(Special To The Journal)

TAHOKA, Sept. 2—Pens and arenas are under construction and other final preparations being made for the first annual Tahoka Round-up next Wednesday and Thursday which gives promise of being one of the biggest events of its kind ever presented on the South Plains.

Charlie Copeland of Plains and Carl Dykes, Fort Worth, are in charge of the rodeo. Copeland has engaged the famous "Curley" Daugherty herd of wild Brahma steers and bulls, and is bringing a herd of the wildest bucking horses in the West from Pecos, the town which claims to have originated the rodeo. Rodeo prizes total $700, with a $100 roping saddle offered the champion cowboy of the contests.

More Than $1,000 Raised

Tahoka business men have raised more than $1,000 with which to buy beef, bread, pickles, onions, and coffee for the free barbecue on Thursday, the second day of the Round-Up. A basket picnic will be held the first day, Wednesday.

The program Wednesday opens with a negro ball game, Tahoka and Lamesa being the contestants. There will be a parade at noon, rodeo events beginning at 2 p. m. and at 7 p. m., after which there will be a cowboy platform dance.

On the second day there will be similar rodeo events, dance, free barbecue, and other attractions now being arranged.

Dudley Shows have been engaged for carnival attractions.

J. B. McPherson is chairman of the committee of business men in charge of the Round-Up celebration, and R. W. Fenton, jr., is vice-chairman.

The barbecue committee consists of Terry Noble, Claude Wells, and Sam Holland.

Table and service committees: Wiley Curry, Homer St. Clair, Chester Connolly, Judge P. W. Goed, W. S. Anglin.

Purchasing committee: McPherson, Jim Burleson, Jack Applewhite, Irvin Stewart.

Rodeo committee: Ed Sanders, Boyd Smith, and Tom Garrard.

Carnival and concessions: W. E. (Happy) Smith, V. F. Jones, R. W. Fenton, jr.

Entertainment: Wynne Collier, W. T. Bovell, R. P. Weathers.

Publicity: Frank Hill, L. C. Haney, Roy Young.

Pythons breathe only about twice a minute.

Weddings And Divorces Come In Pairs

Lois and Louise Coats

Ray and Roy Sebring

Herbert and Hubert Sharp

Twice wed, the famous Coats twins, originally from Seattle, may be headed for single blessedness again, if anything single can happen to these girl duplicates who do everything in doubles. The Sharp twins have filed twin annulment suits in Los Angeles against their twin wives, the twin Coats, with twin allegations that the twins were not divorced from their former twin husbands, the twin Sebrings, who are also twin marines. The Sharp twins allege that divorces of the Coats twins from the Sebring twins don't become final until October.

Farmers Attack Feed Problem With Elevator And Drier

ROBSTOWN, Sept. 2 (AP)—Henry and John Bolland, brothers who operate a farm 15 miles south of here, attacked the feed problem by constructing a grain elevator and drier equipment.

The brothers had been carrying out a year-around feeding program several seasons and had experienced trouble in saving sufficient grain.

Uncertainty of weather conditions in the summer harvest season makes the saving of grain a risky proposition in the coastal bend country, the biggest problem being preventing grain from spoiling after gathering it.

The Bollands use a combine in harvesting hegari, milo and other grains. Their elevator will store 10,000 bushels and the driver has an hourly capacity of 100 bushels.

Several years ago John A. Wuensche equipped his elevator at Kingsville with a drier. Results were so satisfactory he has started construction of a similar unit at his feed mill at Bishop.

Schenectady, N. Y., has a greater population than the entire state of Nevada, which has an area of 109,821 square miles.

New Treatment For Gout Now Studied

BY HOWARD BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor

ROCHESTER, Minn., Sept. 2 A new treatment for gout is under experiment at the Mayo Clinic here and is reported in its Proceedings.

What causes gout is still unknown.

There has been only one major new treatment since the 16th century, says this publication. The 16th century treatment was colchine — but how this drug affords relief has never been learned. It is still prescribed as a rule at the very first attack.

Even the belief that diet can bring relief is beginning to be doubted. The Mayos are now experimenting on two drugs combined, salycilates and glycine.

DIZZINESS DISQUALIFIES

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ability to work in high places without becoming dizzy is a requirement just listed in a state civil service announcement.

The job: painting the lofty framework of the Golden Gate bridge.

The use of stockings originated in the cold countries of northern Europe.

In Cabinet Post

Another step has been taken in the emancipation of Hindu womanhood. Vijayalakshmi Pandit, sister of Pundit Jawaharlal Nehru, leader of the Congress party of India, is the first woman in her country's political history to be appointed to a cabinet post. The honor fell to her in the organization of provincial governments under the new charter.

PLAINVIEW FIRE LOSS

PLAINVIEW, (Special) — May and June fire losses here amounted to $775.77, Fire Chief Mack Gregg reports. May loss was $45, the remainder coming in June.

Scouters Plan For Activities

Plans for fall and winter activities, including the organization of two new troops, a father and son get-together late this month, a Halloween party and parade in October, a week-end leadership training course and a toy-gathering drive in November, were laid at a meeting of north-central Boy Scout district committee at Plainview Chamber of Commerce last night, according to report this morning by Earl M. McClure, council area executive, following his return from the session.

New troops are planned with Junior High school and First Baptist church as sponsors, McClure said. Although Plainview now has three active troops, two additional ones are needed immediately, according to the reports of Alex Nisbett, jr., district chairman, who presided. The leadership training course is designed to prepare leaders for the new groups.

The toy gathering drive, it was explained, will be in cooperation with Plainview firemen who will repair them for distribution among needy children Christmas.

The district committee session, McClure explained, is one of a series planned during the next few weeks at convenient points throughout South Plains council area. One for Lubbock district is scheduled at Hilton hotel, in the Aztec room, at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon in response to the call issued this morning by Jack M. Randal, district chairman.

LIKE PLANES FROM DISTANCE

VALENTINE, Neb. (AP) — Chief Kills-a-Horse and other Sioux braves on the Pine Ridge reservation are having their homes "air-mapped" by the soil conservation bureau of the department of agriculture.

The Indians are interested in the equipment which allows the pilots to take pictures from altitudes of 24,000 feet, but none of them have expressed a desire to go aloft.

"See plenty from ground," one chief commented.

The smoke clouds of London reduce the recorded sunshine of that city about 37 per cent for the entire year.

Music Drive Progressing

Prospects of completing goal of South Plains Civic Music association were brightened Wednesday afternoon when a mid-week checkup of the second annual membership drive disclosed more than 200 persons had become members.

Prospects for a large membership look twice as good as they did last year after the mid-week check-up, the Rev. W. R. Vivrett, president, announced.

Exact Number Unavailable

The exact number of new memberships was not available yesterday because all the captains in the drive had not reported. Several captains, Rev. Mr. Vivrett said, turned in more than their quotas of new members and all that were contacted turned in more than one new membership.

Mrs. Elisabeth Doan, national CMA representative who is helping with the drive, expressed enthusiasm over progress so far. She said all the workers seem enthusiastic and 200 members this early in the drive is indicative of a successful year.

Representative Lubbock citizens who are helping with the drive are speaking daily at 5:25-5:30 p. m. over radio station KFYO, explaining the CMA and the membership drive which closes Saturday. Rev. Mr. Vivrett will speak today.

Headquarters for the association this week are room 301 of the Hilton hotel. The telephone number is 3620.

Blindfold Stunt Driver To Send Machine Over Big Spring To Lubbock Highway

Frank L. Binda, 45, blindfold stunt driver, will attempt to drive blindfolded from Big Spring to Lubbock Saturday afternoon, leaving there at 1 o'clock and arriving here two and one-half hours later, according to announcement here Wednesday.

His eyes will be covered with 17 folds of black cloth and a leather hood will be fixed over his head, the announcement continued. The drive was described as the longest of its kind ever undertaken.

He will arrive at Sanders Tire company at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon and go from there to Lubbock Auto company at 3:45 o'clock and drive a Ford V-8 into the display room which is just wide enough to admit a car; he will reach the Guy McAfee Insurance company at 4:15; and then go to Stephens at 4:30, enter the store and put on a suit and go up on top of the building before removing the blindfold.

Blindfolded, he has piloted airplanes in nearly all of the western states and has landed planes. On March 26, 1936, he drove 128 hours when locked to the steering wheel of an automobile in Tucson, Ariz.

Already he has made 680 drives without an accident, "without even marring a fender," he said. He has driven in more than 40 countries in Europe, South America, Central America, and North America. Saturday's drive will be his longest.

A delicacy made of the meat of bats is greatly enjoyed by Polynesian islanders.

Large Enrollment Is Being Expected At Roosevelt

From 375 to 400 students are expected to enroll Monday when Roosevelt Rural High and Grammar schools are opened, said Supt. M. L. Kelly.

All grades will be sent to classes in the $65,000 high school building. The district recently favored pulling down of grammar school buildings at Acuff, McClung and Canyon communities so that a central grammar school structure could be erected of materials salvaged and placed on the Roosevelt campus.

Plans for beginning construction have been delayed and no announcement of when the building will be completed had been made. A $9,000 bond issue had been subscribed by the district.

Roy Boyd will be principal of the high school, and will teach science and history; Mrs. Dick Green will teach English and public speaking; A. J. Holtkort typing and history; Roy Monk vocational agriculture, and Mrs. U. A. Randolph home economics.

In the Grammar grades, Homer Harrison will be principal and, with Melvin O. Sisk and a teacher to be supplied, will direct departmental work in the fifth, sixth and seventh grades; Miss Ardelle Wicker will teach the fourth, Miss Florence Stark the third, Miss Goldie Potts the second, and Mrs. Boyd the first grade.

Here's Why FIRESTONE STANDARD TIRES GIVE YOU MORE FOR YOUR MONEY

DON'T take chances on your Labor Day trip. Protect yourself and family by equipping your car with a set of new first-quality Firestone Standard Tires. Firestone builds extra quality and extra safety into these tires and sells them at lower prices because Firestone controls rubber and cotton supplies at their sources, manufactures with greater efficiency and distributes at lower cost.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST BLOWOUTS—eight extra pounds of rubber are added to every 100 pounds of cord because every fiber of every cord in every ply is saturated with liquid rubber by the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping Process. This counteracts the internal friction and heat that ordinarily cause blowouts.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST PUNCTURES—because there are two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords under the tread.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST SKIDDING—because the tread is scientifically designed.

YOU GET LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE—because of the extra-tough, long-wearing tread.

You need all of these features to make your car tire-safe on your Labor Day trip. Firestone gives them to you at lower cost. Join the Firestone SAVE A LIFE Campaign today by equipping your car with a set of new Firestone Standard Tires—today's top tire value.

DON'T RISK YOUR LIFE ON SMOOTH WORN TIRES!

DO YOU KNOW

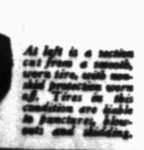

THAT last year highway accidents cost the lives of more than 36,000 men, women and children?

THAT a million more were injured?

THAT more than 40,000 of these deaths and injuries were caused directly by punctures, blowouts and skidding due to smooth, worn, unsafe tires?

At right is section cut from a new Firestone Tire. Note the thick, non-skid protection against skidding, blowouts and punctures. Come in and see by actual demonstration.

At left is a section cut from a smooth, worn tire, with non-skid protection worn off. Tires in this condition are liable to punctures, blowouts and skidding.

Mental Trail To Breakdowns Mapped By Study Of Pigs

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 2. — The mental trail to nervous breakdowns, mapped by study of the world's first two nervous pigs, was described to the American Psychological association here today.

Both pigs are on an experimental farm at Cornell university. One of them, Achilles, had a nervous breakdown, the first in a pig, which was announced last May. The mental breakdown of a second pig was announced today by Dr. Quin F. Curtis of the Cornell physiology department.

Follow Same Pattern

In becoming nervous both pigs followed the same "pattern." They were so closely parallel to human reactions as to promise a useful key to the intricate "map" by which human minds go wrong.

The pigs caught the "heebie jeebies" solely by trying to solve mental problems that were just a bit beyond their mental capacities.

In a comfortable "sty," in a laboratory, they learned to obtain meals by lifting the lid of a box with their noses. This was not their only food, but a luxury. There was an apple in the box.

Sometimes it wasn't there. The pigs learned that certain tones of a signal meant "apple" and others "no apple." They learned that on some days there was an apple, and others none. These things the pig learned readily as separate items.

Troubles Begin

Their troubles began when the "apple" and "no apple" signals were given in more and more irregular sequence.

The first mental signs were agitation, shown by false motions. No mentally sound pig hesitates when starting after food.

The second stage of the nervous breakdown was a period of delayed decisions.

The last stage was curiously human. The pigs became "inert." They pretended to sleep.

In this nervous breakdown state the pigs ceased to be able to learn.

Baby Bride And Groom . . 13 And 17

Looking forward to a factory job and a happy wedded life, Indiana's baby bride and groom "dared" anyone to break up their marriage as they were pictured, above, in Kokomo after their release from six hours in jail. Norman Cohee, 17, and his bride, Frieda, 13, eloped, gave their ages as 21 and 18, were married and received the blessing of Cohee's parents. Frieda's stepfather had them jailed, but her mother failed to file charges.

Soft Corns ..Callouses

No sensible person will continue to suffer from those intense throbbing foot pains when Moone's Emerald Oil is so readily obtainable at John Halsey Drug or any well stocked drug store.

Two or three applications and in 15 minutes most of the pain and soreness has disappeared and as for soft corns and callouses a few applications each night at bedtime will soon loosen them up so they peel off easily—no cutting.

No matter how discouraged you are if you have not yet tried Moone's Emerald Oil then you have something to learn.

Moone's Emerald Oil is guaranteed to give you full satisfaction or money back. Adv.

Patrolman Wants To Be Cop But Fate Makes Him Doctor

NEW YORK, Sept. 2. (AP)—Patrolman Louis Cicardo, 32, joined the force to be a cop, but fate seems to want him to be an obstetrician. He delivered an eight-pound boy today, his second such emergency job in five years.

Cicardo rang his box perfunctorily this morning and they told him to go to the home of Mrs. Anna Malone at 1516 Broadway, that a woman was sick there.

It was Mrs. Malone, and the stork was near with the sixth little Malone. Her husband, a plumber, was away plumbing.

Cicardo put in an emergency call and rolled up his sleeves. He had the latest Malone breathing lustily by the time a hospital surgeon arrived.

Abilene Plans Big Festival

ABILENE, Sept. 2, (Special) — Cities and towns of West Texas have been asked to send duchesses to participate in the coronation of King Cotton and the Texas Cotton Queen at the Texas Cotton Festival, scheduled here October 5 and 6 during the West Texas Free Fair.

To compose the Texas Cotton Festival court along with the two hostess princesses, Eloise Ely, daughter of Judge and Mrs. W. R. Ely, and Marjorie Munger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Munger, the duchesses will take part and become guests of honor in a round of social events, climaxed by the coronation of the Texas Cotton Queen and King Cotton. Names of the king and queen will be disclosed on the day of the coronation.

Ball To Be Held

In honor of visiting duchesses, the Texas Cotton Festival Ball is to be held in one of the downtown ballrooms on the night preceding the coronation. The coronation grand ball will be the finale to Texas Cotton Festival on coronation night.

The Texas Cotton Festival, as a part of the West Texas Free Fair, is to be one of the most elaborate affairs of its kind ever to be held in West Texas, and the only one of its kind attributed to cotton.

Staged on setting 653 feet in length with a gorgeous palatial background, the coronation will be held along with "Arabian Nights," a colossal pageant with a cast of 400 people.

In charge of the coronation are Howard McMahon and Mrs. Ernest Grissom.

ADDS INCUBATOR

FLOYDADA, (Special) — C. B. Carmack, owner of the Carmack hatchery, announces purchase of a 32,000 egg capacity electric incubator. It replaces two smaller machines.

EXPECT SINGING CROWD

PLAINVIEW, (Special) — Hale county's semi-annual Plateau singing convention will be held in Plainview the first Sunday in September. It will be an all-day affair, starting at 9 a. m. in city auditorium.

An Irishman Named Levy . .

Pfwhat's in a name, anyhoo, sez Jimmie Murphy to hisself, the ither day in Inwood, N. J. An' no sooner be the words out of his mouth, than begorra' he asks the judge to change his name to Levy, by which he had been known since he was a broth of a boy and his widowed mother married into the Levy family. There's the spalpeen, himself, with his colleen, Eleanor Meyer, of German descent.

Texas Couple Makes Business Of Breaking Up Homes

HOUSTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—Mrs. F. E. Stephenson is a professional home wrecker. Her husband helps her. It's strictly business.

Mrs. Stephenson took a course in architecture and joined her husband in the wrecking business shortly after their marriage 29 years ago.

"I take care of the sales, do all the drafting and drawing and help with the estimates," Mrs. Stephenson says. "Mr. Stephenson gives all the orders because men don't like being bossed by a woman."

In the Texas Panhandle, 1,738,762 acres of land were treated in the spring of 1936 for prevention of wind erosion.

SLEEPING SICKNESS

HALE CENTER, (Special)—W. Ferguson, local veterinarian, reports 47 cases of sleeping sickness among livestock of the territory. There were but 11 deaths, he added.

In cities, snow is covered with a layer of dirt and soot which darkens its surface and makes it melt faster, because a dark surface absorbs more heat.

Man Regains Health With Caninobile

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 2 (AP)—Karl Lindauer saved his life with his "caninobile," a dog-drawn home on wheels.

When physicians in Asheville, N. C., in 1931 gave him only a year to live, Lindauer decided to seek health on the highways of the southwest.

He set out in a coaster-type wagon pulled by two dogs. Now he has a four-wheeled, rubber-tired vehicle with 20 dogs. Six of them draw the "caninobile" while the others ride behind, awaiting their turn to be hitched.

For the last five years Lindauer has traveled in the national forests of Arizona and New Mexico. Today at 45, he is tanned and robust. He wouldn't trade his quaint vehicle for the most luxurious automobile trailer.

"We travel as much as 18 miles a day," he says. "It isn't as fast as other people go, but maybe I'll live longer than a lot of them."

STARTS NEW HOME

FLOYDADA, (Special) — S. J. Latta has begun construction of a brick veneer residence on highway 28 east of Floydada. L. B. Maxey is the contractor. The home will be thoroughly modern in every way.

Cheese consumption by the Dutch amounts to 15.4 pounds per capita annually.

Black Sees Constitution Flexible Enough To Fit 20th Century

Justice Tries To Prove Idea

BY MORGAN M. BEATTY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 2—Like a lot of other folks, Hugo Black has a pet idea.

He thinks old Dame Democracy can go modern without losing her place in the hearts of the American people.

But unlike most of us, Hugo Black doesn't stop with the idea. He has tried to prove he's right.

Whether he has succeeded is a matter of opinion. But at least he has fought to keep old Lady Democracy "in style," and consequently he has won a place in the United States Supreme Court.

He Cites An Example

About that idea:

Senator Black believes the language of the constitution is sound enough and broad enough to fit modern economic conditions, without tampering. In his opinion, the whole thing is a matter of interpretation by the Supreme Court.

His favorite example is interstate commerce, that undefined something which the constitution says the congress shall regulate.

"When our country was young there was very little commerce among the states," explains the champion of advanced labor legislation.

Roads Were Bad

"In fact, the roads were so bad interstate commerce on a large scale was impossible, but now some statisticians contend 90 per cent of our commerce is interstate.

"Anybody can see that much of our trade is carried on nationally without regard for state lines; so why should we not state the thing in so many words, and proceed to have congress regulate it?

"All we have to do is face the fact. And, mind you, the Supreme Court will face that fact!"

Those words were spoken quietly in the senator's office a few months before the Supreme Court did just the thing he said it was going to do. It upheld the Wagner labor law, and broadened its view of interstate commerce to do so.

But don't get the idea that Hugo Black is going to the Supreme Court and trample down the rights of the states and try to create an ogre of a central government. No such thing, if he carries out that pet idea.

Easy On Small Towns

He believes rural and small town America should have the right to determine how and when it shall keep up with the commercial parade along the national arteries.

The corner grocery and the barber shop in Dothan, Ala., for instance, should yield only to local public opinion when it comes to wages and hours.

Consequently, all the liberal labor legislation sponsored by the Alabama leader has avoided laying a heavy hand on small town America. He says that's true of the 30-hour week bill he failed to get through the senate for five years.

Likewise he thinks the wage and hour law he succeeded in getting through the senate this year, will not abruptly alter the lives and business of millions of Americans who love their small town homes.

All of this philosophy has not been easy to explain to the voters who sent Black to the senate.

In Alabama it is easier to talk about the Civil war and local issues than it is to demand the 30-hour week for the men who make steel in the furnaces of Birmingham.

Has Way About Him

But this fellow Black has a way about him.

You can't pyramid $1.20 to a seat in the United States senate without having something on the ball, and $1.20 is all young Black had when he migrated from Clay county to Birmingham just after the turn of the century.

But he loves the law and people. That spelled success for the dark-eyed lawyer, now 51, who knows when to wear a twinkle in his eye and when to lash out like a vicious prosecutor.

His personality was never more effervescent and his tenacity never more apparent than when he rode the wage and hour bill through the senate hearings this summer.

Works While He Poses

The Alabama senator was completely lost in his task. He seldom stopped to eat at meal time, but constantly whipped away at the well-nigh impossible task.

One day a photographer asked him to pose and Black consented, but went on working.

"Your hair—" began the photographer, proffering a comb.

"Oh, yes," rejoined the nearly bald Black. "My wife's been telling me to get a hair-cut for a week."

And then with that twinkling eye, and puckering dimple that distinguishes the Alabaman in the senate:

"Just goes to show a man ought to do what his wife tells him to."

But Hugo Black was at work two minutes later on wages and hours.

In 1935 the farmer received 13 cents of the consumer's dollar spent for bread, according to a Federal Trade Commission report.

Ha, Ha, Ha! He's Lion In His Teeth!

It looks like a grin—but maybe Jimmy, London zoo cub, is hiding a mighty sore feeling just the same, on account of being shut up. Until just the other day, he was a pet, wandering around loose in company of the zoo's assistant curator. But suddenly Jimmy changed into a real lion, not just a roly-poly cub. At this rapid reversion to type, they put him in a cage.

RAINS HELP CROPS

HALE CENTER, (Special)—Heavy rains, that fell slowly here recently, insured feed and cotton crops. N. M. Akerson, who keeps the rain records, said 2.34 inches fell. Total for the year is 19.18 inches.

200 ARE ENROLLED

MORTON, (Special)—With approximately 200 high school students enrolled, the 1937-8 term of the Morton schools got under way Thursday, J. B. Nicewarmer, superintendent, said. More will be enrolled later.

FLINCHED WITH STOMACH PAINS

Gas And Bloat Caused Him Misery; But Now Van-Tage Has Relieved Him.

"I never would have believed there was such a medicine!" People over this Entire Section are saying that about Van-Tage, the Amazing New Medicine which is being sold in large quantities here in Lubbock. Recently, Mr. Chas. Green, of 415 21st St., Denver, Colo., endorsed it:

MR. GREEN

"For the past year I had been suffering with a gassy, upset stomach," said Mr. Green. "My food would lay in my stomach in lumps, and I just had to FLINCH with awful pain. I had cramps so bad it felt like my stomach was being tied up into regular knots, and my bowels were constipated. I was about as sick and discouraged as a man can be. I read about Van-Tage and decided to try this medicine and it helped me RIGHT FROM THE START. It acted on my upset stomach and cleared out so much of that awful gas and bloat that my digestion started getting better almost at once, and now I don't have those awful pains. It gave my bowels such a fine cleansing that they are getting more regular every day. I am a man of 70 years, and I'll keep on praising Van-Tage if I live to be a hundred!"

VAN-TAGE helps clear away poisonous wastes from the system in several ways at once! It helps cleanse bowels, assists Nature to flush excess impurity from kidneys and brings forth gas and bloat from stomach. So much Van-Tage is sold that its price is very reasonable, so get it—TODAY—at the Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway. Adv.

THE GOLFING TRAIL leads to Clovis this week-end, for the fourth annual New Mexico and West Texas Open tournament. And there, me hearties, is where you'll have a good time, play on a nice course and be treated royally.

Official qualifying day is Saturday, but the course is open today and tomorrow for practice or qualifying. If you seek the medal award, however, wait until Saturday.

First and second rounds will be played Sunday, semi-finals and finals Monday. It's a fast three-day tournament, and due to be a dandy.

Clovis has installed grass greens—bent grass, if you please—and it was a nifty layout when they were playing on cottonseed hulls. They have some of the deepest traps on that course we ever saw or tried to get out of, and they tell us they're still there.

There'll be sixteen men to a flight, and prizes will be awarded winners and runners up of each flight and to consolation winners. Winner of each flight will receive "a good suit of clothes, and other prizes will be of similar value" we are informed by his nibs, Shorty Hornbuckle. A special prize will be given to the person who sets a new course record, another for the first hole in one. There's a good chance for a medalist to do himself some good. If he can set a new record while qualifying, score an ace and win the title, he'll come away quite prosperous.

Quite a number of local golfers plan to make the tournament. Lubbock and Clovis enjoy a warm friendship, athletically, commercially and socially, and especially are the golf relations most cordial. You'll find Clovis golfers in virtually every tournament Lubbock puts on; you'll find them here for team and inter-club matches, male and female. And you'll find Lubbock golfers at Clovis for team matches and tournaments.

There should be a good delegation of local golfers at Clovis over the week-end. Several of the Country club boys have made their plans, and Meadowbrook probably will be well represented.

Players from here will enjoy playing on the new bent grass greens. Well, maybe they won't enjoy it, or the results thereof, but they'll get something different in the way of golf thrills.

Old Shorty Hornbuckle, who gave up the Lubbock Country club invitation championship last week, is general chairman of the Clovis tournament. He asks us to say to the local folks that there'll be plenty of entertainment as well as golf.

Other Clovis men helping put the tournament over are Arno Rodes, Croft Goodman, Bob Skaggs, Gus Campbell, Jim Gamewell, Hugh Skiles, R. C. Pierce, E. Philpott, E. B. Neff, Marvin Baker, Bud Wood, Jim Foley, Dan McKinney, Frank George, Joe Billingsley, Dick Numa, Tom Brown, Dr. C. E. Worrell and G. A. Campbell.

There's also a ladies committee which will attend the needs and wants of the visiting femmes. This is composed of Mesdames Worrell, Skiles, Foley, McKinney, Skaggs, Pierce, L. J. Michelet, Brown, Goodman and W. Z. Zerwer.

It'll be the first big tournament since the new grass greens course was opened. Shall we go?

SHORT, SHORT STORIES: The boys were talking about the best way to pitch to Ducky Medwick, slugging Cardinal outfielder. . . . "What do you do, Gabby?" one asked Catcher Hartnett of the Cubs . . . . "Well," said Gabby, a broad grin crinkling his red face. "I just give the pitcher the signal to pitch the ball and then I rush over to back up third base for the throw from the outfield." . . .

Ted Broadribb, manager of Tommy Farr, was telling a New York reporter how Farr would beat Joe Louis. . . "E'll cuff 'is ears off," said Broadribb. "'E's the best heavyweight since Jack Johnson" . . . The reporter asked with what Farr expected to beat Louis. . . . "With anticipation," Ted replied. "I've never seen a heavyweight who could so quickly discern what the other bloke intended to do." . . . The reporter informed Broadribb that "Louis was one of the deadliest straightaway punchers I ever saw." . . . "And so what is Louis going to swat?" countered Broadribb. "Tommy's very hard-headed. In fact, his 'ead is as 'ard as the names of some of those Wales towns are for you to pronounce—like Llanrhystyn, or Pontypridd ossayd d a a i s sya." . . . Looks like Broadribb was just about right. . . .

The Montana fish and game commission inserts the following classified ad: Wanted: Hunters to bag 1,000 elk" . . . it seems that continued drouth has seriously damaged the natural forage on which the 3,000 elk of the South Fork herd browse in winter. . . . so the commission wants hunters to reduce the number by a third so the rest will have a happier winter. . . .

Fall Training For Juniors All Set

The football bug will bite the Lubbock Junior High school Cowboys immediately now that the Westerners have come home from training camp.

Coach Mule Davis has issued the call for Cowboy gridsters, has announced that fall training will get underway next Monday.

All seventh and eighth grade junior high school students who play football or who want to try out for the club are ordered to report at the junior high dressing rooms at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, which is tomorrow. At that time equipment will be issued, uniforms and shoes will be fitted, and the lads turned loose again until Monday afternoon when they meet for the first workout.

Sixth grade candidates will wait until Monday afternoon to apply for suits, shoes, headgears, etc. Coach Davis said, and will start workouts the same day.

Coach Davis expects a large turnout of potential all-Americans, and looks forward to one of the most successful Cowboy seasons in several years.

Three-Day Marathon Started In National Skeet Shoot

DETROIT, Sept. 2 (AP) — Skeet shooters started the three day 250 target all-gauge marathon, concluding event of the third national championships, today at the Blue Rock gun club.

The defending champion is 15-year-old Richard Shaughnessy, of Dedham, Mass.

Frank R. Kelly, of West Orange, N. J., won the 20 gauge championship yesterday, breaking 25 straight in a shootoff.

The woman's championship was also decided by a shootoff. Miss Viola Siedhoff, 30 year old Wichita, Kas. gunner, breaking 24 out of 25 targets.

Seven marksmen tied at 98 in the 20 gauge event.

Texans Asking Shot At Title By Schmeling

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Sept. 2. — Fight Czar Mike Jacobs can start ducking . . . The fans are after him . . . Indignant Longview citizens, from millionaire oil operators down to shine boys, have their names on a petition ready for forwarding to Jacobs, demanding "in the name of fair play" that he give Herr Maxie Schmeling a crack at Shufflin' Joe Louis . . . Longview has urged other sections of the nation to follow suit, . . . Longview adds, as an afterthought, that Schmeling will be invited to the East Texas oil fields to do his training.

Grid fans at Abilene won't know which way to turn this fall . . . Fourteen college and five high school games have been booked for the 12-week season . . . They have Hardin-Simmons, Abilene Christian and McMurry colleges and the Abilene high schoolers to follow . . . Texas Aggie followers are rallying around to cook up a big excursion trip to New York to watch the Cadets open against Chick Meehan's Manhattans on Oct. 2.

Travel 9,000 Miles

Centenary's Gents will travel 9,000 miles this fall in meeting teams of six athletic conferences . . . Its doubtful whether Miss Betty Jameson, San Antonio schoolgirl holder of the Trans-Mississippi golf title, will enter the Women's National . . . Getting off to a start in her freshman year at the University of Texas may be more important . . . However, Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas is expected to carry Texas' banner into the meet.

Things have gotten down to the point on the Dallas ball club where a local sports writer will play first base against Beaumont's Exporters Friday night . . . He wants to do one of those "how it feels, etc." stories . . . Tickets are going fast for the Chicago Bear-College All Star game at Dallas Sept. 6 . . . Officials boldly predict a 30,000 to 40,000 mob.

Fort Worth fans have already started a pennant fund, more than $3,000 being subscribed to date . . . Nothing like that has happened there in a decade . . . Three cities will vie for the golfers in Labor day holiday tourneys . . . Austin, Tyler and Harlingen all have fancy fields entered.

Indians Bow Before Buffs Of Houston

(By The Associated Press)

The high-flying Oklahoma City Indians, Texas league leaders by a wide margin, last night bowed to the second-to-last Houston Buffs, 9-7, in the first game of a double-header but won the shortened finals, 2-0.

The loss of one tilt, while the second-place Fort Worth club defeated Beaumont, 4-3, forced the Oklahoma team to postpone cinching the regular season championship.

The San Antonio Missions, who recently slid from second to fourth place, dropped another to the bottom-rung Dallas Steers, 6-2.

Galveston's tussle with Tulsa was cancelled because of rain.

Headlee Bailey Is Levelland Champ

LEVELLAND, Sept. 2—Headlee Bailey slapped the local dopesters' proverbial cart in the midsection Tuesday afternoon by downing County Judge Alvin Allison, the favorite, in the finals of the Levelland city golf tournament. Headlee won 2 up and 1 to go.

Calvin Talley won a close match with J. G. Stacy 2 up and 1 to go, to grab first honors in the second flight.

Bailey advanced to the championship finals by downing L. L. Trott, Baptist minister, while Allison whipped Ed Tipps in his semi-final match.

Bill Allen, Dallas, temporarily a resident of Levelland, has challenged King Bailey to a match. Bailey has accepted and will defend his crown this week against the former Dallas hot shot.

F. A. Benbow, tournament director, said that 32 golfers played through the qualifying rounds.

Pro Champions Are Defeated By Collegians

BY WILLIAM WEEKES
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Sept. 2—Samuel Adrian Baugh—"Slingin' Sam" of Texas Christian university—is all the football player anybody ever said he was, as the professional champion Green Bay Packers will arise en masse to attest.

The Packers had heard about Baugh, but they had to wait until last night at Soldier field, with a thrilled throng of 85,560 fans looking on to get it first hand. They became the first professional team to take a beating from an all star college aggregation, and it was Baugh who was the number one hero of the collegians' 6 to 0 triumph.

Outshines Pro Rival

The former Texas Christian ace was expected to give Green Bay's Arnie Herber quite a battle at passing, but he wound up by outshining his professional rival at throwing the football when the blue chips were down, and did a lot of other things besides.

Early in the first period, Baugh, director of the battle plan laid out by Coach Charles E. (Gus) Dorais of the University of Detroit, head of the all star board of strategy, started the one successful thrust of the night, by a quick kick over the Packer goal line. The return boot by Clarke Hinkle, the Packers' great fullback, went out of bounds on the collegians' 48-yard line.

Baugh called two running plays then electrified the huge crowd by uncorking the payoff pass of the game, a 20-yard shot to Gaynell Tinsley, Louisiana State's All America end. Tinsley caught the ball 28 yards from the Packer goal, executed a neat change of pace to leave Hank Bruder clawing air, and raced to the touchdown.

Francis Misses Goal

Sam Francis, Nebraska's All America fullback failed on the try for the extra point, but it was never missed as the all stars, with Baugh one of the main characters, played an almost airtight defensive game the rest of the way.

The professional champions tried everything in their bag of tricks to fight their way back to victory. With Herber firing passes and George Bauer and Joe Laws running with the ball, they outgained the collegians in first downs, 17 to 8, and in total yardage, 343 to 185, but their best was a rousing 73 yard drive that fell three yards short of a touchdown in the second period.

A 20-yard pass by Herber to his famous battery mate, Don Hutson who ran another 20 yards before he was brought down, took the ball to the all star 25 yard line. The one big Packer opportunity was snuffed out, however, when John Drake of Purdue, nailed Hutson who had snagged Herber's fourth down pass on the three yard line.

Baugh intercepted one of Herber's long shots in the third period and ran it back 22 yards and out of danger. He snatched another in the final session, and on and off, turned in a brilliant exhibition of punting and tackling. Herber was forced out of action in the third quarter by a badly wrenched right shoulder.

In spite of his brilliance on the gridiron, no team in the pro league will have the use of Baugh's remarkable talents. Instead of playing the game for dough, he has signed a contract with the St. Louis Cardinals as an infielder, and will confine his football to coaching.

Memphis Bill Terry To Get Boost In Salary

NEW YORK, Sept. 2. (AP)—Win or lose in his current bid to pilot the New York Giants to their third National league pennant in five seasons Memphis Bill Terry will be baseball's highest-paid manager, in 1938.

He will be, that is, unless his neighboring rival, Joe McCarthy of the world champion Yankees, gets his stipend substantially increased as a reward for present and pending accomplishments.

McCarthy now is getting $35,000 a year to Terry's $27,500 but under the terms of a new five-year contract, effective next season, the pilot of the Giants will, it is believed, be paid $40,000 annually.

Topped By Two Others

The only managerial salaries believed to surmount it were those paid to Connie Mack of the Athletics and Terry's predecessor, John J. McGraw, at the height of boom times. Tops for a player was Babe Ruth's $80,000.

Under his new contract, which displaces a five-year document that had one more year to run, Terry will become general manager of the Giants besides continuing to direct the club on the field.

The formal announcement didn't say so but on the new club stationery it's "William H. Terry, general manager" and there's no doubt Terry is taking full charge of operations including the rapidly-expanding "farm" system of the Giants. His reported $40,000 salary includes a substantial amount, at least $5,000 per year, for superintending the minor league acreage.

Jacksonville Boasts Of 2-0 Lead Over Henderson Club

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 2. (AP)—Jacksonville boasted a 2-0 advantage over the Henderson Oilers and the Marshall Tigers were one game up on the Tyler Trojans in the initial round of the East Texas league playoffs today.

With Red Lynn, loop-leading hurler, limiting the Oilers to six hits, the Jacks won their second straight from Henderson by a score of 8-4 last night.

Marshall blanked the Trojans, 6-0, taking the third tilt in their series.

Fans Urged To Hurry To Get Their Tickets

Unless you of local and section football fandom wish to take a chance on just any old kind of a seat for Texas Tech's home games this season, you should hurry down to the downtown agency and reserve yourself a choice location or two.

Bo Williams, graduate manager of athletics in charge of ticket sales, said last night that approximately five hundred seats had been sold or reserved, and that very soon it will be difficult for persons to purchase two or more seats together in a suitable location. Fans desiring to buy blocs of seats "on the fifty-yard line," are urged to come by the Hilton lobby box office immediately.

The book or tickets for Tech's six home games are selling at $7.50 each for grandstand reservations, $8.50 for box seats, representing a saving of approximately 25 per cent.

Williams announced another set of tickets about to go on sale. They are reserved seat tickets for the Texas Tech-University of Texas game, second on the schedule, to be played at Austin Sept. 25. Approximately 1,000 tickets have been sent here, Williams said. They will sell at $1.65 each.

Williams said it was highly probable that a special train would carry fans from Lubbock to Austin for the contest.

Terry's Jints Nose Ahead Of Chicago

BY BILL BONI
Associated Press Sports Writer

The National league inter-sectional series that were supposed to provide so much of the answer to the still-present question, "who's going to cop the pennant?" end today.

But as far as any decisive settlement of the issue is concerned, everything is as clear as this morning's coffee grounds.

Giants Back On Top

The Giants, back on top by those same two percentage points that separated them from the Cubs on Tuesday night, planned to send Harry Gumbert against the Cardinals in the final engagement of their series that stands deadlocked at one-all as the result of the Terrymen's 7-2 win yesterday.

The Cubs, drubbed by the Dodgers in the second encounter of their three-game set, 6-4, pinned their hopes on Bill Lee in their season's farewell-barring appearance in the World series—to the east.

If anything has been decided during this last week, it is that the Giants are stronger at home than the Cubs are on the road. But this was evident before all the fuss and feathers started flying—and besides, the positions will be reversed when the Giants invade the west for the last time twelve days from now.

It's Nip-And-Tuck

Since the Chicagoans came east on a four-game lead, they have dropped a doubleheader to the current pace-setters and split two games each with the Bees, Phils and Dodgers. The Giants, during that time, won two from the Cubs, three out of four from Pittsburgh, two straight from the Reds and split two with the Cards.

This morning, the figures read:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
New York	72	47	.605
Chicago	73	48	.603

The Giants profited yesterday from another neat pitching job by Hal Schumacher and Mel Ott's 29th homer that put him one up on Ducky Medwick to celebrate the announcement of Boss Bill Terry's new five-year contract.

The two top teams have outdistanced pursuit.

Others Far Behind

That drubbing by the Giants dropped the Cards 7 1-2 games off the pace, while the once-threatening Pirates, losing their seventh straight to the Phils by 5-3, now are eleven games behind.

That's the same margin that continues to split the American league-leading Yanks from the Tigers.

Bishop Taking Church Along

CINCINNATI, Sept. 2. (AP) — The Episcopal church's youngest bishop, who was wounded twice during the World War, is planning to cast aside some of the dignity of his office as head of the Southern Diocese of Ohio and "take the church to the people" — in a trailer—next month.

The Rt. Rev. Henry Wise Hobson, 46, bishop of the diocese, who is supervising finishing touches on the trailer-cathedral, says it will be completed early in September.

Bishop Hobson but insists his own diocese will be toured first.

Will Replace Cathedral

He has received invitations from bishops in Wisconsin, New Hampshire and Texas to take the mobile cathedral to those dioceses.

Construction of the trailer was delayed nearly two months by strikes in the automobile and steel industries. The shell was built at Detroit and the frame-work, including altar, folding pews, cabinets and other equipment is being assembled at Cincinnati. An electric organ will be a part of the equipment.

The trailer, which will be called St. Paul's Wayside Cathedral, will replace St. Paul's Cathedral in downtown Cincinnati, which was razed because it was deteriorating and its members were served by other downtown churches.

"This was more practicable," said Bishop Hobson, "than reconstruction of the building or building another cathedral because a trailer can be bought and maintained for less than the cost of repairs and maintenance.

Looks 50 Years Ahead

"I am convinced that at this particular time the majority of our parishes and missions need help from the diocese which cannot be given by concentrating the diocesan strength in an urban center.

"If someone came to me today with the offer—'Here's a million—or five million—dollars to build a cathedral,' I wouldn't know where to build it.

"A cathedral built in Cincinnati, or any other city of the diocese might be entirely in the wrong location 50 years hence."

The church has 23,000 members in the diocese which extends as far north as Columbus and Springfield, and includes 78 parishes and missions.

Bishop Hobson was a major during the World war, commanding the third battalion of the 356th Infantry at St. Mihiel where he was wounded. He later was gassed at Thiacourt. For gallantry at St. Mihiel he was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross.

He was graduated from Yale, where he was manager of the crew.

Will Carry Exhibits

The trailer-church is 22 feet long and seven and a half feet high. The upper half of the rear forms a canopy when opened. The lower half divides to each side when the altar is used for outdoor service.

The trailer will seat 20 persons but general gatherings will be in the parish churches or outdoors.

It will carry exhibits from eight church departments—missions, religious education, social service, publicity, field, evangelism, ecclesiastical and music.

At least four persons will accompany the traveling cathedral, including a minister, an adviser in religious education, a representative of the woman's auxiliary and a member of the laymen's league.

Each stop, Bishop Hobson said, would depend on the size and need of the community—from an overnight stay to a week or ten days.

FOR THIRSTY LAWNS

SPALDING, Neb. (AP)—The village board thought something ought to be done about the condition of lawns and gardens in this town. So the board voted to allow each customer 10,000 gallons of water free above the minimum charge during the hot summer.

Play In National Tournament At Forest Hills Started

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 2. (AP)—The best batch of women tennis players to grace the West Side courts in a coon's age start batting the ball around today in the national championships. With four high-ranking world stars fighting it out, the women's division is attracting more speculation than the men's.

Don Budge is virtually a cinch to keep his singles crown. The only player given an outside chance of beating the slugging redhead is Baron Gottfried Von Cramm, German ace.

But you can't chart the girls like that. Alice Marble, the defending champ, is up against three strong rivals, the unpronounceable Pole, Jadwiga Jedrzejowska; the scampering little Chilean, Anita Lizana; and, of course, Helen Jacobs.

Rated on her form in England this season, Jadwiga rates a very slight favorite to take the American crown back to her dear Poland.

Denny Galehouse of the Indians stopped the Ruppert riot squad with seven hits, 4-2, but at the same time the Tigers were bowing 8-2, to some very fine elbowing by Wes Ferrell and hard hitting by the other Senators.

In the National league the Bees and Reds swapped good pitching, Paul Derringer checking Boston, 2-1, on six hits, and Lou Fette returning the compliment for the Bees, 4-1, on eight.

Rain stopped the Red Sox-White Sox doubleheader, but not before Lefty Grove had won a six-inning, 2-0, shutout. The Athletics snaked out of the cellar and dropped the Browns in by trimming them, 5-2.

Sailor Tex Watkins Winner On Foul Over Lipscomb

Sailor Tex Watkins came back home last night, looking as tough as ever but failing to live up to his own advertising as the "toughest man in the world."

The wiry old sailorman took a beating, but he also took a victory when Referee Ray Clements discovered two metal objects in the shoe of Buck Lipscomb and awarded the third and last fall to the Garza county scrapper.

In the supporting card John Nemanic won from Tex Hager in 18 minutes. Gus Johnson and Frank Wolff fought to a draw in the semi-final.

First Round Pairings Given In Western Amateur Play

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 2. (AP) — First round pairings in the Western Amateur golf championship today included:

Paul Leslie, Joplin, Mo., defending champion, vs 64th player to qualify in play-off (154).

William Holt, jr., Syracuse, N. Y. 150, vs Billie Bob Coffey, Fort Worth, Tex., 150.

Jack Munger, Dallas, 146, vs Richard Ashley, Kenosha, Wis. 153.

Fred Haas, jr., New Orleans 144 vs Walter Davidson, Riverside Calif., 153.

Edwin Kingsley, Magna City Utah, 146, vs Harry Todd, Dallas 152.

Charles Yates, Atlanta, 137, vs Tommy Goodwin, New York, 154.

Don Schumacher, Dallas, 145, vs Rennie Kelly, Los Angeles, 153.

Dave Davis, Tyler, Tex. 146 vs L. M. Groves, Los Angeles, 152.

KNOWS HER SCHEDULES

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—She is a railroad cat and knows her schedules.

She gave birth to four kittens on top of a box car axle housing where no one could reach them.

Then she heard trainmen say they would have to move the car in two days. When the field was clear, she began moving her youngsters, one by one, down the side of the car and into a secluded corner of the repair shop.

Cat, kittens and car moved on schedule.

Semi-Finals In State Junior Tourney Are Slated Today

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 2. (AP) — Thirty-six hole semi-finals faced survivors in the state junior golf tournament here today.

Iverson Martin of Fort Worth, who yesterday defeated the defending champion, Lee Brandt, jr., 3 and 1, tangled with Arthur "Buck" Luce of Austin, a tourney favorite who eliminated John McCook of Georgetown, 1 up.

San Antonio brothers, Billy and Jack Thurmond, fought it out in the other bracket. Billy surprised by defeating Simon Alexander of Corpus Christi, 2 and 1, while Jack dropped Jack Burke, jr., of Houston, 5 and 4 in the quarterfinals.

The first U. S. settlers to reach Texas arrived there on Jan. 1, 1822.

Western Amateur Swings Into Match Play At Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 2. (AP)—The Western Amateur golf championship, pronounced with a decided southern accent in the qualifying play, swung into the opening rounds of match play today.

Pacing the field of 64 survivors were Charles Yates of Atlanta, Ga., who walked off with medalist honors yesterday; and Paul Leslie, Louisiana State, defending champion, who did not have to qualify.

Yates took the tough Los Angeles country club course apart yesterday as he fired a sizzling 67 at the 155 players who finished at dusk last night.

According to estimates, one out of every five persons in the United States owns an automobile.

HUGH "BO" WILLIAMS lord high executioner of the Tech athletic department's business office, hollers "come and git 'em" regarding his season football tickets.

The ducats for both box and grandstand seats are ready and waiting, at a cost of $8.50 and $7.50, respectively, at the cashier's window at Hotel Hilton. They've been on sale a week now and it's "first come, first served."

Mr. Williams, who is affectionately known as "dean", especially to members of the Downtown Coaches association, points out that the season tickets are good for six home games—all of 'em—and a fan saves $5 on a season box seat ticket over what single box admissions would cost, and $3.75 on the grandstand.

The sale will continue until just before the opening of the Tech-Arizona State game here on September 18.

HERE in Lubbock people are weeping and wailing and gnashing their teeth over the scarcity of houses and apartments for rent.

Down in Abilene they're not only weeping, wailing and gnashing their teeth but they're also trying to do something to alleviate the situation.

The chamber of commerce there is backing a drive for the immediate construction of 50 houses, ranging in cost from $2,500 to $3,750. The project will be handled as a combination and builders and supply men, as well as architects, are throwing in on it.

Since weeping, wailing and gnashing of teeth doesn't seem to be getting us anywhere here, we might try the Abilene system.

If it should fail we wouldn't be any worse off than we are!

NOBODY has ever accused The Plainsman of being a fanatic over religion. As a matter of fact, he knows he doesn't pay enough attention to his personal religion but, like a lot of other people, hasn't enough gumption to do anything about it.

But be that as it may, this column resents some of the stunts magazine editors are pulling in order to attract readers. A case in point is a story in this week's Liberty, advertised on the cover page as "What Jesus Would Say to Roosevelt Now". It's written by one "Rev." Charles M. Sheldon, but to our way of thinking he can't be much of a "reverend."

* * *

There's been an epidemic over the last year of magazine articles purporting to show what Jesus would do were He alive today and in a position of civil authority.

With no respects at all to the persons who have been writing those articles and to the editors who have been flamboyantly ballyhooing them, The Plainsman is of the opinion that whenever a human being presumes to say what Jesus would or would not do under any such circumstances, that human being is taking on more responsibility than he has any business with.

At least, he's taking a lot for granted.

* * *

THE Plainsman hasn't read any of the articles purporting to say what Jesus would do under the circumstances which confront the world and the nation today.

Maybe the articles are all right—although we think to read them would be as insulting to the Deity as the writers are in seeking to speak for the Son of Man.

It is our contention, and certainly without any idea of publicly adjusting a halo which we do not have, that whenever a magazine editor or writer seeks to attract circulation by posing as a direct representative of Jesus he's going too far.

After all, as Milton said in his Sonnet on His Blindness:

"God doth not need
Either man's work or his own gifts who best
Bear his mild yoke."

HERE AND THERE: Although he asks that his name be not used a Lubbock man reports that his August business (he's in a builder's supply line) was 10 per cent better than its previous high which came in 1928 . . . Further, in 1928 he had but two competitors and today he has more than a half dozen, most of whom are doing a good business, too . . . A man walked into a New Jersey hospital the other day and reported to doctors that a three-ton truck with a thousand-pound load had run over his face, which plainly showed the print of the tire . . . X-rays disclosed, however, that no serious injury had been done and the man went on about his business . . . The chamber of commerce ought to get out a "Facts About Lubbock" booklet containing figures on the city's growth over the past decade, as brought out by George Dupree's speech at Rotary club yesterday . . . There may be some people who think Lubbock is too big to boost itself, but The Plainsman is not one of those.

Last minute bidding for college football "amateurs" is said to be spirited all over the country . . . He slammed 'em on, was thrown from his car and suffered a broken arm . . . This will be a terrible shock to Dr. Rexford Tugwell, but a representative of the U. S. Resettlement administration got stuck in the mud en route to a meeting in the "Dust Bowl" area of the Panhandle the other night!

A MISSOURI orchard owner crossed a plum tree with an apricot tree and says the fruit is mighty fine . . . You guessed it—he calls it "plumricot" . . . An unknown species of prehistoric beast has been uncovered by an archaeological group in Colorado . . . It lived about 45 million years ago and was about the size of a hippopotamus . . . We had a story in the paper the other day which referred to "the late George Cleveland" . . . Some of Mr. Cleveland's friends say somebody ought to tell him he's "late," because he doesn't know it and is still very happily up and around . . . Arno Dalby says truck drivers have a slang all their own . . . Only 93 more shopping days until Christmas!

CAST OF CHARACTERS

JOY — Heroine, hostess in smart Maine tearoom.

ROGER — Joy's fiance; rising young designer.

ANGELA — Joy's rival in love.

DICK — Wealthy young playboy, Roger's rival in love.

* * *

Yesterday: Joy learns that mysterious things appear to be happening at the summer resort in Maine. This character "Jigger," for instance, proves mysterious.

CHAPTER V

Wednesday: Wonder if there's anything to what Peter told me last night when I tucked him into bed. Thought at the time he was just imagining things. Told him he mustn't make up stories.

"They're not stories, Joy," he insisted sitting up in bed. "I really did find a haunted house in the woods today."

"Nonsense, Peter. There aren't any haunted houses nowadays," I declared.

"Well, there's one, the one I found today. It's way off in the woods. I walked all round it first, for I didn't see anyone around. Then I climbed up on some rocks and looked in at the windows."

"Why, Peter, that wasn't a very nice thing to do . . . what would the people who live in it think?"

"I didn't see anybody . . . least not at first . . . only dishes on the table and guns—"

"Now, Peter, you're making up a fairy story. You're too big for that sort of think. Better go to sleep," I said, and I started towards the door.

"Wait, wait, there was a man," Peter begged "and a dog. I must tell you about that first. Somebody opened the door and a great big hound dog came lickitty split after me. I looked back and a fat ugly man cried 'Hey, Jigger, call your dog.' If Nero bites that kid—"

"Oh, Peter, you must be careful. Sometimes strange dogs don't like little boys."

* * *

"He liked me all right," I told him. I wasn't afraid. I patted his dog. Then the one they called Jigger—he had queer dark eyes—said, 'Live around here, sonny?' 'Sure,' I answered, 'down at the teahouse.' 'Then better get home to your folks.' But I told him I'd like to come and play with Nero some other day."

"You must never go and play with anybody unless it's with someone we know. If anything happened I wouldn't know where to find you." I said, startled at hearing the name of Jigger.

"Well, I guess I don't get a chance to play with Nero. The fat little man sounded pretty mad when he said, 'Nothing doing, kid, you stay where you belong.'"

"That's just what I say. You stay at home and maybe Cal will find you some nice playmate."

"I'm going to get a dog. The Jigger fellow came after me and told me if I'd stay at home he'd get me a nice pup all for myself."

"Well, well, we'll have to see about that," I said, and, switching off the light, I left the room.

Now, as I sit at my desk, I'm beginning to wonder if there is something queer going on in the woods. Surely if Peter was making up that story he'd never have used the name of Jigger. . . . I wonder if that's the same man who gave me such a fright that night. Must sound out Cal again. Maybe he'll tell me what he knows.

* * *

That reminds me, he does like to bring us news. When he appeared this morning (he drives up in a car of uncertain age) he said:

"Well, girls, Miss Pegler's opened her cottage again, and, by gosh, she's brought a handsome young man with her."

"Who is he?" Tess demanded. She's always interested in new young men, likes to measure them against her devoted Jimmy to see if she's got the best the marriage mart has to offer her.

"The gardner says he's her nephew . . . ain't been here since he was a kid . . . been at college . . . abroad . . . and reckon he's old enough to have had a job too."

"Don't believe he needs a job, Cal," Tess declared. "Miss Pegler's terribly rich."

"Every man should have a job . . . this chap too . . . even if he's expecting to get her money when she goes. You bet you'd never find me waiting for dead men's shoes, or women's either . . . specially women's. You can't tell what they'll do . . . leave all their fortune to the heathen or marry some old flame."

"Gee, Cal, you're encouraging," Tess cried. "Guess I'll have to look into this. Hope Miss Pegler brings him around pronto, and if he's to be here all summer . . ."

"You keep your hands off him," Big Kate said. "Guess there's no love lost between the head waitress and the cook.

Cal's found a playmate for Peter. His name's Tad Coyne . . . his father's looking after the landscaping of a resort known as Serene Shores. Mrs. Coyne stopped at the teahouse this afternoon, delighted at the thought her son would have a companion. She seems to be a devoted mother . . . quite a charming woman, so we're all happy. Business is getting better. Big Kate having a continual struggle with her stoves, and always, "Cal to the rescue."

Got a sidelight from Big Kate on Peter's haunted house . . . says it used to be a bootlegger's hangout in prohibition days, but hints that Cal could tell me something more about it if he cared to. So Peter's story was no make-believe. Wish I'd more time to be a Sherlock Holmes. Thought it queer when Cal said earlier in the day: "Peter's safer along the shore than in the woods."

* * *

Yet it was only yesterday that he informed me there were no poisonous snakes in the state, which was quite a relief for I must confess I'm not on friendly terms with rattlers and puff adders! Can't agree with the old fellow. I'd advocate the woods for Peter every time, for the boats are anchored along the shore and how my small brother loves them!

When Tad and he appeared at the tearoom this afternoon just when I'd settled down to read (I get an hour off about 4 unless we're swamped with customers) they insisted I go for a walk with them, so we headed for the woods.

"Let's take this path," Peter said. "Cal told me there is an old cabin which the men used when they were logging, and maybe Tad and I could make a fortress out of it."

"Well, if it's not too far away that might be a jolly playhouse." My thoughts turned to rainy days and Mrs. Fenwick's dislike of having small boys around, so we walked gaily along.

"Gee," cried Peter, stopping beside a tree which had a fresh gash in its bark, then glancing at the grass which was laid flat, "I bet there's been a truck in here."

"Nonsense," I cried. "I don't believe this road goes anywhere. It's little more than a path."

"But look, Sis, some heavy thing must have done this," and he pointed to a rut where the dark soil showed.

"Oh, perhaps some picnickers tried to get through, but come on, and let's find that camp for I'll have to get back to the tearoom before long."

Suddenly the boys stopped . . . Peter held up a warning hand . . . then, still peering through the dark branches of a hemlock tree, said:

"We're close to the haunted house . . . we can't go any further . . . if Jigger sees me, he won't give me the puppy," and, turning around, the boys headed for their fortress.

I looked in the direction Peter had looked . . . saw the shabby farmhouse . . . the door stood ajar . . . it looked deserted, but a heavy rhythmic drone filled the air. That was no country sound. Where had I heard it before?

CALLING ALL STARS—TO POLITICS!

Suggestion that dashing Leo Carrillo, Hollywood character actor, become the next governor of California opens an intriguing question in Texas. Since a great deal of showmanship is apparently essential to government in this state, why not take California's idea and run away with it?

John Boles is a native Texan and what's more, he can sing. Let's elect him governor.

Then there's Guinn "Big Boy" Williams, who has relatives in Lubbock. He's a two-gun toter who should make a fine chief of the department of public safety and major-domo of all the rangers.

No one can deny that Ginger Rogers could take rhythm into the secretary of state's office and who knows but that Bebe Daniels and Mary Brian would do well on the Railroad commission and as commissioner of the general land office, respectively. Of course we can't forget one of the earlier Texas stars, Corinne Griffith, although she's pretty well along in years now. Doubtless she would do well in charge of the old age assistance department under the big dome down at Austin!

The Journal is not quite as well up on the birthplaces of movies stars as it possibly should be, and it is probable that there are other leaders in the flicker business who were born under the Lone Star. If we've overlooked any of them, they need not worry. Like the federal government, the state government of today has plenty of jobs to go 'round!

We make these suggestions just to keep California from having anything on Texas.

If a native-born actor can scale the political heights in the far-western state, who are we to deny that a Texas star could do likewise here?

A Thought . .

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 2—All over the lot:

"Fall in! Atten-shunn! Forrr-arrd march!" Just the chorus boys from "Rosalie" going to lunch. They joined the show to do some dancing, and now find that they almost joined the army.

In the picture these handsome fellows are supposed to be West Pointers. Metro wanted them to look soldierly, and also it didn't want any kicks from West Point itself. So Lieut. Fred M. Thompson of the U. S. Military Academy came out to do what he could for the boys. As a result they go about saluting and yes-sirring and no-sirring all over the place. They march into the studio restaurant and stand behind their chairs until given permission to sit down, and then it's please-pass-the-bread-sir, and thank-you-sir, until awed diners at nearby tables unconsciously adopt a note of formality among themselves.

* * *

The "Marco Polo" set today is a cosy tent made of animal skins and decorated within by ominous looking battle axes, spears and such. These weapons are among those used in the war scenes of the picture, but they're not as lethal as they appear. Rubber and cork, mostly.

Gary Cooper and Ernest Truex, master and servant, stand together and register expressions for the camera while other players speak lines to cue them. Between takes, Cooper doodles with his hands, self-consciously.

In all these years he never has been able to cultivate off-screen poise and nonchalance. One reason he is uneasy today is that his father is standing on the sidelines watching this gangling son who somehow has become a movie star.

* * *

Throws Trophy At Dane

All is confusion on the stage where they're trying to film "45 Fathers." The fathers themselves are scattered behind the scenes and are dozing, chatting and playing chess. Before the camera, though, are Jane Withers, a monkey and eight dogs. The latter range from a feist to a Great Dane, and trainers and assistant directors are having a tough time keeping them under control. Finally a fence is built around the set, and that at least keeps 'em in camera range.

The scene is supposed to show the dogs climbing all over the furniture of a swanky club, to which the fathers belong, and trying to reach the monkey which is cornered atop a high buffet.

The monkey is so frightened by the lunging dogs that he has to be tied to the buffet or he'd take to the rafters. Finally he grows very indignant, picks up a silver trophy and neatly bounces it off the noggin of the Dane, which immediately loses interest in such rough sport. I don't know whether they ever did get the shot.

* * *

Woolsey Can't Remember

There's no dog trouble on the set of "High Flyers," where Robert Woolsey is trying to play a scene with a toy bulldog and is having difficulty with his lines. "I'm as smart as that dog," he insists to Director Eddie Cline. "All you have to do is tell me five or six times, and I get it—just like that."

So they try the scene again. The dog patiently rolls over, sits up and barks. The bark is Woolsey's cue—and for the sixth time he muffs his lines.

* * *

An extra girl in "Ali Baba Goes to Town" is sitting on the edge of a shimmering pool during a sequence. Absent-mindedly she leans backward and both hands dip into the pool. She jerks them out with a startled squawk and finds them dripping heavy crude oil. For in spite of the water lilies floating on the surface, the pool is filled with oil, which photographs better.

Guffey's Attack On Democratic Court Foes Not Inspired By Administration—Dutcher

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 — Careful research reveals that Senator Joe Guffey's speech reading leaders of the court plan opposition out of the party was not inspired by the Roosevelt administration. It was Joe's own idea.

Dutcher

That certain persons fairly well up in the administration were not well aware of what Joe was going to do, however, is a bolder statement than one cares to make.

At one time the senator was going to include Vice-President Jack Garner in his attack, and someone or other got to him and called him off on that. The war between Garner and Roosevelt is something like the Japanese-Chinese picnic, or whatever it is. Things happen. But nobody makes any declarations and ambassadors stay put.

The speech was well-written and, as was asserted by Senator Burt Wheeler of Montana, was written by someone other than the Senator from Pennsylvania. Careful check among some of the capital's best ghost writers extracts the story that Joe Guffey has a very good ghost of his own in Pennsylvania. This ghost's name doesn't seem to be available here.

It's a fact that Guffey, who is Pennsylvania's ruling political boss, has about the toughest hide in the Senate. Whether or not his speech did have administration approval, it's a good bet that the administration couldn't have persuaded another senator to make a radio speech like that. The terrific whaling he got from Senators Wheeler, Burke, O'Mahoney, and Holt, although stretching the Senate rules, left him unmoved. He had been called far worse names.

Although Guffey can deliver a speech, he is not quick on the uptake and so avoids debate. After his floor speech for the court plan he made no effort to answer the counter-attack. This gift for silence under attacks which would have started any ordinary man swinging with both fists served Guffey well when senators answered his radio speech.

* * *

Coat Of Many Colors

Without repeating sections of the attack on Guffey which referred to his old associations with "economic royalists" and his financial troubles as alien property custodian, one still finds it hard to think of this Joseph of Pennsylvania without recalling the Biblical Joseph who had a coat of many colors.

Four nights after Guffey's speech about "ingrates" he made a labor radio speech defending the C. I. O. and attacking anti-union campaigns. He particularly denounced violence against strikers, the arming and deputizing of company-hired men, and attacks on the National Labor Relations board.

Well, about three years ago Mr. Guffey was going to the White House to intercede for his steel-manufacturing friend, Ernie Weir, whom the first Wagner Labor board charged with intimidating employes against joining unions and violating NRA's Section 7-A. One of Weir's steel companies is now accused before NLRB of having a "hatchet-gang" which badly beats up union organizers.

And subsequently Mr. Guffey was complaining very loudly because some inside information about Federal laboratories in Pittsburgh, which does a big business in tear gas, machine gun and other weapons for use against strikers, had been unearthed by the Senate munitions committee and made public.

Subsequently Mr. Guffey has formed political alliances with Roosevelt and John L. Lewis and some people might think that this was an honest conversion. But it may be also in point to recall that some politicians, given a nimble gown, can offer superb imitations of the whirling dervish.

Holt's Attitude Changes

Republican tipsters had been telling your correspondent that it looked as if Rush Holt, that item of flaming youth, anti-power company sentiment and whole-hog liberalism who came here only to turn anti-administration and anti-labor in a squabble over patronage whose merits are still obscure, was seeking to get back on the Roosevelt reservation. It was pointed out that he had been singularly quiet on the debate over WPA, his pet peeve, and that he had voted to confirm Senator Black to the Supreme court and otherwise had indicated his desire to be a "good boy."

Careful perusal of Holt's last-day attack on Guffey, in response to Guffey's slurring reference to Holt, shows that Rush didn't murmur a word against the Roosevelt administration. He didn't even take a crack at John Lewis. Which, if not significant, certainly is remarkable.

It takes four to eight times as much soap to make a satisfactory cleansing lather when hard water is used than when soft water is available, depending on the degree of hardness of the water.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 2 (AP) — Better foreign markets and early reports of continued showery weather in the eastern belt were reflected in an opening advance of 6 to 10 points in cotton here today.

Covering by shorts and trade buying made up the bulk of the demand.

Oct. opened at 9.17, Dec. 9.21, Jan. 9.26, March 9.31, and July at 9.50. Additional buying orders entered the market and towards the end of the first half hour prices were 10 to 12 points net higher.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 2. (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, 8 to 11 higher on firmer Liverpool cables, heavy rain in Alabama and foreign buying. Oct. 9.18; Dec. 9.15; Jan. 9.20; Mch. 9.29; May 9.37; Jly. 9.44.

Demand was more active and buying became more general as prices advanced further.

Recent resistance of the market around the 9-cent level was believed to have attracted the buying as well as more active covering.

Dec. rallied from 9.13 to 9.23 and shortly after the first half hour was ruling within a point of the best and the general list showed net gains of 16 to 19 points.

Man Is Charged In Attacks On Two Daughters, Ages 9 And 11

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 2 (AP) — Charges of having criminally attacked his two daughters, 9 and 11 years old, were filed in justice court this afternoon against William I. Lay, 39-year-old Civilian Conservation corps enrollee.

It was charged in two complaints that Lay attacked his daughter, Corrine Lay, 11, last Friday, and another daughter, Barbara, 9, today. Listed as a witness was Lay's wife, Mrs. Marian Jewell Lay.

Retired Marines Chief Scornful

(By The Associated Press)

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 2—General Smedley D. Butler asked America's Veterans of Foreign Wars today to seek a law prohibiting the use of American troops abroad.

SMEDLEY D. BUTLER

"In 1917 they sent you fellows over to Germany to defend your homes," the fiery little retired marine officer told uniformed veterans at their national convention. "It's all a racket — the racket that lets American capital invested abroad do so under our sacred emblem and gets us into trouble."

Butler said the United States should use its marines to remove from China immediately "3,000 of our citizens who have been sitting in danger in Shanghai for six months."

"Then we should get our armed forces the hell out of China and keep them out," he declared.

"Our administration," he continued, "can't make up its mind whether there is a war over there or not. The president and his helpers can't decide whether people are being killed by formal arrangement, or not, but it looks like war to me."

Senator Bennett Champ Clark of Missouri, another speaker at today's session, suggested that June 15 and December 15— the war debt due dates—be made national holidays.

"I would proclaim them 'Keep Out of War Days'" he said.

Lifer Returns To Prison; Says He Can't Make It On Outside

McALESTER, Okla., Sept. 2 (AP) J. H. Deering came back to the Oklahoma state penitentiary today with a plea for readmission.

"I just don't think I can make it on the outside," the 65-year-old convict told Warden Jess Dunn.

Deering was freed on parole last June after serving 14 years of a life sentence for murder.

Green Says That Unconditional Surrender Of CIO Is One And Only Route For Labor Peace

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Labor's civil war daily grows more bitter. How could peace be made? An Associated Press reporter asked William Green, A. F. of L. president, that question today. He gave his answer in the following interview.)

BY JOSEPH MILLER
Associated Press Staff Writer

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 2—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said today the federation would welcome back the ten suspended C. I. O. unions if they returned without any conditions.

Their return, he said, would be the first step toward reuniting the American labor movement, divided into two bitterly warring camps since John L. Lewis started the Committee for Industrial Organization in November, 1935.

Doubtful Of Action

If the C. I. O. unions took this step—and Green frankly said he doubted they would—the next move toward final peace, he said, would be appointment of a joint committee of A. F. of L. and C. I. O. leaders to work out a detailed settlement.

"I recognize that there would be many complicated problems to be solved," Green said.

"The hardest of these probably would result from the C. I. O.'s recognition of dual unions in the radio and electrical and ship-building industries. Those unions never belonged to the American Federation of Labor.

Others Are Organized

"On the other hand, we have organized textile workers, metal miners, ladies garment workers, and have chartered the Progressive Miners of America, all in territory claimed by the C. I. O. unions.

"Let them come back without conditions and take their places at the American Federation of Labor convention. Let them come back just as they are, with their increased membership. We will recognize them, with their increased voting strength, and tell them to take the places they left.

"The issue of craft versus industrial unionism would still remain. But we could fight it out in the true Democratic way within the family of labor—not between two warring groups as we are fighting today.

"The longer this fight goes on, the more complicated the issues become. It would be harder to settle today than it would have been a year ago. It will be still harder a year from now."

Business Of Whole Modern Community Is To Be Run On Cooperative Methods

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 2—The first attempt in the United States to run the business of a whole modern community without making any profit was announced tonight.

The town Greenbelt, Md., "model" community conceived by Rexford Guy Tugwell when he was a member of President Roosevelt's "brain trust," will operate as a cooperative.

Stores, movies, beauty shops, garages and all other business places in the community of 900 families will be owned by their customers under an agreement between the federal government and the Consumer distributing corporation.

All the profit realized from the business after operation expenses are deducted will be returned to the people who buy the goods or services dispensed.

The experimnt was made possible through the philanthropy of Edward A. Filene, wealthy Boston merchant who set up the consumer distributing corporation some time ago with a gift of $1,000,000.

Filene, believing that cooperatives are the best way to reduce prices to the place where poor people can maintain a sufficiently high standard of living, set out to build a system of stores to prove his point. For a year or more surveys have been under way in large cities in search of these sites. Greenbelt is the first to be accepted.

Posthumous Caesarean Operation Performed On Texas Woman And Twin Babies Delivered

(By The Associated Press)

KINGSVILLE, Sept. 2—Dr. D. A. Harrison yesterday successfully performed a posthumous Caesarean operation upon a tenant farmer's wife and delivered twins which still were alive today.

The 41-year-old woman, Mrs. George Conde, died of heart failure.

The twins were a boy weighing four pounds, twelve ounces, and a girl weighing five pounds, eight ounces.

Dr. Harrison said "as far as I know this is the first successful operation of the kind in medical history."

Dr. C. M. Carrithers assisted in the operation, performed in the Kleberg county hospital.

A hurried call late yesterday sent Doctors Harrison and Carrithers to the hospital to attend Mrs. Conde, in the throes of a severe heart attack.

"She died, things were ready, and we just went ahead and did the job," Dr. Harrison said.

Because the mother suffered from heart disease and a dropsical condition the twins had had poor circulation for several weeks, and at first were hard to revive.

Dr. Harrison said the girl appeared weaker than the brother but he believed "both are going to be all right."

Hospital attaches said Mrs. Conde, wife of a tenant farmer of near Kingsville, came to the hospital yesterday morning for treatment for heart trouble only, and was not in labor when she died.

The mother had no raging fever, as in many cases where similar operations have been performed, Dr. Harrison said. This possibly had, he admitted, something to do with the fair condition of the twins.

Newspapers Are Still 'Principal Means Of Communication,' Norman Thomas Declares

(By The Associated Press)

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Sept. 2—Newspapers still "are the principal means of communication," Norman Thomas said today, in spite of the "growing importance of radio and moving pictures."

Speaking at the Williamstown institute of human relations on "The Newspaper and Civil Liberties," the socialist leader said newspapers determined in the largest degree the reality of freedom of discussion and the scope of the information upon which any worthwhile discussion must be based.

In many cities, however, Thomas asserted, leaders did not obtain pictures of happenings of great social consequence. "This generalization is true almost without exception," he continued, "when the mania of war is upon us. It is likewise true, but to a much less degree, in times of peace, especially when the bitterness of political or industrial conflict approaches war psychology."

George Fort Milton, president and editor of the Chattanooga News, who presided, said a free press was "an dispensable part of the human mind, which is the greatest thing in the world.

"But let us be sure," he continued, "that we ourselves in the press seek to free it from the internal despotisms of our own contrivance at the same time that we resist such external dangers."

E.O.I.A.M.Y.P.M. Is Showing Advancement, President Of Organization Declares

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—Charles E. Jackson, president of the Eat-Oysters-In-Any-Month-You-Please Movement, hailed today the end of another campaign.

"Progress," he beamed, "is being made. It's only a matter of time until September 1 will be just that, and not the beginning of the so-called R-months."

Jackson—who in addition to heading the E. O. I. A. M. Y. P. M. is deputy commissioner of fisheries — annually devoted himself to encouraging oyster-eating in R-less months.

The E. O. I. A. M. Y. P. M. head has made a study of R-less-month oysters.

"The only difference," he said, "is that summer oysters are a trifle thinner. That's when they fall in love-in May, June, July and August."

Spanish Insurgents Recapture Territory

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Sept. 2 (AP)—Insurgent troops, in a sweeping counter offensive, reported tonight the recapture of all territory taken by the government in its drive against Zaragoza on the Aragon front.

The insurgent troops made their biggest advances in the Almudevarzuera sector northeast of Zaragoza, where they reported reconquering all the ground they had lost and also had driven government troops from the positions held since early in the civil war.

Only in the Belchite sector southeast of Zaragoza, the insurgents said, did the government continue to exert pressure.

been trying to break up the beautiful friendship between myself and Dorothy Lamour (Chicago screen actress). Last time she shook hands with the little dummy she contracted a severe case of poison ivy."

May Be For Best

"But, Judy," the portly Fields soothed, "your break with Bergen may be for the best. Think of going on a honeymoon with a guy like that. Why, every time you sat on his knee he'd have you talking to yourself. He'd probably have McCarthy hanging on the other knee, anyhow, making cracks. I know just how it would be. I have been taking Bergen's lip from McCarthy for months."

Bergen, out of the city, called Miss Canova by telephone last night. They started arguing and went at such a fast pace that the brunette actress finally hung up.

winters when the signs indicated they would be cold, and hard winters when every indication was that the season would be mild.

He told of one instance, while he was punching cattle, of a range employing a man and paying him liberally to make his nature observations as to approaching winters. The ranch management for several years based its feed and cattle purchases on the predictions, but lost so heavily on several wrong forecasts, Milwee recalled, that the practice was abandoned.

Sub Attacks

mitted to fly the British flag.

The Earl of Perth, British ambassador to Rome, held a surprise interview with Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden beore the ministers met.

It was believed their conversation was not in furtherance of Anglo-Italian friendship negotiations which have been proceeding lately.

Temper Is Rising

British temper rising over the Mediterranean "piracy" appeared suddenly to have reached the point of exasperation after the Havock attack. French indignation also led to pressing of a request for Anglo-French action to clear the Mediterranean trade routes of the naval outlaws.

The whole Mediterranean question is due for an airing at a Geneva meeting of the League of Nations Sept. 10 where Italy has been accused by the Valencia regime of aggression against Spanish government shipping.

The feeling here was that unless Italy disproved the Spanish charges the future of Anglo-Italian friendship talks would be virtually hopeless.

Texas Parks To Be Unequalled

BROWNWOOD, Sept. 2 (AP) — A system of recreational areas unequalled anywhere in the nation was foreseen here by Wendell Mayes of Brownwood, chairman of the state parks board, who has just completed a tour of inspection with the board.

Texas will have a parks system unique also because of the variety of the terrain and the nature of the plant growth upon it, he said. He cited the piney woods parks of East Texas, the recreational centers of the gulf coast and Palo Duro park as striking examples of this contrast.

Each Is Different

"Texas parks form a chain of recreational centers from the Gulf to the Panhandle and from the piney woods to the Davis mountains," said Mayes.

"Each park is different. Each is being developed along different lines and each has its special attraction. Notable progress has been made in the last twelve months in working out the program for development of scenic and recreational areas in Texas. The development of scenic and recreational areas in Texas. The deelopment program is being worked out with CCC labor under the supervision of the national park service.

"When the present improvement program—following a simple and practical line—has been completed, Texas will have the most complete system of recreational areas in the nation."

CCC camps are now located in 15 of the 57 state parks. All of the parks where camps are located were visited by the board, the work inspected and plans for future development discussed with technicians in charge. The new work period of the CCC starts October 1 and plans are now being made to consummate a vast detail of improvement.

Mayes said members of the board were particularly interested in efforts under way to secure the Big Bend national park. The area was inspected and members of the board renewed their pledge to cooperate in the campaign to raise funds necessary for purchase of land for the park.

"Unquestionably the Big Bend is one of the scenic marvels of the nation," Mayes said. "If it is secured and developed as a national park it will attract thousands of tourists to the state each year.

The area compares favorably with any of the present national parks and could be developed into one of the major parks in the national system."

Oil Production And Gas Taxes Yield $58,000,000 For State

AUSTIN, Sept. 2 (AP)—The comptroller's department estimated today oil production and gasoline taxes produced more than $58,000,000 for the fiscal year ended yesterday.

It estimated the August oil levy yielded $1,531,098, based on indicated production, which would boost the yearly total to $12,047,178. The previous highest monthly collection was $1,416,142 in May.

Project Will Be Continued

Reorganization of the Resettlement administration, as announced in Washington Wednesday, will not affect an addition to the Ropesville project, in the opinion of James P. Williams, manager.

The Associated Press at Washington had announced the Resettlement administration's name had been changed to Farm Security administration and that Farmers corporation had been established to execute provisions of the new federal farm tenancy program.

Concentrate On Loans

It had been announced the Farm Security administration would concentrate on loans and rehabilitation for farmers and would abandon model communities, housing and construction activities; that projects started by the Resettlement administration would be completed but that no new construction would be undertaken.

Secretary Wallace had said a land purchase and development program would be placed under the bureau of agricultural economics.

"The new work has gone too far—it has been approved and we are working on it. I do not think there is much danger of the addition's being cancelled," Williamss explained. "While the 12,000 acres have not been paid for, as far as I know I believe the work will be continued."

Engineers At Work

REA engineers are at work subdividing the acreage. There has been planned about 45 to 50 more units, Williams said, plats to run from 175 acres to half section of land. The larger ones were to have a quarter section in grass and the rest in cultivation.

"We hope to be able to take bids in a few days on grubbing out the new section," Williams said. "We would like all bids to be in within three weeks."

Grubbing work should start in October. As soon as it is completed it is probable the construction of houses will be ready to begin. No word on when bids for building of houses, sheds, barns and other outbuildings, and drilling of wells will be taken has come from regional headquarters.

The Evening Journal had dispatched a message to the regional offices of the Resettlement administration asking whether there had been received any definite announcement regarding the fate of the Ropesville project, but no reply had been received late this morning.

Telephone Conversation Fails To Straighten Out Love Affair

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 2 (AP)—Edgar Berger, the ventriloquist, called his former fiancee, Judy Canova, by long distance tonight and discussed her announcement that she had broken her engagement to him because of the interference of Dummy Charlie McCarthy.

Friends of the actress said the conversation "proved nothing, and the engagement is still off and probably will remain off."

Alabama Man Given Contract For Postoffice At Lamesa

LAMESA, Sept. 2, (Special)—Algernon Blair of Montgomery, Ala., has been awarded contract to construct a new postoffice at Lamesa on his bid of $62,237, according to word received here Wednesday from Washington.

The building will be one block west of the northwest corner of the public square. Property had been bought and buildings removed recently. The structure will be one of the most modern on the South Plains.

Cotton Prospects On South Plains Greatly Improved

Cotton prospects on South Plains have improved by 50,000 bales within the last few weeks, according to new estimates of the crop disclosed Wednesday by V. O. Jennings, Lubbock cotton buyer.

Jennings estimated Lamb county, according to latest reports, would probably gin around 75,000 bales. Remainder of the additional estimate is divided among other counties.

Largest acreage in the history of the plains was also estimated by Jennings, who said he believed there were at least 250,000 acres in cotton in Lubbock county. Several other counties have reported much lower acreages than they really have planted, he added. He estimates a 15 per cent increase over last year.

Pretty Clerk Central Figure In A Drama Of $25,000

ATLANTA, Sept. 2. (AP) — Miss Dorothy Buice, pretty 19-year-old clerk in a 5 and 10 cent store, found herself the central figure today in a $25,000 drama.

She said a "tall and handsome man" came to her counter, bought a 10-cent bottle of ink, paid for it and walked away — forgetting a black leather portfolio.

Miss Buice sent the portfolio to the store's lost and found department.

Shortly afterward the man dashed into the store.

At the office the man described the portfolio, opened it hurriedly and thumbed nervously through a stack of bills of large denomination, and a batch of bonds totalling $25,000.

On the way out he stopped at Miss Buice's counter, offered her $1 (one dollar) reward. She thanked him and rejected the offer.

Today the Curtain Rises on the Pen of HIGHEST PEDIGREE...

A New and Superlative Model of the Revolutionary Vacumatic

PARKER'S SPEEDLINE MAJOR and MAXIMA

New Speedline Style with Enlarged Ink Capacity, Self-Governed Flow, 33% More Gold and Parker's exclusive laminated Pearl-&-Jet Style

TODAY there takes place at all good pen counters the curtain-raising on the king of all pens—the new Parker Speedline Vacumatic, in 3 sizes.

A conquering Pen is this, because it never starts anything for you that it cannot finish.

For example, it gives you continuous year-round mileage if you merely fill it 3 or 4 times from one birthday to the next. Eight or ten fleet seconds does the trick.

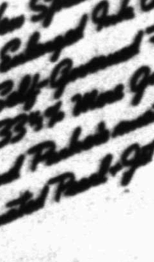

When held to the light its transparent laminations show the ink level at all times. Hence you can refill at any odd moment, so it won't run dry.

A wholly original and exclusive Style—shimmering Pearl and Jet, now with restful Speedline shape, smartly laminated.

Not merely a 1938 style, but also a 1938 mechanism! A simple recoiling Diaphragm replaces the old-time rubber ink sac and lever filler still found in ordinary pens. The flow is automatically governed regardless of your writing speed. And every Parker Vacumatic is GUARANTEED mechanically perfect, with no coddling asked or expected.

By all means see this pedigreed Beauty at once at any good store selling pens. The Parker Pen Co., Janesville, Wisconsin.
