Salk Vaccine Now Available Commercially

According to word received from Dr. R. Glynn Raley, County Health Officer and Dr. M. A.
Childress, City Health Officer,
since the Salk Poliomylitis Vaccine quota for Mills County for use among the first two grades of children has been given, there has been received through commercial channels which include the druggists and doctors of Mills County, a limited amount of the vaccine for use for children under ten years of age and pregnant women.

The vaccine is now on hand and should be given by the physician according to the recommendations of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and the Texas State Department of Health, who advise two injections one month apart, then a third injection in seven months.

Since the polio season in Texas is worse in the spring and summer, it is advisable for all parents to consult their doctor as soon as possible so that the third injection can be given before the polio season gets under way next spring.

At present there is enough vaccine available for several children or pregnant women, given indication that up to now,

MARCH OF EVENTS

Ike and Adlai to Meet Again, Predict Experts

Administration's Farm Worries Finally Bared

Special to Central Press Association

WASHINGTON—Veteran political experts expect Dwight D. Eisenhower and Adlai E. Stevenson to fight it out again next year in the presidential campaign.

As Democrats mobilize for the political wars this fall, Stevenson still is out in front in speculation as the most likely nominee for 1956.

In the Republican camp, Mr. Eisenhower has a clear field—if he decides to seek a second term. Not a single member of his party has stepped forward to challenge the President's control of the GOP, and most Republicans expect him to seek re-election.

Stevenson faces a different problem. Senator Estes Kefauver (D, Tennessee), shows every sign of making a new try for the Democratic nomination. And party leaders are not overlooking the possibility that Gov. Averell Harriman of New York may make a determined effort to cop the party prize.

Stevenson, who was beaten badly by Mr. Eisenhower in 1952, is expected to announce his political plans this fall. Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas has declared his firm opposition to the former Illinois governor.

However, southern Democrats do not have any opponent of their own to throw against Stevenson. Senator Richard B. Russell (D, Georgia), has declared himself out of the race. And this may have provided the Illinois Democrat with an unexpected lift.

● FARM PROBLEMS—The administration no longer is trying so hard to hide its worries over declining farm income. Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson recently admitted for the first time that the situation is not completely bright.

Economically, it is a worry because it is only a matter of time before the drop in farm income is felt in other industries. The decrease in farmers' purchasing power means fewer consumers of hard goods.

Politically, the situation is a worry because critics of Benson's flexible farm price support program are blaming the administration for the lower farm income. Republicans insist the downturn began while the Democrats were in the White House, but admit it's hard to separate the decline from the change in price props in the public's mind.

Republican governors in the midwest are so upset by the situation that they plan a conference soon to talk over what can be done.

● GENEVA AFTERMATH—U. S. military experts seem more perturbed than civilian officials and others who welcomed—with reservations—Soviet announcement of a 640,000-man cutback by Dec. 15.

At the Pentagon, officials are skeptical of the Russian move because they have no way of checking up on what the Reds do. And the military, particularly in Europe, fear the atmosphere created by the Geneva conference "at the summit" is beginning to impair European support for NATO.

Western European capitals reacted—in at least some circles—with a feeling that the Soviet's announced arms reduction was a step in the right direction. This, military sources fear, may spur a demand for cutting defense budgets. And, there also is the danger that—as a final result—the Soviets may succeed in their previously announced aim to dismantle the Atlantic alliance.

During the month of September four deaths and nineteen births were reported in this county. This makes a total of births in the county of 703 since the law requiring a report to be made to the county clerk became effective in July, 1903, and five have already been reported for October. During the same time there have been only 166 deaths reported.

VIC'S . . .

SOLILOQUY

This is National Newspaper week. In that connection I would like to present to our readers the following:

CAN IT HAPPEN HERE?
Can the free press of America be destroyed?

It happened in Germany when Hitler burned "forbidden" books and seized the newspapers. . . . It happened in Italy, as Mussolini destroyed newspapers in his climb to power. . . . It happened in Argentina when a great, free press was wiped out because it dared to differ with a dictatorship. . . . It is happening all over the world today as newspapers are attacked from many sides. . . .

CHILI: A bomb wrecks an anti-Government newspaper office. . . .

CUBA: An opposition newspaper is closed by the Government; two editors arrested. . . .

ARGENTINA: Another newspaper shut down by Government decree; the editor thrown in jail. . . .

GREECE: A newspaper ordered to stop publishing articles "causing public unrest". . . .

INDIA: Newspaper reporters will be prosecuted for articles attacking Government officials. . . .

SOUTH KOREA: A new law forbids newspaper to "disturb people's minds". . . .

BOLIVIA: A newspaperman is jailed for writing "inaccurate news". . . .

AUSTRIA: Soviet authorities confiscate a newspaper because of a critical editorial. . . .

COLOMBIA: All newspapers are censored before publication. . . .

BRAZIL: Foreign newspapers subjected to new, strict import regulations. . . .

TURKEY: A publisher sentenced to prison for an "insulting" article about the Government. . . .

PAKISTAN: Opposition newspaper refused supply of newsprint. . . .

GREAT BRITAIN: American newspapermen asked to "voluntarily" censor dispatches. . . .

SPAIN: Twenty issues of an American newspaper banned from Spain by Government Censorship Bureau. . . .

RUSSIA: Everything is censored and controlled by the Government. . . .

Complete Government censorship of publications and outgoing dispatches exists in all Iron Curtain countries: ALBANIA, BULGARIA, COM M U N I S T C H I N A, CZECHOSLOVAKIA, EAST GERMANY, HUNGARY, POLAND and RUMANIA.

WHAT ABOUT THE U. S. A.?
The U. S. Constitution guarantees freedom of press to the people.

The U. S. press is controlled by the people. . . . Newspapers are published for the people — not for the Government. . . .

Yet attempts are being made to take freedom of the press away from the people. . . . From many sides come almost daily efforts to restrict, control, censor and water-down U. S. newspapers. . . .

WASHINGTON: Defense Department director of publicity policies believe military officials should decide whether information is "useful" or "interesting" before releasing it to the press. After protests from the press, it was said the "yardstick" for passing on information was meant only for "intradepartmental preparation of news releases". . . .

WASHINGTON: A reporter's request for obituary material on a deceased general was held up until it had been reviewed and cleared by the Pentagon. . . .

WASHINGTON: A survey showing that sailors get seasick was not made available to the press on the ground that it is not "a constructive contribution" to defense. . . .

WASHINGTON: Many bills are introduced in Congress containing no provisions for making available to the public information about costs of projects, reports to be made, or accounting of funds. . . .

WASHINGTON: The Army issues a special "guide" for evaluation of public information, permitting officers to use discretion as to whether or not news will ever be released. . . .

WASHINGTON: The Army issues a special "guide" for evaluation of public information, permitting officers to use discretion as to whether or not news will ever be released. . . .

SHAWNEE, OKLA.: A sheriff beats up a reporter who is seeking legitimate news. . . .

ROCHESTER, N. Y.: City Council bans reporters from hearings affecting the people in the community. . . .

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF.: News photographers are subjected to physical attacks, cameras are smashed, films destroyed. . . .

WEST POINT, N. Y.: Press barred from attending a conference between the Army and its civilian advisory group. Meeting was held to "find out matters of interest to the public". . . .

GREENSBURG, Pa.: Judges ban photographs of criminals—not only in courtrooms, but in areas such as courthouse corridors and en route to jail. . . .

NEW YORK, N. Y.: All newspapermen are barred from a vice trial. Later, on grounds that since press and the public were not permitted to attend the trial, defendant won a new trial to which the press was admitted. . . .

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF.: A judge orders jurors not to give interviews in a prejury trial after they had delivered their verdict and were dismissed. . . .

CLEVELAND, OHIO: Reporters ordered to leave a courtroom during testimony in a pandering trial. . . .

DULUTH, MINN.: Two men forcibly ejected by police from a "closed" meeting of employees on salary matters involving Taxpayers' money. . . .

DO THE PEOPLE WANT A FREE PRESS?
Does the man on the street want someone in Government to decide what information "useful" or "interesting" for the public to know about? . . .

Would Americans have in Government-controlled newspapers grinding out pre-censored, pre-condensed, pre-published "news" in easy doses? . . .

Are the people ready to accept cradle-to-grave control by Super-State without hearing both sides of an argument presented in a free press? . . .

Are the people ready to give up newspapers that fight their right to know? The newspapers of America don't believe it. . . .

Newspapers are of the people by the people and for the people. . . . Newspapers will continue fight for the people's rights to know. . . .

You're Talking About Me When You Say

"A SATISFIED ELECTRIC RANGE USER"

Yes, sir, I cook with electricity — and believe me, I wouldn't think of cooking any other way.

I like the way my automatic electric range lets me do the shopping or even go to a movie while it does my work for me.

I like the way it makes my food look better and taste better. My family really goes for electrically-cooked meals!

I like the way it keeps my kitchen sparkling clean — no soot on pans, no grime on kitchen walls.

But, best of all, this hot summer weather, I like the way my electric range keeps all the heat inside the oven, where it belongs, instead of out in my kitchen. Of course, an electric range is wonderful any time, but in the summer you just can't beat electric cooking. Try it and see!

Go down today and pick out one of the new automatic models. Then you, too, will be a satisfied-range user.

Hints On Fall Care Of Lawns Are Offered By Extension Agronomist

College Station.—Lawn grass will remain green longer in the fall and grow off earlier next spring if given an application of complete fertilizer at least 30 days before the first expected hard freeze.

Too, E. M. Trew, extension agronomist, says when the lawn grasses go into the winter in a healthy, vigorous condition, winter weeds have less chance to grow and are less of a problem.

If the fertilizer application is made too late, Trew points out that some grass may be lost from a hard freeze and also that the fertilizer cannot be fully utilized by the grass before it goes dormant.

The specialist recommends a fertilizer of the 2-1-1 or 1-1-1 ratio. Application should be made at a rate to supply two pounds of actual nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of lawn. This amount of nitrogen would be supplied by 20 pounds of 10-5-5 or 10-10-10 or 25 pounds of 8-8-

8. He adds that some soils do not need potash but since the cost is small, it is good insurance and may give excellent results.

Trew recommends dividing the fertilizer, that is, apply half then spread the remainder at right angles to the first application. This, he says, will help insure even distribution.

Give the lawn a good soaking after the fertilizer has been applied. The grass can't use the plant food without moisture. Soak the soil to a depth of at least six inches or better until the moisture meets. If the soil is wet when the fertilizer is applied, wash it off the grass onto the soil.

Bermuda lawns are sometimes overseeded with ryegrass to keep the lawn green during the winter but Trew says unless the ryegrass is kept closely clipped, it competes with Bermuda for light, moisture and plant food in the spring. Italian or annual ryegrass should be used if overseeding is practiced for these plants die in the spring. Finally, Trew says, give the lawn good care now and enjoy its beauty next spring.

Hillside Mission

By LIDA BYRNE

Hurricanes, typhoons, in fact all storms are not just unknown quirks of nature with no due course or reason. The Bible, with reference to the Great Creator, says: "The Pillars of heaven tremble and are astonished at his reproof." Job 26:11. "The Lord is slow to anger, and great in power, and will not at all acquit the wicked; the Lord hath his way in the whirlwind and in the storm, and the clouds are the dust of his feet." Nahum 1:3.

NEW VIGOR FOR SWEET POTATO INDUSTRY

The Texas sweet potato industry is having growing pains. Although it was far from puny—grossing some $10 million in good years—recent developments show promise of making the "yam" a really robust commodity in state farm economy.

The Texas Sweet Potato Law has been in effect just over a month. And already, some changes have had to be made to help move the crop to market this year.

The law calls for grading, inspection and proper shipping of potatoes under certification of the Texas Department of Agriculture. Originally, U. S. No. 1 and U. S. No. 2's, along with unclassified grades, had to be boxed in standard approved cases to prevent damage and assure uniform quality. But the law failed to reckon with Texas' production capacity.

Standard packing cases, approved by law, fell short of the demand. As a result, a change in regulations was made to allow unclassified grades to be shipped in bulk. This is a temporary measure good only until Nov. 15. After that date, unclassified potatoes must be crated according to original specifications the same as No. 1's and 2's.

Sweet potatoes are grown widely in East Texas, with a new development on the High Plains area and in South Texas in recent years. Upshur, Titus, Cass, Smith, Morris, Van Zandt, Wood, Robertson and Leon counties are the traditional leaders until now.

Texas grows some of the finest sweet potatoes found anywhere. However, lack of consistent grading was the principal deterrent in outside markets until this year. The new law was designed specifically to correct this lack.

The new grading standards are essentially the same as those of the United States Department of Agriculture. As a matter of fact, in some ways they are a little better—which should give Texas a slight edge on out-of-state markets when the facts become generally known.

Some difficulties will be encountered from time to time. But the first hurdles have been taken successfully. Inquiries or problems should be addressed to John White, Commissioner of Agriculture, Capitol Station, Austin 14, Texas.

Brown-Mills Soil Conservation News

By CHARLES HAENISCH

Farmers and ranchers in the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District are preparing to sow cover crops as soon as possible. These legumes that will be planted will have a variety of uses.

One of the most important uses of a legume is that of cover. Many acres of cover crops will be planted in hopes of getting a cover on bare cultivated fields. District cooperators realize that bare fields erode more easily than fields with a good cover.

Some legumes will be a temporary grazing crop as well as for cover. When doing this it should be noted that the benefits of the cover crop for cover purpose are reduced when crop is grazed too close. Fields planted to a legume for this purpose will be grazed in order to relieve the strain on rangeland.

Soil improving will be another important use for legumes this fall. The farming operations of Clinton Harbor of the Bastrop-Fayette Soil Conservation District as well as farmers and ranchers in this district prove that increased production is closely connected to good soil condition. A few dollars invested this fall for cover crop seed and fertilizer will pay large dividends in the production of crops to follow.

Ervin Fisher, Cecil Huckabee, Clayton Egger, and Clyde Cockrum plan to sow hairy vetch this fall. These cooperators have had good results with vetch in the past and know the benefits they can expect from this crop.

Madrid Sweetclover and Hubam sweetclover will be planted by L. B. Burnham, F. R. Baird, and the Methodist Home Ranch. These two clovers have been proven as good soil improving and grazing crops in this area.

Emil Schuster and Woodrow Boykin plan to plant a field to Austrian Winterpeas.

To provide adequate livestock water on their farms and ranches, Elzie Ault, south of Center City and Charlie Noack of Priddy recently secured the assistance of technicians of the Soil Conservation Service to stake and check farm ponds for them.

A diversion terrace was also laid out for August Senger of Priddy. This diversion will protect a cultivated field from outside water.

Scallorn News

By ORA BLACK

First with our report from here we wish to say on Friday of last week we received the "Million Dollar Rain", which fell through out the day and left five inches of precipitation in our gauge.

Grain sowing is scheduled to get under way in the next few days, so say the farmers of this section.

Our Queens Wreath which reaches across the south side of the house is a lovely sight to behold. And what makes it more interesting is to watch the humming birds that collect each day. At times we have counted as many as twelve birds flitting from one blossom to another. They are very interesting little creatures.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Cox were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hughes.

Mrs. Clark Bristow was an all day guest Wednesday in the C. H. Black home.

Our daughter, Mrs. Hazel Mosley and son, Pat, of Faith, South Dakota left Thursday for their home after having visited here for the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Laughlin visited Thursday in Blanket with his brother, Elza and Mrs. Laughlin.

The weiner roast at Scallorn

Center is scheduled for October 13. Everyone has a most cordial invitation to attend. Games will be played after the feast.

Second Polio Vaccine Injection For First And Second Graders Completed

The county-wide program for the administration of the first two injections of Salk Poliovaccine to school children of the first and second grades begun in April has been completed, according to Dr. R. Gylm Riley, Mills County Health Officer. Slightly over 85% of the children receiving the first injection were given the second injection. This is well above the average for most counties in the state.

The first two injections were given at no charge under direction of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and the Texas State Department of Health. Parents are advised that it is their responsibility to see that the child receives the recommended third injection not later than seven months after the second injection was given in order for the child to receive full benefit from complete immunization. This would make the third injection due in February or March of 1956 which will be before the Polio season proper begins.

At present it is not thought that the National Foundation or the State Health Department will furnish the vaccine for these injections, but that they are to be arranged for by parents with their own doctors.

Dr. Riley as County Health Officer for Mills County expresses his appreciation and that of the State Health Department to all who assisted and cooperated to make the free injection program possible.

Farmers Can Obtain Three Types Of Operating Loans From F. H. A.

Lampasas, Burnet and Mills County farmers can obtain three types of operating loans from the Farmers Home Administration, Aston W. Cole, County Supervisor, said today. The credit is available immediately and can be used to finance current farm and living expenses as well as the production of next year's crop.

The three kinds of operating loans are emergency loans, special livestock loans, and regular production and subsistence loans. The production and subsistence loans are made only to operators of family-type farms. The emergency and livestock loans are made to operators of family-type farms and other farmers and ranchers as well. All of the loans are made only to farmers who are unable to obtain the credit from other sources.

The regular production and subsistence loans help small farmers to improve their farming operations. These loans may be made to buy farm and home equipment, feed, seed, fertilizer, and to pay other farm operating and family living expenses.

There is a statutory limit of $7,000 on each production and subsistence loan and the total outstanding debt for these loans cannot exceed $10,000. Repayments are based on the income to be received each year after reasonable expenses are met. In no case may the loan run for more than 7 years.

When the main purpose of the production and subsistence loan is to improve the farmer's operations, a limited amount of funds may be included to refinance debts secured by liens on livestock and farm equipment.

Special livestock loans are made to producers and feeders of cattle, sheep, and goats, except commercial feed lot operators. These loans are made to meet usual expenses necessary to successful livestock operations, such as the purchase or production of feed, and replacing, hiring, or repairing farm machinery and equipment. Livestock loans are not made to expand operations or to pay existing debts, except incidental current bills.

Livestock loans are made for periods up to 3 years. Any balances remaining on these loans after the three years are serviced for collection based on the repayment ability of the borrower. Other creditors are not asked to subordinate their liens, but are expected to stand by and to agree that a reasonable part of the applicant's normal income from livestock can be used in repaying the loan.

Emergency loans are made to farmers and ranchers who because of losses suffered from the drought or local economic conditions need credit to continue their operations.

These loans may be used for the purchase of feed, seed, fertilizer, machinery repair, replacement of equipment, and for other essential farm and home operating expenses. Emergency loans may not be made to pay existing debts. Ordinarily emergency loans to meet current operating and living expenses are expected to be repaid out of the year's income. Repayments on advances for other purposes are scheduled in accordance with the borrower's ability to repay.

It is not the policy of the Farmers Home Administration to foreclose on borrowers because of their inability to make payments when the payments are due, except where there appears to be absolutely no chance of the borrower's future success or where a borrower has violated the terms of his loan agreement.

There is no limit set by law on the amount that a farmer or rancher can borrow under the special livestock and emergency loan program. The amount that can be borrowed under these programs is determined by the farmer's needs and his ability to repay. No loan is made unless it appears that an applicant has reasonable prospects for success.

For each loan made, the Government obtains the best security available including a first lien on all crops to be produced with the loan and on all livestock and farm machinery purchased with the loan.

Purina's exclusive

MICRO-MIXING PROCESS

does this job

Accurate mixing of stilbestrol is extremely important. You want each animal to get just the right amount so he makes maximum gains every day he's on feed ... so you go to market with an even bunch of cattle. This kind of mixing is just routine for Purina's exclusive Micro-Mixing. You can depend on it that stilbestrol in Purina Steer Fatena is blended so that every bite is just right.

For best results, stilbestrol must be fed in a well-balanced ration. It is no substitute for a poor ration. Steer Fatena is the result of years of research and testing with thousands of cattle at Purina's Research Farm.

Make your feed dollars count by feeding proved Purina Steer Fatena with stilbestrol. Ask for Micro-Mixed Steer Fatena at our store.

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes of Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

card from Mrs. Edna Dw... written Wednesday, Sept. 1. Her mother entered The University of Texas Hospital and Institute at Houston that and would have surgery the following day. But last week we had beautiful autumn days, bright sunshine and mild of temperature. But last week we had cloudy days, and almost night would bring a little rain. In the El Paso I noticed accounts of rains in Texas. One even- saw Brownwood mentioned on account of flood. I hardly believe my eyes. Friday a letter from the Brileys said there had been rains at Brownwood. It had been up in some of the houses, and the subways flooded. I recalled September, 1900, when I saw people riding boats in the streets of Brownwood. Our back yard still glows with golds that raise their wealth above the high rock. The Chrysanthemums are in its buds. So far as know it is the only yellow that we have. It was given to us by Mrs. Jassie Guthrie Lindau, Mrs. Hubert Reeves' sister. The Chrysanthemum was originally a yellow flower, and it gets its name from two Greek words — Chrysos, gold, and an- themon, flower.

Dr. Pearl Thompson, teacher of English in Texas Western College, called me last week and told me the Texas Woman's Press Association, District 1, of which she is president, was meeting Thursday night, Sept. 29, at the home of Mrs. B. F. Stevens, 217 E. Blacker St., and she insisted that I be present. I promised I would. Later I regretted my promise. We're a busy household, and it is hard for me to go places at night. But Grace said she would take me over there, and as Bill had to work till nine o'clock Thursday night, he could come by on his way home and pick me up.

We went Almodoro St. across town, then turned northward on Stanton through an aristocratic part of El Paso where are many beautiful, stately homes. Such was Mrs. Stevens' at the corner of Stanton and E. Blacker. I had met her before. She is a lovely person to know. She has won high honors as a poet, and she is quite prominent in welfare work. She is a charming hostess. She introduced me to Mrs. Laura Herendeen, who has just won $30,000 by writing 25 words in a contest.

There were only a few of us there, but I found that most of these women have been places. Mrs. Stevens visits a sister in Boston and she has visited all the historical places thereabout. Dr. Pearl Ponsford has traveled in India and China, and has just lately returned from South Africa where she went to see where the waters of the Indian Ocean meet those of the Atlantic. She said she scaled the promontory at the Cape of Good Hope. She was wearing earrings from Hong Kong, and she was wearing a China silk blouse she had made in Hong Kong. She told of going out in the afternoon blistering heat in India to make pictures. She saw a young girl lying on the side walk with her head hanging over the curb, but no one paid any attention to her as they passed. She said if she died, the one that helped her would be expected to pay the funeral expenses. When she came back, she was still lying there.

Nancy Miller, our young secretary, was speaker of the evening. She has been reporter on the El Paso Times, but has recently been pressed into service as teacher of journalism in the beautiful new Burgess High School. Last April she was in a group of newspaper people who were invited to be guests of a New England air line. They landed at Boston on the day they were celebrating Paul Revere's ride. They gave them Paul Revere hats, then started them from Paul Revere's home—restored by the Daughters of the Revolution — and they went the whole distance that Paul Revere went. Passed the Old North Church. They were rebuilding the tower. Had to hang the lantern on the scaffold. Part of the way they were supposed to ride horses. Nancy said she had never been on a horse in her life, and those horses looked so big she just couldn't risk it. I wanted to jump up and tell her how my brother and I rode a horse bare back five miles to old Buffalo School when we were just kids.

They later had dinner and a wonderful program at Faneuil Hall — The Cradle of American Liberty. Nancy said she was especially touched when they all sang America. They also flew them to Burlington, Vt. where they saw such beautiful country — big white farm houses, clear pools of water, and beautiful trees. She saw all the historical places around Boston. She brought back a little book, beautifully illustrated, of Longfellow's Wayside Inn. It has been purchased, restored and added to by Henry Ford, and is really used as an inn now. The book held me spellbound, and how I want one like it.

I also met Lenore Dill. Grace said, "Why Bill and I know Lenore Dill. She used to do the cooking program on TV." Such were the women I met at the T. W. P. A. at Mrs. Stevens. And did I enjoy them!

Firestone De Luxe Champions Give You the Extra Non-Skid Protection You Need on Wet, Slippery Pavements

BLOWOUT PROTECTION

There's no tube to pinch or explode! Inside this tire there's a Safety-Liner, which slows air loss, and reinforces the tire in the event it should be injured... instead of a dangerous blowout you get a harmless slow leak. You drive relaxed, with greater peace of mind.

PUNCTURE PROTECTION

If a nail, or any sharp object should penetrate this tire, the Safety-Liner grips it and slows the air loss... no sudden flat tires, no need to change flats on the road, instead the Firestone De Luxe Champion Tubeless enables you to drive to the nearest service station.

SILENT-RIDE SAFETY-GRIP TREAD

SKID PROTECTION... Newly designed silent tread has 70% more angles and skid-protecting edges. QUIETER RUNNING... Won't squeal even on sharpest turns. No hum or whine because tread elements overlap to prevent rhythmic vibration.

SAFETY-TENSIONED GUM-DIPPING

Firestone's new cord treating factory combines the famous Firestone Gum-Dipping process with Safety-Tensioning, a new process which takes the stretch out of tire cords, prevents dangerous tread cracking. The result is greater blowout protection and longer tire life.

Company Offers Prizes For Stove Round-Up Window Displays

The Star Gas Company is offering substantial cash prizes to appliance dealers coming up with the most original window display during Old Stove Round-Up, October thru November. Entries should be filed with the local manager for the gas company and the deadline for entries is October 15 and the deadline for photographs of the displays is November 1. The photos also should be in to the local manager for Lone Star. Quality of snapshots submitted is not important, the gas company points out. Windows will be judged on originality of ideas primarily, secondly on clarity of presentation.

The following contest rules must be followed to qualify for the prizes of $200 for first place, $100 for second and $50 for third.

Window displays must remain before the public... as shown in the entry photograph... a minimum of two weeks. The Old Stove Round-Up Time theme of "so much more than ever before... automatically" must be used in the window display. Each display must be built around or feature a top-of-the-line automatic gas range.

The dealer winning first, second or third place in the window display contest will receive a $50 bonus if he has a connected gas range on his sales floor. Lone Star officials pointed out that regardless of whether a store is large, medium-size or small, the dealer will have an equal chance of winning. Last year's Old Stove Round-Up winner was a small appliance store. The owner's window display idea judged the most original of all those submitted.

News About Social Security

The 1954 Amendments to the Social Security Act made significant improvements in the old-age and survivors insurance program, according to James B. Marley, district manager of the Austin social security office.

Mr. Marley said one of the amendments increased to $4200 a year the amount of wages or self-employment income that may be credited to a worker's wage record by the Accounting Operations Division of the Social Security Administration in Baltimore.

Social security taxes paid under the provisions of the law are deposited in the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund from which all old-age and survivors insurance benefits are paid.

Until January 1951, $3,000 a year was the most that could be credited to one's social security earnings record from covered employment. No kind of self-employment was covered at that time. Since all benefits are based on the average monthly wages, the maximum average monthly wage was then $250. The benefits formula until January 1951 was 40 percent of the first $50, plus 100 percent of the balance of the average monthly wage. One percent of this amount was added for each year worked under social security. As a result, until 1951, $45.60 a month was the maximum benefit payable to a retired wage earner.

As a result of the increase to $4200 of the amount of earnings that may be credited to a person's earnings record in a year, starting with 1955, average monthly earnings may be as much as $350. The benefit formula is now 55 percent of the first $110, plus 20 percent of the balance of the average monthly wage. Therefore, as soon as the maximum average monthly wage of $350 can be used, which will be in mid-1956, the monthly benefit payable to a retired worker will be $108.50 and the maximum benefits to survivors will be $200.

State Capitol NEWS

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Austin, Texas—Adlai Stevenson, 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, kept his political thoughts and hopes mostly to himself during his Texas visit.

He made only a left-handed jibe at political foe Gov. Allan Shivers.

Shivers has said he will not support Stevenson if he is the '56 presidential nominee.

In his University of Texas lecture, Stevenson said that, while not a full-time economic expert, he is a "full-time Democrat." He sidestepped a question from the audience on Texas tidelands, issue on which he and Shivers broke in 1952.

Stevenson was joined by Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn in an overnight visit at U. S. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's farm. Plane schedules allowed the three top-level Democratic leaders very little time to discuss their party's brightened prospects. They all disclaimed political significance in the get-together.

Johnson and Rayburn said no change in Democratic Congressional tactics is planned as a result of President Eisenhower's heart attack. They said Demo leaders would, nevertheless, try to draft a Congressional program that will put a Democrat in the White House.

Apparently well on the road to recovery from his own heart attack, Johnson sent a telegram inviting President Eisenhower to Texas to hunt with him.

SHIVERS CRITICIZES COURT

Last year's desegregation ruling by the U. S. Supreme Court was part of a long series of moves toward centralized government, Gov. Shivers contends.

U. S. Supreme Court justices "stepped out of their judicial robes" in their desegregation decision, he said. "Nine men, sitting 2,000 miles away, are not going to tell Crossroads, Texas, how they are going to run their schools," the Governor emphasized.

Shivers spoke at a meeting of oil well drillers in Houston, at the same time Adlai Stevenson addressed an Austin audience.

Earlier he pointed out the court ruling can be overridden by act of Congress or amendment to the U. S. Constitution. He cited recent tidelands legislation as an example.

POLITICAL SPECULATION
Sen. Price Daniel has indicated he may disclose his political plans during a series of speeches scheduled in Texas during November. He has kept the door open for a possible race for governor next year. His Senate term still has two years to go.

Meanwhile, Daniel will open hearings of the Senate judiciary sub-committee on narcotics in Austin, Oct. 12, and will hold other hearings in San Antonio, Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth.

Political speculation has swung toward the idea that Gov. Allan Shivers and other top office-holders may choose to seek re-election next year. Shivers for a fourth elective term.

Among the possibilities were Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey, Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd, and Agri. Comm. John C. White. The same speculation hinted that possibly U. S. Sen. Daniel might decide against the governor's race for which he has been discussed.

Fred Masons And P. O. Harpers Tour Eastern States And Canada

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mason and Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Harper returned home last Friday afternoon from a vacation trip which they began September 18, and which carried them to Niagara Falls and on into Canada.

In Memphis, Tennessee, they visited Mr. Harper's nephew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edd Knight of Goldthwaite. From Memphis for re-election would greatly thin the ranks of prospective candidates. So far, only former Speaker Reuben Senterfitt has announced. Ralph Yarborough, twice defeated for the office, is regarded as a certain candidate. White and State Senator Jimmy Phillips of Angleton are probable entrants.

TEACHERS DUE JURY DUTY

This fall, for the first time in Texas history, some school teachers will have to interrupt the three R's to answer jury summonses.

Legislators, apparently by an oversight, deprived them of their traditional exemption. Jury service laws were rewritten last session after constitutional amendment made women eligible for duty.

Old laws, specifically exempting "school masters," had been interpreted as meaning all teachers. That new statutes had dropped this classification did not come to light until school and fall court sessions began.

Teachers summoned are expected to seek reprieve on the grounds that their absence would work a hardship on their schools.

RADAR REDUCES ACCIDENTS

Radars, says Public Safety Director, Homer Garrison Jr., has had a pronounced psychological effect, slowing down highway speeders wherever it is used.

Fatalities on major routes were down six per cent for the first eight months of the year, Garrison pointed out.

Total number killed this year is expected to be up two or three per cent because of increased fatalities on farm-to-market and other secondary roads.

The highway department said surveys show that 12 per cent of Texas motorists were exceeding the speed limit in checks this year. Last year the figure was 17 per cent.

Average speed was higher, but there were fewer speed violations. Average speed for all vehicles this year was closed at 54 miles an hour, six-tenths of a mile faster than last year.

BUILDING PLANNERS HIRED
A professional planning firm has been employed by the State Building Commission to map out a long-range program for housing the state government.

An orderly building program covering needs for the next 25 to 50 years is the goal, said Gov. Shivers, chairman of the commission.

He said he favors a government center built around the Capitol rather than an aimless sprinkling of buildings.

Funds already have been appropriated for a new state courts and office building and for partial air conditioning and remodeling of the Capitol.

they drove to Stewart Air Base in Tennessee, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. George McCann. George is a nephew of the Masons.

They thought Kentucky to be the most beautiful state with New York State next in line.

They enjoyed a trip through the Mammoth Cave in Kentucky. They found it quite chilly in the cave but wonderful things to see. They enjoyed driving through the corn belt in Pennsylvania and Ohio and the fruit of all kinds in New York. They found the peaches to be the most delicious they had ever eaten.

They arrived in Canada, Saturday September 24 and there enjoyed the most beautiful sights on the tour, Niagara Falls U.S.A. and Niagara Falls, Canada. The Canadians reported that the largest Horse Shoe shaped Falls belongs to Canada and the smaller Falls to the U.S.A.

Captain Jones, a Canadian Officer accompanied them on a tour which extended 25 miles into Ontario through the National Park. They also visited such places as the Burning Springs and enjoyed a ride in a basket over the Whirl Pools with 150 feet deep water.

Some other sights were the clock which was made of flowers in the summer and of rocks in the winter. The hour, minute and second hands on the clock weighed 500 pounds each, chimed every fifteen minutes. A large cemented room underneath held the works of the clock.

Another interesting sight was the wishing well where coins were dropped into the well with a wish. The coins being collected once a year and donated to charity.

After the visit to the Wishing Well they donned rubber boots, overcoats and caps and went down an elevator 120 feet through a tunnel to the foot of the Canadian Falls, then back into another tunnel that came out in the middle of the Falls, looking at the enormous tons of water falling in front of them.

Leaving Canada they came to Washington D.C. and visited the Capitol. They visited the Senate Chamber and House of Representatives and saw the Prince of Belgium who was also touring the Capitol.

They then went to the top of the Washington Monument and enjoyed a view of Washington, D. C. and the beautiful Potomac River.

"Now darling, how could I appreciate you if I knew nothing about men?"
