Democratic Group Starts Drive Against McDonald

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff

Formation of a statewide committee, including many organization Democrats, to aid John White in his race for agriculture commissioner was disclosed here Saturday.

Eight of the 12 members of the group beginning a statewide, direct mail attack on J. E. McDonald's party loyalty status are members of the State Democratic Executive Committee.

The appeals are going out under the letterhead: "State Democratic Committee for John White." It doesn't say "Executive Committee," but its slogan is: "A Democrat for the Democratic nomination."

The State Democratic Executive Committee tried to bar McDonald's name from the ballot because he has supported Republicans. It failed in a court test. McDonald subsequently has been endorsed by the Republican State Convention, which did not put up a GOP candidate for commissioner of agriculture.

Johnson Calls For Immediate Price Controls

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Senator Lyndon Johnson (D-Texas) called Saturday night for immediate control of prices as "a military necessity."

Such action is imperative, Johnson added, because price increases on military goods within the last six weeks "have reduced the purchasing power of our defense dollars as much as 50 per cent in some instances."

The Texas senator quoted the secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force as saying the recent sudden price increases "are one of the major problems complicating our preparedness planning at this time."

Johnson spoke out as two Republican leaders joined with Senate Democratic chiefs in predicting passage this week of a home front mobilization bill giving President Truman broad powers over the nation's economy.

The Senate measure—like the bill overwhelmingly approved by the House—would let Truman invoke wage-price-rationing controls whenever he saw fit.

Taxpayers To Suffer

Johnson, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, concentrated in his statement on the rising cost of defense items. But he did not suggest that price control be limited to those materials.

"Immediate control of prices is a military necessity," Johnson said, adding:

"If the prices on defense items are not brought under control, the American taxpayer is going to suffer seriously and unnecessarily.

"At the present rate, it is entirely possible that the $10,000,000,000 requested by the armed services two weeks ago may buy only $5,000,000,000 worth of fighting equipment.

"This means that the taxpayers will get 50 cents on the dollar for their investment in defense. It also means that the proposed $5,000,000,000 tax increase could be eaten up entirely by inflated prices."

Costs Skyrocket

The cost of basic military equipment, Johnson said, has increased enormously during the last 10 years. He gave this picture:

"When we began our preparedness program in 1939, B-17 bombers cost $300,000; today's B-36 costs more than $3,000,000.

"Destroyers cost $7,000,000 each in 1939, but now they cost $40,000,000. Light tanks could be produced for $27,000 in 1939, but today they cost $225,000."

At the peak of World War II in 1944, Johnson added, "we could equip an infantry division for $14,500,000—now the cost is $74,000,000." Six years ago, he said, an armored division could be outfitted for $30,000,000, as compared with $199,000,000 today.

American May Be Supreme Commander For Western Europe

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Strong sentiment is reported developing among North Atlantic Treaty nations, with support here, for the creation of a supreme military command over Western European defense forces.

French officials, whose government has requested more American troops in Europe, have told American representatives informally the commander should be an American.

Britain and other countries are said generally to share this view. They feel the United States has a kind of final responsibility for the defense of the West because of its total resources.

The major reluctance to creating a single military leadership for the Atlantic area has stemmed from military authorities here in the past.

America Is Cautious

They have felt, according to authoritative information, that assumption of such leadership by the United States might cause the Europeans to ease up on their defense program—now being expanded to meet the new threats of Red aggression arising from the Korean crisis.

Public attention has been focused anew on the problem of top military organization by the action of the European Consultative Assembly in approving Friday Winston Churchill's proposal for a unified European army. The assembly asserted the European defense establishment should be headed by a single defense minister.

American officials said they welcomed the assembly's action and the support which it obtained from such leaders as Belgium's Paul Henri Spaak. But they would not commit themselves at once on whether the Churchill plan should be put into effect by the European nations.

City School Registration Plans Listed

Registration plans for students in Midland schools for the 1950-51 school year were announced Saturday by Frank Monroe, superintendent of schools.

Elementary school students will register August 23 for all grades from the second through the eighth. Students will register at the schools which they are to attend this Fall. Monroe said parents who are in doubt as to which school their child is to attend should call the office of the principal of the school they expect to attend.

Also to register on August 23 are students who, regardless of grade, moved from one area in the city to another, or who moved into Midland from another city and are to attend Midland public schools.

Monroe said all students who are to attend the new David Crockett Elementary School, in northeast Midland are to register at North Elementary school. Crockett school is under construction, and will not be completed in time for registration, he said.

All Midland children whose last names begin with A through M, who are to enter the first grade in September are to register August 24 at their respective schools. Again, students to attend Crockett school will register at North Elementary. First graders whose names begin with N through Z will register August 24.

Supply Lines To U. S. Units Are Severed

TOKYO —(AP)— Korean Communists struck across the Naktong Sunday in new crossings near Taegu, and American headquarters said a massive offensive by more than 60,000 Reds may be near.

As the threat mounted to the key communications center on the west front of the United Nations beachhead, U. S. Air Force planes abandoned the vital air field near the burning ruins of Pohang on the east coast. Pohang, once the second best supply port for the Allies, was a no-man's land.

The Air Force decision to quit using the important air field six miles southeast of Pohang was announced Sunday at Eighth Army Headquarters. The field was under continuous Red machine gun and mortar fire.

Only a few hours before, General MacArthur's Headquarters had said it believed the Pohang situation was "much improved."

The new Red river crossings put 600 to 800 troops across the Naktong on the American-held front at dawn. They followed a tank-supported North Korean division that got across Saturday.

New concentrations of Red forces also were reported on the northern front, which is held by South Koreans.

'Any Minute Now'

Total Communist strength massed on the western side of the Naktong for the expected all-out offensive was estimated at 60,000 troops.

The Reds already had cut the main supply route 25 miles southwest of Taegu. They had roadblocks at two points on this road. Taegu is 55 air miles northwest of the major port of Pusan.

An intelligence officer at General MacArthur's headquarters said if the long-awaited all-out Red drive hasn't already begun, "it will any minute now."

The new Communist thrusts hit in a one-two punch aimed at both flanks of U. S. First Cavalry positions west of Taegu, front line supply base.

The North Koreans' expected offensive—which U. S. officials predicted would be a "massive" one—probably will come from the Waegwan area 12 air miles northwest of Taegu.

Two New Crossings

At dawn Sunday the Reds forged two new crossing with from 600 to 800 men.

One force got to the east bank at the northern end of the First Cavalry. This was in the area of Waegwan where they already had established a bridgehead and where most of the 60,000 North Korean troops were massed.

The other crossing was to the south where the First Cavalry links up with the U. S. 24th Infantry Di-

U. S. Moves Toward Censorship On News At Home, In Korea

WASHINGTON — General MacArthur's Headquarters is proposing that the terms of any censorship imposed in the Korean war zone apply to newsgathering in the United States as well, officials here said Saturday.

The counter-proposal from the Far East Command came as the Pentagon, backed by even higher Washington officials, was urging MacArthur's Headquarters to put into effect a censorship for military security.

So far as is known, no mandatory order has gone forth from Washington to the Tokyo and field commands. Dispatches up to now apparently have been couched in terms of recommendations or suggestions

However, the reported counter-proposal from MacArthur's Headquarters apparently is at variance with thinking here. President Truman has been deeply concerned about published and broadcast in-

Woman Is Charged In Fuchs Spy Ring

NEW YORK —(AP)— The seventh American—and second woman—arrested by the government in the Klaus Fuchs atom spy ring was charged Friday with conspiracy to commit espionage.

She is Mrs. Ethel Greenglass Rosenberg, 35, wife and sister of two men already accused of the same crime.

Mrs. Rosenberg's brother, David Greenglass, a 28-year-old Brooklyn machinist, was stationed at the Los Alamos atom bomb center in 1945 as an Army specialist.

The government already has charged that Rosenberg, 32, helped recruit Greenglass as a source for secret information that was turned over to Harry Gold, a Philadelphia chemist who has pleaded guilty to spy charges.

The government claims Gold also was the direct link to Dr. Fuchs, the German-British nuclear scientist now serving a 12-year prison term in Britain for spying.

Altrusa Club Asks For Clothes, Drugs To Send To Korea

An appeal for Winter clothing and medical supplies for South Korean refugees stranded in Pusan, Korea, is being made by members of the Midland Altrusa Club.

The club is part of District 7, Altrusa International, which has been asked by the Korean mission in Tokyo, Japan, to send these things to South Koreans who have been stranded in Pusan.

The International Relations Committee of the Midland Club is in charge of the drive. Ada Phillips is chairman with Grace Wallace and Maurine Mims as assistants.

Contributions of clothing, particularly that for children, and medical supplies may be taken to the Chamber of Commerce or any Altrusan will pick them up.

Plans are being made to ship the first package to Tokyo August 21.

'Spiritual' Mate Shares In Estate

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Nancy Davis has convinced a court that despite the lack of a formal marriage to Texas oil heir Edwin A. McKanna she was his spiritual mate.

The court Friday awarded her a widow's share of his $370,000 estate, a $750 a month family allowance for six months from McKanna's death April 26 and continued use of the family home in Pasadena.

The former San Antonio, Texas, secretary testified she and McKanna entered into a common law marriage in Austin, Texas, in 1946 and didn't feel the need of a formalized ceremony.

Lamesa Tot Dies Of Accident Injuries

LAMESA—Linda Ann Thompson, six, died in a hospital Friday from injuries received when she was struck by a car driven by Sgt. Jesse E. Martin Thursday night on Highway 87, two miles south of Lamesa.

Linda, whose mother is dead and whose father, J. B. Thompson, operates a wrecking yard near the scene of the accident, suffered fractures of the skull, hip and jaw and a brain injury. She was one of five children.

Texas Has Auto For Every Three Persons

AUSTIN—(AP)—There now is more than one automobile for every three persons in Texas.

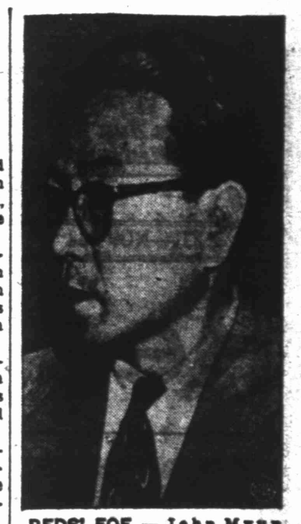
The State Highway Commission announced registrations at 2,700,000 for this year have exceeded those for 1949. The total is expected to reach 3,000,000.

String all those cars together bumper to bumper and they would stretch out for 10,000 miles. State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer, figuring it another way, said they would completely fill a 12-lane superhighway from El Paso to Galveston.

Railroad Freight Warehouse Burns

LAREDO—(AP)—A two-block long freight warehouse owned by the Missouri Pacific Railroad was destroyed by fire Saturday along with its contents.

The loss was estimated by Fire Chief George Renken as $150,000 to $200,000. The railroad had leased the structure to the Universal Carloading and Distributing Company. Some offices and warehouse space had been sub-leased to Mexican customs brokers.



REDS' FOE — John Myun Chang, South Korean ambassador to the U. S., is expected to be the target of a Russian move in the United Nations Security Council. The U. S. S. R. will probably use its veto power to object to Chang's continued presence during the Council's discussions of Korean fighting.

State Retailers' Sales Increase, Bureau Reports

The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research noted without comment that durable goods such as refrigerators and other household appliances which have been in high demand since the start of war in Korea were up 16 per cent over June and 54 per cent over July, 1949.

The bureau gave these additional figures:

Household and appliance sales were up 33 per cent; farm implements, 32 per cent; automotive stores, 22 per cent; furniture, 13 per cent; hardware, 12 per cent; and jewelry, three per cent over June.

Sales of building materials during the monthly period were down three per cent.

Implement Sales Up

Other sales increases over a year ago were: automotive stores, 60 per cent; building material, 50 per cent; household and appliance stores, 45 per cent; hardware stores, 22 per cent; furniture stores, 21 per cent; and jewelry stores, 17 per cent.

Filling stations, with a 25 per cent gain, turned in the largest sales increase in July from June in the nondurable goods group. Other increases: country general stores 11 per cent; department stores, nine per cent; general merchandise stores, five per cent; eating and drinking places, four per cent; food stores, three per cent; drug stores, one per cent, and apparel stores, up fractionally.

Heavy taxation may impair economic incentives, making people less industrious or enterprising, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Texas Researchers Ready If War Comes

AUSTIN —(AP)— If total war comes, the University of Texas research program is ready for it.

J. Neils Thompson, director of the research center, said Saturday the program could be geared quickly to full war needs.

In a report to the U. S. Office of Education, he noted that the off-campus center already has five laboratories in eight buildings doing research—some of it secret—for the Navy, Air Force, Atomic Energy Commission and other federal agencies.

Thompson also released a brochure detailing assets at the research center which would expedite expansion. The brochure has been forwarded to proper authorities in Washington, Thompson said.

Chinese Reds Start Military Aid Flow To Indochina Rebels

SAIGON, INDOCHINA —(AP)— Official sources said Saturday Communist China has begun a comprehensive program of military aid for Ho Chi Minh's Moscow-recognized guerrillas.

The French-language newspaper Echo du Vietnam published the details in the form of a communique. Official sources said the communique had been issued for publication in the newspaper by the French-backed Vietnam government of former Emperor Bao Dai.

Foreign diplomatic circles have heard similar reports recently and believe they have a factual basis.

FALL FLAT AND DOUBLE UP—

Here Are Valuable Pointers In Event Of A-Bomb Attack

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON —(AP)— If that atom bomb hits, fall flat and double up. Don't make for cover if it takes more than a step or two to get there.

Whether you live or die may depend on how fast you move in the very first second—about the time it takes to say "one hundred and one."

The government says so in a book on "The Effects of Atomic Weapons." For the first time it gives you some definite points on what to do in case of an atom bomb attack.

The main idea is to get something between you and the explosion, even if it's only your clothing. Protect exposed skin.

The book was put out by the Atomic Energy Commission. It was prepared by atomic experts under direction of the Los Alamos, N. M., Scientific Laboratory, which the University of California operates for AEC.

Much of it is too technical for the average person to understand. Much of it is old stuff warmed over. But there are new trimmings and details.

Improbable Situation

The book, and AEC defense officials familiar with it, do say that:

You need'nt worry about talk that atomic explosions might contaminate the entire earth with radiation. It would take something like 1,000,000 atom bombs to do the trick and "this clearly represents a highly improbable situation."

No serum or shots can give you lasting protection against radiation. But doctors can help if you are a victim. Exposure doesn't necessarily mean you are going to die, or even that there will be some peculiar, permanent after-effects.

Burns are a greater danger, either from the flash of the atomic explosions or from fires that break out in the bombed area.

The government hopes to provide an advance warning of a bombing. If there is a warning, naturally you rush to the best possible shelter.

But suppose you are caught by surprise. All of a sudden a tremendous, awesome glare makes the sun turn pale. Naturally you want to look and see what's happened.

Burn Is Deadly

Don't! You might get a deadly burn.

Instead, the government says:

1. If you are in the open, drop to the ground instantly, back to the light. Curl up so as to shade your bare face, neck and arms and hands with the clothed part of your body.

This won't hide you from radiation but it will from flash burns. And flash burns can hurt you far beyond the limit at which radiation is deadly.

Keep yourself in a knot at least 10 seconds. After that get up, look around, and figure what next—if you are able.

2. If you're in the street, duck behind a tree or corner or into a doorway, if one is a leap or so away. Bend over, back to the light, so as to shade exposed parts of the body.

Don't try to make it if shelter is several steps off, since the A-bomb gives off most of its heat and radiation in the first three seconds. Instead, fall to the ground, as if you were in the open, and wait that 10 seconds.

Avoid Glass, Brick

Then press yourself tightly against a building, if you can, to avoid shattered glass or falling bricks.

3. If you're at home or the office, drop to the floor. Crawl behind an inside partition or behind or under a desk or table. There's a little time lag between the heat and radiation and the blast from an A-bomb. So for a full minute stay away from windows and flying glass.

Of course, if you're within half a mile of the point on the ground above which the bomb goes off, your chances of coming through it alive are mighty slim. People, buildings, nearly everything within the area, will be destroyed.

Denton County's Old Maids To Be Honored Tuesday

DENTON —(AP)— Thanks to one's frankness, Denton County old maids are going to be honored Tuesday evening.

Dorothy Babb, instructor at North Texas State College here, announced recently she thought there should be an "Old Maid's Day" and that it should be observed by giving gifts to old maids.

She estimated she had spent $1,500 in 25 years on presents called for by Mother's Day, Father's Day, bridal showers, weddings, etc. She said this stream of gifts shouldn't be a one-way affair.

Gifts Begin Arriving

The words were hardly out of her mouth—and on front pages of newspapers—before gifts began arriving. Elaborate garters from an exclusive Dallas store. A watermelon from a former student. A free pressing and cleaning certificate from another.

But the best is yet to come. The Denton Record-Chornicle is publishing coupons which old maids can fill out to attend a country club tea to be given Tuesday. There'll also be a stage and picture show. Also, canday, popcorn and soft drinks. All free. Even corsages.

Mortar Shell Gives Lie To Claim Russia Not Aiding Ko-Reds

The picture was shown to reporters at a Pentagon briefing in obvious reply to Russian claims that the Korean Communists are using old Soviet arms supplied to them before Russia's announced withdrawal from Korea in 1948.

Jakob A. Malik, the Soviet delegate to the UN Security Council, told the council earlier this week American hints that Russia is supplying the North Korean Army were slanderous and unfounded.

Malik said the North Korean troops actually have at their disposal supplies made available to them by the Russian Army before its evacuation of Korea. That evacuation was announced as of December, 1948.

Saturday a briefing officer showed reporters a picture of what he said was a 120-millimeter Russian mortar shell picked up in Korea. He said the Army's interpreters declared it bears the date 1950 painted or stenciled on the casing.

The Army spokesman made no reference to Malik's statement before the Security Council.

He said the numerals appearing on the captured shell are in arabic, the letters in Russian.

Man Charged With A-Secrets Theft Slashes Wrists

LONDON —(AP)— A man charged with stealing a briefcase full of British atomic secrets was held in a hospital Saturday after he slashed his wrists in his jail cell.

His condition was described as "not serious," but a preliminary hearing on the theft charge, scheduled for Saturday was postponed pending his recovery. He is William Ralph Wakeham, 35.

The briefcase full of atomic secrets was stolen earlier last week from Frank M. Greenlees, an official of the Supply Ministry's Atomic Energy Production Division at the new British atomic plant in Risley, Lancashire.

Greenlees left the briefcase and a suitcase in his train compartment at Euston station for three minutes. When he returned they were gone. The baggage was recovered and Greenlees reported Saturday, after an examination of his papers, that all the secrets were intact.

Selective Service Lists Some Queries It Cannot Answer

AUSTIN —(AP)— Selective Service headquarters said Saturday there are some frequent questions it just can not answer.

Two of the most often asked of local boards are:

"When will I have to take my physical exam?" and "when will I be drafted?"

"These are two questions which local boards cannot answer," Brig. Gen. Palu L. Wakefield, state Selective Service director said.

"These two questions which can't be answered because there are too many intangible factors involved."

1. Local boards do not know whether calls will be for an increased number of men or not.

Can't Tell How Many

2. Local boards cannot tell how many of their registrants will be found acceptable for military service or how many will be rejected.

3. Local boards cannot tell whether the world situation will improve or get worse.

4. Local boards cannot tell how many men will enlist for service in the armed forces now and in the future.

"All these things have a bearing on the numbers which will be called for physical examination and induction," General Wakefield said. "Therefore, the local boards cannot say with any degree of certainty when a man's number will be reached in the Selective Service process.

Texas Teenagers Go On Trial For Arizona Slaying

PHOENIX, ARIZ. —(AP)— A defense motion to dismiss the first degree murder charges against two Texas Teenagers was denied at their trial here Saturday.

The case is being tried in Maricopa County Superior Court before Judge Francis J. Donofrio and a jury of four men and eight women.

On trial are Ebert Gene Riddell, 19, and Charles Ray Oplie, 16, both of Waco. They are charged with the shooting of Gustave A. Beauseau, 36, Los Angeles and Boise, Ida., last March 19.

Attorney Jack C. Canvess, counsel for Riddell, moved for dismissal of the murder charges on the ground the killing was not premeditated. The court denied the motion.

The trial adjourned at noon and will be resumed Monday morning.

Dr. Brindley Heads Texas ACS Committee

Civilian Production At Peak

Industry soon will turn a good part of its energies to military output. But before it does, the record ought to show the kind of year it's been having.

Take the automobile industry. In the first half of 1950, it produced 3,894,000 cars and trucks in the United States and Canada—a pace of about 7,800 vehicles a year. That compares with 6,533,641 turned out in 1949, the all-time peak year.

Housing construction, another mainstay of the economy, also has been smashing records. New housing starts for six months of 1950 total 687,000. If that rate could be maintained all year the 1950 output would be close to 1,300,000 dwellings. The all-time high, set in 1949, is just over 1,000,000.

Industry's profit showing tells the story even more strikingly. A survey of 321 companies by the Wall Street Journal indicates their earnings after taxes are 46.5 per cent higher for the second quarter of 1950 than for the same period last year.

Of course we were in a mild recession during the first half of 1949, but earnings nevertheless weren't far below 1948 levels. So this year's whopping gains definitely put business well into new high ground.

In the view of top U. S. economists, there's no question this record performance would continue at least throughout 1950—if there were to be no step-up in military production and no new taxes.

But the need for partial mobilization changes the outlook sharply. Taxes will cut into profits more deeply, and civilian output in many lines is sure to be curtailed.

Yet, whatever the final yearly totals, the meaning of this first half of 1950 shouldn't be lost on us. Industry's performance is dramatic notice to doubters the world over that the American economy is tremendously strong, brimming with vitality, growing with the country.

It's obviously too vigorous to succumb to the kind of government controls we've had to date, no matter what the merits of some restrictions may be. And it's far too potent to fit the pat Communist picture of a U. S. capitalism slowly crumbling from its own internal weaknesses.

Actually it's the greatest civilian production machine the world has ever seen. Potentially, it's the greatest war production machine in history, if it should ever have to become that.

The average American buys less than three dress shirts a year. But think of the other ways of putting on a good front.

DREW PEARSON ON The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Tom McNamara and Fred Blumenthal say: Joint chiefs recommend censoring war news; Marshall Plan aid reaches North Koreans; Truman will keep all Democrats in cabinet.

(Ed. Note—While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, his column will be written by members of his staff).

WASHINGTON — Because careless press dispatches are costing American lives in Korea, the Joint Chiefs of Staff recommended censoring war news.

The first suggestion was for Gen. MacArthur to censor news dispatches within the Korean battle zone. However, MacArthur objected that censorship at the front would be inadequate without some form of censorship in Tokyo and even Washington.

The joint chiefs came back with the idea of establishing a voluntary code in Tokyo to back up the military censorship at the front. These recommendations have been transmitted to MacArthur by Secretary of Defense Johnson.

Neither the press nor the military want to restrict freedom of the press beyond military necessity. Therefore, the idea would be for correspondents and military men to work out a voluntary code, so that correspondents wouldn't be left to judge for themselves what is genuine military security.

Under this code, political news wouldn't be censored, but only military information that might aid the enemy. For example, correspondents should be allowed to criticize military operations as long as this wouldn't tip off battle plans in advance. In Korea, correspondents under military censorship also should be able to appeal the decisions of the censors in the field.

Stifling The Press

The danger of censorship outside Korea is that MacArthur is inclined to abuse his authority over the press and stifle sincere criticism. Even without formal censorship, he has made life uncomfortable for correspondents who have criticized him.

On the other hand, military censorship at the front would be ineffective without at least a voluntary system in Tokyo, where correspondents have as much access to military information as in Korea. This also is true at the Pentagon, and leading newsmen favor putting military news under the same voluntary code in Washington. The next logical step would be to invite the United Nations, as well, to participate in voluntary censorship.

Capital Chaff

House Majority Chief John McCormack of Massachusetts never has missed eating dinner with his charming wife, a former opera star, since they were married 30 years ago . . . In going back and forth to the Blair house, President Truman must drive through a large public parking lot. The attendants — flushed with reflected glory — never fail to come to attention and throw a brisk salute . . . The Senate committee investigating wire-tapping fears its own office phones are tapped . . . New Jersey's new Congressman, Bill Widnell, who replaced J. Parnell Thomas, is taking no chances with his payroll. While Thomas is still in a federal pen for padding his government payroll, Widnell carefully lists on his stationery the names of every person on his payroll . . . Argyle R. Mackey, veteran career man, soon will be appointed Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization.

Reverse Marshall Plan

While Uncle Sam furnishes strategic materials to rehabilitate Western Europe, a quantity is siphoned through the iron curtain into the Soviet war machine. For example, it is no secret that oil and steel were shipped to North Korea by Marshall Plan nations up to the day of invasion.

Last year alone, Western Europe did $1,098,000,000 worth of business behind the iron curtain. Much of this was legitimate trade which bolstered the western economies. However, a shocking amount was potential war material that may later be shot back at us. This doesn't include the illegal war booty that also was smuggled behind the iron curtain.

Yet the Senate rejected an amendment recently that would have checked the flow of materials through the iron curtain without cutting off legitimate trade. This was an amendment to the Marshall Plan introduced by Senator Wherry of Nebraska but voted down by the Senate, 39 to 33.

There is no adequate explanation for the Senate's action.

Note — The nations that do the most business behind the iron curtain are Britain, Belgium, Sweden, The Netherlands, France and Italy.

No Cabinet Republicans

The President vigorously has denied to cabinet members that he plans replacing any of them with a Republican, even if the war out-look grows darker.

"That's out of the question," he declared at a recent cabinet session. "I am satisfied with all members of my cabinet and have no intention of bringing in a Republican — or anybody else."

Some topflight advisers, nonetheless, hope Truman will think it over. They argue that our bipartisan foreign policy doesn't coincide with a strict partisan, Democratic cabinet, especially in time of war.

Also, they add, the Republican replacement of obvious misfits in the cabinet would help the far effort.

Spotting Communists

The unidentified government bigwig who developed a new technique for spotting Communists — almost causing G-Boss Edgar Hoover to turn in his badge — was former Assistant Secretary of State Will Clayton, the big cotton man.

The story goes that GOP Senators Styles Bridges of New Hampshire and Homer Ferguson of Mishigan phoned Clayton to inquire about a girl secretary, who had been denied access to top-secret files of the State Department.

Clayton replied that he knew of no such ban on the young lady, but added that he was positive she was "not a communist."

"How do you know she isn't?" he was asked.

Underground Vaults

Signs of our times: the Byrne Organization, Inc., is planning to build a series of underground, atomic vaults near such strategic centers as Washington, D. C., New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Hartford, Detroit and Chicago. These would be patterned after the German submarine pens, would be used to store valuable documents. Estimated cost of one project with 38 rental units: $4,500,000.

Secretary of Defense Johnson now is claiming he secretly ran the Defense Department two months before his appointment. The implication is that his predecessor, the late James Forrestal, was already showing signs of nervous strain and was not competent to manage the department two months before he eased out.

So They Say

Tiny Letters Open Up A New World

SANTA MONICA, CALIF.—(AP)—A knack for printing tiny letters has opened a new world for Bernard D. Jacoby, retired former city-employee. Forty-six years ago Jacoby first made tiny silver hearts on which he engraves the Lord's Prayer in miniature but readable letters. It all started as a challenge when Jacoby was a lumberjack years ago in Michigan. A crew member handed him a dime and asked him to engrave the Lord's Prayer on it.

"I couldn't do it," said Jacoby. "He was terribly disappointed, so I kept trying until I was able to print it on a little heart."

Jacoby forgot all about the incident until he discovered the scraps of paper he had used to practice printing the small letters years ago. Then he began making them again.

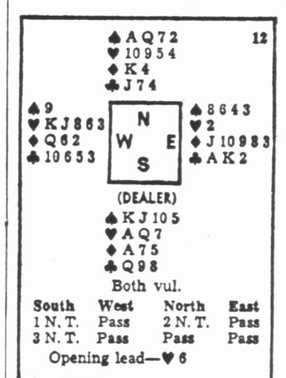
"Here's one that your friend Larceny Lou might have played," writes a correspondent from Lansing, Mich. "It wasn't so much a matter of doing anything unusually tricky. It was mostly a matter of allowing an opponent to put the noose around his own head and string himself up.

"West opened the six of hearts, and South won in his own hand with the seven. He then rattled off four spade tricks, on which West discared a heart, a diamond, and a club. South next laid down the ace of hearts, hoping to drop an honor. East discarded a low diamond, carefully holding on to the deuce of clubs.



"South led a club from his hand and put up dummy's jack. East won with the ace of clubs and returned the jack of diamonds. Dummy won with the king of diamonds and returned a low club, whereupon East casually played the deuce that he had so carefully saved!

"It didn't occur to South that East was giving him the business. He finessed the nine of clubs on the assumption that West must have the king and that his only chance was to find the ten in the East hand.

"West naturally won with the ten of clubs and that was the end of poor South since West could immediately take two hearts and lead a club to his partner's king."

Congratulations to Lansing's Larceny Lou. As my correspondent indicates, some of the finest deceptive plays are more passive than active. You must sit tight and allow the opponent to make the mistake for which he is clearly headed. This sometimes obliges you to save just the right cards, for fear of revealing the true situation to your opponents.

The situation described in this hand is quite typical. When you have the ace-king of a suit, it isn't always necessary to take your top cards in a great hurry. If declarer goes after the suit he may have a finesse; and if you don't help him, he may take the finesse the wrong way. Of course, this sort of play is much safer against no-trump than against a suit contract. All too often, if you fail to take your tricks promptly against a suit contract, declarer will find a way to put your winning cards to sleep.

Brave Fight Of South Koreans Gets Small Notice And Credit

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—In the natural American interest about the battles of the U. S. First Cavalry, 25th, Second and First Divisions, the role of the Republic of Korea's army generally has been lost sight of. It is a glorious record. It will go down in history as one of the great attempts by a native people to resist aggression and put down civil war.

Not too many details of their gallant stand have been reported to the Pentagon. Republic of Korea—ROK forces, they're called — get only a line or two in the daily communiques, and little or no mention in the daily briefings. Bue enough facts can be dug out to give the main outlines of the story.

They numbered originally 96,000 men. How many of them are alive today, no one can say with any degree of accuracy. The original North Korean attacking force was approximately the same size — 90,000 to 100,000 men. But the North Koreans were vastly superior in arms. They had artillery; they had 300 Soviet-made tanks and 100 to 150 Soviet-made planes.

The South Koreans had no armor —no artillery, no tanks and only 16 trainer planes for an air force. They had been deployed in depth along the 38th parallel. They had had some experience in fighting and rounding up guerrilla raids that were made across the line from time to time, particularly on Sunday mornings. But the South Koreans totally were unprepared for the all-out attack of June 25.

Took Merciless Pounding

In that original attack, the South Koreans took a terrible beating.

They were armed only with rifles, machine guns and mortars. They had a little artillery in 75's and 105's, but lost much of it.

There were originally eight South Korean divisions. They were organized something along the line of U. S. light infantry triangular divisions, with three regiments of infantry, light artillery, transport and service troops. But they were equipped and trained primarily for police action and suppression of riots.

Five divisions met the initial North Korean attack. The other three divisions were farther south. Some units met such heavy attack that they virtually were destroyed, or their troops so scattered that they ceased to exist as military organizations. Some men may have escaped to coastal islands, been captured, or faded into the hills. That is why estimates of casualties are next to impossible.

But there are today still five Korean divisions in action. They are identified as the First, Third, Sixth, Eighth and Capital Divisions. The last originally was called the Fourth. But after a revolt in this division last year, the number Four became unlucky. So the division dropped its number and took a name.

Still In There Fighting

These five fighting Korean divisions have held the eastern end of the line, in the last few weeks. And they have held. Their sector of the line has been in more mountainous country. Pressure on this end of the line has not been as heavy as in western Korea, where the U. S. troops have been committed.

For the first three days, the poorly-equipped South Koreans fought alone. Then they got U. S. Air Force support from Japan. First U. S. ground troops did not reach the line until July 4.

The South Koreans did have and still have the advice of some 500 U. S. Army officers and non-coms in the Korean Military Advisory Group—KMAG. It had served as the training and instruction group for the South Koreans.

An officers' school had been established in Seoul. All Korean officers had been trained there in a short course, then assigned to troops. General Chung Il Kwon has been commander-in-chief of the South Koreans since July 1.

As the U. S. flank has been turned in southwestern Korea, forming an inverted "L" shaped line, the South Korean divisions have been pulled back to straighten and shorten the front. Communiques indicate that they have withdrawn reluctantly. There is still fight in them, in spite of six weeks of as bad a mauling against terrible odds, as any body of troops ever got.

THE STORY: Del Dorsam, private detective, goes to Copper City, Ariz., as bodyguard of Frank Phajol, commercial diamond dealer with a shady reputation, to sell a large order to Mike Dominico, a big driller. Phajol's daughter, Pat, goes along. In the hotel bar there is a fight between Dominico and Lee Norton, jilted boy friend of Teresa Jordan, one of Pat's friends who now is Dominico's fiancee. Dorsam also learns Dominico has invited Phajol's competitor to offer him diamonds in order to get a good price. Later, when Dorsam returns to Phajol's room after learning the competitor is Pete Gremcheck, who had previously threatened Phajol, Dorsam finds Phajol murdered. Dorsam doesn't need to look. He knows the diamonds have been stolen.

VI

THE desk clerk brought up two uniformed policemen after Pat Phajol and Teresa Jordan left. One wore a chief's badge and I showed him my credentials, issued by the Tucson police department and explained I was bodyguard of the dead man, Frank Phajol, who had brought some valuable jewelry here and had left it in the hotel safe.

"Looks as if you didn't do a very good job," the chief said, when he finally got his eyes off the dead man.

"I've already been reminded of that."

The chief noticed the ransacked luggage. "Anybody take anything out of that?"

"Not to my knowledge."

"Well, looks like somebody sure crept up on Phajol when he wasn't looking. I always thought something like this would happen to him. I heard about him and the stuff he peddles."

The chief gave me a long look. I said: "He was wearing a .45. Wonder if he's still got it."

From where I stood I could see part of the shoulder-holster and the butt of the huge gun. The chief reached over and removed the pistol.

"Looks like he never had a chance to use it," commented the chief.

"Maybe he had no reason to fear the man who killed him."

The chief smelled the barrel. "It sure hasn't been fired."

It was 4 o'clock in the afternoon before he had finished his preliminary investigation. By that time the coroner had arrived and the body had been viewed and removed. The investigation took place in a special dining room. The hotel clerk, Jimmie Foster, was in something of a dither. It was the hotel's first murder, and the manager, who was off for the day, couldn't be found.

PRESENT were myself, Pat Phajol, Teresa Jordan and Foster. The chief's name was Humbert. He had brought in a stenographer and another patrolman. He was an old hand, and he was no fool.

I knew that I was in for trouble.

"You say," Chief Humbert said, "that you left the tap room and went to Room 14, Phajol's room. Why?"

"I had some information for him."

"What kind of information."

"Such as the fact that Mr. Dominico was already in the hotel."

"But I didn't know that at the time."

"You might have guessed it. The two girls were together, and you knew who Miss Jordan was. The bartender told me that."

"The bartender talks a lot."

"You'd better talk some too." Humbert's eyes were very narrow. "Better tell me what you really went up to Phajol's room for. Was it to kill him?"

I felt Pat's eyes upon me. For a moment I thought she was going to spill the beans about the diamonds being stolen, but she kept silent.

"All right, Chief. I could have killed him. I spoke to him a few minutes and went down to the desk clerk. I asked him if a certain person was checked in, and he said he was. Phajol sent me down to ask that question."

"I've already talked privately to Jimmie. Why did Phajol want to know if Pete Gremcheck was in the hotel?"

"Because Gremcheck was a competitor. He came here to sell Mr. Dominico diamonds too."

"About them diamonds. I'd like to see them, Miss Phajol."

I said quickly: "They're in the hotel safe."

HUMBERT was eyeing me speculatively. "I wasn't talking to you, Dorsam." He turned again to Pat. "I'd like to see them diamonds, Miss Phajol."

I caught her eye. I shook my head ever so slightly. For a moment I thought she was going to cross me up, but she said:

"I prefer to leave them where they're safe. Now that all this has happened, I don't want to take any chances with them."

"Mind telling me how much they was worth?"

"About a hundred thousand."

Humbert whistled. "Quite a lot of stones for him to be carrying!"

Mike Dominico could not resist saying: "I was going to buy about $80,000 worth—20,000 carats!"

Humbert whistled.

"Off Phajol?"

Dominico shrugged. "If he gave me a better price than Gremcheck."

Two South Plains Oil Deals Involving $3,500,000 Revealed

LUBBOCK —(AP)— Two transactions involving South Plains oil lands were revealed Saturday with reports indicating as much as $3,500,000 changed hands.

One was the sale of a slice of the mineral rights on 30,625 acres of the Mallet Ranch in Hockley, Cochran, Terry and Yoakum Counties for a rumored consideration of $3,000,000.

The other was a lease on property of the U-Bar Ranch, reportedly encompassing lands in Bailey, Parmer and Lamb Counties and Roosevelt County in New Mexico. The U-Bar is owned by E. K. Warren and son of Three Oaks, Mich, and the lease which according to reports is not filed, is being effected by Magnolia Petroleum Company.

Mineral Deed Filed

In the Mallet Ranch deal, a mineral deed has been filed in the office of County Clerk H. E. Clingan at Levelland conveying 13.6025 per cent of the mineral rights on 30,625 acres of the Mallet Ranch from Mrs. Helen Devitt Jones and husband, W. Tom Jones of Lubbock, to Southern Methodist University at Dallas.

A deed of trust from Southern Methodist to the Republic National Bank of Dallas in the amount of $1,000,000 was filed. Four notes, the first payable August 20, also were listed.

In Lubbock, W. Tom Jones confirmed that he had joined his wife in the sale of a portion of her mineral rights to the university. He declined to confirm the amount of the transaction. In Midland, Magnolia authorities refused to confirm or deny the other deal.

There reportedly are 800 to 900 producing wells on the Mallet Ranch property in the rich Slaughter field at this time.

Call-Ups—

to be called to support the mobilized guard soldiers.

MARINES

Reserve units: All organized ground units have been called to active duty and more organized air units are being called.

Individual reservists not assigned in organized units: The Marine Corps has announced that this group, totaling about 80,000 and named the volunteer reserve, will be mobilized. Initially, about 50,000 officers and enlisted men will be called between August 15 and October 31. They mainly will be officers of the rank of captain and below and enlisted men of the rank of sergeant and below with combat-type military occupational specialties. A few officers and men above these grades who have badly needed skills will be called.

A few women Marines also will be called.

AIR FORCE

Individual reservists not assigned in organized units: An "initial requirement" of about 50,000 reserve officers and airmen is being called, involuntarily if necessary. Of this number, about 8,000 are officers, mostly captains or below. The remaining 42,000 are enlisted reservists with specially needed military skills. The greatest need for officers is in the fields of navigators, bombardiers and radar specialists. Combat pilots, medical and dental officers, and a long list of other skilled reservists are being called also. The airmen (enlisted men) most needed are in the fields of airplane and engine mechanics, radar and radio specialists, armament specialists, and medical personnel.

Some women reservists of the WAF, both officers and enlisted, are included in the call-up.

Reserve units: An undisclosed number of reserve units has been called up.

NAVY

Reserve units: An undisclosed number of naval air squadrons has been called.

Individual reservists: An undisclosed number of reservists in the organized and fleet reserves are being called involuntarily.

Members of the volunteer reserve, who are individuals not assigned in organized units, are being called involuntarily when quotas can not be filled from the organized and fleet reserves.

Waves and enlisted retired personnel are not being called involuntarily at this time.

SELECTIVE SERVICE

The Defense Department has asked Selective Service to call up a total of 100,000 inductees for the Army during September and October. These are being selected by local boards from men aged 19 through 25, who are not veterans of World War II.

ARRIVES BY PLANE

vision. The Reds also had a potent bridgehead on the 24th's sector—around Changnyong, 23 air miles southwest of Taegu.

It was beyond the Changnyong bridgehead that the supply route was severed by the Red roadblocks. One was at Miryang, 25 miles south of Taegu. The other, at Yongsan, cut off supplies to the 24th Division.

The Naktong threats were the most critical of three points of heavy action along the Korean warfront.

Chinju Drive Stalled

In the Chinju sector, near the southern anchor of the 140-mile front, desperate Communist troops had thrown a road block across the main road supplying the Army's 35th Division and Fifth Regimental Combat Team.

The Red tactics apparently were designed to harass the Americans who have snapped shut a trap on some 1,000 North Koreans in the area.

Elsewhere in this area where U. S. ground forces have made consistent gains during a six-day offensive, further advances were reported toward the important Red communications center of Chinju, now about five to six miles from the American lines.

U. S. Superforts from Okinawa and Japan Saturday dropped 500 tons of bombs on the port of Najin, only 17 miles from Russian territory.

On the Taegu front, two Communist roadblocks harassed U. S. communications and supply between Yongsan and Miryang, about 25 miles south of the city.

Immediate Threat

The enemy attacks along the Naktong were the main immediate threat to the United Nations beachhead in Korea.

General MacArthur's release said the two Communist roadblocks near Miryang, 16 miles east of Changnyong and 25 miles south of Taegu, hampered U. S vehicle and wire communications.

The communique said a Red prisoner of war told U. S. interrogators the 16th, 17th and 18th Regiments of the North Korean Fourth Division made up the reinforcing troops that bridged the Naktong River in the Waegwan and Changnyong sectors.

An intelligence officer at MacArthur's Headquarters had said Saturday that the Red forces in the Changnyong sector were fighting stubbornly as if they expected help from the North Korean Ninth and Fourth Divisions.

Both of these divisions, plus five massing along the Naktong, would swell to between 60,000 to 70,000 men the number the Communists were committing to the drive towards Taegu.

Against the onslaught, the defense interposed the depleted 24th Infantry Division, the First Cavalry Division, and South Korean units, plus the aid attempting to move up from the southern region.

Like Octopus Tentacles

The Allied forces had beaten back two Red attempts to enlarge bridgeheads on the east bank of the Naktong, but a headquarters officer said the persistent foe showed "great skill" in getting tanks across the river on makeshift pontoon bridges and stone and log causeways.

Describing the frontline tactics of the Communist invaders, AP Correspondent Hal Boyle compared them with a "seemingly endless series of octopus tentacles."

"These tentacles," he reported, "have lashed out around the entire perimeter of the Naktong River defense line, seeking a weak spot that would open an avenue to victory.

"In no place have the Reds succeeded. But in no place have they committed enough force to sap their strength except by piece-meal loss of relatively small units.

"But they have succeeded in keeping United States and South Korean troops in a dizzy defensive, except for the recent morale boosting offensive in the south towards Chinju."

It was such a feeler type of operation by the Reds that took the northeast town of Pohang Friday after an all-night battle.

United Texas Drys Cite 10-Year Gains

DALLAS —(AP)— The United Texas Drys reported Saturday there now are 140 counties in Texas where the sale of any alcoholic beverag is prohibited. In 1940 there were 123 totally dry counties.

Dr. Walter H. McKenzie, executive secretary for the UTD, said a "slow but consistent" growth in opinion favoring state-wide prohibition has been matched by a gain of 17 totally dry counties in the past ten years.

He pointed to dry victories in liquor or beer elections in Marion, Scurry, Hayes, Lubbock and Andrews Counties this year and said:

"It can be seen that the drys are holding the line. In the five counties cited the total dry vote was 16,475 and the wet vote was 8,439.

Mrs. Kasenkina Pens Novel About Stalin

NEW YORK —(AP)— Mrs. Oksana Kasenkina, who Saturday observed the second anniversary of her third-story leap from a window of the Russian Consulate here, is writing a novel about Josef Stalin.

"It will be titled 'The Red Devil,'" said Mrs. Kasenkina. "Of course the red devil is Stalin. Who else?

Flash Flood Strands 64 In Film Company

They went hungry for hours, but none was hurt.

A torrent seven feet deep filled Buckskin Creek after a heavy rain and hail storm the creek prevented the film players from crossing to the highway that leads to Kanab, their headquarters.

Censorship—

formation coming from the Far East.

As explained in authoritative quarters, the top level view here is about like this:

1. Instances of public disclosure of tactical military information of value to the enemy have occurred in the Far East.

2. Information released here generally has been within the bounds of military security, although a new tightening up was announced Friday by the Defense Department.

Among other things, that announcement forbade any further announcements by the armed forces of the destination of units which have been alerted.

It was disclosed Saturday that Secretary of Defense Johnson also had issued another order forbidding the armed forces to announce the movements of naval vessels, transports and military cargo ships from the west or east coasts, either before or after their departure.

The Pentagon wants the Far East Command to set up a definitive code which will make clear to war correspondents what will and what will not be of possible aid to the enemy in planning his daily tactical operations.

There was the missing man on the floor above, with a week's growth of beard. He had been placed by mistake in a cell reserved for women and forgotten except for feeding.

"Now," the captain said wearily, "we've got to find that wise guy who answered for him."

PEARL HARBOR —(AP)— Crew members of a U. S. Navy patrol plane said Saturday at a news conference their plane was attacked July 23 over the Formosa Strait by two American-built F-51 fighters "with Communist markings."

The Navy Privateer patrol bomber, one of a squadron assigned to watch over the Chinese Nationalist stronghold of Formosa, escaped without damage and without firing a shot, the fliers said.

The U. S. plane was one of a squadron of Privateers that returned to Hawaii two days ago after a month of patrol duty in the Okinawa-Formosa area.

Crew members said the attacking planes carried the red star and blue circle markings of the North Korean Air Force, but added "they must have been" Chinese Communist planes.

There were other political developments Saturday.

An illness of Ben Ramsey, candidate for lieutenant governor in the August 26 run-off primary, has been diagnosed as acute gastritis. His doctor said that meant irritation of the stomach resulting from his strenuous routine, and probably by food poisoning.

Ramsey hopes to be out of Seton Hospital in Austin and campaigning again within a week. Meanwhile, he issued a statement calling on his friends to step up their efforts while he is ill.

Pierce Brooks will take his campaign for lieutenant governor to South and East Texas this week.

Too Busy To Campaign

There was no word from McDonald on his campaign plans for the week, if any. He has said he would be too busy working at his job to campaign. White, his opponent, will be in Dallas Monday and Tuesday, Fort Worth Wednesday, Houston, Thursday.

Meade F. Griffin, running for the Supreme Court, Place 3, has traveled a distance equal to Ausin-New York and return in the first two weeks of the campaign, his office said. He expects to keep up that pace in meeting the voters.

Fagan Dickson, seeking the nomination for Supreme Court, Place 1, wound up a tour of North and Central Texas. He spoke in Waco Friday and met with campaign workers in the Fort Worth-Dallas area during the weekend.

The No. 1 Sanders is 660 feet ...om south and west lines of sec...on 16, block 41, T-4-S, T&P sur...ey, and 18 miles south of Warfield.

The "Sweetie" Peck field is pro...ucing commercially from four dif...erent pay zones: Wolfcamp of the ...ermian, Pennsylvanian, Devonian ...nd Ellenburger.

...E Ector Slated For ...llenburger Wildcat By Midland Operator

Drilling is to start immediately at ... 13,500-foot wildcat which is to ...xplore the Ellenburger in South...east Ector County, four miles north...west of the Sweetie Peck multipay ...ield in Southwest Midland County.

The prospector will be Vina Bag...ley estate of Midland No. 1 E. W. Cowden. Location is at the center of the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 48, block 42, T&P survey, T-3-S.

Loffland Brothers has the contract to drill the project and is now moving in rotary material.

On Large Spread

The wildcat is on a spread of approximately 2,000 acres on the E. W. Cowden ranch which was purchased from the owners for an unreported cash consideration by Wright and McMillen, Midland independent oil operators.

They turned the deal to the Bagley estate to drill and retained some of the acreage, including offsetting leases.

The exploration is being supported by General American Oil Company and by Phillips Petroleum Company.

The Sweetie Peck field has some wells which have shown for production from the Wolfcamp of the Permian, the Pennsylvanian lime, the Devonian and the Ellenburger.

C-W Lubbock Due Deep Zone Venture

George P. Livermore, Inc., and M. A. Sanders, both of Lubbock, are to begin operations in the immediate future on a 10,500-foot wildcat in extreme Central-West Lubbock County.

The proposed venture will be the No. 1 B. Lindsey, located 660 feet from south and east lines of section 13, block D-6.

Drillsite is approximately seven and one-half miles northwest of the recently discovered Ropes field and five miles east of the town of Smyer, both of which are across the line in Hockley County.

Slated depth of 10,500 feet should test through the Pennsylvanian stratas in that area.

Central Lamb Gets 8,000-Foot Tester

National Associated Petroleum Company of Tulsa has staked an 8,000-foot wildcat in Central Lamb County, three miles southeast of Erath.

The proposed venture is the No. 2 Erving Halsell, located 1,300 feet from north and 755 feet from east lines of labor 2, league 239, Cottle County School land survey.

Operations are to begin by September 15. Slated depth of 8,000 feet should test through the Pennsylvanian formation in that area.

National Associated has 8,023 acres under lease in the immediate area surrounding the drillsite.

Pegasus Flanker Runs High On Joins Zone

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 2-B TXL, on the east side of the Pegasus multipay field of North...est Upton and Southwest Midland County topped the Joins dolomite at 12,735 feet. It is now bottomed at 12,738 feet and is to run and cement oil string before drilling into the Ellenburger which is expected in the next 15 feet of hole.

This stepout from production found the top of the Joins 230 feet low to the same marker in the M...gnolia No. 1-A TXL, the Pegasus discovery, which is diagonally northwest of the No. 2-B TXL, and in the northwest corner of the same section.

Interested observers calculate that the No. 2-B TXL has at least 500 feet of Ellenburger above the water level.

The project is expected to be completed as an Ellenburger producer.

Extension To Kelley-Snyder Pay Indicated

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1-A Lefors-Moore, west offset to a recently completed northwest extension to the Kelly Snyder field in Central-Northwest Scurry County, has topped the Canyon reef high enough to produce.

The Magnolia project, located one-quarter mile west of the Experado Mining Company No. 1 McDonnell, topped the reef at 6,698 feet, on a minus datum of 4,221 feet, which is calculated to be 279 feet above the water level of the Kelley-Snyder field.

On a core from 6,677 to 6,732 feet, recovery was 25 feet. Of the recovery 21 feet was black shale and bottom four feet, reef lime, with fair porosity and stain and bleeding oil.

Operator plans to deepen, then run casing and make production tests.

Amerada Completes East Vealmoor Test

Amerada Petroleum Corporation has completed its No. 1 Morgan Coates, a northeast offset to the discovery of the East Vealmoor field along the Borden-Howard line for a 24-hour potential of 554 barrels of 45.3 gravity oil.

The gauge was flowing through a one-quarter inch tubing choke. Gas-oil ratio was 1,311-1. There was a shakeout of one-tenth of one per cent drilling water.

Flowing tubing pressure was 1,175 pounds per square inch.

The production was natural from the reef lime pay of the East Vealmoor field. Top of the pay is at 7,434 feet. Total depth is 7,445 feet. The 5 1/2-inch casing is cemented at 7,435 feet.

Location is 667 feet from south and 653 feet from west lines of section 14, block 27, H&TC survey, and in the Borden County side of the field. It is about 15 miles north and east of Big Spring.

Official Location Of Kent Wildcat Filed

Official location, as filed with the Railroad Commission of Texas, for Warren Oil Corporation's No. 1 P. R. Chisum is, 660 feet from north and west lines of section 46, block L, H&TC survey, eight miles north of Clairemont in North-Central Kent County.

The wildcat is projected to 8,000 feet and operations will commence at once.

Shows Of Gas, Salt Water In Upton Test

On a partially successful drillstem test at the Sinclair Oil & Gas Company and Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Davis, wildcat in Northwest Upton County, operators recovered shows of gas and some salt water.

The Ellenburger test was at 13,297-338 feet. The tool was open four hours; gas surfaced at the end of that period.

Circulating sub failed, and all of the fluid in the drill pipe was lost. Operator's estimated 15 stands of gas cut mud were lost. Recovery below the sub was 90 feet of salt water.

The venture will be cored 25 feet deeper, then another drillstem test is slated to be run. The intended test will be from the bottom of the seven-inch casing set at 13,328 feet and total depth.

E-C Terry Tester Develops No Shows

No shows of oil, gas or water were developed in a drillstem test in the top of the Pennsylvanian lime reef at Union Oil Company of California No. 1 Cotton, East-Central Terry County wildcat.

The project was tested for 65 minutes at 9,900-28 feet. Recovery was 30 feet of drilling mud with no gas or fluid of any description.

Operator then cored from 9,929 feet to 9,948 feet. After the core was cut it was discovered that a part of the packed used on the drillstem test at 9,900-28 feet had been left in the hole.

That caused the core barrel to lose the material which had been cut. There was no recovery in the barrel. However the samples which came to the top showed some signs of porosity.

The junk will be drilled out and then another core will be taken.

This wildcat topped the lime reef at 9,902 feet on an elevation of 3,262 feet. Location is 660 feet from east and 1,980 feet from north lines of section 91, block T, D&W survey. That makes its four miles southeast of Brownfield.

Outpost In W-C Kent Recovers Salt Water

Spartan Drilling Company and others No. 1-116 J. W. Young, southwest outpost to the Salt Creek-Canyon field in West Central Kent County, has developed salt water on a drillstem test in the Canyon reef lime.

On the test at 6,625-38 feet, recovery after one and one-half hours was 1,620 feet of salt water.

Operators plan to drill ahead to the Mississippian.

The No. 1-116 Young topped the reef lime pay of the Salt Creek field at 6,622 feet, on a minus datum of 4,465 feet, which is approximately 120 feet low to the Estil Heyser and others No. 2 Lehman, recently completed extension one and one-half miles to the east.

The No. 1-116 Young is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 116, block G, W&NW survey.

Eight Projects Due Cogdell In Scurry

The Texas Company has spotted seven projects for immediate drilling on P. L. Fuller holdings in the Cogdell field area of Central-North Scurry County.

They are the No.'s 72 through 78 P. L. Fuller.

No. 72 will be drilled 2,003 feet from east and 1,985 feet from north lines of section 704, block 97, H&TC survey, 15 miles northeast of Snyder at the east side of the field.

No. 73 will be drilled 2,025 feet from west and 663 feet from south lines of section 652, same block and survey, 15 miles northeast of Snyder at the south edge of the field.

No. 74 will be dug 1,988 feet from north and 2,004 feet from west lines of section 615, same block and survey, 15 miles northeast of Snyder at the south edge of the field.

No. 75 will be dug 686 feet from east and 652 feet from north lines of section 651, block 97, H&TC survey at the southeast edge of the field and 15 miles northeast of Snyder.

No. 76 will be drilled 1,987 feet from north and 2,001 feet from west lines of section 652, same block and survey, on the west side, 15 miles northeast of Snyder.

Texas will drill its No. 78 P. L. Fuller 3,307 feet from north and 3,337 feet from west lines of section 704, block 97, H&TC survey, 15 miles northeast of Snyder at the southeast side of the field.

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company has slated its No. 3 Dora E. Cunningham, 2,192 feet from south and 467 feet from east lines of section 613, block 97, H&TC survey, eight miles north of Snyder, for immediate drilling in the Cogdell field.

All these Cogdell field projects will be drilled to an estimated 7,000-foot depth.

Three more projects have been spotted in the Kelley-Snyder field of Scurry County.

Skelly Oil Company will dig its No. 2 J. S. Head, 467 feet from north and east lines of section 290, block 97, H&TC survey, at the extreme west side of the field, eight miles northwest of Snyder. It is projected to 7,100 feet.

Washington Oil—

Congress To Give Oil Price, Wage Control To Truman

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER

WASHINGTON—Broad standby price and wage controls over crude oil and products are among the sweeping powers contained in the economic control measure which is nearing the end of its course through Congress.

Whether the powers, when finally enacted by the Senate, following House approval this week, will be put effect, and how many of them would be used, is left strictly up to the President. He could act if he sees "inflation" threatening. Once he sets price controls on a commodity, he "may" invoke wage control, and, in certain instances "shall" invoke wage control.

In practice, this power in the act may not be used against petroleum and products, unless the President invokes broad price control over all industry.

That is because there appears to be every probability that the industry can continue to meet normal demands and some increase in demand without raising prices for either crude or products. In fact, one important effect of the legislation may be to hold down prices of steel and other items the oil industry uses, either by an implied threat to impose price controls on them, or actual imposition of controls. In the petroleum industry, there could be a need for restraint by domestic refiners in the case of heating oil, as the market firms up with the coming of cooler weather later this year.

A base date for price rollback is spelled out in the Senate measure as May 24 to June 24, although this may be changed before final action is taken by Congress. Some oil producers are worried about the effect of this.

Thus, if prices were rolled back to their highest level during the base period, there would be a reduction of 25 to 35 cents a barrel for California heavy crudes; a 14-cent a barrel reduction in Pennsylvania grade crude. Mid-Continent and Pennsylvania lube prices would drop about one-third. Gulf Coast refinery prices would be forced down one-eighth to one-fourth cent a gallon.

Exempted from the price-wage control provisions are common carriers, including oil pipe lines, which are regulated by other government agencies.

Among other standby powers furnished the President in the big measure, entitled the Defense Production Act of 1950, is one to command production from oil wells, refineries and the like when needed for national defense. Further, defense orders shall take "priority" over all other orders. To help a refiner do the defense job, the President would be empowered to order steel and other companies to come across with the materials needed to do the job.

For a recalcitrant refinery, the President could seize the plant for "just compensation" to be determined by a board of three arbiters. Similarly, he could seize crude oil wells, stocks and the like in the unlikely event that any persons or companies refuse to cooperate with the war effort.

Refiners, producers and other segments of the industry would be forbidden to build up stocks of "scarce" materials as listed by the President, beyond "normal" levels. Penalty would be fine and jail. The government, further, would be empowered to buy up liquid fuels for its own use or "for resale," which seems to put the government into the products distribution business. There is an implication, but no firm statement, that this authority is not to be used to break the price levels.

By implied powers, which are very broad, the President, probably, could institute and use controls by allocations of steel powers. If he so desired, he could refuse steel for the manufacture, for instance, of oil burners, or for natural gas burners. Through the same powers, he could limit gasoline use by motorists, although there appears no disposition for him to do so unless this should become actually necessary.

Before mandatory price-wage-rationing controls are to be undertaken, the President is advised to try out "voluntary" cooperation by petroleum and other industries to meet demands. In cooperating with the government's war effort, the oil industry would get antitrust and Federal Trade Commission immunity for actions taken in good faith.

The broad scope of the powers is admitted even by Senator Maybank (D-SC), chairman of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, which wrote the bill:

"The powers granted in this bill are great," he told his colleagues as the debate opened. "Their very flexibility, so necessary to accomplish our purposes without harm, raise the possibility of abuse . . . This is a solemn moment in our nation's history. We must choose the right course. If we sit idly by and do not take vigorous action now, the nation may disappear from the earth. If we set up what could lead if unchecked to an uncontrolled dictatorship, the nation, as we know it also may disappear from the earth."

Washington Briefs: Hugh Stewart of Denver, whose job as director of Interior Department's Oil and Gas Division has been saved by the Korean emergency, has just bought a home in nearby Arlington, Va. . . . The proposed Senate inquiry into "high" gasoline prices was blocked by Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okla) this week, whose sole objection was sufficient to kill it. The Senate calendar is so crowded, chances are dim of getting further action, it is conceded by the sponsors, Senators O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) and Ferguson (R-Mich).

A public hearing will be held by the Railroad Commission of Texas in the county courtroom of the courthouse in the city of Midland, August 24 at 9 a.m.

The hearing is for the purpose of giving the operators in the Wasson Field, Gaines and Yoakum Counties, an opportunity to show cause why temperature surveys, spinner surveys and compressor tests should not be required on all wells in the Wasson field, and why operators of wells in which possible leaks are indicated should not be required to set new strings of casing cemented from the casing show to the surface.

The commission will enter such rules and regulations and orders as in its judgment the evidence may justify.

Artesia Refinery Is To Double Capacity

ARTESIA —(AP)— New Mexico's largest refinery—that owned by the New Mexico Asphalt and Refining Company here—will be doubled in capacity within the next few months.

C. L. Withers, vice president and general manager, announced plans to install a 6,000-barrel per day packaged taye thermo for catalytic cracking plant.

Withers said addition of the equipment will enable the company to increase its output of high octane gasoline and to produce octanes meeting specifications of any company in the nation.

The plant will be built within the next seven to 10 months by Southwestern Engineering of Los Angeles. The tallest portion of the new unit will tower 249 feet, compared with the 100-foot height of the tallest part of the present plant.

TEXAS OIL ROUNDUP—

Record Gas Demand Pushes Refineries To Capacity Output

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON—(AP)—A record gasoline demand is pushing the nation's oil refineries to near peak production.

Heavy gasoline consumption also is aiding oil states in recovering a portion of taxes lost during the heavy crude oil production cutbacks of 1949 and early 1950.

Domestic refineries last week processed 5,944,000 barrels of crude oil daily. It was the second all time high established since July 8.

At the same time, crude production crept to within striking distance of its record 5,772,100 barrel daily output of December, 1948. August increases in allowables boosted current production to 5,640,350 as of a week ago Saturday.

This is an increase of 936,550 barrels daily since cutbacks sent output to a postwar low of 4,703,800 in July of last year.

Gasoline production last week totaled 19,783,000 barrels. Storage stocks dropped another 1,311,000 to 108,895,000 barrels, only 454,000 below the year earlier total.

All Weekly Output

This means gasoline demand since April 1 has taken all of weekly production—averaging in excess of 19,000,000 barrels—and reduced stocks by 27,000,000 barrels.

Heavy military demand for motor fuels has contributed to the gasoline boom since the outbreak of fighting in Korea but civilian consumption already was skyrocketing.

Motor fuel tax receipts in Texas the current fiscal year are $10,000,000 above 1949.

Gross receipts from the tax the first 11 months of the fiscal year ending September 1 totaled a record $94,799,306, compared to $84,369,014 the same period last year.

The Texas tax is four cents per gallon on gasoline and six cents on other liquid fuels.

The motor fuels tax increase offsets the current slump in the state's income from a gross production tax on crude oil.

The 11-month crude tax total was $73,933,133, compared to $82,968,521 the same period last year.

Not Fair Comparison

This actually is not a fair comparison, however, in that a 10 per cent hike in the crude tax became effective in January. All of last year's production was taxed at a rate of 4 1/8 per cent of market value.

The head of the American Petroleum Institute last week credited postwar expansion investments with being responsible for the oil industry's current ability to set production records.

Frank M. Porter said American oil companies have plowed back more than $8,000,000,000 into their businesses the past five years. This includes expenditures for exploration and development and improvement and expansion facilities.

Porter said the industry now is better prepared than ever before to meet any national emergency.

Statistics Given

He gave these industry statistics:

Proved reserves of underground oil have increased 24 per cent since the World War II demand peak.

Crude oil production capacity has increased 27 per cent.

The Interstate Oil Compact Commission has notified President Truman the industry could turn out over 6,800,000 barrels of crude oil daily if needed for the national emergency.

A commission survey among the 21 member oil producing states indicated an excess productive capacity of 1,314,487 barrels of crude daily on August 1.

This is the amount by which oil producing states believe they could increase output if all wells were permitted to operate at a maximum rate without waste of oil or damage to the reservoir.

Texas Oil, Gas Men To Meet In Dallas

DALLAS—The first major gathering of Texas oil and gas producers since the start of the Korean war has been scheduled here for October 4-5 when the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association holds its 31st Annual Meeting.

Headquarters for the meeting of representatives from all branches of the petroleum industry will be the Adolphus Hotel.

"Since they will be called on for more than 80 per cent of the additional domestic crude oil required for national military security, Texas oil men will use this meeting as a forum for discussion of ways to provide civilian and military petroleum needs," R. B. Anderson of Vernon, association president, announced.

Producer Added To Maljamar-Paddock Pool Of C-W Lea

HOBBS, N. M.—Buffalo Oil Company has added another producer to the Maljamar-Paddock pool of Central-West Lea County.

It is the No. 22-P-B Mitchell, 1,980 feet from south and 460 feet from west lines of section 20-17s-32e, which has been completed for 96 barrels of oil per day through a 14/64-inch choke on two-inch tubing set at 5,289 feet, in the new Paddock section of the middle Permian.

Gas oil ratio reported on the test of the new producer was 1,460-1. Gravity of the oil was reported to be 39.2. Casing pressure was 680 pounds and tubing pressure was 300 pounds.

Swabbed Oil

At 5,279 feet the hole was swabbed dry after being acidized with 200 gallons of acid. Hole was loaded with oil and treated with 300 more gallons of acid and it then swabbed 60 barrels of fluid in six hours of which 15 per cent was basic sediment and water. The zone was perforated at 5,278-94 feet and treated with 1,500 gallons of acid. It then flowed five barrels of oil per hour with a gravity of 37.6.

The No. 22-P-B Mitchell is a north offset to the No. 20-P-B Mitchell, which is the discovery well of the field.

Buffalo has also slated its No. 19-P-A Mitchell to be drilled with rotary to 5,300 feet, at the center of the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of secion 19-17s-32e.

This venure will offset the No. 22-P-B and No. 20-P-B Mitchell.

Continental Oil Company will drill its 3-S-B-29 Warren, 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 29-30s-38e of the Warren-McKee pool in Southeast Lea County. This venture is to be a 9,100-foot test.

Teague Field Due Tester

The Teague field of Southeast Lea County also is scheduled for another venture. It is Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1 E. C. Hill, 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 27-23s-37e, projected to 9,400 feet.

Amerada Petroleum Corporation has plugged and abandoned its No. 1 State BTF which is inside of production in the Hightower pool of Northwest Lea County.

The field try failed to develop signs of commercial production from the Pennsylvanian or Devonian, the two pay horizons of the Hightower field.

Bottomed at 11,185

The No. 1 State BTF was drilled to a total depth of 11,185 feet in lime.

Exact location of the failure is 1,980 feet from the north and west lines of section 23-12s-33e.

Hudson & Hudson has abandoned their No. 1 State-Amerada as a dry hole at a total depth of 3,705 feet in the Yates lime of the upper Permian in Central-Southeast Lea County.

The wildcat developed sulphur water at 3,700-3,705 feet.

No. 1-C Santa Fe Dry

Magnolia Petroleum Company has given orders to abandon its No. 1-C Santa Fe in the Bough area of Northeast Lea County.

Operator drilled to 10,205 feet before classifying the venture as a failure.

A drillstem test was taken from 9,838 to 9,846 feet. Tool was open two hours. Recovery through a 5/8th-inch choke was 1,080 feet of water blanket and 2,430 feet of salt water.

Hole was made to a total depth of 10,205 feet, but samples did not contain enough show to take another drillstem test.

Magnolia Venture Tests

The same company's No. 1 Mathews-Federal drillstem tested at 9,618-26. Recovery was 34 feet of drilling mud with no shows of oil, gas or water.

This venture also is in Northeast Lea County in the Bough area. Exact location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 13-9s-35e.

Operator now is running two-inch tubing to test.

Honolulu Oil Corporation's No. 4 State, south offset to the same company's No. 1 State, discovery well of the Chisum field in South-Central Chaves County, is coring below 6,575 feet.

No Show On Core

On a previous core at 6,495-6,520 feet recovery was 21 feet of which the top 17 was black shale, next three feet red shale and the bottom one foot was dense tan lime.

The core contained no show of oil.

The No. 4 State is at the center of the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 13-11s-27e.

McAlester Fuel Company No. 1-A Brownfield, wildcat in Northeast Lea County, is drilling below 11,170 feet in the Mississippian which was topped at 10,528 feet.

Drillsite is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 24-12s-37e. It is scheduled to go to 11,500 feet.

Chaves Wildcat Drilling

Amerada Petroleum Corporation's No. 1-RA State, wildcat in East-Central Chaves County, is drilling below 9,940 feet in Pennsylvanian lime.

The location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 22-8s-32e. That makes it two miles southwest of Barnsdall Oil Company No. 1-A State, a dry hole at total depth of 12,040 feet in granite.

The No. 1-RA State is slated to go to that depth.

Does This Answer Your Military Questions?

AUSTIN—Two of the most prevalent questions which men are asking state draft boards now are: "When will I have to take my physical exam?" and "When will I be drafted?"

"These are two questions which local boards cannot answer," Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state Selective Service director, said today, in commenting on queries which are coming in to the draft boards.

"These two questions can't be answered," the state director continued, "because there are too many intangible factors involved."

General Wakefield listed some of the reasons why local boards can't answer these questions:

1. Local boards do not know whether calls will be for an increased number of men or not.

2. Local boards cannot tell how many of their registrants will be found acceptable for military service or how many will be rejected.

3. Local boards cannot tell whether the world situation will improve or get worse.

4. Local boards cannot tell how many men will enlist for service in the armed forces now and in the future.

"All these things have a bearing on the numbers which will be called for physical examination and induction," General Wakefield said. "Therefore, the local boards cannot say with any degree of certainty when a man's number will be reached in the Selective Service process."

The state director urged men not ask these two questions. At the same time he called upon registrants to be alert and advise of changes of address and status.

Postpone Exams For Draft Registrants In Reserve Units

AUSTIN—State Selective Service headquarters received official notification by mail from National Headquarters that draft registrants enlisted in an organized unit of the reserves or National Guard will have orders to report for physical examination or induction postponed.

Such postponements will be for an indefinite time "until terminated by the Director of Selective Service" in Washington. This means that such registrants can join organized units either before or after being placed in 1-A, before or after receiving an order to report for physical examination, or before or after receiving an order to report for induction.

Oldsters Needlessly Flood Draft Boards

AUSTIN—Some men registered under the World War II draft act, now past 40 and 50 years of age, are attempting to advise old local boards of changes of address and status, although these draft boards have been out of existence for years.

As a result, these cards and letters are flooding present local boards and Selective Service headquarters here.

Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state director of Selective Service, advised today that "these men no longer have to advise of any change of address or status, as the law under which they registered was terminated by Congress in 1947."

The only men who are obligated to keep local boards advised are those registered under the Selective Service Act of 1948, which became law on June 24, 1948, the state director pointed out.

Indians Bop Swatters 9-3

The Midland Indians move to Ballinger Sunday afternoon for a two-game series. Lefty Max Harris may be the starting hurler.

The Tribe returns home Tuesday to face the Odessa Oilers. A doubleheader, starting at 6:30 p.m., will be played on the opening day of the series.

The Midland Indians treated Sam Morris, Jr., Sweetwater Swatter hurler, more than slightly rough Saturday night in Indian Park as they took a 9 to 3 decision to give Ralph Blair his fifteenth victory of the season.

The Indians unloaded on Morris for three doubles and two triples in an 11-hit attack while Blair was holding the Swatters to four singles and a home run by Thomas Guinn.

The Indians jumped to a two-run lead in the initial frame as the Swatters made two costly miscues, Mike Bellone got a single and he and Lou Dawson, who walked, pulled a double steal with Bellone scoring.

Dawson walked and moved to second on an infield out and scored on Jim Prince's single to right in the third to give the Tribe a 3-0 lead.

Guinn Homers

Hal Abbott's single, followed by Guinn's home run over the right field wall broke the scoring ice for the Swatters in the fourth.

Midland added one in the sixth on Tex Stephenson's single and a double by Bob Cramer, who was the big sticker of the night. Cramer clouted two doubles and a triple to drive in three runs.

A walk to Morris and consecutive singles by Fred Haller and Bob Rose plated a run in a blustery top of the seventh for Sweetwater.

With the bases loaded, Morris on third, Warren Sliter popped up to the second baseman and Bellone dropped the ball through his outstretched fingers. Umpire Sykes ruled an infield fly on the ball and called Sliter out.

Meantime, Morris slid into the plate and Kenny Jones made a close play for him. Sykes allowed him to score.

Chiola, Sliter Tossed

It all ended with Manager Dom Chiola and Sliter getting tossed after they staged a scene about the infield fly ruling. It didn't really matter because the Indians unloaded for four runs in the bottom of the frame.

Mike Bellone walked after one was out. Lou Dawson tripled him home and Prince's single plated Dawson. Prince was out trying to steal second. Tex Stephenson then walked and went to third on a perfectly executed hit-and-run play with Kenny Jones pounding a single through the hole at first.

Bob Cramer blasted a triple to the fence in left-center field to drive in Stephenson and Jones.

Scooter Hughes scored the last run of the ball game when he reached base by forcing Ralph Blair, who had singled and going to third on a two-base error. He scored on a long fly by Bellone.

Blair had some control trouble, walking six, but he struck out eight.

Alpine Takes Opener In Semi-Pro Series

ALPINE —(AP)— Alpine outscored Weimar 17-10 Saturday in the opener of a five-game series to determine the state semi-pro baseball champion.

Knobby Graves, Alpine hurler, banged out five hits in five trips to the plate. Seven homers were hit in the contest. Bubby Parker, Alpine third sacker, rapped two.

The second game of the series will be played here Sunday.

Stranahan Nabs Lead In 'World' Amateur

CHICAGO —(AP)— Wilford Wehrle of Ormond Beach, Fla., leader for the first two rounds of the "World" Amateur Golf Tourney, Saturday yielded the top spot to Toledo's Frank Stranahan at the 54-hole stage.

Stranahan's third-round 35-36—71, one under par for the Tom O'Shanter course, gave him a 216 aggregate, a stroke ahead of Wehrle who Saturday needed 36-38—74 for 217.

Bums Make Seven Errors In Losing To Bostonians 10-2

BOSTON —(AP)— The Brooklyn Dodgers approached an error record Saturday night with seven misplays as they were thumped 10-2 by Boston's Braves, who remained within five games of the front-running Philadelphia Phillies.

In gaining his fifteenth victory, lefthander Warren Spahn fanned six Dodgers.

The National League record of most errors in a single game is 11 held by St. Louis (twice) and the Braves. The major league record of 12 errors in one game is held by both Detroit and the Chicago White Sox.

Indians Sign Lefty Max Harris, Hurler

The Midland Indians Saturday signed Max Harris, former left-handed pitching ace of the MHS Bulldogs. Harris also has pitched semi-pro ball.

Harris is immediately available for duty and will take his turn soon.

It is a return to duty for Harris, who toiled in the Indian spangles earlier in the season, and did all right.

Volcanic Romps In Meadowland Classic

CHICAGO —(AP)— Volcanic, one of the top turf course runners in the country, exploded a winning gallop in the $27,425 Meadowland Handicap before 19,845 fans at Washington Park Saturday.

The strapping five-year-old son of Ambrose Light-Hot Supper took the lead shortly after entering the final lane and won by a length and a quarter under the crushing burden of 130 pounds.

There was a regular cavalry charge behind him at the sixteenth pole. Hasty House Farm's Seward, who ran coupled with Inseparable, finally edged out King Ranch's Swap Out for second money. Calumet Farm's Fervent was fourth in the field of nine.

Choo Choo Justice Voted Most Valuable

CHICAGO —(AP)— Charlie (Choo Choo) Justice, shifty sprinter who sparked the college football All-Stars to a spectacular 17 to 7 triumph over the Philadelphia Eagles, was named the most valuable all-star player Saturday.

The flashy North Carolina halfback was selected by newspapermen who covered the game Friday night in Soldier Field. He outdistanced his nearest rival, Eddie Le Baron, College of Pacific quarterback, by a two to one margin.

Six other All-Stars, all linesmen, received votes.

Fists Fly As Phils Nip New York 5-4

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— Fists flew and tempers flared Saturday as the league-leading Philadelphia Phillies edged the New York Giants 5-4 in 11 innings.

The rhubarb occurred in the fourth inning and led indirectly to the winning of the game. In the fourth, catcher Andy Seminick of the Phils and Bill Rigney of the Giants were banished for fighting.

Stan Lopata replaced Seminick behind the bat for the Phils and tripled and scored the winning run in the eleventh. Lopata connected with one out against reliefer David Koslo. Koslo intentionally passed the next two hitters to load the bases but Ed Waitkus sent a fly to centerfield and Lopata scored after the catch.

Distracts Batters

Before the booting of Rigney and Seminick, Ed Stanky of the Giants was heaved out for waving his arms at second base to distract the Philadelphia batters. Stanky had done this against the Phils and Braves previously and before the game it was announced he would hold off this tactic Saturday. The Giants played the rest of the game under protest following Stanky's removal. There's nothing in the rules to prevent such a maneuver.

Seminick incurred the wrath of the Giants as early as the second inning when he bumped hard into third baseman Hank Thompson. Thompson was knocked out and removed from the game. In the fourth, Seminick got on base on an error. Mike Goliat then bounced to Alvin Dark who tossed to Rigney to force Seminick. Seminick slid hard into Rigney and the two swapped punches.

Bauers Are Sixth In 'World' Tourney

CHICAGO —(AP)— Although both fired two-under-par 74's, Babe Zaharias maintained her two-stroke lead over Patty Berg, 222 to 224, at the 54-hole mark of the $4,000 "World" women's Professional Golf Tourney Saturday.

In the concurrent "World" Women's Amateur, Dot Kielty moved into the three-quarter lead with a 78, two over women's par, for a 236 total.

The eight-gal pro meet was strictly a two-way fight for first. Third places rested with Louise Suggs and Marilyn Smith at 234, twelve strokes behind Babe.

The Bauer Sisters of Midland, Texas—Alice and Marlene—were tied for sixth with scores of 245. Both shot 78's Saturday.

Game Management Program Picking Up

AUSTIN —(AP)— A game management program to provide better hunting for Texans is picking up speed.

The Game, Fish and Oyster Commission Saturday announced it has acquired 8,000 acres in Northern Anderson County for experimental wildlife work in the hardwood section of East Texas.

It was the second such tract bought within the last 18 months.

The first, already in operation in the Trans-Pecos Country, consists of 50,000 acres in Brewster County.

Wilbur Shaw To Ride Again Sunday In 'Oil Can' Event

AKRON, OHIO —(AP)— Race Driver Wilbur Shaw of Miami, three-time winner of the dangerous Indianapolis speedway classic, rides again Sunday before a crowd expected to number possibly 60,000.

This time, though, he'll "drive" a motorless soap box that won't move downhill much faster than 30 miles an hour. His competition won't be too tough, either.

The other speed devils in the Oil Can Trophy Race are to be Jack Dempsey, ex-world heavyweight champ, and film star Jimmy Stewart. William Boyd, Hollywood's Hopalong Cassidy, will referee.

This stunt race will precede by 15 minutes the thirteenth annual Soap Box Derby in which 147 youngsters sponsored by newspapers across the nation will roll down a 975.4-foot course.

St. Louis Kayoes Cincinnati 3-1

CINCINNATI —(AP)— Max Lanier elbowed the St. Louis Cardinals to a 3-1 victory over the Cincinnati Reds here Saturday night.

However, the Reds could blame four errors with part of the defeat. The winning Redbirds committed three miscues. Stan, the Man, led the St. Louis hit attack with three safeties. It was a game of "die on base." The Redbirds had 14 stranded while Cincinnati had 11 LOB's.

HOUSTON —(AP)— Houston won the Texas Little League baseball championship Saturday by defeating Texas City 2 to 0.

Austin took third place in the state tournament with a 3 to 2 victory over Victoria.

Houston is to play the California state champion August 18, 19, 20 at Austin, Texas, for the regional championship and a place in the Little World Series at Williamsport, Pa.

Shell Tags 13-11 Loss On Rendezvous; Plastic Wins

A hustling Shell nine climaxed a long, upward climb with a 13-11 defeat of the fourth-place Rendezvous and Western Plastic beat the Rotary Engineers 5-3 in makeup softball games played Friday night in the JayCee-sponsored City Major League.

Shell trailed only briefly in the fifth inning while notching the victory that may land them in a playoff berth. Rendezvous retains fourth place by a half game, however.

Pitcher Burt David started for Shell but got into trouble in the top of the sixth inning and retired in favor of Jack Smith. Smith fared no better and Shortstop Will Salmon came on with runners on first and second. Salmon nipped Art Grove on an infield roller and quelled the rally with a brilliant strikeout of Odell Cook. He was the only batter of the tilt fanned by Shell hurlers.

It was a battle of base hits from start to finish. Wayne Lanham and Big John McDonald hit three for three for the losers. McDonald continued his hitting splurge with a two-run homer and two doubles and the circuit-master and a double came after he had suffered a painful ankle injury in the first frame.

Koen Homers

Losing pitcher Sammy Koen homered with none on in the fourth.

Frank McCormick provided most of the impetus of the Shell attack. Joe Chappell opened the third with a homerun and McCormick immediately repeated the blast. In his next appearance, McCormick blasted one down the third base line and out of the park.

Guy Creighton attempted to stretch a triple on home but was caught at the plate by a relayed throw. Hilton Ladner, James Hall and Chappell contributed two-baggers to the Shell cause.

The Plastic-Rotary tilt was a beautifully pitched affair. Plastic's great Jack Dunlap won his twelfth straight game on a six-hitter. He fanned six and gave up one base on balls. Jerry Matejek struck out one batter and walked none while losing.

Plastic's Jim Walker and Rotary's Leland Huffman got the game's only homeruns. Dunlap slashed out two singles in two trips.

The line scores:

Williams, Pfluger Hold Third Spot In Odessa Pro-Amateur

ODESSA —(AP)— Byron Nelson of Roanoke and Amateur Bo Winninger of Oklahoma A&M cut eight strokes off par Saturday to easily keep the lead in the $5,000 Pro-Amateur golf meet.

Finals in the tournament will be played Sunday.

Nelson and Wininger Saturday posted a combined score of 64 for a three-round total of 189.

Other leaders include:

Sam Schneider, Houston, and Billy Maxwell, Odessa, 196; Morris Williams and Marion Pfluger of Midland, 197; J. T. Hammett, Breckenridge, and Dick Martin, Dallas, 197; Ralph Morgan, Tyler, and Raleigh Selby, Kilgore, 199; Vann Ligon and J. C. Hardwicke, Midland, 208; Ralph Coker of Pecos and Evans Dunn, Midland, 214.

Collegian Sets New Soaring Record With Flight Into Odessa

Johnson flew his sailplane 337 miles from the Grand Prairie Airport to the Ector County Airport near Midland and Odessa in West Texas. That is the record for choosing a goal and reaching it. Johnson won the meet with 1,211 points.

Other long-distance flights Saturday included a 263-mile trip to Big Spring by Bill Ivans of San Diego, Calif., a 228-mile flight to Colorado City by E. J. Reeves of Dallas; a 225-mile trip by Bill Coverdale of Chattanooga, Tenn., to San Angelo.

Saturday was the last day of competitive flying. The meet will close Sunday with an air show and banquet.

TWO NEW MARKS

TROY, N. Y. —(AP)— Ed Zeno, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute's recently elected athlete of the year, set two RPI records in 1950. As captain of the basketball team, Ed averaged 16 points per game for three years to register a new all-time scoring mark. With the baseball team he drove 22 runs across the plate for a new one season record.

Lowly Pale Hose Kayo Big Indians

CHICAGO —(AP)— The lowly Chicago White Sox rapped 16 hits, nine of them for extra bases, Saturday, to hang a 11-4 kayo on Cleveland and drop the Indians into third place, three and a half games behind Detroit's idle American League leaders.

The Sox blasted two home runs, three triples, four doubles and added seven other hits for a total of 32 bases in pounding of five Cleveland pitchers.

Eddie Robinson paced the Chicago attack with his thirteenth and fourteenth homers. Luis Aloma, who worked the final five and two-thirds innings on a yield of four hits, speared his fifth decision after starter Howie Judson wilted.

Robinson opened the big Chicago third with his first homer, and before the Chicagoans finally were stopped with four runs on five hits—four for extra bases—Marino Pieretti and Zoldak took turns trying to stop the White Sox for the departed Gromek.

Lemon Bats In One

Joe Gordons' No. 15 homer launched Cleveland's two-run spurt in the third. A walk and two singles plus Larry Doby's fly produced the second run.

Bob Lemon, appearing as a pinch swinger, flied for Cleveland's third run in the fourth with the bases loaded.

Ransom Romps On In Tam O'Shanter

CHICAGO —(AP)— Texan Henry Ransom galloped ahead by three strokes Saturday in the stampede of money-hungry pros for the $11,000 Tam O'Shanter pro golf meet's first prize.

The 39 - year - old campaigner, whose Winter home is Dallas, forged a solid third round of 36-35—71 in the "world" championship for a 54-hole count of 210. This was six under par for the regulation 36-36 Tam course, trampled Saturday by some 10,000 spectators.

Entering Sunday's final round, with second place good for $5,000, Ransom—also the halfway leader—had seven tough, stretch-driving colleagues to contend with.

Three taps behind him at 213 were Chick Harbert, the long-hitting Detroiter who whipped into a challenge with 33-34—67, and Chandler Harper, the 1950 National PGA champion from Portsmouth, Va., who posted a brace of 36's.

Oliver, Ferrier Blow

Group at 214 were these dangerous challengers: Jimmy Demaret, Ojai, Calif., with a third - round 34-36—70; Dutch Harrison, now registering from nearby St. Andrews Golf Club, the same as Ransom, with 32-37—69; Bobby Locke, the South African who won the Tam All-American this week, with 36-35—71; 28-year-old Dick Mayer of New Greenwich, Conn., a pro for only one year, with 34-38—72, and Clay Heafner of Charlotte, N. C., with 36-35—71.

One-hole blow-ups robbed Porky Oliver of Seattle and Jim Ferrier of San Francisco of chances to move closer to the front.

Oliver slammed two tee shots out of bounds for a seven on the par three sixteenth and a final 74. Ferrier faded to a seven on the par four eighteenth when his second splashed into the north branch of the Chicago River, and he eventually three-putted for a 73.

Ferrier was lodged in the 215 bracket with Ed Furgol, the lame-armed star from Royal Oak, Mich. At even par 216 were Oliver, Fred Haas, Jr., Cary Middlecoff, Lawson Little, Norman Von Nida of Sydney, Australia, and leading money winner Sam Snead.

Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Texas, had a 54-hole card of 76-74-74—224.

Texas Schoolboys Prep For Football

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Less than a month away is the start of another Texas schoolboy football campaign, with more than 850 teams in the five divisions of the Interscholastic League.

A scattering of games is scheduled as early as September 1, but none are among the top divisions. There are many games September 8, still more September 15, and by September 23 all the schools will have swung into the grind.

Lamar (Houston) in the City Conference; Odessa, Highland Park (Dallas), Port Arthur and Miller (Corpus Christi) in Class AA and New Braunfels, Mt. Vernon, Dalhart, Andrews and Littlefield in Class A are considered the standout teams in the three divisions that determine state champions.

Lamar may be closest pressed by a team in its own district—Reagan (Houston). Both are rated among the strongest teams of all time in Houston.

Sunset (Dallas,) a 1949 state finalist, and Crozier Tech (Dallas) are due to fight it out for the District 1 title of the City Conference. Paschal is considered the leader in the Fort Worth district and Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio), the defending champion, looks like No. 1 in District 4.

All coaches in Class AA are striving to convince the critics their teams should be rated down in the district races, which would make a most unique situation. Coach John Tomlin of Port Arthur says he doesn't expect his team to be as strong as last season because it has lost speed but that it will have more maturity and will be as big.

Coach Joe Coleman of Odessa expects a good team but says it will be young—that 1951 is when he is due for a powerhouse.

Highland Park has 18 lettermen and a new coach, Floyd Hightower. Hightower, who was the mentor before the war, has been returned to the job due to the departure of Herman Morgan, now freshman coach at Southern Methodist.

Fellow coaches say Grady Hester will have a great team at Miller High, with which Hester doesn't agree. But it does look like the favorite of District 14.

Favorites Picked

The districts look like this:

2—Wichita Falls, Vernon.
3—Odessa, Lubbock.
4—El Paso High.
5—Abilene, San Angelo.
6—Breckenridge, Cleburne.
7—Sherman, Denison.
8—Highland Park.
9—Marshall, Texarkana, Longview.
10—Conroe.
11—Port Arthur.
12—Galena Park, Freeport, Baytown.
13—Waco, Temple, Corsicana.
14—Miller (Corpus Christi), Kerrville.
15—Alice.
16—McAllen, Brownsville.

Wichita Falls Strong

Coach Joe Golding of Wichita Falls has two regulars from last year's state champions — Tommy Fields, fullback, and Bill Harris, center. He also has Jim Self, that speedy wingback, and Ed Beach, a fullback, who were top-flight reserves. And, in all, Wichita Falls has 19 lettermen.

Austin has lost many men from its 1949 finalists but always has plenty of manpower. Hester says Austin will be the team to beat in the District 14 race and that Kerrville might knock over all of them.

There will be 26 teams in the City Conference, 79 in Class AA, 222 in Class A, 390 in Class B and 160 in Six-Man.

Ranchland Hill Slates Tournament

The first annual Ranchland Hill Country Club Men's Golf Tournament is scheduled to get underway September 10 and continue four weeks with matches being played each week, Pro Walter Thompson and Manager H. L. Winkler announced Saturday.

Qualifying will be allowed from September 3 through 10 but entries wishing to qualify for medalist must qualify over the 18-hole route on Sunday, September 10, Winkler said.

A barbecue will be held at the club house September 10 and pairings will be made. Opponents can arrange their match for any time during each of the four weeks to follow. All matches will be 18 holes.

A long driving contest also will be held.

Trophies will be awarded the winner and runnerup in each flight.

Swatters Rap Tribe In 7-4 Tilt

Lou Lockhart, the Sweetwater pitcher of last season who specializes in an assortment of slow stuff, hurled the Swatters to a 7 to 4 victory over the Midland Indians Friday night at Indian Park.

Lockhart got over a shaky first inning in which the Indians scored three runs and hurled three-hit ball from there on. He allowed another run in the fifth but it did no damage.

The Swatters rose up against Lefty Leon Hayes for one run in the second and five big ones in the fourth. Glen Patton chunked four-hit ball after that for the Indians, showing his best form in a long time.

Scooter Hughes' single to open the first inning was followed by a triple by Lou Dawson, a fielder's choice by Kenny Jones after Jim Prince had walked and a double by Bob Cramer. The bingles were good for the three runs.

Hayes Is Wild

Hayes couldn't find the plate in the second and walked the bases full. Bill Hassey drove in Dom Chiola with the Swatters' first tally on a fielder's choice.

The Swatters stormed back in the fourth. Hayes walked Hal Abbott and Tom Guinn and Hassey clouted an inside-the-park home run to send the visitors ahead 4-3. Lockhart singled, Bobby Rose singled and Warren Sliter drove them in with a double. Sliter was out at third trying to stretch his hit to a triple.

Midland's final ruh came in the fifth on Patton's single, a walk to Hughes, Dawson's fielder's choice and a wild pitch. Patton scored on the wild throw.

Stop Grass Fires And Save The Game

AUSTIN —(AP)— Stop grass and brush fires and save the game.

That appeal was made to Texans Saturday by Howard Green, executive secretary of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission. He said a serious fire hazard faces choice game ranges over the state after a hot, dry July.

FIRST CRACK—Freddie Beshore of Harrisburg, Pa., punches the bag, but has his mind on Ezzard Charles, whom he fights for the National Boxing Association version of the world heavyweight championship in Buffalo, Aug. 15. The match, originally scheduled for last Feb. 28, was twice postponed because of Charles' heart ailment. Charles is slated to box Joe Louis in late September.

JayCee-Sponsored Softball Tourney To Open Monday

Play in the first round of the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce Softball Tournament gets under way at 7:30 p.m. Monday on the Wadley Park Diamond north of Midland.

A darkhorse, the Midland Post Office nine, meets the Rotary Engineers, another Midland entry, in the opening game of the first annual tourney. The final game of the first-night doubleheader will pit Shell against the Rendezvous at 9 p.m. Both are Midland City Major League squads.

The postal outfit was the last team to get its entry under the wire Friday and little is known of its strength. The strong Engineers occupy the second spot in the tough City Major loop.

A total of 10 teams filed entry blanks for the tournament. Four out-of-town teams will compete with six Midland entries for the $100 first-prize money and the handsome gold trophy emblematic of the meet championship.

Trophies are also provided for the runnerup and consolation winner. The second-place nine will receive $50 in expense money or 20 per cent of the gate and the other team will be awarded $25 or 10 per cent.

Prizes After Last Game

The prizes will be awarded immediately following the championship game, which starts at 9 p.m. Friday. The losers in the semifinal round Thursday will meet at 7:30 p.m. for the third-place trophy.

The winners Monday and Tuesday will meet Wednesday night. All the tilts will be played at Wadley Park.

The Kruger Jewelry Company donated the large first-place award. Midland Hardware furnished the runnerup trophy and the consolation prize was contributed by Dunlap's Department Store.

The JayCee tourney is expected to draw a large crowd, according to Lloyd Campbell, meet director and umpire-in-chief for the contests. Adults will be charged 25 cents and 10 cents is the admittance price for children.

The first-round pairings include:

Monday: Midland Post Office vs. Rotary Engineers at 7:30 p.m.; Shell vs. Rendezvous at 9 p.m.

Tuesday: Western Plastic vs. Andrews Volunteer Fire Department at 7:30 p.m.; Standard of Texas vs. Pyote VFW at 9 p.m.

Wednesday: Round-Top Drive-In vs. Texas and Pacific Railroad Company of Big Spring at 7:30 p.m.

Reynolds Racks Up No. 10 As Yankees Plaster A's 7 To 2

NEW YORK —(AP)— Allie Reynolds, in constant difficulty because of wildness, had it in the clutch Saturday as he pitched the New York Yankees to a 7-2 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics.

Reynolds walked seven batters and allowed nine hits in turning in his tenth victory against the same number of losses.

The righthander also got the Yank scoring underway in the second inning when he singled with the bases loaded to drive in the first two runs of a five-run rally.

Scheib To Showers

Carl Scheib started for the A's and was knocked out in the big second in favor of little Bobby Shantz. Shantz smacked a home run in the fourth to complete the A's scoring. Gene Woodling, with a pair of singles and a home run, led the Yankee attack. Joe DiMaggio sat on the bench for the second straight day.

The score:

Widener Colt Is Travers Winner

Bed O'Roses, Alfred Vanderbilt's 1949 juvenile filly champion, was second, with B. L. Williams' Passemson third in the field of nine three-year-olds.

The winner, ridden by George Hettinger, covered the mile and one quarter in 2:03 flat, and returned $6.30, $2.90 and $3.

There were five scratches from the field, including Brandywine Stable's Greek Song, winner of the Arlington classic last month.

Season Grid Ducats On Sale September 1

Season tickets for the five home games of the Midland High School Bulldogs will go on sale at 8 a.m. September 1 at the high school and the Chamber of Commerce office, Principal Charles Mathews announced Saturday.

The sale of reserved seats and season tickets will be on a first come, first served basis, Mathews said.

Season tickets this year will be $6 for the five games, tax included. Admission has been lowered from $1.50 to $1.20 for the reserved seats this year.

General admission will be 90 cents and student tickets will be 30 cents.

The grid season opens September 22 with the Bulldogs meeting the Ysleta Indians at Memorial Stadium in a night encounter.

College Boys Rip Eagles

The College All-Stars ripped through the National Football League champions 17-7 before nearly 90,000 enthralled customers in Soldier Field Friday night.

The surprise triumph—the Eagles were favored 14 1/2 points—was balm for the 38-0 trouncing Coach Greasy Neale's gang registered over the college graduates in 1949.

All but Emil Sitko of Notre Dame, out with a muscle injury, saw action in the 49-player All-Star squad, astutely readied by Head Coach Eddie Anderson, who returns to Holy Cross from Iowa this season.

Sharpening the attack were 20-year-old Eddie Le Baron, the 165-pound quarterback from College of Pacific, and North Carolina's Charley "Choo Choo" Justice.

Le Baron's masterful generalship, his flip-passes and his nimble runs through and over guys twice his size stamped him as about the toughest little gent to come along since Davey O'Brien. He left Saturday for Camp Pendleton, Calif., and active service with the Marines.

Justice Shines

Justice was every inch an All-America—a ball of fire lashing 133 yards in nine carries, including runs of 47, 31, 28 and 12 yards.

Justice, who has decided not to join the major pro ranks, herded the All-stars on a 54-yard scoring drive in the first period. Ralph Pasquariello of Villanova punched over from the one-yard line.

In the second quarter, Justice snared a 35-yard scoring pass from Le Baron, who was nearly trapped 25 yards behind scrimmage by several mountainous tackles before squirming loose and spotting his receiver.

Minnesota's Gordon Soltau placekicked both extra points and added the coup de grace with a 24-yard field goal in the final period.

Just prior to the fielder, the Eagles appeared to be recovering with a 57-yard touchdown surged capped by Steve Van Buren's one-yard smash. They then lost their steam again.

SPORT SLANTS

BY SHORTY SHELBURNE

Football season—actual scheduled games—is less than a month away for most schools in the area and coaches are making preparations for the opening of training.

The Midland Bulldogs won't see their first game action until September 22 but they will start training September 1 at Memorial Stadium. From the opening game until at least 10 tilts have been played, the Bulldogs will have no rest.

—SS—

The start of training for Class A schools is Tuesday because the A conference did not return to the Spring training plan as did Class AA and Class B.

Over in District 5-A, where the teams grow tough and the schedule is so full each school can slate only one non-conference tilt, it shapes up to be a banner year.

The district has gone "big time" for this year by naming a district commissioner who will make the assignments of all officials for conference games.

—SS—

Officials aren't worrying the 5-A coaches at present, however. The big thing they are trying to do now is "keep the monkey off their individual back."

Each year they point to Wink, Monahans, Andrews and Pecos as the teams most likely to win the conference championship. And each year the respective coaches deny they have a good club coming up.

But nine times out of 10 it will be Wink or Monahans or Pecos that ends up with the conference title.

—SS—

This year the tune is changed a little. The Andrews Mustangs have been pointed out as the team to beat. It all started down at the coaching school in Austin.

The word—probably stirred up by F. O. Scroggin, the Monahans mentor—is "look out for 'Big Thumb" Tubbs up at Andrews. He's loaded again."

—SS—

"Big Thumb" doesn't deny that he is going to have a fair country ball club but he says, "It ain't so that we're the team to beat."

"We all have got to watch Scroggins and the Lobos over at Monahans this year," Tubbs declares.

That's the way it all goes year after year. But that's what makes 5-A the best Class A conference in the state.

—SS—

Don Mouser has taken over the reins at Pecos and should bear some watching. He is inheriting a fine backfield and a capable bunch of linemen.

Dick Guiterrez and George Christian will give the Eagles two of the finest backs in the state.

Mouser is making his first stab at the coaching profession but he may be just what the Eagles have been needing.

Pecos finished a poor also-ran last season. We still figure the Eagles should have won the title.

—SS—

Up at Wink, graduation will take away Bud Rollins, the all-state back who was the power of the Wildcats last year. That's a big loss but don't sell the Wink High School football team short any year—no matter what the situation appears to be.

You can get an early preview of the Wildcats when they play the Colorado City Wolves September 2 at Wink. It will be one of the first games in the state.

—SS—

Crane, Denver City, McCamey and Kermit all should have stronger clubs this season. Crane and McCamey still may be a year away from serious title threat but Denver City and Kermit are likely to be in the thick of things.

Kermit will have Wayne Culvahouse and the talented Rick Spinks back to form the nucleus of a good club. Spinks definitely is a boy with great promise.

Denver City, from all reports, may come up with its best in a long time.

—SS—

Fort Stockton has everything to gain and nothing to lose this year. It goes without saying the grid team there will be improved.

—SS—

Here in Midland, Coach Tugboat Jones is making steps toward opening training. He has his new coaching staff just about assembled and will be announcing the full slate of assistant mentors right away.

Tugboat, like all the other coaches in the district, is saying "Look out for Joe Coleman and the Odessa Bronchos."

But there has been a whisper here and there—"Look out for Tugboat and the Bulldogs."

Midland To Send Swimmers To U. S. Junior Olympics

Coach Wade Whiteley Saturday said one more private automobile is needed to transport the Midland swimmers to Houston for the U. S. Junior Olympics.

Whiteley urged that anyone wishing to furnish an automobile contact him or Shorty Shelburne immediately.

Full details of the trip will be given anyone wishing to provide transportation for the swimmers.

Members of the Midland Swimming Team who qualified for the U. S. Junior Olympics in Odessa last week will depart Tuesday morning by automobile for Houston to participate in the national meet. The swim tournament is scheduled Wednesday and Thursday.

Swimmers who will make the trip include Paxton Howard, Glen Pine, Joan Monroe, Caroline Curd, Bill Erskine, Roy Kimsey, Tim Cornwall, Larry Friday, Pat Curran, Charlie Jones, Betty Sivalls, Bill Mims, Preston Bridgewater, Ann Beauchamp and Mary Herndon.

The Midland team has compiled one of the top records in the state this season. Eighteen members of the team qualified for the Junior Olympics but only 14 will enter at Houston.

The team won the second annual West Texas JayCee Invitation Tournament here last week for the second year in a row and the Clint B. Dunagan Memorial Trophy, which must be copped three times for permanent possession.

The team is coached by Wade Whiteley.

Longhorn League—
Colts, Roswell, Swatters, Oilers Win League Games

By The Associated Press

San Angelo went 11 innings before it suddenly broke loose with a rash of runs and when this weird Longhorn League game was over Friday night the Colts had a 14-8 victory over Vernon.

Three errors, four walks and Art Cabellero's bases loaded double helped San Angelo score eight runs that wild eleventh. They had tied up the game in the ninth 6-6 when a wild pitch by Dick Tross sent Ken Kowalik scampering home.

In other games Friday night, Roswell broke loose for four runs in the eleventh to sink Big Spring 11-7; Odessa blasted Ballinger 15-5, and Bill Hasey's three run homer sparked a Sweetwater outburst in the fourth that gave it a 7-4 win over Midland.

"Joe is dead tired," said Manager Casey Stengel. "I hate to do it, but this is the right time. I don't know how long I'll keep him out. Perhaps a week. He can pinch hit, of course."

DiMaggio currently is hitting .270, 61 points lower than his lifetime mark of .331. He had managed only four hits in his last 38 times at bat.

Korean U. S. Grant Leads GI March To Recapture Pohang

By HAL BOYLE

POHANG AIR BASE IN KOREA —(AP)—A new young hero of the South Korean Army marched Saturday night toward the liberation of fire-gutted Pohang.

The commander of a veteran South Korea outfit pushed steadily northward through the hills bordering the highway from Angang. He drove toward a junction with a strong American armored task force which rode through three ambushes to save this vital Fifth Air Force fighter base six miles southeast of Pohang.

An iron ring of tanks, artillery, ack-ack guns and doughboys held the air base securely after a night of terror. Saturday the torch was put to 60 abandoned homes within 40 yards of the end of the airstrip. Guerrillas disguised as refugees had crept into the homes and opened fire during the night.

To reach the air base the American tank column wheeled through walls of scorching flame and sniper fire in Pohang itself.

And Saturday, as Mustang fighter planes took off in breaks between American howitzer fire thundering against guerrilla-infiltrated hills west of the field, the armored column pushed back to a ridge within one and a half miles of Pohang. The tank column was preceded by patrols from a negro infantry unit.

Military George Washington

Leading a battle-hardened South Korean Army element toward smoke-blackened Pohang—one-third in ruins—was Kim Hi Che, a 28-year-old colonel whose electric personality and success in combat has made him a kind of Military George Washington or U. S. Grant in Korea.

Three divisions of the American Army who have had him with them quarrelled to have him back—and every higher commander of the Korean Army also has tried to have Kim permanently attached to his force.

Wherever he goes—so has his fame spread — that civilians volunteer to join him. Therefore he raises his own replacements as he marches—and his units never lack for soldiers.

Grandiose Red Plan

American officers report there is evidence the North Koreans have such a grandiose plan.

If successful, such a maneuver would trap all United Nations forces in a 42-mile coastal corridor from Kampo to the bitterly fluid Yongdok area. Kampo is 17 miles southeast of Pohang.

The best bet, as of the moment, is that the Red plan would fail. An equally good bet was that recapture of Pohang in a "double envelopment" by United Nations forces would bag a disappointingly small number of prisoners.

I flew twice over Pohang Saturday and smelled the thick odor of smudgy wood fires and old buildings burning for two days. But I saw only a few scattered people below—and no vehicles.

Allied patrols reported the town appeared lightly held by guerrilla forces. The fact that planes from the nearby American airfields no longer attacked the city directly was indication that no major enemy striking force had been located there.

Malik Efforts Fail To Slow Movement Of Troops To Korea

LAKE SUCCESS —(AP)— The moves of United States members to reinforce UN ground forces troops in Korea are going on quietly but effectively, a UN source said Saturday.

The Security Council procedural deadlock that opened when Russian Delegate Jakob A. Malik assumed the presidency August 1 has neither halted the military measures and relief steps taken by the council in June and July nor slowed the pace of nations that have since offered fighting men, ships, planes, food and medical supplies.

Fifty-three of the 59 UN members are supporting the UN campaign to throw back the North Korean invaders.

The big problem now is to get the offers collected and put on the Koreon front. Transport and supply difficulties figure in this.

The UN informant said the first news that the men of other nations are fighting alongside American GI's and South Koreans under Gen. Douglas MacArthur's UN flag may be a brief announcement that "The troops of X country today did such and such." The next day, he said, there may be a similar announcement of troops of Y country, and so on.

He would not say how soon that will be.

The military situation was described as "serious but not critical" by Col. Alfred G. Katzin, personal representative of UN Secretary-General Trygve Lie in Korea. Katzin, a South African, talked with Lie's executive assistant, Andrew Cordier, by telephone from Tokyo Saturday.

CUBA REPORTS FIRST FALL SEASON HURRICANE

59,444 Additional Reserves Face Call

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Army and Air Force are calling up 59,444 more reserves, boosting to 121,444 the number they will summon for active duty within the next two and one-half months.

The Air Force, hinting at additional future calls, said Friday night it expects to put 8,000 officers and 42,000 enlisted men into active service by early Fall. It spoke of this number as an "initial requirement."

The Army announced it is ordering 9,444 male reserve officers to active duty by October 6. Last week it called for 62,000 reserve enlisted men to report during September and October.

The Air Force is summoning mostly officers of the rank of captain or below and enlisted men with special military skills. The Army wants 7,862 captains and lieutenants plus 1,682 Medical, Dental and Veterinary Corps officers up to majors and lieutenant colonels.

Reserve units called include 330th Field Artillery Battalion, San Angelo, and 411th Transportation Battalion, Headquarters and Headquarters Company, Lubbock.

Explosion, Fire Destroys Country Club At Palestine

PALESTINE, TEXAS —(AP)— An explosion ripped the Meadowbrook Country Club house here Saturday and the fire that followed destroyed the big building.

A. E. Sutton, club secretary, said escaping gas apparently caused the explosion.

The loss was only partially covered by insurance. Furnishings of the building and equipment and equipment of scores of golfers were valued at around $25,000.

Theo S. Maffitt, the architect who designed the club house, said it could not be "replaced for $50,000."

Two Red Officers Surrender In Korea

WITH U. S. 25th DIVISION IN KOREA —(AP)— Two Northern Korean lieutenants walked into American lines Saturday waving "safe conduct passes" and surrendered.

American planes have sprinkled the passes liberally over enemy lines. They are invitations to surrender.

The two lieutenants were the first North Koreans to use them.

The payments were under terms of a state-sponsored cost-sharing hospital building program. As of June 1, 89 projects had been approved.

The singing resumed. The volume was sharply up.

FIRST WITH THE NEWS | MIDLAND, TEXAS, SUNDAY, AUGUST 13, 1950 | SECTION TWO

☆ SOCIETY ☆

This week, a League of Women Voters dream will come true.

Monday, "Know Your Community" booklets containing pertinent information about government of the City and County of Midland will be delivered to each Midland home.

The end of a year-long project, the booklet is the product of 1,500 woman hours of work by 67 league members. It began with the gathering of facts from all facets of city and county government and will end when the last leaflet is delivered.

Seven thousand booklets will be mailed and an additional 1,000 were printed for persons not receiving them through the mail. Since the mailing list was compiled from the 1949 telephone directory and 1950 car registrations, some persons may have been missed. Those not receiving booklets may get them by contacting Mrs. W. Y. Penn or Mrs. J. E. Beakey.

Gathering and compilation of the information was only the beginning of the work, which included hours of typing, and the folding and stapling of 48,000 printed sheets.

Mrs. J. S. Roden was in charge of collecting information about the city.

A study of the Midland Public Schools was conducted by Mrs. Gerald Gaige, who sat in on School Board meetings and discussed history and plans for the schools with officials.

Before her study was completed, Mrs. Gaige became ill and left Midland for Ohio. The study was finished under the direction of Mrs. J. E. Beakey, president of the league. Mrs. Beakey also was in charge of the addressing and mailing of the pamphlets.

Information about the governing of Midland County was gathered under the supervision of Mrs. F. N. Shriver.

League members who acted as typists and addressed the 7,000 envelopes were Mrs. Ronald Jarrett, Mrs. Milton J. Loring, Mrs. Shriver, Mrs. E. P. Whealdon, Mrs. Albert Kelley, Mrs. E. L. Daniel, Jr., and Mrs. H. M. Fritts.

Two hundred twenty contributors made the booklet financially possible and members worked contacting them. City, county and school officials and many citizens gave freely of their time and knowledge.

In the interest of Midlanders, the non-partisan league has prepared the "Know Your Community" booklet so that citizens may have at their fingertips knowledge enabling them to work more actively for good government.

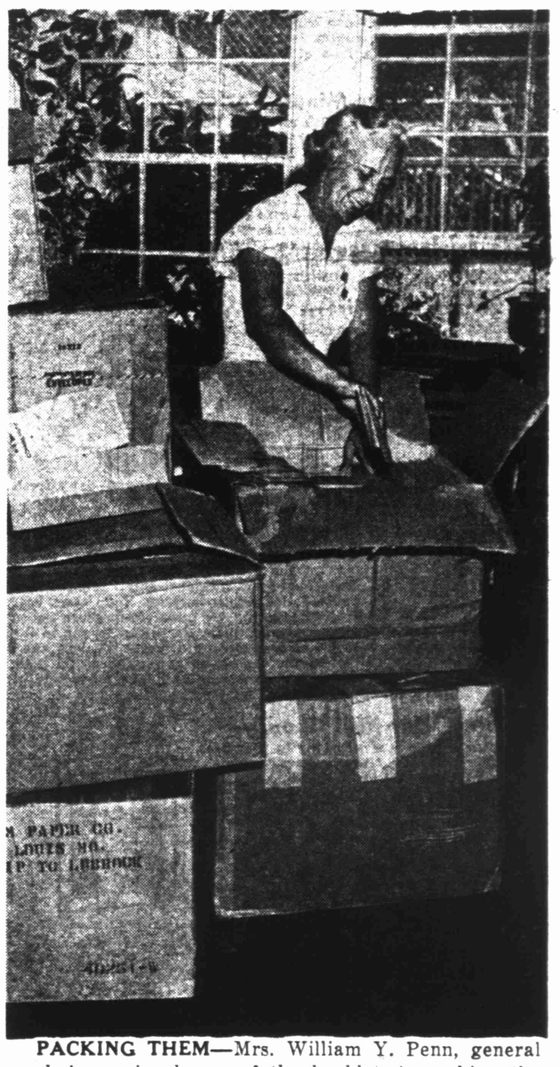
ADDRESSING ENVELOPES—Addressing 7,000 envelopes is no small task. Members of the league addressed this number of envelopes in order that every Midland citizen might receive a booklet. Telephone book and car license lists were used as the source for addresses. Working in the living room of the William Y. Penn home, seated left to right, are Mrs. Ronald Jarrett, Mrs. Albert Kelley, Mrs. L. E. Daniel, Jr., Mrs. E. P. Whealdon, Mrs. F. N. Shriver and Mrs. J. E. Beakey, president of the league and chairman of the compilation of the lists and mailing.

STAPLING THE BOOKS—The rear of the Howard Sales Company was turned into a league workshop as members stapled the books and stuffed the envelopes. Seated, left to right, are Mrs. Guy McMillian, Mrs. F. E. Sadler, Mrs. Coe Mills, Mrs. Edwin Boggs, Mrs. W. W. LaForce, Mrs. E. A. Culbertson, Evelyn Collier, an employe of Howard Sales Company, and Mrs. Ronald Jarrett.



PACKING THEM—Mrs. William Y. Penn, general chairman in charge of the booklet, is packing the booklets, which are packaged in envelopes ready for mail, in large boxes which were kept on the back porch of the Penn home. These boxes were delivered to the post office last week and booklets will be delivered Monday.

Deodorant Soap Dissolves Your Worries

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Deodorants are pulling a Cinderella act this Summer. Long regarded as a necessary but not very exciting staple on the bathroom shelf, most of us considered them impervious to change.

This season, however, they are emerging in new shapes and forms that add to their usefulness as well as to their eye appeal.

For overall hot-weather protection, one maker offers a soap which he claims will deal not only with past prespiration unpleasantries but future ones as well. The secret lies in an ingredient which destroys odor-producing skin bacteria. These tiny evil-doers are killed before they have a chance to perpetrate their foul deeds.

Outstanding in the underarm department are the new spray deodorants. These are packaged in several ways. In addition to the plastic squeeze bottle favored by a number of firms there is also a rigid bottle which sprays by means of a push mechanism on top. Much of the messiness of application is eliminated by this method, and a cooling effect is obtained as the tiny droplets spatter the skin.

Tip-to-toe deodorant protection is offered by a new soap that discourages growth of skin bacteria.

For travelers, a tube deodorant is offered. This packs easily into the suitcase, requiring little space and no special wrapping against breakage. The deodorant itself is a new cream variation of an old formula. It spreads smoothly without stickiness or grittiness.

Other new products which are devoted to making prespiration control as easy and pleasant as possible are a stick deodorant which is applied similarly to a solid cologne, and a combination package of anti-prespirant and a plastic razor which is shaped to fit the curve of a woman's underarm.

A decorative theme that is calm and restful, and still not monotonous, can be achieved by using only two colors in a room. The trick is in reversing the pattern; use brown on beige for draperies, and beige on brown for chair or sofa. Grey with black or sky-blue with navy make similar interesting combinations.

Sweethearts Marry After 60-Year Lapse

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Sweethearts 60 years ago but separated by a quirk of fate, Homer C. Banta and Mrs. Anna Ross were married recently.

They first planned matrimony in 1890 when they were teenagers together in Fresno, Calif. But Banta was injured in fighting a fire and went to Indiana to recuperate. Each found another mate. Mrs. Ross' husband died 12 years ago, Banta's wife last April.

They were reunited about two months ago.

Frosty Sparkle Of Jewelry Renewed After Basin Bath

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

If your white costume jewelry no longer adds a frosty sparkle to your Summer pastels and dark sheers, you've probably run afoul of those twin culprits, soil and perspiration.

Soil-dimmed white jewelry is restored to gleaming freshness by cleaning with sudsy brush.

Necklaces and bracelets in this condition are due for a dunking—to restore them to their original freshness. Warm soapy water is effective both for removing dirt and for dissolving body oils and acids.

For a really thorough cleansing, a soft brush should be used to work the suds around each individual bead. In this way the cord is cleaned as well, and perspiration rot is forestalled.

A thorough rinsing is next in order, to make certain that the jewelry will not be dimmed by soap film left as residue. Drying with a rough terry towel completes the job.

If you discover, in the course of this clean-up treatment, that the cords are becoming frayed and worn it's prudent to restring before the beads are lost through breakage. Dental floss is excellent for this purpose because of its strength and long-lastingness.

Grandma's Rules Were Fine—But Not For Granddaughter

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

A lot of the proverbs Grandma lived by, Granddaughter has now changed around to suit her own convenience. And the new rules worked as well for Granddaughter as the old rules worked for Grandma.

"Feed the brute" has been changed to, "Feed the brute's ego"—and the applesauce seems to work just as well as apple pie.

"Never put off till tomorrow what can be done today," has been twisted to, "Never do today what can be put off till tomorrow — and may eventually not have to be done at all."

Granddaughter has up and made nonsense of that old saw about a woman's work being never done.

Today the woman who can never catch up with her work can't console herself with that philosophy. She just has to admit she isn't as good a manager as she should be.

As for a woman's place being "in the home," well that's just a laugh to Granddaughter. She's revised it to read, "A woman's place is to keep in step with her husband and children and at the same time have some worthwhile and absorbing interests of her own."

Man's World, Phooey!

Grandma was convinced it was a man's world. But Granddaughter isn't at all sure she can't do whatever she wants and get whatever she wants out of life if she puts her mind to it.

Grandma was a firm believer in saving the best for company. Granddaughter is just as firm a believer in getting the good out of everything the family owns by letting the family enjoy the best.

Grandmother firmly believed in "pick up" work, for she thought a woman's hands should never be idle. Granddaughter is far more concerned with using her mind when she has a little leisure time than in using her fingers to turn out fancy work.

Independence Church To Be Shrine For Texas Baptists

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff

A little East Texas church with only 50 members will be the shrine of Texas Baptists Sunday.

It's the Baptist Church at Independence, Washington County, established in 1839 and Sunday it will have its annual "homecoming."

The first cooperative Baptist work in Texas—the Union Baptist Association—was organized by this church in 1840. In 1845, Baylor University, now at Waco, was founded and built at the side of the Independence Church. And the same church, in 1854, baptized a great Texan—Gen. Sam Houston.

All the Baptist initiative of pioneer years of Texas history had its center at the Independence Church. It was the early site for state Baptist conventions — 10 conventions were held there. The convention's executive board almost always held its meetings there. Mention some big name among early Texas Baptists—more than likely, during his career, he led a worship service at the Independence Church.

The original church building burned, but a duplicate was raised on the spot. Baylor University was moved to Waco in 1886 The old campus now is a state park. Frank E. Burkhalter of Waco, president of the Baylor Historical Association, said his group is raising money to preserve the old pillars of the old campus.

The Rev. John A. Held of Houston, editor of the Gulf Coast Baptist, is president of the Independence Homecoming Association. Speakers for a day-long program Sunday will include the Rev. J. L. Rayburn and Mrs. T. C. Jester of Houston, Judge Ray C. Crane of Sweetwater, son of a former pastor of the church and former president of Baylor; and Mrs. W. A. Wood and Mrs. Lily M. Russell of Waco.

Near the Independence Church is the little creek where Sam Houston was baptized by Dr. Rufus C. Burleson, church pastor and president of Baylor.

Mrs. John W. Geary, 840 Ursuline St., New Orleans, La., says that life lately is sure wonderful — she didn't dream the world was such a fine place to live in. She think things look different — like she had just taken off dark glasses for the first time and saw things as they really are. She was suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron, and Niacin, which HADACOL supplies in generous quantities.

Here is Mrs. Geary's statement: "I had been sick for sometime. It affected my stomach so much that I was unable to eat regularly, and lots of times I was unable to hold any food on my stomach. Then I heard about HADACOL. After the first few bottles I could tell a definite improvement. Now my stomach doesn't trouble me at all; I eat anything I want to and the most glorious thing is that my nerves are just as normal as can be. HADACOL is wonderful — it must be; it did so much for me. Thanks again to HADACOL."

HADACOL Has Been A Blessing

to thousands of folks whose systems were deficient in Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron. HADACOL can help you, too, if you will just give HADACOL a chance — if you suffer from stomach distress, nervousness, insomnia, constipation, aches and pains of neuritis, or a general run-down condition, caused by such deficiencies, let HADACOL help you as it has helped others all over the country. Even hundreds of doctors are now recommending HADACOL to their patients suffering from such deficiencies.

Give remarkable HADACOL a chance to benefit you. Remember, you have nothing to lose. HADACOL will make you feel great after the first few bottles you take, or your money will be refunded. Only $1.25 for Trial Size; Large Family or Hospital Size, $3.50.—Adv.

Brunson-Hood Vows Repeated In First Christian Church

Mrs. Connie Mac Hood

In a ceremony held Saturday afternoon in the First Christian Church Shirley Brunson became the bride of Connie Mac Hood of Breckenridge.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn S. Brunson, 605 North Carrizo Street. Hood's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hood of Breckenridge.

The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Clyde Lindsley, pastor, before an altar banked with baskets of large shasta daisies and candelabra entwined with fern and daisies. Daisies and woodwardia outlined the chancel rail on either side of the altar.

Nancy Webb sang "I Love Thee," Greig, before the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer," Malotte, during the ceremony. Mrs. Marion Ailes, organist, played prelude music including "Ave Maria," Bach-Gounod, "Liebestraum," Liszt, "The Joys of Love," Martini, and "Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming," Foster. She also played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Larry Fields of New York City, was the matron of honor and Della Beth Cooper of Lubbock, cousin of the bride, was the maid of honor. LaJuan Dunlap of Littlefield, Mrs. Carroll Griffin of San Angelo, Mrs. Bob Truitt of Odessa and Martha Tull of Amarillo were her bridesmaids.

Bill Echols of Breckenridge served as best man. Lewis Hood of Breckenridge, brother of the bridegroom, Lt. Glenn S. Brunson of Albuquerque, N.M., brother of the bride, Russell Clark of Odessa, Chris Perner of Ozona and Bill Fore of Happy were ushers.

Imported Lace

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of pure silk French imported lace. It was fashioned with a high neckline and Peter Pan collar. The bodice was buttoned from the neck to the waist in front with tiny self-covered buttons. The ballerina length skirt was laid over pure silk net and slipper satin. Her elbow length veil of pure silk bridal illusion was caught to a small lace cap of starched Chantilly lace with lilies of the valley over the ears. She carried a showered bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor. The table was laid with a white organdy cloth centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. Crystal punch bowls and candelabra appointed either end of the table. Mrs. Bill Echols and Mrs. Lewis Hood, both of Breckenridge, served the cake. Edwina Hood and Eloise McGee of Cleburne poured the punch.

Live In Breckenridge

When the couple left for a short wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride was wearing a moss green linen suit with cream colored accessories and a gardenia corsage. The couple will be at home at 612 West Wheeler Street, Breckenridge.

Out-of-city guests included Jean and Jane Treadaway of Dallas, Barbara McCandless of Amarillo, Mrs. Terrell Hinds of Waco, Mary Hood of Breckenridge, sister of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Wilson of Barstow, Dr. and Mrs. L. B. Cooper and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shelton of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Wood and Mrs. W. A. Giddings of Plano, Mr. and Mrs. Sherrill Sullivan of Pecos and Mrs. Fore of Happy.

Mr. and Mrs. Hood both are June graduates of Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, where both were favorites in the school yearbook.

KOLLEGE KIDS' KAPERS

By BETTY BOBO

Know something? It's funny to stop and look around at all the different types of people. Nowhere in the world will a person find some other human exactly like himself. When you think about it, it's a good thing—what if every other living person looked like yourself. What a thought! There is one thing that most people have in common, and that is the fellowship they have with their friends. They enjoy sharing experiences, thoughts, and dreams with others. Rare indeed is the person who does not value friendship. One of the most satisfying experiences in life is to have a friend in whom you can put your complete faith and trust.

It's nice to live in a town where the majority of the people have a happy outlook on life. Midland is a friendly town, and many of the citizens realize the value of true friendship. One gesture of friendship that is always appreciated by the young people away in college is a phone call from some fellow Midlander who is passing through the college town. It's a wonderful feeling to know that your friends and your parents' friends think of you while you are away. Try it sometime! A phone call doesn't take much time and it can certainly create a lot of happiness.

DOUBLE DATING

Is your living room dated? Many homemakers today want to bring their living rooms up to date, but when they approach the task they find themselves faced with a variety of furnishings completely unrelated in design, period and feeling. Wedding presents . . . family heirlooms . . . and comfortable old pieces bought long ago and cherished for sentimental reasons.

This need not be a handicap. It's color, arrangement, overall design that dates your room. By selecting just a few new modern pieces and double dating them with your old furniture you can create a gracious new pattern of utility and charm.

The old davenport has new slip covers to match the new upholstered chair. The mahogany tier table and coffee table (wedding gifts) find themselves perfectly at home in their new setting.

Come in and let us tell you how just a few new pieces can add freshness and sparkle to your room . . . bring it up to date.

Questionnaires Favor Broadcasts

Questionnaires are being returned to the Chamber of Commerce by Midland merchants and businessmen indicating they would like to participate in sponsoring football broadcasts of the 1950 Midland High School games.

As planned, the broadcasts would not have commercials for specific businesses but would point out the advantage of "buying it in Midland."

City Manager Says Purchasing System Now Saving Money

Economies being realized from the City of Midland's new centralized purchasing system are exceeding previous estimates of between $15,000 and $20,000 annually, according to City Manager W. H. Oswalt.

Every item of supplies and material which is purchased by the city, almost without exception is secured at considerably less cost than before the purchase system was centralized under the responsibility of a single individual, the city manager said.

Purchases of office supplies, construction materials, automotive supplies, pipe, valves and fittings, sanitary supplies and chemicals all cost less money now as a result of volume and competitive purchases.

An example of the large savings resulting from competitive buying was the recent purchase of approximately five years' supply of cast iron water pipe. The lowest bidder was $52,000 below the next lowest bidder.

Has Sliced

The city has sliced $235 from the usual $600 annual cost of paper napkins and toilet tissues at Midland Air Terminal. Competitive purchases also have trimmed $326 off the annual cost of paint supplies. All these savings, large and small, add up to considerable sum over a year's period of buying, Oswalt claims.

E. N. Stracener is purchasing agent for the city. His chief duties are to make all purchases of supplies and materials needed by Midland, and to make purchases in large volumes and as often as possible through competitive buying.

The savings affected through the new purchasing system is one of the reasons why the city rapidly is overcoming its past financial difficulties. Reduction of payrolls and the maximum effective use of personnel and equipment also have helped overcome the city's deficient financial status, according to Oswalt.

"We are going to continue to guard jealously the expenditures of every dollar of the public money and when those dollars are put to work we will see that the best results available will be obtained from them," the city manager said.

Bumping curbs or striking objects is likely to jolt the front wheels of an automobile out of line.

3,330 Texas Reserve EM's To Get Orders

AUSTIN—The Department of the Army has directed all continental Army areas to order male members of the Enlisted Reserve Corps, between the ages of 19 and 25, to 21 months of extended active duty. With or without consent, the reservists who are qualified in specified Army specialties will be selected for active duty, Col. Oscar B. Abbott announced Friday.

In the Fourth Army a quota of 3,330 has been established, 2,330 of whom will be assigned to specific units to bring ORC units up to the table of organization and equipment strength and 1,000 will be assigned wherever they may be needed in key positions throughout the Fourth Army area.

Those first to be called are reservists without dependents and will be assigned to units as soon as possible after the arrival of units at their respective training stations. The stations where the reservists are to be processed will be announced later.

The Texas Military District will select sufficient number of male enlisted reservists from the volunteer and inactive reserves to meet the allotted quota, after the determination of requirements is made by Army headquarters, Col. Abbott stated.

Unit Men Exempt Now

Individuals assigned to active Organized Reserve units are exempt from recall to active duty under this directive.

The reservists tentatively selected will be ordered to the nearest medical facility for complete physical examinations. The facilities are to be named at an early date. After the physical examinations are completed, the reservists will return to inactive duty status and await official notice of being selected before starting to close up personal and business affairs. After final selection for the 21 months of duty, the selections will be given a minimum of 21 days for the settlement of private affairs.

The orders to active duty will be issued by the Chief of the Texas Military District. The individuals selected will be required to arrive at designated training centers on or before September 15.

TEXANS IN WASHIN GTON—

Washington Offers No Quickie Answers To Current Queries

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON —(AP)— There has been much confusion here since the Korean outbreak. The question of government controls over the economic life of the nation is the reason.

Rep. Jim Combs of Beaumont, who spent some time in his district recently, said:

"Here we are bombarded on all sides by pressure groups and tension. We hear one thing one day and something else the next. It's a good thing congressmen can get back to their districts once in a while and get their bearings."

Your correspondent has just returned from an extended automobile trip through Texas.

In stops at Waco, Hillsboro, Fort Worth, Dallas, Denison, Bonham and Paris, we encountered the same questions:

"Well, you're in Washington with the big-shots; give us the lowdown. Are we going to be in World War III soon? How long is this Korean fight going to take? Are we going to have price controls and rationing?

The answer is nobody knows anything more about what's going to happen than does any man or woman in Texas who reads his daily newspaper.

Can Change Complexion

Events on the war front can change the complexion of things from day to day. And politics still enters into the picture.

Last week the House debated controls for three days, starting out with a bill recommended by the Banking and Currency Committee. It adopted one amendment after another to strengthen controls, then suddenly reversed itself.

What had happened was a battle between the Republicans and Democrats over sponsorship of various amendments. Both sides apparently agreed on general proposals for controls to prevent hoarding and inflation, but each wanted its own particular version of legislation adopted.

Therefore, they adjourned for the weekend by wiping out all they had done in the previous 72 hours and deciding to start all over again.

The split was along party lines with some Southern Democrats going along with the Republicans in voting to go back to the control bill originally recommended by the committee.

Attitude Is Altered

That the Korean situation has abruptly changed the attitude of the public, or at least a good portion of it, in regards to price controls and rationing is indicated by answers to a questionnaire sent out by Texas Republican Congressman Ben Guill of Pampa.

He mailed out 42,000 queries to poll tax payers throughout the Panhandle just before the Korean conflict started.

Among questions asked was whether "you think Congress should grant President Truman's request for power to reestablish price controls and rationing?"

The first replies received by Guill overwhelmingly were against giving the President such powers. The Korean outbreak brought a wave of buying and higher prices. The replies Guill received on the question promptly turned in favor of controls.

As of August 1 he had received a total of 3,861 replies on this question, including 2,918 who said they thought Congress should not grant the President such powers; 1,016 who thought they should, and 427 who had no opinion.

Replies continue to come in.

McCamey News

McCAMEY—Mayor C. W. Brown has been named to the Texas Economy Commission, a citizen's committee to study the operation of the state's executive department with particular attenion being paid to efficiency and economy. Gov. Allen Shivers made the appointment.

The Civic Affairs and Beautification Committee of the McCamey Chamber of Commerce this week is making plans for the erection of street markers throughout the city. Olin Smith, chairman, also announced that virtually all the house markers recently purchased by householders have been distributed. Sale of the numbers defrayed the costs of the markers.

Although all the details for the first day of school are not yet completed, Supt. Howard Stoker reminds students that the public schools will open for the Fall term September 6.

The C. W. Brown Rockets closed out the softball season in a tilt with the undefeated Brady Firemen Saturday night at the City Softball Park. Boyd Reese toed the rubber for the visiting nine and Red Denham hurled for the Rockets.

Martin Hale, new band director of the McCamey public schools, has notified Supt. Howard Stoker that he plans to hold the first band rehearsal at 9 a.m. Monday.

A softball game scheduled Tuesday night was postponed because of the horde of mosquitoes which swarmed down on McCamey early in the week. The county fogging machine was pressed into action and suspected breeding spots were oiled by city employes. Citizens busied about their homes, cutting grass and weeds and spraying inside.

Attending Encampment

Eleven from McCamey are attending the annual Paisano Baptist Encampment. Included are the Rev. W. I. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Collis, Mr. and Mrs. Fush Patterson, Mrs. Newton Key, Mrs. Marion Crow, Mrs. Wilbur Harris, Mrs. J. C. Lyles and son and Mrs. N. C. House.

Jim Berger was taken by ambulance to the Crane County Hospital after becoming ill. He was later transferred to a hospital in San Angelo, where he will undergo surgery. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Berger of Enid, Okla., his brother and wife, are at his bedside.

Donna Smith left by plane for Houston and Freeport where she will visit with friends.

Mrs. W. C. Garrett of Ranger is visiting in the homes of Mrs. A. S. Tidwell and Jesse Russell, her sister and brother.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Winfield are spending a vacation in Odessa.

Dr. W. Hal Cooper has returned to his home after undergoing major surgery in Methodist Hospital at Dallas. He will not reopen his offices for some time.

Mrs. N. C. House accompanied Mrs. Preston House and daughter to a San Angelo hospital, where X-rays were made of the youngster. She recently swallowed a nickel.

Mrs. M. F. Holt is visiting with relatives in Sweetwater.

Mr. W. W. (Bill) Moore and children, Billy and Margaret, are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moore in Killeen.

Mrs. Fred Gibson is in San Angelo at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Homer Powers, whose condition remains unchanged. She is the wife of the late Dr. Powers of Rankin. She makes her home in San Angelo with a daughter, Mrs. R. Grosenbacher.

FIRST CHRISTIAN

Is Proud Of Its Many Fine Churches

A city's growth and progress are measured in many ways — including religious facilities provided for its citizens. Midland rates high in this respect.

In recent years, many new buildings have risen, while many others have gone through extensive enlarging and modernizing programs. Midland now provides outstanding religious facilities and leadership — with 34 churches, representing 17 denominations. Thus Midland measures up in an important point — in providing for the spiritual needs of its church-going residents.

Floor Construction, Care Important In Every Home

By HENRY J. WINGATE
Nationally - Known Architect and Engineer

Floors are as important to a house as roof, walls and foundation. They get more wear than any other part of the house. Yet many homeowners do not know how floors should be laid and the care they should receive.

Hardwoods such as oak and maple are more widely used than any other flooring material, although use of composition materials has grown rapidly. Because of their lower cost, soft - woods often are used in rooms with little traffic.

The strength of the floor is in the joists which support it. Best construction calls for these to be placed no more than 16 inches apart. If over 8 feet long, each joist should be braced against the adjoining ones with pieces of wood or metal in the form of an X, called bridging. A rough subfloor is laid on the joists, preferably running diagonally for greater rigidity. With building paper on top of this to prevent dirt sifting through the finish flooring is nailed to the subfloor.

This can be either long strips the width of the room, or short pieces called random lengths. The latter costs less and if carefully laid gives pleasing effects. Parquet flooring is made in small squares and rectangles in a factory and is either nailed or cemented to the subfloor. This is particularly good in rooms where it is desired to use few rugs.

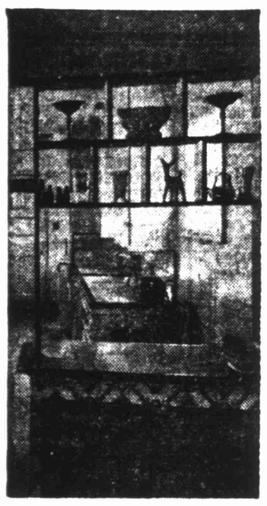
Smoothness of the surface is the first consideration of any floor because unevenness invites wear and rapid deterioration. A new floor will be better if permitted to season in place at least a month, after which it should be thoroughly scraped and sanded. Then three coats of high-grade varnish should be applied to provide a long-lasting, wearing surface. If a wax finsh is desired, it goes on over the varnish. It was once thought sufficient to shellack floors that were to be waxed, but experience has proved that unless the wax is renewed almost daily, the shellac is not strong enough to prevent wear.

Care Of Floors

To finish softwoods, it is a good idea to use a varnish with pigment coloring for the first two coats, cover with a coat of clear varnish.

A floor never should be washed with alkali soaps, washing powder or hot water. A daily wiping with floor oil will keep the varnish in good condition. If washing is required, a linseed oil soap is best, water used sparingly. Waxed floor should be polished often with a weighted brush and wax added to sections with greatest traffic.

Peter Henle, who lived in Nuremberg, Germany, invented the first watch about 1500.



SNACK BAR - COUNTER—This snack bar-counter combination, a handy place for breakfast and snacks in the kitchen, is a home planning idea from American Builder magazine. Located between the kitchen and the dining room, it also serves as a pass-through when food and dishes are being taken from one room to the other. Egg-crate shelves for knick-knacks add a decorative note.

Today's "mistress of the kitchen" is virtually a queen—with skillful, automatic subjects to rule with a flip of a switch. Her kitchen is a kingdom with modern conveniences operating with the greatest ease, efficiency and pleasure.

The modern home-maker no longer spends hours in the kitchen, with drudgery the keynote of a busy day. Grandmother may have spent three-fourths of her life over an old-fashioned, cantankerous stove and a "bottomless" dish-pan, but the new generation of housewives have time for more enjoyable pastimes.

From the moment she stores the week's supplies of groceries in her gleaming refrigerator or deep-freeze, "Operation Kitchen" consumes a minimum of time and labor.

matic dish-washer and garbage disposer eliminates the unpleasant tasks of dish-washing, while banishing the garbage pail. And there's an electric appliance to serve almost every purpose.

The pleasing idea below was pictured in "Correlator," published by the National Association of Home Builders. It can be carried out in your decorating scheme at small expense.

Spring and Summer flowers in season will offer a variety of color and choice; for the Winter months, lots of greenery and, perhaps, some hardy perennials, such as nasturtium or begonia will provide the "June in January" touch.

Insulation Gives Extra Comfort All Year 'Round

Home insulation now is considered a "must" in all sections of the country. This is the opinion of leading builders, who recognize insulation as a heat "stopper" in both directions. Insulation at one time was thought of primarily as a fuel conservation measure for northern climates.

Insulation is a good investment, according to builders, because it provides Summer comfort as well as Winter savings. No direct cash saving can be traced to insulation during the Summer, but builders recognize it as a modern means of making a home more liveable.

Most insulation materials make use of the principle of trapping air between layers or within air cells of the material. A good example of the application of this principle is insulating board. Made of wood, cane or other vegetable fibers, woven and felted together into board form, insulating board contains millions of tiny air cells. These air cells slow down the transfer of heat through walls and ceilings.

New Homes

The general rule to follow in insulating new homes is to insulate the walls, ceiling and floors immediately surrounding the area to be heated or cooled. Many modern builders are using insulating board sheathing to enclose from framework of a building before the exterior finish is applied, and insulating board lath as a base for plastered interiors. In this way, the Insulation Board Institute says, a substantially insulated home can be obtained at no additional cost, because neither product adds a material to the building operation.

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And The Shadow Giant

A shadow giant is a long, long shadow. You may see one late in the day when the sun is low in the sky.

Bobby and Sammy Ringtail, Daddy Ringtail's monkey boys, were supposed to go home for their supper when the shadow giants came out.

But the sun now was very high. No shadow giants were about and so the monkey boys still were playing out in the Great Forest. They were playing hide-and-seek, until Bobby found the best place to hide that ever was. It was a little cave, a hole in the ground, underneath the roots of a very big tree. Bobby squeezed in where no one could see him. He lay very still and waited while Sammy tried to find him.

Sammy looked behind the trees, and among the bushes, and between the rocks, but of course he couldn't find his little brother. Bobby laughed to himself. And then, because the cave was warm and Bobby was sleepy anyway, he fell fast asleep.

"Bobby Ringtail!" Sammy called. "Come out now, wherever you are. The shadow giants will soon be here. We must go home."

But Bobby didn't answer, and Bobby didn't come out, because he was fast asleep. Sammy went home, thinking Bobby had gone home too. So there Bobby was, all by himself, asleep in the cave.

When Bobby did wake up, the shadow giants were very long. Bobby knew that he should have gone home a long time ago, and he was a little bit worried because he hadn't. He started to come out of the cave, but he saw a shadow giant that was very, very big. The shadow giant was on the ground in front of him, and the shadow giant moved! Bobby was too frightened to go back into the cave or to come out either. He lay very, very still.

Then a voice said: "Bobby Ringtail! Come home this minute and get your supper!"

Bobby wasn't frightened any more, because the voice was Daddy Ringtail's voice, and the shadow giant was Daddy Ringtail's shadow. Daddy Ringtail had come to find that Bobby boy. And was Daddy Ringtail provoked? No, sir, because Bobby explained that he'd fallen asleep, and he promised to try never again to be late for supper. So the day was happy after all, and a happy day to you at your house!

Abundant Living

By E. STANLEY JONES

Deut. 32:5; Prov. 2:12—15; Isa. 59:8

THE KINGDOM OF GOD AND ORIGINAL SIN

The Kingdom of God is within you! If so, then what of "original sin"? Is it all a mistake and are we to talk about original goodness instead of original sin? Yes, for our origin is in God, and therefore goodness is original, for God is good. He has stamped His ways within us. But there is a truth in original sin, which we should call racially acquired sin. The race has sinned generation after generation and has passed on to posterity unnatural bents to evil. The natural urges—self, sex, and the herd—have been twisted by unnatural uses to unnatural bents. The self becomes an end in itself instead of being a means to the ends of the Kingdom of God. Sex also becomes an end in itself instead of being dedicated to the ends of procreation for which it was intended. The herd, or social instinct, becomes fastened on lesser social entities like class, race, or state instead of on the Kingdom of God. All of these become perverted and therefore need to be converted—to be converted to the ends for which they originally were intended.

If we were made in the image of God, then sin is not natural; it is the acquired—it is an attempt to live against nature, to live against life and escape the consequences. We pay tribute to this fact when we say of a bad man, "He is crooked," implying that he is departing from goodness, the straight. But if sin is the natural, then it is the straight, the standard, and goodness is the unnatural crookedness. When we say of a man, "He is impure," we thereby suggest he has departed from the pure, the original intention. Impurity is therefore unnatural; purity is natural. "My strength is as the strength of ten, because my heart is pure." Why? Because the sum total of reality is behind the pure man — he is aligned to the nature of things; therefore he is strong with the strength of ten. Impurity is lined up against the nature of things; hence, any impure person is weak in personality. The eyes are shifty; the face grows dull and lusterless; and the personality sags.

O God, Thou art teaching me Thy ways, written in Thy Word, and also written in me. My flesh, my nerves, my very being begin to be vocal with Thy purposes and vibrant with Thy vitality. I am the vehicle of Thy victory—help me to surrender to Thy purposes that I may live abundantly. Amen.

Putting a Government Bureau in the position of being "Health Czar"—through any system—invariably works out the same. In America it would be "billions of dollars a year, for less health."

Billions of dollars a year would be spent for bureaucratic red tape, supervisors, clerical staffs, inadequate and lowered quality medical care, hospital care and medical preparation.

That is the invariable experience of State Medicine, "Social Security Health Plans" or Compulsory Health Insurance.

Fight Between El Paso's Newspapers Livens Race For Congressional Post

By TIM PARKER
Associated Press Staff

That's what's happening in the vast 16th Congressional District of West Texas. Voters there will choose in the August second primary between incumbent Rep. Ken Regan of Midland and the challenger, District Judge Paul Moss of Odessa.

They pull no punches. The Times says the Herald-Post editorials are "inconsistent and fog-creating." The Herald-Posts' staff writer in Washington is dubbed "Hatchet Man" Marshall McNeil.

The Herald-Post studies Regan's record and says he votes like a Republican. The Herald-Post says Regan must share the blame for the Korea situation because he voted against economic aid to South Korea early this year. ("Low blow," cries the Times which says our military leaders didn't recommend the aid at that time.)

(Editors of the two newspapers can, if they wish, exchange glares close-hand. Both newspapers are published in the same building. Business, circulation and mechanical departments are merged. But competition for news, and difference of opinion in editorials, is brisk.

(Editor of the Herald-Post, owned by the Scripps-Howard newspaper group, is energetic, able Ed M. Pooley who punches a trenchant editorial typewriter. Editor of the Times is sage, friendly William J. Hooten, a West Texas old timer, who knows nearly everybody in West Texas, New Mexico and Mexico. General manager of the printing company which issues the battling dailies is Dorrence C. Roderick, well known in publishing circles throughout the country.)

Regan and Moss have recognized the Korea-aid issue as one likely to catch the public eye.

Moss has said: "When South Korea needed help, he (Regan) voted no."

Regan says economic aid at that time would have been folly. "I have seen $200,000,000 in planes dumped into China, only to be taken over by the Communists."

Method Of Introduction

The newspaper wrangle has served to make Regan and Moss probably the most well-known congressional contenders in the August campaign. The only other runoff primary for Congress is in the 18th (Panhandle) District, where Mrs. Altavene Clark of Amarillo and Walter Rogers of Pampa are sparring.

Regan carried 14 of the district's 19 counties in amassing an unofficial 22,280 to 18,022 lead over Moss in the July 22 first primary. In third place, with 8,921 votes, was Fred Hervey, El Paso restaurant owner.

Moss calls himself a "middle of the road" man, politically. Regan doesn't classify himself but stresses his vote against "socialistic measures x x x including FEPC, socialized medicine, federal aid to education, repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act." Moss says the Taft-Hartley law should be amended to set "a fair balance between labor and management."

Moss helped raise campaign money for the 1948 Truman campaign. That didn't make him popular with many anti-Administration Democrats in Texas. But it did cement friendships with strong Administration men.

Regan has made capital of the fact Moss made two unsuccessful races for district judge before being appointed to the bench. "When he was appointed to the office for which his people rejected him," says Regan, "he immediately left the bench to begin campaigning for Congress."

Moss backers inserted a big advertisement in El Paso newspapers to answer that one. They said the only time Moss was not handling his own court work was when he was "exchanging benches with other district judges at their request to lend them assistance with their dockets."

Regan, 57, was born at Mt. Morris, Ill., attended Vincennes University in Indiana for three years, served as a Signal Corps flier in World War I, and then came to Texas. He moved to Pecos in 1920, became an oil wildcatter, Pecos mayor, and also acquired farm and ranch interests.

While Freshman

Tall and handsome, Regan is a good mixer. He was elected president pro tempore of the Texas Senate while a freshman member in 1933—an honor not usually accorded a youngster. He is a concise and very clear speaker.

Regan was in the Air Corps as an Intelligence officer during World War II. He went to Congress in 1947 after winning a special election to fill the vacancy created by resignation of Robert Ewing Thomason of El Paso, who was appointed to a federal court. Regan won his first full term in 1948.

We Invite You to Investigate the Private Life of Paul Moss

You will find it to be an inspiring West Texas Saga of hard work, honesty and clean living

Paul Moss was born on a farm in Clay County, North Carolina, the son of parents in modest circumstances.

As a boy, he worked on the family farm and attended school in the nearby town of Hayesville. Later, he was graduated from Valparaiso University with degrees in law, speech, and education.

After practicing law for short periods in Greybull, Wyoming, and Denver, Colorado, Paul Moss packed his belongings in an ancient Chevrolet sedan and set out for Odessa.

His first home there was a tent pitched in a vacant lot. He had to borrow a law book and a desk to set up his legal practice.

As he began to establish himself as a lawyer, Paul Moss moved his family into a two-room house they occupied for several years.

Saving his money, he bought a ranch on the outskirts of Odessa. On that ranch, he made an oil strike—a strike on which he risked his own money after the big oil companies said there was no oil there.

Paul Moss' philanthropies are too numerous to mention. But no group or individual that has entered his office in need has ever been known to leave empty-handed.

Judge and Mrs. Moss have been married more than 31 years. They have two children—a son, William, and a daughter, Betty.

ONLY FIVE YEARS AGO—

Peace—It Was Wonderful On V-J Day In August, '45

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK —(AP)— It was only five years ago, you know. Only 1,826 days . . .

On Aug. 14, 1945, at 7 p.m., Eastern War Time, in the first week of the atomic age, Harry S. Truman announced the surrender of Japan. World War II was over.

First Pearl Harbor, three years and 250 days before, then Bataan, Hill 609 in Tunisia, Anzio, Guadalcanal, Midway, Normandy, Paris, Bastogne, The Elbe, Saipan, Guam, Manila, Iwo Jima, Okinawa, Hiroshima, Nagasaki and finally the end of the line, everybody off, count your discharge points, sweetheart, we're going home. Going home. You can say that again. Going home . . .

"Who says I'm essential in an army of occupation? All I know is I got 85 points and want out."

"What does real milk look like?"

"How do you learn to talk to nice people again? Do you say, 'Mother, please pass the — — — butter?'"

"In the next war, they'll have to catch me to draft me."

Tops Are Blown

We blew our tops that day from Times Square in New York to Market Street in San Francisco. We yelled, we snake-danced, we kissed strangers, we sang, we climbed on autos and street cars. we watched two nude blondes bathe in a lily pond, we made bonfires out of War Bond booths, we sounded air raid sirens, we rolled out beer barrels and tapped them on the sidewalk and we got awfully drunk.

But we also went to church and when the churches filled, we knelt on the sidewalks outside and thanked God that the many young men who surely would have died the next day or the next week or the next month would now live.

People said many things in those days after the victory.

President Truman: "This is a day for the democracies. This is the day when we can start on our real task of implementation of free government in the world. . . . I know we are going to do it."

Glad Of Decision

Mrs. Martha Truman, mother of the President: "I's glad that Harry decided to end the war."

Winston Churchill, like Herbert Hoover, warned of the spread of communism, and said of the atom bomb: "There are perhaps three or four years before the great progress in the United States can be overtaken. In these three years we must remold the relationships of all men . . . in such a way that these men to not wish, or dare, to fall upon each other for the sake of vulgar, outdated ambition or for differences in ideologies, and that international bodies by supreme authority may give peace on earth and justice among men."

Joseph Stalin to Chiang Kai-Shek—"I wish to express the certainty that friendship and cooperation of our countries together with all freedom-loving nations will serve the cause of universal peace . . ."

Gen. George C. Marshall warned that demobilization must not become military "disintegration." If the United Nations is to succeed, the United States must remain strong.

Izvestia, official Soviet newspaper, hoped the UN charter would restrain aggression, and added: "Efforts to prevent war in the past were purely declaratory, unsupported by action. As Stalin has proved, aggressors who prepare wars for a long time are, at least at a certain stage, at an advantage compared with peace-loving nations."

Dr. Syngman Rhee, chairman of the Korean Commission: "The Japanese surrender means the end of a long nightmare in Korea. The Korean people will be forever grateful to the American people . . ."

Many things happened in those days after victory.

All war manpower controls were immediately removed and a guy could take any job he liked. Gas rationing ended the next day and we tore up our "A" cards. Rationing of canned fruits and vegetables ended and we tore up our blue points. Butter, cheese, sugar and meat gradually were reduced in point value and finally on November 23 we tore up our red points.

The War Department said we'd need only three divisions for occupation duty in the Pacific. On September 8, small units of the U. S. 24th Corps landed at Jinsen, Korea, to begin occupational duty. Russian troops moved into Northern Korea in American trucks.

The Navy canceled $6,000,000 worth of prime contracts and began "mothballing" much of its fleet.

Lt. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright was found in Manchuria.

A U. S. Superfortress, on a mercy mission, was shot down by the Russians over Korea but Moscow apologized and said it was all a "mistake."

Sub Nets Lifted

The submarine nets were lifted from Los Angeles Harbor; radios, refrigerators, electric fans and stoves went back into production and War Production Board Chairman J. A. Krug predicted, "for most things we'll have materials running out of our ears."

President Truman called for universal military training and ended the $40,000,000,000 Lend-Lease program, of which $10,000,000,000 had gone to Russia.

The Army said it was returning National Guard units to the states as quickly as possible, automobile production began again, the national speed limit of 35 miles an hour was lifted.

And there was the popular joke about the GI father who was asked what he wanted his son to be when he grew up, and the GI said: "A civilian."

Peace, it's wonderful, wasn't it?

Clashing Tie Colors Cost Collegians Jobs; Tech Has Solution

LUBBOCK—The clash of yellow and orange on a job applicant's necktie might influence the man's future more than his technical skill —and the Texas Tech division of business administration wants to do something about it.

Dean George G. Heather says personnel managers and businessmen are more critical of the personal traits of the collegiate job-hunter than his know-how. Tech will offer a new course this Fall—Business Comportment—which aims to take the rough edges off the applicant and give him poise in the business world.

"The new courses will stress business etiquette, good grooming, correct speech and composure instead of theory," Dr. Heather adds.

Industrial managers and business leaders will speak to the classes as a supplement to regular lectures.

Continuing downward trends in prices of both livestock and meat at wholesale, with improved prospects for sizable increases in supplies during the last quarter of the year have been reported by the American Meat Institute.

Much of the panicky buying of meat following the outbreak of hostilities in Korea—which came at a time when supplies were seasonably low and demand for meat was exceptionally high due to other causes —apparently now has subsided. Good hogs at Chicago have declined 75 cents per cwt. since the recent high, with the top of the hog market dropping almost $1 at many markets. During the same period, light pork loins at wholesale, which had advanced sharply under buying pressure, have declined as much as $15 per cwt, prices of other cuts remaining fairly stable or declining; sweet pickled ham, for example, dropping about $3 per cwt. Good steers at Chicago have declined $1.25 per cwt. Good to choice Spring lambs have dropped $1.25, the wholesale New York price of dressed lambs having dropped by $5.

On a per capita basis, civilian meat consumption in the last quarter of this year is expected to be at the annual rate of 156 pounds against 138 pounds available in the current quarter and 149 pounds in the final quarter of 1949.

Before harvesting has begun on the 1950 cotton crop the nation's legislators already are considering the revision of cotton acreage allowances for 1951.

A bill, awaiting Senate action, was passed July 31 by the House of Representatives and contains one provision applicable only to Texas. Known as the cotton quota bill, the bill specifies that any state with an allotment in excess of 3,000,000 acres in 1959 shoud distribute 1951 allotments with full credit for so-called war crops. The Senate Agriculture Committee currently is studying the new bill.

Four congressional districts in Texas, all of which are located in West Texas, would be affected adversely by the bill. District 19, which begins east of Midland and includes Howard, Lubbock, Martin, Andrews, Mitchell, Dawson and 19 other counties, would lose about 355,000 acres. District 15 would lose about 82,000 acres and districts 16 (including Midland, Glasscock, Ector, Crane, Pecos, Upton, Reeves, Winkler, El Paso and eight other counties) and 18 would lose about 13,000 each. The total of 463,000 acres which the four districts would lose, would go to the other 17 districts in the state. In other words, the state's 1951 acreage allotment would be virtually the same as the 1950 allotment, but the cotton acreage would be prorated in a different manner.

Those districts which planted the most war crops, such as grain sorghums and flax, would receive the greatest increases in the 1951 allotments.

Rep. George Mahon, who represents District 19, the heaviest acreage loser, has gone on record as being against the acreage revisions. "We in West Texas can produce cotton at a lower cost per pound than any other place in the country," he said. The Colorado City legislator contends that on the basis of principle, cotton should be planted where it can be produced most economically. He also argued the action was unfair in that Texas would be the only state affected by the revision.

Four of the top calf ropers in the business, including the present world's champion, will be here Labor Day, September 4, for matched roping contests at the Midland Rodeo Arena.

Troy Fort, Lovington, N. M., is the present world's champion. He is matched against Big Spring's Toots Mansfield, the former champion. Sonny Edwards, who won the calf roping event at Big Spring rodeo this year, and Walton Poage, of Rankin, who took top calf roping money at the big West of the Pecos Rodeo, will be paired against each other.

These four cowboys are considered the cream of the crop in roping circles and they all are ready to have a go at shaving the world's record when they compete.

The big roping show, which will be the highlight of Labor Day activities here, will be sponsored by the Midland County Sheriff's Posse.

One of the wettest Julys on record in many Northwestern and Northern counties continued to hold pressing field work at a standstill in those areas, according to the Texas Weekly Crop and Weather Bulletin.

In the west, northwest and north, range and pasture grass continued to make lush growth as the unusually heavy July rains in those areas continued. In eastern counties, moisture from earlier rains still was sufficient for sustained grass growth, but hot windy weather in central counties was taking the moisture, and the extreme counties were very dry. Calves and lambs generally were making fast gains. Marketing of late lambs was underway. In the Plainview area, some contracted lambs were being delivered in considerable volume.

Midland County Agent Charles Green says the farmers in this area are looking for more rain. A few crops spotted around the county appear to be all set, but the majority need more moisture soon if they are to develop. Green says too many rains have bypassed the Midland area this year and fallen east and north. A good soaking rain at this stage would give the added moisture needed for farmers to cash in with good crops.

The 1950 Texas lamb crop, estimated at 3,416,000 head, is approximately seven per cent above the 1949 crop of 3,206,000, in spite of three per cent fewer ewes on farms and ranches. The 1950 United States lamb crop totaled 18,431,000 head, about two per cent smaller than the 18,810,000 head in 1949, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture.

A total of 81 bred gilts, open gilts and boars were placed on the block Saturday by the Panhandle-Plains Poland China Breeders Association. The sale was held at the Plainview show barns with L. M. Hargrave, secretary of the association, in charge of the sale. It was one of the largest sales ever held by the association.

A free lunch was served before the sale began. It was sponsored by the Plainview Chamber of Commerce and Fat Stock Show.

Ten per cent of the sale's proceeds are to be used by the association to stimulate interest in Poland China hogs through the silver trophy awards at the Lubbock, El Paso, Amarillo and Dallas fairs.

If cotton were stripped from our possession, not a single one of our fighting men could continue in action.

This was pointed out by Burris C. Jackson, chairman of the statewide cotton committee of Texas in a keynote address delivered at the 11th annual Cotton Congress, held in Dallas.

According to Jackson, one bale of cotton linters provides smokeless powder for 20,440 rounds of machine gun ammunition; 2,737 rounds of pom-pom ammunition; 100,000 rounds of rifle ammunition; 85 rounds of heavy tank ammunition.

From linters come such varied military supplies as plastics for warplane windows and noses, cockpit enclosures, cargo and flare chutes, high-tenacity rayon, X-ray and photographic film, fabric coatings, plastic replacements for metal, and many other war products.

Cotton fabrics also are fighting equipment, according to Jackson. At the height of World War II, more than 80 per cent of the U. S. cotton fabrics were for military priority goods. In a single order, the Quartermaster Corps of the United States bought 351,300,000 yards of cotton cloth and 40,000,000 yards of mosquito netting—enough cloth for a barracks bag to hold Honshu Island, the largest part of Japan.

PMA Director Explains Provisions In Cotton Act

Information received by the Midland County Production and Marketing Administration reveals rumors are prevalent that the Secretary of Agriculture is considering suspending marketing quotas on the 1950 crop of cotton.

A letter from the United States Department of Agriculture and written by Ralph S. Trigg, PMA administrator, explains the provisions in the Cotton Act.

According to Trigg, there are no provisions in the act or the regulations issued by the secretary in connection therewith which require that the excess acreage of cotton planted on a farm must be destroyed and county committees should be advised that the adjustment of the planted acreage to the allotment is a privilege extended to cotton producers to avoid payment of penalty and become eligible to participate in other program benefits.

Not Mandatory

Adjusting excess acreage to the farm allotment is not mandatory and should be considered only as an alternative choice which is available to the producer, Trigg asys.

Trigg offers several reasons supporting the decision that it is not in the general interest of the cotton farmers or the long range production adjustment program to suspend cotton marketing quotas on the 1950 crop of cotton. They are as follows:

Records show that the vast majority of cotton farmers planted within their farm allotments. Many others who overplanted their allotments by small amounts have already adjusted the planted acreage to the farm allotment. Most of the remainder have full intentions of complying with their farm allotments if determined that they have excess acreage. To suspend marketing quotas under these circumstances would mean breaking faith thorugh administrative action with the great majority of cooperating cotton farmers to the complete advantage of a relatively small minority.

Many producers who have disposed of excess cotton acreage would charge, and justifiably so, that they have suffered a loss by complying with the program while those who have hesitated to dispose of excess acreage, or deliberately planted cotton acreage in excess of the farm allotment, by either small or substantial amounts, were profiting not only by having the excess cotton to harvest but also reaping benefits of any price advantages brought about by the adjustments made by the cooperators.

Relatively Small

It now is apparent that the excess acreage is relatively small and, therefore, the production from such excess acreage would not substantially affect the supply of cotton regardless of whether or not it is harvested.

It is not felt that the questionable benefits that would result from the small additional production if excess plantings could be harvested and marketed free of penalty would compensate in any reasonable manner for the serious effects it would have upon the successful operation and administration of production adjustment programs in future years.

Farmers, Ranchers Split Opinions On Fair Continuation

Returning questionnaires, mailed recently by the Agriculture and Livestock Committee of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, indicate about half the Midland County farmers and ranchers are for the continuing of the annual County Fair here.

Of 18 questionnaires received by the Chamber of Commerce Friday, eight favored the continuation of the fair, and eight were against it. Two gave no opinion. Four of the questionnaires indicated a Farm Day would be advisable.

One Midlander, however, gave an emphatic punch to his desire for continuing the Fair. He included a five-dollar bill with his questionaire to "help keep the fair going."

Assistant Chamber Manager Burvin Hines said several hundred questionnaires were mailed out to farmers and ranchers and that the 18 received may not give a clear indication of the opinion of the majority of county citizens.

Two-Headed Calf May Be Exported To U. S. A.

COPENHAGEN —(AP)— A Danish calf, having two heads, may be exported to the United States in a few months. The calf was born three months ago at the farm of H. Huebschmann in Allerup, South-Jutland—and it is still going strong, studying the world through four eyes and eating with two mouths.

At present the owner makes money showing the calf at markets in Jutland but now he considers the possibility of selling it to the United States for studies and showings.

Submarine deposits estimated to be 2,200 million years old have been found in core samples taken from the Atlantic Ocean, according to the Encyclopedia Americana.

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Tom McNamara and Fred Blumenthal say: Truman ignores Catholic advisers on question of Vatican representative; Radar jamming of A-bombs worries scientists; Senator McCarthy runs out of paper.

(Ed. Note—While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, his column will be written by members of his staff).

WASHINGTON—Story behind the President's announcement that he is considering sending a diplomatic minister to the Vatican is that it took him three weeks to make up his mind. Oddly enough, if he goes through with the plan, it will be against the advice of Catholic leaders close to him.

One top congressional leader, a devout Catholic, strongly urged that if the President wanted to re-establish relations with Rome it would be better to do so informally, by naming a successor to Myron Taylor, former White House representative at the Vatican.

This wouldn't require Senate confirmation, since Taylor was a personal representive of the President.

"If you ask for the re-establishment of permanent diplomatic relations with Rome, you may touch off a religious debate in the Senate that would do more harm than good," Truman was warned. "This is a time when all faiths should be working together for the war effort, instead of displaying disunity."

The President replied that he didn't contemplate a religious row in the Senate, but added that he wouldn't back away from one. However, he didn't say whether he would test his former colleagues on the ticklish question before or after the November elections.

The Mighty Atom

Now that the Russians have an A-bomb, we can reveal that the bomb is detonated by radar—that's why our scientists are so concerned about the whole problem of radar jamming. In other words, the enemy might interfere with our radar beam and the bomb would fail to explode . . . Certain key atomic scientists are considered so valuable to U. S. security that they are classified as "atomic installations" and guarded 24 hours a day . . . One reason Carroll Wilson resigned as the AEC's general manager was the fact that Wilson's assistant, Carleton Shugg, received $18,000 per year to Wilson's $15,000 . . . Through increased efficiency and scientific improvements, today's atomic dollar is worth approximately three dollars spent in 1945 . . . Recent discoveries in our atomic labs now make it possible to produce "Hiroshima" results with only a fraction of the fissionable material used in August, 1945 . . . Invisible atomic dust is being developed by both Washington and Moscow. One airplane load could saturate New York City . . . Number one aim of the atomicc commission still is the production of basic fissionable material . . . Come war, it's the heart of the bomb; come peace, it's the heart of a power plant. The energy contained in a teacup of fissionable material can either destroy a city or run a city power plant . . . There is enough uranium in the United States to make us independent of foreign supplies, but it would be costly to mine . . . Oak Ridge scientists have shipped more than 10,000 packages of radioactive isotopes weighing more than 1,000,000 pounds. However, the actual isotopes in all these shipments weighed only two ounces. Protective lead coating made up the rest of the weight . . . Atomic experts say the UN's huge glass-sided building in New York is "the most vulnerable major structure in the world to an atomic bomb."

Out Of Paper

Senator Joe McCarthy has been grinding out so many speeches and press releases about Communism in the State Department that he has used up his Senate paper quota. Since he now must pay for paper out of his own pocket, he has appealed to Republican colleagues to lend him some from their supplies.

"When I started on this investigation, my office had an excess of paper of all kinds," McCarthy explained in a letter to Republican Senators. "However, due to the great volume of documents we have used to date, my supply of paper has been completely exhausted and it has been necessary for some time to buy all the paper we use. This has become a very expensive venture.

"The thought occurred," McCarthy hinted, "that you might have an extra supply of paper which you would let us have to use in this work."

McCarthy added significantly that he planned to use the paper "in a sizable number of speeches which I plan to make prior to the Fall elections."

Passing The Blame

In several hush-hush appearances before congressional committees, Admiral R. H. Hillenkoetter, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, has tried to pin the full blame for our foul-up in Korea on the State and Defense Departments. For example, Hellenkoetter recently told the House Expenditures Committee that he had made a series of reports to both departments over a period of six months before the invasion, telling of North Korean troop movements that made war inevitable.

This may be true. However, it is a far cry from what Hillenkoetter told the House Foreign Affairs Committee behind closed doors on June 23—just one day before the North Koreans attacked.

At that time the intelligence chief testified that there had been "evidences" of troop mobilization above the 38th parallel, but that it was "almost impossible" to get authentic information because of the "reluctance" of native informers.

Pinned down by Republican Representative James Fulton of Pennsylvania, Hillenkoetter told the committee: "In my opinion, there is nothing to indicate any action in Korea in the near future."

Capehart SOS

Fearful for his Senatorial scalp in the November elections, Senator Homer Capehart of Indiana, the jukebox king, has sent out an SOS to all Republican Senators.

"I would consider it a personal favor and it will be of great value not only to myself but the entire Republican ticket in Indiana if you could make at least one speech, prererably more, in Indiana during the campaign," he pleaded in a confidential letter.

Naktong River Front Has Two Stretches Of 'No-Man's Land'

By HAL BOYLE

WITH AMERICAN FORCES IN KOREA —(AP)— On the Naktong River front there are two stretches of no-man's land.

One is on the Allied eastern side where the Americans and the South Korean soldiers are holding defensive positions.

The other is on the western side where the Reds have been trying to mass enough armor and men to cross the river in power and win the war by driving the United Nations troops backward to the sea.

Thus on both sides of the river there is a kind of small twilight zone that doesn't belong wholly to either.

In it you may find foe against foe—playing a small but deadly game of hide-and-seek. They are the men on patrol duty trying to find out what the enemy is up to.

People who never have been to war tend to picture a defensive river line as a current of water flowing between banks solidly lined with troops; with tanks firing volley after volley at each other in continuous carnage. But it isn't that way at all. If it were, the two opposing armies might just about wipe each other out in course of a busy morning.

Before Making Decision

For all their weight of metal, armies don't like to commit themselves too soon. They like to know what the other one is up to before they decide what they will do themselves.

So each stays back from the river's edge and hides as much as it can to keep its secrets.

It is quite possible you could ride or walk for miles along either side or the river battle-front and never be challenged or even know an army was near.

You probably would notice, however, an uneasy stillness in the air. And of course there also is the possibility you might be ambushed at once, cut in half by machine gun fire or blown up by a mortar shell. And it could happen so quickly you would get to heaven without even knowing just who or what put you on the escalator.

Soar Across River

At night strange lights soar across the river as the blind artillery batteries seek each other's throats in growling thunder.

And it is then, usually, the river armies put out their sensitive feelers—small groups of men on patrol who wade or swim the waters or creep along with silent oars to test the enemy defense position.

It is a duel in the dark no-man's land between adventurous men seeking to snatch sleepy prisoners and bring them back alive to pick their frightened brains for what they know or will tell.

This nocturnal hunting of man against man is in some ways the most exciting activity along the Naktong River line. It takes a soldier who has wisdom, caution and almost endless stamina—as well as enterprise and the bright quality of bravery. For one able scout may save a regiment.

BY SEA, BY RAIL AND BY TRUCK—Lack of sufficient supplies was one of the major reasons for American setbacks in the early days of the Korean fighting. Now, however, U. S. Transportation Corps units are doing a tremendous job in overcoming natural barriers as they move the tons of equipment a modern army requires from the ports to the front lines. At top, artillery ammunition is unloaded at a Pusan dock for quick truck delivery to combat units. Heavy engineer equipment is moved by rail as shown center. Truck convoys, such as the one at bottom, are the principal means of moving supplies to the fighting areas.

✣ Crane News ✣

CRANE — County Judge Joseph A. Beyer has been notified Crane County will receive $8,206 as its allotment of the $14,600,000 rural road fund. The money will be used to maintain and build lateral roads in the county, according to Judge Beyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Roberts are the parents of a six-pound, twelve-ounce daughter born August 7 in the Ector County Hospital.
