STANDING ON THE CORNER

With P. J.

Be Ye Prepared

Some years ago a tourist was traveling along the shores of Lake Como in northern Italy. When he reached the castle Villa Asconati, a friendly old gardener opened the gate and showed him the grounds, which the old man kept in perfect order. The tourist asked when the owner had last been there.

"Twelve years ago."

"Does he ever write to you?"

"No."

"From whom do you get your instructions?"

"From his agent in Milan."

"Does he come?"

"Never."

"Who, then, comes here?"

"I am almost always alone; only once in a while a tourist comes."

"But you keep this garden in such fine condition just as though you expected your master to come tomorrow."

The old gardener promptly replied: "Today, sir, today!"

If you want to make a bosom buddy and an everlasting friend of Roy Edwards, just ask him how his grand daughter is. But when you ask, be prepared. Like all grandpas, he'll spend the next 30 minutes telling you.

Mrs. Emma Halanick, who has been distributing clothing and food to be needy families of the vicinity, tells us the there has been very little clothing brought to the City Welfare Center for school age children, particularly between the ages of six to ten.

There are several children out of school at this time because of the lack of shoes or other clothing.

The City Welfare is open from 2:00 to 4:00 p. m. every Wednesday afternoon to receive and distribute articles of clothing.

A psychiatrist gets paid for asking a man the same questions his wife asks for nothing.

It is the opinion of most of the citizens of Tahoka that this town has the best bunch of ministers ever assembled together at the same time.

It is wonderful when the majority of a church's membership like its own minister, but it is even more wonderful when members of one church also like the pastors of the other churches.

That is the feeling that we have been getting more and more lately from talking to various men and women from various faiths in the (Cont'd. On Back Page)

Electric Lineman Takes 72,000 Volts And Lives Over It

Leonard Norwood, lineman for Lyntegar Rural Electric, had a narrow escape from electrocution Thursday morning of last week near Ropes.

He had climbed a pole to make some electrical adjustments, came in contact with a line carrying 72,000 volts of electricity, and was knocked from the pole. Working by himself, he was knocked unconscious for an unknown period, but when he regained his senses he radioed in for help.

Taken to a Brownfield hospital, he was found to have only minor burns on his hands, but had a bruised kidney and some torn ligaments in his back.

Garland Pennington of Lyntegar surmised that the fall possibly started him breathing again and saved his life, for it is seldom a man takes 72,000 volts and lives to tell about it. He is being kept in the hospital just to make certain everything is all right.

Grass is coming up exceedingly well on all but one of the fairways, and the greens are among the best to be found anywhere, golfers declare.

Tuesday, Lester Streech plowed the No. 9 fairway, where a stand of grass was not secured, which proved at a very opportune time for Wednesday's rainy weather. Grass will be sowed on the fairway in the immediate future.

BAPTISTS BELIEVE...

CHRIST IS THE ONLY WAY TO HEAVEN

Have you ever lived at the end of the road? From such a place there is only one way out. The man who has sinned is at the end of the road in his personal life. For him there is only one way out. Repentance is the only road to peace and forgiveness from sin; it is the only escape from eternal punishment for sin. Christ warned that "Except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish" (Luke 13:3).

How can we "repent and believe" as Christ demands? To repent, we must change our minds toward sin, toward ourselves, and toward God. We must turn from sin, and trust in Christ to bring forgiveness for our sins. When any sinner responds in repentance and faith to God's offer of salvation through Christ, God works a miracle in his heart. This miracle the Bible calls a "new birth" (John 1:12-13 and John 3:7). This transformation makes an individual a "new creation in Christ." The Apostle Paul wrote, "If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature; old things are passed away, behold all things are become new" (2 Corinthians 5:17).

Do you want to be saved from the ruin that sin brings? Then turn to Jesus, who said of himself, "The Son of Man is come to seek and to save that which was lost" (Luke 19:10).

"God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life," (John 3:16). Man becomes a Christian when he puts sin out and puts Christ in at the very center of his life. There is no other road to take.

When we see how much God loves us we begin to see our sins and realize how much we need God's forgiveness. Our own experience confirms Paul's statement that "all have sinned" (Romans 3:23).

The prophet Isaiah who lived many years before Jesus, told us not only that all have sinned, but foretold the good news that God would provide his Son, Jesus, to bear for us the penalty of our sins. "All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the Lord hath laid on him (Jesus) the iniquity of us all," (Isaiah 53:6).

Jesus offers you this salvation from sin as his free gift and as an expression of divine love. You may accept it today.

Are you refusing God's cure for sin that destroys spiritual life? He offers you eternal life on the simple conditions of repentance from sin and faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. Begin now with the prayer which Jesus promised God will understand, "God be merciful to me a sinner" (Luke 18:13). Believe, "Whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved" (Romans 10:13).

Du Pont "Ceresan" liquids help protect against the need for replanting because they stop seed decay, damping-off, anthracnose boll rot and angular leaf spot with dependable effectiveness. Seed protected with new Du Pont "Ceresan" liquid sprouts faster and gives more uniform stands.

This enables you to market more bales of better-quality cotton. It also allows you to start your weed-control program earlier and to use your machinery and labor more efficiently.

Profitable control of seed- and soil-borne diseases with new Du Pont "Ceresan" liquid costs only a few cents an acre. Ask your local seed dealer to use Du Pont "Ceresan" liquids... effective new protection that puts a strong, uniform red color on seed.

These healthy, vigorous cotton seedlings grew from seed treated with Du Pont "Ceresan." They were protected against angular leaf spot and anthracnose boll rot by Du Pont "Ceresan."

On all chemicals, always follow label instructions and warnings carefully.

Harris Speaker At Rotary Club

The Rotary Magazine was the subject of a talk at the local Rotary Club by Rev. J. Clifford Harris Thursday noon of last week.

Rev. Harris reviewed in a very interesting manner two articles in a recent issue.

One of the articles dealt with the manner in which a New Hampshire Club sponsored a youth week touching on just about every phase of life of the high school student. The other, in field of International relations, told the experience of two Rotarians, one American and one a resident of Sweden, both dry cleaners, who swapped businesses and homes for a year. The experience proved helpful to both in many ways, and Rev. Harris' relation of the story was interesting and entertaining.

Dr. Skiles Thomas arranged the program. Herman Heck announced the Rotary Assembly which will be held in Lamesa next month.

President Johnny Reasonover stated the local Club had gone 32 weeks now without a member missing a meeting.

He also announced Miss Florence Coffee of Canyon, daughter of Herschel Coffee, past district governor of the 183rd district of Rotary, has been selected for the Rotary Foundation Fellowship from this district to study political science a year in an Austrian University.

Mrs. Ruth Ivey of Canoga Park, near Los Angeles, who came for the funeral of her brother, J. C. Carpenter, is remaining here for a longer visit with her mother, Mrs. C. J. Carpenter. Luther (Slim) Carpenter returned to his home in Bakersfield, Calif., over the week end.

Practices For Soil Bank Land

College Station—Land which has been placed in the Soil Bank, either the Acreage Reserve or Conservation Reserve, is still eligible for Federal cost-sharing in carrying out practices under the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP). Tom Prater, extension farm management specialist, reminded Texas farmers this week.

But, he said, applications for cost-sharing for conservation practices must be filed with the county ASC committee before any practice is undertaken. Too, the county committee is the best source of information on practices which have been approved for ACP cost-sharing in the county for this year. Approved practices vary by counties, therefore, checking with the county committee is very important.

Applications are now being received for the 1957 ACP at most county offices. All applications for approved practices that are received in time for inclusion under this year's program will receive equal consideration, said Prater.

If ACP practices are carried out on land placed in the Soil Bank,

Former Tahokan Will Be Married

The engagement of Miss Marlene Melton Henderson to Robert Jaquess has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Henderson of Baldwin Park, Calif.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jaquess of Baldwin Park and the grandson of J. W. Jaquess of Tahoka.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Baldwin Park High School where she was salutatorian of the class of 1955. She also served as president of Inter-Club Council and of CSF and is now a student at Mt. San Antonio College.

Jaquess, also a graduate of the high school, is employed by Convair of Pomona. While in school he served as senior class president, secretary of publicity, and was a member of the legislature, Kiowans, and Los Fiesteros.

No wedding date has been set.

Dixie H. D. Ladies Hear Mrs. Oliver

Mrs. Thelma Oliver, secretary of Lynn County Cancer Society, assisted by Mrs. Gladys Cobb presented the first lesson in "Cancer Education" to the Dixie Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. W. C. Huffaker in its second meeting of the month.

W. T. Kidwell showed the group a film warning that most cancer is highly curable if treated early. The film urged a thorough physical examination each year and revealed the seven danger signs. The three methods of treating cancer was pointed out and that only "quacks" guarantee a cancer cure.

Don Brice is now in Newport, R. I. where he is attending the Naval Officer Candidate school. His mother, Mrs. J. T. Brice, says that he would enjoy hearing from his friends at this address: Charles D. Brice, OCSA, USNR; Section F-1, Class 32; U. S. Naval School, Officer Candidate; U. S. Naval Station; Newport, R. I.

Mrs. A. C. Aycox underwent surgery Thursday morning in Lamesa General Hospital and no reports of her condition had reached here when the News went to press.

John Heck of Wilson underwent surgery in West Texas Hospital, Lubbock, Thursday morning. He expects to have more surgery done in two or three weeks.

Mrs. T. E. McCollum of McAllen is here visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Heck.

Mrs. Bernice Carter of Waco spent several days visiting friends and relatives here.

Mrs. John Toler recently returned from a visit with a brother in California.

Oliver Green underwent an appendectomy in a Brownfield hospital Tuesday of this week.

The Motor fuel used in the two Jima campaign would have filled a train of tank cars 238 miles long, and the lubricating oil would have filled an additional 125 box cars.

The Soil Bank provisions of no grazing and no harvesting must, of course, be met. Some practices which are not eligible for assistance under the Conservation Reserve are eligible under ACP, and may be carried out on Conservation Reserve land if approved by the county ASC committee. Assistance, however, cannot be given under both programs for the same acres.

The safe bet, said Prater, is to contact the local ASC committee and find out what is available for helping conserve and build up your farm land.

Today's MEDITATION

From The Word's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

© THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

The kindness and love of God our Saviour toward man appeared.

(Titus 3:4)

One autumn I was making an evangelistic tour in Mesopotamia. Entering a village, I asked its name. The answer was "Shakar Khach," meaning "Sugar Cross." When I visited the village, it was inhabited entirely by non-Christians. Adverse and withering storms of hatred and vengeance have been as a scourge upon that territory.

But what a suggestive name for a town—"Sugar Cross!" The name suggests that at one time the village was inhabited by Christians. It suggests that they found joy in their walk with Christ. It implies that they knew the sweet and precious significance of the cross on which the kindness and love of God were revealed to all mankind—and all on account of our sins!

By the way of the cross of Christ, God's love answers man's need. Only by the way of the cross it is possible to enrich the relationships between persons, families, and nations.

PRAYER

O God, we praise Thee for so many witnesses who through untold sufferings and troubles have stood faithful to Thee and tested the strength of Thy cross. Give me grace to feed by faith at Thy table today. Dear Lord, make my life sweet. For the Redeemer's sake. Amen.

T. J. Jackson Dies At Hobbs

T. J. Jackson, about 75 years old, died at about 6:30 p. m. Tuesday in Hobbs, N. M. as a result of a heart attack. He was a former well-known citizen of Tahoka and Lynn county.

Jackson lived here for many years operating a grocery store where the Tippit store is now located. He farmed for many years in the Grassland area and later in the Dixie community before moving to Hobbs in about 1943.

Funeral services were to have been held Thursday afternoon in Hobbs, according to Mrs. W. R. McNeely, long-time friend of the family.

Survivors include his wife, and five daughters, Mrs. Melvin Sparkman of Silver City, N. M., Mrs. Neal Gibson, Mrs. Vernon Hill and Mrs. Madeline Shelton, all of Hobbs, and Mrs. Jessie Faye Cecil of Odessa; 13 grandchildren and three great grandchildren. Two sons died in infancy.

Mrs. Florence Toler, mother of John Toler, returned Sunday to her home in Dublin after a month's visit here with Mr. and Mrs. Toler.

community. They start out by saying they like their own minister, and they say they sure like old Brother So and So, and that Brother What's His Name is a good egg, too.

It's when this feeling exists, that there is a real chance for building a better community—the kind we all want to live in.

As you probably know, Abbie Whorton went to California last week end to see Jimmie before he is shipped overseas.

What you also probably know, is that she got a real send off. Her ascent to the bus was accompanied by a "real" dignified rendition of Tahoka music. While one friend blew a toy saxophone, another slung a Halloween noise maker, another strummed a guitar, and still another played the drum (a mop bucket) with a feather duster. Lil McCord put the finishing touch on the occasion when she drug out her "crying towel" complete with a wet sponge.

Thoughts For Lent

Under an Eastern sky,
Amid the rabble's cry,
A man went forth to die
For me.
Horn-crowned His blessed head,
Blood-stained His every tread,
Cross-laden on He's led
For me.
Pierced were His hands and
Three hours over Him beat
Fierce rays of noontide heat
For me.

McNeely, Milliken Are Wreck Victims

Bill McNeely and A. R. Milliken were injured and Bill's 1957 Chevrolet station wagon demolished Friday at about 1:30 p. m. when they met a Chrysler driven by Walter Edmonson, 69, of Lubbock, on the three-lane highway between Lubbock and Idalou.

Investigating officers said Mr. Edmonson apparently went to sleep and his car veered into the extreme east lane, causing the wreck.

Milliken was driving McNeely's car, and they were pulling a four-wheel trailer en route to Idalou to pick up some lumber. They saw the car coming, expected it to turn off, and even slowed down to a very slow speed. As the two vehicles approached, Milliken pulled to the left to try to miss the Chrysler, but the Chrysler pulled in front of them.

McNeely received two broken bones in his left ankle, and A. R. received three broken ribs. Mr. Edmonson received broken ribs and a punctured lung and is still in serious condition in a Lubbock hospital.

Soil Conservation District Supervisors are Blankenship, chairman, Cap Rowe, Earl Terry, Roy Lee Williams, and Barnes, and Allyn Cox is the office manager.

Speaking on the subject, "The World We Live In," Mr. Cousins, who is executive secretary of the State Board of Pharmacy, dished out about twenty minutes of humor and wrapped up his talk with about ten minutes of "meaty" observations and philosophy.

"Money cannot buy love, respect, friendship, the important things of life," he said, and went on to point out improvements in our world and life, suggesting ways in which man can better himself further.

He said we need more humility, the ability to change, curiosity, talent, to be our brother's brother, to put a premium on wise thought, and to fight down prejudice, egotism, and ignorance. He concluded with the statement, "Man is our greatest wealth, our only resource."

The speaker was introduced by Wynne Collier, who is president of the Texas Pharmaceutical Association.

Outgoing president Herman Heck thanked members and directors for their fine cooperation; introduced the new directors and new president. Ayer introduced the new directors and pledged to do his best as head of the C. of G. in building a better town and county.

Otis Spears, in making the secretary's report, cited the need of a full-time secretary, and listed a few of the things the Chamber has done the past year.

Members from the High School Chorus presented the musical part of the program. Patsy Stanley and Bobbie Bingham sang two duet numbers, "Cinco Robles" and "Maizy Doaks," accompanied at the piano by Karen Kidwell. A trio composed of Patsy Norman, Mary Belle Woods, and Diane Hensley sang "The Banana Song."

District Attorney Mitchell Williams gave the invocation, and Rev. J. Clifford Harris the benediction.

Table decorations were by Mrs. H. W. Carter and Mrs. E. R. Edwards. The fried chicken dinner was served by the ladies of the school cafeteria staff.

Dale Thuren was master of ceremonies, and everyone agreed that he did a wonderful job keeping the program moving rapidly and injecting a lot of humor into it himself.

Congressman Proposes Law Changes To Cotton Program

Congressman Jamie L. Whitten, Democrat of Mississippi, speaking to the Plains Cotton Growers in Lubbock Monday, called for a complete new look at the agricultural program, including price supports. Mr. Whitten, chairman of the Agricultural Appropriations Committee, who was the first to insist that the Department of Agriculture sell its surplus cotton in world markets at competitive prices, said this sales program had done lots of good and if continued would relieve some of our problems. He insisted, however, that there were many defects in the present law which have become apparent after years of experience.

"First," he said, "we have learned that controlling acreage will not control U. S. production. We also have learned that reducing U. S. production will not reduce world production. Also, the Department has shown, through its short-sighted policy of holding U. S. offerings in world trade above world prices, which it followed up until a year ago, that while such course would help hold up world prices, in the process foreign countries increased production, got the markets, and the U. S. ended with surpluses on which it paid storage and counted to reduce U. S. acreage, while foreign acreage expanded.

"We have learned that Secretary Benson's theory of reducing price supports won't work. In recent hearings before my committee, it was shown that the Secretary's action in reducing price supports on cotton $15 per bale had not decreased production, had not increased consumption, nor had this reduction been passed on to the consumer. All his action did was to lower the income of cotton farmers.

retary's action in reducing price supports on cotton $15 per bale had not decreased production, had not increased consumption, nor had this reduction been passed on to the consumer. All his action did was to lower the income of cotton farmers.

"Existing law," the Congressman said, "invites every farmer to increase his production per acre to the fullest extent he can. Present efforts to control U. S. production by acres leads to more and more use of expensive fertilizers, insecticides, irrigation equipment, and other expensive equipment, adding to operating costs.

"As the farmer, with reduced acreage, tries to produce more and more per acre under existing law, in effect he cuts his own acreage for the following year. And, if continued, it would mean a gradual shrinkage of an already too small acreage, resulting in more and more people being forced from the farms.

"The present acreage reserve program, where the farmer is paid for leaving out of production a part of his allotted cotton acreage, also heads in the wrong direction and is based on the false premise that removing acres until present supplies are sold will correct the farm situation.

"It is my opinion that such program is doing untold harm to every city, town and village in the country. I would point out another fact which farmers should recognize. Today there are only thirteen percent of the American people on farms and the other eighty-seven percent will believe that this acreage reserve payment is a direct gift to the farmer, whereas in fact it will be of little help to the farmer, for the season that the farmer must leave this acreage out of his already limited allotment. Such payment from the government will not substantially add to his income; but is in substitution for the income he would have received from the acreage. Since the payment comes for not farming, it is my opinion this will, in time, inflame the American people against farm programs generally."

Hearings Continue On Poage Bill

Washington, March 21—Rep. George Mahon of the 19th District has reported from Washington that the controversy over the Poage cotton-bill will continue for several weeks and that the outcome is uncertain.

Dates for further hearings have not been set.

Mahon said figures prepared by the Department of Agriculture show that if the Poage bill is enacted into law it will cost the 19th Congressional District of Texas 118,000 acres of cotton allotment next year, channeling the acres into East and Central Texas.

This would result from changing the base period for allotments from the previous five years as in the present law to the previous three years, Mahon explained. The Congressman and representatives of the Plains Cotton Growers pointed this out in testimony before the House Committee on Agriculture last week.

One provision of the Poage bill would require the Department of Agriculture to establish a special loan on light spotted cotton. West Texans have been working for a light spot loan program for a long time. The Secretary of Agriculture now has the authority under the present law to establish such a program.

In order to take the light spot issue out of the area of controversy, Mahon has introduced a separate bill which provides for a loan on light spot cotton but which omits the objectionable provisions of the Poage bill. Mahon said he would work for a settlement of the controversy which would include elimination of all provisions of the Poage bill which are discriminatory toward West Texas.

The Congressman pointed out that our cotton problems are national in scope and that no good purpose was being served by proposals reopening the cotton allotment fight between East and West Texas.

Mahon said he had received much helpful information in regard to the cotton acreage controversy from various farm organizations and farmers in West Texas and that he was presenting it to the House Committee on Agriculture. He said that he would keep West Texas farm groups advised of developments on the pending legislation.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Lynch were here this week visiting their daughter, Bobbye Jean, who is living with her grandmother, Mrs. R. H. Turner, while ill with rheumatic fever.

Although the track team of Tahoka High School did not fare so well at the Crosbyton relays last Saturday, two local boys placed in events.

Denver Ford won first place in the mile dash and James Adams came in fourth in the same event. The Tahoka team will journey to Lockney this Saturday for a track meet there, Coach Bill Haralson said.

Odd Ends

(By E. L. The Elder)

For many years, at rather frequent intervals, I have been reading the conclusion of medical doctors that worry kills more people than does any other disease. I have also been reading frequently the dictum that laughter is the best medicine. Therefore I have often resolved to quit worrying. I have not succeeded too well, but I do not worry as much, as I used to. Often, however, about the time I begin to think that I have cured the habit, something comes along that knocks me over. It was so one night this last week when my daughter Myrtle phoned down from Lubbock just about dusk telling us that her daughter—my grand-daughter—Anita had suffered severe burns when her clothing had caught afire while Myrtle and Sara were out of town and practically all her skirts had burned off of her and they found her in a hospital when they returned, still not knowing how severe the burns would prove to be, and would not be able to find out until after ten o'clock the next day. Of course, I did not sleep much that night. But Frank's wife Mae, and Eva and I went up to Lubbock the next morning and spent most of the day at the hospital. We found before leaving that the burns were not as severe as we had feared and do not know yet how long it will take for them to heal, but there was one most satisfactory thing we found out about it, and that was that Anita herself was uncomplicated and cheerful. And that cheered us up. Paradox me, folks, for using so much space in telling about this personal misfortune and grief, but this Column is primarily a personal project any way.

I talked politics in this Column last week, two weeks ago now, but I did not get through with it. I did not exhaust the subject under discussion by any means. I have had very little opportunity this past week to find out what my few readers really thought about my discussion. But I have had one letter from a man expressing strong approval of what I said about Thomas Jefferson's views and the Declaration of Independence of which he was the chief author. That man was not a politician and does not profess to be a statesman. He is an Educator and a historian, and I dare say that he knows more about the warp and the Panhandle and the Plains of Texas have attended the Canyon College, and they know Dr. J. A. Hill. Well, he wrote me warmly commending my Article on Thomas Jefferson and The Declaration of Independence, declaring that I was exactly correct. He said that the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States than do half the Representatives and many of the Senators holding seats in the Federal Congress. Many of you know him. His name is J. A. Hill. For thirty years he was President of the West Texas State College at Canyon. In college, in the University of Texas, in fact, he majored in History; and in California U. at Berkeley California, later, he did post graduate work. Students from all over the Panhandle and the Plains of Texas have attended the Canyon College, and they know Dr. J. A. Hill. Well, he wrote me warmly commending my Article on Thomas Jefferson and The Declaration of Independence, declaring that I was exactly correct. He said that he had known so-called statesmen who ignorantly made light of Thomas Jefferson's reputed assertion in the Declaration that all men are born "Free and equal," when in fact he said no such thing. As I stated, he said in substance only that all men are entitled to equal rights "before the law" in our country—in the courts—and I proceeded to enumerate those rights; and every statesman in this country knows, and every politician should know, that these are the facts.

I am writing all this just to emphasize the truth, of which so many people seem to be ignorant. Thomas Jefferson never wrote nor said that all men are born "free and equal."

Now I want to say some other things political. The first observation that I wish to make is that apparently there is more flouting of the laws of our country today and more vicious and rampant criminality throughout our country than ever before in its history. More women are drinking and becoming dog-drunks in high society and low society. It seems to me, than ever before during my day—and more women and men are committing vile murder. Much of this criminality, I believe, is due to the more general use of liquor and narcotics. It seems to me that every law-abiding citizen of Texas should back up Governor Price Daniel in his fight against these evils. Liquor and narcotics degrade, defile, and destroy those who become their victims. Each of these cursed evils lures and deceives the innocent, whether the victim is a full-grown man or woman, a teen-age youth, or a mere school child.

It is another case of Satan transforming himself into an angel of light, as was clearly implied in II Corinthians 11:14 in the King James version of the New Testament, and more positively stated in the Revised Standard Version, which reads as follows: "For such men are false apostles, deceitful workmen, disguising themselves as apostles of Christ, and no wonder, for even Satan disguises himself as an angel of light."

Edgar Goodspeed, another eminent Greek scholar, puts it this way: "Such men are sham apostles, dishonest workmen, masquerading as apostles of Christ. And no wonder, for even Satan himself masquerades as a shining angel."

And so do the peddlers of narcotics deceive and lure thousands and thousands of innocent people into the use of their abominable drugs. If the people and officials do not take proper steps to put these dope peddlers out of business, they will eventually drag this nation down into the gutters and eternal oblivion.

And if the women and the men and the boys and the girls of this country do not call a halt on the cursed drink habit, the gutters along the streets in the slums of our cities are going to be filled with shameless and besmirched alcoholics who in earlier life were respectable and honored members of society. In fighting these evils Governor Daniel will need all the help he can get. And these are not merely local problems. They are nation-wide in their scope.

There is another dire evil that threatens the security of our country. Dishonesty! Business scandals! Fraudulent Insurance Companies! Embezzlement of bank funds. Bank Robberies and Highway Robberies. Al Capone Days? Al Capone, and his gang never did anything any more depraved and more horrible than the gang crimes that we are now reading of in the papers nearly every day.

And now even teen-age boys and girls are ganging up and going out to rob and steal and to murder. They defy officers of the law and sometimes kill them.

I am no politician. I do not charge that all young people are bad. No! I think we have the finest young people as a whole of any nation in the world. I think that millions of our young people are better than their daddies and mummies. But the bad young people are bolder and more aggressive in their immorality and criminality today, I think that they have ever been in any other era of our history.

All of these evils are prevalent in Texas, but not only in Texas. They are apparently more prevalent in some other parts of our country than they are here. They pose nation-wide problems.

Now, almost before the ink gets dry on this printed page, we are going to be up against the problem of electing a United States Senator from Texas. There are twenty-two announced candidates, but most of them will each get only a few votes. As I see the situation from my "den" here in my home in Tahoka, there are not more than six or seven candidates that we need to worry about. Now, I may make a big bust when I under take to name them, but to me the possibilities, appearing in the order in which they appear on a ballot prepared by a certain commissioners court in central Texas, are as follows: James P. Hart of Travis county; Thad Hutchison of Harris county; Searcy Bracewell of Harris county; John C. White of Wichita county; Ralph W. Yarbrough of Travis county; and Martin Dies of Angelina county. These are the six that I figure may really be in the running.

This election, as most of our readers know, has been called to fill out the unexpired term of Senator Price Daniel who resigned from the Senate to accept his election to the governorship of Texas. The candidate receiving a plurality of all the votes cast will be declared elected. There will be no run-off election. The Senator-elect will take his seat in the U. S. Senate soon after the votes are officially counted, which should be a few days after the election.

Now a few words about the reputed six leading candidates. First in order on the list, though he may not be first by any means when the votes are counted, is James P. Hart of Austin, Travis county. He is a member of the Supreme Court of Texas. He is undoubtedly an able man and an able lawyer, and would probably make a good U. S. Senator.

The second on the list is Thad Hutchison of Houston, Harris county.

Hutchison is the only avowed Republican on the list and has the favorable nod of President Eisenhower. He will probably get most of the Republican votes in Texas.

Searcy Bracewell, a Democrat, also lives in Houston, Harris county, and is expected to get a heavy vote there and in that section of the state. John C. White of Wichita county and state commissioner of Agriculture in Texas, appears next on the list. He is a bitter critic of the farm policy pursued by Secretary Benson of the Federal government and will probably get a heavy farmer vote, though many people in Texas regard White as a mere time-serving politician.

Next on the list is Ralph W. Yarbrough of Austin, Travis county. He has made two state-wide races at two successive elections heretofore, receiving a strong vote but being defeated each time.

He will likely be a strong contender for the office.

The sixth and last man on the list—the very last man on that central Texas county ballot—is Martin Dies of Angelina county. Dies became famous during the early years of the Delano Roosevelt administration for his energy and skill in digging up evidence against Russian Communists who were migrating to this country and getting themselves or their friends appointed to responsible positions in our government. He won the open hostility of the President for these activities but won also the undying gratitude of many Democrats and other patriotic Americans for these services. In recent years he has been serving as congressman-at-large from Texas but apparently has not been shown many favors either by Democrats or Republicans in Congress. I think I shall vote for Martin Dies for the U. S. Senate on April 2. I think my second choice would be James P. Hart of Austin, and my third choice that man Bracewell of Houston.

If I were advising any of you how to vote, I would advise you to vote just as I do, that is, JUST AS YOU PLEASE.

"Beauty, ah Beauty!" What is beauty? Is it the thrill of a bird's song? A rose in bloom? A sunset? A baby's smile? Just what is beauty? How can it be defined? The members of the St. John's Lutheran Church sought to express beauty in the erection of an educational building. Beauty is aptly expressed there. Over and over again the remark "Isn't it beautiful" was heard at the dedication and open house Sunday. Surely the beauty of the building will better help the people to see the beauty of God and in turn let His beauty be seen in them.

The people enjoyed visiting with Rev. and Mrs. Ehlers, former pastor of the Lutheran Church.

Miss Knippling of Lamesa, a former Wilson High School teacher visited here Sunday.

Fred Davidson of Plainview was home Sunday and had as his guest Miss Georgia Johnston, a student of Wayland College.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Watkins of Beaumont are visiting their son, Sonny Watkins and family.

Mr. W. P. Stokers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Stoker of Abilene are visiting them.

Mr. and Mrs. John Covey and Mr. and Mrs. Luke Coleman were dinner guests in Lubbock last Friday night.

Byron Evans of Brownfield spent the week end with Travis Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Mosley were in Big Spring last Friday night attending a bridal shower for a friend.

Mrs. Willa Wakeland left last week for Austin to visit her daughter Mrs. Lloyd Kirtley and family. She was accompanied to Austin by Miss Eva Pearl Williamson and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Key who are visiting relatives there.

Have you ever heard of the "Charge of the Light Brigade?" There was the "Charge of the Bucket brigade," the other night at Floyd Heck's house. A water line broke and the basement was flooded with water! Bucketful by bucketful the water slowly receded! At 2 a. m. victory was won! (I bet no one had to be rocked to sleep!)

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Swann visited in Plains Friday, guests of their sons, Garland and Bobby, and their families.

Mrs. R. H. Mosley of Amarillo spent the week end with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Mosley.

Mrs. Gladys Womack and children of Odessa, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Young and family of Post, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Davis and family of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Schneider of Wilson, enjoyed a fish fry with their mother and Dad, Mr. and Mrs. Hub Young, Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Kahlich had as their weekend guests, Mr. Kahlich's nephew, Raymond Kahlich and family of San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wuensche are home after a few days in Austin visiting relatives.

Rev. George Heinemeier, pastor of the St. Paul Lutheran Church, and Mr. A. A. Teinert were in Austin Friday and Saturday, attending to church business.

A bridal shower honoring Mrs. Bill Wuensche, was held in the home of Mrs. Howard Moerbe. Mrs. Cecil Wied assisted as co-hostess.

The South Plains Zone of the L. U. M. L. met in the Redeemer Lutheran Church in Lubbock last week. The Rev. E. Heine of Amarillo and the Rev. Paul Ellbrecht of Lubbock lectured on "Training Kingdom Workers." Nine ladies from Wilson attended.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Gryder visited their daughter, Mrs. Charles Robins and family of Lubbock, Saturday.

The Garden Club Style Show held in Tahoka was enjoyed by a group of Wilson ladies. There were Mes. Joe Harvick, Lawrence May, Charles Baker, G. L. Nelson, H. G. Cook and Nancy.

Bray Announces Chevrolet Contest

Most anyone in town will have a good opportunity to win a new car and lots of cash for the first class vacation in Chevrolet's $275,000 "Lucky Traveler" Contest, according to A. M. Bray, local Chevrolet dealer.

The contest, which opens March 15 and closes April 15, offers a total of 57 awards, including four top prizes, each consisting of $25,000 in cash, plus a 1957 Chevrolet passenger car of the winners' choice, equipped with "Turbo Fire 283" V-8 engine, automatic transmission and a Chevrolet heater and defroster. Following the top awards are 53 prizes of 1957 Chevrolet Bel Air 4-door Sedans equipped with "Turbo Fire 283" V-8 engines, automatic transmissions, heaters and defrosters plus $500 in cash to each winner.

Local motorist, familiar or not with America's favorite sports, should have no trouble with Chevrolet's $275,000 "Lucky Traveler" Contest. Contestants are required to identify four vacation areas shown on the official entry form. A portion of map, pictures and clues on the entry form enable the contest to correctly name the vacation spots. In addition, contestants must add a last line to the "Lucky Traveler" jingle which is also printed on the entry form. Entry forms may be picked up

Cotton Problems

"It is my belief," he said, "that we must rewrite our farm legislation so as to reverse the present approach, which leads to less and less farming on a more and more expensive basis, which does not relieve the world supply and demand situation and makes the condition with the American farmer more and more dependent upon the 87 percent of Americans who are non-farmers, who in the final analysis, through their representatives in Congress, must accept any farm program in order for it to continue."

Continuing, Congressman Whitten said that we must start out with the premise that any farm program, to be worthwhile, must let the American farmer farm. The world needs American production; if American farmers do not farm year in and year out we will gradually lose our markets to foreign competition. If our farmers do not farm, all businesses which are to any degree dependent upon farm production and activity will feel the pinch greatly as they are beginning to do at the present time.

If we do not let our farmers farm, he said, where are the thousands and thousands of young 4-H Club members going to find a place to use their talents in connection with farming?

"It is my belief that the best approach to our present farm difficulties is through a domestic allotment plan. I have been working with lawyers at the Department of Agriculture in recent weeks, in an effort to write such a bill, which would apply to wheat, tobacco, and rice on the same general basis as it would for cotton. We all recognize that with a dollar an hour minimum wage, the bargaining rights of labor unions, fourteen freight rate increases since World War II, and all the other costs built into the American economy by various laws, it is absolutely essential that some protection against such costs be given to the American farmer through price support. I am convinced, however, that these protections should be self-financing in that the costs should be passed on to the consumer by the sales price. All costs of minimum wage are paid by the consumer. All the costs of freight rate increases are borne by the user. Thus it goes. Only the farmer is left dependent upon annual appropriations of the Congress; and yet the necessity for such financial support of the farmer flows from these other laws which add to his costs. Therefore, I am preparing a bill which will be introduced shortly, wherein the American cotton farmer will be given support on his share of the domestic market, figured in terms of bales or pounds. Such supports on the farmers share of the domestic market should be on the basis of 100 percent of parity. Under such bill, the farmer will be released from acreage controls and any cotton that he produces beyond his share of domestic markets would be available only for world trade and on that share of his crop the farmer would be dependent on what the world market would pay."

This approach, according to Mr. Whitten, would guarantee to users of American cotton that the U. S. would continue as a consistent source of supply. Under this approach we would get rid of all acreage controls and the many troublesome features of such a control program.

"Based on my years of experience as chairman of the Agricultural Appropriations Subcommittee, where we review annually the over-all farm program operations," Mr. Whitten said, "it is my belief that the mechanics of such a program would be to issue to the farmer annually certificates for his share of the domestic market, figuring in bales and pounds on somewhat the same basis as acreage is now figured. Domestic mills then would be required to use only certified cotton to meet their domestic market, but would be authorized to buy at the world price a sufficient quantity of cotton for their export market."

Such an approach would prevent the outlay of millions of dollars each year by the government, as is now required. Instead of the American people being taxed to support the farm program, the users would pay the cost just as the users pay the cost of wage contracts, freight rate increases and all the rest.

Such a program will make it possible to use our exchanges, it will restore cotton movements to normal channels, and above all it will let our farmers farm as against present programs. It will let the farmer rotate the use of his land, reduce his operating expenses and will relieve the farmer from having to vote more and more ac-

Southwestern Life Issues Statement

Southwestern Life Insurance Company's 54th annual financial statement, released today, revealed record gains in sales and the payment of policy benefits for the year 1956.

Assets, by which a company's true strength is best measured, amounted to $393,037,669, according to President James Ralph Wood of Dallas. Increase in the assets during the year amounted to almost $24 million.

Surplus funds for the protection of policyowners, including capital, surplus and contingency funds, amounted to $44,806,050, equivalent to 12.87 per cent of total liabilities at the end of 1956.

age restrictions on himself in order to obtain support prices.

Such bill will require the Secretary of Agriculture to sell at competitive prices any cotton above the security reserve which comes into the hands of the Commodity Credit Corporation, within twelve months after title is taken over by such corporation. Such a program would regain and retain the farmers' export market upon which his economic well-being is dependent.

The Congressman concluded by asking that all farmers and farm organizations study such proposals for the purpose of improving on his views. "I am sure," he said, "that such a program will not be perfect. However, I do know such an approach will do much to correct the glaring defects in the present law which reduces the farmers farming every year and which leaves the farmer more and more dependent upon annual appropriations of the Congress."

The financial statement also showed a gain of over $125 million of Southwestern Life insurance in force, bringing the total amount of life insurance in force on December 31, 1956 to $1,466,401,879.

Mr. Wood said the field organization set a new record in sales for the eighth consecutive year, producing $228,104,960 of paid-for new business—an increase of over $47 million above the 1955 total.

Policyowners and beneficiaries received a record $22,262,360 in Southwestern Life policy benefits, increasing the total of policy benefit payments since the Company was organized nearly 54 years ago to $241,616,946.

Funds were invested in 1956 at a rate of more than $4.5 million per month. Of the $55,571,522 invested during the year, 80 per cent was placed in loans on real estate. The statement shows a total outstanding investment of $189,541,282 in such loans, which account for 48.22 per cent of Southwestern Life's total assets. Operating in Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, and New Mexico, Southwestern Life is represented in Tahoka by Mrs. Gladys M. Stokes.
