Stage Band Selected as Outstandidg in AA

The Wellington High School stage band—"that fine swinging group of young musicians"—was named the outstanding Class AA stage band participating in the West Texas State University Stage Band Festival on the campus of that school Saturday, Jan. 28. The band also was one of three Class AA bands to receive the superior or Division I rating, prereqiuisite to its being selected for the other honor.

In receiving the Outstanding stage band honors, the Wellington musicians edged out such consistent winners as Phillips and Hamlin, the other Class AA bands to receive Division I ratings, said James Larson, band director.

Individual recognition went to two band members, who were selected for the All-Star Band. Sharon Daves was the only drummer chosen and David Groves was one of four trumpeters.

Selection for the All-Star band were made from all bands competing, from Class AAAA to Class B.

Other Class AA bands competing were Denver City and Guymon, second division ratings, and Hale Center, third division.

Judges were high in their praise of the Wellington stage band.

Said Harley Rex, band director at Sam Houston State College: "The fine swinging group of young musicians, with full ensemble sound, well rehearsed, a good concept and drive in the brass section, excellent rendition of 'Blues for Sita'. The flute is very pleasing."

Phil Hewitt, band director at Paschal High School, Fort Worth: "Good drive and style, good balance, good brass, full sound; overall a fine performing sound."

Melvin Montgomery, band director, Snyder High School: "Brass section very good, music played very well, drummer and flute excellent. Band plays quite well. It is evident that they understand jazz and its concept. The best brass section heard today. The band swings real good."

The only suggestions for improvement were in the saxo

W. N. Price, 78, a Collingsworth County resident since 1941, died at his home in Wellington Monday, Jan. 20 at 10:10 p.m. He had been in ill health and was hospitalized earlier this month. He had been feeling well, however, and his death was unexpected.

Farm Program Sign-up Begins February 6

The sign-up period for 1967 cotton, wheat and feed grain under Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation program will begin Monday, Feb. 6, and run through Friday, March 3, Millard Brown of the ASCS office announced.

"The sign-up period is only four weeks in duration. Therefore, farmers should give some thought as to how they want to sign up in each program before calling at the ASCS office so that their agreements can be processed in as short a time as possible," Mr. Brown said.

The programs will operate essentially the same as last year. However, there are a few changes. Some are as follows:

Cecil Brown, Norwood Area Leader, Dies

Cecil Preston Brown, whose community leadership has influenced the Samnorwood area for more than 35 years, died in the Veterans Administration Hospital in Amarillo Wednesday, Jan. 25. He suffered a stroke on Sept. 30, and had been hospitalized since then.

Mr. Brown, with his wife, Cleo, operated a grocery store at Samnorwood since 1937, and for seven years prior to that he was a partner with his father-in-law, Matt Tenison in a grocery store in the Plymouth community.

The store was immediately across the street from the Samnorwood school and few men in that big district had given the school, its policies and its activities the support and personal work that Mr. Brown has given.

Although he had no children of his own, the relationship between him and the children who attended school there was unusually close. He was especially interested in school athletics.

Mr. Brown's activities and work extended to the entire community. He was a member of the Samnorwood Lions Club, and he was one of the original group which began the work that resulted in the Samnorwood Water Corp., supplying domestic water to much of that part of the county.

He was a member of the Church of Christ at Dozier.

Mr. Brown was born July 1, 1896 at Lingleville, Erath County, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Brown. He received his education in the schools of that area. In 1914, he moved with his family to Wilbarger County, and in 1920 they came to Collingsworth County, settling at Plymouth.

He was married to Miss Cleo Tenison in 1927. She preceded him in death Dec. 5, 1966.

Mr. Brown served in the Army during World War I, and

Dodson Bank Burglary Loss Placed at $1,048

Burglars, who used a cutting torch to open the vault door from the inside, robbed the First State Bank of Dodson of $1,048.67 and entered the Dodson post office late Monday night, Jan. 30, or in the early hours Tuesday, Sheriff John Rainey has reported.

Investigating officers believe it was the work of professionals.

"It was the smoothest job of torch cutting I ever saw," declared Sheriff Rainey.

"We believe there were at least three," he continued. "There were no fingerprints to be picked up on the inside but there were a lot of tracks on the outside," Rainey added. Plaster casts were made.

The burglars were unable to get $17,700 in one of two safes in the vault, although they did cut a three-cornered slot near the top of it, according to the sheriff. Water was run down the cut to keep the money inside from catching fire. When it was opened Tuesday, an estimated four to five gallons of water was inside and the money was soaked.

Approximately $1,000 was taken from the bank vault, according to Floyd Teutsch, president of the bank. The remaining $48.67 was in change, $39 of it pennies.

Investigating the burglary were three members of the Federal Buerau of Investigation from Amarillo, who were Raymond M. Lester, John Riley and Edward J. Kilday, Texas Ranger Bill Baten of Pampa, Sheriff Rainey, Deputy George Hooten and Police Chief Donald Nunnelley.

Sheriff Rainey said this is how officers reconstructed the burglary: entry was gained by

Dear Deskins:

A lot of water has gone under the bridge since my boyhood days in Collingsworth County and Wellington. Nevertheless, the happiest days of my life were spent there.

I look back with fond memories and recollections of my football and basketball days of my high school years—of you and Frank Cocke—Tom Campbell—Johnny French—Candler Hawkins—Polly O'Neil—Luther Gribble and many others I was privileged to play with and have the wonderful times that I still often live over again.

Also my mother passed away in your beautiful hospital that seems to be in such need now for a blood bank.

Please let me donate $50.00 to this wonderful cause.

If you are ever in this area, I hope you will stop by to see me and please remember me to the ones there that I knew and especially Frank Cocke.

Sincerely,

Deadline Near on World War II Veterans Loans

Time is growing short for veterans of World War II to use their eligibility for guaranteed loans for homes, farms or businesses, A. W. Stratton, Chief Benefits Director of the Veterans Administration warned this week. The final deadline for application for a VA guaranteed loan is July 25, 1967.

Stratton said that while over 7 million veterans had used their eligibility to purchase homes, farms or start businesses, there were many still eligible who had not taken advantage of this provision.

The Veterans Administration has guaranteed 6,370,909 home loans to veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict. There have been a total of 238,752 business loans and 71,654 farm loans guaranteed under the programs. Loans insured by the VA total $62 billion.

In addition to the guaranteed loans, the Veterans Administration has made 256,962 direct loans totaling $2.3 billion. These loans are made in areas where local financing is not available.

Stratton advised veterans of World War II planning on utilizing this privilege guaranteed to them by Public Law not to wait until the last minute before selecting their home, farm or business. Loans are arranged for by the builder in most instances, but the guarantee can be used to purchase existing homes as well as new homes.

Wtih less than eight months remaining for veterans to use their eligibility, Stratton said there had been an upsurge in veteran loan activity.

The July 25, 1967 deadline does not apply to veterans of the Korean Conflict or veterans who have been included in the new legislation who have served since Jan. 31, 1955. The expiration date for Korean veterans is 1975, and for veterans of the Vietnam era, ten years plus an extension for time served, from the date of their discharge.

Janet West, David VanCronkhite Wed In Church Ceremony Saturday

Wedding vows were spoken by Miss Janet Carol West and David Ripley VanCronkhite of Dallas at eight o'clock Saturday evening, January 28, in the First Baptist Church in Wellington. The Rev. Gary Don West of Irving, the bride's cousin, performed the ceremony.

The bride is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Oris Glenn West. She graduated from Wellington high school, where she was a member of Ko Shari and a student body officer. Before her marriage she was employed in Dallas by Trans-Texas Airways as a hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. John Edward VanCronkhite of 9242 Hathaway, Dallas, are the parents of the bridegroom, who attended Augusta Military Academy in Virginia and was graduated from San Marcos Academy as president of his class. At Southern Methodist University, he pledged Kappa Sigma, and presently he is enrolled at Stephen F. Austin State College in Nacogdoches. He is a member of the Children of the Republic of Texas.

Wedding music was presented by Mrs. Gary West of Irving, vocalist, and Mrs. Truman Estes, organist.

An arch of lemon leaves and white gladioli were at the center of the altar decorations, and on each side were branched candelabras and sunburst arrangements of white gladioli in tall standards.

Mr. West gave his niece in marriage.

The bride wore a gown of white lace styled along princess lines. Seed pearls traced the scalloped batteau neckline and the sleeves came to petal points at her wrists. Worn over the dress was a sleeveless coat of white satin which revealed the floor-length skirt and formed a fan-shaped train. Her silk illusion veil was attached to a lace crown trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Mrs. Larry Oswalt was the matron of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Jerry Thompson of Weatherford, Oklahoma, Miss Maureen Cartter and Miss Katina VanCronkhite, sister of the bridegroom, both of Dallas.

Their yellow silk dresses were street-length and of A-line design, with round necklines and long sleeves. Bouffant shoulder length veils were attached to open pillboxes of yellow silk. Each carried a bouquet of yellow gladiolas.

Breakfast Is Important

Skipping breakfast isn't a smart way to lose weight. Three well-balanced meals a day is the only way to get the important foods needed.

The basic cereal and milk breakfast pattern of 400 calories for weight reduction is nutritionally efficient. It includes one-half cup orange juice, one ounce whole wheat flakes or other ready-to-eat cereal, one cup non-fat milk for cereal and as a beverage, one teaspoon sugar, two slices of white toast and one teaspoon butter.

The basic cereal and milk breakfast is superior to some other breakfasts because it is low in fat and cholesterol. It contains an adequate amount of complex carbohydrates and a small quantity of simple sugar. It also furnishes adequate protein, important vitamins, and essential minerals.

The only way to maintain strength and avoid fatigue and weakness during reducing times is to choose carefully each food on the basis of nutritional contribution as well as calorie count.

Washing Fragile Linens

Lacy doilies and other fragile linens need special treatment. To avoid snags and pulls, wash small, fragile pieces in a container which eliminates handling and rubbing — a plastic shaker or wide mouth jar will do. Fill it half to three-fourths full of hot soap or detergent suds, immerse the doilies, cap the container and shake this miniature "washing machine". Then rinse the same way.

Cigarette ashes wash right out in hot suds, but other spots may require special treatment. Wine or other alcoholic beverage stains should be soaked or sponged promptly with cool water before washing in warm suds. For old stains that have turned brown on white cotton or linen, us bleach according to container directions; then re-launder.

Soft drink stains are often colorless at first but may turn brown if allowed to stand, so sponge them at once with cool water or with equal parts of alcohol and water. Then rub glycerine into the stain, let it stand half an hour, rinse with clear water and finally launder in hot suds. Treat coffee or tea stains by pouring boiling water through the stained fabric stretched taut over a bowl. Then wash in hot suds.

Milk, cream, gravy, and white sauce stains need soaking in cool water, then washing in hot suds. Generally any chocolate stain can be removed in hot suds. If any stain remains, soak the fabric in a weak solution of bleach and then re-launder in hot suds.

Cranberry stains should be sponged with cool water — or even use an ice cube from a water glass for instant "first aid." Then launder in warm suds. If any stain remains apply bleach and re-launder. To remove candle wax, scrape off excess wax with a silver knife, place the stained spot between white blotters, and press with a hot iron. Sponse with carbon tetrachloride and wash in warm suds—using dilute bleach to remove any trace of color.

THE WATT
THE KILOWATT

Producing power is a gigantic battle with nature. The windmill produces enough power to pump water from the ground—something a few watts of electricity can do. But the huge generating plants which produce the power transmitted over the vast network of WTU transmission lines which reach from the Red River to the Rio Grande are measured in kilowatts—hundreds of thousands of them. Power enough to serve 166 cities and towns in 50 West Texas counties. You can live better electrically—West Texas Utilities provides the kilowatts.

Friends, Relatives From 5 States Honor Mr., Mrs. Olin Cook Jan. 22

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Olin Cook honored them on their golden wedding anniversary when they were hosts on Sunday, January 22 at an open house in the Bura Handley Community Center. Friends from five states attended.

Receiving the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Cook and their children, Mrs. Tommy Amburn of Amarillo, Rudolph Cook of Tyler, and Jerry Cook of Perryton.

Golden wedding bells and floral arrangements sent by friends decorated the room. Tables were covered with lace over gold satin and the centerpiece was of gold feathered chrysanthemums and white gold-tipped roses.

Miss Linda Amburn, a granddaughter, registered the guests. Other granddaughters served the three tiered cake, and nieces served at the crystal punch bowl.

Piano selections were played by Mrs. Charles Caison during the entertaining hours.

Mrs. Cook, the former Darline Virginia Long was born in Fannin County, Texas, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Long. She attended school at Ector. It was not until 1916 that she came to Collingsworth County, but this area had been home to relatives of hers for many years.

An uncle, Jasper (Jap) Long came to Collingsworth about 1885. In 1888, when land became available to file on, he selected a section in the Rolla community. He purchased three addiitonal sections but built his house on the original one. At his death in 1904 this part of the estate passed to Mrs. Cook's father and the ranch house was her home until she married. A large portion of this section is now productive farm land owned by the Cooks.

Noted for her hospitality, her home has been a gathering place for family and friends throughout the years. Her expert handwork has added charm and beauty to her home and has won many prizes at county fairs.

During the early years of their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Cook were active in the rural churches, but in 1942 transferred their membership to the First Baptist Church in Wellington.

Olin Charles Cook was born in Franklin, Georgia, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cook. The Cook family moved to Merkel, Texas in 1905, then to Vernon, and in 1915 to the Rolla community in Collingsworth County.

Much of Mr. Cook's work has been farming and operating farm machinery. However, he worked for the Humble Oil Co. at Healdton, Okla., for six years, and for Smtih Oil Co. at Kellerville for four years. For 19 years he operated custom harvest equipment—work taking him from Texas to the Canadian border. He retired two years ago.

When the government farm program was established, Mr. Cook was one of the first men employed to measure cotton acreage.

He is a Mason, having joined in 1922 at Healdton, Okla.

The first of the Cooks' four children, Leroy, was a diphtheria victim in 1922 at the age of 3.

There are eight grandchildren.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Anderson, Jack Anderson and Miss Cookie Anderson, all of Oklahoma City, Okla.; Mrs. Earl Jones of Moore, Okla.; H. J. Cook of Reed, Okla.;

Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Cook of Amarillo; Mrs. Leroy Harques, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. McGarrough, Mr. and Mrs. Earl McGarrough, Mrs. Leroy Merkel, and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cudd, all of Perryton;

Mr. and Mrs. Dub Dempsey of Lamar, Cala.; Mr. and Mrs. Ross Coffey of Frederick, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cook of Mangum, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Robertson of Waurike, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Robertson, and Miss Debbie Robertson of Healdton, Okla.;

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Williams Jr. and family of White Deer; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Wheeler, and Miss Marlene Wheeler, all of Potter, Neb.;

Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Broderson of Electra; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McGill and children of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Rogers of Arlington;

Donivan Bounds of Ralls; Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Juno and children of Plainview; Mrs. Nettie Walker of Paducah; Mrs. Tom Parker of Santa Fe, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Knox of Clarendon;

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Amburn, Mrs. Tommy Amburn, Tommy and Teddy, and Miss Linda Amburn, all of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Cook and Randy of Perryton; and Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Cook, Ronnie, Chris and Rita of Tyler.

Smoking Among Teenagers

Every day more than 4,000 young people try smoking for the first time and by the age of 18 half of the nation's teenagers smoke regularly. This finding by the U. S. Public Health Service is cited by the National PTA in launching a campaign aimed at preventing- seventh and eighth-grade students from starting to smoke. The central piece of material for the first year's program is a brochure on smoking and health entitled "His First Cigarette May Be a Matter of Life or Death."

Although the prime purpose of this program is to prevent students from starting to smoke, it is also designed to strengthen existing program now under way to reduce smoking among persons who already have the habit. That means reduction in numbers of smoking people and not reduction of smoking by an individual. There is no such thing as tapering off on the smoking habit.

The brochure says: "Junior high school is the bridge between childhood and the envied teens. It is the time for trying—the first lipstick, first cup of coffee, first cigarette. All symbols of being conspiciouously adult."

The sad fact remains that the smoker who takes up smoking before 20 smokes more cigarettes, inhales more deeply, and is more likely to be disabled or killed by them.

The approach of the National PTA to this problem is not pedantic in the least. On the other hand it is based on sound practical psychology. The plan is sound: but like all other group efforts the final success or failure will depend upon the effort put forth on the local level. That means right here at home in our own schools and especially in our own homes.

OTHER EDITORS SAY . . .

Respect and Prestige

"Newspapers are the mirrors of the conscience of the decent people in the community . . ."

A New York judge, Samuel S. Leibowitz, thus commented when asked by a grand jury to set a standard for evaluating the suitability of literature for public consumption.

You might decide whether a publication was pornographic by asking if the contents would be used in a family newspaper, the judge told the jury.

This kind of spontaneous testimonial from a prominent public figure on the universal respect for the integrity of the family newspaper indicates the plus value which is obtained by merchants who make use of newspaper space.

Prestige and respect which is gained by a retailer from consistent advertising in the hometown newspaper are values offered to the advertiser without extra charge.

Newspaper advertising is very inexpensive. In the typical newspaper, the total cost of an advertisement barely pays for the paper and labor required to produce the advertisement.

Newspaper advertising is much cheaper than the production of sloppy duplicated sheets; it is cheaper than the printing and distribution of individual broadsides to a questionable public. If any advertiser doubts this, let him do some careful accounting on printing and distribution costs.

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN.—They're off! And running!

With a hearing Tuesday night on a bill to legalize horse-race betting in counties where voters approve, the Legislature got into full swing. Committee actions soon will lead to final decisions.

Organization of both houses is complete. To date more than 400 bills have been introduced and referred to committees. Meetings will be scheduled for mornings, afternoons and evenings to hear sponsors and objectors . . . to listen to those who think the bills should or should not be passed.

Floor action soon will begin in earnest and the pattern of the session will quickly take form.

Cross-Currents

One pattern emerging early has been a widening difference between the Senate and House leadership.

Senate majority seemed determined to pass a $5,200,000 bill to give 20% overall pay raises to the 40,000 state employees by March 1. Speaker Ben Barnes and the House leadership seem equally determined to prevent it, and likely will succeed.

Gov. John Connally is readying his tax program. Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, noting that spending from the state's main checking account can be $217,000,000 higher for the coming two years from currently expected revenues without new taxes, suggested that the line be held on taxes.

These differences point up the conclusions being drawn by Capitol observers that Smith will go for governor in 1968, even if Connally tries for that unprecedented fourth term.

Bills, Bills, Bills

All 181 legislators have been busy introducing bills they feel should become laws. The range is wide, as always.

Rep. Jake Johnson of San Antonio thinks his bill to legalize the sale of liquor by the drink (labeled the LBJ bill—liquor by the jigger) has a fighting chance. His poll of House members shows 67 for, 41 against, and 21 undecided. He's thus only 9 votes shy of the 76 votes needed, with 21 members yet to poll.

Rep. James Slider of Naples has one to make Texas eligible for highway beautification money from the U.S., and to allow the highway department to buy scenic easements to move billboards and junkyards off the roadsides.

Rep. Dick Corey of Victoria wants to repeal the new Code of Criminal Procedure lawmen are fussing about, and to restore the old law. Others are proposing changes in the new law, and Rep. James E. Nugent of Kerrville, chairman of the House Criminal Jurisprudence Committee, invited everyone with ideas for improvement to let him know.

Election Code

That exemption from annual voter registration, which citizens over 60 years of age, living in towns of less than 10,000 now enjoy, would be removed from State law, under a bill by Rep. Gene Fondren of Taylor. This is to clarify the election law.

Fondren's proposal would also mean that if you forgot your registration receipt, you would have to go back home and get it or a duplicate, because voting officials would not be able to accept your signature in lieu of that receipt.

More Sales Tax

Under a bill by Rep. John Traeger, Seguin, any city in the state would be able to collect a 1% sales tax, if a majority of its qualified voters approved this method of financing city services.

The local-option sales tax proposal, which would be levied in addition to the existing 2% state sales tax, was recommended by Gov. Connally at the request of the Texas Municipal League.

Lily Trap Removal Bill

Relief for waterways clogged with prolific water hyacinths, often called water lilies, would be in sight if the Legislature passes a bill by Rep. Leroy J. Wieting of Portland. It would make possible State Parks and Wildlife cooperation in their removal.

P&W would be able to contribute 30%—in money and/or hours—to match 70% in federal funds to remove the lily and other insidious water plants where they fill up lakes and river reaches.

Right-to-Work Law

Rep. Don Gladden has filed a bill to repeal Texas' right-to-work law, and Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake has filed a bill to strengthen the right-to-work law. So the House Labor Committee should be kept pretty busy.

Other labor proposals provide a state version of the Taft-Hartley labor-management relations act, and set uniform determination of prevailing wages for workers on public projects.

Cattle Feed Lots

Reps. Tom Holmes of Granbury, Alonzo Jamison of Denton, Delwin Jones of Lubbock, and Bill Rapp of Raymondville are authors of a bill to require licensing of cattle feed lots and regulation of their operation. They said "The Act is designed to protect and promote the public health and welfare by the establishment and enforcement of certain standards in the maintenance and operation of beef cattle feed lots."

It was recommended by the cattle feed lot division of the Southwest Cattle Raisers Association.

AG Opinions

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has ruled that a constable is not barred by state law from becoming a surety on a bail bond, but there are circumstances that would make it official misconduct on his part.

Other rulings: That the Veterans Land Board does not have authority to permit a veteran purchaser to substitute a different tract of land for one covered in a Board commitment prior to Dec. 1, 1965. . . It is not illegal to catch fish by hand . . . Fraternities at the University of Texas Medical School at Galveston are not exempt from property taxes . . . When a sheriff arrests a person under a writ of attachment, he may elect to accept the arrested person's personal bond, if the civil court order does not specify sureties or other security.

Wildlife Areas Sought

Parks and Wildlife Department has proposed to legislative budget writers purchase of 233,000 acres for inclusion in 16 wildlife management areas in Texas.

PWD said 130,000 acres are needed in brush country—Rolling Plains, West Cross Timbers, Grand Prairie, Trans-Pecos, lower Coastal Prairie, and Pineywoods. Another 93,000 acres is requested for expansion of five existing management areas and preservation of native bush in the Lower Rio Grande Valley for nesting use by white-winged doves.

Department asks authority to use unappropriated balances from $7,000,000 Special Game and Fish Fund No. 9. State money would be matched by federal aid which would provide 75% of cash, under proposal advanced.

LBJ Park Showdown

Controversy over the value of the last 54 acres of land sought for Lyndon B. Johnson State Park in Gillespie County is roaring toward a showdown.

When a legislator entered the case as attorney for owners, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sweeney of Stonewall, forcing postponement of the condemnation trial, LBJ Park fund administrator John Ben Shepperd tendered into Gillespie County Court $62,500 in cash, representing the commissioners' award for the land.

Shepperd said action was taken so plans to develop the park could be pushed forward, without prejudicing the right of either the Sweeneys or the state to have a Gillespie County jury determine the fair value of the land.

Meanwhile, he said Parks and Wildlife Department is entitled to immediate possession of the land and will expect the Sweeneys to "make every reasonable effort to vacate the premises in the near future."

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where the Potomac Taxmasters have gone hog wild and come up with a 1968 budget which is a third bigger than their 1967 prodigality program.

My laboring neighbor says tax rates will soon be where folks on welfare have more money to live on than most workers have left after taxes, so that practically everybody will be able to raise his standard of living by quitting work and getting on relief.

And the Great Givers' hearts are so big, this will make them real happy, because there is obviously no limit to how many foreign and domestic people they stand ready to uplift to the sweatless life.

Even out here in the sticks, it's known that if a man can prove to his draft board that it is his conscience and not a canary backbone which makes him chicken, he gets let off from going to fight.

And it's very considerate of the Law, to be so tender with the feeling of a fellow who is burdened with a non-aggressive conscience.

But Law is still plumb callous about the problem of the poor citizen who has got conscientious objections to paying taxes.

Congressman by the name of Smith from Iowa wants to pass a law that members of Congress can't hire their own relatives on lucreful government jobs.

Which law could cut some lawmakers' incomes away down, unless they got smart and made deals among themselves to hire each others' wives as secretaries.

But this would be bad for the country. Already, maybe half of our congressmen don't know what they're doing, and with such drastic shuffling around of their most potent advisory talent, the other half might not know either.

Cotton Growers Send Protest to Government

The directors of the Rolling Plains Cotton Producers, Inc., met in a called meeting Thursday, Jan. 19 and voted to send appropriate letters of protest to the proper governmental authorities requesting a revision in the penalty system now in effect on the micronaire readings for cotton placed in the government loan.

According to a spokesman for the group, the directors felt that the penalties imposed by the micronaire readings on government loan cotton for the past two years has resulted in an unfair and discriminatory price reduction to cotton producers at a time when cotton prices are already at a disastrously low level.

In other action, the board also decided to make application for certification for eligibility as an approved producer organization.

Cotton producer and cotton grower organizations over the nation are applying for certification for eligibility to nominate members and participate in the election of trustees in the formation of a Cotton Board and Board of Trustees under the Cotton Research and Promotion Act voted and approved by the nation's cotton producers last month.

Since the membership of the Rolling Plains Cotton Producers Assn. is made up from the cotton producers in the eastern tier of Panhandle counties who have their cotton classed at the Memphis cotton classing office and only cotton producers can be members, then the directors felt the organization should qualify as an approved cotton producer organization.

Directors and the counties they represent are as follows: V. C. (Zipp) Durrett, president, of Hall County; Ernest Rea, vice president, of Childress County; A. J. Garland, secretary, of Armstrong County; and directors, H. S. Mahaffey of Donley County, Dub Marchant of Collingsworth County, Joe Degan of Motley County, Dudley Chemning of Cottle and King Counties, D. E. Brunson of Briscoe County, J. R. Hefley of Wheeler County, L. B. Collis of Carson County, and B. E. Pennington of Gray County.

A RIP-SNORTING COWBOY was just about to shoot it out when somebody slipped a ten-gallon hat on his little head. The gunfight had to be postponed until Tex could disentangle himself.

Easter Seals Aid 16,031 in 1966

A record 16,031 crippled children and adults were helped during 1966 by the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas, according to Jack Neeley of Wellington, who serves as the Easter Seal representative for Collingsworth County.

Of the total, 11,045 children and 4,986 adults received treatment and other rehabilitation services financed mainly by contributions made during the Easter Seal Appeal, he reported.

These contributions made possible medical diagnosis, physical and occupational therapy, speech and hearing programs, special education classes, and other services to rehabilitate handicapped children and adults. Wheelchairs, walkers, braces and other special equipment were also provided.

The Easter Seal Society in Texas helps support 23 treatmen facilities where children and adults are treated without regard for their ability to pay. Mr. Neeley added that the Easter Seal Society is continually seeking children and adults who can benefit from rehabilitation treatment and services offered by the society. As Easter Seal representative, he is the person to contact for Easter Seal services. He may be contacted at the Wellington State Bank.

The Easter Seal Society has provided treatments for children and adults suffering from arthritis, cerebral palsy, multiple sclerosis, stroke, muscular dystrophy, polio, speech disorders, hearing conditions, accidental injuries and many other conditions.

Mr. Neeley also announced that the 1967 Easter Seal Appeal would open Feb. 20 and run through Easter Sunday, March 26, 1967.

YOUR INCOME TAX

This column of questions and answers on Federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q.—Is it true that IRS will figure out your tax for you when you file the short form?

A.—Yes, if your income is less than $5,000 and Form 1040A is filed then IRS will compute your tax if you wish. We will refund any overpayment or bill you for any additional tax due.

Q.—I married a widow with two young children last summer. Can I claim the children as dependents?

A.—If you provided more than half the children's support for the year then you may claim them as dependents. If your wife provided over half their support, she can claim them as dependents on her separate return or they may be claimed on a joint return.

Q.—Can I claim two exemptions for a dependent over 65?

A.—No. You may only claim one exemption regardless of the dependent's age. The additional exemption for being 65 or over may only be taken by a taxpayer filing his own return.

Q.—Why do I have to put a Social Security number on my tax return?

A.—The law requires persons filing returns to furnish a tax account number. Since the mapority of taxpayers already have Social Security numbers, these numbers are also used for tax identification purposes. Taxpayers who forget to list their number will have refunds delayed until the number is supplied.

Q.—I teach in high school. Under what conditions will the summer courses I take be deductible for tax purposes?

A.—The courses will be deductible if the primary reason you took them was: (1) for the purpose of maintaining or improving your present teaching skills, or (2) expressly required by your employer to maintain your salary, status or job.

Q.—We lost a child in a traffic accident last year. Can we claim him as a dependent for the entire year or only part of it?

A.—If the child was your dependent you may take the full $600 exemption for the year of his death.

Q.—Do you have to be married to get the head of household income tax rates?

A.—No you don't. On page 3 of the 1040 instructions you will find an explanation of whether you qualify for these rates. Head of household tax rates cannot be used if you are married and can file a joint return.

Q.—I won a prize in a contest run by a local filling station. It was cash. Do I have to report it as income?

A.—Yes you do. Prizes such as yours as well as money or merchandise won in lucky number drawings, radio and television quizzes or from any sales promotional program are taxable and must be declared as income.

Q.—My name was misspelled on the 1040 package I received in the mail. How can I correct this?

A.—Make the change on the 1040 you received by marking through the error and entering your correct name. It is helpful for us to get the corrected label back to aid in identifying the error and making the necessary changes. If your Social Security number is misprinted please correct it in the same manner.

Q.—Are child support payments deductible?

A.—Child support payments are not deductible to you nor are they taxable to your former wife. However, if you, rather than your former wife, provide more than one-half the child's support, then you may claim the $600 dependency exemption on your return.

Q.—I have several W-2 forms since I worked for several people last year. Should I attach all of them to my return or can I add them up and give you the totals?

A.—You should attach Copy B of all your W-2's to your return, although only the total need be entered on your Form 1940. Failure to do so will hold up the processing of your return and any refund that might be due you.

Q.—I changed jobs last year and now find mysetf driving about 30 miles a day to get back and forth to work. Can I deduct 10¢ a mile for this driving?

A.—No. Commuting to and from work is a personal expense and is not deductible.

Oberlin College in Ohio was the first college to confer degrees on women.

Farmers Can Appeal Skip Row Ruling

STAMFORD. — Dissastified Rolling Plains cotton producers affected by a recent U.S. Department of Agriculture ruling which would penalize farmers for certain skip-row planting in the past, and greatly affects the 1967 projected yield can have an opportunity of voicing their individual opinion of the USDA decision through means of appeal for a fair projected yield.

"Farmers across the Rolling Plains who feel their 1967 projected yield is not what it should be, or think they are not receiving the pounds they are entitled to may appeal to their county ASCS committee," said Charles Stenholm, executive vice president of the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

This possible solution of the highly controversial ruling that has been increasing in interest and opposition during the past few weeks came out of a meeting of 125 cotton farmers and ASCS personnel from 15 counties of the Rolling Plains. The meeting which was called by the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., was to determine the feelings of the farmers as to what action should be taken concerning the ruling which will mean a loss of up to 4 million dollars in the Rolling Plains.

The USDA ruling says that the skip-row penalty would be retroactive for 2-1 and 2-2 cotton planted in 1962-63-64-65. Projected USDA cotton yields in Texas for 1967 takes in the retroactive penalty for skip-row planting. Consequently, the projected yields in skip-row areas are considerably lower than they should be.

"The penalty, combined with a lower projected yield, would mean a loss of some $4 million to the economy of the Rolling Plains. Beginning in 1966, Rolling Plains farmers have changed to a 2-4 system of planting, which is a no-penalty system," said Stenholm. "But from 1962-65, farmers who planted under a 2-1 and 2-2 system were also planting under a no-penalty system. Now the USDA wants to change the rules in the middle of the game."

Rockets-Rockettes

Four Wins Added to WHS Victory Streak

Wellington basketball teams added four victories to their already impressive record when they defeated Electra and Olney boys and girls.

The Rockets, however, had the narrowest squeak of the season when they took only a 2-point victory over Electra, a team that so far has not won a game.

Wellington-Electra Girls

Wellington traveled to Electra Tuesday, Jan. 24 for the first meeting between these teams this year. The Wellington girls played one of their better offensive games and were able to defeat the Electra girls 62 to 41.

Wellington opened with a strong offensive threat in the first quarter and scored 19 points while Electra got only 6.

Both teams played hard and aggressive basketball. The Rockettes did not lose any girls by fouls, but Electra lost two. It was one of those games that looked early as if it would be real one-sided, then Electra came back strong to pull within 6 points of the Rockettes late in the third quarter.

Wellington hit another hot streak and kicked the lead to about 15, which they maintained throughout the remainder of the game, and built onto it.

High point for Wellington was Nancy Holton with 32 and Mary Lou Holton and Carolyn Kilgore had 14 points each. Electra's high point was Pat McCulloch with 27.

"Our guards, I felt, played real good defense. They are doing a good job for us in most games and they improve every time they go on the floor. I feel that Becky Brewer, Regina Ferguson and Mary Ingram are the best three guards we have ever had," said Coach James Stavenhagen.

The score by quarters:

Wellington	19	35	43	62
Electra	6	20	33	41

Rockettes-Olney

The Wellington teams played Olney there Friday night, Jan. 27, and the girls game was the same type as the one with Electra.

"We didn't know exactly how they would play—it was such a long drive, 160 miles, but they came through with real good form and played a real hustling game," Coach Stavenhagen declared.

"The Rockettes beat Olney 68 to 42. All of the girls were able to see action in this game and it helps when they can all play some," he continued.

High point again was Nancy Holton with 24. Mary Lou Holton had 22 and Carolyn Kilgore 15. High point for Olney was Leah Holloway with 20, and Janice Holton had 15.

The score by quarters:

Wellington	23	44	56	68
Olney	5	14	27	41

Wellington-Electra Boys

The Wellington boys came within two points of receiving their first district defeat of the season when they traveled to Electra Tuesday night, Jan. 24. It was one of those nights when everything went wrong for the Wellington team and everything went right for the Electra club.

Electra jumped out to an early lead and maintained it until just before the half, when Wellington was able to get the lead. It was a game where there was a great deal of change of lead during the first half, but finally in the fourth quarter, Wellington took an 8 point lead and was able to hold on for a 50 to 48 victory.

Scoring was led by James Smith with 16, and Andy Henard had 14. High point for Electra was Bill Sachse with 23.

The score by quarters:

Wellington	13	19	37	50
Electra	10	22	34	48

Wellington-Olney Boys

Wellington played Olney a return game Friday, Jan. 27 that was one of the better all-around games of the season. The Rockets did not make the little mistakes that hurt a team and they made a good percentage of their shots.

With those things working for them, they were able to win 70 to 52.

It was probably one of the best all around ball games they have had. Every man did a good job defensively and all were able to score.

The boys are improving a little bit with each game and if they continue to play the type of ball they played Friday night they will be hard to beat, said Coach Stavenhagen.

High point for Wellington was James Smith with 25 and Andy Henard had 11 and Bowden Jones 10. High point for Olney was Crosthauit with 18.

Scoring by quarters:

Wellington	20	37	53	70
Olney	14	23	37	52

FARM PONDS HAVE MANY USES

By Jon La Baume

What is a farm pond? It is more than just a place for livestock to water. Your farm pond can supply many happy and relaxing hours of pleasure. Along with the sport and recreation, a small amount of food can be expected from a properly stocked and fertilized pond.

Yes, while enjoying that fresh fried fish, you can look back to the day you made the catch. Fishing need not be the only form of pleasure furnished by the water.

What about boating? A row boat is great fun. There is also swimming. Then, too, a picnic table may be by the pond, where family and friends may gather. One should not overlook the hunting possibilities.

Quail and turkey shooting appeals to many sportsmen in Collingsworth County. Small plots of ground near by may be planted to insure a more profitable hunting season.

A good farm pond is worth caring for to offer pleasure. Protect your farm pond from silting by seeding or sodding grass on the dam and the watershed which supplies the water.

Do not wait to improve your farm pond, but start now, whereby many hours of fun and relaxation can be exected in the months ahead. What is a farm pond? More than just a place for livestock to water.

Scout Council Maps Events

The first quarterly meeting of the executive committee of the Adobe Walls Boy Scout Council was held at the Scout Service Center in Pampa on Thursday, Jan. 19.

Robert Glew of Dallas, deputy regional Scout Executive, reviewed the council program for 1966, pointing out that this council ranks third in Cubbing and Boy Scouting and Fourth in Exploring in the area of density.

This means that the Scouting program is reaching 6 out of every 10 boys available over the entire council, said Dave Agnew, Comanche District Scout Executive.

Mr. Glew complimented the Council on its camping program and urged more emphasis in the field of advancement.

Frank Culbertson of Pampa, the new Council President, presided.

The five operating committees met to consider specific problems, then reported to the board. An increase to $17 per boy for the fee at Camp Kiowa was reported. An advance deposit must be made to certify intention of attending the camp, according to Mr. Agnew.

Plans were made for a Council-wide Explorer Olympics to be held on the campus of Frank Phillips College at Borger May 6. This will cover athletic, marksmanship, and academic competition.

Members of the Camping committee announced the Council Canadian Canoe trip for the summer of 1967. This will start at Ely, Minn., and continue approximately three weeks.

Winged Termites No Cause of Panic

Swarms of winged termites in the home is no cause for panic. But it is good evidence that a well established colony of the insects is nearby, says Phil Hamman, assistance Extension entomologist at Texas A&M University. The swarm may have come from a nearby location. Hamman suggests that a through search for the location of the colony be made, and when found, that control measures be applied. Local agents, he adds, can apply control information. Spring is swarm time.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

China is so vast and so complex that it is difficult for the experts to figure out what is happening and naturally the news is so contradictory it is confusing to the layman. In San Antonio last week I talked with any number of newspaper men. They seemed to think that the more the internal fighting spread the more it might tend to help the United States in the war in Vietnam. If the Communists in China are embroiled in a gigantic struggle among themselves, they won't be able to send much help to the Viet Cong. The more the fighting spreads the more Communist China will be weakened and less able to help any other Communist country. As one editor said: "This is the sort of think that can't be planned — maybe the Lord is still on our side."

Nearness sometimes causes us to lose perspective. We fail to evaluate our own town properly because we are too close to the businesses and institutions that make up our community and too familiar with their activities to appreciate their true worth and attractiveness. Sometimes we get a brighter, clearer look when we see our town through the eyes of others.

Last week John VanCronkhite of Dallas was here to attend the wedding of his son. He is a public relations counselor and his firm of VanCronkhite and Maloy is a major one in the state. John was publisher of the papers in Nacogdoches when I first knew him and later moved to the Valley. He was on the public relations staff of Gov. Allen Shivers during his several terms in office, and later VanCronkhite established a public relations firm with Ted Maloy in Dallas. During these thirty or more busy years I presume that he has been in more than two thirds of all the towns and cities of Texas.

You may be interested in his view of Wellington. He was impressed with the friendliness and newness of the town and the attractiveness of its stores. Naturally he took note of the new construction such as that of the Baptist and Methodist churches; but he had more to commend about some of the older structures such as the Courthouse, Community building, Greenbelt building and the Church of Christ building. Words of praise from a discerning man who has no particular axe to grind can lift your spirits tremendously.

Opening the mail the other morning, I found a check for $50 from Cliff Cook for the Red Cross Blood Bank at St. Joseph's Hospital. There is a story in another part of the paper. Cliff is the proprietor of Towne House of Albuquerque, a store featuring ladies and misses ready to wear and accessories. Those who have been in it say it is quite a store, noted over that entire area for its high fashions.

Judi (Bailey) Dunnihoo is the editor of The Arlington Review at Arlington State College. In her introduction, Judi says that The Review is a showcase for artistic and literary talent at Arlington State College. The fall issue is filled with short stories, interpretative articles on the classics, poems and reproduction of paintings, sketches and other works of art done by the students,. I found it most interesting. On the fly leaf Judi had written: "For two people who played a large part in making this book possible."

When Judi was in high school she frequently came to our house and she and Louise engaged in long conversations. Judi, however, is only one of the many students Louise has kept enthused when their determination was flagging and the course ahead seemed too complex and difficult. Max Courtney, who is now with the Museum at West Texas State University is another of her proteges. I could compile a long list of the young people she has encouraged and helped. I wouldn't say it is a hobby with her—it is part of her nature and comes as naturally as breathing.

Like a lot of other nervous fans, I got "shook up" at the basketball game Tuesday night against Seymour. Facing the most important game of the season against the Indians at Quanah this Friday, the Rockets gave their supporters hot flashes and bedshaker chills before they finally pulled ahead in the last two minutes of play and won the game 48 to 44 to leave their district record unblemished. If you want to say it negatively, it was not the Rickets' best performance. Seymour led most of the time in a game that was tied six times. The Rockets were not up to par in rebounding and passing, and they made less than 50% of their field shots.

Maybe the players got the bugs worked out of their system Tuesday and by this I mean flu bugs as well as those concerning the mechanics of playing. Sickness and injuries can plague a team sorely at this season of the year. The game Friday may settle the district title and it may simply prolong the decision. Anyway, the Wellington fans will be there in numbers. No, Henry, you can't have the car Friday night.

Major Art Collection to Show at Canyon

The first showing of the paintings of the late Irving E. Couse since his death in 1936 will be held in the new wing of the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum in Canyon. The opening is scheduled for Sunday, Feb. 5.

A former Wellington man, Max Courtney, now curator of exhibits for the museum, and C. Boone McClure, museum director, have done much of the work preparing for the show, a major event in the art world.

Couse, who came to Taos, N.M., soon after 1900 and painted there until his death, ranks as one of the major interpreters of the southwestern scene.

"Some of these paintings have not been seen in 70 years," Courtney told The Wellington Leader. "They were rolled up and stored in a vault until Boone and I brought them over here. Their value, around, $890,000. All but three are for sale.

"Some were on exhibit in the old Couse studio in Taos.

"Couse is generally associated with the famous Santa Fe Indian Calendars. At his death in 1936 there had been 26 Santa Fe Calendars and 22 of them had been his paintings.

"He of course was a member of the National Academy, the highest honor an American artist can receive. We also have some of his French paintings, some of which were done to exhibit in the Lourve."

Courtney invited Wellington area residents to see the exhibits.

Couse Indian paintings appeal to many who otherwise are not interested in art.

Under the brilliant New Mexico sun, Couse found the red-hued skin coloring he sought in his Indians, but had not found in the Northwest. Here, his paintings were done in rich colors, and he dramatically captures the Indian on canvas as has no other artist.

Many of his sketches were made along the Rio Grande, or in the canyons high up in the Sangre de Cristos when the aspens blazed with October gold.

Many Wellington area residents have visited the Couse Studio in Taos where a few of his paintings may still be seen.

His works hang in many museums throughout the world, including the Metropolitan Museum and the National Galleries in Washington, D. C.

Farmers Co-op Holds Meeting for Cotton Men

The Farmers Co-op Gin, in cooperation with Plains Seed Company of Lubbock, is sponsoring a meeting for cotton growers Thursday, Feb. 2 at the Cherokee Inn restaurant.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m.

During the meeting, facts will be outlined concerning two chemicals manufactured by Dow Chemical Company.

One of these is Demosan, a new versatile fungicide to control cotton diseases and the other is Dy-Syston, a chemical to protect seedlings against early season thrips.

Dub Marchant, manager of the Farmers Co-op Gin, has urged all cotton growers to attend.

forcing the south, or side door of the post office, which is in the bank building, but separated from it by a partition. A hole was knocked in that wall to enter the bank. Another hole approximately 18 by 21 inches was then knocked in the double brick wall between the bank rest room and the vault. The torch was used to open the vault door from the inside. Only one customer safety deposit box was forced open.

Investigating officers also believe the acetylene equipment was brought in through the east door of the bank, which was unlocked from the inside, and that this was also the exit route of the burglars, Sheriff Rainey said.

Officers talked to a number of Dodson residents, but none could give the officers any leads. Apparently nothing in the post office was bothered, he added.

The burglary was discovered by Mrs. B. B. Martin, post office employee, and Mrs. Nadine Birchfield, bank cashier, upon their arrival Tuesday morning.

Mr. Teutsch said that the soaked bills were dried out Tuesday night on the dryer used with reproduction equipment in the office of County Clerk Lorene Jenkins, and the Wellington State Bank provided money for the First State Bank to carry on its business Tuesday.

Norwood Eagles Hold District 9-B Lead

The Samnorwood Eaglettes continued to hold second place in conference play by defeating Dodson girls 57 to 17 at Dodson on Friday, Jan. 20.

The victory was paced by 20 points of Brenda Coleman. Coach Loyd Stephens noted the "fine play of guards Judy Martindale, Billie Purkey and Betty Coleman. Karen Waters and Odessa Stice also did outstanding jobs along with the entire Eaglette roster."

The Eagles held on to their lead in the district race with a 59 to 39 win over the Dodson Mustangs on Jan. 20. Eagle scoring was led by Ron Warmack with 17 points.

"All the boys played real well as the bench was cleared before the half and playing time was about evenly divided among the ten making the trip," Coach Stephens said.

On Tuesday, Jan. 24, Samnorwood traveled to Quail. The Eaglettes were able to overcome a Quail half-time lead, winning 41 to 31.

"Quail girls played extremely well in the initial half and held a three-point lead at half time," Coach Stephens said.

The win gave the Eaglettes a 3-1 district record with the only loss going to Groom. They stand second in the district race.

The Eagles finished their first half of district play with a Jan. 24 victory over Quail.

After trailing by 2 points at the half, the Eagles came back to lead by 5 at the end of three quarters and win by 10.

"Acie Boyd, Danny Tate, Paul Clark, J. D. Ward, Nelson Dwyer and Ron Warmock did outstanding jobs," Coach Stephens commented. "It was an outstanding team effort."

phone section—the section in which Mr. Larson had found it necessary to substitute three clarinet players for this trip!

"It takes a lot of time, but it is a challenge to musicians who want to do a little something extra, for stage band work is done outside school time," said the Wellington band director.

The stage band's next competition will be at the Brownwood Stage Band Festival, the world's largest, on Feb. 24 and 25.

The marching band, which includes all members of the stage band, received first division ratings at the Clarendon marching festival in October and the University Interscholastic League marching contest at Canyon in November. Fourteen members also played in the all-region band in December.

Farm Program

minimum 12½% or the maximum 35% of the effective allotment, or any designated acreage between the minimum and maximum percentage. Last year the diversion had to be one of the three set percentages, 12½%, 25% or 35% of the effective allotment. The 1967 program gives a more flexible choice. The payment rates have been increased from 9.42 cents to 11.53 cents per pound on the projected yield as the price support payment, which is computed on the planted acreage, up to 65% of the effective allotment.

The diversion payment rate has been increased from 10.5 cents per pound to 10.78 cents. This payment applies to the acreage the producer agrees to divert from cotton production.

These increased payment rates will amount to approximately $5 per acre on the effective farm allotment at the county average yield, based on maximum participation. These increases in payments could bring Collingsworth County farmers an additional $300,000 in program payments if all farmers should participate to the maximum extent possible. However, each farmer is at liberty to make his own choice.

Again in 1967, farmers must participate in the domestic allotment program to be eligible for a CCC price support loan on the cotton produced.

Notices of farm payment rates were mailed to all cotton producers on Jan. 23.

Cotton, Wheat-Feed Grain

For the wheat program there will be no diversion requirement and the certificate payment will be based on 35% of the farm allotment. The payment rates per bushel for the certificate payments will not be determined for the 1967 program until around July 1. The 1966 rate was $1.32 per bushel on the farm yield.

Wheat farmers who have had barley bases under the feed program in past years may request the barley base to be restored, at the time of sign-up in the program, in order to maintain the wheat that may have been planted on barley acreage under the substitution provision. As you know, barley acreage is no longer considered in the feed grain base. To use the wheat for barley substitution provision the farm must also participate in the feed grain (corn-grain sorghum) program.

For the feed grain program ASCS will have the same 20% minimum diversion without pay, except on small farm bases, to qualify the farm for the price support payment and the CCC loans. The payment rates per bushel remains the same as for the 1966 program. However, our county average yields for both grain sorghum and wheat were reduced slightly for the 1967 program, which in turn resulted in a slight decrease in each farm yield.

The price support payment will be based on the planted acreage not to exceed 50% of the farm feed grain base.

There will be no payment for diverting additional acreage above the 20% minimum, except on small feed base farms. Farms with small feed grain bases of 25 acres or less may divert the entire base and receive payment on the entire acreage. Farmers with feed grain bases of 26 to 125 acres that do not plan to plant any feed grains, may request the base to be reduced for 1967 to 25 acres and receive diversion payment on the entire 25 acres.

Substitution of wheat for grain sorghums, or grain sorghums for wheat is provided again for 1967, provided the farmer signs up to participate in both programs. To qualify for payments under these programs the farmers must plant and farm the land in a workmanlike manner.
