(Q) Why do so many people mispronounce the name "Colorado"?

The emphasis is on the "ray" and so many say "rah", even many people who have lived here all their life.

If they want to change it, why don't they vote to do so?

(A) Colorado City historian J. Lee Jones says that the name Colorado is from the Spanish word for red-colored, with the "a" having an "ah" sound.

However, in the early days of Colorado City, when it was still just Colorado, the residents began pronouncing it with the "ray" sound to distinguish it from the state of Colorado.

Jones notes that the pronunciation is no more than a tradition, but a tradition that is very dear to many long-time residents.

MANY PEOPLE were responsible for the trees decorating the area around the gazebo—Mrs. Moore's 5th grade class, Patty Ferris and the Middle School Student Council, Kathy Wilson and the CHS Student council, the Opti-Ms. Club and Westbrook Schools painted the trees and Robert Trammell and Charlie Reyes decorated the gazebo. On Thursday, Santa will be at the gazebo if the weather permits.

Holidays bring short tempers

Most people think of Christmas as a time of love and happiness, especially for children who are anticipating a visit from Santa Claus and the goodies that are for Christmas dinner.

For some children, though, Christmas does not mean presents under the tree and homemade pies; to them, the impending holiday means that mommy's and daddy's tempers will be even shorter and discipline will become more frequent and more harsh.

Why? Cindy Ramirez, Child Welfare worker for Mitchell County, explains that this season of the year makes some parents even more aware of their lack of resources and they take their frustrations out on their children at Christmas as well as all through the year.

Ms. Ramirez says, "The child may be a reminder of those pressures. If they're financially unstable...kids can be expensive, they cost—food, clothes—and so they may be a constant reminder of the pressures they have. So, they take those pressures they have, those frustrations they have and take them out on the children."

Again, why? "The child cannot fight back. There is nothing that the child can do. They're just there," Ms. Ramirez explains.

Often, child abuse is seen as a normal thing by the parent who does the abusing. Ms. Ramirez states, "Normally, abusive parents are those who were abused when they were a child. A lot of times, they are only expressing and showing the behavior they were taught when they were little. They don't know any other way."

Hoyle remembers past glory days

By TOM JAY GOSS II
Robert Hamilton Hoyle sat in the Civic Center, toe tapping and eyes bright with remembrance of things past, as the WTC band played "Take me back to Tulsa!"

"My band used to play that," he said, "about 1925 or '26, we had a band in Snyder that used to play all them things."

All of which led to a later story session at his home in the China Grove Community ten miles northeast of Colorado City, where his wife raises Siamese cats and 74 year old Robert dabbles at farming and dreams of past glories.

And glory days they were too. There was Robert, a poor 19 year old farm boy, who suddenly found himself the toast of Scurry County.

Robert blossomed like a rose. He and his band played for many a ranch house dance, particularly in the big ranch homes in the Fluvanna area. They'd scatter a little corn meal on the floor and Robert and the band would go to work. They'd play some of the new favorites like, "Yes sir, that's my baby!" and along about quittin' time would swing into "Show me the way to go home!"

"Sometimes we'd play all night long, go home, and about the time we hit the bed, dad would holler for us to get up and go to work," Hoyle said.

"I'd get out there and plow, when I wished I could lay down and go to sleep," he smiled.

He and his brother played and sang with Harley Sadler's tent show group when Sadler's show appeared in Colorado City and Snyder.

He and Johnny played and sang with Brunk's Comedians when the comic group came to Colorado City and he played and sang over the radio in Fort Worth.

He even appeared with the old movie star, Tom Mix, when the latter had a stage engagement in Snyder.

And at home, why, no meeting was complete without Friendly Bob and the boys.

"At Snyder, on Saturday," Hoyle says, "they'd give money away, and they'd get us to come and provide the entertainment."

Robert would drive the cats wild with a little yodeling, some old Jimmy Rogers tunes, his rendition of "Doodle de Doo", and bring tears to the eyes of the ladies with his cool, cool "Red Wing."

Sometimes, he'd play long enough and hard enough to wear out the horsehairs on the bow and would have to restring it. All this came to an end in 1928.

He got married. Mrs. Hoyle's father, John Denson, made it plain that he didn't approve of dances or dancing and it's possible that he didn't care too much for fiddlers, either.

Hoyle traded his fiddle for a guitar.

Tour of Homes slated Saturday

The Christmas Tour of Homes, scheduled for Saturday, December 18, will leave from the C. C. Thompson Room of the City National Bank at 12:30 p.m.

A bus has been provided for the tour by the First Baptist Church and the cost for the tour is 50 cents per house. The reason the cost has been figured on a per house basis is to enable anyone who wants to tour just one or two of the houses to go only to the homes they want to see at the appointed time, and not take the whole tour.

The schedule is as follows: 1 p.m.—A. W. Rowe, 334 E. 4th; 2 p.m.—Robert Hoback, 1443 Chestnut; 3 p.m.—J. O. Dockrey, Jr., 504 Chestnut; 4 p.m.—H. J. Steakley, 1621 Watson.

Refreshments will be served at the C. C. Thompson Room after the tour.

The Tour of Homes is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and chaired by the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Officers installed during annual Christmas lunch

New officers were installed for the Mitchell County Extension Homemakers during their annual Christmas Luncheon held at noon Tuesday, December 6 in the Lone Wolf Medallion

Room.

The new officers are: Pauline Griffin, chairman; Effie Wheeler, vice chairman; Leona Feaster, secretary; Versie McMillan, treasurer; Clydene Kimbrell, parliamentarian; Jo Tiller, TEHA chairman. During the traditional Christmas meal prepared by the ladies of the six different EH clubs in Mitchell County, Cami Redwine and Debbie Gardner, accompanied at the piano by Golda Redwine, sang several different songs of the season for the entertainment of the EH members, their families and guests.

At the end of the luncheon, County Judge Bill Carter led County Commissioners Paul Logsdon, Paul Hunter, Johnny Shackelford and Mayor Elmer Martin in two choruses of "Jingle Bells," after which he led everyone in singing "We Wish You A Merry Christmas."

GOLDEN SATURDAY at Snyder, about 1926 on the east side of the square. Folks came from miles around for the free money and to hear Bob and his boys, Johnny Hoyle, Guy Brotherton, R. H. Hoyle, G. B. Gressett, and Tommie McDonald.

dle for a sewing machine. He left his father's home to make a home for himself.

"We farmed for two years," Hoyle said. "We'd borrow a hundred dollars to make a crop and pay that back in the fall when the crops were in."

"Then one day," he continued, "my wife's uncle came out in the field where we were pullin' bolls and asked us how we'd like to go to Colorado City and run his filling station for him. We didn't even finish the row. We threw the sacks down and moved to Colorado City."

His new service station was part of Candler Courts. The station was located near Lone Wolf Creek, and occupied the spot where the Cha Ma Ka sewing factory is located. To drum up business, he'd take the luggage of incoming travelers into their rooms and tell them that he had a little service station located nearby, if they needed anything in the morning. Mostly, Hoyle says, they did.

He later moved across the street to a station operated by Connell and Beal, and still later to a station in Big Spring.

"C. D. Hornberger and N. A. Rogers had taken over the old station that Connell and Beal had and they kept ding donging at me to come back to Colorado City and run it," Hoyle said.

"They improved the station and consigned me a bunch of stuff," he continued, "and I was in business."

Hoyle says he stayed there until he moved out to his own farm in 1945.

Mrs. Hoyle says that while they were in Colorado City, they lived at 862 E. 6th Street. She says the late Tom Goss

Sr., came by their house every day. One day her daughter, who had wart on her hand, asked Goss, who had some small success as a healer, to take her wart off. She said that Goss rubbed the wart, said the magic words and the wart went away. Beats spunk water by a mile.

Hoyle has been a very successful farmer, but is mostly retired, particularly since a tractor incident left him with limited use of one arm.

Still plays his dad's old fiddle, though.

There are sociological factors leading to child abuse also. Ron Plentl, supervisor for a six county area in the child abuse program says that isolated families are often involved in child abuse. By isolated families, he means those that are not involved in community activities or do not have family to turn to.

People in some areas of the oil industry are examples of isolated families he said; they move around a lot, following the work, and do not have the social and familiar support systems that less mobile families do. Plentl said that those types of people tend to "work hard, play hard, discipline hard."

Mothers tend to be child abusers more often than fathers do. Both Ms. Ramirez and Plentl feel that this is because the mother is with the child more than the father is and has less of an outlet for her frustrations and pressures.

How do children react to being abused Plentl says that they tend to be very protective of the abusive parent.

Ms. Ramirez agrees, "That seems pretty amazing, considering the things they're going through, but regardless of the abusiveness, there's still a bond between the child and the parent. No matter what the parent may do to the child that bond still exists."

Next week: what happens when child abuse is discovered and reported and what you can do to help.

Mrs. Trulock concentrated particularly on popular yuletide songs and favorite hymns and for emphasis on related historical facts and "for old time's sake," she also sang during the presentation.

Decorations of poinsettias, greenery and a ceiling-high tree had been provided by employees of the City National Bank. The refreshment table was laid with a red satin cloth with a white net overlay. A globe-shaped apex bowl held a large red candle with an arrangement of small greenery surrounding it; white birds nestled on the boughs.

Refreshments of miniature sandwiches, fruit kabobs, doughnut hearts, salted pecans and coffee were served by hostesses Mrs. J. B. Hilliard, Mrs. W. O. Daniel and Mrs. Roy D. Coles.

Houston Rodeo entertainers named

Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo officials announced the biggest line-up of star entertainers in Show history.

They also announced box office ticket sales would begin on Saturday, December 4, at the Astrodome box office and all Ticket Master and Ticketron outlets.

Ticket prices remain $8 and $4 for the event, February 23-March 6 in the Astrodome. In response to spectator demand, Show officials opened box office sales earlier than ever, so tickets would be available for Christmas gifts.

With seventeen top stars, the Rodeo talent line-up is the biggest group of entertainers ever to headline an Astrodome event.

Show President E. Norwin Gerhart announced that the line-up of Kool & The Gang, Mel Tillis, Merle Haggard, Hank Williams, Jr., T. G. Sheppard, Lacy J. Dalton, Eddie Rabbitt, Rosanne Cash, Conway Twitty, Sylvia, Ricky Skaggs, Janie Fricke, Don Williams, Crystal Gayle, Larry Gatlin and the Gatlin Brothers Band, Charley Pride and the Oak Ridge Boys offered fans their choice from the top stars of the music world.

"With this year's line-up, it doesn't matter which of the 16 performances you bring the family to see," said Gerhart. "You're going to see today's biggest stars at the one ticket price that's more affordable than ever."

"The Houston Rodeo is dedicated to bringing our fans the very best entertainment there is, whether its stars or rodeo action. And, with no increase in ticket prices from last year, we're sure they'll be able to bring the whole family out to see all their favorite stars, as well as enjoy all the special fun of the livestock show."

Tickets go on sale Saturday at the Astrodome

Box Office on Kirby Drive and through all Ticket Master and Ticketron outlets. Rodeo tickets also are available now by mail order through the Rodeo Ticket Director, P.O. Box 25395, Houston, Texas 77265. Rodeo tickets include admission to all livestock show events, except for the NCHA World's Championship Finals and the World's Championship Bar-B-Que contest.

The opening rodeo performance on Wednesday night, February 23 stars Kool and the Gang. On Thursday night, February 24, Mel Tillis returns to headline the rodeo.

Friday night, February 25 is highlighted by the appearance of Merle Haggard, always a favorite with Houston fans.

Saturday night, February 26, rodeo fans can see to big stars as T. G. Sheppard and Lacy J. Dalton make their Houston rodeo debuts.

Mustangs saddle Wolves with loss

"We weren't mentally prepared, we were a little flat from the Lake View Tournament," commented Wolf boys varsity coach Mike Hart after his troops had taken a 60-39 drumming from the host Sweetwater Mustangs Tuesday night.

The Pack was fresh off of a second place finish in the Lake View Tournament last weekend. They were nudged out by Brownwood in the title game 72-68.

It was the second defeat the 'Stangs had handed the Wolves. Earlier at Wolf Gym, Sweetwater downed the Pack 49-39. The loss drops C-City's record to 2-3.

The contest was really closer than the score indicates, as Hart substituted freely in the last quarter with the Pack trailing by 10.

"We outplayed them the first four minutes of the game, but then we hit a cold streak and they jumped ahead of us," explained Hart. The Wolves went into halftime trailing 32-20. Hart's troops started out quickly again in the third quarter as they narrowed the Mustang lead to five, but that is as close as they got as a rash of turnovers plagued the Pack.

Lakeview All-Tournament player Tom Rees led C-City in scoring with nine points. He was followed by the Tarter twins, Tracy and Stacey with six each. Doug Chitsey and Dennis Rivera contributed four points each.

In the J.V. game, Sweetwater jumped out to a 22-10 halftime lead, and went on to down the Wolves 60-29. Joey Ritchey paced the Wolves with eight points. Perry Conner added seven, while Armando Rivera scored six points.

'Cats split with Blackwell

The Westbrook varsity boys and girls split wins with Blackwell Tuesday night in Blackwell.

The Wildcat girls overcame a poor shooting first half and 41 turnovers to down Blackwell 43-36. Westbrook, who won four games last year, evens their record at 3-3 for the season.

Wildcat coach Keith Bundas says his girls are getting better as the season progresses. "I have seen a lot of improvement since the season has started. But we still need lots of work, basically we need to be solid as a rock," commented Bundas.

It took the 'Cats until the second half to get started after shooting a dismal 22 percent from the field in the first half. Blackwell held a 19-17 halftime lead. "I got on them and just had to make them mad at halftime," explained Bundas.

Wolf Pack girls fall to Sweetwater

The Sweetwater Mustangs continued their dominance over the Wolves in basketball as they handed the Pack losses in both the junior varsity and varsity girls games.

The J.V. took a "good one on the chin" as the Mustangs got the best of them 62-36. The Wolves trailed by 17 at the half, and could never get anything going.

Linda Scott, who was recently moved from the varsity led the Wolves in scoring with 13 points. She was followed by Julie Waid with 11 and Cres Aguilar with six points. The J.V.'s record stands at 0-4 for the season.

Evidently Sweetwater varsity player Alice Smith likes playing against the Wolves. The 6-0 post player scorched the Pack for 18 points in the team's first encounter in C-City. She scored 13 points against the Pack in the Lake View Tournament, and Tuesday night she "hooped" 21 points as the 'Stangs defeated the Wolves for the third time this season, 58-39.

Sweetwater jumped on the Wolves early and never let up. They took a commanding 32-19 into the half.

The Wolves Laura Baum got the hot hand in the second half as she canned in 17 points, and finished the night as the game's leading scorer with 23.

But after Baum, the Wolves scoring tailed off. Tomika Randle and Becky Albin scored four points each. Adding to the defeat was the Wolves poor shooting performance from the free throw line, 5 of 13 for 38 percent. The Pack is still looking for its first win, as their record falls to 0-7.

the ball over on the good teams like Highland, Roscoe and Loraine," said Bundas.

Following Vanderpool in scoring was Dawson with 10, Browne seven, and Gayla Cook with five points. Bradshaw hauled down 12 rebounds and scored five points.

Coach Jerry Tucker's boys team fell behind early in their contest, and had to play catch-up ball the remainder of the game, but fell short 56-53.

Blackwell got off to a 13-9 lead after one quarter of play, and stretched it to 30-11 at halftime. Going into the last period the Wildcats trailed by 11, but using a patient offense and good defense the 'Cats outscored their opponents 19-11 in the fourth quarter, only to see their effort fall short.

"I am proud of the way the kids kept their patience. They handled the ball well and didn't fall apart. Blackwell had a pretty good team, but they are not the caliber of some of the better teams in our district," commented Tucker.

The Wildcats two big men, Donald Burnett and Roger Cantu led the Big Spring defeats Junior High

Big Spring got the best of the Wolves seventh and eighth grade "B" basketball teams Monday night in Big Spring.

Big Spring won the seventh grade contest 35-7. LeAnne Parker led the Wolves in scoring with six and Lanna Bell added one point.

The host took the eighth grade contest 36-4. Aurora Melendez and Tracey Cook scored two apiece for C-City.

Wildcat scoring charge with 23 and 19 respectively. Westbrook out-rebounded Blackwell 44-17, with Burnett gathering 17 and Cantu hauling in 14 rebounds.

"We had flashes of team play out there. We hit the open man and handled the ball fairly well," said Tucker. "We now have people out there who know what their job is, whether it is to bring the ball downcourt or get it down low to the big men, hopefully we will see a lot more wins roll around."

Tucker said that he was impressed with the play of point guard Max Zant, and guards Donald Ginkinger and Billy Sweek. Westbrook's record drops to 2-4 on the year.

Wittie, Carpenter wed in October

Shanna Vanette Wittie became the bride of Ricky Allen Carpenter in an October 16 ceremony at St. Luke's United Methodist Church in Colorado City. Leroy Watkins officiated over the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Joe Wittie of Odessa and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Carpenter, also of Odessa.

Mrs. Oren Carpenter and Mrs. J. W. Banks are Carpenter's grandmothers of the groom and both live in Colorado City.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an A-line silhouette gown of Chantilly lace with a fitted bodice, Queen Anne neckline and bishop sleeves. The scalloped lace skirt had a crystal pleated hemline flounce on the cathedral train. Her mantilla veil of silk illusion was edged in lace and held by a lace bandeau. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations, red roses and baby's breath.

Julie Belcher was the maid of honor and bridesmaids were Laura Carpenter and Joani Rhodes.

Best man was Clay Ingram and groomsmen were Sam Morris and Greg Howell. Vance Wittie and Ron Seider served as ushers.

Stace Schwab was the flower girl and John Banks was the ringbearer.

Following the ceremony, the couple was honored with a reception at the church.

The bride, a graduate of Permian High School, is employed by Golden Coach Marine.

The groom, also a graduate of Permian High, is now attending Odessa College and is employed by Foodway.

Boxers participate in tourney

The Mitchell County Boxing Club traveled to Big Spring last weekend to participate in a boxing tournament, and came away with third place in the team standings.

The boxing club had five winners, paced by Chris Alvarez who took the 50 pound weight division over a Lubbock fighter. After the bout, Alvarez received a standing ovation from the crowd. Other winners were Jeremy Strawcuter, Mark Alivarez, Jamie Rivera and Rudy (Chato) Arispe.

Second place finishers were: Greg Gaona, Steve Williamson, Mark Strawcuter, Bobby Sosa, Bruce Gonzales, Ricky Pineda, Greg Rodriguez, Sammy Rivera and Rocenda (Chick) Rodriguez.

Vince Gaona, Jr., lost a split decision in an open class fight, and Oscar Martinez got TKO'd in an exhibition fight against the defending state champ from Tahoka.

Boxing coach Vince Gaona, Sr., said that he was pleased with his team's performance. "They did good, these are most of our inexperience fighters," commented Gaona.

Gaona said that the next scheduled tournament will be January 17 in Snyder, but there was still a possibility that some of the fighters might box in Corpus Christi December 17 and 18.

Fed Up With Christmas!

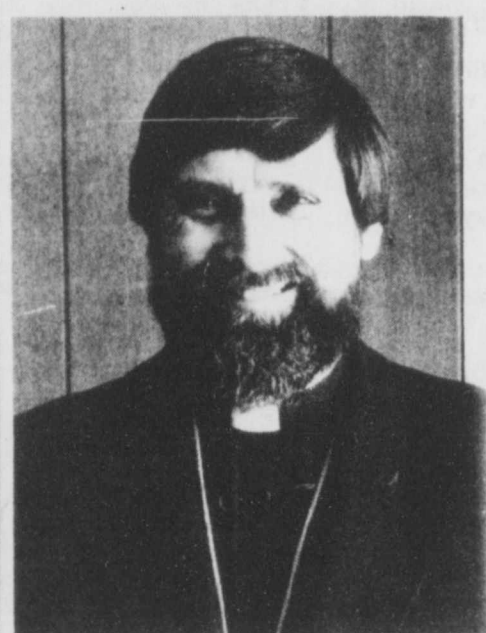

How many times have I heard that statement from people who were supposed to be good Christians? How could anyone who believes in the birth of the son of God say he's had too much Christmas? Easily, I fear for all of us are exposed to a public relations barrage of pseudo-Christmas baloney from well before Thanksgiving until the final hour of the most sacred of secular days-THE LAST SHOPPING DAY BEFORE CHRISTMAS!!

It really isn't Christmas we tire of, it's the Gift-Selling Season that has come to be the Christmas Season for many Americans that we tire of. We have become victims of those who would have us spend, spend, spend, rather than rejoice in the glorious gift God has sent to mankind. Those who sell and those who advertise have perverted a Holy event and for too many Christians have taken the bait hook, line and sinker.

Historically and traditionally, Christmas does not even begin until the Midnight Service on Christmas Eve, when the Christmas story is read from the Gospel according to Luke. (After all, how many people begin celebrating their birthdays six weeks before the actual day?) The Christmas season then continues for 12 days, until the Feast of the Epiphany, January 6.

The four Sundays before Christmas comprise a season called Advent (from the Latin word adventus-coming). Advent should be a time of waiting expectantly, not one of early celebration. During Advent, we try to prepare our hearts, minds, bodies, and souls to receive the Messiah, the Christ, the Son of God. Advent should be a quiet, reflective, sober time, but that has become most difficult in the frantic, "get out and buy at any cost" Gift Selling Season. Even those who mouth the phrase "put Christ back in Christmas," often fail to keep Advent.

My prayer is that Christian people will begin to take a closer look at what the mercenary, secular forces have done to our Lord's birthday, and will resist being sucked into the brightly-lit trap. I pray that Christian merchants will re-examine what they are involved in, and will have the courage to back off a bit. And most of all, I pray that Advent will cease to be the forgotten, pushed aside season in the Christian Year, and will once again become the time when Christian people can reflect on the great event that occurred in that manger in Bethlehem and remember that the baby grew into manhood, bore our sins on the cross, and will be coming again in power and great glory to judge all people. Don't be fed up with Christmas. Just let it arrive. God bless you and keep you during the rest of this Advent.

Candies are cook's favorite

"I like to fix candies," says Debra Witte of her favorite kind of cooking. "I like to try new stuff, but candy is better."

Debra notes that she hesitates to say that she is a good cook, because her brother is a chef in Dallas who has studied under Julia Child. Still, she enjoys cooking for her husband, Randall, and two children. Jonathan, 5, and Randi, 2. Also, she's making plans for a party for the people who work at the store her husband manages.

With a smile, she adds, "I'd like to cook better if somebody else would clean up."

The recipes Debra is sharing are 3 of the ones she plans using at the party.

SOMBRERO DIP
1 lb. lean ground beef
1/4 c. chopped onion
1/2 c. catsup or hot catsup

1/2 t. salt
1/2 c. shredded longhorn cheese
1/4 c. chopped ripe olives

Brown ground beef and onions, add cheese and stir until melted. Add remaining ingredients and heat thoroughly. Serve with potato chips or corn chips.

PECAN ROLL
1 c. brown sugar
1 c. granulated sugar
Two-thirds c. milk
2 T. corn syrup
1/4 t. salt
2 T. margarine
1 t. vanilla
1/2 c. nuts

Combine sugar, milk, corn syrup and salt in a 2 quart pan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved. Cook, stirring occasionally, to 234 degrees on candy thermometer or until small amount of mixture dropped in cold water forms a soft ball which flattens when removed from water. Remove from heat; add butter. Cool mixture to 120 degrees with stirring (Pan will be lukewarm).

Add vanilla; beat vigorously and continuously five to ten minutes with wooden spoon until candy is thick and no longer glossy (Mixture will hold its shape when dropped from spoon). Shape candy into 12-inch roll and roll in 1/2 cup finely chopped pecans. Wrap. Chill until firm. Cut roll in 1/4 inch slices.

CHEESE BALL
10-12 oz. longhorn cheese
8 oz. cream cheese
1/2-1 t. chili powder (plus extra)
1/2-1 t. coarse ground black pepper
1/2-1 t. garlic powder
1/2-1 t. onion salt

Leave cheese at room temperature until soft. Grate longhorn. Blend together the cheese with a fork or by hand (by hand is easiest for me). Then add the remaining ingredients and mix well. You can make it as spicy as you like, just taste as you mix it. When the flavor is right for you, roll it into a ball and roll it in the extra chili powder (just to coat lightly).

Serve with your favorite chips.

Centerpieces made by Westbrook class

Over the past three weeks, the Westbrook Homemaking classes have been busy preparing home experience projects. These projects were decorative centerpieces to be used as edible additions to the table during the Christmas season.

Some of the projects include: a candy house cake with red hots for the front, ribbon candy for a roof and a chimney made of a breakfast bar. Cookies for a door and candy cane trees were at each side. The steps were made out of peanut butter candy and cookies were used for the fence around the side. This was made by Julie Fryer.

Lynn Dawson made a gum drop tree out of a thorn bush by placing gum drops and candy canes on the thorns.

Shanna Inman made a cookie village. The barn had a roof made out of quarter sized jelly candy and a gum drop silo at the back. A cafe which has a gum drop roof also has a cafe sign on the top of it made out of frosting. A candy cane tree is placed on one side of it. The church is made with cookies and peanut butter chips for the roof and a frosting steeple. The village also includes a house which has a jelly bean roof and windows made of frosting. Peppermint candy makes a fence around the outside.

Elena Lopez used melted marshmallows with green food coloring in it poured over corn flakes to make a wreath. Red hots made the holly berries.

A graham cracker village was made by Gracie Fuentes. The base was made of frosting and coconut to give a snowy effect. The sidewalks were made from M&M's and Hershey bar rectangles. The houses and trees were made out of graham crackers. They were decorated with white frosting, candy candy beads, and M&M's. The chimneys were made from M&M's and candy beads. The tree was decorated with green frosting and candy beads.

Dodie Peterson made a house out of sugar cubes. The house was mortared together with red frosting. The roof was made from green construction paper sprinkled with powdered sugar. The house was surrounded with a two-layered sugar cube fence. Sugar cubes made the porch and sidewalk out to the mailbox, which is made of three sugar cubes stacked and a paper mailbox. Santa will soon be there as he's on the rooftop.

Teresa Browne made a cheese ball wreath with cream cheese, bacon bits and other traditional ingredients. The cheeseball was formed into a wreath topped with green parsley and a red pimento bow that will enhance any holiday table and be very tasty also.

Julia Gonzales used a bundt pan for her chocolate cake. White frosting is poured over the top and frosting Christmas trees are on each hump of the pan. Cherries accent the top for a lovely cake.

Tracie Bradshaw made a Christmas tree with a white cake in a tree-shaped pan. Christmas decorations on the green frosted tree are M&M candies of different colors.

Jessie Fuentes made a stocking with a cake and frosted in different holiday colors. To make this stocking truly delightful, candy canes and chocolate bells with toys at the top as accents complete the beautiful centerpiece.

Stockings with a different flair were made by Jean McQuarters and Evon Bradshaw. They were also made with cakes and cut in the stocking shape. Candy canes and colored frosting make each unique. The peanut butter cake under Jean's frosting and decoration is a truly delightful treat.

Kellye Smith used a bundt pan for a cake and then filled the center with cherries. Outside, Dream Whip is used to frost the cake. Flaming brandy is poured over the cherries to make this cherry jubilee.

Gayla Cook made an applesauce cake in her bundt pan and then dribbled frosting over top and put finishing touches on with red cherries.

Lydia Vigil used an angel food cake pan for a carrot cake then dribbled frosting over the top, adding cherries and nuts for the holiday flair and lovely centerpieces.

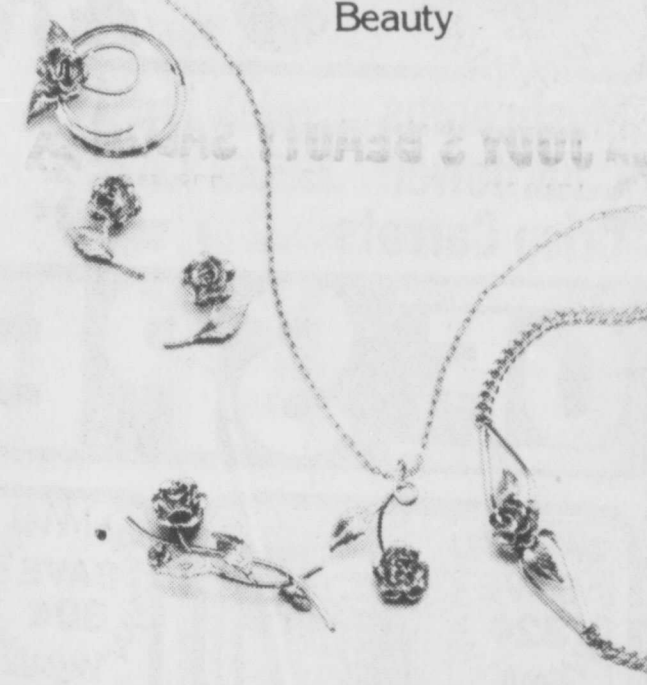

Christie Vanderpool knows that Christmas is not complete without a carousel. The carousel's cookie top and bottom frosted with red frosting and decorated with white frosting flowers with candy bee's is beautiful to the eye. The carousel is made with peppermint sticks of green and red and more frosting flowers accent where necessary. This is certain to be the talk of any party where it may show up.

Mrs. Louree Upton is the teacher.

Kids Speak Out

What age should kids start dating?

This week the RECORD asked Colorado Middle School eighth graders their opinions on what they felt was an appropriate age to start dating?

Charlie Garrett—"I think a good age for dating is when kids are in the seventh grade around the ages of 13 or 14. Because this will help them experience dating. I asked one girl to go to the dance, her parents wouldn't let her, she can't date until she is 16. That leaves just two years for experience until she gets out of the house. She won't be prepared for some of the come-ons guys will use on girls."

Lisa Holman—"Probably about 16, because you are not too old and not too young at the same time. But some girls aren't mature enough at 16, they make the wrong decision and it gets them into a lot of trouble. Some girls are mature and they can make their own decision, they know the difference between right and wrong."

Sara Salazar—"Fifteen or 16. It is an early enough age to where the kids can experience dating and they won't be scared when they get older and get out on

Natalie Abbott—"I feel that you should start dating your freshmen year in high school. I think you should go out and socialize. I know a lot of people and the way I meet them is going to football games, shows etc. Some kids don't act mature enough, and they are not ready to date their freshmen year. It all depends on how one acts and thinks."

Domingo Salazar—"Thirteen or 14. It is an early age so that they can experience going out and gain maturity. The guys learn how to respect and treat young ladies right."

Paul Arellano—"Fifteen, I guess, you should be old enough to handle the responsibilities of dating. By that time you will probably have a job, drivers license and money to take the girl out."

Reggie Gardner—"I don't feel like it's wrong to date before the age of 15. I go out with girls on dates and I'm nice to everybody. I go out with one girl one night, and then I might go out with someone else the next week. I enjoy and feel comfortable around girls."

Exams for VNs slated

A pre-entrance exam for persons interested in the Vocational Nursing program at TSTI-Sweetwater is scheduled for December 17.

The exam costs $15 and will begin at 9 a.m. in the Nursing Building on campus.

The test measures the general knowledge of the applicant and can be used to satisfy entrance requirements at other nursing schools which will accept the scores. The exam is a requirement for admission to the Vocational Nursing program at TSTI.

The next Vocational Nursing class will begin February 28. A make-up exam is scheduled for January 13.

For further information, contact the Vocational Nursing Department at TSTI-Sweetwater.

Carmen Reyes—"Fifteen. That is when you really start feeling like a teenager, and it feels good to be in that stage. I think that most 15-year-olds are mature enough to start dating, they can handle the responsibilities of going out with a guy. They can make the right decisions, if they want to keep dating."

Area students named to Who's Who

Susan Kay Moore of Colorado City and Elizabeth Geiger of Westtern Texas College.

Twenty-two sophomore students at WTC are included on the new Who's Who list. They join an elite group of students selected from more than 1,300 institutions. Campus nominating committees and editors of the Who's Who directory select the students on the basis of their academic achievement, service to the co-munity, leadership in extracurricular activities, and future potential.

Ms. Moore is an Office Occupations major and works in the Office Occupations department. She was named to the President's List for the 1982 spring semester.

A graduate of Colorado High School, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bruce Moore.

Ms. Geiger was graduated from Westbrook High School and is a legal secretarial studies major at WTC. She is a member of the Psi Zeta chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, a national honor fraternity for students in junior colleges, and represented WTC at the Office Education Association competition at state level last spring. She is employed in the office of Michael S. Line, a Snyder attorney. She is the daughter of Alvin Geiger.

Fire safety rules

Now that the holiday season is here, and Christmas decorations are being put up, it is the time to be leary of fire hazards.

Colorado City Fire Marshall L. O. Schafer says the following precautions should be taken to prevent fires during the holiday season.

1. Keep a pan of water around cedar and pine Christmas trees, to prevent from drying out, they are easy to catch fire.

2. Be sure to check all the wiring on the Christmas lights.

3. Keep light bulbs from anything that is flammable.

4. Make sure the cords on the outside of the house are in good shape.

5. Anytime you leave your house, make sure the tree is unplugged.

6. Make sure that all pets and small children stay away from the tree and lights.

7. Be especially cautious of angel hair, because it is highly flammable.
