Dodson High School Comes to Wellington

Dodson High School students will attend Wellington High School beginning with the next scholastic term, in September 1969. This announcement was made Tuesday, April 15, by Supt. Lloyd Patterson, and the action was taken recently by the Dodson board.

The grade school will remain at Dodson.

Wellington Superintendent J. L. Harper said that the school board, in a meeting Monday night, April 14, discussed this, but official action is not required in such a case.

The transfer of the Dodson High School became mandatory when the average daily attendance (ADA) of the school dropped to 78 or a little higher, Mr. Patterson said. The high school ADA, he added, is about 17.15 for the year.

The peak Dodson High School enrollment for the 1968-69 year has been 23, according to the superintendent.

Mr. Patterson said that with the high school students attending the Wellintgon Schools, the elementary school will be administered by the office of the County School Superintendent, T. E. Lennon.

Dodson has been an independent school district since it was organized in 1911.

Two big days of western entertainment are slated when Wellington Future Farmers hold their 4th Annual Junior Rodeo, billed as "No. 1 in the Panhandle" on Friday and Saturday, April 18 and 19.

Approximately 150 boys and girls who are 18 years of age and under are expected to compete in eight events.

Both performances will be at the VFW Rodeo Arena in the northeast part of Wellington beginning at 8 p.m.

The traditional Western Day will be Friday in Wellington High School. Students will wear cowboy and cowgirl attire and many will forego their usual car and school bus transportation to ride in on their horses, said Don Lacy, Wellington FFA Chapter advisor.

The western atmosphere will move downtown with the big parade Friday at 4 p.m. A hundred or more horses and their brilliantly dressed riders will participate, along with bicycles and exhibits of car and machinery dealers.

Ten large and handsome trophies will be awarded. These will go to first place winners in each of the eight events, then the all-around cowboy and all-around cowgirl will be selected at the end of the rodeo.

Mrs. Margaret Vines is New Secretary of C of C

Mrs. Loyd Vines is the new secretary of the Collingsworth County Chamber of Commerce replacing Mrs. Max Phipps who is moving to White Deer with her husband who has accepted the pastorate of the Assembly of God in that city.

The employment of Mrs. Vines was formally concluded by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce at their regular meeting Monday, April 14 at which time they also set the date for the Annual Collingsworth County Free Fair, which will be held on Oct. 17 and 18.

Mrs. Vines was present at the Monday meeting to take care of the minutes although she will not begin her work with the C. of C. until April 21. The office will be open from 9 a.m. until 4:30 in the afternoon each week day. In addition, Mrs. Vines will also serve as secretary of the Wellington Housing Authority which maintains its business offices in the Chamber of Commerce building.

At the meeting, Billy Moseley, general chairman of the Collingsworth County Free Fair for 1969, announced that he had been successful in signing a contract with the ATT Amusement Company of Holiday, Texas for the week of Oct. 13 through 18, and the directors of the Chamber of Commerce set the dates for the annual fair as Oct. 17 and 18. The Fair Association will operate the bingo stand with its own members and will receive a percentage on all rides and a flat fee for each concession.

Mrs. Margaret Vines, who is a graduate of Clarendon High School and Clarendon Junior College, has been employed as a receptionist for Williams Real Estate since 1966. With the exception of four years in New Mexico, she has lived in Wellington since her marriage to Mr. Vines in 1949. They have two daughters, Barbara and Pamela, who are attending the Wellington schools. Both Mr. and Mrs. Vines have been active in the Faith Baptist Church for many years.

Jaycees Plan Ping Pong Tourney April 27

Wellington Jaycees will hold a Ping Pong tournament Sunday, April 27, at the National Guard Armory, according to Dewayne Poteet, who is assisting with arrangements.

It will begin at 2 p.m.

Trophies will be awarded to first, second, third, and consolation winners.

"Anyone can enter, all ages, and either men or women," said Poteet.

There have been a number of inquiries already, especially among business people of Wellington, he added.

This is the first ping pong tournament to be held here in several years.

Fire Destroys House, Damages Another Thurs.

One farm home was destroyed and another damaged in fires Thursday, April 10, to be followed that night by a blaze that damaged a recently closed business on Highway 83.

The Horton Kutch home in the Kelley Community was completely destroyed about 4 p.m., and although the Wellington Fire Department rural truck went to the scene, the fire had gained too much headway to be brought under control.

According to Truett Holland, his son-in-law, Mr. Kutch and a Costello youth were burning out turnrows, when the fire got into some evergreens near the house. They believed they had this fire extinguished, but a spark apparently blew onto the roof of the house, igniting it.

Only part of the contents were saved, Mr. Holland said.

However, a new tractor belonging to Mr. Kutch, which was driven beside the house to help in fighting the blaze, was destroyed.

This 5-room farm house was built during the 1920's and had a full basement beneath the house.

Earlier in the day, firemen were called to the home of Luther Thompson in the Nichol-

This is a public event, when townspeople have the opportunity to honor the high school boys and girls who bring athletic honor to their school, Mr. Burba pointed out.

Oyster Fry, Tourney, Open Golf Club House

The Green Acres Golf Club will open its new club house at the municipal golf course, Marian Airpark, with two major events this week end.

An oyster fry will be held Saturday night, April 20, followed by a partnership golf tournament Sunday, April 20, beginning at 1 p.m.

Plans were announced by Henry Sullivan, who with Jones Singley, is co-chairman of the club.

The new club house consists of two large rooms, one to be used as a club room and the other for storage of golf carts.

It was built at a cost of approximately $8,000, Mr. Sullivan said. It is of concrete tile construction, finished with a white exterior and wood-paneled interior. Horton and Harwell was the contractor.

It is located at the edge of the golf course, immediately east of the National Guard Armory on FM Road 1138.

John Holton and Cliff Campbell are in charge of the oyster fry, while Bill Long and Weldon Cleveland, Jr., are in charge of the tournament.

"There will be a flight for everyone, from the best to the worst players," said Mr. Sullivan. The first round will determine which flight the partners will be in.

Mr. Sullivan explained that the Green Acres Golf Club is a municipal club, operated by the Green Acres Golf Association for the City, and any profits that may be derived from its operation are returned to the city.

The club now has 37 members, and officers hope to expand it to 45.

Elementary school cyclists are urged to attend, Davis said.

Clean-Up Week Set for May

Skyrocket Youth Conference Works for Neater City Alleys

Members of the Skyrocket Youth Conference will start taking orders for a pipe and rod to secure trash barrels in the alleys of the city, in their first move in a general city-wide clean-up which will be held May 5-10.

Ralph Owens, president of the Chamber of Commerce, has asked the Skyrocket Youth Conference to serve on the Civic Improvement Committee and Teddy McLain, Carlos Hatch and Bobby Saied have been asked to lead the work of the alley improvement committee. The three young men presented the plan to the Rotary Club Tuesday and to the Kiwanis Club last Friday and both organizations offered their full support. The Chamber of Commerce had previously endorsed the campaign and pledged its support.

Ralph Owens and Jake Leach, representing the City of Wellington, met with the Skyrocket Youth Conference April 9 and the date of May 5 through May 10 was named official clean-up week. Residents of the town are asked to complete their annual clean-up by this time, Mr. Owens said, in order to aid the city in disposing of the discarded articles and accumulation of trash.

The City of Wellington is providing the pipe and rod at cost, which is $1.25. The members of the Skyrocket Youth Conference, who are now taking orders, will install the pipe and rod without cost as a public service.

The young leaders of the Youth Conference told Kiwanis and other organizations before whom they appeared that the pipe and rod would hold the trash barrel upright against wind or dogs and other animals.

"Our goal is no turned over barrels in the resident section of the city," Bobby Saied said.

In commenting on the present drive for securing devices for the trash cans and the approaching general clean-up week, Youth Conference sponsors said: "Business on the highway are especially asked to give attention to the image they create to tourists or new citizens," and asked their help in making the necessary preparations prior to clean-up week.

Burglars Enter Quail School Mon. Night

Burglars entered the Quail School Monday night, April 14, and took approximately $50 from three vending machines, Supt. E. P. Haynie reported Tuesday morning.

The only other damage was to the door into Mr. Haynie's office. He said the office was "a little torn up, but not much."

"They were pretty nice about it. I had checks written out and they didn't bother them, and had a little radio and they didn't bother it," he added.

The burglary was discovered about 6:30 a.m. Tuesday by Sammy Byrd, custodian. Mr. Haynie arrived a few minutes later and notified Sheriff John Rainey.

Entry was gained through an unlocked window in one of the classrooms, the superintendent said.

He added that none of the faculty members who live on the campus noticed anything suspicious during Monday night.

Joy Jesse to Regional Bee

For the second consecutive year, Wellington Junior High's Joy Jesse will represent the county in the Regional Spelling Bee, to be held Saturday, April 19, in Amarillo.

About an hour in length, the operetta will include between 80 and 90 boys and girls.

A large outline map of the United States is the backdrop for the operetta action, and speakers from seven geographical sections tell of their areas, as classmates give regional songs or dances, said Mrs. Jack Lowry, one of the teachers helping with the operetta.

All of this is to explain the United States to a group of students from other lands who are here as the guests of Uncle Sam.

Caring for the map are Jeffrey Pendergraft and Walter Brown.

With Merle Roehr as their spokesman, the northeastern United States is represented by industrial workers: Tonya Kincannon, Donnie Knoll, Leitha Martindale, Mary Pendergraft, Darrell Bast, Robert Cruz, Gaylon Kirkland and Gilbert Segura.

The speaker for the South is Teresa Ray. Cotton plants are Ronnie Brown, Don Oldham, Bobby Schaffer and Monty Roehr, while the cotton growers are Billy Blair, Bobby Myers, Jerry Cantrell, Leonardo Segura, Debbie Clark, Julie Pendergraft, Mable Bryant and Tommy Webb.

The West has as its spokesman Clifford Oldham, and the cowboys and cowgirls will be Mike Hill, Clinton Oldham, David Martinez, Cindy Coleman, Vonnie Knoll, and EuGenna Weldon.

David Deger speaks for the Lakes area, and the sailors will be John Cruz, C. B. Bryant, Joe Martinez, Mark Thomas and Johnny Segura.

"Milo Muffins" on the Table

Vast Expansion Due in Food Production

Dr. John D. Coleman of the Coleman Ranch in Northwest Collingsworth, was guest speaker at the Quail Future Farmers Father-Son Banquet Friday evening, April 11. His talk was "The Future of Animal Production", but it also covered the future of human food production in general.

Because of the interest in this subject, his talk will be presented in The Wellington Leader in two parts.

A graduate from Texas A&M School of Veterinary Medicine, Dr. Coleman taught in Dacca Agricultural Institute, Dacca, Pakistan, then did research in private industry. He and his family returned to the family ranch a little more than a year ago, where he is continuing in research work. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dee Coleman.

Dr. Coleman first noted that the rate of population increase was less than one per thousand for the first 1600 years after the birth of Christ; from 1750 to 1800 the rate jumped to four per thousand. The rate doubled to eight per thousand from 1900 to 1950, and at present the rate is nearly 20 per 1000. The earth's population will double from the present three billion to six billion by the year 2000.

Much of the hunger at present, he added, results from unequal distribution of food, due to the inability of many hungry people to pay for its transportation.

The first part of his talk follows:

The big question is: How much food can be produced on this old earth?

When you Future Farmers go to college and a professor asks you the source of energy, you will tell him that the sun is. We know that it produces 20,000 calories (of energy) per square yard per minute.

About 20 percent of this, 4,000 calories per yard per minute, can be converted to food. And when you count all the minutes and all the hours in a day, you can see how much energy is available. At the present time, we are not even close to this limit. We are not utilizing land, fertilizer, water or plants well enough to convert even 2 percent of the sun's energy to plant food.

Concerning land, we know how much food we can produce here in the United States —more food than we can profitably sell. Just consider for a moment that there is at least as much unused land in Central and South America as we now farm in the United States, two billion acres. So just by using the South American land properly, the production capacity of North and South America could easily double.

And on using fertilizer, you already know what proper fertilization will do for your yields.

When we talk about water, if the Texas Water Plan is put into use before you retire from farming, Texas will no doubt jump ahead of California as the No. 1 agricultural state in the nation.

Concerning plants, here is an area that will keep most young farmers burning the midnight oil. You will have to spend more and more time studying the use of hybrid plants. Hybrid corn has been well used and is well accepted; next will be hybrid milo, wheat, hybrid forage grasses. All will require more and more management or use of knowledge to gain optimum performance.

To answer the question, "How much can we increase food production?" let us look at what we have done.

In the last 20 to 30 years—my lifetime—average yields of corn and potatoes have tripled and average yields of wheat and soybeans have doubled.

In the last 15 years—your lifetime, young men, the number of meat animals has increased 40 percent. BUT the gross output of meat has increased 70 percent. The point is that we can produce more from the same amount of land, and there is no end in sight.

For some examples about future increases: the average yield of corn is 72 bushels per acre but the record yield is 304; wheat has an average yield of 27 bushels per acre, but the record yield is 209 bushels. Potatoes have an average yield of 350 bushels per acre, but the record yield is 1,400.

Wheat is the most important food crop in the world. It feeds over one-half the population. Rice feeds about one-third the population, over one billion people.

But the Cinderella crop of all is grain sorghum, which has already been made to yield over 600 bushels per acre. Right now, about the only use for gain sorghum is in animal feeds. According to one of the home economists at Texas Tech, milo flour made into bread, cereal and pastries is now feasible. All that "milo for human consumption" needs now is for humans to develop a taste for it. It has a distinctively different taste. Just as corn meal products taste differently from what flour products.

I predict that within 5 years after you Quail Future Farmers get out of the Army, your wives will set a plate of milo muffins on the breakfast table before you.

I know some people who will not eat wheat flour products simply because they like rice.

I know other people who will not eat corn meal products simply because "pigs eat corn."

In all cases it is simply a matter of education and appreciation of taste of these grains.

Wait a minute—I have spent all this time talking about food and farm production when my topic is "The Future of Animal Production."

What is the connection? Let me try to rationalize a connection between what I have said and what I should be talking about.

1. Animals require food — either from farm products or pasture grasses.

2. Ranchers are finding out that the best way to get faster gain on their animals is to feed grain of some kind.

3. Farmers are realizing that the best way to increase the income per acre is to market their grain products through animals.

4. Either way one looks at it, whether you buy or raise grain to feed your animals, or you buy or raise animals to feed your grain to, THE FUTURE OF ANIMAL PRODUCTION RESTS ENTIRELY ON THE FUTURE OF FARM PRODUCTION.

(The second part of this address will be presented next week.)

Collingsworth County FARM NEWS

By Don Reeves
County Agricultural Agent

PLANT QUALITY SEED FOR TOP COTTON CROP

Cotton farmers in Collingsworth County should make an extra effort to select and plant high quality seed this spring.

Careful seed selection is important since there was a large amount of low germinating seed produced last year. Much of this seed came from hail-damaged as well as late-maturing cotton.

The best germinating seed was produced under dryland conditions in the southern part of the High Plains and dryland cotton areas of the Texas Panhandle. Fields receiving extra or late irrigation produced seed of low germination, especially in northern areas.

Factors which contribute to immature fiber (low micronaire) also are responsible for immature seed which results in decreased germination. A heavy cleanout of light, immature seed during cleaning and grading operations is often necessary to improve germination of these seed.

Both high and low germinating seed may be found in any one location in the area. But growers should make sure they know the quality of the seed they are planting.

The analysis tag on the bag tells the story regarding germination. Here the farmer will find the germination percent and date of the test.

For growers saving their own seed, sending a sample to an official seed laboratory for purity and germination tests is recommended.

Planting seed should be sound —that is, it should have no excessive mechanical damage. And it should have a germination of 80 percent or more.

If an unofficial germination test is run, make sure that the germination count isn't made too early. Also, abnormal seedlings such as sub-root should not be included in the germination count. Seed producing abnormal seedlings in a germination test will likely not emerge in the field.

Since high germinating seed can tolerate a wide range of adverse conditions, only such seed should be used in early spring plantings.

If low germinating seed must be used, they should be planted in warmer soil if possible. This means delaying the planting date.

Planting high quality seed can save you money in the long run, by reducing the need for replanting. Low cost or so-called "bargain seed" of questionable germination can prove costly if poor stands are the result.

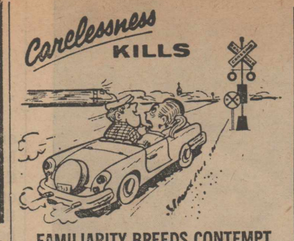

Only a little extra lint is necessary to pay for the extra dollars invested in sound, high-germinating seed. This extra investment can pay big dividends, especially if growing conditions are unfavorable this spring.

County Has Two Oil Completions

Two oil well completions in Collingsworth County were reported by the Pampa Office of the Texas Railroad Commission. These were:

Texas Pacific Oil Co.—No. 3 Gideon Bell, section 6, block 13, H&GN Survey, spudded on Dec. 13, 1968, drilling completed Jan. 15, 1969, treated and sanfracted, pumped 9 barrels of 34.9 gravity oil, plus 11.75 barrels of water, perforated from 2,112 feet to 2,177 feet—total depth 2,210 feet.

Texas Pacific Oil Co. No. 8 Lee, section 15, block 13, H&GN Survey, spudded Nov. 29, 1968, drilling completed Dec. 8, 1968, test completed March 20, 1969, treated and sanfracted—pumped 7 barrels of 35.1 gravity oil plus 5.03 barrels of water; perforated from 2,108 feet to 2,185 feet, total depth 2,212 feet.

FAMILIARITY BREEDS CONTEMPT

You go back and forth across the same track daily, perhaps several times a day. You have lived here all your life and know that trains only run at night or at a particular time every day. What about the special or extra train? You and your family will be just as dead when hit by an unscheduled train. Death is waiting whenever awareness stops.

Cecil Johnson Dies April 6 At Shamrock

He had moved to Shamrock in 1965, after living here for a number of years, and prior to coming here, he made his home at Wheeler.

He operated the Johnson Wholesale Company here many years, and later was a salesman and farmer.

County Has 3 Injured in March Accidents

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated four accidents on rural highways in Collingsworth County during the month of March, according to Sgt. Jack Therwhanger, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in 3 persons injured and an estimated property damage of $5,505.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first three months of 1969 show a total of 7 accidents, resulting in 1 person killed, 4 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $9,980.

The accident report in other nearby counties for March includede:

Childress County: 13 accidents, none killed, 3 injured, $4,240 property damage.

Donley: 3 accidents, none killed, 2 injured, $1,310 property damage.

Gray: 11 accidents, none killed, 5 injured, $6,065 property damage.

Hall: 5 accidents, 1 killed, none injured, $8,500 property damage.

Hemphill: 5 accidents, none killed, 2 injured, $1,998 property damage.

Wheeler: 5 accidents, none killed, 5 injured, $6,615 property damage.

Cottle: 7 accidents, none killed, 3 injured, $1,915 property damage.

Ochiltree: 8 accidents, none killed, 3 injured, $3,990 property damage.

The safety of March travel on Highway US 83 may be deduced, since none of the counties of District 5-B through which it passes had a fatal accident. These are Cottle, Childress, Collingsworth, Wheeler, Hemphill and Ochiltree.

The total March figures for District 5-B were: 229 accidents, 6 killed, 96 injured, and $169,475 property damage.

REPRODUCTION RESTRICTIONS

Reproduction of American currency is permitted only by certain groups. These include numismatic, educational, historical and news gathering groups. Foreign paper currency also falls under the same control.

There are printing restrictions, however. All reproductions must be in black and white. They must be less than three-fourths the actual currency size. Or, they must be 1½ times the bill's size.

The reason for these restrictions is to prevent actual sized reproductions.

Neither coin nor currency is receivable by the United States. Nor is it redeemable.

However, imported foreign coins are receivable at the gold bullion value. This is $35.00 per fine ounce.

The United States Governmens issues no gold coins. Nevertheless, the gold dollar remains our standard of unit value.

Panhandle Honors Loula Grace Erdman on New Publication

The Panhandle area will have an opportunity April 20-21 to honor one of its best-known citizens and strongest boosters, on publication of the 20th book by Loula Grace Erdman.

Books by Miss Erdman, many of them in a Panhandle setting, have been translated into so many languages she has lost count, and students and friends have found them sold and read all over the world. One little German girl wrote to her: "Is Texas really like that? I can hardly believe it!"

Known chiefly for her novels and short stories, Miss Erdman has written an autobiographical account in her new book, "A Time to Write", about the craft of authorship.

Autograph parties are scheduled for Monday, April 21, the publication date, as follows: Blackburn's, 2:30 to 3:30 p.m.; Cooper and Melin, 4 to 6 p.m.; and Brown's downtown store, 7 to 9 p.m., all in Amarillo.

Miss Erdman will be on hand to autograph copies of the book. Also her publisher, S. Phelps Platt, president of Dodd, Mead & Company, will be present.

These were Mrs. Wilma Price and husband, L.C.; Mrs. Robbie Warren, Mrs. Annie Price and children, Joe Price and fiancee, Mr. and Mrs. James Adron Price and family. Just Another Week?

Your public library; how does it really stack up?

Texans support their public libaries to the tune of $1.24 per capita per year; in California the figure is $3.89; in Massachusetts it's $4.61.

You might be interested to know that the Collingsworth County Library budget amounted to 44c per capita. (Considerably below even the shamefully low state average.)

National Library Week in Texas (April 20-26) has set its purpose this year to call attention to the value of libraries in a free society, to note the essential need for books, magazines and other readily available information in a world where the sum total of all human knowledge now doubles every seven years.

Your public library cannot begin to meet the demands of this technological revolution unless it gets adequate support from the community it serves.

Your citizens, your children, your student researchers are losing out when your public library is NOT up to standard. Your concern with society's lasting values is vividly reflected in the nature and condition of your own public library. How does it stack up?

Call your librarian or write to Field Services Division of the Texas State Library in Austin and ask how you can help give your public library a level of support worthy of the name.

Too High a Price

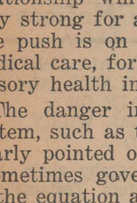

President Nixon warns that a battle may soon be waged over the future of privately-financed medical services in the United States. Speaking before representatives of the press at Memorial Hospital of Long Beach, California, he said, "The real test over the next decate will be if this kind of private institution can survive and whether the individual doctor-patient relationship will survive. The forces are becoming very strong for a bigger and bigger government roll. The push is on for some kind of a system of free medical care, for lack of better term, and for a compulsory health insurance system."

The danger implicit in an all-out state medical system, such as that prevailing in Great Britain, was clearly pointed out by the President when he noted, "Sometimes government overlooks the personal part of the equation and forgets that a yardstick for public facilities we have private institutions." In Great Britain, members of the medical profession have, in effect, taken on the characteristics of public employees. The doctor-patient relationship, of which President Nixon speaks, is practically nonexistent. Medical standards and facilities have declined accordingly. Hospitals suffer from shortage of beds, trained personnel and modern facilities. According to rate reports, there are now more than half a million names on a waiting list—names of people awaiting needed care in a hospital. Hundreds of British doctors emigrate each year.

This is the price a nation pays when the people fall prey to the myth of "free" state medicine. There is a better path for the U. S. to follow. That is the path of developing high quality care for all within the framework of the existing health and medical care systems in the United States.

STATE Capital NEWS

By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN.—Budget battle lines are being drawn in the Legislature. But redistricting lines aren't. And Speaker Gus Mutscher is getting lined up for a summer marriage to a former Miss America.

While appropriations and redistricting don't look too cheerful, the prospect of putting a bride in the Speaker's Apartment in the Capitol has added a bright note to deliberations.

Early in the summer, Mutscher will marry Donna Axum, Miss America of 1964. Miss Axum, an Arkansas beauty, is a speech teacher at Texas Tech in Lubbock.

As for redistricting, a US Supreme Court ruling has wiped out the Legislature's optimistic feeling that it could avoid any sort of redistricting this year. High court ruled that congressional districts must be precisely the same size, and Legislatures "must justify each variance no matter how small."

Texas' congressional districts are clearly outside the Court's decision, so they will have to be redrawn. Since that involves a lot of work, the possibility of a special session looms.

In other action, the House Appropriations Committee approved its version of the budget bill for the next two fiscal years. A Senate-passed bill would spend $5,775,900, but the House version has only $5,724,500,000. Major difference is in raises for state employees.

While the Senate bill would involve a sizeable tax bill, the House version could get by on existing revenue. Neither bill includes pay raises for teachers.

Final bill will be drawn up by a House-Senate conference committee, which is expected to get pretty steamy in its deliberations.

Work Load Eased

Easter holidays limited action on major legislation but committees continued to churn out bills.

House tentatively approved annual legislative sessions, but fell one vote short of final passage of the constitutional amendment proposition.

Senators passed a minimum wage bill in their first Friday work of the 1969 session. Earlier they engrossed a proposed constitutional amendment to repeal the annual voter registration requirement, substituting a limit on the registration period of four years maximum.

Senate took two hours to engross legislation making Texas government units liable to damage suits for negligent acts of their personnel. An amendment attached by Sen. A. M. Aiken of Paris exempted school districts, to the consternation of the sponsors.

House passed 32 bills on local and consent calendars, then passed three more on the general calendar.

Approved by House committee and ready for early action are proposed constitutional amendments (already cleared by Senate) to legalize the sale of liquor by the drink on a local option basis, and abolish the welfare spending ceiling. Sponsors of both claim they need 100 votes for submission to voters at statewide elections.

Obscenity Eyed

Liberties taken by motion pictures the past few years and the increase in the availability of smutty literature has resulted in a flood of bills aimed at tightening up the laws against obscenity.

House Criminal Jurisprudence Committee held a hearing on three of the bills—by Reps. James Nugent of Kerrville, Lamoine Holland of San Antonio and Joe Salem of Corpus Christi—and sent all three to the same subcommittee, which presumably will combine the most desirable features of all three into one bill.

Holland's bill aims at obscene literature, Salem's at dirty movies and Nugent's covers the whole field of obscenity.

Only opposition to the bills came from a spokesman for the Texas Drive-in Theatre Owners Association, who said the bill would hurt the 1,000 legitimate theatres in Texas to get at the "50 or so that show skin flicks".

Also meeting favorable receptions in the legislature are bills to exempt from prosecution under the anti-obscenity laws projectionists who own no interest in theatres.

Aeronautics Gag

Texas Aeronautic Commission has proposed new rules and regulations for the hearing of cases before it — including a prohibition against anyone connected with a case from discussing the merits of the case with newsmen.

Commission's jurisdiction primarily involves the certification of intra-state airlines and the granting of state airport-aid grants to communities.

Proposed rule, which will be considered at a May 15 hearing, says a party to a case may not discuss it with newsmen "outside the presence of all other parties or their representatives, unless a member of the Commission is present."

Water Plan Moving

Texas Water Rights Commission took just two hours to wind up hearings on a $9 billion dollar statewide water plan.

Commission promised a ruling by April 22 on whether or not it approves the plan. It must determine whether all existing water rights are adequately protected.

Lower Rio Grande Valley water districts wanted approval withheld unless the 390,000 acre feet of upstream diversion of Rio Grande waters, as proposed in the plan, is prohibited. They claimed the diversion would "bankrupt" three lower valley counties.

Northeast Texas spokesmen didn't like the plan's sizeup of their water needs. While favoring use of surplus to help dry areas, they said they oppose "robbing Peter to pay Paul".

Meanwhile, a $3.5 billion revenue bond constitutional amendment cleared both houses of the legislature for a place on an August 5 special election ballot.

Courts Speak

Court of Criminal Appeals threw out a 1967 law adding hallucinogens, including LSD, to the dangerous drug list. The Court said the act is unconstitutional because of a defective caption.

A federal district judge in Austin dismissed the suit by VISTA anti-poverty workers in Del Rio for reinstatement. Gov. Preston Smith had asked that the Val Verde County VISTA programs be abolished on request of the county commissioners there.

Attorney General Rules

Attorney General Martin ruled last week that county commissioners cannot use road and bridge funds or farm-to-market - lateral road funds for paying courthouse salaries, fire prevention services, tax evaluation services or hospital care of indigent.

Rehab Program Cut

Texas Education Agency has been notified by the federal government that federal aid to the state vocational-rehabilitation program will be cut by approximately $5 million this year.

This would pare the program about 18%, or specifically from $27,363,204 to $22,537,694.

However, Assistant Education Commissioner C. G. Fairchild says the actual benefits of the program won't be reduced that much, because when the money situation gets tight, the TEA gets more and more cooperation from other agencies and individuals, such as physicians.

"So it's not all as bad as it may sound," he says. "After all, we started with only $10,000 in 1929, and then all we could do was ask for free help. It's still available.

Texas water law is dealt with in a new publication by the Water Development Board, titled "Laws and Programs Pertaining to Water and Related Land Resources."

Water Quality Board is calling for a series of work sessions with animal raisers to discuss possible water pollution from feedlots and holding pens. (Animal waste control has become a bit of a problem in recent years—with about two billion tons of manure produced each year in Texas.

Sens. Ronald Bridges of Corpus Christi and A. R. Schwartz of Galveston have introduced bills to meet federal requirements so Texas will be eligible for the new federal flood insurance program.

Legislation is in the works to change the name of Naples Reservoir in East Texas to Marvin Nichols Reservoir — after Fort Worth's pioneer water engineer.

CROSSROADS REPORT

I see where the Czech ice hockey team beat the Russian world champions both times they played at the meet in Stockholm.

The Russians sort of superreacted to this public embarrassment by sending 45,000 more troops into Czechoslovakia, to keep the Czechs from feeling too cocky, and to rehabilitate the world image of Soviet superiority.

Which will probably teach the Czechs to get with the Fulbright - Kennedy - McGovern mod doctrine on how to play games with the Soviets: with one hand tied behind your back and a flower in the other.

May 1 Deadline to Certify Wheat Acreage

Wheat farmers are urged to measure and report their wheat acreage to the ASCS office as soon as possible, since May 1 is the final date to report and make certification of performance, said Millard Brown of the ASCS this week.

There are approximately 375 farms yet to report out of 492 that signed up to participate in the 1969 program, he added.

Failure to report the wheat acreage by the May 1 deadline date will result in loss of the program payments. As has been the case for the past 3 years farmers are responsible for measuring their own crops and diverted acres then reporting them to the ASCS office.

After May 1 ASCS employees will spot-check farmers measurements on a certain percent of the farms to see if farmers' reports are accurate. Farmers are cautioned to accurately measure and determine their acreages before reporting as an incorrect certification can cause a reduction in payment and in those cases where the error exceeds the allowable tolerance the entire payment may be lost.

"This is why we stress the importance of accurately measuring and not guessing at the acreage. Excess wheat, over and above that to be left for harvest, must be destroyed by May 1 by either plowing under or by grazing down to a point that no wheat at all can be expected to mature. However, the producer should go ahead and make his report now if he has definitely determined which fields or plots will be left for harvest," Mr. Brown emphasized.

"Also we want to point out that it is absolutely necessary for a producer to make a report and sign the certification even though no wheat is planted or will be left standing on May 1," he added.

Daughter of Cal Farley Describes Boys Ranch for 1954 Club Members

Mrs. Sherman Harriman of Amarillo, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Cal Farley who founded Boys Ranch, told the story of that world-famed institution to members of the 1954 Study Club at a meeting held Thursday, April 11, in Cherokee Inn Restaurant.

Mrs. Glen Taylor was the hostess and Mrs. Wayne Cudd introduced the speaker.

Mrs. Harriman said that her father's original idea in 1939 in establishing the Ranch was to provide for homeless boys in Amarillo with whom he had come in contact through the Maverick Club. The late Julius Bivins donated 120 acres of land for this purpose on the site of historic Tascosa. However calls soon began to come from other areas asking the Ranch to accept boys, and since her father always found it impossible to refuse any boy needing help, the Ranch continued to grow until today there are over 2,000 boys from every state in the nation who can look back on Boys Ranch as their home.

There is not room at the Ranch for all boys who need a home there, Mrs. Harriman said, so selection is made on the basis of the boy in greatest need when room is available.

Most of the boys entering the home are in the 12-13 year age group, come from broken homes, and are in some kind of trouble, so they come to the Ranch through the courts.

They are required by these courts to stay at the Ranch until they finish high school, but they cannot be legally held there after they reach the age of 17 if they wish to leave.

Mrs. Harriman stressed that the Ranch tries to create as much of a real home atmosphere and family type life as is possible. In each dorm a staff couple and their children live with the boys, and are available to them 24 hours a day, just as real parents would be.

She also discussed the non-denominational religious training provided through the Ranch's own chaplain in the non-sectarian chapel and the Boys Ranch Independent School which offers a fully accredited 12-year curriculum under the direction of state certified teachers.

A 14-trade vocational program is also provided in which boys 14 years of age and older can receive training and practical experience in a valuable skill they can use when they leave the Ranch. She pointed out the school also conducts two classes for the students who need special help. One is for boys who are slow mentally and have difficulty in learning. The other is for boys who are far behind in school work when they come to the Ranch.

Each boy needs to develop a sense of self-respect, Mrs. Harriman said. In order to help accomplish this each boy is paid for work he performs. This money is deposited for him in a bank account on which he may draw in order to purchase items of clothing for himself, contribute at Sunday morning church services, etc. This has done much to develop an attitude in the boys that they can help themselves and others, she said.

Through the years only about three percent of the boys coming to live at the Ranch have failed to respond to the training and care given them there, Mrs. Harriman said. The other 97 percent have gone on to make good and useful citizens.

Mrs. Harriman stressed the fact that the Ranch has been able to grow and succeed in its work because of the support and interest of the average good people across the country, especially those in the Panhandle area, who from the beginning have helped to give these unfortunate boys "A shirt tail to hang on to."

Attending were Mrs. Sam McGill, Mrs. Harold Caldwell, Mrs. E. W. Clement, Mrs. Fred Cox Jr., Mrs. Earl Patterson, Mrs. Don Reeves, Mrs. Paul Spillman, Mrs. A. J. Fires, Mrs. Cal Hurst, Mrs. Wayne Cudd, Mrs. Leon Hartman, Mrs. Virgil Patterson, Mrs. R. L. Templeton, Mrs. Bill Hatch, Mrs. Bob Goforth, the hostess, Mrs. Glen Taylor and these guests: Mrs. B. M. Sims, Mrs. J. F. Michael, Mrs. Sam Adams, Mrs. Frank Light, Mrs. J. W. Deger, and the speaker, Mrs. Harriman.

Mrs. Thompson Speaks at YH

Mrs. Jimmy Thompson was the speaker at the Samnorwood Young Homemakers meeting on Monday, April 7, in the high school cafeteria. Her program was "New Fabrics and Their Care".

During the business meeting, directed by Mrs. John Birkey, president, members discussed sponsorship of the Girl Scout program, a memorial donation to the Cancer Drive, a cash award to the school Spelling Bee winner, and a plaque to bear the names of the FHA state degree winners.

It was announced that chairs purchased by the Young Homemakers for the homemaking department have been received.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Paul Schaub, Mrs. Leon Myers, Mrs. Jimmy Brown, Mrs. Rudie Tate, Mrs. James Martindale, Mrs. Birkey and Mrs. Thompson.

Mitzie Hartman Takes Part in TWU Spring Fashion Show Held in Dallas

DENTON.—Mitzie Lynn Hartman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hartman, Wellington, is one of 41 Texas Woman's University students who will present a fashion show of original designs in Dallas Thursday, April 17.

Two complete shows, at 6:30 and 8 p.m., will be given in downtown Titche's Auditorium.

Miss Hartman, a junior home economics education major, will model a short-shirt suit with plaid overskirt.

This is the tenth anniversary in presenting a joint program with Titche's and Cone Mills. Cone Mills is furnishing the fabrics for the garments in the show.

The project demonstrates how TWU clothing classes work with industry and business as part of preparation for careers in the fashion field, according to Dr. Bethel Caster and Mrs. Clarice Garrett, co-directors.

Participants in the show are winners or a preliminary contest among students of advanced clothing classes held on the TWU campus in February.

They will model their own campus originals.

Each of the three top winners will receive gold bracelets. Frequently some of the designs are sold to Dallas manufacturers.

Those attending the shows will become acquainted with the color, texture and silhouette fashion news for spring and summer of this year.

Miss Hartman is a graduate of Wellington High School.

Kenneth McClendon, Carol Garrett Wed in Childress Church Ceremony

Miss Carol Deloris Garrett and Kenneth Ray McClendon were married at a double ring ceremony performed in Bible Baptist Church at Childress on Friday, March 21, at seven-thirty in the evening. The Rev. Luther Bradley, pastor, officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Garrett of Carey, and Mr. and Mrs. Leon McClendon, 1406 Dalhart.

Baskets of white gladioli, foliage and candelabras decorated the church, and wedding music was presented by Mrs. Thomas Lewis of Childress.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire dress of peau de soie, with the bodice and long sleeves of Chantilly lace. Her shoulder length veil was attached to a crown of pearls. She carried a lace covered Bible topped with a semi-cascade bouquet of white frenched carnations with white streamers, tied with frenched carnation florets.

Miss Brenda Rogers of Wichita Falls was the maid of honor. She wore a pink street-length dress of empire design with hot pink trim. Her flowers were pink carnations.

Billy Fred Cummings of Wellington was the best man and ushers were Larry Nichols of Childress and Delbert Garrett of Carey, brother of the bride.

Candles were lighted by Jimmy Wyatt of Tell and Ronnie Patterson of Quanah, while the flower girls were Lisa Morgan of Childress and Sonja Wyatt of Tell.

After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Garrett were hosts at a reception in the church annex. The bride's table was laid with a lace cloth over pink and the centerpiece was an arrangement of pink flowers and a large wedding bell. Guests were served by Miss Linda McClendon and Miss Judy McClendon, of Wellington, sisters of the bridegroom, and Miss Linda Loving of Hollis was at the register.

The bride was graduated from Childress High School in 1968 and is presently employed by Childress Manufacturing, Inc.

A graduate of Wellington High School in 1965, the bridegroom completed a three-year enlistment in the United States Army and is now an employee of the Fort Worth and Denver Railway.

The couple will make their home in Childress.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

The Ides of March is past; but not before it left scars on those who paid their income taxes late and brought painful reminders to those who paid early and had to meet their first installment for 1969 on April 15. This year the discontent among people of modest incomes reached heights never experienced before. It was not so much that they had to pay the equivalent of their entire earnings up to April 27 of the year for income tax; but that others far more wealthy enjoyed exemptions and loopholes that they could never hope to obtain.

★ ★ ★

Everyone with the slightest conception of government and taxes realizes that they must pay taxes to support the various functions of government and the many commitments that have been made by the legislative and administrative on so many levels. The resentment is over the inequity of the tax assessment. The feeling is growing that an unjust and intolerable part of the tax burden has been saddled on the middle sector of our economy while the very wealthy on top and the freeloaders on the bottom pay practically no taxes at all. The taxing process needs to be overhauled with the loopholes plugged and some semblance of equality in assessments restored.

★ ★ ★

The migration of people from farms to the cities seems to be leveling off according to The National Observer which says that the question of how to keep them down on the farm might be answered by showing them the cities.

Clean-Up Week in Wellington has been set for May 5 to 10. Prior to this the Skyrocket Youth Conference will conduct a campaign to install holding devices on the trash cans in the alleys that would prevent them from being turned over by high winds, dogs and other animals. The City of Wellington is furnishing these at cost ($1.25) and the young people are selling them and will install them free of charge.

The annual Collingsworth County Free Fair will be held on October 17 and 18 this year instead of in September. This date was selected partly due to the fact that General Chairman Billy Moseley managed to secure a desirable carnival and a favorable contract for a carnival for the week of October 13 to 18. There are several other reasons. The weather is generally much better than in either late August or early September. After consultation with the county agent, home demonstration agent, ag teachers and other key figures in the fair, it was decided that October would be a better time for livestock exhibits and cotton and grain sorghum. It was taken into consideration that it may not be as good for fruits and flowers.

I agree with the general thinking and it may make a poorer exhibit of fruit. I do not know so much about the flowers. It depends on the kind of flowers the growers want to enter in the exhibits. September is still too hot for many flowers. October is much better for quality dahlias, chrysanthemums, roses, cockscombs—well, when you start thinking about it, October is the ideal month for most Autumn flowers.

The Future Farmers will hold their annual Rodeo this Friday and Saturday, April 18 and 19 and as usual it is expected to draw capacity crowds, weather permitting. This event which started modestly enough a good many years ago has grown to be one of the outstanding events of the year in the Wellington area. In the past four or five years especially it has grown consistently as a money maker and a crowd pleaser. The 1969 version promises to offer more thrills and entertainment than any before, so mark your calendar accordingly.

One group of talented youngsters of WHS may not be able to attend the FFA Rodeo. These are the members of the drama department who will be taking their one-act play "The Scarecrow" to the regional competition in Lubbock on April 19 having previously won the district at the Interscholastic League meeting in Seymour. Best wishes to them.

How long has it been since you saw a mule drawn by a plow?

A sun-bonneted cotton picker trailing a long white sack?

A general store in a little country town?

The Texas State Historical Association asks these questions prior to making a photographic history of these rural scenes that are fast fading away.

★ ★ ★

Louise and I saw people picking cotton trailing a sack in Collingsworth County last fall and we saw two mule-drawn plows in the same field not too far from Austin last month. I intend to write James E. Alvis, who is taking these pictures, about the possibility of pictures of the Quail Mercantile run by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Crabtree. Here he could obtain some interesting and authentic pictures and a most interesting story which will be stored at The University of Texas.

Deadline May 5

Nominations Open for 1969 Senior Citizen

The Home Demonstration Council will again recognize the Collingsworth County Senior Citizen of the Year, with the winner of that honor to be recognized at the annual Senior Citizens Tea Monday, May 12.

Mrs. Leta Hill, home demonstration agent, said this week that nominations for the award are being accepted, with the deadline set for May 5.

Besides an hour of fellowship the Senior Citizens Tea this year will feature a style show, covering the last 100 years of fashion, with musical accompaniment, to be presented by Home Demonstration Club women, Mrs. Hill said.

Many of the garments modeled will be family heirlooms made and worn during the period they represent.

In urging that nominations for the Senior Citizen of the Year award be made, Mrs. Hill gave these requirements:

—The person must be 65 years old or older.

—The nominee must not have won this award before.

—The nomination should give information about the person, with special emphasis on what this person has done for their community as well as the county.

—The nominee must be presently living in the county.

—The person nominated may be either a man or a woman.

—The nomination can be in the form of a typed summary, scrapbook form, or any other way that can tell the story of why it is believed the nominee should be Senior Citizen of the Year. A picture may be included.

Besides the Senior Citizen, recognition also will be given to the Home Demonstration Club member who has been in HD work the longest and is still active.

All senior citizens of the county are invited to the tea, Mrs. Hill said.
