Middle East Crisis Growing

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—An Egyptian official said today he understood Egypt plans to send only administrative units into the controversial Gaza Strip. He said he doubts the Egyptian government intends to move military forces there in the immediate future.

The official made the comment after Col. Salah Gohar, head of the Egyptian Palestine Department, conferred with Dr. Ralph Bunche, U.N. undersecretary general, on Egypt's appointment of Gen. Hassan Abdel Latif as military governor of the area.

It was assumed Bunche was seeking to learn if some compromise might be worked out involving the U.N. Emergency Force, which moved into the strip last week when Israeli troops pulled out.

Gen. Abdel Latif was closeted today with Gen. Abdel Hakim Amer Egyptian army commander.

The Egyptian official's comment suggested the Egyptians may be ready to permit UNEF units to continue policing frontier areas, but insist on assuming control of civil administration.

Well-informed neutrals here reported the Egyptians were in no position now to send military forces in any strength to Gaza.

Almost no Egyptian combat troops have been moved into the Sinai Desert since Israeli forces withdrew after their attack last fall, a neutral military observer said. Practically all Egyptian army installations there were destroyed by the retreating Israelis, he said, with the result that only a small token Egyptian administrative unit has been sent in to reoccupy the area.

U.N. officials sought to minimize the Egyptian move to reestablish administrative rights in Gaza. But U.S. and Israeli officials feared a serious new crisis was blowing up. There was talk in New York that the U.N. Assembly might be called back into session.

Bunche later was to see Deputy Foreign Minister Abdel Fattah Hassan. The deputy is acting chief of the Foreign Office in the absence of Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi, who is on his way home from the U.N.

Bunche, who won the Nobel Prize for negotiating the Palestine armistice in 1949, was reported trying to iron out differences between Egypt and the U.N. Emergency Force over administration of the Mediterranean coastal strip Israel withdrew from last week.

There was no word in Cairo when Egyptian officials actually would start to take over from UNEF. U.N. sources in the Egyptian capital indicated they hoped Egypt could be persuaded to delay, at least for a short time.

Bunche, after the Egyptian announcement, said the U.N. has never "questioned Egypt's legal rights regarding Gaza." But at U.N. headquarters a source close to Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold termed the Egyptian action regrettable.

APRIL 2 ELECTION OPPOSED

Bill To Stop Vote Beaten

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Senate rejected by 11 votes today an effort to bring up a bill which would leave interim U.S. Sen. William Blakley in office.

The measure by Sen. Charles Herring of Austin sought to do away with the April 2 special election in which two Republicans and 20 Democrats are seeking to fill the unexpired part of Price Daniel's term.

The vote was on Herring's motion to suspend the regular order of business. Ten senators voted for it, 18 against it. It would have required 21 aye votes for adoption.

The action left two bills bearing on the special election hung up in the Senate, virtually dead.

The other is a House-passed measure by Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas that calls for a runoff if the high man in the April 2 election does not have a majority. The Senate in effect killed it earlier by refusing to bring it up for debate.

Herring urged the Senate to take up his bill, calling it a "fair election" proposition. He has argued that as the election now looms, a minority of the voters will name the next senator from Texas.

Blakley was appointed by former Gov. Allan Shivers when Daniel took office as governor, to serve until a successor could be named to complete Daniel's term.

Blakley is a Democrat. Republicans are hoping to win the Texas seat and thereby win control of the U.S. Senate.

Consideration of the question of whether to take up the Herring bill was set for special order of business. Also set for special order was a measure increasing maximum weekly workmen's compensation payment.

Pool has refused to concede final defeat of his bill.

Commenting on the Senate's refusal to take up the Herring bill, Pool said:

"I may get another chance with my bill now. I don't know if I will try again, but I might. I got 19 votes and need just 2 more. If I can get it up, I think I can pass it."

Under Texas' law now, the high man wins a special election without a runoff.

Ambassador Is Sent To Middle East

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower sent Ambassador James P. Richards to the Middle East today to discuss with the governments of 18 nations his plan for building new defenses against the pressures of Soviet communism.

In a departure statement, Richards declared that the President had instructed him "to present and discuss his proposals to promote peace, freedom and economic well-being of the area."

His first conferences are scheduled in Beirut, Lebanon, on Thursday.

The former chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee said "discussions will be held only with governments who wish them, and we will not try to force our views upon others."

His travel plans call for visiting 18 countries but his words words made it apparent that if any country is not interested in discussing the new American "initiative," as Richards called it, he will not go there.

He said that authority granted by Congress in approving Eisenhower's Middle East plan "will enable us to undertake some new and more effective programs which will materially contribute to the strengthening of the area."

"It is only natural," Richards said, "that a new initiative such as the President's may not be completely understood in the first instance, and may even be misinterpreted in some quarters. I shall try to remove such misunderstandings if any have arisen."

Other operating committees, as provided the United Fund charter, will be named during the next few weeks as the organization lays groundwork for its campaing next fall.

Others on the campaign committee are Dr. C. L. Yarbrough, Stanley Noah, M. H. Roe, Ralph Geisenhoner, Herbert Feather and Walker Dabbs.

Also named Monday was the publicity committee, which will inform the public about the United Fund program and help promote interest in the next campaign for funds.

J. T. Hughes, manager of Radio Station KSNY, will again serve as chairman of that committee. Other members of the publicity committee are Dale Walton, N. R. Clements, Wacil McNair and Zane Gilbert.

Next meeting of the United Fund board will be held April 9.

Three Quizzed On Burglary Of Trailers

GAIL (Spl.) — Three youths were being questioned here this morning in connection with burglaries of two trailers at Lake J. B. Thomas during the weekend.

The three teenagers are from Denver City and Seminole and were arrested in Seminole, according to Sheriff Sid Reeder. Their parents were also called in for the discussion.

Working with Reeder on questioning of the youths, who had admitted the two burglaries, were Wayland Holt, district attorney, and J. C. Massingill, Scurry County sheriff's deputy.

Only fishing equipment and food were taken in the burglaries.

There was no report on any connection with the burglaries of last weekend and the rash of burglaries of numerous cabins at the lake in both Scurry and Borden Counties a few weeks ago.

Storms Taper Off Over Texas Today

By The Associated Press

A flurry of thunderstorms that flung flash floods, hail and high winds across much of Central and South Central Texas tapered off into a few scattered showers Tuesday.

A tornado uprooted trees and unroofed barns near Kenedy Monday night. As much as four inches of rain drenched some areas.

Arnold Schulle of the Zuerville community near Kenedy said the twister hit at 9:30 p.m. during an electrical storm. Two homes were shoved off their foundations as the storm cut a 200-foot wide path through brush and trees for half a mile.

A 4-inch rain fell at the South Texas community of Cadallic, near Kenedy. Runge and Nordheim, west of Cuero, reported 3.35 inches each.

A squall line which developed late Monday night brought thunderstorms and more than an inch of rain over most of the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

The squall line passed through the Valley and was causing showers in the Gulf Tuesday.

Rainfall from the unexpected rains were Donna 3.03 inches, Sullivan City 2.06, Raymondville 1.87, Weslaco 1.60, Edinburg 1.50, Harlingen 1.40, Mission 1.10, Mercedes 1.04, Brownsville .92, McAllen 73 and Rio Grande City .51.

A thunderstorm drenched Galveston early Tuesday. Winds were moderate, up to 14 miles per hour. Rain also fell Tuesday at Houston, Palacious, Corpus Christi, Alice, Kingsville and Brownsville.

Elsewhere most Texas skies were fair except in the south where it was partly cloudy.

Winds up to 45 miles per hour fanned Austin Monday night. Hail an inch in diameter fell. Water ran ankle deep in some streets and creeks in the area overflowed, flooding some homes in east Austin.

The Weather Bureau forecast widely scattered showers in East Texas, mostly near the coast Tuesday. No rain was predicted for other areas.

Flood water began receding in Austin late Monday night. Water had seeped into the basements of stores on Congress Ave., ruining one drugstore's stocks.

The worst damage inflicted by the wind and hail was at the Austin airport where planes were left in the open because of a lack of hanger space. Some were dented by the hail. Windshields were broken and the wings of some fiber covered aircraft were punctured. Some 40 planes were damaged.

WEATHER

SNYDER TEMPERATURES: High Monday, 71 degrees; low Monday night, 38 degrees; reading at 7:30 a.m. today, 39 degrees.

State Probe Is Disrupted

AUSTIN (AP)—James Cage, president of the defunct ICT Insurance Co., testified last night that former Insurance Commissioner Byron Saunders knew of the company's plight almost a year before it collapsed.

Cage's testimony to a special House committee was cut off abruptly just as he was going to single out a mysterious "honored name" in politics. He said the figure received $700 monthly return for "political influence."

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson said later the questioning was halted "because we haven't completed our investigation."

Cage is to testify again Thursday.

Two groups are checking the firm, which was put in receivership last month after the Insurance Commission found it "hopelessly insolvent."

Cage repeatedly asserted that Saunders was "fully aware" of the company's condition. He said the former commissioner knew of the situation since Feb. 28, 1956—the date Cage said he first talked with him about ICT's troubles.

"He knew there was a lien on our stock amounting to about $400,000," Cage said. He said the lien was held by Pierce Brooks, president of the National Bankers Insurance Co. of Dallas.

"When did you first start talking to Saunders about the lien against the stock and other questionable assets?" asst. Dist. Atty. Joe Carroll asked.

"I contacted him no less than three times a month—probably once a week during the last year," Cage replied.

Carroll asked Cage if he knew of any money the company had paid out for "political influence."

Cage said he had "reason to believe" there was. He said this was done when the firm was under the control of former President BenJack Cage.

Commie Move Called Fraud

WASHINGTON (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover today called American Communists' claimed break with Moscow "a fraud."

The prime objective of this Communist move, he told the Senate Internal Security subcommittee in a letter, is to "thwart future prosecutions by the Justice Department."

He said the U.S. Reds, after their recent New York convention which claimed to have ousted Stalinist leaders and voted to break ties with the Kremlin, are not one bit different than before. He called them "still the masters of the Big Lie."

"Their double talk, duplicity and semantic gyrations make them the most dangerous and proficient masters of propaganda in the civilized world," he wrote.

"The Communist party before and after its 1957 convention is part and parcel of the worldwide Communist conspiracy. It is still responsive to the will of Moscow; it still works for the destruction of the American way of life; and it still is dedicated to the building of a Soviet United States patterned after the basic concepts of Marxism-Leninism."

Hoover said the Communist convention was a planned effort, dictated from Moscow, to hoodwink the people. "Should it succeed in further hoodwinking certain people," he said, "then it will emerge stronger than it ever was and more dangerous to the peace and security of the United States."

Hoover said the Reds never did declare "independence of the Soviet Union" in the convention nor disclaim "loyalty to the Soviet Union" and never supported U.S. foreign policy to the detriment of Soviet foreign policy.

"The strategy and tactics of the party's 1957 convention," he said, "were designed to accomplish the following objectives:

"1. Thwart government prosecution. . . . The party, through its alleged 'new look,' is hoping to convince the government, the courts and juries that it is not a danger."

"3. Lay a foundation for possible unity with other left-wing groups.

"4. Create a basis for establishing more Communist fronts.

"5. Create atmosphere for party membership recruiting.

"6. Meet growing rank and file unrest in the party.

"7. Win back support of financial 'angels.'"

Vandals Hit Courthouse

Strengthening controls on night meetings held in the courthouse is under discussion by some members of the commissioners court here.

The court, after hearing reports of vandalism inside the courthouse, is discussing the need for more responsibility placed on organizations which use the courthouse at night.

The latest vandalism reported was the destroying of a large venetian blind and a mirror in the restroom adjoining the grand jury room and the disappearance of some cushions in jury chairs in the courtrooms.

It is believed that vandals got into the courthouse at night, while doors were unlocked for a meeting.

TULSA (AP)— Several large increases, notably in Texas, lifted daily average crude oil production by 268,500 barrels to 7,800,475 during the week ended March 9, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Texas' output was up 202,650 to 3,333,000 barrels. Louisiana had a 37,350 barrel increase to 1,014,850. New Mexico gained 10,200 to 268,475. Oklahoma was up 8,450 barrels to 668,400. Arkansas was up 2,500 barrels to 83,600.

Here Archie Voss, 5, a winner in one of the events, holds his trophy and gets a kiss from 7-year-old Louise Donohue.

Leaders Study Budget Cutting

WASHINGTON (AP)— Republican leaders said today Congress would be passing the buck and dodging its own duty if it called on President Eisenhower for specific recommendations on cuts in his 71,800,000,000 budget.

That view was expressed by Senate GOP Leader Knowland of California and House Republican Chief Martin of Massachusetts after their regular Tuesday morning meeting with Eisenhower.

The leaders talked with newsmen as the House made ready to vote on a resolution, sponsored by Rep. Cannon (D-Mo), which would call on the President to recommend specific substantial reductions in the budget for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Martin said Cannon, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, was in effect "confessing he'd rather have somebody else (than Congress) reduce the budget."

Martin went on to say that he is opposed to the Cannon resolution because adoption would amount to "Congress abdicating its duty."

"Let's not pass the buck to somebody else. Let's let Congress do the job," he said.

Asked whether Eisenhower shares that view, Knowland replied that he believes the President's position "is that he has submitted his recommendations and now the budget is the responsibility of Congress."

Cannon's proposal was approved by the House Rules Committee yesterday, and last Friday by the Appropriations Committee, on partisan votes.

It was today's business in the House with three hours of debate allowed. Passage over Republican opposition was generally expected.

Mayor Suspects Fishing Expedition By FBI, Refuses To Take Lie Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mayor Terry D. Schrunk of Portland, Ore., said he called off a lie detector test on his denial of accepting a bribe because he felt the Secret Service had "a fishing expedition lined up" in administering the test.

Schrunk was called back before the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee following his refusal to complete the lie detector test yesterday.

Schrunk claimed today questions proposed to be asked him were "loaded" and concerned matters which he had not been asked in his earlier testimony last week at the senate hearings.

Before Schrunk returned to the witness chair, Clyde C. Crosby, Oregon boss of the Teamsters Union, told the senators he had what he called new and "very important evidence" bearing on their inquiry into allegations that he and some other union officials "muscled in" on Portland rackets.

"It is documented, it is sworn to," Crosby said, and asked permission to read it.

Chariman McClellan (D - Ark) temporarily barred the offering until he had an opportunity to check its nature.

Crosby gave no clue to its nature.

In accordance with earlier instructions from the committee, Crosby turned over to it a batch of wire recordings.

McClellan said they had been seized from a private home in Portland under a search warrant "fraudulently and illegally issued."

McClellan said they may be played into evidence later.

Crosby remained only briefly on the witness stand as the committee prepared to deal with a request by Mayor Terry D. Schrunk of Portland for permission to answer under oath in the hearing what his lawyer described as new questions injected into a lie detector test.

McClellan said the committee was "waiting for the arrival of a document" before going into this, and called a brief recess without explaining what the document might be.

Schrunk balked yesterday at completing the test, contending new questions were being thrown at him.

His Washington lawyer, Dr. Marshall I. Stewart, protested that the questions should have been limited to Schrunk's earlier testimony.

Bill Change Is Studied

DALLAS (AP)—A $50,000 suit filed yesterday against National Van Lines by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., claimed the truck line used a code system to get around paying long distance phone calls.

Southwestern Bell charged the Van Line defrauded it of $25,000 with the code system and asked $25,000 more as exemplary damages. The phone company said the Van Line had a system whereby its drivers made person-to-person calls to fictitious names at the trucking company's Dallas number.

Southwest Bell said National Van Lines would refuse the call or report that the person called was not there and that both parties would then hang up without paying for the call.

Mrs. Dedyne's pajama-clad body was found at 3:15 a.m. on the burned bed in her room. Flames had spread to a window blind, but were confined to her room. Officers had roused the other 12 tenants on the floor.

Mrs. Dedyne, a divorcee, had lived alone in the apartment for two months.

Expensive Film Made

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — American moviemakers blew up a 250-foot-long bridge and a six-coach passenger train today after one dud.

The spectacular blast cost about $250,000.

The twin-towered bridge, one of the biggest sets in screen history, crashed in a twisted mass of metal and splintered wood into a dry river bed 50 feet below, together with the wrecked locomotive and passenger cars.

The bridge was built with government cooperation for sequences in the movie "The Bridge on the River Kwai."

Four production men suffered superficial injuries from flying debris.

He's Little Mixed Up After Tour In England

BEDFORD, Pa. (AP)—State Police hope that Army Sgt. Clyde A. Geer, 36, of Miami, Fla., stays on the right side of the road. He had a headon auto wreck near here, and his car was on the left side of the road.

"Gad," he told investigating officers, "I thought the other guy was on my side of the road and then I suddenly remembered I was on the wrong side."

Geer told officers he's just returned from a 3-year-tour of duty in England and had become accustomed to driving on the left side. He went on his way in a slightly damaged car after paying a small fine and $250 to the other driver for damages.

TIMES CHANGES

New Watchword: Relax And Live

By INEZ ROBB

The more I think of it, the more I am convinced that all the old tried-and-ture maxims of my childhoom need overhauling and updating. The unprecedented strides of science and medicine in this century have invalidated most of the time-tested adages on which I cut my teeth.

Take, for example, the incontrovertible axiom that work is the curse of the drinking classes. Democracy, science and medicine between them have now broadened the base of this truism by proving that work is the curse of all classes.

It is generally agreed that all work and no play doesn't make Jack so much a dull boy as a dead Joe. In the past year, every publication in the United States has been full of grim warning that work is a killer. It leads to tension, ulcers, schizophrenia and Russian roulette.

Science and medicine have been busy racking up proof that work, except in small doses, hardens the arteries, plays hob with the heart, flattens the arches and leads but to the grave. In the meantime, Horatio Alger Jr. is whirling in his.

The general theme of all such articles today is simple: Never do today what you can put off, period. If you never put off until tomorrow what you can do today, it is tension and curtains for you. Early to bed and early to rise no longer makes a man healthy wealthy, and wise. It makes him puny, loony and cuts him down to size.

Competition in the market place is as lethal to man as a jigger of cyanide. This younger generation, seeking only security and not opportunity on the job, has the right idea, because he who yawns and turns away, will live to sleep another day.

According to the latest medical finding, the eager beaver in the gray flannel suit is really a gone goose. His frantic efforts to make good and get to the top of the ladder on a golden treadmill (There's something wrong somewhere with this metaphor!) will only get him the privilege of cutting out paper dolls with blunt scissors in a padded room.

Pluck and luck will still get you a buck. But if you're dead, says the new philosophy, are you really ahead?

"Get in there and pitch," "Keep your eye on the ball" and "Do or die" were dinned into my head in my salad days. Now the grim watchword is "Do and die." The command today is: Relax — don't over tax!

"Sink or swim" my elders enjoined me. The best medical advice today is to relax and tread water until the life-raft drifts by. "Ad astra per aspera" — to the stars through bars — my professors cried. Now, the medics cut out everything but the bars. Very relaxing.

"Moil and toil will shuffle off this mortal coil" is the present watchword, followed by, "The slug abed is full of lead; but then, again, he won't drop dead."

This is a real revolution in the folkways of the United States, the home of hustle and bustle. But since science says it is better to relax and hit the sack as strain puts you down the drain, the new maxim, if you would live longer and be stronger, is: Don't work — shirk!

Dove Nesting Area Bought

HARLINGEN (AP)—C. L. (Smoky) Boyle, president of the Valley Sportsmen Club, says the purchase of 200 acres of land for a white-wing dove nesting ground was a "wonderful start" in stimulating a comeback of the species.

Boyle said yesterday he was encouraged by the purchase and plans for future purchases by the State Game and Fish Commission. The nesting area is located near Santa Rosa.

The whitewing dove once was considered the favorite hunting target of many sportsmen, but an "open season" on the birds has not been held for three years.

The Game and Fish Commission said whitewings were hit hard by conversion of nesting brushland into farms and by the big freeze in the Valley in 1951. The species, however, has been increasing in number and the Game and Fish Commission says a limited season may be possible this year.

Coroner Kenneth Riggs said notes in the house spoke of "trying to end this awful misery of ours. Everything seems to go wrong. . . We can't stand this any more because we can't do anything and our lives are empty."

He said they apparently had been dead since Thursday.

Testimony Is Given In Greyhound Suit

HARLINGEN (AP)—Eighteen witnesses presented by Greyhound Bus Lines, Inc., said yesterday they favored Greyhound service in the Rio Grande Valley because they feel a greater choice in schedules is needed.

Hearings are being held here on the application and further hearings will be held in Corpus Christi.

Continental Union Trailways is opposing the application, contending it is not needed.

This is the second session of the course, which started last week.

Filmstrips, demonstrations, dramatizations, and other means of teaching are used in the course.

This week's training will include the Cub achievement program and Boy Scout advancement procedures.

Explorer - age boys, as well as their leaders, have also been invited to participate in the training program.

Curfew For Youths

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A bill that would allow cities to establish curfews for youths under 17 has been approved by a state legislative committee.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Thoughtful Driver Forgets One Thing

STUART, Okla. (AP) — A local service station operator is looking for a thoughtful man who put everything back in its place.

Apparently low on gas the stranger tried to phone both of the town's gas station operators early in the morning. When neither answered, he drove to the nearest station, broke the glass door, unlocked the gas pump, filled his gas tank and then locked the pump and returned the key. But he failed to leave any money.

Girl Scouts Offer Spice Cake For All The Family

Celebrating their 45th birthday this week, the Girl Scouts have come up with a spice cake anyone in the family can make.

Teaching girls to cook and bake has been a major part of Girl Scout training since 1912, according to Alice Sanderson, Girl Scout home economist. Through the years, Girl Scout training has increasingly become "a family affair" and, Miss Sanderson notes, nowhere is this more true than in the kitchen.

Sooner or later, everyone in the family tries his or her hand at a new Girl Scout recipe. In honor of the Girl Scout anniversary, Miss Sanderson suggests a spice cake recipe simple enough for children and challenging enough for Mother — or even Dad.

Brownie Scouts or any seven or eight-year-old youngster can use this recipe to make cupcakes or a plain loaf cake. Older children can try making an orange icing for the loaf cake and teen-agers can try for an elegant layer cake with maple and nut icing. The men in the family have their choice of recipes — or they can stick to their classic role as expert samplers.

This is the basic spice cake recipe:

1-3 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1¾ cups pastry flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon cloves
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
2 eggs
2-3 cup of milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Melt shortening and set aside in a warm place. Fat should be melted, but not hot when it is used. Sift dry ingredients together. Combine shortening, eggs, milk and vanilla. Add to dry ingredients and stir vigorously until well mixed. Put into two 8 inch layer pans, or into cupcake pans, or into an 8x12 pan or loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven at 375 degrees for 20 to 30 minutes. Bake loaf cake at 350 degrees.

Youngsters trying their first spice cake can serve cupcakes or the loaf cake plain, or they can decorate the cake with the simplest kind of polka dot icing. After taking the cake from the oven, and while it is still hot, dot the top with semi-sweet chocolate bits. Allow the heat of the cake to melt the chocolate. Youngsters can also use the chocolate bits on cupcakes.

An orange icing should be more fun and more of a challenge for older girls in the Intermediate Scout range of 10 to 14 years old, Miss Sanders says. Here's an uncooked orange icing for them:

¼ cup margarine or butter
1 egg yolk
1½ tablespoon undiluted frozen orange juice
½ teaspoon grated orange rind
½ teaspoon salt
1¾ cups of sifted confectioners' sugar
1 tablespoon milk

First, cream shortening until fluffy. Beat in egg yolk, juice, rind and salt. Gradually add sugar and milk, beating until fluffy, and spread on cooled cake.

Teen-agers — or even Dad — can have fun making a maple and nut icing for an elegant layer cake. Only three ingredients are needed: 1 cup of maple syrup, 2 unbeaten egg whites and ¼ cup of chopped nuts.

First cook syrup to firm-ball stage (242 degrees). Beat in a fine stream into egg whites. Continue beating until icing stiffens. It remains soft enough to frost and fill one 8 inch layer cake. Garnish with chopped nuts.

Imagination Needed In Decoration

Clever interior decorating isn't a matter of money — but taste and imagination.

In the home of Pier Angeli and her husband, Vic Damone, a "brown study" serves as a relaxing haven. It is done in a medley of browns with accents of soft olive green.

The key to successful color use anywhere is a monochromatic scheme with perhaps one (or, at most, two) contrasting accents. The result is a pleasing sense of unity and quiet — both of which contribute mightily to good family living.

Doris Day's favorite spot is her candy pink room. Here pictures, plants, and turquoise accents add gaiety without confusion.

Storage space is a problem in many homes. The stair well in Esther Williams' home has built-ins, handy for toys and other paraphernalia. In the home of the Keith Andes family, the walls pay their way by supporting bookshelve that add color and design to the living room.

A "children's corner" in the parents' bedroom has been improvised by Deborah Kerr and her husband. Right-angle love seats plumped with pillows flank a corner cabinet which contains books and games. It's a cozy spot for chats or snacks.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

SNYDER HIGH SCHOOL'S three event winners in Saturday's Canyon Reef Realys here ranks with the best in comparison with other meets held over the state the past weekend.

Of the seven meets that we got results on, the Tigers' Bud Morgan posted the best time of any in the 180-yard low hurdles in 19.6.

Norman Carlton of Lamar of Houston, the defending state 4A champions, came closest to equalling Morgan's record by turning in a 19.7 at the Border Olympics in Laredo.

And Bobby Pollard's 9.9 in the 100-yard dash was one of two such times turned in over the weekend in the century dash. J. B. Thomas of North Side of Fort Worth also was clocked in 9.9 at the Dal-Hi Relays in Dallas to tie the Tiger sprinter for best time.

The third Tiger winning a first place in the Canyon Reef affair, Powell Berry, had the second best time in the state in the 120-yard high hardles.

Bob Bernard of Graham nosed Berry out for the best time in the highs with 14.8 in the Possum Kingdom Relays at Graham. Berry's time was 14.9.

Pollard's 220 Time Among Best

Pollard also ranked high in the 220-yard dash although he finished second in the event here. Bobby was right on the heels of Pat McDonald of Lubbock in the 220 here who won in 21.6. Pollard's time was 21.7 which topped the winning marks of four of the seven meets held in Texas over the weekend.

Rex Wilson, another Tiger hurdler, comes in for some state recognition. Wilson finished a step behind Berry in the high hurdles and was clocked in 15.0 which betters the winning time at five other meets held Saturday.

The seven meets held last weekend covers most of Texas. They were the Rose Relays at Tyler, Dal-Hi Relays at Dallas, Brady Relays at Brady, Border Olympics at Laredo, Possum Kingdom Relays at Graham, Monahans Relays at Monhans and the Canyon Reef Relays here.

The seven meets attracted something better than 300 schools so you can see the feats of our hurdlers and sprinters were pretty outstanding.

Weather conditions are to be considered in comparing results for a certain day but from all accounts, the weather was about the same at all of the meets last weekend. All reported brisk winds.

Laredo, which usually has the best track weather for this time of year, had even higher winds for its Border Olympics Saturday than we had here. The winds at Laredo were estimated at about 25 miles per hour as compared to the estimated 12-15 miles per hour here.

Anyway you look at it, the performances of the Tiger hurdlers and sprinters were remarkable Saturday afternoon.

Tigerette Coach "Dunked"

The Snyder High School girls volleyball team was pretty jubilant over its victory over Lamesa last Thursday. The main reason was that it revenged an eariler loss to the Lamesa team.

In their post game celebration, the Tigerettes gave their coach, Bertie Machel, a "free shower." Throwing coaches in the shower is a common custom for teams winning a "big" game. So you can see how over-joyed the Tigerettes were in winning over the Lamesans.

The Tigerettes continue their bid for the 3-AAA pennant in a game at Sweetwater tonight. Another rugged assignment faces the Tigerettes.

Another local baseball season opens today with the Tigers playing Abilene here. This will be the first time the Tigers and Eagles will be meeting in non-district play but the game still packs as much interest as it has in the past.

Today's game opens a busy schedule for the Tigers. In not the too distant future Little League and Pony League will be opening their seasons so baseball will be with us for the next several months. There is also a talk of forming a Teen Age League here this summer, too.

We'd like to clarify a statement made in this corner yesterday when we said the second place finish Saturday was the highest the Tigers have placed in the Canyon Reef Relays. It actually was the highest the Tigers have placed here but another team, the 1954 addition, also placed second in the meet here.

Tiger 9 Hosts Eagles At 4:15

The Tiger baseballers open their busy season today, hosting the defending state champion Abilene Eagles at Towle Memorial Park.

Game time is 4:15.

While it will be the first game for the Tigers, Abilene will be playing its fourth game. The Eagles swept a three-game series from Carter-Riverside of Fort Worth last weekend at Abilene.

A lefthander will face a righthander in todays game. Southpaw Ronnie Baker will start on the mound for the Tigers while Kenny Schmidt will toe the rubber for the Eagles.

Baker posted a 7-3 overall season record last year and 3-0 in District 3-AA play. Schmidt notched 11 wins against a single loss last year and 2-0 in district play.

Today's game will match the two teams that deadlocked for the 3-AA title last year. Each team posted 5-1 district records. The Tigers and Eagles split in their regular two-game series and the two teams defeated all other opposition to end in a tie.

Abilene then downed the Tigers in two straight games, 4-1 and 9-0 in a playoff series to determine which team would represent the district in the state playoffs.

Abilene rolled on to the state title after defeating the Tigers in the playoff series.

Heading the Eagle attack will be Glynn Gregory, an all-state tournament choice last year and the team's leading hitter in 1956. Gregory hit .422 over the season. Gregory was the third top hitter in 3-AA play, finishing behind the Tigers' Don McNew and Wichita Falls' Aaron Case.

McNew, who graduated last spring, led the 3-AA in batting with a .611 mark. Case hit an even .500 while Gregory finished with a .444 mark.

Milton Ham, first baseman, was the fourth leading hitter in 3-AA last year with .391 and he'll be in the starting Tiger lineup today.

Following are the probable starting lineups for today's game:

Tigers—Gary Vice, cf; Joe Reaves 2b; Tommy Prichard, ss; Mickey McGrew, rf; Milton Ham, 1b; Ronnie Baker, p; Tom Falls or Coleman John, 3b; Neil Boyd, lf; and Terry Lee or Billy Phillips, catcher.

Eagles — Hubert Jordan, c; Schmidt, p; Butch Adams, 1b; Larry Green, 2b; John Harrison, 3b; Robert Carothers, ss; Gregory, lf; Jerry McIver, cf; and Pat Armstrong, rf.

Both 1955 graduates of Snyder high school, Minton and Hagins played for two seasons at San Angelo JC. In high school, Minton had participated in track as well as in football, while Hagins added basketball and baseball — he earned all-district honors in the diamond sport — to his list.

Minton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Minton, and Hagins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hagins.

SWC Nines In Action Today

By The Associated Press

Four Southwest Conference baseball teams and the member-elect see action Tuesday.

Rice hosts Texas Tech at Houston, Baylor tries TCU at Fort Worth and Sam Houston plays Texas at Austin.

Rain washed out member-to-be Texas Tech's game with Texas A&M at College Station Monday. It was the third straight rain-out for the Aggie ball club.

Texas A&M tries again Wednesday against Texas Lutheran.

Sam Houston nipped Texas 8-7 in a loosely played, three-hour marathon at Austin Monday. Seven pitchers tried their luck, walked 21 men and hit three batsmen.

Hank Wainwright of Sam Houston got the only homer of the ball game. Ray McReynolds, second of four Sam Houston hurlers, got the victory.

The Baylor-TCU game at Fort Worth is an exhibition affair and won't count in the conference championship race.

Layne Signs 2-Year Pact

DALLAS (AP)—Quarterback Bobby Layne, declaring he was "100 per cent" physically effective, yesterday signed a two-year contract with the Detroit Lions.

Layne, former University of Texas star, was knocked out in the last game of the regular pro football season last fall by Ed Meadows, Chicago Bears' lineman. The Bears nosed out Detroit for the western division championship.

Layne predicted the Lions would take the title this year. "If they weren't going to win," he said, "I wouldn't even play."

Financial terms of the contract were not disclosed either by Layne or W. Nicholas Kerbawy, general manager of the Detroit team. It was believed to call for about $20,000 a year, however.

"We've never had any trouble getting together on a contract," Layne said. "And it took us only about five minutes . . ." to agree on terms.

Layne said he was a few pounds over his playing weight of 204.

McMurry Loses To Mexico Team, 69-59

POZA RICO, Mexico (AP)—McMurry College of Abilene, Tex., lost 69-59 to the Poza Riza Green Waves last night.

The score was tied four times—at 6, 8, 10 and 12 points.

The Green Wave changed to man-for-man defense and got the upper hand due to speed. McMurry threatened in the last three minutes, but time ran out.

The score was 29-26 for Poza Rica at the half.

TIGER FLY CHASERS—Pictured are two of the seven returning Tiger baseball regulars who'll be in the starting lineup today in the season opener against the Abilene Eagles. They are Neil Boyd, left, and Gary Vice who will start in left and centerfield respectively. Both Boyd and Vice were considered the top defensive outfieldrs in th district last year as sophomores. TAR HEELS NO. 1

Mustangs 4th In Final AP Poll

By DON WEISS
The Associated Press

The North Carolina Tar Heels, who specialized all season in winning the close ones, have turned up a romping winner in the final Associated Press college basketball poll.

Unbeaten in 24 regular season games prior to a three-game sweep through the Atlantic Coast Conference championship tournament, the Tar Heels climaxed a two-month regin yesterday by drawing first-place votes from 55 of the 76 participating sports writers and sportscasters. Kansas, the runner-up after leading part of the season, drew nine.

On the basis of 10 points for first place, 9 for second, etc., North Carolina received 725 points to 602 for the Jayhawks. Kentucky, Southern Methodist, Seattle, Louisville, West Virginia, Vanderbilt, Oklahoma City, and St. Louis rounded out the top 10 in that order.

The nation's only major unbeaten team as they prepare for their first-round game with Yale tonight in the NCAA competition at New York, the Tar Heels succeeded the San Francisco Dons, No. 1 in the AP final balloting in the last two seasons.

Of their 27 consecutive victories, the Tar Heels — brought back to the national spotlight by Coach Frank McGuire — won seven by five points or less.

The top 10, with first-place votes in parentheses:

Top College Teams To Play In Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—At least three and possibly four of the top 10 basketball teams of the nation will be in the NCAA regional tournament here Friday and Saturday.

Kansas, No. 2; Southern Methodist, No. 4, and St. Louis, No. 10, already are in the tournament with Kansas and SMU clashing in the second game Friday night.

Meeting in the first game will be St. Louis and the winner of tonight's playoff between Oklahoma City University and Loyola of New Orleans at Oklahoma City.

Oklahoma City is rated ninth while Loyola is not in the top 20.

A sellout crowd of 7,600 is assured for each night of the tournament. No tickets are available.

It will be the first time for the NCAA regional to be played in the Southwest and the first time for SMU to be able to compete on its own court.

The feature game, of course, is that which pits Kansas against Southern Methodist. It marks a duel between the nation's two top centers—7-foot Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain of Kansas, who made first All-America, and 6-foot-8 Jim Krebs of Southern Methodist, who made the second team.

Kentucky Team Takes Over Bowling Lead

FORT WORTH (AP)—Oertel's "92" Beer of Louisville, Ky., was in first place today in the open team division of the American Bowling Congress Tournament with a 3-game total of 2,878.

Oertel's last night ousted Metropolitan Clothes of Dayton, Ohio, which dropped into second place with 2,837. Metropolitan had taken the open division lead Sunday night.

The Amarillo Lions of Amarillo, Tex., took first place in the 32-team booster division last night, winning a $100 squad prize for their score of 2,559. The booster division is reserved for low average teams.

Ernest Druebert of Seguin, Tex., shot the best series in his 17 years of bowling to move into second in the singles standings with a 649.

Tar Heels Face Yale In Opener

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
The Associated Press

"You know you can win too much too."

That's Frank McGuire's cautious attitude as his unbeaten Tar Heels head into competition against the nation's toughest college teams in the 19th National Collegiate Basketball Tournament.

North Carolina faces Yale tonight in a first-round triple-header at Madison Square Garden. Connecticut, Yankee Conference champion, encounters Syracuse, and West Virginia, Southern Conference winner, plays Canisius.

The first round opened last night at Pocatello, Idaho, where Idaho State defeated Hardin-Simmons 68-57.

Tonight at Columbus, Ohio, Morehead (Ky.) of the Ohio Valley Conference plays pittsburgh and Miami (Ohio), the Mid-American Conference champion, meets Notre Dame. Oklahoma City University, an at-large entry, entertains Loyola (La.).

The first-round winners advance to join nine other teams in four regional tournaments at Philadelphia, Lexington, Ky., Dallas and Corvallis, Ore., Friday and Saturday. The four survivors will clash in the last two rounds at Kansas City March 22-23.

North Carolina, winner of 27 straight games and the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament, has been voted the nation's No. 1 team in the Associated Press poll. The Tar Heels must be rated as at least one of the top favorites to win the title, which went to San Francisco the past two years.

But McGuire tempered optimism with caution.

"We were very very lucky to win a number of games that could have gone either way," he said. "There's more pressure the more you win and its much harder to keep a team up."

If North Carolina gets past Yale, the chances are it will meet West Virginia in a game matching two All America performers — Carolina's Lennie Rosenbluth and West Virginia's Hot Rod Hundley.

The Syracuse-Connecticut winner will face lafayette, Middle Atlantic Conference winner, at Philadelphia.

Winners of the Morehead-Pitt and Miami-Notre Dame games will meet Kentucky and Michigan State, respectively, at Lexington.

The Oklahoma City-Loyola winner plays St. Louis, champion of the Missouri Valley Conference, and Idaho State meets defending champion San Francisco. Other second-round pairings are Kansas vs. Southern Methodist at Dallas and Brigham Young vs. California at Corvallis.

H-SU Bows To Idaho State

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP)—Idaho State looked forward today to the western regional NCAA basketball playoffs following its 68-57 victory over Hardin-Simmons last night.

Forward Gail Siemen, out the previous two weeks for a leg operation, dumped in 21 points and garnered 21 rebounds to spark the Bengals to the victory. Scoring honors, however, went to teammate Jerry Hicks, who had 23.

Idaho State meets San Francisco in the regional meet at Corvallis, Ore., Friday night.

Hardin-Simmons, second place team in the Border Conference, and a replacement for eligibility—crippled Texas Western, led most of the first half.

The Bengals had tp push hard to gain a 32-30 lead at the intermission.

Windy, Wet Weather Hits Mid-Continent

By The Associated Press

Windy, wet weather which swept across most of the mid-continent appeared headed into the eastern third of the nation today.

The blustery March storms moved eastward over the plains and hit the upper Mississippi Valley, the Great Lakes and the Ohio Valley. Rain pelted areas during the night from the eastern Great Lakes south and southwestward through the Ohio Valley and lower Mississippi Valley.

More than an inch of rain fell in six hours in Memphis and nearly an inch at Alexandria, La. Lesser amounts were reported in the broad wet belt from Louisiana to Lower Michigan.

Scattered showers and thundershowers were in prospect from New England to Florida and the middle east Gulf Coast region.

Hail, rain and strong winds struck central and south Texas yesterday, causing considerable damage to small grain crops.

The winds raised high-flying dust clouds from western Texas to the Northern Plains.

GREAT PLAINS PROGRAM EXPLAINED

Conservationist Speaks Here

Preliminary provisions of the Great Plains Conservation Program, which will begin July 1, were discussed this morning by Cy Richmond of San Angelo, an area conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service, at a meeting held in Snyder.

Richmond spoke to the Agriculture Workers Council of Scurry, Mitchell, Nolan, and Fisher Counties at its monthly breakfast meeting.

The conservation program is a part of the total Great Plains program, which covers many things in a 10-state area on the Great Palins, including some 95 counties in Texas.

The Great Plains Conservation Program has a number of provisions. It will promote proper land and wateruse in a stepped-up, long-term assistance program. It is an approach to enduring conservation based on land capabilities. It is voluntary and provides a step-by-step process for applying needed conservation practices on the farm or ranch. Farmers will sign agreements for definite periods of time for participation in the program, and there will be government cost-sharing on conservation practices. The program is carried out by the individual with the assistance of governmental agencies.

The conservation program is not a disaster or drought relief program. It is not annual, nor is it a single-practice program. It does not replace any other program and does not affect allotments, price support, regular agricultural conservation programs. It is not an income supplement program, Richmond said.

There will be no limit to the amount of funds which can be expended on an individual farm. The total program will be limited to $25 million annually, and when that is expended no more agreements will be signed.

The Soil Conservation Service is the agency responsibile for administration of the Great Plains Conservation Program, but other agencies will work with the SCS.

The Great Plains area has about 40 per cent of the country's cropland, and an estimated 10 million acres of this land, it has been estimated, would be better suited to turn back to grass. The area produces 60 per cent of the nation's wheat and 40 per cent of its cattle.

The next Agriculture Workers Council meeting will be held at Sweetwater next month. Loyan Walker, head of the agriculture department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will discuss the Bracero housing law at that meeting.

Police Question San Antonio Instructor

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Police questioned a school teacher, 50, yesterday after sharp pronged staples capable of puncturing car tires were found scattered around a drive in theater here.

Police said she and a downtown movie projectionist would be charged with a misdemeanor. Both were arrested Sunday after the staples were found.

A shooting and similar incidents recently occurred at the drive in, where the projectionists are non-union.

Water Flows Into Lower Rio Grande

McALLEN (AP) — Water flowed into the almost dry lower Rio Grande today after releases were started again at Falcon Dam.

Releases of 300 cubic feet per second started flowing down the river Sunday, bringing new water to farmers and cities for the first time in three weeks.

Releases had been cut during that time after rains in the Valley. Almost 70,000 acre feet of water was saved during the period.

Three hydrographic engineers from the International Boundary and Water Commission, Karl Keeler of Laredo, and Joe Friedkin and Bill Walker of El Paso were in the Valley yesterday to inspect the river and talk with Mexican officials.

The gates of Mexico's Anzalduas Canal were closed yesterday, allowing 130 cubic feet of water per second to flow into the lower river.

The IB&W engineers came to the Valley after special water master Kenneth Smith of McAllen complained about shortages of water in the lower river.

Smith asked for controls to keep diverters from either the United States or Mexico from pumping when there was no water in the river allocated to them.

He also asked for a daily accounting of water between Mexico and the United States at points on the lower Rio Grande.

Strike Among Boat Crewmen Continuing

HOUSTON (AP)—A strike by the boat crewmen in seven Texas ports went into its second week today with no immediate sign of settlement.

Negotiations between the Seafarers International Union of North America and the G&H Towing Co. were recessed for the third time in a week last night when the union rejected the company's latest wage proposals.

The strike affects 26 company-controlled tugboats in Texas ports between Houston and Corpus Christi. An estimated 90 per cent of shipping through the ports is affected by the strike, but some vessels are being moved without the use of tugs.

Siamese Twins Okay

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Siamese twins born Sunday to Mrs. Dorothy Powell of Gardena, Calif. are progressing satisfactorily at Children's Hospital. Doctors are trying to determine if the twin boys can be separated. They are joined at the head. Their 18-year-old mother, wife of a sheet metal worker, is doing well.

Water Users Meeting Set

ELSA (AP)—All water users in the Lower Rio Grande Valley have been invited to a meeting in Baysteps will be taken to solve the water problems of the area.

A. L. Cramer, vice chairman of the Lower Rio Grande Legislative Committee, said it has been reported that upper Valley legislators will oppose four pending bills that would provide for obtaining a judge to try the complex Valley water suit and other authority for expediting the litigation.

"It is felt that these bills have no chance unless the water users of the Valley combine to throw their whole weight behind the efforts" to get them passed," he said.

Steps also will be discussed toward "defeating other legislation that is not in the interest of Valley users," Cramer said.

Opposition Group Will Be Organized

WESLACO (AP)—Opposition to a federal amendment on cotton allotments will be organized today, a Chamber of Commerce official said yesterday.

Jack Drake, executive vice president of the Valley Chamber of Commerce, said the proposed amendment to the Agricultural Adjustment Act would take some 32,470 acres of cotton allotments from Valley farmers in 1958.

"The Valley economy cannot stand to have its cotton acreage cut," Drake said.

He said the amendment was introduced in the House by Rep. Poage (D-Tex). It would favor Central and East Texas and would curtail cotton allotments in the Valley and West Texas, Drake said.

He said cotton allotments would be based on production records for the past three years under the amendment rather than on the present five year schedule.

Drake said the amendment would apply only to Texas because it contains a clause limiting it to states with cotton allotment of five million acres or more.

Painter's Mad About Apé's Art

By JAMES D. WHITE

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Art circles here are a bit tense today over Betsy, the Baltimore Zoo's finger-painting chimpanzee.

The question is whether the apparently talented 7-year-old ape should be invited to display her abstractions at the next annual sidewalk art show scheduled to begin outside the University of California's Sather Gate June 28.

The idea was broached yesterday by Nora Hampton, director of the show, who had read that Betsy's paintings have been selling for $25 to $50 a canvas.

Mark Mohler, president of the Sather Gates Merchants Assn. which sponsors the show, found nothing in the bylaws which said exhibitors have to be human, so he drafted a telegram extending the hospitality of Sather Gate sidewalks to Betsy's art.

At this point, Charles Modecke, one of the most prominent abstractionists in the Bay area, said he wouldn't exhibit if Betsy did. He said no chimpanzee was going to make a monkey out of him.

Modecke, represented in local galleries with paintings entitled "Reflection of the Unconscious" and "The Sought-after Reality" (critics figured the latter summed up the world situation at the time) complained:

"We painters in the nonobjective medium get so little public support as it is. People are always saying how their children could do better.

"But chimpanzees?"

Mohler held up his invitation to Betsy until the exhibition artists decide the matter at a meeting Thursday night.

GIRL SCOUT MILESTONE—Today marks the forty-fifth anniversary of the Girl Scouts of the United States of America. In two generations, this youth organization has influenced the lives of some 12 and one-half million American girls and women. Men, too, have a stake in Girl Scouting. Many are among the advisors who have helped make it one of the most important youth organizations in the country. Mark A. Vaughn, a Snyder policeman, is shown giving a safety address to a troop of Brownies, while the leader, Mrs. Bill Brown, looks on in the background. The girls are: Cheryl Brown, Connie Morton, Jane Boren, Connie Zimmerman, Lesa Bowden, Judy Mixon, Barbara Schiebel, Janice Mixon, Dona Howerton, Joellen Snyder, Millijon Smyth, Mary Ann Hand, Anita Holt, Karen Dolen, and Fredricka Josephson. He's Poodle With Boodle

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — A blue chip French poodle named Brandy who dabbles in the stock market has been made the pawn in a divorce case.

His mistress, Mrs. June Garrett Modglin, won his custody from N. Kent Modglin, Culver City, Calif., garbage disposal manufacturer.

The poodle with the boodle has an account in a Beverly Hills brokerage house, Mrs. Modglin told Superior Judge Edward R. Brand. She said Brandy receives cards from family friends on all holidays "and each one contains money." She said the dog had made $1,500 on recent investments.

She won custody of Brandy and also gets $4,500 cash under a property settlement.

Farm Group Plans Local Projects

Work on several projects for the immediate future were discussed yesterday in a meeting by the agriculture committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

The committee will within the next few weeks sponsor a farmer-businessman supper for the Fluvanna-Union area at Fluvanna. The supper, like one held at Hermleigh last year, will include a meal and entertainment, with businessmen playing hosts to farmers of the area at the event.

Kenneth Goforth, chairman of the agriculture committee, appointed Bill Jordan as chairman of arrangements for the supper.

The committee discussed possibilities of organization of a county fair association here and decided to work toward the calling of a meeting within the next few weeks of residents of the county to determine whether there is sufficient interest before such an association is organized.

A fair committee will be organized to call the meeting. A set of proposed by-laws for a fair association have already been drawn up by the agriculture committee.

The committee has pledged its support here to a watershed program on the Deep Creek watershed, provided it is definitely determined such a program is necessary. The board of supervisors of the Upper Colorado Soil Conservation District is now investigating possibilities of such a program on the creek under provisions of a revised public watershed program of the federal government. The program would provide both for conservation and flood control.

The panel discussed promotion of insect control in this area and will help promote it if and when needed here. A committee composed of Bentley Baize, Oscar Fowler, and Mal Andress was appointed to work on insect control promotion recommendations for the committee.

Ennis Pioneer Dies At 100

ENNIS (AP)—Robert Louis Sparkman, who drove his father's covered wagon to Texas as a boy of 12, died yesterday at the age of 100.

Sparkman often related how during his youth he watched cowboys shoot it out in front of saloons. He said he never smoked or drank himself and stayed out of gunfights.

His father, a Confederate veteran, was ill, so Sparkman said he drove the family's covered wagon from Cookesville, Miss., to Texas. The 600-mile trip took six weeks and three days.

The family settled in Heelstring, now called Bristol.

Sparkman said the town got its earlier name because "all they did for entertainment there was square dance and they used to dance until their heelstrings (tendons) were sore."

Borden Team To Enter Contests

GAIL (Spl.) — The livestock judging team of the Future Farmers of America chapter at Borden County Rural High School is preparing for three more contests before the end of the school year.

The team during the weekend took fifth in a contest of cattle judging held at the San Angelo Fat Stock Show and Rodeo. There were 64 teams entered in cattle and sheep judging at the show.

Norman Ledbetter, one of the Gail team members, was thrid high individual in the overall contest, with 522 points, compared to 529 scored by the highest individual, Tommy Love of Sutton.

Others on the team with Ledbetter are Jerry Reddell, Bobby Stewart, and Jerry Staggs. Bobby Gray, agriculture teacher here, is the team coach.

The next competition to be intered by the team will be that on the campus of Abilene Christian College March 26. That contest will have cattle, sheep, and hogs.

Following that, the team will participate in the San Angelo Junior College contest March 30, and all three animals will be judged there.

At the end of April, the area contest will be held on the Texas Tech campus in Lubbock, and high teams from that contest will enter state competition at Texas A&M College in May.

Water Plan Is Prepared

HOUSTON (AP)—An application will be submitted to the State Board of Water Engineers this week by the City of Houston for three new sources of water on the Trinity and San Jacinto rivers.

Lee McLemore, chairman of a special City Council water planning committee, said approval of the applications will open the way for a billion gallon a day water supply for Houston.

He said it would give the city a supply capable of meeting residential, industrial and irrigation needs through the year 2,000 A.D.

By then, he said, Houston may easily have 2,500,000 residents.

McLemore said Houston would apply for water from two points on the Trinity, in the Sheperd area and about 40 miles to the southeast, near Wallisville. The San Jacinto point would be north of Humble.

Man Electrocuted

FREEPORT (AP)—Fred Lee Carr, 53, of Houston was electrocuted yesterday when he was struck by a 440 volt charge while wiring a control box at the Ethyl-Dow plant here.

Stevenson To Call For New Directors

DALLAS (AP)—Former Gov. Coke Stevenson said he would propose a new slate of directors at the stockholders meeting of the Physicians Life and Accident Insurance Co. here today.

Dist. Judge Dallas Blankenship refused yesterday to issue an injunction that would have halted any stock transfers.

The two court actions sought to enjoin Stevenson and other executives from transferring their Stock.

An opposition attorney, Pickney Grissom, called it "a fight for control of the firm." He told Blankenship the court actions "anticipate the doing of a wrong before it has actually been committed."

Rear Admiral Richard Byrd, Noted Explorer, Dies In Sleep

BOSTON (AP) — Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd, 68, noted explorer who headed two arctic and five antarctic expeditions, died in his sleep at his home last night.

His doctors said he died of a heart ailment brought on by overwork.

He was the over-all head of Navy's huge Operation Deep Freeze in Antarctica in this International Geophysical Year, but his failing heart kept him from assuming on-the-spot supervision.

His wife and four children were at his bedside when he passed away at 6:20 p.m. at his home at the foot of Beacon Hill.

Byrd was the first man to fly over both the North and South poles and held numerous decorations, including the Medal of Honor, for his explorations.

He is credited with charting some two million square miles of the earth's surface previously unseen by man. No one has ever equaled that feat. He laid the basis for possible American claims to a third of Antarctica.

Once Byrd estimated his nose had been nipped by frost some 200 times. His face bore many tiny freezing marks.

After his graduation from the Naval Academy in 1912, a leg injury forced him into early retirement, but he came back to serve in World Wars I and II, pioneer in naval aviation and command the first multiengine plane to fly the Atlantic continent to continent nonstop.

He was commissioned a rear admiral at the age of 41, youngest of that rank at the time.

His last trip to the South Pole was in late 1955 and early 1956. On a 1947 expedition to Antarctica, Byrd found that food left 10 years earlier in his Little America camp was perfectly preserved.

This led him to suggest that the antarctic could serve as a vast natural refrigerator to store crops in bumper years.

"The world would never have another famine," he said at the time. "Surplus food could be stored away in the polar ice as insurance against lean production years."

A check doesn't have to be dated to be legal. It can also be dated February 30 and still be good.

How come the new Ford rides so smooth and solid?

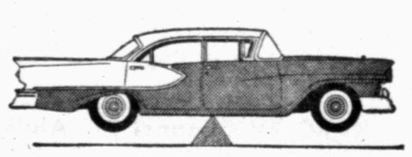

It's the new inner Ford that gives you a big-car ride at low Ford prices

• Folks just naturally love Ford's longer, lower silhouette. And they love Ford's new, more powerful Thunderbird V-8's and Mileage Maker Six. But the thing that's really got 'em buzzing is Ford's new kind of ride. In the new kind of Ford these vital riding features team up to give you the smoothest going in the whole ride world. They're demonstrated elsewhere on this page.

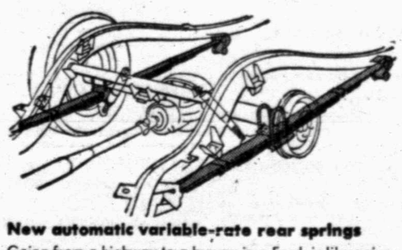

More weight and length

Head for the roughest road in the new kind of Ford. Notice how the biggest bumps lose their "thump"! One reason is that this biggest, longest, heaviest Ford has the extra "beef" to give a smooth, road-hugging ride.

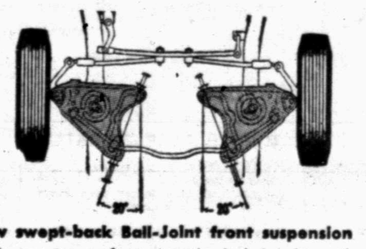

Better balance

One of Ford's nicest back-road habits is to make believe the rough spots aren't there. Proper weight distribution and precise balancing let Ford iron out bumps far better than many of the higher-priced cars.

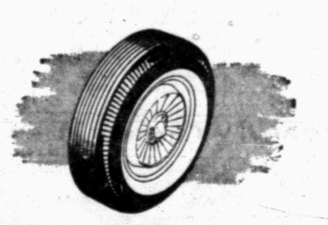

New automatic variable-rate rear springs

Going from a highway to a byway in a Ford, is like going from satin to silk. New design allows Ford's rear springs to "soften" or "stiffen" depending on road conditions. You get a smooth ride all the way!

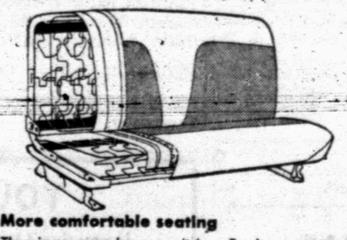

New swept-back Ball-Joint front suspension

Ford's new, stronger front suspension is designed to soak up the shock of rough roads. The new swept-back design lets wheels "roll" with the bump and absorb it going away . . . for far smoother, steadier sailing.

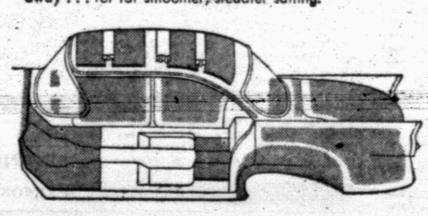

New lower-pressure tires

Even Ford's tires are new for a better ride! Although they require less air pressure, they hold about 17% more air for cushioning the car. This means a softer ride—without sacrifice of Ford's good handling characteristics.

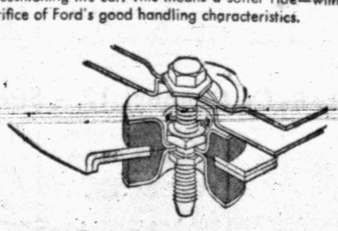

More comfortable seating

There's no sag when you sit in a Ford . . . even on long trips. Comfort-contoured seats, rigidly anchored, have advanced springing for greater comfort and longer life.

More body insulation

Ford has more body insulation—protection against weather, dust, and noise—than any car in the low-price field. You ride through city traffic in library-like quiet.

No metal-to-metal chassis and body contact

Only Ford in its field uses 20 Cushion Quiet rubber body mounts . . . more than any other low-priced car. It all adds up to a smoother, quieter riding car.

Try the new kind of ride in the new kind of FORD
