Phone rates hiked to end threat to city's growth

State study of WR loan request to begin Friday

The Texas Water Development Board at its meeting in Austin tomorrow is scheduled to begin consideration of the White River Municipal Water District's request for a $1,000,000 loan from the state's new water project loan fund.

Application for the loan was mailed from here over the weekend by Tom Boughier, president of the White River district board, following the August meeting of the White River directors in the city hall here last Thursday night.

THE DISTRICT has an application for a $3,000,000 federal loan now in Washington awaiting final approval by the FHHA.

Marvin Shubert of Petersburg, a member of the Texas Water Development Board, attended the directors' session Thursday night and promised "to give you action on this application as fast as possible."

Shubert was hopeful that the White River district's state loan application would be the first one made in Texas under the new Texas water loan program, but he said one or two other applications might beat the White River loan request into the Austin office.

WHITE RIVER directors heard L. A. Wicks Sr., of Ralls, the board's attorney, go over the state application and then unanimously by resolution voted to seek $1,000,000 from the new state fund.

Directors also voted to authorize Boucher to make application to the state water resources board to transfer the city of Crosbyton's water permit for White River water to the White River Municipal Water District "with the consent and co-operation of the city of Crosbyton."

Ransom Galloway and James Vinyard, representing the fiscal agents of the water district, carefully went over the first draft of an 11-page water contract which the district must enter into with the cities of Spur, Crosbyton, Ralls and Post.

ATTORNEYS HAVE been working for some time on the contract as it must meet many specific requirements for bond holders.

The contract will cover the purchase of water by the four cities to meet their needs for the next 40 years.

The White River directors will hold their September meeting at Spur Sept. 18.

New switchboard seen by Oct. 30

Now that phone rates have been boosted here, General Telephone has announced plans to add one new position to the Post exchange switchboard and install 100 additional phone lines into the board.

J. L. (Dusty) Kemper, district manager for the phone utility firm, told The Dispatch yesterday that the work order for the new switchboard addition already has been made and approved.

Completion date for the switchboard installation has been tentatively set for Oct. 30, Kemper said.

Orders for some 63 new telephones for business firms and residences, including nine rural phones, are on file at the Post phone office, Kemper revealed.

The phone utility manager explained that all of these new connections can't be placed in operation until the new switchboard position with 100 additional lines is installed.

Regulations are voted Post's phone rates were boosted Monday night by a reluctant city council to prevent General Telephone's refusal to install new phones from hurting community growth.

The new rates will not go into effect until the first billing date after the company completes installing all phone requests on file at the phone office here.

The council before boosting the rates by ordinance passed two other ordinances which would give the council powers to regulate all utility service in the community and provide for a maximum fine of up to $100 per day for failure to provide reasonable service or make utility installations when requested.

THE NEW phone rates would increase business one-party from $7.75 monthly to $9 business two-party from $6.25 to $7.25; residential one-party from $4.50 to $5; residential two-party from $3.75 to $4; business extensions would remain unchanged at $1.50 monthly while residential extension charges would be increased from 75 cents to $1 per month.

The new rates are considerably below those offered by the city council in 1954 shortly after the four-year-old rate case began.

FOUR YEARS ago, the 1954 council members offered General Telephone $9.50 and $8 for business phones and $5 and $4.25 for residential phones.

In three of the four categories, the rates then offered were considerably above what the phone company finally settled for four years later.

Council members estimated that General Telephone has lost anywhere from $40,000 to $60,000 in Post exchange revenue in the last four years for refusing to accept the city's 1954 rate offer.

General Telephone officials did not attend the special meeting Monday night at which the rate matter was finally settled to give the phone company its first local rate boost since 1951.

THEY WERE specifically asked not to attend.

School at Graham is discontinued

The Graham grade school will not be opened for the fall term and the 27 eligible students in the Graham Community will be enrolled in the Post grade school.

This decision was made by the Post Independent School District trustees by an unanimous vote at a special board meeting Tuesday night.

The action was taken because board members felt operation of the Graham school as a two-teacher school with only 18 to 22 students is not financially feasible.

SUPT. R. T. Smith told the board that the school district would save from $11,000 to possibly $13,000 by bringing the Graham students to the Post schools.

He told the board that a survey conducted among the 27 eligible students of the Graham district showed that 5 of the students planned to enroll in the Post schools anyway, that 18 planned to attend the Graham school. Four did not answer the survey so their intentions were not known.

This left the Graham school with 18 to 22 students for the fall term.

SMITH AND Quannah Maxey, school trustee from the Graham community, reported to the board that they had visited this week with most of the parents of children of grade school age in the Graham community concerning the problem.

The two said the parents generally told them Monday that they hated to lose the school, but if they were going to lose it next year because of declining enrollment they might as well lose it this year. They reported only one family was desirous of continuing the school.

All VFW members and those eligible for membership are invited to attend the supper, according to Morris Huff, post commander.

Peel is re-elected as county commissioner

E. E. (Elva) Peel was re-elected Precinct 2 county commissioner Saturday over R. A. (Roy) Ethridge by a margin of six votes, the same margin by which he edged Ethridge in the first primary election.

In the only other race on the runoff election ballot, Garza County voters went for Robert W. Hamilton over J. Edwin Smith for State Supreme Court Place 1. Hamilton received 280 votes in Garza County to 69 for Smith.

Only a few more than 350 votes were cast in the runoff election. Only the voters living in voting precincts 6 (Graham Chapel) and 8 (South Post) were eligible to vote in the race for commissioner.

Peel received 148 votes to Ethridge's 142. In the first primary election, Peel polled 126 votes and Ethridge 129 to enter the runoff from among a field of five candidates.

In the two candidates' home precinct of Graham Chapel, Ethridge received 55 votes to Peel's 32, but the incumbent received 99 in the South Post precinct to his opponent's 77 and led in the absentee (ELECTION — See Page 8)

Office manager tells of new provisions

Soil Bank changes reviewed

Garza County farmers have until Sept. 26 to file a request with the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee for a maximum rate for their farm under the 1959 conservation reserve phase of the Soil Bank program.

The filing date and other information were given by Emmarhe L. Hartel, county ASC office manager, at a meeting in the district courtroom Friday night at which changes in the 1959 conservation reserve program were reviewed.

After the maximum farm rate is determined, Mrs. Hartel said, farmers have until Oct. 17 to apply for a conservation reserve contract.

She said that under present legislation there will be no acreage reserve program in 1959.

The average rate in Garza County has been set at $12 an acre, with bonus provisions for farms in which all available land is put into the conservation reserve.

The county ASC committee will set up individual payments for each farm after applications are received. The payment rates will be based on a fertility rating of the land which is to go into the program, meaning, said Mrs. Hartel, that all irrigated land will be given a rate based on the fertility rating if the

This would definitely be progress

In the Nov. 4 general election, the voters of Texas will have an opportunity to provide for a legislative system adequate to meet the needs of a prosperous, fast-growing state. Constitutional Amendment No. 1 provides for Adequate Annual Salaries and Annual Sessions for the Texas Legislature.

At the present our Legislature meets once every two years for a general session of 120 days. At the end of that time the pay for our legislators stops. But there has been only one occasion in the last 25 years in which the State Legislature was able to complete all of its business and adjourn within such 120-day period. And since 1931 there have been 14 Regular Sessions of the Texas Legislature, but during that same period of time it has been necessary that the Legislature meet in 18 Special Sessions. From 1947 to 1956, the Legislature averaged spending an additional 45 days in session each biennium. And only last year the Legislature was required to meet for two Special Sessions in addition to the one Regular Session.

From the above, it is rather obvious that our present legislative provisions for one session every two years, for 120 days, is not sufficient. Our present procedures are outdated and certainly Constitutional Amendment No. 1 provides the legislative reformation necessary to bring up to date our legislative program.

During each of the last two Regular Sessions of the Texas Legislature there were introduced over 1,400 bills, plus hundreds of resolutions. In addition, it is necessary for the Legislature to appropriate over one billion dollars each year for the operations of our state government. Certainly no Legislature should be required to act upon such a mass of legislation every time it meets. Of course, it is next to impossible to intelligently consider all of the many matters that must come before the Legislature during such a short period of time. Constitutional Amendment No. 1 will reduce the budget work substantially by allowing appropriations on a yearly basis, rather than up to 30 months in advance, as under our present system.

And while our proud state is behind in legislative reforms, it is even farther behind in providing an adequate salary for members of the Texas Legislature. At the present time, our Legislature meets once every two years in regular session, for which its members receive a per diem wage of $25 for the first 120 days in the session. Thereafter, no payment is provided. During a ten-year period ending in 1956, the Legislature averaged spending an additional 45 days in session each biennium. Of course, that time was devoted to the business of the state, but no compensation was paid for those additional days. In addition, it is necessary that every legislator spend considerable time when the Legislature is not in session, devoting his time to problems of the state and of the constituents whom he represents.

The nine most populous states, exclusive of Texas, pay an annual salary averaging $5,000 per year. In addition, most of these states pay an expense allowance in excess of $1,000 per year, plus providing traveling expense for the legislators from their homes to the capitol and back each week. In Texas, our legislators receive an average of $1,500 per year in salary, plus a small expense allowance during legislative sessions, and a travel allowance for only ONE trip during the entire legislative session.

Some may say the cost of such a change is too high, and that we can't afford it. At the present the Texas Legislature appropriates over one billion dollars per year of state tax money and yet allocates only 16/100th of 1 per cent to the operation of the Legislative Branch of Government. It is estimated that the actual expense under the provisions of Constitutional Amendment No. 1 will cost only an additional 9/100th of 1 per cent of our national budget. If we, as Texans, can't afford the cost of good legislators to appropriate our tax money, what can we afford? If we do not use our best efforts to improve our legislative system, surely we have no right to criticize its mistakes and failures!

We believe the advantages to be derived from Constitutional Amendment No. 1 are more than sufficient to gain your support.—CD

School year brings traffic problem

With the fall term of school sending hundreds of youngsters back to schools Tuesday, the problem of traffic safety in and around Post's centralized schools again returns.

A group of 20 local business firms, including many of the filling stations who daily serve local motorists, in today's Dispatch call attention to the need for a greater safety consciousness again.

With so many youngsters congregated in the school area, the danger is great, especially at the start of the school year when driving habits and the youngsters' be-careful-for-cars habits are still lax from the long summer.

To promote greater safety in the school and downtown area, several projects either are planned or should be considered.

One being initiated by the schools this fall will be for parents to be asked to give written permission for their boys and girls to go "downtown" during the lunch hour. This of course is a traffic hazard which school authorities hope to bring under better control if so authorized to do so by parents.

Parents can start thinking that one over.

A second project, one that parents themselves need to initiate, is delivering their youngsters to school "on the school side of the street" and picking them up after school or at noons "on the school side of the street."

With the street in front of the schools being a well used highway to add to the danger, the too common practice of driving up on the wrong side of the street to save the driver a little waiting in line time is a practice which needs to be discontinued.

To save that "little time," parents are putting their youngsters in danger. It's the kind of a trade which we don't think parents really want to make if they stop for just a moment to think the proposition over.

The third safety improvement which needs to be taken around the schools is the effective curbing of the dangerous "exuberance" of student drivers who bring their cars to school. The school administration could effectively end this problem next week before it can get started.

The last important element to a good traffic safety program around the schools is strict enforcement of traffic regulations in the school area. Whether they be students or parents, some stiff fines are a good way to make all kinds of drivers pay attention to traffic regulations and traffic safety.

Traffic safety around schools can be a positive program for improvement. And, with public cooperation, that is exactly what it should be for the new school year.—JC

They're stealing even the keys

Owners of Post business firms hardest hit by burglars the last two years have something new to worry about following the most recent in a long series of break-ins. Keys were stolen from most of the places burglarized. In most instances, they were keys to cold drink vending machines, but at one place, keys to various doors in the building were taken.

One thing about our break-ins. The burglars seem to come up with a new gimmick in nearly every outbreak. For awhile, it was rooftop burglars, then burglars who seemed to delight in smashing up coin machines to get at their contents, and now it's burglars who look for keys to carry away. That means they might be figuring on coming back. That's why we say business firm owners have something new about which to worry.

We've heard the prediction made that one of these nights the burglars are going to be given something to worry about—if they're around to worry after it's all over. Some business owners whose places have been broken into anywhere from a couple to a half-dozen times aren't going to keep putting up with it. One of these nights they're liable to carry a burglar off feet first, and when that time comes we predict there'll be a sharp decline, for a while at least, in the number of break-ins here.—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

Look, girls, an idea! Made up you're mind where you're going to school? We have something here. There are a lot more boys enrolled at Sul Ross State College than there are girls—almost three to one. And are they fine looking! That is, ugly, you know, like girls seem to like. Send for a catalogue. Don't overlook that bet. Let the other gals have their universities. Go where the boys run in droves and crave nice looking girls to look at and admire. The actual count last term was 821 boys, 326 girls!—Views and Comment in The Floyd County Hesperian.

While there has been no great pressure from our advertisers to convert The Enterprise into a daily newspaper, occasionally one of them will inquire just when we might make a move. Well, The Enterprise is just like any other Pecos business institution in that it must make money for its owners before it can survive and, looking a little into the future, its owners must be reasonably sure that a daily newspaper will be able to survive economically before they step up the frequency of publication.—"It Seems to Me" in The Pecos Enterprise.

It's evident that the world's trouble-shooters haven't spent enough time at target practice.—"Drifting Sands" in The Andrews County News.

We haven't had a chance publicly to express ourselves about the youth program in Slaton during the summer, but let us say here that our hat's off to all the men and women who worked so faithfully with the ball clubs and with the girls' program this summer. It is one of the finest ways of combatting juvenile delinquency that I know anything about. The thing that was so good about it was that many of the ones working the hardest were people who had no children included in the program. It's a healthy situation when adults can get out and play and work with the youth.—"Ad Libs" in The Slaton Slatonite.

THURSDAY THURSDAY to

By CHARLES DIDWAY

THINGS WERE humming at the high school building the first three days of the week with registration under way for the new school term. But as busy as it seemed, it'll be nothing to the hustle and bustle of next week after the new term once gets under way on Tuesday.

Monday will be one Labor Day holiday that the students will get to observe, even if most of the rest of us in these parts don't. All Labor Day means to the majority of the working people in West Texas is just another day of labor.

ALONG ABOUT this time last year, everyone was in the big middle of preparations for the Golden Jubilee celebration, and the annual Garza County Fair was almost lost sight of — although it was held two days during the Jubilee and turned out a success. This year's fair will be all to itself — Sept. 26 and 27 — and members of the Post Lions Club, sponsoring organization, are making plans for a big one.

Look for the Post Antelope band to make a bigger splash this year. Director Bob Meisch lost several band standbys through graduation, but brought a number of youngsters along fast last year to take their places. Bob and his bandmen are already under way with rehearsals, and we predict they'll put on a good halftime show at the football opener with Ralls on Sept. 5.

EVER SO OFTEN someone asks where we get those little fillers — those gems of wisdom — with which we plug holes at the bottoms of columns in The Dispatch. Most of them arrive by mail from various sources, others we gather ourselves from here and there. A 11 newspaper, from the smallest country weekly to the largest metropolitan daily use them, although we once had an old-time printer tell us that a man who makes up the pages isn't worth a hoot if he can't make them up without using fillers. But we've never seen a make-up man who didn't have to occasionally find a filler to finish out a column of type. It's faster than spacing out the column and looks better.

We got started on the subject of fillers after running across this one: "The woodpecker pecks because it is constantly digging in wood to find grubs, or to make holes in which to sleep and nest." Now how many of our readers could have told why a woodpecker pecks so satisfactorily and in as few as words as does that little four-line filler?

IF A PERSON had time to read all the fillers in all the papers he could find and could remember them, he probably could win a potful of money on most any quiz show.

A Boston preacher has listed ten "sins against citizenship" which the good gentleman points out are far too prevalent in this day and time. None of these are "sins" in the strictly moral sense, but constitute serious defects in behavior. Here is his list:

1. Indifference. "I'm not interested in politics."
2. Laziness. "I'm too busy."
3. Cowardice. "I don't want my character assailed."
4. Greed. "I'm O. K. as things are."
5. Prejudice. "I'll vote for him because he's one of our kind."
6. False pride. "I'm not going to get mixed up in dirty politics."
7. Cynicism. "My vote won't make any difference."
8. Hapless. "Pressure groups run the show."
9. Ineligibility. "I didn't register." (Or "I didn't pay my poll tax.")
10. Why bother? "Politicians are all alike."

We read a piece in a magazine, published in Detroit, that says the auto has been a big moral force in this country. Outside of cutting down on the hanging of horse thieves, we can't actually think what they were talking about.

It isn't too long until Oil Progress Week — Oct. 12 - 18. The overall theme selected by the petroleum industry for this year's observance is: "Today — Oil Builds for Your Tomorrow." The theme will present the picture of what 1965 will look like when it arrives, and what oil men must do to prepare for it.

HAVE YOU ever noticed that some people never realize what a fine place they live in — until they go away from home and try life in another place?

Parting Thought: Advertising is not bragging. It is merely a device to show buyers where they can get more for their money.

The hundred-odd companies owning and operating an estimated 194,100 miles of crude oil and products pipe lines transport over one-sixth of the nation's freight-ton miles.

Petroleum chemicals, the wonder-children of the oil industry, will need $850 million to "grow" on this year. This amount represents the money needed for petrochemical expansion.

MY ELECTRIC HOME FREEZER
MAKES MEAL PLANNING SO

SAYS
Mrs. H. S. Hackfield,
2132 56th STREET,
LUBBOCK, TEXAS

"An electric home freezer is the perfect answer to meal planning, especially for working wives," says Mrs. Hackfield. She continues,
"There are many advantages of owning a freezer. For example, it's such a convenient appliance and, because we can buy in quantity when prices are lowest, our freezer lets us realize a big savings in food costs.
But, getting back to meal planning
— when I have odd moments I can prepare complete meals in advance, freeze them, and then when we have dinner guests it's a simple matter just to 'heat 'n serve.'"
The same advantages that
Mrs. Hackfield speaks of can be yours just as soon as you get that electric home freezer you've been wanting for so long — why wait — there's never been a better time to buy!

DPS openings for patrolmen are announced

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, made another offer today to young Texans interested in a career of law enforcement.

Col. Garrison announced that the DPS has openings for patrolmen in four of its law enforcement services. He said entrance examinations will be given to applicants in major cities throughout Texas during September.

The positions offer many personal benefits to young men 21 to 35 years of age who have a high school education, and who have been a resident of Texas one year. Applicants must be between 68 and 71 inches tall and weigh not less than 200 pounds, or more than three pounds, per inch of height. These young men must be of good moral character and free of a criminal record.

Among the personal benefits afforded by the patrolmen positions are: two weeks vacation annually, retirement benefits, through training, travel and variety of assignments, promotional program and equipment furnished.

Persons interested in learning more about these important jobs may obtain information from the Texas Department of Public Safety in Austin. Applications received before the first of September will be processed before the entrance examinations to be given Sept. 16, 17 and 18.

'SHOWER OF STARS' LINEUP

'Big-name attractions to be presented at annual State Fair

The 1958 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 4-19 will present a spectacular series of "big-name" attractions in a glittering "Shower of Stars."

The shows, all but one to be staged in the Cotton Bowl, will headline such prominent entertainment personalities as George Gobel, Tennessee Ernie Ford, Tito Guizar, Meredith Willson, Steve Lawrence and Eydie Gorme and "Red" Foley.

The State Fair "Shower of Stars" lineup includes the Tennessee Ford Show Oct. 5, Tito Guizar Oct. 6, Meredith Willson and the Fair's Music Festival Oct. 7, Steve Lawrence and Eydie Gorme Oct. 9, television's "Sky King and Penny" Oct. 10, Singer Laverne Baker and Buddy Johnson's band Oct. 13, the George Gobel Show Oct. 14 and the "Red" Foley Show Oct. 15.

All will be free except the Tennessee Ernie Ford Show and the Eydie Gorme and Steve Lawrence appearance. Admission charges for these shows is $1.25 in advance and $1.75 on the day of the show.

All of the shows will be in the Cotton Bowl except for the Oct. 13 event which will be presented on the Magnolia Stage.

The show starring Eydie Gorme and Steve Lawrence will be co-sponsored by Dallas Radio Station KLLF and the State Fair.

Meredith Willson, who is the composer of "The Music Man" which will be the attraction in the Music Hall during the fair, will be guest of honor at the fair's annual Music Festival and will conduct the massed bands, choruses and orchestras in several numbers. The Tennessee Ernie Ford Show will include a number of supporting acts including Songstress Molly Bee. And the "Red" Foley Show will have a host of talent from his famous "Ozark Jubilee" country music TV show.

There are 'killers' around your home; number is amazing

COLLEGE STATION — If you made a list of the "killers" around your home, you would be amazed. Insecticides and other poisonous chemicals stored within a child's reach can bring tragedy. Statistics prove this point. Two out of every 100 persons die each year from accidental poisoning. Of this number, every fourth person is between the age of 1 and 5 years.

Check your home now to make sure that all "killers" are stored well out of reach of the children. Extension home management specialists suggest some important check points:

Start with the medicine chest. Keep it locked or make certain that it is high enough to keep children out. Label all bottles and material stored there.

Keep cosmetics, soaps, bleaches, polishes and cleaning agents out of reach of small children.

Avoid throwing partially filled containers into wastebaskets or trash barrels where children could test for taste.

Keep matches and all inflammable materials well out of reach.

Broilers, fryers are featured on plentiful lists

COLLEGE STATION — Each month the U. S. Department of Agriculture, in cooperation with the food industry, lists foods that are in extra large supply and encourages homemakers to look for them at the food counter. By moving ample supplies to consumers, farmers get a helping hand in marketing their products.

Broilers and fryers have been selected as the featured items on the September plentiful foods list. Normally, demand for young chickens slumps after Labor Day. However, chick placements in commercial broiler areas are increasing and September marketings are expected to be about a fifth larger than the same month last year. In the first half of 1958, marketings were up 13 per cent above the same period in 1957.

Other plentiful listed are milk, fresh peaches, potatoes, fresh vegetables and canned ripe olives. Milk supplies remain greater than demand, although surplus is smaller than a year ago. In the first half of 1958, output dipped slightly below the same period last year.

Potatoes and fresh vegetables continue in heavy supply. Potatoes from late summer production, running 10 per cent above last year, will still be moving in September, supplemented by early shipments from fall areas. Fresh vegetables included are tomatoes, corn, lima beans, peppers, cucumbers, cabbage, lettuce and onions.

Supplies of fresh peaches and canned ripe olives are expected to be heavier than normal in September.

Bible Thoughts
"THE HAPPY MAN"
By RONNIE PARKER

"Blessed (happy) is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful. But his delight is in the law of the Lord; and in his law doth he meditate day and night." (Psalms 1)

Every man that lives feels the desire to be happy. All of us abhor misery. Happiness is our grand object of pursuit in this life. However so perverted is the human heart, that we seek happiness where it cannot be found. The true way of finding happiness is laid down here.

First in a negative way. There is no happiness when we walk in the counsel of this ungodly. (the unjust—uninfluenced by God). Happiness is not to be found in the way of sinners (the transgressor). Nor can it be found in the seat of the scornful (the deist, theist).

The positive way—"His delight is in the law of the Lord; and in His law does He meditate day and night." There true happiness can be found.

About Your HEALTH
 A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. HOLLE, R. D. Commissioner of Health

A special eight-member committee within the State Health Department is now at work trying to unravel one of the knottiest problems of the day: What causes accidents and how can they be prevented? Accidents are the fourth leading cause of death in Texas and the nation generally. Of all the patients in America's 6,000 hospitals, almost seven per cent are victims of accidents. Thirty-two of every 100 patients seen in hospital emergency rooms are accident cases. The care of accident victims in hospitals costs upwards of $350 million every year.

If it were not for preventable accidents, our shortage of hospital beds would not be nearly as acute as it is. At least 50,500 beds are presently devoted to accident patients—beds desperately needed for sufferers of non-preventable chronic diseases.

There is one bright spot in the accident picture, however. State Health Department records show a noticeable decrease in death rates from motor vehicle mishaps for the past few months. Perhaps this is due to state and national educational campaigns.

As for accidents of other types, little improvement can be seen, despite the time and money spent on massive education drives to alert the public to hazards of their environment. Accidents still happen where no hazards exist.

Presbyterians in 50th year here

Theme of the afternoon program will be "Down Memory Lane." Following an informal service, light refreshments will be served in the church's social hall.

Crops are needing rain, agent says grain is moving

The 13.26 inches of rain which have fallen here since Jan. 1 haven't stretched out far enough, and crops are again in need of moisture, County Agent Lewis C. Herron said Wednesday.

The 13.26-inch measurement is for Post, and other sections of the county have received more rain, and still others less. It is in some of the areas that have been missed by most of the good rains that crops are badly in need of moisture, the agent said.

Post's rainfall for August has totaled 1.13 inches—14 on Aug. 1, .94 on Aug. 19, and .05 on Aug. 20.

Areas on the caprock north of Post received a good rain last Thursday afternoon, measuring up to an inch and a half in some places.

The county agent reports a new crop of bollworms in scattered areas of cotton land, but says the insect situation is not bad generally.

The grain harvest is gaining momentum throughout the area, but it will be several weeks yet before cotton begins moving at any appreciable pace.

Maurice Fluit, moving in house Lots 9 and 10, Block 147, and completing four rooms, $2,800.

N. R. King, constructing car port and storage space, $400.

C. R. Fowler, re-roofing house, $1,000.

James L. Minor, painting and trimming exterior of residence, (no amount listed).

Mrs. Dezzie Gordon, reshingling house, $500.

Chamber sells bale to Jack Henderson

The Chamber of Commerce's first bale of cotton was sold this week to Jack Henderson, local cotton buyer. C. C. Manager Johnny Hopkins said.

Hopkins said the grade had not yet been returned on the bale, but that Henderson estimated the cotton would bring about 30 cents a pound.

The bale of "breaks" cotton, grown by C. R. Wilson, brought its owner a $250 check from the Chamber, which will pay the same amount for the first bale of plains cotton.

Youngblood, Barron wedding held in House, N. M., Sunday

In a solemn 3 p. m. service Sunday afternoon, Miss Edith Youngblood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dee T. Youngblood of McAlister, N. M., became the bride of James George Barron, son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Barron of Post.

The Rev. Harvey Hudnall, pastor, read the double-ring ceremony at the First Baptist Church in House, N. M., before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums and flanked by candelabra with blue tapers.

Prenuptial selections were provided by Mrs. Marvin Purcell. She also accompanied Miss Barbara Rumbaugh of Clovis, N. M., as she sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Bless This House".

Attired in a white brocaded dress styled on princess lines and featuring a full ballerina-length skirt, the bride was given in marriage by her father. A crown decorated in seed pearls held her finger-tip veil and she carried a bouquet of white roses atop a white Bible. When she reached the altar she sang "I Love You Truly" to her bridegroom.

Carrying out the tradition of something old and also for a good-luck omen, she wore in her shoe a penny minted in the year of her birth. Her wedding dress was new and the veil was borrowed from Mrs. Purcell. She also wore a blue garter.

Maid of honor was Miss Geraldine Reich of Plainview, who wore a pale blue rayon and cotton dress styled with a box skirt of blue lace. She also wore a blue hat and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Attending as bridesmaids were Miss Frances Barron, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Ruth Ellen Youngblood, sister of the bride. They were dressed in identical frocks of copen blue taffeta with full skirts. Their headbands were of blue taffeta and decorated with flowers and white veils, and they carried bouquets of white chrysanthemums.

Ernest Dee Youngblood, brother of the bride, and Miss Diana Barron, sister of the bridegroom, were candlelighters.

John Youngblood, brother of the bride, served as best man. Edward Wuerflien of Earth and Ray Allen Hobstadt of House were ushers.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bride's parents hosted a reception at the church where the bride's chosen colors of blue and white were carried out in decorations.

Guests were registered by Misses Annette Farmer and Doris Franklin of House. Misses Martha Wuerflien and Nancy Carol Hudnall served the punch and wedding cake, from a table laid in white.

Paris visitor likes chicken, rodeos and American styles

Miss Danielle Thuillier of Paris, France, who is a guest in the United States of the Post and Slaton Rotary Clubs, is spending some time in Post as a guest in the Giles McCrary home.

She has expressed her amazement at the American fashions, stating that the people in France generally thought of American fashions as "flashy" styles but she said that she "finds them very smart."

Miss Thuillier, who has divided her time here between Slaton and Post, attended the junior rodeo earlier this month and seemed to thoroughly enjoy it, saying "she thought things like that happened only in western movies". During the rodeo, she also visited the U. S. Ranch.

In her stay in the two South Plains towns, Danielle has had the occasion to eat fried chicken several times and likes it very much.

Included in her activities here was a weekend trip to Roswell, N. M., where she, accompanied by Gwen Copple, Keith Bird, Gene Young, and Ruth Miller, joined Dr. and Mrs. B. E. Young and Beverly for a sightseeing tour of Ruidoso and White Sands, N. M.

Monday was spent at the Slaughter Ranch, seeing more of the "west".

The itinerary for the days remaining in her visit includes a backyard ice cream and cake supper Friday evening at the Bob Collier home. Guests will be members of the local Rotary Club and their Rotary Anns.

Miss Thuillier will leave Texas around Sept. 15, a few days earlier than originally planned, in order to spend a few days sightseeing in New York before returning to Paris.

Post Golden Age Club, still new, is growing

Post's Golden Age Club, which is still relatively new, is continuing to grow as was shown by a good attendance at last Thursday's meeting, where several guests were also present.

Following the meal, the afternoon was spent in visiting and enjoying games.

Meetings are held each Thursday morning at 11:30 o'clock at the old band hall or "Antelope Alley".

Transportation is provided for anyone who wishes to attend by contacting any of the club's members.

Market hogs at correct weight for top income

COLLEGE STATION — Hog producers can help the marketing situation by going to town with their animals when they reach the top weight of 200 to 225 pounds. E. M. Regenbrecht, extension swine husbandman, advises hog feeders against marketing overweight animals. No practice, he says, has a worse record for weakening the market.

If hogs are fed beyond the top weight of 200 to 225 pounds, more than two-thirds of the additional gain will be fat. Too, points out the specialist, more feed will be required to make each pound of gain to say nothing about market penalties for the extra fat.

The problem of dealing with overfinished hogs doesn't end at the market. The packer must trim and merchandise the fat which is already a burdensome surplus. Too, many times the retailer must do more trimming on the cut to make it acceptable to the consumer.

By marketing hogs at the correct weight, Regenbrecht says the overall marketing situation will be improved which includes the maintenance of top prices.

To take the guesswork out of knowing when hogs reach the top market weight, the specialist suggests that hog feeders install a set of scales. They are not only needed for determining accurate weights but will more than pay for themselves by making available to the feeder valuable information on gain weights and feed efficiency and will permit the grower to check litter and weaning weights.

Farm fish ponds bulletin topic

COLLEGE STATION — Fishing is one of the most popular forms of outdoor recreation in the United States. Surveys show that a fisherman will spend large sums of money and travel far to enjoy the sport, regardless of the number of fish he catches.

A properly managed farm pond can provide excellent fishing at home at a reasonable cost. As a family project, the pond and surrounding area can be made into a beautiful recreational area providing swimming, boating, camping and other activities.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service recently released a bulletin entitled "Improve Your Farm Fish Pond." The author is Edwin H. Cooper, extension wildlife conservation specialist.

This bulletin not only advises improving your pond, but also gives information on how it can be done. It discusses such topics as location, size and depth, desirable kinds of fish, fish food supply, fertilizers and many other related topics.

This 19-page publication can be obtained from local county agents or from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for B-213.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Matthew	7	1-5
Monday	Matthew	6	1-4
Tuesday	Matthew	6	5-16
Wednesday	Matthew	6	16-23
Thursday	Matthew	7	13-20
Friday	James	3	17-18
Saturday	II Peter	1	1-8

Apples are big business! About 150 million bushels are grown in the U. S. each year.

Perhaps that's why this lad wonders if he could find still another use for the apple. Or perhaps he only wonders if there's a worm in it. If there is, will he toss it away, complaining it's no good?

Some people say they don't go to Church because there are hypocrites in the Church. Then you might as well chuck out that basket of apples in the cellar. There's probably at least one worm in it. But really, does that affect the goodness and usefulness of all the rest?

The Church is big business too, guiding millions of souls each year. If you will attend regularly, earnestly worshipping and sincerely watching for a place where you can be of service, you will give and gain a life-full that's worthwhile. Then you will forget there might be a hypocrite, or a wormy apple around.

PROTECT OUR CHILDREN... drive carefully!

WHY?

Don't be the motorist who in one horror-filled moment must ask himself this question, or try to explain it to the parents of the boy lying still and quiet in the street. Hundreds of Post youngsters start back to school next Tuesday — full of exuberance and fun. Be extra careful where they are concerned. Parents taking and picking up their children at school should be sure they drive up on the "school side" of the street so the youngsters don't have to cross the busy street.

Scantly dressed man 'invades' City Hall

A Wichita, Kans., man, who surprised two women employees at the City Hall Friday afternoon by strolling in clad only in a pair of underwear shorts, was being held in Lubbock this week, according to Sheriff Carl Rains.

The startled women, Winnie Tuffing and Kate Lowrie, summoned City Marshal O. G. (Junior) Shepherd after the scantily dressed man walked in and said he wanted to report that his automobile was on fire.

The sheriff said the man, identified as Jack Lee Hodge, was correct about his automobile being on fire. He had been hauled here from the scene of the burning automobile—just over the line in Lynn County—by a passing motorist.

The officer said when Shepherd and Deputy Sheriff J. W. (red) Floyd arrived at the City Hall they found the man "going through" record books to "see about property he owned here."

After Hodge was taken to the county jail, Sheriff Rains transported him to Lubbock and turned him over to authorities there. The sheriff said he learned that the man, a war veteran, had once been confined in a veterans' mental hospital.

Rains said that he contacted the FBI in Lubbock and one of their officers said he would contact a Veterans Administration attorney there in connection with the case.

The sheriff also said he talked by telephone with the man's estranged wife in California.

Phone rates—

Webb presented the proposed rates to the city council then Monday night along with the two ordinances on utility regulation he had drawn up after considerable discussion with various council members.

MAYOR JAMES Minor told the councilmen in the discussion of the rates that "I am still of the same opinion—General Telephone doesn't deserve an increase."

"Today's phone service is the worst the city has ever had," he added. But Minor said he would vote for the rate boost to prevent the phone company's refusal to install any new phones from "hurting the growth of Post."

Other councilmen indicated similar feelings.

Powell Shytle said he thought the proper term for the phone company's tactics in refusing to install new phones here until a rate increase is granted would be "Duress."

MAYOR MINOR told the council that at the present time the phone company has applications for nine new business phones and 45 residential phones on file and that probably others want phones but haven't seen any use to make formal application. Twenty-six of twenty-seven other phone users want their phones "upgraded," Minor reported.

It was the phone company's refusal to install new phones—a policy it announced some months ago—which finally pressured through the compromise rate hike.

The vote on the new rate boosts were unanimous. Mayor Minor instructed the secretary to record it in the minutes as a "unanimous disgruntled vote."

THE PHONE company didn't get all they asked for, however. General Telephone wanted $9.50 and $8 for business phones and $3 and $4 for residential phones. They settled for 50 cents less on one-party business and 75 cents less on two-party business.

The two utilities regulatory ordinances, obviously aimed at preventing, if possible, General Telephone or any other utility from using the same "squeeze play" in any future rate disputes, also were passed by unanimous votes.

The first of these two ordinances provides that upon receipt of "verified complaints" by Post citizens that utility service is not adequate, the council "may constitute itself as a board of inquiry to investigate such complaints. If the council then finds that the service is inadequate the utility firm involved would be given five days to correct the deficiency or face a misdemeanor charge which would carry a maximum penalty of $100 fine. The ordinance reads that "each additional day of failure or refusal to comply will constitute a separate offense."

THE SECOND regulatory ordinance provides that all utilities within the city of Post must furnish service to any person within the city limits who requests it within 15 days of the filing of such requests. The ordinance further provides that the council will grant a reasonable extension of time upon showing of "reasonable cause by the utility."

Failure to make such installations when ordered by the council, however, will constitute a misdemeanor punishable by a fine not to exceed $100 with "each day of failure or refusal to furnish service" constituting a separate offense.

CITY ATTORNEY Webb told the councilmen in discussing the

He already has passed the state inspection with flying colors and is open for business.

RETURN FROM VACATION

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Schmidt, Andy and Susie Jor, have returned from a vacation trip that took them to Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Missouri. In Wichita Falls, Tex., they visited the Bill Carters, former Postites, and in Arkansas they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jackson and family of Boys Ranch, who then accompanied them to Louisiana. En route home they visited Mrs. Schmidt's aunt, Mrs. T. E. Anderson in Henderson, Tex.

Two ordinances that there is no record of any test case in Texas courts on any similar utility regulatory ordinances and that any utility would have the right to go to court to attack the validity of the ordinances.

But, Webb pointed out, such a test case would not place a heavy financial burden of legal fees upon the city as would have been the case had the city in its recent rate deadlock chosen to have taken General Telephone to court over failure to provide what the city considers "reasonable service."

THE CITY attorney explained that any attack on the validity of the ordinances would first be heard here in justice of the peace court, and then carried to county court, and thence to the state criminal appeals court at Austin where the state would stand the cost of defending the city's position as the validity would be confirmed in connection with a criminal case.

Up until passage of the two ordinances, which became effective today with their publication in The Dispatch, the city had no regulatory control over utilities here except as to provisions set up in the charters granted public utilities for operation in Post.

The phone company charter contains no enforcement provisions for providing reasonable service and has over 15 years yet to run. The new phone rate ordinance and the two utility regulatory ordinances are published in full on page 12 of today's Dispatch.

finitely opposed. The rest said they would like to see the Graham school operated this year, but they realized that it is not financially feasible to do so.

THE FIVE board members present agreed that operation of the Graham grade school is not financially feasible, but they discussed the matter at some length before voting as they wanted to be sure they were fair with the Graham community, who voted to consolidate with the Post school district in March, 1957.

Supt. Smith told the board that the two teachers for the Graham school would be used on the Post school faculty. He said he was two teachers short on the Post faculty and this would complete the teachers needed for the Post schools.

GRAHAM HAD 32 students enrolled last year. Its enrollment was 49 the year before that when first through eighth grades were taught.

The trustees had had an earlier special session on the Graham school problem last Friday night, but at that time decided to let the Graham school continue in operation another year.

The second special meeting was called after Supt. Smith and Trustee Maxey visited with parents in the Graham community about the matter Monday.

"Parents were told the Graham school would be operated again this year if they wanted it that way, even though it was not financially feasible," Smith said, required to make the school's operation financially feasible as a two-teacher school, he added in answer to a question.

Smith told the board it would cost at least $11,000 to operate the school this year at Graham and that the Graham students could be absorbed in the Post schools with little additional operating costs here.

"What the people in the Graham community wanted was a Graham school as long as it wasn't a losing proposition," Maxey told other trustees.

Supt. Smith said, "If we had met 50 per cent opposition, I'd not be for closing the Graham school, but the people out there understand the financial problem and while they would rather have their own school they told us they wouldn't oppose bringing the youngsters into the Post schools."

Letters to the Editor...

NO FIRST BALE PROTEST

This is your neighbor and electrician, W. J. (Joe) Williams, saying thanks, to all my friends in Garza and surrounding counties and to let you know there will be no protest on the decision made by Chamber of Commerce board for the first bale of cotton ginned in Garza County. Even though my bale was on the sidewalk in front of the Chamber of Commerce here in Post, Texas, first at 11 o'clock a. m. Aug. 19.

We should be thankful if all our grades turn out like this: Seed cotton ginned, 1780-101 Paymaster

800 pounds of seed
Bale grade government, mid. 15.16

Bale price, government loan, 33.41 cents per pound

Close City Co-op Gin offer price 35 cents and ginning free

Bale WT compress, 4.36

Bale docks at compress is under 4.35 pounds.

My apologies to the Chamber of Commerce board which was left with the decision to be made on the two bales concerned without minutes or records supposedly set up by the Chamber of Commerce on the first bale of cotton in Garza County.

Of course, my friends, we all know sidewalk corner decisions are not in the minutes or records.

On these grounds, I do not think it to be fair to protest, and do not wish to do so.

Thanks to all my friends and the Chamber of Commerce board, that were trying to help me in a protest, on said "contest."

Please send in your yearly dues immediately to the Chamber of Commerce. We will be glad to support you can give to be entertained.

Thank you,
W. J. (Joe) Williams

7th, 8th graders to report Monday

Uniforms will be issued Monday to candidates for Post's 7th and 8th grade football teams, Junior High Coach Lawrence Cook has announced.

Equipment will be issued 8th graders from 9 until 11:30 o'clock Monday morning and to 7th graders after 1 o'clock Monday afternoon.

The junior high teams' first games will be at Slaton on Tuesday, Sept. 9, with the liftoff scheduled for 7 p. m.

Pool is closed one week early

Post's swimming pool was closed for the season Saturday, one week earlier than had been planned, because of a chlorinator breakdown.

Pool manager Lawrence Cook said he and S. E. Camp of the City-County Park Board reached a decision to close the pool after determining that it would take too long to have the chlorinator repaired to make it worthwhile to re-open before the originally planned closing date of Aug. 30.

Cook said the pool enjoyed a successful season, although attendance began dropping in August from what it had been for the previous two months.

In Texas and New Mexico will be used for radio broadcasts of games played by the Southwest Conference, Texas Western and New Mexico University.

So, get ready. It won't be long now!

36 gridders answer first call

Two drills held daily

Thirty-five candidates for the Post Antelope football team reported Monday morning to Coaches Frank Krhut and Al Parsons and got under way immediately with two-a-day drills in preparation for their opening game here Sept. 5 against Rails.

"We won't have a much heavier team than last year's, but we'll have more speed," Coach Krhut said Tuesday afternoon after having guided the grid hopefuls through four work-outs.

Eight of the nine returning lettermen reported for the practice opener Monday morning and the other, halfback Forrest Claborn, started the training grind Wednesday morning. He missed the first two drills because of being on an out-of-town trip with his parents.

Other lettermen back in harness are backs Jerry Windham, Charlie Morris, Sidney Hart and Curtis Didway and linemen Billy Williams, Herbie Hays, Scottie Pierce and Kenney Poole.

Up from last year's "B" squad are backs Derwood Mayberry, Kenneth Williams and Richard Ray and linemen Jesse Curb, Mike Cornell, Victor Hudman, Larry Welch, Gary Howell, Wayne Hair, Dan Rankin and Jimmy Minor.

Freshmen and other first-year men out for the team are backs Tommy Bouchier, Gerald Bradlock, Clarence Ivie and Ray Crispin and linemen Bobby B. eard, Donald Young, Jimmy Ivie, Carroll Cowley, Horace Smith, Kenneth McFadin, Joel Morris, Troy Holly, Wayne Hair, Jerry Stone, Bobby Hudman and Dean Johnson.

A major line-up shift, Krhut said, will be the shifting of letterman Billy Williams from center to end. Other leading candidates for team positions at this early date are: Curtis Didway, quarterback; Charlie Morris, Jerry Windham, Sidney Hart and Forrest Claborn, halfbacks; Derwood Mayberry, fullback; Scottie Pierce, end; Dan Rankin and Herbie Hays, tackles; Kenney Poole and Victor Hudman, guards, and Larry Welch, center.

Coach Krhut said he was "pretty well pleased" with the turn-out except for the fact that not enough freshmen showed up. Only nine boys who played on last year's junior high team are out for the varsity.

Saturday, the coaches will take the squad to Coahoma for a scrimmage session with that school's team.

With the opening of school Monday, the morning practice sessions will be eliminated, with all drills confined to the afternoon.

Do not shoot more than ten doves per day

AUSTIN — Don't be confused, it may cost you a fine for killing too many doves, according to the director of law enforcement of the Game & Fish Commission. The North Zone season opens Sept. 1.

This year's hunting regulations, approved by the U. S. Fish & Wildlife Service, permits a possession limit of 20 birds after the first day. This does not mean, the director warns, that a hunter can go out and kill 20 birds in one day and get by with it.

The daily limit is still 10 birds. However, after the first day a hunter may have two days' possession, provided he doesn't have them on his person or in a manner to indicate they were all killed on the same day.

"The dove is a migratory bird and as such comes under final federal control," the chief says. "This year the possession limit has been modified, as well as the season lengthened. A good dove crop indicated early this year is responsible."

The chief also warned that new licenses must be obtained before hunting Sept. 1. These licenses are required for all hunters between the ages of 17 and 65 who hunt out of their own county. The new licenses will be available next week from game wardens, sporting goods stores and county clerks.

New fishing licenses also will be required at the same time.

WHIRLWINDS OPEN FLOYDADA — The Floydada Whirlwinds of District 3-AA opened drills Monday in preparation for their season opener at Wellington on Sept. 5. This year's Whirlwind coaching staff is Preston Watson, Charles Tyer, Paul Huntington and Pete Fugliar. Post plays a conference game at Floydada on Oct. 24.

Pen-raised quail still available from state farm

AUSTIN — Pen-raised bob-white quail are still available for release to sportsmen, landowners, and clubs, if they have land suitable for quail, the assistant secretary of the Game and Fish Commission has announced.

Interested persons are encouraged to make application by letter to the Austin office to local game wardens.

Under the program which is designed for quail habitat improvement, land must be inspected by the local game warden. After inspection of a proposed release area, the warden will recommend a quail management program and the number of quail to be released.

When an application has been approved the quail are shipped to the applicant at 50 cents each, which is approximately one-half the cost of production and shipment, the assistant secretary said.

"With this year's good quail crop, applicants would most likely need habitat improvement to justify a release," he added.

Birds are about two months old when released, allowing for sufficient growth while remaining young enough to make adjustment in the new habitat. Plans call for releases to continue through October.

In 1957 the commission approved 414 applications, releasing 33,473 bob whites. Approximately 20,000 have been released so far this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Pierce of Clovis, N. M., visited recently with her sister, Mrs. Pearl Nance, and left a leaflet advertising the world's championship steer roping to be held Sunday, Aug. 31, at the Mounted Patrol Arena in Clovis.

Some of the nation's best ropers will be in the contest, roping four steers each. A caucuttia pool will be held at 1:30 p. m., with the roping to get under way at 2 o'clock.

The ropers include Cotton Lee, Ft. Sumner, N. M.; Earl Moore, Clovis; Sonny Davis, Kenna, N. Antelope hunt permits ready for two areas

AUSTIN — If you plan an antelope hunt, this is the year to make it, according to the executive secretary of the Game & Fish Commission. Applications now can be made for permits to hunt in either of the two areas during the season which begins Oct. 1 and runs through Oct. 19, depending upon the area to be hunted.

Interested hunters should write the Game & Fish Commission in Austin for application blanks. These blanks are then filled in and returned to Austin with a remittance of $5. They must be dated not later than Aug. 31, for the hunters to be eligible.

Early in September the names of applicants will be drawn for the hunts. However, it now appears there may be enough permits to go around without the necessity of drawing.

There will be three hunts of three days each in the Trans-Pecos area and two hunts of three days each in the Panhandle area. An applicant may specify the area in which he plans to hunt. Both buck and doe permits will be available in the Trans-Pecos area.

Aerial counts taken by pilot wardens in both areas show a heavy crop of well-fed animals this year, the secretary reports.

Persons drawing permits to hunt will be notified immediately, after which confirmation must be made to the land-owner. Charges for hunting privileges are arranged between the land-owner and the hunter. The land-owners have agreed to a maximum charge of $60 for bucks and $40 for doe.

Labor Day forecast is 29 Texas motorcides

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, made a personal appeal to Texas motorists today urging them to join an all-out attempt to make Labor Day a historical event free of traffic deaths.

In his statement, Garrison said that he was talking personally to each driver when he asks them to join the DPS, Gov. Price Daniel, and business and civic organizations throughout the state in a drive to make Labor Day a yet unobtainable deathless holiday. He said such a traffic record for a holiday in Texas would be recorded in the history books.

"I would like for every driver to realize that his chance of becoming a motorcide this holiday is greater than he would imagine. On an average throughout the 72-hour Labor Day period, we estimate that one fatality will occur in Texas every two-and-a-half hours; a traffic accident will occur every two-and-a-half minutes. This will be the rate of our accidents and fatalities if records of past holidays hold true."

Earlier the Texas Department of Public Safety had predicted that 29 persons would become motorcides during the three-day Labor Day holiday extending from 12:01

a. m. Aug. 30 through 11:59 p. m. Sept. 1. The state police organization has planned an extensive traffic law enforcement program for the holiday weekend, alerting all available patrolmen for an around-the-clock vigil.

The Texas DPS has labeled its program "Operation Motorcide" and will run its usual count of traffic fatalities.

Operation Motorcide will be bolstered by a "Deathless Days" campaign conducted by the Texas Association of Broadcasters, "Crash Child Safety" during September conducted by the Dairy Institute of Texas and special safety programs conducted by Kiwanis clubs throughout the state.

Garrison said that safe driving is a primary responsibility of every driver. In emphasizing the point, he said that if you are a driver, he is talking to you.

"Traffic accidents are generally regarded as happening to the other motorists; a person never considers that he may become the victim. But that time does come the instant before the impact of the tragedy."

His advice was to drive at speeds which you know are safe and to avoid situations that place you in conflict with pedestrians and other vehicles.

Fertilization now means increase in net farm profits

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Farmers who fertilize their grasslands and legumes now, rather than wait until spring, can increase their net profits from forage as much as 200 per cent, Dr. Russell Coleman, Executive Vice President of the National Plant Food Institute, said today.

"The increased profits from fall applications of fertilizer on grasses and legumes result from utilization of labor during the slack time following harvest and the extension of the grazing period for livestock," Dr. Coleman explained.

He said, "There are other economic advantages from fall fertilization" such as:

1. Savings on feed bills; 2. More luscious growth of grass in the following spring, at least three weeks earlier; 3. Greater conservation of soil structure by avoiding compaction caused by heavy farm machinery.

Dr. Coleman urged farmers to follow the recommendations of their experiment stations as to rates and grades of fertilizers to use in the fall.

"Generally, across the United States, farmers should have no fears of nitrogen losses on grasslands due to leaching resulting from fall and winter rains," he said, "with the possible exception on sandy soils."

"There is economy in maintaining established pastures and hay lands rather than undergo a rejuvenation program every spring," he added. "Fall fertilization, in keeping with land-grant college recommendations, is another way farmers can beat the price-cost squeeze and reduce the per unit cost of production."

today's broiler growers wealthy in a hurry. Cost of production at that time was about 25 cents a pound, which still left an excellent profit spread.

Today, cost of production in Texas runs about 18 cents a pound, with broilers bringing a much narrower profit margin. Since the volume of operation is also larger, however, broiler-growing is still a big and sometimes profitable business.

The housewife is still the one who profits most, however, since the poultry processor who dresses the bird for market works on an equally competitive and slim profit margin as does the grower, and the food store often "specials" broilers.

H. H. Coffield of Rockdale, chairman of the Texas Board of Corrections, announced that Richard Boone, star of "Have Gun—Will Travel"; Dale Robertson of "Tales of Wells Fargo"; Ward Bond of "Wagon Train" and Robert Culp, star of "Trackdown", will make personal benefit appearances on successive Sundays in the prison's million dollar stadium in Huntsville.

LONE STAR AGRICULTURE

Of all meats, today's chicken is best value in the market

By JOHN C. WHITE
Commissioner of Agriculture

The time was not too long ago when chicken was a specialty meat to be enjoyed at special times. "Chicken Every Sunday" was the way the novelist put it in her book title.

Today, chicken is still special, but in other respects. Of all meats, today's chicken is unquestionably the best value in the market. In the face of skyrocketed red meat prices the competitive nature of the broiler business and continued progress in broiler growing have provided the housewife with a delectable alternative dish which should appear on every table several times each week.

Because more broilers are being grown and marketed each successive year (a current week's placements of chicks for broiler production in Texas alone is normally around two and a half million), and because better broilers are being produced at less cost than ever before, the food-wise shopper should head for the broiler counter regularly.

This transition in the broiler business has been phenomenal during the past seven years. In 1950, broilers were selling at 31 and 32 cents a pound, prices that would make

Truck driver 'lucky' in spectacular wreck

James Rush, 34, Lubbock truck driver, escaped serious injury last Thursday afternoon in one of the most spectacular wrecks ever to occur here.

Rush's truck and trailer, loaded with 73 bales of cotton, plunged off a bridge and into a creek bed just south of town on U.S. Highway 84 about 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

The truck was demolished and the on the face and head and a shoulder injury was considered miraculous by those who viewed the wreckage.

The accident occurred when the truck and its 33-foot trailer went out of control after the right front tire on the truck blew out.

Rush said from his hospital bed here a few hours after the accident that he tried for at least 100 yards to bring the truck under control after the blowout.

"When I saw the bridge, I started to jump, then decided to try once more to get back on the highway," Rush said. "I never made it," he added.

The careening truck knocked down several guard rail posts at the north end of the bridge then hit the concrete structure and smashed through the steel guard rail to the creek bed some 15 feet below.

"When the truck sailed off the bridge, I thought, 'this is it,'" Rush related. "I stayed with the cab and managed some way to climb out and clamber back up the embankment to the highway."

Those who saw the tangled wreckage, particularly that of the cab, wondered how the driver found a hole big enough to crawl through. After the cab hit, the trailer-load of cotton flipped over it, making one big pile of most of the bales but scattering some of them up the creek bed.

Rush said he was amazed that the wreckage didn't catch fire. The gasoline tank was torn off when the truck crashed through the bridge railing and gas fumes were thick for at least an hour after the wreck.

After Rush climbed out of the wreckage and back up to the highway, he was taken to Garza Memorial Hospital by an unidentified woman motorist who had witnessed the accident. The injured man was dismissed Friday.

He was en route from Lubbock to Galveston with the cotton. He said he had been a commercial truck driver for 10 years and that Thursday's wreck was the first one he'd had.

COUNTY FHA SUPERVISOR SAYS

Insured loans now available in types farm home loan programs

Insured loans are being made by the Farmers Home Administration in the Farm Ownership and Soil and Water Conservation loan programs, according to Joseph E. Box, county supervisor for the FHA.

The funds for insured loans are provided for private lenders and are insured by the government. In the farm ownership program the insured loans are made in amounts up to 90 per cent of the value of the farm. The fact that a 10 per cent equity is required in the case of an insured farm ownership loan, but not in the case of a direct loan, is the only difference between the two types of credit.

Insured loans made under the soil and water conservation program can be for the full amount of the cost of the improvements to be made with the loan.

The interest rate on insured loans is 3½ per cent and in addition there is a 1 per cent charge for administrative expenses and insurance. The interest rate on loans from appropriated funds is 4½ per cent. Otherwise the terms are the same.

Mortgages on insured loans are given to the Farmers Home Administration but the note is made payable to the lender and endorsed by the Farmers Home Administration to fully guarantee payment to the lender. Farmers Home Administration does all servicing on these loans and sends payments to the lender when they are due.

Justiceburg area is thick with rattlers

The Justiceburg area is fast winning dubious acclaim as one of the most rattlesnake infested areas in West Texas.

Two weeks ago, a Post man, A. W. Stately, was bitten on the hand by a rattler he found near Justiceburg and brought home with him, and Saturday morning Oscar O'Neal brought in the larger of two rattlesnakes he killed while checking oil wells near there.

O'Neal's rattler, which he dispatched with a rock and a hoe, was of the diamond back variety, about six feet long. It had 16 rattles and others apparently had been broken off.

There have been a number of cases of rattlesnake bites in the Justiceburg vicinity in the last few years.

While summer grasses dormant winter pastures still needed

AGE STATION — Most of the best way to determine the type and amount of fertilizer that is needed.

If the crop has to be dusted in, the specialist advises putting down the fertilizer, too. He says it won't be lost, because if rain doesn't come for the winter pasture, the fertilizer will still be there for use by the succeeding crop.

Varieties of plants to use varies with different sections of the state. Trew advises contacting the local county agricultural agent for this and other information about winter pastures. They also have copies of L-258, "Winter Temporary Pastures", which is loaded with information on the subject.

TOYS IN BABELAND — New York — Alfred Toy, of Quincy, Mass., greets his new adopted son, Christopher, a 3-year-old Chinese boy, on the boy's arrival at Idlewild Airport from Tokyo. AUSTIN — Labor Day weekend is, by custom, summer's last fling. For millions it's a chance for a little more swimming, fishing or boating before school starts.

But for safety officials, it's a headache. They spend the weekend picking up the pieces, totaling up the score of those for whom this "last fling" was really the last.

Department of Public Safety statisticians, who base their "guesses" on grim experience, predict 29 traffic deaths in Texas over the holiday weekend.

Out to beat the odds is a combination of public agencies and private organizations cooperating in a drive spearheaded by Gov. Price Daniel.

Texas Traffic Safety Council, the Governor's Highway Safety Commission and DPS will be assisted by several statewide civic organizations and trade associations in emphasizing the importance of careful driving.

DPS will have 700 patrolmen on duty with two radar speed units in each highway district.

Governor Daniel has proclaimed the Labor Day weekend as "Deathless Days in Texas" and the following week as "Back to School Highway Safety Week." Through school officials and assisting groups safety tags and programs will be brought to millions of school children.

This sort of thing has been done before, every year, but there's special emphasis and wider participation this year. Texas safety leaders are straining to set a record of 10 per cent fewer traffic deaths this year. Goal, set by the governor, is in sight. Thus far, 1958 fatalities are 14 per cent less than for the same period last year.

Ultimate success hinges on being able to "keep the lid on" through the holidays ahead. If it can be done, several hundred Texans not expected to be, will be alive at the end of the year.

GOVERNOR DANIEL said he would not call a special session of the Legislature to extend unemployment payments to jobless Texans.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson recently ruled that Texas could not take advantage of a new federal plan to advance states money for 12 additional weeks of unemployment pay without a special law by the Legislature.

Governor Daniel pointed out that (1) the recession seemed to be easing, (2) the Legislature would be in regular session in less than five months and (3) more than half of the some 54,000 who had used up all their unemployment benefits were housewives, students or others only temporarily in the labor market.

But State AFL-CIO President Jerry Holleman sharply criticized the governor's position. He declared the state's unemployed workers have already lost $8,500,000 by Texas' failure to act.

Said Holleman, "If the oil industry or any other industry were losing that kind of money and the governor had the power to stop it, I believe he would act."

Daniel retorted that the additional federal benefits were offered as a loan, not a gift, and would have to be repaid by Texas taxpayers. "It is not a matter of picking up free money."

FOR THE third straight month, Texas oil production will inch up. Railroad Commission set the September allowable at 3,173,736 barrels a day on a 12-day producing pattern.

This will be a 228,302 barrel-a-day increase from August.

Oil production, cornerstone of the state's economy and prime source of tax-revenue, was in a deep slump for more than a year. As demand dwindled and crude oil stocks piled up, the Railroad Commission was forced to make deeper and deeper cuts in permitted production. During April, May and June an all-time low of eight producing days was maintained.

Upturn began in July with nine days of production, continued in August with 11 days. At the hearing to set September production, one major buyer asked for 14 days, saying his company's crude stocks were at the lowest level in 19 years.

A CREDENTIALS committee has been appointed to settle any hassles that may come up as to which delegates shall be seated at the Sept. 9 Democratic convention in San Antonio.

Committee members, announced by Executive Committee Chairman Jim Lindsey, are Judge Earl Sharp, Longview, chairman; James P. Bailey, Houston; Larry Blackmon, Mineral Wells; Mrs. Arthur Harris Sr., Bay City; Mrs. Dorothy Gurley, Del Rio.

Notice of contests (at least five are foreseen) must be submitted to the committee 10 days in advance of the convention. Hearings will be held the day before the convention.

DESPITE A 2 per cent dip in Texas business activity, experts read Texas' economic signposts as "generally favorable."

University of Texas Bureau of Business Research labeled the June decline as probably a "random variation."

"On the whole," observed BBR staffer Francis B. May, "this recession has manifested itself in Texas primarily as an interruption of the upward progress of the economy, a leveling off, more than a decline." Diversification of the economy has helped, said May, with an improvement in agriculture helping to offset the decline in oil.

Looking ahead, May could see "nothing in the immediate future to augment the recession; consequently, recovery seems the most likely course of events."

BBR noted that Texas building is at a level approaching the "boom" stage with permits for the first six months of the year 2 per cent above

CREDIT NEEDS RAPIDLY CHANGING

Texas banks largest lenders to state's farmers, ranchers

Texas banks were serving farmers and ranchers with more credit than any other group of lenders on Jan. 1 of this year, according to Irby G. Metcalf, Jr., president, First National Bank of Post, who represents the Texas Bankers Association as Garza County Key Banker. During 1957, the state's banks maintained their leadership in agricultural credit services. Texas banks held a higher proportion of the total farm production credit than a year previous.

Based on the 17th annual farm lending summary of the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association, Metcalf reported that "at the beginning of the year, Texas bankers were helping farmers and ranchers with $309,115,000 in loans — 12 per cent more than a year previous. This total included $268,221,000 in production loans and $40,894,000 in agricultural mortgages. On the same date, $294,909,000 in agricultural loans were held by insurance companies; $201,409,000 by Federal Land Banks; $77,249,000 by Production Credit Associations; and $73,807,000 in nonreal estate loans plus $30,240,000 in real estate loans by the Farmers Home Administration. It can be seen from these figures that about two-thirds of the production credit used by Texas farmers and ranchers came from the banks."

Metcalf said that "more and more, the banks in Texas find that farmers and ranchers need a new type of credit to help finance the rapid increase in capital requirements. To meet this changing need, an increasing amount of agricultural credit from Texas banks is on an intermediate-term repayment basis."

"Intermediate-term loans are most frequently needed for machinery and equipment, livestock, soil and refinancing short-term notes. Over one-half of all real estate credit is used to finance those intermediate-type capital expenses.

"As a further service to help farmers improve their operations, about one-third of all other bank agricultural loans have a repayment program longer than one year. Banks serve farmers and ranchers with far more intermediate-term credit than any other group of lenders."

Metcalf believes that "farmers, ranchers, and bankers working together in this way help make Texas agriculture more prosperous."

Metcalf reported that over 94 per cent of the insured commercial banks in Texas are serving agriculture's credit needs.

Catholic Church rectory dedicated here Sunday

Bishop John L. Morkovsky, Administrator of the Amarillo Diocese, blessed the new rectory at Holy Cross Catholic Church at 6 p. m. Sunday.

Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was held in the church following the dedication of the rectory. Bishop Morkovsky was assisted by the pastors, the Revs. James Erickson and John L. Magana, and by Fathers Ybarra and Miller of Lamesa and Father O'Brien of Slaton.

Following the benediction, a dinner prepared by women of the church was served in the rectory to the clergymen and to three laymen.

Open house was held by Father Magana in the new rectory throughout the day, and members of the congregation presented him a number of needed household articles, kitchen equipment, and supplies.

The new rectory is not a large or elaborate residence, boasting only of a living room, a bedroom, a kitchen with breakfast nook, and a bathroom, but it serves the purpose and is quite ample for one person.

Father Magana said he wished to thank the people of Post who have responded very generously with help in setting up the building, painting and finishing, and laying sidewalks. The cost came to about $2,500, more than half of which has been paid.

Father Magana has already taken up residence in the new rectory and since the first week of August has been saying daily Mass in Holy Cross Church. He is saying two Masses every Sunday morning, at 8 and 10 o'clock.

Having played to 485 performances at New York's Royale Theatre, still playing to capacity audiences in London, and currently being seen at New York's Downtown Theatre, "The Boy Friend" is one of the most successful musical comedies of the last decade.

Stocker Demand Picks Up As Fall Season Nears

FORT WORTH — Good rains were reported in many sections of the Southwest, many of them in West Texas and Northern markets reported increased stocker and feeder activity, and these two factors were enough to get the cattle trade at Fort Worth off to a flying start Monday.

A few bunches of grainfed steers and heifers were in the run and these moved a bit slowly as packers eyed a sharply increased offering at Cornbelt terminals. However, they cleared steady as the Northern receipts were well absorbed.

Stocker and feeder buyers, including many farmers and ranchmen seeking stockers, were on the stockyards early and set a fast pace on the available stockers and feeders. The trade was strong to 50 cents higher, quality considered.

Slaughter cows, slaughter calves and bulls were strong. Prices included: Good to choice steers and yearlings $23.00-$25.75; medium and lower grades $18.00-$22.00; fat cows $17.50-$20.50; canners and cutters $12.00-$17.50; bulls $17.50-$21.50; fat calves $20.00-$25.75; stocker calves $31.00 down; stocker yearlings $26.50 down; feeders $23.50 down.

Sheep And Goats Open Fully Steady, Monday

Trade was active and prices were fully steady on limited offerings of sheep and lambs at Fort Worth Monday. Several hundred goats sold for slaughter at steady prices.

Good and choice fat lambs drew $21.00-$22.50; feeder lambs drew $19.00-$20.00; old wethers cashed at $12.00-$13.00; slaughter ewes drew $7.00-$8.00; slaughter goats drew $5.50-$7.00.

Hogs Drop To $20.50 Top, Off $0.75 Cents From Last Week

Opening trade at Fort Worth Monday on hogs was a matter of catching up with the severe breaks of last week in the Cornbelt. Choice hogs at $20.25 and $20.50 were in line with Cornbelt tops, but were 50 to 75 cents under last week. Sows drew $17.00-$18.00.

SS payment may help when you need it most

Your social security payment may help you when you need it most. According to John G. Hutton, district manager of the Lubbock social security office, payments are intended as a partial replacement of your earnings.

Social security is meant to provide a basic level of income. The person who is no longer working for wages or operating a business, but who is eligible for social security payments, may rely on his social security check to partially replace the lost earnings. In this way it will permit him to arrange for his financial needs.

There is an earnings test for the person under age 72 who has not substantially retired. It is possible for such an individual to work throughout the year, earn as much as $2,080, and still receive one month's benefit payment. If you do not earn over $1,200 a year, it is possible to draw benefits for the entire year.

After reaching age 72, there is no limit on your earnings. However, until age 72, you should contact your social security office if you retire, or if you have reduced earnings.

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security Office will be in Post on Aug. 26, at 9:30 a. m. at the District Courtroom and will be glad to assist in all matters pertaining to Social Security.

Son of Post man ends Navy 'boot' training

In nine weeks of instruction, the "raw recruit" is developed into a Navy Bluejacket, ready for duty with the fleet.

"Made $15 an acre grazing wheat—cut a 40-bu. crop"

Bill D. Wood, who farms 640 acres, says: "My records show the dollar profit in applying Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia pre-plant to wheat land. On my irrigated wheat, I paid for my seed and fertilizer and made $15 net an acre grazing it, when I used Phillips 66 Ammonia. The next year, I cut a 40-bushel wheat crop."

Other successful Southwestern farmers use Phillips 66 ammonia to give them higher grain yields... and more profitable grazing. The 82% nitrogen in Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia gives young wheat a fast start, supplies plenty of lush, protein-rich forage that puts on more beef at less cost per pound.

Many of these farmers plow down Phillips 66 ammonia in the fall on maize land. They know that the 82% nitrogen helps decompose crop residue, to provide extra plant food and make the soil more productive. Remember, Phillips 66 ammonia gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer—a full 82%.

Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., hails passage of new farm legislation

Attainment of one of the major goals of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., has been the passage of new farm legislation by Congress. W. O. Perry, president, said last week that separate price support rates for grades of cotton are being established by the new legislation.

Mr. Perry said that the legislation covers all grades of cotton. "Beginning with the 1959 crop, the support price for cotton on the basis of the Secretary shall establish separate price support rates for grades of cotton, and for full substantially reflecting the difference in value between the grades," he said.
