At FFA Convention

Alan Fires Named Lone Star Farmer

Alan Fires, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Fires, and Don Lacy, Wellington vocational agriculture advisor, were among more than 5,000 delegates who attended the Texas State FFA convention in Dallas, July 19 through 21.

Fires received his Lone Star Farmer Degree, signifying a Future Farmer who has earned $500 or more on his farm projects. Fires raised beef cattle for the main part of his project, supplementing this with hogs. A project also involves detailed bookkeeping and accurate records, skills which are necessary to the modern farmer.

Fires already held his Greenhand and Chapter Farmer Degrees, prerequisites to the Lone Star Degree.

The Wellington Chapter as a group received the FFA Gold Emblem Award. This award considers the projects of each of the members and of the whole group, such as the annual Christmas tree sale. It also takes in participation in the various contests and elections sponsored throughout the year by FFA.

Fire Destroys Farm Home

Fire completely destroyed a five-room house located on the L. M. Bartlett farm in the Loco-Arlie community, Wednesday, July 26. There were no injuries.

The house was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sterling and their five children. The three youngest children, Maxine, 11, Thomas, Jr., 10, and Robert, 7, were alone in the house when the blaze broke out from an unknown cause.

The children were able to save a TV, sewing machine, some clothes, and other items before they were forced out of the house. The three then went to the L. A. Sachse farm where their mother was working in the field, and Mrs. Sachse reported the fire.

A Pilot Program

50 Children Complete Pre-School Program

Fifty youngsters, who will enter first grade this fall, have completed an eight-week preschool summer program which ended Friday, July 28. They represent around 81 percent of their age group on the census roll.

Wellington is a pilot school in the program, being one of the first schools in Texas to initiate such training under Title I of the U.S. government aid to education program, Louis Graham, director, pointed out.

Not to be confused with Project Head Start, the school developed each childs' skills in reading, listening, and number readiness. It also predicted possible reading disorders, and gave remedial skills to prevent disorders that might develop individually in middle or upper grades.

New materials were used so that work will not be repeated during regular school terms. Special listening and visual aids, and Frostig system for reading skills were also used.

Bloodmobile to Be Here Aug. 8

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will pay its second visit to Collingsworth County Tuesday, Aug. 8, according to Police Chief Donald Nunnelley, who spearheads the drive.

The blood donor unit will be set up in Bura Handley Community Center from 9:00 a.m. to 2:15 p.m.

The county's quota this time is 120 pints of whole blood.

The blood taking will be carried out under the same plan as it was in the first visit March 3.

Chief Nunnelley emphasized that this is for all of Collingsworth County — and beyond. Several men traveling through Wellington on the day of the first Bloodmobile visit, learned of it and came by to make a donation.

It is anticipated that a number of donors this time will come from among those vacationing in the county.

"This will take only 45 minutes of your time on Tuesday, Aug. 8 and the blood you give may well save a life—even your own," declared Chief Nunnelley.

The county's donation to the Red Cross Bloodmobile is one part of the agreement by which a blood bank was established at St. Joseph's Hospital after its supply of walking blood donors was depleted, Chief Nunnelley explained.

The schedule of visits by the Bloodmobile is set up by the Red Cross Bloodmobile headquarters in Wichita, Kan., and this must be followed, even though it finds a number of Collingsworth people out of the county at this time.

The first blood will be drawn at 9 a.m. and continued at the rate of 12 donors every 15 minutes until 2:15 p.m.

A schedule will be maintained for those who wish to give blood at a certain time, according to Mrs. Donald Nunnelley, who is helping her husband.

Wellington and Quail resident wishing to list their names on the schedule should call Mrs. Nunnelley at 447-2642.

Samnorwood area residents may contact Mrs. Denzil Deger,.

In charge of the schedule at Dodson is Mrs. Tommy Van.

Drop-in donors are encouraged at this time, since this is a busy work season for many people, and it is urged that they come when they can, Mrs. Nunnelley said.

The Red Cross Bloodmobile is staffed with a director and nurses. Volunteer assistants, including registered nurses, will be recruited locally, along with the large staff of clerical workers and other assistants. A doctor will be present at all times.

Requirements for blood donors were listed by Nunnelley:

They must be between the ages of 21 and 60 years. All unmarried minors 18 to 21 years must have written consent of one parent or legal guardian; married minors must have written consent of the spouse.

Donors must weigh at least 110 pounds and must have not given blood for three months.

Donors should not eat foods containing fat, as dairy products, mayonnaise, oil dressing, peanut butter, ham, bacon, nuts or chocolate on the day of donation.

There are some in Collingsworth County who would like to give but cannot, Chief Nunnelley explained. Anyone who has infectious hepatitis, polythemia or malaria cannot give.

The principle under which the Blood Program operates is that blood given voluntarily by people through the Red Cross will be made available, without charge for the blood or blood products themselves, to physicians for use in treating their patients.

What's New to Wear

What's new to wear? Disposable dresses . . . leather dresses . . . vinyl bikinis . . . garments of "chameleon cloth" that can be given a second set of colors when the owner gets tired of the first set.

Just as exciting are the new things being done to those long-time favorites, cotton and wool.

Many of the new "faces" you see on these familiar fabrics are results of research by the USDA — the development of chemical finishes to make these fabrics easier to care for, more comfortable, attractive and durable.

A new process for treating wool, called "Wurlan", is used by industry to make woven and knit wool garments that can be machine washed without shrinking or matting.

A USDA-developed process for tanning leather makes it possible to launder leather garments without affecting their softness and beauty and opens up many new possibilities for the use of leather in wearing apparel.

Now under development are light-weight wool-cotton blends that resist shrinkage and wrinkles and hold a crease. They are wash-and-wear and, in tests, shirts laundered and tumble-dried more than a dozen times looked as smoothly pressed as when new.

World of Cars

If you're wondering where in the world all the cars come from today, perhaps the fact that 25 percent of all U.S. families own two each wlil explain a few of them.

79 percent of all U.S. families own at least one automobile.

Single car ownership varies between 24 percent of families with annual income of $10,000 or less to about 95 percent of those with incomes of $10,000 or more. Multiple auto ownership varies from 3 percent of families with less than $3,000 annual income to 60 percent of those with incomes of $15,000 or more.

Ownership rates in 1966 were not greatly different from 1965, except for a slight reduction in proportion or car owners among income groups below $4,000. There was also an increase in proportion of multiple car owners among income groups making $15,000 or more.

What's New

The latest washday innovation is to iron over "cloth of steel"—a fabric clad with more than 50 percent of stainless steel. The manufacturer claims this new ironing board cover resists scorch, is an excellent heat conductor so clothes dry in less time at lower iron temperatures, and has high heat reflection that irons both sides of damp laundry simultaneously to further reduce ironing time.

A new novelty toy for children is an old fashioned pump 'n bucket—a plastic pump packaged with two buckets so water can be pumped up from the "tank" into the container again and again. Just add some soap or detergent and watch the sudsy fun!

A new tool to facilitate cleaning walls and ceilings is a "dry wall cleaner" — actually a chemically-treated, oblong sponge head on a long handle. It is claimed to gently and quickly remove grime without water — but can itself be safely washed in soap or detergent suds, then rinsed and dried for reuse.

Home Economics Briefs

• Understanding fibers, fabric characteristics and care makes it easier to buy wisely and prolong the life of garments, clothing specialists say. It is necessary to continually study the clothing needs of family members in terms of activities, special interests and total family income. Then study fabrics, their fiber content and finish.

• To keep up with spools of thread, make a spool card to hang on the wall by your sewing machine. Just cover a rectangle of plywood with a colorful cotton fabric, taping the edges of the fabric in place in back. For spool holders use two-inch nails, lightly driving them in even rows across the board. Slip the spools over the nail heads.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Earl Smith and daughters, Lisa and Donna of Savannah, Ga., arrived Friday night to visit his mother, Mrs. Ola Mae Smith. They left Monday, with Mrs. Smith accompanying them to Savannah for an extended visit.

First Chamber of Commerce was organized in 1768 in New York City.

Corduroy To The Fore

Campus - minded fashions make the grade in rich autumn tones of cotton corduroy. At left, a stylish tent shift with bias-cut yoke, short sleeves, and funnel neck. Its companion piece: a zipper-trimmed corduroy jacket with long slit pockets worn over a divided pant skirt. The hunter hat at left goes with either ensemble. All by Patty Woodard.

Judge Reynolds Speaks at B&PW

Judge Charles Reynolds of Childress, presiding judge of the 100th Judicial District, discussed "We Make Our Own Laws" for members of the Business and Professional Women's Club Tuesday evening, July 26.

Long ago, the strongest cave man with the biggest club made the laws, Judge Reynolds told the group. Now, laws are based on the Ten Commandments of the Bible. As an aside, he commented that there are 33 million laws to enforce and only ten commandments.

"Many of our laws are made by election, failure to contact our representatives, our votes, and our conduct," the women were told. Judge Reynolds also touched on equal right for women during his talk.

During the business session, plans were made for a picnic August 1 at 7:30 p.m. in the Farm Bureau building. John Coleman will show slides which he made earlier this year in the Philippine Islands. Each person attending is to bring a covered dish for her family.

W. S. Pritchard Honored by Family, Friends on His 90th Birthday

W. S. Pritchard was honored on his 90th birthday, Sunday, July 23, with children, grandchildren and friends calling to congratulate him.

The event was held in his home. Dinner was served buffet style, music and visiting entertained the group during the afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Pritchard and their son, Mitchell Pritchard, live at 104 Graham.

Children and grandchildren present were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pritchard of Clarendon; Jack Pritchard, Jr., or Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Pritchard and two children of Shamrock; also

Mr. and Mrs. John Cartwright and family of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Barbee, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Cartwright, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Barbee and Mitchell Pritchard of Wellington.

Friends calling were Mrs. Edna Birchfield, Mrs. J. H. Seymour, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lewis, Claude Seymour of Vinson, Mrs. Etta Fulcher, Lonnie Cole of San Francisco, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Will Tatum.

Indians and broncs and rattlesnakes and long, long trips by covered wagon are all a part of the memories of Mr. and Mrs. Pritchard. They have watched Collingsworth County grow for 60 years, but prior to that, there were other frontiers.

Will Sam Pritchard was born in Knox County, Kentucky, near the Cumberland Gap, in 1877, but when he was 5, his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pritchard, Sr., moved to Fayetteville, Ark., where he grew up.

Mr. Pritchard left home when he was 21 and went to the Indian Territory, where he worked on a ranch for Ira Foster, a half-breed Indian. There he met and married Mrs. Pritchard, then Sallie Ann Scott, in 1889. To get married, they and another couple (it was a double wedding) rode horseback all night to get to Muskogee, 60 miles from their home. They fed and watered their horses, ate breakfast, were married and made the ride back home.

They moved to a ranch at Munday in 1903 and two of their sons were born there. Next they went to Lipscomb County and again worked on a ranch. Here their oldest daughter was born.

A few years later they returned south to live in Collingsworth County. Fording the flood-swollen Canadian River, one of their covered wagons was swamped and all their belongings in that wagon were lost and the family's pet dog drowned.

In 1912, this old-time cowboy and bronc buster went into farming and cattle raising for himself north of Wellington. The other children of the family were born in Collingsworth County.

It was only seven years ago that Mr. and Mrs. Pritchard moved into Wellington on account of failing health. Both still work with their garden and flower beds and chickens. His children urge him to quit working, but Mr. Pritchard tells them that if he stops, he will get sick.

The Bloodmobile Returns and the Need is as Great

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will pay a return visit to Wellington Wednesday, August 9, and again Collingsworth and other Wellington area residents are urged to donate just one pint of blood each.

The Bloodmobile's visit to Wellington in the early spring was notable through the Panhandle, for the 113 pints of blood received in that one day far exceeded the donations at any other town on that schedule.

The need for blood donations is just as great as it was then. Of all aids used in administering to the sick and injured, blood is among the most important, and the most fragile.

St. Joseph's Hospital now receives all its blood for transfusions from the Red Cross Blood Bank, and part of that agreement was that the citizens of the county would in return donate blood.

It is not unusual for a patient within a few days time to receive in transfusions as much or more than his body's total volume of blood. It can occur here, without warning, and without regard as to whether human donors of the victim's blood type are available.

St. Joseph's keeps on hand enough blood for normal needs, and in case of emergency enough to sustain life for the short period until the Red Cross can send in the amount needed.

The blood we donate next Wednesday is an advanced payment on the blood which we or our families may need to use in St. Joseph's Hospital or an other hospital in the United States which is in the blood bank program.

Privary in Jeopardy

In a recent interview Senator Long (D.-Mo.) told about a drowing danger to individual liberties in this country. Under the present system dozens of agencies of government have easy entree to the individual income tax returns. And this even includes the local government in the taxpayer's home community.

The tendancy of government is to treat us all as numbers. It is a small step once we are assigned numbers to contain all of the information about an individual on a single card to be placed on an electronic machine.

Our telephone lines can be "bugged" and evesdroppers can listen in to just about any conversation they want. Too bad for the individual who wants only to live along quietly with as little interference as possible. —Collegeville (Pa.) Independent

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN. — State Supreme Court has ruled that the constitutional amendment requiring annual voter registration in Texas is valid.

AFL-CIO challenged the amendment. They contended that voters did not get "fair notice" that the amendment provided for annual registration.

State labor officials pledged to take the issue to the highest federal court.

State Supreme Court agreed with ruling of the Third Court of Civil Appeals that the amendment — approved by Texans last year — to abolish the poll tax as a requirement for voting and substitute annual sign-up should stand. There was no opinion. Appellate judges had reversed the trial court finding.

Austin District Judge Herman Jones agreed that the full purpose of the amendment was not adequately described in the proposition on the ballot. It stated only that the poll tax would be knocked out as a voting requirement. Last April the Court of Civil Appeals said it was unlikely any voter, in view of widespread publicity given the issue, failed to understand what he was voting on.

Roy Evans, secretary-treasurer of Texas AFL-CIO, said the State Supreme Court will be asked for a rehearing. If that is rejected, a hearing will be sequested before the U.S.

Meanwhile, Texas election machinery and voter registration for the big 1968 election year will proceed under annual sign-up law as amended this year.

All voters, including those who live in cities under 10,000 population, must register between October and January.

In other cases the State Supreme Court:

—Left standing lower court decisions refusing cash judgment to two parties to the collapse of Billie Sol Estes' fortunes. Case originated in Pecos District Court.

—Reversed Amarillo Court of Civil Appeals and sustained district court in holding that 49 strikers against the Shamrock Oil and Gas Corporation in 1964 could draw uenmployment benefits due to circumstances of their joblessness. (Strikers had offered to return to work.)

—Upheld Third Court of Civil Appeals' ruling that State Savings and Loan Commissioner was justified in denying a branch office application for downtown Houston of the Gibraltar Savings Association.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES

Oil and gas produced on federal land at Corpus Christi Naval Air Station are subject to state production and pipeline taxes (except for 16 2/3 percent payable as royalty to the U.S.), Attorney General Crawford Martin has held.

In other opinions, Martin concluded that:

—A $1,500,000 appropriation to construct protective devices at railroad grade crossings is constitutional.

—If a county commissioner is a director and stockholder in a bank desiring to receive bond issue funds, the county commissioners' court does not have authority to designate that bank as a county depositroy.

HIGHWAYS

As July began, the State Highway Department had $618,899,810 worth of highway construction under contract. During June, contractors were paid $35,802,146 for work completed.

In 1919, only $273,000 was spent for road construction.

WELFARE

An audit of the State Department of Public Welfare reveals that $461,000,000 in federal and state money was used in Texas during the two years ending last Aug. 31 on welfare programs.

Rate was $210,000,000 last year, of which $168,620,302 was in direct grants to the needy aged, blind, children and disabled, plus $41,431,797 for medical care for the needy aged. While aid to dependent children and those who are permanently disabled continues to rise, training programs are reducing the amount of aid needed by blind persons.

Distribution of surplus commodities also is handled by this department. In two years, 45,000,000 pounds of flour, 19,000,000 pounds of corn meal and 17,000,000 pounds of dry milk were distributed to needy families from federal surpluses. However, the amount distributed is declining as the government stockpiles are used up and high employment is reducing the number of needy families.

Payroll and other administrative costs for giving away $215,000,000 came to $12,708,278.

SCREWWORM REPORT

Between May 28 and July 1 some 19 cases of screwworms were confirmed in Texas.

To prevent spread of the disease, Screwworm Eradication Program planes recently released 757,780,000 sterile screwworm flies in Texas. Some 106,144,000 were dropped over the Trans-Pecos and Valley portions of Texas.

HIGHER RATES

Texas Railroad Commission has authorized higher rates for shipments of household goods by specialized carriers. No increase was allowed in packing charges, which had been requested by the van lines.

Rate changes, based on averages of 7,600 shipments, came to 17.3 percent higher than the present rates.

However, larger shipments are actually less and smaller shipments are more.

New rates will take effect on Aug. 5.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

Some folks have looked around at our bloody riots, pillage and arson, lushed-up crime and bogged-down war, inflation and LSDegredation, and claim what we need is wiser and firmer leadership.

But my desponsible neighbor says it's dream-living to hope for wise and firm leadership unless there is more widespread voter wisdom and firmness, or some direct intervention by the Lord.

On account of, as things are now, any wise and firm citizens willing to stand for public office find it hard to conceal their wisdom and firmness long enough to get elected.

Washington Report

From Congressman
BOB PRICE 18TH DISTRICT, TEXAS
1323 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. • 225-3706

Thomas Jefferson, the architect of our Constitution, wrote in 1791: "I had rather be exposed to the inconveniences attending to much liberty than to those attending too small a degree of it."

Were Jefferson here today he would surely agree that there is more than inconvenience attending "too much liberty" or rather the abuse of liberty.

As committees of Congress prepare to investigate recent riots and the breakdown of law and order in Detroit, Newark, and other cities, some of the civil rights leaders called for an end to mob law and supported the President's plea "upon all our people, black and white alike, in all our cities to join in a determined program to maintain law and order, to condemn and to combat lawlessness in all its forms and firmly to show by word and deed that riot, looting and public disorder will just not be tolerated."

But at the same time, another civil rights leader, H. Rap Brown, a militant black power advocate, after being arrested and accused of inciting racial violence at Cambridge, Md., shouted "we built this country and we'll burn it down," as he was arrested—and later released on bond.

Later at a rally in Washington, D.C., Brown urged Negroes to shoot and loot.

"Lyndon Johnson is my enemy ... if Washington, D.C., doesn't come around, Washington, D.C., should be burned down."

He condemned the best-known leaders of the Civil Rights movement for their appeal to Negroes to cease rioting. The nation's capital is apprehensive of what might follow. It is obvious that not only Washington but other major cities are "powder kegs."

The cry has changed from civil rights to black power. Rep. Adam Clayton Powell from his Bimini retreat said "black rebellions are a necessary phase of the black revolution."

In Cuba, Stokeley Carmichael was quoted as saying "In Newark we are applying the tactics of guerrilla warfare. We are preparing groups of urban guerrillas for defense in the cities. This struggle is not going to be a mere street meeting. It is going to be a struggle to the death." Fidel Castro cheered.

It is obvious now, as it has been to some before, that there is a definite pattern and plan to the uprisings and that there will be more of them. Whatever the causes, it is past the time of pleading or any further kid-glove approach. Congress can and will conduct full scale investigations of the violence. The President has appointed a Special Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders and I have joined other House members in a resolution calling for a select committee to conduct a full and complete investigation to determine the causes of the riots.

The House Un-American Activities Committee has also scheduled hearings on the subversive elements involved and the Senate Judiciary Committee has called hearings on the House-passed anti-riot bill.

But these hearings will not stop the near state of insurrection the country is now in.

The basic concept of government is protection of its citizens and the answer now must be a hard-hitting determined effort to stop the aggression of a relatively few so that law-abiding citizens can continue to live under the protection of local governments.

The evidence mounts that the riots, arson and murder, in city after city across the nation may be the result of organized planning and execution on a national scale. So while the duty to protect its citizens is primarily one of the local community, the Federal government must accept its national responsibility.

The violence of the few must not be allowed to injure the cause of the many. The most basic of civil rights is being denied the American people and it is time that all government officials make it absolutely clear that under no circumstances will violence and rioting be tolerated or rewarded. The abuse of freedom has gone too far.

Another Thomas Jefferson quote might be worthwhile reading for those who urge insurrection and rebellion: "A Republican government is slow to move, yet when once in motion, its momentum becomes irresistible."

Shamrock Hosts Scout Groups

Scouters and their wives, den mothers and their husbands, are invited to attend the get-together of the Comanche District Wednesday, Aug. 16, at Shamrock. The event will be at the parish house of the Episcopal Church on South Madden Street.

Shamrock Scouters and their wives will provide the supper.

The forthcoming annual Scout roundup, "Scouting Rounds a Fellow Out," will be explained and launched. Two Explorer Scouts who attended the recent Canadian Canoe Trip will show slides and tell of their experiences.

Frank Phelan, Jr., Clarendon, Comanche District chairman, urges all district officers and committee members at large to attend as this meeting prepares for the launching of the fall Scouting program.

New Type Terraces Gaining Popularity

By Billy J. Gunter, Engineer
Soil Conservation Service

Parallel terraces are growing faster in popularity than any other conservation practice in West Texas," says Gary Reed, work unit conservationist at Wellington. This type of system eliminates almost all of the point rows. One who is enthusiastic about parallel terraces is Fred Covey, located about five miles southeast of Wellington.

Mr. Covey said "I really like them and I would like to build at least two more next year if I can."

When asked if the terraces worked as well as he thought they would, Mr. Covey replied, "They worked a lot better than I thought they would."

A certain amount of land forming goes into the construction of parallel terraces. The idea is to get a more even distribution of moisture for higher crop production.

Mr. Covey said that he really liked getting the dirt from behind to build the terraces. He said that he caught nearly as much water behind the terrace as he did in front of it because of the way the dirt was obtained to build them. He said that because the water was spread out he could get a rain at night and by the next day almost all of the water would be soaked into the soil.

You will notice that when the picture on another page of this issue of The Leader was made, the terraces were not being farmed. This is because no rain had been received up to the time the photograph was made. Since that time rain has been received and the terraces are firming up. Mr. Covey said that he thought they would form okay next year.

Mr. Covey uses four-row equipment. The terraces were spaced to fit that equipment.

LONG WALK FOR A BADGE

Boy Scouts Earl Hartman, left, and Dan Fires gave no evidence of fatigue as they neared the end of the 50 mile hike that will earn them a merit badge. Nevertheless, they were eager for pop that Earl's brother, Steve, brought them. At upper right, they set off again for the remainder of the hike. The end of the trail came at the roadside park at the intersection of US 83 and State Highway 203. The picture at lower right was unposed.

Rights Extended for Vietnam, Post-Korean War Veterans

AUSTIN.—Vietnam and post-Korean veterans were extended certain rights and benefits by the 60th session of the Texas Legislature, according to Chas. L. Morris, executive director of the Texas Veterans Affairs Commission in Austin.

Morris said the bills pertain to reemployment rights, preference in employment, educational benefits, and other matters relevant to veterans affairs, and summarized by the legislation as follows:

Senate Bill 18 extends the provisions of Article 2654b-1, VCS, to honorably discharged veterans who served in the Armed Forces for more than 180 days during the Cold War, which is defined as the period beginning Jan. 31, 1955. The provisions also apply to the child or children of any person who was killed in action or died while in the Armed Forces on active military duty. Article 2654b-1 exempts certain veterans and survivors from payment of dues, fees and charges at educational institutions of collegiate rank. This exemption does not apply to or include veterans or survivors who are eligible for educational and training benefits being paid by Veterans Administration.

House Bill 695 amends Article 4413(31) which relates to veterans preference in state appointment or employment. The bill establishes preference to veterans of the Vietnam conflict who served in the Armed Forces since July 1953.

House Bill 696 amends Article 6252-4, which concerns restoration to employment of State employees entering military service. Restoration to employment is extended to employees of political subdivisions, state institutions, counties and municipalities.

House Bill 955 amends certain sections of Article 46.01 and 46.02, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, and relates to commitment and transfer of certain persons adjudged or determined to be insane in connection with criminal proceedings, to a Veterans Administration or other federal hospital.

House Bill 694 amends Article 5787(b) which relates to qualifications for appointment to veterans county service officer and assistant veterans county service officer. House Bill 694 authorizes counties to employ eligible veterans who served at least four months during the period from July 1953 through the Vietnam conflict and also qualifies for appointment, those veterans who had less than four months service if they have a service-connected disability.

Morris anticipates that these enactments will be of substantive significance to many Texas veterans, and stated that the Commission is studying and investigating proposals for the next legislative sessions, which concerns the interest and welfare of Texas veterans.

I Am Your Hometown Newspaper

STATE Capital NEWS

By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN.— Newspaper readers throughout Texas soon will be seeing long columns of type about important issues as Secretary of State John Hill begins to advertise the six proposed constitutional amendments to be voted on Nov. 11.

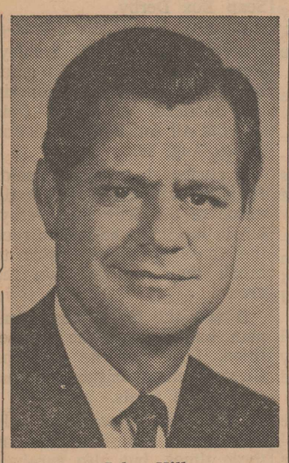

Fourteen additional amendments will be on the 1968 ballot.

Eight of the 20 amendments are of interest mainly to special groups (eg: legislators or state employees.) Eight others would provide local governments with new powers or duties. Only four of the group directly affect most Texans.

Amendments to be voted on this year will appear on the ballot in this order:

- No. 1, House Joint Resolution 3, to permit counties to put all tax money in a single general fund rather than dividing income in specified amounts among separate funds for earmarked purposes as is now required.
- No. 2, HJR 37, allowing cities and other governmental units within hospital districts to levy taxes for participation in mental health and mental retardation community centers.
- No. 3, HJR 17, reviving the veterans land program and authorizing a total of $400,000,000 in bonds to finance continued purchase of farm and ranch land by veterans, including those who have served in Southeast Asia during present hostilities.
- No. 4, HJR 6, authorizing counties to pay medical, doctor and hospital bills of county law enforcement officers injured in line of duty.
- No. 5, HJR 12, authorizing a $75,000,000 state revenue bond issue for the development of state parks and recreational areas. Bonds are expected to be financed by a small admission fee.
- No. 6, HJR 27, permitting state officers and employees to hold non-elective positions under the state or U.S. governments where there is no conflict of interest, and where the state might benefit.

That's all for '67.

John Hill

Top interest in these amendments doubtless will center on the park bond proposal and the veterans land amendment.

Hospital mental health and mental retardation groups will emphasize the importance of Amendment #2 to the new community center approach of treating mental patients close to home.

Calling the 1967 election for Veterans Day and a Saturday, undoubtedly was to assure a large voter turn-out for the land fund amendment. A substantial campaign to urge its passage already is taking form.

Gov. John Connally is the principal backer of the parks bond issue. Last December he unveiled a 10-year plan for acquiring and developing 150,960 acres of recreational lands and historical sites. This would more than triple present state park acreage and open a variety of new facilities for outdoor recreation.

Only opposition to the amendment to date has been based on the $1 a car park-entry fee, initially proposed by Connally to finance the vast program; and scattered complaints that facilities included in the governor's master plan do not adequately serve some areas of the state.

He is expected to spearhead an intensive fall campaign—supported by parks, recreational and outdoor groups—to put over the bond issue.

The veterans land amendment would add another $200,000,000 to state bonds previously authorized and through which 35,300 veterans have purchased farm and ranch properties at low interest rates over a 40-year pay period.

This amendment would raise the amount which could be borrowed under the program from $7,500 to $10,000. The program was initiated in 1949. Additional bonds were approved by voters in 1951 and 1956. Amendments to enlarge the bond authorization were rejected at elections in 1963 and 1965. Opposition came mainly from Dallas and Houston.

Proponents emphasize that while thousands of veterans have benefitted from the program, it has cost the state no money and actually has turned a profit of $2,500,000 a year while providing an expanded land market.

Opposition has adopted the argument that it is not the function of the state government to engage in the loan business and that veterans have had plenty of time to participate. Some also contend that "cheap money" invites purchases of land not needed and which will not be put to productive use.

Amendment #2 specifies that the legislature, in providing for creation of hospital districts, does not have to require that the districts assume full responsibilities for community mental health and retardation centers and services. It would permit cities and counties to levy taxes and issue bonds for such services. Subdivisions within existing districts would be authorized to do so unless statutes creating the districts expressly forbid it.

An attorney general's opinion held that the constitution does not allow political subdivisions within the boundary of a hospital district to levy taxes for medical and hospital service. Under that ruling, cities and counties located in such districts were restricted from participating in establishment of community health centers. Therefore, only hospital districts could establish such centers ,a key part of the mental health program.

Amendments #3, #4 and #5 are self explanatory, and apparently non-controversial.

Amendment #6 is aimed primarily at permitting educators, who are paid from state funds, to serve on federal advisory boards.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

In these days of organized insurrection and planned destruction and looting in the metropolitan cities it would be some comfort to reflect on the advantages of living and rearing your children in a moderately sized town, IF it were not for the fact that such lawlessness costs all of us in liberty, safety, money.

★ ★ ★

Most people know that they will help pay for the losses in the large cities in the form of more taxes; but they will also help pay for this blind and vengeful destruction in the form of higher insurance rates. These costs are insignificant as compared to what these may eventually cost in safety and liberty.

★ ★ ★

Rev. Billy Graham warned a year ago against "groups inside America who are teaching and advocating violence, training in guerrilla tactics, and defying authority. Incredible as it may seem, we are on the road to anarchy in some of the large cities of this country and the symptoms are ominous and dangerous. They (the riots) are organized and planned by a hard core of extremists who are taking advantage of grievances by people living in the frustrations of ghettoes. The FBI and the President know who they are and what they are up to. Now the people need to know. Congress has no more urgent business than to pass laws with teeth in them."

★ ★ ★

The riots are not the only events or conditions that are causing more and more people to think of the small towns as an inviting place in which to live. The inconveniences latent in so much congestion is another factor as well as the lack of genuine leisure, friendliness and community life. More and more people are thinking of a quieter and less hectic place in which to live. We have one and we should make it as inviting, as entertaining, as beautiful as we possibly can. No stone should be left unturned to make our schools, our public facilities, our businesses as excellent as time and effort can provide. It is one aspect of our future development and our future life. For us the action is here.

★ ★ ★

To be among the first ten in the Miss Texas Pageant is a distinction of note and to be among the first five is an honor indeed; but Jan Glenn came out as the second runner-up in a contest that in the beginning included hundreds of lovely and talented girls from every part of Texas. When the selecting narrowed down to five and you could compare and judge somewhat for yourself, I thought that her carriage was superior in the dress parade and she had already won a first in the bathing suit event. Like many another Wellingtonian, I simply failed to see why she didn't win first. Of course we could be partial. Anyway she achieved worthwhile recognition not only for herself but for her home town and her adopted home town of Lubbock.

★ ★ ★

Selecting worthwhile children's books that will hold their interest in competition with TV and other distractions is not easy. For this reason I was pleased and gratified to read the list of children's books that had been given to the Collingsworth County Library by the 1954 Study Club. The list ranges from such old favorites as "Swiss Family Robinson, "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" to such modern classics as Walt Disney's "Wild Animal Babies," and Marguerite Henry's "Brighty of Grand Canyon." They were chosen by Mrs. A. J. Fires, Mrs. Eddie Slay and Mrs. Virgil Patterson who used sound discernment and excellent taste in making their selections. Congratulations.

Children love to read if they are given a little help and the right books at the age they need them. Reading is so important in learning any subject that the importance of developing the ability to read is of utmost necessity to the future education of children. These books are for the benefit of anyone who cares to use them. It is to be hoped that their bright new pages will become worn and limp with the turning of countless eager little fingers.

"I taught in the Wellington schools the two years 1949-50 and 1950-51; I figure a subscription to your paper will be the best and easiest way for me to learn what has become of some of my former students and acquaintances in the intervening years."

Why don't some of you former pupils write to him. His address is: 1132 Mt. Vernon Ave., Big Spring, Texas 79720.

Cecil Waggoner in The Claude News this week provides a little inspiration and hope for those of us who are beginning to take note of the passing years:

So you, or someone you know is "getting on" in years? More than 64% of the great achievements in this world have been accomplished by men who have passed their 60th year!

Examining the careers of some 400 men the most notable of their time and outstanding as statesmen, painters, warriors, poets and writers, you find that the decade between 60 and 70 years of age contained 35% of the world's greatest achievements; between 70 and 80, 23%; after 80, 8%.

Old age can be the most fruitful part of our lives.

I think the secret of these people has been that they refused to listen to friends or believe the calendar. I have seen people at 80 with more youthful ideas than a boy of 17. That's mentally speaking of course.

Cecil Waggoner also has some entertainment to offer, as follows:

Don Marquis, on an ocean trip, decided to set aside a hundred dollars to spend in learning how smoking-room card sharpers operated. He had always been curious about them.

The first evening he strolled into the smoking room. Sure enough, he was asked to play. Upon his eager acceptance, the stranger went away and came back with two others and they sat down.

At the end of the evening Marquis was $16 ahead, having played at half a cent. The next night he was $31 ahead, the third night $28.

He watched slyly, and on the last evening was delighted to hear the man who had organized the game suggest that, it being the last night, they raise the stakes a little. "How about a cent and a half?"

"Sure," said Marquis eagerly. Now he would see the dirty work. At the end of the evening, however, he had won $76. more.

The next day Marquis saw a lady nudge a companion and nod toward him as they drew into Cherbourg. "That," she whispered, "is the card sharp who cleaned Wallace out of $83."

Get Involved, Rotary Governor Tells Members

R. G. Mills, governor of District 573, Rotary International, paid his official visit to the Wellington club Tuesday, July 25.

In his short talk, Mr. Mills urged members to become involved in their club and its activities, for only with personal involvement can Rotarians accomplish their goals.

A considerable portion of his talk was given over to the ways Rotary serves young people. The Rotary Foundation sends young Americans to study in other countries, and brings young people of other nations to study here.

This district will choose the Rotary fellow to study abroad during the coming year, Mr. Mills told the group.

"Interest your young people," said the district governor as he explained the Interact Club for the nation's youth, an organization which does not conflict with or replace the activities high school students now engage in.

Returning to his theme of personal involvement, Mr. Mills reminded Rotarians that only in this way can they fulfill one or more aspects of the objectives of Rotary and also help to satisfy a significant need in Rotary in the county, nation and world.

Jack Neeley, president of the Wellington club, was in charge of the meeting, which included visitors from several clubs in surrounding towns.

Mrs. Mills accompanied her husband to Wellington.

The purchase of the plant was made from W. E. Burden, whose father, W. Y. Burden established the plant in Wellington.

Plans Made for Old, New Scout Camps

Plans for the sale of Boy Scout Camp Kiowa and for opening up the new camp between Wheeler and Mobeetie were laid at the Adobe Walls Executive Council meeting in Pampa Thursday, July 20, followed by a two-day staff planning meeting Thursday and Friday, July 27 and 28.

Frank Culbertson of Pampa, council president, was authorized to appoint a committee to take bids for the sale of Camp Kiowa. Bids are now being taken and bonded bids will be accepted, according to Dave Agnew, council camping director and Comanche District Scout Executive.

Mr. Culbertson, with the approval of the board, set a target date of June 1968 for using the new camp.

Faced with the task of getting this camp ready for the 1968 opening, the week end of Sept. 29, 30 and Oct. 1 has been designated as "Sitting Bull Week End." All adults interested in this project, all Scouters and friends of Scouting are urged to make plans to attend and work, said Mr. Agnew. This is the first of several work week ends on the council and district level.

Each district will be expected to hold independent work week ends ,to which work assignments will be made, and progress checked.

"Scouting units such as the two troops at Wellington and those at Samnorwood and Quail are urged to hold their campouts, week end treks, and others at the new camp now. All units are being given the opportunity to help in the development of this new Scout camp.

"This will be a 52-weeks camp and the day is not far distant when training courses, overnight camping, Explorer activities and other Scouting events will be carried on throughout the year," declared Mr. Agnew.

Former Wellington Youth Wins Fort Worth Soap Box Derby

Fourteen-year-old Kenneth Melton, who was born in Wellington, has won the Fort Worth Soap Box Derby.

Kenneth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rogers Melton, 3709 Stanley, Fort Worth, beat out 73 other boys for the 1967 championship and a ticket to Akron, Ohio and the All American Soap Box Derby Aug. 19.

A student in McLean Junior High, he won the Class A division of the Soap Box Derby, but in the finals he had to race the Class B winner twice to break their tie and win the crown.

It was the fourth year Kenneth had entered the competition. Last year he won the Class A championship but lost out in the finals.

This year he was not only fighting off the jinx of losing three times, but also sprained his wrist in a scuffle the day before the derby and had to spend the remainder of the time until the race soaking it to get the swelling down.

Kenneth built his own car, as do all Soap Box Derby contestants.

"The way the car is made, I have to bend way over to drive it," he said, "and it makes me tired."

His prizes were the S. E. Knudson Trophy, a $500 savings bond, a complete western outfit, and an expense paid trip for him and one of his parents to the Akron Derby.

The Roger Melton family lived in Wellington until he was about five, then moved to Fort Worth where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Melton and daughter, Donna, had moved earlier.

Relatives here include Mr. and Mrs. Otto Russell.

Tension Felt

Fasts Visit Israel Just Before the War

A week after Pete W. Fast ed the members of his tour group out of Israel, the first shots of the Israeli-Arab War were fired.

They felt tension in the Middle East, but they relished the beauty of the hills and valleys around Jerusalem, green after the spring rains. They were unaware savage fighting would come so soon.

Mr. Fast is music and education director of Woodbridge Baptist Church in Houston. His wife, the former Naomi Slay, was with him on this tour.

With their daughter, Renee, who could not leave her studies at Baylor University for the May 1-23 tour, the family visited Mrs. Fast's mother, Mrs. Charles Slay, and showed slides for the congregation of First Baptist Church. Mrs. Fast and Renee remained here until Wednesday, July 26.

Flying from Egypt to Jordan, they looked down on the desert where fighting would soon flare.

"Not since World War II have I seen as many soldiers as were in Egypt," Mrs. Fast said. In Egypt alone of the nine countries they visited their United States money was not accepted.

"In Jerusalem we stood on Mt. Zion, looking across the no-mans land to the Mount of Olives in Jordan," Naomi Fast recalls. "We saw lots of new sand bags stacked and soldiers in the windows of vacant houses."

Mr. Fast has written an account of the tour:

We were certainly well hosted by Arabs and Jews alike, but from our guides we did hear both sides of the problem and I am sure that there is not an easy solution as there is a deep harted of the some 45 million Arabs as against less than 3 million Jews. We met some very lovely Arab Christian people and we are sorry that war had to come and we wonder what has happened to them all. We wonder what has happened to the Christian business man whom we met and whose fine place of business was only about two blocks from the fence that divided Jersualem into Jordan and Israel. He was a fine Arab and he invited Naomi (my wife) and me to go to dinner with him and he had hoped to come to Houston some time and look us up. Most of the places that are sacred to the Christians were on the Jordan side and so we stayed there much longer than in Israel.

(Mr. Fast's nephew, Martin Fast of Frazer, Mont., was working at an orphanage for young boys in Hebron. The 97 youngsters were evacuated. But Hebron, 15 miles out of Jerusalem in Jordan, offered no resistance and the war rolled through without incident. Martin Fast has now returned to the United States.)

We did enjoy the drive through Israel so very much and to see how very much Israel has done in 19 years. There were flags everywhere in every city as they were having their 19th annual celebration of their nation. In this short time they have built a large university with a strong faculty, 14 thousand students, and wonderful new and modern buildings. Israel says that they have taken in "refugees" from 17 nations of the world and their population is almost three times what it was 19 years ago and most of all they have provided nice homes and jobs for them all. The Arabs who stayed in their country (some 300,000) have it much better than those who left. The average income of an Arab in Egypt is $40 a year, $90 per year in Jordan and $750 a year in Israel — this may be less than the Jew earns in Israel but in their economy this is pretty good as against the Arabs in other countries. Israel certainly has transformed the desert into a garden with orchards and fine irrigated crops everywhere. The Jews had 6 million people killed and tortured in every thinkable way in the last world war and it seems that they should have at least one place in the world that they can call their own.

When this conflict started I told our people here that I thought Israel would be victorious even though they were very much outnumbered because God has not forgotten His chosen people as your article pointed out. Lebanon seems to be the most progressive of the Arab countries. Beirut is a very beautiful modern city but the sight of the refugee camps in the very midst of a beautiful city is disturbing. We were checked very closely when we went into Syria and we felt the tenseness there at the border where three of our group were turned back because they had an old passport which had a Jordan stamp on it though none had the Israel stamp which would surely have kept us out. It seemed that we were the last group out of Syria; there had been some uprisings in Damascus and killings before we got there.

In Egypt we went by train for 450 miles along the Nile from Cairo to Luxor and looking out of the window of the train we had a "picture show" all the way.

I got a picture of Nasser's house which is quite ordinary. In Luxor we saw the excavated ruins of Karnak which include 134 pillars, 45 feet around and some 85 to 90 feet tall and King Tut's tomb in the Valley of the Kings. Luxor is now a city of about 30,000 people and must not have more than a dozen cars, but only buggies, donkeys, camels and a few horses — it was like living a 100 years ago. There it was a little hot so I bought a big straw hat on the street (every person tries to sell you something), wore it all day and sold it back to one of the street vendors for half price—the Egyptians laughed and got a big "kick" out of that.

Some of the high points were when we drove by bus from Amman, Jordan, to Jersualem and climbed about 3,500 feet from the Dead Sea and Jordan over the mountains and into Jersualem at dusk and I led the entire bus in singing, "Jerusalem, Jerusalem, lift up your voice and sing . . ." and all of the "Holy City." Again we sang "The Stranger of Galilee" as we crossed over the Sea of Galilee on a boat after I got up at 4 in the morning to see the sun rise over the hills of Syria as reflected in the sea and had devotions with a wonderful Chinese doctor and Christian. In Tiberias in a beautiful hotel right on the water the Hebrews hosted us with two very wonderful meals; we saw where Jesus fed the 5000 and preached the sermon on the Mount, which sermon the nations of the world have either forgotten or will not practice for it was right about at that place where the Syrians have shot at the Jews from the hills and mountains many times and where conflict took place shortly after we left there. I took about 500 slides and wish I had taken more for some of the places have been bombed and may never be the same. To visit the Garden Tomb and to sit at the feet of Jesus (or where His feet were) as we had devotions and Scripture reading was all very moving, to visit the Garden of Gethsemane at dusk and pray where He prayed and many other points of interest where we read the Scriptures, to read Paul's sermon on Mars Hill as we looked at the ancient acropolis on the hill of Athens was like church all the way.

And to visit the catacombs of Rome where Paul perhaps was when he was cold and wrote Timothy to bring his coat and perhaps where he was when he wrote the letter of Philippians in which he said again and again, "Rejoice evermore . . ." and to see the actual bones of some of the thousands of Christians who were buried there underground because of the persecution of the Christians makes us realize how unworthy and ungrateful we often are.

As the tour reached New York, the first discussions of the mid-East crisis were under way in the UN Security Council. Pete and Naomi Fast went to hear them but the lines of those waiting for the same thing were too long.

Jaycees Hand Rotary 30-16 Defeat Monday

Wellington Jaycee baseball team slammed the Rotary team 30 to 16 Monday, July 31 at Marian Ballpark. The score stood 25 to 16 at the end of five full innings, and the game was called after the next half inning.

Wyndell McGraw pitched most of the game for the Jaycees, with Don Lacy finishing up. Paul Guthrie pitched for Rotary.

Billy Wilkerson and Glen Warrick each hit one home run, the only two of the night.

Rotary had defeated Kiwanis 6 to 5 in an earlier July game. The teams were tied at the end of the five scheduled innings and played until the eighth inning when Jack Neeley stole home for the winning run.

All three teams reported enjoying themselves, and thanked the crowds for their attendance at both games.

YOUNG ENGLISHMAN VISITS FRIENDS HERE ON US TOUR

Douglas Emmert, of Lyme Regis in Dorset County, England, located halfway between Land's End and London, has been visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Kiker and granddaughter, Glenda, since Wednesday, July 26. He has been a pen-pal of Miss Kiker's for two years.

Emmert graduated at age 15 from senior school, comparable to four-year American high schools. He then attended South Dorset Technical College for two years full time, and three years part time. Emmert's father is a contractor and he has been studying building and has worked as a bricklayer. Upon returning to England, Emmert said he would attend Yeoville School to take managerial work.

Emmert had been in California since June 6. He flew from London to New York, then in to San Francisco, and finally to Monterrey near Salinas. He leaves Wellington on Aug. 4 for Selma, Ala., to visit friends before returning to England at the end of August.

Los Angeles, Emmert said, surprised him. He had expected to find a "crowded city" with streets," which did not prove to be the case. Also in California, he attended his first rodeo, the state's largest.

25 Longhorns to Be Registered

AUSTIN.—Final steps to register 25 longhorn cattle of the state herd has been completed, according to Mark Gosdin, Director of Park Services, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Inspector Garnet Brooks of the Texas Association of Longhorn Breeders Association of America inspected and certified 15 cows and 10 steers from the herd at Fort Griffin State Park near Albany.

Harold Allums, Regional Park Supervisor at San Angelo, said registration of eight more of the 65-member herd was planned for the near future. The eight to be registered include three steers and a bull at Longhorn Cavern State Park, Burnet, three more at Fort Griffin State Park, and Bevo IX, official mascot of the University of Texas.

Coming up for registration early next year will be a set of twin longhorn calves born this spring at Fort Griffin. The inspector indicated that registration for the pair would be a rarity since none are on the books right now. The calves cannot be registered until they are a year old.
