LUBBOCK MAKES PLANS TO GET AWAY FROM COW-TOWN HEALTH CONDITIONS

SPRING CLEANING FOR CITY WILL START ON EASTER SUNDAY

DR. ROLLO WARNS OF NEED OF HEALTH SAFEGUARDS

PASTORS WILL AID TALKS FROM PULPITS TO INAUGURATE DRIVE

"Lubbock is no longer a cow town," Dr. J. W. Rollo, city health officer, told representative Lubbockians gathered in the court house last night to make plans for the coming clean-up campaign. "And as Lubbock has grown into a city, its citizenship must take steps to assume city ways in the handling of local sanitary problems."

Alleys are in bad condition. Food supplies are subject to infection from various sources, the water supply needs more attention, and in fact many general safeguards are needed for the public health.

Dr. Rollo mentioned among other things, that Lubbock now had 1200 known cases of venereal diseases, and pointed out the necessity on this account of sanitary drinking fountains.

Definite plans for a clean-up week to be held here the week following the state clean-up campaign, were laid. The drive will begin here Easter Sunday, April 4, when all pastors in the city will call attention to it.

Monday, April 5, will be designated health examination day, a special feature of which will be work done by the Parent-Teachers Association council, arrangements for which will be made by Mrs. Wood-Smith, chairman of the council.

Tuesday, April 6, general clean-up day will be observed, and at the meeting last night L. S. Hurkey was appointed to take charge of the local boy scouts organizations in putting the program over for that day.

Wednesday, April 7, will be observed as safe milk and water day, the program for which will be sponsored by the local church women's federation.

Thursday, April 8, will be health and birth registration day, and will be sponsored by Supt. W. H. Duncan, head of the Lubbock public schools. Friday, April 9, pure food day will be observed with Chief T. E. May and Dr. J. W. Rollo in charge of arrangements for the program.

Saturday, the last day of the campaign, has been set aside as rural sanitation day, with P. F. Brown, county superintendent of public instruction in charge.

Dr. Barnett, director of the bureau of child hygiene of the state department of health, and Dr. Ehlers, sanitary engineer for the department, who have been in Lubbock during the past week working with Miss Ann Bruckner, public health nurse, were present and made talks on the need for Texas people giving greater attention and perhaps expending more money in the prevention of disease and in improving health conditions.

Dr. Barnett declared that while

REDUCED TAXES INCREASE CASH

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The new income tax law is bringing more money into the treasury than did the old measure, in spite of its huge reductions.

Income tax collections up to the close of business March 20 totaled $380,000,000. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has announced. It was estimated that $40,000,000 more would be collected before the end of the month, indicating a $420,000,000 total for March as compared with $414,000,000 for the same month in 1925.

Larger taxable revenues were responsible for the increased receipts, Mellon said, and has indicated that business in general made investments in anticipation of tax reductions.

Income tax revenues for the current fiscal year will be above $1,700,000,000 as compared with $1,760,000,000 for the last fiscal year.

FOUL PLAY CHARGED IN SENATE CONTEST

MINNEAPOLIS, March 22.—Teller of a dragging and kidnapping Monday marked fresh developments in the Johnson-Schall senate contest now before a senate subcommittee.

As a result of the alleged foul play Johnson attorneys have asked that decision on the contest be held up pending investigation of the recent disturbance. The request was telegraphed Sunday to Senator Deneen, chairman of the subcommittee investigating the Johnson-Schall contest.

Donald Hughes, attorney for Johnson, made a verbal statement that Gale Plagman, a Johnson witness, was taken to a hotel here, kept under the influence of drugs and liquor until it was too late for him to appear as a witness in Washington. Plagman was said to have repudiated affidavits made earlier in the case, while under the influence of liquor, according to Hughes.

Hot Tamales Incite Drive For Members

Foraging for food in the absence of a mess sergeant, fifty-two local legionnaires last night found a couple of tamales men, and having crossed their palms with silver commended their whole stock in trade for a feast at the meeting in the basement of the Leader building. A kitchen police detail cleaned the room afterward.

Fortified by food, the legionnaires decided to send a committee composed of K. L. Riggs, J. A. Raley, and C. H. Brown to the city baseball league officials to arrange for entry of a legion team.

They also divided the post into two platoons, led by Charles Whitaker and W. T. Starnes respectively, to undertake a membership drive, beginning this morning at 9 o'clock and ending two weeks hence at the next meeting night, the losing team to furnish a banquet for the winners.

MAKES BOND IN DEL RIO MURDER CASE

Special Session Talked Up Again

AUSTIN, Texas, March 22.—Possibility of a special session of the Texas legislature loomed here today following the statement of Representative Alfred P. C. Petch of Fredericksburg, Texas, that he was going to urge Lee Satterwhite, speaker of the Texas house of representatives to call such a session. Petch said that he desired the special session in order to investigate the disputed road bond case and validate such bonds as well as to investigate the controversy now raging between the attorney general's office and the state highway department.

CRITICISM OF GENEVA MEET STARTS TROUBLE

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The international session stirred up by the newspaper airing of Ambassador Houghton's views on Europe has spread into the state department and has even led to intimations. Senator Harrison, democrat, declared that the administration has gone back to "dark lantern diplomacy" stirring up strife in Europe by means of anonymous newspaper propaganda.

BERLIN, March 22.—Reichstag nationalists, quoting the alleged gloomy report on European conditions given President Coolidge by Ambassador Alanson B. Houghton, are fighting bitterly Monday against continuance of Germany's application for league membership.

Texas Judge Quits After Bribe Charge

AUSTIN, March 22.—Following the charge made against him recently that he attempted to bribe George W. Boring, of the Travis county grand jury Harris Bell resigned as judge of the Austin corporation court. The complaint was given a hearing and was later dismissed. Following dismissal of the charge brought against him, Bell in turn charged Boring with an attempt to bribe.

LUBBOCK PUBLIC SCHOOLS GET PRAISE FROM STATE SUPERVISOR IN REPORT TO HER DEPARTMENT

The progress that has been made in the development of the Lubbock Public Schools during this school year reflects creditably upon the superintendent, Prof. M. H. Duncan, and the entire citizenship of Lubbock. In the opinion of Miss Margaret Cotham, state supervisor of high schools for the department of education whose report to the state department following a visit through the Lubbock schools has just been received here.

The report is comprehensive, and

SIX UP, 4 TO GO, WINS $25,000 GOLF WAGER

PASSADENA, Calif., March 22.—Archie Andrews defeated Frederick Bartlett six and four in their $25,000 private golf match at the Annadale country club here Monday.

The men are Chicago millionaires and were playing for the strangest golf stakes in the annals of the sport. Through his defeat of Bartlett, Andrews will receive $575,000 for the Andrews building in Chicago. If he had lost he would have been paid $550,000 for it by Bartlett.

CRAWLS INTO BRUSH TO DIE OF WOUNDS, HIS WIFE BELIEVES

LITTLE SON, HOWEVER, SAYS "DAD WILL COME BACK".

NO TRACE OF MAN MRS. B. H. COLLINS PASSES THROUGH HERE ON WAY TO KEMP

"Dad won't be gone from us kids and mama for long, and when he does show up his friends will pay the sheriff whatever he wants to turn him loose until he goes to trial."

This confident statement yesterday came from 12-year old Irvin Collins, son of the man who is accused of fatally stabbing Frank Brownfield two weeks ago, severely wounding Will Fletcher, Howard's brother-in-law, and then ambled leisurely across a field and walked from beyond the grasp of the law to be hunted by officers throughout west Texas who have as yet failed in their efforts to locate him.

In the meantime Mrs. Collins is so worried about her husband that she was barely able to make the trip to Henderson county by train, and believes that her husband was wounded in the fight in which Howard was killed and Fisher was wounded, and crawled away to a hiding place to die later of wounds inflicted in the fight and of starvation.

So firm is Mrs. Collins in the belief that her husband was wounded in the fight and had made his way to some hiding place that she urged friends to search for body and is not yet convinced that he made his escape, Mr. Goss said.

Mrs. Collins, who left Sunday for the family home in Henderson county with her brother, John Reed, a well-to-do farmer of that county, was accompanied by two of her six small children, while Irvin, who is the oldest of the six, together with two little sisters and a little brother, was here yesterday with O. B. Goss of Kemp, Texas, an uncle of Collins, who told the Avalanche that he will stay with his nephew until after every effort to clear him of the charge that is believed to have been filed against him has been exhausted. They too were enroute to Henderson county but stopped here to confer with court officials.

Goss stated that Collins, who is 35 years of age and who has a residence at Roseville until his disappearance following the incident, is highly respected in Kaufman and Henderson counties, where he was reared and from where he moved to the plains two years ago seeking a cure for asthma, with which he has suffered for some time.

"People at Roseville were wonderfully kind to Mrs. Collins and her children. They did everything to help and comfort her and the children," Mr. Goss said.

Mr. Goss hopes to make arrangements to secure bond for his nephew and believes he will "show up," in Missionary Program And Social of Baptist W. M. S.

The Baptist ladies met in the church parlors Monday afternoon at 2:30 for the missionary program social hour. The attendance was splendid. Meeting called to order by first vice president, Mrs. J. H. Hankins, in absence of President, Mrs. W. R. Hinn, who is still unable to attend on account of illness.

Opening song, "Onward Christian Soldiers."
Prayer—Mrs. E. Studeman.
Several matters of business were discussed and disposed of. Then chairman of circle No. 3, Mrs. E. L. Law, took charge of the meeting and the following program was rendered:

Song, "Faith of Our Fathers," Mrs. Chitwood, choirleader; Mrs. Waters, pianist.
Prayer—Mrs. Akers.
Devotional—Mrs. I. W. Gill. Gen. 50:22.

Paper, "The South as a Mission Field"—Mrs. E. L. Law. This paper gave us a vision of the possibilities of home missions and was greatly enjoyed.

Paper, "The Disciples Multiplied in Jerusalem"—Mrs. J. K. Miller. This message was greatly enjoyed and thoroughly appreciated.

Song, "My Country 'Tis of Thee." We were then favored with a dialogue by six little girls of the girls auxiliary. Title, "Then and Now," and we fail in attempting a description of this little dialogue. It was very sweet in its setting, and splendidly carried out. After the program all were invited to the dining room, and served a splendid plate of sandwiches and coffee.—Reporter.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB TO MEET THIS AFTERNOON

Hedda Hoyt Talks

SPRING

By HEDDA HOYT
(Written for United Press)
NEW YORK, March 22—Women are wearing straw bonnets and Spring neckwear. Glimpses of shop windows acquaint us with Spring styles and we make mental notes upon the newest ideas which appeal to us.

Of course, nothing can be really new-with-us since women of this era want only styles of youth. That means that lines must be slender and must appear to be so. Neck lines must be youthful. Waist lines must be minus quantities. Hems must be short. We can not hope to find radical style changes when the feminine world is intent upon keeping young.

It's whispered that Princess dresses and full-skirted period frocks are sponsored by some of the Parisian gownmakers. But we know that we won't wear the unless we are slim and young and can afford to sacrifice youthful lines. Therefore, we grab at new colors, new colors, sleeves, waist lines and hems for our style changes.

Perhaps the most youthful style which has been brought out in years is the jumper frock of two-piece type. We find them in the Spring collection with narrow leather belts worn a few inches above the bottom of the jumper. Some new models have snug hip lines and bloused upper portions. Both youthful changes are in vogue.

Youngful, too are taffeta frocks for afternoon wear. And although some women find taffeta a bit trying to the complexion they can avoid this by combining taffeta with chiffon, dotted net or lace. A charming black taffeta frock has its full skirt bordered with deep, black scalloped edged lace. The scallops of the lace extend upwards from the hem. This same lace forms a bertha collar in front which terminates in a deep rear cape of waist length. Also taffeta may be softened by using appliques of flower-printed chiffon or georgette. Ecru lace is another favorite taffeta trim.

Black or blue georgette posed over colorfully printed silk is a combination well thought of for the slender person. One sees many dresses of this type with georgette or chiffon shadowing a vivid printed material.

This Spring will see much of the polka dot. Nearly every Fifth Avenue shop window is showing gowns or suits made of or trimmed in polka dots. For Summer the background is white with colorful dots. For Spring the background is black or navy with white, red, green or yellow dots.

One-sided effects are the craze of the moment. It would seem that one must be one-sided to be in style. Sometimes it is merely the neckline that takes the one-sided trend as in the case of a black lace dress gown which has a lace scarf draped about the bateau-shaped neck with the two scarf ends falling loose over the shoulder in cape effect. Again it is the skirt which is one-sided as where ruffles or tiers extend from the left hip to the right hemline.

A thing of beauty is always worried to death for fear she'll lose it.

Federation Meeting To Be Held In Baptist Church

The Delphian Club in their search of a subject for future club activities favored "a club house for Lubbock." Upon their call representatives from several different clubs met and discussed the idea; it was decided upon to join in the forming of a city federation to work as a unit in the plan.

Through the chairman of this committee a meeting of all the women's organizations of Lubbock, organized for cultural, educational or civic development is called for March 31, in the First Baptist church at 2 p. m. Mrs. W. B. Price, president of the seventh district of T. W. F. C., will preside and a city federation will be formed.

The entire membership of all organizations is urged to attend but the voting strength will be the president and two members of each club, making equal representation. Acceptance of the plan and willingness to co-operate has been expressed by the following clubs:

Delphian, Sorosis, Athenaeum, Junior Twentieth Century, Pan Hellenic, University Women, Business and Professional Women, Child Study and Music Club.

Several organizations have not expressed themselves, but can feel sure all will unite in the movement.

Christian Endeavor Party Thursday Evening

The Christian Endeavor of the First Presbyterian church met in a very lively meeting on Sunday evening at 7:00. A splendid program was rendered and a great lesson was brought strongly before the minds of the young people through talks and discussion with Miss Kate Froly as leader.

On next Thursday evening the young people will have their regular monthly social. We are expecting a big time. All young people who are interested in this work but have not joined in the work yet are cordially invited and urged to attend this social in order that they may become acquainted with our young people who are one of the best and liveliest bunch of Christian Soldiers in existence. Wear your tacky clothes and come on. Come for two hours of real fun.

Plans for the District Christian Endeavor Convention which is to be held in Lubbock May 8-9, 1926 are in progress.—Hoyt have never joined in work like this you can not realize what a great responsibility the young people are taking upon themselves. They need your help. The registration campaign is now on, you will be called on. Could you be so unthoughtful as to refuse to help the advancement of God's cause through the young people of Lubbock. This convention is to be put over and in first class style as is always true of Lubbock citizens. Get behind the young Christian soldiers of your city. Reporter.

PLAINS PEOPLE WILL FLOCK TO MUSIC FESTIVAL

Last minute details have been worked out for the staging of the third annual South Plains Music Festival here Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, according to Miss Mary Durn, president of the South Plains Music Teachers Association. Reports have been coming in with each mail for the past several days from members of the teachers association in practically every town on the South Plains, stating that a large number of contestants and attendants will come from their respective towns to attend the festival.

With the ticket sale still lagging local members of the association have taken on a little more optimistic spirit this week, believing that Lubbock people will come to the support of the association in making the festival here a financial success.

The four artists who will appear each evening of the festival at the Tech pavilion will arrive here tomorrow morning from New York. Miss Dunn stated Monday afternoon.

Another feature of the festival will be the annual South Plains music contest which will be held Thursday afternoon, Friday and Saturday, mornings and afternoons, free of charge at the high school auditorium. Three hundred and forty South Plains musicians have entered the various contests. The winners of the contests will appear in a South Plains recital Saturday evening at the Tech pavilion when the best talent of South Plains musicians will be offered a South Plains music loving audience.

SOROSIS CLUB TO STUDY RACE PROBLEMS

The Sorosis club will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. B. Hewett. Mrs. W. M. Whyburn will conduct the lesson on "The Race Problem in the United States," assisted by Mesdames J. H. Whitesides and J. D. Peters. Roll call will be answered by current events.

A thing of beauty is always worried to death for fear she'll lose it.

Johnson and Jones Wedding At 10 Today

Miss Mary Alyce Johnson and Mr. Frank Jones will be married this morning at 10 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church, Rev. Jack M. Lewis officiating. The young couple will be at home after about ten days at 1710 Ave. K.

Winters Club Woman Makes Home In Lubbock

The Avalanche is in receipt of a clipping from the Winters Enterprise of a meeting the Literary and Service club of Winters, in which the members expressed deep regret at losing one of the most active workers of the club. A part of the item is given below:

"In the resignation of Mrs. Horace Hawkins, who is moving to Lubbock, Texas, we feel that the club is not only losing a charter member, but an efficient and ardent worker, one who has ever worked for the interest and welfare of the club as a whole, never considering personal interest."

"Mrs. Hawkins was at one time president of the Literary and Service club, and exhibited rare tact and judgment in the way she filled her office. She has been made chairman of various committees and has always acquitted herself in a most deserving way. We speak for her all the courtesies due her in the new home, especially among our fellow club women of Lubbock."

ATHENAEUM CLUB WILL MEET IN BAPTIST CHURCH

The Athenaeum club will meet this afternoon at the First Baptist church studying negro dialect and folk lore. Mrs. Ray Grisham will lead the lesson assisted by Mesdames W. G. Murray, Fred Snyder, O. E. Sears, J. F. Hankins and O. B. Tinkle.

LAMESA SOCIETY

MISS GORDON ENTERTAINS YOUNGER SET AT LAMESA

Miss Katherine Gordon was hostess to a lovely party in her mother's home on North 3rd street when she entertained the younger set on last Tuesday evening.

Upon arrival the guests were ushered into the parlor where varied amusements were furnished throughout the party. Music on many instruments, from piano to jazz horn, was made by the young people themselves. The handkerchief dance was one of the most popular forms of amusement for the evening. The amusement for the evening. The amusement for the evening. The amusement for the evening.

Without being caught with the handkerchief was to receive the prize of a box of chocolates. Miss Prudence Grant and John Mitchell was the lucky couple. Delightfully refreshing fruit punch was dispensed to the guest during their stay. Among those present were Misses Anne Smith, Agnes Morris, Mary Lee Key, Ruby Conklin, Mary Parker, Kate and Prudence Grant, Lorraine McCormick, Marguerite Lane, Aline Phillips, Margarite Phillips, Imogene Bolton, Ruby Davis, Cleo Medders, Messrs. Carl Griffin "Boxie" Masters, Robert and William Phillips, Lee Brown, John Mitchell, "Bob" Rose, "Jelly" McKee, Glen Davis, "Bill" Warnick, Kenneth Edwards, J. D. Sebastian, "Bill" Nolan, Otto Bolton, Lloyd Carter, William Mayfield, Carrol Davis, Jack Worter, Ellis and Stanley McCarty.

JOLLY GOOD CLUB IS ENTERTAINED WEDNESDAY

The regular members of the "Jolly Good Club" along with a large number of special guests, were delightfully entertained by Mesdames A. B. Heffernan and Hub Speck in the latter's home on Wednesday afternoon of this week, in a manner to fully emphasize the club's name in the minds of those so fortunate as to be present. The color scheme and form of decorations used in score pads, tally cards, refreshments and plate favors was appropriately representative of the day, St. Patrick's, white and green artistically blending throughout, taking the form of four leaf clover in tally sheets and plate favors. The game of Forty-Two furnished entertainment to the many guests who seemed to catch the spirit of jollification upon entering the room and retained it during the entire party. At the close of the game, Mesdames D. Burns, J. R. Lowrie, and Frank Wendt were declared as having tied as to high score. Mrs. Lowrie and Mrs. Burns drew, Mrs. Lowrie waving her claim, and Mrs. Lowrie received a lovely box of chocolates, which she passed among the guests. Mrs. Roscoe Holton received a miniature egg beater to assist her in beating next time as she held lowest score. Among whom present as members were Mesdames Dixie Kuzore, W. B. Looney, R. E. Simpson, E. E. Matthews, Ross Simpson, A. M. Bennett, Roy Simpson, Victor Crawley, J. Elmer Barron, Ervin Bailey, Nelson Cope, W. R. Crawley and J. E. Garland. Special guests were Mesdames M. O. Grant, Roscoe Holton, D. Burns, J. H. Clark, W. P. Averitt, E. R. Yates, R. F. Gray, A. Shaw, C. Baldwin, Kimbro, Henry Burreas, W. D. Arnett, Jack Phinizy, Elmer Iretton, J. S. McWhorter, Roy Speck, Ira Smith, O. C. Speck, and Frank Wendt.

LAMESA W. M. S. ENJOYS GOOD MISSION PROGRAM

On Monday afternoon, March 15, from 3 to 5 o'clock, the entire W. M. S. of the First Baptist Church, was entertained in the spacious home of Mrs. Porter Gilbert, on South 1st street, by the Central Circle. The occasion was the regular monthly joint mission program and social meeting. An atmosphere of happy anticipation was noted upon the arrival of the first guest, of which there was an unusually large number present. The subject for the mission program was "Missions in Our Southland." Mrs. A. B. Heffernan, chairman of the entertaining circle conducted the meeting, giving a few well-chosen words of welcome, after which the program proper was rendered.

After the close of the mission program for the social hour was given. The entertaining circle being the oldest or mother circle, the numbers were planned with the thought of being as old fashioned as could well be arranged.

Mrs. T. W. Crawley gave "My Old Kentucky Home," as an accompaniment solo, following that with "Home Sweet Home." Mrs. U. B. Newman gave a reading, "Curfew Must Not Ring Tonight." "Oh, Happy Day," with variations, was given by Mrs. L. Berry, as a piano solo, after which "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," was rendered with Mrs. Porter Gilbert at the piano and Miss Bessie Baldwin, violin.

Lovely refreshments of chicken salad on lettuce leaves, buttered sandwiches, ripe olives, sweet pickles, fruit cake, and coffee with whipped cream was served to the following guests: Mesdames, Victor Crawley, Ross Simpson, Ross A. Smith, U. B. Newman, Cleve R. Austin, C. Lee Lawrence, Hub Speck, T. V. Crawley, Riley F. Nix, A. J. McDaniel, J. Elmer Barron, L. F. Kennedy, E. D. Bryan, J. S. McWhorter, R. E. Speck, Edd Eoff, G. W. Harrison, Roy Simpson, D. S. Day, J. Mincer, Ransom, Sallie McCarty, F. R. King, A. J. Tweak, C. A. Baldwin, E. A. Tweed, Bill Watson, L. Berry, Porter Gilbert, A. B. Heffernan, M. O. Grant and Miss Bessie Baldwin. Out of-town guests were Mrs. Hilburn Smith of Littlefield and Mrs. C. A. Baldwin, Jr., of O'Donnell and Mrs. Paul Brasswell.

At a meeting of the Executive Board of the Baptist W. M. U. of the Lubbock Association, called by the president, Mrs. Ross A. Smith, and meeting in her home on last Thursday afternoon, some very important business was planned.

It was unanimously agreed by the body to recommend to their next general meeting, which will convene at the next regular workers conference at Ackerly, April 1st, that an invitation be extended to the 1926 meeting of the District of M. U. in Sweetwater, April 14-16, for that body to accept Lamesa as their hostess for the 1927 meeting. Also it was agreed by those present to urge the women of Lamesa Association to endeavor to attend this meeting in Sweetwater in large numbers.

OLD TIMERS CLUB ENTERTAINED MARCH 17TH

On Wednesday afternoon of last week Mrs. R. H. Simpson was hostess to the "Old Timers" Club. In addition to the regular members Mrs. Simpson had several special guests.

The motif in decorations was representative of St. Patrick's day, being depicted in artistic score pads and tally cards, for three tables at "Forty-two."

Following the hour spent at the game, a tempting salad course was served to the following members and special guests: Mesdames, Ross Simpson, M. Q. Martin, Ervin Bailey, E. R. Yates and J. E. Garland. Special guests for the afternoon were Mesdames Balzon, Simon O'Neal, C. P. Rogers, and R. L. Grimes.

LAMESA BALL TEAM TO PLAY IN STATE CONTEST

The girls basketball team of the Lamesa High School, chaperoned by their coach, Miss Carrie Wood Cleveland, left Wednesday of last week for Cisco, where they are taking part in the A. A. U. high school girls basketball contest. This season they have taken part in this season's aggregate of scores for the state being 263 as against an aggregate of 96 gained by the opposing teams.

MRS. THOMAS ENTERTAINS WITH BRIDGE LUNCHEON

Mrs. G. Aubrey Thomas entertained with a bridge luncheon on last Wednesday from one to four o'clock.

This was pronounced by the attending guests as one of the very loveliest parties of the season. The luncheon consisted of fried chicken, with hot buttered rolls, a delicious fruit salad, followed by the second course of white and green ice cream in brick form, with angel food cake covered with green icing, representing St. Patrick's day. This thought was also carried out in score pads and tally cards.

Among those present were Mesdames, J. L. Tsal, Matt Webb, Loo Randall, J. S. Schow, Roy Harris.

MEMBERS STUDY CLUB ENJOY AFTERNOON

The "Tournament" given by the Woman's Study Club, on last Thursday afternoon was quite a success, from every point of view.

Wholesale invitations were sent out to the ladies to meet in the Women Club House to play "Rorty-two" and in the home of Mrs. Elzee Burleson to play bridge.

Elections Held Interest of Students

The staff election for the publications of the student body for the 1926-27 session are being held and will be brought to a close this afternoon. Excitement is running high and the candidates are noticed to be in a nervous condition most of the time. A dark horse team entered the race for the La Ventana staff and things have been pepped up by the addition to the candidate column. A preliminary count of the ballots was made yesterday at noon and the races was tight for both staffs. A final count will be made this afternoon.

This election is holding quite a bit of student interest. It is hoped that every activity of the school will always be supported with a great enthusiasm. Other elections of the student body will be held during the Spring term. A yell leader, student president and other offices will be open for candidates for the 1926-27 session. The students are planning to put the best men in office for every position.

DOHONEY AND MAHONEY VISIT SOUTH PLAINS TOWNS

Registrar E. L. Dohoney and Prof. C. H. Mahoney of the School of Agriculture, visited towns south of here Saturday. They left early Saturday morning and went as far as Abilene. At Clyde Prof. Mahoney addressed a meeting of farmers on the care of fruit. His subject was "Spraying and Pruning". This is one of the best fruit sections of this part of the state. Mr. Dohoney has a farm in this belt. They also visited the Wilson Seed Breeding Plant at Roscoe. Wilson was at A. & M. and a friend of Prof. Mahoney. They reported a good trip.

NEW COURSES FOR SPRING TERM

Several new courses will be offered for the students during the Spring term. In the English department a new course will be offered for advanced students. It is a study of modern American Drama. It will give a complete study of the American plays and playwrights. Two new courses will be offered in the School of Agriculture, Poultry and Floriculture. The other departments will continue in the same line of work with a few changes here and there. Many new students are expected for the spring term and indications point toward a large increase in the present enrollment.

PRESIDENTS CLUB TO MEET THURSDAY NIGHT

A regular meeting of the Presidents Club will be held Monday night at Chert's Casa Dormitory at 7 o'clock. All members are asked to attend as important matters will be discussed.

NEW ASSISTANT ADDED TO BUSINESS OFFICE FORCE

Uncas Johnson of Austin arrived here Sunday and assumed his duties as assistant in the office of the business manager. Johnson comes to the Tech from the State Comptroller's office where he has been employed for a number of years as Chief Warrant clerk. He stated that he was well pleased with Lubbock and the Tech.

SKETCHES FOR NEW BUILDINGS DRAWN

Dr. Horn returned Sunday from Houston where he has been consulting with William Ward Watkins, architect of the College concerning building plans for the Tech. Watkins is busy now drawing sketches for proposed new buildings of the College. They are not plans but outlines of what the officials think the school needs. Money is expected to be obtained in the next appropriation for new buildings.

TECH TO DEBATE WHEATON COLLEGE OF ILLINOIS HERE

Miss Ruth Pirtle, head of the department of Public Speaking received a letter from the debate manager of Wheaton College, Illinois asking for a debate with the Tech here about the sixteenth of April. The Wheaton debaters are making a tour of the North and Pacific states starting March 24. They plan to come back from California by the lower route and debate with teams of Arizona, New Mexico, and Texas. They will meet teams in Spokane, Wash., Salem, Oregon, Stockton, Albany and Los Angeles, California.

It is probable that a debate with the school will be arranged. Several students in the Tech are good in this line and will make a good showing. A contest of this kind is just as important as an inter-sectional athletic contest and will give the Tech a good lot of publicity. The boys here will be greatly handicapped for lack of experience but it is thought that a good appearance will be made.

P. T. DEVELOPS STUDENTS ACCORDING TO TESTS

Lt. Hugh Killin, instructor of Physical Training reports that the students in his classes are showing wonderful improvement physically. In an examination last week it was found that the normal chest expansion of the boys had been raised from one-half to one and a half inches in the average of the class. This shows that exercise aids wonderfully in insuring health. Several of the students showed a larger improvement than others. A general all around improvement is noticed in the boys although it has been gradually and not by leaps and bounds.

Soccer will occupy most of the course for the Spring term according to Lt. Killin. This is a mild form of foot ball and gives the students plenty of healthful and useful exercise. He plans to stage a game at the Fair Park if two good teams are developed. Over 150 boys are now taking the course and more are expected to enroll for the Spring term. Two years of this work is required before graduation in any school in the state and the department here is fast becoming as strong as any in the state.

STUDENTS TO JUDGE IN INTER-SCHOLASTIC CONTESTS

Neighboring schools are asking for advanced students to help in judging the declamation and debate contests of the interscholastic league. Friday three students will go to Roaring Springs where they will judge the contests of Motley county. Three more students will go to Brownfield next week to judge the Terry county contests.

AUSTIN COLLEGE GLEE CLUB TO APPEAR TONIGHT AT PAVILION

The Austin College Glee Club and Crusaders orchestra will appear tonight at the Stock Judging Pavilion at 8:15. The concert will be given under the auspices of the Tech Concert Band. The Glee Club appeared here two years ago and drew down a large and appreciative audience. They have a number of the same boys on the club and will present a variety of the best class of songs. The feature of the concert will be the Crusaders Orchestra which will present a variety of popular numbers. They are reported to be one of the best college jazz orchestras in the state.

The proceeds of the concert will go toward buying sweaters for the Tech Band. Oliver McElyea, business manager of the band reports a large advance sale of tickets which points toward a large attendance. Tickets may be obtained from McElyea or at the office of Prof. Wagborne on second floor.

BLOOD AND SAND FROM EL TORO

If you've ever been to a three-ringed circus and tried to watch everything at once, you will perhaps understand what we mean when we say that everything in general and everything else out at Tech was something of that order during yesterday.

What with about humpteen dozen exams going on, out, and off, simultaneously and at once; the political pot boiling over and sending clouds of steam up around the balustrades and into everybody's brain, making them reel around like a moving-picture strip; and the constant struggle of the "sergeants-without-arms" to keep the candy dates from electioneering within fifteen feet of the "poles" (when the bloomin' idiots couldn't agree on what was fifteen feet on account of 'em all wearing different size shoes) 'n everything. Well, just draw your own conclusion or make your own explosion.

With all that off our finger tips we can say once and for all time that if you don't want to miss the time of your young life, better not fail to come to the concert this evening.

Christmas does come once in a while, even if it does seem a long time off. That is, just after it has passed. Well, the time "have arriv" for the musical event of the season—so far. And the Austin College Glee Club and orchestra will be here in full force (if not otherwise) this evening.

That may be a hot line of—well, livestock. But do your own judgment, and if you're an artist, draw your own conclusions; but before you do that come out to the Stock Judging Pavilion at 8 p. m. this evening. If you've bought your ticket, well and good—if not, bring thirty five cents. (No, Amphitheatre, we didn't say "dirty" five cents. Spend that for the "chawin' wax" to keep you interested during the performance.)

But then, some wise-er gink that us says that tomorrow never comes. But then at that, he wasn't so witty. Even the fellow that wrote "snow-bound" was Whittier.

Wives, ask your husbands the following Questions:

- What part of your present income would continue to me if you were to die this year?
- Would this present income take care of me and the children?
- Have you enough estate to defray death expenses?
- Have you an insurance income that would relieve me of investing money in things I know nothing about?
- Have you the lives of the children insured with endowment insurance to enable them to get a good education?
- If you can't afford to pay for insurance could I afford to be without this protection?
- You never leave home without leaving money to defray household expenses, I am asking how it would be if you never returned?

GOD'S WONDERS—"Who is like unto Thee O Lord among the Gods? Who is like unto thee, glorious in holiness, fearful in praises, doing wonders?" Ex. 15: 11.

PALMS AND THORNS.

The Christian world celebrates Palm Sunday in commemoration of one great occasion on which Jesus of Nazareth participated in a piece of spectacularism. Seated upon a mule, He entered the city of Jerusalem with a multitude of people following Him in an ecstasy of enthusiasm. Yet the thorn crown was only a few days away! That is life. The palms and thorns are never far apart. One of the ancient artists in picturing the crucifixion, portrayed a donkey in the background munching the palm branches used yesterday in the triumphal entry. There's a fine bit of human philosophy in that part of the picture. Earth's heroes are generally short lived. It is but a day from the time the mother croons her baby to sleep until she sits beside the window peering down the dark street for the first sight of the returning prodigal. Poverty lurks just around the corner from prosperity; disease and death are held at bay by defenders only slightly stronger than the enemies of health; trouble follows closely upon the heels of triumphant victories. He who expects life to be one uninterrupted succession of victories and rewards is apt to be cynical when he discovers that life has thorn-crowns as well as palm branches. But thorns usually teach us more than palm branches do. The average man, if he is wise, learns more from his defeats than from his successes. A defeat drives him to think; a success lifts him into exultant joy in which thinking is impossible. The defeated man asks: "Why?" The successful man is too busy to ask any questions. He is rejoicing. He has won. He is satisfied. Thereafter he makes no more progress. Enjoy your palms while you have them. Do not discount or disdain them. They strengthen the soul for the day of the thorns.

ALL FOOLS' DAY.

The first of April has long been dedicated to the fools. Each year the list lengthens. The year 1926 welcomes a few new recruits who should be officially introduced: The fool who, being an express opinion concerning matters upon which he is not informed and upon which he has no more right to speak than any other man; the fool who, because the constitution guarantees him the right of freedom of worship, immediately interprets it to mean freedom from worship and thereby loses the inspiration of an hour spent in spiritual introspection and soul-strengthening; the fool who, owning a Russian wolfhound, a country estate with a retinue of servants and an eight cylinder car, does not stop to count the cost of money that comes too easily; the fool who, because someone holds a different opinion, rushes forth to call that one a Bolshevik, a hypocrite, a radical, an atheist, a malcontent or a plain outlaw; the fool who, because one law is personally inconvenient, claims the right to break the law to suit himself and then demands that all other men shall observe the laws that are inconvenient to them; the fool who, having won an argument, thinks that he has established a truth or defended the faith against error; the fool who, because a thing is profitable, thinks it is also moral; the fool who, because a thing is "the latest," wears it regardless of its appropriateness, beauty, convenience, economy or grace; the fool who, because some man gets his picture in the paper, thinks that person is a success to be imitated; and there are many others who will never know the worst fooled man is the one who fools himself that the day is celebrated in their honor because self.

CHANGES OF TIMES.

Since the advent of the "bob" among the feminine population of Lubbock local barber shops number among their patrons about as many female as male customers. How different things are to what they were a decade or so ago. In these times the young women, not only around here, but almost everywhere, were considered exceedingly bold if they even took a look into a barber shop on passing. True, there may have been some who would risk the corner of an eye as they passed, just to get some idea of how such a place looked on the inside. But that was all. They never dared to set foot inside one of these horrid man-frequented establishments. Now-a-days, however, a wonderful change has been wrought, and all by that all powerful potentate—Dame Fashion. She decreed that the proper thing in hair dress should be the "Bob." And the "Bob" it was, and in order that this might be carried out the tide of feminine patrons drifted to the barber shop. First it was a timid few who ventured across the threshold of these places and then the number swelled until now local shops have a good clientele among the ladies of the town. And a local barber in commenting on the change which has come about, says the atmosphere of the shops has been toned up considerably since the ladies have been frequenting the places. Loungers and loafers no longer hang around and indulge in loose conversation. And the shops are places of quiet well-annered establishments. While there are some women haters round about here who deplore this invasion on their stronghold by the fair sex, the shop proprietors are of the opinion that their female customers have done much toward raising the standard of the tonsorial profession in this vicinity.

TRAIN UP A CHILD IN THE WAY HE SHALL GO

And go that way yourself! It is a hard thing to send your child in one direction and go, yourself, in another. I would like to see someone get my boy into Church," said a mother in distress. The youth was living prodigally and recklessly. His whole future was in serious jeopardy. For seventeen years that mother had shown no interest in the church. Her attendance had been irregular and spasmodic. She went when she felt like and could find no excuse for not going. Her influence, so far as the church was concerned, was nil. "Yes," said the pastor, "I would like to see someone get him into the church." If anyone does it will be in spite of that mother. Boys become what they think their fathers are. To point the way of honor and rectitude to a youth is a fine thing to do. To go that way yourself, adding example to precept, is the finest pedagogy in the world. We have grown men hypocrites who advocate one thing and do another. What shall we call parents who send their children to Sunday School and go, themselves, to the golf links? Most of the world knows better than it does. It is not the teaching of the world that is at fault. It is our living that has failed. It is useless to demand that American youth shall keep the law on the public highway if American parents break it in the privacy of their own homes. It is folly to expect the church and the school to successfully compete with the evil example of a father or mother. Train up a child in the way he shall go and go that way yourself.

YUCATAN DIVORCES.

Mexican lawyers, in several of the largest cities of the country, are having quite a practice in securing divorces in Yucatan for American couples who desire to cancel their matrimonial obligations. A circular is sent out to prospective clients promising divorce within thirty days, to be spent in sea voyaging to Yucatan, the "Egypt of America." One Mexican lawyer, asked whether he was in the divorce trade, admitted that he was, saying that he saw no reason why it was wrong to assist Americans in securing divorces in Yucatan when it was all right to help get them in Paris. We agree with him. But he went further when asked if he thought the divorce obtained were valid in the United States, saying "I do not believe they are, but unless attacks are made on them no one need know." He admitted that he did not advise his clients that the law was invalid, because he posed only as an expert on Mexican law, and referred them to American lawyers for advice as to the validity of the decree. Regardless of whether the law is technically violated or not the fact remains that the Yucatan divorce trade is a fraud on those who secure them, if as the lawyer says, they are not valid here. Every one connected with the business knows that those seeking Yucatan divorces want them for their effect in the United States, and with this knowledge, sell them something that is worthless for the purpose. This may not be stealing but it comes pretty close to the mark.

SLANDER OVER THE RADIO.

Radio broadcasting offers unexcelled opportunities for slander because, unlike the printed page, it leaves no telltale, not to be denied, record of what is said. Into the ether the story goes, to be picked up here and there far and near, by unknown listeners and then out of sound, without leaving a trace. Effective denial of a canard is exceedingly difficult. An interesting illustration of this fact comes from Chicago, where State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, recently flipping the dials of his radio, tuned in on some hilarious dance music from a cabaret, and was amazed to hear the announcer proclaim that "our friend, State's Attorney Crowe, is sitting at a front table." Mr. Crowe secured a squad of detectives, and arrested five men operating the station and declared he was going to punish the guilty ones to the limit of his authority.

ANOTHER "CRISIS".

The "Wets" have started their Big Push. At Washington hot words and serious charges have been hurled about. From various large cities the lamentations from the thirsty break all records. Newspapers conduct polls and straw votes. Debates in religious circles are punctuated with rows; Nicholas Murray Butler, raises his voice in support of the old saloon; a Chicago psychopathist predicts that the American of the future will be a "mental child" because under the Volstead act he will be prevented from developing his will power and an army of ex-brewers, barkeepers and hangers-on insist that almost everybody thinks prohibition is a flop. Meanwhile the distillers and professional bootleggers are saying nothing. They seem to be content with existing conditions—but the poor brewer is having hard sledding. On the surface it would seem to be another "crisis" in our history.

"SIGNS" FORETELLS HARD YEAR.

Chinese citizens are convinced that 1926 will be a "bad" year, with almost continual civil wars, and probably, trouble with foreign powers. What convinced them? Because in the first days of this month, about noon time, the sky became almost as dark as at midnight and remained so for several minutes. The sign could not be more certain to the Chinese! Before laughing at these wellow people check off your own prejudices and "beliefs." Wouldn't your idiosyncrasies appear just as foolish to the Chinese as his signs look to us?

The Vampire

SO THINK WE

We think the political pot in Texas is going to get rather hot before the July primary is over.

We think since the spring rains have started it would be a good time to do some painting and cleaning up around the home. Let's make Lubbock homes compare with the home in any city of this size, or even make them more beautiful. Aside from having the liveliest town in the West why not have the prettiest too.

We think that Lubbock should get thoroughly behind the Kiwanis Club in its pretty yard and homes campaign, and make the Lubbock homes and yards prettier than ever before.

We think that while we are thinking of cleaning up the homes and the yards we might take into consideration that this means a healthier town also, and strive to keep epidemics out of the community in this way.

We think that cleanliness is of the greatest preventatives of sickness that can be found. Let's fight disease by cleaning up the back yard and the front yard and keeping the alleys clean.

We think that with the rains that we have had in the past few days that the farmers will get a fine start on their 1926 crop. Let's diversify it, and make a sure hit on something this year.

We think that if Lubbock will lend the proper encouragement this country can be made one of the most prosperous dairying sections of the United States, and with the splendid diversification of crops, there is no need for ever suffering from crop failures.

We think there will be ten times as many chickens raised and marketed in Lubbock this year as there ever has been in any one year before. There will be more milk and butter sold here too. There will be more home grown and fattened hogs and cattle than ever before. That sounds like prosperity to anyone who knows what these products bring on the market.

We think now we should go ahead and white wash our trees again the rain may be over for a few days, and even if it is not every rain deserves a coat of white wash on the trees.

We think the fellow was right when he said there would be no accidents if the other fellow had not been there at the time that he was, but this often occurs in a city the size of Lubbock, but a little more care in crossing an intersection might help to eliminate many of the accidents.

We think that Lubbock has some of the very nicest window decorators. While some of the windows are greatly neglected. Pretty windows make pretty stores, and Lubbock should pride herself in this as she does in many other things.

IT IS REPORTED

It is reported that the average farmer would be better satisfied if the smart guys who are always trying to tell them something would show them a profit rather than a long string of isms.

That men and women think together on one thing and that is that they both worry about women's clothes.

That burglars are in the city, and they should be given a warm reception. Folks that are that low down should not be given any consideration when found prowling.

That there was a good attendance at the churches at Sunday School yesterday regardless of the weather.

That a news boy club was organized yesterday, and about forty became members of the newsboy's forum. They will meet every week.

That people will learn more about Texas and what Texas produces the coming week than they ever learned before. Newspapers will tell about Texas. This is Texas Industrial week.

It is reported that two covered wagons were seen on the streets of Clovis, New Mexico, and many of the children of the city were curious to know what they were?

It is reported that there will be more April fools this year than ever before in Texas. This is based on the report that there are 100,000 more people in Texas than there were a year ago. We have not yet heard from Florida.

It is reported that some of the head revenue men have invited all respectable bootleggers to come in and make a report of their profits and pay their income tax and they will not be molested by the law enforcers. This should be investigated by congress.

HERE AND THERE

If the modern girl can dress for any occasion in 55 seconds, that is not so remarkable when you figure that it is only about 4 seconds for each alleged quince of apparel.

The really efficient wife is one who has convinced her husband that darned socks are uncomfortable.

As they might well are, if they are darned in a certain way. A Wall street broker says the top of a market has been reached when the bell boys and chambermaids start coming in. Our observing contraband, M. M. F., has a better system than that. He says a bull movement is at its end when it strikes the first page of the daily newspapers.

The Great Dry Movement
"Personally," said Dr. Goodson, "I think the permission to prescribe liquor could be taken away from the physicians of the country without endangering the life of a single patient."

Mrs. Finley Mason sang "O dry those Tears."—From a Chy county, Mo., Paper.

"I fancy it is the foot-rule now-a-days, but when I was a young man it was a measurement, now entirely obsolete, called 'three fingers,'" replied astute Mr. Livermore.

An inventor is said to have produced a machine for beating carpets. It is presumed that, like many other inventions, a machine for beating board bills was first evolved by the Chinese.

The Old-Fashioned Way
"We and wife raise our children in the good old fashioned way," said Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge.
"That so?" returned an acquaintance.
"How do you do it?"

Dull
"How are politics here?" asked a traveling salesman from the city.
"Dull as dishwater!" answered the landlord of the Pruntytown tavern.
"Why, there's only seven candidates out for sheriff thus far."

TEXAS

By J. MARVIN NICHOLS

Palo Pinto—1857
Organized April 27, 1857; created August 27, 1856.
Built out of Navarro, Bosque and original municipality of Milan. Palo Pinto, the county seat. Derives its name from the Palo Pinto River.

Jack—1857
Organized July 1, 1857; created August 27, 1856.
Built out of Cooke and Fannin Counties, and original municipality of Red River.

Jacksboro, the county seat.
Named after the two sons of a great patriot of the American Revolution. The sons were William H. and Patrick C. Jack. The latter came to Texas about 1832; the former, about 1835. They were in the forefront of the bloody battles in those days. They both died of yellow fever in 1844.

Blanco—1858
Organized April 12, 1858; created February 12, 1858.
Built out of Burnet, Hays, Gillespie, Comal and Travis counties, and original municipality of Bastrop.

Johnson City, the county seat.
Named for Blanco River, "blanco" meaning white, for it flows great distances through a chalky limestone formation. This is one of streams named by Aguayo on his famous expedition in 1721.

Zapata—1858
Organized April 26, 1858; created January 22, 1858.
Built out of Starr and Webb counties, and original municipality of Bexar.

Zapata, the county seat.
Named for Col. Antonio Zapata—a native Mexican—but a sympathizer of the Texas Republic. Owned a large cattle ranch on the Rio Grande—now Zapata county. He was shot and beheaded, and his head raised on a pole. He was murdered by the Royalists, after the fashion of the patriot Hidalgo.

Bee—1858
Organized July 25, 1858; created December 8, 1857.
Built out of San Patricio and Refugio counties, and original municipality of Goliad.

Named for Bernard E. Bee, a South Carolinian, who came to Texas in 1836.
He at once joined the Texas forces and became famous in the wars and official annals of the Republic. One of the three Commissioners sent with Santa Anna to renew before General Jackson his promises made to the Texans. They were never kept.

Montague—1858
Organized August 2, 1858; created December 24, 1857.
Built out of Cooke and Fannin counties, and original municipality of Red River.

Montague, the county seat.
Named for Daniel Montague, of Massachusetts, who went to Louisiana in 1820. Hearing of the Alamo, he rushed to Texas' defense, but too late, for San Jacinto had been won. In 1836, he moved to Texas and settled on Red River. He died in the winter of 1876.

Hamilton—1858
Organized August 2, 1858; created January 22, 1858.
Built out of Bosque, Lampasas, Comanche and Travis counties, and

CHANCE

Chance made him rich, but you can not find
That the self-same chance had made him kind.
Rich ore he struck
By a stroke of luck,
From the wheel of fortune he drew a prize.
But luck had no charm that could make him wise.
Chance filled his purse with a gold on store
But left him just as he was before.
He was rough and loud
And his speech was proud,
He was still the man that he used to be,
For luck couldn't make him good company.

Chance couldn't give him what books contain,
It could fill his purse, but not his brain,
And it seems too bad
That the luck he'd had
Couldn't make him gentle, and kind and true
But these are miracles luck can't do.
The wheel of fortune may bring you gold,
But the man you'll be is your own to mold,
Chance makes you rich
By a lucky pitch,
But each for himself must his knowledge learn,
And the traits worth while every man must earn.

AMARILLO HOUNDS TAKE COURSE HONORS

Amarillo dog took first and third money in the coursing at the Wofford coursing park Sunday, while a Lubbock dog took second place. "Excuse My Dust," owned by Rolf Alford of Amarillo, took first prize of $35; "Nellie," owned by Fred Whitman of Lubbock, took second money, $15; and Irwin Henn-shot's "Miss Tornado," of Amarillo took third prize of $10.

Eighteen greyhounds were entered. A crowd of approximately 500 witnessed the races, which started promptly and led up through 25 preliminary races to the final events. All the rabbits were killed.

The next coursing will probably be in two weeks, Wofford said yesterday.

Pairs Announced In Qualifying Golf Tourney

Municipal Qualifying Golf Tournament is to begin Wednesday, March 24th under supervision of J. O. Smith, E. S. Stewart, Lee Duggan and Martin Hart, members of tournament committee. Arrangement has been made to play three flights of 18 holes each in order to select the players who will represent the Association against Charles Quail and Jimmie Samson of Port, Texas. The first flight will be played Wednesday by all entrants and the eight players who maintain low score will enter Thursday's flight. The four remaining contestants will enter Friday's flight for the final choice.

Those qualifying for Wednesday's flight have been paired as follows and playing partner requested to arrange their time of play for Wednesday's flight and register their score with the keeper at the links and also at Bowen's Drug Store. The winners of Wednesday's flight will be paired and announcement of Thursday's pairing made in the Avalanche Thursday morning. The same procedure will be followed Friday and those entering the tournament are requested to watch the Avalanche for details, and further arrangements, including ground rules.

Wednesday's Flight—Germany and Slaughter; Smith and McWhorter; Duggan and Carter; Stewart and Joyce; Adcock and Stubbs; Wilson and Jarrott; Bowen and McLarty.

HERE AND THERE IN LOCAL SPORTS

Baseball—baseball—the season is near at hand and the skipper is daily receiving letters from prospective players who want to come to Lubbock for the season. It is now time for Lubbock to get behind the Skipper and his baseball plans.

Is Lubbock going to Denver this year? That question is asked the Skipper by all out of town baseball fans each time they see him. What will be the final answer when the time comes for the Denver tournament? Yes or no—the answer is in the hands of the people now, so get in with the rest and let's boost the Hubbers through the season.

Captain Merrill has told the baseball club that any time the grandstand shows that it will not take care of the crowds that he will be ready to make expansion of same.

The signs of the ball park will soon be painted, according to Sheld. All signs from foul line to foul line have been sold. That is a great sign to show to Hubbers together with the benefit that will be derived from the advertising of the signs.

Plans are now being made for a great organization for the backing of the Hubber ball team this summer. The meeting is to be called for Friday evening at the city hall. Be present for the organization.

The municipal golf qualifying tournament will be under way Wednesday evening according to plans of Lee Duggan, J. O. Smith, Martin Hart and Buddie Stewart, the tournament committee.

Fourteen golfists have qualified for the qualifying tournament. They are as follows: Germany, Smith, Duggan, Slaughter, Wilson, Adcock, Bowen, McWhorter, Joyce, Stubbs, Jarrott, McLarty Carter Stewart.

HOPPE TO DEFEND TITLE

NEW YORK, March 22.—Willie Hoppe, world's 18.1 ball line billiard champion, will defend his title against young Jake Schaefer, at Dwyer's academy, New York, in a 3-600 point match starting March 29. There will be 12 blocks of 500 points each.

In addition to a 16 voice Glee club which has worked together this year and a large number of which have been members of the club for the past two years, the Austin College group will present a seven piece orchestra which is claimed to be one of the best jazz orchestras in Texas college circles this year.

The Kangaroos are on their regular "West Texas" tour which they have made for the past several years. They have appeared at Nocona, Decatur, Quanah, Amarillo, and Plainview. They go to Colorado, Abilene, and other points south and east of Lubbock after leaving here and will conclude their program with broadcasting program over station WFAA of the Dallas News, Dallas, before returning to Sherman to resume their studies.

Former students of Austin College will meet the visiting representatives of the Sherman school when they arrive this morning, according to Dr. W. T. Read, graduate of the school. They will be entertained with a banquet at the Tech Cafeteria at six o'clock this afternoon just prior to the evening program at 8 o'clock. Fourteen former students are expected to attend the banquet.

Night Coughing Relieved At Once

Why suffer continually from a persistent, weakening night cough when you can get almost instant relief, and usually break the cough completely in 24 hours by a new method based on the famous Dr. King's New Discovery?

Here is the method: You simply take one teaspoonful and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. It has a double action. It not only soothes and heals irritation, but also removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of the coughing. As a result even the worst cough usually disappears quickly.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children, too—no harmful drugs. Very economical, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

CLEAN-UP DRIVE

Lubbock is a nice and beautiful city, throbbing with business and industrial progress, she is far behind from a sanitary standpoint and should immediately "mend her fences" against the onslaught of disease that follow civilization.

Dr. Barnett declared that while this country is considered highly favorable to good health, climatic and other conditions considered, the cold facts are that while diseases have not existed here in the past—it has been a thinly settled country and pointed out that the constantly increasing population makes combating of diseases a situation that is hard to cope with.

Lubbock Dr. Barnett pointed out, has spent too much time, effort and money in securing the great school of technology here to permit the development of that institution to be retarded in even a slight degree by the outbreak of an epidemic here. That parents demand that their children be surrounded with healthful conditions and that spreading of news from this city that a fearful epidemic had taken its toll in life and suffering here would dispel their confidence in Lubbock as a school town and would be reflected in attendance at the college, Dr. Barnett said.

The city health officer must have absolute co-operation of the entire citizenship in order to further the work of his office, Dr. Barnett said.

In view of the fact that the entire time of the county health nurse is given to work in rural schools and rural communities, there is a great need for a full time city nurse, Dr. Barnett said. Later this matter was discussed by Dr. Rollo and Mrs. Wm. Meador who insisted that Lubbock should take immediate steps to secure a nurse to take care of the public health of the city.

Upon Dr. Barnett's suggestion that vaccination of all school children against small pox and other diseases should be compelled by the school board, this matter was discussed and a committee will make every possible effort to have the board adopt this rule.

Dr. Ehlers Speaks
Dr. Ehlers, who is an able speaker and well versed in the problems of city sanitation, pointed out many of the hazards existing here and stated that the health department at Austin must have a kindred organization in Lubbock in order to properly carry on its program. He pointed out that while there is now only one man here through which this work can be done, and that while he—Dr. J. W. Rollo—is enthusiastic, willing and capable of carrying on the work in a big way, his hands are tied in that there is no authority given him for the enforcement of a health program. This remark was considered by his hearers as an indication that ordinances supporting sanitary measures here should be adopted, with the employment of trained sanitary officers.

Dr. Ehlers called upon Police Chief T. E. May to relate some of the terrible conditions existing here. Mr. May declared that the club women of Lubbock who are already contributing much to the promotion of health work, could do even more if organized into a single group for this particular work.

Miss Mae Murfee made a short talk on the tourist camp situation, and some of the menaces that develop in the camps here.

Dr. I. E. Barr pointed to the needs of a meat ordinance and said that steps should be taken to induce the city commission to adopt an ordinance that had already been adopted.

FRANKLIN FLOOD

sections of the jam, separated by spaces of open water. One is at Oil City. The next is down the river at a place known as Smoky, the third at East Sandy and the fourth at Brandon.

The one at Smoky was formed Monday afternoon, when an ice pack on the site of the big rock bridge, which was torn away Sunday, moved down the river for a distance of two and a half miles. It tore along at the speed of a mill race, tearing down oil well derricks, and telegraph poles and gouging out railroad embankments along the way.

Only one railroad, the Pennsylvania, is now serving Franklin. And it can operate over but one of its tracks. The other track is under water.

Oil City is without lights and power. An emergency tower for carrying feed wires from Erie was surrounded by ice and collapsed.

Stores in the north end business section of Oil City were flooded during the afternoon. Two bridges over the river were menaced by the ice pack. The Erie railroad owner of one of them, ran out strings of coal cars in an effort to ballast the bridge.

A row boat taxi service was established there to take care of store clerks marooned by the flood.

(1) Of the seven teachers employed, five are new in the system.
(2) Close cooperation exists among the teachers, and uniform standards are employed as to revision and correction of written work.

(3) Careful and extensive drill is given in grammar and general fundamental principles.

(4) Outlines are required with all themes, and pupils correct their own errors.

In view of these conditions, it is recommended that the fourth unit in English be retained on the list of the school's credits.

With regard to the Latin, the provision made on the examination of the material, namely, that note books showing the work in prose composition of the second year and fourth year class be resubmitted, is reiterated. During the last three or four years the prose work has not been satisfactorily done. Students should carefully correct all errors. The plan preferred is for corrections to be made on the blank page facing each page of written work.

Scansion in fourth year work should be required of each individual student.

Three notebooks, showing work of students doing excellent average, and barely passing work, should be submitted from each class.

2. Credit is being asked in advanced arithmetic, and is recommended provided the material submitted be satisfactory.

3. Commendation is given the following indications of progress:
(1) Additional building comprising 29 class rooms has become available this year.

(2) The high school teaching force has been increased from 27 to 36 teachers.

(3) Additional room has been provided in the elementary grades.

(4) An elementary course of study has been printed.

(5) Regular meetings of all teachers are held twice each month.

(6) A music supervisor is now employed.

(7) Teachers in all departments are doing organized cooperative work.

(8) Science equipment valued at $500.00 has been added.

(9) Plans have been formulated for the erection of 24 additional rooms besides two library study hall rooms, to be ready for use next year. With the completion of this building program, 1300 additional students can be cared for. The eight grade rooms now working on the half-day plan will be properly provided for.

It is recommended that at least $3000.00 be invested in library equipment. This is needed to support the curriculum now offered. With a flourishing college at its door, the high school will be brought face to face with the weaknesses of its students who go unprepared to college. This unpreparedness should therefore be prevented by requiring every student's best effort and by providing necessary equipment for that effort. Improvement should not cease until the library is second to none in the State.

The school authorities and citizens of the town are to be congratulated on the very evident improvement made during the present school year.

The cordial spirit of cooperation expressed by the superintendent and all teachers is very sincerely appreciated by the visiting supervisor.

BAKER FURNITURE STORE OPENED AT SLATON

Forty five hundred south plains people registered at the Slaton store of the Baker Furniture Company during its formal opening, and attendance was so large Saturday from five to six o'clock that the large new store and the Palace Theatre were filled to capacity and many occupied the street and walks in front of the buildings.

Mrs. Wm. D. Green and Mrs. M. L. Price, of Lubbock, together with a group of Slaton ladies, were hostesses, and were assisted in the entertainment of the visitors by W. C. Rylander, of Lubbock, who after an appropriate introduction by Mrs. Green, delivered an address in which he commended the business abilities and progressiveness of Norton Baker owner of the new store, who has been in the furniture business on the plains during the past 15 years.

Little Jackie Pierce, of Lubbock, received hearty applause after executing the "Wheel Dance". He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Q. Pierce of Lubbock.

Miss Eulalia Burrus gave a comic reading that proved highly entertaining.

Miss Ruth Whitaker favored the large audience with a solo, with piano accompaniment by Miss Florence Griffin.

Wm. Föderman, manager of the new store, and who assisted Mr. Baker in arranging the new store, read "Boots", by Kipling.

Businessmen of Slaton congratulated Mr. Baker upon the success of the opening of his new store from the standpoint of attracting attendance, and accredited him with giving Slaton the largest crowd that had ever been drawn to that city by a single business enterprise.

Throughout Thursday, Friday and Saturday people from throughout the trade territory served by the Baker stores filed through the new Slaton store and inspected the new stock.

Each visitor registered on a card series, placing thereon a selection of some piece or suite of furniture in the store, and it was because her name was on the card that was drawn that Mrs. E. B. Gunn, of Wichita, received the prize. The drawing was conducted by Mrs. Coke Oliver, and Mrs. Vaughan, of Slaton, and Mr. Clyde Ford, of Oklahoma City, representative of the Chittenden & Eastman Company, of Burlington, Iowa.

Mr. Ford declared that he had never witnessed a more successful opening than that staged by the Baker Furniture Company.

Mrs. Gunn had selected a hand decorated bed room suite from the large new stock of the Baker Furniture Company at Slaton Saturday afternoon at its formal opening, and when the card bearing her name and the gift selection was drawn she was presented the suite, valued at $235 by Norton Baker, owner of the Baker Furniture Company which has maintained a store at Lubbock during the past three years and has just opened the Slaton store with a $15,000 stock of new merchandise.

Stucco Home Can Be Re-Colored In Three Easy Ways

(Article 5 in a series of Spring remodeling suggestions)

If your home has a painted wood exterior, you can almost completely change its appearance by repainting it in a different color-scheme. This is true also of the stucco house, thought most owners do not know it.

The first step in renewing and re-coloring stucco is to clean the surface thoroughly. This can be done with any non-alkaline soap and a medium hard brush, if there is no grease or grime on the walls. But if there is, a solution of one part muriatic acid to five parts water must be used. With either the soap or the acid solution, the walls should be scrubbed and then washed down with clean water.

Next, loose particles must be removed and cracks must be mended. Patching may be done with ready-colored stucco of the desired new color, or with Portland Cement mixed with one-and-a-half parts of sand and enough water to make it workable. Then the walls are ready for the new finish.

Factory-mixed stucco-finish may be applied over the old surface if the original stucco is a hydraulic lime or a Portland cement material. The colored stucco-finish should be mixed with water to a creamy consistency and then, when the walls are perfectly dry, should be applied with an ordinary painter's brush. The new finish need be applied to no greater depth than necessary to hide the old surface.

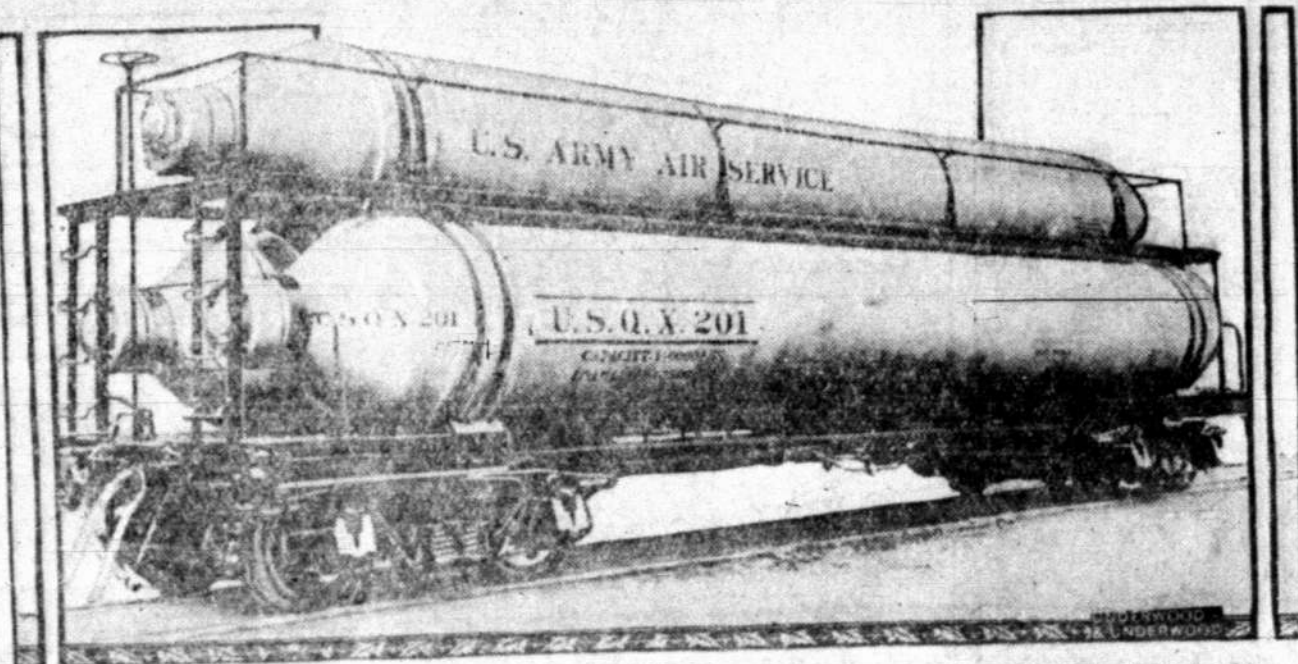

Another way to accomplish the desired result is to buy an uncolored stucco-finish and mix the color in. However, this is unsafe for the owner himself to try, as even the best trained mechanic can not attain the precision of a color-mixing machine. So the home-mixed material carries with it the possibility of uneven or impermanent color.

Still a third method is to use a stucco paint. Some of these are ready-mixed; others require mixing. Those which have oil as an ingredient require a priming coat under the finish coat.

No stucco ought to be refinished until at least six months after application of the first stucco. This interval is especially necessary where oil paint is to be used, because this material "seals" the stucco and prevents further "seasoning."

There is only a slight difference between the cost of refinishing a stucco house with factory-mixed stucco paint. Either method can be carried out by the householder himself.

Helium Tank Car, U. S. Air Service

This helium tank car has just been built for the United States air service. Its capacity is 200,000 cubic feet of gas. Under the old system it would take 1,200 small cylinders to fill the 200,000-cubic-foot dirigibles in the air service, and a loss of 15 per cent usually resulted.

REFORMERS TRY TO SING ROADHOUSES OUT OF BUSINESS, BUT LANSING COPS NAB ENTIRE PERAMBULATING CHOIR

LANSING, Ill., March 22.—The campaign of prayer started by church people to close roadhouses in this district has closed the roadhouses to the church people but others are still welcome.

Brother Ike Williams and the Rev. Benjamin Jones have folded up their tents and departed and two automobile loads of zealous church folk are facing charges of disturbing the peace. Thus ends what promised to be a rather spectacular reform wave.

It was spectacular enough while it lasted but the results are in no way what the church people had expected.

Things came to a climax when the congregations, deserting the churches for the first time, carried their campaign to the doors of the road houses. On the front steps of Joe's place the prayer meeting was in full swing when two brown bottles came whizzing through the quiet air.

"Get out of here and stay," screamed Joe's wife from an up stairs window as she potated another bottle, "onward Christian soldiers."

Swelled from the threats of the sixty reformers.

WICHITA, Kan., March 22.—A dramatic moment occurred in Judge Pierpont's court this morning when the cases against Phil A. Drumm, John T. Jaynes and B. F. Spaulding, charged with conspiring to embezzle funds from the American State Bank were called for trial.

Special prosecutor Ben F. Hegler representing the attorney general's office at Topeka asked to make a statement, saying:

"The case against Drumm has been tried twice and both times the jury has disagreed. In my opinion the evidence was sufficient to convict, but it did not seem to do so. I asked the attorney general's witness and he authorized me to say that the court may take such action as it desires."

The judge then asked him if he recommended dismissal. Hegler replied in the affirmative. The Jaynes and Spaulding cases were then called.

"What is your recommendation in these cases?" Judge Pierpont asked Assistant County Attorney Carter.

"The name 'Carter' replied, 'Then I dismiss them all,' said Judge Pierpont.

Thus with the exception of the pending appeal of John Richardson and O. A. Powell, president and vice president of the American State Bank, now pending before the supreme court, the famous American State Bank case is dead.

There have been seven trials in the district court occupying a total of 110 days over a period of nearly three years. This morning's dismissal means the end of any criminal prosecution of Drumm who on the night of the bank's failure in June assumed all responsibility.

Jaynes as the president Kansas Gas & Petroleum and allied companies borrowed about $800,000 from the American State Bank. Both Drumm and Richardson were stockholders in these oil concerns.

Spaulding has generally been conceded to have been a victim of circumstances. As editor of the Jaynes companies he was presumed to have an intimate knowledge of all Jaynes' dealings with the bank.

It has been believed for a year or more that Spaulding was merely being held in order that the case against Jaynes might not be weakened.

The newspapers are without "moral turpitude" stuff last week but apparently the experience was not fatal.

MILE RELAY TO BE HOTLY CONTESTED IN RELAY GAMES

AUSTIN, Mr. 22.—Indications point to the mile relay being perhaps the most hotly contested event in the Texas Relay Games here March 26. The list of entries for that event, in addition to half a dozen teams of unknown calibre, include eight relay teams of proved ability. Georgetown and Notre Dame have powerful combinations which have shown up strongly against all competition. Iowa, winner of first in the Big Ten indoor meet recently, and Illinois, winner of fourth, are entered. The four winners in the Missouri Valley indoor meet are also included. These are Kansas, Oklahoma, Kansas Aggies, and Missouri.

As two automobiles drew up to the curb, police seized the whole prayer party and escorted it to the town station.

Sunday a petition signed by all the church members of the five small towns in this district was being sent to enlist the aid of Government agents in closing the road houses.

The reformers had announced they would run the road houses out of business with the power of prayer. Meetings were held nightly in the various churches. When the road houses failed to respond, the plan of serenading the proprietors was hit upon. Apparently it has wrecked the whole campaign.

Southern Rail Labor To Dicker for Wage Boost March 25th

CHICAGO, March 22.—Attempts of railroad workers of the west to restore war time wage levels, which would mean annual increases totaling approximately $500,000,000 will be started in Chicago, April 5.

Heads of the conductors, trainmen and switchmen's unions will meet with railroad executives on that date and the meeting is to be followed by conferences between other unions and the railroads at the later dates.

Southern railroad workers are to start a similar campaign, meeting the southern railroad executives in Washington, March 25.

H. R. CURRY MAKING RACE FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

To the voters of Lubbock county:

After earnest solicitation of friends and a desire to be of some help to my country as well as help to myself and family, I have decided to enter the race for commissioner of precinct No. 1, of Lubbock county.

I have lived in Texas practically all of my life and in Lubbock county during the past six years, coming here from Limestone county. I am forty years old and have formed all my life. I have never before asked for a public office. I realize I am asking for a big job when I ask the tax payers to place in my hands the distribution of a fund totaling some hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and a job that is certainly not meant for an idler. I believe in strict economy in office and that a public official's time and efficiency belongs to the tax payer just as a laborer's time on the farm belongs to his employer. I am proud of the development of the city of Lubbock and feel like that the rural districts should have the same honest consideration of its officials that the city has and should the voters elect me to this office my platform will be honesty, economy and development.

H. R. CURRY, of Woodrow.

CANDY KID, MASTER CRIMINAL, GIVES HOT TIPS ON NEW YORK'S UNDERWORLD TO GOTHAM POLICE IN CONFESSION

BY FRANK GETTY
United News Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, March 22.—The "Candy Kid" who organized his "night club gang" on a business like basis, with a sinking fund for defense fees when one of the members was arrested and expert appraisers who made sure that the gang's efforts were not wasted in stealing paste, is beginning to rue his latest contract with the law.

"The Candy Kid," who is wanted in Baltimore under the name of Richard R. Whittemore sits with detectives at police headquarters, ironically confessing to his complicity in every theft of importance that is mentioned. He is anxious to be held in New York prison for a long, long time, for if the Maryland authorities get him it will mean the state prison's electric chair. The "Kid" killed a guard setting out of state prison there.

But just when Whittemore had the authorities convinced that he was a successor to Gerald Chapman as a master criminal, they linked his name on Sunday with the murder of two bank employees in Buffalo. So the "Kid" may land in the electric chair, after all.

The police believe they can implicate Whittemore and his pal, Milton Goldberg, in the killing of Charles Clifford and John H. Meyers, bank employees who were shot down without warning by bandits while they were transferring funds from an armored car to the Buffalo federal reserve bank. The gang escaped with $92,000 but their "Murder car" was traced to Goldberg's New York address.

Baltimore detectives are on their way to Albany with extradition papers, hoping to take the "Candy Kid" back to be tried for murder of the prison guard a year ago.

New York police are learning so much about the underworld from the "Kids' confessions, however, that they are thinking up a lot more questions to ask him and may want him around for some time. They have his wife, the daughter of a Baltimore charwoman held incommunicado and they have several alleged members of a "night club" gang which is believed to have committed a number of recent crimes.

KEEN COMPETITION IN TEXAS RELAY GAMES

AUSTIN, Tex., Mar. 22.—The class of competition entered for the Texas Relay Games here March 26 is indicated by the results of the Missouri Valley indoor meet at Ames and the Big Ten indoor meet at Evanston recently. In each of these, the climax of the indoor season in the two circuits, who will appear in Austin made an impressive showing. The Big Ten meet being won by the University of Iowa, one of the latest entrants in the Texas Relays. The Texas Relays will be the first outdoor competition of the year for all circuits.

In the Big Ten indoor meet six first places out of a possible nine went to men who will be seen in action here March 26. Warner, Illinois, took first in the 60 yard high hurdles, second in that event going to Guthrie, Ohio State, also entered for the Texas Relays. Martin, Northwestern, won the 880 yard run. First in the mile went to Kennedy, Ohio State, and Dauber, Iowa, took the shot. Put Iowa's great relay team, took the mile relay, while three entrants in the Texas meet tied for the pole vault.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

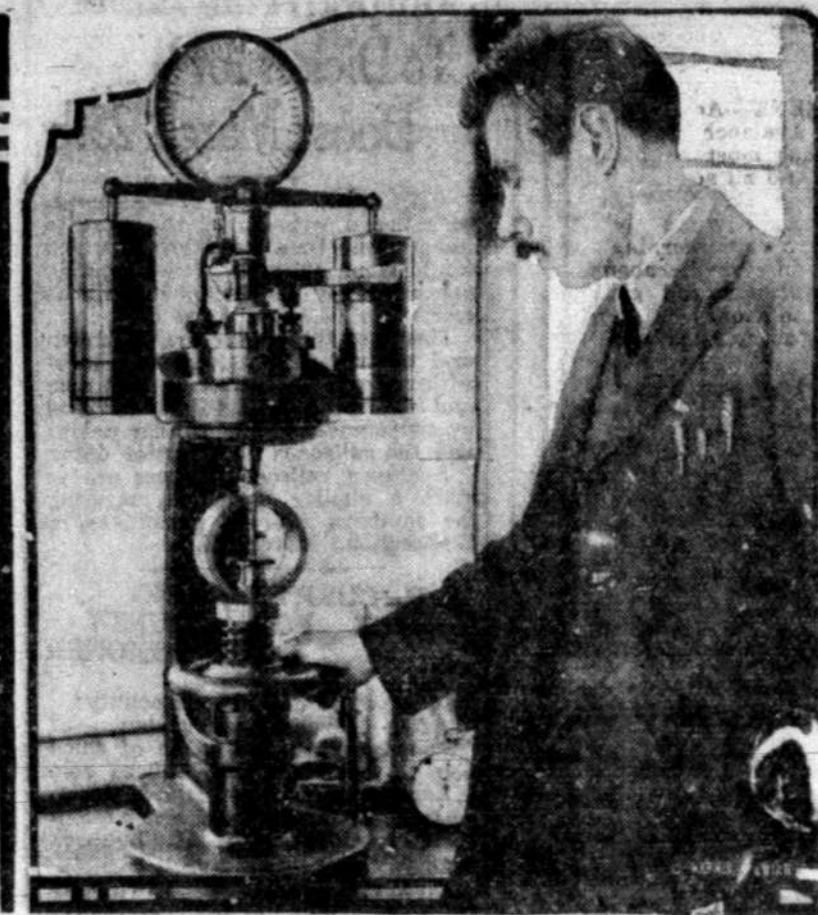

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga. (adv.)

IS YOUR HEALTH SLOWLY SLIPPING AWAY?

Lubbock People Advise You to Act In Time!

Is failing health making you uneasy and unhappy? Are you tired, weak and dispirited? Suffer daily backache and stinging, rheumatic twinges? Then look to your kidneys! The kidneys are the blood-filters. Once they weaken, the whole system is upset. You have dizzy spells, headaches and urinary irregularities. You feel all worn-out. Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Thousands recommend Doan's. Here is Lubbock proof:

W. C. Matheny, painted, 715 Eighteenth St., says: "My rest was broken nights, because my kidneys acted too freely. I was bothered a lot with backache, too. The sharp, cutting pains over my kidneys were so bad, I couldn't stoop or do any heavy lifting. I used Doan's Pills and they rid me of the attack."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mr. Matheny had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

PRESIDENT'S EXAMPLE RELIEVES HOSTESSES

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Washington has always been famous as a dining out town where many men in public life "dug their graves with their teeth."

That is being changed, and President Coolidge himself is setting an example for other leaders here in the matter of preserving health by abstemiousness in dining.

Sometimes the President takes his modest meal at home before going out to dinner elsewhere. Then at the big dinner he may toy with a dish or two, or he may even pass the delicacies untouched.

This has led other men in public life to do likewise, and nowadays it is scarcely a problem for the hostess to supply prominent guests with enough food. She can make her menu simple if she likes without finding anyone disturbed at the scantiness of her hospitality.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS. To the Sheriff or any Constable of Lubbock County, Greeting: You are commanded to summon R. S. Perry, and the heirs and legal representatives of R. S. Perry, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county; to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Lubbock County, to be held at Lubbock in said Lubbock County, on the 5th day of April, A. D. 1926, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 26th day of February, A. D. 1926, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court No. 2447, wherein O. G. Kershner is plaintiff, and R. S. Perry, and the heirs and legal representatives of R. S. Perry, are defendants, and said petition alleges that plaintiff seeks defendants in trespass to try title for Lot 4, in Block 1, Dixie Land Addition to the Town of Lubbock, Lubbock County, Texas, and in the alternative seeks for foreclosure of vendor's lien on Lot 4, Block 1, Dixie Land Addition to the Town of Lubbock, Lubbock County, Texas, securing the payment of 3 notes each for $225.00, dated May 5, 1924, due 12, 18 and 24 months after date thereof, signed by R. S. Perry and payable to order of La Verne Kershner and transferred to O. G. Kershner.

Wherefore on final hearing plaintiff prays for title and possession of the lot or in alternative for foreclosure of the lien on said lot. Herein said lot, but have you before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my official signature and seal at office in Lubbock, this 27th day of February A. D. 1926. (Seal) LOUIE F. MOORE, District Clerk, Lubbock County Texas. By Olive, Fluke, deputy. 122-4 Tuesday

NEW YORK FINANCE

United News Financial Editor
NEW YORK, March 22.—Monday's market was a trifle more encouraging and indicated that investors as well as the speculative element find new bases for activity. All during the past week the market had been sinking and stocks had few friends. Traders awoke to the fact that several vital items had been overlooked. Oils were found to be around the levels obtained toward the beginning of 1924. The latter year was a very good one for the oil group and 1925 was infinitely better. Nineteen twenty six promises to continue or to exceed the 1925 rate.

Oils are more than holding their own during the past few weeks and are finding considerable new support. Statistically the industry looks excellent. Few can be charged against the oils at this time.

The high class oils, especially the Standards, are conducted along the same industrial lines as steel or any other industrial corporation. After several years of irregularity the industry turned the corner last year and with a larger volume of business done generally, the outlook was improved materially.

Standard of Indiana's 1925 earnings were 29.8 per cent; Mid-Continent Petroleum was up 49.7 per cent; Pan American estimated earnings are more than 75 per cent up and it is remembered that these earnings are being compared with 1924 which was decidedly a fair year for the industry. The street is beginning to appreciate these facts and the appreciation is serving to cut down selling enthusiasm considerably.

In short considerable of the water has been squeezed out of the market and many stocks as well as groups of stocks are showing more response to bullish factors than was possible at the inflated levels around the first of the year. It seems fair to assume that if even Monday's rally should go further, it will be to the tune of more discriminating buying than the case toward the end of last year's bull market.

Other news was generally favorable Monday. The Belgium franc, last week's football in the foreign exchange markets showed an inclination to rally somewhat. Cables reported that the French ministry was taking a saner view of its responsibilities toward the new tax program, but Wall Street is taking French prospects with more than the proverbial grain of salt. The financial community prefers to wait until a new tax program has been passed and is in operation before accepting prospects at face value again.

GREAT HIGHWAY CONFERENCES ASSEMBLING IN WASHINGTON TO ATTACK TRAFFIC EVILS

By S. P. HOLLINGSWORTH
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 22.—A double barreled assault on traffic evils throughout the nation will be made here this week at Secretary of Commerce Hoover's National Conference on Street and Highway Safety and the convention of the American Automobile Association.

More than one thousand representatives of the organized motorists and other groups vitally concerned with the difficulties encountered by the 20,000,000 citizens driving automobiles in this country, gathered here today for the meetings.

While accident prevention remains the keynote of the conference, the delegates focused their attention on the major problem of congestion.

Two outstanding causes of traffic confusion across the length and breadth of the continent were found. They were:

1. Lack of uniformity in regulations of the various states and in different cities.

2. Failure of authorities to give proper sympathy to traffic problems and the predicament of the motorist.

A national viewpoint on all motor problems was to be stressed both at the Hoover conference which will last until Thursday and the AAA gathering, the latter half of the week, dovetailing into the conference on street and highway safety Thursday afternoon.

The centering of attention upon safety on the streets and highways of the nation, reports to the conference show, has resulted in a decline in the proportion accidents involving motor vehicles from the peak year of 1923. The increase that year over 1922 was 20 per cent, while the decrease in 1925 over 1924 has been found to be no more than five per cent. Considering the addition of 6,000,000 automobiles in this period, the result has been regarded as encouraging.

Translated into terms of human lives, this means that 6,000 persons motoring today who would have lost their lives in street and highway accidents during 1924 and 1925 if traffic fatalities had continued to increase in those years at the same average rate that they increased from 1919 to 1923, Col. A. B. Barber, director of the conference declared.

The important problem of standardization of motor vehicle codes in the various states and recommendations for uniform traffic regulations in the large cities of the country will be considered at the preliminary conference today when the report of the committee on uniform laws and regulations meets.

The conference will get under way formally tomorrow with an opening address by Secretary of Commerce

Hoover, who originated the idea two years ago in calling the first such conference which met in December 1924 here in Washington.

The program of the conference this year will revolve around the five definite reports of standing committees on uniform laws, enforcement, causes of accidents, city traffic facilities, and statistics.

The committee on public relations will probably report Thursday, the last day of the conference, when the final recommendations are considered.

Governors of the various states sent delegations to the conference and they will make their reports tomorrow afternoon. These reports will be discussed in the light of suggested uniformity. The experience of the states where adequate motor laws are enforced will be used as a guide to the formulation of recommendations.

Early Tourists Find Parks In Bad State

L. Pearce and family and his brother, T. J. Pearce, of Mitchell, South Dakota, passed through Lubbock yesterday enroute to Los Angeles, Calif., and as they are making the trip by automobile, they represent the crop of tourists that will pass through this section.

The tourists reported that they are not finding tourist camps along the way so well equipped or attended as is usually the case later in the year, which has resulted from these camps receiving little or no attention at this early season because of the lack of patronage.

With the grass getting greener every day and the lure of the road felt by those whose time can be given to heading it, Lubbock will within a few weeks be visited by what is expected to be the largest caravan of tourists to pass this way for any one season.

The camp ground here has been kept in good condition, the houses are comfortable and ample provision for meeting the needs of the tourists has been made.

It is noticeable here that the early season tourists are equipped with new and high powered cars in most instances, and with the best camping equipment. The large supply of equipment carried by the Pearce family, who are traveling in a six-cylinder closed car, was perhaps used because of their knowledge of the condition of most tourist camps at this early season.

Newsboys' Forum Accorded Large Attendance

The first meeting of the "Forum" was held last Sunday at 4:00 p. m. at the First Christian church here. Some thirty-five boys attended which proved conclusively that they were eager for such an organization in Lubbock, and appreciated the efforts of those who are behind it.

Mr. Townsend opened the meeting by reading the thirteenth chapter of 1st Corinthians, following this by outlining the purposes, functions, and activities of the "Forum," and what he hoped it would mean to the boys. First of all the boys were given to understand that it was to be their own society, a place to meet once a week for discussion, talks by their "big brothers," wholesome entertainment, and lastly a place where they can come for help over the rough places.

It was further outlined that every Friday night the "Forum" would entertain the boys in some suitable manner.

James L. Dow, editor of the Avalanche, gave the boys a splendid, practical talk on the subject, "Newsboy to President," impressing upon his hearers the necessity of honesty, courtesy, and attention to details which they should exercise in their present capacity, in order that they might be well prepared to step into the larger positions later on. Dr. Atkinson and Dr. Jennings were also guests of the "Forum," and each had something of real worth and interest for the boys. The balance of the program consisted of musical numbers by Louise Jennings and O'Neill, and several readings by Mr. Townsend, after which, the boys adjoined to the basement where they found ice cream and cake in abundance.

Yes, the "Forum" went over big, and it is hoped to have more boys at next meeting.

VALUABLE ORE VEINS UNCOVERED BY GOLFERS

AVALON, Catalina Island, March 22.—Golfers have unearthed valuable silver and lead mines on this noted pleasure isle, according to William Wrigley, Jr., owner.

The spearmint king said he stumbled across three rich veins of ore which ambitious players had stirred up with their mashes.

Workmen are now sinking test shafts and assays of the surface are being made. The new mines assay several hundred dollars to the ton, according to Wrigley, and are the richest on the island.
