COLORADO CITY RECORD, THURSDAY, NOV. 9, 1967

10c PER SINGLE COPY

Dan Travels Far 1,266 Yards In Grid Games

Colorado City's Dan Steakley is traveling to one of the outstanding offensive records in West Texas high school football.

The damaging halfback has grossed 1,266 yards in nine games this season. He has one more to go and, if past performance means anything, he will be near the 1,366 mark come Saturday morning.

Colorado City Record statistics compiled by Don DeLaney, show Steakley has carried the ball 217 times as the No. 1 offensive threat for the Wolves.

No. 2 man in the C-City ground attack has been Co-Captain Ralph Lindsey, who has carried 71 times for a gross gain of 311 yards.

Together, this one-two ground punch has accounted for 1,577 total yards through opponents' defenses.

Steakley in his 217 carries has lost yardage only 10 times — about once each game. This deficit amounts to only 29 yards — leaving the junior halfback a net ground gain of 1,237 yards.

That's a net average of 5.8 yards every time he has carried the ball all season long. Lindsey, the senior fullback, missed the Brady contest because of a hurt leg muscle, and has played in only eight games — one less than Steakley.

But on 71 carries, he has lost yardage only two times — a total of 4 yards — for a net ground gain of 307 yards.

Lindsey's average figures out at net 4.3 yards per carry.

Coach Truman Nix's dependence upon these two runners is reflected in the number of times they are called upon to run.

Only once has Steakley carried less than 15 times in a single game — that was against Roscoe when he raced up and down the field for 214 yards in only 41 tries.

Twice he has been called upon 30 times to handle the ball carrying chores. Once it was 39 times. Other game totals were 25, 19, 17, 23 and 23.

Lindsey's top effort in a single game was 12 carries. Twice he carried only four times. In other games it was 8, 11, 12, 10 and 10.

These offensive statistics are even more impressive for Steakley and Lindsey when you consider the fact that both are outstanding defensive players — so, they're in the game practically all the time.

Light Vote Expected Here For Saturday

FFA District Officer & Ag Teacher

Mitchell County voters go to the polls Saturday with the rest of Texas to decide the fate of six proposed amendments to State Constitution.

Balloting is expected to be light in this election which competes with a new hunting season, Veterans Day and weekend activities. Amendments have never been known to pull large numbers to the polls and there is no other issue at stake on the ballot.

It will be the last balloting at three Mitchell County polling places — Landers, Carr and Spade. Next year these three voting bases will be eliminated and combined with polling places in Lorraine, Westbrook and Colorado City.

Here are the nine voting places open Saturday: In Colorado City at Courthouse and Civic House; in Lorraine at the Ag Building; in Westbrook at Ag Building; at Carr, Landers, Buford and Cuthbert.

The 10th voting box — absentee — had only 8 ballots Wednesday, an indication of the low interest in the election.

Persons marking ballots Saturday on proposed amendments will face a new type of ballot marking. They will place an 'X' in a square adjacent to 'FOR' or 'AGAINST' preceding each proposition. In the past, voters have had a choice of affirmative or negative propositions, scratching out the proposition they opposed.

Here the brief propositions as they will appear on the ballot:

Electric appliance dealers in this area in cooperation with Texas Electric Service Company have launched a two-month Electric Dryer Savings Carnival.

During October and November, participating dealers have a special wiring installation offer for purchasers of electric dryers to be served from the lines of Texas Electric Service Company.

Dealers also offer a wide selection of models of dryers to fit the needs and pocketbooks of those who want to save time and work in drying the family's clothes. The electric company's promotion campaign and advertising by local dealers will tie in with advertising in national magazines and on TV by dryer manufacturers and trade associations. Dealers here who are participating in the two-month promotion have been supplied with colorful window banners, designed around the carnival theme. Some dealers also will conduct in-store demonstrations of electric dryers.

Several makes of dryers also will be displayed in Texas Electric's office for the convenience of those wishing to compare the products of different manufacturers or to get other information about dryers.

Details of the electric company's promotion plan to help increase sales of electric dryers were described to appliance dealers in this area at a recent meeting.

Modern electric laundry equipment is changing the types of fabric in uniforms worn for institutional purposes. The fast washing and drying process now available with modern electric washers and dryers, according to the Live Better Electrically Program of Edison Electric Institute, has affected the selection of uniform fabrics.

With today's flameless electric washers and clothes dryers the new man-made fabrics can be washed easily and emerge practically wrinkle free — or requiring only the minimum amount of ironing.

The laundering advantages of these new fibers not only enable quick changes but require less uniform purchases. Many institutions, such as schools, business concerns and hospitals, where uniforms are required, consider the installation of total electric laundry centers a good investment for care of such garments.

Items About Our Military News From Local Men In Uniform

Marine Private James A. Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Hill of 144 East 11th St., Colorado City, was graduated from eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot San Diego, Calif.

He will now undergo from two to four weeks of individual combat training, and then, after leave at home, will report to his first Marine Corps assignment.

The intensified Marine recruit training emphasizes physical conditioning and survival techniques, both at sea and ashore, to develop self-confidence and endurance. Marksmanship with the M14 rifle and 45-caliber pistol are equally stressed, and close order drill instills the traditions of Marine Corps teamwork.

A thorough study of basic military subjects, hygiene, first aid and sanitation, and the customs, courtesies, history and mission of the Marine Corps serve to polish the new Marine's recruit education and prepare him to join the Marine combat forces.

Airman John L. Campbell, son of Mrs. Marie L. Campbell of 2006 Mulberry, Rt. 1, Colorado City, has completed basic training at Lackland AFB, San Antonio.

He has been assigned to the Air Force Technical Training Center at Chanute AFB, Ill., for specialized schooling as an aircraft maintenance specialist. Airman Campbell is a 1967 graduate of Colorado High School.

Yeoman Third Class William H. Harris, USN, son of Mrs. Vivian V. Harris of 443 Pine St., Colorado City, is serving aboard the anti-submarine warfare support aircraft carrier USS Intrepid off the Coast of North Vietnam.

In Intrepid's aircraft, which fly support missions against targets in North Vietnam, recently hit the 638-foot steel and concrete Keia An bridge.

The bridge, considered by U.S. officials to be a major supply link for the enemy, lost two of its seven spans. Another span was damaged.

The Norfolk, Va., based carrier has been at "Yankee Station" in the gulf since June.

Cadet Fourth Class Nick Moore and Cadet Fourth Class Robert P. Moore, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice B. Moore of 833 E. 10th St., Colorado City, have entered their first year of study at the U.S. Coast Guard Academy in New London, Conn.

They have completed their summer training and now will receive instruction designated to provide the potential officer with the best possible education to aid him in any of the positions in which he may find himself after graduation.

When the cadets complete their four years at the academy they will be awarded a bachelor of science degree and granted a commission as an ensign in the Coast Guard.

As Coast Guard officers they will be called upon to fulfill a wide variety of duties at sea and ashore including the fields of oceanography and communications.

Seaman Recruit Glenn M. Logsdon, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Logsdon of 961 E. 15th St., Colorado City, has been graduated from six weeks of Navy basic training at the Naval Training Center in San Diego, Calif.

In the first weeks of his naval service he studied military subjects and lived and worked under conditions similar to those he will encounter on his first ship or at his first shore station.

In making the transition from civilian life to Naval service, he received instruction under veteran Navy petty officers. He studied seamanship, as well as survival techniques, military drill and other subjects.

CONVERSATION CORNER

THERE are so many glad, glad things that come with being grownup. You can go to bed at night when you want to, with nobody to tell you when.

You can read yourself wall-eyed, all day and all night with nobody to say nay. You can eat what you please when you please. Spend the money you make like you want to. And you can give advice all over the place to people born after you were.

But there are some sad, sad parts to being an adult creature, too. One of the main ones is realizing the death of a dream.

In this case, we're talking about the dying of that little girl dream of a world at peace... death of that once-believed-in end to "wars and rumors of wars."

ALWAYS, when November 11 comes near, there comes back with it things heard as a child. Memory of a dream once held dear.

World War I... the war to "Make the world safe for Democracy," parents and teachers and neighbors called it. And I can see again the big Liberty Bond rallies sparked by tales of terror in Belgium... in the fields of France.

I can hear again the World War I music — among the loveliest ever written... "Long, Long Trail... Til We Meet Again... Little Blue Star in My Window... Somewhere in France... My Buddy."

I can run again, shouting with the rest of the school children, "The war is over! War's OVER! Armistice Day... Armistice Day."

Had no idea what the word "Armistice" meant. Just knew it meant something beautiful and wonderful had happened. The world was safe.

TWENTY-THREE years, one month, and four days later, Pearl Harbor Day burst across the sky.

War again. World War II. Lads known since fifth grade turned into military men almost over night. Some of them went away and long months for years later marched home again, whole.

Some of them died. And somehow the sound of music during World War II became more like a wound in the heart... "White Cliffs of Dover... Wing and a Prayer... My Sister and I... Shining Hour... even Gimme a Girl in My Arms."

VE Day and VJ Day came quietly here at home. No shouting. No running down the streets weeping tears of open joy. Just a locked bathroom door and a prayer was this column's celebration.

It was no more like November 11, 1918, then any average business-as-usual weekday. Still wonder why.

IN ALL A LIFE long there has never been anything else like that first Armistice Day.

"The WAR is over! My country tears of thee..." There is, one may suppose, no reason for a nation to keep sacred, for holiday-means-holy day, the date when World War I ended... any more than there is cause to observe with patriotic fervor, VE Day... VJ Day.

Because then came Korea... and now there is Vietnam. War is with us still.

But every November 11 I remember how it was. And I remember the little girl who used to sing "My country, tears of thee," hugging everybody in sight. "The war's OVER!"

Little girl dreams of a safe world... at peace... sometimes die hard.

TEXAS ELECTRIC SERVICE COMPANY

TIME OUT —

There's plenty on the calendar for Saturday — weekend business, new hunting season, voting on proposed state constitutional amendments.

Somewhere along the line, though, I'm going to take time out to remember Veterans Day.

Those who have served our country in uniform down through the years — and there have been more wars and international police actions than we realize — have contributed above the usual to our well being.

They are due a special thanks from all us... just as are those fine young men who are fighting now in Vietnam.

Saturday Election Competes With Hunting

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

It's election week—once more all over Texas.

Voters in 254 counties will decide Saturday (Nov. 11), whether they want six more amendments to the State Constitution. According to Secretary of State John Hill, voters in five areas of Texas will elect legislators to fill vacancies created by death or resignation. There are six vacant seats in the House of Representatives and one in the Senate.

A light-moderate vote is predicted. November 11 is opening day of the deer and turkey hunting season in most counties. This means a lot of hunters will be in the field instead of the voting booth.

However, election day is also Veterans Day, and backlogs of the proposed amendment to revive the veterans land program are staging an active get-out-the-vote campaign. So are supporters of two other amendments—the one authorizing the state to issue bonds to finance expansion of the Texas Parks system and that permitting state officials and employees to hold more than one office.

Seventy candidates, including 14 Republicans, are running for legislative places. Republicans hope to improve their position. Presently they have only three representatives in the 150-member House and one senator in the 31-member Senate.

There are two representative races in Harris County, one in Matagorda and Wharton Counties, one in Travis County, and another in Hall, Cochran, Hecol, Terry and York Counties. Twenty Dallas candidates are running for the Senate seat of the late George Parkhurst.

Six constitutional amendments are on the ballot on the following order:

1. To authorize counties to place all their tax revenues in a single general fund, rather than separate, special-purpose funds.
2. To let local political subdivisions which have hospital districts spend tax money for mental health and mental retardation services.
3. To revive the veterans land program through an additional $500,000,000 bond issue, permitting war veterans, including those of the Vietnam conflict, to purchase land on low-interest, 40-year payback loans.
4. To permit counties to pay medical benefits for their law enforcement officers injured in line of duty.
5. To authorize a $75,000,000 state bond issue (supported by an admission fee at state parks) for park land buying and development.
6. To permit non-elective state officials and employees to serve on state and federal boards and commissions if there is no conflict of duties.

This is the first general election in Texas since the "scratch out" method of voting was eliminated. Now an "X" indicates your choice.

TAX PICTURE — Top legislative budget planners took a new, slightly brighter, reading on the tax outlook last week. But taxpayers still would be exactly overjoyed.

Legislative Budget Board staff members trimmed their unofficial estimate of revenue needs in 1968 from $192,900,000 to $149,000,000. However, the latter calls for rigid budget economies which lawmakers will find hard to effect in the face of rising costs, growing population and increasing demands for better services.

LBB staffers estimated 1969 general fund spending at $255,900,000. This is just $3,000,000 above the 1968 level. Future does not include $258,500,000 in automatic, foundation school fund transfers and $1,500,000 in water development fund allocations.

Governor's budget office pointing to an error in general revenue income estimates, by the comptroller's office, said it appears that the 1968 tax bill, which legislators must pass in their annual session, probably will be in the $130,000,000 to $150,000,000 range. Even if it is $100,000,000 to $120,000,000, would be adequate.

COURT SNEAK — Third Court of Civil Appeals held the state's denial of an application to open a Port Wash branch office of Oak Cliff Savings and Loan Association. Former State Savings and Loan Commissioner James O. Geest denied the application in January of 1966.

Same court upheld a $75,000 contribution award for the purchase of downtown San Marcos land by the city Urban Renewal Agency. Agency appealed the jury award of the Hays County court for $445-square-foot of property as excessive.

UNEMPLOYMENT TAX CUT — Forty per cent of Texas employers will pay lower unemployment compensation payroll taxes next year — and save about $15,000,000.

Reduction was made possible because the program trust fund exceeded $300,000,000 on October 1. Under the law, tax is cut one-tenth of one per cent for each $5,000,000 or portion thereof by which the fund passes $300,000,000. Balance now is $319,000,000. Cut is four per cent for employers affected.

Fifty-four per cent of the employers already have earned a minimum statutory rate of 1 per cent. Another six per cent are "excess cost employers" with earned experience rates of 3.1 per cent or more. Neither of these groups will be affected by reduction.

PARKS WORK — Sixty-one existing state parks will reach the ultimate in usage and development by 1971, according to Deputy Director Robert G. Nauermann of the Parks and Wildlife Department.

Twenty large-scale construction projects slated for this biennium include Benten-Rio Grande, Lake Brownwood, Caddo Lake, Palmar, Goliad, Cleburne and Goose Island. Developed from scratch, during the past five years, were the following: Falcon, Whitney and Martin-Dies Jr. Bastrop, Davis Mountains, Old Fort Parker and Kerrville parks received major improvements.

Mauermann estimated $12,500,000 will be spent in improving state parks in three years. He said construction projects totaling $3,700,000 already have been completed, and $2,200,000 worth are in progress.

HAULERS HEARING — Nine truck lines, which currently carry motion picture film and several other special commodities, seek authority from the Texas Railroad Commission to include any shipments up to 100 pounds.

Applications were opposed by bus lines and other trucking companies which felt the additional service was not necessary.

Hearing required 17 weeks of testimony from the 600 witnesses.

Commission is studying a 250-page summary of testimony.

POLLUTION RULES —

Texas Air Control Board heard complaints from industry representatives concerning its proposed regulations for controlling pollution due to smoke and flying particles, outdoor burning, sulphur compounds and motor vehicle exhausts.

Board announced its plans following an extended hearing to adopt a version of the new rules within six weeks. Objections centered on a proposal that the burning of waste must be outside a defined standard metropolitan statistical area.

Petitions bearing signatures of 5,112 Harris County citizens were handed the Board. Demand was for legal action against Houston ship channel industrial plants allegedly in violation of pollution control rules effective last June 1. Board promised to begin enforcing regulations concerning smoke and particulate matter if local governments do not.

APPOINTMENTS — Gov. John Connally named former State Rep. Raleigh Brown as Abilene as 42nd District Judge (Jaylor and Callahan Counties). He succeeds Judge J. R. Black who resigned. Lt. Gov. Preston Smith appointed three Senators to serve on the Interim Motorists Coverage. Named were Sens. Chet Brooks of Pasadena, Jim Wade of Dallas and Murray Watson Jr. of Waco.

House Speaker Ben Barnes named a Water Study committee composed of Reps. Bill Clayton of Springdale, chairman; Menton Murray of Harlingen; Neal Solomon of Mount Vernon; Bill Finck of San Antonio; and Bill Swanson of Houston.

Republican State Chairman Peter O'Donnell Jr. appointed Dudley Sharp of Houston and Walter Brauer of Ingleside as vice chairmen of GOP policy-making task forces on job opportunities and economic growth and modernization of state and local government.

SHORT SHORTS — Three minor political parties have notified Secretary of State John Hill that next year they intend to nominate candidates in convention. They are Conservative, Socialist Workers and American parties — the latter organized to get former Alabama Gov. George Wallace on the presidential ballot.

Securities sales totaled $462,200,000 last year, a new all-time high.

Nearly 150 Texas cities with 6,000,000 population will vote on a local sales tax before the end of the year, according to Texas Municipal League forecasts.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announces acquisition of two leased helicopters to be used for statewide law enforcement and rescue work.

'Digging' Bobby Dylan's Lyrics

By OMAR BURELSON
U. S. Congressman
11th District

A June 6, 1963 column was used last week as a prelude to this one. The subject of more than 4 years ago was about "Squares."

The young folk singer Bobby Dylan sings a song, "Something is Happening in the Land, and You Don't Know What It Is, Do You Mr. Jones?"

The song, of course, is to youthful audiences and the appeal lies in the sarcastic tones needing older people.

Mr. Jones represents the country's "Squares," defined as people who have lost an understanding of youth. Anyone past 30 who believes in traditional values is a "Mr. Jones."

What is happening in the land, according to the lyric, is absolutely without precedent. It portrays the youthful revolt against standards of organized society.

It represents the wide range of publicized activity from student sit-ins to draft card burning, from drugs and promiscuousness to anti-Vietnam war demonstrations.

Mr. Jones, it is suggested, can not understand all this because the claimed underlying cause is so alien to his world. What is supposed to be happening springs from new youthful commitment to "love" as the only thing worthwhile — any kind of love. Nothing else matters.

Nothing else is worth lying for. Like, man, walking up to a stranger and handing him a flower. It is the greatest.

This seems to be what this and other hippie songs are all about. They are supposed to express the attitude of youth.

Music along Haight Street in the Haight-Ashbury area of San Francisco supposedly assumes that today's youthful rebellion is new. It is not new at all. As every "Mr. Jones" knows from personal experience to some degree or other, youth has been in rebellion since Adam and Eve got kicked out of the Garden of Eden. The only thing without precedent is the use of hallucinatory drugs — especially LSD and "grass." This, of course, is of alarming and sad concern.

Most of us, if we admit it, had some degree of revolt in our own generation. Maybe booze was the forbidden fruit, carried in hip flasks. Whether used or not, it was a challenge of a sort and outgrown without permanent harm. The concern now is what will happen to kids who repeatedly "blow" their minds with LSD and other drugs.

If the few who so indulge are not permanently harmed, likely they will eventually grow up and be absorbed as constructive members of the society they now scorn. Already there are signs in New York's East Village and in San Francisco's Ashbury that the hippie movement may be falling apart as the result of disillusionment, crime and weariness of the "fling."

Also, it is likely some new kind of youthful anti-adult movement will, in time, replace it.

The most foolish assumption of the Bobby Dylan song is that it speaks for the whole generation of American youth. From publicity one might think the song is correct, but we do not hear of the tremendous majority of the nation's youth who get no featured attention as they go about good, normal lives. They are not kicking hard at the traces, but are pulling their weight.

There are more of our dedicated young men fighting for their country in Vietnam than all the hippies, peace-niks and campus trouble makers put together.

The vast majority of kids are conscientious and reasonably adjusted. Because they may "dig" Bobby Dylan, the Beatles, the whole or-beat psychedelic scene, they have the sense to avoid being drowned in it. The vast majority look at it for what it is. They know, because they must experience some of the inward feeling, but are intelligent enough to control it.

Mr. Jones knows too. He covered quite a bit of that territory himself, and he can remember.

Our Tribute To Veterans

VETERANS DAY, Nov. 11.

Once again we celebrate an observance of significance to all Americans, and honor the memory of veterans of all wars.

We should reaffirm our pledge not to forget the dead who have served this great Nation. Their contributions can never be forgotten. And may the citizens of America remember the sacrifices and contributions of all living veterans who conducted themselves with gallantry and courage in wartime to preserve our heritage of freedom, and further that we pay tribute to those valiant soldiers who are still striving to attain the ultimate goal of world peace.

In the last week, fifteen thousand servicemen and women have become veterans, swelling the number of living veterans we honor today to more than twenty-six million.

Have you ever counted up to twenty six million? Of course not. Undoubtedly, no human being has. Someone has estimated it would take twenty six weeks of eight-hour counting days, and no coffee breaks or week ends off, just to count to twenty six million.

Then how do you honor twenty six million veterans? Obviously not individually, much as we might like to salute each veteran personally, from the youngest veteran of Vietnam to the oldest campaigner of the Spanish-American War, and give him our share of the nation's gratitude for patriotic services rendered.

We must never allow the figure of twenty six million living veterans to become commonplace.

Since we can never hope to meet and greet that many individuals, individually, let us study other ways of coming closer to them.

Our veterans live in all the 50 States and the District of Columbia. 130-thousand live in outlying areas of the United States: In Puerto Rico, the Canal Zone, Virgin Islands, American Samoa, Guam, and in the Philippines. 41-thousand veterans live in other countries.

Three out of four of our veterans live in cities or suburban areas. One out of five lives in a rural, nonfarm area. One out of twenty lives on a farm.

With their families and dependents, veterans make up about half our national population.

If public concern expresses the heart of our democracy, how much more so do our veterans themselves? In all, since our founding days, some thirty eight million men and women have participated in our national conflicts, through September 30, 1966. A million and two thousand of them made the supreme sacrifice. The twenty six million we salute today remain the living symbol of the life pulse of our democracy.

To them, in the name of all who served, we can today stretch out the hand of gratitude... and we do that today.

And since all battles for freedom are in a sense the same battle we say thanks for Lexington and Concord... for Bunker Hill, for Valley Forge... for San Juan Hill... Verdun... the Argonne Forest... Chateau-Thierry... Belleau Wood... Corregidor... Guadalcanal... the Coral Sea... Tarawa... Saipan... Anzio Beach, Cassino, the Bulge... for Inchon Landing... for Pork Chop Hill... for Heartbreak Ridge and Hill 409... for the fighting in the everlasting name of freedom, in Vietnamese rice paddies without names... Our very democracy pulses with the stout hearts of the veterans who fought that it might endure. We owe them far more than this Day of tribute. We owe them this day, which we ourselves are living, and enjoying!

There is no typical veteran. He is a young man who

Senator's Point

Victory For Farmers

By RALPH YARBOROUGH
United States Senator

A few days ago the United States Department of Agriculture changed its policy governing skip-row cotton planting. It didn't make big headlines in the big-city newspapers, but this was a tremendous victory for scores of thousands of farmers in our state.

It is easy to forget, if you live in the shadow of the Astrodome at Houston or next door to the HemisFair grounds in San Antonio, that Texas is such an important agricultural state. We are the leading cotton producing state in the United States.

About 10 per cent of the cotton supply for the whole world comes from Texas, and according to the Texas Cotton Association and other trade groups more than one million Texans are directly or indirectly from cotton. Cotton accounts for nearly one-third of all our farm income in Texas.

So when we talk about cotton in Texas, we're talking about an industry that involves some $700 million to $800 million a year. That's why the federal government's upland cotton program is so important; it means income to four out of five counties of Texas.

Two years ago the Department of Agriculture changed its rules and cut production benefits by reducing the projected yields and also by ruling out skip-row planting.

Projected yields and skip-row planting are entirely different things, not connected. Skip-row planting is a sound and practical conservation practice in which the farmer plants two rows of cotton and skips two, or plants four rows of cotton and skips four.

He does it to protect the soil and to allow farmers in counties with a scarcity of water to grow cotton by letting the cotton plant tap the water supply from under the rows that are lying idle, or skipped.

This also gives the cotton roots more room to grow and results in a healthier, more valuable cotton bloom, a longer staple cotton, because the sun can shine on the bolls.

The 1966 rules announced two years ago by the Agriculture Department penalized skip-row planters by requiring greater prosperity for Texas cotton farmers. I protested that unfair ruling and last year, when it was renewed I protested it again.

On September 19 of this year I wrote Secretary of Agriculture Freeman and urged him to give our farmers the same fair deal in 1968 that they were receiving in 1965.

My staff worked closely with the Secretary's staff and Secretary Freeman consulted with members of the Texas farming community, who communicated with me. Three weeks after receiving my letter, on October 12, the Secretary announced that the old rules would be restored. Skip-row farmers will not be penalized during 1968 for their sound conservation practices, in planting some rows and skipping some rows.

Texas Farmers Union President Jay Naman of Waco tells me this ruling means an additional $2 million in farm payments for Texas cotton farmers. State Agriculture Commissioner John White calls it a great victory for Texas farmers.

There is still room for improvement in other areas of the program. We still need to obtain greater projected yields. Texas farmers will not lose any income in any counties because of the change in skip-row rules.

If any income is lost it will be because of the way the projected yields are distributed. The projected yield system should be made more flexible to protect all our cotton farmers. Projections are estimates based on the last five years of production, and some Texas farmers have been unjustly hurt by this system of estimates.

But I believe the reversal to the tried and proven skip-row regulations will mean greater prosperity for Texas cotton farmers. And that means prosperity for more than a million Texans who build their lives around the Texas cotton industry.

Tax Answers

For Your Income Tax

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — I already paid my tax bill but I just got another bill for it anyway. What should I do?

A — Return the bill with the notation that you have already paid it. Give the date the payment was made and the office to which it was sent to help identify your payment.

The computer system used for the processing of tax returns operates on a sequential or step-by-step basis. Information can only be fed into the system at the beginning and not at any particular stage in the processing cycle. In your case, this could mean that the data on your tax payment had not reached the stage where bills are issued before it was time for a reminder notice to be sent to you.

Q — I'm a salesman and had to buy a car to cover my route. Can I deduct this cost when I file my return?

A — No. However, you may deduct 10 cents for every mile you used the car on your job up to 15,000 miles. If your mileage exceeds that, additional miles traveled on business may be deducted at 7 cents a mile. Tolls, parking and similar items are also deductible.

Instead of this method of deducting your business travel expenses, you may figure the actual operating costs of your car for the year. This would include depreciation, gas and oil, insurance, repairs and other operating costs.

Local Chapters To Attend Society Regional Meeting

Sixteen members in the Beta Epsilon Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, Colorado City-Loraine, will attend the regional meeting in Big Spring Saturday.

Beta Kappa Chapter at Big Spring will host the meeting for the society, honorary organization for women teachers. Committees are preparing to entertain 150 Delta Kappa members from Odessa, Snyder, Midland, Andrews, Kermit, and Colorado City.

First on the agenda will be a coffee hour before general assembly. Two coffees are being planned to welcome regional members. Luncheon at noon will have as guest speaker Dr. Madge Davis, professor emerita, Midwestern University, Wichita Falls, and past state president of Delta Kappa Gamma.

Also to appear as guest speaker will be Miss Juanita Davis, librarian at Weatherford High School, recipient of the DKG state achievement award.

ing teachers in Sweetwater and Snyder who later formed local chapters of their own.

Host chapter, Beta Kappa, includes 80 members from Glasscock, Howard, Martin, and Sterling Counties, and was organized in 1935.

Delta Kappa Gamma was organized by 12 Texas women educators in 1929 under leadership of Dr. Webb Blanton, former Superintendent of Public Education in Texas. Mrs. C. C. (Mike) Burt heads the Beta Epsilon Chapter in Colorado City. She and Mrs. Gerald Gordon, Colorado High School journalism teacher, are scheduled to take part on the Saturday program at Big Spring, "Building Good Programs."

Grandma baked pies today and we had a good laugh together over the story she used to tell me as a little girl of a lady who baked pies and marked them to tell them apart. Half she marked T M for 'Tis Mince, the others T M for 'Tisn't Mince.

It's such fun having Grandma live in our house. Her stories of the old days, her understanding humor, and her joy in living spark our lives. She needs no label. That she's a Christian glows in everything she does. No matter what the circumstances, she meets people and situations with love and goodness. Full credit is hers, that none of the problems that we feared when she came to live with us have developed.

Yes, I'd say Grandma has rubbed off on all of us. We all go to church now and we're much happier because of it. We've learned from Grandma that happiness comes from doing good and loving God.

Why don't you go to Church and take your family with you?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
