Mission Study Completed At Hart Methodist Church

The Methodist Church's Mission Study for this year has been "Keepers of the Poor", by J. Edward Carothers. This book and "Affluence and Poverty", a supplementary book by Mildred Herrmann has been studied by the Woman's Wesley Service Guild, with Mrs. W. A. Gardenhire leading the study, and the Woman's Society of Christian Service, with Mrs. Ed Bennett, leading, and the Sunday evening worship services in January and February, with the pastor, Rev. Douglas Gossett, preaching the evening messages based on the Study.

A 35mm film, "How Things Hide People" was shown to the evening worship group. This film explores some of the problems faced by persons in an affluent society as they try to understand and cope with reality of poverty.

Discussion followed in which some suggestions were, that we need more "trade schools", that education is a basic need, that temporary economic help in various ways is needed, and that church is involved in the battle against spiritual and moral poverty as well as economic.

The premise of Dr. Carother's book, "Keepers of the Poor" is that the affluent people are primarily responsible for the poor staying poor.

Therefore, a change of attitude is called for in the belief that the poor are not hopeless cases after all.

The book may be obtained from The Board of Missions, 475 Riverside Dr., New York, N. Y. 10027., or First Methodist Church Library.

Advances In Today's Edu

All Texans will have an opportunity to visit the Public Schools during the week of March 6 through March 10, 1967. This is an annual celebration called Texas Public Schools Week and affords interested parents a chance to see, during classroom time, the many changes which have taken place since they were in the public schools.

From the physical aspect alone, many schools have changed from a multi-storied warehouse to a one-story complex and in one Texas town we have the first air-conditioned circular school in the country. On the other hand, there is a return to the "one-room" schoolhouse but with a vast difference. The one room has become a honeycomb cluster of hexagonal spaces without walls between classrooms-where pupils and teachers can and do rearrange themselves depending on the lesson at hand. These unusual concepts of school architecture are the outgrowth of the new educational trend which allows students to learn at their own individual rates. John W. Gardner in his book "Self-Renewal" wrote,

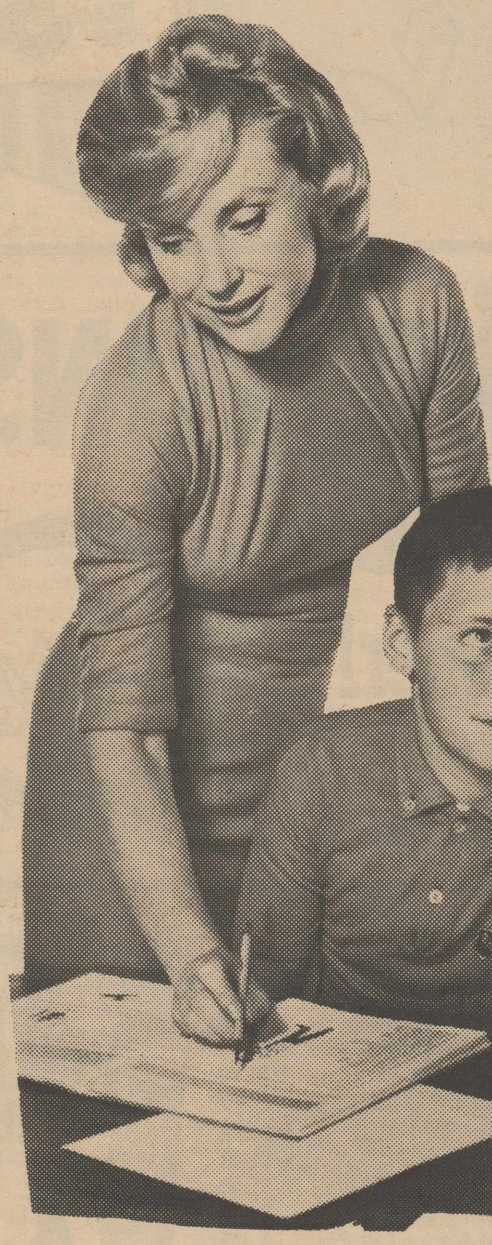

"All too often we are giving our young people cut flowers when we should be teaching them to grow their own plants. We are stuffing their heads with the products of earlier innovation rather than teaching them to innovate. We think of the mind as a store-

Castor Acreage Increase Seen

Major improvements in the castor situation promise to result in substantial increase in castor acreage in 1967.

This is the view expressed by several private parties following announcements on Feb. 28 by both the U. S. D. A. and The Baker Castor Oil Company.

In 1967 farmers will be permitted to grow castor on their non-payment diverted feedgrain land, with the grower paying a small fee for this use of that land.

The amount of the fee will depend on the grower's projected grain sorghum yield, but it is expected to range from $10.00 to $15.00 per acre. That fee will be deducted from ASC payments due the grower.

This fee is only about half of the fee which applied in previous years when castor was grown on diverted land.

In 1967, castor can be planted on cotton diverted acres under the same terms as applied in 1966.

Easter Seal Letters Out In Castro County

Easter Seal Appeal letters are being delivered this week in Castro County, according to Mrs. Walter Maynard who is the Easter Seal Representative for the Easter Seal Socity for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas.

As Representative, Mrs. Maynard serves as contact representative for disabled persons needing Easter Seal rehabilitation services and also serves as treasurer of the Easter Seal Appeal in Castro County.

The Easter Seal Society offers physical and occupational therapy, speech and hearing programs, and special equipment loans to enable disabled persons to make the best use of their abilities to overcome handicaps. These services are financed by the annual Easter Seal Appeal.

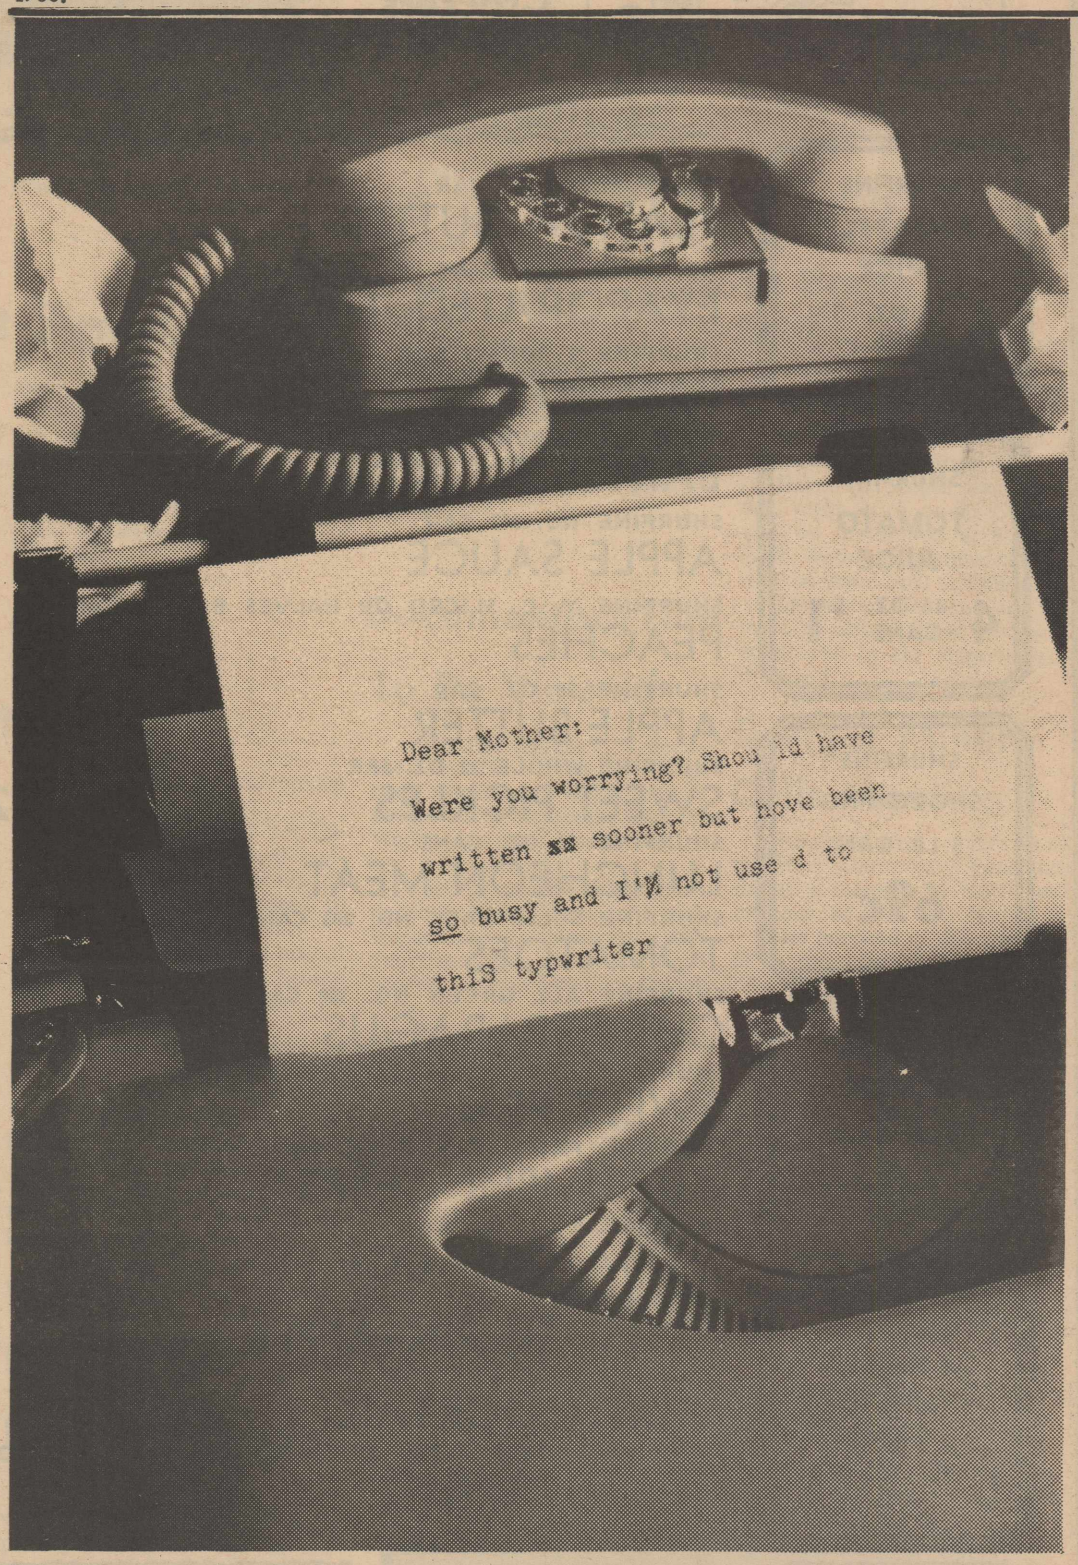

The Society also provides for research into the causes and cures of crippling conditions, finances public education programs, and provides scholarships for training of professional personnel to staff rehabilitation centers.

Mrs. Maynard pointed out that all these programs are important if Texas is going to continue to provide the best in rehabilitation services for its own disabled citizens.

During 1966, the Texas Easter Seal Society provided treatment and services to 11,045 children and 4,986 adults who were in need of rehabilitation services. These services are available to any disabled person who can benefit from help provided by the Easter Seal Society, Mrs. Maynard added.

The Easter Seal campaign will run through Easter Sunday, March 26.

Mrs. Maynard urged increased support for the Easter Seal Society and its program of services to crippled children and adults.
