mck's tracks -by dave

We've heard a lot of cat stories this weekend and thought we'd share them with you

Jo Wayne Summerour started off our tale with the information Sunday that their prolific cat, Kelly, had died. We asked why she referred to her as being so prolific and Jo Wayne replied that several years ago she and the girls sat down and figured out that Kelly had had a total of 180 kittens up until that time.

She admitted that Kelly had slowed down in her older age but still managed to produce at least a couple of litters each year until her demise this weekend.

After Jo Wayne's story we read an article in the Daily Oklahoman which really put us to laughing. It is one of these stories that is told for the truth, but is actually fiction, but still is close enough to truth to be really funny.

The story goes that a couple of elderly sisters who lived just outside of Oklahoma City had this pet cat. The sisters really thought a lot of the cat and much to their distress they were backing out of the driveway one morning when they heard a Meow!

Sure 'nuff, they looked under the car and there was the body of their pore old cat!

Well, the sisters held quite a store for the cat so they decided they ought to really put the cat away in style. They got a nice box, wrapped it all up in pretty paper and bows and lit a shuck for Oklahoma City for a Pet Cemetery of which they had heard about.

On the way to the city they stopped in a large shopping center for a couple of articles, leaving the boxed up cat all wrapped up in the back seat of the car.

As the two ladies returned from their shopping they spied a young lady taking the box containing the cat out of the back seat of their auto. Curious as to just what kind of person they would be to steal their box they followed the thief to a restaurant. They stopped a couple of tables away as the lady ordered and began opening up the box in her lap. As the lady unwrapped the box she opened it up and gave a big scream and fainted dead away.

Well, naturally this caused quite an uproar in the restaurant and the manager quickly summoned the ambulance. The female thief was still out when she was loaded on a cot and whisked away for the ambulance. The restaurant manager followed and as the lady was loaded in the ambulance he placed the box containing the dead cat into the ambulance.

The two old ladies figured it couldn't have happened any better for anyone who would steal so they drove away laughing at the irony of the entire situation.

Say, if you missed out on the ice-cream party last Thursday night up at the high school for the Elks you really missed sumpin'. There was a fine crowd on hand and Coach Bornstein's explanation, using the players, of what the various positions are and what each player's responsibilities are, was a real help.

We overheard one mother say..."y'know, all this time I thought a split end was the hair which hung out from under the helmet."

Seriously, it was a fine event, the Booster Club will be meeting each Tuesday night from here on out at 8 p.m. in the cafeteria. Game films will be shown and everyone is urged to attend.

OPENER A WEEK AWAY

Elks Scrimmage Wildcats Here On Friday Night

"We were pleased at the showing the Elks made this past weekend at Claude," stated Head Coach David Bornstein this week.

The Elks scrimmaged the Claude Mustangs with the Junior Varsity going about one hour followed by varsity team scrimmage which went for about an hour and a half.

Generally speaking the team did quite well as a unit, said Coach Bornstein.

Bornstein said that the coaching staff was really happy with the way Brady Heil and Mark Beaty moved the ball on offense. Heil picked up over eight yards per carry and Beaty got over 12 per carry.

"Their ability to move the ball was made possible by the blocking of our entire front wall of blockers," Bornstein pointed out.

He added all the line did a fine job on offense with John McDaniel at center, Steve Coats and Phil Walden at guards, Jack Haile and Danny Kirkwood at tackles and Gary Ferguson and Willie Mungia at ends.

Steve Barrett also was singled out for his blocking out of the backfield.

Our defensive effort looked quite well also, Bornstein added. He singled out Coats as a "more aggressive job" than in the past on defense and Haile's lateral pursuit giving pressure to the opposition quarterback.

This Friday night the Elks will entertain the Canadian Wildcats in a scrimmage here which will begin with the Junior Varsity at 5:30 p.m. followed by varsity action about 6:30 to 7 p.m.

Canadian has back virtually the same team they had last year and are picked to be strong contenders for the District 1A crown.

"We hope all the local fans will turn out to watch the scrimmage this Friday evening," said Coach Bornstein.

The Elks will open their 1973 grid season against the Gruver Greyhounds here in a game to begin at 8 p.m. on September 7.

AFTERNOON KINDERGARTEN CLASS--This group of students are enrolled in the afternoon kindergarten class at the Mary Allen. Soil Conservation News

EVERY ACRE- A PRODUCTIVE ACRE: This in essence appears to be the current trend and as a result we are receiving more and more request for topographic information. This include needs for row direction as well as for land leveling.

Every acre should be productive acre as long as the acre in question is being used within its capabilities. As a general rule most of our county can be row watered, however there are thousands of acres that should be bordered or be watered with a sprinkler system.

It was but a few years ago that most of the sprinklers were hand moved. From this we move up to a wheel move system and recently to a pivot type system. The first two are still very effective and shouldn't be overlooked. The pivot-type system were first powered by water or oil. Most recently the various companies have prefected the electrical move systems. As a result of various sprinkler irrigation systems land formerly thought to remain as dryland is now being irrigated. The use of sprinkler irrigation systems does not rule out the needs of conservation practice of the land, however, through a proper cropping system and residue management the needs of some practices can be eliminated.

Regardless of what crops you plan to plant, how many acres you plant and whether it is irrigated or dryland just remember one thing; what you do this next crop year might have a bearing on the production of that land for years to come. Plan now for the future and not tomorrow, plan wisely and in the long run you will be the one that benefits.

where to...?

Did you ever look down railroad tracks and wonder where they went... or put your ear to the track, listen to the hum, and try to guess when the train would reach you? These questions we may have asked when we were children, but as adults it is time to ask... Are we headed in the right direction? Viola Kautz Gets Certificate For Kindergarten

AMARILLO, Tex.--Viola Kautz a Stratford teacher, received kindergarten certification this summer after completing the Early Childhood Education program at West Texas State University in Canyon.

Demand for certified kindergarten teachers in Texas has risen sharply since Gov. Dolph Briscoe signed a bill, originating in the 63rd Legislature, creating free kindergarten for 5 year-olds.

This act will come into effect Sept. 1 of this year.

West Texas State University, in anticipation of the demand for teachers, created a program in which a teacher could gain a kindergarten endorsement in one summer's study.

Dr. Dan White, chairman of the WTSU elementary education department said, "About 142 students enrolled for the kindergarten courses this summer, doubling what we had anticipated."

The early education courses are described by White as studies of "physical, psychological, sociological and emotional behavior domain of human growth and development with special emphasis on the young child."

One of the features of the summer early education classes this year was that a kindergarten was being conducted right on the WTSU campus.

Ruth's hobbies are tennis, reading and she likes to work in her garden.

As our cook for this week she has supplied us with several tasty recipes; Frozen Waldorf Salad and German Chocolate Pie

FROZEN WALDORF SALAD

3 med. unpeeled apples, diced
3/4 c. chopped pecans or walnuts
1 1/2 c. heavy cream, whipped

Drain pineapple, reserving 3/4 c. juice. Combine juice with eggs, sugar, lemon juice and salt. Cook over low heat until thick, stirring constantly. Cool, add pineapple, celery, apples and nuts to egg mixture. Fold in whipped cream. Turn into a 9x9x2" pan or 2 1 qt. ice cube trays. Makes 12 servings. Place in Freezer. Can be stored one month. Take out of freezer an hour before serving.

GERMAN CHOCOLATE PIE

1 stick oleo
6 squares German Choco (melt this and oleo and let cool)
1 c. sugar
1/2 c. flour
1 tsp. vanilla
3 eggs
1/2 c. nuts

New Problems Face Area Wheat Farmers

COLLEGE STATION--Wheat producers are weighing some unaccustomed alternatives as they make decisions about what level of wheat acreage to plant in 1974.

The present grain situation appears to be a "new ballgame" for wheat growers, who are being asked for production expansion by the Consumer at home and abroad, and by provisions of the new Farm Bill with producer income protection in case of over-production and cost increases, says Dr. Roland D. Smith, grain marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Many farmers, he said, are viewing the situation with "cautious restraint" in an effort to prevent over-production and price declines.

"Wheat producers are skeptical that prices will remain at profitable levels through the harvest of 1974. These growers vividly remember the mid-1960's when they were asked for maximum production which ultimately led to several years of depressed prices.

"Some major reasons for apparent changes in the world wheat situation include the opening of markets in the USSR and China, the changing international money values favoring U.S. products, and the rapid economic growth allowing more of the world's people to upgrade their diets. These factors are causing strong consumer demand for wheat and other products abroad," Smith said.

A key variable in regard to foreign demand is world-wide weather conditions, which could improve to the extent that foreign trade of wheat might decline significantly, Smith added.

The new farm program, with the target price of $2.05 per bushel for wheat, should help remove some of the risk of price declines similar to those occurring in earlier decades, he emphasized.

Texas producers are currently planning for next year's crop. Some are considering shifting "set-aside" acreage back into production which may be relatively expensive. A thorough analysis of the alternative is recommended by Smith before growers make their final crop plans.
