Escaped Convict's Story Leads To Conviction Of 'Pal' Who Proved False

A convict who had already served three terms in prison and who escaped only a few months ago with the avowed purpose of wreaking vengeance on a former pal who "turned him down," made good his threat to take the former companion in crime back to the penitentiary with him Thursday when the testimony of George V. Churchill, the escaped convict, was instrumental in obtaining the conviction of Dick Fitzgerald, indicted for burglary here, and the assessment of a five-year sentence against the accused.

Dramatic Trial

The trial, which ended Thursday in the 89th district court, was one of the most dramatic ever heard in a courtroom here, officials of the court said. At the outset, attorneys for both sides foresaw they were about to face one of the hardest fought court battles they had ever experienced. The very beginning of the case, they said, gave indication of the drama which was to follow, and the actual trial brought out a complete story, unfolding like the events in a fiction plot.

The climax of the trial was reached when Churchill was called to the stand as a witness for the state. Mike Anglin, assistant district attorney, first asked him why he was going to testify. The defendant, Fitzgerald, was represented by Culwell & Culwell, Amarillo attorneys. They objected to the question, but when the witness was turned over to them for questioning, Mr. Culwell himself asked Churchill why he was here to testify against Fitzgerald.

"He broke his vow to me, he laughed in my face when I needed help, he refused to help me when I was in the pen and my wife was sick and I'm going to take him back to the pen with me. That's why I'm here!" the witness said.

Churchill's story was brought out in the questioning. He served a term in the federal prison in 1918. In 1921 he was sent back to the Texas penitentiary for another term. It was while there he met Fitzgerald and the two struck up a friendship. When the two were released in 1924, they met outside the prison walls and laid their plans for the future, making a vow between them that they would "stick together" no mater what happened.

EXILE ORDERED FOR IRIGOYEN

Aged Ex-President Leaves Argentina Shores

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 11.—Broken in health and with the defeat of his old age weighing heavily upon him, ex-President Hipolito Irigoyen is tonight being borne into exile aboard a warship.

Irigoyen was taken from the military barracks at La Plata, where since the success of the revolution he has lain ill and a virtual prisoner at noon today. In a closed automobile he was rushed down to La Plata harbor and there placed aboard the cruiser Belgrano.

Secret Destination

At 3:30 p. m., the warship lifted anchor and steamed out to sea. Its destination was not announced, but it is believed doubtful that President Jose Uriburu, who as leader of the revolution swept Irigoyen out of the government house, will grant his request and send him to Europe. The destination of the Belgrano is believed to be Montevideo, capital of Uruguay, but this could not be officially confirmed.

Accompanying the aged ex-president are his daughter and personal physician, Dr. Meabe. A small guard of soldiers is also in attendance.

It is believed that at Montevideo Irigoyen may be joined by some of his former associates, the men, who Uriburu charges, cost him his one-time immense popularity and sent the country into that financial and business depression that made an overthrow of administration necessary. Former Foreign Minister Horacio Oyhanarte, most sincerely

CHICAGO TRIO CONSPIRES FOR HEAVY RANSOM

Special Officers Stationed To Apprehend Suspects

PAIR UNDER GUARD

Valley's Wealthiest Men Inspire Schemes Of Extortionists

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Sept. 11. (AP)—A plot by Chicago gangsters to kidnap two of the wealthiest men in this section and hold them for heavy ransom was frustrated today on the tip of a woman.

The woman told officers she had been approached by three men who said they were Chicago gangsters and asked her to assist in the kidnaping of C. P. Barreda of Brownsville and Juan Cross of Matamoros, Mexico. Instead, she telephoned the sheriff.

Guards Stationed

Fifty armed officers were quickly stationed at strategic points in the valley in an effort to apprehend the gangsters and two women from Detroit said to have been involved in the plot.

Other officers went to Harlingen where it was reported the plotters had maintained headquarters. They were led by Sheriff Frank Brown, who said he had sufficient information to make an arrest.

Customs officials on two international bridges were directed to arrest any person they saw passing with Cross and to hold him for investigation. They were told to accept no excuses, but to arrest this person at all costs.

Mysterious Call

Meanwhile, Barreda went to Mercedes in response to a telephone call from a woman who asked him to discuss a land deal with her, but who was believed to be one of those accompanying the gangsters. Barreda was closely guarded by officers.

Barreda, called the richest man in the lower Rio Grande valley, recently sold a tract of land for around $2,000,000. Cross, a member of a pioneer family, owns thousands of acres of land, cotton gins and other industries in the vicinity of Matamoros.

Plans of the gangsters were to take Cross and Barreda to a remote spot on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande and keep them there until heavy ransom had been collected.

Canadian Troops Join Search for Maniac

TRURO, Nova Scotia, Sept. 11. (UP)—A detachment of troops from Halifax tonight joined with police in one of the greatest manhunts Nova Scotia ever has known—a search for a maniac who believes he was appointed by God to kill people in wholesale numbers.

The maniac, Otis Guptil, escaped from the King's county home for the insane last Monday. His escape did not become known publicly until today.

Guptil had been confined to the asylum since last February, when officials said he tried to slaughter a group of school children with a shotgun.

15,000 Crowd Business Area To View Windows In Annual Prize Show

Responding in surprising numbers to the presentation of the annual fall window display on a mid-week night instead of Saturday night as in former years, crowds estimated to have numbered 15,000 persons thronged the down-town district from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock Thursday night, crowding about certain windows in which ideas of particular interest had been worked out and feasting their eyes upon an amazing variety of new creations for every possible use.

Increased Skill Shown

Called to the business section at 7:30 o'clock by the prolonged blasts brought forth from the Wichita Ice company's "wild cat" whistle by Fire Chief J. L. McClure, citizens of the city turned out in what merchants declared the greatest manifestation of enthusiastic interest in mercantile displays witnessed in the city in many years. The prolonged stops made by the milling thousands before scores of attractive windows testified eloquently to the increased skill with which display managers of Wichita Falls establishments are presenting their merchandise for public inspection.

According to L. L. Wilkins, of the Kerr Dry Goods company of Oklahoma City, who acted as judge of the 40 entries, remarkable progress has been registered in this city during the past two years in the construction of store fronts, and in arrangement of display windows. Window trimming likewise is more uniformly excellent throughout the entire business district, Mr. Wilkins said, and declared that some of the windows shown here Thursday night excelled any of their kind which he had seen anywhere in the country this year.

Judging of the many competing entries was completed shortly before midnight Thursday, with the following results:

LEAGUE HEARS DUAL PLAN FOR WORLD PEACE

Britain Adds Disarmament Plea to Plan For United Europe

CONFERENCE URGED

Briand and Henderson At Odds on Basis For 'Security'

GENEVA, Switzerland, Sept. 11. (AP)—Two of the great and authoritative voices of the League of Nations were heard in its 11th assembly today and two theses of the basis of world peace were expounded.

M. Aristide Briand, French foreign minister, pleaded the utility and necessity of a grouping of European nations. Arthur Henderson, foreign secretary for Great Britain, demanded in flat terms that disarmament be accomplished.

Security Essential

In his exposition M. Briand stressed the necessity of an arms reduction, maintaining at the same time the French point of view that full reduction of armaments must be preceded by "absolute security."

To this view Mr. Henderson took flat exception. "In our profound belief," he said, "security and disarmament are closely interlocked and nothing can make our peoples truly safe from war until a treaty of general disarmament has been made. Security is impossible if competitive military preparations continue as they are going on today. . . . After all, there is none of us who in his heart does not know that of all security measures disarmament is in itself the most important."

Council Urged

The British foreign ministers insisted on the idea that only general disarmament is consonant with article eight of the League of Nations covenant obliging members to reduce their naval and military establishments by international treaties.

"Reduction by individual powers, by small groups of powers, or in respect of certain forces only, do not fulfill the pledges we have made," said Mr. Henderson. "We hope that the world conference on disarmament may be summoned by the council for next year, and that within the measurable future we shall take a decisive step toward fulfillment of the undertakings which bind us all."

M. Briand, asserting that in the French view absolute security must precede disarmament, also pleaded for reductions of armed forces. He expressed a belief that the naval negotiations now going on with Italy would "complete, and be added to the agreement of London." He said he hoped the Franco-Italian agreement would "add something further, we hope and trust, toward promoting the stabilization and peace of the world."

Man Leaps to Death From Cathedral Dome

VATICAN CITY, Sept. 11. (US)—The first case in history of a suicide committed by jumping from the famous 324-year-old dome of St. Peter's cathedral and the first suicide in Vatican City occurred today.

Trucks Haul Water To Annapolis Residents

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 11. (AP)—With all water in the city's three reservoirs gone and only a supply in the settling basin remaining, two motor trucks were engaged today in hauling drinking water from wells for the use of public school children.

The step was decided on by school officials because of complaints on the taste of the water remaining in the municipal system. Residents have been resorting to the use of water from the naval academy and private wells for drinking.

Mother and Baby Hurled From Machine

Special to The Record News

SEYMOUR, Texas, Sept. 11.—Five persons were injured, one of them critically, when an automobile overturned early Thursday on the Benjamin highway 15 miles west of Seymour. The car was traveling at a high rate of speed, it was reported, when the driver attempted to pass a truck. Mrs. Noel Scott of Plains, Texas, was thrown clear of the car and landed some distance away on her head. She was rushed to the Baylor county hospital here. Attendants reported she had suffered severe concussion of the brain and that her condition was serious. She had not regained consciousness late Thursday night. SPUDDERS LOSE SECOND GAME BY 10-5 SCORE

Errors Aid in Downfall Of Milt Steengrafe And Ernie Koob

NEXT TILT SATURDAY

Battle for Texas Pennant To Be Resumed At Fort Worth

By FRED D. THOMPSON
The Record News Staff

The Spudders learned Thursday they haven't a sure shot at the pennant by a country mile, and that if Wichita Falls is to win its first Texas league bunting in three years the first half champs must buckle down and win two games on enemy territory.

Series Even

Lil Stoner was the professor at the session during which the Spudders learned this little lesson. For Lil Stoner, who never during the 1930 season whipped the Spudders a single time, turned the trick nicely down at the foot of Seventh street Thursday afternoon in the second game of the play-off for the Texas league championship. The score was 10 to 5 in favor of Fort Worth.

Thursday's battle ended the Wichita Falls part of the series and placed the two teams on an even keel, both with one victory. The series will be resumed Saturday in Fort Worth.

Big Milton Steengrafe was the pitcher to suffer Thursday, although it is doubtful that he would have gone down in defeat if he had been given the support he deserved. The Cats bounced 12 hits off him before he was finally driven from the mound, and scored seven runs, but two of the counters were allowed to scamper across the plate on an error by Bettencourt in the seventh inning. With two down and two on base, Bettencourt dropped Cox's high fly to center, allowing the runners to score.

Previously, however, in the third inning, the Cats scored three times off the curve-baller in the regulation manner, Moore socking the ball to left for a double, and Mallon, Bonowitz and Brown poling out singles. A wild pitch gave the Cats another advantage.

Ernie Koob took over the mound in the eighth and fared not so well, the Cats bunching three hits off the southpaw to score three runs, one of which, however, was unearned.

Rally Falls Short

In the last of the eighth, the Spudders staged a comeback, Kloza and Bettencourt slamming out home runs, but the rally fell far short of a winning margin.

Lil Stoner was the sensation of the day in that he started loosely, only to charge into the thick of the fight and stay there. He couldn't find the plate at the start and walked the first two men to face him. But he finally retired the side, only one run having been scored, and that unearned. From then on Stoner couldn't be beaten, and though he allowed the Spudders 10 hits during the contest, he kept them scattered and bore down in the pinches.

The battle over, all attention

PHILS BUY STONER AND MALLON FOR $25,000

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11. (AP)—The purchase of Pitcher Lil Stoner and Second Baseman Leo Mallon, from the Fort Worth club of the Texas league, was announced tonight by the management of the Philadelphia Nationals. The price was given as $25,000 cash "and players." It had not been decided what players would be sent to Fort Worth in the deal. Stoner and Mallon will report to the Phillies at the opening of the training season next year.

Stoner formerly played with the Detroit Americans and the Pittsburgh Nationals.

Mallon started his professional career four years ago with the Mission club of the Texas association. In 1928, he joined the Akron club and was bought by Fort Worth at the close of the 1929 season.

Mother and Brother Killed On Way to Funeral of Slain Man

DALLAS, Sept. 11. (UP)—A grief stricken mother, on her way to her son's funeral, was crushed to death in an automobile accident on the outskirts of town today.

Another son, Wesley C. Beavers, was injured fatally. The son died tonight in a hospital here.

Mrs. J. W. Beavers, mother of O. L. Beavers, one of the four men electrocuted at West, yesterday, while working on a power line, died in an ambulance on the way to a Dallas hospital.

A letter from the deceased son was found in a purse clutched in the mother's hand.

"Take good care of yourself," the letter read. The son also asked the mother to mail him an insurance policy he wished to cancel. "I am going to drop it. I don't feel like keeping it any longer," the letter said.

The letter arrived only a few hours before word of the tragedy on the school grounds at West reached the mother, who was visiting relatives at Athens.

Opponent of Fair Candidates Meets Dilemma With Gallant Gesture

CHICAGO, Sept. 11. (UP)—Col. J. Hamilton Lewis is nothing if not a gallant gentleman. He proved it tonight in opening his Democratic senatorial campaign against two charming women. Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, the Republicans' choice and Mrs. Little Holman O'Neill, independent dry.

What to do? That was the question Colonel Lewis asked himself. Should he flay Mrs. McCormick in the good old political way? Should he lambast Mrs. O'Neill with some of his famous oratory? or should he continue his reputation for gallantry to the ladies?

It was a question which also intrigued the politically minded down in Shelbyville where the colonel started his campaign. He strolled out on the platform, his suit meticulously pressed, his buttoniere in place, and his white whiskers carefully parted in the well known J. Hamilton Lewis fashion.

Whereupon he bowed and said: "Mrs. O'Neill, with commendable courage and noble frankness, demands that the present national laws prescribing absolute prohibition of every form of drinking beverage remain as the laws as they are written and to be enforced to the letter."

Colonel Lewis bowed again.

More Gallantry

"And Mrs. McCormick," he continued, "announces that what shall be decided by the voters concerning liquor shall be the law for her."

The colonel paused as if to intimate both Mrs. O'Neill and Mrs. McCormick were very lovely women even though in his opinion they were sadly misguided in connection with the prohibtion question. Having upheld thus the nationally known Lewis tradition of unfailing courtesy to the ladies, Colonel Lewis continued:

"We Illinois Democrats demand state control of prohibition and temperance. We demand the national prohibtion laws be modified or repealed."

Wet Platform

That wasn't all the fiery Colonel Lewis said concerning prohibition, not by a long shot, but it gives the general idea.

While he was giving the citizens a taste, or better, an excellent notion of the dripping wetness in which he believes wholeheartedly, his constituents back in Chicago were preparing for the big Democratic picnic next Saturday at which J. Ham, as his friends like to call him, will be the principal speaker and most prominent consumer of hot dogs.

His feminine opponents, what with their house work, getting the children started to school again and all, had nothing to say today for publication. But they both promised to mount rostrum after rostrum very shortly to tell the voters their side of the senatorial situation.

Whether they will return the colonel's gallantry in referring to him, or whether they become uncomplimentary in true masculine political manner, is a question which an amused populace is awaiting the answer.

Joe Robinson Seen As Demo Nominee in '32

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Sept. 11. (UP)—The prediction that United States Senator Joseph T. Robinson will be the Democratic party's presidential nominee in 1932 was made before the Democratic state convention today by Harry L. Ponder, temporary chairman.

DEATH ENDS MOTHER'S RIDE

Woman Killed on Way To Son's Funeral

Beavers left Athens today in company with John R. Gibson, manager of the Texas Power and Light company, who was taking them to Garland to attend the funeral of the other son, who was killed while in the employe of the power company. Their car collided with another machine near here.

Gibson was injured slightly.

ACCIDENT IS UNEXPLAINED

DALLAS, Sept. 11. (UP)—Officials of the Texas Power and Light company announced today that an investigation of the tragedy at West yesterday, in which four to produce a decision as to how the accident happened.

"There were no witnesses and it is impossible to secure any definite information," C. J. Rutlidge, engineer of the Dallas office, said.

Victims Buried

The report of C. A. Gilley, foreman of the crew that was stringing wire, said that only one of the men was wearing rubber gloves, was neither confirmed nor denied.

"There are many situations where rubber gloves are not needed for the work," Rutlidge said.

Bodies of the four men were sent to their homes for burial today. The body of Fred Mayberry was sent to Ennis, that of M. F. Dodson, to Brownwood, O. L. Beavers, to Garland and H. S. Wadley, to Waxahachie.

LEGION GUARD HONORS LARKIN

Post Pays Tribute to Veteran of World War

While 30 members of Pat Carrigan post of the American Legion stood silently at attention, Rev. W. D. Bratton, chaplain of the post, read the impressive Legion ceremony of the dead over the body of Henry Larkin, 52-year-old disabled veteran who was fatally injured when struck by an automobile Monday, at a brief service at 11:45 o'clock Thursday morning in the chapel of the Merkle Undertaking company.

Following the rites, the casket, draped with the colors under which Larkin fought on the battlefields of France, was removed from the funeral home and under escort of the 30 guards of honor taken to the train on which it was to be borne to Helena, Ark., the veteran's old home, for funeral services and interment there.

J. F. Friberg, adjutant of the Pat Carrigan post and one of the legionnaires with whom Larkin was active in the affairs of the legion, boarded the train with the casket, to accompany the body to Arkansas and pay the last tribute of the Wichita Falls post at the funeral rites there.

Mr. Larkin died in a local hospital a few hours after he was crushed between a truck and an automobile on a downtown street here Monday. He had been disabled since the war as a result of wounds and a gas attack which he underwent on the battlefield, but he had continued actively in business and in the affairs of the legion, although at times forced to direct his business from a bed set up for him in his office.

Convict Secures Revenge on 'Pal'

They began a career of crime, the witness said, which took them to many cities throughout the Southwest.

Escapes Prison

Finally, in 1928, Churchill was arrested in Wichita Falls, tried and "sent up" for seven years on a charge of forgery. They had dabbled in forgery, robbery, burglary and various other types of crime during their years together, he said. It was during Churchill's arrest and trial that Fitzgerald "laughed at him," refusing to offer any kind of assistance toward preventing his conviction. Later, while Churchill was serving his term, his wife became ill and he wrote to Fitzgerald, asking him to take care of her or lend him money to "pull her through her sickness." Both of them were married and their vow had included the promise that if either got into trouble the other would take care of his wife. Churchill wrote again and again, always with no reply from Fitzgerald. Once while on a 15-day furlough he wrote Fitzgerald again, still without an answer.

Then a few months ago Churchill made good his escape from prison. He went directly to Amarillo, where Fitzgerald was living. He rejoined his old pal without a hint of the vengeance he had come to take.

Both Expected Trap

"He knew I was trying to set a trap for him," Churchill said on the stand, "and I knew he'd send me back again if he could. We pulled a bunch of jobs together up around Amarillo. One time we broke into a house at Pampa and took a radio. I called the officers and told them where the radio was and all about it. They got the radio. And then later they caught me for breaking the pen, but not until I had investigated a job Fitzgerald pulled down in Wichita Falls three years ago., I had the goods on him on that and I told them all about it."

It was on the basis of this that Fitzgerald was arrested a short time ago and brought here for trial. The stolen property, taken from the home of G. W. Sosebee three years ago, was recovered and positively identified and, with the testimony of other witnesses, Fitzgerald was convicted Thursday.

"I have four more years to serve on my term," Churchill said, as he left the courtroom after the verdict, "and he has five years to serve. I'm taking him back with me."

Irigoyen Exiled From Argentina

hated of the old regime, is reported to be one of these. Oyhanarte is aboard the liner Highland Prince which sails at midnight from Buenos Aires, but his destination is not known.

Nation Quiet

The fifth day of the revolution finds Argentina in better shape than in many years.

An official communique today declared that the entire nation is quiet and in the process of rehabilitation. In the capital the only excitement was caused by the arrest of former Minister of the Interior Elpidio Gonzales and Vivente Scarlatto. Scarlatto was the most notorious of Irigoyen's cronies. He conducted a shoeshine parlor and lottery establishment in the capital and was said to derive his living through the sale of introductions to the president. Some of those who wanted Irigoyen's ear are declared to have paid Scarlatto as high as $20,000.

FALL BLOSSOMS

Cherry Tree Here Blooms For Second Time In One Year

It is cherry blossom time in Wichita Falls.

Last summer there were many reports of lilacs that bloomed a second time. Thursday, Mrs. H. G. Schmidt, 112 San Antonio street, told of a small cherry-plum tree which she bought in the autumn and planted in her yard. It blossomed beautifully at the proper blossoming time early in the spring.

The small tree is full of flowers again, doubling on the season to reach maturity.

JURY FAILS TO REACH VERDICT

W. H. Stroud to Face Third Murder Trial

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Sept. 11.—With the count standing seven to five the jury trying W. H. Stroud of Odell on a charge of murder, was dismissed Thursday. The jurors were discharged by Judge A. J. Fires of Childress when they failed to reach a decision after 21 hours of deliberation. The case went to trial in the 46th district court here Monday, the jury was charged on three counts, on murder with and without malice and aggravated assault.

The Stroud case will be tried next time in Childress before Judge Fires. The defendant was placed under a $5,000 bond for appearance Jan. 5, 1931.

The dismissal of the jury this morning marked the close of the second trial for Stroud since April, 1929. He is charged with murder in connection with the death of Wayne Lawson, Tolbert mail carrier, on Sept. 1, 1928. The victim was alleged to have been fatally stabbed on the streets of Odell in a dispute over an election bet.

Bright Glider Future

LONDON.—Gliding from block to block to visit neighbors will be a popular form of transportation, replacing short automobile trips within 10 years, according to Howard Flanders, former secretary of the British Gliding association. He predicts that gliders will be as common then as the very popular motorcycle is now in England.

Obvious

Juryman—I beg to be excused, your honor. I owe a man $10 and as he is leaving for a long trip abroad I want to catch him before he gets on the train and pay him the $10. It may be my last chance.

Judge—You are excused. I don't want anybody on the jury who can lie like that.—Pathfinder.

Beguiling Canine Ways Ruled Out In Stern New Court for Dogs

PALO ALTO, Calif., Sept. 10. (US)—Palo Alto's dogs have influenced their last jury.

Hereafter, a friendly wag of the tail, and a "cute" tilt of the head and an appealing look won't be worth a pinch of puppy meal to the canine criminal. His case will be decided purely on its merits and not on the ability of the accused to coax a grin from the jury. And all the character witnesses in the world won't stave off a verdict of guilty.

New Ordinance

Such is the import of a new dog ordinance, passed by the city council last night, to replace one that didn't net a single conviction. The old ordinance provided that "vicious" dogs be tried before a police court jury.

But when the accused went to trial, he invariably had a flock of character witnesses who testified they knew him for years and that he wouldn't even bite a beef bone. And then the defendant would sit up and speak, and the jury would smile, and the prosecution would surrender.

Stern Judges

It's going to be different. Trials, henceforth, will be conducted before the board of public safety, all three members of which are armed against canine wiles. And the new ordinance specifically provides that an accused dog may be convicted "irrespective of previous or subsequent character." Which eliminates character witnesses.

One concession was made to the dog and its owner in the new law. The word "vicious" has been eliminated and the word "dangerous" substituted in describing dogs subjected to trial. And a "dangerous" dog is defined as one that "bites or attacks a human being, or attempts to bite or attack."

The penalty remains unchanged. Dogs convicted as dangerous will be deported. Nothing is provided in the event that the deported dog comes home.

Expensive

Teacher—If you do not behave better I shall ask your father to come to see me.

Doctor's Son—You had better not—he charges three dollars for each visit.—Answers.

TEXAS SHERIFF CHECKS MOB

Angry Band Seeks Negroes At Houston

HOUSTON, Sept. 11. (AP)—Deputy Sheriff A. T. Hamilton kept some 200 angry men at bay with a shotgun last night at Goose Creek, until four other officers could take into custody three negroes he was guarding. The negroes—Sol Reese, 60; his son, Albert, and Leroy Thompson—were held in the county jail here today.

Joe Trapolino, a deputy sheriff, said the trouble started when a group of white men drove up to a garage at Crosby, near here, and told the negroes who were working on an automobile, to "move on." The negroes said they were unable to, words passed, and a white man was struck over the head.

The negroes fled and went to the home of O. A. Reidland, who called for Hamilton.

SELF DEFENSE PLEA ENTERED

Barfield Jury Hears Story Of Threats

MOUNT VERNON, Texas, Sept. 11. (AP)—Attorneys for Cader Barfield of New Boston on trial for murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Ray Palmer at Texarkana two years ago, today started testimony in an effort to support a plea of self-defense.

Witnesses said that Palmer, known to them as a dangerous man had threatened to kill Barfield because he (Barfield) had accused him (Palmer) of burglarizing a store 10 days before the fatal shooting.

Snooks McCright of New Boston, said Palmer came to him after the store burglary and said he had been accused and intended to kill his accuser. The witness said he immediately told Barfield what Palmer said.

Other witnesses corroborated testimony concerning the alleged threat made by Palmer.

This is Barfield's third trial. He was convicted and sentenced to 25 years imprisonment the first time, but the judgment was reversed. The second trial, held in Cass county, resulted in the jury failing to agree.

Year's Work Outlined In Y.W.C.A. Board Meeting

G. D. Anderson and H. B. Patterson, joint owners of the building known for so many years as Y. W. C. A. headquarters, seemed the greatest hearted of men to members of the Y. W. C. A. executive board Thursday morning when they met with that group and, realizing the strain on the resources of the association since its community chest budget has been cut in half, voluntarily reduced the rent of the building from $150 to $50. Discussion of the 1930 budget was the chief theme of the board in this first autumn meeting, and this generous movement was a relief to the budget makers.

Mrs. C. W. Snider, president of the board, presided and the meeting was opened with an inspiring devotional given by Mrs. Ella Keevil. Reports were made by various members and officers, Miss Erma Schnelle reporting on room registry and the Junior Business girls; Miss Catherine Walker on employment; Mrs. T. A. Hicks on the cafeteria; membership, Mrs. C. W. Snider and the financial report, Mrs. E. T. Duff. Mrs. Charles Pogenpohl reported on special case work, of which she is chairman and Mrs. Finley Weldon on the Girl Reserves.

Both Miss Ida Catherine Walker, general secretary and Miss Erma Schnelle, secretary, were praised for the splendid work they have done in the past year and resolutions of love and appreciation for her wonderful cooperation were passed honoring Miss Erma Schnelle, who is leaving the Y. W. C. A. for other fields of work.

In discussing plans, it was agreed that the scope of work will not be changed and volunteer workers will assist in carrying it on. Members of the board volunteered their services and others interested in Y. W. C. A., it is stated, can help more now than at any past time by the assistance they can offer serving in the office.

Those who attended were Mesdames C. W. Snider, J. A. Richolt, F. E. McConnell, E. W. Nicholson, G. C. Raley, T. A. Hicks, C. W. Beavers, Charles Pogenpohl, E. T. Duff, J. D. Bright, Ella Keevil and Finley Weldon, Miss Ida Catherine Walker, general secretary and Miss Erma Schnelle, secretary.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

We read in a recent New Yorker, which magazine by the way can find out more things about more people than any magazine or person except Walter Winchell—that in city hospitals nurses are graded from month to month on character and personal habits.

❖ ❖ ❖

The head nurse, according to this editorial writer, turns in a report card where grades are marked on dignity, imagination, professional attitude and sense of humor.

❖ ❖ ❖

Our mind immediately went back to times when we had been intimately acquainted with nurses and none that we knew lacked in dignity and professional attitude. We wonder what the difference is! The professional attitude of a nurse certainly should be at least dignified, but "professional attitude" has a deep and mysterious sound.

❖ ❖ ❖

We once had one with imagination and we hope we'll never have another with so fertile ideas. That was one time when we were pictured to ourself with a pale pink rose in our hand. She wept over us and dropped tears in the only thing we were allowed to have—buttermilk.

❖ ❖ ❖

It must be that nurses have a sense of humor for that's a gift divided among all kinds of people. But it has been our bad luck never to have had a nurse who could understand our shafts of wit. Maybe no one could; at any rate, we dislike above all things being taken seriously when we intend a joke.

❖ ❖ ❖

"Professional Attitude" is doubtless that manner adopted which keeps a nurse from telling us what is the matter with us. It will not permit a nurse to allow a patient to see her chart. It makes them ruthless about seeing friends. It is probably the most necessary thing for a nurse to have. But in the final summing up, what we wish to know is, are these things "character and personal habits."

❖ ❖ ❖

We talked to a friend about nurses today. She said, "Well I'll tell you the kind of a nurse I like and it is a fat one." She explained this by telling of a fat nurse she had for her brother who proved a ray of sunshine whenever she came in the room. And even without wishing to be a damper, we could not help telling her of the one particular fat nurse we had been troubled with, who utterly lacked in sympathy and smiles.

❖ ❖ ❖

The nurse we knew who worried us most was the one who sat down stairs and chatted our family while we lay upstairs and wondered.

❖ ❖ ❖

A great many women alternate between the garage and the hospital; not being in that group, we have not wide experience as some. We have felt a little like Aimee Semple McPherson must have felt when she disguised her feelings with "Customs men never even mentioned money to me but if the country needs money, I'll gladly chip in."

❖ ❖ ❖

Nurses are women and we love most women. At any time, even though we may seem to mock at things, we will take up the cudgels for women.

Oh! Oh! Oh!

"My razor's awfully blunt, dear. I can scarcely shave with it."

"Why, Charles, you don't mean to tell me your beard is tougher than the linoleum!"—Pele-Mele, Paris.

Nocona Girls Honored With Breakfast Party

Special to The Record News

NOCONA, Texas, Sept. 11.—Mrs. A. A. Stripling of Nocona entertained with her charming little daughter, Sue Allyn, honoring Miss Maxine Berry, who leaves soon for T. C. U., Miss Cyrena Wilks, who will return to C. I. A. and Miss Gail Humphreys, who will attend Hockaday, with a unique "pajama breakfast." Miss Humphreys in red silk pajamas, Miss Berry in black and yellow and Miss Wilks in a black ensemble made a lovely picture at the table with Sue Allyn presiding demurely in a charming green and white ensemble.

The breakfast table was unusually beautiful with a setting of rose and crystal and silver, the center piece being a silver stand of chilled fruit. Places were marked with dark-haired pajama girls and pink asters and farns were used in the breakfast room, and a delicious breakfast was served.

Lovely gifts were presented each of the honorees. Miss Gail Humphreys received a handsome hand mirror and a "pal-o-mine" motto from her little pal. Sue Allyn Stripling; a hand decorated puzzle jewel box was given to Miss Maxine Berry and a pretty yellow hat brush was Miss Wilks' favor. Mrs. S. T. Humphreys was Mrs. Stripling's breakfast guest at an individual table.

Following breakfast, the girls entered a contest to find who was best dressmaker for Sue Allyn's smallest doll; the prize went to Miss Maxine Berry, who was given a pretty hosiery box.

A pleasant morning was spent in games and pictures were made of the pajama group. Sue Allyn read two pretty numbers and at 1 o'clock a delicious ice cream course was served.

Woman's Duty To Children Greater Than to Husband

Is a woman's duty greater to her husband or to her children? I think that a woman's duty is incomparably greater to her children than it is to her husband. Her husband is the man with whom she entered into the matrimonial partnership and her duties to him are specific and well defined and dependent, more or less, on his conduct and how he fulfills his part of the bargain with her.

Under certain conditions, it seems to me, that her moral obligations are wiped out. It is certainly no part of a wife's duty to love and honor an unfaithful husband, or to work and make a comfortable home for a drunkard who defiles her roof with his debauches. If a woman still continues to give affection to the man who has been disloyal to her and to cherish the one she has to fish out of the gutter, it is of her grace, and not because he has any right to expect or demand it of her.

In a word, when a husband fails in his duty to his wife, by that same token he cancels her obligation to him; but no matter what a woman's children do, her duty to them never ends because her responsibility never ceases.

She brought them without their volition into the world. She not only thrust life upon them but she shaped their lives. She gave them their heredity because she picked out their father for them as well as sending her own blood through their veins. She made their environment. It was her influence that was predominant in their formative years. Therefore, a mother's first duty is to care for these hostages she has given to fortune. It outranks all other obligations and when the good of the children demands it she should not only sacrifice her husband to them, but herself.

I see no reason why a childless woman should endure the martyrdom of marriage that is a hell on earth, nor why it is her duty to put up with insult and abuse from a brutal husband who misuses her. But if a woman has children and has no way to provide for them, I think that it is her duty to endure any misery that may be her portion in marriage in order to secure for her children the food, the clothes, the education, the start in the world that their father can give them.

I think, however, most women overdo their duty to their children and underdo their duty to their husbands. They sacrifice their husbands needlessly and causelessly to their children, which is one of the main reasons why in the end so many husbands default on their marriage obligations.

It generally begins with the first baby, when a young woman is so anxious to be a good mother that she forgets that she has any obligation to be a good wife. Before the arrival of the little stranger who is to be her husband's fatal rival, she has spent her time catering to husband. She has doliçd herself up so that she may look good to him. She has spent her evenings amusing and entertaining him and going about with him. She has been lover and comrade.

But with the advent of the baby, only too often all of this is changed. She lets herself get slouchy and sloppy because baby pulls at her clothes and musses her hair. She has no interests in anything but the baby, no conversation about anything but baby. Wild horses couldn't drag her away from the cradle, and she is frankly relieved when husband goes out by himself of an evening and leaves her to perform her rites of infant worship in peace.

Now these cases, and they are plentiful, of the sacrifice of the father to the child are unnecessary. It does a child no good for a mother to sit and watch it sleep, while her whole happiness and the ultimate welfare of the child depends upon her watching her husband and seeing that he does not stray away from his own fireside in search of the society his wife is too much absorbed to give him.

Many a wife forgets that, while she can hire a reliable woman to take care of her children there is no woman she can trust to take care of her husband, and while she is in the nursery holding little Johnny's hands some vamp is generally holding hands with her husband.

Furthermore, this process of making father a goat for the children does not end with the cradle. It continues. Women justify themselves in shutting up their houses and going away for two or three months at a time in the summer and leaving their husbands alone in the city by saying that they do it for their children.

The children must have country air and coolness and room to play in, and so the mothers, calmly hugging this alibi to their breasts, go forth to summer hotels with their offspring and then feel themselves grievously ill-used because their husbands finally rebel at being sacrificed to the children and console themselves after the fashion of summer widowers.

And there are other mothers who enslave their husbands for their children and who literally work their husbands to death to give their children fine clothes, fine cars and a thousand frills that they cannot afford. We all know households in which the husband is the shabbiest member of the family; a person pushed about from place to place, his happiness and pleasure never considered; nothing but a bill payer.

If it comes to a showdown between the two, a woman's duty to her children is greater than it is to her husband, but it is not her duty to sacrifice her husband needlessly to her children. Generally speaking, the better she does her duty to her husband the better she does it to her children. For in that way she keeps her home together, as she does not do when she is so absorbed in her children that she forgets she has a husband at all and leaves him either to grouch over being neglected, or to be stolen by some other woman.

Miss Betsy Lee Honoree At Lovely Twilight Dinner

No school girl will leave home with a lovelier memory in her mind than Miss Betsy Lee who was honored Thursday evening with an outdoor dinner in the Lee grounds before her departure to enter Randolph Macon. Mrs. Q. B. Lee and her sister, Miss Margaret Lewis, were joint hostesses at the lovely twilight affair.

Hedges grow tall and willowy around the rear grounds of the Lee home on Huff avenue and in the circle at the back, little close clipped hedges grow around flower beds in charming English style. It was in this lovely setting the tables were laid with the wine and silver blue of Pi Phi colors making an enchanting motif. Each silver blue covered table had a center of wine colored verbenas and on the long buffet table at the side, an Oriental jar held zinnias in an exquisite blending of colors.

The close friends of Miss Lee, most of whom are leaving soon to enter college, were guests. Games were played after the delightful summer menu was served.

Swain was not seriously hurt.

Swain said the men tortured him continually by sticking pins in his flesh and he said also they threatened him with death unless he divulged the hiding place for a supposedly large sum of money he kept.

Children CRY for it

It may be the little stomach; it may be the bowels are sluggish. No matter what coats a child's tongue, its a safe and sensible precaution to give a few drops of Castoria. This gentle regulation of the little system soon sets things to rights. A pure vegetable preparation that can't harm a wee infant, but brings quick comfort even when it is colic, diarrhea, or similar disturbance.

And don't forget—Castoria as the child grows older. If you want to raise boys and girls with strong systems that will ward off constipation, stick to good old Castoria; and give nothing stronger when there's any irregularity except on the advice of a doctor. Castoria is sold in every drugstore, and the genuine always bears Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper

BLACK-DRAUGHT BROUGHT RELIEF

Saved Needless Suffering, Says Lady Who Used to Have Severe Headaches

Columbia, S. C.—"I have taken Black-Draught for thirty or more years and considered it a family medicine," writes Mrs. Luther Senn, 815 Eighth street, this city.

"I gave it to my children for colds and children's ailments. It is very helpful. I took it myself for constipation and indigestion.

"I used to have very severe headaches that would leave me weak and trembly. I found that Black-Draught relieves this, so I do not let myself get without it. Black-Draught has saved me a lot of needless suffering. I am glad to recommend it to my friends and neighbors."

Thedford's Black-Draught is a purely vegetable cathartic or laxative medicine, composed of selected medicinal herbs and roots. Black-Draught is finely powdered, which enables the juices of the stomach to extract its medicinal properties in an easy, natural way.

This medicine has been in use since 1835, with constantly increasing popularity because of the good it has done to the men, women and children who have taken it.

Looks Young, Feels Fine

"Eight years ago before my last baby was born, I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I got such good results that I named her Catherine Lydia. I have six older children and five grandchildren, too. I am 44, but people tell me I look much younger. I am now taking the Vegetable Compound again because of my age. I eat and sleep better and I do all my housework, and my washing. I will do my best to answer letters."—Mrs. H. Dolhonde, 6318 York St., New Orleans, Louisiana.

Bargains for Banquets

Where popular demand reduces prices

"One policy of your company which gives me the greatest satisfaction," writes an A&P customer, "is that you do not take advantage of a special demand for a product to profiteer.

"For example, on the third of last July my A&P store sold good quality watermelons from 25c to 55c below other stores in town. A&P, realizing that many people enjoy a nice melon for Fourth of July picnics, put them within reach of everyone."

A&P believes in making it as easy as possible for people to get what they want when they want it most. That is why A&P provides special bargains in fruits and vegetables at the height of their season, in turkeys at Thanksgiving and Christmas, in delicacies during the Holidays, and in eggs at Easter.

The usual custom is to charge a little more when people for one reason or another are pretty sure to buy anyhow. A&P thinks these are just the times to make the cost of high living as low as possible.

OKLAHOMA OIL RULE UPHELD

Proration Ordered Against C. C. Julian

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 11. (UP)—Proration went back into effect today in the Oklahoma City oil field when the state supreme court vacated its temporary orders restraining the corporation commission from enforcing its proration rule against C. C. Julian, Oklahoma City operator and royalty owner.

The corporation commission now has authority to enforce the proration order pending final decision of the supreme court on Julian's attack on the constitutionality of the order.

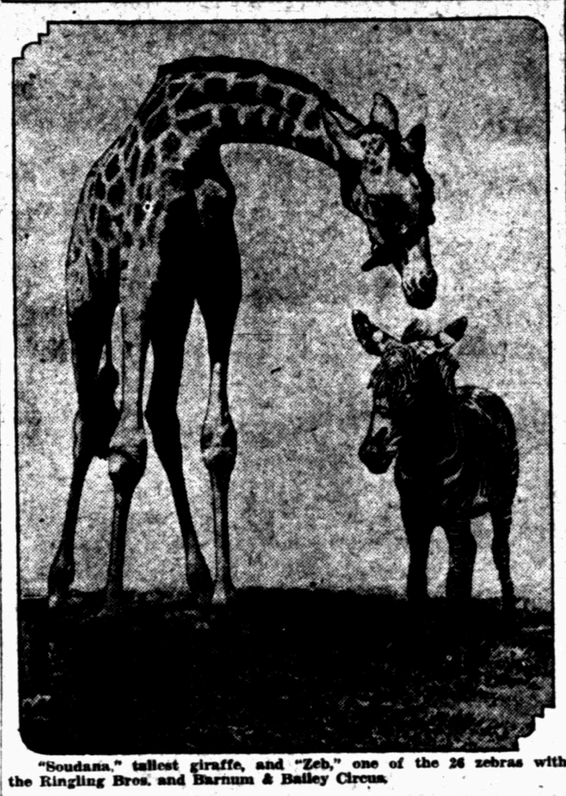

The court took the matter up on its own volition today. The question was argued before the court Tuesday but no action was taken at that time although the court held conference at the conclusion of the arguments.

Julian obtained a temporary restraining order about 10 days ago when he filed a suit in the state supreme court to permanently restrain the commission from enforcing the order.

He charged that the proration order was unconstitutional in that the corporation commission was attempting to legislate and that the order was a violation of the constitutional guarantee against taking property without due process of law.

Giraffes Chummy With Zebras

"Soudana," tallest giraffe, and "Zeb," one of the 26 zebras with the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus.

Giraffes and zebras are friends by instinct and it is not surprising that those in the menagerie of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey circus get along together as harmoniously as those in the wilds of Africa.

It is a well known fact that the giraffe is the most defenseless of wild animals. Possessing no vocal organs with which to call its mate or young when preying beasts are sighted and no weapons with which to fight except its hoofs, the giraffe relies mainly upon its fast running ability for protection.

Because of its great height it can see an enemy at greater distance than other animals and for this reason the zebra, which almost invariably is found in company with the giraffe, depends upon the tall creature for danger signs and flees when the giraffe becomes frightened.

The most splendid herd of giraffes ever exhibited will be brought to Wichita Falls by the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey circus when the big show exhibits here Saturday Sept. 20.

The immense menagerie of more than a thousand rare animals also includes 26 superb zebras, as many camels and 53 giant and baby elephants.

ALTUS WINS HIGHWAY MEET

Quanah Named on Proposed Subsidiary

Special to The Record News.

ALTUS, Okla., Sept. 11.—Altus has been selected for the next annual convention city of Carlsbad Cavern Federal Highway association meeting to be held in November, according to word just received from Carlsbad, N. M., where the quarterly convention closed today.

Approximately 200 delegates and members of their families from Kentucky to El Paso, Texas, are expected to attend the annual convention here.

Election of officers will be made in Altus.

A resolution was passed in Carlsbad favoring designating a highway through Olustee and Eldorado, Okla., and Quanah, Texas, as a subsidiary to the Carlsbad Cavern Federal highway. These towns were originally named on route which later was designated to continue west through Altus to Hollis and on to Texas.

Americans 'Dead' at Fifty Years, Says Noted Monkey-Gland Surgeon

NICE, France, Sept. 11. (UP)—Doctor Serge Voronoff, monkey-gland surgeon, returned to his monkey-farm today from a world tour, from which the most striking impressions he has gleaned is that Americans "die" at the age of fifty.

"They do not die in the sense that life is extinct," Doctor Voronoff told the United Press, "but they are exhausted, worn out, and as good as dead. Their lives are finished. It is due to the pace, the tempo of life in America; the price the American must pay for being ultra-modern."

In his laboratory attached to his ape-farm on the Franco-Italian frontier near here the surgeon immediately set himself to work on new experiments aimed at wresting from nature the precious secret of youth. Armed with new knowledge gained during visit to money farms in China and Japan, the gland specialist believes he sees his way to simplify the glandular operation for rejuvenation.

Texas Promoter Gets Prison Term

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 11. (AP)—A. F. Luse, Texas land promoter, today was sentenced to five years at McNeil island federal penitentiary. He was convicted last week of perjury in his recent trial on mail fraud charges. He also was fined $2,000. A 10-day stay of execution was granted to allow filing of an appeal.

Luse was tried last April on charges of using the mails to defraud investors in Texas lands, which he represented as oil bearing. The jury disagreed. His testimony then became the basis of the perjury indictments.

2,000,000 Gallons Of Medical Whisky To Be Authorized

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (UP)—Permits for manufacture of an additional 2,000,000 gallons of bourbon and rye whisky for medicinal purposes are soon to be issued by the treasury, it was learned today.

For the first time since pre-prohibition days, the treasury this year authorized manufacture of whisky to replenish medicinal stocks. Six distilleries in Kentucky and Pennsylvania are producing 2,000,000 gallons this year.

Decision has now been reached to manufacture a similar quantity next year.

The United States annually consumes about 1,500,000 gallons of medicinal whisky. Manufacture of 2,000,000 gallons is necessary, however, to allow for evaporation and barrel soakage during the four-period required by law.

'Frankie and Johnnie' Cast Hailed to Court

NEW YORK, Sept. 11. (INS)—The arraignment of players and others connected with the play, "Frankie and Johnnie," at a Jamaica theater, as a tryout before going on Broadway, who were arrested last night charged with participating in an indecent performance, was postponed until tomorrow, when they appeared in Jamaica court today.

Counsel for the defendants asked for an immediate hearing. The court replied that neither the police nor Assistant District Attorney James Conroy were prepared.

COMPANIES TO ASK TAX ORDER

Texas Franchise Law Under Question

AUSTIN, Sept. 11. (AP)—Twelve Dallas corporations attacking the legality of the state corporations franchise tax have waived their request for a temporary injunction and the petition for a permanent injunction will be heard sometime in November or December, Rice Tilley, assistant attorney general, said today.

The case will be heard by three federal judges at El Paso. Tilley will represent the state.

Should the act be found unconstitutional, it would mean a loss of from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 annually, Tilley said.

Seven Killed as Train Strikes Automobile

New Discovery Revolutionizes Washing of Fine Fabrics

Ethel Barrymore, Anne Morgan, Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank on distinguished Committee of 17 which sees new bead soap out-perform chips and flakes

(Above) Three distinguished committee members arrive at the Ritz Hotel for the soap meeting that made history. They are Mrs. Oliver Harriman, Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt and Mrs. James J. Davis, wife of the Secretary of Labor and chairman of the Committee of 17.

A TINY bead of soap no larger than a pinhead, yet it holds the secret of 20% longer wear for silk stockings! Science proved this recently, at a meeting at the Ritz Hotel, New York, to the entire satisfaction of the Committee of 17, a group of distinguished women who were asked to give "the woman's viewpoint" on this revolutionary new soap.

Famous Women Watch Tests

Social leaders, home economics consultants, the wife of a distinguished cabinet member, eminent university authorities—women representative of every type of American femininity—the committee watched authorities test the flake and chip soaps used by women for washing silks. They heard chemists tell how modern washbowl laundering of silks demands a soap that dissolves instantly . . . works in water as cool as 85 degrees F. and rinses away completely. Could the ideal soap for silks be made?

Science said "yes," and before the skeptical eyes of 17 women tested a revolutionary new soap that performed miracles never witnessed before. It dissolved 30 times faster than flakes, cleansed in water 20 degrees cooler than required by any existing soap, and rinsed away like magic in one swift rinse.

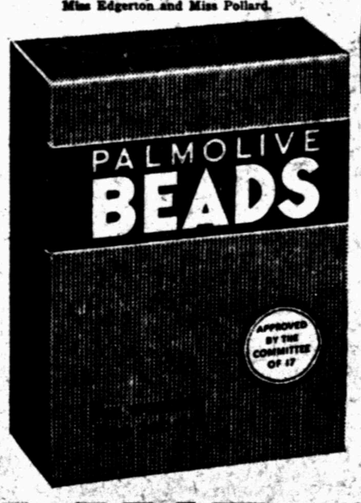

Committee Approves New Soap

So revolutionary was the new soap . . . so perfectly did it fulfill requirements no soap has ever been able to meet before . . . that the Committee of 17 went on record as "unanimously approving the new soap as ideal for washing silks and fine fabrics."

The name of the new soap is "Palmolive Beads." It is the first "bead" soap for silks ever made. The only fine fabric soap made of olive and palm oils. Yet it costs no more than ordinary soaps. Order from your grocer.

Members of the Committee of 17 compare silks washed with instant dissolving "beads" with those washed with slow dissolving flakes. The microscope reveals that slow dissolving soaps often fail to rinse away completely, causing soap damage. Mrs. James J. Davis (at microscope), Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt, Miss Edgerton and Miss Pollard.

"Foul Play Suspected"
"Legs" Diamond Laughs
A Fine Artist Dies

By EMILE GAUVREAU

New Yorkers on Riverside drive view an interesting but commonplace sight from their windows. A gentleman, "taken for a ride," is riddled with bullets and his body is thrown out of an automobile in the select neighborhood, for all to see. An attractive blonde lady, in the car, directs the operations. Police tell reporters: "The gentleman was taken for a ride and foul play is suspected." That is all you will ever hear about it.

Mr. Jack "Legs" Diamond is put on a boat by the German police and shipped back to America. In New York he is under indictment on a narcotic charge and out on heavy bail. Yet he is permitted to travel about and make his contracts in Europe to import more drugs into the country. When his trial comes up it is invariably postponed. Here is a potential murderer, dear friends, who goes about laughing at the law, under indictment, out on bail and keeping up his racketeering work. He will return to the United States, unmolested. Those who oppose him will be "taken for a ride." Think this over when you are inclined to wonder about the future of America. This sort of thing is going on in every big city in the land.

New York, not surprised at anything, reads philosophically about the disappearance of Supreme Court Justice Joseph F. Crater, a gentleman who sat in his judicial robes on the bench and is said to have conducted his trials while he read race track sheets to pick a good horse for the afternoon. He was a friend of Magistrate Ewald, who is accused of having brought his magistracy, a crony of Martin Healy and Tom Tommaney, Tammany gentlemen now under a barrange in the bench buying deal. Fine background for a supreme court justice.

Justice Crater has a good record, but he had bad associates. A theory of his disappearance which is as likely as any is that Crater lost his nerve and fled, foolishly, to some retreat to mark time until the smoke settled. If this was his end, he defeated it most gloriously. The cloud he feared has burst, and the wind has become a whirlwind.

"The best painter Ireland has produced in generations," according to Sir William Orpen, lies dead today in his studio at 440 Riverside drive. His name is Patrick J. Tuohy, and he died a suicide, with his unfinished canvases around him, in a room filled with gas. He was only 37.

Tuohy was the youngest member of the Royal Hibernian academy. He won three scholarships and a silver medal in London for his paintings. Such men as Sean O'Casey, Padraic Colum, Walter Hampden, Liam O'Flaherty, sat for his portraits.

Why did Tuohy take his life? Some claim "nerves," others "sensitiveness over his one arm." Neither is true. Artists die for deeper reasons than that. They live for beauty, and they die for want of it. That is the bread they eat, and the wine they drink. All other food poisons them.

Oklahoma to Set Tax Rate Monday

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 11.(UP)—The state board of equalization probably will fix the state tax levy at the board's next meeting, Sept. 22, Gov. W. J. Holloway said today.

Members of the board would not estimate the probable levy but it is generally believed that it would be necessary to make a maximum of 3.5 miles.

Earl Carroll an' King Carol ought to git together. I remember when if somethin' was as "good as ole wheat in the mill" it was perfect.

Do you have a spare bedroom or vacant apartment? Why not run a classified advertisement in The Times and Record News? Ady.

A dentist says that by looking into the mouth you can tell the age of a human just as you can a horse. So now women will be motivated by reasons other than good form to cover up their yawns.

A chemist has invented an ice which is not cold. Now expect some enterprising cook to give a recipe for two-minute ice cakes.

The world's gold supply, it is announced, is fast disappearing. And it is pretty well recognized that the dentists are having their fill.

The Mood of Despair

IT IS quite possible for a man to spend altogether too much time with books. Much study, as the writer of Ecclesiastes remarked, is a weariness of the flesh. Still, keeping in constant touch with representative modern novels does put interesting ideas into one's head now and then.

A confirmed reader of present-day fiction will occasionally get to wondering, for instance, why it is that the modern novelist has such a predisposition to pessimism.

Sweetness and light are not exactly the chief characteristics of the ordinary novel of the day. The novelist of the better class usually surveys the surrounding world for some 300 pages or more and finds it rotten at the core. Book after book assures us that the human race is a fairly shoddy outfit, and writer after writer tells us that instead of being a little lower than the angels we are only a little higher than the barnyard fowls.

Now all of this is worth thinking about. One of three things must be true; the race is behaving worse than it was, our novelists have keener eyes than the novelists of an earlier generation—or else, perchance, our novelists are mostly mistaken.

It is rather instructive, in this connection, to compare the modern viewpoint with the viewpoint of such a writer as Charles Dickens.

It can hardly be said that the modern novelist "knows life," as they say, better than Dickens. Taken by and large, the picture that he gives of English civilization and the human race generally in such books as "Oliver Twist" and "Nicholas Nickleby" is very depressing; yet the final impression left by those books is not one of despair. A modern writer, putting the same pictures into a book, would deduce that the world is a hopeless place; Dickens, on the contrary, was an optimist, even though he saw quite as much of the seamy side of life as any modern writer you could name.

You can come to any conclusion you like about this. It may be that the modern is, on the whole, a wiser man than Dickens; and it may be that the present-day tendency toward despair is something that will pass, in the fullness of time, giving way to a philosophy that has more in common with Dickens.

Just at present it is fashionable to see the darker side of things—which, considering all that has happened in the last decade or so, is not surprising. But one is at least permitted to wonder whether this mood will endure.

An Encouraging Note

THE September bulletin of the National Association of Credit Men finds that the business outlook, if not exactly roseate, is at least brighter than some of us have been led to suppose.

"If business had a glass chin it would have been down and out before this," remarks the bulletin. "Our morale is not weakened. On the contrary, it has been strengthened by sober thinking, looking facts in the face, putting our house in order, eliminating wasteful expenditures and planning carefully for the future. For some months we have been under discipline. Before long we should begin to benefit by it."

Just to prove that this is not empty optimism, the bulletin points out that collections for August—even in the corn belt, hit by the drouth—are better than they were for the month preceding. This improvement, rightly enough, it calls "decidedly encouraging." Evidently the turn in the road is not a great way off.

Senator Nye and Illinois

STRANGE things happen in politics; among the strangest, as far as the current year is concerned, is the way in which the Illinois senatorial election seems due to hinge, in large part, on the personality and actions of Senator Gerald Nye.

Senator Nye is not an Illinoisian. He represents North Dakota, and draws cards only because he heads the senate committee appointed to investigate senatorial campaign fund expenditures. But he is rapidly becoming one of the leading "issues" in Illinois' election.

Ruth Hanna McCormick devotes her first campaign speech to an attack on Nye for his investigation tactics. Nye, she says, "shadowed" her; she, in turn, hired detectives to "shadow" him. The outsider may be pardoned for failing to understand what it's all about—and likewise, for wondering why a North Dakota senator should be the issue in an Illinois election.

Legge and Green Lock Horns

CHAIRMAN ALEXANDER LEGGE of the federal farm board declared to the New York state grange "that the farmers increased tax rates are due largely to the advance in labor wage rates." William Green is president of the American Federation of Labor. He shot this message to Legge, "Your statement is neither justified nor accurate." And then President Green insisted that Chairman Legge "as a matter of fairness and justice to the wage earning class and the farmers of our country" should make haste to correct his statement made in the presence of the members of the New York state grange. If it could be arranged a joint debate between Gladiator Legge and Gladiator Green would furnish interesting copy for the American press.

To My Successor

Congratulations, sir! I'm rather proud
That she picked out a striking lad like you.
Just think, if you'd been arrogant or loud,
How I'd have felt—I'm glad it isn't true.

And may I laud you on your perfect taste?
You'll find her charming to the 'nth degree;
A tip or two will never go to waste,
So jot these down—a parting gift from me.

Keep roses in her rooms—say twice a week;
Get tickets when West Point plays Notre Dame;
She likes a show—but it must be unique;
I guess that's all—go in and play the game.

When you get fired (she changes like the weather)
Come over and we'll have a laugh together!
—Young Man of Manhattan.

This Town of Ours

There is more excitement in this sort of work than you might suspect. An item such as this, frixample, startles me, as would a firecracker set off under my chair. However, there is a courtyard in the center of the New York Public Library at 42nd St. and Fifth ave.

Each day there is parked in this courtyard a large, handsome Packard, and an assemblage of decrepit Fords, Chevrolets, etc., etc. The latter cars are the property of the librarians.

The Packard is owned by the window-washer.

Pul-leez, My Nerves!

At one of the hotter spots a party of whoopee-fiends at the table next to Florence Lake's, opened a bottle of alleged champagne. "Bang!" popped the cork and Arthur Lake's sister hoisted both her arms and cried: "Lady, I don't even know your husband!"

Newspaperman Stuff

Lord Castlerosse, the able British journalist who is here to cover the Cup Races and to jot down his impressions of Americans for The New York Daily Mirror was approached at the Central Park Casino by an Englishman he had roasted in his London column some time ago.

"I say," said the aggrieved fellow, "I don't think much of your column."

"It's news to me," snapped his lordship, "I didn't know you could think, at all!"

Watta'y'Mean, "My Dear?"

"My Dear Walter Winchell: Let me tell you something. You have more crust than Ward's Baking Co., when you write the insulting things you write about Rudy Vallee that you do. He is no more of a Mary Pickford than you are, get that, I know that you're not, and I also know that he isn't. I wish that Rudy would give you a good punch in the nose. Oh, don't tell me he couldn't because I know different. No wonder Mark Hellinger hates you. I almost hate you myself. So please don't trouble to print things about Rudy that aren't true. Do you hear that?—Helen Peggy Valle."

Repartee

You probably are too young around these parts to know Sim Ford. He was the proprietor of the old Grand Union hotel at 42nd St. and Park ave., and undoubtedly the greatest after dinner speaker that New York knew during the first fifty years.

He still is flipcracking, however. Last Saturday he went to his golf club, and one of the cronies said: "It's so cold my teeth are chattering."

"I avoided that," replied Ford, "by checking mine in the coatroom."

Is My Face Purple?

The Truth-Seeker, a sort of a magazine, says: "To the San Francisco Call-Bulletin, Walter Winchell, a sort of underworld reporter, contributes among: 'Things I Never Knew Till Now,' this: 'That Ingersoll, the Agnostic, did not recant on his deathbed, as his enemies would have you believe.'

"Considering," considers the Truth-Seeker, "that Ingersoll has been dead more than thirty years, and that no year has passed without a refutation of what 'his enemies would have you believe,' Mr. Winchell has been a long time in finding out and admitting the fact. Hell, I didn't even know he was sick. I thought he was still making watches.

Ethel Barrymore, one of the pillars of the players' organization Equity, has served that union admirably from time to time—taking the stump during strikes against managers because of their fiendish treatment of actors and actresses. It was Miss Barrymore's great help that aided Equity to triumph against the villainous impresarios, and the union became more powerful because of her membership. To this day, one presumes, the star still donates her spare time to further Equity's interests, but now one of us has discovered that Miss Barrymore doesn't practice what she screeches.

For we learn to our great irritation that Miss Barrymore, the "actor's champion," has been playing a part offstage, too. At the Ethel Barrymore theater, for instance, there is a show christened "Topaze." In the theater bearing her name Miss Barrymore has three dressing rooms for her own use. Since she is not tenanting those three undressing rooms she had them padlocked, and as a result, Catherine Willard, the leading lady of "Topaze" (who has not been in the very best of health, particularly during the heat spells) is forced to climb three flights of stairs between scenes.

The Equity war whoop, by the way, is:

"One for All and All for One."

The Record News Offers A Booklet on How To Get Ahead

Out of 100 men with an equal start in life, only one will die rich, and two others will leave their families comfortably provided for. Fifteen others will leave from $2,000 to $10,000; not enough to provide comfort, but some help to the dependents. The remainder will leave nothing.

These facts constitute a sermon on saving that should be indelibly stamped on the memory of every youth.

The booklet, How to Get Ahead, not only preaches this sermon effectively, but tells in a practical, helpful way how the habits of wise spending and wise saving can be acquired. Send for a copy and try the budget and account system. You can always drop it if you don't like it and it will have cost you nothing but a little time. However, if you try it you will never drop it.

NOONE NAMED FOR TWO POSTS

Aged Man to Run for Dual State Positions

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 11. (UP)—Albert Wellington Noone, 84-year-old Peterboro millionaire manufacturer, was confident today that he could be both governor and senator at the same time and handle both jobs well.

Noone has been conceded the Democratic nominations in the New Hampshire primaries for both United States senator and governor. He attributed his double nomination to dissatisfaction of the electorate with the workings of prohibition. He campaigned on a "dripping wet" platform.

When Noone appeared at the state house six weeks ago to file papers for the two nominations he wore his customary diamond studded shirt. Few took his aspirations seriously then. But indications today were that he had won the senatorial nomination handily over Amos N. Blandin of Bath and the gubernatorial nomination over former Mayor Frederick E. Small of Rochester.

To Erect Beacon

Noone prefaced promises of what he would do if elected in November with the announcement that his election would be followed by erection of "the most powerful electric beacon light in this country on the summit of Mount Temple, near Peterboro." This, he said, would be a gesture of appreciation to the voters.

During the world war Noone served on the governor's executive council and at each meeting would wear a flower in his button-hole and present other flowers to his associates from a bouquet he carried in his hand.

Economy Program

In his campaign for election Noone will face former Gov. John G. Winant in the race for the governorship and U. S. Senator Henry W. Keyes, who has been renominated by Republicans for another term.

If elected to both offices Noone said he would not qualify for the senate until he had served in the governor's chair and "put into effect some of my economy theories in legislation."

BURK C.-C. TO PROVIDE SEED

Business Men Rally to Aid Of Farmers

Special to The Record News

BURKBURNETT, Texas, Sept. 11.—Stating that the "machinery of drouth relief has been moving too slowly" and that the farmers of the Burkburnett section can wait no longer for their seed wheat and oats if they expect to plant successfully this fall, the board of directors of the Burkburnett Chamber of Commerce at a meeting here Thursday night laid the first plans for a program by which farmers in this section will obtain seed for planting at once.

The directors, while formulating a plan of local nature, also took steps toward obtaining any relief possible from governmental sources deciding to dispatch a telegram Friday morning to Gov. Dan Moody urging him to include Wichita county in any state-wide program of drouth relief, even though it includes only a lowering of freight rates. Several of the directors present expressed their opinion that "Wichita county has been slighted or overlooked in the relief plans which have already been made."

It was also decided to call a mass meeting at the First Methodist church in Burkburnett Monday evening at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of enlisting the aid of business and professional men of the city in the immediate relief program. According to the plan worked out Thursday night, the seed will be purchased by the chamber of commerce, the banks will advance the money for payment and business and professional men, and any others interested in the project, will endorse the paper necessary to obtain the money. The seed will be brought at once to Burkburnett and made available to farmers for planting before it becomes too late to sow their wheat and oat fields.

A survey will be made Friday to determine the needs of farmers in the Burkburnett area in seed for planting. It was estimated at Thursday night's meeting that 5,000 bushels would be required.

The chamber of commerce has already gone forward in making plans and appointing committees to provide clothing, food and other necessities of life for those farmers who find themselves in dire straits this winter. The directors said they were anticipating such conditions during the winter months and that they had already completed plans to care for the farmers, not waiting until the necessity arises. The committees are already at work and the clothing and food will be provided through public subscription, voluntary donations, or in the lack of these, bought directly by the chamber of commerce.

Suspect Held In Texas Shooting

PORT ARTHUR, Texas, Sept. 11. (AP)—Edwin Ortego, 26, an employe of the Texas company refinery here was held in City jail tonight following the fatal shooting of one man and the serious injury of another at the Texas company refinery this morning.

While at work Ortego was said to have suddenly whipped out a small caliber pistol and fatally shot Dominicio Polito, 38. He then shot Alex Leger, seriously injuring him. Ortego finished emptying the revolver in the air. The three men were believed to have been good friends and worked at the refinery together. Ortego said he shot the men because they were leaders of a mob, out to get him.

Polito died at a hospital several hours after the shooting. Ortego will probably be transferred to the county insane ward at Beaumont. M. B. Word, local chief of police, said.

Mother Slays Self and Daughter; Suicide and Murder Wipe Out Family

Desperate Parents Take Arms Against Their Children in Texas and Colorado Homes

DENVER, Sept. 11. (INS)—Tragedy stalked in the humble home of Eugene Ross, 41, a Denver tramway employe, today as the police riot squad entered in response to an emergency call.

They found Mrs. Helen Ross, 35, the wife and mother of three children dead with a bullet in her right forehead; her beautiful 15-year-old daughter, Joyce, dead with a bullet through her breast; her daughter, Wilma, aged 10, wounded with a bullet in the breast; her 9-year-old son, Gordon, dazed from his successful flight from the mother's gun, and the husband and father in a frenzy.

Victim of Fear

According to police, Mrs. Ross had been the victim of melancholia over ill health, straitened financial circumstances and the fear that she might lose her husband and home.

The couple lived in a comfortable cottage in West Byers Place, South Denver.

Boy Escapes

Ross told police the first he knew of the affair was when he was awakened by shots and cries of the children shortly after 3 o'clock. The mother apparently had left the room which she occupied with Ross, taken a .32 caliber revolver, shot and killed Joyce, wounded Wilma, who was in another room, and then went to the third sleeping room and fired twice at the boy. The latter shots failed to take effect.

Mrs. Ross then turned the weapon upon herself.

FATHER KILLS WIFE AND SON

EL PASO, Sept. 11. (AP)—After firing bullets into the bodies of his wife and little son, George W. Cook, 52, head of an electrical business here, took his own life here today.

Mrs. Cook, 32, was killed instantly by a bullet through her head, aimed as she lay in bed asleep. George Wilton Cook, 7, was shot twice and died a few hours later. The boy was sleeping in the same bed with Mrs. Cook's great aunt, Mrs. Margaret Lowe, and Betty Jane Cook, 18 months old, adopted daughter of the Cooks. Mrs. Lowe and the little girl were unharmed.

Mrs. Lowe said she was awakened by the first shot fired at the little boy by her side and pleaded with Cook not to shoot the second time. He refused to heer her request, she said.

"I rushed into Mrs. Cook's room and saw her body on the bed, blood coming from a wound in the head," she said. "Mr. Cook went to another room and shot himself three times with a rifle."

Cook had used a pistol to shoot his wife and little son.

A coroner returned a verdict of murder and suicide.

Officers said they could not account for Cook's actions. They said his former wife and two sons were living in Los Angeles, Calif. He had been active in business here for a number of years.

Motorist Fined $20 for Speeding In School Zone

With the vacation season closed and schools once more in session, Wichita Falls motorists must break the habit they developed during the summer of speeding through school traffic zones, according to a warning issued Thursday by Police Chief Frank Burns, who instructed members of the motorcycle police squad to keep close watch for violations of the ordinance requiring slow travel past school buildings and to issue tickets to violators.

New rubber slow signs have been placed in the streets approaching school buildings, for the protection of children crossing the streets during the mornings, at recess periods, lunch and at closing time in the afternoons, the chief said, and motorists must observe these warnings or lay themselves open to arrest and prosecution in court. One driver was arrested Wednesday when motorcicle officers, according to the report, stopped him after he had driven through a school slow zone at 40 miles an hour while children were leaving school. He was fined $20 by Judge W. L. Bass in corporation court.

SHIP ON FIRE

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 11. (UP)—According to a radio report received by the Merchants exchange, the McCormick line steamer Peter Helms, which left the Columbia river at 8 p. m. Wednesday for California, put back for the river late today with a fire in No. 2 hold.

Ferguson Followers To Stick to Party

DALLAS, Texas, Sept. 11. (UP)—Leading Dallas supporters of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, defeated in the Democratic gubernatorial run-off primary by Ross Sterling, declared today they would not heed Ferguson's invitation to bolt the party and support the Republican nominee for governor.

Maury Hughes, former member of the state executive committee, who led a group into a "rump" session here at the county convention in opposition to the Sterling faction, said today that he would support the Houston man in the general election.

"I am a Democrat and would not think of bolting the ticket," Hughes said.

Other former Ferguson leaders said they would remain in the Democratic fold and said they would ignore an invitation published in Ferguson's paper, the Forum, to all of his followers to bolt the party.

U. S. JOINS WAR ON GANGSTERS

Racketeers Under Income Tax Probe

CHICAGO, Sept. 11. (AP)—An offensive was under way tonight against the racketeer, beer baron and hoodlum on several fronts.

An inkling of income tax prosecutions by the federal government was heard in the summons of "Boss" John J. McLaughlin to the internal revenue bureau to explain alleged discrepancies in his reports for 1927 to 1929.

Government agents have scrutinized the records found in the strong boxes of Jack Zuta, slain gangster, and of Joe Aiello, head of the north side alcohol syndicate. Terry Druggan and other leading lights of the beer trade await trials for alleged evasion of the tax laws.

Municipal Judge John H. Lyle joined the offensive by tossing Tony Kissane and John Barry back into cells under $30,000 bonds for trial on vagrancy charges.

State's attorney John A. Swanson announced his newest weapon would be indictments of vagrants in the felony courts, and he would test his guns tomorrow. "Izzy" Alderman, once questioned in the Lingle murder case, and his pal, Joe Condi, are held in the county jail under $30,000 bond fixed by Judge Lyle on vagrancy charges and Swanson said he would attempt to remove the case to criminal court for trial.

Spanish War Vets Ask Prize for Captured Ship

BALTIMORE, Sept. 11. (AP)—After 32 years, survivors of the crew of the U. S. S. Dixie in the Spanish-American war will carry their claim for prize money to the navy department.

The warship's crew formed an association several weeks ago and last night voted to send Lieut. Layton F. Smith, who in 1898, sailed one of the Dixie's most important prizes to a Florida port to Washington to press their claim.

Lieutenant Smith took charge of the Spanish vessel Greenan Castle after it was overtaken and captured by the Dixie off the Cuban coast.

Lawton Wins 1931 Labor Convention

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., Sept. 11. (UP)—After endorsing the platform of W. H. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray, Democratic gubernatorial nominee, delegates to the 27th annual Oklahoma State Labor Federation convention late yesterday passed a resolution commending the issuance of short term notes for road construction as suggested by Ira Hill, Republican gubernatorial nominee.

Convention delegates returned to their homes today after selecting Lawton as the 1931 convention city.

Postmaster General To Ask Rate Raise

DETROIT, Sept. 11. (US)—An increase of half a cent per ounce in the postal rate on first class matter will be recommended to the next congress, Postmaster General Brown announced here today.

Addressing the National Association of Postmasters, the postmaster general declared that 2½-cent postage is "amply justified, both on theoretical and practical grounds."

The present 2-cent rate has been in effect since 1885, Brown pointed out.

Posses Seek Negro After His Auto Kills Woman

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark., Sept. 11. (UP)—Armed posses tonight continued their search for Bob Davis, negro, who ran over and killed Mrs. Irene Harding, 40, with his automobile last night.

Mob violence was feared should Davis be captured by bands of citizens who are searching the White river bottoms near here.

Mrs. Harding's 16-year-old daughter was injured seriously when struck by Davis' car.

A clear skin is irresistible...

in fact, popularity depends upon it

YOU KNOW your skin is constantly undergoing a change!

Invisibly you shed the old skin and take on the new. The quality of the new depends very largely upon the quality and the vitality of your red-blood-cells—those vital "cells" that build, nourish and repair tissue.

Whatever treatment you may use for your complexion, remember the important fact that natural beauty—a clear skin and a rose-petal complexion—comes from within.

More red-blood-cells and of the right quality! That's the answer to a sallow complexion and to pimples and boils.

The way to regain the red-blood-cells is to take S.S.S.—the Tonic that will help Nature build up and enrich your blood. Your skin will clear up! Your whole body will be strengthened!

If popularity and a clear skin are slipping away from you try S.S.S. Its successful record of over 100 years is a guarantee of satisfaction.

Complexion cleared up beautifully

Miss Mary Rank, Clearwater, N. Y., writes: "My face was blemished with many pimples. No treatment I used did them any good. I also had boils. My appetite was poor. My weight was off and I felt nervous. After taking S.S.S. my complexion cleared up beautifully. My appetite improved. I now rest well at night and am greatly benefited in every way. Because S.S.S. helped me I think it is the best blood medicine!"

Pimples and blackheads disappeared

Mrs. Mary E. Parker, Bahama, N. C., writes: "Because of a rundown condition my appetite was poor. I felt tired in the mornings and was troubled with pimples and blackheads. Red bumps came on my face once or twice monthly. After taking S.S.S. the pimples and blackheads disappeared and my skin became clear. I do not feel tired upon rising in the mornings. I had tried a number of medicines but S.S.S. is the one that helped me."

Blood is Life!

You cannot count your own red-blood-cells—that is technical! But you should know that they are the "ships" that sail in the blood and carry nourishment to all parts of the body. Also, they remove impurities from the tissues.

Pimples and boils, body weakness, lack of appetite, underweight, paleness and sallow complexion are symptoms of a low blood count. These may indicate that you need S.S.S.

For the mildness of Camels is a charm that's all its own... a natural mildness that's a quality of choicest tobaccos. Don't confuse this fresh, fragrant mildness with the flatness or insipidness of "over-treated" tobacco. There's a delightful natural fragrance to Camels, too, a "bouquet" as distinctive as the fragrance of oriental flowers.

Fermented and Sour Milk Diets

Various types of sour milk have been used as a food beverage ever since men learned to domesticate milk-producing animals, such as cows, mares, goats, camels and donkeys. Within the last 50 years the healthful value of sour and fermented milk has become more recognized, and many sanitariums have sprung up in Russia and Central Europe, especially, where the sour milk diets are given in the treatment of a variety of disorders.

The first thought that sour milk might be used in the cure of disease seems to have originated as a result of a number of independent observers in reporting that the countries where large quantities of sour milk were used contained the greatest number of people who lived beyond the ripe old age of 100 years.

The principle kinds of sour milk are: the plain sour milk containing lactic acid with which we are all familiar; buttermilk, made from churning sour cream and removing the butter; kumiss, a product of double fermentation, both lactic acid and alcoholic; and yoghoort, a product where some member of the bulcaricus type of lactic acid bacteria is used to increase the amount of lactic acid from the 1 per cent found in ordinary milk to 2 per cent or 3 per cent.

Buttermilk is consumed in enormous quantities in Scotland and Ireland. It contains about the same nutritional value as skimmed milk and is more easily digested by the average stomach, as the casein curds are finely divided because of the churning.

Kumiss was the principal beverage of the ancient Tartars. It was originally made from either mare's or camel's milk to which a small quantity of the previous batch was added, and the milk then frequently agitated during its fermentation. The milk begins to sour during the first 24 hours and fermentation is finished in about three days, producing a slightly sour, effervescent liquid with about the alcoholic content of light beer. The product is not only nutritious, but easily digested and has the advantage of keeping for a long time without spoiling. In this country a similar product is made from cow's milk that has been treated with cultures of lactic acid bacteria and yeast. To prepare this product from cow's milk it is necessary to first remove a portion of the cream and add a small amount of sugar. If a large amount of cream were allowed to remain it would produce butyric acid, giving the product a bitter flavor and irritating the stomach. The sugar is added to assist the yeast fermentation. There is not enough alcohol in the finished product to be harmful.

Kumiss is easily digested because the casein curds are very finely divided and a portion of the protein is made soluble by the bacterial action. For this reason convalescents often find that kumiss can be used when the stomach is too weak to digest other foods, and they find that its creamy, effervescent consistency is very appetizing. In England, a product similar to kumiss is known as Kephir. Kumiss diets have been successfully used in the treatment of many digestive disorders and seem to be helpful in cases of tuberculosis. Many beauty parlors are beginning to prescribe it for their patrons as they find that it assists in clearing the complexion when used both in the diet and externally as a skin application.

Yoghoort is a product in which some member of the bulcaricus type of lactic acid bacteria is used to produce a large amount of lactic acid, as it is claimed that the lactic acid will retard putrefaction in the intestines.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Disorders of Spine

Question: Reader writes—"Please tell me if arthritis of the spine means the same as tuberculosis of the spine, or does the former lead to the latter? Would you advise a plaster cast? One specialist does and another says it will do no good."

Answer—Tuberculosis of the spine and arthritis of the spine are entirely different disorders, although the usual treatment advised is the same in both cases. However I seldom advise a plaster cast to be used in such troubles. A better plan (as it seems to me, is to allow some movement of the joints—not too much exercise, and still not a solid cast, to make the parts immovable. The main thing to do is to get rid of the toxic condition which is the real cause of either one of these troubles.

Starches

Question: S. D. asks—"Generally speaking, what are the starches?"

Answer—The grains, the legumes, sago, tapioca, and those vegetables classed as "tubers" which grow under the ground.

Nail Biting

Question: Mrs. W. B. asks—"Can you suggest some method of making my little boy stop biting his fingernails? He seems to be in good health, except a little nervous."

Answer—As far as stopping this unsanitary habit of biting the fingernails is concerned, the cure is quite simple. Dip the child's fingers several times daily in a solution of alum water. This will keep the alum on the fingers all day long, and after a few days the child will become disgusted with the puckery taste of the alum which he gets every time he puts his fingers into his mouth. This little cure always works.

Labor Applauds Immigration Act

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 11. (AP)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, has sent a telegram to President Hoover praising the action of the state department to curtail immigration while unemployment is acute.

He said the decision of the state department was heartily endorsed by the executive council of the federation.

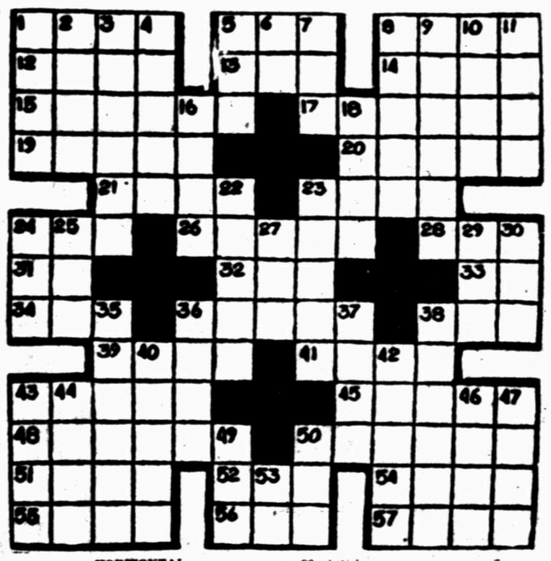

Mr. Green said he had conferred with Secretary of Labor Davis about the need of shutting out immigration during the unemployment period by refusing to issue visas, and believed the action of the state department would relieve the problem.

'Hunch' Saves Oklahoma Store From Robbery

KONAWA, Okla., Sept. 11. (UP)—Because Harry Stryon, department store owner, had a "hunch" that he did not turn the knob on his store safe, he frustrated a plan to rob the Boon-Stryon firm here last night.

After returning home from work Stryon felt that the safe was not locked. He returned to the store and found two men ready to enter the building through the skylight. One man was captured. The other fled.

SOONER RAISES RAIL VALUES

Assessments on Santa Fe Increased

Special to The Record News.

ALTUS, Okla., Sept. 11.—Granting the petition of five Oklahoma counties to raise the assessed valuation of the Orient branch of the Santa Fe railway, the state board of equalization today voted a blanket raise of 33 1-3 per cent over the figure formerly placed on the railroad.

The move to raise valuation was initiated by W. A. Ferris, Jackson county assessor, following receipt of assessed valuation of railroads as placed by state board of equalization.

The assessed valuation originally placed the Santa Fe at approximately one-seventh the amount per mile at which the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad was valued and at about one-third that of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas.

A similar condition was later found existing in Washita, Dewey, Major and Alfalfa counties. The raise will add approximately $1,500 to tax collections of Jackson county.

Holloway Insists On State Drouth Relief

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 11. (UP)—Gov. W. J. Holloway will insist that the state drouth relief committee attempt to work out a way to finance farmers in drouth stricken areas, who are without collateral, to make another crop, he said today.

"I believe there are sufficient wealthy people in Oklahoma who would contribute to a corporation to make loans to this class of farmers, who do not want charity," the governor said.

"D. P. Trent, head of the extension department of A. & M. college estimates there are 25,000 farmers of this class in the state. A loan of $100 to each of these farmers would go a long ways toward financing him to make another crop. A large number of these loans would be repaid but they are not the class of loans a bank could make.

"A corporation for this purpose capitalized at $250,000 would do much to relieve the situation in Oklahoma."

Canada Urged to Act On Waterway Question

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (UP)—Hanford MacNider, American minister in Ottawa, has delivered a note to the Canadian government suggesting early action on the St. Lawrence waterway question, Acting Secretary of State Colton announced today. The note will not be made public at this time, he added.

Lonely Little Rich Girl 'Adopts' Sister for Playmate

On the left is little Gloria Lloyd, six-year-old daughter of Harold Lloyd. Beside her is her new sister, Marjorie Elizabeth Lloyd, adopted to keep Gloria company in the big Beverly Hills mansion.

Pretty Foster Sister Will End Loneliness for Little Gloria Lloyd

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Sept. 11. (NEA)—Gloria Lloyd, 6-year-old daughter of Harold Lloyd and his wife, Mildred Davis, has a new sister. And the new sister, little Marjorie Elizabeth Lloyd, also is a playmate—as she now is 5 years of age.

No, the Lloyd's haven't been holding out on you, folks. It's just that Marjorie Elizabeth, who is better known as Peggy, is an adopted daughter.

Ever since the Lloyds moved into their new mansion in Beverly Hills, Gloria has been pleading for a playmate. When they lived in Hollywood there were several children of Gloria's age in the neighborhood and she had no trouble amusing herself. But the new estate is so large and the neighbors so far away that Gloria was lonesome.

This is the way it all happened. Mrs. Lloyd saw little Peggy for the first time last year and liked her so much she asked permission to take her home for a day. And when Harold saw the child he became equally fond of her. Immediately they wanted to adopt her but Mrs. Louise Sullivan, who then had the child, refused to part with her.

Back in 1915 Mrs. Sullivan's 18-year-old son died with the words "mother's a good mother" on his lips.

"That's a statement I must live up to," vowed Mrs. Sullivan. "I herewith pledge God that I will take into my home and mother every homeless child who crosses my path."

Mrs. Sullivan gave up her social activities, dispensed with her servants and devoted her entire time to motherhood on perhaps the largest scale yet attempted. Since that time she has cared for 168 children. But in doing so she spent her entire fortune. So, a few weeks ago, she visited the Lloyd mansion.

"If you still want to adopt Peggy you may," she told Mrs. Lloyd. "I no longer have enough money to keep her, and I know she will have a good home with you."

So Peggy went to live with the Lloyds and a few days later they started proceedings for her legal adoption.

The most unusual part of it all is that the two children look enough alike to be real sisters. Their hair and eyes are the same color, their complexions match and they have many similar expressions and mannerisms.

And Gloria, as she plays around the big estate, is no longer lonesome.

KANSAS CORN CROP WILL BE FAR SHORT LAST YEAR

TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 11. (INS)—The Kansas corn crop this year will be approximately 76,000,000 bushels, 30,000,000 bushels below the yield of 1929, according to an announcement by the state board of agriculture in the September crop report today.

The extreme heat and drouth are held entirely responsible for the short crop, the heat being more harmful than the lack of moisture, according to the report.

Texas-Wisconsin Breach Healed

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 11. (UP)—Reversing its previous stand which the supreme court refused to uphold, the state real estate brokers' board today approved the application of the Progreso Development company, Houston, to sell Hidalgo county, Texas, citrus fruit land in Wisconsin.

MESSINA, Italy, Sept. 11. (AP)—The volcano Stromboli, on one of the Aeolian islands, erupted today, throwing its cone into the air, one person was killed at Stromboli and a number were injured in Ginostra, a suburb. An earthquake accompanied the eruption.

YOUTH SPURNS AID IN TRIAL

Murder Suspect Guarded From Mob

BOONVILLE, Mo., Sept. 11. (UP)—Under heavy guard, Tony Vriski, 22-year-old reformatory inmate who shot and killed C. E. Chrane, superintendent of schools Tuesday here, today waived preliminary hearing on a first degree murder charge. He was returned to his cell in the Missouri state penitentiary at Jefferson City.

Vriski's trial will be set as soon as possible, E. C. Lynch, Howard county prosecutor said. Attempting to escape from the institution, Vriski forced Chrane to drive him out of town where the school head was shot and killed.

Fearing mob violence, officers took Vriski to Fayette in an armored car. Feeling still was high here.

Vriski refused legal aid. He remained silent throughout the procedure. He previously had said he was drunk on grape wine and that he did not remember kidnaping and killing Chrane.

Boonville business houses and schools were closed today for Chrane's burial. Services were held in the auditorium of Kemper Military school because of the large crowd.

'Limited' Marriage Contract Upheld In 'Gloomy' Dean's New Book

LONDON, Sept. 11. (UP)—Two forms of marriage, one for persons who do not recognize vows of fidelity and another for those who do, the first recognized by the state and the second by the church, are proposed by the Very Rev. R. B. Inge "Gloomy Dean" of St. Paul's cathedral, in a book entitled "Christian Ethics and Modern Problems."

Marriage of "limited contract," for persons not recognizing the vows of fidelity, would be recognized by the state, and marriages in which the parties take vows for a lifetime would be recognized by the church, according to Dean Inge's proposals.

Civil Recognition

The gloomy dean declares that persons entering a "limited contract" marriage, with the terms clearly understood by both contracting parties, should have the right to claim that the state shall recognize their position as "something better than mere concubinage." Whether they should be allowed to be members of the church is a difficult question of discipline," the dean says. He adds that breaking of the lifelong marriage vows would constitute a scandalous and most dishonorable offense.

The dean suggests that the state grant divorce for causes other than misconduct, including desertion, brutal cruelty, habitual drunkenness conviction for felony, and the concealment of bodily or mental defects.

Marriage for Man

The problem of divorce for a Christian is complicated by the uncertainty of Christ's intention when he spoke on the subject, Dean Inge says.

"I do not think Christ meant to fix hard and fast rules," Dean Inge says. "If a very hard case had been brought before him, he might possibly have said, 'Marriage was made for man, and not man for marriage.'"

Wichita Falls—Geygan batting for Steengrafe. Geygan was called out on strikes. Levey popped out to third. Storti ringled through the box. Fitzgerald forced Storti to second, second to short. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Eighth Inning

Fort Worth—Koob now pitching for Wichita Falls. O'Connell fanned. Stoner walked. Moore singled to center, advancing Stoner to second. Mallon singled to short, filling the bases. Bonowitz flied out to Bettencourt. Brown singled to center, scoring Stoner and Moore, and Mallon scored when Euller let Fitzgerald's throw from center get through him, the ball going into the Spudder dugout. Fowler walked. Cox forced Fowler at second, Levey to Storti. Three runs, three hits, one error.

Wichita Falls—Kloza hit a home run over the right field fence. Burns grounded out, second to first. Bettencourt hit a home run over the left field fence. Crouch grounded out, second to first. Euller grounded out, short to first. Two runs, two hits, no errors.

Ninth Inning

Fort Worth—Tavener flied out to Fitzgerald. O'Connell grounded out, Koob to Burns. Stoner grounded out, Storti to Burns. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Wichita Falls—Robertson hitting for Koob. Robertson grounded out, pitcher to first. Levey flied out to Bonowitz against the left field fence. Storti flied out to left. No runs, no hits, no errors.

In a game between Brooklyn and St. Louis this year three pinch hitters were used and each hit a home run.

T. C. U. GIRDS ON WAR TOGS

Christians Plav Two Games Next Week

FORT WORTH, Sept. 11. (AP)—Coaches Schmidt and Wolfe have set about the task of forming two separate and distinct teams for the two games the Texas Christian university football squad will play next week-end. The letter men and the bulk of the strength will be thrown against North Texas Teachers at Denton Friday while the green material will be used in the skirmish here Saturday against the East Texas Teachers from Commerce.

The Eagles, with one of the outstanding teams of the T. I. A. A. are expected to give the Christians some real worry in the Friday game. The Lions aren't supposed to be strong.

In the backfield used against the Eagles, Schmidt will try Cy Leland, Grassy Hinton, Harlos Green, Austin Griffith, Vance Woolwine, Paul Snow, and possibly two or three others. The line is likely to be made up almost altogether of men who have won their letters. By shifting Roy Eury from an end to a tackle that can be managed and it has been decided by the mentors to convert the big basket center (six feet three inches tall and 190 pounds) from an end into a tackle or possibly a guard. Rob El Cox is the other lettered athlete who can be used at tackle.

Indians Purchase Hurler From New Orleans Pels

CLEVELAND, Sept. 11. (AP)—Purchase by the Cleveland Indians of Thornton Lee, left-handed pitcher, from the New Orleans Pelicans for $10,000 was announced here today. Yesterday the Tribe completed a $25,000 deal for Fay Thomas, right-handed hurler, from the Sacramento team of the Pacific Coast league.

LYONS WINS 21ST

CHICAGO, Sept. 11. (AP)—Ted Lyons won his 21st game of the year this afternoon when he got a 12-inning decision over the Boston Red Sox, 4 to 3. Red Barnes drove in the winning run off Smith with a single to right after Watwood and Jolley had walked. The Red Sox took an early lead but Reynolds' homer in the fifth with Watwood on base put Chicago ahead. Two pinch hitters connected for Boston in the eighth to tie the score. Score:

MCLARNIN FLOORS SINGER

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, Sept. 11. (UP)—Jimmy McLarnin knocked out Al Singer, lightweight champion, after two minutes, 21 seconds of fighting in the third round tonight before 40,000 cheering spectators in Yankee stadium.

The bout ended sharply when McLarnin whipped over a left to the jaw which sent Singer to the canvas for the count of nine toward the end of the third round.

The Bronx boy, flat on his stomach, rolled back and forth in apparent agony but staggered to his feet and the bout went on. It was only for a moment, however, for the lightweight champion was groggy and McLarnin had only to whip home a light left hook to the jaw to put Singer away for the final count.

Mustangs' Ineligible Captain-Elect Forced Aside as Mates Train

By GAYLE TALBOT JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Sept. 11. (AP)—A big fellow, dejection written over every inch of his massive frame, watched longingly as the Southern Methodist University Mustangs suited up for the first time Wednesday and frolicked about Ownby stadium.

Marion "Scrap Iron" Hammon, one of the Southwest conference's greatest tackles and captain-elect of the Ponies, was forced to stand by, a spectator, as began what was to have been the triumphant climax of his college football career. Gone was the vision of the day when he would stand in midfield at South Bend and Baltimore, representing his Mustangs, and call the flip of a coin. It hurt, somehow, to watch him shake hands with his former teammates and wish them luck.

There is no chance that the faculty will relent and restore Hammon to scholastic eligibility this year. He is uncertain of his future plans. He might extend his course and remain to play in 1931.

Out of deference to their unfortunate captain-elect, the Mustangs have decided not to elect another leader. Coach Morrison will name an acting captain before each game.

The more one studies the material at the disposal of Jack Meagher, Rice institute mentor, the less certain he becomes that the Owls will remain in their accustomed niche at the bottom of the conference ladder. Meagher (it is pronounced "Meyer," incidentally) is a smart coach, and he really has something to work with this year. The Owls might not wait until 1931 to kick some team over.

Consider: There are 11 lettermen and 50 sophomores romping about Rice field. A greater part of those sophomores were outstanding stars in high school, like Seaman Squyres, great punter from Cleburne, and Ed Hander, all-state center from Waco, just to name a pair. There are 23 backfield candidates, including three lettermen. It is not impossible that Meagher will take that array of young talent and whip it into a formidable machine by November. A sophomore backfield carried S. M. U. to second place in the last conference race and tied the champion T. C. U. Frogs in its final game.

An interesting experiment is Coach Morley Jennings' plan to convert Bochey Koch, great Baylor guard, into an end. An all-conference performer at the inside position last year, Koch is said to be equally brilliant on a wing. He played that position at Temple high school and was an outstanding defensive man.

The ends were the weakest link in the 1929 Baylor eleven, if one may except the backfield's inability to knock down forward passes. And Jennings, by the way, is said to be looking for some "big, tall fellows" to replace a couple of last year's diminutive backs.

Some idea of the growing popularity of football in the Southwest is gleaned from the report from Austin that reservations for the Thanksgiving day classic between the Longhorns and Aggies are pouring in at the rate of 400 a day—and that almost three weeks before either team will play its first 1930 game.

RAZORBACKS GO IN FOR SCRIMMAGE DRILL

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Sept. 11. (AP)—Continuing his policy of hard work, Coach Thomsen sent his University of Arkansas Razorbacks through scrimmage this second day of practice. Drill in going down under punts, catching passes and blocking completed the workout for the squad.

Practically all of the candidates for the team have reported with the exception of "Chicken" Holmes, quarterback prospect, and Chambers, varsity end.

Thomsen is searching his squad to find someone to throw passes. Uptmoor and Dale are getting off some good punts, but so far neither has been able to place the ball in passing.

Development of a passer and some tackles and ends are the big problems facing the Arkansas coaches now.

WALLACE ARRIVES IN OWLS' CAMP

HOUSTON, Sept. 11. (AP)—Arrival of Pat Wallace, halfback, today swelled the Rice grid squad to the 66 candidates from which Coach Jack Meagher will fashion his 1930 team.

Jack Scott, promising end, has thrown in his lot with Capt. Billy Morgan and mates, thereby lifting much of the gloom hovering over the wing situation.

Uniforms were issued for the afternoon practice, but track togs were the rule for the early session that featured kicking, passing, charging and signal running.

Few fans ventured an appearance on the field in deference to Coach Meagher's announcement of secret practice. Skull practice will be held each day until the Southwestern game, Meagher indicated.

FARRELL LOSES TO FELLOW PRO

Former Champ Weakens On Putts

FLUSHING, N. Y., Sept. 11. (UP)—A recalcitrant putter cost Johnny Farrell, former national open champion his chance in the P. G. A. tournament here today, the Mamaroneck, N. Y., pro losing to Tommy Armour, nervy Detroiter. The score was 2 and 1.

Farrell in the morning 18 of their third round 36-hole contest, led Armour by four holes after six had been played. Armour then settled down and won or halved every hole from the sixth through 18th. Some of Armour's victories were obtained when Farrell missed short putts. Johnny failed to sink three four-footers.

VAN RYN BOWS TO BIG BILL

Johnny Doeg Masters Foe In Championship

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 11. (AP)—The old regime in American tennis has not yet fallen. Frank Hunter, 36-year-old veteran, was beaten today by young Johnny Doeg in the quarter-final round of the national singles championship, but Big Bill Tilden, at 37, gave Johnny van Ryn a tennis lesson and is still the favorite to capture the title for the eighth time.

Doeg overcame his stubborn foeman in five hard sets, 11-13, 6-4, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4, and will clash with the champion, Tilden, in the semi-final round tomorrow. It will be a battle of services since Doeg has one of the three or four fastest deliveries in the world and Tilden's famous cannonballs piled up a total of 20 aces as he downed Van Ryn by scores of 4-6, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4, before a gallery of 9,000 this afternoon.

Frank Shields, stalwart New York youth of 19, played world-beating tennis in streaks to defeat Gregory Mangin of Newark, N. J., 3-6, 6-3, 6-2, 6-1, 6-1, and Sidney Wood, 18-year-old star from the courts of the same biz city, showed a stroke mastery rivalling that of Tilden in eliminating Clifford Sutter, of New Orleans, the national intercollegiate champion, 6-4, 6-3, 2-6, 7-5.

Big Bill as usual will be the favorite when he clashes with Doeg, the same player he defeated in five sets in the semi-finals of last year's tournament, but the Wood-Shields affair is a toss-up.

DIXIE SERIES TO OPEN HERE IF SPUDDERS WIN TEXAS PENNANT

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED D. THOMPSON

You won't be able to recognize this Texas league in 1931. The past season produced a brilliant bunch of youngsters, including no less than seven members of the Wichita Falls club, who next year will graduate to higher class company. And there will be numberless shiftings among the Texas league clubs.

The Cats have purchased Tony Piet from the Waco Cubs. All of the Shreveport players are for sale, owing to Owner Biedenharn's egress from the business. Two of them have already been picked up by the Dallas Steers. Art Phelan, Sports skipper the past season has resigned and probably is looking for a job in the Texas league. He'll probably get one, too, with ease.

There will be many Texans of the crop of 1930 in the major leagues. Our own four, Levey, Storti, Crouch and Burns, will, of course, be the most prominent. Jimmy Moore of the Steers is already performing with the Athletics. Gene Moore of Dallas has been purchased by the Reds. Tony Kaufmann of Houston is with the Cardinals.

There will be many others who go to class AA ranks. Our three, Kloza, Wiltse and Euller, will be prominent in that division.

And then there are others who are going up. Dizzy Dean of Houston will work for the Cards next year. And news stories Wednesday night said that Allyn Stout of Houston had been purchased by the Cards, while Ralph Judd, hurler, Wattie Holm, Joel Hunt and Homer Peel, outfielders, also of the Buffs, had been recalled by the Cardinals for big league duty.

Indeed, it will be a different circus when we step out onto the lot next year. We won't be able to recognize the Spudders, or, for that matter, hardly any other club in the league.

Certain it is that the Wichita Falls Spudders are never going to assemble such a brilliant aggregation as the present edition. (But watch out now, Rambler. That's what the sports scribes o'er the state said about the 1929 club at the beginning of the 1930 season, and look what we got!)

Well, then I'll change that. It doesn't seem, then, that it is possible to assemble a bunch as brilliant as Storti, Levey, Burns, Euller, Kloza, Wiltse, Steengrafe, and the rest of them. It may be possible, but it doesn't seem so. Goodness, but what a jolt it will be to us to lose that gang! Would I had a lota dough. I'd travel around wherever that bunch went, just to write about 'em.

What the Mail Brought

"Dear Rambler:

"If you can answer this question please do as it has come up among a bunch of us Spudder fans as a question as to what the average player's salary is in the Texas league? Do they get their expenses besides their salary?

"Jack Dickson, Burkburnett."

We take it you don't mean the "average player's salary," but the "average salary" of a Texas league player. Club officials are usually reticent on this point, but from what we hear the average salary of a Texas league player is around $450 per month.

The clubs pay all expenses of players on road trips, including meals, hotel and transportation. While at home the players must pay their own way.

What About Stoner?

"Dear Rambler:

"Please advise if Lil Stoner, pitcher for the Fort Worth Cats, has pitched a whole or part of any game against the Spudders during the 1930 baseball season and received credit for a 'win.'

"It is my opinion that Stoner started several games against the Spudders, but has lost them.

"Thanking you in advance for this favor, I remain,

"Buddie Tanner, Olney, Texas."

Stoner, during the past season, never pitched a game, in whole or in part, against the Spudders and received credit for a victory. He pitched two complete games against the Spudders and lost them. If I remember correctly, he went in as a relief pitcher several times, but charged neither with defeats or victories. I know he was a relief pitcher in the next to the last series we played with the Cats, but derned if I can remember what he received credit for in the box score, if anything.

Mr. Tanner is the kindest man I ever heard of. He enclosed a 2-cent stamp with his letter, expecting me to write a letter. Thanks, Mr. Tanner. I'll write my gal a letter, now that I have the wherewith, etc.

You Win, Mr. Young!

The other day we received a letter signed by Fats Young and Jim Parker, of Thrift. They wanted to know "who Wichita Falls closed the season with, and was it the day Larry Bettencourt played every position."

It wasn't said what season they meant.

I took them to mean the 1930 season, and fired back the answer, that we closed with Fort Worth (which was as obvious as hayseed on a governor's lapel), and that Bettencourt didn't play every position in the last game.

Well, it appears now Jim Parker wrote the letter, and that Fats Young just signed it with him; but what is more important, the gentlemen meant the 1929 season, and not the 1930 season. Oh, well, if I can't explain it, let Mr. Young do it:

"Dear Rambler:

"I want to correct the mistake that Jim Parker wrote you. We went to know who Wichita Falls closed the 1929 season with, and what game did Bettencourt play every position in in 1929.

"Yours, Fat Young."

"P. S. A southbound goose would know that Wichita Falls closed with Fort Worth this season."

!!!!

Alright, now that we've got that all straightened out, we'll answer your question.

The Spudders closed the season in 1929 with the Beaumont Exporters, and in that final game Larry Bettencourt played every position.

BATTLE OPENS NEXT WEEK

Memphis Gets Opener If Cats Win

By FRED THOMPSON

Final details for the playoff between the Texas league championship baseball club and the Memphis Chicks, winner of the Southern association title, in the annual Dixie series were completed early Thursday afternoon, J. Alvin Gardner, president of the Texas league, announced just before the final game here between the Cats and the Spudders started.

Schedule of Games

In the event the Wichita Falls Spudders win the Texas league bunting from the Cats, the Dixie series between the Chicks and the Spudders will open here next Wednesday, with the second game being played here Thursday. Friday would be spent in traveling to Memphis. The series would continue there with games Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Tuesday will be an off day. The sixth game will be played Wednesday, and if the seventh game is necessary, a coin will be flipped to decide whether the crucial contest will be played in Memphis or Wichita Falls.

The Dixie championship is awarded the club winning four out of seven games.

In case Fort Worth wins the pennant, the Dixie series will open in Memphis, it was agreed, with the above schedule being observed. In other words, two games would be played in Memphis next Wednesday and Thursday, the third, fourth and fifth games would be played in Fort Worth beginning Saturday, Tuesday would be an off day, the sixth would be played Wednesday and a flip would decide the scene of the seventh battle.

This agreement was made by Mr. Gardner with John D. Martin, president of the Southern association, on behalf of William E. Huff, Spudder president, and Ted Robinson, Cat prexy. Details were worked out in a long distance conversation.

The Memphis, Wichita Falls, and Fort Worth club officials also agreed on the players who will be eligible to participate in the Dixie series.

In a championship Texas league playoff, 20 men on each club are eligible to participate, but in a Dixie series, this number is cut to 18.

Eligible Players

The Memphis, Fort Worth and Wichita Falls eligibility lists for the Dixie series follow:

Memphis—catchers, John Berger, and Gilly Campbell; infielders, Royce Williams, Stanley Benton, Frank Brazil, Thompson Prothro, and Chili McDaniel; outfielders, Sam Vick, Joe Hutchison, Tex Jeans, and Orum Waddey; pitchers, Harry Kelly, Rogers Shepherd, Tony A. Walzer, Clarence Griffin, Johnny Walker, Walter Beck, and Kit May.

Fort Worth—catchers, Meyers and O'Connell; infielders, Brown, Malon, Tavener, Fowler and Clarke; outfielders, Bonowitz, Moore and Cox; pitchers, Hardaway, Stoner, Whitworth, McCabe, Thormahlen, Buchanan, Roberts and Gribble.

Wichita Falls—catchers, Crouch and Bradbury; infielders, Levey, Euller, Storti, Burns, Geygan; outfielders, Kloza, Fitzgerald and Bettencourt; pitchers, Wiltse, Steengrafe, Caldwell, Hillin, Koob, Vincent, Fiorrid and White.

Former Spud Eligible

These lists were released after an agreement of officials of all three teams had been reached in regards to the eligibility of Stanley Benton, last year's Spudder shortstop now playing with the Chicks; and Gribble, Fort Worth pitcher. Neither had been with their respective clubs 30 days previous to the close of the season, and hence were ineligible to participate in the Dixie series without an agreement by officials of all clubs concerned. Benton replaced Flaskamper at short for the Chicks after the latter had sustained an injury that will not permit him to play in the Dixie series.

Claude Robertson and Garland Orr were omitted from the Wichita Falls eligibility list, and Manager Frank Snyder and Pitcher Clarkson from the Fort Worth list.

Vance Pitches Robins to Third Win In Row Over Faltering Cubs

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Sept. 11. (AP)—Dazzy Vance, veteran low-headed ace of the Brooklyn pitching staff, hurled one of the great games of his long career today, striking out 13 Chicago Cubs to give the Robins a clean sweep of the three-game series with the slipping league leaders. The score of the final game was 2 to 1.

The Robins scored both of their runs in the first inning on Glenn Wright's home run into the left field bleachers. Hack Wilson's 48th homer of the season sailed over the right field wall in the seventh for Chicago's only score and was the first tally off Brooklyn pitching in the three-game series.

CARDS 5, GIANTS 4

NEW YORK, Sept. 11. (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals bounded within one-half game of first place in the hectic National league pennant race today, defeating the New York Giants, 5 to 4, in a give and take affair that was not settled until the final out. The victory gave the Cards a lead of 2 to 1 in the series and left the Giants still three games back of the Cubs, who lost to the Robins.

Chick Hafey's homer with two mates on base in the initial inning gave the Cards a three-run lead, but a slow comeback tied the score in the fifth and kept it deadlocked until the eighth when St. Louis put over the winning run on a walk, a single and an infield play.

"Wild" Bill Hallahan and Bill Walker waged a southpaw duel at the start. Two more Giant pitchers and one Card appeared before the game ended. Score:

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Sept. 11. (AP)—Cotton lost a good part of yesterday's advance during today's trading. Buying was much less active after the recent heavy covering and prices eased under realizing or re-selling by some recent buyers who may have been influenced by relatively easy Liverpool cables and the failure of the market to attract a more general demand. New December sold off from 11.45 to 11.25 and closed at 11.26, with the general market closing easy at net declines of 17 to 26 points.

The opening was steady at unchanged prices to a decline of 5 points in response to the relatively easy showing of Liverpool and some overnight selling orders.

Exports today 12,848, making 595,041 so far this season. Port receipts 63,090. U. S. port stocks 2,064,755.

Futures closed barely steady, 17 to 26 points lower. Spot quiet; middling 11.30.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 11. (AP)—The tone was somewhat reactionary in the cotton market today but trading was quiet and there was little actual selling pressure aside from the weakened technical position. The market was influenced towards easier prices by somewhat disappointing August textile statistics, weakness in wheat and stocks and the large decrease in unfilled orders of the United States Steel corporation. Although cables were lower than due the market ignored them and gained 1 to 4 points in early trading but soon eased off continuing to decline slowly all morning and after mid-session until active months showed losses of 14 to 17 points.

The market continued to rule easy in the afternoon owing to lack of support and there was probably some hedge selling. Prices made the lows of the day near the end 21 to 23 points down from the early highs and closed steady at net declines for the day of 17 to 19 points.

Liverpool came in 2 to 4 points worse than due but prices here opened 1 to 2 points up and the gain was soon increased to 1 to 4 points due to an early favorable view of the August textile statistics. October traded at 11.27 and December at 11.48.

The market soon turned easier with wheat and stocks and around mid-session October traded as low as 11.13 for October and 11.31 for December, or 14 to 17 points below the opening highs.

The market continued to ease off in late trading making new lows owing to hedge selling. October dropping to 11.06 and December to 11.25, or 21 to 23 points under the early highs. The close was at or near the lows with net declines on active months of 17 to 18 points.

Port receipts 61,261, for week 251,202, for season 1,158,820, last season 863,361. Exports 8,019, for week 137,620, for season 574,247, last season 459,615. Port stock 2,068,659, last year 826,459. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 79,241, last year 77,866. Spot sales at Southern markets 45,389, last year 38,268.

Futures closed steady at net declines of 15 to 19 points:

Market Makes Concessions To Persistent Small-Scale Offerings

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Sept. 11. (US)—Persistent but small-scale pressure of offerings today forced stock prices lower, but the change was relatively unimportant. The market seemed to be reflecting chiefly a cessation of the aggressive sponsorship which recently had marked the daily sessions. There was also continued profit-taking by individuals disappointed in the failure of more definite evidence of trade improvements to develop. Nevertheless, there was no sign of unsettlement in any stock, even the most manipulated shares reflecting an orderly market in which offerings were absorbed on reasonably close quotations. Continued weakness in the wheat market, where various options declined to new low levels, likewise contributed to the disinclination to resume active participation in stocks. Volume of transactions exceeded 1,700,000 shares.

Bearishly - inclined speculators have become more active, encouraged by market's failure to make headway the last few days. They emphasize the lack of encouraging trade news and the inability of the market to improve upon its recent advance. The fact is, however, that the bull contingent very probably has been thoroughly satisfied with their success in carrying the market up to levels equivalent to its last high mark. A resting spell, technically, was entirely warranted during which gains could be consolidated and another survey taken of the immediate prospects. Thus far, certainly, there has been little upon which to base enthusiastic market activities, but the well-informed interests were not anticipating much cheer from business until the end of September and the month of October. The manner in which such issues as Woolworth have recently been taken emphasize that at least a slight turn in retail business has already been experienced. Buying of Woolworth has been for the account of its officers, who are well-placed in the matter of judging the business tide.

There is no denying that Steel common has been a disappointment to the market in its failure to assume active leadership of the list. The stock has been in supply recently from important quarters, which offset attempts by speculators to boom the issue to unwarranted heights. Those best-informed on U. S. Steel and the industry in general still feel confident that improvement will be witnessed, but they anticipate at the most a slow and moderate upward trend, so that anything more than reasonable price betterment in Steel common encourages profit-taking. The market's mood was expressed in the Oil shares failure to respond more actively to the Oklahoma trade news, wherein the state's efforts to force conservation upon the industry was upheld by the courts there. Just prior to this announcement, however, there had been disclosure of dissension among the California independents. The Oil shares as a group enjoyed a fractional gain. Standard of New Jersey probably was reflecting more than anything else the disclosure of its management's plans to further diversify its business activities.

While the main list of public utilities declined, Columbia Gas and Electric continued an outstanding performer, attaining a new high. The buying, which is for the account of powerful interests, was attributed to expectations of an important new deal with United Corporation, despite denials by the latter's company. Columbia forms a vital link in the vast super-system of utility properties which the United is building.

Thus far, United holds but a minor stock interest in Columbia and it is not improbable that a new effort may be made to attract additional Columbia stock. Foster-Wheeler was another bull leader, likewise reaching a new high on concentrated buying. The disclosure that Standard Oil of New Jersey, with other American oil companies, plan construction of new plants in France was interpreted to mean substantial new business for Foster-Wheeler, a leader in oil refinery equipment business.

Most of the leading stocks were under pressure. General Electric and Westinghouse joined the downward movement despite renewed reports that the railways plan a comprehensive electrification program for the near future. Officials of the electric companies deny any knowledge of such a program.

Money officially remained at 2½ per cent but there was evidence of a slightly easier condition. Brokers' loans dropped $33,000,000 during the past week, but the change was considered insignificant.

Further advance in steel scrap prices confirmed previous evidence of definite improvement in this direction. Firmness in the railroad shares, which as a group closed with the slightest net gain, was another distinctly encouraging sign, particularly since statistics fail to show any definite upturn in freight or railroad earnings. The railroad shares were the first to disclose the market trend on several occasions within the last year.

Peavy Foresees Firm Bond Market

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass, Sept. 11. (UP)—Bond prices will rule firm throughout the fall, in the opinion of Leroy D. Peavey, president of Babson's statistical organization.

"As to whether they can continue their advance through 1931, much depends on how far the current movement goes," he told today's session of the 17th annual national business conference.

Peavey said there were few industrial bonds worthy of consideration at present, "most of the worthwhile ones being so high that they are unattractive to the average investor, and the others are so greatly subject to the vagaries of business that they cannot be considered an investment."

"The era of over-expansion is beginning to be somewhat offset by rest and recuperation," he said. "We are not over with the redajustment but the old law of action and reaction is constantly working and has done a good deal for us." He declared it was time "to enter the market with a moderate portion of your funds."

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Sept. 11. (AP)—There was no export trading on the grain market here today because of the difference in export and domestic basis. There was a fair demand for domestic wheat and other grains, with the demand for milo being termed good.

Estimated receipts: Wheat, 14 cars; corn, 10; oats, 3; barley, 3; hay, 4.

Bids and offers ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, freight paid:

Wheat—No. 1 hard milling, any protein, 92½@93½c.

Corn—No. 2 mixed 99c@$1.00; No. 2 white $1.00@1.01; No. 2 yellow $1.10@1.11.

Oats—No. 3 white 49@49½c; No. 2 red 52@53c.

Barley—No. 2, 70@71c.

Sorghums—No. 2 yellow milo $1.95@2.00; No. 2 white kaffir $1.67@1.70.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 11. (AP)—Weakened by government crop reports much more favorable than anticipated, prices of all grains declined sharply today, with deferred deliveries in wheat hitting new bottom prices for the season. Traders were discouraged by official crop estimates issued by both the United States and Canadian governments which indicated greater yields of wheat and corn than the prevailing estimates by private crop observers and heavy sales of both grains forced values down. Selling was rather persistent, but in small lots, especially in wheat, trade was quiet after the first flurry. All deliveries of wheat at Liverpool sold at new low prices for the season and Winnipeg quotations also were sharply down.

Wheat closed weak at 1⅜@⅝c net lower than yesterday's finish. Corn closed unsettled 1⅝@⅞c down, oats ½@⅝c off, and provisions ranging from 12c decline to a 10c advance.

Commission houses were fair buyers of wheat on the breaks, but the bulk of the buying was against indemnities.

Corn was lower under selling pressure and liquidation caused by the government crop report which indicated a yield far better than private estimates. On the break, there was fair buying by commission houses, chiefly on resting orders. Oats and rye weakened with other grains, but oats met with fair support.

Provisions were easier because of scattered selling induced by breaks in grains.

Closing indemnities: Wheat, Sept. (bids) 81c; Dec. 86¼@⅜c, 88½@⅝c; March 89⅞c, 92⅝c; May 93⅛c, 95⅛@⅜c. Corn, Sept. 94⅛c, 96½c; Dec. 89½@⅝c, 91⅜@⅞c; March 91⅝c, 93⅞@⅞c; May 93⅛c, 95⅛@⅛c.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, Sept. 11. (US)—Opinions were varied regarding the future trend of the wheat market today, but all appeared to agree on one thing. This was that the pressure of Northwest wheat at the moment is too great for the speculative interest to absorb.

Uhlmann Grain company said: "While there are no buying incentives, despite the low prices at which wheat is selling, nevertheless the cheapness discourages short selling. Any demand from abroad might, temporarily at least, give us a little better tone."

Thomson & McKinnon say: "Immediate pressure of supplies in this country and Canada more than offsets possible export demand later in the season and buying power is insufficient to carry the load."

Winthrop, Mitchell and company: "Just now the heavy marketing in Canada overshadow developments of a nature that under ordinary circumstances would be the basis of bull markets, and we still believe that will be the ultimate outcome."

Scott, Burrows & Christie: "We look for rather a two-sided market around the present level until the movement on both sides of the international line shows signs of decreasing."

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 11. (AP) (U.S.D.A.)—Cattle trade around the 11-market circuit was fairly active on most all killing classes at steady to 25c higher prices. Demand continued to center on the light weight fed steers and yearlings. Weighty steers are somewhat draggy but generally steady prices maintained. Chicago scored $13.10 on choice yearling steers and realized $12.90 on yearling heifers. In Kansas City light weight steers fed for a short time on the grass reached $10.85 and grassy short fed heifers cleared from $9.50@10.50. Receipts were estimated at 25,500.

The hog market opened slow at 10@25c lower values and the close at most centers was dull with prices 25@35c lower. Chicago had a top of $11.10. Offerings were around 56,500.

Fat lambs at most markets were on a firm to 25c higher basis and steady rates were maintained on matured classes of sheep. Chicago, however, reported range lambs as steady to 15c lower with choice Washington arrivals at $9.25. Choice natives in Chicago topped at $9.40, while in Omaha choice range lambs cleared at $8.75. The supply numbered around 70,000.

Angry at Meager Loot, Bandit Kills Prostrate Victim

CHICAGO, Sept. 11. (AP)—A murder, heartless and unprovoked, was committed late last night in the drugstore of Willis Fiddelke, the 40-year-old proprietor.

Fiddelke was shot dead as he lay face down on the floor.

"You've got only $45, and that ain't enough," the killer said, jabbing the muzzle of his pistol into the druggist's back, between the shoulders, and pulling the trigger.

Two customers, held at bay in another room by an accomplice of the gunman, heard him say: "I croaked him all right. Let's get out of here."

The robbers had compelled Fiddelke to go to a rear room and lie face down. They complained at only finding $45, but Fiddelke explained it had been a poor day and that was all he had.

Bottle of Water May Bring Added Prison Sentence

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 11. (AP)—Because the weapon of Ralph Johnson, 20, in staging a $1,225 theater holdup here Monday night was a bottle of water, which he represented as nitroglycerin, he stands to receive a longer prison sentence than if he had used a firearm.

W. L. Coffey, county attorney, explained today that first degree robbery, with which the youth had been charged, carries a minimum penalty of 10 years imprisonment, while robbery with firearms may be punished with a minimum sentence of five years.

Although Johnson signed a confession, in which he said the holdup was his first offense, he pleaded not guilty when arraigned today in common pleas court.

Johnson had $1,024 of the loot in his possession when arrested in a Tulsa pool hall yesterday.

SCOUTS MEET HERE FRIDAY

1,500 Expected to Attend Annual Rally

Approximately 1,500 Boy Scouts, which will include all local troops and several hundred boys from adjoining towns, will meet on the lawn of the Memorial auditorium Friday evening at 8 o'clock for the annual fall homecoming rally, according to Frank B. Creighton, scout executive.

The program will be limited to ethics in scouting and games which will be played between each event, Mr. Creighton said.

A feature of the meeting will be the presentation of the five eagle scouts, including Theodore Bratton, troop 1; Bob Ford, troop 16; Cooper Waters, troop 12; Lloyd Holmgren, troop 4, and Thomas Cox, troop 16.

Songs Feature Program At Rotary Luncheon

Members of the Rotary club Thursday were treated to a musical program of unusual excellence when Miss Joy Lindsey of Greenville, well-known radio artist, sang a group of solos, accompanied by Mrs. R. E. Shepherd of this city.

Insistent applause drew repeated encores following Miss Lindsey's first song, "Into the Dawn With You," her other selections including "A Kiss in the Dark," and "Indian Love Call."

Dr. S. S. McKenney, pastor of the First Methodist church, spoke relative to a 20,000-mile trip which he has just completed, on which he visited many parts of Europe and the Holy land. Dr. McKenney, Dr. Nat F. Grafton, and Rabbi S. J. Schwab were welcomed "back to the fold' by Father Patrick J. O'Beirne, following their return from vacation trips.

R. E. Shepherd led a short singsong, and Herbert Voelcker, president, welcomed guests present at the luncheon.

MAJESTIC: "Lawful Larceny," with Bebe Daniels, Lowell Sherman and Bert Roach. Comedy, cartoon, sound novelty and sound news.

Constance Bennett, Lew Ayres, Tully Marshall and Beryl Mercer are included in the cast for "Common Clay," which opens at the Strand Friday for a week's run. "Common Clay" broke all records at the Roxy in New York and drew favorable comment from several Broadway newspapers, including the New York Times.

After the last show of "Lawful Larceny" Friday night there will be two reasons for rejoicing—one, that it is the last showing, and two, that the Majestic will present as a free additional feature "The Big Pond" with Maurice Chevalier.

◇ ◇ ◇

A late matinee is also scheduled for Saturday night. Promptly at midnight (when all of Chaney's pictures should be shown to get the proper atmosphere) "The Unholy Three" with Lon Chaney will be shown at the Majestic. It was Chaney's last picture and only talkie.

◇ ◇ ◇

Apprehensive of the reluctance the audience may show to walk past dark alleys at 2 o'clock in the morning after seeing "The Unholy Three," the Majestic theater has arranged with the Wichita Falls Traction company for street car and bus service after the matinee.

Bank Bandits Trapped In Louisiana Swamp

HAMMOND, La., Sept. 11. (AP)—The two masked robbers who held up the bank at Kentwood today and stole $10,000 were reported surrounded two hours later in a swamp near Tangipahoa station, a few miles south of Kentwood. The Robbers abandoned their automobile near the swamp, dropping some of the silver coins which officers recovered. Sheriff Edwards and six or eight deputies were reported closing in on the men, who were armed.

Texas Co-Op to Send Two Men to Wichita

Establishment of permanent offices representing the Texas Cotton Cooperative association in Wichita Falls within the next few days has been assured as a result of efforts made by the Junior chamber of commerce during the past month, it was announced Thursday.

Officials of the Junior chamber of commerce were in telephone communication with headquarters of the state organization at Dallas Wednesday evening, and reported Thursday that executives of the association had declared that an office will be opened here soon for the use of a cotton classifier and an organizer. John C. Mackey, now of Frederick, Okla., will serve as classifier, and R. H. May of Dallas as organizer, it was said.

Handling of all cotton available to the association in Northwest Texas except that handled through the Vernon office will be the objective of the station here, according to the announcement given. Decision of the association executives at Dallas to establish such a branch in this city followed a meeting organized by the Junior chamber of commerce agricultural committee, headed by J. L. Randel, recently when about 200 farmers and business men were addressed by officials of the association.

Stabilization of the price of cotton is the principal purpose of the association, it was said. Member farmers are advanced a large portion of the money which might be realized currently on his yield, and it is held for an advantageous market for his benefit.

Messrs. Mackey and May will select offices following their arrival here, it was announced.

Anti-Aircraft Devices Demonstrated to Public

ABERDEEN, Md., Sept. 11. (AP)—Some of the anti-aircraft armament and fire control devices improved and developed by the army since the close of the world war were demonstrated to visitors today at the Aberdeen proving grounds. It was the only day of a three months' test period which started August 15, that the public was permitted to view the weapons.

BOMB BLAST

CALCUTTA, India, Sept. 11. (AP)—The ingredients of another India bomb plot were uncovered today by police raid on a house in north Calcutta. A live bomb in a suitcase and several shells and materials for the manufacture of bombs on a fairly large scale were found.

Public Praises New Cadillacs

"Comments and praise of the many people who have seen the new Cadillac and LaSalle V-8's furnish gratifying evidence of the truth of our statements that every essential engineering and mechanical feature in the new cars has been refined and improved beyond the highest previous Cadillac eight-cylinder standards," says D. L. Fritz, local dealer.

"Public reaction to the remarkable new prices—after an inspection of the cars has revealed their new and greater measure of fine car value—has been decidedly enthusiastic. Looking more searchingly than ever for real value, people have found that Cadillac gives it in these new cars in a degree requiring revision of all previous standards.

"The new prices are indeed an amazing example of what can be accomplished by driving steadily toward added quality through greater manufacturing efficiency and broader marketing plans. The new Cadillac, finer than ever, is nevertheless offered at f. o. b. prices $600 to $900 lower than the previous car. The new LaSalle, improved and powered with a larger engine, carries f. o. b. prices from $245 to $750 lower than before.

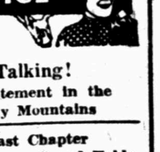

"These new cars exemplify again the established purposes of Cadillac to build into all its cars superlative quality regardless of price. Their greater chassis value is quickly revealed by a performance demonstration that shows a measure of power, speed, acceleration, handling before. The greater body value is apparent in the luxury and richness of Fisher and Fleetwood interiors, the smart beauty of lines and contours, and the rugged strength and safety factors of construction.

"Year after year, Cadillac has put into its motor cars more and more of skilled engineering, smoother and better performance, and richness of body design and appointment. Under this policy, its great clientele has remained loyal to a marked degree and its sales volume has steadily increased. By and through this same policy, the price range of its cars has been lowered year after year.

"The new V-8's have lower and more graceful lines, more speed, a super-abundance of power. A new intake muffler still further quiets a car which has been known for its silent operation. Steering is notably easier. Fisher and Fleetwood add the final touch by the last word in body construction establishing a new criterion of excellence in coachcraft."

Tulsa Man Held On Missouri Robbery Count

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 11. (AP)—James Wilson, 32, a steeplejack of Tulsa, Okla., was held here today for Trenton, Mo., authorities after his confession he had taken $720 from the office of Prosecuting Attorney R. E. Kavanaugh at Trenton. Wilson said he stopped at Kavanaugh's office to attempt to borrow enough money for food, but when he saw the safe open he "couldn't resist the temptation to take the money."
