ACTION TAKEN BY GROUP OPPOSING TAX EXEMPT STATUS

Hospital Authority Suit Is Filed

By LINDA CROSS

Persons opposed to the Howard County Hospital Authority and the tax exempt status gained through it by Medical Center Memorial Hospital have filed a petition in 118th District Court seeking to have the May 11, 1970, commissioners court action which created the authority declared void and set aside.

In the petition, an injunction restraining members of the board of directors of the authority from acting on behalf of the allegedly illegally created authority is also being sought.

Plaintiffs seeking the injunction are J. T. Langley, Johnie Walker, B. T. Chrane, L. D. Chrane, Dub Coates, R. V. Fryar and Clyde (Shorty) Johnston. George T. Thomas, attorney, represents the group.

Named as defendants in the petition are County Judge A. G. Mitchell, County Commissioners Bill Bennett, William B. Crooker, Simon Terrazas and Jack Buchanan, and members of the hospital authority board of directors.

Board members named in the suit are K. H. McGibbon, Truman Jones, Clyde McMahon, Clyde Angel, R. H. Weaver, J. M. Woodall, J. R. Anderson and Joe Pickle.

Plaintiffs are alleging that the 1970 commissioners court acted in violation of the "open meeting law," Article 6252-17, R.C.S., in connection with the creation of the authority, alleging that the posted agenda of the commissioners meeting posted three days before the meeting, as required by law, contained no notification of any action or any discussion concerning a hospital authority.

It is further alleged in the petition that the commissioners failed to post the "emergency" notice which is allowed to be posted just prior to the convening of a meeting "in case of emergency or urgent public necessity," as stated in the statute. A copy of the posted agenda for May 11, 1970, has been submitted in evidence of the plaintiffs contention that no notice was given of action concerning the hospital authority.

Opponents to the authority are challenging an opening statement contained in the commissioners court order creating the district which states " . . notice of said meeting of May 11, 1970, giving the date, place and subject thereof, having been posted as prescribed by Article 6252, section 3A, V. A. T. C. S. . . ."

The petitioners are contending that the paragraph is "insufficient in any manner to show, be evidentiary of, or create any presumption that proper notice sufficient to support the legality of the action of the commissioners court."

According to the petition, the commissionrs court did not have the Constitutional authority to provide that the hospital authority should be tax exempt, and it is also alleged that the commissioners court did not have the Constitutional authority to declare the hospital authority "a body politic and corporate and a political subdivision of the State."

Teddy Says He Will Not Be Delegate

By BILL KOSMAN
Associated Press Writer

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, consistently mentioned as a presidential possibility despite his denials of White House aspirations, says he will not be a delegate to the Democratic National Convention this summer but will be active at the session.

In a surprise development Thursday night, Kennedy said in Boston he felt it would be misleading if he headed a slate of his state's delegates to the national convention in Miami. He said people might think it was to "serve some other purpose."

It had been expected that Kennedy would head Massachusetts' at-large convention delegate slate.

The senator filed an affidavit disavowing his candidacy, a move necessary to remove his name from the April 25 Massachusetts presidential primary ballot.

However, Kennedy said he expects to be "active over the period of the next several weeks and months and at the convention."

As candidates and noncandidates scrambled around many of the nation's 23 primary-election states—either entering or withdrawing their names—others carried on their politicking unabashedly.

Democrat George Wallace ran head-on into party stalwart Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey after launching what the Alabama governor called a people's campaign in the Florida presidential primary.

"I defeated Wallace in this state in 1968 and hope to do as well again," Humphrey, of Minnesota, told a Jacksonville audience Thursday while pushing his own campaign for the state's March 14 contest.

A dozen candidates are listed on the Florida primary ballot.

Meanwhile, Sen. Vance Hartke of Indiana accused the news media of slighting his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination. "I'm only an underdog with you people," Hartke said at a New York news conference. He predicted he will win the New Hampshire primary.

Accused Texas Slayers Give Up

KOUNTZE, Tex. (AP) — Two men sought in a Kountze slaying of a grandmother and child surrendered early today at Houston and were brought to the Hardin County jail here.

Sheriff Billy Paine said he transported the prisoners to Kountze after they flew from Puerto Rico and gave themselves up to Texas Ranger Capt. Pete Rogers and a fellow officer at Houston's International Airport.

Paine identified the prisoners as Fred Young Jr., 21, and Dennis Ray Anderson, 27, both from Pearland, near Houston.

Officers had mounted a widespread search for the two men, who have been charged with stabbing Mabel McCormick, 54, to death and drowning her granddaughter, Leslie Bowman, 3, in a bathroom bowl Jan. 5. The slayings occurred at Mrs. McCormick's combination antique shop and home, which was burglarized.

Paine related these details:

The parents of Young notified Rogers after their son telephoned them from Puerto Rico and asked that arrangements be made for the pair to surrender.

Officers were waiting as the two stepped off an Eastern Airlines flight which originated in Puerto Rico and made only a stop in Atlanta en route to Houston.

Except for a pocket knife carried by one, the young men were unarmed.

Officers planned to question the prisoners after their arraignment here later in the day.

Hong Kong Flu Bug Back

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The bug is back.

And, "if you just feel like hell, you've probably got the flu," says a spokesman for the National Center for Disease Control in Atlanta.

Hong Kong flu, which killed 27,900 persons the last time it toured the United States in 1968-69, has returned, the center says.

The first signs of a flu epidemic appeared several weeks ago and a nationwide survey conducted by the center revealed that Hong Kong flu has been diagnosed in 22 states, the District of Columbia and New York City.

The center said there are two major types of influenza viruses making the round this winter — type A2 Hong Kong and type B. The victim, however, can't tell the difference; the viruses are distinguishable only in the laboratory.

The center said that, of the confirmed Hong Kong cases this year, the outbreak is widespread only in Rhode Island, Connecticut and New Jersey. Regional outbreaks are reported in Michigan and Wisconsin.

Isolated cases have been found in the District of Columbia, New York City, Maine, Vermont, New York State, Illinois, Ohio, Kansas, Iowa, South Dakota, Florida, Tennessee, Texas, Louisiana, Colorado, Utah, Montana, California and Oregon.

Methodone Death Probe

AUSTIN (AP) — The Travis County Grand Jury will investigate a Fort Worth doctor in the first reported death from a substitute drug for heroin, Municipal Judge Ronald D. Earle said today.

Earle returned a verdict of homocide in the case of University of Texas student James Andrew Knox, 18, of Houston, who was found dead in his apartment Oct. 10.

Earle said Dr. W. E. Raburn prescribed the drug for Knox without performing tests required of all public agencies to determine if Knox was a heroin addict.

"Andy Knox was not a heroin addict," Earle said.

Raburn works for the Carter Clinic, whose head, Dr. Peter Joseph Carter of Lake Worth, was exonerated by the State Board of Medical Examiners last August after a complaint against him for allegedly prescribing methadone indiscriminately.

Snow Dusts Panhandle

By The Associated Press

Light snow dusted parts of the Texas Panhandle this morning as a sharp chill spread over most of Texas, sparing only the extreme south portion.

Early morning temperatures plummeted as low as 14 degrees at Dalhart, where snow was falling, and Amarillo, where it was foggy. There also was snow in neighboring areas of Oklahoma.

Low clouds accompanied the snow pushing into the Panhandle behind the latest surge of Canadian air. Except for some clouds lingering in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, the rest of the state was clear.

APRIL ANNOUNCEMENT

War Is Over For U.S.?

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's latest Vietnam troop-withdrawal order sets the stage for what could be an April announcement to pull back another 35,000 to 45,000 troops, declare the war over and place remaining GIs in an advisory role.

Nixon announced Thursday that 70,000 more troops will be withdrawn by May 1, leaving the United States with the residual force of 25,000 to 35,000 men indicated by the President two weeks ago.

Thursday's announcement, covering February, March and April withdrawals, will reduce the U.S. commitment in Vietnam to 69,000 men on May 1. And the President said he will make another pullout announcement before that date.

35,000 GOAL

This is likely to come in mid-April, leaving 35,000 men to withdraw before reaching this summer's planned residual-force level. That level is expected to be maintained until U.S. prisoners are freed by the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong.

This would be in keeping with the troop-withdrawal plan drawn up by the administration in early 1969. Although administration officials dropped hints from time to time that the President was reviewing the plan and might delay further withdrawal decisions as a means of keeping the enemy guessing, there has been little deviation from the original plan.

Under the phaseout program, the residual force would revert to an advisory role to assist the South Vietnamese, as was done before the big U.S. buildup began in 1965.

BRING HOME

And, to enhance the idea that the ground war is over for the Americans, the U.S. Military Assistance Command, Vietnam (MACV), would be downgraded to an assistance group.

This would give the President an opportunity to bring home Gen. Creighton Abrams, U.S. commander in Vietnam for the past five years, and, perhaps move Abrams in as Army chief of staff when Gen. William C. Westmoreland completes his four-year tour in June.

Three Perish In Plane Crash

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — A plane crash near Tradewinds Airport in Amarillo killed three persons, including a well-known real estate man today.

The dead were identified as Royce Darrell Gaut, 46, Amarillo real estate dealer; his wife, Janie; and their daughter, Meg, 11.

They were en route to Waco where Mrs. Gaut was studying for a degree.

The crash occurred about 7:30 a.m. while a thick fog enguifed the area.

A preliminary investigation indicated the plane had taken off and apparently was circling in an effort to return to the airport.

The light plane crashed about a quarter of a mile from the field, flipped over several times and burst into flames.

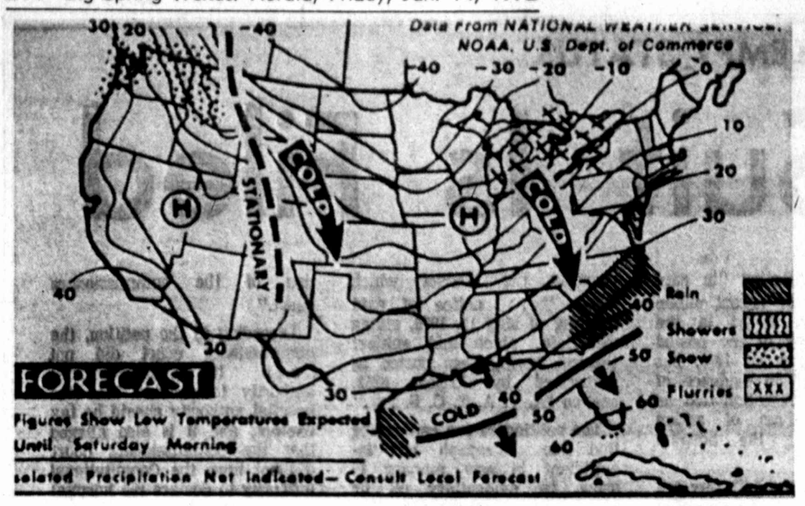

LARGEST HASHISH HAUL IN HISTORY

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Customs agents have seized what they called the largest hashish haul in history, confiscating 1,330 pounds of the drug from a truck which was unloaded on a Portland dock after being shipped from Karachi, Pakistan.

Agents reported finding the hashish Thursday concealed in the bed and fenderwells of a Volkswagen pickup with attached camper. They estimated its wholesale value at nearly $2 million and street value at more than $7 million.

The customs bureau said three California men were arrested for investigation of smuggling. They were identified as Thomas Blade Bidwell, 26, Garden Grove; David Mark Reddy, about 23, Laguna Niguel; and Brian Kendall McAdams, 25, Laguna Beach.

U.S. Commissioner of Customs Myles J. Ambrose said in a statement that the pickup truck was shipped to Karachi last June and was being returned to Vancouver, B.C., through the United States.

Limit Right Of Insurance Firms To Cancel Policies

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texans who fear arbitrary cancellation or non-renewal of their car or house insurance were granted at least some protection Thursday by the State Insurance Board.

The board issued new rules, effective Feb. 1, sharply limiting the right of a company to cancel a policy.

And it required 30 days notice to a policyholder if a company decides not to renew his coverage.

The rules fall short of what three legislators advocated at a Dec. 8 board hearing, and criticism is likely to follow.

NON-PAYMENT

Under the rules, an insurance company cannot cancel a family automobile policy which has been in effect 60 days except for non-payment of premium or suspension of one's driver's license or car registration.

A homeowners, fire or other building policy could be cancelled after 60 days only for non-payment of premiums, an increase in hazard or a determination by the board that continuing the policy might violate the Texas Insurance Code.

The rule did not specify how continuing such a policy would violate the code.

Once an automobile policy has been in effect 60 days an insurance company must continue it in force for a year.

And before the company can refuse to renew an automobile policy, it must give the customer 30 days' notice.

Non-renewal of an auto policy merely because of the driver's age is forbidden by the rules.

Companies cannot cancel any policy out of a desire to withdraw from an area or a given line of insurance.

'JUST CAUSE'

At the Dec. 8 hearing, Sen. Mike McKool of Dallas, a recurring critic of insurance companies, urged the board to prohibit non-renewals "except for just cause."

Sen. Oscar Mauzy of Dallas and Rep. Charles Tupper of Dallas made similar pleas.

But the board placed no limits on non-renewals other than the 30-day notice requirement and the age rule.

A board source said state law did not permit the board to go farther than that on non-renewals.

The board did require companies to keep "sufficient underwriting information" on cancellations and non-renewals for instant inspection by the board. This information, presumably, would tell the board reasons for withdrawing coverage from a policyholder.

STRONG WORDS

Board chairman Larry Teaver said at the Dec. 8 hearing that insurance companies who cancel policies within the 60-day free cancellation period should be required to tell their policyholders why.

But Teaver's recommendation was not included in the board order.

The 1971 legislature turned down strongly worded bills to curtail non-renewals and cancellations, passing instead a bill giving the board power to issue rules on the subject.

Boadle To Face Single Charge

Two counts of a three count federal indictment against Charles R. Boadle, Big Spring, have been dismissed following his entry of a plea of guilty to one count of false entry to an account of Webb AFB Federal Credit Union, where he worked at one time.

Boadle entered his plea Thursday in U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Texas at Abilene before U.S. District Judge Leo Brewster. Sentencing has been delayed to allow time for the court's probation officer to make his report concerning the case.

After his hearing Thursday, Boadle was released on his own recognizance.

Chinese Missions Veteran To Stage Revival Locally

DR. C. L. CULPEPPER

A man who devoted most of his life to mission work connected with China will lead a three-day revival at Hillcrest Baptist Church. He is Dr. C. E. Culpepper.

The first service will be this evenings at 7:30 o'clock and others will be at the same hour Saturday, with the final ones at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday.

James Kinman, Big Spring, will direct music for these special services, said the Rev. Collyns Moore, pastor.

Unlike most revival services, these meetings are primarily for members of the churches of this area, explained Rev. Moore, but all are invited to share in the Bible study. The nursery will be open for all services.

Dr. Culpepper was reared at Floresville and started to work in a bank before he was called to preach. He went to Baylor, graduating in 1919, after a time out to serve in the Navy in World War I. He also graduated in 1922 from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary and was appointed to China by the SBC foreign mission board.

After two years in language school in Pieping, he did evangelistic work in Yeh Hsion, Shantung and at Hwanghsien, Shantung where he taught in the seminary then headed it from 1931-42. He participated in the great "Shantung Revival" during those years.

When the Japanese invaded China, he was arrested Dec. 8, 1941, and interned for a year. Released, he returned to Southwestern, earned his doctorate, and immediately began building Baptist seminaries — the All-China Seminary, and then the Taiwan Baptist Seminary, in addition to serving as secretary of missions at Hong Kong for two years.

Now retired, he lives at San Antonio.

Too Strict

Jean Adams'

TEEN FORUM

STRICT: (Q.) My parents are strict. I can't go to parties or have dates or talk to boys on the telephone. I follow the rules as well as I can, but our number is in the telephone book and sometimes boys call me, not knowing about the rules.

Then I am in trouble. How can I keep them from doing this? — 14 in Washington State.

(A.) You could ask your parents to have the listing removed from the next telephone directory.

But a girl of 14 should be allowed to have phone calls and go to occasional well-chaperoned parties and perhaps have a boy come over and study with her now and then.

Parents who try to keep their daughters too shut-off from boys are laying the groundwork for trouble later.

Show this to your mother. Maybe she and your father will think about the rules and change them in a place or two.

* * *

SHORT: (Q.) My height has always bethered me terribly. I am a boy and only five-seven. Being so short kept me off my high school athletic teams. It kept me from dating girls.

Now I am 19 and a freshman in college and very lonely because I do not know how to talk to girls or even mix well with boys. Being so short I feel so inferior. Can you help me? — Feeling Low in Florida.

(A.) All this time you may have been blaming your troubles on the wrong thing.

Being five-seven does not make you too short to have dates or play tennis or baseball or be a quarterback or talk in public or be president of the United States.

Find a short girl, ask her for a date, take her to a campus political meeting where anybody can talk, and plunge in.

You won't drown.

Groppi Wins Court Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — The contempt conviction of the Rev. James Groppi by the Wisconsin legislature in 1969 was reversed 7 to 0 Thursday by the Supreme Court.

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger said the punishment, without hearing the militant priest, violated constitutional procedures. The fact that Groppi was held in contempt two days after his allegedly contemptuous conduct was a major factor in the court's ruling.

In another 7 to 0 decision, the court took a step along the road to prison reform by ordering a hearing for an elderly Illinois inmate who claims he was cruelly punished for scuffling with other prisoners.

Groppi was held in contempt by the Wisconsin Assembly Oct. 1, 1969, for his part in a welfare demonstration that blocked the legislature for about 12 hours two days earlier. At the time the resolution was passed Groppi was in the Dane County jail on disorderly conduct charges arising from the same incident.

The contempt resolution was adopted without giving the priest an opportunity to present a defense.

Burger said: "We have stated time and again that reasonable notice of a charge and an opportunity to be heard in defense before punishment is imposed are basic in our system of jurisprudence."

At such a hearing, Burger said, the accused might establish a case of mistaken identity or, for example, defend himself as mentally incompetent.

The chief justice hinted that the contempt judgment might have been approved by the court had the Wisconsin Assembly acted immediately upon the demonstration and while Groppi was in the chamber or nearby.

The welfare protesters, numbering more than 1,000, were objecting to cuts in the state budget. During the takeover of the assembly chambers the state legislators were forced from the room and about $26,000 in damage was done to the furnishings.

TOMORROW

—CARROL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening to forego that temptation to clear the atmosphere by some big argument or discussion. Make a special point of letting those about know what you like them and want to get along in peace and harmony. Otherwise this can be a day of estrangements and separations that are for little purpose.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You have to be most careful of your good name today, especially where higher-ups are concerned. Even false appearances could lead to trouble. Make sure you get your bills paid.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Not a good day to make new acquaintances, get into new outlets, activities, but fine for clearing your desk of work. Impress associates with your ability to complete what you have started. Gain their goodwill.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Dig right into all those responsibilities that have to be gotten behind you quickly and get them done, despite any irritation you may feel. Don't lose your temper with mate. Show you have willpower.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) An associate could make biting remarks because of trouble at home, so do not argue and save an otherwise good partnership. Gain goodwill of others by keeping your word to them. Relax tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You had better get those duties attended to at home even though you want to go out for usual Saturday recreation. Don't expect help from allies, who are in a rather bad mood now. Evening is fine for light recreation.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) A good day to put worries aside and get out with congenials and entertain them, and vice versa. Good pals give good ideas. Mull them over well before putting them in operation.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You can get rid of whatever it is that is causing friction at home now, and should do so. Do this quietly and not through argument. An evening spent with family can be most enjoyable.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have to take much care in driving today when you are in the mood to dash around visiting here and there. Let your conversation be edifying, but don't get smart-alecky, no matter what the provocation. Think of feelings of others.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) It's fine to add to present prosperity, but don't spend your money unwisely. Don't jeopardize present holdings, either. A good day for studying whatever is of a practical nature.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) There is some situation that you can do little about right now, so stop getting all upset over it. Plan how to improve personal affairs so you have more peace and harmony. Now is the time to plan that trip, also.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Although you think you are overburdened with work, if you get right at it, you find you still have free time left over for social activities. Nothing could be worse than self-pity right now. Avoid some situation that is fraught with danger.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You want to see certain friends and get something off your chest, but it is not a good day for such. Study the matter well and see if you aren't at fault instead. Go after some personal aim that is easy to attain now.

A Check On The Checks

The bureaucracy is an awesome thing. It feeds on legislative inattention as well as executive boondoggling and its flaws are apparent in public welfare.

Commissioner Raymond Vowell of the Texas Department of Public Welfare, laid out some of the problems to a Texas House committee last week. A tempting answer to conditions as he put them is to require review and codification of welfare laws and rules prior to each budget year and each annual appropriation.

Vowell cited conflicts between state and federal regulations. He cited duplicated requests for information, which requests from federal agencies take on the color of mandatory orders in the realm of matching grants and federal financial assistance. He noted occasions when 13 separate government agencies asked for — and, we suppose, got — the same information, 13 times. He didn't say whether that was unusual but we suppose it is fairly routine.

Welfare dollars need careful attention so that they may do what Americans believe they should do. As a starting point, the Congress should be held accountable for funding the kind of bureaucratic overlap that would allow 13 different offices any legitimate interest in the welfare programs.

Governors and legislators should give careful attention to making a case on facts to support administrative overhaul for effective administration of the welfare program, as well as all other government programs.

If Commissioner Vowell can persuade the House Committee on medical care to Texas welfare recipients that a streamlined system is available, that committee's highest order of service would be to push for adoption of such a system.

We believe in check and balance in government but checking and balancing through 13 offices needs check and balance applied against that kind of nonsense.

Winner-Loser Swap Places

Winners and losers have traded places in Pakistan.

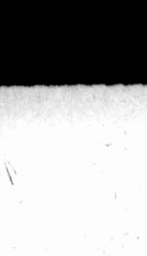

Sheik Mujibur Rahman, elected leader of Bangladesh (formerly East Pakistan) is out of his solitary cell in West Pakistan and back home.

Agha Yahya Khan, president of West Pakistan during the 14-day war, has been placed under house arrest by his successor, Sulfiker Ali Bhuto. Joining Yahya Khan under arrest was Gen. Abdul Hamid Khan, who supervised the Pakistan defeat by India.

When the euphoria of independence begins to fade, Sheik Mujibur may remember solitary confinement with a certain nostalgia.

Bangladesh is broke and ruined. It needs $2 billion just to get off its knees. Last year a huge cyclone ruined the crops. The new country needs to import 2 million tons of wheat to get through the next six months. Its roads and bridges have been wrecked by the war. Its principal industrial export is jute, which is being replaced by synthetics. It is dependent upon impoverished India and reluctant Russia for aid.

When the sheik and his government attempt to tackle these massive problems, Mujibur may think that Yahya Khan was smart to lose the war and the country.

Priceless Experience

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — To some people, the possible resignation in 1972 or 1973 of J. Edgar Hoover at the end of a long and meritorious career would mean just a change in an official position, which happens often in government as able replacements are found. But the head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation is today one of the most important persons in the government, and anybody who succeeds him can hardly have the knowledge that Mr. Hoover has gathered in 48 years of dedicated service.

THE BUREAU of Investigation was established in 1908 to handle Department of Justice investigations. But it had many difficulties and it had to be reorganized during the Coolidge administration. In 1924, J. Edgar Hoover was appointed by Attorney General Harlan F. Stone as its director and has served in that post ever since.

When this correspondent talked with officials in the early '20s about the future of the FBI, they foresaw it as a small agency that would do the detective work of the government. But when Mr. Hoover took charge, he began to develop it as an effective investigative unit that could be helpful not only to the Department of Justice but to the President and other executive departments. The main reason why many people inside the government will be sorry to see Mr. Hoover retire is that he has performed useful duties in information-gathering and has been able to detect activities by factions or groups either generated by foreign influences or prompted by a desire to assist the causes of countries hostile to America.

ALL THAT Mr. Hoover has packed into his mind over these many years has not been put on paper. President Nixon will be reluctant to see him go.

This correspondent has not mentioned the subject to Mr. Hoover but believes that perhaps the present director of the FBI could be persuaded, when he does decide to retire (this is not likely soon), to continue to perform duties as an adviser, especially in delicate situations that arise from time to time and with which he is familiar. Also, this would permit orderly transfer of the huge task to the new director, which is not going to be something that can be done in a year or two.

FEW PEOPLE have a complete knowledge of the scope of the FBI's operations. It does, of course, cooperate with the local police departments and enforcement bodies. But its main functions are carried out through its own investigative machinery, which is very efficient and works to collect information that has often been used to solve crimes promptly. A lot of the important tasks performed by the FBI never get into print. This is because they are merely in the information-gathering category and are transmitted to other agencies, such as the CIA, and frequently help in dealing with plots of an international nature which have been hatched to hurt this country.

THE FBI has a limited number of agents, and the decision of how to use them requires experience.

J. Edgar Hoover has instilled a spirit of fidelity among his men not to any political party but to the government of the United States. His wide experience should not be lost. If he does retire, a method should be found to maintain contact with him for his advice, as his 48 years have taught him more than any other man knows about the crimes and underground warfare with which this country is threatened from time to time.

Keeping Eye On Maverick

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — There is an old tradition on Wall Street, where you can't be sure of anything, that it is unwise to ignore contrary opinion. When the herd instinct is strongest, keep an eye on the maverick. He might know something.

Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith hardly can be called a maverick—not when it is a herd in itself, the biggest underwriter, the biggest seller of stocks, mutual funds, government bonds and commodities. But its thinking is contrary to that of much of the brokerage community.

It doesn't believe the small investor is leaving the market, it does believe that brokers can make money on small orders. it doesn't believe the Dow Jones Industrial Average is as significant as the street makes it out to be.

In a luncheon with AP executives, Donald Regan, chairman of the international brokerage house that made more than $40 million on gross revenue of $473 million in 1970, gave his views on these controversial aspects of the marketplace.

Figures contradict the notion that the small investor is leaving, Regan said. The percentage of activity by individual investors might be smaller, he said, but this is largely because of the growth in institutional volume.

If you go back to 1960 when average daily volume was 3 million you'll find that 65 per cent was in individual trades. That meant about 2 million shares a day. Now only 40 per cent of volume is by individuals but, Regan noted, it is based on 15.4 million transactions a day.

The number of shareholders also has taken a sharp rise to 32 million and seems destined to approach 50 million by 1980, and these totals do not include those who invest through mutual funds.

But, he was asked, don't the odd-lot figures show that small orders during the past year were hardly on the sell side?

Yes, he conceded, but added that many people who can be described as small investors are capable of buying in round lots, and they are doing so. Odd lot theories, he feels, should be suspect.

Fault Not Always Easily Fixed

Number Thirteen lane at a neighborhood bowling alley really was unlucky. If a bowler happened to step on a certain spot in a certain board, the board would bend downward, causing the heads of two nails to protrude.

ONE EVENING a bowler stepped on the spot, snagged his shoe on the nails, and went sprawling. Painfully injured, he determined to claim damages from the owner of the alley.

At a court hearing, the owner protested that he simply had not known about any weakness in the board. But the court held him liable anyhow, in the light of evidence that the situation had existed for weeks.

GENERALLY speaking, a bowler is entitled to protection not only against obvious hazards but also against hazards that an attentive management would notice.

But the bowling alley does not guarantee perfect safety. As in other places of public recreation, things can go wrong that are outside the scope of the management's responsibility. Here are two examples:

A BOWLER slipped on a dab of ice cream lying at the edge of the foul line. But no one knew how or when the ice cream had been dropped there. Result: no management liability.

Another bowler, reaching into the return rack for his ball, failed to notice another ball speeding back from the pit. Result: mashed fingers, but again no management liability.

SOMETHING more serious occurred recently when a bowler took a practice swing, behind the lanes, to get the feel of a new ball. He lost his grip and the ball slipped out of his hand, striking a glancing blow on another bowler's head.

Could the victim hold the management liable on the theory that it had failed to post special notices, warning its customers against taking practice swings?

A COURT said he could not. The court said this accident was so freakish that the management could not fairly be expected to take precautionary measures against it.

Lid For Freeway

WASHINGTON (AP) — A block-long "lid" will cover a major freeway running through the heart of Seattle, Wash., says the Department of Housing and Urban Development. The "lid" will hide the freeway and muffle noise where the traffic runs below the surface.

The "lid" will be a 3.6 acre park with trees, grass and falling water that will provide a retreat for the pedestrian and a novel driving experience to the freeway traveler.

In addition, the park will extend over a 200-car, privately-owned garage at one end and a 60-car city parking garage at the other.

Amnesty?

Around The Rim

Steve Hultman

Amnesty has been suggested by some for the Americans that fled the country when faced with the draft.

THESE MEN, it is argued, are the most moral and the most honorable of all Americans, because when the war in Vietnam was being fought, they refused to fight in what they regarded as an unjust war.

There is much disagreement about the war in Vietnam, and other Americans have also refused to participate. These men either accepted classification as conscientious objectors and served two years in non-combat jobs, such as in hospitals, or faced arrest and imprisonment for refusing to accept induction.

THOSE WHO opposed the war and elected to remain and face the consequences of their refusal to serve should be commended for standing up for their principals.

Those who left the country and fled to Canada have neither honor nor principals. They did not have the courage to serve their country in the Armed Forces, and they did not have the honor or principals to face the consequences of their claimed opposition to the war. So they ran, branding themselves as unprincipled cowards.

THE UNITED STATES Supreme Court recently refused to consider the case of one of the war objectors who fled to Canada and renounced his citizenship.

When he decided that the United States was, after all, a nice place to live, he returned. He was then arrested as an illegal alien and was to be deported.

HE TRIED to regain his citizenship and remain in the United States, but the Supreme Court refused to hear his case after a lower court had ruled that, since he had voluntarily given up his citizenship, that he was no longer a citizen of the United States and that his legal status was that of an alien.

It is to be hoped that the President and the Congress will not seriously entertain any plan that would call for amnesty for these "men". The lead of the Supreme Court in denying any responsibility to "forgive" the draft dodgers because the war in Vietnam is "unjust" should be followed.

WE SHOULD, however, welcome any of them back that will either serve in the Armed Forces or face charges for refusing induction.

Test Of Time

Marquis Childs

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. — What can be scored for the meeting between Japan and the United States, now ended beyond the official rhetoric, will not be known until well into the future. But, given the bitterness souring the relationship between Tokyo and Washington only two months ago, it can be judged at least a partial success.

THE VERY fact that Prime Minister Eisaku Sato came here with a retinue of 28, including three cabinet members, was a triumph of sorts. This made Sato a member of the summit club, and by all accounts he was pleased and flattered by the Nixon welcome. He will retire when the Okinawa reversion treaty is final, and the meeting was, therefore, a capstone to a career of leadership in the rebirth of Japan.

No matter how resolute the promises the President gave the Prime Minister, the Japanese will wait with ill-concealed anxiety to see what transpires in Peking beginning Feb. 21. They hope the President will achieve a halfway house between the normalization of diplomatic relations and the development of trade, travel and cultural exchanges.

SUCH A HALFWAY house would serve the Japanese as a useful model for their own beginning relations with Peking. It would quiet the clamor of the left parties and a faction within Sato's Liberal Democrats pushing to get on with it and let Taiwan go hang. More important, it would open the way for Japanese industrialists, with the backing of large government loans, to revive the flourishing prewar trade with mainland China.

Whether Peking will settle with the United States, to say nothing of Japan, for a convenient halfway house raises a very large order of doubt. The Nixon-Sato summit has helped to make clear that the President is taking one of the greatest gambles in American diplomatic history. In a death-defying act he has put his head in the dragon's mouth. If he emerges unscathed he can take a well-deserved bow before the whole world.

WITH THE Red China visit drawing nearer and even as an advance party works on the all-important television arrangements, the Peking radio intensified its attacks: America is a wicked imperialist power. America is riddled by corruption and contradictions in the midst of a recession with the impoverished many and the affluent few. America is decadent, finished, etc. This fustian is discounted as meant only for the Communist powers that China woos. The conviction anchoring all the plans for the visit is that Peking, given the massive Soviet threat, needs the Nixon visit at least as much as does the President for his own special reasons.

IF THE Japanese have their hopes they also have their fears, and it is hardly necessary to add that those fears were not entirely allayed during the two days at San Clemente. The nightmare that has haunted them since the Peking announcement takes the following form. The President is persuaded by Chou En-lai and Mao Tse-tung to make a deal meaning the relatively speedy opening of diplomatic relations between Peking and Washington. Taiwan and Chiang Kai-shek are abandoned. In this scenario of fear and suspicion Japan would be left adrift.

Another intangible yet nevertheless real barrier has worked against the knitting together of ties once taken for granted. That is the American failure to realize and understand Japan's foreignness — the subtlety of Japanese thinking, the ceremonial way of life of an island people who have built up formidable psychological defenses against the outside world. For all the superficial resemblance, the passion for golf and baseball, they are an utterly different people.

My Answer

Billy Graham

I see where a British psychologist believes the best way for children to learn about sex is "doing what comes naturally." Do you believe our ideals may be changing, and is it all for the better?I.T.

It is always interesting to me how "psychologists" are always quoted as authorative on any subject. While I believe that psychology is a healpful science, we must remember that there is a higher rate of suicide among psychologists and psychiatrists than any other professional group. This, in itself shows they do not have all the answers.

Yes, I believe the ideals of many people are changing, but it is not for the better. Regardless of the "new math," two and two still equals four. Regardless of the "new morality," the moral law given by God has not changed, and human natures' reaction to guilt has not changed.

Some psychologists and for that matter some clergy advocate promiscuity as being physically helpful, but they of all people should know the results of guilt which builds up in people when they go aginst the moral law.

Children of ten and eleven are suffering from veneral disease, and last year we had hundreds of 12 and 13 year-old mothers. How anyone can advocate promiscuity without responsibility is beyond me? The Biblical concept of marriage was for the purpose of making individuals responsible for sexual pleasure — caring for the children, and giving them some sort of security. I can think of nothing worse than adolescents roaming our streets with no more moral restrain than dogs.

Local Youth Involved In Crusade For Christ

Many college students around the state and nation are being reached and influenced by the Campus Crusade for Christ Movement, including one of Big Spring's products, David H. Newton, a 1968 graduate of Big Spring High School.

Newton, 22, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin D. Newton, 1212 Lloyd Avenue, is a senior at Stephen F. Austin University, at Nacogdoches.

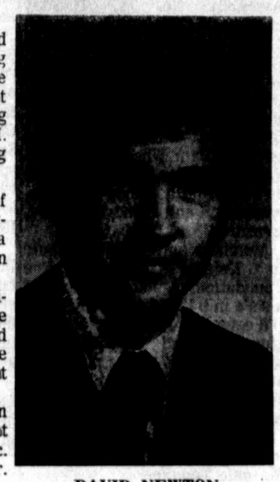

In 1971 Newton was the president of the Campus Crusade movement on his campus, and this year is involved in the organization as a student leader.

He was among the more than 800 students attending a student conference in Dallas held Dec. 27 through Jan. 1, in which Dr. Bill Bright, founder and president of Campus Crusade for Christ, spoke. The purpose of the conference was to train and mobilize students for personal evangelism on the college campus, Newton said.

"However, the main emphasis of the recent conference was preparation for EXPLO '72, a crusade sponsored training conference which will also be held in Dallas June 12-17, 1972," said the hometown student, who is also a member of Grace Bible Church in Nacogdoches.

His parents are members of the Birdwell Lane Church of Christ.

Newton pointed out that EXPLO '72 is expected to draw 100,000 delegates, including students, laymen and pastors into the Fort Worth-Dallas area for the biggest convention ever to be staged in that area.

Billy Graham has been named as honorary chairman of EXPLO, and many more noted evangelists and speakers will participate in the week-long event.

The conference, called officially, "The International Student Congress on Evangelism," will "launch a strategy to train 500,000 people during 1972 for a spiritual explosion across America and around the world," said Dr. Bright in the recent conference in Dallas.

Campus Crusade for Christ International is an interdenominational student Christian movement with ministries on 400 major campuses in the U.S. and in 45 foreign countries.

Newton said that indirectly there are 150 students involved in the movement on his campus. They attend college life meetings every Tuesday night at the college as a part of the organization's activities.

"I became interested in the work the unit was doing, and the students involved had an influencing Christian attitude that greatly impressed me," said Newton as his reason for joining the movement.

He said this Spring a three-day convention will be held at his campus as a function of the movement preceding EXPLO. Josh McDowell, world-renown orator and political activist will speak during the meet to be held March 3-15.

CWU Chooses New Officers

Webb AFB Women of the Chapel recently hosted a salad luncheon, at which the Church Women United held its annual installation of officers.

The newly elected officials of the organization are president, Mrs. Calvin Daniels of the First Presbyterian Church; vice president, Mrs. Gene McElroy of the First Christian Church; and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Eugene Welsh of the Webb Chapel.

Church Women United is an ecumenical group composed of most of the parishes and churches in Big Spring.

Service Topic Of Guild Meet

"Open up your life," said Mrs. H. M. Rowe to members of Wesleyan Service Guild, Monday evening at First United Methodist Church.

"Only the now exists," continued Mrs. Rowe. "This is the moment we have." She asked members to open their lives to love and service and to give thanks for a variety of blessings.

Mrs. Rowe said people should not be jealous, or overly proud of accomplishments. They should have honest and just objectives and controllable tempers, and should spend some time each day with God.

Mrs. Cass Hill assisted in the two-part program by outlining some vocational and technical services offered by Americans to combat sickness and hunger overseas. She also mentioned sections of our own country, such as the Appalachian area, where people have helped the section's inhabitants by teaching them handicrafts and art, and methods of marketing their products.

Mrs. B. M. Keese presided, and Miss Bernice Cason gave opening prayer. Members purchased a sewing machine for use in the church sewing class.

Hostesses were Mrs. Velma Kesterson, Mrs. Bert Affleck and Mrs. A. D. Franklin.

Evangelist To Encore Previous Revival Here

Evangelist Irvin Rutherford, director of Teen Challenge, San Antonio, is returning for a second revival today through Sunday at Evangel Temple Assembly of God, 2205 Goliad. Services will be at 7 p.m. each day.

The Rev. Rutherford conducted a similar revival at Evangel Temple approximately two months ago which was very well received, according to the Rev. Donald Calvin, pastor. The Rev. Rutherford is known for his work with youth in handling drug abuse problems.

As director of Teen-Challenge for the greater San Antonio area, the Rev. Rutherford has led many young people and adults to Christ. He is in demand as an evangelist because of his intense dedication to personal evangelism.

Teen-Challenge seeks to offer a "positive cure" to drug dependent youth who come voluntarily to undergo the one year program. The first two months of the Christian-oriented program are spent in a daily schedule of Bible study and discipline. The remainder of the year is spent at one of the organization's two training farms where further Bible training and vocational rehabilitation is provided.

Pastor Calvin invites the public to take this opportunity to hear one of America's most dedicated evangelists.

Baha'i Faith Seminar Set

The national Spiritual Assembly secretary of Baha'i will be here this weekend for a two-day seminar with local spiritual assemblies in West Texas.

Glenford Mitchell, Wilmette, Ill., will arrive at 9:15 a.m. Saturday at Howard County airport and will be met by area members of the faith.

The initial session will begin at 1 p.m. at Holiday Inn and will continue to 9 p.m. The Sunday seminar will be from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Webb Chaplains Add Folk Service

An idea formed by Webb AFB Chaplains Kenneth Summy and Eugene Welsh became a reality last Sunday with the new contemporary service, folk songs and all.

"We decided that the chapel needed something that the community of Big Spring did not already have, and the contemporary service was what we came up with," said Chaplain Welsh. "The service should better serve personnel and families on Webb."

"The emphasis will be on congregation participation. This will be a worship experience which will help deal with activities of Christians daily lives. We are not out to conquer the 'establishment,' but the service is less formal than the traditional services, this includes such items as dress, the 'no-tie' look type of service," Chaplain Welsh said of the new service form.

Chaplain Welsh said he is looking for all age groups from not only Webb, but the community of Big Spring also.

As with most all services, there is a need for a choir.

"We are looking for guitar players, any string instrument players, and people who just like to sing," Chaplain Welsh added. "The choir will meet at 7 p.m. on Thursdays and the service itself will be at 9 a.m. on Sundays."

The service is non-denominational and members of all faiths and organizations are invited to attend.

"The attitude of sharing, that it is not for one age group exclusively, open for all people, on and off base, is the foundation for the idea," concluded Chaplain Welsh.

Youths Enjoy Ski Retreat

The Youth Fellowship of St. Paul Presbyterian Church departed this morning for a winter retreat at Cloudcroft, N.M.

Taking advantage of the long school weekend and the winter recreation facilities of the mountain area, the group will stay at Camp Chimney Spring and participate in skiing, ice skating, snowmobiling and sledding.

The young people worked at several projects during the Christmas holidays to finance the trip and were able to go with all expenses paid. Not all will be recreation as the group gives its attention to the serious concern of youth-adult relationships and tries to discover ways of improving our life together.

Sunday morning will feature a contemporary worship service led by the pastor. Accompanying the group are adult sponsors with a total of 20 youth and nine adults celebrating the joy of living and playing together.

Do you ever get smothered under the pressures of a super-charged world? Do you get bugged to the point of despair? Have you ever wondered: "Is Life Worth Living?" The pastor has something to say on this at the 11 a.m. worship. The 7 p.m. topic is "Nature and Plan of God," the first in a series of basic doctrines—as basic as blocking and tackling in football. Miss Pat Adams will be the morning soloist; the choirs sing a hymn-anthem, "Saved, Saved" at the evening service.

PARTNERS IN COMMON CAUSE

Speaker Urges Mates To Think In Terms Of 'Us'

"Everyone, regardless of skin color, size of family or length of marriage, is interested in talking about the home," said Chaplain Lee Butler of Big Spring State Hospital, as guest speaker for the Child Study Club Tuesday. The group met in the First Federal Community Room.

Butler said a one-room, dirt floor shack could be a good home if a marriage was strongly built, and he expressed concern that good family structure isn't as evident as it was a few years ago.

Butler said mates should be interested in making each other happy and acting as partners in a common cause. They should be eager to work out differences rather than in being concerned with proving themselves right. They must think in terms of "us" and "we," rather than "I."

Butler offered several suggestions for opening and maintaining contacts with children. He said parents should set an example by living what they talk; supervise and guide by setting limits on freedom and behavior; take an interest in their children's activities and friends, communicate through words and actions what they expect of their child; and learn to listen.

"When your child wants to talk, make it a point to find the time to talk," Butler said. "Don't interrupt them. Listen calmly, and learn to read between the lines to see what the child is really saying." He said parents should maintain a courteous tone of voice and not resort to preaching or nagging. Also, he suggested an occasional family conference is sometimes helpful.

"As the home goes, so goes the nation," Butler said in conclusion. "Home is the seminary of all other institutions.'

Mrs. Calvin Daniels was hostess for the meeting, assisted by Mrs. Kinney Taylor, Mrs. W. A. Riley and Mrs. Norman Knox.

Mrs. Wayne Henry was introduced as a new member. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beil, Mr. and Mrs. Hayes Stripling Jr., Chaplain Butler and husbands of members.

Keith Jones will speak at the next meeting, at 1 p.m., Feb. 9 in the home of Mrs. Leo K. Gee, 101 Washington Blvd., with Mrs. Lorin McDowell III as cohostess. His topic will be, "It's 10 p.m. Do You Know Where Your Children Are?"

A LOVELIER YOU

Winter Doldrums Are Good Dieting Time

By MARY SUE MILLER

Right now, during the January doldrums, is the time to think about slimming down and shaping up. The timing gives you about 10 weeks to work on the project before breaking out in your new spring suit.

To lose 2 or 3 pounds a week, safely and sanely, the first step is cutting back your daily calorie intake. A reasonable count comes to between 1200 and 1300 calories — 300 for breakfast, 400 for lunch, 500 for dinner makes a division you can comfortably live with.

A healthful balance of nutrients emphasizes the protein foods, leafy vegetables, raw fruits and skim milk. Hold starches, sweets and fats to a minimum; 250 or 300 calories taken every day could be a bit much. And do make use of the diet shortcuts. That way, dieting becomes more palatable, easier and speedier: 1. Serve your meals as attractively as party fare. 2. Eat slowly, savor every morsel. 3. Make a first course of salad. That takes the edge off hunger. Clear soup or fruit juice likewise.

4. When you eat at home alone, prepare a proper diet meal. A raid on the refrigerator is a raid on your calorie budget. 5. Instead of a snack, sip a long, cool drink of water. 6. Collect dieter's recipes and ready-food products. 7. Refrain from harping on the subject of diet. Let your motto be "I diet. Quiet!"

(Watch the column for spot recontouring routines.)

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SEC. B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JANUARY 14, 1972 SEC. B

Landry, Shula Have Few Common Traits

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — They call Dallas' Tom Landry "the Reverend T. L." Miami's Don Shula is "Little Napoleon."

Landry is a tall, slender man of 47, partially bald. Graying at the temples, almost completely humorless, so soft-spoken one has to turn his hearing aid on high to get the message.

He could be mistaken for a bank clerk or a church deacon, the latter of which he probably is.

Shula is built like a fire hydrant. A onetime defensive back, at 42 he looks capable of going out on the field and swapping jolts with the behemoths he coaches. He speaks in a strong, authoritative voice, aughs and kids a lot and enjoys a reputation among his peers of being a "man's man."

Shula's chief worry this week preceding the super bowl has been an expanding waist line.

There are sharp physical and personality differences but in coaching philosophy there are many parallels between the pair who must radiate the thought waves in pro football's big championship game Sunday.

DEDICATED

Both are strong on organization and dedication, sticklers for detail and hard work. Landry is a cold computer, criticized by some as being too intellectual for his muscled pupils. Shula is the inspirer—not in the Knute Rockne blood and tears tradition—but a man capable of exhorting others to super effort.

Shula, brown-haired, square-jawed and apparently lacking in guile, considers himself a disciple of the Paul Brown-Weeb Ewbank school, which stresses play execution and avoidance of errors.

Shula played seven years in the NFL with the Browns, Colts and Redskins, and coached at Virginia and Kentucky before entering the pro coaching field in 1960.

SNEAD KINFOLK PAIRED TOGETHER — J. C. Snead strides down the fairway with his uncle, Sam Snead, during the first round of the Bing Crosby National Pro-Am in which they were paired together Thursday. The younger Snead showed up Uncle Sam by shooting the Pebble Beach links in 74 against Sam's 77.

Nicklaus Reasons String Will End

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — "Well, we'll just see if we can make it five out of six, and then six out of seven . . ."

Jack Nicklaus, winner of four of his last five starts, had just fired a brilliant six-under-par 66 for a three-stroke lead in the first round of the Bing Crosby National Pro-Am golf tournament Thursday and was looking ahead to the weekend.

"Sure, I'd like to keep it going, but it's not going to happen," the powerful Golden Bear said, then grinned.

"How many did (Byron) Nelson win in a row? Eleven? Well, if I won 10 I'd want to win 20, but it's not going to happen."

Nicklaus, making his first start of the season, had seven birdies, missed six other times from 12 feet or less and was threatening to run off and hide from the rest of the field until he suffered his only lapse on the 18th hole.

A six-iron second shot hit the branch of a tree and the ball dropped straight down. He chipped poorly and two-putted for his only bogey.

That reduced his four-stroke lead to three over 1971 PGA Player of the Year Lee Trevino, tied for second at 69 with Paul Moran and Larry Mowry.

The group of seven at 70 included England's Tony Jacklin, rookie Lanny Wadkins, Al Geiberger, Dale Douglass, Bill Johnston, Tom Weiskopf and Mike Morley.

But some of the game's big stars had their troubles on the three Monterey Peninsula courses being used for this unique event—Pebble Beach, Spyglass Hill and Cypress Point, where Nicklaus played.

Defending champion Tom Shaw had a fat 77. So did Sam Snead. Masters champion Charles Coody was well back with a 73. Billy Casper had a 75. George Archer, a playoff winner Monday in the Glen Campbell-Los Angeles Open, took a 76.

Arnold Palmer is not competing. It was all Nicklaus on the chill, sunny day, with big Jack missing the course record record by a single shot.

"You can say it's the best start of a season I ever had," Nicklaus said. "I always start my season in this tournament and this is the best opening round I've ever had here."

STARTS AT 1:30

For football buffs who have asked and those who are wondering, Sunday's Super Bowl game between the Dallas Cowboys and the Miami Dolphins will begin at 1:30 p.m., Big Spring time, over Channel 7 (Odessa). Those not on the cable can pick it up on Channel 10.

Coahoma Fems Win, 45-43

COAHOMA — Coahoma's girls won their third straight District 5-AA game by defeating Stanton in a cliffhanger here Thursday night, 45-43.

Down by 16 points at the end of the third period, the visitors fought back fiercely in the final round.

Sally Echols rang the bell for 22 of Coahoma's points.

In B team play, Coahoma won, 51-44. Judy King counted 21 points and Shoemaker 21 for Stanton.

Over-all, the Bulldogs are 14-4. They face their most crucial test Monday night, at which time they tangle with McCamey at home.

COAHOMA (45) — Pam Patterson 5-0-10; Sally Echols 6-10-22; Theresa Beal 4-1-9; Sherry Griffin 2-0-4. Totals 17-11-45.
STANTON (43) — Sawyer 3-6-12; Lambert 5-5-15; Smith 6-4-16. Totals 14-15-43.

Frazier Visit In Home Video May Be Short

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Heavyweight champion Joe Frazier will enter many homes Saturday night via television. Most fight followers feel the visit will be a short one.

Talk about Frazier's scheduled 15-round title fight with Terry Daniels Saturday night concerns not who will win but how quickly will Frazier win.

The champion is such an overwhelming favorite that Las Vegas bookmakers did not establish a betting line.

As for Frazier, the only prediction he will make is that the Dallas Cowboys will beat the Miami Dolphins in Sunday's Super Bowl football game.

"I'm not taking him any lighter than any other fighter," Frazier said of Daniels.

"I'm just not a guy that's coming here to make a buck," said Daniels who lost three of 10 fights in 1971, one of them a four-round knockout by Jack O'Halloran. Doug Lord, Daniels' manager, said Daniels fought O'Halloran with injured ribs.

"The way Frazier comes in sooner or later he's going to get hit by a hard punch, unless I don't fight at all," said the 25-year-old Daniels.

Both fighters rested today for the bout which is scheduled to start at 10 p.m., EST, at the 9,000-seat Rivergate Auditorium and which will be shown on a 205-station television hookup put together by Century Telesports Network. New Orleans will be blacked out.

This will be the first heavyweight championship fight on home television since Muhammad Ali knocked out Zora Folley March 22, 1967.

Frazier received $2.5 million for his last fight, his unanimous 15-round decision victory over Ali. The 28-year-old champion gets $250,000 for fighting Daniels.

Daniels, who lives in Dallas and needs six hours for a bachelor's degree from Southern Methodist, will get $35,000 for his big opportunity.

In three years of pro fighting Daniels has won 28, lost four and had one draw. He has scored 24 knockouts and has been knocked out twice.

JOKERS WIN

McGhee Raps With Crowd

Ken McGhee, 5-7 and all funny man, kept the crowd of 900 in a fine mood here Thursday night when he spurred the touring Harlem Jokers to a 39-32 victory over the Big Spring Coaches.

The show was sponsored by the Big Spring Quarterback Club, which netted close to $350, money that will be used for the annual All-Sports banquet here in the spring.

McGhee, called Hot Stuff by his mates, spent a lot of time in the stands establishing new friendships and renewing old ones with the bleacherites.

No one knew quite what the final outcome was, mainly because a youngster was recruited to shoot one of the Joker baskets and the Jokers themselves scored a couple for the Coaches.

The Jokers ran a weave outside the top of the keyhole that was something to see. There have been better shooting teams appear here but the Jokers' stock in trade is comedy and not court effort.

McGhee got his biggest laugh when he seemingly jerked what appeared to be a miniature athletic support from one of the Big Spring coaches.

Coach Clovis Hale of Big Spring kept flooding fresh substitutes into the game and the Jokers kept tiring them out.

The Jokers used the usual baseball and fainting routines (wherein McGhee was revived by whiffing a spectator's shoe), plus a few not seen here before.

QBC officials said the crowd was approximately the same size which saw the Harlem team (from Gary, Ind.) here last year.

RANDY MARSHALL

Bovines Go To Lee For 5-4A Contest

Encouraged by their winning effort against Odessa Permian, the Big Spring Steers return to basketball competition at 8 o'clock tonight against Midland Lee in Midland.

This one, no doubt, will be another tough challenge for the Longhorns in that Lee plays much the same type of game as does Big Spring (and has a deeper bench to pursue such tactics).

The Steers, 13-8 on the year and 1-2 in conference, like to run and shoot. They also relish the idea of using a full court press. Lee harrasses much the same way.

When two teams like that come face to face with each other, the team with better reserves often wins.

Ron Plumlee's Bold Gold is better prepared to challenge the Rebels than when they dropped an 84-74 decision to Lee back in December. David Carter, one of the three returning lettermen, has since joined the locals and he was a major factor in Big Spring's shocking win over Permian.

Paul Stueckler, the Lee coach, chooses his starters from among James Turner, Marty Miller, Steve Cromwell, Jerry Graves, Bryant Huckabay, Larry Thames, Kenny Fullmer, Don Bradley, Hilliard Goodley and Richard Blackwell.

Huckabay and Graves are the bellwethers of the Maroon and White.

The Rebels boast a 14-7 record and are 1-2, like Big Spring, in conference.

In their last outing, the Rebs dropped an 84-79 decision to a surprisingly tough Abilene Cooper.

Big Spring may go with a contingent of Robert Wallace, Johnny Tonn, David Carter, Mike Randle and Ted Smith.

Others who will play a lot include Bones McKee, Randy Marshall, Rondel Brock and David Newman.

JV units of the two schools square off at 6:15 p.m.

Jayhawks Play LCC Five In Lubbock Saturday

Aiming for their 18th victory of what so far has been a productive season, the Howard County Junior College Jayhawks take leave of Western Conference play Saturday night for a return engagement with the Lubbock Christian College JayVees.

When the two teams met in November, Howard County defeated the Chaps, 86-67. Both teams have come a ways since that time.

Howard County will likely go with a starting unit of Lawrence Young, Jim Kreier, Harry Miller, Archie Myers and Russell Frontz. Herbert Lee, out with an injury for a while, is clocking playing time again but he isn't starting.

Those who will probably start for LCC include Damon Richards, Steve Lincoln, George Richards, Ed Moultrie and either Steve Vandeventer or Rick Russwarm.

Moultrie stuffed in 26 points against HC in the teams' previous meeting while Vandeventer managed 12 and Russwarm 13.

HC will be away from conference play only one game. They must go to Hobbs, N.M., next Tuesday to play New Mexico JC and that could well be one of the toughest assignments of the year for the provincials.

Brahmas Ramble Past Lamesans

The Big Spring Brahmas took charge in the third quarter and went on to defeat Lamesa, 71-61, in a ninth grade basketball game here Thursday.

In eighth grade competition, Lamesa won over Runnels, 30-26.

The Brahmas currently have a 6-8 record. They meet Brownwood in the first round of the San Angelo Tournament at 5:30 p.m. today.

BS BRAHMAS (71) — Albo Smith 15-4-34; Partee 4-0-8; Winters 3-2-8; Gamboa 1-1-3; Earhart 1-0-2; Byrd 2-0-4; Majors 2-1-5; Luevanos 3-1-7. Totals 31-9-71.

Long Beach State New Bully In Neighborhood

By The Associated Press

There's a new bully in the UCLA neighborhood. Just around the corner, in fact.

Long Beach State, on the doorstep last year, appears to have the wallop to knock UCLA on its NCAA basketball crown this season.

The defending champions of the Pacific Coast Athletic Association, who lost to the national champions by only two points in last season's NCAA western regionals, are hoping for another chance.

They'll get it—if they keep playing like Thursday night, when they defeated Los Angeles State 103-83.

It was the 13th victory in 14 games this season for the seventh-ranked 49ers.

In Thursday night's other major games, it was Army 104, Colgate 92; Western Kentucky 103, LaSalle 84; Furman 92, Richmond 66; St. Louis 72, Tulsa 61; St. Joseph's, Pa., 80, Hofstra 66; Evansville 74, A&M 98, Trinity 58; West Texas State 96, Southern Mississippi 80 and North Texas State 98, Northeast Louisiana 56.

NO THREAT

Before Coach Jerry Tarkanian hit the shores of Long Beach, the team wasn't even a winner, much less a threat to UCLA's posture.

He scored big overnight. In 1968-69, Tarkanian's team won 23 games and lost only three, then met and bowed to UCLA in the NCAA regional playoffs the next two seasons.

With the latest triumph his over-all mark since joining the 49ers has been a giddy 84-14.

Ed Ratleff and Chuck Terry had 22 points apiece in the 49ers' runaway triumph Thursday night. Mose Adolph scored a game-high 30 points for the losers.

Wally Wojdakowski scored a career-high 34 points as Army hit a team-record point total in beating Colgate. The Cadets had scored 101 on three occasions.

Five players scored in double figures, led by reserve Terry Davis' 20 points, as Western Kentucky crushed LaSalle.

Furman's defending Southern Conference champions ertended their league lead to a full game by overpowering Richmond behind Roy Simpson's 24 points and 18 rebounds.

TOUGH DEFENSE

St. Louis used a stifling zone defense to hold off high-scoring Steve Bracey and Tulsa. The Billikens led by as much as 43-17 in the first half before the losers made a comeback try.

Grady Wins Two In League Play

GRADY — Grady won both ends of a district doubleheader from Greenwood here Thursday.

Margin in the boys' game was 38-35, and Grady had to come from behind to turn the trick. The Grady girls won, 36-27, thanks to a 32-point effort by Joanna Sawyer.

In the back courts for the Grady girls, Tana Yates, Tahita Lake and Tina Davenport showed to advantage for Grady.

Junior Rangel had 16 points and J. C. Tunnell 12 for the Grady boys, who are now 2-3 in conference and 8-7 on the year. Grady's girls are also 2-3 within the league and 6-9 over-all.

Bon Voyage

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Now I know that I have truly seen everything! My husband and I have owned and operated a small florist shop for the last 15 years, and I have encountered some unusual situations. But the one I had yesterday beats them all.

Two middle-aged women came into the shop together and asked what I had to offer in the way of a "Bon Voyage" wreath, so I showed them what I had in my catalog. I aksed if a man or a woman was going abroad, and one of the women replied, angrily: "It is for my sister's FUNERAL!"

I must have shown my amazement because she then added: "If you were a true Christian you would consider death as the beginning of a long, happy trip."

Abby, I do consider myself a Christian, and I refused to sell that woman a "Bon Voyage" wreath for her sister's funeral.

When my husband came in, I told him what had happened and he laughed and said: "You should have sold it to her."

SHOCKED IN ALBUQUERQUE

DEAR SHOCKED: I vote with your husband. How one views death is a highly personal matter. If the woman wanted to wish her deceased sister a happy trip, I'd have sold her a "Bon Voyage" wreath.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My husband and Ihave been friends with another couple for a number of years. We are in each other's home frequently. Lately the woman has been doing something that I find very annoying. After we arrive at her home, by invitation, she picks up her latest knitting or needlepoint project and starts working away, stopping occasionally to count stiches, consult the instructions, and to admire her handiwork.

She does join in the conversation, but rather half-heartedly, as though she feels obligated to make a token comment now and then.

I think she is being somewhat rude. Am I right or wrong?

BUGGED

DEAR BUGGED: Right. She is making a statement: "The company isn't sufficiently fascinating to warrant my total attention."

Don't let the annoyance build up. Tell her. But don't you use a needle.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My wife just had a hysterectomy. Does that mean it is the end of her sex life? She is only 34.

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: Absolutely not! In fact, it could very well be the beginning of a better six life because she no longer has to worry about becoming pregnant.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: The ink is still drying on my final divorce papers, and already the neighbors and acquaintances are nosing around as to "why" we got the divorce, and "what happened?"

It wasn't over "another woman," or "another man," and since I am the one who instigated the divorce, I am getting the "what happened?" question from all sides.

I would really rather not offer any explanations because I feel it's nobody's business. How can I tactfully put this message across? SANDY

DEAR SANDY: Simply say: "If you will forgive me for not answering, I will forgive you for asking."

Young Pregnancy

Your Good Health

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My problem is that I'm 14 years old and one month pregnant. Could you please tell me various ways to lose my baby without having to consult my physician? If possible please answer in the paper and very soon because I need your answer desperately.—K.M.

I'm putting your inquiry at the top of the column because other girls keep asking the same question, and I gather they haven't seen my answer when I put it at the bottom of the column.

Of course, I'm sorry you're in trouble, but there simply isn't any answer that fits your question. There are all sorts of supposed ways to do what you want—that is, cause an abortion. But . . .

There is none — I repeat NONE — that will work and is safe, except to have an abortion performed by a physician, which is now legal in a few states.

Over the years I've heard any number of suggested methods — taking large amounts of quinine or other drugs, very hot baths, jumping up and down, drinking various foul-tasting concoctions. None of these works, no matter who tells you they will. The only time they "work" is when a miscarriage is going to occur anyway, and that, of course, does happen in a certain percentage of pregnancies. But you can't induce it.

If you and your parents can arrange for a legal abortion within the first three months of the pregnancy, that is one solution. After that, it is usually too late.

But do not, under any circumstances, risk one of the "back-alley" abortions that are done outside the law. Too often infection results, and can leave you unable to have children, even be fatal.

I promise you I am not holding back any "secret methods" of getting rid of a baby. I'm just giving you the facts.

There's one other answer, of course, and that is to have the baby and offer it for adoption. The soundest advice I can give you is to tell your parents. You can't expect them to dance for joy over what has happened, but you won't be the first girl who has found, when she finally leveled with her parents, that they usually come through hard-headedly and say, "What's happened has happened. So now what's the best thing to do about it?"

There are, you know, homes for girls like you where you can have good medical care, and have the baby safely, and without anyone else knowing about it.

I repeat: there is NO way to get rid of the baby that is safe and will work, except a surgical and legal abortion in a suitable operating room.

* * *

Dear Dr. Thosteson: The doctor said I have pulmonary fibrosis but didn't tell me much about it. Is there a treatment or cure? Is it fatal?—R.W.C.

If you substitute "scarring" for "fibrosis," it will be clearer to you. Obviously something in the past caused damage (fibrosis or scarring resulting). Assuming that no further fibrosis is occurring, just watch out for any respiratory ailments. The fibrosis already present cannot be corrected, however.

* * *

Although cholesterol has been implicated in heart attacks and other circulatory troubles, it is also vital to human life. For this reason, Dr. Thosteson has entitled his booklet, "Control Your Cholesterol Sensibly." For a copy write to him in care of this newspaper, enclosing 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope.

No Need For Alarm; Fire At Lake Here Controlled

Smoke bellowing from the banks of the Cosden Lake Thursday afternoon caused much concern from interested citizens, but Harry Nagel, city manager, reported today that only trash was being cleared and burned.

The north banks of the lake were burned in an effort to keep trash runoff into the lake at a minimum, during heavy rainstorms.

"Also, the brush and trash was partially cleared to make the shoreline more readily accessible to those who use the lake," said James Campbell, director of public works.

Work at the lake is part of the continuing study and effort the city administration is currently conducting on the entire facility for the purpose of establishing a policy to govern the future operation of the Cosden Club and grounds.

Both Campbell and Nagel are currently studying reports from the Chamber of Commerce and other possible formats and plans to be incorporated into the operation of the facility.

"We have almost completed an ordinance to submit to the city commission regarding the operation of the club and grounds," said Nagel today.

In Uvalde, where Nagel was once city manager, a similar ordinance was approved creating and setting down operational policies for a civic center in that city. Nagel said that the local ordinance has been patterned after the one in Uvalde.

The ordinance concerns rental rates on the facility, and possible future operation of the club by a private individual capable of making a living there, without the city having to subsidize the operation, according to the city manager.

In a previous regular session of the city commission, city fathers discussed the need for a charge to be initiated at Cosden Lake. Nagel said that the charge will be the same rate exacted at Moss Creek Lake and is a portion of the new ordinance.

Also, city officials have brought in the state Parks and Wildlife Commission to evaluate the lake, and the representatives recommended that the lake be restocked.

No set date has been announced on the restocking of the lake, but Earnest Lee, present caretaker of the facility, said that it will be soon. The commission, in conjunction with the fish hatchery in San Angelo, will do the job.

Stellar Livestock Show Is Likely

STANTON — The annual Martin County 4-H and FFA livestock show and sale shaped up here today as one of the best on record.

Officials said the quality of lambs, hogs and steers appeared to be the best yet in a long history of the county show.

Boys and girls were grooming their animals this morning, and the judging on lambs and hogs will begin after lunch with finals known possibly by 4 p.m. The steer class will be judged Saturday morning at 9 o'clock and the sale will begin at 2 p.m.

House Blaze Keeps Firemen Occupied

A house fire at 1302 Wood Thursday night kept local fore units busy for almost two hours.

Two units were dispatched to the fire at 11:12 p.m. and did not return to the station until 12:50 a.m. The house was owned by Bill Sheppard, realtor, and was being rented to Lt. Robert Smith, Webb AFB.

According to fire officials, the flames started around the floor furnace, and heavy damage resulted to the living and dining rooms in the structure.

Also contents in the two rooms were heavily damaged, and the rest of the house was smoked damaged.

Scout Panel Maps Program

Clayton Hicks kicked off his year as chairman of the Lone Star Boy Scout District Thursday with a near record attendance at the VA Hospital.

Objective is to keep the district "No. 1 in the council," he said.

Vice chairmen — Col. Malcolm Ryan, Rev. Kenneth Patrick, Jack Powell and R. N. McDaniel, will work with certain committee chairmen, said Chaplain Hicks. Operating committee heads were introduced and outlined plans for the year.

The Lone Star District will be host to the Buffalo Trail Council meeting at HCJC next Thursday. Among items immediately on the agenda are Boy Scout Sunday and Boy Scout week (first week in February), the Scout exposition at Highland Mall March 18. Aubrey Bryans, camping and activities chairman, said details were being placed in hands of unit leaders. A meeting will be held Feb. 17 to distribute booth space and tickets.

Weiland Brown said the first aid meet would be delayed briefly but would be under a new format to involve a greater number of scouts. Leadership for sustaining memberships and other financial aid are shaping, said George Zachariah, chairman. Training teams are being organized, reported Bill Brooks.

A film on district committee operation was projected, focusing attention on the ultimate objective — boys.

Sands FFA Shows Stock In Abilene

ACKERLY — About 20 members of the Sands FFA will leave for Abilene Saturday to enter their steers and lambs in the Abilene Livestock Show, according to Lon McDonald, Sands vocational agriculture teacher.

The boys and girls have 14 steers and 14 lambs entered in the show. The judging will be held Monday.

The Sands FFA had planned to hold a livestock show this weekend, but due to the need of area farmers to work on the cotton harvest, the show was postponed until Jan. 25. Entries will be accepted up to that date.

Registration Is Booming At HC

New CAC Officers Are Named Here

New officers for 1972 were elected in the Community Action Council meeting held Thursday night in the Howard County courtroom. D. A. Brazel was voted into a third term as president of the organization.

Dr. Halvard Hanson was elected as vice president, while Sam Anderson and Julian Vigil moved into the secretary and treasurer positions, respectively.

Reports on the activities of various committees that cooperate through the community action program were given in the meeting also. Pete Stone reported on the progress and development of the West Side Community Center.

A report on the eligibility and funding of the Head Start Program was given by Keith Swim. He advised the program is still short of the eligible enrollment number of 200. Presently there are 187 students enrolled.

Brazel commented again in the meeting about there being agencies in the community entitled to representation on the council board, but some are not participating.

He said the Big Spring Independent School District is entitled to four representatives; city of Big Spring, four; Howard County, four; Howard County Junior College, three; Cedar Creft, five; Bauer, six; Kate Morrison, two; and the entire community at large, 15.

"Many of these groups entitled to representation never have sent anyone to the meetings, including the Howard County Bar Association, the local medical association, the Salvation Army and the city PTA," said Brazel.

He said the organization is made up largely of representatives from the areas that are to be served by the council, and by law the segments must select their own representatives to participate on the council.

Cap Rock Renews Oratory Contest

All-expense-paid trips to the nation's capital city will be awarded winners of an oratorical contest sponsored by Cap Rock Electric Cooperative, Inc.

The contest is open to any boy or girl at least 16 years of age, but not 18 years of age, prior to Sept. 1, 1972. The winners will join winners of similar contests sponsored by other electric cooperatives across the state on the eighth annual Texas Electric Cooperatives Government-in-Action Youth Tour to Washington, D.C. All expenses of the 12-day trip, beginning June 9, will be paid by Cap Rock Electric Cooperative.

Each entrant will be required to give a five-to-eight-minute talk and answer one or more questions asked by the judges. The participants will be judged on: 1) knowledge of subject (40 per cent) 2) speaking ability (30 per cent; 3) poise (10) and 4) appearance (10) and personality (10).

Interested young people may obtain an official entry blank from their high schools or the offices of Cap Rock Electric Cooperative, Box 158, Stanton. Entry forms must be received no later than Feb. 11.

Winners of the local contest will travel by chartered bus to Washington, D.C., where they will spend four days visiting places of historical interest and seeing the nation's government in action.

On Wednesday, June 14, the Texas group will meet more than 1,000 students from other states on Rural Youth Day Activities. This eventful day will end with a chartered cruise down the Potomac River, which will include entertainment and refreshments.

Also included on the agenda will be visits to George Washington's Mount Vernon home, Arlington National Cemetery, the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the Smithsonian Institute, Lincoln Memorial, and other places of interest.

Sculptress, Oil Eccentric Spotlighted In Texas Star

Mysterious, brilliant, eccentric, Elisabet Ney left beautiful sculptures of world famous people — and an engima that scholars still ponder.

Florence Baldwin unfolds the story of this inscrutable woman in Sunday's Texas Star.

Other features in the Herald's magazine include:

The Wildcatter of Running Duke — the fantastic tale of a rich oil man who dresses like a fashion plate and nags his friends into health programs. Ruth Goddard explores the subject and discovers that Mayer Billy Rudman is as fascinating as he is wealthy—and he has producing oil wells in 15 states.

"Hare Today and Gone Tomorrow" is the title of an article by L. A. Wilke, who observes that jackrabbits are kind of a mixed blessing. They're part of the folklore and good sport for shooting but a nuisance when they eat too much of the range grass. There is a big monument to the animal at Odessa, he notes.

In "Tuna for a King," a Dallas woman goes along for the ride when her husband has business in Ecuador — and winds up catching a record-sized fish.

Editor Jimmy Banks clears out his notebook to produce a potpourri of comment on the state of the state.

Reds Order Expulsion Of U. S. Congressman

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union ordered today the immediate expulsion of a visiting U.S. congressman who attended a dinner at the home of a Jewish professor trying to emigrate to Israel.

Rep. James H. Scheuer, a New York Democrat, was held for two hours by police after the dinner Wednesday night. He has left Moscow for Leningrad.

The U.S. Embassy said the order for Scheuer's expulsion was delivered by Georgy Kornyenko, chief of the U.S. section of the Soviet Foreign ministry.

IMPROPER ACTS

"Kornyenko stated that the Soviet government was expelling Mr. Scheuer for engaging in improper activities while visiting the Soviet Union as a member of the subcommittee of the House of Representatives, headed by Congressman Brademas and sponsored by the U.S. government," an embassy statement said.

Rep. John Brademas, D-Ind., headed the congressional group.

"The Foreign Ministry demanded that Congressman Scheuer leave the Soviet Union immediately," the embassy statement continued.

Scheuer is believed to be the first elected American official ever expelled from the Soviet Union.

Scheuer came to the Soviet Union as a member of a seven-man congressional subcommittee to study Soviet education. The subcommittee ended its two-week tour on Wednesday. That night Scheuer went to the apartment of the professor and was picked up there by the Soviet police. He was released later.

Scheuer went to Leningrad on Thursday and is believed to still be there.

In Washington, an aide of Scheuer confirmed that the congressman is still in Leningrad and that he planned to leave by train, presumably today, for Helsinki, Finland.

NO DEADLINE

An embassy spokesman said a U.S. official was summoned to the Foreign Ministry this morning and told of the expulsion order. He added that Scheuer would probably leave the Soviet Union from Leningrad rather than come back to Moscow, but that no deadline had been set for Scheuer's departure.

Scheuer was having dinner at the home of Prof. Alexander Lerner when he was taken into custody by two Soviet policemen.

He told newsmen after his two-hour detention that the policemen came to the Lerner's door and said they were searching the neighborhood for a criminal who might be masquerading as a foreigner.

North	East	South	West
1 ♡	Pass	2 ◇	Pass
3 ◇	Pass	3 ♡	Pass
4 ♣	Pass	4 ◇	Pass
5 ◇	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Ace of ♡

The defense seized on the opportunity presented by the opening lead to administer a lethal thrust to South's five diamond contract before the latter had an opportunity to launch his campaign.

North opened the bidding with one heart, the highest ranking of three touching four card suits. South held the equivalent of an opening bid himself and responded with two diamonds, his longest suit. North raised to three diamonds and South showed the heart fit by bidding three hearts.

North could not rebid a four card suit, so he showed his clubs next. When his partner merely returned to four diamonds, North carried on to game in that suit.

West opened the ace of hearts. It was obvious to East that his partner had led a singleton inasmuch as he was looking at nine hearts between his own hand and the dummy and declarer presumably held three hearts for his raise of that suit. The problem then, was for East to get in to give West a ruff.

The only quick potential entry card in East's hand was the king of spades and this would provide access only if West held the ace of that suit. The problem was to convey the message to partner that he could safely underlead the ace. East accordingly followed suit to the first trick with the eight of hearts.

This abnormally high card could not possibly be interpreted as a come-on and East hoped that his partner would therefore take his card as a suit preference signal requesting a shift to the higher ranking of the other two suits—spades.

West paused to consider whether it was possible that East held the queen of hearts, but he finally decided that if that were the case, partner could have made some milder signal than the eight. Since there appeared to be no tricks available to the defense in either diamonds or clubs, the ruff was the only chance to defeat South. West accordingly led a small spade at trick two. East put up the king and returned a heart and West scored the setting trick with the three of diamonds.

No Use For Fed Money, Says Police Chief Short

HOUSTON (AP) — Police Chief Herman Short says his department has no use for federal money.

Short's comment was made after he was asked why Houston was not among eight cities which will share $160 million in federal funds in tre next three years to combat crime.

The U.S. Justice Department program announced Thursday is scheduled to provide $40 million this year, $80 million the next and $40 million the third year to Dallas, Newark, Baltimore, Atlanta, St. Louis, Cleveland, Denver and Portland, Ore.

"We don't want federal involvement in this department or the regulatons that go with money such as this," Short said. "The citizens of Houston support this department and we have needed no outside money."

Richard Parker, an aide to Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., said Houston was left out because the Justice Department included only cities with a population between 250,000 and one million. The 1970 federal census showed Houston had 1,232,804 residents.

Tower's office, which also released the information, said the program was designed to reduce burglaries and robberies.

Short said Houston robberies declined sharply during 1971. He said there were 5,889 in 1971, compared to 7,612 in 1970.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — The National Council of Women have selected Mrs. Patricia Pheiffer as South Africa's "Mrs. Average Housewife." Mrs. Pheiffer, 28, her husband, Andrew, 31, and three children live in a two bedroom apartment. One reason she was selected, the council said, was her ability to budget her husband's monthly $458.79 take home pay.

Trail Ride Slated For Posse Members

Western music and a band of "Indians" are some of the features of the trail ride and turkey dinner scheduled Saturday for members of the Howard County Sheriff's Posse and anyone else who would care to participate.

Riders are to assemble at 10 a.m. at the Prairie View Church for the ride to the Knott Community Center. Dinner will be served at 1 p.m. to the strains of Western music provided by the Vandoyl Murphree Band.

Cost of the dinner will be $2 per person, and all those wishing to attend are asked to telephone the posse president, T. H. McCann, at 267-7488 to insure that enough food will be on hand.

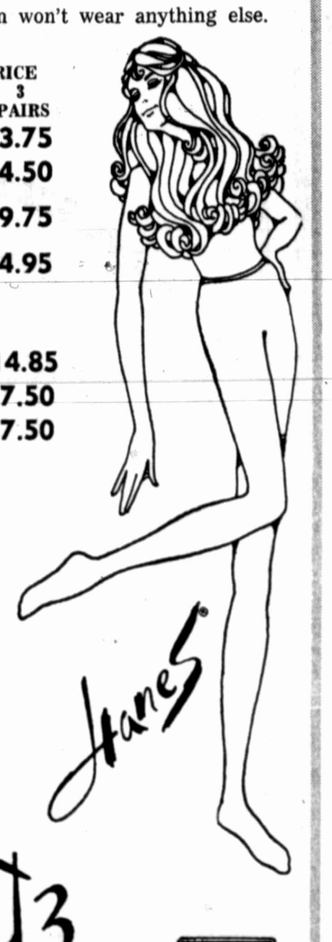

Saturday's event is scheduled to go on regardless of possible inclement weather, according to Mrs. Ruby Allred, member of the posse. All posse members and the public are invited to participate.
