County Fair Set For Sept. 8 and 9

There'll be a county fair this fall!

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce voted Monday night, May 8, to again sponsor the Collingsworth County Fair. The date will be Friday and Saturday, Sept. 8 and 9.

Definite action had been delayed for two months in order to determine if there is sufficient interest, and response, especially in the last few days, convinced the board that the interest is there.

Billy Moseley, vice president of the Wellington State Bank, has volunteered to be Fair Chairman.

He announced Tuesday afternoon that some major changes will be made in the Fair format to give it an entirely new look.

"We plan to use some of the reliable standbys who have worked with previous fairs, and we would also like to encourage people to work with this fair who previously have not been involved," Moseley said.

"We want to utilize the talent of those who have worked so hard in the past, but we want the new talent also.

Great emphasis will be put on the displays, both agricultural and homemaking, the chairman said.

"We look forward to having an active pet show and a fine horse show," he added.

There is still a question about the calf show, as calves in this part of the country are not in show condition in September. There will also be the large art, craft and flower department.

"But we plan to make it a little different than in the past," Moseley assured.

The annual carnival is also booked and will show through

Va Browder To Speak for Library Group

Virginia Browder of Memphis, one of those responsible for the development of that town's library and securing the new building, will be the guest speaker at Friends of the Library Thursday, May 11. The meeting will be in the county library at 7:30 p.m.

Mike Branigan, Memphis jeweler and another who has been instrumental in securing the library, has been invited to be here also.

All members of Friends of the Library, and others who are interested in developing the Collingsworth County Library are urged to attend.

The present major project of Friends of the Library is to assist in securing the 2,000 books needed in order for the library to retain its certification. A total of 10,000 volumes is required.

All-Sports Banquet Honors 100 Athletes

More than 100 Wellington High School athletes will be honored at the annual all-sports banquet Tuesday, May 16. It will be in Bura Handley Community Center, at 7:30 p.m.

Garet Von Netzer, Amarillo Globe-News sports editor and long-time booster of Skyrocket athletics, will be the guest speaker.

Five athletes, four boys and a girl, will be selected for special awards for outstanding achievements in their sports speciality. Recipients will not know of their selection until it is announced at the banquet, according to head Coach James Williams.

There are two football awards, the Outstanding Back and Outstanding Lineman, plus the Larry Wright Fighting Heart Award.

The two basketball awards will go to the outstanding Skyrocket and outstanding Rockett.

All teams will be introduced by their coaches.

Tickets are on sale and may be purchased from Coaches James Williams and Phil Bailey, or from any of the cheerleaders for $3.00 each.

Von Netzer's concern for Wellington athletes have given them news coverage throughout the tri-state area. An outstanding schoolboy athlete at Fredericksburg, he was the state high hurdles champion and later established the school record at the University of Missouri which lasted 10 years. He was co-captain of the Missouri track team.

He holds two degrees, undergraduate and masters, in Journalism from Missouri.

Tryouts for Little League Saturday

Tryouts for all youngsters wishing to play in the Wellington Little League program will be held at 10:00 a.m. Saturday, May 13, at Marina Airpark Ball Park.

"All boys and girls 9 to 12 years of age are invited to take part in the tryouts and should be there on time with their glove," said Mrs. Don Reeves, who is helping with the program.

Coaches will pick the teams after the tryouts Saturday.

There will be four Little League teams, sponsored by Wellington State Bank, City State Bank, Lyman's and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

school districts may not consolidate unless one has at least 240 students. (However, a Texas Education Agency spokesman told The Wellington Leader Tuesday that he knew of no such regulation.)

Langley also told the group that the board expects to pay two and one-half teacher's salaries out of local maintenance funds next year, in comparison to one and one-half this year.

Earl Patterson asked if the board had an estimate on how much operating expenses will increase for the next school year and Langley said that the board did not know at the present time.

In other business at the regular meeting, the board hired Bill Lewis as janitor and Barbara Lewis and Betty Byrd as lunchroom cooks and adopted the same bus routes as last year.

Arthur told the board that he had contacted a woman to be part-time teacher, but that she had not made a decision yet.

The board also accepted the resignations of Becky Cochran and Oleta Mercer from the Quail school faculty.

And the board voted to contribute $700 to help pay for the senior trip to Colorado Springs after graduation.

Wellington School Trustees Consider Student Recruiting

The 1978-79 tax rate for recruiting is not illegal although it is considered unethical.

Wellington Independent School District will not be changed, the school board voted Monday night, May 8.

The current rate is $2.19, according to Mrs. Nita Brantley, business manager.

Of this, $1.50 goes to local maintenance and 69 cents to the school board voted Monday night, May 8.

After a discussion of the Wellington School District into another district, the board instructed Supt. E.W. Clement to notify Dr. Martin L. Brockette, Commissioner of Education, by letter of the alleged recruiting and of the board's awareness of it.

The vote was unanimous by those present on a motion by Frank Coleman and second by Carroll Nunnolley.

Mr. Clement said he was told by Brockette's office that leaks and they appear to be around the flashing on the roof.

George Smoot, contractor, has notified the roofing subcontractor to return and repair the roof, he told Clement.

A "punch list" of all faults which need correcting will be turned over to the contractor for correction. Clement said the previous payment to the contractor has been withheld and will not be paid until the problems are corrected.

The board accepted a notice from the attorney for Glad Montgomery, former school custodian, that his client does not wish to collect his salary for May.

Montgomery is unable to work but the school continued paying his salary due to his year of service, it was brought out in the meeting. Notice had been sent him that the pay would be terminated effective May 31.

Mrs. Brantley told the board that the cost of sending students to the Regional UIL contest at Odessa will be approximately $3,000. This is paid out of a "co-activity" fund, which she said was the equivalent to an extra-curricular fund.

After the meeting, Clement explained that approximately 50 students and their sponsors qualified to compete in the various regional UIL contests, including the boys and girls track and field events, tennis, literary events and one-act play contest.

The board accepted the resignation of Coach Ronnie Glenn, who will go to the Olton School.

The board also renewed the contract of Mrs. Ruth Norman, a member of the high school faculty.

City Manager Glen Taylor discussed delinquent taxes, which both the school and city are trying to collect.

Quail Board Turns Down Consolidation Suggestion

Twenty-five Quail school district taxpayers met with the Quail School Board Monday, May 8 to ask the board to consider consolidation with Wellington or Samnorwood school districts.

But board member Delbert White summed up the board's reaction to the suggestion with an analogy to farming. "If you miss three or four crop years in a row, you'll have to quit. But until you do, you'll keep trying just as long as you can, and that's what we're doing here with the school."

Many of those present at the meeting are petitioners in a suit filed against the school district which seeks to overturn a bond election that passed last October. The bond would provide $295,000 to build a gymnasium and complete other facilities at the new school to replace buildings destroyed by a tornado in May, 1977.

The board told the taxpayer group that the district is free of debt on buildings that have been constructed already.

Superintendent Wilford Arthur and all board members denied charges that students were being solicited from other school districts to attend Quail school in order to increase enrollment.

Group spokesman Tommy Coleman asked if seniors had been told that the school was not accredited. But board president Donald Langley said that the school had never been unaccredited. Langley said that the school had been on probation when it was holding classes in church houses at Quail, and that it would have been unaccredited if no improvements had been made.

The Texas Education Agency had recommended last

August that the school not be accredited for the 78-79 school year. However, a TEA staff man is expected to review that recommendation during an on-site visit this week.

Superintendent Wilford Arthur told the group that the school is now drawing state aid on an average daily attendance of 92 students from last year's rolls. He said 84 students were now enrolled at Quail, including students on which the school is ineligible to draw state aid. And he said that he expects to draw state aid next year on an average daily attendance of 83 students.

Arthur also said that approximately $60,000 of the district's $217,000 budget was raised by local taxes.

The board was asked if they had ever considered consolidation with Samnorwood School. They replied that two

UIL Competition Time Announced

Competition times of Wellington's two participants in the State UIL Trackland Field Meet has been announced by Coach Phil Bailey.

The boys and Coach Bailey will leave Wellington Thursday morning and return after the track meet, arriving in the early hours Sunday.

In the state qualifiers meet held at Lubbock Saturday, May 6, Chambers placed first and Thomas came in fifth.

WELLINGTON HONOR GRADUATES

Margie Dixon, with the highest grade average in the senior class had not completed four years of high school work here and was not eligible for valedictorian honors. Kloette Camp is the valedictorian and Lon Kiker the salutatorian.

Voters Nominate New Members Of Commissioners Court Saturday

Collingsworth voters on Saturday, May 6, nominated three new members to the Commissioners court, a county judge and two commissioners. They named a third commissioner, who was an appointee, to serve the remainder of this term.

Bob Watson was nominated for county judge over Cliff Hartman by an 813-669 vote. As nomination in the Democratic Primary amounts to election in this and most other Panhandle counties, Watson is due to take office January 1, succeeding Judge Zook Thomas, who did not seek re-election.

Two incumbent commissioners seeking regular terms were defeated.

Joe Frank Knoll of Lutie won the Precinct 2 commissioner's place over incumbent Melvin Seale 162-108. Seale lives 7 miles north of Wellington.

Precinct 4 commissioner W.R. (Buck) Breeding of Samnorwood, senior member of the commissioner's court, lost that post by only 8 votes to Raymond Neeley, whose home is in the last block at the south end of the precinct. That vote was 198-190.

John Robert Henard was named to serve the remaining two years as commissioner of Precinct 1. He was appointed to the office when Hartman resigned to run for county judge.

This leaves Precinct 3 commissioner Bill Lowe, in his second year as a member of the court, as its senior member.

In the other contested precinct race, Wilson Porter, veteran city night watchman, was elected Constable of Precinct 1 over Delmar D. Turner, 847-521. The constable's precinct includes all of Collingsworth County except three small uninhabited areas designated Precincts 2, 3 and 4.

On the district level Collingsworth voters favored Glenn Conrad over Foster Whaley for state representative, 66th District, by a 63 vote margin, 696-633. District-wise Whaley outdistanced his opponent by approximately 1,000 votes and will face Republican Bill Hale of Floydada in the November general election.

In state races of major interest in this county, Robert (Bob) Krueger received 836 votes to 426 cast for Joe Christie.

John Hill led the governor's race here, as he did state-wide, with 783 votes to 524 for Governor Dolph Briscoe. Former Governor Preston Smith ran third with 128 votes.

County voters followed the state trend and again turned down pari-mutuel betting on horse races. The non-binding referendum was defeated here 842 to 512. By this count, 60 per cent of the Collingsworth voters oppose pari-mutuel betting, while state-wide, only 52.2 per cent are opposed.

Only 70 voters in this county approved the 1979 legislature's authorizing higher interest rates on loans under $5,000. 1,222 said "No."

In the uncontested county and precinct races, Helen Gollighugh, county-district clerk, received the largest number of votes, 1,300. Other unopposed candidates and their vote were:

Tax assessor-collector (unexpired): Ann Wauer, 1,256. Treasurer: Yvonne Brewer 1278.

Justice of the peace, Precinct 1: Beatrice McKinney, 1238.

County and precinct Democratic chairmen, all elected without opposition:

County Democratic chairman: Mrs. John Coleman 1159.

Voting Precinct Chairman Box 1: Mrs. A.J. Fires 371.

Democrats Hold County Convention on Saturday

Collingsworth County Democrats will consider approximately 20 resolutions at the Democratic county convention Saturday, May 13 at 2:00 p.m. at the county court room in Collingsworth County Courthouse.

Democrats also will elect 3 delegates and 3 alternates to the state convention in Ft. Worth on September 15 and 16.

Forty delegates and forty alternates to the county convention were elected at voting precinct conventions on May 6.

Among the resolutions to be voted up or down are those on government agricultural policies, abortion, the Equal Rights Amendment, child care and human rights.

County chairman Mrs. John Coleman said the convention will begin promptly at 2 p.m. "Many people participated for the first time in precinct conventions this year and this will be the first time at a county convention for many of the delegates," Mrs. Coleman said. "We have many resolutions to consider, but if we all have patience we'll get through them all, and I think these new delegates can help to create new party strength."

Observers are welcome, Mrs. Coleman said.

Consider Municipal Band At Meeting on May 23

A Wellington Municipal Band to play during the summer months may become a reality--the first for the town in more than 50 years.

To determine if this can be done, a meeting has been called at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 23, at That Skyrocket Band Hall, according to Jamie Larson, School band director.

"We invite anyone who has ever played in a band or who can play a musical instrument to take part in this band during the summer," he said.

Rehearsals would be limited to one each week, at a time convenient to the largest number of members.

"With this organization, there is the possibility of giving concerts in Ellison Park this summer.

Those interested in playing in a municipal band should contact Mr. Larson by phone, 447-5604, or by mail.

"We'd like to urge college students who will be home this summer, as well as adults living here to participate, as well as band members who want to continue playing through the summer," said Larson. Those who cannot attend the meeting Tuesday are urged to contact him at home or at the band hall. Former band members do not have to have played in the Wellington band. They may have played elsewhere.

There will be no fees and instruments will be available for those who do not have any, he pointed out.

"A municipal band should be a lot of fun for the people doing it and for the people who hear it also," he added.

Many towns have a series of summer band concerts, it was pointed out, and these could prove to be one more additional of "things to do" in Wellington this summer.

While band members and band parents were doing research for the High School Band's 50th anniversary celebration it was learned that Wellington had a municipal band several years before the school band was organized.

Not only did it play here, but the Wellington Band was also invited to play at the Tri State Fair, where it won honors.

It gave concerts in other towns and for a variety of occasions.

Glenn Accepts Coaching Job With Olton School System

Ronnie Glenn, a coach in the Wellington School system four years, has resigned to join the coaching staff at Olton, Supt. E.W. Clement announced. Olton is a Class AA school.

Glenn's resignation was accepted by the school board in its meeting Monday night, May 8.

At his new assignment, Glenn will coach junior varsity football, freshman basketball, varsity tennis and seventh and eighth grade basketball. He will teach two classes in Junior High.

Olton is in a strong tennis district and exceptionally strong basketball district, along with Morton and Dimmitt.

Wellington was Glenn's first coaching job. He has developed the school's tennis program on both high school and junior high levels, and in the boys division, his teams were consistent district champions. He was director of the last three District 2-A tournaments, held here.

He also coached junior varsity football in high school, seventh grade boys and girls basketball and boys football and track.

A graduate of Angelo State University where he was listed on the Dean's Roll, Glenn is married to the former Jenny Ernest and they have a two-months old daughter, Kari.

"I've enjoyed coaching here. It has been a good experience to work under Coach (James) Williams. I've learned a lot and I feel it will help me in my new job. I appreciate it," said Glenn.

"The students have been great to coach. I have had some fine teams and some fine athletes."

Glenn said he is looking forward to being at Olton, which he considers a challenge and a move upward in his coaching career.

Welfare Comments May Be Made at Meeting

Persons wishing to comment on the social services furnished through the Texas Department of Human Resources (TDHR) are invited to do so at either of two public hearings to be conducted in Amarillo this month. The Amarillo hearing will be May 22 from 1:30 to 5 p.m. in the auditorium of the Texas Tech University Regional Health Center, 1400 Wallace Boulevard.

TDHR's proposed Title XX Comprehensive Annual Services Program Plan (CASPP) will be discussed. The plan describes the services the department will offer, and tells who is eligible, how many will be served, and how much it will cost. Copies of the plan are available at local TDHR offices throughout the region.

TDHR Regional Administrator Nathan C. Martin explained that Title XX of the Social Security Act is the major federal source of funds for social services administered by TDHR. Citizens have the opportunity to discuss local needs at annual public hearings over the state. Comments received are considered in preparing the plan.

Written comments may also be sent to the Title XX Information Center by June 14 for consideration when the proposed 1979 plan is revised and issued in its final form, to be effective October 1. Honor Graduates Named From Wellington Class

Wellington High School honor graduates were announced Tuesday, May 9, by Melvin Cardwell, principal.

The combined baccalaureate service-commencement will be held Friday, May 26, in the high school auditorium at 8:00 p.m.

The Valedictorian is Kloette Camp, who had a four-year grade point average of 93.2600, and the salutatorian is Lon Kiker, with an average of 92.5370.

However, the high ranking student of the senior class this year is Margie Dixon, who is graduating with an average of 96.5208.

There is a long-standing rule that a senior must have completed four years of work in Wellington High School to be eligible for the two top honors.

"Miss Dixon and her family lived away from here for a few weeks during the period, and she is therefore, not eligible for the valedictorian's honor, although she is the No. 1 ranking student," Melvin Cardwell, high school principal, explained.

Miss Dixon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dixon. Parents of Miss Camp are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Camp, and Kiker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Kiker.

The other students who make up the top 25 percent of the class scholastically are:

Roy Rogers, Dale Evans Urge Nursing Home Week Visiting

Two of the brightest and most durable stars of the entertainment world will serve as Celebrity Hosts for Texas Nursing Home Week this year.

Roy Rogers and Dale Evans, America's favorite "Mr. and Mrs." are lending their influence to encourage Texans to visit a Nursing Home during the week beginning Sunday, Mother's Day, May 14th.

That announcement came today from Dan Pomykal of Ennis, Board Chairman of Texas Nursing Home Association which sponsors the annual event honoring residents of licensed nursing homes.

"We are thrilled and honored that Roy Rogers and Dale Evans are heading our observance of Nursing Home Week. No other couple so well personifies all that is wholesome and good," said

Pomykal. "Their participation is certain to have a splendid influence in brightening the lives of nursing home residents."

"The fact that Dale Evans is a Texas girl from Uvalde adds to the high esteem in which Texans hold these great humanitarians who are as famous for their charitable works as they are for their great talents as entertainers," he said.

Pomykal added that even though Roy Rogers is "grounded" from all activity due to recent heart surgery, he still consented to serve as co-host and to let his famous wife, Dale, "do the talking for both of them."

In her public message, Dale Evans says: "All across Texas, nursing homes will be holding Open House and continuing with special activities throughout the week. Residents will be expecting you, so...please don't disappoint them! And when you go, carry greetings from Roy and me with you."

Texas licensed nursing homes now number 1,013 with accommodations for 100,820 resident/patients.

Thank You

I want to thank the people of the county for your vote of support in the Democratic Primary Saturday.

I will continue to serve you courteously and efficiently during the coming four years.

My sincere thanks to all of those who have saved their papers for recycling and to the individuals and organizations who donated money to make it possible for me to play in the United States Collegiate Wind Band European Tour this summer. With your help I have exceeded my goal of $1,000 to pay for tuition.

I would like to write each of you personally, but so many have helped that it's impossible. Please take this as my personal note of appreciation.

I'll do my best to represent Wellington in a way that would make you proud as I travel and meet new people on the tour.

Greenbelt Co-op Members Hear Total Impact of Ice Storm

Members of Greenbelt Electric Co-operative learned the full extent of the ice storm damage to their system Friday, April 28, as Manager David Pruitt gave his report at the annual meeting.

The dollars and cents cost is in excess of $500,000. It will take most of the remainder of this year to complete repairs. It will take much longer to recover financially, he told them.

Pruitt came here as manager January 15. He was here less than a month when the worst ice storm in the electric co-operative's 39 year history struck.

"Your co-operative spent twice as much money on construction in three weeks as was spent the entire year of 1977, to rebuild roughly 100 miles of line," Pruitt said.

Historically we have been constructing this amount during three to five year period.

"The storm and succeeding inclement weather caused some of you to be without electrical service in excess of 17 days. However, if our people had not worked and put out more than would or should be expected of any employee, many of you would have been without electricity even longer.

"We had employees that worked almost 400 hours during the month of February. Normally an employee works 160 hours. Now that is a lot of effort for you our members.

"Our trouble started in isolated areas the 6th of February and continued to worsen until on the 11th it all fell.

It took 35 years to build the system, one night to tear it down and a couple to three weeks to rebuild. One employee jokingly said

"there's no telling what Pruitt will get done in a year-just look what has happened in his first months as manager." I hope this is one event where no one gets the credit.

"Sam Schaffer and Donald White reported in their service areas very few east-west lines were still standing February 12.

Then just as if this wasn't bad enough we were hit with wind gusts up to 85 MPH. This situation created nearly impossible working conditions due to pursuing snow drifts.

Jack Barnett, our line superintendent and overall coordinator of our efforts, and Bessie Rainer, who just kind of led me through this disaster, did a tremendous job, just like all our employees. It was a total team effort. We had our janitor volunteering to deliver equipment to workers, our accountant delivering material on week ends and our office girls reading meters. Now that's what I mean by going that extra mile for you, our members, during these very difficult times for all of us."

He commended members' patience and good natured acceptance of "The whole mess." I doubt if city folks could have handled it as well as you."

Many members volunteered equipment and labor, Pruitt said.

"Much of the repair we performed during the height emergency work would have to be considered temporary or maybe a better word for it would be partial.

"To clean up after this disaster will take the better part of a year. The financial repair, I'm afraid, will take much longer. We had to finance this with almost totally borrowed funds.

Later, Pruitt said that 1100 poles were destroyed and if all those destroyed were replaced the total would reach 1500.

"However, with 27 per cent of our service idle, you can readily see why all the poles should not be replaced. Our estimate is that 2700 poles were impaired due to the ice and will require some kind of work."

Pruitt noted one thing for which Greenbelt is thankful. Not one of the 120 or more linemen on the job at one time or another sustained an injury.

Pruitt pointed to the increased cost of the customer's bills--up almost 1 cent per KWH in the last year.

The Arabs are setting the price of a BTU regardless of where it comes from, he said.

A.J. Garland, president of the board of directors, presided at the meeting, and during the business session T.B. Henderson of District 1 and Walter Camp of District 4 were returned to the board.

Bill Spillman read the minutes of the 1977 meeting, as well as the notice of the meeting and proof of notification.

Selba Rainey, secretary-treasurer, gave the financial report.

The base power cost for 1977 was only 13 cents of each dollar--$160,160, but the fuel adjustment cost takes out 31 cents of every dollar, for a total of $387,571.--a cost of 44 cents or a total cost of $547,731.

Also of each dollar, line operation and maintenance accounts for 18 cents, office and general administration, 17 cents, depreciation and mortization 10 cents, taxes 3 cents and interest 4 cents. That leaves only 4 cents of each dollar for net margins.

Walter Camp and Wilbur Tillman were in charge of musical entertainment, which included dances, songs and piano selections.

Special guests at the meeting were George Henry, who retired late last year as manager, Mrs. Henry, of Floydada, and their children, Ray Henry, of Austin, Kenny Henry of Dalhart, and Mrs. Jim Sartain of Houston.

Mom and Dad are usually lovers, which comes as a surprise to their teenagers, reports Dorthy Taylor, family life education specialist, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Leitha Martindale, David Vinyard Marry in Ceremony at Samnorwood

First Baptist Church at Samnorwood was the setting for the wedding of Leitha Jan Martindale and David Lee Vinyard, which was solemnized Friday, April 14, at six in the evening. The bride's father, James Martindale, an elder in the church, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Martindale of Samnorwood, while the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. D.L. Vinyard, 516 North Arizona, Shamrock.

Candelabras holding lighted tapers and entwined with foliage were on each side of the altar, and yellow satin bows marked the pews. The prayer bench completed the arrangement.

Wedding soloist was Di-Anna Schaub, accompanied by Mrs. Darrell Feemster. Piano selections were presented by Connie Robinson of Shamrock.

The bride wore a formal gown of white silk organza accented with Venise lace. The fitted bodice was accented with imported lace appliques and seed pearls, and the skirt swept into a chapel train. Her illusion veil was trimmed with lace matching that on the dress. With her bridal bouquet, she carried a white Bible.

The bride was attended by Kimberly Peeples of Samnor-wood, maid of honor, Teresa Aaron and Tina Belote of Shamrock, and Becky Haney of Chickasha, Oklahoma, bridesmaids.

They wore yellow print dresses designed with v-necks and large puff sleeves edged with ruffles. Each carried a single yellow rose tied with yellow ribbon.

Eddie McMurtry of Shamrock was the best man and groomsmen were Ray Vinyard of Amarillo and Gary Vinyard of Shamrock, cousins of the groom, and Danny Pritchard, also of Shamrock. Ushers were Kim Martindale of Samnorwood and Gib Martindale of Shamrock, brothers of the bride.

Kimberly Macina and Scot Martindale, cousin and brother of the bride, were the flower girl and ring bearer.

After the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Martindale were hosts for the reception honoring the couple.

The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth with yellow underlay. Crystal and silver appointments were used, and the centerpiece was the bride's bouquet. Miss Cindy Coleman served the guests. Tonya Kincannon was at the register. Other members of the house party were Mrs. Anne Harper and

Mrs. J.C. Snead.

The bride is attending Samnorwood High School and will graduate. She is a former Miss Samnorwood and this year is president of the Future Homemakers of America chapter.

Kloette Camp Guest Pianist At Excelsior Music Program

Kloette Camp, a Wellington high school senior, was the guest pianist when members of the Excelsior Club observed National Music Week Thursday evening, May 4.

Miss Rama Camp was hostess in the home of Mrs. Sam Thompson, Kloette Camp's piano instructor.

Her selections included Polonaise by Chopin, and Caprice Espagnol by Moskowski. She will present these in her upcoming recital.

Preceding the musical program, Miss Rama Camp discussed the life of Frederic Chopin (1810-1849), composer of Polonaise.

"He had a French father and bore a French name. But he had a Polish mother and was born in Poland. His love for Poland was so deep and lasting that, although he lived most of his life in France, Chopin was always a staunch Polish Patriot," said Miss Camp.

"At nine, he was considered a wonder child and played at a public concert.

"At ten he composed many pretty pieces. One of them, a march, was played by military bands.

At twenty, he was sent to Vienna and before he left, his Polish friends gave a farewell party and a present of a silver cup filled with earth of Poland.

The next year he went to Paris, expecting to spend a few months, but Paris held him and he never saw Poland again.

Chopin played so beautifully that he easily won fame as a concert pianist. He had a life-long struggle with a frail body, and when only 40, at the height of his career, he died and was buried among the great French musicians.

On his coffin, a friendly hand scattered earth from a silver cup. It was the earth of Poland which he had kept for 20 years.

He was the piano's own composer and no one has ever written more beautifully for it. His music had two special beauties, lovely singing melodies and unusual rhythm patterns." Miss camp concluded.

A dessert plate was served to Miss Dorothy Robertson, Miss Rose Shadid, Miss Bonnie Willis, Miss Hattie D. Wells, Mrs. Russell Yates, Miss Marie Shadid, Mrs. Robert Barjenbruch, Miss Rama Camp, Miss Kloette Camp and Mrs. Thompson.

Ribbons were presented at an awards assembly, which followed the contests.

New District 1 4-H Council officers were installed with outgoing first vice-chairman LuAnn Kiser of Moore County installing the new officers. The 1977-78 council officers are: Chairman, Phil Moreman of Donley County, first vice-chairman, Carla West of Deaf Smith County; second vice-chairman, Jerry Kiser of Moore County; secretary-treasurer, Theresa Cummins of Potter County and information chairman, Christie Hundley of Armstrong County.

Other Editors Say ...

"Opportunity?"

What you do with your money and your life, of course, is your business but some of you are being stung and I hope you are enjoying it.

Frequently you are given the "opportunity" to buy fruit and vegetables which are being trucked into Childress from Old Mexico.

For your information, chemicals are being used there on the products which have been eliminated in the United States because of the danger to humans.

Whether or not, the federal government is right in banning the use of these chemicals I do not know. It seldom is right but there is a chance that the banning was a good decision so you could be eating yourself into bed or the hospital.

Why the government allows the import of the fruit and vegetables is another one of these rulings out of Washington no one understands.

To my way of thinking, it makes more sense to buy your food products from a local store that sells properly produced items.

It's your business but you might think about this the next time you are asked to buy something that you know nothing about.

Time To Hear Thunder

A saying among children used to be that if a turtle bit you it wouldn't turn loose until thunder could be heard. Nowadays that turtle can be likened to the federal government.

Take, for example, the law that limits ownership of land irrigated with water from federal projects to 160 acres. The law was passed in 1902 when 160 acres was about all a farmer and a pair of mules could handle.

But for decades the law was ignored, forgotten. Suddenly, last year, the Interior Department wiped the cobwebs from it and began taking steps to break up farms.

The effort brought protests from farm organizations and others who know that modern agricultural technology can't be applied sensibly to a mere 160 acres. They urged Congress to repeal it.

No, says the Department of Interior. It is willing to increase the limits to 320 acres. But it has no intention of turning loose of the control completely.

Perhaps it would do so if the protesters would kick up a little more thunder.

Big Impact From Highway Measure

Have you stopped to consider what a tremendous economic impact the highway improvement and rehabilitation program financed by the $528 million bill passed by the 65th Texas Legislature has on our great state? Then consider such facts as these:

1. It means 17,491 jobs will be provided on highway construction sites, including 5,946 laborers, 4,372 equipment operators, 1,924 truck drivers, 1,399 foremen, and 2,799 jobs in other construction trades.

2. An additional 21,150 jobs are created in construction-related industries such as aggregate suppliers, steel, cement, chemicals, forms, guardrails, signing, equipment, traffic signals, prestressing, asphalt and ready-mixed concrete.

3. Each dollar invested in highway improvement generates $7 in the general economy.

4. Obsolete roads and bridges cause over 56,000 Texas accidents annually, costing motorists $172.8 million.

5. One life is saved each year for each five miles of modern limited access highway.

6. Rough roads make the average motorist pay an extra $108 a year in fuel, tire wear and front-end repairs.

7. A fine highway system such as the one in Texas is a major factor in attracting new industry. Since 1973, Texas has experienced 1,200 new industries and 250,000 jobs.

8. Better roads increase property values and tax assessments by local governments.

9. Improved roads make possible increased agricultural production and lower consumer costs.

It is important for us in the Construction Industry of Texas to remember the full impact our fine highway system has on our economy and on each individual taxpayer.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Record spending was reported as the 1978 primary election campaigns ended.

Nearly $6 million went into the governor's race alone, and more than $1 million more into the U.S. Senate campaigns.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe headed the list of big money raisers. His campaign treasurer, David Dean, said the total outlay probably will be around $3 million. Of that amount, $1,170,000 was borrowed from eight Texas banks.

Republican gubernatorial candidate Bill Clements came in second with $1.7 million borrowed or raised ($1.3 million in loans) and $1.4 million spent.

Attorney General John Hill, in opposing Briscoe for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, reported contributions of $1.4 million and expenditures of $1.3 million.

Ray Hutchison, seeking the GOP nomination for governor, took in $138,617 and spent $161,050.

Former Gov. Preston Smith took in only $68,199 and spent $62,129.

Three candidates for attorney general also did pretty well financially.

Mark White, Democrat, showed $530,440 in contributions and $577,090 in expenditures. Price Daniel Jr. reported donations of $277,570, an $8,000 loan and expenditures of $295,440.

The Republican candidate for attorney general, Jim Baker, took in $313,974 and spent $205,241, though he was unopposed in his primary.

Ad Rules Studied

Rules to protect insurance buyers from deceptive advertising were reviewed last week by the State Board of Insurance.

A public hearing will be held before the vote on adoption.

Rules under study for a year include:

—A provision requiring that exclusion or exemptions from advertised benefits be detailed in all ads.

—Specification that buyers have 10 days to look over and reject an accident and health policy.

—Prohibition against knocking competitors or using technical words.

—Definition of "pre-existing condition" for which health benefits can be refused.

—A ban against offering gifts in order to sell policies by a deadline.

—Extension of regulations to pre-paid legal service and health maintenance organization (HMO) ads.

Legislature Changed

The Texas legislature will be somewhat different next year—but not much as far as personnel is concerned.

One of the smallest turnover of modern times resulted from Saturday's elections, in spite of retirements of Senate Dean A.M. Akin of Paris and his House counterpart, Rep. L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi, and mandatory redistricting in Fort Worth.

Speaker Bill Clayton said his reelection as House presiding officer is secure, and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby faced light opposition in his bid for a third term as Senate president.

Sixty-two incumbent representatives seeking reelection were unopposed, as were seven senators trying for new terms. Twenty-nine others, who drew no opposition in the primary will face challenges on the November general election ballot.

Courts Speak

In a dispute over sale of Cameron County land for a state park, the Supreme Court declined to order a law firm to discontinue representing one of the parties in the action.

Relying on rulings growing out of auto cases, the Third Court of Civil Appeals held in a suit for insurance a pilot was operating his airplane, even though he had stepped out of the plane to place wheelchairs. The plane moved forward and hit trees.

Horse race wagering opponents asked the Third Court of Civil Appeals to order a trial on the issue of whether the State Democratic Party legally placed a betting referendum on the May 6 ballot.

The Court of Criminal Appeals dismissed indictments of a Jefferson County man because they did not set out the amount of drugs he was charged with delivering.

OLDER AMERICANS

WASHINGTON—America is a country that values the young and the new and that looks to the future.

We would not want it to be otherwise.

But it is particularly important, as our citizens live longer, that they be able to enjoy their maturity to its fullest. They are a national resource that we are only recently beginning to appreciate and conserve.

Older Americans have much to offer society—skilled hands, active minds and the special insight and wisdom that comes only with years of accumulated knowledge and experience.

Too often, however, the potential of our older citizens has gone unrecognized, has been neglected and ignored.

I realize that not all people are ready to retire at age 65, and voted to raise the age at which mandatory retirement can be required to 70 when the issue came up recently before the House.

Many persons at 65 are at the peak of their creative talents and productivity and have many good years ahead of them.

But the pressure for retirement at 65, and recently, at 60 and even 55, has increased. Older citizens have been crowded out of a labor market flooded with post World War II babies and limited by automation.

In our country, a person receives much of his or her dignity and sense of well-being through work—and older Americans are no exception.

Our present income programs for older citizens, however, as well as those designed for all Americans at or below the poverty level, actually provide incentives not to work.

The consequence of such misguided planning is more far-reaching than the simple limitation of income at an inadequate level. Not only do the individuals lose self-esteem and commitment to their community, but the community loses a vital resource for the solution of many community problems.

We have volunteer programs for youth, for women who "don't need to work," and for older people with "time on their hands." But volunteer work does not always carry with it the satisfaction that comes from being a part of the "final solution," from being in the mainstream of activity.

We need to recognize that older people can fill such positions. We must expand the number of jobs and the ways by which money can be earned in order to guarantee our older citizens the real choices insured by real income.

All programs, not only those which are income-related, must be designed to maintain and enhance the dignity and self-sufficiency of older Americans.

Nursing homes and other custodial institutions house many people who, with sufficient income and adequate support services, could live in their own homes at far less cost to their communities and to their self-esteem.

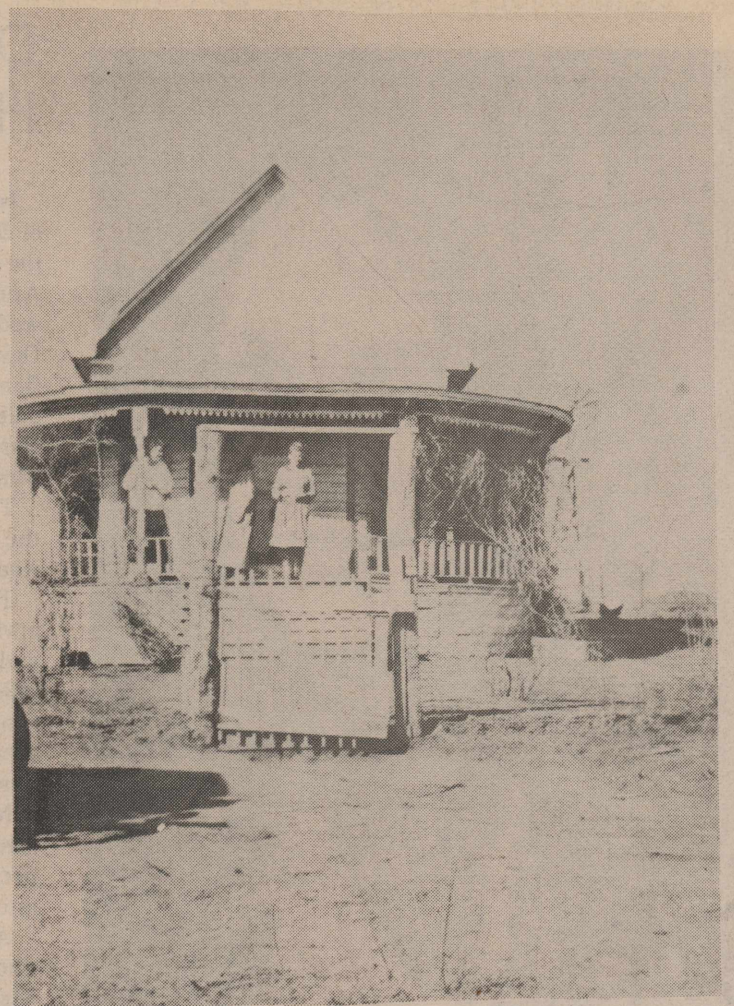

Poor transportation and decreasing personal mobility have resulted in premature shut-in status for too many otherwise healthy persons.

Too little sociability, too little active communication with the outside world has resulted in premature invalidism, and too few opportunities to give love and service and guidance to others have resulted in premature withdrawal from the strength-giving society of people who need each other.

All of this is unnecessary and a tremendous waste of human potential. Proper planning and thoughtful consideration of not only the needs, but the assets of our older citizens can alleviate it.

We must achieve a mutually beneficial situation which assures that the valuable contributions of our older citizens are not lost to unnecessary and costly institutionalization.

We must make use of this valuable national resource.

Delta Kappa Gamma Members Hear Teacher of Handicapped

Mrs. Elaine Nichols, director of the Outreach Center in Quanah, was program speaker for the final meeting of Delta Kappa Gamma this year.

Wellington members joined teachers from other towns in the chapter at the meeting room of First State Bank, Memphis.

Mrs. Nichols told the group that children must have responsibilities, and they must be made aware that they must want to do things.

Not all children are lovable, she pointed out. In the satellite classes, some students have psychotic conditions that can be corrected. Some are retarded because of what has happened to them at home.

But these need loving just as much as the others, the speaker reminded. Some in the satellite classes have not always been handicapped, but became that way because of accidents or illness. Children who are neglected often don't do anything because they are not taught to do anything, Mrs. Nichols told the teachers.

They are not given the responsibility of or doing even minor things. "In families, all children are not loved the same, but they should be loved equally," said Mrs. Nichols.

Coleman, Mrs. Lowell Wells, Mrs. Edna Bradley, Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. Dee Coleman, Miss Bonnie Willis, Mrs. R.R. Crawley, Mrs. Sweat, Miss Wells and Mrs. Ernest Harwell.

She defined the difference between a good parent, who controls and supervises the child, and the responsible parent who is kind but firm and lets the child make responsible decisions.

"Irresponsibility in parents makes irresponsible children, she said in conclusion.

During the business meeting, Betty White of Childress was installed as president; Margie Bain of Turkey, first vice president; Juanita White of Wellington, second vice president; Evelyn Messer of Hedley secretary; and Pat Crooks of Childress, treasurer. Mrs. Jack Lowry, the retiring president, was in charge of the meeting.

Twenty-five were present, including these from Wellington: Miss Maudie Coffee, Miss Bonnie Willis, Mrs. Lowry, Mrs. Rufus Sweat, Mrs. Charley Hill and Mrs. White.

Whaley Wins Nomination By 650 Votes Saturday

Foster Whaley thinks there are too many laws governing the lives and businesses of Texas residents. He hopes to remedy this situation in Austin.

The Gray County farmer and former Extension agent, and his wife, Lois, were in Wellington Tuesday morning as they began campaigning for the November general election.

A latecomer who did not enter the race until January, Whaley accumulated 7,895 votes to defeat Glenn Conrad, a young Armstrong County farmer, who polled 7,241 votes.

Leads in Gray, Floyd, Wheeler and Childress counties, the most populous in the district, pulled Whaley ahead of Conrad, who led in the other counties.

Officially, Whaley spent $7,020.85 on his campaign compared to Conrad's $11,174.36. Whaley raised $4,580 for campaign expenditure while Conrad raised $3,460.95.

A 19-year veteran as Gray County Extension agent, Whaley also spent 6 years as Armstrong County Extension agent. He now farms west of Pampa. However, he has told the Pampa News that he has his farm land leased out.

As for future campaign efforts, Whaley said in Wellington he plans to meet with key leaders in every county for the 66th District and that he will campaign on a person-to-person basis. There will be no let-up in his campaigning, he indicated.

Whaley, with his wife Lois, acted as campaign managers doing all the promotion work themselves. He said they will continue his campaign policy in his state representative bid against Republican Bill Hale of Floydada. The two will meet in the general election in November.

He said he will campaign "for the office and not against the person."

Saturday's official Democratic primary vote, with Whaley's vote listed first, was:

Armstrong, 336 to 459; Briscoe, 297 to 406; Childress, 924 to 795; Collingsworth, 633 to 696; Donley, 547 to 670; Floyd 1,118 to 820; Gray, 2,403 to 1,621; Hall, 493 to 526; Motley, 306 to 329; and Wheeler, 938 to 919.

Bullock Field Man Due Here On May 17

AUSTIN--State Comptroller Bob Bullock announced he is sending a representative from his Amarillo Field Office to Wellington on Wednesday, May 17, to assist local taxpayers and answer questions about State Taxes.

Bullock said Enforcement Officer John Hodges will meet with local taxpayers at the County Courthouse in Collingsworth County from 10:00 A.M. until 2:00 P.M.

"If Wellington area merchants, or any one else for that matter, have any questions about State Taxes or need help in preparing tax forms, Mr. Hodges will be there to assist them," Bullock said.

"We're trying to cut the red tape in this office and we believe these face-to-face sessions with taxpayers help do just that," Bullock added.

Bullock reminded those taxpayers who are unable to meet with his representative on May 17, 1978 that they can still get their questions answered quickly by calling his TOLL-FREE TAX INFORMATION number in Austin. That number is 1-800-252-5555.

The Amarillo Field Office, headed by Claudia Stravato, serves the twenty-six counties of the Texas Panhandle.

Church Youth Group At Annual Meeting

The annual youth conference of Amarillo Dist. 2, Church of God in Christ, is being held in Amarillo this week, said Jimmy Barber of Holy Sanctuary Church of God in Christ, Wellington.

Meetings began Monday and will continue through Saturday. They start at 8:00 p.m.

This year's theme is "Touching Him." Chaplain Keith Adair is in charge each evening and Elder E. Dimerson, YPWW president, Amarillo, is one of those directing the conference. Working with him are Sister Ertha Coffey, district chairman, Barber, the district vice-president, and Sister Cheryl Swanson, secretary.

Elder Weatherspoon, state YPWW president, was the speaker Tuesday night. Musical groups were featured Wednesday night and Barber, an ordained minister, preached on the conference theme, "Touching Him." There was to be a discussion on why some prayers are not answered.

Weatherspoon will be the Thursday night speaker and Friday night will be chairladies' night under the direction of Mrs. Coffey. The Wellington Youth Choir will sing. Saturday, the final night, the group will hear Elder Dimerson.

Church officials met recently in Wellington to discuss making the YPWW one of the major church auxiliaries.

Rev. Coffey, a minister of music, came from Amarillo to practice with the youth of Holy Sanctuary Church. "The response was great. Wellington has some beautiful singers," said Barber.

Dimerson discussed boosting the YPWW response and creating more interest.

"Our emphasis is on the youth department and it is on the move," said Barber. "We want to emphasize it is growing and the youth are taking greater part and participating more because our leaders are concerned," he added.

Barber was in Childress Sunday, May 7 to discuss these same plans at Laster Chapel.

Pastor of the Wellington church is Elder A.T. Anderson.

PLANT CERTIFIED

For Higher Cotton Yields

Yields from certified cotton planting seed were up to 18 percent higher than yields from caught or non-certified seed according to research by Dr. L. L. Ray at the South Plains Research and Extension Center in Lubbock, Texas. Certified seed has not undergone genetic deterioration in the field. Volunteer plants and undesirable cross-pollination are eliminated. And certified seed from Pioneer is free from pests and weeds which often accompany non-certified varieties. See your ginner or Pioneer brand seed dealer for these certified varieties.

Dependable even in dry country!

Certified LX571*

You can't control the weather. So, you need a hedge against drought. . . . and that's where the Lankart variety LX571 fits in. It consistently produces top yields of high quality cotton . . . even under tough, dry conditions. And you don't have to give up anything to get this outstanding drought tolerance, either.

LX571 produces fairly long, strong fiber . . . with micronaire normally in the premium range. And storm resistant bolls strip well in one pass through the field. Add up all the good things about LX571 . . . then it's easy to see why this is one of the most planted cotton varieties in the Rolling Plains, Central Texas and Southwestern Oklahoma.

*LX571 is a U.S. protected variety (Plant Variety Protection Certificate No. 7200018). Unauthorized propagation and unauthorized seed multiplication prohibited by law. LX571 cotton planting seed can be sold by variety name only as a class of certified seed. It is unlawful to sell non-certified seed of this variety.

Long-time favorite.

Cotton growers in Texas, Oklahoma and Eastern New Mexico have relied on certified Lankart 57 for consistently high yields for years. This variety has vigorous plants with short main stems and short fruiting branches. Leaves are large and dense. And this medium-early maturity cotton has storm-proof bolls. Lankart 57 is a good stripper cotton, too. . . . well-adapted to Texas and Oklahoma dryland production.

Certified LANKART 57

Certified LANKART 611

High yielding, early variety.

This cotton variety was developed for the early maturity needs of dryland farming . . . especially in the Blackland and Rolling Plains of Texas and Southwestern Oklahoma. Vigorous plants with short main stems and close fruiting branches produce large bolls of high quality lint. A good stripper cotton for the Southern High Plains on wilt-free soil.

Certified LANKART® and LOCKETT® brand cotton planting seed is available from your ginner or Pioneer® brand seed dealer.

Awards Presented to Band Students at Pops Concert

Rain may have kept some boosters of the Wellington bands at home, but in no way did it diminish the music, played with skill and percision at the annual Pops Concert Tuesday, May 2.

And it was apparent the 125 students in the three bands were enjoying themselves as much as did the audience.

Awards to climax the year's work were presented by their director, Jamie Larson.

Jimmy Morgan was awarded the John Philip Sousa Award for outstanding performance throughout the year. He is a junior.

Allen Murdock, received both the Arion Award and That Skyrocket Bandsman Award.

The Arion Award is given nationally and is based on both scholarship and musicianship. Faculty members made nominations on the basis of scholarship, and from these, Larson judged the nominees by the yardstick of musician-ship.

Fellow band students picked the recipient of That Skyrocket Bandsman.

This goes to the person the students feel has done the most for the improvement of the band during the year. The Director's Award went to two junior high students, Frank Montemeyor and Karen McDanel. The requirements are similar to those of the Sousa winner, improvement and musical excellence.

Besides their difficult program, That Skyrocket Band played two numbers from the school's first band concert in 1929, "Aunt Hanna" and "College Boy." The Junior High band added a third, "Precision."

Two guest musicians and former Skyrocket band members, appeared, in "Bugler's Holiday," David Groves and Bryant Harris of Amarillo, joined by Murdock.

Members of the bands are:

Sparkler band members are: trombones: Jay Anders, Darrell Nash, Bryan Wilbur and Mindy Morgan; clarinet: Stephani Bailey, Susan Lewis, Stacie Scott, Deeda Seal and by the yardstick of musician-ship.

More Space for New Jail Addition Approved Mon.

The commissioners courts of Collingsworth and Hall counties, meeting jointly here Monday, May 8, approved certain changes in plans to enlarge the proposed addition to the Collingsworth County Jail.

The facility will serve both counties.

The change approved Monday will add 350 square feet to the total area of the building and add approximately $14,000 to the probable construction cost for a total of $319,910. This assumes the project will be bid in July 1978.

Representing the architects and engineer, Corgan Associates, Inc., at the Monday meeting was C. Jack Corgan.

Corgan had reviewed the changes earlier with Bob Watson, project director and sheriffs of the two counties, John Rainey and Elmer Neel. The overall plans have been approved by the commissioners courts of the two counties and the Texas Commission on Jail Standards.

The additional space was requested by the sheriffs to provide for a photographic darkroom and additional deputy workshop.

The new addition is designed around the existing jail, leaving most of the existing area and only slightly modifying the existing detention area, according to Corgan.

"We anticipate completion of the construction documents on schedule--June 19, 1978," Corgan added.

the point of calling for bids, is financed by a $14,000 grant from the Criminal Justice Program and $4,500 supplied by the two counties, Watson said.

The full commissioners courts of the two counties were present Monday: Collingsworth County Judge Zook Thomas, and Commissioners John R. Henard, Melvin Seale, Bill Lowe and W.R. Breeding for Collingsworth County, and Judge Lester Campbell, and Commissioners F.E. Anthony, Tommy Martin, Tom H. Seay and James Fuson for Hall County.
