TEERING OFF

New CARC Driving Range Opens

Golfers teed off Monday morning at the official opening of the Collingsworth Association of Retarded Citizens driving range at the old Green Acres Golf Course on the Dodson Highway.

The new driving range will be open Monday through Friday from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m., Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and Sunday from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. or anytime by appointment. Satellite Center director Cheryl Brown said.

The driving range is a program of the CARC and the Satellite Center and its purpose is to give employment to CARC members and to raise funds for the Satellite Center.

"Clients who are mentally retarded will run the operation," said Terri Bennett, member of the state board of the Texas Association of Retarded Citizens. "This gives them a chance to contribute to their community and hold a responsible job."

Many organizations and individuals contributed to the driving range. The City of Wellington furnished the land the buildings and Wellington Country Club pro Randy Cole helped design the layout.

Hubert Mauldin and Willie Gragson donated the signs, Cheryl Brown and the CARC workers painted them, and Craig Needham put up the yardage markers.

Doug Mead made the tee-box markers, Sgt. Vernon Day installed the lights and Randy McGill and Eddie Davis installed the sink.

Several people helped clear trees and mow the range: Jack Needham, Arnie Ingram, Carl Taylor, Walter Castor, Joe Garcia and Teemil Martinez.

Clubs, balls, hats, tees and other equipment were donated by Tascosa Country Club, Borger Country Club, Amarillo Country Club, Brent's and the Amarillo State Center Volunteer Council. M.T. Johnson of Amarillo, Tommy Snyder of Borger and Troy Gadgett of Amarillo Country Club all assisted in the project.

Higher Guar Price May Boost Crop Here

There are a limited number of Collingsworth County farmers who already know the price they will get for their crop—and it's the highest price ever.

Guar, a crop that has had its ups and downs here is going to bring growers $20 a hundredweight contract price.

With normal moisture, Collingsworth better yields are around 1,000 pounds per acre.

Although much of the acreage—and that figure has not been determined—is already planted, there is still seed available for the farmer on sandy to mixed land who wants to plant a crop that has more advantages than just the seed harvested.

Singley Mill and Elevator and Warrick's, Inc. are again handling the seed, and they will handle the harvested seed. Almost 100 percent of the Collingsworth crop is No. 1 grade.

Lying behind this year's elevated price, apparently, is a desire by the two firms who contract seed from local handlers to bolster their domestic supply sources of guar gum.

For this gum is used in high-technology oil and gas exploration in the United States and abroad.

Yet an estimated 95 percent of the total supply of guar beans used by U.S. processors must be imported. India and Pakistan are the major suppliers.

In the oil industry, guar gum products are used to reduce friction losses, give viscosity and control fluid losses in drilling compounds, according to Calvin Pigg, editor of Southwest Farm Press.

Other uses for the galactomannan gum, derived from guar beans, are found in the dairy industry, in foods, paper, textiles and pharmaceuticals manufacture.

Warrick's, Inc., represents Celanese Plastics and Specialties Co., (Stein Hall) of Vernon.

"In its current five-year raw materials needs projections, Celanese is looking at increased acreage each year through 1986, Larry Price of Vernon, agronomist with Celanese, told Pigg recently.

"He said the firm's current two-phased multi-million dollar Vernon processing plant expansion evidences the expanding demand for guar bean related products, nearly 300 in all, according to Pigg.

"There is some interest in guar, but not near what we would like to see," declared Warrick.

"The acreage is up from the last couple of years but not what we would like to see. We raise good quality beans."

Brooks is the most popular variety grown here, but Kinman, a new variety, looks good. Both are available here.

Last year the top side of the guar crop yielded around 1100 to 1200 pounds. Warrick believes the county is capable "of yielding 1500 pounds with decent moisture."

Singley Mill represents Henkel, Inc., of Kennedy which bought General Mills, Bill Lowe believes his customers have planted around 1700 to 1800 acres.

5 Weeks of Camp Begin At Panfork on Monday

Approximately 1200 boys and girls from all over the Panhandle, will take part in the 5 weeks of youth and children's camps during the 1981 Panfork Baptist Encampment.

This should be one of the largest enrollments in a number of years.

Plans were announced by the Rev. S.L. Yielding, camp administrator.

First of the camps, for junior girls, will open Monday, July 6 and close the following Thursday, July 9, to be followed on Friday, July 10, with the Panfork Baptist Children's Day Camp for younger boys and girls.

The junior boys camp is slated for Monday through Thursday, July 13 to 16.

There will be two identical youth camps, the first to be held Monday through Friday, July 20 to 24 and the second from Monday through Friday, July 27 to 31.

The last camp will be that conducted for Hispanic children August 3 through

A new dining hall has been completed in time for the 1981 season, Rev. Yielding said, and three cabins have been finished since the 1980 camps were held.

The dining hall, with all-metal exterior and paneled interior, is a 6,000 square foot building, 60 x 100 feet in size with room to seat 300 people at one time, said Rev. Yielding.

Evaporative air conditioning has been installed, along with a heating system that makes this a building for year around use.

It has a kitchen with some new equipment and other equipment from the old building.

The old dining hall, 40 x 80 feet in size, will be converted into an athletic building. Floors will be refinished for skating and many other indoor sports and games.

The three cabins, which can accommodate 34 to 40 people each, were constructed by First Baptist Church, Shamrock, First Baptist Church, Clarendon, and First Baptist Church, Lefors. The latter two are just completed.

A number of other churches have remodeled cabins or installed metal exteriors. This building material was selected last year for its safety factor, and all future buildings will be of this construction, Yielding said. The color theme is gold and brown.

Directors of the junior girls camp will be Sue Hobby, Canadian teacher and church worker, while Priscilla Alexander, First Baptist Church, Pampa, will be the music director.

The Rev. Dennis Barton, Hobart Street Church, Pampa, will be the camp pastor and Dana Epperly, pianist.

Josephine Skaggs, retired missionary to Kenya, Africa, now a West Texan, will be the camp missionary for all camps, and Aaron Laverty of Central Baptist Church, Borger, will be the camp nurse through the season.

Director of the boys camp will be Rev. Jim Shamburger, First Baptist Church, White Deer; music director, Gary Schwalk, youth worker, First Baptist Church, Pampa; athletic director, Glen Waldo, Kelton pastor; Bruce Chesser, youth worker, First Baptist Church, Canadian.

The Rev. Alvin Hiltbrunner of Central Baptist, Pampa, will be director of Youth Camp 1, with Mike Pikle youth worker, 1st Baptist Memphis, assistant director. Rev. Shamburger will be camp pastor; C.W. Parker, Calvary Baptist, Borger, music director and Nancy Farley, pianist.

Kathy McCurley youth worker in First Baptist, Pampa, and a teacher in Pampa schools, will be assistant director of Youth Camp 2 and also pianist. The Rev. Stanley Hughes, First Baptist, Wellington, pastor; John Glover, First Baptist, Pampa, music director.

Personnel of the Mexican camp will be announced later.

Day's activities include study in the mornings, afternoon recreational activities and religious services in the evening.

Approximately 50 Baptist Churches will participate in the summer camp, said Rev. Yielding. This is up from 38 only two years ago.

There is a potential of 70 churches in the Top of Texas Area, which Panfork Encampment serves. Making up this area are four associations, Canadian, Trans-Canadian, Palo Duro and Panfork.

Wheeler Oil Co. Buys Leases, Drilling in '82

Oil, gas and mineral leases covering 3,520 acres in the north part of Collingsworth County have been assigned by Texas Trust Co., of San Antonio, trustee, and A.M. Rozeman of Shreveport, La., to Wheeler Oil Company, which has headquarters in Wellington.

Bill Spillman, who heads Wheeler Oil Co., has additional leases from this transaction amounting to approximately 15,000 in Wheeler County, and on Friday he told of drilling plans for both counties.

Because of a lease deadline, drilling will begin in Wheeler County with the first well due to start this week, Spillman said. Work will continue there through 1981 or until the drilling schedule is completed.

Wheeler Oil Co., will drill on the Collingsworth County leases during 1982-83.

Spillman said that he has two drilling rigs to be in Collingsworth and Wheeler counties for the next two years. One is now on location, the other will be due in mid-July.

These rigs were contracted from John Swanson Drilling Company of Electra. D&B Exploration Co. will do the actual drilling on the Wheeler and Collingsworth County locations.

The assignment for this county covers leases given in February 1978 and includes:

Sections 100, 101 and 110, block 22, with Hugh Grogan and wife given as landowners; also

Leases in block 23 are: SE/4 section 17, owned by Lilian P. Steele and others; SW/4 section 17, Emory D. Brown and wife; SE/4 section 8 (180), SE/4 section 9, SW/4 section 8 and SE/4 section 9, with J.D. Coleman and wife given as owners; also SW/4, NE/4, SE/4 and NW/4, all in section 10, with Ferris H. Hess and others as landowners.

School District. Active in farm organizations, he was a director of Collingsworth County Farmers Union and a member of Collingsworth County Farm Bureau.

He was a former member of the County ASCS committee.

A member of the United Methodist Church since early in life, Mr. Waters served on the official board of Trinity United Methodist Church and he was a member of First Methodist Church since the two bodies had merged.

He had extensive farming operations in the Lutie and Aberdeen areas.

Born July 17, 1928, at Mt. Vernon, he was the son of Mrs. E.S. Solomon and the late Harvey Waters. He lived in the Mt. Vernon area until he moved to Collingsworth County.

He was married to Miss

Edith Plunkett August 30, 1947, in Wellington.

Survivors are his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Jerald (Karen) Barnett of Great Borton, England, and Mrs. Joel (Robin) Rainey of Wellington; one son, Larry Waters who lives east of Lutie; his mother, Mrs. E.S. Solomon of Mt. Vernon; two brothers, Gene Waters of Portales, New Mexico and Leon Waters of Mt. Vernon; one sister, Mrs. Martha Anderson of Pensacola, Fla.; and 6 grandchildren.

GUAR— —continued from page 1

which the beans or by-products from beans go into a high-protein meal. County growers know about that, too, one of the early crops here became unsalvageable due to bean damage by late rains, but that crop was salvaged by being channeled into livestock feed.

Henkel, Corp., a German chemical firm, bought out the General Mills Chemical Division plant in Kenedy three years ago and current plant modification is strengthening the firm's capacity to process guar beans and to compete for future farmer supplies, according to Herbert H. Partridge of Munday, agromonist with Henkel Corp.

Guar beans from Texas and Oklahoma, as well as Pakistan and Indian imports are processed in that plant.

Although guar is versatile, it is choosy about the land where it puts down its roots. Only a few areas in the world are adapted to its growth. Southwest Oklahoma and the southeast Panhandle are among these.

But other areas in Texas are being checked. South Texas is one of these, and there is talk of 200,000 acres plus going into guar in 1981.

Guar beans are being first-time planted in the Uvalde area of South Texas, replacing sorghum.

Guar was brought to Collingsworth County in the 1950s by Judge Zook Thomas, when he was executive vice president of City State Bank. In a year when weather conditions destroyed cotton and grain sorghum acreage after it was too late to replant, Thomas took a chance on what was then a new plant to the southwest Panhandle. It paid off.

In most years, guar has been a catch-crop here seeded where cotton or sorghum was lost to washing rains or hail. One of its big plusses is that it withstands summer drought well.

The price most years has been $10 to $15 per hundred.

Cultivation is similar and no special equipment is needed.

WII Takes Softball Championship

Wellington Industries, Inc. softball team won the 1981 Softball Association championship, defeating Martin Seed in a best two out of three playoff games.

After a tie win at the end of the first half, WII, lost its first of the two-out-of-three playoff games to Martin Seed 7-12-4, then came back to win 7-5 and 8-5.

Again, at the end of the second half, the teams were tied.

On Monday, June 29 Wellington Industries took the best two out of three over Martin Seed 8-3 and 12-6. With Wellington Industries taking the championship, the next event for the Wellington Softball Association is the invitational tournament slated Friday through Sunday, July 10-12.

RSV Program In 10th Year

The Retired Senior Volunteer Program will celebrate the 10th anniversary of its organization on the national level in September, according to Mrs. Mecca Manuel, director of the Collingsworth-Wheeler County program, which was begun in 1973.

Mrs. Manuel and a program volunteer, Mrs. Georgia Bartlett, were in Amarillo for Awareness Day, when RSVP representatives received background instruction in the observance.

The tenth anniversary of RSVP will be stressed at the White House Conference on Aging, to be held in Washington, D.C. later this year.

Mrs. Manuel was in Austin on March 24 for a state meeting, attended by all of the 31 RSVP groups in Texas. They visited the House and Senate galleries and were honored with a reception, in addition to their work sessions.

Oil, Gas Leases Recorded By Alpar, Trion Companies

Two companies new to this county have filed oil and gas leases in the office of Helen Gollighugh, county-district clerk.

Alpar Resources, Inc., with headquarters in Perryton, has leased 640 acres located a mile east of Wellington along Highway FM 203.

An Oklahoma Company, Trion Oil and Gas Co. of Yukon, has taken leases on 9101.40 acres in the Needwood Community, located approximately 20 miles northeast of Wellington.

Leases taken by Alpar are from:

Rebecca G. Berry, through Warren Cudd, attorney-in fact, W/2 section 10, block 11;

Dan Henard, Jr., and wife, Shirley, NW/4 section 91, block 10. Dan Henard and wife, Shirley and Andy Henard and wife Delta: SW/4 section 8, block 11.

Trion Oil and Gas Company has recorded these leases from:

Willie Faye Henard, N/2 section 36, block 12.

Margaret Boyd of Mangum, Ok.: sections 15, NW/4 section 25, sections 26 and 35 and S/2 section 36, Block 12, totaling 2,400 acres;

W.H. Hyso, Jr., and wife, Zenna Beryl of Amarillo: N/2 section 36, block 12.

A.J. Fires and wife, Helen, sections 21, 22 and 39, block 12, totaling 1935 acres;

John R. Henard, Jr., and wife, Louise, sections 40, 41, 42, and 43, block 12, totaling 2606.40 acres; and Flying S Ranch, Inc., of Wellington, Bill Spillman president, Cheryl Tarver, secretary, NE/4 section 17, and section 38, E/2 section 23, NW/4 section 23, and N/2 section 37, all in block 12, totaling 1520 acres.

Oil, Gas Leasing Begins Along Oklahoma Strip

First of the oil, gas and mineral leases to be taken in several years in the extreme southeast and east parts of the county, in the Oklahoma Strip, were recorded in the office of Helen Gollighugh, county-district clerk, last week.

At the same time, leases from an area due west of Quail, were also recorded.

The Oklahoma Strip leases were taken by Judge Bill Fancher of Hollis and total 852.81 acres.

Judge Fancher has leased approximately 22,000 acres all together. He said this was partly for himself but mostly for others. Among these is the 8 Penny Oil Company of Edmond, Okla.

The term for the leases in both counties is 5 years with 1/8 Royalty, and Judge Fancher said he paid "basically $10 per acre, some a little more, some a little less.

Some of the Harmon leases go into the north part of the county, with some of those in Black (township) 626 extending northeast, south and west of Vinson. Leases in Block 525 come up to the Collingsworth County Line.

Harmon County is considered "pretty well leased up" with most of the leases having brought $10 an acre. Hunt Oil Company of Dallas has leased in Harmon County as has Ensearch. Lone Star Gas is a subsidiary of Ensearch, as well as other companies.

Those watching the Hollis area economic scene say this has been a shot in the arm for the community.

The 22,000 acres of which the Oklahoma Strip leases are a part, will account for almost a quarter of a million dollars in bonus payments.

Several leases were taken on land west of Quail by Harold Caldwell.

Oklahoma Strip leases included are:

Oil, gas and mineral lease: Calvin Argo and wife, Julia Mae, to Bill Fancher of Hollis: section 35, block OS, A.B. Smith Survey (145 acres.)

Oil, gas and mineral lease: Frances J. Martin of Dodson to Bill Fancher of Hollis: 92.5 acres in section 45, block OS.

Oil, gas and mineral lease: Newell G. McDaniel and wife, Ada, to 8 Penny Oil Co., of Edmond, Okla.: section 43A, block OS (99.04 acres.)

Oil, gas and mineral lease: Olan P. Farris and wife, Dortha, to 8 Penny Oil Co. of Edmond, Okla.: a tract in section 40, block 10 (68.82 acres.)

Oil, gas and mineral lease: Helen A. Overton and husband, W.H.; Herman O. Crowley and wife, Ruth G.; and Melba G. Fox and husband, Don, to Bill Fancher, trustee, sections 68 and 69, block OS (147.45 acres.)

Oil, gas and mineral lease: L.L. Hammons and wife, Mae, to Bill Fancher, trustee, of Hollis: south part of section 74, block OS (300 acres.)

In the west part of the county, an oil, gas and mineral lease was given by Otis Emmert and wife, Elvis, to Harold Caldwell, covering 200 acres in the southeast part of section 75, block 21; and the south 175 acres of the west 300 acres in section 75, block 21, less 35 acres of minerals.

Other instruments relating to oil, gas and minerals which have been recorded in Mrs. Gollighugh's office in recent week include:

Assignment of oil and gas lease: Flake Tompkins to Crescent Energy Corp.:

CAC Provides In-Home Care

Six hundred fifty people confined to their homes are receiving special services through the Texas Panhandle Community Action Corporation, Amarillo, according to Tessie Burba, county CAC coordinator.

These persons, who are aged, blind and/or disabled and otherwise unable to care for themselves, are located in 25 of the Texas Panhandle Counties. In Collingsworth County 51 people receive this special service, which includes such things as house cleaning, personal care, meal preparation, shopping, etc., meaning that these people can remain in their home environment.

"Providers" is the name given to the 285 persons employed to provide the program services. There are 22 providers in Collingsworth County, Mrs. Burba explained.

"The good part about this program," according to Mrs. Burba, "is the providers can even be members of the family or neighbors living near. These employees include two full time supervisors in the Amarillo central office, one full time supervisor in the field area, and three part-time supervisors. The supervisors monitor every two months when the provider is in the home, and then at other times visit the person receiving service when the provider is not in the home."

Tommy Lou Thompson, local supervisor, said that the clients are referred to the program by the Texas Department of Human Resources (TDHR), and that agency also determines the client's eligibility and the services that should be provided.

"People can remain in their home setting, and still receive needed care under this program when medical help is not a need because it does not provide any medical services," said Tessie Burba.

Clerk Attends Annual State Conference

Mrs. Herbert Duncan, Jr., attended the conference also. They were joined by Phyllis Dunn, Hall County-District clerk and her

Country Club Slates Invitational Tourney

Wellington Country Club will host its first men's invitational golf tournament Saturday and Sunday, July 11 and 12, with as many as 100 players taking part.

Many of these will be returning to the Wellington CC course who played here last month in the partnership tournament.

Players will be flighted

according to handicap, and one additional flight has been added for a total of 5, said Randy Cole, club pro.

"This will give players with a higher handicap an opportunity to come out and enjoy tournament play," he said. "We want to encourage our beginner players to participate and we hope to have 5 full flights."

The deadline for sending in entries is Friday, July 10, and the entry fee is $40 per person.

"Everyone entering will need to give his handicap and let us know if he will need a cart," Cole requested.

A covered dish dinner will be hosted by members for the players Saturday night.

The course remains in excellent shape in spite of the dry weather, Cole said.

LaVonda Thomas, Stephen Hartman Pledge Wedding Vows on June 20

Wedding vows were repeated by Miss LaVonda Lynn Thomas and Stephen Lynn Hartman on Saturday, June 20, at seven-thirty in the sanctuary of First Baptist Church. Garell Forehand, minister of the Church of Christ, performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Alf Thomas of Lillie community. She is also the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Obie White and Judge and Mrs. Zook Thomas.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hartman and he is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. V.L. Vaughn of Downey, Calif., and the late Mr. and Mrs. Wren Hartman.

Church decorations were two seven-branched candelabras holding lighted white wedding tapers, entwined with foliage and burgundy and pink silk flowers. This was repeated on the arch. Baskets of foliage were at the sides. The kneeling bench and memory candle completed the arrangement.

Two globed candle pew markers accented with foliage and burgundy satin bows, marked the aisles for parents of the couple. Other pews had markers of pink ribbons and dainty flowers.

Miss Kathleen Reeves presented wedding music, and recorded selections were by Abilene Christian College Choir. Vocal selections were by Miss DiAnna Schaub and Miss Teresa Hodges and by Miss Thelma Shields of Lelia Lake, Miss LaMoss Springer and Miss Sherri Hill of Hedley. Mrs. Truman Estes, organist, presented the processional and recessional.

Mr. Thomas gave his daughter in marriage.

She wore a formal gown of ivory organza and peau d'ange lace, designed with a Queen Ann neckline. The closely fitted bodice had a lace overlay, accented by bridal pearls. Long sheer fitted sleeves were scalloped over her hands.

Lace and an edging of French crystal pleates encircled the skirt hemline, and back fullness swept to a chapel train. Lace outlined her walking length mantilla, which had pearl motifs on the cap.

She carried a bouquet of pink and burgundy flowers, tied with matching streamers. She wore rings belonging to her grandmothers, which Mr. White gave Mrs. White 64 years ago and which Judge Thomas gave Mrs. Thomas 49 years ago.

Bridal attendants were Mrs. Jobie Cabbell of Los Alamos, New Mexico, cousin of the bride, who was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Elizabeth Brewer and Miss

MRS. STEPHEN LYNN HARTMAN

DeJon Lindsey, the latter also a cousin of the bride.

The honor attendant wore a formal length burgundy colored dress with ruffled off-shoulder fitted bodice and full skirt. Her matching hat was accented with ribbon and tiny silk flowers and she carried a bouquet of silk flowers in shades of pink and burgundy with a miniature lighted candle at the center.

The bridesmaids dresses were similar in design to that of the honor attendant. Miss Brewer wore a burgundy dress and carried a Bible with her bouquet. Miss Lindsey's dress was sprigged with pink and burgundy flowers and she carried pink and burgundy flowers. Both wore burgundy hats accented with ribbon and tiny silk flowers.

Jimmy Patterson was the best man and groomsman was Terry Canada. The junior groomsman was Lindy John Thomas, brother of the bride. Ushers were Gary Wischkaemper and Earl Hartman, brother of the bridegroom.

Candles were lighted by Lynna Nunnelley and Lisa Hartman, sister of the bridegroom.

Flower girls were Mandi White of Hedley, cousin of the bride, and Leandra Hartman, cousin of the groom.

T.L. Lindsey was the ring bearer.

Mrs. Ronny Glenn of Amarillo registered guests at the wedding.

After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas entertained with a reception in the fellowship hall of the church.

The bride's table was covered by a white lace cloth with a pink underlay. Her bouquet with burgundy tapers at the sides was arranged as the centerpiece. Crystal appointments were used. Miss Sandy Morris and Miss Mary Sue Thompson served the wedding cake and punch.

Coffee was served from a silver service at a near by table, covered with a pink linen cloth. An arrangement of pink and burgundy flowers was the centerpiece. Mrs. Earl Hartman poured.

At the reception register was Mrs. Bill Lindsey. Others in the house party were Mrs. Jim Cabbell of Los Alamos, New Mexico, Mrs. P.J. White and Mrs. Harold White of Hedley.

Rice bags were distributed by Diana Lindsey and Shannon White, cousins of the bride.

Wedding scrolls were given from a white straw basket by Dana Monroe and Carrie Shields of Lelia Lake, also cousins of the bride.

The new Mrs. Hartman was graduated from Wellington High School this spring. Mr. Hartman, also a Wellington High School graduate, attended Amarillo College and is now associated with the Texas Farm Bureau.

In case you didn't know what to eat for sup-

The Agriculture Department's Human Nutrition

With it will vanish, save as a curiosity, the cen-

of the U.S. government is put behind the idea you should "avoid too much fat, saturated fat and cholesterol; eat foods with adequate starch and fiber; avoid too much sugar;" and so forth.

Cattlemen and egg farmers protested that their products got a bad rap from the government, but always the larger question was why the government should be preaching one particular regimen, no matter what it was. It won't now, which is one more reason to rejoice at the coming of the (even partially) deregulated society.

The Fountain Pen

The Perryton Office Supply sells a lot of writing instruments, mostly ball point pens of one kind or another, and in recent years various kinds of felt tip pens. The ball point pen has made the old fashioned fountain pen quite obsolete, and those that are still around are likely to become collector's items. The Gillette Co., known for razors and blades, is also diversified and is one of the biggies in the writing instrument industry. Among their subsidiaries is a French company, the S.T.
Dupont Co. which makes a luxury line of writing instruments. The newest addition to the Dupont line is a fountain pen, the kind with a nib point and one that has to be filled with ink. This pen is billed as "the most luxurious fountain pen ever manufactured." It should be as it sells for $410.00

FROM HIS WORD . . .

In II Peter 3, Peter gives the Christian community some food for thought about their stand for Christ.

"Know this first of all, that in the last days
mockers will come with their mocking, following after their own lusts, and saying, 'Where is the promise of His coming? For ever since the fathers fell asleep, all continues just as it was from the beginning of creation.' (vs 3-4)

"But do not let this one fact escape your notice, beloved, that with the Lord one day is as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day. The Lord is not slow about His promise, as some count slowness, but is patient toward you, not wishing for any to perish but for all to come to repentance. But the day of the Lord will come like a thief, in which the heavens will pass away with a roar and the elements will be destroyed with intense heat, and the earth and its works will be burned up.

Since all these things are to be destroyed in this way, what sort of people ought you to be in holy conduct and godliness, looking for and hastening the coming of the day of God, on account of which the heavens will be destroyed by burning, and the elements will melt with intense heat!" (vs. 8-13)

STATE CAPITAL
HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Less than a month after the Legislature
ratified new boundary lines
for state House and Senate districts, the entire redistricting process is in upheaval again.

Governor Bill Clements
has vetoed the plan for the Senate, thereby allowing the plan to be redrawn by the constitutionally provided redistricting board, composed of five state officials.

The board, headed by Lt.
Gov. Bill Hobby, tried to meet for the first time last week, but postponed action pending the outcome of a lawsuit filed last week which challenges the new House districts.

The class action lawsuit,
with three legislators heading up the list of plaintiffs,
charges that counties have been illegally split in each of the five major metropolitan areas: Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio, Houston and El Paso, as well as Laredo and Amarillo.

A state district judge was scheduled to hear the case this week. If the judge finds for the plaintiffs, the new House districts will be invalidated and the redistricting board will assume the task of drawing an acceptable plan.

Congressional Redistricting
Meanwhile, Clements has not backed down one iota
from his announced intent
to veto any plan approved
during the coming special session which does not provide for a black congress-sional district in his hometown of Dallas.

The Legislature adjourned
last month without reaching a compromise on new congressional districts. Due to population growth, Texas is entitled to create three new congressional districts.

Clements & Blacks

Clements has been insistent in his desire to create a predominantly black state senate and congressional district in Dallas.

He has publicly and loudly said the Dallas blacks
must get a fair shake.

That's a worthy cause, but
some legislators are saying Clements has other motives
hidden behind the civil rights banner.

The real targets are liberal Democrats who are a pain in the neck to Clements: State Sen. Oscar Mauzy of Dallas, and congressmen Martin Frost and Jim Mattox.

Perhaps the most influential black in the Legislature,
Rep. Craig Washington, D-
Houston, was highly critical of Clements' statements concerning the veto of the Senate plan.

"Clements doesn't care
about blacks and he never has, but blacks are protected by the Voting Rights Act and Republicans are not."

Washington said the Senate plan had "a Dallas district that in excess of 66 percent minority. Is Clements suggesting that blacks are so lethargic and lazy that we cannot elect one of our own without packing all of us
into one district?"

Mauzy, Two GOPs

Washington was referring to the Dallas district now represented by Mauzy.
Clements may have a problem because Mauzy, a white liberal, is in good standing with blacks and has been repeatedly re-elected in predominantly minority district.

And Clements is probably more worried about the political survival of two Republican senators from Dallas who find themselves
paired in a new district: Dee Travis and John Leedom.
Travis, however, is expected to run for Congress.

Dallas Congressmen

That brings up the issue of congressional districts in Dallas. Clements says he wants a district cut where a black can win. Be that the case, the plan he has in mind will do that and weaken two liberal Democrats, Frost and Mattox, at the same time. Clements has already called Mattox "a disaster" and vowed he must go.

The Libs

If the Democrats dominated the Senate plan, not all Democrats were pleased.
Two members of the House
liberal faction, John Bryant,
D-Dallas, and Ted Lyon, D-Mesquite, said they welcomed Clements' veto of the Dallas senatorial plan.

Lyon, in fact, had already drawn up the papers for a lawsuit challenging the Senate plan.

Bryant and Lyon oppose the plan because it would divide Dallas County into six different districts, many largely rural in character.

Redistricting Board

At any rate, the task is now before the Legislative Redistricting Board, composed of five Democrats:
Hobby, Bill Clayton, Mark
White, Bob Bullock and Bob Armstrong.

Some observers have wondered if Clements' veto was the right political move for him, throwing the task of protecting Republicans to five Democrats.

Clements has said that at least four of them will be facing the state's voters in the next election, and that is incentive for them to be fair. Republican state chairman Chet Upham said the old plan barely protected
the GOP status quo in the Senate, so really the party has little to lose by the veto.

In fact, it sends the issue further along the process to what may prove to be its ultimate conclusion: a plan
drawn up by the U.S. Justice Department sitting under a Republican president.

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas, and with each affected municipality served by Southwestern Bell, and is available for inspection in each of the company's public business offices in Texas.

The filing includes, but is not limited to, proposals to increase rates for interexchange private line and foreign exchange (FX) service. Se espera que el nuevo arancel que se ha solicitado rendirá un aumento de 15.8 por ciento en los ingresos intraestatales de la compañía.

Una copia completa del nuevo arancel se ha archivado en las oficinas del Public Utility Commission en Austin, Texas, al igual que en cada municipalidad afectada y servida por Southwestern Bell, y cada una de las oficinas de la compañía para negocios con el público en Texas tiene una copia para lectura pública.
