

Wheat Program Reviewed by ASC Chairman

With planting time at hand, operation of the 1967 wheat program was discussed by W. C. Harwell, chairman of the Collingsworth County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

"With the national allotment raised to 68.2 million acres, most farmers can plant as much wheat as they want and still participate in the program," Mr. Harwell said.

"They can help provide the food needed to fight the worldwide war on hunger and still have income protection through price-support loans and domestic marketing certificates," he continued.

Mr. Harwell pointed out the 1967 program has no provision for diversion or for diversion payment. He said the diversion features of the program were eliminated because farmers no longer need to produce less than will be consumed in order to reduce the surplus.

Farmers may elect any of several options when they participate in the program, the chairman said.

They can plant all of their allotment acres and be eligible for price-support loans and domestic certificates.

They can plant up to 40 percent more than their allotment acres, store the excess production, and be eligible for certificates plus loans on the wheat not stored.

They can plant as little as 35 percent of their allotments and be eligible for the maximum number of domestic certificates in addition to a loan on their production.

The program still offers the opportunity to substitute wheat and feed grains to allow farmers the maximum opportunity to decide what combination of crops will be best for their operations. Two feed grains, corn and grain sorghum, will be included in the 1967 Feed Grain Program, Mr. Harwell said.

Kiwanis Hold Annual Pancake Supper Friday

The Wellington Kiwanis Club will hold its annual Pancake Supper Friday, Sept. 16, from 5 to 7:30 p.m. in the elementary school cafeteria.

"This will give people an opportunity to eat pancakes with all the trimmings and then go to the football game," said John Holton, Kiwanis president.

Proceeds from the supper go into the Kiwanis fund to help underprivileged children, especially buying glasses for those who need them and whose families cannot afford them. Holton explained that several children are playing "real fine football."

Tea to Honor Mrs. Dee Miller

A tea will be given Friday afternoon, Sept. 16, to introduce Mrs. Dee Miller, wife of the Democratic nominee for Congress from the 18th District to the people of Wellington.

The event will be in the Greenbelt Electric Co-operative directors' room from 3 to 5 p.m.

Those in charge of the event are women active in Democratic affairs here and include Mrs. H. L. Jenkins, Mrs. Edd Henard, Mrs. B. M. Sims, Mrs. John Coleman and Mrs. Paul Spillman.

All who wish to meet Mrs. Miller are invited.

Friday Night

Childress Bobcats to Meet Rockets Here

The Childress Bobcats, long-time rivals, will meet the Wellington Skyrocks on Powell Field Friday night, Sept. 16, for the Rockets' second game of the season.

It will be a stronger Wellington team than the one that went down to defeat before Hollis in the opening game, all workouts this week indicate.

But then Childress is a stronger team than Hollis. The Bobcats are playing under a new coach, Johnny Gragg, this year, and those who saw them in the first game and who saw them scrimmage report they are playing "real fine football."

The Childress quarterback, the team's principal passer and ball carrier, has been out after an appendectomy, and without him the Bobcats lose much of their power. It is not certain if he will be in the Wellington game or not.

The Bobcats lost their opening game to Haskell 27-0. Haskell is one of the strong AA teams of the area, and Childress held the score down to 7-0 until the final period.

"We are not taking the Haskell score as any indication of the kind of a game that Childress plays," Wellington head coach Bill Beene said.

This week, the Rockets are working on those weaknesses and mistakes that cost them so much in penalties last week.

Coach Beene said that Larry Pipins, the Rockets big tackle, received a sprained ankle in the Hollis game and may be out of play this week.

However, Neal Roberts, who received a broken toe early in practice, will be strong in the starting line-up this week.

Wesley Ward will add power to the Rocket line-up this week also. Ward, who played junior high football here, moved to Grand Saline, but returned last year, enrolling Sept. 16. Under Interscholastic League rules he could play B team ball, but he could not be a member of the varsity team.

C-C Sponsors New Management Course

The Chamber of Commerce will hold another of its management development courses Monday through Thursday, Sept. 26 through 29. Presented in cooperation with the Distributive Education Department, Division of Extension, the University of Texas, this year's course is "New Directions in Management."

The course will be taught at the Greenbelt Electric building, beginning at 7:30 p.m. The cost is $5.

Business executives will have the opportunity to view their jobs as managers and explore new directions, said N. M. Higdon, C-C manager. There are common elements in this job, whether a man is company president, responsible for the total operation of a business, or a department manager in charge of a major activity area such as finance, control, or personnel. No company, regardless of size, can afford to neglect these elements of management.

The 10-hour course will be conducted by Mrs. Mary Frances Bowden, supervisory and management training specialist from The University of Texas. Mrs. Bowden regularly conducts similar programs throughout Texas, and has had broad experience in personnel administration, training in retail and service fields and retail merchandising.

The purpose of this course is to establish what management consists of in its fullest sense and what knowledge it requires to be effective: (1) How to recognize violation of management principles and the effect on human relations; (2) The organizing function of management—how to make and use an organization chart; (3) Carrying out the act of managing—techniques and pitfalls of planning, establishing objectives, coordination activity in

First 1966 Cotton Is Ginned Wednesday

Collingsworth County's first bale of 1966 cotton was ginned Wednesday morning, Sept. 14. The bale belongs to Herman Belew and Joe Bartlett and was grown on the farm owned by J. B. Castleberry, south of Wellington.

The cotton was ginned at the Farmers Co-op Gin.

Belew and Bartlett received a 440-pound bale from 1760 pounds of seed cotton, according to W. E. Marchant, Farmers Co-op manager. There were 800 pounds of seed.

The cotton, grown on irrigated land, was brought to the gin about 9:30 a.m.

It is a Texas Planting Seed Association variety and it was planted in early May, Marchant said. It was watered four times.

Belew and Bartlett estimate the field will yield a bale and a half per acre and this going over pulled just under a bale.

It was a little green and will probably grade strict low middling, according to Marchant.

He said that the cotton will be ginned free of charge and a bonus will be paid. This is traditional with the first bale here.

This is from two to three weeks later than the first bale is usually ginned in Collingsworth County, as dry years may bring a bale as early as the beginning of the fourth week of August.

Last year the county's first bale was ginned at Dodson on Aug. 19, three and a half weeks earlier than the first 1966 bale.

Quarter Horses Exhibited From Two-State Area

Both the grand champion and reserve champion geldings were shown by W. H. Tippet of Tell. Top honors went to Jo Clay East, and reserve honors were won by Mr. Pay Master.

Discarded Desks Star In Lively New Role

The old-fashioned school desks where Wellington's small fry studied for many years have donned a new look to serve a new generation of youngsters.

Like the boys and girls who used them, some of the desks have gone to the city.

All this came from the skilled hands and artistic eye of Mario Coleman, a former Collingsworth man now on the faculty of West Texas State University.

When new desks were put in the schools some years ago, many of the old type were discarded. A few people bought a few desks for a few dollars.

but for the most part, no one wanted them.

Coleman got one, then more. The black cast-iron frames are now white antiqued with gold. Scarred varnished wood is pink, and the seats, remembered for their hardness, have bright red cushions!

Some of these desks were bought originally from Sears, Roebuck, and the name was cast in the iron frames. On these, the name is outlined in gold, and Coleman has sold 36 to the Sears stores in Amarillo and Dallas.

An Amarillo woman bought one to send to her granddaughter in North Carolina.

Coleman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dee Coleman. He graduated from McLean high school and received his degree from North Texas State University. Before joining the faculty of West Texas State this fall, he taught manual arts in the Amarillo school system.

"Plans will be made and goals set for what we hope to be a good year for our Auxiliary," she said.

The meeting will be in the American Legion building on Dodson's main street.

Record Crowd Makes 10th Field Crop Tour

More than 100 farmers and businessmen turned out Tuesday, Sept. 13 to participate in the 10th annual Collingsworth County Field Crops Tour to visit Extension demonstration plots and conservation projects on six local farms.

County Agent Sammy Helmers said it was the largest crowd ever to make the tour. The Extension Service, Salt Fork Soil Conservation District, Farmers Home Administration and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station cooperated in conducting the event.

Grain sorghum tests seemed to attract the most interest this year, Helmers reported.

Flame Weeding Effective in Late Season

HALFWAY. — "Late season weed control by use of flame can be used very successfully at this stage of plant growth," says Dean Howard, assistant agronomist and flame cultivation specialist at the High Plains Research Foundation.

Recent rains throughout the high plains and south plains have stimulated the germination of a new crop of weeds. To prevent competition between weeds and maturing crops for plant nutrients, and avoid a weed reseeding problem, these newly emerged weeds should be eliminated now. High clearance flame cultivation equipment can be used for layby weed control before the ground is dry enough to support other weed control equipment.

Crops which can be successfully flamed now are cotton, castor beans, grain sorghum, and soybeans. Past research at the Foundation has shown that it is possible to do a good job of controlling weeds in these crops when there is proper adjustment of burners, speed and pressure setting.

Howard suggests that for solutions to individual difficulties or problems in flame weeding, farmers contact either their flame cultivator dealer or the High Plains Research Foundation.

"Flame weeding is not to be considered as a salvation tool, but should be planned as an integrated part of a complete weed control program," Howard said.

ard said.

Flaming can also be used very well in combination with light herbicide rates or conventional methods of weed control.

DPS Patrolmen On 5-Day Week

AUSTIN.—The Texas Department of Public Safety announced Sept. 1 that all of its uniformed patrol personnel are going on a five-day week, effective immediately, in an effort to attract and retain adequate personnel, thus providing better law enforcement coverage and service over the state.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director, announced at the same time that there are some 125 vacancies in the patrol services, including Highway Patrol, License and Weight, Motor Vehicle Inspection and Driver Licensing.

"Applications for these career positions are now being accepted, with an Oct. 17 deadline for the next statewide examination on Oct. 22," Garrison said. "The next training school will begin Jan. 3."

"The five-day week will apply during the training period also, and the training period has been extended from 16 to 18 weeks to cover the shorter school week."

Garrison said cadets at the DPS Law Enforcement Academy in Austin will receive $400 per month while in training, and will be off Saturdays and Sundays. Upon graduation they will be assigned to the field with salaries ranging from $468 to $484, depending on branch of service.

Garrison said implementation of the five-day week was imperative because of the manpower shortage in the patrol ranks. He said it is believed that the six-day week, inconsistent with work periods in almost all competitive businesses and industries, was a major deterrent to young men, particularly those with families, who would otherwise apply for jobs in the uniformed services.

"Men of good character who are physically fit and between 21 and 35 are invited to obtain additional information if they are interested in becoming a DPS patrolman," Garrison said.

Comic strips are believed to be read by half the nation's adults.

"Traveling" Reunion Brings Together Brown and Roberson Families

The Brown and Roberson families, related by marriage, held a week-long joint reunion recently. It included visiting in Collingsworth County, a dinner and breakfast in Donley County, a trip in a body to see "Texas," and a week end of events in Plainview.

The Browns attending the reunion were nine of the ten children of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Brown, who came to Collingsworth County in 1920 from Wilbarger County. Mrs. Brown was one of six Roberson sisters, three of whom survive and were present.

The Robersons are organized for a reunion each year. The Browns have one "when they can get together." This year, the events coincided.

The first day of the reunion found the group attending a dinner at Mrs. Bromley's Dining Room in Clarendon, and the next morning Mr. and Mrs. Claude Brown of Clarendon were hosts at a breakfast. That evening the Browns, 24 strong, went to Palo Duro Canyon for a picnic supper and then attended the production of "Texas."

The next two days they spent visiting relatives in Collingsworth, who are Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brown of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Brown of Samnorwood.

Reunion events moved to Plainview for the week end and there they were joined by the three Roberson sisters and their families.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Phillips (she was Eunice Brown) were hosts at a dinner, and in the evening the crowd gathered for supper in Plainview Park. Dr. Olie Brown, dean of California Baptist College, at Riverside, Calif., showed slides made during his visit to the Holy Land last year and accompanied these with his narration.

Fifty members of the family were out for breakfast together Sunday morning, then at 10:30 they met in the Plainview Park building for a devotional led by Dale Roberson of Lawton, Okla.

During the program, Delbert Shearer of Amarillo, vice president, presented corsages to the three Roberson sisters, Mrs. John Burnett of Stephenville, Mrs. Zona Wyley of Stockton, Calif., and Mrs. Ella Jackson of Visalia, Calif.

An "80-Year-Club" was formed, and the ages of the five members totaled 419 years, just under 84 years each. Approximately 150 attended the dinner. In the afternoon came singing and a memorial service honoring three who have died in the last year.

The Roberson reunions have been held annually for almost 20 years, and in the election of officers for the coming year Mr. Shearer was elevated to president and Ed Brown of Abilene is vice president. Mrs. Shearer is secretary.

The Browns, all present or former residents of Collingsworth County, who attended with their families were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Brown of Samnorwood, who still live in the county; Mr. and Mrs. Claude Brown of Clarendon; Dr. and Mrs. Olie Brown of Riverside, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Sampy Brown of Sacramento, Calif.; Mrs. Ruby Adams of Lynwood, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Phillips of Plainview; and Mr. and Mrs. Urban Brown of Tahoka.

Only one brother could not attend, Clois Brown of Colton, Calif. There was illness in his family.

Winners, announced by N. M. Higdon, Chamber of Commerce manager, were in three categories.

First place in the commercial float division went to the City State Bank, with Grecia columns symbolizing the ancient traditions of banking — strength and stability, and four county girls riding on the float were representative of friendliness and progressiveness. Greenbelt Electric Co-operative, Inc., had the third place float, which had as the theme Working for Progress in Texas. Represented were the proposed dam on Salt Fork River, with water pouring from it onto lush green fields. Riding on the float was Shirley Jean Motesenbocker, who is employed in the Greenbelt office.

In the adult organizations division, the Lillie Home Demonstration Club placed first with a look into the home of yesteryear, complete with quilting frames and treadle sewing machine.

The B&PW Club was second with a three-part float, "Prospecting for Industry" which started with the old prospector, continued with the pioneers, and the final section looked into the future.

Short Snorts

After their Labor Day rally in Austin, most of the Rio Grande Valley "heulga" marchers and their backers — supporters of the state minimum wage legislation — returned to their homes leaving two sentinels stationed on the Capitol steps.

Austin will play host Sept. 16 to approximately 2,000 Texans for a one-day symposium on the correction of language disabilities among the state's school children — officially named the Speaker's Symposium on Language Disabilities. Texas share of U.S. defense contract work increased during last fiscal year by $844,685 — only California and New York had a bigger share.

Cigarette taxes went up again in Austin, to $12,800,000 as compared to $11,500,000 in July. A House committee on juvenile crime (headed by Rep. Vernon Stewart of Wichita Falls to make recommendations next January) will hold its next-to-last hearing in San Angelo Sept. 21 and has invited professional youth workers or any citizen to express their views on needed legislation.

Uruguay means "bird's tail."

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN.—While most of the state welcomed the touch of cool rains last week, Texas Water Development Board lost all hopes of completing the Texas Water Plan by the time the Legislature opens Jan. 10.

Board will take from four months to a year before it acts on adoption of the preliminary Texas Water Plan due to the scores of suggestions received from a series of river basin hearings.

All suggestions must be screened—even before the Board can refer the plan to Texas Water Rights Commission for a public hearing on Water Rights involved.

A panel of five consultants, headed by Joe M. Kilgore, has gone over a list of proposed studies prepared by the Board's planning staff. The panel will present their suggestions to the Board at a meeting on Sept. 19. Mainly, these will cover which studies can be made within the money available to the agency during the fiscal year.

Another water study by the Development Board, to determine the occurrence and quality of underground water in Shackelford County, will begin in mid-September, Executive Director Joe G. Moore, announced.

Richard Preston, a water development board geologist, will conduct the study, which will begin with an inventory and sampling of all domestic, municipal, livestock, irrigation and industrial wells in the county.

Study will then move on to the collection and compilation of data regarding depth, distribution and quality of underground water. Surface and shallow subsurface rock formations will also be examined as an aid in determining the depth and mode of occurrence of ground water requiring surface casing protection in oil and gas drilling operations.

Texas Water Rights Commission has approved an amendment to the permit held by the Trinity River Authority and the City of Houston which would nearly triple the storage capacity of the proposed Wallisville Reservoir. But another public hearing will be called to reconsider the application, if the federal government does not confirm its participation within a year.

Head Start Slowed

Approximately 60 Head Start programs are being held up in five Southwestern states because of Congressional delay in approving appropriations for the Office of Economic Opportunity, Regional OED Director Bill Crook reports.

Delay, said Crook, is proving costly in both time and money to the agencies which had expected to correlate the preschool readiness programs with the regular school term. In some cases, administrators are serving without pay rather than hunt the continuity of the program.

First priority on funds to the Southwest regional office is being given to those projects already in operation in the five states.

Crook's office is writing letters to local community action agencies and school districts, explaining that final action cannot be taken on their applications until Congress comes through.

Dean's Opinion

Page Keeton, dean of the University of Texas School of Law, strongly urges a complete recodification of Texas' 110-year-old penal code.

Keeton said the penal code had undergone "intermittent patching" through the years without reference to the problem of maintaining a consistent system. "The plain fact," he continued, "is that we have been 'getting along' with our present law. But I believe our administrators are doing a good job, not because of, but in spite of, our present system of substantive criminal law."

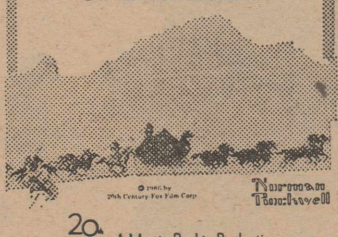

Keeton recommends complete revision of the laws, rather than a "piecemeal" revision.

Budget Makers Inspecting

Before the State Legislature convenes, members of the House of Representatives' side of the Legislative Budget Board are personally inspecting state institutions, acquainting themselves with operations and needs throughout the state. Group began surveys in the Dallas and Denton areas last

Call Them Traitors

Members of the Communist Party are becoming more brazen by the moment, now that they are armed with two recent rulings of the Supreme Court which have given them protection and allowed them to work as members of a political party.

They are not members of just another political party, but rather a part of a communist-inspired plot to cause revolution and an overthrow of our government. They are subversives and traitors and the sooner our government recognizes them as such, the quicker will peace and quiet return to the residential streets of our cities throughout the country.

Senator James O. Eastland made the following remarks on the Senate floor on July 21, which should be read and digested by every freedom-loving American citizen.

James H. Meredith began a march from Memphis, Tenn. to Jackson, Miss., on June 5, 1966, other individuals converged on Mississippi and continued the march to Jackson.

The following were among the individuals who participated in the march to Jackson:

Edward Crawford, Earl Harris, Blyden Jackson, Bennett Johnson, Clarence Jones, Phillip Lapsansky, Oliver Leeds, Stanley Levison, Derrick Morrison, Anne O'Brein, and C. T. Vivian.

One Edward Crawford was chairman of the New York Council to Abolish the House Committee on Un-American Activities, a Communist-sponsored movement.

Earl Harris, in 1944, was registered as a member of the Communist Party.

Blyden Jackson was formerly the campaign manager for Herbert Aptheker, a member of the National Committee, Communist Party, U.S.A.

One Bennett Johnson Jr., attended a meeting of the Negro Commission, Communist Party of Illinois in 1964.

Clarence Jones is an Attorney who, during the 1950's held a position of leadership in the Labor Youth League, which has been cited by Attorney General as a subversive organization under Executive Order 10450.

Phillip Lapsansky is a current member of the Socialist Workers Party, which organization has been cited by the Attorney General as subversive in accordance with Executive Order 10450.

Oliver Leeds is a member of the Communist Party, U.S.A.

Stanley Levison was a secret member of the Communist Party, USA, as late as 1963.

Derrick Morrison is a current member of the Detroit branch of the Socialist Workers Party.

One Anne Mary O'Brian has admitted membership in the Labor Youth League in Chicago from 1954 through 1958.

C. T. Vivian was a member of the Community Section, Communist Party, Peoria, Ill., prior to November 1947.

Mr. President, these were the people who manipulated the Communist invasion of the State of Mississippi.

These were the people who were behind the cries of "black power" in the State, which was nothing but a revolution against constituted legal authority.

These are the people who, in my judgement, are behind the race riots which are occurring in northern cities in this country today. What we have got is an attempt by the Communist to foment revolution in the United States.

Mr. President in the future I am going to have some other names and much more to say about the Communist revolution which is taking place in this country today.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

It says in the city papers that Sen. John Tower wants a law passed that policemen can not be drafted.

My pro-law neighbor says this would be just another raw deal for police officers, who are already frustrated by having to non-clobber non-violent rock and fire bomb throwers and to coddle killers and rapists.

He says heretofore a thwarted policeman going his daily rounds, facing mobs and court-protected criminals, could at least hope to be drafted and sent to where he could park his cool and go after his harassers like a man.

According to the papers, most of our hi-fi economics prophets are soothsaying to the effect that the rising cost of living needs a dose of higher taxes to settle it down.

But my simplex neighbor just can't see how getting smote with more taxes is going to help any to make the end of his money meet the end of his bills.

He says, though, if the scheduled after-election tax-raising really does roll back the cost of living, then he expects the next tornado that comes along to build him a new house.

I see where there is a big deal called Urban Renewal, which is aimed to recondition old broke cities where workers and taxpayers have nearly all moved off to the suburbs.

Which is flagrant federal favoritism toward the bigger people-hives, because when little towns can't support themselves any longer, they are just let to ghost out.

But my superhick neighbor reckons that even where they can't go on paying their own way, a few of the big places like New York City had ought to be preserved as horrible examples of what happens when a ghost town is kept alive by secondhand sweat.

News is that auto safety is now required by law, so us people can quit worrying about getting hurt or killed on the highways.

But my statistician neighbor says 2.5 million more people per year get injured in home accidents than in autos, so Congress also needs to legislate up some home safety.

And he figures home will be a safer place when the law requires such items as bathtub seat belts, with federal inspectors to see that we buckle them; and also collapsible rolling pins and better brakes on back-talking tongues.

Chevrolet Trucks Have New Styling

Fifteen safety-related product improvements will be added to the 1967 Chevrolet truck line as standard equipment, E.M. Estes, general manager, announced today.

HemisFair Traces Southwest History Since Cortez Day

When the games to HemisFair 1968 open on April 6, 1968, the first of the Fair's millions of visitors will step into the New World—in a re-creation of the Western Hemisphere as it was when Cortez arrived, as it has developed since, and as rampant imagination sees it tomorrow.

The first World's Fair ever scheduled in the southern half of the United States, HemisFair will be a six-month birthday party for San Antonio, the world's most fiesta-minded city, celebrating its 250th anniversary.

Carriers Help in Farm Survey

Postmasters L. B. Bratten of Wellington and Howard Hunt of Dodson, announced today that rural mail carriers will begin distributing 1966 Acreage Survey Cards to patrons on their routes about Sept. 14. The Post Office Department assists U.S.D.A. in making this survey each year. These reports, directly from farmers, are the basis for official estimates for Texas acreage of all crops harvested in 1966.

To be sure this community is well represented in the survey, the postmasters urge each patron receiving a card to fill it out and return it to his mailbox.

Rural mail carriers working on this project for Wellington are R. T. Savage, Route 1, and C. N. Savage, Route 2, John Coffee, Route 5, and Rufus Sweat, Route 6.
For Dodson the carrier is Ross Swift.

PEARL FORMATION

When an irritating piece of matter enters the shell of an oyster, the epithelium sac encircles the parasite. Inside this sac, the parasite is coated by thin sheet of pearl. Soon it is completely covered and a lustrous pearl is formed.

Official Marker Due Flag Pole at Ft. Elliott

The Official Texas Historical Marker for the Fort Elliott Flag Pole has arrived from the foundry and was erected on Sept. 5 at Mobeetie, according to John Ben Shepperd of Odessa, president of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee.

"This cast aluminum marker with Swedish steel effect for durability and appearance is 18 inches by 28 inches and was erected by 'state matching funds,' Shepperd said.

This is the seventh official Texas Historical Marker to be erected in Wheeler County. Others previously erected in the county include: Mobeetie Jail, 1886; Rock House on the Harris Farm, 1875; the Frye Ranch House, 1884; Baily Ranch House at David Britt's, 1884; Rock School at Britt Ranch, 1884; and Jail at Wheeler, 1909, according to Mrs. Grady Harris of Mobeetie, who is chairman of the Wheeler County Historical Survey Committee.

The marking of local historical sites and landmarks as well as early pioneers is a part of the five-year program of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee whose program is described as "RAMPS" which means Recordation, Appreciation, Marking, Preservation, and Surveys of Texas History. The RAMPS program envisions the erection of 5,000 historic markers under the sponsorship of the state, counties, cities, civic groups and individuals.

All state erected markers will appear in official tourist guides and directories to help stimulate tourist trade and historical appreciation as well as to acquaint the citizens of the county with their unique historical heritage.

The marker at the Fort Elliott Flag Pole site reads: "FORT ELLIOTT FLAGPOLE"

"First stood about a mile to the northwest at Fort Elliott, established 1875 to protect the Texas Panhandle from Indians. J. J. Long, teamster-merchant, who arrived with the soldiers, was hired to provide a flagpole for the fort. In cedar breaks near Antelope Hills, 30 miles away, he cut two huge trees and hauled them here by wagon to build this 50-foot pole.

"After Fort Elliott closed in 1890, Long bought the pole and placed it in front of his store.

she is shown with some of her winning canned foods. She also won ribbons in baked goods and clothing competition.

How to Grow a Bigger Community Melon

Our Community Economy is like a Community Melon... the bigger it is, the bigger our individual slices can be.

So... it pays to do all we can to grow a bigger melon.

And one of the best ways to stimulate the growth of our own community economy is to Trade at Home... where every $1 we spend can re-circulate among us... to create $3, $4 or more in Trade Volume... the essential factor that makes—or the lack of it will break—any community.

one, 6-0, in a hard fought defensive game at Powell Field, Friday, Sept. 9.

This was definitely a game of breaks, and the Tigers were able to take advantage of a Rocket mistake to score the only touchdown of the game. The Rockets had a bad case of fumbles and penalties that hurt the Rocket cause during the whole game. Time and again they had possible good drives started, but fumbles and penalties stopped them.

The Tigers were tough, especially on defense, and the Rocket offense just couldn't seem to get started against them.

The Rockets showed some bright spots. The defensive team of J. Barber, M. Barton, A. Bell, M. Gilmore, A. Hendard, R. Kane, G. Killian, L. Phipps, J. Smith, M. Smith, S. Trapp, J. Harris and T. Yarbrough did a good job of containing the Tiger offensive game.

J. Smith, M. Roland, N. Roberts, A. Bell, F. Mayhugh and T. Yarbrough showed some bright spots on the offense. Twice in the game the last Tiger defensive man saved possible touchdown runs by J. Smith and T. Yarbrough.

Starting the game after winning the toss the Tigers received, and not being able to move the ball the Tigers quick kicked and the ball rolled to the Rocket 8 yard line, where the Rockets put the ball in play. Drawing a penalty of half the distance to the goal, the Rockets were on their own 4 yard line. Moving to the 9, the Rockets then fumbled and the Tigers recovered on the Rocket 4 yard line. The Tigers then went wide into the end zone for the only touchdown. The try for extra point was blocked. Tigers 6, Rockets 0.

From this point until the end of the game it was just back and forth for both teams. The Rockets had some good drives going, but just didn't have enough push to get into the Tiger end zone.

The Rockets recovered a Tiger fumble on the Tiger 13 yard line, and drove to the 8, but a penalty and the Tiger defense stopped this drive. Another Rocket drive penetrated to the Tiger 16 yard line but again this drive was stopped by the Tiger defense.

The Tigers started a good drive in the fourth quarter. After recovering a Rocket fumble on the Tiger 43, the Tigers drove to the Rocket 14 yard line, but the Rocket defense rose up and stopped them.

Three plays later the game was over.

Frontier-Town Fun Set Saturday by PTO

The Wellington Elementary School Parent-Teacher Organization is sponsoring a "get-together for all ages" on Saturday evening, September 17, at Ellison Park on East Avenue. (Weather alternate is the Bura Handley Community Center.)

Entitled "Frontier-Town Fun" the event was such a success last year that it will probably become an annual tradition, the sponsors say.

Some of the fun and food features of this fund-raising event include pony rides, ring and ball toss, two-wheel cart ride, horse shoes, gun targets, bingo and old fashioned freezer ice cream.

The Chuck Wagon Supper, served at the park pavilion from 6 to 8 o'clock, will coincide with the personal appearance of "Sheriff Bill", television personality. Tickets to the Chuck Wagon Supper are now on sale.

Snacks, games and prizes of yesteryear add up to an evening of enjoyment for the family, according to Mrs. Edward White, finance chairman of this fund-raising event. She is being assisted in plans by the 1966-67 executive committee.

The children may come dressed in western attire, which will add to the gaiety of the atmosphere.

Tour participants also stopped at the broadcast cotton plots on the Brim farm. Helmers said 10-inch rows last year produced 963 pounds of lint per acre on the plot.

Extension pathologist Bob Berry of Lubbock reported on nematode control demonstrations under way at the L. A. Davis farm. Both resistant varieties and fumigation are being tested at the site. Nematodes seem to be an increasing problem in the area, Berry said, but these tests should show economical methods of control.

Gary Reed, work unit conservationist, explained conservation work under way on several local farms. A stop was made to observe the grass waterway on the Bob Copeland farm.

The conservationist also discussed the improved pastures and well and storage facilities on the John Forbis place. He encouraged the participants to take advantage of SCS's programs to make similar improvements in their operations.

Wheat Program

Farmers who participate in both the wheat and feed grain programs can elect to substitute wheat for corn or grain sorghum or may substitute corn or grain sorghum for wheat.

Barley will not be included in the Feed Grain Program in 1967, he said, but farmers who request a special barley base, which will be identical with the barley base established for the farm in 1966, may elect to substitute wheat on any or all of their barley base. There will be no diversion from the barley base and no barley diversion payments.

Farmers who wish to participate in the wheat program should elect the option they wish to use, plant this fall to fit their intentions, and sign up in the program during the enrollment period, which will be announced later, he said.

Full details of how the 1967 Wheat Program will fit each farmer's individual situation may be obtained from the Collingsworth County ASCS office, Mr. Harwell pointed out.

He will return to Amarillo for a check-up Monday. A second operation which it was feared might be necessary will not have to be performed, Mrs. Starkey said.
