TWO U. S. FLIERS DIE IN PLUNGE

MAY DYNAMITE LEVEE TO SAVE NEW ORLEANS

NEW TERRITORY IS RAVAGED BY RAMPANT FLOOD

OTHER TOWNS INUNDATED AS DEATH LIST GOES PAST 200 MARK

(By The Associated Press)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 26.—Having already wrought what officials describe as one of the worst calamities in the history of the country, the flood waters of the Mississippi river and its tributaries have threatened the south's largest city, New Orleans.

So grave has the situation become above New Orleans that Governor Simpson of Louisiana has asked for official permission of the war department to dynamite a levee to the south of that city in an effort to save it from a flood that would follow breaks in the dykes to the north.

No Secret Of Apprehension

Army engineers in the valley now make no secret of their apprehensions for the safety of New Orleans. They have estimated that a break to the north would flood that city with a depth of nearly feet in some sections with a result with loss of millions of dollars in property if not of life.

Before the flood crest reaches New Orleans district the Mississippi will have embanked not only the flood waters it emptied into the Mississippi delta region, but also much of that from overflowed streams in Arkansas and Louisiana.

With such a tremendous volume of water leaping at the levees there has been doubt that they could hold. With the crest of the flood still between Memphis and Helena, the danger to New Orleans was not regarded as immediate. Levees in that section have been strengthened and have been holding well. The question is whether they could hold against the increased flood yet to come.

Overflow Waters Join

Overflow waters from the great break at St. Louis, on the Mississippi 20 miles north of Greenville, has joined today with the backwaters from the Yazoo river at Rolling Park, Miss., forty miles south of Greenville. Rolling Ford was inundated.

Floods from the Arkansas river inundated several more small towns today and was sweeping across northern Louisiana seeking an outlet in the Red river and smaller streams in that state.

Evacuation was taking place in many sections of both states and there were reports, as yet unconfirmed, of additional loss of life.

Most of the people left Rolling Park yesterday, but some tenants on plantations in sections north of the town failed to heed the warning.

The water in Arkansas City continued to rise today but aviators flying over the place reported that the population had apparently found safety on high ground to the west.

Greenville Cut Off

The beleaguered city of Greenville, Miss., was cut off from wire communications today and only meagre reports on conditions in the flooded county and towns to the east of it could be obtained. A radio report received here said that Secretary Hoover, Major General Davis, chief of army engineers, and James L. Fisher, acting as chairman of the Red Cross, had arrived on the steamer Chieftan.

The secretary, who was directed by President Coolidge to coordinate all relief work, is getting a close up view of the flood and of the suffering and damage it has entailed.

Baker Makes Statement

Henry M. Baker, director of flood relief for the Red Cross, said today:

"This disaster is assuming increasing proportions almost hourly and is undoubtedly one of the worst calamities in our history."

All-Texas Special To Leave June 19

DALLAS, April 26. (AP)—The "All Texas special" to carry the message of Texas to the north and east will leave June 19.

This was decided here Tuesday at a meeting of the executive committee of the organization sponsoring the trip. The committee continued its sessions this afternoon, considering the itinerary.

Lowry Martin of Corsicana, chairman of the committee, said he had assurances that Governor Dan Moody would be aboard the train.

TECH SALARY CUT DOUBTED

Doctor Horn Believes Plans Of House Committee Have Been Misconstrued

While pointing out that the report issued from the appropriations committee of the House of Representatives concerning the equalizing of salaries at Texas Tech, College of Industrial Arts and Texas A. & M. college was the first that he had heard of the matter, President Paul W. Horn, of the state school here, said today that he did not believe that the plan of the committee would be to cut faculty members' salaries at Texas Tech.

"Mr. Hubbard, Doctor Horn said in referring to President L. H. Hubbard, of C. I. A., who was yesterday before the committee and who was quoted as favoring the equalization plan on the grounds that some Tech professors are paid more than some department heads at C. I. A., is too big a man, I think, to favor the cutting of salaries at the Tech. I believe that while he favors, possibly, the equalization plan, that he also favors just payment for professors."

Plan Is Explained

The story released from Austin yesterday said that the appropriations committee was "contemplating a classification policy" to arrange salaries of teachers in state schools in three classes and to place the schools of each class on an equal basis as possible. Texas university would be in itself in "Class A," the state teachers colleges would be included in "Class C," while Texas Tech, C. I. A. and A. & M. would be grouped together in "Class B," the report said, provided the plan was placed into operation. Decrease in some Tech salaries was hinted.

Doctor Horn said he translated the report as meaning that there would be no salary increases for faculty members at the Tech for next year.

Firemen Conducting Safety Survey Here

Fire Chief W. E. Twitty, with other members of the Lubbock department are this week conducting a survey of fire prevention and safety first methods used in the various public school buildings of the city, and are meeting with great degree of co-operation with principals at the buildings, it was said today.

Drills were conducted Monday afternoon at the K. Carter school in the northwest part of the city and the Sanders school across the railroad to the northeast. The K. Carter building, of which Miss Stella Thurman is principal, was emptied of the 486 children in 45 seconds, and in an exceptionally orderly manner. Chief Twitty said. The Sanders building, of which Miss Lula Jones is principal was emptied of 150 pupils in 55 seconds, but instructors are laboring under handicaps there regarding fire drills, it was said. Drills are to be conducted at other buildings during the week.

American Girl Freed By Chinese Bandits

SHANGHAI, Apr. 26. (AP)—Miss Mary I. Craig, Philadelphia nurse recently kidnapped by bandits in Yunnan province, has been released. American Consul General Gauss was advised from Yunnanfu, capital of Yunnan province, today that Miss Craig was free and well.

Mother Slays Four Babies; Tries Suicide

WINDSOR, Ont., April 26. (AP)—Mrs. Emma Thomas, 44 years old, of Ford City, killed her four young children by slaying their throats with a butcher knife, and then attempted suicide today. She was being taken to the hospital when constables arrived.

CONFESSION OF MRS. SNYDER IS READ TO COURT

HUSBAND THREATENED TO KILL HER, SHE CLAIMS IN WRITTEN WORD

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 26.—Mrs. Ruth Snyder enlisted the aid of her lover, Henry Judd Gray, to kill her husband because the husband had threatened her and she feared for her life, according to her confession read in court today.

NEW YORK, April 26.—When Henry Judd Gray confessed to the murder of Albert Snyder he was alert, untired in appearance, and under no compulsion. Police Lieutenant Charles Dorecheln, who witnessed the confession, testified today.

The defense in the Snyder murder trial contends that the confessions of both Gray and Mrs. Ruth Snyder, widow of the victim, were obtained as a result of "mental third degree."

Gray took his arrest for the murder as a joke up to the time he was put on a train at Syracuse for New York, Police Lieutenant McDermott of Syracuse, one of the officers who arrested him, testified. It was not until the party was well on the way to New York that he broke down and admitted the murder, the witness said.

Woman's Story Told

George V. McLaughlin, former New York city police commissioner, testified in the Snyder murder trial today, in a conversation, he had with Mrs. Ruth Snyder as she lay in bed the day her husband was killed.

He said she told him of returning from a card party, of being seized by a man with a black mustache and of fainting.

"Did she know her husband was dead at that time?"

"Detectives told me she did not. I informed her of the fact. She shed a few tears and then continued to answer questions."

"You saw her later at a police station?"

"Yes."

"She still told the same story?"

"Yes."

"Snyder Didn't Love Her"

She told him that her husband had

TEXAS BANK LOSES $7,000 TO ROBBERS

MEXIA, Texas, April 26. (AP)—The Farmers' State bank of Tehuacana, six miles west of Mexia, was robbed last night of approximately $4,000 in cash and about $2,000 in bonds.

The burglary was discovered Tuesday morning when bank officials opened for business. The vault had been drilled and opened without explosion. Cashier Hallum stated a closer check up would be necessary to determine the exact loss.

RUBY JURYMEN DENY CHARGES

CHARGES OF THE DEFENSE COUNSEL IN THE MARTIN S. RUBY EMBELLIZEMENT CASE WHICH WAS ON TRIAL IN 95th CRIMINAL DISTRICT COURT HERE LAST WEEK, THAT IRREGULARITIES AND MISCONDUCT EXISTED IN DELIBERATIONS OF THE JURY ON THE CASE APPEAR TO BE DENIED IN A HEARING CONDUCTED BEFORE JUDGE CLARK M. MULLIN TUESDAY MORNING, BY EACH OF THE TWELVE JURORS WHO TESTIFIED THAT THEY CONSIDERED IN THEIR DELIBERATIONS ONLY THOSE MATTERS CONTAINED IN THE COURT'S CHARGE AND THE EVIDENCE BEFORE THEM IN ARRIVING AT THEIR VERDICT.

No formal action was taken by the court on the matter pending filing of a new trial motion by defense counsel, which must be filed by Friday of this week, the time allowed by the court for such action.

Exceptions Are Set Down

Police and Sheriff, representing Mr. Ruby, sought to show in the hearing that exorbitant payments, similar to, but having no direct bearing on the case involved was discussed by the jury in its deliberations. These included charges that the jury discussed the Jim Ferguson $155,000 case, a question as to whether or not the jury had the indictment and arrest of the defendant, inferring that the jury had accepted this as evidence against him; charges of a discussion as to what would be Mr. Ruby's defense; and two other similar cases pending; and questions as to whether or not the jury had discussed why the defendant was not tried on a case involving a larger amount instead of the $147.25 involved in the trial.

Clark Rush, of Idalou, the first witness called to the stand, testified that he did not see any evidence against him. Jim Ferguson case; that he would not discuss the possible defense of Mr. Ruby in subsequent trials, if any; and that he did not hear any remark regarding the indictment and arrest of Mr. Ruby. Evidence against him. On cross-examination, he said he considered no other matters in his deliberations than those offered by the court in the charge and evidence in the trial.

Mexican Revolt Near Says High Catholic

SAN ANTONIO, April 26. (AP)—The San Antonio Express quotes the most Rev. Leopold Rula Y. Flores, archbishop of Michoacan, one of several Catholic prelates recently expelled by the Mexican government, as forecasting a revolution in that country to the near future.

"It cannot be very long now until the man of the hour will make his appearance and when he does the people will follow him in a crusade for religious liberty, which can have only one outcome—acquisition of that most precious of all rights, the privilege of worshipping God according to one's own choosing," the archbishop said.

Hubbard Heads Texas Highway Association

AUSTIN, April 26. (AP)—E. M. Hubbard of New Boston, former chairman of the state highway commission, last night was elected president of the Texas highway association in annual convention here.

Vice presidents named include Tucker Royal, Palestine; Henry Sackett, Coleman; T. W. Davidson, Marshall; Lee Blythe, Abilene; O. C. Dancy, Brownsville; Lynch Davidson, Houston. Among directors elected: J. A. Kemp, Wichita Falls; W. D. Paden, Galveston.

WASHINGTON, April 26. (AP)—President Coolidge returned to Washington today from New York where last night he spoke at a dinner of the United Press associations.

CHINESE SHELL U. S. GUNBOAT AND WOUND SEVERAL SAILORS

(By Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, April 26.—Several sailors aboard the United States auxiliary vessel Penguin were wounded, one it is feared mortally, when the ship was heavily and persistently fired on yesterday from the south bank of the Yangtze river eight miles from Kiangyn, at midway between Nanking and Shanghai.

The Penguin replied with machine guns and rifles after which field pieces were fired on her to which the American vessel replied with her larger guns. The American destroyer Paul Jones also was fired on, but from the north bank of the Yangtze, eight miles east of Kiangyn, returning the fire with machine guns.

These Airmen Plunged To Death Today!

Lieutenant-Commander Noel Davis and Lieutenant Stanton W. Wooster are shown above with their plane, "The American Legion". The giant Keystone biplane crashed today at Messick, Va., killing both fliers who were regarded as promising contenders in the coming New York-Paris hop and the Orteig $25,000 prize.

MOORE AND DALE LOSE THEIR PLEAS TO QUASH INDICTMENT

SELECTION OF JURY FOR MOORE CASE BEGUN IN AUSTIN COURT

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 26.—Formative selection of jurors who were questioned at length was under way today preliminary to the trial of H. H. Moore, Cooper farmer, jointly indicted with F. A. Dale, Bonham lawyer, on charges of accepting a bribe to influence legislation in the house of representatives from which they were expelled.

Severance of the case was demanded by and accepted defense attorneys, and Moore, whose house expulsion was not voted so nearly unanimously as Dale's, will go to trial first. They are charged with accepting $1,000 from Willis Chamberlin, optometry association lobbyist who had forewarned house officials that Texas rangers, to secure an unfavorable committee report on Moore's bill to tax stationary optometrists.

Jurors Closely Questioned

Defense counsel questioned jurors closely about whether they had formed opinions as the result of reading of Dale's and Moore's expulsions from the house of representatives.

District Attorney D. J. Moore provoked objection from T. H. McGregory, defense counsel, by asking a juror whether he had any prejudice against Chamberlin. Objection was withdrawn, however.

AUSTIN, April 26.—Defense motion to quash the joint indictment against F. A. Dale and H. H. Moore, expelled from the house of representatives on bribe taking charges, was overruled.

Shanghai Says John Bull Plans Assault

SHANGHAI, April 26. (AP)—The vernacular newspapers published an official Kuomintang (Chinese political organization) manifesto to the world today stating that the British minister at Peking proposed to prepare for the occupation of Shanghai and Nanking in the event that Chinese government should reject the demands made by the powers growing out of the Nanking disorders of March 24.

England Denies Charge

LONDON, April 26. (AP)—British official circles today criticized as "ridiculous" the Cantonese statement that the British minister at Peking proposed to prepare for the occupation of Shanghai and Nanking in the event that the Chinese government should reject the demands made by the powers growing out of the Nanking disorders of March 24 were not met.

High School Seniors Will Present Program

TRANS-OCEANIC PLANE CRASHES ON TRIAL TRIP

Reports received at Langley field, said that the machine apparently developed engine trouble, became unmanageable and fell several hundred feet to the ground. It was carrying a load of more than 13,000 pounds.

The accident occurred about 5:30 o'clock this morning.

Messick is a fishing and farming settlement on Black river, a few miles from the Chesapeake bay. Telephone messages said the machine was badly smashed. Neither airmen had time to jump.

Was Proud of Plane

Commander Davis yesterday spoke with pride of the performance of the machine which he has been testing at Langley field for the past few weeks. He said:

"We are almost ready to get away now, but there is no hurry about the trip, as we want to have everything in our favor, and I think the May full moon will give us favorable weather. All the tests made with the machine have been perfect. I have never piloted a better plane. I with my companions and other officers at Langley field have been particularly pleased with the manner in which the plane gets up when loaded."

Load Not Overburdened

"Some of us had feared that when the machine was loaded to capacity, as she will be when we start on our long flight, a large field would be necessary for her to get up. The contrary has been proven.

"The machine rises in less space than is required for some smaller planes. It is the best mechanical bird I have ever seen and I believe we will make the flight to Paris with few difficulties."

Another entrant for the trans-Atlantic.

Jane Addams Adds Support To Smith

CHICAGO, April 26. (AP)—Miss Jane Addams of Hull House has added her voice to that of Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, former governor of Wyoming, that the question of religion in politics should be brought into the open.

Miss Addams, speaking before 600 special workers last night, referred to the candidacy of Governor Al Smith of New York for the presidency, "as a great boon for the country." So far, she said, the so-called tolerance of the electorate has been only an avoidance of the issue.

Mrs. Ross, speaking yesterday at Washington, advocated the election of a Catholic "just to prove that this is in reality a republic in which we live and not one only in name."

Miss Addams said she was hopeful that the discussion of Governor Smith as a presidential candidate would bring a better understanding of religion and a realization that it had no place in politics.

Consecration Held For Texas Bishop

DALLAS, April 26. (AP)—Solemn consecration ceremonies elevating the right Rev. Rudolph Aloystus Gerken DD, to the bishopric of the new Catholic diocese of Amarillo began here today at 9:30 a. m.

The ceremonies were at Sacred Heart cathedral with Bishop Joseph Patrick Lynch officiating.

Before a large congregation of visiting prelates and laymen, the consecration was conducted with all the solemn formality of the Roman Catholic church. Following the consecration a luncheon was served at the Adolphus hotel, where a banquet room has been decorated in the American and Papal colors by the Catholic women's league.

Two Thousand Drown In Battle In China

SHANGHAI, April 26. (AP)—Two thousand northern Chinese soldiers are reported to have been drowned when shells from the Cantonese batteries at Nanking sank their boats in the Yangtze river.

Two launches, towing a dozen boats full of northern troops, attempted to reach the southern shore of the Yangtze near the Nanking forts last night, the dispatches said.

A searchlight revealed their approach. Eighty shells were fired by the Cantonese, and all the boats were sunk.

Utilities Workers Meet In Big Spring

BIG SPRING, April 23.—The Sweetwater District of the Texas Electric Service company held a bi-district banquet in Big Spring recently. E. J. Greer, district manager, presided at the meeting.

G. W. Dean, Field Engineer in charge of all development work of the company in West Texas explained the purpose of the meeting, stating that the ultimate aim of the Texas Electric Service company is to render real service at a nominal cost and absolute protection of the employees of his company.

Mr. Dean is General Supervisor over Five Engineering crews out of Big Spring now working two hundred men. City Manager Montau made the address of welcome and commended the Texas Electric Service company on the program of development being carried out in the Big Spring territory. Immediately following the address of welcome, Rev. W. C. Winda gave the invocation, after which a very attractive meal was served to two hundred employees and guests. The meeting was held in the basement of the First Methodist church and the meal was prepared and served by the South Side Circle of the Missionary Society.

Among those on the program was Mrs. C. F. Morris of Big Spring who rendered two vocal solos, greatly enjoyed by the audience.

The Big Spring High School Orchestra furnished music during the meal. District Manager L. J. Geer presented bronze medals and certificates of appreciation to G. W. Dean, and J. L. Dixon who successfully brought back to life employee Woodruff who in April 1925 had the misfortune of falling into a 60-KVA oil switch at Royce City sub-station.

Law Dodging Real Art

NATURAL WITH EVERYONE
Here Is A New Method

Man has been known to dodge the law ever since the statutes of America were created, and the accusations and feelings under which the dodging is carried on is known to be varied, but one instance which occurred at police headquarters here Tuesday morning takes the prize, according to Corporation Court Magistrate J. T. Inman.

The man, young in years, had been held before authorities on a misdemeanor charge, and in trying to plead his case around the ire of the magistrate by the use of vile language, with the result that he was threatened with incarceration unless he calmed himself. This he proceeded immediately to do, and paid his fine with a check, which was returned from the bank inscribed "no acct." Apparently his conscience began to hurt him, Magistrate Inman said, and fearing to return to the station to make the check good, took the money to cover the worthless instrument to the Western Union office, where, rather perturbed, he asked that it be delivered.

The office manager was instructed to send it to the wrong peace officer, however, and some confusion ensued. The money finally reached its destination, however, but the youth has not been seen since.

In her suit for divorce Mrs. Harold Nichols of Jersey City testified that her husband before going to work each morning knelt and prayed that she would be dead when he returned home.

Now that the coal miners have gone on strike, would it be too much to ask the gold diggers to follow suit?

SLANDERED PHILS SLUG WAY TO SECOND PLACE IN NATIONAL

HAINES FLINGS WARDS BACK TO LEAGUE'S LEAD

ST. LOUIS BROWNS CAN'T BE DOWNED LOWER THAN SECOND

(By The Associated Press)

Having played sensational and consistent baseball, the Phillies, whom the experts consigned to the second division at the start of the season, had a spike hold on second place in the National league today.

Slugging backer by tight pitching and fielding enabled them to beat the Boston Braves 12 to 4 yesterday, and rise to the rung next to the top where they are tied with the Pirates and Giants. With their next games scheduled for the home lot the Phillies have a chance for first. Already their showing has surprised the rail-birds who hadn't thought Stuffy McInnis had any kind of a club at all. Sand was the big noise yesterday, as in every game this season, leading his team's attack with four hits while Prueitt held the Braves to six.

Standings Repeated

Another striking thing about the standings today is the fact the Yankees and the Cards head their respective leagues at this early season date, in 1927, just where they stood at the end of play in 1926.

St. Louis rose to the rightful place of a world champion by defeating the Pirates who had been breezing along in the lead. A rare duel of pitchers decided the issue with Jess Haines of the Cards just shading Ray Kremer of the Pirates. The only run of the game was Douthett's homer in the sixth, which was enough to win for the Cardinals, 1 to 0.

When St. Louis' other major league representative, the Browns, finally dropped a game to the Cleveland Indians, 9 to 1, yesterday it was only their third defeat in eight games. Like the Phillies the Browns were picked for the cellar, but they too hold a second place at this writing.

Yankees Are Beaten

Just above them, the Yankees' hold on first position weakened a little as they lost to the Senators, 5 to 4. Goose Goslin did the home run hitting this time with a long one in the seventh that brought his team from behind to win. Babe Ruth fanned twice.

Seven runs in one inning brought victory to the Cincinnati Reds, 11 to 9, over the Cubs who had been leading, 9 to 4, up to the eighth.

A pitcher who batted in the winning run was the hero of the White Sox victory over the Tigers. After relieving Red Faber and checking a Detroit rally, George Connally knocked a single in the tenth with McCurdy on second.

Cold winds froze out the scheduled game between the Athletics and Red Sox at Boston, while the Giants and Robins had a day off to rest up for their first meeting of the season this afternoon.

DIPLOMAS ARE GIVEN NURSES

Dr. Paul Horn Makes Address As Six Young Ladies Are Graduated Here

Six nurses, graduating from the training class offered by the Lubbock Sanitarium, were presented with diplomas at an elaborate program planned in their honor Monday night.

Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Tech college, delivered the commencement address, recalling the history of the nurse's calling, and summing up some of the stringent requirements made in this profession.

"While sentiment, romance and human contact were the main factors characterizing the personal nurse, today these elements have been supplanted by science and hard work," Dr. Horn said. Mental honesty, mental alertness and physical strength were emphasized as being fundamental requisites.

Dr. Horn pointed out that the nurse must be a person of versatile accomplishments in that she is a scientist, engaging in the study of anatomy, psychology and medicine; a valued assistant to the physician in supplement his efforts in his work; a teacher in that she helps educate the public on proper health and a dictator in that she must learn to rule her patients.

In summarizing his address, Dr. Horn stressed the importance of the old humanitarian idea of nursing, encouraging the class to adhere to the fundamentals of sentiment, romance and hard work. "Altruism alone is a poor thing; but altruism scientifically trained is a great thing," he said. "May you always combine science and spirit."

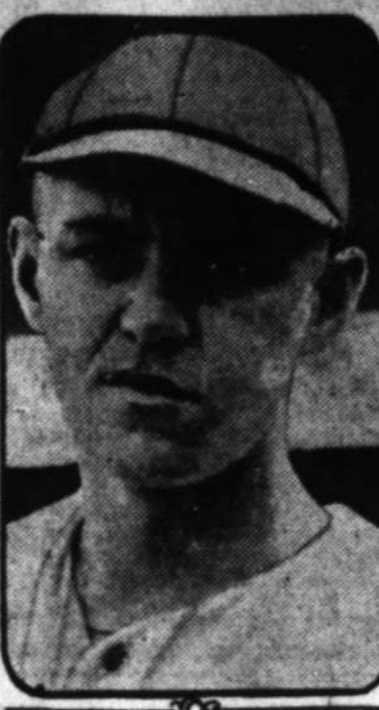

Special numbers including a pipe organ solo by Mrs. Mamie Neal, and a violin solo by Miss Mae Driver, were given.

Those receiving diplomas and making the pledge of Florence Nightingale, were Misses Thelma Worthington, Elizabeth Snyder, Irene Abernathy, Myrtle Russell, Mary Anderson and Mrs. Gladys C. Howe.

Mayor Edward L. Bader of Atlantic City died after an operation for appendicitis at which it was found that his appendix was on the left side.

At last report Earl Smith of Sioux City was holding the coffee drinking championship with a record of 133 cups in four and a half hours.

Back in Majors

EDDIE SICKING

Eddie Sicking is back again in the majors, this time with the Pittsburgh Pirates. Sicking was purchased from Indianapolis a few days ago at the request of Manager Donie Bush, who, it is remembered, piloted the Indianapolis club last year. Sicking's play was one of the outstanding factors in his club's success.

HARRY COOPER, "GOAT-GETTER"

Once Timid Golfer Now One Of Game's Most Ardent Player-Baiters

By JIMMY POWERS

NEW YORK, April 26.—Not only do worms make right-hand traffic turns but goats come home to roost.

Here is an inside story from a lad who ought to know his gutta percha onions revealing the howcome of an upset wherein Harry Cooper took Walter Hagen, world's greatest match player, out into his Texas backyard and smacked him.

It is a triumph of mind over matter—or guts.

Johnny Farrell, Quaker Ridge professional, tells of the baiting methods his brother-in-law used to practice on Cooper and how the "Light-horse" gentleman has finally conquered his sensitiveness.

Cooper used to be a "big" in his own home town links at Dallas, Pebble Beach, Monterey and Kansas City. Every winter he pulled down heavy jack, but just as soon as summer rolled around and the big meigs came on, the "Light-horse" mysteriously curled right up and flinched.

Now he has started off at his usual top speed and instead of slackening up is gaining momentum.

He recently walloped Hagen.

Hagen was in a slump all right, but very much overfed, but just the same a 10 and 9 victory over him means a lot, slump or no slump.

"Most of the pros knew Cooper to be young and one who took himself and his golf seriously," explains Farrell.

"I have seen some of them pile him in a crude manner while others adopted a more subtle but just as effective an attitude.

"That is why Harry blew up every summer in big-time competition after going so great every winter in small-time meets.

"He's a changed man now and incidentally is not a lily-fingered lad any more, for I've heard him do a little baiting all by his lonesome."

Cooper, playing in the western open, strooped nonchalantly up to the scoreboard and waited expectantly until one of the professionals called out:

"What kind of a round did you have, Harry?"

"Oh, I had a 67," was his answer. "and I missed no less than 12 putts."

He was razzed unmercifully afterwards and "How many putts did you miss, Harry?" became a favorite password whenever Cooper hove in sight.

"Light-horse" shortly afterwards announced he was going "to give this guy Walter Hagen a lesson or two on how to play the game."

What he did is nobody's business, least of all the well-known Mr. Hagen's.

Watch him this summer, warns Farrell.

Westerners Clash With Bulldog Team

With the Bulldogs of Plainview as their competitors Lubbock high school's Westerner baseball players today went into action at 4 o'clock at Merrill park.

The game is a return engagement to one played at Plainview last week when the Von Tuzgeln entry was defeated in a fast tilt by a 7-2 tally.

Captain Raymond Ater, erstwhile shortfielder and pitcher, was scheduled to take the mound against the invaders. Due to the importance of the game J. A. Judge, Hagen, veteran professional and amateur baseballer, was pressed into action to aid Charlie Guy in rendering the decisions.

PRESIDENT FOR PEACE, HE SAYS

He Believes Amicable End Is Possible In Mexican Oil And Land Controversy

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 26.—President Coolidge's conviction that the oil and land controversy with Mexico is capable of amicable adjustment was regarded in official circles at the capital today as an encouraging factor in the long standing dispute between the Washington government and its sister republic.

The statement by Mr. Coolidge at the dinner of the United Press associations last night that he had received assurances from the Mexican ambassador that Mexico does not propose the confiscation of American property was received with gratification. The added assertion, however, of the president that the Washington government feels that Mexico "is threatening" to disregard the cardinal principle that private property must not be taken without fair compensation prompted considerable discussion.

Although the president devoted a major portion of his address to Mexican relations, he outlined, in addition, a general foreign policy devoted to the protection of American citizens and the maintenance of peace as in keeping with the new position in the world which he pictured for the United States.

His discussion of Mexican problems, nevertheless, aroused deep interest and, while it was felt that a hopeful element had been injected into the diplomacy of the two countries, time only was believed capable of disclosing in what measure the assurance of the Mexican ambassador would amaze the controversy.

Here's Good News For Poor Golf Dub

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Dubs, take notice!

George Voight, winner of the recent annual north and south amateur tournament at Pinehurst, never took a lesson in his life from a professional.

He learned the game while being a caddy around Washington courses. He learned—by watching others practice! Voight, at first thought an unknown golfer, has been a figure in tournaments around Washington for several years. On several occasions he has worried Roland MacKenzie, Walker cup team member, in matches.

His sensational play in the Pinehurst tournament makes him a formidable contender to Bobby Jones, George Von Elm, Jesse Shipper, and other amateurs who will be in the Minneapolis tournament this fall.

Billy Evans Says:

Grand Opening Day

The baseball fans of the country comprising the jury, brought in the verdict on the national pastime on opening day in the major leagues, April 12.

Throughout the winter baseball has been harassed by scandal. First it was the Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker case. When the odor of this had blown over, came the charges of Chick Gandil and Swede Risberg, imploring many of the game's greatest stars.

For weeks baseball occupied the headlines on the front as well as the sports page and most of the comment was of a decidedly uncompromising nature.

During the winter hundreds of times I was asked as to what I believed the reaction would be. My reply was always the same.

"The game is greater than any individual or group of players. It will continue to thrive because the public believes in it, despite the wrong doings of a few."

Tribute From 72,000

It was my very good fortune to umpire the game that stands out as the greatest tribute that has ever been paid to baseball.

New York fans on opening day, to the extent of 72,000, answered the scandal mongers as to their faith in the game. It was the biggest crowd that ever attended a professional ball game.

From the window of our dressing room at the Yankee stadium, it was possible to see the crowd that had been unable to gain admission milling

Associated Press Elects Directors

NEW YORK, April 26. (AP)—Announcement was made of the election of six members to the board of directors of the Associated Press today at the second day's session of the annual meeting of the news organization members at the Waldorf-Astoria.

Five directors, elected for a three year period, were: W. H. Cowles, Spokane (Washington) Spokesman-Review, re-elected; Frank P. Maclean, Topeka (Kansas) State Journal, re-elected; E. Lansing Ray, St. Louis (Missouri) Globe-Democrat, re-elected; Robert R. McCormick, Chicago (Illinois) Tribune, and I. R. Kirkwood, Kansas City (Missouri) Star.

Richard Hooker, Springfield (Mass.) Republican, was elected a director one year to fill the vacancy created by the death of Charles Hopkins Clark, of Hartford, Conn.

The members passed a resolution of sympathy for the flood sufferers in the Mississippi valley, after which the meeting adjourned.

SAYS TOES ARE PASSING OUT

"Toes are getting obsolete nowadays," said Dr. Foster Coates, a well-known specialist, in giving evidence in the recorder's court of Belfast, Ireland, recently. He added that big toes of many people, and some other terminal members of the feet of others were deformed. Toes are like the appendix, he said, for some people were better without them. The case was in connection with the ruling on a workman's compensation for injuries received when a box fell on his toes.

HEARING GIVEN TEXAS SLAYING

Negroes With Queer Names in Edinburg Court; Suspect Remanded To Jail

(By The Associated Press) EDINBURG, Tex., April 26.—"Sporting Knives," "Sportin' Chin" and "Black Lala," were names that figured in an examining trial in Edinburg Monday in which Robert McNeal, negro, was denied bail and remanded to the Hidalgo county jail to await the action of the next Hidalgo county grand jury. McNeal, who is held in connection with the death of Dolores Hinojosa about 2 o'clock last Saturday morning at a dance in a negro house at Mercedes, was brought before Justice of Peace P. D. Haley in Edinburg Monday.

Testimony showed that Hinojosa was shot three times and died on the spot. Walter Johnson, generally known and referred to in testimony here Monday as "Sportin' Knives," was the first to testify. He gave his avocation as being that of a "knibber." "Sportin' Knives" said he was "detained" in the room (with the others had fled) by the barrier of an ice pick in the hands of a negro. His testimony differed in some respects from that of other witnesses. He was playing his trade in a room adjoining the dance hall, where the shooting took place, when two negro women fighting, drew his attention and presence.

Tom Pumphard, negro "keeper of the place" in Edinburg's negro town, said he saw Hinojosa armed two or three hours before the fatal shooting as well as a few minutes before the fray. Antonio Gonzales and Nives Abrigo offered testimony, through aid of the official court interpreter; the latter identifying a .25 calibre bullet which he said was fired in Mercedes Saturday morning. I. S. Chidick, deputy sheriff at Mercedes, mounted the stand but it was determined at this point that sufficient testimony had been taken for an examining trial. Testimony also showed that the defendant was armed.

Later, with a handkerchief to her eyes, she stated, he said, that she had not been telling the truth and wanted to confess.

She then told him, she said, that Gray went in and struck Snyder while she stayed in the hall watching him. Immediately after that they prepared the burglar evidence and burned clothes which had become blood stained.

Then, after taking several drinks, Mr. McLaughlin said he was told, Gray tied up Mrs. Snyder to strengthen the burglar theory and then returned to Syracuse.

McLaughlin then told of being introduced to Gray in the district attorney's office, after arrival of the defendant with officers from Syracuse.

Claim Mrs. Snyder Helped
He said that Gray told him Mrs. Snyder had attempted to take her husband's life half a dozen times before Gray decided to help her and purchased the sash weight, wire and chloroform. Gray was then quoted as saying when he struck Snyder, the victim grabbed him and he dropped the sash weight. Mrs. Snyder picked it up, he was quoted as saying, and beat her husband when he lay still.

From that point on the confessions of Gray and Mrs. Snyder were the same.

Davis-Wooster Accident Is Second To Mar Proposed New York-To-Paris Trip

BURNING OF FONCK SHIP BROUGHT DEATH TO TWO AIRMEN

(By Associated Press) NEW YORK, April 26.—The death of Commander Noel Davis in Virginia today marked the second tragedy in the proposed New York-to-Paris non-stop flight. The first effort ended last fall when Captain Rene Fonck's giant plane was burned at Roosevelt field a moment after he had taken off for Paris, causing the deaths of Charles W. Clendenen, radio operator, and Jacob Istaitieh, the mechanic. The famous French ace himself escaped injury.

It was a coincidence that Commander Davis was himself an entrant for the flight last fall, but cancelled his plans. Had Brilliant Record Commander Davis had an unusual and brilliant record in the navy. He was raised on the plains of Utah and his early school days evidenced a penchant for mathematics and the navy, with the results that friends in-

Plan To Pay Damages For Break In Levee

NEW ORLEANS, April 26.—Governor O. H. Simpson was in conference here today with a group of bankers presumably for the purpose of working out plans for reimbursing residents of the area that would be affected by creating a crevasse in the levees below New Orleans. Memphis and the belief that the main Mississippi levees for a good distance south are in rapidly diminishing danger.

RUBY JURYMEN

(Continued from Page 1) Introduced in trial of the case. Others Agree With Him W. E. Pate, R. A. Meeks, Thomas Cox and T. A. Batton testified substantially to the same as had been said by Mr. Rush, including cross-examination. Mr. Batton was not questioned by defense regarding charges made last week that he had been separated from other members of the jury, and this matter was not mentioned at any time during the investigation.

PLANE ACCIDENT

Governor Asks To Cut River Levee

WASHINGTON, April 26.—A telegraphic request from Governor Simpson of Louisiana for permission to cut the Mississippi river levee below New Orleans in order to save that city from inundation was received today by Secretary Davis of the war department and referred to the district engineer at Vicksburg for recommendations. Governor Simpson described the point at which he believed the break should be created, and asked co-operation of the commission, the chief of army engineers, and the secretary of war to carry out this purpose. The message included a pledge on the part of the Louisiana and the city of New Orleans to undertake to compensate all persons who might suffer damage as a result of the break.

Much Opposition Is Given The Plan

NEW ORLEANS, April 26.—Simpson's opposition to the proposal of Governor O. H. Simpson to cut the Mississippi river levee below New Orleans was voiced today at a meeting attended by Governor Simpson, engineers, bankers and citizens of St. Bernard and Plaquemine parishes. The Associated Press learned through reliable channels. Citizens of the Poydras section, well protected by strong, high levees, many of whom are farmers who would be deprived not only of one season's work but who would be unable to pursue their trapping activities for several seasons, expressed resentment at the proposal to cut the levee there. Newspapers were barred from the meeting, but officials who attended it said that there was a threat of open warfare should the proposal be carried out. Residents of the upper Mississippi delta, converging upon Natchez, appeared before the association of commerce at Natchez and requested that Senator Pat Harrison be asked to protest against the proposed action. A break in the levee below New Orleans, they pointed out, would not save the delta regions from the flood waters and if the levees should be cut anywhere, they urged, the break should be at Morganza. In Pointe Coupee parish, about 26 miles north of Baton Rouge. During the past two years Japan has purchased 172 French-built airplanes at a cost of $7,900,000. Eastman's—Choice of Dresses $19.75.

FLOODS TO CUT COTTON GROWTH

That Is Belief Of Traders In Stricken Area; Estimate Can't Be Made Yet

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, April 26.—Estimates obtained in trading circles by New York newspapers indicated today that the cotton crop would be short from 1,000,000 to 2,000,000 bales because of the Mississippi river floods. Traders decided inundation of millions of acres in the most fertile section of the cotton belt would seriously delay planting time and destruction of homes, equipment and seed supplies will affect the amount of acreage sown. One trader estimated the waters would not recede for six or eight weeks at which time he said it would be too late to begin planting.

Estimate Unavailable MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 26.—While cotton factors and interests here have stated their belief that flood conditions in the Mississippi river area will affect the production of between 1,000,000 and 1,500,000 bales, they do not believe an accurate estimate can be made at this time. Most cottonmen expressed the opinion that large sections of acreage now under water will be drained in time to permit planting some types of cotton that will mature. Cotton may be planted in the Mississippi delta area as late as June 1, they pointed out and will mature under usual weather conditions.

Hayne Gives His Idea NEW ORLEANS, April 26.—Regardless of any reduction in the 1927 cotton acreage the present flood will probably reduce this year's crop at least one million bales, according to a statement made today by Frank B. Hayne, former president of the New Orleans cotton exchange. The inundated acreage may not be all cotton land, but sufficient acreage is under water to make that reduction probable, Mr. Hayne said.

Bellanca Plane Injured Last Sunday, still another plane which is to make the big hop across the ocean, figured in an accident. It was the Bellanca monoplane which recently established a world's endurance record over Lincoln, with Bert Acosta and Clarence D. Chamberlin as pilots. Chamberlin, with two little girls as passengers, brought his craft to earth safely by skillful flying, after the plane had suffered a broken strut as it left the ground on its flight after the formal christening. Chamberlin held a crowd of 5,000 persons at Curtiss field in breathless suspense for an hour or more before he negotiated the difficult task of landing without injury. The Bellanca plane is now undergoing repairs for the flight.

Accounts of the accident differed. Colonel C. C. Culver, commanding Langley field, said the plane was making a perfect landing when it struck the mud, with its engines silenced, but W. T. Forrest, a Messick fisherman, an eye witness, declared the machine was at a low altitude when it seemed to go into a nose dive. Reports at Langley field were that it was damaged but word from Messick was that it was a complete wreck. Colonel Culver said the airman brought the craft toward the earth and made a nice landing, but came down in the marsh and as the machine started through the water her nose buried and the craft turned completely over.

Fliers Suffocated Expert Announces

NEW YORK, April 26.—Commander Noel Davis and Lieutenant S. H. Wooster were suffocated by gasoline fumes, and not killed by injuries due to the crash of their plane, Richard R. Byrd, of the Keystone Aircraft corporation, insisted today the Associated Press. This afternoon.

Highlights In The News Of The Day

Charles C. Marshall, who wrote a series of articles raising the issue of whether Gov. Al Smith as a Catholic might discharge presidential duties, is a retired lawyer and literary recluse. The flood situation in the lower Mississippi valley is said to be the gravest that has visited that section in over 100 years. Average grades of married students in Marshall college, Huntington, Va., are 74 per cent higher than the average of the rest of the student body. A life saving course will be given to students of Brownwood high school. Statistics show that 137,191 persons visited Yellowstone National park during 1926. The loss to the radio industry caused by the air confusion of recent months is estimated to be $100,000,000. After listening to vociferous criticism from a baseball crowd for seven innings, an umpire in the Virginia State league deserted the mound and took a seat in the bleachers remarks.

B.C.D. Will Help Both Westerner And Matador Bands To W.T.C.C. Convention

Three Representatives Leave For Washington C. of C. Meeting The Lubbock high school band, under direction of Jas. W. Crowley, will be sent to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at Wichita Falls May 14 and 15 by the Board of City Development as the official band of Lubbock, and 75 students and faculty members of the Tech college, including members of the band and pep squad will also go to the convention and advertise the college course. It was decided at a meeting of the board of directors of the B. C. D. Tuesday morning. Expenses of the high school band, about $420 including transportation and meal tickets, is to be paid by the B. C. D., while the organization will pay toward sending the college delegation $3 for each of the 75 planned for the trip. Other expense will be borne by individuals and from other funds. The trip of the college group will be two-fold. The delegation will stop at points enroute advertising the institution, and will be in Full Tech, regalia. Three Go To Washington F. A. Norman, J. B. Masey and George Kuykendall, all members of the board of directors left today for Washington, D. C., to attend the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. Railroad fare and pullman for two of the men will be paid by the organization. Initial plans were laid for the annual traveling men's banquet, one of Lubbock's most widely known advertising features, but the date for the banquet has not yet been set pending a report from a committee that will be named to investigate the time most suitable to inviting men. Farm Plans Endorsed The body endorsed plans of Spencer A. Wells, president of the B. C. D., to institute a model tenant farm to be under supervision of Tech college authorities, and approved the plan of $300 to finance livestock on the farm. It is the plan to have not only by authorities the exact amount of acreage to certain crops, the number of livestock on the farm, and other phases, and to operate the farm in an effort to exhibit every phase of the farm program. The board voted approval of the efforts of Fort Worth to secure the next convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and approved holding the convention there next. It was also voted to equip a display case in the office of the organization, and that case was ordered constructed at a cost of approximately $175. Work of assembling material will begin at once. A committee of three from the board was authorized to study the different data, information and plans leading to an extensive advertising campaign that is to be conducted in middle western states, pointing out the advantages of life on the Plains, and this campaign is to be started in the near future. LAY PLAN FOR HIGHWAY WORK

All Available Equipment Now Being Concentrated In So. Dawson County Highway improvement equipment, both state-owned and what is available from counties, is now being concentrated at the southern end of Dawson county where an intensive grading program is to begin immediately. It was announced today at the office of Major Pettus Hemphill, division engineer of the state highway department here. The state department recently agreed to place ten tractors in this division in addition to those already in use, and these will be included in the equipment as soon as they arrive. It is the plan of Major Hemphill to concentrate equipment on one highway at a time across the division of 21 counties and bring the main arteries of travel into the best condition possible. Work Starts in Dawson Work is to begin first in the southern end of Dawson county on highway No. 8, and be brought on through here to the north end of Hale county, north end of the division. When this is completed, another of the main arteries will be regarded, and others in their turn until the division has been worked. Workmen will be able to grade up about twenty miles a day with equipment that will be available in the opinion of Major Hemphill, and it is planned to complete the re-grading work in from 90 to 96 days. Full operation of every county affected, however, is necessary, if the best results are to be obtained, he said. Highway work throughout the division has become rough during the high winds of March and April, but under present plans, will be in good shape to care for the tourist travel, except possibly that during May. The re-grading work will begin in the next few days, it was said.

"BEAVERBOARD, nailed to strips of pine. Two thicknesses of beaverboard," Anderson explained, in answer to Banning's question as to the nature of the partition between the farmer's room and that occupied by Cherry and Chris.

"Is this beaverboard partition sound proof?" Banning asked.

"Not by a long sight," the witness answered emphatically.

"Did you sleep undisturbed for the rest of the night?" Banning asked, satisfaction radiating from his flushed face.

"No sir. Me and the lady was talking about an hour—talking about the elopement and what old Mr. Cluny must be thinking and feeling—"

"You'd read of the approaching marriage of Mr. Cluny and Miss Cherry Lane?"

"Sure we had."

"You knew that the bride who was your guest for the night was this same Cherry Lane?"

"Sure. She had her name on her marriage certificate. Me and my wife don't take any couples in town we're satisfied they're married," the farmer answered virtuously.

"Could you hear conversation through the partition before you went to sleep?" Banning asked.

"We could hear low talking going on, but they were pretty quiet," Anderson answered. "Couldn't make out any words—but the witness' listening anyway."

"All right, Mr. Anderson. Go right ahead with your story in your own way," Banning urged.

"Well, me and the wife both dozed off, but we was waked up about three o'clock in the morning—"

"Can you fix the time, Mr. Anderson?" Banning asked significantly.

"I struck a match and looked at my watch a few minutes after we woke up, and the hands pointed to a quarter past three," Anderson stated with belligerent positiveness.

"Sounds of crying and quarreling," Anderson raised his voice, as if he realized how important his testimony was, and intended to make the most of it. "My wife says to me, 'Jeff, she says they're at it already! Can you hear that?'"

The farmer wasn't satisfied with the muffled burst of laughter that greeted his naive bit of testimony.

"Could you hear what was said in the guest room, Mr. Anderson?"

"Not much of it."

"Mr. Anderson, can you repeat any remarks or single words that you overheard?" Banning asked, leaning upon the arm of the witness' chair.

"Well I heard a good many words and scraps of conversation, here and there, first and last—"

"Repeat, as nearly as you can remember, any sentence or connected words that you overheard," Banning directed him a little impatiently.

"Well, it musta been toward morning when I heard the girl's voice scream out, 'I hate you! I hate you! You made me do it, and it will kill Maggie!' Or leastways, it sounded like she said 'Maggie!' Some name like that!"

Faith put her arms about her sister, as the white-faced little defendant broke into bitter weeping, her ashen lips murmuring over and over, "MURKY! MURKY!"

In the deathlike stillness that followed, a reporter's hoarse exclamation—"The kid confessed!"—was as audible as if it had been shouted.

TOMORROW: Anderson's damning testimony breaks Cherry's superb nerve.

Milk Is Splendid Food But It's Not Perfect

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEN, Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

ABOUT one-fifth of the food budget of the average American family is used for milk and milk products. Campaigns to increase milk consumption have had their effect. They have been warranted, because children are better nourished if an abundance of good milk is included in their daily diet. Milk has been called the perfect food because it contains most of the essential elements to normal growth.

However, even milk is not an absolutely perfect food, and must be supplemented with other materials because there is a deficiency in some of the vitamins. It is so completely digested that it is efficient, but it does not provide bulk, which is necessary to allow proper action of the intestinal tract.

As has been pointed out in previous articles in this series, a proper diet contains proteins, carbohydrates, fats, mineral salts, and the various vitamins. Milk is well supplied with protein, indeed so well that there is no other animal protein of known value that is procurable so cheaply as the proteins of milk.

As a source of fuel for the body it compares favorably with other foods, since it has been estimated that the energy value of a quart of milk is about equivalent to that of a pound of lean meat or of eight eggs. It is one of the best foods for supplying calcium, a substance necessary for the growth of the bones. One quart of milk will furnish as much calcium as ten large oranges, thirty-two eggs, or ten large helpings of spinach.

Milk is, however, low in iron content and that mineral is better supplied by the green leafy vegetables or egg yolk, also by liver and kidneys among the meats.

It was once thought that all milk contained plenty of the various vitamins, but it is now known that milk specimens vary, depending upon the way the cows are fed and the amount of sunshine that they receive.

Milk from pasture fed cows in the summer is rich in vitamin A, fair in vitamin B, good in vitamin C, and probably poor in vitamin D; milk from cows stall fed in the winter is not nearly so rich in vitamins A, B and C, and probably very poor in vitamin D, the rickets preventing vitamin. Milk also varies in vitamin content according to whether or not it has been pasteurized, boiled, dried, or otherwise treated to change its nature.

The American diet is largely made up of white bread, meat, potatoes and sugar. In order to make this diet adequate there should be more milk, more green vegetables and more fruit juices. These will supply vitamins and the mineral salts.

As A Woman Sees It

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

WE HAVE SO MANY SHALT NOTS

AN official nurse in the New York Police Department speaks with conviction when she says that girls get tired of home because they are bored with too much managing. "They get tired of being told exactly what they must do and what they must not do, and in order to escape it and think for themselves, they run away," she says.

I suppose we call that girl delinquent or incorrigible or something like that. Usually we refer to her as ungrateful, I believe.

It isn't always girls. It's boys, too! Something has gone wrong. For some reason they have lost all respect for parental authority, and when that happens the father usually in the fire, and son John is off.

Booth Tarkington is talking a good deal of freedom in marriage. His theory goes something like this:

A husband or wife, chafing under strict discipline of marriage vows, breaks away altogether and gets a divorce. If there were fewer shalts and shalt nots to abide by, and each of the contracting persons were willing to tie an extra piece of string to the tie that binds, no one would want a divorce.

Thirdly, people who know all there is to know to date about bringing up little children will tell you they will do better without too many laws to obey. Oh, yes, they must obey certain right and necessary rules, but don't make copy cats out of them by saying do this and don't do that all day long. A child will be full of terrible things if you do. And don't keep punishing and scolding him for things that don't matter.

Here we have the whole family and the same advice for everyone. What does it amount to, this freedom?

There are different kinds of freedom. One kind means license. The world would not go very far on that. But there is a bigger and better freedom—the kind that permits growth and happiness. It has a nice sound. It is called tolerance.

Rings For Men?

Men, too, are to wear engagement rings henceforth. So says the retail jeweler of Massachusetts, in convention assembled.

It may well be. The jeweler offers to help any girl who wishes to select a suitable ring. They point out that it's only fair, after all, for the male to wear as badge of his engaged status, just as the girl does.

But there's the rub: the stone, naturally, is to be bought by the girl. And how many young ladies, earnestly laying away every dime for wedding garments and the like, are going to dig down to bestow on friend husband-to-be an expensive ring?

Sometimes we have a hunch that this scheme will die. And it won't be the men that will kill it, either.

There has been no perceptible increase in man's intelligence in the last 20,000 years, says a magazine writer. And some of the jokes have lasted all those years, too.

THE PLAINSMAN

Two boys, both 17 years of age, plead guilty to robbing the Crosscut postoffice of $1.50 and were sentenced at San Angelo yesterday to a year and a day each in the Federal prison at Leavenworth.

Chicago's Bohemian section is in the midst of an uproar as its devotees argue over the wearing of clothes. One group declares that clothes are essential to art, to beauty, to comfort and to modesty while another swears just the opposite. Judging from the new spring styles, however, the people who stand for clothes seem to be fighting a losing battle.

A lot of people will do things away from home that they wouldn't think of doing at home. For instance, the Plainsman is reliably informed that at a recent district meeting of the Methodist missionary societies at Abilene a chewing gum distributor, to prove the merits of his wares, gave out samples and the good ladies, many of them the very soul of propriety, simply out of erring youth and believes that if mercy is to be meted out it should start with the youngsters who may yet be saved to make good citizens rather than in the cases of habitual crooks who are old enough to know what they are doing when they break the laws.

He whom a dream hath possessed knoweth no more of sorrow.

At death and the dropping of leaves and the falling of suns he smiles.

For a dream remembers no past and scorns the desire of a morrow.

And a dream in a sea of doom sets surely the ultimate isles.

WASHINGTON LETTER

AL SMITH IS GAINING IN STRENGTH, BUT HE ISN'T NOMINATED YET

By RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, April 26.—One hour that Governor Al Smith is gaining strength within the Democratic party and that he is more likely to be nominated than anyone else.

An attempt has been begun to identify him to the public with at least one national issue, the hydro-electric power issue, and it is not unlikely that Governor Al's scope will be similarly broadened as the time draws nigh for the party to deposit in someone's hands the little red apple which has turned to a decayed raspberry in the hands of the estimable John W. Davis.

Not Yet Certain In these days prior to convening of the next congress one man's hazy conjecture is as good as another's, but it is hard to believe that Smith's nomination is as nearly certain as many insistent persons would have us all believe.

Millions of Democrats would almost rather take poison than a candidate from New York. Some of this feeling doubtless is traceable to a stupid hatred of New York and all its works. Better memories of the last national convention intensified the sentiment. But there is much more to it than that.

"The Democrats," says an important southern politician, "haven't had an electoral vote from New York in any presidential election since 1912, when the Republican party was split. The same is true of New Jersey, where the Democrats couldn't even win for Wilson in 1916."

"We haven't had one from Rhode Island since 1912. 'Never in the history of the party, have we had an electoral vote from Massachusetts, except in 1912. 'We haven't had one from Pennsylvania since 1912. 'Nor from Delaware, except in 1912, since 1912."

The Wet Territory "And those states represent the Al Smith strength of 1924 and the backbone of it for 1928. It's the wet section of the Democratic party, which is three-fourths dry."

This politician, it might be interpolated, is personally quite wet. He admits that the Democratic party simply doesn't dare be wet. "These eastern Democrats never voted for us even when we nominated their man, Judge Alton B. Parker was their candidate and he couldn't even run as well as Bryan. We nominated the east's man in 1924 and he ran worse than Bryan ran in any of his three campaigns."

TOO MANY LAWS

Did you know that there are almost two million laws on the statute books and about one hundred thousand new ones are proposed every year? Well, that is about right. However, of the one hundred thousand proposed annually about ten thousand of these pass and are written down with the millions already on the books.

Is it not easily understood, then, why so many of our laws are broken each day? It certainly would take a person with a very wonderful mind to be able to know exactly what laws there are.

Every new crop of office seekers have with them thousands of laws they think may remedy things and many bills offered in the several states and in the National legislative bodies confuse things so that the average man knows not what he is doing. To enforce these laws and carry out other government activities it requires an army of men that is getting larger each year.—Clovie News.

DREAMERS

"He is a dreamer," the world says as one steps out from the beaten path. "His ideas can never be made practical."

Dreamers have made the world. Columbus dreamed of a new path to India and America was discovered. Critics scoffed at DeLesseps for thinking of a canal through Panama—but it is there today. The Wright brothers were hailed as foolhardy when they said that men could learn to fly. But the airplane has come into its own.

There are millions more who dream—then acted. Nothing great has ever been accomplished unless someone dreamed it would come true. Do not be disdainful of the dreamer. A youth may come to you with some idea which now seems fantastic and out-of-place. Advise him, yes, but do not scoff. A simple word of helpfulness may set the spark of ambition which will flame the fire of genius. Fictitious may crush the vision.—Post Dispatch.

Quits vs. Quarts

Exercise and the outdoors are substitutes for wild parties, a psychiatrist advises. One of these evenings when you attend a party you won't know whether a man is asking you for quarts or quarts.... No party will be complete without a couple of discs on the hip.... When somebody suggests a necking affair, propose instead a chinning contest. Thus the horizontal soon will supplant the punch bowl in some of our best families.... But if the outdoors is a good antidote for spooning, then those park benches certainly fall to rest.

Newly married men are not the only ones who have to eat humble pie. Vitamins postpone the limit of man's maturity, says a dietitian. Tell your banker about them. wins he will have a better than fighting chance to win with the vote of the south and west, discarding the north-east. If Smith is nominated, we might as well win with a combination of southern, western and northeastern states and will lose some of the doubtful states. "But we've got to be shown that Mr. Smith can do better for us than Mr. McAdoo. Speaking of progressive vote, however, it should be added that some of the late Senator La Follette's best friends here are confident that Smith, if nominated, would inherit virtually every vote that was cast for the La Follette-Wheeler ticket in 1924.

IN NEW YORK SEE-SAWING AND BROADWAY

NEW YORK, April 26.—Steadily, the way belt moves northward, carrying theaters, cabarets, eating places and all the spawn of Broadway as it goes. At intersecting streets it overflows and casts them to east and to west, but just now chiefly to west.

Eighty avenue in the upper Forties, once a collection of shabby palaces with tattered stores and uninviting rooming houses, is alive with wrecking crews as the new stems of the rialto stretch out to erase the old, like green vines covering the deadclimbers of yesterday.

One of the newest and largest theaters of the Champs occupies a location which a few years ago would have been considered impossible. The theater belt now stretches beyond the Fifaves and slowly passes Columbus Circle.

Walter Hampden, deciding to have his own New York theater, built well beyond the Circle and Broadway commented that perhaps he could get away with it as a private producer of the old classics but no commercial theater could make the grade. Whereupon another appeared a block or so up and has been operated successfully through the season by the Theater Guild.

There are still many who remember when the heart of the theater life was south of Times Square. Those theaters that lie in that belt are looked upon for the most part as the old timers and several of them now get plays only when upper Broadway is overcrowded.

The wisemen no longer smile. They are now ready to predict that the day may not be far off when the Circle and not the square will be the center of the rialto's activities.

Earl Carroll was largely responsible for this up-town movement. The candidate for Atlanta prison is credited with being "the man who moved Broadway seven blocks."

The limit has been placed around 42nd and 44th street and anyone who went beyond was laughed at. People would not go up so far, said the theater folk. But Carroll put a theater around 50th street and within a couple of years a line of lights had grown to meet his new enterprise. Today the new Broadway theater, latest of super-show places, has its entrance at 51st, and is not considered out of the way.

Old timers, away from Broadway for many years, look in vain for the old haunts. The cafes at which they feasted are no more. Delmonico's, Sherry's—the whole parade—surpassed to skyscraper, arm chair lunch counters and rising apartments. The haunts where once was the capital of the big street grow overburdened with cheap stores, cheap restaurants and theaters with more past tradition than present activeness. The newer theaters are not the theaters of the gallery gods. They squat wide and fat, instead of slender and tall. Few now rise higher than a second balcony. Peanuts, ice cream and candy between acts are now known only to the East Side and the Bronx. There the folk still go to theaters for a "good time," taking the entire family, drinking pop and nibbling of all the cheap dainties offered by the penny butchers. GILBERT SWAN. Legal Notices

NOTICE TO THE PEOPLE OF LUBBOCK COUNTY

This is to notify all parties who have property to be rendered for taxes for the year of 1927 to come in and render their property for taxes at the office of one of the assistants, or to see R. C. Burns Tax Assessor, or to see one of the assistants and render said property, as all property must be rendered not later than first of May, and all property and books will be closed.

Each year there is considerable error in assessment occasioned by people failing to render their taxes which causes the Commissioners' Court a lot of unnecessary work in making adjustments on errors in assessment, which is going to have to be remedied so for this reason I am calling your attention to this matter, and advise you that no errors assessments will be recommended by the tax assessor and your property will have to stand on the tax rolls as it is assessed.

To say yourselves the extra money you might have to pay by reason of your property not being assessed right, and to get away from the bad practice of having to make so many adjustments in your valuation we will advise to properly render your taxes.

Yours very truly, R. C. BURNS, Tax Assessor.

Abilene Plans To Get Druggist Meet

ABILENE, April 26—Abilene wants to entertain the 1927 meeting of the Texas Pharmaceutical association and is going to make a strenuous effort to satisfy that desire.

The next meeting of that organization is to be held on June 21, 22 and 23 at San Antonio and the Abilene Chamber of Commerce is cooperating with the retail druggists of Abilene in planning a campaign that will bring the druggists of Texas here for their annual conflag in the summer of 1928.

Last year, when the association met in Dallas over 1,300 members attended. Indications are that the attendance at San Antonio will surpass that of the 1926 convention and it is expected that by the time for the next year meeting over 1,500 will be shaped up to attend.

Plans for sending a special train from this city to San Antonio for the coming convention are being considered. A large delegation from this city and other sections of West Texas is already assured and all the pill-rollers in this area are for Abilene, according to Harvey Hays, president of the Abilene Retail Druggists association.

Over 400 attended the semi-annual meeting of the West Texas Druggists association which was held here March 15 and 16. Many druggists from other parts of the state were here as were several officers of the state association, some of them speaking for the Abilene and for the 1928 meeting and promising their support to such an undertaking.

Hard Wind Uproots Lockney Windmills

LOCKNEY, Tex., April 25.—A hard straight wind played havoc with several windmills in the city of Lockney recently. On the Walter Childress place the windmill was blown down on top of the house, completely wrecking the mill, and tearing a large hole in the roof of the house.

At Petersburg, 25 miles southwest of Lockney, a building under construction that lacked only the roof of being completed, was leveled to the ground. The building was to be used as a picture show house and was owned by Des Lynn of Lorenz. The loss was approximated at $800.00.

There was no damage to growing crops from either the wind or cold, even though the temperature has dropped several degrees.

Two Men Being Held For Beating Oil Man

PORT WORTH, April 26 (AP).—Walter Allen, 30, production engineer of the Marland Oil company, was hospitalized in a hospital and two men were being held by police Monday as the aftermath of a fight last night which followed an automobile collision.

Allen's car was said to have been parked at a curb when an automobile occupied by the two men being held, another man and two women, ran into it. In an altercation which followed, Allen was knocked to the ground and his head is believed to have struck the curb, fracturing the skull.

Tokyo Bankers Think Money Crisis Ended

TOKYO, April 26 (AP).—With the three week moratorium in effect, Tokyo bankers Monday declared that the Japanese financial panic was virtually at an end.

No further runs on the banks are expected. The bank of Japan is extending assistance without limit to the needy institutions, and the public reassured, is redepositing huge sums.

LUBBOCK FARM BUREAU ACTIVE

Organization To Have Booth At Annual Fair; Plans Are Being Laid Now

Arrangements for the preparation of a booth at the annual Panhandle South Plains Fair this fall by the farm bureau, demonstrating work and possible advantages, have been made by A. B. Davis, manager of the fair and N. H. Payne, local field man for the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association. The fair will be held September 27 to October 1, inclusive.

Field men representing 15 South Plains counties will co-operate in preparing the exhibit and taking care of it during the fair. Five field men stationed in this section will assist in this. Each man will have charge of the booth one day of the fair and at that time he will have his directors and members from the counties he has charge of here to assist in keeping the booth.

Hays To Cooperate
The plan was agreed upon at Dallas recently when field men over the state met with M. E. Hays, director of field services. Hays will cooperate in preparing the exhibit, it was stated.

A tour of the South Plains to create interest in the proposed exhibit, will be conducted by N. H. Payne, field man for Lubbock, Hockley and Cochran counties, when all members of the board of directors will go along. They will visit Littlefield Thursday, when checks will be handed out to all members for 1926 cotton by J. W. Hamrick, field representative for Lamb, Bailey, Parmer and Castro counties. The exhibit will be discussed at this time. May 2, Payne and his directors will be at Crosbyton, and May 21 they will go to Lamesa where members from Dawson, Terry, Andrews, Youkum and Gaines counties will be present.

BABE IS STRANGLER ON A RUBBER PACIFIER

AUSTIN, April 26 (AP).—Strangled on a rubber pacifier, the six-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Selmen died here Saturday, despite physicians' efforts at resuscitation with a pulmotor.
Doctors were called after the baby began gasping for air but could not reach the rubber piece with surgical instruments and called in the fire department pulmotor, hoping this to prolong life while that incision was made. The child died, however, before the operation started.

Rail Construction Is Now Under Way

LOCKNEY, April 26.—On the route of the Denver and South Plains railway, from Lockney to Lubbock, there has been two camps established close to Petersburg, in Hall county. One is located in the town of Petersburg, while the other is two miles south of that city. The larger of the camps employs about 20 men, working 80 miles with two excavators. The locating of these two camps brings the total up to four; on the Lockney-Lubbock line.

Practically all of the grading in this direction has been done in Hale county. The grading is complete in that county on the Lockney-Lubbock line. The greater part of the right-of-way through Lockney has been secured, and houses in the way have been moved.

The Lockney committee will soon have all of the right-of-way that is required, as the work is being carried on with remarkable rapidity. The pledges for the purchasing of the right-of-way are fast being paid and the work of the local committee will soon be finished.

Floyd County Sells Two Loads Of Hogs

FLOYDADA, April 26.—More than fifty thousand dollars worth of Floyd county hogs have been shipped to an El Paso packing company during the past six weeks, two loads going out the first of this week from Floydada, purchased from N. A. Armstrong and two loads from Lockney, making the total consignments to date from the county reach a total value of $52,095.62.
With the recovery of the hog market last year, stock farmers of the county, with a large surplus of feed on hand, began restocking their hog lots and pastures, with the result that thousands of dollars worth of hogs were produced last fall for home consumption and shipments to packers began to be frequent last fall. The local chamber of commerce sponsored a movement last year that brought 60 head of Duroc hogs into the county. A close estimate of the number of hogs placed in the county by this method is 300.
