JAPS BEGIN NEW ATTACK ON FORT

Pastor Names Accused Professors

REV. CAMPBELL, DR. HORN IN CONFERENCE

NAMES WITHHELD FROM PUBLICATION UNTIL CHARGES PROBED

Four professors including a department head of Texas Technological college were designated by Rev. R. C. Campbell, pastor of the First Baptist church here, in a conference with President Paul W. Horn this morning, as "guilty of teaching atheism and infidelity to students".

"The names of the accused professors will be withheld from publication by both myself and Rev. Campbell until a full investigation of the charges has been made and hearings held," Dr. Horn announced after the conference.

The conference between the two was of an "amicable nature", it was reported.

Reverend Campbell made certain statements and named certain professors as guilty of the charges he made. Dr Horn said "We both have agreed to withhold the names of the men for the present and will issue a joint statement in the immediate future on the case."

Hearings To Be Held

The college president said a full investigation of the charges will be held along with hearings with students and the accused professors. Further conferences between him and the minister will follow, he said.

Reverend Campbell reiterated his charge against the professors Tuesday night declaring that he had "facts to substantiate the things I said in my message Sunday night—I have what I said in manuscript form and there will be no doubt as to what I did say." The pastor made the charge public in a sermon delivered from his pulpit Sunday night.

The case was the subject of much comment here today. It was discussed in practically every gathering Tuesday and Wednesday and held the spotlight of attention in practically every meeting in the city.

Demonstration Not Held

A student demonstration to protest the Baptist minister's action was reported to have been planned in front of Rev. Campbell's home last night but it failed to materialize. College authorities were said to have thwarted the action.

Student leaders said today that practically the entire support of the student body would be given to the accused professors.

Don Maddox, president of the student body, declared that in his four years of attendance at the college he had never heard an inkling of any doctrines of atheism or infidelity being taught. Other student leaders made similar statements Tuesday.

It was learned today that similiar accusations were presented only a short time ago before the Lubbock Ministerial Alliance but further action was immediately voted down.

PROTEST FILED

FORT WORTH, Feb. 10.—The charge of Rev. R. C. Campbell, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Lubbock, that atheism and infidelity are being taught in Texas Technological College, Tuesday brought the protest of T. L. Vance, 1008 Lipscomb Street, former school principal here.

"Rev. Mr. Campbell's accusation and the resulting investigation will bring about a situation that will make it hard for professors to think freely," said Vance. "I speak as a Baptist and graduate of Baylor University, but I want to protest this thing that Rev. Mr. Campbell wants to start.

"The teachers can't take a stand in the matter because most people are of the opinion that the minister is right."

RUSSIAN TRADE PACT DISCUSSED

LONDON, Feb. 10. (AP)—The British government is considering a renouncement of the trade treaty with Soviet Russia, made by the late labor government, the Daily Mail said today, to stop the "dumping" of Russian goods on the home market.

The announcement would be made, the paper said, shortly after the return of Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon from the disarmament conference at Geneva. The British trade balance is imperilled under the present condition, it said, with imports of Russian goods exceeding British exports to Russia by nearly $100,000,000 a year.

HUNT NEGRO ASSAILANTS

ARMED POSSES OPEN SEARCH AT HOUSTON

WOMAN IS BRUTALLY ATTACKED BY TWO BLACKS TUESDAY

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Feb. 10. — Heavily armed posses today sought two negroes who criminally attacked a 22-year-old white woman.

The brutal attack occurred near Buffelo stadium last night. The woman and her escort were forced from their automobile. The negroes bound the man with a rope and threw him into a ditch. They then carried the woman a half block away and attacked her.

The man worked himself loose after three hours and freed the woman who had been bound and left lying in tall grass. The negroes had shoved her hat over her eyes.

At a hospital, the woman was unable to give a coherent account of the occurrence. Her companion said the negroes, one carrying a pistol and the other a flashlight, approached the automobile from the side of the road and ordered the couple to get out of the car.

MERCURY IN LUBBOCK'S THERMOMETER FORGETS WINTER NOT OVER AND CLIMBS TO EIGHTY-TWO DEGREE-MARK

That silvery line in Lubbock's thermometer forgot Tuesday that winter and its icebox breath had not retired officially and a temperature of 82 degrees was recorded before the day had ended. Saturday's maximum reading of 78 degrees previously was the local high-mark for 1932.

Light skies were cloudy much of this morning, although the sun's rays penetrated sufficiently to produce half-hearted illumination at intervals.

Monday's maximum temperature was 68 degrees.

Although Tuesday's most extreme reading was higher than temperatures reported at several other Texas points, Don L. Jones, superintendent of the state experiment sub-station here said temperatures here the last several days had been only slightly warmer than usual for early February here.

"We always have some warm weather in February; usually not quite so early," Jones said.

Rain today promised to break the range of comparatively high temperatures prevailing in Texas. The weather bureau has forecast precipitation generally over the state.

Reports from virtually every section told of unseasonably warm weather in the past 48 hours. Many points recorded the highest February mercury readings in years.

At Wichita Falls a nine-year period was topped with a high mark of 87. Longview had a record figure of 84. Dallas with 80 was as high as any time in the past five years.

Maximum readings from other points: Austin had 84, Denton 79, Corpus Christi 88, Brownsville 81, Gainesville 80, Abilene 86, Amarillo 78, El Paso 76, Houston 82, Palestine 82, Port Arthur 76 and San Antonio 84.

Skies were cloudy and overcast over practically the entire state today, checking temperature rises. Most sections were in line for rain today or tonight. Tomorrow also was expected to be rainy and unsettled.

REPORT GIVEN ON ELECTION

VOTE BUYING CHARGE DENIED BUT OTHER VIOLATIONS CITED

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb 10—Charges of vote buying and efforts by corporations to influence their employes were discounted today in a report to the senate elections subcommittee considering the Heflin-Bankhead contest, but testimony on other law violations was stressed.

Chairman Hastings, in a report on the recent testimony taken for the committee in Alabama, cited charges of 30 varieties of law violation in the election of Senator Bankhead (D., Ala.) which is being contested by former Senator Heflin.

Violations Cited

He said there seemed to be no dispute that voters were permitted to cast their ballots without appearing in person at the polling places and reported the testimony showed it was the practice to pay the poll tax for others, though that is forbidden by law.

Hastings said 14 witnesses had testified to the purchase of votes or the offer to purchase.

"I do not think," he said, however, "the testimony offered upon this point is sufficiently satisfactory to make it appear that the purchase of votes was carried on to such an extent as to seriously affect the election. There was no testimony connecting Mr Bankhead with the purchase of votes."

Hastings said 17 witnesses testified that corporations had endeavored to influence votes of their employes, but he added he was "not greatly impressed with these charges."

MOVE TO LOOSEN CREDIT STARTED

WASHINGTON, Feb 10. (AP)—A non-partisan move to loosen the credit situation and strengthen the work of the reconstruction finance corporation was instituted by President Hoover today at an early morning conference with six senators.

Shortly after the conference adjourned, White House officials announced Senator Glass (D., Va.), one of the conferees, would introduce a bill designed to bring about these results.

Details concerning the method to be followed in relieving the credit situation and bolstering the $2,000,000,000 credit corporation were not immediately available.

Knife Blade Taken From Man's Brain

CHICAGO, Feb. 10 (AP)—Linus Larson, 59, who had a knife blade two and a half inches long in his brain for thirty years without knowing what was the matter with him, left the Illinois research hospital yesterday a well man.

The blade was removed a little more than two weeks ago by an operation. Attacks of epilepsy caused removal of the knife blade. It was broken off in his head during a fight.

AMARILLO SEEKS FINANCE OFFICE

AMARILLO, Feb. 10 (AP)—A demand that a regional office of the reconstruction finance corporation be established at Amarillo to facilitate loans to farmers of the Texas Panhandle, eastern New Mexico and western Oklahoma, was voiced at a mass meeting here today.

Farmers, bankers, county agents and other representatives from a wide territory around Amarillo attended the meeting. Delegates were present from Oklahoma, southern Kansas, Colorado and New Mexico.

Telegrams were read from Congressman Marvin Jones stating that funds from the $50,000,000 allotment to farmers should be available "within the next few days."

The meeting voted to send Mayor Ernest Thompson and John E. Hill, Amarillo, to Washington to confer with Secretary of Agriculture Hyde on the plans for handling the farm loans in this section, and to present an urgent request for a regional office here.

FEW CLUES FOUND IN GIRL SLAYING

NEW YORK, Feb. 10 (AP)—Brooklyn police had only a postcard and an old suitcase for clues today in the slaying of 13-year-old Marie Rosales, whose body was found in a bathtub in an unoccupied tenement yesterday.

The postcard was addressed simply to the janitor of the tenement and said "go to the top floor apartment. You will find something that will surprise you." In the lower left hand corner was scribbled "it's a murder."

The postoffice department, unable to deliver the card when it was received by them, notified police.

Detectives found the girl submerged in water, her skull crushed with a pipe.

Statute's Validity Is Upheld By Court

AUSTIN, Feb. 10. (AP)—A three-judge federal court today upheld the validity of a statute giving the Texas railroad commission power to prevent wastage of natural gas. The court filed its opinion here today in a suit for injunction brought by F. C. Henderson, inc., against the railroad commission and others.

Henderson operated a plant in the Panhandle field for extraction of gasoline from natural gas.

The opinion denied Henderson's application for a temporary and permanent injunction and granted the state's plea for an injunction restraining Henderson from the wasteful use of the natural gas in the plant.

Under the injunction, Henderson, inc., "must desist from using gas at its plant unless and until provision has been made for the utilization of the residue gas without waste."

TROUBLE SEEN FOR SPAIN

PRISON SHIP OFF FOR UNKNOWN POINT AS STRIKE LOOMS

(By The Associated Press)

BARCELONA, Spain, Feb. 10.—A threat of further labor and syndicalist troubles in Spain, with the possibility of a general revolutionary strike, had authorities of the republic on the alert today, after the departure of the prison ship Buenos Aires with 110 prisoners for an unknown point of exile.

The prisoners were some of those arrested during the syndicalist strikes and riots of last month. The prison ship sailed out of Barcelona harbor early this morning, while a crowd of sympathizers stood on the docks and shouted: "Long live anarchy! down with the republic!"

The forlorn prisoners, starting on their way to dreary exile, they knew not where, answered with a muffled shout from the portholes of the cains in which they were confined within the ship. The guards, feeling secure enough, stood by tolerantly.

Although the destination of the Buenos Aires was not made known this morning, officials said they believed the captain would receive orders on the high seas by radio to proceed either to the Canary islands or Spanish Guinea.

Armament Stand Is Hailed In Britain

LONDON, Feb. 10. (AP)—London newspapers expressed much gratification in editorials today over the disarmament proposals of the United States as outlined at Geneva by Ambassador Hugh Gibson, acting chief of the American delegation at the conference.

The press generally hailed the Gibson proposals as closely coinciding with the British plan outlined the day before by Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary. The Times said the American plan left a deep impression on the delegates and was assured of a ready response throughout the British empire.

STUDENT'S VIEWS ON "STUPIDITY OF MARRIAGE" COST HIM JOB AS EDITOR

(By The Associated Press)

DANVILLE, Ky., Feb. 10 — Charles J. Thurmond's views on matrimony, which were published under the caption, "Stupidity of Marriage," have cost him his job as editor of the Cento, student publication at Centre college.

A big demand for copies of the Feb. 5 issue of the publication was reported today when it became known that the editorial had resulted in Thurmond's removal from the editorial post.

Thurmond wrote that marriage "ends in wrecked lives and the casting of ugly blemishes on young lives having to come in contact with it."

At a meeting of the college committee called yesterday by Dr. Charles J. Turck, president of the college, Thurmond was ousted as editor. The paper's staff named Larry Woboril to succeed him. Thurmond's supporters claimed the storm was caused by "class politics" but their protests were to no avail.

Thurmond, a resident of Danville and a senior in the college, will be permitted to remain in school and no further disciplinary action is planned. In a statement he said there was no one in college "who is stricter in his personal morals than I am," and stated "I do not practice what is expressed as a possible solution to unsatisfactory marriage." He said he had announced previously in the Cento he would present his views on marriage in a later issue, and that no attempt was made to stop him.

Bob Sled Title Is Retained By U. S.

OLYMPIC BOB RUN, Lake Placid, N. Y., Feb. 10 (AP)—Hubert Stevens of Lake Placid twice smashed the world record for two-man bobs to catch Reto Capadrutt, sensational young Swiss, in the final two heats of the Olympic competition today and retain for the United States the title Jack Heaton won at St. Moritz in 1928.

Going into the final day 4.28 seconds behind the 20-year-old Swiss after the first two heats yesterday, Stevens turned in two almost unbelievably perfect runs of 1:59.69 and 1:57.68, both times smashing the record Capadrutt set on his first run today his final total time for the four heats of the competition was 8 minutes, 14.74 seconds. Capadrutt finished his last run in a 1:59.67 to take second place, 1.54 seconds behind Stevens.

California Swept By Severe Storms

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10 (AP)—Storm clouds spent their fury in southern California yesterday, inundating thousands of acres of farm lands, washing out bridges, disrupting transportation and driving hundreds from homes, while a new storm, sweeping down the coast from British Columbia, was promised for today.

San Diego was cut off from rail transportation after heavy washouts. In the vicinity of Los Angeles an average of 3.21 inches of rain fell between Sunday night and Tuesday evening and records of 17 years' standing were shattered.

SHOUSE URGES NO PLEDGES

CONVENTION FREE TO MAKE OWN CHOICE WILL BE SOUGHT

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Jouett Shouse, chairman of the Democratic national executive committee, favors a party convention unpledged in advance to any candidate, free to make its choice on the basis of conditions at the time it is held.

He disclosed this view in a statement to the Associated Press, made public today. In it he directly denied having combined with former Governor Smith and Chairman Raskob to block the nomination of Franklin D. Roosevelt. Complete impartiality, he insisted, has been maintained both by himself and the national party headquarters. Raskob, in New York, yesterday issued a similar declaration of neutrality.

Shouse was asked his intentions in the light of widespread discussion which has followed the declaration of Smith regarding his availability as a candidate. Shouse made no reference to the Smith statement.

This same statement caused the Louisville Courier-Journal to undertake a poll of Democratic national committeemen and women.

Replies received by it up to now accounted for about two dozen of the more than one hundred members of the committee. Coming from all parts of the country they ranged from: "I do not consider Governor Smith a contender" to "his statements make him a candidate."

Appeal In Bridge Case Is Dismissed

AUSTIN, Feb. 10. (AP)—Judge W. F. Robertson of Travis county district court announced today that the Red River Bridge company had withdrawn its appeal from the unfavorable verdict in its suit to collect $165,000 damages from the Texas Highway department.

The company sought a judgment in connection with the construction by Texas and Oklahoma of a free passage over Red river, connecting Denison, Texas, and Durant, Okla., paralleling a toll structure owned by the company. It was claimed the Texas commission entered into a series of contracts designed to reimburse the company for claimed losses and to purchase the toll bridge. The court held the contracts invalid and rendered judgment against the company.

WALLACE DIES EARLY TODAY

PROLIFIC WRITER OF MYSTERY STORIES DEATH VICTIM

(By The Associated Press)

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Feb. 10—Edgar Wallace, who became one of the world's most prolific and highest-paid writers after starting life as a newsboy in the slums of London, died this morning at 4:45 o'clock. Death was due to double pneumonia. He was 56 years of age.

The noted author of mystery stories was stricken Sunday with influenza. Pneumonia developed Monday and since yesterday the writer had been in a semi-conscious condition.

Friends At Bedside

At his bedside when he died were his secretary of many years, Robert Curtis; Walter Huston, the actor, and his physician.

Wallace came to Hollywood from his home in England several months ago to write scenarios for the RKO-Radio studios.

Known especially for his mystery novels, which he often wrote as rapidly as two a month, Wallace was one of the most distinguished writers of the day. He, however, laid no claim to literary genius.

Born in the squalor and poverty of London slums, Wallace's parents were so poor they had to leave him in the care of a public boarding school.

At ten he sold papers on the streets and his education in school stopped at that age. At eleven he engaged himself as a cabin boy on a trawler which later cruised the North sea.

TWO DISARMAMENT PROPOSALS GIVEN

GENEVA, Feb. 10 (AP) — Foreign Minister Dino Grandi of Italy and Ambassador Tsuneo Matsudaira of Japan presented the last two of the disarmament proposals of the five great powers to the world conference today.

The young black-bearded Italian foreign minister, believed to be the youngest delegate to the conference, brought thunders of applause from the floor as he tolled off a long list of war implements Italy stands ready to scrap. The list included capital ships, submarines, aircraft carriers, heavy artillery, tanks, bombing aircraft and chemical warfare weapons.

He also proposed a revision of the laws of war to protect civilian populations. In international quarters afterward the Italian plan was hailed as the first proposal for "real disarmament."

Ambassador Matsudaira, chief of the Japanese delegation, assured the conference that "notwithstanding the unfortunate situation in the far east Japan is as eager as ever to further the cause of disarmament."

Mills Confirmation Is Scheduled Today

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—Ogden L. Mills will be secretary of the treasury by tonight if the senate acts with the expected dispatch.

His nomination, approved unanimously yesterday by the finance committee, awaited confirmation today. The prospect was for approval in action short and snappy. Promotion of Arthur A. Ballantine to succeed him as undersecretary of the department depended on the same procedure.

SABRE CHARGE TAKES HEAVY CASUALTIES

U. S. MARINES GUARD TEN-MILE ZONE IN NEUTRAL AREA

BY MORRIS J. HARRIS
(Copyright By Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, Feb. 10.—The Japanese directed another determined attack against the battered fortress and smouldering village of Woosung today after Chinese cavalry were reported to have inflicted heavy casualties at Chapei with an oldtime cavalry and sabre charge in the face of rattling machine guns.

At the same time, the United States marines, guarding a line on a 10-mile front inside and outside the international settlement, took up the heaviest burden of the defense of the settlement. The marines' line extended from the settlement's extreme western areas, along Soochow creek, the northern boundary, until it met the soldiers of the thirty first United States infantry ten miles to the east.

Kept On Alert

Parts of this front faced directly on Chapei, daily scene of shelling, bombing and heavy machine gun fire. The Chinese troops faced the marines across Soochow creek and the marines were kept constantly on the alert as the Chinese erected barricades, but relations between the two forces were described as "friendly as possible under the circumstances" and the marines were not worried.

Leading Chinese commercial and banking organizations sent telegrams during the day to Secretary of State Stimson at Washington and to the British, French and Italian premiers, urging them to try to bring about a settlement of the Sino-Japanese dispute" in accordance with the ideals of the League of Nations, the Kellogg pact and the nine-power treaty.

Forts Defended

The Chinese defenders of the Woosung forts again clung tenaciously to their positions in the face of a terrific shelling and attacks by the Japanese.

Shells and bullets from the Chapei conflict continued to land in the international settlement, thudding against the walls of the municipal police station on Wixwell road, in the Hongkew area, for example, at such a rate that the station was ordered closed.

JAPAN'S PROPOSAL ONLY A "FEELER"

TOKYO, Feb. 10. (AP)—Recent Japanese proposal for "demilitarization" of the principal commercial centers in China, including Shanghai, was only a "feeler," a spokesman for the foreign office said today, and had not been discussed by the cabinet.

Referring to the American objections to the plan, however, the spokesman added that the United States, in 1927, set a precedent for such a proposal, by suggesting that Chinese war lords then in Shanghai be excluded from the zone of activities. The American proposal was evoked by the northward drive of Marshal Chiang Kai Shek's nationalist armies during the revolution of that year and Shanghai was threatened at the time.

The suggestion for demilitarized zones, he said, was made to sound out world opinion and to provide a starting point for considering international cooperation concerning China.

JAPANESE POSITION MAY BE EXPLAINED

TOKYO, Feb. 10. (AP)—Foreign Minister Kenkichi Yoshizawa announced today he had under consideration a plan to send envoys to the United States, England and France to explain and clarify the Japanese position on the Manchurian question.

Should this procedure be decided upon by the government, the foreign minister said, the men to present the Japanese viewpoint have been tentatively selected.

They would be Viscount Kentaro Kaneko, who would go to Washington; Baron Gonsuke Hayashi, London; and Viscount Kiku Jiro, Paris.

New Prosecutor To Serve In Honolulu

HONOLULU, Feb. 10. (AP)—John C. Kelley, Honolulu's newly appointed public prosecutor, has just one month to prepare the territory's case against Mrs. Granville Fortescue of New York, her son-in-law, Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, U. S. N., and E. J. Lord and A. O. Jones, navy enlisted men, charged with slaying Joseph Kahahawai, Hawaiian.

Kelley received his appointment late yesterday from Mayor George F. Wright, a few hours after Judge A. H. Cristy set March 10 as the date for commencement of the trial of the "honor slayers." Kahahawai was the alleged leader of five youths of mixed blood under indictment for a criminal assault last September on Mrs. Thalia Massie, wife of the lieutenant and daughter of Mrs. Fortescue.

TWO HEARINGS CONDUCTED

APPLICATIONS HEARD FOR PERMITS AT SESSION HERE

Two contract carrier permit hearings were conducted Wednesday morning by Director Mark Marshall of the Texas Railroad commission and the cases submitted after testimony for both sides was introduced.

One application for a permit to operate a common carrier truck between Spur and Dickens was heard when the application of F. L. Edwards, Spur, came up. Herbert L. Smith, representing the general manager's association and Fred Wallace, Denver attorney, announced no opposition because the truck is serving a territory they do not reach but must depend on a truck line for service. The case was submitted.

Two witnesses for R. B. Grindstaff, Rotan, to operate between that town and Stamford, were heard just before noon. These two, E. L. Newton, mayor, and O. C. Bittick, a merchant, asked to testify as they had to leave and had spent over two days here. The case is to come up this afternoon.

Director Marshall announced the docket would be called at 2 o'clock and all applicants not present or represented would have the case dismissed for want of prosecution.

Application of P. E. Mayhew, Anson, to operate around that town, was heard. Otis Miller, Anson, county attorney of Jones county represented the applicant and cross examination was by Smith and Wallace. T. E. Hoffman, T-P official, was the defense witness.

[illegible] Cox of Breckenridge, presented his application for a contract permit for that area. He was submitted to considerable cross-examination.

DR. MYERS

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D. Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

SCHOOL AND HOME

In the "Ohio Teacher," under the caption "Home-School Relationships," I wrote recently about some things of interest, I hope, to parents. It ran about as follows:

> In spite of our best efforts at school, most of the child's education is not gained there. It goes on outside of school, chiefly at home, whether the teachers and his parents are aware of it or not. Why should we not set out deliberately to contribute toward this larger field of education to the end that it shall be more effectual at home and that it shall make school education more effective too?

The learner's basic habits, attitudes, emotions are established for the most part in his home, even before he begins to go to school; and while he is attending school these factors have most of their normal routine in the home. Each day he comes to school he brings in his nervous system and much of his home along with him; and when he leaves the school in the afternoon he goes back to his home. It is there his life runs along naturally, as a rule. How he is treated there by his parents and others of the family, how worthy and secure he feels as a member of his family, his home habits and emotional life are determined largely by his success at school.

It is the child invisible, the sacred personality, that comes to school. Unseen, but felt, by him, may be his loved ones in the school. Side by side they sit with him, hand in hand they walk with him. These unseen guests at school may interrupt him with annoyances while he tries to study spelling, history or algebra; or make his learning easier by whispering words of encouragement. Sorrows, worries, fears, he may have at school on their account; or, hopes and joys and courage they may bring to him. Back in his consciousness may be vague or vivid memory of trouble and discouragement at home, or of happiness and hopes.

It rarely occurs to him to divulge these experiences of his to his classmates or his teacher, though he may reveal them unaware in many ways. Perhaps he thinks nobody cares about such matters, that if he were to mention them he might be rebuked or ridiculed.

An occasional child, particularly in the primary grades, does innocently take the teacher into his confidence and relates those human matters which lie closest to the fountain of his feelings. Probably he finds a sympathetic listener, though not always. Wonderful that teacher in whom the pupil eight or ten years old can repose complete confidence and trust, with no fear whatsoever about divulging his most intimate interests, hopes and fears, joys and sorrows.

Still more wonderful is that teacher who makes the adolescent pupil feel she cares enough about him as a feeling personality to sit down and talk humanly and sympathetically about anything he chooses to discuss.

The adolescent boy or girl may have troubles which he or she never dared to tell anybody, not even the parents.

The man teacher who can make a lad feel secure enough to seek his counsel on all sorts of personal matters, or the woman teacher unto whom the adolescent girl comes freely for advice about her personal worries she had never ventured to reveal to another soul, is a rare human treasure in the classroom.

FETE HELD AT PETERSBURG

ANNUAL C.-C. DINNER ATTENDED BY OUT OF TOWN VISITORS

(By Staff Correspondent)

PETERSBURG, Feb. 9.—Lubbock, Plainview, Abernathy, Ralls and Floydada joined citizens of Petersburg here last night in observance of the annual banquet meeting of the Petersburg Chamber of Commerce.

R. A. Jeffries, local banker, presided over a wholly informal program.

W. C. Foote, re-elected president of the group, included in his year's 'crop' statement, that of '39 bouncing boys and girls' and then explained how approximately $360,000 had come to the people of the Petersburg trade territory through 343 cars of wheat, 2,929 bales of cotton, 1,170 tons of cottonseed, 21 cars of cattle, 18 cars of hogs and $50,000 worth of produce which had been shipped last year. He told of growth of the school to an accredited high school unit in four years.

Pastor Is Speaker

The Rev. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the Floydada Baptist church, was principal speaker, discussing "Success." He listed elements of success.

Attending from Lubbock were Mr and Mrs. B. Sherrod, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Davis, W. O. Daniels and Dean A. H. Leidigh of the Texas Technological college. Dean Leidigh, Daniels and Sherrod talked briefly.

R. C. Rousey, Plainview wholesaler; Grady Shipp, Plainview Chamber of Commerce secretary; Ray Pinson, Abernathy; Homer Steen, Floydada; Jack D. Wester local school superintendent; C. T. Huddleston of Petersburg, George Benson of Ralls and others spoke. Entertainment was given by R. A. Jefferies, jr., and Daisy Nord Beavers, readers; an orchestra composed of Tech students; a piano solo by Lucile Heggan; a violin solo by Gene Brock, and other numbers.

Lubbock High Band To Present Concert

The Lubbock High school band will present a free concert, under H. A. Anderson's direction, Friday night in the Senior High school auditorium. The public is invited.

"Glory of the Marines," a march, will open the program. Other numbers will be "Stars in a Velvety Sky" cornet solo by Richard Godeke; "Seventy-First Regimental March;" "Lo! Hear the Gentle Lark," Clarinet and flute duet by U. V. Blake and David Humphries; "Desert Song," "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," baritone solo by Harry Blocker; "Over There Melody," and "Vanished Army March."

LOVED TO EAT, AND NOW SHE CAN!

Much of the suffering from so-called "indigestion" or acid-dyspepsia could be avoided if everyone could know what thousands like Miss Lillian Ralston have learned. This New York City business woman, who lives at 1160 Park Avenue, says:

"I suffered from headaches and heartburn after meals; couldn't sleep like I should; never felt right.

"For five years I experimented with medicines and treatments, until I learned about Pape's Diapepsin. I have used three packages now; have gained five pounds, and feel fine."

If you, too, suffer from sourness, gas, belching, nausea, headaches, dizziness, or pain after eating—either regularly or just at times, get a box of Pape's Diapepsin from your druggist. Then you need never worry again about what you eat.

Engineers Prepare To Surface Highway

Engineers in the state highway department construction division are preparing plans for surfacing state highway No. 137 in Lubbock county between the junction of No. 24 and the Hockley county line, south and west of Wolfforth.

It is probable that a contract for this work may be let at the next letting by the state commission. Caliche pits are to be located and secured.

At the same time plans for grading and drainage work on No. 24 west to the Hockley county line near Hurlwood are being prepared. It is believed that the two paving contracts can be completed during the summer.

Dartmoor Riots

Americans have a reason for being interested in the recent riots at Dartmoor prison, in England, quite aside from the fact that the English are tryng to blame the riot on subversive American influences. A little more than a century ago Dartmoor prison was very much on the American mind, and many thousand Americans got a much closer view of it than they might have wished.

Dartmoor prison was built in 1809 as a war prison, and was designed originally for the accommodation of captured French soldiers. But as the intensity of the pressure generated by the Napoleonic War increased, Dartmoor got an "American angle."

This, oddly enough, came about because England was having a terribly hard time finding seamen enough to man her fleet. From stopping neutral merchantmen to take off and press into the naval service such English-born sailors as might be aboard, it was only a step to seizing American seamen as well, and presently, the situation having become intolerable, the United States went to war.

So, in addition to Napoleon's soldiers, Dartmoor began to house American sailors as well—at first only a few, but later on, as English frigates began sweeping up the innumerable and impudent American privateersmen, several thousand of them.

A prisoner of war never has a very soft life, war-time prisons being without exception, comfortless places; but Dartmoor seems to have been something special. The accomodations were poor and the food was vile; and the governor of the prison was a hard-boiled officer who ruled with a maximum of severity and a minimum of discretion.

The climax came when he ordered the guards to fire repeated volleys into the ranks of prisoners massed in an open courtyard, after a mild bit of insubordination had taken place.

All of this, of course, is very ancient history now, and the anger that Dartmoor aroused on this side of the ocean has long since vanished. But it does give the recent disturbances at Dartmoor a peculiar interest for Americans.

Writing A Luxury

Authors really can't afford to write books these days, according to remarks made to the National Association of Book Publishers recently by Mrs. Inez Haynes Irwin, president of the Author's League of America. The profits are so small, considering the time and effort involved in producing a book, that many authors have come to look on writing as a luxury.

This, of course, is too bad; but, after all, that has always been more or less true, and the present is probably not so much worse a time for authors than any other period. It is only the fortunate few who can really make any appreciable amount of money out of their books; the great majority—including, usually, the finest writers—must class writing as a luxury. Unless they have some inner incentive which is too strong to ignore, they are not likely to stick to it very long.

WALTER Winchell, the key-hole columnist of Broadway, says Al Smith and Frank Roosevelt, the two oldtime Tammanyites and political buddies, fell out because Roosevelt, after succeeding Smith as Governor of New York, didn't ask Al's opinion on enough matters.

Whether that's true or not, something has come up to spoil a beautiful friendship—and what may further spoil a beautiful bid for the Democratic Presidential nomination by Mr. Roosevelt.

As far as The Plainsman is concerned, he hopes Roosevelt and Smith keep on opposing each other until after convention time. The more they do that little thing, the better chance there will be for John Garner.

One thing is certain. Smith and Raskob aren't going to see Roosevelt nominated if they can help it—and those boys pack a powerful lot of weight in the inner councils of the party. Mr. Roosevelt will just about have to win on the first ballot if he gets the nomination at all.

SPEAKING of Roosevelt and politics calls to mind the old saw they used to tell on his far-removed cousin, Theodore Roosevelt, sr.

It seems that during the campaign when Teddy was running for Lieutenant-Governor of New York there was some doubt about his carrying Gotham.

An astute political friend had printed a set of posters bearing Teddy's picture and his famous toothy grin. On those designed for tacking up in New York City was printed:

"Vote for your Friend! Theodore R-o-s-e-n-f-e-l-d!"

Teddy carried New York City.

FROM The San Angelo Standard, owned by Houston Harte, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, comes an editorial comment with which The Plainsman agrees 100 percent. Discussing the building projects of the University of Texas and Texas A. and M. college, The Standard says:

"West Texans have great pride in the letting of contracts for nine buildings at the University of Texas, culminating a decade of planning and work by the university regents. Something like $4,000,000 from the permanent fund will be spent in construction.

"A. and M. is getting ready to spend another $2,000,000 in construction.

"West Texas oil built the permanent fund that made the buildings possible.

"Eight hundred persons will receive employment at a time when jobs have been quite scarce. Austin receives the major benefits from a payroll amounting to $15,000 per week.

"Legislators opposing legislation that this section sometimes seeks should be reminded of the part that West Texas is playing in building a university that serves all of Texas, East Texas much more than West Texas because of population. There should be no sectional feeling, unless perhaps East Texas should feel in West Texas' debt."

Along the line of reasoning above, The Plainsman has a point to make.

In-as-much as Texas Tech needs new buildings, too, and in-as-much as West Texas oil has done the building job for the university and the aggie school, perhaps legislators from other parts of Texas might be a little more liberal the next time Tech friends seek additions sorely needed.

Mr. Harte should be interested in this point, as well as all West Texans.

He is a regent of Texas Tech—and a darn good one, too.

Senator Carter Glass Of Virginia Proves Himself To Be Something Of Buzz-Saw—As Secy. Hyde Likely Will Learn

B RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10—It usually turns out to be something of a mistake when you tread on the toes of Senater Glass of Virginia.

Dutcher

Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde may have better luck than others before he and Glass finish their exchange of hard words about each other and the post-war government loans to Europe when Glass was secretary of the treasury, but at this writing he has been receiving quite a lot of sympathy and almost no congratulations.

Picking on Carter Glass is a sport at least as dangerous as it used to be trying to get funny with former Senator Jim Reed of Missouri, who was often compared with the traditional buzz-saw. Reed's deadliness depended on his great gift for biting sarcastic invective. Most people here well recall the time when young Senator Arthur Robinson of Indiana undertook to deck Jim's silvery head with a few well chosen razzberries. Reed, if memory serves, concluded his workout on Robinson by comparing him to a garbage can and Robinson apparently could think of no snappy comeback.

But Glass, a fiery little fighting cock at the age of 74, not only hurls all the harpoons of oratory. He tosses on facts, figures and photostatic copies to make them stick. Bishop James Cannon, at the height of his power some three years ago, mixed with Glass and promised his political ruination. It was right there that the bishop's multiplicity of troubles began. When Glass came up for re-election Cannon was almost too busy to pay any attention.

You don't hear from Glass very often on the Senate floor, although he probably will be saying plenty about his new bill to revise the national banking laws. The best ways to get him started are to criticize the record of Woodrow Wilson, to misinform people in a bank speech dealing with banking and currency matters and to reflect directly on Carter Glass.

Carter obviously felt that Mr. Hyde was committing all three of these sins at once when he began to assert, in one speech after another, that Wilson and Secretaries of the Treasury McAdoo and Glass had made loans to foreign countries after the armistice when they had no legal right to do so. The treasury lent in cash $7,000,000,000 before the armistice and $2,500,000,000 afterward, the last credit being established in April, 1920.

Senator Glass closed the argument, insofar as he was concerned, with certain quotations from Henry Arthur Jones which could not be interpreted as meaning anything except that Mr. Hyde's head was only a turnip—"I paused for a moment and looked at that round, wagging head; by a sudden illumination I became aware that it was not a head at all, but a turnip, a veritable turnip placed on the top of his neck and shoulders. . . . I had wasted a good hour arguing with a turnip. But it looked very much like a head. . . ."

The question of these post-war loans is somewhat complicated, but

It seems that Hyde got off to a bad start when he chose to rattle what were, after all, pretty old bones. Everyone knew what was going on at the time. The Republicans were taking control of Congress, eager to plaster the Democratic administration. But there was nary a squawk, it appears, until Hyde recently began to make those speeches.

Not at all content with calling Hyde a turnip-head, Senator Glass has marshaled much evidence, including the wording of the Liberty Bond acts. Rather impressive is a letter to Glass from Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Hyde's cabinet comrade, pointing out that the treasury was empowered by Congress to make loans until termination of the war with Germany, that it was provided that the date of termination of war should be fixed by presidential proclamation and that President Harding fixed the date as July 2, 1921, when the joint congressional resolution terminating the state of war was approved.

By LOGAN CLENDENING M.D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 2 cents in coin for each article with a self-addressed stamped envelope to Dr. Logan Clendening in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Reducing and Gaining," "Feminine Hygiene," "Normal Di[illegible]," "Care of the Hair and Skin," "Infant Feeding" and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." The articles are: "Nor[illegible] Indigestion and Constipation," "[illegible] Mothers," "Bed Wetting," "Diet of the Expectant Mother," "Ear Trouble" and "Tuberculosis."

AIDING STUTTERERS

MANY treatments have been proposed for stuttering.

The least successful are those which concentrate attention on the [illegible] speech and drill [illegible] speaking exercises [illegible] and forget the whole individual. In other words, the person.

Dr. Clendening

On the other hand, the purely psychological methods of treatment by psychoanalysis, etc., have been, in my experience, equally unsuccessful.

Stutterers are [illegible] people. They do not stutter just to be perverse. Nor do they do so because they do not try. Nor because there is anything actually wrong with the muscles and nerves of the throat. Nor because they are not bright. In fact most of the ones I have known are distinctly ahead of the average mentality. In general, they get better as times goes on and they become less self-conscious.

What seems to be the most sensible method of treating them is based on the right-left-handedness idea discussed yesterday.

Sixty-two per cent of a large group of stutterers were found to be naturally left-handed, but began to stutter when they were taught to write right-handed.

The only explanation of the phenomenon is that the speech centers in right-handed people are on the left side of the brain, as are the motor centers for the right arm. It may be that in left-handed people the speech centers are on the right side of the brain. To separate the two functions causes the block.

On this basis, the treatment proposed is partly physical hygiene and mental hygiene, aided by training in Unification of your motor leads.

Writing and speaking exercises.
General speech exercises.

Unification of motor leads is based on the fact that half the stutterers who came for treatment are ambidextrous in unimanual activities. When they are taught to develop one-sidedness (whichever side comes natural) for all natural actions, a great deal of the stuttering automatically disappears.

Writing exercises—simply drawing freehand circles—seems a strange way to help a person with a speech defect, but it does not seem strange to the physiologist who knows how closely associated the writing and speaking functions are.

The freehand circle drawing is part of the system to establish domination of one hand. When writing exercises are commenced the student copies and speaks at the same time.

This new idea in the treatment of stuttering, based on the right and left-handedness principle, seems to be more promising than any other method.

IN NEW YORK with Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Of all the Broadway Columbuses who can lay claim to important theatrical discoveries, Gus Edwards continues to be the challenger.

Just a few weeks ago, a newer generation in Manhattan and elsewhere was reminded of the old Edwards brigade when Eddie Cantor and George Jessel teamed together after many a year. Both had been tyros in the Edwards kindergarten of yesteryear.

And while innumerable "Finds" have risen to stage fame, the old "School Days" record of Mons. Edwards will be hard for anyone to beat—or even tie.

During the past few years, a slender, shrewd showman named Al Siegal, who knows the tastes of the audiences, has proved himself to be a superior picker of talent. The torch-singing Ethel Merman was one of his "discoveries." More recently he brought forth Lillian Slade, now in big-time vaudeville. Ruth Etting was another that Siegal bet on. She became, as all good fans should know, a star of music show, variety and radio and most recently has been going about on a Panchon and Marco routing.

And by way of an aside—Siegal, who sat at the piano as accompanist for the stars, has been in ill health for years. Recently, while appearing with Miss Slade at the Palace, he was preparing to leave for Palm Springs, in the Death Valley belt, for a "sun cure."

Edwards, on the other hand, remains a plump, good-natured, healthy fellow with few of the Broadwayesque affectations.

His "offices" have been for years a suite in the Astor Hotel. They bear little resemblance to the average theatrical offices of Broadway. Edwards, like as not, will greet you in suspenders and shirtsleeves.

He'll hand you a mimeographed booklet, which he titles "The Gus Edwards School Book."

Opening at the first page, you'll find a list of names headed by Lila Lee, Mae Murray, Helen Menken, Lillian Walker, Lillian Lorraine, Ruby Norton, Eddie Buzzell, the Duncan Sisters, Orville Harold, Gregory Kelly, Ruby de Remer.

Sammy Lee, the dance stager; Harry Rapf, movie executive; Jeanne [illegible] writer; Herman Timberg, Bobby Watson, Bert Wheeler and so on down a line of a hundred or more celebrities.

Timberg, for instance, who was the dialect comic in the original "School Days" act, is today a producer in his own right with a grown child who threatens to be an important theater figure. Others have married happily and unhappily, have been at the top of the ladder and the bottom.

In all the years between the Edwards [illegible] has not [illegible] the little Sp[illegible] has been heard of from [illegible] and the musical stage.

ON TECH CHARGES

Dear Plainsman: After reading the article pertaining to Rev. R. C. Campbell's sermon that appeared in Monday's Journal, we were shocked beyond measure that in this enlightened era anyone should be so ignorant as to vaunt such primitive ideas. We wonder if he will advocate equally primitive remedies for the expulsion of the malefactors. That is, will he suggest the burning at the stake or some other inquisitorial method for the suppression of the search for truth?

Of course, we appreciate Rev. Campbell' attempt to maintain the superstitious tranquillity of his flock and furthermore we realize and appreciate the fact that the majority of congregations are burdened with the hangovers of religious ideas conceived in a less enlightened age, but this is no reason why he should try to prevent the growth of a new Christian philosophy to fit our new civilization.

It might be added that remedies were also administered in the case of Christ who was crucified for presenting an even more radical change in religious and ethical thought, and that, in our humble opinions any sensible person will at once perceive the narrow-mindedness contained in the allegations of Rev. Campbell.

Very sincerely yours,
G. R. Coker,
W. A. Leslie,

(Dear Boys: Everyone has a right to his opinion upon public discussions and I would be the last person in town to deny it. But while your beliefs are doubtless shared by others, permit me to call attention to the use of the term 'superstitious tranquillity' and to the word 'narrow-mindedness'. I am not a Baptist, yet I cannot see the basis for refering to that denomination—or to any denomination, for that matter—as 'superstitious'. In referring to opposing thought as 'narrow-mindedness' aren't you being just a shade 'narrow-minded', too? Thanks for your comment. The Plainsman.

ACCURATE DEFENSE WHICH WILL SET A CONTRACT THRILLS SIDNEY S. LENZ

NEW YORK, Feb. 10 (AP)—In the words of Sidney S. Lenz it requires rather precise plan in bridge to know when a three spot is sufficiently high to pick up an adversary's deuce, especially in trumps. The last three tricks were conceded to West and East, South having to lead a diamond or club to their high cards of those suits. But by that time Lenz and partner had taken six tricks, enough to defeat the contract by one trick. The accomplishment was due to the fact that Lenz established his long heart suit, forcing the declarer to trump till he had only the two spot of trumps left. And the three spot took that away from him. Then the six of hearts in Mr. Lenz's hand was good.

Ask Manufacturers To Aid In Census

The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce has asked all Lubbock manufacturers to cooperate with the census bureau in filling out promptly their 1931 census of manufacturers questionnaires.

It was pointed out that the questionnaires are very brief, covering only four major statistical items. "The value of the statistics to manufacturers depends largely on whether they are timely," it was said, "and their timeliness depends on the promptness with which the questionnaires are returned by the manufacturers."

The items covered by the census are: Wage earners employed, by months; wages paid; cost of materials, fuel and purchased electric energy; products by quantity and value.

Druggist Gives New Formula To Stop Headaches

Realizing that no one drug can conquer even ordinary headaches, as they come from so many causes, a North Carolina pharmacist has developed a combination of several ingredients, used by many physicians, so blended and proportioned as to accomplish in a few minutes what we believe no one drug formula can do in so short a time.

You can get this formula wherever drugs are sold under the name "B.C.", 10c and 25c packages, and when you have one of those violent nerve-racking headaches, from inorganic causes, "B.C." will give you soothing relief in three minutes.

"B.C." should also be used for the relief of muscular aches and pains, common colds and neuralgia, reducing fever, and for quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs. (Adv.)

It's not what you pay---it's what you get

IN choosing a new range for your kitchen, there are a number of interesting yardsticks for measuring the value of the various types of cooking equipment offered. Here are the three things every woman should consider first of all:

1. How much will it cost to buy?
2. How much will it cost to operate?
3. What will it do for me?

Let's see how the Modern Gas Range measures up to these yardsticks of value. The first cost of the most modern and beautiful of the new Gas Ranges is no greater than other ranges and the installation charge is considerably less. The yearly bill for GAS will be less than for any other up-to-date cooking equipment.

Even more important, however, are the Services you get in buying a Modern Gas Range. There is (1) Oven Heat Control that changes cooking hours to leisure hours, and insures perfect results with each recipe; (2) Oven Insulation to protect you from an over-heated kitchen; (3) ideal equipment for cooking with GAS, the world's speediest cooking fuel. Stop in and we'll demonstrate the time, labor and money saving features of the 1932 Gas Range.

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

BASKETBALL T'NIGHT. Texas Tech gymnasium. Texas Tech Matadors versus Simmons Cowboys. Eight o'clock. Admission, four bits.

The old gymnasium should be packed tonight. The principals in the case should put on a good show. The Matadors are likely to upset the Abilene dope bucket. The Matadors are like that, occasionally.

And here's a chance for three fans to see tonight's game free. Recognize the gentleman cartooned here? He is one of the standout athletes of the country, but that's all we're going to tell you.

Name the man and his profession over the telephone to us or come by the office between 4:30 and 6:15 o'clock this afternoon. If you are one of the first three, you will receive a pass to tonight's basketball game, no strings attached. If you have previously won a ticket you are unqualified to compete again.

If you are a consistent reader of the sport page perhaps you noticed a short article, hidden midway of the page yesterday that told about an act of kindness. Yes, even in sports you sometimes have kindness. This story dealt with the Winter Olympics at Lake Placid and the more or less serious injuries suffered by the German bobsled team when it failed to stay on the track. Perhaps you saw the movie version at the theater, which was a fine bit of photography. The bobsledders were laid up in a hospital and two of them must stay there for several months, doctors say.

Now it is in the books that an Olympic team must pay its own expenses to and from the games and while there, also to take care of its own doctor and hospital bills. That bobsled trip was pretty expensive, besides totally wrecking a $500 sled. The Germans were in a tight spot, what with an ever mounting hospital bill. As a matter of fact they were about ready to call it quits yesterday morning, so grave was the financial trouble. Last night they had $5,000, cash on hand, with which to pay the bills. The money was given them by American sportsmen, who, discovering their need, made up the pot.

And that, dear reader, to our way of thinking is what is meant by the term, too often misused, "sportsmanship."

In the presence of Monsieur Dutchey Smith, we were 'lowing as how it must be about time for another "fun and fight nite" as free entertainment to the menfolks of town. Once a month is infrequent enough for us males to grab off an evening to ourselves. Besides, it's all free. M'sieu Smith informs us that the date for the February Fun Nite is no later than Friday of this week. A card of boxing and wrestling events has been prepared which promises to be good. It's all boxing and wrestling this time, with the Matador band playing acompaniment. The program should be over in one hour and ten minutes.

Further proof that Coach Weldon Chapman has "it" and knows how to teach it to high school football boys, and additional satisfaction that the Westerners of 1931 were about as powerful a group of high school football boys ever gathered under one dressing room roof is rendered by the recent intramural football season at Texas Tech.

Varsity letter men who served as coaches of the various intramural teams in a hectic round robin schedule have elected an all-intramural team, and a second team, which is given the big o. k. by Tech's coaches. The names of several former Westerners shine out from this group. Indeed, the Liberal Arts team, made up almost wholly of former Lubbock High stars, won the intramural title, going through an undefeated season. On the first team are named Bob Crawford at center, Cotton Welch at guard, Mack Scoggin at full and Mina ~~Watkins~~ at halfback. Watkins was a Westerner in 1930. Rosser Abbott at guard, Bert Williams at tackle are named on the second team.

This fellow Prather, handsome end who helped Henry Frnka's Greenville Lions to the state semifinals last fall, has been shining at end on the L. A. team and made the first all-intramural team. Demp Cannon, former quarterback at Slaton, also made the mythical team, and his work in the backfield was as effective as it has been for Slaton. Norman from Levelland made the second team at end.

The 22 men named by the intramural coaches as the best of the 160 or more who played football during the past month will be invited to try out with the varsity candidates next fall.

MATADOR, SIMMONS CAGERS TO MEET TONIGHT

COWBOYS OPEN SERIES HERE WITH TECH

MATADORS WILL SEEK REVENGE FOR TWO PREVIOUS LOSSES

The Texas Tech Matadors and the Simmons University Cowboys will meet tonight at 8 o'clock on the Tech gymnasium floor in the first of a series of two and the third of a schedule of four games.

The Cowboys arrived in Lubbock this morning, weary and footsore after dropping a couple of non-conference combats to the West Texas State Teachers college Buffaloes at Canyon. Last night the Buffs, said to be the tallest team in America, won a 68 to 36 decision over Coach Leslie "Fats" Cranfill's men, sweeping a four game series over the Texas Conference leaders.

Simmons holds a two-game advantage over the Matadors and only by winning both games here this week may the local collegiate cagers split even with the Cowboys. Two games in Abilene more than two weeks ago went to the Cowboys.

The Cowboy lineup probably will consist of Pee and Seed, forwards; Neely, center; McCollum and Huestis, guards.

U. S. IS FACING LOSS OF MASTERY IN BOB RUN; ONLY FOUR SECONDS BEHIND

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAKE PLACID, N. Y., Feb. 10 (AP)—Four seconds behind, short enough in a dash down the side of Mt. Van Hoevenberg but long in the record of the official scorer, the United States faced the loss today of mastery in the bob run, the one olympic sport it dominated in the 1928 winter olympics.

Four years ago Jack Heaton, an American living abroad, journeyed to St. Moritz for a vacation and found the 1928 olympics in progress. He got a sled and a partner, raced and won the two-man event.

Billy Fiske did the same thing in the four-man-event and over-night the United States became the nominal leader of the sport through the technical residence of its representatives.

Then the United States, planning two years ago for the winter olympics here, built the finest, touchest, most daring run in the world down a barren mountain side ten miles outside of town. And today, entering the final two heats of the two-man-event, Hubert Stevens of Lake Placid, still holder of the world record after a blistering day of competition, was no closer than second to a 20-year-old Swiss sophomore at Zurich university, Reto Capadrutt.

Going into the final two heats today, Capadrutt had set up runs of 2 minutes, 5.88 seconds, and 2:07.21, both better than Stevens' world mark of 2:09 that stood until yesterday.

Stevens was second with a total of 4 minutes, 17.37 seconds, but his second run, on runners heated almost white hot with blow torches, was clocked in 2:04.28, giving him back the world's record Capadrutt had captured only a few minutes before.

Billiards Tourney Over And Entrants Get $25,000 Prizes

CHICAGO, Feb. 10 (AP)—The twelve entrants in the world three-cushion billiard championship tournament today were on their way about their business, taking with them their various shares of the $25,000 in prizes.

The big share, more than $8,000, which is expected to grow considerably before the 1933 tournament, will remain in Chicago with Augie Kieckhefer, who defeated Otto Reiselt of Philadelphia Monday night for the championship.

Reiselt, in defeating Arthur Thurnblad of Chicago, who won the 1931 tournament, in the playoff for second place last night, [illegible] 44 innings, gained about $5,100 while Thurnblad's share for third place was $1,800.

Johnny Layton, ten times holder of the championship, [illegible] won the playoff for fourth position and won $1,800.

TUNNEY IS NOT TO ATTEMPT COME-BACK

FORMER WORLD CHAMP SAYS HE WILL NOT RETURN TO RING

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Feb. 10 (AP)—The boys who have been building up the pleasant fiction that Gene Tunney contemplates a fighting come-back may just as well knock down the structure of their imagination.

On the authority of Tunney himself, the former world champion never has had and will not entertain now the slightest idea of returning to the ring.

"When I retired from the ring I meant it," he told me today. I reminded him of stories that had been printed and recently repeated, predicting that circumstances might dictate otherwise, or that he might yield to some pressure.

"Yes, I know all about that," he replied, "and of course I cannot stop anyone from making a suggestion in the newspapers as to what I may or may not do. Nor do I take them seriously.

"The way I feel now is that I have my own life to lead and work out. I have my private interests. I am happy in what I am doing. I enjoyed writing my life story, yet I am surprised that so much interest is shown in it.

"I still am keenly interested in boxing and always will be. Why not? It was a big part of my life. But what a fool I would be ever to think of attempting a come-back."

But Jack Dempsey, it was suggested, appeared to be contemplating one.

"Yes, and you know I hate to think of it," replied the man who twice whipped the great Manassa mauler.

"We all like to think of Dempsey at his best, as a great champion. The reputation he made meant something. It means more [illegible] than the risk of being beaten. [illegible] he would have [illegible] his fame. He [illegible] and it would [illegible] much harder for him now to come back."

MARCHMONT SCHWARTZ, ALL-AMERICA HALF AT NOTRE DAME, WILL BE HERE

The Texas Tech athletic department announced yesterday that Marchmont Schwartz, all-American halfback of Notre Dame, would be here in July to assist Coach Heartly "Hunk" Anderson, football coach at Notre Dame, in demonstrating and teaching the famous Notre Dame system at the second annual Texas Tech coaching school.

The announcement was made yesterday by Coach Pete Cawthon of Texas Tech, who received information from Anderson yesterday stating Schwartz' inclination to come here. The school is to be held July 18 to 29.

In addition to Anderson and Schwartz, who will head the football department, Dr. Forrest C. "Phog" Allen, director of athletics at the University of Kansas, and Clyde Littlefield, head coach at the University of Texas, will be here to conduct departments of basketball and track respectively.

A regular on the Notre Dame team of 1930, Schwartz became a favorite in the eyes of football follower. His stellar work last year, even in the face of defeat, was good to make him the favorite with a big majority of critics. He was considered by many as the outstanding football player of 1931.

ALL-INTRAMURAL TEAM IS CHOSEN

Declaring the intramural football season a [illegible] and voicing a plan to invite 22 players to report [illegible] Coach Pete Cawthon of Tech announced yesterday an all-intramural season team and a second team. The teams were picked by varsity football [illegible] who have served as coaches [illegible] intramural teams.

First team: Ends, Wilson, [illegible] and Prather, Engineers; tackles, Davis, Aggies and Holmes, Liberal Arts; guards, Mann, Engineers and Welch, Liberal Arts; center, Crawford, Liberal Arts; quarterback, Beauchamp, Liberal Arts; halfbacks, Cannon, Liberal Arts and Watkins, Liberal Arts; fullback, Scoggin, Liberal Arts.

Second team: Ends, Norman, Aggies and Prox, Liberal Arts; tackles, [illegible], Army and Williams, [illegible]; guards, Abbott, Liberal Arts and [illegible], Aggies; center, [illegible]; quarterback, Ratliff, Aggies; halfbacks, Bush, Liberal Arts and Beard, Army; fullback, Smith, Aggies.

PLAN ANOTHER FUN NIGHT

BOXING, WRESTLING TO BE ON PROGRAM AT GYM ON FRIDAY

Four rounds of boxing and three seven-minute wrestling matches throughout which and preceding which program the Matador band will blow lustily and soothingly are on tap for the males of Lubbock when they crowd into the Texas Tech gymnasium Friday night to be guests of the athletic department at the February "Fun and Fite Nite" event.

Announcement was made yesterday by Dutchey Smith, director, that the February program would consist primarily and wholly of fights since boxing and wrestling matches have appealed more to fans than any other events.

The entertainment will be free to men of Tech and of Lubbock and will start promptly at 7:45 o'clock Friday evening. Women are not invited.

Motley Road Work Is Near Completion

Completion of virtually all highway work underway in Motley county is expected by mid-March, Geo. R. Johnston, district construction engineer for the state highway department, said.

Grading and drainage work on No. 8 north of Matador will be finished about March 10. The bridges are nearly finished and final inspection is to be made this week. Fields brothers and McCelvey of Lubbock are the contractors.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. (AP)—Cotton opened steady today at a decline of 3 to 7 points on southern and local selling, promoted by easy cables. May sold at 6.69.

Initial offerings were taken by further trade buying which again came partly from houses with Liverpool and continental connections. The selling, however, seemed to increase after the opening owing to the easier ruling of the stock market and some other commodity market. The decline extended to 6.65 for May and 7.03 for October under the pressure, making net losses of about 8 to 10 points, and the market was rather unsettled at the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool cables reported hedging and local liquidation in that market but said there were fair sales of cotton cloths for the British home trade and the continent.

The decline extended to 6.63 for May, making net losses of about 9 to 12 points on active months during the middle of the morning. Trade buying continued on a scale down. However, while the selling slackened somewhat following reports of a steadier turn in the stock market and there were bulges later in the morning on covering. At midday, prices were 2 to 3 points up from the lowest.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 10. (AP)—The cotton market today had a weak but fairly active opening. Cables were lower than due and prices here conformed to yesterday's decline in New York while the market here was closed.

First trades showed losses of 9 to 10 points and prices continued to ease off after the start owing to weakness in the stock market yesterday and an easier opening today. March traded down to 6.52, May to 6.68 and July to 6.84 or 10 to 11 points below Monday's close.

At the end of the first hour the market continued easy with prices tending downward. The reported falling off in the Japanese demand for spot cotton added weakness to the market.

The market ruled easy all morning mainly because of continued weakness in the stock market. This induced long liquidation and there also was some hedge selling. March eased off to 6.44, May to 6.62 and July to 6.78, down 17 to 18 points from the previous close.

Around noon the market was a shade steadier and prices had rallied 3 to 4 points from the lows on some short covering.

NEW ORLEANS OPEN

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 10. (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady today: March 6.53, May 6.70, July 6.85, Oct. 7.05, Dec. 7.18-bid.

NEW YORK OPEN

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady today: March 6.52, May 6.70, July 6.85, Oct. 7.07, Dec. 7.23, Jan. 7.30.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—(AP)—The stock market met support today in the same area where the decline was checked in early January.

The turn came after several issues had registered new lows in the early dealings. Trade news on the whole remained rather gloomy.

Union Pacific pushed up more than 3 points. Auburn fully recovered an early drop of nearly 6 points, which reduced it to 91 1-2, in contrast to last week's high of 137 3-4. Morning losses of 1 to 2 points in prominent issues were generally erased and net gains of similar extent appeared in U. S. Steel, American Can, American Telephone, Eastman, Westinghouse, Case, Du Pont, Consolidated Gas, Johns Manville, New York Central, Santa Fe, Missouri Pacific preferred and New Haven.

The market's ability to rally after price averages had approximated the bear market low of Jan. 5 was regarded as encouraging. The rally, however, appeared largely dependent on short covering for its motive power.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Feb. 10. (AP)—Fresh setbacks in grain values early today accompanied bearish official reports as to the crop outlook for domestic winter wheat. On the downturn, corn touched a new low price for the season. Opening 1-8 to 5-8 off, wheat afterward held near the initial range. Corn also started at 1-8 to 5-8 decline and subsequently showed little change.

Cleric And Crooner

HE DEPLORES CROONING, AND—

William Cardinal O'Connell (above) Archbishop of Boston and dean of the Roman Catholic hierarchy in America, has disapproved of crooning as a "degenerate form of singing—whining—slush" and said in an address that "no true American man would practice this art. Of course, they (crooners) aren't men."

HE'S NATION'S CROON PRINCE

The picture of smiling Rudy Vallee is reproduced above because, in the popular mind, he is credited with being the foremost exponent of crooning. Vallee has kept a discreet silence on his views of the singing style that has raised him and others to dizzy heights of popularity.

Senate Considers Nominees Secretly

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—For the first time in more than two years the senate invoked secrecy for its proceedings yesterday while considering nominations to the tariff commission.

Doors were closed and galleries emptied while anonymous charges against Ira M. Ornburn of Connecticut were discussed. Then, in public once more, the senate confirmed his appointment as a member of the commission and approved without a roll call the nomination of Robert Lincoln O'Brien as chairman.

Climax Looms For Unemployed Drive

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—A climax was in sight today for the efforts in the senate to provide help for America's unemployed.

The strongest kind of effort was thrown behind the attempt by Democrats to put over a big road building and relief loan program in place of legislation to give outright federal funds to the extent of $375,000,000. Its sponsors argued the Democratic measure was the only one with a chance of enactment, that the direct relief bill would fall inevitably before a presidential veto.

A vote was expected and it was conceded the result would be close, although the Republican leaders claimed they could defeat it.

LABOR UNION TO MEET

The Lubbock Central Labor Union will meet Thursday night at 7:30 at the Shaw Barber shop, 1006 Broadway, it was announced today.

Jury Completed In Marshall's Trial

WAXAHACHIE, Feb. 10.—(AP)—A jury equally divided between farmers and townsmen will decide the guilt or innocence of Schuyler B. Marshall, jr., once known as the "college kid sheriff" of Dallas county. Marshall was charged with burglary.

The panel was completed last night. Marshall, terming this and other charges against him the outgrowth of a political frameup, expressed confidence in the outcome of the trial.

The charges were preferred after the attempted burglary of the F. & M. bank at Ferris Nov. 17. The same group of men was alleged to have kidnaped and robbed Bob Cunningham, Ferris nightwatchman, that night.

NEW COLOR CAMERA

LONDON, Eng.—A new invention which may make colored photography as easy and as cheap as the taking of ordinary black-and-white camera pictures has just been announced. Anew camera is provided with a yellow, a red and blue plate to each of which light is divided evenly. A specially sensitized paper is the secret of the whole process.

Nearly half of U. S. national wealth is controlled by women.

Would-Be Robbers Arrive Too Late

CLARENDON, Feb. 10. (AP)—Two unmasked young robbers entered the Donley County State bank yesterday a few minutes too late. The bank's cash had just been locked in a time vault.

The youths imprisoned five employes and two customers in the main vault and escaped empty-handed.

The same bank was robbed of some $8,000 about two years ago.

Convicted Slayer Granted New Trial

AUSTIN, Feb. 10.—(AP)—W. H. Stroud, convicted in Childress county of murdering Wayne Lawson in a fight over checks posted as bets in a sheriff's election, was granted a new trial today by the court of criminal appeals.

Stroud had been sentenced to five years.

"PIN" IS BULLET

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—a pain in left abdomen troubled Sam Graham, 44, colored. Thinking it was caused by a pin he had swallowed some time before, he went to General Hospital to have it removed. X-ray pictures revealed that it was a bullet. Graham remembered being shot accindentally when a child, but thought the bullet had been removed.

ADULTS TURN TO GAMES LONG NEGLECTED

CHICAGO, Feb. 10. (AP)—Children unable to find their jack straws or new games these days are advised to locate their parents or any other adults who might be around.

The chances are good, judging from department store sales books, that the grown-ups in the family will be found playing table tennis, table hockey, checkers, chess, backgammon or some long neglected game such as bezique or le trac.

And the answer to the plaint, "where is my wandering boy tonight?" now easily might be: "Sitting by the fire-side playing tiddle-winks"—grown-up variety, of course, which is a new pastime.

Toy departments and book stores report such increased demand for game paraphernalia and puzzles, that several have installed adult game sections where the games are more sophisticated and where a six-foot man can buy a puzzle book without asking for "something interesting for a small boy."

Entertaining a-la-main street, as one salesman said, has apparently become smart.

Hoover Turns Back On Social Events

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—Under terrific pressure of work, President Hoover today turned his back on all purely social activities of his office.

The White House announced he would have to bar reception of big groups, such as conventions, for the next few months at least. Mrs. Hoover, alone, will extend the courtesies of the executive mansion whenever possible.

DANIEL BOONE?

CHESTER, Pa.—Local shoppers were amazed recently when a tall figure appeared, clad a la backwoodsman, bearing a hunting licens on his back and carrying a shotgun. Their amazement turned to consternation when the man fired the gun twice in rapid succession, first at the befeathered hat of a stout woman and then at a red roadster, and commanded a dog with him to bring back the 'rabbits'. Police put him in a cell to sober up.

INTERESTING BITS OF NEWS GROUND FROM THE GRIST OF THE DAY'S HAPPENINGS

(By The Associated Press)

Lists Qualities

LONDON—For a woman to win poet Robert Burns' stamp of approval as a "good wife" she had to have the following qualities in 10 parts: good nature, 4; good sense, 2; wit, 1; personal charms, 1; and the rest in fortune, education, family blood, etc. All this was set forth in a letter written by Burns, now in possession of W. D. Fisher.

In Circulation

PINE BLUFF, Ark.—These dollars — $2,900 worth — came from the ground. Their owner heard about the anti-hoarding campaign and placed them in circulation through a local bank.

Give And Take

NEW YORK—According to George Palmer Putnam, Amelia Earhart's husband, being married to the famous flier is something like this: Sometimes it's an "exhilarating experience" and sometimes it's "just a nuisance." But that's all accepted in the give and take spirit.

Note Tells Story

MARSHFIELD, Ore. — Five months ago the auxiliary schooner, South Coast, disappeared with a crew of 19. A note enclosed in a bottle told the story: "Going down after explosion when boiler blew up. Rough seas. 9:10 p. m. Good bye."

Robert Morris, financier of the American revolution, served a jail sentence and died bankrupt.

C-C DIRECTORS ARE CHOSEN

BROWNFIELD IS HOST AT ANNUAL DINNER TUESDAY NIGHT

(By Staff Correspondent)

BROWNFIELD, Feb. 9.—Brownfield's Chamber of Commerce held its annual banquet meeting here last night and named seven directors to serve during the coming year, five of whom had seen service on the board previously.

J. E. Shelton, secretary, presided in the absence of both H. W. Nelson, president and Jim D. Miller, vice president, who were confined to their homes because of flu. In spite of a slight epidemic, there were 45 present at the banquet.

Directors Named

Directors chosen were: Homer W. Nelson, Jim D. Miller, Harrie E. Winston, W. R. McDuffie and Marion J. Craig, former directors and Leo Holmes and "Dude" Pyeatt, new.

Holdover members include: Claude Hudgins, Cecil J. Smith, Tom Cobb, W. A. Bell, W. A. Bynum and Clyde Lewis.

"America" was sung by the audience with Rev. J. W. Hale and Clyde Lewis leading, after which Rev. Ed Tharpe gave the invocation.

After the serving, under the supervision of J. C. Bond of the hotel, Mr. Shelton explained the absence of the officers and then named an election committee, H. M. Crews, Rev. J. W. Hale and James H. Dallas, went into another room to count the ballots.

Mr. Shelton made a brief report of the activities of the organization during the past year, complimenting the members on their committee service. He mentioned the two-day short course, held a year ago just before the opening of the year in March 1. Efforts of the chamber of commerce of Lubbock and other towns, working with Brownfield to block a proposed mail schedule that would have delayed first class mail 24 hours, were outlined.

The part the organization played in securing a lower cotton freight rate was outlined and also the cooperation secured from federal labor bureau men to get cotton pickers.

Aid in securing federal designation on a route "180 miles shorter than the Bankhead I am told, between the east and California" was outlined. A poultry show is to be held this week end.

Bradley Is Heard

In a short talk, Durwood Bradley, director of the Board of City Development of Lubbock, brought greetings to Brownfield from that organization. "This is not a time for a chamber of commerce or any civic organization to lay down on the job," he declared. "I believe we are living in a section that is in better shape than many other points in the state."

Mr. Bradley announced the annual fat stock show in Lubbock late in March. He was told Brownfield is planning a show before that date to select entries for the Lubbock show.

J. H. Brock of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce was also present.

Probably the winriest spot in the civilized world is Pali pass, near Honolulu, where trade winds blow.

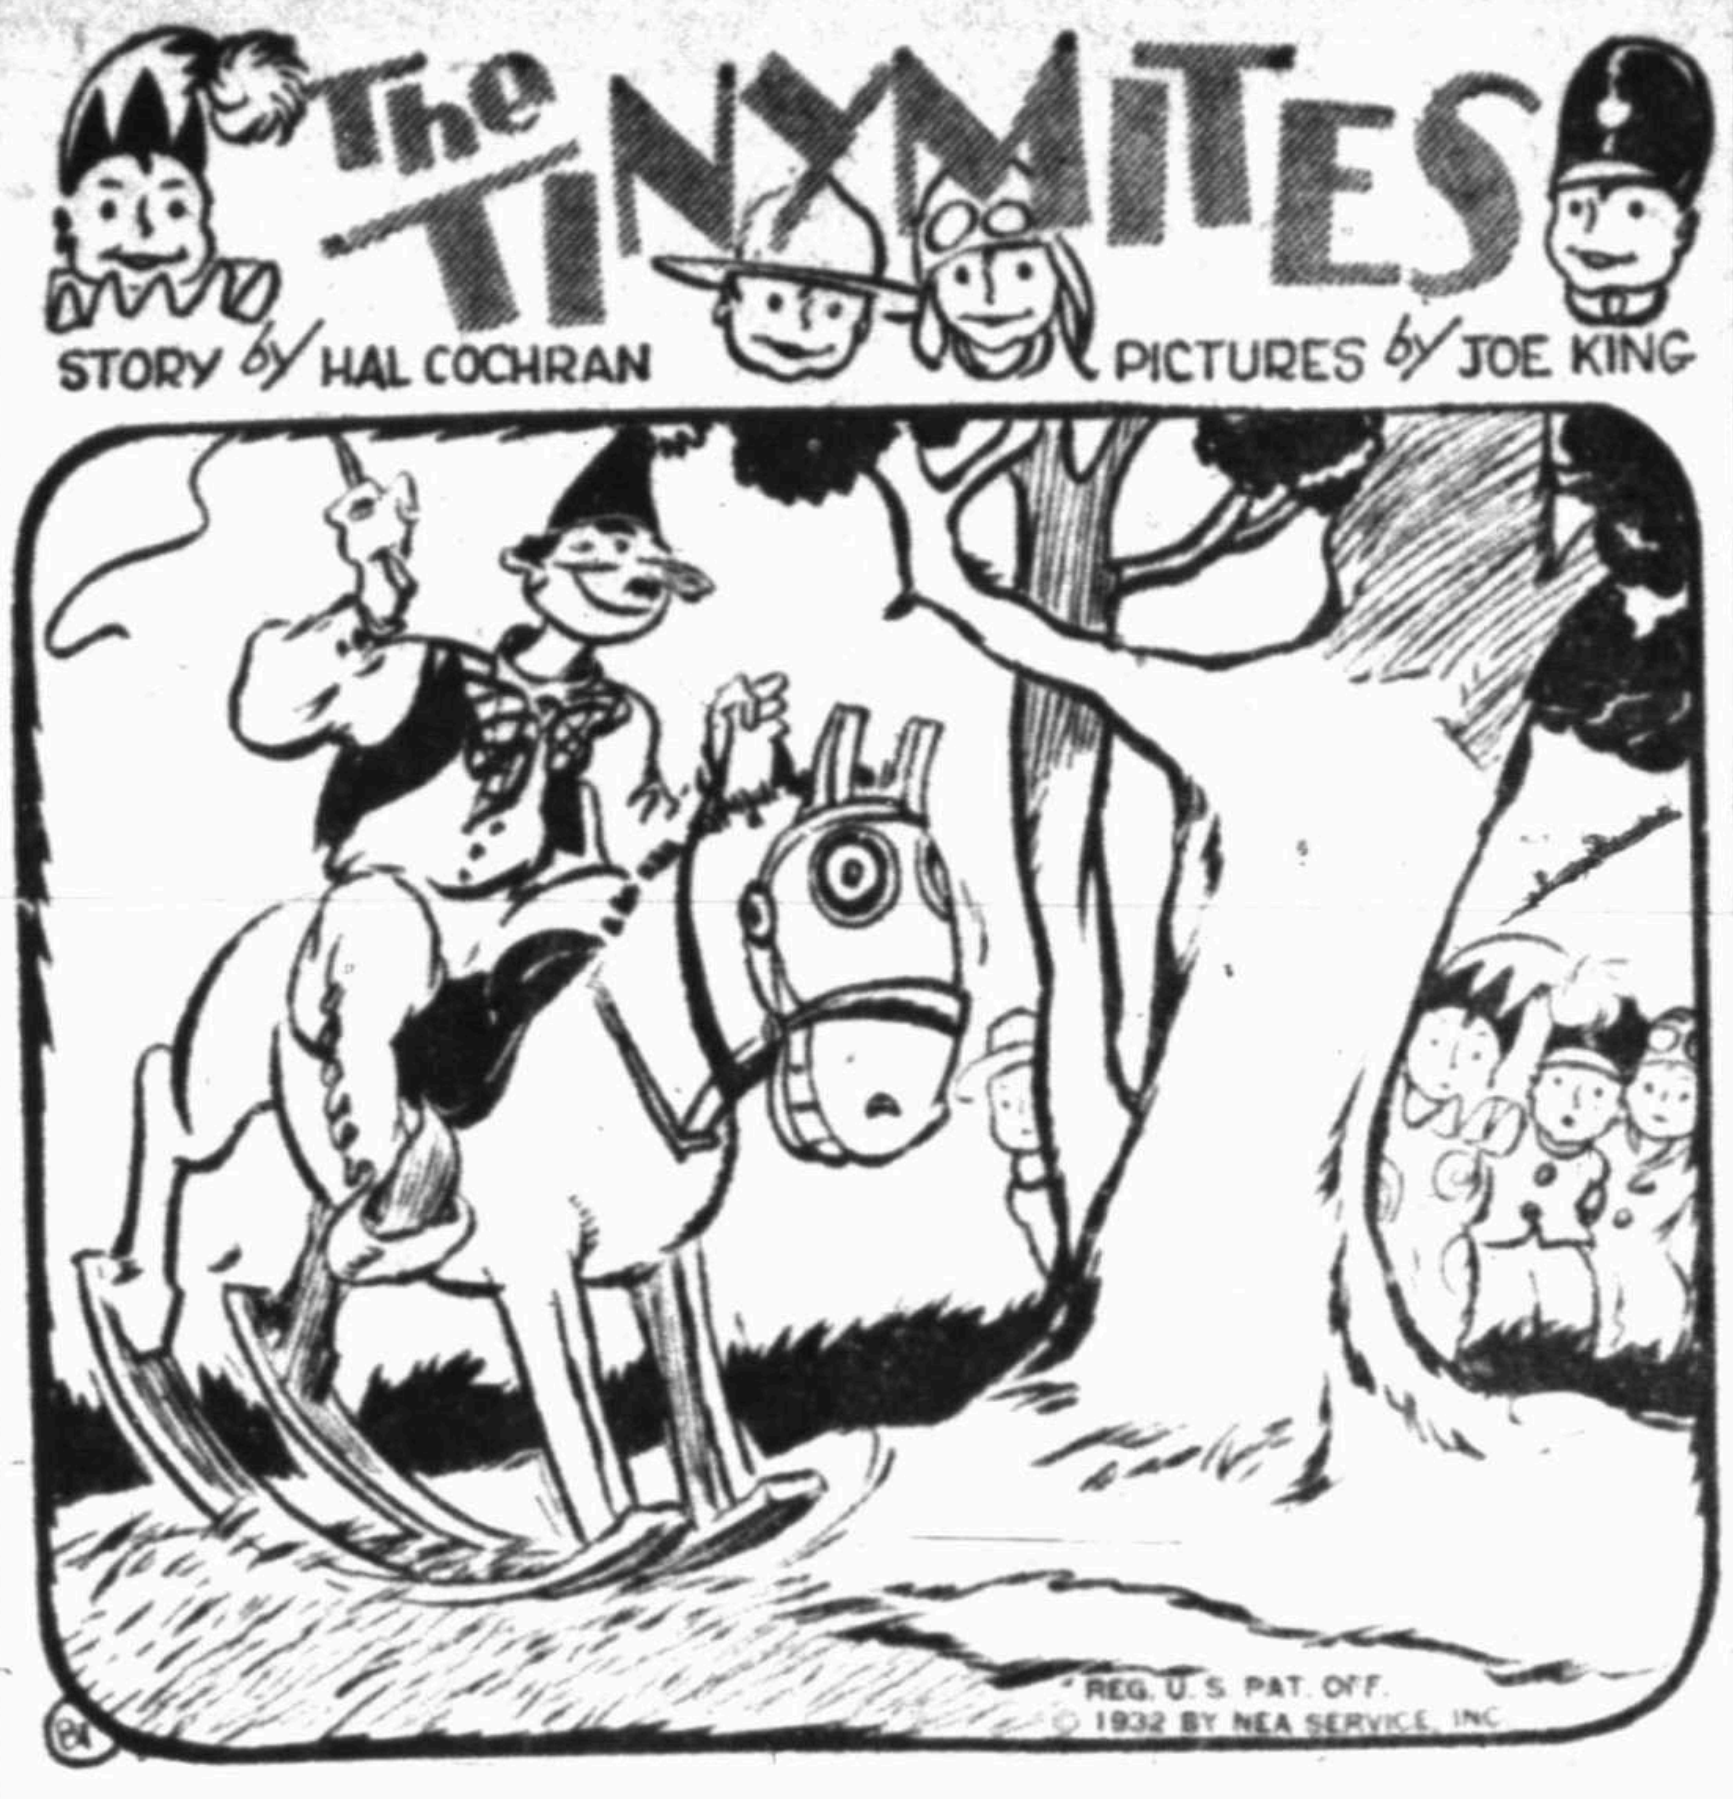
A good used car means economy for 1932
BATLIFF-ROGERS BUICK COMPANY



(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

"I've had enough of that old cart," cried Duncy. "It has crashed apart and we're not going to fix it. What's the next best thing to do? Gee, as for me I'd like to snooze. We have a lot of time to lose. Well, someone else say something. How about the rest of you?"

"I'll merely say you're lazy, lad," said Scouty. "Why, I'll bet you've had more sleep than any one of us and yet you'd sleep some more. Please stay awake and think real strong on how we're going to move along. If we can reach some new place, pleasing sights should be in store."

And there they sat, a solemn lot. They'd be there still, as like as not, if Windy hadn't jumped and cried, "I hear a noise right near. It sounded like a horse's neigh. Well, look what's coming down our way. It is a man on horseback and he shortly will be here."

They all were much surprised, of course, to eye a very funny horse. It traveled on long rockers and it swayed like everything. When it had rocked up to the bunch, the man cried out, "I have a hunch that you'll be glad that I have come, 'cause real good luck I bring.

"You see, I am the builder man. I build most everything I can. Perhaps you'd like to journey to my work place. It's not far. I'll promise you fine sights galore, that you have never seen before. But if you want to see them, we must go to where they are."

"Say, you don't know how kind you are. And we don't care if it's real far. You see, we are adventurers," said Coppy with a grin. "You've told us we can go with you and that's just what we'd like to do. If we are going to hike it, kindly say when be begin."

BOOTLEGGING OF WOLVES GOOD RACKET AT FIRST

AUSTIN, Feb. 10. (AP)—A wolf bootlegging racket that brought the alleged trafficker $2,400 before it got him into trouble and a penitentiary sentence of two years was revealed here.

The case of A. C. Anderson, convicted of swindling, appealed from Edwards county, involving the unusual circumstances has been set for submission in the court of criminal appeals Feb. 17.

According to testimony in the case arrangements were made to purchase wolves on the Mexican border and have them transported to the sheep and goat country around Rock Springs, where ranchmen were paying $200 for each scalp of a fully developed wolf and $100 per the puppies.

Anderson was able to trap a wolf with such regularity that suspicions of the ranchmen were aroused, according to Representative Coke Stevenson of Junction, special prosecutor in the case. They persuaded the man who was trucking the wolves from the border to permit them to tattoo the ears of several of the wolves he brought in and later these specimens were found in Anderson's traps.

Stevenson said it was testified that the wolves were being staked after they had been imported from the Rio Grande section and that later they turned up in Anderson's traps.

CIVIL APPEALS PROCEEDINGS

AMARILLO, Feb. 10. (AP)—Proceedings in the seventh court of civil appeals:

Lorenzo Troop Will Observe Scout Week

Lorenzo Boy Scout troop No. 27 is observing national Boy Scout week, has an exhibit in a display window, and Thursday night at a court of honor its patrols will compete in an attendance contest for a pennant.

Five new scouts have been registered by the Lorenzo troop, of which Rev. J. B. Thompson is scoutmaster, D. T. Jennings, South Plains Area council executive, said.

In the inter-troop exhibit contest underway here troop No. 8 was leading last night with nine votes. No. 6 was second with four votes. No. 2, No. 4, and No. 7 had two votes each. One ballot was cast by a Spur resident. The exhibits are in windows of the Conley building and the ballot box is in a south doorway there.

Boys of troop No. 4 were to present a dialog at Rotary club luncheon at the Lubbock hotel today.

Body Of Woman Is Found In The Surf

LONG BEACH, N. Y., Feb. 10. (AP)—The body of an expensively dressed woman apparently in her early thirties was found in the surf yesterday not far from the place where Starr Faithfull's body was discovered last year. In her pocketbook was a membership card to the Bronxville woman's club made out to Mrs. Adelaide Steick, Bronxville.

First examination indicated the body had been in the water about two days. No signs of violence were discernible.

Here's Royal Family

Emperor Hirohito, ruler of strife-torn Japan, and members of his royal family are shown here. Besides the international controversy raging over Japanese troops in Manchuria, Hirohito's empire is torn between those who want Japan to keep Manchuria and those who advocate a course more pleasing to China and to other nations. The pictures show Hirohito, upper right; Princess Teru, upper left; Empress Nagako, lower left, and little Princess Taka, lower right.

Hot Rivets and Cool Smokes

A rivet missed . . .
And down it hissed
Red hot . . . a danger and a menace.
The foreman said
"Hey, listen, 'Red'—
This ain't no ping-pong game, nor tennis!

"I seen you cough,
That put you off . . .
An' got yer throwin' hand to jerkin'—
OLD GOLD'S your bet.
A cigarette
You better learn to smoke
while workin'.

"You'll like 'em, sure!
OLD GOLDS are pure
The natural leaf that's smooth as honey.
A dozen packs
Won't cause no hacks
Nor coughs to make yer aim go funny!"
