

JACK FROST DIDN'T WEAR OUT WELCOME

Old Jack Frost blew his frigid breath on the Olton area last Thursday night, but he didn't hang around long enough to do a killing job of things.

Although the temperature dipped to near freezing, cotton ginner here report the frost was slight and will perhaps kill only the tops of cotton plants.

Six ginner were interviewed concerning the extent of the frost. They reported a total of 1377 bales ginned.

The men were unanimous in stating that from what they've gathered by talking with farmers, the time is ripe for icy weather.

T. E. Williams at Thompson Gin said the cold weather may have speeded up the opening of top bolls but cotton production will remain slow until after a killing freeze.

Williams said the humidity has been rather dry and that the wind and warm weather are still helping dry the cotton out.

Earl Douglas, manager of Farmers Gin, said they had their biggest day so far Wednesday. That day, they ginned off 12 bales.

"Most of the farmers I've talked with" said Douglas, "are ready for a killing freeze. Many of them have begun to defoliate in an effort to speed up harvesting."

He added that Thursday's light frost would help to get the moisture out of the bolls and make it easier for the next frost to take effect.

The ginner believes about 75 per cent of the cotton is open in many of the fields and that the late cotton is maturing rapidly. He thinks some of the late cotton will make a bale to the acre.

Dan Daniel, manager at Smith Gin, called this an exceptional year, saying this area ordinarily has a killing freeze before now.

"It may have gotten cold enough to stop the cotton's growth," said Daniel, "but what we need now is two or three light frosts before a freeze."

He doesn't think a killing freeze now would do any real damage. "From coffee shop talk," Daniel added, "most of the boys are ready for it."

Lloyd Graham, Co-Op Gin manager, said: "I think signs of the frost are showing up better now than they did at first, but we're still going to need a killing frost before the real harvest begins."

"Much of the cotton is already mature and the frost will start the sap down and help the boll to dry out," said Graham.

He added that the strong wind is good for the cotton and is helping shake off some of the leaves.

Jack Straw, owner of the Straw Gin, said the frost didn't stay on long enough to do the job that was needed. "It had effect in some of the lower lying spots, but we need a killing one for the cotton to cure out."

Straw added, "We're ready for the killing frost so farmers can get their cotton out as soon as they can and realize more money from it."

Henry Mathis, manager of Circle Gin, thinks the frost last Thursday "bit" some of the leaves and that the cold weather will boost the "top crop".

"Most of the cotton is mature in this area," said the ginner, "but the top bolls still need time."

He added that the "top crop" around here will not mature entirely until after a freeze.

"The June cotton," summed up Mathis, "really needed this warm weather."

Pay Increases OK'd By County

LITTLEFIELD--A rare split vote in county commissioner's court action last week approved salary increases for several elected Lamb County officials.

In a voting group where unanimous action has been the rule rather than the exception, the court split 4-1 in favor of the pay hikes.

County Judge J.B. Davis cast the dissenting vote in the action saying he favored proposed higher figures which "were published and no one appeared to protest."

Proposed figures had called for a 10 per cent across-the-board increase for the sheriff, county attorney, county clerk, county commissioners, county tax-assessor-collector, county treasurer and county judge. The proposal for an increase for the district clerk was slightly higher, with the court feeling the salary for that position was low in comparison with other counties.

The salary increases ranged from $280 per year for the county treasurer to $680 for the district clerk. Raises of $450 a year were given to the sheriff, county attorney, county clerk, and the commissioners. The county judge and county tax-assessor each drew raises of $300 annually. Raises are effective Nov. 1.

Commissioner A. J. Spain made the motion on the salaries, and it was seconded by Hubert Dykes. The present annual salaries and the approved salaries are:

County Judge---$6,000 to $6,300 (also paid $300 year as juvenile judge and receives $900 for expenses); Sheriff---$5,700 to $6,150 (no set expense account); Tax Assessor-Collector---$5,700 to $6,000 (also paid $300 yearly for administering car titles and receives $1,000 expenses); County Attorney---$5,400 to $5,850 (receives $300 per year for expenses); County Clerk---$5,400 to $5,850 (receives $300 for expenses); Treasurer---$5,000 to $5,280; District Clerk $4,600 to $5,280; county commissioners---$4,249.92 to $4,699.92 (receives $900 a year expenses.)

He was a member of the Masonic Lodge and Northside Church of Christ. He was born April 13, 1895.

Hood and his wife, the former Rebecca Leona Cole, were married Nov. 5, 1916 in Bentley, Okla. She is among survivors.

Other survivors are one son, Loyd, Littlefield; three daughters, Mrs. Wayne Butler, Littlefield, Mrs. James Busby, Springlake and Mrs. A. A. Fratt, Jr., Lubbock; three brothers, J.E. Hood, Lubbock, Earnest Hood, Littlefield, and Jess Hood, Phoenix, Ariz.; two sisters, Mrs. G. C. Pratt and Mrs. N. L. Jarnagin, both of Littlefield, and eight grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Bob Duncan, Bill Thomas, Charles Sullivan, Bill Bennett, Jim Grant and C.T. Lokey.

Honorary pallbearers were S. K. Platt, Art Nafziger, Fred Smith, Elvin Berry, Dewey Moses, Ezra Whittington, Rex Chitwood, George Caddel, Drexel Lawson, Ed Heston and John Moses and Melvin Berry. Burial was in Littlefield Memorial Cemetery with Parsons Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

It's Snakes Alive Along Road Project

If a rattlesnake hunt had been the order of the day last week, Texas Highway Dept. workmen near here would all have bagged their limit.

Men working on construction of Highway 168 between Olton and Spade have found the sand-

RATTLESNAKE hunting with a stick for Robert Garcia and other Texas Highway Dept. personnel got hot and thick last week. Garcia and another department employee killed 32 of the rattlers in one day. An estimated 100 of the snakes have been killed from two dens uncovered by workmen on the highway construction job. This rattler here is a little one in comparison to many killed near the scene.

hills a lucrative hide-away for the rattlers. In less than a week an estimated 100 have been killed.

A maintainer operator and two young men running packing machines said they killed 23 of the sand-crawling creatures one day last week.

Don Sanchez, a Highway department employee, said he was setting a stake when he stepped on a rattlesnake. Several other snakes could be heard buzzing in the tall grass.

A plot of brush land was set on fire near the north edge of the sandhills in the construction area. Snakes were reported roasted by the dozens as they crawled out of crevices.

An official of the highway department said clay and caliche had been hauled out of two different areas where the rattlers began appearing.

Another employee said there was one large hole filled with the poisonous reptiles. The men believe there are numerous dens of rattlesnakes through the sandhill route.

State's Problems Aired By Clayton

State Rep. Bill Clayton spoke here Tuesday night on problems facing Texas and what is being done about them.

He was sponsored by the New Century Study Club, and appeared at a 7:30 p.m. meeting in the Olton Recreation Center.

In discussing problems facing Texas and other matters which he hoped had been solved, Clayton named the loan shark bill as a good piece of legislature.

He said Texas had been plagued by loan sharks for 37 years and thought regulatory adjustments had to be made.

Another bill favored by the representative was one dealing with extra territorial jurisdiction which keeps cities from annexing outlying county property at will.

He told that numerous areas have been threatened by annexation just because a city wanted or needed more taxes.

Higher education was another measure, Clayton gave considerable attention. He said he voted against making San Angelo College and Pan American College four-year institutions because he didn't believe they represented academic excellence.

"We need a plan," said Clayton, "if we are to strive for academic excellence. We cannot spread our money too thin and achieve this excellence."

He told the group that Houston college alone requires 17 million dollars a year from state funds.

"This higher education question is still to be answered, and it's essential we look at it with a plan and not shoot in the dark," Clayton said.

He said he felt that college tuition would be doubled next year to help meet rising state costs.

The representative also discussed the combining of the Fish and Game Commission and the Parks Commission in an effort to cut operating expenses. "It was just good economics,"

Amendment Vote Set

Olton voters will go to the polls Saturday, Nov. 9, to cast ballots for or against four proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution.

Voting in Olton will begin at 8 a.m. and continue until 7 p.m. in the junior high gymnasium.

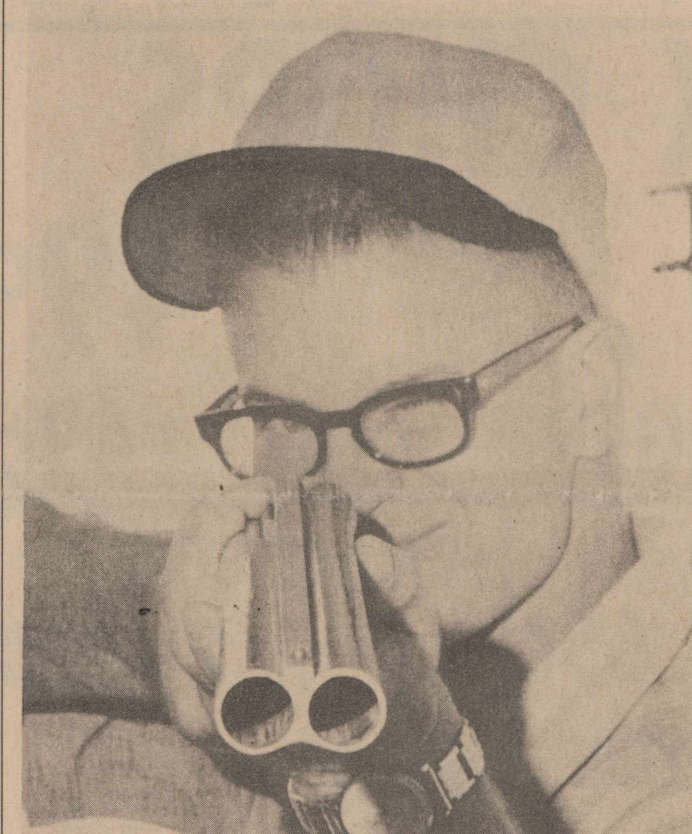

Most controversial of the proposed amendments to be decided is to abolish the state poll tax as a requirement for voting.

The other three proposed amendments raised the ceiling on state public welfare payments, continue the Veterans' Land Program and allow Jefferson County to provide pensions and insurance benefits for its employees and officials.

State legislators already have provided for a voter registration system if the poll tax amendment is adopted. They also have authorized issue of $150 million more in state bonds for financing the Veterans' Land Fund if that amendment is approved.

The proposal would also raise the maximum permissible interest rate from 3.5 per cent to 4.5 per cent on the bonds.

The public welfare amendment would do two things: increase the limit on state payments for a total of $54.5 million a year to $60 million on its share of federal assistance programs to the aged, blind, disabled and families with dependent children; and remove individual limits of $25 and $20 a month that can be paid to the aged and disabled, respectively.

COACH PAT Blessing will put his double-barrel shotgun to good use this coming weekend. He and other local shooters intend to sharpen their shooting eye by competing in the Quarterback Club's Turkey Shoot. Shooting for turkeys, hams and merchandise begins at 9 a.m. Saturday, Sunday's shoot will get underway at 1 p.m. A pit is being erected just east of Olton Grain.

Turkey Shootin' Time This Weekend

Break out your shotguns men and sharpen your shooting eye.

The Olton Quarterback Club is sponsoring a Turkey Shoot this Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 9 and 10.

Shooting will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday, just east of Olton Grain and will continue until dark. Sunday's go-around will not begin until 1 p.m., but shooting will last until sundown.

Coach Walter Bryan, head of the turkey shoot committee, reported that 20 turkeys and 20 hams will be given to winning marksmen.

Five shots for $2 will be given on the turkeys and hams, or shooters can pay 50 cents for five shots, competing for such merchandise as sweat socks, insulated underwear, golf balls, hand warmers, pocket knives, flash lights, hunting mittens and hunting vests.

Bryan said there will be two cases of 12-gauge shells available. The club ordered 20 cases of clay pigeons for the shoot-out.

QB Club Seeks Speaker

The Olton Quarterback Club began elementary steps Monday night to come up with a speaker for the 1963-64 athletic banquet.

Members decided the best date for the banquet would be around the middle of January, but no definite date has been set.

In discussing who they could get for a speaker, Bill Kelley suggested that a professional football player be contacted. Bobby Layne and Raymond Berry were among names mentioned.

Other presons given consideration were Coach Jackson at ACC, Max Bumgardner or Phil George at San Angelo College, or Gene Mayfield, high school coach at Borger.

A number of these men are being contacted for the speaking engagement.

In other business discussed, officers called the pancake supper a success and extended the club's thanks to persons attending.

Enrollment Near 1500

Enrollment in Olton Public Schools reached an all-time high of 1,490 this week.

That record-shattering mark was reported Tuesday night at a regular meeting of the Olton school board.

The previous record of slightly less than 1,400 came last year.

The report on enrollment was among a number of details taken up by the board Tuesday night.

In other activity, the board adopted a new policy on band jacket awards and heard reports on the lunchroom, tax collections, investment of school funds, library requirements and the annual audit.

The policy on band jackets calls for the school to award jackets to senior members beginning this year.

The school will discontinue ordering jackets at parents' expense for other band students.

In the past, band jackets have been ordered for all band students wishing them, with the awards paid for by the parents.

Board members said they felt the new policy of the school awarding jackets to senior members only will make the award "more of an honor" and might also help to keep more students in the band program through their senior years.

The jackets will be awarded to seniors near the beginning of their final year at Olton High.

In the report on tax collections, tax collector Elmer Moore told the board that $37,349 was collected through October, an increase of more than 10 per cent over the figure at the same time last year.

In the study of investment of school funds, the board made plans to work with Olton State Bank for counsel on the investments as allowed now under new state law.

On library requirements, Supt. Johnny Clark Jr., advised the board that Olton school libraries now fall somewhat short of state requirements, but added that the school is making efforts each year to fill holes in the local program.

Clark related that this job is being done as fast as finances allow.

The annual audit of school funds, Clark told the board, should be ready within the next few days. A special meeting of the board is planned later this month to study the audit for approval.

The enrollment report given by Clark showed the following number of students in each grade: first grade, 199; second, 127; third, 150; fourth, 127; fifth, 116; sixth, 120; seventh, 107; eighth, 105; ninth, 75; 10th 73; 11th 70; and 12th 32.

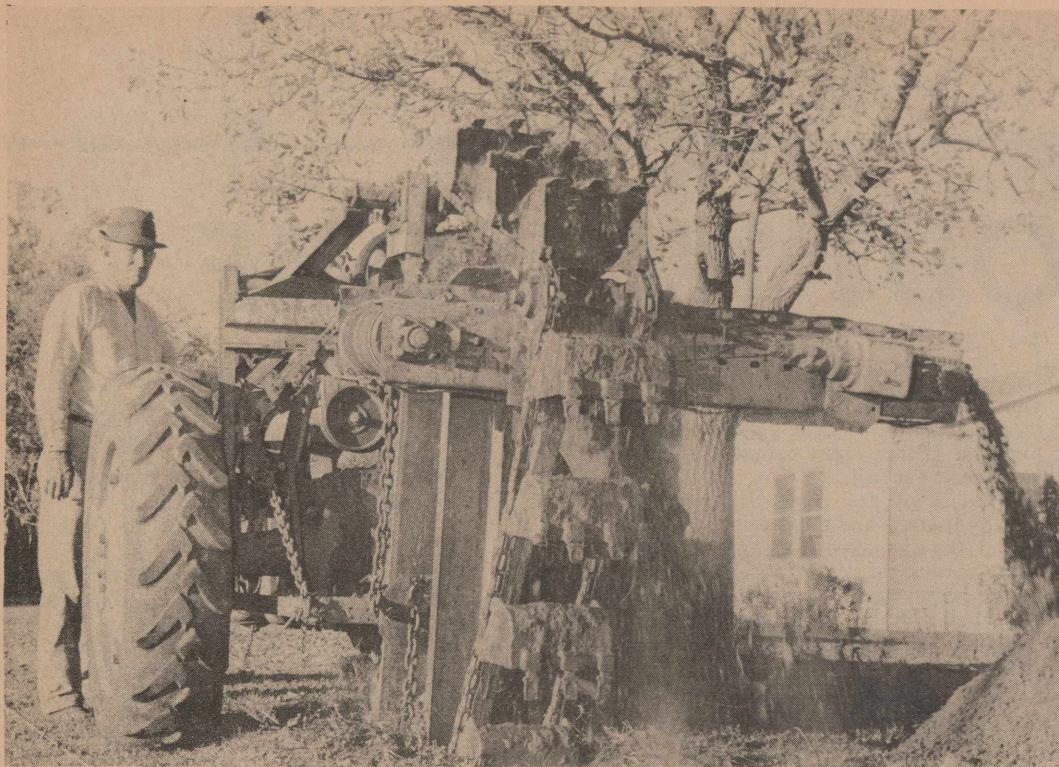

That gives a total of 727 in the elementary school, 332 in junior high and 250 in high school, for 1,309 in all white schools. Total at Bohner is 181.

Average daily attendance in white schools for the first six weeks was 1176 compared with 1134 the same time a year ago.

Attendance at Bohner the first six weeks was 144, compared to 112 at the same time a year ago.

MRS. DON SPAIN, left, and Mrs. Archie Sorley, vice-president and president of the New Century Study Club, chat with State Rep. Bill Clayton. The representative was hosted by the study club for a Tuesday night talk at the Olton Recreation Center. Clayton related a few of the laws and particulars which face state legislators.

WATER SUPT. W. F. Williamson has been putting in some steady hours the last several days in making this ditch-digger perform correctly. Ditches for a two-inch water line are being dug from Ninth Street to the middle of 12th Street. The new water line will replace the one which now lies underneath the highway. Williamson said the new line also would boost water pressure.

Barry Prestridge, a freshman at Howard Payne College, Brownwood, visited in Olton during the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Barton Prestridge.

One Jailed, Others Sought In Widespread Vandalism

A 19-year old Latin-American is in Hale County jail and at least two other Olton boys are being sought for questioning in wide-spread acts of vandalism in this area. Held is Ramon Barrientez. He was taken into custody Monday by Chief of Police E.E. Burrows and Hale County officers, investigating a series of vandalism forays at farms in Lamb and Hale County.

Burrows said at least five others are being sought for questioning for acts of property destruction amounting to three or four thousand dollars.

Barrientez, held on charge of wilfully and mischievously destroying private property, was charged specifically with damaging a crop dusting plane. The plane was parked on a farm northwest of Olton and belongs to Earl Sexton of Liberal, Kan. Fuselage of the craft was beaten, the windshield broken and spraying equipment damaged.

Burrows said a case of motor oil and two batteries, along with a new tire and wheel, were among items recovered at the Barrientez home. Burrows said the items were found in a shed at the back of the elder Barrientez residence, but there is no indication of the family being involved.

Among the wanton acts of vandalism in the series was loosing a farm tractor on the R. L. King place a mile northwest of Hale Center, sending the moving machine crashing into a garage. The tractor crashed through the wall, causing damage to a new automobile parked inside the garage.

A gas hose at an irrigation well was cut and the escaping gas set afire. Windshields were broken out, upholstery of tractor seats slashed and accessories on machinery pounded to pieces.

C-CA Slates January Date For Industrial Workshop

Olton Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture board members Tuesday morning set a Jan. 16, date for an industrial workshop as they met for a 6 a.m. breakfast and business session at the Ideal Cafe.

Melvin McReynolds, CC-A manager, said the workshop will be under direction of personnel from the Industrial Economics Research Division of Texas A&M.

A number of A&M industrial specialists will meet with city, civic and farm leaders here in discussing industrial possibilities for Olton and vicinity. James Bradley, head of the Industrial Economics Research Division, will be in charge of the group which meets with Olton leaders.

In the morning meeting Percy Parson, chairman of the Olton Industrial Committee, made a report on a Community Development Conference held last week in Crosbyton.

Also attending the conference were Russell Rucker, city councilman, and McReynolds.

The Crosbyton program was sponsored by General Telephone Company and its instruction was geared to small towns and how they could develop in as far as attracting industry. Harry Clark, executive director of the Texas Industrial Commission was in charge of the conference.

In other business Tuesday, the CC-A board set up a tentative date of the first two weeks in Dec. for its membership drive.

The board also read a letter of inquiry from a graduate dentist, Bryan Collins Jr., interested in practicing dentistry in this area.

Collins has just graduated from Dental school in Houston and is a former resident of Amarillo.

The board, according to McReynolds, intends to take positive action on getting Collins to locate in Olton.

MULES' COMEBACK NIPS MUSTANGS, 21-13

Muleshoe's Mules fought off a determined Olton scoring bid, then pulled out an ace in the hole in the fourth quarter here Friday night to nip the Mustangs, 21-13, in a District 3-AA game before a full house for Dad's Night.

The victory gave the Mules possession of the district lead along with Friona, which nipped Morton, 7-6, to maintain its unbeaten record.

The Olton loss left the Mustangs hoping for a Friona win over Muleshoe at Mule land Friday night, then an Olton win over the Chiefs when they play at Friona Nov. 15.

Such a pattern would throw the District 3-AA chase into a three-way tie among, Olton, Friona and Muleshoe.

Faced with an open date this week, the Mustangs looked back at a Muleshoe game which could have easily gone the other way.

For a few fleeting moments Friday night, it appeared the Mustangs might pull off a victory over a bigger, faster Mule eleven.

After Olton took a 13-7 lead to the dressing room at half time, the Mules came charging back in the third period to take the advantage, 14-13.

Early in the fourth period, however, the Mustangs launched a drive from their own 17. They successfully moved to the Muleshoe eight for a first-and-goal situation.

Fullback Joe Costello, who led Olton ball carriers with 91 yards in 19 trips this night, plunged for three to the 5-yard line.

A second down pass was broken up and then Costello hit the line again. He broke out of a pile-up at the line of scrimmage for an apparent touchdown.

But the officials ruled the whistle had blown before Costello made his dive for the goal.

A fourth down passing try failed and the Mules had held at their own four.

Two plays later, after the Mules gained a first down at their 15, Muleshoe pulled its ace in the hole.

It was an 85-yard touchdown run by Danny Smith, a 200-pound fullback who seems to have speed to burn.

Although apparently stopped at the line, Smith slid off wide, got running room and simply outran Olton defenders to the goal.

That gave the Mules their insurance touchdown, and a 21-13 lead, but it didn't put the Mustangs out of the ball game.

Six minutes remained and a tie ball game would have given the Mustangs the victory on penetrations, 4-3.

But the best the Ponies could do in the last six minutes was to reach the Mule 37 on one possession and the Muleshoe 33 on the other.

Olton dominated play as the ball game began and took a 13-0 lead as the first quarter ended.

The first touchdown came after the Mustangs held at the Mule 37 and forced a punt.

Mule QB Ken Heathington juggled the snap and Olton's Jerry LaFrance pounced on the ball at the Muleshoe 27.

From there it took only two runs by Costello for the Ponies to score.

The Mustang fullback ripped 16 yards to the 11 on the first play, then went the distance on the next try. George Jones' PAT kick was blocked and Olton led, 6-0, with seven minutes left in the first period.

For the rest of the period, the Mustangs never let Muleshoe out of its own territory. Late in the quarter, Heathington kicked to the Olton 37.

Costello gained four and on second down QB Joe Priest passed to Richard Hall, all alone at the Mule 30. Hall zig-zagged all the way for the touchdown.

Jones added the PAT and it was 13-0, with a minute left in the first quarter.

Muleshoe stormed back in the second period, led by the entry of Fullback Smith into the game for the first time about midway in the second quarter.

Smith replaced Clifford Gray, the number 1 Mule fullback, after Gray had picked up a first down at the Olton 32 with a six-yard run.

The first thing the big boy did was pile-drive for 24 yards to the Olton 8. He hit twice more and the second time got the first Mule TD from four yards out.

Don Murray kicked the point and Muleshoe closed it to 13-7 with 4:09 left in the half.

The two teams played around the midfield stripe for the rest of the period.

Opening the third quarter, Heathington returned Jones' kick-off 27 yards to the Muleshoe 37.

The Mules went the 63 yards in 16 plays, with Smith carrying on nine plays and gaining 33 of the total yardage.

Each time the Mules needed a first down, they called on the big boy and he responded with three-yard pick-ups.

Olton hung tough, though, and it appeared the Ponies might stop the drive after the Mules reached the Mustang 27.

George Jones and Richard Hall combined there to stop big Danny for a one-yard loss. But Smith made eight on the next play and on fourth down, with three needed, gained four to the Olton 16.

Smith carried twice more for 12 yards and a new first down at the Olton 4.

There Dennis Givens, Olton guard, rose up to stop the big fullback for no gain on the first play.

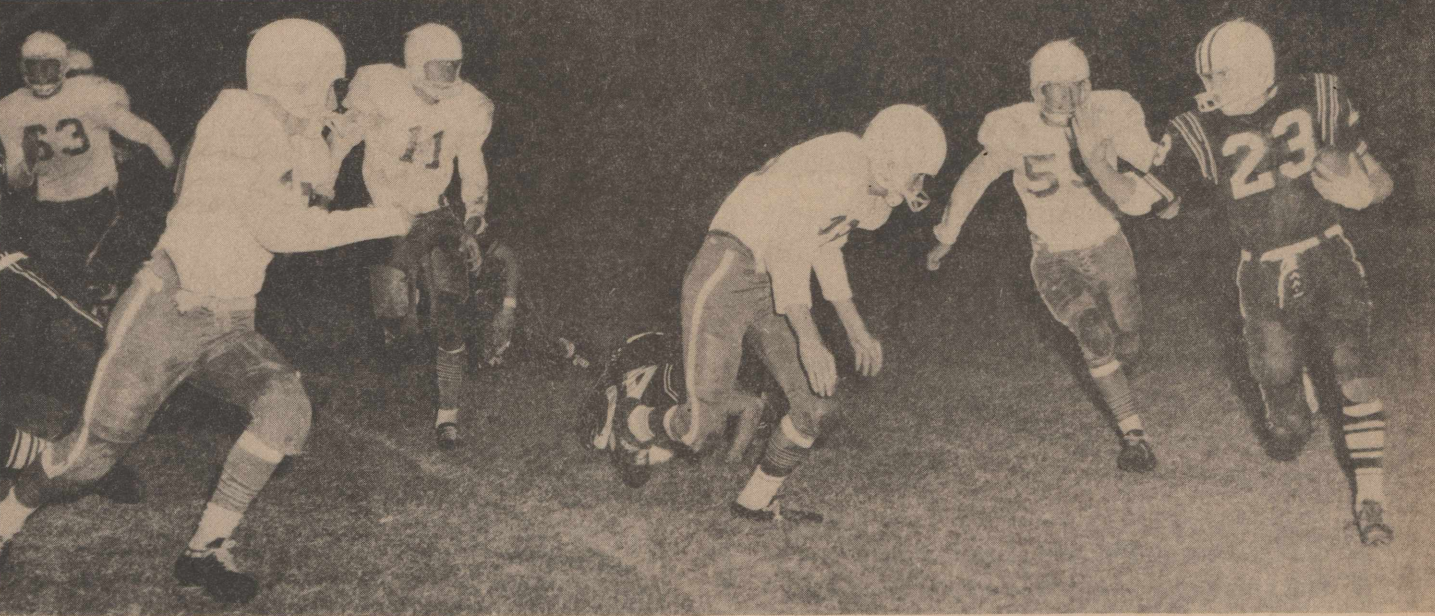

Heathington faked to Smith on the next play, then swept his right end for the touchdown. Murray's kick was good and it was 14-13, Muleshoe, with 5:42 left in the third quarter.

The Mustangs seemed to be moving after the kick-off, which Jones returned 31 yards to the Rey (72), Clyde Galloway (85), Darrell Glover (82) and Joe Costello (45).

THE OLTON DEFENSE poured in on Muleshoe's Ronnie Johnson to stop the Mule for no gain on this play. The Ponies are, from left, Dennis Givens (63), Jackie Burkhalter (20), George Jones (11), Jerry LaFrance (28) and Leon Kendall (55).

Olton 46.

On third down, Jones lacked a yard for a first down at the Muleshoe 45.

Priest tried a sneak and Olton fans thought he had the first down. But the officials ruled he didn't make it and Muleshoe took over without a measurement.

The Mustangs stopped Muleshoe's next advance at the Olton 40 and took over at the Olton 17 following Heathington's punt.

As the third quarter ended, Priest passed to Darrell Glover for 10 yards and a first down at the Olton 30.

The play set off Olton's long drive to the Muleshoe four. From the 30 Priest hit Glover again for a first down at the Olton 44.

Then Costello came through on a draw play, romping 12 yards to the Muleshoe 44.

Costello gained three more, then Priest hit Hall with a 12-yard gainer to the Mule 29.

Jones got off on an eight-yard gain and Priest added three for Mustang first down at the Mule 18.

Costello carried twice for 10 and a first down at the eight. He got three more to the five.

After Priest's pass fell incomplete, Costello carried again, diving into the end zone after being held up at the four-yard line. Officials ruled the play dead there.

On fourth down Priest's pass was batted down and the Mustangs had lost their chance to go ahead.

Three plays later, Smith broke for his 85-yard run and the Mules were ahead by 21-13.

After the kick-off, Olton reached the Mule 37, where it was fourth-and-two. Priest dropped back to pass, couldn't find a receiver open and ran.

The Mules got him at the original line of scrimmage and took over there.

Muleshoe fumbled with two minutes left and the Mustangs took over at their own 49. Glover came up with the stray ball.

Priest's pass to Glover got away from the Olton end, but officials ruled interference and the Mustangs had a first down at the Mule 34 with a minute and a half to play.

On first down, however, the Mule defense reared up and got Priest for a seven-yard loss.

Priest's short pass to Jones gained four and Costello got four more on the draw.

On fourth-and-nine, the Mules dropped Jones for a nine-yard loss.

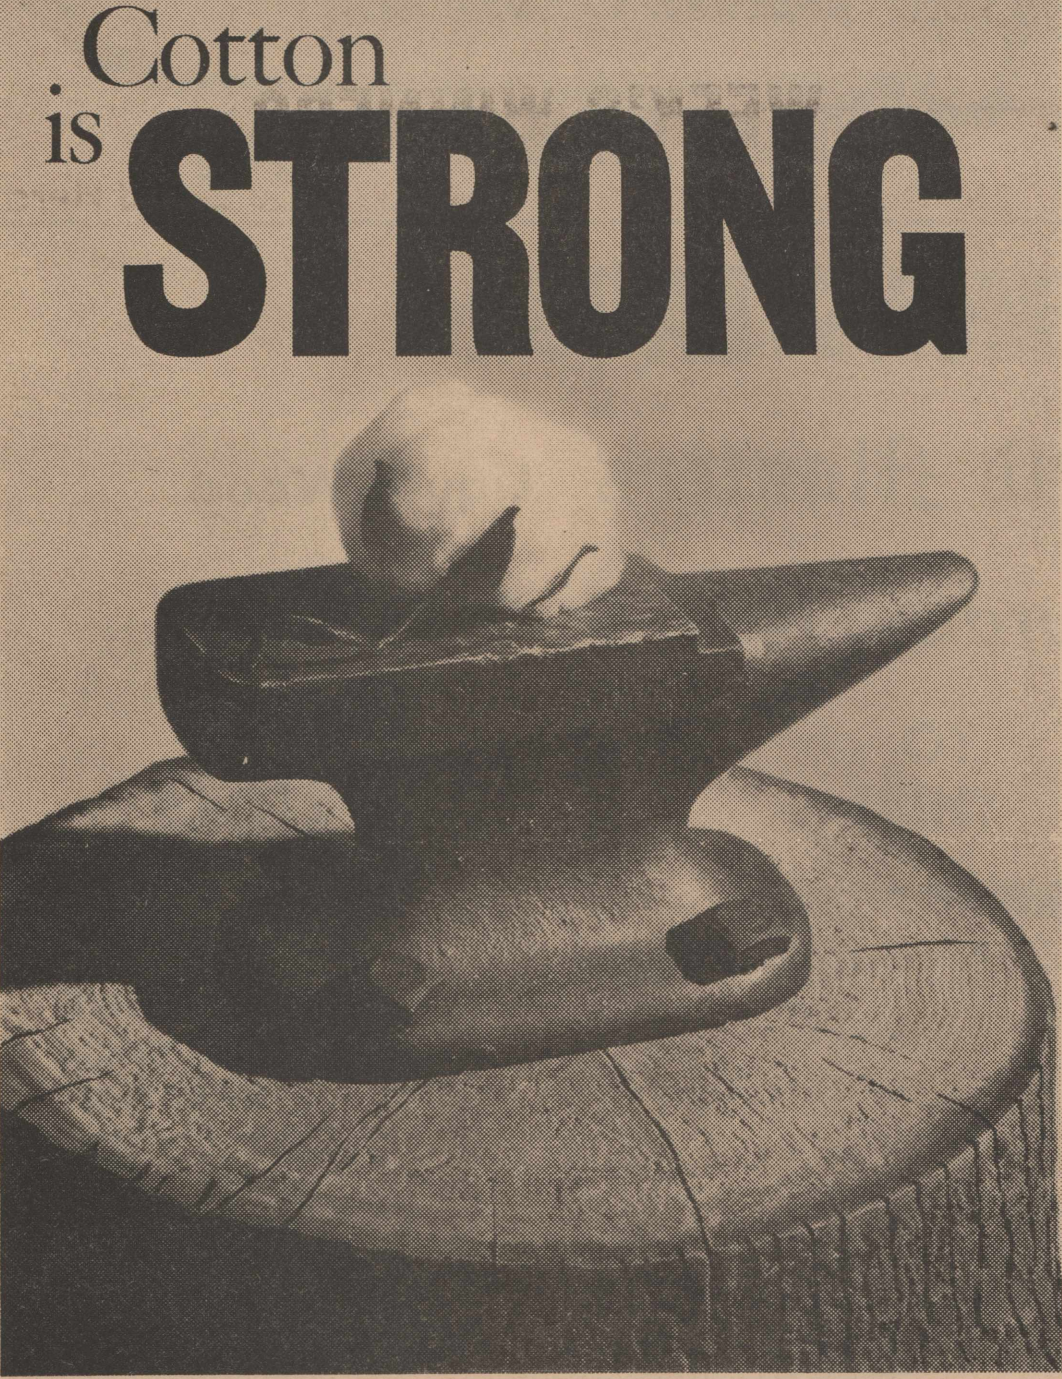

Smith was the big gun in the Muleshoe attack, gaining 170 yards in 18 carries.

Priest got 132 yards in the air for the Mustangs, hitting 8 for 13 on his aeriels.

Costello rolled up 91 yards in 19 tries for the Ponies.

Defensively the Mustangs were paced by Linebackers Leon Kendall, George Jones and Richard Hall, along with Glover, Givens and Bill Carson in the line.

Cotton is a natural muscleman—strong as steel. Its fiber strength is 100,000 pounds per square inch—even stronger when wet. In the washing machine, in the rain, or soaked with perspiration, when extra strength is needed, cotton really flexes its muscles. Its toughness laughs at abrasion, as rugged Army field tests have shown, and you won't find cotton coming apart at the seams. There is no denying it—nothing looks like cotton, does like cotton, is like cotton. It's in a class by itself.

NEW CHEVELLE!

BY CHEVROLET

The kind of handling ease you'd expect in a smaller car.
Come on down and drive it.

The kind of comfort you'd expect in a large interior.
Come on down and sit in it.

Only a car that looks as good as this could come between Chevrolet and Chevy II.
Come on down and stare at it.

New Chevelle Malibu Sport Coupe

Now—Chevy spirit in a new kind of car!

We built this one to do more than just stand around looking beautiful. Held its weight down in the 3,000-pound range. Then built four lusty engines—two sixes and two V8's—with output all the way up to 220 horses*!

And if that makes you think this is one frisky car, you've got the right idea.

You've also got a roomy car here. Yet its 115-inch wheelbase keeps it highly maneuverable in traffic and very easy to park.

With its Full Coil suspension, it's got a ride that reminds you of the Jet-smooth kind the way it muffles noise and cushions bumps.

And the fine hand of Body by Fisher craftsmen shows up beneath this one's suave good looks, too.

Sound good? There's more. Like the fact that Chevelle comes in three series with eleven models—convertibles, sport coupes, sedans, wagons, even Super Sport models with front bucket seats. Like the fact that (and see if this isn't one of the nicest surprises of all) the new Chevelle comes at an easy-to-take price!

Like to hear more? The listening's wonderful at your Chevrolet dealer's—and so's the driving.

State Rep. Bill Clayton Opposes Poll Tax Repeal

EDITOR'S NOTE:

(The following article is written by State Representative Bill Clayton in opposition to repeal of the poll tax. Rep. Clayton was one of 27 members of the House of Representatives who voted against submitting the Constitutional amendment to voter repeal. Clayton gives the following reasons for his opposition.)

Payment of the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting prevents ignorant, corrupt and disinterested citizens from voting, but the low fee levied ($1.75 less than the price of six packs of Cigarettes) does not prevent any citizen who really wants to exercise his rights and fulfill his obligations to his state and nation from taking a stand at the ballot box.

Repeal of the poll tax would result in the registration of hundreds of thousands of potential voters who can be controlled. Chances for fraud in elections would be multiplied manyfold—a detriment to good government.

The poll tax prohibits the purchase of votes by corrupt candidates and political machines and helps preserve the purity of the ballot box. If the poll tax is repealed the voter would not even be required to read or write the English language.

In 1960, Texas had 5,531,000 inhabitants over 21, and 40 per cent of that number voted in the general election. The State of Ohio with a comparable 5,839,000 inhabitants over 21 and no poll tax had a 38 per cent voting record at the same election. Apparently, the poll tax as a prerequisite for voting has not resulted in decreased voter interest in Texas.

The question of having to pay to vote carries no weight because if the poll tax is repealed we only substitute 25 cents for $1.75 so you still pay to vote.

It is possible that if the Federal Constitution is amended the 25 cent registration fee might be declared a tax and would then be unconstitutional.

However, if the amendment to the Constitution of the United States abolishing payment of the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting for federal officials is ratified, the anticipatory voter-registration law passed by the 58th Legislature still provides for registration and voting for candidates to federal offices.

This will not create confusion as some might lead you to believe. Abolition of payment of the poll tax could result in depriving the public schools of Texas between 1.5 to 2 million dollars annually. One dollar of the poll tax goes to Public Schools and 50 cents goes to the State general revenue fund with the remaining 25 cents staying in the county.

Loss of this revenue would result in other taxes. Repeal of the poll tax would remove registration of voters from the Constitution and place in the hands of the Legislature.

Any future Legislature could weaken requirements for voting or allow registration so near to election dates as to invite problems the reform elements sought to end in 1902.

It took a long time and hard struggle to get a statewide system of voter registration in Texas and it was not achieved until it was written into the Constitution in mandatory form.

The poll tax receipt is a badge both to the responsible citizen and the qualified elector. The kind of people we elect to public office is only as good as the voters themselves.

To repeal the poll tax would not upgrade the caliber of the voter but would have the opposite effect—then it can be assumed that the caliber of people we elect to public office will be reduced.

If the poll tax is repealed, Rep. Clayton predicts the following things to happen in the next ten years to our State Government.

1. Repeal of the Texas Right-to-work Law.
2. Personal or Corporate State income tax, maybe both.
3. A stronger civil rights measure than is pushed by the Federal Government.
4. Liquor by the drink.
5. Pari-mutuel gambling.
6. Enact a State wage and hour Law.
7. Repeal of the 1963 registration Act.

If these things happen we will see a further decay of the moral standards in Texas. It will discourage industry from coming to Texas and it will leave avenues open to corrupt State Government.

For 60 years the Texas voter has voted as a free individual with a sense of obligation to his government and with appreciation of the value and importance of his right to vote.

That is Democracy in its best form; it is Democracy through which a wonderfully fine, clean and solvent State Government has been established.

Both the Democratic process and our State Government can best be defended if you will join hands in voting the repeal of the poll tax Saturday, Nov. 9th.

Mustang Chances Hinge On Friona Upset Of Mules

Anyone who "savvies" the equivalent of third grade math, can easily figure that Mustang football chances are rather slim in sharing the 3-AA district crown.

Of course, there's still the longshot that Friona can upset the rampaging Muleshoe Mules and that Olton can in turn knock off the Chiefs. Mustang football fans will watch the outcome with interest Friday while their team takes the week off with an open date.

Coach Walter Bryan was asked for his opinions on the district matter. "Friona is not rugged enough," he said, "they don't have the mental toughness it will take to beat Muleshoe." Bryan added the Mules could let Friona's speed become an equalizing factor.

But the coach really doesn't think that will happen. He looks for, although he hopes against, the Mules to take the district championship.

"Friona hasn't had the competition Muleshoe has had," reasoned the Olton mentor.

Bryan figures whoever wins this district will meet Denver City in the regional encounter and that will be as far as this district's champion will go.

He believes Post will fall before Denver City's big red Friday then overpower the Mules in the regional meeting. Coach Bryan foresees Dimmitt finishing last in district competition, with Morton, Friona, Olton and Muleshoe finishing in that order.

Clayton

Another item he discussed was a tourist development agency which has been created to encourage tourists to come to Texas.

Other items Clayton touched upon were this Saturday's four Constitutional Amendments to be decided by voters.

The first amendment deals with the poll tax repeal. A second concerns the veterans land board and the third involves raising the constitutional limit on welfare of the aged, needy, blind and handicapped.

Clayton voiced his disapproval to the poll tax repeal saying it would bring about more harm than good.

In today's enterprise Clayton releases a formal, written objection concerning the repeal.

Running Water Philosopher Trying To Decide Whether Moon Project Worth Costs

Editor's note: The Running Water Philosopher on his care-less weed farm on Running Water Draw discusses a burning issue of the day.

Dear editor:

A man in town stopped me the other day and said, "Say, you're always expressing an opinion, tell me, should the United States proceed with its plans to put a man on the moon?"

I'll give you my opinion very frankly.

First, as I understand it, and I don't mind saying the way I understand some situations has no bearing on what the true situations are, Russia and us were all set for a race to the moon and Russia ups and calls the game off.

And as I further understand it, the scientists in charge of the moon project argue that whether Russia tries for the moon or not has no bearing on what we do, that getting to the moon is worth what it'll cost, regardless.

Now while I've always felt a man shouldn't rush head-long into plowing, marrying or moon-shooting, that it's wiser and easier and more comfortable to take your time on either task, still I don't know enough about the fruits of outer space to say we shouldn't spend 40 billion dollars to explore it.

But I was just thinking. Say we spend 40 billion and get to the moon but don't find quite what we were looking for, that the fun, as they say about mountain climbing, was getting there, not staying there.

All right. Here we've got all this money invested, we might as well try some other planet. The next planet, like next year's crop, may always look better than the current one.

Now naturally the first trip, like the first model of a new airplane, costs a lot more than those that follow, so we'll assume that we can land a man on Venus for half as much, one on Jupiter for half of that, and so forth, until we get the cost down to say a measley billion dollars a planet.

Well, since man can't imagine an end or a lack of an end to space, scientists have estimated there are countless billions of planets in the universe, and maybe some more universes outside of this one. But just for the sake of simple arithmetic, say there are a billion explorable planets out there waiting for us to put a man on.

At one billion dollars a planet, that's a billion-billion dollars. I would write the figure out in numerals, but I don't know how to do it and anyway I doubt if you have enough zeroes in The Enterprise printing plant to swing it.

As you can see, my answer to the question, Should we put a man on the moon, is a clear-out, emphatic I don't know. Yours faithfully, J. A.
