"POLITICS!"

Sheriff Ben Hicks of Montgomery county blames "politics" for the recent escape of Isiah Edwards, negro, condemned slaver, from the Conroe, Texas, jail. "Efforts have been made recently by deputies to make me look bad," Sheriff Hicks said. The negro gained his freedom despite three locked doors which were not forced, and was found shot to death near Mont Belvieu, Texas, 36 hours later.

Sermonette
We talk much of good will through this column. It is therefore in order to define that of which we speak. To quote the U. S. Supreme court, "Good will is the disposition of the customer to return to the place where he has been well served."

Good Business
Much food for thought is concentrated in that short sentence. In the first place, good will implies recurrence of contacts. Business is made up of repetition. People today buy day by day, instead of purchasing provisions by longer periods, as in the frontier days. Good will, we may assume, is almost synonymous with good business.

Reason For It
The definition also uses the phrase "well served." There is only one sure way to obtain and keep good will—that is, by serving well those with whom one comes in contact. If a firm wishes repeat business, let it serve well. If a community wishes to stand well in its territory and if the merchants therein wish frequent visits from neighboring residents, let it be said that the visitors feel they have been "served well."

Leap Year, Again
Leap year resulted when Julius Caesar reformed the Roman calendar. He added a day, every fourth year in order to make the average solar year 365 1/4 days. Every year exactly divisible by four, excepting those that are divisible by 100 and not by 400, is a leap year.

If And When
Mrs. James Todd Jr., though married on a leap year, says the fact had nothing to do with it; she didn't propose. In fact, Mrs. Todd does not believe in proposals by girls. However, if the girls are to support the men,

AMARILLO OFFICER IS CHARGED IN SLAYING

POLICEMAN TO FACE TRIAL IN ELSTON CASE

PANHANDLE MAN WAS SHOT DOWN AT DANCE

COP WAS CHASING HIM

E. R. MURR CLAIMS HE DID NOT FIRE AT FUGITIVE

AMARILLO, Dec. 30. (P)—E. R. Murr, 33, Amarillo motorcycle officer, today was indicted for murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Bill Elston, Carson county surveyor, last July 26.

Sid Harper, another member of the Amarillo police department, who was charged jointly with Murr, was no-billed. Both Murr and Harper had been no-billed by a former grand jury.

Murr was arrested by Police Chief W. R. McDowell and made bond of $5,000.

Elston was shot down near a recreation dance hall while Murr and Harper chased him to serve a justice of the peace warrant for criminal assault. Murr stumbled over the body as Elston fell. Both officers said they had not fired. Firearms experts who examined the guns said they had not been fired, although the bullet removed from Elston's head was from a gun similar to Murr's.

Investigators then operated on the theory that Elston had been shot by a bystander, or by someone who might have fired upon the officers.

Elston, 25, was the son of County Judge Frank Elston of Carson county.

Commissioners at Work on Plans for Road Paving

Gray county commissioners arrived in town this morning to discuss a highway building program in a meeting this afternoon.

The court has been working overtime lately in an effort to draft a complete program which if carried out, would save the county a considerable amount of money and would speed construction of the needed roads. The commissioners are anxious to dispense with all red tape as soon as possible, and to get everything in shape for starting actual building of the roads by next spring.

The program on which they are working now calls for building the most roads at the least possible cost. The commissioners believe that it will save the county money, and in the end will result in quicker construction of the roads.

All members of the court are co-operating in an effort to formulate a complete program.

Commissioners waiting for Judge S. D. Stennis to call the meeting this afternoon were Lewis O. Cox and John R. White. H. G. McCleskey and M. M. Newman had not arrived, but were expected by 1 o'clock.

White New Year Is Prediction of 'Friday' Brandon

There is a weather prophet in Pampa, his friends believe, who has all other prognosticators beaten more ways than a farmer can whip a mule.

He is A. G. (Friday) Brandon, unofficial deputy at the courthouse, regardless of who is in power. Yesterday, friends of "Friday" remembered that he never issues statements regarding the weather, but that he will tell one what sort of weather there is going to be—if one asks him.

Yesterday, "Friday" predicted that New Year's day would be white-snow on the ground. An oldtimer heard "Friday" make the prediction and murmured, "I must remember to drain the radiator of my car." Last summer, during the wheat harvest, "Friday" predicted when the showers would come. He knew it would be pretty Christmas day. Sometimes he is mistaken, and he may be wrong about New Year's, but if he is it can not affect his reputation in any way. "Friday" is reticent—he seldom talks unless he is spoken to.

He has lived in Gray county 25 years and he knows his weather. He has his own system and he is not giving it away. He came from Louisiana to Texas. In that state, forecasting weather was an art and a heritage. "Friday" learned all about Louisiana weather before he came to Texas, but while he began to live in the Panhandle he had to learn the signs all over again. However, he had a good foundation.

Three Persons Are Arrested for Running Lights

Three persons who had an idea that the traffic lights at the corner of Foster and Cuyler did not mean much since the city had no regular traffic officer were given tickets yesterday by H. L. Kenner, who is desk sergeant when he is not speed cop. A speeder also was given a ticket and told to report at the police station to pay his fine.

Chief J. I. Downs is considering adding the duties of a traffic officer to his own, and may relieve Mr. Kenner at various times.

George Stanley, county traffic officer, is planning a campaign to eliminate "one-eyed" cars. On the way to Amarillo Monday, he counted 25 such vehicles. He reported to today that Pampa is full of "one-eyed" cars and as soon as he begins working at night, he's going to haul the drivers to the justice of the peace office.

SLAYING SUSPECT HELD
INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 30. (P)—A man giving his name as John Carder and his age as 20 years was held by police here today for questioning in connection with the slaying of six-year-old Marian McLean of Cincinnati.

The man was arrested on information obtained from a houseman at a home on the northside where the man had asked for food.

James M. Watson of Borger made a business trip to Pampa on Tuesday.

STERLING HAS IDEA HE WILL SEEK ANOTHER TERM
other things were commented on until the reporters started to leave, when one of them said: "Governor, you have not said you would be a candidate for re-election."

"I do not want to tell you everything at one visit, for fear you will not come back to see me," he replied.

"He Haw!" This is the Democratic slogan for 1932 as selected by Senators Copeland and Dill of Washington, for 10,000 submitted in a national contest. And J. J. Stubbs, pictured above, of Robstown, Texas, wrote the winning slogan and will receive $100 prize for his efforts.

NEW ENTRANTS NEARING LEAD

Idle Candidates Will Lose Out Entirely Unless They Wake Up Now.

The NEWS' circulation contest is taking on much momentum now that new contestants entering are getting better results. One woman entered Christmas eve, and today is in second place, with a bid that should put her in first place by tonight.

Such work and such results are demanding that every contestant wake up and quit allying or accepting excuses. In fact, the campaign is now developing into a contest where results and results alone count, and people who do not want to work, or have lack of ability, will be forced to step aside for the onrush of the candidates who are diving, tackling, bucking the front line and kicking for the desired goal—a Buick automobile, a Chevrolet automobile, or that wonderful trip over the Transcontinental Western Air line from Amarillo to Los Angeles, which includes seeing and doing things in Los Angeles, visiting Hollywood, taking a courtesy letter from that smiling and admirable Brownie Akers, manager of the local theater, and last but not least, enjoying a visit to beautiful Catalina islands as the guest of the NEWS and the Wilmington Transportation company.

This island is owned by the famous chewing gum man, Wrigley, and those who visit it say it is a fairyland of dreams.

Boobie Prize
Who's going to be the boobie in this race, who is going to win the boobie prize? Sure there is always someone to be the Boobie in any contest, and for that reason we have arranged for a beautiful, late model, fully equipped wheelbarrow. Do you want it?—IT'S UP TO YOU!

Louis Behrens made a business trip to Amarillo yesterday.

Christmas Greeting Carried Hint, Which He Will Not Deny to Scribes.

AUSTIN, Dec. 30. (P)—Gov. R. S. Sterling left the impression that he would be a candidate for re-election in the democratic primary next July in an interview with newspapermen today.

He would not say directly that he was a candidate but his replies to questions were all but a clear-cut declaration.

"One sentence in your Christmas greetings statement to the people of Texas left the inference that you would be a candidate, that declaration being that you expected to 'get out and see the people during the coming year,'" the governor was told.

Five new members were received into the board to fill the vacancies left by retiring directors who have already served their time. The new directors are Paul Hill, Frank Foster, Travis Lively, Frank Keim, and W. A. Bratton. A G. Post was re-appointed to fill J. E. Murfee's unexpired term.

Other members of the board are Mr. Walker, Carl Boston, R. G. Aiken, Ivy E. Duncan, E. M. Conley, W. H. Curry, Tom Rose, DeLea Vicars, and Sam Fenberg.

The president or a representative from the Junior chamber of commerce will be asked to meet with the senior board at each meeting. The president, or a representative of the senior board, will meet with the junior board.

Others who will retire from the board are J. E. Murfee, M. K. Brown, J. M. Dodson, C. C. Cook, and A. G. Post.

Mr. Walker, former legislator and newspaper publisher, good roads advocate and civic leader, takes to the presidency of the B. C. D. rich experience in the work he has undertaken for Pampa. He owns the Pampa Office Supply company and is president of the Lions club.

Woman Is Shot While in Bed at Brother's Home

PORT WORTH, Dec. 30. (P)—Mrs. Pat McInroe, 27, was shot as she lay in bed at the home of her brother, Boyd Nanny, 25, at Grand-bury late last night. She was brought to a hospital here, suffering from rifle bullet wounds in the stomach and leg.

Mrs. McInroe was shot from the bedroom window. She ran from the house, being pursued by her assailant, who in turn was followed by Nanny. Nanny said the man fired five times at him with the repeating rifle but missed.

Nanny overlooked his sister's assailant and subdued him after a struggle. The man was turned over to officers, who placed him in jail.

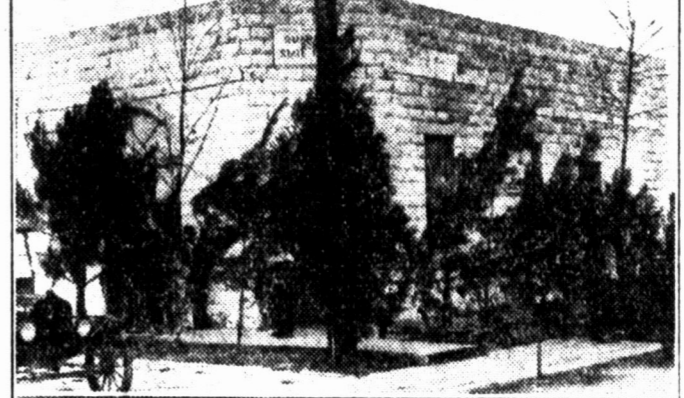

Minor Thefts In City Are Reported

A stolen bull pup and an automobile "stripped to the fenders" had police and officers of the sheriff's department hunting for clues and investigating this morning.

The automobile, a 1929 Ford coupe owned by Henry Reynolds, was found late last night about one and one-half miles from the city. To enter the car, the thieves broke the windshield and door glasses. Hub caps, tires and front wheels were stolen.

The bulldog is owned by E. M. Holsenback. He is a five-month-old brindled pup. One ear is cut shorter than the other. The pup has unusually large feet. He answers to the name of Jeff.

TREES SHIELD BANK STICK-UP

When four bandits slipped away with $5,000 from the funds of the Guaranty Bond State Bank of Tom Ball, Texas, last week, the pine tree decorations hid their get-away from Christmas shoppers on the streets. Pictured above the bank, right after the robbery, and below is Cashier A. H. Keefe and Mrs. Della Ives, his assistant, as they posed after being released from ropes and gags placed on them by the four bandits. The robbers have successfully evaded police.

ELECTION OF MARCH 1 TO DECIDE CHARTER PROPOSAL

City Commission Approves Plan to Elect Officials Every Spring.

Qualified voters of Pampa will go to the polls March 1 to decide whether two sections of the city charter shall be changed or whether they shall remain as in the original charter. The city commission approved the election at a meeting yesterday afternoon and appointed John B. Ayres to manage it.

The amendments to be voted on follow:

1.—"The regular municipal election of the City of Pampa shall be held on the first Tuesday in April in each year, commencing with the year 1932."

2.—"The mayor and each commissioner, except for the term hereinafter provided for, shall serve for a term of three years until his successor is elected and qualified, unless sooner removed from office as herein provided. At the regular municipal election in the city of Pampa, to be held on the first Tuesday in April in the year 1932, the mayor shall be elected and shall serve for a term of one year, commissioner No. 1 shall be elected and shall serve for a term of two years and commissioner No. 2 shall be elected and shall serve for a term of three years, and until their successors are elected and qualified, unless sooner removed under provision of this charter."

Voters will cast their ballots on each amendment separately. The election will be governed by the laws of the State of Texas regulating general elections and by the special charter of the City of Pampa.

Only qualified voters who have paid their poll tax will be eligible to vote.

Mrs. J. C. McGee of Borger is visiting friends here today.

Alfalfa Bill Is Ready for Race

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 30. (P)—The black slouch hat of Governor William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray may go sailing into the presidential ring any day now.

The democratic state executive committee, informed by Ed Seaman that Murray desired an early state convention so he might enter the New Hampshire preferential primary March 8, carrying the endorsement of Oklahoma's delegation to the national convention, has acquiesced and set the state meeting for Feb. 20.

"I'll not announce whether I'll enter a primary until I announce I am a candidate for president," said the governor when he learned of the committee's action yesterday.

At Concord, N. H., Robert Gould, New Hampshire democratic chairman, said none of the candidates for state delegates would be for Murray because, he declared, most of the local leaders had expressed themselves as favorable to Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York.

ROOSEVELT IS URGED AS THIRD PARTY SUBSTITUTE
WASHINGTON, Dec. 30. (P)—Western democrats today seized upon the threatened republican split for a third party to advance the cause of Governor Roosevelt, of New York, as the best man to meet this situation.

Senator Dill of Washington, in a formal statement declared "the best way for the democratic party to meet the threat and even the creation of a third party in 1932 will be to nominate Franklin D. Roosevelt for president."

CHINESE FLEE IN HASTE WITH FOES ON TRAIL

BOMBS DROPPED UPON KOWPANGTZE BY PLANES

CHANG ORDERS FLIGHT

SAYS RETIREMENT IS ON NOTICE OF NATION

TOKYO, Dec. 30. (P)—China's Manchurian army stampeded south from Chinchow today in flight from two swiftly moving Japanese columns converging for an attack on Chang Hsueh-Liang's last stronghold.

On flat cars and in box cars, the soldiers were crowded as locomotives hauled them down to Lanchow without a stop along the line. Japanese troops quartered at intermediate points stood by curiously and watched them go.

Meanwhile, General Kamura and General Tamon, officers of the Nonni-Tsishar victory drove from two directions toward the town of Kowpangtze, 40 miles north of Chinchow on the Peiping-Mukden railway. The town was bombed from the air.

Tamon's main force, which had marched from Tienchiangtai capturing Tawa and Panshan on the way, was reported to have camped in the outskirts of Kowpangtze. Kamura, battling regulars and irregulars, pressed through from Hsimmintun to capture Tawushan and continue to Kowpangtze.

From that point the way to Chinchow was wide open.

TOKYO, Dec. 30. (P)—A Rengo news agency dispatch from Tientsin, China, today said Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang ordered the withdrawal of his troops from Chinchow to within the great wall acting "under the advice of a certain country."

CHINCHOW, Manchuria, Dec. 30. (P)—The Japanese military machine apparently had cleared the way to Chinchow as Chinese soldiers began to evacuate Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang's last stand.

Moving Rapidly
Meanwhile, a number of trainloads of Chinese troops moved southward today toward Lanchow, inside the great wall and other Chinese forces to the east of here were withdrawing rapidly westward.

The Chinese populace at Kowpangtze, important railway junction, toward which a new Japanese attack was directed and which was inside the great wall, was evacuated today. Everybody was attempting to crowd on the already jammed southbound trains.

Travelers from Mukden last night said their train was delayed for long periods at a number of stations while Japanese soldiers searched hundreds of Chinese civilians. Women, as well as men, in many instances, they said, were forced to remove all their heavy layers of winter clothing as the search proceeded.

FEMININE FANCIES

By Hollye Sellers Hinkle
"It wouldn't do Uncle Sam any harm to have a wife," said Ruth Bryan Owen in commenting on possibilities of electing a woman as president of the United States. She believes it probable that a woman will be elected to this office, but not in the near future.

The expression "poor fish," will not apply at the University of Texas, Austin. We are told in an A. P. report that freshmen co-eds there eat more and are heavier and taller than their more advanced sisters. The average first year girl weighs almost 5 pounds more than girls in the upper classes.

"I'd advise you to predict snow," said Weather Prophet Philip R. Pond after making his regular ad-hunting tour this morning. He said that in looking east and west he could see it coming. The wind was blowing much to hard to look north.

Many changes and improvements are being made in newspaper publishing, and it may not be many years until, when you look at a young lady's picture in the paper you can see "the blue of her eyes and the gold of her hair." A special film already has been made by which with one exposure, a picture in colors may be taken. The first attempt at printing pictures in natural colors will be made in the Sunday issue of the New York Daily Mirror on Jan. 10.

Newspaper possibilities are being observed not only by newspaper officials, but by advertisers as well. The following appeal for church advertising, made by Dr. D. Ernest McCurry, pastor of the Wells Memorial Presbyterian church, was printed in Editor and Publisher:
"What business enterprise has anything to make known which will compare with what the Church of Jesus Christ has to offer? Church advertising or at least the advertising of religion is by no means a new thing. The word 'advertisement' occurs only twice in the scriptures, but the word 'publish' which virtually means the same thing, occurs over one hundred times.
"It requires something more than the church bell to draw people to church. Church advertising in any form or by any method falls unless it succeeds in arousing in the minds of men and women the fact that the church has something to offer which they need more than anything else in the world.
"Usually the members of the average church are indifferent and in some instances hostile to any form of advertising. They will say that it cheapens the church and religion to advertise them. But the truth of the matter is that the right kind of advertising cheapens nothing, but enhances its value and it is a commodity raises the price. As a rule the most widely advertised articles have the largest sale while nothing cheapens an article.
"If the Protestant churches of the United States can seat 55,000,000 persons, then the church is operating on about 28 per cent of its capacity."

One Prohibition Vote Is Possible

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30. (AP)—One vote on prohibition is all that seems likely in the house this session, with wet forces having their choice on a referendum proposal or a light wines and beer ballot.
That is the view Representative Rainey of Illinois, the democratic leader, sees it.
In his opinion, the house judiciary committee will not report favorably either on a measure calling for a referendum of the 18th amendment, or on modification of the Volstead act.
"The wet will have to bring the bill to the floor through the petition of 145 members," he said. "That is the only way they can do it. They will have but one vote and that either on a referendum or light wines and beer. They can't have both. The rules of the house will be so interpreted."

FOR ALL-DAY PLAY SOON IS TO BE ENDED

BOYS AND GIRLS PLAY HARD AS VACATION NEARS CLOSE

Grown-ups may look to parties for their chief diversions, but no such formality is necessary for the younger Pampans. They find their amusement everywhere, especially during vacation time. All are making the most of the few holidays left before the re-opening of school next week.

The boys' and girls' idea of a splendid vacation is to cram as much play as possible into every day, and to work just as little as possible—unless there is something "special" to be done, according to one mother. Mrs. B. E. Finley, who was interviewed yesterday. "When we had company for dinner, the children assisted very graciously," she said. Mrs. Finley has had no trouble amusing her 15-year-old son, Warren, her 13-year-old daughter, Flora Dean, and their 15-year-old visitor, L. J. Martin of Amarillo.

The mother continued: "When they get up each morning—usually about 7:30 o'clock—their first interest is the radio. They always manage to hear at least the last part of the Early Bird programs, and they seldom miss Amos and Andy." The boys and girls, although past the doll and little train age, were not forgotten by Santa Claus, and they enjoy nothing more than to go bicycle riding or to play pool—with their new "toys."

"They like their new card games, also," said Mrs. Finley. "I don't know what they all are, but I think one of them is called Michigan rummy." "Funny papers are their delight!" They read all they can get their hands on in both the regular daily papers and in the larger Sunday editions.

"The boys have been to the picture show several times, but Flora Dean, unlike most girls, does not care for shows. Flora Dean, however, has completed one of her Christmas books, "Dawn," and has begun reading "Rebekah of Sunnybrook Farm."

"Study? I saw some school books out one time, but I don't know which of the children they belonged to." "Flora Dean spent two afternoons visiting her girl friends, and she has also entertained them in her home." "When school first closed, the small over-night party was 'the rage.' The first night after the close of school, Warren had Tom Rose Jr., and Rex Rose as his guests. The next night he entertained Jack Walstad, and the third night, Tom Sweatman. On the same night, Ann Sweatman was the guest of Flora Dean. Then came the visitor from Amarillo, and he was the principal guest during the remainder of the holidays."

This is the story of only one group of boys and girls. Most every other home in which there are children has been quite as active during the Christmas holidays, the season of play. All children have been playing hard the last few days, for they realize that on Monday classes will again be begun, and that they will be continued, with only short intermissions, until summertime.

LUXURY ADDED TO LEISURE

The pajamas above are simple, yet luxurious. They are two-piece garments and sleeveless. The wide shouldered blouse is mounted on a waistband that holds it in place and distributes the gathers that provide fullness for the bust. The trousers have a fitted yoke to which are fitted, without gathers, the wide flared legs. Blouse and trousers are open on the left side, fastened by snaps. The yoke of the trousers is lightly underlined with illusion cloth to assure its retaining its shape. The fabric is a fine rayon mesh of firm weave and the same material in contrasting color is used in piping.

MAN HELD IN NORMAN FOR COUNTY OFFICERS

County Attorney Sherman White was notified yesterday of the arrest of A. P. Tucker, charged with theft, at Norman, Okla. He is being held in the Cleveland county jail there for Gray county officers.

or . . .

Times like this no one means to be wasteful and yet the most flagrant form of wastefulness is to withdraw from use things that can still render service and economy to some one. When you do so you forego the cash you can obtain from them by re-sale and you deny others of the practice of thrift that arises from making use of things they can buy and utilize without paying the "first hand" price.

Why not sell to eager buyers what you don't or cannot use? There are hundreds of them reading the Want Ads every day for just such chances.

AN OLD STOVE in the BASEMENT

NEW PARTNER HELPS LENZ TO GAIN POINTS IN MATCH

LIGGETT PLAYS CAUTIOUSLY IN FIRST SESSION

CULBERTSON SAYS THAT DISTRIBUTION IS FREAKISH

NEW YORK, Dec. 30. (AP)—Thanks to the help of a jovial, conservative new partner, Sidney S. Lenz was 323 points nearer to Culbertson today in the prolonged test of contract bridge systems.

With Commander Winfield Liggett, Jr., U. S. N. retired, opposite him in place of Oswald Jacoby, resigned, Lenz won five of nine rubbers at the fifteenth session ending this morning and cut the Culbertson plus to 16,320.

There are 30 more rubbers in the series. Culbertson's side has accumulated 98,850 points as against 32,530 and has won 63 rubbers against 49. Play will be resumed tonight.

Three doubles were factors in the session's swing. Liggett, doubled at five clubs, took all the tricks. Doubled at five hearts, he fulfilled his contract. He was not vulnerable either time. Doubled when vulnerable in a contract for four spades, Lenz made five.

Mrs. Culbertson Scores
The advantage obtained by the doubles was diminished when Mrs. Culbertson succeeded at a little slam vulnerable, giving her a 700 rubber. Liggett could have prevented the slam's success by correct choice of an opening lead. He could have set Mrs. Culbertson once when he doubled her at two diamonds, but failed.

With the departure of Jacoby and his psychic bids and sets to prevent the other side going game Lenz was in a good humor, which he retained even when pointing out errors to Liggett.

Culbertson blamed the decrease of his plus on freak distribution. For instance, when Liggett took 13 tricks on a contract for five clubs doubled, Lenz had no spades and Liggett had no diamonds. Mrs. Culbertson, who held two aces and two kings, could take no tricks. Distribution favored Lenz and Liggett in the other doubles also.

Jacoby Is Through
Presumably Liggett will continue as Lenz's partner to the end since Jacoby announced he would not return.

With both sides vulnerable, Culbertson doubled Lenz at four spades in hand 600 and Lenz made five. In an effort to prevent a game contract, Culbertson overcalled two spades with three clubs, holding the king, knave, ten, and deuce.

The hand:
Lenz (north dealer)
S—A Q 6 5 4 3
H—K J 2
D—K 9 3
C—9

Culbertson (west) S—8 7

D—J 7 4
C—K J 10 2

Liggett (south) S—9 3
H—Q 8 4 3
D—A 10 2
C—7 5 4

The bidding: North one spade; east pass; south two spades; west three clubs; north three spades; east four clubs; south pass; west pass; east pass; south pass; west double; all pass. Mrs. Culbertson led the ace of clubs. The only other trick taken by the Culbertsons was with the ace of hearts.

FINAL PERIOD GAVE ABILENE VICTORY

Abilene high school's Eagles scored 13 points in the last quarter of their game with the Royal Purple of Beaumont Friday at Fort Worth and won the high school football championship of Texas. Although outnumbered, the Eagles kept the Beaumont team continually in its own territory and repeatedly threatened to score. It was in the final quarter, after the bruising running game of the Eagles had beaten down the Purple defense, that Wyatt passed to Blackmon, who ambled 33 yards to the goal line. VINES CLAIMS ATTENTION OF CHICAGO FANS

CHAMPION RALLIES TO DEFEAT LOTT IN CHARITY TILT

CHICAGO, Dec. 30. (AP)—Ellsworth Vines, who holds the national singles tennis championship, is still making those rousing finishes for victory and Chicago has given charity about $10,000 to see his latest one.

After losing the first set, 3-6, to George Lott of Philadelphia last night, Vines rallied just as he did to win the national title from Lott last September, and took the next two, 6-3, 10-8. The match was the feature of a charity tennis card that attracted about 7,000 spectators.

Frank X. Shields of New York defeated his Davis cup teammate, John Van Ryn of Orange, N. J., 6-4, 6-4, and Lott and Van Ryn, winner of the doubles at Wimbledon last year, were defeated by Vines and Shields, 6-4, 6-4.

Cullum rolled high game with 231 pins and Moore was second with 220 pins.

East Will Face Speedy Attack

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 30. (AP)—Fans here expected a contest of power against fleetness of foot and ability in passing, with power favored to win in the east-west football game New Year's day.

Convinced the eastern team, possessing a forward wall of giants and the hard-hitting Hinkle and Russell to plough through the holes they fear, is vastly stronger than the western aggregation on plays between the ends. Westerners who hope for another victory are pinning their faith on wide open and aerial plays.

That the west will rely on the air to a considerable extent was confirmed in practice yesterday. Mason and Toscani were the key men as Coaches Looney and Bible drilled their men in an aerial attack.

GRID DEATHS TO BE PROBED

But Most Coaches Do Not Favor Making Changes in Football Rules.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30. (AP)—A committee of the American football coaches' association will investigate causes for the nearly 50 lives the game cost in 1931.

Dr. Marvin A. Stevens of Yale will head the committee created at the coaches' annual session here yesterday. Stevens, as newly-elected president of the association, will appoint the other members.

Burt Ingwersen, former coach at the University of Iowa, reporting on possible rules changes, said discussions with 56 coaches indicated they were "well satisfied with the rules as they are."

He made no specific recommendations for changes, evidently believing the rules committee would adequately deal with the situation when it meets in February.

Sessions today and tomorrow of the National Collegiate Athletic association will close the meetings.

William Hall of Noelton transacted business here this morning. Lary Spicer of Kingsmill was a business visitor here today.

OLDTIME LEADER WITH MANY YOUNGSTERS HEADS PIRATES

Harvesters in Trim to Meet Phillips Men

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 30. (AP)—A "swashbucklin'" old-time skipper, with a fine lot of youngsters in his crew, will man the Pittsburgh Pirate brig when she sets sail on the baseball seas next spring.

George Gibson, colorful old Buccaneer leader of years ago, coming out of retirement to take the helm again for Barney Dreyfuss, is punning faith on stout-hearted recruits although he'll have nearly all of last season's veterans at his call.

The Pirates need a seasoned catcher, Gibson has told the owner of the Bucs, but otherwise the Canadian is pretty much satisfied.

Gibson is receiving encouraging letters from Little Tommy Thevenow, shortstop injured just when he was finding himself last season. Gus Suhr should improve next season and will be on first, Gibson says. Tony Piet probably will win the second base job but he will have to fight it out with Howdy Groszklos, the sparkling collegian and hometown boy. Either Groszklos or Piet will be available if "Pie" Traynor should need help at third.

The fleet, hard-hitting outfield of last summer will be kept intact, with Paul and Lloyd Wanner putting on their famous "brother act" again and Comorosky holding down the other garden pos. Glenn Spencer will be a regular pitcher, taking his turn with French, Brame, Meine and Kremer. Eddie Phillips and Earl Grace of last season's backstopping department may have a fight on their hands if Hal Finney and Bill Brenzel, the coast leaguers, live up to advance notices.

Bruce L. Parker returned yesterday from Lipscomb county where he visited his parents during the Christmas holidays.

On Friday night at the high school gymnasium, the Pampa Harvesters basketball team will be at home to the Phillips "66" Flyers from Woodward, Okla., one of the fastest teams in the country. The game is scheduled to get under way at 7:30 o'clock, with admission 25 and 35 cents.

The green and gold lads have been working hard for the game. They have defeated the ex-Harvesters twice in the last four days. They are anxious to defeat the much-touted Oklahomans. The green and gold have two veterans and three youngsters on the starting line-up. They are practicing hard and long to get a winning combination. Both Lloyd Moore and Morris Enloe are playing their last year of basketball. Enloe is playing his first year in Pampa, however. He came here from Borger last year.

Marbaugh, W. Kelly and Patton are real prospects and before long should be burning the courts. Chastain, Poe, and Schmidt, lettermen, make the best substitutes a team could desire. Other substitutes are strong and fast and the coaches are working hard on reserve material.

Coach Odus Mitchell will probably start Captain Dinty Moore and Morris Enloe, forwards, Miles Marbaugh center, and Wayne Kelly and Jess Patton, guards.

The Phillips line-up is not available, but Coach Mitchell has received several pictures of the team. They are tall and husky looking.

UTERITZ WILL HEAD SPORTS AT WISCONSIN

FOUR BRANCHES WILL BE MAINTAINED IN FUTURE

MADISON, Wis., Dec. 30. (AP)—The key man in the reorganized athletic program at the University of Wisconsin will be Irwin Uteritz, assistant football and baseball coach, the choice of the athletic council for the post of director of intercollegiate athletics.

The council emerged from a four-hour executive session late yesterday with the announcement the former Michigan football and baseball star will be director and that the athletic department will be composed of four separate branches.

The branches will be intercollegiate athletics; intramural sports; required physical education for freshmen and sophomores, and the physical education teacher training course. Heretofore, George Little, resigned director of athletics, has had charge of all departments.

No successor to Glenn Thistlethwaite, head football coach, who resigned Monday night, was announced.

A railroad at Quanah reports 60 per cent more business for October this year over October a year ago.

Eight large conventions will be held in Mineral Wells during 1932.

Fort Worth now boasts the largest highway underpass in Texas, costing half a million dollars.

NEGRO SLUGGERS ARE WEATHERING HARD GOING

CHICAGO, Dec. 30. (AP)—Six light heavyweights seeking the championship of their division via the National Boxing association's elimination tournament will go to bat for the second time tonight in the Chicago stadium.

Four of the six won their opening bouts by knockouts and a series of short, sharp engagements appeared likely. In addition to the half-dozen making their second starts, four others will make their debuts in the tournament.

Baxter Calmes of Wichita, Kans., and Roscoe Manning, Newark, N. J., negro will meet in one of the top ten-rounders, and Larry Johnson, Chicago negro, and Billy Jones, negro from Philadelphia, will mix in another of the same scheduled distance. In the third one, Bob Olin of New York, will meet Clyde Chastain, Dallas.

EX-HARVESTERS LOSE TO LOCALS IN HARD GAME

Enloe and Marbaugh Loop Goals Sensationally in Practice Contest.

The Harvester basketball team of 1932 proved to fans last night that it was going to win several games before the season is over. The Harvesters defeated a team of ex-Harvesters at the high school gymnasium, 36 to 21.

Bob Kahl, Tulsa university, made the Harvesters mad in the first minute of play when he looped a field goal from within five feet of the center of the floor. The locals then started to work on the ex-students and before long had piled up a comfortable lead with Morris Enloe leading the scoring.

Enloe was high point player of the game, making five field goals. Miles Marbaugh was close on his heels with nine points for second honors. Lloyd Moore, captain, added seven points.

Bob Kahl was high point man for the exes, scoring six points. Albert Lard, Amarillo college, and Charles James each made five points.

Play was fast and furious with both teams taking chances to work under the baskets. The Harvesters have only one letterman on the starting line-up, other players making their first appearance in Harvester uniforms.

Coach Odus Mitchell of the Harvesters started Moore, Enloe, Marbaugh, W. Kelly and Patton, but added Schmidt, Poe, Chastain, Fullingim, Brumley, and Sharpe during the game.

The ex-Harvesters who saw action were Bob Kahl, Albert Lard, Troy Stalk, Don Salsbury and Archie Waltad and the following substitutes: Bob Mullen, Jim Ayres, Henry

DEFENSES TO SLOW ATTACK IN BIG GAME

PASSES HAVE ALWAYS BEEN BROKEN UP BY TEAMS

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 30. (AP)—Both Southern California and Tulane may be forced to haul out a lot of new offensive tricks for their encounter in the seventeenth annual Rose tournament football game New Year's day, if defensive data of the contesting eleven does not speak falsely.

The invading greens from New Orleans, bent on preserving the south's unbeaten record in Rose Bowl play, boast the more impressive record but whether they can stave off Troy's vaunted power remains to be seen.

Tulane held its 11 opponents this season to 55 first downs, an insignificant average, whereas Southern California allowed 64 in 10 games.

Five touchdowns were chalked up against the Greens and six against the Trojans. Each allowed three on passes.

The Southern conference champions' opponents threw 125 passes in the 11 games but completed only 36. Twenty-three fell into the hands of Tulane and were turned into 360 yards gained, against 48 completed passes.

In the case of the Trojans, opponents made 495 yards on 26 completed passes out of 133 attempts. Southern California also showed adeptness at interceptions, with 21 in 10 games.

Indian Battle Is Described WARFARE WAS WARM IN 1868

General Custer Led Small Band in Victory on Washita in Winter.

By T. J. ELDRIDGE

The year 1868 was a memorable one in Indian warfare along the frontier settlements of the plains country of the west and northwest. General Sheridan was making Ft. Wallace his headquarters, and with all the force at his command he could not prevent the Indians from making raids on the settlements along the fringe of civilization. The few settlers that missed being tortured and murdered fled to the nearest government post for protection and food.

It became plainly evident that the Indians of the numerous tribes were united, that they were making a desperate effort to defeat and drive out the settlers. At this time the Indians had drifted farther north, from off the plains of the west and southwest, and a report came in to Fort Wallace that sixteen men were murdered, scalped, and burned near Lawrence Fork. All south of the Cimarron was desolation, and war reigned.

Indians Moved

Winter was now approaching, and the wary Indians slipped away from the northwest and the soldiers' activity against them, and moved over into the then Indian territory, and made their rendezvous on the Washita river, near where the little town of Cheyenne, Okla., now stands.

When these wandering tribes had all gathered into their winter quarters on the Washita, there were some eight or ten thousand of them, Arapahoes, Kiowas, Comanches, and Apaches. They were led by the following chiefs: Black Kettle, Little Rock, Little Raven, Roman Nose, Lone Wolf, Santanta, and some others. They located in the hunters' paradise. The buffalo was still in evidence, deer and turkey were plentiful, and small game abounded everywhere.

There was plenty of timber along the little streams that poured down from each side into the beautiful Washita, so that fuel was easily obtained for the long string of camps that extended up and down the river for 10 miles.

Planned Campaign

General Sheridan moved his headquarters to Fort Supply, Indian territory, and promptly decided upon a winter campaign against them. He very quietly called in the widely scattered troops from all over the plains and mountain country, and sent out his most reliable scouts to spy on Black Kettle and his associates on the Washita. Up to this time the Indians had not been disturbed in the winter time, and doubtless they believed themselves immune from attack in their snug winter quarters. They had gathered there from north, south, east and west, intending, it was said, to make a concerted attack on the whites in the spring.

The seventh United States cavalry consisting of about 800 men, well trained scouts and plainsmen, was made ready for attack, and General George A. Custer was chosen to lead them. General Custer understood that the Indians outnumbered his men ten to one, so he determined on a surprise move.

The little band of brave men started in one of the worst snow storms in the history of the country. Major Elliott leading the vanguard, and General Custer bringing up the main body of troops. It was understood that the Indians were all on the Washita, therefore, some confusion was created when a scout came in and reported that he had discovered a large bunch of Indian ponies grazing over in the Canadian valley. This matter was discussed in camp, and it was decided that this must be a band of Indians from the northwest, making their way to Black Kettle's camp on the Washita caught in the storm and delayed, and taking refuge under the bank of the river in the great bend at that place. The little band of soldiers spent the night somewhere in the Wolf creek valley, north of the present town of Shattuck, Okla., next day making their way over to the South Canadian river, at a point not far from where the new bridge crosses that great river. They had intended to cross at that place, but the news of the ponies grazing in the valley some miles above, caused them to change their plans. Major Elliott with his vanguards was sent on up the river to investigate, with instructions to report his findings. He found that quite a band of Indians were gone only a few hours before, their trail plainly visible in the snow. They had crossed the river, making no attempt to hide their trail, headed south across the plains apparently for Black Kettle's camp on the Washita.

Scouts Capable

General Custer had with him some of the most famous scouts in the country. It was therefore not necessary to get the troops together before crossing the river, for these scouts knew every trick on this treacherous river. Therefore Major Elliott crossed his men where the Indians crossed, and General Custer crossed farther down the river. The trail was easily followed, the deep snow being broken by the Indians, the soldiers gained steadily on them. A 9 o'clock in the evening, Major Elliott halted his little advance guard and waited for General Custer to come up with the main force. They ate a lunch, then with the scouts leading, they moved cautiously forward, not allowed to strike a match, or smoke, all conversation being in a whisper. Shortly after midnight the Indian guide held up his hand indicating silence, informing the general that he was sure they were close to the camp. After going a little farther, he reported "heap much Indian." General Custer crept up to the verge and looked over from the snow, he could see the dim outline of Indian tepees, stretched away in the distance, up and down the valley as far as his vision could reach.

Attack at Dawn

The attack was to be made at daybreak; there being two hours to wait, and the cold was intense. Still the men did not complain. They were then being placed for action. They were divided into four detachments. Two of these were sent around below, thus cutting Black Kettle's particular camp off from the main body of camps below. A third detachment was sent down in the valley, off to the west, Custer with the fourth detachment remaining in the position in which they came, thus completely surrounding Black Kettle's camp. It should be understood that Custer and his men came in at the extreme west end of a long string of camps, up and down the valley, and the first one on the west was Black Kettle's.

At the break of day, the bugle sounded the charge, the band played, and the battle was on. It was a desperate battle. Black Kettle was killed early in the engagement, Little Rock taking his place, but he was no match for these experienced soldiers. The battle raged with great fury, the troops plunging back and forth, the Indians fighting back with great desperation, using guns, bow and arrow, clubs, and everything they could get their hands on. Custer could now realize the full strength of the foe that was against him, and just at that moment he looked down the valley a short distance, and there came sweeping up the valley 3,000 warriors to the rescue of Little Rock and his badly disorganized and completely beaten warriors. Custer quickly rallied his men, and with the audacity characteristic of the man, he plunged right into their ranks. The brave Indian warriors, led by the great chiefs Little Raven and Santanta, were so badly shattered that they fled down the valley in great confusion.

Custer then realized that the odds were greatly against him. He called his men together and made note of his losses. Major Elliott and 18 others were missing. He determined while the Indians were in confusion, and before they would have time to find out how small his little band really was, was the time to strike. He accordingly, with flags flying and band playing, feigned an attack, plunged down the valley toward the main camp, the Indians fleeing before him in great confusion, and as the sun sank in the golden west, he suddenly retraced his steps, thus eluding the Indians, and the great battle was over.

The result of this battle was very important, as it broke the spirit of the Indians, and scattered them, thus deranging their plans for their spring campaign against the whites, and saving the lives of many frontier settlers.

This great battle was fought on the morning of Nov. 27, 1868. Up to this time no marks of appreciation has been placed where these brave men died. Civilization has advanced. The Washita stretches away like a silver ribbon in its peaceful sleep, a beautiful little city has sprung up on its banks, fine farms stretch

Youth Kidnaps Girl Who Refuses to Marry Him

DALLAS, Dec. 30. (AP)—Ray Spauldin, 24, was in jail after the kidnaping yesterday of Miss Anna Lillian Williams, 17, employee of a mushroom plant northeast here. The youth was charged with kidnaping.

The abduction occurred at the plant at noon. Spauldin surrendered a few hours later. He said he rent the girl home unharmed in the automobile in which they had been riding.

H. J. Weatherly, office manager of the plant, was the only witness. He said Spauldin and Miss Williams came to the plant arguing.

He said the youth drew a pistol, made him get back against the wall, and then forced the girl into Weatherly's automobile.

Spauldin told officers he drove the automobile to a nearby town. He asked the girl to marry him, and drove her back to Dallas when she refused, he said. He stated he guessed he did "the whole thing" because he was jealous.

GRAINS FIRM

CHICAGO, Dec. 30. (AP)—Grain prices showed an early upward trend today, responsive to firmness of quotations at Liverpool. New advances here, however, failed to hold well. Opening 1-8 to 3-8 higher, Chicago wheat futures soon showed reactions. Corn started 1-8 to 3-4 up and subsequently sagged.

School Men Are Hunting For Geese

The heads of the Pampa school system, Supt. R. B. Fisher and Principal L. L. Sone, are hunting geese on the Canadian river north of Pampa today. When they left Pampa this morning they looked like anything but school men, what with the slouch caps, rough clothing, including boots.

Mr. Fisher was carrying a Browning rifle that was a marvel of mechanism. Pointed questions brought the information that the two men enjoy hunting the same as Otto Studer and Dr. Brunow or Dr. Cole. Mr. Fisher said he went hunting three or four times a year. Mr. Sone said he went oftener. The men intended to hunt quail but the snow flurry decided them to try for geese.

TRIP TO CATALINA ONE OF FINEST NEWS PRIZES FOR WORK IN HUGE CAMPAIGN

Some winner in the Pampa Daily NEWS' circulation contest will be awarded an airplane trip to Los Angeles, where a trip to Catalina island is one of the delightful excursions.

There is no season more delightful at Catalina than the months of winter and early spring. Officially, Catalina has no winter. Climate statistics show that winter temperatures range from 15 to 10 degrees higher than those of the mainland. And there is no fog. As soon as one gets out into mid-channel on the big white steamer en route to Catalina he emerges into radiant warm sunshine. All year round, suitable climate is responsible for many varieties of plants that flourish on the island and which cannot be grown on the Southern California mainland. It is for this reason that the many gorgeously plumed tropical birds thrive at the Catalina aviaries which would not be reared on the mainland.

The warm Japanese current flowing through the channel and the added distance of 25 miles from snow-capped mountain peaks of the San Bernardino temper the climate of Catalina island and gives the southland a year round watering resort as popular in December as in June. Green carpeted hills abaze with wild flowers; glaucous trees of scarlet toyon crystal clear waters of sapphire blue that dance in the sun as if studded with a shower of diamonds—truly Catalina puts on its most festive robes for the Christmas holidays.

All activities are in full swing all the year. There is free dancing every night in the beautiful Casino and every Sunday afternoon. The glass-bottom power boats that ply over the famous submarine gardens at this time of year reveal new marine wonders, for the gardens under the sea like those of land have a different flora with the passing of the seasons and different varieties of fish that fit in and out between moss covered rocks.

The sporty 18-hole golf course attracts devotees of the game, most especially at this time of year when fairways and greens are a velvet carpet of grass. A pitch and putt course affords sport for those who would enjoy a shorter game. Each week-end brings yachting folk to Catalina, winter or summer, and bring their golf bags as well as fishing rods. Even in December there are marlin swordfish disporting themselves in the Catalina channel and flying fish are seen to dart hither and yon, although these fish are supposed to be migratory and leave for southern waters. The sporty skip-jack mackerel and rock bass however are at Catalina all the year.

Lubbock is seeking a federal rating for its municipal airport.
