Snow Clogs North Areas Of Midwest

By The Associated Press

Heavy snow made driving hazardous today in some northern portions of the Midwest and more rain pelted flood-stricken sections of the Ohio and Cumberland River valleys.

Wet snow piled up to a depth of 11 inches in parts of Minnesota. Trunk roads were open but the highway department in general advised only emergency travel until the storm subsides.

Eastern South Dakota was blanketed with up to a foot of new snow in some places.

Sleet and freezing rain was forecast for Wisconsin, Michigan, Northern Ohio, Western Pennsylvania and western New York. Hazardous driving warnings were issued for the area.

Scattered thunderstorms with some hail broke out in Illinois.

Forecasters said from two to three inches of rain may hit areas in the flood belt in Kentucky. Rains and thunderstorms were expected to extend from the upper and middle Mississippi Valley eastward through the Ohio Valley into the northern and middle Atlantic states.

A storm which developed in the southern Rockies extended into extreme northeastern Missouri during the night and headed northeastward. More rain fell from the Ohio Valley northwestward through most of Iowa, with heavy downpours from eastern Iowa into northern Illinois. Showers and thunderstorms dampened areas from eastern Texas northward and northeastward into Iowa, Illinois and Indiana.

A belt of freezing rain pelted sections from southern Wisconsin into southern Minnesota while northward snow fell from most of Wisconsin westward into the eastern Dakotas. Five inches of snow fell in a six-hour period in Huron, S.D.

New floods broke out in sections of the Ohio River valley over the weekend, the second to hit the region within a week.

Heaviest flooding in the last week has been in Kentucky, West Virginia and Virginia. However, flooding also has hit areas in New York State, Indiana, western Pennsylvania, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois and Iowa.

Outside the major wet belt, the only precipitation was in the Pacific Northwest which reported rain. Mild weather continued in the major part of the nation.

West Texas Skies Clear

By The Associated Press

Skies cleared in West Texas Tuesday, but showers hung on in the east following a windy Pacific front which whipped into the state Monday.

Gusty winds cleared the muggy humidity from the air and promised to keep temperatures below those of Monday, when the mercury climbed to the 90s in South Texas.

Early in the day a line of scattered showers lay along the eastern border of the state.

Light rain fell in parts of North and Northeast Texas during the night, but diminished early in the day.

Forecasts called for fair skies in West Texas with some overcast in Central and East Texas. There is a possibility of continued scattered showers and thundershowers in the east through Wednesday morning.

Estes Fraud Trial Tempo Speeds Up

By FINIS MOTHERSHEAD

EL PASO (AP)—As the Billie Sol Estes fraud trial hit a speeded tempo, finance company executives began testifying Monday about some of their dealings with the derailed financier.

It was the first time in court for accounts by the money lenders, credited with a major role in mortgage manipulations attributed to Estes.

The quickened pace brought informal predictions the case being heard by U.S. Dist. Judge R. E. Thomason could end by Saturday. There were forecasts earlier it might last three to four weeks.

In unspectacular fashion, credit managers or other spokesmen for five finance firms related details of what appeared to be a sampling of transactions with Estes aides. They told of buying a dozen notes totaling $4,931,815 on farm fertilizer tanks, most of which later could not be found.

The total was far short of the $22 million which the finance companies have told elsewhere of investing in such deals. Estes himself once said in bankruptcy court that he owed $30 million in operations of this type.

Of the seven to eight loan firms on whom the government called for witnesses, the biggest not yet represented in testimony was Walter E. Heller & Co. of Chicago, which has reported putting $7 million into Estes-controlled enterprises.

A man named as a Heller agent by others, Robert K. Graham of Fort Wayne, Ind., was among those waiting to be called to the stand.

There was no advance indication any would be questioned from a second firm listed as putting up other millions, CIT of New York.

Estes, a freewheeling promoter from Pecos in West Texas, is being tried on the initial charges lodged by the government after his arrest just short of a year ago. He's accused of mail fraud, interstate transfer of securities obtained by fraud and conspiring to commit those offenses.

Anti-Castro Groups Shell Russian Camp

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Cuban exile commandos shelled a Soviet military camp and a Soviet ship in a hit-and-run raid on a northern Cuban port city, anti-Castro groups report. Some Russians were killed, they said, and the raiders escaped.

Havana radio reported Monday night that some wounded Russian sailors had been taken to a hospital, but the broadcast did not mention any raid.

The State Department said it had no information on the raid, and it and the Pentagon made no comment.

Spokesmen for two Cuban exile groups, Alpha 66 and the Second National Front of Escambray, said members of their organizations staged the attacks Sunday night. Alpha 66 and the Second Front joined forces last fall and have carried out raids on Cuba before.

The attack was described this way:

The raiders divided into two camps just offshore from Sagua la Grande in Las Villas Province. One group went ashore to a small town called Isabela de Sagua and shelled the Soviet military camp. The others stayed in the boat and lofted 20mm cannon shells into the ship.

One of the artillery shells hit the stack carrying the hammer and sickle, the report said.

In New York, Antonio Vaciana, head of Alpha 66, said the raiders already have returned to a secret base in the Caribbean and that he expected a full report via short wave radio to Alpha 66 in Miami.

Details of the raid will be disclosed at a news conference in Washington, he said.

The initial report of the raid—the first one made in several months—came in a Miami radio broadcast by "The Voice of the People." This is the refugee program that first reported the presence of Soviet troops in Cuba.

Alpha 66, an action group which does not deal in the fractured politics of most exile groups in Miami, claimed credit for shooting the British ship Newfane and two Cuban vessels in a raid Sept. 10.

Senate Favors Two New Senior Colleges

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas senators took favorable action today on raising two colleges to full senior, state-supported status but slapped down attempts at two other new state colleges.

First, the Senate passed on voice vote and sent to the House a bill adding San Angelo State College to the list of Texas senior colleges. The measure caused a filibuster that tied up most of yesterday's session. There was no more discussion today.

Second, the Senate temporarily approved 18-12 a measure making Pan American College fully state supported. However, efforts to get a final vote today failed by a 21-9 ballot, with four-fifths majority needed. Pan American already is a senior college.

Then the Senate refused 17-14 to debate a bill to raise Permian Basin Junior College at Odessa and 16-15 to discuss upgrading Webb County State College at Laredo. Each bill needed a two-thirds vote suspension for debate.

Meanwhile, the House resumed debate on an explosive issue that took up representatives' time most of yesterday, regulation of city annexation moves.

Backers of a bill to create a four-year, state-supported college at San Angelo outlasted a 6½ hour filibuster and won tentative approval of the measure.

The bill is the first of four controversial senior college bills scheduled for Senate debate.

Senators gave the college bill a 20-11 vote for tentative approval, but refused to give the required two-thirds vote to consider the bill on final passage.

Sens. W. T. Moore of Bryan, Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells and Charles Herring of Austin teamed to talk against the bill until 6:30 p.m.

They argued that Texas does not have enough money now to support its 20 senior colleges and should not take on any more schools in the state's higher education system.

House debate on the municipal annexation bill—and several proposed amendments—lasted more than two hours. Another stack of amendments were pending as the House went to work today.

The major amendment proposed Monday was by Rep. Reed Quilliam of Lubbock. It would have allowed cities to regulate health, sanitation and subdivisions. It was defeated 75-66.

Quilliam said such a provision would be the only way a city could keep a contractor from constructing faulty streets, sewers and other facilities in areas to be annexed.

The bill sets up buffer zones of ½ mile to five miles around a city, according to population. The city would have some control over these buffer zones, but could not annex more than 10 per cent of its land area within any one year.

Other major action included senate refusal to debate the controversial loan shark bill, but then setting the measure for action at 10:30 a.m. Monday.

Sen. Bruce Reagan's bill is a compromise version of three senate measures. It would regulate loans up to $3,000 with a top interest rate of about 33 per cent on smallest loans.

Lenders handling loans of $100 or less would have the choice of using the sliding interest rate or charging a flat rate of $1 for each $5 cash advanced.

The House Highways and Roads Committee cleared for floor debate a measure stiffening the requirements for obtaining an automobile safety inspection sticker. The measure, by Rep. Terry Townsend of Brady, would require inspection of windshields, tires, exhausts and steering system in addition to devices now inspected. It would raise the inspection fee from $1 to $2 annually.

JFK Set For Two Sessions

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, (AP)—President Kennedy set out today to translate a personal triumph into meaningful policy guidelines acceptable to the United States and the leaders of six Latin American nations.

Kennedy, who received a wildly enthusiastic welcome Monday from nearly 200,000 Costa Ricans, scheduled morning and afternoon meetings with the presidents of Panama and the five Central American republics.

Their aim was to draft by nightfall a "declaration of San Jose" which Kennedy said he hoped would help "improve the life of our peoples" and "increase our capacity to prevent the infiltration of Cuban agents, money and propaganda" into the nations of the Western Hemisphere.

The U.S. president told his colleagues at the opening conference session: "We will build a wall around Cuba—not a wall of mortar or brick or barbed wire but a wall of dedicated men determined to protect their own freedom and soverignty."

The Soviet news agency Tass, commenting on these words, said they "conceal a desire to form a common front of the reactionary forces of the states which are dependent on the United States for fresh aggression against Cuba."

Kennedy charged that "the Soviet Union through its Cuban puppets absorbed the Cuban nation into its despotic empire—and it now seeks to extend its rule to the shores of continental America."

Kennedy reminded the other presidents that almost $250 million had been committed under the Alliance for Progress to economic development of their countries. He pledged continued U.S. aid and said his government also will work for agreements to stabilize the prices of the commodities that are the Latin American nations' chief revenue producers.

In Mexico City, ex-President Juscelino Kubitschek of Brazil told a news conference the Alliance for Progress will fail unless more money is pumped into it and unless there is a reversal of the trend of falling prices for Latin America's products.

CONCERT ASSN. BOARD TO MEET

Directors of the Scurry Concert Association have scheduled a meeting for Thursday. The session will be held at 5 p.m. in the community room of the Snyder National Bank.

Officials said the meeting is important and all officers and directors have been urged to attend.

SHS Band Director Honored

Melvin Montgomery, Snyder High School Band Director, thought he was going out to the Country Club last night to play a few games of bridge.

When he and Mrs. Montgomery arrived, accompanied by Band Parents Club President H. A. Johnson and Mrs. Johnson, the band director was virtually "bowled over" by a standing ovation from 186 persons who had assembled to honor Montgomery for a decade of distinguished service in the local school system.

The event, a buffet dinner, was arranged by the Band Parents Club.

Twenty six trophies won by the Snyder High School Bands and Orchestras during the past 10 years adorned the tables as the principal decorations.

Harold Bennett, served as master of ceremonies for the appreciation dinner, and entertainment was furnished by former Snyder High School band students who were past members of trophy winning stage bands.

The eight members of the Dixieland band entertaining included Jean Young, trumpet; Jim Sudeth, piano; Ray Lashaway, clarinet; Philip Smartt, saxaphone; Kay Powell, trumpet; Jerry Roe, Bass; Glen Thompson, trombone and Doug Vice on the drums.

Wayland Holt, a past president of the Band Parents Club, expressed appreciation of the group for a job well done by Montgomery during his years as Snyder High School band director.

Holt said that Montgomery expected a lot from his students and in return gave a lot. He was to be commended for the fine job of discipline that has molded each band into a group that has won recognition throughout the state for fine performances.

Holt further stated that Montgomery was a wealthy man, maybe not in worldly goods, but wealthy in the satisfaction of doing a job that he liked to do and doing it well.

Montgomery's reward for his dedication to his students is watching them go on to greater accomplishments in college and then finding their place in a modern society, Holt concluded.

Montgomery was presented with a silver plated baton, a gift certificate and a plaque with the inscription "Presented to Melvin B. Montgomery for devoted service to the Students of Snyder High School Band — Band Parents Club of 1963." Presentation of the baton was made by Ray Lashaway and from former band students. Other presentations were made to Montgomery and Mrs. Montgomery by Johnson.

Montgomery had planned a practice session Monday evening for students who were to enter ensemble and solo contest next Saturday at the Interscholastic League meet. Students had been requested to sign up for the evening session. Montgomery said the day had been a rather disheartening one for him. Not a student had signed up for the session. Until he arrived at the banquet, he could not understand why.

After this short statement Montgomery was choked with emotion which told more than words his feeling and appreciation of the tribute being paid to him.

Attending the banquet were members of the Band Parents Club, members of his band, former students and a few guests.

PRESENTATION—H. A. Johnson Jr., right, president of the Band Parents Club, makes one of several presentations to Melvin Montgomery. The Snyder High School Band Director received gifts, a plaque and a silver baton at a surprise buffet dinner in his honor.

FRUITS OF A DECADE OF SERVICE—These trophies, earned by Snyder High School bands during the past 10 years, were principal table decorations Monday night at a surprise buffet dinner honoring Band Director Melvin Montgomery. Standing behind the trophies from left are Harold Bennett, master of ceremonies at the dinner; Montgomery; Mrs. Montgomery; H. A. Johnson Jr., president of the Band Parents Club, and Wayland G. Holt, speaker at the dinner.

Red Overflights Puzzle Officials

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials are puzzling over the question of what purpose the Soviets hope to serve by a recent series of reconnaissance flights over U.S. warships at sea.

The guessing runs three ways, with No. 1 perhaps a slight favorite:

1. Tit-for-tat tactics for the close U.S. inspection of Soviet bloc and other ships heading for Cuba.

2. An effort to demonstrate strength as a counterbalance for the recent Kremlin setback over missiles in Cuba.

3. Improvement of the Soviet position in relation to the Chinese Communists through a showing of air power.

Whatever the reasons, Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., said today, the Soviets should be given to understand that flights over U.S. carriers are dangerous and "carry the seeds of possible conflict."

Alaskan members of Congress clamored for stronger defenses for the 49th state in the wake of last Thursday's penetration of Alaskan airspace by two Soviet planes. One of the legislators said a "disaster" could happen unless that is done.

There appeared no disposition to link the sorties over Alaska in any pattern with the recent flights over U.S. aircraft carriers.

Ashley, Lima Pleas Denied

AUSTIN (AP) — The Pardons Board refused today to change the death sentences given Leslie Douglas Ashley and Carolyn Lima to life imprisonment.

The two are scheduled to die March 30 for the 1960 torch slaying of Fred Tones, a Houston real estate man. The Lima girl, 20, would be the first woman to die in Texas' electric chair.

At a clemency hearing March 13, Ashley's lawyer, Lloyd Lungsford, said he and George Davis of Los Angeles would appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court if the sentences were upheld.

Ashley, 24, a female impersonator, and the Lima woman testified they killed Tones in self defense when he threatened them during a sex party in his office.

BIRTHS

MARGARITO PABLANO

Aerialist In Feature Role At Circus

Versatility is the word for Margarito Pablano, member of the famous family of Italian aerialists who is appearing in America for the first time this year with the Al G. Kelly and Miller Bros. Circus.

The circus will pull into Snyder tomorrow for two performances, one at 3:30 p.m. and another at 8 p.m. at the VFW show grounds. The appearance here is being sponsored by the VFW and the Snyder Volunteer Fire Dept.

Miss Pablano not only has mastered the daring leaps and catches on the high trapeze, but also is a virtuoso on the silver wire.

In addition to Miss Pablano, the circus this year features many other spectacular aerial stars, including Miss Conrad and Delia Lombardo, and the Spanish flying act, the Esquedas.

Panel Okays Roosevelt

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Commerce Committee approved today President Kennedy's nomination of Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., son of the late president, to be undersecretary of commerce. The vote was 14-2.

At the same time the committee unanimously approved the nomination of Richard H. Holton of Berkeley, Calif., to be assistant secretary of commerce for economic affairs.

The committee declined to disclose which senators voted against Roosevelt's confirmation.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have been officially engaged (with a two-carat ring) to the same girl three times. Each time she has given me the ring back and says she's changed her mind. She never has a reason. She just changes her mind. I have literally gotten down on my hands and knees and BEGGED her to marry me. I don't want to be put off any longer. She's not a child. She's 24 and I am 28. I am crazy about this girl and want to know how I can get her to marry me tomorrow.

IN LOVE

DEAR IN: You can't. It takes three days for a blood test in your state. Furthermore, any fellow who has to get down on his hands and knees and BEG a girl to marry him should pray for better sense while he's in that position.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Judging from the phone calls he gets, a married man in our office apparently has a girl friend. She calls the office and leaves her number for him to call back. Yesterday the man's wife called and said she suspected a woman was making contact with her husband at the office, and she asked if there had been any numbers left for him to call. The girl who answered the phone lied for the man and said no. I think she was wrong to protect a dirty, rotten home - wrecker. I have that number and am ready to call the wife and give it to her. My husband told me to keep my nose out of it. Should I?

HATES CHEATERS

DEAR HATES: Yes. Your husband is right.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: A girl in our room at school bought herself a dime - store ring and is telling everyone that her "boy friend" gave it to her. She says she can't tell us his name, but he goes to another school. Abby, she doesn't have a boy friend because no one has ever seen her with anyone. She is always alone. She doesn't even have a girl friend. How can we prove she is lying?

HATES LIARS

DEAR HATES: It's easier to hate than to understand. The girl is lonely. And she's ashamed that she has neither girl friends nor a boy friend. Be kind to her. She needs it.

* * *

Stop worrying. Write to Abby. For a personal reply enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

50 Acres Burned In Grass Fire

Approximately 50 acres were burned over last night on the John Vass, Jr. place one mile north of Hermleigh.

Snyder firemen got the report of the fire at 8:40 p.m. and sent two tankers to the scene. Several hours were required to extinguish the blaze. There was no damage, however.

The bottom of the ocean floor supports bacteria, sea anemones, mollusks and minute crustaceans. Scientsits believe giant squid may also live there, sustaining themselves on food that floats down.

WOMEN

THE FOLLIES IS COMING! The two ladies above will be contacting the public in the next few days in regard to the patron tickets for the "Follies of 1963" to be presented in the Snyder High School auditorium April 5 and 6. Mrs. Scott Casey and Mrs. B. L. McKinley are in charge of these tickets and it is advisable to get your tickets as soon as possible, as the event held two years ago was a sell-out. All local talent will be used and has been proven that it is certainly worth the money to see.

Spinach Puff Is Delicious Lenten Menu

Spinach seems to be one of those plain - Jane vegetables that rarely if ever inspires the cook. There really isn't any good reason for this state of affairs since spinach does lend itself to a host of imaginative variations.

As a case in point, there is this delicately delicious Spinach Puff with its creamy Mushroom Pimiento sauce. It owes its ease and simplicity of preparation to an envelope of country style potato soup mix. This forms the base to which frozen spinach, eggs, cream, butter and seasoning are added and mixed to fluffy lightness. The Puff is then baked in a casserole for 45 minutes.

The mushroom sauce also takes advantage of a handy soup mix to shorten preparation time. It couldn't be easier. You add milk and thin strips of pimiento to mushroom soup mix, bring it to the boiling point and then fold in sliced hard cooked egg.

Serve this delightful casserole for a Lenten luncheon dish accompanied by tomatoes stuffed with cole slaw and hot biscuits.

SPINACH PUFF

1 envelope country style potato soup mix
1½ cups water
1 10-ounce package frozen chopped spinach
2 eggs
2 tablespoons light cream
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese

Empty soup mix into a saucepan; gradually stir in water. Add frozen spinach. Cook over low heat, stirring occasionally, until spinach is completely thawed. Cool to lukewarm. Add eggs, cream, melted butter or margarine and nutmeg. Beat with rotary beater or electric mixer until light and fluffy. Turn into an ungreased 1-quart casserole. Sprinkle with cheese. Bake in a 400 F. oven for 45 minutes. Cut in squares and serve with Mushroom - Pimiento sauce. Makes 4 servings.

MUSHROOM - PIMIENTO SAUCE

1 envelope mushroom soup mix
2½ cups milk
1 tablespoon pimiento, cut in thin strips
1 hard - cooked egg, sliced

Empty soup mix into saucepan. Gradually stir in milk. Add pimiento. Heat and stir until sauce just comes to a boil. Remove from heat and gently stir in sliced egg.

Carrot Meat Loaf

1 egg
¾ cup milk
½ cup fine dry (sifted bread-crumbs
1 pound ground chuck beef
3 tablespoons finely grated onion (pulp and juice)
¼ cup minced parsley
½ cup finely grated carrot
1¼ to 1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

In a medium mixing bowl beat egg just enough to combine yolk and white; add milk and beat to combine. Add crumbs, beef, onion, parsley, carrot, salt and pepper; use mixing fork or hands to mix together thoroughly. Pack into oven - glass loaf dish (about 8½ by 4½ by 2¾ inches). Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 50 minutes. Allow to stand in oven (with heat turned off and door open) or in a warm place for about 10 minutes so meat will re - absorb juices.

Hospital Aux. Elects New Officers

The Woman's Auxiliary of Cogdell Memorial Hospital met Thursday, at the Martha Ann Woman's Club. The Executive Board met prior to the general meeting.

In the business session, the Auxiliary members made plans for the annual banquet. This event will be Monday, April 29th, at Stanfield Elementary School at 7:30 p.m. Freddie Higginbotham, former Administrator at Hendricks Memorial Hospital in Abilene, will be the guest speaker.

The group voted to purchase Scripture cards for the patients' meal trays at Cogdell Hospital. These cards will be placed on each patient's tray at each meal.

The Auxiliary has donated funds to the Medical Library at Cogdell Hospital. This Library, for the use of physicians and hospital staff, now has 373 volumes.

Mrs. Roger Mize presented the slate of officers for the coming year. The following names were offered and were elected: President — Mrs. Joe Carroll; First Vice-President — Mrs. Badger Robertson; Second Vice President — Mrs. Harley Carmichael; Recording Secretary — Mrs. Bill Butler; and Corresponding Secretary — Mrs. Earnest Lloyd.

The Auxiliary has two treasurers — Mrs. Skipper Joyce and Mrs. Inez Brown. New Board members are : Mrs. W. R. Everett, Mrs. Jake Green, and Mrs. Leonard Spence.

Three new Auxiliary members were introduced — Mrs. Steve Girardot, Mrs. Vernon Young, and Mrs. Bill Harris.

The program was presented by Marguerette Holt. She sang several selections from Rogers and Hammerstein musicals, including hit songs from "Oklahoma," "South Pacific", "Flower Drum Song," and "The King and I". Miss Holt was accompanied by Mary Bowlin.

Miss Short Starts Her Painting For Contest

From coast to coast and border to border, young America is putting paint brushes to canvas to meet an April 1 deadline to enter the 10th annual art competition of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, sponsored by the Hallmark Card Co. It is estimated that more than 100,000 high school seniors have participated in the national contest since it began in 1953.

Three scholarships of $1,800 will be awarded. The contestant chosen from Texas receives an award of $200 from the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

The theme this year is "The American Vision", which may be interpreted in any way the young artist wishes, using a medium of water colors, oils, or pastels.

Daphene Short, a senior art student of Mrs. Lillian Jones, is sponsored by the Alpha Study Club. Miss Short has started her painting in oils and is calling it "The Vanishing American Landscape".

She plans to enter West Texas State College at Canyon in September, where she will major in art.

Twain Citation To Rodgers

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — A citation has been given Broadway composer Richard Rodgers by the Mark Twain Library and Memorial Commission.

"The contribution by Mr. Rodgers to the musical theatre is unique and enduring," commented James Thomson, president of the Twain center. "We who are preserving in Hartford a great literary landmark and heritage feel it an honor to be able to pay this tribute to a composer whose name has similarly become an extraordinary landmark in the history and traditions of the theater."

Stakes High In Intricate NFL Scheduling Function

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The Pheasants in Minnesota are fat in October. George Halas of the Chicago Bears has a lot of friends in the oil business. The San Francisco Giants may get into the World Series again.

These are all factors affecting a high stakes checker game being played these days on the 23rd floor of a building in Rockefeller Center in New York.

Others include the winds off lake Erie in December, the seating capacity of Pitt Stadium and the time it takes to move the bleachers in Washington.

The checker players are National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle and his crew. They are busy drawing up the 1963 schedule for the 14 teams in the NFL, currently the biggest wheel in sports.

Stakes include the hopes of coaches, players and fans, more than $15 million in gate receipts, and television contracts worth almost half that much.

"An ideal schedule," said Rozelle, "would result in mass confusion in the standings in the first third of the season, a shaking down in the second and the drive for the titles in the third.

"We like to start off with weak teams against weak, strong against strong. Pro football isn't like baseball or basketball, with their long seasons, where a team can have a few bad weeks and still win. A few bad weeks in the NFL and title hopes are gone."

The basic schedule problem seems simple enough. The teams are divided into two seven-team divisions. Each plays the others in its division twice, making 12 games, plus two with teams in the other group. The season opens Sept. 15 and closes Dec. 15.

But when Rozelle opens his big schedule checker board and starts moving around the colored discs that represent the teams, the problems begin to pop up.

First, the board is liberally sprinkled with "X's" — meaning that day is out, at that site. Baseball contributes the most "X's" since ten NFL teams share quarters with baseball clubs, which rules out many dates until that season ends.

Then add these factors:

Too cold the last two weeks in Green Bay, Cleveland, Pittsburgh and Minnesota.

No game the last weekend in October in Minnesota—the pheasant season opens then.

A game in Chicago Nov. 10, when the annual National Petroleum Conference meets. But, please, not the champion Packers, because Wrigley Field is already sold out and Bear owner Halas' oil friends will all demand seats for that game.

Stay out of World Series towns. But which teams will be in it? The current guess at NFL headquarters is the New York Yankees and the Giants, with a hedge if the Los Angeles Dodgers come through.

Pitt Stadium seats more than Forbes Field. So put the best drawing teams in Pittsburgh on the dates the stadium is free.

If you open at Yankee Stadium, can you get the field back in shape for the World Series?

Some teams are sold out before the season starts. Others might need a big game late in the year. How about this one? Oops, that puts two games back to back. A good idea, sometimes. Sometimes, not.

The checkers get moved here, there, are replaced.

"There's one consolation," Rozelle said, "with the balance in the league, and a surprise team almost every year, it's just about impossible to go very far wrong on the schedule."

MAKING HIS MOVES ON SCHEDULE — Pete Rozell, right, National Football League commissioner, moves colored discs like checkers around a board in his New York office as he wrestles with problems in drawing up the league's 1963 schedule. At left is Jim Kensil, the league's director of public relations. The discs represent the NFL's 14 teams. The season will open Sept. 15 and close Dec. 15. (AP Wirephoto)

Chamberlain Top Scorer Once Again

NEW YORK (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain of the San Francisco Warriors won his fourth straight National Basketball Association scoring championship and also set a record for field goal percentage during the 1962-63 season that ended Sunday.

Final league statistics showed today that Chamberlain accumulated 3,586 points in 80 games for a 44.8 average. The 7-foot-1 Stilt compiled a .528 shooting percentage from the field, bettering the previous mark of .513 set by Walt Bellamy of the Chicago Zephyrs last season.

Chamberlain connected on 1,463 shots in 2,770 field goal tries.

Elgin Baylor of the Los Angeles Lakers wound up second in the point-production race with 2,719 points and a 34.0 average. Oscar Robertson of the Cincinnati Royals finished third with 2,264 points, averaging 28.3.

COACH LISTENS—University of Alabama head football coach Paul (Bear) Bryant listens as university president Dr. Frank A. Rose, talks at a press conference in Birmingham. Bryant told the press conference that he had taken a lie detector test and the results support his denial that he was involved in an alleged football fix. A Saturday Evening Post story accuses Bryant and former University of Georgia Athletic Director Wally Butts of conspiring to fix the Alabama-Georgia football game last fall. Butts also denied the accusation. (AP Wirephoto)

Retraction Of Article Requested

ATLANTA (AP)—The Saturday Evening Post has been asked to retract an article accusing Wallace Butts and Alabama Coach Paul Bryant of collusion to rig the Alabama-Georgia football game last fall.

The move is necessary under Georgia law, to enable a plaintiff to recover punitive damages if a libel suit is filed and won in court.

Both Butts, former athletic director at the University of Georgia, and Bryant have denied the charges. Butts has said he intends to file a libel suit.

Bryant has a $50,000 libel suit pending against the Post in connection with another article about football brutality.

The request for a retraction was made Monday in a telegram to Curtis Publishing Co., Philadelphia, from Butt's attorney, William Schroder.

Georgia Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook began an investigation Monday and said he may interview Alabama football players. He had not decided whether Georgia players would be interviewed.

Cook said Butts and Bryant both will be questioned, as will Georgia Coach Johnny Griffith; Dr. O. C. Aderhold, president of the University of Georgia, and the writer of the Post article, Frank Graham Jr., a free-lance writer.

The state investigation was ordered by Gov. Carl E. Sanders after the Post charged that Butts gave Bryant detailed information about Georgia's team eight days before the game, which Alabama won 35-0.

George Burnett, an Atlanta insurance salesman, was quoted in the magazine story as saying that he overheard a telephone conversation between Butts and Bryant.

Burnett said in a statement Monday that "an impulsive desire that the truth be known" led him to provide the Post with the story.

Video Rights For NCAA Final Bought

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The final of the National Collegiate Basketball championship tournament Saturday night will be telecast nationally for the first time since 1954, the NCAA disclosed today.

A spokesman said Sports Network Inc., an independent company which bought package telecast rights for the 1963 tournament, expects up to 140 television outlets to carry the game, which begins at 9:35 p.m., EST.

"More than 100 stations already have signed up and we're told the figure could reach 140," the spokesman said. "Sports network estimates that the telecast will be available to at least 90 per cent of the nation's viewing audience."

The nation's 1-2-3 teams—Cincinnati, Duke, and Chicago Loyola—along with Oregon State have advanced to the national semifinals and finals, which begin at massive Freedom Hall here Friday night. The semifinals, matching Duke against Chicago Loyola and Cincinnati, the two-time defending champion, against Oregon State, will be telecast by Sports Network on a regional basis.

The last NCAA final telecast nationally was in 1954, when LaSalle College of Philadelphia won the championship at Kansas City 92-76 over Bradley.

The major television networks have been interested in televising the NCAA final nationally for several years but balked because the NCAA's insistence on playing the game at night meant the network would have to pre-empt time usually occupied by several of its high-budget Saturday night shows. Telecasts each year have been on a regional basis.

Under the package plan this year, Sports Network handled the NCAA regional tourney telecasts at College Park, Md., East Lansing, Mich., Lawrence, Kan., and Provo, Utah.

The national semifinals and finals long ago were 18,000-plus sellouts at Freedom Hall, site of the championships four of the last six years.

Nats, Royals Open Series

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The Syracuse Nationals and the Cincinnati Royals opened the 1963 National Basketball Association Playoffs tonight with the first game of the best-of-5 Eastern Division semifinals.

The winner will meet the Boston Celtics, Eastern Division champions, in the division's final playoffs.

The Western Division semifinal playoffs begin Wednesday night at St. Louis with the Hawks playing the Detroit Pistons.

Motor City Gains Inside Track, But..

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The city of Detroit has won the opening skirmish but may lose the battle in its bid to hold the 1968 Olympic Games.

Reaffirmed by the U.S. Olympic Committee as the American city most qualified to make the pitch, the world's motor capital was not overly optimistic over its chances of selling itself to the International Olympic Committee.

The Detroit delegation, headed by Gov. George Romney of Michigan and Mayor Jerome P. Cavanaugh, was elated when the city was chosen over four others Monday by the USOC board of directors, but the spearhead of the drive added a sobering note.

"We will be definite underdogs before the IOC next October," said Fred C. Matthael, Sr., chairman of the Detroit Olympic Committee. "It's no secret that the IOC is heavily European flavored. Also, our cause has been hurt by our internal battles — first, the AAU-NCAA power war and then this fight between Los Angeles and Detroit for the site.

"[illegible] will be distributed among the Olympic countries. Our best bet is to turn it around to our avantage, if we can. We must plead that the bloodshed is finished, and we deserve a chance to get our house in order."

The IOC is expected to pick the 1968 Olympic site at its meeting in Nairobi, Kenya, next October. Besides Detroit, cities bidding include Mexico City, Buenos Aires, Vienna, Lausanne and Lyons, France.

One of the European spots is favored to get the nod. However, Detroit intends to put up a fight—the same kind that won it selection over Los Angeles, Philadelphia, San Francisco and Portland, Ore., in the tussle before the 40-man board of directors of the USOC.

"If we are picked, you will see the greatest Olympiad in the history of the games," said Michigan's Gov. Romney. "I feel good about our chances. The whole world has heard the phrase 'FOB—Detroit.'"

Art Lentz, assistant director of the U.S. Olympic Committee, said, "The Olympic structure is undergoing great changes, and tradition is not as strong as it once was. I think the United States' chances of getting the Games are much better than they were six months ago."

Detroit, picked last October by the same board but later challenged by Los Angeles, was reaffirmed by an overwhelming vote after each of the five cities spent an hour making presentations at Olympic House.

With 40 board members voting, 32 chose Detroit, 4 voted for Los Angeles, 2 for Portland and 1 each for San Francisco and Philadelphia. A plurality of 21 votes was all that was needed.

Detroit announced plans for a new, 3-tier stadium, seating 110,000, to be built on the State Fair Grounds, and for an Olympic Village, accommodating 9,000, at Wayne State College.

The added facilities would be financed by extra proceeds from race track betting revenues and revenue bonds. The stadium [illegible] Detroit Lions football team and the Detroit Tigers baseball team.

The city also would make use of University of Detroit facilities; the Cobo Arena, on the waterfront; Convention Arena, a $56-million dollar project covering 17 acres under one roof; Olympia Stadium, where the Red Wings play their hockey games, and the 53,000 capacity Tiger Stadium.

Pro Gridders Lend A Hand

HOUSTON (AP)—Charley Hennigan, Pat Studstill and Joe Bob Isbell added the "professional touch" Monday when an 89-man University of Houston football squad took the field for the first day of spring practice.

Isbell, a guard for the Dallas Cowboys, assisted head coach Bill Yeoman with the linemen; Studstill, the Detroit Lion back, helped with the backs, and Hennigan, the Houston Oiler pass catching flanker, worked with the ends and backs.

Impressed with his squads' ability to move, Yeoman said:

"The increased speed is apparent. There's a lot more of it out here this year than last. For the first day, I thought it was a good workout."

Tigers Host Lubbock '9'

The Snyder Tigers and Lubbock Westerners will stage a return match here at Towle Park this afternoon in a non - district diamond duel slated to get underway at 4 o'clock.

The two teams clashed in their season opener, when the Westerner nine of Coach Earl Parker wheeled to a 13-4 decision in Lubbock. They now stand 8-3 for the season, while Snyder is 1-11.

Speedy Moffett, Tiger coach, plans to start senior righthander Dalton Walton (1-3) on the hill. Walton posted the only Snyder victory of the campaign Friday, setting Kermit down on three hits en route to a 3-2 conquest.

Parker is expected to counter with Don Coleman, a sophomore, as his mound choice.

Bengal first baseman Kenny Wellborn fattened up his batting average over the weekend against Kermit, and now holds a wide edge over his teammates with a lusty .372 average. In 43 platter appearances, he has collected 16 base knocks.

Sophomore Kenny Gay, the batting leader earlier in the season, was held hitless in 7 trips against Kermit to drop into a tie with soph second sacker Drew Bullard — who was 3-for-6 in the same series — for second place among the regulars. Both have rapped out 9 hits in 33 times up for a .273 average.

Walton has a wide edge in the runs batted in department with 14 and is tied with Walton and Jim Marcum in two-base hits landed with 3 each. Shortstop Leslie Brown is the pacesetter in runs scored with a total of 7.

Shortstop John Barnett, a junior, is Lubbock's top stickman with a .469 average, while senior first baseman Danny Davis is the team's RBI leader with 13.

Moffett's batting order will include: Bullard, second base, .273; Gay, catcher, .273; Walton, pitcher, .257; Wellborn, first base, .372; Domingo Pena, right field, .233; Martin Benitez, third base, .148; Marcum, center field, .190; Brown, shortstop, .135; and Jay Williamson, left field, .167.

Today's encounter marks the halfway point in Snyder's 26 - game overall schedule for the year. The Tigers will be idle the rest of the week before traveling to Lubbock for a tussle with Monterey a week from today.

Sul Ross Swamped

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Ed Singley and Kenny Floyd combined for a 4-hit pitching job while Texas A&M was pounding 13 hits, including three home runs, for a 10-1 victory over Sul Ross Monday.

Dayle Gibbons homered for the lone Sul Ross run.

It was the first loss of the season for Sul Ross. Texas A&M was winning its third game against two losses and one tie.

Houston Netter Wins

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP) — Ron Fisher of Houston, Tex. won his opening match Monday in the St. Andrew's Club international invitation lawn tennis tournament. He defeated R. Russep, Jamaica, 6-4, 7-5.

Ayo Azikiwa, sophomore hurdler on Michigan State's track team, is the son of Dr. Nnamdi Azikiwa, Governor General of Nigeria.

Softball Group Meets Tonight

Lonnie Crosby, City Softball League president, announces that a meeting will be held here this evening for the purpose of establishing this year's league setup.

All men interested in the league are urged and invited to attend the session, which will begin at 7:30 at the Scurry County Boys' Club.

Circuit Clouts In Citrus Spotlight

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's getting to be that time of the baseball spring training season when the batters start catching up with the pitchers and begin to find that home run range.

The sluggers went on a home run barrage in the 10 major league exhibition games along the grapefruit and cactus circuit Monday, accounting for 26 round-trippers.

Catcher Johnny Orsino of Baltimore set the pace with three homers as the unbeaten Orioles rang up their ninth straight victory in nipping the Cincinnati Reds 4-3 in Tampa. Orsino, a husky right-handed swinger, drove in all the Birds' runs.

Hank Foiles and pinch-hitter Harry Bright tagged home runs for the Reds. All of Orsino's blasts came off losing pitcher Jim O'Toole, who became the first Cincinnati pitcher to go seven innings.

Six circuit clouts were struck in the Houston-San Francisco slugfest at Phoenix, Ariz., with the Colts whipping the Giants 14-5 with 5 runs in the eighth inning and 7 in the ninth. Jim Wynn, Ellis Burton and George Williams clubbed home runs for Houston while Ed Bailey laced two and Jose Cardenal one for the Giants.

The Chicago Cubs hit four homers—including a pair by Nelson Mathews—but dropped their eighth game in 10 outings as the Cleveland Indians prevailed 16-6 at Nogales, Ariz. Ron Santo and Billy Williams were the other Chicago distance swingers. Tito Francona homered for the Indians who slammed out 15 or more hits for the third game in a row.

Rocky Colavito, Norm Cash and Gus Triandos clicked for round-trippers in the Detroit Tigers' 3-5 victory over the St. Louis Cards at Lakeland, Fla. The Bengals annexed their fourth straight, giving Bob Anderson his third win of the spring.

Deacon Jones' home run in the sixth inning off Sandy Koufax enabled the Chicago White Sox to edge the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-4 at Sarasota, Fla. It was the only earned run off the hard-throwing southpaw, who struck out 13 batters — including the last five he faced—in a seven-inning stint. Ron Fairly walloped a homer for the Dodgers.

Cookie Rojas' homer with two out in the 13th inning off Bill Pleis gave the Philadelphia Phils a 6-5 squeaker over the Minnesota Twins at Orlando, Fla. Bob Allison had a three-run homer for the Twins, his third of the citrus campaign.

Lee Thomas' three-run home run powered the Los Angeles Angels to a 7-1 conquest over Boston at Palm Springs, Calif. Frank Malzone's smash over the wall accounted for the lone Red Sox run off Dean Chance, who worked six innings for the Angels.

The Kansas City A's and the Pittsburgh Pirates played a 4-4 tie that was called at the end of 12 innings because of darkness at Fort Myers, Fla. Julio Gotay hit the game's only home run for the Buccaneers.

Two sparkling 1-0 pitching duels offset the home run outburst. The New York Mets blanked the New York Yankees 1-0 at St. Petersburg, Fla., as Roger Craig and Al Jackson combined for a five-hitter. Larry Burright singled home the winning run in the seventh inning. The Yanks' Ralph Terry held the Mets scoreless in hurling the first six innings.

Washington catcher Ken Retzer's error on a throw to the plate in the 11th inning provided the Milwaukee Braves with an unearned run and a 1-0 verdict over the Senators at West Palm Beach, Fla. Lou Burdette, Tony Cloninger and Hank Fischer scattered five hits in blanking the Nats.

CREATIVE COOKS

BY LUCY DYSART

Mrs. Wade Winston is one of the most respected cooks in town. Her recipes are well - known and popular. She can tell at a glance whether a recipe is worthwhile, and usually can suggest a little touch of this or that which makes all the difference between an average result and a superior one.

To her many friends, Mrs. Winston is well - loved, not only for her delicious recipes, but for her devoted interest in life in general as well.

CHICKEN LOAF SUPREME

1 hen (5-6 pounds)
1 cup chicken fat from broth
1 quart broth
1 can mushrooms
6 eggs
1 cup flour
2 cups dressing
salt and pepper to taste

Cook chicken until tender and cut meat in small pieces. Grind skin and add to chicken meat. Let broth cool and remove fat from broth. There should be one cup of fat. If not add butter to fill cup.

Heat fat in double boiler, add one cup flour and blend well. Add one quart broth (fill up with sweet milk if not enough broth), add six beaten eggs to this mixture and cook until thick.

Butter a large baking dish and put in a layer of dressing (made in the usual way with toasted bread, corn bread, broth, etc.) on the bottom of dish, then a layer of chicken and add the sauce. Cover with buttered bread crumbs and bake in oven 350 degrees until top is brown. If top seems dry, sprinkle with sweet milk. For luncheons, cut in square, garnish with cranberry sauce wedges. Serve with any preferred salads.

SLOVENIAN BREAD

1 package active dry yeast
¼ cup warm water
¾ cup warm milk
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 egg
¼ cup soft shortening
3½ to 3¾ cups flour

Dissolve yeast in water. Stir in milk, sugar, salt, egg and shortening. Mix in flour until dough is easy to handle. Turn out on lightly floured board. Let stand 10 minutes. Knead until smooth and elastic, round up in greased bowl. Bring greased side up. Cover with damp cloth; let rise at 85 degrees until hole remains when finger is pressed deeply into dough, 2 hours. Punch down, round up on board. Cover and let rise 15 minutes. Meanwhile prepare following filling:

¼ cup soft butter
½ cup brown sugar, packed
¼ cup milk
1 egg beaten
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon lemon extract.
2 cups pecans, finely ground

Combine butter, sugar and milk and heat until butter is melted. Remove from fire and add egg. While warm add extract and pecans. Place half of dough on floured board and roll out thin in a 16 by 20 inch rectangle. Spread half of filling over dough and roll as for jelly roll. Seal by pinching edges. Repeat operation for other half of dough.

Place one long roll of dough in a greased 9 by 13 inch pan, forming a U shape fitting into half of pan length - wise. Starting at opposite end of pan, form another U shaped roll and place in other half of pan. Lightly grease top of dough and let rise about 1 hour. Bake at 325 degrees for 40 to 45 minutes. If top browns too fast, cover with foil. Upon removing from oven, brush top, sides and bottom with butter. Cool before slicing. This keeps well in deep freeze. Not necessary to serve warm.

New Program Launched By Lopez Mateos

REYNOSA, Mex., (AP)—Mexican president Adolfo Lopez Mateos inaugurated more than $1.25 million in federal projects during a visit here Monday.

An estimated 15,000 persons turned out to see Lopez Mateos and four former Mexican presidents.

Ceremonies were held at the Petroleos Mexicanos (PEMEX) installation here as part of the celebration of the 25th anniversary of Mexico's expropriation of foreign oil interests.

The president's plane touched down at 4:40 pm. m.

The first stop was the new PEMEX petrochemical plant which is the first in the northern border area.

The President viewed the plant with apparent interest before stopping to sign a scroll officially putting the plant into operation. He also ordered construction to start on a similar plant to cost more than $1 million. The two plants are part of a four-plant petrochemical complex planned Reynosa.

The President moved quickly to a hospital and school built inside the PEMEX reservation for employes of the federally owned industry and their families.

At the school, a speech was read to the President outlining progress of the petroleum industry since it was federalized, and lauding PEMEX administrators for the rapid development.

The former presidents in the party were Aabelardo Rodriguez, Lazaro Cardenas, Miguel Aleman, and Adolfo Riuz Cortines. Cardenas was president when Mexico took over foreign oil holdings March 18, 1938.

Says 35-Hour Week Would Be Boring

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Miss Frances Perkins, 80, former secretary of labor, says a 35-hour work week would leave her "so bored I am sure I would be a moonlighter."

Moonlighting is the practice of working two or more jobs, usually to increase one's income.

Miss Perkins is now a lecturer at Cornell University.

Some Things We Could Do Without

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things we could do without:

Gold identity tags for dogs that have everything. Oldtimers who can remember a worse winter than the one just ending. Lipstick so pale it makes teen-age girls look like zombies.

People who, when you tell them your troubles, just reply, "Well, that's life for you." The commercial spielers on television who whisper their message—for some reason they are more annoying than those who shout. Folks who think it's cute to send a city child a small live bunny for Easter.

Hatcheck girls who drop our hat to the floor when we put down 15 cents because we don't have a quarter change in our pocket. Telephones that ring just as we reach the punchline in a joke we're telling the boss.

Hairdos that make a woman look like she'd been frightened out of her wits —or that cause lost bees to confuse it with their home hive. Pigeons that make love outside a window where a middle-aged man is trying to do his work. Office straw bosses who scribble endless suggestions to others just because somebody gave them a stack of free memo pads.

Professional liberals who refer to the unfortunates of this world as "the little people." Bartenders who sprinkle red pepper on their bowl of cheese wafers so you'll buy more drinks to soothe your burning palate. After dinner speakers who speak so long you begin to yearn for breakfast.

Any meal cooked in a backyard between May and November. Wives who can fix with a hairpin a broken vacuum cleaner we've tinkered over for hours with pliers, monkey wrench and crowbar. Drugstore cowboys who wear big-belted military raincoats to make them look more impressively masculine.

People who think you're an ignoramus because you'd rather shoot pool or sit in on a poker game than play bridge or chess. Anybody, anywhere, who says, "Let's play charades."

Men's hats that have brims so narrow they look as if they'd been gnawed away by hungry mice. Truckdriver who honk their horns just to see the startled pedestrians jump. Rains that fall only on the days you put on a freshly-pressed suit.

Junior executives who carry two briefcases to work, one containing their lunch, the other their laundry. Ladies who go to wrestling matches because they get a sadistic thrill out of seeing men mauled. Double domes who can explain the mysteries of outer space but have to ask us which bus to get on to take their kids to the zoo.

From all these, O Lord, deliver us, amen.

American Indian Has Valid Claim To Peace Corps Help

BY INEZ ROBB

American Indians fought the Great White Father and were defeated by the United States just about a hundred years too soon — too soon, that is, to benefit under the Marshall Plan or any of the multibillion - dollar foreign aid projects by which we have accustomed our former enemies to the Life of Riley, with a cherry of top.

Lo, the poor Indian, as a result, is just that, living on the reservation's hard scrabble acres and clinging to what is left of his ancestral beads and buckskin. He is, in every respect, the Forgotten American. For years Oliver La Farge, the Pulitzer prize - winning novelist, has tried to keep the American conscience alive with its responsibility toward the red man. Edmund Wilson has written brilliantly of him, too, and his plight. So has Brooks Atkinson.

But, on the whole, the life and general hard times of innumerable American Indians are more remote to us than that of Tibentan refugees. As has been too often proved in recent years, if the white man wants the Indians' land for reservoirs, dams or public power projects, he tears up the most sacred treaties between the red man and the Great White Father and gets his way.

Now, perhaps, the Indian has found a way to help himself. At least, the Apache White Mountain Tribe is trying a new tack. The tribe has asked Washington for help from the Peace Corps. It would like the same kind of aid and counseling that the United States Government, through the Peace Corps, is giving other underdeveloped nations.

From its Arizona reservation, the Apache council has asked Washington for the same kind of Peace Corps help that has done so much "in alleviating the plight of many people in other lands." Sargent Shriver will surely have a hard time turning down that plea, no matter what Congress decides about formation of a domestic Peace Corps, as suggested by the Administration.

The Apache plea recalled a recent discussion of Philleo Nash, commissioner of Indian Affairs in the Department of Interior in which he consciously or unconsciously pointed up the eligibility of the American Indian for foreign aid. He said the Indian shared "a common characteristic of underdeveloped communities at home and abroad."

That "common characteristic" is a lack of capital. Congress might keep this in mind when working over the impending foreign aid bill. Undoubtedly, the Apaches in the White Mountain Tribe would be happy to have it so good as our friends and former enemies.

Nash went on to point out that the American Indian is, at best, only half as well educated as the rest of the nation, his annual income is approximately one-fourth to one-third that of the rest of the nation and even his life span is only two-thirds that of other Americans. The Peace Corps is operating in many a community overseas where the margin is no thinner than the above and the desperation no more urgent.

(That last sentence is not to be interpreted as any criticism of the Peace Corps or the nations it serves, but only as an illustration of one area of need at home, where charity begins.)

Educational facilities on reservations alone, Nash said, have fallen so far behind the requirements that it will take an expenditure of $120,000,000 to up - date them. But just as important as educational facilities are reservation roads to get students to schools and adults to market, work, hospitals and community activities. Such roads will require another $170,000,000 or peanuts compared with the sums we have spent in similar road - building projects in Vietnam, Laos and other spots in the Near, Middle and Remote East.

Community water and sewage systems on the reservations are years behind the times, and require the relatively moderate expenditure of $65,000,000 — moderate in comparison with the $9.5 billion in aid that France, for example, has received since World War II.

Fundamentally, the American Indian, as with so many old and new nations on the receiving end of American aid, needs capital, said Nash. The red man needs it to open up business opportunities which will give him work and to develop the natural resources that are so often available on reservations.

But the White Mountain Apache believes that what he needs most of all is the kind of sympathetic training, know - how and education that the Peace Corps is bestowing on other underdeveloped peoples abroad He has asked Washington for it. It seems a very modest — and touching request — on the part of the original American.

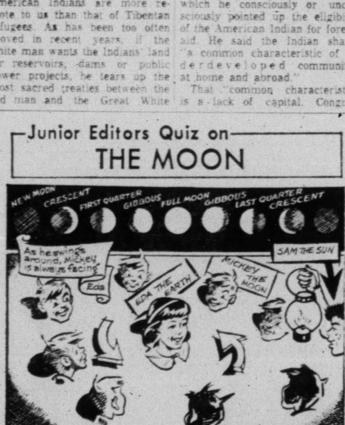
THE MOON



QUESTION: Why can't we see the other side of the moon?

• • •

ANSWER: Our artist shows three characters posing as three heavenly bodies in our solar system. Of course, Eda-the-earth rotates around Sam-the-sun, but this takes a year so our artist doesn't show it. He does show Mickey-the-moon rotating around Eda, which takes about a month. Notice that as he goes around he is always facing Eda. This is because while he is rotating around Eda he is also turning himself around. It just happens that while he is taking a full turn around Eda he is also turning himself once around (these two movements are shown at lower left). The result is that Eda never sees the back of Mickey's head, for he is always facing her.

However, the two movements of the moon, rotation around the earth and spin, do not exactly fit together. This means that we see only about six-tenths of the moon's surface. The other four-tenths is hidden from us. What does it look like? The Russians sent their Lunik III satellite around the moon in 1959. The last drawing is from a photograph said to have been taken by Lunik III, showing the hidden side of the moon for the first time.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Get a couple of friends and try out a moon rotation. If you, as earth, get your sun friend to shine a flashlight toward you, you'll see the moon phases on the face of your moon friend just as we show on the top of the picture.

France Accused Of Sahara Tests

RABAT, Morocco (AP)—King Hassan II has accused France of holding a new nuclear test in the Sahara. He ordered his Foreign Ministry to protest to the French government.

The Moroccan government said it learned an atomic device was exploded Monday in the Haggar region of the Sahara, near the Reggan testing site.

There have been no reports of a nuclear blast from any detection post on either side of the Iron Curtain.

Algeria threatened earlier Monday to break its economic cooperation agreements with France if President Charles de Gaulle ordered another test in the Sahara, which is part of newly independent Algeria. Rumors have been current for days that such an explosion was imminent, but the Moroccan report was the first claim that one had taken place.

The French government maintained its usual refusal either to confirm or deny the report.

Each of the preceding four French atomic blasts in the Sahara touched off a series of protests from African nations.

Some countries, including Nigeria, broke diplomatic relations for a time after a 1961 blast.

The Moroccan communique gave no source for its claim that France had exploded a nuclear device. Speculation has been that the next French test would be of an underground devcie—the hardest to detect.

King Hassan telephoned Algerian Premier Ahmed Ben Bella and gave him Morroco's support for his opposition to French testing.

France retained control of the Sahara testing bases for five years under the Evian agreements which gave Algeria independence last year. Atomic testing was not mentioned, but the Algerians knew that was what the bases were used for. Sources close to the Algerian Foreign Ministry said Ben Bella's government might not object to a final French test if the French announced simultaneously they would no longer test at the Sahara site.

A construction magazine published in Honolulu reported last month that France is moving test facilities from the Sahara to Mangareva Island in the South Pacific, 1,000 miles east of Tahiti.

The French refused to comment on the reports. The British and New Zealand governments, which administer nearby islands, said they had heard rumors but had no definite information.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — So here come several letters from people who claim to be readers and who are interested in living down here. And a number are from California: Los Angeles area but we won't say another word because they might be picked up by Chamber of Commerce agents.

Anyhow, the things that bug everybody are how do you retire here (again)? How can you work here? How can you invest here?

We ran a good bit on retirement so if anybody wants the details all over again, write and we will send a copy of the requirements.

What many people are interested in knowing is can foreigners own property in Mexico and what do houses cost? First off, foreigners CAN own homes here except around borders and the coast. At the same time, there is a provision that enables you to get a 99-year lease on a place in these areas.

To get properly informed on these things, we sat down with Mr. Ray Wright, an ex - Pennsylvanian who deals in houses and land here. He has been in business in Mexico for about 10 years and operates a construction outfit called Architectonica.

Senor Wright specializes in low-cost housing developments and informs us he can turn out any kind of abode for locals or foreigners. This is the law, just like up home. So we handed him the "how much?" question.

This depends on where you want a house, like any other city in the world. Some parts of town, land runs higher than others. Also, it depends on what kind of a place you want.

But to give you a basic idea, architect Wright says he can put up a two - bedroom house for $8,000 U.S., including the real estate. One like this you can pay off at about $68 U.S. a month. The fur - lined plumbing jobs go for more, of course.

Now about working. There are around thirty thousand U. S. Americans living in Mexico and they either work or have an income from back home. To work, you get jobbed up with a company here that will request a permit for you from the immigration department. Maybe you can find something after you come down to look or you might fix it from the U. S. end.

The procedure is to make contact somehow with the Dynamic Shoe Lace Corporation (for instance) here to be their vice president in charge of carbon paper. Then Dynamic submits a letter saying they can't operate without you and immigration issues the permit. It takes time but is being done every day.

Then suppose you want to invest in something. You can write the Foreign Ministry (Secretaria de Relaciones Exteriores, Avenida Juarez, Mexico, D. F) and tell them you want to sink $50,000 in a milk stopper factory.

They answer and let you know what the procedure is. Maybe they have too many milk stopper factories so they say why don't you put your money in a tooth pick plant?

Most people who want to invest in Mexico check with a lawyer. There are several international law firms here who specialize in such things. The lawyers do all the red - tape work with authorities and get necessary permits and tell you when and where you can start.

One thing — if you want to do any manufacturing, it would be best to see that you can get all the materials in Mexico necessary to turn out your product. Otherwise, you spend half your time asking for import permits.

Okay?

(If you have questions, write John Abney, Indianapolis 72, Colonia Napoles, Mexico City 18, Mexico.)

Missile Arrives For Cooper Flight

CAPE CANAVERA, Fla. (AP)—The Atlas missile scheduled to boost astronaut Leroy Gordon Cooper Jr. into orbit has arrived here for several weeks of pre-flight checkouts.

Cooper, who is to make a space trip of at least 22 orbits lasting 34 hours, was on hand when the rocket was unloaded from a plane which ferried it from the General Dynamics—Astronautics plant in San Diego, Calif.

Cooper's flight is set for May 7 at the earliest.

Revamped Rocket Scores First Test

VANDERBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—A new satellite launching rocket—actually an old liquid one souped up with three solid-fuel boosters—has scored its first success.

The new system, called TAT for thrust-augmented Thor, was used Monday as the first stage of a Thor-Agena rocket combination. The Air Force did not announce the purpose of the satellite or whether it achieved orbit.

Looking Back

10 Years Ago
From The Snyder Daily News
March 19, 1953

AUSTIN — Rep. C. F. Sentell of Snyder announced that he will oppose the judicial reorganization bill which has been introduced in the House.

The bill calls for the death of the 132nd District court which is composed of Scurry and Borden counties.

The Scurry County Chamber of Commerce attacks its biggest problem of the year Monday when its Membership and Finance committee starts its drive. Their goal will be to secure enough members to support the biggest budget ever proposed here.

5 Years Ago
From The Snyder Daily News
March 19, 1958

Work is now underway on running telephone cable to the Dunn area from the Snyder exchange of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

The Dunn area, which was a part of the Hermleigh telephone exchange when that exchange was purchased by Southwestern Bell last year, is being moved into the Snyder exchange.

BRYAN, (AP) — Two persistent women and a judge's ruling apparently have breached the walls of an all - male stronghold — Texas A&M College.

John Barron, attorney for the plaintiffs, said in summing up, if women can be denied the right to enter A&M they can be denied any other right men enjoy.

New Region Is Cleared

CAMPECHE, Mex. (AP) — About 500 peasants have started clearing a deserted, jungle-like region south of here to start a new life and pave the way for thousands of others like them.

The group arrived Monday after a five-day trip by bus, train and boat. They came from La Laguna, a rich farming area in North Mexico that is rapidly becoming a vast dust bowl.

As soon as homes are built and land is prepared for planting, their families will be allowed to join them.

The government brought them here to open new ejidos, types of communal farms. The aim was to relieve the over-population problem of La Laguna, the government's largest ejido system.

On arriving at their new homes, the peasants were told that their families had received the first payment of loans the government promised the men it would make while they await their first crop.

An official said each family had been given a two-week allotment of $1.60 a day—twice the amount they had been promised.

Daily Crude Flow Drops

TULSA [illegible] — U. S. oil production dropped last week, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Average daily production was 7,349,975 barrels, down 18,500 from the previous week, the trade magazine reported.

Oklahoma output dipped 6,500 barrels daily to 560,100 per day.

Arkansas produced 75,000, Colorado 112,800, Louisiana 1,398,000, New Mexico 304,200 and Texas 2,580,900.

Mrs. Kennedy On Trip To New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy is in New York for shopping and private business.

She flew here Monday, leaving her children at the White House. President Kennedy is in Costa Rica.

Mrs. Kennedy's press secretary, Miss Pamela Turnure, said in Washington that the First Lady plans to remain here until Wednesday. She is staying in the presidential suite at the Hotel Carlyle.

Independent Phone Firms Enjoy Wave Of Prosperity

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The number of independent telephone companies has been shrinking but they flourish as never before.

Their assets, operating revenues, and number of phones in use, all have grown at a faster rate than the giant in the field, the Bell System.

And the independents boast they serve twice as many communities, 11,000, as does Bell—it's just that she serves the biggest ones. For the independents the chief factors in recent years have been mergers, holding companies, mechanization, and growing pains.

Amongst them the 2,850 independents operate 12,670,000 phones, 50 per cent more than in 1955, and 16 per cent of the total in use in the nation. They also boast they have as many phones as France and Britain together.

Part of the growth story is the flight to the suburbs from the big cities that the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. subsidiaries serve. The new customers all but swamped some of the small companies trying to accommodate them.

Combined operating revenues of the independents last year were $1.23 billion. The United States Independent Telephone Association says this is 213 per cent more than companies outside the Bell System made in 1951.

But the number of companies has dwindled from the 6,000 competing in the late 1940s. Mergers have accounted for most of this shrinkage. Sixteen holding companies have blossomed and this trend, too, seems likely to continue. Some 60 of the independents are publicly owned. Many of the smallest firms are family owned.

The Bell System has been busy growing on its own and because of the antitrust laws wasn't tempted to snap up any smaller companies. In fact, it says it welcomes their growth. Cooperation between the independents and the giant is widespread, so that a call placed with one can reach a phone operated by the other.

Mechanization has spread fast since 1956. The independents have 87 per cent of their phones dial operated. Bell has 99 per cent. An electronic phone exchange, with no moving parts, is operated at Etna, N.Y., by the Dryden Telephone Co. Bell has been testing a similar one. The new device makes connections more rapidly than the electromechanical exchanges.

The independents have their own giant. General Telephone & Electronics has 34 operating companies and 4.7 million phones in the United States, in addition to subsidiaries operating in Canada, Haiti and the Dominican Republic. But only 124 of the independents have more than 10,000 phones each. And they range down to a 10-phone facility in Lucile, Idaho.

Plant investment of the independents now totals $4.98 billion and the association says they will be spending $653 million on expansion this year. Together they employ 100,000 persons. By 1970 the association expects them to be operating 19.5 million phones.

They are active in every state except Delaware, with the most phones in California and the fewest in Maryland. Like the Bell System they are regulated by the Federal Communications Commission and various state agencies.

For all their spectacular gains since the war, they still face two major problems: rising operating costs and the financing of technological improvements to keep pace with the industry. Their solutions are likely to continue to be mergers and sale of stock to the public.

Minuteman Missile Veers Off Course

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A Minuteman missile veered off course Monday night and was destroyed by the range safety officer.

The intercontinental range rocket shot out of an underground silo and performed well through first and second stage flight. Trouble developed in the third stage and a signal was sent to explode it. Pieces fell harmlessly into the Atlantic Ocean, far short of the intended 5,000-mile range.

Eisenhower Is Going Back To High School

PALM DESERT, Calif. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will visit a high school Friday with considerably more going for him than when he was a student some 50 years ago. This one is named for him.

He'll tour Eisenhower High about 70 miles northwest of his winter home here, then travel another 30 miles to speak at a dedication of General Eisenhower Hall at Brown Military Academy in Glendora.

One Person, One Vote Rule Stimulates Varied Reaction

EDITORS NOTE—The Supreme Court handed down a significant "one person, one vote" decision Monday. How do lawyers who are fighting for more political strength for city dwellers look upon the ruling—and how about those on the other side of the fence? Both sides give their views in this story.

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lawyers fighting for more political power for city folks and suburbanites got a big lift today out of a "one person, one vote" decision by the U.S. Supreme Court.

To Charles S. Rhyne, former president of the American Bar Association and attorney for city dwellers, the decision points in only one direction:

Eventually—and probably sooner than many people think—both houses of each state legislature in the 50 states will be apportioned according to population. This would indeed be a political revolution, turning many a politician's plans and future topsy-turvy.

But the day is not yet, and a leader on the other side of the fight, Brevard Crihfield, executive secretary of the Council of State Governments, sees a long, controversy-strewn road ahead.

Crihfield holds with retired Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter that the high court was unwise to venture into the "political thicket" of voting apportionment.

"I foresee," Crihfield told a newsman today, "almost limitless litigation and confusion ahead of us, to the detriment of orderly governmental processes."

"Actually Monday's 8-1 decision did not deal with apportionment of state legislatures—though many lawyers felt it inscribed certain handwriting on the wall.

What it did was to administer the coup de grace to Georgia's old county unit system for reckoning results of statewide Democratic primaries. The system, before it was revamped somewhat in a vain attempt to get by the courts, made a farmer's vote in the least populous county worth 99 times the vote of an Atlanta citizen.

This was done by providing that a governorship candidate, for example, who carried a county got all its unit votes. One result was that red-gallused Gene Talmadge, late governor, once remarked that he never bothered to campaign in a community big enough to have streetcar tracks.

The system was knocked out by a lower federal court, and last year's Georgia primary was on a popular basis. An appeal was filed, however, and Monday the unit system went out the window irrevocably. Writing for the majority, Justice William O. Douglas said the concept of political equality, from the Declaration of Independence down, "can mean only one thing—one person, one vote."

To the dissenter, Justice John M. Harlan, this "flies in the face of history." He said the idea of "one person, one vote" has never been universally accepted in England or this country.

Harlan said he could not deem it irrational for Georgia to "apply its county unit system to the selection of candidates for . . . statewide offices in order to assure against a predominantly 'city point of view' in the administration of state affairs."

Ferment over apportionment has spread rapidly across the nation as a result of the Supreme Court's "Baker vs. Carr" decision in March 1962. The court ruled then for the first time that federal courts have jurisdiction when citizens contend they are victims of "individious discrimination" in apportionment of state legislatures.

Nobody can keep track of the total number of lawsuits filed since then, but they number at least 78 in 38 states. Fifteen state legislatures have taken some reapportionment action, although not in many cases to the satisfaction of city dwellers. In 17 states reapportionment is in one stage or another of consideration.

Eleven cases are headed for possible decision by the Supreme Court, with more to follow. One prime question remains unanswered. Is it all right to base one house of a legislature on geography, as in Congress, where each state has two senators?

Cases from Maryland and Michigan could be the vehicles for deciding this momentous issue. Maryland's highest court ruled it is legal for the state Senate to be based on geography; Michigan's Supreme Court ruled the opposite.

Rhyne, who argued on the winning side in Baker vs. Carr, said today he felt population would be the basis finally decided upon.

"You cannot get around the constitutional principle of equality," he said. "You cannot carve up equality and allot it unequally."

Behind the cities' drive for proportionate power in legislatures is the feeling they are short-changed now on mass transport, education and other metropolitan needs.

Behind the rural blocs' fight is a fear that city voters might ride roughshod over them, neglecting the problems peculiar to the countryside.

States' righters have begun a backfire against the Supreme Court. Circulating among state legislatures now is a resolution asking a constitutional amendment for a super-court of judges from the 50 states. They could overrule the U.S. Supreme Court on matters affecting states rights.

The proposal stems from a general assembly of state officials, held in Chicago last December.

Mexico Oil Plan Praised

GUANAJUATO, Mex. (AP) — Se[illegible] John L. Sparkman, D-Ala., praised Monday the development of Mexico's oil industry and said difficulties arising from the expropriation of the United States companies are past.

Addressing a Interparliamentary Conference, which coincided with the 25th annnversary of Mexico's oil expropriation, Sparkman said that after some difficulties, "Mexican oil development has made steady progress and production has more than doubled since 1940.

"The Mexican people," he said, "are to be congratulated and commended on the progress made in utilization of all their natural resources."

He also said "there can be no quarrel with the soverign right of any people to attempt to develop their resources in any way they desire. There can, perhaps, be differences of view as to the wisdom of a particular course of action, but this is a perfectly natural thing among men who think for themselves."

Students Go For Red Indoctrination

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The newspaper Ultimas Noticias said Monday that Mexican authorities were aware that an average of 25 students a week traveled through here to Cuba to receive Communist indoctrination.

The travlers are known to include students from four Mexican universities and from schools in other Latin American countries, principally Brazil, Argentina and Ecuador, the newspaper said.

The Mexican universities were those in Puebla, Guadalajara, Veracruz and Michoacan.

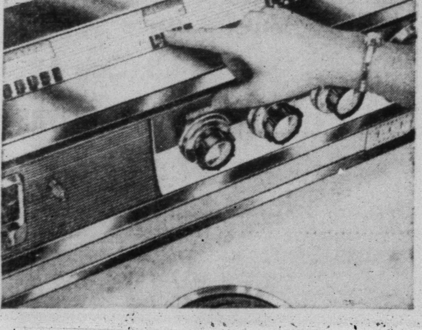
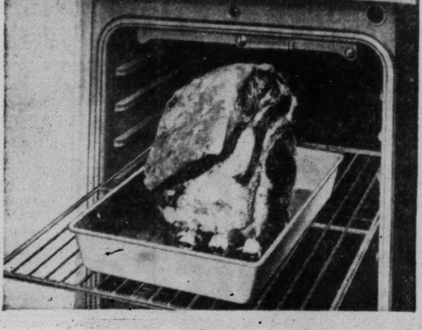
Women who cook electrically know...

Electric cooking is accurate because it's flameless





Good cooks know how important accurate cooking temperatures are. On every electric range, regardless of price, you get accurately measured heat on all surface units and in the oven. There's no guesswork. You just set the controls for the heat you want and you get exactly the same heat from the same switch setting every time!

Only an electric oven can be insulated all around, including the bottom. This is because an electric oven is flameless and requires no flow of air into and out of it to support combustion. Temperatures inside the oven remain constant and the heat is evenly distributed for best results when you are baking or roasting.

Electric cooking also is clean, fast, cool and economical. See your dealer soon about a modern flameless electric range—another appliance that adds to the joy of electric living.
