THE UNION STOCK YARDS

Open for Feeding and Soon to be Ready for Consignments.

"Well, now that you have the Union Stock yards at Fort Worth what are you going to do with them?"

That is the question asked of the JOURNAL, and this is the answer: We are going to sell cattle at the Union yards—First, to the local butchers; second, to Texas butchers; third to Indian Territory butchers; fourth, to speculators who reship to Texas cities and to the greater markets, and including towns in Colorado on the line of the Fort Worth & Denver road; fifth, to cattle raisers of the Panhandle, the Indian Territory and other maturing ranges and enable them to purchase large or small lots at pleasure to fill their pastures; sixth, to cattle feeders in Texas; seventh, to cattle feeders in the Indian Territory; eighth, to cattle feeders in Kansas; ninth, to our local packing-house when it will start shortly; and tenth, to other packing houses when they are—as they will be—erected.

We intend to sell sheep.—First, to city butchers who don't have mutton for sale more than three days out of five; second, to a pork packery promised us directly there are pigs in sight to justify such an establishment.

We expect to sell horses, singly or in car-loads. North Texas alone can supply the yards. All the world is the market. The yard company will make arrangements to encourage horsemen to use the yards, so as to establish a central horse market of no small dimensions.

We expect to have pens and shelters specially set aside for the sale of blooded cattle, sheep and swine; also a show arena for auction purposes. We expect to sell all kinds of blooded bulls and heifers in single and car-loads to the stockmen of Texas, the Indian Territory, Louisiana and New Mexico. Not forgetting the demand now rapidly increasing in Old Mexico for all kinds of blooded breeding stock. We expect to sell fine stallions and mares, sheep of the mutton breeds as well as Merinos, and to dispose of blooded pigs of all the breeds for breeding purposes.

We expect further to have the feeding and privilege of sale of all transient stock en route to Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City, and we expect the Fort Worth Union Stock yards to be the rallying point for the live stock trade of the Southwest, and that under the cover of the Live Stock Exchange building many contracts for large numbers of range cattle will be concluded and maintain the prestige of Fort Worth as a live stock trading center so long as Texas continues to be the greatest breeding ground in the United States.

We expect to afford the stockmen of Texas a market in all the name implies: A place to sell a cow or a thousand cows. A place to sell straight beef steers of the best quality, or steers that require to be fed to make them into beef. A place to sell stock cattle, etc. A place to bring together the buyers and sellers of all kinds of live stock and of all ages and conditions.

It is expected further that the live stock commission firms of Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis and New Orleans, and of some of our city Texas markets will find it to their advantage to establish agencies at the Union Stock yards of Fort Worth to concentrate, expedite and centralize their Texas business here, and economize the handling thereof to the advantage of themselves and their customers.

LIVE STOCK COMMISSION MERCHANTS.

All these things and more are expected from the establishment of Union Stock yards at Fort Worth, and we congratulate the stockmen of Texas that within a short time they will have a home market well established. Next Monday the yards will be ready to receive through stock for feeding purposes, and in a few weeks we hope to announce the formal opening of the yards to receive consignments.

JAMES K. REEVE, in Harper's Magazine for May, will draw attention to the "steadily accumulating conditions which will in the near future make imperative the adoption in this country of closer and more enlightened methods of agriculture than now generally obtain among our farmers." He calls us "a nation of poor farmers."

"THE Western Outlook for Sportsmen," by Franklin Satterthwaite, which will appear in Harper's Magazine for May, gives the numbers and ranges of the "big game" and the "little game" in the West.

Creameries in Texas.

It is seldom any subject connected with agricultural pursuits is so well and thoroughly handled on paper as the Bulletin No. 5 issued by Prof. F. A. Gulley, director, and Geo. W. Curtis, agriculturist of the A. and M. college, entitled "Creameries in Texas."

The purpose of the Bulletin was fully set forth about two months ago, when this Bulletin was promised as a guide to people in Texas who were figuring on improvement in butter making by the establishment of creameries. The people of Texas were promised information as to methods, and information as to cost. Both promises are redeemed in a practical, business-like manner, and the Bulletin referred to is about as valuable a document as any we have seen issued by agricultural colleges.

The paper commences by furnishing reasons for confining the creameries in Texas to butter making only, for the present, allowing the cheese branch of the business to remain over for further investigation. The JOURNAL has reason to believe the cheese situation to be a trifle better than the Bulletin sets forth, yet is in full accord with the argument advanced favoring the establishment of butter factories, the cheese-making apparatus to be added later when improved conditions permit.

The Bulletin briefly describes the usual methods of organization and control, giving particulars of co-operation in full, co-operation in part, and private or corporate enterprise.

The next chapter is devoted to three main systems in management. First, the deep setting in water, farmers delivering sweet milk, the creamery setting it, reserving the cream and returning the skim milk or butter milk to the patrons. This is condemned on account of the high cost of ice.

The second system is where each farmer sets his own milk, the creamery sending for the cream and leaving the skim milk on the farms. This, too, is condemned because ice is out of the question, and because the temperature of water in wells and springs during the summer is too high to properly raise the cream, and for other minor reasons.

The third system—the creamery to have a centrifugal cream separator, separate the sweet cream from the milk and return the sweet skim milk at once to the farmers—is the system approved. It overcomes many difficulties, and is summarized as the one which gives the largest returns to all concerned.

Under the separator method the Bulletin then gives an estimate and plans for the construction of a creamery with a capacity to make 200 to 250 pounds of butter per day. This estimate is complete in every detail, covering the construction and machinery to the smallest particular, the total cost being $2250 in all, including two coats of paint on the building.

The paper concludes with some points on butter making specially adapted to the Texas climate.

Having applied for cuts used in the Bulletin, we hope to reproduce it entire in an early issue of the paper. Those particularly interested should apply to Prof. Gulley or Mr. Curtis at College Station, Tex., for a copy of the Bulletin.

Who Killed It?

The American Meat company is the name of a corporation recently organized for the purpose of engaging in a business to include stock raising, meat packing and retail butchering, all under one management; or, as the Marquis de Mores called it, "From the Ranch to the Table." The projectors were prominent people, and the performance was to be on a grand scale to cope with all opposition.

There seems, however, to have been a hitch in the proceedings, and the

ST. LOUIS MARKET LETTER.

Room for Sheep at St. Louis—A Few Sales of Texans.

EAST ST. LOUIS, ILL.,
April 16, 1888.

Regular Correspondence Texas Live Stock Journal.

In the fore part of the week prices were well maintained, and desirable grades brought the highest figures of the season, which is not saying much, however, for they have been so low so long. The receipts at other points have been large, but it took some days before values began to depreciate. Here the run was very light throughout, and buyers labored at some disadvantage. There was a large demand for good, smooth butcher and shipping steers, and good figures prevailed throughout. Of course, at the present writing they are lower. Eastern shippers could not operate to any extent, there being only a couple of days in the entire week when they were given a show, and then they paid from $4 to 4.30 for good to heavy native steers. Fairish native and Southwest steers of 1000 to 1200 pounds brought from $3.25 to $3.75 per 100 pounds. These were taken by the dressed beef company, interior shippers and local operatives. At times within the period named above mixed butcher stuff, as cows, heifers, stags, etc., sold well enough and brought very strong prices, but this was because local butchers and others were out of supplies and had to take what was offered and pay high figures—these bringing from $2.25 to 3.25 per 100 pounds, according to condition. There was a strong advance of about 50c per 100 pounds. Later on some of this advance was lost.

The run of Texas steers was comparatively light; some 700-pounders as stockers brought $2.50, and some good ones brought $3.50 to $3.70. This was the extreme; the average for good steers can be put at $3 per 100 pounds. It can be said there are not many cattle running out of Texas. From what can be learned at this end of the line, Texas ranchmen and others are turning their cattle on grass, and are in no hurry to ship to market, expecting better figures later on. Perhaps this may turn out so, but it does look that there are plenty of native cattle in the country and yet to come forward.

To-day Evans-Snyder-Buel company had a string of good corn-fed Texas steers of 1080 to 1095 pounds which brought from $3.55 to $3.65. They were shipped by G. W. Weaver, A. R. White and J. F. Stark of Richardson, Collins county, Tex.

Sealing & Tamblin sold a train load of Texas steers of 985 pounds at $3.60 for the Little Rock (Ark.) Oil and Compress company.

Cassidy Bros. & Co. sold some good corn-fed steers of 1143 pounds at $3.70 per 100 pounds. The market was active.

Sheepmen are not acting wisely in passing this market, but to say that this point is given the go-by by sheep shippers is only stating the truth. The receipts the past week were insignificantly small. The few bunches offered each day sold at sight at very stiff fig-

ITCHING AGONIES. EVERY NIGHT I SCRATCHED,

Until the Skin was Raw; Body Covered with Seals like Spots of Mortar. An Awful Spectacle. Doctors useless. Finally Cured by the Cuticura Remedies in Five weeks.

I am going to tell you of the extraordinary change your CUTICURA REMEDIES performed on me. About the 1st of April last I noticed some red pimples like coming out all over my body, but thought nothing of it until some time later on, when it began to look like spots of mortar spotted on, and which came off in layers, accompanied with itching. I would scratch every night until I was raw, then the next night the scales, being formed meanwhile, were scratched off again. In vain did I consult all the doctors in the country, but without aid. After giving up all hopes of recovery, I happened to see an advertisement in the newspaper about your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and purchased the same from my druggist, and obtained almost immediate relief. I began to notice that the scaly eruptions gradually dropped off and disappeared one by one, and have been fully cured. I had the disease thirteen months before I began taking the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and in four or five weeks was entirely cured. My disease was eczema and psoriasis. I recommended the CUTICURA REMEDIES to all in my vicinity, and I know of a great many who have taken them, and thank me for the knowledge of them, especially mothers who have babies with scaly eruptions on their heads and bodies. I cannot express in words the thanks to you for what the CUTICURA REMEDIES have been to me. My body was covered with scales, and I was an awful spectacle to behold. Now my skin is as nice and clear as a baby's.

ures. No Texas sheep were offered. Good fat sheared Texas sheep of 70 to 100 pounds are wanted, and would command high figures—say from $3.50 to $4.40 per 100 pounds. The demand comes from Eastern shippers, the dressed beef company and local operators. Common and thin sheep are dull, and would command low figures. There is a great deal of difference between common and thin and fat sheep.

Sam A. White, superintendent of the horse department of the National Stock yards, has cleared the decks, so to speak, and expects a fair trade for good horses and mares. The season is about to open up in earnest. Buyers from the East will soon be putting in an appearance. He has not much hopes for common stock.

Wool receiving men inform me that they are in correspondence with Texas flockmasters and others, and expect some wool in a short while. The market is quiet but the prospect flattering.

Successful Transportation.

Col. D. R. Fant of Goliad, who is using the Street stable cars to transport his cattle into the Cherokee strip has written a congratulatory letter to Mr. L. D. Vook, general agent in regard to successful shipments. Forty-two cars were loaded at Pettus and transported to Paoli in Streets stable cars, and excepting one steer crippled every animal arrived in condition as good or better than when loaded. Col. Fant concludes his letter saying: "Hurrah for the Street Stable car."

Wanted in Texas.

Mr. W. P. Herring, live stock agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, is wanted in Texas. He is known here to some extent as former manager of the Dominion Cattle company in the Territory and as live stock agent of one of the Kansas roads. His reputation as a good fellow and boon companion has been considerably advanced of late by publication in the Drovers' Journal of a statement that when playing poker with stock shippers he invariably loses—provided the shipper uses the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad to haul the stock destined for Chicago from Kansas City.

The people here don't know the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad very much, but each and every one of the stock shippers want to learn something of the Milwaukee method of doing business as alleged to be practiced by Mr. Herring. The Alton, Wabash & Q. representatives don't amount to much here now a-days, and the cry is for Mr. Herring, and he is badly wanted in Texas before the grand shipping performance begins.

General Range and Stock Notes.

The advertisements in the JOURNAL are interesting reading.

John K. Rosson of Fort Worth is about to make a western trip, after sheep principally.

When shipping live stock to New Orleans notice those who solicit consignments through the TEXAS LIVE STOCK JOURNAL.

Fort Worth butchers announce prices as follows: Steers, 2½¢; cows, 2¢; sheep, 24¢; calves, 38¢; hogs not wanted at 3¢ per lb.

Young, Andrews & Kuhen report the horse market quite dull here. Aside from a few retail sales there was nothing done at their yards.

C. F. Estill & Co. received from Missouri forty head of railroad mules that went out on the Fort Worth and Rio Grande railway extension.

The immense shipments into the Indian Territory denote that the ranges up there were very lightly supplied at the close of last year's business.

Messrs. Finch, Lord and Nelson of the Panhandle, sold to the Day Land and Cattle company 100 two-year-old Hereford bulls of their own raising at $50.00 each.

Hatcher, Woods & Coppinger of Fort Worth have about 2500 mares for sale, all from North Texas stocks, and raised in the best prairie districts from improved stock.

Mr. D. A. Constable of Hunnewell, Kan., who has a good range in the Cherokee strip desires to take in 2,000 steers to pasture. His notice will be found in the far sale column.

Beggs & Hackett of Fort Worth are offering for sale some very good strings of cattle at low prices. See their notice which will be found in the columns of the JOURNAL.

A. S. Nicholson sold to Williamson & Black of the Cherokee strip 1,000 head of three and four-year-old steers to be delivered at Lampassas on the 25th inst. The cattle are to come from Burnet county.

Coffin Bros. of Itasca, Hill county, sold to Messrs. Leak Bros. of Ellis county 39 mares at $45 each, 5 three-year-old horses at $45, 6 small mules at $45; also one jack, one stallion and two pairs of work mules.

B. T. Leonard of Strawn, has purchased 350 head of steers from Even, Small & Thompson of Palo Pinto county, and will move them with others to the number of 1500 head into the pasture of the McClellan Cattle company in the Cherokee strip.

It is reported that Goodnight & Moore of the Panhandle have sold about 6,000 steers at $15.50 per head for two-year-olds and $20.00 per head for three, delivered at the railroad pens. The purchasers being D. H. Clark & Co., of Rapid City, Dakota.

Mr. H. R. Irvine of the Santa Fe road who is here to expedite the cattle traffic into the Nation reports everything moving smoothly. The stockmen are going to let up on the cattle movement a little during Oklahoma week to give the boomers a chance.

S. B. Burnett has returned from Corpus Christi where he went to receive some yearlings he bought last fall for spring delivery. There are 1,000 of them, all red, and cost him $6.00 per head delivered on the cars. He says that country needs a little dry weather.

Daggett & Nicholson sold to the Tongue river cattle company 505 head of Tarrant county two-year-old steers at $11.50, that were loaded on the Fort Worth and Denver railway this week. To J. J. McAllister of the Indian Territory he sold 95 head yearling heifers at $6 per head.

T. C. Shoemaker, representing Gregory, Cooley & Co., came down from Wichita Falls, where he says the country is in very beautiful condition and stock are rapidly improving. Parties coming in from Western Texas as far as Midland give equally good reports of the country that way.

Amongst recent sales of Panhandle cattle to Montana purchasers are about 2,000 head of two-year-old steers from the Adair ranch at $15.50 per head delivered on the railroad. Also about 3,000 three-year-old steers from the Matador company at $20.00 around delivered at Giles, on the Fort Worth and Denver.

O. H. Nelson of Panhandle City writes the JOURNAL as follows: We have had very heavy rains and now have water in abundance. This assures us heavy shipments from this point this year as the water now in the lakes will last all the year. We will ship between three and four hundred cows from here this month, mostly to the Cherokee strip.

The Arbita ranch property situated in Jones county, a combination of rich agricultural land and elegant pasture, is advertised by Mr. William D. Cleveland of Houston, Tex. The tract consists of 3,800 acres, 2,000 being under fence. All improvements and 225 head of horses are advertised with the land. Please examine the JOURNAL and find further particulars. Mr. Cleveland also offers 8,000 acres of pine lands in Montgomery county.

Old Volunteer.

The old trotting sire Volunteer, who died at Walnut Grove farm, Orange county, N. Y., was 34 years old. This horse founded a family almost as noted as that of his sire, Hambletonian, and the fastest colt, St. Julien (2:11½) has a record six seconds lower than Dexter, the greatest trotter produced by Hambletonian.

The bay gelding Driver (2:19½) is the greatest of campaigners, living or dead, and Huntress, another of the first get of Volunteer, still holds the best record for three miles—7:21½. Others of his fleet progeny were Gloster (2:17), Alley (2:19), Bodine (2:19½), and twenty-one others with records ranging from 2:20½ to 2:30. Besides these he has a long list of descendants in the second and third generations that have begotten and produced trotters of merit.

Volunteer had a lot of spe d though he was never given a record. He showed a trick to a wagon in 2:21½ shortly after Mr. Goldsmith purchased him. His coits are famous for their endurance and gameness, and at the time of his death he was without doubt the most successful sire in the country. He was bred in 1854 by Joseph Hetzel of Florida, Orange county, N. Y., out of his mare Lady Patriot, a descendant of the thoroughbred Kincher.

DAIRY TESTS.—The Illinois state board of agriculture will offer at the American dairy show, in connection with the fat stock show, November next, three milk test prizes of $50, $25 and $15. For these all recorded breeds of cattle may compete. They will be judged by the milk product of three successive milkings, the value of the milk to be estimated from the weight of the tested butter qualities. In addition to the above, the American Shorthorn Breeders' association places at the disposal of the Illinois state board $250 for the encouragement of dairy qualities in Shorthorn cattle.

SALE OF JERSEYS.—On April 4 and 5 Mr. Valancey E. Fuller, Hamilton, Ont., sold the most of his celebrated herd of Jerseys by auction. The attendance was good, but the cattle brought low prices considering their fashionable breeding. In all 64 head were sold for $7426, an average of $116.19. Mary Anne of St. Lambert and a few others of that family were reserved for a sale soon to be held in New York.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proved catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally, in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucous surface of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address

CHICAGO MARKET LETTER.

Tremendous Week's Crop of Beef
 Disposed of at Good Figures.
 Texas Cattle Moving
 More Freely.

U. S. YARDS, {
 CHICAGO, ILL., April 15, '89.
 Regular Correspondence Texas Live Stock
 Journal.

Last week Chicago received 62,000 cattle, and they were cattle, too. There were no light Texas cattle, and only a handful of old native cows and mixed lots. The general market held to its recent advance of 50c until about the end of the week, when it dropped about 25c. This week, however, started off with 11,000 head, a lighter run than expected, and the market braced up in tone at least.

Native beefs sold last week at $3.50
 @ 4.75, with the bulk at $3 90@4.25.

To-day about 450 Texas cattle arrived, and sold as follows: 20 steers, 983 lbs, $3.00; 16, 827 lbs, $3.25; 20 steers, 983 lbs, $3.30; 19 steers, 1055
 lbs, $3.70.

Wood Bros. sold for G. W. Carter 79 steers, 1021 lbs, at $3.70; for T. A.
 Hasler, 44 steers, 1075 lbs, $3.55; 84
 1005 lbs, $3.65.

The James H. Campbell company sold for J. M. Dennison of Granger 63 steers, 1045 lbs, $3.70; for G. C. Robinson and Seeley of Waco, 21 steers, 952 lbs, $3.50.

Paxson, Shattuck & Co. sold for
 G. W. Cotter of Alvarado 39 steers, 1041 lbs, $3.75; 19, 913 lbs, $3.60; G.
 C. Robinson of Waco, 19 steers, 1127 lbs, $3.90; 13 stags, 1214 lbs, $3.25; 6
 bulls, 1335 lbs, $2.50.

Beasley & Hamilton sent in from the Del Rio "sotol" country a string of the best Texas sheep sent in this year, but they were nothing to compare with the sheep coming last year. There were 768 head, averaging 75@79 lbs, and they sold at $4.60.

SAN ANTONIO.

ABOUT San Antonio, Tex., they made rescue grass hay before the middle of April.

SOUTHWEST TEXAS has got on her Dolly Varden Sunday clothes just now, and is ready and anxious to show herself to the most fastidious dude living.

A NEW and important enterprise is that of using the Texas Spanish jennet for breeding with highbred Kentucky jacks. As a means to improve the breed this will hardly succeed, but it will facilitate the increased demand for moderate-priced jacks. Messrs. Farmer & Payne have just made a shipment of two-car-loads from San Antonio to Middle Tennessee for said purpose, and undoubtedly the get of these same jennets may be offered to Texas as fine Kentucky jacks. Cuidado?

JUDGE ASHER RICHARDSON and Dixie Jordan, two sheepmen of Encinal, recently followed a horse-thief across the Rio Grande, and finding their man and horses, had him arrested and turned over to the American officers, against the protest of the ranchman on whose premises the thief was found. This shows a state of things on the frontier that will go far towards putting a stop to thieving on both sides. When the Rio Grande ceases to be a protection to criminals, its banks will team with flourishing civilization, both in Mexico and the United States.

San Antonio Wool Market.

The receipts are gradually growing heavier, but as yet no prominent clip has been completed. Reports from the ranches are to the effect that shearing is progressing finely, and by the last of the month a majority of them will have finished. The condition of the receipts continue fully up the average, and it is claimed that as a whole the wool will be lighter and longer than usual. The only sale is the small plaza sale elsewhere reported, which cannot be strictly taken as a criterion of the opening figures. Last year the wool market opened on May 13, and there is no reason why it should be much earlier this year. No foreign buyers have yet made their appearance, and none are expected inside of two weeks. San Antonio dealers and commission men claim to have advices to the effect that their receipts this spring will exceed those of last.

San Antonio Horse Market.

The horse market has developed no new features during the week just ended. A few northern buyers were in and the trade was a slight improvement over that of the week previous, but not nearly up to the receipts, which were quite heavy. The demand is growing stronger for mares and young stock, and saddle horses will have to be carried over for next winter or worked off on a light margin or sacrifice. Nothing but young mares are wanted in that line, and unbranded animals are the most saleable at good figures.

The shipments amounted to 934 head, out of which some 200 were in transit from below, making local shipments about 734, against 630 for the previous week.

Quotations are as follows:

Scrub and poor mares, 12 to 13½ hands, 100	$13

HORNS AND HOOFES.

J. G. Truit of Florida is here, in attendance on the horse market.

Col. J. W. Baylor of LaSalle county was here a few days ago.

Gunn & Sansing of Paris, Tex., were here and bought a carload of mules.

O. H. Pogues, Longview, Tex., a horse dealer, is now on this market for stock.

Capt. N. Underwood sent 250 mares up the trail to Southern Kansas where they will be bred.

J. B. Miller of Val Verde county is breeding high grade horses. Room for more of his sort of people.

John R. Blocker is back from Tom Green county, where he started the last of his herds for the North.

J. S. Powell arrived from the Fort last week, with a car-load of the best young Shorthorn bulls ever on this market.

Jesse K. Lloyd sold Messrs. Jones & Howard 140 head of mares which were taken to Missouri for breeding purposes.

A. A. Miller of Kansas bought 100 head of mares from Tom Gilroy for $25, which he is going to use for breeding purposes.

The commission men's agents are here in big numbers hustling for consignments of the big fat, Southern Texas grass steers.

Thos. Dewees sold fifty-one head of corn-fed steers for $2.70 per 100 lbs on the ranch in Wilson county, the average being 1015 pounds.

Thos. H. Gilroy sold two of his Norman stallions, to go to Durango, Mexico, a two and a three-year-old, realizing $400 and $500 respectively.

The best place in San Antonio to buy carriages, buggies, etc., is at Hick's repository, West Nueva street. Rice's coil spring vehicles a specialty.

John J. Young left for his ranch Santa Anita, in Hidalgo county, where he will deliver the 4,000 steers which were recently sold to James L. Harris.

The raise of beef in the Chicago market is not very alluring to Southern Texas ranch men while their steers are wading knee deep in mesquite grass.

J. L. Harris, the genial "Long Jim," went below to Hidalgo county on Tuesday to receive the 4,000 head of steers which he recently bought of McAllen & Young.

Don Camillo Saenz of Roma, Starr county, is here again and puts up at his old quarters at the Southern. He brought a bunch of horse stock, which are put on the local market.

Uvalde News:—There is more demand for cattle than at any time dur-

FOURTH ANNUAL EXHIBIT BY THE

Williamson County Live Stock and Sale Ass'n,

TAYLOR, TEXAS,

May 1st, 2d and 3d, 1889.

The association is sparing no pains or expense to make this the most successful exhibit they have ever had. The programme will consist of exhibits of live stock of all kinds, and new features of amusement will be offered each day.

A good brass band will be in attendance, and a good time for everybody guaranteed.

ing the season, but prices are not yet up to what they should be. However, there is an improvement over last year.

C. A. Hoover is back from Mexico with another large consignment of horse stock. Mr. Hoover is now one of the largest importers of Mexican horses, which he always disposes of in this market.

Cotulla Ledger:—Everything about the depot and stock pens has presented a very busy appearance for the past two weeks. Not a day has passed but there has been one or two train loads of cattle shipped from here.

Pat Conley of Bee county had seventy-five mares and horses on the market the past week, and standing side by side in the pens with the average Mexican stock, the improvement in Texas horse stock was very apparent.

John F. Camp has sent 1200 beef steers to the northwestern portion of the Panhandle for summer pasture, instead of the Indian Territory, where he will be able to winter them if the market doesn't suit his taste next fall.

Charles E. Hicks has a fine Steel Dust and Leviathan chestnut stallion at his stables. Such stock should be encouraged, because it is only through its introduction that any marked improvement can be made in our native horses.

The Clare stock of cattle of Bee county, estimated at 2500 head, were sold last week at Beeville, under a deed of trust, and $10,000 and $3.50 per head were the only two bids, and actual count being necessary to determine which was the best bid.

C. C. Conolly has bought an interest in the Southern hotel, and took the management on Monday last. Mr. Conolly is one of the best known hotel men in the Southwest, and will bring this house up to eclipse its palmist days, when a stockman could hardly stop at any other place.

"Shell-roading" obstreperous buyers by the horse dealers here is not very uncommon, but last week the first case of "shell-roading" by buyers occurred. A couple of buyers were taken to a pasture to look at some stock, and when the commission men got back to the ambulance the buyers had disappeared and have not been seen since.

Messrs. Paxson, Shattuck & Co. of Chicago have added to their force Mr. Joseph Collins of Goliad, who will represent them in Southern Texas. Mr. Collins, with his extensive acquaintance and energy, can add many customers to the firm's list, and the Journal heartily congratulates both employer and employee on the arrangement.

Mrs. H. M. King, widow of Col. Richard King, the well known "cattle king" of Nueces county, and her son, Richard King, and his wife were in the city this week. Mrs. H. M. King continues the extensive ranch enterprises of her late husband in a very successful manner, and her son, Richard King, is also running a large ranch in the same county, the two combined making among the largest ranch enterprises of America.

Cattle Feeding Experiments.

After a series of cattle feeding experiments conducted by Professor Johnson of the Michigan Agricultural college and extending over three years he draws the following conclusions:

1. The experiments seem to indicate that there is but little difference in the cost per lb. of raising steers of the different breeds under the same conditions. The superiority of the best breeds rather lies in their early maturing qualities, which enables the feeder to turn them off, well ripened, at two instead of three years.

2. That calves brought up on the pail, when properly fed, will make as much growth and be equally as valuable for feeding as if they were allowed to suckle their dams.

3. That there is likely to be a wide margin of difference between the judgments of the feeder, the butcher and the consumer, when they pass upon the bullock in the live classes, in the carcass competition as well as in the testing of the edible qualities of the meat.

4. That prejudice resulting from a lack of information may be, too often is, the basis of our estimates of the comparative value of breeds.

5. That early maturing breeds may be kept until over-ripe, thus lessening the value of the carcass for the consumer.

6. The person is very emphatically taught that average native steers, weighing from 1100 to 1300 pounds at three years, or often much less, cannot be raised and fed with profit. Well-bred steers weighing from 500 to 800 pounds more at the same age may be. The value of good blood for beef production cannot, then, be over-estimated. It only can, with good care and skilful feeding, in these times and with the present markets, bridge the margin between loss and profit for the grower and feeder.

7. That the quality of beef produced by a combined grain ration, in which wheat bran, oats and some oil meal from the principal part, is preferable to that produced by a corn ration exclusively. I believe these animals would have had a much less percentage of meat valuable to butcher and consumer if corn had entered largely into their grain ration.

8. The lesson is plainly taught that early maturing breeds may be sold with most profit, perhaps, at one year, if pushed from the start.

The cost per pound of production is greatly increased each succeeding year. Certainly, under most favorable conditions they should reach the limit of profit at from 24 to 30 months at latest. This may be modified in ordinary feeding by the fact that the yearling steer will need more expensive food than older ones. The latter will consume more rough fodder profitably than the former.

9. That the largest per cent. of dressed to live weight does not always indicate the best quality of meat, nor the most profitable carcass for the dealer or consumer. So that the commonly received opinion, that the steer that shrinks least in killing is the best for the butcher must be more or less modified by other conditions.

Catarah Cured.

A clergyman, after years of suffering from that loathsome disease, Catarah, and vainly trying every known remedy, at last found a receipt which completely cured and saved him from death. Any sufferer from this dreadful disease sending a self addressed stamped envelope to Prof. J. A. Lawrence, 88 Warren street, New York City, will receive the recipe free of charge.

HORSE NOTES.

The horses advertised in the Journal by Mr. B. P. Sturtevant of Hulltown, Shackelford county, are well worth examination. They are grade stock, improved several years by French draft stallions.

Senator Hearst of California stopped his fine lot of thoroughbred horses to rest at Fort Worth, and found ample accommodations at the yards of Young, Andrews & Kuhen.

Col. John R. Hoxie, president of the Fort Worth Union Stock Yards company, is determined to encourage horse raisers to do their trading at the yards.

Holstein Bros. of Albany, Tex., have added to the stock interests of Shackelford county by purchasing the imported Cleveland bay stallion St. Clair, and are using him for service in the stud.

Webb & Hill of Albany sold to D. B. Gardner, manager of the Pitchfork Cattle company, twenty-two head of saddle horses. They also sold to C. J. Monroe, of Keokuk, Iowa, twenty-five head of saddle horses and four head of grade Normans to W. R. Moore, all Shackelford county stock.

San Angelo Standard:—Lon Fowler, proprietor of the old Tankersley ranch, eight miles below town, has bought the entire J R J brand of horses from Erskine & Ellis. Terms private. He also has bought eighteen mares from Charles Mullins at prices ranging from $40 to $75. Mr. Fowler left for Brownwood yesterday morning to buy thoroughbred jacks.

POULTRY.

A farmer in Ohio credits 40 Wyandotte hens with 37 dozen eggs in January, 28 dozen in February and 34 dozen in March, up to the 15th. He says that he believes his wife makes as much money from 40 hens as he from 50 acres of the farm.

The Texas farmers make money by raising poultry, but seldom clean out the poultry house.

There would be more good successes in rearing fine poultry in Texas if breeders would furnish the accommodations before purchasing the fowls.

Says a poultry fancier who is keeping Brown Leghorn fowls: "I am getting on an average 15 eggs from 25 hens and the yield is on the increase. They have been at it since they were five months old."

CAUTION.—Buy only Dr. Isaac Thompson's Eye Water. Carefully examine the outside wrapper. None other genuine.

The Prospect for Hides.

Circular of Benj. McLean & Co.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 11, 1889.

The values of hides are lower than ever before known in this country, owing to the enormous importation of foreign hides free of duty, the greatly increased production of the take-off in Chicago and here by the dressed beef men, the application of other material for purposes for which leather has hitherto been used, and the general peace of the world requiring but little leather for military purposes. These are the principle causes for the present low prices of the raw material. The first two tend to increase the production, while the last two tend to decrease the consumption. Ocean freights are so low and transit so quick that hides can now be laid at our seaboard at small cost and within a few days, from any foreign port, whenever our markets show the slightest improvement. The enormous herds of South America and other countries will doubtless continue to supply a large surplus over the ordinary requirements for consumption. Cheap beef in our own country increases the amount we use, and the present large take-off in Chicago and here can reasonably be expected to continue, as no available statistics show any diminution in the number of cattle even under the heavy slaughtering of the past two or three years. The present stock, both of hides and leather, at all the leading points are larger by far than last season, and manufacturers of boots and shoes are doing business at less profit. To add to these discouraging features of the trade, there have been, the past few days, heavy failures in the trade in the East, aggregating many hundreds of thousands of dollars, and more are expected to follow. Hides are also now of the poorest quality of the season, long-haired and grubby, and we are so close on the short haired season, when long-haired stock cannot be sold, that tanners on that account alone, if not influenced by any other reasons, will delay making their purchases until hides are of better quality. In short, there are absolutely no reasons that we can see to sustain a hope of better prices; to the contrary all signs point the other way.

A Creamery Catalogue.

The fourth annual catalogue of the Creamery Package Manufacturing Co. of Kansas City is received by the JOURNAL. It contains a complete price list of all necessary creamery and dairy supplies, also a number of pages devoted to instructive matter connected with butter and cheese making. The company think it the proper care for those who want the catalogue to forward stamps to pay postage.

Open Orders Solicited.

Quarantine Regulations Governing the Admission of Cattle to New Mexico.

The quarantine regulations of the territory of New Mexico go into effect on March 15th of this year and continue in force until November 15th of the same year, whereby all cattle coming from south and east of the below described line in Texas and from the district in Mexico as outlined are prohibited admission, to-wit: South and east of a line extending the southern boundary line of New Mexico east to Mitchell county, Texas, thence north along the west side of Mitchell, thence east along the southern line of Scurry, Fisher and Jones counties, thence north along the western lines of Shackelford and Throckmorton counties, thence east along the north boundary line of Throckmorton county, and thence north, crossing the Denver, Texas & Fort Worth railway near Wichita and on to the 36th parallel in the Indian Territory; as well as all cattle from that portion of Mexico lying east of the Mexican Central railway from El Paso, Texas, to the 28th parallel of latitude, are absolutely prohibited admission into New Mexico, except cattle that are destined to points outside of the territory and being transported all the way through New Mexico by rail without unloading except into designated quarantine stock yards provided by the railway companies.

If any person, persons, company or corporation shall violate the provisions of the foregoing sections, the penalty imposed is not less than $100 nor more than $500 for each offense, as well as further liability in such civil action as may be instituted by reason of damages that may result from such action.

It is necessary for any one bringing cattle into New Mexico to first obtain a written permit either from the board, veterinary surgeon, or his employees, who are designated as inspectors. Failure to comply with this provision is punishable by a fine not less than $500 nor more than $5000 and, besides, the person so violating is liable personally for all loss and damages sustained by reason of the introduction of any contagious or infectious disease from cattle unlawfully imported into the territory. Any person may require the person in charge of cattle to produce for his inspection the permit granted by the board. A refusal to produce said permit upon demand at any time within a year from the time the cattle were driven in shall be subject to all the penalty named in the foregoing sections. For all cattle, the owner or person in charge of which designated points of inspection, at any place other than the designated points of inspection, the application for such inspection must be made at least ten days in advance of the time required for such inspection. The applicant for such inspection must pay all expenses of inspection and investigation, including per diem and traveling expenses of the person or officer making the same and designated for that purpose by the board.

Cattle brought into New Mexico in violation of any of the provisions of the law of quarantine are not only subject to all of the aforesaid penalties, but they can be seized and held for the payment of said penalties. These liens take precedence over any other lien or incumbrance on such cattle existing at the time of their unlawful importation. Said liens become effective also as security for ultimate payment without further legal proceeding, except the foreclosure by sale of the cattle on execution.

The places of inspection on the eastern boundary line of New Mexico for Texas and other cattle are at El Paso, P. Mothersill, inspector; the point where the river crosses the line of New Mexico, Geo. H. Williams, inspector; the point where the Fort Sumner and Texas road crosses the New Mexico line, R. C. Temple, inspector; the point where the Canadian river crosses the New Mexico line, T. G. Duncan, inspector; at Clayton and Raton, N. M., G. E. Lyon, inspector.

Apples in Texas.

G. Onderdonk, Victoria, Texas, in the Journal of Horticulture.

"A few years ago we had no faith in apples for Western Texas; but we have watched eagerly every experiment bearing upon the question, until our sense of encouragement has ripened into a good degree of confidence. We find that in this region our young apple trees grow off with astonishing rapidity. After two or three years our standard trees assume a dwarf habit. One of about eighty varieties tested in our experimental orchards a few varieties have been found so far adapted as to be worthy of cultivation here. We raise altogether standard trees, as we find no artificial dwarfs to be valuable. As we ascend toward the interior, we find the apple does better than here. There is one general misapprehension about the apple which we wish to see corrected. It is often said that this country is 'too dry' for the apple. Now, the apple and pear will bear more drought than the peach. I have not yet seen a season so dry as to seem to injure my apple or pear trees, or injure the fruit. But apples must have good soil and cultivation."

John Smith is the happiest man that I know, but wasn't he blue, though, not three months ago?

"My wife's running down just as fast as she can."

And the doctors can't help her," and then this poor man

Almost cried as he thought of the poor, suffering

Who seemed to be losing her hold upon life.

"Smith, I know just how you feel," said a friend to whom he told his sad story.

"My wife was troubled precisely as yours is. I don't just understand it, because I'm not a woman, but her back pained her, and she complained of dragging-down feelings, and a general weakness, and I know that she had some of those diseases women are subject to, and had 'em bad, too. I read about Dr.

Pierce's Favor to Prescription one day, and the first time I was at the drug store I bought a bottle of it and took home to her. It worked wonders. In a short time she said she felt like another woman, and she began to hope that there was relief for her, after all. She kept on taking the medicine for a time, and now she's well. Get a bottle of the 'Prescription' and try it on your wife."

"I will," said Smith. And he did, and it cured her and that's why he's so happy to-day.

Stock Show at Coleman.

Coleman Voice.

The exhibition of fine stock held in Coleman Monday, April 1st, was, so far as the horse show was concerned, the grandest thing ever witnessed in this State, and perhaps in the State, not excepted.

Owing to the want of room to accommodate cattle not halter-broke, the number to quality could not be expected.

The exclamations of astonishment of strangers and their admiration of the stock, was sometimes amusing as well as flattering. Such remarks as the following, constantly reached the ears of our reporter:

Where did they come from? Who would have thought it? This beats me!

Mr. Vernon Brown, a traveling man and a Kentuckian, declared that he had attended over two hundred fairs and he never saw such an exhibition of fine horses but once before and that was at an extensively advertised sale of fine stock in Illinois.

Mr. J. M. Lancaster, formerly a fine stock breeder of El Paso county admitted that he never saw a display of fine horses to equal this.

Mr. A. Little, late of Tennessee, says he attended many fine stock shows in Tennessee, but never saw as many splendid horses at one sight before.

Owing to the number of entries the program published last week had to be changed and twenty classes added.

Butter Colored with Wells, Richardson & Co.'s Improved Butter Color can not be taxed.

The Chemist of the Internal Revenue Department, Washington, D. C., finds foremost, either animal or vegetable, in butter colored with Wells, Richardson & Co.'s Improved Butter Color, and the Commissioner decides it cannot be taxed.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

OFFICE OF INTERNAL REVENUE, WASHINGTON, D. C. Feb. 26, 1889.

Messrs. Wells, Richardson & Co. have submitted a sample of butter colored with their Improved Butter Color, and it has been submitted to a very careful analysis resulting in the discovery of annatto, but not in the finding of any foreign fat, either animal or vegetable.

The sample fact stating, however, that the sample submitted by Messrs. Wells, Richardson & Co. is butter, it is of course not liable to tax.

Respectfully yours,

[Signed] E. HENDERSON, Acting Commissioner.

A Pleasant Occurrence.

One of those pleasant occurrences which we are always glad to notice occurred at the hay press works of Geo. Ertel & Co., Quincy, Ill., April 13th, when Mr. Geo. Ertel was presented by his employees with a handsome gold-headed cane suitably engraved, as a gentle reminder that it was his fifty-ninth birthday.

The happy occasion was represented and with a reasonable degree of privacy shown by Mr. Ertel through his works, which have recently been completed, and which are the largest exclusive hay press works in the United States.

They will find it to their advantage to do so.

Territorial Advocate, Beaver, I. T.

—O. C. Owings informs us that they lost but one sheep the past winter out of their bunch of 1300 head.

Chicago Drovers' Journal:—There were bought here to-day for a Cleveland butcher 181 head of 113-lb corned Western sheep at $5.324.

Chicago Drovers' Journal:—Bruno Franz of Brighton, Ill., sold a car-load of 110-lb shorn sheep at $4.65, the highest price of the season for shorn sheep.

San Saba has furnished storage for 1,000,000 pounds of wool, and secured the services of Mr. J. H. Beveridge to handle it. The sale will commence June 11.

The Hamilton county wool growers will have a grand turn out May 1st at Hamilton, consisting of an exhibition of fine stock, sheep shearing, speeches, music, races, refreshments, etc.

The JOURNAL was informed that a Weatherford wool horse had bought the Morris clip at Baird at 22½c.
We are now informed that they did not pay any such price as the clip was offered for sale later at 20c to Crowder Bros.

N. W. Live Stock Journal:—The first of the week the Warren Live Stock company had a lot of sheep on the market. There were sixteen double-deck cars, 2880 sheep, averaging over 100 pounds each, and bringing $5.37½ per hundred.

San Angelo Standard:—D. H. Speed of Archer county was in the city Tuesday. Mr. Speed had a lot of sheep wintering 2500 muttons on Devil's river, and they have become remarkably fat on sotol grass. His sheep are now being shorn near Knickerbocker. His 10,000-pound clip will be marketed in San Angelo and his muttons will be shipped from this point to Chicago. Mr. S. has been in Texas thirteen years, and says this is the only sheep country that he has ever seen. It is his intention to move out here, all of his stock in Archer county, next fall.

sion merchants of Chicago, Ill., write us as follows: Wool stocks are very light here at present, and values therefore of course much stronger than they would be were wool more plenty.
From recent receipts we have sold bright 12 months medium and fine medium Texas at 25 and 26c. Without a doubt manufacturers have much reason to complain of the situation for them. Wool 20 per cent. higher but goods no higher than a year ago cannot be very encouraging. It looks as though the new clip will have to start low, but 'twill come round all right when the new national government gets at correcting the errors in the old tariff and stops more of the frauds at the customs that have been so long tolerated by the old "free" regime.

Suggestion to Wool Growers.

Mr. E. F. Bowditch of Framingham, Mass., a gentleman farmer, whose hobby is the study and breeding of high-class stock has the following valuable suggestions in the current number of the the American Sheep Breeder. He says:

Within the last few weeks I have had the pleasure of meeting two Southern wool growers, one from Texas and one from South Carolina.

They both came to look at my sheep, and I was thus enabled to talk with them about both mutton and wool in all their different branches. I believe sheep are the farmers' best stand-by and almost a gold mine, if properly managed in any part of the country.

In Texas, wool in the dirt brings about 17c per pound, and wether mutton at four years old, which is the usual time for marketing, weighing on the hoof only about 90 pounds, brings in the St. Louis or Chicago markets only 2c per pound, if the market is firm; but as such light mutton is not in active demand, the growers are often obliged to sell for about $1.50 per head, from which price freight and expenses must be deducted.

The question comes up, why cannot the Southern breeders breed a style of sheep which has more value for mutton, and at the same time not lessen the value of their capacity to "rustle?"

As I stated above, wool in Texas sells for about 17c per pound, which means about 19 or 20c in the Eastern markets.

Grade Down wool, or wool of about that class, in the dirt, has averaged in the Boston market for the last six years about 27c per pound.

The average weight of the clip of high grade, range bred Merinos, and our Northern bred grade Down is very nearly the same.

Selected flocks of pure bred, middle wool mutton sheep, which includes the larger Down breeds and the Horned Dorset, average much more—the former weighing nearly nine pounds and the latter about eleven.

So much for wool.

As regards to mutton qualities—a four months old lamb of the above mentioned breeds weighs more than a four-year-old Merino wether.

The South Carolina planter has a small flock of grade Down ewes, that I formerly owned, which has been doing well there for nearly three years.

He tells me they were turned out to take care of themselves on arrival, and have never been housed, nor have they had an ounce of extra feed during that time. They are to-day a healthy, hardy flock, keep in good condition, breed regularly, and raise a full percentage of lambs.

The question now arises, why should not mutton raisers be bred to the grade
Merino ewes in the wool growing states.
Our Northern experience with grade
Merino ewes crossed with native flocks, is, that they make a successful cross.

The first season or two it takes seventy days to get a lamb that would dress twenty-five pounds, but by taking more pains in selecting my pure-bred rams and profiting by each year's experience,
I have been able to kill a twenty-nine days old lamb that dressed twenty-four pounds.

I have just shipped a mutton ram lam to Texas, 122 days old, that weighed 98 pounds, and this without forcing for fat as when feeding for early market.

Why should it not be a feasible plan for every flock owner, when purchasing rams for the next breeding season, to buy one or more pure bred, close-wooled mutton rams, and try the cross on fifty to one hundred ewes and find out the result for himself? The experience I would cost but little, and before the next breeding season he could see by practical results whether he had but er follow up the experiment or not.

I know by experience these mutton sheep will bear close herding in a passary, and are perfectly healthy in flocks of 500.

ROUND-UPS.

Sundance Farmer.—Wm. Thompson sold to Zoelker Bros. of Deadwood, last week, twenty head of steers three years old this spring, for $30 per head. These steers had been hay fed during the winter and were in fine condition.

San Angelo Standard.—Thursday last, E. R. Jackson bought 500 steer yearlings at $7.25 and 300 two at $11.25, from Ringer & Read of Bell county, to be delivered at Jackson's ranch, June 10.

San Angelo Standard.—W. Green of the Colorado river recently bought from Alice Preston 25 head of stock cattle at $8, calves thrown in; and from W. H. Collins 15 head of stock horses at $21 cash.

At a meeting of the stockmen held at Canadian Monday, April 1, it was agreed to commence the spring work as follows: To commence on the Washita and Canadian rivers at the Territory line May 1, up to point on the Canadian; there separate, one division work on up the river and the other cross over to Wolke creek and work down to the lower line of the K I range.

Tasosca, Tex., April 14.—Jim Benson, a cowboy in the employ of the L S ranch, was struck by lightning and his horse instantly killed, about four miles from Tasosca, in the storm of the evening of the 13th inst. The remains were brought to town by his sorrowing comrades and decently interred. The deceased was twenty-seven years of age, and his home was at Lookout, N. M.

N. W. Live Stock Journal.—It is reported from reliable sources that the Todhunter & Devine ranch, by far the best improved in the great basin east of the Sierra Nevada mountains, has been purchased by Miller & Lux and N. A. H. Mason. The purchasers are the heaviest owners of land and cattle on the Pacific coast. The consideration in the purchase is given at $1,000,000.

N. Y. Morning Journal.—The anti-dressed beef bill is going to be a difficult one to dispose of without injury to a good many members' reputations. Those who favor it will be charged with working in the interests of railroads and the state butchers, while those who oppose it will be subjected to the charge of being influenced by the powerful dressed beef men of the West.

Sealing & Tamblin's St. Louis Circular.—A notable sale that we made on Tuesday was 17 cars, 350 cattle, for the Little Rock Oil and Compress company, Little Rock, Ark. We sold three cars at $3.85, averaging 1280 pounds, and 14 cars at $3.60, averaging 1078 pounds. These cattle are being very closely observed when slaughtered, and thus far the reports received have been very favorable and satisfactory.

A rumor, well founded, reaches the Wilcox Stockman that while Dr. Porter was singing that beautiful song, "The Ship that Never Returned," at the entertainment at Dos Cabezas on Friday evening of last week, a fat, sleek and apparently healthy three-year-old heifer of Mr. Attenborough which was in the immediate vicinity fell down dead. Mr. Attenborough will probably sue the doctor for damages.

Vernon Guard.—Messrs. S. W. Lomax and A. M. Britton, well known bankers and capitalists of Fort Worth, were in town this week and purchased two inside lots of Messrs. B. M. Logan and T. P. Lisman, on North Main street, opposite the Crawford house, paying therefor $3500. It is the intention of these gentlemen to immediately organize and start at this place a national bank with a capital of $100,000. This will give Vernon three banks.

Bosque Citizen.—Mr. Dave Neely's mare brought him a male colt on Saturday last that measured, five hours after foaled, three feet eight and three-quarter inches in height, and was splendidly proportioned and finely developed. This wonderful colt was sired by Will Parks' celebrated horse "Jim Chestnut," and is believed to be one of the largest colts ever foaled. Uncle Dave was tempted to sell mare and colt for seemingly a fair price, but on second thought refused to sell at any price. Will Parks says the colt will be worth $1000 at a year old, if properly reared for. It will be on exhibition at the Bosque fair.

Through Billy Riggs, range foreman of the Chiricahua Cattle company's Sulphur Valley range, the Wilcox Stockman is informed that on Sunday, while crossing the Gila, (which would swim a horse for a distance of over a hundred yards) with the herd, one of the cowboys, known as "Curley," was drowned. He fell from his horse, disappeared under the water, and his body never came to the surface. This is accounted for by the fact that he had two belts filled with cartridges around his waist. Mr. Riggs also brought the information that at Smithville, on Friday of last week, a Mormon girl named Fuller was drowned while crossing the Gila. Her body was not recovered.

CHICAGO, ILL., April 12.—J. F. Quinn, manager for Armour & Co., was interviewed to-day in regard to the allegation in the dispatch from New York that Armour & Co., through their influence with the cotton seed oil trust, had compelled their new rival, the American Meat company, to close out its subscription books and retire. Mr. Quinn said: "There is no truth in it so far as this company is concerned. Mr. Armour was in Europe when the stock of the American Meat company was floated, and I know he never attempted in any way, directly or indirectly, to force the company out of business, nor has any representative of this firm done so. We believe there is room for other meat companies, and have not made any and will not make any efforts to stop their coming into the field. We never regarded the American Meat company, however, as much of a competitor. The reason for the withdrawal of subscription books must be sought elsewhere. I know of no reasons."

GALVESTON, TEX., April 13.—The committee of cattlemen representing those interested in the refrigeration and shipment of beef to England which have been in daily conference with Galveston capitalists, also interested in the enterprise, received a cablegram this afternoon from the London correspondents of the banking house of Adone & Lobit that the English syndicate who were to receive and pay for this beef were perfectly solvent and capable of carrying out their part of the contract. This contract calls for the delivery by the Texas parties on shipboard at Galveston every fifteen days of 600 English tons of 2240 pounds each of dressed beef, chilled to the bone, for shipment to England. This will require the erection here of a cold storage warehouse capable of housing and chilling, if necessary, 6000 to 8000 carcasses per month. The beves for the filling of this contract are to be slaughtered at Fort Worth, Columbus and Victoria, where they will be immediately loaded on cars and railed to this point as rapidly as possible, and stored in the cold-storage warehouse for the ocean shipment.

QUARANTINE.

Regulations Governing the Admission of Cattle to Colorado, Wyoming, Montana and Dakota.

All cattle coming from south of the 36th parallel of north latitude, between the first day of April and the first day of November, must show by affidavit of two responsible parties, whose reliability shall be certified to by the county clerk (or clerk of the district court) nearest the range whereon the said cattle have been held.

1st Name and postoffice address of the owner, consignor and consignee.

2nd. The brand or brands on all of said cattle.

3d. The county or counties in which the said cattle have been held during the preceding ninety days, and the total number demanding entry.

A certified copy of the original affidavit must be filed with the sanitary official of each state and territory through which the cattle pass. Each train load (or herd, if driven), must be accompanied by a similar copy of the affidavit. Any cattle not branded as set forth in the original affidavit, together with all cattle not complying with these regulations, will be held in quarantine, at the risk and expense of the owner, until they are deemed safe to mingle with native cattle.

Unless satisfactory proof is presented that cattle have been at least ninety days north of the 36th parallel of north latitude or west of a line drawn as follows, to-wit: From a point in the Indian Territory where the 36th parallel crosses the Arkansas river, thence southwest to the northwest corner of Wichita county, Texas, thence south along the west line of Wichita and Archer counties, thence west along the line of Throckmorton county, thence south along the west line of Throckmorton and Shackelford counties, thence west along the north line of Taylor, Runnels, Concho, Menard and Kimble Counties, thence west along the north line of Edwards and Val Verde county to the Rio Grande, they will be deemed capable of transmitting Texas, splenic or Spanish fever, and will be held in quarantine at the risk and expense of the owner for at least ninety days.

All Southern cattle destined for Colorado, Wyoming, Montana and Dakota, will be inspected at Denver, Colorado. In order to defray the expense of said inspection a fee of one and one-half cents per head will be charged, payable before or at the time of inspection.

Bank affidavits will be furnished upon application to the official veterinarians of Colorado, Wyoming, Montana or Dakota.

CHARLES G. LAMB, State Veterinarian, Denver, Colorado.

A. A. HOLCOMBE, Territorial Veterinarian, Cheyenne, Wyoming.

HERBERT HOLLOWAY, Territorial Veterinarian, Helena, Montana.

The Verdict Unanimous.

W. D. Suit, druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles and was cured of rheumatism of ten years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Bellville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years experience, is Electric Bitters. Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the liver, kidneys or blood. Only a half dollar a bottle at H. W. Williams & Co's drug store."

Taylor Bros. of this county sold one lot of hogs to parties to ship.

J. D. Oliver of this county is here with a lot of cows and yearlings.

S. Curlin of Marshall is here looking after a car of cattle and a car of hogs.

The stock yards here since last week have been quite limited in receipts of stock of all kinds, and in consequence prices are a shade better.

The Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad is making preparations to commence the erection of a fine brick passenger depot on its land near the gas factory in this city.

Mr. Thomas A. Coleman of Cottle county, Tex., was in the city this week and bought $70,000 worth of city property, paying about half the amount in cattle and pasture land.

J. W. Thomas, formerly of the stock yards, has lately erected quite a large stable near where his stock yards office used to be. The JOURNAL is not advised what the stable is for.

The JOURNAL had the pleasure of a look through the Blankenship & Blake company's cotton mills one day this week, and is pleased to see everything running smoothly and abundance of cotton goods being manufactured.

At the stock yards of Wallace & Black, and also at Carter & Son's, the report is that stock of all kinds have been very scarce for the past week; therefore, the JOURNAL is quite short in items as to stock being on the market.

The first train on rapid transit to the northern part of the city will be started this week. Its present terminus is the Cole fair grounds at the north end, and at the south end the terminus is just across Lamar street, near the Texas Pacific freight depot.

The JOURNAL is the recipient of a copy of the Emigrants' Guide to Texas, by Mr. L. A. Wilson, formerly of Cape Girardeau, Mo. The Guide is very complete, considering it is the first issue, Mr. Wilson being very familiar with the business of preparing guides, having several years ago gotten out one for Southeast Missouri and Southern Illinois. Mr. Wilson has the thanks of the JOURNAL for the Guide.

EL PASO.

EL PASO ITEMS.

EL PASO, TEX., April 16, 1889.

Editor Texas Live Stock Journal:

Do not suppose that either yourself or readers noticed the non-appearance of the El Paso notes last week, and if you are gloating over the non-appearance of same you may make much of this time for I assure you it shall not occur often, therefore you may make up your minds to be bored every week or thereabouts in the future, so make your arrangements accordingly.

News items are very scarce, in fact it happens just now that there is nothing to report and unless you will allow me to draw on my imagination or re-hash an old time article I shall hardly know how to fill the space you have allotted me. The only sale this week was a mixed lot of stock cattle located in Presidio, county, Tex., made by the International Investment agency of this city to Messrs. Humphris & Co. of Marfa, at $6 per head not counting the calf crop for this season, the purchasers paying the expense of gathering and counting the cattle. This is a good lot of cattle and the sale includes all the two and three year-old steers, and is, perhaps, the lowest private sale that has been made for many years. The same company have a large list of all kinds and classes of cattle for sale, among which are some rare bargains; for instance, 5,000 cattle located on a good range in Southern New Mexico that they are offering on long time and unusually easy terms for $8 per head, to be gathered and counted by the present owners. This is a bargain for some practical cattleman, who would like to handle a big outfit on small capital. This company is also offering several thousand well bred, improved young steers at $11.00 for two and $14.50 for three-year-olds, delivered in New Mexico, on the line of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe road. These steers are out of good American herds that have been bred to improved bulls for many years and will compare favorably with the best herds in the southwest. Send us some buyers and we will then report you some sales.

Alf and Joe Peacock, formerly prominent cattlemen of Colorado City, Tex., but for the past year engaged in mining in old Mexico and Arizona are in the city, in fact, the former has taken up a temporary residence in our neighboring city, Paso del Norte, across the river. The mining business seems to catch quite a number of those who have been unfortunate in cattle, however, mining cannot be carried on without money, as is evidenced by the many rich claims that are now lying idle for the want of necessary means to work them. The country tributary to El Paso is no doubt very rich in minerals and only needs capital and reasonably sound and economical business judgment to develop it into a rich mining district and thus give this city and the tributary country a boom equal to that ever enjoyed by Denver or the Rocky Mountains.

Mundy Bros. of this city are doing quite an extensive business and remunerative one, shipping fat hogs, blooded cattle and horses into Mexico, bringing cow ponies and Spanish mares into the United States in return. It is understood that they make a good profit both ways.

John Good, formerly of Western Texas, and well known among the stockmen of that district is spending a few days in El Paso. John now makes his home in Las Cruces, but has for the past two years, until recently, lived at Tularosa, N. M., where he has gained considerable notoriety as a leader in one of the opposing factions of the famous "Good-Cooper" war now raging in that locality. It seems that there had been bad blood between Jim Copper, formerly of Jack county, Tex., and Good, but did not result in open hostilities until the mysterious disappearance of Walter Good, son of John, some time last summer. Immediately after the disappearance of young Good the country was scoured by a large body of citizens searching for the body, resulting, (after two weeks continuous search) in finding the same in what is known as the "white sands" in a horribly mutilated condition, showing unmistakable proof of having been foully dealt with, and that the murder had been committed on or about the day the young man disappeared, two weeks previous. The murder was charged by Good to have been committed by Cooper and party, and since that time the war has been fierce and furious, but without further loss of life. Cooper and his friend Aultman (who is also a Texan) are now under heavy bonds for their appearance at Las Cruces, to answer an indictment charging them with the murder of young Good. There is a great difference of opinion, as to whether they are guilty or innocent, but all agree that the end to this lamentable affair has not yet come, and that much trouble and bloodshed is almost sure to follow.

A. A. Mermod, manager of the Poncho Park Land and Cattle company of Colorado, was in El Paso the first of this week. This company is feeding several thousand steers in Nebraska, and may conclude to purchase at an early date, a big string of young steers, as is their custom each season.

Charles B. Eddy, a prominent Pecos river cattleman and the originator and general manager of the Pecos Irrigation company, who are now building a large canal in the Pecos valley, Lincoln county, N. M., has recently become a large shareholder and vice-president of the El Paso national bank, of which E. B. Bronson, who at one time owned large cattle interests on the Pecos river, is president, and W. H. Austin, formerly of Fort Worth is cashier. These are all exceptionally accommodating men, who thoroughly understand their business, the bank is therefore a popular one with the stockmen.

R. L. Hall, one of our prominent stockmen who has been spending the winter in El Paso left for his ranch in Lincoln county, N. M., a few days ago. Mr. Hall will spend the summer in superintending the work on his ranch.

The Sacramento Cattle company of New Mexico have decided to disorganize and are now gathering their cattle with a view to dividing the same. The principal shareholders are F. Moor, W. A. and O. C. Irvin of this city and C. H. Hilton of Doña Ana county, N. M. They own a very fine herd of about 7,000 cattle, ranging in the Sacramento mountains in Southern New Mexico.

There will be fully 25,000 cattle moved by rail from the country tributary to El Paso to Wendover, Wyo. during May.

The press association of Texas will meet in El Paso the last of this month, and big preparations are being made for entertaining them while here, the most interesting feature, however will be the free excursion to the city of Mexico, tendered them by the Mexican Central railroad.

Capt. W. H. Kingsberry of this city, well known to the stockmen of the Southwest as a heavy operator during the '70s has gone to Indianapolis to be treated for paralysis, from the effects of which he has been suffering for the past four years. His many friends will be glad to know that the treatment he is now undergoing is proving beneficial.

Maj. W. H. H. Llewellyn, live stock agent of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad for New Mexico, Arizona and Colorado, is an applicant for the U. S. marshalship of New Mexico. The major has a very strong backing, and his many friends wish him success.

Several thousand steers were bought up through Southern Arizona last winter and fed on alfalfa in the Salt river valley near Phoenix. The venture however has not proven a success. After being fed for three or four months at a cost of $8 or $10 per head the steers are now little, if any heavier fatter or better than those that were left on the range, and can not now be sold more than two cents per pound gross weight at the feed pens, proving conclusively that they either do not know how to feed alfalfa or it is not the proper food to put on flesh or make beef of range steers.

Yours truly, GEORGE B. LOVING.

A Woman's Discovery.

"Another wonderful discovery has been made and that, too, by a lady in this country. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption and was so much relieved on taking the first dose that she slept all night, and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus writes W. C. Hamrick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Get a free trial bottle at H. W. Williams & Co.'s drug store.

Frank K. Albright and Harry Hill were here this week, adding to the Oklahoma Historical Wild West show, which is organizing in Wichita, Kas. This is the largest show of the kind ever organized, and secured several Mexican ropers and other good people here, besides about fifty head of trained Texas cow ponies. Mr. Hill is the well known Oklahoma boomer, and just now has his hands full attending to the consummation of his long-desired scheme, as well as outfitting this show combination. He is an old horse shipper from this section, and felt himself quite at home among the boys here.

Uvalde News:—The management of the Southern Pacific received some very sharp criticisms from the stockmen this week, but as they have a monopoly of the business of West Texas, they care nothing for it. The accommodations in the way of stock pens, etc., are the poorest, and but little attention is paid to the wants or desires of their patrons. At Spoford Capt. Lytle had a herd stampeded through the carelessness of railroad employees, and that necessitated working all night in order to gather and load them. The pens were not of sufficient strength to hold the cattle, and some of them broke out. Here the pens were not large enough to hold the cattle brought for shipment, and considerable difficulty was experienced. The road may not always have a monopoly of the trade; roads from the north are heading in this direction, and when they reach here the stock business of the Southern Pacific will amount to nothing, or they will become more liberal and accommodating.

THE WOOL SACK.

The sheep dip market is now active.

Goats are in demand for the Mexican market.

Everywhere sheep shearing is just now the important work on the sheep ranches.

L. W. Pease left for Eagle Pass to receive 1500 head of muttons, which he bought of Jim Stone.

P. W. Thomson of Lytle & Thomson the well known wool growers of Maverick county, was in the city during the week.

Muttons are held at $1.75 to $2.25 without the fleece in Western Texas, and some sales have been made at the latter figure.

James McLymont, extensive sheep raiser of Kinney county shipped 14 carloads of mutton to the Northern market last week.

The weather has been all the most exacting could have demanded for shearing, and the work is progressing without interruption.

The first sale of wool for the season took place on Military plaza, San Antonio, which was seven sacks of the McKinney clip, Fry county, for 18½ per pound, six months' growth.

S. J. Arnold, the Uvalde county Angora goat man and wool grower, was in town the first of the week, and reports everything in very good condition in his section, and his wool clip nearly ready for market.

Brackett News:—Mr. Ed Ross spent a few days in town this week. He is entitled to a place in the front ranks at the head of the line of wool growers, this year he will raise 95 per cent. of the lambs and would have done better had it not been for the hail storm.

$500 reward offered by the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy for an incurable case.

Did Not Know "Old Negotiate."

Anson Western.

Last week Bob Johnson, who is the most devilish and rollicking fellow that ever prodded a cow, was a witness in the Irvine and Grady cattle case at Abilene, where the following actually occurred:

Judge—"What is your name?"
Bob—"Bob Johnson."
Judge—"Where do you live?"
Bob—"In Jones county."
Judge—"What is your business?"
Bob—"I am a cow puncher."
Judge—"Were you present when negotiations were pending between Irvine and Grady?"
Bob—"I don't know anything about Old Negotiate, but I was there when the trade was made."
Judge—"Stand aside, Mr. Johnson."
Considerable laughter, in which the court, the audience and Mr. Johnson all joined.

prominent brokers floating the stock of this great corporation went square back on it, and the project seems at this time to have one black eye, if not two.

At first Armour was said to have influenced two of the leaders in the scheme who are connected with the cotton seed oil trust, and that the Big Four had busted the corporation. It was next suggested that it was simply the failure of an Ingersoll-Dorsey scheme to unload unsuccessful ranch properties at a high premium. Another suggestion is that the local inspection agitation killed it. And so on.

The TEXAS LIVE STOCK JOURNAL does not know how the project stands or why the people who withdrew did so. We never had much faith in it, but did hope that the packing house part of it would start up and do business. We want the packing houses multiplied, and regard any influence against them as antagonistic to the best interests of the producers of all kinds of live stock.

WOOL GROWERS.

Annual Meeting to be Held by the State Association at Galveston, June 4th.

MARATHON, TEX., March 18, '89.

To the Wool Growers of Texas:

The annual meeting of the state association of Texas wool growers will be held on Tuesday, June 4th, at Galveston, Texas. I name this place at the request of every one who has written or spoken to me in regard to their wishes in the matter, so far not even one having named any other place. It is important that all growers that possibly can should attend this meeting, not only members of the association but wool growers in general, as matters of importance to them will come up at this time that need their attention as much so as any other part or branch of their business.

Respectfully,

A. E. SHEPARD,
President Texas Wool Growers' Association.

Don't buy the Missouri penitentiary saddle trees, but buy the genuine Loeffel, for sale by Brackett & Holman, San Antonio, Texas.

W. S. Marshall.

There are business men who conduct their operations simply and solely for the money there is in sight, having no ambition to do more than to buy goods and sell goods at a profit. Other men, equally competent in their business avocations, are of broader gauged ideas, and in connection with their business transactions are disposed to consult the welfare of the people, and to devote a portion of their time and talents to the general welfare of the country. Such a man is Mr. W. S. Marshall, president of the Panhandle Machinery and Improvement company of Fort Worth, Tex. He is a native of New Hampshire, was raised on a farm, added the trade of machinist in Wisconsin, and finally arrived in Texas to engage in the agricultural implement business, making a specialty of well drilling, water supply apparatus, etc.

Mr. Marshall is very well known in Western Texas, having for several years conducted a large business at Colorado City, the same house now being a branch of the present company. In the West, in order to satisfactorily complete water supply contracts on some of the large ranch properties, his inventive and adaptive powers were brought in full use, resulting in the general recognition of several economical methods and inventions of great value to the people of the ranch districts.

As Mr. Marshall became more identified with the farming districts of Texas, he could not fail to observe the advantages of the country from an agricultural standpoint. He could appreciate the resources, and bethought himself to find means to directly aid in their rapid development. Those who are conversant with the success of the movement to hold Farmers' Institutes in Texas well know that the Wisconsin education of Mr. Marshall is responsible for it. He suggested the idea, enlisted the press of the state in its favor, urged other influential men to take hold of it, and appeared when called upon to give the farmers of Texas the benefit of his experience in the lines of his special studies. The JOURNAL has known Mr. Marshall since his residence in Texas, and desires that the readers of the JOURNAL shall become better acquainted with him.

Rock Salt.

Messrs. Turner, McClure & Co. of Fort Worth have en route a car-load of the celebrated rock salt, which is the best salt that can be used for cattle, horses, and all kinds of stock. Cattle like the rock salt and prefer it to all other. They cannot eat enough to hurt them, as it is as hard as a rock and must be licked. Messrs. Turner, McClure & Co. will fill orders by mail promptly, either in large or small quantity. Send a trial order.

SEEDS

THE KANSAS CITY
STOCK YARDS

Receipts for 1888: Cattle, 1,056,086; Hogs, 2,008,984;
 Sheep, 351,050; Horses and Mules, 27,650.

These yards are by far the most commodious and best appointed in the Missouri Valley, with ample capacity for feeding, weighing and shipping Cattle, Hogs, Sheep, Horses and Mules. They are plankled throughout, no yards are better watered, and in none is there a better system of drainage. The fact that higher prices are realized here than in the East is due to the location, at these yards of eight packing houses, with an aggregate daily capacity of 3300 cattle and 27,200 hogs, and the regular attendance of sharp, competitive buyers for the packing houses of Omaha, Chicago, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, New York and Boston.

All the sixteen roads running into Kansas City have direct connection with the yards, affording the best accommodation for stock coming from the great grazing grounds of all the Western States and Territories, and also for stock destined for Eastern markets.

The business of the yards is done systematically and with the utmost promptness, so there is no delay and no clashing, and stockmen have found here, and will continue to find, that they get all their stock is worth, with the least possible delay.

Kansas City Stock Yards CompanyHORSE AND MULE MARKET.

FRANK E. SHORT. {FRANK E. SHORT & CO., Managers.} CAPT. E. S. TOUGH

This company has established in connection with the yards an extensive Horse and Mule Market, known as the KANSAS CITY STOCK YARDS COMPANY HORSE AND MULE MARKET. Have always on hand a large stock of all grades of Horses and Mules, which are bought and sold on commission in car-load lots.

In connection with the Sales Market are large feed stables and pens, where all stock will receive the best of care.

Special attention given to receiving and forwarding.

The facilities for handling this kind of stock are unsurpassed at any stable in this country.

Consignments are solicited with the guarantee that prompt settlement will be made when stock is sold.
