Viet News Closed

SAIGON (AP) — One Vietnamese newspaper was closed today and another was ordered to suspend publication for three days.

Song Mei, or New Life, a Vietnamese-language paper with a circulation of about 8,000, lost its publishing license because it printed an editorial Saturday that officials said "distorted President Thieu's position on the bombing halt."

The withdrawing of the license indicates the paper will not be allowed to reopen.

Its editorial accused Thieu of "a gigantic change of position" on the bombing halt after talks with U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and continued: "The president's surrender was contrary to the motion of the Senate and thus might be detrimental to the interest of the Republic of Vietnam."

The other paper, Tieng Nei Dan Toc, was suspended for three days for publishing a picture of Ho. Chi Minh, the president of North Vietnam. The picture was accompanied by an article urging Ho to end the war.

Vietnam Radar Boy?

TOKYO (AP) — North Vietnam reported today it has an 11-year-old boy who has warned of U.S. Air and sea attacks so effectively in the last three years that he has been dubbed "the Radar Boy."

The Vietnam news agency said Ta Quang Ty is able to pick up the sound of planes even above the "howl of the sea wind" on rainy nights. It said he was partly responsible for the low casualties suffered in 600 air and naval attacks on his village in Nghe An province, 120 miles southwest of Hanoi.

Ta's warning system consists of an unexploded bomb case which he strikes with a hammer whenever he spots incoming planes.

ROOKIE COSMONAUT — Col. Georgy Beregovoy, who was sent into orbit by Soviets manning spaceship Soyuz 3, and was reported to have approached an unmanned sister ship during rendezvous maneuvers, (AP Wirephoto by cable from Moscow)

Reds Check Space Linking

MOSCOW (AP) — The unmanned Soviet space ship Soyuz 2" landed in the Soviet Union today after three days in space, Tass announced, but Cosmonaut Georgy Beregovoy continued in orbit in the sister ship Soyuz 3.

Beregovoy had followed the unmanned ship in tandem around the earth for two days and during this period had maneuvered his Soyuz 3 so as to approach the pilotless sister ship.

If any attempt was made to link up the manned and unmanned ships, something the Russians have not done, it was not announced. Tass, the Soviet news agency, said Soyuz 2's "program for checking its system and for joint maneuvering and approach of the spaceships Soyuz 2 and Soyuz 3 was fully carried out."

Meanwhile, Beregovoy was reported to have completed his 33rd orbit of the earth, and "all the systems of the ship continue to function normally," Tass said.

Tass said a retro engine was switched on aboard Soyuz 2 on command from earth and 26 minutes later the spaceship "entered the dense layers of the atmosphere, made a controlled descent with aerodynamic quality and landed. It was parachuted down with the use of a soft-landing system at the last stage."

The announcement did not give the location of the landing.

Earlier today a Soviet scientist said the purpose of Beregovoy's flight is to develop docking systems, essential for Ruia's announced program of eventually constructing huge orbiting platforms in space to serve as launch pads for rockets to the moon and planets.

The statement by Boris Petrov of the Soviet Academy of Scientists was made in Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, after Beregovoy maneuvered his Soyuz 3 spacecraft Sunday in a second approach to the unmanned Soyuz 2 launched a day before him.

An official announcement did not indicate how close he came either time.

Weapons Captured In Viet Fighting

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese infantrymen smashed into troops from a veteran North Vietnamese regiment that spearheaded two offensives on Saigon this year, government military headquarters announced today.

A government spokesman said 32 soldiers from North Vietnam's Dong Nai Regiment were killed and 13 others captured in heavy fighting Sunday 24 miles north of Saigon. The prisoners included a battalion deputy commander and a company commander, the spokesman said.

The South Vietnamese troops also seized 21 weapons in the battle and turned up two munitions stockpiles in the surrounding area that included 400 mortar shells, bazooka-type rockets and grenades.

Six South Vietnamese were reported killed and 20 wounded.

It was the first time a sizable force of the Dong Nai Regiment had been in action since last May 5, when the regiment was badly mauled in an attack on Saigon. Its reappearance indicated it may be back to full strength now and orders for a third offensive against Saigon.

It was one of three actions reported around Saigon. U.S. and South Vietnamese forces killed another 38 enemy soldiers and seized 27 weapons in two clashes 10 and 12 miles south of the capital. Two Americans were wounded, and no South Vietnamese losses were reported.

The U.S. Command announced that American infantrymen sweeping in the demilitarized zone captured more than 250 North Vietnamese weapons is one of the largest battlefield hauls of the war.

CZECH INDEPENDENCE DAY

Prague Students Protest

PRAGUE (AP) — Several hundred Czechoslovak students shouting "better dead than shame" marched on Prague Castle today as President Ludvik Svoboda was presiding at a celebration of the 50th anniversary of Czechoslovakia's independence.

Police hastily formed and blocked the students while the gates to the palace courtyard were padlocked.

Several times the crowd, which included many girls, rushed against the police lines but they held.

There had been concern among the leaders of Czechoslovakia's Communist party that students and others might use the anniversary to demonstrate against Soviet occupation of their country and that this would provoke reaction from the Russians. The leaders went to great lengths to make clear that demonstrations might bring Soviet tanks back into the capital.

Soviet radio cars drove through the streets of Prague on the lookout for trouble. Russian plainclothes detectives were also about. A Czechoslovak policeman with a hand radio was stationed at the East German Embassy, which was not closed for the anniversary celebration.

Inside the castle, President Ludvik Svoboda told the country's leaders: "We are commemorating the 50th anniversary of the foundation of the independent Czechoslovak state in a situation that is not easy."

"It is a situation which makes great demands on all of us, but we must face reality without romanticism, matter-of-factly and resolutely, in harmony with the interests of the further development of our country and the interests and needs of the world Socialist community."

Launching the anniversary celebration, the country's Communist leaders took the first steps Sunday to federalize their country into Czech and Slovak states, still united under the Prague government but giving the Slovak minority the semi-autonomy it has long demanded.

The crowd of students, young people and some adults outside the gates swelled to nearly 1,000. Several of the demonstrators climbed the iron fence and planted national flags atop the statues.

The crowd made a number of rushes against the locked iron gates which gave slightly, but held.

Police reinforcements arrived and tried to clear the crowd from the rear and extra palace guards rushed across the courtyard to bolster the sagging gate with their bodies.

A police loudspeaker told the crowd to go home in the interest of public order.

The demonstrators replied by chanting: "Russians go home, Russians go home, Russians go home."

At a special golden jubilee session in Prague Castle, the 265-member National Assembly unanimously approved the federalization act effective Jan. 1, 1969. Because of delays caused by the Soviet invasion in August, the leaders said further action still is required to settle Czech-Slovak disagreements about the division of power.

The federation law, to be signed Wednesday in Bratislava, capital of Slovakia, at this stage does little more than give the names of the two new states, their single-house legislatures and the new two-house national parliament.

The special legislative session was a highlight of the weekend celebration of the 50th anniversary of Czechoslovakia's independence, proclaimed on Oct. 28, 1918. It was the first official independence celebration in 20 years of Communist rule.

CAR DEMOLISHED — Four Snyder teenagers were injured when their car left State Highway 208 Saturday night and overturned several times. The car, a 1968 Model Pontiac, was demolished. Two boys in the car were released after receiving treatment, and two girls remain in Cogdell Memorial Hospital where they were carried by Snyder Ambulance Service.

Four Youths Injured In Road Mishap

Four Snyder teenagers were injured when a car rolled several times after leaving State Highway 208 about four miles north of town about 10 p.m. Saturday.

The two boys were released Saturday night after receiving treatment. The condition of the girls were described as good today, although Miss Dickey sustained two fractured ribs and Luann received cuts and bruises of the face and legs.

Investigating Highway Patrolmen said Donelson, the driver, apparently lost control on a curve as the youths were traveling north on the highway. The car left the pavement, traveled about 100 yards, then overturned several times. The vehicle, a 1968 Model Pontiac, was demolished.

Mary, 16, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Dickey, Route 1. The other youths all are 15 years of age. Luann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Parks, Route 3. Terry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lindy Clark, Route 1. Parents of James are Mr. and Mrs. Elton E. Donelson, 4000 Austin.

British Attack US Embassy

By LAWRENCE MALKIN
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — Police on Sunday contained and controlled the largest demonstrations against the Vietnam war ever held in London and repelled a small attack on the U.S. Embassy without using nightsticks.

The only serious damage reported was not in London but at the John F. Kennedy Memorial at Runnymede, west of the capital. An explosion Saturday night split the seven-ton stone slab down the middle.

Police estimated about 30,000 persons marched through London, all but a few hundred peacefully. Some 7,000 demonstrated in Grosvenor Square, site of the American Embassy, and 200 to 300 extremists broke away for a flying wedge attack on the big white building.

As thick cordons of police barred their way, the red-helmeted Maoists and anarchists threw firecrackers at mounted police waiting in reserve. Some hurled banner poles as spears. Then they charged the police lines with iron pipes.

The police slowly pushed and shoved the militants back, penning them into the southwest corner of the square and stopping any attempt to break out. Gradually the young demonstrators ran out of steam and drifted away. London was quiet again by 9 p.m.

Casualty figures were low. Five policemen and about 40 demonstrators received medical treatment, although hundreds more had minor cuts and bruises.

DEAR ABBY: My neighbor (I'll call her "Mrs. X") is divorcing her husband, and she is looking for proof of adultery. Knowing Mr. X, I'm sure she will have no trouble, as I have seen many strange cars parked in front of their house all night when Mrs. X has been out of town.

Mrs. X has asked me some leading questions which indicate that she knows that her husband has been playing around — and with whom!. My problem is this: 2 years ago, my husband and I were having some difficulties, and I foolishly had a brief affair with Mr. X I had never been unfaithful before, and I'd never do it again. I have a jewel for a husband, and I think he could forgive me if he ever found out, but it would hurt him deeply and I don't want to do that. But if the truth is going to come out in my neighbor's divorce, I'd rather have my husband hear it from me than in a courtroom.

Should I help the wife in her search for evidence? And what should I do about my own guilty conscience?

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Keep your mouth shut and don't contribute any "evidence" in this case. And if you've never prayed before, pray now. With luck you can spare your husband (and yourself) a heap of unhappiness.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I am engaged to a guy who enjoys playing cards, and he plays for money — just to make it "interesting." Personally, I don't care much for cards, but I can play a fairly decent game if I have to.

All of Joe's relatives play cards night and day, and they think it's terrible that I don't go crazy over cards the way they do.

Abby, I love this guy, and I have really tried to like cards, but there is no use fooling myself. It's boring. Besides, some of Joe's "interesting" evenings have cost him more than he can afford to lose.

Now I am being told (by Joe's relatives) "If you intend to marry Joe, you had better learn to like cards."

Don't misunderstand me. I think it's all right to play once in a while. But all week-end, and every night?

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: You mention Joe's relatives, but how does Joe feel about it? Gambling can become just as serious as "addiction" to booze, tobacco, and other undesirable habits. Take a second look at Joe just to be sure the joker isn't too wild.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: We hear so much about the "rudeness" of guests who arrive late, but how about guests who arrive EARLY? Isn't that rude, too?

We know a certain couple whom we invite for 7:30 if we want them there at 7. The 30 minutes before guests are scheduled to arrive are probably the most hectic (and important) to the hostess, and it just burns me up to have to drop everything and entertain these early birds. Besides, it puts me in a very bad mood. What do you say, Abby?

DEAR GLADYS: I say, you said it all — and very well, to which I can only add, "Amen."

• • •

DEAR ABBY: How come when you gave all that advice on what to do about obscene telephone calls you didn't mention the one trick that works like magic? Get a real loud whistle like those used by policemen and gym teachers. Keep it near the telephone, and at the first hint of an obscene or annoying phone call blow the whistle right into the mouthpiece as loud as you can. It will give the nut on the other end such an earache he will never bother you again.

Please don't sign my name. Some nut might call to see if I have a whistle, and I don't. I have never had an obscene phone call, but you can bet if I ever did I would get myself a whistle after the first call.

Which Biafran Child To Starve?

By LARRY HEINZERLING
Associated Press Writer

LIBREVILLE, Gabon (AP) — When thousands of Biafran children are starving and you cannot save all of them, how do you choose who should live and who should die?

That is a moral dilemma for the Biafran government and the Red Cross, which has flown hundreds of children to relief centers here.

"The Biafrans want us to take the better-off children to preserve the race," said one Red Cross nurse. "They say the really helpless children have already suffered permanent brain damage from malnutrition and therefore are lost causes."

The Red Cross, said the nurse, "aims its policy at saving the most critical cases."

While the question goes unanswered some 1,500 children have been evacuated to this control African capital and are being cared for.

Libreville, normally an easy-going port city of rolling hills and swaying palm trees, has turned into a bustling center for dozens of relief workers, emergency Red Cross stations and a base for Red Cross mercy flights to the Ibo heartland in Nigeria.

The French and Gabonese Red Cross, the Rome-based Knights of Malta, Caritas volunteers from Germany, the Swiss Terres des Hommes and the capital's Rotary and Lions clubs have merged their manpower to save lives.

"You should have seen them when they first arrived," a Gabonese Red Cross nurse said, pointing to a group of children in one center as they gleefully scrambed over each other in pursuit of a yellow plastic ball. "Some couldn't even walk because of the starvation."

Today, nearly a month after they were evacuated from Biafra in a Red Cross plane, the children, mostly 2 to 9 have shed much of the evidence of malnutrition.

The gray-white and reddish-brown hair, symptoms of varying degrees of the deficiency disease Kwashiorkor, is slowly returning to the frizzled black of healthier days. Stilt-thin legs are growing more sturdy and the tightly stretched skin over rib cages is loosening up under a steady diet.

When the first Red Cross airlifts to Gabon began several babies, weak to the point of exhaustion, and others unable to walk from lack of strength, died soon after their arrival.

The combined efforts of the relief agencies, coordinated by the Gabonese government and believed to be mainly financed by France, are straining to save the rest.

A committee headed by Gabon's President Albert-Bernard Bongo and made up of Cabinet ministers with the Gabonese Red Cross and a Biafran representative, is spearheading the operation.

"The program is meager in relation to the problem," said one observer, "but for Libreville, a town of 50,000, it is prodigious."

Sun, Sunray Merger Is Consumated

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The merger of Sun Oil Co. of Philadelphia and Sunray DX Oil Co. of Tulsa has been consumated, the Dallas Times Herald said Monday.

The oft-delayed merger was given approval by the Justice Department over the weekend, the newspaper said.

Justice Department approval was the last hurdle facing the giant merger which forms a $2 billion petroleum firm.

The agreement calls for Sun to trade one share of new preferred stock issue for each share of Sunray DX common stock outstanding.

The new preferred stock would be convertible into Sun common at the rate of .65 of one common share for each share of preferred.

Sun would have the option of redeeming the preferred stock at a minimum of $60 a share starting June 1, 1975.

Sun's assets totaled just over $1.5 billion, according to its 1967 report. Sunray DX reported about $748.9 million in assets at the end of 1967.

The Times Herald said Sun will be the surviving company and Sunray DX a separate division after the merger.

Both companies are producers and marketers of crude oil and gasoline products. Sun retails principally in the East and Sunray in the Central States.

Sun reported net income for 1967 of $80,576,000 on revenues of $1,173,250,000. Sunray's earnings for 1967 were $54,464,000 on operating revenues of $582,790,000.

Shareholders of both companies approved the merger a few months ago, but final action was delayed because of numerous charges posed by a Tulsa engineering firm, Helmrich & Payne.

The engineering company contended Sunray shareholders were not being offered fair value for their investment.

Directors of both firms met with further delay when the Justice Department asked more time to study the proposal.

Dickson Is Haig Champ

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COSTA MESA, Calif. (AP) — Former Amateur champion Bob Dickson, a pro for less than a year, was delighted on more than one account today that he elected to join the play-for-pay golfers.

The 24-year-old from Tulsa, Okla., won the $100,000 Haig National Open Tournament Sunday with a final round two-under-par 69 for a 13-under par total of 271.

And he earned $22,000 in this, in less than six months on the pro tour, his 15th tournament.

But Dickson had a scrappy little guy named Chi Chi Rodriguez on his neck all day, not to mention such other veteran players as Billy Casper and a few others.

Chi Chi and big Bob started the final round at the Mesa Verde Country Club all even at 202 strokes for 54 holes.

Dickson, playing a threesome ahead of Chi Chi, birdied the first hole for a 4. Rodriguez had a par.

Dickson was never collared from there on in. Chi Chi had to settle for par 71 and 273—and $13,200.

Bill Collins, 69 for 274, finished third; Bobby Mitchell, Danville, Va., 66 for 275, and Casper, Ken Still and Don Massengale, each with 71; Bob Rosburg, 67, and Jack Montgomery, 69, deadlocked at 276.

AS ELECTION DRAWS NEAR

Last-Minute Charges Fly

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

President Johnson has accused Richard M. Nixon of making "ugly and unfair charges" on security and peace efforts and Hubert H. Humphrey charges Nixon with spreading an unfounded rumor that the Democrats are playing politics with peace.

Humphrey accused his Republican presidential opponent Sunday night "of simply using the old Nixon tactic of unsubstantiated insinuation" by suggesting White House "insiders" are trying to bring off a Vietnam peace development to boost Humphrey's election chances next week.

But Nixon—expanding Sunday on his Friday statement that he did not believe speculation that Johnson would make "a cynical, last-minute attempt" to salvage Humphrey's candidacy—said he was trying to squelch the reports.

"It seemed to me that I was being quite responsible in nailing that," Nixon said. ". . . I would think the President would be thanking me rather than attacking me."

Nixon made the comment on a special CBS "Face the Nation" program.

Johnson, making a political appearance in New York, had accused Nixon of making "ugly and unfair charges about our security gap and charges about our attempts to win peace in the world."

Humphrey issued a statement after Nixon's television appearance, charging him with "using a tactic which he has used in so many campaigns."

"The tactic: spread an unfounded rumor. Then say you don't believe it," Humphrey continued. "If Mr. Nixon has evidence that the President or any member of this government is playing politics with the peace negotiations, I call on him to spell it out now—openly."

Humphrey also joined Johnson Sunday and again today in disputing Nixon's statement that Democratic administrations had created a security gap and that America must maintain arms superiority over the Soviet Union.

"He (Nixon) is risking miscalculation by our enemies," Humphrey said in remarks prepared for an Akron, Ohio, rally. "He is urging a mad escalation of the nuclear arms race. And he is advocating an increasing militarization of American life and American foreign policy."

Nixon, meanwhile, accused Humphrey of loose talk on Vietnam and said: "When negotiations are in progress, an undisciplined tongue can be the worst enemy of peace."

"By trying to please every audience and appease every faction," Nixon said, "he (Humphrey) can only have sown consternation among our friends and confusion among our enemies."

Nixon also defended his running mate, Spiro T. Agnew, against a New York Times editorial stating that some of the governor's business dealings have presented "clear and repeated conflicts of interest."

Nixon said "this kind of libel by The New York Times doesn't help the decision-making process" and said a retraction would be demanded.

The Times editorial said Agnew and partners had profited from real estate investments partly through favorable zoning and government decisions and that Agnew holds stock in a bank, in which state funds are deposited, while being responsible for enforcement of state banking laws.

President Johnson lambasted both Nixon and third party candidate George C. Wallace Sunday and predicted Humphrey would win an upset victory Nov. 5 much as Harry S. Truman did in 1948.

Johnson called former vice president Nixon "a veteran of the time when America's problems were deferred and her needs were ignored" and said Wallace's answer to preserving order is to "line up a few thousand troops on the sidewalks of the city."

The President addressed a luncheon sponsored by the Democratic National Committee's All-Americans Council in New York and made similar remarks Sunday night in a nationwide radio address.

Youth Held In Car Theft

Quick work by Snyder Police and Highway Patrolmen at Graham resulted in the recovery of a stolen automobile at Possum Kingdom Lake Saturday night.

The car — a 1964 Model Chevrolet owned by Emmitt Hataway of Route 2, Snyder, was stolen about 8 p.m. Saturday from the west side of Quick Auto Service, 811 Twenty-fifth Street, here.

Police dispatcher Mrs. Buddy Whittenburg of Snyder put out an alert on the theft over teletype. Her message was received in Graham shortly after highway patrolmen there arrested the suspect at the lake for failing to pay for gasoline he purchased in Graham.

City Judge Gene Dulaney issued a warrant for the arrest of Garland Ray Fox, 20, Grand Prairie, charging auto theft, and the suspect was returned to Snyder by Police Patrol Sergeant D'Wayne Jernigan and Police Patrolman Brad Gambrell. Dulaney set bond at $3,000 this morning, and Fox was remanded to county jail in lieu of bond.

Humphreys Is Permanent Administrator

By LEE JONES

AUSTIN (AP) — O. N. Humphreys Jr., who took over administration of Texas liquor laws in the midst of a state of a state investigation into alleged wrongdoing, was named permanent administrator of the Liquor Control Board today.

Humphreys, 44, had been acting administrator since March 1, when Coke Stevenson Jr. retired as administrator.

The appointment was voted unanimously.

Board Chairman Tom Gordon praised Humphreys for his direction of the department while it was "under fire."

"Humphreys has demonstrated a keen insight in the administration of very difficult and technical liquor control laws and an adept knowledge of the agency and its operations and excellent leadership in the work with the employes of the board and representatives of the industry the board regulates," Gordon said.

Parking Motorcycle One Costly Problem

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Allen Anderson couldn't find a place to park his $700 motorcycle so he moved it into his living room.

His parking problem since has been solved.

The motorcycle leaked gasoline onto the carpet and started a $3,500 fire.

Anderson told police he was trying to avoid a parking ticket. He was cited for causing a careless fire.

Candidates To Return To Texas

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The presidential and vice presidential hopefuls pass in review before Texas voters this week in their final bids for the state's 25 electoral votes.

Heading the parade will be Republican vice presidential nominee Spiro T. Agnew, who speaks in Houston today, and the American Party standard-bearer, George Wallace, who has scheduled a rally and fund-raising dinner tonight at Beaumont.

Tuesday Democratic vice presidential nominee Edmund Muskie opens a two-day tour of five Texas cities while Wallace's running mate, retired Air Force Gen. Curtis LeMay, addresses a noon luncheon at Houston.

Then on Friday Republican presidential nominee Richard Nixon arrives for appearances in five Texas cities during his two-day invasion of the state. His running mate returns to Texas Saturday for a rally at Harlingen in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

And winding up the active political week in Texas will be the appearance of Democratic presidential candidate Hubert Humphrey Sunday in Houston's Astrodome.

Meanwhile, candidates for state, district and county posts continue their drives for votes in the Nov. 5 general elections.

The Republican gubernatorial candidate, Paul Eggers, told Rio Grande City listeners Sunday "Government in Texas cannot be responsive to the needs of the people if it is a government run for the benefit of machine politicians."

The GOP candidate charged that politics in Starr and Webb counties have strangled the economic and social growth in those areas.

His Democratic opponent, Lt. Lubbock that if he is elected he will continue the Governor's Committee on the Status of Women.

Smith said "I pledge my support to concentrate specific action in assuring the women of Texas an opportunity to develop their capacities and to fulfill their aspirations."

The Texas Election Bureau estimates that 2,750,000 Texans will vote in this year's election. The figure is about 150,000 more than cast ballots in the last presidential election.

½ lb. mushrooms, sliced
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 large green pepper, cut into rings
2 large onions, sliced and separated into rings
1 1-13 cups ketchup
¾ cup strong coffee
1 slice (about 2½ lbs.) top sirloin of beef, cut 2 to 2½ inches thick
Instant meat tenderizer, optional

Saute mushrooms lightly in butter; push to one side. Add green pepper and onion rings. Cook until soft but not brown; mix with mushrooms. Add ketchup and coffee; simmer 5 minutes. Treat steak with instant meat tenderizer as directed on label. Broil steak just long enough to brown well on both sides. Transfer to shallow baking pan or platter. Spoon part of the sauce over steak (save the rest to serve with the steak). Bake at 350 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes for rare, longer for medium or well done. To serve, slice against the grain, on the diagonal, as for London Broil, in thin slices. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

FHA Girls Have Charm Program

The Snyder High School FHA met in the living room of the homemaking department for a program on "Charm School Manners" recently.

Demonstrations were given by Brenda Browning, Darlene Tate and Lou Alice Mathis, who attended the Charm School conducted by Mrs. Howard T. Ratcliff of Fort Worth in August. Brenda gave pointers on good telephone manners and the following thoughts to remember: You only go this way once, so make the most of it. This too will pass. Brighten the corner where you are. True happiness comes only from making someone else happy. Anybody can be sad with someone that's sad, but it takes a special person to be glad when your glad. Have a goal in life. No one is beautiful forever.

Lou Alice demonstrated how to sit and rise from the floor, and how to stand properly. Darlene included how to sit and rise from a chair, and bend gracefully to pick up an object.

The meeting was concluded with final plans for a party.

NY Labor Problem Easing

NEW YORK (AP) —Teachers' union president Albert Shanker has proposed a plan which he says could end the teachers strike and get 1.1 million pupils back into public schools this week.

Meanwhile, the city's labor picture brightened as firemen announced they were following policemen in ending their work slowdowns.

Shanker's conditions Sunday night for ending the walkout by the 55,000-member United Federation of Teachers coincided with previous proposals by Mayor John V. Lindsay and the Board of Education.

Saying some of the proposals "are negotiable" and that it appeared "to be the only way out of the situation," Shanker listed the following conditions:

Continue the temporary suspension of Brooklyn's Ocean Hill-Brownsville governing board and its unit administrator, Rhody McCoy temporarily closing Junior High School 271, scene of violence and threats against about 80 unwanted union teachers; letting those teachers teach in the district's seven other schools; and temporary suspension of the district's eight principals.

Before striking for the third time Oct. 14, Shanker and the union's executive board rejected proposals by the board and Lindsay which contained all points except dismissal of the principals.

Shanker disclosed his plan on a special WNBC-TV program, appearing with Board of Education President John Doar.

There was no immediate comment from Lindsay on Shanker's proposals.

Pupils have been out of classes on 21 of the first 33 days of the school term.

The governing board of the experimental Ocean Hill district, predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican, maintains the unwanted union teachers were sabotaging school decentralization —the reason the local board was set up in the first place.

The union contends job security and "due process" is at stake, and charges the local board with racial bias.

On Sunday, the executive board of the 10,500-member United Firefighters Association voted unanimously to return to full duty, subject to a membership vote Thursday.

On Saturday, the 22,000-member Patrolmen's Benevolent Association voted to heed a court order and end a week-long "sick call" slowdown which cut patrol forces by about 20 per cent.

PBA head John J. Cassese said, "We cannot in good conscience arrest someone tomorrow if it is said we are violating the law."

The police and firemen want to renegotiate contracts that would have raised the top pay base from $9,383 to $10,750 a year.

Smog, Fog Trouble In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Fog closed International Airport again Sunday, and airliner flights were diverted to suburban fields. The heavy mist Saturday forced similar steps.

At the same time smog, after a first-stage alert on Friday, reached near-alert conditions with a recording of .4 part of ozone per million parts of air.

A first-stage smog alert, in which motorists are urged to do only emergency driving, is called when the ozone count reaches .5 part.

Cockeysville May Again Hoist Flag

COCKEYSVILLE, Md. (AP) —After two years, the American flag may soon fly again over the post office in this town of 2,500 persons.

U.S. Rep. Clarence D. Long said in a newsletter to constituents in Baltimore County Sunday that the Post Ofice Department has agreed to move the flagpole away from power lines which had prevented hoisting the flag.

WALLY THE PRANKSTER — Always good for a laugh, Capt. Walter Schirra, Jr., Apollo 7 space flight commander, releases a racoon tail from a box which he told newsmen contained a mongoose. He had gathered newsmen around him and explained that the mongoose was a dangerous animal after his arrival at Houston. As everyone gathered around, Schirra released the lid and the racoon tail flew out and everyone scattered. (AP Wirephoto)

Blast Rips Big Machines

WAGONER, Okla. (AP) — A series of explosions Sunday shattered six pieces of heavy earth-moving equipment being used on a portion of the Arkansas River navigation project near this northeastern Oklahoma city.

The FBI stepped into the investigation, but declined any comment.

The machinery was parked in an open equipment storage area near lock and dam 17, about two miles south of Oklahoma highway 51 on the Verdigris River between Broken Arrow nd Wagoner.

Damage estimates ranged from $45,000 to hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Two years ago, another explusion blasted a huge crane and dredge that also was being used on the project. Damage was estimated at $100,000 to the $190,000 crane.

Police Called To Spooky Bank Party

CENTRALIA, Ill. (AP) — Officers were called when neighbors watched a masked youth carry what appeared to be a rifle into the First State Bank of Centralia.

Police with rifles and shotguns surrounded the structure as two armed officers entered.

Inside they found a Halloween masquerade party sponsored by the First Christian Church of Centralia. The bank had granted the church's Sunday School permission to use the facilities.

Methodist Women Meet In Atlanta

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) —Christians are obligated to challenge presidential candidates to enforce, initiate and revise laws to guarantee equal rights to all citizens, say executives of the women's division of the Methodist missions board.

Candidates slogans of law and order have obscured "and in fact perverted the public concern for justice" the executive committee of the women's division of the United Methodist Board of Missions said in a statement issued Saturday.

The women's division leaders are meeting here in conjunction with the nine-day conference Oct. 23-31 of the executive committee of the Board of Missions and its five major units.

The women also endorsed grants totaling $5,000 to the Southwest Geoorgia project, a nine-county church - sponsored program to encourage voter registration and aid rural residents and welfare recipiants.

Meeting in conjunction with the missions board executives are the women's division, the national division which directs home mission activites, the world division which adminsters overseas missions, the joint commission on education and cultivation and the joint committee on missionary personnel.

Earlier, the Committee on Deaconess Service, a unit of the national division, elected Atlanta bishop John Owen Smith chairman of the 35-member group.

The Board of Missions' 45-member executive committee includes representatives from throughout the 11-million-member United Methodist Church.

The board, which administers an annual budget of $44 million, directs the work of some 1,500 missionaries overseas plus 2,000 deaconesses and other home mission workers in the United States and Puerto Rico.

Negroes Open New Complex

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The nation's largest Negro-developed shopping center—Progress Plaza was dedicated Sunday before a crowd estimated at 10,000.

The block-long complex of stores was developed by the Rev. Leon H. Sullivan, founder of Opportunities Industrialization Center, which trains Negroes in business and industrial skills all over the country.

Ten of the stores in the plaza are owned and operated by Negroes. The others will be managed by Negroes. And the shopping center will also have a school to train Negroes for administrative positions.

The Rev. Mr. Sullivan launched the program with his "10-36" plan in which members of his Zion Baptist Church gave $10 a month for 36 months to establish a financial base.

The plaza in North Philadelphia was purchased from the Philadelphia Redevelopment Authority for $250,000. Construction began with a $1.3 million loan from the First Pennsylvania Banking and Trust Co. and the Ford Foundation chipped in $400,000.

The stores will pay rent to the 650 shareholders of Zion Investment Associates Inc.

Airport Relies On Peanut Butter Jars

LOVELL, Wyo. (AP) — Airport Manager Cal Taggart says he needs peanut butter jars to keep the field operational around the clock.

Vandals destroyed the light covers on the runway. Taggart said he found that 18-ounce peanut butter jars have lid threads which fit the runway light fixtures.

Ira Shades Hobbs In 3-B Thriller

HOBBS — Ira's Bulldogs shaded the Hobbs Panthers 52-47 here Saturday night in the first District 3-B Six-Man gridiron battle for both squads. It was a wild offensive tussle that featured hard hitting by both teams.

Ira was never behind, but every time the Bulldogs threatened to break open the contest the Panthers would counter with a quick TD to stay within reach.

Ira went ahead 8-0, driving in for the TD after receiving the opening kickoff. Joe Briseno did the honors from 10 yards out, and Billy Payne's kick from placement was accurate.

Hobbs pulled within two points on a 40 - yard touchdown run by Lorin Pearce.

A 15 - yard touchdown run by Briseno and a 20 yard gallop to pay dirt by Billy Payne put Ira into a 22-6 advantage as the first quarter came to a close. Payne also kicked after his TD run.

Fighting back gamely, Hobbs pulled within two points again in the second period with Ross Aguilar going 30 yards and 20 yards on touchdown runs. Pearce kicked accurately after the 30 - yarder.

Ira took a commanding lead again in the third period with Terry Sterling running 18 yards and Briseno crashing over from the five. Payne kicked perfectly following both TD's.

Behind 18 points, the Panthers fought back with determination again and scored on an 18-yard pass play with Ricky Williams going over.

Sterling got the cushion back on a 3-yard burst late in the period.

Hobbs remained within striking distance on a 30 - yard gallop by Aguilar early in the fourth quarter, and the Panthers pulled within five points a little later as Pearce ran 10 yards, then tossed to Martinez for the extra point.

Ira had to score again to win, and score they did on a 7-yard burst by Sterling. Payne kicked point for a 52-39 lead. Hobbs got its last touchdown on a 10-yard pass, Pearce to Williams, and Pearce kicked for the two points.

It's Matter Of Pride For Dallas

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Dallas and Green Bay—rivals in the last two National Football League title games—collide tonight before a national television audience and a sellout crowd in a battle that means survival for the Packers and pride for the Cowboys.

The Packers are struggling to stay alive in the Central Division with a 2-3-1 record and sorely need the victory in their quest for a fourth consecutive NFL crown.

Dallas, sailing along with a 6-0 mark in the Capitol Division, needs the game psychologically. The Cowboys have never beaten the Packers in three regular seasons and two championship games.

Cowboy coach Tom Landry, who has seen his team defeated by the world champions the past two seasons in the closing moments of the NFL title games, said: "The game means a lot to us psychologically. A loss to the Packers takes something out of you that would be hard to replace."

After the 21-17 loss to Green Bay in the final 13 seconds in sub-zero cold last December, Landry launched on a campaign of what he called "mental toughness."

He has preached the theme to the team throughout the season.

"Get tougher when the going gets tougher," says Landry.

The game tonight, before 72,000 in the Cotton Bowl, will provide a stern test of whether Dallas has overcome its Green Bay phobia—folding in the last crucial minutes.

So far this season Dallas has allowed but seven points in the final period. Quarterback Don Meredith ranks second in the league in passing.

Landry believes his team has improved, but isn't certain.

Green Bay should provide the answer.

Trull Guides 30-7 Victory

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Don Trull, a five-year veteran of professional football, figures he's come of age because "I promised myself I'd keep plugging."

Although he soon may be back on the bench, he proved to the Houston Oilers Sunday he still can play a lot of football as he directed the Texans to a 30-7 victory over the Buffalo Bills.

Trull began his American Football League career with the Oilers, was shipped to Boston for a spell and then went back to Houston.

With regular quarterback Pete Bethard out of action for four weeks because of an appendectomy, Trull worked against the Bills as though he were the No. 1 signal-caller.

He directed a seven-play drive early in the game that ended with Woodie Campbell plunging for two yards for a touchdown. Then he put the Oilers in position for Wayne Walker to kick a 39-yard field goal—the first of his three. The others came from 22 and 19 yards out.

But Trull also had a good day passing, completing eight of 17 passes for 224 yards. Two of those passes—both to tight end Alvin Reed—were good for touchdowns. One covered 23 yards and the other 42 yards.

In the locker room, Trull said "When you've been bouncing around like I have from Houston to Boston and back to Houston and when you've been waived as I have you begin to wonder.

"But in the tough days I promised I would keep plugging. I did and I guess it paid off."

His plugging did pay off as Houston won its third game against five losses.

US Wins Olympic Games

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Big George Foreman stood there in the center of the ring, a tiny American flag clutched in his huge black fist; a battered, bleeding Russian hulking nearby—a near-perfect symbol of American domination of the 19th Olympic Games.

Foreman, a 6-foot-3, 218-pounder, held aloft the little flag—a broad grin on his face—as he accepted America's record 45th gold medal after demolishing Iones Cepulis for the heavyweight boxing championship, the last event on the last full day of competition in the trouble-riddled Games.

His victory was icing on the cake for the Yankee team which collected a total of 107 medals and clearly outscored the Soviets in total medals for the first time since the Russians entered the Games at Helsinki in 1952.

Russia finished with a total of 92 medals, 30 of them gold. In 1964 at Tokyo Russia led in total medals 96-90 while the United States led in golds, 36-30.

Naturally enough, there was an excuse for the Russian showing this year. It came from Gabriel Korobkov, the Soviet's track and field coach.

"Most of the world lives downstairs. They hold the Games upstairs," he said, referring to the 7,347-foot altitude of Mexico City. "It throws the Games out of balance."

Perhaps a more accurate explanation would be found in the almost incredible performance of the United States' swimming and diving team, along with the gymnastic exploits of Vera Caslavska of Czechoslovakia—the sweetheart of the Games—and Japan, which cut heavily into the Russian potential total.

The United States' swimmers and divers bagged 23 of the 33 gold medals and a total of 47 of the 89 medals up for grabs. Twelve more golds came in men's track and field, and three more in women's track and field—where the Russians failed to score a single gold.

The Americans also picked up two golds in boxing, two in sailing, one each in shooting and equestrian. And Henry Iba's superbly coached, pick-up basketball team, spurned by many of the top collegiate stars, continued its unbeaten string.

The U.S. basketball squad won the gold in convincing fashion, whipping Yugoslavia 65-50 in the final game behind the superlative play of Spencer Haywood.

World records, most of them by Americans, fell almost as quickly as arose controversies, incidents and demonstrations.

In the latter category, the most flagrant was by American sprinters Tommie Smith and John Carlos, both Negroes, who finished 1-3 in the 200-meter dash.

On the victory podium, after receiving their medals, they raised a black-gloved fist as a sign of racial protest and refused to look at the American flag as the Star Spangled Banner was played.

The incident threatened to split the American team, but other American negroes continued to compete—and win.

Under pressure from the International Olympic Committee and the group's re-elected president, 81-year-old Avery Brundage of Chicago, the U.S. Olympic Committee ordered the two athletes out of the Olympic Village and apologized to the world.

There were hints of under-the-counter payoffs to athletes by manufacturers of athletic goods, charges of fixed wrestling matches, a Dutch masseur was sent home for giving vitamins to his cyclists, a Bulgarian wrestler was disqualified for sniffing smelling salts.

The United States' athletes broke or tied eight world records in track and set four more in swimming.

By far the most outstanding record was a fantastic, 29 feet 2½ inch long jump by Bob Beamon of El Paso, Tex., breaking by almost two feet the previous record.

Al Oerter, 32, West Islip, N.Y., scored his fourth consecutive victory in the discus, a feat unmatched in history by a track and field athlete. His 212-6½ toss was about two feet better than he had ever thrown in his life and set an Olympic mark.

Bob Seagren, Los Angeles, won the pole vault at 17-8½. Lee Evans, San Jose, Calif., led a 1-2-3 U.S. sweep in the 400 meters, the Americans won both relays; Wyomia Tyus, Griffin, Ga., repeated as women's 100-meter champion and anchored a winning 400-meter relay team.

But there were upsets, too, with Kipchoge Keino of Kenya beating Kansan Jim Ryun in the 1,500 meters. Ryun, who holds the world mile and 1,500 meters records, was stricken with mononucleosis during the summer, was ill just before the Games and just didn't have it.

Keino's upset paced Kenya's surprising showing, with Wilson Kiprugut winning the 5,000 meters, Naftali Temu the 10,000 and that small country taking a total of nine track and field medals—better than Russia.

Russia's massive forces, 401 in all, closed quickly in the last two days, picking up medals by the handful in canoeing, boxing, wrestling and fencing.

But their gymnasts—who had clinched the total medal victory in previous Olympics—ran into trouble in the form of the Japanese, who dominated the men's events, and pert Miss Caslovska—now Mrs. Josef Odlovil.

She won four gold medals and a silver in women's gymnastics, then married a Czech runner she had met in previous competition.

The most dominant force in the Games, however, had to be the American swimmers. The U.S. water sprites, many of them teen-agers, swept to 1-2-3 finishes in five events and collected at least one medal in every one of the 33 championships.

Leading the charge were Charles Hickcox, 21, Phoenix, Ariz., three golds and a silver; Debbie Meyer, 16, Sacramento Calif., three golds; Sue Pederson, 15, Sacramento, Calif., two golds and two silvers; Kaye Hall, 17, Tacoma Wash. two golds and one bronze; Ken Walsh 23, Ponte Verde, Fla., two golds and one silver.

Mark Spitz, 18, Santa Clara, Calif., two golds, one silver and one bronze; Jane Henne, 21, Oakland two golds, one silver and one bronze; Linda Gustavson, 18, Santa Clara, one gold, one silver, one bronze.

Claudia Kolb, 18 Santa Clara; Dor McKenzie 21, Woodland Hills, Calif., Steve Rerych, 22, Paterson N.J.; Mike Burton, 21, Carmichael Calif. and Doug Russell, 22, Midland, Tex., two golds apiece.

And swimming Coach Sherman Chavoor sounded a grim warning to the rest of the world:

"Debbie Meyer is only 16 and she hasn't reached her peak yet," he said. "And we have more of them on the way—10, 11 and 12 years old—and those we have now are just the best in the world."

Attracting just as much attention was America's basketball team, never beaten in Olympic competition. But this year, lacking most of the top collegiate stars, a rag-tag collection that many predicted would end American domination of the sport.

But Iba molded them into a precision outfit, the same play-for-the-good-shot team that has brought him more than 700 victories at Oklahoma State.

"We knew we were an underrated team," said Haywood, a junior college player and the teams leading scorer and rebounder. "We felt we had something to prove."

They proved it.

Kittens Pound Foe, 39-14

The well - balanced Snyder Kittens struck quickly to build a 33-0 first half lead, then fought a determined San Angelo team on equal terms in the second half for an impressive 39-14 gridiron victory here Saturday night.

Bobby Thompson, 145-pound fullback, scored five touchdowns to pace the Kitten attack. He chugged across from the two to cap a 67 yard drive after the opening kickoff, then went three yards around right end to pay dirt to climax a 37 yard drive set up when Norman Davis recovered a fumble.

In the second period, he sliced across from the three to cap a 40 yard march and scored on a 57 yard pass-and-run play after taking a 28-yard toss from quarterback Bid Cooper.

Thompson's last touchdown was an 80 yard runback of a punt in the third period.

The other Kitten touchdown was scored by Cooper on a 3-yard rollout around right end in the second period to put the icing on a 32 yard thrust set up when Harvey Pinkerton came up with an interception.

Although Thompson turned in an outstanding individual performance, it was a great team effort that produced the victory. The entire Kitten team did a tremendous job of blocking and tackling. Execution of the plays was near perfect, and defense had great pursuit. They allowed the San Angelo sophs only four yards rushing in the first two periods.

It was all Snyder in the first half, but the visitors made a game out of it in the second half.

They took the opening kickoff and marched 68 yards in 15 plays with Clessie Titus getting the TD on a 3-yard burst over guard. Their other TD came in the fourth period on a one-yard plunge by Ken Willis that capped a 63 yard march. Dennis Grafa completed a 29-yard aerial to Titus to keep the momentum going. However, Joe O'Brien, the San Angelo fullback, was the outstanding runner for the visitors. He got most of their yardage the hard way — up the middle.

Larry Wall did an outstanding job for the Kittens, gaining valuable yardage in key situations.

The Kittens made good on only two of their conversion plays after touchdown. Thompson skirted right end after the third TD for two extra points and Wall kicked perfectly from placement after the fifth one.

San Angelo's Bob Dickey passed to Mike Varnadore for two points after their first touchdown.

The Kittens had a TD called back after Thompson passed to Norman Davis in the end zone from the 17 with 10 seconds remaining in the contest.

Scott Morgan made a great block near the west sidelines that cleared Thompson for the last 30 yards of his long punt return. Wall also turned in an interception.

After an open week this week, the Kittens meet Dunbar in Lubbock.

Odessa Drops Titans 28-23

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The San Antonio Toros held on to their lead in the Western Division but the Texarkana Titans had their Eastern Division lead trimmed to half a game in Texas Professional Football League action over the weekend.

Luz Pedraza hit 13 of 18 passes to spark the Toros to a 45-13 win over the Beaumont Golden Vikings Saturday night in Beaumont.

But Odessa jumped on the Titans for a 28-23 victory to drop the Texarkana team to a slim half game margin over Tulsa. The win puts Odessa into a tie with El Paso for third place in the division.

In other action, the Fort Worth Braves rapped the Dallas Rockets 41-3 and the Tulsa Thunderbirds had to postpone their game in El Paso with the jets until Dec. 1 after they were unable to secure transportation to West Texas.

San Angelo Lee Registers Impressive 62-0 Triumph

San Angelo Lee's 9th grade football team put on an impressive display of power running in its 62-0 triumph over Lamar 9th grade here Saturday night.

It was close for one period. The Texans got a good chance when Mike Dennis recovered a fumble on the Lee 25, but Lamar couldn't move the ball.

Word scored the first touchdown on a 1-yard plunge with eight seconds left in the first period, then he charged across for bonus points.

The score was only 24-0 at halftime. Lee blocked a punt at the Lamar 39, then Green passed long to Brashear. Word sliced over from the two for the TD, and Norred added the extra points on a run. Word scored with 3 seconds left in the first half on a 52 yard run, then added the extras.

Lamar made a good effort early in the second half, driving to the Lee 25 before relinquishing possession. However, Norred ripped off a 40 yard run and a 10 yard blast to put Lee on the five. Then he took it over and Jimerson ran for extra points as the count soared to 32-0. With five seconds left in the 3rd period, Jaren went 10 yards around left end, and a successful run after TD hiked the margin to 40-0.

Blankenship went 4 yards and 8 yards and Kelly traveled 9 paces for Lee's last period touchdowns. An interception and a blocked punt figured prominently in two of the last three tallies.

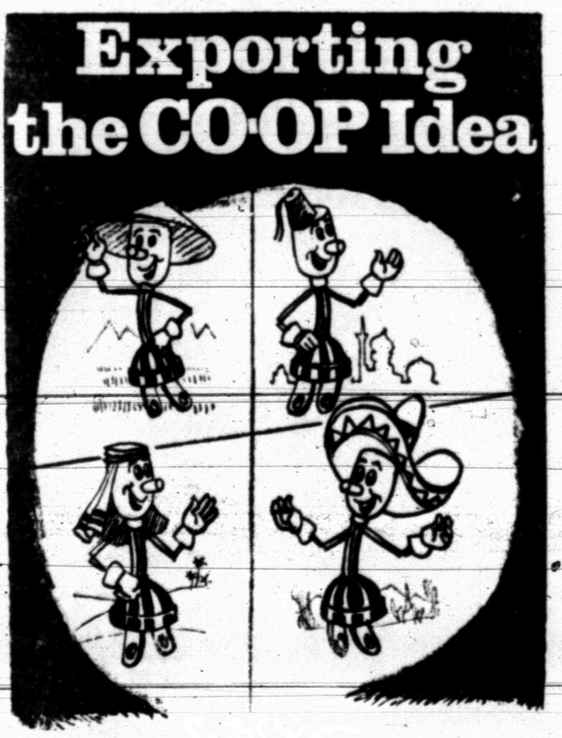
Exporting the CO-OP Idea



The first electric cooperative was energized in Texas in 1937. Now 31 years and 1,000 co-ops later, the idea may well become our most important export. Electric cooperative experts from Texas and other states are making regular trips to the orient, to the middle East and to South America to help the people of these lands organize a cooperative to provide their own electricity. And every co-op veteran who works this tour of duty in a distant land sees evidence of the early years in our own rural areas. But he sees a brighter picture, too. He sees the member-owned rural electric cooperative as a mature, dependable top notch electric utility that provides a low-cost efficient supply of electric power that is Helping Texas Grow. And he knows that the years ahead in all these lands will be brighter.

LEARNING---THE HARD WAY!

What Economic Philosophy Separates The Two Parties?

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — What is the difference in economic philosophy between the Democrats and the Republicans? Surprisingly, as necessary as the answers are, many people couldn't state them.

Most people won't find an awful lot of help either in reading the two platforms, for there are perhaps as many similarities as differences, at least to the inexpert eye.

And yet, one of the chief arguments used by the presidential candidates, and most of the lesser candidates as well, is that they can guide the economy better than their opponent.

In search of guidance, Dr. Paul McCracken, a Republican, and Dr. Walter W. Heller, a Democrat, were asked what, in their opinion, were the fundamental economic differences in the party philosophies.

McCracken, a University of Michigan economist, was a member of President Dwight D. Eisenhower's Council of Economic Advisers from 1956 to 1959, and is mentioned as a possible council chairman should Richard M. Nixon be elected president.

Heller, economist at the University of Minnesota, was council chairman from 1961 to 1964, serving both Presidents John F. Kennedy and Johnson and remaining an influential voice in policy after leaving the job.

Their opinions were expressed as spontaneous reactions to questions, asked of them separately, rather than in prepared statements. In both instances the men spoke as individuals rather than as party spokesmen.

"First of all," said McCracken "I think it is important as a preface to emphasize that one of the great strengths of the American political system is that the change from one party to another doesn't produce a 90 degree turn, as in some systems.

"I think this is an important aspect. It isn't to imply that there are no differences between the parties. There are, although the middle ground they share is substantial.

"It means to me that the key difference revolves around the allocation of money to the private and public sectors. This is critical to our nation's economic welfare.

"The Republican position is more nearly what I would call the liberal position," McCracken said. He conceded "a semantics problem" with "liberal." He said he meant liberal in the classic sense, which would mean fewer rather than more federally imposed restrictions on private enterprise.

"What are the tangible manifestations?" he continued. "In a Democratic administration the federal budget four years hence would show higher expenses and taxes than the Republicans." But, he said, "they'll probably be higher in any case."

Heller said he also believes there is an area of agreement in economic philosophy but great differences too.

"You start out with the fact that both Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Nixon have available the tools of modern economics—tax changes, budget changes, monetary changes" to move the economy. "There is essentially a bipartisan consensus on this."

"But as you get beyond these," he continued, "there are really sharp differences." There is a difference, he said, in "distributive preference" in regard to revenues. "Nixon is upper income inclined, Humphrey is inclined toward the lower incomes."

Heller said the candidates also attach different goals to policy. "Humphrey puts full employment and growth at the top of the list," he said. "The tendency of Nixon is to put stability over full employment, even though some of his advisers say this isn't so."

Heller said he felt the Democratic anti-inflation program was especially strong and the Republican program "mostly slogans." It is ironic, he said, that "Nixon is getting a lot of mileage out of inflation but Humphrey has a much more cogent program."

The program he said, is this:

"Responsible fiscal and monetars policy, perhaps even holding on to the surtax. Cooperation with big business and big labor to obtain economic disarmament. Specific proposals for trying to break through inflation in construction, medicine, insurance," and other industries.

Heller said he felt a Republican president would be inclined to put growth in the Gross National Product by lowering taxes and increasing military spending and that the Democrats would spend on civilian programs.

Shortcuts To Making Skirts Short

By JOY STILLEY
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—It's not how short you make it—it's how you make it short. And I've been learning all kinds of shortcuts to shortening since I discovered this fall that every one of last year's dresses have spent the summer sneakily growing longer.

After depleting the family exchequer by having three coats hemmed I decided in reactivating the rest of my wardrobe not to let George, the local tailor, do it.

Since my sewing skills consist of being able to thread a needle, with luck and an automatic needlethreader, up until now I have depended on a strategic system for getting things altered.

Talented friends, called upon to show me how to take in a seam, put up a hem or repair a rip, always ended up getting the job finished before I was able to catch on to how it was done. Now they are all too busy shortening their own skirts to be able to pay any attention to mine.

Well, I don't claim to be an Yves St. Laurent, but I certainly have created a number of fetching new hemlines. They dip, they soar, they ripple, they pucker, they meander and they flare.

Dressmaking experts tell me there is a scientific way to perform the hemlifting operation. It includes all sorts of difficult steps that I could never master even if I could remember them. Their method involves ripping, trimming, measuring, pinning, basting, pressing and stitching. It takes an hour and comes out looking professional.

My modus operandi comprises equal parts of guessing and hoping. I put the dress on, insert a few pins in strategic places, twirl throughtfully in front of a mirror, take it off and immobilie the thus-formed hem with needle and thread. It takes two hours and comes out looking a mess.

Just as I was getting ready to settle for being dowdy and dated rather than face any more sewing sessions, industry came to my rescue. I discovered that there's a tape that permanently cements relations between the turned-up edge and the body of the garments. Hemming is accomplished with an iron instead of a needle.

I no longer read the fashion columns with trepidation. If hemlines rise again I will rise to the occasion. The tape and the iron are at the ready.

Junior Editors Quiz on OVENS

QUESTION: Who discovered ovens?

* * *

ANSWER: When early men found they could make a kind of crude bread by crushing grain, they cooked it on flat, heated stones. It is thought that floating spores from yeast plants may have settled on masses of dough and developed within it, making it much lighter and fluffier. Then the Egyptians discovered that such lighter bread tasted better when cooked slowly in a hot enclosed area. This led them to construct the first ovens. We still use the oven principle, although for more than just bread. Notice the Navajo women with her oven of adobe. Large brick-lined ovens were important in American Colonial days. Hot fires of brushwood were built inside such an oven, heating the brick. When the fire died down, the ashes were raked out and food put in and allowed to bake slowly. Dutch ovens were like pans on stilts which were covered with a lid and then with hot coals. In our modern ovens, we can bake or roast many kinds of food. We still need hot dry air, but since we have no heated brick sides we use some degree of gas or electric heat to keep the air hot enough.

Oil Industry Sees Tough Job Ahead

By MAX B. SKELTON
AP Oil Writer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America said today the industry has a tough job ahead regardless who wins the Nov. 5 general elections.

Harold M. McClure Jr., Alma, Mich., said oilmen have their work cut out for them regardless who wins the presidency or which party wins control of the new 91st Congress.

In his annual report submitted at the opening general session of the Association's annual meeting, McClure said the industry must solve numerous economic and political problems.

"The Mandatory Oil Imports Program is under attack on several fronts at once," he said. "The Federal Power Commission is engaged in unrealistic price-fixing of natural gas. We must prospect for oil at 1968 costs while selling our crude oil below 1956 real prices. And we are under constant threats against tax provisions which have been part of the economic process of this country for 42 years."

McClure said the industry must fight for an economic and political climate that will assure the necessary incentive to bolster domestic petroleum reserves that have failed to keep pace with record production.

"The need for the wildcat explorer continues to be great," he said. "A multiplicity of effort is essential if this nation is to maintain adequate petroleum supplies for the future. As many as are equal to the task must join in the search for these new supplies."

McClure said the association fought for 15 years for mandatory oil import controls but now is faced with a frustrating battle to persuade the government to maintain the program's integrity and effectiveness.

"The stated purpose of the program is to promote the national security," he said. 'But it has been amended and wontonly used beginning in 1965 for a multitude of other purposes. There are those who will fully and at almost any cost seek to dismantle the Mandatory Oil Imports Program."

The association's imports policy committee voted Sunday to once again ask Congress next year to spell out guidelines for oil imports controls. McClure told the committee he is confident of congressional approval.

"Irrespective of the Nov. 5 election outcome, I predict we will have the necessary troops," he said.

The policy committee also voiced opposition to free trade zones, aiming a resolution particularly as a proposal by Occidental Petroleum Corp. to build a refinery at Machias Bay, Maine.

Occidental proposes to operate the free trade zone refinery exclusively on foreign oil by importing 300,000 barrels of oil daily from Libya.

Minor S. Jameson Jr., the association's executive vice pesident from Washington, told the committee the Occidental import exemption request would aggravate a situation that already has seen special exemptions skyrocket since 1965. Jameson said the amount of oil involved in special exemptions and treatments has jumped from 300,000 to 700,000 barrels a day in three years.

"The coming administration, whichever party it might be, is going to have to face up to this problem," Jameson said.

McClure said today granting Occidental's requested exception to the Mandatory Oil Imports Program would strike a mortal blow to the program.

"Exception breeds exception," he said. "Competing companies would have no alternative but to seek the same special treatment."

New Mexico Law Is Unconstitutional

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — A New Mexico law requiring a candidate for Congress to live in his congressional district has been ruled unconstitutional.

The State Supreme Court said congressional candidates can live anywhere in the state and seek office from either of the two districts. This is the first year the state has been divided into two districts. New Mexicans previously voted on their two candidates at large.

Searchers Rescue Crash Survivors

PARAMARIBO, Dutch Guiana (AP) — A search party today found two survivors and three bodies in the wreckage of a twin-engine KLM plane that crashed on an aerial survey mission Sunday in the western part of Dutch Guiana.

One of the dead men was Icelandic. All others aboard the plane were Dutch. A rescue official said one of the survivors was unhurt, and the other suffered minor injuries.

The cause of the crash was not immediately determined.

Dip For Wallace Shown By Polls

By JULES LOH
Associated Press Writer

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — His popularity in the political polls showing a decided dip, George C. Wallace will spend the final week of the presidential campaign wooing voters who have given his third party candidacy its national dimension.

The former Alabama governor, apparently feeling his Deep South electoral base secure, will concentrate his efforts in the remaining days before the election in border states and large industrial cities of the East and Midwest.

He begins the swing today with a rally in Hannibal, Mo., and a visit to the old home place of Mark Twain, then a speech in the Gulf Coast oil city of Beaumont, Tex.

Other stops on his final week's schedule include Detroit, Philadelphia and, tentatively, Chicago, as well as Enid, Okla., Wheeling, W.Va., and Hagerstown, Md.

Wallace and his running mate, Curtis E. LeMay, are scheduled to appear on an hour-long television panel show next weekend. Then Wallace will return to Montgomery to await the election returns.

A national poll published Sunday showed Wallace with a 15 per cent popularity rating, five points down from his previous level of about one-fifth of the electorate.

Orchestra Disbanding

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Conductor Anshel Brusilow has announced the disbanding of the 30-piece Chamber Symphony of Philadelphia. Brusilow, who founded the orchestra two years ago, said it was forced out of business because of lack of patronage.

The Amendments

Following is an analysis of two of the proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution which will be on the ballot at the General election on Nov. 5, as prepared and distributed by the League of Women Voters.

AMENDMENT NO. 3

FOR OR AGAINST the constitutional amendment providing for investment of the Permanent University Fund by the Board of Regents of The University of Texas in certain types of securities within the prudent-man rule.

This proposed amendment to Section 11-a, Article VII, Education -- the Public Free School, would modernize and broaden the investment authority of the Board of Regents of the University of Texas System in managing the Permanent University Fund. This would be accomplished by (1) removing the 50 percent limitation on the amount of the fund that may be invested in corporate stocks and bonds; (2) lowering the qualification on dividend payments required for stock eligibility from 10 to 5 consecutive years immediately preceding the date of purchase; and (3) broadening the class of permissible investments to include any obligations issued, insured, or guaranteed in any manner by the United States Government or any of its agencies.

FOR: The continued erosion in the value of the dollar demands that investment management be such as to maintain relative values, not only in terms of the dollar value of the principal of the funds, but in the purchasing power of the income derived therefrom. On August 31, 1967, the value of the U. S. Government bonds (51.2 percent) owned by the fund had declined 18.7 percent from their cost. The corporate stocks (48.4 percent) owned had increased 32.9 percent in value and were producing income at a rate of 28 percent in excess of that of the government bonds. Broadened authority in investment management could result in a substantial increase in income.

A 1967 survey of 17 leading colleges and universities, each with endowment funds in excess of $100 million, showed that the average common-stock holding was 59.5 percent as compared to 30.6 percent for the Permanent University Fund. This clearly shows that the current restrictions on the operation of the Permanent University Fund are not in keeping with present-day investment policies and practices, and that the removal of the 50 percent restriction on the ownership of corporate securities is necessary in order to modernize the operation of the fund.

AGAINST: The retention of the present 50 percent restriction on the amount of the Permanent University Fund that may be invested in corporate stocks and bonds is necessary to protect the fund from day-to-day fluctuations in the stock market. This restriction ensures that at least 50 percent of the fund is safe from the possibility of capital loss if such securities are held to maturity.

Loss of income is possible because of extreme fluctuations in the stock of many rapid-growth corporations, caused by rapidly changing and unsettled conditions. Present investment policies governing the Permanent University Fund ensure that sufficient funds are available to meet the bonded indebtedness incurred to provide for the extensive building programs being undertaken within the University System.

AMENDMENT NO. 4

FOR OR AGAINST the amendment of Arcitle III of the Constitution to provide that Dallas County may issue road bonds under Section 52 of Article III upon a vote of a majority of the resident property - taxpayers voting thereon who are qualified electors of said county, and to provide that bonds heretofore or hereafter issued under Subsections (a) and (b) of said Section 52 shall not be included in determining the debt limit prescribed in said section.

This proposed amendment adds a new Section, 52-e, to Article III Legislative Department, which would authorize Dallas County to issue bonds for the construction, maintenance and operation of macadamized, graveled, or paved roads and turnpikes. It would liberalize the present provisions of Section 52 to require only a majority, rather than a two-thirds, vote of the resident property - taxpayers who are qualified electors of Dallas County, and would provide that bonds already issued or to be issued under Subsections (a) and (b) of Section 52 would not be included in the debt limit, an amount not to exceed one-fourth of the assessed valuation of the real property of the county.

FOR: The construction and maintenance of roads and turnpikes to meet the expanding traffic needs of the rapidly growing Dallas metropolitan area have been hindered by the debt limit now included in Section 52. Liberalization of the constitutional limits would permit Dallas County to finance much needed highway construction with the approval of a simple majority of the qualified property - taxpaying electors.

AGAINST: The liberalized debt limit and the reduction in the number of qualified property - taxpaying electors required to approve such indebtedness for road and turnpike construction could add impetus to the possibility of action being taken without thoughtful consideration or an election being called at a time when approval would be assured by a turnout of mostly those voters favoring such an issue.

SERVICE-CALL TRUCK — Central Tire Company, 1510 Twenty-fifth Street, has a specially-equipped truck that it uses on service calls, primarily to area farms. Quick changes on big tractor tires are a specialty of this "trouble-shooting" truck. Just dial 573-3567 for prompt service.

New Truck For Service Calls At Central Tire

Central Tire Service, 1510 Twenty - fifth Street, has recently acquired a new, specially - equipped, one-ton truck that will be used on service calls.

"We'll use it primarily to answer spot calls from farmers who need a quick change on a tractor tire or a truck," explained Stanley Noah, owner of the firm.

Everything is engineered for quick efficient repairs on any size tires and especially designed for the largest tractor tires now being used on farm tractors. All power originates with the truck motor itself, which runs the air compressor for tire inflation and the air impact wrench for work requiring tools. The power take-off runs the water pump which takes the water from the tires and stores it in a 200 gallon tank built in the truck body. The power take off runs the same pump to return your solution to the tire after the repairs have been made.

The new service truck is just one more example of Central Tire Service's continuing interest in its customers. The truck is equipped with the latest modern equipment to handle emergency calls. It can be sent out on calls from 20 to 25 miles away.

Central Tire provides a number of quality services with its modern testing equipment and experienced mechanics. Central can quickly discover any mechanical malfunctions in your car. Central Tire Service also is the place to go for new mufflers, batteries, tail pipes or tires.

The company carries a complete line of tires in all sizes for small imported cars and American compacts up to and including large Cadillacs. Also, a complete line is offered in pickup and commercial tires at reasonable prices. At this time of year, especially, there are good bargains in tires for farm vehicles.

Who Will Reap The Profits From New Energy Drink?

By FRANK MURRAY
Associated Press Writer

GAINSVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Thousands of products spurt out of university research laboratories each year and a few of them click commercially.

Then comes the scramble for the cash.

One that appears to be clicking now is Gatorade, a quick-energy drink favored by many football players and other athletes around the country.

Its developers say the lemon-lime beverage moves into the human system 12 times faster than water, putting back body minerals and making players stronger.

The University of Florida professor who invented Gatorade says his group expects to realize possibly $2.5 million a year from sales of the beverage.

But the U.S. government claim it owns the rights and will take legal steps to gain control.

The university itself, where the work was done under a federal grant, waived its rights, thinking Gatorade was not commercial. Now it is rethinking the matter with hopes of grabbing some of the profits.

Neither the federal government nor Florida taxpayers, joint supporters of the research, has received one dollar from the sale. In fact, the university football team—which acted as a guinea pig while the drink was being tested—now buys its stock of Gatorade from the Stokely—Van Camp Corp., which bought the rights.

After The Associated Press disclosed the university had failed to carry out a state policy of protecting the public's interest in research rights, school officials ordered an investigation.

Charles Brown, director of the Patents Office in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in Washington which paid $57,295 directly toward research that created Gatorade, said until recently the government was unaware of the sale. Brown said the government decided in June 1967, seven months after the invention was reported to them, to retain government rights to Gaorade.

He said the government wuld move legally to deny Stokely—Van Camp's patent application.

Sales of Gatorade have been under way to athletic teams across the country and at consumer markets in eight test cities—Jacksonville, Miami, Tampa, Atlanta, Cleveland, Indianapolis, Kansas City, and El Paso. It retails at 49 cents for a 46-onuce can.

E. J. Mooney manager of new products for Stokely's in Indianapolis, said "we can live with the team business but Gatorade's so good we want it in every home."

Emergency Uniforms

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Plainclothes detectives on the county sheriff's force are getting forest green cover-all jumpsuits. Sheriff Peter J. Pitchess says the cover-alls will provide a readily available uniform for emergencies such as natural disasters or civil disturbances.

Wallpaper was sold in rolls as early as 1699 and was first used as a cheap substitute for expensive wall hangings.

NORTHWEST TEXAS COTTON

Harvesting In High Gear

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Harvesting of major crops in Texas moved into high gear in the past week, said John E. Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Pastures and ranges continue to provide good grazing and livestock generally are in good condition as the winter season approaches, Hutchison said. Small grains are making good progress but rain would aid further growth in many counties.

The cotton harvest has passed the peak as far north as North Central Texas and is very active in western and southern areas of Northwest Texas, the director said. Soybean harvesting is general and the peanut harvest is making good progress. Yields of the major crops generally have been good.

In their midweek reports, the district extension agricultural agents sums up the area situations in this manner:

Around Amarillo, soil moisture is surplus in Deaf Smith, the western edge of Lipscomb, Hansford, Moore, Ochiltree, Sherman and Wheeler counties, but short in Carson, Dallam, Hartley, Parmer and Potter counties.

Some damage to crops from hail, rain and high winds occurred in upper Panhandle counties a week or so ago. Rain delayed the grain sorghum harvest but it will resume as field conditions permit.

Cotton continues to open rapidly in the Lubbock area and harvesting in the southern South Plains counties should be in full swing within 7 to 10 days. A recent freeze caused some damage to late cotton. The soybean harvest is well along and range and pasture forage is maturing and generally in good condition. Grain sorghum stubble and diverted acres are being grazed.

Only five Rolling Plains counties have adequate soil moisture and 17 are short. Most wheat is being dry planted. Wheat planting is 10 to 100 per cent complete and moisture is needed on all wheat which has been planted. Cotton harvesting is increasing but still slow in most counties. Defoliation continues to increase. Grain sorghum and guar harvesting is continuing.

Most counties in North Central Texas report the cotton harvest has reached the 40 to 60 per cent complete stage. However, it is just getting started in some others. Recent showers and rains delayed field work in some counties. Early planted small grains made good progress. Cotton and peanut yields are above average and farmers are pushing the harvests. Pastures and small grains are being fertilized.

Moisture is adequate in Northeast Texas and small grains are making good progress. The cotton harvest is being delayed by too much dampness which is also delaying the completion of the corn harvest. Winter grasses and clovers are coming on.

Far West Texas needs hot, dry weather for the cotton harvest. Shipping of calves and lambs is continuing but major marketing was complete. Range grass growth has stopped.

The moisture situation in West Central Texas is declining with only four counties reporting an aequate situation. Gully washers are needed in some counties to replenish stock water. The cotton harvest is increasing and yields are good. Pecan yields are expected to be below average due to disease and insects but quality prospects are good. Preparations for the hunting season are in full swing and deer and turkey are plentiful.

Most Central Texas counties need rain. The cotton harvest is now better than 75 per cent complete and yields have been good with a 400 pound lint yield per acre reported for Williamson County. The peanut harvest is increasing and labor is needed.

In East Texas, moisture ranges from adequate to short in Leon, Madison and Trinity counties. Most oats are up and the cotton harvest is about over. Pecans are beginning to fall. Grazing was described as the best in many years in some counties.

Most Southeast and Upper Gulf Coast counties report adequate moisture but two—Fort Bend and Liberty—report a surplus and Colorado County reports a shortage. The cotton and corn harvests are in windup stage while the soybean harvest ranges from starting to near complete. Some rice is still being harvested for the first time while second cuttings have passed the halfway mark in many counties. The peanut harvest was listed as nearing completion, oats as making good growth.

In South Central Texas, moisture is mostly adequate but there is a growing need for it. The harvesting of a short pecan crop is starting. Small grain planting is continuing.

Except for surplus moisture in Aransas, Nueces and San Patricio counties, the situation remains generally adequate throughout the South Texas area. All cotton is harvested except in the surplus moisture areas. Range conditions are the best in years.

Computerized Fire House?

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—A study of running a fire department by computer has been authorized here by a $150,000 grant from the Housing and Urban Development.

The grant was announced by Rep. Graham Purcell, D-Tex., and will finance a three-year study.

City officials said that when a report of a fire is received, the information will be fed immediately into the computer and, while the dispatcher is picking up the telephone to call the nearest fire station, the machinery will whirr out information.

This information will give the best route to the fire, taking into consideration the time of day and whether traffic might be heavy on a given street at that time, and also outline an alternate route. The report will tell who owns the house, what type of structure it is, how many stories it contains so firemen will know whether to send the ladder truck, and whether any invalids live there.
