Real CIA Revealed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S.-backed 1961 invasion at Cuba's Bay of Pigs failed, says a former high-ranking Central Intelligence Agency official, because of "complete miscalculation by the CIA operators of what was required to do the job."

The basic errors, says Lyhan B. Kirkpatrick Jr. in his recently published book, "The Real CIA," involved drastic CIA underrating of Castro's strength and the fact that CIA agents who directed the operation also supplied the intelligence.

At the time of the invasion Kirkpatrick was the CIA's inspector general. He was picked by Allen Dulles, then the agency's intelligence chief, to conduct a complete post mortem on the abortive operation. Most of his findings remain secret, but his book is one of the few ever published by a senior official with inside information on CIA activities.

If the Bay of Pigs was a disaster, Kirkpatrick credits the U.S. intelligence community with a magnificent performance in the 1962 Cuban missile crisis, maintaining that findings given Washington policymakers "were proved sound in every case."

The aftermath of the Bay of Pigs compounded the original failure, Kirkpatrick writes, because President John F. Kennedy disregarded the historic rule that government responsibility for spy activities is never publicly acknowledged.

He maintains President Dwight Eisenhower made a similar error when he first denied, then admitted the CIA's U2 spy-plane shot down over the Soviet Union in 1961 was on an intelligence

Biggest Yet Merger Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court approved today the merger of the Pennsylvania and the New York Central Railroads, clearing the way for their combination by Feb. 1.

The two roads were given a go-ahead almost six years after they had asked the government to allow what will be the biggest merger in the history of American business.

Justice Abe Fortas, speaking for the high court, said the justices could find no basis for reversing approval of the merger by the Interstate Commerce Commission and a federal court in New York.

He said the court's job is limited to deciding whether the commission has proceeded in accordance with law and whether its findings are supported by substantial evidence.

Having done this, he said, "We find no basis, consonant with the principles governing judicial review, for setting aside the commission's determination, approved by the district court, that the 'public interest' directives of the governing statute have been reasonably satisfied."

Evident in the lengthy decision was the fact that a major determination was the fate of the New Haven Railroad. Part of the merger agreement involves a $25 million loan from Penn Central to the ailing New Haven.

Fortas said; "Continuation of the operations of the NH, which the commission has found to be essential, can be assured only upon and after effectuation of the merger of the Penn-Central."

Justice William O. Douglas entered a partial dissent and Justice Thurgood Marshall did not participate in the case, presumably because of his recent position in the Justice Department.

Mrs. Campbell Service Set

Funeral service is set for 2:30 p.m. Tuesday for Mrs. Ora Campbell, 69, of Hermleigh, who died at 5 a.m. Sunday in Simmons Hospital at Sweetwater.

A native of Hamilton County, Mrs. Campbell had been a resident of the Hermleigh community for 60 years. Her husband, H. C. Campbell, whom she married in 1919, preceded her in death in 1960.

The funeral service will be held at the Central Baptist Church in Hermleigh where Mrs. Campbell was a member. The Rev. L. R. Stuckey of San Angelo and the Rev. Marvin Rogers of Snyder will officiate. Burial will be in the Pyron Cemetery, under direction of Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

Surviving are two sons, Fred and Nathan Campbell, both of Hermleigh, four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Friends announced that lunch for the family would be served at noon Tuesday at the Hermleigh Community Center.

Eight Perish In Two-Car Collision

OTTUMWA, Iowa (AP)—Eight persons died—seven of them a family—Sunday night when one car hit another broadside on a snow-packed rural road.

The dead were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Baber of Ottumwa, their five children and the driver of the other car, Terry Chidester, 23. Baber was 37.

The highway patrol said Baber's car apparently hit a snow drift, swung sideways and was hit broadside by Chidester's car. Both cars were demolished.

Burgamy Rites Pending Here

Funeral arrangements were pending this morning at Bell-Seale Funeral Home for Purvis Loving Burgamy, 2111 Avenue Z.

Mr. Burgamy, 72, died at 7 a.m. today at Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

250 PERSONS PERISH

Killer Earthquakes Smash W. Sicily

PALERMO, Sicily (AP) — A catastrophic wave of killer earthquakes smashed across the western tip of Sicily today and police said more than 250 persons were killed.

More than 20 other victims were counted from the stricken communities near Montevago.

The quake was the worst natural disaster to hit Sicily—the largest and most populous island in the Mediterranean sea—since an earthquake destroyed Messina in 1908 with a loss of 75,000 lives.

The quakes ripped across a mountainous farming region of Sicily considered to be the stronghold of the Mafia. At least half a dozen towns and villages were wrecked.

The shocks also reached into the cities of Palermo, Trapani and Marsala, on the edge of the disaster area, causing some damage and widespread panic.

Hundreds were injured as the shocks came in a series of death-dealing waves.

Five tremors had rocked the region Sunday and at least five more came today, starting at 2:34 a.m. and continuing through midday.

The disaster plunged western Sicily into winter misery. The Italian government mounted massive relief and rescue operation of planes, ships, trucks and cars to get medicine, blankets food and tents into the disaster zone.

Hundreds of homeless huddled without shelter in bone-chilling cold, many in fields where snow lay four inches deep.

The full fury of the quakes struck in a mountainous triangle roughly halfway between the north and south coasts of Sicily's western end.

Gibellina, a town of 7,000 inhabitants, was destroyed. So was Montevago a town of 3,000 where a late shock razed the hospital. First rescue teams into Gibellina said they saw nothing but ruins.

Refugees from Gibellina trudged along the icy road away from their ruined town, seeking shelter.

From cracks in the mountainside on which Gibellina was built came the odor of sulphur, so strong it could be smelled several miles away. The geological structure of Sicily is volcanic.

Storms Add To Misery In Europe

LONDON (AP) — Snow storms and winds of hurricane force swept across Europe and as far east as Iran today, leaving a trail of death and destruction.

And at the height of the great winter storm, a series of earthquakes struck Sicily, killing more than 250 by police accounts, razing villages, and leaving survivors huddling in subfreezing cold.

Hardest hit by the high winds were England and Scotland, where at least 16 persons were killed, four persons were missing and hundreds were injured as houses collapsed.

Heavy snows and the threat of avalanches trapped thousands in the Swiss Alps.

In the eastern Mediterranean, blizzards struck Syria, Jordan, Israel and Iran and high winds wrought havoc in Lebanon.

Reports listed two children burned to death and hundreds injured in forest fires, fanned by the high winds in the Caspian region of Iran.

WINTER ON PRAIRIE — Winds gusting up to 40 miles per hours sweep across the snow-covered prairie near Great Falls, Mont., piling up drifts across a road only recently plowed. Drifts in the area are 10 to 15 feet high. Some ranchers have been snowbound since early December and are short of fuel and food. (AP Wirephoto)

GEORGIA TO GREAT LAKES

Storm-Related Deaths Climb

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snow, sleet and freezing rain covered sections of the nation from northern Mississippi and Georgia to the Great Lakes and New England today. Schools were closed in areas from Illinois to Georgia. And tens of thousands of persons in five states were left without electricity over the weekend.

Weather related deaths numbered 46 for the weekend.

Highway traffic slowed to a crawl through much of the area east of the Mississippi. Major roads were generally icy and many secondary roads were impassable.

Residents of southeastern Ohio were digging out of 17 inches of snow that fell Sunday, and in western West Virginia a new cover of 11 inches of snow left 33 inches on the ground.

The Weather Bureau issued warnings for more of the same kind of weather today. Heavy snow warnings were posted for northern Maine with 6 inches or more of snow expected.

Freezing rain warnings were issued for southern Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, northeastern New York and interior sections of Massachusetts.

Travelers warnings were posted for most of the area from southern New York to northeastern Arkansas and northern Mississippi.

Gale warnings were up from Eastport, Me., to Block Island, R.I., and locally heavy rain saturated southern New England early today.

Elsewhere, the northwest was lashed by strong winds and locally heavy rain today from Washngton to central California.

The temperature rose above freezing Sunday in New York City for the first time in nine days. But a driving rain, coupled with salt spread during recent snowfalls, seeped into cable shafts and caused short circuits.

90th Congress Reassembles

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 90th Congress reassembles today for an election-year session beset by problems of war, inflation, crime and racial unrest.

The good fellowship that traditionally accompanies the opening ceremonies is expected to fade quickly once the Senate and House tackle controversial issus left over from last year.

Hanging over the Senate is a civil rights bill battle that may turn into a full-fledged filibuster in the opening days of the session.

Little action was anticipated in advance of President Johnson's State-of-the-Union message Wednesday night to a joint session of Congress.

In his nationally televised address, the President will outline the legislation he wants passed.

Anticipated is a call for measures aimed at heading off a renewal of the racial violence that wracked many U.S. cities last summer.

Johnson also is expected to appeal anew for an income tax increase, a proposal on which he suffered his biggest defeat at the 1967 session.

Possible buttresses for Johnson's request this year are the devaluation of the British pound, the continuing outflow of dollars and gold and climbing prices.

And in an effort to strengthen the dollar and cut down an adverse balance of payments, Johnson may ask for a tax on travel abroad, tax rebates for U.S. exporters, a tax on imports and removal of the gold backing for the dollar.

$1 BILLION FOR US PLANES

British May Cancel F111 Contract

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — The British Cabinet put the final touches today to its sweeping economic retrenchment program, with one prospective casualty the contract to buy a billion dollars worth of American F111 bombers.

A provisional decision to drop the order for 50 F111's was up for final Cabinet approval. Defense Secretary Denis Healey was battling to save the contract, and colleagues said he still had a fighting chance to get up to 35 or 40 of the big swing-wing planes if he could offer the Cabinet comparable savings elsewhere in the defense budget.

The British were told last week they could take 10 years to pay for the F111s and would be given American orders for British arms to earn the dollars to offset their foreign exchange costs.

The Cabinet was also expected to approve withdrawal of British forces from Malaysia and Singapore in Southeast Asia, and Bahrain and Sharjeah in the Persin Gulf by 1971, four years ahead of the schedule announced last July.

Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yee of Singapore met with Prime Minister Harold Wilson Sunday to urge a slowdown of the withdrawal timetable, and other British allies have voiced alarm over the headlong course of budget cutting Britian is following. Both President Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk also were said to be dismayed at Britain's resolve to pull out of the Persian Gulf at a time of Soviet naval buildup in the Middle East. But there was no indication this attitude from Britain's allies would modify the Labor government's course.

The retreat into a "Fortress Britain" posture allows for the preservation of such outposts as the Rhine Army in West Germany and bases on Cyprus and in Hong Kong. But Britain now plans to ask West Germany to cover the local costs for the Rhine Army or it may be withdrawn.

Besides trimming defense costs, Wilson's government is courting public disaffection with a program of wholesale domestic retrenchment aimed at making the devalued pound a success. Cuts will affect education, road building, and social services, including a renewal of charges for medicine now handed out free under the state health service.

Service For Mrs. Huffman

Funeral service will be held here Tuesday for Mrs. J. E. (Pearl Watt) Huffman, who died at 6 a.m. today in a hospital at Hico.

A former resident of Snyder, Mrs. Huffman had lived at Hico about two years.

The funeral service will be held at the Northside Baptist Church, with the Rev. Bill Knight, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Hillside Memorial Gardens, under direction of Bolger Funeral Home.

Surviving are four daughters, Mrs. Thelma Devenport of Clute, Mrs. Alice McClammy of Hico, Mrs. Gladys McCutcheon of Amarillo and Mrs. Oleta Rothrock of Lincoln, Ark.; two sons, Orville Huffman of Odessa and Forrest Huffman of Fort Worth; and a brother, John Watt of Snyder. Another son, Glenn Huffman, preceded Mrs. Huffman in death in Nov. 1967 in Snyder.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I recently returned from a week-end at a well-known resort where we met another couple. (I'll call them Freddy and Alice.) They posed as husband and wife, but we know for a fact that she is his mistress, not his wife. (Someone at the resort knows Freddy's wife.)

What people do is their own business, but I learned a lesson. I think I know why men enjoy mistresses so much. Alice was always well-groomed and beautifully attired. Her figure was trim and she always had a smile on her face. Never once did she interrupt Freddy or disagree with him.

She gave him all her attention, laughed at his jokes, and her company was consistently gay, pleasant and charming. I can assure you Freddy had the time of his life. Please print this. If more wives acted like Alice there would be fewer mistresses.

LEARNED A LESSON

DEAR LEARNED: I don't know what Freddy's wife is like, but maybe she could top Alice if all she had to worry about was how she looked, and how to be charming for a few hours (or days) at a time. I wonder how Alice would hold up with a steady routine of battling bottles, babies and budgets. And possibly knowing that her husband was week-ending with somebody else?

DEAR ABBY: Like most people who read your column, it had never occurred to me to write. That is, until I read that letter in your column for the young wife whose husband constantly corrected their two small sons ages 2½ and 5) at the dinner table until they left in tears.

I have a message for that father: As an engineer by profession, I am inclined to perfectionism and intolerance of the faults of others.

Fortunately, I am more tolerant today than I was when I was raising our first son. Looking back, I am and shall forever be deeply ashamed of the way I hounded and belittled our son until his self-confidence and initiative were destroyed.

This boy, of superior intelligence became a high school drop-out, incorrigible, and a runaway. Now 21, he has no direction, a questionable future and has tried everything from liquor to LSD. Except for an occasional letter or phone call every three months, we never know where he is.

We have five younger children who are fine because by that time I had learned a little. However, that doesn't diminish the sin of my intolerance.

So please, Abby, tell this young father to give his small sons patience and affection before it's too late.

INDIANA FATHER

DEAR ABBY: I have been corresponding with a young man for about two years. I have been ending my letters with "love." He has been ending his with "fondly." What would you say his "fondly" means?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: His "fondly" is just a cut above "sincerely," but a long way from "love." One who signs his letters "fondly" is taking no chances on being misunderstood.

Seguin Teenager To Represent Texas

NEW BRAUNFELS, Tex. (AP)—Peggy Guttery, 18, of Seguin will represent Texas in the National Junior Miss Pageant at Mobile, Ala., March 7-15.

She won the Texas Junior Miss competition over 23 other teen-aged girls here Saturday night.

Last year's Texas winner, Barbara Specht of New Braunfels, was named second runner-up in the national contest.

Betty Ann Macik, 17, of Angleton was runnerup in the Texas pageant. Pam French, 17, of Weatherford was second runner-up. Sally Brownfield, 17, of Waco and Kathryn Urbanek, 17, of Taylor finished in that order.

The scholarship award was presented Rebecca Uribe of Laredo.

Someone Is Pulling The Agency's Leg

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Housing Administration says it never advised anyone that wearing miniskirts in cold weather could result in chubby legs.

But the agency says someone is pulling its leg.

An FHA spokesman said someone using agency stationary issued a false memo warning female employes their legs would grow fat if their dresses were short in cold weather. The bogus advice later appeared in the news media.

gathering mission.

"This of course," Kirkpatrick writes, "was the start of what became a tragic example of the U.S. Government saying just about every wrong thing that could have been said for the occasion."

Today, two years after he left the CIA's No. 3 post to teach political science at Brown University, Kirkpatrick assesses the CIA as well-run, amply supervised by the President and leading policy makers and essential to America's survival.

His 301-page account deals with successive reorganizations of U.S. intelligence efforts and his experiences ranging from wartime service under Gen. Omar Bradley to the troubles with Cuba.

Writing of the Bay of Pigs, Kirkpatrick maintains the catastrophe occurred not because of the CIA itself, but through failure to use CIA resources to obtain an objective intelligence judgment divorced from those carrying out the operation.

"It was essentially the same group of people processing the intelligence, planning the operation, selling the project to policymakers, and finally directing the final effort," he says.

"It was a classic example of the correctioness of those who maintain that there should be a clear separation between those who evaluate intelligence and those who mount operations based on that intelligence."

The optimism that characterized the operation's planning stages turned to pessimism shortly before the 1,443-man invading brigade got under way, he says.

"But the 'operators' had a very strong conviction" he adds, "that f for any reason the operation did not go through, the Cuban brigade would either act on its own or mutiny; or create such a disturbance that it would be more serious than even a failure of the operations."

Consequently, he says, "the decision was to go ahead."

High Court Nixes Oath

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled today the Texas loyalty oath for teachers and other state employes was an unconstitutional infringement on freedom of association.

Rejecting an appeal by the state, the court affirmed a ruling by a federal court in Dallas that the law is invalid. This is the sixth state loyalty oath law found unconstitutional by the Supreme Court. The others were Arizona, Florida, Maryland, New York and Washington.

The Texas law barred payment of state funds to anyone who did not certify that he was not a member of the Communist party or of any other organization declared subversive by the U.S. attorney general.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin of Texas said in the appeal states may inquire into past and present membership in an organization to determine if prospective state employes are reliable, trustworthy and loyal.

Snyderite's Mother Dies

Funeral service was set for 2 p.m. today at the Nolan Methodist Church near Sweetwater for Mrs. Odos S. Moore. Mrs. Moore died early Sunday in Simmons Hospital in Sweetwater. She was the mother of Mrs. Wayne Tyrone of Snyder.

Also surviving are the husband; a son, Carl Moore of Nolan, and another daughter, Mrs. L. R. Cross of Plainview; five grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

The Rev. Charles Byers and the Rev. Harry Haynes were to officiate at the funeral service. Burial was to be in Slaters Chapel Cemetery at Nolan.

Three Prisoners Die In Jail Blaze

DAYTON, Tenn. (AP) — Three prisoners died, three persons were injured seriously and some 25 others were overcome by smoke when fire swept through Rhea County jail at about midnight Sunday.

Dead of burns and smoke inhalation were Robert Hensley, Ralph Youther and Glenn Leacham. All were inmates.

In a hospital in serious condition were Roy Lee, Andrew Cawart and Woodrow Sneed. Lee and Sneed were prisoners; Cawart was described as "homeless, staying in the jail.

Files For Reelection

AUSTIN (AP) — Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin announced today as a democratic candidate for re-election.

Martin, 51, was elected to his first term in 1966, defeating former state Sen. Franklin Spears of San Antonio. Previously, Martin was secretary of state from 1963 until his resignation for the 1966 campaign. He was state senator from Hillsboro from 1949 to 1963.

Martin said he and his staff had written about 200 official opinions on legal problems presented by state and county officials since he assumed office. He noted that he established the Crime Prevention Division in the attorney general's department as one of his first official acts.

He also created the Water Division to handle the complex problems of water law and water pollution. This fall he created the Anti-Trust and Consumer Protection Division, which oversees enforcement of the new consumer credit code.

4 Felonies Yield Little

Four felonies produced very little for the effort here over the weekend, the Snyder Police Department reported.

A total of $5.70 was reported missing from two soft drink vending machines, while two others were empty. In fact, one of the machines "hit" by the burglars was in a vacant service station at 812 Twenty-fifth Street, and another machine, at White Star Laundry, 811 Twenty-sixth, had neither coins nor drinks on hand. Missing was $5 in coins from a vending machine at the Eugenia Dávila Gulf Station, 1011 Twenty-fifth Street, and 70 cents in coins from a vending machine at the Myers Texaco Station, in the 900 block of Twenty-fifth.

Louisiana Aid Law Unconstitutional

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court found unconstitutional today a 1962 Louisiana law that authorized payments to parents of children in private, nonsectarian schools.

A federal court in New Orleans held last August that the purpose of the law was to continue segregated education in the state. It ruled the law in violation of the constitution's "equal protection" guarantee, saying Louisiana was illegally promoting private discrimination.

The Supreme Court, acting on a motion by the Justice Department, affirmed the three-judge court's ruling.

CAB To Decide On New Airline

By ROBERT HEARD

AUSTEN (AP) — Titans of the air closed ranks today in an effort to shoot down Air Southwest, a fledgling airline not yet airborne but backed by some of Texas' wealthiest men.

Air Southwest, which wants to fly jets between Dallas-Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio for what it says will be a 20 per cent reduction in fares, began presenting its case to a Texas Aeronautics Commission hearing board.

The commission will decide at the end of the hearing, expected to last several days, whether to grant Air Southwest a certificate to operate the interstate commuter service.

Braniff, Trans Texas and Continental all oppose Air Southwest's application. NASA Commuter Airlines also opposes it.

Nearly half of the 50 or more persons in the hearing room were lawyers, some from as far away as Los Angeles and New York.

Jack M. Brown of San Antonio, president of the new airline, testified for more than an hour on direct examination, then fielded questions on cross-examination from rows of lawyers for the other airlines.

Brown testified he had 37 years' experience in air transportation, including executive positions with Northeast, Colonial, Tucker, Saudi Arabian and Aloha airlines. Aloha, his most recent employer, had 32 per cent of the Hawaiian market when he joined it, he said. Today it has 46 per cent.

Brown said, after Air Southwest's objection to a question was overruled, that he has a two-year contract with the firm at $27,000 a year, plus expenses. He said he did not own stock in the new firm.

He said the pre-operational cost for Air Southwest would be about $377,000, and that for the first year the costs would be an estimated $6,650.

The firm hopes to begin operation, if granted a TAC certificate, in time to serve Hemis-Fair this spring.

Among company directors are John D. Murchison, Charles Kuhn and Robert S. Strauss, all of Dallas; John M. Parker and John Peace, both of San Antonio; and Ralph H. McCullough of Houston.

Non-director shareholders include Dolph Briscoe Jr. of Uvalde; Jake Jacobsen of Austin; George R. Brown and Fayez Sarofin, both of Houston; and Richard E. Goldsmith, John P. Henderson, Philip D. LeMeus-surier, Robert S. Morris, Alfred W. Negley, Fred W. Shield and Curtis Vaughn Jr., all of San Antonio.

The firm would have $400,000 headquarters in San Antonio.

Policemen To School

Two members of the Snyder Police force will take a course scheduled Jan. 29 at Howard County Junior College, Chief Stephen Clark said today.

The course will be offered in cooperation with the Texas A&M University.

"This is a program designed to further the continuous service training of law and procedure in the Snyder Police Dept., said Chief Clark.

Scheduled to attend from Snyder are Patrol Sgt. H. E. Woolsey and Patrol Sgt. W. J. McKenzie.

GIFT TEA — Miss Marie Van Nest, bride-elect of Jim Sullenger was honored with a gift tea Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Herbert McKinley, 1910 Forty-second Street. The honoree's colors of blue and white were used in the decor with a centerpiece of blue and silver flowers centering the lace covered table. Hostesses for the occasion were Mmes. Herb McKinley, Lynn Fenton, Ralph Price, Bob Terry, Ray Summers, Frank Pruitt, Mozell Roggenstein, Orin Sturdivant, Skipper Joyce, Paul Moore, W. H. Rainwater, Clarence Moore, L. F. Brown, L. L. Moody, Ronald Stokes, and Louie Minton. Pictured above from left, Mrs. Bob Van Nest, mother of the honoree, the bride-elect, Mrs. G. K. Fambro, mother of the prospective groom, and Mrs. R. E. Warren, grandmother of the groom-to-be.

SPRING STYLE IDEAS of designers favored by our First Ladies, from left, John Moore, chosen to make Mrs. Lyndon Johnson's inaugural gown, has designed this blue chiffon sleeveless dress with blue patterned knit jersey coat and matching pillbox; Mrs. John F. Kennedy's chosen designer created this red wool costume with red silk striped bow; Mamie Eisenhower's favorite Mollie Parnis made the white lace cocktail costume with pale blue bodice, Adele Simpson, another favorite of Lady Bird's made the gray worsted suit with slim tunic skirt.

Fashion Nobility Gets New Members

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Without a doubt the greatest compliment in the career of an American designer is to be chosen to dress the wife of the President of the United States.

It helps when the First Lady who does the selecting has youth, beauty, unquestionable taste and the great sense of style of Mrs. John F. Kennedy. Oleg Cassini can vouch for that.

But not all that is necessary. Although Mamie Eisenhower loves clothes she did not have the glowing youth of Mrs. Kennedy to carry her off as a national fashion symbol. Nevertheless, her choice of Mollie Parnis styles did much to project the designer into the ranks of garment district nobility.

Now Mrs. Lyndon Johnson has elected not to limit the laurels but to scatter them a little. The practical First Lady deplores being a slave to fashion. On the other hand, she appreciates the political importance of being impeccably costumed.

In any event, her clothing selections inevitably will attract a world of attention to her designers, the few chosen with the aid of chic Mrs. Angier Biddle Duke, wife of the U.S. Chief of Protocol. It figures that whatever they create in this favorable limelight will influence fashion as a whole.

John Moore, who designed Lady Bird's inauguration gown, which is destined for Smithsonian Institution after its historical public appearance, is an example of that. According to a fashion trade publication, as soon as the word was out women were buying up all the John Moore labels they could spy.

That Lady Bird wears Adele Simpson, and Norman Norell does not hurt the stock of these designers either.

Just how much effect the new royalty will have on fashion this spring has now been checked out by the nation's style writers.

Some of the looks reviewed were:

SCHOOL GIRL — White starched collars and cuffs, ruffled or crisply tailored, accent dark, neat linens. Skirts are deep pleated. Waistlines anywhere.

OLD FASHIONED GIRL — Fabrics are sheer, colors delicate, prints dainty, styles like grandmother's with long sleeves, high necks, petite waistlines. Borrowed from the English mods is crocheting detail.

SWINGER. . Skirts are above the knees. Dresses often deep pleated from the neckline and without waistline, worn with zany hosiery, or sandals with strings wrapped to the knees.

CAREER GIRL. . . Daytime suits are trim with action pleats, longer jackets usually double - breasted. Coats are skinny and usually short enough to create a tunic effect over matching sheaths. Silk print dresses or blouses and matching linings make a come-back.

PARTY GIRL — Glitter is at a minimum. Gauzy clouds of giant - patterned but delicately colored material drape to the floor or end in a swirl at the knees. Some necklines plunge to the navel but most ball gowns are surprisingly modest after a year of barely there fashions.

What's So Bad About A Birthday?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — I have heard a number of people laughing lately and find it somewhat puzzling.

What in the world can anyone find to laugh about in a year in which I'll be 57 years old?

Certainly it is no laughing matter to me. On the other hand, it isn't anything to cry about either.

The advent of a birthday, even to a child, always stirs one to philosophic musings. But the approach of a 57th natal anniversary produces no stunning enlightenments, even though at 57 one is certainly getting nearer heaven.

And it leaves the rest of mankind completely unimpressed. If you tell a friend your 57th birthday is coming up, he will look at you as if you were mildly daft and then ask, "So what else is new?"

But on the vague possibility that someone might have a curiosity about how life is at 57, here is the way it seems to one who has reached that niche of mortality:

The condition of the weather fascinates you more than debates on the future of the miniskirt.

When a shoestring breaks you don't throw it away. You tie it together and go right on wearing it.

You'd rather be remembered on your birthday than at Christmas.

When you see your picture in your old high school or college yearbook, the face reminds you of someone you used to know well but now have pretty much forgotten.

You get more real pleasure out of reading a seed catalog than a naughty new novel.

The snows of today are nowhere near as deep as those that fell in your youth, but for some reason they are harder to wade through.

It worries your wife if you get your feet wet.

Even if a football game is close, you leave the stadium five minutes before it is over so that you won't get caught in the mob.

You become adjusted to the idea that indigestion is just a normal way of life.

As you visit the dentist less often—after all, there isn't much left for him to work on—you visit the doctor more.

Whenever some bright young whiz kid comes up with a new suggestion during an office conference, you snicker inside. It is old stuff to you. You can remember at least three other times during your career when that same suggestion was advanced and discarded.

It annoys you now and then when you start to look around for your bifocals and discover you already have them on.

No one who has a better job than you worries that you may take it away from him. If you were going to do it, you'd have done it by now.

The social graces don't trouble you so much. If you feel like scratching in public, you go right ahead and scratch in public.

It flatters you when your daughter tells you, "I know you ought to take off some of that weight, Dad, but if you did there wouldn't be as much of you to love."

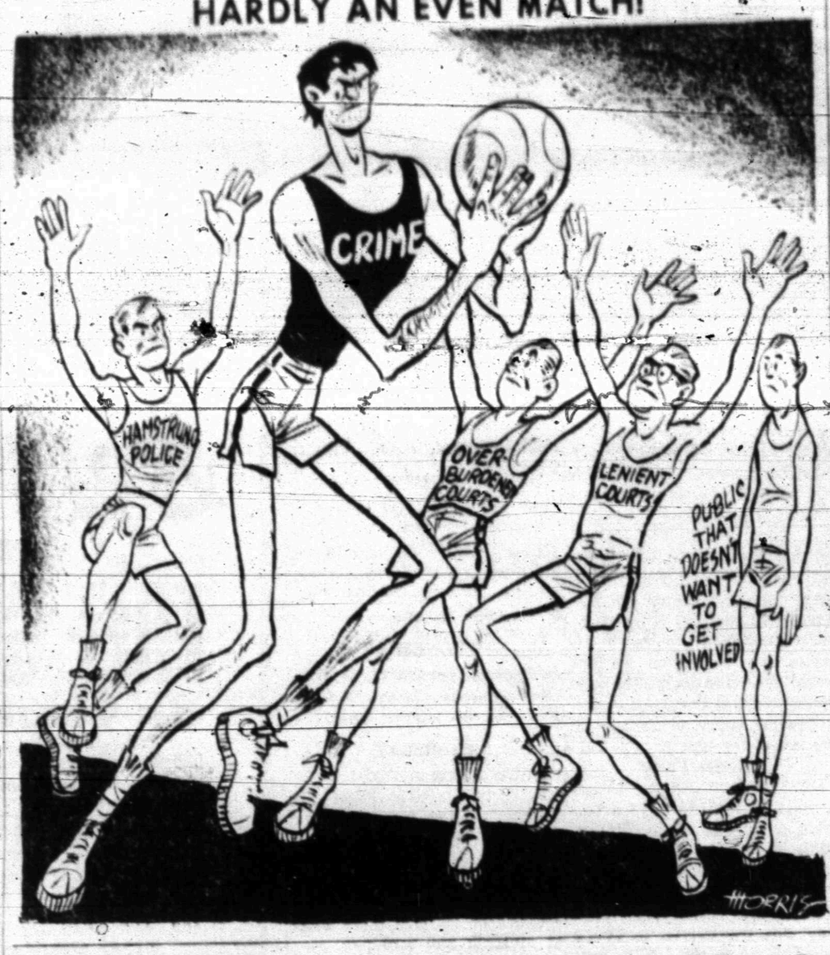

The sight of a bed of flowers in spring can startle your heart with a sudden feeling of beauty that brings you close to tears.

You don't lose your temper so often over small crises, because you are by now resignedly aware that life consists largely in the confronting and surviving of small crises.

You find more things to be grateful for than to envy or regret.

So what's so bad about being 57?

HARDLY AN EVEN MATCH!

Political Uncertainties Mark Opening Of Election Year

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — As it opens this is perhaps the most uncertain political year in this century.

First, there are the not unusual, strictly political uncertainties: It seems sure but is not positive President Johnson will seek re-election; right now it's anybody's guess who the Republican candidate will be.

Then there's the problem which provides an uncertainty at the start of every presidential election year: How good a job will Congress do?

Since this is a Democratic-run Congress, a good record will help Johnson or any Democrat running in his place. A bad one would be a monkey on the party's back.

But then there are two extraordinarily unusual uncertainties which may be the deciding factors in the election: The Vietnam war and Negro riots.

If Johnson could bring the war to a satisfactory end before the election, it might be all he'd need to win. If the war drags on, there's no predicting the effect on him.

More Negro riots, and probably worse than in 1967, look likely if only because no great steps have been taken to prevent them. One of them might even occur during the Democratic convention in Chicago next August.

Public reaction to the riots, and what Johnson does or fails to do about them, will inevitably be reflected in next November's voting.

Only one president in this century, Franklin D. Roosevelt, sought re-election in the midst of a war. At that time this was no handicap to him. The country was totally dedicated to crushing fascism.

There was no war when President Harry S. Truman ran the first time in 1948 and was elected. But the Korean war was two years old, with no end in sight, when he had to decide about running a second time in 1952. By then he was under heavy criticism about Korea.

So far in these early days of the 1968 election year, Johnson hasn't said yes or no about trying again. That's not unusual. It was a lot later than this in 1952 when Truman decided he wouldn't make a second try.

He didn't announce his noncandidacy until March 29, 1952, which was 18 days after he lost the New Hampshire primary to a fellow Democrat, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

In a way Kefauver was to Truman—but in a much stronger way—what another Democrat, Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota, is to Johnson now. Kefauver really wanted to be president.

The same can't be said about McCarthy. There's a fog over his intentions and has been since last Nov. 30 when he said he would go into some presidential primaries.

It certainly isn't clear whether, if he did well in the primaries, he would go on to try for the Democratic nomination. He almost certainly has no chance for it.

Right now his purpose seems to be to put enough pressure on Johnson to make him soften his Vietnam policy. But if this doesn't work, what will he do?

A Junior Editors Quiz About PARROTS

QUESTION: How does a parrot talk?

* * *

ANSWER: We speak because we make sounds in our voice box or larynx and control the sound with the tongue, mouth and lips. Birds also have a larynx, but they have another special sound organ, the syrinx, with membranes which vibrate when air is forced across them. Through this process, birds make notes and calls. Birds can communicate with one another through sound. A parrot or parakeet may, for example, give low notes which their companions will take to mean danger. There are many birds which like to imitate the calls of others. The parrot, especially the Amazon parrot, has a remarkable gift for mimicry. What enables a parrot to imitate human speech so closely is the fact that inside his lower bill, as you can see in our last illustration, is a thick tongue. He can use this to make different qualities of sound, although, of course, the poor fellow hasn't the faintest idea of what he is talking about. Try making a cardboard parrot as suggested in left picture. Draw on cardboard, cut out and color as shown, putting a weight on the bottom. The notch will enable Polly to sit on your finger.

Gold-Dollar Link May Be Removed

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A request to Congress to remove the last domestic link between gold and the dollar—the so-called gold cover—could come this week in President Johnson's State of the Union message.

Key administration officials decline to say when the request might be made but Johnson hinted he might move on it soon in his New Year's day announcement of a program to cut the overseas dollar drain by $3 billion this year.

Johnson said all the nation's gold will be available to back the dollar.

The only way this can happen is to remove the gold cover—the requirement that each $1 in federal reserve notes, the only paper money now circulated, must be backed by 25 cents in gold.

Chairman William McChesney Martin Jr. of the Federal Reserve Board last year urged quick removal of the gold cover to serve notice the nation is willing to use its last ounce of gold to defend the dollar.

Administration officials agreed with Martin's basic reasoning but not on the timing.

Johnson is expected in his State of the Union message Wednesday to review the new balance-of-payments program which includes investment control and a possible tourism tax on Americans traveling abroad.

Removing the gold cover would reinforce the program although in itself would have no effect on the flow of dollars abroad.

Another possible hint on administration thinking came Sunday from Walter Heller, former chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers. He called for removing the gold cover and for abandoning gold as a world money metal.

Heller was interviewed on NBC's "Meet the Press" radio-television program.

Only Belgium, Switzerland and South Africa among major nations now have any type of gold cover on currency. Even France, where the love for gold is unquestioned, requires no gold backing for domestic money.

The U.S. gold cover now ties up about $10.5 billion worth of the metal.

The Federal Reserve Board said its latest figures show the nation's money gold stock early this month totaled 27.3 per cent of the $42 billion in federal reserve notes in circulation.

This left about $1.5 billion—the gold stock is now roughly $12 billion—for sales to foreign governments demanding gold for dollars and to supply the London market.

The United States provides 59 per cent of the gold sold in London and part of a seven-nation pool which also includes the United Kingdom, Belgium, the Netherlands, West Germany, Switzerland and Italy.

The only key to removing the gold cover are political and psychological.

Until 1945, the cover was 40 per cent on currency and 35 per cent on bank reserves. It was dropped in that year to 25 per cent on both.

In 1965, the cover on bank reserves was eliminated and some members of Congress wondered at that time why the entire gold backing wasn't dropped.

The real strength behind the dollar is the nation's economy and not the gold supply.

Silt Chokes Haiphong Port

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communists are being forced to rely heavily on small ships to supply North Vietnam because silt is choking channels and waterways leading into the major port of Haiphong, U.S. intelligence sources say.

They said this means the Communists must use many more vessels than previously.

In peacetime, the approaches to Haiphong were kept open for big ships by constant dredging of the approaches.

But the sources said Sunday the Communists apparently are having increasing difficulty carrying out the necessary amount of dredging. They gave no reason for this except to cite "war time conditions."

"Silting has become a real problem," one expert said. "Haiphong is a bad harbor to get into.

"You see very few of the bigger ships going in these days. North Vietnam needs small ships."

Vessels up to 10,000 tons used to be common sights in the Haiphong harbor, the sources said, but now ships in the 5,000-6,000 ton range and smaller are needed to haul petroleum, food and other cargo to support the Communist war effort.

Statistics on merchant ship arrivals in North Vietnam show Soviet vessels called there 185 times in 1967—more than twice as many times as in 1965 and an increase of 63 times over 1966.

Experts said this was traceable in part to the requirement for smaller ships as well as an increase in Soviet aide to North Vietnam.

Normally secret shipping statistics, made public by Rep. Charles Chamberlain, R-Mich., show the number of non-Communist ship arrivals rose slightly last year. The 1967 total reached 78 arrivals, an increase of 4 over 1966 but still well down from the peak of 401 in 1964.

The United States has applied steady pressure against allies and other non-Communist countries in an effort to cut off this source of shipping to North Vietnam.

Fashions In 'No Color' For Spring

By LEONORA DODSWORTH
AP Fashion Writer

ROME (AP) — There was a snowstorm at the Valentino fashion show Sunday night. Scores of snow-white outfits left no doubt that this "no color" is going to be the Italian rage for spring.

Valentino's models were icily elegant from their slouched white berets to their white pumps trimmed with gold "V for Valentino" buckles.

He showed V-necked fabric pullovers, cardigans and jumpers, pulled down long and belted over skirts pleated all around. Long white silk scarves were knotted round the neck with their ends trailing down to the floor at the back.

It was a casual look but poised, easy and elegant.

The costumes dripped with details. There were nature-lover touches like belts made of polished wood knobs linked with chains, tiny pine cones embroidered on a white linen blouse, real oak leaves ringed with rhinestones on a white party dress, facsimile feather prints curling realistically on a cream wool pantsuit, coral branches set in gold and encrusted on a white silk coat. As handled by Valentino, they were artistic, never arty crafty.

White outnumbered other shades by 10 to 1. A sprinkling of pale fawn, honey blonde, cream, oatmeal, navy and black were his only relaxations of the all-white rule.

Bedouins of the Sahara still prize salt as if it were gold and use it as currency.

Defense Is 'The' Game At Baylor

By RAYMOND HOLBROOK
Associated Press Writer

Long before the current Southwest Conference basketball race got underway, Baylor coach Bill Menefee said "Our problem is scoring . . . We hope to offset our lack of scoring with a stronger defense."

Scoring is still a problem for the Bears. In conference play they have averaged only 73.33 points per game for sixth place in scoring in the eight-member league.

But the Baylor defense—early 10 points per game tighter than any other team in the loop—has the Bears comfortably out in front with a perfect 3-0 record to lead the conference race.

The importance of defense is also pointed up by the fact that the four teams in the top division have the best marks in keeping their opponents from sinking baskets.

Baylor has allowed its conference opponents an average of only 61.66 points per game. Rice tied for second place, has allowed 71 points, fourth place Texas Christian 72.66 points, and Texas, tied for second, 75.5 points.

Fifth place Arkansas has allowed 75.75 points per game. Southern Methodist and Texas A&M, tied for sixth, have allowed 77.5 and 78.75 respectively, while last place Texas Tech has given up an average of 80.75 points.

The Aggies lead in scoring with an average of 79.5 points in league games. Texas has averaged 78.5, Texas Christian 76.66 Rice 75.5, Southern Methodist 73.75, Baylor 73.33, Arkansas 72.5 and Texas Tech 67.75.

The Bears beat Arkansas 80-69 last Tuesday and can take it easy until their next conference game on Jan. 27. In other games last week Texas A&M beat Tech 94-81, Rice slipped past Southern Methodist 73-71, Texas edged Texas Christian 66-65, Rice walloped Texas Tech 81-68, Southern Methodist outlasted the Aggies 78-77, and Arkansas whipped Texas 85-80.

Only two games, one a non-conference affair, are slated for this week. The Aggies will be in Austin for a game with Texas Tuesday night while Texas Tech meets an outside foe, Texas at Arlington, in a Saturday afternoon game at Lubbock which will be regionally televised.

METHODICAL PACKERS IN BREEZE

NFL Still Superior League

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Professional football's second Super Bowl is history and Green Bay's old pro Packers are still on top of the hill.

The Packers methodically destroyed the upstart Oakland Raiders 33-14 Sunday with Bart Starr's brilliant play-calling and Don Chandler's educated toe doing the bulk of the work.

The victory was a study in balance for the Packers, who got solid defense to go with Starr's ball-control offense.

Someone asked Coach Vince Lombardi who would get the game ball and the Packer leader responded with his famous toothy grin.

"The game ball?" Lombardi laughed. "I got it, and it's right over there," he said, nodding at the sterling silver football that sits atop the trophy emblematic of football's world championship.

The game started as if the Packers would breeze and when it finished, they had.

Chandler kicked field goals from 39 and 20 yards out and then Starr and Boyd Dowler combined for a 62-yard scoring pass in the second quarter and a 13-0 Green Bay lead.

Dowler caught Starr's pass over the middle at the Oakland 35 and outran Rodger Bird to score. He later revealed that he was a secondary receiver on the play.

"Carroll Dale was the primary man on the other side," Dowler said. But the Raiders were blitzing on the play and that made the difference. "When Oakland came with the blitz," said Starr, "it meant there was single coverage on Boyd. He beat Kent McCloughan inside."

With the Raiders seemingly ready to be finished off, the Packers let them off the hook. Daryle Lamonica finally got Oakland's offense moving and hit Bill Miller with a 23-yard scoring pass.

"It was typical of the way we've played all year," said Lombardi. "We got a 13-or 14-point lead and then we go on vacation."

The Raiders seemed ready for more late in the first half when Donny Anderson punted and Bird called for a fair catch. But he dropped the ball and rookie Dick Capp, added to the Packer roster in midweek, recovered for Green Bay.

Three plays later, with just six seconds left in the half, Chandler kicked his third field goal — this one from the 43. "Tha was the one we wanted," the balding, 33-year-old placekicker said. "It meant a nine-point halftime lead instead of six."

Although they were trailing, the Raiders were far from discouraged. "We had complete confidence at halftime," said Coach John Rauch. "We'd come back like that often during the season before."

But the Raiders hadn't played the Packers before.

Green Bay kept the pressure on and soon it was 23-7 on Anderson's two-yard plunge. Starr keyed the 82-yard drive when he hit veteran Max McGee, the hero of last year's Super Bowl, with a 35-yard pass in a third-and-inches situation at the Green Bay 40.

McGee, 35, who announced his retirement after the game, said, "The old man couldn't quit without catching just one more. This is it. I'm retired as of now and, no, he won't talk me out of it this time."

McGee also said he was quitting after the Packers' 35-10 Super Bowl victory over Kansas City last year. But Lombardi convinced him to return this season.

Chandler's fourth field goal of the game, with two seconds left in the period, made it 26-7. The 31-yarder hit the cross bar going over.

Now the Raiders had to open it up — and Green Bay was waiting. Herb Adderley picked off Lamonica's pass and raced 60 yards for a fourth quarter TD. When Lamonica hit Miller for his second score of the game, it was much too little, much too late.

"The Packers never change," said Billy Cannon, the Raiders' tight end. "They just come at you and beat you."

"It was a day of learning," said Lamonica, who completed 15 of 34 for 208 yards compared to Starr's 13 for 24 for 202. "We're a good, young ball club. We'll be back."

Lombardi refused to compare this year's Green Bay team with some of his others. "I will say this," he said. "The history of the Packers is in the future, as great as it has been in the past."

Lombardi, rumored ready to give up coaching, didn't say whether he would be a part of that future. "It would be foolish for me to try to make any kind of decision at this time. I'm going to take about three days off and do absolutely nothing. What I think I will do is give Vince Lombardi a good, hard look."

Winning was worth $15,000 to each Packer while each losing Raider took home $7,500. Ben Wilson, Green Bay's hard-running fullback, made a bit less than his teammates though.

Wilson lost a contact lens in the final moments of the game. "It will cost $43.50 to replace," he said, "but I think I can afford it."

'ANYTHING' DID HAPPEN

Pott Pockets Prize

By ROBERT MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The first time Johnny Pott played the 15th hole at Pebble Beach Sunday he won confidence.

The second time he won $16,000 and victory in the Bing Crosby Golf Tournament.

His 25-foot chip for a birdie was the money shot but he thought a blast out of the sand an hour earlier and 10 feet away was better.

"I hit a good chip," said the happy 32-year-old from Broadwater Beach, Miss., after whipping Billy Casper and Bruce Devlin in a sudden-death playoff. "But the shot out of the sand on the 15th was a great shot."

Pott—if they had held a vote—would have won the "most unlikely to make a playoff" plaque after 10 holes of the final day of Bing's $104,500. clambake. He had blown a three-stroke lead at the start of Sunday's play and was four strokes down to Casper and three to Devlin.

"I never did get dejected," Pott said. "I wasn't doing anything right but anything can happen."

It did. After four bogeys through 10, John said he began to get the feeling. On 12, he sank a 12-footer for a birdie—"the first thing I'd really done right all day." Then came No. 15—the later scene of his playoff—and he hit his second shot into a trap alongside the green.

Confidence regained, he birdied 16 and 17 and came home with a four-day score of 285, equal to Casper and Devlin.

Pott and his playoff mates went back to friendly 15, first hole of the sudden death. On their second shots, Casper knocked his ball six feet from the pin, Devlin was 50 feet away on the edge of the green and Pott, with an 8-iron, was in a little ridge of fringe grass to the right—a couple of club lengths from Johnny's earlier "great shot."

"I had a pretty good feeling . . . I thought I might make it," he said.

Casper missed his six-footer and Pott, smiling his best toothsome smile, was a tournament champion for the first time since 1963.

He also got $2,700 for winning the pro-amateur title with partner Virgil Sherrill, a New York stockbroker. They had a four-day best-ball total of 253, four strokes ahead of Casper and amateur Bob Dickson.

Casper and Devlin split the second and third pro division money for $7,800 apiece.

Pott, who led the tournament after the second and third rounds—playing Pebble Beach, Cypress Point and treacherous Spyglass Hill—saw his putter fail him on the opening holes Sunday.

He three-putted two holes and overshot the green on another to make the nine-hole turn three-over par for the day.

Pott also three-putted the 10th.

Casper put together three birdies on the front nine to whiz past Pott—he trailed Johnny by three going into the round—and birdied 10 to all but seal Pott. Then Billy's putter began to fail. In five holes on the back side he missed birdie putts.

Devlin had strated three strokes back of Pott Sunday in the first tournament of his comeback effort after a disastrous 1967. He passed Johnny and built a one-stroke margin over Casper until he overshot the 15th green and took a bogey.

Cagers Face Crucial Week

Another crucial week is on tap for local basketball teams, with the Tigers facing two formidable opponents and junior high quintets headed for tournament play.

The Tigers go to Sweetwater Tuesday night for a District game. The B teams will clash at 6:15 p.m. and the varsity battle will tipoff at 8.

Tonight, Lamar 8th and 9th grade teams go to Lamesa for games, while Travis 9th visits Post. At Lamesa, the 8th grade game will begin at 5:30 p.m. and the 9th grade game will start at 5:45, the latter tilt being scheduled in the high school gym and the 8th grade game in the Lamesa Junior High gym. The Travis game at Post is booked for 6 p.m.

Local 9th grade teams will host their own tournament here Friday and Saturday. The tournament this year will be held in the Travis gym.

The Tigers, on the road for the final three games of the first half of the District 3-AAA season, will go to Lubbock Friday night to face the Dunbar Panthers. The Tigers are deadlocked with Lamesa's defending state champions for the first half leadership in the league.

Seventh graders were scheduled to play at 4 p.m. today in the Lamar gym, with Lamar Red facing Travis Blue in the first game and Lamar Gray meeting Travis White in the second game.

Ski Hopes Are Lifted

WENGEN, Switzerland (AP) — Strong performances under trying condition by Spider Sabich and Billy Kidd have lifted U.S. Olympic ski hopes in the latest of a series of international tests prepartory to the Winter Games.

Sabich, of Kyburz, Calif., and Kidd, of Stowe, Vt., placed eighth and 10th, respectively, in Sunday's Auberhorn special slalom won by Dumeng Giovanoli of Switzerland on a 66-gate course made treacherous by pouring rain and a sharp rise in temperature.

Rick Chaffe of Rutland, Vt., finished 36th in the event but five other Americans — and French sensation Jean Claude Killy — were among 42 entrants disqualified after falling or missing gates.

Kidd, timed in 1:58.75 in the special slalom, placed sixth in the combined standings, which included Saturday's downhill race. Sabich was seventh in combined points after clocking 1:58.54 in Sunday's race. Austria's Gerhard Nenning, the downhill winner, captured the over-all title.

Houston Wheatley's Record Tops State

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — A statewide tabulation shows Houston Wheatley, with a 23-0 record, leads Class AAAA schoolboy basketball teams in Texas.

Others in the top 20, as compiled by the Amarillo Daily News for all games through Saturday night, are Corpus Christi Carroll 21-2, Dallas Kimball 20-2, San Antonio Brackenridge 18-2, Pampa 18-2, Fort Worth Terrell 17-2, San Antonio Highlands 15-2, Beaumont Charlton-Pollard 15-2, Dallas Pinkston 22-3, Dallas Samuell 21-3, Houston Worthing 21-3, Temple 13-2, Lubbock Monterey 19-3, San Antonio Edgewood 19-3, Austin McCallum 18-3 Dallas Jefferson 19-4, Houston Waltrip 23-5, Spring Branch Memorial 18-4, Irving 18-4, and Deer Park 20-5.

Bradley Halts Louisville's 'Runaway'

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Other Missouri Valley basketball coaches and teams were given a reprieve Saturday night as coach Joe Sowell's Bradley Braves rescued them from a Louisville runaway by upsetting the Cards 70-68 at Peoria.

Bradley and Louisville are tied for first with 4-1 records and it's a six-team race, with Drake and Tulsa both 3-1, Cincinnati 2-1 and Wichita 3-2.

The question remains, however, whether Bradley can get the road victories it needs to become a prime title threat. An answer may come Tuesday night when Bradley plays at Cincinnati. Bradley is 0-1 on the road.

Bradley is a small team by major college standards with a pair of 6-foot guards and a front line of 6-4, 6-5 nd 6-6. The 6-6 man, Joe Allen, plays with a heavy brace on his leg, but hits better than 70 per cent of his shots.

The team's great jumping ability is a factor.

Tulsa, the nation's top defensive team, lost the ball 26 times to a North Texas press but made 61 per cent of its shots and won 61-58 at Tulsa for Joe Swank's 100th coaching victory.

Bruins, Cougars Head For Basketball's Super Bowl

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The final countdown has begun for college basketball's version of the Super Bowl—the collision between UCLA and Houston in the Astrodome Saturday. The big question now is: will Lew Alcindor be ready for the blast off?

Some 50,000 people—an all-time record for a college game will swarm into the building to watch the clash between the No. 1 ranked Bruins and No. 2 rated Cougars, but an eye injury to Alcindor has left them and the rest of the country's cage fans wondering if big Lew will only be watching, too.

The 7-foot-1½ UCLA All-American took an accidental jab in the eye last Friday in an easy 94-64 victory over California and sat out with blurred vision in Saturday's less impressive 75-63 triumph over Stanford.

A doctor at the Stanford clinic called the injury "an extremely superficial abrasion" on the surface of the left eyeball and said Alcindor would likely be ready for Houston. More should be known by Thursday when the Bruins tune up against visiting Portland.

Several other Top Ten teams will set the stage for the big game with less heralded meetings against tough opponents.

Kentucky, 9-2, fourth ranked before its 96-78 loss at Florida Saturday night, takes on Georgia, another rough Southeastern Conference foe, tonight at Lexington, while Florida gets shots at Tennessee, No. 5, tonight in Knoxville and Saturday at home. Tennessee, 9-1, stopped Georgia 77-72 Saturday.

Utah, No. 6 with a 13-1 record after nipping Arizona 83-77 in overtime, travels to unbeaten New Mexico, No. 9, which wiped out Wyoming 81-65. Columbia, No. 10, meets Cornell Saturday after bombing Colgate 94-68 for a 10-3 mark.

Third-ranked North Carolina, 11-1, idle this week, walloped Clemson 115-83, unbeaten St. Bonaventure, No. 7, was idle and Vanderbilt, 11-3 and ranked eighth, bounced Mississippi 96-70.

Houston, 16-0, crushed West Texas 98-53 in its tune up for UCLA when the Cougars will be seeking revenge for its last loss, to the Bruins 73-58 in last year's NCAA semifinals.

No titles are at stake Saturday, but the No. 1 ranking and plenty of prestige will be up for grabs, along with another duel between Alcindor, if he plays, and Houston's 6-8 Elvin Hayes. Also hanging in the balance will be UCLA's winning streak that would stand at 47 with a victory over Portland.

The Bruins made Stanford No. 46 as Alcindor's replacement, Mike Lynn, dropped in 17 points and grabbed nine rebounds. UCLA led 46-22 at the half before the Indians rallied.

Hayes paced Houston with 31 points.

Neal Walk, 6-11, led Florida's upset over Kentucky, scoring 19 of his 28 points in the first half when the Gators took a 43-33 lead and coasted.

Reserve sophomore John Hunter scored three early overtime points that put Utah ahead to stay, and Tennessee took the SEC lead behind 22 points by Bill Justus. Larry Miller's 30 points and North Carolina's 57.8 per cent shooting from the floor stopped Clemson.

Jim McMillian scored 30 points and Dave Newmark 26 to lead Columbia. Ron Nelson had 30 for New Mexico.

Other top performances were turned in by Niagara's sterling sophomore, Cal Murphy, who scored 48 points in a 95-74 victory over Canisius, and Ron Williams, who dropped 30 ponts to lead West Virginia from 17 points down to an 89-86 overtime triumph over Davidson.

Tennis Team Wins Seven At Lubbock

The Snyder High School Tennis Team launched its spring season Saturday by winning seven matches and losing three in a five - way meet at Lubbock.

The Snyder team won all of its matches in the boys division, with No. 1 John Phillips defeating Tim Brown of Lubbock Coronado, 6-4, 6-2 and Jackie Box of Crane 6-3, 6-1. Terry Book downed Dave Marcus of Lubbock high in a marathon, 5-7, 7-5, 15-13, while Max Falls defeated Ralph Blackerby of Lubbock High, 6-2, 5-7, 6-2.

In doubles, Book and Falls defeated Hal Jordan and Pete Hall of Coronado, 6-2, 6-4.

In the girls division Linda Miller defeated Lesley Mansell of Crane, 6-3, 6-0 for a singles victory. In girls doubles Linda and Patsy Miller downed Marta Ingram and Lesley Mansell of Crane, 6-1, 6-2.

Patsy Miller lost to Nan Hudson of Lubbock High, 6-1, 6-1; Jo Ann Braziel lost to Barbara Magee of Lubbock, 6-1, 6-0, and to Pat Hamilton of Coronado, 6-0, 6-3.

The Snyder team will host a four-way meet here Jan. 27. Visiting teams will be Lubbock Coronado, Crane and Sweetwater.

MEDIATOR, ARCHITECT, ECONOMIST

Myriad Duties Of Modern Mayor

By F. RICHARD CICCONE
Associated Press Writer

The mayor used to be the smiling fellow in the silk top hat who appeared at dedications with his ceremonial scissors and at airports and train depots with huge brass keys and an outstretched hand.

The mayor had some duties in those days. He got the streets paved and promoted policemen. He kept faithful voters happy by having a few beers at the ward political clubs.

But American life has changed and the mayor's office —once among the choicest plums in the political orchard— has been drastically altered, too.

The mayor now is called upon to be an administrator, mediator, conciliator, architect, sociologist, economist, wooer of industry, seeker of funds, and even a patron of the arts as Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago proved recently by spending seven hours locked in mediating a walkout of musicians which would have canceled the city's Lyric Opera season.

Some mayors aren't at all sure they like the changes.

Says John J. Grunther, executive director of the U.S. Conference of Mayors: "When a child in a slum is bitten by a rat, his parents don't go to the Congress that defeated the antirat bill. They don't go to the governor. They go after the mayor."

Many of the problems of the modern city mayor stem from the rapid urbanization of the nation, from racial unrest— with its attendant problems of housing, schooling, poverty, slum clearance, job training and job finding—the flight of the middle-class white population to the suburbs, as well as the decay of "downtown," the inner core, which has meant serious losses in taxes.

The partial solution to some of the problems gives the mayor his biggest job: seeking money to remedy his troubles.

Unlike his predecessors, who seldom ventured from their domain, the modern mayor often finds himself in Washington seeking funds from Congress to build public housing or implement a job training program.

In some states he fights a continuous battle with state legislatures whose rural representatives couldn't care less about the city's problems.

Mayor Samuel Yorty of Los Angeles recently said, "Mayors are being made scapegoats all over the country, and in lots of ways the cities we represent have much bigger problems than the states."

Mayor DeWitt McKinley of Fort Worth, Tex., says, "First, Uncle Sam has the privilege of reaching in and taking all the tax money the national economy can stand through payroll and corporate taxes and other levies.

"Then comes the state taxes and actually, the school and water districts have preference over city taxes. So we are in a bad situation insofar as being able to do all the increased services that this fast changing urbanization calls for," McKinley said.

Why is the demand for money so great?

"Today," Daley said, "the mayor is concerned with poverty and jobs, with the kind and quality of education, with manpower training and merit employment, with civil rights and human relations, with the welfare of youth and senior citizens, with rehabilitation and renewal of neighborhoods."

These are the problems of the city. Then there are the problems of the suburbs and the city —air pollution, water pollution and transportation for the masses who live in the suburbs and work in the cities, and vice versa.

Chicago's city budget rose from $557 million in 1956, Daley's first year in office, to $725 million for 1968. The city's population total has remained fairly constant, but the people are changed and the ones who live there now need help.

Mayors are not only concerned about the social problems, they are actively involved in them.

It was Daley who engineered the summit agreement with Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., to end the long sumer of open housing marches in 1966.

Mayor John Lindsay of New York spent much of his summer walking in the slum areas, talking to the poor and the needy, letting them know he was concerned, and hopeful of preventing any racial disorders.

Today, too the mayor spends much of his time cultivating industry leaders for much of the same reasons he seeks monetary aid in Washington—to fight poverty and unemployment.

He tries to persuade them to hire and train 100 or 1,000 unemployed. A few months later he may be back in the same company's office asking the owner to promote some of those he hired.

They are not always successful.

"Many of the vested interests in Los Angeles have not got their roots here," Yorty said. "It's damned hard to get the businesses and industrial centers really interested in working out solutions to many of our problems when their headquarters are in Cleveland and Chicago. The establishment in this city could help more, too."

To create employment opportunities, city leaders must also devote some time to luring businesses to their areas. They must offer incentives such as favorable tax structures—sacrificing if necessary some of the needed tax fund.

What are the qualifications of the man who wears the silk top hat in the City Halls of the 1960s?

"The mayor now must be a strong administrator and have the ability to gather around him a staff who will innovate," seattle's Mayor J. Doran Braman said.

A Chicago politician said, "It used to be the precinct captains did all the work. Can you imagine a precinct captain running that computer in the police department? Now we have engineers, psychiatrists, sociologists and architects surrounding the mayor."

Gunther said some of the most able mayors are the men who have been in office for a number of years.

"As times have changed," he said, "they have. And for the most part, they have changed their ideas of what has to be done and how to do it. They know there are no easy answers. They know the only thing they can do is to keep trying. And the newer mayors look to these men for help."

Many mayors claim they are also in need of relief from outdated charters, political maneuvering with city councils and the city manager system.

The entanglement of city and county administration reflects the complexities a mayor faces in dealing with suburban counterparts on regional problems.

Many suburbs rely on the core city to supply specialized services in police, medical and sanitation areas, but balk at assisting the unemployment, poverty and open housing programs supported by the city.

"The mayor," Braman said, "is becoming a regional executive."

The suburbs, increasing in size and beset by many of the same evils attributed to the big city, are learning that they must cooperate, said a Chicago city official. "The only big city evil the suburbs don't have yet is poverty," he added.

Summing up the mayor's office in the year 1968, Gunther said: "The mayor's job used to be a fun kind of thing. You'd work at an office from 9 to 5. You'd go to a few dinners and you'd feel like you'd done something."

That's how it used to be.

BUSINESS and INDUSTRIAL NEWS

DIRECT FROM QUARRY — Hillside Monument Company, Snyder's newest business, purchases its own materials direct from the quarry. Here, a truck from Maxwell Granite Co. of Elberton, Ga. unloads granite for Hillside. Since there are no commissioned agents, Hillside Monument Co. is able to pass the saving directly to customers. Dial HI 3-5455 for quality, lasting memorials.

Dr. Hodge Dies Sunday

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Dr. Oliver Hodge died Sunday in an Oklahomo City hospital, 21 years and one day after he took office as the head of Oklahoma's public school system. He was 66.

"This is an irreplaceable loss," Republican Gov. Dewey Bartlett said. He ordered flags at the state capitol and all state buildings flown at half staff through Tuesday, the day of Hodge's funeral.

Death was attributed to a heart attack. Hodge had entered the hospital Wednesday for a checkup. In 1966 he suffered another heart attack that kept him out of his office for several weeks.

Hodge, a Democrat, was elected state superintendent of public instruction for his sixth consecutive four-year term in November, 1966. That year, as in 1950, 1954 and 1962, he won reelection without opposition.

Records show that the earliest skating club, formed in 1642, was the Edinburgh Skating Society, in Scotland.

Hillside Monument Works Is Area's Newest Industry

Hillside Monument Works is a new industry contributing to the growth of Scurry County.

Operated in conjunction with Bell - Seale Funeral Home and Hillside Memorial Gardens, it is a small business but just the type business Snyder needs, according to E. T. (Pat) Patterson, the president. Vice president is Bill Seale.

With modern, new facilities on the Colorado City Highway, Hillside Monument Company has 10 employes who contribute to the economy of the county. A big supply of granite recently was brought in from Maxwell Granite Co. of Elberton, Ga. Employes here design and manufacture all of the memorials in the local shop.

Hillside Monument Company also is equipped to do quality curbing in any cemetery and can place memorials in all of Scurry County's cemeteries and in cemeteries in adjacent counties. Personal memorials in granite and marble are a speciality of the company, and employes can duplicate any marker and do engraving work in all cemeteries.

Julian Talancon, an experienced designer and craftsman, moved here in November from Llano to head the design staff. He has over 15 years experience in quarries in Elberton, Ga. and in Llano. He also has attended several design schools.

Customers get a break on price since Hillside Monument Company is a locally owned and operated business.

"We purchase our materials direct from the quarry," said Patterson. Also, there are no commissioned agents since the firm has its own sales staff. These savings are passed along to the customer. In addition, easy, payment plans can be arranged.

If you want a quality memorial — one that will be a lasting tribute to a loved one — then you can get what you want at a reasonable cost from Hillside Monument Company. Just dial HI - 3-5455.

WET, COLD WEATHER BLAMED

Farm Activity At Minimum

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Texas farming activities last week generally were limited to livestock feeding and a few chores. Widespread rain, a lot in the frozen form, low temperatures and boggy fields kept outside work at a minimum, said John E. Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Sunshine and warmer weather would materially brighten the agricultural picture, he said, since adequate moisture is available in many sections for land preparation and growth of winter weeds and grass. Livestock feeding increased to offset the effects of the dampness and low temperatures.

Some cotton is still in the fields in spotted areas of the west, northwest and west central counties.

The district agricultural agents gave these summaries:

Moisture continues short over the Panhandle. The short moisture and extremely cold weather stopped the growth of dryland wheat and some areas reported greenbug damage. Cattle feeding is continuing. Land preparation is done as weather permits.

Less than five per cent of the South Plains cotton crop is yet to be harvested and wheat is making little progress due to the cold and need for moisture. Greenbug damage is occurring. Range cattle feeding is heavy.

The Rolling Plains moisture situation is spotted. Half of the counties have adequate moisture while the remainder need it. The cold stopped all outdoor activities except cattle feeding which increased. Small grain growth slowed and greenbug damage was reported as light to heavy in some counties. Grain mites and rust were noted. Spotted areas still have cotton to be harvested.

Small grain fields in North Central Texas are too wet to graze, and, coupled with the biting cold, stockmen have been forced to increase livestock feeding. Field work was stopped by the weather and livestock are losing weight also. Moisture is adequate.

Moisture is sufficient in Northeast Texas where the ice storm dropped power lines; damaged some stands of pines and halted all outdoor activities except cattle feeding. Cattle were still shrinking as a result of the weather. Land preparation and fertilizer distribution are behind schedule.

Cold, cloudy weather held down farming activities in far West Texas. Livestock are in fair to good condition with feeding on the increase but shrinkage was noted. Stalk shredding and land preparation are under way when weather permits.

Moisture throughout West Central Texas is adequate but small grain growth and completion of the cotton harvest was stopped by the cold and ice. Sunshine is needed on small grain to keep it growing. Pastures are above average but old grass is deteriorating and winter weed and grass growth is slow. Feeding increased. Calving and lambing are underway.

Central Texas has adequate to surplus moisture but the cold stopped all field work. Small grain which furnished good grazing prior to the weather change made little growth and some insect damage was reported. Livestock feeding is heavy. Bell, Falls, Hill and Williamson counties reported a moisture surplus.

Moisture conditions were variable in East Texas. Livestock feeding was heavy due to cold and wet weather. Land is being prepared as weather permits.

South Central Texas pastures and ranges need sunshine and warmer weather if they are to continue to furnish good grazing. Moisture ranged from adequate to surplus and all field work came to a standstill. Livestock were generally in good to fair condition with feeding widespread.

Moisture is adequate to surplus in the Upper Gulf Coast and Southeast Texas area but the slow rains did not provide runoff needed to fill stock tanks. Small grains are providing limited grazing due to the boggy conditions of fields and feeding is general. The weather stopped the vegetable harvest.

South Texas moisture is adequate in Winter Garden and Coastal Bend sectors and surplus in Cameron and Hidalgo counties. Some rust is showing up in small grains in the Winter Garden area and in Starr County. Low temperatures and moisture are holding up vegetable growth and the citrus harvest. Most Winter Garden pastures and ranges are in good condition but those in the Coastal Bend and most of the Valley counties are below average.

Thieu Asks Hanoi To De-Escalate

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu declared today that "the Communists started this war" and if they want peace, the burden of de-escalation is on them.

Thieu added that Hanoi has not indicated any softening of its long established four points for ending the Vietnam war which, he said, constitute "nothing less than a demand for our surrender to the Communists."

All possibilities for peace in Vietnam should be "thoroughly explored," the South Vietnamese president said. But "after a reasonable time, if the Communist aggressors remain adamant, heavier pressure against them will become necessary."

In a speech prepared for a meeting of the Society of Vietnamese Newspaper Editors, Thieu also defended the bombing of North Vietnam, reserved for his troops the right of pursuit of Communist forces into Cambodia if the Reds keep using it as a sanctuary and expressed his regrets that the United Nations could not play a more active peace-making role.

Thieu also had some criticism of allies of South Vietnam who he said had placed "themselves at the center of peace efforts on Vietnam . . . while such a move should be made by the government of Vietnam, as the principal party, with the support of all allied and friendly countries." He apparently was referring to the United States.

Oilmen Prepare For New Battles

By MAX B. SKELTON
AP Oil Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — The 90th Congress returns to work Monday and oilmen anticipate a busy 1968 in Washington.

Numerous industry problems are before Congress and a number of others are in various stages of development within the Supreme Court and the Interior Department.

Taxes, of course, will be a major issue.

A number of oil industry spokesmen have warned bluntly in recent months that the sharpest attack in history may develop in 1968 against oil's controversial 27½ per cent depletion tax allowance.

All segments of the industry have been asked to be prepared to offer a vigorous defense of the allowance oilmen consider so essential to the nation's petroleum reserves because of the high risk involved in explorations. The allowance has been attacked many times but has remained unchanged since being enacted by Congress in 1926.

The Senate defeated by voice vote a proposal last spring that depletion be cut on a sliding scale from 27½ per cent to 15 per cent.

A reduction bill in the House was bottled up in the Ways and Means Committee. Two congressmen circulated petitions aimed at forcing a floor vote but made little headway.

The Senate situation is rather explosive and could change from day to day but oilmen believe prospects are very good for keeping an anti-depletion measure off the House floor. About 100 other natural resources also receive depletion allowances and many congressmen fear an attack on oil could open the way for attacks on the over-all depletion principal.

Oil and gas have the maximum depletion allowance. Others range from five per cent for sand and gravel to 23 per cent for sulphur and uranium.

Congress is expected to complete action on a bill placing natural gas pipelines and distribution systems under federal safety controls.

There seems to be little chance, however, for passage of a bill backed by independent oilmen who want Congress to write into law specific limitations on oil imports. The Senate Finance Committee held hearings last year but there is little indication of further action.

Import levels currently are set by presidential proclamations and the independents want Congress to spell out the current limitation of crude imports east of the Rocky Mountains to 12.2 per cent of domestic production.

The first major Washington action of 1968 affecting the industry may come from the Supreme Court.

The court heard arguments in December on the area formula the Federal Power Commission has been developing since 1960 to control the wellhead price of natural gas sold into interstate commerce.

The case involves the vast Permian Basin of West Texas and southeastern New Mexico, the guinea pig area selected for development of basic ground rules for the formula that also will apply to 22 other producing regions.

Previous decisions by the court would indicate the FPC will receive a green light to proceed with its price control plans.

In addition to oil import controls, Interior Department matters affecting the industry include offshore lease sales, the development of rules for research on federal oil shale lands, and the final phases of a comprehensive study of trends in oil and gas reserves.

Evacuated Families Begin Moving Back

CHADBOURN, N.C. (AP) — Evacuated families began moving back into their homes at Chadbourn today following the removal of 12 derailed freight cars loaded with live ammunition.

Some 1,500 residents were removed shortly after the Saturday mishap, the cause of which has not been determined. Munitions experts were rushed to the scene from Ft. Bragg, and said there was no immediate danger of an explosion.

The cars were loaded with 750-pound bombs, 3.55mm rockets, 105mm howitzer shells and mortar shells, bound for the Sunny Point, N.C., depot and transshipment to Vietnam.
