Shot Way Out of Trap, Says McCabe

Daughter's Disappearance Given as Cause of Trouble

Trouble over alleged improper actions toward the McCabe girl by Jim Rose while driving the school bus in the Pleasant Valley community for several years back was indicated as the reason for the fatal shooting of Rose by Silas McCabe Monday morning about 11 o'clock at the southwest entrance of the county court house.

McCabe was interviewed at the county jail Monday afternoon and talked freely of the events that led up to the shooting.

DIDN'T EXPECT ROSE

"I had just come from the District Attorney's office, and had found out that Rose would not appear in court today. I wouldn't have gone over to the court house if I had dreamed that he was there, stated McCabe.

"I walked up to the entrance, and saw Rose sitting there with three men around him. It was a trap and I drew the gun from my shoulder scabbard and shot five time."

WASN'T AFRAID

"The only scare I got was when someone hit me while I was shooting, and spoiled my aim. They oughten to do that because I might have shot an innocent man. I am sure glad to hear that nobody else was hurt."

Nelse Rose, younger brother of the deceased gave his idea of what happened in an interview shortly after the shooting.

"I was sitting there talking to several other men and my brother. The first thing I saw was McCabe running up, doubled over, pulling a gun out of his shirt front. He shot three times before I could get to him. Mr. Ledford and myself and some other men grabbed him and took the gun away from him."

WAS TO APPEAR

Jim Rose was to appear before the district court to answer to a charge of having in his possession a minor for evil purposes. The case had not been called, and Rose and his brother Nelse had come into town from their place 16 miles south of Elida for the trial.

Silas McCabe stated after the shooting, that he understood that Rose had said that he had gotten all the evidence he needed to clear himself. McCabe was not sure of the girl's age, but thought she was 22.

According to McCabe, Rose had taken his daughter away some time in January, and had gone to Mineral Wells, Texas. McCabe had them brought back by authorities.

McCabe stated Monday afternoon that he hadn't seen his daughter in about 12 days. "I don't know whether she is dead or alive, and I don't know where she is. I think Rose has taken her away again."

Rose's body was examined by the coroner's jury Monday afternoon. Dr. Wolfson testified after the examination that the deceased received three wounds, any one of which might have proven fatal.

One wound showed that the bullet entered the left arm just below the shoulder, passing through the body under the shoulder and coming out through the left breast.

Two other wounds showed that the bullets entered through the right back just below the shoulder and came out through the right breast and side.

The bullets striking the concrete were battered and fragments made other small wounds in the deceased's back.

John Anthony, who was sitting on the concrete curbing near Rose, came near being a victim, when one of the stray bullets passed through his trouser leg.

Jack Grimes, who was sitting on a bench in front of the Portales hotel, was struck by a bullet. The slug had probably already passed through Rose's body, because it was spent when it struck Grimes in the chest, and did no injury. This bullet also passed through the top of a car parked on the courthouse square.

Immediately after the shooting, George McCabe, son of the defendant, and Tom DeShazo, a neighbor in the Pleasant Valley community engaged in a tussle, which netted both men bruises about the face. Deshazo stated that he had no reason to hit George, and would forget it if George didn't say anything about it.

J. J. (Jim) Rose, aged 43, had resided 16 miles southeast of Elida for about 23 years, engaged in farming and ranching. His body was taken there by his wife for funeral arrangements.

Silas McCabe, aged about 50, has lived for many years in the Pleasant Valley community southeast of Elida.

Funeral services were held for Rose at Richland Tuesday afternoon.

No information could be secured about the whereabouts of the McCabe girl. Sheriff J. H. Bond stated that there was no search being made for her.

The cause of the fire could not be definitely determined at that time; however, indications were that natural gas had escaped into the barn from the brooder gas connection. Probably, the pit cock had been turned when the grain and hay was placed in the barn.

The fire department was called and the fire was soon under control.

Revenue for the city water works was higher during the fiscal year ending June 30 than any year since 1930, and the expenses of the system are lower than those corrosponding years, according to an auditor's report made last month.

During 1934-1935 the production cost for the water works amounted to 34.54 percent of the revenue, which is the lowest percentage since 1930.

Cash receipts for the city were 12.30 percent over the budget estimate for the year just ended, and expenses were 2.22 percent over the budget estimate. The previous year, cash receipts were 16.06 over the budget estimate, and expenses were 18.38 percent over budgeted expenses.

We Give Up . . . Were Only Kidding

The News doesn't want any more black widows. We have learned to regret that we ever suggested that we would like to get a specimen, because instead of a specimen, we now have a corner on the supply.

We haven't kept track of the number of widows that have been brought in, but it seems that our show case is an excellent incubator. Every widow that has been left here has laid enough eggs to entirely fill the plant if they all hatch.

A batch of eggs hatched out Monday, and now we have between three and four hundred baby "widows" to feed.

So if you are tired of reading about black widows, you haven't a thing on us.

Trees Beautify Farms, Ranches

The following is a discussion on trees growing on the farms and ranches in the Richland and Hiway communities by one of the citizens living in that part of the county::

The prettiest sights in this country are the trees of today that were planted here in the early days of the settlement on the places of those who were interested in beautifying their future homes.

"One example is the Frank Beeman home in the Richland community. The Beemans have the American elm, sycamore, redbud, honey locus, cherry, and black locust trees. The trees are paying dividends on the good care that they have received by the exhibition of the present beauty.

"L. H. Faw, another citizens of the Richland community has honey locust, black locust, paradise cherry, and mulberry trees. He has a large mulberry tree which he reset after it was an unusual size for such work. Mr. Faw says that trees can be reset after they have grown to large sizes if great care is used in digging them out and replanting.

"E. F. Gilman in the Hiway community has 100 catalpas growing on his place. He has a black locust and a large orchard of plums and peaches, also. Mr. Gilman says his orchard has not been a source of profit every year, but it has more than repaid him in the pleasure he has had in working with his trees.

"These places can be seen for miles around. The most of the trees have been raised from the seed. The old homes are much prettier than the new ones that have been built lately and do not have the trees growing."

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Jordan returned Friday from Dallas.

SOCIAL ANNEX

By THE BOSS

THAT SOFT BALL

The sports editor has been covering the softball games, but as a sports writer he is a dud.

On Thursday night the "boss" attended the game, and as he saw it, Dug Stone was a rotten pitcher.

He pitched ball after ball and the batter could not hit it, and after four batters tried to hit his balls, they threw down the bats in disgust and walked off into the field and let Dug's team try their luck.

Elida team should get another pitcher that can throw balls that the batters can hit.

Then the second game, Pete Steiner pitched for the Fields & Bonner team. And say Pete was our idea of a crack pitcher.

He put the balls right over the base in the first inning and one home run was made right after another.

But after the second inning Pete lost his cunning, and the batters missed his balls one after another.

We like to see the bat crack the ball, and a pitcher that can't pitch a ball that can be hit is a rotten pitcher.

Back in our ball playing days we pitched for the home team, and say, were we good.

Forty home runs were made in the first half of the first inning, and this would have been a record game, but dark came before we had a chance to go to bat, and the ball was lost, so the game had to be called off.

He is a good saddle horse, a good buggy horse, and a good team worker. He works double with any other horse no matter which side he is hitched on. In short, he is a good all-'round horse."

Mr. Beecher replied: "My friends, I can't buy your horse, but I would like to have him as a member of my church."

Moral: "What kind of a church would my church be, if every member were just like me?"

See you next Sunday! Regular services. Everybody welcome.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO "BREAK IN" THE FORD V·8

You can drive it 50 miles an hour the day you buy it

THE FORD V-8 is ready for normal driving when you buy it. There is no tedious period of breaking-in for 500 or 1000 miles. You can drive it up to 50 miles an hour the first day. And after the first hundred miles you can drive it as fast as you desire.

That means greater motoring enjoyment for every motorist. It is especially important to motorists who are thinking about a new car for a vacation trip — to physicians, salesmen and all those who use a car for business. Instead of dragging along at slow speeds for days, you can make good time from the start.

The reason for this is as important as the result. The Ford V-8 needs no breaking-in because of unusual accuracy in the manufacture of moving parts and the smoothness of bearing surfaces. Clearances are correct when you buy the car. It is not necessary to depend on a long wearing-in period to eliminate tightness and ifisure smooth running. Longer life, greater economy and better performance are bound to result from such precision methods. The Ford V-8 gives you fine-car construction, along with fine-car performance, comfort, safety and beauty.

Monk Pitches Shut-Out Game For Independents

Win Over Standard Oilers Marks First No-Run of Season

The first shut out game of the summer was pitched by Monk of the Independents Tuesday night, against the Standard Oilers. The Oilers only got one hit, and made five errors. The Independents made seven hits, for seven runs and made one error.

Onstott, first man at bat, knocked a home run in the first inning, and another in the fourth. Olen Caviness also hit a home run.

Since the addition of Monk to the ranks of the Independents, they seem to be unbeatable. The Oilers had promised to give them their hardest trial, but were unable to connect with Monk's fast, tricky ball.

Batteries Tuesday night were: Independents, Monk, Kiker; Standard Oilers, Ellison, King.

The Independents have four games to play before they can claim definite honors in the series, but if Monk's pitching holds up to form, it is doubtful whether any of these teams can touch him.

Independents Still Unbeaten; Win Over IOOF

The first three innings of the game between the IOOF and Independents, who clashed Friday night in the first melee of the evening, promised to give the spectators a thrill. The Independents opened the game with a score in the first, with IOOF's making their first in the fourth.

O. Caviness, Independent left fielder, got on following an error, and scored on Livingston's two-bagger. Caviness scored again in the fourth with a homer. Finley was safe on an error, who later scored on G. Caviness' two-bagger; Mank also landed safely on an error with Kiker hitting for two bases, scoring Monk.

With four two-baggers, one single and a triple in the sixth the IOOF aggregation managed to score five runs. With three errors, one walk and two singles in the seventh, they run in two more, bringing their tally up to eight.

Onstott connected for a single in the sixth; O. Caviness, who had already made three runs with one homer, connected for another marker, scoring Onstott. Livingston got on with another error, scoring on Finley's bingle.

Batteries were, Independents: Monk and Kiker; McCasland and McCasland.

Floyd Stop Oilers Rise in Softball

The Woods aggregation, four in all, assisted by the six other Floyd men, walloped the Standard Oilers in the second game Friday evening at the city ball park. Nine errors by the latter named team, four of which went to G. Givens, third baseman, accounted by the gain.

No scores were made until the third stanza when the Oilers took two, only to be upper two by the Floyd contenders. Each team failed to mark during the fourth; the Oilers scored three runs in the fifth while Floyd took four; The Oilers missed again in the sixth, and taking one in the seventh. Floyd took a pair in their last time at bat, the game ending in favor of Floyd, 10-6.

C. O. Woods, tosser for Floyd, connected for a homer in the sixth, scoring Sublet who had made first on an error. Harris, Oiler first baseman, out of four time at bat, got a three bagger and a homer. His closest teammate contender was Wilburn who took a three bagger in the seventh; Powell also connected for a three base hit in the third, but had only one marker to his credit. Wilburn had two.

The Standard Oilers collected eight and nine errors while Floyd gathered seven hits and eight errors.

Batteries, Floyd, C. O. Woods and Adams; Ellison and Wilburn.

Homerun In Seventh Wins Cheatum Game

A tough game was pulled out of the bag by Haney in the last of the seventh inning Tuesday night, when he hit a homerun with two on base, to give Cheatum a three-run margin over East Valley View.

Watts, left short for Cheatum Street, walked, and came in on a hit by Propps to tie the score, 3-3 in the last of the seventh. Nelson grounded out, and McDonald walked. Haney's homerun scored Propps and McDonald, ending the game.

Cheatum Street had led until the seventh inning, when a series of hits and errors scored five Valley men, giving them a one-run lead.

Elida Gets Near Shut Out Over Fields & Bonner

Remarkable fielding accounted for Elida's one-sided win over the heretofore unbeaten Fields and Bonner team Monday night. Elida players seemed to carry the rabbit's foot with them every time they went after the ball. Many catches were made in seemingly impossible positions.

Elida scored three runs in the first inning, when the second and third batters were walked. Stone hit a good single, and R. Stevenson got on by an error that scored three men.

A single base hit by Jack Kirksey, followed by another bingle by Hatch in the second inning was Fields and Bonners first threat. However, the next three batters flied out. The Man's store boys were unable to score until the fourth inning when Jack Kirksey came in from a fielder's choice by Hatch, and a single hit by Brown. Brown played off base before the pitcher had released the ball, and was called out, retiring the side before the threatened rally could get under way.

Lewis Terrell, center fielder for Fields and Bonner, accounted for five put outs in that position.

Elida Continues In Winning List To Beat Firemen

Any aspirations the firemen may have had to stop the Elida boys were lost early in the game Thursday night, when Elida scored three runs the first inning. Until the third inning, the Fireboys had not had a chance to stretch their legs. Campbell hit the only two bagger of the evening for his team in the first of the third. However, the three succeeding batters were put out in regular order, and Campbell died a natural death on the plate.

Rex Goode got on in the fifth by an error, and was scored by a single hit by Campbell, who was scored when Wurster and Manning eeked out singles, to die on base. Angley made the only remaining run in the seventh inning.

The Fireboys made three runs seven hits and six errors. Elida made 10 runs, seven hits and four errors. Stone, Elida hurler, struck out six batters, and Campbell, Fireman pitcher, struck out three. Although the hits were even, Stone was able to scatter his to do the least damage.

C C C Soundly Beat Cheatum

With the CCC boys hitting everything that crossed the plate for three and four baggers, the Cheatum Street team was at a loss for a pitcher who could hold them down.

Groseclose pitched the first three innings, and three hits, coupled with three walks and costly errors, netted the CCC boys seven runs.

McDermott tried his hand in the mound position, but had to concede when the slugging camp team made nine runs, out of five hits, followed by three homeruns. Stanford followed McDermott for the remainder of the inning, and the pounding stopped when Watts caught a fly hit by Johnie Smith. Stanford held the CCC boys to three hits for the remaining two innings.

RESOLUTION

Farmer when and where the trucker is required to pay, and, whereas, many are not able to finance this coverage and restrained from the use of the roads for this purpose. And,

WHEREAS, Regardless of the constant denials, the Port of Entry Board and the Motor Police are proving a source of constant trouble to the truckers; thus to the extent that some have quit operating, others have left the valley without loading, many have never entered the result is the loss of thousands of dollars to the farmers in reduced prices and unsold products.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: That the Portales Chamber of Commerce go on record as condeming this method as viscious, confiscatory in the result of its operation and extremely detrimental to the best interests of the farmers and business of Roosevelt county and Eastern New Mexico.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED That the Governor, The Hon. Clyde Tingley, and the Port of Entry Board and the Motor Police administration be prevailed upon to discontinue the enforcement of this law to the end that our markets may be preserved and that our people may not be hindered in their undertakings by this act.

ARE YOU A SAFE DRIVER?

. . . ask yourself these questions

1. Which requires greater caution — a curve to the right or a curve to the left — and why?
2. What is the safest way to handle your car on a highway curve — when do you use the brakes — when do you throw out the clutch — when do you accelerate?
3. In rounding a curve at high speed, is it safer to hold the steering wheel steady or "jiggle" it?
4. In passing another car on the road, is it safer to make a short, quick swing around, or a longer, more gradual one—and why?
5. On a slippery or icy road, your rear wheels suddenly start skidding. What is the way to bring the car out of the skid?
6. When is it safe to pass another car on a hill?

Even the most experienced drivers seldom know the correct answers to these questions. And there are several additional safety questions that every driver should be able to answer. Get them all, and get the right answers, from the nearest Hudson and Terraplane dealer. Come in today.

Plums Have Made Extra Good Yield for Season

Plums have made one of the best yields this year that the fruit growers of the valley have harvested in several years.

Allen Sanders says that the hail damaged his crop at least 50 per cent. J. D. Stork had to prop his tree limbs to prevent them from breaking off.

The chief varieties are the sapas and opatas for the early plums and the Juanitas and Hunskas for the late ones. There are some other varieties being grown in the valley, but these are the most popular.

The trees of these varieties bear at the age of three years in some cases. The tree that are four years old have a good yield.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lyons were down from Texico Sunday.

Allen Sanders Has 17 Acres In His Orchard

Seventeen acres of the 40-acre farm of Allen Sanders, located one mile west of Portales, is in orchard and vinyard.

The trees of the orchard consist of plums, peaches, pears, apples, apricots, and cherries.

He cultivates and cares for his orchard in a scientific way. He waters it during the winter season as well as during the growing season. There are very few weeds found in his orchard or vinyard.

Speaking of the weaknesses of his fruit crops he says that the apricots are the least sure of any of the crops. His cherry trees have been damaged more by the borers.

He has four hives of honey bees to assist in the thorough polination of his fruit crop in the early spring. He has buck wheat growing for the bees to work on during the summer months.

Coe Howard, Harold McDonald and Benny Compton are spending the week in Ft. Worth.

The dictionary defines "Insure"—"To make sure or secure." Only stock insurance can do this. Under Mutual insurance the policyholder becomes both the Assured and the Insurer. He has taken risks of which wishes to divest himself. The nation-wide engineering and fire prevention activities of stock companies, constantly operating along broad lines to reduce fire wastes, have been largely responsible for constantly lowering average fire insurance rate levels.
