City Council Approves Law Budget for 76-77

Wellington City Council approved unanimously Monday its share of the fiscal 1976-77 budget for the Consolidated Law Enforcement Agency for Collingsworth County. The total budget is $101,509.85. The budget calls for the federal government, through the Criminal Justice Council, to pay $37,271.16. Under the combined law enforcement system begun last year, Collingsworth County pays 60% of the remainder of the budget and the City of Wellington pays 40%. The city's share is $25,695.48, and the county's is $38,543.21.

The budget was to be presented to the county Wednesday.

In other action the council voted unanimously to drop its requirement that Lone Star Gas Co. provide a depreciation study of its lines and equipment. The action came after the council was informed that the cost of the survey would be $6,800 and that Lone Star lawyers claimed the cost could be passed on to local customers as an operating expense.

The council also voted unanimously to discontinue legal retainer fees and contract for legal advice as

Buyers, Sellers Ready For First Flea Market

Traders are preparing to hawk their wares all day Saturday and Sunday, March 6 and 7 at Wellington's first Flea Market to be held on Highway 83 behind Johnny's Texaco and Carroll's.

"We expect a big turnout if the weather is good,"

Johnny Nash, one of the organizers, said.

Several people in Wellington have been contacted by out-of-town friends wanting information on how to participate.

"It's easy," Nash said. "All anyone has to do is load into a pick-up or truck things they want to sell and bring them to the highway. Everybody's welcome."

Sellers will be directed to parking lanes, and they are encouraged to come early Saturday morning.

AMBULANCE SERVICE HONORED
Bob Watson, president of Collingsworth Volunteer Ambulance Service, holds a Certificate of Award presented by the Chamber of Commerce to the volunteers Thursday, February 26 in appreciation of their service to the community.

Mr. Brown's talk came after Sandy Parsons, outgoing president, presented awards for service in a number of categories.

David Peters was named the Outstanding Citizen. It was noted he has been chief of the Wellington Volunteer Fire Department 5 years and a member 10 years, a deacon of the Church of Christ and Bible class teacher. He is a member of the Collingsworth Volunteer Ambulance Service. Additionally he is known for the individual help he gives, without thought of compensation, to many organizations and individuals.

Mrs. Truman (Paulene) Estes was chosen for the Sales and Service Award. Her selection was based on her courtesy and conscientious service as teller at the drive-in window and later at teller's booth of Wellington State Bank.

Mrs. Juan Martinez is the first person to receive, the Good Neighbor Award. The award was instigated by her action in saving a neighbor from her burning home. But investigation revealed a long period of help to her neighbors in northwest Wellington, especially the aged and sick.

She is mother of 7, and holds a full-time job; yet each day, without compensation, she visits a neighbor in the nursing center and aids another who is crippled.

Two group awards were made.

Mr. Peters received on behalf of the Volunteer Fire Department a certificate for its outstanding service to the people of Wellington.

Bob Watson, president of the Volunteer Ambulance Service, received on its behalf a similar certificate. It was noted that of the more than 30 members, most are state-certified Emergency Medical Technicians and a number are certified as Emergency Care Attendants. It is a model for successful operation throughout the area served by the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission.

William O'Rear of the Rolla Community received the award as outstanding farmer in Salt Fork Soil and Water Conservation District, based on the conservation program he carries out. This presentation was made by Dan Henard, Jr., Salt Fork SCD supervisor. The selection is made by the board and the plaque given by the Chamber of Commerce.

Thirsty Water Loan Approved For Rural Supply System

Farmers Home Administration has approved a loan of $1,401,000, and a grant of $1,109,800, for expansion of the Thirsty Water Supply Corporation's rural water system. Funds will be used to develop and construct a water system serving some 528 users in a dozen different counties.

Included in this is the Collingsworth County project which will bring to farms east, southeast, south and west of Wellington.

At the same time, Raymond Hodges, county supervisor for the Wellington FmHA office, announced that the Red River Authority has assumed management of the Samnorwood Water System with 116 users.

The expansion project for which FHA approved funds will represent Phase Five of the planned development of the system. The Thirsty System presently serves some 933 meters and consists of about 790 miles of pipeline, with Phases One through Four having been previously completed. The 12-county area involved in Phase Five includes Donley, Collingsworth, Hall, Motley, Childress, Cottle, Hardeman, Foard, King, Knox, Wilbarger, and Montague, Counties of Texas.

The loan and grant will be made to the Red River Authority of Texas, which has already developed the Thirsty Water System in an eight county area. The system's water lines, pumping and storage capacity will be expanded to enable the Thirsty system to serve a total of 1461 homes, farms, and other establishments, with about 369 miles of additional pipeline being added.

This loan, repayable in 40 years at 5% interest, and the supplementary grant will be made under the rural community facilities program administered by the Farmers Home Administration, a Department of Agriculture rural credit service. Benefits of the program are made available without regard to race, creed, color, age, sex, or national origin.

Alvin L. Barnes is currently serving as President of the Board of Directors of the Red River Authority. Fred Parkey is General Manager for the Authority with offices located at 302 Hamilton Building in Wichita Falls, Texas. Edd Biggs of Biggs & Mathews in Wichita Falls is engineer for the project.

The loan and grant to Red River Authority is being serviced out of the Childress FmHA office, according to Robert M. Hicks, County Supervisor. Hicks stated that the completed system will provide rural families with safe and sanitary water and

Member-Novice Meet Opens Golf Season

Hay Camp Country Club's first golf tournament of the season is scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, March 27 and 28, Jim Terry, pro, announced this week.

The tournament will be a men's "Member-Novice" game in conjunction with the membership drive under way at Hay Camp this spring. Eighteen holes will be played each day.

Members may bring a friend who doesn't normally play golf, or anyone interested in playing may contact a member, Terry said.

The member will receive his usual handicap, and novices will receive up to a 40-stroke handicap, the maximum allowed by the United States Golf Association for 18 holes.

The two-man team will turn in the lowest of their two handicapped scores for each hole. A sudden-death playoff will break any ties.

Gift certificates will be awarded for first, second and third places.

"We would encourage beginners to come out and learn a little about the game before the tournament begins," Terry said. Deadline for entries is March 26.

Candidates File For City, School, Hospital Races

Three candidates had filed for three City of Wellington alderman positions, and five candidates had announced for three places on the Wellington School Board as The Wellington Leader went to press Wednesday. Candidates could file for both school board and city council races throughout the day, Wednesday, March 3.

Quails Lose Tues. to Mobeetie 60 to 49

Underdog Mobeetie slipped by Quail 60 to 49 before a packed house at Shamrock Tuesday night, March 2 for the bi-district championship and a trip to the regional tournament.

The game ended a spectacular 31-4 season for the Quails. They had fought their way to the top of District 4B, beating tough Hedley and Valley teams in round robin and tournament play.

The Quails had beaten Mobeetie twice before this year, 76-68 and 74-73.

But the third time was the charm for Mobeetie. The Quails turned cold from the floor, hitting only 30% of their field goals. They had averaged 53% for the year. They had averaged 63 points per game during year; Mobeetie held them under 50 points. They had scored less than 50 points only once

Brown: Work for Your Community

Casey came to bat. Casey struck out. Why?

Using the character from an old poem as his starting point, Reagan Brown struck an instant rapport with the Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce banquet audience Thursday night, February 26.

His brief but pointed discussions of those qualities needed by a chamber of commerce or a community were built around light hearted anecdotes and jokes. Rich laughter alternated with applause as the audience applauded.

Mr. Brown's talk came after Sandy Parsons, outgoing president, presented awards for service in a number of categories.

David Peters was named the Outstanding Citizen. It

Spellers Compete for County Title March 8

Words -- and how to spell them -- will be the big thing for students from the three county schools Monday, March 8, Don VanPelt, county Bee Director reminds.

This is the time of the annual Collingsworth spelling bee, when the county champions will be named in both senior and junior divisions.

The spelldown will take place in the County Court Room at 10:00 a.m.

Mrs. B.M. Sims will be the pronouncer, while Bobo Castleberry, Mrs. Barney Glenn and Mrs. Barbara Williamson will be the judges. The public is invited to attend.

The senior winner will represent the county in the Regional Spelling Bee at Amarillo Saturday, April 24, and the winner of that event goes to the national spelling bee at Washington in May.

City State Bank is the donor of all award money this year, Mr. VanPelt said. In the senior division, first place winner will receive $10; second place, $7.50; third place, $5.00. The junior winner will get $7.50; second place $5.00; and third place $3.00.

Spelling bees are held in each school the week prior to the county bee. Winners and alternates will be chosen in both the junior and senior divisions.

The senior division consists of seventh and eighth grade students while the junior division includes students from fifth and sixth grades. Any child from these grades may enter their local school bee.

The City of Wellington has approved the sale of water from its municipal system. The present wells in the Samnorwood Water System will be utilized and a new well will be drilled at Lone Mound. This system has storage tanks located at Lone Mound, four miles west of Dozier, and at Lutie, and a standby-tank east of Dozier.

The Samnorwood System went into operation in September 1965 and is one of the oldest rural water systems in the Panhandle. Willie Knoll has been its only president.

Mark Wischkaemper of Samnorwood was last year's winner in the senior division, while Cindy Watts of Wellington won the junior division.

Briscoe, praised Wellington for its warmth and enthusiasm, both to the audience, and later to chamber officials.

Quickly, it became apparent that Casey, and his troubles, could be any individual or any chamber of commerce. "He thinks he's playing basketball. He's a mess," commented Brown.

He urged everyone to participate thoughtfully in community life. "I challenge you in Wellington to participate intelligently. It's hard to do that," he said.

Mr. Brown urged discipline in community participation and then drew enthusiastic applause as he spoke out against those who will not work, those in jobs who "work and sleep at the same time." He admonished adherence to the scripture that he who does not work ought to starve -- "but not the old or the ill or the temporarily out of work."

He regretted the general loss of a sense of indignation, and urged the Wellington audience to lend its voice where this was needed, to exercise imagination in whatever way possible, and to have faith in God and love those around them.

With the exercise of these virtues, plus reverence for those patriots from the Revolution of Vietnam, Casey -- or any community -- will strike a home run.

Mr. Parsons reviewed the Collingsworth Chamber's achievements of 1975, including sponsorship of the winter livestock show, high school career day, historical marker, spring clean-up, a labor survey, Christmas lighting, the Collingsworth County Fair, an industrial seminar, youth project show and a number of others.

New residents and new businesses were noted. "We need the support of everyone of you," he said.

Henry Wells, 1976 president, introduced the other officers and directors: Lyman Daniel, first vice president; Mrs. Esta Glenn, second vice-president; Billy Moseley, treasurer; Mrs. Margaret Vines, secretary, and these directors: Bill Hatch, Lyndon Crella, Truett Holland, Charles Darter, Jack Kennedy, Mike Lockett, Mr. Daniel, Garner Altom, Jack Sanford, Bob Bell, Dr. Mark Fires and Mrs. Judy Hall.

Entertainment was by the Liberty Singers from the upcoming bicentennial musical, "I Love America."

Reuben Rountree Dies Sunday In Amarillo

Reuben H. Rountree, a Collingsworth County resident for many years, died at 9:00 p.m. Sunday, February 29 in Veteran's Hospital, Amarillo. He had been a patient there for four months.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, March 2 at 2:00 p.m. at First Baptist Church with Rev. Roy D. Collins, Jr., pastor, Rev. Frankie Just of Howardwick and Rev. Jim Bozeman of Hereford officiating. Burial was in Memorial Gardens in Cemetery.

Mr. Rountree was born March 28, 1894, in the Aberdeen community, the son of one of the county's pioneer couples, A.G. and Margaret Brock Rountree.

He married Claudia Preuit on April 6, 1935 at Wellington. At one time he owned the store at Lutie. He later owned other stores and was a carpenter.

He was a veteran of World War I, and a member of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. He was a Baptist.

Mr. and Mrs. Rountree had lived here until 1942, and most recently they had made their home at 205 Witherspoon in Hereford.

Mr. Rountree is survived by his widow of Hereford; two daughters, Mrs. Margaret Gray of Zanesville, Ohio; Mrs. Barbara Martinez of Lakewood, Colo.; five brothers, Ernest of Lutie, B.C. and Jesse, both of Littlefield, and Tracy of Boise, Idaho; two sisters, Mrs. Grace Duncum of Okla. City and Mrs. Zannie Lowry of Yakima, Washington; and seven grandchildren. Mrs. Cicero Gulley is a sister-in-law.

Pall bearers were Bill Jones, Gerald Rountree, Ollie Raburn, Dan Langford, Jimmy Langford and Henry Langford.

pastor of First Christian Church, was master of ceremonies and the Rev. James Boswell gave the invocation.

When decorating a room in the south or west part of your home, blues, greens and violets are good choices since those rooms receive a lot of sunlight.

Organizers hope to make the Wellington Flea Market a regular event on the first week end of each month.

Jackie Wilkerson Is Bicentennial Soloist

Jackie Barton Wilkerson will sing "It's Time to Pray," a solo song in the prayer section of "I Love America," the bicentennial musical to be presented in Wellington March 18, 20 and 21.

Mrs. Wilkerson is the wife of Billy Wilkerson and they have one son, Bobby.

She sings with the Good Time Singers and sings solo and trio pieces at First Baptist Church. She teaches first and second-grade Training Union, and is an officer in the Baptist Young Women's Missionary Organization.

Mrs. Wilkerson sang in the Community Easter Cantata and was a soloist in First Baptist Church's Christmas cantata.

She is a hairdresser at Allene's Beauty Shop.

Flu Closes Norwood

Numerous influenza cases shut down Samnorwood School Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and sent many more home to bed this week in Collingsworth County.

Samnorwood Supt. Rex Peoples said Tuesday night that the percentage of students who are ill seemed to be declining, and that the school tentatively planned to reopen Thursday morning.

"We've been running daily surveys, and our count Tuesday showed that 15 of the 50 students surveyed would be absent due to illness, Peoples said. "One day six of our twelve teachers were sick."

Wellington School Supt. E.W. Clement said their absences "aren't much above normal, and right now, we're knocking on wood."

An outbreak of flu can financially hurt schools because in Texas state funds are paid to each school district based upon the school's average daily attendance. When attendance drops substantially, many schools turn out classes and use holidays or extra days to make up the lost time.

Dr. Carter Holcomb said that he had seen many patients with respiratory infections and colds lately, and that the majority of the cases were in older people rather than students. He also said there were several cases of pneumonia this week.

Bill Wilson at Quail School said absences due to flu were running as high as 23 per day last week but the figure had dropped to only five or six absences per day this week.

Van Pelt Resigns County School Counselor Job

Mrs. Isla Mae Morris, Collingsworth County School Superintendent, announced this week that Don VanPelt has submitted his resignation as County School Counselor, effective at the end of the school year.

VanPelt has held the post for eleven years. He taught English at Samnorwood for four years before that. VanPelt said he would begin full-time farming this summer.

He is a member of First Baptist Church, Wellington. He and his wife, Deanna, have three children, Neal, Brian and Valerie.

before this season.

Foul trouble plagued the Quails. Brian Barton, Harvey Oatman and Gary Wischkaemper fouled out. The team had averaged 16 fouls per game, but Tuesday night they committed 24.

Coach Bill Wilson said after the game that the team might have suffered from a mental letdown after the tough district competition. "We were overly cautious and hesitated on shots," Wilson said. "It's a shame we had to quit, because I think we had a good enough team to win the regional tournament. In fact, I think Valley or Hedley, (the third-place district team would be at home at regional.)"

"It was one of our worst games all year," Wilson said, "and as far as I could tell, there was no excuse." The Quails were never completely out of the game, but failed to get momentum going on their side.

"We had a good group this year, the kids were easy and enjoyable to work with," Wilson said. "It's a bitter pill to have to stop here, but we just didn't get it done Tuesday night."

Gary Wischkaemper was the high point man for Quail with 14 points. Gary May scored 18 as high pointer for Mobeetie.

February is gone. March and the flu are here. Everyone that has had it says it is really bad. Do hope everyone gets to feeling better soon.

Well, at last we have our Senior Citizen Center completed. We will have the dedication and open house on Sunday, March 14. We will tell you more about it next week.

Mrs. Ola B. Hunter is teaching a craft class at the center. She is showing how to make seed flowers. Any of you ladies wishing to learn how to make these seed flowers should come by the center.

T.P. Belew has volunteered to pick up our R.S.V.P. Volunteers if they need to go shopping, pay bills or visit the hospital or nursing center. If you need this service call 447-2935.

We will start another blood pressure clinic in Mobeetie Friday, March 5th. We appreciate the people taking advantage of this program.

Neeley Says Easter Seal Mail Appeal Beginning

Easter Seal Appeal letters are being delivered this week according to Jack Neeley, of Wellington. Collingsworth County Easter Seal Representative of the Easter Seal Society for Cripple Children and Adults of Texas. The Representative serves as contact for disabled persons needing Easter Seal rehabilitation services and also serves as Treasurer of the Society.

The Easter Seal Society offers physical and occupational therapy, speech and hearing programs, and special equipment loans to make the best use of their abilities to overcome handicaps. These services are financed by the annual Easter Seal Appeal and Fall Membership Drive.

The Society finances public education programs, provides scholarships for training of professional personnel to staff rehabilitation centers, and helps provide for National research into the causes and cures of crippling conditions. Neeley pointed out that all these programs are important if Texas is going to continue to provide the best in rehabilitation services for its own disabled citizens.

During 1975, the Texas Easter Seal Society provided treatment and services for 10,768 children and adults who were in need of assistance. Easter Seal services are available to any disabled person who can benefit from help provided by the Easter Seal Society, and who do not qualify for any other assistance. Self-mailing requests for assistance are available through the Representative.

The Easter Seal Campaign will continue through Easter Sunday, April 18.

Elmer Jones of Amarillo was here Friday, February 27, to visit his daughter, Mrs. June Riddle, and family. Mr. Jones formerly lived here.

Night driving is three times as dangerous as day driving.

Library Notes

By Mrs. Clara F. Mote
Acting Librarian

March is here, and we still have gotten no one to build our shelving. Hope by National Library Week the dream will have come true.

We have the bound Wellington Leader books on their dolly, coasters and all, tucked in place under the card catalog desk. This was thanks to Billy D. Williams, who repaired the dolly.

We would like to say thanks to Bonnie and Mac Willis for the memorial donation in memory of Mrs. Roy Horn sent to the library to go toward the binding of the 1974 and 1975 issues of the Wellington Leader, of which we should be receiving any day. There has also been a book added "Dear God" by Jane Dicky Bremyer. A check has also been received from the Frances Loper family, in memory of Deskins Wells, to go toward binding the papers. A book is also being placed on the shelves in memory of Mr. Wells. Also another check from Mrs. F.E. Cave of Plainview has been received in memory of Deskins Wells. Thanks again to these donors. It will help so much.

We are adding "Ozark Legacy" by Amanda Singer;

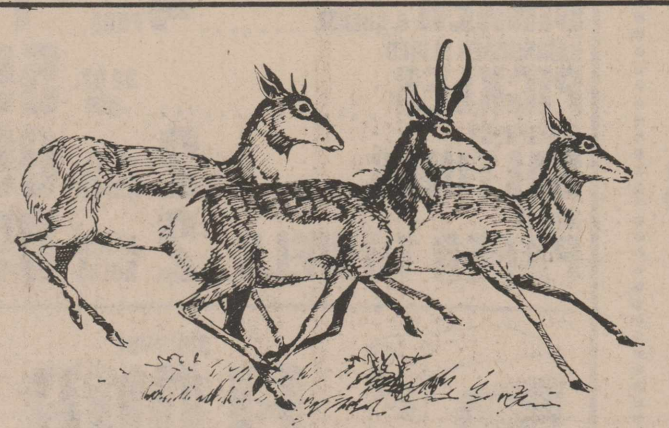

"Beyond the Wall" by Ann Boyle; "The Secret of the Peony Vase" by Ethel Bangert; "Contract with Love" by Lois Colman Nelson; "The Colt-Packin' Parson" by Edwin Booth and "Iron Trail to Stirr up" by Lynn Westland.

Please, if you have a special author or title leave it with the library and it will make the job of selecting books much easier. The Amarillo Library doesn't always have what we want right at the time, but we usually get them.

Haven't had any donations for the What-not sale yet, but I am working on it. We have pocketed a few dollars from fines and usually a little donation at the same time. Every penny helps our library that is being overlooked so badly. Ask your Commissioner what he is doing for our Library?

FHA Announces Loans For Soil, Water Work

Farm owners in Collingsworth County can share in some $50 million of funds now available in the nation for loans to develop, conserve and improve land and water resources, according to Raymond D. Hodges, County Supervisor, of the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA). Measures to alleviate problems of waste disposal and pollution control on farms may be eligible for financing through this source. "These funds are available on a first-come, first-served basis throughout the nation," Mr. Hodges said.

He explained that soil and water loans from FmHA can be used to develop water supplies for home use, livestock watering or irrigation. The funds also can be used for drainage projects, to install water or waste facilities associated with pollution abatement and control and to build other structures that contribute to conservation and meet health, safety and environmental requirements.

Funds also may be used to level land, establish permanent pasture, develop farm forests, and to carry out basic soil treatment practices such as liming, fertilizing, and subsoiling.

These loans may be repaid in terms as long as 40 years with an interest rate of five percent charged on the unpaid principal.

Applications may be obtained at Farmers Home Administration county ofices, including the office at 904 West Avenue, Wellington.

County, Growers Get 1976 Crop Allotments

Collingsworth County farmers have received individual allotment notices although as in 1975, the allotments do not limit the number of acres that may be planted.

"They are used only to determine disaster or deficiency payments," said Bob Weatherly, county executive director, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

The county's total cotton allotment this year is 44,609.2 acres, Mr. Weatherly announced.

The wheat allotment is 25,503 acres.

The feed grain acreage allotment is 66,190 acres.

Mr. Weatherly also has told farmers that wheat they intend to graze out and do not want to count as wheat should be reported to the ASCS office by March 20.

"Wheat you intend harvesting, you need to report by May 1. Wheat you wanted to harvest but have lost hope on and want to plow the land, we need to appraise this before you plow. If you have some in this shape, come talk to us about it," he advised.

Cotton allotments may be leased out of the county but not sold. Cotton allotments may be released now or if a grower intends planting more than his allotment, he may ask for additional acres.

Roses Don't Just Happen

COLLEGE STATION--A rose is a rose is a rose is a rose. But do you really know what goes into that rose? A horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service points out that every new rose produced takes years of trial and error experiments and an ample sum of money.

"It can take as long as 10 years to produce a single new rose and can cost up to $100,000," says Everett Janne.

"The long process begins with a hybridizer who may set out as many as 30,000 seedlings in one year. These seedlings are judged for color, shape, firmness and scent. Out of all of these, five or six promising plants may be selected for further study."

These select plants are then grafted onto sturdy understock roses and subjected to years of outdoor testing for strength, disease resistance and beauty, explains the Texas A&M University System horticulturist. These observations are made in test gardens throughout the United States.

Janne points out that all plants of any specific variety come from one selected plant.

For future rose growers, he recommends buying strong, healthy plants from reputable nurseries or retail stores.

"Plant roses in well drained beds that have plenty of organic matter and that get at least six hours of sun a day. Water the roses often, spray regularly for blackspot control."

Good Nutrition Habits For Children Begin Early

COLLEGE STATION -- Children can learn good nutrition habits early with some of their favorite foods, Mrs. Mary Sweeten, a foods and nutrition specialist, says.

"That old standby peanut butter can be turned into a balanced meal -- a peanut butter sandwich with whole milk and an orange provides a nutritionally balanced meal that children like," she said.

Mrs. Sweeten is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"One essential for good nutrition is protein, and meat isn't the only protein source. Peanuts, peas and beans, grains and nuts are all nutritionally important sources of protein.

"After protein foods are eaten and digested, amino acids are freed and used to build, repair and maintain body tissues. Of the 20 known amino acids, our bodies cannot make eight -- known as the 'essential amino acids' -- so these must be provided by food," the specialist said.

Proteins such as fish, poultry and meat contain enough of all the essential amino acids, but in other

THE WELLINGTON (TEXAS) LEADER

AUSTIN — Local tax bills may go up steeply for the same level of services if Congress refuses to extend the federal revenue sharing program, Comptroller Bob Bullock warns.

"The cold truth is that in most cities and counties, (the taxpayer) will have to pay at least 20 per cent more in local taxes if the program ends," Bullock said.

"Death of the program would also cost the state $100 million a year," the comptroller noted.

Bullock emphasized these points:
— Real impact would be on cities and counties which have received nearly $1 billion from revenue sharing during the five-year life of the program.

— Inflation has forced local officials gradually to rely on revenue sharing as part of their operating budgets.

"A vote against revenue sharing at this point is most surely a vote to decrease local services or increase local taxes," Bullock stated.

A study by the comptroller's staff concluded:

General federal revenue sharing accounts for 30 per cent or more of tax revenue in 68 counties, 20 to 30 per cent in 102 counties and up to 19.99 per cent in 84.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe said he opposes continued revenue sharing for states but considers the program necessary for cities and counties.

Water Fight Rages

In the face of a threatened lawsuit by the attorney general, Texas

Water Rights Commission approved a controversial sale of water by Lower Colorado River Authority to cool generators of the South Texas Nuclear Project power plant.

TWRC ratified a contract between LCRA and STNP for up to 102,000 acre feet of Colorado River water a year at $10 an acre foot (as much as $56 million) over a 55-year period.

Atty. Gen. John Hill said the water does not belong to LCRA but to the state, and he will seek to enjoin the TRWC action in court. A state permit for sale of the same water would cost only $500.

San Antonio, Houston, Austin and Corpus Christi electric utilities are partners in the STNP which plans a nuclear-powered generating plant near Bay City. Project heads fear failure to go along with the water sale would bring on a prolonged legal battle with LCRA which would cost more in lost electricity purchases, alternate fuels and construction inflation than the $56 million contract.

Pay Row Continuing

Texas school teachers served notice they will be pushing for legislation next year giving them salaries above the $12,524 national average.

A recent survey by the National Educational Association calculated the average Texas classroom teacher's pay at $11,373—$1,151 behind the national average and 24th among the states. The legislature last year raised starting pay from $6,600 to $8,000 for bachelor degree teachers and from $7,200 to

The Promise of Spring

Daffodils and hyacinths blooming around town this week remind us of the beauty and hope that each spring brings.

And it's a good time to remember the beauty that surrounds us here. The sages tell us that it is easier to love the starving millions in Africa than it is to love our next-door neighbor. It is also true that we are able to see the beauty of a distant land more easily than we observe the subtle loveliness of Collingsworth County.

A recent visit to Pioneer Park on the Salt Fork of Red River showed that improvements are being made there each month, and with each improvement comes another way in which our citizens can enjoy a beautiful natural setting.

Sunday before last Boy Scouts were setting out seedlings on their campground south of the river park. When these scouts are old men majestic trees will shade another generation of scouts.

It was a scene that reminded us of the small tasks that each of us can perform to make our town and county a better place to live. And it reminded us that someone had to care enough to plant the daffodils and hyacinths that brighten our days this week.

Other Editors Say . . .

Write Congressmen, Senators On Estate Tax Reforms

For the first time in many years there is a good possibility Congress may revise our antiquated federal estate tax laws.

President Ford in his State of the Union message emphasized the need for revision of the old laws. Support of the tax revision is indicated in S.2875, introduced by Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota. The proposed legislation would give much-needed relief to farm and ranch families when they are faced with the burden of settling an estate.

With inflated land prices and the antiquated tax laws, many farms and ranches are being liquidated in order to satisfy inequities of the present federal estate tax laws.

Under the McGovern bill, an executor of a stockman's estate could elect to have real property used in the deceased's farming or ranching operation valued for federal estate taxes based upon its productivity. This would be accomplished by dividing the average gross cash rental (less state and local real estate taxes) for comparable land for the three years immediately preceding death by the average interest rate of all new Federal Land Bank loans for the same period.

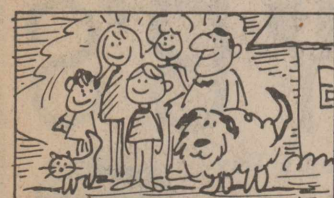

To qualify for this election, substantially all the real property would have to have been devoted to farming or ranching for five years preceding the farmer's death. If the real property were sold within five years of the death, a recapture clause would be invoked.

Also, the McGovern bill would, for all estates, increase the federal tax exemption from $60,000 to $200,000 and amend the marital deduction provision to provide a minimum deduction of $100,000 on property passing to a surviving spouse.

Principles of the McGovern bill are realistic. They would help to preserve the family farm, ranch or business.

Texas and Oklahoma farmers and ranchers should contact their congressmen and ask them to support S.2875. Now is the time to act to obtain needed remedial legislation.

Texas Taxes

By BOB BULLOCK, State Comptroller

Texas Sales Tax laws provide an exemption for goods purchased in the State for export to other states and countries.

It has been technically difficult for the Comptroller's Office to prove or disprove whether sales exempted from the tax for this reason are actually shipped from Texas and whether delivery is actually taken in another state or country.

Although it is impossible to estimate precisely, we are confident that the State of Texas is losing millions of tax dollars each year because of bogus exports.

For these reasons, the Comptroller's Office has issued a new ruling requiring more specific proof of export.

The problem of fraudulent export exemptions is especially significant in those sales of goods ostensibly bound for export to Mexico.

The new regulations require proof that the items sold were actually shipped out of state and that delivery was taken on them by the purchaser in another state or country.

The Texas merchant or sales tax permittee must keep on file for inspection all documents such as shipping records, truck logs, and receipts in connection with tax-exempt exports.

For goods shipped to Mexico, the merchant must keep in his or her files for inspection by the Comptroller's Office a copy of the shipper's export declaration bearing the U.S. Customs proof of export stamp or the pedimento de importaciones formal entry document properly stamped by Mexican Customs.

Failure to maintain these records as proper, documented proof of export will cost the merchant the tax exemption, and he or she will be required to pay the State sales tax on the items reputedly exported out of State.

The new ruling tightens the definition of "forwarding agent" and makes it as plain as possible that the purchaser may not claim the exemption if he or she takes possession of the goods in Texas.

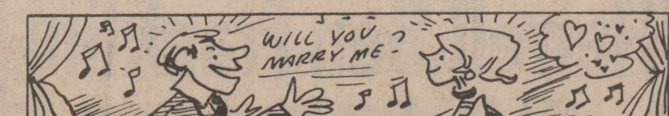

"Forwarding Agents" can only act as middlemen between the seller and the carrier, and will not be allowed to deliver the tax-exempt goods directly to the purchaser.

Exports to foreign countries are exempted from State taxation by the U.S. Constitution. However, there is no federal or State regulation of shipping by surface transportation to Mexico through Texas border cities, and, therefore, there is no accurate way to verify those documents previously required for the exemption.

We have found many cases of retailers selling goods over one end of the counter and a "forwarding agent" stamping them as exports at the other end. The purchaser then walks out with the goods on the Texas side of the border and the taxpayers of Texas are cheated out of sales tax revenue.

We are hopeful that the new regulations will prevent fraudulent export exemptions in the future.

Copies of the ruling may be obtained from, and violations of the law should be reported to the Comptroller's Office in Austin or a Comptroller's local Field Office.

Courts Speak

The State Supreme Court agreed to review a test case on whether a church camp in Hood County can be taxed.

In another new ruling, the high court declined to consider a Harris County man's challenge of the doctrine that, in most circumstances, governments are not responsible for paying damages on injuries caused by employee negligence.

A former Kerrville school teacher who lost his job because he wouldn't shave his beard six years ago won a $6,000 back pay award in an appeal to the Supreme Court.

The high court held Amarillo could not tax the residence of a church music minister.

Supreme Court judges agreed with the Houston Court of Civil Appeals that a stockholders suit against Robert L. Moody alleging fraud in an insurance companies merger must be tried.

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed a Wichita County murder conviction because the defendant was not given 15 peremptory jury challenges.

A Wilbarger County man sentenced for delivering amphetamines won release in an appeal to the Court of Criminal Appeals on finding the trial judge dismissed a jury which had been "deadlocked" only two hours.

An El Paso man won reversal of a life imprisonment sentence because the trial court refused to sever a multi-count indictment.

Third Court of Civil Appeals upheld a provision that Texas State Education Association members must affiliate with the National Education Association.

AG Opinions

Breakfast meetings of commissioners courts must be open to the public when public business is discussed there, Atty. Gen. Hill held.

In other recent opinions,

Hill concluded:
The federal privacy act does not apply in general to the Texas National Guard while in state status.

An institution of higher education is not required to adopt terms of the College Coordinating Board's policy statement on academic freedom.

Death of a limited partner does not necessarily prohibit renewal of a mixed beverage permit issued to the partnership.

Workmen's compensation coverage is fully applicable to persons in the state military forces, notwithstanding any overlapping coverage.

A college may provide that terminated professors will receive either substantial notice or severance pay.

Short Snorts

Dr. Kenneth Ashworth of

San Antonio is new Texas commissioner of higher education, succeeding Dr. Bevington Reed.

A far-reaching reorganization plan has been announced for Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission, with field operations under four regional offices answering directly to the ABC administrator.

Texas Employment Commission paid out $38.5 million in unemployment benefits during the first six weeks of this year, increasing the gross volume of sales, trades and services in Texas to $140 million.

Texas Railroad Commission adopted rules and regulations for its new surface mining and reclamation division, calling for restoration of lignite and uranium mining areas to beneficial condition.

Changes in the federal food stamp program considered by Congress would knock 165,000 Texans from eligibility rolls.

National FFA Week Observed By Wellington Chapter Feb.22-29

The handsome navy jackets with FFA emblem are worn by Wellington Future Farmers for a purpose.

The week of February 22 to 29 was declared to be National FFA Week, observed by the Wellington chapter and all other chapters of the nation.

The Wellington High School chapter is celebrating this occasion by issuing litter bags to go inside cars, along with fine point pins.

Each time a Wellington resident meets one of these young men in the official uniform, which also includes dark pants and shoes, white shirt and a tie, he can be reminded of some of their activities during the last year.
