MEANY SOUNDS WARNING

Unemployment Springs Onto Convention Scene

By OVID A. MARTIN

LOS ANGELES (AP)—AFL-CIO President George Meany predicted to Democratic convention platform drafters today that government unemployment figures will show a "frightening" jump of nearly one million during June. This increase, he said, would be the largest May to June jump in the jobless total since end of World War II.

Urging government policies keyed to stimulating greater economic growth, Meany said the country is on the road to stagnation, not to growth.

Other sources indicated they expect the jobless figure will jump from about 3 1/2 million to about 4 1/2 million and the unemployment rate to soar to about 5 1/2 per cent of the nation's work force.

Meany's criticism of present economic conditions was made in testimony for a convention resolutions committee which has indicated it will endorse a plank promising to stimulate the economy.

In similar testimony before the committee Thursday, Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers said economic policies of the Eisenhower administration have slowed industrial growth to a point where the nation's future is threatened by a more rapid Communist expansion in this area.

Meany's unemployment-forecast and warnings of possible further downturns took platform attention for the time being from a potentially explosive tussle over a civil rights plank.

A parade of nearly 40 witnesses appeared before the drafters Thursday to demand that the party pledge itself to use of full powers of the federal government—legislative and executive as well as the courts—to eliminate racial discrimination in schools, employment, housing and other fields of life.

This demand brought a grave but calm warning from Sen. Spessard L. Holland of Florida that a plank of this nature would drive many Southerners from the party. He appealed for moderation, saying the South would never accept coercion or compulsion.

Closely associated with the civil rights controversy were sharp criticisms directed at rules of the Senate permitting filibusters and of the House allowing that body's "rules" committee to stall legislation.

A move was expected within the committee to write into the platform a declaration that no member of the party should accept a post of responsibility in Congress without being willing to help carry out the platform pledges. But there was doubt such a move would succeed.

In another facet of the economic situation, President James G. Patton of the National Farmers Union called for a farm plank pledging to boost agricultural prices and income. He recommended a return to wartime and postwar government farm price supports and crop controls.

Patton's program—which already had been written into an advisory group's tentative draft of the Democratic farm plank—is in sharp contrast to that of the Eisenhower administration. The latter has worked toward lower supports and fewer controls.

The Farmers Union program also would use controversial government payments to help boost farm income. This plan received support from the Chicago Board of Trade. Board President Robert C. Liebenow told the committee use of payments would reduce the cost of farm programs to taxpayers.

Before winding up public hearings today on the platform, the committee arranged to hear reports on nine regional hearings held in various parts of the country during the spring and early summer.

These reports were to be given by such party leaders as Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, former Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan, former New York Gov. W. Averell Harriman, Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough of Texas, Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City, Sen. Frank Most of Utah, Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California, Sen. Philip A. Hart of Michigan and former Gov. George Leake of Pennsylvania.

President David J. McDonald of the United Steel Workers Union joined Meany in expressing concern over unemployment.

The steel industry, McDonald said, "is in a depression. Nearly half of its capacity lies dormant. It is expected to fall even more. It is rightfully said that as steel goes, so goes the nation. It is indeed a barometer of our entire economy."

Both Meany and McDonald called for economic stimulation by federal programs providing financial aid for school, highway and housing construction as well as economic aid for depressed areas.

Neither did they have an assurance that Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota would join their camp with the 60-vote votes he still seems to control despite his withdrawal from the nomination contest after two primary defeats at the hands of Kennedy.

In their pitch for this vital bloc, the Kennedy forces were said to have held out the bait of a vice presidential nomination for Gov. Orville L. Freeman of Minnesota, Humphrey's best political friend.

So if there is to be a second ballot, Kennedy's friends said they are ready. It is on this count they hope to crack open the re-treating favorite's bloc and to take Humphrey's forces into camp.

This, they figure, will considerably more than offset any desertions they might suffer from the 34-vote Indiana and 64-vote Ohio delegations. They are worried also about possible defections from Maryland's 24-vote group, pledged to their candidate in the initial balloting.

Even if Kennedy fails to reach the magic total of 761 needed for the nomination on this second test, some of his strategists said they don't think any other candidate can come close enough to upset the bandwagon they believe still will be rolling for them on subsequent counts.

National Chairman Paul M. Butler predicted the nomination will come in not more than three ballots.

Robert G. Baker, secretary of the U.S. Senate majority and a Johnson backer, expressed confidence the Texas senator will pull within 25 votes of Kennedy on the second tally and take it all on the third.

On his way to Los Angeles, Johnson himself said in San Francisco that Kennedy had "lost more votes in the last week than he picked up in the handful of contested primaries he entered."

"I suspect that the delegates are a little tired of having their minds made up for them in the headlines," Johnson said. "This is one handwagon that is going in reverse."

Competent observers said Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago would be ready to deliver all but about 14 of Illinois' 69 votes to Kennedy. The Massachusetts senator was credited with about 100 of New York's 114.

But when they added up all of these victorious prizes, Kennedy's staff strategists agreed they had not destroyed the main body of the enemy represented by his rivals for the nomination.

Specifically, they seemed to have made no headway in their attempt to win over three favorite sons—Govs. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, Herschel C. Loveless of Iowa and George Docking of Kansas. There are 68 convention votes represented in this group.

Rains Continuing To Fall

By The Associated Press
New rains Friday splattered down on the water soaked Panhandle-Plains area of Texas where heavy downpours ranging up to more than 16 inches have fallen this week.

Amarillo, Lubbock, Dalhart and Childress all reported light rain falling at daybreak. Skies were generally cloudy in the northern and northwest part of the state with more showers and thunder-showers forecast for through Saturday.

Sixteen families were forced from their homes Thursday night when heavy rains sent flood waters rising at Levelland, 30 miles west of Lubbock. An additional downpour of two inches forced some families to leave their homes at nearby Littlefield and a Santa Fe train was halted 11 miles northwest of Lubbock because of high waters over the tracks.

The heaviest rainfall was reported at a farm south of Lubbock in the Wilson area where new rains Thursday night sent the total received during the last four days to 16.5 inches.

IN A TRANQUIL SESSION

Action On Injunction Here Getting Underway

Testimony got underway in 122nd District Court this morning in the injunction sought by the city against D.M. Cogdell, Sr. to enjoin him against continuing construction of the building he is erecting in the area of Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

City Attorney W. W. Park stated in his opening address that the city had in 1953 adopted a zoning ordinance requiring the obtaining of a building permit before construction of any building in the city of Snyder for the protection of the citizens and that Cogdell unlawfully and without a permit started construction of a building in the city limits.

Gene Dulaney, attorney for Cogdell, countered that the injunction was "insufficient in law" and did not state the facts; that furthermore the property was not legally in the city limits; and that the city was coming to the court "with dirty hands" since it had taken over private property without "equitable remedy." He further stated that the pressure that was brought on the electric company to cut off electricity was for the purpose of harassing, embarrassing and humiliating Cogdell.

City Secretary K. O. Pitzer read from city minutes to establish the fact that the city adopted a charter in 1952, a zoning ordinance in 1953, and had annexed the property in question in 1959, all in public meetings and that all action had been properly published in the Snyder Daily News.

City Manager Roy Dulaney was hotly queried by Dulaney in cross examination as to why the city annexed the properties without payment and despite the fact the city council objected. Dulaney stated that annexation proceedings could be considered by signatures of 200 residents of the city; not necessarily those of the area in question, and that the improvements of annexed property was prohibited since the city did not have enough funds.

Parks brought out through questioning of Dulaney that the $500,000 bonds being retired by the city for sewer and sewage treatment plant were from tax funds from the city taxpayers and all areas outside the city were getting water without helping the city taxpayers pay for the facilities.

At this point Judge Sterling Wilkins queried Dulaney on the extending of water lines outside the city limits and advised him to contact the water superintendent and have him testify this afternoon.

City Planning Engineer Prentice Smith testified that Cogdell had at no time applied for a building permit.

The only witnesses questioned by Dulaney for the defense, Morris Brownfield and Harry Wiggins, stated that part of their property had been brought into the city and paid for and the part brought in at the same time as the Cogdell property had not been paid for because the city had passed an ordinance forbidding payment for improvements.

At one point in proceedings this morning Judge Williams questioned the right of the case to be heard in district court.

The courtroom was crowded with young and old alike as the case which promises to go on for some time got underway.

DETROIT (AP)—The Impatience of Richard Henderson, 27, is costing him $90 and probation for a year.

Police said Henderson kicked a hole in the radiator of Jean Harris' automobile, dented a fender and snapped off the radio aerial when she blocked a crosswalk while stopping for a traffic light. Then he walked around the car.

Henderson was convicted of malicious destruction of property and ordered to pay the $90 for the damages.

GOP Hopeful To Do Battle Against LBJ

By LEE JONES

AUSTIN (AP)—A Republican college professor who wants Lyndon Johnson's Senate seat, says he will capitalize on a "major" potential protest vote against Johnson in his campaign.

John Tower said Thursday he has received "much encouragement from Democrats" in his uphill race against the senior Texas senator.

"One prominent Democrat poked me in the ribs and said, 'Son, you're gonna do better than you think you'll do,'" Tower told newsmen.

Tower, who recently resigned as professor of government at Midwestern University to run for the Senate, said Johnson has never gone down on the unpopular side of an issue.

"I don't see how he can be called a strong leader," Tower said. "The time has come for men of conviction."

The 35-year-old Houston native said his campaign, which will get started next month, will be a liberal-conservative battle.

"I'm the conservative candidate, Johnson's the liberal candidate," he said. Tower claims Johnson has not adequately represented Texas thinking, which Tower thinks is predominantly conservative.

The ACA rates John Kennedy more conservative than Johnson. Tower said the Americans for Constitutional Action is a non-partisan right-wing organization.

Tower said Johnson's Senate votes satisfied the conservative group only a tenth of the time.

By contrast, he said, Johnson's votes pleased the liberal Americans for Democratic Action 63 percent of the time.

Tower said he is a moderate in civil rights, a strong believer in "fiscal responsibility," an opponent of deficit government spending, and an advocate of states rights and "state responsibility."

Finch Wants To Meet With Carole - Alone

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dr. R. Bernard Finch isn't giving up in his attempts to meet with Carole Tregoff.

Finch, refused by the State Supreme Court in his plea for a private conference room with no guards present, asked Thursday to meet with shapely Carole in the courtroom during noon recesses.

His attorney, Grant B. Cooper, said strategy sessions between the defendants, attorneys and witnesses are needed. The judge is considering the request.

Finch, a wealthy surgeon, and Miss Tregoff, his mistress and sometime receptionist, are on trial for the second time on charges they murdered his socialite wife last year. The first trial ended in a jury deadlock.

Greenland In Line For Jet Fighters Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—Jet fighter planes are being sent back to Greenland as part of a review of the nation's master defense plan.

The move is an abrupt turnabout. All jet interceptors were removed from the big arctic base at Thule only four months ago.

The Air Force said late Thursday a dozen F102s and 230 men of the 33rd Fighter Interceptor Squadron, now at England Air Force Base in Louisiana, will be sent to Greenland in August.

The 327th squadron was pulled out of Thule and demobilized last March.

The sudden reversal may have been the result of strong protests made by Gen. Laurence Kuter against the removal of fighters. Kuter is chief of the North American Defense Command.

The Thule jets would be useful primarily in checking on radar indications of approaching enemy planes.

Thule, designed as a base for strategic bombers, has no bombers now. Stationed by about 3,000 men, it recently has been used mainly as a receiving point for equipment arriving for construction of the ballistic missile early warning system.

She successfully hypnotized Sandra Kay Meyer, 15, Thursday—and then found she didn't know how to snap her out of it.

By the time she got there, the 15-year-old was unconscious, and a psychiatrist checked the girl and ordered her released.

The ambulance ride, it seems, accomplished what Florence could not.

'Perfect Union' Now On Rocks

NOGALES, Ariz. (AP)—Actress Jean Simmons has filed for a divorce from actor Stewart Granger, apparently ending what was thought to be another of Hollywood's perfect marriages.

Granger was not expected to contest the action filed Thursday in Santa Cruz County Superior Court. A hearing is expected in mid-August.

Miss Simmons seeks custody of their daughter, Tracy, 3½. The complaint, which charges Granger with cruelty, said property rights had been settled.

Granger and Miss Simmons, both born in England, were married Dec. 20, 1950, in Tucson. They own a large cattle ranch in southern Arizona.

felled 30 persons to safety after they had been marooned overnight by a flash flood in Hueco Tanks State Park near El Paso.

At Haskell a 2½-year-old boy, Wayne Taylor Jr. of Lamesa, was revived after being swept down a flooded ditch Thursday afternoon during a heavy thunderstorm.

More than 6½ inches of rain flooded at least one home there Wednesday night.

A thousand sandbags were thrown around Anson's water pumping plant and the motors from pumps were removed, as flood waters swirled there Thursday.

The heavy rain at Levelland caused a small lake near the football field to overflow and sent water up to 5 feet deep into several business places.

More rain also poured down Thursday night on Slaton where more than 15 inches has been received since this week's rains started.

The torrential rains turned many fields into vast lakes and a number of highways remained closed Friday.

Although there was some respite Thursday night because of the new downpours, the number who were forced to leave their homes was not as great as Wednesday night when cloud-bursts sent flood waters swirling over the low sections of a number of Northwest Texas cities.

Skies early Friday were mostly clear in the southern half of the state and partly cloudy to cloudy elsewhere. Friday temperatures ran from 64 degrees at Dalhart to 81 degrees at the Naval Air Station at Corpus Christi.

Four-Alarmmer Hits Philly

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A double explosion rocked the South Philadelphia waterfront Thursday, killing three workers at an oil and solvent processing plant, and generating a four-alarm fire.

The first explosion hurled a seven-ton tank filled with paint-base soybean oil in a huge ball of fire 100 feet across a road and some railroad tracks.

It was followed quickly by a second blast and then fire with heat so intense that about a dozen cars parked outside sagged to the ground with tires burned and frames melted.

The victims were Sydney Dawson, 47, of Philadelphia; Fred Dewitte, 43. They were employees of the plant.

Cause of the explosion was not immediately determined.

Slave Dies At 110

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—A one-time Negro slave is dead at the age of 110.

Levi Germany, once owned by a Mississippi family from whom, by custom, he took his surname, died Wednesday at Baton Rouge. He was born Aug. 7, 1849, and lived most of his adult life as a farmer in East Baton Rouge parish.

This NEW low profile GATES Tire Gives 25% Bonus in Mileage

"Toughest tire test this side of Hades": Six days a week, month after month, year after year, the Gates Test Fleet travels sixteen hours a day at maximum legal speeds in searing heat as it makes 900 miles daily in round trips between Phoenix and Tucson.

Gates new low profile nylon tire, tested extensively on Gates Arizona Test Fleet, proved its long tread life by giving 25% longer mileage than conventional tires.

Test fleet, driving 900 miles per day in desert heat, proves you get thousands more miles from this tire!

Revolutionary low profile shape increases tire mileage! A conventional tire running on the road, bulges, flattens, scuffs the tread, generates heat in tire body to shorten life. But Gates new low profile tire is built in a revolutionary new shape—actually the shape of a tire! Reduces flexing that causes heat build-up and tread scuffing. Gives you fully 25% more mileage!

Grips the road silently! Deep cold rubber tread has more than 8,000 gripping edges; new design increases area of contact with road. This combination reduces slippage—gives you superb, silent, safe traction.

Gives you more miles per gallon! Actually saves gas, because low profile tire has less slippage; rolls more freely. So—you really go farther on every cup of gas; an extra saving you'll notice in the long run!

Unconditional Road-Hazard GUARANTEE

against BLOWOUTS, BRUISES, RIM-CUTS, etc., no time or mileage limit. Made with more than 2 miles of tempered nylon cord, this tire is so tough it is virtually blow-out proof! Guaranteed against any failure for full tread life. Should tire fail, you get a new tire, with full credit for unused mileage, based on Gates standard adjustment schedule.

BITING THE HAND

Riotous Ruffians Draw Ire And Wrath Of Inez

By INEZ ROBB

What follows is written by a square's square from Squareville and in addition, parish forbid, by one who is indeed middle-aged. Consequently, anything set down here is irrelevant, immaterial and impossible. Natch!

So will some kind person, accustomed to dealing with the mental, retarded, gently take me aside and explain to me what in Sam Hill parents are up to these days besides the country club circuit and the cocktail party bit?

No one has to explain to me what teen-agers are up to. I can read that any and every day on the front page and in the vital statistics, police and court divisions. Nor is the square referring to slum kids and grossly underprivileged youth.

This square is interested today in what goes on in comfortable, privileged American homes that they turn out hoodlums and hard-core who riot through the streets when they cannot buy admission to a jazz festival at which there is not even SRO.

What happens in the "good" American home today that it turns out teen-age and collegiate bums who not only riot through the streets of Newport, R.I., but fight authorities trying to restore order?

What gives in this same home when the young adults it produces feel violence is their privilege, that it is their right to assault police and U.S. marines with bottles and make them the target of full beer cans lobbed with intent to injure?

I am so square and so middle-aged that my sense of humor fails to function when I read of 12,000 teen-age and collegiate jazz bums rioting through Newport, hurling rocks, bottles and cans of beer at city and state police and firemen.

U.S. Marines, naval detachments and National Guardsmen.

When the riot, sparked by over-popularity of the seven-year-old Newport Jazz Festival, was ended, 125 persons had been injured, none seriously. But I, for one, sincerely regret the fact that the forces of law and order were unable to knock together the empty heads of the 12,000 ill-bred, ill-mannered mob whose sweatshirts bore the trade mark of all the poison Ivy League colleges.

Newport officials estimate that the surly mob, both male and female, consisted entirely of college boys of 17 to 20 years of age. Many had been drinking beer and whiskey all day, having thoughtfully filled their cars with such necessary supplies before descending upon Newport from all over the East, the border states and the Midwest.

As the aftermath of the riot, city officials closed the Jazz Festival, whose directors now plan to sue the city for $400,000 in damages. The added directors are suing the wrong party. The persons they should be suing are the negligent parents of the disgraceful mob.

No modern parent has ever heard the old song, "Where Is My Wand'ring Boy (or Girl) Tonight?" And if they did, they would snicker and shrug. Who cares where the teen-age brats are, as long as they are out from under foot?

Once they are too old for baby-sitters, too many kids are on their own in all strata of American society. And as for teaching them good manners, self-respect and public decorum, that's OUT! Such a regime would interfere with their personality growth and might tend to constrict the psyche.

As for instilling a sense of responsibility on youth, that's for squares, too. That might lead to inhibitions. And the proof of my squareness is a deep-down, locked-in belief that a few inhibitions wouldn't do us any harm at any age level in 1960.

What are parents thinking of when they let their offspring swarm into Newport by the thousands to riot? To descend on the Florida beaches in Spring like locusts and behave like locusts? The Romans had a phrase for it: "In loco parentis," with emphasis on the word "loco."

To Go Or Not To Go The Question

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Truman, a nimble 76, can hop in opposite directions without losing a minute in contradicting himself.

For instance:

A week ago he said he was resigning as a delegate to next week's Democratic convention in Los Angeles. Now he's having second thoughts.

A week ago he implied Sen. John F. Kennedy, 43, and front-runner for the Democratic presidential nomination, was too young and inexperienced for the job.

"And it was Truman who announced in 1956 that Adlai Stevenson couldn't win the presidency but three days later said he could, although, as it turned out, Stevenson couldn't."

Just last Saturday, on a nationwide TV broadcast in a room packed with newsmen, Truman said he had quit as a delegate to the convention because, he implied, it was rigged by Kennedy forces.

A reporter asked him: "What are the conditions, if any, under which you would change your mind and attend the convention?"

The snappy Truman, enjoying the sensation he was causing, shot back: "There are no conditions."

But Thursday he said he had under consideration a request from Missouri's Gov. James T. Blair to attend the convention as a delegate. The governor told Truman "it's your duty to attend."

And Truman, who last Saturday said there were no conditions under which he would reconsider, now said "I haven't made up my mind" about going as a delegate.

Say You've Got The Gout? Don't Kick!

By HAL BOLYEA

NEW YORK (AP) — One out of every 100 Americans has a disease at which many of the other 99 others laugh through sheer ignorance.

This disease is gout — a malady which has had a far more important impact on our country than, say, those twin ailments of the advertising world — halitosis and athlete's foot.

Those who laugh at gout might not be here at all except for the dreary boldness of the sufferer. Between his pangs this man — Christopher Columbus — discovered America.

Those who laugh at gout might not be Americans at all except for two more gout victims.

One was the brilliant English orator, William Pitt. It is said that only an attack of gout prevented him from stopping passage of the Stamp Act, a measure that speeded the American Revolution.

The other was Benjamin Franklin whose diplomatic genius — despite his throbs of gout — did so much to win American freedom and establish our national unity.

Those who laugh at gout do so in the belief that it is a heavenly penalty for high living. The truth is that gout is an inheritable metabolic disorder, a form of arthritis that afflicts more suspected sinners than known saints only because at any one time the world usually holds many sinners, few saints.

The long and honorable history of gout is recalled in the current issue of "Geriatrics" by two physicians, L. Maxwell Lockie and Richard G. Cooper, both of Buffalo, N.Y.

Gout, which is manifested by painful deposits in the joints and body cartilage and accompanied by a high uric acid content in the blood, is one of the oldest diseases known to man.

It was accurately described by Hippocrates, the "father of medicine," and others as early as the 5th century B.C. As early as the 17th century Thomas Sydenham, "The English Hippocrates," classified gout as a form of arthritis and gave his view that victims "have received ill seeds of the disease from their parents by inheritance."

TEXANS TO TACKLE TITANS

Pro Tabs Placed On Sale At Craft

Reserved seat tickets for the first annual West Texas Shrine Bowl professional football game in Abilene Aug. 20 are now on sale at the Snyder Craft Studio in the West Texas Bank Building.

The tickets are $5.00 each and are being sold in Abilene at the Eagle Gym headquarters and in 26 other area cities. The Abilene Shrine Club officials, sponsors of the game, are the coaches of the team that will play the first professional game in the city's first pro football game. The game will begin at 8 p.m. in the new Public Schools Stadium east of the city on the fair grounds.

The stadium seats 15,042. Many of the football players on both teams will be familiar to the West Texas football fans. Almost 60 percent of the Texas squad is composed of Southwestern players while the Titans have close to 25 percent of their squad from Texas.

"Sluggin' Sammy" Baugh, former Hardin-Simmons University head football coach, is the coach of the Titans. He will bring with him eight former H-SU Cowboy stars as well as five former McKinney College athletes.

The Texans are coached by Hank Stram, former SMU coach, and are owned by Lamar Hunt, the organizer of the new American Football League. Among the Texans' stars are Jack Spikes of Snyder and TCU, Chico Mendoza of TCU and Ranger, Marvin Terrell of Mississippi, Jim Swink of TCU and Abner Haynes of North Texas State.

AS REBS RAP CATS

Tigers Rise Up To Clip Phillies

The Tigers of the Continental League came through here last night to throw a temporary kink into the contenders' hopes by slapping them with a 10-4 defeat behind the fine one-hit three inning pitching of Elbert McNeal.

McNeal came on during a third inning Phillie uprising, replacing starter Abe Gonzales and went on to finish the game. He struck out a total of six during his abbreviated stint.

Rightfielder Stanley Kruse wielded the big bat in the proceedings, pounding out a double and a single for the winners in four plate appearances.

Freddy Miller was the losing hurler, as he went all the way in absorbing the loss.

The Phils managed only three hits for the evening, all of which were singles, and the loss dropped them into third place in the loop standings with a 4-3 mark.

Rebs Rout Cats

In the Texas League opener, the Rebels routed to seven big runs in the second inning, then coasted in to a 14-3 victory over the Cats. Ronnie Bennett started on the mound for the winners and took the victory. He gave way to Jimmy Featherston in the fifth, however, as the Cats came alive to push over a pair of runs in that frame.

Bennett allowed only two hits over the span of his hill tour, singles off the bats of Eddie Kirby and Stuart Long. Featherston set the losers down with hitless pitching during his tenure.

Jimmy Don Everett shed his shin guards and chest protector to take the hill for the Cats, but was bounced out in the big second inning surge. Rob Hall took over at that point and finished out the contest.

Darrell Aldridge beat out a three-single staccato for the Rebels to pace their plate efforts. Bennett and Tom Kincaid also aided the cause with a two-bagger apiece.

The line scores:

Tigers 12 003-10
Phillies 042 000-5

Rebels 073 022-14
Cats 001 020-3

US Shopping For Prestige

EUGENE, Ore. (AP)—It may take a record performance for the United States to regain prestige in the decathlon this weekend.

There are 26 U.S. athletes entered in the annual AAI decathlon meet, which also serves as the U.S. Olympic Games trials. There also is one foreigner, and the foreigner might very well make off with it for the second consecutive year.

He is a 21-year-old student known as C. K. Yang while at UCLA and as Yang Chuan-kwang while at home in Formosa.

Yang, who will compete in the Olympics for Nationalist China, outstripped the rest of the field last year, although Oregon's Dave Edstrom made it close, scoring 7,544 to Yang's 7,549 points.

U.S. prestige suffered further when Russia's Vasily Kuznetsov next outdid Edstrom in the U.S. Russian meet at Philadelphia last summer, 8,350 to 7,599.

Yang's hesitant use of English makes it difficult for reporters to catch all he says, but they had little difficulty in understanding him as he looked over the University of Oregon track that.

He likes the track, the weather, he is in excellent condition and he expects to run up the highest score of his career, topping 8,000 points for the first time.

Both the AAU and the U.S. Russian meet last year were run off without Rafe Johnson, the former UCLA star who scored 8,302 points in 1958, which stood as a world record until Kuznetsov managed 8,357 in a Russian meet last year.

Johnson was out with injuries from an automobile accident. He is back now and appears strong, although he says he has not been able to practice all events for fear of re-injuring his back.

Edstrom too has been coming along. He scored 8,178 points in his last year.

In the American League, New York regained a three-game lead by beating Baltimore 6-3 while the Chicago White Sox trimmed second place Cleveland 9-3.

Detroit defeated Kansas City 6-3. Washington split a two-night doubleheader at Boston, winning 6-5, then losing 4-2.

Right-hander Don Drysdale now has won his last two starts for a 6-0 record. He allowed eight hits and walked four, but struck out eight and blanked the Cubs after George Altman hit his third home run.

Duke Snider drove in three runs. His two-run triple — a high fly that was lost in the twilight at the Caliseum — clinched it for the Dodgers as they scored three in the first off Mark Freeman (3-4).

The Pirates trailed 2-1 with two out and no one on base in the ninth at Cincinnati. Bill Mar-erokki got them rolling with a single, his third hit, off reliever Jim Brosnan. Smoky Burgess, just back from a two-day suspension, followed with a pinch single off lower Bill Henry (1-1), who then gave up Skinner's winner.

Wilmer Mizell (5-5) was the one meet this spring. The athletes started off with the 100-meter dash, broad jump, shot put, high jump and 400-meter run.

They will finish up Saturday with the high hurdles, discus, pole vault, javelin and 1,500-meter run.

The Los Angeles Dodgers have begun to look like world champions again, but they still have a long way to go to catch Pittsburgh's Pirates in the National League race.

The Dodgers, who trail by 8 1/2 games, moved within a half-game of third place San Francisco by whipping Chicago's Cubs 7-3 Thursday night for their ninth victory in 11 games.

But the Pirates put away their fourth consecutive success when Bob Skinner cracked a two-out two-run double in the ninth inning that beat Cincinnati 3-2. It was Pittsburgh's 11th last-inning victory.

It also retained their 5 1/2-game spread over Milwaukee's second place Braves, who defeated Philadelphia 2-0 as Hank Aaron backed Warren Spahn's five-hitter with a home run and sacrifice fly. St. Louis rapped San Francisco 7-3.

Two months away is the biggest Texas schoolboy football campaign of them all. The forty-first year of the Interdistrict League's gridiron race will find 920 schools fielding teams—the largest number in history and the largest football race of any kind in the world.

There wasn't supposed to be an increase in the number of schools this year. Consolidations had been expected to start a downgrade. But new schools sprung up, small schools got big enough to have teams and the result was a gain of four over the all-time high of 875.

The Texas Interdistrict League football plan was started in 1920 when there were no districts and the eliminations were by team records. Schools that finished the regular season with unbeaten records were matched in a playoff. Houston Heights and Cleburne shared a scoreless tie in the first championship game.

That first year only 196 schools with 3,500 players took part in the campaign. This year some 45,000 boys will be battling it out on the farflung gridirons of the state.

Unless Waco or Abilene wins a state title, there will be no change in the standings of the schools over the years. Abilene has won six titles to lead the field. Waco has won five and tied for four.

Amarillo, Wichita Falls and Breckenridge have won four each. Breckenridge also has two titles. Stamford would have been among the 4-time winners if it hadn't run into ineptitude trouble. The Bulldogs took their fourth title last fall but it was found that one of the players was receiving aid from the townpeople. So the championship was forfeited to Brady and Stamford this year will not be permitted to compete for even the district championship.

The coach who won the most state championships was the late Chuck Tyson of Waco. He took four. Paul Tyson of Abilene, Blair Cherry of Amarillo and Joe Golding of Wichita Falls each won three. Pete Showell won two and a half—he had a title tie at Breckenridge and championships at Abilene and Longview.

Until the trials have been completed and the horses have drawn a place in the finals, it would be an almost impossible task to pick a favorite. Horses are qualified for the finals on a time basis only which means that it is possible for a horse to win one of the trial races and still not secure a position in the finals. Only the fastest horses can hope to qualify and even if they should draw into a race with each other, they would not be eliminated. Breaks at the gate and racing luck loom as contributing factors in the outcome of the race.

The race this year has attracted horses from all over the United States with some of the fastest and finest bred two-year-olds, all seeking a portion of the more than $35,000 estimated purse.

A two-run single by Stan Musial won it for the Cards in the third against Sam Jones (10-8). Larry Jackson (10-8) beat the Giants for the fourth time.

Downs Will Feature 14 Races Sat.

For the first time in the history of southwestern racing, a total of fourteen races, all with pari-mutuel wagering, have been added to the schedule at Ruidoso Downs.

The situation came about as a result of the largest field of quarter horses in the history of the Downs all choosing to run in the Ruidoso Open Futurity.

Sixty-six of the finest two-year-olds in the nation have passed the entry box and will compete in seven races for the privilege of running in the finals of the 15th Annual Ruidoso Quarter Horse Futurity. A total of 191 horses had been nominated for the Futurity, with many of these showing at least one or more wins for the season.

Cameras To Depart From Regular Grind

By BERNARD GAVZER
NEW YORK (AP)—Convention, convention, convention.

That's about the substance of activity next week as cameras turn to the big conclave at Los Angeles where the Democrats will pick their 1960 presidential candidate.

There's some non-political viewing to wind up this week.

Tonight, NBC screens the second show in its "Moment of Fear" series, with Larry Blyden starring in "Conjure Wife," the story of a woman who is a witch (10 p.m., Eastern Daylight Time).

While ABC and NBC both turn to convention matters Saturday, CBS will be at Miami Beach, Fla., concentrating on beauties from all over the world. The "Miss Universe Beauty Pageant" gets underway at 10:30 and concludes at midnight.

NBC telecasts the All Star baseball games Monday (2:45 p.m.) from Kansas City and Wednesday (2:45 p.m., color) from New York.

Pre-convention coverage includes a Sunday lineup with Paul Butler on ABC's "College News Conference" (1 p.m.); Senators Kennedy, Johnson and Symington on NBC's "Meet the Press" (6 p.m.) and then CBS's convention ABC's "Convention Preview" (6 p.m.); Adlai E. Stevenson on CBS's "Face the Nation" (5:30 p.m.) and then CBS's convention preview (6 p.m.).

Beginning Monday, all three networks will be using prime evening time for convention coverage. The mentors, or anchor men, are John Daly (ABC), Walter Cronkite (CBS) and Chet Huntley and David Brinkley (NBC). Shows will begin at 6 p.m. or 7 p.m. and continue until the conclusion of the convention meeting each day.

Hospitality Of Old South Recaptured

By JOE LEWIS

LOS ANGELES (AP)—You can almost smell magnolias and hear the strains of "Dixie" at a tiny Confederate outpost on the Biltmore Hotel's third floor.

It's called the Southern Hospitality Room, and the place is open to all Democrats, convention delegates and visitors—simply swings with Southern hospitality.

It's so hospitable that even a Yankee can feel like Robert E. Lee when he accepts a cool drink from some of the Old South's fairest flowers. A spacious closet is well stocked with any refreshment a visitor's little ol' heart might desire.

In an adjoining room, the Omega Trio from Nashville, Tenn., holds forth with jump tunes and bouncy folk songs.

Who's paying for it all? Charles Shepherd, who describes himself as an Atlanta, Ga., real estate man, says he and a few friends chipped in to assure fellow Southerners of a home away from home. Strictly non-political, he adds.

Ask him about rumors that the place is a Southern front for Sen. John F. Kennedy and Charles Shepherd will tell you all about Georgia Tech's football team.

Kennedy's campaign headquarters staff publicly denies connection with, or knowledge of the place.

One of the celebrants in the suite is James W. (Taxi) Smith, former mayor of Albany, Ga. Taxi, as he's known to his friends, says he's for Kennedy and consequently quit the Georgia delegation which is voting unanimously for Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

Ask him about politics, and Taxi will tell you how he got his nickname. It seems he was a cross-country runner for Georgia Tech many years ago. In a marathon race with the rival University of Georgia, Taxi was faltering until he spotted a taxi. He finished first, thanks to a friendly cab driver, and went on to become mayor of Albany. Or so the story goes.

Then there's Henry L. (Country) Johnston, of Valdosta, Ga., a former football player at Georgia during the late 30's and early 40's. Country says he's a Kennedy man, too, and cites his Baptist faith as proof that Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, can win in the South's Protestant Bible belt.

What's he doing here? "Let me tell you about my dog that eats other dogs, answers Country. "He's only 10 inches high but 10 feet long. He's really an alligator from the Okefenokee swamps—but I put off his tail and painted him yellow—and he makes a fine hound dog."

And so it goes. The visitor leaves, hardly able to hear the tinkling of glasses because of the tingling confusion in his head.

Camping Outdoors For Other People

By RON AUTRY

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—So you want to take your son on a camping trip? Well, it's no picnic. My 12-year-old and I have just returned from three days in Vermont. We wanted to get away from it all and commune with nature on a lovely trail.

Here are a few random thoughts to keep in mind on your trip—random because I still haven't recovered.

Real trails have hot and cold running water. You are the one who runs—back and forth to the stream to get water, to fill canteens, to wash dishes.

Even fewer trails have electric stoves. Plan to spend a few hours on each meal. Build the fire, re-build it, cook, re-cook food that don't get done, eat, wash dishes—start building a fire for the next meal.

In between meals, you can watch leaves and birds—and sweat flies and gnats. Be certain to take bug repellent—it will attract the insects and enable you to have an infinite variety almost present.

Be certain to include a mountain climb on your itinerary. You can climb for three hours to the very peak of the mountain, eat a picnic lunch and enjoy the view. You will find the gnats and flies are of an even greater variety there.

Remember that when the guide book says a mountain path is moderately steep, it means it's too steep for a moderate mountain goat. Don't try it.

You will find it wise to have balsam branches under your sleeping bags. They will make things easier when you're lying awake all night listening to the porcupines.

A porcupine is not an animal. He is a noisy eating machine, who especially likes camera cases. You will find his bark and his chewing somewhat distracting.

However, you will find that this can be lessened if you will arrange for a hornet sting and several giant bites in advance. This is not difficult to achieve.

It possible, arrange to have a traffic cop on hand. The first night our party of five was alone. The next night we had 12 other people camped around our shelter deep in the woods. Not counting one dog and many porcupines.

It was hard to know when you started to the latrine area in the days whether you preferred to stop on an Explorer Scout or a porcupine.

If took us eight hours next day to reach home, dirty, tired, hungry and disagreeable.

Never before had the old bed, the small bathroom and the shallow sink looked so good. I put down my heavy pack with a sigh of relief. Never again I thought.

But my son had other thoughts. He already had forgotten his fall

Was She Looped?

WARWICK, R.I. (AP)—Movie star Ginger Rogers fell into the orchestra pit from a bicycle during a performance of "Annie Get Your Gun" at the Warwick Musical Theatre Thursday night. She was unhurt.

She rode the cycle off the circular stage during the first act, landing in the lap of a musician.

"I'm all right folks," she called to the audience and returned to the stage.

Apparently unsettled by the mishap, Miss Rogers almost fell from a high pedestal in the second act.

Summer Time Is The Time For Fun

It's the good old summer time! Time for fun... swimming parties, tennis games, and sailboat races. No matter what the activity, a "good-time-was-had-by-all" when the affair ends with a "bite to eat."

Frankfurters, hotdogs, wieners... call them what you like... are especially popular and extra so when prepared barbecue style. So easy, too. Simply brown the frankfurters in a little butter along with onion and garlic, then simmer in a zippy sauce... a smooth blend of canned condensed tomato soup, chili powder, Worcestershire, and vinegar. Serve in toasted buns; spoon remaining sauce over.

Tall glasses of cool refreshing iced tea or lemonade are tasty go-withs.

Skillet Barbecue, Franks

- 1 pound frankfurters
- 1 cup chopped onion
- 1 large garlic clove, minced
- 1 teaspoon chili powder
- 1 tablespoon ketchup or margarine
- 1 can (1 1/2 cups) condensed tomato soup
- 1 cup water
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire
- 1 teaspoon vinegar
- Frankfurter buns, split and buttered

In skillet, cook frankfurters, onion, garlic, and chili powder in butter until frankfurters are brown and onion is tender. Add remaining ingredients. Cook over low heat about 10 minutes, stirring now and then. Serve in buns. Makes 5 servings.

Junior Editors Quiz on CAVE MEN

QUESTION: Do any people alive today resemble the cave men?

ANSWER: Thousands of years ago, prehistoric people lived in caves. They were called cave men. There were many types of cave men but the two best known were those we call Neanderthal and Cro-Magnon.

The Neanderthal man, who lived more than 30,000 years ago, had a heavy face with a big jaw and a sloping forehead. He was heavily built and walked with a stoop like an ape.

The Cro-Magnon man, who lived about the same time, looked more like modern man. He was also something of an artist. His paintings, found on the walls of caves, are splendid likenesses of bison, deer and other animals.

Some primitive people living on the group of Pacific Islands known as Melanesia are thought to resemble the Neanderthal man. They have large jaws and their foreheads slope backward at an angle.

FOR YOU TO DO: Besides Neanderthal and Cro-Magnon cave men, there were others. Get a book on prehistoric man and see if you can find out about the Neanderthal man and Cro-Magnon.

(Marie Cleinick of Pinconning, Mich., wins $10 for this question. Send your question on a postcard to Violet Moore Higgins, AP Newsfeatures, in care of this newspaper. If duplicate questions are received, Mrs. Higgins will select the winner.)

Sterner Measures Talked For Italy

By EUGENE LEVIN

ROME (AP)—Italy's pro-Western government today threatened tougher police action unless the Communists halt a wave of violence that has claimed seven lives and injured hundreds.

Premier Fernando Tambroni accused the Reds of using anti-fascism as a front for an attempt to seize power and warned the government would do its "full duty" to restore order.

The Communist-led Confederation of Labor (CGIL) called a nationwide 10-hour general strike this afternoon in protest against "police brutality." Non-Communist unions charged the CGIL with striking for "political motives" and said they would ignore the call.

A Red-called walkout, fanned in Rome Thursday, led in the Communist-ruled area around Reggio Emilia, Bologna and Modena. It brought commercial and industrial activity to a standstill.

The wave of rioting, in which more than 500 demonstrators and 200 policemen have been hurt, began two weeks ago and reached its bloodiest pitch in street fighting Thursday in the northern industrial city of Reggio Emilia. Five rioters were killed and one policeman was critically wounded in an exchange of gunfire. About 20 others were injured.

Police said they fired machine-guns into the air after the demonstrators used firearms. Authorities said about 2,000 diehard demonstrators fought from behind barbed wire and on rooftops, hurling stones and homemade gasoline bombs.

Fists flew again in Parliament Thursday night when violence and deaths in Reggio Emilia. Tambroni, who is ruling at the head of a shaky stopgap regime, shocked the Chamber of Deputies into silence when he charged "the government can prove that the Communist party is conducting a pre-planned action, both in the national and international fields, aimed at subverting order and democracy."

The Communists and leftists have insisted their demonstrations were aimed at the fascists.

Leftists boomed and shouted interrupted Interior Minister Giuseppe Spataro as he accused the Communists of using the fascists as a pretext for staging disorders.

A bomb was thrown early today at the car of leftist novelist Carlo Levi, author of "Christ Stopped at Eboli," about 15 minutes after he left his home.

They Beat The Heat

ENCINO, Calif. (AP)—Two German girls took a dip in a motel swimming pool Thursday, without getting out of their car.

Karen Burkard, 20, and her sister, Sabine, 16, were unhurt. Karen, who was driving said she thought the lost control of the car. Police, firemen, a tow truck driver and the motel owner faced with the problem of removing the car—agreed.

Each slide was put to the Geiger test and ping! one registered radioactivity. It belonged to the fat little delicatessen owner, who loved but was unloved by the artist's model. After a poetic soliloquy which showed he was a thinking man among the pastrami set—he heaved and said he did it. Huzzah, another victory for the laboratory!

Among the hepatics, this may be a real cool stuff but to mystery buffs it's tepid.

fundamental belief in GOD

Dreamed of by millions, searched for by many, discovered by a few.

Established, built, maintained, and governed by a Fundamental Belief in God. That is America—these United States. That is our home... that is you and me. How else could the heritage we hold come into being?

A System?... Not so! But a dedicated, consecrated way of life as set forth in the Sermon on the Mount. Through the grief and misery suffered at Valley Forge, shines the same light which has illuminated men's minds since time began.

That same light—the Word of God—is now lighting and showing the way—the way of truth—to us as a nation and as individuals.

Just so long as each of us, each day, rededicate our lives to a Fundamental Belief in God—shall we endure.
