FLOOD TRAPS COL. R. L. PENICK AND DAUGHTER

Stock Market In Vigorous Upswing As Speculators Loose Flood Of Orders

PUBLIC AGAIN BUYING ISSUES OF LOW PRICE

Automotive Shares Zoom As General Motors Spurt Gives Confidence

'BULL FEVER' RAGES

Steel and Other Pillars Of Market Fail to Resist Upward Swing

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. (UP)—An army of speculators, willing to back with cold cash its opinion that business is on the upgrade, sent the stock market up 1 to 10 points with a flood of buying orders today.

Lively trading in low-priced stocks—the kind that the cynics call "cats and dogs"—indicated to market observers that the "little fellows" all over the country, from Broadway to Main street, were coming back into the market in droves.

As buying orders for low-priced shares came pouring into brokers' offices and pool operators on the stock exchange floor successfully bid up their favorites, the market top-notchers like Steel, Telephone, and Can, which had lagged behind most of the day, perked up in the last hour and joined the upswing.

Let Loose Flood

General Motors, king pin of the automobile shares, started things humming when a block of 14,000 shares was turned over in the early afternoon at 19, up ½. This let loose a flood of buying in the automotive group.

Auburn skyrocketed more than 10 points, while Chrysler, in which an aggressive pool was operating, rose almost two points to 21. Packard, Hupp, Hudson and Graham-Paige, dormant for some time, sprung into life and moved up above their recent levels.

Du Pont, which has large investments in General Motors, was taken for a whirl and shot up more than three points. United Aircraft, allied stock, was bought heavily and closed 2¼ points higher at 32¾.

"Bull Fever" Spreads

When "bull fever" spread to the market leaders, Steel shot up from a low of 49⅝ to 52⅛, American Can from 58⅜ to 61, American Telephone 115⅛ to 119½, General Electric 20⅝ to 23 and Westinghouse 40¼ to 43½.

News developments accounted for the keen interest shown in motor shares, all reports indicating that a brisk buying movement was in prospect to replace automobile stocks depleted by three years of depression.

Cotton closed little changed, while wheat sold off after an early rise and closed fractionally lower.

Maine Town Denies Vote To Jobless

LEWISTON, Maine, Sept. 7. (US)—Because of a court decision invoking an ancient "pauper" clause in the state law, 350 jobless residents of this mill town will be deprived of the right to vote at the Maine election next Monday, it was revealed today.

The board of registration has removed from the voting lists all persons who have been forced to seek aid from the municipal coffers—or face starvation and misery. In explanation of the action, Mrs. Edward F. Wellman, chairman of the board, said:

"You know elections have been won and lost by less than 350 votes."

Corporation Counsel Herbert E. Holmes, Democratic candidate for state senator, who lost a court fight against the action of the Republican-controlled board of registration, said today he had written President Hoover warning that similar action might be taken in other cities and that "it would pave the way for communism."

This is the first time the pauper clause has become the center of contention since 1831 when the Maine supreme court upheld it in a ruling.

Bonus Payment Opposed By U.S.J.C.C., Says Leader

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (UP)—President Hoover was told today by Courtlandt Otis of New York, president of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, that the 50,000 members of his organization were opposed to the payment of an additional bonus to world war veterans.

Otis also told the president that the national junior chamber was "in complete accord with the government's mobilization of the nation's business leaders in non-partisan groups, to attack the major economic problems of the day."

Otis said the junior chamber's "get-out-the-vote" campaign was succeeding, and he predicted that the heaviest vote since women's suffrage would be polled on Nov. 8.

'Rio Grande Girl' Reports For Duty At Democratic Headquarters To Help Elect Fellow Texan Vice President

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. (AP)—Miss Margaret West, daughter of a Texas ranch owner, arrived at Democratic headquarters today to do "whatever I can" to aid in the campaign of John N. Garner for the vice presidency.

She placed herself at the disposal of the stage and screen division of the Roosevelt-Garner campaign committee and said she expected to sing and tell cowboy stories at various places where Mr. Garner speaks.

With her came Jim Roberts, an Oklahoma cowpuncher, and his guitar. He will act as an accompanist.

Miss West said her father has a large cattle ranch near Uvalde, Texas, where Mr. Garner lives, and that she frequently accompanied Mr. Garner on fishing and hunting trips.

She said that Mr. Garner "is very fond" of hearing her sing cowboy and Mexican songs.

Miss West, who hails from Beaumont, Texas, is known as the "Rio Grande Girl" to New York radio fans. She is featured regularly over a New York station in Texas songs and stories. She is a graduate of the University of Texas.

Bondholders And Water District Officials To Discuss Finances

Two Representatives of Loan Concerns to Arrive Here Monday for Conferences on Problem

Discussions of plans for refunding outstanding indebtedness of $4,008,000 in bonds of the Wichita county water improvement district No. 1 will be opened in Wichita Falls Monday afternoon, it was revealed Wednesday. Word was received that two representatives of insurance companies of Des Moines, Iowa, who also represent owners of a major portion of the district bonds will arrive Monday.

The discussions will probably be held at the council room of the Memorial auditorium. The meeting has been arranged by the insurance companies and bondholders and the discussions will be with directors of the district. The meetings will be open to the public. H. A. Gray Jr., is president of the board and other members are Orville Bullington, Homer Lee, J. T. Harrell, Rhea Howard and Manager G. A. Remington.

Payments on interest of the bonds has been in default since April 1.

The district already has retired $497,000 of the bonds. Representatives of the companies involved have been extremely friendly in the past on discussions of similar matters but no indication of their plans or intentions for the meeting next week have been divulged.

Four alternatives have been advanced as possible solutions of the situation at present, officials said Wednesday. They include a moratorium on payments, extension of time, reduction of interest or reduction of the principle

FOUR INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

Youths in Hospital Here After Bellevue Spill

An attempt to avoid a three-way automobile tangle on a wet pavement two miles east of Bellevue, Texas, at 11:30 o'clock Wednesday morning sent four young men to the Wichita General hospital here, one of them with serious injuries.

The car in which the group was riding skidded from the pavement when the driver applied the brakes to avoid striking a machine which stopped without warning ahead of him. Approach of another car forced the driver to swerve the machine down the embankment in dodging a collision. The car did not overturn, but the force of the quick stop threw them from the car.

George Killough of Clinton, Okla., suffered a fractured pelvis and an injury to his spine; Ernest Herndon of Walterboro, S. C., suffered a deep laceration on the left side of his head; John R. Jones of Lynchburg, Va., received a painful hip injury; and Lloyd Harrell of Dill, Okla., suffered painful lacerations and body bruises.

Killough and Harrell were hitchhiking from South Texas to their homes, while Herndon and Jones were en route to Wichita Falls seeking employment. Killough and Harrell joined the other two men at Decatur, and were brought here by J. W. Jenkins of Dallas shortly after the accident. Jones and Herndon were transferred from the Bellevue hospital here early Wednesday night.

Court Asked To Outline Action

'Jim' Cites Move Under Way to Contest Vote

AUSTIN, Sept. 7. (AP)—The first move in what is expected to ultimately become a stubborn legal controversy over the Democratic nomination for governor of Texas was made here today.

Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, who apparently received more votes than her opponent, Gov. R. S. Sterling, incumbent, in the August primary, filed an application for a writ of mandamus in the state supreme court in an effort to preclude what she described as "gratuitous intermeddling of any factions" with normal functioning of the party machinery as it operates to produce a nominee.

Hearing Set Friday

The court relief, if given, simply would direct the Democratic executive committee to certify as nominee the candidate receiving the most votes, according to official returns, and instruct the convention to nominate that candidate.

The court set the application down for hearing next Friday.

James E. Ferguson, husband of the gubernatorial nomination claimant, said the action was sought as an assurance the Democratic executive committee and the convention would follow the election laws in declaring the result.

The mandamus application claimed that the executive committee had no recourse other than to tabulate the returns as certified by county chairmen to it, and recommend to the state convention that it declare the candidate receiving the most votes the party nominee.

Committee Meets Monday

The executive committee will meet at Lubbock next Monday to make its canvass. The state convention will assemble on next Tuesday.

W. O. Huggins of Houston, chairman, members of the executive committee, and the chairman of the state convention and all the delegates, were named in Mrs. Ferguson's application as parties against whom the mandamus should issue.

Governor Sterling had refused to concede that Mrs. Ferguson had been nominated. To the contrary, he said he had received a majority of "the legal votes cast," and asserted he would be "nominated and elected governor."

Charges Illegal Votes

The governor charges that thousands of illegal votes had been counted and alleged there were wholesale violations of the election

Babe Ruth Fears Appendix Trouble

DETROIT, Sept. 7. (AP)—Babe Ruth, the New York Yankees' perennial candidate for home run hitting honors, left for New York tonight to be examined and treated for what he fears is an attack of appendicitis.

He was seized with severe abdominal pains late today, and, without notifying the Yankee management, boarded a train with his wife at 8:30 p. m. for New York.

The seriousness of his illness probably will not be known until he reaches New York and is examined by the club physician.

The Yankees arrived today to open a series with the Tigers tomorrow. Manager Joe McCarthy was not with them, but is expected tomorrow.

Bandits Rob Two Young Couples of Automobile

Steve Fitte and Al Everhart, both of Muenster, and their girl companions were hijacked by two youthful bandits and their car taken at 11:50 o'clock Wednesday night on the west end of Tenth street near the water tower. The car was owned by Fitte. He killed the motor in making a turn on the road and the bandits rushed in, one on each side of the car.

The occupants were ordered out and contributed Fitte's hat, the girls' purses, and a package of cigarets before the robbers drove off in their car. City officers investigated.

SENATE VOTES BILL TO PAY HIGHWAY DEBTS

Texas Legislature Making Strides in Direction Of Tax Relief

WIDE VOTE MARGINS

Difference in Bills Makes Further Action to Make Proposals Into Law

AUSTIN, Sept. 7. (AP)—The Texas legislature made lengthy strides today toward completion of the tax relief program originally laid before the special session by Gov. R. S. Sterling.

The senate unanimously passed a bill by Senator W. R. Poage of Waco forcing the state to assume the counties' outstanding indebtedness on state highways. The house voted, 115 to 11, to pass a senate bill providing for remission of penalties and interest on delinquent taxes.

Action Not Final

In neither case was the action final. The house had passed a different highway tax relief proposal, and a free conference committee probably will adjust the differences. The house amended the delinquent tax remission bill to such an extent that the senate likely will ask for a free conference committee.

The Poage bill would set aside as much of the gasoline tax revenues as necessary to retire all county road bond issues, proceeds of which were used in the construction of state highways or in the procurement of rights of way for such highways. The house bill did not include right of way bonds and it allocated only one-fourth of the state gasoline tax. It was estimated, however, that only six or seven million dollars annually, or less than one-fourth of the gasoline tax, would be necessary to meet the bonded indebtedness.

Tax Bill Amended

The Poage bill was passed immediately after it had been explained by its author. Senator Poage said he would seek to have the free conference bill include a provision whereby the taxpayers would receive immediate relief. His suggested amendment would authorize county officials to make a statement under oath as to what part of their bonded indebtedness the state should assume. In that way the counties would know when they fix their tax rates next week how much they could reduce the road

G. O. P. of Connecticut Adopts Repeal Plank

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 7. (US)—Disregarding the national platform and the attitude of President Hoover, the Republican state convention today adopted a plank for outright repeal of the 18th amendment and immediate modification of the Volstead act.

U. S. Senator Hiram Bingham, anti-prohibition leader, was renominated for a second full term in the senate without opposition. Former Gov. John H. Trumbull, who retired from politics when his daughter married the son of ex-President Coolidge, received a unanimous nomination for governor.

Blind Senator Opens Nebraska Demo Campaign

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 17. (UP)—Senator Thomas Gore, of Oklahoma, today opened the Democratic national campaign in Nebraska.

He was the principal speaker at the Democratic day program at the Nebraska State fair.

"Hoover, hunger and hard times are the big issues in the campaign," the blind senator said. "Here and there the liquor question bobs up, but chiefly it is a problem of bread and not beer."

Gore asserted that the federal farm board had tended to aggravate the troubles of the farmer rather than alleviate them.

Sterling Asks Return Of Accused Kidnaper

AUSTIN, Sept. 7. (UP)—At the request of District Attorney William McCraw, Gov. Ross S. Sterling today issued a requisition on the governor of Kentucky for the return of Hubert J. Jenkins from Louisville to Dallas to answer an indictment issued there charging him with kidnaping Hubert B. Perkins, 15. Deputy Sheriff Bert Whisnand of Dallas county was designated to receive Jenkins. McCraw flew to Austin for the requisition.

American Girl Slain In Alps

A Swiss ex-convict peasant has confessed the murder of Miss Jeanne Ibershoff of Cleveland, 21-year-old Smith college student, whose body was found in the Swiss Alps. She had been attacked and murdered.

Confessed Slayer Of American Girl In Alps To Escape Hangman's Noose

Life Sentence Maximum for Convict Slayer of Girl Making Bicycle Tour of Europe, Law Prescribes

BRIGUE, Switzerland, Sept. 7. (US)—Heinrich Walther, 19-year-old Swiss ex-convict who, police say, confessed the murder of Miss Jeanne Ibershoff, 21, of Cleveland, will escape the hangman's noose if convicted.

Under Swiss law, convicted murderers less than 23 years old are not hanged. Life imprisonment is the penalty.

Walther, a phlegmatic peasant type, today gave police a methodical account of the murder. He said while cycling down a lonely Alps mountain road into St. Nicholas valley, he met Miss Ibershoff pedaling into Viege, where she was to meet her sister, Helen, 18, with whom she was making a bicycle tour of Europe.

The prisoner said Miss Ibershoff stopped to ask directions and that he tried to embrace her. She fought him off and he struck her with a rock. The blow crushed her skull. The approach of other travelers frightened him off. He covered the body hastily and fled into the woods.

The stolen bicycle he left behind proved his undoing. Police recalled Walther had served several sentences for bicycle stealing and picked him up for questioning. Questioned for 24 hours, he broke down and confessed the murder.

An Austrian youth arrested shortly after the slaying Friday night was released.

Flood Threatens System Of Control in Valley

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Sept. 7. (AP)—The flood control system in the lower Rio Grande valley faced its most severe test today as the raging border stream buffeted levees and overflowed a vast area in the lowlands, mainly on the Mexican bank.

Although the volume of water surging downstream was estimated to be more than it has carried at any time since the control system was built, engineers were confident the rich agricultural belt would escape serious damage.

The crest of the flood was below the village of Hidalgo and was believed to have passed the inlet of the floodway.

BERN'S KIN TO LEARN MOTIVE

Film Producer's Physical Condition Discussed

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 7. (US)—Paul Bern's sorrowful secret and the motive behind his suicide will be revealed in all their grim reality to his brother, Henry Bern, and to no one else before him.

This was the decision of studio executives and friends of Bern's beautiful blonde bride of a few months, Jean Harlow, tonight.

At the same time it was learned that the coroner's autopsy disclosed a fact about Bern's physical condition that was the all-important factor in the tragedy that came into his life and that of his wife.

The autopsy also revealed that he was free from any pathological condition.

Actress Ill

Facing the ordeal of a midnight interview with the brother of her dead husband, Miss Harlow was reported tonight as too ill to attend the official inquest tomorrow.

The brother of the motion picture producer whose suicide last Monday stunned Hollywood, was rushing to Los Angeles by airplane, scheduled to arrive late tonight.

He was to go directly from the airport to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marino Bello, stepfather and mother of Miss Harlow, where the platinum-haired girl widow has been lying seriously ill since the news of her husband's suicide was broken to her.

In her sickroom, the beautiful platinum blonde and the brother of the self-slain producer were to hold a dramatic meeting, shadowed with

WATER COVERS COUNTRY HOME OF PIONEER

Clear Fork of Brazos At Record Stage After Heavy Rains

Special to The Record News.

STAMFORD, Texas, Sept. 7.—Trapped in their picturesque country home near Lueders, Col. R. L. Penick, prominent West Texas business leader, and his daughter, Miss Lillas Penick, were marooned by swift waters of the Clear Fork river tonight.

Rescue crews were attempting to rescue the pioneer and his daughter who were believed to have taken refuge either in the attic or on the roof of the house. Parties of men from Stamford and Anson went to the scene after two motorboats sent from here failed to reach the house. One of the boats was lost, but its occupants, Jack Cook and Gordon Haynes, took refuge in a tree top and were rescued. Boats were ordered from Abilene.

House Well Built

The house, a one-story stone building, is well constructed and it was believed there was no danger of its collapsing. The home is known as "Lillias Lodge." It is located within 200 feet of the river bed but is on a high bank.

It was reported Charlie O'Brien went to the Penick home this afternoon when the river started rising and had remained with the Penicks. O'Brien is a young farmer and little fear was felt for his safety. Colonel Penick's age would be a factor against him should the overflow force the trio from the house, friends said.

Tenants Away

Tenants on the Penick place were away from home when the river started its sudden rise. The Penick house was overflown about six inches several years ago and when the water started rising late today the Penicks felt there was no real danger. By nightfall the water had risen to a depth of four feet in the house.

At Lueders the water was reported three or four inches over the bridge on highway 18.

BODIES OF FOUR VICTIMS RESCUED

ABILENE, Texas, Sept. 7. (AP)—Waters of streams in this immediate vicinity which yesterday took a toll of four lives, slowly receded tonight and danger from an unprecedented flood moved to the northward, where the Clear Fork of the Brazos was rising rapidly.

At Lueders, 20 miles from Abilene on the Clear Fork, the river was reported to have risen to record heights and water in Lake Penick, at that place, was roaring seven feet over the spillway.

Bodies of the four who were drowned near here last night were recovered early this morning. They were Mrs. George Mullens of Ontario, Calif., and her three young sons. Mullens escaped by clinging to a tree when they were swept away as they attempted to reach a railroad embankment.

Hundreds of waterbound tourists, en route on the Bankhead highway, were permitted to move over that route tonight. They had been held up 17 hours. Trains were moving on the Texas and Pacific today but the Wichita Valley was halted tonight by the flood situation on the clear fork.

Mob Threatens Officer Accused of Third Degree

PEKIN, Ill., Sept. 7. (US)—Accused of the "third degree inquisition" murder of Martin Virant, a 38-year-old world war veteran, Deputy Sheriff C. O. Skinner was in a cell at the county jail in Peoria today to save him from the threatened violence of crowds of miners here.

"They're not going to saddle it all onto me," Skinner declared when the warrant for his arrest was served upon him.

He denied he had taken part in the vicious beatings which Virant told a coroner's jury five deputies had inflicted upon him when he failed to give the testimony they desired in a saloon brawl murder.

Death Strikes In Home Of Shipless Sailors After 'Legger Sells 'Smoke'

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. (AP)—"Smoke" death has struck "Tin Hills," hapless community of shipless sailors.

Five members of the colony which lives in shacks of discarded boxes and rusted tin, died yesterday. Three others are in a hospital and a dozen required medical attention after drinking "smoke"—the cheap, poisonous alcoholic "beverage" of the wharves and slums.

Police are hunting the man who sold it. He came to "Tin Hills" two days ago, they said, selling wood alcohol. He made no secret of that. The price was 50 cents a gallon.

Even the men of Tin Hills—men of the sea who are used to strong drink and who take the rawest liquor straight—could not drink wood alcohol and expect to live. The bootlegger made this clear. He stated that the alcohol was poisonous, but that by following a method he prescribed the poison could be removed.

Either the buyers were careless, or the bootlegger lied; for the deaths and the cases of severe illness all were ascribed to wood alcohol poisoning.

MRS. FERGUSON FILES PETITION

First Shot Fired in Court Battle Over Primary

laws and other irregularities in the July and August primaries. Mr. Ferguson had led all candidates in the first primary, her plurality over Governor Sterling, second high in the July voting, being slightly in excess of 100,000 votes. The two entered the August run-off primary for the nomination.

Attorneys representing the Sterling cause have been assembling information and evidence on which to base a possible court contest. It was considered probable an effort would be made before the party executive committee, and possibly on the floor of the convention, to block the formal nomination of Mrs. Ferguson, even should the returns show her vote larger than Sterling's.

Mrs. Ferguson sought relief in the supreme court to preclude such possible developments.

Heeds Sterling Claim

"This action was taken in view of the public statement of the governor (Sterling) that he would be nominated at Lubbock and that he would be elected governor," said James E. Ferguson in a statement, referring to Mrs. Ferguson's application for a mandamus.

"In view of the undisputed returns which show that my wife received a clear majority of something over 3,800 votes, and in view of the statement of the governor and his political associates * * * that my wife shall not be nominated, she has brought this action to make sure that the Democratic executive committee performs its duty and function under the law to declare the person nominated who has received the highest number of votes in the primary.

"This action does not deprive or attempt to deprive anybody of their privilege to file a contest in the manner provided by law to test the validity of any votes cast in the primary.

"This action was brought to permit the executive committee to exercise its function and duty under the law and not to be interfered with by any gratuitous intermeddling of any factions."

Lawmakers Work To Give Relief

taxes to be paid in January. If the amount of reimbursement claimed due by the counties should prove too large, the state would deduct the proper sum from the payment the succeeding year.

Relief of property owners through reduction of their road bond taxes was the primary purpose for which Governor Sterling reconvened the legislature.

The house amended the senate delinquent tax remission bill so as to provide that delinquent taxes might be paid without penalties or interest up to Jan. 31, 1933, instead of Dec. 31, 1932. The senate had refused an identical amendment.

Force Cities to Remit

Another house amendment would force incorporated cities and towns, operating under home rule charters, to release the interest and penalties on delinquent taxes. The senate bill included virtually all delinquent taxes except those owed to municipalities. Representative W. E. Pope of Corpus Christi, who offered the amendment, said that if the remission was good for the people of the rural districts, it was good for the cities.

Representative Phil Sanders of Nacogdoches, chairman of the house appropriation committee, opposed the remission bill. Sanders said the remission of interest and penalties to delinquent tax payers encouraged others to allow their taxes to become delinquent in the hope some future legislature would remit their penalties.

CREDIT GRANTORS MEET

The Retail Credit Grantors association will hold its weekly meeting Thursday evening at 6:30 at the Kemp hotel. All accounts beginning with the letters X, Y, Z and Q will be reviewed. All bad checks and repossessions will be discussed.

Purses aggregating $4,000 on the four major events of steer riding, bulldogging, calf roping and bronc riding are expected to attract major stars in the frontier sport. Participants will be strictly required to follow the regulations of the show to compete for the thousands of dollars offered.

Plan Chuck Wagons

The early day roundup theme will be developed by plans to operate chuck wagons in the city during the celebration. All leading cowboys are expected to attend the rodeo here as a preliminary to the annual Chicago show. The purses offered by the 50th anniversary association are much larger, for the length of the show, than the Chicago purses, it was pointed out Wednesday.

The jubilee association is considering plans of affiliating with the Rodeo Association of America in order to employ the point system of show awards for participants. Points given at each show are totaled to determine the world's champion performers in each event during the year.

Under the regulations of the national rodeo organization the show here would be rated as class A on the basis of prize money offered.

The rodeo will be one of the fastest staged events of its kind ever seen in the Southwest, judilee leaders said. Eight-side delivery chutes will be employed to enable handlers to "feed" horses, riders, and steers into the arena at the rate of one every 60 seconds. The show will be timed as fast as it is possible for judges to keep the records.

Trick Performers

In addition to the four major prize money events awards will be offered for trick riding and roping and numerous exhibition features will be staged.

Judges and timekeepers listed by the association include Adj. Gen. Bill Sterling of the Texas rangers, Ranger Capt. Tom Hickman, Eddie Smith of Wellington, Jim Coffee of Las Vegas, N. M., Frank Rhoades of Seymour and Arena Secretary C. A. Studer of Canadian, Texas.

A group of stars already assured for the event includes Miss Gene Kreig of Holly, Colo., booked as the "million dollar smile girl," who is an able bronc rider and skilled horsewoman; Mayme Stroud, former world's champion bronc riding, arena racer, and Roman riding actress; and John Lindsey, famous arena clown.

Fierce Broncs Secured

Fifty head of rodeo broncs have been secured from Red Remington of Denver, Colo., who has gathered them during the last five years. The horses have been used but one time this year and at that rodeo only four men qualified for honors out of 60 competitors. The rodeo was staged at the Monte Vista, Colo., sky high stampede last month. Mr. Stroud also will bring the top string from his own herd.

The horses include the notables, G. B., Desperado, Pine Bluff, Half Moon, Adaman, Graveyard, Jack Dalton, Lindbergh and Amarillo Boy. The latter horse has been entered in rodeo events for the last three years and has been riden only one time and that in a muddy arena at Amarillo. The horse has taken his regular turn in the arena drawings and no effort has been made to protect his record. The rider was Billy Bishop.

The rodeo also will offer a herd of 1,300-pound Brahma steers that "cannot be ridden" none of which has been conquered in a long series of arena appearances. The herd will offer contestants a real chance to prove their abilities. In the bulldogging contests a group of 700-pound 3 and 4-year-old steers has been secured which will offer strong competition for riders.

Oldest City to Observe 367th Anniversary Today

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Sept. 7. (AP)—St. Augustine, oldest city in the United States, is going to celebrate its 367th anniversary tomorrow and cut a 1,000-pound cake.

The town was founded by early Spanish explorers in 1565 and many relics of their occupancy remain, including Fort Marion which was originally called San Marco.

One ton of wood pulp will make three square acres of paper.

"B. C." Relieves Headaches and Quiets Nerves

Realizing that no one drug can relieve all headaches, as they come from so many causes, a North Carolina pharmacist has developed a combination of several ingredients, so blended and proportioned as to relieve almost any headache in a few minutes. You can get this formula wherever drugs are sold under the name "B. C.," 10c and 25c packages, and when you have one of those violent, nerve-racking headaches, from inorganic causes, "B. C." will give you soothing relief in three minutes. "B. C." should also be used for the relief of muscular aches and pains, common colds and neuralgia, reducing fever, and for quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs. —Adv.

Bern's Brother To Learn Motive

the tragedy of the death of the man whom they both loved.

Both, although they knew Paul Bern with the intimacy of a wife and a brother, have declared that they can think of no reason why he should have chosen to end his life, leaving a cryptic note dwelling on the "frightful wrong" he had done his wife and his own "abject humiliation."

While additional testimony came from friends of Bern, telling of his alleged "suicide complex," evidence was accumulating to indicate that despondency over his own physical condition was responsible for his decision to die.

In a telephone conversation with Louis B. Mayer, head of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Dr. Edward B. Jones, Bern's physician, repeated his statement that he "understood the motive."

"It is not a matter that I can discuss publicly," Dr. Jones told Mayer. "But I am returning to Los Angeles at once, arriving there on Sept. 13, and I shall be glad to give whatever information I have to the proper authorities."

Encouraging Report

It was reported today that just before Dr. Jones sailed for Honolulu, several weeks ago, Bern consulted him and received an encouraging report.

Two other Los Angeles physicians, whom Bern had consulted, while declining to discuss the case in specific detail, indicated that Bern's condition was functional rather than pathological, and that it was one which might induce a tendency to melancholia, especially in a man of sensitive temperament.

In that connection, it was recalled that the autopsy report described Bern's physical condition as normal. The autopsy report also confirmed other evidence that Bern's death was due to a gunshot wound self-inflicted.

The inquest, to be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at a mortuary in West Los Angeles, is to be in charge of Coroner Frank-lin Nance.

List of Witnesses

Witnesses for whom subpoenas have been issued include Henry Bern, Miss Harlow, Marino Bello, Irving Thalberg, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer executive, who was summoned to Bern's home when the suicide was discovered; John Carmichael, the butler who found Bern's body; Mrs. Winifred Carmichael, wife of the butler and cook at the Bern home; Clifton Davis, gardener; Harold Garrison, chauffeur; Blanche Williams, Miss Harlow's personal maid; M. E. Greenwood, studio executive, and Detective Joseph Whitehead, the first police officer to reach the scene.

Coroner Nance said that while he was anxious to have Miss Harlow present, in order that all angles of the case might be brought out, he would not insist upon her attendance, if her condition were such that it would endanger her health.

"She is in no condition to be moved and it will be absolutely impossible for her to testify," Dr. Kennicott asserted, tonight.

Bello, the film's star's stepfather, said today that Miss Harlow was "just beginning to show a little interest in what is going on."

"She is still a seriously sick girl," he said. "She has asked what is being done with Paul's body, and things like that, but that is about all. We tried to get her mind off the tragedy. But she keeps going back to it."

Hundreds of telegrams and letters arrived for Miss Harlow today, and long distance telephone calls came from all parts of the country. Many of the messages were from stage and screen folk, while others were from men and women, strangers to her, who had seen her on the screen.

CHICAGO AIDS T. U. PROJECT

Two Universities Join In Building Obsevatory

AUSTIN, Sept. 7. (UP)—Plans for combining resources of Chicago university and Texas university in development of astronomical research which will include erection of a $375,000 observatory in Texas were completed today.

Under the program agreed on, the W. J. McDonald observatory to be erected in Texas and the Yerkes observatory of the University of Chicago will be under supervision of the present director of the Yerkes observatory, Dr. Otto Struve.

In addition, the assistant director of the McDonald observatory and four staff members will be paid by Chicago unviersity. Both schools will share cost of upkeep and making observations.

The McDonald observatory will be equipped with a concave mirror of 80-inch aperture and will be second in size in the world to the 100-inch telescope at Mount Wilson observatory in California.

Erection of the McDonald observatory was provided in the will of W. J. McDonald, Paris, Texas, who died in 1926 leaving a fund now in excess of $840,000 for erection of an observatory. Site for the observatory has not been selected although several optical tests have been made.

VALLEES PATCH UP DIFFERENCE

Fay Sends Endearing Wire To Flustered Rudy

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 7. (US)—Rudy Vallee received the following telegram tonight from Reno, where his wife apparently has exercised the classic feminine prerogative of changing her mind about getting a divorce.

"Darling I love only you always. Leaving with father for San Francisco. You can catch us there at the hotel Lincoln tomorrow. Fay."

Earlier in the day America's vagabond lover, a little dizzy at all the matrimonial cross-currents of his off-again-on-again romance, had said, when asked if love's young dream had been patched up:

"If she says so, it must be so."

WIFE ANNOUNCES RECONCILIATION

RENO, Nev., Sept. 7. (US)—The broken romance of Rudy Vallee, famous radio crooner, and his wife, Fay Webb Vallee, appeared today to have been pieced together again.

Following a long distance conversation with Rudy who is in New York, Mrs. Vallee said the divorce she had planned to get here "was all a mistake" and added:

"We love each other very much and we're going back together again."

She left Reno for San Francisco tonight and said she would rejoin her husband later in New York.

She declined to reveal the cause of their disagreement except to say "our separation was over a petty disturbance and it was all a mistake."

Annual C.I.A. Breakfast Held at Forum Clubhouse

Crystal baskets of clematis and red verbenas marked the C. I. A. colors on the speaker's table, when students and prospective students of that college held their annual breakfast at the Woman's Forum clubhouse Wednesday morning. Amber bowls filled with red roses and fragrant heather, ageratum and orange and gold lantana, made brilliant spots of color along the table.

Annuals of many different years were passed among the students and stories of developments at the school and of the many beloved personalities that makes the college one dear to those who attend, were pleasant incidents at the delightful breakfast that followed the opening song, "C. I. A. Forever."

After breakfast, Mrs. Chester Wynne was presented as the first speaker to suggest the organization of a C. I. A. club in Wichita Falls. Various students and ex-students talked enthusiastically on the subject, and it was planned that a list of Wichita Falls girls and those from adjacent towns who attended C. I. A. should be sent to Mrs. Kirksey, who is a graduate of the school, and a club shall be organized in the autumn. Interesting projects for the future activities of the organization were a theme of animated discussion.

"Alma Mater," written by a C. I. A. student and sung to the tune of the Russian national anthem, was the closing feature of the breakfast.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

What a blessing that people may laugh. We had a smile coming over two modern youths of whose conversation we heard just the other day. They announced that at 35 they intended to commit suicide, for at that age men began to break and they had it figured out that they would have ceased to be of worth to the world.

We marveled at the hectic life they must intend to lead for some 15 years if they broke at 35, being at this date around 20. And we thought of men who in their fifties were in their prime of life. It always depends on the spirit of the man. When a spirit grows gray, life is over.

But lines of conversation have changed in the last 20 years. We were telling a young man of 30 of the suicidal intent of these youths, withholding their names in sympathy for their dolorous intent, and he grinned all over his cheerful face.

"I can't understand how the boys and girls get by in this generation," he said. "They talk about everything on earth. Why, if I had even said the word 'sex' when I was a boy, my mother would have washed my mouth out with soap for a week."

Sometimes we feel rather hard toward Ben Lindsey; his theory of companionate marriage has made many girls and boys feel free to discuss questions that may be of interest to them, but which we often feel they should be spanked for choosing. They are brave—with a capital B, but they do not seem to realize that there are books and pictures, past ages with their valor and glory, the sky and stars, the trees and flowers—oh, all of nature and history that makes a grand panorama for discussion.

The evenings when we have sat around our hearth (even if it is just a gas grate) and talked back into the civilizations of ancient Egypt, have been pleasant hours. There is so much in life to live, so much to feed mind and soul, that mockery about suicide seems useless bosh.

One of the men in our office told of the philosophy of a negro man who worked for him and who doubted the female of the species. "Women," he said, "is like hot tamales; you never knows what's in 'em."

Unknown quantities are sometimes rather interesting things. But when you've discovered all that are possible to you, life must be a blase thing. It is so much more preferable to let knowledge develop year by year. To become gradually acquainted with one's own mind is a development of riches.

The more we hear of what interests the majority of young people of this day, the more we would advocate training in reading good books. We grew up reading at random. But when we reached maturity, we became interested in something other than desultory reading.

We can speak from experience; good books have proven a haven in many storms. Good music has proven a reprieve in time of worry; nature has proven above all things, that she can be all things to her children, according to their demands.

Tips Discussed By Emily Post

By EMILY POST
Author of "Etiquette, the Blue Book of Social Usage"

J. B. A. writes: Please tell me if lovely old antique rockers are used in living rooms now with good taste. I hardly ever see them any more. I have a small and a large one that match in period, and want to know if it would be in good taste to use them along with an overstuffed suite and a few pieces of maple furniture. They are mahogany.

Answer—It depends entirely upon the general character of your house. In a living room that is old-fashioned or just homelike and comfortable, the rockers would be suitable. If the mahogany is too red in color to go with the maple, you can stain it slightly with brown and when thoroughly dry, rub, and rub it over and over again with wax. (If surface is too perfect to touch, then just keep on waxing every now and then).

M. S. T. asks (1) What are the proper amounts to tip for one week at an American plan hotel with rate of $110 for two persons? (2) What is the proper amount of tips for a one-week sea cruise? (3) When and to whom should tips be given?

Answer—(1) Three dollars to the waiter or waitress; $1 to the chambermaid; 50 cents each elevator man; 10 cents every time a bell boy brings you anything; $1 to the doorman; 50 cents to porter on arriving and 50 cents on leaving. If you have a sitting room, give chambermaid two or three dollars and give bell boys quarters—unless the daily 10-cent tips amount to about a dollar. (2 and 3) Each individual first-class passenger on a first-class steamer gives $2.50 to the room stewardess (or steward), $2.50 to the dining-room steward, $2.50 to the deck steward, $2.50 to the lounge steward. Your tip to the head steward or to one of the chefs depends on whether they have done anything special for you. If not you do not tip them. If you are a bad sailor and have been taking your meals in your room, you give $5 at least to the stewardess (or steward). Or if you have eaten your meals on deck, you give $5 to the deck steward, and $1.25 to the bath stewardess (or steward).

Our Children

By ANGELO PATRI

THE ADOPTED CHILD

So many letters come to me asking about the training of adopted children from people who have taken a stranger child into their family that I write again about them in the hope that a word may help.

A child is the product of his ancestors. The latest ones have the most influence, we believe. That is not saying that a remote one will not crop up and exert his influence mightily. But it is safe to count on the two last generations. They will surely show in the child.

If you are wise, and who is, when you adopt a child, you will look well into his antecedents. No human being is perfect, not even you or I. But most of us are normal for us. When you select a child pick one of your own race and creed and peculiar prejudices. If you come of a Calvinistic strain don't select the child of a dancer. If you love gaiety and the trivial joys of life don't take a child from the Calvinistic stock. There is no use in staging a battle. You will have all you can do to rear a child of your own sort.

Try to make certain that the child is healthy. Health is the foundation of character. If the child has good health you can make almost anything of him. If he hasn't, if you have a sickly child, one with a strain of disease of one sort or another, you are going to have an uphill job from the start. Sick children appeal to our sympathies but our heads ought to warn us that only a mother by right of birth can carry the burden of an invalid child with grace. Pick a healthy child of your own sort and then prepare to do your best to train him into usefulness.

If you have a dream child in your mind please get rid of him. He exists only in dreams. Little Lord Fauntleroy did a lot of harm. It is lovely to be called "Dearest," to be served like a princess by one's darling child, but there isn't any such darling child in this world and never was. Which is something to be grateful for if you only knew it. A child is a healthy, hungry, careless, heedless, active creature, the makings of a human being. You have to do the rest.

Most of the trouble people have with hta adopted child lies in that direction. They have a pattern in their mind to which they hope to make this child conform. If he is a child of their own sort and is healthy, there is a chance of this plan coming out approximately. Otherwise, no.

One has to remember that the child one takes into his family is an alien. Telling him he is one of the family does not make him so. Treating him as a beloved child will not make him so. He becomes one of the family only when he has made his place in it and that he does by virtue of his own gifts, his own inheritance.

Environment will help. A good home, a solid background for right is essential for the training of any child. But unless the heredity is right the background, perfect though it may be, will not suffice. You took the whole child into your family for better or worse. Accept him and make the best of him, as he is. Any healthy child of good inheritance has enough of good in him to make him worth while. Adoptions would be more successful if people didn't think they were buying a perfect prodigy. What they get is an ordinary human child that ought to satisfy anybody.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, inclosing stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

Highland Heights Council Opens Autumn Meetings

Mrs. Frank Creighton, retiring president of the Highland Heights Christian Woman's council, was a surprised honoree at the beautiful luncheon that followed the business meeting Wednesday morning when new officers were elected. The meeting was opened with singing, with Mrs. Paul Barnett at the piano and Mrs. Viola Frost gave one of the most impressive devotionals ever heard in the council.

New officers elected were named as follows: Mrs. Paul Steed, president; Mrs. J. E. Mintgomery, first vice president; Mrs. G. C. Shankle, secretary; Mrs. Edgar Weehunt, treasurer. Committee chairmen are Mrs. P. B. Curd, ways and means; Mrs. John Humphries, program; Mrs. Clyde Carey, flowers; Mrs. Viola Frost, sick visitation; Mrs. W. R. Gay, kitchen equipment; Mrs. B. B. Craft, publicity; Mrs. W. R. Ground, communion; Mrs. T. E. Durrett, library; Mrs. Frank Creighton, federation representative; Mrs. Harley Snyder, social service; Mrs. J. R. Collier, baptistry. Division leaders named included Mesdames Paul Denton, Joe W. Evans, R. W. Seyler, and R. F. Sandifer.

Splendid reports were heard from the division leaders, the chairmen and retiring president on the work of the past year. Mrs. Creighton made an inspiring address in turning the office to the new president, and Mrs. Steed, in her acceptance, indicated charmingly the interest and ability she will show as president.

Surprise Luncheon

Mrs. Creighton was surprised in the luncheon which was arranged particularly in her honor. The table decorations and flowers were all in green and yellow and the motif was noted even in the delicious menu and the individual cakes that had the letter "C" on them.

By special request, J. N. Sherrill addressed the group on the subject of loyalty, repeating an inspiring address given at the church recently. The luncheon program included original numbers adding to the pleasure of the occasion.

Mesdames Paul Steed and J. H. Crouch sang a hilarious original novelty number, accompanied by Miss Lucile Crouch, presenting Mrs. Creighton with a handsome gift from the council. Mrs. W. A. Scarborough made a pretty talk when she presented Mrs. Edgar Weehunt, retiring leader of division one with a friendship quilt bearing the embroidered names of all division members in their own handwriting. Mrs. G. C. Shankle presented Mrs. J. R. Collier, retiring leader of division three with a pretty cookie jar in behalf of the division. Mrs. J. R. Rudy, who recently moved to Electra, made a gracious speech of thanks to division four for the lunch cloth with which they presented her and to the council for a handkerchief shower. Mrs. B. D. Sartin expressed her thanks to members of division two for the pretty gift with which she was presented at the final spring meeting.

Mrs. Creighton had made a huge cake in the shape of a horseshoe, bearing the Christian names of four retiring division leaders and she cut and served this at the luncheon.

Division four was hostess for the day, with Mesdames J. H. Alexander and R. W. Rogers in charge of the delightful arrangements.

Rev. J. T. Montgomery closed the meeting with a short talk and pronounced the benediction dismissing 53 members and four guests.

Chinese Program To Mark Opening Of Junior Forum

A beautiful picture of the orient will be given in the opening meeting of the Junior forum at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, when senior members and Junior forum members' mothers will be special guests of the juniors and there will be other guest privileges except out of town guests. The annual dues will be paid on this occasion and membership cards for the next year will be issued. Yearbooks will also be distributed.

The dining room ceiling will be veiled with drooping wisteria and six large cherry trees covered with pink cherry blossoms will be used in the decorations. Real Chinese tea will be served with Chinese wafers in Chinese style from two small tables where Misses Mary Virginia Barron and Marguerite Peery will preside. A group of Junior forum girls will assist them. The outstanding decoration in the dining room will be the Chinese altar before the black velvet curtain draped in the center of the room, a rare piece of art owned by Miss Jeannette Moore, who is chairman of decorations. Mrs. Gus Hecht, Misses Marietta Hunt, Laura Glen Pattillo and Marguerite Peery will assist her.

Unusual Program

Miss Katherine Steiner will play two startlingly beautiful and impressive numbers, "Rush Hour in Hong Kong," by Abram Chasins, is so vivid in interpretation that the clatter of feet, the roar of traffic and the Chinese calls may be heard. "A Chinese Quarrel" by Walter Neiman, which will follow, is another exquisite example of Miss Steiner's sympathetic interpretation.

A group of Junior forum girls will sing a "Chinese Lullaby," and Mrs. Jozach Easley will talk on the Chinese theater, just before the play, "A Chinese Romance," to be directed by Mrs. Russell T. Morgan, will be presented. Authentic costumes for each character will be used in this play and it will be presented in real Chinese style.

The opening meeting of the Junior forum is unusual, in tone this autumn and the atmosphere of the orient will be stressed by each number and all decorations. Junior forum members, their mothers and senior forum members are urged to attend.

16 ARRESTED IN LOAN FRAUD

Alabamans Charged With Conspiracy

DOTHAN, Ala., Sept. 7. (AP)—Sixteen people were arrested today on federal indictments charging conspiracy to defraud the government in obtaining seed loans, making a total of 32 taken into custody in five south Alabama counties on those charges in the last two days.

With the exception of George W. Ray, former Dale county farm agent who was required to post bonds totaling $9,000, each was released in ball of $3,000.

J. L. Crawford, president of the closed Dothan National bank, and W. D. Jeffries, former Houston county tax collector, both of whom were indicted with several others last winter, were indicted on additional counts. Jeffries pleaded guilty to the first charges and was given a prison sentence.

OW! OW! OW!

The actor was telling the story of his blasted romance.

"And so," he said to a sympathetic friend, "I never married."

"Do you mean," asked the friend, "that her father came between you and the girl?"

"Well," said the actor, "not so much between as behind."—Tit-Bits.

A Washington Bystander

By KIRKE SIMPSON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Resignation of Jimmie Walker as mayor of New York ends at least one phase of an extraordinary chapter in national politics.

KIRKE SIMPSON

Rarely has a presidential nominee been called upon during his campaign to handle so thorny a problem, and handle it publicly with every word and act under scrutiny, as Governor Roosevelt faced in the hearings on the charges against Walker.

There are no precedents to guide estimates of what the effect on his candidacy may be. Not until the votes are counted in November, particularly the New York votes, city and state, can more than a guess be made.

Walker's resignation and his criticism of Roosevelt's conduct of the hearing as unfair throw into bolder relief from a national political standpoint the importance of the Democratic state convention in New York early in October.

Smith Important Factor

There the governor and presidential candidate is reported at odds with Tammany over who will be nominated to succeed him at Albany. And that former governor, former presidential candidate and aforetime idol of Tammany's rank and file, Al Smith, remains mute both as to the national ticket and the gubernatorial nomination fight.

There are those who have felt ever since the dramatic hour in Chicago when Roosevelt was swept to his nomination and Smith left the scene without witnessing the triumph of his former friend and political associate that the moment of Smith's final decision as to his course might be the crisis of the presidential campaign.

It looks also as if he may, due to his personal popularity in the city, hold the balance of power as to who shall be Democratic nominee for governor to succeed Roosevelt. He is generally supposed to favor Lieutenant Governor Lehman, as does Roosevelt. As yet Smith has not spoken. If and when he does, the factors in New York state as they bear on the presidential election will be easier to catalog.

Roosevelt's Opportunity

Roosevelt during the Walker hearings had a unique opportunity to answer indirectly some of the challenges as to his fitness for the presidency hurled at him by Republican orators.

He was pitted against keen, quick-witted men both in Walker himself, in Judge Seabury, who appeared as the mayor's chief critic, and in the mayor's counsel.

Hambone's Mediations

A New Angle on the "Two Jobs" Clause

BROKEN homes—separation of husbands and wives and in some cases divorce—are resulting, according to a Washington dispatch, from the "married persons" clause of the government's new economy act. The clause provides that married persons, living with a husband or wife also on the government pay roll, shall be dismissed before other employes.

The departure to separate dwellings and the opening of divorce proceedings have taken place because the notices of discharge state that if the marital status of employes changes they may retain their jobs.

This is worth attention because the question of employing married women has arisen in city and state offices, schools and industries throughout the country. It would seem to the impartial observer that, with jobs as scarce as they are, one each to any family is enough. The National Woman's party, opposing the "married persons" clause, has collected facts showing another side of the picture.

Among the cases cited by this organization are a husband earning $1,917 and a wife $1,248 who contribute support to 14 people; another husband earning $1,900 and wife earning $1,640 who are buying a home they will lose if their income is reduced. Other instances of men and women working to support several dependents are quoted.

The situation appears to be another in which that which seems to be for the general good works hardship in individual cases. Perhaps a means can be devised to make exceptions when the need warrants. Breaking up of homes, often with children involved, can only lead to worse difficulties.

Here is one more indication that the ills of our complicated economic life today can not be cured by remedies effective 20 years ago.

Prepared To Benefit

CURRENT discussion of the crop outlook and economic conditions generally in the country point the fact that Wichita Falls has a particular right, and a solid hope, in watching cotton and grain markets closely day by day.

Those who have had occasion to observe agricultural conditions in the Wichita Falls trade territory during the past few days declare emphatically that no section of the country has finer prospects for a uniformly big yield, and that few have a crop outlook comparable to that in this district.

An adequate amount of moisture, plus excellent distribution both as to time and place, has afforded this area one of the finest growing seasons in its history. The schedule of dry hot weather and rainy seasons which has been registered has served to put this part of Texas in almost ideal condition for a big harvest. While cotton and grain are thriving on the opportune supply of moisture recently provided, the danger of disastrous visitations by pests has been practically eliminated, according to close students of agriculture here.

With apparent assurance of a bountiful yield throughout this territory, it is with justified and hopeful interest that residents of the Wichita Falls area study the nation's market reports. An upward scaling of prices on cotton and grain to even fair figures will mean tremendous strides toward economic recovery in this community.

Society's Responsibility

ONE of the most tragic stories of the depression has to do with Frank Howard, 72-year-old Boston man, who seems likely to spend the remainder of his life in prison for the theft of a pair of shoes, a bottle of perfume and a handbag, all worth $7.

Howard was sentenced to life imprisonment for armed robbery back in 1897, but in 1914 he was given a parole.

For 14 years he worked as a painter and went straight. He married and became a respectable citizen. Then came the depression and Howard was out of work. For nearly four years he stuck it out, doing odd jobs here and there and making a $5 old age pension go as far as it would.

Then desperate, he committed the theft, was caught and automatically committed to prison.

The logical supposition is that Howard would have gone "straight" if society had been prepared to give him work. Cases of this kind emphasize more and more the fact that society must take a large share of the blame for many of our criminal acts.

Chicago's Divided Battlefront

THERE is something ludicrous in the disclosure that one set of detectives has been spying on another set of detectives in Chicago, but after all it is hardly a laughing matter.

Doubtless you read that operatives of Chicago's famed "Secret Six" recently trapped operatives of State's Attorney Swanson's office in the act of tapping their telephone wires. Then followed argument back and forth between these two crime-detecting agencies, which appear to be at swords' points.

Perhaps this explains a lot. Perhaps Chicago's reputation for crime wouldn't be as bad as it now is, if the city's crime fighting agencies would stop fighting each other and put up a united front against the criminals.

SO THEY SAY!

WALTER WINCHELL On Broadway

(Copyright, 1932, Daily Mirror, Inc.)

a Few Notes

Dear W. W.: The eclipse certainly had you columnists running around in circles...I was told you got up at 4:28 yesterday afternoon and started on a round of the night clubs...At any rate, you're not the only one to pull a boner...I came out of the subway at 42nd St. and Broadway and saw a man looking up into the skies with two large smoked-glass plates...I asked him if he would sell me one of them, and he embarrassed me terribly with his reply..."Sell you one?" he shrieked, "Hell, they cost me $25 apiece—they're X-rays of my appendix!"...However, he calmed down and was kind enough to let me look at the eclipse through one ...And the view I got was probably the only one of its kind on record ...I saw the moon passing over the sun between a kidney and an inflamed liver...There's a cable from Peggy Joyce...She's coming back next month after romancing all the odds-and-ends of royalty in Europe ...She says she's invited all her husbands to a party in her Fairfax pent-house and thinks they'll accept...She wants you there, too.

Ruth Etting says she'll have that new photograph over tomorrow... Irwin House wants to know if you will deliver a one-minute talk in the Newspaper Club's campaign to raise funds for unemployed newspaper men...The solicitations will be made from the stages of the Cohan, Booth, Cort and Casino Theaters and from Arrowhead Inn...I told him you'd be glad to open the column, but that making a one-minute talk was the most difficult thing you ever did...Of course, I know better, especially when I think of those talks you give me when things go wrong...Vicki Cummings is a fortunate lass...Remember her first stage role was the lead in Peter Arno's "Here Goes the Bride" and now her second one is the lead in Brown and Henderson's "Forward March"...I hear she has studied 14 hours a day for three years, and that explains it...Howard Lanin wires from Philly to offer the information—old or new—that an extra girl in the flickers is an extra girl because she's been nice to the wrong people...And Wilfred J. Funk, your ace poet, adds one more simile: As useless as the napkinettes at cocktail parties... The Louis Bertels (Helen Bender) are expecting a blessed eventuality.

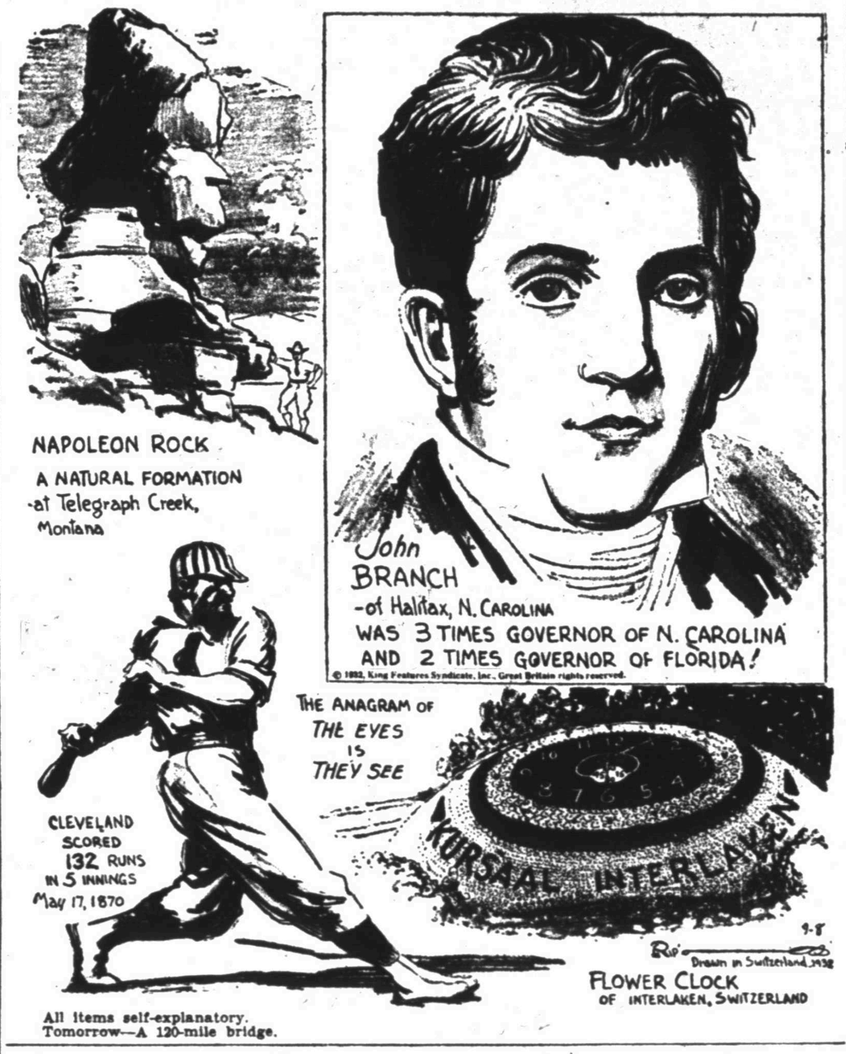

Willie Howard called in between rehearsals to tell you the story about Harry Richman's visit to the insane asylum in California a while back...It seems Harry went out to the institution to entertain the inmates and was being shown about the grounds by a very intelligent young man...Harry was impressed with his profound discussion of the various patients and by his gentlemanly appearance..."But why are you here?" the singer asked him ...The answer was the usual one: "Jealous relatives and a broken will."...Finally his escort took him into the large grove of redwood trees—the kind that are from 40 to 50 feet in circumference and from two hundred to four hundred years old...Suddenly the young guide left Harry, walked over to the largest and oldest of the trees, and stood silently in front of it with his hands folded in prayer... After a few minutes of this awkward silence, Harry turned to him to ask what the trouble was..."Oh, don't disturb me while I pray, Mr. Richman," he said, "I just planted this tree last night."...The new stationery is in your lower drawer with the stamps...Why do you need stationery, anyway?...Edward Anthony phoned...He wants you to tell the world that he and Clyde Beatty, the Ringling Bros.' lion tamer, are the best of friends and have never quarreled, as was generally reported...As a matter of fact, Ed is on his way west today to join him...I said I didn't blame him for wanting to correct such an impression—as the last fellow I'd ever get into an argument with would be a lion tamer...Or do I always speak out of turn?

They're stopping every suspicious automobile coming into N. Y. through the Holland Tunnell...The police are looking for torso murderers or kidnapers, or maybe it's just to keep in practice...At any rate, they stopped Bobby Connolly and Lew Gensler the other yawning and searched their car...All they found were a couple of comedy skits and a few discarded gags... The funny part of it was that Bobby had decided to leave a prop dummy in Newark instead of carrying it with him...The day before, they stopped George Wood, the agent, but one look at his kind face and a sergeant apologized...Pierre Monteux, conductor of the Paris Symphony and the Amsterdam Concertgebow, will slip quietly into town right after the first on a secret mission...He is the brother-in-law of Meyer Davis...Mary Scardell, the Follies Bergere danseuse, and Harry Bolton, whom Mistinguette featured in her revue last season, will come to America to it Renovated...That Wednesday night party in Westchester nearly resulted in a nation-wide scandal ...The son of that millionaire manufacturer entertained 8 guests, among whom was a lovely former show girl who now takes dictation for a living...As the evening wore on all guests departed with the exception of the pretty; and the young scion, in true movie fashion, dismissed the servants, locked the doors of the house and began his fresh routine...The lass finally grabbed a book-end, bounced it over her annoyer's head and managed to escape...The next morning she got worried, thinking she might have killed him, and called friends... They went to his home and found him still unconscious...However, he'll recover.

Milton Berle dashed in madly this morning...He seems very happy about his controversy with Richy Craig, Jr., and wants you to know that he actually has hired Richey's valet...He would have you believe that the valet summed up his reasons for coming to work for him like this: "Mistuh Berle, I laughs much louder when you tells Mistuh Craig's jokes than when he tells 'em."...Beverly Banks, the gorgeous lass who was reported in love with Miss Barrymore's young Colt, discovered last week that she has a serious lung infection...The medicos want her to go away...But she is penniless and destitute in her West 77th St. boarding house... And on top of that hasn't a living relative...Her last job was as a hostess in a Broadway dance palace but the work was too hard...Harry Hershfield's air-sketches are planned to rival "The Goldbergs"...Why do you wear those new shirts? Do you think you'll look like Georgie Raft just because they're after him ...The old Nut Club will be master-of-ceremonied by Harry Barris beginning Sept. 12...You might check on that Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Glover who eloped yesterday and sailed for Yurrop...The names are supposed to be fictitious, the lady being a famous soo-registerite and the gentleman a well-known radio official.—Your Girl Friday.

GERMANY MAY FACE ELECTION

Nation Prepares for End Of Von Papen's Rule

BERLIN, Sept. 7. (AP)—The government prepared today to plunge Germany into the turmoil of another election, the fifth this year, in the event that the reichstag proves recalcitrant when it meets again Monday.

The date tentatively selected for the voting is Nov. 6. The election will be held if the reichstag is determined to place on its agenda a motion of no-confidence in the ministry of Chancellor Franz von Papen or a measure designed to cancel the economic program drawn up by the chancellor and made effective by emergency decree.

On the day the new reichstag held its first session—Aug. 30—President Von Hindenburg signed an undated decree dissolving the reichstag, and the chancellor may wield this club whenever he sees fit.

The decision to hold another election was based on the government belief that the Von Papen ministry is much stronger with the public now than it was at the time of the last election, when it had been in office only a short time.

Negotiations looking toward a coalition of Adolf Hitler's National Socialists and the Centrist party were continued today, but government observers asserted they were not likely to lead to a result that would be satisfactory to President Von Hindenburg.

Hence, the only chance of the reichstag avoiding dissolution was through adjournment, which would mean tacit toleration of the Von Papen ministry. The government has only a handful of supporters in the legislature and the chancellor has indicated that he would forestall any vote of no-confidence by promulgating the decree of dissolution.

HOPE HELD IN TEXTILE STRIKE

English Workers and Manufacturers to Confer

MANCHESTER, England, Sept. 7. (AP)—A ray of hope appeared in the Lancashire textile situation today when employers expressed a willingness to arbitrate.

During a meeting lasting half an hour, the Cotton Spinners and Manufacturers' association central committee drafted its reply to the offer of Sir Henry Betterton, minister of labor, to sponsor a meeting with union leaders. The association said it would attend such a meeting, if invited.

A union representative commented that the action was a surprise and the employers had gone further toward settlement of the issues than was expected.

The Leigh Manufacturing company reported a good response has been received from its notices that it would re-open if enough employes agreed to report for work. The company's two mills were closed last Wednesday. In the notices, posted this morning, it asked for submission of names of workers willing to return.

In Sir Henry's message, sent to both employers and workers, he urged that they meet as soon as possible after appointing special committees to deal with such questions as wages and conciliation conditions.

Gain Knowledge of Your Country

with the aid of this large map of the United States. One of the most important attributes of good citizenship is a thorough knowledge of one's country. And yet many people, in other respects good loyal citizens, are sadly deficient in this virtue.

It isn't difficult to acquire a working knowledge of your country. With the aid of a map this can be accomplished easily and pleasantly. You should start with the geography, because the land and the shape of it was there before anything else. When you know about the positions and boundaries of the states, about the rivers and mountain ranges and coast lines, you can progress to the histories of the states, their capitals and populations, and then on to imports and exports and other commercial data.

The map of the United States, in five colors, 21x28 inches in size, which the Record News is offering, will give you the ground work toward a more thorough knowledge of your country. The reverse side of the map contains important geographical, statistical and commercial information.

BRAVES CHECK CUBS' PENNANT DASH WITH DOUBLE VICTORY

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED THOMPSON

More Exact

The Breckenridge sports editor announces he has at last found an alibi for the huddle in football. He says it is done to give the radio announcer a brief rest. But Blondy Cross of San Angelo adds that the huddle gives the radio announcer a chance to find out from the nearest sport writer what really happened on the last play.

Toot! Toot!

Cloice Roberts, aged 11 and therefore not yet initiated in the gentle art of padding out his fish stories, returned to his Chillicothe home the other day with quite a nice catch. He asked his mother, Mrs. J. E. Roberts, what kind of fish the largest one was. His mother wasn't certain. "Maybe it's a buffalo," she said.

"No, it couldn't be a buffalo," said the lad. "It hasn't got any horns on its head."

Nature didn't get a chance to endow fish with horns. They were all monopolized by the fishermen in the beginning and they've been blowing them ever since.

Probably Better Off

One fisherman who got his name in the paper via other routes than telling the sports editor what a big fish he allegedly snared is George Washington, former outfielder of the Tyler Sports. Tyler sold the namesake of the father of this broad land to the Chicago White Sox. But instead of reporting, George went down home in East Texas, selected a comfortable spot on a creek bank and proceeded to fish. Because he didn't report, the White Sox canceled the deal and Tyler lost the down payment of $2,500 which it had received.

Well, George probably will get just as much to eat by fishing as he would with the White Sox. And he won't have to work so hard.

The Chicken Hunters

The brief open season on prairie chickens was a washout for many Wichitans who traveled long distances to the plains region in search of the birds. Those who went to the Seminole region were deluged with rain and only a few got the bag limit of 10 in four days. Claude Thornton, our composing room foreman, was in a party of three that shot only 14 birds.

In the region around Plains, Texas, however, the hunters were amply rewarded. We got this dope from our good friend, Anton Koch, newspaper scribe of Quanah. Anton said he got his limit easily and everybody with him did too.

The Golf Tourney

Anton drifted down to Wichita Falls to see the concluding matches of the country club golf tournament. Fortunately he was spared the spectacle of his fellow townsman, City Walker, being defeated by young Louis Becker of Dallas in the second round.

Becker won on the 19th green from City. But we still maintain that City is a better golfer than the Dallas youth and would have won his match but for tough luck. City is acquiring a reputation this year as a hard luck golfer. He lost out by the narrowest of margins in the Greenbelt tournament at Electra this spring, and the same thing happened here this week.

Incidentally, if City Walker got out of town without meeting Mrs. L. T. (Bobby) Burns, it's a shame. Mrs. Burns is one of City's most prolific boosters in tournament play. She always picks City to win, except maybe when he's playing her husband, and yet in all these years she has never met the Quanah ace.

With the Medicos

The stale gag about the cab driver spending his vacation riding around with another cab driver is so worn we hesitate to give it space. But it's necessary, because we want to draw a contrast between the cab driver's vacation and that of a doctor.

The medical men who cure our colds and saw out appendices don't spend their off days in hospitals, if the local fraternity is a criterion. Dr. Bailey Collins went out to far California to attend the Olympic games. His enthusiasm hasn't dampened yet. Meets of that sort leave me cold, except maybe the hurdles, but Dr. Collins vows he enjoyed every minute of the games, from the hop, skip and jump to the marathon run.

Dr. Everett Jones has just returned from a vacation in Denver. To hear him talk, he spent the three weeks in the Denver baseball park.

Having been educated on major league and class A ball, he cast huge frowns on the Western league way of doing things. "It was pretty sorry class B baseball going under the name of class A baseball," he said. "The only good player I saw was Eddie Moore, former Fort Worth star, who is now playing the outfield for Oklahoma City."

The doctor also spotted Ray O'Brien, now with the St. Joseph club, who played centerfield with the Spudders about 10 years ago.

LEADERS DROP FIRST, 11 TO 4

Boston Blanks Chicago In Final, 2 to 0

BOSTON, Sept. 7. (AP)—The league-leading Cubs today made an inauspicious start on their last eastern trip of the season by dropping a double-header to the Braves, 11-4 and 2-0. The double defeat lessened Chicago's lead over Pittsburgh which split two games with Brooklyn.

Pat Malone was the victim of a barrage of hits in the first game after he had held the tribe to one hit in six innings during a pitchers' battle with Fred Frankhouse.

The second game was a pitchers' battle most of the way between Ben Cantwell and Guy Bush. Scores:

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. (AP)—The National league battle lines were drawn a little closer together today as the result of the opening skirmishes along the eastern front.

The Chicago Cubs' lead over the Pittsburgh Pirates was reduced to five games when the league leaders dropped two games to the Braves while the Pirates and Dodgers were breaking even. The Dodgers also gained a full game on the Cubs but still trailed by nine games.

PIRATES SPLIT WITH DODGERS

Even Break Shaves Game From Cubs' Lead

BROOKLYN, Sept. 7. (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates, starting their final bid for the National league pennant, broke even with the Brooklyn Dodgers today to shave a full game off the lead of the Chicago Cubs, who lost two games to the Braves.

After extending their winning streak to 11 straight with an 8 to 3 victory in the curtain raiser, the Pirates fell before the southpaw slants of Fred Heimach in the second game, losing 4-2. The even break left the Pirates trailing the Cubs by five games with the Dodgers another four games back. Scores:

Unployment Projects Must Be Cut in Cost

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (US)—High treasury officials were thrown into confusion today when Comptroller McCarl ruled that appropriations for construction projects to relieve unemployment must be cut 10 per cent under the economy act.

They do not know whether McCarl means that the $322,244,000 appropriated for public works must be cut to $289,501,600 or whether he means that the cost of each project must be cut 10 per cent.

Ropo To Tackle Pride Of Sweden

Don "Ropo" Humberto, Mexico's best, and Whitey Govro, the pride of Sweden, clash Friday night in the main event at Govro wrestling arena in their long talked of "grudge" battle. The two first formed the foundation for a battle of this type a few weeks ago when Humberto claimed Govro gave him a "dirty deal" while Govro was refereeing a match in which Bob Montgomery defeated Humberto.

The Friday night battle will mark the first meeting of any real opposition by Promotor Govro since he came out of retirement and started up the comeback trail. Govro has been taking his matches easy and fans are wondering if the old idol and favorite will be in the condition that he was in here at one time.

The semifinal this week will bring together Pat O'Brien and Kid Murdock for 45 minutes of action.

Otho Nitcholas started for the Sports but was jerked at the start of the sixth frame. Otis Hulser young Tyler recruit took over the mound and made a creditable showing until he blew up in the ninth to yield five hits and four runs. Score:

BEAUMONT 23, BUCS 4

BEAUMONT, Texas, Sept. 7. (AP)—Exporter batsmen went haywire here this afternoon to smother the Galveston Buccaneers, 23 to 4, in the second game of the series, every Shipper who had an official time at bat making at least one hit and one run in the batting orgy that saw two Pirate twirlers hammered unmercifully. Today's batfest saw a new season scoring record established, with Paul Easterling showing the way with a double and three singles, six runs and three stolen bases. The murderous assault was climaxed by a 12-run rally in the third inning, when the first 10 men to face Russell Cromer and Lefty Wood reached base and scored. Tauby, the 11th man up, skied out for the first out in this round. Rabbit Benton's homer over the left field wall with the bases jammed featured the hectic stanza. Reiber hit a homer with a man aboard in the seventh, and in the eighth, Fritz cracked out a four ply with two on the sacks. Fritz, Reiber and Newsome each smacked out three blows. Izzy Goldstein started for the Shippers but gave way to Sewell, who toiled the last three innings. The Exporters' 21 hits included three home runs, two triples, a double and 15 one basers. Score:

Vernon Lions Hold First 'Open' Workout

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Sept. 7.—A large number of fans got their first glimpse of the 1932 Vernon High school football machine at the initial "open" workout, at the junior high school field Wednesday morning, and at the city park Wednesday afternoon. After Wednesday, secret practice again goes into effect until next Wednesday, the next date on which Vernon fans will be allowed to see their grid aspirants perform.

Despite rain prior to the opening of the morning session, the Lion candidates were sent through their paces outdoors by Head Coach W. C. Weir and Assistant Coaches Ralph Binnion and Bob Dickinson. The Lions were held indoors two of the four practice days prior to Wednesday by rain, being forced to work out in the gymnasium Thursday, the opening day and Tuesday.

Special individual instruction marked Wednesday's sessions. After calesthenics, the candidates were put through stiff periods of kicking instruction, blocking and tackling.

Guy Harril of Doans, a lineman, was the only new candidate to report.

Scrugham Wins Nevada Election

RENO, Nev., Sept. 7. (AP)—On the basis of unofficial returns from two-thirds of the counties in Nevada's state primary election, former Gov. James C. Scrugham today apparently was the Democratic nominee for congressman.

ORDINANCE NO. 1098

An ordinance amending ordinance No. 331, passed and approved on the 8th day of November, A. D., 1920, entitled "an ordinance for the licensing and regulation of automobiles for hire and providing penalties for the violation thereof and declaring an emergency," by amending section 5 of said ordinance, fixing rates, and by adding to said ordinance sections 7A, 7B, 7C, 7D and 7E, providing for chauffeur's license, and declaring an emergency, etc. Be it ordained by the board of aldermen of the city of Wichita Falls, Texas:

SECTION 1

That section 5 of ordinance No. 331 be and the same is hereby amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 5: Charges. Owners, drivers and operators of service automobiles, taxicabs and other motor vehicles carrying passengers in the city of Wichita Falls, except street cars and buses operated under franchise upon regular routes and fixed schedules, shall never charge less than fifteen (15c) cents nor more than fifty (50c) cents per passenger for carrying such passenger anywhere within the corporate limits of the city of Wichita Falls, except where four or more persons are carried, in which event the charge shall be fifty (50c) cents for the trip and no more. The running of a taxicab or service automobile on the streets of the city of Wichita Falls as a free car, or for which no charge is made is prohibited and shall be considered as a charge of less than fifteen (15c) cents per passenger. The owner or operator of any such service automobile, taxicab or other motor vehicle shall file with the city clerk a schedule of rates which such owner or operator proposes to charge. Such schedule shall show in detail the fare for different kinds of service and shall remain in force and effect until changed with the consent of the city manager and board of aldermen and a new rate is filed with the city clerk. The rate or fare shall also be posted in a prominent and conspicuous place in such vehicle so that same shall be easily observed by all passengers and a copy thereof shall be filed with the chief of police. All licenses issued under this ordinance shall also state on the face thereof the rate authorized to be charged and the reservation shall be made in such licenses to the effect that the fare allowed to be charged by law may be changed at any time by the board of aldermen of the city of Wichita Falls and such licenses shall be issued with the distinct understanding and agreement that such rates may be changed after such license is issued and before it expires; and that same may be canceled for violation of any law or ordinance. Provided that for children under 5 years of age accompanied by an adult no charge shall be made, and for children 12 years of age accompanied by an adult, one-half fare may be charged and provided for each passenger a reasonable amount of baggage of such character as valises, grips and etc., shall be carried free of charge.

SECTION 2

That said ordinance No. 331 be amended by adding thereto sections 7A, 7B, 7C, 7D and 7E, reading as follows, to-wit:

Section 7A: That no person shall drive an automobile for hire upon the streets of the city of Wichita Falls unless such person operating such automobile for hire shall first obtain a chauffeur's license to be issued by the city of Wichita Falls. It shall be the duty of each driver of an automobile for hire to apply to the board of aldermen for a chauffeur's license upon blanks to be furnished by the city clerk, giving the name, age, present address, address and place of employment during the past two years, with the reasons for leaving, whether or not applicant has been convicted of a felony, or if he has a police record. Such applicant shall likewise attach to his application for a chauffeur's license affidavits from two reputable citizens attesting to the character of the applicant.

Section 7B: That no chauffeur's license shall be issued to any driver of an automobile for hire until the police department shall have taken fingerprints and a photograph of such applicant.

Section 7C: That after the application for a chauffeur's license has been granted in accordance with this ordinance, it shall be the duty of the city clerk to issue a chauffeur's license to such applicant upon the payment of a fee of two ($2) dollars, which said license shall run for a period of two years from date of issuance. The license, when issued, shall not be transferable; however, it shall be lawful for the holder of such license to use the same license provided he changes employment from one operator or owner of automobiles for hire to another.

Section 7D: That it shall be the duty of the driver of said automobile for hire to have his driver's license, together with his photograph, the size to be prescribed by the chief of police, affixed thereto and displayed in the driving compartment of the automobile for hire.

Section 7E: That it shall be unlawful for any owner of an automobile for hire to employ a driver who has not been licensed as a chauffeur under the provisions of this ordinance, and the names of all drivers shall be filed with the city clerk by the owner or operator.

SECTION 3

If any section or part of this ordinance shall be declared to be null or void by courts of competent jurisdiction of this state, then such holding shall not effect the validity of the other sections or provisions of this ordinance.

SECTION 4

That if any section of this ordinance is in conflict with the state law, then the state law shall govern.

SECTION 5

That all ordinances in direct conflict herewith are hereby expressly repealed but it is not the intention hereby to repeal any ordinance by implication and this ordinance shall be declared to be cumulative of all other ordinances upon the subject.

SECTION 6

That this ordinance shall in no wise be construed to affect any prosecution now pending under any ordinance repealed hereby but such ordinance shall remain in full force and effect in regard to such cases as may now be pending in the courts.

SECTION 7

The fact that the city of Wichita Falls now has no adequate regulation of chauffeurs driving service cars and taxicabs, creates an emergency and this ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency ordinance and the rule requiring ordinances to be read on three several days is hereby suspended and this ordinance shall take effect immediately upon its passage and approval.

Passed and approved this 6th day of September, A. D., 1932.—Walter Nelson Jr., mayor. Attest: W. E. McBroom, city clerk.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. (AP)—A further evening-up of commitments in preparation for tomorrow's government crop report was reflected by a moderate volume of business and irregular fluctuations in cotton today.

Advances encountered some southern selling as well as liquidation, but after selling off from 9.11 to 8.93 for December during the middle of the day, the market steadied on covering and that delivery closed at 9.07. The general market closed steady, net unchanged to 6 points higher.

Buyers were supplied on the advance by prebureau liquidation combined with further southern selling and prices eased off during the early afternoon. March sold down to 9.12 with the general list showing net declines of 7 to 11 points, but offerings tapered off at these figures and the market rallied later on continued trade buying and covering influenced by the firmness of the stock market.

Near months were relatively steady on trade buying, while the southern selling and commission house realizing or liquidation seemed to be chiefly in the later positions. Reports of a good spot demand and a firm basis in the south were probably a contributing factor in the steadiness of the fall and winter positions.

The weekly weather report said conditions during the past week were mostly unfavorable for cotton, remaining dry in the more eastern district while heavy rains were decidedly unfavorable in large areas of the central and western portions of the belt.

Liverpool reported liquidation and hedging in that market, but the decline there did not fully meet yesterday's local decline. Exports today 13,550 making 611,209 so far this season. U. S. port stocks 3,307,234.

Futures closed steady, unchanged to 6 points higher. Spot quiet; middling 9.00.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 7. (AP)—Cotton prices moved erratically in fairly active trading today, mainly influenced in evening up transactions in advance of the government crop estimate due tomorrow. Long liquidation was counter-balanced by a bullish weekly weather and crop summary, too much rain in Texas, and a sharp upturn in stocks, and the close was net unchanged to seven points up. The average guess of New York cotton exchange members on the crop was announced at 10,731,000 bales.

Prices eased after the start on a renewal of prebureau liquidation, but rallied immediately after the weekly weather and crop summary was issued. The report stating that conditions had been unfavorable for the crop during the past week.

The market fluctuated in the early afternoon but later became active and firmer owing to a sharp advance in stocks and October traded up to 8.95 and December to 9.12 or 18 points above the earlier lows. October closed at 8.93 and December at 9.09, or 6 points net higher for the day on both months.

Liverpool is due tomorrow on New Orleans unchanged.

Port receipts 43,877, for week 93,810, for season 585,557, last season 331,442. Exports 17,292, for week 100,438, for season 529,076, last season 288,076. Port stock 3,289,321, last year 2,758,056. Combined shipboard stok at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 76,261, last year 39,282. Spot sales at southern markets 31,125, last year 24,840.

Futures closed steady at net unchanged to 7 points up.

Speculators Throw Caution To Wind And Market Soars To Set New Highs

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. (US)—Whatever restraint the market experienced on Tuesday was completely overthrown today. Prices advanced on a broad front, to establish new peak prices for the year in the industrial and public utility departments, but railroad shares just failed reaching the previous peak of the recovery.

Caution was thrown completely to the wind, in new exuberance of speculative activity which spread from group to group until the whole list was enveloped in the forward march.

The market had its initial leadership in the automotive group of stocks, ordinarily the favorites of a prosperous business period. Perhaps this very suggestion was the major cause of the widespread optimism which reflected itself in the indiscriminate upbidding of stocks not only to new peaks for the recovery but also for the year in numerous issues.

Commodities as a group did not share the exuberance of stocks, nor did bonds but both were firm. Copper was marked up another ⅛ cent.

Stock trading involved 4,200,000 shares, the second four-million-share session in succession.

General Motors was the day's most active issue and its strength imparted courage to the entire motor and motor accessory group.

Recently, the street has heard stories of an upturn in the motor trade in August. It is evident, of course, that only a very modest improvement would be necessary to show a gain over the July level of operations, which were about the lowest in recent years.

Chrysler in reality was the feature of the motors; under exceedingly aggressive sponsorship, it finally closed up 1⅝ points. The bull pools in General Motors and Chrysler seem to be in competition in advancing their favorites.

Strength in motors found natural reflection in Du Pont, which advanced 3⅛ points, and in the entire group of automotive accessory stocks. Timken was one of the active features in the latter group, speculators recognizing the benefits which would certainly accrue to this company with any revival in automobile activity.

Most of the day the more popular leading stocks were rather hesitant, While the bull pools in the lower-priced issues kept churning their favorites in large volume. United Aircraft resumed its advance, gaining 2¼ points net, even though the purely speculative fraternity has been convinced the stock shows signs of topheaviness. Radio came in for greater bull attention, despite indications of recent large-scale liquidation for supposedly informed interests. General Electric was advanced 1⅝ points net, Steel common was up 2¼, and American Telephone 3⅜.

Turnover in the last 50 minutes of trading ran about one and one-quarter million shares. All over the board it was evident that pools were doing everything possible to maintain the momentum of the advance and to entice greater public participation. It is hoped that the steel tonnage statement for August will reveal a substantial increase in order to confirm the optimistic forecasts on which the market has been predicating the rise.

The most satisfying news of the day was the announcement that electric power output for the latest week had shown a decline of but 10.4 per cent compared with the same week a year ago. This is the nearest approach to a corresponding period in 1931 for any recent week. The electrical output relative decline has been decreasing steadily for several weeks.

Such news is genuinely encouraging and differs appreciably from the ballyhoo so freely distributed. A continuance of the narrowing spread would build up that background of support for the market which, of course, has been notably lacking to date.

Encouraged by the advance in Du Pont and its affiliated issues, it is understood that very substantial buying power has accumulated in Hercules Powder. This company has an unusually powerful current asset position, with current assets 28 times is current liabilities.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 7. (AP)—Big receipts at Winnipeg and much enlarged Canadian country marketings put a burden on wheat values today.

Domestic arrivals of wheat also showed an increase both northwest and southwest. Widespread notice has taken of assertions that as a result of $50,000,000 new credit from the Reconstruction Finance corporation to the United States farm board, the liquidation of government financed commodity holdings had merely been postponed, not accomplished.

Wheat closed unsettled, ⅛@⅜c under yesterday's finish, corn unchanged to ¼c off, oats ⅛@⅛c down, and provisions at 5 to 10c decline.

It was contended in some quarters that if United States government financed holdings of wheat futures were in December contracts, the line estimated at 40,000,000 bushels constituted a menace to the market, as the holders would have to accept delivery or switch into May. Bears also urged that unless export demand improved, this country was going to carry over another burdensome surplus. North American export business today was estimated at 500,000 bushels, mostly Canadian.

Corn and oats weakened with wheat, but corn rallied owing to better shipping demand.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—Dec. 57@57¼c, 58⅞@59c; May 62¼c, 64@64¼c. Corn—Sept. 31⅜c, offers; Dec. 33⅛c, 34c; May 38½c, 39c.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, Sept. 7. (US)—The market's outstanding feature is the increasing desire of the public for investment. Unprecedentedly low prices offer opportunities now and explain the increased demand on recessions.

Day after day we clear no wheat or flour, J. F. Jackson of the Norris Grain company comments. "The combined Canadian and United States exports for the week were 7,264,000 bushels, most of which was Manitobas. Primary receipts are above 1931 and Canadian receipts are very heavy, causing considerable hedging in Winnipeg. Sentiment on the floor here is that wheat will be hiked regardless of conditions. Eventually unless conditions change materially, bulls will assert themselves."

The weather map shows general fair conditions throughout the forecast district with temperatures cool. Heavy rains were reported in Texas. General indications are for continued fair weather for the next day or so.

Cash interests say that the country is willing to sell corn freely when 35 cents can be bid the farmers at their stations. This may result in hedging pressure on the hard spots.

Orders in the pit the last few days to sell December and buy May at 5 difference were reported all filled today.

Unlicensed Car Owner, Held for Taking Fares

Because the local bus depot and the police station are so close together, an unlicensed driver of a car carrying passengers found his enterprise interrupted here Wednesday afternoon and will face charges in county court of operating without a license from the state railroad commission.

His four passengers, it was stated, were from Fort Worth. One was a man, who wished to transfer here to another bus. The driver consequently stopped at the bus depot here. Complaint quickly was registered at the police station across the street, and the arrest followed.

The remaining trio consisted of a mother and two daughters, who said they had contracted to pay $4.50 for transportation for all three from Fort Worth to Claude, Texas.

Junior College And Junior Highs Begin Student Registration Today

Registration for the Wichita Falls Junior college will open Thursday morning at 9 o'clock and continue through Friday. Dean S. H. Rider and Registrar A. K. Presson expect the enrollment to exceed the 1931-32 figures of 223 in view of the economic conditions and large numbers of inquiries from high school graduates throughout the Wichita area.

The college offers two full years of accredited university work to students at reduced tuition rates, enabling local pupils to complete half of a normal higher education schedule while living at home.

Enrollment of new pupils in the junior high schools will be opened Thursday and continue through Friday at both the Reagan and Zundelowitz buildings, Principal T. W. Brumbalow said Wednesday. Registration must be completed before pupils will be allowed to attend classes Monday.

Classes in all schools will open Monday. Supt. H. D. Fillers will meet with all instructors of the white public schools at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at the Reagan Junior High building for a preschool conference. He will meet the negro teachers Saturday afternoon at the Washington school.

Registration of new high school pupils is already under way and is scheduled for completion Saturday. Former pupils were enrolled last spring prior to the closing of school.

Diversification Aids To Prospect Farmers

Special to The Record News.

SUNSET, Texas, Sept. 7.—Agricultural diversification is proving helpful to most of the farmers in Prospect community, northeast of Sunset. They are in better circumstances than they would have been in if they had continued to follow the one-crop system which they abandoned a few years ago in favor of diversification.

Diversification has not cured all of the agricultural ills of the farmers of this community, but by following this plan they have produced an attractive variety of products which they can consume themselves, thus preventing the necessity of spending as much money for food as was formerly required. Their crops include corn, feed, peanuts, cotton, watermelons, cantaloupes, potatoes, tomatoes, beans, peas and several other products. A portion of several of these products have already been canned for winter use.

CHILD PROBLEM TOLD BY JUDGE

Martin Urges County School For Delinquents

Juvenile deliquency in Wichita county could be decreased by the establishment of a county training school for erring boys and girls, Judge P. A. Martin of the 89th district court stated before members of the Optimist club at the Kemp hotel Wednesday noon.

The speaker explained that under the law, juveniles are of two classifications, delinquents and dependents, both of which are under the jurisdiction of district courts. Delinquents are those who violate penal law, or show a marked tendency to associate with persons and conditions of immoral or criminal nature.

Judge Martin asserted that there is no known preventive for juvenile delinquency save better homes and home life. He commended the work being done by James A. McDonald, Wichita county juvenile officer, and expressed approval also of the two state schools of correction at Gainesville and Gatesville.

Miss Mary Sue Elliott was officially crowned "queen" of the Optimist club following her recent appointment as Optimist sweetheart. Plans for the golden jubilee here Sept. 26-28 were discussed briefly by Leonard Stroud, its promoter.

Rodeo At Stamford To Aid Charities

Special to The Record News.

STAMFORD, Texas, Sept. 7.—rangements are being completed for an amateur rodeo to be given at the cowboy reunion grounds Friday for the benefit of local charities. It is expected that sufficient funds will be derived from the show to meet the needs of the local United charities for the fall and winter, thus making it unnecessary to conduct a drive for funds. The entire proceeds will go for this purpose. Business men and others will take part in the rodeo giving it a flavor of burlesque.

Feature events to be staged are mule riding, wild cow milking, calf roping, Shetland pony race, donkey race, steer riding, bronc riding and remount race. Carl May will be arena director. Harley F. Goble and M. D. Smith, with Carl May, make up the committee completing plans for the affair.

—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies ...the mildest cigarette you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"It's toasted"
That package of mild Luckies

"If a man write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mouse-trap than his neighbor, tho he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."—RALPH WALDO EMERSON.
Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?
