There was a piece in the paper the other day about the firemen's annual Thanksgiving dinner and reference was made to Melvin Newton as a "retired" member of the department. Well, Melvin Newton has been on the fire department here 51 years, but he is far from retired.

In fact, he doesn't miss any fires and other activities that firemen participate in. If there is a fire around town, usually you will find him directing traffic around the fire department hoses and mechanical equipment. The younger ones do the climbing around, etc., but Melvin Newton has a role and he still fulfills it. Naturally he takes pride in the department and its work. If he didn't, he would not have maintained association with it for over half a century.

You could whip up a pretty good "bowl game salad" for football fans. Take the Sugar and Orange Bowls, the Tangerine and the Pecan and you've got a good start. Now, they've added the Peach Bowl, providing another fruit to be associated with post-season football. In case you have not heard about plans to inaugurate the Peach Bowl, it will be played in Atlanta, Ga., and it has signed Florida State and Louisiana State football teams for its first performance.

There are still five title possibilities in the Southwest Conference football race, although four teams finish their 1968 schedules this Saturday. Either Texas or Arkansas could win it outright, the two could tie for it, or there could be a three-way tie between Arkansas, Texas, Texas Tech, or even a four-way tie between those three plus SMU.

In six conference games so far, SMU has yet to score first, but it has come back to win four times.

The 42 points scored by Baylor against Texas Tech last week was the biggest point total the Bears have managed in a single game since the 1956 outfit decisioned Rice, 46-13.

City Manager George Patterson and Chamber of Commerce Manager Karl Mawhorter have run into a sizeable chore. They are preparing Snyder's "presentation" to be presented before the All-America City jury on Dec. 2 in New Orleans. The problem is condensing a comprehensive story of Snyder's community improvements into a 10-minute presentation. Each of the 22 finalist cities will be allotted 10 minutes to tell its story. Patterson and Mawhorter are aiming at a terse narrative illustrated by color slides. — WACIL McNAIR.

The Nation Remembers A Fallen Leader

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Members of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy's family, including children clutching flowers, gathered in the early morning chill today at his grave on the fifth anniversary of his assassination.

Among the first to arrive was Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, the sole surviving Kennedy brother, accompanied by four children, presumably those of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy whose remains lie buried only feet away from his brother.

In another car Joan Kennedy, Edward's wife, brought two of their children. And Mrs. Hugh Auchincloss, mother of Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis, the late president's widow, brought a sprig of flowers to lay on the stone at Kennedy's grave.

Visitors to the grave were expected to total in the thousands, trickling by the Cape Cod marble memorial built in 1967, the eternal flame and the floral tributes.

President Johnson planned to send a wreath as he has every Nov. 22 since 1963 when Kennedy was gunned down in Dallas, Tex.

Elsewhere in America and throughout the world, memorial services were held to say to the 35th president of the United States, "We have not forgotten."

Mrs. Onassis planned to observe the anniversary quietly as she has each of the last four years. Her private secretary, Nancy Tuckerman, said she would attend Mass in New York and spend most of the day in seclusion.

As he left the cemetery, Edward Kennedy paused where newsmen were waiting at the main gate and told them, "We appreciate your understanding —in letting us go up there."

Five little sprigs of flowers—white roses, lavender chrysanthemums and red roses—were the family's offering at Kennedy's grave. At the back of the grave wreaths were placed, brought by others who remembered the day.

Also among the early visitors was Mrs. Evelyn Lincoln, personal secretary to President Kennedy.

There was, too, a group of girls from Trinity College, a group of young people from American University and 189 youngsters from Rickards Junior High School, Fort Lauderdale Fla., on a tour of Washington.

ON THE OBSERVATION DECK at Love Field in Dallas just before departing for Chicago Wednesday to attend the 1968 National Youth Conference on the Atom are Michael Ray Martin, right, an outstanding science student from Snyder High School, and his teacher, Roy Burk. The delegates were sponsored to the conference by Texas Electric Service Company.

Political Crisis Deepens In Italy

ROME (AP) — President Giuseppe Saragat summoned Italy's political leaders to meet with him today as a power struggle in the Christian Democratic party plunged the nation deeper into political crisis.

The rift in the nation's largest party resulted in the resignation Thursday of party secretary Marano Rumor, a leading candidate for the premiership. He is generally believed capable of patching up a new alliance with the Socialists in order to form a majority government.

Open conflict broke out among the top Christian Democratic leaders Thursday when former Premier Aldo Moro told a meeting of the party's national council he would no longer work closely with Rumor. Rumor and the entire party directorate immediately resigned.

The resignation did not kill Rumor's chances of being selected Italy's next premier, but his success probably will depend on his willingness to be replaced as party secretary by a man selected from outside the ranks of his own followers. Moro was believed to have broken with Rumor to keep him from wielding the power of both the premier and the party secretary.

Saragat was expected to make his choice for premier Sunday, but the struggle among the Christian Democrats could drag out the crisis, now in its fourth day.

All of Italy's premiers since 1946 have been Christian Democrats, and Saragat's choice is also certain to be a member of the Vatican-backed party. Moro headed the first center-left alliance which ruled the country for five years, until the Socialists bolted last May after suffering losses in the parliamentary election.

Moro's center-left government was replaced by an all-Christian Democrat minority government headed by Premier Giovanni Leone. It was a caretaker regime which resigned Tuesday to force the Christian Democrats, Socialists and Republicans to forge a new alliance.

Pooch In The Pub Is Perfectly Proper

LONDON (AP) — The pooches of Britain have been given the freedom of the nation's pubs.

A high court judge made the ruling that a man popping into a pub for a pint need not be parted from his pooch at the portal.

The court reached its decision because, seven years ago, Elizabeth Carroll fell over a tubby boxer in a tavern called the Load of Hay and broke a leg.

Mrs. Carroll, 54, sued the dog's owner and the pub's landlord for damages. After years of waiting her case finally came before the high court Thursday.

The judge, Sir Gilbert James Paull, dismissed her claim and spoke up for customers who enjoy the company of their dogs while drinking.

ALLIES OFFER AID

Franc To Be Devalued

By GEORGE THOMSON
Associated Press Writer

BONN, Germany (AP) — France was forced to devalue its franc today, ironically on Charles de Gaulle's 78th birthday.

French officials were silent on action decided upon at the 11-power meeting here of treasury officials, but Germany's finance minister, Franz Joseph Strauss, said the franc will be devalued by around 10 per cent while the United States and other allies of France will make $2 billion available to Paris to rescue the currency from speculators. The British pound will not be devalued, Strauss said.

An estimate given by Strauss would bring the franc down from a value of 20 cents to the vicinity of 18 cents.

"The franc will be devalued," Strauss said. "It is up to the French government to decide what the rate of devaluation will be."

Britain announced heavy new taxes on beer, whisky, cigarettes and gasoline in an effort to halt an outflow of funds for imports. The levy amounts to a 10 per cent surtax. Britain's Labor government also announced plans for new legislation to curb imports.

In the last devaluation of the franc in 1958, the currency was trimmed by 17.55 per cent, pegging it at 4.93 to the U.S. dollar. It previously had been 4.20 to the dollar.

Strauss told reporters the French Cabinet would decide in a meeting called for Saturday on the exact rate of devaluation.

In the rescue operation to keep the franc from speculators the United States will make available credits of $500 million, according to an official statement from the money meeting. West Germany with a $600-million contribution topped the list of the 10 suppliers of aid. Italy's contribution is $200 million.

Britain, although strapped itself, is providing $100 million with Belgium, the Netherlands, Switzerland, Sweden and Canada providing the same amount. Japan's share is $50 million.

Informants said after Thursday's 17-hour session it appeared the franc would be reduced either by 10 per cent, from 20 cents to 18 cents, or by 15 per cent to 17 cents.

A spokesman for the office of French Premier Maurice Couve de Murville said in Paris there would be no announcement until after the French Cabinet meets on Saturday.

Strauss also announced that Britain would take measures to alleviate its own balance of payments deficit, but said he could give no details. He added, however, that Britain would not devalue the pound.

To bolster the new value of the franc, the 10 nations at the conference got together a line of credit in other currencies which France could use to halt the flight of capital from French banks.

Strauss said the total of these credits would amount to $2.985 billion.

He added that $2 billion of this would be put at the disposal of France by the members of the Group of 10, the world's most powerful financial and industrial countries. Their finance ministers and central bank governors have been meeting on the crisis in Bonn since Wednesday.

Strauss told reporters the other $985 million would come from "Special Drawing Rights." He did not make it clear what he meant by this. France has refused to join the scheme setting up a system of such drawing rights on the International Monetary Fund. They are designed to supplement gold in the reserves of member countries.

IN JERUSALEM

Blast Shatters Market Place

JERUSALEM (AP) — A mammoth charge of explosives packed inside a parked car blasted a crowded market place in the Jewish sector of the Holy City today, killing 11 persons and wounding 55.

Within seconds, the market, jammed with Jewish shoppers stocking up for the Sabbath weekend, was a scene of terror and chaos as hundreds fled in panic.

It was the worst sabotage incident in the 20 years of the Jewish state's existence.

Prime Minister Levi Eshkol interrupted a holiday to call a high-level Cabinet session on the incident.

Police immediately cordoned off the perimiter of Jerusalem, halting all Arabs attempting to enter the Old City. Police said 500 Arabs were interrogated.

Some Jews halted an Arab taxi, chased away the occupants and wrecked the car. Others were heard shouting, Kill the Arabs, Kill the Arabs!"

The death car was parked in the Mahaneh Yehuda market, a teeming open air quarter popular with Jewish housewives near the heart of Jewish Jerusalem.

Police said about 440 pounds of high explosives—believed to be TNT—was touched off at 9:30 a.m. blasting a six-foot-wide crater in the street.

A nearby Jewish barbershop bore the brunt of the blast, which rocked the entire city. Reports said three barbers and two customers were killed.

A neighbor, Rahamin Elmalak, who rushed to the shop in his pajamas, described it as "the most terrible thing I ever saw." Elmalak said that when he ran outside there were about six fires in various shops. He said at the barbershop he saw dead and injured and "the seats were splashed with blood."

Police blocked off the area and began searching for more explosives. Acting Mayor Mordechai Ish-Shalom and police and army commanders inspected the blast site, where about 20 automobiles also were destroyed or damaged.

MINERS' CHANCES DWINDLE

New Explosion At Coal Mine

By NILES JACKSON
Associated Press Writer

MANNINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — A new explosion, sending flames shooting upward like a flash of lightning, hit the coal mine today where 78 men have been trapped in burning passageways for two days.

The blast at 2:50 a.m. shook the company store more than four miles away.

It was the latest in a chain of explosions that started Wednesday morning and trapped 78 of the 99 men working the early shift in the Mountaineer Coal Co. No. 9 mine. The other 21 either escaped or were pulled from the mine.

"I felt the impact on my face," said 19-year-old Rich Opyoke who was standing on a bridge near the store.

Leonard Gross, publications director for Consolidation Coal Co., Mountaineer's parent firm, pinpointed the explosion at the intake shaft on Mod's Run, one of the many passageways of the sprawling mine complex spread over a seven-mile area.

"There has been no assessment of the intensity of the explosion" Gross said immediately after the blast. "However, it was reported that flames erupted from the portal."

He said this was the spot where experiments have been under way in trying to control the fire in the mine shafts by cutting off the oxygen.

"This was a relatively strong blast," Gross added, indicating it was much stronger than one last night. He said it might be "several hours" before the severity of the blast can be assessed.

"It is apparent that the fire is still in the shaft," he continued. "White smoke in the shaft indicates that there is still fire underground."

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: By problem is my wife and her wigs. Last year she bought herself a blond wig. (Her own hair is brown.) The wig looks real good on her, but she doesn't look like the same person. Recently she bought herself a reddish wig. (The blond wig is long and straight, the red wig is short and curly.)

Anyway, the biggest problem is that my girl friend has heard that I've been running around with different girls. I tried to tell her it was my wife with different wigs on, but she doesn't believe me.

I sure can't tell my wife why I don't want her wearing those wigs when she's with me, so how can I get my girl friend to believe me?

PERPLEXED

DEAR PERPLEXED: The price one must pay for demonstrating what a clever liar he is is obvious. He's not believed even when he's telling the truth. Take your lumps.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My heart was warmed recently. While in a dime store check-out line, a little boy who appeared to be about 7 years old, handed the cashier a nickel.

Since the boy obviously had no merchandise, the clerk asked what the nickel was for. The boy replied, "It's for the pack of gum my little brother stole."

"TOUCHED"

DEAR "TOUCHED": I, too, am "touched." But if Big Brother wants to teach Little Brother not to steal, he should have insisted that Little Brother go back himself and pay for the gum he stole.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: How do you stop a grown man, age 30, from licking his plate? My husband does this all in fun just to show me how good a cook he thinks I am, but the kids are beginning to imitate him.

LOVES TO COOK

DEAR LOVES: Tell the clown if he doesn't quit licking the plate, you will give HIM a licking.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Please print my letter so other mothers won't make the same mistake I made. After 22 years, I realize the error of naming our son "Junior," after his father.

When he was a baby, it was no problem. We called him "Bobby" and his father was "Bob."

When he got older he decided "Bobby" was too babyish, so he insisted we call him "Bob" which wasn't too bad as we called one "Big Bob" and the other one "Little Bob." That worked out fine until "Little Bob" soon got bigger than "Big Bob."

Now it's worse. It's "Young Bob" and "Old Bob" and you can imagine how thrilled father is to be "Old Bob" at age 46!

Not only that, but their voices are identical, and they are constantly being mistaken for one another on the telephone, and their mail gets mixed up, too, when there is no "Sr." or "Jr."

It's a pain in the neck. I should have named him Jeffery like I wanted to. I've always loved that name. Phooey on these Juniors.

"BOB, BOB, BOBBING ALONG"

New Device Is Shown

City Police and city officials yesterday received a demonstration of a new device that could help them catch speeding motorists.

The new machine is called "Vascar," and many officers feel it may be an improvement on radar.

"This device is a miniature computer," officers said, "that locks into the machine information concerning distances that cars travel. All you have to do is set the machine for distance, then set it for speed. When a car comes along and travels the distance already fed into the machine, the computer accurately records the time it took the car to travel the distance and figures out the average speed."

Some day in the future many police departments may be using Vascar.

TAX ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — I started working this fall. Will enough be taken out of my paycheck to cover the new surtax as well as the regular income tax?

A — For most people, withholding will be sufficient to satisfy their federal tax liabilities this year as it has in the past.

Withholding rates were adjusted in July to take care of the tax surcharge. As you started work after that date, tax will have been withheld at rates set to satisfy your federal income tax liability.

The new tax surcharge will have an effective rate of 7½ percent in 1968. Although the tax surcharge rate is 10 percent it is in effect for only 9 months of the year for individuals. The surcharge on corporation income is in effect for the entire 12 months of 1968.

Q — Our country place was damaged by lightning. Can we deduct the loss?

A — If the loss exceeds $100 and is not covered by insurance you may be entitled to a tax deduction. Generally, the loss is the difference in the value of the property before and after the lightning struck.

For details send a post card to your District Director and ask for a free copy of Document No. 5174, Disasters, Casualties and Thefts.

Q — Why isn't a check made out to cash acceptable as proof of a charitable contribution?

A — To substantiate a deductible expense your records must indicate, among other things, the purpose of the expense, to whom paid, as well as the amount.

A check made out to cash or to yourself gives no indication by itself of the nature of the expense. This kind of check must be supported by other records, such as receipts, to be useful in proving any deductions you claim.

A check made out to a specific organization, a charity for example, may well be sufficient to establish that a deductible contribution has been made.

Q — I've made a substantial pledge to my church's building fund. Can I take this deduction on my 1969 return if it is to my advantage?

A — Deductions for charitable contributions can only be taken for the tax year they are actually paid. If you pay all or part of your pledge this year then you must take the deduction on your 1968 return for the amount actually paid. To take the deduction on your 1969 return you should postpone your payments until 1969.

Q — My paycheck was a few dollars higher last time even though my gross earnings were the same. Are taxes lower?

A — No, the only recent change in federal tax withholding rates was the 10 percent increase resulting from the surcharge.

Your net pay could be higher if Social Security taxes are no longer being withheld from your wages. An employer is required to withhold Social Security taxes only on the first $7,800 paid. After that total is reached, these taxes are no longer withheld so that the net amount of an employee's paycheck will go up.

Q — Can I make changes in my withholding exemptions whenever I want?

A — It depends on your employer. Many employers will let an employee change his withholding certificate at any time. Under the law, however, the employer is only required to make payroll changes four times a year, on January 1, May 1, July 1, or October 1, for changes filed at least 30 days previously.

Wrong Phone Number

NAPLES, N.Y. (AP) — A brochure on a ski resort in this Ontario County village had a typographical error in the area code for the telephone number to call for information about snow conditions. As a result, Earl Bowles, who lives 1,000 miles away at Sunrise Beach, Mo., began receiving calls asking such things as, "How deep is your base?" Bowles said he finally began answering all long-distance calls with, "If you want that ski place, you've got the wrong number."

Ah, Take The Cash!

DALLAS (AP) — Authorities said Thursday they were unable to find Joyce Ann Dodson Tate to serve an arrest warrant on federal charges of converting $72,000 in U. S. Olympic Committee cash to her own use.

A 21-count indictment returned Wednesday accuses Mrs. Tate and Joe William Tate of mail fraud, wire fraud and conspiracy.

Tate appeared at the federal court clerk's office and posted a required 10 per cent deposit on his $10,000 bond Thursday.

Mrs. Tate had been free under $23,000 in bonds on state charges, levelled in an earlier indictment, of theft and embezzlement of Olympic funds.

Her lawyer, Fred Time, said she did not come to his office as expected and added, "I will advise her to surrender when she contacts me."

Meanwhile Time filed a motion in U. S. district court asking that Mrs. Tate's $10,000 federal bond be reduced to a personal recognizance bond. A hearing on this motion was set for Monday.

The government claims the Tates tricked civic leaders into allowing use of their names in soliciting gifts toward expenses of U.S. athletes in the Olympic games. Mrs. Tate was office manager for a firm handling Southwest collections for this purpose.

After posting bond, Tate told newsmen, "I have never had access to even one cent of Olympic fund money, nor would I have used it even if I had."

One count in the federal indictment identifies Mrs. Tate as the only person authorized to make withdrawals from a bank where the money was deposited. Another count charges, however, that she and Tate conspired to commit mail and wire fraud.

Pair Arrested For Exporting Coins

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — Two men arrested on charges of illegally exporting about $50,000 in U.S. silver coins were released Thursday on $10,000 bonds each.

Authorities identified the pair as James E. Thomas, a Houston pilot, and Patrick H. Wallack, a San Antonio coin dealer. The two were arrested on a warrant issued by the U.S. Secret Service.

U.S. officials also seized a twin-engine airplane that the men allegedly used to fly to Mexico and back to Texas.

About 35 gallons of water are used by the average person taking a tub bath. A shower consumes only 25 gallons.

Officials Confident Dollar Is Safe

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administrative officials predict that the U.S. dollar will come unscathed through the world's latest currency crisis.

They admit to long-range concern over the possibility that any reduction of the French franc's value might start devaluations snowballing in other countries and eventually jar the dollar.

"But it seems quite unlikely to develop that way," one high administration source said.

"The dollar isn't the centerpiece of this affair, as it was last March. We're on the sidelines; even gold doesn't seem to be terribly involved."

In Bonn, Germany, representatives of the 10 richest nations in the world were reported to tentatively agreed to a devaluation of the franc, with only the conditions still to be worked out.

France had favored another plan, to revalue the German mark upward.

For the American-in-the-street, neither of those shifts in currency value would have a significant effect unless, somehow, the whole international monetary structure became involved.

The long-range worry of officials at the U.S. Treasury and Federal Reserve Board goes beyond France and Germany. It centers on Britain, whose exports are rising and trade balance improving since the devaluation of sterling.

But Britain is not yet far enough along the road to monetary stability to easily withstand a French devaluation. If the franc became so cheap that England's customers began to desert her and turn to France, Britain might have to devalue again.

"In that case there'd be a good chance of snowballing depreciations around the world," one Administration official conceded privately.

"Then there would be another flight of speculators to convert paper currencies into gold, and it is quite likely that the dollar would be among the currencies coming under attack."

School Opens Peacefully

NEW YORK (AP) — Teachers entered Junior High School 271 in the Ocean Hill-Brownsville district without incident this morning under the eyes of a handful of police and community residents who stood clear of the entrance.

The Brooklyn school was the scene Thursday of a temporary barring of a group of union teachers by community residents, an action the leader of the teachers union said jeopardized the agreement that ended New York City's 35-day teachers strike that kept more than a million children out of classes.

Albert Shaner, president of the AFL—CIO United Federation of Teachers, had said that if the strike agreement that guarantees the safety of disputed union teachers in the predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican district is not enforced, he would have no choice but to renew the strike.

Thursday, about 40 persons blocked eight union teachers from entering the school for 3½ hours until state officials managed to resolve the dispute peacefully.

Name For Bridge Bone Of Contention

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The San Diego City Council passed a resolution suggesting that the span being built across the bay be named the San Diego-Coronado Bridge.

Then the Coronado City Council at the other end of the bridge passed a resolution proposed it be called the Coronado-San Diego Bridge.

Both resolutions went to the Division of Bay Toll Crossings —which thought it might be nice to call it the Friendship Bridge.

The bridge still has no name.

FANTASTIC MARIGOLD, an orange beauty with entirely different flower formation.

ROSY FUTURE, 1969 All-America hybrid zinnia.

IRISHEYES, new golden-tinted Gloriosa Daisy with emerald green center. A perennial that may be grown as an annual if sown early.

GOLDIE, new dwarf Franch double marigold.

Nineteen New Flowers Introduced For Spring

Flower growing hobbyists, millions strong and increasingly conscious of their "Beautify America" role will find an answer to "What's new in Flowers for 1969" in announcement of 19 new varieties. All are annuals with new colors or improved plant characteristics and include zinnias, marigolds, snapdragons, petunias, sweet peas, an aster and a gloriosa daisy.

Zinnas, marigolds and petunias are the most widely grown annual flowers to provide quick lavish color for summer gardens and nine of the introductions are in these classes, including two 1969 All-America-winning zinnias, Torch and Rosy Future. Both are mildew resistant hybrids with huge informal flowers. Torch is bright fiery orange and Rosy Future, a delicate rose-pink. A third zinnia newcomer is Big Tetra Zinnias, a mixture of huge dahlia-like tetraploids in many bold colors on exceptionally husky plants.

Marigolds waiting for next summer's sun to introduce their cheerful faces are Gay Ladies, a blend of semi-dwarf hybrids in blazing sun shades of gold, orange and yellow; Fantastic, an orange American marigold with an entirely new flower form; Goldie, a symmetrical dwarf double French type and New Miracle Marigolds, a mixture of near-to-white marigolds closer to white than any heretofore.

For petunia lovers there is Scarlet Mound, a self-descriptive multiflora and Royalty, a bright - colored mixture of exceptionally vigorous growing petunias with large 3 in. flowers.

An interesting new charmer, dubbed "Irish Eyes," is a large gold-petaled gloriosa daisy with a unique emerald green center.

Snapdragon creations are Scarlet Supreme and White Supreme, both new colors to the summer - flowering, hybrid double snaps. Both Supreme and Sentinel snapdragon types have been given a wider spectrum of color and new mixtures of each are being presented.

Early Bird Azure Blue Aster developed type of extra-early, Sweet Peas, the many-flowered kind that are replacing older types that have only 3 or 4 flowers to a spray, are being introduced; a pink picotee on cream, a powder blue, and a deep cream. Glamour Girl, an Americana Sweet Pear, also makes its debut. It is a salmon pink on white in this new half-dwarf type that requires no staking.

It was just a half-dozen years ago that Burpee geneticists perfected the first hybrid Zenith Zinnia and simultaneously developed a new method of crossing the parent plants to make possible production of the hybrid seed in commercial quantities.

The two 1969 All-America-winning Zenith Zinnias make each of the five separate colors of Zeniths an All-America medalist. These new medal winners are Torch, fiery orange in color, and Rosy Future, a radiant rose-pink. Both have large thick flowers up to 6 in. across with ruffled and quilled petals that refract the sunlight. First flowers burst from buds when the extra vigorous, mildew-resistant plants are only 15 in. high. The profusion of blooms on side branches that follows all summer almost hides the luxuriant green foliage of neat 2 ft. plants.

The other zinnia contribution is Big Tetra Zinnias, huge tetreploids in all the best zinnia colors. Plants are loaded with dahlia-like blooms, 5 to 6 in. across and up to 2 in. deep.

The vigor and mildew-resistance of the 2½ ft. plants produce exceptionally healthy foliage and longstemmed flowers for cutting.

One might expect a profusion of new marigolds. The roster of new ones for '69 is headed by Gay Ladies, semi-dwarf American hybrids in yellow, orange and shades of gold that exhibit an ideal 18 in. height for beds or floral hedges. The semi - dwarf habit minimizes damage from wind and rain. Compact plants spread about 20 in. and are covered with as many as 50 carnation - type flowers open at the same time. Each flower is up to 3½ in. across and is held well above the foliage on sturdy stems. The first blooms appear in early August, ahead of other hybrid American varieties and flowering continues until the season's end.

Fantastic Marigold, bright orange, introduces a distinct and unusual flower form to American Marigolds. It somewhat resembles a chrysanthemum-flowered marigold except that petals which are not so tight are tubular with flared, twisted and curled ends. The intriguing blooms topping long cutting stems measure up to 3½ in. across and are slightly asymmetrical in shape providing material for creation of unusual flower arrangements. The first blooms appear in midsummer on bushy 2½ ft. plants that are outstandingly showy for accent or beds.

Also making its bid for a place in the sun is Goldie, a new Dwarf Double French Marigold with symmetrical plants 10 in. tall having a spread of 16 in. Goldie bears fully double bright golden flowers blotched red at the petal base that, as the season progresses, completely cover the plant. Like all marigolds, it is very easy to grow. It makes a colorful edging and is effective for use in front of taller marigolds.

Irish Eyes, a perennial that can be grown as an annual if planted early, brings something new to Gloriosa Daisies. Each golden yellow, daisy-like flower has a unique emerald green "eye." Hugh 5 in. blooms cover vigorous 2½ ft. plants from early summers well into fall. Irish Eyes is very easy to grow, will stand hot summers and zero winters and lasts for years. It is excellent for use in massive displays and the long sturdy stems are fine for cutting.

Marching into the garden sunlight is Burpee's New Color Guard, a parade of Sentinel Snapdragons in all colors, many new, and including white, yellow, lavender, scarlet and shades of pink and rose. Base - branching plants are extra vigorous with long, strong - tipped, spectacular spikes, each with as many as 100 flowers and buds, with up to 40 flowers fully open and at attention at one time.

Two new colors, plus an improved mixture, have been added to the "Supreme" Snapdragons, summer - flowering, hybrid doubles. Scarlet Supreme is a brilliant scarlet orange; White Supreme, a pure glistening white while the New Supreme Snapdragons contains all the Supreme colors, including the new scarlet and white. All have fully double flowers thickly set on long tapering spikes that are excellent for cutting. Bushy plants send up main spikes 3 ft. tall, followed by a wealth of strong side stems.

Christmas Program At Meeting

Mrs. Katherine Cawley, of Abilene, Home Economist for Lone Star Gas Company, presented a program Tuesday to a joint meeting of the Twentieth Century Club and the Plainview Home Demonstration Club. Her topic was "Christmas Foods and How to Package Them." Recipes and packaging instructions for all items shown were passed out to those attending.

MORE LIKELY TO COME

America Accepting Inflation

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The willingness of Americans to accept inflation as an economic reality that will be with us for awhile is becoming more obvious all the time.

Few discerning people could fail to note that some economic advisers to President-elect Richard M. Nixon believe that a 4 per cent rate of inflation may continue over a couple or several years, no matter how great the desire to get rid of it.

After watching prices rise sharply for more than two years now, and with little sign of leveling off, ordinary people have become quite shrewd and discerning; their instincts tell them that more is likely to come.

The tendency of Americans to risk more debt is some evidence of this, for most borrowers are at least slightly aware that the money they borrow now very likely can be paid back in cheaper dollars tomorrow.

The other side of the same picture is a hesitancy of Americans to accept fixed-dollar returns on their investments. The high volume of stock market activity is one indication of this. Another is the plight of insurance companies.

Life insurers were one of the first industries to be faced with this inflationary psychology. Although insurance purchases continues to rise with incomes, insurers have watched dollars that might have gone into policies go into mutual funds instead.

In fact, the swift growth of the mutual fund industry, which now has about $50 billion in assets, almost all of them acquired since World War II, has been spurred greatly by continued inflation.

Recognizing this, life insurers have attempted to devise plans that would take the inflation factor into consideration. Variable rates of return are now offered in limited quantities by large insurers.

Metropolitan Life, the second largest in the nation next to Prudential, held out for several years against efforts to promote variable returns, led especially by Prudential. But Metropolitan now plans to write variable annuities.

Other insurers have joined with mutual funds organizations to offer both fixed returns, such as from ordinary life policies, and returns that float with inflation—that insure against inflation—such as mutual funds.

This need to accept the inroads of inflation into their business has, in fact, motivated some banks and insurers to reorganize their firms into less restricted, less regulated holding companies—companies free to offer "packages" of protection instead of just one type.

Junior Editors Quiz on WINDS

QUESTION: Where does wind start?

• • • • •

ANSWER: When air is warmed, the molecules in it expand and are wider apart, so the air becomes lighter and moves upward. Colder air, which is denser and heavier, sinks down under the warm air, helping to boost it up. Later, the warm air becomes cooled and sinks down in its turn. These air movements cause the winds. There is a general rising of air from the hot regions around the equator and a general movement of cold air coming down from th rth to flow under it. But many things, such as the earth's rotation and the unequal heating of the land areas, cause variations in the movements of the winds and bring us many kinds of weather, sometimes stormy, sometimes pleasant. When wind blows close to the ground, it meets many different conditions. Often fields and deserts become very hot from the sun, but forests tend to absorb some of this heat. Hills, ravines, mountains, are obstacles in the way of the even flow of wind. Such irregularities of heating and the obstacles are the main cause of sudden gusts which may occur during a steady wind.

Santa Has Overrun Thanksgiving

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — A lot of people are already cranky at Santa Claus this year.

The jolly old saint appears to have hitched up his reindeer jolly well too soon for some tastes. They would prefer to keep him leashed to the North Pole a bit longer.

The great stores along Fifth Avenue, one of the world's most famous shopping thoroughfares, once appeared to have a tacit agreement not to put up their Christmas decorations until after Thanksgiving.

This year many of the decorations were not only up but lit from a week to two weeks before the arrival of our annual harvest celebration.

"What is happening to Thanksgiving?" ask some, annoyed at what seems to them the premature forcing of Christmas.

One answer would seem to be that Thanksgiving has been run over by the hit-and-run triumphant sled of Santa Claus—and may thereby have been left permanently crippled, unless stern measures are taken from its rehabilitation.

Each year people are made less and less aware of the approach of Thanksgiving. If the stores have their windows full of holly wreaths, where will they find room to display the symbols of Thanksgiving—the ripened ears of corn, the golden pumpkin, the pictures of the fatted turkey, the paintings of the Pilgrim family trudging off to church or feasting with the Indians?

It would be sad indeed if this spirit of our most typical of American holidays should be diminished in importance, perhaps reduced even to the mockery celebration of Halloween.

Harvest festivals, reflecting man's gratitude for the fruition of earth's plenty, are known throughout all civilizations, present or past. They were held in ancient Egypt, Greece and Rome and are common among today's nations.

But in America, Thanksgiving holds a peculiar national relevance matched perhaps only by the 4th of July. None of our holidays is more truly American, for it represents the heartfelt joy of our founders after surviving the tremendous perils of their first year in a new land.

That first Thanksgiving was a giant stepping-stone of the American spirit, and that is what Thanksgiving has meant to us ever since—the blessing of our victory over ordeal, the giving of thanks for our continuing survival amid manifold dangers, the celebration of the promise of our potential eternity as a united people.

There is no real reason for a conflict between Thanksgiving and Christmas. Surely we have room in our hearts, enough time in our year, to give each season its splendid due.

Jr. Varsity Wins Seventh Grid Game

SAN ANGELO — Lake View became the seventh victim of the Snyder High School Junior Varsity football team last night as the visitors scored in every period to emerge with a 49-20 triumph.

The victory enabled the Snyder JV team to complete its season with a 7-3 won-lost record.

The Snyder Kittens started their attack early as they halted a Lake View drive following the opening kickoff and surged 77 yards for the first touchdown. Johnny Mata, who picked up 137 yards on 8 carries, went 27 yards for the TD and Larry Wall kicked the extra point. Quarterback Bid Cooper rolled 17 yards for the second touchdown to end a 45-yard drive and Wall again added the extra point.

David McCommas set the Kittens up in business on the Lake View 29 yard line early in the second quarter when he intercepted a Lake View pass, Bobby Thompson went the 29 yards on the first play and ran the count to 20-0. Cooper went over from four yards out at the tag end of a 50-yard drive, with a Cooper to Tony Breedlove pass covering 33 yards in the drive. Cooper had intercepted a pass to give Snyder possession of the football. The touchdown left the half-time score at 26-0.

Mata accepted the third quarter kickoff and ran it back 70 yards for another Snyder touchdown, and a few moments later, Wall crashed into the end zone for another TD, hiking the Snyder margin to 41 points.

Lake View got its first touchdown early in the fourth period after recovering a Snyder fumble on the Snyder seven yard line. Snyder then drove 60 yards for anothr score, with Norman Davis carrying the last four yards. Harvey Pinkerton ran across for the two extra points and Snyder had its total of 49 on the board.

Lake View added two more touchdowns late in the game as Snyder kept reserves on the field. The last two Lake View touchdowns were scored on a 25 - yard pass and a seven - yard run.

In addition to Mata's 137 yards, leading ground gainers for Snyder JV were Thompson with 54 yards in 5 carries, Cooper 44 in 5 and Stewart Sims 16 in 2.

Coaches Roy Carter and Jerry McLeod said it probably was Snyder's best game of the season.

Provost Of Baylor Dies Thursday

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Dr. Monroe Carroll, provost of Baylor University who had been in a hospital since he suffered an Oct. 21 heart attack, died Thursday.

He also was president the past two years of the Southwest Athletic Conference until his resignation at the end of last month for health reasons.

Carroll, a 1921 graduate of Baylor, was widely known in his special field of business and economics. He joined the Baylor faculty in 1926 and was named provost in 1955. In the latter capacity he was chairman of the university's admissions and public exercises committees.

Recommends Sleep

LOS ANGELES (A) — The best treatment for some cases of stomach ulcers, high blood pressure, migraine headaches and asthma is a regular pattern of a good night's sleep, says Dr. Leon Marder, associate professor of psychiatry at the University of Southern California who conducted experiments on 12 patients.

Minnesota Will Get Message Soon

NEW YORK (A) — After the Minnesota Vikings get through playing the Baltimore Colts Sunday and the Los Angeles Rams next week they should have a good idea if their title threat is for real.

That front four of the Vikings has thrown the passer 18 times in the last three games and 38 times this season in a rush that can strike terror into the heart of any quarterback. However, Earl Morrall of the Colts has a fine offensive line to protect him against Carl Eller, Alan Page, Jim Marshall and Gary Larsen. And that Colt defense already has two shutouts.

Both the Colts and Vikings must win to stay out front in their divisions, depending, of course, on the outcome of Los Angeles' game with New York and Chicago's game with Dallas.

Luck was with us last week except for the Falcons-Bears and Bengals-Dolphins. the week's record was 10-2-1 making it 79-34-4 for the season (48-21-3 in the NFL, 31-13-1 in the AFL). Let's try again. All games are Sunday.

NFL

Baltimore 14, Minnesota 13—Yes, sir. It can be that kind of a game. The Vikings will give the Colts' pass protection the big test and they will send a solid running game at the Colts' line.

Los Angeles 21, New York 17—This could be the upset of the day, but that Ram defense figures to be tough for Fran Tarkenton, scrambling or throwing.

In other games:

San Francisco 24, Pittsburgh 20.

Detroit 17, New Orleans 13.

Cleveland 28, Philadelphia 17.

Dallas 28, Chicago 13.

Green Bay 24, Washington 17.

St. Louis 24, Atlanta 17.

AFL

San Diego 30, New York 27—Chargers still in midst of tight battle in Western Division while Jets have all but clinched East.

Denver 21, Buffalo 20—Two teams with quarterback trouble. Broncos lost Steve Tensi for year with shoulder injury. Bills had another shot down, Dan Darragh, against San Diego.

In other action:

Oakland 28, Cincinnati 17.

Miami 21, Boson 20.

Houston and Kansas City have the week off, resting up for Thanksgiving.

AGAINST TORNADOES, TONIGHT

Ten Seniors Play Last Game

Snyder's Tigers host Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes in a 7:30 p.m. gridiron clash today with 10 of the Bengal seniors playing in their last game.

Coach Wayne Tyrone and the seniors would like to make their last game a happy one, that is, a winning one. However, there are 19 senior Tornadoes around who have the same desire. Desire is the key word in any game between two teams of about equal ability.

However, tonight, the Bengals must have more desire than the Tornadoes if they hope to win this one. For, on paper at least, the visitors from the West appear to be stronger.

Lamesa will be seeking its seventh verdict of the campaign while Snyder will be after its fourth win. Coach Donald Jay of the Tornadoes has stated this year's edition of the Golden Tornados may be the best team he has had in his five years at the helm. That includes the team that won all of the marbles three years ago.

Snyder has been having defensive problems all year, although last week the defenders, led by Eddie Ray McClain, put forth a superb effort against Brownfield. Operating with a pro - type attack, Snyder has had good success at moving the ball and has actually gained sufficient yardage to win a couple of games they dropped.

Balance is an apt description of the Tiger assault. With quarterback Lee McNair on the firing line, the Tornadoes must guard against the aerials. A den full of talented running backs prevents opponents from flooding the aerial zones. David McGinnis, senior fullback, and Randy Levens, junior halfback, can hurt you inside and out. Moreover, Efrain Cervantez has the capability of going all the way once he gets past the line of scrimmage.

On the debit side of the ledger, McGinnis got clipped early in the affray at Brownfield last week and received an ankle injury. He was unable to carry the pighide near the goal line when short yardage was needed. He is still ailing and remains a doubtful starter tonight.

McClain has been working out at offensive center this week and may be installed in the new role. Light but tough guards Valvin Garcia and Del Hirst have provided sume excellent blocking for the backs. Tom McDorman, another lightweight, has turned in steady performances all year in the defensive alignment. Continued improvement of Willis Harrison is another bright spot.

With six regulars returning on defense, the Tornadoes could give the Begnal offense a stern test. Leading the defenders for the Tors is senior Paul Wade. There are eight regulars in the offensive alignment, including quarterback Terry Kinard, halfbacks Kenneth Demerson and Willie Hill and fullback James Slough. Kinard is an adept aerialist, and the running backs have good speed. The Tors operate from a winged - T and Y formation variations.

Lamesa seldom throws the ball, but when it does, watch out.

All things considered, the Tors rate a solid two - touchdown favorite.

Porker Guard Is Ideal

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The ideal guard in pro-type offense should be strong enough to drop back and pass block and fast enough to lead sweeps—like Arkansas' Jim Barnes.

Barnes, a 6-foot-4, 230-pounder, is one of the reasons the ninth-ranked Razorbacks have been successful with the pro attack.

"He's a good one," said offensive line coach Marvin Johnson. "He has rather outstanding speed for a body that size and he has good meanueverability. He is the ideal height and can run 40 yards in 4.9 or less."

Johnson said Barnes is a combination of Ernie Ruple and Dick Cunningham, two Arkansas tackles now among the pros.

"He has the height and strength and explosiveness of Ruple but he's much faster," Johnson said, "and he's much more agile and mobile than Cunningham.

"I think the pros will be very interested in him. He can do a lot of things that they want right now."

Head coach Frank Broyle said Barnes probably is one of the best offensive linemen in the nation.

"The pro scouts who came by our spring workouts told us they thought Barnes was the best offensive guard in the country," Broyles said.

Barnes says he would like to try pro football and this year's experience with the pro sweep and drop-back blocking should stand him good stead.

"I remember what Ruple told me after going out to San Francisco for the East-West Shrine game," Barnes said. "They used pro-type plays and he said he felt lost.

"And I know how hard it was for me to block while backing up last year. I could lead a linebacker and take him or get someone right on my nose, but protecting the passer on straight dropback came strange."

Arkansas will try to nail down at least a share of the Southwest Conference championship against Texas Tech Saturday at Lubbock.

"I know I'll have an empty feeling after the ball game—I know all the seniors will," Barnes said. "I'd like to remember it as Southwest Conference champions but there are not many people who get to remember it like that."

Opeartion On Halas Successful

CHICAGO (AP) — A successful operation has been performed in England on the ailing right hip of George Halas, owner of the Chicago Bears of the National Football League.

His son, George Halas Jr., club president, said his 73-year-old father, who quit coaching last May because of the troublesome hip, will require three or four weeks in a hospital.

He probably will return to Chicago in time for the Christmas holidays and possibly for the annual Bear alumni party Dec. 16 after the game with Green Bay.

Figures Way To Warm Cold Auto

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — To keep from going out to a cold car on winter mornings, Carl Chada has developed an electronic gadget that will start his car, the heater and the defroster while he remains in the house. The gadget sends a radio signal to a small receiver in his ear's ash tray. The receiver is hooked up to the car's electrical system.

Chada said he has turned his patents disclosures over to his employer, Westinghouse Electric Co.

Still the print of God is there we know
In pardon, a virtue of Christ indeed,
A bloom every growing from holy seed.
Oh He that once died that others might live
Grant us the wisdom to love and forgive*

Town's Strength Unyielding Faith

FARMINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — What makes a town refuse to give up, refuse though 15 of its men are trapped 500 feet underground in a burning coal mine?

The 1,000 people who are Farmington have faith: constant, unyielding faith.

One girl sat in the company store staring at the wall, waiting for word of her young husband, all but given up for dead with the other 77 in the depths of Mountaineer Coal Co. No. 9 mine. The other trapped men come from neighboring communities.

She started to cry but those around her tried to reassure her.

A middle-aged man took her head in his hands and forced her to look at him.

"He'll get out, Mary," the man said gently. "He'll make it. They all will. Just wait and see. He'll be walking out of that shaft anytime now. I heard them talk."

He had heard no such talk, of course, unless it was something he made himself hear. Rescue directors have been most pessimistic.

"There's not a chance in the world they'll get out alive," one official said after the chain of explosions Wednesday.

Another man stood on a chair in the store and shouted:

"Don't give up faith, not now. They told me while there's the slightest chance they'll not seal the mine. Even if it takes two years, keep the faith."

The wives of the trapped men seemed to believe him. They could wait two years. They shook their heads in agreement, even if they did appear not to understand.

"A coal miner can't give up hope, said 19-year-old Andy Saparito. "After all, there's always the chance and what else have we got?" He and the rest will stay until something happens.

There's always the chance. Everyone seemed to feel that way.

Mountaineer No. 9 is an intrinsic part of Farmington. Those who don't work in the mine are involved in some other way, in supply or services to the mine, or depend on its personnel for a living.

When the words "Fire in the mine" came, they flashed across the town.

The No. 9 Homemakers Club —formed more than 26 years ago—had hot coffee in the hands of state troopers at 7:40 a.m.—two hours after the first explosion.

The homemakers club set up shop in a weatherworn building and laid out vegetable and chicken soup, chili, pie, sandwiches, coffee and milk. The soup and pies were homemade.

Churches and social groups, and individual families, from all over Marion County have kept a stream of food coming in: boxes of sandwiches, 10-gallon jugs of soup and 500-cup urns of black coffee.

Such reaction is not totally unexpected, at least to Louis Valentine, national Red Cross representative in the area.

"Each disater is a little different," he said. "Some communities want to take care of their own, to express their feelings by helping anyway they can. This is one."

Dunn Methodist

Sunday will be observed as a special day of Thanksgiving for the harvest season at Dunn United Methodist Church. A special harvest of Thanksgiving offering will be made by the membership of the church. This offering, in gratitudt to God for all his blessings, will be used for the budget of the church for this year.

The morning worship service will begin at 9:30 a.m. and the pastor, Bobby J. McMillan, will speak on the topic of Thanksgiving as a response of love to God for his blessings. Church School will begin at 10:30 a.m.

Johnson Looks Back On Tenure

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, completing five years in the White House today, looks ahead to what he now calls an "enforced vacation" with mixed feelings of regret and pride.

"In the twilight of our career in Washington, the climax of 37 years," Johnson said Thursday night, "We have looked back at some of the achievements, some of the things we have gloried in, and some of the disappointments."

He ticked off among the achievements education, health, consumer welfare, veterans benefits, conservation—the guts of a flood of bills the former majority leader rammed through Congress in the early years of his presidency.

Only fleetingly did he touch on the crowning disappointments that in his final years all but eclipsed what some have hailed as the greatest social progress achieved by any president.

He hopes to see the war in Vietnam ending, or at least the Paris peace talks reaching a substantive phase before he leaves office Jan. 20.

And he hopes, too, for an end to the violence at home—of the type that has laid waste major cities and which struck down John F. Kennedy five years ago today to put Johnson in the White House.

He has some regret also about stepping out of the action in the political arena into the comparative quiet of the LBJ Ranch in Texas, a new phase of his life that will probably emphasize teaching, writing, lecturing and expanding the Johnson business empire.

New Hope Baptist

Sunday School will begin at 9:45 a.m. Sunday at New Hope Baptist Church, 3201 Avenue J, and the morning worship service will follow at 11.

The pastor, the Rev. O. J. Archie, will speak on the subject, "The True Gospel." The adult choir will sing.

Children's Choir will meet for rehearsal at 5 p.m. and Training Union will begin at 6 p.m., followed by the evening worship service at 7:30.

The WMU will meet Monday at 8 p.m. and ushers will meet at 7 p.m. Wednesday evening. The prayer service will follow at 8. The adult choir will rehearse at 7:30 p.m. Friday.
