MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS 76252 FEBRUARY 2, 1968

NUMBER 11

Have the communists opened a second front against the United States? Has the war suddenly escalated? Those are big questions haunting millions of Americans.

At this time it seems that the long and mostly hostile Korean truce is coming to a sudden end as reds of North Korea increase the frequency and intensity of their incidents. This follows the recent attempt to assassinate South Korea's president and capture of the US reconnaissance ship Pueblo.

If it is developing into a two front war, we wonder what is the communist objective. Is it to reduce our strength in Vietnam by forcing us to divert some of our power away from there? Or is it an attempt to finish the job that failed before in Korea? Whatever the answer, there can be no doubt that our country has lots of trouble on its hands.

A very disturbing circumstance relative to all this mess is the fact that the two enemies confronting us are not our principal enemies. They are satellites doing a job for Russia and Red China. Those two communist super powers are furnishing materials only and saving their man power, as if waiting for the right time to get into the war.

This kind of procedure has been an exasperating fact for many years. Big reds have stirred up trouble in many parts of the world, always managing to have others do the fighting for them, with the obvious intention of waiting patiently until they can take over. And all the while they manage to keep us involved, forcing us to use our materials and men in conflict with the secondary enemies.

To many Americans that method suggests one which could possibly be used to advantage by our side. We could do as they did by supporting the long standing desire of Nationalist Chinese to take their homeland. We have restrained them for years. This may be the time to let them make their play.

What would be the chance of success in such a campaign? Well, it has been said that Nationalist troops are Asia's best. It is well known that Red China is badly strained by economic troubles and civil strife. It is also known that people of China are weary of red slavery and praying for a change.

The combination of those conditions points to a strong possibility that Nationalist Chinese can actually take over the mainland. Like Franco in the Spanish civil war, they would have the support of the masses. Their army would grow as they moved forward with their liberation.

Whether or not this is just a pipe dream remains a big question. Doubtless, military men of this country have considered it. Possibly they are keeping it in mind as a move to be made if and when the need arises.

Actually, it seems incredible that this course can be ignored if the going gets tough for us. We can't imagine declining the help of good soldiers eager to fight on our side. We can't imagine denying them the hope of returning home — especially when we were so much responsible for their losing it. We can't imagine deserting them and all of Formosa to the sure fate that would follow if we had to pull out of Asia.

Teaming up with the Nationalists obviously involves a tremendous decision. First factor is the chance of success in their liberation effort. Failure would mean the end for people of Formosa. A crushing attack on the island would inevitably follow. And our own chance of success also would be much slimmer.

On the other hand, success of the Nationalists would completely change the situation in Asia. If reds were defeated in China they would be finished in practically all of the continent.

No matter how one looks at it, Nationalist China appears to be facing success or extermination. It will not be able to just go on. America alone can't hold communism in check in Asia, nor defeat it. The only hope in sight is a possible Nationalist triumph. If they fail they are doomed. If we pull out without giving (Continued on page 8)

4 from Muenster Advance to 4-H District Contest

Thirty-one Muenster 4-H girls entered the annual Cooke County Favorite Foods Show this year, gathered up a total of 18 blue, 11 red and two white ribbons including four top wins to advance to district competition.

Representing Muenster in the district contest on March 23 will be Peggy Endres and Joanie Rohmer in the senior division and Margie Felderhoff and Lenora Fleitman in the junior division. Lenora is a member of Community Club, the other three are from Sacred Heart Clubs.

The list of winners is as follows: Senior Division — Peggy Endres and Dianne Sicking in bread and cereal; Mary Bayer and Peggy Sicking in vegetable and fruit; Cynthia Bindel in meat; Joanie Rohmer in milk, all blue ribbons.

Junior Division, bread and cereal — Linda Sicking, Sandy Reiter, Yvonne Gehrig, Mary Lou Fleitman, Kathy Luke, blue ribbons; Dolly Bayer, Doris Felderhoff, Kathy Rohmer, Janet Sicking, Phyllis Bindel, red ribbons; Mary Ann Fisher and Nancie Fisher, white ribbons.

Vegetable and fruit — Kim Reiter, red ribbon. Meat — Margie Felderhoff and Gayle Sicking, blue ribbons; Janet Bayer, Marge Hesse, Beverly Walterscheid and Lou Ann Swirczynski, red ribbons.

Milk — Lenora Fleitman, blue ribbon. Group Display — June Stoffels, Shirley Becker, Nancy Fuhrmann and Janice Fisher, blue ribbons; Elaine Sicking, red ribbon.

January Moisture Measures 4.67 in.

The community's rainfall for January, measuring 4.67 inches, is the second wettest since a permanent moisture record was started in 1946. The total in 1949 was 4.86. Next high until now was 4.40 in 1946.

The month's measure also is far ahead of the ten year average of 1.84, and tops the ten year record of 3.48 in 1960.

In persistence of wet weather the month possibly sets still another record. Steve Moser's Weather Bureau gauge had measurable readings on 19 of the 31 days and a trace on two days.

Chili Supper as Hospital Benefit Set Next Tuesday

Muenster Hospital Auxiliary extends a general invitation to everyone to attend a chili supper the organization will sponsor next Tuesday, Feb. 6, as a hospital benefit... specifically a benefit to help clear the debt on the Auxiliary's current and biggest project — cardiac equipment.

The event will be held in the Parish Hall with serving to begin at 6 p.m. Along with homemade chili, members will serve homemade pie and coffee.

Tables will be arranged for games for those who enjoy cards and dominoes after supper.

License Plates Available Here

Car and pickup license plates are available in Muenster again this year. Tommy Herr and Jerry Wimmer of Tom and Jerry's Barber Shop announced Wednesday that they have three groups of plates from the county tax collector's office. Those are for passenger cars, farm pickups and commercial pickups. Other plates have to be bought at the court house.

They also emphasized the state's requirement that a person must show his car title and last year's registration certificate to get his new license plates. One or the other document by itself is not sufficient. Both are needed.

Muenster Votes on Sales Tax Saturday

A special election to be held Saturday of this week will decide whether or not the City of Muenster will adopt a one per cent sales tax.

The election will be held in the city hall from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. with Clive Gobble as election judge and Lee Toothaker as assistant.

Persons qualified to vote are all residents who were qualified to vote last year. The 1968 registration certificate will not be acceptable. As pointed out by Mayor Earl Fisher, registration certificates for this year become effective on March 1, and 1967 eligibility applies up to that date.

The sales tax is unanimously endorsed by the city council, which sent out a letter this week urging all to vote for it.

The letter points out that Muenster needs more adequate financing because of increased costs, increased demands for service, and increased state and federal requirements.

More rigid regulations on stream pollution require a sewer improvement project and present a problem as to where the city will get its funds. Possible sources are increased ad valorem tax, increased water and sewer charges and the sales tax.

City councilmen unanimously agreed that the sales tax is the fairest and best way. The reason given is that most of the necessities of life, such as food, medical expense, rent, auto and gasoline, are not subject to sales tax. For that reason people least able to pay will pay little if any sales tax.

Expected revenue of the sales tax here, based on records of the Texas Municipal League, can be as high as $12,000 a year. The Council, careful not to over estimate, has set its guess at $9,000. To raise that amount in ad valorem tax would require a one third increase. To raise it on sewer revenue would require a 100 per cent increase.

If approved by the voters the tax will become effective on July 1. The present sales tax of 2 per cent will be raised to 3, and it will apply to the same items that the present 2 per cent applies to. Stores collecting the tax will remit as usual to the State Comptroller and he will send the city a check for its share, less the collection fee.

Final Rites Held For Retired Abbot

Funeral services with Requiem Mass were held Monday 10 a.m. in Subiaco, Ark., for the Rt. Rev. Edward Burgess, 82, retired abbot of the Benedictine Monastery. He died Tuesday, Jan. 23, at Refugio County Hospital, Refugio, Texas, where he served as chaplain for the past seven years.

The abbot was born in Paris, Ark., Oct. 15, 1887. He made his monastic profession Sept. 16, 1906, and was ordained to the priesthood on June 24, 1911.

On Dec. 1, 1925, he was elected coadjutor abbot of Subiaco Abbey and became ruling abbot on March 13, 1926. He resigned Feb. 21, 1939.

Father Alvin Kubis was among clergy at the funeral.

Muenster Boys, Montague Girls Win Tournament

Muenster boys and Montague girls are the champions of the District 28-B junior basketball tournament held in the Muenster Public School gym last weekend.

Second place honors for runners up in the champ bracket went to the Valley View boys and Callisburg girls. Consolation winners were Lindsay boys and Valley View girls.

Each of the six teams received a trophy after the four final games Saturday night. In those finals Valley View girls beat Muenster 20-10 and Lindsay boys nudged ahead of Callisburg 24-22 for the consolation prizes. Scorers of the champ games were Montague over Callisburg 31-18 in the girls game and Muenster over Valley View 25-17 in the boys game.

The tournament had several real thrillers, with the Muenster-Saint Jo boys' semifinal heading the list. A field goal by Jim Endres with 4 seconds to go gave Muenster its win of 24-23. The play was set up by a long pass to him under the goal following recovery of a rebound at the Wilson.

The Soil Speaks

I have sat and watched America become "civilized" without uttering a word, but now I must speak before "civilization" destroys me.

I like to think back to the "good ole days" when I was rich, strong, useful and full of life. I can well remember the thick, dark layers of organic matter that once I boasted of. How that I was a welcome host for billions of tiny bacteria that worked in me and gave me life. I was a refuge for thousands of different kinds of grasses which infiltrated me with their root systems and found life. It's pleasant to remember the clear, clean water that once flowed through my veins and how I was able to store large amounts of it in my body in order to supply the plants in time of drought. When the blizzards came I was warm and snug beneath the grasses that covered me, when the scorching sun threw its heat at me, the grasses were always there to protect me and keep me cool. I once was somebody, somebody that was respected, somebody that was useful, but now it seems that I too have been forgotten.

Just look at me now that I have been "civilized". I am unhealthy, sickly, deformed and weak. Without the protection of the grasses the dreaded cancer of erosion eats away at my body continually. Now that I have been stripped of my clothing the winters are so cold that the bacteria are no longer able to live in me and give me strength. Each year it becomes increasingly hard to breathe as the organic matter is depleted and heavy machinery packs me tighter and tighter. I no longer have a capacity to store water because of this it too has become my enemy.

I don't know how much longer I can continue to endure this torture without being completely destroyed. Perhaps man will someday open his eyes. It's not too late yet, but his time grows shorter and shorter each day.

One fact remains clear in my mind. If I die, "civilization" dies. My closest friends, The Upper Elm-Red Soil and Water Conservation District, realize this and are doing everything within their power to keep me from perishing and give me new life. They need your assistance and cooperation.

A lady entered a fruit store and, when waited on, said: "I'd like to buy some grapes for my sick husband. Do you know whether any poison has been sprayed on any of your grapes?"
"No ma'am," said the clerk. "You'll have to get that separately — at the drug store."

Tigers Drop 2 in TCIL Tournament

Tom Williams and his Sacred Heart Tigers found lots of competition at the Texas Catholic Interscholastic League basketball tournament in Ennis last week. They lost their first two encounters in the double elimination event.

The first foe was St. John's host of the tournament. In Williams' opinion his boys were at their best for that game but not quite good enough. They went down by a count of 52-49.

They took a 12-10 lead ending the first quarter but the hosts took charge for leads of 23-19 and 38-29 the next two periods. A Tiger rally in the fourth fell short by 3 points. Top scorers for the Tigers were Lee Roy Hess 21, Tom Hess 11 and Paul Hoedebeck 8.

Next opponent was St. Peter's of Dallas. First half was slow as Big D boys got a 24-19 lead. Next half was faster, especially in the fourth when the Tigers were hurt by foul troubles and St. Peters romped to a 70-49 win. Top scorers for Sacred Heart were Lee Roy Hess 21, Tom Hess 11, Paul Hoedebeck 8.

Tigers and Cubs went to Cowtown Tuesday night for a twin bill with Fort Worth Day School. The juniors led 6-3 at the first quarter and trailed by scorers of 12-10, 17-15 and 28-21 the next three periods. Best scorers for the Cubs were Jim Schmitz 9 and Gene Hess 4.

The Tigers did better, gaining in three periods for a 60-49 win. It was another of the better performances for the parochial boys, in the opinion of their coach. Top scorers were Lee Roy Hess 22, Paul Hoedebeck 13, Stan Endres 11, Tom Hess and Tim Endres 7 each.

Next for the Tigers is their final game February 9 at Greenhill in Dallas. Tigerettes will play Greenhill girls as a preliminary. It will be their first game since January 2.

Tigerettes however have two games after the Tiger season closes. They entertain Immaculate Conception of Grand Prairie on the 10th and the 17th. Junior girls play preliminaries to both games.

Tips From Muenster Hatchery

Is your back too sore to dig out the stump that's been bugging you? Then do it the lazy man's way, with a can of stump remover.

The first days of fair weather is dormant spray time. It's during February and March that red spider and aphids cause those dead spots that appear in your cedar, pine and live oak trees in May and June.

Now is the time to control mildew on your crepe myrtles, fungi in wax leaf shrubs, scale in fruit and nut trees.

Call us and we will put you on the Sunshine List.

4-H Members at County Council Meeting Monday

Eight members from Muenster 4-H clubs attended the county council meeting Monday night at Gainesville, heard reports on past events and planned new activity. Patty Pybas presided.

Peggy Endres led the inspiration, Carolyn Block called roll and Jimmy Gaston led the 4-H motto and pledge.

Reports were presented by Yvonne Gehrig on the Share-The Fun contest, by Peggy Endres on the County Foods Show, and by Jimmy Gaston of School Record Books.

It was announced that the February program for Community Clubs will be a film on conservation, and that district eliminations will be held in April or early May. Members were reminded to plan now for the demonstrations they will present.

Other announcements listed important dates as follows: Adult Leaders Association meeting at Callisburg Feb. 29; 4-H Livestock Show, March 16; 4-H and FFA Livestock Show, March 29; District Foods Show, March 29; Dress Revue Judging, April 6; 4-H Style Show, April 8; next County Council meeting, April 29; Round-Up, June 4-6; District Camp, June 19-21.

Attending from Muenster were Allen Fleitman, Peggy Endres, Shirley Becker, Linda Klement, Nancy Fuhrmann, Yvonne Gehrig, Tommy and Chris Felderhoff.

Brush and Trees Replaced by Grass

A pound of beef brings more on the market than a pound of brush. Consequently, the farmer wants less brush and more beef. Brush can not be converted directly into beef but grass can. This is the reason that hundreds of acres in the Upper Elm-Red Soil and Water Conservation District are being cleared of brush and planted to grass.

The brush and trees in this area have little or no commercial value and are doing nothing more than retarding the growth of profitable grasses by stealing available moisture and shading the grass from the sun. It takes four times as much water to grow a pound of brush as a pound of grass. If the brush is replaced by grass, moisture is used more efficiently and consequently more pounds of beef are produced.

As land prices continue to increase, farmers and ranchers realize that it is more profitable to develop what they already own rather than buy more land. Removing brush and replacing it with grass is an excellent way of increasing beef production without increasing acres.

Contact your local Soil Conservation Office for assistance in planning brush control and pasture planting.

The game got hot in the second half as Saint Jo overcame Muenster's early lead and remained ahead by a few points until the final seconds. PTA Program Is Fashion Show by FHA Chapter Girls

A fashion show by Future Homemakers of America of Muenster High School was presented for members of the Parent-Teachers Association at their meeting Monday night.

Freshman and senior home-making girls modeled garments they made in class and those they made as home projects. Each girl appeared twice. There are 30 in the two classes. Beginners modeled A-line cotton dresses and advanced students modeled tailored suits in two, three and four-piece costumes. One girl made a full-length lined coat.

The show was themed "Portrait of Fashion" and the girls stepped through a large picture frame as they came on stage in the high school auditorium.

Debbie Russell presented the commentary and Elaine Otto, chapter pianist, played background music.

Mrs. Henry Weinzapfel is homemaker instructor.

During the business session Mrs. L. B. Bruns, PTA president, presided. Play books were handed out to members who plan to take part in a play the PTA will present. No date has been set for staging. Gerald Payne will direct "The Man Who Came to Dinner."

A nominating committee was appointed to secure a slate of officers for election in March. Committee members are Mmes. Dan Luke, Andy Wimmer, Charles Davidson, L. B. Bruns and Tim Stormer.

Mrs. Frank Felderhoff, member of the VFW Auxiliary, sponsor of the local March of Dimes campaign, showed a film on birth defects and homemaker girls served coffee and cookies.

Pecan Varieties Recommended For Cooke County

by Neil Tibbets, County Agent

The pecan crop in Cooke County for the past year was above average. It was not an exceptionally good yield but the price has created a lot of interest.

If you are interested in setting out pecan trees or doing budding and grafting, you might be interested in some of the latest recommended varieties. The pecan Experiment Station at Brownwood has been crossing different varieties of pecans for many years and they have several new varieties that look good for the North Texas area.

Some of the varieties that should be considered are Barton, Comanche, Choctaw, Soix, Wichita, Apache and Mohawk. These varieties have been developed from crosses of the paper shell variety that we have used in the past years.

The Mohawk is a variety that has been especially recommended for a lawn tree. It has heavy foliage and growing characteristics that are desirable for this purpose. January and February are very desirable months for transplanting or setting out new trees.

Additional information regarding the pecan variety and orchard management is available from the Extension Office.

them a chance they also are doomed.

Another obvious fact about the present situation. It's high time for some other countries to stand and be counted. Those that cherish their freedom need to realize that the big show-down is threatening. They need to realize they must unite for freedom or fall separately into slavery.

Incidentally, that calls for a tremendous diplomatic job by the United States. It's high time to convince those countries that their best interests are on our side.

Junior Teams Win Four of Six

In consolation final Muenster lost 20-10 to Valley View as Doris Felderhoff and Janet Swirczynski made 4 each and Kristie Stormer made 2.

The boys started with a 25-20 win over Callisburg as Jim Endres scored 9, Gary Walterscheid and Henry Knabe made 6 each and James Eckart made 3.

In their 24-23 win over Saint Jo Endres hit 16 and Knabe 5. Finally in beating Valley
