VIOLATORS OF SHUTDOWN SOUGHT

Three States Being Menaced By Flames

FOREST FIRES ARE FANNED BY WINDS

THOUSANDS IN FIGHT AS BLAZES RAZE TIMBER, FARMS

(By The Associated Press)

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 18. — Western Montana, northern Idaho and eastern Washington were red with uncounted forest and grass fires today. Fanned by winds, the flames were sweeping over timber and farms and menacing towns.

Hourly reports of new fires, some of them raging uncontrolled through vast stands of timber, came in here. Most were lightning set but many, forest officials said, obviously were incendiary.

Fighters Recruited

Thousands of fighters were on the fronts and probably as many more were being recruited or were struggling over difficult mountain trails to reach the flames.

At least three men were unaccounted for and many farm animals were destroyed. In a half dozen places farmers were fleeing from their homes.

Two churches at Troy, Ohio, were turned into temporary refugee bases, and many private homes had their quotas of homeless farmers.

Pleasure seekers at two resorts—Diamond Lake in northeast Washington and Liberty Lake, 16 miles east of here—turned fire fighters as flames swept near their homes.

PRICE OFFERS HIS DEFENSE

WITNESSES WILL BE HEARD TODAY IN JUDGE'S CASE

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug 18—Introduction of additional testimony relative to the character and reputation of J B Price of Bastrop, judge of the 21st district court, was planned by the defense today in the investigation of the veteran jurist on charges of negligence and incompetency in connection with his approval of claims of officers of his district for fees and mileage in criminal cases.

It was believed probable the defense would conclude its case today or early tomorrow. Little rebutal testimony was planned by the state. Several of the accounts of the sheriffs have been placed in evidence. Accounts for fees and mileage submitted by Woody Townsend, sheriff of Bastrop county; J J Burtschell, sheriff of Lee county, and Cline D. Lewis, sheriff of Burleson county, were claimed by T. N. Markham, assistant state auditor, to be exorbitant.

The contention of the state is that ordinary care and prudence would have caused Judge Price to withhold approval of the accounts.

Man Charged With Acid Murder Plot

YATES CENTER, Kas., Aug 18 (AP) —Ralph Sumner, 30, Neodesha, today awaited preliminary hearing on charges of attempting to main and kill his estranged wife and infant son by throwing acid into their faces while they slept here yesterday morning.

Two other persons also were under arrest in connection with the case. They were Mrs. Brent Morgan, at whose home Sumner lived, and her son, Lester Morgan. They were charged with being accessory to an attempt to maim and kill and were bound over for trial in the district court at a hearing last night.

Thirteen Dead In Storms In England

LONDON, Aug. 18.—(AP)At least thirteen deaths are reported as a result of storms which have spread havic around the English coast.

In the bungalow town of Winchilsea Beach, Sussex, dozens of houses have been submerged by waves which swept over the defences into lowlying marshland.

A sailing boat was swamped off Spithead and three occupants were drowned. Two men dived into the sea at Margate trying to save a child and were caught by a wave and drowned.

Divers Will Seek Gangster Victims

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (AP)—Deep sea divers may be employed to look for Chicago gangster victims.

This was revealed today when Patrick Roche, chief investigator for the state's attorney's office, said he had received information from an underworld source he considered reliable that a water-filled rock quarry, 100 feet deep, was the burial place for several mysteriously missing Chicago gangsters. The quarry is in a deserted section near Summit, Ill., a suburb.

"We are sending a diver to the quarry to make an estimate on the cost of a complete search," Roche said.

POLITICAL POT BEGINS BOIL IN NATION

TURMOIL IS CATCHING THE ATTENTION OF PARTY CHIEFS

BY FRANCIS STEPHENSON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Washington's usual August political quiet is reverberating this year with inter-party and intra-party turmoil that has caught the attention of national leaders.

Governor Roosevelt of New York is commanding the limelight with a duel attack. His challenge to the Tammany machine within his own party in powerful New York City and to President Hoover on the St. Lawrence waterway and power issue has punctuated the political stillness of the capital.

Debate Proposed

Coincidentally, Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, who has been mentioned as a Democratic running mate to Roosevelt in the preconvention speculation, comes forth with specific terms for a tariff debate with a Republican opponent—Senator Dickinson of Iowa.

Alive to the sudden Democratic offensive, President Hoover hastened back to the White House yesterday to reply to their thrusts.

As for Governor Roosevelt's unpublished letter to him on the St. Lawrence waterway and power question, Mr. Hoover turned the reply over to Acting Secretary of State Castle. Mr. Castle replied that "No secret negotiations" with Canada relating to the project were in progress but Governor Roosevelt's letter was not made public here.

Hoover Making Plans

Meanwhile, the president is going ahead in his own way on his formation of an unemployed program which recent Republican visitors to the White House have assured the country Mr. Hoover is preparing.

Jouett Shouse, executive chairman of the Democratic national committee, has called for details of this program reported in preparation. While his demand was quickly noted at the White House it appeared today that the president was going to ignore it and make his proposal in his own time.

Three Former Texas Soldiers Honored

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 —(AP)— Three former soldiers from Texas, one of whom now lives in California, have been awarded silver star citations for gallantry in action near St. Etienne-a-Arnes, France, October 8, 1918.

The war department said they displayed exceptional courage in advancing under fire of enemy machine guns, capturing several prisoners and machine guns. They were:

Harry Wohlberg, formerly of Waco, Tex., (510 West Sixth St.) Los Angeles; Eli Berwick, Huntington, Texas., and Albert Boyd, Clarendon, Tex.

Man Shoots Wife, Commits Suicide

WASHINGTON, Aug 18 (AP).—George M. Fusco, 27, of Brooklyn, New York, a government printing employee, early today shot and badly wounded his estranged wife, Mrs. Esther Fusco, and then committed suicide by taking poison.

Mrs. Fusco, who had been married previously, has two children at Durham, North Carolina. She and Fusco were married in May this year and her suit for divorce was set for hearing today.

SHUTDOWN FOR KANSAS IS PROPOSED

MOVEMENT LAUNCHED IN ATTEMPT TO HIKE PRICES

(By The Associated Press)

TOPEKA, Aug. 18.—The Kansas public service commission was expected to receive today a formal complaint seeking to bring the state into line with Oklahoma and Texas in the oil production shutdown movement launched in an effort to stabilize the industry and to bolster petroleum prices.

Filing of the complaint "within the next 24 hours" was predicted late yesterday by Thurman Hill, member of the commission, who said it would seek a hearing on the extent of the proposed shutdown in Kansas, "if any."

Higher Prices Seen

Hill also predicted higher crude prices would be posted by additional purchasers today. He said the expected complaint would be set down for hearing by the commission even though the price increases were announced meanwhile.

"We don't want producers to believe," he said " that because of the Texas and Oklahoma shutdowns they can come into Kansas and open up new production."

The three states, Hill announced, would be represented at a conference which he has called in Oklahoma City Sept. 11 for the purpose of working out uniform curtailment measures.

Terrill To Attend

Chairman C. V. Terrell of the Texas railroad commission last night joined with the Oklahoma corporation commission, Hill announced, promising to be represented at the conference.

TO RESUME HOP TOMORROW

FLYING LINDBERGHS ARE TO CONTINUE IF FOG CLEARS

(By The Associated Press)

NEMURO, Japan, Aug. 18— A radio message late tonight from the flying Lindberghs at Petropavlovsk, Kamchatka peninsula, advised the Ochiishi wireless station here that they expected to start for Nemuro early tomorrow, weather permitting.

NEMURO, Japan, Aug. 18 (AP) — Numrous radio messages indicated tonight that Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh had decided to wait on the weather before venturing over the fog shrouded Kurile islands in a flight from Petropavlovsk, Kamchatka, to Nemuro, in continuation of their vacation tour.

Most of today there was fog at various points along the 897-mile streach to their first stopping place in Japan but there were indications of clearing weather.

Dangerous Hop

When the Lindberghs finally hop from Petropavlovsk, they will have commenced one of the most dangerous hops of their hazardous vacation journey. Aside from the danger of fog and sudden storms which have a habit of lashing the islands suddenly, the Kuriles are sparsely inhabited.

PROBE WOUNDING OF PRESS WORKER

HARLAN, Ky., Aug. 18 (AP)—County officers today investigated the wounding of a press correspondent yesterday while plans went forward for the first trial tomorrow of a murder charge arising from coal field disorders.

Boris Israel, 21, former Ohio State university student serving as correspondent for the Federated Press, with labor papers among its clients, is in the Pineville hospital with a bullet wound in the leg. He said he was shot by three men who took him in an automobile to the city limits of Harlan and ordered him out of town.

Israel said he was talking to a deputy sheriff at the courthouse door when the three approached and forced him into their automobile.

AS TEXAS NATIONAL GUARDSMEN TOOK OVER OIL FIELDS

Texas National Guardsmen found no trouble in closing down the 1625 oil wells in East Texas. Here are shown members of the Fort Worth troops stationed at Gladewater and Kilgore. The troops were sent after Governor Sterling had declared martial law to enforce a shutdown of all producers in the East Texas field.

U. S. BIRDMEN PAY FINES

PANGBORN, HERNDON SEEK PERMISSION FOR FLIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Aug. 18.—Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon, jr., American aviators, today paid fines of $1,025 for taking photographs while flying over fortified Japanese areas.

Considering the incident closed, the American embassy in behalf of the fliers applied to the Japanese aviation bureau for a permit enabling them to fly to Samushiro beach, northern Hondo island, where they plan to start a nonstop flight to Seattle.

Expect Early Action

A decision on the request will be made at a conference of home, foreign office and communications officials, probably in a few days, the embassy having asked that the matter be expedited.

Pangborn and Herndon studied plans for installing additional tanks to raise the fuel capacity of their plane from 700 to more than 900 gallons, although their plane still was under padlock.

The Japanese foreign office regards the penalty imposed on the fliers as severe and favors granting the permit.

"Yama Yama Girl" Claimed By Death

PARIS, Aug. 18. (AP)—Mrs. Richard Harding Davis, widow of the famous war correspondent and known in her days on the stage as Bessie McCoy, the "Yama Yama Girl," died Sunday night at a hospital in Bayonne, friends here were informed today.

AND HERE IS TODAY'S BEST FISH STORY

After lashing and churning for nearly half an hour, a big yellow catfish weighing more than 60 pounds was captured last week by Elmer Billings and Fred Higdee, both of Lubbock, from the Rio Grande near Comstock.

"Most fishermen say the biggest fish got away—we say we caught it," Higdee said, displaying pictures.

"It came up to here," he said and tapped a button in the middle of his shirt front significantly, "and weighed 55 pounds four days after we caught it."

The two Lubbock men spent a week fishing on the Rio Grande. The biggest catch occurred Wednesday, although a 24-pound, a 20-pound, a 19-pound, and a 9-pound catfish also were caught with hook and line. They had 105 pounds of fish at once, he said.

Fishing without a boat in water probably ten or 12 feet deep, they hooked the huge yellow catfish using crawfish as bait. Perch also had been used.

"When it jumped up we saw this much of the hook out," he related, measuring off several inches on a finger.

"That scared us. When we finally got it, the hook dropped out. Just the sharp point of the hook was holding the fish in the gristle back of the lower teeth. If we'd have given any slack, it would have gotten away."

Too many persons try to fish in "pretty water," easy to approach, and with nothing more than fine cotton line and small hooks, the Izaak Walton devotee commented.

REBEL BATTLE IS IMMINENT

DECISIVE FIGHT SEEN IN CUBA FOLLOWING MINOR SKIRMISHES

(By The Associated Press)

HAVANA, Aug. 18 (AP)—A decisive engagement between rebel and federal troops in Santa Clara province seemed today to be in the making as President Gerardo Machado delayed his return to Havana.

Advices from the interior said 2,000 insurgents, of whom 1,500 were well armed, were concentrated near Trinidad and had engaged in minor skirmishes.

The arrival in Santa Clara of Clemente Vazquez Bello, president of the senate, strengthened indications that an intensive battle was imminent. Roads were carefully watched and the strictest censorship was clamped on news dispatches.

Airplanes flew over Havana and dropped newspaper pictures of former President Mario G. Menocal and Col. Carlos Mendieta, who are imprisoned in Cabana fortress as leaders of the insurrection. Students circulated bulletins saying the movement would continue despite the incarceration of their chiefs.

Girl Swims 19-Mile Bosphorus Straits

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Aug. 18 (AP) —Anita Grew, 22-year-old daughter of United States Ambassador Joseph C. Grew, today swam the 19-miles of the Bosphorus straits from the Black Sea to the Sea of Marmora in five hours.

She had been training for the feat since she tried it and failed because of adverse winds and choppy seas last year. Today she finished the difficult swim apparently with plenty of reserve strength.

SEEKS TO BAN GROWING OF COTTON

TWO-YEAR LAYOFF IS URGED BY GOVERNOR OF LOUISIANA

(By The Associated Press)

BATON ROUGE, Aug. 18—Under heaps of approval and regardless of adverse criticism of his plan to lay by the cotton crop for two years instead of one, Governor Huey P. Long today insisted that his proposal was practical and would work toward economic balance.

"My idea will work," said the governor and United States senator elect, as he perused a sheaf of telegrams from many parts of the cotton belt and the country.

"Not Impractical"

"There is nothing impractical about it," he said. "The state legislatures can pass the no-cotton statutes in the next ten days and the law will be easy to enforce. The law of Moses says that every even year the land should be allowed to lie idle. This proposition goes back to the law of Moses.

Governor Long is asking the governors and interested other citizens of the cotton producing states to meet with him in New Orleans Friday and discuss the advisability of passing legislation to bar the raising of even one bale of cotton in 1932 as a price stabilization measure in view of the 15,574,000 bale crop forecast by the federal crop report.

People Invited

He says the meeting is for the people as well as for the governors, organization heads and other officials.

"We want the people to meet," he said, "and get behind the officials. Let 'em light a fire under them. It will be a meeting for anybody to come and discuss my plan or any plan he may want to suggest."

The legality of legislative machinery was endorsed in certain official and organization quarters, including two farmers' mass meetings but opposed as a deprivation of constitutional rights in others.

Motive Is Sought In Shooting Fray

BALTIMORE, Aug. 18 (AP)—The motive for the shooting early yesterday of R. Wallace Kolb, baking executive, as he was driving Mrs. Nellie Greene, member of a prominent Georgia family, to her home, was sought today by police. Robbery, advanced early in the investigation, had been discarded.

Kolb, a bachelor sportsman and president of the baking company bearing his name, was shot in the thigh.

Mrs. Greene two years ago was given legal separation from J. Woodall Greene, a lawyer. After the shooting she gave her name as Mrs. Margaret Reamy of New York, and said her companion had been wounded in a 'simple hold-up." Later she admitted her identity.

Gandhi Makes Offer To Attend Sessions

BOMBAY, India, Aug. 18 (AP)— Viceroy Willingdon and Sir Ernest Hotson, governor of Bombay, were in telegraphic communication today in regard to Mahatma Grandi's latest offer to go to London provided the government holds an impartial inquiry into alleged breaches in the Delhi truce.

Gandhi's decision to narrow down his previous conditions are regarded as having immensely improved his chances to participate in the second round table conference although the Mahatma himself still entertains doubts.

Three Local Youths Confess To Robbery

Three Lubbock young men arrested here early this morning confessed they stole five shirts, two pairs of trousers, and a tie from a farm house four miles northeast of Anton, police reported.

A Lamb county deputy sheriff took the three suspects into custody early today and transferred them to Olton, Lubbock police said. One of the young men has a police record, authorities here said.

The man from whose home the clothing was stolen said he met the three in an automobile about half a mile from his home Monday afternoon but did not know of the burglary and did not recognize his trousers on one of the suspects. The trousers had been altered to fit a smaller man, police said.

SURVEY BEING MADE OF OIL BELT TODAY

CAVALRYMEN TO FIND IF NOON DEADLINE IS OBSERVED

(By The Associated Press)

KILGORE, Aug. 18—Cavalrymen rode through the East Texas oil belt today in search of wells that might be operating in defiance of Gov. Ross S. Sterling's shutdown order.

Four bodies of national guardsmen, with 100 men in each unit, began a systematic survey of the 600 square mile producing area to insure the closing deadline, which was at noon today, had been observed.

Although the martial law decree applies to four counties with a total area of 2,218 square miles, the national guard units posted camps and centered their activities on the actual producing area. The oil belt is about 60 miles long and 10 miles wide with approximately 1,000 oil and gas wells.

Rangers With Troops

A Texas ranger rode with each cavalry troop to make arrests, if necessary, in the advent of violation being discovered. Troopers were armed with wrenches and other equipment to close valves at wells found operating.

The shutdown was reported practically complete throughout the field. Officers said they expected to find no wells flowing except possibly in isolated sections.

Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters, in command of the 800 guardsmen in the field, said today that he doubted whether much unemployment would result from the shutdown.

He said officials of most of the major companies had promised Gov. Sterling to retain their employees on their payrolls. Some companies planned to cut salaries to a half-pay basis during the period of enforced idleness.

Independent operators also issued notice that employees would be retained.

Solons Worried

"I understand that some members of the legislature are extremely worried about unemployment."

MILLIONS ARE DESTITUTE

ESTIMATE 30,000,000 MADE HOMELESS BY CHINESE FLOODS

(By The Associated Press)

HANKOW, China, Aug. 18—A carefully compiled survey in the hands of Chinese authorities indicated today that at least 30,000,000 persons were homeless and about 10,000,000 utterly destitute in the four provinces hardest hit by the current Yangtse river flood.

The Yangtse receded half an inch today, reviving hopes that the crest of the flood, which started three weeks ago, had been reached.

Yesterday's high mark was three feet above the maximum level reached by the river during the disastrous floods of 1870.

Thousands Perish

Reports of lawlessness among desperate refugees caused Japanese authorities to set a military patrol around their Hankow concession. Thousands have perished.

A new danger threatened to arise in the stoppage of the drinking water supply as high water undermined the reservoirs.

John Earl Baker, American who has headed several relief projects in China, reached here by airplane from Shanghai to direct a survey of the damage in the tri cities of Hankow, Hanyang and Wuchang.

Picnics Are Popular Forms Of Entertainment In Lubbock Society On Monday

Mrs. N. L. Peters Is Breakfast Hostess

Picnics for families were popular in Lubbock society Monday evening. Women in the General Aid society of the First Christian church were hostesses with a lawn supper and program for their husbands and families, and members of the Lindy club entertained for their husbands at the Country club.

The outing at the Christian church was preceded by the regular society program at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Mrs. R. A. Mills, president, was in charge of the invocation and presided for a program on "Trust". Following an opening song Mrs. Walter P. Jennings led the devotional lesson and Mrs. Jim Eubanks sang a vocal number, "His Eye Is On the Sparrow."

Mrs. Mills led the discussion on a chapter in the mission book, "Being Towed In." Mrs. A. T. Biggers led the closing prayer.

Seventy-five Are Present

There were about 55 persons present for the supper, and following the meal they went into the church auditorium for a series of stunts directed by various circle members.

Mrs. N. L. Peters was hostess at a sunrise breakfast and swim this morning at Country club for a number of children.

Following a plunge, breakfast was served to Dorothy and Sohny Allen, John Robert Moxley, Jane Robison, Addie Lee Terrell, Vondelle Prideaux, Clarence Symes, jr., Harold Parsons, Joy Lindsey of Rule, Rebecca Ann Bradshaw, Polly and Jack Peters. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Bradshaw were guests, also.

Society Meets For Study Of Missions

Women in the First Baptist W. M. S. met in all-day session at the church Monday. Three books required in the general society program were taught. Mrs. G. W. Scott taught "In Royal Service"; Mrs. Fred W. Sparks, "Stewardship and Missions" and Mrs. J. H. Hankins presented "Decade of W. M. U. Service."

A group gathered at the church at 10 o'clock and began the study. The women brought their lunches, which were spread at noon.

The book taught by Mrs. Hankins is a required study in a second series. Some of the required works were studied in the various circles of the society during the year, and the meeting yesterday was to complete those lacking in the requirement.

In lieu of the circle meeting which were scheduled for Cavalry Baptist W. M. S., the women met at the church Monday afternoon for Bible study directed by Mrs. H. R. Sprawls.

There was an attendance of twenty women at the meeting.

Miss Eza Rankin, Los Angeles, Calif., is visiting in Lubbock as the guest of her brother, Lattie Rankin, and Mrs. Rankin. She is a former Lubbock resident.

DR. MYERS

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D. Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

DR. MYERS CRITICIZED

"DEAR DR. MYERS: I read your reply to the mother of the nervous, high-strung child. I cannot agree with either of you about the treatment of this child.

"I am grown, but still remember distinctly, as though but yesterday, the time I was forced out of my sleeping room and put in with my sister. I often wonder whether some people really had a childhood or whether they were ushered into this world fully grown, that they treat children with such cold-blooded heartlessness.

"I was like this child the lady speaks of. I would lie for hours while others slept, wide awake, with fingers tightly clasped to keep my finger nails from pulling out of the roots, which I, in my nervous excitement, imagined was trying to happen to me, unless I held them tightly on. . . . Sometimes about 2 a. m., when I could stand the torture no more, I crept quietly out of my bed and into my mother's and father's room and whispered to my mother, 'I can't sleep,' and joy of joys, she always took me in and I was fast asleep. . . . If I should ever have care of a child I will have it understand that in my room it will find sympathy and welcome, even if it comes at midnight."

And another letter reads:

"Dear Dr. Myers: Each day I read your articles to gain help in rearing my three young children. Generally they are more or less helpful, and as a rule you are fair to the child; but the enclosed article" (the one referred to above) "filled me with dismay. . . .

"This parent's description of the baby's emotional make-up is a fine description of myself as a child. I could not bear to sleep alone—even as a young woman. Even now I feel better if I am sleeping near someone. . . . but I might say of my own three children that they sleep alone, but with a dim light burning in the bathroom. . . .

"And so, when you say that jealousy is one factor in this little girl's trouble, permit me to say that I consider you entirely wrong in this case and the treatment you suggest brutal to a child of such delicate mechanism. Really, it is appalling to me! Had my mother done that to me. I firmly believe she would have wrecked my nervous system completely. . . . A mother who has such a child cannot expect an easy time, nor always a night of unbroken rest. While she may need it—she cannot have it. . . .

"Dr. Myers, I feel that no matter how well we are trained in psychology, we cannot be too careful in dealing with children and their emotions. After all, we cannot read their minds and they cannot explain their feelings to us. . . . So when you ask this parent to let this child cry, you may be doing both an irreparable wrong. I know you try to be fair; so your letter amazed me and this is my reaction to it."

Answer: I wish these two honest critics would go back and re-read the article to which they refer. If I could sit down and talk with them I think I could show them that we are not nearly so far apart in points of view as they think we are. Anyway, I am deeply grateful for their criticism and hope to profit from it. May I have more adverse criticisms!

EDITOR'S NOTE: Two pamphlets by Dr. Myers may be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Garry C. Myers, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1433 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are "Punishments and Rewards" and "Fear."

Several students organized a bridge club this summer and met each Saturday afternoon. Miss Eloise Cook was chairman of the entertainment committee in the club.

YES, some substitutes are cleverly made to look like Kotex. But that doesn't make them the same.

Are they clean, like Kotex? Scientifically made in surroundings of hospital cleanliness? Have modern methods been used, so that hands have never touched them?

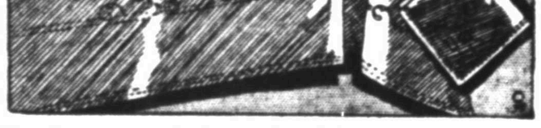

These questions remain unanswered, when you accept a substitute of whose makers you know nothing. But these are questions of vital importance, because they are directly related to your health.

Accept no substitute of whose origin you are uncertain. Demand Kotex—the genuine. Hospitals use Kotex. It fully meets their requirements.

Kotex is supremely comfortable. Shaped to fit. Adjustable. Disposable. Stays soft for hours.

HUBBERS MEET LEVELLAND TONIGHT; OPEN BASEBALL PROGRAM

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

In an effort to run down a statement made in Jerry Malin's Amarillo column of Sunday that had Texas Tech and Texas A. & M. college meeting in a football game this fall we failed to find out much. Pete Cawthon, who is alleged to have been in Amarillo on Saturday with Matty Bell of Aggie land and in a conference with Wilbur C. Hawk, could not be reached here and his assistant at Tech said the Matador mentor was on a vacation.

* * *

Dutchey Smith, the assistant, was tight with his information and even refused to say where Cawthon had gone for a vacation. It is presumed that Cawthon went north, possibly into Colorado. Surely he wouldn't think of spending a vacation in Amarillo when he could have stayed at home much cheaper. Dutchey didn't have much to say about the reported game scheduled between the Matadors and the Aggies as a feature of the Tri-State Fair program in September expressing surprise that the fact had been announced. He neither verified nor denied the tentative schedule but did say that if the game was played it would be in 1932 and not this year.

* * *

Jerry did not say definitely that the game would be played this year, but he left that impression, naming September 27 as the date and stating that Cawthon and Bell had agreed to terms laid down by Hawk, president of the fair. The official Texas Aggie football schedule, received in this office from D. W. Carleton of Aggieland, insists that the Cadets and the Pirates of Southwestern university play at College Station on September 26, opening the 1931 season, and it is doubtful if the Aggies would come to Amarillo for a game the next day. The Matadors are scheduled to meet the Canyon Buffs on September 25. And in the last place September 27 comes on Sunday in the first place.

When the annual West Texas tennis tournament was discontinued here it may have been the cause of the failure of Lubbock netters to place on the seeded list of West Texas players. At any rate the rankings for 1931 as handed out by the West Texas Net association, following the recent tournament at Big Spring, does not contain a Lubbock man among the first twenty singles players, whereas a year ago Roscoe Etter of Lubbock was seeded No. 4. This year he is ranked at No. 12 in the doubles combination with Charles Burgess of Big Spring. Tom McCarty of Denton ranks first this year and Raymond McPhail of Wichita Falls is seeded No. 2. Theodore Ferguson of Midland stands in third place in the rankings.

Vacation trip for one of Lubbock's and Tech's best loved citizens and professors, not to say one of the best grandstand coaches in this neck of the tall and uncut, Hixsoner Ben Condray, ended yesterday, but great as the vacation trip, the reception tendered him upon his timely arrival here was greater.

A reception committee of some two-dozen loyal souls including the cream of the city's elite met the great Condray at the station and ushered him back into his local surroundings. At the train he was presented a huge bouquet of yellow flowers by a group of feminine admirers and a great medal, some eight or ten inches in diameter and composed of shiny tin, upon which was emblazoned the words, "Our Hero," was presented by Delicate Del Morgan of the Tech coaching staff.

* * *

Condray could not be reached yesterday afternoon for a personal interview and after a word or two over the telephone he referred the press to his publicity manager and pal, "Gray Eagle" Pender, another of Tech's most reknowned anvil chorus boys. Pender, himself a member of the reception committee, spoke at length concerning the latest enterprises of the polo-playing prof of government who has been killing time and mosquitoes at Palacios.

A news note of exceedingly high value accidently escaped attention in these pages the other day and we rush to make amends. A golf tournament was held last Saturday in connection with the editors' convention here and the prize for low score went to Parker Prouty, who signs the checks at this labor emporium. We learned of the victory shortly before going to a baseball game and when we came in afterwards it was too late to find out who Prouty had defeated for the prize. We did learn that the loser had held the title for the past two years and was runner up in the tourney Saturday.

LITTLEFIELD, VERNON NEXT ON PROGRAM FOR LUBBOCK

A baseball program that promises to hold some right fair entertainment for Lubbock fans is scheduled for Merrill Park and is off to a curtain raiser tonight when the Levelland Bearcats, champions of the Wolfforth tournament, make their first invasion of the local diamond. All ladies will be admitted free to the game, beginning at 8:30 o'clock.

On Friday night the Hubbers will entertain the Littlefield Cyclones and a series has been carded with the Vernon Cardinals for Saturday night and Sunday afternoon. Negotiations with the latter were completed last night via long distance conversation between Manager Dirty Waller of the Hubbers and Manager Quattlebaum of the Vernon team.

Evans To Hurl

With Evans, one of the stronger arms of the South Plains pitching fraternity, ready to do business against the Hubbers tonight, the Levelland outfit looms as a more or less formidable rival for the evening's honors. The team is made up of boys who have been hanging together in the interests of Hockley county baseball, meeting and defeating nearly all comers in their section this summer. Winning the Wolfforth tournament with comparative ease, the Bearkats moved into the realm of the better class semi-pro clubs.

Manager Art Mueller is bringing his Littlefield outfit to Lubbock for a single stand Friday night. Traditional rivalry between the teams is at its highest pitch now, the teams having split the last two encounters. Littlefield winning here last week and Lubbock taking a big victory at Littlefield last Sunday and player and fan interest is at the top accordingly.

The Vernon Cardinals have been laying waste everything in the way of semi-pro baseball down in the eastern part of the old District 1, and the record shows the Wilbarger county outfit as having won 19 out of 23 games so far this season. They arrive in the South Plains Friday and probably will meet a team near here Friday afternoon before beginning the two-game series Saturday night.

BEAUMONT OUTFIELDER HITS 19TH TRIPLE FOR NEW RECORD

BY WILLIAM A. (BILL) PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

One 1930 Texas league record went into the shadows yesterday when Joyner White, Beaumont outfielder, hit for his nineteenth triple this year, beating last year's record of eighteen. White, who also leads the league in stolen bases and home runs, clipped the 1930 record in the eighth inning, his only hit in Beaumont's 6 to 0 decision over the Dallas Steers.

Buck Marrow limited Dallas to three hits, all singles. The exporters found Grady Adkins, Dallas hurler, a puzzle for six scoreless innings, but they get to him for two runs in the seventh and shoved over four more in the eighth. It was Adkins' thirteenth defeat this season. He has won eight.

Cats Down Indians

Leon Chagnon pitched Fort Worth to a 6 to 1 decision over San Antonio, his fourteenth victory this season. He struck out eleven and allowed seven hits.

Hits meant little in the Wichita Falls and Galveston game at Galveston last night. Wichita Falls got fourteen hits but the Buccaneers won 7 to 6 on seven hits. Galveston opened with five runs in the first inning, driving pitchers Ferrell and Florrid to the showers, although Galveston got only two hits. Five walks and interference by the catcher allowed Galveston the runs. An unusual feature was Wichita Falls had one runner left on base although fourteen batters got hits.

Payne Wins Again

George Washington Payne, second ranking ace to "Dizzy" Dean of the Houston Buffaloes, chalked up his twenty-first victory last night, beating Shreveport in the first game of a doubleheader, 5 to 4. Payne was complete master of the Sports. He held them to nine hits and runless until the first of the seventh. Payne has lost nine. Houston stumbled into too much pitching from Moulton in the second game, losing 5 to 0.

Parker fired a neat 80, 38 and 42, to cop the title and the prize, a fine desk clock which now adorns the executive mahogany.

* * *

Speaking further of vacationists (and since the above paragraphs were written we've discovered that Pete Cawthon is vacationing in Arkansas instead of Colorado) we must call attention to the deluxe rest of Weldon Chapman, Westerner mentor. Maybe he's looking for a quarterback and an end and a tackle but he told us he was going deep sea fishing off Galveston island. And if he or somebody else doesn't hook the necessary accoutrements for the Lubbock High gridiron the club is likely to flounder like the big fishes that got away from Chappo.

STRIBLING THINKS HE IS ONLY ONE WHO CAN WHIP CHAMPION SCHMELING

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 18.—W. L. (Young) Stribling isn't optimistic over the chances of any present day heavyweight taking Max Schmeling's measure.

The Georgian, vacationing here, of course believes he can whip the German who scored a technical knockout over him several weeks ago to retain the world's heavyweight boxing title but doesn't favor the chances of the rest, including Jack Dempsey, Jack Sharkey, Primo Carnera, Mickey Walker and Tommy Loughran.

"I don't think Dempsey will ever get back into a championship campaign," said Stribling. "He always could hit but he won't be as fast as he used to be if he can't land he'll probably be badly beaten.

"If Sharkey can't beat a fighter Walker's size he can't expect to beat a real heavyweight. Carnera is just a great big man and that lets him out. Loughran, of course, merits consideration but he isn't as spry as he was once was. Walker is too small to fight a good heavyweight."

Women Favorites In Tennis Matches Win

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 18—(AP)—The women's national tennis championships moved into the second round today with 15 of the 16 seeded players still in the running.

The only seeded star eliminated in the first round yesterday was the Baroness Giacomo Levi of Rome and New York, seeded eighth in the foreign list. The baroness had the misfortune of catching Virginia Hilleary just when the Philadelphia girl, No. 4 in the national ranking, reached top form. The result was a 6-3, 6-4 victory for Miss Hilleary.

All the other favorites, including Mrs. Helen Wills Moody of San Francisco, Helen Jacobs of Berkeley, Calif., and Betty Nuthall and Phyllis Mudford of England came through without trouble.

Mrs. Moody swept through Edith Sigourney of Boston without the loss of a game; Miss Jacobs dropped four games, two in each set, in beating Mae Curtvorst of Wichita, Kas.

Miss Nuthall, who won the title last year when Mrs. Moody elected to remain in California, defeated Mrs. Bernard F. Stenz of Garden City, N. Y., 6-2, 6-1 and Miss Mudford eliminated Mrs. Anna Fuller Hubbard of Lancaster, Mass., 6-3, 6-0.

Mrs. Moody was matched in the second round today with Mary Greef of Kansas City, No. 9 in the national ranking list. Miss Jacobs drew Virginia Rice of Boston as her opponent; Miss Nuthall next test presented itself in the person of Clara Greenspan of New York. Miss Mudford drew Cecilia Riegel of Philadelphia.

BOXING ASSOCIATION TO MAKE INQUIRY FOR CARNERA

NEW YORK, Aug. 18. (AP)—On behalf of Madison Square Garden of Illinois, the national Boxing association will conduct an inquiry into the seriousness of the injury Max Schmeling, heavyweight champion, says will prevent him from meeting anybody this year. The investigation will be conducted through N. B. A. affiliates in Germany.

William F. Carey, president of the New York Garden, said the investigation was to be made at Primo Carnera's request. The Illinois Garden has Carnera under contract to meet Schmeling and posted a $60,000 bond to guarantee that the match would go through before the contract expires Sept. 30. Schmeling recently cabled from Germany that an injured eye would keep him out of the ring for some months.

Carey revealed that the Garden would make no effort to halt the bout between Carnera and Jack Sharkey at Ebbets field Sept. 23 under the promotion of Jimmy Johnston. He said that if Schmeling's eye injury was certified by an N. B. A. official, thus releasing the Illinois garden from the $60,000 bond, the giant Italian would receive a release from his contract.

Chapman, Reynolds To Hold Foot Race

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (AP)—A foot race at 100 yards between Ben Chapman of the New York Yankees leading base stealer of the major leagues, and Carl Reynolds, White Sox outfielder, will be held during the Yankee-Sox series here next week.

The Yankees, Babe Ruth particularly, think Chapman is the fastest man in the American league, while the White Sox believe Reynolds can outfoot him on the straightaway.

Ruth recently won a good sized bet backing Chapman against Allen "Dusty" Cooke, a teammate, at 100 yards.

PICKED IN APRIL TO GIVE ST. LOUIS A FIGHT FOR PENNANT, CUBS DECIDE LITTLE LATE TO HALT CARD RUNAWAY

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago Cubs, picked in April to give the champion St. Louis Cardinals a fight for the National league pennant, apparently have decided a little late to do something about the runaway the Cards have made of the race.

Winning their second doubleheader with the Boston Braves in as many days, the Cubs charged past the New York Giants into second place yesterday eight and one-half games back of the high-flying Cardinals. The Giants, splitting a double bill with the champions, fell back into third place a full game behind the Cubs.

Split Twin Bill

Home runs by Jim Bottomley and Chick Hafey in the eighth gave the Cards a 6-5 win over the Giants in the first game but the Giants took the second contest, 7-5, by shelling Paul Derringer from the peak with a five-run assault also in the eighth inning. Travis Jackson, Giant shortstop, was forced out of the game with a broken nose when he was hit by Gelbert's drive in the fifth inning of the nightcap.

Brooklyn lost more ground as the Cincinnati Reds took two games, 4-1 and 8-3, behind great pitching by Silas Johnson and Owen Carroll.

Larry French, Pittsburgh Pirate southpaw, stopped the Phillies, 4-2, in the first game of a doubleheader allowing only six hits, but Phil Collins gave the Quakers an even break by blanking the Corsairs, 3-0, in the nightcap.

In the American league, the New York Yankees, holding third place, fell to a position five games from the Washington Senators and 16 from the Philadelphia Athletics by accepting an 8-2 trimming from Detroit.

An early attack on Pat Caraway gave the Boston Red Sox a 3-2 decision over the Chicago White Sox.

All other American league clubs had an off day.

The $17.50 apportionment is the highest in the history of the state, it was said.

Thought For Today

For the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God.—James 1:20.

* * *

What most increases anger is the feeling that one is in the wrong.—Richter.

Guiding Light

The world conference of the Y. M. C. A. finds that the world's young people are dissatisfied and restless, conscious of standing on a new frontier but having no notion of what may be ahead of them.

In this fact there is both hope and danger.

Considering the sorry mess that we adults have made of the world in the last decade or two, it can't be anything but encouraging to learn that youth is doubting our wisdom and is preparing to strike out for itself along a new trail.

But looking for a new path isn't the safest task imaginable. This dissatisfaction of youth since the World War has led to innumerable tragedies. It has caused the destruction of many fine young men and women. It has led to such dismaying phenomena as the atheistic "youth movement" of Russia and the hard-boiled Fascism of restless young Italians and Germans.

Naturally enough, then, the International Y. M. C. A. feels that it can tackle no more important job than the job of trying to get youth started in the right direction.

Just how that is to be done is perplexing. The first thing that youth lost when the world's follies disillusioned it was its old respect for its elders. It has not, for more than a decade, been in a mood to take a great deal of advice from the rest of us.

Yet the job can be done—if only a genius or two will come along to do it. For youth is as ready now as ever to follow an ideal, if it can find a worthy one. Indeed, it is chiefly because the old ideals that we held up to youth fell into the mud that young men and women today are restless and rebellious. They have an enormous fund of idealism, an enormous reservoir of unselfish faith—and we are not giving them a chance to use it.

The confusion of youth is chiefly our own fault; and if youth fails to find an objective on which it can lavish its faith and hope—that, too, will be largely our fault.

Tariff Issue

It is beginning to look as if the 1932 presidential campaign will be in at least one respect a return to the political styles of two or three decades ago. It will be a campaign in which the tariff will play a very large part.

In recent years national campaigns have not hinged on the tariff. The subject has been mentioned, of course, now and again, but nobody paid much attention to it. It meant few votes either way, and it got much less attention than it deserved.

Now it begins to look as if the tariff will be one of the main features of the next campaign. The recent interchange between Senators Smoot and George on the sugar duties has started the ball rolling. One of the favorite "issues" of a generation ago is showing remarkably promising signs of life.

Nobody's Business

For the Indianapolis reformer who landed in jail after he knocked a cigaret out of the mouth of a woman who was sitting by her husband in a parked automobile it is hard to feel very much sympathy.

People differ in their attitude toward the use of tobacco by women. A great many people see nothing at all wrong in it. Others are convinced that it is an extremely pernicious habit.

But there is something else that is more important—the duty that is incumbent on each citizen to mind his own business.

The Indianapolis reformer forgot that duty grievously. The 10-day jail term that he drew as a result was just about what he deserved.

Henry Ford says money is merely a symbol. And have you ever noticed how symbolic a garage mechanics repair bill can be?

As a result of an article in this column recently, dealing with the habit of 'negro-baiting' in which some thoughtless youths have engaged during the past few months, identity of some of the youngsters has been established and turned over to authorities.

The information was compiled by one of the leading citizens of Lubbock who agrees that to permit ruthless and needless persecution of negroes on city streets may some day lead to serious race troubles.

* * *

It is not the intention of this citizen that boys who have engaged in 'chunking' and 'rotten-egging' negroes be arrested or molested if they decide to put a stop to their practices. He has merely paved the way to stopping the baiting practices by seeking to have the lads officially warned.

This column realizes that boys who have persecuted negroes did so thoughtlessly, not meaning to cause any serious trouble.

But in the interests of peace in the community this column also agrees that efforts should be made to halt the practice bfore it goes too far and encounters some decided trouble of a city-wide sort.

In regard to the Literary Digest's now famous headline, which designated the Hickman Price wheat ranch in "Kansas", as set forth in this column last Friday, The Plainsman is in receipt of a prettily typed letter, on engraved stationery and signed by one of the various and sundry Digest editors. It reads:

* * *

"Your entertaining telegram on the geographical affiliations of that 'Kansas' wheat was referred to the Personal Glimpses Editor.

"He acknowledged that the joke was on him, and passed the slip on to the Spice of Life Editor.

"The Spice of Life Editor pronounced it a sure-enough slip, large and handsome, but explained that it lacked the special kick to qualify it for his weekly collection of boners, also that it called for too much explanation and didn't lend itself to a snappy headline.

"It's with regret, however, that he declined it with thanks, for he does like to advertise the Digest occasionally.

"Many thanks for drawing our attention so promptly to the mis-leading headline. Here's hoping that it has not damaged the Texas wheat crop. Sincerely yours,

"H. K. Chambers,
Editor, Personal Glimpses,
Spice of Life, etc.
The Literary Digest."

* * *

All of which is very nice but not at all re-assuring that the Literary Digest, which takes so much pleasure in re-printing the boneheads of others, will re-print its own error and give credit where credit is due on the part of Panhandle wheat.

"Well, that not as bad as it might be", the Lubbock lady returned philosophically. (Her husband had been dabbling in the stock market.) "The boy will likely bring more people to repentance through selling stock than he ever would as a minister!"

DAVID Bayliss Jeffrey, editor of the Panhandle-Plains Poultry and Dairy Journal, published here, is exhibiting a letter from one of his readers, received in response to a previous message. Originally the reader penned this question:

"How long should a hen remain on the eggs?", to which Editor Jeffrey replied: "Three weeks for chickens and four weeks for ducks".

Three weeks passed and the second letter arrived.

"Dear Editor", the woman wrote, "thank you for your advice. I kept the hen on the eggs for three weeks and there were no chickens hatched. Not caring for any ducks I took her off and sold the eggs."

Secretary Of Labor Doak Brands Critics Of Deportation Plan As Radicals, But Overlooks Wickersham Commission

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18—The most obvious practical effect of the Wickersham report on deportations is to make it harder for Secretary of Labor William Nuckles Doak to brand all critics of his immigration tactics as bolsheviks, anarchists and underminers of our glorious institutions.

DUTCHER

The members of the Wickersham commission are not bolsheviks, anarchists or underminers and yet they adopt conclusions that aliens are often treated unconstitutionally, tyrannically and oppressively.

Thus the report becomes a sort of a text book for those who are continually protesting some of the allegedly high-handed and hard-hearted acts of the immigration service. It says that the abuses are chargeable to the system rather than the Department of Labor and that inspectors shouldn't be expected to act satisfactorily as investigators, prosecutors and judges at the same time. Bpt it says enough other things so that Doak is in something of an indignant rage. Doak has been staging a well ballyhooed deportation drive and has maintained that only dangerous characters objected to any aspects of it. Both the commission and Reuben Oppenheimer, who wrote the conclusions it adopted, urged strict enforcement of deportation laws, but they also found some defects in the picture.

• • •

Extraordinary powers of the immigration officers are clearly revealed. An inspector apparently can grab anyone and rush him off as a suspected alien. He can jail suspects without a warrant, searching them and their effects. He can make wholesale raids anywhere, holding a thousand persons at a time until they prove their right to freedom. He can deny prisoners counsel at their preliminary examinations. Comparing methods of cross-examination with the Inquisition, Oppenheimer says: "It is doubtful if anywhere in the entire system of Anglo-Saxon jurisprudence are government officials given similar unfettered rights of private inquiry, or is the exercise of governmental power more often characterized by violations of fairness and decency."

Anonymous letters are one of the chief sources of information relied upon to apprehend aliens. They are often written by personal enemies and sometimes even by members of the suspect's own family who want to get rid of him. Many aliens chargined at their own apprehension, give the names of others who are subject to deportation, either when arrested or by writing back from the country where they are deported. Some immigration inspectors also use stool pigeons at strategic points, such as large factories employing many aliens.

Inspectors often ask many questions about the suspect's sex history when such matters have nothing to do with the case. In a large proportion of cases the nature and persistency of the questions can "only be described as inquisitorial" and "in such cases the only limits of the scope of the examination are the limits of the examiner's curiosity."

Aliens frequently marry Americans. About nine per cent of the Aliens deported in cases studied by Oppenheimer had an American husband, wife or child, so it is estimated that in 1930 more than 1500 Americans were affected by deportations. Records don't show in how many cases the alien couldn't take his family or her family along, but they frequently protested that it was impossible. Oppenheimer says: "What happens to the families left in America when the heads are deported does not appear."

Although Doak hates communists with patriotic ferver, Russia is the one country to which we can't deport people unless she is willing to accept them. There are hundreds of Russians against whom deportation warrants have been issued but who remain in the country as long as we have no diplomatic relations with the Soviet government. They are out on bail, detained at public expense or at large. Only in rare cases does Russia consent to receive a deportee.

Diet and Health

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets and six articles by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 5 cents in coin for each article, with a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1439 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Reducing and Obesity." "Feminine Hygiene." "Indigestion and Constipation." "The Care of the Hair and Skin." "Infant Feeding." and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." The articles are: "Normal Diet." "List of Books for Mothers." "Bed Wetting." "Diet of the Expectant Mother." "Ear Troubles" and "Tuberculosis."

MILK ONLY COMPLETE FOOD

WE START our consideration of various types of foods with dairy products, for that is how we all start naturally—with one dairy product—milk.

Dr. Clendening

Since milk is the only food prepared in the human or animal body as the sole food of a growing individual, it is a complete and perfect food. It is the only complete food.

Though many kinds of milk are used by human beings, American habits limit the term to cow's milk and that alone is meant below by the word "milk."

Yesterday we said that the four fundamental features of a healthy diet in the order of their importance were 1. sufficiency, 2. cleanliness, 3. balance and 4. bulk.

Milk stars on balance. It contains carbohydrate, protein, fat, minerals, water and vitamins. It probably has a number of other virtues that we do not know about yet.

It can be obtained clean. But one of its disadvantages as a food is that it is easily contaminated.

For adult consumption it falls down on sufficiency and bulk. If you have no other food than milk it takes a great deal to supply an adult's energy requirements. An ordinary glass of milk containing 8 ounces, or 250 c. c., has about 160 calories. Ten times this—ten glasses of milk a day, or a quart and a half would only give 1,600 calories. This is about half the energy value for a 150-pound adult.

The common saying that milk is constipating simply means that it does not have enough bulk or residue, to stimulate the intestinal muscles. Infants have a limited digestive capacity, so that it meets their needs perfectly. For the same reason milk and cream are the staple dietary articles of those with poor digestions, dyspepsia or stomach ulcer.

Cow's milk contains all the vitamins in varying amounts, depending on the grazing. It is more liable to be deficient in vitamins B and D than the others. As pasteurization destroys vitamin C, this is supplied infants in the form of orange juice. Vitamin D also is given infants in the form of cod liver oil, but as this is to prevent rickets which does not threaten adults, a grown person need not bother about vitamin D.

A glass of milk a day is probably one of the healthiest accessories to a grown person's diet.

Eggs, like milk, are deficient in bulk, but supply more energy by weight than milk. On account of their well-balanced content and easy digestibility they are ideal foods for convalescence from illness. By instinct man has learned to use them with other foods to make up a complete diet.

A medium-sized egg weighs 60 grams, contains 6 grams of protein and 6 grams of fat, little, if any, carbohydrate, and yields 80 to 85 calories. Eggs contain a great deal of iron, sulphur, phosphorus and good amounts of calcium. They are very rich in vitamin B, and as much vitamin A as any other food product. They also contain vitamin D.

As to cleanliness, eggs have almost never been incriminated as a cause of food poisoning. The shell protects them, when they go bad their sulphur compounds let the nose know.

Bandits robbed several American tourists recently in China. That seems to be going pretty far out of the way for that kind of experience.

IN NEW YORK with Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Maybe a particularly humid day has left me feeling crotchety! And my gout always bothers me more when rain is threatened.

Anyway, a couple of comments on this town of New York have started me looking around the house for a soap box. After a while, when it cools off, I'll look for a good corner and go into a nice old-fashioned harangue.

Meanwhile the heat being what it is, I'll agree to wrap the little old island of Manhattan up and sell it to the first Indian I meet for half what the white men paid. That's how much I think of it at the moment!

Still and notwithstanding, it seems only fair to tell the Indian what he's getting. Which is more than the Indians did for our forefathers!

• • •

Feeling this way, and holding no brief for most of the manifestations of the metropolis, I seldom fail to grow annoyed when I read such raps as these: "New Yorkism is more dangerous to America than Communism". "New York isn't in the United States." There is nothing basically American about New York. Manhattan is an island unto itself."

Bunk and triple bunk!

• • •

All of which is occasioned by an article in the current Scribner's Magazine written by my young friend Earl Sparling, who hails from Oklahoma, and still carries a part of his accent with him. Earl reiterates what we've said time after time, that New York is a stamping ground for the people from every section of this nation; then he continues: "Not only is New York American, but it is a mirror in which America sees herself as she is."

Those gentlemen who are so quick to challenge this huge, though muscle-bound metropolis; who call it all the names they can think of and blame it for everything that happens, seem to forget that it's lads and lassies from their own home towns who made it what it is today. Everything that's here that's worth talking about was introduced by the smart youngsters from all the points across country where trains stop. And that goes for everything from skyscrapers to flea powder!

The confusing and conglomerate nature of New York wares; its industries, its tastes, its whole makeup is due to that very diversification of interest on the part of the young men and young women who changed their addresses to New York City. It's like some incredibly huge county fair, to which each farmer brought something different! Of course that makes it complex, scrambled and slightly cock-eyed!

But it's American! Why even the Empire State building they shout so much about was put up by some lads from Kansas, who still refer to their Chicago mentor as "Uncle Dan!" The last name of "Uncle Dan" is Burnham in case you haven't been introduced to the gent who started the sky-scraper boom. And he headed west from good old New England, winding up in Chicago.

• • •

Sparling in his article, has made quite a collection of the out-of-towns who have put the Manhattan jigsaw pieces together. He cites, for instance that Gerhard Dahl the big boss of the subways, came from Ft. Howard Wis. And various other subway dignitaries have old home addresses such as Houghton, Mich., Stillwater, Minn., Hot Springs, Ark., and Little Rock.

Broadway's pet blues sinkers, chorines, comics and leads; the pretty maidens of the night clubs and the so-called "society dancers"; the fellows who run the big hotels, the bartenders in speakeasies and the book-makers out at the race tracks, Tex Guinan and Peggy Hopkins Joyce—every symptom and symbol of the big town—all of them are settlers from other states.

If New York isn't in the United States; isn't representative of the United States and a pretty good illustration of what United States can do—what the dickens is?

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

Now Scouty was a smart young lad. To Clowny he said, "If you had some nice fat worms to feed those birds, you'd be real safe and sound. They wouldn't bite you, I am sure. Come on, some worms we will secure." And so they looked around until a lot of worms were found.

Then Clowny crawled up on the birds and said a few real friendly words. At first the birds looked very cross. They ruffled up their wings. "Now wait," said Clowny. "You will see that you need not be scared of me." H held his worms up high and said, "How would you like these things?"

Both birds grew quite excited and stuck out their bills toward Clowny's hand. He fed them till the worms were gone. My, how they liked the treat. But neither one seemed satisfied, so Clowny very loudly cried, "Hey, Tinymites, run out and get them something more to eat."

That simple task was shortly done and then the whole bunch had some fun. They'd hold the worms up high and watch the birds snap very quick. "Well, we've made friends," wee Coppy said. And then he patted one bird's head. Another cried, "At grabbing worms those birds are surely slick."

The Travel Man had walked away and soon the whole bunch heard him say, "Come here, you lads. Here's something new, that you have never seen." The Tinymites rushed up and then were very much surprised again. "They're lizards", said wee Scouty. "And I've heard they're very mean."

"You bet they are. They often bite, but all of you will be all right, if you just let them both alone," replied the Travel Man. "Among the rocks here they are found. Just stand and watch them crawl around." A lizard crawled toward Clowny and away he promptly ran.

(The Tinymites have some more fun in the next story.)

THE PLAINSMAN GETS SOME MAIL

TECH STUDENT WRITES ON ORIGINAL METHOD OF CLEARING TREES FROM SIDEWALKS

Dear Plainsman: In your search for filler for your column you have neglected one very important 'kick' on the part of those who are grown up. I refer to the trees which not only line but block out sidewalks. It may have been good practice, while the coaching school was in session, to have trees over the sidewalk so that they had to charge on their hands and knees to go down the side walk, but as a steady diet, it is a bit boreing.

I have a roommate who is only five feet tall and he cannot walk to town standing up. And how much harder is it for those of us who are past the six foot mark! When you see a person walking down the street with their hands in front of their faces, don't be alarmed, it is only a Tech student trying to save his eyes. (And by the way, you might have better luck keeping the Tech students out of the street if you saw to it that there was a place for them to walk elsewhere.)

It has been suggested that the trees be pruned so as to give six feet of clearance on the side of the sidewalk next to the trees and then we who are taller than that can walk on the other side. As I understand it the sidewalks are public property and as such when so obstructed makes the guilty person liable to any suit for damages resulting from the aforesaid obstructions.

In case the property owners fail to act on this suggestion, it would be a comparatively easy matter to call out enough freshmen to insure the job being thoroughly done, but since we have so few Aggies, and the L. A. s and Engineers are such notoriously poor scientific tree pruners, I fear that it would take a good many years to grow enough trees back to make a second pruning party necessary.

Just a suggestion and not a threat—but the moron who turns his lawn sprinkler on where it waters sidewalk and street as well as a two by four piece of grass and then goes off and leaves it should be shot to death by pieces. And the sub-moron, the imbecile, and the blooming idiot (all good educational terms) who not only insists on watering the sidewalk but proceeds to display a rather profane vocabulary when the poor student walks on his flower bed planted in the parkway—well, shooting is too good.

And in conclusion—even if you don't have to use the sidewalks yourself—even if you have nursed that scrub little tree from puppyhood, even if you feel that both of those blades of grass between the sidewalk and the street need thousands of gallons of water—join the crusade for clear dry sidewalks. Let's give the poor pedestrian a chance.

Sincerely, Letus Havit.

The monarchs of the Orient knew the greatest luxuries in their time. Their "rickshaws"—richly cushioned, upholstered in finest silk, and manned by sturdy slaves — were fashioned for restful travel. In them the Oriental prince traveled comfortably, safely and leisurely.

Today, EVERY man is a prince. In a modern, up-to-date automobile he too travels in comfort, safety, and leisure, yet propelled by a wealth of power and at a speed never dreamed of by ancient Kings.

There is a used car in today's classified ads—smart, smooth running, up-to-date—that will bring you dependable performance, at a price you can afford.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 19 (AP) — The cotton market opened easier today owing to poor Liverpool cables. First trades showed losses of 14 points with October down to 6.82 and December to 7.02. The market showed very little animation and near the end of the first hour recovered 7 to 8 points of the early decline on shorts covering, the volume of trading was small.

Following the early decline the market gradually improved on buying based on fears that one of the tropical storms now in far southern waters might reach the cotton belt. A steadier stock market also encouraged buying. October advanced to 6.92 and December to 7.12, up 9 to 10 points from the early lows.

Later in the morning, following a fresh storm warning to the effect that neither of the storms seemed likely to reach the cotton belt, the market gradually eased off on selling by recent buyers, losing six to seven points of the previous advance.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP)—Cotton opened barely steady today, 12 to 14 points lower under selling which was evidently influenced by further declines in Liverpool.

October contracts sold off 5 to 6.84 and March to 7.34, or 13 to 15 points net lower and within 8 to 14 points of the low prices touched on the break early last week. Offerings were well enough taken to prevent a full response to the weakness abroad, however, and the market steadied up 5 or 6 points from the lowest on trade buying and covering by the end of the first half hour. There were reports of a little southern selling in the late months during the early trading, but the pressure generally was not aggressive.

Liverpool cables reported hedging combined with London, continental and Bombay liquidation in that market but said there was a better inquiry for cotton goods from the British home trade and the continent.

The market was quiet later in the morning but held generally steady with offerings light and prices showing rallies of about 6 to 8 points from the earlier low levels. Liverpool was considered one of the most active sellers here on the differences, but after the close of the English market, the offerings from that source tapered off and prices steadied on a moderate demand. At midday, October was holding around 6.90 and March 7.42, or 5 to 9 points net lower.

NEW ORLEANS OPEN

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 18 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady. Oct. 6.82; Dec. 7.09; Jan. 7.13-bid; March 7.30-bid; May 7.48-bid; July 7.65-bid.

NEW YORK OPEN

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady. Oct. 6.84; Dec. 7.06; Jan. 7.15; March 7.34; May 7.51; July 7.68.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (AP)—Influenced by downturns in Liverpool wheat quotations, grain prices here averaged lower early today. Bearish reports on the new corn crop, indicating that the condition was now about equal to a ten year average, were also a factor.

Opening unchanged to 3-8 cents off, wheat later held near the initial limits. Corn started unchanged to 5-8 decline and afterward sagged all around.

Forty Inspectors Discharged Monday

FORT WORTH, Aug. 18 (AP) — Forty inspectors were discharged at the session of the state livestock sanitary commission here Monday.

The action was necessitated because the appropriation for the new fiscal year is $50,000 less than the commission had based its plans upon Judge J. A. Whitten, Eldorado, chairman, declared. Appropriation of $325,000 had been expected but the amount allotted by the legislature was $275,000.

About 220 local inspectors will remain in the employe of the commission. No district or county supervisors were released.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 18 (AP)—Estelle Taylor, actress wife of Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight boxing champion, filed a divorce complaint today against Dempsey who filed a similar suit in Reno yesterday. She made general charges of cruelty.

Thirty South African farmers are making a two-month inspection tour of Grat Britain.

GIRLS BURNED BEFORE DEAD

BOTH VICTIMS WERE ATTACKED, REPORT OF CORONER SAYS

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Aug. 18 (AP) —While authorities continued to check the story of Catherine Killer, friend of Fred Smith, one of the three men who killed and burned two young couples near here last Tuesday, a coroner's report was presented, showing that the two girl victims had been burned before death and that each had been criminally attacked.

Dr. Edwin C. Ganzhorn, the coroner, said an autopsy indicated the slayers, Smith, Frank Oliver, and David Blackstone, negro, placed the girls in the car and sprayed gasoline over their bodies before death had ensued from blows on the head.

The finding showed that each of the girls, Anna May Harrison and Vivian Gold, both of Cleveland, had suffered skull fractures. The slayers testified at their trial Thursday night that they shot all four—the two girls and Harry Lore and Thomas Wheatley and struck them on the heads with rocks before burning the bodies.

The last rites began at 6 p. m. Burial was in a Lorenzo cemetery by Rix Funeral home of Lubbock. A local Baptist minister officiated. The physician's eight children and his widow were present.

Doctor Laird was widely known in West Texas. He was a member of the Baptist church. Bright's disease caused death, which occurred about a week after he was received at the hospital.

Consolidation Of Schools Proposed

SNYDER, Aug. 18—(Special)—A proposal to consolidate the Bell school and the Hermleigh independent school district will be voted on the second time September 2, the Scurry county board of education having called another election.

The Hermleigh school ranks next to Snyder in size and scholastic standing in Scurry county, the high school having full affiliation with the state department of education.

Sentiment for the consolidation has been growing stronger recently. Several months ago an election was held on the propcsition but it was defeated by a small majority.

Scooter Is Some Kind Of A Champ

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (AP)—As a scooter, Nicholas Ispas, 9, of Indiana Harbor, Ind., is some kind of a champion.

He left home yesterday morning on his scooter and twelve hours later arrived in Chicago, having made the 20 miles on a gallon of water, furnished through the courtesy of various oil filling stations along the route.

The police held him for his parents. He stuck to his story—that he lost his way in Indiana Harbor when his mother sent him to the barn for an armload of wood and kept right on scooting until he got to Chicago.

SHUTDOWN

Wolters said. "It is very gratifying to see such patriots and their touching concern.

"I know something about politics and you can bet your life some people are looking to the July election primaries more than they are worrying about the working men."

Gen. Wolters said he had received reports that labor agitators with communistic affiliations were trying to stir up dissention among the oil workers.

"Don't let anybody think there is cause for alarm over these 'red' agitators," he said. "If they are actually at work, they are simply amusing and we are not cocking any machine guns."

Gen. Wolters said no specific instances of seditious attempts had been reported. The information he received was more in the nature of unconfirmed rumor than anything else, he said.

Good Feeling Shown

To date there has been a total absence of dissention between the national guardsmen and residents of the oil field. Apparent good feeling was manifested at all contact points.

Gen. Wolters said he was arranging for the national guard band, a 23-piece organization, to give concerts in oil towns during the martial law period.

OKLAHOMA COMPANY POSTS HIKED PRICE

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 18 (AP)—The Morgan Petroleum company today anounced a price of 77 cents a barrel for crude oil from the Oklahoma City field, curbed under a martial law shutdown.

Fred Morgan, president, said his firm and a subsidiary, the York Refining Co., would buy oil for its plant here at that price. The plant has a 3,000 barrel daily capacity.

"We are prepared to buy from our neighbors as well as take our own oil," Margan said. "And we will take it ratably."

The purchase is contingent on a lifting of the shutdown to permit wells to flow, as Morgan said storage in the field is insufficient to run the refinery for long.

The company has three wells in the field with a potential production of 120,000 barrels.

PANHANDLE OPERATORS ARE SITTING TIGHT

BORGER, Aug. 18 (AP)—Oil operators in the Panhandle field were sitting tight today in expectation on sharp increases in crude oil prices as a result of the shutdown in East Texas.

Present production in the Panhandle area, which is around 50,000 barrels daily, seemed due to continue unchanged. Stored oil was to be used if needed.

Hutchinson county crude was bringing 28 cents a barrel and Gray county 37 cents.

Refinery officials did not anticipate any rush to the Panhandle for crude oil, as mid-continent plants are not equipped to refine crude oil of the type produced in the Panhandle. Considerably more chemical treating is necessary to refine Panhandle crude than that from certain other fields.

One refiner said Oklahoma would not turn to the Panhandle field for crude oil because companies there already have huge supplies of oil that cost from $2.50 to $4 a barrel.

ADDS MORE POWER

ROME, Aug. 18 (AP)—Premier Mussolini today took another department of the Italian government into his own hands, announcing that hereafter the council of state, which examines bills preliminary to their submission to the parliament, would be directly dependent upon him.

BOTH JACK AND ESTELLE RESORT TO DIVORCE COURT TO END MARITAL ROW

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 18 (AP)—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight boxing champion, and his actress wife, Estelle Taylor, have resorted to the divorce courts after weeks of sparring by their legal representatives over a property settlement.

Dmpsey filed suit yesterday in Reno, Nevada, charging mental cruelty. Miss Taylor instructed her attorneys to file here, also charging cruelty.

Details Not Given

With Nevada divorce laws not requiring details of charges on which divorces are sought, particulars of Dempsey's petition were not available. In Miss Taylor's complaint, drawn up last night and signed by her, she made general charges of cruelty and referred to the expensive automobile which she recently said was taken from her chauffeur by Joe Dempsey, brother of Jack, who gave her the car as a present.

The complaint will charge that Demsey for a long time prior to the date of separation had been guilty of extreme cruelty in his conduct toward the plaintiff in that he has wrongfully inflicted upon plaintiff grievous mental pain and suffering without justification or excuse."

Miss Taylor and Dempsey were married at San Diego, Feb. 7, 1928. The date of separation was given as March 11, 1931.

"It was such a little thing that I insisted upon," she said. "A property agreement had been reached and it suited Jack. My great devotion to him was what caused me to ask so little. He is always saying he is broke and I wanted to be as easy as possible on him.

"I asked only $40,000, not a penny more. Out of that amount I hoped to take care of a $12,500 mortgage on my home, to complete payments on my automobile and to pay attorney fees. The few thousand dollars that would be left would keep up the house until I could sell it.

"Jack agreed to that, but when my attorney, Joseph Scott, insisted that Jack guarantee his promise to pay the monthly installments by putting up its equivalent in collateral, a trust deed in his Barbara corporation, Jack blew up and all our negotiations ended.

"Now I can only repeat that as long as there is going to be a divorce in this family, I am going to be the one to get it."

Robert E. Burns, attorney for Dempsey, said whatever action Miss Taylor took in California would not prevent Dempsey from going through with his suit.

CHINESE SEEK U. S. WHEAT

FARM BOARD GRAIN ON LIBERAL TERMS IS ASKED AS AID

SHANGHAI, Aug. 18 (AP)—The Chinese government recently inquired through diplomatic channels whether the American farm board would be willing to sell on liberal terms "a substantial quantity of wheat for the relief of millions of flood sufferers in the Yangtse valley.

Authoritative quarters in Shanghai considered an important step had been taken toward linking the American farmer's surplus wheat burden with the hunger of millions of Chinese peasants and promising at least partial alleviation for both.

Negotiations Start

The Associated Press learned that the national flood relief commission already is negotiating for cargo space to bring American wheat to China and hoping that the farm board's terms will permit large purchases.

John Earl Baker, American who has been associated with relief projects in China for years, heads the flood relief commission's survey party which has arranged to fly from her to Hankow tomorrow to estimate what will be needed immediately to save approximately 500,000 destitute persons in the tri cities of Hankow, Wuchang and Hanyang.

Death by starvation, epidemics, exposure and drowning threaten hundreds of thousands in that area.

Baker said the first use of American wheat, if obtained, would be to feed freely and directly the refugees in such centers of misery as Hankow. Later, he said, wheat would be distributed as wages for labor in the repairing of dykes, river improvements and land rehabilitation.

Consider Destruction

"Reports that it recently was seriously proposed to destroy one-third of America's cotton crop in order to restore market equilibrium gives rise to the conjecture as to whether a similar effort to again balance the wheat market might also be contemplated," Baker said.

"While millions of citizens of a friendly nation are facing starvation it is unthinkable that public opinion would permit such food to be actually destroyed."

INQUIRY MADE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—The Chinese government laid before the American government an informal inquiry to ascertain the quantity of wheat available on credit terms for flood stricken areas in China.

Terms under which the board would be willing to dispose of some of its 200,000,000 bushels of wheat in that country were outlined by Stone in informal talks at the Chinese embassy here before the resignation of Minister Wu. Nothing came from those discussions, however.

The board has expressed itself as ready to deal with an responsible government under acceptablee credit arrangements. It recently rejected a German offer to buy cotton. A reported second offer from that country from the purchase of wheat has so far failed to materialize.

AT STATIONARY LEVEL

HANKOW, Hupeh Province, China, Aug. 18 (AP)—After rising steadily for the past week, the waters of the Yangtse river apparently have reached a stationary level at a mark of 53 feet, just two feet seven inches above the level of the river in the floods of 1870, the most disastrous flood on record until now.

Upriver points reported the waters were falling, giving rise to hope the crest had at last been reached.

This was small comfort, however, for Hankow's refugee hordes, most of whom were forced to flee from their last points of safety, the railway embankments. The flood waters finally topped even these, resulting in terrible scenes of panic, abject misery and the further loss of scores of lives.

Chinese reports asserted the death toll among the refugees was mounting hourly as cholera, typhoid, starvation and exposure to the merciless midsummer sun claim their victims.

Other scores and possibly hundreds of deaths in recent days have resulted in the native city of Hankow from the collapse of houses, hurling their helpless and apathetic denizens into the flood.

SCHOLARS SURVEY DIALECTS THAT MAKE UP THE AMERICAN LANGUAGE

BY F. B. COLTON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—Beginning in New England, home of the traditional Yankee twang, scholars have launched a nation-wide survey of the dialects that make up the American language.

Investigators will ask 1,000 questions of 1,000 different persons in each section of the country to record the wide variations in what constitutes plain English in the United States, it was announced today by the American council of learned societies, sponsoring the survey. Results of the investigation will be compiled in a "linguistic atlas of the United States."

Dr. Hans Kurath of the Ohio State university is in charge of the survey.

"People in every stratum of society will be visited so that words familiarly used by the farmer, old settler, social leader, laborer, banker, fisherman, housekeeper, and business man may be recorded, giving a complete cross section of their accustomed vocabularies," Dr. Kurath explained.

"It has taken more than two years of preparatory work to determine what questions should comprise the questionnaire," he continued. "The first part covers the common words used in daily life to describe such things as the home, food, clothing, furniture, dishes, farm implements and water. Other parts deal with special or set phrases and expressions, the use of singular and plural verbs, and peculiarities of sentence structure.

"Only through a careful study of our dialects will it be possible to determine the definite linguistic reasons for the many names for a single object. In the United States it is common for the same object to have different names in different localities. It is also true that a certain name may have a quite different meaning, according to the place in which it is used."

TRIAL OF NEGRO IS DELAYED HERE

Trial of Sullivan Carroll, a negro, for disturbing the peace and in peace bond proceedings before Justice of the Peace H. K. Porter this morning was delayed until 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. Max Coleman, defense attorney, asked additional time to summon witnesses.

The negro also faces a charge of theft under $50 in county court.

Carroll was arrested Sunday morning after a complaint had been signed against him Saturday by his divorced wife. The woman told officers that Carroll cursed her while she was sitting in an automobile in the street in front of her home and threatened to take her life. She also charged that her former husband entered her living quarters and stole one of her dresses.

The accused negro yesterday told officers that he took the dress in lieu of some money he had left with his former wedded companion for safe keeping. She would not produce the money when he requested, so he took the clothing, the man said.

He denied threatening to kill the woman. He said they had been on friendly terms since the wife obtained her divorce.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 18. (AP)—A young woman recovering from self-administered poison was tentatively identified by police today as Inez Norton, showgirl friend of the slain New York gambler, Arnold Rothstein.

The young woman said she was Ines Mitchell and gave a fictitious address.

Registration of an expensive automobile in her possession was in the name of Ines Norton. She told police she was without funds and out of work.

MINER FACING MURDER CASE

TRIAL SCHEDULED TO START WEDNESDAY IN KENTUCKY

HARLAN, Ky., Aug. 18 (AP)—Plans for proceeding Wednesday with the trial of William M. Burnett, miner charged with having fatally shot Deputy Sheriff Jesse Pace during a Harlan county labor dispute, and for transferring at least 14 Evarts murder cases to some other county were announced by Commonwealth Attorney W. A. Brock.

Pace was killed shortly before the clash at Evarts in which four men were slain and for which 30 were indicted. Notice has been served on 14 defendants in the Evarts case that they would be tried in some other county not adjoining Harlan county, Brock said a statute made a change of venue mandatory.

Circuit Judge D. C. Jones instructed the grand jury to investigate criminal syndicalism charges first.

Touching on conditions in the Harlan county coal fields where men have been on strike since last February, Judge Jones denounced communism and warned those summoned for grand jury and petit jury service to advise him if they have any communistic sympathy.

Acreage Cut Held As Price Solution

EL PASO, Aug. 18 (AP)—W. R. Squires, a director of the federal stabilization corporation and of the American Cotton Cooperative association, said here today the only solution for low cotton prices lay in reduction of acreage by at least 25 per cent and increased consumption.

"I want to disclaim any connection with the suggestion of the federal farm board that farmers destroy one-third of their present crops," he said. "We did not know anything about it until the release was shown us. Directors of the American Cotton Cooperative association are opposed to it. Of course the plan wouldn't work."

Squires is general manager of the Southwestern Irrigated Cotton Growers association.

"WHOOPEE", GIANT TERRAPIN THOUGHT HUNDREDS OF YEARS OLD, IN LUBBOCK

A giant terrapin, weighing 175 pounds and estimated to be from 400 to 1,000 years old, is in Lubbock with its owner, C. E. Miller of Shawnee, Okla. The big land-turtle is named Whoopee.

T. e huge terrapin was found in 1929 northeast of Eagle Pass, Maverick county. He is about 38 inches long and 36 inches across. His shell is one piece, not composed of two sections as are the smaller terrapins and turtles found generally.

Estimates Varied

"Professor R. O. Whittenton, geologist, of Oklahoma A. & M. college at Stillwater, Okla., estimates 'Whoopee' to be 438 years old," Mr. Miller said. "Up here at Canyon, Professor Baker, the geologist, says he is much older than that. At Ada, Okla., Teachers college, one of the professors says he is a thousand years old."

The terrapin has eight teeth, four upper and four lower molars. Mr. Miller said he had him a year before he found Whoopee had teeth and it was only when he saw the animal eating an apple that he noticed the teeth way back in the mouth. He has feet instead of flippers as many turtles have. These have four feet on the front flippers and five on the back flippers.

While at Blanco canyon last week Bob Smith, son of "Uncle Hank" Smith, told Mr. Miller that in 1898 he and some others found the shell of a terrapin just like this one that was four and a half feet across the back.

Mr. Miller plans to go to the Lovington rodeo this week and also one or two other shows. He expects to return to Lubbock later in the fall.

LUBBOCK WOMAN IS HELD INSANE

A district court jury Monday found Mrs. Bertie Brooks, 36, insane. Mrs. Brooks had been sentenced to a year in the state penitentiary for violating liquor laws after conviction in district court here last January 22.

Testimony showed that the woman had become violently insane since her conviction in district court, officers said. It has been necessary on several occasions to place her in a strait-jacket to keep her from injuring herself, it was said.

Since the woman was convicted of a felony in district court it was necessary to hold the lunacy hearing there instead of county court, where most lunacy cases are tried, according to authorities.

For the first time since the school has been organized, the eleventh grade will be taught at Monroe this year. Teachers of the Monroe school are: Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Snodgrass, Miss Mildred Hinds, Miss Oletha Singley, Miss Louise Younger and H. G. Preston.

Space was reserved in the agriculture building at the Panhandle-South Plains fairgrounds here for the Lamb county exhibit at this years exposition, J. W. Hale, secretary of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, made the reservation.

"We mean to take first place with the Lamb county exhibit," he wrote officials of the fair association. "Crops in the county are in good condition and we should have little trouble in finding prize winning farm products."

"We feel sure this will be the best fair west of Dallas," he said.

PROTEST HIGH COTTON RATE

INCREASED FREIGHT RATES TAKEN UP AT MEET HERE

Increased freight rates on cotton were to be discussed by representatives of South Plains chambers of commerce at chamber of commerce offices here this afternoon. The new rates, already in effect, are from two to six and a half cents higher a hundred pounds for carrying cotton from South Plains to gulf points.

The new rates will penalize the cotton producers of the South Plains section more than $100,000 in additional freight rates this year, according to estimates.

Towns Affected

Every town on the Santa Fe Railway north of Post will be affected by the revision of the rates.

Plainview and Amarillo's rates have been increased six and a half cents per hundred. Brownfield, Lamesa, Littlefield and Crosbyton will be forced to pay four and a half cents per hundred more and Lubbock and Floydada will be raised a cent and a half, officials state.

Others Are Reduced

While the South Plains is taking a raise in rates, Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio and other cotton shipping points have had their rates reduced by the new order. Dallas and San Antonio being reduced six cents per pound and Fort Worth getting a seven cent reduction, it has been further shown.

The rate went into effect June 18. The meeting today was called by the Lubbock chamber to discuss action to attempt to have the rates revised.
