HUGE STEEL CONE TAMES MARY SUDIK GUSHER

John W. Moore Dies Of Bullet Wound 24 Hours After Shooting Wife To Death

Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

A couple out in Los Angeles have just been married submerged in the water of a swimming pool. This is the first "all wet" marriage ceremony reported. We have heard of airplane, horseback, automobile, derrick, lion's cage, show window, theater and other kinds of marriage ceremonies, but this is the first time any of us ever read of an under-water ceremony.

Whether we regard the marriage ceremony as a sacrament or not, most of us believe that it ought to be performed with some dignity and solemnity, and it violates our sense of good taste, at least, to see it performed as a freak show. If we make a jest of the ceremony, what can we expect of the marriage?

There are a great many folks who think of a marriage ceremony only as a civil contract. Such folks are usually people of some conviction and when they come to be married do so with a simple ceremony that is in keeping with the dignity of the event. Those who make a jest of it surely can have little conception of the meaning of the vows that are spoken.

The chairman of the Democratic national committee has been a witness before the senate committee conducting a hearing on prohibition. The Democratic chairman was questioned by a Republican member of the committee at whose request he was subpoenaed to appear before it. The examination of the Democratic chairman brought out the fact that he had made substantial contributions to the Association Against Prohibition but did not reveal that he had been hired as a lobbyist or that he had used lobby contributions to play the stock market or that he had misused his position in any way.

The result of the examination has been rather to enhance the prestige of the Association Against Prohibition and to confirm an already good opinion on the part of the public of Mr. Raskob for his frankness and honesty.

If us Democrats can't win elections, we can, at least, be honest. Maybe that's why we can't win.

Contracts for oiling 200 miles of graveled highways in Oklahoma will be awarded within the next few weeks. One of the stretches for which an oiling contract will be awarded is on U. S. highway 277 between Chickasha and Oklahoma City. This is on the route between Oklahoma City and Wichita Falls. This is good news to Wichitans who drive to Oklahoma City.

The common house fly can stay on the wing only 18 minutes, according to the report of a test printed in Modern Mechanics. The test was made at Pensacola, Fla., by a naval aviation lieutenant. In a small room the fly was released and not permitted to alight. It was kept on the move at all times. At first it flew about for five minutes before trying to settle down. It made its second attempt to alight at the end of three minutes, and then sought to rest every two minutes or so. Finally it sought to rest every few seconds until at the end of 18¼ seconds it could not be chased away. It was so exhausted that the lieutenant was able to pick it up with his fingers.

Beyond explaining why a fly must light on a bald head so often Talker can see no significance in this discovery.

Maybe Captain Hawks is being towed across the country to show what to do when your airplane runs out of gas.

Charles H. Ruth, Oklahoma City attorney who, it is remembered, some of us brought here years ago to make a speech against the commission form of city government, is contesting the right of Oklahoma City to issue $450,000 in airport bonds. The supreme court of Oklahoma in a majority opinion has denied the injunction. Ruth has until April 16 to file a petition for a rehearing.

There is difference of opinion as to the right of a city to issue bonds for an airport, although many cities have done so and have sold their bonds to buyers who must have had the advice of able lawyers that the bonds were valid. It's a question that the courts of every state will soon be called upon to pass.

DEATH CLAIMS SECOND VICTIM FRIDAY NIGHT

Husband Dies at Hospital Without Regaining Consciousness

INVESTIGATION ENDS

Body of Mrs. Moore to Be Sent to Tipton, Okla., For Burial

John W. Moore, 31, lost a 24-hour battle for his life at 7:50 Friday evening when he succumbed to a bullet wound through the head, inflicted when he turned his gun on himself after killing his wife as the two stood together near the railroad tracks at Seventh and Ohio streets Thursday night.

Mrs. Eunice A. Moore, about 30, died at once after her estranged husband had fired three shots into her body.

Couple Separated

The shooting followed a marital dispute observed by witnesses as the pair moved from the Holt hotel two blocks down Ohio street, Mrs. Moore apparently unwilling to accompany her husband. It was immediately after the young woman had been heard to express her fears of going further that the first shot was fired, spectators told investigating officials.

Moore pressed the gun against his own temple and fired within an instant after his wife had crumpled to the earth. He was rushed to the Wichita General hospital where physicians said he had no chance of recovery. He did not regain consciousness through the 24-hour struggle that ended in death Friday evening.

Officers were told that the two had been separated since last November and that a divorce suit was brought by Mrs. Moore on March 21 of this year. The young woman had been making her home with her mother, Mrs. S. A. Wells, 406 Lee street, since the separation. The divorce petition brought the formal charge of cruelty.

Former Deputy

Mr. Moore, formerly a deputy sheriff here, has lived in Wichita Falls the greater part of his life. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Moore, 1603 Eleventh street; four children, Robert E., Martell, Catherine and Dorothy May; six brothers and three sisters. The brothers, all of whom live in Wichita Falls, are Orville, Paul, Fulton, Clarence, Glenn and Roy Moore. The sisters are Miss Joy Moore of Wichita Falls; Mrs. Dollie May Doss of Shawnee, Okla., and Mrs. J. K. Coleman of Scotland, Texas.

Services Today

Funeral services will be held from the Merkie Undertaking company chapel at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Rev. O. L. Powers will officiate. Burial will be in the Burkburnett cemetery. The pallbearers include J. W. Ferguson, Merle Waggoner, Fred Ebner, S. B. Daniels, Jim King, Vic King, Leon Deaton and R. H. Hollinger.

Final arrangements for the funeral of Mrs. Moore are being postponed pending the arrival of her brothers from San Antonio, expected Saturday morning. The body will probably be taken to Tipton, Okla., for burial, according to information at the Hines mortuary.

Clerks Name Heads In Graham Meet

Special to The Record News.

GRAHAM, Texas, April 4.—Miss Elizabeth Hall, Wichita county clerk for the past several years, was named president of the North Texas auxiliary to the state association of county and district clerks in a joint business session which closed a two-day convention at Graham Friday.

W. H. McDonald, district clerk at Eastland, was elected vice president and Miss Ima McKown, county clerk of Ballinger, was made secretary-treasurer. The auxiliary chose Ballinger for its next convention city.

The last day's session was marked by an open forum on the merits of the fee bill and other problems confronting the two groups of officals. The convention guests were entertained at luncheon by the Graham Rotary club.

ALBION, Mich., April 4. (AP)—The Albion State bank was held up by six bandits today and robbed of $25,000.

Refiners Add $75,000 To Building

Applications for building permits reported by the city engineer's office Friday included that of the American Refining properties covering repairs and overhauling on the cracking plant located on the Iowa Park road, to the value of $75,000.

Work on the alterations and improvements in the cracking system are now under way, it was said, and will be completed in about 10 days.

Other permits covered the alteration of a residence property at 1909 Speedway belonging to Frank Cullum, amounting to $1,500, and remodeling of the house of A. Rabinowitz, 1408 Fifteenth street, at a cost of $500. Each of these jobs will be completed within 30 days, it was indicated.

COURT DELAYS LOVE HEARING

Candidate Left in Doubt as To Place on Ticket

AUSTIN, April 4. (AP)—The supreme court today postponed submission of the case of Senator Thomas B. Love of Dallas, seeking a mandamus to force the state Democratic executive committee to place his name on the primary ballots as a candidate for governor, until April 16. It had been set for Wednesday.

In announcing the postponement, Fred T. Connerly, chief clerk, said the court ordered the change for reasons best known to itself.

The executive committee last January adopted a resolution barring as candidates persons who bolted the Democratic presidential nominees, and Senator Love, in his application for a place on the ballot, said he had not supported Democratic presidenital lectors but had voted for Republican electors. He declared he had supported the Democratic ticket otherwise.

WICHITA OUSTER ALSO RESET FOR APRIL 16

The supreme court hearing on the test suit brought by J. W. Nicholson, attacking the power of the county Democratic executive committee to oust its members for bolting the ticket, has been postponed from April 9 until April 16, according to a telegram from the clerk of the court received here Friday by F. W. Fischer, attorney for the committee.

The case originated when the places of Nicholson and 12 other Hoovercrats were declared vacant by the Wichita county committee two years ago. It has been appealed through the court of civil appeals and was recently withdrawn from the consideration of the commission of appeals at Austin.

Lioness Caught After Terrorizing Citizens

BURBANK, Calif., April 4. (UP)—After a chase through the brush in the Malibu hills and a desperate fight with dogs, a young lioness which had terrorized surrounding communities was shot and killed today by Cliff Snyder, big game hunter.

The lioness, which escaped from the Gobel lion farm near Thousand Oaks, weighed 250 pounds, measured seven feet from head to tail and was valued at $5,000.

Banker Slashes Throat With Butcher Knife

CHICAGO, April 4. (UP)—Hugh H. Saxon, second vice president of the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company committed suicide at his home in Wilmette by slashing his throat with a butcher knife. The body, clad in night clothing, was found in the pantry today by Mrs. Rose Bourdoeur, Saxon's mother-in-law. Saxon was said to have been worrying over ill health.

GARDNER PAID HIGH HONOR IN STAG BANQUET

Sportsmen, Writers and Friends of Wichitan Pay Tribute

MANY TELEGRAMS

Judge Landis Wires Regrets At His Inability to Attend Dinner

By W. P. HOOD
The Record News Staff

One hundred and fifty baseball fans, sportsmen, Texas sports writers and friends of J. Alvin Gardner gathered Friday night at the Wichita club to pay in sportsman style a tribute to him and his recent election to the presidency of the Texas league.

The banquet was planned and arranged through the sports and reception committee of the chamber of Commerce. Horrace Robbins chairman of the committee, acted as master of ceremonies.

The dinner, entirely a stag affair, was a great departure from the usual testimonial banquet. The spirit of unaffected sincerity and untouched love of men for a true sportsman and gentleman, which became evident even before the dinner began, brought out in the talks the unvarnished truth and revealed the esteem with which men from all parts of the state regard J. Alvin Gardner.

Scores of Telegrams

Chief among scores of telegrams and messages sent in congratulation to Mr. Gardner was that of Kenesaw Mountain Landis, commissioner of baseball for the United States, who expressed his regret at being unable to attend the banquet and paid tribute to the new Texas league president. His telegram follows:

"It is my bad luck that your organization chooses my busiest time to give your dinner in honor of Alvin Gardner. Inasmuch as there isn't a chance for me to get there,

SENATE VOTES SHOALS BILL

Long Debated Measure Now Goes to House

WASHINGTON, April 4. (AP)—Once more the senate today voted to turn over the government's $150,000,000 nitrate and power project at Muscle Shoals, Alabama, to a government controlled corporation for experimentation in fertilizer production.

It was the second time in the 10-year controversy over this gigantic war-time property that the resolution of Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, for government operation has been approved. The vote was 45 to 23, with the Republican regulars in opposition.

Two attempts to modify were rejected. The measure was sent to the house in practically the same form as adopted by congress two years ago. President Coolidge pocket vetoed it then.

Doubt covered the future of the Norris resolution in the house. Leaders there have given no assurance for its consideration. Likewise there is some uncertainty at the capitol over the attitude of President Hoover toward the proposal. It was opposed by administration leaders in the senate.

Veteran Near Death After Poison Dose

EL PASO, Texas, April 4. (UP)—Dr. Aubrey C. Curtis, 33, a member of the famous Princess Pat regiment during the world war, was in a serious condition here tonight after an attempt to take his life by poison.

Police found Doctor Curtis unconscious in a parked automobile last night. They took him to City hospital, where he was given first aid treatment. A few hours later he escaped from the hospital.

WELLINGTON, Kan., April 4. (AP)—Dr. C. C. Kessler, Wichita, was free today on $3,000 bond for preliminary hearing here April 9 on charges of first-degree manslaughter in connection with an alleged criminal operation resulting in the death of Rena Armstrong, 17-year old Wellington High school girl.

ESTIMATES FOR U. S. BUILDING SLATED SOON

Justice Department Seeks Federal Court Data of Official Here

GOOD OMEN IS SEEN

Request Believed to Indicate Certainty of Victory in Long Fight

Estimates for the new federal building to be erected in Wichita Falls will be taken up by the budget bureau at Washington within the next few days, according to a letter received here Friday by George W. Parker, clerk of the United States district court, from Charles F. Sisson, assistant attorney general at Washington.

The message from the department of justice requested Mr. Parker to furnish records of the federal district court here in order that the department might be in a position to furnish the bureau and the appropriations committee with all information that will probably be requested.

Encouraging News

The request for information on the needs of the department of justice here was viewed Friday night as one of the most encouraging developments in Wichita Falls' long fight for a federal building. It was the first definite action on the local project since President Hoover signed the Keyes-Elliott public building bill, under which the federal structure will be erected.

In reply to the request for records of the number of cases disposed of at Wichita Falls during the past three years and the number of days the court was in session during that time, Mr. Parker immediately forwarded his statement of information.

Cases Enumerated

His letter pointed out that 36 law cases were disposed of in 1927, 48 in 1928 and 51 in 1929; 11 equity cases were disposed of in 1927, 14 in 1928 and eight in 1929; 54 bankruptcy cases were disposed of in 1927, 46 in 1928 and 91 in 1929; and 165 criminal cases were disposed of in 1927, 291 in 1928 and 282 in 1929. The totals showed 266 cases in 1927, 291 in 1928 and 282 in 1929. The federal district court was in session 40 days during 1927, 29 days during the next year and 30 days last year, his letter indicated.

The purpose of the request from the department of justice, according to Miss Jessie Cowan, deputy U. S. district court clerk, is to provide figures on the amount of the court's activities and growth on which the bureau may base its estimate for cost of the new federal building, which will house a new federal court room in addition to offices for the various court officials.

The volume of business in federal court here for the past three years compares favorably with that of the courts in other cities the size of Wichita Falls, Mr. Parker said, and it is probable that the original estimate of $500,000 for the federal building here will be increased by the appropriations committees after consideration of the records.

Captain Hawks At Columbus Airport

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 4. (US)—Capt. Frank Hawks, transcontinental glider aspirant, landed here tonight at 6:31 on another leg of his cross-country journey.

Hawks' journey from Terre Haute, Ind., was marred by the breaking of a cable between the glider and tow plane about four miles east of that city. He left Terre Haute at 10:54 a. m. and after temporarily repairing his broken cable continued on to Indianapolis where further repairs were made.

Texas Farmers Warned To Unite on Marketing

FORT WORTH, April 4. (AP)—"My visit to Texas is to warn the farmers of the state to get together on cooperative marketing if they want any assistance from the federal farm board," W. F. Schilling, dairy products representative on the federal farm board, declared today at a meeting of the chamber of commerce of representative bankers, farmers and dairymen. He is the first of the five members of the federal farm board to address such a meeting in Fort Worth.

Jury Frees Logsdon In Bribe Case

FORT WORTH, April 4. (AP)—W. R. Logsdon, former prohibition officer, was acquitted of bribery charges in a jury verdict opened in federal court today. The sealed verdict was returned last night.

The former officer was charged with having accepted $500 from Mrs. Rickie Ketchum of Wichita Falls to influence his handling of prohibition cases afainst her.

Mrs. Rickie Ketchum, laid the bribery charges against W. R. Logsdon before Judge W. H. Atwell here in 1928, after she had been convicted on a bootlegging charge.

RASKOB SMILES AT SENATORS

Democratic Chairman Tells Of 'Wet' Donations

WASHINGTON, April 4. (UP)—Calm and smiling, Chairman John J. Raskob of the Democratic national committee, underwent a hazing for his anti-prohibition sentiments and expenditures before the senate lobby committee today. The one regular Republican senator on the committee, Robinson of Indiana, questioned him, only to meet heated objections from the two dry Democratic members, Caraway of Arkansas, and Walsh of Montana.

While the three senators shouted around the table, Raskob spoke calmly and never raised his voice. He admitted giving the Association Against the Prohibition amendment $66,000 during the last five years, but denied he had taken the Democratic post to influence the party on the subject of prohibition.

"Progress Made"

Explaining his connection with the Association Against the Prohibition amendment, his directorship therein having been the basis of his summons, Raskob said, "We are trying to convince the people that the 18th amendment ought to be repealed."

"Have you any hope?" snapped Caraway.

"Well, I don't know. We are making some progress."

Raskob said he had not been active for years in the Du Pont companies in which he made a spectacular business success.

Raskob Speaks Up

Robinson cross-examined Raskob about what he knew of the wet association and after eliciting he

DALLAS, April 4. (AP)—Francisco Mendoza, 2 years old, was drowned when he fell into a tub of water while playing at his home here today.

OWNERS THINK HUGE GEYSER UNDER CONTROL

Grease Covered Men Wearing Gas Masks Put Cap Over Spouter

TWO EFFORTS FAIL

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 4. (UP)—The giant Mary Sudik well, "wild" gusher of the South City field, was brought under control here late today when a 3,000-pound cone was strapped over its mouth and the oil and gas flow was stopped.

The well was brought into submission shortly after 6 o'clock after workmen, laboring in heavy rubber suits and wearing trench helmets, ear muffs and goggles, had strapped the steel cone to the base of the well. A partial stoppage of the flow was made at 3 o'clock but later the geyser became active, tearing the cap loose and knocking men from the platforms and from the derrick.

Well Believed Curbed

How long the well will remain under control was not known, but Pat Sutton, superintendent of Indian Territory Illuminating Oil company, owners of the well, believed the cone was firmly attached and ordered only a skeleton crew to remain in the field during the night.

A similar cap placed over the well early this week was torn into a hundred pieces when the geyser suddenly became active an hour after it was placed.

At dawn tomorrow workmen will finish their task of locking the cone to the well base. If the pressure is still high, mud will be shot into the well by drillers in a final effort to lower the oil and gas pressure.

Cables Hold Cap

The cap, known to oil men as a "shafer gate" but commonly called a Christmas tree because of it's appearance, was lashed to the well base with steel cables and then tied to the derrick.

From the top of the cone a six-inch pipe extended and in this pipe was located a series of valves which were gradually closed after the cone was locked in place.

Emplacement of the huge cap climaxed 36 hours of work by a picked crew of men. They were directed by Homer Craig, famed as a tamer of burning and wild oil wells, who was brought here from Tulsa, in an airplane.

Gas Masks Donned

Several men became ill today because of gas fumes and shortly after noon the men donned gas masks. A pulmotor and an ambulance crew were brought to the field and remained until work had been finished.

The most seriously ill was Aaron Parton, overcame while lashing cables in the cellar. He collapsed without a warning and was rescued by fellow workmen. After being revived he was taken from the field protesting like an injured football player reluctant to leave a game.

Unless the geyser becomes active tonight, oil men believed the well had been brought under control.

Pressure of the well lessened slightly today and the flow of oil was gauged around 20,000 barrels.

Queen of Sweden Succumbs in Rome

ROME, April 4. (UP)—Queen Victoria of Sweden died at 7 o'clock tonight in a Roman villa she had occupied for her health. She was 67 years old. Much of her life had been spent in traveling in search of a climate that might alleviate her bronchial catarrh, and in the 22 years since her coronation her health was always a matter of genuine concern in Sweden.

Hambone's Meditations

100 Visitors Expected Here Today For Texas-Oklahoma Hoo-Hoo Club Meet

An all-day convention of Northwest Texas and Southern Oklahoma Hoo-Hoo clubs, international lumbermen's organization, to be held Saturday at the Hoo-Hoo clubhouse at Diversion lake, will end with a banquet at 6 o'clock and initiation of 15 new candidates for membership, starting at 8:09 o'clock, it was announced Friday.

Approximately 100 delegates from Texas and Oklahoma lumber companies are expected to be in Wichita Falls for the convention. Gaines Whitsitt of Amarillo, president of the national organization, and Henry Isherwood of St. Louis, secretary of the national club, will be here and will each give a talk at the banquet.

Most of the day out at the lake will be spent by the visitors in having a good time, motor-boating, visiting and swapping yarns, according to G. D. Bowie, president of the Wichita Falls club.

Visitors are to report to the Bowie Sash and Door company office at 1302 Indiana avenue for direction to the Hoo-Hoo clubhouse at Diversion lake, he said.

Heavy Vote Expected Saturday In Election of Trustees Over County

While officials Friday predicted a comparatively quiet race among candidates for the three positions open on the Wichita Falls board of education, Burl Bryant, county school superintendent, stated one of the heaviest votes ever cast in the county as a whole was expected in the election of school trustees Saturday.

Five candidates have announced for the three positions on the school board here, according to W. W. Brown, secretary. W. L. Robertson and Mrs. W. W. Silk, candidates for re-election, and Luther Hoffman, Mrs. D. M. Burgan and Fred L. Cone, new candidates, are those who have signified their intentions of making the race.

The three receiving the highest number of votes will be elected, there being no direct opposition in the race, Mr. Brown said. The Reagan Junior High school will be the only voting place here, the polls being open from 8 o'clock Saturday morning until 7 o'clock in the evening.

Strong opposition will be shown knew of its activities only in a general way, demanded to know if Raskob was accustomed to "giving money and not knowing what it goes for?"

"You are trying," Raskob returned, "to create the impression I have scattered money to the four winds and that is not true."

Caraway and Walsh interrupted frequently advising the witness not to answer Robinson's questions, notably when the Indiana senator asked Raskob if he were going to resign.

Raskob said he was careful "not to let his personal feelings about prohibition get mixed in the affairs of the national committee."

"I have no right to commit the party," he said.

Editorial Read

Robinson read a recent editorial by ex-Navy Secretary Josephus Daniels charging Raskob had involved the Democratic party in his prohibition beliefs. The senator asserted he wanted to show Raskob left the Republican party because he can influence legislation better among the Democrats.

"He wanted to get into an honest party," Caraway said.

Chairman Caraway, after an hour and a half of questioning, excused Raskob and announced H. H. Curran, head of the Association Against the Prohibition amendment has been called to appear Tuesday.

Robinson said also he would have the books of the association audited to find whether Raskob's contributions were used to help the campaigns of wet Republican nominees against dry Democrats.

County Officials Ousted On Grand Jury Action

MUSKOGEE, Okla., April 4. (UP)—Suspension of all three Muskogee county commissioners was ordered today by District Judge Enloe Vernor following the report of a grand jury which had been in session for more than a week.

The grand jury returned four indictments and three accusations, immediately after the order suspending the commissioners was issued. It is not known whether the indictments covered the entire commission.

Deaths

FRANKIE JANE McCARTNEY

Funeral services for Frankie Jane McCartney, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. McCartney, 1427 Twenty-fifth street, who died at the home Friday morning at 4 o'clock, will be held from the Highland Heights Christian church at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, with Rev. Patrick Henry, pastor, officiating. Interment will be in the Riverside cemetery.

Besides her parents, survivors are her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Howard of Wichita Falls. Pallbearers will be Joe Crouch, C. C. Gordon, W. L. Grounds, F. H. Harris, Byron Wolcott, Gale Power, F. E. Shoop and T. E. Durrett.

You will not be bothered with collectors if you bring your want ads to The Times and Record News office and paying cash besides, saving 15 per cent of the regular want ad rate. Phone 4391 for rates.—Adv.

Lucky Mother

"My success with Betty Jean isn't just luck," says Mrs. D. H. Keating, 1318 Hays St., San Antonio. "It is due to a plan.

"She has escaped the ill-effects of colds and upsets because, at the first sign of a cold; of bad breath, coated tongue or feverishness, I open her bowels with California Fig Syrup. She loves its taste and I like its gentle, thorough action."

Mothers by thousands praise California Fig Syrup. For fifty years physicians have endorsed this pure vegetable product. It tones and strengthens stomach and bowels; stimulates appetite; encourages digestion and assimilation. Its use helps make sallow, listless children rosy and energetic.

Look for the name California when buying. That marks the genuine; safe for infants, effective for children in their teens.—Adv.

Air Passengers Gaining Faster Than Planes to Haul 'Em, Speaker Says

Safeway Official Tells of Growth of Industry; 14 Passenger Gliders May Be Used in Future

Twelve months have changed the passenger airlines' problem in the United States from that of finding passengers to one of supplying sufficient equipment to carry those who wish to travel by air, according to Philip R. Shumway of the Safeway Airlines, who spoke to 175 persons met at the Kemp hotel Friday noon for the bi-weekly luncheon of the junior chamber of commerce.

Development of patronage of airlines has been breath-taking in its speed, Mr. Shumway declared. Pointing out that little more than a year ago there was grave doubt as to whether the public generally ever would take to the air, he said that the recent reduction of rates demonstrated that the average person had been kept on the ground "not by fear, but by fare."

Wichita Second in Travel

Fourteen months ago one passenger a day from Wichita Falls for the Braniff airlines was something to be reasonably excited about," Mr. Shumway said. "We had to sneak up on a promising victim, catch him unawares, and almost Shanghai him into our planes. Today Wichita Falls is second in the nation, on the basis of population, in air travel. The city of Tulsa is first in the United States, and since Jan. 1 of this year has been first in the world for the number of air passengers handled. In February, the Tulsa airport had 7,370 passengers, including those arriving and leaving in private planes. This almost doubled the number accomodated at Croyden field, London, Lebourget field, Paris, and the principal field at Berlin—Europe's chief centers of flying."

Following his introduction by Sam Gose, chairman of the aviation committee of the Junior chamber of commerce, Mr. Shumway said:

"I shall give you just a few bare facts which reflect the trend and development of air transportation in this country. When I first visited your city, 14 months ago, the Braniff ships which served you were giving the only scheduled air passenger service in the Southwest. There are now 13,000 miles covered daily by planes carrying passengers in Texas and Oklahoma.

"The Safeway lines started operations one year ago this week. During the first month we carried about 200 passengers. We often carry more than that number now in a single day. Air transportation now is a fixed factor in the business of the United States. The few doubters of a year ago are now silenced. Carriers decided to take a long gambler's chance with a big drop in rates to see what it would do for air transportation. Within 24 hours there was an inflow of traffic which was an eye-opener.

New Diesel Motors

"At many points now, in this country, there are more prospective passengers left on the ground at the airport than there are passengers taken aboard, because of lack of facilities for carrying them. It is interesting that today the Packard-Diesel motor has been announced as standard equipment for Ford passenger ships. This engine is much lighter, uses much less fuel, thereby increasing passenger-carrying capacity, and with 600 h. p. equals the work of a 900 h. p. motor of the types now in use. It eliminates fire hazard to a large extent, and removes the disturbance to radio furnished by present motors."

Referring to the landing of Capt. Frank Hawks in a glider here Wednesday, Mr. Shumway continued: "Already a glider capable of carrying 14 passengers when attached to a 14-passenger plane, without reducing the speed or efficiency of the tow-plane, has been devised by an engineer whose custom is to be right before he speaks. You can see the possibilities of such a device—carrying 14 persons for Wichita Falls in a glider, cut them loose above your city, and they land while the ship goes on its way."

Maj. Roland A. Laird, aviation secretary of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, spoke briefly relative to air travel in this territory. "Watch air travel this year," he said, "for is to be a big year. America is taking to the air with enthusiasm, and with unanimity."

Announcement of the campaign now being conducted by the civic improvements committee for the growth of flowers in the city was made by Dr. Bailey R. Collins, chairman. Paul Hines told of the work being done by the Wichita Falls Flying Club, Inc., stating that 50 hours of flying time was given to its members during the month of March at a cost of only $350. He also announced an air circus which is to be used at the Municipal airport on Sunday, April 13, from 10 a. m. to dark, under the auspices of the flying club.

Earl Koontz was awarded a round-trip ticket to Dallas by Glenn Groves, local representative of the S. A. F. E. airlines, in a contest held in connection with Friday's meeting.

Guests were introduced by Jerry Vinson, president. Thirty-five of those present at Friday's luncheon reported that it was their first attendance at the bi-weekly meetings. Music Friday was furnished by Frank Bird and his Bluebirds, KGKO orchestra.

Grand Jury to Probe Speculator's Statement

BOSTON, April 4. (UP)—The case of George A. Rivinius, 45, local agent for a Philadelphia cotton concern who is alleged to have confessed speculations approximating $500,000, "will be submitted by District Attorney William J. Foley to the grand jury shortly.

Rivinius, Harvard graduate, prominent resident of suburban Winchester and father of four children, created a sensation here when he walked into a police station and, according to authorities, made a complete confession. He is under $50,000 bond for hearing next Thursday.

PETITION ASKS MANAGER VOTE

Ballard to Offer Names to Council Monday

A petition bearing the names of 122 Wichita Falls taxpayers and asking for an election on the question of retaining the city-manager form of government here was displayed Friday afternoon to The Record News by Jack Ballard, who stated he had been circulating two other such petitions and had obtained more than 300 signatures of persons desiring such an election.

Mr. Ballard stated definitely the petitions would be presented to the city council at its meeting next Monday night, at which time the newly elected mayor and two aldermen will take office. Among the first of the signatures on the petition was that of O. B. Kelly, unsuccessful candidate for mayor at the recent election and an avowed opponent of the city-manager form of government. Mr. Ballard stated he had begun circulation of the petitions of his own accord.

Issues Challenge

A challenge to any speakers favoring the city-manager plan to meet speakers from the other side of the question in a debate was also issued by Mr. Ballard. The debate would be held before the public at any time and at any place set by speakers for the manager side, he said.

The intention of presenting the petitions to the council comes immediately upon the heels of opinions expressed by many citizens following the election that an election on the manager question would not be requested in view of the outcome of the city balloting. Walter Nelson Jr., elected mayor, and J. N. Prothro and E. H. Eddleman, elected aldermen, all announced they were in favor of the manager plan of government before the election was completed.

300 Signer Necessary

Should the petitions be presented to the council as stated, the aldermen will be obliged to call a hearing on the matter not less than 30 days from the presentation. An election on the question would then be called not less than 30 days after the hearing, depending on certification of the signatures by the city clerk. Officials Friday said the number of signatures must amount to 10 per cent of the number of votes cast in the recent election, making more than 300 names necessary on the petitions to be presented by Mr. Ballard.

School And College Notes

By MARGARET FLEMING
The Record News Staff

Misses Catherine Finch, Marjorie Vincent, Dorothy Smart, and Mathilde Donnell made talks on various phases of mathematics at the regular meeting of the Euclidian club Thursday evening at the Junior college.

It was announced that next week's meeting would be postponed on account of the interscholastic league meet which will be in progress then.

Girl Reserves Program

Program committee members of the Girl Reserves were in charge of the entertainment at the regular meeting of the club Friday morning at the activity period. The program had almost as many varieties as a vodvil bill.

Little Shirley Lane Coffman danced for the group, and Mary Eleanor Clements played several piano selections. Bill Jenne gave a humorous talk and "hick skit." A violin solo was played by Paul Putty Jr., and Margaret Bone sang a solo.

Senate to Hear Edwards

A. F. Edwards will be the principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Junior college Senate Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, when he will address the students in a lantern-slide lecture on American history, according to Curtis Cook, president.

AIR CIRCUS

Flying Club Completes Plans for Gigantic Sky Frolic

Completion of plans for the staging of the largest air circus ever held in this section of the country were announced Friday night following a meeting of the board of directors of the Wichita Falls Flying club, Inc., which is sponsoring the circus as part of a campaign to obtain new members for the spring class of the club.

The circus will be held at the Municipal airport Sunday, April 13. It will be staged by M. C. Cox & Company, a nationally known flying concern. Events to be included in the program will be delayed parachute jumps, stunt flying, aerial trapeze acts, balloon strafing and other features, which will be climaxed by an attempt to set a new world's record for an altitude parachute jump by a woman jumper. The attempt for the record will be made by Miss Faye Lucille Cox, a member of the company. A popular Wichita Falls woman will make her first jump that day.

Ticket sales for the circus will be handled through Wichita Falls girls, all having been invited to enter the contest.

SCHOOL BONDS WIN APPROVAL

Work on Additions Will Start in June

Approval of the $100,000 bond issue recently voted for additions to Wichita Falls schools was announced Friday from the attorney general's office at Austin, according to Associated Press dispatch received here.

The issue has already been sold, subject to the attorney general's approval, through a Dallas representative of Steck and company. Work on the construction of additions to several Wichita Falls schools will begin as soon as the present term is complete, according to C. H. Clark, president of the school board.

The exact distribution of the money has not yet been determined by the board, the president said, but the funds will be divided to afford more space and equipment to several of the buildings in the system.

'Belle of Barcelona' Produced at College

"The Belle of Barcelona," a musical comedy presented at the Junior college Friday evening under the auspices of the music and dramatic departments, proved to be one of the outstanding plays of the season.

Jack Pitman, Margaret Bone, Louis Bond and Lillian McAbee performed outstandingly.

Other characters in the play were: Henry Brooks, Willie D. Roye, Mary Clare Burton, Patrick Henry Jr., Springer Williams, Frank Bain, Earl Hutchinson, Thomas Beaty, the Junior college male quartet and choruses from the high school glee clubs.

Solo dancers included Phoebe Jane Filgo, Margaret Spangle, Pauline Loverette, Elizabeth Gaffield and Ona Belle Britain, and Huldah Maude Cole.

Lehrack Company to Increase Its Capital

Permisison to convert and increase its capital stock from $50,000 to 100,000 no-par value shares was given the Lehrack Ice Cream company of Wichita Falls by the secretary of state Friday. Notice of the approval of the increase was given in an Associated Press dispatch to The Record News.

Hamilton Improving

W. B. Hamilton, who became seriously ill early Friday morning, is reported to be improving at the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital where he was rushed for emergency treatment.

GARDNER PAID HIGH TRIBUTE

Texas League Head Honored at Banquet

will you give my heartiest congratulations to the guest of honor and love to him that in the matter of character and worth, I rate alongside of his distinguished predecessor, Doak Roberts, who complimented me with his friendship and confidence. My deep appreciation of your courtesy and sincere regret that I cannot be with you. Kenesaw M. Landis."

Mr. Robbins also read telegrams from O. L. Biedenharn, president of the Shreveport club; Fred Ankenmann, president of the Houston club; Homer Hammond, president of the San Antonio club; Tom Connor, business manager of the San Antonio club; Charles A. Mangold, of the Jefferson hotel, Dallas; Julius Sheppe of Dallas; Ted Robinson, president of the Fort Worth club and others.

Huff Gives Talk

Opening the program of talks, William E. Huff, president of the Wichita Falls club, gave a brief outline of Mr. Gardner's activities with the Spudders and his entire connections with baseball as a sport.

William B. Ruggles, editorial writer for the Dallas News and statistician for the Texas league, who acted as president of the league in place of Doak Roberts last summer, made an interesting talk on baseball as a game and paid highest tribute both to the memory of Doak Roberts and to the ability of Mr. Gardner.

"Baseball goes back to ancient times," he said. "There was Cain, who is said to have swung a wicked bat, and even David, who slung a mean bean pole."

Value of Baseball

He pointed out the value of professional baseball as an advertisement to a city and indicated the growth it had caused in amateur baseball by reason of the interest it maintained in the public mind. Mr. Ruggles is at present publishing a history of the Texas league which will be placed on sale in the near future.

R. O. Harvey, former president of the Wichita Falls club, made a brief talk in commendation of the ability of Mr. Gardner, expressing his confidence in him as an executive and a man capable of directing the league to its best interests.

Andy Anderson, sports editor of the Houston Press, entertained the guests with several tales, the intention of which was to wipe away any possible veneer of insincerity. His brief talk displayed the high opinion of Mr. Gardner held by the sports writers of the state. He read a number of telegrams—sent collect, he said—from sports editors of every town represented in the league, congratulating Mr. Gardner.

"Uncle Jake" Heard

Oswin King, familiarly known throughout the state as "Uncle Jake," sport columnist for the Dallas Journal, made probably the most unusual talk of the evening.

"Anybody who gets into baseball is a d— fool," he said. "However, if it were not for baseball, I'd probably be waiting table here tonight instead of eating dinner and talking.

"A year ago I said in my column the Texas league would be no more inside of five years. When I say that now that J. Alvin Gardner has been selected as its president I have changed my estimate to 10 years, I think that is the highest compliment that can be paid to the man we are honoring here tonight. You fellows are doing a lot, but little enough, just coming up here to pay homage to a man the sports writers consider the premier sportsman of Texas!"

Added tribute to the capabilities of Mr. Gardner and assurance that club presidents in the league would cooperate with him in all his work was given by Charles Turner, president of the Waco club, in a brief talk.

"Human and Cussed"

Walter Cline was called upon to speak to the guests on Mr. Gardner as a citizen of Wichita Falls.

"He's just about as human and as cussed as the rest of us," Mr. Cline said, "and that's why we like him. I could pay him no higher compliment than to say we have found him an interested, honest, sincere, courageous gentleman. We intrust to him the duty of serving impartially our Texas league and we express our confidence in his integrity and ability, knowing well that no finer sportsman or citizen could have been chosen for his position."

Mr. Gardner was called upon as the last speaker.

"If I can be half as good in the position of president as our old friend Doak Roberts, I will feel that I am doing well," he said. "I cannot fully express my appreciation for the honor you have shown me here but I know that I can dig into the work now that such a beginning has been made."

Entertainment at the banquet was provided by the Junior college male quartet, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Hermione Stewart Vaughan. Dr. N. F. Grafton, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, gave the invocation.

Did you do your bit back in 1917 and 1918 by purchasing liberty bonds and war stamps, and by eating cornbread? Then show your loyalty and patriotism by attending Soldier's day, Kay Bible class next Sunday.—Adv.

POLICE BARE KIDNAP PLOT

Three Suspects Held in New York Case

NEW YORK, April 4. (AP)—A double kidnaping plot, growing out of the disappearance of Mrs. J. Morgan Corbett, wife of a wealthy Boston, Mass., real estate operator, was revealed here today by police with the arrest of three alleged kidnapers.

Police are holding Arthur Hamel, 29, of Haverhill, Mass., Edward Kendall, 29, North Reading, Mass., and Edward Kliene, 30, of New York, charged with kidnaping James Quinn, 30, of Brooklyn. All are airplane pilots. They were arrested last night in a hotel.

Quinn charged Corbett employed the three men to kidnap him, believing he was responsible for Mrs. Corbett's disappearance.

Quinn alleges he was lured to Edgewater camp, in the bronx, upon a promise of work, but when he reached there was set upon and overpowered by Hamel, Kliene and Kendall.

He was bound and gagged and beaten about the head and face at intervals for about 48 hours, he said, while his captors questioned him regarding Mrs. Corbett's disappearance.

He finally escaped from the camp.

Judge Claims Jones Law Not Effective

FORT WORTH, April 4. (AP)—Federal Judge James C. Wilson stated today that the Jones act had not had "as much effect" as hoped for by those who brought about its passage.

In sentencing Dee N. Lee to 18 months and J. M. Hart to a year and a day in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., for prohibition law violation, Judge Wilson commented that "bootlegging seems to be considered an easy way to get money and apparently there is not much hazard connected with the business."

Lee and Hart were partners in a garage.

Michner Announces Senate Race Platform

SAN ANGELO, Texas, April 4. (UP)—Advocating that the government give every poor man a cow, C. A. Michner, candidate for the senatorial position held by Morris Sheppard, announced his platform in an address here.

Planks in his platform include closing the New York and Chicago stock exchanges with federal troops; allowing citizens of Canada to vote on whether or not they wish to enter the union; making the United States navy the peer of any flotilla on the seven seas and recognizing and trading with Soviet Russia.

Abyssinian Soldiers Battle With Rebels

ADDIS ABABA, Abyssinia, April 4. (AP)—The Stefany News agency today made public reports of a fierce battle between Abyssinian government troops under Negus Taffari, great nephew of the Emperor Menelik II, and 10,000 riflemen under Ras Cugsa Olle, former husband of the Empress Zauditu who died on Wednesday.

Ras Cugsa was killed together with hundreds of others and many hundreds were wounded.

News of the battle was believed to have caused the sudden death of the empress.

Pickford and Baxter Win Highest Honors

HOLLYWOOD, April 4. (UP)—Warner Baxter and Mary Pickford today are being congratulated in the film colony as winners of the awards offered by the academy of motion picture arts and sciences for the most distinguished acting during the year ending August, 1929.

Baxter's performance in the pioneer outdoor western talking film "In Old Arizona," won the actors' award. Mary Pickford was selected among the actresses because of her acting in the talking picture "coquette."

Waitress Loses $2,000 Lottery Prize Ticket

BOSTON, Mass., April 4. (UP)—It cost Margaret MacDonald, attractive young waitress, $2,000 to have her apron washed.

After paying a dime for a lottery ticket she stuffed the numbered slip into her apron pocket.

Later, when informed that she won $2,000 in the pool, she hunted frantically for the ticket. No trace of the lucky number could be found at the laundry.

DO YOU WANT SIZE OR SOAP?

WHEN you buy soap, the only way you can tell how much you're getting for your money is by the weight of the package. Size means nothing. A large carton full of soap flakes or bubbles can contain actually less soap than a carton of White King Granulated Soap half its size!

That's because White King Granulated Soap is condensed. It packs closely in the carton, like powdered sugar. And it's absolutely pure and safe . . . for blankets, dishes or lingerie.

White King Granulated Soap is not only the safest but the most economical soap you can buy. A little of it goes a long way. A teaspoonful to the basin of water, of a cupful to the tub—no more! Your grocer has it.

Missouri Town Names Democratic Mayor After 48 Years

MACON, Mo., April 4. (INS)—For the first time in 48 years Macon has a Democratic mayor. Not since 1882 has such an event occurred in the tranquil lives of the 4,200 inhabitants of this Missouri town, to whom Republican rule had become almost an accepted fact.

The holder of the distinction of being Macon's first Democratic mayor in almost half a century is Frank P. Briggs. He headed a straight out Democratic ticket which was carried into office by a sweeping majority.

Youth and Beggar Sought as Strangler

CHICAGO, April 4. (INS)—Search for the slayer who strangled Mrs. Mildred Helsing, 26-year-old housewife, by winding a satin ribbon about her throat turned today to a youth of 17 or 18 and a beggar, both of whom were seen near the Helsing apartment on the day of the murder.

Neighbors saw the suspected youth shortly before the young bride was slain. He is believed to have robbed three apartments in a nearby building only an hour before Mrs. Helsing was strangled to death in her apartment.

While a search was conducted for the unidentified youth police continued their efforts to locate a ragged beggar who was seen about the building in which the Helsings lived.

George Riley, negro janitor of the building who was seized soon after the murder was discovered, was released last night on a writ of habeas corpus.

Gangster's Body Held After Police Battle

LOS ANGELES, April 4. (AP)—The body of Joe Luby, 27, Chicago and Detroit gangster, today was in a Los Angeles morgue, scarred by bullets fired by one of three policemen with whom Luby attempted to "shoot it out" yesterday. Luby's death climaxed a five-mile running gun battle, which started as he entered his automobile in front of a Hollywood bank he had robbed of $500.

GIRL'S PARENTS FILE CHARGES

Alleged Abductor Denies Mann Act Violation

TUCUMCARI, N. M., April 4. (AP)—Police here today were holding in jail Kyle Bromley of Amarillo, Texas, on a charge of violating the Mann act filed by parents of Eleanor Friedwald, 16-year-old Amarillo High school girl.

Bromley was arrested here Wednesday while with the girl. He protested that he had not violated federal law and that he and Miss Friedwald were on their way to the courthouse to be married when he was arrested. The girl's parents came here, preferred the charge against Bromley and took the girl back to Amarillo.

Officers said they had no evidence of Bromley's violating the Mann act in Tucumcari.

AGENTS RELEASE TWO OTHER MEN

AMARILLO, Texas, April 4. (AP)—Kyle Bromley, 30, of Amarillo, was held today in jail at Tucumcari, N. M., on a Mann act charge in connection with the alleged abduction of an Amarillo high school girl, who claimed she was drugged and mistreated. Bromley and his mother said Bromley and the girl had intended to be married in New Mexico. Two other men were released by department of justice agents.

Anson Casts Record Vote in City Election

Special to The Record News

ANSON, Texas, April 4.—Perhaps the heaviest vote ever recorded in a city election here when 404 votes were counted in the town of Anson resulted in returning every alderman offering for re-election as well as the mayor, J. H. Barrett. Roy Edmonds was named as alderman for place No. 1, taking the place recently vacated by B. L. Jones who moved to Hamlin. Much interest was manifested in the contest, and many women exercised their privilege in casting a ballot.

The following were elected: J. H. Barrett, mayor; alderman, place No. 1, Roy Edmonds; alderman, place No. 3, E. A. Wilson, 308; place No. 4, G. C. Bonner, 293; place 5, O. S. Gilbreath.

Census Takers In Wyoming Use Skis

WASHINGTON, April 4. (UP)—By automobile, on foot, and even on skis the census bureau's army of 120,000 enumerators moved swiftly forward today to complete their count of the country's population, property, jobs and radios.

A nation-wide check by the census bureau indicated the count was far advanced as it entered its third day. Only in a few instances have census-takers been delayed by bad weather.

Census Supervisor Lester G. Baker, of Rock Springs, Wyo., reported his enumerators in Teton county, Wyoming, were using skis.

Within two weeks, returns from large cities are expected and is believed the census will be complete by May 1. A population of 120,000,000 persons is predicted for the whole country.

On his release Marchand said that he would return to his chateau near Albany, accompanied by his 12-year-old son, Henry Jr. Marchand's resignation from the staff of the Buffalo museum of natural science has been accepted.

DETROIT, April 4. (UP)—Airplanes of all descriptions and design, from a giant 32-passenger Fokker to a tiny 30-horsepower "flivver" were wheeled into place today at Detroit's new $1,000,000 exposition hangar at Municipal airport where the third annual all-American aircraft show will open Saturday.

Basil Miles Death Probe Competed

WASHINGTON, April 4. (INS)—Investigation into the death of Basil Miles, former prominent state department and chamber of commerce official, nearly two years ago, appeared today to be about complete with little likelihood of the case being presented to a grand jury.

Neil Burkinshaw, assistant district attorney who has been conducting the inquiry for several weeks, indicated no disinterment would be ordered unless Mrs. H. H. Rogers, wife of the Standard Oil magnate and Miles' widow, should make such a request. This was considered unlikely, and denial was made that he would seek to interview the widow at this time.

Miles died June 14, 1928, the day before he was to leave emergency hospital, and a certificate giving pulmonary embolism as the cause of death was filed with the health department. Burkinshaw has interviewed Dr. James F. Mitchell, who operated on Miles, the hospital resident physician who signed the death certificate, and a score of persons said to be prominent socially.

15-YEAR FRAUD SEARCH IS OVER

Embezzler Located on Poor-Farm

CHEYENNE, Wyo., April 4.(INS)—Sought for 15 years for embezzlement of $11,000 from the Citizens National bank of Englewood, N. J., Abram Cornelius Jr., 62, known here as A. P. Cornell, today had been located at the county poor farm and placed under arrest by federal authorities.

His former stenographer and sweetheart, Loretta Adelgais, now only 32 years old, for whose infatuation Cornelius was prompted to take the money and leave his wife, is in the state hospital for the insane at Evanston. The three children she bore him are in a home for juvenile dependents.

RECIPES

Oxford Sausage

Put one-half pound lean fresh pork, one-half pound veal or beef, one-half pound suet and one-fourth loaf whole wheat bread through a meat chopper; add one tablespoon salt, one-half teaspoon pepper, two teaspoons poultry seasonings, and mix thoroughly. Pack in cool place until ready to use. Shape in flat cakes as thick on edge as in center. Cook in hot frying pan until brown on both sides. Serve garnished with broiled pineapple and parsley.

Orange Cocktail

Four very large oranges.
Two-thirds cup Russian dressing.
One-third cup heavy cream.
Mint or watercress.

Cut oranges in halves by making zigzag cuts through to the center so that when separated each half will be pointed. Loosen with knife around the edge, then remove pulp and juice from all the oranges with a spoon. Drain, mix with Russian dressing and put in the refrigerator. Remove membrane from orange skins and place skins in a bowl of water to keep them from drying. Before serving put orange pulp in skins; beat cream until stiff, add one-fourth dash of salt and put in a pastry bag with a small rose tube in the end. Make a border of whipped cream around each half of the orange. Place a sprig of watercress or mint upright in the center of each cocktail. Put a paper dolly on a dessert plate, on this place the orange cocktail and at one side put two small toasted salty crackers.

Mix together four tablespoons each of mayonnaise dressing, catsup and chili sauce and add a pinch of salt. This makes the Russian dressing.

Sweet Pickle Salad

Dissolve one package of lemon Jello in one pint of boiling water. Stir and set aside until it starts to set. Then add one small can of sliced pineapple cut in thin slices, five or six chopped sweet pickles, one-fourth cup chopped pecans and one small bottle of stuffed olives. (A part of the olives may be sliced and used to garnish the molds.) Rinse the molds in cold water and pour in the gelatin mixture; chill. Serve on lettuce, watercress or endive with mayonnaise. Thousand Isle to which has been added a little whipped cream or French dressing. A tablespoonful of vinegar may be added to the Jello mixture just after the hot water has dissolved the Jello if a tart salad is desired.

Strawberry Shortcake

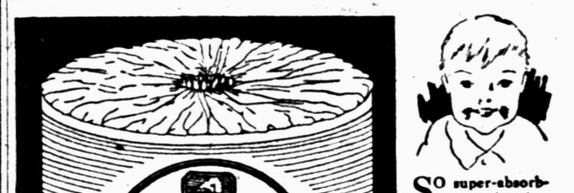

Make plain pastry; bake on the backs of two large pie pans; brush with butter while hot. Pick over, stem and wash one quart of strawberries, crush slightly; add sugar to taste (about one cup), and let stand at least 30 minutes. When ready to serve place half of the berries on one pastry shell and put the second shell over the berries; cover with the rest of the berries. Whip one cup of double cream; sweeten to taste and add a few drops of vanilla. Spread over shortcake and serve while crisp, cut in wedge-shape pieces. The pastry may be either hot or cold. Individual shortcakes may be made by baking pastry on the bottom of patty pans or muffin rings or by baking circles of pastry on baking sheets. Stack and serve as directed above. This quantity will serve six.

Plain Pastry

One-third cup shortening (lard or half butter and half lard).
One cup flour.
One-fourth teaspoon baking powder.
One-half teaspoon salt.
One-eighth to one-fourth cup ice water, or enough to moisten.

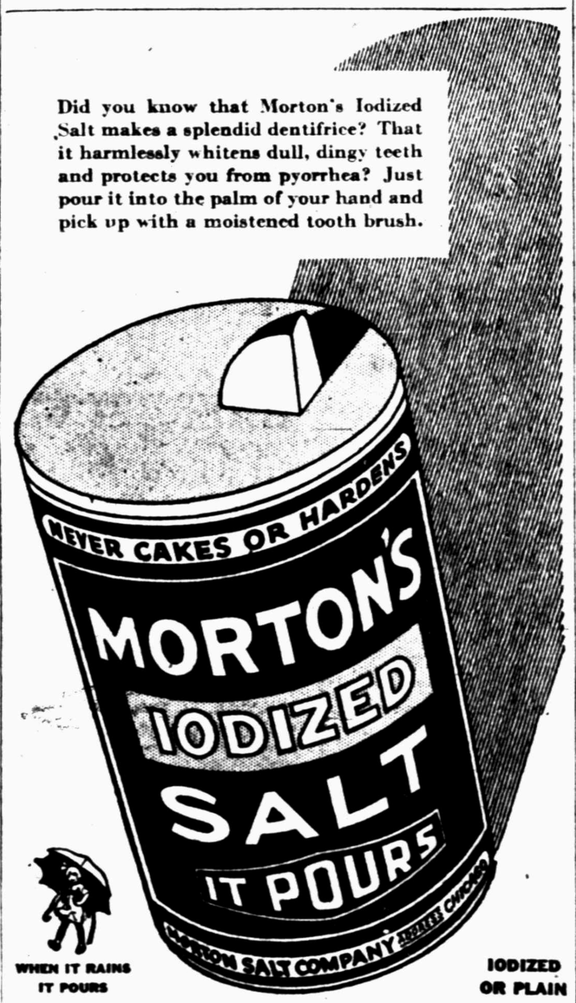

Have all materials cold, mix and sift the flour, salt and baking powder; cut in the shortening with knives until fine like meal. Add enough ice water to make a stiff dough. Be careful not to make the dough sticky. Place on a slightly floured board and roll to one-fourth inch in thickness. If pastry is allowed to stand on ice before rolling out it is improved. Bake in a

STOP CONSTIPATION AT THE START

You May Pay If You Don't

When you realize that about 90% of all sickness begins with constipation, you won't want to take chances. If you have the symptoms — bad breath, coated tongue, always tired —put a stop to them now!

But do it the natural way. Not with pills and drugs, which give but temporary relief and must be taken in increasing doses. Eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN—an appetizing deliciously flavored cereal.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN sweeps the system clean of wastes and impurities. Its action is natural; the roughage carries with it the poisons which clog your system.

In addition, ALL-BRAN is rich in iron. Scientific research shows that nearly all this iron goes into the blood, making it give the rich glow of healthy color.

You'll like ALL-BRAN. Ready-to-eat with milk or cream—fruits or honey added. Physicians recommend it. And we guarantee it to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation. Two tablespoonfuls daily — with every meal, in recurring cases.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers in the red-and-green package. Served in hotels, restaurants and dining-cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Mrs. Dawson Gives Recipe For Making Shortcakes

hot oven. This quantity makes two crusts.

BAKING POWDER BISCUITS AND SHORTCAKES

Baking powder biscuits masquerade under many names, but they are all doughs made from a soft dough mixture in which the flour and liquid are in the approximate proportion of three to one. Flours vary somewhat in the amount of liquid which they can absorb. A baking powder biscuit dough should be soft. It should not, however, be so soft and moist that the top of the rolled-out dough is rough. For this reason the liquid should be added gradually.

As in practically all flour mixtures, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder are used for each cupful of flour.

Standard biscuit recipes call for one tablespoonful of shortening for each cupful of flour, but some people prefer a shorter biscuit which requires two level tablespoonfuls of shortening to each cupful of flour. Pinwheel biscuits and their variations require more shortening as they are not split and buttered. For shortcakes and dumplings, the amount should be increased to three tablespoonfuls of shortening for each cupful of flour. A teaspoonful of sugar may also be sifted with the dry ingredients when the dough is to be used for shortcakes.

Last minute preparation can be avoided by making biscuits and placing them in the refrigerator on the baking sheet until just before they are needed. This simplifies the preparation of Sunday night suppers and teas.

Many kinds of shortcakes and biscuit mixtures may be evolved from simple variations in the proportion of shortening used and from the addition of other ingredients.

Baking Powder Biscuits

Two cups flour.
Two to four tablespoons shortening.
Four teaspoons baking powder.
One teaspoon salt.
Two-thirds to three-fourths cup milk, sweet.

Mix and sift the dry ingredients; cut in the shortening, using two knives, or rub in with the tips of the fingers. Add the milk gradually, mixing with a knife, to make a soft dough. Place on a floured board and roll out to one inch in thickness. Handle as lightly and quickly as possible. Cut with a biscuit cutter which has been dipped in flour. Place close together on a greased pan and bake in a hot oven, 450 degrees Fahrenheit, about 12 minutes. You may avoid much of the last minute preparation by mixing the biscuits, all but adding the liquid, early in the day; then add the liquid and bake just before they are needed. Biscuits made in this manner are lighter than those made and placed in the refrigerator. Biscuits may be made from one-fourth to one inch thick. Because the thinner biscuits are the crisper, we chew them better and therefore digest them more easily than the thick soft ones. Flour the cutter slightly to prevent the biscuits from sticking. Place on greased pan about ¾-inch apart. If too much liquid is added to the biscuits to roll, drop on a buttered baking sheet or into buttered muffin pans. Do not stir any more than is necessary to mix. These are called emergency or drop biscuits.

Cheese Biscuits

Cheese biscuits are made in the same manner as baking powder biscuits with the exception that one-half cup of grated cheese is cut in the dry ingredients at the same time that the shortening is cut in.

Fruit or Nut Biscuits

The basic ingredients are the same as those for baking powder biscuits. Additional ingredients may be three-fourths cup currants, raisins, chopped figs, preserved ginger or nuts. Add the fruit or nuts to baking powder biscuits before adding the milk. The tops may be sprinkled with brown sugar and cinnamon or nutmeg.

Orange Biscuits

Orange biscuits are made just as baking powder biscuits are made. Place on each biscuit a cube of sugar that has been moistened thoroughly in orange juice. Then sprinkle with a little grated orange rind. Bake as usual.

Peanut Butter Biscuits

Use one-fourth cup peanut butter as the shortening in baking powder biscuits.

Pinwheel Biscuits

Roll baking powder biscuit dough into rectangles one-fourth inch thick, brush with two teaspoons melted butter, sprinkle with one-fourth cup sugar and from one-half to two teaspoons nutmeg or cinnamon and roll up from the long side as a jelly roll. (Brown or granulated sugar may be used.) Cut in three-fourths inch slices, lay with the cut side down on a greased pan. Bake 20 minutes at 450 degrees Fahrenheit.

Caramel or Butterscotch Biscuits

Cream one-fourth cup butter and one cup brown sugar together. Spread on rolled out dough. Sprinkle with raisins and proceed as in pinwheel biscuits.

Drop Biscuits

Increase the liquid in the baking powder biscuit recipe to one cup. Drop from teaspoon or tablespoon into a greased muffin tin or onto a greased pan. Fruit and nuts may be added to drop biscuits or a depression may be made in the top of each biscuit, in which a teaspoon of orange marmalade, fruit or nuts may be placed.

Shortcakes

Follow the baking powder biscuit method, increasing the shortening from two tablespoons to two cups of flour to one-fourth cup or one-third cup to two cups of flour. Bake in a thick layer and split or make two thin layers, put together, bake and separate. Spread inside of each shortcake layer with butter while it is hot. Individual shortcakes may be made by cutting the dough with a large biscuit cutter or can. One quart of strawberries, raspberries, blackberries or loganberries, or one quart of sliced fresh peaches or one can peaches, pineapple or apricots may be used for making shortcakes. Crush berries or slice fruits, reserving choice berries or slices for garnishing; sweeten to taste; put between layers and on top of shortcakes. Top with whipped cream to which has been added sugar and vanilla and garnish with whole berries or slices of fruit.

Sour Milk or Soda Biscuits

When using sour milk, use one-half teaspoonful of soda for every cupful of milk. Use thick sour milk. One-half teaspoonful of soda is equivalent to two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and can therefore lighten only one cupful flour. Use therefore two teaspoonfuls of baking powder to every additional cup of flour.

Grant Street Circle Will Serve Dinner

Members of circle two of the Grant Street Methodist church Woman's Missionary society will serve a 50-cent chicken dinner from 11 to 2 o'clock at 714 Indiana avenue Saturday.

Artist Displays New Portrait Of Wichita Woman

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hamilton, artist patrons of Wichita Falls, made a charming setting for the initial showing of Mrs. Ola G. Hamlin's portrait when the artist, Miss Gladys Milligan, entertained many of the art devotees of the city Friday afternoon.

The home was attractively decorated with cut flowers. Many compliments were given Miss Milligan on the painting in which the beautiful color harmony and composition were worked out appropriately to the charming personality and grace of the sitter.

The dominating color of the portrait is blue, a difficult color but successfully handled. The sitter is in a graceful and easy pose. The style in impressionistic but with modern influence shown in the definite composition.

Punch was served in the dining room to the 75 guests, with Mrs. J. T. Harrel presiding. Others assisting Miss Milligan were Mrs. Ola G. Hamlin, Mrs. Grady England, Mrs. Walter K. Campbell, Miss Dorothy Campbell, Miss Ethel Chamberlain, Mrs. Luther Hoffman, Mrs. Alice Welty Ward and Mrs. Paul Harrell.

Personals

E. F. Bohmfalk will leave Sunday for Nashville, Tenn., where he will attend a committee meeting on general conference legislation of the Methodist church. Mr. Bohmfalk represents the directors of religious education of Southern Methodism on the committee. He will return to Wichita Falls Wednesday.

Mrs. Morris Named Head Of Alamo P.-T. A. Friday

Mrs. C. A. Morris was named president of the Alamo P.-T. A. at a meeting of the organization at the school Friday afternoon. Others elected to office include Mrs. C. H. Clark, first vice president; Mrs. D. L. Fritz, second vice president; Mrs. Ben F. Schultz, third vice president; Mrs. Herbert Gray, treasurer, Mrs. J. C. Martin, recording secretary, Mrs. Marrs, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. B. Patrick, welfare chairman; Mrs. J. C. Mathis, health chairman; Mrs. Gerald Pond, magazine chairman.

"Habit Formation" was the general theme for the program of which J. E. Park had charge. The feature of the program was a splendid talk on "Psychology of Habit," by R. O. Jonas, instructor at the Junior college and former honor student at Texas university.

Another interesting and entertaining number was several selections by a group of 75 pupils of the school, Nancy and John Haggard, accompanied at the piano by their mother gave a violin duet.

The business meeting was opened with a prayer and was presided over by Mrs. C. L. Baum, in the absence of the president. The minutes of the preceding meeting were read by Miss Dorothy Warren and Mrs. A. A. Barnard made a splendid financial report. Mrs. George D. Daunis displayed the scrapbook which is ready to be turned over to the district publicity chairman. Mrs. A. J. Newby was named office delegate to the district convention and it was announced that all new and old members of the executive board will be delegates also. As Alamo is the largest organization in the district it is entitled to 51 voting delegates. Attendance prizes were awarded to Mrs. W. A. Mangum's room which won first and Miss Neva Davis who won second.

Optometrists Plan to Attend Convention

Wichita Falls optometrists held an interesting and enthusiastic meeting Thursday evening at which time plans were discussed for attending the state optometric convention in Dallas, April 16, 17 and 18.

The principal speaker of the evening was Dr. Fred Goss, who talked on "Changes of Corneal Curvature in Accommodation" in which it was shown that older recognized authorities had neglected altogether this very important factor. A lively discussion followed and all present agreed to make individual investigations along this line. Dr. J. D. Kethley of Munday talked on "The Tait Method in Rhinoscapis."

Phillips-Quinn Nuptial Anonuncement Is Made

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Jessie Phillips to Francis Quinn which took place at Walters Saturday. The young couple were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Morrison. They will make their home in Wichita Falls. Mr. Quinn is a staff member of the KGKO orchestra.

Twentieth Century Club Entertained By Mrs. B. J. Shaw

Mrs. B. J. Shaw was hostess to members of the Twentieth Century club at her home Friday afternoon when Mrs. Walter Bachman conducted the discussion on the first half of George Eliot's "The Mill on the Floss." Mrs. F. P. Warren gave a paper depicting the character of George Eliot.

Following the social half hour refreshments were served to Mesdames W. L. Hawkins, Walter Bachman, R. I. Carter, E. B. Lehrack, C. E. Keaton, T. H. Lawson, A. B. Lipscomb, C. E. Naylor, B. J. Shaw, B. P. Williams, and guest, Mrs. Porter.

Prizes Offered for Campus Improvement

FREDERICK, Okla., April 4.—The Frederick's Woman's Chamber of Commerce has offered a $10 prize for the most attractive rural school campus in Tillman county for the fall of 1930. To encourage cultivation of Frederick's official flower, the phlox, a prize of $5 will be given for the most successful bed of phlox this fall.

The junior division awarded a $5 prize to Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Shout, 810 North Tenth street, for having the best looking vacant lot in 1929. During the summer and fall last year the Shouts had a lot which was beautified by nasturtiums, chrysanthemums and zinnias.

FIRE NEAR DUNCAN

DUNCAN, Okla., April 4. (UP)—Two residences were burned and a third was damaged in a fire at County Line shortly after noon today. The blaze was put under control after calls for aid had been sent to Healdton and Duncan. Loss had not been estimated.

Spring Luncheon At Forum Honors Unity Club Friday

Mrs. J. A. Kemp was the charming hostess to members of the Unity club at luncheon at the Woman's Forum clubhouse Friday at 1 o'clock. The spring motif was carried out in the table decorations and place cards.

A bowl of purple iris formed the centerpiece and place cards were decorated with iris and other spring flowers. Nut cups in the same shades were used.

Following the luncheon, Mrs. J. C. Hunt presided at a short business meeting after which the program on "Current Events" was enjoyed. Mrs. W. L. Robertson was leader for the lesson and Mrs. Carter McGregor gave an interesting paper on "The United States Supreme Court." Mrs. E. B. Gorsline discussed "The Radio" and Mrs. Robertson, "Aeronautics."

Covers were laid for Mesdames Carter McGregor, G. D. Anderson, A. H. Carrigan, W. J. Daugherty, E. B. Gorsline, J. C. Hunt, Carrie Joline, J. A. Kemp, O. E. Maer, C. Y. Tulley, W. N Maer, H. B. Herbert Kaufman's "NO HELP NEEDED" Daily Editorial

THE FIRST duty of congress is to conserve opportunity and insure livelihood for the present people of America. For the time being, there are several millions of our citizens and aliens who cannot procure work, and are more or less dependent upon their savings accounts or institutional assistance. A considerable number of these displaced workers will not be economically readjusted until merchandise and agricultural surpluses are absorbed, and alternative human occupations provided for the groups whose former tasks have been inherited by automata.

President Green of the federation of labor proposed continuous, instead of seasonal, engagement as the panacea. He considers it the social duty of industry and business to keep their help on the pay roll throughout the entire year. Mr. Green, of course, knows that the average of invested capital is barely sufficient to make both ends meet under the best of auspices and management.

His Utopian proposition is so obviously impractical that horse-sense and experience dismiss it at first glance.

Business must cut staffs and cloth according to its means and immediately prospective markets.

To saddle the support of unneeded clerks and workmen upon private enterprise would impose bankrupting burdens upon overhead and arbitrarily invest private responsibility with the equivalent of a dole system.

Paternalism is not a ward of trade, but of government. All in all, too much significance is being attached to a temporary derangement in the machinery of production, which must be periodically overhauled and redesigned to comply with the specifications of progress.

Consumption always reaches for brakes when commerce exceeds the speed limit, then tightens loose bolts, refills the gas tank and resumes its interrupted journey to fresh peaks.

A community can use just so much wheat, furniture, copper, steel, construction, fabrics and leather per annum.

When there's an excess of anything, satisfied appetite and larders cry halt, and proceed to digest sufficiencies.

The most that efficiency and wise administration may achieve, is an increase of fat years over lean and a wider promotion of thrifty practice to meet these emergencies as they episodically arise.

Meanwhile, we should cease pouring into over-filled buckets and suspend immigration until the slack in idleness is taken up and improved conditions make room for expansion of population which, at the moment, merely further to muddle the situation.

Every ship, emptying its steerage into Ellis island, is dumping more candidates for breadlines, soup kitchens and inevitable vagrancy.

We've trouble enough as it is, without importing any additional dilemmas from Europe.

THE BADGE OF IGNORANCE

PREJUDICE is the badge of ignorance. A man is responsible solely for his own acts. Generalization is unintelligent.

To sneer down an entire race augurs injustice and lack of common-sense. There are fine souls among every people. Genius, ability and charm are neither geographical nor ethnological monopolies.

Gentlemen belong to no particular sect, creed or breed. To brand a whole nation with inferiority stamps the critic as a bigot and a blatant ass.

DAVID BRANCH'S DAILY FILOSOFY

"He who takes himself too seriously is foolish."

The world can get along without any one of us. It is well to remember that there are those just behind us, ready to step into our places as soon as we have passed. And as we pass, we step into the places vacated by those just ahead of us, which makes it important that we be going in the right direction.

It is to be hoped that the fellow who proposed and was accepted by telephone got a good number. And there is no doubt that the girl told him, "Give me a ring soon, dear."

A poet says much of his work is inspired by his dog. Maybe that is how one poet was moved to write: "The hounds of spring are on winter's traces."

Looking at Ourselves

TRAVEL, if the old saying is to be believed, broadens the mind. This may be so and it may not; but one thing, at least, is sure. You can get a great deal more fun out of your travels if you put your mind in the right mood before you start out.

By that, of course, we simply mean that the traveler, be his journey long or short, sees only what he wants to see. If when he sets forth he gets in shape to see unpleasant things and disagreeable people he will see them in abundance; and if he prepares to see things that will delight him, he will be delighted.

Here's an illustration:

Suppose you start on a railroad journey of several hundred miles. During that journey your train will whirl you through miles of open country, through several large cities and through a multitude of small towns and villages. There will be stretches of open country that are monotonous and dreary, and there will be places that are almost disquieting in their beauty; and the picture that lodges the most deeply in your mind will depend chiefly on the kind of mind you have.

If you're feeling bored, dispirited and generally out of sorts with yourself and the rest of the world, you'll remember only the dull stretches. If you're feeling cheery, hopeful and contented you'll remember the beauty spots; more, you'll be able to see beauty even in the dull stretches.

The same thing holds good of the cities and towns. The outskirts of such places, especially along the railroad, are apt to be rather shabby and depressing; and if you're in the mood to notice such things especially, that'll be what you remember most clearly about your trip. But you'll also get glimpses of other things; tree-lined streets, comfortable and inviting houses, green yards where children play—and these things will stay by you if you give them a chance.

We see chiefly what we look for, at home or abroad. And when we come back from any kind of trip and complain that it was all very dull—dull country, ugly cities, unpleasant people—we're not describing our trip; we're more apt to be describing ourselves.

Millions to Texas Highway Construction

TEXAS LEADS all other states in area and mileage of designated highways and ranks fifth in population. For this very good reason the state will receive federal highway aid of approximately $50,000,000 additional available for the year from June 1930 to June 1931, and make the annual appropriation by the federal congress for the years 1932 and 1933, $125,000,000.

Texas received approximately six per cent of the total appropriation.

It goes without saying that the Texas highway department will be very busy for three years to come, and, lest we forget, the practical politicians who are scheming, for an elective commission of three or five should not be overlooked by the voters of Texas who believe in honesty in government and a dollar's worth of material or labor for every dollar paid out of the highway department treasury.

Care should be taken by the voters in the selection of candidates for senators and representatives at the July primaries. Give the seekers for legislative place the acid test. There's a way to do it.

Turkish Women Given the Ballot

NOW the Angora parliament has passed a law giving Turkish women the right to vote in municipal elections, and making them eligible to hold office as municipal counselors and presidents of municipalies. According to the government newspaper in Angora, the Turkish government will give women the full franchise with the right to sit in parliament.

This, according to the editor of the Turkish newspaper which is the mouthpiece of the government, "effaced the last vestige of the tyranny and ignorance of the old order." On the other hand the famous Turkish woman author, Kadrie Reshad, published a statement asserting that 99 per cent of the Turkish women had no idea what the suffrage movement was all about. Why should the lady growl about it? There are thousands of men and women in this greatest of republics who are as ignorant of governmental matters and constitutional government as the most benighted of the Turks.

American Women Need to Be Educated

"WE NEED to educate the American woman in management of incomes," remarked Howard E. Reed, a noted Pittsburgh financier to the head of a very important daily newspaper. And then, Financier Reed declared women spent $700,000,000 of a family pay roll on worthless securities last year. He did not blame the women; that is, he did not place all the blame on the fair sex. He said it was the fault of husbands and sons and brothers and fathers who do not take time to teach their women sound finance. He did not venture to suggest how much the women earned, but he did say the spent 85 per cent of the national pay envelope and, in 1929, they siphoned $150,000,000 from the savings deposits accumulated in 1928 and bought themselves unsound investments or luxuries on the installment plan.

Pete McKenzie on the March

A JURY in the court of Judge W. W. McCrory of Bexar county sat in judgment on the notorious Pete McKenzie. By a vote of 10 to 2, they decided that Pete is sane. Then the court ordered the malefactor back to the state asylum for the insane for another tryout by the alienists. Pete has two murders to his credit. He slew without provocation. This is a land of law and order. Now the alienists will give the culprit another acid test.

WALTER WINCHELL On Broadway

(Copyright, 1930, Daily Mirror, Inc.)

Man About Town

That sector on the Greenwich Village rim where The Rubaiyat blazed for a brief time is spooky again since the gendarmes remembered that there was a law. The Rubaiyat, to be sure, was a departure in late-places, attracting large crowds of Broadway loafers who came to slum and to be startled by Jean, the star comic, whose songs and flippancies would have shocked Mr. Summer, Mr. Capone and other censors.

Yet, the so-called "best people" made it an important port of call and the town dandies and their ladies wallowed in the refuse offered at the place and when the dive was scored in this pillar, letters came from men and women who begged to know: "Where is it located and how can we get in?" The bluecoats have stifled The Rubaiyat, however, not because of its brazen disregard of this or that, but because a hospital across the way complained of the revelers and the cab sirens.

However, "Jean," the entertainer, who can be clever without being vulgar, is now the star of The Club Abbey, on the site where La Guinan made her last stand in New York. He is better described as a "Bert Savoy" in male apparel and probably will pack the Abbey with the Park Ave. and Sutton Pl. citizens and other tony trade, which prefers Maupassant to McIntyre.

Several columns ago, in fact in 1926, we kidded the postage-stamp size dance floors in the night clubs, observing that women in sleeveless frocks could get their scratched by the diamonds worn by other foxtrotters. Not until yesternight, however, did we hear that such an accident happened.

Miss Carola Kip, one of the better-lookers, was rushed to a doctor from the Mayfair Room in the Ritz the other Saturday evening, after one of her shapely arms was severely cut by a large diamond while dancing on the capacity-choked floor. The arm still is blemished by the scar.

This is news, indeed, for Miss Kip was a stranger at the Mayfair, and we were always under the impression that the stage, screen and pseudo celebrities who gather there cut only their liquor and their friends.

His major aspiration was to produce his own show, but he starred in an off-stage drama, instead. He is not young any more, although he is a frisky fellow and he finds his fun where the bright bulbs are. In his youth he was a peddler and then turned to stage carpentering. His association with a prominent musical producer ripened and after serving the producer as a stage hand for many seasons the producer elevated him to one of his executive staff.

They say that whenever the producer put on a new attraction this aide hungered for the opportunity to put on a show himself. "Oh," he is supposed to have said, "If only I could promote enough coin, I'd show them all how to do it. I have ideas, too. I could produce a knockout instead of following the familiar formula."

Earlier this season the opportunity for which he longed arrived. A man with a mess of coin who wanted to crash the racket which offers so many pretty magdalens, came to the dreamer and offered money to put on a show. He quit his job and proceeded to fashion a production. Heavy sums were spent freely on handsome decorations, costumes, entertainers and so forth, and the ambitious old gent was happy, indeed.

Then he got himself tangled up with a chorus girl during rehearsals. Although thrice her years he was "living" again, never realizing that the lass was hitching her wagon to a star role and was using him in the Broadway manner. No matter, he loved her and she said that she loved him. What does it matter when a man forgets that a slip of the foot isn't as dangerous as a slip of a girl?

The gal cooed until he agreed to make her a principal player, but the backer's girl didn't approve, and the old fellow whose life-long ambition it was to produce his own show walked out on the job and took his "heart" with him. The backer engaged another director, of course, and the show went on.

Did the chorus girl, over whom he lost his momentary prestige and power, stick by him after he so nobly defended her, you query?

Well, then, we'll ask you one. How low is down?

Add engaging facts about the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus, due at the Garden April 7: Mrs. Con Colleano, blonde and beautiful frau of the wire wizard, is a direct descendant of the Earl of Derby . . . That Zacchini has so adjusted his huge cannon that he is hurled 20 feet farther through the air this year than in the past . . . That the circus band led by Merle Evans plays 130 cues at each performance . . . Charlie Webber, youthful clown, who is run over with the clown steam roller, is a lightweight prize fighter in the winter season and won nine fights in Florida, eight of them via the Carnera method . . . Lillian Leitzel's husband is Alfredo Codona, who appears in the show . . . 910 cubic yards of dirt are used to cover the arena of the Coliseum, where the circus now appears, and a like amount will be used in Madison Square Garden . . . The big troupe features 1,600 persons and 640 horses, and the daily pass list would almost fill any Broadway theater.

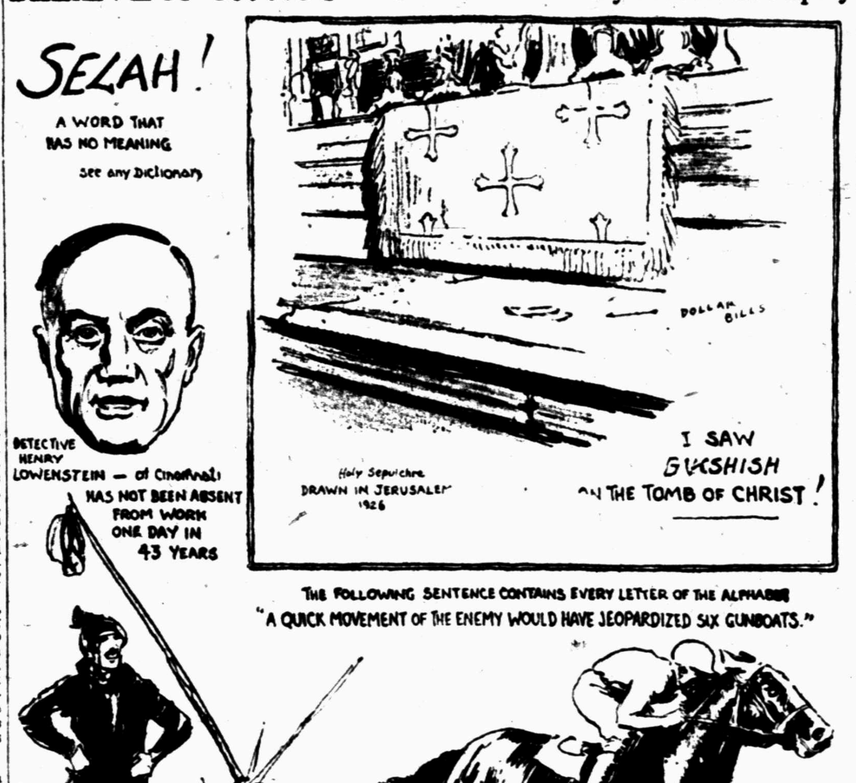

Radio-Phone Slip-Up Explained by Paper

BUENOS AIRES, April 4. (INS)—An explanation of President Irigoyen's failure to speak to President Hoover of the United States when the latter opened the radio-telephone service between North and South America with messages of good-will to the executives of various nations, appeared today in La Epoca, the government newspaper.

La Epoca declares that there was no intentional slight in the failure of Senior Irigoyen to talk, and denied earlier reports that he was prevented from talking to Mr. Hoover by illness.

It was merely a misunderstanding, the newspaper said, adding that the Argentine president was told he was to receive a message from Mr. Hoover yesterday and was to return the compliment today.

The Girl With The Red Hair by Rob Eden

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Gay Terris has agreed to marry her wealthy employer, Frank Patterson, whom she does not love, in payment for a loan of five thousand dollars to keep her mother in a sanitarium. Since making her contract, she has fallen in love with Patterson's nephew, Mark Loring, who believes she is marrying his uncle for his money. In order to earn an extra two hundred dollars for luxuries for her mother, Gay agrees to attend the Van Schley mask ball, impersonating a prominent society woman, Fania Crandall. A valuable necklace is reported stolen at the masquerade. Gay learns that Mrs. Crandall, who poses as a society woman, is a desperate crook. Through Paul Ladishaw, Fania's accomplice, Gay discovers that Fania stole the necklace, and is tempted to tell Andy Grant, a newspaper reporter and friend of hers, but refrains when Ladishaw warns her that for her own safety and his, she must keep silent. Loring comes to Gay, confesses his love and suggests they go to Patterson and ask for her release.

CHAPTER XXVII

They were alone, the three of them, Mark, Patterson and Gay. Mrs. Patterson had stepped out on the porch. Rather reluctantly, Gay thought, but then Mark had explained in his low tense voice that Gay and he wished to talk to Patterson alone.

Patterson was annoyed. He disliked being disturbed in the middle of a chess game, and especially disliked being disturbed by Mark Loring. A flush of deeper red spread over his florid face.

Mark was sitting in the place vacated by Mrs. Patterson, close to Gay. His elbow touched a pawn and knocked it over. Patterson put it back into place. He hated having his board messed up, and besides the game was only just begun, and he had every intention of finishing it after Mark left.

"Gay and I wanted to talk with you tonight," Mark began, "about giving Gay her freedom—"

Patterson's eyes narrowed until they were almost slits, and he looked at Mark sharply. However he said nothing.

"We—love each other, Uncle Frank. And I didn't understand until yesterday about—the bargain you and she had made. I'm sure you're going to be fair about letting her off, when she loves me. You would not hold her to that. There's the money, of course. That will be repaid. I'll sign notes covering everything you've paid out, the money that sent Mrs. Terris to Arizona, anything you want. You can ask as much interest as you want. I can't pay it at once—for I haven't the money, but I can make regular monthly payments—probably get the whole thing paid off in two years. We'll work it out together, make any arrangements you want." He stopped and looked at his uncle. He could tell nothing from his face, and Patterson said not a word.

The room was very quiet. There was only the quick tick of the banjo clock.

Mark took up his arguments again.

"Gay and I are young. We're in love. Gay was willing to go through with this marriage before—when she didn't realize she loved me. Now she can't. She can't marry a man she doesn't love—"

Patterson's eyes sought Gay's, and she spoke. "I love Mark, Mr. Patterson. He wanted to come to you alone, but I insisted on coming too, so I could tell you. You see, don't you?" If he would only say something! If he only wouldn't sit there, his hands idle on the board, his red face getting redder.

Mark upset another chessman and Patterson put it back, upright, ready to move.

Mark was getting panicky, too. He couldn't see why his uncle didn't say something. At least give him an answer. The room was getting on his nerves. His uncle was probably making up his mind.

"That's all we have to say," he finally announced, because he couldn't think of any other way to close the argument.

Still Frank Patterson said nothing.

"I said that was all we had to say!"

"Well, then you might go, if you've finished," Patterson said very quietly, too quietly, Gay thought. Her heart stood still, and her temples seemed to be bursting.

"I don't understand—" Mark was saying calmly.

"I told you to go!" Patterson had arisen, and pointed to the door. "You've interfered enough in my plans, and you're not to interfere any more."

"You mean?"

"I mean that Gay is going to marry me, and I'm not going to have any more of your kid foolishness. When I make up my mind to do a thing I do it. You'd no business talking to Gay, changing her plans when she was satisfied to marry me. Now, get out!"

Mark sat bewildered, and looked from Gay to his uncle. Tears were falling down the girl's cheeks, but there was no sound of weeping from her.

"It seems to me the matter's up to Gay—not you. She's to be consulted about this," Mark said acidly. He was angry but was trying to control his temper.

"Oh, Gay will marry me," Patterson said, smiling a hard smile. "Won't you, Gay?"

The girl didn't answer, she couldn't. It was too terrible. Patterson refusing to let her off. This awful scene . . .

"It was no light promise she gave me, Mark Loring. Quite her own fault for getting into this. Now she'll marry me! Why, my mother knows—only today I told some friends at the club—she's got to marry me!" Patterson spoke pompously. "Now, you'll go, and I don't want to see you again!"

Mark looked at Gay, and she lowered her eyes. It was true—everything Patterson had said. She had got herself into this . . .

"I'll go, now, but I'll be back!"

Gay saw him look at her, love in his eyes, saw him turn and run from the room. All her hopes gone. Everything . . . she hated Frank Patterson. Loathed him. She had never hated anyone before—like this. She couldn't marry him now—after this. Hating him like this. He was a beast! Worse than a beast . . .

Patterson addressed her abruptly. "I'm having no more of this nonsense, Gay. I thought you were wiser than this." Talking to her as if she were a child, scolding her. "Instead of waiting the rest of the month out, we'll be married

"Tomorrow!"

Tomorrow!

"Yes, tomorrow. I'll stay here tonight, and run into town in the morning for the license. I'm not going to be upset like this all the time."

Tomorrow!

"Perhaps you'd like to go to your room. Mother and I will finish the chess game."

After all that happened, he was going on with his game, Gay rose, and started upstairs. Patterson followed close behind her.

When they reached the door of her room, he caught her arm. "Of course I can't let you go, Gay? Don't you see? See my end of it! I love you, too. Love you much more than Mark loves you. With me, you'll have everything. Money, position—all that counts—"

All that counts except love—Gay thought bitterly as she wrenched her arm away, and stood facing him. Her face was deadly pale, and her lips were trembling. A few tears still fell unheeded down her cheeks.

"We'll leave right away for Europe—I'll have our passports hurried. We'll get away and stay for a long time. I need a vacation, haven't had one for years."

Tomorrow—

Finally she closed the door, and sank down on the bed. Tomorrow. Only tonight left. To send Mark away like that. Bid him go, as if he were a nuisance.

What could she do? But almost as she wondered, she flew to the door and looked for the key. It was gone, and she tried the knob. Locked from the outside! Patterson must have taken the key, while the door stood open!

Locked her in, like a child, a naughty child. She was furious now, as she stalked to the window. Too high to get out, for the ceilings in the old house were enormous. It was a sheer drop to the ground. She couldn't make it without breaking a leg—

Some footsteps outside. She knelt by the door and listened. Patterson was going into his room, Mrs. Patterson was going into hers. They were saying goodnight now—

Only one way left. The way she hated to take, but she must. Patterson with his pride wouldn't marry her then—

Should she do it?

She switched on the light, and reached for a paper and pen. A note to Andy would bring him in the morning. He would come with the police, and they would take her away.

Her fingers were steady as she penned the letter. "Dear Andy, I know who stole the Manners' diamonds at the Van Schyler ball. If you'll come to see me as soon as you can I'll tell you everything.—Gay." Then her address under her signature, carefully written so Andy would make no mistake.

The only way, for Patterson wouldn't marry her then. Mark? Mark would have to know sometime. She could explain to him, he would listen and believe her. The only way she could have Mark . . .

How muddled up things were!

Fania to consider. Had it been only this afternoon that Mrs. Crandall had been here? Already it seemed ages ago. Fania to worry about.

—I don't care—it's my life—to live—as I choose—

The police might not believe her story—Fania had hinted strongly that they wouldn't. They might think her an accomplice. It didn't matter. She would rather be in jail, anyway, than marry Frank Patterson.

Again she crept to the door to listen. The house was still. She had counted on Emma coming up, why she didn't know, but she was quite sure that the maid had listened to the conversation in the living room. However, Emma wouldn't come until both Frank and Mrs. Patterson were asleep. Emma had passed through the hall, when she had gone upstairs and had nodded pityingly.

She could slip the note to Emma through the door, whisper to her to take it to the Herald office. Take it herself. Emma would do that for her.

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

This is a special department devoted to the handling of inquiries. You have at your disposal an extensive organization in Washington to serve you in any capacity that relates to information. Write your question, your name, and your address clearly, and enclose two cents in coin or stamps for reply. Send to The Record News information bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C.

Q.—What is meant by a gaffer in a motion picture studio?—C. M.

A.—A gaffer is the chief electrician on a motion picture set.

Q.—What is the per capita consumption of ice cream in the United States?—I. R. N.

A.—In 1928 it was 2.90 gallons annually. This does not take into account ice cream that is made at home.

Q.—Where was Harper and Brothers located before moving to East Thirty-third street?—W. S.

A.—The firm was located at 331 Pearl street, New York City, for about 75 years, and moved to East Thirty-third street about five years ago.

Q.—What is a certain kind of preserve called bar-le-duc?—L. H. D.

A.—It was first manufactured in the French town of Bar-le-duc. It was then made from selected seeded whole white currants. Other fruits are now used in making this conserve.

Q.—What flowers and trees are in danger of extinction in the United States?—J. H. D.

A.—Some of them are: columbine in Colorado, trailing arbutus in Middle West, trillium and fringed gentian throughout the United States, holly through the South, and dogwood, particularly in the Eastern and Middle Atlantic states.

Q.—What were the emblems of the Federalist and Whig parties?—F. D.

A.—Research does not reveal the continued use of the same emblems by the Federalist and Whig political parties. The Black Cockade worn on the hat was an emblem adopted by the Federalists during the troubles with France in 1798. Black Cockade Federalist was a term of reproach applied to members of the party during the days of its decline. The Whigs were sometimes called Snuff-Takers. Other names used particularly in illustrations were Cotton Whigs and Free-Soil party. This latter term was also applied to the later Democrats and Liberty party. In the Whigs famous "Hoopla" campaign in 1840 there were torchlight processions carrying a miniature log cabin, a barrel of hard cider near the door with a pet raccoon chained to the roof.

Q.—Will the treasury call in the old paper currency of the larger size?—N. N.

A.—The treasury will not call in the large size paper currency, but as it becomes worn it will be replaced by new bills.

Q.—Please give some data about Henri Faust, author of Halftones and Overtures which won the Yale prize this year.—G. H.

A.—The Yale University Press says that Henri Faust is a resident of Monticello, Ark. His poetry has been appearing in various periodicals for the past six years. In 1928 he won the southern prize awarded annually by the Poetry society of South Carolina. His work has won the praise of such men as Donald Davidson, Harold Vinal, John McClure, Charles J. Finger and others.

Q.—When was the American flag first unfuried on land?—C. D. L.

A.—It was first used in the fight at Gooch's Bridge, Del., in September, 1777.

Q.—How many people does it take to handle the applications for patents?—E. V.

A.—In the patent office there are 62 devisions with eight to ten examiners in each division. More than a thousand applications for patents are received a day.

Q.—How far is Monte Carlo from Paris?—H. C. C.

A.—It is about 687 miles.

Q.—What does the magic word abracadabra mean?—D. A. S.

A.—It is supposed to be derived from Abrascas and was used as an incantation against fevers, inflammation and agues, according to the earliest known authority, Serenus Sammonicas, agnostic and physician in the second century to the Emperor Caracalla (Marcus Aurelius). Serenus prescribed that the word be written in the form of an inverted cone, the paper to be folded in the form of a cross and worn on a linen band as an amulet for nine days and then before sunrise thrown backward into a stream flowing east. This procedure made the spirit of the disease lose its hold on the patient.

Q.—In reshingling a roof is it advisable to lay the shingles over the old ones, or should they be removed?—W. A. R.

A.—The bureau of standards says in general it is advisable to apply new wood shingles over the old. All loose shingles should be securely nailed, protruding nails driven in, and warped edges of shingles cut off with a chisel, to make the surface as uniform as possible. To obtain a neat job and to retain good roof lines, cut away a few inches of the old shingles at the eaves and gables and lay in, where they are cut away, a furring strip, or batten, to hide the sides and butts of the old shingles.

The Record News Offers Its Readers a Booklet On Homes for Birds

The season is at hand for building or putting out nest-boxes for birds; also for repairing and cleansing the houses that you put out last year or the year before.

Send for a copy of the government booklet, Homes for Birds, which tells about the houses—how to make them, the type for each kind of bird that can be attracted to them, where to place them, how to protect them, and how to take care of them.

Use this coupon:

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Questions in regard to health and diet will be answered by Dr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper.

(Copyright, 1930, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Doctor McCoy's menus suggested for the week beginning Monday, April 6:

Sunday—Breakfast: Eight-ounce glass of orange juice 30 minutes before breakfast, coddled eggs, Melba toast. Lunch: Potato on the half shell, string beans, salad of lettuce with olive oil dressing. Dinner: Tomato jelly served in cubes in bouillon cups, roast pork, spinach, escalloped celery, salad of tomatoes and parsley, baked apple.

Monday—Breakfast: Cottage cheese and sliced pineapple, Melba toast if desired. Lunch: Buttered beets, squash, salad of chopped raw cabbage. Dinner: Vegetable soup, broiled steak, cooked beet tops, eggplant, salad of stuffed beets, cup custard.

Tuesday—Breakfast: French omelet, small piece of broiled ham, Melba toast, applesauce. Lunch: One pint of buttermilk with 10 or 12 dates. Dinner: Roast mutton, baked small turnips and carrots grated together without removing the peel, green peas (canned), salad of shredded lettuce, apricot whip.

Wednesday—Breakfast: Waffles (browned through) coddled eggs, stewed prunes. Lunch: Stewed corn, cooked lettuce, ripe olives. Dinner: Baked chicken, *stuffed cucumbers, string bean salad, Jell-o or Jell-well with whipped cream.

Thursday—Breakfast: Poached eggs on toasted Shredded Wheat biscuit, pear sauce. Lunch: Glass of grapejuice. Dinner: Vegetable soup, Salisbury steak, cooked tomatoes, spinach, celery, pineapple snow.

Friday—Breakfast: Wholewheat muffins, peanut butter, stewed prunes. Lunch: Generous dish of junket, and 1 or 2 apples. Dinner: Tomato and celery broth, baked white fish, cooked turnips with the tops, salad of small green peas and chopped celery molded in gelatin, raspberry whip.

Saturday—Breakfast: Baked eggs Melba toast, stewed figs. Lunch: Cornbread, spinach, raw celery. Dinner: Broiled lamb chops, asparagus, baked ground beets, salad of head lettuce with peanut butter dressing, carrot and date pudding.

*Stuffed cucumbers: Select cucumbers of medium size, peel, and cut into halves lengthwise. Scrape out seeds and place shells in a pan with enough water to simmer for about five minutes. Drain, and fill the shells with a stuffing made of chopped mushrooms and tomatoes. Sprinkle with Melba toast crumbs, and bake until tender in a moderate oven—about 40 minutes. Serve hot with butter and chopped parsley.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question—Mrs. J. P. M. asks: "Will you please give me the symptoms of cancer of the breast and whether probable that one as young as 26 would have one, never having had any children?"

Answer: Some of the early symptoms are sharp pains through the breast and in the region of the armpits, also the formation of lumps or tumors. Cancers of different parts of the body may occur with even young children, frequently at your age, but, of course, more frequently after 40. In the early stages of cancer of the breast it is difficult to distinguish this serious trouble from mastitis, which means simply a lumpy breast. A careful diagnosis is important, but even in the case where the cancer is suspected the first treatment should be designed to relieve the breast congestion and every effort should be made to increase circulation through the parts affected. A fruit fast for a week or 10 days will help in clearing up the diagnosis, as many cases with quite distressing symptoms will completely change in the first week of a fast, and a condition thought to be cancerous often proves to be only simple mastitis.

Sighing

Question—Mrs. E. H. asks: "What is the cause of deep sighing? I am troubled with bronchitis and gassy stomach, and very short of breath. Would that be the reason, or is it from a heart trouble?"

Answer: The one who sighs a great deal has a symptom which indicates that he has a limited breathing capacity and is not getting enough air into his lungs. If the stomach is over-distended with gas it will keep the diaphragm from working freely and this alone could cause one to sight. The same patient with the flatulence may have heart trouble from the same cause.

Congress Mothers Called for April 8-10

Special to The Record News

STAMFORD, Texas, April 4.—Arrangements for the second annual conference of the 14th district of the Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher association, to be held here April 8-10, are practically complete, according to Mrs. E. F. Bunkley, chairman of the general committee.

In addition to a three-day business program on which numerous subjects of general interest will be discussed and addresses given by a number of prominent social service authorities, there will be a varied entertainment program provided by local organizations.

Among the specialists who will speak during the convention will be Boyd M. McKeown, dean of McMurry college, Abilene; Dr. Paul W. Horn, president Texas Technological college, Lubbock; Mrs. Stephen Chamness, Austin, state executive secretary of the Congress of Mothers and P.-T. A.; Dr. D. M. Wiggins, Simmons university, Abilene, and Judge James P. Stinson, Abilene.

Bond Issues Carry In Tipton Election

Special to The Record News

FREDERICK, Okla., April 4.—Both bond propositions voted on at Tipton this week carried overwhelmingly. The $15,000 sewer bond issue carried 118 to 12. The funds will be used to build a line from the present disposal plant, three and one-half miles west of Tipton, to empty into North Fork of Red river. The $5,000 water works extension question carried 101 to 18. This will enable citizens in the southeast part of Tipton to be served with city water.

Although Tuesday was the day for the regular election in all Oklahoma cities, no election was held anywhere else in the county, all the present officers holding over.

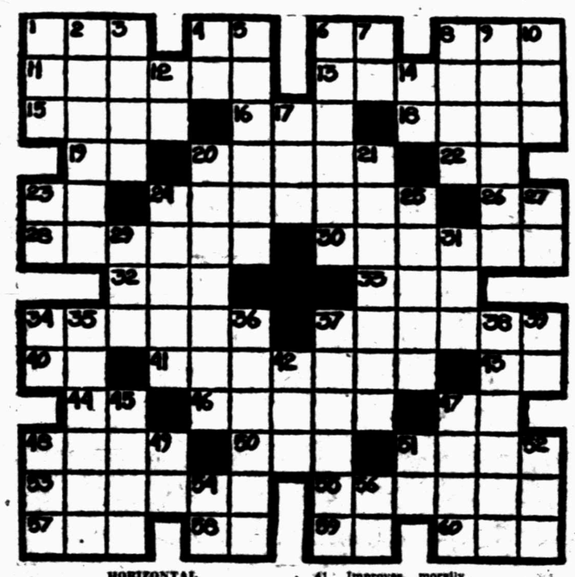

Frederick Lions Club To Give Easter Hunt

Special to The Record News

FREDERICK, Okla., April 4.—In line with the policy of former years the Frederick Lions club will again sponsor and Easter egg hunt this year. Arrangements will be in charge of the boys' work committee.

The regular meeting this week was in charge of Allen Davidson, chairman of the civic committee. He introduced these four officers of the Frederick Hi-Y, each one speaking briefly: John Wilson Jr., president; Delmer Hollman, president-elect; "Doc" Cole, vice president; Winford Davidson, treasurer.

CONTENTMENT

I can now go back to the old homestead,
Back to the plow and the spade
Back to the fields and the old hen house
Where egg upon egg is laid;
Back to the trough where the swine imbibe
Back to the cow lot's shade
With not a whimper and no one to chide;
I've seen the mighty Babe.

The Spudder powers believe in doing everything possible for men released from the training camp this year, especially since many releases go to men of ability who cannot be retained on account of the enormous squad Skipper Williams has to handle. This was evidenced Friday when the local office landed a berth on the Muskogee club for Phil Wagoner, pitcher from Philadelphia who several days ago was given his unconditional release.

There was nothing especially wrong with Wagoner's pitching, considering that he was given only about a week in which to condition. It is impossible for a pitcher, of all players, to get in shape in such a short period. Wagoner was doing as well as the next man, considering his handicap, but he had to go owing to the extraordinary number of hurlers here this year.

An example of how a sudden change from the North to the Wichita Falls tropics handicaps a pitcher and requires several weeks for acclimitization was seen here last week in Roland Flinn. Flinn, who is still with the squad, was handicapped in the same manner as Wagoner. It took him two weeks to get in condition, but when he did, his hurling was noticeably better.

CHURCH NEWS

Services at the First Methodist church will be held as usual Sunday, Guy Airey, secretary of Wichita Falls baseball club, and The Rev. Dr. S. S. McKenney, pastor of the church, agreed Friday.

But for a while the matter was in doubt. For The Rev. Dr. McKenney, who likes a good baseball game as well as the next man, lost the keys to the church building Thursday when he attended the Spudder-Yankee game.

Friday morning The Rev. Dr. McKenney called Mr. Airey on the telephone and suggested they both go down to the orchard and instigate a search for the keys. The result of such a search, The Rev. Dr. McKenney said, would have a tremendous effect, inasmuch as he had no other keys to the church.

But Secretary Airey's efficient corps of handlers down at the orchard had found the keys almost as soon as the pastor lost 'em, and Secretary Airey delivered them to their owner. And The Rev. Dr. McKenney gave Secretary Airey a stick of chewing gum as a reward.

Word from Shreveport is that the Sports will leave there Monday night, arriving here Tuesday about noon. The squad will go through a good workout at the lot Tuesday to get in condition for the opening game Wednesday.

The orchard was all but deserted Friday, with the majority of the players on the way to Oklahoma City. What few were left, including White, Cromer, Defate, Harris, Burrows, Illia and Galeria, went through a brisk infield workout in the afternoon.

With the Yankee game off his hands, Manager Williams is now faced with the two-day ordeal at Oklahoma City Saturday and Sunday; and with those final exhibition games over, two days of preparation for the opening day game next Wednesday with Shreveport will remain. Many hours of hard work will be crowded into these few days before the season opens, and between the hours of labor on the field will be crowded periods of skull practice. It's tough work. But Carl has a system about his work, and it is a system that likely will result in his sending a thoroughly efficient team against the Sports.

Try It Once

Mrs. J. R. Jarboe, of 1307 Buchanan street, one of the more promising women golfers of the city, toured the first nine holes at the country club course Friday afternoon in 38, one over par. Mrs. Jarboe started late in the afternoon and darkness prevented her going the remaining nine holes.

The spring training grind for the Wichita Falls High school Coyotes continues daily on the school field. Coach Barry Holton dropped in the other day with the news that the training period will continue until about the end of the school term, and that he is pleased with the showing of his candidates.

The high school here has seen Holton work only one season. It takes about that long for a coach to get used to his new material, and for the athletes to become thoroughly acquainted with their new mentor. The 1930 football season in all probability will see Holton's efforts bringing forth their most colorful results.

Cubs' Pitcher Files For Marriage License

LOS ANGELES, April 4. (AP)—Henry Grampp Jr., Chicago Cubs pitcher, took time out in his spring baseball appearances with the National league champions to file an application for a marriage license today.

Accompanying the 22-year-old hurler to the hall of records was Miss Elaine Hammond, who gave her age as 18. Grampp said he met Miss Hammond at Catalina Island, her home, during the Cubs spring training last year.

GREAT TURNOUT HERE PRAISED

Spudders Play Oklahoma City Team Today

Babe Ruth and the rest of Bob Shawkey's circus which troops under the banner of the New York American league Yankees, may play once again in Wichita Falls in next year's exhibition series, Guy Airey, secretary of the Spudder ball club, said Friday.

The Yankee powers, according to Mr. Airey, were frankly enthusiastic over the manner in which Northwest Texans and Southwest Oklahomans turned out for the big show here last Thursday, when the Spudders defeated the Yanks 9 to 6 before 8,635 fans, the largest crowd that has witnessed a ball game here since the playoff of the Dixie championship series here in 1927.

So impressed was Secretary Roth of the Yanks' business staff that the latter made a statement to Mr. Airey, declaring that in all probability Wichita Falls will be included in the 1931 itinerary of the Shawkeymen.

Tickets for the opening game of the Texas league season here next Wednesday between the Wichita Falls Spudders and the Shreveport Sports will go on sale at 9 o'clock Sunday morning at Renfro's Drug store, Guy Airey, secretary of the Spudders, announced Friday. No reservations will be made, Mr. Airey said.

The Spudder secretary further advised fans who hold boxes with only four seats that additional seats may be placed in the boxes only by special arrangement with the club. The office of the secretary will be glad to make such arrangements with holders of the tickets, if they desire, Mr. Airey said.

The Spudders, keyed to a high pitch over their victory in Thursday's game, left the home lot Friday morning for Oklahoma City, where Saturday and Sunday they engage the Oklahoma City Western leaguers. In this final exhibition series before the opening of the Texas league season here next Wednesday Manager Carl Williams intends to use three pitchers, Wiltse Stengrafe and Smith. Others, of course, may be ushered in. Manager Williams, however, planned to use Wiltse the full nine innings in Saturday's game, and Steengrafe and Smith in the Sunday clash.

A squad of 19 men made the trip to Oklahoma City. The remainder of the lineup for the two games is not expected to differ from that which went into action against the Yankees.

UNDEFEATED SOONERS AWAIT SPUDDERS

Special to The Record News

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 4.—Undefeated in exhibition games so far this spring, the Oklahoma City Indians have their veteran pitchers groomed for the two-game series with Wichita Falls Saturday and Sunday. The Indians have played four games, all with the Topeka club, formerly Tulsa, of the Western circuit, and the Kansans have not scratched.

In an effort to continue the string of victories, Owner Jack Holland, who is handling the club while Pete Groft, manager and catcher, is incapacitated, will send Frank Tubbs, iron man of the Western league, at the Spudders Saturday. Tubbs has not worked in a game this spring so he should be rarin' to go.

Fans Eager

Because of the old Tulsa element on the Wichita Falls club, local fans are more interested in the series than they would be under ordinary conditions.

So are the veterans of the Indian team, Tubbs, Guppy, Hall, Clift, Brower, Fitzpatrick and so on, who will be out there with all they have in an attempt to send Burns, Storti, Levey and Euller, erstwhile Tulsans, back to the bench without their base knocks.

Only two regulars of last year's team which finished second in the Western will be absent when the Indians and Spudders clash. They are Bill Herring, pitcher now with the Detroit Americans, and Jack Saltzgaver, second baseman now with St. Paul.

Guppy Crippled

Chester Guppy, slugging outfielder, is crippled and Groft is sick, both being definitely out of the Spudder frays, but the Indians have a wealth of young and very promising reserve material.

The probable Oklahoma City lineup: Lewis, center field; Brower, second base; Lowell, first base; Hall, right field; Kroner, third base; Brown, left field; Sedbrook or McMahon, short stop; Holland, catcher; Tubbs, pitcher.

Four Race Horses Die in Stable Fire

NEW ORLEANS, April 4. (INS)—Four race horses, valued at about $5,000 were burned to death today when fire of unknown origin destroyed barn No. 8 on the Jefferson race track here.

Three of the horses—Frances Rock, War Hawk, and Happy Bob, belonging to the Jack Bishop stable. The fourth horse, a 2-year-old, was not identified a short while after the fire.

Ginnell Racqueteers Defeat Texas A. & M.

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, April 4. (AP)—Led by Jones, ranking Grinnell racqueteer, Grinnell college took two of three matches from Texas A. & M. college netters here today. Jones defeated Storey, No. 1 Aggie player, 6-1, 6-3, and with Kent, Grinnell No. 2 player, won a doubles match from Storey and O'Bannon, 6-3, 6-4. O'Bannon defeated Kent, 6-1, 6-3, for the Aggies' only match.

Bracey Races Leland At Houston Today

HOUSTON, April 4. (AP)—Claude Bracey of Rice, who won acclaim because of his winged feet, here tomorrow afternoon faces the big test of his career. He meets Cy Leland. The two have met four times this spring and four times Bracey has been forced to eat the dust from Leland's flying feet.

The Spudders' 'Mystery Man'

Larry Bettencourt, slugger, infielder, outfielder, catcher and what have you, is all of them these days. His fate is shrouded in mystery. Skipper Williams apparently was going to make him the utility man when the training season opened, but surprised fans by placing him behind the bat. And then everyone was dumbfounded when Larry started trodding about in the right garden. Where he will go from there, if anywhere, no one knows. But wherever he performs, he will add a star to the firmament.

Baseball Officials and Scribes At Gardner Dinner 'In Spirit'

Telegrams and messages of congratulation by the scores were read at the chamber of commerce testimonial banquet in honor of J. Alvin Gardner, president of the Texas league, Friday evening at the Wichita club. Chief among the telegrams was that from Kenesaw Mountain Landis, national baseball commissioner, which is printed in full in the news account of the banquet in this issue. In addition messages, addressed either to the athletic committee of the chamber of commerce, or direct to Mr. Gardner, were received from many Texas league baseball club owners, officials, and sports writers. Among them were the following:

Julius Schepps, Dallas: "Wish to assure you that those that know you think just as much of you as your fellow citizens. Hoping that the best of luck is the worst you ever have."

W. L. Todd Sloan, Houston: "Please accept my congratulations and best wishes."

O. L. Biedenharn, Shreveport, La.: "Regret exceedingly unable come on this short notice to Alvin Gardner dinner. I think this fine thing to do and conscientiously say Alvin deserves any honor you may confer. Shreveport citizens as well as myself admire Alvin and have perfect confidence in his integrity and ability."

Fred N. Ankenman, Houston: "Although I would like very much to attend on this occasion, owing to the fact that it would take me away from Houston both Friday and Saturday at which time Pittsburg plays in Houston I am afraid it will be almost impossible for me to attend. This will be quite a disappointment to me because I consider Alvin one of my best friends and I certainly regret the impossibility of my being able to be there."

Homer Hammond, San Antonio: "It is with deep regret that I will not be able to attend the testimonial banquet given in your honor today but I want you to know I am with you in spirit. Please advise the chairman that no one else would rather be there than myself. Best of regards."

T. E. Conner Jr., San Antonio: "My personal opinion is that Alvin will be the best president that the Texas league has ever boasted. He is a man among men, and a 'square shooter' first, last and all the time. I wish there were more of his type in this world, for it would then be a much better place in which to live. Long may he prosper."

Charles A. Mangold and Rube Stuart, Dallas: "Regret that we cannot be with you to honor that grand old man, J. Alvin Gardner. We baseball fans think he is the greatest president the Texas league has ever been honored with. Our best wishes and a long and happy life to him."

Harold Scherwitz, San Antonio Light: "Any league lucky enough to have a man of Alvin Gardner's caliber, ability and personality to step into Doak Roberts' shoes cannot help but succeed. I believe this year that Gardner, through his winning personality, wide friendship and fan confidence will vie with star ball players in drawing patronage to the parks."

Otis Harris, Shreveport Journal: "Please read following message: Best wishes for a successful administration."

Pop Boone, Fort Worth Press: "From what I've seen of tonight's honoree, he is the answer to the sports editors' prayer in the way of a league president."

George W. White, Dallas News: "Am sure that J. Alvin Gardner has the sincere good wishes of sports' writers throughout the Texas league in his new position as president. I feel that I am expressing their unanimous opinion in congratulating not only him but ourselves on the fact that instead of leaving us as might have been feared last fall he remains in our association in a higher capacity. We are very fortunate in having in him a very brilliant baseball man of high character, foresight and progressive ideas who can see the newspaper man's side of the game and vision in them friends instead of enemies. Sincerely regret that shortage of help here prevents my being present at dinner in his honor."

Kern Tips, Houston Chronicle: "The first thing that impressed me about Alvin Gardner was his quick friendliness, sincere desire to cooperate, and ready reception of suggestions. If there is one thing that tickles a sports writer's egotism, it is to find some one who gives an ear to his nutty notions on how to conduct a baseball league.

"Whether or not Alvin ever takes to heart what the sports scribes are saying, he has made a friend of everyone of them by appearing to be duly impressed with what they have to say. Make a sports writer feel that he is being listened to, and there is no limit to the flowery phrases of praise that he can resurrect.

"Mr. Gardner has had the contact with the players, the fans and the moguls since he has been identified with the game. He is a practical baseball man who has not let his experiences sour him on any phase of the sport. I want to check and double check Alvin Gardner as president of the Texas league and a friend of beleaguered sports writers."

Jere Hayes, Dallas Times Herald: "Sorry am unable to attend Gardner banquet. They don't make 'em any better than J. Alvin and I'd like to be on hand to tell 'em personally. Will you please express my regrets for not being able to attend."

Lloyd Gregory, Huoston Post-Dispatch: "As far as the sports writers are concerned, Alvin Gardner can be president of the Texas league from now on out. It can be truly said of Mr. Gardner that he is now in baseball because he believes he can be of service to the great national game.

"Baseball can use many more gentlemen of his type."

Bill Scurlock, Beaumont Journal: "Congratulations and greeting to you on this gala occasion. The Texas league is fortunate in the wisdom of its choice of you as a leader, for baseball players, managers, fans and sport writers all of the country know you as a wonderful man personally. Kind and considerate and a real baseball executive. Down here in Beaumont we are going around with our chests all stuck out with pride because we still claim you as a Beaumonter though Wichita Falls has adopted you. We wish for you a most successful season as president of the Texas league and we know that you will be wise and just in all of your decisions. Again let me congratulate you and assure you that Beaumont Journal is one of your warmest supporters and will stand behind you in all of your undertakings."

Flem Hall and Ned Record, Fort Worth: "Open door policy of Mr. Gardner made him a big winner with all sports writers from the start. He tells you everything, then tries to find out more for you. If all presidents were like Gardner, baseball would be better and the world would be a pleasanter place for sports writers. Sorry we can't be there. Congratulations to him and to Wichita Falls and to Texas for the choice of president. How about shorter games and double pay for double-headers?"

Vin Burke, Beaumont: "Naturally Beaumont welcomes Alvin Gardner to the presidency for it was here as a youngster he developed his fondness for baseball. But above this native-son feeling is the desire to see a fair, intelligent, upright gentleman succeed in his new undertaking. We believe his sterling qualities will make their inspression on every activity of the Texas league; indeed, have already done so. Our felicitations to the finest president of the best minor league in baseball."

Joe R. Carter, Shreveport Times: "Ability and personality gives the Texas league a splendid leader in president Alvin Gardner. May his term of office be a successful one."

Jinx Tucker, Waco: "Whatever Wichita Falls does or can do to honor Alvin Gardner it will not be enough. While it is impossible to be present, it is with supreme pleasure that we waft our most sincere congratulations to Wichita Falls' leading sportsman, to the man who has done the most to make baseball in Wichita Falls possible and popular, and to the man who promises to do much for baseball as president of the Texas league. The sports writers respect a sportsman who can also be a gentleman and a man. Therefore they love Alvin Gardner and if his regime as president of the Texas league is to be determined by the attitude of this scribe and others throughout the state, its success will know no bounds. We congratulate Wichita Falls in being fortunate enough to have as its citizen a man such as is Alvin Gardner."

Shawkey's Yanks Defeat Cats, 10-6

FORT WORTH, April 4. (AP)—The New York Yankees continued their parade through minor league opposition today with a 10 to 6 victory over Fort Worth of the Texas league.

While Pennock and Pipgras were scattering the Texans' 12 hits in all but the sixth inning, the Yankees pounded three hurlers for 14 safeties. Babe Ruth's contribution to team's victory consisted of a double in the first inning. On his other appearances at the plate he struck out twice, grounded out another time and was safe on an error on his fifth time at bat.

RICE BEATS LONGHORNS

AUSTIN, April 4. (AP)—The Rice institute defeated the University of Texas, 3 to 2 today in the opening baseball conference game for the Longhorns.

From 'Former Spuds'

"This was one of the best in the whole bunch," said Mr. Gardner after the banquet, as he fingered a telegram signed "Former Spuds," It read as follows: "Jenkins, Stanton, Cobb, Buvid, Hopkins, Turgeon, Benton, Lamb, former spuds, wish to join fans of Wichita Falls in their testimonial dinner to Mr. Gardner. Kindly extend our best wishes."

The first seven named are now with Mobile. Milwaukee played Mobile at Mobile Friday, and the former spuds apparently got together on the message.

KURTZ GAINS IN SINGLES

Four Shifts of Matches to Be Played Today

Bowlers Christe and Riesen of the Kruger Jewelry company team went into first place in the doubles in the city championship bowling tournament at the Spudder alley Friday night by defeating the McGregor-Flake team, 1,213 to 1,205. Art Kurtz of the Buick team, took the lead in all events with 1,833 pins to his credit. Kurtz rolled 632 in the singles to go into second place, lacking one pin of tying the mark of 633 set two nights ago by William E. Huff. The tournament will be resumed Saturday with four shifts of singles and doubles, beginning at 3:30 o'clock. The matches Friday were played in three shifts beginning at 5 o'clock. Red Sox Count on Reconstruction To Restore Past Glories to Boston

Wagner and Quinn Convinced Team Is Already Far Along On Comeback Trail

(This is one of a series of first hand Associated Press stories on major league baseball prospects.)

By BRIAN BELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

PENSACOLA, Fla., April 4.—The Boston Red Sox may not win the American league championship in 1930, but they will win some games from the team that does capture the pennant and make themselves very disagreeable during the season.

The Sox have a long, hard baseball road to travel but they may be said to be definitely on the way. President Bob Quinn and Manager Heinie Wagner are convinced that the reconstruction program is finally launched. They believe the comeback trail will have its start this year, that with a little luck the team in the making will annoy the other clubs, and an even more daring hope—that upon this foundation will be built a beball machine capable of restoring to Boston the glory that was hers when the Red Sox not only dominated pennant races, but world series as well.

Mostly Young Players

Of 37 players in the camp, 31 are under 30 years of age. Eighteen are not yet 25. The oldest player is Milton Gaston, a hard pitcher to beat, who is 32, and the youngest Joe Cicero, a boy with a wallop in his bat, who is only 19. The club promises, however, to be well balanced with a good mixture of the experience of age and the enthusiasm of youth. The pitchers have been around long enough to know what it is all about and a raw youngster in the lineup will have an old head in baseball close beside him.

Pitching was not the worry of the Sox last year and the capable staff of 1929 has been returned in a body. Ed Morris, who broke even in games won and lost in a team hopelessly in last, heads the group with Charlie Ruffing, who finished strong after losing his first 12 games, working hard to make a repetition of this tragedy out of the question. Gaston, Danny MacFayden and Jack Russell are other starting pitchers.

There seems to be a wealth of material from which to complete the staff. Billy Bayne, Edgar Carroll, and Ray Dobens tied briefly last year and Horace Lizenbee whose arm flopped without warning, are candidates. George Smith, former Detroit pitchar drafted from Seattle, and Ed Durham, recalled from Pittsfield, are adding zest to the fight for places, as is Frank Mulrooney, another Pittsfield product.

Shields Comes Back

Ben Shields, the former Yankee lefthander, forced into retirement by illness four years ago, is attempting to come back.

Charlie Berry and John Heving probably will do most of the catching with a contest between Bob Asbjorson and Eddie Connolly for the third place.

Manager Wagner does not know how he will send his forces into battle arrayed for the opening skirmish but he does know he will retain the services of eight infielders and six outfielders until he has to reduce to 25 players June 15.

He has two complete infields in Phil Todt, Bill Regan, Harold Rhyne and Bobby Reeves on one side and Bill Sweeney, Otis Miller, Bill Nariesky and Ernie Holman on the other. Both first basemen will be retained. Selection of the other two extra infielders may remain in doubt for some time.

The starting outfield lineup may be Russell Scarritt, a star in his first season, in left, Tom Oliver, drafted by the Athletics from Little Rock in center, and Jack Rothrock, one of baseball's fastest runners, in right. And then, again it may not. Joe Cicero, the youngster who is believed to be a .300 hitter in any league, John T. Winesett, a giant in stature, although only a youth in years, who hit .346 for Mobile, and Bill Barrett, the former White Sox, will try desperately to break in.

SENATORS MAY PROVE PUZZLE

No Team Has Chance to Go Higher, or Lower

BILOXI, Miss., April 4. (AP)—Washington's Senators may prove the puzzle of the American league. If the baseball fates are kind to Walter Johnson and his team, they have a chance to be in the race. If everything goes wrong, as it sometimes does in baseball, the Senators may finish last. Perhaps no club in the circuit has a greater chance to go farther in each direction.

Leon Goslin, wild goose of the Potomac, until last season carried the punch of the club. In 1929 his bat was impotent and the Senators had no clean-up hitter. If he remains out of the fold or fails to regain the batting power that placed him at the top of the league in 1928, the Senators will have to make arrangements to hold the opposition to a minimum of runs.

Other Gardners

The two Sams, West and Rice, will play the other fields, with George Loepp, former Oriole player, in the role of reservist. Rice, one of the marvels of baseball, is nearly 40 years of age, but has 20-year-old legs and there is no better hitter in the lineup.

Another great young-old player is Captain Joe Judge, who again will play first base. Joe laughs at the advancing years and continues to be ranked in the front ranks of first basemen. Buddy Myer, a fast runner and hard hitter, after a series of experiments at three of the four infield positions and the outfield seems to have found his spot at second base. Joe Cronin will start at shortstop with Ossie Bluege again stationed at third base.

Minter Hayer, another Alabama contribution to major league baseball, can field with any of his colleagues. James McLeod, up from Little Rock, will be the other extra infielder.

Manager Walter Johnson, who has won the right to be heard with respect in any discussion of pitchers, is fully satisfied with his staff. Eight are holdovers from the 1929 campaign and probably only nine will be carried through the season.

Veteran Hurlers

The veterans are headed by Fred Marberry, former star relief man, now one of the best right-handers in the league. Sam Jones, who knows how, Irving Hadley, Brown university product, who should some day be a great pitcher, and Garland Braxton, the left-hander who had succeeded Marberry as one of the game's brilliant performers.

The Washington board of strategy expects great things this season from Lloyd Brown, a slim southpaw, who has a world of stuff and Ad Liska, an under-handed right-hander, who could not get started last season. Myles Thomas, the former Yankee, and Bob Burke, a tall left-hander, complete the holdovers.

Of the new crop of pitchers, Carlos Moore, a big fellow who was with Birmingham in 1929, seems to have the best chance to remain.

Muddy Ruel, another great veteran in a class with Rice and Judge, able to hold his own with the youngsters in spite of 15 hard baseball campaigns behind him, heads the catching staff with Benny Tate, a good hitter, as a co-star. If Spencer fails to come in, an opening may be left for Gordon Phelps, a young semi-pro.

Hornsby to Ask Aid of Specialist

LOS ANGELES, April 4. (AP)—Rogers Hornsby, out of the Chicago lineup for several days with a sore heel, said today he would leave for Chicago to have his foot cared for by a specialist there. He denied that the condition was serious, and said he probably would meet the club at Kansas City.

President W. L. Veeck said Manager Joe McCarthy had told him in a telephone conversation that Hornsby could accomplish nothing in training and suggested the athlete return to Chicago for medical attention.

"Hornsby will arrive Monday morning," Veeck said, "and probably will be examined before noon. Until we hear a doctor's report we can say nothing about how long he may be out of action."

Hornsby dropped out of the club lineup Wednesday when the heel, which was operated on last winter for the removal of a growth, became extremely sore. Lester Bell, whose arm has been lame, returned to third base yesterday, and Clarence Blair, chief utility infielder, was moved from third to Hornsby's station at second base.

Don Denies American Will Pilot Speed Car

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., April 4. (INS)—Emphatic denial that "Cannonball" Baker, Syracuse, N. Y., race driver, had been asked to pilot his mammoth Sunbeam "Silver Bullet" on a record breaking speed attempt was made here today by Kaye Don, British racer.

Don, who has been here for several weeks attempting to beat the record of 231 miles an hour established by Major Sir Henry Seagrave a year ago, declared the first he heard of the Baker report was from newspaper men.

Russia Uses Competitive Sports To Strengthen Military Defense

By EDWARD L. DEUSS

MOSCOW, April 4. (INS)—Athletics and competitive sports in Soviet Russia are encouraged by the government, but only as a means of strengthening the military defense of the country and spreading communistic propaganda.

Recently, the revolutionary military council said as much in a proclamation congratulating 2,000 skiers who participated in the 5,500-mile relay run from Habarovsk to Moscow.

The ski runners, both men and women, brought to Moscow in 35 days the report of the Red army in the far east during the Sino-Russ conflict an en route gathered hundreds of letters of greetings from the inhabitants to the military council.

Sporting clubs of several hundred districts along the way participated. The longest single run was 120 miles, but most of the skiers in groups of 10 to 100 carried the official documents only about 35 miles.

"The participants in the run were not out to break any sports records" the proclamation of the military council stated. "They wanted to make physical culture subservient to the needs and interests of the Soviet state. The run showed that the physical culture movement is on the right road. It is developing with the cultural and political life of the country.

"The run not only involved several thousand physical culturists, but stirred up enormous enthusiasm for the Soviet government along the way. We hope the participants will continue the work of the propaganda of physical culture and make it fit closely to the military defense needs of the nation."

Tennis Star Leaves Next Week for Foreign Tilts

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4. (INS)—Leaving her husband behind, Mrs. Helen Wills Moody will depart from San Francisco next week to compete in the forthcoming European championship tennis tournaments, it was announced today.

Her departure for New York has been set for next Tuesday or Wednesday. She will cross the continent alone, joining her mother in New York.

Before sailing for Europe, Mrs. Moody will attend an exhibition of her drawings in New York.

After taking part in the European tournaments, Mrs. Moody will return to New York in time for the national women's championship matches in August.

Oklahoma Grapplers Win Opening Matches

NEW YORK, April 4. (AP)—The sturdy wrestling team of Oklahoma A. & M. college, national collegiate champions, got away to a fast start in the National Amateur Athletic union championships which opened this afternoon at the New York A. C. with 126 entries. The first three Oklahoma Aggie boys to try their luck in the preliminaries won their matches in easy fashion.

Lacoste May Not Play in Tournament

MONTE CARLO, April 4. (US)—Rene LaCoste, France's tennis ace of aces will be unable to lead his nation's team this year in defense of the Davis cup, according to word here among international court players on the Riviera.

LaCoste's recovery from the illness that kept him out of the matches last year is said to have been delayed, and it now is believed unlikely he will be able to compete.

If LaCoste is unable to play, America has more than a chance to capture the matches, since the Americans are able to put a doubles team on the tennis courts able to defeat almost any team France has to offer.

Seriously, will YOU try anything once?

WE are aiming this advertisement right at that dwindling body of motorists who have never used Goodyear Tires.

We want them to try Goodyear Tires—to try even one Goodyear Tire—because we are soberly sure they are missing something.

Here is a tire that has been extra-good enough, year after year, to have become the standard of tire quality of the whole world!

Here is a tire that has been so favorably-priced and so extra-valued, that it has far outstripped in sales any other tire in the world!

Here is a tire that has returned user after user so great an extra-measure of performance that today, as for 15 years, "more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind!"

Doesn't the tire that has made that record deserve a try? Especially now, when it is priced so low? There's a Goodyear Dealer near you!

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, April 4. (AP)—Somewhat irregular early fluctuations in cotton were followed by advances today. After making new high ground for the movement, prices broke under active realizing and selling for a reaction.

May after selling up from 16.57 to 16.79, or 23 points net higher, broke to 16.38 in the late trading and closed at that figure, the general market closing weak at net declines of 18 to 32 points.

The opening was steady, unchanged to an advance of 8 points on overnight buying orders which appeared to be mostly in the old crop months. Liverpool cables failed to meet yesterday's local advance and prices worked back within 2 or 3 points of yesterday's closing quotations.

For a time the market showed considerable strength with July selling up from 16.64 to 16.89 while the new October contract advanced from 15.77 to 15.87 with all the active months reaching new high prices during the middle of the afternoon. The advance was then checked.

July broke to 16.42 and the new October to 15.50 and closing prices were the lowest of the day. May closed at a premium of 88 points over the new October contract compared with a difference of only 76 points at the close of the previous day.

Port receipts today 5,400. U. S. port stocks 1,798,941. Exports today 17,464, making 5,956,759 so far this season.

NEW ORLEANS, April 4. (AP)—After ruling steady and higher most of today, cotton weakened in final trading under heavy realizing. Values dropped to levels $3 a bale under the day's highs, with May receding from 16.54 to 16.14, and closing at that figure for a net loss of 14 points. The general market closed barely steady at net declines of 14 to 24 points.

Liverpool cables were 1 to 4 points lower than due but the market here opened steady. Initial transactions showed advances of 1 to 9 points. May traded at 16.47, and July 16.57, or 18 to 19 points above the opening figures.

In late trading the market turned sharply downward and prices eased rapidly to 16.18 for July, or 40 to 46 points under the highs. October lost only 25 points selling to 15.53 compared with 15.78, the day's high. The close was at the bottom.

Brisk Stock Activity Influences Additional Gains All Along List

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, April 4. (US)—Stocks added further to their gains in record active trading today, despite widespread warnings of reaction being warranted. Turnover maintained a rapid pace throughout the day as a result of short covering and increased public participation so that total trading reached 5,931,600 shares, the largest five hours of trading since Nov. 14. Steel gained 1⅞, Radio 1¾, General Electric 5½, General Motors 1, American Can 1¼, American Telephone 4½, Westinghouse 3¼, Gillette 1¼, Consolidated Gas 3½, Columbia Gas 2½, United Corporation 2⅛, Standard Oil of New Jersey 1⅛, New York Central 1¼, Union Pacific 1½ and Alleghany Corporation finished 1 point higher. Warner Brothers was sold heavily and closed 3⅜ lower, while Vanadium dropped 2⅝ and American Smelting lost a point. Call money held at 4 per cent throughout.

It has been the practice of crude oil buyers in the Mid-Continent to post change in price schedules so that there is some expectation that a higher price will be announced tomorrow. If not, every indication points to such action in the very near future. California was the first to come through with improved news on the oil industry, however, and it is not going to lose its leadership. Advices from there today indicated growing satisfaction with progress of stabilization. Conditions are such as to indicate another advance in the crude price out there before long. It was also intimated that there would be further favorable developments in connection with the Mexican Seaboard's Gas holdings. Additional favorable news for oil stock holders was received in report that gasoline consumption in February was 16 per cent of the same month a year ago with further gain recorded in March.

Electric Bond & Share interests were reported planning more aggressive activity in American & Foreign Power. The Electric bond group gradually is concentrating all of the foreign properties in which it is interested in American & Foreign Power. Several deals are expected to be announced over the course of the next few weeks. In addition the stock is harboring a substantial short interest although it has hung behind the move in the Utility and Power stocks as a group. Most enthusiastic estimate of Radio's earnings was received in the form of survey of what "might result" when the corporation starts commercializing Television. Those making the estimate visioned a machine in every home on a leasing basis.

Special buying is going on in Telautograph influenced by reports that conversations have been held recently looking toward affiliation with a leading organization in a similar line of business. The Telautograph company is the only organization leasing machines for the transmission of handwritten messages over short or long distances. As a result it has made steady progress in increasing business and earnings as well as gradually increasing dividend disbursements over the last 15 years. Further banking conferences were reported on a plan to change the Sinclair capital structure in anticipation of mergers. The Durant group were rumored to be at work in U. S. Pipe again.

Ability of the market to hold its ground was rendered more impressive by reason of warning of "caution" sent out by the majority of brokers. Most of such advice was along the lines of that of one of the largest wire houses, stating:

"The market is due for a period of hesitation in order that the first phase of the 1930 bull market may be consolidated. We feel accounts should be put in shape to take advantage of buying opportunities that will be presented. We are definitely not bearish but in view of the rapid recovery the market should be in a position to experience a readjustment in line with that of last February, which will give the business situation a chance to move more into line with security prices."

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, April 4. (AP) (U.S.S.D.A.)—Hog trade around the 11-market circuit continued fairly active today at 5@20c higher prices with all representative weights sharing the advance. The top of $10.50 was paid at Chicago. Receipts 65,300, were 29,000 short of a week ago but 4,000 heavier than the corresponding day last year.

The sheep supply approximated 46,500 against 65,306 last Friday and 61,940 the same day a year ago. Spring lambs on the Kansas City market scored $12.50 while at Chicago best fed wooled lambs made $9.85.

No price changes were registered in the cattle market. Dressed beef markets reported a rather slow demand with some difficulty experienced in effecting a clean-up. Offerings 8,500, a decrease of 4,500 from a week ago and 2,000 less than a year ago.

TEXAS LIVESTOCK

BOSTON WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, April 4. (AP)—A fair amount of inquiry is received on 58, 60's and finer quality wools here today. Sales include graded French 64's and finer territory wools at 72 to 75 cents, scoured basis. Choice original bag lines consisting of bulk good French combing style, and average strictly original bag wool sells for 72 to 73 cents, scoured basis, and very short combing wools moved at prices down to 50 cents, scoured basis. Graded 58, 60's, strictly combing territory wools are selling at 72 to 75 cents scoured basis.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, April 4. (AP)—Wheat on the cash grain market here seemed to follow the gain in contract markets today, but trading was not active by any means and mills were still buying only what appealed to them. Sales were made on the basis of $1.14¾@1.15¾ for No. 2 ordinary hard delivered Texas common points, and high protein wheat might have drawn a slight premium.

Good demand was reported for corn and sorghums; oats fairly easy sale and good quality can seed was wanted.

Bids and offers on coarse grains, basis delivered Texas common points, freight paid:

Corn—No. 2 mixed 95½@96½c; No. 2 white, 99½@$1.00½; No. 2 yellow, $1.00@1.01.

Oats—No. 2 red oats, 56@57c; No. 3 white delivered Texas group one points, 55½@56c; group three, 1c more.

Barley—No. 3, 70@72c; offers light.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo, per 100 pounds, $1.77@1.80; No. 2 kaffir, $1.53@1.55.

Cane Seed—Bulk country run red top, per 100 pounds, according to type, origin, germination and clean out, $4.00@4.50.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 4. (AP)—In a big rapidly swinging market, new upturns of wheat today encountered heavy profit-taking, but resulting setbacks were followed by fresh rallies. Reports of hazardous crop conditions because of drouth in Kansas, Oklahoma and Nebraska had something of an offset in assertions by some experts that needed moisture was likely to be received before damage became severe.

Closing quotations on wheat were irregular, varying from ⅜c net decline to ⅛c advance compared with yesterday's finish. Corn closed ⅛@⅛c down, oats ⅛@⅜c off, and provisions showing 2c@5c gain.

At today's top quotations, wheat was up about 2c a bushel over yesterday's finish here and as much as 13c higher than prices current last week.

Corn belt weather conditions were favorable for field work, and this circumstance made the corn market unresponsive to late rallies in wheat. Country offerings of corn were said to be increasing from Iowa and Illinois. Oats followed corn.

Provisions reflected hog market upturns.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, April 4. (US)—Acceptance of profits was the order of the day in the wheat pit today. The advance represented a gain in prices of around 10c since Tuesday morning and with the bulge largely predicated on weather conditions, longs were anxious to take their profits before the week-end. The early advance presented the opportunity.

Corn traders were also inclined to take advantage of the early upturn in prices. Considerable corn has been booked on the advance and as yet there is no indication of improvement in the demand to care for the heavier arrivals which are expected over the week-end.

Broomhall said that activity in the grain trade was revived Thursday with purchases of North American wheats by both English and continental importers. Offerings from Argentina continue light and the exchange rate has advanced prices.

Despite the lighter offers and higher prices, larger wheat clearances are expected from Argentina with an increased quantity clearing for "orders."

Dry weather in Canada became a feature of the trading today. There has been a deficiency of moisture in Western Canada and in some sections more moisture is needed to permit plowing, it is said.

Students and Parents Hear Lectures

Special to The Record News

ELECTRA, Texas, April 4.—Miss Florence McKinney, Wichita county Red Cross nutritionist is in Electra this week conducting nutrition classes. She conducted regular grade nutrition classes in each class room at Thompson ward. The adult nutrition class met at the First Ward school. This class meets every two weeks and includes six lessons. Those who complete the entire course will be given certificates. Miss McKinney urges every mother to attend the course and any others who are interested in the subject. She states that those who have not attended the first two lessons can enter the class at the next meeting.

Those who are enrolled in the class are Mesdames Hugh Saye, L. O. Thompson, R. L. Jones, W. E. Vaught, R. L. Proud, C. E. Houser, H. C. Colbert, O. S. Preston, L. D. Bentley, W. L. Perry, Dannie Dale, R B. Richardson, R. M. Riggs, H. T. Brackett, J. D. Erwin, B. M. Dinsmore, B. M. Phillips, W. D. Robertson, M. A. Bashara, J. M. Knight, C. F. Birkhead, W. O. Henderson, J. A. Stewart, Misses Illa Mae Patrick and Ida Lee Falls. According to local reports much benefit has already been derived from the first two lessons, and it is hoped that much will be accomplished. Mrs. B. M. Phillips, president of First Ward P.-T. A., is the nutrition chairman.

Electra Lions Buy 5,000 Eggs for Easter Hunt

Special to The Record News

ELECTRA, Texas, April 4.—U. G. White, chairman of the arrangements committee of the Easter egg hunt the Lions club will sponsor, announced at the weekly noon luncheon that approximately 5,000 eggs have been secured in advance. This Easter egg hunt is an annual affair given by the Lions club to the children of the city. The hunt will be held at Sunshine park on Sunday afternoon, April 20.

W. A. Asbill, president, presided over the meeting, and E. E. Rogers, principal of the high school, announced that a representative of the Hi-Y organization for boys would be at the high school at 3:45 p. m. next Wednesday to assist in organizing a Hi-Y body. Robert P. Hall spoke in behalf of milk week which is being held from March 30 to April 6. In observance of the occasion at each plate there was a small bottle of milk, decorated with ribbons and tags. The milk was donated by the Northside creamery. Miss Ethel Louise Webb, county home demonstration agent, gave a talk on "The Value of Milk in Diet for Health."

Haskell Farmers Move To Import Good Seed

Special to The Record News

RULE, Texas, April 4.—The farmers and business men of Haskell county will meet in the courthouse at Haskell Saturday afternoon at 2:30 for the purpose of working out a plan whereby more good seed may be brought into the county. It is expected that two to three hundred farmers will attend the meeting. Local men will talk on ways of getting the best results from the various crops that are grown in the county. Business men and bankers will cooperate with the farmers.

Our courteous ad taker will receive your Classified Ad and help you to word it, then our collector will call the next day. These accounts are "accommodation accounts" for the convenience of our patrons in transacting business over the telephone.

Classified Ad patrons desiring to have ads charged must have a telephone listed in their own name. No book record is made by the publishers on account of the great number of transactions, hence the necessity of collecting promptly.

Correction of errors in Classified Ads must be made before the second insertion. No allowance will be made for more than one incorrect insertion.

Cancellations and adjustments regarding errors should be telephoned to the Classified Ad department between 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Ads accepted for afternoon paper up until 11 a. m. same day.

Morning paper up to 6 p. m. for the following morning.

Sunday paper up to 7 o'clock Saturday night.

Same copy in both papers.

THE CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT IS OPEN ON SUNDAYS from 4 to 6 p. m. and telephone orders for classified ads to be inserted or to be discontinued will be accepted.

Exceptions: Want ads will be accepted over the telephone for all excepting the following classifications: Situations Wanted and Wanted to Rent. Ads for these classifications are cash with the order and will not be accepted over the telephone.

The Times reserves the right to classify all Classified Ads under the appropriate headlines and to revise or to withhold from publication any ads deemed objectionable.

New Olney Pool Activity Speeded

Special to The Record News
OLNEY, Texas, April 4.—Oil operators and local citizens were watching with keen interest here tonight the bringing in of the second producer within the past week near the north city limits. Hunter No. 1 Doyle topped the sand at 1048 feet this afternoon and drilled into 21 feet of rich sand. This well, an offset to the west to Perkins and Cullum No. 1 Dunagan, brought in last week for 200 barrels, is showing for another good producer.

One completed well, one in the making, two others drilling, two new rigs going up and one other location made is evidence of the enthusiasm displayed in the present near-townsite drilling. Perkins-Cullum No. 2 Dunagan is drilling at 400 feet, offsetting their No. 1 producer to the north. Perkins-Cullum No. 2 has spudded in as an offset to the east.

Hunter is preparing to drill on the Benson land just west of the Doyle well and has made location for another test on the Wilson land, an offset to the north. Cato is rigging up on the Minor tract south of the discovery well.

DALLAS GROUP HERE TODAY

C.-C. to Honor Trade Leaders at Luncheon

Wichita Falls will be host Saturday afternoon for three hours to about 24 Dallas business executives who will stop here for the last visit of a week's tour of West Texas which began last Monday morning and will end Saturday night following the return of their special train to Dallas.

The visiting business men will be met at Vernon Saturday morning by Walter D. Cline, Albert Kelly, Dr. O. T. Kimbrough and other representatives of the chamber of commerce, who will escort them to Wichita Falls. Their train is due to arrive here at 12:40 p. m. Immediately upon arrival, the Dallas executives will be entertained at luncheon at the Wichita club by the local chamber of commerce, with Mr. Cline welcoming the visitors.

Among the speakers who will make brief addresses following the luncheon will be Nathan Adams, president of the First National bank, an institution known until recently throughout the Southwest as the American Exchange National bank. Edward T. Moore, president of the Simms Oil company, also will talk. Arthur L. Kramer, president of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, will preside.

After the luncheon members of the Dallas entourage will be released for their stated purpose of visiting and conferring with local business leaders. The principal purpose of the West Texas tour, it was announced, is the study of business conditions throughout this area, and the exchange of views relative to industrial development. The special train will leave at 3:40 p. m. Saturday for Gainesville, and will arrive in Dallas Saturday night.

Presidents and managers of prominent business concerns in Dallas comprise practically the entire personnel of the party which is to be here Saturday. They have made overnight stops during the week in Brownwood, San Angelo, Big Spring, Plainview and Amarillo. Many of the members of the group are well known to numerous business men here.

Four Railroad Companies Hold Meetings Today

Directors and stockholders of four railway companies having headquarters in Wichita Falls will hold annual business meetings and elections here Saturday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock, it was announced Friday.

Stockholders of the Wichita Falls & Northwestern Railway company of Texas, the Wichita Falls & Wellington Railway company of Texas, and the Wichita Falls Railway company will meet in the M-K-T offices over the union depot, it was said, while those of the Wichita Falls & Southern Railroad company will meet in the office of Frank Kell in the City National building.

Following the stockholders meetings and election of directors, the directorate of each road will hold its meeting, it was announced. Notices of the Wichita Falls & Southern Railroad company meeting were issued over the names of Frank Kell, president, and C. W. Snider, secretary. Those of the other three concerns were issued over the signature of C. Haile, president, and W. M. McGregor, secretary.

High Schools Handicap to Small Rural District, Says City View Man

Editor, The Record News:

Rural education is now and has always been a matter of great import not only to the communities themselves, but to the general scheme of education and the country as a whole. It has been conceded by all that the most ideal systems are maintained in the centers where there is sufficient pupils and funds to permit the centrallization of groups and the employment of specially trained teachers devoting their entire time to certain subjects.

Take for example the City View community where last year there was a total of 17 pupils promoted from high school department, the cost of the instruction was in excess of $13 per pupil per month while the cost of the pupils for all grades below the high school was less than four dollars per pupil per month. It is evident that the organization of a community for a teaching force and equipment for classes of eight or nine will range much higher than in communities where classes of 35 or 40 can be cared for with the same organization and expense.

The state of Texas provides that all the children within the scholastic age shall receive free instruction, and where the grades are not maintained in the district where the child resides any other school in the state to which the child applies for instruction must provide it at a cost to his district of not more than $5 per month tuition which is paid by the district from which it comes.

City View school is located about as near to the Junior college and city high schools as the furthest city ward school with roads even more accessible. It would be greatly to the advantage of a school so situated to make adequate provision for giving instruction to the first seven grades and to transfer the children to the city system for the high school work, where they will have equal advantages with other high schools and get the benefit of a highly organized and efficient system. Owing to the limited amount of funds available to a small district it is impossible to make adequate provisions to give the pupils a high school course which will be recognized by other schools with full affiliation with the higher institutions of learning. It is an ideal arrangement to let the city system make provision for the instruction of high school students where it is located near enough to such a system not to make the tranfer impossible. It, too, is an arrangement to which the more efficient schools offer no objection. It would virtually mean to such a district that they would provide the children of the district with the same educational advantages as is provided for by the city school systems with no adidtional cost either to the city system or the district transferring.

By that means they would be enabled to give better instruction to both the children in the grades and to those who have reached the high school.

FEDERAL SENTENCE

FORT WORTH, April 4. (AP)—Joseph Francis, charged with concealing assets in bankruptcy, today was sentenced to a year and a day in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan. Francis' attorneys announced they would file a motion for a new trial. He was charged with having removed goods from an Eastland department store after it had become bankrupt.

BANDS INVITED TO MEET HERE

25 Asked to Join in Contest May 18

Invitations are being sent by a committee of the Junior chamber of commerce to 25 bands in cities located within 150 miles of Wichita Falls to participate in a band contest to be held in the Memorial auditorium on Sunday afternoon, May 18, according to Gerald Pond, chairman of the committee.

Organizations which accept the invitation will compete for silver cups and other smaller awards, it was announced, and will combine for the presentation of several selections for the public's entertainment, according to the plans thus far made.

Wichitan Injured In Crash at Intersection

B. L. Walker, 1660½ Dayton street, received a deep cut across his forehand when his Ford roadster and a Chevrolet, driven by Miss Annie Webb, 2500 Broad street, collided at the Brook and Sibley intersection early Friday morning. Walker's car was knocked into the path of an approaching truck, causing a second collision.

Mr. Walker was taken to the Hargrave-Walker hospital where four stitches were necessary to close the wound in his head.

HOT CHECKS

Swindling Charges Filed Against 11 in Two Courts Here

A total of 11 charges of swindling by worthless checks were filed Friday through the office of the county attorney following what officials described as a revival of "hot check passing" in Wichita Falls.

Four of the complaints were filed in the county court at law and the remaining seven in Judge O. L. Gibbs' justice court. None of the 11 men named in the complaints are under arrest, according to L. V. Abernathy, assistant attorney. Officers said arrests were expected Saturday.

Britisher Sentenced In Oklahoma Court

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 4. (UP)—Goeffrey St. Clair Redfern, who claims to be a British subject, was sentenced to 10 years in the state penitentiary today on a robbery charge. Redfern was convicted on a charge of robbing a residence here. He was held while action was taken on his $10,000 appeal bond. He faces five other robbery charges.

SHRINERS TO GRAHAM TODAY

150 Expected to Make Trek To Neighbor City

Maskat temple Shriners will leave at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon for Graham, on the second spring goodwill trip. Led by Ed Peterson, potentate, and divan officers, 150 Shriners and their wives will make the visit to present a varied program to Graham Shriners and the public there.

The feature of the program Saturday evening will be the presentation of the Swanee River Minstrel from 8 o'clock to 9:30 o'clock in the municipal auditorium. The cast for the program will be Milton J. Gaines, interlocutor; Mrs. Kindel Paulk, pianist; Guy Hawkins, Walter Bernard, Lillard Jackson, Gene Hawkins, L. D. Lile and Johnie Reed.

The program will include "Singin' in the Rain," entire chorus; "Please Come Back to Me," Johnie Reed; "Dear to Me," Walter Bernard; "Am I Blue," Gene Hawkins; a duet, Johnie Reed and Walter Bernard; "Old Man River," Guy Hawkins and finale, entire chorus.

A dinner is to be served to the nobility and their wives at 6 o'clock, followed by a street program from 7:30 to 8 o'clock, consisting of a band concert, patrol drill, drum corps and chanters.

Following the minstrel show, a dance for the Shriners and their ladies will be given, lasting until 12 o'clock, after which the Shriners will return to Wichita Falls. Admission to the dance will be fezzes and 1930 cards.

Chest Needs Funds Asked In Letter Mailed April 1

Following the mailing out of second-notice statements to the total amount of $6,148 on April 1, the finance committee of the community chest met at the office of W. E. McBroom, chairman, Friday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock in order to determine just how urgently those funds are needed, according to information given The Record News.

They found immediate need for more than $1,000 of that amount, and impending need for the entire balance, it was stated. Following the committee's audit of all accounts for March, it was found that about $700 was lacking to pay all bills for the work of the Family Relief association for that month, and about $380 lacking to pay for supplies bought and distributed by the Salvation Army to needy families.

MAGNOLIA GASOLINE
MAGNOLIA SOCONY REG U.S.PAT OFF PARAFFINE BASE MOTOR OIL

To merely ask for "oil" when you mean constant, unfailing lubrication, is to court the expensive disaster of motor trouble. Unless you specifically state the KIND of oil you want, you invite friction and his whole family of trouble, worry and expense to come along as your traveling companions.

There really isn't very much that you have to do to be sure that the oil you get is the long lived, friction fighting kind. Just drive into any Magnolia Station or Dealer and say "Magnolia Socony Motor Oil" to the attendant. He'll add a quart or fill your crankcase full of the finest motor oil that money can buy . . . a double duty, extra purpose oil that never lets down.

In Magnolia Socony Motor Oil (Paraffine Base) you get the extra protective feature of ADSORPTION* which is Magnolia's NATURAL ability to cling to metal surfaces and stay on the job . . . doesn't drain dry when your motor stands idle.

There IS a real difference in motor oils and the thousands of Magnolia enthusiasts know it. Be sure you say Magnolia Socony Motor Oil (Paraffine Base) when you want thorough and constant motor lubrication.

*ADSORPTION
"Adsorption" means the natural affinity Magnolia Socony Motor Oil has for metal . . . the fusing of one with the other.
This complete blending of oil with the metal surfaces of pistons, cylinder walls and bearings is essential to economical and perfect motor performance, because it gives constant protection against friction and subsequent repair costs.
