Funston With Fifth Brigade In Charge at Vera Cruz

Meantime Mediators Seek Settlement of U. S. and Mexican Difficulty.

Washington, D. C. April 28—While envoys of Brazil, Argentina and Chile today sought to find some ground upon which to base proposals to the United States and Mexico which would settle the differences between the nations, word was flashed from Vera Cruz that Brigadier General Funston and about 5000 troops had arrived at the base of American operations in the Mexican republic.

Chief interest in Washington concentered, however, in the activity of the South American diplomats, who met early in the day at the Argentina legation to plan the next step in the negotiations for peace. Before the envoys began their conference Secretary of State Bryan was formally notified by Ambassador Riano of Spain that General Huerta had accepted the principal of mediation proposed.

When members of the cabinet reached the White House at 11 o'clock to enter upon the serious deliberations confronting them, all of them appeared more cheerful than they had been for many days and several expressed the hope that something tangible would come from the proposals to mediate the dispute. No new orders were issued from the navy or war departments, but there was enthusiastic interest among department heads over the arrival at Vera Cruz of the transports bearing the Fifth army brigade under Brigadier General Funston.

Secretary Garrison insisted early in the day that the mediation proposals could not effect the orders to General Funston.

General Funston's instructions were to land immediately upon arrival and assume supreme command of the land forces. General Funston will take up the work undertaken by Admiral Fletcher in directing the administration of governmental affairs in Vera Cruz.

Uncle Sam and the Fly.

Uncle Sam is waging a relentless war on the deadly house-fly and in late bulletins prepared by the Department of Agriculture, valuable information is given on the best means of combating this deadly pest. The most effective way of exterminating the fly, according to the bulletin, is to eradicate his breeding places. The breeding season of the fly in Texas begins early in March and continues throughout the spring and summer months. All dirt should be removed from the premises, stables cleaned and decaying vegetables destroyed.

The fly has rightly been called the undertaker's traveling salesman, and in addition to his regular line of "typhoid bugs," he carries a side line of tuberculosis, Asiatic Cholera and other disease germs. Now is the time to "swat the fly."

"Eternal Vigilance The Price of Safety."

The people of two continents were thrilled with admiration for the orchestra of the illfated Titantic that played their own funeral dirge as they sank beneath the icy waters of the Northern Atlantic two years ago, and their courage and bravery will go down in history. Recently at Atlanta, their example was followed on a smaller scale by a little school girl twelve years old, who calmly played Dixie on a piano while five hundred of her school mates marched from the burning school building. It took exactly two minutes to clear the entire building and there was no loss of life.

The million school children who attend Texas schools and their teachers would do well to follow the example of the Georgia school and practice fire drills at regular intervals. Self preservation is the first law of nature, and eternal vigilance should be the watchword of every school in Texas.

Road building follows the lines of least resistance.

Why Don't You?

A farmer who was carrying an express package from a city mail ordar house was accosted by a local merchant: "Why didn't you buy that bill of goods from me? I could have saved you the express and besides you would have been patronizing a home store, which helps pay the taxes and build up this locality." With characteristic frankness the farmer asked: "Why don't you patronize your home paper and advertise? I read it and didn't know you had the goods I have here, nor do I ever see your name in the paper inviting one to come to your store."—The Pomotropic.

GOOD ROADS

THE ANNUAL EXPENSE OF MAINTAINING MUD HOLES EQUAL TO ENTIRE COST OF STATE CAPITOL.

Familiarity is said to breed contempt, but the mud hole appears to be exempt from this rule, as most of our citizens have been intimately acquainted with it from infancy and we contribute $3,000,000 per annum to maintaining it, as well as submit to a tax of $8,000,000 per annum levied by the mud hole in reducing the capacity of the load. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link and the carrying capacity of a road is governed by its worst mud hole and steepest grade.

Improved public highways will do away with the mud hole.

JACK JOHNSON IN PARIS GETS NEW TRIAL IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, April 14.—Jack Johnson, the negro heavyweight, was granted a new trial today by the United States Appellate Court on one of the indictment charging violations of the Mann act, of which he was convicted.

Johnson, who was sentenced to a year in the penitentiary and to pay $1,000 fine, was convicted o ftransporting Belle Schreiber, a white woman, from Pittsburg to Chicago. The other count against Johnson was held not proven, the upper court stating that he had no interest in the woman's misdoing. Johnson left Chicago nearly a yearly a year ago, and is in Paris.

Johnson was referred to the lower court for re-sentence on the charge of which his guilt was affirmed, but his attorneys were jubilant, asserting that it ended the possibility of his serving a prison term.

HOUSE PASSES BILL FOR TOLL INFORMATION.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee reported favorably today the resolution introduced by Representative Henry, of Texas, demanding from the Interstate Commerce Commission and Secretary Redfield, of the Department of Commerce, information as to the volume of coast commerce, the amount carried by rail and by water, and the rates charged.

Mr. Henry wants the information in the expectation it will justify his position in voting for repeal of Panama Canal free tolls for American ships.

BILL SIGNED TO LET DR. MORTON PRACTICE.

ALBANY, April 21.—Governor Glynn today signed the Seeley bill, which provides that physicians convicted of a felony and subsequently pardoned may resume practice by sanction of the State Board of Regents. The measure was said to have been drawn in the interest of Dr. William J. Morton, convicted with Julian Hawthorne for using the mails to defraud.

The Smith bill reducing the hours of women and children in mercantile establishments was also approved by the Governor. The bill provides a 48-hour week for children under 16, and a 54-hour week for women.

Cover With Blotting Paper and Press With Hot Iron.

Grease on the wall can generally be eradicated by covering with blotting paper and pressing with a hot iron. Sometimes grease spots can be removed from books in the same manner. It isespeaille o ,$...Oillgl manner. It is especially well to try this method if the back or binding of the book is stained.

Grease stains can not sometimes be removed by washing and even French chalk, blotting paper and a hot iron fail to do the work. If this happens place blotting paper on both sides of the spot and press with a hot iron. Sponge afterward with alcohol or chloroform.

W. W. EVANS DISCUSSES AGRICULTURAL TOUR

REPORTS PLENTY OF RAIN AND CROP CONDITIONS GOOD.

Farmers Giving Attention to the Best Methods of Conserving the Moisture for Later Dry Weather.

DALLAS, TEX., April 14.—W. W. Evans, agricultural agent for the Missouri, Kansas and Texas lines in Texas, has completed a trip over practically all of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas lines in Texas. Mr. Evans accompanied the Katy industrial and agricultural special throughout its thirty day itinerary, making 130 points and stopping from thirty minutes to several hours at each point and meeting approximately 100,000 people, mostly farmers and their families.

Mr. Evans reports that everywhere they went crop conditions are good. He said: "Recent rains over Texas insures an early, deep underground supply of moisture, which is necessary for the best crop production.

"Farmers along the Missouri, Kansas and Texas lines are now giving their attention to the best methods of conserving this moisture for the crops next summer when the dry weather comes. On the heavier lands this is best done by early deep plowing, causing the land to absorb a large amount of rain water.

"Soil exposed to wind and sun, bakes and then separates into fine particles and the top crust becomes porous and open and the moisture from below evaporates. I request use of the drag harrow before planting and frequent shallow cultivating after planting is perhaps the best method. Harrowing prevents baking, sifts the fine soil down into the pores, drags the heavy particles to the surface, thus cooking the bottle of moisture by preventing rapid evaporation and packs and firms the seed bed.

"This method means that farmers are cutting down the number of cultivated acres to the man and team. They are giving attention to better cultivation and better seed. They are raising the standard value of crops and giving more thought to the marketing of farm products.

"Texas is covered with a carpet of early green grass. In all sections men are building silos and this means farmers, who have as many as twenty head of cattle, find the silo profitable.

"Through the silo and live stock a market is made for such heavy crops as corn stalks, sorghum, milo and kaffir. A larger use of these crops offers better opportunity for crop rotation on Texas farms. A good market obtains for all classes of meat and dairy products, and many farmers are preparing to specialize along these lines."

TO WASH WOOLEN BLANKETS.

Cotton Blankets Should eB Pressed on the Wrong Side.

Slice half a cake of good laundry soap in two quarts of water. Set on the stove and stir until dissolved. When dissolved add to cold water in a tub. To this soapy water add four tablespoonfuls of powdered borax. Soak the Woolen blankets in this over night or for several hours. Wash in this water. Rinse twice in cold water, wring and hang on the line. This recipe will wash four blankets. Use only cold water. They will come forth as soft as when new.

A teaspoonful of glycerin added to the rinse water will improve them. By the way, glycerin has great softening powers. It is excellent to use in laundering, both in boiling clothes and soaking them.

To wash cotton blankets: Soap well with laundry soap, fold and allow to soak in tepid water. Wash in an hour or so and place in a boiler of hot suds to steam, not boil. Rinse in several waters. Use a little bluing and dry double on the line. Press on the wrong side.

BRYAN DELAYS TEXT OF COLOMBIA TREATY.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 14.—Secretary Bryan, who yesterday announced that he would release the new treaty with Colombia today, said this afternoon that the department had decided not to make it public. This announcement was made after conference with Senator Shively, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee.

Senator Shively, as announced in the Hearst papers, objected to making the document public before consideration by the Senate.

TEMPTATION STRONG TO PLANT TO EARLY

PRESENT SEASON UNUSUALLY DIFFICULT FOR GARDENER.

When Crops Fail to Materialize They Should Be Plowed Up and Planted Over.

(By T. B. Baldwin.)

One of the strongest temptations that the home gardener has to consider is the impulse to plant too early. Even in January the inclination to put seed into the ground begins to manifest itself when a few bright, spring-like days appear. He has something like mental itch, and the less gardening experience he has had the worse the sort of itch attacks him. Although his common sense and the advice of his more experienced neghbors may carry him safely through January, he is exceedingly fortunate if he gets through February without committing one or more horticultural errors. An old pioneer said that Texas weather was so deceptive that it would fool the oldest wild goose that ever flew. It certainly often fools many Texas farmers and gardeners.

The present season has been an unusually difficult one for the gardener to size up. Warm weather in January and a part of February caused many to plan potatoes and corn too early. It makes less difference as to the potatoes because they will lie dormant in the cold wet ground for weeks and then come forth smiling in March or April. With corn, however, it is different, in that it is apt to rot in the ground.

Plant Over.

The only thing to do when a too early planted crop fails to materialize is to plow it up and plant over. Owing to changeable weather conditions and recent hard rains many small vegetables have been retarded if not entirely destroyed. After sufficient time has elapsed for a planting to come up and it fails to appear, it is often a good plan to open drills between the rows and make a later planting. Then wait for developments and if the former planting findly makes good plow up the latter; otherwise let it stand and plow up the other. Farmers frequently do this in case of their corn crop, and gardeners can do so with any early planted vegetables.

Sometimes missing spaces are planted over, but this method gives the rows of growing plants an uneven appearance, as some will be larger than others, the larger ones shading the young and absorbing most of the plant food in the drill before the replanted seed can get a fair start. If, however, the replanted seeds are soaked in lukewarm water for twenty-four hours they have a better chance to catch up with the others. As a general proposition, however, if you have not a fairly good stand it is better to plow up entirely and plant over. The small cost of extra seed will more than repay the loss of those plowed up and the working of the ground will be of much benefit.

While the recent rains did much damage to many gardens by packing the earth or washing young plants up, they left the soil well soaked and in fine condition for setting out plants, such as tomato, pepper, cabbage, collards, onion sets, egg plants and sweet potatoes. The soil will be in fine condition, in all probability, for the rest of this month, for making later plantings of beets, chard, koherabi spinach, mustard, okra and onions. Vine vegetables, such as cucumbers, squashes, pumpkins and kershaws, may also be planted with little risk now. The rule of the old-time farmers and gardeners was not to plant melons before May 1. That is a safer rule for the latitude of Dallas, but with warm April weather two weeks earlier plantings are comparatively safe. Melons and other vines are particularly hot weather plants and do not make much progress until the nights begin to get warm, which is usually from April 20 to May 1. Okra, beans and sweet potatoes like warm nights also, and, like the melons, squashes and cucumbers, they do not make rapid growth as long as the nights are cool. Consequently little or nothing is galned by very early planting of these summer vegetables.

Keep the Crust Broken.

One of the most important things for the gardener to bear in mind at this season is to keep the surface of the soil in a loose condition. Every rain leaves more or less crust or packed soil upon the surface. This crust, in drying out, forms many small, hair-like openings of capillaries, through which moisture rapidly escapes. In order to conserve the moisture in the soil by preventing it passing out the crust should be broken and the capillaries and retaining the moisture. Hence the importance of cultivating the garden as soon as possible after each rain. This can be done easily and rapidly with a rake. Occasional deeper cultivations with the hoe and garden plow are also necessary, particularly in the spaces between the rows (or middles), but a quick going over the garden with a rake as soon as the ground is dry enough will keep plants in a robust, growing condition. Deep preparation of the soil in the first place is all right, but shallow cultivation subsequently is the proper thing. After going over with the rake the plowing out of the middles will keep down crops of young weeds and preserve a mulch of dust or loose soil, greatly to the benefit of the growing plants.

Among the many good and toothsome vegetables that may be planted now, particular attention is directed to okra, beets and pole or running beans. Like cotton (to which family it belongs), okra is a tender, semi-tropical plant and very easily killed by frost. The seeds are quite hard, however, and require ten days or more to come up, and the middle of April is not too early to plant. Many plant a good deal earlier, but, as before suggested, nothing is gained by planting hot-weather, semi-tropical vegetables before the nights get warm.

To get the best results from a crop of okra, the pods should be gathered at short intervals—not longer than two days, or three at most. They mature rapidly, and unless gathered promptly they quickly become too hard for use. Frequent gathering also promotes heavy bearing, as the energy of the plant is sooner exhausted in maturing pods than in producing new ones. If you wish to save a few pods for seed, set a stick by one of the best stalks and leave that one for your next year's seed supply. If kept promptly picked, okra will bear until frost kills the stalks. The white velvet and dwarf green are both good varieties and preferable to the larger kinds for home gardens.

Few vegetables are more wholesome or more popular than beets. Having a good percentage of sugar, they are highly nutritious. Beets are easily raised and not very much troubled by insect pests; hence it pays to plant plenty of them. What are not consumed direct from the garden, the thrifty housewife can easily put up in glass jars for winter use. Both the long blood and the crimson globe or other of the turnip-shaped kinds are good. For putting up for winter the latter are preferable and the smaller varieties better than the larger. In many gardens beets are now up and growing, but more may yet be planted if desired. Sow in drills about eighteen inches apart and when well established thin out to a stand of one or two plants every four to six inches.

WOMAN DIES AFTER 24 OPERATIONS IN 6 YEARS.

NEW YORK, April 21.—After twenty-three operations within six years, Mrs. Mary Steffen Wilson, wife of James W. Wilson, of Rapelyea avenue, Corona, died on Monday following the twenty-fourth.

Mrs. Wilson, who was thirty years old, injured her spine through a fall six years ago. Cancer developed, following the operations.

TO IMPROVE CONDITION OF SKIN

To improve the condition of your skin you should not fail to cleanse it every night, before retiring with an agreeable soap, warm water and a clean washcloth. Rinse it well and when the skin is thoroughly dry, rub in the cream for which recipe is here given:

Rosewater	4 ounces
Almond
Almond Oil	4 ounces
Spermaceti	1 ounce
White Wax	1 ounce

Add the rosewater slowly, so that it will mix well into it, and after ten minutes remove what grease remains with a soft cloth.

Daily exercise in the fresh air, plenty of sleep, sufficient water moderate eating of nourishing food all tend to produce a healthy and attractive complexion.

DISCREDIT RADIUM AS CANCER CURE

FAMOUS SURGEONS ADMIT THEIR FAITH IS SHAKEN.

Declare at Meeting in New York That Failures Nutnumber Successes One Hundred to Oone.

NEW YORK, April 21.—Taht all hope of curing cancer by radium has been abandoned by some of the foremost surgeons and research workers of the country was evidenced by declarations at last night's meeting of the American Society for the Control of Cancer that the failures of radium outnumbered the cures 100 to 1.

That nothing is of avail against the most dreaded disease but the speedy use of the knife was the opinion advanced by Dr. William H. Mayo of Rochester, Minn. Operation is the only cure, but radium or ray treatment is to be used as a temporary palliative, according to Dr. Francis G. Wood of Columbia University. Failures from radium outnumbered the cures 100 to 1, he said. Another generation, he said, will be required to furnish knowledge on the real cause an dactual nature of cancer. Experiments for thirty-five centuries show that heredity plays a small part, if any at all, in its appearance.

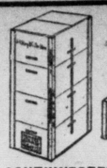

It was expected that members of the society would have something hopeful to report of their investigation. Instead, they admitted no progress and held out little hope. They united in saying they had discovered neither the cause nor the nature of cancer. Then they proved by statistics that cancer is on the increase.

That a change in habits and customs may reduce the disease to some extent was a ray of hope held out by Dr. Mayo, who also said any cancer could be cured if operated upon in its early stages.

"If we only could tell how to avoid it, I would be glad, because I am frank to admit that we do not konw," he said. He said the statement that the use of meat was a habit to be avoided to prevent cancer had been wrongly attributed to him.

The only optimistic note was struck by Dr. J. Collins Warren, chairman of the Harvard cancer commission, who, after reviewing its work, said the prospect for progress in combating cancer seemed bright. Immediate discovery of the causes of cancer could scarcely beexpected, but scientific research work had entered upon a field where progress was sure, though slow, he thought.

TEXAS ROAD WORK PLANNED FOR MAY

Colonel A. L. Westgard Maps Out Operations from New York Office.

SAN ANTONIO, April 21.—Colonel A. L. Westgard will arrive in Texas the early part of May to complete the work he began in the State last year for the National Highways Association of New York according to a letter received from him yesterday by Secretary D. E. Colp of the Highway League. The letter was dated New York City. Colonel Westgard recently returned from a trip abroad. He suspended his road work in the Texas field last December on account of rainy weather and muddy highways.

Resuming his operations in connection with logging and mapping and gathering data on National highways in the South, Colonel Westgard will begin on the Southern National at Jacksonville, Fla., and complete the gap to New Orleans, which city he expects to reach not later than May 1. Leaving New Orleans he will motor over the Southern National highway to San Antonio and should arrive to San Antonio and should arrive here at about the end of the first week in May in May. He asks Secretary Colp to join him at Orange. Instead, however, Homer D. Wade, secretary of the State Good Roads Association, is to be assigned to aid Colonel Westgard while he is in the State. This was the decision reached at a conference held between Mr. Colp and John W. Warren, president of the State association.

At San Antonio Colonel Westgard will take up the work on the western division of the Colorado-to-the-Gulf highway to Trinidad, Colo., by way of San Angelo and Amarillo. He will then motor back to Amarillo and take up the eastern division of the Colorado-to-the-Gulf highway by way of Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, Dallas, Corsicana and Houston to Galveston. From the Galveston terminus work will be completed on a branch of the Meridian highway to Waco.

Colonel Westgard will take up his work on the main line of the Meridian highway at Waco and prosecute it through to Winnipeg, Canada. It probably will be June before the trip to Canada will be undertaken.

E. R. KONE OPPOSED FARMERS AID PLAN

CHICAGO, April 21.—Resolutions urging amendments to the Sherman law to permit legitimate organizations of farmers were adopted here at the closing session of the Western Economic society held in conjunction with the National conference on marketing and farm credits. A fight which the resolutions committee expected to be waged against the resolution did not develop and only one person, E. R. Kone, commissioner of agriculture of Texas, spoke against its adoption.

Mr. Kone charged that trusts were seeking to arouse sentiment against the Sherman law among farmers to gain amendments by which they would profit. "I believe the trusts have brought influence to bear to have this resolution passed," he said. "I know they have similarly influenced other such conferences."

The portion to which Mr. Kone objected was:

"Whereas, the Sherman act as it now is construed is a serious menace to the progress and organization of their federation; and

"Whereas, farmers and other cooperative organizations do not wish to be lawbreakers, neither do they wish for special exemptions of any kind; and

"Whereas, they wish legislation will not hinder or not forbid such legitimate organizations and which will prevent unfair practices by all organizations as well as protect such organizations from unfair discrimination and practice directed by great or small combination of dealers; therefore be it

"Resolved, That this conference hereby demands from congress legislation which will properly modify the existing Sherman law to the end that this proper and reasonable protection and regulation be extended to co-operative organizations, whether they be of consumers or producers and to the end that such organization be fully protected and encouraged thereby."

EHRLICH IN ALIENATION ACTION, ASKS $25,000.

NEW YORK, April 21.—Max W. Ehrlich, who recently sued his wife to obtain possession of their twelve-year-old daughter, yesterday filed a $25,000 damage action against Dr. William Aronstein, a dentist, of No. 110 West One Hundred and Seventeenth street. Ehrlich alleges the dentist alienated the affections of Mrs. Ehrlich.

Dr. Aronstein said last night that Mrs. Ehrlich came to him to have some dental work done, but he never influenced her to leave her husband or had anything except business relations with her.

WARNS FARMERS AGAINST TRUSTS

Texas Agriculture Commission Opposes Effort to Amend Sherman Law.

CHICAGO, April 21.—Resolutions urging amendments to the Sherman law to permit legitimate organizations of farmers were adopted today at the closing session of the Western Economic Society held in conjunction with the National conference on marketing and farm credits. A fight which the resolutions committee expected to be waged against the resolution did not develop and only one person, E. R. Kone, commissioner of agriculture of Texas, spoke against its adoption.

Mr. Kone charged that trusts were seeking to arouse sentiment against the Sherman law among farmers to gain amendments by which they would profit. "I believe the trusts have brought influence to bear on this conference to have this resolution passed," he said. "I know they have similarly influenced other such conferences."

The portion to which Mr. Kone objected was "Whereas, the Sherman act as it now is construed is a serious menace to the progress and organization of their federation, and,

"Whereas, farmers and other cooperative organizations do not wish to be law breakers, neither do they wish for special exemptions of any kind; and,

"Whereas, t hey wish legislation which will not hinder or forbid such legitimate organization and which will prevent unfair practices by all organizations as well as protect such organizations from unfair discrimination and practice directed by great or small combination of dealers, therefore be it

A committee of fifteen called for in the resolution to plan the permanent organization of the conference on marketing of farm products will be appointed in a few weeks by the president of the Western Economic Society.

ATTITUDE OF VILLA IF WAR WITH U. S. COMES

Non-Combatant American Will Be Afforded Protection, He Declared Emphatically.

TOREON, Mexico, April 21.—When asked today as to what attitude the constitutionalists government would assume, in case the United States was compelled to bombard Tampico, toward Americans living in constitutionalist territory, General Villa said:

"It is a question whether the bombardment of Tampico by the United States to compel Huerta to apologize for an insult offered the American flag would be construed as an act of war against the main nation. In case it should be so construed as war between two civilized nations, Americans in Mexico would be accorded the same protection as would be accorded Mexicans in the United States. I am referring now, of course, to non combatants."

I then asked him what would be done in case the proletariat in constitutionalist terroitry should develop anti-American tendencies and should attempt personal reprisals. In reply General Villa said:

Villa to Protect Americans.

"The army under my command has proved powerful enough to drive 25,000 well armed soldiers out of constitutionalist territory and I think it would prove powerful enough to put down any anti-American outbreak which might be attempted.

"I am going into this question, however, deeper than I should have gone into it. I do not believe that the Tampico incident will result in war between the two nations and I simply have expressed my personal feelings and have told you what I would do were I left to my own resources in case worst came to worst. In the last analysis it is a matter to be settled so far as constitutionalists are concerned by General Carranza."

General Felipe Angeles, commander of the artillery division of the constitutionalist army, like his chief, is not inclined to believe that the Tampico incident would result in war between the two nations.

"In the first place," he said, "I do not believe that the United States will resort to extreme measures against the Huerta government. It is much too enlightened and too civilized to demand by force of arms an apology from a government that is a government in name only.

"The insult to the American flag complained of was perpetrated by an ignorant officer of a disorganized army, and it would seem a pity that his clumsiness should be the cause of a war between the people of two great nations.

"The United States, I do not believe, will be fooled by Huerta's tactics. It seems to me that he is simply taking advantage of a blunder to force a recognition of his government. I predicted a long time ago that in the event our army routed the federals at Torreon that Huerta would exert every effort and resort to every low trick to bring about serious complications between the two republics. I sincerely hope that President Wilson and Secretary Bryan will not be led into doing anything which will rise in war, because war can only mean great suffering for the whole republic of Mexico."

AT THE MAJESTIC
San Antonio
Week of April 26th

Manager Raymond of the Majestic Theater announces this week's bill as follows:

"When the present vaudeville season has closed, show-goers will have memories of more big time stars appearing here than during any previous season. The Majestic management has scoured the field for the best talent and on this week's bill the booking agents have apparently outdone themselves, for it is almost topheavy with big names and famous artists.

Miss Catherine Countiss.

"Miss Catherine Countiss, who appears in the dramatic playlet, 'The British Present,' will be remembered by many as the leading woman in 'The Christian,' and before that as leading lady in 'The White Sister.' A native Texan, Miss Countiss is the daughter of the late Judge Thomas J. Crooks of Denison. She has just completed a triumphant tour of the Orpheum Circuit, and established herself on the vaudeville stage as one of its biggest hits. Miss Countiss is a member o fthe Daughters of the Confederacy. Of her vehicle much very favorable comment has been heard from press and public; it is dramatic, rising at times to the very height of emotional climax. Her engagement here will prove another triumph in her long list of successes.

Clarke and Company.

"Another engagement extraordinary is that of Wilfred Clarke and company in the sketch, 'What Will Happen Next?' Mr. Clarke was born in 1867 at Philadelphia, is a nephew of Edwin Booth and a grandson of Junius Brutus Booth. From 1884 to the present time he has been playing leading parts; is an author, producer and manager, and one of the best known performers on the American stage. He has created many great parts in great plays; descended from a long line of famous players, his position as one of America's foremost artists is established beyond question. To secure needed rest form road tours involving one-night stands, he has accepted this vaudeville engagement, which will give him week stands. To this reason, and to it only, is due the opportunity afforded us to see him upon the vaudeville stage.

Hanlon and Clifton.

"The bill, however, will also include other famous artists in their lines, and one of those will be the team of Hanlon and Clifton, sensational athletes, in an offering that was recently the hit of a seven-act bill at the Majestic Theater in Chicago. These two men have evolved from a long experience on the stage an athletic offering that makes an audience fairly rise in its seats at admiration and wonderment at some of the feats they perform.

Harry Breen.

"An engagement that will be remembered with much pleasure is that of Harry Breen, singing comedian and rapid-fire song writer. Mr. Breen is an unusually gifted young man, with a very magnetic and pleasing personality. Of the type that is so popular as society entertainers, Mr. Breen has an act that never lacks for engagements, for managers know that it will more than 'make good' with discriminating audiences.

Mayo and Allman.

"Mayo and Allman, 'The Melody Kings,' are another exceptional offering. Singing new songs in a new way, these two gentlemen look as though they had stepped out of a fashion plate. Putting a lot of zinger into their work, they 'go big' every time they appear.

Musical Gordon Highlanders.

"The Musical Gordon Highlanders, Scotland's premier entertainers, have come all the way from the land of heather to entertain American audiences. They do this in an original and pleasing manner, with a musical offering of pure merit.

Norton and Earle.

"Norton and Earle, singers who dance and dancers who sing, in a revue of musical comedy successes round out a bill that, it is predicted, will top any of the season in entertaining values. This talented couple have behind them a long string of successes, and they expect to add new laurels to their already long string here."

Do not stand up for the city knocker—lay for him.

Honesty and industry are weak without knowledge.

Whoever enlarges the prosperity of the city is a good citizen.

Truthfulness in exploitation is always the strongest argument.

The people of Junction have been very busy this week cleaning up their premises; let the good work go on. With the fine water, beautiful scenery and a clean town Junction can be made one of the most attractive little cities in the west.

A short time ago Tarrant county expended over a million dollars on its highways, making over a hundred miles of cardinal roads and the intersection highways will make a total of over three hundred miles of improved thoroughfares. As a result of the movement of good roads in the county, property in all sections has increased in value and the farmers are reluctant about selling at any price. They realize that good roads will reduce the expense of marketing their products and will bring them nearer the commercial centers of the county. No longer will distance figure in the calculation of the traveler and the merchants in the towns and cities will be brought in closer touch with their country trade. The county will profit by having good roads, not alone by the increase in property values, but through the sale of additional land which will be in demand by home-seekers from the North and East who have lived for years on improved highways and seldom migrate to a section where the mudhole predominates.

One instance among many.

It's a fast age, yes-sir ee We're goin' at a huminin' pace but by the year 2023 what do you suppose will take place? This generation has seen revolutionizing progress indeed; for instance the linotype machine, and the gasolene car of speed electric furnace, electric welding too, they're great things we've lived to see—but say, what do you suppose we'll do by the year 2023? There's the induction motor, the aeroplane, the moving picture show; the wireless telegraph is some gain over a hundred years ago. There's the graphophone, and a hundred one other inventions of note, that give us work, convenience or fun; the gasoline motor boat, the steam turbine, the X-ray, cures with liquid air, taking pictures by telegraphy, modern sky scrapers everywhere. Great conventions for peace, the man-of war—a giant—electric lights that never cease, revolving coast-guns defiant. War now being taken up into the air—a new problem that faces our skill—great bird-ships that hurl bombs anywhere at the controller's will. Physicians now take the eye from a swine and make it serve for the eye of a man; body's scattered fragments the doctors combine into a good whole—yes, they can! The Panama Canal is about complete, the "poles" of the earth have been found. With the world and its forces placed at man's feet there's nothing that should astound us! New wonders now come with each new day we see. Say, Jasper, won't this old earth hum by the year two thousand twenty three!

"Prices Talk."

Overheard by the Citizen Reporter

Names will not be furnished upon application. The newspaper man does not always tell quite all he knows.

A good divine was talking in pious strain to one of the "boys" on the street the other day. "Young man," said the D. D. solemnly, "do you realize when you retire at night, that you may be called before the morning dawns?" "Yes sir," responded the young man, "I realize it fully. I am the father of a three-weeks old baby."

Fishin' Is Fine In Llano Now

Just to keep her reputation "up among the pictures" the old Llano River that flows through Kimble Climes has already opened up the fishing season by turning out some fine catches of fish. Joe Schoolcraft brought in one the other day weighing 42 lbs. Chas. Nemkey of the Favorite Meat Market, bought the fish, and several people went round to see it and said "That's a big fish." Last Monday Will Winslett brought to the market a specimen of the finny tribe that tipped the scales to the tune of 55 lbs.; that was a "bigger fish." But it remained for two Baptist brethren, (familiar with deep water), to array themselves with the angling honors. Rev. R. T. Deel and E. M. Burt caught a fish Tuesday night that they claim is the "biggest." The fish weighed 56 lbs. As a result of such catches as these the Favorite Meat Market has been tickling the palates of their customers with that aquatic delicacy for which the old Llano is famous.

We have been appointed as representative at this place to accept subscriptions for the Waco Morning News the new daily paper recently launched by the Southern Publishing Co. The News is a good, clean, progressive, up-to-date, newsy newspaper, and is the only daily in Texas which is strictly a prohibition publication. It gives the general news, and stands boldly for clean morals in every thing. The paper is making a fine start and its great success is already practically assured. It fills a long-felt want in the fields of Texas Journalism. Several people in this section are stockholders in the new publishing company. The paper has as its promoters and stockholders some of the most prominent and powerful men of the state. Subscription price of the News is $6.00 per year; 3.50 for 6 months; $1.80 for 3 months and 65c for one month. View of Woman's Slit Skirt May Acquit Kissing Pastor

NEW YORK, April 14.—After police reserves had been called to quell a tumult raised by a woman anarchist and half a dozen women had fainted, in an ecclesiastical court trying the Rev. Dr. James Embury Price on charges of improper conduct toward women of his congregation, the Washington Heights Methodist church concluded tonight one of the most interesting church trials New York has seen. Its verdict probably will not become public until it is submitted to the highest church authorities.

One of the witnesses, Miss Lillian Miller, now of Baltimore, who come here to testify against Dr. Price, collapsed on the witness stand. After much agitation, she declared Dr. Price "kissed her twice," and said that she was forced to forbid him to visit her house.

Her testimony, however, was eclipsed by that of Mrs. Hilma Dohl, a widow, who supports two little children. She sat down on a settee and there he hugged and kissed her.

"You are a widow and I am a widower," Mrs. Dohl declared Dr. Price said to her. "Why not be a comfort one to the other and no one will be the wiser?" She declared she said to the minister, "What you ought to do is get married." To this she said he replied he never would marry again.

At the conclusion of the testimony against him Dr. Price took the stand and denied all charges.

Intimation that the church tribunal was not disposed to be too greatly impressed by Dr. Price's accusers came today when a member of the court told something of the proceedings.

"We are ministers," he said, "but we are not fools. Take, for instance, one of the ladies who testified today. As soon as she took the witness stand she hoisted one knee over the other and the committee was confronted by her leg protuding thru a slit skirt. Straws show the way the wind blows."

ONLY 50 GUESTS FOR McADOO-WILSON BRIDAL.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Although Miss Eleanor Wilson declared "for a wedding just as big as Jessie's," the counsel of others prevailed. It was learned today from sources close to the White House that the fourteenth White House wedding will be attended by not more than fifty persons, although more may be invited to an informal reception afterward.

It is said one reason for the small wedding was President and Mrs. Wilson's dislike to put the Diplomatic Corps, Congress and other officials in the wedding present category twice in the same year for a White House bride.

Press of public business will prevent Secretary McAdoo and his bride leaving Washington for more than a few weeks at present.

7 KILLED, 16 INJURED IN BOSTON'S FLAT FIRE.

BOSTON, April 21.—Seven persons were killed and sixteen injured in the fire that wrecked the Melvin, a five-story apartment house at Commonwealth and Long avenues, early today.

The dead are: Mrs. Alice Shackford, Mrs. Edith Bemis, Mrs. F. C. Beharrell, James Raymond Power, Mrs. Power and their infant son and Miss Mary Connors.

Mrs. Shackford and Mrs. Bemis met death by jumping, one from the fourth floor and the other from the fifth.

DOCTORS STITCH STOMACH WITH A SEWING MACHINE

News of Achievement in Budapest Interests Surgical Convention in Hotel Astor

NEW YORK, April 21.—Dr. W. Manninger, of Budapest, announced at yesterday's session of the International Surgical Association in the Hotel Astor that he has used a sewing machine with marked success in closing incisions in the stomach and duodenum.

The eminent surgeon explained that the instrument he has found of so much value is not of new or startling construction—it is simply a portable sewing machine.

Surgeons have long recognized the importance of quickly uniting the severed flaps in extensive operations in the stomach and intestines. Sewing with the needle, in the old way, when long incisions were necessary, often took hours. But with the machine it takes minutes.

"Sutures can be closed quicker and with more precision than by hand," said the distinguished Hungarian doctor.

Eminent surgeons present made inquiries. They recognized the new method as a great improvement. It was evident that America, always to the fore in surgery, will immediately adopt the sewing machine in such difficult operations.

Dr. W. J. Mayo, of Rochester, Minn., gave a resume of the history of the treatment of cancer of the stomach and duodenum. He first spoke of the slow progress in the period between 1893 and 196 when the growth of knowledge was solely due to the results of surgical operations.

"From 1906 to the present time," said Dr. Mayo, "the development and improvement in treatment has been due to improvement in diagnosis. The Roentgen ray gradually won first place in the diagnosis of these lessons. The excision of gastric ulcers, because of the menace of cancer, was recognized."

Dr. C. Willems, of Ghent, president of the Association, made his first appearance on the platfor at the meeting yesterday morning. Visiting surgeons who presented papers were Dr. De Quervain of Basle; Dr. Hartman of Paris; Dr. Payr, of Leipzig, and Dr. Leceue of Paris.

Dr John B. Murphy, of Chicago, talked of the cause foulcers and said that they were not due to superacidity of the juices passing through the stomach and duodenum, but more often caused from infection from other parts of the body.

Dr. Arthur D. Bevan, of the same city, said many ulcers could be reached by medical treatment and did not require surgery.

Special clinics were arranged at St. Luke's and the Presbyterian Hospitals.

MURPHY REINSTATED IN DEMOCRATIC CLUB.

Pays Back Dues, but It Is Said Will Resign and Take 150 Members Out.

NEW YORK, April 21.—Charles F. Murphy, Thomas F. Foley and George W. Plunkitt, who were dropped from the Democratic Club five weeks ago for non-payment of dues, were reinstated after a hot fight in the Board of Government last night. After the reinstatement it was said that Foley would resign today and that in all probability Murphy would do the same,

With the mit was said would go nearly 150 members who have decided to take this method of showing their disapproval of the treatment to which Murphy was subjected.

When the Board of Governors met John T. Lee said he understood the checks of Messrs. Murphy, Foley and Plunkitt were in the clubhouse, and he moved the trio be reinstated.

Judge F. O'Dwyer protested and insisted Murphy was a detriment to the club and a load on the party. Thomas F. Smith defended his chief, saying the action of the board was a piece of petty spite.

The vote was then taken. It was eleven for reinstatement,, two against and two not voting. The two against were President O'Dwyer and Colonel J. R. Dunlap. James E. Gaffney, who was dropped at the same time, refused to send a check and said he didn't care what was done. Dr. Darlington was reinstated a week ago.

HINTS FOR THE HOUSEHOLD.

Oven May Be Tested by Placing a Piece of White Paper on It.

After frying fish and onions, the odor can be removed from the pan by putting vinegar and allowing it to heat to the scalding point, then wash out the pan with soap and hot water.

Chamois leather used for window cleaning needfs frequent washing. Squeeze it in warm soapsuds. The addition of a little ammonia is good. Rinse in a fresh lather of soap, then hang out to dry.

Test the oven by placing a piece of white paper in it. If it burns at once the oven is too hot for any cooking. If it turns a dark yellow, the oven is ready for cake baking. If it turns light color, it is right for biscuits.

Put all pieces of laundry soap in a can, add to them a couple of tablespoonfuls of kerosene, fill two-thirds full of soft water and boil slowly. This is excellent to put in the water in which the clothes are soaked.

SAENGERFEST PLANS READY

ANNUAL EVENT IN DALLAS TO BE ELABORATE.

Classical Music With Recognized Artists Will Make Affair Interesting to All Music Lovers.

DALLAS, Texas, April 21—Within a short time the thirtieth Jubilee State Saengerfest begins in this city. Plans already perfected assure for it the distinction of being the greatest musical event in the history of the German Singing societies of Texas, who held their initial saengerfest in New Braunfels in 1853, or 60 years ago. More than 20 cities of the State will be represented by choruses of singers. With them will come delegations of prominent men and women, whose interest in the occasion is due solely to its musical importance.

The dates for the saengerfest are May 11, 12, 13 and 14. Monday, the first day, will be devoted to receiving the visitors, escorting them to their headquarters and in organization details. Three great concerts will be given—one on the evening of Tuesday, May 12, and a matinee concert and an evening concert on Wednesday, May 13. On Thursday evening, May 14, a kommers or social session will be given at Turner hall for the entertainment of visiting singers.

Some Features of Event.

Some of the big features of the saengerfest of this year are: The Texas Saengerbund male chorus of 700 singers, a mixed church choir of 500 voices, a woman's chorus of 200 voices and a school children's chorus of 1000, or nearly 2500 singers in all; the St. Louis Symphony orchestra of 60 eminent musicians and instrumental soloists, a famous quartett composed of Marie Sundelius, soprano; Mrs. Franklyn Knight, contralto; Marion Green, basso, and Arthur Hackett, tenor. In addition there has been engaged two of the greatest singers of the age. Rudolph Berger. the famous German tenor of the Metropolitan grand opera company and Mme. Rosa Olitzka, a celebrated contralto, who has sung in all the leading cities of this country and Europe with the Metropolitan grand opera company and other preeminent organizations.

High Class Music Planned.

Wagner, Verdi, Liszt, Mendelssohn and other great composers are represented in the programs practically decided upon by the local committee. In addition there will be folksongs, patriotic songs, lullabies and children's songs; in other words, programs of a variety to please the most exacting.

The railroads of the State have announced low round trip rates to apply from all points to Dallas account of the saengerfest. From all points in Texas a rate of one and one-fifth fare will apply, good for a week in Dallas. From Oklahoma points the rate will be one and one-third fares. A special rate of practically one cent a mile each way will apply from allpoints within 150 miles of Dallas, good for trains arriving in this city Tuesday, May 12 and Wednesday, May 13, limit of return being Thursday, May 14.

AGED PAIR SLAIN IN BED.

San Ignacio Couple Murdered in Their Sleep and Home Robbed.

LAREDO, Tex., April 21.—Porfirio Pena and his wife, an aged couple living at San Ignacio, Zapata County, were beaten to death in their beds Wednesday night and their home ransacked in search of money.

Francisco Martinez, who recently came here from Laredo, Mexico, and Simon Hinojosa were arrested and are being held at Zapta pending investigation.

Pena and his wife lived alone on the outskirts of the town of San Ignacio, which is forty miles southeast of here. The murder was discovered Thrsday morning when passers-by noticed the house had not been opened at the accustomed hour.

Neighbors decided to investigate. They found a rear door party open, the lock having been broken, and Pena and his wife dead in their bed. A heavy piece of mesquite, fashioned into a club and bloodstained, lay on the floor near the bed. The skulls of both Pena and his wife had been fractured by repeated blows. The house was in disorder, every room having been ransacked in a search for money.

McCALL CRITICISES MITCHELL FOR BILL VETO.

NEW YORK, April 21.—Edward E. McCall, chairman of the Public Service Commission, yesterday criticised Mayor Mitchel isseverely for vetoing the bill empowering the commission to let contracts without public bidding up to $25,000, and to build portions of the new rapid transit lines on which contractors default.

Mayor Mitchell, however, did not take McCall's attack seriously. He said: "I do not think this commission which is spending the city's money should have th epowers conferred in that bill without consent of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment."

FINDS EMPLOYER AIDS LABOR MOST IN WEST.

NEW YORK, April 21.—"The spirit of social consciousness among large employers is much more developed in the Middle West than in the East," Ernest K. Coulter told the members of the Woman's Republican Club yesterday at its meeting at Delmonico's.

"I found on my Western trip that the heart of the employer went with the check that he contributed to welfare work and all that means greater happiness to the empolye," said Mr. Coulter.

THAW WINS WRIT, BUT HE IS STILL HELD PRISONER

New Hampshire Judge Grants Habaes Corpus In Order Putting Issue in U. S. Supreme Court.

CONCORD, N. H., April 21.—Harry K. Thaw's petition for a writ if habeas corpus was granted today by Judge Aldrich, of the United States District Court.

The order was issued with the understanding the case would be appealed to the United States Supreme Court. For that reason Judge Aldrich decided the prisoner should not be discharged from custody, and Thaw's application for release on b l must be pessed upon by the Supreme Court.

"The case will be taken at once to the United States Supreme Court upon the ground that Judge Aldrich had no power whatever to grant a writ of habeas corpus to Thaw," said Attorney-General Carmody at Albany.

"The question is one of executive (not judicial) jurisdiction. After the Governor of New Hampshire had granted his warrant of extradition ordering Thaw returned to New York State no court had the power to assume jurisdiction in the case."

Only by extraordinary steps can the case be considered by the Supreme Court before next October, and it may be Christmas before it is passed upon. But after the appeal has been perfected, Thaw may make application for release without bail. The application would be made to Justice Holmes, assigned to the New England circuit.

The court says the report of the commission to pass upon Thaw's sanity, supplemented by his own observations, satisfied him that any supposed danger to the community through Thaw having his liberty was so remote as not to warrant his being deprived of bail on that ground.

"I am not at all certain," says the decision, "that I am not denying a plain right, and doing the petitioner an injustice by leaving this question (the matter of bail) undecided.'

Thaw's lawyers have been summoned for a conference on the next steps to be taken.

HOTEL MEN FIGHT PROHIBITION BILLS.

NEW YORK, April 21.—A countryside campaign is to be conducted by hotel men against prohibition bills in Congress. It was reported yesterday at the convention of the Hotelkeepers' National Protective Association in the Waldorf-Astoria. The Association went on record in favor of increased railroad freight rates.

A report that tipping had been discussed was denied.

FAMILY SHOULD BE FED SCIENTIFICALLY

MEALS OUGHT TO SUPPLY ENERGY FOR AMOUNT AND KIND OF WORK DONE.

Toast More Digestible Than Hot Breads—Special Care Should Be Exercised When Making Coffee

"If the housekeeper is up to date, she will plan her meals so that the members of her family will get somewhere near the amount and the kind of food they need to give them energy for the amount and kind of work they do," a woman writes.

"We can divide the three meals a day in this woy: One-fourth the eqtire amount of food needed to be eaten at breakfast, one-fourth the entire amount needed at luncheon and the remainedr at dinner.

"A conventional breakfast is to be recommended. The family then partakes of it as a matter of habit, and it is easier for the housekeeper. Of course, the cereal should be varied each day. Purchase a package of each of the different cereals and keep them in cereal jars or glass cans, tightly covered.

"If there are children in the family, oatmeal should be eaten at least three times a week, because of its bone-making material. A quart of milk should be consumed by each child; then we are sure that they are geting the proper amount of protein.

"At this time of the year the toasted cereals are a bit more appetizing than the steamed cereals. Milk is betted for all t odrink, but it is difficult to convince the elders of the family that this is so. When coffee is served, special care should be exercised in its making. Many claim that without a good cup of coffee the day sets out wrong.

"Toast is more digestible than hot breads, but hot breads seem to be popular for breakfast, especially now when our appetites need to be coaxed. Except when eggs are cheap, the breakfast is complete with fruit, cereal, bread and the beverage. Neither meat nor vegetables are appropriate or necessary."

BANKRUPT JEWELLERS HELD FOR HIDING ASSETS.

NEW YORK, April 21.—Samuel Epner, a jewelry dealer at No. 99 Canal street, and his brother Daniel, who acted as travelling salesman, were arrested and held in $7,500 bail each yesterday on charge of having concealed assets from the trustee in bankruptcy.

Daniel Epner, on March 13, said he was held up by highwaymen in Chicago and robbed of diamons worth $30,000 and jewelry valued at $25,000.

CARNEGIE HERO GETS 99 YEARS IN PRISON

NEGRO IS CONVICTED OF STATUTORY CHARGE AT CANTON.

Elbert Gray, Recognized for Daring Deed, Is to Spend Remainder of Life in Penitentiary.

WILLS POINT, Tex., April 18—Elber Gray, a negro aged 19 years of age who about three years ago received a Carnegie medal for an act of heroism was convicted in the district court at Canton on a statutory charge and sentenced to a term of ninety-nine years in the penitentiary. The charge was based upon Gray's alleged relations with a young white woman said to be feeble-minded, both of them being inmates of the county farm, as misdemeanants.

Three years ago, a 3-year-old white boy fell feet first into a bored well, ten inches in diameter and sixty feet deep. Miraculously the child was not killed, nor even seriously hurt. Gray volunteered to go to the rescue. He was lowered into the well head first, got hold the child by the arm, and pulled it halfway up. Then a wristband broke, and the child fell back. Gray was again lowered into the well head first. He fastened a rope to the boy, and it was pulled out after him. Gray was rather lionized by the citizens of the vicinity and publicity of the facts brought him recognition from the Carnegie Herol Medal commission.

COUCHING MAY BE DONE QUICK.

Many Designs Can Be Done; Nearly All of Them Are Simple.

For the busy woman who has little time to embroider sofa pillows there is one that works up very quickly. It is the couched pillow. Many designs can be done in couching, but the favorite one for this stitch is scroll work. A cord, soutache braid, wool or rope silk is laid about the design and tacked fast by far-apart buttonhole stitches of finer silk or thread. A rather pretty fashion is to have the button holing thread of a contrasting color to that used for the large couching thread. The buttonhole stitches should be about an eighth of an inch apart.

Still another couching stitch, not so elaborate, is that made by laying the heavier thread on the stamped outline and fastening it with perfectly straight-across stitches at regular intervals, so that the stitches made in the finer thread look like neat little staples. Be careful, however, that the stitches are never so far apart that the heavier thread springs out of position. The stitches are usually somewhat closer when rounding curves.

COWDRAY'S R. R. BORE $99,500,000 U. S. TRADE,

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The Department of Commerce today issued an inconspicuous little bulletin containing figures which show the business in 1913 of the Tehauntepec Railroad across Mexico, which is owned by Lord Cowdray, the head of the great English contracting firm of S. Pearson & Son.

The value of American products carried from coast to coast last year was $99,500,000.

Free tolls for American coastwise vessels would mean that this $99,-500,000 worth of Rmerican goods would be carried in American vessels through an American canal. In other words, the Department of Commerce has officially disclosed the real dark stranger in the woodpile.

MORE TIME GRANTED FOR EXPOSITION FUND

TEXAS GIVEN UNTIL APRIL 25 TO RAISE MONEY.

Only $15,000 Pledged Thus Far, with $10,000 Required—This One of Tardy States.

AUSTIN, Tex., April 21.—Through the efforts of the Texas Society, an organization of Texans, now located in San Francisco, the Panama-Pacific Exposition Commission has been granted twelve days longer, until April 25, to raise sufficient funds to guarantee the erection of a Texas State Building at San Francisco.

The date formerly set by the International Exposition Commission for an answer from Texas was April 13. Despite the efforts of the State commission to secure guarantee of enough funds to make the building a possibility, it was discovered that enough pledges could not be secured from all the large cities of the State to make the requisite amount.

The International Exposition Commission has already granted to Texas one extension of time, and when a wire was sent asking for ten days longer the reply returned was, "We must have Texas answer on date specified if State is to be represented." The matter was immediately taken up with the Texas Society of San Francisco and after several consultations with the authorities an extension of time was granted.

There are three States in the entire United States that have not yet given their answer to the authorities. Texas, the largest State in the Union, is one of these three States. In the other States more money has been raised already than has been pledged in Texas.

Only $15,000 Pledged.

At this time only $15,000 has been pledged. There remains $10,-000 to be raised within the next ten days. Numerous plans of raising funds have been submitted to the members of the commission. In Waco the society circles have united and will give during the week a big Panama-Pacific ball, the entire proceeds to go to the exposition fund. This plan has also been adopted in several other of the smaller cities.

The Texas society of California, to whom the State is obligated for an extension of time, was formed about six months ago for the purpose of advertising the State of Texas and is composed of former Texans now located in San Francisco, Los Angeles and surrounding cities. There are several hundred members, and the special committee from the society has already been over the grounds for the exposition and endeavored to get temporary options on several pieces of the ground they deem worthy for the Texas State Building.

Texas Society Ready to Help.

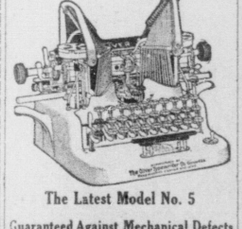

According to the letter received from Secretary A. Hockwald of the society, "This Texas Society of California is also a social organization and our aim is to help in every way possible to extend to visitors from Texas such social courtesies as may be within our power. We are voluntarily banded together for this purpose, and the idea of impressing upon all the people of the world the greatness of our State. We assure you our organization through its strength and influential members will be able to hold our end of the proposition and try to combine the hospitality of the State of California with the love of our native State, thus showing the sons and daughters of Texas such courtesies as we may be able to extend."

The Flag Day will be held on May 2, at which time the miniature Texas flags wil lbe sold over the entire States of Texas. The proceeds from these flags will be used in preparing an exhibit should the Texas State Building itself become a possibility.

DEATH

I wish to announce to the many friends in Kimble county of the death of Walter Patton, who died in the United States Navy at Portsmouth, Va., on April 9, 1914. He had been in the Navy only a short while where he took pneumonia which caused his death.

Dear bereaved, this is a bright, glad, beautiful world, fragrant with the odor of flowers, tuneful with the songs of birds, resplendent with the glories of earth and sea and sky, and yet its attractions will no doubt be unnoticed by many of you for grim merciless death has appeared in your midst and snatched from your companionship one of your loved ones. Your sky is hung with dark and somber cloud curtains, your vision is o'ercast with the gloom of sorrow, and every sound that strikes your ear has in it a cadence of despair without the presence of that one who has gone before the world, indeed seems empty and cheerless to you and in your heart there is a dreary, dismal aching void. The only consolation that is vouchsafed you is the sweet realization of the fact that your beloved is at peace; the one upon whom you have lavished your affection is now in that land "where the weary are at rest." Bending over the open coffin looking at the folded hands which will never clasp mine again in this world, gazing upon the closed eyes which we will never more see on this earth, it brings us sorrow. No doubt your scalding tears fall as you realize that your earthly companionship with this one is forever at an end, and as stated before; your only consolation is that your heart's idol has heard the words from the Father's lips. "Well done, thou good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joys of thy lord."

Your consolation is found in a consideration of the fact that your treasure is in Heaven. The poor worn frame we'll never more be cracked with the agonies of pain; suffering is forever at an end. But, 'twill only be a little while until you will cross the Dark River and join your companion among the hosts of the saved on the other shore; and until then you may find solace in such thought as the above. Friends, in testifying to your faithful memory of the departed you can do so in no more appropriate way than to write to his father and brothers, Charles A. Patton, Ben Patton and Frank Patton all of Creedmore, Texas, Route 2.

"Cometh there no thought of sighs,
And there are no tearful eyes.
In that home beyond the skies,
Where there'll be no more goodbyes."

A Friend.
