Heavy Rains 'Flood' Littlefield Section

Boats Paddled On Highway After 4.3 Inch Fall In Little Over Hour

By CHARLES STONE
Avalanche Staff Writer

A NEAR cloudburst dropped 4.3 inches of rain on Littlefield and vicinity last night in the short space of little more than an hour, and rains almost as heavy were reported at Amarillo, Sudan and Anton.

The Littlefield deluge came from the northwest, with a sharp lightning display and blowing sands preceding the rain. The rain started to fall heavily about 5 o'clock and continued for more than an hour, flooding the streets and stalling cars in some sections of the city. On the highway between Littlefield and Lubbock, near the West Texas Cotton Oil company, persons were rowing boats in the water which covered the highway at that point.

Lights went out in Littlefield for a time, and the same was reported at other towns where the rain hit hardest. Some hail was reported along with the rain at Littlefield but not enough to do serious damage.

Heavy At Anton, Sudan

The Santa Fe Office at Sudan reported three inches of rain there, the water falling in the early evening.

At Anton, H. G. Richards of the Anton News said that from 1.5 to 2 inches fell there between 6:30 and 8:30 p. m. The highway from Anton to Whitharral was under water about one-half mile southwest of Anton, and cars were stalled at that point. The rain was pretty general in that area, Richards said.

Reports that a severe windstorm had hit the community of Estacado, located in northeast Lubbock county, could not be confirmed late last night, but nearby towns and communities said no report of damage had been received.

Edgar Brash, hardware dealer at Levelland, reported that the rain gauge at his store measured a little more than .7 inches of rain in a shower between 8 and 9 p. m.

M. O. Hoke of Abernathy had measured .54 of an inch of rain which fell between 7:45 p. m. and

Rains Sweep Across Texas

(By The Associated Press)

DEL RIO, border town on the Rio Grande in Southwest Texas, was without light, power and gas last night after torrential rains measuring as much as 11 inches wrought heavy damage in that area.

The rains washed out a highway bridge and a railroad bridge near Del Rio, where six inches of rain fell during the day.

Ranch Reports 11 Inches

W. W. Gaines, publisher of the Del Rio News-Herald, said a washout at Sycamore creek, several miles northeast of the city, broke gas main connections with Pearsall.

He said 11 inches of rain was reported at Gills ranch northeast of Del Rio and that other drought-breaking rains were reported in the vicinity.

The Rio Grande at Del Rio was on the rise.

Some hail was reported in the area.

For a while telephone and telegraph communications were out.

Rain Crosses State

The rainfall stretched in varying amounts Wednesday and Thursday in a strip down Texas from the Red river valley down to the Rio Grande.

Torrential downpours sent the South Llano river around Junction on an eight-foot rise. Falls ranging up to eight inches sent streams on a rampage in the Val Verde, Sutton, Edwards and Kimble counties area and traffic was disrupted around Del Rio by flooding streams.

One man was reported missing in a rise on Devils river, 12 miles north of Del Rio.

Reports reaching Corpus Christi from Laredo said that the Rio

Truman Signs Draft Measure

WASHINGTON, June 24. (AP)—President Truman today signed the peacetime draft bill and two appropriation measures that give over ten billion dollars to the Army, Navy and Air Force.

His action on the conscription measure makes it law and stops the flood of enlistments in the National Guard and reserves by men 19 through 25 seeking to sidestep induction into the regular services.

Between 200,000 and 250,000 men are expected to be drafted the first year.

Navy Bill Signed

The first defense measure signed today was the Navy money bill totaling $3,749,059,250 for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

It includes funds to start the world's largest ship, a 65,000-ton aircraft carrier to cost about $127,000,000. By using wartime reserves and previous appropriations, the Navy has more than five billion to spend this year.

The Army and Air Force appropriation bill for $6,705,418,163 will enable them to immediately begin building both manpower and equipment.

The Air Force receives $896,986,000 of the fund, but it also got a separate appropriation from Congress to build a 70-group striking arm.

Signature of the draft bill, which had not been anticipated before the July 5 deadline, makes Sept. 22, or 90 days from now, the possible beginning date of inductions.

Registrations can begin at once, but selective service said it would take about six weeks to set up draft board machinery. This would make the registration date around August 16.

BEVIN CUTS VACATION

LONDON, June 24. (AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin cut his vacation short by 12 hours tonight. An official Whitehall source said the British expect some form of "armistice" temporarily will end the East-West fight for Berlin.

Bobby Oliver Is Killed In Auto Wreck

By JOE HITCHCOCK
Avalanche Staff Writer

A LUBBOCK youth was killed, another was in critical condition, and a third man was seriously injured in a headon collision about 8 o'clock Thursday night five miles north of the city on the Plainview highway during a heavy wind and dust storm.

In a second crash only a few minutes later on the east side of the canyon on East Broadway, 11 persons escaped serious injury as one automobile was turned over.

The two wrecks took a toll of one dead and six injured, one person critically.

Lubbock Youth Killed

Dead was Bobby Gene Oliver, 20, of Lubbock route 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Oliver.

Emmett Carroll, 18, of 2624 Ruby, was unconscious and suffering head and chest injuries, a broken jaw, and multiple lacerations, according to preliminary examination at Lubbock Memorial hospital.

J. N. Pruett, 30, of Abbott Lodge, suffered a broken right leg, a displaced hip and abrasions.

According to the highway patrol, Pruett's 1941 Cadillac apparently hit a highway barricade which was believed to have blown down in the road. He was driving south alone on the east side of the center section of the highway, where construction work has been underway.

Driver Runs Into Ditch

A 1938 Chevrolet driven by Warren Haddock, of Monroe, saw Pruett losing control of his car and took to the ditch. He was alone and going in the opposite direction.

Oliver, driving a 1946 Plymouth convertible, and accompanied by Carroll, was immediately behind Haddock.

He crashed headon with Pruett, crumpling the front of the Plymouth like an accordion. The steering wheel was forced to the top of the car, and there was a huge hole in the canvas top over the driver's seat.

Large Car Smashed

The left wheel of the Calillac was almost pushed to a position underneath the windshield. Everything under the hood seemed to have been smashed backwards about two feet. The steering wheel was bent toward the left windshield.

Neither vehicle was turned over, but both were facing west after the accident, which occurred in front of the Ernest Exum residence.

Oliver and Carroll were pulling a two-wheel trailer and were enroute to Plainview for a load of ice, a friend reported.

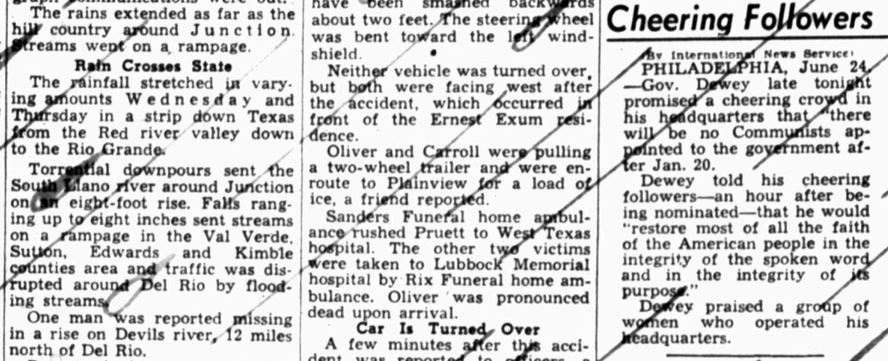

Sanders Funeral home ambulance rushed Pruett to West Texas hospital. The other two victims were taken to Lubbock Memorial hospital by Rix Funeral home ambulance. Oliver was pronounced dead upon arrival.

Car Is Turned Over

Clay Defies Russian Blockade Of Berlin

By EDWIN SHANKE
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN June 24—The Russians snapped off electricity, milk and food for western Berlin today but the American military governor declared they "cannot drive us out of Berlin by any action short of war."

Steel-helmeted U S. soldiers in armored cars with mounted machineguns and rifle-carrying military police patrolled the American sector and gave the city its most war-like atmosphere since 1945.

British soldiers were dispatched to protect scrap metal stocks they said the Russians were trying to haul from the British sector, it was announced tonight. The British said they rejected a Russian demand to withdraw the soldiers.

British Embargo Shipments

The British countered the Soviet blockade of western Berlin by embargoing coal and steel shipments from the Ruhr to the Soviet zone.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American commander, took similar action by suspending all trade shipments to eastern Germany.

The Soviet military administration declared tonight the Allied Kommandatura "has practically ceased to exist as a body for the administration of Berlin." The statement was an answer to a western proposal earlier this week to solve Berlin's currency crisis in the Kommandatura.

City Government Hit

The statement by Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky, Russian military governor, indicated that the Soviets intend to ignore the Kommandatura—the four-power ruling body of Berlin—as well as

Dewey Will Appoint No Reds, He Tells Cheering Followers

(By International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, June 24.—Gov. Dewey late tonight promised a cheering crowd in his headquarters that "there will be no Communists appointed to the government after Jan. 20.

Dewey told his cheering followers—an hour after being nominated—that he would "restore most of all the faith of the American people in the integrity of the spoken word and in the integrity of its purpose."

Dewey praised a group of women who operated his headquarters.

Oklahoma Panhandle Town Is Struck By Severe Windstorm

GATE, Okla., June 24. (AP) — A severe windstorm struck this Oklahoma Panhandle town of 250 persons this afternoon, damaging several business buildings and farm structures in surrounding areas.

Nella Walker, telephone operator, said the storm struck about 4 p. m. She said no one was hurt, but power lines were blown down and the town still was without electricity at 8 p. m.

The telephone operator said reports indicated most of the damage was to farm buildings and wheat crops.

Eastern Bloc Urges German Government

WARSAW, Poland, Friday, June 25 (AP)—Eight European nations under the leadership of Russia called early today for the formation of a "provisional, Democratic, peace-loving, all-German government."

(A communique issued at the eight-nation conference, broadcast by the Moscow radio and heard in London, said the eastern bloc asked for a four - power agreement on such a German government).

The conference, which ended at midnight, said the proposed German government should consist of representatives of the Democratic parties and organizations in Germany. Such a government, it added, should create a guarantee against a repetition of German aggression.

The participating nations were Russia, Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, Poland, Romania and Hungary.

The conference communique did not mention any possibility that Russia, with the support of its eastern European neighbors, would set up a separate government for Eastern Germany in answer to the London conference agreement on the future of Western Germany.

GOP Nominee Urges Faith, Denies Deals

CONVENTION HALL, PHILADELPHIA, June 24.—Thomas E. Dewey accepted his unanimous nomination as the Republican presidential candidate tonight with a call for unity of "our party and our country in meeting the grave challenge of our time."

Dewey rushed to the seething, sizzling convention hall to accept, his arm around his beaming wife, the 14,000 in the arena cheering madly for him, the lights blazing down infernally. It created a scene which only this country can achieve.

On the sardine-jammed speaker's rostrum, he launched into his brief prepared speech. "The next president of the United States,"—as one orator after another hailed him—was almost crushed in the crowd.

Delegates Roar Approval

But his victory grin stayed on his sweating features and it was plainly, indisputably, the greatest moment of his life.

With a ring in his voice, Dewey began, "You, the elected representatives of our Republican party have again given to me the highest honor you can bestow—your nomination for president of the United States.

"In all humility, I pray God that I may deserve this opportunity to serve our country."

Calls For Faith

"I come to you unfettered by a single obligation or promise to any living person, free to join with you in selecting to serve our nation the finest men and women in the nation, free to unit our party and our country in meeting the grave challenge of our time."

Threatened Coal Strike Averted

By ALLAN J. FUNCH
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 24.—President Truman announced tonight that John L. Lewis and the nation's soft coal mine owners have agreed on a 1948 work contract averting a long-threatened strike.

The White House said that the President's emergency coal board has reported "settlement" of the negotiations which have been deadlocked since May 18.

Agreement was reached just before the deadline for the emergency board's report to the President that a walkout was imminent.

Had not the disputants agreed Mr. Truman would have been required under the Taft-Hartley labor act to seek an anti-strike injunction to take effect when the 1947 contract expires Wednesday midnight.

Wage Hike Reported

The agreement came within 48 hours of a federal coal ruling upholding Lewis' stand that payment of $100-a-month pensions was permissible under the 1947 miners welfare fund. Immediate activation of the fund had been Lewis price for continued negotiations on a 1948 pact or extension of the 1947 agreement.

The new contract is understood to provide:

New Yorker Winner On Third GOP Vote

Opposition Fades; Delegates Name Vice Presidential Nominee Today

By DOUGLAS CORNELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

CONVENTION HALL, Philadelphia, June 24—The Republican national convention unanimously placed its presidential banner for a second time tonight in the hands of Thomas E. Dewey.

And proudly he accepted the nomination with a pledge to work for "freedom of men" everywhere in these times of "grave challenge."

The New York governor walked away with his personal victory on the third ballot of the 24th GOP convention—1,094 to 0.

"Hallelujah," cried Mrs. Dudley Hay, convention secretary, as she finished the roll call.

The party had decided to try to make a winner in 1948 of its 1944 loser. Exactly four years ago, lacking a day, the GOP gave Dewey his first fling at the White House. He lost to the old master, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Dewey Took Early Lead

But this time, the Republicans were noisily proclaiming, it will be different against Harry S. Truman—or anyone else the Democrats might put up.

Again as at Chicago in 1944, Dewey had things his way almost from the start. He romped out ahead on the first ballot. On the second he raided opposition camps, lassoed stray votes from delegation after delegation and pulled to within 33 votes of the glittering goal of 548.

A coalition had tried frantically to stop him. In it were other candidates, men of stature within the party. They never had a chance, but they were late finding it out.

Among them were Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, former governor Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, Gov. Earl Warren of California, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan.

Dewey gave them time in a two-and-a-half-hour recess to reorganize their strategy. The best they could do was meekly submit to the pressure of rank-and-file delegates who saw the New Yorker walking away with the nomination. Those delegates wanted to be with him when he won.

Other Candidates Pledge Support

So the anti-Dewey boom collapsed dramatically and completely.

One after another emissaries for the faltering candidates—and Stassen in person—hustled to the convention platform. One after another they surrendered. Each in turn promised to pitch in and help guarantee a Republican election in November.

That settled it. The roll was called just because the rules say it had to be. Dewey came in to make his acceptance speech. His pretty wife stood by his side for a few moments, smiling at the crowd, but mostly looking at her husband with maybe a trace of tears in her eyes.

The convention quit until tomorrow at 8:30 a.m., CST. Then it picks the man for second spot on the ticket. Dewey lieutenants said the governor had nobody specifically in mind, at that point.

Four years ago it was governor, now senator, John W. Bricker of Ohio. It conceivably could be Bricker again, delegates guessed. Bricker it was tonight who read to the convention a statement from Taft asking his delegates to vote for Dewey "with all of their force and enthusiasm."

Also in the running, as other delegates saw it, were men like

OHIO SENATOR 'WILL ACCEPT'

Publisher Says Bricker To Get Nomination For Vice President

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, June 24—Dudley White, Norwalk, Ohio publisher said tonight that U. S. Senator John W. Bricker of Ohio will be given the Republican nomination for vice president.

White, a member of the Ohio Republican convention delegation and one of the strategists for Senator Robert A. Taft said:

"Arrangements for Senator Bricker to receive the vice presidential nomination have already been worked out. He will accept."

Bricker was Dewey's 1944 running mate. He placed Taft's name in nomination at the present convention and it was he who also announced tonight that Taft would withdraw in favor of Dewey.

Bricker retired from the governorship of Ohio at the end of 1944 after serving three consecutive two-year terms. He was elected to the Senate in 1948.

He came to Philadelphia this week as chairman of the Ohio delegation of 44 members pledged to Senator Taft.

RESIDENTS FACE SERVICE DELAYS

Commission Sets New Policy On Extension Of City Limits

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

A POLICY of not extending the city limits until residents of proposed additions have a clear understanding of their prospects of securing water, sewage and other municipal services was activated by the city commission at its semi-monthly meeting Thursday afternoon.

The precedent for probable similar actions in the future was set when petitions were presented from residents and property owners in three square blocks immediately adjoining the northwest city limits requesting annexation to the city.

Action on the request was deferred until the approximately 40 residents in the three blocks can be notified in personal letters that, if their area is annexed, it will be with the understanding that the city makes no guarantee as to when water, sewage and other utilities can be provided.

Members of the commission indicated they would be agreeable to the proposed extension if the majority of the residents of the area want to come in under this

Frances Keeps Tally Cards For Husband

Gov. Dewey Goes To Comfort Wife When Opposition Fades

By MARTHA KEARNEY

MRS. THOMAS E. DEWEY

PHILADELPHIA, June 24—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's first official act as Republican presidential nominee was to put his arms around his pretty tremulous wife and give her a tremendous hug.

And Frances Hutt Dewey, her face tight with strain, put her head on his shoulder and held on to him for all she was worth.

Dewey Didn't Wait

Dewey did not even wait for the end of the speech in which Sen. Robert A. Taft conceded the nomination before he left his suite and walked over to the room where Frances Dewey was sitting, her eyes closed and her head in her hands.

It took less than a minute for him to reach her and to put his arms around her protectively.

As for Mrs. Dewey, her first remark after she recovered from her initial shock was:

"Well, I guess I'd better go and put on my hat."

Then, when her little black halo was in place, she prepared to leave the Bellevue-Stratford hotel for Convention hall.

Sons At Hall

The two Dewey sons—15-year-old Thomas E. Dewey, jr., and 12-year-old John—were already at the hall with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hogan, family friends.

It was a tough day for Frances Dewey. Her husband had asked her to keep score for him on the balloting "because you can keep score better than I can."

Maybe he was just giving her something to do to keep her from collapsing with nervous tension.

If so, it worked because all afternoon long Frances Dewey carefully marked tally cards and watched a television screen. She worked in her suite on one side of the hotel, he on the other side in a room with a direct wire to the convention hall.

They conferred frequently by telephone.

And then, suddenly, when it was all over, Frances Dewey just put her head in her hands and closed her eyes tight.

GOP Platform Hit By Wallace

NEW YORK, June 24 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace said today the Republican party's new platform signals "the formal end of the now outmoded division between the Republican and Democratic parties."

It marks, he said in a statement, "the start of a new era in which there will be only the new People's party and the old Republican-Democratic party of the monopolies with its war and depression program."

The third party presidential candidate said the Republicans, in their platform adopted at Philadelphia, stated they would "invite the minority party to join us under the next Republican administration in stopping partisan politics x x x."

GOP Platform Rapped

"They thus affirmed," Wallace said, "what I have been saying for months—that the old parties are in effect one."

Wallace sharply criticized the GOP platform and charged the Republicans had "ignored their 1944 pledges" for support of the United Nations, social welfare legislation and civil rights laws.

Last night, Wallace released the text of a letter in which he said his new party would support "progressive candidates" for Congress, regardless of party differences in the presidential race.

The letter was addressed to G. J. O'Donnell, president of the Trades and Labor Assembly in St. Paul, Minn., who had wired Wallace asking him to help unite the federal movement in Minnesota behind the senatorial candidacy of St. Paul Mayor Hubert Humphrey.

NEW BALLOTING SET

American Jews Warned To Stay Out Of Politics In New Israel

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 24 (U.P.)—American Jews were warned today against "interfering" with politics of the new Israel state.

Rabbi Phillip S. Berstein, Rochester, N. Y., told a meeting of the central conference of American rabbis, that the American Jew also must stay out of politics at home.

The American Jews will continue, Bernstein said, to help Israel "with materials, moral support and guidance," but told the conference the trend of the future "must be toward complete disassociation of the non-Palestine Jewry with the political affairs of Israel."

He told the 400 rabbis at the 59th annual conference that the government of Israel must "scrupulously" avoid giving instructions to citizens of other countries.

The committee on Palestine, headed by Rabbi Edward E. Klein, New York, urged "that America implement its recognition of Israel with financial assistance from the world's oldest democracy to its youngest."

The committee also asked that "such financial aid to England under the United States European recovery plan as would support the war against Israel, be withheld."

Aid Is Given To Navajo Indians

CHICAGO, June 24 (INS)—Eight thousand pounds of sheep feed and 2,000 pounds of flour, the first of a series of contributions to the Navajo relief project, were donated today by Pillsbury Mills.

Clyde H. Hendrix, president of Pillsbury Mills' feed and soy division, presented the token shipment of livestock feed and flour to the Indian council fire of Chicago.

The supplies will be sent immediately to needy Navajo families. An additional gift of 500 yards of printed cotton cloth was donated for the use of the Navajos.

Navajos Express Thanks

The presentation was made at a solemn ceremony at which Hendrix was made an Indian chieftain with the name "Strong-man-who-has-many-things."

William Powless, a member of the Oneida tribe, accepted the gifts on behalf of the Indian council fire, which represents all Indian tribes. Powless is president of the Indian council fire. Attending the ceremony were Whirling Thunder, a Winnebago, and Ernest Naqayouma, a Hopi.

A message of thanks from the Navajos was given, first in the Navajo tongue and then in English, by Eugene Charles, a Navajo veteran of World War II who is now a student at Wheaton, Ill.

Hendrix decried the failure of the federal government to provide sufficient relief for the improvised Navajos and expressed the hope that adequate help eventually will be furnished to needy Indians.

Hendrix said:

"We have seen 22 billion dollars provided by Congress for the relief of nations that have been our enemy twice in one generation but little or nothing has been done for the Indian.

"The Indians are making good citizens. They have borne arms for our country. They have exerted a great influence on American life and history. They should be provided with the means to make a proper living."

South Plains Airmen To Visit Littlefield

LITTLEFIELD, June 24. (Spl.)—Airmen from over the entire South Plains are expected to swoop into Littlefield for a free rodeo and aerial breakfast show at 7:30 o'clock Sunday morning, June 27, as part of an unofficial get-acquainted-with-Littlefield program being sponsored by the chamber of commerce. Sunday morning's arrangements are being co-sponsored by Vic Streetman, manager of the municipal airport.

Joe Walters, general chairman of the program, has promised area airmen a good breakfast and a rousing time at a free 30-minute rodeo, with stock and contestants gathered from a wide area.

Walters said he wished to correct a previous mistaken announcement that the aerial get-together was scheduled this past Sunday.

NOW THE HARD OF HEARING CAN HELP THEMSELVES TO HEARING

The many hard-of-hearing in this city will have an exceptional opportunity to find out how they may once again experience relaxed noise-free hearing. A FREE HEARING-CLINIC will be held on Friday and Saturday, June 25th and 26th, Hilton Hotel, 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hammer, at which time they will test the hard-of-hearing for individual hearing deficiencies. This clinic will also serve to introduce a new Acousticon development in hearing aids. This new hearing aid, by the world's first and oldest manufacturer of electrical hearing aids, offer clarity of tone without the harsh background noises usually encountered. This instrument, in spite of its power, is small, even with the batteries enclosed!

Letters have been pouring in from those who have already tried this new Acousticon saying how thrilled they were with this hearing aid. Many of them say that they have never experienced such clarity of tone against such a velvet-quiet background. The manufacturers of this instrument say that no one can even imagine what it may do for them until they hear it with their own ears.

Those hard of hearing who have been searching for the answer to their personal hearing problems urged to attend this FREE CLINIC.

Complete information will be mailed if you cannot be there. Write to Mr. Hammer at 810 McBurnett Bldg., San Angelo, Texas.

GOP NOMINEE TRIED SINGING

Dewey Started Working Life As Newsboy On Father's Paper

By BEN SCHECHTER
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, June 24 — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey started his working life as a newsboy, took a few faltering steps toward an operatic career and then got into politics more or less by accident.

The 46-year-old Republican presidential nominee stepped into the national spotlight in 1933 as a "racket-buster" and he's been busting his opposition ever since.

Roasted Racketeers

1933 was an era when racketeers in New York City boasted openly about their defiance of the law, but Dewey—who abandoned a promising law career to become a special rackets prosecutor—soon turned underworld bosses to squeals.

His ability to gather and present evidence shook the New York underworld to its foundations. He prosecuted and convicted 72 of the 73 men he went after.

They included such characters as Charles (Lucky) Luciano, the vice lord; Irving (Waxey Gordon) Wexler, and powerful Tammany district leader James J. Hines, who was sent to Sing Sing on conviction as "political protector" of Arthur (Dutch Schultz) Flegenheimer.

Dewey also secured the conviction of Fritz Kuhn, one time leader of the German-American bund who now is in a German prison.

Dewey, who was born in Owosso, Mich., March 24, 1902, really started out in life to be a singer. After a brief fling of selling newspaper—his father was a weekly newspaper publisher—Dewey opened a magazine agency at the age of 13. He employed older boys to help him build up the circulation for national magazines. He has reported his profits were "small but satisfactory."

Dewey's principal diversion is golf. He plays consistently in the 90's, but is proud of the fact he once shot an 83.

Predicted 1944 Defeat

He is objective to the point that he frequently refers to himself as "Dewey" when discussing his role in the nation's affairs.

Two weeks before the 1944 presidential election, for example, a reporter asked the New York governor:

"Who is going to win the election?"

"I think it stands 52 per cent Roosevelt, and 48 per cent Dewey," was the reply.

Dewey is a fighter who enjoys it when the going gets rough. He has demonstrated that he commands great vote-pulling power when he rolls up his sleeves and goes to work in earnest.

Met Stassen In Debate

Indicative of this was his primary fight with Harold E. Stassen in Oregon. He wasn't too surprised when Stassen won Wisconsin but was nettled when the Minnesotan did it again in Nebraska.

So he put on his fighting clothes, spent three strenuous weeks stumping the state, tangled with Stassen on the Communist issue—and won.

Once Dewey was known as "the Boy Scout." This was the term New York's underworld applied to him when he first was appointed special rackets prosecutor to wipe them out. Informed one day of the "Boy Scout" appellation, the young prosecutor grinned and commented to an aide:

"That's fair enough. As a Boy Scout perhaps I can do New York a good turn."

Which he proceeded to do.

Philadelphia Joins In Confusion Of GOP Convention

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
INS Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, June 24.—The aisle patriots and the banner commandos of the Republican party sure established twin bedlam in this otherwise placid town.

The old Quaker thought all the world was queer except him and thee. He has now included himself in the balloting and is a candidate for the vest with the canvas sleeves.

The platform alone would drive him nuts. Maybe it is only a niblick shot. Anyway 48 planks is not a platform. It's a duck-walk.

And they sure were waddling in Philly since the keynoter read that search warrant for the White House.

Any candidate could have used Bricker's sales-solo on the impeccable Taft. If I can get a record of that speech I'm going to insert my right monicker and run as independent as feathers on the breeze.

Bricker's gabbola was the finest I have heard since William Jennings Bryan was boosting Florida real estate. Burke Cochran could also slice that Welkin up like apple-pie.

I used to recite Ingersoll's plug for Blaine when I was a middle-aged boy in reform school. And Bricker has all the attributes of the terrific spielers. He has the base, displacement and majesty of the timeless pyramids. And is just as slow coming to a point.

But he finally got there. And I want to say if he was talking about Taft it was like looking at a mule through a rose-colored hoss-collar. Nobody can be that good.

Dewey, MacArthur, Vandenberg, Stassen and several added starters all had good wonderful shills. But the pay-off is the number of cough drops you get in the hat.

I left the convention flat on its seat-pads. I had a ringside prescription calling for two elderly colored gentlemen to slap one another around a four-cornered lot.

CURIOUS DUO—Two red deer, born several weeks ago, poke around their cage in New York's Central Park Zoo. Standing by is the mother of one of them.

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

SOME women do housework with the skill and economy of effort worthy of an artist.

Some people will do everything except pay bills; many of them are very charming, too.

WE CAN TAKE IT

THE most horrible words in the English language, according to Cynthia Lowry, Associated Press newsfeatures writer, are "housewife" and "career girl." We agree. If we could evolve a new set of tags for the women at home and the women at work, everyone would be happier.

"Home maker" and "business woman" are not any improvements on the currently ill-starred ones, however.

THE word housewife invokes a pretty dreadful picture, thanks to pictures drawn and re-drawn by radio, the movies and magazines. The housewife, if one takes a composite of impressions, is a lazy, shiftless, ineffective dope who not only shirks her housework and brings up her children badly, but gives her husband a tough time, too.

She doesn't do anything but play bridge, attend the movies and complain about how she is overworked. Once in a while, of course, she's pictured as a brisk, efficient type concerned entirely with clothes or community organizations of which she is inevitably president.

NOW THEN, the career girl. Well, she is cold, so wrapped up in herself and her ambition that she wouldn't consider taking on a family. By her very existence she deprives men of needed jobs. She's a very bad cookie and the more money she is paid, the worse she is.

Certainly you could find prime examples of either classification to hold up to the light. But most of the business women and the homemakers we know are run-of-the-mine humans. And most of the working girls are glad to swap their jobs in exchange for a pair of broad shoulders.

And the housewives keep pretty neat houses, their husbands look happy and they are concerned with Junior's teeth and the alarming increase in the cost of groceries.

IT'S UP TO YOU

"NO ONE can lower you, or cheapen you, or rob you of your goodness except yourself. You do not have to accept any bad thoughts that originate in other minds. You can close your mind to those bad thoughts by thinking good thoughts of your own. Give yourself the breaks. You'll learn from those with whom you live how well you are succeeding."

EATING WHIMS

HOME ECONOMISTS will tell you finicky appetites are expensive and unnecessary luxuries for any family to afford, especially at today's food prices. They will also tell you that food prejudices may lead to malnutrition. Anyone who avoids many foods is in danger of not getting all the nutrients needed for health.

We know that children develop food prejudices by the attitudes and dislikes of their elders and may carry some of them through their lives.

When we were growing up we were never allowed the luxury of finicky tastes and as a consequence we learned to eat anything and everything and often do.

Food prejudices, even when well established, may be overcome. This was shown during the war when many men in the Army learned to eat and enjoy foods they had refused at home.

In order to encourage the lesser-know authors to endeavor to attain their rightful place in the literary world, and to maintain the pre-eminent status of American literature and culture, the publishers are offering awards for excellence and are planning a similar volume for fall.

The girls will leave July 4 for the meeting under supervision of Mrs. Ima Dora Haile, homemaking teacher in Anton High school, and Mrs. Modelle Moore, homemaking teacher in Seminole High school.

This is the first national meeting of the organization. Approximately 4,000 homemaking students from 45 states, Puerto Rico and Hawaii are expected to attend.

The membership of the Future Homemakers of America is made up of students studying homemaking in junior and senior high schools. Members of the organization hope to work for democracy through establishing happier homes in America. The FHA motto, "Toward New Horizons," expresses the purpose of the group.

The national FHA membership is 250,000 and the Texas membership is 27,136. While sponsored by the U. S. Office of Education and the American Home Economics association the organization is entirely self-sustaining.

Whiteface will be the only other school in Area II to be represented at the convention.

Independent Voters Now Holding Balance Of Power In Election

BY GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., June 24—The balance of power in elections today is, more than ever before, in the hands of the independent voters.

A nation-wide survey by the Institute finds that the proportion of independents in the electorate has increased sharply. In 1940 and 1944 one voter in every five (20 per cent) considered himself an independent. Today the ratio is 29 per cent—that is, 29 per cent say they do not look upon themselves as either regular Democrats or Republicans but as voters who disregard party lines in making their choice.

GALLUP

This year no candidate can win without being able to attract the independent voters, for without their support no one can have a clear majority.

The size of the independent vote, as measured in surveys by the Institute, shows the following trend. In translating today's percentage into millions of votes a total of 58,000,000 was used as the base, which would be the turnout this November if the same proportion of people vote in 1948 as voted in 1940, the last presidential election before the war.

Proportion of Voters Classifying Themselves As Independents

	Per Cent	Number
1940	20%	10,000,000
1944	20	9,000,000
TODAY	29	16,800,000

Independent voters are found in all income and occupation groups and in all sections of the country, but the proportion runs highest among voters with the most education, and among the younger voters.

Among people who have been to college considerably more than one-third call themselves independent, and the proportion is nearly the same among business and professional men and women.

So far as occupation groups are concerned, the farmers indicate the lowest percentage of independent voters, mainly because such a large proportion of the nation's farmers live in the solidly Democratic south.

Sectionally, a higher proportion of independents is found in the East Central States (Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois) than in any other section.

One reason why the total percentage of independents is higher than in former years is the Wallace vote. A substantial proportion of the followers of Henry A. Wallace classify themselves in the independent category. However, even if all the Wallace supporters—who constitute somewhere between 6 and 8 per cent of the total electorate—were to classify themselves as independents, that would still leave a group of more than 20 per cent of other, non-Wallace independents for whose support the Democratic and Republican parties must bid to win.

U. S. Demands Red Satellites Return 'Stolen' Greek Children

WASHINGTON, June 24. (U.P.)—The United States today called on seven Soviet satellite nations to take prompt steps to send back to Greece any Greek children who have been "separated from their families by force or the threat of force."

In a former statement, this government said it noted with "grave concern" the findings of the United Nations special committee on the Balkans regarding removal of a large number of children from the guerrilla-infested areas of Greece to the Soviet satellites.

Some estimates have placed the number of children abducted at 10,000.

The countries named by the UN committee and the United States as harboring the children are Albania, Bulgaria, Yugoslavia, Romania, Hungary, Czechoslovakia and Poland.

Increased Funds Being Spent In Texas Fight Against Polio

SAN ANTONIO, June 24 (U.P.)—A spokesman for the foundation for infantile paralysis estimated today that Texas chapters may spend up to $700,000 in the fight against polio this year.

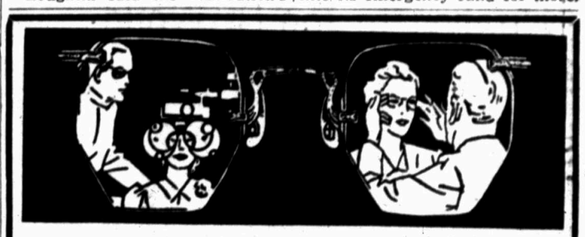

John Loughlin, state representative of the national foundation, said Texas chapters have spent $168,750 in march of dimes funds so far to combat the increased spread of the disease.

He said chapters in Texas are paying for medical care at $2,812 a day, and estimated that the cost of fighting the polio wave would top the total amount raised in the march of dimes campaign in January.

Loughlin said the foundation's national headquarters has earmarked $125,000 for Texas and expected the foundation would dip into its emergency fund for more.

NEW INGREDIENT GETS WHITE WASH WHITER, COLORS BRIGHTER!

FAB contains a *fab*ulous new ingredient that gets white wash whiter, colors brighter. And FAB with Super-Wetting Action removes dulling soap scum.

FAB WASHES CHEAPER ...IN HARDEST WATER

Laboratory tests prove that cup for cup, in hard water, FAB washes up to twice as much family wash as soap. This economy is another *fab*ulous miracle of FAB with Super-Wetting Action. All of FAB washes... Nothing is wasted in soap scum!

FAB WASHES DISHES TWICE AS FAST!

No need to wipe dishes. Just wash with FAB and rinse. FAB leaves no soap scum or film to polish away. Even glassware sparkles! FAB with Super-Wetting Action slashes through grease as no soap can do! Pots and pans get clean quicker, easier. No dishpan ring.

New Routes Over Arctic Take Civilization To Top Of World

WASHINGTON, June 24. (U.P.)—The "Arctic short cut" to Siberia and northern Europe may become well-populated some day.

"Man's gradual extension of settlements into the Arctic," the National Geographic Society reports, "is blowing the warm breath of civilization deeper and deeper into the frozen northern frontier."

The report noted that two new weather stations to be set up by Canadian and U. S. meteorologists at Prince Patrick and Ellef Ringnes Islands "lie within 850 and 750 miles, respectively, of the North Pole."

"One of the many land fragments reaching beyond Canada's mainland, Ellef Ringnes, the nearest of the islands, is about 2,650 airline miles northwest of New York City," the report said.

Distances Recorded

"Looking across the Arctic short cut toward Siberia and the northern coast of Europe, the island is 2,000 miles from Leningrad, 2,900 miles from London."

Prince Patrick and Ellef Ringnes are part of Canada's vast mainland and island region known as the Northwest Territories. They are in a part of the world once written off as too remote and lacking in natural wealth for any use.

"Today," the National Geographic said, "it (the region) is taking on increasing significance as a result of the discovery of its potentially rich mineral resources and the far-fetching global developments of air transport."

This country and Canada already have set up weather stations at Ellesmere, Cornwallis, Melville, and Devon, islands of a group which covers an area of more than 500,000 square miles.

Most of the islands are inhabited only by occasional bands of musk oxen, sea birds, seals, and walruses. Days and nights are months long. The temperature gets as low as 40 degrees and more below zero.

After the long winters, spring bursts suddenly, bringing luxuriant spreads of wildflowers, dandelions, and poppies. Streams flow briskly, if briefly, and flocks of migrating birds fill the air.

The men who volunteer for year-long assignments at the weather stations depend for their entertainment on books and music. Phonograph records are prized. Airmail arrives once a month.

Iron Bars Unable To Block Cupid For Wisconsin Man

OSHKOSH, Wis., June 24 (U.P.)—Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Egan got married but they did not invite too many friends to their reception.

It was held in the county jail.

Egan, 24, was sentenced to serve eight months for a car theft and robbery. The same judge who had sentenced him performed the marriage ceremony. Then the wedding "party" had refreshments in the lobby of the jail.

With good behavior, Egan can be released in September. Until then, authorities hope to find him a job and let him serve his time under the Huber act, which allows a prisoner to stay in jail at night and work during the day-time.

Formula For Labor Peace Is Proposed

ITHACA, N. Y., June 24 (U.P.)—Failure to recognize human dignity in labor relations is the cause of much of the trouble between labor and management, according to Gen. Robert Wood Johnson, chairman of the board of directors of Johnson & Johnson.

The New Brunswick, N. J., industrialist, writing for the Industrial and Labor Relations Review, published at Cornell University, said future progress depends on both management and labor accepting four major premises. He listed these as:

1. The root of labor-management trouble is destruction of human dignity; management must restore and develop dignity in both the individual worker and his associations or unions.
2. Management must take the lead in providing constructive, creative leadership.
3. Labor will welcome such leadership and collaborate with it.
4. Restriction of dignity to employment will be profitable in industry, to workers themselves and to the general public.

Catwalk Gives Freedom To Apartment Kitty At Austin

AUSTIN, June 24 (U.P.)—The apartment house of Dr. and Mrs Joe Gilbert is one of the few in America with a special built-in catwalk.

The cat which uses it is known as Kitty K. The catwalk is a chute extending from the second floor of the apartment to the ground.

A small door admits the cat to the building or permits it to roam in a small fenced-in play yard, free from such enemies as dogs.

New Chemical Helps Preserve Products Containing Lard

CHICAGO, June 24 (U.P.)—A new chemical which keeps foods such as pastries and potato chips fresh up to 50 times as long as when no preservative is used has been developed at the University of Chicago.

The product, discovered by the American Meat Institute foundation at the university, helps to preserve all products made with lard and other animal fats.

The foundation says the product is inexpensive, easy to add to lard and requires no special equipment.

Wife Disobeys Court Order, Refuses To Kiss Husband

HOUSTON, June 24 (U.P.)—Judge John Snell, Jr., listened to a couple air their domestic troubles for a half hour, then ordered the husband to kiss his wife in the courtroom and make up. The husband was willing but not the wife.

"I don't want to," she said, walking from the courtroom.

She was followed by her husband, who said he couldn't understand now she could get away with not obeying court orders.

Lifebuoy with its Purifying Ingredient

GETS SKIN CLEANER

STOPS "B.O." as no other leading soap can!

DOCTORS PROVED with 820 scientific tests the truth of this amazing statement . . .

The cleaner you get your skin, the doctors found, the safer you are from "B.O." (body odor). Any soap will remove all the grime and perspiration you can see—yet leave "invisible dirt" on your skin to form a foothold for "B.O."!

Doctors compared the effects of daily baths with different soaps. The results are amazing! When you bathe with any other leading soap, you are simply not as clean, not as safe from "B.O." as you are when you bathe with Lifebuoy. After 820 scientific tests doctors say Lifebuoy's purifying ingredient makes the difference! And it is this same purifying ingredient that makes Lifebuoy so mild.

Use Lifebuoy daily. It is made from a special oil blend that gives you such an abundant, refreshing lather. Remember: Lifebuoy gives you cleaner skin . . . stops "B.O." as no other leading soap can!

DEWEY POSTERS TOP SCENE

Convention City Is Swamped By Debris From Furious Campaigns

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, June 24 — Well, it seems to be winding itself up, and the debris it will leave in its wake would build a dam bigger than Boulder dam, or, rather, since this seems to be a lofty Republican moment, Hoover dam.

If candidates were charged for the headaches they cause the local sanitation people, Tom Dewey's bill would be the biggest. In fact it is doubtful if he could pay it off even if he gets to the White House sometime and stays there longer than F.D.R.

Distributed Bags, Pipes

Dewey distributed tens and tens of thousands of fans, bearing that lump-jawed campaign picture which he somehow chose as his favorite. Huge lithographs of him are plastered all over town. Every sore-footed lady delegate in town seemed to carry a Dewey shopping bag, and most of them seemed to be splitting. The bags, I mean.

Dewey's last giveaway was a corn-cob pipe . . . barrels and barrels of them. For the past 24 hours it has been dangerous to walk around town. Slipping on the cobby bowl of a battered pipe and flip-flopping to the unyielding street was as prevalent as scrapple.

Anyway, there'll be a Deweyana around this city of brotherly disorder until at least the day before the Demmies come here to louse up the joint again.

Scenes Were Impressive

It has been a convention of some pretty unforgettable scenes and sounds, if you're good at looking through smoke and seeing comprehending things in what so often has been the simply blinding lights of television and newsreel.

There was the lady in the press box who stood and wept throughout the tremendous ovation given to old Herb Hoover, the night the old champ came back . . . And those endless lines of tired, hot, silent people who queued for the free Pepsi-Cola given away in Dewey's headquarters.

There was Clare, of course, and the icy venom of her speech—cutting, scraping, rasping words that issued from as purty a face, rimmed with yalla curls, as you ever did see. . . And the long bullsessions in the pubs that night, in which people argued back and forth as to whether she helped the G.O.P. cause or made old Harry S. such a forlornly hen-pecked figure that he would gain sympathy at the polls.

Others Also Wander In

And old "Skinny" Wainwright, who had to be left behind on Corregidor so that MacArthur could get out and fight on, telling the delegates with a choking emotion that his old buddy was the right man. . . Not to overlook the bobby-soxers-for-Stassen, the constant booming of "I'm Looking Over a Four Leaf Clover" or the baffled man—dressed up like a private in Gen. Washington's army—who wandered into INS to see if we could help him remember who he was for, and why.

There were the reporters who interviewed each other, when the doors closed in their faces and the heavy clanking of the machinery of politicking came through the doors in incoherent bursts . . . And the arrogant, brass-domed assistant sergeants at arms who wouldn't let their own dear grandmothers to their seats, without scrutinizing the legitimacy of the old lady's relationship with gramps.

There never were enough tickets to go around, perhaps because they were slipped to friends of friends, who thus snuffed out the people who deserved to get in . . . And in the abominable ticket Snafu, Herbert Hoover himself, the only living ex-president, was able to get only two. If the Democrats could find the names of the enraged Republicans who came here from Hellengone and then couldn't get in the biggest smoke-filled room in the world—Convention Hall—they could pick up a lot of votes in November.

The long waits on the phone . . And the more you jiggled the hook the less chance you had of getting the operator. The treachery of the loud speaker system at Convention Hall, that made every lady speaker sound like somebody browbeating her hapless breadwinner. And the din; always the din, and the trash underfoot, and the tattered, heel-marked banners of the defeated—growing mushy in the gutters.

VETERANS GOOD SCHOLARS

Sailor Is Confused By Unusual Mirage On Pacific Coast

WILMINGTON, Cal., June 24 (U.P.) — Everything was normal aboard the liberty freighter Allen C. Balch, en route to Long Beach, Cal. from the Canal Zone, until she reached a point 10 miles off Lower California, then everything went topsy-turvey.

The entire horizon rose up and became cliffs and rolling hills, said Second Mate Eugene O. Ward. Three small U. S. Navy vessels, approaching from the north, appeared in double image, one of the images being upside down and directly over the other.

The cliffs and hills seemed to be rolling along like ocean waves.

This continued for a good part of the afternoon, but Ward stood at his post on the bridge, kept steady, and recorded it all in his log.

91-Year-Old Utah Man Proves His Health In Good State

SALT LAKE CITY, June 24 (U.P.)—A 91-year-old motorist here thinks he's in better health than most younger drivers. He has one convincing argument.

Mads M. Christensen stands on his head to silence skeptics.

The enthusiastic motorist drives a 1923 model car. "I'll be dagnabbed if I would want to go back to the old horse-and-buggy days," he smiles. He bought the car 23 years ago.

Christensen credits his health to eating only two meals a day, growing a beard and not smoking or drinking. He thinks men would be healthier if they wouldn't shave.

U. S. May Grant Permission For Three More 'Free Ports'

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—The United States may soon have three more "free ports" in addition to those it now has at New York, New Orleans and San Francisco.

Secretary of Commerce Sawyer said today applications are expected for permission to establish foreign-trade zones—"free ports"—at Los Angeles, Seattle and San Antonio.

Foreign-trade zones are areas set aside at ports where foreign merchandise may be landed for limited processing or assembly, sometimes with American goods, without having to clear customs or pay U. S. import duties.

The finished merchandise may be re-exported later, or it can be brought into the U. S. by clearance through customs and payment of duty.

Take Off Ugly Fat With Grape Fruit Juice Recipe
It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy — no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of Liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.
If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears — how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Rain Gives Hubbers Twin Bill

Lubbock Signs Clovis Pitcher

AMARILLO, June 24 (Special)—Rain gave the Lubbock Hubbers time to sit down and rest tonight, the welcome moisture postponing the scheduled game with the Amarillo Gold Sox and causing both teams to double up tomorrow.

A twin bill was scheduled immediately by the Gold Sox club for Friday night, so that neither team would fall farther behind in their present schedule of games.

Hubbers Hold Edge

Manager Jackie Sullivan is expected to shoot Bob Clodfelter at the home team in tomorrow night's first game, with either Cotton Russell or Bob Ramsey going in the second contest. They will be trying to move the Hubbers ahead of Amarillo in the league standings, only a game and a half separating the present third and fifth-place nines.

Lubbock maintains the upper hand in the season's series with the Gold Sox, winning three straight games early in the year and then salvaging one tilt out of four in Lubbock to hold a 4-3 margin. The Gold Sox will be out to break up this uneven distribution and at the same time move forward in the tight loop struggle.

Grove Joins Team

The Hubbers today were joined by Dale John Grove, a left-handed hurler, who was put under contract for a five-day look. He might pitch the final game of the series Saturday night.

Grove, whose home is in Clovis, N. M., is in his third year of baseball. He spent last season with Midland of the Longhorn League and went to Henderson early this season, where he won four and lost two. Later he joined the Clovis Pioneers of the West Texas-New Mexico League and has a record, according to the last official loop averages, of one victory and four losses.

Beat Hubbers Once

The one victory on the record was gained late in May at the expense of the then-skidding Hubbers. He has been unable to notch any further triumphs.

The portsider last year with Midland won nine and lost 12, while pitching 11 complete games. He appeared in 28 contests, gave up 159 runs in the 179 innings he hurled and had 10 wild pitches. The opposition had only 116 earned runs. Grove also walked 116 batters and fanned 137 for an earned run average over the season of 5.83.

Only Fair Hitter

He had a better than fair batting average as a pitcher, getting 19 hits for a total of 28 bases in 77 times at bat for an average of .247. Included in his hits were three doubles and three triples. He batted in 10 runs.

This year with Clovis he has been in eight tilts without pitching one complete game, pitching 28 innings. He has faced 119 batters and given up 34 hits good for 38 runs, 29 of which were earned. He also has walked 34 men, struckout 15 and had three wild pitches.

At bat Grove hasn't scored a run on one single in nine trips to the plate, has fanned three times and has been walked once for an average of .111.

BAPTISTS WIN GAME

The First Baptist softball team won a 10-9 victory over the Asbury Methodist nine yesterday afternoon, spotting the losers five runs in the first inning and coming from behind to win. Bill Cope aided the Baptist cause with a two-run homer, as Rainwater outpitched Pinkert on the mound. A three-run rally in the fifth sent the winners into a 10-7 lead and they held it.

OPTIMIST DOWNS KIWANIS

H. T. Hillin pitched and batted the Optimist nine to a convincing 17-1 triumph over the Kiwanis in an American Legion Junior league tilt Thursday afternoon at Jones stadium. Hillin gave up only one hit to the Kiwanis team, while pacing the winners at the plate with two doubles and two singles.

The American Business club trounced the Jaycees, 12-8, in a Junior loop encounter at the club diamond. Leslie Cross was credited with a double and a single in four times at bat, with Lyndell Bailey getting two singles in five.

Admission to the game will be nine cents and 50 cents, with Tech students admitted for 25 cents.

Barney Stagner of the Jaycees said last night that the game would not start until after the Louis-Walcott fight, which will be broadcast over the public address system at the park.

ODESSA PLAYERS WIN

SAN ANGELO, June 24 (AP)—The battle for the 11th annual women's West Texas Golf association title may be strictly an Odessa affair when semi-final play begins Saturday. DUNLAP EDGES HEMPHILL

Bob Brown hurled the Dunlap's nine to a hard-earned 4-2 victory over Hemphill-Wells in a Junior league clash Thursday afternoon at the Chapman field diamond. Brown gave up only four hits, while his teammates were collecting six to clinch the win.

Sports Study

By Earl Scudday

Several plans for revamping the Class AA grid districts, reduced to 14 by the withdrawal of Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio and Houston schools to set up the "City conference," have been advanced — the latest by Putt Powell of Amarillo, veteran sports scribe. Since the plan may draw some support from school officials of the Panhandle, it may be worthwhile for South Plains grid fans to examine the proposition.

The essential part of this latest plan is to "take Brownfield out of District 1-AA, along with Big Spring and Lamesa of 3-AA, and put them in a new district with Levelland and Littlefield. Both of the last two named schools are expected to be above the needed 500 enrollment by that time (1949).

District 1-AA—Amarillo, Borger, Lubbock, Pampa and Plainview.

District 3-AA—Abilene, Midland, Odessa, San Angelo and Sweetwater.

District 5-AA—Wichita Falls district."

This setup, Powell says, with the addition of another new district in the South bracket, would bring the number of districts back up to the regular 16 and allow a full playoff schedule. Under the system set up for this fall, the winner of District 1-AA will not have a bi-district game, but will go directly to the quarter-finals. While some fans may like the idea of getting a free pass in bi-district eliminations, school officials and athletic departments will not share the same views since they will lose a considerable amount of money in ticket sales.

Another argument of the Amarilloan is that "In the first place, I think there are more Class A schools in this section of the state which are more likely to reach the number required for Class AA than most any other section. Levelland and Littlefield are just about ready now. Under the present setup, District 1-AA is the only district where those two schools can come in. That would force this district to have eight schools —which certainly would be too large."

Although local officials and sports fans of the South Plains have not been contacted for their opinions on the proposal, it seems apparent that this area will oppose any such action. It still has to be proven that seven district games would be too many, that Brownfield would be better off in a weaker district or that the advantages of playing natural local rivals would be outweighed by the advantages of playing intersectional opponents.

* * *

In fact, if any split in the district ever becomes necessary, it would be more logical to divide by district by north-south locations of the schools than under the proposed plan. Borger, Amarillo, Pampa and Plainview in one district and Lubbock, Littlefield, Brownfield and Lamesa in another would be much more satisfactory than under the setup where Lubbock has to travel 160 miles to Borger and 175 miles to Pampa. Then, too, Lubbock and Amarillo could carry on their traditional rivalry on a bi-district basis.

GAMES POSTPONED

A scheduled South Plains Softball league twin bill, featuring the Thomas Jewelers, Baldridge Bakery, Bluebonnet-Sunbeam and Golden Light Coffee, was postponed Thursday night after high winds and rain made play impossible.

No date for "make-up" games was set by officials.

Legion B Team To Play Today

Lubbock's powerful American Legion 'B" team, the dark horse nine that has chalked up four consecutive victories in District 2 competition, faces one of its toughest tests of the new season at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Chapman field against the Littlefield Legion squad.

The Hub city boys have trounced Morton, Plainview, Brownfield and Muleshoe, but the encounter today will be the first meeting of the Lubbock and Littlefield nines. Littlefield opened the season with a win over Plainview, but dropped decisions to Muleshoe and Brownfield.

David Clark, stocky righthander, will probably get the starting mound assignment for the home nine from Coach Garland Head, with Tommy Yelvington handling the catching duties. Other probable starters include Mack Taylor, first base; Neil Sikes, second; Morris Turner, third; Jimmy Sexton, short; and outfielders J. R. Bradford, Bobby Sexton and Tom Brown.

Bleacher seats have been set up at the Chapman field diamond, officials have emphasized, and fans are urged to "come out and show the youngsters you're behind them!"

In other North half tussles Muleshoe will invade Morton and Plainview will journey to Brownfield. Game times will be 5 o'clock.

Only one South bracket tilt is scheduled, with Spur tangling with Slaton at the Slaton diamond.

The Lubbock A nine will be idle today, but will play host to the potent Wichita Falls Legion team at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at Chapman field.

A new record is certain in the 2900-meter relay, because it is the first time the event has been run in South Texas. Runners go 200, 400, 800 and 1500 meters on the four legs.

Parker Is Favored

The 100-meter record of 10.7 held by Bill Martineson, formerly of Baylor, and the 200-meter 21.8 record held by Charley Parker of the University of Texas could fall before the onslaught of Parker, Perry Samuels of the University of Texas, William Carter of Lackland Army Air Force base, Matthews Clay of Prairie View and Wendell Davis of Texas college, Tyler.

Ray Holbrook of Texas A. & M. on several occasions this year has bettered Art Harnden's 48.5 in the 400-meter and could be pushed to a record by George Berger and Robert Pickering of Lackland.

Relay Is Endangered

Texas' John Robertson has been broadjumping 25 feet, considerably better than the record of 22 feet 11 inches held by Eural Davis of Prairie View, who will be on hand to defend his title.

Almost certain to fall is the 400-meter relay record set by Texas last year of 42.2. Texas, Lackland or Prairie View are reported to be capable of bettering the mark.

S. B. Escota, Alice High school boy, will be shooting at the 5000-meter 16:29.8 which evaded him last year. He almost lapped the field last season in winning with a 16:31.6.

GAS RECYCLING PLANT PLANNED

Oil Conservation Program To Be Set Up In Ector, Andrews

MIDLAND, June 24. (AP)—A large-scale oil conservation and recovery program for the north Cowden oil field in Ector and Andrews counties, involving the cooperation of 200 oil companies and 90 per cent of the royalty owners, was announced today.

G. H. Card, temporary chairman of the Grayburg Producers committee, which is organizing the project, said the 20-year program is expected to increase oil recovery by 50 per cent and prolong the life of the 27,000-acre field by eight years.

Gas Injection Planned

The plan includes the purchase of the Cities Service company natural gasoline plant in the field and injection back into some 75 oil wells of residue gas after its processing.

Card, division production superintendent for Stanolind Oil and Gas company at Fort Worth, said this is the first large gas-injection program in any West Texas limestone field and he hopes its successful operation will lead the way toward similar projects in other limestone fields.

Stanolind, which has almost a half-interest in the refinery, will operate it.

Construction is expected early in 1949 so the plant will be in operation in 1950.

The north Cowden field is about 27 miles northwest of Midland and 17 miles north of Odessa.

Companies involved in the program are Stanolind; the Texas company; Sun Oil; Sinclair Prairie Oil; Atlantic Refining; Cities Service; Tidewater Associated Oil company; D-K-M company; Continental Oil; Kiska Oil; Mid-Continent Petroleum corporation; Amerada Petroleum corporation; Ohio Oil; Texas Gulf Producing company; Edson Petroleum; Phillips Petroleum; Acme Oil and Royalty and Sunray Oil corporation.

Mexico Seeks Postponement Of Strike Against Major Studios

MEXICO CITY, June 24 (U.P.)—The labor ministry today sought postponement of a scheduled strike against four major Mexican movie studios June 26.

Under-secretary of Labor Ramirez Vasquez asked for an eight-day postponement which he believed would be sufficient time in which to effect a settlement.

Unionized technicians and manual laborers called the strike against Churubusco, Azteca, Clasa and Tepeyac studios to enforce demands for general wage increases and a new contract. The old contract expired June 15.

On the eve of the strike, Charles Woram, executive vice-president and general manager of the Churubusco studios, announced his resignation, effective July 1. A large percentage of the stock in Churubusco, largest studio in Mexico, is held by RKO radio pictures.

High Death Rate Of Children In China Reported At Meeting

By ROBERT N. SCHWARTZ
INS Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, June 24—Approximately 58 per cent of the children born in west and south China die before the age of 12 on the basis of a recent study submitted today before the 97th annual meeting of the American Medical association in Chicago.

The report was submitted by Dr. Goodrich S. Schauffler, Portland, Ore., who served in China for many years.

He cited malnutrition, malaria, tuberculosis and anemia as causes of the high death rate.

Dr. Schauffler said that gonorrhea "is probably more prevalent in China than anywhere in the world."

Warning Is Sounded

He reported that mothers in China frequently breast feed their children to the ages of 5 or 6 years, the psychology being that the mother obtains this food for nothing and it is an inexpensive way to feed the child.

Dr. David Davis of Washington, D. C., reported that inhalation of penicillin in a fine spray form has been highly effective in combatting many respiratory diseases.

He listed as some diseases of the respiratory tract which can be cured with penicillin inhalations as rhinitis, sinusitis, laryngitis, and bronchitis.

An industrial poison specialist, Dr. John H. Foulger, Wilmington, Del., warned that some chemical products, sold at corner grocery or drug stores, can cause serious health problems.

Dr. Foulger pointed the finger particularly at solvents, which are found in such products as nail polish remover, bath tub cleaners, stain removers, paints, dry cleaning fluids, and window cleaners.

He said solvents can penetrate the skin and can sometimes be a health hazard if inhaled.

He urged the education of users to read labels and care against spilling such fluids on skin or clothing or using them in confined, unventilated space.

Doctors attending the A. M. A. convention were told that early cancer of the cervix can be detected in presumably well women by periodic pelvic examination.

The report was made by three Philadelphia women physicians—Drs. Catherine MacFarlane, Margaret C. Sturgis, and Faith S. Fetterman.

Their findings were based on 10 years of study.

They said that cancers detected and treated early showed no sign of recurrence after nine years.

Gov. Dewey Wins Nomination As Opposition Suddenly Collapses

House Republican leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana and Gov. Dwight H. Green of Illinois.

There was mention of Gov. Warren and Stassen, but their campaign managers said they wouldn't take it. There were whispers about Senator Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska.

The note of harmony the rival candidates sang tonight resounded through Dewey's acceptance speech.

"Let me assure you," he ad libbed at one point, "that beginning next January 20th there will be teamwork in the government of the United States."

That was one central thought in his address—teamwork and unity, in his party and the nation.

The other was a grave assurance that he will dedicate himself to establishing "a just and lasting peace in the world."

"We have lighted a beacon here in Philadelphia, in this cradle of our own independence," the governor said.

"We have lighted a beacon to give eternal hope that men may live in liberty with human dignity and before God and loving Him, stand erect and free."

Made No Deals

In obvious answer to those who had charged him with making deals and promises in order to line up votes in this convention, the Governor said right at the start—

"I come to you unfettered by a single obligation or promise to any living person, free to join with you in selecting to serve our nation, free to unite our party and our country in meeting the grave challenge of our time.

"United we can match this challenge with depth of understanding and largeness of spirit; with a unity which is above recrimination, above partisanship, above self-interest. These are articles of faith from which the greatness of America have been fashioned."

For the men with whom he fought it out for the nomination, Dewey had kind words in his moment of victory. He mentioned them by name. The crowd cheered them in defeat almost as much as it had when their names were placed in nomination and their hopes rode high.

Stassen Given Ovation

For Stassen, the man popular with the galleries, there was a special explosion of applause.

Almost to the end, Stassen and the others had been claiming they could stop Dewey, particularly if the convention went beyond two ballots. But all the strategy huddles, frenzied telephoning and caucuses of delegates failed to produce any coalition line of action that would work.

Then came the time for the crucial night session and the showdown.

Delegates straggled back to the floor, coatless, tieless, champing at hot dogs, gurgling cokes, pecking at triple-colored slabs of ice cream.

Taft Gives Up

Handkerchiefs became mops in the steaming indoor stadium. Fans flapped like leaves in a gale.

Joseph W. Martin, speaker of the house, chairman of the convention, a dark-horse hopeful, cracked down the gavel.

Bricker made his way to Martin's side. Solemnly he read Taft's surrender papers, the words the Ohio senator had dictated to him—

"I congratulate Governor Dewey on his nomination. I shall support him in his campaign with all of the force and enthusiasm in my power. He is a great Republican and he will be a great Republican president."

Senator William Knowland of California took over to tell the convention what already had been announced to the press. Gov. Warren had freed his 53 delegates to vote as they liked.

A roar began back in the farthest tiers of seats and flooded through the vast stadium.

Stassen Adds Voice

"With your permission," he said, "I would like to second the nomination that the honorable Thomas E. Dewey be the unanimous choice of this convention—."

"No! no! no!"

It came from the onlookers, not the delegates. It was almost a plea for their favorites still not to give up.

"—for the President of the United States," the Minnesotan finally finished.

Chin up, he smiled, waved and moved back to be swallowed up in the throng on the convention stage. With him disappeared for at least four years more his hopes of moving to the White House.

For Arthur H. Vandenberg. Gov. Kim Sigler claimed the microphone to announce that the Michigan senator was going along with all the others "most heartily."

Senator Raymond Baldwin of Connecticut hurried up to suggest—

Let's not bother about another roll call, let's just "unanimously nominate Dewey."

Speaker Martin said that wouldn't do. Rules were rules.

Harland Kelley of Milwaukee was last. He withdrew the backing a handful of delegates had placed behind their war hero, Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Roll Call Just Formality

And then the roll call was just a routine formality. The rules required it.

Then the roll call began—

"Alabama casts 14 votes for Thomas E. Dewey."

"Arizona 8 votes for Thomas E. Dewey—"

And on it went.

New Hampshire, with eight votes, had the privilege of putting Dewey definitely across.

It took 548 out of the convention's total of 1,094 votes to make it dead sure. The Granite state's votes made it 554.

The New York governor himself heard the good word in his hotel headquarters, a mile or so away. He started for the hall to deliver a 10-minute acceptance speech.

The voting for a second spot on the ticket will come tomorrow.

Mrs. Dudley Hay, convention secretary, had called the roll of states on the final dramatic ballot for the presidential nomination. It showed 1094 votes for Dewey, not a single tally against.

Seminole Youth In Hospital After Accidental Shooting

SEMINOLE, June 24. (Special) Joe Ray Neal, 20, accidentally shot himself about 1:30 p. m. here today while cleaning a gun at his home.

He was able to crawl to the nearby premises of his employer, the Hull Bros. Motor company, where he collapsed. Shortly afterwards he was taken to the Gaines Clinic hospital where an operation was performed. A physician reported Neal's condition as serious.

The gun was a .22 caliber automatic rifle.

Gaines County Sheriff H. S. Birdwell, who investigated the circumstances, said that the wounding was accidental.

GOP Chose 'Weakest' Man, Demo Declares

WASHINGTON, June 24. (INS)—President Truman was silent tonight on the nomination of Thomas E. Dewey for the presidency, and the sounding of a Democratic opposition keynote was left to House minority whip John McCormack (D-Mass).

McCormack declared that the Republicans had chosen their "weakest candidate" and that "we will have the best case to present to the people."

White House Secretary Eben Ayres told newsmen that he was positive Mr. Truman would have no comment in the near future on Dewey's nomination. Ayres added:

"Certainly there will be nothing from the White House tonight."

McCormack said:

"The strongest candidate the Republicans could have nominated would have been Sen. Vandenberg. He could have given us a good run.

"The next would have been Gov. Stassen, Gov. Warren or Speaker Martin.

"Gov. Dewey is politically vulnerable, and he stands on a weak platform. With the high cost of living issue that we will hurl at them, the Democrats start with the odds in our favor.

"We have the best case to present to the people and we are going to do it."

condition. The matter is scheduled for consideration again at the regular commission meeting July 9 and anyone wishing to be heard on the subject may appear at that time, Mayor W. H. Rodgers said.

Members of the commission made clear their desire to take in suburban areas, chiefly as a means of controlling the "shacktown" type of building which is springing up in many of the fringes of the city. But they also emphasized that they intend to make sure the residents in proposed extensions understand what their chances are of getting water and sewage before they are brought inside the city.

Nearly all the business transacted at the commission meeting was routine.

Mayor Rodgers was given blanket authority to conduct negotiations with the War Assets administration and other federal agencies seeking the return of complete control to the city of Municipal airport and adjoining lands which were occupied under lease by South Plains Army Air field.

Pavement Ordered

An ordinance was passed on first reading to transfer the north side of the 2400 block on Fourth street from a residence-apartment house to retail business zone.

A dedication of land from Homer G. Maxey with which to open Thirty-third street from Avenues T to V and Avenue U from Thirty second to Thirty-fourth was accepted.

Pavement was ordered for Monroe avenue from Twenty-second to Twenty-fourth streets.

Howard M. Klein was awarded $66.30 as reimbursement for damages to his car received when a city street maintainer backed into it on Feb. 24 at Tenth street and Avenue U.

The following purchases were authorized, in each instance from the low bidder: 26 electric current transformers, from C. B. Anderson co., for $927.60; 1,000 pounds of DDT, from State Chemical co., $353.30; 25,000 ledger sheet for the water and electric departments, Steck co., of Austin, $156.10, and 35,000 meter sheets for the same departments, Gibson Printing co., Lubbock, $117.75.

Present at the meeting, additional to Mayor Rodgers, were Commissioners W. B. Price, John Spikes, Clarence Whiteside and E. K. Hufstedler, jr.; City Manager Marlin R. Smith, jr.; City Attorney Vaughn Wilson and City Secretary Lavenia Williams.

Lubbock Man Killed

20, of Lubbock route 3, was turned over in a collision on the east side of the canyon on East Broadway. He was accompanied by a brother, Prentice, 18, Roy Lee Alley, 18, of Lubbock route 7, and J. W. Bentle, of 520 Seventeenth.

None of the youths were injured, but four of seven persons in the second car were treated for bruises and cuts.

Jeffcoat's 1934 Ford was hit on the left side by a 1937 Ford driven by R. L. Talley, 28, of Wolfforth, Highway Patrolmen Sam Fort and John McVean were told. Talley was attempting to pass the other car when it made a left turn. The car made a turn, over, in the middle of the road.

Talley's wife, 27, suffered bruises on the leg, and his daughter, Linda Sue 15 months old, had a head laceration. A son, Robert Lee, 4, was not hurt.

Kenneth Bray, 21, was not injured, but his wife, 18, suffered bruises, and a daughter, Beverly Ann, 2, required three stitches in a head laceration.

All are from Wolfforth. They were enroute to a drive-in theater, Talley said, at the time of the accident. The youths said they were just riding around.'

The injured were taken to Lubbock Memorial Hospital.

Police Sgt J. T. Alley rushed to the scene of both accidents and directed traffic until the wreckage was cleared. He was the first officer to arrive on the scene in both cases. Highway Patrolmen Fort and McVean were investigating both accidents.

Rains Cause Damage

Grande was at flood stage at Del Rio following torrential rains in that area.

Heavy rains fell at Rocksprings, Sonora and Uvalde.

At Spofford west of Uvalde the rampaging waters of Mud creek washed out a section of the main line of the Southern Pacific railroad. Railroads said a 48-hour delay was expected.

Mrs. Gladiolus Moore, 30, of El Paso, was believed drowned early yesterday morning in wind-swept Eagle Mountain lake near Fort Worth.

A traffic accident during a rainstorm near Sherman late Wednesday night brought fatal injuries to 13-year-old Harold D. Butts of Sherman. He was riding on the back of a truck whirh overturned and was buried beneath a load of watermelons.

A seven-inrh downpour was reported at Telegraph, near Junction in the hill country northwest of San Antonio yesterday morning. The rise on the South Llano was the largest since 1938 but was not of flood proportions.

Crops, Rangelands Soaked

Traffic between Del Rio and Sonora was halted after a bridge washout.

Parched crops and rangeland soaked up the rain in the areas where it fell.

Heavy rainfall definitely broke a drouth west of San Antonio and brought a rapid eight-foot rise in Medina lake.

Forage crops, corn and ranch land benefitted from 3.31-inch rainfall at Boerne and 3.30 at Kerrville.

A 1.95-inch rain at Sherman, in the Red river valley, was expected to be of great help to cotton and corn crops.

Rainfall ranging from one to more than six inches brought relief to a dry rangeland from Sonora out to Kerrville and down to Del Rio. The ranch experiment station 35 miles southeast of Sonora received 5.75 inches. Ranches 40 miles south of Sonora got six inches.

The rains brought a break in a prolonged heat spell also. Presidio, with 101 degrees, was the only city in the state to report a temperature of 100 or more Wednesday Early Thursday morning, Amarillo, Pampa and Salt Flats all had a cool 63-degree reading.

NEW YORK, June 24 (AP)—The head of the National Maritime union said today his union will strike against East and Gulf coast shipping at the end of an 80-day injunction unless the hiring hall is retained and other demands are met.

Joseph Curran, NMU president, said the union, at the end of a federal court injunction, will "reject any offer . . . that does not provide continuation of present hiring practices and improvements in wages, hours and conditions."

In a telegram to members, Curran also ordered compliance with the court order.

The 80-day injunction was issued in New York by Federal Judge John W. Clancy.

Texans Back Dewey On Third Roll Call

PHILADELPHIA, June 24 (AP)—Texas delegates joined all the others in nominating Thomas E. Dewey on the third presidential roll call at the Republican national convention.

On the second roll call Taft ranks among the Texans had cracked slightly.

Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota picked up an additional vote, that of delegate Harry Hotchkins of San Antonio, on that balloting.

Taft Ranks Crack

On the first roll-call the Lone Star state delegation voted as they had agreed in caucus to do—30 votes for Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio; two for New York's governor Thomas E. Dewey, and one for Stassen.

When the name of Texas was called in the second roll call, delegate George Hopkins of Dallas demanded a roll call of the individual delegates.

It was then that Hotchkins switched his ballot from Taft to Stassen.

The lone Stassen supporter on the first ballot was Miss Ruthelle Bacon of San Antonio. The Dewey supporters were Hopkins and Claud Ferguson of Paris.

At the end of the second roll, just before a motion was made to recess Hopkins made a last-minute desperate plea to Texas national committeeman Rene B. Creager of Brownsville to switch Texas 30 Taft votes to Dewey and catapult the nomination over to Dewey.

Heavy Rains Fall

10 p. m. It was still sprinkling at 10 o'clock, he said.

About .25 of an inch of moisture fell at Muleshoe about 7 o'clock last night, J. M. Forbes, editor of the Muleshoe Journal, reported. He said that he had heard that heavy rains and some hail fell northeast of Muleshoe also.

Sheriff John Stotts at Matador reported at 10:35 p. m. that a slow but steady rain had been falling there for at least 20 minutes and it was still raining.

About .5 of an inch fell at Idalou about 8:30 p. m. last night, Lester Harris, night watchman, said, and Station KVOP at Plainview said that two pretty fair showers had fallen there about 6 and 8 p. m.

Winds Hit Lorenzo

George W. Horton at Lorenzo said that strong winds and sand preceded a shower which started there about 9:45 p. m. He described the fall as "fairly heavy."

Although only about one-sixteenth of an inch fell in Hale Center, the local fire chief there said he had heard reports of a 1-inch rain four miles south of Hale Center.

Slight sprinkles were reported at Morton, Petersburg, Lockney, Floydada and Ralls. Heavy rains were reported between 1 and 3 p. m. yesterday at Hereford, and rain was said to be fairly general between Plainview and Lubbock.

The weather station north of Lubbock on Plainview highway measured .25 of an inch of rain following the shower here. However, the station said that rains were thought to be considerably lighter than that within the city. Wind velocity at the station reached 44 miles per hour in gusts, it was reported. The station reported also that Amarillo had nearly 3.5 inches of rain Thursday evening.

The mercury reached a maximum of only 89 degrees for the day.

STORMS HIT PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA, June 24 (INS)—One of the worst storms in the city's history hit Philadelphia tonight shortly before Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York received the GOP presidential nomination. The U. S. Weather bureau reported that .32 inches of rain fell within 25 minutes, accompanied by 46-mile-per-hour winds. The temperature fell 19 degrees within an hour.

Coal Strike Averted

miners' wages.

2. An increase in the industry's contribution to the miners welfare fund from 10 to 20 cents a ton.

U. S. Steel Accepts

Some of the details of the agreement still were to be worked out at further bargaining sessions between Lewis and the operators.

Announcement of the agreement between Lewis and the operators was made by David Cole, Paterson, N. J., lawyer and chairman of the presidential fact-finding board named to investigate the coal controversy.

Cole announced that operators representing 460 million tons of coal production annually were involved in the agreement with Lewis.

The country produces nearly 600 million tons of soft coal a year but some of this is mined by an independent union.

Harry M. Moses, president of U. S. Steel's coal subsidiaries and representative of "captive" mines in the bargaining sessions, reluctantly accepted the new contract.

Duration Not Set

It was understood that the new agreement continues the present 8-hour day in the mines and many other features of the old contract, including a provision that the miners will work when they are "able and willing."

One of the features still to be worked out is the duration of a new contract. The operators are seeking a two-year agreement.

Lewis put the contract before his 200-man policy committee this afternoon for ratification.

The presidential fact-finders set the 5 p. m. deadline after Mr. Truman asked them to report tonight whether the nation would face another soft coal strike when the 1947 contract expires Wednesday.

The wage boost would be in line with the 12.5 cents an hour increases granted recently in the automobile and other major industries.

The miners now earn $13.05 for an eight-hour day.

Placed behind the eight-ball on the new pact is U. S. Steel, which refused a wage increase to steel workers several months ago.

It now is in the position of granting a wage hike to the men in its "captive" pits, while remaining adamant against a boost for the men in its mills.

VFW Council Refuses Evans' Resignation

CORPUS CHRISTI, June 24 (AP)—The administrative council of Veterans of Foreign Wars refused today to accept the resignation of Roger Q. Evans as state commander. They gave him, instead, a leave of absence to conduct his campaign for governor.

The council is composed of 25 district commanders and all state officers of the VFW. The organization's convention opens here at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Senior vice-commander S. A. Childress said the granting of the leave amounted to a vote of confidence for the administrative work of Evans but "not a political endorsement of Evans for the governorship."

Ted Williams Ahead In All-Star Voting

Nominee Issues Call For Unity

ing and largeness of spirit; with a unity which is above recrimination, above partisanship, above self-interest. These are articles of faith from which the greatness of America has been fashioned. Our people are eager to know again the upsurging of that faith. They are turning to us to put such a faith at the heart of our national life. That is what we are called to do. That is what we will do.

Other Candidates Praised

"In this historic convention, you have had placed before you six other candidates, all high-minded men of character and ability and deeply devoted to their country—Senator Raymond E. Baldwin, General Douglas MacArthur, Governor Harold E. Stassen, Senator Robert A. Taft, Senator Arthur Vandenberg, and Governor Earl Warren. It has been a difficult choice in an honorable contest. It has been a stirring demonstration of the life and vitality and ideals of our Republican party."

He told the delegates that they had given "moving and dramatic proof of how Americans, who honestly differ, close ranks and move forward.

To Back Platform

"Mere victory in an election is not our task nor our purpose. Our task is to fill our victory with such meaning that mankind everywhere, yearning for freedom, will take heart and move forward out of this desperate darkness into the light of freedom's promise.

"Our platform proclaims the guideposts that will mark our steadfast and certain endeavor in a fearful world," Dewey continued. "This magnificent statement of principles is concise and to the point

"You unanimously adopted it. I proudly support it. It will be the heart of the message I will take to the country. After January 20th, it will be the cornerstone of our Republican administration."

Dewey pleaded for continued unity, and spoke of the tremendous chaos and despair of the first half of the twentieth century.

"We must learn to do better," he cried. "The period that is drawing to a close has been one of scientific achievement. The era opening before us must be an era of human and spiritual achievement."

World Freedom Urged

He dedicated his life "to the freedom of men," and added, sternly:

"As long as the world is half free and half slave, we must peacefully labor to help men everywhere to achieve liberty.

"We have declared our goal to be a strong and free America in a free world of free men—free to speak their own minds, free to develop new ideas, free to publish what they believe, free to move from place to place, free to choose occupations, free to choose and use the fruits of their labor, free to worship God, each according to his own concept of His Grace and His mercy."

Unity Is Common Cause

"We are a united party. Our nation stands tragically in need of that same unity.

"Our people are turning away from the meaner things that divide us. They yearn to move to higher ground to find a common purpose in the finer things which unite us We must be the instrument of that aspiration. We must be the means by which America's full powers are released and this uncertain future filled again, with opportunity. That is our pledge. That will be the fruit of our victory.

"If this unity is to be won and kept, it must have great dimensions. Its boundaries must be far above and beyond politics. Freedom can be saved—it can only be saved—if free men everywhere make this unity their common cause.

World Order Urged

"Unity in such a cause must be the chief cornerstone of peace. A peace won at the expense of Liberty is a peace too dearly bought. Such a peace would not endure. Above all other purposes, we must labor by every peaceful means to build a world order founded upon justice and righteousness. That kind of world will have peace. That kind of peace will be worth having. That is the crowning responsibility that our people have laid upon us. That is the crowning task to which we dedicate ourselves

"The unity we seek is more than material. It is more than a matter of things and measures. It is most of all spiritual. Our problem is not outside ourselves. Our problem is within ourselves. We have found the means to blow the world, physically, apart. Spiritually, we have yet to find the means to put together the world's broken pieces, to bind up its wounds, to make a good society, a community of men of good will that fits our dreams. We have devised noble plans for a new world. Without a new spirit, our noblest plans will come to nought. We pray that, in the days ahead, a full measure of that spirit may be ours.

To Harness Atomic Energy

"We propose to continue to carry forward the great technological gains of our age. We shall harness the unimaginable possibilities of atomic energy, to bring men and women a larger, fuller life. But there is something more important than all this. With all the energy, intelligence and determination which mortal heart and mind can summon to the task, we must solve the problem of establishing a just and lasting peace in the world, and of securing to our own and other like-minded people the blessings of freedom and opportunity."

Dewey finished on a note frequently heard in this convention:

"We have lighted a beacon here in Philadelphia, in this cradle of our own independence. We have lighted a beacon to give eternal hope that man may live in liberty with human dignity and before God and loving him, stand erect and free."

The ovation was little short of titanic.

Clay Defies Reds

the anti-Communist city government.

In a sweeping attack on the Western Allies currency reform, the Soviet commander accused Berlin's city government (magistrat) of "openly following the American occupation authorities."

From 50,000 to 70,000 Germans overflowed Hertha sports stadium in the French sector under the slogan, "Berliners, fight for your freedom," Franz Newmann, Social Democrat, told the mass meeting, Berlin never will go Communist."

Food Supply Cut

All freight trains from the west, which carry 2,000 tons of food daily, coal and supplies for western Berlin's 2,000,000 Germans, were stopped by Soviet action.

The bank accounts of pro-western Germans held in eastern Berlin were threatened with sequestration.

The Russians halted deliveries of fresh milk to western Berlin. The Americans provided powdered milk for hospitals and public welfare institutions.

The Russians cut off deliveries of bread but restored deliveries when the Americans cut off the eastern sector's fresh meat supplies.

The Russian actions caught western Berlin with a two-weeks supply of food and coal and reduced the electricity supply by half.

The only trickle through the food blockade was a small amount of water-borne traffic.

The Soviet sanctions tied in with the conference of Russia and her seven satellites in Warsaw. If the Russians set up an eastern German state they would naturally want the Western Allies out of Berlin in the heart of that state.

Clay said the western sectors had enough water supplies of their own, and could furnish about half the normal consumption of electric power. But this supply is dependent on coal which must be shipped in.

Lucille Ball Praised As One Of Outstanding Hollywood Actresses; Plays Dramatic Role

By DOROTHY MANNERS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, June 24—Lucille Ball parks the comedy and wisecracks to do her first drama in a long time — "Interference," with Vic Mature. In the RKO movie about a professional football player, Lucille plays the overly ambitious wife who almost wrecks his career by grabbing for big money until she sees the light.

Comedy or drama, this redhead can really act. When she was appearing on the stage in "Dream Girl" locally, Alfred Hitchcock sat next to me when I caught the show. He said:

"That girl is one of the best actresses in Hollywood."

David Selznick and Paramount are all squared in the Rhondo Fleming contract tangle. Paramount says there never was a tangle. Anyway, they get her for three pictures following "Connecticut Yankee."

Some snoops (including me) were circulating gossip that the studio missed getting an option on Rhonda's future services from Selznick following her big break with Bing.

There was more chatter that Bing himself had stolen a march and signed his leading lady to a personal deal.

Paramount denies it was ever behind the 8-ball.

John Considine long-distanced from San Francisco proud and excited over getting the screen rights to Edward C. Massa's, "And, The Blind Shall See."

"This is one of the most beautiful and spiritlally important stories of modern times," Johnny told me. "Massa, a graduate of St. Mary's and Notre Dame, worked five years on the story. Primarily, it is a love story climaxed in the spiritual miracle of Fatima in 1917 when the Virgin Mary appeared to three little children saying to them, 'Unless Russia is converted there will never be any peace in the world.'"

Rita Beery goes along when Wally, daughter Carol Ann and protegee, Lucille Bannister, fly out tomorrow enroute to Europe. Why Wally and Rita ever bothered to get a divorce, I'll never know. They are still the most devoted of friends and she officially chaperones the Beery clan everywhere.

They will go to the Olympic games in London and then Lucille and Carol Ann are booked on a tour of Army camps for the next two months. The girls have whipped up a special act of songs and dances. They both have an eye on screen careers and this is the official try-out.

Hollywood in shorts: It is a nine-pound girl for Marion and D. A. Doran, popular Paramount exec. They have named her Lindsay after their close friends, Dorothy and Howard Lindsay.

One way for Hollywood to beat the television threat is to sign their stars for movies. Both RKO and Eagle-Lion are testing beautiful, brunette Christine Cooper, top television actress.

If anything could stop a Cobina Wright Sr. party — and nothing can — it would have been the creation worn by Marina Kochetz — all-pink from hat to shoesies—and roses, roses, roses everywhere.

Cobina's garden party served as an occasion to exhibit the really lovely portraits of Mariano Soyer, an artist who disguises his keen perception of the beautiful women he paints in disarming pastels.

Among the admiring — Eleanor Powell and Glenn Ford, the David Hearsts, Bob Cummings, Billie Burke, Eva Gabor, the Earl of Warwick and Atwater Kent.

Jane Wyman moves out of the home she shared with Ronnie Reagan for eight years. Too many memories. She has bought a place in Beverly Glen for the start of a new life.

Joseph Bernard, prexy of cinecolor and film classics, leaves for New York tomorrow after a week's huddle with independents about releases.

When a waiter dropped a tray in the studio commissary, Johnny Johnston cracked, "Couldn't have been a well balanced meal" — which deserved better, at that, than the look the waiter gave him.

Company Says Quintuplets Are Good Insurance Risks

NEW YORK, June 24 (U.P.)—The Dionne quintuplets, at 14, have defied the normal statistics of mortality risks, according to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

The quintuplets jointly have overcome risks that face an average woman in 65 years and now have 97 out of 100 chances that they will live to a marriageable age. Their chances of living until 50 are three to five and to 65 more than one in five, the statisticians say.

OFF FOR MICHIGAN—William Worth, left, 77, sits in his 1902 Oldsmobile with his sister, Miss Eunice Worth of New York City, as they leave Petersburg, Va., enroute to Lansing, Mich. Worth has a promise of a new car in exchange for his turn-of-the-century model. This is second attempt at trip, previous one ending in collision. Man at right is unidentified.

Martin Gets Sore Arms Keeping Order At GOP Convention With Giant Six-Pound Gavel

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

PHILADELPHIA, June 24. — The sorest pair of arms in Philadelphia today belong to a little guy named Joe—Joseph William Martin, jr., of North Attleboro, Mass.

Normal times he's speaker of the House of Representatives in Washington. Today he's running the show as M. C. at the Republican convention.

Crockery Is Shattered

But at home or away, Joe Martin is strictly a gavel man. Since the Republicans took over Congress, he's had a gavel in hand most of the time trying to keep the Democrats in line. A small gavel. Easy to handle. But early today, while the GOP was placing names in nomination for the presidency, Joe took on some extra weight. A cherry-wood pounder weighing six pounds.

He did a good job of it, using both hands—one at a time. At the start he got a little rough and came down so hard he shattered some crockery. He broke a water pitcher under the rostrum and flooded the platform.

He gaveled on, as one after another the candidates were nominated, seconded and toasted in wild confusion.

Convention Troubles

This was my first convention. I had pictured myself sitting quietly behind my eyeglasses on a high perch in the press box. But, you don't cover national pow-wows that way. I found myself looking at the scene between the spraddled legs of a cameraman standing on my desk. Not a very good vantage point. Worse, the guy was a knee knocker as he bobbed into position to snap a good one, and a couple of my ears suffered.

That caught this old-time base runner off the bag. But between the knocking knees, like the flicker in the old silent films, I could see Mr. Martin letting the block have it with his gavel. It looked as big as a milk stool.

Dewey Is Up First

Tom Dewey was the first man placed in nomination. They whooped it up for him and apparently it was well-planned. I eavesdropped a little on the way into the hall—by mistake, of course. Right in front of me was part of the New York delegation.

One delegate turned around and addressed his pals seriously:

"Look fellows. We gotta make it look spontaneous."

Well, impromptu or blue-printed—it was a good show. Never have I seen grown people get so worked up. Except maybe at Ebbets field in Brooklyn.

The delegates, wearing funny hats and wagging banners saying things like "Kansas," "New York" and "We Want Dewey" started screaming and marching.

Dewey is lucky he wasn't there to see it. Most of the placards were huge pictures of the man with the mustache.

Organ Key Sticks

That's the way it went all evening. The Taft people featured a lovely young brunette in a pale gray dress who rode around the hall on the shoulders of a red-haired Irishman. The man looked a little bored, and after about three rounds, awful tired. The others followed. Same old thing. Stassen Vandenberg. Baldwin. Doug MacArthur, etc. and Earl Warren of California.

If Warren had any chance in the first place for top billing it went overboard in a couple of minutes in the early hours today. While his people were whooping it up, middle "C" stuck on the house organ. Mechanical trouble, the organ man said later.

Whatever it was, it took the pepper out of the west-coasters and they sat down.

Many Human Ailments Traced To Animals, Doctor Claims

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24 (U.P.)—The animal kingdom is a reservoir for at least 75 diseases which are of potential public health significance, according to Dr. Karl F. Meyer, director of the Hooper Foundation at the University of California Medical school.

Almost every common domesticated animal was included in a list presented by Dr. Meyer of diseases transmittable to man.

When the offending animal can be destroyed, control of infection of man is effective, he said. He offered as an example the slaughtering of tubercular cattle.

Sparrow Finds Life Of Canary Easy, Rejects Outdoor Life

BURBANK, Cal., June 24 (U.P.)—Pete the sparrow has been the contented and prized pet of Mr. and Mrs Lloyd Ewing of Burbank since he fell out of a nest on his head two years ago.

The Ewings found him, helpless and bleeding, and took him into their home. Feeding by eyedropper and a warm kitchen-stove incubator kept him happy while small, and he refused to return to the outdoor life when he was able to fly.

Pete spends the day chirping contentedly in his cage or on the kitchen stove. He has full run of the house.

Services To Be Held For Floydada Pilot

FLOYDADA, June 24 (Special)—Funeral services will be held here at the First Baptist church at 3 p.m. Sunday for Lt. Charles Leroy Cates, Army Air Corps pilot who was killed in action in the Middle East on July 13, 1943.

Rev. Doyle, pastor, will officiate, assisted by Rev. Vic Allen of the Ropesville First Baptist church. The body is expected to arrive here from Fort Worth Friday morning. Harmon Funeral home will be in charge of arrangements, and the American Legion will be in charge of services.

Lt. Cates attended Floydada High school and Draughon's Business college in Lubbock, and was a teller at the Citizens National bank in Lubbock when he entered the service in January, 1942.

Survivors include his wife; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cates of Floydada; two brothers, Lonnie of Floydada and W. B. Cates of Cisco, and one sister, Miss Irene Cates of Lubbock.

Temperance Lecture Useless In Face Of $500 License Fee

ROCKFORD, Ill., June 24 (U.P.)—An alderman's temperance lecture failed to change the minds of his fellow councilmen.

Lewis B. Lundberg, who says he never has taken a drink, spoke at some length against giving a dancing permit to a tavern.

"Women, whisky and gasoline don't mix," he concluded.

The vote was 15 to 4 in favor of giving the tavern the license—for $500.

Kiwanis Club Members Hear Report On Recent Convention

Fred Sparks and club President L. E. (Jack) Davis, delegates to the recent convention of Kiwanis International at Los Angeles, outlined briefly business and entertainment features of the convention before the luncheon of the Kiwanis club Thursday noon at Hotel Lubbock.

All work of the convention centered around the theme "Citizenship Responsibilities the Price of Freedom," the speakers said. Davis said the group went on record as favoring club sponsorship of expanded activities for girls, particularly in areas where boys work has previously been stressed.

Davis said the organization is now made up of 2,814 clubs, with membership of 187,500.

The speakers were introduced by Howard Davidson, program chairman. Three new members were formally inducted. They were Ford Montgomery, George Bond, and E. A. McDonald. Club President Davis presided, with invocation by Roy Bass.

Albuquerque Starts Skin Bank For Emergency Operations

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., June 24 (U.P.)—Albuquerque has a "skin bank."

University of New Mexico students offered skin for a grafting operation when an 11-year-old girl was badly burned. The skin was not needed in that case, but it led to setting up a "bank" for future emergencies.

The skin bank consists of the names of persons willing to donate skin for graftings.

MAKE RAIN INDOORS

PITTSBURGH, (U.P.)—"Dry rain drops" enable Westinghouse scientists to bring bad weather radar research indoors without anyone getting wet. The "rain drops" are made of plastic and are used to find out why rain and snow often block ultrashort radar waves before they reach their targets.

Bishop Warns Catholic Girls To Stay Out Of Beauty Contests

WHEELING, W. Va., June 24 (AP)—Bishop John J. Swint told Catholic girls of the Wheeling diocese yesterday to stay out of beauty contests or be excommunicated.

His warning came after a Catholic girl, Miss Gertrude Bedway, dropped out of a contest here. She said the bishop told her to withdraw or be expelled from the church.

Australia Moves Ahead In Hopes Of Assuming Empire Leadership

By FRANK H. BARTHOLOMEW
United Press Staff Writer

SYDNEY, Aus., June 24—Australia believes herself destined to become the eventual center of the British Empire. The other British lands in the South Pacific (New Zealand, Fiji and New Guinea) believe the lengthy visit of the King and Queen early in 1949 will advance the possibility.

Certainly this rich country, as large as the United States but with little more population than the city of New York, seems to have more room to grow than most nations. The pressure and crowding of global population may cause Australia to forge a long way ahead before long.

Australia's main concern today is her under-population. The country realizes the need for immigration but fears possible domination by what her politicians patly refer to as "the teeming millions of the Orient."

Orient Too Close

The Orient is, in fact, right at Australia's door; the most crowded, famine-ridden lands in the world offer sharp and immediate contrast to the one that is least populated and most capable of tremendous productivity in the basic requirements of life.

The "White Australia" policy means just what it says: none except white persons are permitted to enter the country to live. In fact, persons of other races already resident are being deported.

The latter classification has included, during this correspondent's brief observation here, an American Negro boxer married to a white Australian woman and who had made his home here for years; a Polynesian woman of royal blood married to a white Australian man, and a native Maori from New Zealand.

New Zealand Aroused

The latter deportation created a furore in New Zealand, where the Maori is received on equal footing with the whites. He is, in fact, somewhat spoiled because the four native members of parliament hold the balance of political power. Australia had to back up on that one score.

The liberal government of Australia sees no incongruity in the fact that its liberalism is reserved for whites only. The people generally feel that the United States had disastrously bungled its own racial problems.

Northern European immigrants are particularly welcomed in Australia and are being flown in every few days in especially chartered planes.

Few English Come

The English, of course, come into Australia but in curiously limited numbers, considering the crowded conditions under which 55,000,000 people live in a land a fraction the size of this one and depend to a large extent upon supplies sent them from Australia.

Thousands of American ex-GI's who went through Australia to and from the combat zones of the South Pacific are inquiring about the possibilities of settling here.

At first, the Australians were enthusiastic about bringing the Yanks back, but now both sides are more cautious since the first influx of Americans has not worked out too well.

The Americans felt, in many instances, there were too many governmental restrictions against setting up businesses for themselves. The Australians, on their part, found that the Yanks were too much like themselves and wanted to do the same things, creating unsought competition.

Australia seems to have concluded that what she really needs is the type of immigrant who will do work the Aussies themselves don't care for, such as mining and "stoop labor" in the fields.

No Unemployment

There is no unemployment in Australia. The 40-hour week is rigidly enforced, even with farm labor, and overtime work is unpopular.

The result is that Australia pretty well ceases to function over the week-end. Her citizenry go by the thousands to the many beautiful race tracks where the government, which is so strict that Sunday movies are not permitted and all bars must close at 6 p.m., runs the pari-mutuel betting for the public. Another form of gambling is the state-controlled lotteries, upon which certain hospitals depend for principal support.

The Australians enjoy the world's most magnificent bathing beaches along with their race tracks, and national relaxation takes the form of out-of-door sports.

Living Is Cheap

The Australian enjoys life on a low wage in a country of comparatively cheap living costs. He doesn't get rich, a fact which doesn't worry him either. He is plagued by numerous shortages, including meat, butter and eggs, which are rationed because of the heavy export demands of England, and by shortages of electric power because of labor trouble in the generating plants. But he has a magnificent confidence in the future of Australia.

The newspapers of Australia are competently operated and make a profit under handicaps which would appal an American publisher; in addition to sharing the global shortage of newsprint, the Australian dailies assert they cannot get adequate dollar allotments with which to buy the Canadian newsprint available to them under their restricted quota.

The dollar shortage handicaps the newspapers and other businesses in other ways. The Melbourne Herald, for instance, is building in its own plant one of the largest presses in the world, from blueprints and under licenses obtained abroad, because it cannot get the dollars for the purchase of completed press equipment at the usual points of manufacture.

Has Treasury Surplus

The present labor government of Australia with a record of enviable cash surpluses in the national treasury, full employment and many social security accomplishments.

Most public services have been or are being nationalized; this category includes the railways, streetcars, telephone and telegraph systems and overseas telecommunications. Litigation is currently under way to nationalize all banks.

The Liberal party (conservatives), which claims its best chance in many years to go back into power in 1949, alleges Australia to be one of the most over-governed countries in the world and that the Labor government is in fact wholly socialistic.

The Communist "menace" in Australia would seem to be almost non-existent. The Communist Party is treated with something akin to amusement.

Capers make an excellent addition of potato salad; they should be mixed in with the salad dressing.

U. S. Motorists Report Travel Conditions Good In Mexico

WASHINGTON, June 24. (AP)—The American Automobile association says U. S. motorists report that travel conditions in Mexico are getting better.

The AAA noted in its newsletter on domestic and international travel:

"Prices are no higher than expected."

The AAA reported that its international travel office in Laredo, Texas, made a spot check of about 100 motorists returning from Mexico.

Most of them, the AAA said, recommend a vacation below the border.

Here are the highlights of the AAA survey:

Roads: 55 percent of motorists said they were in good repair Five per cent said bad repair and 40 percent had no comment.

Prices: no higher than expected, 75 percent; fifty two percent said prices in Mexico City are "too high."

Hotel and tourist accommodations: good, 76 per cent of motorists questioned.

Mexican hospitality: "very good," said 59 percent, "good," reported 27 percent, "fair" said 10 percent, and "poor" said four percent.

Northwestern U. Grants More Retirement Pay For Profs

EVANSTON, Ill., June 24 (U.P.)—Northwestern University will begin next fall to contribute an extra $110,000 a year to increase the allowances of faculty members when they retire at 65.

The university allotted 5 per cent of salaries under $6,000 in the old program, but now will contribute 7½ per cent of salaries under $8,000. Faculty members will continue to contribute 5 per cent of their salaries.

The new program also will reduce the length of service needed to qualify for retirement benefits from 35 to 30 years.

Dallas Couple Put Birds' Singing On Their Own Records

DALLAS, June 24 (INS)—A Dallas couple are climaxing 30 years of talking, thinking and reading about birds by capturing on records the woodland tunes they already know by heart.

The hour before dawn is likely to find Jerry Stillwell and his wife tramping silently through some field or glade in Dallas county, their eyes searching the silhouetted tree limbs ceaselessly for bird song frequency.

Equipped with a microphone and a magnetic recorder attached to several hundred feet of wire, the couple "plant" the mike near a "singer," adjust the dials and the feathered songster is on the air.

Noises Cut Out

A continuous spool of tape records the song. Later, after editing out other sounds such as airplanes, carpenters building houses, etc., the song is replayed and made into a record.

Often the bird enthusiasts have their lines stretched 800 feet from their power source to where a 'painted Bunting or a Crested Fly Catcher" is singing away.

More than 100 different bird songs are recognized by the Stillwells. Before their projects are completed, they hope to have on records the theme tunes of an estimated 350 birds in Dallas county.

A mutual love of birds brought the Stillwells together while they were students at the University of Kansas. Stillwell is a technical writer for the American Petroleum Institute.

Their ambition is to place a library of bird songs next to their large collection of symphonic music. Then he wants to send his friends the carefree and moody songs of his woodland friends.

Judge Says Income Tax Evaders 'Gambling' With Government

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES
United Press Staff Writer

RICHMOND, Va., June 24—Federal Judge John Paul accuses the nation's large and small income tax evaders of "matching pennies with the government."

"Even after a tax evader pays his fine," the Harrisonburg, Va., jurist said, "it's like matching pennies. If the fine amounts to more than he's beat the government out of, that's too bad. If its less, then he feels fine."

Paul, who within two days, slapped heavy fines on four Virginians who pleaded no contest to charges of evading income taxes, admitted he was perplexed as to how best to handle the problems of tax evaders.

"I am becoming convinced," he said, "that we've got to deal very severely with them."

Many Petty Evaders

He said he was amazed at the number of people who, although highly respected in their communities, will go to extreme means to evade payment of federal income taxes.

He added that records show their number is far smaller than the petty income tax evader — the persons who hedge a little on their returns year after year, usually the persons in the moderate income brackets.

"Would-be tax evaders are everywhere," Paul said. "Those evaders have got to stop considering such a procedure as a prank or an escapade."

Paul had just imposed a $12,000 fine upon Dr. Guy Ross Harrison, wealthy dental surgeon of Windsor Farms, Va., and a member of the state board of health.

Character Defended

Harrison made no plea to charges that he concealed $21,000 of his income during 1942, 1943, 1944, and 1945 to evade income taxes. His attorneys called a great number of character witnesses, including two past presidents of the State Dental Association and the president-elect of the National Dental Association.

Defense attorneys said Dr. Harrison had been "a poor business man" and had "underestimated gross receipts."

District Attorney George R. Humrickhouse recommended a fine of $15,000, but no jail sentence. Humriskhouse said he believed Dr. Harrison had "no preconceived plan of deception."

Judge Paul said he was imposing the lesser fine "with the feeling that maybe I'm not doing right, that maybe I'm not going far enough."

Another Stiff Fine

The next day Judge Paul sentenced Dr. Warren W. Koontz, 50-year old Lynchburg surgeon, to three years in prison, but suspended sentence on payment of a $10,000 fine for income tax evasion. Koontz was charged with concealing more than $28,000 of his 1945 income to evade taxes which would have amounted to $19,703.78.

Judge Paul declared Koontz set out "deliberately to cheat the government.

"Professional men are the sole judges of their own earnings and have a higher obligation than others to account strictly to the government for their fair share of its expenses, he said.

He then fined Dr. George Snarr, a Winchester oculist, $12,000, and Dr. Julian C. Major, Alexandria dentist, $5,000, on similar charges.

Carelessness With Livestock Blamed For Leather Prices

CINCINNATI, O., June 24. (U.P.) — A leather research expert at the University of Cincinnati claims that careless handling of livestock en route to market costs the American people millions of dollars annually.

Dr. Fred O'Flaherty said that farmers and shippers who "rough up" livestock are to blame for a needless increase in the price that must be paid for shoes and leather goods.

Dr. O'Flaherty pointed out that many times the injuries aren't discovered until the hair has been removed from the hide.

The tanner has paid the full price and must tan the poor skins along with the good. The good leather from non-damaged hides must bring a price which includes the loss on the damaged ones.

A new non-allergenic pillow offers relief to sufferers from allergies due to sensitivity to dust from organic pillow fillings.

Golden Age Club Is Organized In Texas

DALLAS, June 24 (INS) — The "secret" of living is to develop a hobby to heighten your interest in life.

Anyway, that's the method used by a group of Dallas men and women 60 to 84 years young, who are members of the Dallas Golden Age Hobby Club.

Recently they put on an exhibit of some of their handiwork at the Dallas Health Museum at Fair Park. Most of the 53 members were on hand at the opening day.

Among the exhibits are sewing baskets made by Mrs. W. H. Clark, 83, mother of U. S. Attorney General Tom Clark and the oldest member. Mrs. Beulah Miller Tomlinson, 76, sister of Railroad Commissioner Olin Culberson, displayed textile prints and oil paintings.

One was a crocheted reproduction of a fifteenth century painting by Leonardo da Vinci. It required eight months to complete.

Another getting attention from the crowds contains wood likenesses of the famous race horses: Coaltown, Citation, Man 'O War, and others. Leland O. Taylor, 61, did the carving with a pocket knife.

Other exhibits include new hats, pot holders, table cloths, aprons, scrapbooks, sketches.

The club's advice follows: Develop several skills during wage-earning years; learn to push the mind around as well as the body; seek regular medical care during the middle years before serious destructive processes occur in the organs of the body; and slow down gradually from an active avocation.

Police Solve Case Of Stolen Car, Lose Traveling Owner

SANTA ANA, Cal., June 24. (U.P.)—Traveling salesman Ralph W. Sullivan reported to Santa Anna police that he had parked his car on Main Street, but couldn't find it. Officers couldn't find it either.

Sullivan then remembered where it was and told officers if they didn't hear from him to suppose he had found it.

Shortly afterwards a stolen car was reported found in front of the Newport, Cal., police headquarters. It was Sullivan's.

Now it's a case of the missing owner. Santa Anna police haven't any idea where he might be. They are waiting for him to return and claim the car and $16 found on the seat. Both the money and car had been parked where found since the day reported, several days before.

Shade Shelters Devised For Growing California Cattle

EL CENTRO, Cal., June 24. (U.P.) Imperial Valley cattle raisers have been benefited by experiments conducted by two animal husbandrymen in devising shade shelters that make livestock more comfortable during summer months.

Four types of shelters were built at the Meloland experiment station by N. R. Ittner, University of California, and C. F. Kelly, United States Department of Agriculture.

The experts found that shelters with aluminum and hay roofs gave the greatest protection to the growing fat cattle used in the experiment. Wooden slat roofs, filled with hay, were found to be advantageous by permitting sun to filter through and tended to discourage flies.

The weight of the armour worn in the middle ages was as much as 100 pounds.

Clay Defies Soviets To Remove U. S. Flag From Soil Of Berlin

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

General Clay has planted the American flag firmly in the soil of Berlin and defied the Russians to remove it.

His statement that the Russians "cannot drive us out of Berlin by any action short of war" comes as observers watch tensely to see whether Joe Stalin will make the sort of move which many have expected would come during the height of the U. S. election campaign.

Clay Stands Firm

There has been widespread fear that the Kremlin might mistake American absorption in politics for negligence of foreign affairs and do something to precipitate a serious crisis.

General Clay has proved to be a firm but unprovokable administrator. He would be the last man to get us into a war over any mere "incident." That danger would arise only if the Russians lost their heads completely and actually tried to throw us out.

I don't know anyone who expects them to try that. It would put Russia in the suicidal position of declaring war on the whole world.

Reports from Warsaw indicate that the new Russian counter-attack against western containment will be confined to the political field.

They probably will proclaim a government for eastern Germany which will lay a fatuous claim to all of Germany.

U. S. Must Stay In Berlin

Continued allied occupation of a Berlin paralyzed by military isolation can have no great material value. But American withdrawal would be taken throughout Eurlead to more ope as a concession of weakness which would threaten our entire standing on the continent. It could only lead to more crises in such places as Austria and Trieste. The Communists are hard-pressed by the improvement in western European economy which is gradually closing the door on revolutionary expansion possibilities. They see the ties which unite the west growing stronger and stronger, with a powerful military coalition in the offing. They may lash out vigorously in one last effort before the wall of containment grows too high.

But they are not likely to attack any allied troops.

Three Entries Made In Jaycee Contest

Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce members sponsoring the Miss Lubbock campaign announced Thursday afternoon the names of three girls who have submitted entries in the contest which may ultimately vault a local girl into the Miss America Title, a $5,000 college scholarship, and an opportunity to enter a Hollywood dream world.

Those who have signed are Ann Elkins, 21, of 2606 Thirty-first, Janice Blake, 19, of 2906 Twenty-first, and Betty Helen Bledsoe, 18, of 1801 Thirteenth.

Dr. P. K. Palmer, local Jaycee who is heading committee arrangements, stressed that the July 1 deadline date for entries will be adhered to, because little time remains in which to select Miss Lubbock and have her in Port Arthur on July 9 for the Miss Texas Pageant competition with winning girls from other key cities in the state.

Girls desiring to enter the local contest should submit their names to the Jaycee office in the city hall, telephone 6861. Contestants must be between 18 and 28, single, having never been married or divorced, must be high school seniors or have graduated from high school, and must be residents of Lubbock county, unless registered students at Texas Tech.

NAVY HAS A HEART

DAHLGREN, Va. (U.P.) — A pair of robins made a nest in an ammunition truck at the Navy ordnance center here. Navy officers ordered the truck left where it was when they discovered several pale-blue eggs. The young robins hatched and showed no fear of heavy guns booming regularly less than 100 yards away.

Lock Helps Burglars Break Into Men's Clothing Store

CHICAGO, June 24 (U.P.)—A lock that was supposed to keep them out helped burglars break into a men's clothing store.

GOP PLATFORM VAGUE ON ISSUES

Republican Party Platform Is Worded To Gain Wide Backing

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

PHILADELPHIA, June 24 — The Republican party's 1948 platform, adopted by the convention here, is a pretty carefully worded document.

Like the platforms offered the voters in other years by Republicans and Democrats, it is supposed to:

1. Please as many voters as possible.

2. Show where the Republican party stands in this year of 1948 on American and world problems.

Platform Wording General

In the presidential elections of 1944 the Democratic and Republican platforms promised many things neither party carried out.

The GOP platform is carefully and cautiously worded, particularly when it touches on social problems. For example, on education the platform says:

"We favor equality of educational opportunity for all and the promotion of education and educational facilities."

There is nothing there suggesting the Republican party intends to do anything specific about federal aid—money—for education. At the same time, it doesn't say the Republicans won't do that.

In their 1944 platform, the Republicans took a more specific stand on the poll tax than they did in this new 1948 platform. In 1944 the platform said:

"The payment of any poll tax should not be a condition of voting in federal elections and we favor immediate submission of a constitutional amendment for its abolition."

Southern Vote Considered

This year's platform on the poll tax says simply: "We favor abolition of the poll tax as a requisite to voting."

Nothing is said about how it should be abolished. It merely puts the party on record as favoring getting rid of the tax. That's probably the least that could be said without costing the Republicans some Southern votes.

In 1944 the Republican platform said "we pledge the establishment by federal legislation of a permanent fair employment practice commission (FEPC)."

But the South is bitter about the whole idea of an FEPC which could block an employer from refusing to hire a man because of color, race or creed.

Federal Revenue Tax Payments Show Sharp Increase In Texas

AUSTIN, June 24 (AP)—Texans paid $85,000,000 in federal revenue taxes in May, 37 per cent ahead of May year-ago collections, the University of Texas bureau of business research reported today.

Withholding collections rose 59 per cent and income taxes from corporations and persons not on withholding status climbed 20 per cent.

FIRST DELEGATE—Alternate delegate Chief William Spotted Crow, 77-year-old Sioux Indian from Pinegrove, South Dakota, was the first delegate to arrive at Convention Hall in Philadelphia. The Chief became the "vanishing Red Man" by disappearing in Chicago enroute to the convention. (NEA Telephoto).

Oil Companies Sued By State

AUSTIN, June 24. (AP)—A suit against 28 oil companies and individual oil producers seeking an injunction to halt alleged salt water pollution of the Guadalupe and San Marcos rivers was filed today by Attorney General Price Daniel.

The suit, filed in 126th district court here, charges that the oil producers have allowed salt water to run from their wells in the Luling and Salt Flat oil fields into various creeks and drains which flow into the two rivers.

Defendant Companies Named

A number of complains had been received, Daniel said.

The suit named as defendants the Magnolia Petroleum company, Georgia-Tex Oil company, Tex-American Oil company, Philtop Oil and Gas company, Allied Oil company, Tex-Mass Petroleum company and 22 individual producers.

It was filed for the state by Daniel, state health officer George W. Cox, executive secretary Howard Dodgen of the game, fish and oyster commission, his assistant, H. E. Faubion, and members of the state board of health and the game, fish and oyster commission.

Daniel said he had received complaints from officials and civic groups in Gonzales, Victoria and Cuero. A hearing was held several months ago by the attorney general's department, the game commission and the health department when operators were given notice to halt salt water pollution in the two fields and Darst Creek oil field.

Assistant Attorney General Burnell Waldrop said the chloride content of the San Marcos and Guadalupe rivers had increased in the past 30 days.

Waldrop, who prepared the suit, charged that operators were damaging the domestic water supply, fishing and industrial uses of the water in the two rivers.

He added that operators in the Darst Creek field had practically completed plans for disposal of salt water by injection wells, but said suit would be filed against operators in that field who had not completed systems by July 1.

Hungarian Catholics Who Backed School Program Excommunicated

BUDAPEST, June 24. (U.P.)—All Hungarian Roman Catholics who supported the government program for nationalization of church schools have been excommunicated, dispatches from Vatican city said today.

The excommunication, enforced by Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty, primate of Hungary, applied to all government members who are Roman Catholics, including Minister of Education and Culture Gyula Ortutay.

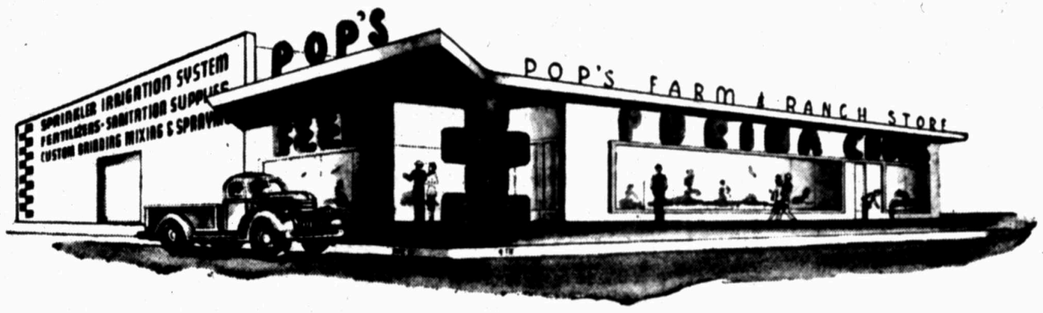

Vatican sources said Cardinal Mindszenty, outspoken clerical critic of the government, had acted three days ago. Reports here said the Hungarian board of bishops would meet today at Eszergom to act in the dispute between the state and the church.

They said the excommunication was not directed specifically against the Hungarian government but was a general order applying to Catholics.

It was understood the excommunication included Premier Lajos Dinnyes and Jozself Revai, editor of the Communist Szabad Nep.

Some observers said the government might ignore the church action. Others said they expected an appeal to the Vatican.

Alaskans Push Fight For Statehood; Defense Is Given As Chief Reason For Area Seeking Move

By ROWLAND EVANS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—Why do Alaskans seek statehood? Here are some of the answers. They come from Earnest Gruening, Alaskan governor, and E. L. Bartlett, delegate to the U. S. Congress. "Defense is the overwhelming reason," Bartlett said in an interview. "Until we become a state and have an effective sounding board in Washington to put across what we think is an adequate defense for Alaska, we won't get that adequate defense."

Alaska is governed by a Congress sitting 5,000 miles away, but it has no vote in that Congress. With no vote, Alaska is in no position to bargain for the legislation it says it needs. Statehood would provide at least three votes . . . two senators and one representative. The 1912 Organic Act, which incorporated Alaska with the U. S., has in effect prohibited the Alaskan government from taxing land outside of municipalities, thus keeping revenues very low. Congress recently amended the Organic Act so as to ease this tax restriction. But Bartlett points out it took Congress 36 years to do it.

Canning Top Industry

Alaska's biggest industry is salmon canning. Trapping is one of its five biggest. In spite of their dependence on these two industries, Alaskans have no control over their fish and game laws. Bartlett and Gruening cite this as one of the strongest reasons in support of statehood. Under laws passed by Congress in 1920 Alaskans cannot import U. S.-produced goods via Canadian ship. This means, says Bartlett, that Alaskan importers cannot receive goods shipped overland to Prince Rupert because no American ships operate out of that port. But Canadian ships do. Bartlett says this condition would automatically disappear when Alaska becomes a state. He says it now acts as a boost to an already high cost of living, forcing up the prices of imported goods.

Both Gruening and Bartlett call for a revision of Alaska's land laws. If an American firm needed 500 acres in Alaska to establish a salmon-tinning plant there would be no way to get, it they say. The reason is that about 95% of Alaska's land (it's one-fifth the size of the U. S.) is still public domain. The only way land can be acquired is under the homestead laws. With statehood, Alaska could make land laws to encourage settlement and industries, Gruening says.

Do Not Receive Aid

Another sore point with Alaskans is the fact that the territory is not covered by the Federal HighwayAid Act, under which states and federal government share the cost of building roads. Alaska today has less than 3,000 miles of gravelled highways. With statehood Alaska would immediately qualify for federal highway aid. (A recent Congressional appropriation gave Alaska $13,500,000 for a defense highway program.)

Not all Alaskans favor statehood, although in October, 1946, they voted better than three-to-two for it. Statehood opponents say Alaska's small population (95,000) does not rate equal representation with some of our highly-populated states. Bartlett says that 14 former U. S. territories became states with less population than Alaska has.

Other opponents say Alaska has too small a population to provide enough tax revenues for support of state government. Still others say Alaska does not rate statehood because it does not adjoin the U.S. Bartlett and Gruening point out that neither did California when it was admitted. The House Public Lands Committee voted unanimously on April 1 to admit Alaska as a state, but no action is expected this session by Congress as a whole.

Santa Fe Vet Tells Of Beating By Jap

LOS ANGELES, June 24. (INS)—Marcus A. Riel, 30, former GI from Santa Fe, N.M., related at the treason trial of Tomoya Kawakita that the California-born Nisei beat him and threw him into a cesspool.

The New Mexico veteran who was a prisoner of war at the concentration camp in Japan where Kawakita was an interpreter was one of 43 ex-GI witnesses who have accused the Nisei of brutality and atrocities.

Riel testified that one of the beatings administered by Kawakita occurred on Christmas day, 1944. He related:

GI Struck With Stick

"It was snowing and cold. I had a fever of 102 and 103. A Jap supervisor sent me to a tool shop to rest. I sat with my head in my hands. Kawakita came in and clashed me viciously over the head with a long stick. He said I was lazy.

"Another time he beat me in the face. A third time he accused me and two other prisoners of stealing food and threw the three of us into a cesspool."

David Carrier of Corpus Christi, Texas, another former prisoner, testified that Kawakita had forced him to wash the Japanese's boots. He related beatings and brutalities administered to other prisoners.

IT'S GOOD TO KNOW

Mrs. Tucker's HOME MAKING HELPS

If your last summer's washable wardrobe has been a complete let-down as far as the hems are concerned . . . but hem '47, still persists in identifying itself . . . lend an ear to what Mrs. Louise Sebring, Alice, Texas, has to say:

Sponge the underside of the crease with light cold starch and iron dry, using the best iron temperature for the fabric. Good for all tubables . . whether cotton or rayon.

Pennywise Mrs. Wendell Tucker, Chandler, Okla., has a suggestion that may add up to dollars saved comes summer's end:

Often, fresh vegetables which have been washed and placed in the refrigerator vegetable freshener become water logged and spoil because of the moisture that drains to the bottom. Several layers of paper toweling or a dry, clean dish towel placed in the bottom of the freshener—and replaced as often as it becomes soggy—absorbs the trouble and saves spoilage.

It's "putting up" time, and there's wonderful satisfaction in lining up rows of home canned foods. For brightening winter meals, we heartily recommend this delicious relish that's pretty to look at:

HOT RELISH

1 quart ground green tomatoes
1 quart ground sweet red peppers
1 quart ground mild onions
1 quart ground cabbage
1 quart vinegar
4 cups sugar
Salt and hot peppers to taste

GENERAL PREPARATIONS

Prepare vegetables and grind, using medium knife of the food chopper. Combine all ingredients and simmer gently until vegetables are tender, about 30 to 45 minutes. Pour immediately into hot sterilized jars and seal.

"Let's have a picnic" is summer's sweet refrain. For a picnic deluxe, try golden brown fried chicken the MRS. TUCKER'S SHORTENING way. And don't forget the MEADOLAKE MARGARINE for finer picnic spread.

TRIBUTE PAID TO TWO HEROES OF PACIFIC WAR

Quiet, Sincere Talks Of Two Men Who Placed MacArthur Before Delegates Claimed Among Best

By LOUIS BROMFIELD
(Written Especially for INS)

PHILADELPHIA, June 24—I didn't think it could happen but it did. It happened at the very last minute of the nominating session at 3 a.m. when the great convention hall was nearly empty.

We had been listening for three days to speeches—nothing but speeches . . . Humdrum speeches, bellowing speeches, sly calculated speeches, nasty sarcastic speeches and the usual amount of political humbuggery and hypocrisy.

And we had had a score of nominating and seconding speeches by people most of whom were wallowing in the spotlight of the greatest moment they would probably ever know. All of them were too long and over-ripe with all the old chestnuts.

Quiet Talk Asked

About the middle of them, I said to a colleague, "If someone just got up there in front of the microphone, talked quietly, seriously and simply with real feeling and sincerity from the heart it would knock all this hot air into a cocked hat.

The answer I got was "brother, you're asking too much."

During the long, tiresome evening the backers of Dewey, Taft and Stassen staged demonstrations ranging from cold, calculated effects to moments which resembled the more agitated devices of a burlesque show. By that time it was long after midnight and people had begun to leave the auditorium. As time passed the departing numbers increased into armies.

The names of Warren, Baldwin and Vandenberg were proposed. The old formula was the same.

Speaker Partly Blind

The big microphones bellowed, thundered and shrieked and at last about three in the morning when only a few tired and sweaty delegates and spectators remained, it happened. It was like a miracle.

Joe Martin pounded the heavy gavel and announced that a young delegate named Harlan W. Kelley of Milwaukee would offer a name for nomination.

Then Martin announced quietly that the speaker was partly blind. He had given his eyesight to the service of his country. Kelley came forward with the aid of a cane and the thing happened.

When he spoke the voice was young and warm and pleasant. It did not shout bellow or screech. There were no cliches, no tired worn convention phrases.

The speaker did not refer again and again to the "peepul" once he made the remark that in the convention and in the nation, politicians were a dime a dozen. But most of all the voice was sincere and earnest, speaking in behalf of a man whom the young soldier sincerely admired.

MacArthur's Career Praised

It related simply the long list of unquestionably g r e a t achievements of the man whose name was being put into nomination.

The effect upon the tired remnants of the audience was electric

Heard over the radio the voice and its appeal was even more effective, for the radio has a way of assaying a political speech and revealing the dross and the humbug. This voice came through the radio clear, young, sincere.

When Kelley had finished, Joe Martin, bleary eyed and drooping with fatigue again lifted the heavy gavel and pounded to announce that the nomination would be seconded by General Jonathan Wainwright who was not a delegate but for whom a special concession had been made.

The General came forward with the aid of a cane and the miracle happened twice. He read his speech and he read it badly and haltingly with the emphasis in the wrong places in a way that would have horrified the elocution trainers of political orators.

The voice, hoarse and weak, broke now and then, but none of this made any difference for the reading had in it what had been missing for so long . . . The quiet ring of sincerity and there was behind it all the suffering and humiliation of Bataan.

It was weak and hoarse because of the sacrifices the thin, prematurely aged man had made for the security and the liberties of the people sitting in the convention hall and the millions of their fellow citizens.

So the miracle happened. It is a pity that it came so late when the hall was nearly empty and everyone was tired.

TO PRESENT PROGRAM TONIGHT—The two performers shown above will appear on the Texas Tech campus tonight in the second Tech summer artist course program. They are, Gil Gallaher, left, bass-baritone, and Carl Nickolas, right, tenor, who are to present "Cox and Box," hilarious Sullivan operetta, at 8:30 p. m. on the Administration building green. There will be no admission for students who paid activity fees. Admission, $1 for townspeople.

Shepherd Dog Remembers Doctor Friend After Two Appointments

CANTON, N. Y., June 24. (U.P.)—Freda, a German shepherd dog owned by a family at Hannawa Falls, scratched on the office door of Dr. Edwin B. Smith, a veterinarian here.

She had another batch of porcupine quipps in her feet. When Dr. Smith opened the door, he could find no one with Freda, as he had on two previous occasions when her owners brought the dog by car.

He telephoned the owners, only to learn that the dog had been missing since the previous night.

Judge Pardue Orders $2,000 Bond Forfeited In Case Here

The $2,000 bond on Cires Edward Drake, charged with incest, was ordered forfeited Thursday morning by Judge G. V. Pardue after Drake had failed to answer when his case was called for trial.

A 16-year-old daughter of the defendant is the state's principal witness in the case.

The jury panel was dismissed after the W. C. Humphries case, charging forgery, was passed to allow the state to obtain further evidence.

The phrase "crossing the Rubicon" means to commit oneself to a dangerous course from which there is no retreat.

Gypsy-Day Camp Conducted For Children At Mackenzie Park

A gypsy day camp conducted at the barbecue pit at Mackenzie State park Thursday morning was attended by 39 boys and girls of Carlisle and Wagner park vicinities.

Darla Davis received an award for the best typical gypsy costume. Laverne Brewer and Tom Lane were chosen king and queen by vote of the group. They were crowned by those voted best campers, Zoe Merriman and Dixie Smith. Election of the best campers was approved by counsellors.

Attendants Named

Attendants of the king and queen were Zoe Merriman, June Forbes, Keith Morgan, Kathleen Kammerdiener, Joyce Davidson, Daphna Temple, Larry Merriman, Billy Sims, Glenn Woody, jr., and Dixie Smith.

Zoe Merriman presented a gypsy dance. The gypsy theme was carried out, with a nature scavenger hunt and nature exhibit as principal features.

Mrs. Gladys Sims, camp director for the City Recreation department, supervised the camp. Assistant counsellors were Orville Ray Lightfoot, Billy Pearson, Billy Sims, Tom Lane and Dixie Smith.

BAPTIST TO MEET

FORT WORTH, June 24 (AP)—Some 250 rural pastors of the Southwest will meet July 5-9 at Southwestern Theological seminary here for the first annual rural church and community conference. Principal speakers will include Daniel Russell, department of rural sociology at Texas A&M college and Tyrue Timm, administrative assistant of the Texas A&M extension service.

Gas Firm Asks Permission To Build Texas-To-Ohio Line

WASHINGTON, June 24. (U.P.)—The Texas Gas Transmission corporation today sought from the Federal Power commission authority to construct a 26-inch, 840-mile pipeline from Texas to Ohio.

Construction of the new line will cost an estimated $73,500,000, according to the application and will begin within 60 days after issuance by the FPC of a certificate of convenience and necessity. The line will deliver additional natural gas to the company's existing Memphis and Kentucky divisions and to other utility companies serving areas of Kentucky, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

First deliveries of gas at the eastern terminus of the new line (near Middletown, Ohio), the company indicated, can be started in December, 1949, and full contract quantities can be delivered by the spring of 1950.

Heavy Loss From Forest Fires Is Feared During This Year

Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 24 —Millions of fertile forest acres in the United States will be charred wastelands next winter. The forest fire season is getting started, and nothing will stop it. It comes every year at this time and lasts until Fall. During 1946 (most recent year covered by U. S. Forest Service reports) 172,000 forest fires destroyed 20,691,000 wooded acres containing $32,694,000 worth of timber and property.

It probably will be about the same picture this year, say Forest Service experts. About 640,000,000 acres of U. S. land is forest-covered. Only 72% of it is patrolled by federal, state and local fire-protection wardens. The rest (mostly in the South) is unguarded. Lack of state and federal funds is the reason. 87% of all fire-destroyed acreage in 1946 was in these unguarded areas.

In our 152 national forests we have 3,200 lookout towers. Twelve hundred year-round and 7,000 seasonal firefighters man these vantage points and the vast forest areas they overlook during spring, summer and fall. It's the same in national parks and state and privately-controlled forests.

What's the reason for fires anyway? The U. S. Forest says that in the country as a whole 90% of all fires are started by human beings, 10% by acts of God. It's a common practice, they say, for some field or forest owners in Southern states to burn their acres in the Spring to get rid of ticks and other varmints and "greenup" the grass. Many costly fires start in this fashion, not just in the South but all over the country. But in the great timber lands of the northwest it's estimated that 40% of all fires are born in "dry lightning" storms, especially after spring and summer droughts. The U. S. Forest Service says that California is a potential tinder box this year because of the bad winter drought.

New England fires often start from camp fires which haven't quite been put out. Thousands of New England summer tourists, to whom a Maine woods is a three-day vacation rather than a valuable storage area of billions of board feet of lumber, have started costly fires by careless dousing of camp fires and cigarettes. Once a fire is really on its way it's almost impossible to stop it. Rivers and other natural fire barriers, as well as heavy rains, are about the best hopes man has. Fire-fighters can sometimes control large fires but they can't put them out without nature's help. It takes decades for a burned-out area to become a forest again. A good lumber-producing forest today will be made sterile overnight by a bad fire and may not become lumber-producing again for 100 years.

Ill Fated Air Liner Shows No Fire Signs

CHICAGO, June 24 (INS)—United Air Lines said tonight investigation has failed to uncover evidence of a pre-crash fire aboard the ill-fated DC-6 which carried 43 persons to their death near Mt. Carmel, Pa., last Thursday.

However, a statement issued by UAL President W. A. Patterson, disclosed a recorded radio message from the plane which indicated there was trouble on the big, four-motored New York-bound plane.

The message, analyzed by sound laboratory experts, was timed at 12:32 p.m. EST and described as:

The next message was at 12:33½. It was "emergency descent."

He was Harold D. Butts, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Butts of Sherman. He was riding in the back of the truck, fell in a pool of shallow water and was buried under a load of watermelons.

Gen. Bradley Talks Down Threat Of War During Visit To State

By BO BYERS
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN ANTONIO, June 24—Gen. Omar Nelson Bradley, chief of staff of the United States Army, talked down the threat of war here today.

War with Russia is possible, but time could ease the clash between the United States and the Soviet Union, Gen. Bradley told reporters at a news conference.

The 55-year-old four-star general is making Fort Sam Houston, Fourth Army headquarters at San Antonio, his last stop in a tour of Army installations in the West and Southwest. He heads back to Washington, D.C., after a schedule here lasting through tomorrow afternoon.

"Do you think we will ever go to war with Russia?" Gen. Bradley was asked.

He hesitated briefly, then replied: "Well, I wouldn't know."

"You don't ordinarily pick out any one nation as the one we are preparing against," he observed. "We prepare to meet the threat of any nation or any coalition of nations."

The Army strength of 790,000 men anticipated under the new selective service law should afford "reasonable protection" for the United States, Gen. Bradley believed.

Where will Texas draftees be sent to train?

"A lot will be sent directly to tactical units for training. Others will be sent to training centers."

Camp Hood eventually will be built to a strength of one full armored division, the general said. The camp now has one-third of a division.

What camps will be reactivated?

"We will probably make use of fields that have a complement now, and open up those that have a capacity of twelve to fifteen thousand."

Particular use will be made of military fields which have wartime housing that is easy to rehabilitate.

PENSION BILL SIGNED

WASHINGTON, June 24. (AP)—President Truman signed a bill today authorizing the payment of pensions to dependent widows of veterans of the Spanish-American war, including the boxer rebellion and the Philippine insurrection.

London Meat Supply Cut By Dock Strike

LONDON, June 24 (U.P.) — Supplies of fresh meat today dwindled even below those of the worst war days as the London dock strike went into its eleventh day, with no sign of settlement.

No one in London this week will go without the usual ration of one shilling's worth of meat. A shilling is about 20 cents, and it buys perhaps a half pound of meat. But the shortage of fresh meat resulting from the wharf tieup will force Londoners to take more than the usual twopence worth (a little more than three cents) of the ratio in canned corned beef.

Next week, if the strike continues, will be even worse. The food ministry warned that Britons will be very lucky next week if they get more than sixpence worth (about 10 cents) of fresh meat. The rest will be available in corned beef, however.

Oklahoma Indians Empowered To Sell Coal, Asphalt Deposits

WASHINGTON, June 24. (AP)—The Choctaw and Chickasaw Indian tribes can sell coal and asphalt deposits in eastern Oklahoma to the federal government under a bill signed today by President Truman.

The bill gives congressional approval to a contract between the secretary of the interior and the tribes under which the government would purchase the deposits as well as a small amount of land surface for $8,500,000.

The $8,500,000 still must be approved by Congress for distribution to the tribes.

Congregational Methodists To Hold Initial Meeting Sunday

Church services will be held at 11 a.m., Sunday at 2824 Walden street for Congregational Methodists in this area of the city. Rev. T. H. McLain will conduct the services.

This meeting will be the first for this group, Rev. McLain said, and henceforth services will be held on the first and fourth Sundays of each month. The ultimate goal is to build a church in this area.

At the present time the group is using the building of the Primitive Baptist church. It will be decided whether or not night services will be held.

TIDY, BUT SMART, TOO

OKLAHOMA CITY, (U.P.) — A burglar who visited Mrs. Lela Sinclair's home left the house as well as her purse clean. She said she emptied her purse but was careful not to get her floors dirty. The intruder took a rug from the clothes line and laid it on the muddy flower bed beneath the window he entered. The trick eliminated all footprints, of course.

AYERS IS RIGHT

Guard Enlistments

MOST timely was the statement that "enlistment in the National Guard is not an evasion of military service," made the other day by Lt. Col. Ross Ayers, commanding officer of the 132nd Field Artillery battalion, which has headquarters in Lubbock.

Any implication that young men who have enlisted in the Grand since the passage of the draft law are guilty of anything that remotely smacks of slackerism is unjust, unfair and untrue. Many doubtless have gone into the Guard to avoid being drafted. But, in doing that, they have done no more than exercise the free choice which specifically has been provided them. They have done no more than follow the course they deem best for themselves—a fact which might add up to the higher morale so vital to the effectiveness of any military organization.

Before anyone criticises these enlistees, it should be borne in mind that, if a grave emergency treatens, the National Guard probably will be in ducted into active service immediately, just as was done before U. S. entry in World War II. They likely will be among the first to get into the thick of the fighting, just as happened when our heroic 132nd, our revered "Lost Battalion", fought the hopeless delaying action on Java which was a major factor in giving the United States and the United Nations an opportunity to prepare for the waging of a victorious war.

Those who shape our military policies obviously consider the Guard a vital element in our defense structure. Otherwise they would not be striving vigorously to build up the Guard's strength. The young man who helps toward that end by his enlistment surely is not criticism for doing what he considers best for himself. Since he is offered a choice, he would be foolish if he failed to make the one which seems best to him.

Fight On Polio

WARNINGS from highly authoritative Austin and New York sources that polio has been spreading northward from the Gulf coast and Rio Grande regions should spur cities and towns like Lubbock and others of the South Plains to the most vigorous preventive activity of which they are capable.

If, like Lubbock, they have been attempting to eliminate possible sources of polio, they must realize from the warnings that their job is not finished. They will enhance their own probabilities of safety by continuing their efforts with increasing vigor. Those which have not made an attempt to rid themselves of carriers of the disease should get busy. They are taking a serious chance with they community health unless they do.

But, to be most effective, all the efforts should be coordinated as closely as possible. The failure of one community in an area to cooperate might nullify the efforts of a dozen or more which do. Their common health safety demands that all work together.

Their best might not be enough to keep polio out. But the more vigorous the preventive activity in individual communities and the more closely they work together, the better will be their chance of escaping a series epidemic of this kind.

The Innocent Impostor

THE STORY: Paul, angry at first when he recognizes Patience sitting with Roger Dickson in the stage box, decides he must talk to her. He crashes the backstage party. Seeing a sophisticated looking Patience, he approaches her. She does not seem to know him.)

XX

PAUL stared at her. This was too much. He thought how changed she was. She might not be his Patience at all. For one wild moment he wondered if indeed she wasn't. But that, of course, was completely crazy. She was Patience all right. But in some bewildering way she was a completely different Patience. A Patience who was lovely and sophisticated, but not at all the way he liked her. Even her voice tonight seemed somehow different.

"Ah, there you are, my sweet."

Roger Dickson was bearing down on them.

Her face lit up. There was no mistaking the way she felt about him.

Paul turned away in disgust and pushed past the ever-increasing crowd towards the exit. As he went her voice floated after him.

"Darling, I'm glad you happened along just then. That young man you saw me with was really behaving in the oddest manner."

"Which young man, Charlotte?"

"I don't know. It's not important." Charlotte slid her arm through Roger's: "Darling, I want food and drink. I've had absolutely nothing all day."

Charlotte moved towards the lavish buffet which had been set against the back wall of the stage, Roger with her. Patience on her other side said, not knowing quite why it was something she must know: "Charlotte, what was the young man like?"

Charlotte turned her head to look at her.

"Which young man?"

"The one you said was behaving so oddly."

"Oh, I don't know. Tall and dark and rather good-looking, I believe. He seemed to think he knew me, but I swear I've never seen him before in my life."

* * *

PATIENCE'S heart shook. And suddenly she saw that the same thought was occurring to Charlotte.

"Patience, he couldn't have taken me for you, could he?"

"That's what I'm wondering."

Patience felt the blood flaming in her cheeks.

"There was one once. Not so very long ago. Oh, Charlotte, were you very beastly to him?"

Roger's voice had mockery in it.

"Nice girl with a past! Well, well, well, life's full of surprises."

Charlotte laughed shortly.

"I'd hardly expect it to be a very thrilling past!" and now her face lit up: "Why, Dwight darling, how nice to see you!"

She went forward with outstretched hands to meet a rather stockily built middle-aged man who was bearing down on her. He swept her away into the press of people.

"Were you in love with this young man?"

Patinece looked up to find Roger speaking to her. She made a gesture of impatience. As if she'd tell him anyway! And suddenly all the excitement had gone from the evening. All the pleasure.

She made her way over to her sister who was now standing by the long table laden with food, not caring that she was still talking to the man she'd greeted with such enthusiasm.

She said, breaking in on them, her voice tense with anxiety: "Charlotte, just what did happen? Between you and Paul, I mean?"

CHARLOTTE swung round, a look of swift irritation crossing her lovely face.

"Oh, it's you again! Patience darling, don't fuss. I can't remember now what I said. Listen, I want you to meet Mr. Breeden. Dwight, this is my twin sister. Roger Dickson you already know, don't you?"

Dwight Breeden. Patience racked her brains to remember what Charlotte had told her about him. And then in a flash it came back to her. This was the man, of course, who was so important to Charlotte. The big film magnate who'd given her her contract in pictures. The man she'd rushed off to meet that first day she, Patience, had lunched with Roger.

And now they seemed to be a little toursome. Dwight and Charlotte, Roger and herself.

Roger was being especially attentive to her—Patience. His hand now was at her elbow as he suggested they have something to eat since it all looked so appetizing.

"Hungry?"

"Not really."

"A pity. There are a lot of good things here. Maybe after you've had a drink you will be."

It was champagne and Patience had never before even so much as tasted it. She watched the golden liquid bubbling and sparkling in her glass, and sipping it, decided that she rather liked it. She had one glass and then another.

And gradually the excitement of the entire evening came back to her. She forced herself to forget Paul. Everyone seemed happy. Patience told herself that she'd be a little ninny if she allowed herself to be wretched. Besides if she hadn't Paul she had Roger—

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

I HADN'T intended to write any more about that latest matrimonial racket which seems to be spreading all over the country.

I had hoped that selling yourself to the highest bidder, or offering to buy yourself a husband at a stated price, was just a freak phenomenon.

But apparently the idea has caught on, and almost every day you read about some woman wanting to sell or to buy.

BRANDEIS

It's certainly a nauseating spectacle!

I want you to read a letter that came to me today from Mrs. Madalyn H. Maloney of Stroudsburg, Pa. Enclosed was a clipping telling of a woman in Kentucky who advertised that she would pay $10,000 for a husband and who has already had six proposals, sight unseen.

I want that letter to be my column for today, because it expresses my thought to a T. Here it is:

"The enclosed item about the woman who offers $10,000 for a husband has caught my imagination.

"Just what kind of a husband would a woman dare expect for $10,000?

"Is $10,000 a high price for a matrimonially-inclined male, or could one get a reasonable facsimile thereof for as low as $1,500?

"The only clue the news report presents is that, of the six applicants with a $10,000 price tag, one is an Arkansas justice of the peace who would go so far as to perform the ceremony himself. When one considers that minister's fee the bride would thus save, this particular applicant might be a bit of a bargain, mightn't he?

To the casual observer it appears that little Miss Kentucky doesn't know what a lucky lady she is. Why in the name of saints would any woman with $10,000 want to squander it on a man for the privilege of being a wife? There are, beyond all doubt, hundreds of wives up to their necks in drudgery and household worries, who would gladly swap their slightly-used husbands for a New Look bonnet and a new OUT-look. Miss Kentucky may yet learn that, with a husband, as with a house, it isn't much the original cost but the upkeep that hurts.

IT seems to me that even in these days when males are listed among the 'shortages of essentials,' a woman with $10,000 might do better to spend part of her money on her face, figure and a train ticket to one of those western states, where according to statistics, men are just hankering to be caught. There she might find quite a style range at bargain counter prices.

"Since I have a daughter of my own (although she is only eight-months-and-six-teeth old at the moment), I would be grateful for any information on the subject of husband buying. I would like to know approximately what her daddy and I must save to secure a reasonably fine bridegroom for her some twenty years hence.

"What would we need, for instance, to secure a few extras such as affection, comradeship and compassion? We have been laboring under the delusion that if we kept our child attractive, sensible

PEOPLE MUST DECIDE

Feud Over Congress

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — "President Truman has said that the Eightieth Congress is the worst or second worst in history," writes M. C. of Waterbury, Conn. "What do you think, and why?"

TUCKER

Answer: M. C. poses a tough question, and the answer depends upon each individual's political predilection. President Truman or any other Democrat can make a good argument for their contention, but Speaker Martin and Senate Policy Leader Taft can present equally valid evidence for their belief that they have done a fairly good job, everything considered. Both sides are talking politics.

CASE: Let's take the President's case first.

He maintains that the Republicans have turned the clock back by favoring measures demanded by "the interests." He refers to the tax cut, the shelving of many labor, social welfare and civil rights bills.

He charges that they have cut appropriations for projects for the development of the West—reclamation, irrigation, power etc. He insists that they aim to cripple the public power system created by F.D.R.

He says that they have undermined his foreign program by proposing a reduction in ERP and global aid appropriations. He declares that they have damaged national defense by refusing to aprove a universal military training program.

On the fourth important national problem before the Congress—labor—Mr. Truman thinks that the Taft-Hartley Act is a "slave labor" law. He vetoed it, and on his western trip he promised that he would seek its repeal if he were reelected.

That is the Administration's brief, roughly, against the Eightieth Congress, as I read it.

IMPOSSIBLE: The Republican leaders on Capitol Hill admit that they have had to shelve proposals for federal aid to housing, health, education, broadening of Social Security, increase of minimum wage pay etc.

But their explanation is that Mr. Truman's requests for more than twenty billions in one year for national defense and global aid make it impossible to finance these admittedly desirable domestic improvements at this time. The same consideration, they say, applies to any cuts in appropriations for land, power and reclamation projects.

"You can't do everything at once," is Speaker Martin's answer.

RECORD: The Republicans think their record is safe on foreign aid, despite the House cut in appropriations for the anti-Communist campaign.

They point out that they approved and underwrote Mr. Truman's program in Greece, Turkey and western Europe. They maintain that they merely saw to it that money used in this way should be spent wisely and effectively, and not wasted in the form of a WPA grant. If Mr. Truman needs more cash next year, and if actual ERP operations justify extra expenditures, they say they will give it to him.

They admit their opposition to UMT. But they point out that they insisted or 70 air groups, as against the 55 he asked. They say they have appropriated more money for national defense than any Congress ever gave in time of peace. They think their draft act is more immediately effective for strengthening the armed forces than UMT.

CONTRARY: The Republicans are willing to stand pat on their labor record insofar as it consists of enactment of the Taft-Hartley Act.

They believe that the only remaining opponents of this law are President Truman and professional labor leaders. They insist that the great majority of the working men approve of its purpose. They contend that it has had the effect of reducing the number and severity of industrial disputes in the postwar period.

They also gloat over the fact that Mr. Truman has been only too glad to use Taft-Hartley machinery to stall off strikes which would have paralyzed industry and transportation, and they will say so in their platform at Philadelphia.

As to the tax cut, they make no apologies. One of their big issues in the presidential campaign will be the fact that, for the first time in twenty years, they put money into the taxpayers' pockets instead of taking it away.

So, M.C. and other voters must make their own decision on the basis of these contrary arguments.

QUITTING: "I notice," writes R. P. of St. Louis, that newspaper opposition has forced Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas to quit politics because of his age. Do you think that is fair to this distinguished public servant?"

Answer: Yes, I do. Eminently fair, not so much to him as to his constituents. And I am proud that two old friends of mine—Roy Roberts, managing editor of the Kansa. City Star, and Bill White, publisher of The Emporia Gazette—were the men who forced Senator Capper into retirement.

I have seen many Congressmen outlive their usefulness. Two of them were among my closest political friends—the late Carter Glass of Virginia and Hiram W. Johnson of California. In their prime they were two of our ablest and most constructive legislators. But for the last two years of their lives they never appeared in the Senate chamber, or never contributed anything when they were able to attend.

Thus their states were deprived of their full representation. It was not fair to the people who elected them. Incidentally, there are about three Senators and ten House members now who ought to be retired because of age.

In fact, I favor a constitutional amendment setting seventy or seventy-five as quittin, time for a member of Congress. There is a constitutional barrier against immaturity in Congress. Why should there not be a ban on senility?

"A prehistoric skull, one inch thick, has recently been unearthed by an anthropologist"—Science note. It seems that this sad old world has been afflicted with politicians for a long, long time.

An astronomer announces the discovery of a hole in the Milky Way. If this means the universe has sprung a leak, we're not greatly surprised.

Having found moss on Mars, astronomers are now busily engaged in looking for reindeer and Santa Claus.

"Woman He Saved From Drowning Marries Navy Officer."—Headline. Let us hope, optimistically, the time will never come when he will wish he had thrown her back in.

So you think you have troubles, do you? Well, supposce you were the Pennsylvania department store floorwalker whose wife recently gave birth to triplets.

ATTEMPT TO HIDE OWN MISTAKES

GOP Charges Are Claimed Weak

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA — It is clear from the theme developed at its National convention that the Republican party again, as in the 1946 congressional elections, is going to run against Communism, which it identifies as the Democratic party.

Every speaker has skipped up and down the keyboard with this tune until it becomes very tiresome to the ear and very wearing on the nerves like the strumming of a drunk at the twangy piano in the corner of the speakeasy during the dear, gay days of prohibition with his ceaseless repetition of "Yes, We Have No Bananas." He liked it. Therefore everybody else should like it. Some didn't.

STOKES

"Yes, the Democrats have Communists" rose to the rafters here in the piping chirrupting upper keyboard notes of Clare Boothe Luce, the Republican female jester. And the low and ominous tones of Herbert Hoover, the elder statesman, who mesmerized the delegates with his picture of Communist hobgoblins which he portrayed as even infiltrating our universities along with the other customary places usually cited by Republicans—labor unions, "the intelligentsia," and government. It all seemed out of character for a man identified for so many years with one of our great universities, himself an intellectual, especially in a speech about the fight for freedom of the human spirit. The tune was played in between the appearance of these two stars by lesser figures.

FDR, Truman Said Tools

The theme is developed nicely to its crescendo. It starts off with how the late Franklin D. Roosevelt was "taken in" by Joe Stalin, and how his successor was likewise beguiled, with a reference along the way to Henry Wallace whom Clare Luce familiarly referred to as "Red Hank," and then winds up with a fearsome picture of Communists sneaking around stealthily in every government office in Washington.

And, in their demonstration, Republicans offer President Truman as their chief witness, citing his retreat before the hysteria. This was best done by Speaker of the House Joseph W. Martin in his speech to the convention, when he said:

"At first, the administration protested there were no Communists in government. Can you imagine that!" Then, having read the election returns in 1946, the administration finally confessed, and asked for 25 million dollars to run the Communists out of the government. Ponder that for a moment! How expensive can a confession of the soul be?"

Little Joe rather had Harry there. The delegates nodded understandingly.

Joe, of course, did not go on with the story to tell how that super-sleuth, J. Edgar Hoover, has already gone with his magnifying glass through over a million government employees and come out with virtually no culprits, only a handful who might not meet all the qualifications for security for one reason or another some of which have nothing to do with Communism. Nobody else ever goes on with the story, either.

The Republican cry about Communists in government is, of course, a myth, and the rest of the story about Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Truman likewise has little relation with historic facts. But that does not matter.

Hides GOP Mistakes

It's a good issue. It covers up so many omissions by Congress. Just how good it is as an issue was discovered by this reporter in a trip over the country in 1946. The fear of Communism, pumped up by Republicans had penetrated even to what Senator Taft calls "whistle stops," where no one ever saw a Communist and where no Communist would venture because he would be awful lonesome and would find he could not drum up a crowd unless he was selling some new kind of hair tonic, or rheumatism remedy, or a gadget to slice potatoes in some new way.

The workers of the world at the "whistle stops" are in no mood to be united. For they all have money. And it is this fact that stirs them up, for a Communist is somebody who wants to take some of it. Hence the fear.

This Communist bogey works another way, too, which suits very well some of the privileged interests which are camping again around Congress in Washington. A party platform can say all it pleases with nice, brave words about housing and public power and social welfare measures once accepted in this country, but these become "socialistic" or "Communistic" when somebody wants to do something about them, as those of us who follow Congress daily in Washington have seen in the last few months.

The whirlwind of noise about Communism here drowned out the few stray voices raised for a moderate progressivism, which seems so essential for a party that expects to take over the government in these times. The middle road had few spokesmen. Most notable among them was Governor Earl Warren of Calif., who called for a progressive program for his party and suggested, alone among leaders here, that the 80th Congress had not done all the things it should have done.

But he got little attention.

Russians In Hot Search For A-Bomb Material In Europe

By WELLINGTON LONG
United Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, June 24.—The Soviet Union employs up to 40,000 workers in a gigantic treasure hunt for uranium in Germany and Czechoslovakia, according to allied observers here.

The hunt is said to be almost fruitless. Although they are Europe's richest, the Czech uranium mines produce maximum of only 15 tons of uranium metal each year, according to State department sources.

The Russian search for the stuff of which atom bombs are made is centered in the Erz mountains, in a circular area roughly 20 miles in diameter, which bulges out on either side of the German-Czech border.

Old Mines Re-Worked

When the detectors show the presence of uranium, German and Czech miners go to work on the veins.

Samples are taken into one of the several Russian geological stations established in the area. The remainder is shipped to a processing plant between Chemnitz and Dresden for "rough cleaning," then flown to Russia.

So anxious are the Russians for uranium, that uranium detector operators are going through old piles of waste ore thrown away when the mines were still producing salt and silver a half century ago.

Working conditions in the mines are reported to be bad. Miners often work in knee-deep water, and wear hip-length rubber boots for protection. The Russians have not enough pumps to handle the water which seeps in from hidden springs above the mine shafts.

Speed Production

Although most of the equipment is old, it was recently reported that the Russians plan to increase daily ore production in the Czech mines from 24 tons this year to 140 tons in 1952, and 340 tons in 1957.

Workers on the German side are paid many times the salary of a Ruhr coal miner. The food ration, which the Russians force the German government to provide, is said to triple that of the ordinary German heavy worker. In addition, schnapps is sold freely and workers receive a liberal cigaret ration.

In Czechoslovakia, anti-Communists are sent to the mines.

The Russians have tried to stop desertions by forcing deserters' wives to take their husbands' jobs. But deserters from both the Czech and German mines continue to turn up in Berlin and western Germany.

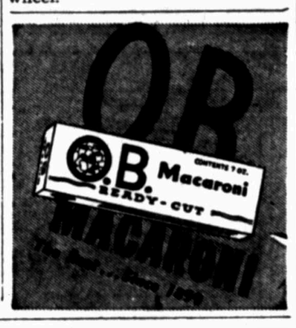

Psychologists Will Measure Automobile Drivers' Fatigue

EVANSTON, Ill., June 24 (U.P.)—Psychologists a t Northwestern University are running a series of tests to measure driver fatigue.

Using students as subjects, the psychology department will determine how long a man can stay behind the wheel of a car without getting tired.

The results of the experiment will help build a better car of the future, it is believed.

Dr. Robert H. Seashore said that even in the car of today, "some subjects, in preliminary tests, were found really to relax behind the wheel."

Prisoner Held For Non-Support Has Great Love For Gopher

FORT WAYNE, Ind., June 24 (U.P.)—City and county jailers had a problem on their hands with John Clayton, who brought a gopher with him when he was arrested for non-support.

The gopher slipped out of Clayton's pocket and the other prisoners protested until the jailers put the pet in a pail.

LUBBOCK MORNING AVALANCHE

Lubbock, Texas, Friday, June 25, 1948

Damage Hearing To Be Resumed

Counsel indicated that the defense probably will rest its case by noon today in the damages action of Thomas A. Ward and others against James Ray Johnson, in which judgement of approximately $60,000 is asked.

Testimony will be resumed this morning before District Judge Dan Blair and a 72nd court jury.

Accident Occurred In March

Ward is the surviving father of the late Margie Nell Vick; Jeannetta Ward is the surviving mother, and Roy Dean Ward is the surviving son.

Margie Nell Vick was divorced at the time of her death March 29, 1946, several hours after a motorcycle-automobile crash on Ruby street. The three plaintiffs, the defense pleaded are her beneficiaries, in whom is vested a cause of action under what is known as the "death statute" of Texas for recovery of damages because of her death. The child was adopted by the grandfather and his name changed by court order, after the mother's death.

It was approximately 10 p.m. March 28 when Margie Nell Vick, 22, was injured. She was riding as a passenger on a motorcycle driven by Otho Bain eastward on Ruby. A car owned by Henry B. Johnson and driven by James Roy Johnson, his minor son, approached from the opposite direction, it was pleaded by the plaintiffs.

Negligence Is Claimed

There was a collision, and Mrs. Vick was thrown from the motorcycle and against the pavement. She died about 4 a.m. next day.

The plaintiffs have sought to convince the jury that young Johnson was negligent in his driving and that negligence was the proximate cause of Mrs. Vick's death.

The defense, on the other hand, denied negligence and charged that negligence of Mrs. Vick in riding with another on the motorcycle was proximate cause and contributed to the cause of the collision, and pleaded that in bar of recovery. It also charged that Bain was negligent in operation of the motorcycle and that his

AFL Official Denies Johnson's Charge

Labor's Support Of Stevenson Assailed

(By The Associated Press)

Echoes of the Texas Federation of Labor's endorsement of former Gov. Coke Stevenson for senator continued to roll through the state's political arena Thursday.

The federation in convention at Fort Worth, stamped as a "deliberate lie," Rep. Lyndon Johnson's assertion that the endorsement Tuesday night was the work of "a few labor leaders who do not soil their clothes with the sweat of honest toil."

Others Assail Move

The endorsement also was assailed by George E. B. Peddy and Holmes A. May, also opponents of Stevenson for the democratic senatorial nomination.

The AFL's reply to Johnson was in the form of a resolution adopted after its presentation by Wallace Reilly, president of the Dallas Central Trades council.

Reilly said the endorsement of Stevenson was made by delegates "absolutely free" of influence of elected officers of the federation. The resolution said that Johnson "by his own action, vote and continued support of the Taft-Hartley and Case bills," has "disqualified himself in the eyes of the working people of Texas."

Johnson Continues Blasts

Johnson kept up his fire on the endorsement Thursday by asking Texas laboring men to write his AFL-endorsed opponent and "ask him to tell you where he stands on the Taft-Hartley law."

"If my opponent has promised to repeal the law," Johnson said in a speech at Athens, "the people have a right to know. If he has not made such a promise, the people have a right to know."

Johnson also visited Frankston, Jacksonville, Rusk, Nacogdoches and Lufkin during the day.

Stevenson stayed out of the endorsement argument in an early morning radio talk from Temple in which he said he never would become a "rubber stamp" senator.

"As senator, I will not be at the beck and call of any organized pressure group, whether that group is within or without the federal government," he said.

He stated he thought the people of Texas were well pleased when he as governor "refused to let myself be used as a rubber stamp by any man or group of men."

Mail Carrier Finds $9 Million, Calmly Returns It To Bank

LOS ANGELES, June 24 (INS) — Mail carrier Harold Cutler found nine million dollars today.

The mail man didn't keel over. He calmly walked to the nearest bank, explained to the manager that he had found the money in a shopping bag lying in the gutter. Then Cutler marched out of the bank and went about his business.

The bank manager however, was so stunned that he forgot to even thank the postman.

The find totalled $9,060,00 in cash and federal reserve checks. Officials said that a bank messenger had "lost" the money while on his route.

Escaped Convicts Recaptured After Tip From Farm Woman

CROCKETT, June 24 (AP)—Two convicts who escaped from Eastham prison farm made the mistake of stopping at the farmhouse of Mrs. Guy Stewart to get something to eat.

After they had eaten, she walked two miles to a telephone and notified officers.

The convicts were Elzie McElroy, 26, serving 12 years for forgery from Bexar county, and H. S. Thomas, 40, sentenced to life from Harris county as a habitual criminal for theft of cattle.

They broke out of the prison Monday. They were recaptured last night when the officers traced them to a pasture near Pennington.

Plan To Boost City Rates Out

Lubbock county commissioners meeting Thursday morning gave assurance that a concededly "more equitable" system of valuation of rural property for tax purposes will be worked out in time for equalization of the tax burden for urban and rural property owners alike on next year's tax rolls.

The statement was issued after the commissioners had gone into session as a board of equalization.

The assurance also means that the court has abandoned any plan to increase valuations inside the city, pending the reappraisal of values throughout the entire county, except in possible cases where renditions may be completely out of line.

To Revamp Values

The announcement, which looks forward to a survey of rural holdings and a revamping of values there, was made after numerous persons, cited to appear before the equalization board and show cause why their renditions should not be changed, were represented by counsel.

Robert H. Bean, of the law firm of Klett, Bean, Evans and Justice; Thomas B. Duggan, jr; and Marion T. Key, of the law firm of Bradley, Key and Kimmel, appeared before the equalization board to protest any raising of valuations affecting their clients, urban property owners already admittedly are paying a disproportionate amount of county taxes.

Contests Promised

While there was no statement to that effect made before the audience gathered in the county courtroom, it was learned that the commissioners who had organized as the board of equalization had been informed that any efforts to raise urban valuations above renditions that had been turned in would meet with contests that might grow into court action. Such court action would develop charges that taxes already are out of joint—with the city property owner being called on to pay taxes on both unimproved and improved holdings, whereas the rural property owner pays taxes only on land nominally valued for tax purposes.

The county never has subscribed to a system of valuation such as that adopted as a yardstick by the city of Lubbock and the Lubbock Independent School district Land outside the school district is valued for county and state tax purposes at a generalized $10 an acre to possibly $25 an acre "close in." Improvements, no matter what is placed on the property, have not increased valuations of rural holdings for tax purposes. Some farms have elevators and barns and irrigation wells and other improvements that have in-

Lake Is Searched For Woman's Body

FORT WORTH, June 24. (AP)—The search for the body of Mrs. Gladiolus Moore, 30, El Paso went on in Eagle Mountain lake today while three others in her party were recovering from shock and exhaustion.

Mrs. Moore was believed to have drowned when she got into deep water while attempting to push a 26-foot cabin cruiser off a sand bar at 2:30 a.m. today.

Lawrence Scarborough of Fort Worth, his wife, and Mrs. Jim Surratt of El Paso were all in the boat when it became stuck. Scarborough got out to help Mrs. Moore and the boat started drifting away in the darkness on the wind-swept lake.

He left Mrs. Moore where he believed she could reach shallow water and swam toward the boat, was unable to reach it and turned toward the shore and reached land.

COMBINES BUSY OVER PLAINS

Demand Grows For Workers As Wheat Harvest Picks Up Speed

Wheat harvest is moving so fast in the Texas Panhandle and South Plains that hundreds of harvest hands are being hired daily, and with the surplus of workers absorbed, calls are going out from the Texas Employment commission for additional combine operators, tractor drivers and laborers.

The harvest, halted at the weekend by heavy rains in parts of the area, particularly the Panhandle, had been resumed in almost every county yesterday, the daily farm labor bulletin of the employment commission set out.

Demand May Taper Off

It was expected that from 100 to 250 extra harvest hands will be hired daily for several days, but it was anticipated also that this demand would begin to taper off by the end of this week. Most urgent demand now is for self-propelled combine operators, but tractor drivers and laborers are needed also, the bulletin said.

Meantime, the wheat harvest was moving rapidly ahead, and some lower Panhandle counties to the east edge of the belt reported the harvest 90 per cent complete in Hall county, and 65 75 per cent complete in Collingsworth and Donley counties.

Others were in various stages of completion, ranging from a beginning in Randall county to 30 to 40 per cent completed in Swisher, Briscoe and Castro counties, and 38 to 40 per cent complete in Gray, Wheeler, Roberts, and Hemphill counties.

Crosby county was reported 62 per cent complete, with Hale and Floyd, delayed by a half-inch rain mid-week, showing a 25 per cent completion.

In eastern New Mexico, Clovis reported harvest eight per cent complete, with no shortages of men or equipment. Combine operators and tractor hands may be needed there in 10 days. Tucumcari was just starting, but had no shortages.

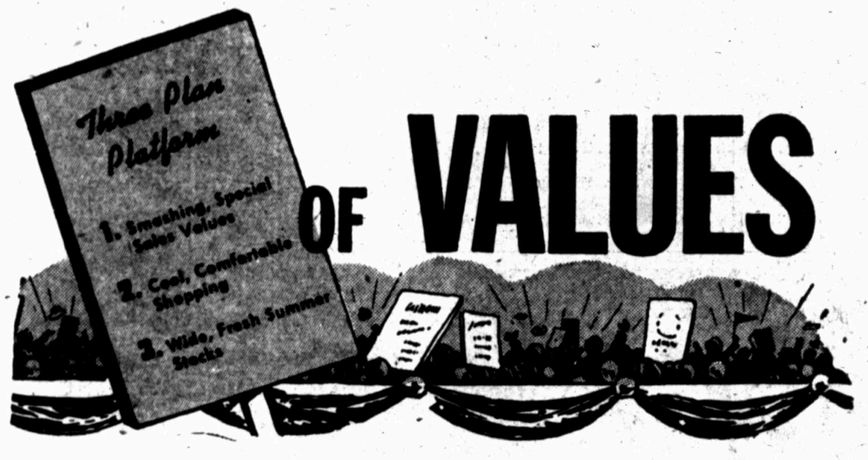

Oklahoma reported rain in central and northern counties was delaying harvest there, but cutting was resumed yesterday, with no shortages of labor or machinery.

GREEK DRIVE SLOWED

ATHENS, June 24 (AP)—Desperately resisting guerrillas have slowed the national army's drive against the eastern flank of their Grammos mountain stronghold. American officers who are observers predicted tonight, however, that pivotal Amouda ridge will fall shortly. The guerrilla radio has been silenced, presumably by air attacks.

Rodeo Will Open At Abernathy Today

ABERNATHY, June 24 (Spl.)—The Abernathy Rodeo club, recently organized by a group of farmers, ranchers and other livestock men in the area, will stage a rodeo here Friday and Saturday, Doyle Evans, president of the club, has announced.

The rodeo will get under way Friday afternoon with a rodeo parade at 2 o'clock, followed by performances at 4 p. m. and 8:30 p. m. Saturdays schedule also calls for rodeo performances at 4 and 8:30 p. m.

Scene of the rodeo will be "one mile west of the highway on Abernathys North Drive," Evans said.

Events scheduled for the performances are calf roping, bull riding, bareback bronc riding, saddle bronce riding and a ladies' event, probably a barrel race, it was announced. Entrance fees are $5 each for contestants in the various events, with approximately $75 in extra money to be awarded to winners.

Humble Oil Company Announces Plan To Abandon Gulf Test

NEW ORLEANS, June 24 (AP)—The Humble Oil Co. has announced plans for abandoning the first offshore test drilled from its huge $1,200,000 platform built in 50 feet of water in the Gulf of Mexico.

The company said, however, that it will soon drill another test at the same spot—but in a side-tracked hole. The site is off Grand Isle in Jefferson parish.

Hopes For Good Corn Crop Rise

CHICAGO, June 24. (AP)—More than knee high by the Fourth of July appeared to be a certainty today for the nation's all important corn crop.

Traditionally, corn should be knee-high by July 4 if the country is to have a good harvest. It already is knee high in several midwest areas and growing rapidly as a result of heavy rains in the past 48 hours.

Rain To Be Needed

High prices now posted in grocery and meat stores are attributable at least in part to last year's short corn production.

Crop experts cautioned the crop will need timely rains in July and August—what it lacked in last year's drouth—to come through to a big harvest as desired. But right now the outlook has seldom, if ever, been better.

H. J. Gramlich, agriculture agent for the Chicago and Northwestern railway, who returned here today from a survey through Iowa, said corn in that state was "coming forward by leaps and bounds."

"There is a big acreage and it's off to a wonderful start," Gramlich said.

The Agriculture department said earlier in the year that farmers intended to plant 86,131,000 acres to corn this year, just about the same as last year. Many grain men believe that actually a larger acreage was planted.

ANOTHER BOY'S RACER READY—The youngsters who'll be racing down East Broadway hill in the first Avalanche-Journal-Chevrolet Soap Box Derby, Monday, July 5, are rapidly completing their racers in preparation for the preliminary inspection next Monday and Tuesday. CITY EMPLOYEE FEELING FINE AGAIN, GIVES FULL CREDIT TO RETONGA

Feeling Worn - Out And Irritable, Mr. Scroggins Takes Retonga On Friend's Recommendation, And Is Thankful. Tells About His Case

"Before taking Retonga, I felt so bad I was mighty hard to get along with," confides Mr. Lem Scroggins who owns his own home at 623 E. Palm St., Orange, Cal. A father of two children, Mr. Scroggins has been employed by the City of Orange for the past six years. He has lived in Orange for 17 years and enjoys a wide circle of friends.

"For months I had felt run-down and irritable," explains Mr. Scroggins. Even the children got on my nerves and I got to a point where I told my wife I was going to move out and live by myself. My weight dropped to 140 pounds and I normally weigh about 155. Constipation worried me, too, and I had to take harsh laxatives regularly. I didn't feel like doing any work and just had to drive myself all the time.

"One day a friend of mine learned of my condition. It seemed that he had had an experience similar to mine and had tried Retonga on the recommendation of a friend. Retonga had given him such fine relief that I decided to try it. I shall be forever thankful that I did, for in just a week I began to notice a difference, and I steadily felt better. Now, nothing upsets me the way it did before. I have regained most of my lost weight. That tired-out feeling has been relieved, as well as my constipation, and I feel like a million. My wife says she surely can see a big difference in me. I am glad to recommend Retonga to anyone suffering as I did."

The active ingredients of Retonga are purely herbal, combined with Vitamin B-1. Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, borderline Vitamin B-1 deficiency, and constipation. Accept no substitute—insist on the original. You can get Retonga at all good drug stores, including Mark Halsey Drug Stores. Adv.

Women's Organization Maps Programs To Aid Farm Homes

The Women's Regional Auxiliary to the Veterans Agricultural association held its first meeting Thursday afternoon and made tentative plans for programs in the future on deep freeze units and many other subjects that will be beneficial to women in farm homes, Joe Meador, publicity director for the VAA announced Thursday evening.

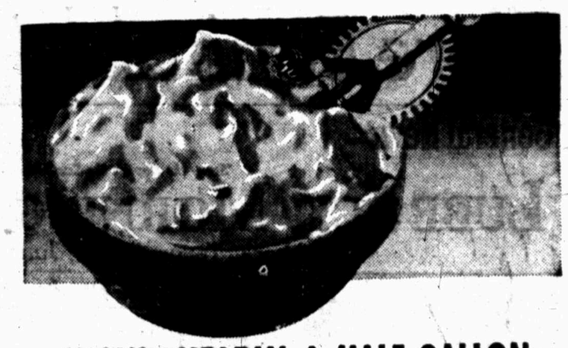

According to Mrs. G. K. Bullock, of Roosevelt, who is president of the women's organization, the group plans to meet with local VAA members throughout Lubbock and Crosby counties to encourage the organization of women's auxiliaries in local chapters.

High Ranking Jersey Bull Arrives At Tech

A Jersey bull which has the rank of "Superior Sire," has arrived at the Texas Technological college bull barn, and will be available for breeding purposes to anyone within a 28 mile radius of Lubbock, for the summer period, Casey Fine, associate professor of animal husbandry, announced Thursday afternoon.

Those farmers who wish to have their cows serviced by the bull should call the college during the morning hours, and ask for the bull barn, and give directions for reaching their farm, Fine said, adding that they might also contact Lubbock's county agent, David Sherrill. Service is given by artificial insemination, which allows one collection of semen from the bull to be diluted and service as high as 50 cows. There is a $6 charge for the first service and if it doesn't settle, the second and third services are administered at no extra cost. A technician from the college will call at the farmer's house at the proper time designated by the owner of the cows.

The bul, named Observer Blonde's Signal, has 16 daughters that produced an average of 650 pounds of butter-fat in 305 days. The minimum necessary to be ranked a Superior Sire, is 10 daughters that average 450 pounds of butter-fat in 305 days. He has 27 daughters that score 84 of the 100 point total on the Jersey score card, which makes him the highest Superior Sire in the state. He is on lease to the Texas Tech Agriculture department for the summer from J. Chester Cliff, Tulia, who is the leading Jersey breeder of the nation

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, June 24 (AP) — Wheat firmed on the board of trade today but corn and oats showed no definite trend.

Part of the buying in wheat came from mills, reflecting overnight sales of flour to the government. An expected delay in harvesting the new crop in the southwest also helped steady the market.

Wheat closed ⅜-¾ higher, July $2.33⅜-¾, corn was ¾ lower to ⅞ higher, July $2.22⅞-2.23¼, oats were unchanged to 1⅜ lower, July 93¾-⅞.

MARKET COMEBACK SHOWED

NEW YORK, June 24. (AP)—A play for higher prices fizzled out in the stock market today.

Oils took a beating but changes elsewhere were a fairly close mixture of small gains and losses.

Trading got off to a fast start but progressively slowed until the final hour when there was a slight pick-up in activity. Volume for the day totalled 1,560,000 shares, compared with 1,760,000 Wednesday.

Rails tried to pull the market ahead most of the day and for a time succeeded fairly well, toward the close, though, selling gained momentum and early gains in some cases were lost. Steels followed the same pattern, showing moderate strength for a while and then developing a wobbly streak.

The long-popular oils took a heavy dose of profit taking sales and prices declined an extreme of four points.

Richfield Oil dropped 4 to 39¼ and declines of more than a point appeared for Maracaibo 12⅝, Standard Oil (NJ) 87⅛, Texac Co. 63½, Gulf 77⅝, and Mission Corp. 68¾.

In the rail section these issues emerged with plus signs: Santa Fe 114⅞, Pennsylvania 21¼, Union Pacific 190¾, Atlantic Coast Line 59, and North Western 21¾. The last at a high for the year.

Also ahead were U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Chrysler, Firestone Tire, Caterpillar Tractor, International Telephone, Paramount Pictures and Eastern Airlines.

Lower were Douglas Aircraft, Consolidated Natural Gas, Westinghouse Electric, General Electric, Illinois Central and International Harvester.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined .1 of one point to 71.5. Of the 1,064 issues which appeared on the ticker tape, 452 advanced and 361 declined.

In the curb declines of a point or more were scored by Cities Service, United Shoe Machinery, Derby Oil and Venezuelan Petroleum. Standard Cap and Seal picked up round a point. Turnover of 450,000 shares compared with 500,000 yesterday.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, June 24 (AP) — Cotton futures declined sharply into new low ground for the day on a late flurry of commission house and New Orleans selling. Liquidation was induced partly by more liberal selling of the nearby July delivery by a leading spot firm which has been reported to have extensive long holdings in that month.

Futures closed 25 to 65 cents a bale lower than the previous close.

in camp or by units. Bedtime is at 9:30 p. m.

Wednesday "peanut day" was observed at camp. Each girl chose the name of another, made gifts and attempted in other ways to please the girl whose name they had chosen, all anonymously, not revealing their identity until Thursday.

Main craft activity has been pottery with natural clay found near camp Other crafts have included basketry, making of plastic bracelets and blueprinting.

Nature activity has centered around the Rambler badge.

Members of the Lions club committee for the camp have been invited to visit the camp this week. The Lions club became interested in such a camp project several years ago and along with Scout officials made plans for the camp, which was dedicated June 6.

Foreign Air Lines Compete With U.S. In Luxury Service

By CHARLES CORDDRY
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 24—Unable to compete with United States airlines in volume of international flying, foreign lines are making an effort to outdo them in special customer attractions.

On a foreign airline you can get a sleeper across the central Pacific.

You can avoid plane changes between New York and the west coast of South America. You can enjoy French or Scandinavian atmosphere, as the saying goes, en route instead of waiting until you arrive in those places.

Special courtesies, and schedule frequencies which give travelers a wide choice of departure times, are two of the main competitive factors in international flying. Rates are set by conferences, so from that standpoint it makes little difference how you travel.

U. S. Has Planes

So far, because of inability to buy enough American planes, the foreign lines have lagged far behind this country in volume of operations. If you are in a hurry, an American line more likely has a schedule going where you want to go with space available.

The foreign lines thus concentrate on making you happy by plying you with special services and such unique attractions as their particular nationalities make possible. In doing so they have an eye to a future when there will be plenty of seats and berths available and sales effort will determine whose are filled.

They haven't done so badly up to now. The most recent study of trans-Atlantic passenger traffic shows that from July to December of last year foreign airlines filled 25 seats per trip compared with 26 for their American competition.

Americans Dominant

The survey made by the Civil Aeronautics Board shows that U. S. airlines flew 70.29 per cent of the trips and carried 71.24 per cent of the trans-Atlantic traffic outbound from and inbound to New York. Total passengers by U. S. and foreign lines numbered 114,128 for the six months.

The board said U. S. lines appear to have a favorable competitive position in the trans-Atlantic trade for the immediate future Those lines are American Overseas, Pan American and Transcontinental and Western Air. Their foreign competitors are Air France, British Overseas Airways Corporation, Royal Dutch Airlines, the Belgian line Sabena, Scandinavian Airlines System and Swissair.

Trans-Canada Air Lines has jumped into international competition with a four-engine luxury plane of Canadian make, the North Star. It is basically a Douglas DC-4 with some DC-6 improvements and is powered by British engines which boost its speed above 300 miles an hour. It carries 40 passengers in two spacious compartments.

County Tax Plan

creased market valuations considerably, but had not been recognized for tax purposes. Urban property owners have borne the tax brunt the last 20 years or so.

Problem Recognized

Spokesman for those cited to appear today was Bean. He announced that the commissioners, sitting as a board of equalization, had agreed that there is "no adequate machinery set up at present for county-wide equalization of property valuations for tax purposes."

He said that failure was "not the fault of this court—nor of any individual commissioners court." But, he said, "this court recognizes the problem, which has increasingly become more acute, and has agreed to take action that will equalize valuations by next year."

Bean pointed out that the agreement the court had made with attorneys and those attorneys represent would look forward to the "employment of a competent company or organization or individual to make a survey of the entire county in efforts to arrive at a reasonable cash market value of every piece of property in the county."

Arrive At Percentage

Then the court would arrive at a "percentage" of valuation on which taxes would be levied," so that no one would pay disproportionately."

Further, Bean pointed out that attorneys understood that plans envision efforts to have a "high tax rate and low but equalized valuation," so that sufficient tax collections can be made for county requirements, without too much having to be paid for state purposes.

Bean turned to individual members of the equalization board after summing up with this statement: "Values are not equalized, I think the court has agreed, but by next year the problem will be adjusted."

County Judge Walter Davies and the four commissioners, R. O. Short, Ben Mansker, Ottis Isom and Pat Corley, nodded.

Owners Will Appear

The hearing immediately broke up, but non-resident property owners, not officially advised of the plan agreed to, will appear for expected similar action Friday morning.

Judge Davies said the matter would come up for official discussion at next Monday's meeting of the county commissioners court.

All members of the court realize that time is limited if a revamped method of obtaining rendition is to be completed in time for the next tax roll. Property will be assessed for that roll commencing Jan. 1.

Suit To Be Resumed

negligence "is imputed to Margie Nell Vick."

As originally filed, Henry B. Johnson was named as a party defendant, inasmuch as he, it was pleaded, had signed the application for an operator's license for his son. Since he, it was contended, had not made formal application for cancellation of his son's license, the plaintiffs contended that he was a proper party defendant.

Father Is Ruled Out

But Judge Blair, allowing a bill of exception to the plaintiffs, ruled out the father as a party to the suit. He took the position that the statute pleaded by the plaintiff does not patently confer on the father such responsibility as maintained by the plaintiffs. The question of interpreting the statute, he inferred, belongs to the appellate court.

The jury is composed of F. N. Craven, S. W. McGaw, Guy Coleman, Joe W. Robert, Joe W. Owens, Floyd Lane, Carl Foster, Lester Ericson, H. E. DeShazo, H. F. Maner, Curtis L. Boyd, and Lloyd Meurer.

Counsel for Ward and others is the law firm of Hay and Hudspeth, for Johnson the firm of Crenshaw, Dupree, Milam and Crenshaw.
