

Hired Hand Some Facts On Rearing Children

By GLENN SHELTON Having just about reared four children—two queens and two jacks—I consider myself enough of an authority on the subject to make the flat assertion that nobody is an authority on the subject. All I know for sure is that the whole point in rearing a child is to make him able to do without parents. Yet I see parents on every hand whose goal apparently is to make the child dependent, rather than independent. These parents do all their kids' thinking for them, they won't permit their offspring to go anywhere alone, they become over-protective, refusing to allow their children to take any of the normal chances a kid must take if he is to gain self confidence. It isn't easy to be a parent. Too much love and solicitude can do more harm than good. Too little law enforcement, or discipline, can create a man or woman with no respect for law and discipline.

The best parent, in my estimation, is the one who is able to provide (1) love, (2) security, and (3) direction, in that order. A kid must feel loved, first of all, then he must feel that he has parents who are capable of handling any situation. That's security.

But then he must know that he has parents who will pounce upon him promptly when he has gone astray. When he knows that, he will feel he has no choice about whether or not to do wrong. Having a choice can make of him a nervous wreck.

THE ONLY TRULY SECURE CHILD IS THE ONE WHO KNOWS HE'LL BE CLOUTED WHEN HE MISBEHAVES, THE MOST MISERABLE, THOSE WHO KNOW THEY CAN "GET AWAY" WITH ALMOST ANYTHING.

One of the "advice" columnists said the best thing a father can do for a child is love his mother. I agree. It's sometimes hard, though, to love children enough to make them behave, and to educate them not to need you.

OFF ON A TANGENT—Others may have forgotten, but the "Daughters of the Republic of Texas" didn't forget San Jacinto Day last Tuesday. I met with the ladies for a luncheon meeting, expecting to find a passel of stern visaged dowagers. Instead, I found a group of warm, gracious patriots, and enjoyed their program very much. They form the Rebecca Jane Fisher Chapter.

ON THE PROGRAM WERE MRS. E. E. CLACK, MRS. LUKE HODGES AND MRS. A. B. LOCKHART.

Thanks to Sid Woodard for fine "pome" about the recent twister, a stanza of which goes: "I knew it had hit and hit mighty hard... but all I could do was trust in the Lord... I thought about schools and churches, too... but there was nothing in the world that I could do." Expresses all our sentiments, eh?

THE MAILBAG—"Your column ament the beckoning of far away places evokes a kindred spirit in me. Until 10 years-old, I dreamed of being a cowboy. Until 15, my ambition was to be a truck driver. By the time I reached 17, exploring the world via tramp steamer was my desire. But there was one unsurmountable obstacle. I was a girl."

Hail And Rain Lash Area Young County Collision Fatal To Five

Headon Crash Spares Life Of Only One

LOVING, Tex. — Five persons—four members of a Lubbock, Tex., family and a Loving woman en route home from a funeral—perished as the result of a headon collision on State Highway 199 about two miles west of Loving about 3:40 p.m. Friday. The collision, according to a witness, occurred only minutes before a thunderstorm lashed the site with heavy rain, surface winds and hail. Killed from Loving was Mrs. Wayland Manley, 21, alone in one of the automobiles. Killed in the second car were Mrs. Catheryn Songer, 32, wife of the driver; her son, R. W., about 12, and 16-year-old daughter, Patricia.

Pröounced dead shortly after arrival at the Olney-Hamilton Hospital was another daughter of the dead woman, Deborah, 13. Injured and thought to be in possibly serious condition was Carl Songer, 35, driver of the Lubbock car.

Mrs. Manley was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Scott, who live north of Loving. Two Texas Highway Patrolmen from Olney, Thomas Mobley and Charles Gunn, were assisted in the investigation by Justice of the Peace Sam Furr Jr. of Olney. Furr pronounced four of the victims dead at the scene.

Bodies of three of the victims were taken to Morrison Funeral Home in Graham. Mrs. Manley's body was at Lunn Funeral Home late Friday. Investigation indicated the Lubbock automobile was headed east toward Dallas and the Loving woman was headed west. Songer is staff manager in Lubbock for National Insurance Co. Only survivor, Songer sustained broken teeth and fractured ribs, shock and internal injuries. A third automobile, driven by Arthur Keywood of Dallas, struck the wreckage of the two automobiles. Braking hard, he barely missed injury when his vehicle managed to almost stop before striking the first two. The third automobile was only slightly damaged.

FIVE KILLED—Loving, Tex.—Four of five passengers in the car at right, all of Lubbock, died Friday when it collided with the automobile on the left, of Loving, whose driver, Mrs. Wayland Manley, 21, also perished. Surviving was the other driver, Carl Songer, 35. His wife, Catheryn, 32, son, R. W., about 12; daughters, Patricia, 16 and Deborah, died in the wreckage.

Three Tornadoes Drop From Clouds

By DAN COLEMAN Wichita Falls Friday afternoon reeled from a series of severe hail storms coming from several angles and followed by a deluge of water in cloudburst quan-

Falls, were driven by strong winds. Damage from hail alone was undetermined, but believed to be extensive and widespread. High winds ripped down power lines, damaged young spring crops and smashed buildings and rooftops throughout the area.

titles in the third consecutive day of severe weather. Damage, although surprisingly light from hailstones, ranging from golf ball to softball size, was general throughout the city in the wake of the severe thunderstorm activity.

Kamay Lashed At least three verified tornadoes, plus a half-dozen unconfirmed reports, occurred during the course of the storm. A twister on the southwest part of the Waggoner Estate at 4:15 p.m. reportedly killed cattle and tore (Continued on Page 2)

An unstable mass of cool moist air overheated by a high of 90 degrees gave birth to the turbulent weather.

Floodwaters Inundate City In Some Areas

North Texas counties from Brownwood to Wichita Falls were battered by tornadoes, giant hail, high winds and up to six inches of rain.

Floodwaters backed up in downtown Wichita Falls at about 7:30 p.m. Friday and at spotted areas across the city, led by an estimated 2.5 inches of rainfall.

Wichita Falls for the first time since 1962 was flooded by backwaters from creeks and rivers. Some areas of the city were isolated.

Director of Public Works Frank Farlow said Friday night a street crew was dispatched to the Ohio-Scott, Tenth-Twelfth area in the downtown section to warn motorists not to enter the flooded area.

Lake Wichita was rising rapidly as a result of heavy rainfall on Holliday Creek between the lake and Holliday, Ed Neal, Lake Kickapoo patrolman for the Wichita Falls Water Department, reported to the station about 8 p.m. Friday that the lake had received only .50 inch of rain.

Waters reached heights of a foot to two feet on Scott as automobiles foundered in the murky currents. No injuries from flooding were reported and there was negligible damage.

"We hope these rising waters will dissipate soon," he said at 8 p.m. "We have a flash-flood problem on the Big Wichita River in the downtown section to warn motorists not to enter the flooded area."

At mid-afternoon the twisters, hail and winds took their toll; but rain followed in sporadic downpours.

The city official was speaking from the Southwinds Addition in the southeast part of Wichita Falls.

Iowa Park HH Beginning about 3:45 p.m. in an area southwest of Wichita Falls, the line of thunderstorms swept across a wide band in North Texas pounding it with hail up to the size of baseballs.

"I was driving out here in my economy car and before I knew it the headlights were submerged," he said.

Connally cited as accomplishments of his administration an increase from 15 to 61 technical vocational programs in junior colleges; a $2.7 million screw-worm eradication program; three pilot programs to improve state park facilities; a state municipal annexation law; creation of the Texas tourist development agency; the new state regulatory loan act; and the establishment of 317 new industrial plants in Texas.

Elsewhere, flooding threatened homes near Kemp and Brook, Harrison and dwellings along Holliday Creek.

LBJ Tours Depressed Areas Connally Cites Texas Progress

INEZ, Ky. (AP) — President Johnson went to the roots of Appalachia's poverty Friday, visiting two families who live in tarpaper shacks in this unemployment-plagued eastern Kentucky town. The President and Mrs. Johnson flew here by helicopter from Huntington, W.Va., on a four-state whirlwind tour of economically depressed areas. Visiting like a next-door neighbor, the President squatted on a pile of lumber on the front porch of the flimsy dwelling where Tom Fletcher, his wife and their eight children live. With the Fetters during the 10-minute chat with Johnson were Noah Bowen, his wife and three children. They live in a nearby shack similar to the Fetters'.

Returning to the landing strip, Johnson spotted a man in a bed on a lawn across the road. He was J. C. Blankenship, who has been paralyzed from the waist down more than six years. Johnson walked over and spoke briefly to Blankenship before boarding the helicopter to take off for Paintsville, next stop on the tour.

Fletcher, 38, told Johnson he has been out of work most of the past two years. He said he earned about $400 last year to support his large family. Most of the conversation was out of the hearing of newsmen. But, upon leaving, Johnson told Fletcher: "Take care of yourself. And don't you forget now: I want you to put those boys through school."

Inez is a mountain town of 900 with one coal mine and two or three sawmills. It is in Martin County, which borders on West Virginia and also is not far from Ohio.

Mrs. Johnson departed with a wave and called, "Bye, children."

Connally did not mention any of his opponents in the democratic primary.

The Fletcher home is near the landing strip, two miles out of Inez, where the President's helicopter put down. A crowd of about 1,500 met

Big crowds pressed in on Johnson at stops earlier in the day. The President — at his handshaking best — seemed to enjoy the personal contact thoroughly.

Rains, Hail Lash North Texas Area

(Continued From Page 1) down utility lines. A tornado struck the west portion of Olney about 7:45 p.m. unroofing a small shed and an annex of the Olney-Hamilton Hospital. In the town, many store windows were broken and house roofs beaten in.

Kamay took a beating from a six-inch rain and a hard hail and also a small funnel which was confirmed as being on the ground.

Later in the evening, the steady rain sent threats of heavy flooding up and down the Wichita and Red River watersheds.

Most area towns in the immediate Wichita Falls area had two to three inches of rain. Several locations were flooded and numerous streets in Wichita Falls were completely underwater and were choked with stalled cars. Water washed into buildings along Scott in downtown Wichita Falls.

Within the city of Wichita Falls, the fire department answered calls beginning about 7:30 p.m. to stranded vehicles. Several unmanned cars were found in locations along Scott, at Holiday Creek and in the irrigation ditch near Taft and Berkeley. The Fire Department said Brook near Kemp was about four and one-half feet deep in flood waters.

Siren Sounded
The siren sounded at Shepard Air Force Base at 6:20 p.m. Friday and fire trucks equipped with sound equipment were dispatched to the Wherry and Capehart Housing areas near the base to urge people to take cover. This is a new precaution since the recent tornado.

Tornado alerts flashed on and off throughout the area all day. Electrical discharges during the storm disrupted communications in many areas. Hail, tornadoes, wind and rain together caused varying damage over an area 250 miles wide.

The weather in the Wichita Falls Record News circulation area reports are:
ARCHER CITY — Rain started about 3:30 p.m. and was accompanied by marble-sized hail. No damage was reported. It was still raining late Friday night with a half inch on the ground by 8 p.m.

GRAHAM — Hard shower started about 3:30 p.m. along with a few pebbles of hail, but stopped shortly. Approximately one-tenth of an inch was reported at 8 p.m.

OLNEY — Very turbulent weather reported late Friday night. A light peppering of small hail at 3:30 p.m. with a thunderstorm at 7:30 p.m. that dropped approximately three-quarters of an inch of rain. There was also an unconfirmed report of a funnel.

SEYMOUR — Experienced a thundershower at 4:30 p.m. that lasted about an hour, dumping an estimated half inch of moisture in the area. There was no hail.

JACKSBORO — This city has been missing all of the rains and turbulent weather although there was hope of moisture late Friday night. The city was under a storm alert until midnight. A report from an Antelope farmer credited his area with damaging hail "So large I won't say how big it was," a Jacksboro police department official said.

CHILDRESS — Reported high winds but no rain. Area was heavy overcast but most of the turbulence was to the east. The city was under a weather alert until 10 p.m. but apparently was missing most of the action.

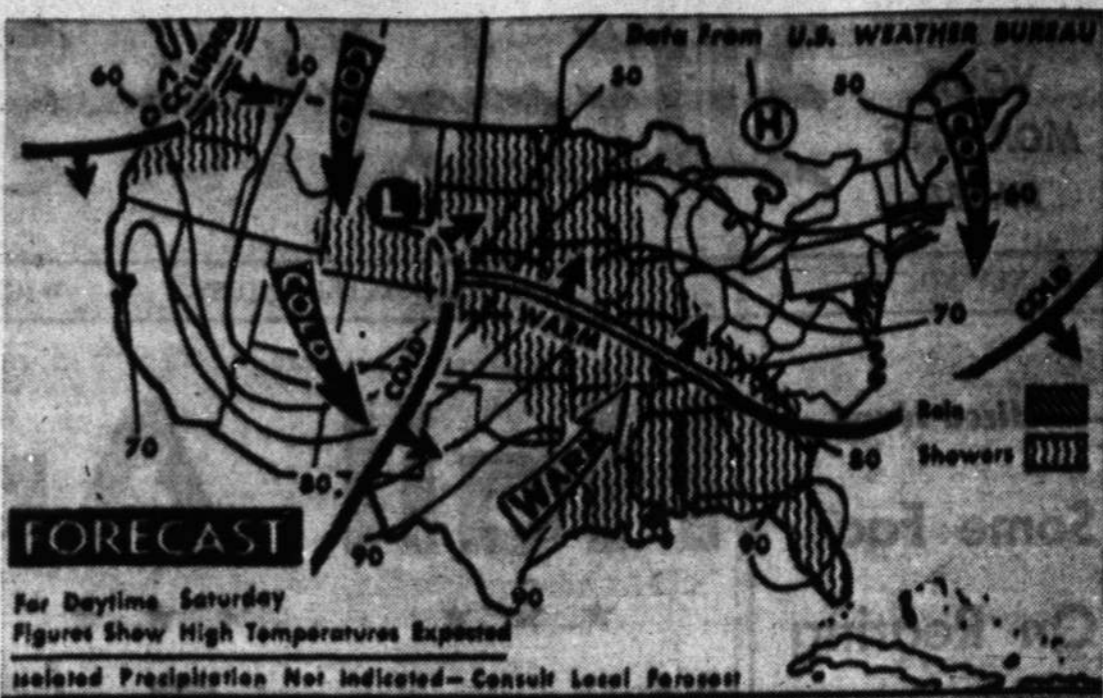

QUANAH — No rain reported. High winds kicked up, but there was no reported damage. A weather alert was lifted at 8:30 p.m. and the city was expected to miss moisture.

BURKBURNETT — Long-needed rain began at 5 p.m. and prevailed until around 8 p.m. High gust of winds knocked down a tree, but no damage was done to property. The town was under a lightning and thunder storm beating from 5 p.m. to as late as 8:40. No hail was reported.

HENRIETTA — The major weather fronts went around the city. A light sprinkle began at 5:20 p.m. and turned into a good rain around 8:40.

BOWIE — No rain fell, but at 8:45 p.m. clouds were coming in from Bellevue and Decatur. It was reported that Decatur got some rain and thunderstorms. Lightning and thunder in the area was sporadically cutting the lights out in the city.

IOWA PARK — Heavy rains began about 5 p.m. with some lessening prior to 6 p.m. Most rain

WEATHER FORECAST — Partly cloudy with scattered thundershowers and a high temperature about 90 was the forecast for the Wichita Falls vicinity Saturday. Elsewhere, scattered showers are expected Saturday for northwest Pacific coast, northern Plains, Mississippi and Tennessee Valleys, southern Plains and Great Basin. Cooler weather is likely for Pacific northwest, Rockies, Ohio Valley, Carolinas and north Atlantic states. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Carr Is Guest

Paducah Celebration Begun

By BILL LAMBERT
State Editor
PADUCAH, Tex. (Special) — Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr was the featured guest among thousands who helped kick off the 22nd annual Cottle-King County Horse & Colt Show here Friday.

The annual event has grown to include a rodeo, old settlers' reunion, barbecue and dance attracting visitors from several states.

Sharing the spotlight with Carr — who made a brief speech before leading the rodeo parade around the downtown section — were the old-timers.

M. M. Parker, who had lived in Cottle County since 1889, and Thomas Criswell, a resident of King County since 1904, took honors for longest residents of their respective counties. Mrs. G. H. Gage, 89, was the oldest person attending the morning old settlers' session.

Francis Sivells of Los Angeles, who lived in Paducah from 1911 until 1930, was honored for traveling the greatest distance to attend. Also pointed out was Troy Haston, Paducah resident, who has just returned with his family from oil field work in Venezuela.

The old settlers' program included a memorial service by Rev. Robert Beck for all 33 old settlers of the two counties who have died since last May. The registration list showed 290 persons attending the reunion.

Carr spoke before the gathering on the square and said "the future of Texas is the future of West Texas and now we are being included as a partner," mentioning that political candidates now schedule visits to this section of the country. Carr, from Lubbock, was introduced by Rep. Bill Heatley of Paducah.

Carr predicted a bright future for Texas, pointing out that in 1963 "only one other state had more new industry, New York, and we had more population

Trophy winners in the parade were: floats—Paducah Jaycees, Dunbar High and Hackberry Community club; bands — Childress High, Patton Springs High, and Paducah High; riding clubs — Santa Rosa, Hale County Sheriff's Posse (Plainview) and Shamrock.

Big surprise in the halter events of the horse show was the award of the grand champion stallion award to a yearling, owned and shown by E. C. Johnston Jr. of Longview and named Jim So-So. Jim So-So defeated among others, two of Poco Bueno's top sons for the honor — Fagan Miller's Poco Feed, first in aged stallion, and E. Paul Waggoner's Poco Mo', second in that class. Reserve champion stallion selected by judge Weldon Johnson of Snyder was Bar's Mr. Bar, No. 2 yearling.

Other titles in the horse show:
Mares and fillies — Grand champion and aged mare, Miss High Jo, Hays Ranch, Snyder; reserve champion and '82 filly foal, Sandy Eloise, E. C. Johnston Jr., Longview; '63 foal, Hijo Lady, S. B. Burnett Estate, Guthrie; '61 foal, Lady Alcedo Mar, Mary Anne Parris, Lubbock.

Geldings — grand champion and 3-and-4 year old, Del Mite, L. R. Spire, El Paso; reserve and 5-or-older, Bob Big Enuf, Susan Martin, Aspermont; 2-or-under, Smokey K. P., Pat Puckett, Paducah.

Other stallions — '62 colt, Poco Toy Bay, Carl Rummage, Vernon; '61 colt, Poco Husky, E. Paul Waggoner.

A barbecue dinner followed the parade, with a rodeo and then a western dance.

Saturday's program will start with performance class of the horse show at 1 p.m., followed by the rodeo at 8 p.m. and a dance at 9 p.m. in Barn 3, livestock grounds.

Good Human Relations Week Honors Your Newspaper Carrier

THOUGHT FOR TODAY

"If you haven't thought much about courtesy stop now and give it a thought. When talking with another, listen attentively. Don't assume a bored attitude, or allow an "I know it" expression to flicker across your features. If the speaker is wrong in a statement, never contradict him flatly; if necessary, mention that you had always thought thus-and-so and add that if you have been wrong you are glad to be advised."

The Nor-Tex Chapter of Dale Carnegie Alumni Association, in sponsoring the "Good Human Relations Week" April 19-25, points out the importance of this simple rule. This is taken from the Dale Carnegie Scrapbook.

Mrs. Hall was one of approximately 1,000 DAR members at the Congress. One of the highlights was a tea given by Mrs. Lyndon Johnson in the Blue Room of the White House. A special feature of the Texas meeting was presentation of a 50-year membership pin to Mrs. Tom Connolly, widow of the late senator and a member of the Lone Star Chapter in Texarkana. Mrs. Robert V. Ann Landers Says

Interfering In Money Matters Of Relatives Is Bad Business

Dear Ann Landers: I'd like your advice on what to do about my aunt. She telephoned this morning just to chat. To be polite I asked her what she was doing today. She replied, "I am going downtown to do some Christmas shopping." Then she explained.

Auntie watches for bargains all through the year and picks them up for Christmas gifts. By August she has all her Christmas shopping done. This explains why her gifts are always faded, torn, dried out and shopworn.

This tightwad has more money than all the rest of the family put together. Her husband was in World War I and she still has his Liberty Bonds. I am so infuriated by her cheapness I could pop a blood vessel. Should I tell her how I feel and get it off my chest?—BURNED TO CINDERS

Dear Cinders: No. You've told me. That's enough. Now forget it.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a teen-ager who will soon be bald if I don't do something about a terrible habit I've had since the sixth grade. Without realizing it I've been pulling out my hair. During study period when I should be concentrating I pull my hair out. When I get upset about something it is worse than ever. I wake up in the morning and find hair on the pillow, so you see I pull my hair out even when I sleep.

I've tried awfully hard to control myself but it's hopeless. Please tell me if you have ever heard of this before. Also, what can I do about it? Thanks a million.—PROBLEMS PROBLEMS

Dear Problems: This habit is in the same category with stuttering and nail-biting—and it is not uncommon. The guidance counselor at school should invite your mother in for a visit. Together they can decide on a course of action. You will stop pulling your hair out when you settle down emotionally and resolve the problems which are tormenting you.

Dear Ann Landers: I've been going with a beautiful girl from a small town downstate. I'll call her Faye. Last night we talked about many things. I asked her if she would mind telling me everything about her past romances. She was reluctant at first and then poured out a story that left me so weak I almost blacked out.

Faye went steady with a fellow during her senior year in high school and they were intimate for about eight months. She said she thought she was in love with him and felt sure they would marry. It was as if someone had stuck a dagger through my heart. Faye says he was the only one, but now I wonder. If she could have fooled me so completely, what might she do after I married her?

I love this girl but I don't trust her anymore. Do you think I will ever get over this?—DART

Dear Dart: No, I don't. In fact, the way your mind is working you'll probably have her pictured as the town tramp within week.

Loving is confidence, understanding and forgiving. You'd better find yourself a 100 per cent pure maiden. A fellow with your attitude would forever remind a wife who had made an early mistake that she was "damaged goods."

Ann Landers' frank and informative new book, "Teen-Agers And Sex" ($2.95), is now available at your book store.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of the Wichita Falls Record News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Jacoby On Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Kelly's law states, "Anything that can foul up, will." Applied to bridge it might read, "Give your partner a chance to make a mistake and he will."

West was a very good player. South a good player and East just a player.

South ruffed the opening spade lead in dummy, cashed dummy's ace of clubs and led a club to his queen. He discarded two of dummy's hearts on the ace and king of spades and led the deuce of diamonds. West played the three spot because he felt that the nine might be important later and East's ace picked up dummy's king.

East went into a long huddle and led the deuce of hearts. West was on lead with the ace and, after a little thought, West led the queen of hearts.

He was sure that South would not have gone out of his way to discard two hearts from dummy if he held a singleton himself. Hence South had started with exactly two hearts.

South ruffed with the king in dummy and proceeded to run out all his trumps and the good jack of hearts.

This brought East down to the queen of spades and the queen of diamonds and he had to discard one or the other. In accordance with Kelly's law, out came the queen of diamonds and South had stolen the game.

East's play was horrible, but West could have protected his partner by leading back the nine of diamonds after taking his ace of hearts.

Learn Language If Traveling In Europe Planned

By AMY VANDERBILT

"DEAR MISS VANDERBILT: I have just been promoted with in our organization to a job which will take me as much as eight to ten times to Europe during the year. I know no foreign language and wonder whether, at 40, it is worthwhile even trying to learn one and, if so, what ones would be needed.

"I understand European business manners are different from those here and wonder if you have anything that you can send me on this subject. I expect to drive my own car between cities and countries in Europe and wonder if a sports jacket and slacks, such as I would wear here under the circumstances, would be satisfactory when I am calling on European business firms.—L.S., Chicago."

First, it is never too late to start studying a foreign language. If you have time and are really disciplined, you can teach yourself at home from records. I have a friend who has taught himself a number of languages very well in this way. Generally speaking, it is better for a businessman to enroll in an established school, such as Berlitz, for individual lessons. This is expensive but effective — and necessarily demanding.

If I were you I would start with French, go on to Spanish and, if you are going to be traveling in Germany and Austria or eventually behind the Iron Curtain, add German (useful in Hungary, for example).

You will find that many European businessmen speak English well, but you can't count on this. In addition, the International Hotels usually supply translators who can handle business transactions. The new Vienna Intercontinental, like others in the chain, supplies dictating machines, stenographic help for American business people for a modest fee. Even Americans who have foreign languages in fair control will find that the business vocabulary may well be terra incognita.

The comfortable American custom of wearing slacks and a sports jacket is all right for the tourist (and in Denmark well-dressed Danish men follow the English custom of wearing blazers and odd trousers and an American man dressed in a sports jacket is perfectly comfortable there). But in Europe businessmen in general wear dark suits, white shirts, conservative ties and are most formal in their dealings.

In a helpful free booklet I am sending you, "The Pan Am Guide to Business Customs in Europe," it says, "Never call a European businessman by his first name unless he asks you to—but do call him by his title. Titles such as 'Doctor' and 'Professor' usually get preference over those of a strictly business nature, such as 'Director.' Specifically, Ph.Ds throughout most of Europe, particularly in Germany and Sweden, are addressed as 'Doctor.' And, as the title 'Doctor' isn't restricted in Europe to the medical profession, neither is 'Professor' restricted to the teaching profession. 'Professor' does not necessarily imply a particular academic degree; in business it can be an honorary title conferred for outstanding achievement in any field of endeavor."

The same booklet advises that you take a large number of business cards with you, preferably engraved in engravers' Roman or a similar type—and let it be devoid of any advertising except perhaps the founding date of the company.

The same booklet tells you to wear a hat or not as you please. Some European businessmen wear them, some don't, but those who do are in the habit of tipping them frequently.

Any of my readers who are interested in knowing more on this subject may send me a post card requesting "Business Customs."

Maturity In Wearing Contacts Certainly Has Its Good Points

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER

Dear Dr. Molner: I have been wearing glasses since the fifth grade. I am now 16 and fed up with them. I want contact lenses but my mother and our eye doctor are against it. He prefers for me to wait until I am 18. He says the eyes can easily be injured by a careless move in the use of contacts.

This sounds to me as though he thinks I am irresponsible and do not know the value of my own eyes.

Is it true that the eyes seldom change after one begins to use contacts? My girl friend's doctor told her so.—B. H.

I'm not opposed to contacts but I think you are going overboard on this.

Age is not arbitrarily a barrier, but in practice it has been found that young people do tend to have more of some kinds of troubles.

One is that putting the lenses in place is a delicate chore. It can be done by people of 16—or younger—but I wish you'd try to sympathize with us old fogies who notice that in the upper teens each passing year does add its bit to increased maturity and carefulness.

The activities of young people are such that they are more conducive to losing a lens. And a contact lens has to be fitted so precisely—optically correct, but also fitted perfectly to your eyeball—that it is a costly thing to make. A lost contact lens is much more expensive to replace than a pair of spectacles.

Temperament plays a part, too. Some persons tolerate the lenses for long periods. Others find that the eyes become irritated and can wear the lenses only for short periods.

Damage to the eyeball is a ni-herent possibility, quite aside from the care required in putting the lenses in place. Ulcers can form, with a scar resulting. This is no trifling matter.

(Climate also is a factor; other things being equal, contacts can be tolerated better in cold than in warm areas.)

It is sometimes true that contact wearers can go longer between fittings than the wearers of ordinary glasses. At the same time, it is just wishful thinking to suppose that contact lenses, never have to be replaced. As the eye changes beyond a certain small amount, the old contacts DO have to be discarded and new ones fitted.

But putting off getting contacts a little while longer will prevent more grief than it will cause, and there is no way in the world of being certain, beforehand, whether you are one of the people who can wear them, or whether this is going to be an expensive luxury which you can use only occasionally.

There are NO calories in the artificial sweeteners. There are 16 to 20 calories in a teaspoonful of sugar.

NOTE TO W.O.A. AND OTHERS: I don't know what effect chewing tobacco may have on health, as compared to smoking—and from reading the Surgeon General's Committee Report on Smoking and Health I gather that nobody else has found the answer, either.

"Vitamin starvation" is possible even if you eat a lot. In order to check your diet to make sure you are getting necessary nourishment, write to Dr. Molner in care of the Wichita Falls Record News for a copy of the pamphlet, "Vitamins—The Alphabet of Health." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner is always glad to hear from his readers, and whenever possible he uses their questions in his column, but because of the tremendous volume of mail received daily, he cannot answer individual letters.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am slightly overweight. Are there fewer calories in the artificial sweeteners than in sugar?—R. J. R.

There's Real Beauty In A Genuine Smile

By JOHN ROBERT POWERS

"Smile when you say that" is a well known bromide that all of us could well follow seriously.

There's great fascination in a smile. You'll find that almost any man will choose the face with a smile over entrancing features that are dull expressionless. He avoids the latter as he does the sad one with a "Calamity Jane" attitude.

There has been much poetry devoted to the mouth. It is a woman's most mobile feature. And there can be much beauty in its smile.

Why, then, are there so many women frugal of their smiles?

Actually, in a quest for charm you cannot overrate an appealing smile. It can "win friends and influence people" both in and out of business. One of the truest sentences ever written about the mouth is, "The mouth speaks, even when it doesn't say a word."

A successful smile is a sincere one. You can not just turn a smile off or on like a faucet. You must feel the smile that your lips frame. Otherwise, people will recognize its insincerity. Insincerity can also be judged by the sound of a person's laugh. Pleasant laughter is a delight to the ear. Giggling which is usually considered a special fault of the teen-ager, reflects lack of poise and childishness.

If something is genuinely amusing, it deserves honest laughter. Keep your laugh soft, low, musical—above all, sincere. It's those artificial sounds, or the pretense that you think a situation is funny, that irritates people.

The only justifiable excuse for withholding a sincere laugh or smile is because your teeth require attention. If this is your case, see a dentist.

Cyprus Conflict Old

For a small land — less than half the size of New Jersey and with a population about that of San Antonio, Tex. — the island of Cyprus casts a large shadow over current events.

This is nothing new. The history of Cyprus is the history of the whole ancient world, and much of modern history has focused on this crossroads of the Mediterranean.

Beginning at least as far back as 4000 B.C., Cyprus has seen successive waves of settlers and conquerors, both because of its strategic position, 45 miles off the coast of Turkey, and because of its rich copper and iron deposits.

A roll call of the conquerors includes Thotmes III of Egypt, Sargon II of Assyria, Darius and Xerxes of Persia, Alexander the Great, Caesar Augustus, Mu'awiya of Syria, Richard the Lion Heart, the Byzantine, Venetian and Ottoman Empires and finally the British Empire.

Years of peace for Cyprus, with or without independence, have been few over this vast stretch of centuries.

Turkish conquest of Cyprus and settlement of Turks among the predominately Greek population took place in the 16th Century. After 400 years, the two groups remain separate — linguistically, religiously and culturally.

Greek Cypriot agitation for "Enosis," or reunion with Greece, bitterly opposed by the Turkish minority, began in the 1920s and accelerated after World War II.

The blood of a hundred generations that has stained the soil of Cyprus continues to flow, despite the presence for the first time of an internationally constituted peace-keeping force.

Cyprus, bearing the weight of centuries, will not know peace quickly or easily.

School Prayer Storm

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The new House judiciary hearings on school prayer, right now the only hot public issue outside civil rights, bring this committee under the pressure hammer for the second time in less than a year.

Not many months ago Judiciary delivered itself of the major civil rights bill now in Senate debate. Now it must deal with the immense backlash stirred by Supreme Court decisions outlawing prayer and Bible reading in the public schools.

Tens of thousands of letters deluge the nation's lawmakers, urging action to permit such observances. In the committee's hopper are some 150 resolutions, sponsored by a fourth of total House membership, whose general purpose is to authorize voluntary school prayer and perhaps Bible reading.

On a recent weekend, a young California girl stood in New York's Times Square soliciting signatures for school prayer petitions. She had countless counterparts in communities all over the country.

She was working for "Project America," a petition and post card drive conceived by International Christian Youth, an organization based in Collingswood, N.J.

The goal: one million signatures. Preliminary reports indicate the one-day campaign brought 50,000 names in San Antonio, Tex., 38,000 in Chattanooga, Tenn., 29,000 in Grand Rapids, Mich., to list just a handful.

Another organization called "Project Prayer" recently drew 2,500 people to a Los Angeles rally billed as one of a series across the United States. Others are slated for Georgia and Texas.

Project Prayer has endorsed the leading school prayer proposal, which bears the name of Rep. Frank Becker, New York Republican. His is the product of a special bipartisan committee of six House members. He is high on the roster of 60 House members who wish to be heard in committee sessions before other pro-and-con witnesses appear. Present plans call for windup of testimony by May 15.

Becker declares flatly that Judiciary Chairman Emanuel Celler intends no action on the school prayer issue despite the hearings. The New Yorker already has acquired 165 of the 218 House signatures needed to bring a proposal to the floor over committee opposition.

Celler is ignoring Becker's charges. Committee spokesmen say the long delay in taking up the school prayer matter reflects the many months of attention in civil rights and more recently, to congressional reapportionment.

Becker is retiring this year as a congressman. He seems to be making the school prayer amendment his swan song. His staff works Saturdays and Sundays to handle the endless letters and the flood of petitions. In just one week, petitions with 41,000 signatures poured into his office.

The House Republican Policy Committee has formally given its support to his proposal. Democrats have not acted similarly.

The Becker proposal is in the form of an amendment to the United States Constitution. It would authorize school prayers and Bible reading on a voluntary basis. A clause barring "an establishment of religion" is designated to meet objection that church-state separation is being violated.

With school children, clergymen and many others due to descend on the capital, the committee may well wish for the quieter issues of an earlier day.

Space Issue Hot

One of the hottest stocks in Wall Street, even before it has actually been placed on the market, is the $200 million offering of Comsat — the Communications Satellite Corp.

Comsat will develop and maintain a commercial system of Telstar-type satellites. Half its stock, expected to sell for $20 a share, will go to communications companies, half to the public.

Most of those who would like to buy a share in the space age, will have to wait, however, for the Comsat stock is already oversubscribed — even though, as one analyst pointed out, the company hasn't earned a cent yet, may not show a profit for five years or pay a dividend for 10 years.

If the Russians had any doubts about the earnestness of American intentions in space, the impending orbiting of their arch-enemy Wall Street ought to remove them.

It may not be too great a jump on the imagination to predict that one day shiploads of planetary colonists will be financed by private speculators. After all, that's how the Pilgrims got to America.

Drew Pearson

Congressman Switches Sides On Poverty Bill

By JACK ANDERSON
(Editor's Note — The Drew Pearson column today is written by his associate, Jack Anderson.)

WASHINGTON — Huddling secretly with his lieutenants recently, House Republican Leader Charlie Halleck called upon them to obstruct and, if possible, defeat President Johnson's War-On-Poverty Bill.

The assignment of chief obstructionist went to New Jersey's able Congressman Peter Frelinghuysen, No. 1 Republican on the House Labor Committee, which has been holding hearings on the bill.

He was obliged to do some hasty scrambling to get on Halleck's side of the fence. For, only a few days earlier, Frelinghuysen had endorsed the Anti-Poverty Bill, at least in part, in an interview inserted in the Congressional Record by his fellow Republican, California Congressman Bob Wilson.

"Some press stories," said Wilson, "have suggested that Republicans oppose federal anti-poverty programs. Is this true?"

"Of course not," replied Frelinghuysen.

"Do you think," asked Wilson, "that Republicans will support some parts of the Johnson Anti-Poverty Program?"

"I sincerely hope so," said

Frelinghuysen.

But after the huddle with Halleck, the New Jersey congressman began using every delaying tactic in the book to block the bill he had previously endorsed.

At one hearing he vowed that, "The Lord Willing," the anti-poverty legislation will not be enacted.

Such is the party line, handed down by Halleck — namely, oppose the War-On-Poverty Program but don't appear to be against the poor.

Congressional Jokester

In the House of Representatives Restaurant is a table set aside for liberal congressmen. To this table recently came a stranger — Mike Feighan, the Cleveland Democrat who is not exactly a liberal. He is now trying to deport Shakespearean Actor Sir John Gielgud, plus Richard Burton, husband of Elizabeth Taylor, wants to set up a witch-hunting committee to investigate the State Department; and claims 200 defectors from the U.S. Armed Services are ready to gun down the President.

"I'm going to blast Drew Pearson on the floor of the House this afternoon," Feighan announced to his colleagues at the table. "I'm going to accuse him of being an agent for Tito and sending Yugoslav money into my district to defeat me."

"And you can call Pearson and tell him that, Charlie," added Feighan, looking at his Cleveland colleague, Charlie Vanik. "As you always do," he added.

Vanik made no comment but shortly thereafter slipped out of the room, presumably to the telephone.

A minute later, the young lady in the House Restaurant who handles phone calls called over to the liberal table: "A phone call for you, Congressman Hays."

"Who is it?" yelled Wayne Hays of Ohio in his usual stentorian voice.

"It's Drew Pearson," called back the lady.

It was not Pearson. It was Charlie Vanik who had slipped out to play a joke on his colleague from Ohio.

Udall's Water Headache

Big Ed Johnson, one-time locomotive fireman, one-time governor and one-time senator from Colorado has been phoning Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall, calling him a "water thief."

Reason for Johnson's expletives is the fact that Udall faces the biggest water problem in modern American history and will almost certainly have to rob the upper Colorado River of water which Ed Johnson wants, to feed Lake Mead and protect the water supply of Los Angeles and Southern California.

The howls of anguish from Big Ed Johnson are nothing, however, compared with what will come from the big California ranchers when they learn that their irrigation water is going to be curtailed this year.

The problem is not politics nor niggardliness by Udall but mother nature. There hasn't been enough snow in the Rockies. In 1963 the water runoff from the vast mountain range which usually supplies ample water to fill Lake Mead, the reservoir impounded behind Hoover Dam, was only 4,000,000 acre feet. It was supposed to be over twice that much. This year the water-run off is estimated at only 5,000,000 acre feet.

This makes a total water deficit in Lake Mead of 7,000,000 acre feet, and to make up that deficit, the Secretary of the Interior faces the dual prospect of cutting off irrigation water to the big California land owners who have made the desert south of Los Angeles bloom like a garden, and also of dipping into the water supply which has been building up at Glen Canyon in the upper Colorado.

The Glen Canyon Dam is the biggest in the world and it has taken some time to fill the lake behind it. This year it was supposed to reach a point where its excess water could be used to generate power, and power is to be the means of paying the expense of the dam.

However, in order to supply the already committed needs of the California cities which are absolutely dependent on Lake Mead, Udall will have to tap the hoarded water behind the Glen Canyon dam.

Thus he will have the states of Colorado and Utah sore at him, as well as the big ranchers of Southern California. However, when mother nature doesn't supply snow to the Rocky Mountains this is the unavoidable headache of the secretary of the interior.

Udall has to make his decision on or before May 10. In addition to scripping both the Upper Colorado and the Southern California ranchers, he will probably propose a stringent water saving summer for the Far West.

This is the first time in American history that the United States, always considered a nation of lavish water resources, knows the pinch that so many other countries have long experienced — aridity.

Allen-Scott Report

Nuclear Accord A Start

By ROBERT S. ALLEN And PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Those fanciful U.S. and Russian reductions in fissionable material for nuclear weapons are just the beginning; more and even bigger agreements are in the works.

Some of these potential accords are quite imminent — barring last-minute upsets.

Ambassador Foy Kohler took with him a large portfolio of these new proposals when he returned to Moscow from his recent consultations in Washington. And President Johnson and Ambassador Dobrynin reviewed them in their long White House discussion last weekend.

These potential agreements cover a wide spectrum, as follows:

In Immediate Future

Opening of additional consultations in the two countries — initiated by President Kennedy, but aborted several times by cold war crises.

Moscow-New York air route — another Kennedy plan that has been on and off for several years.

Sale of upwards of $500 million of surplus farm commodities over a period of three or more years. The Soviet is definitely interested in such purchases despite outward indifference.

Long-term credits for the sale of so-called non-strategic goods. These would include chemical, fertilizer and plastic plants which the Reds urgently desire under the multi-billion dollar agricultural expansion program proclaimed by Khrushchev.

Long Range

Formal or informal agreement not to distribute nuclear weapons and material to other nations — including Red China and France.

Joint cutback in troops by the U.S. in Europe and the Soviet in the satellites.

Destruction of the Berlin Wall in exchange for placing West Berlin and Allied access routes under United Nations control.

Neutralization of South Viet Nam in return for the supervised withdrawal of Viet Cong forces.

What's Behind It
Basis of this "grand design,"

as it's being pretentiously described by State Department insiders, is policies formulated and actively pursued by President Kennedy and his key foreign affairs lieutenants — who are equally influential in President Johnson's inner councils.

It was this powerful group, spearheaded by Dr. Walt Rostow, head of the State Department's Policy Planning Council, that drafted the controlling "position paper" on U.S.-Soviet relations — which is still in full effect.

This basic policy concept, predicted on the principle that the "U.S. to the extent possible in the existing climate should grant to the USSR the position it status as a great power warrants," has been wholly accepted by President Johnson and is being vigorously pressed by him.

For that purpose, this momentous "position paper" enunciates a number of primary measures, foremost among them the following:

"The U.S. should hold out, by word and deed, the prospect of fuller Soviet participation and influence in the community of free nations if and as the Soviet leaders show a genuine interest and will for such constructive participation.

Prayer For Today

Thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations, O God. In this age of space, flights and atomic power make our hearts Thy dwelling place so that we are not beguiled by the majesty and mystery of the universe and love Thee. We need an unchanging Friend in this changing scene, and Thou alone art great enough and good enough to be that Friend. We offer our prayers in the name of Jesus Christ, Thy Son and our Brother. Amen. — Alvin N. Rogness, St. Paul, Minn., president, Luther Theological Seminary.

SEATO Backing

By ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON — In Southeast Asia, Secretary of State Dean Rusk has learned to be satisfied with small victories, since no other kind is obtainable. That is why he described as "energetic, direct and good," the endorsement of the anti-Communist war in South Viet Nam by the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO).

SEATO, like that clutch of self-serving diplomats known as the Organization of American States, is long on pious pronouncements and short on kicking Communists in the teeth. Like the Latin-Americans in OAS, this amiable Asian club is perfectly willing to waggle an admonishing finger at the Reds so long as the United States does all the work — and some of the dying.

Making Way For Reds — As usual, Charlie de Gaulle is being criticized by these sanctimonious do-nothings for France's refusal to endorse the final communique drafted at Manila. De Gaulle, it is charged, is trying to break up SEATO, just as he is trying to whittle down U.S. domination of NATO, by plugging for neutralization of Southeast Asia.

The opinion here is that de Gaulle has rocks in his head if he thinks that neighborhood can be neutralized without paving the way for a Communist takeover. But he can't be blamed for regarding SEATO as a political powder puff fearful of trying to fight its way out of a paper bag. De Gaulle is a realist, if nothing else, and he knows that the other SEATO members—Thailand, the Philippines, Britain, Australia, New Zealand and Pakistan—have no intention of intervening on Uncle Sam's side in the dreary and tragic fighting in South Viet Nam. A man can get hurt doing that, as American forces have discovered.

SH-On-Hands Decision

Instead, SEATO has contented itself—if not the American in Sioux Falls—with agreeing that its members "should remain prepared, if necessary, to take further steps within their respective capabilities in fulfillment of their obligations under the treaty."

Translated into words, this means SEATO is going to continue to sit on its hands while South Vietnamese and Americans get the bloody noses.

Some dispatches from Manila called the communique a strong commitment to the South Vietnamese cause. Sure it is, just like holding the other guy's coat is a strong commitment. The South Vietnamese dying in the jungle no doubt will be considerably comforted—and may even take longer to die—as a result of SEATO expressing "grave concern about the continuing Communist aggression against the republic of Viet Nam . . ."

Imaginary Help
SEATO also expressed confidence that "the support (South Viet Nam) is receiving from member nations of SEATO and from other nations in the free world will greatly enhance the ability of the Vietnamese people to defeat the Communist campaign." Possibly, but it is not recorded that any spectator in Row Z ever tumbled an opponent for Jack Dempsey with his fervent exhortations to "Kill the bum!"

As of now, there is no reason for de Gaulle or anyone else to try to break up SEATO. It's not causing anybody any trouble, especially the Reds.

INDUSTRIAL EXECUTIVES—Joe B. Wolverton, president of Industrial Development Inc., and First-Wichita National Bank, is shown at a meeting held in New York City with several of the nation's top business executives. From left, they are Gilbert H. Weale, Robert B. Anderson, former Secretary of the Navy and ex-Secretary of the Treasury; Thomas H. Macioco; Wolverton; R. E. McNeill Jr.; T. A. Mangelsdorf of Texaco Inc.; W. S. Sneath of Union Carbide Corp. and Challen R. Parker Jr. Wolverton visited New York as part of an intensive drive by IDI to bring industrial expansion to Wichita Falls.

President Of IDI Reports On Trip

Directors of Industrial Development Inc. Friday heard Joe B. Wolverton, IDI president and president of First-Wichita National Bank, tell of his trip to New York City last week to meet several industrial executives.

Wolverton, in a luncheon meeting at the Country House Restaurant, said a highlight of his visit was a conference with Robert B. Anderson, former Secretary of the Navy and Secretary of the Treasury under the Eisenhower Administration.

The IDI officer also said he met representatives of two of the nation's top management consultant firms.

These officials had stated that with modern transportation, a geographic location was not quite as important a factor as before in influencing the relocation of an industry. "If your city happens to be 150 or 200 miles away from where a firm is considering relocating, don't give up hope of bringing them to your community," Wolverton was told.

Labor Aspects

The officials stated that three factors were important in persuading a firm to relocate in a specific town. Firms no longer interested in going into a town where there was no organized labor, for they realized that organized labor would quickly follow once industries were located there. However, they did demand a pattern of industrial peace and a favorable labor climate. They also looked to see whether local government was favorably inclined towards labor.

Thirdly, it was also a big help if the whole citizenship of a town was united behind a drive for industrial expansion.

Wolverton stated he had learned a great deal during his visit to New York, and Anderson had advised him that such visits would be worthwhile on a regular basis so that Wichitans can get to know members of the New York business world.

Anderson also suggested that visits to such cities as Los Angeles, San Francisco, Detroit and Pittsburgh would also be worth while for any businessmen attempting to attract new industry to their communities.

While he was in New York, Wolverton was hosted at a dinner which was attended by Anderson, Thomas M. Macioco (financial vice president, Allied Stores Corp.), T. A. Mangelsdorf (executive vice president, Texaco, Inc.), W. S. Sneath (treasurer, Union Carbide Corp.), R. E. McNeill Jr. (senior vice president, Gilbert H. Weale, vice president (all of the Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co.).

Banking Views

Wolverton also visited with banking officials and stated that they were very familiar with the relocation aims and plans of various industries.

Rex Jennings and Lee Nelson presented reports on a number of industrial prospects investigated in recent weeks.

Jennings pointed out that recent statistics released by the Wichita Falls office of the Texas Employment Commission showed that there were 135 more manufacturing employees in this city in March this year than in March last year. "That is some sign of progress though we will have to step it up considerably to achieve our goal of 4,000 new manufacturing jobs in the next 10 years," Jennings added.

The following IDI committees for 1968 were announced:

Arrowhead Development Committee — Harold Jones (chairman), John Estes, Tom Foley and Dick Harris; budget and personnel committee— Hal Dyer (Chairman), Dick Harris and D. C. Norwood; finance committee — Harry Lane (chairman), Dick Harris, C. B. Johnson and Harold Shappell; prospect development and research committee — Erle White (chairman), Bill Bass, W. A. Hotchkiss and Joe B. Wolverton; publications and advertising committee — James Barnett (chairman), Bill Bass and Joe Steed; existing industry committee — Bill Bass (chairman) and all the members of the board.

First news of a vital scientific triumph that will bring untold beauty and happiness to millions of anxious women.

2nd Debut for Mother

Since She Had Her "Face Lifted" at Home Without Surgery

From Germany—
The "Wiesbaden Discovery" that Makes Older Faces Look Younger

WIESBADEN, GERMANY—April 25—Since news has leaked out concerning a carefully guarded top secret discovery by a small but mighty important group of skin physiologists, women in this part of the world have been waiting with bated breath for official announcement that the real "fountain of youth" has at last been found. Such, however, is not quite the case, but scientific authority has it that a way is now known whereby facial skin is actually made to drink minute but sufficient quantities of water, to quickly gain an appearance of fresh, smooth youthfulness it hasn't had in years. Facial lines, particularly around the eyes, and the throat crepe-ones that so deeply mark the face of unwashed birthdays are said to move or less "get lost" as this water beneath the skin's surface pushes them out of sight. It's something like a "face lift"—but no surgery. While this research was not conducted in the interest of beauty, but for the sole purpose of furthering scientific knowledge of skin functioning, it appears that new happiness for millions of unhappy women is a real, though honestly not intended, result. By special arrangement with the discoverer of this technique for at least partially reversing the aging process of facial skin, a preparation has been formulated which makes home application of the Wiesbaden discovery easy, pleasant and effective. The name of this preparation is 2ND DEBUT.

The "Wiesbaden (West Germany) Discovery" has now come here and is available to you—if you want to really and truly make heads turn your way once more and again enjoy the rapt attentions that were bestowed upon you at the time of your first debut. You will look somewhat as though your face has been "lifted," a fresher, younger looking smoothness prevailing, which restores the extra and all-important lost impact to the beauty your facial features have always had. Medical and other scientific journals have sung their praise of this valuable scientific work (done in Wiesbaden, Germany) which now brings you a real second debut with all the excitement of being newly admired—actually stared at.

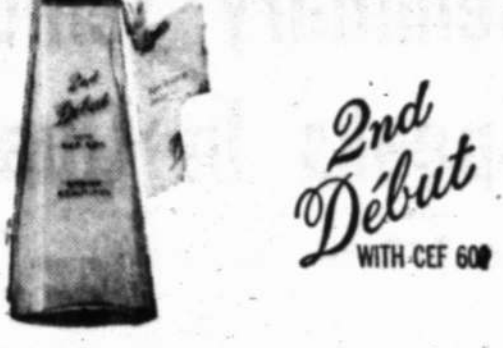

How 2ND DEBUT "Lifts" Your Face

The active ingredient that enables 2ND DEBUT to youthify facial skin in such a short time is a heretofore unknown and living part of human skin. Our scientists designate it as CEF 600. Placed on the face, this natural ingredient immediately penetrates the outer skin layer and carries into it millions of tiny loads of pure water that skin has lost during the natural aging process. This water finds its way under lines and wrinkles and as it accumulates there, it pushes these unwanted indentations upward. Progressively the face is "lifted." The face and neck look younger again. The result is actually startling to the user herself.

This ingredient (CEF 600), extracted from real tissue, is compounded into a smooth-flowing and delightful-to-use substance that is neither cream nor lotion. It is used nightly, and daily under-make-up, so that during 24 hours of the day it is carrying water into the skin to get you ready for your 2ND DEBUT.

We Have a Limited Supply

Because of the slowness and care with which CEF 600 is extracted, only a limited supply of 2ND DEBUT is available at this moment, and can be purchased, with a money back guarantee from the better drug and department stores.

Restores a Younger, Lineless, Smoother Look to Sun Beaten Skin

The tropical sun is merciless in its thirst for water from human skin. Its raid on a woman's youthfulness is never ending. It is the villain that causes the "lady of the sun" to lose her soft, smooth complexion years too soon. But now science outwits this enemy of fresh, young looks. 2nd Debut with CEF 600 is a purely scientific product. Nothing else can do what 2nd Debut can. By actually putting water back into the skin, the skin's water balance is corrected and maintained. A more youthful look returns to stay—as long as 2nd Debut is used regularly.

Duke said his record was one of "a moderate, sensible approach to government." He added that he had worked very closely with the oil and gas industries, and during the next legislative session he hoped, if elected, to work on water pollution and pooling.

Joiner stated he was for the upgrading of public schools and state institutions of higher learning; in favor of a rigid code of ethics for public officials; wanted a fair and impartial election code; and would seek more industry for Wichita County.

Youth Concert Held Conductor's Final Program Saturday

The Wichita Falls Symphony's last concert of the season and the farewell appearance of Walter Charles as conductor of the orchestra will be at 8:15 p.m. Saturday at Memorial Auditorium.

Highlighting the subscription event will be debuts as orchestra soloists for three young musicians who won this year's Wichita Falls Music Teachers Association's concerto competition. They are Robert Moss, pianist; Karen Hardee, flutist, and David Grote, violinist.

The teen-age soloists performed Friday afternoon on the orchestra's final Youth Concert at Memorial Auditorium, competing with the noises of workmen on the auditorium's reconstruction program.

Weather alerts of possible tornado and severe thunderstorms cut heavily into attendance with only some 400 junior and senior high school students to applaud the young soloists' performances.

Directed by Charles, who leaves next week to assume full-time duties as director of the Blue Jeans Philharmonic in Colorado, the Wichita Falls Symphony will play the Schubert Sixth Symphony in C Major and support the soloists in performances of works by Beethoven, Bach and Mozart.

Program details follow: Allegro, from E Major Concerto, Beethoven; David Grote, violinist; Allegro Aperto, from D Major Concerto, Mozart; Karen Hardee, flutist; Allegro Con Brío, from C Major Concerto, Beethoven; Robert Moss, pianist; Symphony No. 6 in C Major, Schubert; Wichita Falls Symphony.

What Does He Mean?
When a preacher tells you to "believe on Christ as your personal Savior," does he mean for you to believe and be baptized like Christ said in Mark 16:16? Does he mean for you to repent and be baptized like Peter said in Acts 2:38? Does "accepting or trusting Christ as your personal Savior" mean LESS than OBEYING Christ if so, it is error and not the truth. "He that heareth these sayings of mine and DOETH them" sounds like Christ means for men to obey Him. Don't be misled into thinking that you can accept Christ without obedience to His gospel. The preacher's appeal may sound sincere, but if his language does not mean what the Bible says for you to do, his plea cannot be Scriptural.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"Don't forget Tippy's treat!" Even if we're a bit late leaving for church, Susan and Mark must take their paper bag of surprises for Tippy the squirrel. Tippy lives in the park beside the church, and he's one of many happy, heart-warming things that our family looks forward to on Sundays.

We are rearing our children in the Christian faith because we know from our own experience how much it means to young people growing up. Without a right sense of values, youngsters are so likely to get into trouble.

Already Susan and Mark are learning to trust in the loving protection of God, and to turn to Him with their little problems. Through the stories of Jesus they are beginning to understand what it means to follow Him. We pray that this childhood pattern will strengthen and form a steadfast foundation for the whole of their lives. No parents could ask for more.

Prelims Show Area Records

FORT WORTH — Both relay records were broken in the preliminaries of the Region 2 Class AAAA track and field meet here Friday. Still another was set in the 220-yard dash where the event is being run on a curve for the first time.

Highland Park posted its best time of the season in the 440-yard relay, a flashy 42.0, to crack the 42.3 standard set by Paschal last season. The Scotties were anchored by swift George Aldredge, who posted the top times in the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

29-Year-Old Broad Jump Mark Bested

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Arizona's Gayle Hopkins, spindly-legged broad jumper, shattered the meet's oldest mark — set by the great Jesse Owens 29 years ago — as the 55th Drake Relays opened in otherwise modest fashion Friday.

Hopkins, a high school product of Davenport, Iowa, soared 28-feet-2 to better by one-quarter inch Owens' record of 26-1/4 set in 1925.

Burk Burnett took a 2-0 lead in the fourth inning. Lawton came back with the tying runs in the bottom of the sixth, Burk finally got the winning run across in its half of the sixth.

The first Bulldog runs came Jerry Bingham doubled to score Joe Montgomery who had singled. Danny Parrack got on first with a fielders choice and Gary Owens tripled to score Parrack for the second run.

Stock Market Takes Sharpest Loss Of 1964

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market Friday took its sharpest loss of 1964 in fairly active trading. Rails showed weakness early in the day despite settlement of the strike...

Corporate reports continued to make bright reading and there was a forecast that spending for plant and equipment by business this year would rise 12 per cent over the 1963 level.

The Dow Jones industrial average fell 6.77 to 814.89. Some analysts said settlement of the railroad dispute had been anticipated and also the rise in corporate profits.

The market, said analysts, was "tired" and was subjected to some further long-term profit taking on many issues which still show substantial gains.

The Associated Press average of 80 stocks fell 2.8 to 303.4 with industrials down 4.0, rails down 2.5 and utilities down 0.9.

Volume was 5.64 million shares. Of 1,358 issues traded, losers outnumbered gainers by the wide margin of 846 to 288.

Some airlines continued under heavy pressure from profit taking. All Big Three motors lost fractions.

Conservation Winners Are Honored During Banquet

By NEAL JOHNSON
Farm Editor
BURKBURNETT, Tex. — Despite turbulent weather conditions an estimated 180 farmers, businessmen and guests attended the annual Wilbarger-Wichita Soil Conservation District "Banquet of Champion" held here Friday night.

The program started at 7 p.m. in the Burk Burnett High School cafeteria.

Albert Brockriede, chairman of the board of supervisors of the Wilbarger-Wichita Soil Conservation district, served as master of ceremonies. David Janosky of the Trinity Lutheran Church in the Clara Fairview community offered the invocation.

Brockriede pointed out that the banquet was being sponsored by the following banks in the two-county district: Waggoner National, Herring National, and First State Bank of Vernon; Electra State Bank, Electra; State National Bank, Iowa Park; First National Bank, Burk Burnett; and the City National, Parker Square State, First-Wichita National and Texas Bank and Trust of Wichita Falls.

The master of ceremonies paid special attention to Jerry Laing, Marie Farris and Sally Mitchell, Burk Burnett High School students who provided dinner music.

A. R. Hill, president of the First National Bank of Burk Burnett, introduced special guests and secretary of the district's board of supervisors, Ed Lehman Jr. of Vernon, discussed accomplishments of awardees and the district during the past year.

Following introductions, members of the board of supervisors, Aubrey Thompson and Lehman, of Vernon; R. R. Swinford, Wichita Falls; Brockriede of Electra and Dee Hankins of Iowa Park, conducted the annual awards presentation.

In the Fort Worth Press "Save the Soil and Save Texas" program the following winners were announced: First on the statewide level, the water conservation award was won by the Red River Authority of Texas. Region Five winners included the outstanding conservation teacher award to Wade Bailey, vocational agriculture instructor at Electra High School; and second and third place conservation essays prizes to Gladys Lambeth and Larry Dodd, respectively. Miss Lambeth is a Lockett High School student and Dodd attends Iowa Park High School.

District Awards

During the district awards presentation, Dwyer's conservation activities were discussed along with the other four subdivision winners. Dwyer represented subdivision three. He owns and operates a 152-acre farm and rents other farms. He has terraced cropland, applied a conservation cropping system, contour farmed, stubble mulched his small grain residue, controlled mesquite and applied proper range management.

Other sub-division winners in the district were: T. R. Easterling, White City; Dan Nowling and Bill Moore, Lockett; John Turner and Elwood Haynes, Electra and John J. Jones of Wichita Falls.

The following high school students were named district essay winners: Sally Garrison, Iowa Park; Sarah Brockriede, Electra; Miss Lambeth, Lockett; Steve Tucker, Vernon; Butch Thompson, Northside; Jimmy Creel, Burk Burnett and Richard Ratliff, Rider High School, Wichita Falls.

Other adults and businessmen receiving awards were A. Rufus King of Wichita Falls, the ex-supervisor award and Wymore Downing received the award given to the businessman who has contributed most to soil and water conservation.

In the field of publicity, KTRN Radio of Wichita Falls received the award and the Red River Authority of Texas received the district water conservation award.

Another award given during the banquet was to the top conservation community group. The winners were residents of the Clara Fairview organization in north Wichita County. Their president during 1963, the time the judging took place, was Elmer Klinkerman. The commissioner of agriculture was Raymond Schroeder.

The banquet was completed with Thompson giving acknowledgments and Rev. Carroll Copeland of the First Methodist Church of Burk Burnett, offered the benediction.

Utilities Damage Minimized Here

By NATHAN FAIN
Utility damage by Friday's storm only centered power and telephone service in Wichita Falls, but maintenance crews remained alert through the night for further disturbance.

Lines of Texas Electric Service Co. all were repaired by 8:30 p.m. Friday.

W. A. Hotchkiss, district manager of TESCO in the city, said

Friday night only one area received severe line damage — in the 1600 block of Lucile and Pearl — but that all power was soon restored.

"We had widespread, isolated cases of slight damage to transmission lines, but nothing major," the executive said.

He noted eight crews of about 60 men had been alerted for a night-long vigil "to keep customers in power service."

Damage to lines was caused by hail, high winds and electrical play over the city as a thunderstorm boiled in late Friday afternoon.

Authorities for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. in Wichita Falls said no telephones have been disconnected because of line damage, "but we lost the temporary roof on our 855 Exchange Building this afternoon," said Joe Cochran, Wichita Falls district manager.

"There are no telephones actually out of service, but people out on the Iowa Park Road are having a little trouble because this exchange office has been flooded — both with calls and water."

Cochran said the building, located on the Tank Farm Road between Red River Expressway and Burk Burnett Highway, was unroofed by the April 3 tornado exactly three weeks ago. A temporary roof collapsed under the blows of wind-driven hail Friday afternoon.

The telephone company executive said no other damage had been reported to him Friday night.

Sheppard Cites Two Airmen

Two men were recognized for outstanding work by 3750th Technical School at Sheppard Technical Training Center this week.

Airman S.C. Samuel L. Moffett Jr., received the American Spirit Honor Medal for demonstrating outstanding leadership and scholastic abilities as a student in the Reciprocating Engine Mechanic course and Phase II of Basic Military Training.

A native of Mesa, Ariz., Airman Moffett will return to his Arizona Air National Guard unit upon his completion of training at Sheppard.

T. Sgt. Billy V. Greene of the 91SS Field Training Detachment at Hickam AFB, Hawaii, was named Detachment Instructor of the Week for the period ending April 21.

A native of Monroe, N.C., Sgt. Greene has a total of 19 years of military service.

Sertoma Begins Light Bulb Sale

The annual light bulb sale of the Nortex Sertoma Club began Friday with a noon meeting at the University Convalescent Hospital on FM 369.

Les Kardos, president of the organization, said the club will conduct a door-to-door sales campaign, selling packages of eight light bulbs. The package contains a mixture of the most popular sizes used in the home.

Mrs. Jack Wages, director of the North Texas Crippled Children's Center, attended the kick off meeting Friday. All proceeds from the sale of bulbs will go to that center.

Most contacts will be made during the evening hours, Kardos said, and will continue for two weeks.
