Slight Change Seen For 1950

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. — The early-bird Bureau of Agricultural Economics tonight peered far ahead into 1950 and said:

"A further slight reduction in economic activity and a relatively slow decline in prices appear likely."

The bureau, making its annual forecast of business conditions for the year ahead, explained that its survey does not take into account things that can't be appraised at this time such as the effect of unforeseen international developments or prolonged basic work stoppages.

"Fairly High" Activity Seen

In a report yesterday, the bureau also tossed in the observation that a number of factors would help maintain "fairly high economic activty" next year, despite the probable small downdrift.

The bureau is usually one of the first private or public agencies to take a stab each year at foretelling the economic year ahead.

Its more detailed predictions included:

Consumer spending may slacken further as backlog demands for automobiles are reduced.

Employment will decline

Firemen Fight Two Store Blazes Here

Firefighting equipment was called to the 1700-block Ave. Q twice Sunday as blazes caused an undetermined amount of damage in two stores fronting on the thoroughfare.

The first fire, reported at the House of Magic at 1711 Ave. Q about 1:45 p. m. gutted the front of the store, burning a large quantity of merchandise. Origin of the fire was not immediately learned.

A passerby noticed smoke and turned in the alarm, firemen said.

The second blaze occurred on the roof of the Bob's Frigidway market at 1701 Ave. Q about 9:30 p. m. Firemen said the fire started by a faulty neon sign on the side of the building, was confined to a rear section of the roof. While the flames did not spread to the store, water damage to stock was heavy. The ceiling over one room of the establishment was badly damaged.

Proprietor of the market is Leon Hale.

$160 In Prizes To Be Awarded Winners

Hallowe'en Parade Is Scheduled Tonight

HALLOWE'EN spirits will waft out of the night and into the open as the City Recreation department's annual Hallowe'en parade gets under way at 7 p.m. today.

Several hundred adults and children are expected to don grotesque masks and outlandish costumes in competition for cash prizes totaling $160, to be divided among 54 of them judged to have the funniest, the most original, and the best character costumes.

"Judging and awarding of prizes will be finished by 8:00 p.m. so that contestants will have most of the evening free," said A. C. Hamilton, superintendent of the recreation department.

Judges will be Miss Quepha Rawls, Holland Cox, and Charles Lutrick.

Entries To Receive Numbers

Contestants will form for the parade at the Sears, Roebuck and company parking lot. After the downtown parade, contestants will receive a large printed number as they return to the parking lot. Judges will identify contestants by these numbers until the final decision.

As contestants pass the judges stand, those with outstanding costumes will be called out for final judgment. No team entries will be allowed, and individuals entered must be on foot unless physically handicapped.

Civic clubs assisting the recreation department by donations to be used for prizes are the Rotary, Lions, American Business, Optimist, Kiwanis, Exchange and 20-

Truman Delays Farm Bill Action

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—President Truman's delay in acting on the controversial farm price-support bill whipped up speculation on Capitol Hill today.

Senate majority leader Lucas (D-Ill) told a reporter that he still is confident "President Truman will sign the bill into law."

But other farm-minded lawmakers were becoming jittery. Congressional clerks said official copies of the hard-fought Senate-House price prop compromise went to the White House on October 20. The President has 10 days to sign or veto a bill, excluding Sundays. But when Congress has adjourned, a measure dies by "pocket veto" if it is not approved within the deadline. That would be either Monday or Tuesday midnight depending on White House determination.

Anderson Hopeful

Senator Anderson (D-NM), former secretary of agriculture under President Truman, in a separate interview said: "I am very hopeful that the President will sign it."

Normally by this time, congressional leaders who played a major role on an important bill are tipped off to its future.

Neither Lucas nor Anderson had been advised along this line,

SENTIMENT TESTS DUE NEXT WEEK

Elections In Six States Grab National Political Spotlight

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Elections in half a dozen states next week grabbed the national spotlight today as the first mass test of voter sentiment in a year.

On Tuesday, Nov. 8, New York elects a U. S. senator and a House member, California a House member, and New Jersey a governor.

With the 1950 battle to capture congress fast approaching, the drift of voter sentiment will be studied closely in these, and in a variety of other contests. Those feature:

1—Proposed constitutional amendments to repeal the poll tax as a voting requirement in Virginia and Texas after hot campaigns to beat Congress to the punch. Five other Dixie states still have a poll tax.

2—Soldier bonus propositions in Pennsylvania and New Jersey which if approved by the voters would add $605,000,000 to the outlay now going to veterans in about a dozen states.

3—Virginia's election of a governor. She joins New Jersey and Kentucky in choosing state legislators.

Democrats say they are fairly confident of winning all three races for the Senate and House.

Damage To Area Cotton Crop Feared

BELOW freezing temperatures were expected to grip the South Plains this morning for the first time this fall, the Weather bureau station at Lubbock Municipal airport predicted early today.

The mercury had fallen to 34 degrees at midnight and the weather forecaster said the temperature would continue to skid until a 30-degree minimum reading was reached at 3 a. m. today.

A reading of 32-degrees, the freezing point, probably will come again at 8:30 a. m. as the morning sun begins to make itself felt over the area. A heavy frost is expected to accompany the low reading today, the weatherman said.

Low For Season

Today's expected minimum of 30-degrees will be at least three degrees below the previous low of 33 degrees recorded on Oct. 25. Frost also has been recorded earlier but did little damage except in the northern section of the South Plains.

A bumper cotton crop over the area may be reduced several thousand bales if the expected sub-freezing temperatures are reached, K. N. Clapp, Lubbock cotton man, indicated in his area cotton forecast issued Saturday.

Clapp estimated the South Plains cotton crop at 1,523,000 bales if a freeze did not come before the "normal" freeze date of about Nov. 10. He said a freeze the second week of November would reduce his estimate by 40,000 to 70,000 bales, and that an earlier freeze would reduce the total figure even further.

Freeze Would Halt Growth

Freezing weather, coupled with a killing frost would halt the growth of the cotton plants and would prevent the development of many bolls in the upper parts of the cotton stalks, it was pointed out.

The weather station said that scattered showers and snow flurries occurred across the South Plains Sunday as the cold front plunged deeper into Texas.

Bulgaria Fires Military Chiefs

By THOMAS C. WATSON
INS Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Oct. 30—The Bulgarian government admitted today it has fired two of its top Army chiefs in a move that appeared to reflect mounting Cominform fears that Marshal Tito's star is rising over Eastern Europe.

An official announcement in Sofia said Gen. Ivan Kinov, chief of the Bulgarian general staff, and Boyan Bulgaranov, chief of the army's political department, have been relieved of their posts. It added other jobs would be found for them.

The announcement coincided with a Bucharest broadcast reporting that a Yugoclav underground movement at a recent Belgrade meeting decided to take "a more active" part in the fight against Tito.

Purge Confirmed

The announcement confirmed reports by the official Yugoslav Communist newspaper Borba that Bulgaria is in the midst of purging pro-Tito officials from the government and high party posts.

Similar purges are under way in Hungary, with Bulgaria, one of Yugoslavia's neighbors, and Poland, amid indications that the Moscow-led Cominform is driving at least for a political showdown with its arch-foe, Tito.

In Eastern Germany, which is believed slated to become a member of the Cominform, the Rus-

12 Persons Are Injured In Santa Fe Passenger Wreck

AZUSA, Calif. Oct. 30—(AP)—At least 12 persons were injured when an eastbound Santa Fe passenger train struck a broken rail at 60 miles an hour today and was derailed.

The locomotive plowed up the right-of-way beside the rails, overturned and caught fire. The three other diesel units of the El Capitan also overturned as did the first five cars.

Passengers in the last six cars received a terrific jolt as their coaches remained on the tracks behind the break.

Flames in the locomotive were quickly quelled. Engineer Henry Mayer and Fireman L. L. Adams leaped from their cab. Adams suffered head cuts but Mayer was unhurt. Both crewmen are from San Bernadino, Calif.

'Veep', St. Louis Widow To Wed

(By The Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 30—Vice President Alben W. Barkley is going to marry Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley, the lovely St. Louis widow he has been courting since last summer.

She announced it tonight, as he stood beside her with a smile befitting a man much younger than his 71 years. She is 37.

They are to be married Nov. 18 in a simple ceremony here in St. Louis. Detailed plans are yet to be made.

Friends of Mrs. Hadley called reporters and photographers to her apartment only a hour before they were ready to make the announcement. The announcement was held up while the vice president telephoned President Truman and members of his own fam-

Steel Strike Move Hinted

(By The Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 30.—A hint of some new development in the stalemated month-long steel walkout came tonight from United Steelworker President Philip Murray.

Murray, in Cleveland for the convention of the CIO which he also heads, called a press conference there for tomorrow afternoon.

He did not indicate what might be disclosed but one steelworker official said it would be "of rather great importance."

There was some speculation the conference might deal with a proposed move to recall the presidential steel fact-finding board.

New Proposal Offered

The proposal was made by President William Colvin, jr., of Cruicable Steel company in Pittsburgh. He directed his request to U. S. Mediation Director Cyrus S. Ching who said he passed it along to Murray.

But Murray said today he still has received no word from Ching on the subject.

Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin tonight blamed the steel strike on the steel industry. He said it should accept the recommendations of the fact finders.

The board said companies should grant 10 cents an hour—six cents for pensions and four for insurance. The steelworkers accepted the recommendations.

Steel Firms Balk

But the steel companies balked at bearing the entire cost of pension-insurance programs. They insisted employes also contribute something. A deadlock and the pre-

Three Hunters Injured By One Bullet Fired By Companion

MALONE, N.Y., Oct. 30—(AP)—Three deer hunters were felled by a single bullet a companion fired today.

State police said that Roland J. Allen, 28, of Malone, told them he aimed at what he thought was a deer.

The 30-30 caliber bullet struck Frank Todd, 39, in the left shoulder troopers said the soft-nosed bullet "splattered" and that fragments hit Todd's brother, Robert, 35, in the chin, and Andrew E. Fleury, 33, in the left shoulder.

One Hurt In Plane Crash Near Idalou

BY EMMETT SHOCKLEY
Avalanche Staff Writer

A LUBBOCK postoffice clerk was seriously injured late Sunday afternoon when the single engine plane he was piloting crashed into a cotton field four miles east of Idalou.

The man, Vol R. Harris, 28, of 2101 Thirtieth, was in serious condition at West Texas hospital early this morning, suffering from a compound fracture of the ankle, multiple bruises and lacerations, and possible internal injuries.

The plane crashed about two miles north of Highway 62-82 on the Estacado road about two miles east of Idalou. A passing motorist, Troy Lindsey of Munday, brought Harris in to the hospital. He said he saw the plane crash from the highway, and turned up the Estacado road to get to the wreckage.

Taken From Wreckage

He pulled Harris out of the wreckage, which was only about 50 yards from the road, and rushed him to the hospital here.

Meanwhile, at about the same time, T. E. Bradshaw, of 1109 Sixteenth, reported seeing a plane crash in flames in the Buffalo Lakes area as he was driving in to Lubbock on the Tahoka highway.

Personnel in the control towers at both Reese Air Force Base and the Municipal airport reported seeing smoke rising in the area, but the report of RAFB tower personnel said the smoke was moving along the ground, giving rise to the belief that it was merely one of two trains scheduled to pass in the area about that time.

Planes Make Search

However, planes were dispatched over the area to search for wreckage when several persons called in with reports similar to Bradshaw's. CAA officials said they plan to begin a search early this morning in an attempt to find the wreckage, if any.

Relatives of Harris were at a loss to explain the accident, and Harris was in a semi-conscious state and could not give an account of what

Navy To Cut 77 Ships From Fleet

By ELTON C. FAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. — The Navy said tonight it is taking 77 ships out of active service—cutting the operating fleet by 31 warships in line with fund reductions.

The fleet by mid-1950 will be made up of 237 combat vessels instead of 268 it had Sept. 1. Most of this cut will be in the Atlantic force.

The figures spelled out reductions announced earlier. But they wrote a graphic postscript to the furious debate on Capitol Hill which brought out complaints Navy fighting power was being hit too hard in the general economy program for all three services.

Carrier Force Reduced

The fleet will be reduced by four aircraft carriers, plus the craft which support them.

The Navy announcement, cleared through the unified public information office, was a cold, fac-

Hale County Carpenter, Four Others Seriously Injured In Headon Smash

(Special To The Avalanche)

HALE CENTER, Oct. 30.—Three members of a Lubbock Latin-American family were killed and five other persons were injured, one critically, in a terrific headon collision that all but demolished two cars eight miles west and one and three-quarter miles south of here shortly before 4:30 p. m. today.

Apparently killed outright were Maregilde L. Gaytan, 50, of 221 Ave. P, Lubbock, and his two-year-old daughter, Nuevens Gaytan. Grejorio Castillo, 53, a brother of Mrs. Gaytan, died of injuries in Plainview hospital at 11:55 p. m. Mrs. Gaytan, 40, was seriously injured.

Critically injured was Robert Jackson (Uncle Bob) Ritchey, 69, carpenter living near Hale Center.

Traffic Toll Rises

Seven members of the Gaytan family were in one car, while Ritchey was driving alone.

(The mishap near Hale Center brought the weekend traffic toll on the South Plains to three dead and 12 injured in four separate accidents. On Saturday, four were hurt near Seminole, two near Three Way in Bailey county and one in Lubbock.)

Other members of the Gaytan family hospitalized were two daughters, Agrora Gaytan, 18, in the Plainview hospital with a laceration over her right eye, and Orolia Gaytan, 16, under observation for possible internal injuries at Hale County Cooperative hospital here; and Joe Martinez, 19, a cousin from Hondo, 19, in serious condition in Hale county hospital with lacerations and possible internal injuries.

Man Critically Injured

Ritchey, brought to the county hospital here by T. R. Applewhite, a resident near the wreck scene, was reported in an extremely critical condition with chest injuries, a fractured left leg, jaw broken in two places, a head laceration and numerous cuts and bruises.

Castillo was take nto Plainview hospital with a head injury.

His sister, Mrs. Gaytan, also in Plainview hospital, also received a serious head injury and possible internal injuries.

Both Gaytan and his daughter apparently died of head injuries. Their bodies were taken to the Lemons Funeral home in Plainview by ambulance. Gaytan was thrown clear of the car and was found dead by the wreckage. The child, found in the back seat, was taken to the Hale county hospital, but was pronounced dead on arrival. Funeral arrangements were still pending late last night.

The mishap took place on the Hale Center-Cotton Center paved road, a county farm-to-market project.

Ritchey was driving south, going to his home in that area after

Two Bandits Sought Here

TWO unidentified gunmen, one of them masked, robbed the Ince Oil company, at 2803 Ave. H of about $100 early Sunday morning and fled in a car, leaving an attendant bound but unharmed in a rest room.

The attendant, Richard Moore, said one of the men entered the station office about 2:15 a. m., a pistol in his hand, and demanded money from the cash register.

The bandit then told him to turn around, Moore said, and forced him into the rest room. A few minutes later the man returned and told Moore to go back into the office and open the cash register.

Masked Man Is Seen

As he followed the gunman's instructions, Moore said, he noticed a masked man in one corner of the room. The attendant was unable to describe the other man beyond stating that he was shorter than his companion, with "something over his face."

"The men ordered me to keep my back to them," Moore told City Detective R. E. West. He said he was unable to get a "good" look at either of them.

After the money had been removed from the cash drawer Moore was returned to the rest room where he was tied up with a thin rope, and forced to lie on the floor.

Cut Ropes With Knife

The gunmen told Moore he would be killed if he attempted to open the door of the room within 20 minutes. Moore said he heard the sound of an automobile driving away a brief time later and managed to cut the ropes with a knife from one of his pockets.

Homer Willitt, of 907 Thirty-second, another attendant at the station, told officers later that two men answering the description of the gunmen had entered the station several hours earlier and asked him to cash a check. Willitt said he refused, but admitted in answer to a question by one of the men that he had "some money" in the place. Moore was alone at the time of the robbery.

Police meanwhile broadcast a description of the men based on information supplied by Moore and Willitt. One suspect was described as blond, five feet 11 inches tall, weighing between 170 and

Texas Group Backs State Tax On Income

AUSTIN, Oct. 30 (AP)—A state tax on individual and corporation net incomes over $10,000 a year was proposed by the Texas social and legislative conference today.

The conference is a federation of 19 liberal, labor, farm and pension groups. It wound up a two-day session here with adoption of a legislative program for which affiliated groups will work.

The platform on taxation voiced opposition to any increase in present sales taxes, or the addition of new ones.

"We favor taxes on natural resources to support the state government and suggest that a revision be made of present resource tax rates in order to equalize the taxes between the resources and in order to encourage small business in these fields," the platform said.

Gray-Spivey Wedding Is Read In Midland

MIDLAND, Oct. 29. (Special)—Miss Maxine Spivey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Spivey of Midland and Eugene Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gray of Lubbock, were married at 7:30 p. m. Saturday in the home of the bride's parents. A double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Troy Denton, of First Baptist church in Seminole.

The ceremony was read at an altar before the fireplace. Pink asters and white candelabra decorated each side of the mantel.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina-length dress of ice-blue lace over taffeta, with a wide, oval neckline and rolled collar. The pointed bodice extended into a full skirt, and long sleeves came to points over her hands. Her shoulder - length veil of illusion was attached to a white orchid showered with stephanotis and white satin ribbons with lovers knots.

Trio Sings Medley

Traditional wedding marches were played by Mrs. Yates Brown, who also accompanied Misses Nellivee Clark, Vernalee Gions and Anna Joyce Streeter as they sang "Because" and a medley of other selections.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was Floyd Boles of Lubbock. The maid of honor, Miss Helen White of Midland, wore a dress of palomino lace over taffeta, fashioned with a short jacket complemented by self-covered buttons. Her veil was of palomino lace fashioned similarly to the brides. The candlelighter, Miss Jeanie Spivey, younger sister of the bride, wore a royal blue velvet dress made like the bride's, and had pink rosebuds in her hair.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Spivey home. The table was laid with a white satin cloth, centered with candelabra entwined with fern and pink carnations. Mrs. James Johnson cut the three-tiered cake, and Mrs. Dan Fletcher poured. Miss Billie Middleton of Galveston presided at the bride's book.

To Live In Odessa

For a wedding trip to Denver, Colo., the bride chose a teal blue wool gabardine suit with black velvet trim, black accessories and an orchid corsage. The couple will be at home in Odessa.

The bride is a graduate of West Columbia High school and attended Texas State College for Women in Denton for three years. She was formerly employed by Texas Employer's Insurance in Midland. Mr. Gray is a graduate of Lubbock High school, and after serving two years in the Navy attended Texas Tech college. He is a plumbing contractor for his father in Lubbock.

Out of town guests were the bridegroom's parents; his sister, Mrs. Floyd Reed and her husband; his grandmother, Mrs. Sallie Johnson; Mr. and Mrs. Homer Lawson, Tom Pirtle, Frank Liddell, Robert Barrier and George Rick, all of Lubbock. Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wilson of Brookhaven, Miss., aunt and uncle of the bride; Mrs. Cora Wilson of Houston, the bride's grandmother; and Mrs. Leo Middleton, Galveston; Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Chism, Odessa; Mrs. Troy Denton, Seminole; and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Claver, Fort Stockton.

Kentucky Man Held In Connection With Brownsville Safe Cracking

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 30—(AP)—Robert Stewart Peters, 19, was arrested at his home here Saturday in connection with a Brownsville, Texas, safecracking in which an escaped convict was slain.

Police Sgt. George Tunstall said Brownsville authorities are expected to come for Peters Monday or Tuesday.

Floyd Luther Lewis, 30, Clearmont, Wyo., described by police as a prison escapee, was killed by machinegun bullets when police surprised him at the safecracking scene last Wednesday.

He carried a driver's license bearing Peter's name.

Peters told Louisville police he gave the hitch-hiking Lewis a ride to Brownsville. He said he gave the man his driver's license but he would not discuss other activities in Texas. He said he did not know Lewis before he gave him the ride.

SWEET POTATO FILLED APPLES . . . Delicious.

Apple Harvest Is In Again To Cheer Fall Appetites

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Because apples are so plentiful and reasonable in price, it's a good idea to serve your family this nutritious fruit often. And if you want to pitch in and observe National Apple Week, as the United States Department of Agriculture is urging us to do, it's from Oct. 29th to Nov. 5th this year. Apples are a mighty fine dessert crisp and cold from the refrigerator with a hunk of cheddar cheese—but there's nothing wrong with fancying them up either, as suggested in the following recipes.

SWEET POTATO FILLED APPLES

Ingredients: 3 large red apples (about 1 pound), ½ cup brown sugar (firmly packed), 3 cups cooked mashed sweet potatoes, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 3 table spoons cream, salt (to taste), extra melted butter or margarine.

Method: Cut apples in half crosswise and remove core and seeds. Sprinkle cavity with ¼ cup of the brown sugar. Place in a shallow pan containing a small amount of water. Cover and bake in a hot (400 degree F.) oven until almost tender—about 10 to 20 minutes. Scoop out pulp, leaving apple shells about ½-inch thick; reserve the pulp. To hot mashed sweet potatoes add apple pulp, butter or margarine, and cream. Season to taste with salt and beat until fluffy. Pile apple-sweet potato mixture lightly into apple shells. Place in shallow pan and sprinkle with remaining ¼ cup sugar. Pour a little melted butter or margarine over tops and heat under broiler or in a hot oven until lightly bowned.

RED APPLE RING SALAD

Wash, dry, and core crisp red apples. Slice in rings about ¼ inch thick. Spread apple ring slices lightly with roquefort, creamed cottage or cream cheese. Stack apple rings in layers, allowing three layers to each individual salad. If desired, the center of the ring may be filled with cheese to which chopped nut meats or chives may have been added. Serve with mayonnaise or French dressing.

190 Oil Wells Are Reported Completed During Past Week

AUSTIN, Oct. 30. (AP)—Completion of 190 oil wells this week put the 1949 total nearly 1,000 wells ahead of the number completed at this date a year ago.

The current total is 7,284 compared with 6,308 for the same period in 1948, the Railroad commission reported.

Gas well completions continued to lag slightly behind last year's mark. Addition of seven wells raised the 1949 figure to 575 compared with 592 a year ago.

Seventy-seven dry holes were reported. Wildcat drillings produced seven oil wells, no gassers and 36 dry holes.

Seventy-seven dry wells were plugged, one gas well, and 33 oil wells.

The average daily crude oil allowable was 2,172,905 barrels, up 6,178 barrels from a week ago.

There were 115,787 wells, an increase of 103 for the week.

School Progress Is Reported By Woods

AUSTIN, Oct. 30 (INS)—A picture of 16 years of school progress has been painted by Dr. L. A. Woods, outgoing state superintendent of public instruction.

Dr. Woods, whose job was eliminated by the Gilmer-Aikin laws setting up a 21-member state board of education, has released a comparative study of the public schools dating back to 1932, the year he took office.

Dr. Woods' figures show that during that 16-year span the average salary of white teachers has increased from $875 a year to $2,659, and the average salary of colored teachers from $532 to $2,499.

The number of white teachers rose from 36,121 in 1932 to 39,427 in 1949, and colored teachers from 5,277 to 6,678.

Dr. Woods said there had been a 161 percent increase in college training of white classroom teachers and a 203 percent increase in graduate teachers in colored schools.

He also noted a 46 percent decrease in the number of common school districts, which came about through consolidation. In 1932, he said, there were 6,329 such districts in Texas. By 1949, that figure had been reduced to 3,385.

The veteran state superintendent declared that in 1932 state, local and federal agencies spent $48.36 a year on each student. In 1949, he said, the per capita cost per student is $201.47.

TEEN TALK

Current Rage In Pittsburgh Is Water Pistol Battles

By VIVIAN BROWN
Associated Press Staff Writer

THE more we hear about teenagers, the more we realize that they shouldn't be grouped together in one big teen-age classification. They're different city by city, state by state, country by country.

Their habits depend entirely on their own environments. In Pittsburgh, for instance, Elaine Kahn reports that the current rage among high school boys is water pistols—often concealed in hollowed out textbooks.

But, says Elaine, one student, pert and pretty Marilyn Hoffman, 16, says the girls don't like them at all. Marilyn, a junior at Langley High school, says:

"Girls try to ignore the boys who carry water pistols, but that is about 50 per cent of the male student body. We'll go out on dates with the boys but we're pretty cold if they don't leave the pistols at home."

Langley imposes a two-week suspension on anyone caught firing a water gun but the toys still are very much in evidence. Girls carry them too, but "just in self defense" while the rage is on. Some non-conformists load them with perfume or turpentine instead of water.

Girls there don't believe in going steady. They like to have fun and meet people, one reason why it is silly to go steady. And once a steady breaks up it's hard to get dates afterward, they say.

Necking is out with these girls. Marilyn says:

"We limit it to a goodnight kiss. We'd rather talk and laugh and have a good time instead of all that mush. In high school, I think a kiss is as far as it should go."

The expressions "it's keen" and "it's sharp" cover most situations for the teen-age group. A new one is "serious up." It means "keep quiet we want to be serious" and is used to quell disturbance and squelch wise cracks.

Favorite treat of the kids is a deluxe sundae consisting of vanilla ice cream, chocolate sauce, marshmallow, nuts, cherries and whipped cream in great quantities. If you are drooling at this point, just think of the price—65 cents, practically a whole weeks allowance.

Marilyn says it isn't a regular diet with the young moderns at Langley. Usually, they have just one a month. Says she:

"It's quite a dish." If you finish one, they give you a little medal that reads, 'I was a pig at Pierce's' (the store that sells them.) Marilyn has a few medals.

SOME girls worry about whether to hold hands and kiss to be a success in their crowd. As one young high school girl writes:

"Some of the boys have tried to put their arms around me and hold my hand, but so far I haven't given in. Perhaps it is the wrong thing to do. Many of the boys have given up in disgust, including the boy I like. What should I do?"

It would be very silly for any girl to kiss or hold hands promiscuously just because she wanted to be a success in her crowd. If the boys insist on this nuisance necking, give 'em the gate. A nice boy will come along who will be willing to have dates with a girl just because she enjoys his company. If she finds she wants to hold hands with him after she knows him well enough, that's for her to decide. But no girl should be forced into a romantic routine of which she doesn't approve. Boys, today, are too spoiled, anyway, as most girls find . . . don't encourage it.

It is so easy for a girl to ruin her reputation, particularly in a small town, by being too agreeable in the matter of 'necking.' The funny thing about it is that after the boys have made the rounds of these romantic Janes, they look to the girls who have been aloof to become their steady dates. No boy wants to settle down with a girl who has been "best girl," some time or other, to every boy in town.

HST Signs Arms Aid Fund Bill

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—President Truman's signature on a bill providing cash for arms aid to non-Communist nations left only minor obstacles today in the path of the $1,314,010,000 program.

Most of the recipient countries must sign agreements with the United States before Mr. Truman can start sizeable munitions shipments on their way.

Some of the nations, like Greece and Turkey—which have been getting aid right along—already have such agreements with this country.

Funds For Pact Nations

The separate bill setting up the program, which was passed Sept. 28, authorized the administration to get the program rolling with $125,000,000 in funds from the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

Of the total appropriation for arms aid, $1,000,000,000—divided equally between cash and contract authority—is for members of the North Atlantic alliance.

Only $100,000,000 of this can be used as soon as the necessary agreements are signed. The rest must await presidential approval of an overall defense plan for the North Atlantic nations. Final agreement on that strategy outline is expected by Dec. 1.

Programs Are Listed

The measure the President signed late yesterday finances several programs besides the arms project. The others include:

Economic aid to Korea, $30,000,000; aid to crowded school districts in defense areas, $7,250,000; construction of air force wind tunnels, $6,000,000 in cash and $24,000,000 in contract authority; Finnish claims for ships seized in American ports at the start of the war, $5,500,000; military construction in Alaska and Okinawa, $62,000,000.

In addition to the $1,000,000,000 appropriation for military aid to pact nations, the arms program provides $211,370,000 for Greece and Turkey; $27,640,000 in aid to Iran, Korea and the Philippines; and $75,000,000 to be used at the President's discretion in the China area.

Wyoming GOP Congressman Critical Of 81st Congress

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Oct. 30—(INS)—Wyoming's Republican Congressman Frank Barrett says he takes a dim view of the 81st Congress but that it is "entitled to a great deal of credit for things it didn't do.

Barrett, who is spending the weekend at Cheyenne, commented that last year President Truman called the 80th Congress into session and told members they could pass the program in 15 days.

But, Barrett said, "the 81st Congress has been in session 10 months and hasn't even considered a major portion of Truman's program.

The Wyoming Congressman said the 80th Congress left the country with a balancad budget and reduced taxes, while the 81st has provided a national deficit of nearly $5 billion.

Mexican Farm Workers Facing Deportation After Job Switch

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 30 (AP)—Eleven Mexican farm workers were facing deportation charges today for leaving their cotton picking jobs in Arkansas.

The Mexicans left for higher wages in the spinach fields of Chesterfield, Mo., but because of language difficulties landed in Chesterfield, Ill.

They were picked up Thursday by United States immigration office agents.

V. A. Ramsey, agent in charge of the U. S. Immigration service here said the Mexicans had broken the contract under which they entered this country by leaving the cotton farm without first obtaining permission.

Stansell's Products Fresh, Wholesome

Stansell's 1504 Ave. H, is the only roaster and processor of restaurent coffee in the South Plains area.

The coffee with the fine aroma and wonderful flavor that your favorite restaurant uses is more than likely Stansell's own brand, for Stansell's processes the coffee and ships it out to cafes and resturants of the region as soon as possible — before it has a chance to lose its freshness and flavor.

Another of the featured products of the Stansell company is potato chips, which are made from high-grade potatoes and cooked in the finest edible oils.

The manufacture of Stansell's potato chips is done entirely by machines which are operated under the most sanitary standards. The potato chips are distributed in most grocery stores throughout West Texas.

Stansell's which has been in business and Lubbock for 16 years, also prepares distilled vinegar, salad dressing, waffle syrup, and prepared mustard for institutional use.

Household condiments and spices also are prepared by the firm.

Most of the food products for resturant and institutional use are prepared in a separate plant at 1960 Texas Ave. At Stansell's modern main plant at 1504 Ave. H, coffee and potato chips are processed.

Floydada's Upset Throws District 3-A Race Into Turmoil

Whirlwinds Reel From First Loss

By CHOC HUTCHESON
Avalanche Sports Writer

Lockney's Longhorn's battling to defend their District 3-A grid championship, threw the topsy-turvy circuit chase into another tailspin last week by toppling the pace-setting Floydada Whirlwinds, 38-13.

It was the first conference setback of the season for Coach L. F. Gresham's Whirlwinds, and dropped them into a first-place deadlock with the Spur Bulldogs, who were idle last week. Each team has a 4-1 record in district play.

Three Back In Race

As an indirect result of the Floydada loss, Lockney, Crosbyton, and Ralls now are back in the championship picture. All of these teams has lost two games in conference competition, but conceivably could gain at least a title tie by finishing out the season victoriously.

Thus, with only three weeks to go, all of the five top teams are pennant possibilities, and it looks as though the outcome may hinge on the Nov. 17 Spur at Floydada headline attraction.

Other Scores Reported

Crosbyton protected its championship chances last week by smothering Matador, 34-6, while Ralls was spilling Abernathy, 13-0. Paducah bested Tulia, 13-8, in another conference tilt.

This week's spotlight falls on Abernathy, where the Antelopes will be hosts to Spur. Floydada will entertain Tulia, while Paducah is at home against Ralls. Lockney goes to Matador. Crosbyton is at Post in a non-conference tussle.

Rams Virtually Nail Down National Crown

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30. (INS)—A record crowd of 86,080 screaming fans saw the Los Angeles Rams virtually clinch the championship of the National Football League's Western division today as they came from behind to edge the Chicago Bears, 27 to 24.

The win was the Rams' sixth in a row and it left them the only unbeaten team in professional football.

Quarterback Bob Waterfield was the man of the hour for the Rams. He engineered all three touchdown drives, kicked both Los Angeles' field goals and booted all three points after touchdown.

The Rams, after leading all the way, watched the Bears take a 24 to 20 lead with but seven minutes remaining in the game. Quarterback Johnny Lujack pitched a 43-yard pass to End Ken Kavanaugh, who took it all alone on the 20 and went over with ease.

Then the crowd was electrified when pint-size Tommy (Cricket) Kalmanir took the ensuing kickoff on his own 8 and scooted all the way to the Bear 35-yard line.

After Fullback Gerry Cowhig had taken it to the 17, interference was called on Halfback V. T. Smith in the end zone and the Rams got the ball on the one. Cowhig bucked over for the score with less than five minutes to play.

ROBINSON STARS WIN

HOUSTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—Jackie Robinson's All-Stars used two four-run innings to send Rufus Lewis to the showers and beat the Negro American League All-Stars, 9-4, before 13,468 fans at Buff Stadium today.

Two Schoolboy Clashes Friday Might Decide Important Districts

Lubbock One Of Five Unbeaten 11s

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

They're really playing for keeps this week in schoolboy football and a couple of games can just about determine district titlists.

Highland Park (Dallas) and Grand Prairie, one of five undefeated, untied teams remaining in the City Conference and Class AA, tangle. The 8-AA title practically hinges on the result.

Marshall meets Texarkana and a victory for the Mavericks would almost sew up the 9-AA crown.

Henderson dropped out of the dwindling list of perfect teams last week when Marshall handed it a 21-14 licking.

Grand Prairie, Wichita Falls, Lubbock, Corsicana and Port Arthur are the only unbeaten, untied teams now. John Reagan (Houston) and Baytown are unbeaten but tied.

Only Grand Prairie appears in any danger of being beaten this week. The potent Highland Park Scots could easily turn the trick.

Corsicana, a team few people gave a second thought before the season, proved its fancy record thus far was no fluke, beating the powerful Waco Tigers, 16-12, last week. This gives Corsicana an inside track for the district 13-AA title.

Lubbock, touted as one of the strongest high school teams ever to turn up in Texas, breezed past Lamesa, 41-14, last week, while Wichita Falls crushed Quanah, 59-0; Port Arthur stomped Orange, 56-6; John Reagan blanked Milby of Houston, 13-0; and Baytown beat Pasadena, 19-6.

Forty-five games are on tap this week for the big two divisions of the Interscholastic League's football program, 42 of them conference affairs.

Feature tilts include Amarillo and Pampa, with the winner of this one a good bet to take 1-AA honors; Sunset-Adamson (both of Dallas); Arlington Heights-Paschal (both of Fort Worth); John Reagan-Jeff Davis (both of Houston); Thomas Jefferson-Alamo Heights (both of San Antonio).

Odessa-Lamesa; Mesa, Ariz.-El Paso High; Ysleta-Austin (El Paso); Big Spring-San Angelo; Paris-Sherman; Palestine-Nacogdoches; Port Arthur-South Park (Beaumont); Baytown - Galena Park; Galveston-Freeport; Waxahachie-Corsicana; Austin-Victoria; Robstown-Laredo; and Edinburg-Brownsville.

H-SU Defeats Texas Western For Lead

Cowboys Stand As Only Threat To Tech

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 30.—The Hardin-Simmons Cowboys, exponents of the wide open brand when it comes to football, stand today as the only threat to Texas Tech, defending titlists of the Border Conference.

Warren Woodson's Cowboys took over the spot Saturday when they snapped the undefeated and untied record of Texas Western, 34-14, at Abilene. It sent H-SU into undisputed possession of first place with four wins and no defeats. Texas Tech has won the only two conference games played and defeats mar the records of all the other loop teams.

Tech was again pasted Saturday by a Southwest Conference team. Rice did it with ease, 28-0. The Border Conference club has been unable to defeat a team from the bigger Southwest this season.

Tempe Keeps Chance

Arizona State college at Tempe retained its mathematical chance of sharing in the title when it went into the air to defeat the University of New Mexico 28-19. State has won two and lost only to H-SU.

Arizona went out of the conference to lose 20-6 to Denver university as a snowstorm blew down at halftime. In the only other game involving a Border club, New Mexico A&M swamped Highlands, 40-12.

There'll be a good chance of comparing Tech and H-SU this week. The Red Raiders play the same Texas Western club that dropped the game to Hardin-Simmons Saturday.

The Cowboys go out of the league to meet Loyola at Los Angeles on Friday. Other Saturday games find Arizona State at Flagstaff playing host to West Texas State, New Mexico at Arizona, and New Mexico A&M playing Arizona State at Tempe on the latter's home field.

Friday Tilt May Decide 4-B Title

It's "showdown week" in District 4-B.

Meadow's Bronchos and Ropesville's Eagles, two teams which have led the standings throughout the season, tangle Friday night at Meadow — and there's a better-than-fair chance that the winner will move on to the championship.

Meadow, still keeping company with Lubbock in the ranks of undefeated and untied teams on the South Plains, needs a victory over Ropesville to preserve its slim 4-B lead. Even if Coach Lloyd Hunt's Bronchos get by Ropesville, they still must turn back the strong New Deal Lions to nail down the crown.

Ropesville, on the other hand, must win this one if it is to retain even a slim shot at the 4-B pennant. The Eagles, now in second place, a half-jump ahead of New Deal and Whiteface, already have suffered one conference setback.

New Deal draws a "breather" this week when it plays host to Frenship, while Whiteface is at home against Idalou. Cooper journeys to Plains for the only other 4-B game Friday night.

LOUIS FIGHTS EXHIBITION

Bobby Layne Holds Own In Duel With Baugh, 'Dogs Tie 'Skins

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (INS)—The New York Bulldogs came out of their National Football league kennel long enough today to gain a 14-to-14 tie with the faded Washington Redskins.

Only 3,678 spectators braved murky skies to see an aerial duel between Sammy Baugh, the 'Skins pass master, and youthful Bobby Layne of the Bulldogs.

Baugh completed 17 of 27 passes and Layne clicked on 11 of 20. Between them, the two teams gained 442 yards in the air.

Emperor Hirohito Calls Lefty O'Doul "Greatest Manager"

TOKYO, Oct. 30. (AP) — Lefty O'Doul met the emperor today, and came away with a super-duper compliment ringing in his ears.

"It is a great honor to meet the greatest manager in baseball," said Emperor Hirohito, looking up at the husky manager of the San Francisco Seals.

O'Doul, whose club finished seventh in the Pacific Coast League last season, replied, "I've waited a long time for this day."

Trout Wins City Open Golf Title

In a cold, extra-hole golf match Sunday at Lubbock Country club, the veteran Chick Trout came from behind to defeat Jimmy Goldman, 1-up, on the 37th hole and win the City Open Golf championship.

Goldman led during the morning 18 holes, and at one time held a commanding six hole margin over Trout. At the end of the first 18 Goldman was three holes ahead but faltered in the afternoon, losing the lead on the 27th hole and regaining a tie on the 33rd. The last three holes were even, and Trout birdied 37 to win the match.

Trout suceeds Lindsey Telford as city champion. Telford lost in the quarter-finals to Goldman

Winner in the first flight was E. A. Hindman, and he defeated Dick Willbanks in the 18-hole finals, 3 and 2. Saturday, A. C. Jackson won the second flight title by downing Jack Cole, 1-up.

In the consolation flights T. N. Burton dropped Roy Cooper, 1-up, in 19 holes with a birdie. First flight consolation winner was Houston Trammel, with a 2 and 1 win over Sid Claiborne, and Dean Cole dropped M/Sgt. Leo Hess 2 and 1, in the second flight consolation finals.

Dinner For Contestants

All contestants in the tourney are invited to a free dinner at 7 p. m. Tuesday at the club. Others interested in attending may make reservations by calling the club.

A permanent trophy for the tournament has been donated by Powers Sporting Goods company, and individual prizes are being given by Hemphill-Wells. Presentations will be made at the dinner.

In winning the tournament championship Trout played steady golf after an early lapse which permitted Goldman to win six of the first 15 holes. Trout took 15, 16 and 17 and halved 18 to go three down.

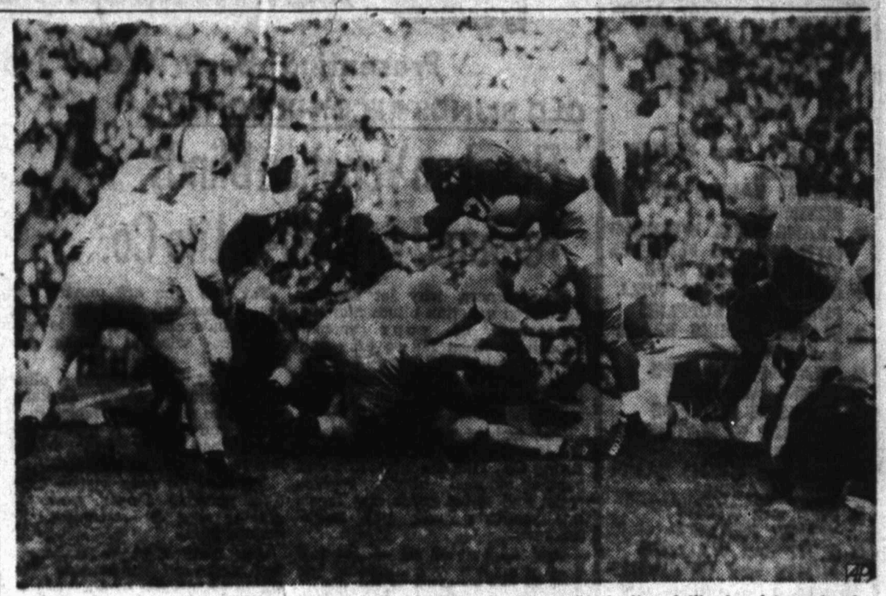

But in the afternoon Goldman lost control, allowing Trout to win numbers three and five. Goldman won six, but dropped seven, eight and nine, allowing Trout to go ahead for the first time in the match. Trout dropped number 15 and the next two were halved, leaving the last hole as the deciding one.

Trout drove out of bounds on his first shot to lose one stroke and give Goldman a decided advantage, but Goldman went beyond the cup on his approach, parring the hole with a four. Trout was 10 feet from the cup on his third shot and ran down the putt for a half, winning with a birdie on the 37th hole.

All golfers were hampered considerably by the cold 30-mile-per-hour wind that blew most of the day.

BROWNS BEAT 49'ERS

CLEVELAND, Oct. 30—(INS)—The Cleveland Browns defeated the San Francisco 49'ers 30 to 28 today in a close All-America Conference game before 75,000 fans at Cleveland Stadium.

GOOD FOR FIVE YARDS — Dick McKissack (38), Southern Methodist fullback, drives hard through tackle to pickup five yards in the second period of the game with the University of Texas at Dallas, Texas Tackle Ken Jackson (74) grabs him around the legs to make the tackle. Other Texas players identified are Back Bubba Shands (11) and Guard Danny Wolfe (68). SMU won the important game 7-6.

Littlefield Meets Sudan In Top Game

District 4-A(N) Title On Line This Week

The District 4-A North half football championship will be squarely on the line this week when Littlefield's point-minded Wildcats invade Sudan.

Although each team has an additional game to play, this one should decide the title question. Sudan and Littlefield currently are deadlocked for top spot with three victories and no reverses in conference play.

Littlefield Is Favored

All comparative scores point to a Littlefield triumph, but past performances mean little when these two old rivals get together.

Coach J. S. Fikes' hefty Wildcats have rolled along at an amazing 50-point-per-game clip in district play this year, while giving up only one touchdown in three contests. Last week they compiled their highest point total of the season as they swamped Sundown, 66-0. It was Littlefield's sixth straight impressive win since an opening-game loss to Dalhart.

Coach Francis Smith's Sudan club, idle last week, has won four while losing three over the full-season route.

Levelland, the circuit's third-place team, boosted 4-A North prestige considerably last week by stopping Post, one of the top outfits in 4-A South, by 21-12. This week Levelland takes on Muleshoe in a scrap which could decide third place in the final loop standings.

In the other game on this week's full slate, Morton journeys to Sundown for a game matching the two cellar-dwellers.

Football's Big Four Marches On

Notre Dame Sets Pace In Nation

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—The monotonous forward march of college football's "Big Four" focused attention today on eight "Sleeper" teams who are making lively bids for bowl attention.

Notre Dame, Army, Oklahoma, and California, rated 1-2-3-4 in order, kept pace again Saturday with expected victories. Notre Dame thumped Navy, 40-0, Army coasted by Virginia Military, 40-14, Oklahoma rode past Iowa State 34-7, and California, tightening its grasp on another Rose Bowl invite, tripped UCLA, 35-21.

Baylor In Spotlight

But creeping into the picture are the "Sleepers"—Baylor, Virginia, Fordham, College of Pacific, Wyoming, Boston U., Iowa and Pittsburgh. All rate a look-in for the various bowl games.

Baylor, Virginia, Fordham, Pacific, Wyoming and Boston U., all are unbeaten and untied. With Cornell, the Ivy League leaders, and the Big Four, they comprise the contry's 11 major all-winning clubs. Fordham, Pacific and Wyoming were elevated to the aristoracy as the result of their continued successes.

Only Pennsylvania, rated ninth nationally a week ago, fell Saturday. Pittsburgh, knocked off the all-winning list the week before by Indiana in a stunner, turned the trick on Penn, 22-21 with a safety in the last 35 seconds.

Other Major Surprises

Four other major surprises made the day interesting. Purdue just about whacked Minnesota out of the Rose Bowl picture, 13-7; Tennesee blasted North Carolina's new Year hopes, 35-6; Alabama nipped Georgia, 14-7; and Duke clipped Georgia Tech, 27-14.

But let's get back to the "Sleepers."

Baylor, the mystery team of the Southwest Conference and rated tenth nationally, thumped Texas Christian, 40-14, to maintain its league lead. The Bears, heading for a Cotton Bowl berth, play Texas Saturday. Texas lost 7-6 to Southern Methodist on Doak Walker's conversion in the last quarter.

Iowa is the real dark horse of the Big Ten. The Hawkeyes, 34-31 victors over Oregon in a thriller featuring long runs, are tied for the Big Ten lead with Ohio State, each with 3-1 records.

Oklahoma Still Rolls

Ohio State, which beat Northwestern 24-7, has a non-league game with Pitt Saturday and then follows with two toughies against Illinois and Michigan.

Oklahoma, apparently headed for another Sugar Bowl appearance, ran up its 16th straight triumph with its conquest of Iowa State. The powerful Sooners take on weak Kansas State Saturday.

Italy is the third leading producer of raw silk in the world.

ANOTHER BAYLOR TOUCHDOWN — Baylor Back Frank Boydstun (45) crashes through a large hole in TCU line to score touchdown from the 21-yard line in the first period of the game between the two schools in Waco. Baylor players in the picture are Guard Mouser (62), End J. D. Ison (84) and Guard Walter Bates (68). TCU Guard Conway (58) also is in the picture. Baylor won the Southwest Conference game 40-14.

Browns, Yankees Remain In Tie

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)— The champion Cleveland Browns and New York Yankees scored hair's breadth victories today to hold their first place tie in the All-America Football Conference.

Meanwhile, the Los Angeles Rams and Philadelphia Eagles won vital divisional games in the rival National League.

Rams Beat Bears

The Rams, only unbeaten team in the pro majors, vanquished the Chicago Bears, 27-24, before 86,080 at Los Angeles to tighten their hold on the Western lead. They have won 6-0. The runnerup Bears have won three and lost three.

The champion Eagles smashed the Pittsburgh Steelers, 38-7, to gain an undisputed grip on the Eastern division top rung. The two have been tied with identical 4-1 marks.

The Browns edged the San Francisco Forty-niners in a heart-stopper, 30-28, thrilling a crowd of 72,189 in vast Cleveland Stadium. A 38-yard field goal by Lou Groza furnished the margin of victory.

Bulldogs Tie Redskins

The Yankees turned back the winless Baltimore Colts, 21-14, at Yankee Stadium, scoring three first half touchdowns and then stopping a stout Baltimore rally just in time.

In other National League games, the New York Giants erased a three-touchdown deficit in the second half to whip the Chicago Cardinals, 41-38, at Chicago; the New York Bulldogs, without a victory this year, played a 14-14 tie with the Washington Redskins at the Polo Grounds in New York; and the Green Bay Packers topped the Detroit Lions at Milwaukee.

The Yankees and Cleveland have six victories and one defeat each in the AAC. The Browns also are burdened with a tie.

San Francisco maintained third place with a 6-3 mark.

Petersburg Snowed Under In Big First Half By Powerful Kress

KRESS, Oct. 30: (Special)—The Petersburg Buffalbes were snowed under in the first half here Friday night, and lost to a powerful Kress elevent, 13-47.

Kress pushed over two touchdowns in the first period, and then added four more in the second to lead 40-0 at halftime. Petersburg came back with a touchdown in each of the two remaining periods, Kress scoring only once in the second half.

The Buffaloes made eight first downs to the Kress team's ten, but made only 200 yards net, while Kress had 360 yards-gained to its credit.

Left End Buddy Saffle and Right Tackle Hal Hegi were outstanding in the Petersburg line, with Fullback Ken Meadows and Halfback Ken Reagan shining in the Buffalo backfield.

Backs George, Freeman and Durrough played fine offensively for Kress.

In capturing the National League batting championship in 1949, Jackie Robinson became the sixth Dodger to win that honor.

Champion SMU Has Only Outside Chance

Baylor Is Biggest Rice Threat In SWC Race

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

All the stuff you haven't been hearing about Baylor's Bears is now coming out. The Golden Bruins today find themselves built up at last as top contenders for the Southwest Conference football championship.

For some reason, nobody took Baylor seriously as it moved along undefeated and untied. Even a 35-13 clubbing of Arkansas failed to project the Bears as serious challengers to Rice for the title.

Three Team Race

That's all changed. Baylor Saturday battered Texas Christian, 40-14, and showed it was the team to be reckoned with down the autumn stretch.

Baylor and Rice are unbeaten in the conference race and Southern Methodist, once defeated, clings to a chance at the championship. But the four other members can start thinking about basketball. Texas, Arkansas, Texas Christian and Texas A & M are out of it, barring the greatest outbreak of upsets in conference history from here on. Texas, Arkansas and TCU each has lost two games, A & M three.

Southern Methodist ushered Texas to the sidelines at Dallas Saturday, using All-America Doak Walker to plant the ball between the cross-bars for a 7-6 victory as 75,000 fans convulsed.

Baylor-Texas Saturday

Rice let its injured recuperate with an easy 28-0 victory over Texas Tech of the Border Conference.

Texas A & M sank deep into the cellar from a 27-6 licking at the hands of Arkansas.

Baylor plays Texas at Austin Saturday as the headliner of this week. Texas still is seeking just enough punch for a few points—just a few are all the Longhorns need. In two Saturdays Texas has lost twice by the combined margin of three points.

Rice entertains Arkansas while Southern Methodist journeys to College Station to play the hapless Aggies.

Texas Christian takes the week off. The way the Horned Frogs played against Baylor perhaps they should take off two. The famed Frog aerial game was a back-firing breeze. Baylor intercepted nine passes, some kind of record.

Burk Leads Parade

Adrian Burk continued his mighty bombardment. Against TCU he flipped 19 passes and completed 11 for 192 yards and two touchdowns as the Bears whipped up 337 yards, 216 of it in the air. Lindy Berry, Texas Christian's heralded passer, connected only two for 15 yards.

Southern Methodist had horseshoes in its headgears and four-leaf clovers in its pockets. Texas stormed and passed up and down the field, entering SMU territory eight times and cashing in only once. Southern Methodist never got past midfield until late in the third quarter.

Texas fumbled on the three-yard line to miss a touchdown and Ben Procter, Texas end, caught a pass in the end zone but dropped it. Kyle Rote whammed out the Southern Methodist touchdown and Raleigh Blakely, Methodist wingman, blocked Randy Clay's try for point—and then there was the calm point after touchdown by the great Walker who played little, but was there when the time came. Walker was in a hospital 10 days with the flu and rejoined the team only Thursday.

Arkansas Shines

Bobby Lantrip had a big day lugging the pigskin in Rice's triumph over Texas Tech. He rambled for 142 yards on 19 tries and scored two touchdowns. Tobin Rote and Vernon Glass oiled up their passing arms. Rote completed eight for 127 yards and Glass seven for 121.

Arkansas roared out 345 yards against the Texas Aggies with 293 of it on the ground. The bright spot for A&M was Dick Gardemai's passing. He completed 14 for 143 yards. Joe Dugan of Arkansas got 105 yards on two runs, although he didn't score.

Stage Set For Crucial District 4-A Battle

The stage is set for the Nov. 11 Slaton at Post championship battle in District 4-A South.

Coach Clarence Tillery's Slaton crew climbed into a first-place tie last week by drubbing O'Donnell, 31-0, while Post was dropping a 21-12 non-conference verdict to Levelland.

The Slaton triumph was the third in row in district play for the Tigers, who boast the circuit's best defensive record. Post also has a 3-0 conference mark, in addition to the loop's offensive leadership.

The only conference game on this week's docket pits Tahoka against Seagraves. Both teams will be seeking their first district triumph in this one, which highlights Seagraves' annual homecoming observance.

Post plays host to dangerous Crosbyton of District 3-A, while Slaton and O'Donnell get a rest.

Olton Needs Two Wins For Title

Coach T. M. Cox's spirited Olton Mustangs are only two steps from the District 3-B football title.

Winners by a 32-0 score over Anton last week, the Mustangs now need only to down Friona and Hale Center to sew up the crown.

Last week's win was one of the most impressive of the season for the Olton club, which has averaged 32 points a game through seven district contests. The Mustangs also have the loop's best defeisive record, having given up only 19 points in conference competition all year.

Dimmitt and Hale Center, the two teams with the best chance of overtaking the leader, meet this week at Dimmitt in an "elimination" fray. Each already has lost one district game, and another defeat will erase any remaining championship hopes.

Olton is at home against Friona, which last week absorbed a 44-7 lacing from Dimmitt. Farwell and Anton, currently scrapping for a first-division berth, meet at Anton, while Amherst travels to Springlake. In a game which probably will decide last place in the final standings, Spade will entertain Whitharral.

Wink Catches Kermit In District 5-A Chase

Wink's high-scoring Wildcats finally overhauled Kermit in the District 5-A grid race last week.

The Wildcats, who have averaged better than 30 points a game in seven district starts, rolled over Pecos, 40-18, while Kermit was dropping a surprise 13-7 decision of Monahans.

It was the first loss of the year for Kermit, which earlier had been tied by Andrews. Wink has only one loss, to Andrews, to mar its conference record.

Both Wink and Kermit have an open date this week, as they make preparations for their Nov. 11 engagement at Kermit in what might prove to be the deciding tilt in the 5-A scramble.

Andrews and Monahans are the only other squads with much of a chance at the crown. Andrews has won four, lost one and tied one, while Monahans has won four while dropping two.

This week's top game finds Monahans at Seminole. A defeat here would ring down the curtain on Monahans' last remaining hopes of defending its state Class A grid championship. In other games Friday night, it will be Andrews at Fort Stockton, Denver City at Pecos, and McCamey at Crane.

Hardin Almost Certain Winner In Gulf Loop

(By The Associated Press)

Only one team is left to challenge Hardin for the Gulf Coast conference championship and that one — Trinity — doesn't have the record to indicate it can make a fight of it.

Hardin already has beaten North Texas State and University of Houston, the other two members of the circuit. In defeating Houston, 33-21, last week it appeared the Indians hurdled the biggest barrier in the drive to the crown.

It was the only conference game played during the week. In other tilts North Texas State licked Southwest Texas State of the Lone Star conference, 47-7, and Trinity beat Howard Payne of the Texas conference, 21-12.

Hardin plays Sam Houston State of the Lone Star conference at Huntsville Saturday night while University of Houston journeys to New York to meet St. Bonaventure.

North Texas State and Trinity play a conference game at San Antonio. It will be Trinity's first test in the championship race. North Texas State lost its only conference game to Hardin.

Boston won eight National League pennants before 1900, but has been able to win only two since.

NORWEGIAN GRID BATTLE

OSLO, Oct. 30. (AP)—An estimated 500 fans saw the first American football game played by Norwegians here yesterday. Alf Stoere, former Norwegian exchange student to Bowdoin college, Maine, and Tony Bower of Kansas City, 17-year-old high school student here, introduced the game to Norway. They instructed the high school teams of Riis and Ullern. Riis won, 20-13.

McMurry Getting Closer To Title

(By The Associated Press)

McMurry took another step toward the Texas Conference title last week and Brad Rowland a big one toward a national honor: top scoring back.

The Indians walloped Austin college, 34-19, to rack up their third straight conference victory, and Rowland scored three touchdowns to boost his total for the year to 16 for 96 points. This keeps him atop the nation's individual scorers.

Other Results

One of Rowland's touchdowns came on a 70-yard run. He passed for two other scores and picked up 150 yards rushing in 22 carries.

Texas A&I added to the conference's prestige with a 46-6 victory over Sul Ross. In other games, Trinity beat Howard Payne, 21-12, and Southwestern lost to East Texas Baptist, 20-6.

This week Abilene Christian meets A&I. Austin plays Southwestern; Howard Payne takes on East Texas Baptist; and McMurry faces Sul Ross.

Ben Harmon kept Austin college fairly well in the game against the powerful Indians, completing 17 of 34 passes for 311 yards.

Gene Green paced A&I's victory with three touchdowns, one on a 92 yard run.

McMurry is aiming for its second straight championship. It shared the title with Hardin in 1947.

Three Die In Hale County Collision

visiting a brother in Hale Center. His car was a 1948 Plymouth coupe.

Martinez was reported driving the other car, a 1941 Chevrolet coach, headed north.

The Texas Highway partolmen who investigated the crash said that "both cars are a total loss."

Papers found in the pocket of Gaytan indicated that the car had been purchased only Saturday in Lubbock.

Family Was Seeking Job

Members of the family said they were driving to a Hale county farm in search of cotton pulling jobs when the crash came. Neither car overturned.

First to arrive at the wreck scene was E. M. (Cowboy) Adams, who resides one mile away. Adams said that as he drove toward the wrecked cars a woman came screaming down the road. Arriving at the scene, he found most of the victims unconscious.

Passing motorists took some of the injured to hospitals, while two Lemons Funeral Home ambulances from Plainview took the dead and other injured.

The Highway patrol said investigation of the collision was continuing.

Name Spelling Questioned

Some question still remained last night as to the proper spelling of names of the Latin-American family. Those who could be questioned did not have a full command of Englishl and severa, variations resulted among them Gaeton, Gaetan, Gayton, Gaitan and Gaiton.

The first name of Gaytan was variously reported as Marajildo Esmereijildo.

Adding to the confusion was an early report that the dead man was Castillo rather than Gaytan.

TWO INJURED RELEASED FROM AREA HOSPITALS

Two of the seven persons injured in area traffic mishaps on Saturday were released from hospitals on Sunday, while the injured remaining in hospitals all were reported in "good" conditions.

Released from Gaines county hospital in Seminole were Mrs. J. T. Burnett, 25, of Carlsbad, N. M., and Mrs. Katherine Welch, 19, also of Carlsbad. Mrs. Leland Franklin, 21, of Seminole, remained in the hospital Sunday night.

The three women were injured in a two-car collision Saturday afternoon four miles west of Seminole. Another Seminole woman, Mrs. Lucille A. Schmidt, 36, injured in the same wreck, remained in Seminole General hospital. Attendants said she may be released today.

A Lubbock woman, Mrs. Faye Hillis Lambert, 35, remained in West Texas hospital Sunday night after receiving two broken ribs and a broken heel in a car-truck collision Saturday morning at Ave. L and Twenty-fifth street.

Elsa Mae Frazer, 15, negro girl injured in a traffic mishap Saturday in the Three Way community in south Bailey county, remained in Lubbock Memorial hospital with a fractured pelvis. R. L. Hill, about 31, another negro injured in the wreck, was in a Morton hospital.

Bulgarian 'Purge'

sian-sponsored Communist government also was reported tightening its ranks against outright foes of the party and fence-sitters.

Threat Reported

Socialist reports from Berlin said East German Interior Minister Dr. Karl Steinhoff ordered all members of the "people's police force" to join the Socialist Unity (Communist) party or face dismissal and dispatch to forced labor camps.

The Cominform finally appears to be taking seriously Marshal Tito's boast of having powerful supporters behind the iron curtain.

His bid for closer relations with Italy a few days ago has borne fruit in creation of a splinter movement among Italian Communists supporting Tito's fight against Soviet domination which came into the open in June, 1948 with his expulsion from the Cominform.

Rumors Involve Albania

There also are rumors—still unconfirmed—that Tito is trying to iron out differences with Premier Enver Hoxha of Albania in an attempt to bring the first Soviet satellite into his camp.

The recent purge in Czechoslovakia also was believed aimed in part against crushing Titoism.

Tito's confidence in the outcome of his momentous struggle against the Kremlin line has risen as the result of the Paris and London conferences of American diplomats in Europe.

It is understood the diplomats at those conferences decided to increase their support of the Yugoslav leader as a strategic move in the East-West cold war.

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 30 (INS)—Grover Cleveland Alexander, the famed former big league pitcher, collapsed in a Hollywood drug store today, but was revived in the Hollywood Receiving Hospital.

Physicians there advised him to take a rest and to seek medical attention.

The former pitcher, now 62, said he had gone to the store to get an early breakfast when he keeled over.

Navy Cut Ordered

tual account, however.

It followed disclosure that Navy and Marine Corps manpower will be whittled 54,891 men by next July 1 to correspond with the reduction in ships.

Secretary of Defense Johnson is aiming at a $13,000,000,000 budget for Army, Navy and Air Force in the fiscal year beginning next July 1. This compares with $15,585,863,498 voted by Congress for the present year. However, all of this won't be spent. The economy impact also has been felt by the Army and Air Force..

Follows Denfeld Ouster

The breakdown in Navy cutback orders was coincidental with the uproar over the dismissal of its top officer, Admiral Louis E. Denfeld, as its chief of staff.

Secretary of Navy Matthews kept mum over Denfeld's possible successor. The ouster, coming shortly after Denfeld had blistered department unification policies before the House Armed Services committee, has set off a wave of protest in Congress.

Meantime, the possibility appeared that other naval officers who fought the unification practices may be in for trouble.

It was reliably reported that the Navy inspector general's office had opened an investigation of "Op 23," a Navy term for Operations Division 23. This group has been called a strategy center for the campaign to effect changes in unification policies.

Fund Cuts Blamed

The Navy said the ship "mothballing" program results from fund cuts "current and projected."

Thirty-five vessels, including five aircraft carriers and six cruisers, will be pulled out of the fleet and laid up. But this reduction will be offset, to some extent, by returning to service the light carrier Bataan and the submarine Guavina and commissioning two new submersibles, the Grenadier and Grampus.

Two of the flattops are 27,000 ton Essex-class carriers, the others smaller.

The larger number of ships mothballed will come out of the Atlantic fleet, a comparison of the announcement with other available information showed. Of the carriers, three are in the Atlantic fleet, two in the Pacific; two of the cruisers are in the Pacific, four in the Atlantic.

Last summer there were about 174 combatant ships in the Atlantic fleet; 97 in the Pacific.

Steel Strike

sent steel strike resulted.

Tobin debated the steel strike issues with Herman Steinkraus, president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, in a radio and television program.

Steinkraus blamed the strike on Murray and his steelworkers. He proposed that the striking union end its walkout and negotiate its differences with the steel industry under government auspices.

The nation, already reeling from the effects of the twin strikes in coal and steel, is threatened with another body blow from United Mine workers chief John L. Lewis.

With the strike of 380,000 UMW soft coal diggers going into its seventh week, Lewis threatens to extend the walkout to the 100,000 union members still working.

The colorful miners chieftain said the working diggers, about one-fifth of the union membership, might be "called into action at any time" to help win the current mine strike.

UMW members now at work are employes in the bituminous fields west of the Mississippi, in all the anthracite (hard coal) areas and in Canada.

Lewis issued his threat last night at a dinner in Scranton, Pa., honoring the late John Mitchell, an early president of the UMW.

In the meantime, the month old strike of 500,000 CIO United Steelworker members dragged along.

Unemployment soared past the million mark. Relief roles mounted. Scenes in many steel and coal centers were reminiscent of the deepest days of the depression.

At Morgantown, W. Va., United Mine Worker funds were being used for the relief of needy miners.

Clairton, Pa., a usually humming steel center of 21,000, called a special meeting of city council tomorrow night to set up an emergency welfare fund for the striking steel workers.

The council previously asked gas, electric and insurance companies to withhold pressure in collecting delinquent bills.

Hard hit Pittsburgh counted 120,800 idle in coal, steel and aluminum. Another 21,500 in other business fields are out of jobs as a result of the strikes.

Lewis has no further negotiations scheduled with the mine operators until next Tuesday. He is seeking a new contract with higher pay and more pensions.

Intervention Asked

Even as Lewis threatened to extend the coal strike, the executive committee of the America Retail Coal association called on President Truman to take immediate action to end the costly walkout.

The committee said the country is facing "a critical situation and a national emergency" because of coal shortages in the Midwest, Northwest and South.

A government economist offered a cheerless prediction to those hoping for a speedy end to the strikes.

Dr. Leo J. Wolman of the National Bureau of Economics forecast a settlement of the coal and steel strikes — "probably in three weeks."

Violence again touched the coal strike.

At Rimersburg in the central Pennsylvania coal fields, a dynamite blast last night wrecked a steam shovel at the non-union Mack Coal company strip (surface) mine. Damage was estimated at $10,000.

West Virginia state police investigated a truck driver's complaint that seven shots were fired at his coal-loaded vehicle as he was taking a load of coal to his home near Elkins, W. Va.

Mechanical Pickers To Be Demonstrated

Farmers interested in seeing a demonstration of one of two mechanical cotton pickers imported from Mississippi recently, will have a chance to do so today, according to the Texas Employment commission.

O. M. Rankin, who has brought the machines up from Mississippi, will give such a demonstration on the farm of V. V. Cox, who lives about two miles east of Carlisle, and about three-fourths mile south.

The demonstration will begin as soon as the cotton is dry enough for picking. A freeze Sunday night will not halt the demonstration, but a heavy dewfall will force them to start late.

Rankin has only two machines here, but is prepared to bring up four more if enough farmers are interested.

The employment commission said the pickers work fine on D. P. and L., Paymaster, Northern Star, and if not too low on the ground, Half and Half, and Lockett 140 cotton. The picker will not work very well on Macha, they said.

Two Men Arrested

Two men were arrested by police Sunday will probably face charges today of carrying prohibited weapons.

One was picked up in 2600-block Globe shortly before 2 a .22 calibre rifle concealed beneath his coat. Police said the other man was arrested in 200-block Hub Homes following a call that a drunk man was threatening several people with a pistol. Officers disarmed the man and a search of his car uncovered a .22 calibre rifle.

A Houston motorist faces charges of drunk driving because he picked a bad time to lose control of his car.

Patrolmen James Atchison and Glenn Fletcher said they were driving on East Broadway in the underpass when their vehicle was forced up onto the sidewalk by a westbound car. They stopped, they said, just in time to see the man turn sharply to the north—and into the side of the underpass.

The sheriff's office said a 34-year-old Shallowater man, had been arrested by federal officials and lodged in the county jail on charges of parole violation.

They will continue up Main street to Ave. K, where they will turn left back to Broadway, following Broadway to Ave. N. The parade will go down Ave. N back to Thirteenth and the parking lot, where it started.

GOOD FOR AMATEUR

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (U.P.) — Dick Eddinger, who had taken up archery only two weeks before, shot a deer with a bow-and-arrow during Michigan's season for archers.

Freezing Weather

eratures are expected as the front begins to moderate. High reading in the 60's are expected this afternoon, with the mercury taking another plunge tonight.

Power Failures Reported

Power failures were reported at several Texas cities as the cold front blasted its way toward the Gulf Coast, the Associated Press reported. Power failures were reported at Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, Dallas, Austin and San Antonio.

By 9:30 p.m., the front had passed Beaumont, Houston, Alice, and Laredo in South Texas, dropping temperatures into the sixties from earlier readings in the upper 70's and low 80's.

The Panhandle was clearing Sunday night, but the Weather bureau said this would allow temperatures to drop lower.

In the rest of the state, the Weather bureau said, the clouds held the day's heat to the ground and kept temperatures up somewhat.

Amarillo had a 35-degree reading early Sunday night. It was 43 at Fort Worth and 57 at San Antonio, after the temperature tumbled from 83 degrees in four hours.

Northerly winds up to 56 miles an hour hit Wichita Falls. Two radio stations went off the air for about an hour after the wind snapped an electricity wire.

Wichita Falls thought it might get its first frost of the year. The temperatures dropped from a morning low of 47 to 42 degrees. A 35-degree low was expected Monday morning. About .15 inch of rain fell at Wichita Falls in about three hours.

Power interruptions were scattered over Fort Worth. One southside residential section had no power for about 30 minutes. Dallas had minor power failures.

San Antonio Area Hit

San Antonio also had scattered power failures because of wires blown down by gusts up to 45 miles an hour. The Weather bureau said San Antonio could expect a low reading of 45 degrees.

Austin's temperature dropped quickly about 20 degrees when the gusty norther blew in there. The mercury had stood at 78 degrees at 4:30 p.m.

Power failed in several spots as wind gusts up to 40 miles an hour scudded through the capital. The fire department said the wind broke power lines and tore many branches from trees.

The front sped from the Panhandle through the Dallas-Fort Worth area about noon. Dallas' high temperature was 72 degrees. The thermometer skidded to 44 by dark, and Dallas expected an overnight low around 40.

The cold air, blowing off a Colorado snow storm, apparently didn't have enough bite to drop the coast's temperatures far below Sunday afternoon readings in the high seventies and low eighties.

But the Panhandle looked for a low between 28 and 32 degrees.

Afternoon readings around the state included 43 at Amarillo, 44 at Wichita Falls, 47 at Abilene, 57 at Fort Worth, 61 at Dallas, 74 at Lufkin, 78 at Brownsville, 82 at Houston and San Antonio and 83 at Laredo.

Plane Crash

happened.

Jack Harris, a brother, said neither Harris's wife nor Clayton Sanders of Idalou, owner of the plane and brother-in-law of the injured man, knew that he intended to fly today.

Hit Near Landing Strip

The plane was kept in a pasture which was used as a landing strip near where the crash occurred. Because of the plane's proximity to the landing strip when it crashed, it was believed that Harris was circling for a landing when he lost control of the plane and crashed.

The plane, a Vultee BT-13, which was one of the type used during the war as a basic training plane for pilots, was totally demolished, although the wreckage was fairly intact.

The engine, torn off the fuselage, was resting about 100 feet from the main wreckage. Bits of wreckage were strewn around the area, although the field seemed to be relatively undisturbed.

The undercarriage was ripped open, and the wings had been shorn off and folded over the tail structure. The cockpit was not smashed, and there was no sign of a fire.

Violent Death Takes Eight Lives In Texas

(By The Associated Press)

Violent death took eight lives during the weekend.

Two persons died in automobile wrecks. A pedestrian was hit by a car. One man was run over by a train. One drowned, and one took poison.

Don Preston Rives, 48, of Twitty, a Wheeler county commissioner, was killed in an automobile crash a mile east of McLean in a heavy drizzle Sunday morning. Three persons were badly injured.

Charles L. Penn, jr., 25, member of a prominent Waxahachie family, died when his car overturned five miles south of Dallas.

John Jerry Kinser, sr., 4[illegible], was fatally injured when an automobile hit him at Fort Worth Saturday.

Clifton Holland, 60, Southern Pacific railroad engine foreman, was killed at Houston Sunday when a train ran over him. Witnesses said he slipped as he started to jump from a railroad car being pulled by a diesel engine.

A Californian on vacation, Arthur Bennett, 60, drowned in Indian Lake 15 miles north of Orange yesterday.

John Thomas Grimes, 58, of Fort Worth was found dead of poisoning at his home Sunday morning. Justice of the Peace Whit Boyd returned an inquest verdict of suicide.

Two persons were killed in a headon automobile collision west of Hale Center Sunday afternoon. The dead were Maregilde Gaytan, 50, of Lubbock, and his two-year-old daughter. Six others were injured.

The face of Abraham Lincoln, sculptured into the rock of Mount Rushmore in the Black Hills, is so large that a man could stand erect in an eye.

Elections Slated

These are all special elections to fill vacancies, but are being held coincident with the usual off-year November voting.

Dulles Carries GOP Hopes

Republican strategists here are placing their highest hopes on electing John Foster Dulles over Herbert H. Lehman, former Democratic governor, as New York senator for the year remaining in the term of Democrat Robert F. Wagner, resigned. Dulles now holds the seat by appointment of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

The fact that the American Labor party has endorsed neither candidate in the Senate race is counted on by the Republicans to help Dulles. Democrats claim this will not affect Lehman's chances.

Brooklyn voters will pick a congressman from the 10th district to succeed the late Democrat Rep. Andrew L. Somers.

This district is heavily Democratic and Republicans concede they haven't a chance.

Race Has Odd Angles

California's 5th district (San Francisco) House race has its odd angles. The district has had a Republican congressman for about 40 years, but its registration gives the Democrats a big edge. The late Republican Rep. Richard J. Welch, who was personally popular, especially with labor, held the seat for 23 years. He always had the Democratic as well as the Republican nomination.

In New Jersey, Republican Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll and Democratic state Senator Elmer H. Wene, widely known baby chick raiser and former congressman, are closing a gubernatorial campaign that observers describe as portending a close election.

The poll tax repealers in Virginia and Texas have developed a political paradox, especially in the former. Wording of the proposed amendments in Virginia has caused many organizations and individuals normally against a poll tax to line up against repeal.

The proposal would abolish the $1.50 tax as a voting requirement, but give the state assembly power to write new election qualifications and levy new "capitation" taxes for other purposes.

Texas Situation Given

In Texas, the proposed amendment calls for repeal of the $1.75 tax as a voting requirement, but for retention of the tax. Repeal proponents argue it is better for the state to handle the matter now than have the federal government do it later. (The national House passed an anti-poll tax bill last July and it is due to come up in the Senate next session. It holds high rank on the President's civil rights calendar, but applies only to elections for federal office.)

Opponents of repeal in Texas argue it would cut off more than $1,000,000 a year the tax now pours into the state school fund because they say few people will pay the levy with the voting requirement eliminated.

Pennsylvania voters will pass on a proposal to pay a $500,000,000 bonus. If approved it will be the largest paid by any state. It would go to 1,300,000 World War II veterans on the basis of $15 monthly for overseas and $10 for home service. Maximum payment would be $500.

Among three referenda in New Jersey is a proposal for a $105,000,000 bonus to be financed by a gross receipts tax on business.

A BUCK WELL INVESTED

MANILA, Oct. 30. (AP) — A bay mare named Pagoda won a photo finish in the sixth race at Santa Ana track today and paid off $1,231.25 to $1 in the parimutuels. Only $8 was bet on her.

Clark, Lubbock Cottonman, Dies

W. A. (Add) Clark, 60, Lubbock cotton buyer, died at 5 p. m. Sunday at his residence, 2414 Twenty-seventh street, after suffering a heart attack.

Born Oct. 12, 1889, Clark had lived in Lubbock since he was six months old.

One of the earliest cotton buyers in Lubbock, Clark operated the Clark Cotton company with offices in the Rogers building.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday at Sanders Funeral home. Dr. J. Ralph Grant, pastor of the First Baptist church, will officiate.

Survivors include his wife, of the home address; two sisters, Mrs. George Hall of Lubbock and Mrs. Sameuel E. Ross of Evanston, Ill.; a brother, Sid Clark of Lubbock; a daughter, Mrs. Marion F. Harris of Muleshoe; and two granddaughters.

Slight Change Seen

slightly.

Both farm prices and cash receipts may drop another 10 percent, with net farm income declining more than that as production costs stay high.

Business spending for new plant and equipment will be further reduced in 1950, perhaps substantially from current levels.

The effect of foreign currency devalution on U. S. foreign trade is likely to be a mildly depressing influence.

The residential construction boom, supplemented by increasing public housing, is expected to continue near this year's level.

Distribution of almost $3,000,000,000 in veterans' insurance refunds — anticipated for the first half of the year—will tend to maintain consumer spending in that period.

The proportion of consumer spending for food may decline further. A smaller portion is being spent for food this year than last and during the war. But it still is larger than before the war.

Government spending is expected to increase through at least the first half of the year, though at a slower rate than this year. Unless defense requirements should become greater, present programs indicate a tapering off in government spending in the latter part of the year.

Crop production is likely to be down significantly. The government is setting up new production controls to hold down surpluses.

Spending by state and local governments for school, highway and other improvements is likely to increase, but at a slower rate than this year. Postwar programs for such improvements were said to be still large.

XAVIER TRIPS DAYTON

Wedding Set

ily and Mrs. Hadley's.

The occasion was entirely informal and only a half dozen St. Louis friends of the couple were on hand. Reporters and photographers practically filled the living room of Mrs. Hadley's medium-sized apartment.

The reporters and photographers were waiting for the word when Mr. Barkley spoke up and said: "The vice president yields to the senator, shall we say, from Missouri."

Mrs. Hadley with sparkling eyes said: "The vice president and I are going to be married on the 18th of November. The plans will be announced later."

Enjoys Support

Barkley has said all along since he met Mrs. Hadley in Washington in mid-summer that he never had had so many people pulling for him. He said at various times he didn't know whether he would "make the grade" but that he enjoyed such widespread support. The vice president has been dropping in at St. Louis at practically every opportunity since Mrs. Hadley turned up in Washington last June and was introduced to him. Their latest "date" was last night when they attended a concert by Miss Margaret Truman and the St. Louis symphony orchestra.

She is the widow of the former general counsel of the Wabash railroad, who died in 1945. She has two daughters, Anne, 17, a college student in New Orleans, and Jane, 14, who lives at home and attends high school here.

Barkley's first wife, Dorothy Brower Barkley, whom he married in 1903, died in 1947. Since then his married daughter, Mrs. May Truitt, has served as his official hostess.

Farm Bill Signing

they told a reporter.

Congressional veterans of farm legislation and politics say they are confident the President will sign the price prop bill. But some of them wondered if he might sharply criticize some of its provisions.

They noted that unless it becomes law, a flexible price-support act, known as the Aiken act, goes into operation January 1.

It was passed last year by the GOP-controlled Congress and carries a lower level of mandatory price floors for cotton, wheat, and other major crops than the bill now at the White House.

Truman May Cast New Light On 1950 Plans In Speech Thursday

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—President Truman may cast a little more light this week on a campaign he and some of his supporters seem to have under way in an effort to revamp the democratic party.

At St. Paul Thursday, Mr. Truman will have an opportunity to make a political speech unfettered by cornerstone layings and other trappings. The occasion will be "Truman day" at the Minnesota Centennial exposition.

His aides will be surprised if the President doesn't use it to outline again in some detail the program which his republican opponents say would lead to a welfare state.

Plans Not Known

It remains to be seen whether Mr. Truman will take up publicly this far in advance of the 1950 congressional elections the party responsibility theme that some of his subordinates have been shouting about recently.

William Boyle, jr., the Democratic national chairman who takes his orders from the President, has been beating the tub for months about the necessity of electing senators and congressmen next year who can be counted on to carry water for the President's program.

Boyle hasn't said that he is opposed to the election of Democrats who don't subscribe to the President's philosophy of government, but the inference is there unmistakably.

Senator Humphrey (D-Minn), who will be one of the President's hosts at the St. Paul meeting.

In a recent New York City speech, Humphrey said in effect that Congress wasn't carrying out the President's program because there was no party responsibility among the Democrats.

His words apparently were aimed directly at the Southern Democrats—and a few of their northern brethern—who refuse to go along on such issues as repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law and the President's proposal for compulsory health insurance.

Humphrey suggested a return to the old party caucus system, under which the leadership could bind senators and representatives to vote for the bills the administration wants passed. Legislators now hold only conferences in which no attempts are made to bind party members' votes.

Aged Cincinnati Zoo Employe Is Claimed

CINCINNATI, Oct. 30 (AP) — Funeral services will be held here Monday for Sol A. Stephan, 100, who came to the Cincinnati zoo 74 years ago to spend three days and stayed 62 years as superintendent and general manager. He died in his sleep Friday.

Stephan delivered an elephant to the newly-formed zoo in 1875 as representative of the Great American circus, in which he had an interest. He planned to return to New York by the end of the week, to accompany the circus on a tour of South America, after another man was trained to handle the elephant.

But the elephant didn't take well to strangers and Stephan stayed on. Finally he was persuaded to take the job of zoo superintendent. Later, as the zoo expanded, his title became general manager.

When he retired in 1937, to be succeeded by his son, Joseph A. Stephen, he was given the title of general manager-emeritus. A bronze plaque bearing the likeness of the "grand old man of the zoo" was erected on a huge rock at the zoo entrance on that occasion.

When Stephan celebrated his 100th birthday last April 3, President Truman was among the dignitaries who sent messages of congratulations.

He was born in Dayton, O. At 14 years of age he was herding cattle at Kent. Ind. There he collected his first menagerie—a fawn deer, four coyote pups and a crane—which he soon sold to a passing circus and joined the troups himself. Thus he began the long career as an internationally-known animal handler.

Two Children Burn To Death When Washington Home Burns

CENTRALIA, WASH., Oct. 30. (INS)— John Dickey, 3, and his brother, Billie, 2, were burned to death today when flames trapped them in their two-story Centralia home.

Their mother, Mrs. Jean F. Dickey, and her baby-sitter, Dessie Tunnuell, 16, suffered critical burns in futile efforts to rescue the boys.

Mrs. Dickey and Miss Tunnell escaped by dropping 17 feet to the ground from a second-floor bedroom.

The fire, which destroped the home, was traced to a defective oil stove.

Tooth decay is the disease said to affect the human race more extensively than any other, according to the Encyclopedia Britanica.

Two Texans Cited For Heroism; Awarded Bronze Medals By Carnegie Commission

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 30 (U.P.)—The Carnegie hero fund commission cited for outstanding heroism yesterday 24 persons who risked their lives in efforts to save others.

Six of those honored by the commission died in their rescue efforts. Bronze medals were awarded to the heroes or their survivors.

In addition, the commission, established by the late Pittsburgh steel pioneer, Andrew Carnegie, granted pensions totaling $3,120; made 18 awards for educational or other purposes totaling $6,750 and gave one $300 disability payment.

Rescue Is Recalled

A bronze medal was awarded Larry Nance, Marble Falls, Texas. Nance, 33, ranch-hand, rescued Marshall M. Atkins, 42, truck driver from burning at Fairyland, Tex., March 1, 1948. A trailer-truck driven by Atkins crashed into the side of a freight-train at a crossing. The train continued a short distance beyond the truck, which stopped with the left side of its cab tilted over the track.

The bottom of the left door was against the ties, holding the door half open. The gasoline tank beneath the seat was ruptured, and flames broke out on the underside of the truck. Atkins extended his head and arms through the doorway, but his foot was caught inside. Flames rose inside the cab, setting fire to his clothing below the hips, and issued out of the open right hand door window to a height of six feet. Two auxiliary tanks containing 40 gallons of gasoline apiece were just to the rear of the cab. Nance ran to the left side of the cab. Although warned by one of the trainmen of a possible explosion, Nance stooped, took hold of Atkins under the arms, and with difficulty pulled him out of the cab after working his foot free of its shoe. Nance dragged him four feet from the cab and removed his trousers. Aided by a trainman, Nance then carried Atkins farther from the track. Three minutes later the outlet pipe of one of the auxiliary tanks blew out, and flames rose 30 feet from the tank. Atkins died nine days later of his burns. Nance was not burned.

Dallas Man Honored

A bronze medal was awarded Albert W. Johnson, 411 Avenue H, Dallas, Tex.

Johnson, 50, trouble man, rescued Archie L. Spain, 49, also a trouble man, from electric shock, Dallas, Tex., June 17, 1948. While Spain was working 33 feet above ground on a pole, he was shocked by a wire charged with 7600 volts and fell back unconscious in his fastened safety-strap. An arc of flame extended between the wire and his hat, which had a metal band; and his shirt was afire. Johnson, who was below Spain on the pole, climbed to him. By then the arc had broken. Johnson fastened his own safety-strap around the pole between other wires and just below Spain's strap, and got behind him. He pressed Spain against the pole and extinguished the flames on his shirt. Spain slumped to a doubled up position astride Johnson's strap. Johnson raised him to a normal sitting position and began efforts to revive respiration, removing Spain's strap. Spain resumed breathing in four minutes and flailed his arms, kicked and shouted.

Aided By Men

For two minutes Johnson with great effort kept Spain's body and arms from touching the wires, Johnson's glasses being jarred off in the struggle. Spain became limp again, and for another two minutes Johnson resumed efforts at resuscitation. Again Spain partially revived and for two minutes struggled violently, but Johnson kept him away from the wires. Other men reached the pole and aided in lowering Spain, whose struggling had become feeble, to the ground by means of a rope. Johnson though weak and nervous descended unaided. Spain sustained serious burns but recovered.

Service Men Claim Hostesses In New Jersey USO Are 'Too Old'

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Oct. 30. (INS)—U. S. soldiers and sailors stationed in New Jersey complained tonight the USO hostesses are too old — they average 22 years of age.

Dwight B. Hoffman, state director of the service organization, said the comfplaints came from servicemen he contacted on a series of visits to various New Jersey USO centers. he said:

"The men keep saying the hostesses are too old. But our peacetime army is very young and it is understandable why young men of 17 and 18 consider 22-year-old women as old."

In Wales, cockfights formerly were held at church festivals, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

New Field Seen In Gaines Area

MIDLAND, Oct. 30 (Special)—Indications of the possibility of the discovery of a new Ellenberger oil field in central south Gaines county developed Saturday at the Samedam Oil corporation and Anderson Brothers of Midland No. 1 E. A. Andrews.

This project topped the Ellenburger at 11,895 feet on an elevation of 3,332 feet. It drilled to 11,945 feet and took a three-hour drillstem test with the packer at 11,913 feet.

There was a blow of air at the start of the period and a fair gas blow developed before the tool was closed.

Recovery was 1,620 feet of clean oil and the 3,000 foot water blanket, which was heavily cut with oil. There was no formation water.

The wildcat is to drill 35 feet deeper and run another drillstem test.

The possible new discovery is 660 feet from the north and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 19 block A-24 PSL survey and 15 miles southwest of Seminole.

It is on the northwest side of the Robertson field which already has production from the Glorieta and the upper clear fork of the Permian.

The oil fillup in the drill pipe during the test at 11,913-945 feet was at the rate of eight barrels of oil per hour.

No. 1-E-A Andrews developed flowing production of approximately 40 barrels per hour in the drillstem test of the zone at 10,062-090 feet in the top of the Devonian. The horizon at 10,062-125 feet in the Devonian made sulphur water with no shows of petroleum.

Baptists To Convene At El Paso Tuesday

EL PASO, Oct. (AP) — Thousands of Baptists will flock to El Paso Tuesday for the annual meeting of the 101-year-old Baptist General convention of Texas.

A raft of well-known denominational leaders from Texas, Tennessee, Oklahoma, and Louisiana will speak during the three-day meeting.

Delegates will hear a recommendation that half of a $5,000,000 budget be designated for world-wide causes.

Denominational causes within the state, which would receive the other $2,500,000 of the budget, have generally been allowed more than 50 per cent of the receipts.

Besides the regular budget, the convention will be asked to accept another $5,000,000 goal for individual gifts to Baptist institutions.

Pre-convention meetings of the Woman's Missionary union and the Men's Brotherhood will be held Monday and Tuesday. The general convention begins Tuesday night. Three thousand Baptists are expected.

The convention will hear financial and service reports from nine Baptist colleges and six Baptist hospitals in Texas.

Speakers will include: Dr. Duke McCall, executive secretary of the Southern Baptist convention, Nashville, Tenn.; Dr. Forrest Feezor, pastor of the First Baptist church, Waco; Dr. J. Howard Williams of Dallas, state executive secretary and Dr. W. A. Criswell, pastor of the First Baptist church, Dallas.

RELIGIOUS SPEAKER—Dr. W. McFerrin Stowe, pastor of the First Methodist church at Stillwater, will be speaker tonight through Thursday night at 8 p.m. as Texas Tech observes Religious Emphasis week. Dr. Stowe will stress the importance of religion in everyday life and outline the best ways of choosing a life's philosophy and career.

7,600-Mile-An-Hour Speeds Developed In Wind Tunnel

PASADENA, Calif., Oct. 30. (INS)—Air speeds of 7600 miles an hour—10 times the speed of sound—have been attained in a new hypersonic air tunnel.

The Disclosure was made jointly today by the California Institute of technology (Caltech) and the Army ordnance.

The air tunnel is located in a special building at Caltech and is being operated under Army ordnance contract.

The air speeds attained with it simulate conditions under which it would take a rocket missile to streak the distance from the American west coast to Australia in one hour.

Ballistics experts for Army ordnance started the project three years ago to study the tremendous speeds to be dealt with in the development of inter-continental missiles.

New Constitution For East Indies Okayed

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands, Oct. 30 (AP)—Delegates signed Saturday the provisional constitution of the soon-to-be-born East Indies Republic—The United States of Indonesia.

Independence is expected to be handed the 70 million people by mid-December when the Dutch formally transfer sovereignty over the islands, rich in rubber, tea and tin.

The provisional constitution was written by delegates who have been participating in a round table conference with the Dutch since Aug. 22. Formal agreement is expected at a session Nov. 3.

The constitution, yet to be ratified by the state legislatures is intended to serve as a charter for the Indonesians for a year. An elected constituent assembly then will fix the permanent form of government.

The constitution provides for a non-party president, a cabinet headed by a prime minister and a parliament consisting of a senate and house of representatives. The Senate will have two members from each state to protect state rights in a federal government. Its veto can be overridden by a two-thirds vote of the house of representatives elected on a population basis.

28 Guests Flee Fire In Marshall Hotel

Amarillo Man Is Saved By Officer

MARSHALL, Oct. 30. (AP)—Fire gutted the top floor of a four-story hotel annex early today and chased 28 guests to the street in their night clothes.

Smoke overcame an elderly guest, but a policeman saved him. A hotel clerk led a blind guest to safety from the third floor. Two firemen suffered minor injuries.

The blaze broke out in the annex of Hotel Marshall. The adjoining seven-story hotel was not damaged.

The fire burned out of control more than two hours. Firemen from Longview and Greggton helped fight it.

Other Floors Damaged

Fire Chief Carl L. Bechtold said the blaze began in a fourth-floor bedroom and was confined to that floor. The other three floors were damaged by water and smoke, he said.

Bechtold said he had not learned the cause of the blaze and damage had not been estimated.

Policeman R. T. Munden found Leonard H. Smith of Amarillo overcome by smoke on the fourth floor. Munden tied a rope around the elderly man and lowered him down a fire escape. Smith was treated at a hospital.

Bechtold and hotel manager Guy Massey said all others in the annex escaped without injury.

Tom Nelson, a clerk, said he was awakened by fire in his room on the southeast side of the fourth floor.

Blind Man Found

Nelson started down and found blind Alec Pitts, 65, of Greenville wandering around the third floor. Nelson led Pitts to the second floor and took him to the lobby by elevator.

Pete Harrison, a volunteer fireman, received a cut on the head. Fireman Frank McNeill fell 15 feet to the roof of an adjoining building but was not badly hurt.

Don Ferguson, night clerk, said he turned in the alarm after being notified of the fire by Mrs. Lula O'Leary, housekeeper, whose room was in the annex.

A number of guests saved their baggage as they fled. Some dressed as they scurried out of the burning building.

One man had his trousers on by the time he reached the hotel lobby. He calmly finished dressing, even putting on his tie and vest, while fire trucks poured streams of water into the annex.

Perkins Bros. department store, which occupies the ground floor of the annex, suffered some water damage, E. B. Maxwell, manager, said. The hotel is a part of the Sam B. Perkins estate.

100 Persons Are Reported Killed In Colombia Attack

BOGOTA, Colombia, Oct. 30 (AP)—Unconfirmed dispatches carried by the Liberal party press today reported more than 100 persons were killed in an attack by Conservatives in the department of Santander Norte.

El Tiempo said three outlying sections of the town of Salazar "were completely destroyed by conservative attackers." It gave no details.

Oil Activity Continues To Boom In Area

Drilling To Start On New Scurry Wildcat

Drilling is to be started shortly at a 7,200-foot wildcat to test into the Canyon reef lime in central-south Scurry county, one mile east of Dunn, and 12 miles southeast of the nearest completed producers in the Kelley-Canyon field.

The new exploration will be Burdell Oil company of New York No. 1 Walter Brown. It will be at the center of the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 65, block 3, H&GN survey. That will make the location approximately 11 miles south of Snyder.

The venture is to be supported by American Trading & Production corporation, Amerada Petroleum corporation, Superior Oil company, Honolulu Oil corporation and J. S. Abercrombie of Houston.

DRILLSTEM TEST SLATED ON SCURRY WILDCAT

S. B. Roberts of Abilene, and associates, No. 1 Lewis, central-west Scurry county wildcat is credited with having topped the Canyon reef lime at 6,836 feet, on an elevation of 2,438 feet.

That gives it a datum of minus 4,398 feet on that marker. It drilled to 6,870 feet and is to run a drillstem test.

Most interested observers figure that the Canyon water table probably will be found in this important wildcat between 6,890 feet and 6,940 feet.

According to those calculations the project could have as much as 100 feet of Canyon section above the water and it could make an oil well from that horizon.

It is located 467 feet from south and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 246, block 97, H&TC survey. That makes it seven miles west of Snyder, two miles west of the Kelley field and one and one half miles northeast of the fartherest out northeast well in the Diamond M field.

WILDCAT IS BOTTOMED AT 8,235 FEET

Stanolind Oil & Gas company No. 1 Whatley, central-north Scurry county wildcat, three miles north of the northwest side of the North Snyder-Canyon field, and 660 feet from south and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 548, block 97, H&TC survey, was bottomed at 8,235 feet in dolomite, which some geologists think may be the Ellenburger.

It was preparing to run a drillstem test.

The dolomite was topped at 8,210 feet. Elevation is 2,572 feet.

No. 1 Whatley is low, geologically to the North Snyder field, and it has been barren in all formations so far penetrated.

ELECTRIC LOG SURVEY CHECKS WELL FORMATION

Ray-Harris Drilling company of Dallas, and associates No. 1 Smith, southwest Scurry county prospector, one and three-quarter miles east of the southeast side of the Sharon Ridge-Canyon field, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 159, block 97, H&TC survey, was on a bottom of 8,035 feet in an unidentified white limestone. and was running an electric log survey to check the formations.

It may be in the Mississipian. So far it has failed to find any signs of petroleum in commercial quantities.

DRILLING CONTINUES ON SCURRY PROSPECTOR

Bert Fields of Dallas No. 1 Winston, south-central Scurry county wildcat, four miles southwest of Snyder, and one mile south and one and one half miles east of the closest completed producers on the southeast side of the Kelly-Canyon field, had reached 7,244 feet in dry lime and shale in the Pennslyvanian, and was drilling deeper.

It topped the Canyon reef at 6,905 feet, to give it a datum of minus 4,517 feet. So far it has not reported having developed any oil, gas or water.

COMPLETION WORK STARTED ON NORTH SNYDER WELL

Ramsey Petroleum company No. 1 Sentell, one mile east of the closest oil wells on the southeast side of the North Snyder field, in North-Central Scurry County, and 467 feet from north and west lines of tract 4, section 22, block 1, J. P. Smith survey, is in course of completion as an oil well.

The extender drilled to a bottom of 6,950 feet in the Canyon reef and cemented 5 ½-inch casing at total depth. The reef was topped at 6,798

Houston Faces Labor Troubles

HOUSTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Houston's labor-management situation entered what may be its most troubled week in history today.

Strikes already have nearly 3,000 workers idle, another 6,000 to 7,000 may be on strike by Thursday morning, and another 15,000 may be kept idle by refusing to cross picket lines.

Some 3,000 members of local 18 of the AFL Hod Carriers and Building common laborers union are to walkout at 8 a. m. tomorrow in demand of a 12 1/2 cent hourly wage hike. They now receive $1.07.

Building Tieup Seen

Union officials said the strike probably will tieup $80,000,000 worth of commercial and industrial construction, with some 10,000 other AFL unionists honoring the laborers' picket lines.

A strike for midnight Wednesday has been called by the 1,100 drivers and mechanics of the Houston Transit company.

They seek to have their current hourly wage of $1.17 boosted by 30-cents. Company officials have offered 10-cents and other benefits they say would be equivalent to another 5-cents.

The strike would give Houston its first major transportation tieup in history. Some 175,000 persons who take a total of about 300,000 bus rides a day would have to find other means of transportation.

There still is some possibility AFL longshoremen will strike at all western gulf ports at midnight Monday, but negotiators were optimistic today for a settlement.

In a surprise move, 2,000 of the 2,150 longshoremen at Port Houston took a holiday yesterday and today. The action tied up 20 ships in the port.

Union officials said the men would return to work tomorrow.

Negotiations are to be resumed tomorrow afternoon.

Port Houston and union officials estimate a walkout of the longshoremen would throw 5,000 other port workers idle.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30. (AP)—Dr. John L. Duzik, 32, fiance of actress June Haver, died in a Santa Monica hospital today following an operation. Miss Haver was at his bedside.

Asian Marshall Plan Is Mapped

PARIS, Oct. 30. (AP) — United States experts are working on preliminary blueprints for a junior Marshall plan for Asia, an American official disclosed today.

The early planning contemplates a request to Congress next summer for $1,000,000,000 to $1,250,000,000 for the first year to help stop Communism in Asia. Smaller requests would taper off the program in the next two or three years, just as it is intended to ease off Marshall plan appropriations for Europe.

Conference Called

Discussion of an Asiatic Marshall plan coincides with an announcement from Manila by Philippine President Elpidio Quirino that a preliminary conference will be called in January or February to organize a non-Communist union of southeast Asian countries.

It comes, also, as the U. S. State department is faced with the task of drawing a policy line on how far Communism will be allowed to spread in Asia.

The American informant, who preferred not to be identified, said present thinking of the experts is along the lines of aiding chiefly southeast Asia, where Chinese Communists are on the doorstep and where native Communist movements are taking on new courage. However, the experts would include some countries of the South Pacific, too.

They think these countries should be included in the invitations: India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Burma, Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines and perhaps Indonesia and Viet-Nam, the Indo-Chinese state recently given increased self-government by France.

Communists Lift Food Price Supports In Eastern Germany

BERLIN, Oct. 30. (AP) — The Communists pulled price supports from under rationed goods in eastern Germany today in an effort to stimulate trade in their Russian-style unrationed stores.

The eastern government announced the cancelling of subsidies that have kept prices of rationed foods, clothing and materiels within the reach of the low wage earner. An immediate increase in food prices was freely forecast.

At the same time, the ration-free stores announced a broad cut in prices, ranging in some cases up to 60 per cent. Their rates have been much higher than those of the rationed stores.

The average eastern German is unable to pay the prices in the unrationed stores. A man's shirt costs a month's salary. Most of the supplies are of the luxury type. Even a casual inspection of the east Berlin shops has revealed dwindling trade.

Hunting Dogs Are Reported Stampeding Motley Cattle

By TOM DAVIS
Avalanche Staff Writer

Livestock on Motley county ranches is being stampeded and otherwise menaced by hunting dogs, The Matador Tribune reports.

"Last week, three hunting dogs entered the corrals at a ranch home and killed a milk-pen calf. One dog was shot and killed by the ranch owner's wife," the newspaper said in a front page article.

Another stock farmer said he spent a week hunting cattle that had been stampeded and run through fences by hunting dogs.

"In most instances," the article continued, "hunters were on premises without permission of owners. The present law requires written permission of the owner for hunting rights. It is believed that most of the hunters and their registered hunting dogs are from the vicinity of Plainview."

The Tribune points out that under Texas law, a dog owner is liable for damage whether the dog is tagged or not. A dog suspected of killing livestock may be detained. Any dog known to be a killer must be destroyed.

"The dog owner is first requested to kill the dog. If he refuses, a peace officer may go on the dog owner's premises and shoot the dog without the formality of a search warrant."

Cotton Labor Story

Ernest Joiner, editor and publisher of The Ralls Banner, after a few crisp remarks on matters much more important, passed on this bright little paragraph in his column, "It Sez Here":

"The frantic Crosby county farmer was in Lubbock this week trying to induce Mexican cotton pullers to gather his crop. One foreman of a labor gang told the farmer he would pick his cotton for $2.50. "You go to h . . .!" bellowed the enraged farmer. "No senor," the Mexican replied, "I'll go to Tahoka!"

The National Guard

WHILE not at all surprising, the consciousness of the importance of a strong and efficient National Guard to the nation's security, as evidenced in the convention of the National Guard association last week in Montgomery, Ala., was reassuring.

It is axiomatic in such rugged sports as football that no team is stronger than its reserves. The same statement can be applied with greater truth to the armed forces—particularly those of a democracy which keeps relatively few of its citizens under arms in peace time.

If the U. S. should be precipitated into war, the enemy almost certainly would attempt a quick knockout of our Army, Navy, and Air Force. If those services survived the first blow, they would require reinforcing with all the speed and strength possible. The National Guard obviously would be a chief source upon which to draw for this purpose.

If the enemy should succeed in seriously disrupting our regular forces on the battlefronts, the role of the National Guard would become even more vital. It is conceivable that the Guard could become our chief reliance for survival, presenting our only organized resistance while the nation sought to make use of its enormous latent strength.

Under any war conditions possible to imagine, a strong and efficient National Guard would be a vital need. If time allowed, it would be the nucleus about which to crystalize the terrific civilian power into military forces reminiscent of those which have preserved the democratic way of life in two world wars within one generation. Sudden conditions of sufficient desperation can be imagined under which the Guard would become our sole and last remaining line of defense.

The National Guard must be kept strong and, thank Heaven, that clearly is the intent of those who are entrusted with the chief responsibility for the military security of the nation.

A Gordion Knot

THOSE who are close to the whole picture are confident that an arrangement can and will be worked out which will make possible the utilization of Lubbock Municipal airport for limited military pilot training without seriously restricting its present airline and other civilian uses.

Obviously, the airport cannot—and should not—be turned over to the Air Force. Lubbock is developing into one of the more important inland air centers west of the Mississippi river. Much of that growth and the prospects for its continuance have been and are due to the excellence of the facilities at the Municipal airport.

Lubbock cannot sacrifice its place and prospects in the peacetime aviation picture for anyone. Fortunately, the personnel of the Reese Air Force base appreciates this. But officers there are confronted with the problem of carrying on a training program which requires facilities larger than those available at RAFB. Lubbock's interests demand all the cooperation that reasonably can be given in solving their problem. If RAFB does not train enough pilots, the base may be reduced in size. It could be deactivated.

No one wants RAFB to suffer. No one wants restrictions upon civilian aviation.

We do not believe either of these will happen. We know, for a certainty, that everyone concerned is seeking diligently to find an answer which will solve the problem without serious injury to either objective. The continuation of this effort, which has been wholly devoid of anything suggesting friction, we predict, will produce a workable solution of present problems that will not work unreasonable hardship to anyone.

Radio Moscow says, "Slave labor exists in capitalist countries." Yes the boss slaves to get the capital to meet the payroll.

Instead of emphasizing the fact "it could happen here," the chances are it has already happened here.

One thing may be said for a child whose parents would sell her. The child is better off to be sold away from such parents.

It's Nice Somebody Likes It

Someone To Love

BY IRENE LONNEN ERNHART

Distributed By NEA, Inc.

(THE STORY: Jenny's marriage to Tod Duncan has been unhappy because Tod can't forget Liz Conover, who jilted him before his marriage and who now is trying to win Tod back. Liz invites Tod to a cocktail party given by her father's advertising firm. When he returns to his basement apartment he finds Rick Morris, an old friend, visiting. He remembers to apologize the next day for accusing Rick with being in love with Jenny and then tells Jenny he has been offered a very good position with the Conover firm. It will mean an end of skimping, he says.)

XXV

THE write-up of the Conover party gave more space to Tod than it did to the guest of honor, it seemed to Jenny.

The pictures of Tod were extremely flattering—"Tod Duncan, former All-American." And Liz was looking her usual perfect self, like something out of a fashion magazine.

Jenny didn't blame Tod for feeling heady, after such an experience, and to have received Mr. Conover's job offer on top of it.

They began at once to look for a house. The bright young man in the Conover agency could not live in a musty basement in an obscure and slightly tawdry section of town. Tod would have chosen a house in some exclusive new development, but Jenny found one in a less pretentious suburban neighborhood, a modest colonial with an acre of ground and a small orchard.

It was wonderful to get the twins into the pink and white freshness of a nursery all their own. Nice, too, to be able to buy the things one needed from Max, without feeling guilty.

Max was thinking of selling his shop. Business had declined some and he had always dreamed of buying a trailer and going to Florida. Now seemed an opportune time. He suggested that Jenny go into partnership with Nina and take over the shop.

"But, Max, there's no need now for me to work with Tod's new job, and besides I haven't the money to invest in anything like that."

Max waved his hand and shrugged. "Borrow like I did."

"There's still Tod and the twins, my first and most important job."

Max turned away, lighting one of his long cigarettes. "If you change your mind," he broke off, shrugged again.

There was something vaguely puzzling to Jenny in Max's attitude, and in Nina's too. Nina had forgotten the quarrel and she warmly urged Jenny to do as Max suggested.

JENNY hired a girl to look after the twins while she shopped for furniture for the new house and conferred with a decorator. The furniture that had been her mother's looked out of place in the spanking newness of the house, and Tod wanted everything new. The bill for the furniture frightened her, but Tod waved it aside airily.

He'd have it paid off in no time once he got a few good accounts lined up. Besides the furniture was a good investment. He wanted to have a big housewarming and invite a lot of important people.

They scarcely had a moment together any more. Tod worked late quite often, and he was always having to see an important client out of office hours. He saw an awful lot of Liz too, openly under guise of business. But its openness did not prevent its being observed.

Maurine Cory's gossip column carried a small note. "Is there a marital rift in the offing for a certain prominent football player turned advertising genius? Or is it strictly business with that beauteous boss's daughter he's been squiring to cocktail parties?"

Jenny didn't mention it to Tod. But she wondered whether gossip about Liz and Tod had anything to do with Max's suggestion that she might change her mind about going into partnership with Nina.

Then Tod one evening mentioned a new account he'd acquired for the firm only that day. "You see, Jenny, I told you it wouldn't take long to pay for the furniture. The commission on that single account will almost do it. If it hadn't been for Liz I—"

"You see an awful lot of Liz, don't you?" Jenny said. She tried not to let that note of coolness creep into her voice.

"After all, Jenny," he burst out as he rose from his chair, "there isn't any way to avoid seeing a lot of Liz when we work in the same office. But think what it's meant to work there!"

Yes, she was thinking, it certainly had changed things. It was as though a magic wand had been waved over them. A month ago they had been lost in a welter of ever-mounting bills, and half crazy over the money situation. Funny how much money really meant. Everyone was always saying, "Money can't buy everything," but that was silly, wasn't it? Because there were few worthwhile things that money couldn't buy.

It brought a comfortable place to live, and fresh air and sunshine and exquisite new outfits for the babies. You didn't have to shop around to save three cents on a dozen of oranges, or spend hours trying to save a few dollars making little overalls for the babies out of remnants you'd picked up in a basement somewhere.

THE came the night of their house-warming.

Jenny was uneasy because Rick was practically the only person present with whom she was acquainted, excepting Liz Conover, of course. She felt uncomfortable, because these people moved in a world she had never known.

Jenny and Rick slipped off upstairs to the nursery to look in on the twins. There was so much noise downstairs Jenny was afraid they might waken. She and Rick were talking in whispers over the cribs in the nursery when they heard voices from across the hall. Jenny froze and Rick gripped her arm hard as they listened.

INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 — Man named Bill McKenney, an outstanding figure in contract bridge circles for many years, set out at the start of the war to mobilize a little action out of the country's cardplayers. He planned to raise funds to buy extra machine guns and ammunition.

Then it occurred to him that, in time, there would be a peace and the guns would be forgotten. So, instead, he organized War Orphans Scholarships, Inc., a non-profit group which has placed more than 300 sons and daughters of killed and maimed veterans in schools and colleges—and is keeping them there.

Others Join Move

The tab has been generously picked up, so far, by bridge clubs, schools, individuals, a few American Legion posts, by McKenney and his committee, which includes Maj. Gen. P. C. Harris (Ret.), Brig. Gen. Frank T. Tines (Ret.), Capt. Watson B. Miller, commissioner of immigration and naturalization, and others. But they realize the surface has hardly been scratched.

About 100,000 children of World War II's American dead or hopelessly disabled are approaching high school or college ages. It is a true and shocking fact that a great percentage of these will not go much beyond grade school because they have no means of continuing their educations. Some states help a bit, others not at all. The GI bill of rights provides no aid whatsoever.

McKENNEY'S group has been able to gain the promise of thousands of scholarships, mainly from technical schools. He has compiled lists of thousands of names of children whose educations are imperiled as a result of war losses. When each reaches the age of 14, he or she gets a letter from McKenney's committee, urging the child to continue in school and holding out the hope of help.

But as McKenney pointed out to me the other day at his New York hotel headquarters, more than scholarships are needed to make War Orphans Scholarships, Inc., work properly. He said:

"The average kid in high school or college who needs a few extra dollars for a suit or dress or a ticket to a picnic just sits down and writes a 'Dear Dad' note. And gets the money. Our kids can't, so we're setting up a 'Dear Dad' department to take care of such needs. And nothing's going to stop us," he swore, with the de-

AMERICANS IN ITALY

Return To U.S. Goal

By ROGER WARREN
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, — Congressman Francis E. Walter of Pennsylvania will introduce in the next Congress a bill to restore citizenship to Americans who helped Italy win Europe's most critical election battle against Stalin but who, in doing so, lost their franchise and their chance of returning home.

These involuntary exiles are 4,000 native-born and naturalized Americans. They were caught in Italy at the outbreak of the war through inability to get transportation.

Later, in response to urging by United States officials in Rome, they participated in the 1948 election which stopped cold the western tide of Communism. Recently when shipping became available, they were refused passage papers by American consuls solely because of a 1940 Federal law which denationalizes Americans participating in foreign voting.

SHOCKED: Their plight came to the attention of warm-hearted Congressman Walter, Chairman of the Immigration Committee of the House Judiciary Committee, while on an official tour of Germany and Italy this month. He was so shocked by the seeming ingratitude of Uncle Sam that he is now preparing legislation to remove the ban.

The story begins when Mussolini stabbed France in the back and went to war. American businessmen and other Americans who had been visiting relatives in Italy were stranded. They stayed on even after the close of the war because their errands were incompleted and shipping still was very scarce.

In the meanwhile two important elections occurred. The first was in June, 1946, in which voters were offered a choice between a monarchial and republican form of government. The second was the contest in April, 1948, to control the newly formed Legislative Assembly.

VOTE: This developed into the most important European election in the struggle between the East and West. Togliatti's party, supported by funds and other aid from Russia, confronted de Gasperi's followers, backed by the United States and all anti-Communists.

Both sides used every trick in the book to win. Communists smeared American capitalism, villified the Catholic church and threatened bodily harm. The tentative right wing government also put on the heat to persuade people to go to the polls.

It passed two laws, one of which said: "The exercise of the vote is an obligation, which no citizen can evade without failing in his specific duties to his country." Another with more teeth stated: "The list of persons, who, without justified motive, failed to vote in the election of the House of Deputies, will be posted for the duration of the month in a town hall."

STIGMA: Government leaders employed even more drastic measures. They warned that an absentee would have inserted on his identification certificate for years the words: "He has not voted." This stigma would have a black mark on his "good conduct file."

People, especially in the villages, were told that non-voters would have their ration cards cancelled, their living quarters taken away and their jobs abolished. Congressman Walter could discover no case in which these dire threats were carried out. But at the time tne scare note certainly influenced the electorate.

Actually, American citizens could not have been compelled to vote. But their names were on the police lists. Some, who were born in Italy and later became naturalized Americans, still were in the old military conscription rolls. Many visitors did not realize that Uncle Sam had laws forbidding dual balloting.

INVOLVED: Besides, the United States was deeply involved in preventing the Soviet Union from winning the election. Washington feared that a Red triumph would be followed by Communist victories in France, Austria and West Germany. It would have frightened nations from joining the Atlantic Pact and eventually the whole continent might have fallen to Stalin.

Famous Americans in the United States on short wave radios pleaded with Italians to vote. Hundreds of thousands of Italo-Americans wrote letters to friends and relatives in the old country to take part.

American officials and U. S. Army officers in Italy rounded up Americans, urging them to tell Italians how Democracy works. Word got around that if they did not vote they would be branded as Reds or Fascists and would be deprived of visas home.

These pressures and the earnest desire to save Italy from Communism caused 4,000 Americans to participate. Many were of Italian extraction, born in the U.S.A. or naturalized. But others were American natives of old colonial stock.

PUNISHED: One was a naturalized Scandinavian-American who had been elected to the school committee in a city of the Middle West. He was so proud of his chosen country that night after night he stood on a street-corner campaign truck and in broken Scandinavian-Italian explained to listeners what Democracy was doing for school kids in the United States.

Now he and all the rest are being punished for their zeal in promoting American principles abroad.

As the result of the joint-efforts of campaigners, 92 per cent of Italian voters went to the ballot box—the highest vote in Italian history. De Gasperi's forces buried the Communists. Today Italy is free and grows stronger each month.

Up to now a few exiles have been allowed to return by means of private bills in Congress. Several hundred such special immigration and naturalization bills were introduced in this session but only a few were passed.

Congressman Walter seeks to eliminate the delay and remove the injustice to fellow Americans by lumping all cases under an overall measure. Thus these 4,000 veterans in the front line election battle with Communism may come home with honor and that soon.

WASHINGTON — Fifty-three years ago, back in 1896, the U. S. Supreme Court delivered an opinion that has since offered a legal basis for segregation in places and institutions of a public character, such as means of transportation, public schools, theaters, colleges and the like.

It was the case known as Plessy versus Ferguson, directly involving segregation in public conveyances, in which the court held that segregation was not discrimination. Rejecting the contention that enforced separation of races was "a badge of inferiority," it put forth the thesis that if it caused such feelings "it is not by reason of anything in the act, cut solely because the colored race choose to put that construction on it."

Decision Is Scored

Anyone who knows human beings and the ways of men knows this isn't so at all, however one may stand on segregation. It was in a dissenting opinion in this case that Justice John M. Harlan made his famous observation that "our constitution is color blind."

Since that decision, which was just two years before the United States took its first, faltering steps into the stream of world politics, much has happened. Among other things, our nation has become a dominant world power with great moral influence that goes with its sheer physical strength and flows from its traditions. As a consequence, discriminations here tend to tarnish that moral influence and are exploited by those who discredit us, as manifest now in the propaganda use that Communists are making of racial discriminations in the world's greatest democracy.

THERE is something of all of that, as well as the plain intent of the 14th Amendment to our Constitution, in the Justice department's attempt to upset that 1896 concept in a case soon to be argued before the Supreme Court. It may be possible to get a broad decision on the whole issue of segregation, but at least the way should be opened for a later case directly on the constitutional guarantees. Argument of the case was postponed from October because of the accident suffered by Justice William O. Douglas who desires to participate, and it has been set down for December.

It is a very simple human case that everybody can understand. It has to do with Elmer W. Henderson, a negro, traveling representative of the wartime Fair Employment Practices commission who was unable to get a seat in the dining car of a train going from here to Birmingham, Alabama, on the night of May 17, 1942. The table set aside for negroes, with the customary curtain about it, was occupied by white people on the three different occasions when he went in to get his dinner and he was not permitted to eat.

Complaint Was Filed

He filed a compalint with the Interstate Commerce Commission on the ground of discrimination under the law prohibiting discriminations on common carriers. Ultimately, both the commission and a lower federal court, each by divided decisions, held that the railroad had complied with regulations under the Interstate Commerce Act requiring equal treatment for all passengers in interstate carriers.

In due course when Mr. Henderson carried an appeal to the Supreme Court, the ICC asked the Justice department to represent it. But the Justice department refused. Instead, after an examination of the case, it filed a brief with the court on behalf of Mr. Henderson, largely the work of Charles H. Weston, veteran lawyer. So we have the curious situation of one department of the government taking a case to the Supreme Court against another government agency.

• • • •

"EQUAL treatment means the same treatment," says the justice department brief in asking the highest court to set aside the ICC order and otherwise challenging the whole "separate but equal treatment" doctrine of the Plessy versus Ferguson case. It says also "in our view 'separate but equal' is as much a contradiction in terms as 'black but white.'"

The brief is an interesting sociological as well as legal document, offering quotations in a range from eminent sociologists, including Gunnar K. Myrdal, to the recent testimony of Jackie Robinson of the Brooklyn Dodgers before the House Un-American Activities committee. It suggests a re-examination and reconsideration of the earlier decision 53 years ago which it asks be overruled.

Majority Of Texans Expect No Major Changes In Rent Setup

By JOE BELDEN
Director, The Texas Poll

AUSTIN, Oct. 30—What will happen to rents now that federal controls have been lifted all over Texas?

A statewide survey of opinion by The Texas Poll indicates only about one out of every four renters is worrying about higher charges. The weight of opinion seems to be that rents will remain about the same during the next few months. And a good-sized minority—one out of every five—has been led to believe rents will soon be lower.

These findings are based on answers by a cross section of adults to the following question:

"Six months from now, do you think rents will be higher, lower, or about the same as now?"

	Renters Only	All Adults
Higher	28%	20%
Lower	19	25
About same	41	43
No opinion	12	12
	100%	100%

Officially, rent control ended in Texas on October 19, but actually it had been dead for more than a month when the curtain was finally drawn. In most places, Texas landlords have been free to charge what they please since August.

Most landlords did not take advantage of the first opportunity to raise rents. The survey shows some evidence of increasing rents, but 68 per cent of these renters who were questioned reported charges in their areas were remaining the same or going down.

This question was asked:

"Are rents on houses around here going up, going down, or staying about the same as they have been in the last month or two?"

	Renters Only	All Adults
Going up	19%	15%
Going down	6	6
Staying same	62	62
Don't know	13	17
	100%	100%

The survey shows that renters in cities of more than 50,000 population were most affected by increasing rents. Thirty per cent reported rents going up, seven per cent going down, fifty-six per cent remaining the same, and the rest didn't know.

Oklahoma Drys Plan Protest On Drinking Scenes In Films

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 30 (U.P.) —Hollywood producers are going to hear from Oklahoma drys who object to drinking scenes in the movies.

The social action commission of the Oklahoma City council of churches wants to know if liquor interests are promoting their product through the medium of the screen.

The commission said yesterday that the picture "Lost Boundaries," dealing with the negro problem, would have been a fine film if it hadn't had a drinking scene "that wasn't necessary to the plot."

Oklahoma voted last Sept. 27 to keep prohibition in its constitution.

San Francisco To Honor Nehru

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30. (INS) —Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, prime minister of India, will be welcomed to San Francisco tonight as he continues his three-weeks tour of the nation.

The political heir of the martyred Mahatma Gandhi, visiting the U. S. at the invitation of Truman, is getting what he describes as "an education in America."

An honor guard will greet the prime minister when he arrives at the San Francisco airport traveling in Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson's Constellation.

Many Travel With Nehru

He is accompanied by his sister, Madame Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit, India's ambassador to the U. S., his daughter, Mrs. Indria Gandhi, Loy Henderson, U. S. ambassador to India, S. K. California Governor Earl Warren will meet the prime minister at the airport as well as San Francisco Mayor Elmer Robertson and a civic reception committee.

Plans Three-Day Visit

He will spend three days in the San Francisco bay area leaving for Vancouver, B. C., Wednesday morning.

CARE, Relief Agency, Ordered To Evacuate Poland By Dec. 1

WARSAW, Poland, Oct. 30 (AP) —Another nation in the Russian sphere, Poland, is closing her doors on a western relief agency.

CARE, a U. S. relief organization, has been told to leave the country by Dec. 1, a CARE official said. CARE last February withdrew from Hungary because, agency officials said, it was unable to renew its agreement with the Hungarian Communist government.

Departure of CARE (Cooperative for American Remittances to Europe) would leave only two foreign relief agencies in Warsaw — the American Joint Distribution committee and American Relief for Poland. The international committee of the Red Cross has announced the Polish government has ordered closure of the Warsaw Red Cross office.

(A Red Cross spokesman in Geneva said his organization was told the order was part of a general move against all international organizations).

The weight of opinion seems to be that rents will remain about the same during the next few months. And a good-sized minority—one out of every five—has been led to believe rents will soon be lower.

These findings are based on answers by a cross section of adults to the following question:

"Six months from now, do you think rents will be higher, lower, or about the same as now?"

	Renters Only	All Adults
Higher	28%	20%

Officially, rent control ended in Texas on October 19, but actually it had been dead for more than a month when the curtain was finally drawn. In most places, Texas landlords have been free to charge what they please since August.

The survey shows that renters in cities of more than 50,000 population were most affected by increasing rents. Thirty per cent reported rents going up, seven per cent going down, fifty-six per cent remaining the same, and the rest didn't know.

ADMINISTRATION DELAY SCORED

Baruch Declares U. S. Lacks Civilian Atom Defense Plan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (INS)—Bernard M. Baruch charged today that the administration has failed to give American citizens any "understanding" of how to protect themselves against an atomic bomb explosion.

The "elder statesman" and adviser to a series of presidents charged also that this country has no industrial mobilization plan "except on paper."

He issued his blast in a letter to Rep. Kennedy (D-Mass), the World War II Navy veteran who recently protested to President Truman against what he said was lack of adequate civilian defense planning.

To Explore Question

The Senate-House Atomic committee has since announced it would explore the entire question of civilian atomic defense in open hearings shortly after Congress reconvenes in January.

Baruch, who is reported to have broken with President Truman during last summer's presidential campaign, was one of several to complain in letters to Kennedy against an atomic defense plan.

Baruch, one of the authors of the U.S. plan for world control of atomic weapons, wrote:

"I notice with interest your statement concerning civilian protection and the absolute lack of any plans.

"There have been a lot of discussions. Maybe there are some plans on paper but I don't think so. If a modern, push button war, with the dropping of atomic bombs, should occur, there is no preparation or understanding of what citizens can do to help or protect themselves.

"Nor is there any industrial mobilization plan except on paper.

"I am glad to see a young and vigorous man like you enlisted in the cause. More power to you."

The chamber of commerce of Honolulu, in a letter signed by Frank E. Midkiff, secretary of its armed services committee, said that "we who have suffered from the first Pearl Harbor feel that we do not want to be in line for the second one."

Nation's Security Exposed

The letter in effect agreed with Kennedy that the United States was "laying itself open to an atomic Pearl Harbor." It continued:

"We have been stressing particularly the necessity for maintaining adequate Pacific bases due to the fact that Communism backed by Russia, which now has the atom bomb, is spreading solidly throughout China."

Leonard Dreyfuss, director of civil defense in New Jersey, disclosed that a year ago the late defense secretary Forrestal asked all governors to appoint civil defense directors and "detailed the importance of this action."

Dreyfuss said that New Jersey went into action at once and built a state-wide defense network. He continued:

No Action Reported

"At that point, Washington folded p right from under us. There has been much talk since but no action.

"I think both the Army and National Security Resources board need to be jarred out of their complacency concerning civil defense. Either they should drop the whole business or do it right."

Kennedy disclosed that among others who have backed up this protest were Brig. Gen. Raymond F. Hufft, civilian defense chairman.

The congressman said the many letters he received give "further evidence of the deplorable manner in which the federal government has handled this whole civil defense planning program."

Need Help In U. S. Too

"We'll advance them the necessary money either in the shape of a loan or an outright gift, depending on their circumstances. Yes . . . Yes . . . I know there's a lot of suffering among the children overseas, but there's trouble here in this country, too. I say it's a crime that children of men who died to keep this country going aren't given every opportunity to gain the education they'll need to take care of themselves as men and women."

He wants names sent to him at War Orphans Scholarships, Inc., headquarters, the Park Sheraton Hotel, N. Y. C. His present list was compiled with the co-operation of the Veterans administration, but he feels that thousands of others are not listed.

THE organization is proud of what all of its scholars are doing. It singles out, especially Donald Lee Peterson, of Richfield, Idaho, now attending Southern Idaho college. The boy's father, a chief water tender, 2C, Regular Navy, died of wounds received in action and was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor. Young Peterson had to drop out of school after his father's death; was returned by War Orphans Scholarships, Inc.

A Newark cab driver whose father was killed in World War I and whose stepfather was killed in World War II is now attending the Newark college of engineering. A girl who had to drop out of the University of Louisiana to help support her war-widowed mother was sent through a beauty college and runs a beauty shop there now. The son of a Navy surgeon who went down with his ship in the Pacific is now at Columbia medical school. And so on.

There are actually 20,000 orphans of World War I vets who only now are of college age. Their fathers died of World War I injuries as late as the early 1930's. They, too, are eligible for help. So are "orphans" in the broader sense of the word: Young men and women whose hopes of high school and college training have been blasted as a direct result of war.

In a day of self-seeking, War Orphans Scholarships, Inc., stands out like a beacon.

26 Indicted In Houston Strike

HOUSTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—Twenty-six persons were indicted Saturday on charges of violation of the O'Daniel anti-strike violence law.

The Harris county grand jury returned eight felony indictments after completing its investigation of violence at the strike-bound Mathieson Chemical company plant.

Arthur Hajecate, secretary of Local 227 of the CIO Oil Workers International union, was named in two of the indictments.

The jury took its action only a few hours after District Judge Ben Moorhead extended for 10 days a court order limiting pickets at the plant to five.

Judge Extends Order

Moorhead also extended an order enjoining the oil workers from violence, threats and setting foot on company property.

The extensions were made by mutual agreement between company and union attorneys.

Union workers at the plant went on strike last August after negotiations for a new contract fell through. Union and company officials said wages were not the primary basis for the deadlock. Negotiations were resumed yesterday but Tom Davis, attorney for the company, today said there still is a stalemate.

Plant Violence Charged

The indictments alleged violence took place at the plant on Sept. 7 and 8 and Oct. 14 and 18.

A railroad bridge near the plant was burned mysteriously in early September and several AFL construction union workers charged they were attacked by CIO oil workers as they were repairing the damage.

The company decided to reopen its plant Oct. 17 despite the strike and charges that striking union members threw rocks at buses and automobiles entering the plant.

The court order limiting pickets to five originally was granted Oct. 18.

U. S. Airman Is Nabbed After Driving To Wrong Frankfurt

BERLIN, Oct. 30. (AP)—A U. S. Air Force lieutenant, Robert P. Gruber, has learned the hard way that there are two Frankfurts in Germany.

Gruber set out by auto Friday for Frankfurt on the Main, in the U. S.-occupied zone of Western Germany. He followed highway signs to Frankfurt on the Oder, deep in the Soviet zone.

The Russians arrested him. They released him to U. S. military police in Berlin late last night.

Gruber took off again today, with a road map.

Antonio Romano, Brooklyn, N. Y., built an exact miniature of the liner Rex, although he never saw the steamship.

Drilling Scheduled To Start On New Wildcat In Scurry County

feet, to give it a datum of minus 4,308 feet.

The casing has been perforated at 6,860-90 feet, and that interval had been washed with 500 gallons of mud acid and treated with 500 gallons of regular acid.

The well kicked off and flowed at the rate of 25 barrels of oil per hour. Potential test will be taken soon and following that the well will be put on production.

PRODUCTION TESTS SLATED ON SCURRY PROSPECTOR

L. M. Lockhart of Corpus Christi No. 1 B. M. McHaney, one mile south of the nearest production oc from the Canyon lime reef on the southeast side of the North Snyder field in north-central Scurry county is preparing to make production tests and try to complete as an oil well.

This venture is located 467 feet from north and west lines of the northeast 160 acres in section 177, block 3, H&GN survey and four miles north of the town of Snyder.

It drilled to depth of 6,897 feet. The reef was topped at 6,748 feet, on an elevation of 2,397 feet.

A drillstem test at 6,830-70 feet had some good indications of production. However the project has not flowed any oil up to now.

THREE NEW PRODUCERS ARE REPORTED COMPLETED

Completion of three new producers from the Canyon lime reef were reported from Scurry county. Two of the new wells are in the Kelley field and the third is in the North Snyder area.

Magnolia No. 1 Haney, 660 feet from south and west lines of the northwest quarter of section 209, block 97, H&TC survey, made a daily initial production of 209.46 barrels of 43.2 gravity oil, flowing through a 10/64th inch choke. The flow was natural and there was no water. Gas-oil ratio was 783-1. The production is from open hole at 6,725-50 feet. This well is in the Kelley field.

Moncrief, Hope, Crosby and Teas No. 1 Vaughn, 467 feet from south and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 249, block 97, H&TC survey, and also in the Kelley area, reported a 24-hour potential of 596.16 barrels of 43 gravity oil. The test was flowing through an 18/64th inch choke. Gas-oil ratio was 926-1.

The production was natural from open hole at 6,648-6,800 feet.

NEW LOCATIONS FOR CANYON REEF STAKED

New locations for Canyon reef exploration have been reported for immediate drilling in the Sharon Ridge-Canyon and in the Kelley fields in Scurry county.

The Sharon Ridge exploration will be Humble No. 3 Wright Huddleston. It is 1,830 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 163, block 97, H&TC survey. It is projected to 7,000 feet. The venture is 14 miles southwest of Snyder.

Lone Star Producing company No. 2 O. C. Rosson is to be a Kelley development. It is 660 feet from north and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 209, block 97, H&TC survey, and four miles west of Snyder. Its proposed destination is 7,000 feet.

ECTOR COUNTY WELL RUNS DRILLSTEM TEST

The Texas company No. 1 Springer, southwest Ector county prospector to 9,800 feet to test into the Ellenburger, four miles north and west of Penwell, ran a drillstem test at 7,690-7,754 feet in an unidentified lime and chert formation.

The tool was open one and one-half hours. There was a good blow of air and gas at the surface for most of the period.

Recovery was 16 stands of free gas in the drill pipe and 150 feet of gas cut mud with a slight show of oil. There were no indications of formation water.

The project is to drill deeper. It is between the Jordan-Ellenburger and the Yarborough and Allen-Ellenburger fields, and 1,980 feet from east and 660 feet from south lines of section 22, block B-15, psl survey.

DAWSON COUNTY WELL DRILLS AT 11,553 FEET

Seaboard Oil company of Delaware No. 1 Barrow, deep wildcat in central Dawson county, three and one half miles northeast of Lamesa and 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 8, block 35, TP survey, T-6-N, was making hole below 11,553 feet in an unidentified lime.

This venture developed large amounts of sulphur water in a drillstem test at 11,259-512 feet.

The tool was open for 64 minutes. There was a good blow of air at the surface during most of the period.

Recovery was the 2,500-foot water blanket, 940 feet of drilling mud and 7,140 feet of salty water. There were no shows of oil or gas.

DUAL COMPLETION SET ON ANDERS WILDCAT

Dual completion from the Clear Fork and from the Devonian is planned by Cities Service Oil company at two new projects in the Dollarhide field of southwest Andrews county, 15 miles northeast of Jal.

Both of the ventures are to drill to 8,000, using rotary tools.

No. 1-H Cowden is to be located 660 feet from north and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 14, block A-52, psl survey.

Cities Service No. 2-G Cowden is to be 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 15, block A-52, psl survey.

Drilling is to begin in the near future.

GAINES COUNTY EXTENSION COMPLETED AS PRODUCER

L. F. Peterson and J. Guy McMillian of Midland have completed their No. 3 Scanlon Foundation as a one location extension to the San Andres lime producing area on the east side of the Cedar Lake field in northeast Gaines county.

picture to make us believe it.

"Terry county has long been considered a good bean-growing territory, but a newcomer has appeared on the scene—the Guiana bean," Didway writes.

"Jay Barrett left one, 44 inches long and weighing six pounds, at the Soil Conservation service office in the courthouse. Riley W. Carlton, SCS work supervisor, said, 'Let's have a bean for dinner!'"

Wrong Group Made Trip

J. L. Suits, editor of The Petersburg Journal, had a few comments on the recent trip to Washington by a group of South Plains men seeking better loans on cottonseed for the farmer.

"They were turned down flat on their proposition," he wrote. "The wrong people made this trip. It was composed of oil mill and gin people.

"Grass root farmers should of made this trip as they are the ones that would be benefitted. Washington authorities were skeptical of their motives. These men are among our very best business men of the South Plains area, but they failed to use good judgment in their undertaking.

"They should of pushed good, successful farmers out in the lead and lent their support in every way possible in the background. They just did not consider the political angle they were to encounter at Washington. Good, sound business propositions get very little consideration in Washington these days."

A report last week on Editor Suits and his Lubbock parking difficulties prompted a letter from a South Plains lady. Although she had good suggestions, she unfortunately failed to sign her name.

Money Making Plan

Want to know how to save money?

Edgar R. Hays, editor of The Lockney Beacon, passes on a little story on that subject.

"We used to know an old fellow who had quite a reputation for his ability to keep his budget balanced. He had an old pocketbook that he used to wrap up with about three or four feet of leather thong.

"We asked him one day why he used all that string when a fourth of it would have done. 'Well, sonny,' he said, 'that piece of string has saved me a lot of money. I've changed my mind a good many times about a deal before I got that string unwound.'"

Raises Pertinent Question

And another question, this one from A. M. Jackson, editor of The Slaton Slatonite. "What do the children play with these days?"

"When I was a boy, every boy's pocket was crammed with marbles, a top or two, a sling shot and some bird shot for air guns. A boy under 16 never wore shoes in the summer time and most of the girls under 12 went barefooted, but today it seems that the only kids who play with marbles are the little tots and they leave them around on the floor for grown folks to step on.

"Now days I doubt that there is a sling shot in Slaton and perhaps in West Texas. I have not seen boys playing marbles for keeps in years and years and the toy shops never show a top. Perhaps the good old days were not what they were cracked up to be with their sore toes, diphtheria, good fishing and hunting, bum roads and queer looking automobiles, women with meat on their bones, big family dinners, men with mustaches and everyone with time enough to have a big family gathering once in a while.

"How in the world we got along without radios, hot dogs and income taxes I cannot understand."

Two Children Die In Blazing Home As Rescue Effort Fails

CENTRALIA, Wash., Oct. 30 (AP)—Two little boys burned to death today as their mother and a young baby sitter, both seared by flames, tried vainly to reach them in the bedroom of their blazing home.

The victims were John Dickey, 3, and his brother, Billie, 2, sons of Mrs. Jean Dickey, daughter of the Centralia postmaster.

Both Mrs. Dickey and the "sitter," Dessie Tunnell, 16, were hospitalized after jumping 14 feet to the ground from the boys' bedroom window, their nightclothing afire.
