Tension Eases As Slavs Start Evacuating Austrian Provinces

By Gayle Talbot
Associated Press Staff Writer

TENSION eased somewhat in the Allies' dispute with Marshal Tito last night as Yugoslav troops began evacuating the Austrian provinces of Carinthia and Styria which they previously had declared were part of "Greater Yugoslavia."

The Yugoslavs, who infiltrated into Austria after advance parties of the British Eighth Army had established zones of British military occupation in the two provinces, moved quickly toward the Yugoslav border in trucks supplied by the British.

Optimistic Over Trieste

With this first hopeful development in the disturbing post-war wrangle a high Allied officer expressed optimism that an agreement also would be reached on the disputed port of Trieste, now occupied jointly by Yugoslav and British troops.

Tito has taken the position that Trieste was liberated by his forces and that they thereby earned the right of occupation, but the high Allied officer reiterated the Allied contention that the port's garrison of 7,000 Germans surrendered to New Zealand forces.

One of the most awkward results of the dispute was that the British were using only a fraction of Trieste's port facilities, whereas they had planned to make it a main base of supply for the occupation of Austria. There was a serious food shortage in the area, but the Allies were taking no steps to bring in civilian supplies while Tito's troops clung to the pre-war Italian region.

Soviet-Trained Army

Emphasizing Russia's new westward influence among Europe's smaller nations, Czechoslovakia announced it would establish a new Soviet-trained Army whose size would remain a military secret.

Before the war Czechoslovakia had a mutual assistance pact with France and its border defense against Germany was known as the "Little Maginot line." A spokesman said last night, however, that new circumstances made it desirable to accept military aid from the Russians.

The supposed intimate details of the last days of Hitler and his military advisors in Berlin continued to pile up, the latest entry in the rush to tell all being a Dr. Theodore Morrell, who said he was Hitler's personal physician since 1936.

He said he last attended Hitler on April 21 and was flown out of Berlin the next day.

Hitler-Goering Fuss

One of Hitler's seven secretories told of a terrific row between the fuehrer and Hermann Goering last September over the continued failure of the Nazi air force. He declared the outburst made Hitler ill for a week and that he had to be put to bed before he recovered.

Norwegian police removed all buttons from Vidkun Quisling's clothing for fear he might break them and use their edges to cut his wrists. The former puppet premier was reported pacing his cell and shouting the defense he is expected to present at his trial for treason.

Reported Assassination Plot Revealed As Big Nazi Hoax

By GEORGE TUCKER
And AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Staff Writers

PARIS, May 21. — A gigantic hoax perpetrated by the Germans at the time of the Ardennes offensive last December was taken so seriously by the Allied command that a double replaced Gen. Eisenhower in the latter's official car and a drastic curfew was clamped on the Paris area to foil would-be Nazi assassins.

In an atmosphere which increased steadily in intensity, military police patrolled the streets of the capital and at least 43 roadblocks were set up covering all approaches to the city. Hundreds of arrests were made and there were numerous casualties as 50-caliber machineguns ripped into vehicles which ignored the roadblocks.

The story of the Nazi "plot" to kill Eisenhower and other high-rinking Allied officers—one of the top secrets of the European theater—became public property only last Thursday, after the U. S. Seventh Army captured Lt. Col. Otto Skorzeny, aide to Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler.

Censors permitted the disclosure that Skorzeny, who effected the spectacular rescue of Mussolini from Italian custody in 1943, was reported to have planned to lead a band of picked killers wearing American uniforms in a bold foray into the Allied rear at the height of Von Rundstedt's "bulge" offensive.

In an official statement today, Col. H. G. Sheen, chief of counter-intelligence at Allied headquarters, cleared up some of the missing chapters of the "plot" that threw Paris into confusion for days.

"We know now," he said, "that this was only a story and never at any time did Skorzeny or any of his people plan to carry out such an operation."

Evidence now has been gathered, he said, which shows conclusively that the Nazis planted the story of the assassination plan among their own forces to increase their morale and to sow confusion among the Allies, who were certain to get wind of it.

On the other hand, Skorzeny at the time of his capture last week was quoted by the service newspaper, Stars and Stripes, as saying he actually had planned an attempt on Eisenhower's life.

Sheen declined today to say when and how counter-intelligence arrived at the conclusion that the entire plot was a hoax, but it was recalled that roadblocks were maintained for months on all roads leading to Eisenhower's headquarters and that the utmost precautions were taken to protect other Allied officers.

The American officer who volunteered to serve as a decoy and occupy Eisenhower's official car on trips between St. Germains and Versailles was Lt. Col Baldwin B. Smith of Chicago, who bears a striking resemblance to the Allied commander-in-chief.

Death Blow Dealt Court Redistricting

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 21. — Court redistricting apparently died in the legislature today.

The House sent back to committee — where it had been under study for months — a compromise bill which abolished six district courts.

Killed before the bill the session ends was an amendment by Rep. C. M. McFarland of Wichita Falls seeking to abolish 19 courts. The vote on killing the McFarland amendment was 91 to 41.

Weeded Out One By One

Next up was a committee substitute bill abolishing six courts. One by one, by amendment, most of the courts were restored until Rep. Ennis Favors moved that the entire subject be rereferred to committee for further study. His motion was adopted, 96 to 21.

The action meant that court redistricting, recommended by Gov. Coke R. Stevenson when the session began in January, apparently was dead. The House also had killed a legislative redistricting bill, another recommendation of the Governor.

The House re-referred the judicial redistricting bill to committee despite a warning by Rep. Houston McMurry of Henrietta that members would be subject to public criticism if they do not redistrict courts and if they pass a pending bill to raise the salaries of district judges from $4,000 to $5,000 a year.

Dire Charge On Judges

Debate on the bill and amendments was interrupted by Rep. F. G. Swanson of Tyler who asserted:

"The main reason we have been unable to get over a court redistricting bill is that so many district judges are scrambling to hang on to the salaries they are now getting despite the fact that the judiciary was 20 per cent overmanned at the time of Pearl Harbor. They are scrambling like a bunch of ward heeling politicians."

Swanson asserted one district judge whom he otherwise identified as a former speaker of the House has spent more time around the legislature than he has on the bench.

Before it re-referred the general redistricting bill to committee the House finally passed a Senate bill abolishing the 88th district court in Eastland county (30,000 population) which has two district courts.

A few similar bills abolishing one court have been approved by the House.

Some of today's developments in the legislature may portend the end of the general session.

Senate adoption of a free conference committee report sent to the governor a $15,783,764 eleemosynary appropriation bill.

Whole Front Set Ablaze

GUAM, Tuesday, May 22 — A large force of Japanese — some of them wearing American Marine uniforms and using captured U. S. weapons—strongly attacked Sixth division Marines in the Naha sector of Okinawa Sunday night, but were repulsed with heavy losses.

Fierce action, some of the hottest of the long southern Okinawa campaign, raged all along the Naha-Shuri-Yonabaru line but Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz said the 10th U. S. Army made advances on both flanks and in the center.

Attack Before Dawn

Attacking before dawn, 77th division infantry captured Taira Machi, north of Shuri, despite intense small arms fire. This Statue of Liberty division already was within 900 yards of citadel Shuri's northeast fringes. Fighting doggedly all day and throwing back enemy attempts to retake Taira, the 77th moved south of the town in the evening.

Three groups of Japanese, in suicidal demolitions missions, tried to destroy tanks in the First Marine division sector. All were repulsed.

The 96th Infantry division moved slowly south toward Yonabaru town on the east coast although it was subjected to intense interlacing machine gun fire throughout Monday.

Five Vessels Damaged

About 35 Japanese planes, making their first strong air attack on Okinawa shipping in several days, damaged five light American vessels Sunday evening. Twenty-six of the attackers, which came in at low level, were destroyed by fighter planes and ships' anti-aircraft.

Maj. Gen. Andrew D. Bruce's 77th division launched its surprise attack at 3 a. m.—not long after Maj. Gen. Lemuel C. Shepard, jr.'s Sixth division Marines had fought off the Naha counterattack by 400 to 600 Japanese. Half of the attackers were killed and the rest driven back by the Leatherneck veterans.

Lt. Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner, jr.'s 10th Army attacked heavily along most of the Okinawa front throughout yesterday against continued stiff resistance from cave and pillbox-entrenched Nipponese.

The 77th division's attack in darkness was the most spectacular push. The doughboys were met

Grim Notice Given Japs As Veteran U. S. First Army Heads For Pacific

WASHINGTON, May 21 (AP)—The United States served grim notice on Japan tonight that the First Army, which played a leading part in cracking Hitler's European fortress, is headed for the Pacific war.

Openly, as it scorning Japan's ability to make any use of the information, the War department announced that the powerful outfit commanded by Gen. Courtney H. Hodges "is on the move" toward the Japanese.

Roughly 16 Divisions

As of April 12 there were 16 divisions of roughly 12,000 men each announced as comprising the First Army. Thus, unless the Army's strength has increased or decreased since then, approximately 192,000 men would be involved in the transfer.

The Army is being redeployed by way of the United States and its personnel will receive 30 day furloughs.

Preparing Heavy Blows

The announcement came at the close of a day in which President Truman declared, at a congressional ceremony honoring a Medal of Honor winner, that the United States is preparing to strike at Japan "in overwhelming force." It underscored recent warnings by the President and others that it would be wise on Japan's part to surrender quickly.

The War department statement concerning the First Army said:

"It is being redeployed by way of the United States, and its personnel will receive furloughs before proceeding to the war against Japan.

"The divisions and Army corps that fight with the First Army against Japan will not necessarily be the same as those that fought in Germany. However, enough veteran units and veteran personnel will take the field under Gen. Hodges to insure the same vigorous assault against the Japanese as was made by the First Army against the Germans.

"The fighting record of the First Army ranks with the proudest in the Allied expeditionary

Parley Working For Early June Windup

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—Secretary of State Stettinius announced today that the United Nations conference had set for its goal completion of a new world charter early in June.

He told a news conference, too, that he expected to spend a day or two in Washington this week conferring with President Truman and State department officials on a whole series of problems unrelated to the conference.

Speedup Steps

Stettinius talked to reporters in the auditorium of the Veterans building immediately after a meeting of the conference steering committee which took steps to speed up the deliberations now in progress.

He expressed the hope technical committees would be able to finish most of their work this week. Next week a coordination committee will have redrafted committee proposals "in charter form" for submission to commissions operating on the next higher level.

After that, plenary sessions of the entire conference will approve and sign the charter.

Must Use Full Care

"I wish to emphasize," Stettinius said in a formal statement, "that while every effort will be made to reach these goals, we must not sacrifice either opportunity for full and free discussion or the utmost care in drafting in the interests of speed alone.

"The end of the war in Europe has placed us face to face with many urgent problems which require the attention of the delegates at this conference.

"But the establishment of the world organization for which we came here to write the charter is the only foundation upon which we can proceed to deal successfully with these other problems in the construction of lasting peace."

Silent On Truman

When asked whether President Truman might attend the final plenary sessions, Stettinius had no comment.

For himself, the secretary would return immediately from the capital and remain for the rest of the conference. The American delegation will be headed in his absence by Senators Connally (D., Tex.) and Vandenberg (R., Mich.), the vice-chairman. They will serve in rotation.

Stettinius said he was very much gratified at an agreement reached yesterday on the touchy issue of regional security. The solution helped smooth the way for the conference wind-up.

It was learned the steering committee formally approved a time table, previously circulated among

Most Of Trapped Japs Liquidated

By FRED HAMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

MANILA, Tuesday, May 22.—Two-thirds of a big Japanese force trapped in central Luzon's Ipo pocket were liquidated Sunday by the 43rd Infantry division and guerillas, a spokesman at Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

The spokesman, elaborating on the general's communique, added that all organized resistance south of Metropolitan road had been eliminated.

Ipo Dam Captured

Ipo dam itself, source of one-third of Manila's water, was captured Thursday in an action which encircled Nipponese defenders. Subsequently, a tank-led column split his force in two by taking Metropolitan road.

One hundred dead Japanese were counted on the road and 400 in a cave and in road defenses knocked out or abandoned.

The 38th Infantry division, operating a few miles southeast, continued its drive toward the Wawa dam behind a 150-plane, 5th Air force explosive and fire bomb strike. On central Luzon's Pacific coast, the First Cavalry, moving north toward Japanese positions at Infanta, hit opposition nine miles south of that objective and was fighting it out with a Nipponese force equipped with mortars, artillery and small arms.

Diplomas Presented 294 Graduates Here

The school motto—Sportsmanship, Then Victory—was the theme of commencement exercises of the 1944-45 senior class of Lubbock High school last night in the high school auditorium.

An all-student program of music and addresses emphasized the theme of sportsmanship in school, in character, in life and in government.

Margene Fry, who spoke on sportsmanship, then victory in school, explained that the school's motto was adopted in 1926. In 1921 the students assumed the name of Westerners. "We will never be ex-Westerners for the principles of a Westerner will always be with us," she said.

Steps In Sportsmanship

Ruth Cowart outlined the various steps in achieving sportsmanship, then victory in character. Jacquelyn Reynolds presented three poins on which a victorious life could be built—sportsmanship, which means honesty and courtesy, a firm belief in God and a steadfast goal to strive toward.

Betty Dennison, who spoke on sportsmanship, then victory in government, compared democracy to a good piece of steel. . . . It will bend but it will not break. "A spirit of fair play we believe will lead us to our goal. . . . Sportsmanship, then ever lasting peace."

The Westerner Symphonic band opened the exercises at 7:45 o'clock with a concert followed by the processional led by two boys of the junior class, Harold (Stony) Wall and Ray Simmons.

National Anthem

The audience remained standing while the band played the National Anthem. Deane Pierce gave the invocation, and the senior girls' chorus softly sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Dedication."

Highlight of the program was two choral readings presented by the senior verse choir . . . "I Like Americans" and "Ballad for Americans" which was a history of the early days of democracy.

Bill Slagle played a clarinet solo, "Concert Theme," accompanied at the piano by Rayburn Jones. Mary Lois Finley and Rayburn played a piano duo called "Bolero."

Joe Arrington, Jr., president of the class who acted as master of ceremonies, expressed the class' appreciation to the faculty, the sponsors, the principal and the superintendent for their excellent guidance the last year.

Floyd Honey, principal of high school, presented scholarships from the Southern Association of colleges to the highest honor student, Mary Belle Richards, and the highest honor boy student, Giles Carter. Honey pointed out

Police Guard Against Suicide By Quisling

OSLO, Norway, May 20. (Delayed) (AP) — Police have removed all buttons from Vidkun Quisling's clothes to eliminate the possibility of suicide, an officer at Moelergaten 19 prison said today.

The former puppet premier is dejected. It was felt that he might break the buttons and use their jagged edges to cut his wrists.

He paces his cell continually, muttering or shouting the defense which he is expected to present at his trial for treason.

The officer said the prisoner argues his case for hours at a time, declared as if to a judge and jury that he, Quisling, saved Norway from a terrible fate by assuming control and pretending to cooperate with the Germans.

The police officer, who requested that his name not be used, said Quisling is in better health than when he entered prison.

The Norwegian government still is reluctant to release any news about the man whose name became synonymous with traitor.

Truman Working Out New Time System

WASHINGTON, May 21. (AP) — President Truman was reported today to be attempting to work out a new approach to the problem of war time.

Maitland Jones Is Found Shot

Maitland Jones, about 53, owner of extensive property in and around Lubbock, was critically wounded by gunshot Monday night at his residence, 2322 Eighteenth, under mysterious circumstances which came under police and sheriff's department surveillance.

A bullet, apparently shot from a small caliber pistol, entered near Jones' heart and ranged upward, coming out near the left shoulder blade. A physician at West Texas hospital said he believed that Jones had a good chance to "pull through." The bullet pierced a lung.

Operator Relays Message

A telephone operator relayed a message from Jones to the police department at 9:06 o'clock.

Prowl car patrolmen Henry Smith and A. D. Williams discovered Jones lying on a bed in the northeast bedroom of his five-room dwelling. He was rushed to the hospital in a Plains ambulance.

Smith quoted Jones as saying, "Somebody shot me and I have a pretty good idea who it was."

Officers found a .22 caliber pistol in a drawer of a dresser in the bedroom where Jones was found. There was evidence that it had been fired recently. A small slug was found on the floor.

Vague About Incident

Officers said Jones was vague about the incident. He did not offer them any concrete information about the shooting, they said.

In the emergency ward at West Texas hospital, Jones smoked a cigaret and said he was convinced that he was going to get well—"and I'm going to do some shooting."

Jones, the son of the late E. M.

Bond Drive Reaches 25 Percent Of Goal

WASHINGTON, May 21. (AP) — The public has lent the government $1,746,000,000 so far in the Seventh war loan, the treasury announced today.

This figure represents bond sales to individuals — corporations investments don't enter the picture until June 18. The individual sales are 25 per cent of the $7,000,000,000 quota.

Sales of series E bonds represent $1,198,000,000 of the total so far. That's 30 per cent of the $4,000,000,000 E bond quota.

The bond drive is one week old. There are six weeks to go.

Ted R. Gamble, national war finance division, commenting on the large continuing costs of war, said today it will take $390,000,000 out of the funds being raised in this bond drive to pay the $300 discharge payments to the 1,300,000 men whom the Army plans to release within a year.

Senator Says Weight Limit On Hogs Lifted

WASHINGTON, May 21 (AP) — Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said today the War Food admanistration has removed the weight limits on hogs in the price support program.

Both Hinkenlooper and Rep Talle (R-Iowa) said War Food Administrator Marvin Jones had informed them the removal became effective today.

The weight limit has been 300 pounds.

Troop Train Wreck Injures Twenty-Four

PIQUA, O., May 21 (AP)—Twenty-four soldiers, all veterans of two or more years of overseas service, were injured today when a troop train was derailed on an embankment near downtown Piqua.

There was no immediate explanation of the derailment. Eight cars of the 14-car westbound train were derailed, two of them plunging down a 20-foot embankment, and three others falling part way down the hill.

Capt. John B. Mitchell, officer in charge of the train, said there were nearly 400 officers and men aboard the train, which was en route to Camp Atterbury, Ind., Jefferson Barracks, Mo., and Fort Bliss, Tex. All of the men, he said, were to report at one of the three camps before going home on furloughs.

RELATIONS RESUMED

Lasting Peace Laid At Big Three Door

AS long as the United States, England and Russia are peaceful, the world will be peaceful, Walter C. Hornaday, just returned from the world security conference at San Francisco, said in Lubbock Monday afternoon.

Hornaday is the Washington correspondent of the Dallas Morning News. He is a veteran political writer.

The conference, he said, has "made a start" toward world peace, although there are imperfections as is natural when 49 nations get together and "all have different kinds of views, different religions and different languages."

The world security organization has a better chance to succeed than the League of Nations, because the people want peace, he said. The United States during the last war fought only 16 months, while it already has been in the present war three years and five months—and the casualties have been high. Other nations, too, including Russia, are ready for peace.

"Russia has lost more heavily than we have," he said.

Russia is willing to go along with a world security organization but it also wants its own security organization of Poland and other buffer states, he believes.

"Russia wants peace, but wants to make sure that they have peace. They figure that if this world organization fails to stick together, they will have these friendly states around them."

England and the United States "have been thrown close together by Russia's failure to be com-

FOR POSTWAR WORLD

HAD you thought of the postwar world as a time in which you'll get everything you want by merely touching a button? A time in which you may cook a steak, well done, medium or rare, all finished in five minutes of cooking time? An era in which you will live in a pre-fabricated home in which you may change one room and another in lieu of merely constantly changing the furniture?

Or does your thinking go beyond the home and are you thinking of ways you may help to achieve a lasting peace?

A study in the form of a contest to help determine the kind of life American women most hope to achieve with the peace has been announced by the Women's Institute of Audience reactions. More than 5,000 women are being given an opportunity to write a letter answering the question, "In What Kind of Postwar World Would You Like to Live and What Are Your Ideas for Getting It?" An exhaustive analysis will be made or ideas submitted and the study will be presented to the proper governmental officials in the hope that the postwar aims of the average woman may thus be voiced at future tables.

The W.I.A.R. as established five years ago as a means for finding out what American women, as a whole, want—for themselves and for their families—in everything affecting their daily lives. On a basis of geographical location, occupation, age level, etc., they represent an accurate cross-section of the American woman's thinking.

FOR SUMMER DAYS

NOW that summer is practically upon us and unless it rains, days promise to be long, hot and dusty, you might consider ways of keeping cool, calm and comfortable. You might take stock of your home assets for a cooler and easier summer existence.

Remove curtains and draperies and store them away. Ivy leaves in glass bowls trained around window frames lend a cool look. Keep your window shades to the sills during the day. The space between the window and the shade creates a vacuum that virtually prevents the sun's hot rays from entering the room and at the same time keeps the cool air indoors.

In trying to keep your home cool remember that the fewer knickknacks and other dust collectors around, the less work you will have to do. Pack these items and put them away before they rob you of time and energy.

Put slipcovers over your chairs; if you don't have any, make some. Rugs may look beautiful in your winter house. But in summer they not only look hot but they make you work harder. Store these heavy rugs or roll them up and stand them in a spare corner. If you don't like your floors bare and highly polished, throw an occasional scatter rug here and there.

The secret of your nice cool summer home is the fact that you can be cooler too if you have less work to do.

Plans Launched For War Bond Campaign, Committees Named

"George can't do it" in Lubbock County's Seventh War Loan Drive is the opinion of head men of the local drive, and a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce offices Monday afternoon set the stage to launch the new drive locally.

Approximately 35 men met in the offices to set fourth a program and draw general plans for putting the county over the top in its newest and largest quota, $4,450,000 general, and with the Series E mark set at $1,700,000.

'Deciding to organize from the ground up the group set up three main committees, as sub-divisions of the main body. The designated groups will be the employees campaigners, the general sales body, and the big subscriber campaign. Under the general body will be a city drive chairman and a woman's drive leader.

The executive committee is composed of Clarence Bestwick, chairman, W. C. O'Mara, George P. Kuykendall, W. C. Wood, Mark Halsey, J. H. Brock, Lennis Baker, James L. Quicksall and Dr. Clifford B. Jones.

This group will work in cooperation with George Benson, regional co-chairman, Neil Wright, county chairman and Parker Prouty, publicity director.

Men seeking the employes aid, with details to be worked out later as to methods of collecting funds, will be Lennis Baker, W. C. O'Mara and W. C. Wood.

General sales campaign will be led by Mark Halsey, J. H. Brock, James L. Quicksall.

George Kuykendall, Clifford Jones and Parker Prouty will head the group seeking the large subscriptions.

Move For Lasting FEPC Said Blocked

WASHINGTON, May 21 (AP) — Southern Democrats claimed today to have blocked a move for early creation of a permanent Fair Employment Practices commission.

They told a reported that:

1. A majority of the house rules committee has refused to approve legislation to establish a permanent FEPC, thus denying it a place on the House calendar.

2. A move by Chairman Norton (D-NJ) of the House labor committee to force floor consideration of the measure by means of a discharge petition has bogged down.

3. The senate labor committee has not approved the legislation, and even if it should southern senators have promised to filibuster it to death in that chamber.

The bill would set up a seven-member FEPC with authority to prevent discrimination among potential job holders because of race, color or creed. The present FEPC is a temporary, wartime agency, operating with executive department funds.

Mrs. Norton's committee approved the bill several weeks ago, terming it necessary to insure returning war veterans and others justice in job hunting. Opponents have claimed it would incite ill feeling and promote racial discord, particularly in the South.

Loren Deering Freed From German Camp

S/Sgt. Loren E. Deering, who was with the 175th infantry of the Ninth Army until his capture by the Germans Nov. 23, 1944, was liberated from Camp Stalag 13-C April 29 by American forces, according to a letter written to his wife May 10 and received here Monday.

Mrs. Deering, who lives at 1301 Twenty-seventh, had not heard from her husband since Feb. 18. Sgt. Deering, who has been overseas since last August, said he was at a Red Cross center in France. "I have been eating real food and gaining weight every day since April 29," he wrote.

He expressed a hope that it would not be long before he would be home to see his wife, two-year-old daughter, and his father J. W. Deering, all of Lubbock.

Before entering service, Sgt. Deering was a salesman for McIlhaney Dairy products company for over four years.

Upon the request of J. W. Deering, who has three other sons in service, the War department has ordered two of his sons out of combat areas. They are Cpl. Harold Deering, a Marine with 26 months of overseas duty and now on Okinawa, and Coxswain John William Deering, jr., who is in the Pacific Theater of war. One other son, S/Sgt. Clyde Deering, has been reported missing since the fall of Bataan.

Deering was notified last week that Harold had been ordered out of combat May 5 and John William received similar orders May 16. The sailor son has been in 15 major battles in the Pacific and the Marine has seen service on Guam, Saipan and other islands.

The father said he expected both of the boys home soon. Coxswain Deering will be assigned to duty in the Eighth Naval district.

It wasn't until Amy Lowell was 28 that she discovered that poetry was her natural mode of expression and she was 36 before her first volume was published.

A father-son banquet was held at the scout hut in the Littlefield City park last night, according to Eugene Latimer, district commissioner.

Werewolves Exposed As Goebbels Phoneys

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WUPPERTAL, Germany, May 21—A month of American police work in the Ruhr has exposed the Nazi werewolf as one of Joseph Goebbels' biggest propaganda phoneys.

Here in the American military prison, former luxurious German police headquarters, more than 200 German youths have been examined concerning the much-touted underground sabotage army which was to fight in the Allied rear.

American officers have concluded from the questioning of the Germans that the werewolf was a hasty, makeshift organization.

The werewolves were poorly trained. The course of instruction, at four known sabotage schools in the Ruhr, lasted only five days.

What Is Wrong When Prayer Fails?

Thirty years ago, in Forbidden Tibet, behind the highest mountains in the world, a young Englishman named Edwin J. Dingle found the answer to this question. A great mystic opened his eyes. A great change came over him. He realized the strange Power that Knowledge gives.

That Power, he says, can transform the life of anyone. Questions, whatever they are, can be answered. The problem of health, death, poverty and wrong, can be solved.

In his own case, he was brought back to splendid health. He acquired wealth, too, as well as world-wide professional recognition. Thirty years ago, he was sick as a man could be and live. Once his coffin was bought. Years of almost continuous tropical fevers, broken bones, near blindness, privation and danger had hade a human wreck of him, physically and mentally.

He was about to be sent back to England to die, when a strange message came—"They are waiting for you in Tibet." He wants to tell the whole world what he learned there, under the guidance of the greatest mystic he ever encountered during his twenty-one years in the Far East. He wants everyone to experience the greater health and the Power, which there came to him.

Within ten years, he was able to retire to this country with a fortune. He had been honored by fellowships in the World's leading geographical societies, for his work as a geographer. And today, 30 years later, he is still so athletis, capable of so much work, so young in appearance, it is hard to believe he has lived so long.

As a first step in their progress toward the Power that Knowledge gives, Mr. Dingle wants to send to readers of this paper a 9,000 word treatise. He says the time has come for it to be released to the Western World, and offers to send it, free of cost or obligation, to sincere readers of this notice. For your free copy, address The Institute of Mentalphysics, 213 South Hobart Blvd., Dept. S-376, Los Angeles 4, Calif. Readers are urged to write promptly, as only a limited number of the free books have been printed.—Adv.

IF YOU HAVE AN Estate PROBLEM

. . . as a great many Texans do . . . solve it the economical way with Southwestern Life Insurance . . . as many other Texans have.

A Texas executive, successful in business, whose estate had been rapidly expanding, faced a perplexing problem of mounting Federal Estate and State Inheritance Taxes on the estate he had been building for his wife and himself. His problem was to conserve their estate, and yet pay the Federal Estate and State Taxes that would accrue at the death of either husband or wife.

Death claimed his wife first, but he was prepared to meet the more than $40,000 tax bill because he had wisely established a tax emergency fund through Southwestern Life Insurance.

You, Mr. Texan, can establish the same kind of emergency fund for your estate. Now, through Southwestern Life Insurance, you can assure the estate conservation you desire, so that your heirs will not have to sell the bulk of your property to pay Federal Estate and State Inheritance Taxes that one day must be paid. The investment required to establish the plan is nominal. The protective conservation it will give your estate is something you cannot afford to longer delay. Without obligation, call today for a comprehensive analysis of your needs.

If your Child's Report Card is disappointing.... Maybe His Eyes are to Blame!

This message is addressed to all parents who have children of school age. Perhaps you have a youngster who's as bright as a new penny around the house—who's a whizz on the football field—who always knows where the biggest fish are to be found.

But his report cards are not quite what they should be — disappointing in a youngster who seems so bright. There's a good chance your oculist (eye physician) can help him. Authorities claim that one out of every five children needs glasses—and if he doesn't wear them, his class work is likely to suffer.

Here's the way to be certain. Have your occulist (eye physician) check your youngster's eyes. If he needs glasses, by all means, see that he gets the best—Tillyer lenses. These lenses will help him to normal sight. We have a complete assortment of Tillyer lenses.

TILLYER LENSES are best for young eyes

LAAF Graduates Big Class Today

With six weeks of gruelling training behind them, the largest class of combat veterans yet to finish the advanced course of instruction in "all weather" instrument flying at Lubbock Army Air Field graduates today and heads for home stations from coast to coast.

Including at least 19 Texans, three of whom are former students at Texas Tech, and eight former LAAF grads, the class has completed the intensive course without serious accident, thus maintaining the field's outstanding safety record as an AAF Instrument School.

New Class To Arrive

The sixth class of combat veteran pilots to take the course will arrive on the field Wednesday and Thursday. The fifth class is now at the halfway mark in its training and will complete the "post graduate" course in three more weeks.

Philippines Area

Infantry division captured Sasa airdrome north of Davao and now holds five or six airfields in that area. The field was defended stubbornly.

Illustrating ferocity of the fighting north of Davao, a battalion medical officer, Capt. Sidney B. Lauria, Waterbury, Conn., alone attended 262 casualties in three days and nights of fighting. In one three-hour period, he attended 50 men during a motar barrage.

In central Mindanao, Maj. Gen. Clarence Martin's 31st Infantry division swept 10 miles northward to within one mile of Malaybalay, capital of Bukidnon province. It reached the edge of the airfield and was within 25 miles of a junction with the 40th and Americal divisions which are moving southward along Sayre highway.

PT Boats In Action

PT boats continued destruction of the former Japanese torpedo boat base at Piso point in Davao gulf.

On Luzon island the Yanks steadily drove the Japanese back into the Cagayan valley along the mountainous Balete pass, closely supported by bombers and fighters which dropped 238 tons of explosives.

PT boats bombarded Japanese shore defenses on the east coast.

Philippine-based bombers ranged in strength over Formosa for the sixth straight day, concentrating on harbor installations at Keelung, rail yards and airdromes at Toyohapa and Taito, and scattered industrial targets on the big island.

A total of 327 tons of bombs were dropped, with excellent effect, MacArthur reported. Only antiaircraft fire was encountered.

Search planes in coastal waters sank a freighter and damaged three others.

Three Freighters Sunk

Patrol bombers in the China sea sank three freighters and bombed the island outpost of Pratas reef west of Palawan. Rail installations in French Indo-China and near Nanking were other targets.

On Tarakan island, Australian and Dutch patrols penetrated to within three miles of the north coast while bombers struck airdromes and harbors at neighboring Borneo. The seaplane base at Balikpapan, on eastern Borneo, was set ablaze.

The two Australian forces on northeastern New Guinea moved to within two miles of a juncture near captured Wewak. The western column cleared the Boram airdrome.

Amazing Pep For Men 40, 60 or More

If life apparently has lost its zest, you again may be able to enjoy life as you did in your youth. If added years have slowed down your vim, vitality and youthful pleasures, here is an inexpensive method that may change your whole outlook on life. Just ask your druggist for Casella stimulating tablets (either 48 or 200, the 200 size costs much less per dose). Take as directed on label and feel the thrill of living again. Don't feel old and worn out at 40, 60 or more. Take these tablets regularly until you feel that you have regained the pleasure of living you once enjoyed. Why be discouraged? Why not try Casella tablets and regain the verve and zest of a much younger man? Women too, will find Casella tablets beneficial.

House Votes Special Medal To Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, May 21. (AP)—The House voted unanimously today to authorize award posthumously of a special medal of honor to Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The action came after a long discussion in which Rep. Robsion (R-Ky) vigorously objected to award of the Congressional Medal of Honor to the late president. Such a Congressional medal was presented by President Truman today to T/Sgt. Jake Lindsey.

House Democratic leader McCormack, author of the bill, finally agreed to substitute the word "special medal of honor" for "Congressional Medal of Honor" and the bill passed.

Under this language it probably will be necessary to strike a special medal for posthumous award to the late president.

On objection of Robsion, McCormack also agreed to eliminate from the bill a direct identification of Mr. Roosevelt "as commander in chief."

World Conference

all delegations, suggesting that the conference ratify the charter of a new world league "in the first week of June."

It also approved the technical procedure for preparing the charter, measures to expedite the work of committees and, rather belatedly, rules for committee procedure.

Specific steps taken today toward a compromise on another big problem — trusteeships — added to the chances that the conference might finish its momentous enterprise in another fortnight.

A move to promise either eventual independence or self-government to colonial peoples under international rule was reported to have been agreed upon substantially by representatives of the British and American delegations.

Differ On Words

Russia has been battling for inclusion of the goal of independence. Britain and the United States so far have preferred the naming of self-government. The Chinese suggested listing both.

Commander Harold E. Stassen of the American delegation and Lord Cranborne for the British talked the problem over today. They were reported to have agreed generally to support the Chinese formula.

As this boost to conference progress developed, the policy-making steering committee distributed to delegates a time-table suggesting that all committees and subcommittees which have been sifting amendments to the charter and drafting its various chapters, complete the job "by the end of the present week."

Many Committees Meet

Sixteen of them — the biggest assortment thus far — were meeting today and tonight in answer to the call for speed. Their four parent commissions will have to approve their finished product before it is submitted to the full conference for ratification.

One committee approved today, with a single exception, all the chapter covering voting in a projected general assembly of all the United Nations. On major matters, a two-third ballot will be required. Less important questions will be decided by a simple majority.

Deferred for late raction was the question of the kind of vote to be required for expulsion of a member state. This probably will be determined at the next meeting.

that it is customary to select the highest honor student on the basis of the last two years of school work. This year, two students, Mary Belle and Mary Lois Findley tied for honors, and in that event, it is the policy of the school to check the grades of the two students for the last three years. Mary Belle won top honors with a record of 27 A's and one B for the three years work.

Carter was the highest honor boy of the class with a record of 17 A's and three B's based on the last two years of school.

Officers, Council Recognized

Officers of the senior class, members of the student council and the honor roll students were recognized by the principal.

R. W. Matthews, superintendent of Lubbock schools, announced there were 31 January graduates, 218 in May and 45 in July. Out of the January class, there are eight of the boys already in the armed services. They are Clinton Benefield, Johnny Cole, Johnny Davis, Frank Gaston, Milburn Gaston, A. L. Graham, Douglas Ray and Johnny Trout.

Supt. Matthews presented the class to Chas. A. Guy, member of the Lubbock school board, who in turn, presented diplomas to the 294 seniors. In presenting the diplomas, Mr. Guy explained that he was representing the president of the Board of Education, Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, who was unable to attend the exercises.

Junior class members who were ushers were Velma Lou Dunn, Alura McManus, Gladys Joe Brooks, June Waite, Lila Mae McNabb, Marjorie Ellis, Jewell Alice Pharr, Billie Hutchings, Pat Allgood, Doris Prater, Peggy Strickland, Mary Frances Payne and Sylvia Whitacre.

Commencement sermon was presented Sunday afternoon by Dr. C. E. Hereford, pastor of the First Baptist church, who called upon the young people of today to build their lives on the basis of world conduct laid down by the Carpenter of Nazareth.

Bloody Okinawa

by intense small arms fire. After daylight, the Japanese counterattacked, trying to drive the Yanks back out of Taira. But the assault was repulsed and Bruce's infantry pushed on south from the village toward Shuri.

Nimitz's communique did not state how close this put the forward elements to that keystone of the southern line.

The suicidal assault in the Fifth regiment sector of Maj. Gen. Pedro A. Del Valle's First Marine division was made by three separate groups of Japanese carrying satchel demolition charges tied around their waists. Their attack was intended to blow up Leatherneck tanks. The infiltrations were stopped, with no damage reported to the tanks.

This assault was made against Marines entrenched on the last ridge overlooking Shuri from the northwest. The tanks presumably were stationed in the line for use as point blank artillery weapons.

Yanks Net 300 Yards

Maj. Gen. James L. Bradley's 96th division push south netted about 300 yards against heavy small arms fire. Eastern elements of the division are driving toward bombed out Yonabaru, port city which anchors the eastern end of the Naha-Shuri-Yonabaru, line. This division, conquerors of Conical hill, also maintained pressure westward toward Shuri.

Nimitz said Sixth division Marines held Sugar Loaf hill securely after having taken the summit of that tunneled height 11 times. The hill is a strategic position from which Shepherd's Leathernecks can shove southeast against Shuri and southwest against Naha.

Fleet Airwing One search planes have sunk 86,880 tons of Japanese shipping and damaged 81,500 tons since inauguration of their sweeps to Korean and Japanese waters. They also have destroyed 21 Japanese planes and damaged 15. These four-motored Privateers and Liberators twin-engined Mariners went into action from Okinawa bases only a few weeks ago.

Hit Northern Ryukyus

Their latest raid was a bombing attack on Yaku island, northern Ryukyus, where they started large fires.

Marine planes attacked the Palaus and Marshalls.

One Army Mitchell bomber was lost to antiaircraft fire in an attack on Minami cape, Shumushu island, northern Kuriles, Sunday. Navy search planes attacked targets on Paramushiro.

Maj. Gen. John R. Hodge, commander of the 10th Army's 24th corps, said a decrease of Japanese mortar and artillery fire at night indicated American bleeding tactics have cut the strength of the enemy, denied outside reinforcements.

But the Nipponese, believed to have still around 30,000 troops massed along the four-mile line, piled from caves and tunnels of their hill defenses and fought the Yanks to the death. Front reports said the First Marine division in a mighty tank-supported thrust drove to the crest of the last ridge overlooking Shuri, second largest city on the island.

Shuri is a mass of rubble, blasted by naval and land artillery and aerial bombs, but Shuri castle, thick-walled and moated home of medieval Ryukyuan warlords, remained a tough bastion to be cracked.

Jones Shooting

Jones, pioneer Lubbock man who amassed a fortune in real estate and other property, had been living alone for some time, officers related. He and his wife are separated, they said.

Newton Walton of 2120 Thirtieth, who operates a men's store in a Jones-owned building, told officers that he was by Jones' house at 8 o'clock and that Jones was alone except for his small Boston bulldog. He said that Jones had been "ailing" lately.

It was reported that Jones had planned to confer with his attorney Monday to "draw up some papers."

There were smears of blood on the floor in the dining room near the telephone and on the door to the kitchen which adjoined.

Police recalled that upon at least one previous occasion Jones had called to express fear that someone was going to kill him.

On the night of July 24, 1942, Jones' farm near the South Plains Army Air field was the locale for a bloody shooting duel between Jim Thomas, since convicted for the murder of Dr. Roy Hunt of Littlefield, and Baxter Honey, veteran Lubbock peace officer, who was employed at the time as a guard at the farm, where Jones was then living. Jones had told officers that he was afraid someine was "out to get me." Honey had discovered Thomas, holder of a long criminal record, prowling about the place.

D. T. Lindley Dies At His Home Here

D. T. Lindley, 67, a resident of Lubbock for the last 20 years, died at 8:15 o'clock Monday night at his home at 2417 Fifteenth.

Lindley, who had been ill with a heart ailment for about two years, is survived by his widow, a teacher in Junior High school; a daughter, Mrs. Jim Williams of Lamesa; one sister, Mrs. Lena Rodgers of May, Tex., and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Central Baptist church with the pastor, Rev. Jack Welch, officiating. Burial will be at May, Sanders Funeral home announced.

PROFITS CHECK RISE

NEW YORK, May 21 (AP)—While assorted utilities did well in today's stock market, profit cashing on the recent upswing reduced many industrial leaders fractions to 2 points.

The favorable postwar outlook served as the principal bidding inspiration although some customers trimmed accounts because of the thought that the rise to 8-year peaks might bring out more liquidation of stale holdings earnings and dividends still were bullish.

Transfers of 1,080,000 shares compared with 1,430,000 Friday.

Chrysler fell 2 points and lesser casualties were Hudson Motors, General Motors, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Southern Pacific, Great Northern, Texas Co., U. S. Rubber, Dow Chemical and Du Pont. On the upside were American Telephone and American and Foreign Power 2nd, preferred ,at can and Foreign Power 2nd, preferred, at ed Vultee, National Power, N. Y. Central and Delaware and Hudson.

NEW YORK FUTURES

NEW YORK, May 21 (AP)—After touchig new seasonal highs, cotton futures experienced a sharp setback on moderate liquidation and hedging. Final prices were 40 to 80 cents a bale lower.

The reaction in the grain market, uncertainty over the price support program and a tendency to take profits at current high levels were unsettling factors. Some quarters feared the market faced hedging pressure against acquisition of stocks supplied by the Commodity Credit Corp. under the 1944 purchase program.

Futures closed 40 to 80 cents a bale lower.

pletely frank—or our failure to understand them," he said.

In the proposed world security council, which would operate within the general assembly of all the United Nations, agreement would be necessary among the five principal powers, the United States, England, Russia, China and France, before any action could be taken.

Of those five, he said, the United States, England and Russia will hold the major power. "As long as they are peaceful, the world will be peaceful."

The proposed security council would be comprised of the United States, England, Russia, China and France as permanent members, and six others from the other nations, serving in turn. In any decision to take action either by arms or economic sanction, seven votes out of the 11 would be necessary—and of those seven five would have to be from the permanent members, he said. One veto could prevent action.

The principal question raised so far, he believes, are those in regard to three votes for Russia, trusteeships and the Latin American mutual aid agreement.

Russia's request was granted, votes being given to Russia, the Ukraine and White Russia.

An agreement was reached Monday on the mutual aid agreement, giving Latin American republics assurance the regional defense system in this hemisphere will be preserved, the Associated Press reported.

On the question of trusteeships, an agreement remains to be reached. The United States is seeking to prepare the way for development of American land, sea and air bases in Pacific islands wrested from the Japanese and the problem of international trusteeships thus has arisen.

Hornaday visited Lubbock en route to Lynn county, where he has farm holdings. He will go to Washington soon.

Funeral Set Today For Monroe Child

News Briefs

Pvt. Robert C. Watson, former resident of Wolfforth who was wounded in action in Germany, will be flying back to the United States soon, J. A. Watson reported Monday night.

Lt. and Mrs. Royal W. Connell, formerly of Lubbock visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thomas, 2413 Thirteenth over the weekend. Lt. Connell, who was manager of Furr Food No. 1 before going into the Air corps, has been instructing at the B-29 school at Roswell, N. M. for several months. He is now enroute to Lincoln, Neb., where he will pick up his crew and take four months of additional training before leaving for overseas service.

Booker T. Washington, 38, and La Verne Jones, about 22, both negroes, were charged with assault with intent to murder following a shooting fracas late Monday morning in 200-block Eighteenth. Washington allegedly shot Jones in the hand while Jones was charged with shooting at Washington. A negro woman, the wife of Charley Walker, was shot in the leg by a bullet fired by one of the men. She was sitting on a bed in her residence. Washington posted bond, officers said, but Jones remained in jail last night.

Mrs. Tudor Dies In Kansas Hospital

Mrs. Nina Tudor, 56, a former resident of Lubbock, died Sunday morning following an operation at the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway hospital at Topeka, Kas.

Mrs. Tudor, depot agent for the Santa Fe at Stafford, Tex., for the last two years, is survived by a daughter, Mrs. T. C. Porter of 2314 Fifteenth; an aunt, Mrs. Beatrice Barber; and her mother, Mrs. Moles.

Funeral services had not been completed last night, but will probably be held here Wednesday, Plains Funeral home announced. Rev. Alsie H. Carleton, pastor of the St. John's Methodist church, will officiate.

forces. Although the Army itself did not enter combat until the invasion of the Normandy coast several of its units took part in its original landings in North Africa, Sicily and Italy.

Parachuted Into France

"Troops of the First Army parachuted into France before H hour on D day, led the way across the German frontier, broke through the Siegfried line, seized and established the Remagen bridgehead and were the first to make junction with the Russians at the Elbe. Hundreds of thousands of Germans were killed or captured by the First Army in its battles across France, Belgium and Germany.

"Under the point system for the release of men with extended and arduous combat service, many of the present personnel of the units to be sent into the Pacific with the First Army will be separated from their organizations before they leave Europe and replaced by men who do not have enough points to qualify for discharge."

Men 40 Or Older May Be Released

WASHINGTON, May 21. (U.P.)—Army enlisted men aged 40 or older were made eligible today for discharge on their own application.

The ruling applies to all such men whose service record is honorable.

Lowered From 42

This represents a lowering of the discharge age from 42 years, which became effective last April 17.

The reduction of the age bracket affects about 30,000 enlisted men in the 40 and 41-year age groups.

When the military situation permits, a further reduction will be made in the age limit, the War department disclosed.

These discharges are separate from those made on the point system which applies to all ages.

The new policy is also applicable to enlisted WACs 40 and older who have served for one year or more. Eight thousand enlisted WACs are eligible to apply under this policy.

Commanders will be permitted to retain for 90 days any eligible man who applies for discharge under this policy for whom a replacement is not immediately available.

Cannot Be Lower Now

The War department said the discharge age cannot be reduced below 40 "at this time without jeopardizing military operations or slowing down the release of combat veterans who have earned the right to discharge under the point system on the basis of long and arduous service."

"Through the inclusion of a heavily-weighted factor for parenthood, the point system provides indirect consideration for age," it said. 'Statistical surveys have indicated that the average age of fathers is several years above the average age for soldiers without children."

As heretofore, officers over 38 and younger officers not physically qualified for combat for whom no suitable assignments exist may be discharged.

Payments For Beef Production Are Set

Beef production payments through the Agriculture Adjustment agency office will be made at 50 cents per hundred-weight on good to choice cattle says Walter Y. Wells, administrative officer in the AAA office here.

The cattle must have been owned and fed by applicants not less than 30 days, must have had a live weight of 800 pounds, and been sold to a licensed slaughterer. The sale price must have been at listed minimum stabilization range for good range cattle.

Wells said notification will be sent to all stockmen eligible to receive the payments as of May 19.

Australian AAF Is Mining China Coast

MELBOURNE, May 21 (AP)—A few days after the Americans landed in the Philippines last October, Royal Australian Air force Catalinas began to mine the China coast and have been at it ever since, Air Minister A. S. Drakeford said today.

The Catalinas are manned by American and Australian crews, he said, reporting that their efforts had spread chaos among Japanese shipping.

Infantry Uncovers Hungarian Treasure

PARIS, May 21 (AP)—The state treasure of Hungary, including the total gold reserve behind all Hungarian currency in circulation, was uncovered recently by the U. S. 80th Infantry division on a rocky pine-covered crag high in the Austrian Alps.

It included 4,000,000,000 pengos ($130,000,000 at the present rate of exchange), 29,000 kilograms of gold bullion worth $30,000,000.

The wealth, including money, art and jewelry, was watched over by the pro-Nazi president of the royal bank of Hungary and some 500 financial experts, clerks, bookkeepers and other employes, guarded by 200 picked Hungarian gendarmes.

Coffee originally came from Arabia.

Plan Explained On Non-Highway Rations

A new plan for issuing farm and other non-highway gas rations went into effect May 1, and is designed to cut down any possible over-issuance of non-highway gasoline, but the public stands in need or more information, A. V. Bullock, Office of Price Administration information director, says.

Delivery records must be maintained to account for every non-highway purchase of gasoline with E or R coupons. Formerly a person was given his individual allotment of E (good for one gallon) and R (good for five gallons) coupons and no records were kept as to how they were used.

A delivery record will be issued each non-highway consumer in the future, with each coupon noted on the form by the local War Price and Rationing Board, and each purchase will be entered on the record by the supplier.

If a surplus is outstanding at the end of a ration period it will be deducted from the consumer's next issuance, Bullock said.

HOUSTON, May 21. (U.P.)—Manpower boss Paul V. McNutt and his assistant, Gen. William C. Rose, will arrive in Houston Saturday for talks with local War Manpower commission officials and labor-management committees of this area, it was announced today.

McNutt, national chairman of the War Manpower commission, and his staff will come to Houston from Dallas via army plane. Regional WMC Director James H. Bond will be in the group.

OPA To Launch Drive On Price Violators

HOUSTON, May 21 (U.P.) — The OPA will launch a concentrated drive on cigaret-ceiling violations in the Houston area today with the filing of eight suits against alleged violators, Madonna Todd Bartlett, district OPA information executive, announced.

Suits against the alleged violators — all located in Houston — will be filed in district court this morning. One of the defendants also will be charged with selling liquor at above-ceiling prices.

Lubbock Country Club Golf Tourney Enters Semi-Finals

Lubbock Country club's high low golf tournament moved into semi-final rounds with three semi-final teams in both championship and consolation named through Sunday's play, and one match in each division yet to be played.

H. J. Patterson and Ed Louthan moved into the semi-finals with a 3 and 2 win over Stoney Wall and Truman Hutson, and will play the winner of the John Kattman and

SCHROEDER WINS BOND

Herbert Schroeder, club pro at the Lubbock Country club, returned home Monday afternoon from the Texas PGA tournament at San Antonio. Schroeder brought back a $100 war bond after finishing fifteenth in the running for the Texas PGA.

J. O. Kuykendall vs. W. L. McAfee and Buck Luther match for the right to enter the finals.

F. L. McRee and Marvin McLaughlin defeated Wynne Collier and Charles Read, and Otis Felty and Earl Miller eliminated O. A. Terry and E. R. Howell, 4 and 3, and will meet in the other championship semi-final match.

Ted Tipps and Walter Granberry were hard pressed in the consolation bracket, but beat out Henry Eidson and Herbert Stubbs on the 19th hole. Morley Jennings and Ben Cole defeated Ralph Garnett and Jack Henry, 4 and 3, and will meet Tipps and Granberry in the semi-final match.

Chick Garland and Maj. F. M. Curtis won handily over Jerry LeMond and Sy Gooden, 7 and 5, and will meet the winner of the Don Mitchell and George Brewer vs. H. M. Chick and E. H. Armstrong match in the semi-finals.

Semi-final matches must be played off by Sunday night.

Chick Trout Beaten In Semi-Final Play

Chick Trout, Lubbock Country club champion, ran afoul of frisky youth Sunday afternoon at the Midland Invitation golf tournament, and was beaten in the semi-finals by Charley Timms, 17-year-old star, and well known West Texas campaigner.

Jimmie Yates, another Lubbock golfer in the meet, brought home the lone victory, winning a $50 war bond for first place in the fifth flight of the tournament.

Trout, who won a $25 bond for medalist honors, came back Sunday afternoon, after a hard session on Saturday, and turned the first nine holes trailing by three strokes. Trout rallied on the back nine, and finished the 18 holes all even, but was beaten on the 19th hole by the youngster. Timms went on to win the tournament championship.

The next big West Texas event for local golfers to shoot for will be the Odessa Invitation meet, scheduled for June 7, 8 and 9. A large number of Lubbock golfers are planning to enter this meet.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 21. (AP) — Chattanooga club officials announced today that Jose Slotter, a pitcher obtained from Los Angeles has joined the club.

Browns Back On Last Year Form

ST. LOUIS, May 21. (AP) — The American League champion St. Louis Browns have been up to their old tricks again—the business of kicking their visiting clubs around.

Now if the team, usually not nearly so formidable away from home, can come back from a long 24-game road trip with a 50-50 break, it will have established itself again as a very tough one to deal with, in the opinion of Jimmy Conzelman, assistant to the club president.

That, generally, was the pattern by which the Browns worked out their first championship in 43 years in 1944.

The team just concluded a ten-game home stand with eight victories, one tie and one defeat.

Conzelman's answer to why the club isn't in first place right now is answered in part by "spotted batting."

"The hitting has been fully as stout as last year and the pitching has been tighter," he said, "but pay-off blows just haven't come with the regularity of frequency of 1944."

So far this season the Browns have won only two of seven games played on the road.

Observing that the Browns have just clipped the New York Yankees four straight, Conzelman said "we now have begun to get our share of hits when they produce runs. Instead of luck being against us so much of the time, it has started coming our way in a reasonable amount."

Cliff Dean Ties For Third Place At AAU

Cliff Dean, state champion pole vaulter from the Lubbock Westerners, was "sunk" by the Navy Saturday night at San Antonio's AAU track and field tryouts, and finished in a three-way tie for third place with two other Texas schoolboy vaulters.

The pole vault was won by Winters, a California star, now representing a Navy base in Texas, but Winters won on a toss from a "Navy Buddy" by the flip of a coin, after the two had tied for first place at 12 feet.

Dean tied with Simpson of Woodrow Wilson and Richey of Edison (San Antonio) for third place at 11 feet, 6 inches.

Dean won the state title in the Interscholastic League meet at Austin by going 12 feet, 6 inches, and made 12 feet six times this season in regular meets. Richey made 12 feet in the state meet, and Simpson equaled this mark in the Fort Worth Fat Stock show meet.

Winters has been getting 13 feet, 6 inches and even 14 feet this season. Most of the vaulters contributed their poor showings to a short, gravel runway, and were vaulting into the wind.

Texas League Is Hopeful Of Play

DALLAS, May 21. (AP)—Four Texas League clubs favor resuming baseball next season; the other four say "yes, providing—."

A survey shows Oklahoma City, Shreveport, Dallas and Tulsa, all independents, want to start up in 1946 after being out of action three years.

President J. L. Reeves of the Fort Worth club, now owned by Brooklyn, says: "Yes, providing the Japanese war progress continues as in the past, thereby favored with enough enthusiasm on the part of the public."

President Ernest Lorbeer of Beaumont, now an independent but expected to again be backed by Detroit when play is resumed, declares: "Yes, I favor resumption next season providing the manpower situation has eased somewhat."

Sam Breadon, president of the St. Louis Cardinals, owners of the Houston franchise, says: "I favor the resumption of Texas League baseball as soon as A-1 players can be secured."

William O. Dewitt, vice-president and general manager of the St. Louis Browns, owners of the San Antonio franchise, says: "We favor the resumption of the Texas League next season providing manpower and transportation will be available, and that all the clubs in the league are on a sound financial basis, which means free and clear of debt with sufficient working capital to insure stability."

Five clubs think there will be sufficient manpower. They are Oklahoma City, Beaumont, Shreveport, Dallas and Tulsa. The other three look on the manpower situation speculatively. Beaumont's stand in which it favors resumption if the manpower situation has eased then says it thinks there will be sufficient manpower is explained by Lorbeer: "I think that the manpower will ease somewhat as war jobs will be shutting down and 4-F's and men over 28 years of age will feel free to report for baseball. I do not look for any chance to get 18 to 28-year-old players as more of them will be drafted. Very few below 18 will be of Texas league caliber players."

Tri-State Seniors Entry List Near 100

AMARILLO, May 21. (AP)—Advance entries in the eleventh annual Tri-State Senior golf tournament neared 100 today, and the all-time high of 136 was expected to fall tomorrow as qualifying gets underway.

B. F. Holmes of Shamrock, who won the first tourney in 1935 and the third one two years later, arrived today. Three other ex-champs already are on hand. Bill Gallagher, Carrizozo, N. M., 1938 winner, is enroute. The three champs who have arrived are Red Gober, Austin defending champion; Harrison Smith, Oklahoma City, 1943 winner; and Roy Allen, 1942 winner.

Arrival of 85-year-old Dick Reeves of Shamrock, who has been playing golf 40 years, marked his first entry in the senior tournament. He said he "thought he could beat that kid from Plainview," 82-year-old Elmer Winn, who was the oldest playing member until Reeves entered.

Lombardi's Homers Fail To Beat Bucs

PITTSBURGH, May 21. (AP) — Ernie Lombardi hit two home runs for New York's only scores as the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Giants 5 to 2 in the first night game of the season here.

A crowd of 21,682 saw Lombardi hit his homers, his eighth and ninth of the season.

Big Match Butcher held the Giants to four hits in winning his third game of the season against two losses.

The Pirates started scoring in first inning, getting three runs on a walk, Johnny Barrett's triple, Tommy O'Brien's double and two infield outs. They added one in the third and one in the seventh to sew up the game.

Lombardi's first homer in the fifth inning was the first hit off Butcher; he hit his second in the seventh.

Bat Maker Finds It Becomes Big Business

WARSAW, N. Y., May 21. (AP) — Farmer George Nesbitt turned out a few baseball bats on an old lathe to give to local teams to relieve a shortage and now finds himself with a thriving business.

Using seasoned white ash from his own and other wood lots in the county, Nesbitt is fashioning 1,000 hard and soft baseball bats a week. The demand is so far exceeding his production rate, Nesbitt asserts.

Tommy Holmes Takes National Loop Lead

NEW YORK, May 21. (AP)—Tommy Holmes of the Boston Braves, light-hearted Irishman from Brooklyn, was winging high in the National League today, setting a .426 batting pace to lead the loop and running first in two individual departments with 43 hits and 11 doubles.

Two big hitting days sent Holmes past Manager Mel Ott of the New York Giants with whom he was tied at .400 a week ago. Five for five against the Cardinals Tuesday and four hits in five at bats against Cincinnati in the first game Sunday did the trick for the Braves outfielder.

Ott's mark, including games of Sunday, was .402, with Whitey Kurowski of the Cards at .387, five point sahead of Luis Olmo of Brooklyn. Vance Dinges, the Phillies sensational freshman, soared 16 points to .361 and fifth place.

Ernie Lombardi, .348, and Nap Reyes, .347, of the New York Giants ran sixth and seventh with Carden Gillenwater of Boston eighth at .341. Phil Cavarretta of Chicago, was tied for ninth with Paul Weintraub of New York at .337.

Ott retained the lead in runs scored with 28 and pushed into a three-way tie with Lombardi and Weintraub with seven home runs. Lombardi still led the runs batted in department with 25, one more than Butch Nieman of Boston. Dixie Walker of Brooklyn, Tommy O'Brien of Pittsburgh and Reyes each had three triples and Frank McCormick and Dain Clay, both of Cincinnati, were deadlocked with five stolen bases.

Bill Voiselle, the Giants' ace, recorded three wins during the week to up his mark to 8-0. Ken Burkhardt of the Cards and Andy Karl of the Phils, both relief men, were unbeaten with three straight triumphs but Harry Feldman of the Giants finally was dumped after four successes.

JEEP IS WINNER

NEW YORK, May 21. (AP) — Jeep, Kentucky Derby candidate of Col. C. V. Whitney, came from off the pace to win the six furlong experimental handicap as the metropolitan racing season opened before some 35,000 fans at Jamaica today.

He is now forced to fill orders for 1,000 with a dozen.

Airmen To Play Amarillo Next

Lubbock Army Air field's baseball team, winner and loser in a two-game series with Pampa Army Air field last week, turned its attention Monday afternoon to one of the hardest tasks of the season—a pair of contests Saturday and Sunday with the powerful Amarillo Army Air field nine.

Boasting one of the strongest aggregations in the state, the Sky Giants are undefeated in the young 1945 season. Saturday they added a 7-0 shellacking of strong Big Spring Army Air field to their victory string, and Sunday made it eight straight with a walloping 19 to 9 win over Big Spring.

Losing in 10 innings to Pampa Saturday and coming back Sunday to grab a 6-1 triumph, LAAF's Fliers added their third win of the campaign in the books and absorbed their second licking. The Saturday tally was 7-6.

Johnny Davis, diminutive right-hander, shackled the Pampans with two hits in the Sabbath encounter. Leon Mangold, Flier second baseman, cracked out a sixth inning home run, first hit of the day for LAAF.

Pampa came back to knot the count in the seventr, but heavy artillery fire in the eighth put over five runs and clinched victory for LAAF.

Paul Bodde pitched steadily through four innings to let Pampa down with a single safety, but his wildness let the Pampans go ahead with two-run splurges in the fifth, sixth and seventh frames. LAAF got runs in the seventh and eighth stanzas to send the game into an extra inning. Phil Kmiecik relieved Bodde in the seventh and allowed only one hit in three stanzas—that a mighty triple by Pampa pitcher Johnson with one out in the tenth. Guilfoyle's squeeze bunt put Johnson over with the winning marker.

Cleveland Indians Release Two Players

CLEVELAND, May 21. (AP)—Veteran Joe Heving, who set a new American League record last season by appearing in 64 games as a relief hurler, was given his unconditional release today by the Cleveland Indians.

Third baseman Joe Desiderato, signed last winter as a free agent, was also released unconditionally.

More Teams Needed For Softball Loops

More softball teams are needed for Lubbock senior leagues, it was announced Monday afternoon by A. C. "Stumpy" Hamilton.

Eight teams have been entered in the men's league, and only four have signed on the dotted line for play in the women's league. At least two more teams are wanted in the men's league, and several more are needed for the women's loop.

In the men's league, there will be three teams from Lubbock Army Air field, the post team, Squadron C and the Military Police. Other teams in the men's league are Blue Bonnet Laundry, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Texas Tech, Ferguson Auto Supply and Coca-Cola.

In the women's league will be two teams from LAAF civilians, Avalanche-Journal and West Texas hospital.

The deadline for entering teams will be June 1, and team rosters must be in at the City Recreation department by June 4.

Army Officer Cops Texas Skeet Shoot

HOUSTON, May 21. (U.P.) — A bespectacled Laredo Army Air field lieutenant won the state singles championship in the Texas trapshoot at the Houston Gun club Sunday afternoon, smashing 50 birds in succession with unerring accuracy.

Lieut. Vic Reinders, chemistry professor at the University of Wisconsin before entering the Air Forces, broke the 50 birds in a shootoff with five rivals who had gone 100 straight in regular firing.

The 38-year-old Air Forces officer also took high overall gun with 486 out of 500 in the windup of the two-day shoot, and won state handicap honors with 95 out of 100.

Federal Court Docket Called

Trial of criminal cases in U. S. district court, Lubbock division, will continue before Judge T. Whitfield Davidson in the federal building this morning. May term of the court opened Monday morning and after setting of the docket, hearings started on criminal cases.

Only one contested criminal case was heard Monday afternoon, pleas of guilty being entered in three other cases and a nolo contendere in a fourth.

Two South Plains attorneys, District Attorney R. F. Stovall of Floydada and County Attorney R. L. Huff of Lamesa were admitted to practice in the court after introduction by Geo. W. Dupree, Lubbock attorney.

Draft Case Called

The contested criminal case, David Robert Fletcher, charged with failure to report for induction upon order of the Gaines county draft board, was in the process of trial when the court recessed Monday afternoon. Walter Allen, local attorney, was appointed as counsel by the court, after Fletcher had declared he didn't know "whether I'm guilty or not."

In other cases, L. T. Bishop, 51, Floydada postal clerk and Leland S. Wilson, 52, Spur postal clerk, were fined $100 with 30-day jail sentences probated upon payment of the fines. Delegations of citizens from Floydada and Spur testified as to the good character of both defendants.

Bishop was charged with theft of postal funds totaling $72.88 and Wilson with $770. Restitution has been made in both cases. Both were veterans of World war I and have sons in the armed services in the present conflict.

John B. Worsham of Brownfield, operator of a star mail route from Brownfield to Roswell, N. M., charged with violation of the Interstate Commerce act, was fined $50 for carrying passengers for pay without an ICC permit. He had entered a nolo contendere plea.

Ola Mae Thomas was fined $100, probated on dismissal of a divorce suit against her husband in the armed forces, for sending a threatening letter to her mother-in-law, Mrs. Molly Thomas of Lubbock.

Pearly K. Bruce, 58, charged with pretending to be an Army captain, was fined $200 in lieu of a 60-day jail sentence after testimony in court revealed that he had made restitution of all moneys obtained by cold checks in Lubbock. Bruce, a veteran of World war I, was discharged from the Army where he had served as a captain for several years.

Frank B. Potter is acting district attorney for the session with W. P. Walker and Cavett Binion his assistants.

The petition for reorganization of the Dalby Motor Freight Lines, Inc., under the bankruptcy act is to be heard starting Friday of next week. The court is to enter an order directing filing of approximately 4,300 claims totaling $103,000 this week. Aetna Insurance company will be granted leave to intervene in the matter.

All OPA rent cases were passed in the settings, pending arrival of Frank R. Murray, a rent division attorney, later in the term.

Civil cases were set for trial during the next two weeks, Judge Davidson is scheduled to appear in court in Amarillo the week of June 4 and will return here June 11 for trial of additional matters.

Negress Given Five Years In Slaying

Five years in the penitentiary was the assessment Monday afternoon in 99th district court when Helen Johnson, 56, a negro woman, pleaded guilty of murder of Earl Day, 50, a negro man.

Several other cases were disposed of. Dale Hall, 23, pleaded guilty of burglary in two cases and accepted sentence of two years in the penitentiary in each, to be served concurrently. Doyle James, 24, pleaded guilty of having been an accessory to burgalry,, and a sentence of five years was suspended.

A five-year sentence naming Dauskola Lilley, 30, of route 1 Abernathy, for forgery of a $16.86 check signed W. H. Smoot and passed to Hanna-Pope Co., was suspended.

At the morning session Judge Pardue approved apportionment of $17,500 which had been agreed on in the friendly damages suit of Dorothy P. Hughes, administratrix of the estate of the late George Edward Hughes, who died Nov. 7 after an accident in the railroad yards here, against Panhandle & Santa Fe Railway Co.

Joy Ann Hughes, daughter of Hughes' former marriage, received $3,500; Janice Marie Hughes, $4,500; two of Mrs. Hughes' children by a former marriage, Charles Lewis and Alvin Gene Reichle, $333.33 each, and Mrs. Hughes $8,500.

Pfc. Swindall Well, Back With Company

Wesley Swindall has received a letter from his son, Pfc. James H. Swindall, saying he is well and back with his company after being wounded April 20 on Luzon.

A telegram from the War department previously had been received by the father, who lives at 1716 Ave. F, informing him that his son had been wounded.

The letter from Swindall stated that he was charging a Jap sniper when a shot from the enemy set off a 500-pound bomb but 15 feet away. Fragments struck the Lubbock man in two places, and he was blown to the ground. He received a 12-day rest in the hospital before rejoining his company, a part of the 187th Paraglider Infantry.

A brother, Cpl. John N. Swindall, is also on Luzon with the 836th Engineers. As yet the two brothers have not met, although each is conducting a search for the other, their father said.

Regulations On Used Goods To Be Mailed

A copy of price regulations for used commodities will be sent each used commodity dealer in the Lubbock district within the next ten days, A. V. Bullock, director of information Officer of Price Administration in this district, said Monday.

Numerous complaints have reached the price division of the local OPA office of abnormally high prices of second-hand dealers and an information drive designed to obtain better compliance from dealers is soon to get under way according to J. B. Mooney, price executive.

Mooney has pointed out that under MPR 429 used commodities are divided into Class I, those needing no repair, which must not sell for more than 75 per cent of their new price; and Class II, those in need of repair, which must not sell for more than 33 1-3 per cent of their price when new.

All articles priced at $2.00 or more must be tagged with the selling price and class.

Price specialists will hold trade meetings to help dealers understand the regulation in the very near future.

Heart Attack Claims Dr. Richard A. Hale

HOUSTON, May 21 (AP)—Funeral services for Dr. Richard A. Hale, 52, Houston physician and part owner of the Park View hospital, where he died last night of a heart attack, will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow. Burial will be in the cemetery in Camilla, where he was born.

He formerly practiced in New Orleans.

Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Jack Murchison of Palestine.

Gen. Dalton Killed By Japanese Sniper

MANILA, May 21. (AP)—Brig. Gen. James L. Dalton, 35, one of the youngest generals in the army, was killed by a Japanese sniper near Balete Pass on northern Luzon island, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today.

Dalton, whom MacArthur referred to as "distinguished and intrepid," was killed May 16. MacArthur announced the young officer's death with "great sorrow."

Dalton, whose widow and two daughters live in Kennebunk Port, Me., was assistant 25th division commander. His body was buried yesterday in the Santa Barbara army cemetery near Binalonan, (109 miles north of Manila.)

Dalton commanded the 161st regiment, formerly part of the Washington State national guard, through the Guadalcanal and New Georgia campaigns in the Solomons. And on Luzon in the battle of San Manuel where the main Japanese tank strength was smashed.

He was killed while inspecting a front line ravine which formerly sheltered the enemy command on that front.

Our 1946 Automobiles

Manufacturers Take Right View

STORIES from Detroit these days have an old, familiar, prewar ring. They have to do with projected details of the first automobiles to roll off the assembly lines since early 1942, an event now slated to occur late this year. The cars, it now seems certain, will be 1946 models.

Bodies of the new cars will differ only slightly from those of the 1942 model cars, as most manufacturers are expected to use the same dies. But in appearance they will differ. But it is in mechanical details that improvements are promised. The first postwar cars, it is now clear, will not be makeshift models to capitalize on the overwhelming demand for new cars at the expense of quality.

Among improvements to be incorporated in the first cars to leave the assembly lines will be more efficient, longer-lived motors and improved riding qualities, according to officials of at least one manufacturing company. Shock absorbers will incorporate better riding and longer-lasting qualities. Motors will be equipped with improved bearings developed for wartime uses. In some instances, it is promised, engine bearings will have a longevity 250 per cent of those used in the 1942 models.

Engine cooling systems have been improved, lubrication systems have been bettered and new engine ventilation will prevent the excessive formation of sludge. Many of the 400 parts of cars made of rubber compositions will be fabricated of artificial rubber because it has been found it does the job better than natural rubber. Oil filters and cleaners have been improved. More efficient brakes are promised.

Many parts of the postwar cars will be made stronger and lighter by the use of steels much stronger and ductible than prewar material. At the same time war development of equipment that detects flaws in steel bars faster and more cheaply will make it possible to use cheaper steels in some parts of cars, it is said.

These are some of the improvements, changes innovations promised in the first cars to come off the assembly lines when production is resumed. They will be definitely better cars than the 1942 models. But the motor industry already envisions still better and more functional cars in succeeding years. It is plain that improvements will continue to be made constantly in American motor cars as in the past.

All this is good news to an automobile-starved American public. It is indicative, too, of a long-range, highly intelligent view of the motor-makers, who will pass up quick profits for sub-par products in favor of profiting more slowly, but over a long period of time, by giving their customers the maximum in value for their automobile dollars.

Changes In Our Language

AMONG speculations as to what effect the return of the nation's fighting forces will have upon stay-at-home Americans, one, as to whether the boys and girls will bring home enough new words and phrases to change the nation's spoken English materially, seems negligible.

In practically every American state, local idioms exist, imparting color and vigor to the language, but it can hardly be proved that they consitute a dialect. Some very sound scholars insist that there never has been such a thing as a Midwest dialect, for instance, only slipshod speech. In countless ways clean, direct speech is an asset in the business world all over the nation.

"Okay" has established itself in lieu of "all right" within a quarter of a century. The vocabularly has been enriched by "heel," "nuts" and such convenient phrases as "does it make sense?" and "folding money."

When Hamlet used the phrase, "words, words, words," the commas added to the contemptuous inflection he wished to impart to them. And Shakespeare, who, in a manner of speaking, created the English language, would not have changed his punctuation if he were still among the living.

It is amazing the great number of expressions scattered through Shakespeare which now are a part of the common speech. They are quoted by thousands who do not know their origin and ever Shakespeare's sources and influences are often obscure.

It is better, we think, to allow American speech to take its own course, without worrying about intrusions from Europe, or Asia. It has served for many decades and should be good for another century.

The One Minute Sermon

Moreover thou shalt provide out of all the people able men, such as fear God, men of truth, hating covetousness: and place such over them, to be rulers of thousands, and rulers of hundreds, rulers of fifties, and rulers of tens.

And let them judge the people at all seasons: and it shall be, that every great matter they shall bring unto thee, but every small matter they shall judge: so shall it be easier for thyself, and they shall hear the burden with thee.

If thou shalt do this thing, and God command thee so, then thou shalt be able to endure, and all this people shall also go to their place in peace.—Exodus 18:21-23.

THE STORY: Cass Hapes of the local police force stops by to investigate the lights at The Ledges. After he leaves, Charley announces that he had told Cass only that afternoon who was staying at the house.

THE SILENCER

XIII

That coffee was inordinately strong. I had had three cups of it and I had worn a path on the bedroom rug from the bed to the window. The rain beat dismally on the roof of the north wing below, and I could see the beam of the Juniper Hill air beacon as it flashed across the sky.

I found a book on the bureau: The Case of the Hanging Corpse. It was one of those swift-moving affairs that trusted little to the patience of the reader, and on the first page a brunette clad in white satin swung gently to and fro from a chandelier with a corded bell-pull knotted neatly about her throat. I closed the book and turned out my light.

I lay on my back and I was thinking about a day 20 years ago. A bright, sunny day with the foliage thick and green and the checkered shadows of the maples dappling the streets. I had got into a fight with Bernard Spiegel solely because he was German. The bitterness of the first World War was still very close to us. I was flailing away vigorously but ineffectually when my father came along and stopped the fight.

The war, he had explained, was over. People should not hate one another. They should love one another. There would never again be wars such as the last war. Certainly if the war had taught us anything, it had thought us that.

Right there is where I stopped my dreaming. Because of the palpable falsity of that last statement I opened my eyes. Something was wrong. Across the floor of my bedroom was a symmetrical line of pale yellow that didn't belong there. It ran diagonally away from the doorsill and made a broadening pillar on the carpet. Someone was softly opening the door of my room. I saw his shadow darkening the doorway. Then with a movement so swift and silent that it seemed unreal, the figure was in the room and had closed the door behind him.

A flashlight beam licked along the wall. I lay still as a shroud. Straining my eyes against the curtain of blackness, I sucked in my breath. But my nerve-taut body craved action.

My cigaret-lighter stood on the table at the head of my bed. I reached out, seized it, and hurled it straight through the upper panes of the open window. The shattering glass ripped into the silence as I heaved myself off the bed. There was the soft wham of a silencer and the swift "blup" of a bullet into the plaster.

Then I got a fistful of coat and dragged the man close, groping for his gun-hand. Immediately I found myself on the floor with a hard thick forearm clamped around my windpipe. Pain seared my brain. Golden pinwheels spun before my eyes.

Dreamily, on the fringe of consciousness, I waited for the man to shoot. I began to wish he would. My lungs ballooned against my ribs and black misery swamped my senses. I went limp; the forearm relaxed slightly; and with a sudden upward thrust, I malleted the man's chin with the back of my head. I whirled, got a bar on his arm, my fingers slithering over the barrel of the gun. Savagely I yanked downward. Fear and anger lent me strength and I took up another notch. There was a sudden grunt of pain and the pistol came loose in my hand.

I rolled clear and saw his shadow in the doorway. He looked big and that's all I saw. An excellent target, but I did not shoot. I know by now how ready a man must be to kill, yet I could not bring myself to it. Then he was gone.

In the corridor, the door to the adjoining room was open. I saw the curtains fluttering inward from an open window. Outside there was nothing but an easy drop to an outshed roof a man's height from the ground, blue shadows in the darkness, and in the sky a placid, beautiful, but quite unilluminating sickle moon, which had appeared after the rain.

I went back to my room, put on my robe and slippers and kicked the broken glass into a corner. I turned out my light again, tilted a chair against the wall facing the door, took out my cigarets, and laid the pistol on my knee. Smoking in the darkness is not much fun, but it helps to keep you wake. And I did stay awake through three cigarets, but my thinking was very muddy. Only one clear thought shone beacon-like in my brain: whoever had entered my room had an implacable enemy in Nicholas Trent and it's an unconscionably long and lazy worm that never turns. With this consoling thought I fell asleep.

When I awoke, the sun was shining and there was the odor of sea and rain-washed earth. I was back in bed, although I didn't remember lying down. And I should have thought last night was a dream, if I hadn't ben clutching the pistol. I liked the feeling of it. I examined it. The layman gets little information about the ownership of a pistol from staring at its exterior. It was an unlovely thing with a silencer bulking over the chamber.

I found the bullet in the plaster to the left of the bed, and I dug it out with my knife. It was a very ugly and lethal-looking slug, and I think it would have made a quite untidy hole in my chest.

BONDS AUTHORIZED

WASHINGTON, May 21 (AP) — The Interstate Commerce commission today authorized the Kansas, Oklahoma and Gulf Railway Co. to issue $4,400,000 of first mortgage bonds bearing 3½ per cent interest. Proceeds are to be used in partial redemption of bonds bearing 5 per cent which the railroad proposes to call in July 1.

Looking At Life ------ By Erich Brandeis

SINCE this column is written pretty well ahead of time so that it may get to its many destinations on the same day, perhaps you have lost your interest by now in what I am going to say.

It was Monday, May 7th when suddenly the announcement came that the war in Europe was over.

It was in the morning when we first heard the news and we had just finished our breakfast.

BRANDEIS

A New York announcer was describing the scene in that city People shrieking and embracing each other. Telephone books and ticker tape being torn to shreds and thrown into the streets. Everybody was getting ready for a big night of celebration.

We were, of course, all overjoyed at the news.

But somehow we couldn't fall in line with that celebrating business.

One of the women in the room had just recently been notified that her only son had crashed over Germany and had been killed.

Another, a neighbor, who had dropped in for an early call, had a husband in the army overseas and hadn't heard from him for a long time.

The son of a friend who is staying at my house for a visit has a son in the Merchant Marine. His ship is out in the Pacific right now.

As for myself and my folks—well, I'd rather not talk about that.

Then our local paper came with the headline, clear across the page, in letters two inches deep, "Germany Quits."

In the story under the headline there was a paragraph which told of this war which "has claimed at least 40,000,000 casualties on both sides in killed, wounded and captured.

Inside, on the editorial page, there was a cartoon headed: "Excuse us if we don't join the celebration." It showed an old couple standing with bowed heads at a grave marked with a simple cross—the grave of their son.

The telephone rang. A neighbor was calling.

"Come on in to New York with us" he said, "we are all going to make whoopee. The lid is off, the sky is the limit tonight."

"No thanks," I said. "Excuse us if we don't join the celebration."

NONE of us knows what will be next.

The war in Europe is over. How long is the other war across the Pacific going to last?

I am no killjoy. I like to enjoy life just as much as anybody else. I like to have fun and have a good time.

But with millions dead and millions maimed and millions tortured and millions degraded and reduced to the stature of beasts—with so much blood and sweat and tears yet to be faced . . .

"Excuse us if we don't join the celebration."

Wallace Has New Plan

Would Revise U. S. Patent Laws

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE silence which has enveloped Henry Wallace since his entry into the Roosevelt-Truman cabinet is deceptive. The restless, pioneering Secretary of Commerce has been hatching a postwar business program which may make him the central figure of another stormy episode.

Wallace intends to ask Congress for a revolutionary revision of the patent laws in an effort to make wider use of the hundreds of inventions that were born during the war emergency. Although scientists and researchers were spurred to these discoveries by the military crisis, many can be converted to everyday peacetime needs.

The Iowan believes that licenses for production and general distribution of these devices should be made available to any comer if the patentee does not engage in manufacture after a certain period. Present statutes convey exclusive property right to an invention for seventeen years so that a firm or individual may enjoy the fruits of his ingenuity.

TUCKER

Wallace and Attorney General Francis Biddle contend that many corporations have utilized this privilege to create and maintain monopolies. Moreover, recent Congressional investigations show that some companies have bottled up their discoveries for years for fear that placing them on the market would depress the value of some of their other established products.

Many countries, including Britain, have legislation by which rivals are permitted to develop patents through a license system, provided that the original inventors do not take steps to commercialize them. American economists have had plenty of opportunity to study these systems during their wartime visits abroad.

Wallace envisages the promotion of many serviceable things which will provide employment and maintain prosperity if they can be put on the market with the return of peace. Advances made within the last five years range from new kinds of medicine to marine and machine tool improvements of incalculable value. There have also been great strides in foods, textiles, home equipment etc.

The cabinet member argues that many of these prospective postwar goods were discovered with the aid of federal funds and cooperation and, therefore, really belong to the public.

BLITZ: Surrendered German militarists, as well as leaders such as Stalin and Churchill, conceded that America's industrial might and resources were responsible for the defeat of Hitler's attempt to attain world dominion. But a summary of post-victory comments by crestfallen Axis strategists reveals that Hitler-Mussolini-Hirohito schemes always failed at critical moments in the global struggle.

An important section of the Ango-American High Command is now preparing a report on enemy blunders in the first phase of World War II. It will cover diplomatic as well as military mistakes. It will embrace faulty manufacture of certain types of weapons, failure to make proper use of aerial forces and overextension of their lines. But it will emphasize the grand failures which eventually made possible an Allied triumph.

There is plenty of dishonor for all three dictators, but Hitler led off with a basic blunder when he did not follow up Dunkirk with an invasion of England. One explanation is that he did not have sufficient strength to cross the Channel in the face of the British navy and the few but heroic RAF fliers. Some of his own men, however, insist that he could have made a successful landing had he massed his U-boats and Luftwaffe immediately after the fall of France.

In retrospect, military commentators think that the aerial blitzkrieg on Britain was woefully mismanaged. Instead of concentrating on strategic bombing of factories, transportation lines and docks, the Nazis thought to conquer by terrorization alone. They never did show any real comprehension of the proper use of their early air superiority.

DELAY: Mussolini's vainglorious spirit made him an important architect of Axis misfortune, however. Although Churchill and Roosevelt tried to prevent his attack on France and to persuade him to join the Allies, it is now believed that it was better for us that he palled with Hitler.

Benito upset the enemy's military timetable when envy of Hitler led him to invade the Balkans on Good Friday of 1941. After the gallant Greek and Albanians smashed the Italian legions, the Germans were forced to rescue Il Duce. This diversion prevented Berlin from attacking Russia until June 22, whereas the Reich staff had planned that movement for early April.

The delay, together with a tip from Cordell Hull, gave Stalin the needed time for preparations. The worst winter in years found Hitler's troops snowbound before Moscow. Had he begun his drive three months earlier, he might have crushed the Soviet before the storm broke.

Better still from his standpoint, Hitler should have delivered his thrust in North Africa. He might have been able to roll back the British, and ta make a junction with the Japs in the Middle East, which was the key of Tokyo-Berlin grand strategy.

WINING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

TAKE all forecasts of the speedy arrival of new civilian goods with a grain of salt, caution New York corporation executives.

It isn't that government spokesmen and business analysts deliberately deceive customers about reconversion. But as soon as a prediction is made confidently by an authority, unexpected restraining factors crop up, mainly from the unstable condition of the world

Only this week J. A. Krug had to hedge on his earlier optimistic prophecies concerning heavy consumers' goods made from steel.

Orders for changeovers are being issued rapidly. However, the phrase "civilian production" covers a lot of territory; it does not imply that a wide variety of new articles will be on retailers' shelves in the immediate future.

LEMAN

The rough pattern of reconversion at the moment is as follows:

First on the list are capital goods for turning out more petroeum and food and moving commodities to market. (Oil drilling equipment, farm machinery, railroad rolling stock and trucks.) Textile machinery may be put in this class.

Machine tools are high on the schedule. (Jigs to fashion parts of "doughnut cutters" which, in turn, stamp out autos.)

Go-ahead signals have already been given to smaller manufacturers whose volume of business is less than $200,000 a year. This means a swiftly increased supply of "five and dime store stuff"—little gadgets, kitchen utensils etc. which can be easily fabricated from available aluminum, steel and copper.

There may even be sewing machines and vacuum cleaners by Fall; their metal content is comparatively slight. A limited amount of washing machines, refrigerators, metal furniture, electric ranges, stoves and perhaps some cars may be produced in time for Christmas presents.

Corporations in exceptionally favorable positions with idle machinery and ample inventories may get a head start. But the consensus in New York industrial circles is that consumer durables will not be plentiful until the Summer of 1946.

An old-timer remembers when the consensus was that a person who was physically able to go to the doctor's office wasn't sick enough to need a doctor.

In the case of many a person, the periods of first and second childhoods overlap.

News Blackout Dangerous Threat To Peace

World Press Must Be Made Free

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—On freedom in the access to and exchange of information may rest much of the success of all the plans for international cooperation being formulated by the diplomats.

That's why the numerous controversies now going on in Europe about admitting newspaper correspondents into this and that area are as important to everybody else as they are to the press. It's the fight of everybody who wants to make this a little better world.

STOKES

We are offering a good example now at San Francisco in the United Nations conference which is open to newspaper correspondents from all over the world. But San Francisco also has its moral about the reverse side of the picture, which leads us back to Europe and the need for access to information there.

Poland An Example

For several days at San Francisco, for instance, the Polish issue was uppermost. There were plenty of partisan explanations from one side or the other. But nobody had access to the real truth about Poland. The best place to find out about Poland is in Poland. But newspaper correspondents are barred.

Whatever secret information the various foreign offices may have about Poland does the public no good in making a judgment. But if there were alert reporters there, digging about, the public might be able to judge the issue.

It is the same way with other countries in Europe where a news blackout is imposed, where things certainly are going on.

THERE are some issues before the San Francisco conference that revolve about what three men said to one another, or agreed to, at the Yalta conference. One of them is dead now. The other two are keeping their counsel, which isn't much help to the rest of us.

Reporters were not admitted to the Yalta conference. If there had been reporters about it would have helped perhaps in the present situation. That is something in the past about which nothing can be done now. But it is most important that something be done about it in Europe—and quickly.

Events should be reported adequately, lest we wake up some years hence and discover things were done in the hectic time soon after the war was ended, as after the last war, to pile up trouble. And it may be too late to do much about it.

Press Would Be Guardian

Reporters know now what to watch. They have a background, for instance, in how the Nazi spirit was built up, how its military machine was created. The threat may come next time from somewhere else. They know now, too, how economic policies in Europe, as well as ours here, contributed to war. They can watch for signs there.

They know now how the Nazi government backed its big industrial interests in making tie-ups with industry here and elsewhere so that when war came we were handicapped in production of strategic materials, as were some of our allies. These were the so-called cartels. Somebody will try to re-create this type of international business which exists outside of law. The others were created immediately after the last war.

It is essential that there be reporters around to watch all this—and soon.

IT would appear that our military officials have been too timid in representing the interests of the American press and people, too reluctant to move in actively to open up areas to American newspapermen, too quick to censor broadly without judgment.

Some of that censorship severity, without reason, I saw in Europe. They held back things for reasons of military secrecy that seemed to have no relation to military secrecy. Consequently, the American people never found out the stark truth about many things that happened. If they had, some laxity along the home front might have been avoided.

Now that there is peace in Europe, and political matters are again becoming important, the military mind should not be predominant. That is not the field of the military man. He should have no control over political news.

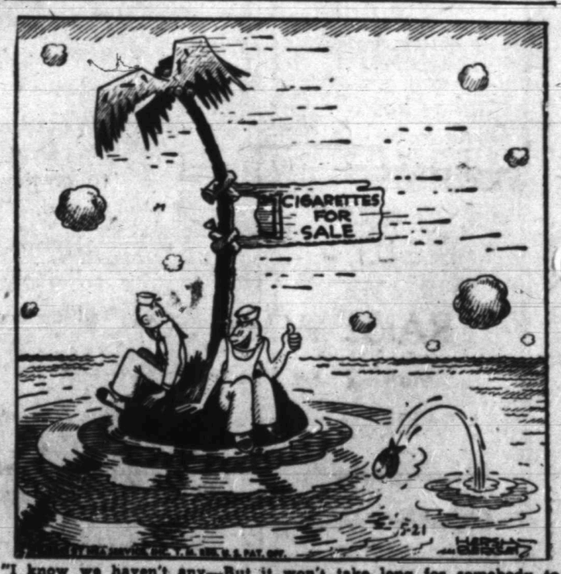

News must flow freely into and over Europe as well as back this way. The distribution of OWI magazines, without adequate day-by-day news from regular American sources, is not enough, as President Truman has now made plain. The Germans and others ought to know what is going on in the outside world. They haven't known.

HEARING SCHEDULED

DALLAS, May 21. (AP) — An Eighth regional War Labor board tripartite panel will hold a hearing in Beaumont May 24, in a dispute between United States Steel Products company, Beaumont, and United Steelworkers of America, local 3430, CIO, the board said today. Issues are maintenance of membership and check-off, and severance pay. 249 employees are involved.

The model for Leonard da Vinci's "Mona Lisa" is said to have been Isabella D'Este, the marchioness of Mantua.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Buses are overburdened as never before. A crisis is near. With more men, tires and gas going to war, present service can barely be maintained. Each day brings greater loads. When you must travel locally, let this be your creed:

1. Do Not Ride in Rush Hours, except to and from your job.
2. Have Exact Fare Ready, saves time and fuss.
3. Move Back When Driver Asks, speeds your ride.

This simple creed will work wonders.

THANKS FARMERS
IN BEHALF of our boys in the armed forces, we wish to thank you for the way you responded to our plea for large clean grade A eggs. Because of your patriotic cooperation, we have been able to get their eggs to them much faster than could have been possible otherwise. We still have many more war department orders to fill, and the government is looking to you to help us meet our increased quotas.
If you haven't heard of the way that you can make more money, and still be helping our soldier boys, ask your neighbor, or we will give you the information. Your large clean grade A eggs are still desperately needed. Thanks again.

39—Legal Notice

NOTICE: Annual meeting of the stockholders of South Plains and Santa Fe Railway company will be held at the office of the Company in Lubbock Texas, Wednesday, June 6, 1945, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m., and annual meeting of the Directors of said Company immediately after the meeting of the stockholders.
W. S. POSEY Secretary.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS
Sealed proposals addressed to the Honorable Mayor and City Commission of Lubbock, Texas, will be received at the office of M. R. Smith, Jr., City Manager, until 2:00 p. m., June 6, 1945, for furnishing all necessary materials, machinery, equipment, superintendence and labor for constructing a Power Plant Building for the City of Lubbock, owner, of Lubbock, Texas.
Bidders must submit a cashiers or certified check issued by a bank satisfactory to the owner, for 5% of the total bid submitted, payable without recourse to the order of the City of Lubbock or a proposal bond in the sum of the same amount from a reliable Surety Company, as a guaranty that Bidder will enter into contract and execute bond and guaranty in the form provided, within ten (10) days after notice of award of contract to him. Bids without required check or proposal bond will not be considered.
The successful Bidder must furnish bond on the attached form in the amount of 100% of contract price from a Surety Company holding a permit from the State of Texas, to act as Surety, or other Surety, or Sureties acceptable to the Owner.
The lump sum price must be stated in both script and figures. The Owner reserves the right to reject any and all bids and to waive formalities and to accept the bid which is most advantageous to the City's interest.
Bidders are expected to inspect the site of the work and to inform themselves regarding all local conditions. Attention is called to the provisions of the Acts of the 43rd Legislature of the State of Texas, page 91, chapter 45, (Article No. 5159A Civil Statutes 1925) concerning the wage scale and payment of prevailing wage established by the OWNER. Said scale of prevailing minimum wage is set forth in the specifications.
Instructions to bidders, proposal forms, specifications and plans are on file at the office of M. R. Smith, Jr., City Manager, of Lubbock, Texas. Copies may be secured upon deposit of $5.00 to be returned to the Contractor on submission of a bona fide bid on the work with such plans and specifications; or upon returning the plans and specifications immediately after examination of same, and advising the Engineer that bid will not be submitted; otherwise the deposit shall be forfeited.

More Lubbock Men Are Freed

The Red Cross has notified several families of liberation of Lubbock men from German prisoner of war camps.

Sgt. Robert W. Allen, who has been interned since December in Stalag 12A, has been liberated, the Red Cross informed his wife, Mrs. Faye Allen of 508 Avenue O. He was injured in the battle of Belgian Bulge in December. He was serving with the paratroopers, 101st division, First Airborne Army. No message had been received from him since he went overseas nine months ago, and the notice of his liberation was the first information his wife had received that he had been a prisoner of war.

Sgt. Wesley Duncan Ellison, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Ellison of 2210 Twenty-fourth, who was captured March 20 of this year while following General Rose's car, was another of the liberated. In addition to receiving the notice from the Red Cross, his mother has received a letter from him written from Belgium, where he had gone by airplane from Germany. He said in the letter he was awaiting a plane to England and, "It shouldn't be much longer before I will be home." Sgt. Ellison has been in service three years this month and has been overseas about two years. His mother received letters this morning from Colonel Smith, chief of staff of the Third Armored division, and from Captain Wilson, commanding officer of Sergeant Ellison's company. Colonel Smith stated that he knew Ellison "quite well, as he was one of our most dependable radio operators in our headquarters." He went on to state that Ellison was General Rose's operator in the car that followed the general when he left headquarters. On the night of the general's death, he was following the general's vehicle when the party ran into a German tank and the entire party was captured.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Claunch of 1308 Thirty-third, received notice of liberation of their son, S/Sgt. Oscar Allen Claunch, from Sergeant Claunch's wife, who is staying with her parents at Orange, and who was notified by the Red Cross. Sergeant Claunch was in the 84th division in the infantry. He was captured Nov. 24. The parents also have received a letter from a chaplain who said he had talked to Sergeant Claunch May 8 and he was in good spirits. Claunch has been in service since Dec. 8, 1942.

Mrs. Nancy E. Berry was informed that her son, S/Sgt. Chas. T. Berry, had been liberated. Berry was pilot of a B-24 Marauder. He was stationed at Lubbock Army Air field a year and eight months. He was in a twin-engine plane which was shot down Dec. 23, 1944, over Briesborne, Germany. His mother was notified Jan. 13 he was missing in action and no further word was received until a letter from him March 10. He was in Stalag 6G.

Most Pennsylvania Miners Back At Work

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., May 21 (AP)—Most of Pennsylvania's 72,000 hard coal miners, on the basis of early reports, returned to work today.

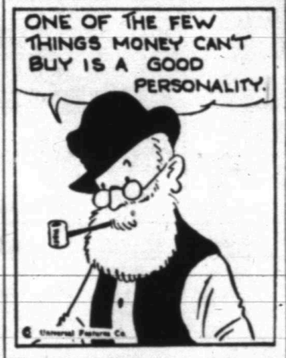

All anthracite mines in district seven, United Mine workers around Hazleton, resumed work and all mines checked in district one around Wilkes-Barre were reported in operation. District one employs 38,000 miners, district seven 15,000.

Daily production of the anthracite mines is approximately 190,000 tons, shut off since May 1 when the miners' union contract expired.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine workers, ordered the workers to return, officers of local unions being notified by telegram.
